Sen. Robert F. Kennedy will bring his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination to Detroit next Wednesday with a noon speech in Kennedy Square in Downtown Detroit. He will arrive according to early plans at Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 11:30 a.m. and head a caravan to the center of the city.

LIVONIA — A 36-year-old cook in a Livonia supper club was beaten with blackjacks and left in a food freezer by two holdup men who walked in on him at work Friday morning. He is Samuel Sheppard, an employee of Rampart Street restaurant at 30325 W. Six Mile Road, which was deserted except for Sheppard. The two men, armed and wearing masks, took $900 from the cash register and a revolver. Sheppard was released by a kitchen helper who came to work later. He was treated at St. Mary Hospital.

FARMINGTON — The widening of Farmington Rd. between Eight and Nine Mile Roads has posed some problems for adjacent residents. Two of the subdivisions have exits only onto Farmington Rd., and they are "landlocked." City officials announced plans to open Salvadore from the subdivisions to Eight Mile Rd. for the duration.

FARMINGTON — School officials and members of the Farmington Board of Education have scheduled 23 meetings between now and June 10 to drum up support for the proposal to increase the school tax by four mills for a 10 year period. Biggest problems facing the schools in their quest for additional funds are the reassessments which hit the district this year and the consequent tax hike.

REDFORD Supervisor Aldrick Bellaire this week named a three-man "move-in" committee as his alternative to a recommended Human Relations Commission. Dubbed "Community Service Committee," the panel has a primary purpose of smoothing neighborhood relations in the event a non-white family moves into the township. E. Gordon Sinclair, realtor, was appointed chairman with Arthur Butler and Julian Lloyd.

REDFORD — Proposals to purchase a nearly 400-acre "Camp Redford" outstate and to purchase the in-township 105-acre Glenhurst Golf Course for recreation use were both scrapped this week. The millage squeeze in Redford Union school district was considered too tight for the approximately $1 million Camp Redford purchase and development. A federal HUD grant of $1.5 million for Glenhurst was flatly denied.

LIVONIA — City Councilman Jerry Raymond will ask for an inquiry into Livonia's proposed low-income federally subsidized apartment project for senior citizens. At least $133,000 in federal funds have been expended by local government officials on the proposed $1,300,000 development, which is still only on paper five years after announcement of the original plans. Only a vacant piece of high-price real estate marks the site of the 81-unit rental project which would provide critically needed housing for elderly Livonia residents.

DSI To Add New Building In Big Expansion Program

The Plymouth economy was given another shot in the arm Thursday with the announcement that DSI (Distributing Services Incorporated) was planning a huge expansion program.

The spiraling demand for services, according to William C. Scott, president of the firm, has brought the need for more space. And to meet the demand an entirely new building will be erected at the south end of the present site on the baseball diamond.

The new building will be approximately 50,000 square feet and will be built of steel and concrete at a cost approximating $350,000. It also will increase the present working facilities by about 50 per cent.

"Our building will cost about $350,000," Scott announced, "and there will be at least that much more in equipment to add to the tax base of the city."

ANNOUNCEMENT of the expansion program came on the heels of a like program at Dunn Steel Company which was given to the public several weeks ago. And it marks the greatest boom in city industry since the arrival of Western Electric several years ago.

In making known the new DSI plans, President Scott was jubilant and stated that it was a pleasure to tell the public of the expansion.

The present company employs about 200 persons and specializes in the distribution of materials.

"Until the details have been worked out with our new clients," President Scott stated, "I can not tell how much our employment rolls will jump—but it should be considerable."

FIRST INTIMATION, that DSI was of the move came Wednesday night when a request was made for a change in zoning a small portion of the property. It so happened that while most of the area was zoned for industry there was one small parcel omitted.

The Planning Commission recognized the need and agreed to recommend a changing to the City Commission. This is expected to be approved next Monday night.

The DSI firm came to Plymouth in 1961 and took over the old Daisy Air Rifle plant, after a successful operation in Oak Park and Southfield.

"We started in business in 1958," President Scott pointed out, "and we have been climbing ever since. Our expansion is just another step in that direction."

IF THE TIME table set for the expansion is kept the new building should be finished by August and the work be in full capacity within six months.

Coming on the heels of the city's sale of the last acre and a half in the industrial park on Plymouth Road, for what is reported to be a $100,000 building, economy in the city is looking up.

News of the DSI expansion was welcomed by the Community Chamber of Commerce. Its president, Carl Pursell, stated, "We are always glad to welcome newcomers, but more than pleased when local firms can expand. Our economy needs it, after suffering several setbacks recently, and the program is good news for the entire community."

JUST LIKE REAL THING — The Plymouth High School students gave a public demonstration of their knowledge of public affairs on Thursday when they staged a mock session of the United Nations in the high school gym. Jon Eric (standing) is shown waging an argument in behalf of the Arab nations while brother Pete looks on.

High School Students Stage Mock United Nations Session

The scene was the floor of Plymouth High School's gymnasium.

More than 300 students representing many countries were demanding to be heard, sometimes all at the same time, and for a while chaos seemed to reign.

Only the student delegates appeared to know exactly what was happening.

THE THIRD annual Mock United Nations assembly last Thursday was considered a success, but not in terms of what was accomplished as a United Nations body.

Almost every resolution introduced by various delegations was turned down by the mock assembly. At times the arguments rose hot and heavy, giving the student session the aura of the real U.N. in New York.

All the students took their positions seriously and as much as possible stuck to the ideology of the country they represented.

ONE STUDENT delegate from the USSR wanted to pound his shoe on the table in keeping with former Russian leader Nikita Khrushchev who left his head mark several years ago in a real United Nations' table. Ray Homer, high school social sciences teacher and organizer of the session, said that

Township Planners Set High Zoning Goals

The Plymouth Township Planning Commission expressed the view at its official meeting Wednesday night that it would like to keep the township in a high bracket.

Commissioner W.C. Koch said that he would like to attract the executive and junior executive to live in the township.

He said the township couldn't have all $60,000 homes but, that it should attract homes in the $35,000 price range--something the junior executive could afford.

The commission is nearing the completion of a comprehensive overhaul of Ordinance 14, commonly known as the subdivision ordinance.

THE PROPOSED new zoning map does not drastically change any zoning in the eastern portion of the township east of Sheldon Rd.

The map would, however, change the zoning districts in the portion west of Sheldon.

Wednesday night, the consensus of the commissioners was to leave the map as proposed, which means that every parcel of land west of Sheldon Rd.

may be zoned a half-acre or larger.

Roughly, land between Sheldon Rd. and Beck Rd. will be classified R-1-H (residential half acre lots). Land between Beck Rd. and Ridge Rd. will be classified R-1-E (residential acre estates); and from Ridge Rd. to Napier, township's western boundary, will be agricultural land.

COMMISSION CHAIRMAN

Target Date Set For Ambulance

To eliminate any possibility of a misunderstanding regarding ambulance service in the Plymouth Community, Edwin (Bud) Schrader announced Friday that the target date for the ending of his service was Dec. 31, 1968.

He will continue the regular service until that time in order to give the city sufficient time to set up a new plan.

Russell Asl. said the commission must establish its position and feelings now.

Ash said that if the commission endorses the proposed zoning map in its present form, then it has implied, in the decision, the township feels the area west of Sheldon Rd. will remain zoned this way for now and always.

He said the possibility of zoning changes is always there, but this is not to be considered by the commission now.

In other words, the decision to approve the proposed zoning map is a final decision by the commission and should be regarded as such, he said.

County Tax Bureau Adds $62,577,080 To Assessment Rolls

In official figures released last week, the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation has added $62,577,080 to the assessed valuation of the Plymouth community.

Of this addition $14,458,810 was added to the city's tax base and $48,098,270 to the township.

These additions were made, according to the plan in effect, because of the failure of the local assessors to assess property at 50 per cent of the true cash value which is called for by the state.

In the City of Plymouth, he has assessed at 36.90 per cent of true cash value in personal property and 35.61 per cent in real property.

IN THE TOWNSHIP Supervisor John E. McEwen, who also is the assessor, has assessed real property at 27.26 per cent and personal property at 30 per cent.

Until last year, the assessment was made at a much lower percentage, especially on the vacant land in the western end of the township.

At the time, Supervisor McEwen stated he was raising the assessment to approximately 25 per cent and would make the remainder of the jump to 50 per cent in easy stages.

Another interesting figure released by the Bureau of Taxation revealed that the tax receipts from both real and personal in the city rose only 2.30 per cent during the past year while they jumped 15.94 per cent in the township.

Two Special Events Bolster Michigan Week

Several novel events have been added to the Plymouth celebration of Michigan Week, which opens on Saturday, May 18.

At its meeting during the week, the committee added a youngsters bicycle parade to the appearance of the high school marching bands. And, on Monday, the school children will aid in a "clean-up" program in Kellogg Park and other sections of the downtown area. The addition of the bicycle parade was aimed at interesting more and more youth to compete for prizes.

The "clean-up" campaign was offered by the school students and they have agreed to work with Ken Vogras and the dpw.

The Stroller...

Somewhat or other, the discussion at the luncheon table the other day got around to the subject of prize cattle. Perhaps it was because someone mentioned that Joe Hudson, the silver-haired real estate man seated a few tables away, raised Black Angus cattle as a hobby. Or perhaps it was because the keeper of the inn dolefully prophesied that the day was not faraway when a $10 steak in a restaurant would be commonplace or that another diner pointed out the great job being done by the 4-H clubs in encouraging the youth to raise prize cattle.

Whatever the reason, the discussion took on an interesting note when one of the neighbors at the table asked the very simple question, to wit: "How can these top flight restaurant owners purchase the prize steers at the various county fairs, pay such fabulous prices for the blue ribbon winners, and still make a profit?"

"Surely," he said, "there must be an awful lot of good steak in a prize steer to pay that much money for the champion and still remain in business." Then, as an after thought, he added, "They are not doing it just to make some young 4-H club member happy."

SOME UNUSUAL OPINIONS

That was enough to start a real discussion and draw out some most unusual opinions. For instance, one of the lads at the table opined: "If they (the restaurant owners) can pay that much for prize cattle and still make money, think of the profit there must be when the steaks and choice cuts come from just the ordinary run of the mine cattle."

Well, well, well, that was the opinion that did it. In an instant everyone was talking and asking all kinds of questions. Among them was this puzzle:

Just how many steaks and choice cuts are there in a single steer?

And then this one: Does the average restaurant owner make use of the entire steer when he purchases it, and what does he do with the rest of the beef, aside from steaks and roasts if he doesn't?

No one at the table at the moment seemed to know the answers for these twisters inasmuch as such things as 4-H clubs were not in existence when we were at the age where we might get a kick out of winning a blue ribbon for the many hours of hard work needed to raise a prize specimen.

"Let's call a fellow who should know," someone suggested. "Let's call Bob Stremich. He ought to have the answers. After all, he has had the experience of carving lions and even a hippopotamus — and they ought to be much tougher to figure out than a plain steer."

ANSWERS ARE UNUSUAL TOO

So the call was placed to the man who had the courage a few months back to purchase a hippo, carve it and serve it to his customers as a delicacy.

"Are you kidding?" the little round man shouted back over the phone when he was asked how many steaks there were in a prize steer. And he yelled even louder when asked how you could pay such high prices for champion steers at county fairs and still make money.

"Quit putting me on," he chuckled, "and if you're serious, I'll try to answer your questions. When any of these so-called top flight restaurant men pay as much as $5,000 for a prize steer that weighs between 1,100 and 1,200 pounds in what is called 'live' weight, he can't possibly get his money out of it — unless he charges it off to advertising."

"You know," he went on, "a lot of people believe they are eating some of the prize steer every time they go there to dine — and this belief goes on for months."

"This isn't the case," the little round man explained.

"He doesn't get that many steaks or sides of beef for roasting out of it. What he does, in many cases, is grind up the hamburger, place in nice little boxes and pass it out to his choice customers as gifts of good will."

"You'd be surprised how a customer's eyes light up when he hears you say that you saved this portion of the prize steer — just for him. This is what you call public relations, and that customer won't forget the generosity for a long time. So, all of these things come under the head of advertising — and don't forget, perhaps, some of the purchase price can be written off as advertising expense."

Well, that shed a lot of light on the subject — but it didn't furnish all of the answer.

ANSWERING THE PRIZE QUESTION

Remaining unanswered was the question — "How many steaks do you get from a single prize steer?"

"Oh, I thought I answered that," Bob cut in with a chuckle. "If I didn't you are in for a surprise."

