GARDEN CITY—The City Council will hold a public hearing next Wednesday, Sept. 4, on a proposed downtown redevelopment program, to be financed with federal urban renewal funds. The program would cover 31 acres on the northeast corner of Ford and Middlebelt.

WESTLAND—The City Council Monday approved a five per cent wage increase for its city employees. But the union had already rejected the increase and has another meeting scheduled for this week to reconsider its action.

REDFORD—Township Treasurer Edward Kennedy was embarrassed when the civil service commission refused to approve promotions within his staff for which he had been paying increased wages since April 1, 1968. An "approval first" policy was adopted and enforced by the civil service commission after both Township Supervisor Aldrick Belaire and Township Clerk Mrs. Dawn Rice had gained promotion approvals belated to payroll increases.

LIVONIA—The Livonia City Council will be asked soon to approve a $100 down payment on the total purchase price of $300,000 for two and one-half acres of land, including buildings, now occupied by St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church on Farmington near Five Mile.

FARMINGTON—The Farmington Board of Education rescinded its opposition to the controversial Pulte development on 12 Mile Rd. Monday night and voted to take no stand at all. The 320 acres proposed for the "satellite village" would consist of single family homes, town houses, apartments and an 18-hole golf course.

LIVONIA—A cost-of-living salary boost next month will add three to four cents an hour to paychecks of Livonia city employees represented by Local 192 or who serve in non-supervisory capacities.

FARMINGTON—The Farmington Board of Education Monday night voted to appoint Mrs. Patricia Smith to fill the unexpired term left vacant by the resignation of George Otis. Mrs. Smith, 40, whose term will run until June 1969, is the first woman to sit on the school board since June 1967. She is past president of the Farmington Branch of the League of Women Voters.

WESTLAND—The Michigan department of education has named two of its personnel to study the reorganization of the Nankin Mills School District among its neighboring districts. The Nankin Mills school board is seeking to dissolve itself to assure a senior high school program for all of its students. At present, the district only has a program through the ninth grade.

Stirton Appointed To School Board

William E. (Ned) Stirton, Jr., managing director of Detroit Tooling Association, was appointed Monday night to fill a vacancy on the Plymouth Board of Education.

Stirton is taking over where Calvin Strom left off when he resigned from the board two weeks ago because he is going to move out of the school district.

Stirton, 39, resides at 44731

Charnwood, Plymouth Township, with his wife, Carol Ann—a former first grade teacher in Plymouth—and their four children, Bruce, 11; Ann, 9; Rob, 5, and Andrew, 3.

HIS MOST recent connection with Plymouth School District was as co-chairman of the Extended School Year Study Committee which recently completed its report.

He holds master's and bachelor of arts degrees from the University of Michigan in the field of social psychology.

As managing director of the tooling association he supervises tool and die apprenticeships.

Under Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Stirton served on the Governor's Committee for Retraining the Unemployed.

He was also a member of the Detroit Board of Education's Vocational Advisory Committee.

The family moved to Plymouth eight years ago from Detroit.

THE NEW board member is a member of the U. of M. Regents Alumni Scholarship Committee and he is president of the 9th District U. of M.

Alumni Club, both of which include the Plymouth area.

Upon accepting his appointment, he said, "As a responsible member of the community, with children in the school system and my past service in the state I will try to bring to the board of education some open-minded, thoughtful evaluation of its problems with special emphasis on vocational education."

WILLIAM E. STIRTON, JR.

City's Water Rates Under Fire School Taxes Settled Study Shows Costs

Plymouth School Board Monday night established a tax levy of 31.15 mills for 1968 and also awarded a $1.45 million tax note on money borrowed in anticipation of those taxes.

The 1968 tax levy is broken down as follows: 22.15 mills for operation; 7.30 mills for debt; and 1.70 for building and site.

National Bank of Detroit was awarded the school district tax note at an annual interest rate of 3.25 per cent and a $4 premium.

The only other bid received on the tax note was from Kenower MacArthur & Co. for an annual interest rate of 3.70 per cent with a $217.50 premium.

The tax rate is based on $188,112,621 state equalized valuation.

In dollars the 22.15 operating millage will amount to $4,166,695 and the 1.70 building and site portion will amount to $319,791.

The debt portion of 7.30 mills is broken down as follows: 1965 debt, .95 mills for $178,707; 1966 debt, 1.20 mills for $225,735; 1967 debt, 2.70 mills for $507,904; and 1968 debt, 2.45 mills for $460,876.

The 22.15 mills for operating are broken down: allocated millage, 8.90 mills; voted 3.50 mills expires 1968; voted 3.25 mills expires 1969; voted 5 mills expires 1971; and voted 1.50 mills expires 1972.

The total expected to be collected from the 31.15 mills is $5,859,708.

FINAL PLYMOUTH PARADE—The public didn't know it at the time, but when this famed Color Guard of Plymouth's VFW Mayflower Post marched down Main Street July 4 it was to be the unit's last home appearance. Retirement of the Color Guard was announced after the men took runner-up honors at the national VFW Convention for the second successive year.

Noted VFW Color Guard Retires

The precision stepping Color Guard unit, which has represented VFW Mayflower Post of Plymouth in national and state competition and has been the "leader of the parade" in every community procession for years, will be among the missing in future events.

That was the announcement Monday by Drill Sergeant Hal Young who stated the unit has retired and disbanded after nine years of continuous drills and willingness to participate in events in the area and in Canada.

The unit faded out in a blaze of glory, taking second in the national competition at the annual VFW convention in downtown Detroit last week. Competing against champions from five other states, Mayflower Post took runner-up honors to Elmhurst, Ill., with a score of 81.45 of a possible 100.

The competition took place in the terrific heat which prevailed during the entire week of the convention. It was the second straight year Mayflower Post placed second in the nationals.

As a matter of fact, Mayflower Post almost skipped the nationals after Flag Bearer Ray Danol suffered a heart attack just two weeks before the competition. He was replaced by Howie Witt.

"It was a hard decision," said Young in commenting on the retirement. "But the men are just tired out. We have carried the name of Plymouth to hundreds of cities in Michigan, Canada and several states.

"We were always recognized and welcomed in every appearance. Whether it be in the July 4 parade in Plymouth or the colorful Torchlight procession in London, Ontario, we always did our best. We tried desperately to bow out as the national champions but had to be content with the No. 2 spot."

Post Trustee James McKindles, who has followed the team from the moment it was first organized, had high praise for the unit.

"The Color Guard is made up of men ranging in age from 30 to 49," he said. "They paid 90 per cent of the expenses necessary for traveling to the various conventions and for their appearances. They have practiced for hours each Sunday for years and this has meant sacrifices by them and their families. I can understand that they are tired and feel now is a good time to retire."

The unit was made up of: Sgt. Young, Rifle Bearer Jack Olsaver, Duane Johnson, Bill Fletcher and Herman Cutshaw; Flag Bearers Bill Kamen, Ray Danol, Howard Witt and Bob Smith.

It had competed in nationals in Miami, Cleveland, New York City and Detroit, finishing second twice.

Plymouth's City Commission received Monday night an engineering analysis of the comparative costs between maintaining its own water supply system or buying water from Detroit—a report dated Dec. 26, 1967—and immediately agreed that no decision can be made on this issue until another study is made.

Johnson & Anderson, Inc., a consulting engineering firm in Pontiac which was authorized to do the analysis last Sept. 8, offered no explanation why the report gathered dust for eight months to the day.

However, Commissioner Arch Vallier, chairman of the city's water study committee, said the original draft had been revised several times in that span.

WHEN FINALLY presented by Vallier to the full commission, the report outlined the municipal cost of several water-supply alternatives, but did not go on record with a conclusive statement that any one was to be preferred over the others.

What it did do, in the main, was pinpoint the cost of pumping, transmitting and distributing Plymouth's current consumption of 984 million gallons of water per year. It pegged this cost at 19.1 cents per thousand gallons.

This fact and its off-shoots dominated Monday night's discussion, one which attracted a baker's dozen residents to city hall.

Vallier demonstrated from official municipal records that numerous business and industrial firms are being billed for water at less than cost and called for an investigation of these inequities. With only Commissioner Robert Smith Continued on Page 4A

U.S. Probes 'Date Bureau'

Postal inspectors today said they will investigate a mass mailing in Plymouth offering a date counselling service between blacks and whites.

Anthony DiJohn, postal inspector in charge at Chicago, confirmed the offer was fictitious and "we'll cooperate in every way."

The letter, mailed early in August, said Dr. Don J. Davies, a dentist and chairman of the Plymouth Commission on Human Relations, and The Rev. David Strang, pastor of Epiphany Lutheran Church, were offering such a service.

The letter was attached to a copy of a July 19 Time magazine article on "Black & White Dating," which carried interviews with young people and their parents regarding mixed dating.

The article took no position but documented that many parents are experiencing a "hang up" over the prospect.

Other postal authorities said the normal investigative procedure is to compare typewriters to find the one on which the letter was written and to compare handwriting, since the envelopes were hand-addressed.

The letter was signed by typewriter, "The Plymouth League for Integration." Local officials, including the Chamber of Commerce, said they know of no such organization.

Dr. Davies confirmed that several of the letters first came to his neighborhood and were, with some exceptions, sent to those most vehement in their opposition to Plymouth's new open housing ordinance.

"If there is such an organization, it certainly hasn't made itself known publicly," he said. "And no, we haven't tried to arrange dates for anybody. I don't intend to arrange dates. There's no truth in it at all."

The letter listed Dr. Davies' and Mr. Strang's telephone numbers, but both said they have not received any calls in response to the letter.

"I don't expect to," said Dr. Davies.

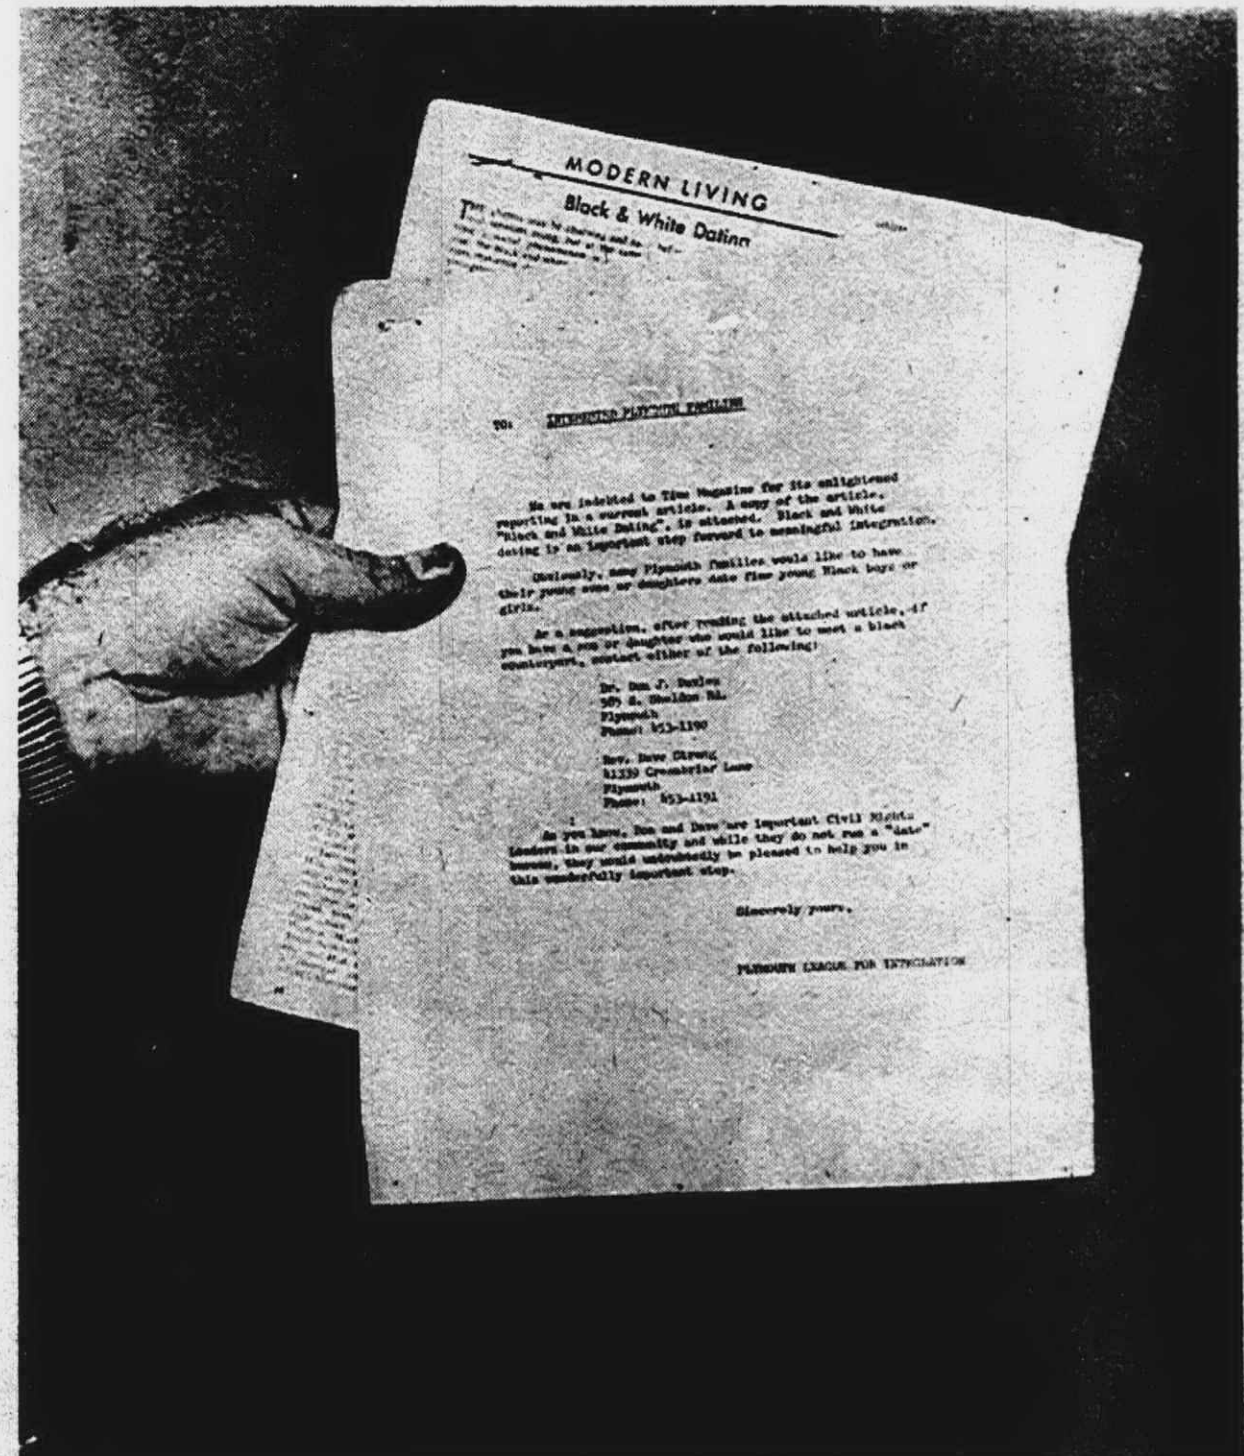

Rev. Strang said: "I think the letter is a not too funny joke."

