FARMINGTON — The schools and the city bumped heads this week over the placement of six portable classrooms at Farmington Senior High. The city's board of zoning appeals ordered the district to move the classrooms to a location behind the existing building. The school district, which estimates the cost of moving the classrooms at $7,000, has requested a new hearing before the Board of Zoning Appeals. The meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 28.

FARMINGTON — As a Farmington teen center closes its doors for the summer program the director Lynn Boutwell said that the program "has far surpassed our expectations." The YMCA-sponsored program was funded by the United Community Service, the City of Farmington, and the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity. Hopes are to raise the funds to operate the program next summer.

REDFORD — While their union representatives fight the township for more money via fact finding, 35 male employees of the public services departments are fighting by refusing to be associated with township officials.

LIVONIA — Two Detroit youths are dead and one reported in poor condition at St. Mary Hospital after being overcome by poisonous fumes in the Kpacz Painting Co., 12225 Merriam Road. The trio had gone there to paint a motorcycle helmet at night and were found next morning by the shop foreman as he arrived for work.

LIVONIA — Livonia Board of Education and the Livonia Education Association are reported in agreement on a new contract for the coming school year. Unconfirmed reports revealed that beginning teachers will receive $6,900 per year. Approval of both groups is expected in a few days.

LIVONIA — Strong objections by Councilmen Jerry Raymond and Peter A. Ventura failed to deter the City Council from establishing the new position of engineer V and awarding across-the-board pay raises to all levels of the city engineering department. The two argued that establishment of the new classification was the issue, not the blanket pay increases.

Democrats In Chicago—And You Are There

Publisher Philip H. Power and Editor Don Hoenshell are in Chicago this week to send back to Observer Newspaper readers their first-hand accounts of the Democratic National Convention.

They will cast their coverage in terms of the readers here — what their delegates are doing, what is the party planning for the suburbs, what the Michigan delegation is doing.

The first of their articles will appear in the Wednesday editions.

Kellogg Park Face-Lifting Given Go-Ahead

Beautification and conversion of Kellogg Park into a traditional "village green," replete with new pool, fountain, walkways and shade trees, has been given an immediate go-ahead by Plymouth city officials and considerable progress is expected to be made this autumn.

First improvement visible to the public likely will be the centrally located pool and fountain which will be the focal point of the refurbished downtown area.

This, like other phases of the overall project, will be financed publicly, rather than from municipal tax funds, and in this case it is the Rotary Club which has undertaken sponsorship.

As proposed by landscape consultant Harry Porter of Ann Arbor, the pool will be of shallow depth, surrounded by a circular concrete shell. At its hub will be a water jet, and the installation of lights will add to the beauty of the fountain when darkness falls.

Mrs. Edwin A. Schrader, civic chairman of the Plymouth Garden Club, is in charge of that organization's efforts to solicit funds from organizations, business firms and individuals to accomplish other beautification plans.

Loren (Bud) Gould heads the Rotary Club's committee concerning the plans for the pool and fountain.

Included in the plans will be gracious brick walkways, benches of wood and concrete for personal repose, plantings of new shrubs and the adding of new trees around the perimeter of the park. Relocation of "Plymouth Rock" to another site within the park also is scheduled.

Spokesmen assert that a major start on the undertaking can be gained this fall, but concede that some efforts will continue into the spring and summer of 1969.

Such contemplated corollary downtown improvements as the planting of sidewalk trees opposite the park on the west side of Main St. and the south side of Ann Arbor Trail still are being held in abeyance until interior park development takes shape.

Two steps by municipal government entities have given the park project its needed push.

On Aug. 14, the City Planning Commission reviewed the park beautification plan with Porter and gave its endorsement. This week the City Commission also approved the plans "in principle" as a general guide for development, and instructed the planning commission to serve as the coordinating body for specific features.

Porter terms his own concept of the suggested park design one of "simplicity and elegance."

"The design and development objectives are the result of careful study and evaluation of the existing park conditions, the character of the downtown Plymouth area — both old and new — and the aspirations of the residents of Plymouth," he said.

"The design responds to the unique potentials of the site and aims of the city to reinforce the special qualities of the downtown area."

Teacher Contract Still Unsettled

Fights Zoning Ruling

The Plymouth Township Planning Commission has been challenged to determine if a former vote was proper.

Stewart Oldford & Sons Inc., local real estate development firm, Wednesday night claimed that a denial by the commission of its rezoning request at the July 17 meeting was not a decision according to the body's published rules and procedure, Section 4.02.

That section states, "A simple majority (five members) of the membership of the commission, shall constitute a quorum and the number of votes necessary to transact business shall be a majority of the membership of the commission present at such meeting."

The full commission (eight members) was present at the July meeting and five votes would have constituted a majority decision one way or the other. Oldford had been denied his request by a 4 to 3 vote with one commissioner abstaining.

He said this was not a majority vote according to section 4.02 and he wanted the measure voted upon once again.

At the time the vote was cast last July, Ralph Cole, township attorney, said, "A majority of those voting would carry if a quorum was present." He added that this was an off-the-cuff opinion given on the spot.

Cole said Wednesday night, "That vote was not a majority of those present but it was a majority of those who voted. There is a bit of a conflict there because the rules say it should be a majority of those present."

"All I'm asking for is a vote," Oldford commented.

Commissioner Maurice Breen said the matter should be referred for an opinion to the township attorney because this kind of a vote had occurred before but it had never been challenged.

Oldford has been attempting to have 92 acres of land on Ann Arbor Rd. west of Beck Rd., known as Plymouth Colony Farms, rezoned from R-1-E (residential one acre) to R-1-H (residential half acre).

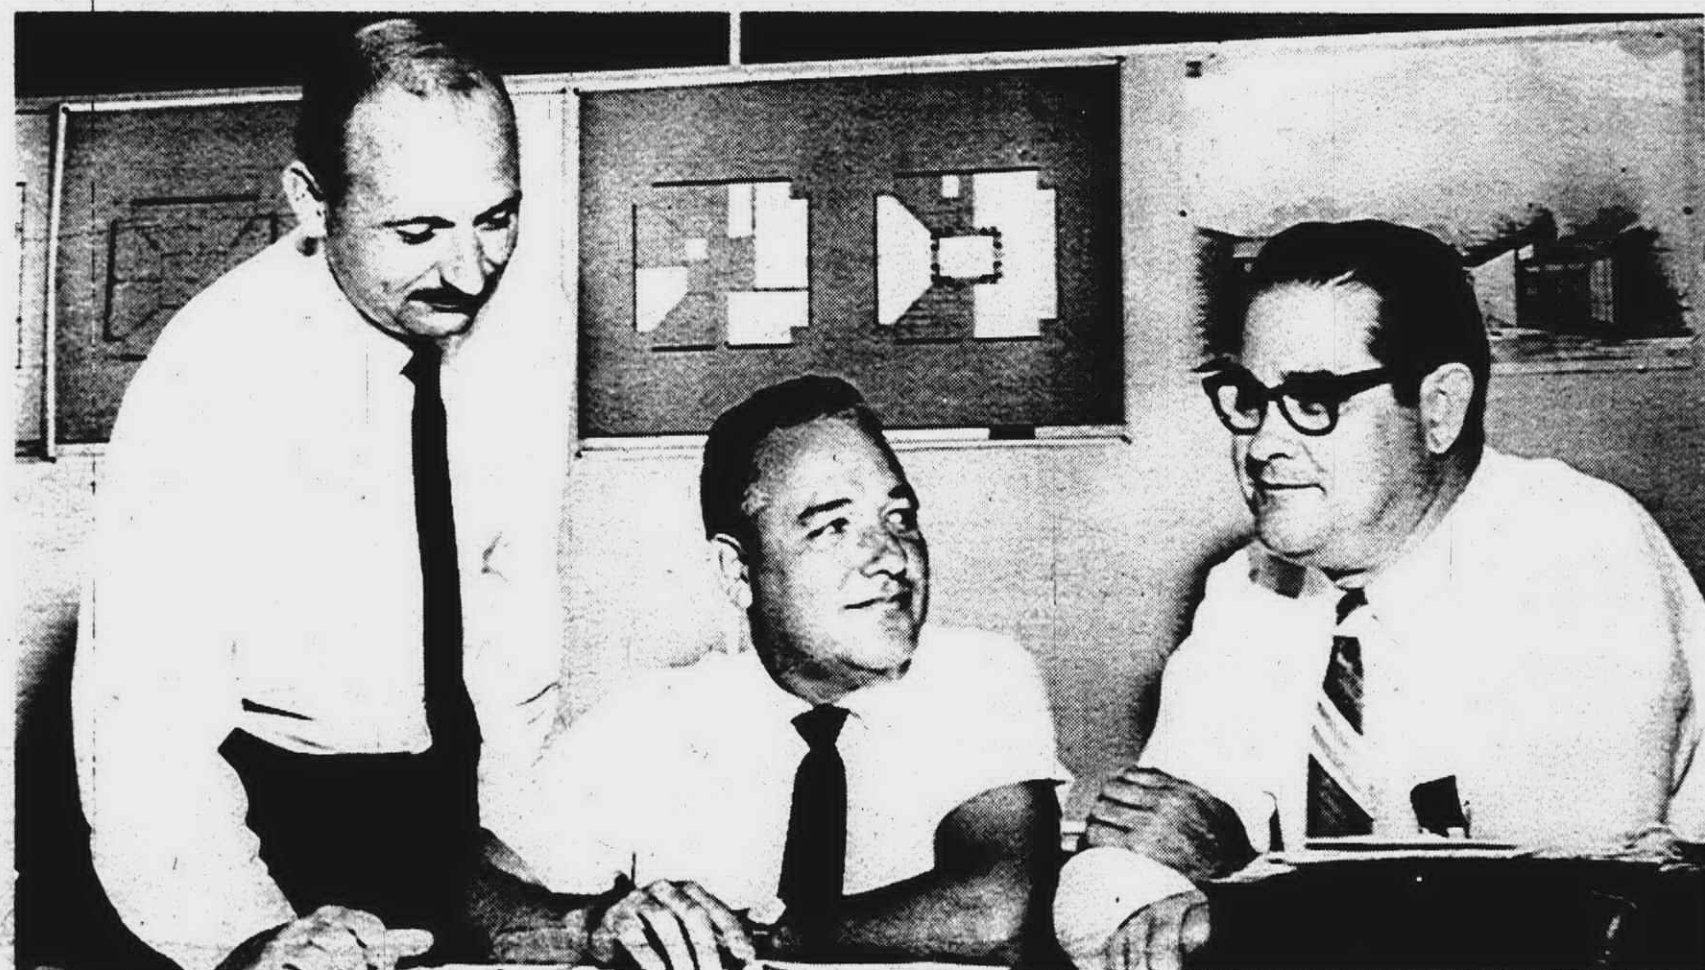

He maintains that if the parcel is left zoned one acre it would be "uneconomical" for him to develop it as single family housing only.

With the zoning change, he plans to build homes and apartment units on the site "because the land can be developed with both but not with just one kind of housing," he said.

The planning commission was opposed to the rezoning because of the apartment buildings. They have stated their feelings against having any more apartments in the township.

After discussion by the commissioners had continued for more than 45 minutes, Breen moved that the matter be referred to the township attorney. It was seconded by Commissioner Smith Horton.

By a unanimous vote, Cole was instructed to render his legal opinion and submit it to the next regular planning commission meeting in September.

KEY NEGOTIATORS — These three men are the main figures in Plymouth School District teacher contract talks, which will resume Tuesday. Huddling prior to their latest marathon session

City Water Report Due Monday Night

The long-awaited report on the City of Plymouth's water situation will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 26, following an engineering study that was originated by the City Commission at least a year ago.

Residents are invited to attend the special commission session in City Hall at which the report will be read.

However, municipal administration sources predict that the commission will do nothing further than "accept" the report and refer it to committee for further study and recommendation.

City officials have had copies of the report for several days, but have been reluctant to discuss its details.

It is known, however, that it delves into the question of how economical it is for Plymouth to maintain its own water supply system, what it would cost to tie into the Detroit water flow, and whether municipal water control could continue with certain improvements in the local system.

The city's water system long has been a source of agitation in Plymouth, particularly since Plymouth Township linked with the Detroit metropolitan water network serving nearly 70 communities in the early '60's.

Fire Hydrants To Be Flushed

Kenneth Vogras, Plymouth Public Works Director, has announced that the flushing of all municipal fire hydrants will be started Wednesday, Aug. 28. Hydrants will be flushed during the period between 10 p.m. and 1 a.m., he said.

The step is necessary because of a new chemical being put into the water system, according to Vogras. The starting point will be in the southwest section of the city.

Festival Interest Soaring

With the 13th Annual Fall Festival only two weeks away, General Chairman Robert Utter and his committee freely predict it will be the biggest and best in history.

There is one slight proviso—provided Mr. Weatherman continues to give the four-day event—Sept. 5-8—his blessing as he has practically since the initial event.

Utter places his prediction on the fact that there is more interest generated already in the 1968 Festival than any in recent years.

The entertainment committee, headed by William Fehlig, added a bit of zest to the already full menu of tidbits with the announcement that Bimbo's famed Gaslighters band, from Ann Arbor, will perform Saturday. Continued on Page 2A

Resume Talks Tuesday

Negotiators for a new Plymouth School District teachers' contract are inching their way near settlement but little actual progress has been made, both sides reported after their 11-hour bargaining session Wednesday.

Earl Gibson, assistant superintendent for elementary education and member of the school administration team, said, "Nothing of any major importance came out of the marathon session."

"We're pretty optimistic at this point and I honestly and truly believe we will settle the dispute next Tuesday," he added.

The negotiators are scheduled to meet at the school board offices at 1 p.m. Tuesday (Aug. 27).

Ray Homer, spokesman for the Plymouth Education Association (PEA), said, "Our positions are relatively the same as before. There hasn't been any significant change."

Last Wednesday's session began at 10 a.m. and was called off at 9 p.m. by State Labor Mediator Walter H. Quillico because "I felt they had gone as far as they could have after bargaining all day."

He said the main contentions remain class size, economics, a binding arbitration clause in the new contract and an agency shop clause.

"I have hope yet that some of the problems can be worked out. Next Tuesday, we will go as long as I think some progress is being made."

"Both parties have worked very hard and both have shown an effort to resolve their problems," Quillico said.

He said there is always the possibility of a strike by the teachers but a "little hard work can reach an agreement."

Quillico said he instructed both parties "to do their homework" and look for room for compromise in their positions.

Gibson said the board team is negotiating from the position of maintaining a balanced budget.

"We can't give beyond our ability to pay," he said.

Next year's budget is about $6 million, he said, and out of this come the salaries of the district's other non-certified (custodial, etc.) personnel.

Homer said a new money proposal was offered by both sides at the Wednesday meeting.

The PEA proposed a salary schedule of $7,400 to $12,000 for A.B. degrees and $7,900 to $13,300 for masters degree holders.

The school board team, he said, offered $6,800 to $10,800 for A.B. degrees and $7,300 to $12,000 for masters degrees.

Besides the new salary proposals, Homer said, "No significant progress has been made—actually no progress at all."

"We offered quite a few proposals that would offer a compromise but the board didn't respond to any horse-trading," he said.

"We're trying but the outlook is indeed grim. We are going to make every effort in our power to reach an agreement and we intend to be flexible in our position," Homer said.

JOHNNY TUNES UP — The traditional bugler of Plymouth's annual Fall Festival sounds the call for the 1968 frolic, set for Sept. 5-8. Johnny says he's hoping to "sit in" with Bimbo's Gaslighters band from Ann Arbor when the combo entertains at Kellogg Park.

Utter Predicts 'Best' Festival

evening from the portable bandstand in Kellogg Park.

Fehlig and his committee have been trying to book the band for several weeks but didn't receive an affirmative answer until early in the week.

BIMBO'S band, which specializes in old-time numbers and also presents an unusual stage show in which it asks the audience to join in the singing, has gained considerable fame in the past few years.

The Festival Committee is stressing the turn of the century costume contest for which prizes will be awarded in several classes.

The contest has been one of the features of the Sunday program for several years but this time Utter and his associates hope to have entries from all of the surrounding communities.

Leaders of the industrial, business and professional groups in the community have contributed $1,355 towards the expenses of staging the big event.

