FARMINGTON — Cordiality oozed from the participants of a closed door session of the Farmington City Council and Farmington Township Board Thursday following the first such meeting in the history of the area. In the words of City Mayor Wilbur V. Brotherton, "No decisions were reached, but the way was paved for fruitful meetings in the future."

FARMINGTON — The early spring thaw created havoc in Farmington Township this week as mail trucks, school buses and the cars of the residents became mired in the mud caused by the breakup of unpaved roads. Westbrook Elementary School was closed Wednesday because of the impassability of roads. In the north end of the township, a school bus filled with kindergarteners had to be pulled from the mud by a wrecker Wednesday afternoon. Mail deliveries in some sections of the township were limited to every three days when the personnel could "walk" the mail in.

REDFORD — A proposed Redford Township zoning amendment to create a high rise classification (R4) will go to a public hearing April 18. The amendment provides for apartment, retail and service uses, and bonuses are offered if the development maintains more than a minimum of open land on the site.

REDFORD — Wayne County 19th District Republicans will hold their convention at Thurston High School Wednesday at 8 p.m. The 92 precincts in Redford, Livonia and Northville will meet there, separate from Oakland County 19th District Republicans. Purpose is to elect delegates to the GOP state convention.

LIVONIA — The proposed new city charter, to go on the ballot for the second time on April 1 after defeat last November, is still opposed by the Civil Service Commission, which contends that revisions made by the Charter Commission leave the merit provisions undesirable. Mayoral Candidate Peter A. Ventura, however, approves the revised form, while Mayor Harvey W. Moelke, supporting it last fall, now opposes its adoption as not meeting the city's needs.

LIVONIA — The City Council approved a liquor license by the narrowest of margins—4 to 3—for the new Holiday Inn being built on Plymouth Rd. and to be opened in July. Opposing councilmen contended that 160 other applicants, some on file for years, should have been considered ahead of the Holiday Inn application. One unused license issued in the area in 1961 will be invalidated by the action.

Area Valuation Jumps $9 Million

The assessed valuation of the Plymouth area has increased more than $9 million in the past year.

This surprising boost came to light Thursday when City Assessor Kenneth Way, and the Plymouth Township assessor, announced their figures prior to sending them to the County Bureau of Taxation where they will be studied.

If, after the study, the Bureau is not satisfied the equalizing factor will be applied and both parties notified of the changes. Only a few days ago it was learned there is a "difference" of $857,210 on city personal property alone on the bureau's books. Should this figure stand, the over-all boost will be that much higher. Naturally, the largest increase was revealed in the township, where the real property has been assessed at $39,370,000 compared to $34,913,000 a year ago. Personal property was increased from $18,718,000 in 1967 to $22,579,107. The combined real and personal assessments totaled $61,949,107 compared to $53,631,000 a year ago. This is an increase of $8,318,107 during the year. The city assessments also showed gains in both real and personal property. The real property jumped from $27,839,330 to $28,706,470 and personal property was boosted from $8,109,090 to $8,181,150, an overall gain of $939,200.

The city's gain came as a mild surprise in that several large accounts were lost during the year. Among these were the Wiedman and Mulford properties that were purchased by the city, and the old P&A Theater which was deeded to the city as a gift. With them went the victims of the big fire in January—Bode's Restaurant, the Penniman Barber Shop and Minerva's Dress shop.

According to Assessor

Way, who doubles as the City Treasurer the increase will bring approximately $13,000 added funds to the city's coffers.

"We had a big year," Township Supervisor McEwen pointed out. "We had such large places as the new Ford plant and the big Spartan Stores warehouse on the rolls for the first time, along with the many new homes and apartment buildings."

With the new assessments, McEwen explained, the Township will gain about $109,000 in tax receipts.

"But that's nothing compared to what the schools will gain," he commented. "They'll get a whale of an increase."

Contractors Granted Delay In School Bids

The opening of bids on the construction of Plymouth High School # 2 has been delayed a week at the request of the various contractors who propose to make offers.

Instead of opening the bids on March 25, the School Board has agreed with the recommendation of the contractors to wait until April 1—one week.

The contractors claimed that they didn't have enough time, what with all the subdivisions they were working on, to formulate a bid that would be to their satisfaction. The school board agreed to hold off for another week.

MELVIN BLUNK, assistant superintendent for business, explained that there had been no changes made regarding the new high school.

He said that one was the new date for the opening of the bids and the other change is a new time table for the completion of the entire project.

Blunk said that different contractors told the school board that if it adhered to its August 1969 completion date for the entire complex, the work would probably not get done on time and they would also have to put in a lot of overtime.

Assistant Superintendent Blunk added that the contractors suggested that a new completion date for just the classroom units be set Aug. 15, 1969.

They also asked that the balance of the project be set for completion by Jan. '5, 1970—which would give them five additional months.

The school board felt this was a reasonable recommendation and a little more realistic, Blunk said, so they changed the old completion dates for the new ones.

Blunk added that interest in the bidding, so far, has been excellent and very encouraging for the district.

He explained that 72 contractors in all the categories of construction have shown an interest in proposing bids and this, to him, was very encouraging.

Blunk added that he hoped that this competition possibly would bring prices down. He said this doesn't always happen but it is always a possibility.

Call Issued To Organize Soft Ball Loop

The Plymouth Recreation Department will hold its first organizational meeting for the 1968 Class "B" Softball League on Wednesday, April 3, 1968 in Room 110 of the Plymouth High School at 7:30 p.m.

Each team interested in participating should have at least one representative present to express the views of his team. No team shall have more than one (1) vote on any questions placed before the league at this meeting.

Esch Is Urged To Run Again

Second District Congressman Marvin L. Esch is being urged by the District Republican Committee to seek re-election.

At a meeting Monday evening in Ann Arbor, the committee unanimously adopted a resolution commending the Congressman and asking him to run for a second term.

Speaker for the event was State G.O.P. Chairman, Mrs. Elly M. Peterson, who joined in the tribute to the freshman Congressman. She pointed out that the House Minority Leader, Gerald R. Ford, has made it clear he is counting on Marv Esch returning to the 91st Congress in 1969.

SPRING WAS HERE — The vernal equinox took place as usual last Wednesday and Spring arrived on time. And quick to take advantage of the bright sunshine for a stroll through the park were Audrey Newport and Chris Foster. To add to the occasion and make it spring-like were Ricky Freeman and Sandra Freeman, enjoying ice cream cones. It was nice while it lasted—the weather, we mean.

New Pact Ratified By DPW Employees

After negotiating since last August, employees of the city's Department of Public Works unanimously ratified a new three-year agreement between the city and the Teamsters' Union just before midnight Thursday.

While the final terms were not released it was learned that the pact calls for an average increase of 25 cents an hour for first year men.

The contract affects 12 employees who are divided into seven classifications.

The lowest class is in the common laborer whose rate was raised from $2.51 to $2.59 per hour for the first year. It was learned that this classification is the hardest to fill.

The next move will be up to the City Commission Monday when it meets as a Committee of the Whole. If the commission ratifies the agreement it is expected to be signed within the next week.

In the negotiations the city was represented by Tom Callan, while Jack Ford and Jerry McIlvain represented the union and Don Drayton the employees.

Apartments Slowed Down In Township

As the result of the mushrooming of apartment complexes during the past year, the Plymouth Township Planning Commission has decided to slow down on future requests and no approvals will be given until after a systematic study has been made.

The first step in this direction came Wednesday night when the commission tabled more than half a dozen requests until a "second look" was taken. It was explained that some action would have to be taken on the requests now on record, but no new requests would be considered until there was study made and a definite need established.

FROM NOW ON, the commission stated, it would use much more discretion in judging future requests and would consider petitions on their individual merits alone.

This attitude was adopted by the commission after it had received a report from its planning consultant W.C. Johnson from the firm of Waring and Johnson.

The Planning Consultants report said, "At the present time, there exists 113.8 acres of land now zoned for multiple dwellings. Seven-hundred and forty-five units exist or are in the process of being constructed and land now zoned for about 425 more."

"In the analysis of land in the Comprehensive Development Plan, (compiled by the planning commission last year) it was estimated that about 25 per cent of the ultimate number of dwelling units would be multiple dwelling, requiring in the township about 2,500 units."

"THIS INDICATES that about one-half of the multiple dwelling units needed are now existing or can be built on land zoned for that purpose."

Also causing commission members to stop and consider the number of apartments, was their own expressions of misgivings the past few months.

None of them claimed to be dead-set against apartments, but, all of them stated they wanted only good-looking or even high class apartments rather than simply an ordinary complex.

Commissioner Ralph Garber, put it in this way, "Most of you are old enough to remember the Depression and its effects. If there should be another depression, all the young people that live in these apartments will go back with father and the buildings will be left empty and untended."

He was married to Emmalou Rea in 1929.

Dog License Deadline Set

May 31 is the deadline for Plymouth Township residents to renew their dog's licenses, announced Township Clerk Helen Richardson.

After that date a penalty of $2 must be paid.

The clerk also reminds residents that the township will not be conducting a rabies shot clinic this year.

Students Hear About War From One Of Their Own

The horrors of war were brought home to Plymouth last Wednesday as Spec. 4/c Glenn Heinrich, recently returned from Vietnam, visited Plymouth High School with answers to questions on the life of an infantryman.

Heinrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Heinrich and 1966 Plymouth High School graduate enlisted in the armed forces on Dec. 26, 1966 and within three weeks was in Ft. Knox, Ky. receiving basic training.

"MY STORY is mainly for the young men here today," he began and then stated, "basic training is designed to break you down mentally."

In answer to a later question regarding this comment and another concerning reports of trainees returning home in a state of extreme nervous tension following basic training, he explained, "They just don't want anyone over there that can't stand the pressure."

Heinrich painted a picture of intense training and learning prior to service in Vietnam. Once there, the picture grew darker as he told of day and night patrols and his first experience of killing.

"One night," he said quietly, "eight enemy soldiers were sighted in a jungle clearing, and I knew if I made a noise and they discovered me, they'd kill me — it was something I had to do."

He told of "search and destroy" missions in Vietnamese villages, one involving an old man hiding 15 enemy soldiers beneath a trap door in his home. However, when questioned regarding the morale of our boys he answered with only two words, "Very good."

SPEC. 4/C GLENN HEINRICH

"DOES THE AMERICAN press tell it the way it is?" came a question from the back of the room. "No," was Heinrich's reply, "they make it seem better for us and worse for the enemy, when it is really the other way around."

The class directed intelligent questions to the old-young man with three purple hearts decorating his uniform. In answer to one student's inquiry regarding the Vietnamese respect for their new government, he candidly replied, "They want the government, but they don't want to fight for it."

"Yes, the Viet Cong use women and children," he answered another student, "they take four or five sticks of dynamite, attach them to a small child's back, put two wires in his hands, and tell him to rub the two wires together when he is in the midst of a group of American soldiers."

"Women usually are found sniping from trees, and fight in the same manner as any Viet Cong guerrilla. They must hand them a rifle and tell them to 'go get GI-Joe,'" he commented.

Heinrich told of 130 degree heat, four and five hours of mortar-ridden sleep each night, and guerrilla ambushes.

For one hour he brought the battleground of a small, jungle infested, apathetic country to a senior government classroom where he had occupied a seat just two short years before. His visit left the students with a much keener insight into the war.

Five Injured In Crash

Five persons were injured late Wednesday night when four cars became entangled in a chain reaction rear-end collision on Sheldon Rd. just north of Goldsmith.

the second vehicle.

The Cockrum auto then hit the back end of a car driven by Thomas Haverstock, 23, of Ann Arbor and his passenger, Barbara Klenk, 23, of Ann Arbor. They were slightly injured.

Haverstock's auto in turn hit a car driven by Caroline Beard, 26, of Ypsilanti, who received serious injuries.

This truck is actually building a highway. One out of every three miles of Michigan's street and highway system is paid for by trucks. One large truck pays as much in highway-user taxes as do 30 automobiles. Heavy trucks (26,000 pounds or more), comprising 1% of all vehicles, pay 16% of all highway costs. Our interest in good highways is for real. We want to pay our fair share.

Highway users pay in advance, for roads yet to be built, and generally, in proportion to the use they derive from them. Highways cost the Federal government nothing; they have no effect on the Budget. If expenditures for highways are cut back, the tax paid by users still accrues in the Highway Trust Fund, which was created by Congress to finance the world's finest highway improvement system, and is by law earmarked for highway purposes only.

Interstate highways, built for reasons of national defense (but with not one penny from the Defense Budget), have been of great benefit to all motorists. The trucking industry has certainly benefited. But once and for all, let the record show:

The Stroller...

It was the first day of Spring, and during a leisurely walk in the bright sunshine, the Stroller dropped into the old fire-scarred P & A Theatre to visit with the ghosts before it passes into oblivion.

No sooner had he slumped into one of the old chairs than the ghosts out of the past came hovering around and, in a real nostalgic mood, memories of the old days came tumbling through the years.

Sitting there in the auditorium that once was the social center of Plymouth, one could get a bit of a glimpse of the hand decorated walls that were the pride of the community at the time the theater was built.

Through the gloom of the atmosphere left by last January's fire, one almost could see again the wicker chairs with the cushion seats that were reserved for the elite of the area — the Schraders, the Bennetts, the Pecks and the Houghs.

It was from this point of vantage — the so-called box seats — that they viewed the latest movies and an occasional vaudeville show. And it was in this same auditorium that the business and industrial tycoons of the area took succor from labor that gave them the energy needed to build and develop the community that was to become the pride of western Wayne County.

GHOSTS OF PENNIMANS ARE THERE

The ghosts of the Pennimans also moved in for what could have been the last link with the past. It was Kate (Penniman) Allen who built the theater in November, 1918. It was later given to the city as the possible site of a cultural center.

We were having a merry time of it, for the Stroller likes nothing more than a journey down Memory Lane from time to time.

There was a strange twist in the lane now, for the Stroller wasn't here at the beginnings. But from what the ghosts whispered, there must have been an interesting history to the old place.

So, he sought one who should know the story for he had heard him say that he started his working career there as a cloak room boy, then an usher, and then a ticket taker. It was none other than Ralph Lorenz, and Ralph leaned back in his chair with a broad smile as he, too, started to recall the old days.

"What a place that was in the beginning," he said, "and it was the center of one of the most interesting political battles we ever had — much more spirited than the fight we had a few years ago to get permission to sell liquor by the glass."