Then he explained —

"Each side of a steer weighs about 60 pounds, so that the restaurant owner has about 120 pounds to play with. And would you believe it," he went on, "the best you can do is about 24 sirloin steaks and 12 tenderloins."

Wait a minute, he was told — that's 36 steaks out of 120 pounds or about three pounds per steak. They don't serve that much.

"You're not allowing for the trimming," the little round man shot back. "You lose well over a third in the trim."

Then he went on, "The hind quarter weighs about 170 pounds and that is where you get the roast beef and the round steaks. But restaurant men aren't butchers, so they don't use the round steaks like you see in supermarket cuttings."

"The same is true with the front quarter where you get such things as chuck roasts and hamburger — the hamburger you wrap in gift packages for your customers if it is a prize steer, or serve it if it is from the ordinary animal."

The answers were satisfactory save for one more question — what does the restaurant owner do with the hind quarters and the fronts he doesn't use, or doesn't intend to use?

The little round man let go with one last chuckle and shouted — "He sells them to the store butchers to get some of his money back."

Spiraling Tax Bills Help Alter Public Attitude Toward Industry In Community

During the public hearing on the street improvement program last Monday evening in the Commission Chambers, one of the residents protested the proposed assessment on the ground that he had large mortgage payments to meet while trying to raise seven children, and he emphasized his protest with the remark, "And are right across from a dirty old plant... it isn't worth it."

No sooner had he finished than one of the Commissioners — James McKeon — pointed out, very forcefully, "That old plant is helping to pay for the education of your seven children."

This exchange brought into the open the new look that is being taken at industry, not only in Plymouth, but in all sections of the country.

And people who probably never understood what the words meant are now discussing such things as "tax base" and "employment" and "payroll."

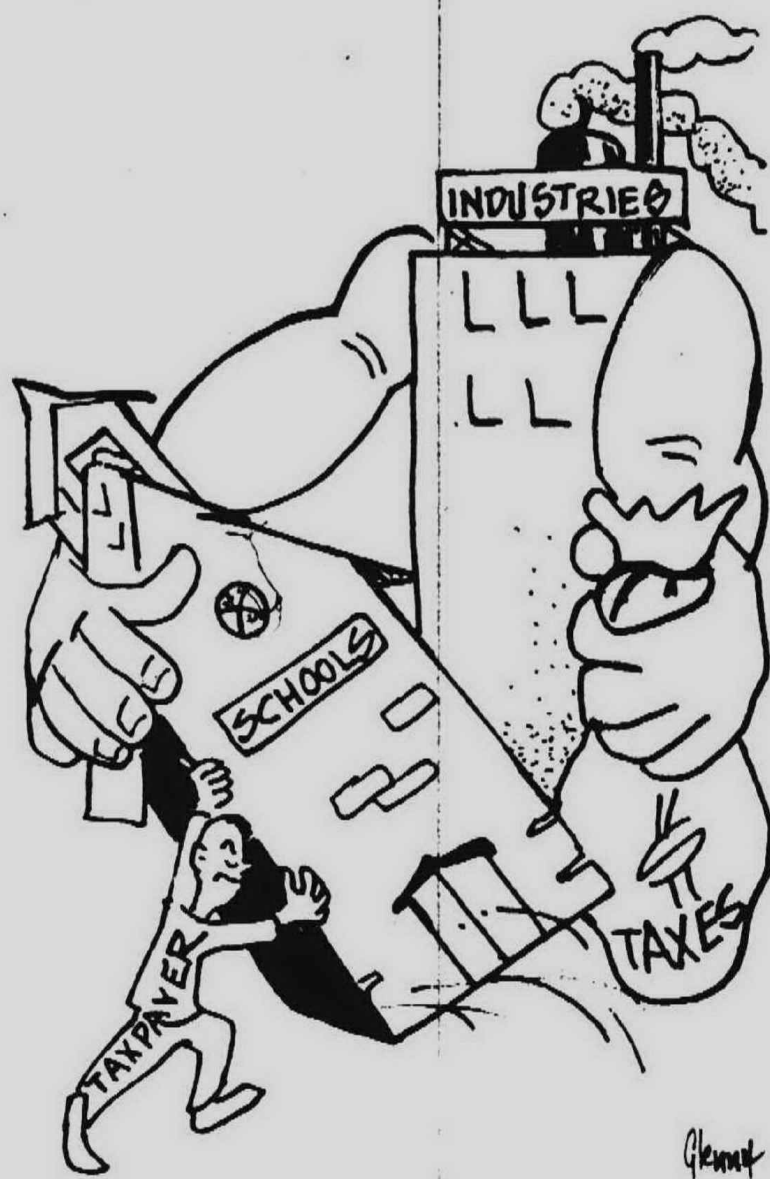

GRADUALLY, THE taxpayer is learning that industry is paying a large portion of the bill for the education of our children, for the services rendered by the various subdivisions of government and the many services that are demanded.

It wasn't too many years ago that industry was looked upon as something less than important in any community.

The people, in general, complained about the unsightliness of the plants. The housewives spoke bitterly of the heavy and dirty smoke that "ruined" her wash after it was hung out on the line to dry.

All hands joined in protesting the pollution of the very air that was being breathed and, all in all, industry was looked less than wholesome in any community.

Now, the picture is changing and industry is not only welcomed with open arms, but many communities employ experts in their field to seek and lure new industry — "for the broadening of the tax base."

Two things have helped to bring this about.

First, the spiraling of taxes each year has called attention to the need for help by the homeowner.

Second, industry has cleaned up its own image to the point where it is more often than not a real asset to any community.

FOR SOME TIME the taxpayers have pointed out that real estate taxes for the homeowner had about reached the peak and that something had to be done. It was pointed out that the average homeowner was paying to the limit right now and could not stand up under the strain if the load were made any heavier.

It was pointed out that the cost of living was rising on all sides and that the taxes — city, state and national — were now as much as could be absorbed.

"Some new method will have to be found," they chorused, knowing that under present laws, real estate must be taxed.

It was then that it started to dawn on the complainers that industry pays a heavy portion of the taxes — and doesn't have a child in school and doesn't ask too much in the way of services.

It was a new look and is becoming a more and more welcome look with each passing day.

WITH THE POPULATION explosion that brings with it the need for more expensive schools, the complainers soon realized that they couldn't afford the school bill alone. It has been estimated that the cost of educating a child in the Plymouth Community School District approximates $600 per year.

This means that the man with seven children who complained about the street assessment the other evening, is having $4,200 a year spent on his children. He couldn't afford a bill of that size.

This is where industry steps in. Because of its large assessments, both real and personal, industry pays a great share of the school bill, to say nothing of helping the various cities meet their current bills.

Western Electric, for example, pays well over $200,000 each year in real and personal property taxes. That helps to pay for the education of a lot of children.

What's more, it adds to the much improved appearance of the city and is a real asset.

Too bad we can't have more of it. We need it to survive.

Twelve High High School Students Win Scholarships In Music Field

Twelve Plymouth Community School District students this year have been awarded music scholarships by the Plymouth Symphony Society, Women's Symphony League and other local clubs.

Students receiving scholarships at Junior High West include eighth graders Mary Sackett, violin; Jim Lee, violin; and Bill Moehle, cello.

Students at Junior High East include eighth graders, Janis Shier, violin; and Charles Wells, double bass.

Stephanie Lenninger, a ninth grade violin student at East also received a scholarship.

The above students will go to Interlochen All-State Junior High Orchestra.

PLYMOUTH HIGH School Orchestra students awarded scholarships are: Janice Rowland, flute; Carol Gaffield, violin; Mark Lukasik, violin; and Howard Norris, cello.

All of the students have been awarded a $75 scholarship which pays one-half of the fee for the two-week session at Interlochen.

High school students Janice, Carol, and Mark will attend the All-State High School Orchestra.

Howard Norris will attend the University of Kansas sponsored "Midwest Music and Art Camp" for six weeks in Lawrence, Kansas, where he will be in the High School Orchestra. He has also received an additional $110 scholarship from the Camp in Kansas.

PAULETTE STENZEL, a senior and violinist in the high school orchestra, received a $140 scholarship from Kansas, a $25 scholarship from a local club and a $70 scholarship from the High School Orchestra Activities Fund. She also will attend the Midwest Music and Art Camp in Kansas.

James Warren, a string bassist in the high school orchestra, Michigan Youth Symphony, and Plymouth Symphony, received a combined scholarship of $600 to attend the National Music Camp at Interlochen for eight weeks.

He will play in the National High School Orchestra and also major on the organ.

of replies greeted this question:
"The atmosphere!"
"The slow pace—no pressures."
"Climate."
"Everything!"

Each member of the group stayed with residents of the island. For two weeks the teens worked during the daylight hours wielding paint brushes and rollers.

This can be exhausting, no matter how beautiful the climate or how clear the air. At 10 p.m. in the evening the kids found it difficult to stay awake and visit with their island hosts and hostesses.

But with the resiliency of youth on their side, they were not only able to discuss religion and politics until 2 a.m., but enjoyed scuba diving from a catamaran and explored an underwater coral reef.

Jack Smith amazed everyone with snapshots of peacocks that apparently everyone had overlooked and informed the returned travelers, "They guard the houses."

THE GROUP'S TEEN-AGE
island counterparts are not overly excited about church and their attendance is low.

Pastor Strang's vibrant missionaries took time to boost interest in church activities with the presentation of a folk song worship service.

Response to question on island food was as varied as the families with which the teens lived.

"Spicy," was one answer,
"she had an herb garden and she'd break whole twigs into large pots of food—it was delicious."

"My family used no spices, their food was very bland and they served a lot of something called 'funji'—a loose corn meal mixture cooked in corn oil," was another reply.

A lot of fresh fish was served and the boys even had an occasional hamburger and hot-dog.

WOULD THEY DO it again?
An immediate and resounding
"YES!" greeted this question.
They would too, paint rollers, turpentine, "funji" and all.

A Short Tragedy
SCENE: A suburban division front yard and a street with a few cars driving past.

CHARACTERS: A white mother and her seven year old son.

TIME: The present (unfortunately).

Act I
(Also the only act)

A car with two Negroes inside drives by the suburban front yard.

SON: Mom, those are Negroes!

MOTHER: So what.
SON: But, I didn't know they could be out here.

MOTHER: Where did you get that idea?

SON: I thought there was a law against them being here.

MOTHER: No, that's not true.

In fact, a law was just made that Negroes, or anyone else, could live here if they wanted to.

SON: Oh.

ADDITIONAL NOTE by Jonathan Kozol from his book "Death at an Early Age": "If poison

there are other things to write

but not today.

Today, the second Sunday of this green and lovely month of May, we honor the mothers of the world.

I salute all mothers of children... children who won't behave... children who are studying the new math... children who want to go to college... children who don't want to go to college... and children who are in the armed forces, fighting not for their country, but for the ideals for which their country stands.

I salute all mothers who keep house... who make cakes from "scratch"... who can darn a sock... who can raise a garden of tomatoes, radishes and carrots... who have dryers and still hang their clothes outside on a nice day... who can make a batch of cookies and let their children lick the bowl and not "lose her cool" when, by nightfall, there isn't a crumb left... who can belong to a club and still put a good meal on the table the night of the day that it meets... I salute all mothers who make a house a HOME.

I salute all mothers who work...
who meet the pressures and demands of employment and have patience to read Winnie the Pooh at bedtime... who can handle a typewriter and sewing machine with equal ease... who supplement the family income AND their husband's ego... who never say
"I'm too tired" when they are.
I salute all mothers because they ARE mothers and because this cockeyed old world reserves a special gladness and a special sadness just for them.

Students Hold U.N. Session

It was the best the high school has done so far.

Outstanding delegation and delegate awards went to the United Arab Republic, John Spruhan; Libya, John Childs; and Kuwait, Jim Kalliel.

The USSR delegation was named the best delegation of the session with Lyle Mier as chairman.

The presiding officers were: Tim Brown, president; Jimmie Benoit, secretary-general; and Dwayne Criegee, sergeant at arms.

THE VARIOUS delegations were singled out because their members stuck closely to the country's views, used parliamentary procedure effectively and had done the most research.

Planners Set High Goals

The commission said that it felt that the new map was the way it desired the township to grow and it voiced the unofficial opinion that it would stamp its approval on the map. The commission did not discuss the fact that the area west of Sheldon Rd. as proposed does not contain even a zoning classification for commercial use.

IF APPROVED then, there would be no manufacturing of any kind allowed in the area, and unless there was a request not even a grocery store could be built.