THE PROGRAM will follow the lines of past years, opening on Thursday, Sept. 5 with the old-fashioned German dinner of sauerkraut and knackwurst sponsored by the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club.

The Lions Club will hold an ice cream social on Friday, starting at 5:30 p.m. with suitable entertainment from the stage of the portable bandstand.

The Kiwanis Club will do its best to better the total of 1,200 diners on Saturday, Sept. 7 with its traditional pancake festival starting at 7 a.m. and continuing through 7 p.m. Saturday morning will find the Recreation Department and the Optimist Club sponsoring the annual pet show which attracts as many as 200 youngsters with pets of all types and descriptions.

The Jaycees will have a barbecue rib dinner Saturday evening.

WHILE ALL this is going on, the Plymouth Symphony League will sponsor its annual Antique Mart starting Friday in the Community and Grange buildings. Last year the Mart attracted record crowds and the committees in charge are looking for even a larger turnout this time.

Then comes the granddaddy of the Festival—the Rotary Club chicken barbecue on Sunday beginning at noon and continuing until 6 p.m. The Rotarians, who started the big event 13 years ago, have ambitions of serving dinners to more than 13,500 in the six hours—and from the manner in which they operate, they'll make their goal.

School Details All Set

Despite the stalemate in contract talks with representatives of the teaching force, administrators of the Plymouth School District have completed detailed plans for the arrival of nearly 9,000 students for the opening of classes Sept. 5.

It will be the largest enrollment in the history of the 56-square-mile district which, besides Plymouth and Plymouth Township, overlaps into Canton, Northville and Salem Townships.

Superintendent James Rossman and his aides met with principals of all schools Tuesday to provide a final briefing on day-to-day operational details.

"All school offices are open and parents new to the district are urged to enroll their children before the scheduled opening of classes to permit proper planning for them," said Rossman.

HIGH SCHOOL students will be able to purchase their texts and supplies the week of Aug. 26 at the high school bookstore, which will be open from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. all week.

Ninth grade students will be able to purchase their supplies the day school opens, while children in lower grades will have their text books furnished free by the district.

Rossman said teachers will report Tuesday morning, Sept. 3 at Junior High East for pre-school conferences that will extend through the following day, assuming a new master agreement with the Plymouth Education Association has been worked out by that time.

Plymouth Senior High School, he explained, will house 10th, 11th and 12th grade youths from the entire district.

Some will report at 8 a.m. while others will begin classes at 9 a.m.

"To meet the emergency situation of an enrollment estimated to exceed 1,800 students, five additional, portable classrooms have been moved to the high school site from Starkweather and Junior High West," he said.

JUNIOR HIGH EAST will house ninth grade students from the entire district and some eighth grade students.

Junior High West will be on double sessions due to the delay in opening of Pioneer Middle School.

Sixth, seventh and eighth graders regularly assigned to West will attend from 8 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. and sixth, seventh and eighth graders who normally would attend Pioneer will go to classes at West from 12:40 p.m. to 5 p.m. Full-day sessions will resume when Pioneer opens.

"The double-session day provides about 75 per cent of a normal school day. All class periods will be 40 minutes in length instead of 48 minutes as usual," said Rossman.

"Study halls have been eliminated. School will remain in continuous operation with teachers in-service education meetings and parent-teacher conferences held outside the scheduled class period without closing school."

Since the Isbister Elementary School is expected to be completed in early November, the kindergarten through third grade children assigned to Isbister will be housed temporarily at Fiegel School and fourth and fifth grades at Gallimore School.

The Stroller...

Along about this time every year The Stroller is stricken with the strangest malady. It is a combination of hallucinations and a tickling and thumping of the palate brought on by the memory of the old fashioned clam bakes in the foothills of the Pennsylvania Dutch Country.

When these attacks strike, all sorts of weird sights come flashing through the mind and The Stroller can see again the old farm on the edge of town that often was the setting for one of these gourmet extravaganzas. Or, into view again, comes the sight of the meadow along the creek in Sand Spring Park where the clam bake was held in such esteem that the annual date was celebrated the same as a national holiday.

Unless you've been fortunate enough to have attended one of these old fashioned bakes you don't know what eating really is.

Sure, they have what they call clam bakes today. But they are far from the original. In truth, the majority of clam bakes as we know them today are very poor imitations. In the first place they are not clam bakes, but what should be called clam steams for they are prepared in large cans with well fitted baskets that are only large enough to hold one portion, or meal. The clams are not baked. They are steamed. And the chicken and fish that go with the clams tastes like some washed out left-overs from a neighborhood restaurant.

NOW THERE WAS A TREAT

But the old clam bake. Now, there was a treat and for the benefit of the younger generation The Stroller will take you on a nostalgic trip to one of the eating marathons.

Years ago, before things became so automated and up-dated, we used to set the date well in advance. And with each passing day the desire became greater. Then, on the given day, tensions mounted, excitement grew and there were strict rituals to follow.

First, we'd leave early in the morning for the scene of the festivities. And with us would go generous amounts of kindling wood, charcoal and a large number of burlap bags, along with the food.

Once at the scene we'd gather in a circle and toss a coin, much like the ceremony before a major college football game, to determine who would be on the team to dig the hole. The size of the hole depended upon the number of folks attending the bake. Most often, the hole was about six feet deep.

Into the hole would go the charcoal and the kindling wood. When the hole was filled we'd place a large piece of sheet metal over it as a cover. And this was the stove on which the bake was to be prepared.

Setting the bake was a ritual, too, for you had to know just which foods went first. Usually, the food was piled on top of the sheet metal in this order — a layer of Irish potatoes, then a layer of chicken done up in tiny mesh bags, to be followed by a layer of sweet potatoes, then a layer of nice ears of golden bantam corn and this was topped off with a layer of cherry stone clams and a final layer of fish in the net bags.

FOOD PILED SIX FEET HIGH

These layers were repeated until the pile of food reached as high as five and six feet when the big plants staged the bake for the employees or when the service clubs sponsored the day.

When the piles were high enough, they were covered with dripping wet burlap bags and the fire was lighted under the sheet metal plate. The bake was now on its way. But this was just the start.

It usually was about 10 o'clock in the morning when the fires were lighted and the bake required about five to six hours. So, in the interim came the fun and the exercise to develop your appetite. There were the usual picnic games that was topped off with the traditional baseball contest. Meanwhile, there were card games all over the place to occupy one's time until the call came that the bake was ready.

You've never seen anything like this in your wildest dreams unless you've been there in person.

With the call "Bake's ready," everyone raced for a seat at the long picnic tables. There, for a place setting, was a paper plate on which was a solid one pound oblong of butter (mostly home made right from the farm) and the usual working tools, a knife, fork and spoon, and the other things you find on a table at meal time.

Soon as you were seated you were served your meal — in a bucket. There was nothing dainty about it. You had a bucket the size of the ordinary water pail and in that you'd find an Irish potato, a sweet potato, a piece of chicken, a piece of fish and about a dozen clams, along with two cobs of corn.

VETERANS GIVE SELVES AWAY

You always could tell the veteran clam bake addicts. They didn't spread butter on the corn. Instead they rolled the corn on the pound of butter.

You've never eaten until you've eaten at an old fashioned clam bake in the foothills of the Pennsylvania Dutch Country.

There goes that palate again. It's throbbing and tickling and The Stroller is starting to have hallucinations.

The sight of these old fashioned bakes is coming into view again and he'd better get going.

Plymouth's Most Prized Assets Aren't Found In The City's Statistical Table

You won't find them listed in any table of statistics — not even those furnished by the Chamber of Commerce — but Plymouth is gifted with assets that are the envy of all surrounding communities.

These are the human assets — those determined souls with pride in their community. It is a pride born so deep that they will go to almost any length to accomplish the goal of keeping Plymouth and the surrounding area the focal point of western Wayne County.

These assets are the people who come to the front when help is needed to put a worthwhile project over the top, to give it the push to make it a success when even the city government stands by in a rather pathetic attitude.

There are few, if any, cities in the country that can match this spirit.

In fact, so great is the determination of these humans, and their organizations that they have spoiled such governing bodies as the City Commission.

IT HAS gotten to the point that when some worthwhile project or cause is mentioned in the government halls the first reaction to the city officials is, "Which of the groups can we get to do it?"

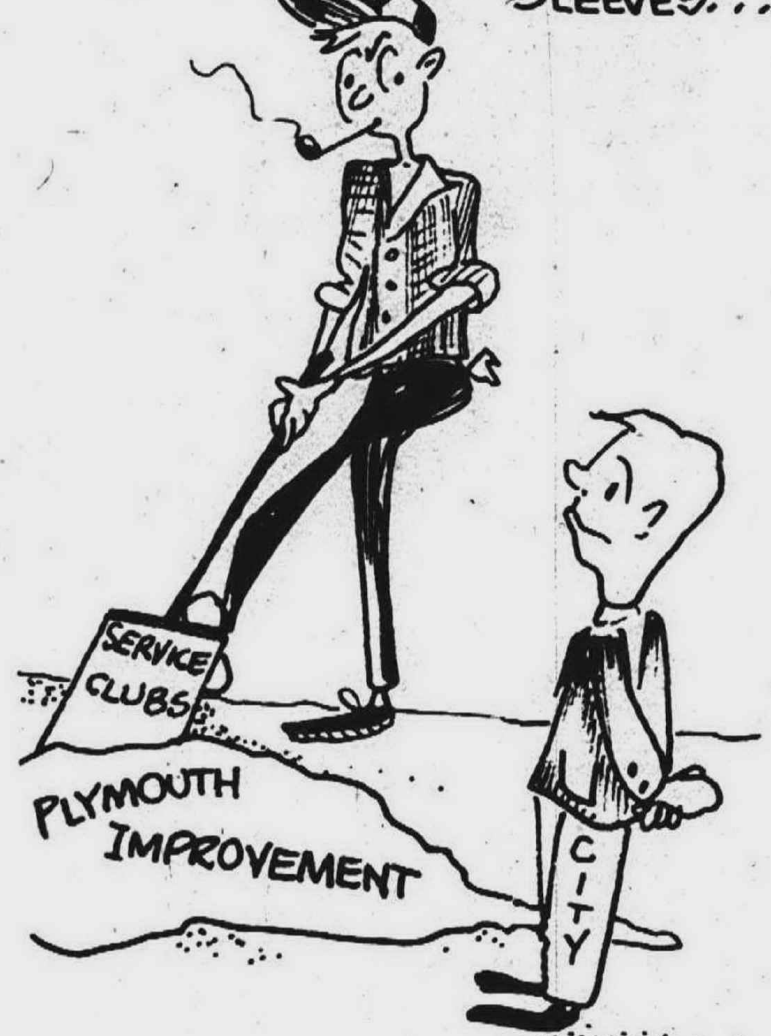

In other cities, the government officials are the first to get on the bandwagon for a worthy, or popular project and steal most of the thunder — and the glory. But not in Plymouth.

Go back over the years and you'll have a difficult time recalling a n y event that was solely offered and projected to a conclusion by the City Commission or any other governmental unit.

Such an important event as the Centennial a year ago was turned over to individual groups and the government officials just went along. True, the Mayor did appoint the Centennial Committee, and gave it an official flavor. But none of the Commissioners were in the forefront when the work was being done.

They were onlookers when the famed "bit of rock" from the dock in Plymouth, England, was presented to the City and they turned ed over the task of displaying it properly to outsiders. The only touch of government is the fact that the living mayors shared in the cost as their part of a great donation to the City.

LOOK AROUND and you'll see others. The gas lights that lend charm to Kellogg Park are there because the Women's Garden Club and other women's groups would not be denied. They raised the money for the lights, fought to have the plans approved, and finally had to argue to get them installed.

Only recently, after years of arguing, plans have been approved for the beautifying of Kellogg Park. But again it was the women's groups that turned the trick. They had gone so far as to obtain their own planner and have plans drawn before the city finally stepped in and arranged for the finished product — though when it will be finished is anyone's guess.

When it is finished the colorful fountain in the center will be the gift of the Rotary Club. And one has only to look at the Fall Festival that annually draws close to 15,000 persons to the city.

The festival is not the work of the city government. It is the combined efforts of the service clubs that work long and hard to make it a success.

Only recently, the Kiwanis Club stepped forth with a plan to provide the city with a fireproof historical museum. This is a much needed facility — and it will require a lot of work before the goal is reached. But there is a dedicated group — some of the Plymouth assets — working on the project and there is better than an even chance of success.

THERE ARE a lot of other things. The Independence Day parade is the work of the Plymouth Jaycees. So is the annual cleaning of the branch of the Rouge River and the establishment of a youth center.

And if plans are taken to a successful conclusion Plymouth will have a Christmas Tree lighting ceremony to usher in the holiday season. In other years, even Christmas was taken for granted.

Another asset is the fact that Plymouth conducts its own Community Fund Drive. It dares to stand alone to care for its own.

It is the only area in the metropolitan district that has shown that much gumption.

One could go on and on and on. But it would all add up to only one thing — Plymouth has some invaluable assets even though they are not listed in the city's promotional statistics.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR:

There is something you should know.

Having lived our preparatory years in a bustling, boisterous industrial city, and with the havoc of World War II weighing heavily in our hearts, we set out to find a place at least twenty miles from a possible future holocaust.

Thus it was that on a bright warm Sunday afternoon in June, while driving through the Rouge Park system, we traveled down a red brick road leading into a most picturesque town.

Plymouth was laced with lazy lakes, ponds and streams, polka-dotted with hills and gulleys. It was hemmed in by tating train tracks. There were a variety of stores, shows, schools and churches of concrete and glass. People came from miles around for the mineral-laden tangy water of health, if not of eternal youth.

Venturing further, just three blocks behind city hall, down a winding dirt road, we came to a veritable paradise. On a corner, nestling in the shade of three tall box elder trees, surrounded by blue irises, rambling roses, phlox, and lilac bushes, was a tiny four-room cottage. It was love at second sight! With an eye to future expansion, intrigued by the placid surroundings, we would take a chance on destiny.

We put forth our roots! We grew and prospered. First there were two, then there were nine! The little grey house became obscured with two ranch-like additions. The refurbished walls literally reverberated with sound and confusion. And my second love, this town, progressed too.

Gone is the red brick road, gone are the interurban car tracks. With government funds we paved the main arteries. Now smooth tar and concrete ribbons swirl you through several sight — satiating subdivisions. Till just a few blocks into the center of town you come to our palatial colonial city hall and library. Our downtown stores are getting a face lifting too. Expensive jewelry shops, exquisite clothiers, excellent gift and book stores cater to the haughty clientele. Gone too is the homey hospital where number one son fitfully flailed.

With urban renewal, old homes have been demolished, trees uprooted and terrain leveled. (But where can the displaced persons go? To hell, Michigan that is! For they have been rezoned out of existence!) No low income housing here! Urban renewal, to flirt with industry and commerce began a survey two years ago to determine the quality and quantity of water and air pollution. From our "Ponce-de-Leon" fountains of health have spewed ugly yellow splashes on fresh laundry. The ponds and streams were polluted long ago. (We had to take babies bathing in man made pools, get a water softener, the contributors of many a migraine). Yes, the naive gilded-lily winks at big business, but they are wise old swains, not easily fooled. They made their own surveys and located elsewhere, near good water, plumbing, garbage and trash disposal systems. (Livonla and Detroit environs).

Refuse is picked up and hauled to one of the two city dumps once a week, a matter of considerable cost to big business. (Even though there is a ban on trash burning, there is none on backyard barbecuing).

According to the present "land-fill" program it should take at least an additional two years before we can even think of another solution. And then only if several of our neighboring townships join with us, to purchase an incinerator. (But don't hold your breath while passing putrid pestholes. For we do not have good rapport).

We have wonderful family and inter-racial councils, though. But if you really need help, you have to go to Livonia, Wayne or Detroit. Try that some time without any public transportation. And you can keep your paradises with persuasive personages (Soapy, Swainson, Romney all came but the Lord Mayor of Plymouth, Eng. sent his regrets along with an authentic Plymouth rock. Whoopee!

You can keep your palatial palaces which placate perverted palates (not mine). Just give me the supportive bread of life! (water, sewage, and modest housing).