"While I'm not out to get any set of teenagers matched up—black, white or in-between—I'm certainly not opposed to it if that's what they want to do."

"I think the implications of the letter are that we're trying to run some kind of clandestine operation. It's not true."

DiJohn said his office is compiling a file on the mailing for a legal interpretation in light of Federal law against such mailings.

"Then we'll assign an inspector to go to Plymouth to find out the facts," he said.

UNDER INVESTIGATION—This is the letter, offering information on an alleged interracial date counselling service, which has brought on a probe by U.S. postal authorities. The full impact of the letter is evaluated in the accompanying article.

Bobby's Widow Won't Attend Dem Convention

CHICAGO -- Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy will remain in seclusion at Hyannis Port, Mass., during the Democratic National Convention this week and its filmed tribute to her slain husband whose 11th child she is expecting late this year.

Sen. Edward Kennedy, (D-Mass.) sole survivor of the four Kennedy brothers, will stay with her on Cape Cod even though he is chairman of the Massachusetts delegation to the convention.

Sources close to the family indicated their reasons for staying away are mostly personal. Neither wants to suffer the ordeal of renewed grief that condolences of hundreds of delegates would bring.

PAPETTE, TAHITI -- France detonated its first hydrogen bomb Saturday and joined the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and Communist China as members of the thermonuclear club.

The H-bomb was triggered from a balloon over the Mururo Atoll 800 miles southeast of Papette after a week of weather-caused postponements.

The blast in the atmosphere capped eight years in preparations at a cost of billions of dollars.

The United States exploded the first H-bomb in November, 1952.

GLENDAL, CALIF. -- Seven teen-age fire-fighters and their adult foreman died battling a wind-whipped brush fire last week in the Los Angeles foothills. Three others were injured.

The youngsters were trying to stretch a hose from a fire truck over a blackened hill top when a gust of wind blew flames up a funnel-like canyon and over them. The fire rushed 400 yards past them toward a ridge.

None of the dead was immediately identified.

The Los Angeles County Fire Department said they were between 15 and 17 years old and wards of juvenile court.

LANSING -- Job stability and an economic upturn in the first half of 1968 were reported by the State Commerce Department.

"The report indicates Michigan salary and wage earners are enjoying income gains well above the average income increases in other parts of the nation," the department said.

During the first quarter of this year, personal incomes hit $31 billion, a 4.8 per cent increase over the last quarter of 1967 and up 10 per cent over the same period in 1967.

Nationally income gains for the first quarter were 2.5 per cent higher than the last three months of 1967 and 7.4 per cent above the same period in 1967.

LANSING -- Liquor-on-Sunday has been approved in 63 of Michigan's 83 counties and 10 county boards of supervisors have rejected the proposal, according to the Michigan Licensed Beverage Association.

The 10 counties that turned down Sunday liquor sales have a population of 787,814. Kent County, with 363,187 residents, is the largest on that list, the association said.

Other counties rejecting the proposal were Gratiot, Shiawassee, Montcalm, Saginaw, Tuscola, Benzie, Kalkaska, Gladwin and St. Joseph.

NAPOLEON, O. -- About two million pounds of tomatoes that can't be processed because of limited production at the Campbell Soup Co. plant here are being dumped back into the fields and plowed under because of the strike by 1,350 production workers, a company spokesman said.

The workers, members of the Cannery and Allied Workers Union Local 146 of the Amalgamated Butcher Workmen of North America, AFL-CIO, went on strike July 29.

Since then, the plant in Henry County has been operated by 300 salaried employees who have been unable to maintain production at the peak of the harvest season.

CLEVELAND -- A task force trained and equipped to cope with snipers, bank robbers and other instances of heavy gunfire is being set up in the Cleveland Police Department, Mayor Carl B. Stokes has announced.

The 60-man force will be on round-the-clock patrol throughout the city in specially equipped armored vehicles.

INKSTER -- Almost half of the City of Inkster's police force resigned Monday in a dispute over wages and hours. Twenty-one men left.

Police Chief James Fyke said the city will be able to continue its previous level of police protection with the help of State Police and Wayne County Sheriff's deputies.

The resigning patrolmen included eight of the 43-member department's 14 black members.

Laurence Chastang, president of the Inkster Police Officers Association, said all resigning patrolmen already have applied for jobs with the Detroit Police Department.

However, Inspector Robert F. Quaid, director of personnel for Detroit police, said no applications have been received from any of the officers.

CHICAGO -- Security arrangements were the greatest ever for the Democratic National Convention. About 26,000 men have been mobilized to combat any racial flareup or antiwar violence during the convention.

In the city, 5,600 National Guardsmen stood by in armories, 1,000 federal agents guarded hotels and mingled with crowds and Chicago's 11,900 policemen were on 12-hour shifts.

PRAGUE -- Soviet and Allied occupying troops will be withdrawn from Czechoslovakia under an agreement between Soviet and Czechoslovak leaders in Moscow, Czech diplomatic sources have reported.

The sources said the talks were still continuing to work out a communique, which was expected to be issued shortly.

The Czechoslovak sources said there were other details of the agreement which they did not know and "a fair amount of explaining" would be necessary among the Czech population.

Schoolcraft, Faculty Ink 2-Year Pact

Unless something unforeseen develops, peace will reign on the Schoolcraft College campus for the next two years. Peace in terms of negotiations between the administration and the Faculty Forum -- the teams have agreed on a two-year contract.

The pact ended more than eight months of negotiations, climaxed by three marathon sessions during the past two weeks which culminated in an agreement on money matters.

However, the Board of Trustees isn't out of the woods yet. It still has to set a pattern of salary increases for the administration. That matter was expected to take up part of Wednesday's regular meeting and probably won't be resolved for some time.

AS IT IS the Trustees and College President Dr. Eric Bradner were happy that an agreement was reached with the Faculty Forum in time to start the fall term Thursday as scheduled.

Announcement of the accord was made jointly by Dr. Bradner and Walter O. Hoffman, member of the faculty and president of the Faculty Forum.

The agreement covers 140 faculty members, counselors and assistant librarians and represents an economic package of almost $320,000 over the two year period.

Salary increases and adjustments with fringe benefits add up to an $118,000 package for this year. The total cost of the contract does not include regular increments.

The agreement was approved by the faculty on August 23, by a vote of 69 to 9 with one member abstaining. Trustees approved the pact August 24, on a 5-0 vote.

Three members of the Board were absent from the special meeting called to ratify the contract in advance of the scheduled start of the academic year.

PERTINENT TERMS of the economic package for this year are across-the-board raises of $500 for all members of the bargaining unit, upward salary adjustments of $700, $550, and $400 for faculty members hired in 1964, 1965, and 1966, and payment by the Board of an additional one-quarter of the cost of dependents group hospital and medical insurance to a total of 75 per cent of the premium cost.

In addition, the entire salary scale was increased by $500 to accommodate the across-the-board raises.

For the 1969-70 academic year, the contract provides for an across-the-board raise of $600, upward salary adjustments of $300, $250, and $200 for the 1964-66 faculty hires, and the assumption by the Board of 100 per cent of the dependents group hospital and medical premiums.

The salary adjustments split over the two years are designed to bring faculty members hired in the 1964-66 period up to scale on the salary schedule.

Also in 1969-70, the salary scale will move up another $600, and upward adjustments in the overload and part-time teaching salary scales will take effect.

THE CONTRACT provides for two basic salary schedules: one for 36 weeks covering most instructors; and one for 48 weeks covering instructors in the health careers and the high-way technology program, counselors and assistant librarians.

It provides for four main salary tracks covering instructors with less than a masters degree, those holding the MA degree, those with an MA plus 30 graduate hours, and those holding the Ph.D. degree.

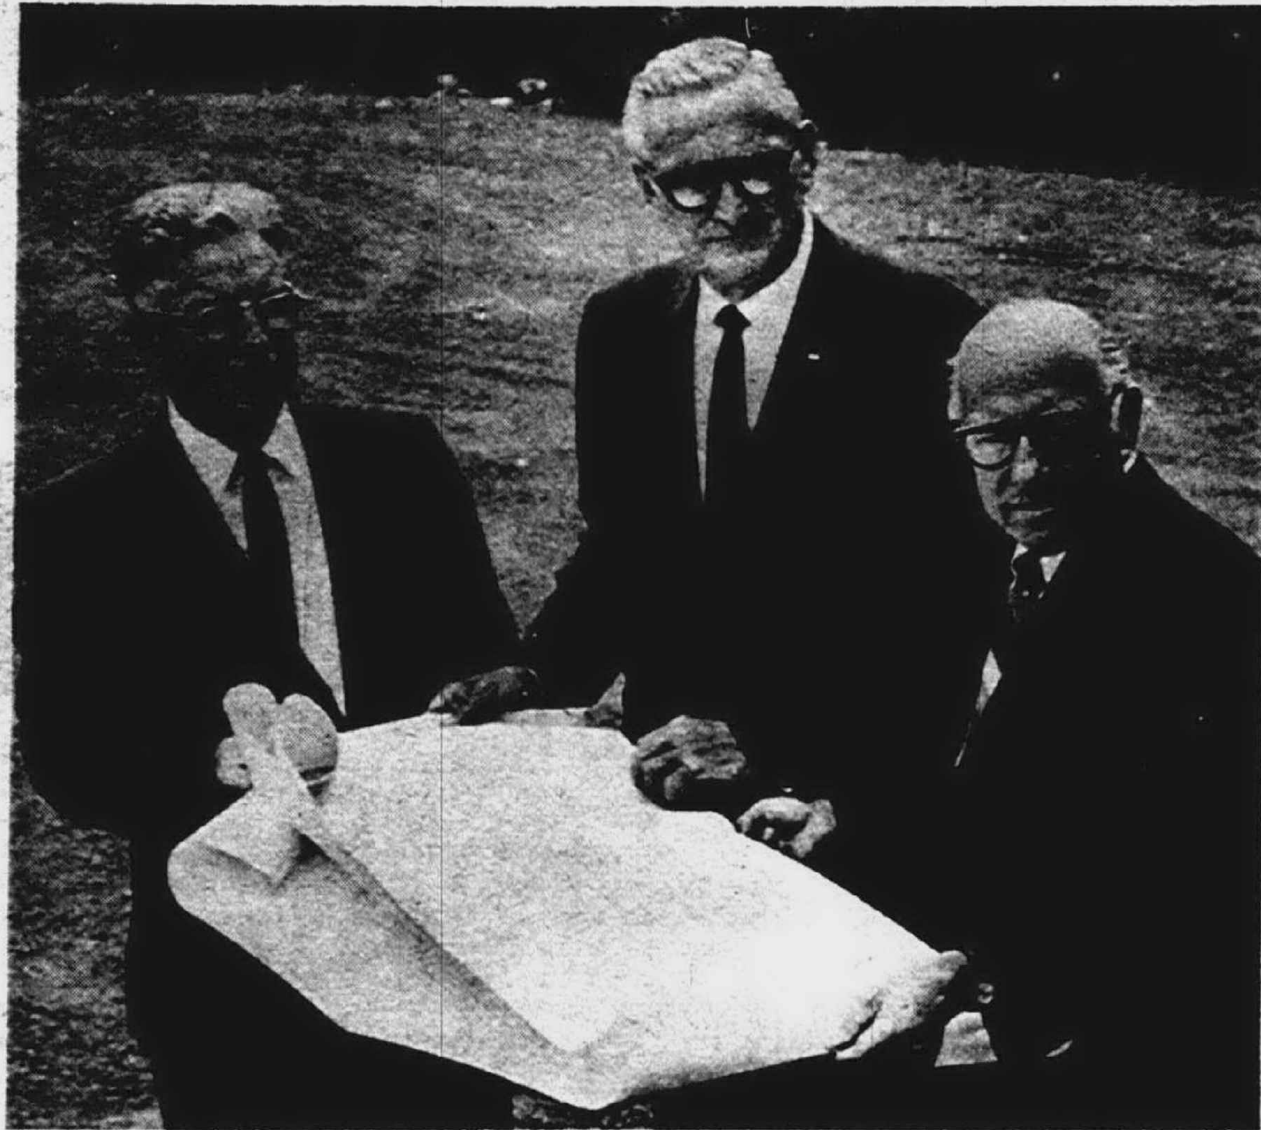

The majority of Schoolcraft instructors are on the two middle tracks applying to masters and masters-plus-30.

The salary range this year for the MA schedule on a 36-week basic contract is $8,000 for a beginning instructor to a top of $12,000. Next year the range will be $8,600 to $12,600.

On the 48-week basic contract the ranges will be $10,000 to $15,000 this year, and $10,750 to $15,750 next year.

ANOTHER significant change was the detailing of evaluation procedures to be followed during the two years of probationary status for new instructors.

Contract talks began last January and were sent to fact-finding earlier this month. Eight days of intensive bargaining beginning Aug. 14, produced the final agreement.

U-M Expert Says Russia Buying Time In Czech Move

ANN ARBOR -- Russia is buying time by invading Czechoslovakia but the eventual price will be high, a University of Michigan authority on Eastern Europe believes.

"Moscow will squelch the interest that a lot of East Europeans had in cultivating West German investments," according to Prof. William Zimmerman. "And it will remain dominant, at least temporarily, in what remains of the Communist camp."

"BUT IN the long run it stands to lose much. It will suffer greatly in the non-Western World--places like India and the African states. And the Soviet Communist Party will certainly lose what remaining influence it has over the Communist parties in places like France, Italy, and Sweden."

"Moreover, in Eastern Europe, Yugoslavia and Romania will further dissociate themselves from the International Communist movement."

"And the gap will increase further between the dogmatist regimes and the citizenry--between Ulbricht and the Germans, between Gomulka and the Poles, and between the Kremlin and Russians like the poet Yevushenko."

Zimmerman, who maintains contacts in Eastern Europe and reads papers like Pravda and Izvestia every day, specializes in Soviet-bloc relations in U-M's Center for Russian and East European Studies. He also teaches in the political science department.

HE SEES THE Soviet invasion partly in economic terms:

"Czechoslovakia's new leaders had had their eyes on investment capital from West Germany, which would have been perhaps their only source of money other than Russia. They needed capital--which Russia was not providing--to rebuild the country's stagnant economy."

"No doubt others in places like Poland and East Germany--though not those nation's leaders--had the same idea. 'Now the Soviet invasion ought to turn those eyes back East and preserve, temporarily, what strength there is in Comecon (the East European version of the Common Market).'"

But, Zimmerman says, the argument over the Czech's internal economic structure is only a mask for arguments over political and social structure.