This would leave all manufacturing in the eastern portion east of Sheldon Rd. which is fast becoming filled up and populated.

Special Confab Called On Kellogg Park

Plans for the development and beautification of Kellogg Park, which have been on a hit or miss basis for almost a decade, are expected to be finalized at a special meeting of the City Planning Commission next Wednesday evening, May 15.

This decision was reached at this week's meeting of the Planning Commission to which the members of the Women's Club had been invited. Earlier, the women went on record with a plan to disassociate itself with the project.

They returned at the invitation of the city planners, who had been instructed by the City Commission to issue the bid for the meeting.

After considerable discussion on the ideas for beautification, the special meeting was agreed upon. It also was agreed that all other service clubs would be invited with the hope of finalizing the development plans.

In the past most of the work has been done by the Women's Garden Club. It was this group that conducted the campaign for the gas lights, each of which is to have a bronze plaque denoting the name of the donor and flower boxes at the base.

The women also had plans for the installation of a large illuminated fountain and the promenades leading to it, at no cost to the city other than maintenance.

It was this program that they were ready to toss aside a week ago because of the manner in which the program was met by the city planners.

This week's meeting brought about some semblance of peace and the special meeting was agreed upon to set the stage for the adoption of an "official" plan.

Franklin Marks Erased In Track

Franklin High track athletes blasted two varsity records in scoring a pair of dual-meet victories last week.

The Livonians edged out cross-town rival, Stevenson, in a thriller, 61-57, in which the final event of the day decided matters.

Then Franklin bounced back to down N. Farmington, 79-39, in a Northwest Suburban League meet.

Franklin's long jump record actually was topped twice in the meet with Stevenson in which Stevenson's Mastny set a field record at Franklin of 21 feet, two inches.

Coming in second Bill Rogalski of Franklin reached 21 feet, 1 1/2 inches, while teammate Jeff Kind was measured at 20-4, both under Rogalski's former school standard of 20-3.

Andy Charniga unloaded a toss of 50 feet, 1/4 inch to blast the Franklin shot put record which had stood at 49 feet, 11 3/4 inches.

THE MEET with Stevenson was decided by a great anchor leg by Paul Lucas, who came from behind to win the mile relay, the final race of the meet.

Against North Farmington, Ron Troia and Kind each won twice—Troia in the 100 and 200-yard dashes and Kind in the low hurdles and long jump.

The loss was the second of the week for North Farmington which tallied 28 points to 88 for Groves and 52 for Andover.

Stranded Runners Are Costly

Our Lady of Sorrows' baseball team got the men aboard base Tuesday, but couldn't push them around.

As a result Sorrows wound up losing to Pontiac Catholic, 4-1.

The Sorrows team not only had 10 men stranded on the sacks, but also had two more thrown out at the plate.

Greg Main was touched for a run in the first and three in the third when Paul Schmanskys singled over two mates.

Phoenix Lake Still A Pair Are

Phoenix Lake Still A Small Trout Producer

Phoenix Lake, near Plymouth, was stocked last fall with 7,000 young rainbow trout, but it has yet to become a big producer of catches for fishermen.

Although the trout season is now two weeks old, Phoenix hasn't shown up yet in the weekly reports of the State Conservation Department on fishing luck.

A casual survey along the lake's shores and on the Middle Rouge River to the north reveals a few fishermen are catching a few small ones.

The rainbows are there. One can see them feeding when the water is quiet at dusk. Most fishermen, however, are out during the daylight and head for home when the fish really begin to feed.

PAINT CREEK in Orion Township and the Bald Mountain Recreation Area has produced "very good" 12 to 14 inch brown trout, the Conservation Department district office reported.

Trout Lake yielded an eight-pound, 26 and 3/4 inch brown trout last week. Pettibone, Davisburg and Fenton ponds have received little attention, but rainbows are being caught there daily.

Little walleye activity has been reported. Increasing numbers of good bluegill and crappie catches were reported from various lakes.

ALTHOUGH MICHIGAN has no size limit on panfish, many fishermen throw back the ones under six inches—but a Michigan State University fisheries expert advises against it.

"Bluegills, sunfish and perch that are only a few inches long may already be full grown," says Eugene Roelofs, professor of fisheries and wildlife at MSU. "Often our small lakes in Michigan are so overcrowded with these panfish that they never grow large enough to keep."

"Fishermen always keep the large bass," he says, "and toss back the small panfish, but this just makes things worse."

WARREN GUTHRIE

It would seem that the more "forage fish" there are for the bass to feed on, the more and larger bass there would be in the lake.

"Not true," says Roelofs. "The over-populated small sunfish or perch compete with the young bass for food, and sooner or later start feeding on the newly hatched bass. Then the lake turns into a big bowl of stunted sunfish."

"So, it is better to keep all the sunfish, bluegills or perch that you catch from a small lake or pond. As cat food or rose bed fertilizer these little fish are excellent, but put back into ponds they'll undoubtedly die of old age and still be three inches long!"

Demery's Manager Dies At 39

Warren Guthrie, manager of the Demery Department Store in Farmington, died suddenly May 8, in Providence Hospital following a heart attack. He was 39.

Guthrie had been at the Demery store in Farmington since its opening and had been store manager since Jan. 1. He was a member of Farmington's Board of Commerce.

Born in Detroit on Aug. 19, 1928, Guthrie attended MacKenzie High School and the University of Illinois. His residence was in Birmingham.

He is survived by his wife, Jean; six children, Barbara, Tom, Charles, Bruce, Warren and Deborah; and a brother, Addison Guthrie, of Union Lake.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Saturday in Haley Funeral Home, Southfield, with burial following in Acacia Park Cemetery.

Pair Are Carnival Workers

Mrs. William Dornan, 30943 Halstead Rd., and Mrs. Muri Davenport, 29201 Davis Lane, are among the Farmington residents helping to plan the Detroit Country Day School Carnival to be held May 17-19 on the school grounds, Lahser and 13 Mile Rd. Hours are 5 to 10 p.m. May 17, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. May 18 and 12:30 to 6 p.m. May 19.

Mrs. Dornan is in charge of the white elephant booth where things for sale will include items for the yard, nursery, garage, cottage and clothing and furniture.

Special feature of this booth will be a boutique section, handled by Mrs. Davenport.

Farmington area students working on the event include Christa Boel, Terri Browne, Susan Campbell, John Davenport, Eric Frizzell, Stacy and Stewart Henderson, Leslie Legge, James Rachilla, Joanna Randolph, Michael Tann and Storm Thomas.

General admission tickets are $1 for adults, 50 cents for children. They may be purchased at the door or from any student.

13 Receive U-M Grants

Howell Man In Congress Race

John H. McDermott Sr., Livingston County Democratic Party treasurer, is seeking the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 2nd District. The seat is now held by Republican Marvin Esch, of Ann Arbor, serving his first term.

Also seeking the Democratic nomination is Jerome DuPont, a young Ann Arbor attorney. In his announcement McDermott said, "To those who appreciate a man who remains steadfast in his beliefs, I endorse the policies of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey."

The 46-year-old retired Marine Corps master gunnery sergeant spent part of his 23 years in the service in the Orient. He spent time in Hawaii, Japan, Guam and Okinawa. He is an engineer liaison for Conduccion Corp. in Ann Arbor.

THE 2ND CONGRESSIONAL District takes in all of Lenawee, Livingston, Monroe and Washtenaw Counties and the Townships of Plymouth and Northville and the City of Plymouth in Wayne County.

McDermott has lived six years in Howell in Livingston County. He was born in New Jersey and graduated from high school there in 1939.

"My county Democratic Party chairman and the executive committee have supported my intentions. The county chairman of the other four counties and leading Democrats have also been informed of my intentions, and their reaction has been most cordial," he said.

McDermott's civic career dates back to his youth when he was a YMCA counselor and a Red Cross Life Saving instructor.

He was a member of a local volunteer fire department, and a member of the National Guard.

HIS PRESENT activities include membership in the American Legion, where he is junior vice-commander; institutional representative for his church to Boy Scouts of America; and chairman of the organization and extension committee for his district.

He has been appointed to the Commission administering the Soldiers and Sailors Relief Act in Livingston County. He is a past president of the San Clemente (Calif.) Democratic Club.

He belongs to F & AM, Elks Lodge, First Marine Division Association, Disabled American Veterans, and the Michigan Conservation Club.

McDermott is married and lives with his wife and one daughter in Howell.

JOHN H. McDERMOTT SR.

Pianist To Perform

Phyllis Emery Leitch will perform the recently composed Piano Concerto by Francis Poulenc, accompanied by the Detroit Scandinavian Symphony Orchestra Saturday, May 18. Concert time is 8:30 p.m. in the Cathedral Auditorium of the Detroit Masonic Temple.

KALAMAZOO — When junior lefthander Ken Bratherton of Livonia (Franklin) blanked Toledo, 6-0, on April 12 it marked the first one-bitter thrown by a Western Michigan University pitcher in two years.

THE RED WINGS are expected to announce this week the naming of Bill Gadsby as their coach.

Sid Abel is giving up his job behind the bench to devote full time to running the team as general manager.

Win Spree Ends At 3 For Sorrows

A 12-strikeout performance didn't do Greg Main much good Friday when Our Lady of Sorrows bowed to St. Rita, 8-4, and suffered its first loss in the Northwest Division of the Catholic League. Sorrows has a 3-1 record.

Main gave up only four hits, but five walks and some errors helped St. Rita to count three in the third inning, two in the fourth and three in the sixth inning.

The first Sorrows' run was cashed in the second inning when Mike Hart singled, went to second on a wild pitch and came home on an error.

In the third, a walk to Ross Patton, Tom Webster's single, a one-base blow by Main and two errors made it possible for Sorrows to count three times.

There's Plenty Of Fun For All In Mixed Doubles

Firing in the fifth annual Observer Newspaper-Merri-Bowl Lanes mixed doubles bowling tournament, the largest and most interesting in the six communities covered by the Observer Newspapers, opened last weekend with a Garden City couple moving into the top spot with a 1259 series.

Patricia and Morris Hirsch turned in their biggest scores of the entire season to roll into the lead. Mrs. Hirsch, who has a 128 average, started with 144 and then added 221 and 216 for a 581 including a 150 pin handicap.

Her husband, with a 124 average, received a 53 handicap in each game. He came through with a 255, including four strikes in the ninth and 10th frames, a 199 and 224 for a gross of 678.

THE HIRSCHES hold an eight pin lead over Eleanor and Earl Scall, also of Garden City, who had an aggregate of 1251.

However, neither is expected to be among the leaders for any great time since the winning score a year ago was a record-making 1419 by Mr. and Mrs. Al Quilton of Livonia.

The tournament, which is for fun, laughs and a crack at an estimated top prize of $2,500, is just under way and continues through Sunday, June 23 by which time Tournament Director Mac Goldman anticipates more than 1,200 teams will have participated.

The meet is open to competition from teams in any section of the land. Coming as it does at the tail end of the bowling season, it is expected to attract duos from northern Ohio and Indiana as well as the eastern and southern section of Michigan.

The opening weekend saw teams from Cleveland, O., Alpena, Farmington, Madison Heights, Hazel Park, Pontiac and Flint in action. With interest mounting as the meet progresses, Goldman expects full squads each Saturday and Sunday until the final night.

IT IS A HANDICAP affair with 70 per cent of the difference between the team average and 400 and a limitation of no more than 120 pins per game per team.

Under the tourney rules, 18 games constitutes a league average which must be attested to by the league secretary or city association secretary. Bowlers in the area governed by the Detroit Bowling Association and the Detroit Women's Bowling Association must have certificates from those associations.

Any bowler who falsifies his or her average forfeits all rights to prize money. Prizes will be paid when averages of winners have been verified.

Any bowler who has won $300 or more total in any tournaments over the past two years must report to the tournament secretary and is subject to average rerating. This must be done before bowling.

IN THIS tournament, a bowler may participate twice with the same partner but only cash once. However, he may bowl as often as he likes with different partners and be eligible for the prize fund each time.

The entry fee is $12 per couple, of which $6.70 goes into the prize fund, $3.60 is charged for bowling and the remaining $1.70 is for tournament expenses, principally for scorers. Any portion of expense fund which is not expended will be automatically placed in the prize fund.

