REDFORD—The 19th Congressional District Democratic Party Executive Board officially withdrew all sanction from the local Democratic club after a candidate complained about local endorsement procedures. Local club president Joe Patchett said the action meant nothing. "The club will continue to exist," he said.

REDFORD—The state Water Resources Commission has joined the township in its fight to stop Sturdy Homes, Inc., from building several new homes in the flood plain of the Smith Drain. The land was under five feet or more of water last month, and the township refused permits for the new homes. The builder took it to circuit court.

LIVONIA—City Council refused to sustain Mayor Harvey W. Moelke's veto of the $9,500 supplement to the state's $18,000 salary for the two judges of the newly-established Livonia District Court. The council voted 6-0 to override. Most of the extra $19,000 is made up from the $17,000 check for Municipal Judge James McCann, who will retain one of the two seats on the new court, which begins to function Jan. 1. The other judge will be elected in November. There are six candidates.

LIVONIA—With the strike against the building industry practically over and most union workers back on jobs, the Livonia Board of Education got surprisingly low bids on a new elementary school. The best bids for the general contract were within $3,000 of each other and only a percentage point or two separated the low bidders for sub-contracts. The contractors appeared eager for the $800,000 job, to be completed within a year.

FARMINGTON—Rezoning of a 12-acre site at Farmington and 12 Mile Rds. was given the go-ahead Thursday by the Township Planning Commission for development of a Y.M.C.A. facility, but only after vigorous protests from residents of adjacent Kendallwood subdivision during a public hearing.

FARMINGTON—Five Farmington High School boys are out to break the world bicycle riding endurance record. They've been pedaling in turns day and night since midnight July 19 and hope to surpass the existing 250-mile record sometime Tuesday.

Plans to Raise Carrier Subscription Plan

Beginning with July collections, rates for Carrier Subscription Plan will be increased to fifty cents per month for twice a week delivery.

The price increase is necessary, Circulation Director Fred J. Wright explained, because of the continuing sharp increases in the cost of printing and distributing newspapers.

He emphasized the outstanding job the carriers have been doing on their routes. Some of the increase will be passed on to the carrier, he added.

The fifty cents you pay your carrier each month on the Carrier Subscription Plan assures his success in his first business venture. Be sure to ask for a receipt, which will guarantee delivery of the PLYMOUTH MAIL AND OBSERVER.

Three Key Issues Deadlock Teacher-School Negotiations

In a joint statement Wednesday, William Harding, head of Plymouth School District negotiating team, and Ray Homer, spokesman for the Plymouth Education Association, admitted settlement of a new teachers' contract is no closer than when bargaining began several months ago.

Both parties are deadlocked on the issues of class size, the salary package and grievance procedures, despite the presence of Walter H. Quellico, state mediator, who answered a request for services. Of the 17 articles being negotiated, eight have reached tentative agreement. Of the nine remaining, two or three are close to agreement while the rest remain completely unresolved.

In presenting, what they termed the facts, both Harding and Homer said they were limiting information "to what the issues are."

Other members of the negotiating teams are: For the teachers, Kenneth Gable and Arnold Plakas; and for the administration, James Rossman and Earl Gibson.

CLASS SIZE falls under the general category "Teaching Conditions" which also include: school building and room facilities; length of teaching day; teaching minutes per day; number of preparations; previous experience credit; teacher evaluation; make up responsibilities of the Tenure Committee and Teacher Aides.

Homer said the PEA desires the class size limited in some manner in the final contract.

"The Association wants specific numbers to limit class sizes for quality education and make it easier on teachers," he said.

Harding said, "We can't pledge numbers because we have a rapidly expanding school population, and our building construction program may not coincide with contractual limited class sizes."

They are $1,000 apart in the wage bracket and agreement is not close.

The PEA presented the first salary proposal on April 10.

It asked that teachers with Bachelor of Arts degrees start at $8,800 up to $14,200; Masters degrees from $9,300 to $15,550; and masters degree plus 80 additional credit hours from $9,900 to $16,150.

The administration team offered this counter proposal on May 8: AB degrees from $6,600 to $10,200; masters from $7,100 to $11,425 and MA plus 30 from $7,700 to $12,025.

ON MAY 16, the teachers replied with a revised salary schedule: AB from $8,400 to $13,575; masters from $9,300 to $15,550; and MA plus 30 from $9,900 to $15,475.

The administration countered June 12 with: AB from $6,800 to $10,400; masters from $7,300 to $11,600 and MA plus 30 from $7,900 to $12,200.

The PEA again revised its figures and made the latest proposal on June 19: AB from $7,800 to $12,975; masters from $8,300 to $14,275 and MA plus 30 from $8,900 to $14,875.

The PEA included in all of its salary proposals provisions that AB teachers would reach their maximum in 10 years, masters in 11 years and MA plus 30 also in 11 years.

Administration proposals provide that AB teachers reach maximum in 11 years and the others in 12 years and with each proposal they added an incentive whereby some tenure teachers may make $500 beyond their salaries.

Harding said, "We feel they are much too high and are making unrealistic proposals."

THE PEA representative stated, "After careful analysis of the Board's second salary proposal, the PEA team rejects the proposal for the following reasons:

"No reduction in the number of steps (years) on AB or MA schedule

"Insufficient improvement of minimums and maximums

"Smaller per cent increases at maximums than minimums

"No real attempt to provide an improvement factor beyond the cost of living for all teachers

"No improvement in the entire area of fringe benefits

"Failure to maintain or improve present ratio between minimums and maximums

"Failure to maintain or improve increments on the AB schedule and the same is true to a lesser extent on the MA and MA plus 30 schedule."

Homer concluded, "However, the PEA would consider an incentive pay program, if such a program was adequately funded and if the basic salary schedule reflected the ability of the community to support education."

HARDING ADDED after Homer's comments, "We have pledged money rather than ratios."

The third contention is grievance procedure which centers on whether there should be binding arbitration.

Homer said the PEA would like to see teachers' grievances settled by an "impartial, third party, who would be completely objective."

The administrator said his team was opposed to binding arbitration because this would take away some of the power of the school board where it belongs.

Other items yet to be settled include teachers' rights—both men said this was a minor issue—, employment standards, leave policies, contractual obligation (a no strike clause), and several miscellaneous provisions.

Their next meeting is scheduled for Aug. 9.

DOING GOOD FOR OTHERS — One of the projects of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club each year is to help provide recreation facilities at Plymouth State Home. Last Tuesday evening they got together before the rain and turned in a great job. In the upper picture a group that includes (l to r) Ken Way, Ernie Henry, Matt Fortney, Joe West and Bob Hayman, is clearing a picnic area. In the upper right Web Kincade is laying block for a new wall, while in the lower right Don Zander is hewing away at a log to fit it into project.

Conference Is Called On Unification Study

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the third in a series of leadership conferences at Schoolcraft College.

No date has been set for the activity but, according to the adopted recommendation of the Steering Committee, it will be held approximately three weeks after the Unification Study, now being prepared, is made public.

Unless the work on the study is held up for some unforeseen reason, the report will be given to the public on September 1. The date of publication was announced several weeks ago by Robert Pickup, of the Citizens Research Council, and at that time he could see no reason for delay.

IN CALLING the conference

the Chamber stressed three points:

1—The Citizens Research Council will present an outline review of the study to the delegates.

2—Dr. Howard McClusky of the University of Michigan who moderated both previous conferences again will act in that capacity.

3—All political organizations in the Plymouth-Canton Township area will be invited to send delegates.

"We feel that delegates of interested organizations and citizens at large," Carl Pursell, Chamber President, remarked, "should be in attendance to receive the report that has been almost a year in the making."

"With a representative group of public officials and community leaders present," he continued, "we should have a fair and open opportunity to review the study."

PICKUP, Executive Director of the Research Council, has agreed to present the study to the conference with the stipulation that he will outline it, but make no recommendations.

The Unification Study was agreed upon at the Schoolcraft Conference last year after being outlined for the first time at the conference at Hillsdale College two years ago.

Last year the conference drew delegates from all of the communities involved and close to 70 were present for the voting.

The Steering Committee that recommended the third conference included Pursell, Russell, Webster, Sam Hudson, Dr. Ray Barber, Jerry Yohey and Harold Fischer.

Canton Township Girl Electrocuted At Play

Tragedy struck the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Sears, 8708 Holly Drive, Canton Township, Wednesday morning when their six-year-old daughter, Julie, was accidentally electrocuted while playing bare-footed in the rain in the rear yard.

Det. Williamson, of the Wayne County Sheriff's office, said that an extension cord from an outdoor electrical outlet was lying on the ground in the water inside a metal shed under construction behind the home.

Williamson reported when Julie and her friends went out to play in the shed, she put her hand on the metal door handle and then fell to the ground.

ELWOOD PAFF, Canton Township electrical inspector, explained that bare wires were exposed at the base of a lamp to which the extension cord was connected.

The girl was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary Hospital after efforts by the Canton Township Fire Department failed to revive the girl with mouth to mouth resuscitation.

Mrs. Sears told Wayne County Sheriff's officer Willbey R. Pistor that her husband was constructing a metal bathhouse near the swimming pool behind the house.

Earlier Wednesday morning, she said her son, Phillip, plugged an extension cord into an outdoor electrical outlet and ran the wire inside the shed, so her daughter and her friends could see while they played.

PISTOR REPORTED that the son came in the house and told his mother that he had received a shock from the door of the shed. The mother asked where Julie was and was told she was lying in front of the shed. Mrs. Sears told the officer that she then called the operator for assistance.

She was rushed to the hospital by the Plymouth Township Fire Department rescue squad but nothing could be done to save her.

Merchants Await Sidewalk Sale

The merchants in the Central Business District are biding together for the most unusual sale of the year.

It is the annual two-day sidewalk sale that is scheduled next Friday and Saturday, August 2-3. And from the advance enthusiasm of both the merchants and the shoppers it should be the most successful of these curbstone markets.

According to the plans the sale will be held from 9 o'clock on Friday morning to 9 o'clock in the evening. On Saturday the hours are from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m.

To avoid any possible misunderstanding at the polls, Plymouth City Clerk Gene Slider emphasized Friday that persons who registered after the July 5 closing date will not be eligible to cast ballots in the primary election on August 6.

"We informed the late registrants of the new law," Slider explained, "but there are some who might forget—or just didn't understand."

"Under this new law we are allowed to take registrations at most any time, but closing dates are set for each election. The closing date for primary was set as July 5—and anyone who registered after that date will not be eligible to vote until the general election in November."

Slider pointed out that with the approach of the primary election political action has increased and that registrations are being received every day.

"We must have processed about 150 to 200 registrations since July 5 and it is this group

Sunday Liquor Law Aids Area Restaurants

Some Wayne County restaurants, including the Mayflower Hotel, in Plymouth, Thunderbird Inn and Lofy's in the township, may be serving cocktails with dinner on Sunday.

The Wayne County Board of Supervisors passed unanimously, in a voice vote, the resolution allowing certain establishments to serve liquor by-the-glass on Sunday.

It was impossible to determine whether or not all supervisors in the township endorsed the resolution or not because of the voice vote.

THE THRUST of support had been to aid convention and tourist interests, but the law will affect suburban restaurants and bowling alleys, as well.

Although the Sunday liquor bill became law on July 3, final approval and local adoption were left up to the county boards of supervisors. Only those establishments which gain more than 50 per cent or more of their sales from goods and services other than liquor are eligible to serve Sunday liquor.

According to Martin Bishop of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce, some establishments have already submitted the necessary applications to the Liquor Control Commission.

The traditional taverns or bars, which do not have the required 50 per cent revenue in services and goods other than liquor, will not be permitted to serve liquor on Sunday.

BISHOP ADDED that food and beverage establishments in Wayne County may see an increase in jobs, wages, sales, revenues, and taxes to the cities, the county and the state of these proportions:

• A sales increase of $13.6 million annually.

• A job increase of some 1,200 in food and beverage establishments.

• A wage increase of $4.7 million annually.

• A total economic gain of $77,591 annually.

According to the Detroit Convention Bureau, the provision includes nearly all hotels, motels, and restaurants, some bowling lanes and golf clubs.

The Stroller...

While the City of Plymouth is experiencing its first real political campaign in the Battle of the Signs that has marked the race for the judgeship of the newly established District Court, memories of many other novel vote-getting maneuvers have come tumbling down through the years.

Municipal Judge Dunbar Davis, a candidate for the District Court judgeship, recalled one the other day when speaking before a luncheon club—and drew a lot of laughs with the scheme his grandfather used down in the Carolinas.

As Dunbar revealed the story, any time Granddad seemed to be in trouble with the natives, he reminded them that they had a choice.

"If you don't like me," he would say, "just X me out. Just put an X in front of my name."

And, according to Dunbar, the plan seldom failed.

THE MOST FAMOUS OF ALL TRICKS

Listening to some of these tales, The Stroller was reminded of some of the real political battles back home in the Pennsylvania Dutch Country and the hard coal regions around Scranton in the old days.

It was nothing for political meetings to end in such things as small riots as tempers flared and name calling became the rule rather than the exception.

But the most famous of all political trickery came in the early '20's when a man who carried the colorful name of "Butch" McDevitt, a comparative unknown, ran for the office of sheriff in the heart of the anthracite district.

The voters in this area spent most of their waking hours down in the bowels of the earth digging for what was termed "black diamonds." They were a hardy lot, and few of them ever missed a visit to the corner saloon for a whiskey and a beer to relax them at the end of the day.

This double dose of "medicine" cost only 15 cents in those days, and indulging became as much of a habit as eating.

It was among these people that "Butch" McDevitt waged his political fight and wrote an unusual page in the history of Pennsylvania elections.

His was a novel scheme.

Instead of the usual campaign practice of visiting the corner saloons at the end of the working day and buying a "drink for the house" amid a round of cheering, he did just the opposite.

He got hold of his opponent's campaign cards (it always was claimed that he had them printed) and spent each day as the campaign neared its close visiting the corner saloons in the area.

Instead of buying a "drink for the house," he stood quietly at the end of the bar. After indulging in a single drink, he would walk among the coal miners along the bar, distribute the cards of his opponent and then walk out.

It never failed. As he'd walk out of the place, the miners, all good, two-fisted drinkers, would chorus—"Why that cheap so-and-so. He'll not get my vote."

And the opponent didn't. By that simple maneuver "Butch" McDevitt was elected sheriff of Carbon County.

* * *

THE TALE OF A STATUE

Not satisfied with his coup, "Butch" became even more ambitious.

With such an upset victory and its attendant publicity, he conceived the idea that his triumph never should be forgotten, and the way not to forget it would be to have a statue of himself erected in the nation's capital.

Fantastic?

Sure it was—but he tried it. And in a big way. He not only had a statue of himself sculptured, but arranged a special train for the trip to Washington and took a full train load of "supporters" with him.

It was a great trip—with "Butch" on the rear platform at every station stop.

But his dream faded.

When he and the train reached Washington, no one knew him—and much less had any thought of placing a new statue anywhere.

Frantically, he looked for even an obscure location. But he was denied, much to his chagrin—and regret.

However, the folks from the Pennsylvania coal region are difficult to keep down.

So "Butch" returned home with the statue. Today, it is standing in a far corner of the playground in a small mining town in the coal regions, passed by with nary a look in this hurly-burly world.

But it is a constant reminder of one of the most unusual political campaigns in Pennsylvania history.

Too bad there aren't more "Butch" McDevitts around today with some really novel ideas for political campaigns.

Political Signs Have Deeper Meaning Than Exploitation Of Office Seekers

The political signs that have sprung up around the city during the past few weeks have a deeper meaning than the exploiting of candidates for the various governmental offices. They are a sure sign that the City of Plymouth is undergoing a vast change—and the end is not yet.