"What was that about?" the Stroller asked, as he could recall nothing more vital than the fight to sell liquor.

"Would you believe it?" Ralph went on, "One of the biggest fights we ever had in Plymouth was over the right to open the theater to show movies on Sunday."

ICE CREAM FOR THE CELEBRANTS

"The superintendent of schools, and all of the ministers in town lined up in opposition to opening the theater for Sunday movies and we had quite a time of it before the people gave permission."

Here Lorenz' smile broadened.

"I still can see Harry Lush, then the manager of the theater," he recalled, "being host at Hobbe's Soda Fountain across the street, buying the ice cream delicacy for everyone as a means of celebrating."

After this victory was won, vaudeville acts were brought in from time to time to provide a varied program and, according to Lorenz, the old theater was quite the place.

The Stroller invited Lorenz to walk over and join in a visit with the ghosts, but he begged off on the claim that nostalgia sometimes takes too tight a grip.

But he did continue telling of the old days.

"You know," he went on, "when the theater was built, it was to be a real social center for the community. It wasn't to be confined to movies and occasional vaudeville skits."

RECALLS OLD BOWLING ALLEY

"They had four bowling alleys in the building," he smiled, "and I even was a pinboy there. So I virtually grew up with the theater."

"I still can envision the old street, too. We had Hayward's across the street and a restaurant where the post office stands. It was quite the center."

Wrapped up in memory now, Lorenz continued, "One of the fondest memories I have of the theater is the sight of the men decorating the ceiling and walls."

"Some folks have claimed that there were oil paintings on the walls, but they were simply hand applied decorations of rich looking material."

"But the memory I have is the one of the men lying on their backs while working on the ceilings."

"And I still can see the 'elite' arriving for the latest movies and Harry Lush scurrying around as the manager."

With that, he turned back to his work and left the Stroller with a word picture of the social center that now is doomed, but he had a great time visiting with the ghosts in the same old auditorium, and then getting the story of the theater first hand from one who was part of it.

The old P&A may go, but it will never be forgotten.

Spring Clean-Up Would Be Fitting In Our Local Government Gardens

Now that Spring officially has arrived, the crocuses are budding in the lawn and thoughts are turning to the annual clean-up, fix-up campaign, it might be well if our city and township officials did the same thing in the government vineyards.

For years they have been going along, with one plan after another, and moving with abandon from one project to another, never stopping to rid the yard of debris that collected along the way or re-assess the programs and give them priorities.

There was a time when this didn't make much difference. The Plymouth community was more or less isolated in the western half of Wayne County — and a nice place to pass through on the way to Ann Arbor.

Those days are gone now. With the population explosion and the spread of industry from the metropolitan centers, Plymouth now has earned a place of prominence in the future development of southeastern Michigan.

As a matter of fact, with each passing year, it is being squeezed tighter in the development between Detroit and Ann Arbor. The large research centers are spreading from Ann Arbor toward Detroit in what many proclaim will become one of the largest research corridors in the world.

Meanwhile, the auto industry is moving more of its branches into the area, along with the food distributors and those who keep a weather eye on the market place.

Because of this, Plymouth no longer can afford the luxury of remaining the quiet little town with a remnant of colonial charm.

That's why, with the coming of Spring, when all things take on a new image, the time has arrived to clean up the governmental gardens and rid them of all the debris.

In cleaning the garden, the officials could follow the lead of the citizens in planning the spring work and set up a program of priorities.

editorial

I can't remember anything that has pleased me more than reading in your recent edition of the Mail & Observer that the American Legion had presented a bronze plaque to the City of Plymouth to be placed in the City Hall as a constant reminder and tribute to the servicemen of the area who had made the supreme sacrifice.

I was pleased no end because in recent years little attention has been paid to the men in service and as you drive through the country there are all too few reminders of the heroic deeds that have been done in the service of the country.

It is true, times have changed. Our economy has jumped, our way of living has risen to the highest point in the world, and we are enjoying more things today than ever before. But in this terrific climb, somewhere along the line the veterans have been slighted — or forgotten.

Perhaps, we have taken them for granted. Or it may be the fact that the present war in Vietnam is not a popular conflict. Whatever the reason, the veteran hasn't been shown that he has been appreciated.

It wasn't always like this. At the close of World War I, when the American Legion was organized, the country accepted all members as heroes and there wasn't a town or hamlet in the country that didn't erect some sort of a memorial.

But as the years passed on, the memorials faded from view and from my travels I have learned that few communities pay much attention any more. This is a shame, for the sacrifice is just as supreme today as it was a half century ago.

That's why I was so pleased to read that Plymouth is not the type of community that is going to let its servicemen be forgotten. It isn't the cost of the plaque that matters at times like this — it is the fact that the servicemen will be forever remembered — thanks to Passage-Gayde Post.

FRAGILE ANNUAL

WHEN IT SHOULD BE A HARDY PERENNIAL

At the moment there are several major development plans being studied — but not one of them is rated above the other, with the result that they are being allowed to grow like weeds in a garden. They are looked at momentarily, and then left alone to grow as they will.

One of the major plans that needs the attention of both groups — the city and the township — is the Unification Plan.

This has been a topic of concern for several years — but it is never given major attention despite the fact that it is the one most important project to guarantee a bright future for the entire community.

Any mention of unification draws a stare from most officials, and a shrug of the shoulders that can mean only one thing — that it is a long way off and a plan that can be left alone without doing any harm.

This is a fallacy. If Plymouth is to grow, it must be united. It is the old story of "united we stand — divided we fall." And the area must be united to face the challenges of the next few years.

The attitude toward unification always has been puzzling. Both factions realize that the Plymouth Community is on the verge of great growth and a more important place in the scheme of things. Yet, neither faction will make the move, officially, to cast aside old grudges and the like and settle down to do a job.

It could be jealousy. It could be false pride. Or it could be just plain stubbornness. Whatever the reason, the time has come when the interest of the citizens for a bright future in Plymouth should be taken into consideration.

There is no reason why the city shouldn't set priorities, along with the Township.

For years, one administration after another has talked of a business loop in the downtown area. But it has never moved beyond the planning stage, and the beautiful architects' designs are a gathering dust in City Hall.

The same is true with such important matters as the water system study, the incinerator program and recommendations for amendments to the city charter.

Granted, in some cases, the committee chairmen have turned in reports. But they shouldn't be allowed to wither and be forgotten.

In the Township, there are zoning problems, a sidewalk program and requests for more police protection.

They should be placed on a priority list so that the general public will have some idea of when the definite action will be taken and the course set for the future.

Spring is here. So, let's rid the governmental garden of debris, too, and arrange priorities for a work schedule.

The taxpayers have a right to expect it.

Use Of Words Is Criticized

DEAR SIR:

In your report on our presentation to the Plymouth Community School Board regarding the Children's Education Act, there was an unfortunate misquote. Your article states, "...the legislation was introduced because of the alarming rate of drop outs from non-public schools." The words "drop outs" have a connotation of dissatisfaction with the schools, which is not the case. The actual words used were, "the alarming drop in non-public school enrollment in the past three years due to economic reasons." It was also unfortunate that you missed the salient features of the presentation which pointed out that non-public schools are saving Plymouth taxpayers $393,600 annually in operating costs. The sought for legislation would provide assistance in the amount of $35,700.

Help Aplenty Comes To Two Troubled Dogs

It took two fire departments, two dog catchers and men from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department last week to rescue two helpless, little dogs who were stranded on the island in Newburgh Lake.

Plymouth Township firemen, City of Livonia's firemen and dog catchers, along with officers from Wayne County were called by someone to save two forlorn animals who had strayed across the ice and had fallen through near the island.

The operation was a success after Livonia's men lowered a boat into the water and valiantly snatched the dogs from the edge of the cold, cold water.

The owners were not found and the fate of the hapless creatures is now doubtful. No one knew where they had come from or who they had belonged to.

Apartment Slowed Down In Township

Continued from page 1 commented, "I'm not against apartments but I would like to see the commission consider the area an apartment complex would be placed and try and predetermine if the area was the best place for apartments."

Koch added that in some cases at least apartments can be used as a buffer zone between commercial and single family residential properties.

These opinions all point to the fact that it will be more difficult for a developer to obtain apartment zoning where it doesn't already exist.

It is ironic that while Plymouth Township is launched on this slow down movement Fred Greenspan, who developed Lake Pointe Village in the Township now is engaged in a major apartment development across Five Mile Road which is in Northville Township.

It is understood that this will be a complex of several hundred units.

Canton Forum Rated Highly

The Canton Township Jaycees, which just became organized a few weeks ago, held its first Town Hall Forum last week and discussed the topic of Canton Township itself.

Ray Deeds, president, presented a historical summary of the township and a question and answer period followed which covered subjects from junk yards to expressways.

The fledgling Canton civic group termed their first forum a success and stated that 90 residents and township officials participated.

RECORD SYSTEM

Here, at Wiltse's Community Pharmacy, we have a modern "Safeguard Record System" in order to make available to you - at any time - a complete record of your various prescriptions, and prescription refills, for each year or any given period.

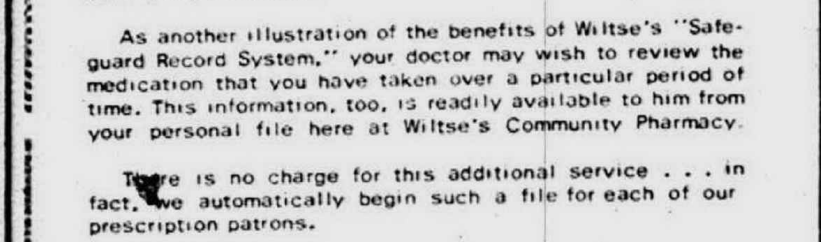

Under this system, your family's individual record for prescriptions will be maintained so as to qualify you for income tax deduction purposes, insurance requirements, or for any purpose you may desire.

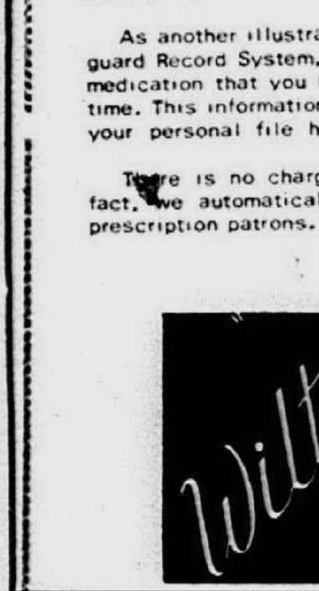

For instance -

If you were to lose, or misplace, your prescription and had no record of its original number through which you would customarily obtain a refill, it would be instantly available to you under your individual record at Wiltse's Community Pharmacy.

As another illustration of the benefits of Wiltse's "Safeguard Record System," your doctor may wish to review the medication that you have taken over a particular period of time. This information, too, is readily available to him from your personal file here at Wiltse's Community Pharmacy.

There is no charge for this additional service... in fact, we automatically begin such a file for each of our prescription patrons.

Take the guesswork out of decorating!

club's sale? Plymouth women may eventually escape the plight of the gal in the cartoon through the continuing efforts of a new club called the Women's Club Council--but only with the cooperation of every woman's club and church organization in the community.

Established one year ago by the Plymouth Jaycee Auxiliary, the council originally hoped to act as a clearing house in conjunction with Plymouth's Centennial celebration to avoid duplications in events.

Now, with the centennial year past, the council is continuing its efforts to further inter-club communication with a second 1968 calendar of events from more than 10 Plymouth women's organizations currently participating in the program.

The council is open to any women's group in Plymouth, with meetings held every two months.

The Women's Club Council will meet Monday, March 25 in the V.F.W. Hall, 1426 South Mill St. Plymouth women's clubs not presently active in the council are urged to send two representatives to the meeting.

TopSide Of Life

By Rev. David Strang

Television may be the most revolutionary force in society today. Television is forcing our world to change.

We're just beginning to catch on. We thought TV was nice entertainment, a good way to get away from the "blatant" after a tough day at the office. That's the way we used the screen. We thought.

WHAT WE DID NOT realize was that while we were looking, things were happening around us. Big things. Like racial revolution.

All of a sudden--it seemed to many white people--Negroes were demanding things they had never wanted before. "Why don't they stay in their place?" white people asked. "What do they want?"

The answer is that they want what television told them they ought to have. A national magazine in a significant issue about the urban crisis said it like this:

"Television played an important part in this amazing upsurge of the Negro's demands. Into his living room was projected the white man's living room, the white man's glamorized life. Into the Negro's ears and eyes the TV commercials beat their insistent message of more, better, greater."

It might be good to ask whether the white man's world really is "more, better, greater." Negroes are now asking that question.

THE POINT IS that the wonderful, white world of television (as well as the wonderful, white world of easy-credit) showed Negroes an alternative way of life.

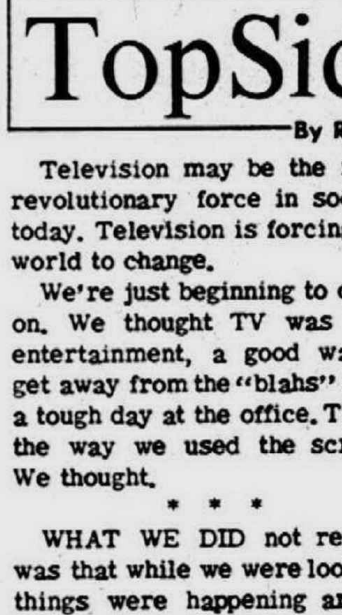

We should no longer wonder why there is a racial revolution. But that is only part of the TV picture. While all that has been going on outside our living rooms, something else has been happening inside.

Before television, home was a place of rest, escape, peace. But it ain't that way no more. Now, as Marshall McLuhan told us, television "pours upon us instantly and continuously the concern of all other men."

Now there is no more escape. "You can't go home again," McLuhan said. We can't hide anymore. Whatever we wanted to escape it now happening in our living room.

A WAR WHICH, before TV, would have been remote and far away is now part of the family.

TV elects our presidents. TV forces us out of hiding. TV

Calvary Sets Annual Missionary Conference

The Plymouth Calvary Baptist Church, 43065 Joy Road, will conduct an eight-day missionary conference, March 24-31.

Nine missionaries representing fields throughout the world will speak during the conference. Two missionaries--Rod Highfield and Rev. Richard Manion are Plymouth High School graduates and former Plymouth residents.