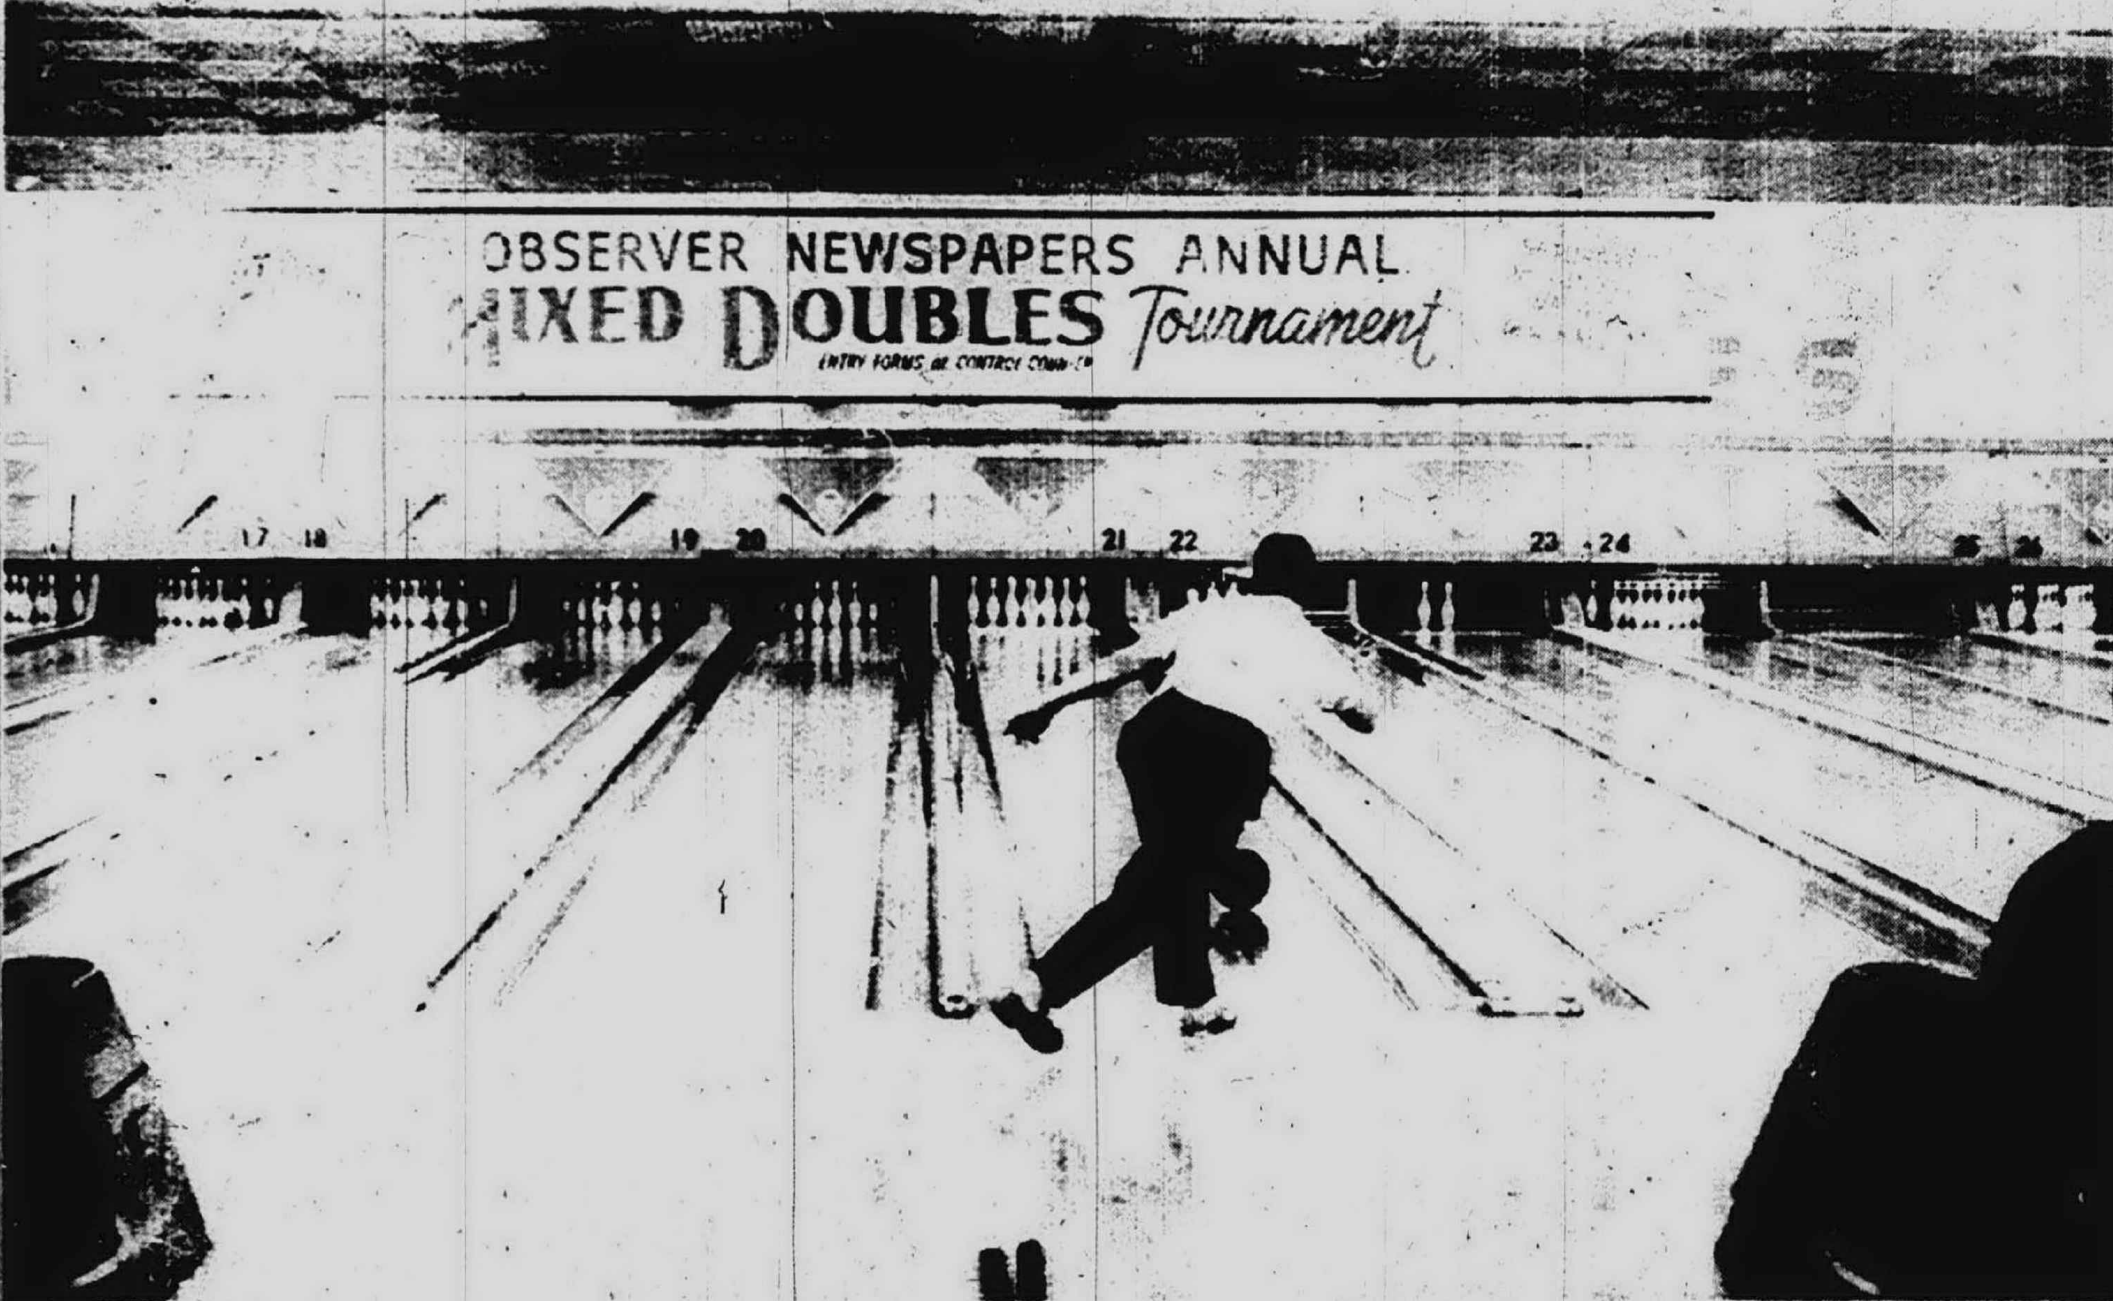

There will be bowling on every Saturday and Sunday through June 23 with squads at noon, 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 p.m. each day.

MANAGER GOLDMAN indicates there are still many choice times available but warns bowlers to file entries at once. Many of the Saturday and Sunday times have been taken over by full squads from leagues from the various lanes in the area.

Those desiring additional information may call the tournament headquarters at Merri-Bowl Lanes on Five Mile Rd. in Livonia.

THIS IS THE KIND of mixer every bowler hopes for and especially in the mixed doubles where strikes can mean dollars if one gets enough of them.

THERE IT GOES and this kegler has the look of one who has all the confidence in the world that he'll make a strike. He isn't the least bit concerned with what is taking place on adjoining alleys — only what's going to happen to his ball.

U.S. Opens Talks With N. Vietnamese

CAIRO -- Egypt agreed Thursday to participate in Middle East peace talks in New York but ruled out direct talks there with Israel. Israel had already agreed to indirect talks.

Informed sources said this did not necessarily mean Egypt was insisting on the physical withdrawal of Israeli troops from occupied territory before peace talks. But Egypt was said to be insisting on a firm timetable for withdrawal.

PARIS -- American and North Vietnamese negotiators flew to Paris Thursday to open preliminary talks that may expand into a full peace conference and lead to an end of years of bloodshed in Vietnam.

Both sides and their French hosts expressed optimism, but experienced diplomats predicted long, weary weeks -- perhaps months -- of frustrating negotiations before a peace settlement could be hoped for.

SAIGON -- The Viet Cong hit hard at Saigon from three sides last week on the eve of the Paris peace talks, pushing closer to the center of the South Vietnamese capital than at any time since the start of the five-day old Communist offensive. The U.S. Command announced 2,540 enemy soldiers have been killed since the assault began last Sunday.

The toll of civilian dead and wounded was more than 2,000.

CATANIA, Sicily -- Streams of lava poured out of two new mouths on the east side of Etna volcano last week and explosions rocked the mountain's most active crater near the top, but authorities said the flareup posed no immediate threat to inhabited places.

MOSCOW -- Soviet leaders met with their four closest

But it was confirmed in London that Britain had found six Canberra planes that were wholly financed by British money.

Lagos -- Nigeria and rebel Biafra have agreed to meet in Kampala, Uganda, to talk about ending their 10-month civil war, but they still must decide whether the Organization of African Unity or the British Commonwealth Office will sponsor the talks.

BEIRUT -- Syria's Radical Socialist leaders wound up three days of talks last week with President Gamal Abdel Nasser and top United Arab Republic officials.

The talks were rumored to have centered around two subjects: strengthening the Arab military posture around Israel and heading off a split between Syria and the other Arab nationalist regimes.

WARSAW -- The Polish Communist Party newspaper has urged that the "alien anti-socialist trend in the political life" of Czechoslovakia be "forcibly silenced."

The newspaper said "this trend is aimed at undermining the guiding role of the working class party, liquidating people's power and setting Czechoslovakia at variance with fraternal Socialist countries."

PANAMA -- Panama's presidential campaign is in full swing now after month-long interruptions in March caused by the opposition's unsuccessful attempt to topple President Marco A. Robles through impeachment.

On the surface there is little of the tension that appeared last March. But there is increasing speculation about what the impending elections may bring, and the speculation centers again on the National Guard, whose stand in the March crisis left little doubt of its position.

Set Summer Hours For Nuclear Plant

CHARLEVOIX -- Summer hours for the Information Center at Big Rock Point nuclear plant, north of Charlevoix, are listed by Charles R. England, center manager.

The schedule calls for the center to be open every day from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., starting May 1 and continuing through October. More than 63,000 persons visited the center in 1967.

England said Consumers

Power Company expects its 500,000th visitor sometime in late May or early June. The center first opened in 1961 and is believed to have hosted more visitors than any other similar center in the United States.

New Domed Stadium Urged By Bennett

A bill offered by State Rep. John Bennett (D-Redford) "for the purpose of building a new domed stadium to serve the Detroit Metropolitan area of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties," is being drafted in stages in the Legislature.