Some of the older residents might resent it, others won't admit it, but the Plymouth that was once a nice, quiet community with a colonial decor soon may be nothing but a memory.

It may keep the colonial decor. It should. But one can't stop progress and the activity moving from both Detroit on one side and Ann Arbor on the other, leaves Plymouth in a position where it must keep pace. The only alternative is to wither and die.

Plymouth has a heritage that is too rich to let die—and yet there are those who still argue that nature should be allowed to take its course. These are the die-hards, or those in high offices who are jealous of their status and want things to remain as is—for as long as they can.

* * *

THE ONE THING THAT is forgotten is the old saying that the future belongs to those who prepare for it. And if the City of Plymouth is to go anywhere in the highly competitive future it must plan for it now.

As a matter of fact, the entire area must plan for the future and in the process all jealousies should be cast aside.

The first step in this planning should be the status of the entire Plymouth area. Should it remain divided and live on a catch-as-catch-can basis, or should it cast aside all shackles and join forces for one community that would be destined for greatness?

In a few short weeks the much discussed unification study report will be made public and the people will have a chance to absorb the thinking of others and the multitudinous figures on costs of governments—united or divided.

Perhaps the people will take a much greater interest in the planning for the future than they have to date. It may be that the report will spur some of them into action and ask the questions that would furnish the real answers.

* * *

IT IS NO SECRET that the governing bodies of both the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township haven't done much toward bringing about unification. And it may be that they won't take an active part in any change that may be sought.

But a good, sharp look should be taken at the entire picture and an honest attempt be made to fit it into the future.

For years on end the theory has been "united we stand—divided we fall."

That may be the theme the people will take to face the future. They might insist on unification if, in their minds, it would be best for the community. And the answer may not be furnished by the governing bodies.

One of the puzzling things about the Plymouth area is the fact that there is no trouble getting individuals or groups from both sides to sit down and plan all sorts of activities. Such things as the Fall Festival, the July Fourth ceremonies, the Symphony and others are made successful by the combined work of the people from both city and township.

Yet, when it comes to government, the barrier is erected immediately and no attempt is made to hide the split.

"Why should we bail out the city," a township official once remarked, "when we've got everything going for us."

At the same time, a city official ventured the opinion, "Let us get a high rise apartment downtown, and a store of some size, and with what we have we'll have nothing to fear from the township."

Maybe so.

* * *

BUT FACING THE FUTURE and its complex problems with divided forces may not be the best way to travel.

That's why the people should be urged to take a look at conditions. The City of Farmington and Farmington Township are moving toward unity. And the same is being said of Northville and Northville Township.

So, the time is here when the people of the entire Plymouth area should take a hand in things and make their presence felt.

Perhaps the decision should not be left to the men in political office.

It may be that the people will choose to remain divided.

But whatever the decision, it should be one that will guard against the necessity of pointing out that—

"The trains don't stop here any more."

Letter To The Editor

Municipal Judge Dunbar Davis who has been accused of using illegal and over-sized signs in his campaign for judge of the new district court, takes issue with his critics in the following letter:

Dear Mr. Power:

In the July 24, 1968, issue of the Plymouth Mail & Observer the statement is made that I have flaunted the law by having oversized signs in the City of Plymouth. To accuse me as Municipal Judge of the City of Plymouth of violating the very law that it is my sworn duty to enforce is a serious thing that goes far beyond the expected half-truths and exaggerations of a political campaign.

The sign referred to adjoins the office of the Plymouth Mail and Observer and measures 4 feet by 8 feet. The area is zoned C-2 Commercial District. Ordinance No. 182 of the City of Plymouth, commonly known as the Zoning Ordinance, Article IX, Sec. 9.01 (1) (d) provides:

"Temporary signs hereinbefore defined in Section 1.39 of this Ordinance, shall be a permitted use in the C-2 Districts."

This portion of the Ordinance has not been amended and is the law to this day. A temporary sign is defined in Sec. 1.39 as follows:

"Sec. 1.39 Sign, Temporary. A display sign, banner or other advertising device constructed of cloth, canvas, fabric or other light temporary material with or without a structural frame intended for a limited period of display..."

The sign in question is constructed of thin plywood, a light temporary material, and will be removed August 7, 1968, which is a limited period of display. There is no size limit in the law. Thus under the law of Plymouth, my sign is perfectly legal.

I am quite aware that the City Commission of Plymouth, after the sign in question was erected, passed a resolution, which does not constitute an amendment to the law, that signs should be limited to 24 square feet. Out of respect for the wishes of the City Commission, I have instructed my campaign workers to trim 3 1/4 inches off the top and bottom of the sign and 6 inches off each end so as not to exceed 24 square feet. This is not an admission of error, it is done as a gesture of goodwill.

1100 W. A.A. RD. 480 N. MAIN

"WE HOPE YOUR NEXT PRESCRIPTION CARRIES THIS 'LABEL'"

It may be of interest to note that the candidate who complained the most of my sign, himself had a sign promoting him located on Penniman Avenue in a R-1A District in which no signs whatever are permitted. His sign was strictly illegal.

Cordially,
Dunbar Davis

A Duet Worthy Of Applause-- Four-Bean Salad And Lasagne

"I served this recipe to the members of Frank Sinatra Junior's orchestra and they seemed to like it so I thought maybe other people would enjoy it too."

That's what the lady said. The lady is Mrs. Paul Lehnen, who happens to be Mrs. Paul "Lennon", wife of a comedian who performs all over the country from Detroit to Dallas.

The recipe Mrs. Lehnen served the orchestra was Lasagne and the occasion was Frank Sinatra's appearance in Detroit.

"My husband was on the same bill with Frank Sinatra Jr. and invited everyone out to the house for dinner. Frank couldn't make it because of a previous engagement," explained Mrs. Lehnen.

THE LEHNENS MADE their first real home in Plymouth two years ago. "It's close enough to the airport and yet we like the feeling of a small town that Plymouth gives us," said Mrs. Lehnen.

The Lehnens have a four-year-old daughter, Jana, who is currently taking dancing lessons with other neighborhood children.

Her dancing teacher is Mrs. Lehnen. It was while she was dancing professionally at a USO show, that Mrs. Lehnen met her husband. She now teaches ballet, jazz and tap to 30 students ranging in age from three years to high school seniors.

MRS. LEHNEN enjoys crafts, wallpapering and choosing attractive interior decorations in her favorite colors; blue, green and gold. Landscaping their home on Crabtree Lane is her husband's department and while driving home from a late engagement one night he spotted some large rocks at the side of the road. Those rocks now grace the front yard of the Lehnens' home.

MICKEY ROONEY, Dorothy Lamour, Frank Fontaine, Jimmy Dean and Edie Adams are just a few celebrities with whom comedian Paul Lennon has shared the spotlight.

Jimmy Nelson, the ventriloquist featured a number of years ago on the Milton Berle television show, is a frequent dinner guest at the Lehnens and of course, Jana's favorite.

Oriental art always has fascinated me. I have admired the delicate simplicity of their work and have often said that their paint brushes must have a maximum of two hairs apiece.

Mrs. Joseph L. Scott called me the other day to say that she had received her first letter from her Korean foster child, Mi Hae Chi, and when that letter arrived on my desk my fascination, with the untranslated script was almost as deep as my admiration for the gentleness of the little note.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott generously have agreed to share their first letter from Mi Hae with us. Mrs. Scott was a bit perplexed by the fact that the note was written by a "nurse" and we're hoping that this is their term for a counselor or teacher in the Korean orphanage where Mi Hae is staying.

Dear Foster Parents of Mi Hae,
How are you dear foster parents of Mi Hae? I am a nurse of Mi Hae and glad to write you for her. Under your love and kind wishes, Mi Hae is healthy and grows up fast.

It is early summer here now and the weather is warm. Mi Hae is in summer wears and plays outdoors. I go to stream and hill with Mi Hae sometimes and play together. Mi Hae wears smile on her face all the time. Her school teacher and friends love her very much.

We want to thank you that you adopted Mi Hae for your foster daughter. Our prayers are for you to be happy. I will write you again soon. So long.

TOP SIDE OF LIFE

Don't vote in the upcoming election—unless you are going to do your homework. When we were kids in school homework was not always easy nor was it a very popular pastime, but we did it, if for no other reason than to receive a mark. However, the cold hard facts are that even though we have passed the stage of full time student, we still have homework to do. Some of it has to do with the job we hold and some of it is necessary to maintain the home in which we live.

St. Peter's Lutheran Church Sets Vacation Bible School

"Tell the Good News" is the theme for the two-week 1968 Vacation Bible School being planned by St. Peter's Lutheran Church, 1343 Penniman Ave.

Classes will begin Aug. 5 and will be held Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until noon. The curriculum will include Bible study, handicrafts, hymn singing, and memory work for children and young people between the ages of four and 14.

To provide a meaningful learning experience in which the pupil, by the power of the Holy Spirit may first be led to a broader and deeper understanding of the Good News of salvation declared to all men in the life, suffering, death and resurrection of Jesus, the Christ.

Second, to believe the good news and trust firmly in God's promise of eternal life with Him for those who are His children by faith and to be moved by the love of God to eagerly "Tell the Good News" to people nearby and far away, using whatever means he has at his disposal.

And finally, to grow in the confidence that God will bless his telling of the "Good News," followed by a social hour for parents and friends. Workbooks presented by the children at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 16, display.

New High School Cost Boosted By Quarter Million

The cost of constructing Plymouth High School has climbed an additional quarter of a million dollars, bringing the general contract price from $8.5 million to approximately $8.74 million.

The hike is the result of the Board of Education's action in accepting 19 alternate bids to the general construction contract last month.

The board held the acceptance or rejection of the alternates which totaled $248,607 until after the base contract was awarded and it was certain there would be sufficient money to finance any additional items.

The alternates are: auxiliary gymnasium, $93,208; graphics room, $29,161; storage under stage, $39,708; paving and lighting of parking lots and drives, $46,655; carpet in language classrooms, $5,768; tartan floor surface in main and auxiliary gyms, $6,122. Additional flooring materials, $73,375; and gymnasium partition, $8,350.

These eight alternates total $302,337 and from this total is subtracted another 11 accepted alternates which represented credits or deductions. These are: flat grain wood floors in shops, $3,854; delete removable orchestra pit floor, $13,700; substitute ceramic tile in Natorium ceiling, $4,741; delete silicone waterproofing, $4,150. Delete a sheet-metal cover, $1,080; delete a three-way valve, $450; reduce gas-main size, $1,500; substitute thin-wall conduit, $17,203; substitute duplex outlets, $1,450; portable bleachers, $2,400; and delete roof bond, $3,200.

These cost deductions totaled $53,729. The 11 credits subtracted from the eight additional costs gives the true construction cost hike of $248,607.

These alternates brought the cost of the general contract from $8,492,070 to $8,740,677.

Contract cost plus architect fee of $437,033; utilities cost of $100,000; furniture and equipment of $750,000; site development of $145,318 ran the total project cost to $10,400,000.

Pete Guenther Due To Leave On Bike Tour

Along with a dozen other young fellows Peter Guenther, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Guenther, will leave Sunday for what has all the earmarks of an interesting trip.

He will leave by plane from New York and fly to London. From there, the group will take a boat to a Scandinavian port, set up headquarters and then tour the country on bicycles for a month.

Each year a group is gathered in Northville for such a trip and this year Guenther joined the group.

Auto Code Stepped Up In Northville

Residents of Northville Township who have abandoned vehicles on their property--whether public or private property--will be subject to stepped up enforcement of the section of the township's zoning ordinance governing them, Patrolman Ronald Nisun announced during the week.

Nisun said that the police department had issued courtesy warnings to these people last winter. This was to allow them time to clean up their property.

Courtesy warnings are concluded, he said, and persons who violate this section will now be issued violations.

The penalty is a $100 fine and/or 90 days in jail.

The officer said it is one thing for a person to have a car in his yard and be fixing it and something else for someone to have a car sitting in the yard for months.

He said it is unfair to neighbors who are trying to maintain nice looking property to have to put up with situations such as this.

Plymouth Canton Mystery Solved

Yesterday the boss said you claim you want to be a reporter so I will give you a chance. Allen C. Ingle is a candidate for District Court Judge and the people in Plymouth and Canton are calling him the mystery candidate as they don't seem to know much about him.

I headed for the Courts in the City-County Building, where I was sure I would find a few attorneys who knew him. What a surprise, they all seemed to know him. Son, one attorney said to me, whenever I appeared before Ingle, I knew my client would receive a fair and impartial trial, it was a pleasure to appear in his court. Other attorneys from surrounding counties agreed.

Next, I headed for Farmington and talked to some teen-agers, as well as adults and several police officers. Here again, there was agreement that they lost a good Judge when he chose not to run for re-election in 1965. One man informed me that Ingle was everyone's Judge. Everybody was treated equally and he made sure that you had a fair and impartial trial.

You know Boss, I found out that he has done a lot for the people of this State. He has served as President of the Michigan Justices, Oakland County Judicial Association, and a Savings and Loan Association. He also served on the State Bar Lower Court Reorganization Committee and the Michigan Traffic Safety Committee. He was at Lansing frequently when the legislature was in session and could always be counted upon to speak out against proposed legislation that might tend to violate the rights of the average law-abiding citizen. He also wrote some legislation and was able to have the legislature pass a uniform accounting and courts records law, as well as the law giving you the right to plead guilty or not guilty by mail on traffic offenses rather than appear in Court. Just think, what people would lose in wages, if they had to appear in Court just to enter their plea. He was highly regarded by members of the legislature and could be counted upon to give them the honest facts about proposed legislation.

Everyone I met referred to him as Judge Ingle, so when I arrived at his office, I asked him how he should be addressed. He explained that apparently once you have served as a Judge, it is proper for a person to address you as Judge if they so desire; however, he did not intend to refer to himself as Judge or Former Judge in this District Court campaign, as this was an entirely new Court and he did not wish to mislead the voters, that he intended to merely point out that he has 12 years of judicial experience having been first elected by the voters of the City of Farmington, and then elected twice by the voters of Farmington Township, as well as 19 years of legal practice in Michigan and Federal Courts.

Why didn't you run for re-election when your term expired in July 1965, I asked. Ingle stated that about a year previously he had decided to move to the Northville area which he did do in October 1965. I could have run and then resigned when I moved, if I had been elected. I informed him that in my conversations with the people, it didn't appear that he would have had any difficulty in being re-elected. That is exactly the point, he replied, if the people place their trust in you and elect you to office, you owe them the duty, if God is willing, to serve your full term. If I was elected and then resigned, a new Judge would have been appointed, thus depriving the people of their right to elect a Judge of their own choosing. The people elected me as their Judge three times and I was not going to betray their confidence in me by seeking election and then resigning.

What are you going to do about crime and the problems of -Ingle interrupted me, and informed me that the Supreme Court has established a Judicial Canons of Ethics which in substance provides that a candidate for judicial office should not make any promises in an attempt to appeal to the desires or prejudices of the electors in order to attempt to obtain votes. All that I can promise is to serve to the best of my ability as a fair and impartial Judge and support the United States and Michigan Constitutions, the laws of the State and the Ordinances of this district, which I am required to do under the oath of the office.

Boss, I did some quick math, and found out that all of the other candidates COMBINED have only three years judicial experience, compared to 12 years that Ingle has had. This is my first time to vote, and I know boss you have voted for years, but I think you will agree that anyone can recognize the best qualified candidate, so I am voting for Allen C. Ingle for District Judge, and believe me boss, I am going to tell everyone to Elect ALLEN C. INGLE as District Judge.

Healy Explains District Court Needs

Speaking before a breakfast gathering of campaign supporters and interested Plymouth businessmen Thursday morning at the Mayflower Hotel, Thomas Healy, candidate for judge of the new District Court, explained the operation of the court and again went on record favoring establishment of a probation division.