You can keep your debate. Give me a chance to relate! You see this town has a very visual body, but the heart, lungs and veins are breaking down. We need transplants and transfusions. Now! For this is a twentieth century town stagnating in a welter of seventeenth century thinking. (In the aforementioned areas).

Sawusch Promoted By Anchor

Edward M. Sawusch, Plymouth branch manager of Anchor Coupling Co., Inc., has been appointed vice-president of the firm's automotive division headquartered here, it was announced this week by President Don F. Stranberg.

EDWARD M. SAWUSCH

Sawusch joined Anchor's engineering staff at the main plant at Libertyville, Ill. in 1951, then was transferred to Plymouth the following year. He was named Plymouth branch manager in 1959 and also serves as president of Anchor Coupling Canada, Ltd.

A former member of the U.S. Marine Corps, Sawusch attended Lake Forest College and Northwestern University. He and his wife, Mary Ellen, have two children, Sue Ellen, 16, and Candice, 11.

During his 16 years in Plymouth, Sawusch has been active in numerous civic affairs, holding directorships in the Community Fund, Rotary Foundation and the Plymouth Community Industrial Development Corp.

Speeding Citations Multiply

It has become increasingly more difficult to speed through Plymouth this year.

Loren Johnson, acting city police chief, said this is due to stepped-up traffic enforcement over last year.

At the end of July, 1968, 616 speeding tickets had been issued for the year compared to 241 for the same period last year.

Stop street and red light violations were liberally distributed this year for the same time span—210 as opposed to 76 in 1967.

Johnson explained more speeders are being ticketed this year because of the use of more radar, plus the police department has been receiving more citizen complaints.

These factors, he added, also caused the other two violations to increase in numbers.

Another type of traffic ticket however, decreased over last year's total at the end of July. Prohibited parking tickets (according to Ordinance 313, cars cannot be parked on city streets after dark without special permit) fell from 1,272 instances by the end of July, 1967 to 691 so far this year.

Johnson said the decrease was due primarily to the unusually high number of violations issued last year in a drive to make residents aware of the night-parking restrictions.

The sharp decrease in one kind of ticket offset the sharp increase in other types which left the grand totals for both years (1967 and 1968) about even.

Total number of traffic tickets issued by the end of July, 1968 was 2,755 compared to 2,751 for the same time last year.

These totals included violations issued for reckless driving, drunk driving, speeding, stop street and red light, prohibited parking, overtime parking, miscellaneous tickets and dog tickets.

Northville Set For Sessions On Unification

Two special public meetings have been scheduled at Northville for residents to hear explanation of the governmental unification feasibility study, first of which will be held Monday, Aug. 26.

This session in city hall will be keyed to city residents, while a second meeting in the same building Tuesday, Sept. 10 is earmarked for attention of township dwellers. Both meetings are set for 8 p.m.

Discussions of the study report will be led by the members of the joint city-township steering committee. It also is anticipated that governmental analyst Don Oakes of Grand Rapids, who conducted the survey, will be present at both gatherings.

The meeting was called to order at 8:00 p.m. by the Supervisor. All members were present.

Mrs. Holmes moved that the minutes of the meeting of July 9, 1968 be approved as submitted. Seconded by Mr. Overholt and carried unanimously. Mr. Ash moved that the minutes of the Special meeting of July 23, 1968 be approved as submitted. Seconded by Mr. Norman and Mr. Overholt. The motion carried. Mr. Norman and Mrs. Holmes abstained from voting due to their absence from this meeting.

Following a review of the list of bills, Mr. Norman moved that the bills as submitted, in the Grand Total of $45,215.47 be paid. Seconded by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously.

Opening of bids for Mobile Radio and Local Control. At 8:10 p.m., Mrs. Holmes moved that the bids on the Mobile Radio and local control be closed. Seconded by Mr. Garber and carried unanimously. Mrs. Richardson advised the Board that only one bid had been received, that being from Motorola Communication Electronics, Inc. She read the bid and its installation: Total cost of Mobile Radio, Desk Set and installation—$1,020.00. Mr. Norman moved that the Board table this matter until Mr. Garber's return from his vacation, at which time it should be referred to him for his study and recommendation to the Board. Seconded by Mrs. Holmes and carried unanimously.

Old Business. Recommendation of Liquor Control Ordinance. A communication was received from Mr. Albright dated August 8, 1968, in regard to the implementation of the Liquor Control Ordinance, that being its procedural and operation policies, the appointment of the Special deputy as administrator of the Ordinance, and authority by the Board to inaugurate said items. Also a communication dated August 12, 1968, was received from Mr. John D. McEwen, Supervisor, in regard to the recently adopted Liquor Control Ordinance, and in which he recommended the following:

1. The appointment of Paul J. Albright as administrator of the ordinance and requesting authority to secure a gas special deputy appointment for Mr. Albright to fulfill his duties.
2. The appointment of Mr. Donald King, Township Constable, as Liquor Inspector.

Following a short discussion, Mrs. Richardson moved that the Board concur in Mr. McEwen's recommendation. Seconded by Mr. Overholt and carried unanimously.

NEW BUSINESS

Wayne County Planning Commission 7-3-68—Re: Rezone property on the south side of the road and west of Sheldon Road, from R-1-E to M-2. Mr. Garber moved that the Board approve this zoning as recommended by the Plymouth Township Planning Commission. Seconded by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously.

Marathon Oil Co.—Re: Petitioned the Planning Commission to construct a service station at the southwest corner of Haggerty and Ann Arbor Road (Denied at the June 19th meeting). Mr. Robert Garberman, Attorney, 15011 Wyoming, Detroit 48220, stated that he believed one of the factors in the denial of their request was based on unfavorable comments, that were not factual, from residents about gas stations in this present day; that he further believed from a legal point of view that the basis of the denial was not well founded and would be subject to reversal in the Circuit Court of the County of Wayne.

Mr. Garberman then asked if the Board had jurisdiction to overrule the Planning Commission's decision. The Supervisor then asked for comments from the members of the Board. Life's all fun and games to a boy. And no shoe is going to stand in his way. That's why boys need a fitter who won't stop till he's sure a shoe is doing all the right things. And that's our kind of fitter.

Another lady just came in, and would you believe, she wanted to have her foot x-rayed?

There goes my diet!

PEOPLE "TELL it to Glen-ny" and sometimes (not too often) the process takes the form of that childhood game of "Telephone." Maybe you called it something else, but it was the one where you start with a sentence and a long line of kids whispering it from ear to ear.

When the last child said the sentence out loud it was often so far from the original words that everyone would burst into gales of laughter.

Mrs. and Mrs. James Spigarelli, of Beck Road, are the most recent people to have a laugh at my expense. Their European trip took them to GUBBIO, ITALY in search of his mother's birthplace, not Madrid, Spain (as I reported). Come to think of it, Spigarelli doesn't sound Spanish, does it?

REV. MELBOURNE Johnson, former pastor of the Plymouth First Methodist Church and now affiliated with the Methodist Church in Ann Arbor, recently returned from a visit with Glen Smith, who has a summer home on Pettibone Lake, near Baldwin, Mich., and who spends the winter months here in Plymouth at his home on Forest Ave.

Rev. Johnson has visited Mr. Smith each year for the last eighteen. Now, that's what I call friendship!

The Top Side of Life

By FATHER ROBERT SCHADEN

The little boy in the corner was sporting a brand new cast on his arm, and was receiving his first autograph. For the time being the cast was white.

In the other room a small girl was soaking the hand she had put through a window. To the nurses it was all routine; to the doctors it was pleasant -- nothing serious tonight, but for me the emergency ward was rather amusing.

Perhaps I should have stayed home and soaked my foot in some hot water, but someone was good enough to suggest that I have it x-rayed. So there I sat on a table that had no doubt seen more serious things than my sore foot.

I tried to tell the nurse as she pushed a thermometer into my mouth, that my temperature was fine--it was my foot, but she did not seem to understand.

Having read ninety-eight point six, you would think that she would get the picture, but she was taking my blood pressure. "But Miss, it is my foot, honest!"

She must not have heard me with the stethoscope in her ears, because next on the agenda was my pulse. "But Miss...okay, I'm sorry...no I am not allergic to medicine. Yes, I have had tetanus shots before."

IF YOU CAN'T fight them, join them, so I settled back to enjoy the show. The man on the next table who had twisted his knee could not understand why the woman in white was taking his blood pressure.

I was going to explain it to him, but maybe she could hear even with that contraption in her ears, and if I got her angry I might never get my picture taken.

She wasn't allergic to medicine either, but she was allergic to questioning.

She was asked whether she had a laceration, but could not pronounce the word. "What's a laceration? Oh, a cut, why didn't you say so?" (Perhaps the poor nurse had just learned this new word, and besides it does sound so professional.)

I missed the next chapter, because now there was a doctor--I was beginning to wonder whether there was one in the house--asking me how I hurt my foot.

Maybe he would take my long awaited picture. No such luck, but he did order a wheel chair. "Oh, that's all right, I can walk, that's how I got in here...so okay, I'll ride."

THEY DID FINALLY take the picture, and I did not even have to hold my breath or say cheese. By the way, before I left I received some real sound advice. The man in the white coat told me to go home and soak my foot in some hot water.

DAR To Hear Youngblood

Sen. Charles Youngblood will address the members of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the DAR Thursday, Aug. 29 in the Joy Road Studio, 48234 Joy Rd., Plymouth.

As part of the club's continuing concern for the welfare of the nation's Indians, Sen. Youngblood will speak on "The Needs of the Michigan Indian."