As outlined in a letter to the Legislative Service Bureau where bills are drafted, the bill would create a "Stadium Authority" to be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate.

This Stadium Authority would "have the power to acquire land and build a new domed stadium and necessary parking facilities in the tri-county area."

A new stadium has been in the talking stage for many years. Bennett's proposal, while not original, puts the idea into the form of a specific bill.

THIS THREE-MAN Stadium Authority would be a "body corporate...to provide and maintain services and facilities connected with the operation of the domed stadium."

It will also have the power to float a revenue bond issue, "which shall be backed by the faith and credit of the State of Michigan," for the purpose of erecting such a stadium.

Proposed as a financing plan for the stadium was; a 50 cent per person admission fee; 20 per cent of gross revenue from "concessions and all other sales"; and a "four per cent use tax on all hotel and motel rooms in the Wayne, Oakland and Macomb area." These would all be " earmarked for the repayment of revenue bonds and debt service."

Bennett justified the latter levy against innkeepers on the basis of the increased business which such a stadium would bring to the Detroit area. He said the stadium should be self-supporting after five years of operation at which time this levy would be cancelled.

BENNETT characterized

Tiger Stadium as "deteriorated and out-moded in many respects" and said that a domed stadium must be built soon "if the residents of Michigan are to continue to enjoy major league baseball, professional football and other outstanding sports events."

Bennett estimated the cost of such a stadium at "about $50 million."

According to Bennett's proposal, this stadium would be "an all weather, all-purpose, year around facility," where such varied activities as rodeos, boxing matches, variety shows, circuses and other "civil events" could be scheduled. He said that it has been estimated that visitors drawn to Detroit by this facility "will spend about $40 a day in the metropolitan area." He said the Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood (R-St. Louis) has also agreed to "support a feasible plan to build a stadium." His final comment was that he is currently "working" on the Governor.

FLORIDA FAMILY HAPPENING

Paralyzed, Mrs. Overly Builds A New Life

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. Darrel Overly, 23230 Fenkell, Detroit, almost totally paralyzed since her neck was broken in an automobile accident last year, has allowed her story to be told in The Observer for two reasons: (1) that she might give hope to others in similar situations, and (2) that she might alert other young people to possible disability benefits available to them under new Social Security laws.

A former Livonian, Mrs. Overly, 20, is one of the youngest people in Michigan State to receive Social Security benefits. Under new laws, she needed only 1½ years of employment to qualify her for benefits. Under the old law, five years were necessary. Inquiries about qualifying may be directed to Sam Test, district manager, Social Security Administration, 18500 Grand River, Detroit; telephone, 272-0080.

By WALLI SCHNEIDER

Marilyn Overly has something to say quietly to a world that may be too busy shouting, "Bad War," "Bad Kids," "Bad Taxes."

"Look around," Marilyn said, "There's always someone with more burdens, more problems than yourself. There's always someone you can help who will make you forget yourself. You can get them out of the dumps and give them something to live for. I've looked."

Twenty-year-old Marilyn Overly, fragile and pretty, is paralyzed from her neck to her feet from a tragic automobile accident in which her neck was broken March 31, 1967.

BUT THAT ISN'T how the former Livonian would like her story told:

"It's not what's happened to me," she said. "It's what could happen to others. All I can do is encourage other people with problems like mine not to give up. Too many do and too many die, either physically or emotionally."

"When I was in the hospital, I met a terminal cancer patient. We both were in the same room, and doctors wanted us separated because they thought we would be bad for each other psychologically."

"We looked at it this way. When my friend saw me struggling, it made her fight harder to keep living. And I saw her struggles and tried harder."

"People put too cheap a price on life," Marilyn said. "I'm happy just to live."

Propped in an easy chair in the cozy apartment where she and her husband, Darrel, have lived since their marriage in January, Marilyn wore a crisp, pink dress and pink ballet slippers, her black hair done to a T.

"I don't say it's always easy to smile at life," she admitted. "But people help. Darrel is the one who gets me up in the morning and says, 'Come on, Marilyn, get up, get dressed, get going.'"

"CERTAINLY I've had to readjust everything in my life," she continued. "Nothing could hold me down before the accident. I wanted to go, go, go. I was active in all kinds of sports and activities—horseback riding, water skiing, snow skiing, gymnastics. I was a cheerleader at Bryant Junior High and I got into everything I could at Bentley High School."

Marilyn graduated from Bentley in 1965, then attended Western Michigan University until 1966, when she had to drop out "for financial reasons" and get a job.

The automobile accident brought a halt to both college and career plans the following March.

"ONE THING WASN'T taken away, though," Marilyn beamed. "I wanted to go into art—fashion design, maybe. And I still think I can."

With the aid of a mechanical gadget attached to her wrist, Marilyn can move both arms slowly up and down—and paint.

"Doctors at first thought I wouldn't live and, if I did, I wouldn't be able to move at all," she explained. "I did live and I can at least move my arms up and down. They tell me now there's no hope for my hands or legs, but every day they get closer and closer to an answer in medicine. I'm going to keep hoping."

A visitor to the Overlys' apartment looked around the living room, every square inch filled with beautifully painted canvases, charcoal sketches, abstract montages. "Those who don't see it won't believe it," the onlooker said.

"IT JUST TAKES me longer to do a painting," is all Marilyn said to explain her deftness with a brush held in hands that cannot grasp.

The young artist recently had another in a long chain of surgeries which will attempt to straighten the fingers on her right hand and curve her right thumb inward so she can grasp an object.

"I don't want to buy too many mechanical gadgets to help me do things. I want to keep trying to do them, myself," she said.

And the things Marilyn cannot do herself, hubby Darrel does. Not adept at housewifely chores, Darrel has learned to cook ("He's really getting pretty good"), clean, and to move Marilyn carefully from bed to chair to car and back again. Complaints has he none.

Nor compliments for himself. "I don't do much," he explained. "My wife does a lot." Helping with moral support and physical chores are Marilyn's parents, the Joseph Milton Govans of Livonia, and a brother and sister-in-law, the Donald Govans of Plymouth.

ADDED TO DARREL'S salary from Acme Quality Paints, where he works a 40-hour week, the Overlys count their blessings from Social Security, which entitles Marilyn to collect $828 a year—"a tremendous help."

She became eligible to receive benefits under a new law passed just recently which, Marilyn says, "may help others like me."

But probably the biggest blessing to the Overlys is Marilyn's own ability to face the worst and make the best come of it.

"I was watching TV the other day," she mused. "This serial involved a young man who announced he wouldn't marry his fiancée unless she got a nose job."

"Well, I," she said her voice trailing off, "that's hard for me to understand. It seems to me there's no problem you can't solve if you want to try."

Detroit's Channel 4—WWJ—The Detroit News — will give up five half-hour spots of prime time on five Monday nights for a documentary on "Racism, Rebellion, Renewal."

Then the station will ask viewers to turn off their sets and discuss the issues and what to do about them.

"I'm particularly struck by Channel 4 giving up so much of this prime time, especially for a series which specifically calls for people to turn off the set for most of the rest of the evening," said Norman Thorburn, one of the leaders of the Plymouth Human Relations Assembly.

THE STATION has agreed to show the documentaries at 7:30 p.m. on five Mondays, May 20 and 27, June 10 and 17 and 24.

They are prepared by the Southeastern Michigan Community Forum, an arm of the Interfaith Action Council which was formed a year ago by all faiths in the Detroit metropolitan area.

The programs will explore the issues, the causes and the possible solutions to racial friction on Southeastern Michigan.

IMMEDIATELY after the programs, there will be in-home discussions by groups of six to 10 neighbors "working to arrive at the other half of the facts — what is in the hearts of your fellow citizens," the forum said.

"If you want to see our community move forward, you can help by taking part in this program," it said. "Invite your friends and neighbors to join you in a discussion group."

Women's Crime War' Primed

Luncheon Set

An organizational meeting of the "Women's War on Crime" fostered state-wide by State Sen. Lorraine Beebe, R-Deerborn, will begin official activities June 12, she announced Thursday.

Presence of court watchers and speakers in Redford Township currently are on an unofficial "familiarization only."

Alpha Xi Delta Installation Set

Alpha Xi Delta Western Wayne County Alumnae Chapter will install new officers at 8 p.m. Tuesday, May 14, in the home of Mrs. Robert Perkins, 5259 Echo, Bloomfield Hills.

The meeting also will feature a program on gardening by a local landscape firm.

Mrs. John Hopkins will be president for the next year with Mrs. Kennard Cummings, vice president in charge of program, and Mrs. Robert Chartrand, vice president for finance.

Treasurer elect is Mrs. Terry Fields; recording secretary, Mrs. Ivan Sekulich; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. Dale Wassell; local membership contact and panelistic delegate, Mrs. Kenneth Sheldis; magazine agency, Mrs. Donald Gruschow and journal correspondent, Mrs. Richard Mozier. Alumnae living in the Dearborn, Livonia and Plymouth areas are invited to attend and to confirm should call either co-hostess, Mrs. Paul Veljkov, GA. 7-1232, or Mrs. Roy Hazen, 646-3622.

basis, as far as she is concerned.

To be held in the Dearborn Youth Center, the June 12 kick off will feature former Grand Juror Judge Edward Piggins and State Police Commissioner Colonel Davids as guests speakers after a $1,500 luncheon.

Mrs. Beebe, whose legislative leadership made possible a state-wide movement adopting the Indianapolis "Women's War on Crime" crusade, will outline the background.

"After that, we'll begin to move with the whole plan," she told The Observer.

AS YET, an organizational structure hasn't even been set up beyond her own post as overall coordinator, she said.

About 200 women have replied to questionnaire's indicating their interest in working, but work projects have not been initiated, she added.

Court observing, which women are currently doing in Redford township and elsewhere, is a part. An extension of this will be compiling critiques of court patterns for the judges' review and possible action. But Mrs. Beebe said she has not given the go-ahead for this yet.

OTHER POSSIBLE programs include juvenile aid, legislation, better lighting, police protection, rehabilitation, spruce-up, clothing, job opportunities, vocational guidance, coordination, stay-in-school and public relations.

Anyone interested can write to Sen. Beebe at the State Capitol building in Lansing or attend the June 12 kick off luncheon.

Mrs. Pat Fisher, one of the women observing Redford courts this month, has also been invited to speak at several community functions.

SHE SAID she will be trying to arouse women's interest to serve.

May 28, at 8 p.m., she will speak to the Township Council of Civic Associations at Redford Union board of education offices, 8 p.m.

May 14 she is to speak to the 19th Congressional District Democratic Women's Club.

Croquettes Use Leftovers

If ever in doubt as to what to do with leftover ham, there are always croquettes. The recipe here is exceptional. After frying croquettes, top with cheese slices and place in broiler until cheese is melted.

Ham Croquettes

2 tablespoons margarine	1/2 teaspoon grated onion
3 tablespoons corn starch	1 egg
1/4 teaspoon pepper	1 tablespoon water
1 cup milk	1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 cups ground, cooked ham	Corn oil, for frying
1 1/2 tablespoons chopped parsley	(about 1 quart)
1 teaspoon lemon juice	Mozzarella cheese strips (optional)

Melt margarine in saucepan. Blend in corn starch and pepper. Remove from heat. Gradually add milk, mixing until smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens, comes to boil and boils 1 minute. Remove from heat. Mix in ham, parsley, lemon juice and onion. Chill.

Shape mixture into 6 balls. Beat egg and water. Roll croquettes in bread crumbs, coat with egg mixture, then roll in bread crumbs.

Meanwhile, pour corn oil into sturdy, deep fryer or skillet filling utensil 1/2 full. Heat over medium heat to 375 degrees F. or until 1-inch cube of bread turns brown in 40 seconds or use electric frypan following manufacturer's directions. Fry croquettes in hot oil until golden brown, about 4 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper. If desired, top fried croquettes with strips of Mozzarella cheese and broil until cheese is melted. Makes 6 servings.

Winner Kennedy, Lausche Share Spotlight

WASHINGTON -- Two victories by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, an impressive showing by Richard M. Nixon and the defeat of veteran Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio), highlighted five primaries across the nation last week.

Kennedy defeated Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in Indiana's Democratic presidential primary and his national convention delegation slate beat Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's in the District of Columbia.

Republican candidate Nixon was unopposed and got an even larger Indiana vote than in the 1960 primary.

Lausche was defeated by Cincinnati City Councilman John

J. Gilligan, a former congressman who had labor support and the Ohio Democratic organization endorsement.

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE-- Former President Eisenhower has sat in a chair for the first time since his heart attack two weeks ago.