The former Plymouth City Attorney told the group that "a probation department can be set up with the approval of the local governing body."

"Former Judge Edward Druggis set up a probation division," he said, "but the present judge has not seen fit to continue it.

"Youthful offenders need counseling," he continued, "and they should be afforded the opportunity to get back on the right track."

HEALY EXPLAINED that the probation system in Plymouth had been managed on a voluntary basis with help from teachers from the high school. He stated, however, that the revenue from the new court might well provide enough funds to hire full-time counselors for a probation department.

Healy also told the morning gathering that he expected the new judge to hold court in Northville and Plymouth, as well as Plymouth Township. "It is my understanding that Plymouth Township will provide court facilities," Healy said. He added that he doubted Northville Township or Canton Township could afford to establish their own court headquarters.

He also predicted greater efficiency in the new court. "The new court will be controlled by the state under the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court administrator. This court will eliminate six justices of the peace and two municipal judges will be replaced by one full time judge. The greater efficiency is obvious," Healy said. "And, this judge will travel to each community, bringing justice to the people quicker," Healy added.

HEALY ALSO said the new small claims division would help individuals collect on small claims without an attorney. "For a $5 filing fee, a citizen can collect small claims. Say you have a minor traffic accident and the other guy does $100 damage. Before you were foolish to go to court because you could spend a good portion of the $100 for an attorney and not be sure at that. Now you won't need an attorney," Healy said.

Healy spoke Wednesday night to the Canton Township Holiday Park subdivision civic association, covering similar topics.

Between now and August 2, Healy will appear at 11 informal sessions at the following homes: Mrs. Lawrence Pulkownik, 1029 Roosevelt, on Sunday, July 28 at 8:30 p.m.; and Mrs. Maurice Breen, 41121 Greenbrook Lane, on Monday, July 29 at 8:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, July 30, Healy is scheduled to appear at the homes of Mrs. Eugene Crosby, at 10:30 a.m.; Mrs. Shurway Rollins, 195 Rose, at 7 p.m.; and Mrs. Michael Deskovitch, 11385 Cedar Lane, Timberlea Farms, at 8 p.m.

At 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, July 31, he will be at the home of Mrs. William Smith, 15560 Robinwood.

Two appearances are scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 1. They are, for the second time at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Pulkownik at 10:30 a.m. and at Mrs. Walter Sieger's, 14311 Shadywood.

On Friday, Aug. 2, Healy will be at the homes of Mrs. Phillip Settles, 345 Sunset, at 10 a.m.; Mrs. Harry Luce, 530 Provincetown Lane, at 2 p.m.; and Mrs. C. Milt Humphries, 1415 Ross, at 8:30 p.m.

Kiwanis To Kick Off Museum Campaign

Henry Brown, director of the Detroit Historical Museum who is considered one of the outstanding men in his field, will help the Plymouth Kiwanis Club kick off its campaign for a bigger and better Plymouth museum on Tuesday evening.

Brown, who has just supervised a major addition to the Detroit museum, will discuss historical museums in general, tell what they mean to a community and the value of retaining much of the old as a part of Americana.

Under the Kiwanis plan, announced last week, a second story will be constructed on the Community Building in the rear of City Hall. When completed this will provide more than twice the space now available for display in the old frame building on Main Street.

"We are not only interested in more space", Clarence Moore, chairman of the building committee, explained, "But we want a building that is fire proof."

"The present museum doesn't meet some of these standards and a fire could destroy many items that are priceless for the simple reason that they never could be replaced."

He also pointed out that if the campaign, which has $65,000 as its goal, is successful the plans could be changed and an entirely new building could be built.

Ernie Henry, secretary of the club, already has received several contributions to the fund and anyone wishing to contribute is asked to make the checks payable to the Plymouth Kiwanis Club Foundation.

New Vivian Group Formed

Another Wes Vivian for Congress Committee was formed Thursday evening when more than 20 Plymouth area residents got together to further the former congressman's campaign.

The group was headed by Orville Tungate, Norm Thoburn, Joan Voytas, John Murawski, Ruth Koepke, Edith Shepard, Irv Rozian and Joe Fiorelli.

The committee will work actively to return him to Congress where he was considered one of the most capable and promising of the new members when he was elected in 1964.

It was announced that Vivian had prepared a position paper on Viet Nam and several domestic issues, which reflect his sound progressive thought and leadership.

Copies of the paper may be obtained through any of the committee members.

Millage Needed --No Question!

Clarenceville School District voters will have a chance on Monday to reject for a second time or approve a request for four additional mills for operating purposes.

Clarenceville was the only district in the area and one of the few in Michigan to turn down a millage request at the elections in June. It was by the scant margin of 25 votes when just 11 per cent of the registered electors went to the polls.

Assuming that the voter apathy was due to the fact that only a few were aware of the importance of the additional monies to maintain a high quality of education, the school board met in special session two nights after the issue lost and voted for a second election on July 29.

editorial

THAT'S NEXT MONDAY, and once again the issue is in the hands of the voters. This time the school board and the administration believe they have aroused enough interest to get a majority of the 3,000 registered voters to the machines instead of the less than 500 in June.

There isn't any question that the additional millage is needed. The Observer Newspapers urge voters to approve and maintain the educational standard Clarenceville has been so proud of for so many years.

There is the matter of contracts for the teaching staff for next fall. No contracts have been signed because the administration and the teachers' negotiating teams have been biding their time to see how the millage issue comes out.

Supt. David McDowell knows that many of the teaching staff will accept positions elsewhere unless the salary schedule is kept competitive to other school systems in the area.

THE SCHOOL DISTRICT needs the additional monies for four big reasons:

- 1—Meet the needs of increasing enrollment.
- 2—Maintain a competitive salary schedule.
- 3—Keep pace with the ever increasing costs of a school system.
- 4—Retain the high quality educational program and low teaching ratio now existing in the district.

School officials project the expenditures for next school year at $2,575,000—a revenue of only $2,405,000—or a shortage of $170,000.

The four mills will provide $180,000 additional cash, most of which will go to salary increases for the 300 employees.

For the reasons cited above and to maintain the school district without curtailment, we recommend all take a good look and approve the request.

—Observer Newspapers

C'ville School Tax Issue: Apathy

For the second time in six weeks, voters in the Clarenceville School District will be asked to approve a four-mill increase in taxes for operating expenses.

The issue was defeated June 10 by a scant 25 votes when 11 per cent of the registered electors went to the polls.

Because of the apathy at that time, the school board met a few nights later and decided to take the issue back to the voters with the hope that it would receive a favorable majority.

IN THE INTERIM, board members and the administration have been busy attending neighborhood meetings to get across the message that the millage is needed or the school district faces loss of many services as well as the probable loss of many of its better teachers.

The administration negotiation team hasn't been able to reach an agreement with the faculty negotiators until the millage is either passed or defeated.

It is a rather simple answer. Should a second vote fail, then cutbacks can be expected; if it passes, the administration will be able to negotiate a contract that will make the salary schedule comparable and competitive with other area school districts.

Dr. Samuel Prisk, school board president who has been active in promoting interest in the issue and to getting more parents to the polls, hopes the turnout will be much larger than the less than 500 in June.

IN A PRE-ELECTION statement, Dr. Prisk said:

"I can hardly believe that we have 2,500 parents of school children in Clarenceville who are not concerned about the quality of education nor the educational services available for their youngsters.

"Yet this is what was indicated at the election in June, when less than 500 went to the polls. We have approximately 4,000 children in the district and statistically this represents about 3,000 mothers and fathers.

"We know that many who voted in June did not have children in school. Therefore, the result indicated that about 2,500 parents apparently aren't pleased that we have a librarian in each of our buildings to help their youngsters to read more skillfully and to appreciate and use good books.

"THE APATHY leads one to believe parents don't know that these good books are provided in abundance, that there are physical education instructors in each building to properly guide and instruct growing, developing bodies.

"The vote makes it appear that those parents don't realize that the school board has been able to institute special programs in remedial reading at all levels for those youngsters who need this additional help.

"That we have creative writing and reading classes for other young people who can progress a little and that we have fine instrumental and vocal music and art programs.

"That we are finally able to give our children the advantages of a broad educational background they need and deserve just as much as any other child anywhere else, and that we are one of the few school districts left in the state which still buses children who have less than a mile-and-a-half to walk from their homes to school buildings.

"We have a great many wonderful, qualified persons working for us as teachers and administrators and in non-professional occupations. To many, our district is 'home,' if not literally, then figuratively.

"These people love our children and constantly do more than is required or asked of them.

"ALL THE SCHOOL board asks is that voters make funds available so we are able to pay them a wage comparable to that which is paid in other districts around us. To do this and to meet the other cost increases which have hit the schools as well as everyone else, more money must be made available than we now have.

"If the additional monies are not approved in Monday's election, the school educational program will have to be cut, and much of the paring will be done in the areas mentioned above—the areas which make us better than just meeting basic educational needs.

"These are not the only things we will have to consider curtailing. We will have to take a good look at our class loads and possibly place more youngsters per teacher. We will also have to examine the extra-curricular programs including athletics.

"THIS ISN'T a pleasant message but we do hope to impress upon each voter and parent in the district that there is a vital need for this additional revenue.

"We ask all to go to the polls and get a real expression of the wishes of the community from 3,000 electors—not 500."

The polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. School Supt. David McDowell and Dr. Prisk hope to have the final vote tabulated shortly after 9 p.m.

A Brave Soul Teaches The Ladies

Golf Pro Gary Whitener Has Great Success

Gary Whitener, pro at Livonia's new Municipal Whispering Willow Golf Club, is a brave soul. One of the first tasks he took on was the supervision of a golf clinic for members of the distaff side, ranging in age from the middle teens to the ages where it isn't mentioned.

It is just one of the many programs Gary, an Evans scholar from Western Golf and Country Club in Redford Township and a graduate of Michigan State University, introduced in his first year at the new course, which opened on Memorial Day.

Since then he has been busy arranging events for every type of golfer, novice or skilled, and has had unusual success considering that the play has built up to more than 250 players on Sundays and holidays.

That's quite a number for a nine-hole layout.

But then he dared to take the bull by the horns and decided to stage a clinic for women golfers who wanted to learn some of the fine points of the game.

The fine points they were primarily interested in were such items as how to hold a club, how to swing and how to hit the ball. Then there were such other things as putting, and getting out of the sand and the high grass without using the hand mashie.

Did you ever stand on a platform with a "mike" in your hand and try to tell a group of 50 or more members of the feminine sex how to interlock fingers for the proper grip on a club and then demonstrate the proper swing? That was just one of the things Gary attempted—and from the comments of those in attendance he did quite well. Most of the gals were more or less firmly convinced that now they knew how to swing right and hit the ball straight as a string 200 yards.

BUT OF COURSE that was far from the truth—as all learned when they finally got up enough nerve to try a round over the nine holes with no instructor looking over their shoulders.

It probably will be some time before the course is back to the fine shape it has attained since the opening—but Gary isn't complaining. He now has a solid core of about 50 women golfers to work with.

Then, too, several have become pupils and are taking lessons from Gary and his assistant, Steve Kazmar, who also serves as starter.

"We started the clinic this year to determine how much interest could be created for a brand new course," said Gary. "We now know that this will become an annual event, and I'm sure that it will grow and grow to the point that we'll have to split it into sections in future years."

THE FORMAT WAS similar to that used in other Michigan communities. The word was spread around through the press—in this case The Observer Newspapers—and the gals were instructed to register personally or by phone.

Gary had anticipated that the first class would consist of about 20 to 25 and was much amazed when the total soared to more than 75, of whom more than 50 attended.

It started with instruction in the fundamentals of driving and holding the club.

James Hubbard

"We had a few who had some knowledge of correct methods," smiles Gary. "But the majority were first timers—first time on a golf course but with an intense desire to learn."

"YOU'D BE AMAZED to see how the entire group settled down and practiced. I'll bet several had sore shoulders and muscles the next day, but there wasn't a single one ready to quit."

"The fact is that we started the class in the bright sunlight of the early evening and practically had to chase some of the girls when dusk settled down and it became too dark to see what kind of swings they were taking."

The clinic extended over two nights and the story was the same for each—working and taking instructions until dark.

Now, Gary finds himself with some of the group coming back as players, trying out the lessons learned in such a quick time.

"THIS IS ONLY the beginning," he says. "Come another year and we'll have a series of classes for the young ones, starting around the age of 10 and including those in the early teens. This is a big part of our job, and we plan to make it bigger."

Gary has more than a bit of knowledge in handling such programs.

He served for eight years under Warren Orlick, at Tam O'Shanter, where he received the rudiments of the work of a pro. Then he was at Western for five years, part of the time while attending Michigan State, and ended his apprenticeship at Knollwood Country Club.

With a background like that, small wonder that he has been able to make such a success of Whispering Willows in the short time the course has been open.

After passing the initial test of a clinic for the gals, he feels he's ready to tackle most any kind of a program.