Use Rolling Pin To Iron A Sleeve

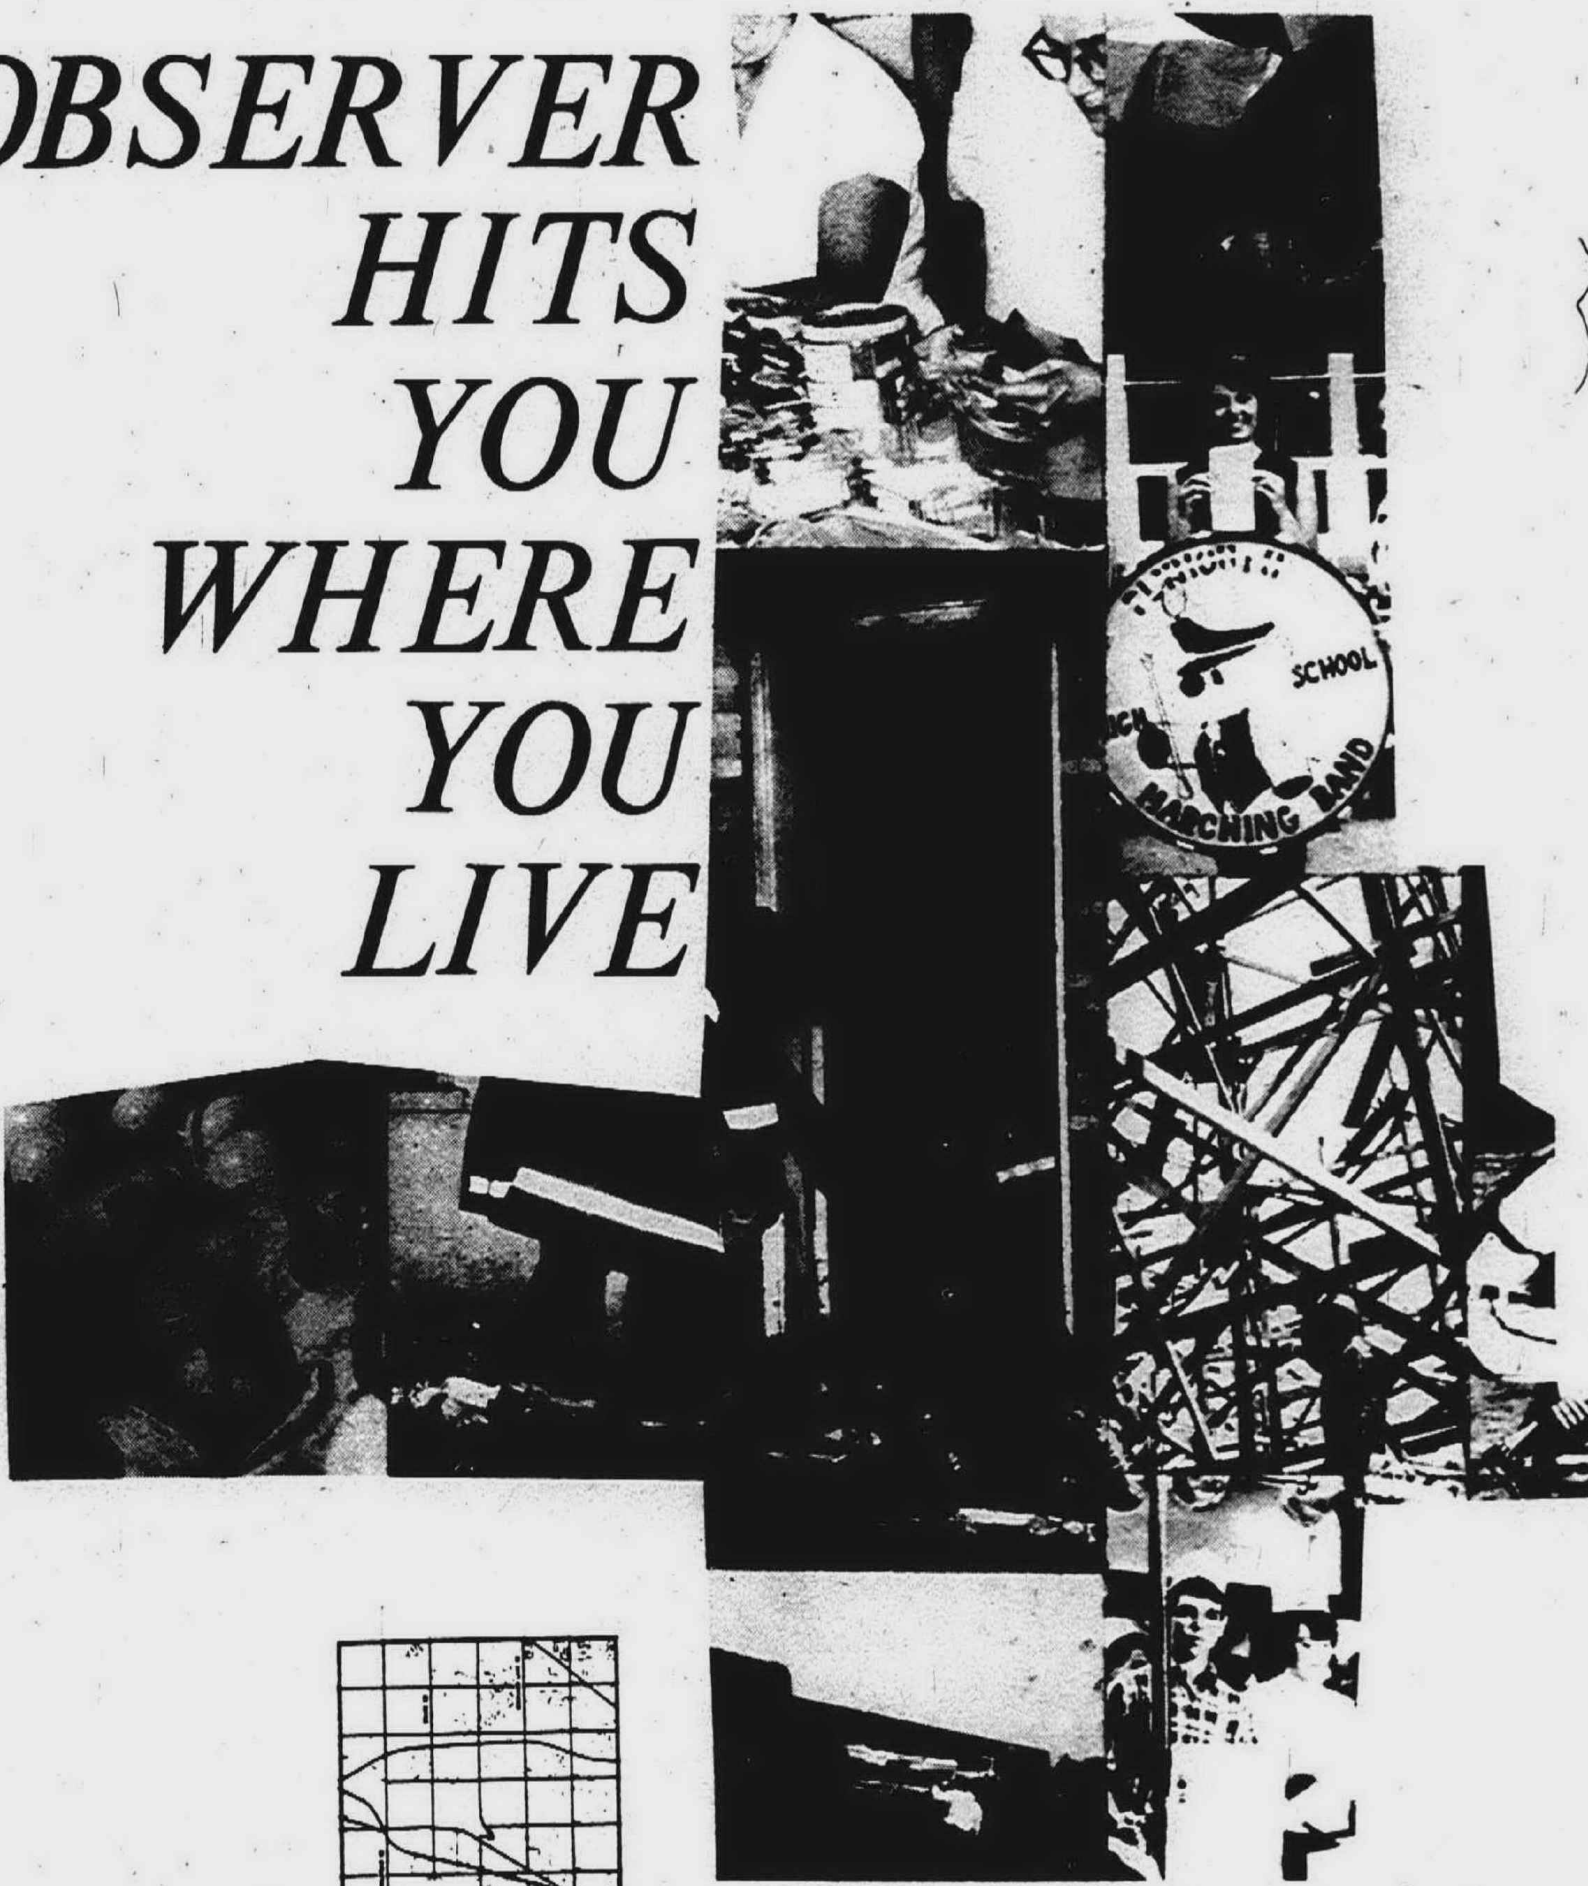

To do a really good job of pressing, many suit and dress sleeves require a sleeve board. If you do not have one try wrapping a rolling pin of the large size with several, clean turkish towels. Pad in this way until you get it of sufficient size. The towels give a nice firm padded surface, which can be slipped into the sleeve and ironed over.

Prep Students Use Drugs In Growing Numbers, Police Say

A ONE-WAY TRIP

By DENNIS PAJOT

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of several authoritative articles on the use of narcotics in Observerland suburbs and what public officials are doing about it.)

Drug use is "very prevalent among high schoolers," according to Captain Dan Myre, commanding officer of the Michigan State Police Intelligence Section in Lansing.

"There's been a sharp increase in the last 12 months of marijuana ('pot') use in particular. And 'grass' (marijuana) has teamed up with LSD," he told this reporter in an exclusive interview.

"If they've got a good pot source, they've got a good LSD source," he said.

He attributed the use of drugs by high schoolers to "all the talk that's going on now."

"It's an adventure. Any young mind is always on the trail of adventure," he quipped. "Mind expanding seems to be on their minds."

But, he said, "It's a dangerous adventure. First, there's always the possibility of a marijuana smoker going on to different drugs.

"We don't say that everybody who smokes pot is going on to heroin, but everyone on heroin at one time smoked pot."

TO MYRE, "there's too many other things doing today to waste time smoking marijuana."

He said law enforcement agencies have discovered an added incentive for clamping down on drug traffic, besides the fact that it's against the law and liable to lead users to more insidious drugs.

He revealed that evidence indicates that marijuana smoking affects the smoker's depth perception.

Mounting traffic accidents among young drivers may be related to mounting drug use, he said.

"We can't get away from the fact that more young people are involved in marijuana smoking than ever before," he said.

"We've got to think about the possibilities of accidents caused by drivers who misjudged distances while on the influence of pot."

The case of brain damage caused by the so-called mind expanding drug LSD are well documented, he pointed out fully justifying strict law enforcement.

MORE DANGEROUS and more liable to be used by high schoolers is the drug known by the slang name "speed," according to Myre.

It's effects on the human nervous system are so direct and pronounced that even when taken as prescribed by a doctor many adults are made dizzy, he pointed out.

When taken in larger doses it has been known to cause serious damage, he said.

And it is readily available to most simply because many people have it in their homes on legitimate prescriptions.

Trade name is amphetamines. Parents with prescriptions for this drug should be aware of its "popularity" among the fast set and take steps to protect their youngsters, Myre said.

State Tourist Council Lists Fall Festivals

Autumn colors form the background for Michigan fairs, festivals and other community events listed in the September-December edition of the Michigan Calendar of Events, just released for distribution by the Michigan Tourist Council.

The big Michigan State Fair at Detroit, Aug. 23-Sept. 2, leads the list of events on the calendar, which includes a wide variety of activities for the fall season.

NEW TO Michigan this year is the 250-mile National Championship Auto Race which will inaugurate the recently constructed Michigan International Speedway in the Irish Hills area, at Cambridge Junction, northwest of Adrian, Oct. 13. The leading race-car drivers of the world are scheduled to compete on the two-mile banked oval.

One of the highlights on the Calendar for September is the annual Mackinac Bridge Walk on Labor Day, the only day of the year pedestrians are allowed on the big bridge, according to the Council. Also noted is the National Coho Salmon Festival at Honor, Sept. 26-29, which pays tribute to Michigan's popular new sports fish. The American Amateur Baseball Finals, the World Series of amateur baseball, will be held at Battle Creek, Sept. 5-8.

The Old Car Festival is scheduled at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Sept. 7-8; Fall Festival in Plymouth, Sept. 5-8; Chippewa Indian Pow-wow at Mt. Pleasant, Sept. 20-21; Bow Hunters Meet in Atlanta, Sept. 28-29.

OCTOBER offers the delights of autumn color to the Michigan traveler. Among the color celebrations throughout the state are the Color Festival at Bellaire, Oct. 5-7, and the Carnival of Color, Grayling, Oct. 11-13.

The Archer's Whitetail Roundup will be held at Grayling, Oct. 5-6; the Red Flannel Festival, Cedar Springs, Oct. 12; Snowmobile and Winter Sports Show, Detroit, Oct. 19-25. Peasant season opens Oct. 21.

Big game hunting dominates the Michigan scene in November. The rifle deer season, Nov. 15-30, brings with it special fees for the hunter. The Red Coat Roundup will be held at Grayling, Nov. 15-17; the Hunters Ball at Croton-Hardy; Buck Pole Contest at Mancelona and the Buck Derby at Whittemore, are all scheduled for November.

The famed Detroit Auto Show will be presented Nov. 30-Dec. 8.

SNOW AND the holiday spirit dominate the listings in the Calendar for December. Snowmobile rallies will be held in the Yankee Springs Recreation Area, near Hastings, every weekend in December.

The Henry Ford Museum Christmas Exhibit, Dearborn, will open Dec. 6, and will continue through Jan. 5. "Christmas Trees Around the World" will be the theme at the Nature Center, Kalamazoo, Dec. 10-29, and Christmas at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, is listed for Dec. 13-31.

Copies of the Fall Calendar of Events are available without charge from the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, 48926.

Symphony Schedules Auditions

Auditions for positions in the Oak Park Symphony Orchestra will be held Sunday, Sept. 8, and Sunday, Sept. 15. The auditions will be scheduled by appointment only between the hours of 1 and 5 p.m. in the Oak Park High School.

Dr. Robert Klotman, conductor and music director, said that positions are open in all sections of the orchestra including strings, winds, brass and percussion.

Appointments may be arranged by calling 833-7900, ext. 2582 Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. The orchestra will present four concerts during the 1968-69 season.

Archaeological Exhibition To Open Oct. 4

MASADA, the largest archaeological exhibition ever to travel the U.S., will open for six weeks at the Detroit Institute of Arts Friday, Oct. 4.

MASADA, subtitled "Struggle for Freedom on Herod's Fortress," will illustrate the discoveries and the digging adventures of the 1963-1965 Israeli expedition in the Holy Land. Biblical scrolls from the nearby caves of Bar-Kokhba, artifacts, dioramas, wall-size film projections, and other display techniques will reveal the Masada story.

Particular focus of the five-gallery exhibition in the South Wing will be the drama of the stand of 960 Jewish Zealots who took their own lives rather than surrender to the siege forces of the Tenth Roman Legion in 73 A.D.

'Davey' To Play

Wayne State University's Cinema Guild will present the children's film, "Davey Crockett-King of the Wild Frontier" at 2 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 24, in the Helen L. DeRoy Auditorium on Wayne's campus. Admission is free. The film showing will also feature cartoons.

Urge Insurance Firms Solve Own Problems

LANSING -- Charging that present underwriting methods in auto insurance "are not working and do not make sense to the American public," an aide to Senator Philip A. Hart has urged the insurance industry to come up with its own solutions.

Jerry Cohen, chief counsel for the U.S. Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee headed by Hart, presently probing auto insurance problems, said companies should scrap many of their complex systems of rating drivers.

"The basic criteria for insurance rates should be based mainly on a driver's record, rather than the many complicated rating systems and sub-systems now used to determine his premium," Cohen said.

HE ADDED that federal and state controls are not the answer to the problem.

Cohen chided insurance companies, many of which claim they make little money in underwriting. He said most companies have high investment incomes which should be counted in determining net income.

High cost of administering auto insurance came in for criticism also. Cohen compared the present federal social security program which costs only three cents to pay out each $1 while insurance companies list $1.25 expense for each $1 in claims paid out.

The insurance executives heard some new theories advanced.

ELMER P. SIMON, of Frankenthum Insurance Co., proposed a new plan based on insuring the driver rather than the vehicle, which is now the case with all underwriters.

"This system would make sure that every driver's rates would be based on his own driving record and not on the record compiled by others in his family."

Simon's plan among others is presently being studied by the companies.

Head of the New Jersey unsatisfied judgment plan, Sal Capozzi, Trenton, traced the history of the New Jersey plan, the oldest in America. He said that "the state ran into fi-

Area Student Receives Ph. D.

Donald Earl Gordon, of Livonia, was among 1,404 students to receive his degree at the close of the academic term at the University of Florida this summer. He received a Ph.D.

Candidates included 112 doctorates, 515 for master's degrees, 69 for juris doctor degrees from the College of Law, 25 specialists in education and 683 applicants for bachelor's degrees.

Graduates this month will be recognized at the annual commencement ceremonies at Florida Field next June.

Wives Unhappy About Reservists Training

Wives of men in the Livonia-based Army Reserve unit called up for active duty in May have complained to Michigan's two senators and congress about a lack of combat training for their husbands.

In letters and petitions to Senator Philip Hart and Robert Griffin, and congressman Lucien Nedzi (D., 14th District, northeast Detroit, Grosse Pointe areas), the wives complained of "brief training schedules that 'have not sufficiently trained our husbands for deployment overseas.'"

The unit, the 424th Personnel Services was comprised of 160 members from the greater Detroit area. They were called up last spring by the President. They were based at the Army Reserve Center, 34451 Schoolcraft.

The company's task is the maintenance of the personnel records of 5,000 or more troops.

ACCORDING to reliable sources, the unit will go to Vietnam. They were told when they were assigned to Fort Hood Texas they "would be sent to the South Seas."

Army officials do not like to disclose exact destinations; troop movements in the United States become vital information for the enemy.

All indications, however, point to September 2 as the end of their training period. The company will spend some time then packing their equipment, getting the proper shoes and identification for overseas.

A leave for all the men—probably 15 days—has been scheduled, then shipment overseas on October 19 to an unknown destination.

In their letter, the wives wrote: "The 424th unit was formed only two months before it received activation orders. It was comprised of portions of three previously existing units—two engineering units and one military unit. At the time of their activation, they were hardly qualified for maintaining records."

"The men were trained in various phases of personnel management, consisting of short courses and on-the-job training lasting one to three weeks. We feel this brief training schedule has not sufficiently trained our husbands for deployment overseas."

"In addition to their brief occupational training, our husbands have received only a few days of combat and survival training—a fact that greatly concerns and upsets us."

THE WIVES indicated that there has been a lack of response except from Senator Hart.

UNIT Commander Edwin Duda, of Plymouth, has been transferred to other duties and will stay on the mainland.

Among those signing the letter were Cecilia A. Russell, Nancy Scanlon, Cynthia M. Melnikas, Mary Lou Potas, Yvonne Bossenberger, Linda Gregart, Sharon Lonskey, Ilene Ruedisueli, Andrea L. Gillis and Anne-Marie Billiu, all of the greater Detroit area.

Contacted in Texas, Linda Gregart confirmed the wives' worry about the men's training and lack of planning for the move overseas.

Rehearsals are held Tuesday evenings at 7; and extra rehearsals are scheduled before performances as may be required.

Con. Power To Install Anti-Pollution Equipment

Consumers Power Company announced this week it plans to spend $15,000,000 over a five-year period to equip four major electric generating plants with additional air pollution control equipment.

The presentation was made to the staff of the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission in Lansing.

In its report to the Commission, the company said it would ask exceptions from the Air Pollution Control Act of 1965 to allow installation of the equipment.

Plants are at Essexville, Kalamazoo and Erie. An installation is already underway at Muskegon.

Consumers Power previously had announced plans to invest nearly $500 million over the next seven years in construction of new nuclear and hydroelectric facilities. The new plants will increase the company's generating capacity by 80 per cent. None of these new plants will be fired with fossil fuels.

THE REPORT said that, by 1975, about 58 per cent of the system capability would be other than coal-fired as compared to about 92 per cent coal-fired today. About 30 per cent is to be nuclear-fueled.

Major coal-fired plants which do not now have the most modern air quality control equipment will be equipped with electrostatic precipitators or other high-efficiency equipment by 1972, the report states.

Installation of a $3.5 million electrostatic stack gas cleaning system is already underway at the B.C. Cobb plant in Muskegon. In addition, the B.E. Morrow plant at Kalamazoo will have electrostatic precipitators added to its present system by 1970 or will be converted to burn natural gas as fuel. The J.C. Weadcock plant, at Essexville, will have high efficiency dust collectors by 1971 and, by 1972, the same will be true of the J.R. Whiting plant, near Erie.

THE COMPANY also plans, over the next few years, to retire several small coal-fired electric generating and steam heating plants where existing equipment is old and cannot be modified to meet air standards.

UM Music Society Schedules Auditions

The University Musical Society announces that auditions are now being held for membership in the University Choral Union. Membership is open to qualified singers.

Appointments for auditions should be made now at the offices of the Musical Society in Burton Tower (telephone 665-3717) by new applicants. Also, former members will be asked to re-audition this season, and to make appointments for auditions on or before September 4.

Soil, Weather Good

Mid-August Is Time To Improve Tired Lawns

By BETTY FRANKEL

Late summer is the best time to start a new lawn or to renovate and improve an old lawn. The soil is warm and dry and in good condition to be worked easily. The grass seeds will germinate quickly, and the cool nights of early autumn will then favor the growth of the new grass.

Since a lawn is a permanent type of planting, it pays to do the job well. A well-made lawn will be healthy, sturdy and weed-free and can last indefinitely. Although few home-owners realize it, a lawn can live as long as a tree.

1. The first step in building a new lawn is grading the land. Remove the top soil, if there is any, and save it to spread after the grading is done. Grade the soil so that water drains away from the house and so that there are no low spots that will collect water and be soggy.

2. After grading spread a layer of top soil. This should be four to six inches deep.

3. Improve the texture of the soil if it is too sandy or if it is heavy clay. Spread about an inch-thick layer of organic material such as well-rotted manure, compost, or peat moss on the surface and work this into the top soil.