Highfield has served one term in Africa, teaching in a mission school in Tanzania and Rev. Manion is presently engaged in establishing churches in Idaho.

Rev. Russell Hughes, a veteran missionary of Rhodesia, Rev. Gus Strainic, Director of the Home of Onesiphorus, an orphanage for refugee children in Hong Kong also are scheduled to speak during the conference.

Rev. Arthur Johnston, of the Evangelical Alliance Mission, from Orel, France, a suburb on the south side of Paris, will attend the conference. He is pastor of a new church in Orley and also director of youth conferences and camps in France.

Rev. and Mrs. Bailey will arrive from West Pakistan, where they serve under International Missions. On their return this summer, they will be working in the Balauchistan area.

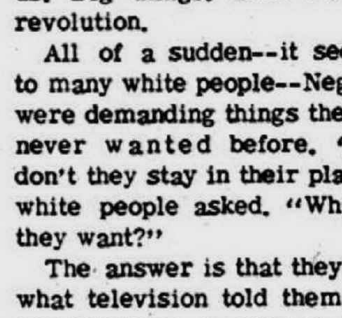

The church's senior choir, Rev. Russell Jenkins, a Welsh tenor soloist from Toronto, and Mrs. Jane Highfield will provide music for the conference.

There will be a ladies missionary luncheon, Tuesday, March 26, at 12:30 with Mrs. Kitty Bailey as guest speaker. Rev. Arthur Johnston will speak at a men's missionary prayer breakfast planned for Saturday, March 30, at 7 a.m.

Youth groups of the church will have displays in the chapel from eight different countries representing missions and missionaries supported by the church.

In 1967 $27,640 was donated to 40 missionaries and mission projects by the Calvary Baptist Church.

Because the annual missionary conference has created great interest and activity among members and friends of the church the week's services will be open to the public. Sunday services are held at 9:45 a.m., 11 a.m., 5:45 p.m. and 7 p.m. Week-night services are at 7:15 p.m. A modern nursery is open during all services.

A 47-year-old book has been sitting in the top right-hand drawer of my desk for several weeks and, although it was loaned to me for quite another purpose, I've postponed its return because there is a delightful part of Plymouth recorded on its yellowed pages that I want to share with you.

The book is a 1921 Plythean (Plymouth High School year-book) and among the pictures of students and faculty there is an account by Helen Fish of her freshman class party:

"The Freshman class gave a party in the school auditorium Friday night, Dec. 10, 1920. Among those who attended were our class patrons, Mr. Ross and Miss Traut, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Miss Knox and Mrs. Field.

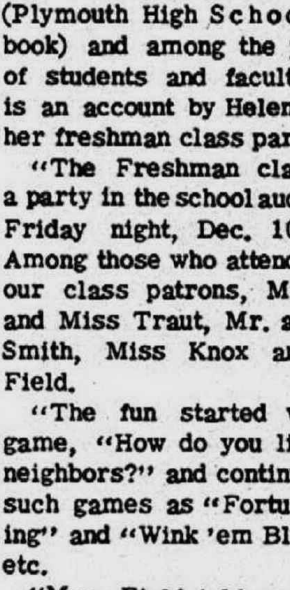

"The fun started with the game, 'How do you like your neighbors?' and continued with such games as 'Fortune Telling' and 'Wink 'em Blink 'em, etc.

"Mrs. Field told a very interesting story, which added greatly to the entertainment. Then a few members of the class gave a short entertainment composed of eight singers and a pianist.

"After Lloyd Lundy's cornet solo, refreshments consisting of sandwiches, pickles, wafers and cake were served. The favors were Hershey bars, tied with ribbons, blue and silver, which are our class colors.

"At ten o'clock we reluctantly left with the hope that next semester would contain another party as enjoyable."

Maybe parties like that, given nearly 50 years ago, can account for the credibility gap between today's grandparents and their teenage grandchildren.

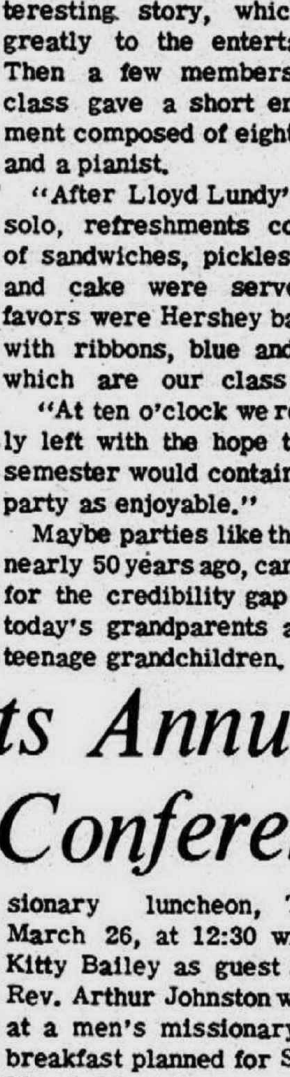

OLGC Women Hold Renewal

Those attending are requested to bring a lunch. Coffee will be served in the church basement.

Sen. Kuhn Asks Voters' Opinions

State Sen. George Kuhn, R-West Bloomfield, is asking constituents to answer a 10-part questionnaire on issues currently or recently before the Michigan Legislature.

Kuhn's district includes the Observerland communities of Farmington, Livonia and Plymouth.

The freshman senator said he was unable to mail the questionnaire and is asking this newspaper to reprint it and constituents to clip out the form, sign it, and mail it to: Sen. George W. Kuhn, State Senate, Lansing, Mich. 48902.

While Kuhn said he is "reaching for the pulse" of the public, he has actually made up his mind on many of the issues. He has already voted against home offices for senators, the state income tax and a local curfew bill and has declared himself against an open occupancy bill.

THE QUESTIONS:
1. Do you favor state aid to parents of children in non-public schools?
Yes () No ()
2. Do you favor liberalized abortion laws allowing abortions in the cases of rape or incest; if there was a possibility the mother's mental health would be affected; or if there was reasonable assurance the baby would be deformed?
Yes () No ()
3. Do you favor or oppose the concept of the state subsidizing salaries of local police officers?
Yes () No ()

Board Sets Shoplifting Aid Program

Farmington retailers will have the opportunity to learn methods of combating shoplifting Tuesday, March 26, when the Farmington Board of Commerce sponsors a film and panel discussion.

The dinner session will begin at 6:45 p.m. in the Salem United Church on Oakland St.

Tim Murphy, of the Michigan Retailers Association, will head the program.

A panel discussion will follow the showing of a film entitled "Shoplifting Can Be Controlled." Panelists will be: Robert Deadman, Chief of the Farmington City Police; Robert Kelley, Farmington City Attorney; Jack Bain, Assistant Prosecutor of Oakland County; and Irving Yakes, Chief of the Farmington Township Police. Reservations are required for the dinner meeting.

'Look But Don't Touch'

Farmington Township police warned this week that thieves who recently stole two large cartons of candy from the garage of a private home may have bitten off more than they can pleasantly chew. They think the candy is quite likely wormy and contaminated.

The five-foot cartons, weighing perhaps 50 pounds each, contained Halloween and Easter candy boxes, each plainly marked, "For Display Purpose Only." Their contents are from one to two years old.

The theft occurred at the premises of a salesman, William F. Angell, Jr., 35290 Dewberry Dr., and police say the candy should be destroyed, not eaten. The problem is, they don't know who to tell.

4. Would you favor providing a $335,000,000 bond issue for construction of additional sewage facilities to solve our pollution problems in lakes and streams?
Yes () No ()
5. As you know, I opposed establishment of home offices for senators. Do you favor establishment of these offices?
Yes () No ()
6. Do you favor a statewide open occupancy law?
Yes () No ()
7. Do you favor the elimination of the city income tax on non-residents?
Yes () No ()
8. Would you favor eliminating the state income tax?
Yes () No ()
9. As you know, I introduced a "stop and frisk" law, which is currently being considered by the Senate Judiciary Committee. Do you favor this measure?
Yes () No ()
10. Do you favor having local public officials -- mayors, township supervisors, or county prosecutors -- given the power to impose immediate curfews in time of civil unrest or riot?
Yes () No ()

McDonald Joins Call For Asia Review

Congressman Jack McDonald, R-19th District, has joined 136 other members of the House in a bipartisan call for congressional review of southeast Asia policy.

The call was in the form of a resolution supported by 96 Republicans and 41 Democrats.

"Liberal, conservative and middle-of-the-road members in both parties are vitally concerned about the apparently endless drift of our southeast Asia policy," McDonald said.

The resolution, originally offered last fall by 58 members, charges the appropriate committees of the House and Senate with the duty of determining whether "further congressional action is desirable in respect to policies in southeast Asia."

WILLIAM YOUNG, 28610 Kirkside Lane, Farmington, has been appointed general sales manager of the F. Joseph Lamb Co. A native of Scotland, Young is a graduate of the Royal Technical College, Glasgow.

Ravitz Will Lead Race Discussion

Detroit Councilman Mel Ravitz will lead a discussion on "Racial Equality--When?" in the First Methodist Church of Farmington at 7 p.m. Wednesday, March 27.

The meeting also will include a division into small discussion groups to study the questions of race relations in Detroit and its suburbs.

Heading the discussion groups will be Robert Bentzel, Mrs. Ingrid Nagy, Mrs. Eleanor Johnson and the Rev. David Stone, formerly associate minister of the church.

The session is the fourth in a Lenten series in the church that follows the theme "The Challenge of Choice."

Society Catalogues Materials

A complete accounting of all the books, manuscripts, documents and artifacts belonging to the Farmington Historical Society will be presented at the group's March 27 meeting. Scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in the Farmington District Library, the meeting is open to the public.

MRS. ELLY BIRD and Mrs. Vayle Lorion will give the report.

Mrs. Bird has been cataloging all of the manuscripts, books, letters, diaries, documents, scrapbooks and photos belonging to the society, while Mrs. Lorion, curator, will report on the artifacts in the collection.

All of the manuscripts of the society are now located in the library, but they are not yet ready for general use.

The society is constantly accepting additions to its collections. According to Paul Schrieber, president, "the problem of housing the materials is now solved at least for the immediate future. In the past some persons have been reluctant to give materials to the society because of the uncertainty about housing them."

Persons having items to donate should contact Vayle Lorion at 474-8426.

ALSO ON the Wednesday agenda will be the presentation of Centennial Home plaques to Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Potter of Oakland Ave. and Mrs. Alice Warner Brown of Nine Mile Rd.

Youth, 18, Arraigned As Death Car Driver

George E. Hamilton, 18, of 31930 Highview, Farmington Township, was arraigned March 19 on a charge of negligent homicide before West Bloomfield Township Justice Christian Powell, and examination was set for April 19.

The charge resulted from a fatal automobile accident which occurred at 2:40 a.m. March 17 near the intersection of Middle Belt and Lone Pine Rds.

Police charge Hamilton was the driver of a car which struck the driver of a passenger, Roger Palarchio, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Palarchio, 22435 Tuck, Farmington Township. Palarchio was thrown from the car onto the shoulder of Middle Belt. He was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Palarchio made his home with his sister, Mrs. Donald Laramie, of Orchard Lake. He was a senior and former member of the track team at North Farmington High School.

Funeral services for Palarchio were held March 20 in St. Fabian Catholic Church. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

.....OF DINING AND FINE WINE

BY STATON LORENZ
Special Writer

Did you ever get the feeling that you could use a course in Greek to improve your wine label reading ability?

The labels found on wine bottles may seem difficult and even meaningless to many of us. But, labels are an excellent, and really our only source of information concerning a bottle's contents.

Wine is a product of nature's gifts and comes from many countries, specific regions and peoples. A label is sort of a birth certificate or passport. Without certain standard facts on a label, one could hardly tell if a wine is worth a single penny.

WINE LABELING is, justifiably, under the jurisdiction of the government in wine producing countries.

Not all countries have the same requirements for their labels; but one must remember that if wine is to be shipped to another country, its label must conform to the foreign government's provisions.

American law places the authority of label approval in the hands of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of the U.S. Treasury Department. Consumers are protected by the law, which demands that the contents, country of origin and importer are stated clearly on wines imported into this country. They must also have the corresponding terms found on American wine labels.

Each American wine label gives the type and/or name of wine, the alcoholic content, name and address of the maker and bottler and total liquid volume. Additional information regarding vintage year, Special Reserve Quality or terms indicating dryness or sweetness are not necessary to comply with the ATTD but are permitted to appear.

Wine drinkers should be cautious of labels bearing terms which are superfluous or vague, especially those on imported wines using foreign languages to describe their contents.

GENERALLY, WINES achieve their "name" from the place where grown, the variety of grape principally used in production, the name of the vineyard (German and French) where grown and, frequently, from the "generic" terms like sherry, burgundy, vin rose, and claret.

A "place name" used on a label usually indicates a wine made only at that place and no where else in the world. Examples of this would be Soave and Asti Spumante from Italy and Marsala from Sicily. The Italian government maintains strict surveillance and protection for these names and others, which cannot be used in any other country.

The French have the remarkable word "champagne" protected in France, but our ancestors in America and some in Australia stole the name, and the courts have upheld our right to use the word champagne. Conversely, recent Canadian attempts at champagne making and labeling have brought the wrath of de Gaulle. The courts probably will not permit further exploitation of champagnes' rightful name.

WINES NAMED for the principal grape used in production are called "varietal" wines.

Most Californian, Italian, Chilean and Alsatian wines and modern New York State wines (those marketed in the last 10 years) fall into this category. Examples of "varietal" wines are Niagara, Catawba, Delaware and Concord from Ohio and New York State vineyards.

California produces Pinot Noir (burgundy), Gamay (beaujolais), Grenache (rose), Cabernet Sauvignon (claret), Chardonnay (chablis), and Riesling (rhine) to name the most well known.

The names in parenthesis are the "generic" names found on less expensive wines and by no means are a reflection on the quality.

We Americans are a beautiful mixture of many nationalities. My father was born in Austria and my mother in this country. Early Europeans, in America, are largely responsible for the development of the wine industry here.

CONSEQUENTLY, when our American wineries began turning out wine, they found that the strange American names appearing on the labels, such as "sour red Concord", were confusing to the buyers, largely comprised of Europeans.

The remedy was to label the same wine with the European geographical or regional name most likely to correspond with the wines' characteristics. So...Claret, Burgundy, and Rhine wines etc. were born in America over a century ago. These "generic" terms are just now becoming obsolete.