His doctors said his condition is improving steadily but it is not certain when he can be released from the hospital.

NATIONAL ROUNDUP

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. -- It was reported that the spirits of the 15 trapped miners remained high during the middle of last week despite word that officials had been too optimistic in predicting their imminent rescue.

No word has been received from the men farthest into the mine when waters from an adjoining mine poured in last Monday. They are believed dead.

WASHINGTON -- Senate House conferees have agreed on a $10 billion income tax increase and a $6 billion cut in spending during the next year.

The tax would be in the form of a 10 per cent surcharge on existing taxes, as President Johnson proposed.

The $6 billion spending cut is the figure passed by the Senate, which Johnson said was excessive and against the national interest.

WASHINGTON -- President Johnson signed a bill last Wednesday to extend and expand the national school lunch program.

The new law also provides $22 million a year for the next three fiscal years to give the states assistance in setting up and expanding pilot food-service programs for children in nonschool activities away from home, such as day-care and recreation centers and Head Start programs.

Engineers, Doctors Devise Brace For Crippled

ANN ARBOR--The engineering theories of stress and loading can be applied to the human leg as well as to a structural beam. Because of this, a team of University of Michigan physicians and engineers may help patients with severe arthritis in the knee to walk comfortable again.

Biomechanics, a relatively new program in U-M's College of Engineering, unites the fields of medicine and engineering.

"More specifically," said Robert C. Juvinal, professor of mechanical engineering, "we are working in orthotics." This is the use of artificial devices to assist diseased limbs; it is distinct from prosthetics, in which artificial devices replace missing limbs.

JUVINAL, WORKING with Dr. Edwin M. Smith, associate professor of physical medicine and rehabilitation, recently developed a brace for the painfully unstable rheumatoid knee. The device permits normal movement of the knee while providing force at seven points on the leg, analogous to seven loading points on a structural beam. The combination of the seven forces restores enough knee stability to enable patients to walk with relative comfort and freedom.

However, the knee brace will not be commercially available until faster, more efficient methods of fitting and adjusting it are perfected.

But another orthotic device, developed several years ago by Juvinal, Smith and their colleagues is currently being sold. This is a modified balanced forearm support for severely paralyzed wheelchair patients. It attaches to the patient's wheelchair and balances the paralyzed arm, relieving the patient of the gravity load and enabling him to perform such everyday tasks as feeding himself.

TO WORK IN orthotics, Juvinal had to supplement his engineering background with a study of anatomy. This included "spending many hours dissecting cadavers with Dr. Smith to find out more about the mechanisms of the musculo-skeletal system, and particularly the hand."

Juvinal first became involved in orthotics about 10 years ago when the U-M Medical School's department of physical medicine and rehabilitation received a research grant from the Vocational Rehabilitation Administration.

Dr. James W. Rao Jr., chairman of the department, asked J. Raymond Pearson, Juvinal and mechanical engineering professors for their help. Juvinal said he became interested at once because of "the immediate, tangible rewards in terms of human welfare."

Since 1965 Juvinal and Pearson have also held appointments as professors of physical medicine and rehabilitation in the Medical School. In the same year, a full time research engineer, Dr. James L. Cockrell, was added to the orthotics research team.

ONE OF THE MORE important findings to come out of orthotics research, Juvinal believes, is an explanation of the nature of the deformity of the rheumatoid hand.

"An understanding of what causes the diseased hand to deform into a characteristic pattern influences the exercises prescribed, the nature of the surgical repair procedures, and the design of corrective braces," he noted.

Rocks Whip RU In Battle Of Unbeaten

It was showdown time on the track and Plymouth High came out a big winner over Redford Union Thursday.

Both entered the meet with unbeaten streaks. RU had won nine straight, including three in the Suburban Six League. Plymouth had won five in a row and also boasted three conquests in the league.

Led by Steve Derr and Steve Montgomery, Plymouth romped to a 76-42 victory over Redford Union.

The triumph virtually assured Plymouth an unbeaten dual-meet campaign. Only Belleville remains to challenge the Rocks Tuesday in a meet that hardly figures to be close.

DERR CAPTURED the high jump and the long jump and placed second in the hurdles and the low hurdles.

Montgomery hit the wire in front in both the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes.

Hurdler John Morrison continued his brilliant running for Redford Union by capturing both the high and low sticks. Plymouth swept the four field events, both relays and four of the other running races.

Prior to beating Redford Union, Plymouth crushed Walled Lake, 86-31, with Derr again the top point winner.

He won the high jump, the high hurdles and the low hurdles.

EXCITED PLYMOUTH HIGH rooters show their delight as Steve Montgomery breaks the tape in the 880-yard relay, one of the many events the Rocks won in snapping Redford Union's unbeaten string while adding to their own.

A's 'Catfish' Hurls Perfect Game

OAKLAND, Calif. — For the first time in 46 years the American League has witnessed a perfectly pitched baseball game.

Jim (Catfish) Hunter turned the trick Wednesday night when the Oakland A's blanked the Minnesota Twins, 4-0.

Hunter retired all 27 of the Twins. Nobody got on base against his offerings.

One has to go back to April 30, 1922, to find the last time such a masterpiece had been recorded in the American League.

On that occasion Charley Robertson of the Chicago White Sox set down 27 straight Detroit Tigers to win, 2-0.

Hunter helped his own cause by collecting three hits and knocking in three of the A's runs.

Perfect games have been more frequent and more recent in the National League.

Jim Bunning, the ex-Tiger, set down 27 straight New York Mets in 1964 and the following year Sandy Koufax followed suit when the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Chicago Cubs.

And who'll forget Don Larsen's perfect job in 1956 when he pitched the New York Yankees to victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers without a Dodger seeing first base?

Glenn Nips Franklin; Thurston Winner, 2-0

The baseball story for John Glenn High continues to be a happy one.

Glenn continued to lead the Northwest Suburban League by downing Franklin, 4-3, to up record in league play to five victories in six starts.

Meantime, Thurston stayed a game off the pace by rebounding from two defeats to blank Groves, 2-0.

Kerry Webb turned in his fourth league victory in edging out Franklin. His only loss of the season came in a non-leaguer.

Webb was hit hard, giving up 10 safeties, but he worked out of a series of bad jams.

He also helped himself by delivering two big hits. His first-inning triple netted the Glenn team its first run.

Then Glenn tallied three times in the fourth off loser Dave Paden in the fourth inning. Len Anderson walked, but was out when Dennis Malaney's bouncer hit between first and second.

Webb followed with a single. Bob Russ was safe on an error after which Rick Martinez and Bill O'Connor singled.

From then on Glenn went scoreless against reliever Jim Davies.

FRANKLIN SCORED in the first inning on hits by Dave Towey and Bill Hellstein, added a second run on hits by Towey and Fisher in the third and wound up with a third run in the fourth when Paden singled in Hellstein, who had singled.

The defeat for Franklin followed on the heels of a 6-5 non-league win over Wayne.

Franklin rallied with two runs in the final inning when Mike Moore singled, took second on a sacrifice and scored the tying run on Mike Lehto's pitch single. Russ Scott and Archie Leib followed with singles to break up the game.

Gary Minor in relief was the winner. Fisher had three hits and Leib two for the winner.

THURSTON SAW a no-hit effort by Deno Syrios erased with two out in the bottom of the seventh and final inning. He had fanned 10 and walked only three batters.

Chuck Pilar scored Thurston's first run when he singled, stole second and scored on Joe Kowal's one-base knock in the second inning.

Pilar also scored the other Thurston run as the result of two errors.

North Farmington High's tennis team posted two more victories this past week by downing John Glenn, 6-11/2, and Birmingham Groves, 4-3 1/2.

The Raiders won one singles match and three in doubles against Groves. Mike Lesser triumphed by himself, 10-3, while the duos of Dave Bjurstrom - Mike Paster, John Bouza-Richard Leebave and Dave Kubitsky-Bill Marberg triumphed by respective scores of 10-6, 10-9, 10-8.

Against Glenn, Jeff Cohen, Lesser, Bjurstrom and Pastor engineered singles victories. In doubles John Watson-Larry Basak and Randy Pafford-Tom Harrison came through on top for the Raiders.

Fumbles Helpful To Stevenson

There's a saying in sports, you're not fussy how you score.

Stevenson didn't mind the fact that Pontiac Northern was guilty of 11 errors Tuesday.

The miscues helped the Livonians to gain a 5-1 triumph and remain on top in the Interlakes Conference.

The bobbles figured in all of the Stevenson runs as they scored twice in the fourth, once in the sixth and twice in the seventh.

Bob Sievert was the winning pitcher as he worked the route, giving up four hits as Stevenson fashioned its fourth loop win without a setback.

Overall for the season, Stevenson has a 9-1 record.

After dropping four straight, the Falcons pulled out a 6-5 win over Pontiac Northern.

Just prior to beating Northern, the two teams had to finish up their suspended game of April 25. When play was halted by the elements on that occasion, Pontiac Northern led, 4-0.

Northern added three more runs Thursday to finish up a 7-0 winner.

Joe Himmelsbach's grand slam homer proved the big blow for Farmington in its win over Northern.

The drive came in the fourth after two walks and an error had permitted Farmington to jam the bases.

The Falcons had tallied twice in the second inning on walks to Tony Himmelsbach and Dan Wolfman, a wild pitch and an error.

Mike Daly was the winning pitcher, giving up eight hits. Farmington ended the week with an overall record of two wins and six losses.

Attwell captured the two sprint dashes while LaFevre triumphed in the pole vault.

Farmington, now 6-0 overall in dual meets, clashes with cross-town North Farmington this Tuesday before moving into the state regionals at Madison Heights next Saturday.

Trotter Pays Record $112 In M&M

Little Dominion, who was on the steward's list for two miserable performances in previous appearances, recorded one of the biggest upsets in Wolverine Raceway annals Thursday night when he won the 18th renewal of the Merchants and Manufacturers trot. Leased to William McGee, of Jackson, the five-year-old Dominion Boy gelding was so lightly regarded by the bettors that he left the post as the 50-1 longshot in the first dash of the two heat stake.

He had broke stride in each of his two previous races.

against mediocre competition, and seemed entirely out of class in the $21,000 stake.

The M&M, the state's richest and the nation's oldest trotting stake, had attracted a field of 10 including many standout trotters from the east and mid-west.

* * *

PROPENSITY, a five-year-old Jamie; gelding owned by Richard and Ron Oldfield, of Toledo, was the odds-on favorite and looked every bit the part when Driver Joe Marsh Jr. took him to the front and he had a length and a half margin on the field at the three-quarter pole.

But coming up fast on the outside was Little Dominion, piloted by Clarence Ayotte, who had been in the sixth spot.

Little Dominion was a length back on the outside as the trotters went into the final turn. He was creeping up gradually in the drive to the wire as Marsh took to the whip.

The Michigan-owned trotter was even with the favorite with 110 yards remaining and then just did get his nose on the wire at the finish in 2:06.2. There wasn't any question as to the 50-1 shot winning even though the judges called for a photo.

THE CROWD OF 5,980 roared its approval when the mutual board flashed Little Dominon as the winner. The longest bettors screamed their delight when the board came right back with the prices of $112.60, $20.40 and $6.20 across the board.

It was the longest price ever paid for a winner of the stake which dates back to 1889. It was the first victory for a Michigan horse since 1954 when Detroiter Bill Brown's famed

The rules of the United States Trotting Association provide that in a two-heat stake, the winner will be determined first on the basis of summary of finishes and second on the fastest time.

Thus Little Dominion could have won it with a victory in the second heat or by finishing second to Propensity but having the fastest time in his first heat victory.

LONGEST SHOT in the history of the $21,000 Merchants and Manufacturers Trot is shown crossing the finish line Thursday at Wolverine Raceway with Michigan-owned Little Dominion (2) beating Propensity home by a nose. Guided by Clarence Ayotte, Little Dominion went post-ward at better than 50-1 odds and paid a whopping $112.60 for a $2 win ticket. The clocking of 2:06.2 also clinched the coveted M & M trophy for owner William McGee of Jackson.

Trojans Boom On Diamond

After a slow start, Clarenceville High's baseball team has begun to boom along in the last three weeks.

The Trojans posted their third victory in six starts Thursday when they turned back Holly, 6-3. The lone defeats for Clarenceville during the spree have come against Northville, the leader in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Clarenceville required some fine pitching by Jim McCammon and Bob Duman and some clutch hitting to offset poor fielding.