4. INCREASE the fertility by spreading a commercial fertilizer at a rate of about 15 to 20 pounds per 1,000 square feet for soils of average fertility and up to 40 pounds per 1,000 square feet for poor soils. Use a "complete" fertilizer such as one with a 5-10-5 or 10-6-4 formula. This will provide the needed nitrogen, phosphorus and potash.

5. Lime is needed only if the soil is acid. Grass grows best in neutral or slightly acid soil. Most soils in this area are satisfactory, so test for acidity before deciding if lime is needed.

6. Next rake and firm the soil so it is ready to be seeded. Make it as smooth and even as possible with no hollows.

7. An optional step at this point is the use of a chemical to kill weed seeds and tiny seedlings that are in the soil. This is the easiest way to get a weed-free lawn, but it is possible to develop a good lawn without using a weed-seed killer.

If desired, apply Calcium Cyanamid or Vapam to the soil and leave it undisturbed. Wait three weeks before sowing lawn grass. When the grass is sown, do not stir up the soil as the weed seeds have been killed only in the top inch or two of soil.

8. Choose the proper type of grass for your lawn conditions. Bent grasses, which are used on golf greens, make beautiful lawns, but require pampering and special care. Fescues are very adaptable and grow in either moist or dry soil and in sun or shade. They do not form as fine a quality turf as other grasses but are useful because they will grow in poor soil and are tough and wiry and can withstand hard use. Pennlawn fescue, a strain of creeping red fescue, is considered the best.

BLUEGRASS is most popular in this area, with Merion bluegrass considered the finest. Merion bluegrass germinates slowly, taking about three weeks to sprout, so it should be seeded as soon after mid-August as possible. Don't mix Merion bluegrass seeds with fast growing grasses that may crowd it out. Either plant it alone or mixed with Pennlawn fescue.

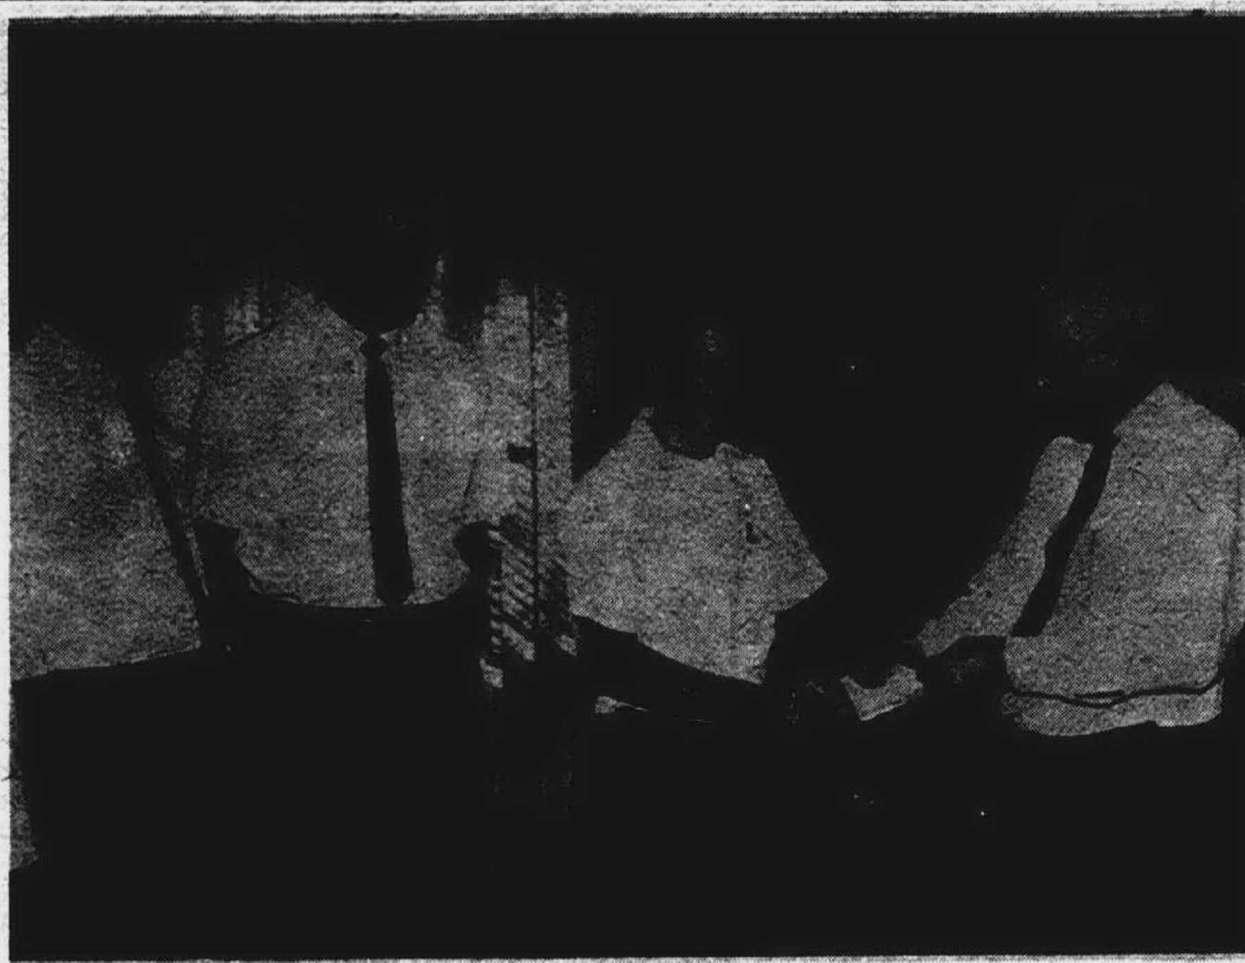

Spread the seed slowly at a rate of one to two pounds per 1,000 square feet.

9. After seeding, keep the soil constantly moist until the seeds germinate and become established. Several light sprinklings may be needed each day. Avoid walking on the lawn, if possible.

10. Begin mowing the new lawn as soon as the grass reaches over two inches tall. Set the mower for about 1 1/2 inches and remove only a small amount at a mowing. This early mowing will help thicken the turf.

If the grass is very sparse in an old lawn and it needs to be renovated, cut it as short as possible and give it a brisk raking.

If there is a heavy accumulation of "thatch" above the soil, rent a machine that will chop this up. If clover, chickweed or other weeds are a problem, use a combination of 2,4-D and Silvex. Apply fertilizer and seed for a new lawn and keep well watered.

GUST MITCHELL, employee of Western Electric Co. in Plymouth, is shown receiving a check for $585 as a suggestion award. He suggested that the company purchase certain component parts already assembled rather than using unassembled parts. Presenting the check is Vic Hanson, department head. Looking on are: Michigan Manager C. E. Hinck (right) and Production Manager William Heffner, standing next to Gust.

Ford Truck To Expand In Wayne

Ford Motor Company, enjoying record truck sales in 1968, will build two additions to its Michigan truck plant in Wayne to increase capacity by more than 40 percent.

The additions, totaling about 350,000 square feet of manufacturing area, will mean more than 500 new jobs at the installation, according to Roderick M. Sherwood, plant manager.

Construction will begin later this year and be completed in the fall of 1969.

Highlights of the expansion project:

--An assembly addition to raise plant capability.

--Expanded paint facilities.

--Greater warehousing capacity.

--Increased rail shipping and receiving space.

--More office area.

--Improved employee facilities, including a new medical department and modernized cafeteria.

Ford's Michigan Truck Plant produces light trucks, school bus chassis, parcel delivery trucks and the Bronco, a utility and recreation vehicle. Present employment is about 1,500 persons.

Keep End-Slice

When you are buying half of a fully cooked ham, you may want to have a slice removed for separate cooking. Have the slicer a couple of inches thick and bake it on a rack in a shallow pan in a slow oven (325 degrees) for about 40 minutes.

Plan Free Investor Class

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith is conducting a class for the inexperienced as well as the more sophisticated investor.

It will cover: (1) the outlook for the economy, (2) who invests in stocks, (3) how and why to invest, (4) the rewards of investing, (5) the monthly investment plan, and (6) what stocks to consider for various investment objectives.

The session will be followed by a question and answer period and free educational booklets will be passed out to everyone who attends.

The class will be held from 7:30 p.m. to 9:15 p.m. on Tuesday, September 3 and Thursday, September 5, at the downtown Detroit Merrill Lynch Building, 205 W. Congress (at Shelby), Detroit 48226.

It is free but by reservation only, so contact Edwin T. Funk, at 963-4670.

A tablespoon of vinegar added to the water after beets have been peeled and diced keeps the color a bright red and prevents them bleeding or losing their color.

March Of Dimes Grant Aids Birth Defect Study

A grant of $91,373 by the National Foundation-March of Dimes will enable researchers at The University of Michigan to continue their studies of birth defects.

Dr. Gordon C. Brown, professor of epidemiology at the U-M School of Public Health, is director of the project. The grant was announced by Dr. Myron Wegman, dean of the school, and Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation-March of Dimes.

Brown's program has now entered its eighth year with financial aid from the foundation. He is tracking down virus infections that kill or cripple unborn children. Five new viruses, he says, have recently been added to the list of suspected causes of birth defects.

Dr. Brown says these viruses usually do not affect adults seriously. Symptoms may be only a runny nose or an upset stomach. But a pregnant woman may scarcely realize she has been infected by one of the five viruses, only to discover much later that it has harmed her child.

BLOOD samples are taken from the women as early in pregnancy as possible and again at delivery, and analyzed both times for antibodies against 11 viruses. The researchers are now also testing newborn babies for signs of antibodies against virus infection, to prove that they as well as their mothers were infected.

The study follows patients from the first clinic visit through delivery. The purpose is to see how the occurrence of virus infection during pregnancy in mothers of babies with defects compares with that in mothers of healthy babies.

OBITUARIES

HUBERT H. SANBORN. Services for Mr. Sanborn, 82, of 18282 Golliver, Livonia, were held in the Kahn Funeral Home, Farmington, Minn. Burial was in Crystal Lake Cemetery, Minneapolis, Minn.

Mr. Sanborn died Aug. 18. He was a retired salesman with the Culler-Magner Co.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Grace Harrison, of Livonia, and Mrs. Dale Housland, of Rutland, Vt.; a brother, Charles, of Fairmont, Minn.; and four grandchildren.

LESTER BELTZ. Private funeral services for Mr. Beltz, 70, of Dearborn were held Aug. 21 in the Evergreen Cemetery in Lansing.

A Ford Motor Co. engineering executive for 22 years, Mr. Beltz died Aug. 19 in Detroit Osteopathic Hospital. He was a member of the Detroit Athletic Club, the Society of Automotive Engineers, the Detroit Engineering Society and the 4-Square F&AM Lodge No. 327. He also held a membership in the Scottish-Rite Club, Valley of Detroit, and the Modern Temple of Detroit.

Surviving are two sons, John B. of East Lansing and Lester G. of Farmington.

LAWRENCE B. HOSKINS. Services for Mr. Hoskins, 67, of 2921 Hugh, Livonia, were held in the Mann-Ferguson Funeral Home with Rev. Howard J. Osterman officiating. Burial was in Parkview Memorial Cemetery.

A journeyman tile layer for 20 years, Mr. Hoskins died Aug. 16 at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, of burns sustained July 15 while at work. He was employed by James E. Wain and Associates, Detroit.

He is survived by his wife, Beatrice; daughter, Elaine; four sons, Robin, David, Terry and Billy; parents, Mr. & Mrs. Ethel Adams and Nelson C. Hoskins; sister, Mrs. Bert Reed; brother, Bruce.

CARL B. SANDEL. Funeral services for Mr. Carl Burton Sandel, 52, of Tampa, Fla., were held Aug. 19 in the Heene-Sundquist Funeral Home with Rev. Carl H. Schultz of Salem United Church of Christ officiating. Burial followed at Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Sandel, formerly of Farmington, died Aug. 11 in the Tampa Osteopathic Hospital.

Survivors include: his wife, Myrtle; sons, Ronald and Donald; and daughter, Mrs. Carol Kelley, all of Florida; sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Bern of Kalamazoo and Mrs. Muriel Shriver of Grand Rapids; and six grandchildren.

FLORENCE MATILDA SHERMAN. Services for Mrs. Sherman, 77, of 16755 Ann Arbor Rd., Superior Township, were held in the Schaefer Funeral Home with Rev. James P. Brown officiating. She was buried in Cadillac Memorial Gardens, Westland.

Mrs. Sherman died Aug. 21 in the Adams Doe Nursing Center in Detroit after a long illness.

She is survived by: two sons, Theodore G. of Plymouth and Charles J. of Plymouth; five daughters, Mrs. Bessie Muir of New Boston, Mrs. Ermine Reek of Taylor, Mrs. Esther DeShano of Livonia and Mrs. Norma Combs of Plymouth; plus 32 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Mrs. Sherman was born Jan. 7, 1891 in Sandusky, Michigan.

ROSA G. LUTZ. Funeral services for Mrs. Rosa Grimm Lutz, 93, of 28217 Farmington Rd., Farmington, were held Aug. 17 in the Heene-Sundquist Funeral Home with the Rev. Carl H. Schultz of Salem United Church of Christ officiating. Burial followed at Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Mrs. Lutz, who was born in Germany in 1875, died Aug. 14 following a short illness. She had lived in Farmington for about 34 years.

Survivors include: sons, John and Henry of Farmington, Theodore of Livonia, and Herbert of Detroit; daughters, Mrs. Betty Petonek of Fremont, Ohio, and Mrs. Hilda Foster of Farmington; 13 grandchildren, 24 great grandchildren, and four great-great grandchildren.

FRED W. MASS. Funeral services for Mr. Fred William Mass, 62, of 26275 Drake Rd., Farmington Township, were held Aug. 17 in the Heene-Sundquist Funeral Home with Rev. Carl H. Schultz officiating. Burial was in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens, Novi.

Mr. Mass, who lived in Farmington for many years, died Aug. 15 in Detroit Osteopathic Hospital, Highland Park. A linealman for Detroit Edison, he was a member of Local 17 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and a member of the Salem United Church of Christ.

Survivors include: wife, Dorothy; mother, Mrs. Anna Mass; sons, Linwood and John; daughter, Mrs. Roberta Gross of Livonia; and nine grandchildren.

RICHARD G. PIERSON. Funeral Mass for Mr. Pierson, 39, of 29970 Westlawn Lane, Farmington, were held Aug. 20 in Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church with Msgr. Thomas P. Beahan officiating. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mr. Pierson died Aug. 20 after an extended illness. A wood pattern maker with Hoard Pattern Co., he was a veteran of World War II. He had lived in Livonia before moving to Farmington a year and a half ago.

Surviving are his wife, Carole; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pierson, of Sarasota, Fla.; two daughters, Tiffany and Bethany; a sister, Mrs. Edwin Renner, of Livonia; and two brothers, Thomas and John R. of Dearborn.

CLAYTON SCHOFER. Funeral services for Mr. Schofer, 73, of S. San Gabriel, Calif., were held in the Thayer Funeral Home Aug. 17 with the Rev. Bryce B. Swiler officiating. Burial was in Parkview Cemetery, Livonia. A Masonic Memorial Service was also held.

Mr. Schofer, a retired tool grinder from Excella Corp., died Aug. 14 after an extended illness. A Farmington resident for 24 years, he belonged to Farmington Lodge F&AM, No. 151.

Surviving are three sons, Harry C. of South San Gabriel, Calif., Kenneth W. of Redford Township, and Gene W. of Tempe, Ariz.; one sister, Mrs. Jessie Davis, of Arcadia, Calif.; seven grandchildren; and eight great grandchildren.

50 Laymen To Challenge Ouster Of Poverty-Fighting St. John's Priest

Seminarian Anthony P. Locricchio was fired by the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit "because the church isn't practicing what it preaches."

That was the charge fired at the chancellor today by a backer of the young student ousted on the eve of his priesthood.

Locricchio is presently in Bogota, Columbia, helping a friend with a housing project for poverty-stricken natives. However, the controversy over his dismissal from St. John's Seminary in Plymouth ranges on.

Fifty Catholic laymen will issue a White Paper Monday demanding "the real reasons" for his dismissal from Archbishop John F. Dearden.