This may sound a bit confusing until we discuss the naming procedure for French and German wines. That will be the subject of next week's article.

Local Gal Tours USO Clubs

From Detroit to the shores of Okinawa is a trip of many miles.

For Helen Watson, youngest daughter of Mrs. Helen Katchmark of 30340 Fairfax, Livonia, the journey had many stops along the route.

A singer and piano player, the blonde currently makes her home in Costa Mesa, Calif. She was on the night club circuit in the west when she joined up with a six-piece pop-country group called "Hollywood RFD."

The group departed March 11 for a month long tour of the USO circuit in the Far East. Scheduled stops in Thailand and Saigon were cancelled after the group left the states. Stops on the schedule include Hawaii, Japan, Okinawa, the Philippines, Australia or New Zealand.

Miss Watson played with orchestras and sang all through school. She holds a master's degree in music from the University of Michigan.

Madonna freshman Pat Sitek will appear in the role of Eliza Doolittle. Guest performers will be Greg Reed as Professor Henry Higgins, Paul Ferris as Colonel Pickering and Karl Tenuta as Mr. Doolittle. The production will be directed by Al Zolton, associate professor of speech and drama at Mercy College, and the orchestra will be conducted by Marius Fossenkemper.

Nixon's Star Soars As Rockefeller Bows Out

WASHINGTON--The White House announced that President Johnson has signed legislation releasing this country's entire stock of gold to back the dollar in foreign exchange. The bill removes the 25 per cent gold cover requirement for the nation's currency.

This frees about $10.7 billion in gold which the Treasury had been required to hold under a 55-year-old law which required that every $1 federal reserve note must be backed by 25 cents in gold.

WASHINGTON--In the wake of the world run on gold, serious negotiations between President Johnson and Congress have begun anew. No official response has been given to inquiries, but it is believed quiet but intense talks will center on how much spending cuts the President will have to concede before Congress will pass his tax increase.

Dennis Rogissart, former Livonia Bentley High School swimming standout, is a member of the 18 man Eastern Michigan swimming squad that captured the N.A.I.A. National swimming and diving title in St. Cloud, Minn.

Rogissart was a workhorse at the nationals, never failing to gain points whenever he swam. Rogissart swam both the 1000 and 500 Yard Freestyle races for the Hurons during the dual meet season doing double duty in all but a few meets. He holds the Eastern Michigan University varsity record for the 1000 yard distance in 10:51.5.

A list of his achievements at the Nationals is as follows: 500 Yd. Freestyle: fourth place, 200 Yd. Freestyle: sixth place, and 1650 Yd. Freestyle: tenth place.

In addition to these individual events, Rogissart was also a member of the 800 freestyle relay team that finished runners-up.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO--A mission employee rang the bell, which officially heralded the return of the swallows last Tuesday, at exactly one minute and 53 seconds after 7 a.m. According to a mission spokesman the swallows were not late this year, and they returned on time as they have for the last 171 years except for 1935, when they were three days late. The official day was St. Joseph's Day, which was last Tuesday.

PITTSBURGH -- Ennis McCaskey, a guest sleeping in the Main Hotel last week had to resort to aerial acrobatics when he awoke and found his third floor engulfed in flames. He worked his way down the hotel sign's supporting wire then dashed back inside to awaken his neighbors. McCaskey, although cut, barefoot and only wearing a pair of undershorts, broke away from police and aroused eight other patrons and led them to safety.

National News Round Up

"The problem is the supply of jobs, not the supply of kids," said Gerald W. Christenson, the executive director of the President's Council on Youth Opportunities.

To underscore the new emphasis, President Johnson enlisted Henry Ford II, chairman of the Ford Motor Co., and members of the National Alliance of Businessmen to conduct a three-year nationwide program to locate or create jobs for 500,000 unemployed persons.

NEW YORK--The National Safety Council reported that fatalities from firearms increased in homes during 1967. Home firearm accident deaths reached 1,600, an increase of seven per cent over the previous year.

WASHINGTON--The House Rules Committee, voting eight to seven, delayed any action on a controversial civil rights issue that the Democratic leadership had hoped would be acted on quickly. The delay could be crucial because it would allow real estate agents and others opposed to open housing aspects of the bill time to mount a strong anti-bill campaign.

WASHINGTON--The Pentagon has called for the drafting of 44,000 men in May. It was the third straight month that the manpower summons has exceeded 40,000. The April call was for 48,000 men, one of the highest of the Vietnam war.

Wayne County Stalls Riot Equipment Purchase

By DON HOENSHILL

Wayne County's move to buy $43,450 in riot control armaments has been sidetracked until less lethal means can be found to quell civil unrest while preserving "the personal dignity of the citizen."

It was the second setback for the sheriff's committee of the board of supervisors and a victory for Livonia Councilman Edward Milligan.

The board's ways and means committee Thursday voted to send the proposal back to the sheriff's committee, headed by Plymouth Supervisor Archie E. Vallier.

The issue went back with instructions to talk with Prosecutor William L. Cahalan and Sheriff Peter Buback about means to prevent unrest and guidelines for putting down violence if it comes.

MILLIGAN STARTED the reversal last week as a member of the ways and means committee. Thursday he complimented Vallier's committee and Buback for being alert to trouble.

"However, I believe this is a policy matter because, among other things, it might involve the personal dignity of the citizens," Milligan said.

He proposed that the board of supervisors develop a policy that all county agencies in dealings with citizens "do so in a way that respects their personal dignity."

"We need to be assured that there will be no unilateral action but a team action if necessary to act against civil disorder."

Milligan asked for a program of prevention, controlling any violence that occurs, a study of the logistics of handling prisoners to preserve their civil rights and dignity, and a more expeditious handling of resultant court cases.

He suggested that the board delay action on any purchase of guns and other riot equipment until it settled on "programs and policies."

Milligan pointed to warnings that a wedge is being driven between the whites in the suburbs and the Negroes in Detroit's inner city.

"I am deeply concerned—particularly with the relationship of suburban communities—that we are growing apart," he said. "We need to make it crystal clear that we are not interested, that we have no desire to maintain order at the expense of law."

EDWARD MILLIGAN
Order of Merit

He asked that the list of armaments be split into two sections—items the sheriff's department needs immediately and those which can wait until the board establishes policies and guidelines.

JOHN L. WILLIAMS, secretary-treasurer of the Wayne County AFL-CIO, made the motion which sent the arms buying proposal back to Vallier's committee.

The board also has received a protest from Matthew M. Holden, political science professor at Wayne State University, and clergymen of the Interfaith Action Council asking for hearings to state their objections.

Vallier's committee was also instructed to confer with the board's human relations committee, Buback and Cahalan in developing the first drafts of the policies and guidelines.

Marvin Meltzer, a supervisor appointed from Detroit, sided with Milligan, stating: "Civil liberties are an integral part of police operations."

Supervisor Alfred M. Pelham, former Detroit city controller and now a WSU executive, suggested a countywide human relations program "to prevent such things (riots) from occurring."

Detroit's Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh met last week with suburban mayors in an attempt to bridge the gap of misunderstanding and put down the rise of rumors of trouble again this summer.

He told them Detroit police are geared now to handle any unrest that develops in the city and offered a hot line intelligence service to suburbs if violence is spread beyond the city limits.

REACTION IN the suburbs was mixed, but most officials said they were reassured by

A.E. VALLIER
To His Committee

Cavanagh. Livonia Public Safety Director Donald R. Nicholson made a special plea to report rumors of unrest to the police.

Wayne County's plan to arm the sheriff's department for violence came after Detroit bought new equipment and made plans for controlling unrest if it develops again.

Vallier said his committee's list of armaments was approved by the Michigan State Police.

The list includes 148 shotguns and rifles, including five AR-15 automatic rifles, enough tear gas to arm 143 officers, 10 armored vests and helmets, shields and combat boots for 90 men.

Black Jargon Chilling

"The previous speaker kept talking about 'our'—'our society' and 'our country,' said the young Negro with the beard and bushy hair and wild-hued shirt.

"There's nothing 'our' about this country for the Negro." Thus did an audience of predominantly white establishment liberals get a fascinating, chilling look into the mind of a Black Power advocate.

THE AUDIENCE of about 800 persons attended a statewide conference on crime Thursday in Detroit's Cobo Hall, and when they talked about crime, they gravitated toward the liberal solutions of better housing, more jobs, respectful treatment, better credit practices, improved welfare programs.

Little wonder. The conference sponsors included the American Civil Liberties Union, the League of Women Voters, the state Civil Rights Commission, the United Community Fund council, the Welfare League, law enforcement groups, the state Council on Crime and Delinquency.

Some in the audience were upset that the final panel on the program should be on "Social Protest and the Administration of Justice"—as if protest were a crime.

BUT CARL SMITH made it interesting for them. Carl Smith was born in the South, raised in Grand Rapids, helps run the Black People's Free Store there, and attends Western Michigan University part-time.

His language was polite, but his attitude toward the white liberals and the "Uncle Tom" Negroes was coldly contemptuous.

"Whites control all the definitions. 'There's nothing wrong with protest—until the black man does it'—meaning that it then becomes a riot.

Whites are 'colonizers' and blacks 'the colonized.' 'There is no justice in the colonizers' court for the colonized.'"

Smith spoke in jargon—"oppression," "exploitation," "changing definitions" and the vague "they."

"White people in this country have always been armed. When the black man wants to arm, the white man gets upset," said Smith.

AN EARLIER Negro speaker spoke of political advances Negroes had made in electing officials in Mississippi and a mayor of Cleveland and Gary. But Carl Smith would have none. "Black people didn't elect anyone. White people elected the blacks because they thought it was time to have one."

As the young Black Power advocate saw it, there could be no racial integration, there couldn't even be peaceful co-existence. The only solution he saw for the black man (he didn't use "Negro" because he considers it a white man's term) is a separate community, separate institutions.

TALUS At Mid-Point

Right Now, 'Everyone Loves A Data-Gatherer,' But A Big Selling Job Remains

By TIM RICHARD
Sunday Editor

Don't bother trying to memorize exactly the following statistics. Just let them form a general impression in your mind:

There were something like 4 million living in southeastern Michigan in the last census. By the 1980 census, the population will have grown to around six million.

The six counties of southeastern Michigan had about 4,000 square miles of land at the time of the last census. In the 1980 census, they'll still have 4,000 miles of land.

Got it? Fifty per cent more people, the same amount of land.

Let's refine the impression. In one generation (1940-65), the region's population rose 70 per cent. But people have spread out and live on bigger lots, and so the amount of land that can be called "urban" has increased by 200 per cent.

The plot thickens.

AGAIN, DON'T TRY to memorize the numbers, but form a mental impression about what's been happening from 1953-65:

The population rose 17 per cent, and the number of auto trips the average person took increased 25 per cent. That figures out to 45 per cent more person-trips.

In that same period, the proportion of our trips involving work decreased from 44 per cent of the total to 32 per cent, school trips went up from 5 per cent to 7, and social-recreational trips stayed about the same—26 to 27 per cent. But the number of shopping and personal business trips shot up from 25 per cent of the total to 34 per cent.

Does that register? Our travel is increasing faster than our population, and the kind of traveling we're doing is different.

One last statistic that you don't have to memorize, and then we'll quit for awhile:

This same area of southeastern Michigan has 210 cities, villages and townships, and most are doing something that can be called "planning," some of it pretty good, some not so good.

THESE FIGURES WERE tossed out by the personnel and pamphlets of "TALUS," which stands for "Transportation and Land Use Study."

TALUS isn't making many headlines or getting much broadcast time these days, because it's in the middle of its four-year job: Developing a comprehensive, long-range plan that can help southeastern Michigan — hereafter referred to as "the region" — determine how it will develop industrially, commercially, residentially and recreationally through about 1990.

The people involved with TALUS think such a plan is necessary for its own sake because the region's past development has been haphazard, and the results have been heavy re-development costs and a loss of economic vitality in some areas.

But it's necessary legally, too. Under a federal aid highway act, the government won't approve any programs for urban areas unless its projects are based on some kind of planning process.

A Regional Planning Commission was organized in 1947, and in 1964 it gave birth to the Transportation and Land Use Study. The regional planning earlier this year was taken over by the newly-created Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG), and so TALUS is now under COG.

THE MAN AT THE HEAD of TALUS is Irving J. Rubin, a silver-haired perpetual motion machine who makes a million telephone calls and speeches a week, or so it seems.

By mid-1969, Rubin hopes TALUS will have completed the first four steps of its work — gathering data, analysis (which includes growth projections), developing and testing alternative plans, and then review and adoption of the plans.

Rubin explains these steps often, but patiently. He is seeking public support of the ultimate regional plan. The detailed implementation will be up to those 210 local governments.

(The number is actually greater than 210 by now, because Livingston County is now part of TALUS, although it isn't part of the parent Council of Governments. Livingston was added because of the importance of its drainage patterns and recreational lands.)

Right now, says Rubin, "there's no great opposition to TALUS. Everybody loves a data-gatherer." But when TALUS's recommendations come forth in the middle of next year, he expects every recommendation will get at least some disagreement. After all, each idea will represent (a) costs and (b) benefits.

"We have no authority to implement the plan. Our influence will depend on our ability to articulate the plan," says Rubin.

His sidekick, P.R. man Will Hardy, agrees. Hardy, a smart old former reporter for the Detroit Times, dopes it out this way:

"They've probably been able to do more without authority than with. They've had to sell, be diplomatic."

"We don't tell local areas how to do their planning," Rubin goes on. "We'll develop a generalized regional plan with a number of alternatives for them."

"They can still say, 'The hell with you.' They can go ahead with completely inconsistent plans. We have no way of requiring them to follow the regional plan."

"The most important thing we have is information — accurate, up-to-date. We're meeting with county planning commissions . .

IRVING J. RUBIN is director of the Transportation and Land Use Study.

"We want to help local public officials. We can build pegs upon which they can hang their hats when they have to make a decision. We can help them find it politically feasible to do what they know should be done."

One possible source of conflict is the hypothetical example of a hilly rural township that wants to develop industrially, so that it can have tax base, whereas TALUS might indicate it would be a perfect recreation area.

RUBIN KNOWS as much about people and local governments as he does about the abstractions of planning.

He started in Democratic politics in Flint and went to Lansing when John C. Mackie was elected state highway commissioner. As Mackie's executive assistant for Detroit, Rubin was freeway route coordinator for the region from 1957-64. His job was to try to get agreements on route locations.