The Trojans were guilty of 10 errors, which figured in all of the Holly runs.

A FIVE-RUN, second inning enabled Glarenceville to build up a winning margin.

Duman, Kerry Rifkin and John Rathbun singled in order. Jim Croskey and Bob Schurig walked. Bob Ridling dropped a perfect bunt for a single and Carl Watkins hoisted a fly to right, which was muffed, to permit two runs to score.

In the fourth, Ridling singled, stole second and rushed home on a single by Watkins.

McCammon allowed one hit in the first three innings; Duman one in the final four frames.

Loss Drops Bentley Off Lead Slot

Bentley High's baseball team was knocked out of first place Thursday when blasted by Belleville, 10-1, in a Suburban Six League game.

The loss evened Bentley's record at 2-2 in the loop as Belleville boomed ahead with a 3-2 mark.

Games involving Plymouth and Redford Union were postponed because of wet grounds.

Bentley and Belleville were locked in a duel until the seventh inning when Belleville broke loose for eight runs to turn the game into a rout.

The only Bentley run came in the fifth inning when Ken Gowkowski walked, went to third on Ed Rafter's single and scored on an infield roller by Bob Cascaden.

Cascaden had two hits for the losers.

Double-Purpose Trees For Beauty, Usefulness

If you contemplate setting out trees -- and you should, for nearly every garden can stand more -- give serious thought to double-purpose trees. These can be shade and flowering; shade, flowering and fruiting or shade and nut-producing.

In the first group there are dogwoods in red and pink as well as white, the spectacular-flowered magnolias, fringe trees, silver bells, redbuds, catala, flowering cherries, the tall pawlonia or empress tree and non-fruiting crab apples like Bechtel's. The first two, plus the cherries, plant in early spring in northern states.

For the next group which produce edible or ornamental fruit as well, start off with apple, peach, pear, plum, cherry, quince, orange and lemon or tangelos trees. All have attractive blossoms. To these, then, add most of the crab apples, the hawthorns or mountain ashes. Of these, plant peaches, cherries and plums only in the spring.

Finally, we come to the nut trees, walnuts, pecans and heartnuts which make large, broadheaded trees; butternuts, Chinese chestnuts, almonds, hickories. To these add jujubes, paw-paws and persimmons which really come under the fruit trees but are less spectacular.

When you have made your decision, find the ideal location for your trees--these are all deciduous or leaf-droppers that they can be planted near the house. They will shade it in the summer and let the sun through in winter.

Then order your trees at once so that you can still get them planted in early spring. As soon as you get them, soak the roots in water for 24 hours.

With your shovel dig a large hole, at the very least 50 per cent wider and deeper than the roots spread out. Next, to the soil which was removed add a generous amount of dried cow manure and a good handful of soluble fertilizer for a quick pick-up.

With a hoe mix these into the soil pile thoroughly. Then fill it back in around the roots of the trees, firming it with your feet when two-thirds full and filling the remainder of the hole with water. When the water has drained away, complete filling the hole and make a large ring around the plant to retain water. In most cases set the tree at the same depth it stood in the nursery. In dry country mulch over the root area and you will be well on the way to healthy happy trees.

Hannifin Names Farmingtonite To New Post

Appointment of William C. Van Dike as an engineering specialist is announced by D.A. Cameron, industrial sales vice president, Parker Hannifin Corporation.

Van Dike, as assistant to Ivan A. Shuel, engineering specialist in the Detroit regional office, 900 Plymouth Road in Plymouth, has been given special assignments regarding machine design firms in Michigan, relative to Parker Hannifin valves, cylinders, pumps, connectors, and associated fluid power products.

Beautify Your Home With Flower Baskets

"Break out" your wicker baskets, fill them with bright spring flowers now abundantly available at your neighborhood florist, and display them to advantage to "beautify your corner of America"--your home or apartment.

You can use almost any shape, size and weave of basket as a flower container. If you don't have some baskets stashed away, you can buy interesting and unusual ones, most having low price tags.

Place or attach a glass jar, tin can or plastic container in the bottom of a foil-lined basket, insert crushed chicken wire to hold the flowers securely, add water, and insert the flower stems.

If the basket is shallow or of unusual shape, cover the sides and bottom with heavy-duty aluminum foil, and attach a pre-saturated-with water foam flower holder into the already anchored water container. If necessary, cut the foam block to smaller size so it will be surrounded with water. Then insert the flower stems into the foam, which is obtainable at florist shops.

Here are suggestions for arranging and displaying baskets

FREE: Will your peonies bloom or blight? Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy of my bulletin, How To Grow Peonies and Iris, a guide packed full of good tips on raising these fine plants. It will tell you how to prevent blasting or blighting of peonies, so you can have plenty of blossoms.

FORSYTHIA IS STUBBORN: Why is it that a forsythia will blossom one year and fail the next? Many believe this is because the birds eat the buds in winter but I doubt if this is the real cause. Some forsythias are harder than others. They may come through the winter and produce green leaves, without producing any buds.

The reason for this: cold winters. The hardest forsythia is F. ovata, earliest to bloom, but less effective. The unlikely form (F. intermedia spectabilis) is real showy, and so is the drooping form, F. suspensa. However, these quite often have their buds killed.

Forsythias often bloom around the bottom of the bush only. That's because the flower buds are closer to the ground where it's warmer, and are protected by earth and snow. Forsythias which have grown too high can be cut back immediately after flowering is over. If you want to trim your forsythia so it'll be more shapely cut out some of the oldest branches, making the cut about three inches above the ground. Forsythias shouldn't bear sheared into a ball as you remove the flower buds and ruin the beauty of this bush.

Don't fret about the crusty appearance of the branches and twigs. Forsythias often develop it and many conclude it's a disease or insect infestation.

WOOD CHIPS ARE USEFUL: If you've had a stump removed, no reason why you can't save the chips for a mulch, for the compost or for loosening heavy soils. Scatter them around the base of shrubs and evergreens. Soak them with a liquid feeding of a complete plant food such as 23-19-17. Sometimes chips from elm part a rather peculiar odor, but if lime is sprinkled on them, it disappears.

of flowers: An old-fashioned straw-mat holder, filled with carnations, pompons, delphiniums, ivy, for example, and hung beside your front door, will add a touch of beauty and create an air of warm welcome for visitors.

Hanging baskets of fresh flowers can brighten your entrance hall, porch, kitchen, dining area or patio.

Large baskets that normally hold magazines are wonderful for large displays of green foliage, such as magnolia leaves, rhododendron and others.

A tallish raffia basket is a very appropriate container for the long, rangy gladioli or snapdragons. This arrangement, mixed with shorter stemmed flowers--freshly cut pompons or zinnias for instance--and some large, dark green leaves would be attractive in front of a fireplace or on a low table.

There are many baskets of unusual shape made especially for hanging on walls. The sprightly daisy is a perfect partner for all of them. Alone, or mixed with ivy, daisies can't help but paint a live portrait of spring. Try them in a dark hallway or corner and watch it come to life.

Take a hint and carry spring indoors in a flower-filled basket.

"Simplank" Brand Paneling from the 3M Company is a featherweight, wood grain paneling that can be cut with a knife or razor blade and glued into place over any surface.

Of hardwood laminated to a rigid quarter-inch plastic foam plank, the paneling comes in eight or 10 foot lengths, in five to 10 inch widths. A transparent vinyl skin covers the woodgrain surface.

Green Thumb Tips

BAITING A MOUSE TRAP: A reader writes: "I've tried many baits but the best was a piece of bacon on the trap. Even if the bacon becomes green, it still will attract mice. Hope your readers will try this."

ROOTING VINES: Clematis can be raised by cuttings or by seeds. Perhaps seed is the easiest although many large-flowered hybrids are propagated by cuttings. In July take some young shoots and cut them into pieces six inches long, place in a cold frame (avoid direct sunlight) and see what luck you have.

Dutchman's pipe, that handsome vine used as a solid screen, can be started by seed or by cuttings. Take cuttings in summer and root them as you do clematis. Keep cuttings moist and humidity high, by placing a plastic tent over them.

GREEN THUMB BONUS: If lilacs and forsythias have been erratic bloomers, then better change their habits! Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for a copy of my bulletin, How To Handle Stubborn Lilacs and Forsythias. My guide is full of good tips on raising these fine shrubs.

OF DINING AND FINE WINE

BY STATON LORENZ
Special Writer

"Was 19—such-and-such a good year?"
"Yes, it certainly was, but why do you ask?"
"Well, I, er, uh...heard that 19— was 'the best year of the century' and I would like to buy a couple of bottles for this weekend; we're entertaining guests from out-of-town."

This may be an all too familiar conversation between a wine merchant and a suburban housewife or the husband of same on his way home from work. A good wine merchant will have a wide selection of wines from which to select and his selection will span several "years."

YEARS OR VINTAGE years are printed on the label or displayed on a special neck label on wines entitled to the designation. Wines grown and produced (100 per cent) in a given year that are not blended with wines of another year (harvest) may print the year of the harvest on the label. Imported wines rely, heavily, on advance publicity regarding the type of growing season, harvest conditions, and the actual taste of wines while in the barrel. The better the "review," the better the sales, and the more one can expect the year to be exposed on the label.

A "good year" is one which has the proper sunshine, sufficient rains and at the right time, and ideal harvest conditions—which are always a gamble. Naturally, every country or continent experiences the same calendar year but, unfortunately, not the same growing conditions or climate.

AMERICANS KNOW that California has a more consistent and generally warmer climate than say, New York or Michigan.

FRENCH AND GERMAN wines are better known for their vintage designations, and rightly so because the climate is unkind more often than not.

So while we share the same "year" on our labels, we don't share the same winemakers, climate, soil, or press agents. One might then ask why does the "year" turn so many heads?

Sgt. Boudreau Was There

Super-Infantry Hits The Screen

By FRED DeLANO

A yellowed newspaper clipping of 24 years ago, dated "Somewhere in Southern France," was fingered gingerly by the balding Farmington electrician.

The headline on the story blared the words, "Black Devils in Baggy Pants," and under an artist's drawing of an Allied landing on an enemy-held beach was the statement:

"Toughest of the tough is the Canadian-U.S. combat group known as the First Special Service Force."

In the opinion of Arnold B. Boudreau, of 33947 Kirby, Farmington, that statement was no exaggeration even though he admits he could be prejudiced. You see, Boudreau was one of the 1,700 Americans and Canadians who comprised that famous force of World War II, predecessor to the outfit now known as the Green Berets.

He was Sgt. Boudreau in those days and it was with a rightful touch of pride that he reminisced of the hell-for-leather F.S.S.F., immortalized in a new movie titled "The Devil's Brigade."

It's the upcoming release of this David L. Wolper production which brought about the conversation with Boudreau and by coincidence, with another of the Devils, Detroit's John E. Morrison, who was visiting his old Army buddy at the time of the interview.

Both will view the movie for the first time when it premieres May 14 in the Michigan Theatre.

KNOWN for their baggy mountain pants and blackened commando faces, the volunteers of the F.S.S.F. made history with their three-month performance at Anzio during the Italian campaign and their attacks on Levant and Port Cros to open the original beachhead in southern France.

These were men who learned mountain, snow, amphibious and parachute warfare. They were the super-infantry. They were there to kill or be killed, and in the long, bitter Anzio fight, only 23 were taken alive.

Sitting in his neat Farmington home with Morrison, Boudreau hardly looked the part.

"John and I were only about 22 then, and it was different. Read this and you'll see what I mean," he said as he referred to a couple of descriptive paragraphs in the 1944 article in which the author wrote:

"I have seen them start marching with full packs under a broiling sun, trudge all afternoon along a dirty dusty road, or through the forests of southern France, in order to reach the starting line at nightfall so they could fight."

"I have seen them fight for

60 hours straight to capture a town, then still have enough energy left to help the townspeople celebrate their liberation in all all-day party before they moved forward again at night."

"That's just about the way it was," Boudreau mused.

BOUDREAU and Morrison both were serving in the Canadian Army when they volunteered for the F.S.S.F. which was formed under Major General Robert Frederick. They were in Italy at the time and served with the outfit until it was disbanded soon after the Normandy invasion in '44, then being transferred to other units.

"It became a different kind of a war then," recalled Morrison. "It was more mechanized, faster, and there weren't any more beachheads left in Europe for us to take."

The diary of a German officer, killed after he had faced the F.S.S.F., said: "The Black Devils are all around us every time we come into the line, and we never hear them come. They have baggy pants and dirty faces. A few of them go a long way."