THE NEW liberals like ousted President Alexander Dubcek believe in a decentralized economy, which is an important way of promoting freedom in society. The old Stalinists like former President Antonin Novotny argued for centralized economy, which is a means of maximizing control over society.

"It's really an argument over the distribution of power and decision-making, over the kinds of alternatives which can be adopted, or at least advocated," Zimmerman doubts that Novotny will be restored to power by the Soviet conquerors. "They'll probably find another Kadar," he said, referring to the Hungarian president whom the Russians installed after the 1956 uprising.

KADAR AND HUNGARY remain enigmatic this week. Kadar has been careful for months not to alienate either oldline Moscow or reformist Prague. Russia has said that some Hungarian soldiers participated in the Czech invasion, but Zimmerman speculates that "Hungary probably didn't send much more than an ambulance corps or a signal corps."

East Germany, Poland, and Bulgaria are more clearly hard-liners in the Stalinist tradition. There is little question in Zimmerman's mind that the East German and Polish leaders put strong pressure on Moscow to stamp out the germ of reform in Czechoslovakia.

But the professor does not accept the idea that the Kremlin "bowed" to that pressure. "There was plenty of pressure in the Soviet Politburo itself," he says, "as well as in the Communist Party and the Soviet security apparatus."

Curiously, Zimmerman says the Red Army may have been more dovish than other Moscow elements on the question of what to do about the free-wheeling Czechs. But he attributes this to military caution and not political sympathy.

Within the Soviet hierarchy, according to Zimmerman, Premier Alexei Kosygin appears to stand most to suffer. It was he who sought last spring to keep Dubcek firmly in the Moscow orbit, through subtle diplomatic efforts, and he failed.

ZIMMERMAN foresees no direct action by the United States, but he expects the position of "peace candidates" to be significantly weakened along with the more general policy of "peaceful engagement."

VA Tells Of Aid For Kin Of GIs

The Veterans Administration will pay up to $130 a month to help educate each son and daughter of a veteran who died in military service or of a veteran totally and permanently disabled from a service-connected cause. Children of veterans who died after discharge of service-connected disabilities are also eligible.

These payments are usually provided for sons and daughters between the ages of 18 and 26, Robert M. FitzGerald, manager of the VA Regional Office in Michigan said. The program is intended for education beyond the secondary school level, he said, but there are some exceptions.

Marriage does not bar this benefit.

AN ELIGIBLE PERSON may receive up to 36 months of schooling--or the equivalent of 36 months if enrolled parttime. Monthly payments are lower if the enrollment is for less than full time, and no payment is authorized for less than half time.

Eligible people of legal age may file their own applications for this program with a Veterans Administration Office, FitzGerald said. For minor children, the parent or guardian must file, he added.

Special restorative training may be provided to young men or women unable to pursue an education because of some physical or mental disability. It consists of training such as speech and voice correction, lipreading, Braille reading and writing and the like.

In some instances, handicapped children may begin a special vocational or restorative course as early as age 14.

NCA Continues Accreditation For Madonna

Sister M. Danatha, president of Madonna College, has announced that the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, at its meeting on July 26, voted to continue the accreditation of Madonna College for another 10-year term as a Bachelor's degree-granting institution. The initial accreditation dates back to 1959.

The college was reviewed during the latter part of March by President Miller Upton of Beloit College and Rev. Joseph S. Pendergast of Milford College.

Judge To Hear Clark Appeal For New Trial

A request for a new trial for the Farmington Township physician Dr. Ronald E. Clark, convicted of manslaughter June 28, will be heard in the Ingham County Court House Friday, at 2 p.m.

Hearing the motion will be Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer.

Clark's trial was held in Ingham County after Judge Beer granted the defense counsel a change of venue from Oakland County.

The court appointed attorney, Philip E. Rowston, was granted the change because of newspaper publicity surrounding the case.

Clark was found guilty in the Nov. 3, 1967 death of his part-time nurse Mrs. Tharon E. (Grace) Neil, of Livonia. He was sentenced to a three to 15 year prison term on July 18.

IN HIS MOTION for a new trial Rowston cites seven points. Among these points are contentions that:

The prosecutor and police refused to release the doctor's records of Grace Neil to Rowston before the trial. The attorney says that this prevented him from conducting required research and review of the patient's prior history of treatments.

A prominent New York physician, Dr. Lester C. Mark, has come forward and is willing to testify that the amount of sodium pentothal found in Mrs. Neil's brain is not fatal. Rowston says that this is new evidence for the trial.

Rowston also cited the fact that the witness from the State's Crime lab, Dr. S. David Kutob, testified that he had found 17.1 mg per cent of sodium pentothal in a blood sample taken from the deceased in a test conducted just before the trial. Earlier Dr. Kutob had testified that he had found 3.1 mg per cent of the medication in the blood sample.

The attorney asserts that he "was taken by surprise and was unable to secure competent testimony to rebut the opinion of this expert witness before the trial was concluded."

Mrs. Clark Receives LBJ Appointment

Mrs. Violet Clark, the wife of the Farmington Township physician currently serving a jail sentence for manslaughter, has received a presidential appointment.

She has been named as a liaison officer for the Special Committee On Education for the Presidential Commission for Observation of Human Rights for 1968. The appointment was signed by President Johnson.

The first meeting of the committee is in the Washington D.C. headquarters of the Health, Education and Welfare Department on Sept. 10. Mrs. Clark, who is a secondary school counselor in the Dearborn Schools, said that she will attend the meeting "if I can have the day off."

Water Rates To Be Probed

absent, he gained full accord from his colleagues.
They requested the same consulting firm, Johnson & Anderson, to submit a proposal at the next commission meeting (Tuesday, Sept. 3) on the cost of conducting a full scale study of the rate structure, both as it stands and what it would be under the various future supply alternatives.

"THIS IS the first thing we have to correct; this rate structure has to be changed whether we do anything else or not," declared Commissioner James Houk in backing Vallier.

It was Houk who pointed out that the water rate ordinance dates from 1948 and that the basic schedule has not been altered since then despite the rising cost pattern.

The city charges water users 34 cents per 1,000 gallons for the first 17,000 gallons consumed in any two-month billing period and then 28 cents per 1,000 gallons for the next 50,000 gallons. Depending upon the quantity used, the scale then drops downward to 17 cents, 15 cents and finally 13 cents per 1,000 gallons as usage increases.

Pointing to his unearthing the fact that numerous businesses move quickly into the discount bracket at a point below the 19.1 cent cost factor, Vallier said that in effect this amounts to "little users subsidizing the big ones."

The Johnson & Anderson analysis submitted Monday outlined engineering improvements it deems necessary in the existing Plymouth distribution system if it is to be continued.

It cited two alternative plans for obtaining water from Detroit's metropolitan network, the cost of one being 40.4 cents per 1,000 gallons and the other 42.2 cents for the same quantity.

Locally operated, the needed improvements in lines and treatment would boost cost per 1,000 gallons of city water from 19.1 cents up to approximately 35 cents, Vallier qualified this as an "engineer's estimate which might be a little low."

Actually, he said, there's little prospect of any important difference between the two price structures. He said the difference "would not be prohibitive."

Sentiment of the commission pointed toward a desire to initiate improvements in the local flow, including a new plant for giving the water a split-treatment line softening process. It was conceded that a virtual doubling of production costs is inevitable.

JOHNSON & ANDERSON'S

summary listed these advantages and disadvantages of Detroit water being supplied Plymouth:

"Advantages --

"1. Water hardness reduced.
"2. Source of supply offers unlimited quantity of water for the foreseeable future.

"Disadvantages --

"1. Variable temperature from 70 degrees F. in summer to 33 degrees F. in winter, a condition which can seriously affect industrial cooling requirements in summer.

"2. Vulnerability of supply to remote purchasers.

"3. Susceptibility of surface water supply to nuclear and other pollution.

"4. Higher cost.

"5. At least a 30-pound pressure fluctuation under present proposal.

"6. Disappointment to many consumers who plan to abandon water softeners and must find, as many other communities have, that Detroit water is harder than that which they are presently using, after softening.

"7. No assurance of future cost rate.

"8. All future construction standards must conform to Detroit standards; they must be approved by the city of Detroit, and in Plymouth your standard hydrant would change on future installations."

Urge Drivers Take Care, Avoid Rear End Mishaps

This could be the safest and least expensive Labor Day weekend of recent record if the nation's motorists would responsibly and effectively avoid the common rear end collision, a safety expert said today.

"Rear end smashups are the easiest crashes to prevent. But there's a basic misunderstanding about how and why they happen. Rear ending is the direct result of drivers following so closely they can't stop or dodge in time—even if they pay the closest attention and have the fastest reflexes.

More than one-third of all traffic mishaps today and one-half of the resulting injuries are the outcome of rear end collisions," said Donal C. Bolton. "If the driver will remember to use common sense and adapt to the different conditions of weather and traffic, the number of rear end crashes would decrease significantly. The driver must keep his mind on his driving task. Driving is a full-time job, and the driver who is thinking about personal problems is a menace to others.

"Every driver must drive defensively. He must be aware of the driving conditions ahead, anticipate the need for a slow-down or a stop, keep an eye out for cars pulling out from side streets, use his turn signals correctly, use his rear view mirror, and change lanes in advance of turns."

ACCORDING TO BOLTON, "Stopping depends on many factors: car speed, driver alertness and reaction time, road surface and slope weather, tires, brakes, and even car weight. It requires fast, accurate decisions.

"Drivers cannot tailgate. By maintaining enough distance between your car and the one ahead to provide a safe stopping distance in an emergency, a motorist can be prepared for the unexpected.

"The driver should never let a tailgater force him to tailgate the driver ahead. The defensive driver must pull over when he can and give the tailgater room to pass.

"Drive defensively by expecting the worst from other drivers at all times, especially in free-wheeling expressway traffic," Bolton advises.

"On metropolitan expressways, where accidents at faster speeds produce the deadliest damage, tailgating ranks number one in causing deaths and injuries. In order to prevent the slaughter on the expressways every driver must have his mental alertness in high gear," he said.

"Driving slow or stopping on the expressway is an open invitation to chain-reaction rear ending. In braking and exiting on the expressway the motorist must be alert and avoid a last minute decision to jump lanes in order to turn off the roadway.

"To have a safe and inexpensive motoring Labor Day weekend the driver can avoid the rear end collision by being alert and defensive."

Complete Addition To School Offices

When you enter Plymouth School District's administration building now, you will no longer have to enter through the back door.

For the past several months the offices had no front entrance because of an addition to the front of the building. The addition is a new board meeting room, three new offices and a larger reception area for visitors.

Administrators slated to move into the new offices were a little bit worried they wouldn't have their new offices before the summer was over because of the building trades strike. They were worried because the new addition is completely air conditioned.

The offices were occupied on Monday morning which ironically proved to be the coldest day in a week.

U.S. Help Foreseen In Project

Congressman Marvin L. Esch, second district Republican, this week reported that his most recent contacts with Washington officials has heightened his optimism that the "South End" water project will soon be funded by the Federal Government.

The project involves the extension of Monroe City water to Bedford, Erie, Whitford townships and Luna Pier. County officials have applied for a $1.5 million grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Esch said, "HUD officials in Washington assure me that approval of the project will be announced within a few days or two weeks at the most."

"This will be another significant step forward in the progressive development of Monroe County. It's a tribute to the forward looking plans and diligent efforts of local officials with whom I've worked closely," Esch concluded.

The "South End" project was engineered with the assistance of a $25,000 planning grant from HUD in 1966. The preliminary inquiry was sent to HUD in June, 1966, and the formal application for the $1.5 million grant was submitted to the Chicago HUD regional office in September, 1966.

In order to meet the HUD planning requirements, it was necessary for these townships to help in the formation of and join the Toledo Metropolitan Area Council of Governments (TMACOG).

In January, 1968, Esch met in his Washington office with Don Burton, Monroe County Drain Commissioner; John Knox, Monroe County Planner; Curtis Yoas, Frenchtown Township Supervisor; Clyde Evans, Mayor of Luna Pier and other Monroe County officials to map out the future progress of the "South End" project and other Monroe County projects. During the Washington visit, the local officials also met and discussed these projects with Federal agency personnel.

In February of this year Congressman Esch set up a meeting with the Metropolitan Development representative of the Chicago HUD office and county and township officials to plan the South End project development.

Monroe County officials and planners, led by John Knox, initiated and provided a great deal of technical assistance to the Ohio members in the development of TMACOG. The Council was formed to include approximately 113 units of government in the Toledo metropolitan area. A 21-member executive committee was established, including four members from Monroe County; Vice-chairman, Clyde Evans, and members Curtis Yoas, Felix Hensler, supervisor of Erie Township, and a member from a Monroe County school district.

Led by the Monroe County officials, TMACOG was formally created and recognized. In addition, the "South End" project, as a part of TMACOG was recognized and approved by SEMCOG. In a recent letter to Esch, HUD Chicago Regional Administrator, Francis Fisher, indicated that the comprehensive plans formulated by TMACOG, including the "South End" project, have been received and accepted by HUD and the project is now being considered for funding.

HUD officials have recognized Monroe County as a catalyst in bringing the Toledo and Detroit complex together in a progressive planning effort. Esch has been encouraged by this example of a cooperative effort between local, state, and federal officials to provide an essential public facility.

18,000 GIs To Enroll In Colleges

An estimated 18,000 post-Korean veterans will be enrolled this fall in education and training in Michigan under the G.I. Bill, Robert M. Fitzgerald, manager of the Detroit Veterans Administration's Regional Office, said Monday.

In addition, approximately 300 servicemen in Michigan are expected to enter training this fall under the post-Korean G.I. Bill which grants educational benefits to military personnel with at least two consecutive years of active duty as well as to veterans who served on active duty for more than 180 days, part of which was after Jan. 31, 1955.

Nationally, Fitzgerald said, about 523,000 post-Korean veterans and 30,000 servicemen are expected to be enrolled this fall in education and training under the G.I. Bill. More than 340,000 will be using their education entitlement for the first time.

THIS WILL BE the highest fall enrollment since the bill granting VA educational assistance of up to 36 months to eligible veterans went into effect on June 1, 1966.

With this record participation, veterans in Michigan who will be entering training for the first time under the G.I. Bill or who will be changing schools or courses this fall should apply immediately to the Detroit VA Regional Office for their Certificate of Eligibility.

Fitzgerald pointed out that a veteran who applies now for his certificate can be certain that his G.I. Bill education allowance will be dated from the day school begins. However, if he fails to apply for the certificate until after school has started there may be a delay in payment of his allowance.

Of the 18,000 veterans who will be entered in education or training, approximately 9,900 will be enrolled in institutions of higher learning.

More than 6,770 veterans and 270 servicemen are expected to enter schools below the college level.

SINCE SERVICEMEN are not eligible for on-the-job training, all of the expected 1,330 G.I. Bill on-the-job trainees in Michigan this fall will be veterans, the manager said.

If the experience of the first two years of the post-Korean G.I. Bill obtains this fall, the veterans in training will be almost evenly divided between post-Korean service (after January 31, 1955) and Vietnam era service (after August 4, 1964).