Locricchio was a fighter against poverty in Detroit's inner city and an apostle of "black self-determination." His work and his views became controversial while he was still a student.

SOURCES close to the seminary and Locricchio said he was allowed to take his subdiaconate vows after an inexplicable delay.

He was denied permission to enter the diaconate, the last step before priesthood, without explanation other than an unofficial statement that "he couldn't be trusted."

The Most Rev. Walter J. Schoenherr, vicar of clergy at the archdiocese, said the reasons were confidential and would not be disclosed.

The White Paper, prepared over the weekend and to be issued Monday, demanded that Dearden provide the detailed reasons for Locricchio's dismissal.

There were strong indications from sources within the group of 50 laymen that the church would be strongly criticized for supporting Locricchio's ideals but refusing to support his actions.

After his delay in diaconate vows was ordered in May, Locricchio stayed on at St. John's for the summer and on Aug. 6 came to a face-to-face showdown with Dearden when the archbishop arrived to talk to the priests-to-be on "concepts of the priesthood."

THE ARCHBISHOP was questioned about Locricchio's case from the floor. Reportedly the archbishop refused "to discuss specifics," Locricchio is reported to have stated:

"OK, I quit. Now let's talk specifics."

Sources inside the meeting said the archbishop refused and left the room. Locricchio followed and, when he repeated his statement, was told he had been officially dismissed the day before.

Later, all graduated seminarians except Locricchio were assigned to parishes.

Locricchio has been active in Detroit antipoverty campaigns and once was director of the Archdiocesan Opportunity Program, which he charged later had misused funds—a charge never substantiated by investigation.

VFW Greets Wallace With Gusto; Black Delegates Walk Out

DETROIT -- Former Gov. of Alabama George Wallace brought his third party candidacy for president of the United States to Cobo Hall last week and told the convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars "They're going to find out in Washington in November that there are more people on the street than federal guideline writers."

He said, "I'm going to call the brief-case-toting bureaucrats back to Washington, and I'm going to throw their brief-cases in the Potomac River."

"If everyone votes for me who has written me and sent me telegrams from Michigan, I'm going to win in Michigan," he said.

News Roundup

Ten black VFW members walked out of the hall in protest against Wallace, but on the whole veterans greeted him with more gusto than they did GOP candidate Richard Nixon and President Johnson.

CHICAGO -- Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh last week repudiated the Johnson-Humphrey position on Vietnam and told the Democratic Platform Committee that the war must be ended to save the nation's cities.

Cavanagh recommended: • An urban development fund modeled after foreign aid funds already in existence, to finance public projects controlled by the cities.

• An urban land bank to allow cities to buy available land to be stockpiled against future needs and rising land values. • A modern Homestead Act like the legislation that granted free land to the settlers in the 1860's that would make city land available free to those who would build and maintain homes on the property.

SEOUL, KOREA -- South Korean military and police forces killed 11 members and captured the three remaining of a 14-man North Korean commando unit which attempted to land on the Cheju-do island off the southern coast of Korea.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. -- Italy has withdrawn from the contest for a seat on the Security Council beginning in January, thereby virtually assuring the election of Spain for the first time.

Other candidates regarded as certain to be elected by the general assembly this fall to the five forthcoming vacancies for two-year terms on the 15-member council are Columbia, Finland, Nepal and Zambia.

WASHINGTON -- The Soviet troop movement came at a time when the US 7th Army, backbone of West Europe's defense, is at its lowest strength in years.

Because of the balance of payments problem, U.S. Army forces in West Germany have been cut to about 200,000 men and are due to drop even further by Sept. 30.

WASHINGTON -- Washington sources said the powerful 174-vote California delegation to the Democratic National Convention is close to a decision to support Sen. Edward Kennedy on the first ballot.

Former Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who said earlier last week he has more than 400 delegates lined up for Kennedy, viewed the Massachusetts senator's statement last week as a sign he would accept a draft for the presidency.

Kennedy began his speech, his first public appearance since the death of his brother Robert, by rejecting suggestions he retire from politics. "There is no safety in hiding. Not for me, not for any of us here today, and not for our children, who will inherit the world we make for them," he said.

He also said that "like my three brothers before me I pick up a fallen standard." He said later he was speaking "as one who will not run for office this year."

WASHINGTON -- The Navy and the State Department have locked horns over the shooting of a thief by a marine sentry in the Philippines.

What began as an attempt to steal a bicycle has ballooned into a threat to a delicate diplomatic objective of maintaining U.S. bases in the islands.

Last month, Lance Corporal Kenneth A. Smith, guarding Sangley Point Naval Base, spotted a Filipino making off with a Navy bicycle. On his order to halt the man dropped the bicycle and ran.

Smith called twice again, then fired one shot. The Filipino dropped in his tracks and died a few hours afterward.

The question--on which both local and Washington level State and Defense representatives have split--is whether Smith should be turned over to civilian courts to be tried for homicide.

DETROIT -- It still is "a running battle and touch and go," but 13-year-old Gary Shapiro's doctor now gives the boy "a pretty good chance" of survival that few people ever have--third degree burns over 75 per cent of the body.

Heat Is Major Topic -- How Are You Taking It?

It's not your imagination, the weather bureau says it really has been hotter than usual this month. Plymouth residents suffering from the heat this week don't need to read the statistics, but just for the record accumulated temperatures for this month are already 25 degrees higher than the average for previous years.

Robert Thorn, a radar technician at the weather station at Metropolitan Airport, explained that this averages out to more than one degree above normal per day.

Some Plymouth residents exhibited a good deal of ingenuity in their efforts to avoid the heat and the even more uncomfortable humidity. Mrs. Kathleen Swartz, 41531 Greenbriar Lane, takes her three-year-old son, Chuckie, to the area shopping centers to walk around in the air conditioned stores. However, she can't share her son's favorite avenue of escape — he jumps into his little pool in the Swartz backyard.

Finley MacRae, 234 Plymouth Rd., thinks a good cold bottle of pop really hits the spot on a hot day.

Picnics always have been a good way to enjoy the heat instead of trying to escape it. Three Plymouth boys found a couple of benches in Kellogg Park an ideal spot to enjoy a good outdoor lunch.

Steve Cavell, 1281 Carol; Robert Spisich, 840 S. Evergreen, and Joe Brown, 1381 Palmer, said it was too hot to ride their bikes any further so they settled for the park in the center of town for their picnic.

Mrs. Donald Meek, who operates the Dairy Queen at 232 S. Main, said she doesn't mind the heat because,

"It sure helps business." Just then a station wagon loaded with six nuns came into her busy parking lot and placed Mrs. Meek's biggest order of the day.

Mrs. Meek agrees that it has been hotter than ever this year, and added, "The hot spells have lasted so much longer this year."

One happy aspect of the unusually hot weather is that unlike cold and snowy weather the heat doesn't add extra expense to the city's operating costs. Richard Blodgett, Plymouth city manager, said that the city's outdoor workers are good about showing up for work on even the hottest days.

He did say that people use more water on warm days so city sales rather than costs are up during hot spells.

Probation Projects Pay Off In Livonia

A voluntary work program for probationers, started last fall by Livonia Municipal Judge James McCann and Director of Probation Kenneth Kirkwood, is paying big dividends in rehabilitation and in completing various projects throughout the city.

With a list of more than 200 probationers, Judge McCann, taking a cue from Royal Oak and other surrounding communities, decided to try a voluntary work program.

He discussed the legality with the City of Livonia Legal Beagles, other judges in southern Michigan, probation officials at a state level and received a green light from all.

So he turned the mechanism of the program over to Kirkwood, a former youth officer for the Livonia Police Department who resigned from the force to accept the post as Director of Probation for the Municipal Court.

KIRKWOOD TALKED to many of the probationers last summer when they made their monthly reports and discussed the possibility of a voluntary work program with the new municipal golf course as the No. 1 project.

He was amazed at the reception, a majority of those contacted were much interested even though it involved outdoor work in all kinds of weather.

For some it meant serving 60-day jail sentences on Saturday for many it meant the difference between spending a long time incarcerated and holding a job. Serving 60 days in jail could have meant losing a job where the probationer had long years of service.

For others it meant a break in weekend sentences. Regardless of the reasons, Kirkwood and Judge McCann were amazed at the manner in which the probationers took the challenge—all on a voluntary work basis.

Thus, throughout the fall and winter months and extending through the spring, there was a crew of men, ranging from as few as five and going as high as 15 or 18, busy at the Whispering Willow golf course.

THE CREWS had the task of cleaning out the brush, felling trees, making openings for fairways, assisting in the construction of greens and various other tasks.

"We had crews working in the snow and rain," said Kirkwood, who also joins with the workers. "And you would be amazed at the progress on the project of clearing the brush from the golf course."

There was a point where the crews dug holes for and planted more than 300 trees. They helped clear the creek that winds through the course and carried new wood to various spots for bridges.

THEN DURING the spring in the numerous heavy rains, they got busy with the task of replacing and moving bridges back to position after the waters had washed them downstream.

Pro Gary Whitener has nothing but praise for the work of the crews.

"Where we had heavy growth that reminded one of a jungle and found golfers losing one ball after another in the thickets and woods, we now have areas where they can play out of the woods and back on the course," he said.

Greenskeeper Jim Trenner, who is quite a hand with an ax, joins with the men on the Saturday details, supervising the work and lending a hand when things really get rough.

THERE ARE such details as cutting down weeds, gathering up and snipping into small bits a barbed wire fence that had been placed through the woods. There was a small payment for the laborers—during the early part of the brush clearing, the crews came out with as many as 200 lost balls in one day.

Of course that isn't true any more with the new playable woods areas but even now the crews manage to pick up quite a bag of balls each week.

Strange enough, there haven't been any complaints from the probationers—they seem to enjoy the chance to get outside and work even though it's hard work.

And Judge McCann and Director Kirkwood are proud of a probation program that is really working.

THE PAUSE THAT — This elderly gentleman decided the best way to stand the heat was a cool drink. It didn't keep the heat away long but it sure did make him comfortable at the moment.

Work's Fun If You Like It

BARBED WIRE also adds to the problem of clearing roughs near the Whispering Willows fairways. Two probationers serving sentences work Saturday rather than spend time in jail. They work without pay.

GREENSKEEPER Jim Trenner (left) finds the maintenance job more than one man can handle and likes the help he gets from this probationer cutting underbrush.

FLASHING AXES make short work of small trees as the areas near fairways are cleared so duffers can find their golf balls.

GOLF BALLS are easier to find once the underbrush is cleared away by the probationers. Ken Kirkwood, Livonia Probation Officer, inspects the completed job.

RESTING HOT TOOTSIES are these youngsters who took refuge in the shade at Kellogg Park on one of those steaming hot afternoons.

Her fiancé graduated in 1965 from Hasbun High School and attended Henry Ford Community College and was employed by the Ford Motor Co.

They're Unequaled Force

Livonia, Redford Women Open Fight Against Crime

There's a quickening pace in the action—the Women's Action Against Crime, that is.

Determined to play a constructive role in making communities safer, women in this area are joining those all over metropolitan Detroit in training sessions and workshops in the field.

About 40 so far in Livonia and Redford Township have joined the drive that State Sen. Lorraine Beebe launched in the spring. Her idea is to follow the lead of women in Indianapolis, who have made genuine inroads in the crime rate in their areas through court observation and working with juveniles.

"Women are an unequalled force for good in the improvement of their communities," Sen. Beebe told the 40 gathered for the first workshop on juvenile delinquency in the non-partisan, non-profit Action Against Crime.

"Men frequently form committees and talk about the problem, but it is the women who usually go to work and provide the action necessary to solve these problems."

SPEAKING in the Livonia Public Safety Building, she was joined by several other experts on juvenile problems in connection with crime.

The workshop was one of several facets of the Action Against Crime move.

Court-observing workshops are being held each Tuesday and Thursday morning, continuing through August in the chambers of Probate Judge James Lincoln, who handles juvenile cases.

In each session, the judge meets with the women before court opens to describe what will take place, and after they observe the session there is a tour of the juvenile home.

Mrs. Mary Dumas, heading the Livonia phase of the Action Against Crime, said a number of local women are attending the court workshops, and there are tentative plans to set one up in the court of Livonia Municipal Judge James McCann.

Sen. Beebe and her committee also are planning a general meeting in the Action Against Crime in the Rackham Building, Detroit, on Oct. 16. A planning session for that gathering was held last week in the Redford Township Hall.

JOINING Sen. Beebe in addressing the juvenile crime workshop were Sgt. Violet Mote, of the Redford Township Women's Division, Donald Grabowski, director of student counseling social services for the South Redford Schools, and Livonia Councilman Robert McCann, Sgt. William Grievess, head of the Livonia Police Intelligence Division, and druggist James Roach. Mayor Harvey Molke welcomed the women.

Problems of juvenile probation concerned Sgt. Mote and Councilman McCann.

Sgt. Mote blamed the juvenile crime problem in part on "lack of discipline and permissiveness at the home or school level," and added that young offenders of the suburban sections of Wayne County tend to be shunted to the bottom of the heap in the courts because of the shortage of court time and detention facilities.

McCann urged the women to work for legislation to provide for what he called "badly needed" separate branches of the juvenile court and local juvenile detention facilities.

GRABOWSKI said he thought a necessary requirement of cutting juvenile crime is "greater parental discipline in the home and cooperation of parents when students must be disciplined at school."

Of the use of pep pills and other drugs among Redford students, he said: "The problem, practically non-existent a year ago, has grown to alarming proportions."

Sgt. Grievess told of his work in apprehending pushers of marijuana and LSD in this area, and druggist Roach told the women of the less well-known use of non-prescription drugs such as cough medicines, as well as lighter fluids and aerosol sprays, to create a cheap "jag."

Among community leaders from Redford and Livonia attending Tuesday's meeting were Rep. Louis Schmidt, Dr. Donald Freidrichs, coordinator of secondary education in the Livonia Public Schools; Dr. Aram Vosgerchian, director of pupil personnel and social services in Livonia schools; Dr. Henry Heusner, Coordinator of Elementary Education, Mrs. Jane Lamb of the Livonia Youth Commission. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Veda Vogel, and Mrs. Sonja Czaja of Livonia and Mrs. Anna Kerr of Redford.

The next phase of the local Women's Action Against Crime program will be to formulate and implement plans tailored to the individual needs of the communities of Redford and Livonia. Any women interested in becoming a part of this program may contact Ann Dize of Redford, Ke. 2-0424, Anna Kerr, Ke. 5-6982, or Veda Vogel, Livonia, 422-0469 or Mary E. Dumas, 421-7732.

Put On Show For UF Drive

Twelve young Redford residents provided the 1968 Torch Drive with a precampaign boost last week. They earmarked proceeds from their summer project, a variety show, for the United Foundation's 20th annual campaign scheduled Oct. 15 through Nov. 7.

Written and directed by a group of teens and preteens living on Houghton, "The Doll Show" was presented Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the garden of the Edward Riehl, 20127 Houghton.

Performers included the Riehl daughters: Ann, 15; Elizabeth, 14, and Margaret, 12.

Also appearing in the production were Jayne Kochanski, 9; Gwen Kochanski, 8; Andrew Rogoff, 12; Joanna Jacobs, 8; Mari Chatlin, 11; Dianna Burlant, 9; Nancy Moss, 10; Sandy Showfer, 14, and Karen Bishop, 12.

"The girls decided to charge admission and give it to the Torch Drive because, like themselves, the UF represents all creeds," Mrs. Riehl said.

Ham Adds Flavor To Cheese Sauce

A little leftover cooked ham, cut into thin strips, makes a good addition to a creamy cheese sauce to be served with cooked macaroni. Ripe olives are another good addition.

More than 4,200,000 persons sustained injuries in automobile accidents last year. Driver error was responsible for more than 80 percent of the 1967 highway casualties.

Newlyweds Spend 10 Days In Maine

Mary Sharon Donnelly became the bride of Haldon Edward Smith in a double-ring ceremony held in Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Friday, Aug. 16.

The Rev. Kean D. Cronin officiated at the service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Mac J. Donnelly Sr., of Sunset, Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith, of Amherst Ct., Plymouth.

MRS. DONNELLY chose a sky blue dress with white accessories and Mrs. Smith wore a light green ensemble.

The parents of the bride opened their home and garden with a candlelight reception for 150 guests.