Stempien Aims At Vote In New County Districts

by DON HOENSHELL

Wayne County will start gearing up to elect a 26-member board of supervisors on a "one man-one vote" formula unless the State Court of Appeals upsets a historic local decision by May 20.

Circuit Judge James Canham issued the order Thursday in a test case started by Livonia Attorney Marvin R. Stempien. Stempien presented himself as a candidate for the board of supervisors, asking Canham to force County Clerk Edgar Branigan to accept his filing based on the 26-member districting plan.

On April 1, the United States Supreme Court in a Texas case had upheld the principle of "one man-one vote" in county legislative bodies.

The Michigan Court of Appeals and the Michigan Supreme Court reversed their own previous rulings which upheld the 1963 state constitutional provision of a supervisor from each township.

CANHAM ISSUED the order against Branigan, sought by Stempien and immediately stayed it for 10 days to give Prosecutor William L. Cahalan time to appeal to the Court of Appeals.

The order would require the county to divide into the 26 districts established by the county reapportionment commission and hold a primary election on Aug. 6 and the general election Nov. 5, the date of the 1968 statewide election.

"I can't actually file for a place on the ballot until May 20 when the (Canham) order is effective," said Stempien.

"I can't see the appeals court doing anything but adding an exclamation mark to this order."

THE WEDNESDAY decision of the Michigan Supreme Court left state officials scrambling for answers to questions.

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley will assign a legal task force to determine what it means to the tenure of present supervisors and when the election must be held in all counties.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, whose office runs the state's elections machinery, said:

"Our department will not take any action until we have been given direction by the attorney general's department. I would guess it would be a week before we hear something definite."

ELECTIONS DIRECTOR Bernard J. Apol said 47 counties, including Wayne, filed reapportionment plans before the deadline established in the 1966 law last May 15.

Legal controversy has dogged the trail of county reapportionment on the one man-one vote formula since a 1965 decision in Grand Rapids circuit court, and a conflicting ruling a few weeks later in another case in Muskegon.

The State Court of Appeals and the Michigan Supreme Court both upheld the 1963 constitutional provision requiring each township to have a member on the county board of supervisors.

Then the United States Supreme Court, in a Texas case, held April 1 that county legislative bodies must be apportioned on a one man-one vote formula.

The appeals court then reversed itself, and on Wednesday the Michigan Supreme Court did the same thing in a six to two decision.

Justices John R. Dethmers, Eugene F. Black, Theodore Souris, Michael O'Hara and Paul Adams agreed to the decision, along with Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Dissenting votes were cast by Justices Harry F. Kelly and Thomas Brennan.

While adopting the legal principle established by the U.S. Supreme Court, the Michigan bench left tenure, the timetable and other processes to "future action and determination."

It said, however, that the April 1 decision in Washington "binds this court and all other state courts to promptly responsive obedience."

NOW UPHELD as law, the 1966 act ignores the now-invalid Michigan constitutional provision and establishes a 25 to 30-member range on boards of supervisors, each member elected from a district as equal in population as possible with the others.

Wayne County's 26-member plan was drafted by County Clerk Edgar Branigan, as a member of the county reapportionment commission, and it satisfied neither Republican nor Democratic members.

Stempien denied suburban claims that Livonia, Plymouth and the others will lose power on the board of supervisors, despite having to share a single member.

"Livonia now has three members (on the 130-member board) and thus has 2.2 per cent of the voting power," Stempien said. "The new plan will give Livonia three per cent of the voting power."

"After reapportionment in 1970, Livonia will have four per cent of the voting power. When local officials say they are losing something, they're wrong."

HALT! ACHTUNG! That's the way the cop tells you to pull over in Germany. But did you ever expect to see him riding in a new Porsche sports car? In fact, over 100 of these fast cars are cruising the autobahns (freeways) in Germany right now. More are on order presumably to cope with other sports cars (non-police) who might violate the law. Erhard Damm, owner of Erhard Motor Sales in Redford, brought one of these special police cars to show to various police departments in Observerland. Notice the red flasher just behind the door and the bull horn mounted on the back of the car.

After Vietnam Reunion, Brother Meets Death

Sp/4 Jerry A. Wyman, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wyman, 33435 Nancy, Livonia, has been killed in Pleiku, South Vietnam.

The parents received notice of their son's death early this week in a telegram from the Secretary of the Army. It said, in part, that Larry died May 5 "as a result of gunshot wounds received when engaged with hostile forces while driver of a military vehicle on supply mission."

On April 3, The Observer Newspapers told a far happier story of the Wyman family.

JERRY, 22, had been joined in Pleiku by his younger brother, Army Sp/4 Larry A. Wyman, as a result of a special request by the two boys

"to be together" while serving their country.

Both had been assigned to haul ammunition from Pleiku to Dak To and An Khe, and both had been living for the past seven months in the same Army barracks.

Larry Wyman will escort his brother's body back to the United States for burial sometime next week.

FUNERAL SERVICES will be announced by R. G. and G. R. Harris Funeral Home.

Survivors, besides the parents and brother, Larry, include three sisters, Mrs. Genevieve Berryhill of Detroit, Mrs. Dale (Connie) Prosser of Livonia, and Margaret Wyman, who resides with her parents; a maternal grandfather, P.W. McCarthy of Livonia, and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Wyman of Lincoln Park.

SP/4 JERRY A. WYMAN

UAW Man, 26, Bridges Gap Of Generations

EDITOR'S NOTE: Bard Young, director of Region 1E of the UAW and a member of its executive board, is covering the national UAW convention in Atlantic City for Observer Newspapers.

By BARD YOUNG

ATLANTIC CITY -- Delegates re-elected President Walter P. Reuther and gave him a vote of confidence as the 21st annual United Auto Workers Union convention ended here.

Many of the delegates were from Livonia, Redford, Westland-Garden City, Plymouth and other northwest Detroit suburbs.

For Louis R. Dughi Jr., who lives in Southfield, it was the first trip to a UAW convention. He hopes to attend many in the future. For him, the experience was, in his words, "inspiring, rewarding and exhilarating."

Young Dughi, 26, is now back at his home on Greenview. He and about 5,000 delegates, alternates and their wives departed from Atlantic City as the convention came to a close this weekend.

THE DUGHI STORY is the story of many convention delegates and of the entire membership. The UAW is a fast-moving and faster-changing union, as the old-timers retire and the younger workers move in.

Most of the new members have never worked in a union shop or under a union contract before.

Most of them find it difficult to identify with the labor movement which the old-timers, whose ranks are now thinning, struggled to build.

Lou is a full generation younger than the men who fought so bitterly during the dark days of the depression to build this organization which has since given birth to the benefits Lou now enjoys.

But Lou has managed to bridge the generation gap.

NOW THAT THIS convention is history, it is Lou's job to take the word back to the UAW members who sent him to the convention in the first place.

UAW convention delegates are elected, and the spots are hotly contested. Dughi is a plant steward at Chrysler Detroit Universal. Acting for his constituents at the convention, he cast important votes--not only on the question of who shall lead the team, but votes which also determine the direction his union shall take on vital political, economic and social issues which face the union, the nation and the world.

The votes in which he participated gave a mandate to Reuther and the executive board to take action concerning relations with the AFL-CIO (disaffiliation is a virtual certainty); and on how best to marshal forces in the continuing struggle against poverty in the midst of plenty, how to insure genuine equality in job opportunity, how to provide justice and dignity on the job, to promote racial understanding and amity, to preserve a genuinely free and open society in a more peaceful world.

DUGHI WILL REPORT to his members at Chrysler Detroit Universal, many of whom live in Observer communities, on convention actions concerning all these matters.

He will also report on the extent of dissent within our union, and the Democratic practices which permit that dissent to be heard.

Saginaw Voters Approve Open Housing Act

SAGINAW -- Voters in Saginaw have approved an open housing ordinance by a two-to-one margin, as Mayor Henry G. Marsh admitted that while "confident of the outcome, I am surprised at the margin."

Saginaw, with a 100,000 population, became the fourth Michigan city to approve an open housing ordinance by a vote of the people this year.

Flint, the third largest city in the state, and the near-Detroit cities of Plymouth and Birmingham, previously adopted open housing ordinances, but by closer margins than in Saginaw, which is about 20 per cent Negro.

OAK PARK -- The city council last Monday approved an open housing ordinance based on the federal model. Mayor Joseph Forbes said the city had a "moral commitment to pass a law uniform" with the federal model.

The council rejected a bill based on a Birmingham ordinance that allows no exemptions or deviations. It also rejected a request to hold a referendum on the measure.

KALAMAZOO -- Last Monday, the city stiffened its fair housing code to provide a fine of $500 or 90 days in jail for persons convicted of discrimination in housing sales or rentals.

The revised ordinance still exempts owner-occupied houses of two units or less and any religious or nonprofit group wishing to give preference to a member.

The ordinance now allows both oral and written complaints to be made to the community relations board, which, then, has 30 days to try to mediate. The board previously lacked investigative power.

Unresolved complaints are forwarded to the city attorney for study and possible prosecution.

State And Local

News Round Up

LANSING -- The State Administrative Board faced the question of when a political candidate is not a candidate last week, after noting that both Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and former Vice President Richard Nixon plan appearances in Lansing next month.

Sec. of State James Hare urged the board to set a government-wide policy on whether state employees should be given time off to hear the visitors speak or whether they should be required to dip into accumulated leave time.

The board finally decided to talk the matter over with the State Civil Service Department before stating a policy.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley noted, however, it would be difficult to determine whether a prominent person appeared in Lansing as an official or as a candidate. "I don't welcome the assignment," he said.

YPSILANTI -- David H. Stockham, Eastern Michigan University administrator in charge of housing, met with eight representatives of married students who are unhappy over announced increases in the cost of married student housing on campus.

The students were told that the projected increase were non-negotiable. The increases have already been approved by the EMU Board of Regents.

Stockham said the increase was needed because of increased construction and maintenance costs. He commented that he was inclined to believe the student representatives were convinced the university was not stealing their money, but there were indications there might be another peaceful demonstration this week.

A one-bedroom apartment would go from $85 to $100; a two-bedroom apartment would be $115; while other apartments would climb as high as $135.

LANSING -- A bill forbidding secret votes on most issues by county boards of supervisors won final legislative approval last week and was sent to the desk of Gov. George Romney for signing.

Also sent to his desk for final approval were bills increasing allowable interest rates on municipal bonds and abolishing boards of canvassers in cities and villages with five or fewer precincts.

BENTON HARBOR -- Benton Harbor High School was closed last Tuesday for a third consecutive school day while teachers met to discuss working conditions at the school.

In attempting to resolve the school crisis, the school board announced that State Rep. Lionel J. Stacey was named acting high school principal, succeeding Calvin Cleveland, who resigned. Stacey said he would immediately resign from the House post.

Teachers began their series of meetings last Friday and issued a statement citing poor building conditions, lack of confidence in school administration and need for what they termed a fairly enforced discipline policy.

ATLANTA, Ga. -- A body found in the trunk of an automobile at the Atlanta airport has been identified as that of Robert Joseph Dunaway, a Detroit bar owner sought on charges of murder and kidnapping.

Police said Dunaway, 37, was the subject of an intensive search in the beating death of Sam Dimaggio, 57, in March. Three others have been arrested in the gangland slaying of Dimaggio, a manager of a Detroit produce market.

MIDLAND -- Hundreds of demonstrators gathered in Midland mid-last-week to protest the making of napalm by the Dow Chemical Co., but the firm said it would continue to make the jellied gasoline bombs to support American troops in Vietnam.

DETROIT -- With the attempted intervention by Gov. George Romney and a special legislative committee set up to investigate the newspaper strike out of the way, negotiators for the Detroit News and the Detroit Free Press continued to bargain Wednesday with the Pressmen's Union, one of four on strike, in an attempt to end the 175-day shutdown of the papers.

No indications were given to the progress of the talks.

ANN ARBOR -- At least two potential heart transplant recipients at the University of Michigan Medical Center have died while awaiting suitable new hearts which couldn't be found in time, it was disclosed last week.

"Both patients considered for Michigan's first heart transplant had irreversible heart failure," said William Bender Jr., public information officer at the Medical Center.

DETROIT -- Sex hormones and contraceptive pills may curb skin bacteria. Laboratory experiments show that virulent staphylococci have been inhibited in their growth when exposed to therapeutic doses of contraceptive pills or sex hormones.

The finds by a research team at the Loyola University Stritch School of Medicine in Hines, Ill., were discussed at the 68th annual meeting of the American Society for Microbiology in Detroit.