The Highway Department loaned him to TALUS during its formative stages in 1964, and in mid-1965 the executive committee made Rubin director of the study.

His staff numbers 75, and it has a budget for the entire study of $4.4 million, or roughly a dollar for every man, woman and child in the region. Part of the budget goes for consultants and computer service.

The federal government picks up 71 per cent of the cost through two programs, planning and highways. The State Highway Department contributes 12 per cent. The final 17 per cent comes from local sources — the City of Detroit and the counties of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair, Livingston, Washtenaw and Monroe.

TALUS's quarters are downtown Detroit at 1248 Washington Blvd., up the stairs and turn right.

RUBIN HAS TWO principal assistants.

One is Jack Gould, a former civil engineer in the Army Corps of Engineers; he has experience in the San Francisco Bay area rapid transit program. At TALUS, he's in charge of transportation studies — highways, traffic, travel surveys, airports, harbors, railroads, parking.

The other is S. Thyagarajan, whom everybody calls "Thyag" (pronounced "Tee-og"). Educated in Bombay and at Ohio State University, Thyag came here from the Baltimore Regional Planning Commission, and he's in charge of planning studies.

"We don't tell a man where to live," Thyag says of his work as a planner, "but we can tinker with the kind of things that influence his choice and the environment."

"There are highways that lead and highways that follow development. Right now, we're building highways as the demand arises."

The TALUS planners are assuming that there will be no major technological breakthrough in the field of transportation — that cars, trucks, buses, ships, railroads and airplanes will continue to be the vehicles of the future. They can see no possibility of a totally new technological device — such as a tubed electric car — becoming economically feasible. "It's a shame," says Thyag, "but there doesn't seem to be any choice."

Twins Split Honors, Scholarship

ANN ARBOR -- The Hickes twins of Springfield, O., are at it again.
A year ago Melissa and Rebecca, then in their junior year at the University of Michigan School of Nursing, confounded the faculty by achieving exactly the same grade averages--3.91--for their three college years. Now they're seniors. And on March 20 they split a cash award for scholarship right down the middle.
Dr. John Romani, secretary-treasurer of the U-M chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, explained it: "We had no choice."
THE HONOR SOCIETY, which embraces all fields of study at the University, had planned to give three awards for superior scholarship. Romani said the chapter had never given more than three awards as long as he could remember.
This year it's giving four. "Melissa and Rebecca have identical averages of 3.92," Romani said. "There was simply no way to rank one girl above the other."
Since 1964, when the twins enrolled in the U-M School of Nursing, each has received only three grades less than an A. Each was in a course outside nursing. And each mark was a B.

Pamela Vandiver Is Wed In Plymouth

Wearing an empire gown of candlelight satin and lace, Pamela Arlene Vandiver became the bride of Barry David Bassett in a double-ring candlelight ceremony Saturday, March 16 in First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vandiver, of Woodland Place, Plymouth, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Louise Bassett, of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, and the late Jack Bassett.

Dr. Henry J. Walch heard the couple's vows. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

THE BRIDAL GOWN featured long sleeves, seed pearl trim and a long train. A seed pearl and crystal crown held her illustrious veil, and her flowers were calla lilies arranged in an arm bouquet.

Lynn Vandiver, the bride's sister, wore a soft pink organza gown with empire waist and full bishop sleeves for her role as maid of honor. A pink organza bow formed her headpiece.

Wearing identical gowns were bridesmaids Ann Zellner and Clara Nieset, both of Columbus, Ohio.

THE BRIDEGROOM'S brother-in-law, Stanley Rosenblum, was best man, and the ushers were Benton Bassett, of Lakewood, O., and Charles Butler, of Cleveland Heights.

Mrs. Vandiver's choice for her daughter's wedding was a coat and dress ensemble in apricot silk. Mrs. Bassett wore a beige silk dress with jeweled buttons.

The Mayflower Meeting House was the scene of a reception dinner before the newlyweds left for a Bermuda honeymoon. They will live in Warrensville Heights, O.

The new Mrs. Bassett is a graduate of the Providence School of Nursing and Ohio State University. Her husband attended Case Institute of Technology and Western Reserve University, and is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity.

Pineapple-Fish Stick Wrap-Ups

Among the blessings that modern homemakers count are wonderful convenience foods like frozen fish sticks — ready to heat and serve, eat and enjoy. Now that we're used to how good they are, we've started looking around for ways to dress them up. One fine answer is to wrap fish sticks, pineapple spears and cheese in individual pastry squares spread first with mustard; then bake and serve them with a creamy, savory mushroom sauce. The result — Pineapple-Fish Stick Wrap-Ups, a delicious main course for luncheon or dinner.

This is an economical, quick-to-fix dish the entire family will enjoy. Team the wrap-ups with whipped potatoes, a favorite hot vegetable and mixed green salad for a filling, protein-rich meal. For dessert, of course, serve your favorite fruit pie... made as you prepared the pastry for the main entrée.

Pineapple-Fish Stick Wrap-Ups

Pastry for a 2-crust pie 10 pineapple spears, drained
1/2 cup prepared mustard Parsley
10 strips American cheese 10 frozen fried fish sticks

1 can mushroom soup, undiluted
1/4 cup evaporated milk
1 can (4-ounce) sliced mushrooms, undrained

Roll pastry out and cut into 10, 3-inch squares. Spread each with mustard. Layer a strip of cheese, pineapple spear and frozen fish stick on each. Fold opposite corners of pastry square over fish sticks and secure with toothpick. Place on a baking sheet and bake at 425 degrees for 10 minutes or until golden brown. Garnish with parsley.

To make sauce: combine and heat remaining ingredients in a sauce pan. Serve hot over Fish Stick Wrap-Ups. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Church Council Schedules More Lenten Speakers

Following is a list of messages scheduled for the daily noon lenten services sponsored by the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches. The services are held Monday through Friday from 10:10 to 12:50 p.m. in Central Methodist Church, Detroit.

Monday, March 25 -- DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN, World famous Radio Preacher, New York City, N.Y.

"THE DIVINE AT THE DOOR"
"One New Testament portrait pictures Christ coming through closed doors to be with His disciples. Another portrait shows Him before the door knocking, awaiting for it to be opened. These two portrayals symbolize the fact that Christ cannot be kept out of any situation, but He has to await entrance into each personality...When the butchery of this present war is over, Christ will emerge as the One victor who can give better homes, better hamlets, and better rice fields in Vietnam...."

SPECIAL MUSIC: Mackenzie High Choir, Miss Claire Weimer, directing.

Tuesday, March 26 -- DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

"UPGRADING OUR GRATITUDE"

"We Americans are in a grumbling mood. We are caught in an unwinnable war, we are threatened by unequalled criminal violence and many still are in unrelieved pits of poverty. When we look at the howling mobs and the unwashed hippies we may think the world is going to the dogs. But when we look more closely we see that some of the dog-eat-dog competition is giving way to the man-serve-man compassion. There is a rising tide of humanitarianism...."

SPECIAL MUSIC: Cooley High Choir, David Wickstrom, Director.

Wednesday, March 27 -- DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

"GOD AT THE GATEWAYS"

"Life is a journey and there are on it certain gateways in which we pass from one significant state to another. One is the gate God closes behind us, shutting out the pursuing past. We are so eager to present religion today as a way of getting ahead that we are forgetting to stress the great doctrine of repentance and forgiveness which closes the gate on the bedeviling past...."

NOTE: Dr. Sockman will also preach at the First Methodist Church in Royal Oak, on the evening of Tuesday, March 26. Please call church (LI 1-4100) for time of service.

SPECIAL MUSIC: Western High Choir, Robert Jones, Director.

Thursday, March 28 -- DR. GARDNER TAYLOR, Pastor

Concord Baptist Church of Christ, Brooklyn, New York.

"LORD OF THE LEAST" (Matthew 10:29-32)

"The New Testament seems to be a document aimed primarily at the disinherited, the alienated, the Least. Jesus, himself, took special interest in people who did not feel that they counted, were separated from the places of influence and power. Our society, so centered on success and power, might well contemplate that and confess that we want no part of Jesus of Nazareth as he really was. Jesus saw incalculable possibilities in people who felt that they counted for little....His alliance with the Poor, the insignificant, was one of our Lord's unique characteristics. More unique is the clear evidence that he joined the poor not to use them but to be USED FOR them—even unto the cross."

SPECIAL MUSIC: Denby High Choir, Miss Theresa Breaux, Director.

Friday, March 29 -- DR. GARDNER TAYLOR

"THREE CROSSES ON A HILL" (Luke 23:32-33)

"Joseph Stiller says that a cross is not a pretty symbol...it is a symbol of brokenness and opposites. Its upward beam has 'athwart it a Cross-beam. And yet that symbol which assaults our sense of symmetry is the sign-mark of our redemption....Of course, all Crosses are not redeeming. There were three Crosses on Calvary...Our world, arrogant, swagging, prideful, willful, warring, hating is so like the thief on the first Cross...."

SPECIAL MUSIC: Plymouth High Choir, Fred Nelson, Director.

'Mud Week' Blues

It was the prevailing mud which led to the theft of $97 from her purse, claimed a Farmington Township housewife this week.

Mrs. Ronald Redman, of 29918 Eldred, told police that on Tuesday afternoon a motorist whose car had become mired in the goo in front of her house asked permission to use her kitchen telephone to call a tow truck.

Mrs. Redman said she stepped out of the house to check the whereabouts of her four-year-old child and later discovered $97 missing from a purse she had left in the kitchen.

She blamed what she said was a youth standing about 5-11, weighing approximately 160 pounds, 20 to 22 years of age and driving a bronze-colored 1965 two-door, hardtop Chevrolet. She said he has bushy brown hair.

"We've just recently moved here from Mt. Clemens and desperately need that money," said Mrs. Redman. "This is what I get for being a good Samaritan."

SPORTS BRIEFS

Mrs. Billie Jean King, winner of the U.S. and Wimbledon tennis championships, says she is about ready to turn professional. She has an offer of around $60,000.

Football drills have started at the University of Michigan. Coach Bump Elliott has 82 candidates on deck, including both his starting offensive and defensive backfield.

Biggest problem facing Elliott: more depth at all positions.

Tiger Trade Likely; Cash A Top Candidate

GETTING BIG BAT ready for the coming season is outfielder Al Kaline who has been impressive in the Tigers' spring games and is looking forward to his best season.

By George Maskin

observing sports

LAKELAND, Fla.--A Detroit Tiger trade?

Those close to the club's training camp think one is very likely before the team heads north two weeks from Sunday to open the 1968 American League season against the Boston Red Sox at Tiger Stadium on Tuesday, April 9.

The most vulnerable Tiger? The finger seems to point at first baseman Norm Cash. The Tigers are desperate to land a top-notch relief pitcher and to get same they know they must part company with a front-liner.

Cash is said to be expendable because the Tigers have Eddie Mathews, another veteran, and Don Pepper, a rookie, to offer assistance and also serve as a pinch-hitter.

Pepper is a left-handed hitter and the Tigers would like to keep him. But since Mathews and Cash both hit the same way -- from the left -- the team can't afford the luxury of carrying all three.

ON BLOCK? That's the question in Tigertown as one hears rumors that Norm Cash may be involved in a deal -- if the Bengals make one during the spring campaign.

After one great season with the Tigers when he won the batting championship, Cash never has neared similar heights since.

ALSO CONSIDERED good trade bait is outfielder Gates Brown in whom several teams have expressed interest.

Brown is another swinger from the left side and the Tigers would like to get a right-handed pinch-hitter -- a department in which the club currently is on the shortside.

General manager Jimmy Campbell admits that he has been in daily talks with other teams.

"The fact that all of us must cut down to 25 players by the start of the season could lead to some maneuvering among the clubs," Campbell said here Friday.

The Tigers, who have had their ups and downs in exhibition play, received a jolt this past week when No. 1 catcher Bill Freehan suffered a strained shoulder while chasing a foul ball.

The injury has put Freehan on the sidelines indefinitely, causing the Tigers to ask themselves:

"What if Freehan gets hurt and is lost for any great period of time in the regular season?"

The extra catchers on the Tiger squad are a far cry when it comes to comparing them with Freehan, last year's all-star catcher and the most valuable Tiger.

THE WORK of some of the young Tiger pitchers has been a disappointment thus far. The club has been high on Les Cain, a righthander, but he was belted around by Pittsburgh last Monday.

Manager Mayo Smith isn't saying so, but the indications are he may take only 10 pitchers with him to Detroit.

Grid Team Stymied At Oakland CC

A few weeks ago, officials at Oakland Community College were all excited. OCC announced it planned to field a football team starting next fall.

But this past week came another statement from OCC: there would be no grid team, after all.

Lack of money was given by OCC president John E. Tirrell.

The money was to come from a student activity fund, which now sponsors basketball, cross country, swimming, golf and tennis.

"We just didn't get the support of all concerned," said Tirrell.

Pin Ryan, who was to coach the team, agreed it was best to wait.

could be shipped elsewhere, despite the fact he turned in three neat innings of pitching here in his first exhibition effort.

The Tigers were to play at Miami Saturday night against Baltimore with the game to be broadcast by WJR at 7:55 p.m.

SHORT STUFF: The 1968 state tourney certainly proved one point -- Detroit's Metropolitan Catholic League ranks No. 1 among the state's prep cage circuits.

No less than three Class A teams -- Catholic Central, Brother Rice and Austin -- came out of the Parochial League to win a place in the quarter-finals.

At the same time Detroit Servite (Class B), All Saints (Class C) and Waterford Our Lady of Lakes (Class D) also reached the round of eight.

Wouldn't it have been something if the Parish League came up with four state champs? Loop boss Ralph Owen's chest would really pop loose all the buttons on his jacket.

YOU HAVE TO salute State Director Forsythe the way he runs the Michigan tourney.

He sets up headquarters for the teams at Jack Tar Hotel and nobody can barge onto the floors where the players stay, unless they have a special pass.

What a difference to what we saw two weeks ago in St. Louis at the hotel housing the Missouri finalists. Boys and girls, players and fans, romped merrily through the hotel floors, causing such Piston stars as Dave DeBusschere and Dave Bing to declare:

"How can schools permit anything like this to happen?"

National League In No Hurry To Add Teams

Around the sports world:
The National League doesn't appear in a hurry to expand to 12 teams like the American League will in 1969.
The senior circuit's expansion committee met in Miami, but couldn't agree on what to do, despite considerable pressure to follow the American lead.