The couple spent a ten-day honeymoon in Maine.

Both are graduates of Plymouth High School and Michigan State University where the bride studied elementary education and the bridegroom majored in civil engineering.

The couple will make their home in Kansas City, Mo.

4-H Announces Scholarships

Six $800 scholarships will be awarded this fall to 4-H coeds who plan to major in home economics.

These scholarships are part of the College Scholarship Fund set up by the Cooperative Extension Service and administered by the National 4-H Service Committee.

The home economics grants are for current or former 4-H members who will be enrolled in their junior year of college in the fall of 1968. Candidates submit their applications through the state 4-H Club of office.

Scholastic and 4-H records will be judged in Chicago the first part of November, and winners will be announced during the National 4-H Congress held there, Dec. 1-5.

Donors of two scholarships each are: The S&H Foundation, Inc., The West Bend Company, and Sunbeam Corporation.

In addition to the home economics scholarships, S&H Foundation provides annual awards in the national 4-H Home Improvement program, reports the National 4-H Service Committee.

Representatives Show Caution On Parochial Education Aid

Parochial aid to education draws only cautious comments from some Observerland lawmakers, and absolutely no comment from others.

Hearings began last week around the state on controversial proposals to pay state aid to students attending non-public schools. Key developments to date have been:

- (1.) The introduction of a bill last year to pay parents $50 for each student in a parochial school;
- (2.) The killing of the measure in committee;
- (3.) The announced closing this summer of nine Catholic schools in the greater Detroit area, sending more than 1200 pupils to public schools;
- (4.) The announcement from Rev. Father John B. Zwers that the Detroit Archdiocesan School system's inner city schools faced financial difficulty, and that enrollments have dropped due to increased costs;
- (5.) The testimony from former Federal Judge John Felkens, in which he advanced the opinion that state aid to education would not violate the constitutional provision separating religion from the state.

The ten-member House-Senate study committee plans three weeks of hearings, and area representatives in Lansing will be receiving copies of the testimony for study.

There is little doubt the matter will come up at the next session, which opens after Jan. 1.

Observerland representatives, who could be reached for comment reacted with caution.

STATE SENATOR GEORGE KUHN

Kuhn, whose district includes Plymouth, Farmington and Livonia, said that so far he was "just an observer on the parochial aid question. I've honestly formed no opinions, but I'm sympathetic to the whole situation."

STATE SENATOR MRS. LORRAINE BEEBE

Mrs. Beebe, whose district includes Redford Township said she was reading the testimony from the hearings.

"I realize the non-public schools need help, but our first responsibility is to begin to solve the problems of the public schools."

Mrs. Beebe said she could not understand the measure proposed last year ($50 for each student to the parents, who in turn must pay it to the school). "It seems like the State Board of Education would have a tremendous police job," she said. Mrs. Beebe said she agreed there were students leaving non-public schools for public schools "but not to the extent that it is being played up."

She said shared time was a possibility because public schools already have the faculty and facilities. "It could be worked out and I don't think it is in conflict with the constitution."

She said she did not like the "dumping" threat heard in some circles, which would put all parochial kids in the laps of public schools. And she added she was open-minded about the problem, and would consider such solutions as shared time, where students go to public schools part time. She added she planned a questionnaire in her constituency on the matter.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE JOHN BENNETT

Bennett, whose district is Redford Township, has followed all the testimony, but remains uncommitted.

He said he read of Felkens' opinion on the legality of the matter, and "it appears he may be correct."

"But pluralism in the schools is good—it's good to have competition. I'd hate to see us with only one school system."

Tierney (Plymouth-Garden City) said hearings may again bring up the Thomas report.

"That report indicates that unless we find some means of assisting in these financial problems, private schools would go under. If the schools close, this is going to cause terrific impact; we're going to have to do something."

(The Thomas report was compiled by J. Alan Thomas for the legislature, and deals with financing public and private schools.)

Tierney said he was "sure the issue would get a thorough going over" before a decision was made.

Tierney also knew of Felkens' testimony and was intrigued by it.

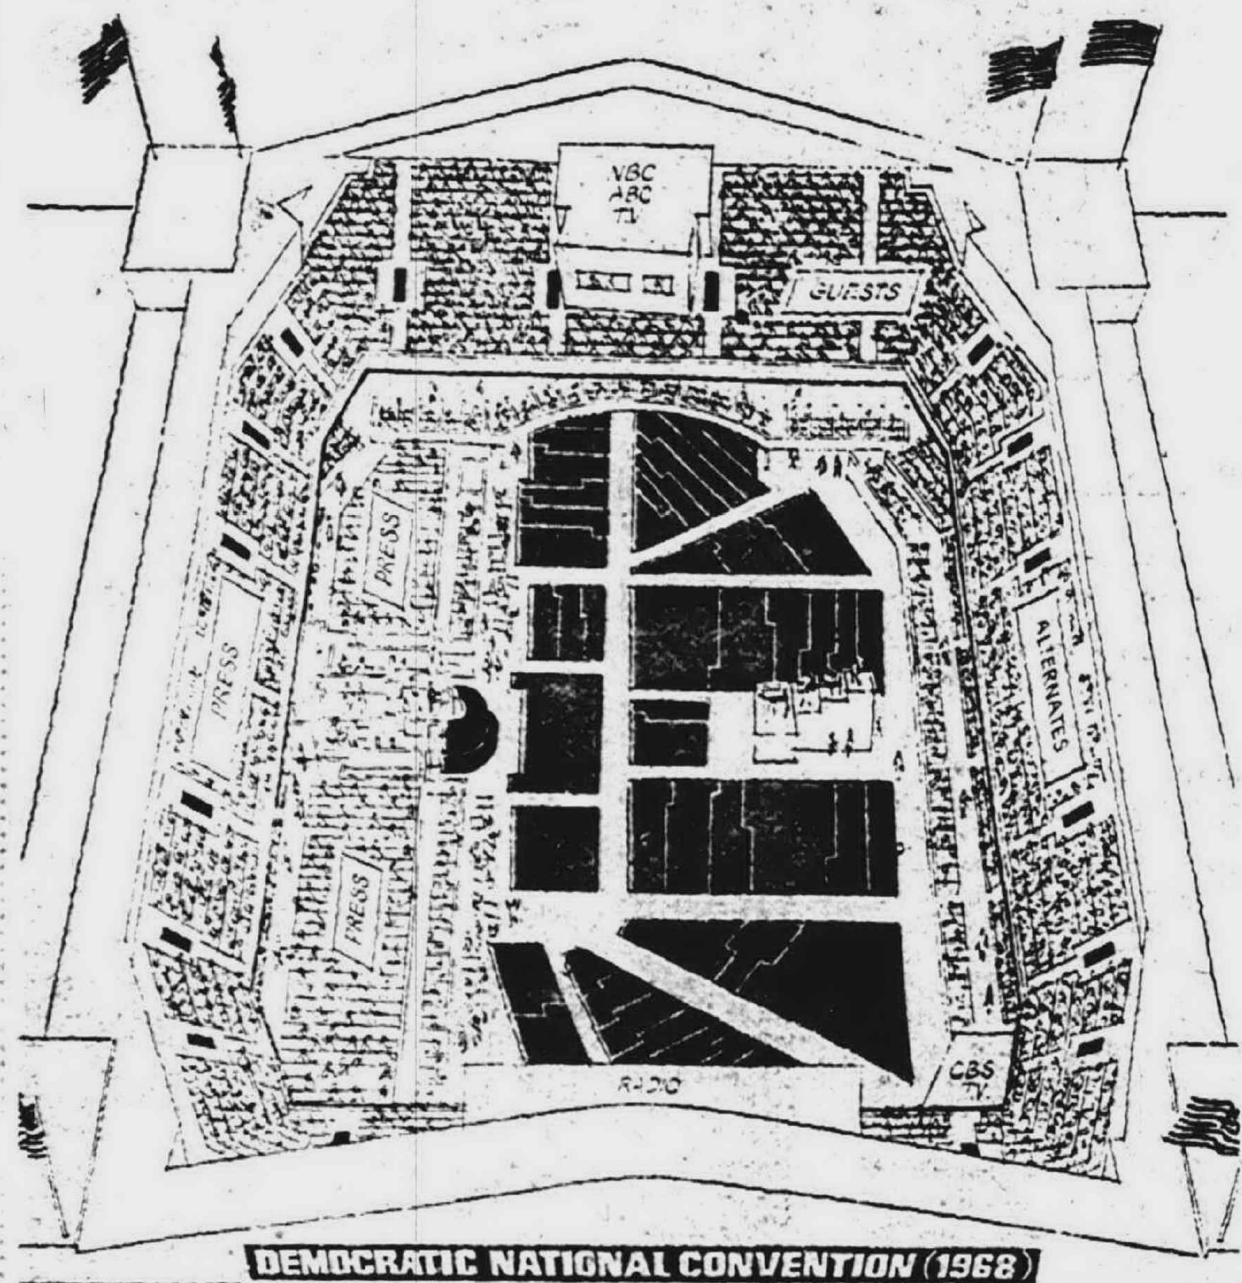

"I realize the financial problems the parochial schools are having—they can't get teachers and have to use more and more lay teachers."

STATE REPRESENTATIVE RAY BAKER

Baker, whose district includes Farmington, said the house committee acted wisely in refusing to report the bill out.

"It obviously needed a lot more study on our part. It was introduced late and we really didn't have time to study it," he said.

Edison Contracts For Expansion At Monroe

Detroit Edison today announced that orders have been placed for the major components of Unit Number Three at the company's Monroe Power Plant and of Unit Number Two to be installed on the site of the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant.

An order for a super critical pressure steam generator to supply steam for the new Monroe unit was placed with the Babcock and Wilcox Company and the contract for the steam turbine-generator was awarded to the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

The nuclear-fueled, water-cooled, slow neutron reactor for the new Fermi unit will be built by the General Electric Company and the English Electric Corporation of Stafford, England, will supply the steam turbine-generator.

THE DECISION to add the two large electric generating units to the Detroit Edison electric system was announced on July 26. These two projects represent an investment of more than $300 million, including the cost of site preparation and off-site transmission facilities, and are part of the company's planned expansion program through 1975.

Monroe Unit Number Three, scheduled for operation in late 1972, will be coal-fueled and will have a generating capacity of 800,000 kilowatts. The Babcock and Wilcox steam generator, capable of producing 5,700,000 pounds of steam an hour, will operate at a pressure of 3500 pounds per square inch, an initial temperature of 1000 degrees Fahrenheit and a reheat temperature of 1000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Unit Number Two at the Fermi site, planned for operation in early 1974, will produce 1,100,000 kilowatts of electric energy and will be the largest unit in the Michigan Electric Power Pool in which Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Company are the principal members.

PRIZE WINNER — Jim Hubbard, chief photographer of Observer Newspapers, Inc., rang the bell with a basketball picture that was included as one of the 30 best sports pictures of 1967. The ratings are made by Irving T. Marsh and Edward Shre, co-editors of the book, "Best Sports Stories of 1968," which featured stories and pictures of the previous year. Hubbard called his picture "Sudden Demand," taken of a Garden City-Lowrey, Dearborn basketball game.

Twice Denied, Redford Eyes National Crown On Third Try

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. -- Manager Bob Atkins said it wouldn't happen again to his Redford Township team in the All American Boys baseball tournament.

And it hasn't. In 1966 and again in '67, Atkins brought a Redford team here as state champions in the Detroit Free Press competition. Each time Redford was knocked out in two straight games.

"We'll win this time," proclaimed Atkins when Redford arrived here for the 1968 tournament.

Win Redford did on opening day—a 13-2 romp over Newark, Ohio.

The next day saw Redford rally for a 7-6 triumph against Milford, Mass.

AS A RESULT, Redford moved into a battle of unbeaten with Detroit Adray Appliance in the third-round of this, the premier teenage baseball tournament in the country.

Dan Camp, a southpaw from Plymouth who attends Flint Junior College, pitched a five-hitter against Newark and had a no-hitter going for 7 2/3 innings. He struck out 15 and walked one.

Two runs in the fourth inning proved enough for Redford to win after the Townshipers cashed one marker in the third. In the fourth, Bill Holmes singled, Joe Himmelsbach sacrificed him to second and Camp helped his own cause with a run-producing single. Lee Bjerke doubled Camp to third from where he scored on a single by Rod Ferguson.

CAMP ALSO added another single in the game, knocked in three runs and scored two more.

Plan Angler's School August 25

A school for fishermen will be held in Alpena, August 25-29 to teach anglers how to catch fish and how to enjoy fishing.

First of its kind in the nation, the Fresh Water Angling School will be sponsored by Michigan State University and Alpena Community College. Instructors will be representatives of major tackle firms and the faculty of the Department of Fisheries and Wildlife at MSU.

Lakes and streams in the northeastern Lower Peninsula will be "classrooms" for instructions in fishing methods, tackle, baits, and general fishing gear will be demonstrated and explained.

Details on registration, fees, accommodations, and other information may be obtained from: Freshwater Angling School, Kellogg Center, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich. 48823.

Mrs. Fox 4th In Golf Meet

Mrs. Charles Fox of Farmington shot a 94 to place fourth in the weekly Women's District Golf Association meet at Warwick Hills. Ann Bauer of Oakland Hills won with an 88.

Mrs. Gerald Ellsworth of Farmington shot 101-18-83 to win low net honors in the second flight.

GUESS WHAT they are talking about? Vice President Paul Ryder, of the Detroit Race Course, discusses golf with Gordie Howe, the superstar of the Detroit Red Wings, during his recent visit to the track. Each is a better-than-average golfer and discovered quickly it was easier to talk about putting and driving than it was to pick winners.

himself. Thus it was an afternoon the former Plymouth high star soon won't forget.

Himmelsbach chipped in with a double and two singles, knocked in one run and scored three. Ferguson added a double. Redford fell behind, 4-1, against Milford before striking for two runs in the third, one in the fourth and three in the sixth. In the second inning, Bob Holmes reached first on an error, stole second and scored on a wild throw for his Redford team's first run.

BOB BARNETT was safe on miscue to start the Redford third inning. Bill Fahey singled and Reg Barringer was safe on an error. Barnett scored on a fielder's choice and Fahey came over on an error.

In the fifth, Barnett singled and Barringer tripled for another run.

In the seventh, Ferguson walked, Dennis Carol sacrificed Marty Ingoulian was safe on an error and Barringer followed with what proved a game-winning homer over the fence in left center.

It was Barringer's third hit of the game. He also had a single and triple.

Carol relieved Paul Tonnemacher in the seventh with a runner on first and none out. He promptly picked the man off base and proceeded to retire the next eight men in a row.

By George Ballin observing sports

It's a tight squeeze. The schoolboys wind up their baseball play one week and start football the next.

Which is the way it goes hereabouts. Teams like Redford played in the All American Boys tournament this past week while Allen Fence won the state Class D crown at Jackson.

NOW MANY of the same boys are getting set to plunge into football drills Monday morning, the official starting time for prep gridders in Michigan's lower peninsula.

If we lived in the Upper Peninsula, there'd really have been a collision. The U.P. preps began football drills two weeks ago, and believe it or not, engage in their first football games next week end.

The boys above the Straits always have enjoyed the "fast" start. The arguments are that the weather gets worse up there quicker.

To us, it doesn't make much sense . . . when the preps at St. Ignace High are given a concession that their rivals across the bridge in Mackinac City or Cheboygan don't get.

But, we're drifting off on a subject that really wasn't our intent this day.

Notwithstanding the fact that various Observerland high schools plunge into football Monday morning, we still don't think this is football weather.

We'd much prefer to see something done to keep alive baseball for the teenagers, when after they return to the classroom a couple of weeks from Wednesday.

What's wrong with fall baseball on a school-boy level?

It's certainly more ideal for the preps to swat the ball around in September than it is in April when often they're ducking snowballs.

A HIGH SCHOOL baseball coach wouldn't have to waste time holding early drills for fall baseball. He'd inherit a ready-made team.

Take the Allen Fence aggregation. Every member of the team still has a year to go at Bentley. The boys are in shape and raring to go.

TO SAY THAT THERE aren't enough boys around at schools like Bentley or Farmington or North Farmington or Clarenceville or any of the others to field football and baseball teams simultaneously doesn't hold much water.