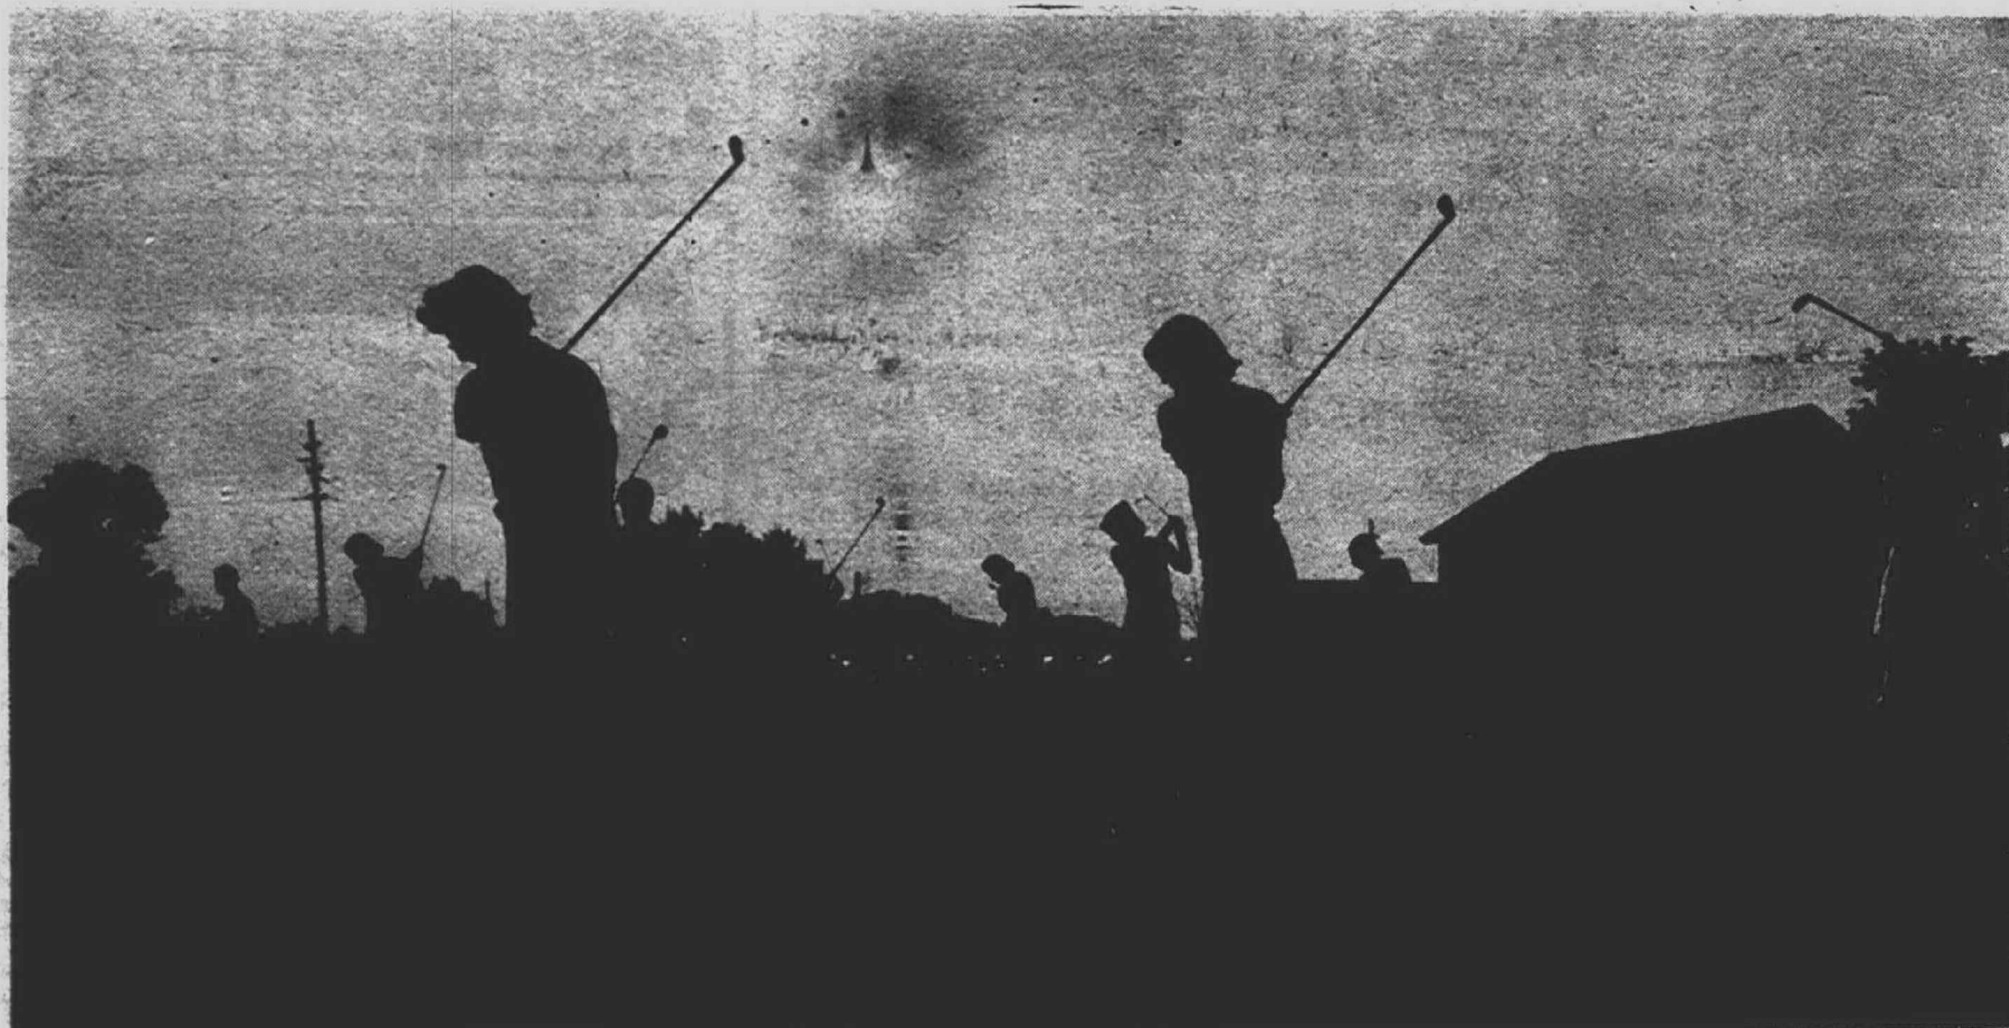

Pro Gary Whitener stands back as Sandra Hall follows through after getting instructions on how to line up a putt.

Starter Steve Kazmar gives Mrs. Raymond Michaelson some tips in the proper way to hold the club and the correct swing to get the most power when hitting the ball.

Hold The Club This Way, Take This Stance And Start Swinging

And The Gals Were Still Swinging Far Into The Dusk

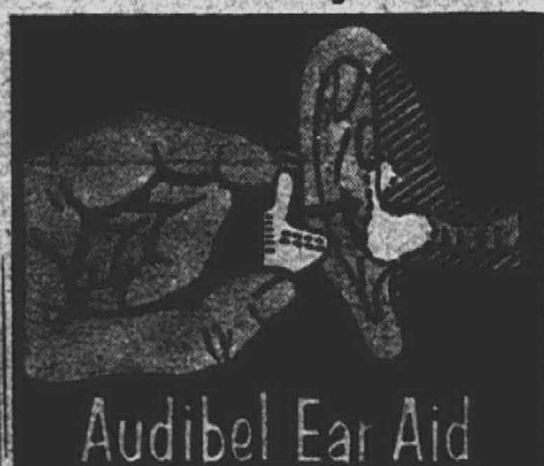

Mrs. James Stoner is told how to use an iron, where to place the club and how to swing through by the class instructor.

Listening to words of the instructor as he explains the fine points of the game is Mrs. Robert Griffin. She was one of the more than 50 that took every word of advice and tried to follow it.

AIDA BRUNI

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bruni, of Farmington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Aida Fiorina, to John Edmund Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip E. Hill, of Saginaw. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan Technological University and is employed by the Dow Chemical Co., Midland. The couple will be married in August.

MRS. DAVID H. COOKERY
(Susan M. Remo)

Newlyweds Will Live In Kalamazoo

A double-ring ceremony in Franklin Community Church June 29 united Susan M. Remo and David H. Cookery in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Remo, of Greening Avenue, Farmington. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cookery, of Kendallville, Ind., are parents of the bridegroom. Officiating for the rites was the Rev. Harold Ford, and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

THE BRIDAL GOWN was empire style, with chantilly lace trimmed in seed pearls fashioning bodice and sleeves and lace appliques on the silk organza skirt. The bride's bouquet was white daisies and roses. Three attendants in floor-length yellow linen gowns and yellow picture hats preceded the bride down the aisle.

Donna Belle, of St. Clair Shores, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Susan Cookery, of Kendallville, sister of the bridegroom, and Kathleen McDald, of Berkley.

DOUG CONRAD was best man. Guests were seated by Ed Kotarski and Bruce Munk. Mrs. Remo chose a cream colored crepe A-line dress with orange accessories, and the bridegroom's mother was in pink silk linen.

The couple greeted 100 guests in a reception at the Northwest Sportsman's Club before leaving for a three-day honeymoon in the Wisconsin Dells. They will live in Kalamazoo, where the bridegroom is attending Western Michigan University. He is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. The new Mrs. Cookery is a graduate of WMU.

Decorative Edge Gives Real Lift

A decorative edge treatment can give a real lift. For example, when deck boards are Douglas fir 2x4s laid flat, a 2x8 plank can be laid around the perimeter of the deck to make a border. It's simple, but effective.

Or cut every other deck board six inches longer than those in between to make a crisp, jogged edge pattern. Another idea calls for building an ankle-high "railing" with scraps of 2x4 and 4x4 lumber.

MRS. BRUCE MICHAEL JOHNSON
(Valentina Marie Zajdel)

Triplets Join Wedding Party

Six-year-old triplet nephews and niece of the bride joined the wedding party when Valentina Marie Zajdel and Bruce Michael Johnson spoke their marriage vows July 13 in Our Lady of Sorrows Church in Farmington.

Young Mark and Michael Southerland carried the couple's rings to the altar, and their sister Susan was flower girl.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Zajdel, of Farmington, and Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Johnson, also of Farmington, are parents of the bridegroom.

WHITE SILK PEAU trimmed in re-embroidered alencon lace beaded with pearls and crystals fashioned the bride's sheath gown. Her headpiece, a flower of beaded organza and lace, held a full-length lace-trimmed mantilla topped by a four-tier bouffant veil.

Mrs. Christine Southerland, matron of honor for her sister, wore a white sari empire sheath with re-embroidered daisies in white and yellow with touches of blue. Her hat was yellow with daisy trim.

Her flower girl Susan wore a miniature version of her mother's gown.

Similarly dressed, with daisy trim in white and yellow, were the bridesmaids, Susan Johnson, sister of the bridegroom; Emily Sadek and Diane Dugas, cousins of the bride, and Ann Zajdel, sister-in-law of the bride.

BOB JOHNSON assisted his brother as best man, and the ushers were another brother, Dick Johnson, Jerry Zajdel, brother of the bride, Jerry Wroblewski, and Mike Dugas, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Zajdel chose a mint green empire dress, with hand beading at the sweetheart neckline. Mrs. Johnson's dress was pale yellow chiffon.

The reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Farmington, and the couple went to Florida for the wedding trip.

Former Livonian Co-Authors Play

To former Livonian Dolores Walker, her real-life story of a small town girl becoming a big city success is hackneyed.

Now a New York theater-writer, Miss Walker deals only in revolutionary plots. At least that is the term used to describe the new movie, "Recess," which the ex-small town girl co-authored with former Allen Parker Andrew Piotrowski.

IN "RECESS," the talented two have constructed a show with neither plot nor set. First produced off-Broadway last March, the film traces in a series of small vignettes a group of children becoming adults.

Because the film is youth-oriented, it will first be seen at American and European film festivals, followed in early October with openings on five major college campuses before its premiere in New York. Directed by Rule Johnson, the cast of nine newcomers includes Heather McRae, daughter of Gordon and Shelia McRae.

MISS WALKER left Livonia two years ago and spent the ensuing time as an actress in Maryland and Pennsylvania. She studied directing with Nikos Psacharopoulos at New York's famed "Circle in the Square" and co-authored "Recess" while associated with "Cafe La Mama," New York, training ground for many current theatrical persons.

MISS WALKER met Piotrowski when both were students at Wayne State University. The Livonia author holds a master's degree in English from WSU and worked briefly at Detroit's Vanguard Theater. Piotrowski is a former copywriter for the Detroit-based Campbell Ewald Advertising agency.

Despite its new format, Miss Walker describes her new movie as "very disciplined, very controlled, ensemble theater."

ALTHOUGH her talents bend toward visual theater, the author has some reservations about writing for television. She has worked in theater since she was 13, but the transference to writing instead of acting plays was "very gradual," she says.

She says that she and her confederate "are still developing style."

The Michigan pair feels their works are more adapted to the off-Broadway theater and are currently polishing their latest script, "Ox-Road" for off-Broadway production. This will be followed by "Muleshoe," a study of burial culture in the early 1940's and described by Miss Walker to be as fully starting as "Recess."

Ballet Continues This Week

The Meadow Brook Festival continues in its week of American Ballet Theatre appearances in Oakland University's Baldwin Pavilion with performances Thursday, Friday, Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and next Sunday, Aug. 4, at 7:30 p.m.

The music is provided by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra playing from the Pavilion pit. The company comes to Meadow Brook from New York after a successful three-week dance festival with ballets newly mounted for that occasion.

All major stars of the company will be on hand for the Festival performances including Lupe Serrano, Carla Fracci, Erik Bruhn, Toni Lander, Royce Fernandez, and Bruce Marks. Jaime Leon will conduct five of the performances with Andrew Apostle directing the Detroit Symphony for the final ballet Sun., Aug. 4.

Ballets to be presented are "Les Syphides," the "Flower Festival" Pas de Deux, "Billy the Kid," and "Theme and Variations" Thurs., Aug. 1; "Dances Concertantes," "Fancy Free," and "Etudes" Fri., Sat., Aug. 2-3; "Concerto" and a new two-act "Giselle" Sun., Aug. 4.

Tickets are available at the Festival box - office on the grounds, at Hudson's and Grinnell's. Festival grounds open two hours before performances for picnics and buffet service.

Stars' Game Rained Out

The dream of most student baseball players — a chance to play in Tiger Stadium — was washed out Thursday for members of the Greater Livonia-Free Press League All Stars. Because of wet grounds, the Stars' game against a comparable unit from Oakland County had to be called off. It may be rescheduled at a later date.

The regular-season chase for honors in the Livonia League has ended with the playoffs slated to begin this week.

Olympics Back In Lead Slot In Lacrosse

The Detroit Olympics have regained the lead in the National Lacrosse Association's Eastern Division.

Back to back wins over Montreal enabled the Olympics to dislodge Peterborough atop the standings and seize a four-point edge.

The latest win was 15-11 over Montreal as Bill Squires led Detroit with three goals and one assist.

Regular Season Curtain To Fall In Connie Mack

The regular-season curtain falls this week in the Greater Livonia Connie Mack baseball league.

Earl Morrall of Redford Township appears to have the American League lead wrapped up while the Livonia Spartans hold a slight edge in the National.

The Morrall team, comprised of Redford Union High players who won the Suburban Six League title last spring, moved closer to the crown by downing Garden City West, 7-0.

Meantime, the Spartans also captured a shutout, but in much more thrilling fashion, 1-0, from cross-town Allen Fence of Livonia.

Paul Tonnemacher, the star pitcher at Stevenson High, had to go all out to best Ken Gawkowski of Allen.

scoring in the seventh.

THE LIVONIA Optimists squeezed out a 3-2 win over Hubert Realty of Livonia as Ken Grates teamed with Dave Kelly to produce the win. The loser was Craig Colton.

NF Colts Battle For State Crown

Champ of District 4 for the second straight year, North Farmington-West Bloomfield's Colt League baseball team battled for the state crown at Mt. Pleasant this weekend.

Birmingham, Mt. Pleasant and St. Clair Shores also were involved in the two-defeat-and-out state tourney for boys, 15 and 16 years old.

The North Farmington team is managed by Tom Hart and coached by Stan Kouris.

Blue Lewis Lions Slash Winner On Ron Kramer Fast TKO

The name of Alvin "Blue" Lewis registered in brighter lights in the heavyweight boxing world this weekend.

Lewis showed he's "a somebody" by disposing of second-ranked Eduardo Corlelli of Italy when Corlelli couldn't answer the bell for the second round at Olympia Wednesday night.

Lewis drove Corlelli to his feet and through the ropes as the first round ended. The Italian was through for the night.

The victory boosted Lewis' chances of getting a shot at more leading contenders and possibly meeting either Joe Ellis or Jim Frazier, who are ranked as the heavyweight champions—depending on which state one happens to be in.

Olympia officials have posted an offer of $100,000 to Frazier or Ellis, if either will accept a fight with Lewis to be held in the Detroit arena in October.

State Champion Hot On Links

Joyce Kazmierski, the former Livonia Stevenson school teacher and the new state champ, won the weekly women's district tournament by shooting a blazing 71 at Bloomfield Hills.

Nancy Patch of Farmington was second with 78.

The youth movement on the Detroit Lions caught up to veteran tight end Ron Kramer, one-time All American at the University of Michigan.

Kramer received his outright release, thus temporarily, at least, ending an 11-year career in the National Football League.

The 33-year-old Kramer started with Green Bay in 1957 and came to the Lions in 1965 for a No. 1 draft choice. During his NFL career he caught 229 passes for 3,272 yards and 16 touchdowns.

In his first two seasons with the Lions he grabbed 55 passes for 648 yards. Injuries curbed his play last season and he wound up nailing only four passes for 40 yards.

Coach Joe Schmidt declared that he cut Kramer because the Lions can carry only two tight ends. The team has another veteran in Jim Gibbons, 31, and is counting heavily on rookie Charles Sanders, currently a standout for the College All Stars who meet Green Bay next Friday night in Chicago.

Kramer, bitter at being dropped by the Lions, was a three-sport star at Michigan. He said he felt he could still play football and would try to find another job.

Sanders is one of several promising newcomers on the Lions' roster.