Under the bill an eligible veteran is entitled to one month of VA educational assistance, up to a maximum of 36 months (four school years), for each month of service.

FALL FESTIVAL COMING — Scenes like this will be repeated in Plymouth Sept. 5 to 8 when the annual Fall Festival comes back to town. This picture was taken last year when Plymouth resident Harold Fischer, chairman of the board of Schoolcraft Community College, stopped by the "German Night" stand of the Business and Professional Women's Club. The ladies will continue tradition this year by serving knackwurst, sauerkraut and German chocolate cake from 12 noon to 8 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 5.

Rev. Braymer Heads Day Care Center

The Rev. Merrill Braymer is taking over as head school master of the Dear Skin Village Day Care Center, operated by the Plymouth Church of the Nazarene.

The church's pastor, the Rev. Ronald D. Moss, said the move would enable the center to serve the community better.

He said Rev. Braymer is experienced in testing, counseling and clinical work and would use his knowledge to serve pre-school children enrolled in the center.

Rev. Moss urged parents interested in the school's full schedule of morning and afternoon classes to enroll their children as soon as possible, since classes begin Sept. 3. He said enrollment to date is 60 per cent ahead of last year's, the first for the center, but a few classes still are open.

The school is located at 41550 Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

Festival's Profits To Benefit Charity

The 13th annual Plymouth Fall Festival, which top officials predict will be the greatest ever if the weatherman gives it his blessing as he has thus far, is expected to furnish more benefits to the community than ever before.

Every single concession at the four-day event, which opens on Thursday, Sept. 5 and concludes on Sunday, Sept. 8 with the Rotary Club chicken barbecue, is operated on a non-profit basis.

Every dollar of profit during the four days is turned back to charitable ventures of the participating groups.

The Rotary Club, which last year served more than 12,000 dinners and hopes to go over the 13,000 total this year, turns part of the proceeds over to its Foundation for scholarships for needy students and uses the balance for numerous community projects.

The Kiwanis club, which stages a pancake festival on Saturday, Sept. 7, is busy with plans for financing a new home for the historical museum.

The Lions Club, sponsor of the old fashioned ice cream social on Friday, Sept. 6, works with the blind and also sponsors community youth programs.

The Business and Professional Women's Club, which feeds more than 900 on Thursday, Sept. 5 at its German dinner of sauerkraut and knackwurst, uses the proceeds for scholarships and projects at various institutions in the community.

Then there's the Rotary Anns, auxiliary of the Rotary Club, which sponsors a sale of articles made by handicapped and turns all of the money back to the individual. The sale is slated for Sunday afternoon as part of the Rotary program for the day.

The Plymouth Symphony League, backers of the largest Antique Mart in southern Michigan on the final three days of the Festival, turns its profits back to the support of the symphony orchestra.

This year's Mart promises to be the largest to date and will feature such items as primitive tools and children's items by Eleanor Lowell, marking the first time in years that tools have been on sale. Sally Thomas, of Northville, will have antiques from England including furniture, silhouettes and prints.

These are in addition to the dealers from Michigan and Ohio who annually have many unusual antiques for sale.

The Plymouth chapter of the American Association of University Women has been busy collecting books from every possible source and will conduct a four-day sale. The profits are used for scholarships.

The Jaycees have a sparsely dinner slated for Saturday evening and hope for a big attendance, especially since Bimbo's famed Gasliter band from Ann Arbor will be presenting a program from the portable bandstand.

There are just a few of the clubs that participate in the Festival and just a sample of

Offers Dropout Solution

Once again this year nearly a million high school age youths will drop out of school before receiving their high school diploma, sacrificing their future opportunities for temporary freedoms and satisfactions, Rep. Marvin L. Esch, Second District Congressman, asserted this week.

A high school diploma is not a free ticket to the good life, but it is a free ticket to a better chance for the good life, pointed out Esch.

"Some high school dropouts make it up the ladder to a good job, but most of them do not," he said. "The jobs that are usually available to the dropout are those of short duration, with low income and little future for advancement. It is usually estimated that a high school graduate will earn $63,000 more during his working years than his dropout counterpart."

"Although the dropout problem is widely recognized, all too often nothing is done about it. Everyone looks to someone else to take the responsibility. In truth, however, it can only be solved through a concerted effort of all parts of our society--individuals, school systems, local and state governments, private enterprise and the federal government."

"All of us can help fight the dropout problem. Here's how:

"Studies show that most dropouts leave school because of a lack of interest. School leaders and individual community leaders can assist in meeting this problem by assisting in personal counseling of young persons who are considering dropping out. School systems will be glad to furnish names and addresses of such students to interested individuals who want to lend a helping hand."

"Many students drop out because they come from poor families where funds are desperately short. Local businesses can assist greatly by affording young persons an opportunity for part-time jobs and for part-time job training and vocational education to help the youth when he graduates from school. They might assist by job counseling with a young person to help him see the opportunities which will be open to him with a high school diploma that might be closed off if he drops out."

"Other students drop out of school because it is hard for them and there is no one who cares enough to help them through the hard subjects. Clearly this is an excellent opportunity for individuals to offer assistance in tutoring youngsters who need their help."

"One major reason many young people reject school is that they themselves feel rejected by society. A kind word, a pat on the back, a helping hand can mean a lot to these youngsters. Sometimes the mere expression of interest and concern on the part of others will help turn the tide."

"The dropout problem is a concern we all must share and work to solve. Government cannot do it alone. It requires a total community effort. If you would like more information about how you might participate in a Stay in School Campaign, please write me in care of the House Office Building, Washington, D.C."

DPW Notes

During the past week the department began hauling sweeping material out of the Department of Public Works yard into a vacant lot. The mowing of vacant lots was continued, also the mowing of all city parks and playgrounds.

All major streets were swept during the week.

Barricades were set up in the downtown area due to a fallen wire that knocked out the traffic signals.

A six-inch water tap and a ten-inch storm sewer tap were installed at Bathey Manufacturing Company, on S. Mill Street. Various streets throughout the city were cold patched. Various patches were cut out for concrete replacements at N. Harvey and Farmer Streets, also Hartsough west of Math Street.

Work has begun again on the painting of fire hydrants throughout the city.

New Power Firm Picks Plymouthite

Appointment of E.J. (Ted) Campbell, 1698 Old Salem, Plymouth, as director of engineering services has been announced by Thomas N. Urquhart, president of Controlled Power Corporation, Farmington Freeway Industrial Park.

Campbell has spent 20 years in electrical product development, field application, customer sales and service. A graduate of Wayne State University, he is a member of the Engineering Society of Detroit, American Society of Tool & Manufacturing Engineers (ASTME) and American Electroplating Society (AES).

He previously was associated with Udyllite Corporation, H.K. Porter, Harlan Electric and Graybar Electric. He has been a guest speaker for industrial associations on automatic control for power supplies throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Offering a completely new concept in high-power electronic systems, Controlled Power was founded in 1967. It is headquartered in a new 22,000 square foot plant in the Farmington Freeway Industrial Park, 10 Mile and I-96.

Controlled Power Corporation designs and manufactures high-power electronic systems to meet the requirements of increasingly sophisticated industrial processes. The firm has developed this modular system through the creation of application-tailored units consisting of individually-protected, interchangeable modules in a complete range of sizes.

RAY HOMER, chairman of the social studies department for Plymouth High School, has been appointed chairman of United Nations Day (Oct. 24) by the Plymouth City Commission.

Tell It To Glenny

"Water, water everywhere" that pretty much sums up the vacation Mr. and Mrs. Harold George and family, of 14915 Robinwood, enjoyed this month.

The Georges traveled by car to Florence, Ala. where they rented a houseboat and spent a week on the Tennessee River. The three George children, Karen, nine; David, 12, and Debbie, 14, had a whale of a time playing games, swimming and fishing.

Mrs. George tells me that the houseboat is just like a floating cottage, complete with dishes and all the comforts of home.

"We investigated some pretty interesting coves along the way," said Mrs. George. They found one that had a beautiful water fall that the children discovered could be used as a natural slide.

I asked Mrs. George how the family started taking houseboat vacations, and she told me that a magazine article started the whole thing several years ago. That summer the family houseboat on the Mississippi River.

Some 95-foot locks provided excitement this year as they navigated the Tennessee River.

The Georges' dog, Peanut, wasn't sure that she was going to like being surrounded by all that water, but after two days of stamping around the deck she settled down to enjoy her vacation with the rest of the family.

This is really not an unusual way to spend a vacation, according to Mrs. George. They have received lots of literature on the subject and learned that it's possible to houseboat in many areas of this great country.

There are even privately owned houseboats in Alabama that are very posh, with carpeting, stereo, T.V. and all the comforts of a yacht.

So if you want a relaxing vacation take a house that will float, find yourself a lazy river and forget the 20th century and all its troubles.

THE PLYMOUTH Rotary Club enjoyed a bus trip to Tiger Stadium last week. They weren't sure for awhile which all-American sport they were watching.

They happened to pick the game in which Dick McAuliffe engaged in a wrestling match with Chicago's Tommy John. Doc Finkel got ringside seats for the group and everybody had a swell time—except the two baseball players and possibly Mayo Smith.

Cyclist Injured In Crash

Brian Kirk Patrick, 17, of 12126 Hines Court, Plymouth, was taken to St. Mary Hospital, Livonia, early Thursday morning after being injured when his motorcycle struck a car on S. Mill near Burroughs St., according to police reports.

The driver of the car, Eric Curtis Haupt, 29, of 35850 Meadowbrook, Livonia, was not injured.

Haupt told police he was going south on Mill and had stopped to make a left turn into a parking lot. He said he had his turn signal flasher on and when the northbound traffic cleared he started to make the turn and his car was struck by a motorcycle in the left front fender.

Patrick said he was also going south on Mill at about 30 miles an hour but he did not see the car signal to make a left turn. He said he tried to go around the car but struck it in the left front.

Police said Patrick failed to have his motorcycle under control but issued no citation.

"COUNSELOR'S COUNCIL" — During the closing days of Girl Scout Camping at Camp Linden this month Patrol Leaders would meet with counselors to coordinate plans and exchange ideas. Left to right: Annette Willson, Ypsilanti; Tonya Greer and Lisa Kellman, both of Plymouth; Miss Elizabeth Moore, counselor from Albuquerque, N.M.; Carole Splitt, Ann Arbor; Miss Noraleen Renauer and Miss Jo Phol, both counselors.

Plymouth Girls Win 4-H Titles

Two Plymouth girls were among the champions crowned at the horse show held as part of the recent state 4-H Club show on the campus of Michigan State University.

In the saddle horse division for exhibitors 12 years of age and older, Sue Roz captured top honors in the champion equitation class.

Champion pleasure honors in the division for Arabian, Half-Arabian, Appaloosa and Pinto division went to Kathy Holt, also of Plymouth.

More than 300 4-H horsemen and their mounts participated in the show.

Speeds In '60, Jailed In '68

Clifford Jones Sanko, 43, address unknown, is serving eight days in the Detroit House of Correction after pleading guilty to traffic violations in Plymouth in 1960.

He was arrested Wednesday in Bay City on a traffic warrant issued by former Plymouth Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo eight years ago.

The traffic violation was for driving without an operator's license and speeding 40 miles an hour in a 25 mile zone.

Municipal Judge Dunbar Davis sentenced the man to either pay a $100 fine plus $10 court costs or serve the jail sentence. Sanko elected to take the jail term.

Crash Breaks Woman's Nose

Caroline Easterwood, 28, of 14641 Bradner, Plymouth, suffered a broken nose in a traffic accident at Starkweather and Spring Sts. Monday.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Wayne Forrest Easterwood, 36. He was not hurt.

The woman was injured when their car collided with another driven by Jeffrey Michael Kramer, 21, of 637 Hix Rd., Westland, according to police records.

Kramer, also unharmed, told Plymouth police he stopped for the stop sign then started to pull out to turn left onto Starkweather and did not see the other car until it was too late.

Easterwood said his was the first car in line when the train cleared and he did not see the other car until the crash.

OBSERVATION POINT By Philip H. Power

Chicago: The Laughter Is Brittle

CHICAGO—This is no ordinary convention city. This is no ordinary convention.

This is a convention under the gun.

Armed, blue-helmeted cops are everywhere on the streets.

They flew several thousand national guardsmen into O'Hare Airport over the weekend. The barbed wire around the amphitheater looks like something out of the German concentration camp.

The security is ferocious. There are supposed to be 15 security people on duty for every single one of the 5,611 delegates and alternates.

To get your press credentials, you practically have to give your bank balance and blood type.

THE REASONS WHY are a lot more complicated than the official concern about the personal security of the candidates or the delegates.

Sure, no one wants an assassin to strike yet again. No one wants to see the caldron of Chicago's ghetto erupt into full scale violence. No one wants to see the countless groups and sub-groups here to protest some aspect of American policy make a sudden rush and trample the delegates.

But these fears seem greater than the massive response of the authorities. There is a tension in the air—in the somewhat too brittle laughter of the delegates, in the mood of frustration and anxiety that has settled over Chicago—that goes well beyond the simple question of how to insure the physical safety of a large number of people.

It is in this odd mood and not over who will be nominated that the real significance of this convention lies.

SO THE 1968 Democratic National Convention may well be the last one ever to be held by the Democratic Party as we presently know it.

The plain fact is that this party, which has dominated American politics since 1932, is starting to come apart at the seams. It began as a coalition of interest groups lashed together by Franklin D. Roosevelt over 30 years ago. The labor unions, the Negroes, Jews, Poles, Catholics and other minority groups. The intellectual. The farmer radicals out of the mid-west.

This was FDR's coalition. It made the New Deal, and it determined the course of American politics from 1932 'til this time.

But look at what's happening.

THE NEGROES HAVE more delegates at this convention than ever before, but they're not happy. They don't like the systematic exclusion practiced so ineffectively by the southern white leaders. They don't like the war in Vietnam. They don't see any candidate with soul.

So they sit in bitter black caucuses.

The intellectual and the youth in the party, much attracted by Senator McCarthy and the late Senator Robert Kennedy, feel that the old line establishment has ignored their dissent, stacked the deck of the convention arrangement, and rammed HHH down their throats.

"We need some young blood," is the conventional cry of any party leadership, but the young blood in the Democratic Party is grumpy at what it thinks is hypocrisy.

The unions, traditionally a liberal force in the party, are having their own internal problems, and their rank and file are fearful of pressure from Negroes wanting jobs and pushing seniority rules.

The farmers sit back in astonishment at the riots in the streets and yearn for more simple times. And suddenly these groups don't seem to feel that the traditional Democratic Party offers them the route to achieve their goal that it used to.

IT ISN'T, HOWEVER, just the conflicts between the coalition groups that is putting such fearful pressure on the party.

It's a growing realization—to be read on the anxious faces of the delegates as they spin in the endless world of a convention—that the body of liberal thought that has worked as the cement for the traditional democratic coalition is breaking down.

Not breaking down, perhaps, but rather becoming irrelevant.