Not when the enrollments at most Observerland schools now are up to 2,000 or more students.

There are sections of the country where schools with smaller student bodies not only field football and baseball teams in the fall, but they also find enough boys to play soccer on a varsity level.

Speaking of soccer, this is a sport which should boom on the high school level.

For one thing, it doesn't cost much to sponsor. So, inexpensive jerseys and trunks, plus a pair of shoes, are the only requirements.

A couple of balls and some empty land with a couple of goal posts and you're in business.

Stevenson High found that soccer was a popular sport last year and there has been reports circulated that a few more schools may take up the sport. But, so far, we haven't heard from any — nor is it likely that we will until school starts.

SINCE THE SCHOOLBOYS have wrapped up their baseball for the season, let's reflect for a few moments on the happy developments.

Happy in that Redford's Earl Morrall won the state Connie Mack Crown and Allen went to Jackson to cop the Class D flag.

Redford also came up with the state champ in the Fress Press League.

Not very many areas anywhere in this country can boast such a chain of successes.

So, hats off.

Change Coho Salmon Limits

The Conservation Commission last week liberalized the take-home limit of coho and chinook salmon from three to six. The daily limit of three cohos and chinook remains unchanged.

The more liberal possession regulation, said commissioners, is a gesture to fishermen who drive many miles and who spend several days fishing. They should be permitted to take home more than a single day's limit.

Although the possession limit for salmon is six fish, anglers will still be restricted to having only the daily limit of three fish while actually fishing or aboard boats. The six-fish rule is for those who are ashore and not fishing.

THE FAMED ASTRODOME in Houston will stage a wide variety of sports events in the months ahead. Besides baseball and football, officials have announced a $25,000 midwest auto race and a pro basketball doubleheader. In the latter, Detroit will play Cincinnati while Boston meets San Diego.

Preps To Kick Off Football Practice Monday

It'll be rise and shine early for high school football players in Observerland Monday morning.

By 8 a.m., the preps will be checking into their various schools.

An hour later, they'll be on the practice field engaging in their first workouts as preparations begin for the 1968 season to begin less than three weeks later.

Most of the coaches expect that their proteges will report in shape.

At many of the schools, the preps have been engaging in conditioning drills since the first of August.

"We can't waste time with boys who come in fat and not ready," said one veteran coach.

THE FIRST week of drills will provide the coaches a chance to hold two sessions daily since the boys won't be returning to the classrooms until a week from Wednesday.

One thing the coaches and players hope for -- some cooler weather.

"If it continues as hot and as humid as it was last week, we could be in trouble," another coach said.

To "beat" the usual hot weather of late August, several coaches plan to work their boys in the early morning and then in the evening under lights.

Squad sizes will vary from a low of 40 to 75 and 80.

There'll be one new team on the scene -- Livonia Churchill.

The Churchill students will be attending Franklin high school for the time being. But they'll operate as a separate institution with Ken Kestner in charge of football.

Churchill will engage in pretty much of a "reserve" schedule in 1968 since only tenth graders will form the team.

PRESENT PLANS call for the new school embarking on a full varsity program next fall and likely entering league play at the same time.

Kestner, Dick Tyler at Farmington, George Lovich at Franklin and Bob Atkins at Redford Union comprise the only new head football coaches.

Lovich has replaced George Bentley, newly named athletic director at Churchill, while Atkins moved up to take over from John Rogers, who retired at RU.

Atkins is making a speedy transition in coaching. This past week, he directed Redford's baseball team in the All America Boys tournament at Altoona, Pa.

Here's a brief rundown on what the coaches can expect Monday morning:

BENTLEY (Larry Joiner, coach) -- Twelve veterans returning. Big job is a new quarterback and filling some holes in the line.

PLYMOUTH (Tom Moshimer, coach) -- Ouch! Lost are 23 of 29 lettermen from 1967. Vets to be led by Greg Corrigan (end) and fullback Bob Thornbladh.

REDFORD UNION -- Atkins will have a fairly young team, but he's confident that he can build winners in football the way he has in baseball.

NORTH FARMINGTON (Ron Holland, coach) -- Needs help from reserves to replace several standouts who brought Raiders within a game of title last year.

FRANKLIN -- Lovich inherits a solid team which should figure prominently in the title chase again. Franklin and Glenn shared the 1967 Northwest loop flag.

THURSTON (Bill McDonald, coach) -- Team should bounce up from fifth place. There are 15 veterans back, also a fine transfer student in Bill Bashara, a quarterback-halfback who has transferred from Divine Child where he played for three years.

STEVENSON (Jack Reardon, coach) -- Eight lettermen back including all-league fullback Dale Danver and hard-running Gene Walker. Mark Hulet returns up front for his third year on the varsity.

FARMINGTON -- Tyler has 13 letterwinners returning, including Kim Cramer and Steve Fleming, a pair of giant tackles. Tyler will be gunning to lift Farmington out of Interlake League cellar.

SORROWS (Herb Coleman, coach) -- Chances appear good for matching or surpassing last year's 5-2 record. Several fine veterans returning.

ST. AGATHA (Jerry Slevert, coach) -- This could be a great year for St. Agatha with 26 veterans back, among them quarterback Ron Blackmore and halfback Mike Murphy, along with guard Bill Gartner and tackle Dave Churches.

Sports Briefs

Ann Arbor -- The University of Michigan football team played and won a rare gridiron "doubleheader" on Oct. 3, 1931. In the first game, the Wolverines defeated Central State Teachers, now Central Michigan University, 27-0. In the nightcap, Michigan completed the sweep with a 34-0 shutout of Michigan State Normal, now Eastern Michigan University.

Ann Arbor -- The University of Michigan swimming team has won more NCAA individual swimming titles (106) than any other school. Ann Arbor -- Gerald Ford, minority leader of the United States House of Representatives, who served as chairman of the 1968 Republican National Convention, won three varsity football letters at the University of Michigan. Ford, a center, was selected as the Wolverines' Most Valuable Player in 1934.

Wolverines Battle Heat To Open Fall Workout

It was untolerably hot at the ground level and then when one descended 72 rows to the grassy gridiron of Michigan Stadium -- well, it was just like stepping into an electric furnace going at full blast.

Enduring the heat, but not enjoying it, were the members of the University of Michigan varsity football squad who had been ordered to appear in full equipment for the annual pre-season picture taking day program for the benefit of the press, radio and television.

It wasn't exactly the most enticing event of the year for the footballers but it was a field day for press and television photographers as well as sports scribes and TV and radio interviewers.

All of this took place on Thursday's steaming afternoon, after which the players joyfully raced back to the showers and then prepared to settle down for twice-a-day drills which started Friday morning.

It seems like a long time before the season opener against California on Sept. 21 but Head Coach Bump Elliott didn't think so.

"WE HAVE a great deal of work ahead," said the personable Bump who is starting his 10th year as boss of the Wolverines. "True enough we have 25 returning lettermen but there are some big gaps that will have to be filled in the line and we are still looking for a stronger crew of linebackers.

"We feel we have two excellent offensive backs in Capt. Ron Johnson and Quarterback Dennis Brown. It would appear at this time that we would build our offense around them but then we have other candidates who may come up with performances in the practices that could change things."

Elliott, never one to make optimistic predictions, feels that the Wolverines will be in the thick of things but also points out that this year's Big Ten race could be the tightest in several seasons.

"THE REPORTS from other campuses indicate that Indiana, the Rose Bowl representative on New Year's Day, is loaded with returning regulars," he smiled.

"Purdue expects to have a team even better than that of two years ago. Minnesota could be the one to beat for the championship and from the stories coming from Columbus -- well, it appears as if Woody Hayes will be roaring again and that's bad news for all of us that have to play Ohio State. "Matter of fact, everything I hear from Columbus points to the Bucks having their best team in a long time.

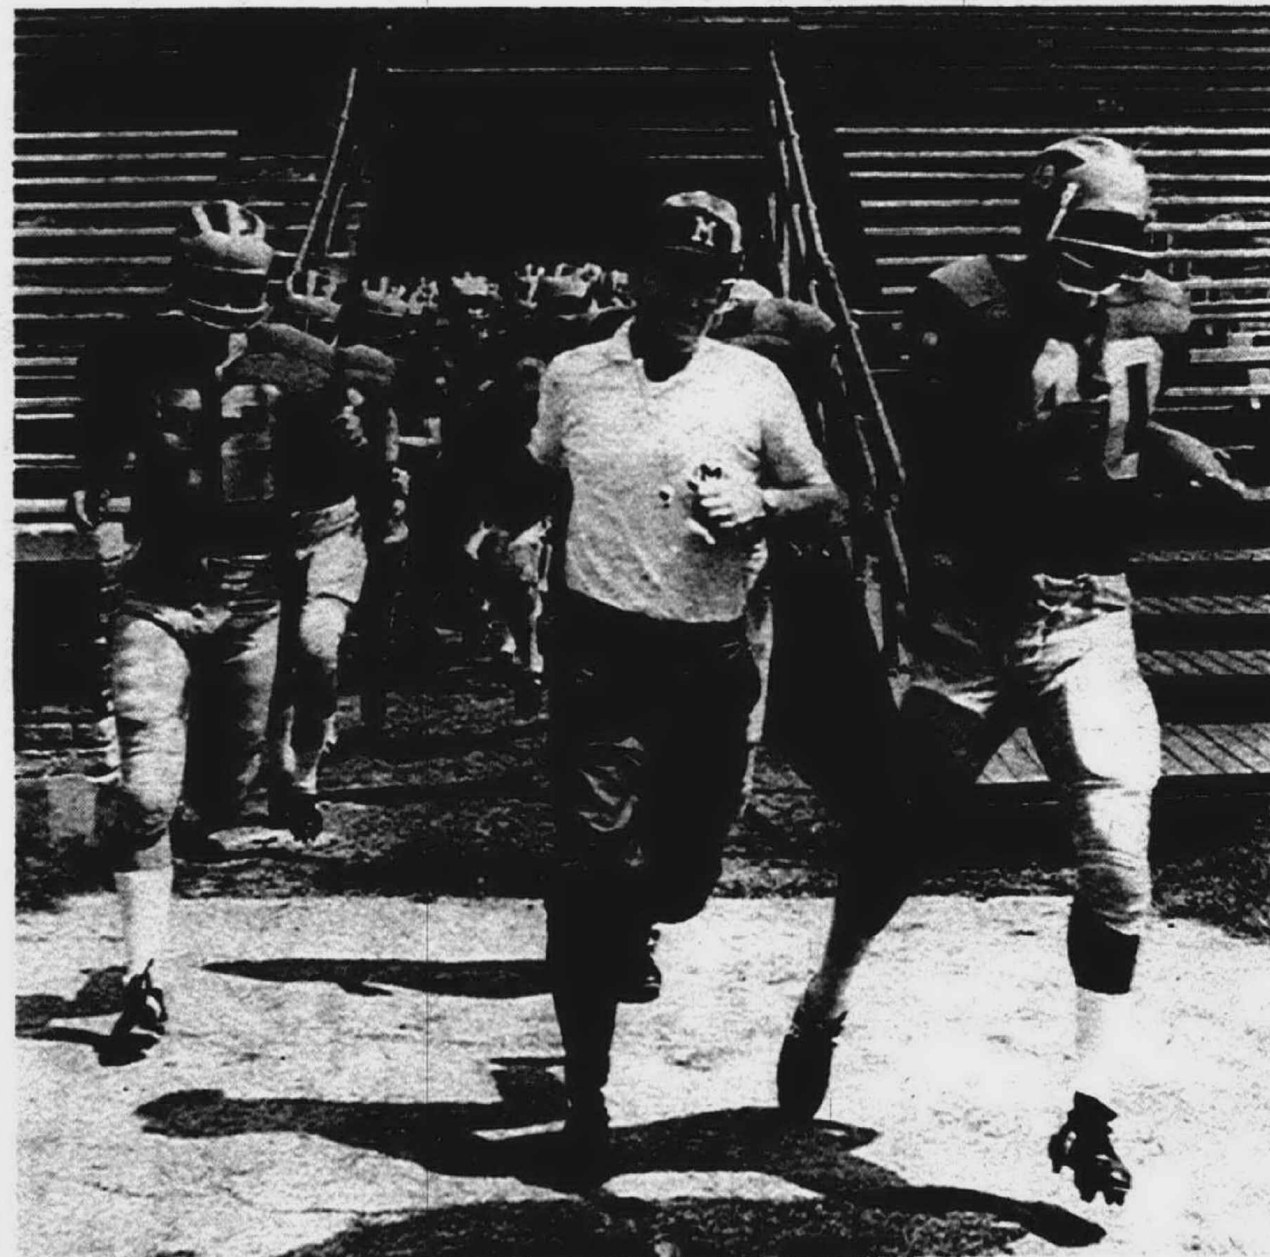

"We expect to be better-- there are quite a few question marks. I kind of feel that we have one of the toughest schedules in the conference this year. "We open against California and you can well remember that they whipped us last year and have 33 lettermen back. Then we tackle Duke on the Durham, N.C. campus and that's always rough assignment.

"We follow by entertaining a Navy outfit that is being touted as the best in a long time. All of that before we swing into the league schedule where we have our annual duel with Michigan State.

"WE'RE GOING to have a young team with experience at key spots but I want you to know that there are several sophomores who have excellent chances of cracking the starting lineup. It should be a most interesting year for Michigan and I hope a good one."

Then Bump wiped the sweat off his brow and started around the field to assist the visiting scribes in every way possible. There's a different atmosphere in the Wolverine camp this year--one that seems to indicate the Wolves will be snarling again and woe betide any of the opponents.

The first payoff comes on Sept. 21 when the Golden Bears come to Ann Arbor--as Bump indicated, this could be an interesting year for U-M and one that its followers will appreciate.

RACING OUT into a scorching stadium gridiron are the Mighty Men of Michigan in the pre-season picture day program. That's Coach Bump Elliott and Capt. Ron Johnson (right) leading the squad from the dressing rooms with quarterback Denny Brown (22) alongside. It was picture taking Thursday and then the Wolverines settled down to the task of getting ready for the Sept. 21 opener on Friday morning.

Injuries, Rough Schedule Worry Lions Coach

There's nothing Coach Joe Schmidt or anyone else connected with the Detroit Lions can do about it--"it" being the barrage of injuries which have hit the team in training.

And, "it" being the schedule the Lions face during the early weeks of the regular-season campaign in their bid for laurels in the National Football League.

The losses of guards John Gordy and Chuck Walton are bound to hurt. Ditto for the absence of back Nick Eddy and defensive end John Baker.

And will missing almost a month of work affect quarterback Bill Munson?

SCHMIDT PLUNGED into training at Cranbrook, hoping that all pieces would fit together smoothly and stay that way.

He knew in mid-July as he does now with September just around the corner that the Lions face a suicidal grind when the title campaign lifts on Sept. 15.

In successor the Lions must contend with Dallas, Chicago, Green Bay, Minnesota, Chicago and Green Bay.

About the only "soft touch" in that period is Minnesota. Dallas is the defending Eastern Division champ. The Chicago Bears are mightier than at any time in several years.

Green Bay still is Green Bay despite a pair of losses in recent exhibitions.

SCHMIDT DOESN'T like to mention the subject but a bad start could ruin the morale of his team. And fan interest, too.

Considering the youngness of the Lions' team, Schmidt much would have preferred being able to bring his squad along slowly.

For example, why couldn't the schedule have been reversed? Look at the last six games on the Lions' slate--Baltimore, Minnesota, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Atlanta and Washington.

Against such a list, the Lions easily could stand 6-0 or 5-1 by the end of the first six weeks of action.

But dreaming won't change the situation. Somebody "ganged up" against Detroit in arranging the NFL schedule.

Here's the '68 Lions' card:
SEPTEMBER: 15--at Dallas; 22--Chicago; 29--at Green Bay.
OCTOBER: 6--Minnesota; 13--at Chicago; 20--Green Bay; 27--San Francisco.
NOVEMBER: 3--at Los Angeles; 10--Baltimore; 17--at Minnesota; 24--New Orleans; 28--Philadelphia.
DECEMBER: 8--at Atlanta; 15--at Washington.
If the Tigers win the American League pennant, the Lions will shift their Oct. 6 game to Minnesota and meet the Vikings in Detroit on Nov. 17.