Greg Landry, a quarterback, is with the College Stars and electrifying all observers. So is Earl McCullough, the speedster from Southern California who passed up a chance to run for the U.S. in the Olympics to play pro football.

Add Mel Farr, Nick Eddy and Len Barney who blossomed out last season, it's evident that the Lions feel that if they're going to win, they must by rebuilding with younger players.

The team will play Buffalo at Buffalo a week from Monday in its first exhibition.

Farmington Pony Teams Win, Lose

South Farmington was a winner, but North Farmington lost in the first round of the District Four Pony League playoffs in Birmingham.

South squeezed past Garden City, 3-2, while Birmingham beat North, 8-5.

Dennis Watson hurled a three hitter and fanned nine for the winning South team, which scored all of its runs in the third inning.

Watson himself started the payoff inning with a walk. Tom Rowley singled and Mike Flynn walked to fill the bases. Dan Stearns singled in two runs and the third scored on an error.

Birmingham used three pitchers to beat North Farmington, which counted once in the first, three in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Bill Stacy's homer was the big blow for the winners. The meet is being conducted on a two-defeat-and-out basis.

GAWKOWSKI was touched for only two hits—both off the bat of Jerry Dettler. But one of Dettler's blows knocked in Tim DeWitt, who had walked, with the only run of the game in the first inning.

Gawkowski fanned nine, one more than Tonnemacher—who gave up four hits, two of them to Shannon.

Dale Bjerke, the big man of the Redford Union High pitching staff, scattered five hits and fanned seven, in checking Garden City West. Bjerke never was in serious trouble.

Jerry Cook singled in the first Redford run in the second inning. In the third, hits by Bill Fabey and Kirk Taylor, along with errors, helped to add three Morrall runs.

A triple by Rich Cragg, a single by Cook and Fabey's third homer in four games ended the Spoiler Role For Plymouth?

A chance to turn spollers. It awaits the Plymouth baseball team Monday when the curtain falls on regular-season play in the Greater Livonia Class A league.

Although out of the running for the third-round flag, Plymouth could do Livonia a big favor by upsetting Redford in a 9 p.m. game at Ford Field after Livonia engages Westland at 6:30.

Livonia and Redford were tied for the third-round battle entering the final weekend of action.

Teams Open Big Series In Plymouth

It will be the Dodgers vs. the White Sox when the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League opens its ninth annual world series Monday at 6 on the Little League diamond on Plymouth Road.

The Dodgers captured the championship of the National League with a record 16 wins and four losses. The White Sox topped the American League with an 18-2 mark.

This is the second straight year the teams have clashed in the series and the third consecutive appearance of the Dodgers in the finals.

The championship will be decided on a two of three series, with games slated Monday, Wednesday and Friday, if necessary.

Build For Navy

WASHINGTON -- A Navy Department contract totaling more than $16.3 million has been awarded to the Defore Shipbuilding Co., Bay City, for 22 landing craft. All work is to be done at Bay City.

Redford was paired with Westland at Ford Sunday at 6:30, while Livonia was to meet Dearborn Heights at 9.

If Redford wins the round, it automatically goes forward into a district playoff for the right to advance into the state tournament. Redford won the first two rounds in the Livonia loop.

LIVONIA, by beating out Redford, or finishing tied, could force a playoff for the right to advance into the state.

Plymouth tuned up for the crucial finale by rallying for a 7-6 victory over Dearborn Heights.

There were two outs in the final inning when Mike Lockwood tripled and Pete Lomonaco singled him over.

Thus Lomonaco, who hurried the route, made himself the winner in the tense struggle which at one time saw the Heights leading, 4-1.

Plymouth scored first when Brian Gilles singled across John Bida who had walked. A single by John Bida, followed by two errors, produced another pair of Plymouth runs in the fourth.

Pete Woodward singled and tallied on Larry Wells' triple in the fifth. Then in the sixth, Brian Gilles tripled after Ken Kisabeth and Jared Stevens singled to tie the score at 6-6.

ROBERT TRAUB, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Traub, of 14344 Auburndale, Livonia, has graduated from Evangel College in Springfield, Mo. He received a bachelor of business administration degree, with a major in accounting.

RICHARD A. KOCH, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Koch, of 15121 Harrison, Livonia, has been honored at Michigan Technological University for his membership in Chi Epsilon, a national civil engineering fraternity.

SIX OBSERVERLAND students at Central Michigan University have been initiated into social fraternities on the campus. The students and their fraternities are:

LIVONIA—Joseph Good, Phi Sigma Epsilon; David Wolds, Sigma Chi.

Farmington LL'9' Gains In Tourney

The North Farmington-West Bloomfield Americans Saturday battled in the semifinals of the District Four Little League championships.

A 2-0 win over Holly, followed by a 6-3 verdict over Birmingham Federal advanced the Americans to within striking zone of the district flag.

Meantime the North Farmington-West Bloomfield Nationals were on the sidelines after blanking Walled Lake, 10-0, before losing a 1-0 heartbreaker to Birmingham Continental.

The Nationals were playing in Whism Saturday and if victorious will play for the district crown on the same diamond Monday.

To beat the Continental team, the Americans came from behind with a run in the sixth inning when Mat Thurlin singled over Don Therasse, who had doubled, to tie the game and then score three times in the seventh.

JOHN RAMSEY singled to open the seventh. Dan Rawley was safe on an error and Bill Smith singled to load the bases. Therasse walked to force in one run and two more scored when Hurlin was safe on an error. Hurlin had scored the first run when singled in by John Allen, who hurled the route for the Americans. Then Allen homered in the fifth.

Bruce Brewin flipped a one-hitter and fanned 10 in the Americans' 2-0 conquest of Holly. Therasse and Smith each singled over a run.

By George Maslin observing sports

So baseball's too long a game!

Too many contests drag out... like the Tigers going some three hours and 25 minutes the other night!

Well, we're not so sure that the fans really dislike extended contests.

Take the guy who goes down to Tiger Stadium three or four times a season. He wants his money's worth. If the game is finished in a couple hours, he's been short-changed.

Besides, the Tiger front office itself doesn't relish too many speedy tilts. You see the Tigers share in the refreshments and "what have you" sold at the ball park. If a game finishes in no time flat, it means the customers won't spend as much for cokes, pepsi, pop corn and "what have you."

BUT JUST IN CASE you think maybe something should be done to knock 15 or 20 minutes off the playing time, here's an idea presented by daughter Julie, who's all of 14, going on 15, and acting frequently like she's 19.

Says Julie: "What's wrong with four outs an inning and seven-inning games for the Tigers? There actually would be one more out overall—there now are 27 in a nine-inning game."

"It might open up baseball a little more... make it possible for more runs to be scored... and that's something they seem to be screaming for in baseball today."

Julie's thoughts rate some consideration. Wouldn't it be something to have an inning in which a team pulled off two double plays? Or maybe a team scoring on a triple play!

Baseball, of course, is not a game which has undergone too many revolutionary changes.

Many disliked the change in the Greater Detroit Catholic League which had a batter retired on two strikes and walked on three balls.

But the coaches and the players like the rule... they have found that their games have been speeded up... that there have been as many runs scored as under the old rule... and that batters no longer are standing up at the plate and "taking" pitches.

NOTHING BURNS us up more than to see a batter stroll to the swatting station and the first thing he does is to stare down at his coach or manager and see whether he should "take" a pitch or two.

There are occasions, one supposes, when a batter should wait out the pitcher. But not too often.

We even have seen batters with two strikes take a look at their coach.

It's not very often that a coach will order "take" when a batter has two strikes on him.

If memory serves us correctly, we saw it once. It came in a game involving Wayne State University.

The late Joe Truske was coaching Wayne and on this particular situation the count ran to three-and-two.

Truske had a very obvious sign when he wanted a batter not to swing. He'd sit on the bench, holler at the batter and then turn his head in one direction or the other.

This was Truske's "take" sign.

We happened to be umpiring and we became familiar with Truske's sign.

WHEN WE SAW him flash the "take" sign on three-and-two, we almost collapsed with astonishment.

The batter seemingly wasn't surprised by such an order from the bench.

He (the batter) set himself in the box and made like he was going to belt a homer.

The pitcher wound up and served a perfect pitch.

You might have surmised that the pitcher knew what Truske had signaled.

There was nothing that we could do in calling the pitch. "Strike," we said.

The batter about-faced, tossed his bat calmly into the pile of other bats and walked to the far side of the bench.

The Wayne coach said nothing. After all, his man had done what he was told.

Victories! Cougars Just Wait

Victory continues to elude the Detroit Cougars soccer team.

In their latest start, the Cougars played a 2-2 tie with Cleveland at Tiger Stadium when the game had to be halted because of a downpour.

Detroit took a 1-0 lead, Cleveland rebounded in front, 2-1 and then Detroit tied it on a solo smash by Barry Rowan.

The Cougars now stand 4-14-2 and haven't won since May 21. They have games at St. Louis and Toronto before returning home next Friday to play Chicago at Tiger Stadium.

St. Edith Wins Third Straight Church Crown

St. Edith's has won the Unlimited Church League softball championship for the third straight year. The loop is sponsored by the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation.

St. Edith clinched the crown this week with a 3-0 triumph over Faith Lutheran as George Smith hurled a no-hitter.

The champs boast a string of 10 straight victories with one game to play. They have a two-game nudge over their nearest rival.

The bangtalls are coming and that's good news for horse racing fans in Observerland and the northwest section of Detroit who have been awaiting the start of the thoroughbred season on the western section of Wayne County.

More than 14,000 followers of the flat runners are expected to attend the first program of the Detroit Race Course's 84-day meeting which continues through Saturday, Nov. 2.

U-M Cage Coach Now Office Aide

ANN ARBOR—The University of Michigan will have a new basketball coach next winter.

He is to be John Orr, who has been promoted from assistant to replace Dave Strack, who resigned the cage job to become new business manager of athletics for the Wolverines.

Orr's chief aide will be Fred Snowden, the successful coach at Detroit Northwestern High School. Snowden becomes the first Negro member of the U-M coaching staff.

STRACK BOWS OUT of coaching Michigan after compiling a record of 113 wins against 89 losses in his eight seasons with the team.

His three greatest years came when Cazzie Russell performed for the Wolverines. In that period, Michigan won 65 and lost 17 and won three straight Big Ten titles and reached the NCAA tourney each time.

In 1965, the Wolverines lost to UCLA for the NCAA title. Strack played for Michigan three seasons and captained the Wolverines in 1946. He coached one year at Idaho before joining the Michigan staff.

LIGHTS, CAMERA . . . Projectionist Debbie Swain, of Livonia, gets a film ready as Dan McCarthy and Suzanne Stynes, both of Livonia, look on. It's Wednesday afternoon at the movies in the air-conditioned Alfred Nobel branch library this summer. Films are shown every Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Story-Tellers Cool At Work

There may be a lot of trees in the suburbs, but it still gets hot in July and August. And summer days, with no school, can be long and dull for seven-year-olds, let alone three- or four-year-olds.

In Livonia, Redford Township and Plymouth, kids can go to their cool libraries and be entertained by "nearly magic" story tellers.

Mrs. Bonita Stockmeyer, Plymouth's librarian for juveniles, said:

"You can tell it's a success by the wide-eyed looks, the happy screams of 'Mommy, Mommy, wait till you hear what we did,' and by the history of the story hour. It's been going on for 20 or 25 years.

Plymouth library's program runs in six to eight weeks series throughout the year. Mrs. Stockmeyer tells action-stories and finger-stories; that is, traces the "itsy, bitsy, spider" up all 10 fingers, until she and the children memorize the rhyme.

JUVENILE LIBRARIAN at Livonia's Carl Sandburg branch, Mrs. Claudine Trenner, said:

"Our story hour began when Livonia built the library. It has been a great success. You can tell by the smiling faces and bright eyes.

"Our summer story hour becomes a film hour for pre-schoolers and elementary school youngsters."

For the little folks, the film hour is Friday morning, and the more mature film hour is held Saturday mornings.

Livonia's other library, the Alfred Nobel branch, has had a story hour since it was built, too.

Directed by Miss Pauline Hinrichs, the story hour for pre-schoolers goes on year-round. Librarian Angeline Rousseau explained:

"We tell the story; we don't just read it. We average about 30 youngsters in a session. It's a coordinated program, and the kids get name tags. Some of them have collected quite a few.

"We also have film shows Wednesday afternoons for pre-schoolers and elementary youngsters."

REDFORD TOWNSHIP'S 11-brary summer story hour ended two weeks ago, but their summer reading club goes on throughout the year.

"We have 247 young people registered in the reading club. They read a certain number of books, and then get a certificate to take back to school.

Mrs. Ruth Thornbladh works with the youngsters telling nursery rhymes, acting out stories in finger-play and pointing out story book pictures.

Redford's program goes on in the winter, too, from January through March.

SUMMER READER — 13-year-old Greg Hull, of Livonia, belongs to the Carl Sandburg Branch Library reading club.

STORY HOUR listeners in Redford Township's library look at fairy tale pictures that reader Sue Padden points out. The pre-schoolers and elementary school children listen to Mother Goose and other fantasies Friday mornings in Redford's summer story hour. Mrs. Padden is one of the Jaycee auxiliary volunteers who read for the summer vacation program.

Clarenceville Theater Group Seeing Double

A major production and several workshop productions. This is the kind of schedule that a theater class spends a year in doing.

In the Clarenceville School District they're doing it all in seven weeks time.

Plus that—all the activity is generated by a grand total of 21 teen-agers from the area.

"That means," says Director Bob Gregory, "that everyone is doing double duty. Cast members are also in charge of backstage duties."

THE BIG PUSH is currently on for the first production by the Clarenceville Summer Players.

George Bernard Shaw's classic "Pygmalion" opens Aug. 2 in the Clarenceville High School Auditorium. An additional performance is set for Aug. 3. Curtain time both nights is 8 p.m.

It may be the first year, but Gregory is convinced that the seven weeks of workshops and a full scale production will become an annual summer event.

Gregory, a teacher at Clarenceville High School, is just completing his first year in the district. A dramatic arts graduate of Eastern Michigan University, he helped to organize the Dearborn Summer Theater group while he was in college.

THE FIRST FOUR weeks Gregory put his students through the paces in daily workshops. The first three hours were devoted to classroom type sessions, while the last two hours the students divided into four groups and directed and produced 10 or 15 minute segments from plays.

On Friday the workshop productions were staged with a critique.

Each week Gregory chose the best of the workshop productions, which were staged for the general public on Sunday night.

The last three weeks are devoted to the "Pygmalion" production.

This includes not only rehearsals, but building sets, making costumes, collecting props, ticket sales and all the other elements of a theatrical production.

Speaking of tickets, they are currently on sale for $1 per person. At the door on performance nights the cost will be $1.50. To obtain tickets contact Gregory at 425-7671 or the Clarenceville box office at 477-9078.

Children's Comedy Scheduled

"Please Don't Sneeze," a Court Theatre production for children, will be held at 1 p.m. Saturdays, Aug. 10-24, plus a Sunday production on Aug. 18 at Ferndale High School, 881 Pinecrest, Ferndale.

The rollicking comedy with music, written by Canadian actor and playwright Chris Wiggin, "Please Don't Sneeze" tells the story of Baron Blunderbuss whose castle is invaded by the conniving, scheming Hortense Anthropy.

Miss Anthropy who, in typical villain fashion, proceeds to boss the servants and made a great nuisance of herself while trying to catch the Baron in her snare, has only one blind spot; she can't stand germs.

The servants fashion a merry plot, convincing the Baron he is desperately ill and finally chase Hortense off the premises in a bang-up finale. Songs, dances, mix-ups, a pair of crazy doctors, a cuckoo clock that can't tell time—all add up to an hour of charm and fun as Hortense gets her comeuppance.