For example, one of the important propositions of a classical Democratic liberalism was that the federal government had a clear obligation to take direct action in fields such as unemployment and welfare, but many in the Democratic Party are beginning to think that federal action in these areas simply isn't the whole answer.

They argue that the red tape, the dependency and the ineffectiveness of present welfare systems cannot be accepted, and they conclude that the liberalism that led to these programs is no longer up to solving the problems of 1968.

Coalitions need a cement! Usually, it's called an ideology.

When the cement starts to chip, coalition starts to break and that's why Democrats here are more anxious than it seems they should be.

That's why this convention is under the gun.

THIS IS THE WEEK THAT... BY DON HOENSHILL

CHICAGO — It's going home again and clucking about the dear departed.

The faces are strange and the people you know are older and occupied with other pursuits. You remember the faces sometimes, but the names get scrambled.

The Michigan delegation is laced with younger people and that's good. They have newer dreams and that's the salvation. There's the nostalgia like the A & P store is now a record shop.

So this is about the people who aren't here sweltering in the International Amphitheater, grabbing for microphones and timing the roll call so as not to miss the buggy when it rolls by.

There isn't much chance of that this year, but...

GIVE US ANOTHER few minutes with the shock of unruly hair and the awry bowtie, the sonorous voice. Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the patriarch of the latter day Democratic party in Michigan, is in Manila in ambassador's stripes.

He could have been here with a nod at the state convention in Detroit. But Soapy (and few ever called him that in his hearing) felt the greater good was to go to the Philippines, leaving with Democrats a state convention keynote speech and a legend.

Williams posed with a birthday girl at the state convention, shook every hand in sight and appeared willing to carry a torch whenever called upon. They miss Soapy here.

Willis Brewer isn't here, either.

WILLIS, A GEM in Oakland

County Democratic politics, is semi-retired from the field now. He was at the 18th Congressional District convention looking a bit wan and light of weight.

"No, I'm not going to Chicago this year," he said. "Let's let the party grow with the younger people."

Willis once was Director of the Office of Hospital Survey and Construction. He ran into trouble with the Hatch Act and departed more in sorrow than chagrin.

When the 1957 state highway plan (freeways) came out, Oakland county was almost excluded. The county put Willis on the job. A revised version corrected the oversight and Willis could have paved all of Oakland county.

And Zorro isn't here, either. His square name is Zolton A. Ferency, the Delray kid who came up through the Michigan Liquor Control Commission and was executive secretary of Gov. John B. Swainson before becoming state chairman during an era that was like a Bob Lo trip.

Ferency's office in Lansing started out in front of the executive office, but it was detected that his whispers were shredding the chandeliers in the Senate half a block away. He moved to the north end of the office where the crystal was tougher.

As state chairman, Ferency followed his own star and ran afoul of the others. Zorro backed Michigan Conference of Concerned Democrats. Nothing wrong in that, but Zorro became an issue and he quit.

So none of them is here this year. They've been replaced by able men and women.

But the man was right.

You can't go home again.

Bargaining Needs New Approach

Public legislation is needed to bail the public, the taxpayers, out of the morass of indefinite procedures and expectations of collective bargaining in the public business.

Some state legislator could help the taxpayers get more for their money by spearheading a drive to create order out of chaos.

An obvious need—and the very least that should be done—is establishment of a time schedule by which such negotiations can be guided.

For instance:

LOCAL AGENTS of the municipality and the employees could be required to either settle their disputes by the beginning of the fiscal year or submit to mediation.

Mediation could have a 15-day time period, after which advisory fact finding could be required. This could be given 30 more days to effect a settlement.

Binding arbitration could be imposed if the dispute is not resolved by that point.

Neither employer nor employees would be unfairly treated by such a time limit, yet the public would be better assured that the monies it spends to support both are being effectively used.

Neither the employer nor the employees benefit by a negotiations stalemate—and the public certainly suffers.

Unresolved disputes take up an inordinate amount of attention of the elected officials and their agents, for one thing.

Unresolved disputes set up emotional antagonisms among the employees and their agents, for another.

BOTH FACTORS CUT down on performance efficiency. The public's money is wasted.

Services the public intended to buy with that money do not match up to expectations, and surely can't show an improvement in dollar value.

Employees deserve the right to bargain collectively.

Public officials have the responsibility to administer public funds to best advantage.

When the predominance of facts indicates that these two factors cannot be resolved to mutual advantage of the public, an additional safeguard is needed.

That safeguard must come from state or federal laws.

—Dennis L. Pajot

VFW Color Guard, Plymouth Tradition, Reaches The End

For years residents of the Plymouth Community have thrilled to the precision marching color guard unit of VFW Mayflower Post as it proudly led all major parades, participated in community events and generally spread the name of Plymouth throughout Wayne County, the state of Michigan and many parts of the nation.

It became almost a tradition for the legendary, smartly-marching, well-drilled group of men in their colorful blue and white uniforms to be the first to come down Main Street for the Memorial Day, July 4 and other processions of the past nine or 10 years.

The men, all veterans of wars on foreign soil, took pride in their performances. Regardless of how well they marched, every single man wanted to do better the next time out.

Then the years began to take toll. There was a time when the color guard led an equally smart, precision marching drill team. The latter fell by the wayside a few years ago when the members gradually dropped out and it was no longer feasible for such a unit to march.

But the color guard continued. The group drilled every Sunday for three or four hours, always seeking perfection with the idea of sometime capturing a national championship.

Three times it won the state championship. A year ago it made a gallant bid for the U.S. crown but was just a few points short in the final judging.

Then came this year and the members thought they had the smartest unit ever. They won the state title and again had ambitions of the long-coveted but never attained national crown.

Just two weeks before the nationals, which were held in conjunction with the convention in downtown Detroit, one of the color bearers suffered a heart attack.

The others quickly filled the post and resumed their drills. Came the nationals and again Plymouth had to be content with a second place.

Naturally, all were disappointed but realized that it was a better team that had won. They were even more disappointed when most realized that the time had come to retire—the long hours of practice and the encroachment of Old Man Time were just too much.

So, a Plymouth tradition has passed on. The VFW color guard unit will be seen no more and it's sad that such a fine unit finally reached the end of the trail.

All members deserve a big pat on the back for their work over the years. They will be sorely missed come Memorial Day in 1969.

Urbanization Comes To Vacation Isle

Frequently in these suburbs, you hear someone who ought to know better babbling about the "semi-rural" atmosphere of one town or another.

While it's true there is some farmland left out here, the land that is developed is no longer "rural" or "semi-rural" or even "rustic," although some trees may have been preserved. It's urban, and ought to be governed accordingly.

The point is driven home by the Town Crier, a little weekly serving the jewel of Lake Huron, Mackinac Island. The Town Crier still panders to the smalltown exaggerated sense of social prominence, which many islanders retain, by running social notes on who's visiting whom, but the thrust of its coverage is to show the folks that they're becoming more normal and more urban, whether they care to admit it or not.

Take the current issue, for instance.

MACKINAC ISLAND is famous for having no autos or trucks—only horse-drawn transportation. It has been that way for years, and people find it charming. But the truth is that the system is working badly.

The carriage company can't find qualified horse drivers in winter, and so a councilman is suggesting a motorized car service from November to April...

A leading light in the Michigan Society of Architects criticizes the "honky-tony" atmosphere of the downtown section of Mackinac Island, and the folks are now furiously reexamining their building code in an effort to preserve their atmosphere...

The Town Crier immediately follows that item with this gem: "Another communication to the council, from Loring F. Oerling, executive secretary of the Michigan Resources Commission, said the council must state its willingness in the immediate future to build waste-water treatment facilities on Mackinac Island by 1972..."

THERE'S AN INTERVIEW with the new school superintendent, whose big job during the two years of his contract will be to get grades 11 and 12 operating.

The island's year-around population is increasing, you know...

The administrative assistant to the president of Mackinac College says there is a need for "efficient taxi service in the winter, when college activity is at its peak. The college is also interested, he adds, in preserving Mackinac's traditions, the paper says. Ah, yes, even a college must pay lip service to the island syndrome...

So if even Mackinac Island must struggle with the problems of urbanization, where does that leave these suburbs? Not with a "semi-rural" atmosphere, by a long shot!

—Tim Richard

Youth Wants To Govern Itself

This indeed is the year of the young. The young people dropped in on the primaries, and President Johnson dropped out. Politics joined fashions and music as captives of the young.

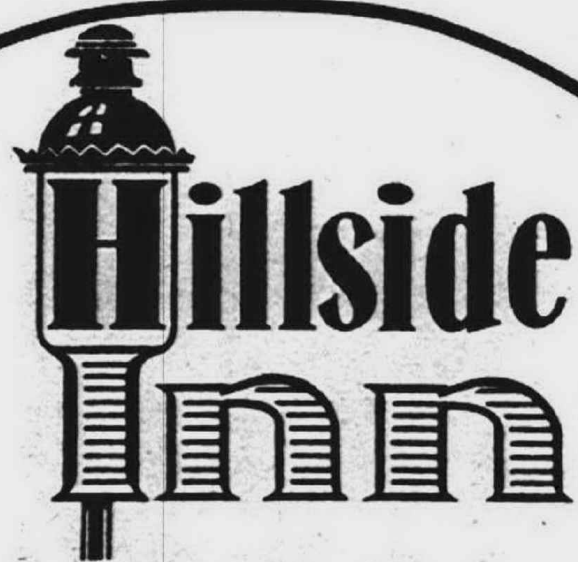

So it isn't too surprising that one Barry Becker, a 22-year-old student at Wayne State University, is running for the WSU Board of Governors, whose average age is 61.

Barry is working on his candidacy and his bachelor's degree at the same time, and maybe he'll get the former as well as the latter. For he's going after the Democratic nomination on the platform of representing the students and teachers. It's a matter of self-determination, which also happens to be a tradition of the Democrats.

The point has long been made that those most affected by and involved in the processes of a university, the students and the teachers, are those with the least voice in its governance. What more logical solution than to elect a student to the Board of Governors?

Bat it to 'em, Barry!

Local Girls Win Wendy Ward Titles

Chic Mary Ellen Colombo, of Redford Township, and smiling Cherise Shensky of Livonia, are the Wonderland Center's "Miss Wendy Ward" and "Miss Sugar 'N Spice" for 1968. They were picked Saturday to represent the Wonderland Montgomery Ward store in the department store's competition.

Five contestants in each of two age groups had been selected as finalists among the many girls who picked out an outfit at the Wonderland store and were photographed.

Fifteen-year-old Mary Ellen, a sophomore at Rosary High School, picked a bright sweater and bold plaid skirt that set off her slim figure and short, sideswept hairdo.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Colombo, she hopes to do fashion modeling or hair styling.

Pert, blonde Cherise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Shensky, wore a pixie smile with her gay jumper and turtleneck sweater. She's eight and a third-grader at St. Genevieve School and loves swimming and bike riding.

Runners-up in the "Wendy Ward" competition, for girls 12 to 19, were Susan Gregory and Susan Grant, of Livonia; Carol Ellison, of Dearborn, and Debbie Musselman, of Inkster.

In the "Sugar 'N Spice" division, for the five-to-11 set, the other finalists were Shila Zentz, Linda Gillenkird and Cyndy Parker, of Westland, and Sheryl Tubbs, of Plymouth.

Judges were Mrs. E. King and Frank Golle, of Montgomery Wards, Bill Cameron, executive director of the Livonia YMCA, and Dianne Ziesow, of the Observer.

The two winners received the outfit they were wearing and will compete with winners from 11 stores for the Southeastern Michigan "Miss Wendy Ward" and "Miss Sugar 'N Spice." The winners of these titles will receive $150 of Wards merchandise and will keep their crowns for a full year.

1,000 Preps Plunge Into Football Practice

The elements smiled. The weather cooled off and more than 1,000 Observerland high school football players smiled. So did their coaches. They could work under

"bearable" conditions as they started practice Monday for the 1968 prep football season. The schoolboy gridders will have little time to waste. They're scheduled for their first games two weeks from Friday. As a result, coaches were taking advantage of the opportunity to hold two-a-day sessions this week. "THERE'S SO much to do," explained Larry Joiner as he met with his Livonia Bentley High brigade, some 75 strong. Fortunately for the coaches, most of their athletes reported in shape. "Our conditioning programs during the month of August helped tremendously," declared veteran Coach Ron Holland at North Farmington. "The boys understand what we are up against, so they make sure they're ready for drills, declared Bob Lusk at John Glenn. Junior varsity as well as varsity gridders met the opening-day signal for practice. The turnouts ranged from 40 to 85 with optimism reigning everywhere. GETAWAY DAY also introduced the new Churchill High of Livonia to the prep sports scene. For the present, Churchill will operate out of Franklin High and for the first season there'll be only 10th graders in all sports. But Coach Ken Kestner could look to a bright future--and in not too many years--for Churchill.

Precedent, at least, would favor a speedy Churchill rise in sports. Franklin High sprung to the top in less than two years after opening its doors. Stevenson likewise wasted little time cracking the sports title barrier.

THE START of football was marked by the absence of two of the area's veteran coaches. John Rogers had departed from the scene at Redford Union after a decade of efforts and had yielded his head post to Bob Atkins, who rushed from Johnstown, Pa., where he managed Redford's entry into the semi-finals of the All American Boys tournament.

Gone, too, from coaching was Bob Bentley, who left Franklin to become athletic director at Churchill.

Bentley had turned in a magnificent coaching career in football and basketball in the Livonia system. He started at Bentley High, then moved to Franklin and now it's Churchill.

"I feel a little strange standing out here," he declared Monday while watching Kestner send Churchill through its opening paces.

BENTLEY'S GRID job at Franklin has been taken over by George Lovich, who was moved up from the assistants' ranks.

Redford Champs Seek U.S. Crown

BATTLE CREEK -- from champs of the Greater Livonia league to district to state kings! Now it's on to the national regionals for Redford Township's Class A baseball team. The Townshippers added another great chapter to their already list of glittering achievements under manager Bill Mikel when they swamped Muskegon, 13-1, Monday night for the State American Baseball Congress tournament crown. Starting Friday, Redford goes into the national regionals, facing the Indiana champs at 8:15 p.m. in the first game at Bailey Field.

That Redford won the state crown with four victories and a single defeat hardly was a surprise.

This was the team that was runnerup to the state, national regional and the national world series crowns a year ago.

REDFORD pounded out 19 hits in swamping Muskegon which made its only run in the final inning against Larry Salci who coasted along on a six-hitter.

Salci also starred at the plate as he knocked in five runs with two doubles and two singles. Terry Rothwell clobbered out three hits, one a double, while Russ Nelson had a double, singles, scored three times and knocked in a run.

Rothwell and Nelson singled in the second inning to provide Redford with all the runs it needed. From then on the Townshippers made merry at the plate.

Dick Johnson's homer in the ninth spoiled Salci's shutout.

THE TOWNSHIPERS began their action at Battle Creek by beating Saginaw, 4-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Rich Krumm, who'll be a senior in a few weeks at Eastern Michigan University.