Michigan Teams Off For South

ANN ARBOR -- Two Michigan athletic squads--the baseball and golf squads--left last week on their annual spring training trips.
Coach Moby Benedict and his assistant, Dick Honig, headed a 22-man squad to Arizona where they opened a 10-game schedule against Arizona State at Phoenix Municipal Stadium, training quarters of the San Francisco Giants.
The Wolverines will play five games with the Sun Devils and five against University of Arizona. Benedict will start Dave Renkowicz, junior righthander from Wyandotte, in the opener.

RENKOWICZ CURRENTLY rates as the Wolverines leading prospect on the eight-man pitching staff. As a sophomore he pitched 30 innings in seven games with a victory, two losses and an ERA of 3.60. Hurling in the Basin League last summer the 20-year-old fastballer had a 6-4 record.

Doug Nelson of Adrian, 1968 captain, will handle the catching duties along with Pete Titone, a transfer student from Cochise Junior College in Douglas, Ariz.
Michigan will have one advantage it does not always enjoy--the opportunity for four outdoor sessions on Ferry Field--before leaving for the Far West.

Golfers, headed by Coach Bert Katzenmeyer, took off for Marco Island, Fla., to prepare for the annual Miami Invitational at Coral Gables.

The squad consists of John Schroeder, La Jolla, Calif.; Frank Rose, Quincy, Ill.; Rod Sumpter, Flint; Randy Erskine, Battle Creek; Gene Denk, Okmak and Rocky Pozza, Detroit.

The American League already has added Kansas City and Seattle and will split into two six-teams in 1969.

Speaking of the American League, the day of referring to its umpires as "the men in blue" has ended.

The AL umpires will wear gray slacks along with blue coats in 1968, marking the first time in over 30 years the umps have changed their garb.

Two Detroiters, Ted Bakaselos and Don Wray, combined for a 1296 series and the doubles lead in the American Bowling Congress tournament at

Trotters Show Off Top Stars

Bob (Showboat) Hall and Meadowlark Lemon, two of the greatest funsters who have ever worn the livery of the Harlem Globetrotters, will be together in one of their rare joint appearances when the Trotters meet the Washington Generals in Olympia Stadium on Saturday, April 13.

Hall and Lemon are the chief laugh-provokers in the overseas touring Globetrotter troop each summer. The Trotters are so popular in North America, however, the squad splits into two units to play across this country and Canada from September to June.

Hall is the comic mainstay of the unit that plays the West Coast. Lemon stars with the team that is so familiar--and popular--here.

ON THE APRIL 13 program, Globetrotter officials will pay tribute to the many Detroit cagers, past and present, who have starred with the club. A review of the records shows that Detroit has sent more great players to the Trotters than any other city.

Two of the best are Hall, former Miller High luminary now in his 19th season with the organization; and Ernie Wagner, who came out of Northwestern High to become one of the Trotters' really solid players. Both Hall and Wagner will fly to Detroit from the West Coast for the game.

Hall succeeded the late Goose Tatum when he first made it big with the Trotters in the late 40s. He played the Olympia for three years, and hasn't been back since. In the meantime, he has established himself as one of the most fabulous Globetrotters of them all.

Entries Close Tuesday For LKC Dog Show

Entries will close at noon Tuesday, March 26, for the Livonia Kennel Club's forthcoming dog show and obedience trial.

Entries should be made to Bow Dog Show Organization, Inc., 9999 Broadstreet, Detroit. The Livonia Kennel Club semi-annual show is scheduled for Sunday, April 7, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Detroit Race Course. Schoolcraft at Middlebelt. Club officials hope for 1,000 entries.

Entry fee is $7 for the first entry of each dog and $5 for each additional entry of the same dog. Puppy class fee is $5.

Cincinnati, Wray, 24, shot a 685 to his partner's 611.

Bo Belinsky's pitching status with the Houston Astros appeared up in the air this past week. He left the team to announce that he plans to marry Jo Collins, once tabbed as the playmate of the year in a magazine featuring such items.

However, the wedding must wait until Miss Collins first obtains a divorce.

The Sporting News announced its All National Basketball Association team included Dave Bing of the Pistons as one of the guards. Other selections were Wilt Chamberlain, Philadelphia; Elgin Baylor, Los Angeles; Willis Reed, New York, and Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati.

Chamberlain was voted the player - of - the - year and Earl Monroe of Baltimore the top rookie. The "best coach" award went to Richie Guerin of St. Louis.

If you're a skier, things don't look too hot for the weekend. Only three spots in Western Michigan reported fair skiing.

The weather has been too warm.

The major leagues finally have come to a decision on the spitball. Under a new ruling, any pitcher suspected of being "a spitter" will be ruled a ball and repeated offenders will be subject to a fine by the league president.

Previously, violators were warned once and then banished from the game. Then the rule was altered to treat the spit ball as a balk, if there were men on base.

Poor Dick Radatz! Remember

they call him "The Monster" when he was baseball's No. 1 relief pitcher with the Boston Red Sox.

Now struggling to win a job with the Chicago Cubs, Radatz in his last outing delivered 24 balls (14 in a row), eight strikes, three wild pitches, five walks and four runs without a hit.

As a result, Radatz has been shipped back to the minors.

North Korea is the latest country to say it may bypass the Summer Olympics in Mexico City.

Thirty doctors have entered the annual Boston Marathon race in which entries will walk some 25 miles from Hopkinton to Boston on April 19. Could it be they want to walk away from their patients?

This is the week when all of the major league baseball clubs start cutting down. They have been carrying 35-40 players. Most will be down to around 30-33 sometime before the week is over.

By opening day on April 9, each may list only 25 on its regular roster.

Hard to figure the Tigers out--at bat. On Wednesday they made only one hit in losing to Houston. The next day they lashed out 10 in blanking Cincinnati, 3-0.

The National Hockey League has proclaimed that the Oakland Seals will stay put for the time being. A group had offered to buy the Seals and switch them to Vancouver, B.C. The Seals have been a big

Cougars Slate Soccer Debut Against Atlanta

It's just about kickoff time for Detroit's fifth major-league team.

The Cougars are less than a week away from their season's opener next Saturday against Atlanta in the newly formed North American Soccer League.

This will mark the Cougar's second year in operation. But a difference has come over them. A year ago, the Cougars imported a team from England to represent them.

Now they have acquired their own players, signing them up individually from teams in England, Scotland, Ireland, Denmark, Sweden, West Germany, many years in England, has been named to coach the Cougars. He may see some part-time service as a player.

The Cougars turned in an impressive record in their training campaign in Jamaica and Haiti, winning nine straight.

made the engineering laboratory in which she works a turned-on place.

Bulbs used in taillamps, headlamps and other lighting fixtures in Chrysler-built cars light up inside a device designed by Mrs. Simon for scientifically measuring candlepower.

A physicist with a masters degree from the University of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Simon works as a product development engineer in the company's exterior lighting department.

HER CANDLEPOWER measuring device looks like an earth satellite mounted on a stand and is called a spherical photometer. It is just one of the ideas she has suggested to assure that the customers of Chrysler Corporation get the proper lighting systems on the cars they buy.

CANDLEPOWER, NOT CANDLELIGHT, is the main concern of Evelyn Simon, at least during working hours. Mrs. Simon, of Farmington, a product development engineer for Chrysler Corporation, designed and developed the large hinged ball (she calls it a spherical photometer) shown above which she uses for measuring candlepower of light bulbs used in the various Chrysler-built cars and trucks. By placing a bulb inside the sphere and then closing the hinged halves, it is possible to measure precisely the candlepower of the bulb being tested by means of a photocell which catches the ray of light from a small hole in the sphere. The measurements enable Mrs. Simon and other Chrysler engineers to make certain the bulbs used in Chrysler-built cars and trucks meet all the legal and safety requirements specified for each bulb's use.

Using the spherical photometer, Mrs. Simon and her engineering colleagues ascertain that the bulbs used in exterior lamps ranging in size from one-half candlepower turn signal indicator lamp bulbs to 50 candlepower cornering lamp bulbs meet the light output requirements specified by various state and federal agencies.

Each bulb is lit up inside the reflective surface of the spherical photometer. The light shining through a window in the globe-like device is a measure of the total candlepower and is recorded by a photocell mounted in the window.

THE CHRYSLER engineer's creative work includes the development of future exterior lighting proposals for some of the company's models.

She also is responsible for seeing that next year's lighting fixtures fit properly to the car, that they can be assembled on the production lines without undue difficulty, and that they will be easy to service.

MRS. SIMON joined Chrysler in 1964, the same year she came to Detroit with her husband, Fred, who is a financial analyst with a Detroit firm. The couple married while she was attending Barnard College, Columbia University, where she received a bachelor of arts degree in physics in 1963.

Awarded an Andrew Mellon pre-doctoral fellowship in physics at the University of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Simon received a master of science degree in physics from that institution in 1964. While a graduate student she served as a teaching assistant in physics.

In her native Brooklyn, Mrs. Simon was an all-A student in high school and worked at various part time jobs to help support herself from the time she was 15.

Mrs. Simon now divides her time between two careers, as an automotive engineer and as a housewife. In her spare time she likes to play bridge.

Want Wild Cherry Look? Try This New Zinnia

Wait 'till you see Wild Cherry in your garden! It's a new zinnia with new and luscious coloring. Indeed, there's something about the color, unique among zinnias, that attracts people to the plants, even from yards away.

To get an idea of what Wild Cherry will look like, first imagine vigorous, bushy plants growing about two' and a half feet high. As they grow in your mind's eye, add many strong, sturdy flower stems, each one topped with several buds that open, one after another, into five to six-inch-wide, many petaled, cherry-rose blooms.

Get the picture? Now just transplant it and see it in your garden this coming summer. You can point out Wild Cherry as a super variety for it has won a silver medal in the All-American Selections trials.

Like all zinnias, Wild Cherry performs best when seeds are sown where plants are to bloom. This should be in a sunny place in your garden.

Sow the seeds sparsely. If some come up too close together, try to transplant those that are crowded, leaving the unmoved seedlings 18 inches apart. Don't waste a single plant for the seeds are in short supply this first year of introduction. For this reason be sure to buy them early.

Front Door To Match House Style

You wouldn't wear a baseball cap with evening clothes. Why have a front door that doesn't match the mood and character of your house?

Architects and designers agree that a house entrance should reflect the style of a house. It should also be a decorative highlight of the house exterior. And, as the gateway for visitors, it should look attractive and welcoming.

Selecting a front door that beautifies your home and matches its decor is no problem. Good-looking panel doors of pine, in stock sizes and a wide range of styles, are as near the local lumber dealer. They're precision-manufactured for good fit and easy installation, and are factory-treated with a chemical preservative to withstand weather abuse.

If you have a colonial home, the six-panel or Cross-and-Bible door is especially appropriate. This door has four upper panels that form the shape of a cross, and two lower panels that represent the open pages of a Bible. It's a duplication of the original hand-crafted colonial doors which were so designed because the religious implications were believed to scare off evil spirits.

Wood panel doors compliment both traditional and contemporary house styles. Some available styles are: the 15-panel Tudor door; the eight-panel Florentine design; the Dutch door, which has two separately operating halves; the nine-light glass door, which has small-pane glass panels; the three-panel door, in which panels can be fitted with decorative inserts, and the Mediterranean and Spanish designs. For added dramatic impact, you can use any of these styles as a double entry-two full doors installed side by side.

Ford Seeks Retirees For Aid

Ford Motor Company is looking for several thousand people. The search is on to let them know that beginning March 1, 1968, Ford-paid medical expense coverage is available to eligible surviving spouses of employees and retired employees. Ford estimates there may be several thousand people who have lost contact with the company and who are eligible for the new benefit.

To be eligible for Ford-paid hospital-surgical-medical insurance coverage, a spouse must apply for the coverage and be the survivor of a retired employee or of an employee who would have been eligible for a normal or regular early retirement at the time of his death.

Surviving spouses who are 65 or older also must be covered by the medical insurance port-tion (Part B) of Medicare to be eligible for coverage in addition to meeting the other requirements.

Ford recently mailed several thousand applications for coverage to surviving spouses of retired employees who are currently continuing Ford group medical insurance coverage by making the premium payments and to surviving spouses eligible for retirement plan benefits.

Any surviving spouses who have not been contacted who believe they may be eligible for the coverage may obtain applications for the coverage from personnel benefits representatives at any Ford location.

Traffic Code To Be Updated

Col. Frederick E. Davids, Michigan State Police Director, said the outlook for a second year of reductions in Michigan's traffic fatality toll is "gloomy". He noted that as of March 12, 324 fatalities had been recorded, compared to 291 at that time last year.

Marigolds Popular In Flowers

A steady climb in the popularity of marigolds, now among the 4 most popular annuals, has caused plant breeders to bend their efforts towards producing ever more floriferous, ever more useably florid varieties.

Among the 1968 winners in the 2-year All-America Selections trials are 2 newcomers, Orange Jubilee, the second winner in the same new marigold clan (Golden Jubilee was a 1967 winner) completes the color range of this group.

Like close relatives, Diamond Jubilee (yellow-flowered) and Golden Jubilee (with golden blooms), Orange Jubilee has the new "hedge" type growth with plants in a row so uniform and compact that it is possible to use them as an unclipped blooming hedge about 2 feet high.

THE 4-INCH-WIDE blossoms are of the double, giant carnation-type. They appear on the plants earlier than those of the taller varieties with similar blooms and are held well above the foliage.

The second award-winning marigold, First Lady, also is a hybrid, also is vigorous in growth and early-blooming. It, too, has double blooms of the carnation type.

And, although lower growing (10 to 18 inches tall) it also can be used for a hedge.

There the similarity ends, for First Lady has bright yellow blooms that are borne very freely and measure 3 inches across. Plants are exceptionally compact, flowers cover the tops.

Since flowers are your object in planting marigolds, start seeds indoors 6 to 8 weeks before frost-free time in your area.

Move the seedlings to a sunny place in the garden as soon as frosts are over and they'll be blooming long before plants of the same variety sown directly in the ground.

Drinking Test Traps Drivers

In the first two months of 1968, 606 drunk driving arrests were reported to the State Department. 276 licenses were suspended without appeal, 299 appeal hearings were held, 52 licenses were restored by appeal boards and 247 appeals were denied.