General admission is 50 cents.

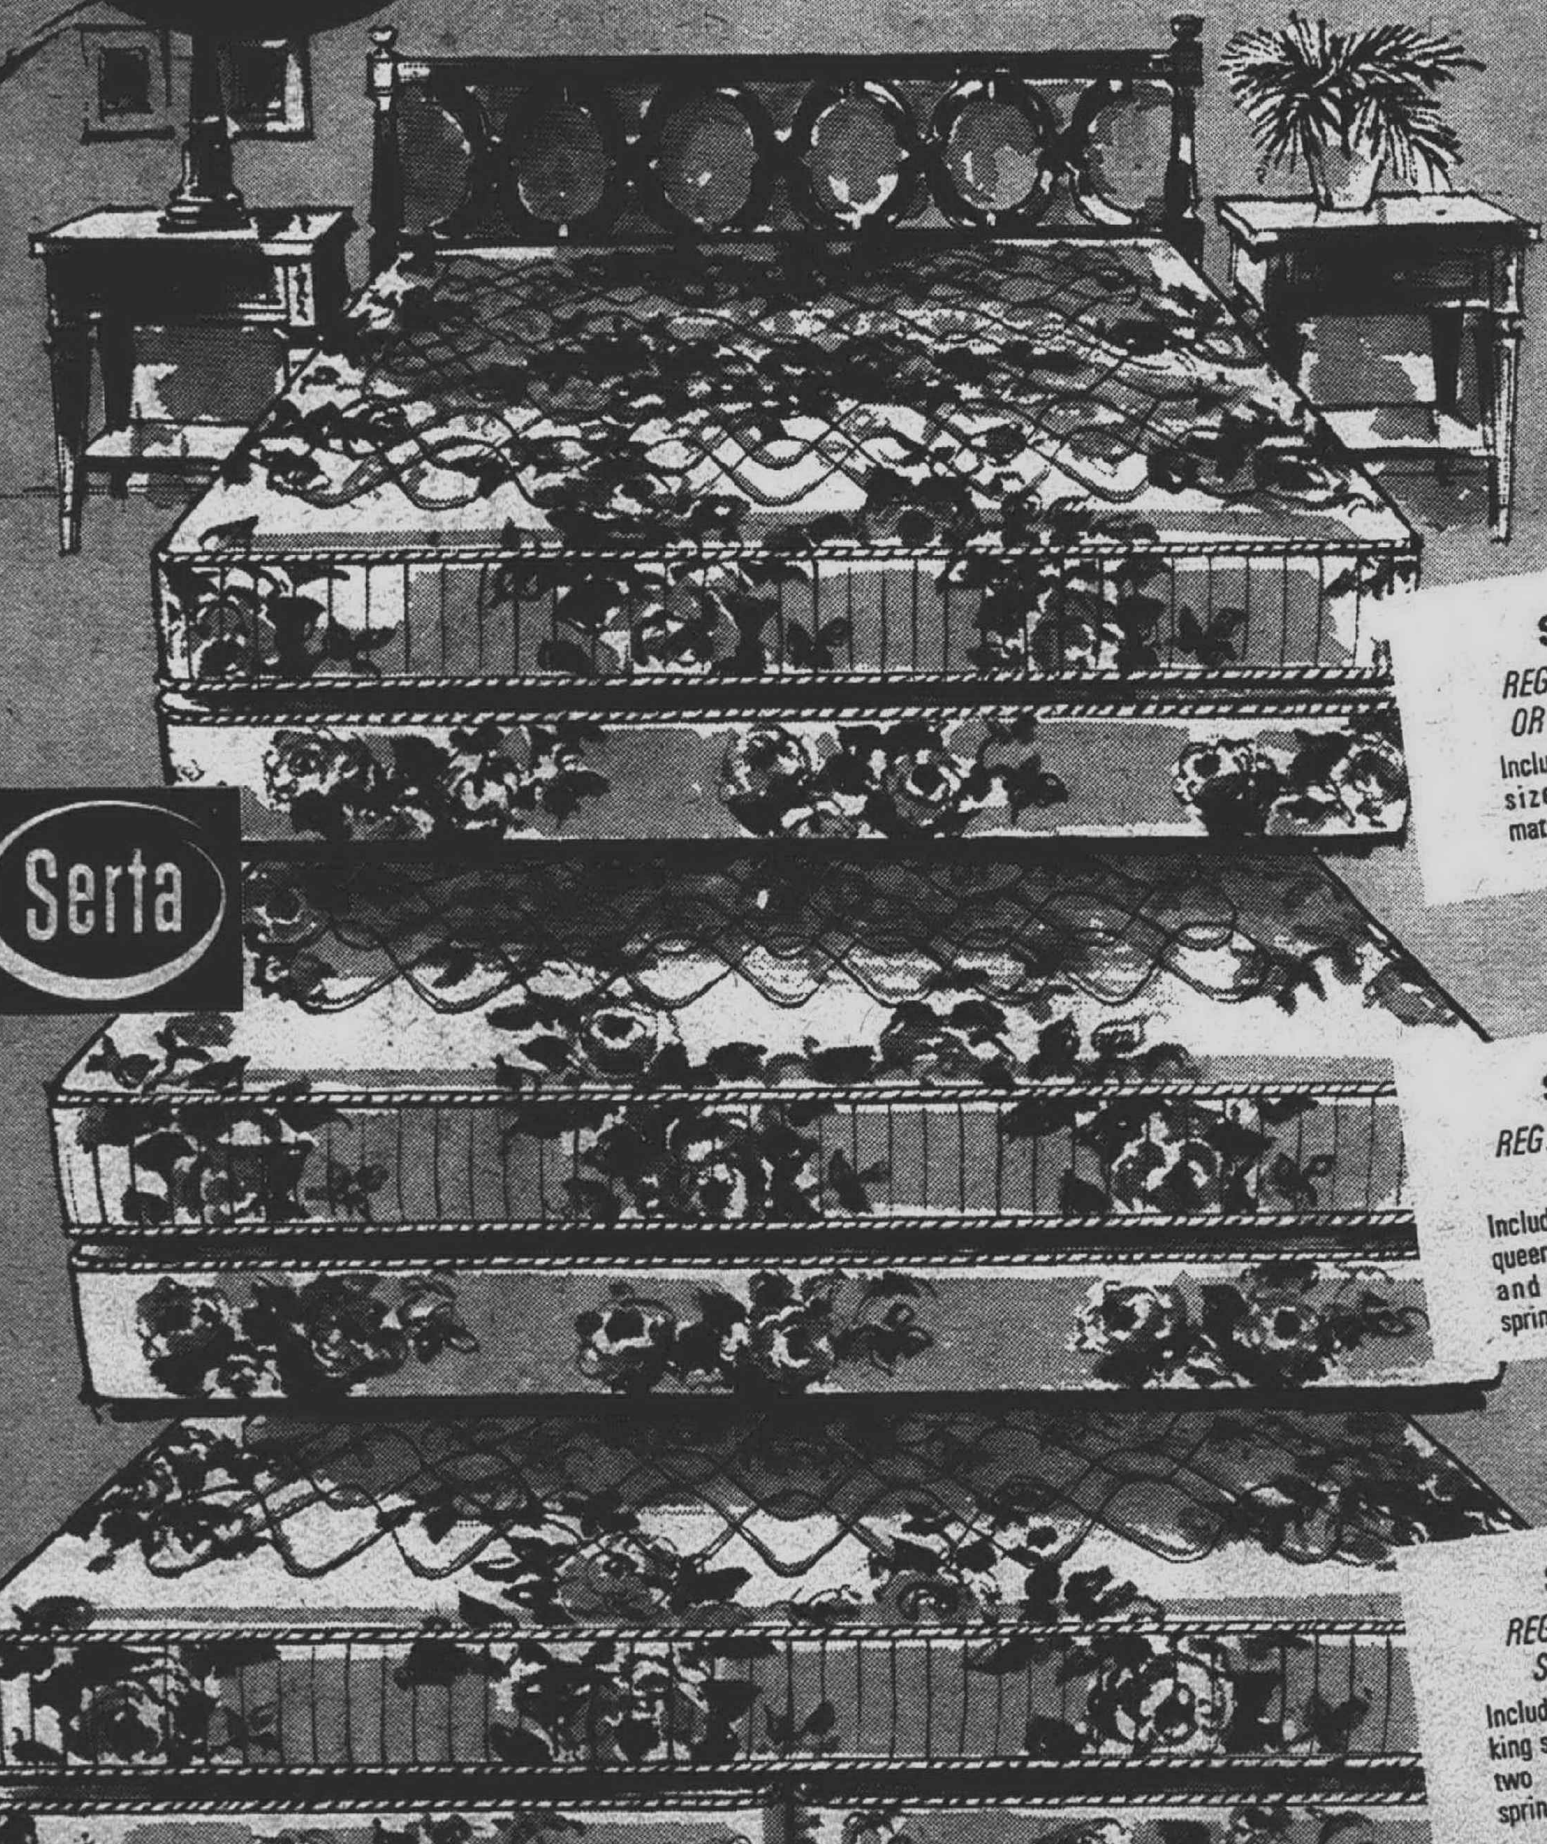

"Please Don't Sneeze" is a presentation of the Oakland Community College Summer Theatre Series.

Visit To Japanese-Inspired Garden

When George Grecu gives a party, it's always something special. But when it's a garden party, it's a real event. His unusual Japanese-inspired garden provides the perfect setting for a festive party.

As guests approach 22051

Seminole, near Inkster and Nine Mile, and near the one-story house with the white rail fence on a standard lot, they get no hint of what awaits them.

But in the driveway, the first festive touches appear.

RISE FROM the flower bed along the driveway are several tall, slender bamboo poles topped by brightly colored streamers.

As George, who immediately puts everyone on a first name basis, greets his guests, he explains that this is a traditional part of Japanese decor.

Pass through the gate, and you leave Michigan behind and step into another world, secluded and exotic, a world of dreams and enchantment.

The total effect is serene, but it is not a simple garden. It is composed of a great many intricate, interlocking parts skillfully combined to create a unified whole. Attention has been paid to the scale of everything in the garden; it has no large trees.

Each plant is a living sculpture. Each accessory—whether an imported antique or created by Mr. Grecu—is fascinating.

THE GARDEN, which Mr. Grecu has been working on for 12 years, is always being changed or added to.

The fish pond, stocked with five varieties of Japanese goldfish, is the latest addition. Constant care is needed to keep edges trimmed and shrubs pruned and shaped.

All this creative and meticulous work is done as a hobby. By profession, Mr. Grecu is an accountant, but he has marked artistic ability and a flair for the unusual.

Mr. Grecu asserts that his garden is not a copy of a Japanese garden. Rather, it is a garden in the Japanese spirit that was created with the reverence for living plants, the admiration for the tones and textures of wood and stone, and a veneration for ancient objects and traditions.

THE YARD is enclosed by screens of matchstick bamboo and translucent shoji panels. Gravel paths set with round stepping stones lead to a fish pond and to a tall Japanese good-luck Tori gate—the focal point of the garden.

A small weeping crab tree bends gracefully toward the pool, and set in raised beds exotic Japanese umbrellapines, ginkgos, clipped mugo pines and numerous other carefully pruned and trained evergreen shrubs create a garden of infinitely varied textures and forms and subtle green shadings.

The path leads through the gate, past an antique metal lantern on a tall pedestal, to the far corner of the garden where a graceful carved stone goddess stands beside a soft-needled metasequoia tree, with a bed of dwarf rhododendrons at her feet.

The goddess is placed so that her benign gaze is directed back over the garden and as one turns and follows her glance a fresh and different view greets one.

THE POOL is screened by shrubbery and tall dark Mexican lava rocks. Dominating this view is a fanciful golden pavilion with a pagoda-like roof.

Centered on a dark wooden platform that seems to float above the ground is a huge gilded birdcage in which white doves preen and flutter.

Flanking the cage is a pair of ferocious-looking ceramic dogs imported from Thailand.

Near the pavilion is a circular patio of charcoal-grey bricks set with a round metal mesh table and chairs. Cushions line the edge of a raised bed that extends along one side of the garden.

Another small patio at the side of the garage provides a vantage point for examining George Grecu's extensive collection of bonsai plants.

CATHERINE HURST of Ann Arbor admires the carved stone goddess. Pedestal is a chunk of anthracite coal.

FLORENCE LORENCE inspects an unusual pink variegated beech tree with an old metal lantern at its base.

GEORGE GRECU exhibits a bonsai from the collection on display in his Japanese garden.

WHITE DOVES in a gilded cage fascinate Mr. Grecu's neighbor, Susan Clark.

Daylilies Are Easy To Grow

By BETTY FRANKEL
Special Writer

Everyone knows the tawny orange daylily (Hemerocallis fulva) that grows wild by the roadside. It's an old-time garden favorite that long ago escaped from cultivation and became naturalized.

Many gardeners are familiar with the sweet-scented lemon-lily that blooms in May, and with the larger yellow "Hyperion" that also has a faint lemon fragrance.

However, it may take quite a stretch of the imagination to picture a garden with hundreds of different varieties of daylilies blooming in colors that range from pale ivory and delicate pinks through apricot and golden hues to deep vibrant reds.

MANY OF THE new varieties were displayed at Livonia Mall on July 27 by members of the Southern Michigan Iris and Hemerocallis Society at their annual daylily show.

Despite their exotic flowers, daylilies are very easy to grow. They are hardy and healthy and need no pampering. They grow in either full sun or light shade, in almost any kind of soil, and they are not particularly troubled by insects or diseases.

Varieties can be selected so that the gardener can have daylilies in bloom from May until September, although the greatest number of varieties bloom in July and August.

Most daylilies bloom on stems that are about three feet tall, but some may reach considerably higher, and there are delightful miniatures on stems less than a foot tall.

THE LONG ribbon-like leaves of the daylilies form a symmetrical mound that makes the plant attractive even when it is not in bloom.

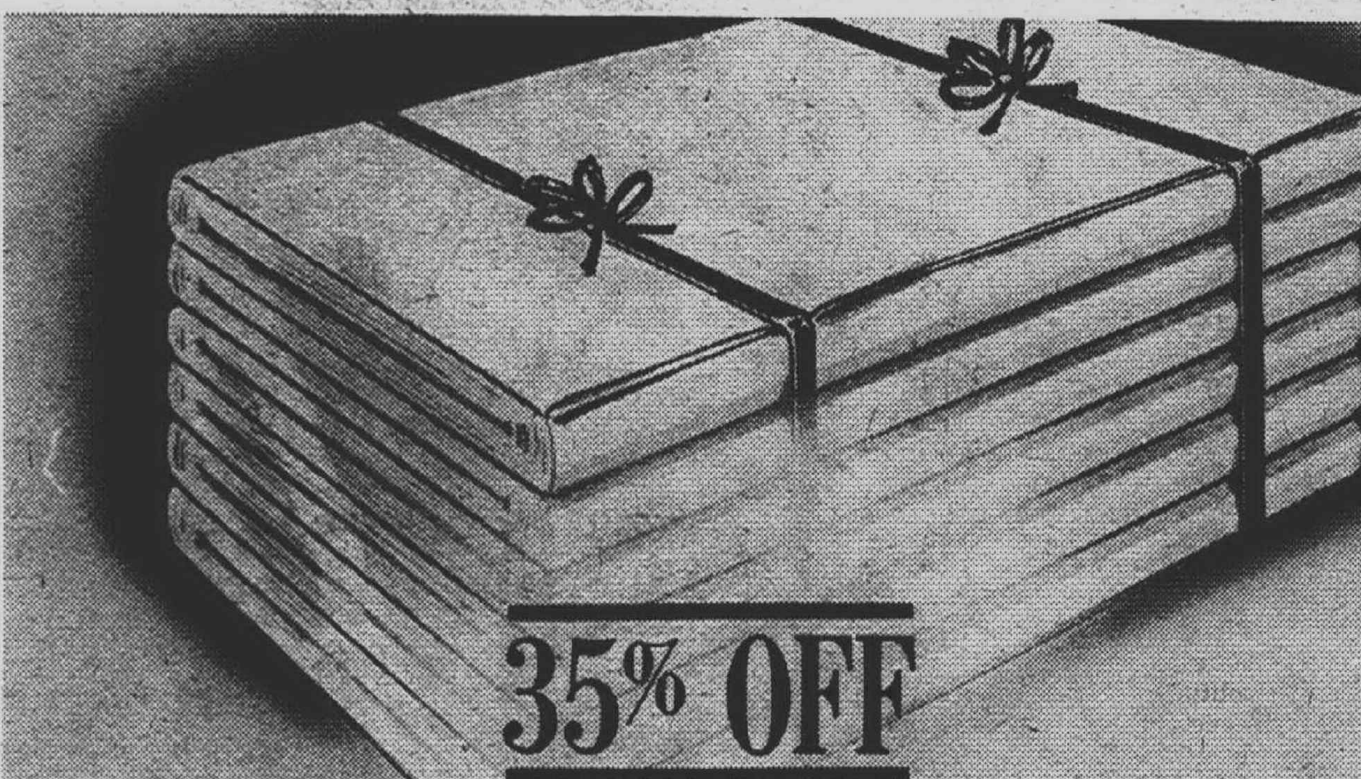

Clumps of daylilies can be used for foundation planting around the house, to provide an interesting contrast with the evergreens used. They also provide good textural variety when used in a mixed flower bed.