Krumm fanned eight and never was behind after his mates jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Dave Woloch tripled in Sam Lamerato and Jim Rose followed with a single.

That's the way the score stood until the sixth when Redford cashed two more runs on three singles and a walk. The winners picked up eight hits and played errorless ball behind Krumm.

On Saturday, it was Rich Berryman's turn to flip a two-hit shutout.

BERRYMAN TURNED in his masterpieces against Ann Arbor as his mates pounded out 12 hits to score an 8-0 conquest. Berryman, like Krumm, fanned eight, and walked one.

Redford again got off to a fast start when Lamerato doubled, Robby Masson walked and Woloch was safe on a fielder's choice to produce one run in the first.

In the fifth, after Mike Schaefer singled, Lamerato slashed a run-scoring double.

Came the seventh, Redford scored three times. Berryman singled, went to second on a walk to Lamerato and scored on Rose's single. Woloch followed with another hit to chase over Lamerato and Rose.

Redford counted three more in the eighth when Tim Fisher walked, Terry Rothwell tripled, and Mike Schaefer, Berryman and Lamerato all followed with singles.

Lamerato had three hits and Masson two hits for the winners.

IT WAS THREE in a row for Redford in Sunday afternoon's action when Tom Tan-

Shriners Award Full Scholarship To Clarenceville's Charley Morse

Charley Morse, who overcame the handicap of crippled legs to become the greatest gymnast in Clarenceville High history and perhaps the most outstanding in Michigan high school annals, has been awarded a full four-year scholarship to Michigan State University by the Shriners.

Presentation of the scholarship took place over the weekend in Indianapolis where Charley, accompanied by Coach Chuck Thompson, put on an exhibition during the half-time intermission of the annual North-South Shrine Bowl football game.

The contest attracts all of the standout high school seniors in Indiana and is for the benefit of the Shrine's Crippled Children Hospital fund.

CHARLEY, who has received assistance from the Shrine's crippled children fund during his school career, was asked to give a demonstration of this gymnastic skill to show afflicted youngsters throughout the nation what one can accomplish with desire and the assistance of the Shrine.

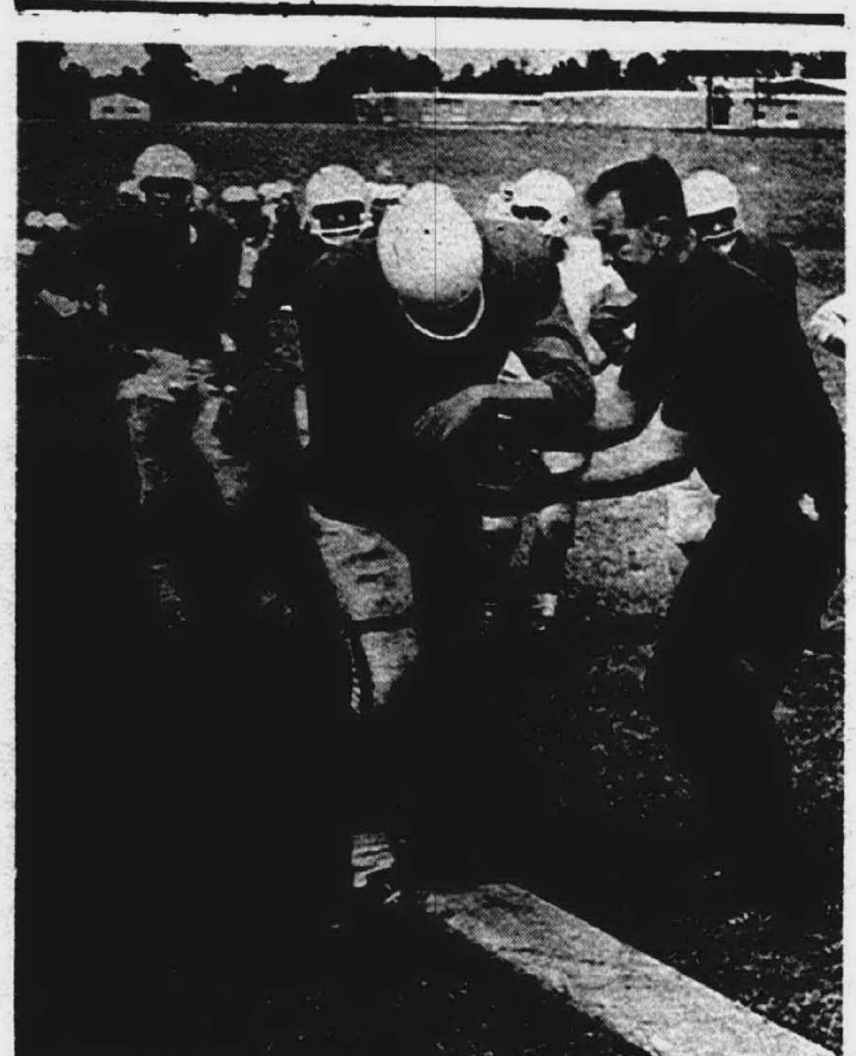

He staged his exhibition during the intermission and then was an honored guest at a banquet the following evening. It was there he officially received the scholarship.

It was Charley who personally led Clarenceville to a state championship last spring. He won five firsts and was acclaimed the most outstanding individual in the competition.

He will enroll at Michigan State this fall where he hopes to become a member of the varsity gymnastic team.

Rocky Pozza Fires 152 To Lead Field In RAM Golf Meet

The sudden change in weather--from the 96 degrees on Saturday to the 60 degrees on Sunday, brought equally as sudden changes in the scoring of the first annual Recreation Association of Michigan tournament at Whispering Willow golf course.

The tourney was sponsored by the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation to determine five Livonia qualifiers for the state RAM tourney in Kalamazoo on Sept. 14.

Pro Gary Whitener originally had 25 entrants but the heat took its toll Saturday and the windy, blustery weather on Sunday further reduced the field.

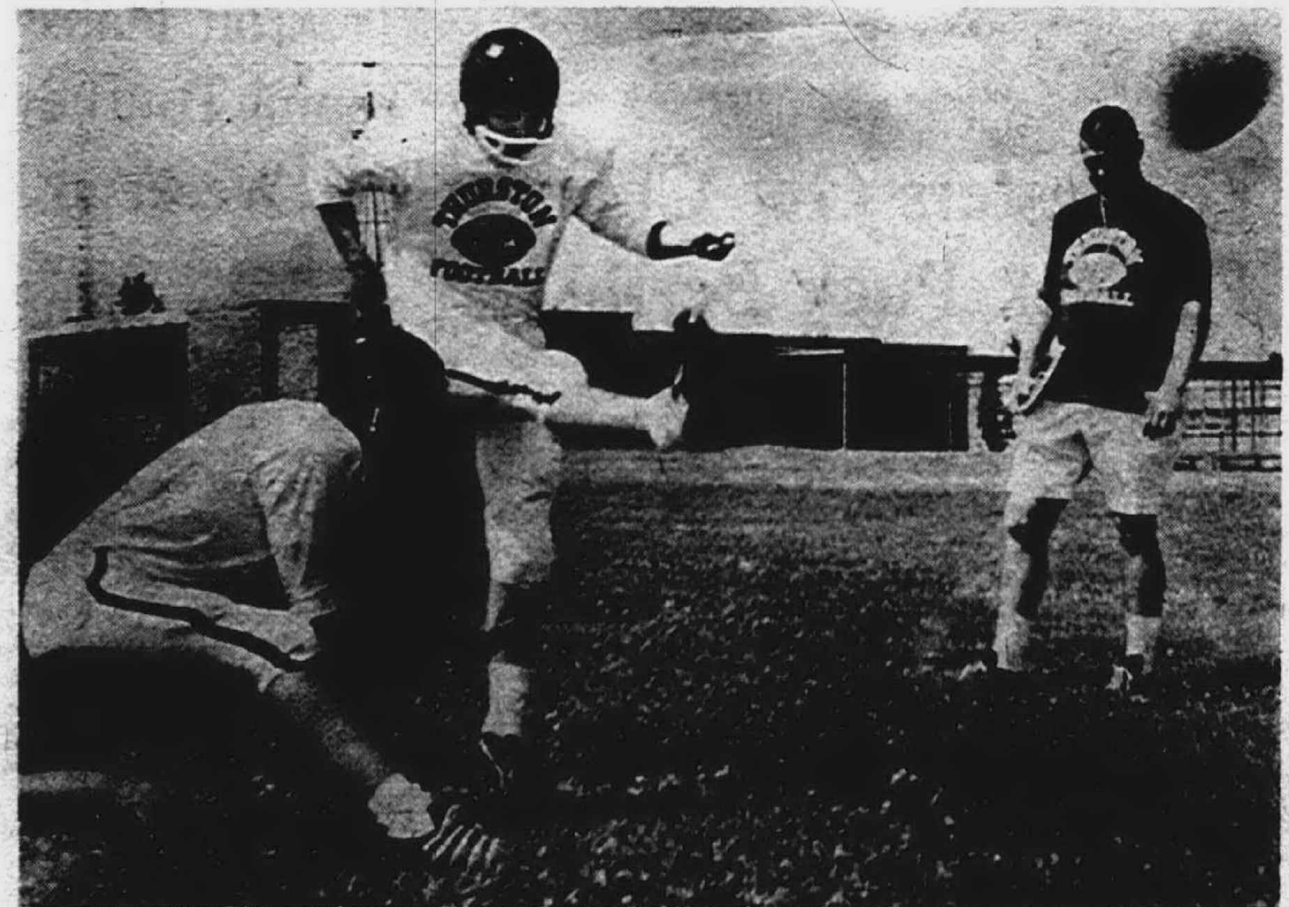

Rocky Pozza, a member of the University of Michigan varsity golf team, led the field with a pair of 76s for a 152. Rocky had 38-38-76 Saturday and then came back with 36-

40 Sunday.

JOINING HIM on the five-man team are: John Shimko with 74-81-155; William Woods with 76-84-160, including four putts on the final hole; Steve Kazmer, 79-83-162; and Jim Anderson, 83-80-163.

Denny Golbesky is first alternate with 83-84-167 and Tom Russell and Dave Waters are next in line with 84-84-168, and 79-89-168.

Other scores: J. Johnson, 82-87-169; A. Hoder, 87-88-175; J. Gibson, 90-87-177; B. Irwin, 91-87-178; G. Thibert, 87-93-180; N. Baldwin, 87-94-181; B. Schneider, 91-95-185; T. Walsh, 92-94-186; E. Russell, 94-92-186; J. DeGrazia, 91-96-187; K. Fairbanks, 102-104-206; K. Schepper, 108-107-215; W. Kravick, Jr., 110-106-216.

DAN BUTLER, of Thurston High, practices field goal kicking with Tim Carr holding the ball as Head Coach Bill McDonald looks on to make certain the ball is handled properly and kicked accurately.

Redford FP Finishes Second Best In Nationals

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. -- Second best in the country!

That was the story of the Redford Township-Free Press League baseball team in the All American Boys tournament.

Rated among the "also-rans" when the meet began with 16 of the finest teen-age teams in the country in action, Redford rolled off three straight victories before finally stumbling in a battle of unbeaten against New Orleans.

Then with elimination starting in the face, the Townshippers arose to beat arch-rival Adray from Detroit, in whopping fashion, 10-0.

But the Redford bats, ever so potent in the tourney's five previous games, came to a standstill in the championship game Monday night as for the second time in 48 hours, New Orleans proved too much for the Michiganans.

NEW ORLEANS copped the deciding game, 2-0, despite some fine pitching for the losers by Vic Pilar of Michigan State University and Tom Fleszar of the U. of M.

Pilar pitched the first six innings and was nicked for six hits and two tainted runs in the sixth inning which led to Redford's defeat.

Billy Mores led off with a single and Glenn Balsamo popped a grounder to short, which Rod Ferguson misplayed for an error.

Catcher Bob Disney sacrificed both runners along, and Vic Curlock blooped a fly ball into short right field which fell for a double and the issue was settled.

Fleszar hurled scoreless ball in the final two frames, but Redford felt short each time it had the opportunity.

Bob Barnett started the sixth with a double but couldn't be brought past third base.

BILL HOWE singled and Ferguson walked to give the Townies hope with two out in the seventh, but Marty Ingesoulian rapped a hard grounder right back to the pitcher and school was out.

Pitcher Dan Camp, who paced Redford throughout the tourney with two wins and one save in three games, was honored as the AAABA's Most Valuable

The Flint Junior College sophomore from Plymouth hurled 19 innings and fanned 31, beating Newark, O., in the first game and topping Detroit Adray once while saving another against the Detroiters.

Redford was also awarded the tournament sportsmanship trophy in reaching the finale in only its third year in the meet.

THE TOWNSHIPERS had scored perhaps their biggest victory of the tourney and the season on Sunday when they routed Detroit Adray, 10-0.

Adray had won the Detroit title and Redford the outstate crown in the Free Press League competition and everybody was saying that Adray would have an easy time with the Townshippers.

But Redford won, 5-2, from Adray on Friday and again in easier fashion Sunday to leave no doubts as to who was the 1968 state champ and also send four-time previous national winner Adray back home to Detroit in sad fashion.

Camp turned in another flawless job for the Redford team as he scattered five hits and fanned 11. He walked only three.

REDFORD JUMPED on top in the second when Bill Holmes doubled, Bjerke singled and Camp was safe on an error.

Howe drove in two runs with a single and Barnett another on a sacrifice.

Hits by Bjerke and Howe produced another run in the fourth. In the fifth, Fahey, Holmes and Camp, along with a walk and an error added to the Redford lead.

Then in the seventh, Himmelsbach singled, Fox doubled, Bjerke walked, Camp singled, Howe was hit by a pitch and Ferguson bounced into a double play to finish the scoring.

TOM FLESZER needed help from Camp to down Adray as the Townshippers rallied from a 2-0 deficit to win on Friday.

Adray scored single runs in the second and third innings before Redford got even in the fifth.

Bob Barnett was hit by a pitch, Fahey singled, Barring-er doubled and Himmelsbach rolled out.

In the sixth, Redford went ahead when Bob Holmes walked. He went all the way to third on Rod Ferguson's sacrifice and scored on a wild throw.

Himmelsbach singled, Bill Holmes walked and Lee Bjerke singled for another Redford run in the seventh. In the ninth, Bjerke was hit by a pitch, took second on a wild pitch and scored on Bill Holmes' single.

Redford actually lost in winning. Star infielder Bob Holmes suffered a fractured hand, diving for a base, and was lost for the rest of the tournament.

FLESZER WORKED until the eighth when he left the game with one on and one out. Camp then issued two singles to load the bases before he set down the next two men on strikes.

In the ninth, Camp got into trouble by allowing a walk and single with none out. Once more, he went to work, fanned three straight -- and that was the game.

On Saturday night, it was Redford vs. New Orleans in the battle of the tourney's final unbeaten teams.