Eight licenses were restored by circuit courts, all, Hare said, on grounds of "economic hardship." Fifty-three circuit court appeals are pending.

Low Care Homes Make Life Easy

Low-maintenance building materials are making it possible for homeowners to live on Easy Street.

Surveys show a growing demand among prospective homeowners--and present homeowners who are remodeling--for low-upkeep products and labor-saving appliances.

Builders and manufacturers are meeting these requirements with materials that minimize or eliminate time-consuming upkeep and costly repairs while adding to the comfort and convenience of daily living.

HERE ARE SOME of the areas in which low-maintenance features are popular:

•Heating--The convenience of electric heat is making it a preferential system for new homes and conversions. It's cleaner than other fuels because of the absence of fumes and soot; eliminates furnaces, ducts and storage tanks which have to be periodically cleaned and maintained; permits individual heat control with thermostats in every room; and makes furniture arrangement easier because heat is supplied through baseboard units or ceiling.

Shop Around For Loans And Save A Bundle

Car buyers are smart if they "shop around" for financing, according to most experts in family money-management.

Most lending institutions require that collision coverage on the car and credit life insurance on the buyer accompany any auto loan. Charges for these coverages and interest rates on loans vary between banks, savings and loan associations, and other lenders, and a car buyer should look further than the terms offered by the auto dealer, say the experts. Frequently a person's auto insurance company can help him obtain an economical loan.

With a few phone calls or letters and a little legwork, says one prominent family-finance columnist, a man can save himself from $300 to $500 on the total cost of a typical $1,500 to $2,000 auto loan.

Sugars Are Same

Cane sugar and beet sugar are pure sucrose. They react the same in cooking so are interchangeable in recipes. Although there is a difference in source and processing, there is no difference in the sugars. Chemically, they are the same.

ing cables rather than bulky radiators.

•Windows -- The combination of beauty and easy care in modern wood windows makes them attractive to homeowners. For example, ponderosa pine units--available in stock sizes at local lumber dealers--are factory-weatherstripped, chemically-treated for protection against weather abuse, and obtainable with insulating glass in all styles (which eliminates the need for hanging and maintaining storm sash).

Window washing chores have also been eased with pivot and lift-out sash, allowing the windows to be washed inside the house. Removable grilles snap out to eliminate the washing of many small panes.

•Combination Storm Doors--Screens and storm panels are easily inserted or changed. Stock wood doors are preservative treated for complete weather protection.

Pre-priming reduces painting and maintenance. Tight weatherstripping and wood give greatest insulating value. Modern wood combination doors operate quietly and blend in style with the entry door.

Also in terms of convenience and comfort, the survey lists air conditioning, two-car garages, two to three bathrooms, easily-accessible decks and patios, and sound-conditioning among homeowners' preferences.

Schoolcraft's Butler Librarian Writes 'Just For Fun'

Patrick Butler has a professional ability that has created one of Michigan's finest community libraries and a bright wit that landed him a place in last week's Saturday Evening Post's humor section just below a poem by Ogden Nash.

But his reaction to the suggestion that someone should write a story about him was that there must be some sort of mistake—nobody would be interested.

Finally, cornered, he made a last ditch effort to switch the subject of inquiry to the Schoolcraft College library.

AT 43, BUTLER is a quiet man with a ready smile and a sort of fatherly image. "Actually," he said after a short skirmish about revealing his age, "I'm just as soon people knew I was only 43. Everybody takes a look at all this grey hair and decides I have to be at least 63."

The fatherly air and even the grey hair may have something to do with his eight children, ranging from 3 to 18, who, he says, "are all over Plymouth." His wife was a teacher until she found herself with practically a classroomful at home.

Butler came to Plymouth in 1952 after receiving his master's degree in library science from the University of Michigan. After 10 years as Plymouth High librarian, he joined newborn Schoolcraft College in the summer of 1962 as head librarian.

"AT THAT TIME there wasn't really any set of rules for developing a community college library. The only master lists of books had been published about 1930, and those weren't much help."

"I was fortunate here to have the enthusiasm and support of both President (Eric) Bradner and the college board. We aimed for a library of 20,000 volumes when the college was to open in 1964, and we actually had about 17,000. By now, the figure has jumped to around 30,000."

This summer Schoolcraft's library building is scheduled for major remodeling, which will convert the one-third now used for classrooms into shelf and reading space. But this change, Butler said, is really only a temporary measure.

"If the challenge continues to grow, we're going to need a whole new building in a few years, and we're going to have to think about planning for that fairly soon."

THE CHALLENGE of building and maintaining an adequate library for a mushrooming student population occupies most of Butler's time, but he has managed to squeeze in some free lance writing.

Although his work is good enough for the Saturday Review and several other magazines, he doesn't even consider writing a major hobby.

"There aren't that many things I'm really interested in writing," he claims. "I wouldn't want to write for library journals, and I don't have time to do any serious free lance work. It's just for fun."

His writing style is bright and brisk, unsuspecting readers would have a hard time tracing the work to a librarian. As Butler said while fencing with the interviewer, "After all, librarians don't have personalities; we're supposed to be dull."

If Pat Butler had set out to shatter that image, he couldn't have done a better job.

Charm School In Redford

The third session of the charm school sponsored by the Redford Jaycee Auxiliary will be on Wednesday, March 27 at Pearson Junior High School at 7:30 p.m.

Poise and appearance is the program scheduled for that evening. Although these programs are mainly planned for junior and senior high school students, anyone may attend. There is no admission charge.

Girl Scouts Collect Books

More than 300 books were collected by Redford Township Girl Scout Troop 2430 recently for the community library services project of the Archdiocesan Opportunity Program.

The books will be used in 18 inner-city centers, where community library service is not available.

The first two contests, April 16 at Redford Union and April 18 at Thurston, will be held to choose six top bands for the final judging April 20 at Redford Union. Each dance will begin at 7 p.m.

The Jaycees are looking for area bands interested in the competition. The winning band will take home a $75 prize and a trophy, along with a chance to compete in the Michigan Battle of the Bands, slated for May 25 in Muskegon.

All of the bands in the contest must be composed of amateurs. Musicians may contact the Jaycees by calling Christopher LaRue at KE 5-4867.

Find Home For Negro Sororities

Special arrangements will be made to permit two predominantly Negro sororities to occupy two of the Oxford Housing cooperative units at the University of Michigan, Richard L. Cutler, vice president for student affairs, has announced.

The housing assignment is part of the University's effort to offer equal opportunity to all of its students, Cutler said. The arrangement has been approved by the University's Regents, and is limited to a maximum of two years. He expects that during that period, the sororities, Alpha Kappa Alpha and Delta Sigma Theta, will be able to make arrangements for permanent, private facilities.

The request for assignment of units at Oxford, which is University owned and operated, originated with the two groups involved and has had the support of Panhellenic Association, the campus-wide spokesman for U-M sororities.

Under the new arrangement, members of the two groups electing to live in Oxford will be given first priority in the houses designated for them. A large proportion of the members are Opportunity Award students.

DELEGATES FROM several Observerland high schools spent last weekend in mock United Nations sessions at the University of Detroit. In all, the program drew more than 1,000 students from the Detroit and Windsor area. The Plymouth High group, representing Italy, included (left to right) Yvonne Williams, Marion Starr, Pam Bosker and Brent McLaughlan.

BENTLEY HIGH'S Mike Madden was spokesman for the Algerian delegation.

NORTH FARMINGTON HIGH representatives Roger Voorheis and Bob Hite spoke for Afghanistan.

Core (standing) Jennie Upton, Pete Bogoyevac, Rick Ducharme, Ted Preston and Shirley Lancione. The Livonia dozen took part in the Teen Tag Day project that brought over $17,000 to the Wayne County March of Dimes campaign to fight birth defects.

Detroit To Plunk $6 Million Into E. Side Schools

DETROIT -- The Detroit Board of Education has received a $6 million federal grant requested shortly after the civil disturbance last July, which it plans to pour into five east side schools in an effort to change the course of education in the city's riot-torn area. "Instead of diffusing the money across the city," said Louis Monacel, assistant superintendent for program development, "the idea is to put a lot of dollars on one kid and see if it makes a difference with him." The money will go to three elementary and two junior high schools, which are all in the same area.

UTICA -- Daisy Duck, Donald's erstwhile girlfriend in children's cartoons, was the center of a police inquiry last week when two officers of Utica's finest ordered that Nellie O'Connor, owner of the Sweet Shop, remove the psychedelic picture of Miss Daisy that was hanging on the wall.

The painting depicts Daisy Duck as topless and tipsy, Utica Police Chief Edward W. Anderson claimed nothing came of the incident. The painting remained on the wall and the incident appeared closed after Municipal Judge Richard Stravoe said he could think of no city ordinance that would "even remotely cover" Daisy Duck.

WARREN -- Voters last Monday night approved a $5.5 million bond issue for school construction 1,208 to 795. The bonds will finance construction of a new junior high school and two elementary schools, a bus garage and additions to the high school and two other elementary schools.

GRAND RAPIDS -- Julian H. Orr, a 52-year-old field service division representative with the Public Administration Service, Chicago, Monday was named Grand Rapids city manager, succeeding Henry Nabers who resigned last Fall. Orr will assume his new duties with a $25,000 annual salary April 1.

SHERHERD -- Voters in the Shepherd School District in Isabella County approved a school millage tax proposal that had been defeated twice previously. The vote was 740 to 616, with about 65 per cent of the district's voters casting ballots. The proposal was for eight mills for three years.

LANSEING -- Two riot-inspired bills, designed to protect on-duty fireman and to help poor families buy their own homes, were approved by the House of Representatives Monday. Also, a bill to legalize greyhound racing in Michigan--regarded as certain to be defeated--was advanced into position for a final vote.

Speculators Hurt As European Gold Price Declines

BRUSSELS--Gold speculators are being squeezed as the price of gold continued to slip last week in European markets.

The drop in price is apparently the result of higher monetary interest rates, because some of the recent gold purchases have been financed by borrowing from the dollar pool. Another reason seems to be the new, deflationary British budget.

The speculators have been counting on United States' devaluation of the dollar, which would raise the price of gold.

LONDON--Prime Minister Wilson's Labor government is in danger of being toppled by leftists, unionists and industry, all angered by his austerity program. The Confederation of British Industry says businessmen believe the wage and income curbs unworkable, and left-wing Laborites oppose the emphasis on indirect taxes and wage curbs.

LAGOS -- Nigerian federal troops have encircled the port of one of the largest cities in the secessionist country of Biafra. Federal troops were racing against the March 31 target date for ending the Nigerian civil war. Control of the Biafran port, Onitsha, would open a southern supply route from Lagos, the Nigerian capital, to Biafra.

State Roundup

LANSEING -- A measure that has been introduced into the state legislature for the past 10 years, the state licensing of all hospitals, is expected to be acted upon by Gov. Romney this week. The Senate Monday night accepted amendments inserted by the House of Representatives. The Senate had rejected the same amendments once before.

LANSEING -- Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley ruled Monday that the law restricting the number of hours women can work is, for the time being at least, still the law. Kelley said the law will stay in effect, even though it was repealed last year, until the new Occupational Safety Standards Commission sets up new employment standards.

LANSEING -- Paul E. Wasson of Ypsilanti has been granted the first pardon under new "clean-the-slate" guidelines for persons leading exemplary lives after returning to their communities. Wasson served a prison term from Dec. 30, 1954 to Feb. 12, 1957 for conspiracy to violate the gambling laws. He was discharged from his parole Jan. 11, 1959.

WASHTENAW COUNTY -- Two Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies, Sgt. William H. Stander and uniformed deputy Fred J. Postill, who began the first day of their reinstatement last Tuesday after being fired in December over a labor union dispute, have filed a new, six-page list of complaints against Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey and the County Board of Supervisors. The two men had been fired by the sheriff allegedly for trying to organize the Washtenaw Deputy Association.

DETROIT -- Thirty mid-year graduates from Northern High School have accepted positions with Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in a program, begun since last July's upheaval, to provide job opportunities and educational incentive to youths. The company said the 30 graduates represent about one-fifth of the class that was graduated in January.

ALBION -- Dr. John Kenneth Galbraith, nationally known economist, author and former U.S. Ambassador to India, has been selected to give the commencement address at Albion College, June 2.

World Roundup

LONDON--Prince Philip says he and Queen Elizabeth II are in a sort of uninteresting middle age, at least to the public. The 45-year-old prince said in a broadcast interview that "a young queen and a young family were infinitely more newsworthy and amusing" when Elizabeth was crowned in 1953. "Now we are getting to middle age; when we are a bit more ancient, there might be a bit more reverence again."

SAIGON--Half of the schools in the area of this capital of South Vietnam have been reopened after being closed by the recent Viet Cong offensive a month and a half ago. All schools are scheduled to be back in operation by April 1.

CAIRO -- President Nasser has fired two of his vice presidents. One was his close political adviser, and the other was an advocate of restoring relations with the U.S., although it wasn't known whether the latter's stand had anything to do with his dismissal. Only one vice president remains.

Sharpshooting Shamrocks Trip GC East

Garden City's hopes of a state class A championship vanished Wednesday before a crowd of more than 7,000 in the University of Michigan Special Events building when the Panthers took a 77-58 drubbing from a rangy, veteran, sharpshooting Catholic Central quintet.

For East High it was the end of a dream for Coach Billy Joe Young who saw his team win 22 of 24 games, losing the second to the Detroit city champions to end a 15 game winning streak.

For the Shamrocks it was 16 in a row, a string they hope will continue through 18 in which event they will be the 1968 state champion. It was more or less of a foregone conclusion that Garden City was in for a rough go since Catholic Central had nine of the 10 members of a squad that lost out in the semifinals a year ago to Detroit Pershing which went on to the crown.

The quarterfinal double-header was the first in the new Michigan fieldhouse and saw Austin High, another of the strong Detroit Catholic League representatives, rout Brother Rice, of Birmingham, 75-67.

BUT IT WAS the Garden City East-Catholic Central that had the attention of fans from Observerland—it was the first time a team from Garden City had progressed that far in the state meet and only the third area team to gain the quarterfinals in the past 12 years.

It was apparent from the start that both teams had tournament jitters but it also was apparent that Garden City would have to fight for their lives. They were matched against a bigger, faster, stronger team and in the final analysis a club that had just enough tournament know-how to make the difference when the chips were down in the second half. It was a case of a good big team meeting a good little team and the big won.