Old Flicks Aid Frink Campaign

Frink for Congress supporters will hold an old-time movie festival Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Metropolitan Club Hall, 37 W. Yale, Pontiac.

The $10 per person tickets will cover the films, refreshments, soft drinks and beer, and will aid the campaign of Gary Frink, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 19th District.

Called a "Frink-Flix," the entertainment will include W. C. Fields, Laurel and Hardy, and Charlie Chaplin movies.

Kuhn Will Head Bank Law Study

State Sen. George W. Kuhn (R-West Bloomfield) has been named chairman of the joint Senate-House Bank Study Committee.

Kuhn, chairman of the Senate Corporations Committee, said that a thorough and comprehensive study of Michigan's financial institutions will be made, and particularly the existing bank structure will be reviewed for possible changes.

To aid this investigation, the joint committee has hired the Carter H. Golembie Associates from Washington, D. C., to act as consultant. "This firm," said Kuhn, "is the best qualified in the country for this project."

Kuhn indicated that the committee would investigate the "corporate ownership of bank stock, the formation of bank-holding companies, and the concept of state-wide or limited branch-banking."

During the last session of the legislature, a series of bank-structure bills were tabled pending a complete review and study of the Michigan banking industry.

County's Problem Not $$$ - Sladek

Wayne County's problems of floods, drains and juvenile facilities are based not on lack of money but on lack of adequate organization and leadership, says Henry R. Sladek.

Sladek, a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Wayne County Board of Supervisors in the 26th District, spoke last week at a meeting in the home of George Kettunen, 30942 Greenland, Livonia.

The district includes Livonia, Plymouth, Northville and Canton Township. Sladek is Wayne County Republican chairman. He said:

"WAYNE COUNTY residents should not have to put up with floods, drain problems, sub-standard roads, inadequate juvenile corrective facilities and unanswered Sheriff Department problems.

"The paid county department heads also do not want these conditions. The missing ingredient to the solution is adequate organization and leadership.... not money.

"The county government is a unique patchwork that origi-

Hearing-Dog Rule

WASHINGTON -- Now the "hearing-ear" as well as the "seeing-eye" dog is a tax deductible item.

The Internal Revenue Service so ruled in the case of a man who requested a medical-expense deduction for the training and upkeep of a guide dog for his daughter, who suffered a severe hearing loss.

Milligan Tells 3-Point Platform

Edward G. Milligan, candidate for the Republican nomination for the Wayne County Board of Supervisors in the 26th District, last week outlined a three-point program when he spoke to the Livonia Republican Club.

Milligan, a Livonia councilman, now serves on the County Board as an appointee of the council. In private life he is an engineering supervisor for Ford Motor Co.

MILLIGAN, RUNNING in a district that includes Livonia, Plymouth, Northville and Canton Township, outlined this platform:

• Expediting the completion of the many road and drain projects now approved and pending within the 26th District by working closely with the County Road Commission and drain commission.

• Measures to strengthen county government's ability to handle area problems involving more than one city, village or township.

• Organization of the new 26-member board to make it more sensitive to growth and shifts in population by creating appropriate committees, making it possible for the board to financially plan ahead to meet various needs of the future.

"As an engineer," he said, "I have a professional understanding of the problems associated with the construction of roads, drains, sewers, and related projects. As a former chairman of the Livonia Planning Commission, I acquired a working knowledge of land use and community development.

"As a councilman, I have participated in the initiation of legislation to keep up with the changing nature of a growing community. I have been involved, also, in the enactment of a budget providing the various services that are within the city's available revenue.

"AS A MEMBER of the present Wayne County Board of Supervisors, and particularly as a member of its ways and means committee, I am familiar with both the operational and fiscal problems facing Wayne County government.

"In the course of representing my own community on the Board of Supervisors," he concluded, "I have established a personal working rapport with both the Road Commission and the Drain Commissioner's office. These two county agencies perform a vital role in a growth area such as the 26th District."

A member of the Disabled American Veterans, Milligan served on the Livonia City Planning Commission from 1962 to 1964 and has served on the Livonia City Council since July 1965. He was appointed to the Board of Supervisors in 1966.

Convention Pursell Goal: Clean Up Rouge

Marvin G. Pridgeon, of 16088 Alpine, Livonia, will go to the GOP National Convention as an honorary sergeant-at-arms.

State chairman Elly M. Peterson announced his appointment saying the honorary post is a reward for his outstanding activity in the Michigan Republican Party.

Pridgeon, a division plant engineer with Michigan Bell Telephone Co., is a member of the Republican State Central Committee and a past member of the 17th and 19th Congressional District Republican Committees.

While serving a four-year term as an officer in the Livonia GOP organization, he has represented his party as a precinct delegate and State Convention delegate since 1962.

Among others from Overland selected earlier for this honor was Diane M. Johnson of 27845 Peppermill, Farmington Township.

Their duties at the National Convention will be assigned by National Committee officials at Miami Beach, Mrs. Peterson, Miami Beach, Mrs. Peterson said.

MORE COLDS

Women have more colds than men by a three to two ratio.

Wayne County and local governments should join with the State Water Resources Commission to act promptly on the polluted Rouge River, says Carl Pursell, a candidate for the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Pursell is seeking the Republican nomination from the 26th District, which includes Livonia, Plymouth, Northville and Canton Township.

In a campaign statement, Pursell said: "THERE IS SOME effort being made by the state on this matter but the local governments need to provide leadership and direction to investigate waste dumpage and recommend corrective action at once.

"We in the Livonia, Plymouth and Northville area deserve a more attractive parkway river, and immediate attention is necessary.

"General conditions throughout the parkway are not up to attractive standards. Many areas are not cut and trimmed properly, comfort stations are not open according to posted signs, and other apparent lax conditions prevail."

Pursell said, "It is important that our county take a more aggressive position and improve the Hines Parkway. This could be a beautiful recreational area that is an asset to Wayne County.

"The Wilcox Lake has a natural setting for civic programs, but with polluted water its value is destroyed.

Wallace Opposes Fortas High Court Appointment

ST. LOUIS — Independent presidential candidate, George Wallace, is opposed to President Johnson's appointment of Abe Fortas for chief justice of the United States.

In a St. Louis speech, Wallace said, concerning the Vietnam war, "We're there. Whether we like it or not, we have to stay with our servicemen so long as they are there."

WASHINGTON — A group of two dozen refugees from the poor people's Resurrection City in Washington are continuing their campaign by seeking the right to make a Poor People's village.

William Carroll, who owns the land they want in Dunn Loring, Va., said they were welcome to stay on his property if they got the county's permission.

NEW YORK — According to a correspondent, the Navy reportedly has found the crash site of the nuclear submarine, Scorpion.

William Hines, science specialist added, "There is no possibility that anyone could have survived the initial disaster." The Scorpion disappeared in May, with a crew of 99 men and officers.

WASHINGTON — Word is out that the $5.4 billion housing bill that President Johnson wanted, may come out of a special Senate-House conference very close to the way he wanted it.

Although large portions of the bill were compromises, a spokesman said, much of what the house had cut has been restored in this committee of senators and representatives.

WASHINGTON — In an attempt to ease the clogged airports of the nation, the Senate has been urged to take immediate action on a bill designed to unravel the growing congestion.

The House has accepted the President's prescribed 1,631 additional controllers and a senate committee has added an extra 1,996 to Johnson's recommendation.

CINCINNATI — Republican and Democratic governors are agreeing, in growing numbers, to combine their forces to beat out a possible Wallace stalemate.

They fear that a political party could be destroyed if either party entered post-election negotiations with the former Alabama governor.

MEMPHIS — Arthur Hanes, attorney for James Earl Ray, accused murderer of Dr. Martin Luther King, admitted that Ray is the same man arrested in London, posing as George Spayd.

Ray will go to trial Nov.

12 on a murder charge. He was arraigned last Monday, under extremely tight security, and was quickly returned to a four-cell suite in the Shelby County jail.

WASHINGTON — Proposed as a method of preventing airline hijacking, devices to photograph passengers boarding planes are being considered.

Assistant director of the Federal Aviation Administration's flight standards service, Richard Swift, announced that one type of research concerns a mechanism that could detect any "sizable" metal object, such as a gun, but which would be insensitive to smaller objects.

WASHINGTON — The National Funeral Directors' Association has agreed that the price of a funeral may be advertised. The justice department said it is prohibiting a limiting of advertising.

The problem came under judicial scrutiny last year in an antitrust case in Milwaukee, Wis. The justice department charged that the NFD had inhibited price competition in their curtailing the right of funeral directors to advertise their charge for burial.

WASHINGTON — Ralph Lapp, a nuclear scientist has said that Red China could overwhelm the US missile defense system by 20 times by 1980.

The Johnson administration contends that its proposed "thin" antimissile system, named Sentinel, will be effective against the Chinese into the 1980's.

New Detroit Film Offered To Clubs

How does Detroit look to someone born black?

How does the city look when viewed from the black perspective?

In an endeavor to better bridge the gap between White and Black communities, the New Detroit Committee has produced a 35-minute motion picture, "The Black Eye." It will be available to metropolitan Detroit community organizations at no charge.

Filmed by an all-Negro crew, the movie was shot in and around Detroit. It covers a full range of viewpoints within the Negro community, ranging from a closeup view of the welfare system to the very personal reflections of people for whom the "inner city" is not a phrase but a harsh reality.

LAURA MOSELEY, of the United Foundation staff, wrote and produced the movie, with filming and production by C.J. Dorkins Associates of New York. Detroit's own Motown record company wrote and recorded an original score for the movie.

"The Black Eye" will be utilized in the New Detroit Committee's Speaker's Bureau, which supplies speakers to organizations throughout the Metropolitan Detroit region.

The film is designed to present a perspective on everyday reality unknown to most white Detroiters...and to stimulate a discussion following the film. A staff of volunteer speakers is being trained to lead the discussions.

Included in the film is a thorough cross-section of Negro community life, "the Black community talking," according to Miss Moseley. Appearing in the film are many grass roots community representatives as well as Negro businessmen, civic leaders and spokesmen.

THE FILM explores the Negro at work and at play...visiting an ADC mothers' meeting, the Black Star Co-Op Market, a black cocktail party, a Pontiac housing project, a meeting in Dearborn of two church youth groups, one white and the other black.

"The Black Eye" was produced for the New Detroit Committee and Metropolitan Fund, Inc., by Dorkins Productions, with supplementary production services by Video Productions of Detroit.

Why Cherry County Playhouse Stays And Stays

By WALLY ROBERTS

As our suburbs swell in the broiling July sun, many a vacationer is dipping his toes in the cool waters of Lake Michigan, Huron or Superior. An enervating day in the sun is often followed by a cool evening at one of Michigan's many summer theaters.

Summer theater in Michigan is not the bustling industry it once was a decade ago. Many summer theaters have left the scene. The Northland Theater is the closest and oldest establishment to have bitten the financial dust lately.

THE CHERRY COUNTY Playhouse has been a perennial favorite with summer visitors to the Traverse Bay area. For 14 years Miss Ruth Bailey has defied wind, rain, and insurmountable casting problems to bring a touch of Broadway to this somewhat remote area of Michigan, 200 miles north of Detroit.

Summer theaters come and go over the years, but the Barn Theater near Augusta (east of Kalamazoo), the Houghton Lake Playhouse (near Clare) and the Red Barn Theater (near Sawag-tuck) are holding down the entertainment fort.

The Cherry County Playhouse is the acknowledged leader among a lucky quintet of summer playhouses still offering Michigan summer theater attractions.

IT'S NOT EASY to attract the stars from their cozy TV jobs or from the confines of Hollywood. Somehow or other Miss Bailey has always been able to attract top movie or TV stars to her Traverse Bay operation.

It could be the smog-free air. The fragrance of the pines. The cool, clear waters of the Traverse Bay. The excellent accommodations at the Park Place Motor Inn that adjoins the Cherry County Playhouse.

Whatever the reason, stars like Durward Kirby, Cesar Romero, Andy Devine, Edward Everett Horton, do go there — let's face it, year after year.

Old Wally had to discover for himself just what the magical attraction might be. The Cherry County Playhouse folks and Miss Bailey must have the key for successful summer theater operation.

TRAVERSE CITY is only a few miles off Interstate Highway 75. Interlochen, site of the National Music Camp, is situated right outside the city. Sleeping Bear State Park, replete with dune-motels and wonders of nature, completely surround the eye-filling area.

You can't go five miles in any direction and not see a hunk of beautiful scenery.

Cherry orchards top off the hills. Every year there is a Cherry Festival (July 8-11 this year) to celebrate the picking of the luscious fruit. When you order cherry pie in this part of the country, you don't have to count the number of cherries per slice. They spill out in profusion.

Traverse City is an ideal spot to locate a summer theater. Tourists make repeat visits to such a fine area. People from the Detroit and suburban areas have built summer homes up here. These folks would like to have the very best in entertainment after a hard day's work on the water skis or tugging on that fishing rod.

Miss Bailey, over the years, has provided such fine "live" theater for her summer visitors. For 10 years the Play-

The Playhouse is a small jewel set in a part of Michigan's scenic north country. It is perfectly that its beauty adds to the surrounding scenery rather than detracting.

The Cherry County Playhouse is listed in all the tourist brochures as one of the many scenic attractions in the Traverse Bay area. It well deserves such an accolade.

house fought the elements in a tent next to the Park Place Motor Inn. Four years ago it went "hard-top" and became a completely modern air-conditioned theater.

The Playhouse has 750 seats, the latest in lighting and sound equipment. Since it is theater-in-the-round, its intimate size insures every seat being a good one. There is never any difficulty hearing the actors.

Dionne Warwick Is Jazz Headliner

A few years ago the name of Dionne Warwick was unknown to the public. Then came her recording of "Don't Make Me Over" on the Scepter label, and now Dionne Warwick is internationally recognized as a unique and extremely gifted artist.

This August, the popular young vocalist will be one of many outstanding stars appearing in the annual "Schlitz Salute To Jazz '68" at Cobo Arena, Sunday, Aug. 4.