An error in the eighth permitted New Orleans to cash the winning run in a 5-4 verdict, although Redford could blame itself on the inability to connect with men on the bases.

Trenton Plans Tennis Tourney For Weekend

By George Maskin observing sports

PUTTING ONE WORD AFTER ANOTHER--

And was American League president Joe Cronin off base in slapping a five-day suspension, which actually amounted to seven games, on Tiger second baseman Dick McAuliffe?

Granted that McAuliffe might have been a slight aggressor... granted that Tommy John of the White Sox wouldn't be throwing at a rival batter with a 3-2 count on him... granted what the umpires might have felt.

But precedent dictated that Cronin reprimand McAuliffe with maybe a $500 fine and let it go at that.

There have been other minor flareups on the field in the American League... and the National this season. Yet nobody was barred.

So why should Cronin have picked this particular instance involving the team bouncing toward the pennant?

Of course, Cronin might have said to himself: "If I can slow down the Tigers, we'll have a better race in September and that'll mean some bigger crowds!"

WITH FOOTBALL in our midst--the colleges and high schools joining the professionals--pardon us for "stealing" from Roger Stanton, publisher and editor of the very fine Football News now on sale.

As Stanton sees it, Texas will reign as the No. 1 team in the land with Notre Dame a close second. Southern California with O. J. Simpson running merrily figures to rate No. 3, followed by Florida, Purdue, Oklahoma, Ohio State, Alabama, Penn State and Texas A. and M.

In the second 10 come Tennessee, Oregon State, LSU, Arizona State, Nebraska, Houston, Clemson, UCLA and dear ol' Michigan State.

FUNNY THING! While Stanton rates Purdue No. 5 and Ohio State No. 7, a few pages back in the same paper, staff writer Harry DeVold disagrees with his boss.

DeVold favors Ohio State for the crown with Purdue second.

It's DeVold's opinion that the Buckeyes face the easiest schedule of the Big Ten contenders. Of their seven conference games, the Bucks encounter only Purdue and Michigan State, who are rated first-division threats.

DeVold calls Michigan State's secondary the "second best" and figures the Spartans have the defense to make them powerful again.

Michigan could be the biggest sleeper, according to DeVold, and if there's a spoiler--well, he likes Illinois.

THE SHOWING OF the Redford team this past week in the All American Boys baseball tournament in Pennsylvania prompts a salute not only to the Townshippers but to all the teams which made up the Free Press League baseball program hereabouts.

It makes us chuckle, because some folks were trying to tell us that the Free Press League in Greater Livonia wasn't as strong this past season when compared to other years.

Well--you critics. What do you say now?

HOW ARE YOUR EYES--your television football eyes?

On the weekend of Sept. 6-9, no less than five National and American League games will be on your tubes, including the Lions vs. the New York Jets in the first half of the annual Cleveland Stadium doubleheader.

Won't that be something--Bill Munson vs. Joe Namath?

THINGS ARE BEGINNING to squirm in the homes of a couple of Farmington Townshippers who reside only a couple miles apart.

There's Sid Abel of the Red Wings and Ed Coil of the Pistons, both fully aware that the summer has gone and the fall and winter are roaring toward us.

Perhaps, apropos that they reside near one another, Coil and Abel will have their two teams training within a few miles, too.

The Pistons will be at Marysville High School, the Wings a few miles up the road at the Port Huron arena.

For Abel, the new season will carry an adjustment in his operations--a big one.

Heretofore, he's served both as manager-coach of the Wings. He's now turned the coaching over to Bill Gadsby.

Youngsters Get Chance To Seek Puck Berths

Although it's still a bit early to think about hockey and the cold winter days and nights, the Farmington Amateur Hockey Association has announced plans for tryouts in all divisions.

The sessions are open to any boys who care to report and will continue until a time when the squads are selected and date set for the official opening of the league seasons.

Managing Director Russell Ellis has announced the following schedule for tryouts: Juveniles, 17-18 age group, 6 p.m., Sept. 8 at Detroit Skating Club; Midgets, 15-16 years, 3 p.m., Sept. 7 at Winter Wonderland; Bantam, 13-14, 9 p.m., Sept. 2, Winter Wonderland; Pee Wee, 11-12, 8 p.m., Sept. 2, Winter Wonderland; Squirts, 9-10, 7 p.m., Sept. 2, Winter Wonderland; and Mighty Mites, 4-8, 4 p.m., Sept. 7, Detroit Skating Club.

All boys seeking tryouts must bring their own equipment.

MacAuliffe Out; Tigers Slump

Who's the most valuable Detroit Tiger?

Bill Freehan?

Al Kaline?

Guess again!

The answer has to be Dick McAuliffe. This was proved over the weekend when the Tigers dropped four straight to the New York Yankees.

In actuality, the Tigers went through five games with the Yanks without winning. Since one wound up in a 19-inning tie.

Fact of the matter, you can make it six games or 55 innings without a victory.

That's something that hadn't happened all season for the Tigers. Their previous longest losing streak stood at three in a row.

BUT HERE they were stumbling against the once-proud Yankees and in none of the action was McAuliffe on the scene able to perform.

He was under a five-day suspension for "attacking" Chicago pitcher Tom John when the two became involved over an inside pitch in the finale of the Tiger-White Sox series at Tiger Stadium last Thursday night.

To a man the Tigers insisted McAuliffe had received a raw deal...that the penalty against McAuliffe was too severe.

Manager Mayor Smith knew that the loss of McAuliffe would hurt. But Smith didn't realize how much.

Pair Finish 1-2 In Auto Racing

Joe Barham and Dennis Pace, both of Plymouth, ran one-two in the featured Figure 8 race at the Flat Rock Speedway last Saturday night.

Ron Grana, of Farmington, carried off top-qualifying honors in the late model division but had his problems in the race proper, won by Dick Mitchell, of Trenton.

Grana blew an engine while running in fourth place. It marked the fifth time this season he had experienced a similar blow.

This occurrence is rare for stock-car racers who operate on low budgets.

KALAMAZOO - Since 1953, Western Michigan University's cross country team has never placed worse than second in the Mid-American Conference championship meet, winning the title seven times and placing in the runnerup spot the other eight times.

KALAMAZOO - Western Michigan University junior Tom Randolph of New York City, a qualifier for the Final Olympic Track Trials at Lake Tahoe, Calif., in September, earned All-American honors in both indoor and outdoor track last season.

DEFENSE IS TOPIC as Coach Dan Boisture, of Eastern Michigan University, meets with veteran linebacks Gary Grady (left) of Plymouth and Joe Clinton of Redford. The two are among the holdovers EMU is figuring on for a winning team this year.

Champs Two Area Gridders Carry Huron Hopes

ner kept the shutout parade going by subduing Pontiac, 5-0, in a battle of undefeated teams.

Tanner allowed four hits, fanned four and walked one. He never was in serious trouble.

Redford broke the scoreless tie in the third when Terry Rothwell slugged a double. Mike Schaefer and Tanner followed with a single and Masson was safe on an error. All this was good for only one run. But Woloch followed with a single to make it 3-0.

In the sixth, Woloch led with a long homer. Tim Fisher singled and Rothwell produced again and the Redford team had what proved all the runs it was to score in the game.

Two Eastern Michigan University lettermen from the Observer circulation area are returning to bolster the Hurons defensive backfield for next Head Coach Dan Boisture predicts will be the toughest schedule the team ever faced.

Gary Grady, a senior from Plymouth, and Joe Clinton, a junior from Redford, will be starting their third season as teammates in the defensive secondary.

Boisture said Grady, defensive halfback, and Clinton, a defensive tailback, will help this end of the game which was weakened by the loss of Ron Arnold, a middle man in the trio.

Last year the Huron's record was 6 and 3. They won their first six games and lost the last three because, Boisture said, "They caught on to our running game."

Their running game was the strong point with little or no passing ability.

"We have completely revamped our offense and at this point are completely untested," he said.

Boisture said he has high hopes for Arnold Fontes, a five feet, 11 inch 185 pound junior from Ohio, who "appears ready to solve the Hurons passing woes of 1967."

CAME SUNDAY NIGHT, Redford was involved in its fourth consecutive shutout, but this time Redford was on the short end of the score against Wyandotte, which won, 4-0.

Art Wendt fired the goose eggs for Wyandotte which advanced into the semifinals against Muskegon, a 6-5 victor over Pontiac.

Chuck Viane worked seven innings and Tom Fisher the final two for Redford.

Three drivers from Plymouth and Livonia dominated the Michigan stock car figure-eight state championships Sunday at the Spartan Speedway, Lansing.

Dick Simmons of Plymouth drove to first place in the 25-lap finals, with Mel Murphy of Livonia and Dennis Pace of Plymouth finishing second and third.

The victory qualifies Simmons to compete in the world figure-eight championships at Islip, N.Y., in October.

FIVE QUARTERBACKS completed 37 passes last season. Fontes completed 13 of 19 passes for 167 yards and two touchdowns.

"The key to our success will be the quarterback. We must have a quarterback who can run and throw. We think Fontes can do the job," Boisture said.

Boisture said that the 1968 schedule is "tough and one that should prove his ball club can do a winning job."

"We have to mature fast," he said. "The club is young and untested and this will be our biggest obstacle."

Beginning Sept. 14, the Hurons open at home against Morningside from Iowa Sept. 21 then follows at home against Southern Connecticut, Sept. 28 at Arkansas State, Oct. 5 at Akron, Oct. 12 at Ball State of Indiana, Oct. 19 at Tampa, Oct. 26 at home against Kentucky State.

HERE'S SOMETHING to look forward to: The Japanese plan to provide color television of the 1972 Olympic Games to the United States and Western Europe.

The victory qualifies Simmons to compete in the world figure-eight championships at Islip, N.Y., in October.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

EAT YOUR NASTURTIUMS! Many gardeners make a good and attractive sandwich from nasturtium flowers and salad dressing. Or you can mix petals of nasturtiums among greens, as you would water-cress. Use any green salad for this. Green nasturtium seeds can also be bottled in vinegar for a seasoning to be used in salad dressing, or they may be pickled in a syrup, the same as peaches or pears.

Incidentally, did you ever make a rose petal cake? Here's a good recipe sent to me: 1 cup rose petals, 3 cups flour, 1 cup sugar (granulated) 1/2 cup of margarine, 3 eggs, 1 cup milk, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1 lemon, 1/2 tsp. salt. Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly, then add eggs (well beaten), flour, baking powder, salt, milk, grated rind and a tablespoon of lemon juice, and freshly picked rose petals. Divide into greased and floured muffin pans, and bake in 325-350 degree oven, 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 35 cakes.

FREE: As a Green Thumb bonus, I'd like to send each reader a copy of my revised bulletin, "Edible Flowers Are A Real Treat!" Just send me a self-addressed stamped envelope for your copy. Only one per reader, please.

BAD YEAR FOR NUTS: Many homeowners tell us their walnut trees are shedding leaves fast, and that only a few nuts are present. Early loss of leaves is usually due to a disease known as anthracnose.

Spray with Zineb 75 per cent wettable powder next year, when the first leaves are half grown, and make three applications at 14 day intervals. Both anthracnose and bacterial blight are spread during rains, so apply just before rain periods, if possible. The walnut husk maggot can be controlled if you spray the trees with malathion 25 per cent wettable powder in late August.

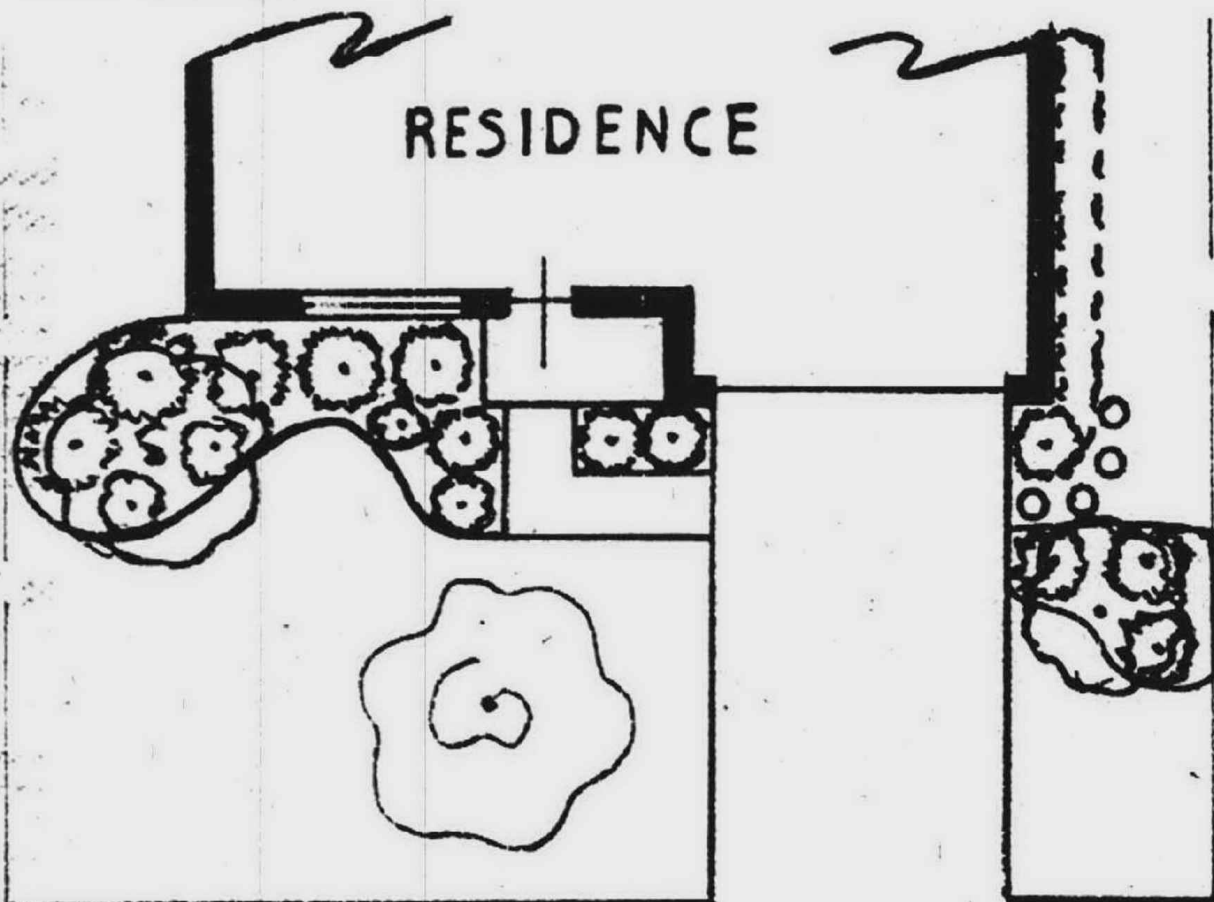

Also, if your chestnut trees had weevils last year, spray with malathion or Sevin, about Sept. 1 to 5, using a wetting agent along with the spray. Some commercial growers control weevils by drenching the soil under their trees, using Sevin or methoxychlor. One treatment, made the first week of June, should be effective for a period of one or two years.