Panthers Never Quit Trying Though In Losing Fight

By TIM RICHARD

It was a bad beating, but not a disgrace.

Garden City East's Panthers and their fans absorbed a 77-58 defeat from the Catholic Central Shamrocks in last week's high school basketball quarterfinals, but don't let anyone tell you that East looked bad.

East was beaten there on the court of the University of Michigan's Special Events Building and the team and the crowd took it with grace.

CC's Shamrocks were taller. They could get three consecutive shots at the bucket and block the Panthers after one.

Maskin A Whiz Selector!

Take a bow, Swami George Maskin.

The Observer sports editor had a big night, calling the winners in the quarterfinals of the state high school basketball tournament.

He was right on 12 of the 16 games . . . and in one case—Eau Claire vs. Leslie—he called the game a "tossup." Fearless Maskin, they call him.

Maskin missed only on Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills over Saginaw in Class A. He slammed the "B" games, missed two in "C" (one Eau Claire-Leslie) and one in "D."

ANGUISHED LOOKS of these Garden City rooters tell the story of the outcome of the quarterfinal game between East and Catholic Central. Just like the players, they never completely gave up hope but realized the odds were against them this time.

It showed up in the rebound statistics—52 for Catholic Central, 40 for East.

THE SHAMROCKS were shooting better. Team percentage was 45.6, and the star, Tom Gutkowski, dumped in fully half his shots, 13 out of 26. The Panthers hit on 20 out of 61 for 33 per cent.

At the foul line, the Panthers showed the results of cool care and good coaching. They had 20 shots and made 18, or 90 per cent, while Catholic Central hit on only 17 of 27 for 63 per cent.

And for one mad quarter—the second—East outscored the Shamrocks, 15-10.

The Panthers had a good team. They didn't blow the game with kid-type mistakes. They just plain were outscored by a superb team.

Garden City East had had a string of 16 straight victories going into that tournament game. When the death of that string came, it wasn't quick, in the final rush of a last-second shot, but slow and crushing and seemingly inevitable.

At the end of the second quarter, East trailed by only 31-28, and Mike Maciasz's bucket after less than a minute of the third period brought the Panthers to within a single point of a knotted score. Then Gutkowski cut loose, and his Shamrocks built up leads of 17 to 19 points that they never relinquished.

IT WAS SAD to see that kind of a loss. One got the impression that Garden City East has of bunch of clean-cut kids, both on the court and in the stands.

Catholic Central's cheering section performed with a certain militancy—white-sweatered lettermen in front, rows and rows of blue jerseys with white piping behind. Their cheer was a hefty, baritone roar.

East, with its coed-dominated audience, had a shriller, more rhythmic section. As the third and fourth quarters wore on, cheerleaders Janet Juoppri, Lisa and Sheryl James, Karen Seago and Starr McDonald tried to rev up their crowd.

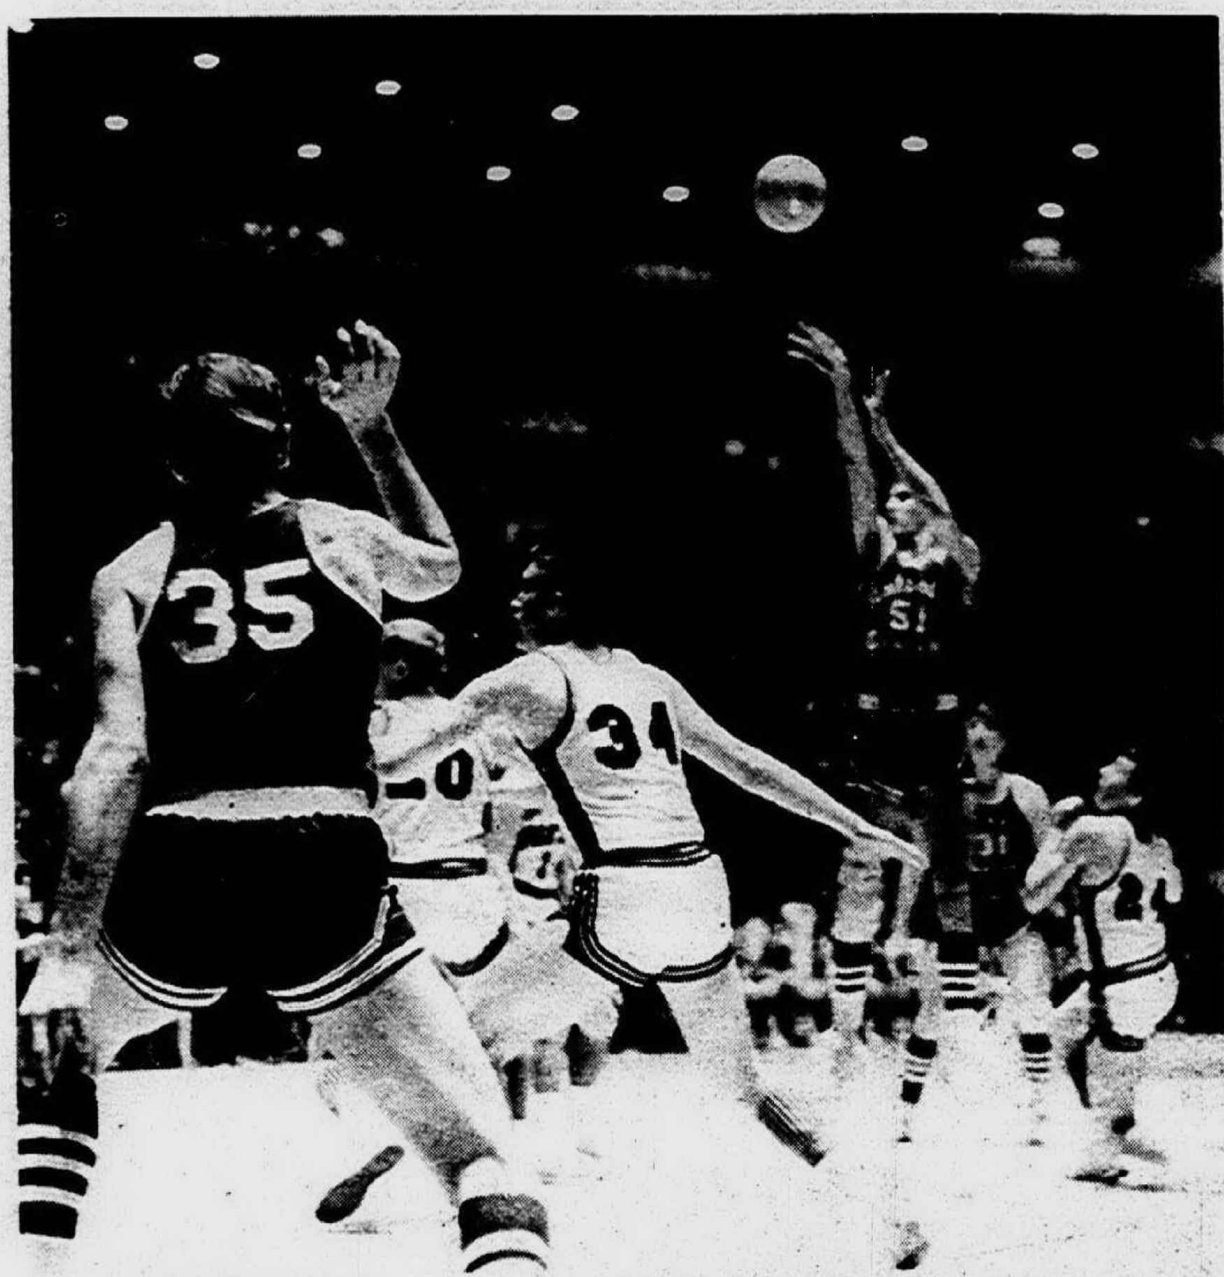

But the girls couldn't make East go, any more than anyone else could. The blue-and-white pom-poms and the white balloons with the blue "Panthers" disappeared.

YET THERE WAS A spark of appreciation left—a great standing ovation for Mike Maciasz when he left the game after fouling out late in the fourth period.

Maciasz had led his team with 23 points on seven field goals and nine out of 10 free shots, and he captured 20 rebounds.

That was, from the cheering point of view, Garden City East's last gasp before the elegant 16-game winning streak was snapped. There was no booing of the opposition, there were no incidents when the game ended. East had class, and the class showed in defeat as well as in victory.

It was a bad beating, but not a disgrace.

EXPERT MARKSMANSHIP of lanky Ron Gutkowski, high scoring CC forward, spelled the difference between the team. He's shown sinking one of the five field goals he made in the first three minutes of the second half to put the game out of reach.

Livonia Bowler Fires 845 For Area Record

Getulio "Get" Perelli, vice president of the Major Gage & Tool Co., in Farmington, stamped his name on the pages of bowling's record books Thursday at Bel-Aire Lanes.

Bowling in the Bel-Aire Classic League, big "Get," who lives at 30105 Buckingham in Livonia, set a metropolitan record when he put together games of 246, 299 and 300 for an 845 series.

With this count he bettered the previous mark of 838 set by the late Ernie Babcock at Fort Park Recreation in 1962. Prior to Babcock's high series which included back-to-back 300 games, the record was held by the late Dude Winston, whose 834 bowled at Millett's Recreation stood for more than 25 years.

AT ONE TIME during his big series Perelli had 17 strikes in a row and at the finish had posted 33 of a possible 36 strikes.

After his 246 opener he rolled 11 in a row to start the second game, only to leave up a stubborn No. 10 pin on a solid pocket hit. Then he posted the perfect game that gave him the metropolitan record.

His 845 series is the third highest rolled in the nation this year. Incidentally, his team rolled a 3192 series but it wasn't good enough to make the board in the league.

U-M Opens Grid Drills

ANN ARBOR—The 1968 University of Michigan football squad—80 strong—opened 20 days of spring training this week with its offensive plans centered around a record-setting pair of veterans, Quarterback Dennis Brown and Ron Johnson, halfback.

Both are fine runners and Brown's passing improved steadily last year. The 5-10, 175-pound signal caller carried the ball 135 times and passed 155 times for a Big Ten season record of 290 plays.

Against Indiana he set a pair of single-game marks—most plays, 61 on 30 rushes and 31 passes, and most yards 338. Of these 127 were by rushing and 211 by passing.

JOHNSON, a 6-1, 196-pound Detroit senior, came into his own with a rush last year to become the first Michigan player to cover 1,000 yards on the ground.

National League Eyes Expansion

A National League committee will meet today amid wide-spread speculation—the league will join the American League in expanding to 12 teams for 1969.

Though club and league officials have not been talking about possible expansion, there was much talk the NL would go to 12 teams to match the AL, which also reportedly is ready to split into two six-team divisions next year.

Poison Prevention Worth The Effort

All over the house! This is where poisonings happen. No room is safe!

The President has designated March 17 through March 23 as National Poison Prevention Week -- a period during which local communities give emphasis to poison prevention programs. It has been estimated that over a million accidental ingestions of potentially toxic substances occur each year. The bulk of these are among children under the age of five years (600,000 children each year).

Children's Hospital in Detroit is one of the few Poison Control Centers that communicate with the general public, while most work only with medical personnel. Your individual call is answered. Their diagnosis may save your child. Call Children's Hospital, the Poison Control Center, 833-1000.

Aspirin is the greatest cause of poisonings, followed by cleaning agents, cosmetics, pesticides, external medications, turpentine and paints.

By offering financial and volunteer support for the past five years the Junior League of Detroit, Inc., is co-operating with Children's Hospital to expand their Poison Control Center. With the approval of the Detroit Board of Education, the league gives slide programs to primary grade children in the public schools.

To "poison-proof" your home:

1. Lock your medicine cabinet, keep the key out of child's reach.
2. Store medicine separately from other household products. Keep these products and medicine in their original containers.
3. Label products properly, read before using.
4. Turn on light when giving or taking medicine.
5. Children tend to imitate adults--avoid taking medications in their presence.
6. Refer to medicines by their proper names. They are not candies.
7. Clean out medicine cabinet periodically. Get rid of old medicines by flushing them down the drain, rinsing the container in water, and then discarding it.

Check Roof For Long Term Protection

When buying or building a home, don't overlook the importance of the roof in providing long-term protection and good looks for the house, and assuring comfort and security for your family.

Any house is a sizable investment, so it pays to be sure that essential building products like the roof will give you lasting value for your money.

HERE ARE some roof pointers you should consider before making the down payment. If you aren't knowledgeable about roofs, get the answers from the builder or architect.

Is the roofing material top quality, and is it backed by the manufacturer? Asphalt shingles, seen on most new homes provide highly durable, low-maintenance roofing. The heavier the shingle, the longer the life expectancy. For instance, asphalt shingles weighing 290 or more pounds per square, are designed to last at least 20 to 25 years.

Was the roof properly installed? If so, shingles should lie flat and even with no ripples in the roof surface. Check the roof to be sure that workmen have not caused damage to the roof during other phases of house construction.

Is the roofing material fire resistant? This is a vital factor for your family's safety. Find out if the material has passed Underwriters' Laboratories tests for resistance to fire, flame spread and burning brands.

IS THE ROOF wind resistant? Interlocking shingles or self-sealers--which have an adhesive strip that bonds each shingle to the one below--are recommended for all roofs, especially those in high-wind areas.

Does the roof enhance the over-all appearance of the house? Modern roofing materials, such as asphalt shingles, now come in a wide range of attractive colors to blend with sidewalls, trim and other exterior features. The heavier weight shingles, which have thicker tabs, provide heavy shadow lines and give an interesting textured look to the roof surface. Does the roof have a wide enough overhang to shade windows and sidewalls from the sun, and protect them from the rain?

Does the roof have sufficient pitch to allow storage space in the attic or permit attic expansion into living quarters if needed?

If the answer to these questions is "yes," then you're getting a good, efficient roof that will add value and enjoyment to your new home.

Notaries Hit High In State

LANSING -- Appointments of notaries public rose to a new high during January when a reported 2,430 commissions were processed by the Michigan Department of State.

This was the highest month since records on notary commissions were started. Notary appointments, made by the governor and issued by the Secretary of State, total nearly 100,000 in Michigan.

Last year, some 20,000 commissions were issued to persons throughout the state. "Notaries in Michigan go back to pre-statehood in the early 1800's," said Secretary of State James M. Hare. The difference is that today, most persons don't have to go very far to find a notary.