Other renowned jazz groups that will be heard in the 8 p.m. concert include the Dizzy Gillespie Quintet, the Cannonball Adderley Quintet, the Thelma Houston Quartet, the Herbie Mann Quintet, and the Gary Burton Quartet.

Dionne has studied music since the age of six, coming from a family of Gospel singers. She did a great deal of singing in choirs for different organizations. Then, to school in East Orange, N.J., and from there to the Hart College of Music of the University of Hartford, in Connecticut.

In time she became an accomplished singer and pianist playing and singing in church every Sunday. Her next step forward took Dionne to the recording studios in New York. Her unique song styles attracted two of the top song writers and record producers, Burt Bacharach and Hal David, who brought her to the attention of Scepter Records and what followed was "Don't Make Me Over," an internationally successful recording.

SUMMER THEATER'S FINEST is found in the 750-seat, air-conditioned Cherry County Playhouse in Traverse City, a resort town that nevertheless attracts top stars. In addition, children's plays are offered Friday mornings.

'Emergency Powers' Bill Dead Suburban Reps. Fail To Override

By TIM RICHARD
Suburban State representatives were beaten in their attempt to override Gov. Romney's veto of the so-called "Emergency Powers Bill."

With two-thirds (73 votes) of the total membership needed for an override, the suburbanites got only 60 votes in favor while 40 voted to uphold the veto.

It was a marked change from the original vote on the bill—92 to 12.

The bill didn't go to the Senate once it was defeated in the House.

PURPOSE OF the bill was to clearly give officials of cities, townships and counties a power that the governor already has—to declare states of civil emergency, impose curfews and stop sales of firearms.

Romney vetoed it largely on the ground that genuine emergencies almost always cover more than one community and should be declared only by a state official.

Voting to override were

Democrats Richard Young of Dearborn Heights, John Bennett of Redford, James Tierney of Garden City, Republican Raymond Baker of Farmington and Republican Louis Schmidt of Livonia.

Democrat Vincent Pettipren of Westland did not vote.

THE BILL SPLIT both parties seriously. "Of the 60 yes votes," said Tierney, "29 were from Republican legislators."

Tierney, a co-sponsor of the bill, said the failure to override was due to "a coalition of inner city legislators and those representatives who were susceptible to the governor's well-known arm-twisting techniques."

Delegate Wants Voters' Opinions

Michigan may not have a presidential preference primary, but it doesn't mean that national convention delegates will ignore the voters.

Take Mrs. Delores Kory, a Redford Republican who will be one of the 19th District delegates to the GOP National Convention opening Aug. 5 in Miami Beach.

She's inviting mail from the voters, both on candidates and platform ideas.

She's going down to the platform committee hearings next week and says her mail will be forwarded. Mrs. Kory points out that Gov. Romney has been invited to address the platform group and that the results of the mail could be incorporated into, or strengthen, Romney's remarks.

In a bitter attack on Romney, Tierney blamed the failure of the override movement on the governor's visit to the House chamber just prior to the vote.

"He came all the way from the National Governors Conference in Cincinnati just to tell us that he wanted to say good bye at this time, just before the recess, so the legislators can go home and campaign," Tierney said.

THE MICHIGAN delegation is pledged to Gov. George Romney as a favorite son until the time is ripe to move to another candidate.

SHE WAS AT a meeting of the Michigan GOP delegation 10 days ago when a private polling firm made its report showing that Richard Nixon and Nelson Rockefeller had approximately equal strength in this state.

She and other delegates felt the need for more facts, more feedback from the electorate.

Hence, her open invitation for letters.

In the Senate, Republican George Kuhn of West Bloomfield, whose district includes Farmington, Livonia and Plymouth, had waged the campaign to override, collecting communications from about 40 local governments in favor of the bill.

The Weather Produces A Concert-In-The-Round

There's theater-in-the-round, but whoever heard of a concert-in-the-round?

It worked out beautifully at Wednesday evening's second court concert in the Schoolcraft College Summer Music Festival as high humidity and the threat of bad weather forced the concert indoors.

skill and fine phrasing drew an audience response that was one of the best in the two seasons of Schoolcraft's summer series.

is full of "paradox, conundrums and spoof," to quote the program notes on Poulenc. The subject is the chaste, unhappy goddess Diana, and...

The concert was held in the cafeteria of the Waterman Campus Center building, with the audience surrounding Director Wayne Dunlap and the Court Orchestra and soloist on three sides.

Not to be overlooked, however, is the interaction between soloist and orchestra that Beethoven requires. There was hardly a muddy spot in the entire work. We understand that the orchestra this year has been able to rehearse more than in the first season, and results justify the extra effort.

Well, it will take awhile for Poulenc to grow on us, but he's getting there. Poulenc is being featured in each of the three concerts, and next Wednesday night's offering will be his "Gloria, for Soprano, Chorus and Orchestra," written in 1961.

THE REAL TEST came second on the program when pianist William Dopmann joined the orchestra for Beethoven's second piano concerto, a delightful foot-tapper.

DIRECTOR DUNLAP is as much an educator as conductor, and his interest extends not only to his students at Schoolcraft College but to the audience.

He is, in sum, a creative programmer who is always trying to upgrade his audience's tastes and expand its musical horizons. This he did in the second half of the concert with Francis Poulenc's "Aubade, Choreographic Concerto for Piano and 18 Instruments."

GUESTS FOR that occasion will be the Kenneth Jewell Chorale, a Michigan group operating with the support of the State Council for the Arts.

It will also offer Schubert's Mass No. 6, and the orchestra will perform Schubert's Overture to "Die Zaubernacht."

Dopmann, the acoustics of the small room and the relatively light and melodic concerto (for Beethoven) got along just fine.

The young pianist's technical

If the program sounds heavy for a person used to Tchaikovsky and Gershwin in the summertime, take a chance. The Schoolcraft Summer Music Festival is geared for people who like good music but are a bit inexperienced.

Parents Of Disturbed Child Experience Guilt

If a child is emotionally disturbed, whose fault can it be but the parents?

Only a parent would ask such a question. Psychologists and other professional people know better. In a world as complex and fast moving as this, there is no evidence that a child's anxieties spring straight from his upbringing.

"But there still is a stigma attached, and what happens," according to Mrs. John Powers, "is you begin chastising yourself unmercifully."

She remembers the first time she attended, "with great reluctance," a meeting of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children here three years ago. "Even then I had this feeling of 'how do I tell people who I am?'" she recalls. "The guilt is a tremendous hangup."

HER OLDEST son Mike, then about nine, had been placed in a special education class for in his words, "excessive swearing, fist fighting and generally causing trouble." "He had never been a problem academically," Mrs. Powers says. "He once told me learning was his hobby. But unlike my daughters, he never made an effort to please the teacher. He was always non-conforming."

Mike had been transferred to and from several schools because of the family's moves overseas and in the U.S. He seemed apprehensive, she recalls now, that teachers would not let him stay in the third grade when he transferred there.

Mrs. Powers has an advantage over many parents in that she can recognize such factors outside the home that may have caused Mike's disturbance. She is very sensitive to what other mothers go through.

"I was very surprised at other people's attitudes. During Christmas that year I had the eight children in Mike's class over. Everyone seemed to think I was doing something terribly brave. I had no trouble at all.

"But it was hard to get to know the other mothers. Even now, by the time they'll talk to me or attend an MAEDC meeting they've gone through the 'Where have I gone wrong feeling.'"

Mike, now 13, is a good looking and personable youngster who talks easily about his "crisis period." He began attending regular school half-time in the fifth grade, and skipping the sixth seemed to give him a new outlook. Or maybe it was just "growing older." He seems to be through with emotional disturbances, but his mother is not.

AN ENERGETIC woman and

"not one to keep my mouth shut," she became increasingly concerned that the MAEDC was missing its target. "Our main purpose, as I see it, is not to provide speakers for the interest of the students or professionals in Ann Arbor. They have their own organizations for this purpose. The parents and families with emotional disturbances should be uppermost planned for," she said in a letter to the association's executive secretary in Detroit.

The local MAEDC indicated support for her opinions by electing her this year's president. This fall, she hopes to implement some of the ideas she outlined earlier, such as a compilation of the kinds of help parents need and the types and quantity of services available within Washtenaw County.

"Above all," she says, "the parents should be left to feel they're running the show."

Mrs. Powers' predecessor in office, Probate and Juvenile Judge Francis L. O'Brien, shares her concern for educating parents and the public at large about the problems that exist so that the methods can be found for meeting it.

"I deal with the problem after it becomes a crisis," he says. The MAEDC recognizes that although "juvenile delinquency is a symptom and not an illness itself, careful clinical study usually uncovers emotional problems as the cause of delinquent behavior."

Area's Fishing Good

Fishing is generally good in mornings and evenings with the fine weather southeastern Michigan has had the last couple of weeks, according to the State Conservation Department district office in Pontiac.

Good bass catches were reported near the Pontiac Lake boat landing, the St. Clair River, Grass Lake and Graham Lake, along with various spots on Lake St. Clair.

Limit catches of trout from eight to 12 inches were taken on Cooley Lake on red worms and spinners. Good trout catches were also reported on Teepie Lake.

Kent, Crotched, Valley and Wildwood lakes produced nice bluegill catches.

"A few" walleyes were taken on the St. Clair River, off Huron Point, the mouth of the Middle Channel and Anchor Bay.

Perch were numerous but small in the St. Clair Flats area, near the mouth of the Clinton River and Huron Point.

New Homes Have Deeper Basements

Three amendments to Livonia's building code ordinance were acted on by the City Council, one of them raising the minimum heights of basements in new home construction from the present seven feet to seven feet six inches.

The latter was opposed by Councilman Peter Ventura who argued that current construction costs "already astronomically high" would only be increased by such legislation. But his move to table the bill was defeated by a 5-2 vote and was supported only by Councilman Rudolf Kleibert. During the ensuing debate, Councilman Edward Milligan was excused for the duration of the meeting and a later vote saw the amendment adopted by a 4-2 margin with Kleibert again voting with Ventura against it.

A second amendment concerning high standards of insulation between bedrooms and bathrooms in new construction was tabled in deference to the absent Milligan who is sponsor of the bill.

Another proposed building code ordinance amendment which would have required humidifiers on warm air furnaces failed in a 3-3 tie vote with Councilmen Robert E. McCann, Ventura and Kleibert casting dissenting votes.

Police Seek Clues In Murder Of Six In Family

PEOSKEY—The badly decomposed bodies of a suburban Detroit couple and their four children were found in an isolated cabin in northwest Lower Michigan.

Emmet County Sheriff's Department said all six had been shot to death.

The victims were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Robison of 18790 Delores, Lathrup Village; a seven-year-old daughter, Susan; and three sons, Richard, 19; Gary, 16; and Randall, 12.

The crime was discovered when a neighbor complained of a strong odor coming from the six-room rustic cottage in a wooded, shoreline area.

State Police crime lab experts estimated that the deaths occurred about a month ago. According to state police, the Robisons had been vacationing and were expected to travel to Florida. Therefore relatives were not alarmed when they did not hear from the family.

LANSING—Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, a Democrat, says there is no legal barrier to prevent two close associates of Gov. George Romney from running for elective offices while holding Romney appointments to state jobs.

STATE AND LOCAL ROUNDUP

Kelley cleared the way for Richard Millman, chairman of the State Civil Service Commission, to run for Ingham County supervisor. Kelley also said there is no reason why Robert Danhof, Romney's legal advisor, should have to resign to run for the court of appeals.

BENTON HARBOR—Heavy police patrols and a sudden thunder shower brought to an abrupt halt the fourth consecutive night of disorders in this city of 20,000.

The four nights of tension resulted in glass damage to eight downtown businesses, about 70 arrests, no serious injuries and no confirmed firebomb damage, although two blazes of unknown origin occurred during the disorder. There was no looting.

LANSING—Funnel clouds patrolled the skies in Michigan earlier this week amid thunder showers which swept the southern Lower Peninsula.

A tornado swooped down on a farm just west of Hillsdale destroying a barn and slamming a 2-by-4 board through a horse, killing the animal.

Funnel clouds were sighted aloft over Kalamazoo and in the vicinity of Union City on the border of Calhoun and Branch counties, the weather bureau said, but none apparently touched ground.

MASON—The Ingham County Board of Supervisors will discuss the Sunday sale of liquor at their next meeting Aug. 13, chairman Frank W. Perrin said. Ingham is one of several Michigan counties which have put off the vote until August.

LANSING—A 40-member bipartisan coalition has upheld

Gov. George Romney in the House, defeating an attempt to override the veto of a controversial bill giving emergency riot powers to local officials.

Backers of the bill, who claimed support from more than 50 cities and townships, mustered 60 votes to write it into law over Romney's objection—a majority of the 109-member House, but 13 votes short of the necessary two-thirds majority.

LANSING—Secretary of State James M. Hare has defended the political purge of two subordinates who had refused to support Hubert H. Humphrey for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

James F. McClure, Hare's deputy and No. 2 man in the Department of State, said earlier that Hare asked him to find other work because McClure is supporting Sen. Eugene McCarthy instead of Humphrey, Hare's choice.

In a statement dictated to his secretary from his home where he is recovering from a heart attack, Hare said:

"The office of secretary of state is both elective and partisan. Being partisan, we are in the business of politics. And to this end, it is vitally important to have persons in the non-classified, political positions 'going down the same path' and supporting the same candidate."

LANSING—Gov. George Romney has asked the Michigan Commission on Crime, Delinquency and Criminal Administration to study the need for new and revised firearms control in Michigan.

Romney called for a "thorough, intensive and comprehensive reexamination of existing and possible new firearms legislation."

Romney said he recently received a report from the State Police indicating that Michigan firearms laws are in need of general revision.

GRAND HAVEN—Six young Michigan residents—including the son of a circuit court judge—have been arraigned in Justice Court as a result of a drug raid.

Four persons were held in lieu of $10,000 bond each after an arraignment on charges of selling LSD. All demanded examination.

Two others pleaded guilty in Grand Haven Township Justice Court to charges of frequenting a place of illegal business.

Harlin Piercy, 24, son of Muskegon County Circuit Court Judge John H. Piercy, was one of four charged with selling a dangerous drug.

DETROIT—Johannes F. Spreen has officially replaced Ray Girardin as the police commissioner of Detroit.

"The man that really does the job is the man on the street," said Spreen, talking of community-police relations shortly after he was sworn in by City Clerk Thomas Leadbetter.

LANSING—A pair of state plans, one to help ease community problems of poverty and discrimination and the other to establish a state-wide system of upgrading teachers now in the classroom, have been approved by the State Board of Education.

For focusing more sharply on police-community relations, poverty and civil rights attitudes, the board is asking that $303,000, in federal money to be available for the 1968-69 year, to be matched with $303,000 in state funds.

Michigan colleges and universities would provide the education programs within local communities and through the "fiftieths" extension and continuing education programs.

Board Backs County Tax

The Greater Detroit Board of Commerce has joined labor and metropolitan area church groups in supporting Wayne County Proposition No. 1, which will be on the Aug. 6 primary election ballot.

Proposition 1 would continue present support of county operating services for five more years with a one-mill property levy which, according to county officials, costs the average homeowner 50 cents a month. The board of directors of the Board of Commerce, meeting June 18, adopted a resolution endorsing the one-mill levy.

County Proposition No. 1 has also been endorsed by the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches.

The Board of Commerce states in part: "This proposed millage is not a tax increase, but only the continuation of income which has been in effect for five years to support services which at best are minimal."

Revenue from the one mill helps support juvenile court and the rest of the court system in Detroit and Wayne County; Wayne County General Hospital, care and training of retarded and emotionally disturbed children and adults, foster home care for neglected children and orphans, law enforcement activities of the sheriff and prosecuting attorney, library services for the blind and 4,400 acres of parks.