Self-Clean Oven Burn Food Soil

Sears, Roebuck & Co. offers a self-cleaning oven in a 30-inch range.

The Gas Self-Clean Oven eliminates the time-consuming chore of oven cleaning.

The self-cleaning oven burns off food soil on the oven walls at temperatures higher than 825 degrees. Special construction of the oven cavity prevents the outside of the range from becoming any hotter than during normal baking use.

A special smoke eliminator on the unit changes smoke into harmless vapors.

Cleaning time for the oven is one and one half to three hours, depending on the amount of soil to be removed. Once the cleaning cycle has ended, the oven automatically shuts itself off.

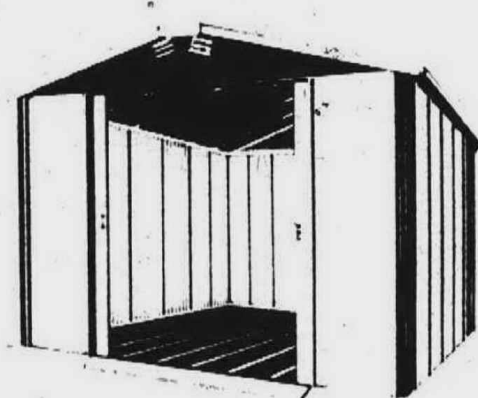

Fuel cost for the cleaning cycle is less than three cents, according to Sears home economists.

Elsea Realty and Investment Co. of Detroit reports the sale of 202 residential and commercial properties in May totaling $3,232,733. This compares with sales of $2,854,495 in April and 229 sales for $3,318,020 in May 1967.

4-State Coalition To Battle Pesticide Pollution Of Lake

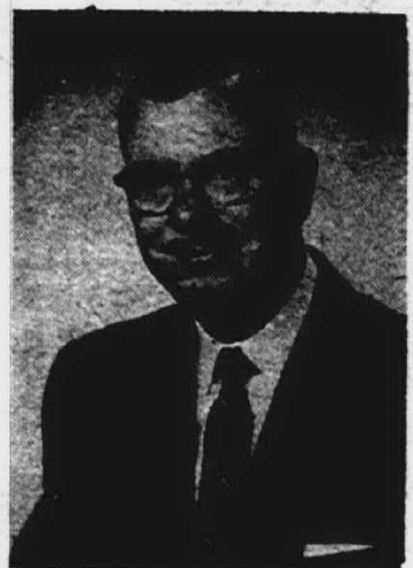

Conservation officials of Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana this week formally adopted a "milestone" agreement to combine their efforts in protecting the Lake Michigan Basin from further pesticide pollution.

They formed the 4-state coalition in Chicago at the 35th Annual Convention of the Midwest Fish and Game Commissioners, signing the pact for Michigan were Conservation Commission Chairman Harry H. Whiteley and Conservation Director Ralph A. MacMullan.

Under their agreement, the states will join forces to tighten enforcement over all pesticide pollution in the Lake Michigan complex. Their efforts will be focused upon such developments as industrial processes, municipal Dutch elm disease and mosquito control programs, and agricultural and gardening activities.

FOLLOWING this week's signing ceremonies, Michigan Conservation Director MacMullan commented:

"This agreement marks a milestone in mobilizing a united attack against the haphazard use of pesticides in the Lake Michigan area. This is not going to be a paper program. I have already instructed my staff to pull out all the stops in working with the conservation agencies of Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana to translate this agreement into a dynamic counterforce against pesticide pollution."

MacMullan, hopes the Lake Michigan pact will be the forerunner to a broader pesticide control program. He said that steps will be taken immediately to encourage all Great Lakes states to join in a similar agreement.

Also, in September, the International Association of Game and Fish Commissioners will be urged to adopt the same type of program to provide more uniform control over pesticides throughout North America.

MacMullan explains: "We think the points worked into our Lake Michigan agreement are pretty fundamental to this whole pesticide problem and they deserve to be incorporated into a continent-wide effort."

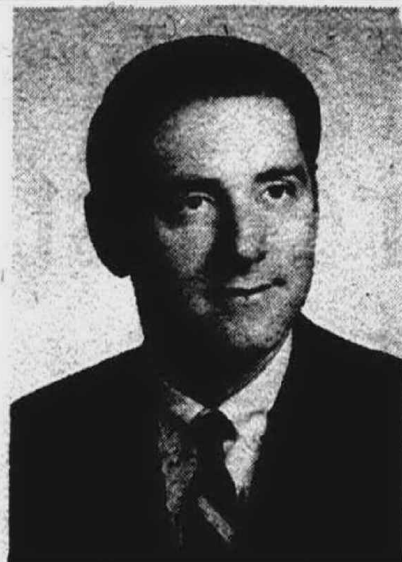

One of the turns of events that gave rise to pact-signing among Lake Michigan states was last winter's die-off of about 700,000 coho salmon fry at a Conservation Department fish hatchery in Michigan. Studies by Michigan State University indicated that DDT residues were the most "probable" cause for this mortality.

FORMATION of the new coalition also takes firm note of the fact that about 80 per cent of Lake Michigan's 1,660 miles of shoreline has high potential for outdoor recreation. It also takes into sharp focus the importance of Lake Michigan to the growth and health of communities bordering the lake's shores.

For example, Lake Michigan is a principal source of drinking water.

Backgrounded by these facts and figures, the four states' agreement somberly notes: "We believe that unless timely steps are taken to control persistent pesticides and other economic poisons, Lake Michigan's usefulness will shrink to a fraction of its potential--indeed to the point of disaster."

Hamming recently joined the bank's pension and profit sharing staff in the trust department. He is a member of the Economic Club of Detroit and serves on that organization's advisory board and reception committee. He is also involved in many of the activities of St. Robert Bellarmine Church. ## Name Livonian Credit Manager

Gerald J. Knoll of Livonia, has been appointed to the position of Detroit district credit manager for United States Steel Supply Division. His office will be located at the division's new steel service center facilities in suburban Taylor Township. Joining the Supply Division in Chicago in 1961, Knoll served as a credit correspondent until 1964 when he was promoted to the position of assistant credit manager in the Chicago district office. He was transferred to St. Paul, Minn., later that year as district credit manager and in 1966 went on to a similar position in the Seattle, Wash., district office.

Mr. Knoll, his wife, Janet, and their four sons reside in Livonia.

Perennials Grow Well From Seeds

A good many perennials grow so easily from seeds that it makes no sense at all to buy plants. Seeds are available by August of each year of plants that bloomed earlier. They can be sown then so most will grow into plants large enough to bloom next year.

The easiest way to handle seeds of perennials is in either a special bed, preferably raised a few inches above ground level, or in a coldframe, commercial or homemade.

A raised bed can be made of 4 pieces of 2x4 set on edge. Use 2 pieces the same length for the sides, 2 shorter ones of the same length for the ends. Hold them in place with wooden pegs.

Filled with a mixture of 1/3 each garden soil, sand (if the soil is not sandy) and granulated peat moss and allowed to settle a few days, the bed is then ready for planting.

The soil mixture should be watered well the night before planting, which will further settle the soil. Watering after planting should be with a fine spray, possibly through burlap or cheesecloth so the seeds do not wash out of place.

A coldframe is really just a box minus top and bottom. An old window frame set on the ground will make a coldframe. True, it will not be sloped for maximum sunlight like a commercial frame, but it will grow perennials from seeds and do it very well.

Any bed or frame should be made or set in a shady place and near a water source. If very fine seeds are to be sown, the top inch of the mixture recommended can be sowed to make it fine too.

Which perennials to sow? There are so many that come readily from seeds that you can pick and choose, according to the height of plant or color of bloom you wish for your garden.

If blue flowers are your need, you can grow delphiniums (seeds MUST be fresh), anchusa, hardy cornflower or some of the perennial Canterbury bells.

Perhaps you'd like low-growing plants for the front of the border? Rock cress, Basket of Gold alyssum, armeria, hardy garden pinks, violas and hardy primroses are all possibilities.

Coreopsis has bright yellow flowers, columbines grow well in shade and are dainty and graceful, hollyhocks are stately with rosettes for flowers, Russell lupines sport spires of bloom in a wide range of colors -- and so one can go through the roster of perennials.

Each kind offers much to the garden or it would not be in commerce. Each packet of seeds should produce sufficient plants for a fine effect in your garden.

Dark Flower In Light Room

Sometimes a dark-colored flower is just what you need to furnish a contrast with lighter, brighter blooms.

Such a contrast is possible in the single French marigolds by using such varieties as Red-head or Ruffled Red planted with yellow, gold or orange-flowered kinds.

These colors are found in varieties like Sunny, which has clear yellow blooms or the golden yellow flowers of Naughty Marietta which are blotched maroon at the petal bases.

Tells Where Travel Will Be Heaviest

Highway Dept. Forecasts Heavy Weekend Traffic

LANSING -- Anticipating unusually heavy traffic over the Labor Day weekend, the Department of State Highways is preparing to clear all state highways of any unnecessary obstructions.

Henrik E. Stafseth, State Highway Director, has issued instructions to district and project engineers to halt all road and bridge construction projects by 5 p.m. on Friday, August 30.

They also were directed to eliminate all one-way traffic bottlenecks and to inspect temporary routes, signs and barricades where work is in progress.

EARTH-MOVING equipment or trucks carrying road construction material will not be permitted to travel on or cross highways between Friday night and Tuesday morning. Work will be permitted to proceed only on detours and on sections of highway closed to traffic. Construction will not be resumed until Tuesday morning, Sept. 3.

Technicians of the Department's Traffic and Safety Section estimate that motorists will travel a total of 512 million miles over Michigan's city streets and rural highways between 6 p.m., Friday and midnight Monday of the Labor Day weekend, an increase of eight percent over the same period of 1967.

Nearly 152 million miles of that total will be driven on Monday, an increase of 10 percent over the total mileage driven on Labor Day of 1967.

According to their predictions, all main routes to the north will carry heavy to extremely heavy traffic from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Friday. Both US-27 and Interstate 75 will carry moderate to heavy northbound traffic Saturday morning.

They also predict that all main routes in the western part of the Lower Peninsula will carry heavy concentrations of travel trailer and boat trailer traffic northbound on Friday afternoon and evening and southbound on Monday from noon to 10 p.m.

The current boom in Coho salmon fishing from Ludington, Manistee, Frankfort and other Lake Michigan ports will contribute to the concentration of boat trailers on state highways leading to the area.

FOR THE UPPER PENINSULA, Department records for the first six months of 1968 show increases in traffic of 10.2 percent on the Mackinac Bridge, 18.5 percent on US-2 and 14.8 percent on Interstate 75 between tween St. Ignace and Sault Ste. Marie over the first six months of 1967.

To provide guidelines for motorists planning Labor Day weekend excursions, the State Highway Department has issued the following weekend traffic forecasts for all principal state highways in the Lower Peninsula:

NORTHBOUND
Interstate 75, Ohio state line to Detroit. No serious problems. Heaviest volume of northbound traffic will occur on Monday, with 1,200 to 1,500 vehicles per hour between 5 p.m. and 8 p.m., as Detroit residents return home.

Interstate 75, Detroit to Flint. Heavy volume on Friday from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m., especially heavy between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m., with 2,500 to 3,000 vehicles per hour and some congestion.

Interstate 75, Bay City to Standish. No serious problems. Moderately heavy volume on Friday from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Completion of Interstate 75 in this area will relieve congestion of previous years. ## Marigolds Will Bring Beauty Into Homes

Are you looking for a flower that will bring brave, gypsy beauty to rooms that seem too dull and quiet?

Flower arrangers, take heed! Summer is bold and beautiful, and so is the brilliant marigold. Summer is spendthrift in displaying her vitality. This same lavish life bursts forth in the big round form of the marigold.

ROOMS WILL acquire new interest and excitement when decorated with this particular flower.

Of all blossoms, the marigold lends itself magnificently to great massed bouquets. Certainly "timid" is not the word for this joyful flower. The red and orange blossoms are especially striking and beautiful in rooms decorated in earth tones or in pristine white.

Below are a variety of ways to arrange marigold bouquets this summer. For massed effects, the big, buxom flowers are easy to arrange and breathtaking in their beauty. They may be featured alone, or combined with other round flowers such as large chrysanthemums, dahlias, oriental poppies, zinnias, calendulas and china asters. These circular forms, found so frequently throughout all of nature, make a natural center of interest to the eye.

Garden Without Annuals Lacks Something

One way a garden can be judged is by the number of blooms it produces for picking and either using in the house or giving away to friends. How does your garden rate in that regard?

If you planted plenty of annuals you should be able to pick flowers by armfuls. Of course certain annuals which bloom over a long period will produce more blossoms than others.

Candytuft, for instance, comes up promptly, bursts into bloom and then is finished for the season. If you want more candytuft flowers you have to make a second planting.

Zinnias and marigolds, on the other hand, form new buds as old flowers fade, so you can truly "cut and come again." Really, all you need to do to keep many annuals producing blooms is to cut off the fading blooms. This prevents the plants from forming seeds which take nourishment better used, from your point of view, for more flowers.

In contrast to perennials, which bloom once or sometimes twice during a growing season, are those prolific annuals named above, and many more. That's why a garden without annuals lacks something--most likely armfuls of blooms to use for ornamentation indoors or to please others.

Douglas fir or cedar 2x3's are a good material to use for garden bench seats. Run them lengthwise, leaving only enough spacing between boards to permit rain drainage.

ORANGE - RED-AND-GOLD compositions can be made with marigolds, snapdragons, hardy chrysanthemums, rudbeckias, calendulas and yellow or orange cosmos, all readily available at the florist shop.

Large-flowered marigolds make bold compositions. Some species are an exuberant fifteen inches high.

If you want smaller compositions for informal tables and deep window sills, select the miniature varieties; they are called French marigolds, and place in pottery jugs, jars or pitchers, or metal or wooden containers of peasant design. For an outdoor barbecue, fill a copper pot with dahlias and red and orange marigolds.

THE GYPSY JEALOUSLY guards his individuality and his many identities in life: dancer, musician, wanderer, storyteller, and, from time to time, one given to trickery and deceit. His truest home is the out-of-doors--a moving caravan in a lonely field by dark of night. Yet, if asked to entertain in the city, he will take guitar in hand and hasten there.

So it is with the beautiful marigold. This, of all blooms, is an earth flower. Its perfume is pungent, not sweet. In texture and in size, it, too, can be a trickster. It can mimic other blooms--the carnation and the chrysanthemum. It is zestfully at home in either rustic or formal setting.

Babysitter's A Ballerina

Andrea's Goal: National Academy--With Help

By EMORY DANIELS

A lot of teen-agers spend the summer earning money babysitting and ironing to buy the latest fashions for the new school year.

But not Andrea St. Mary. Andrea is babysitting and ironing to attend the National Academy of Ballet in New York beginning Sept. 9.

Andrea, 15 and a high school sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank St. Mary of 23015 Inkster Rd., Farmington.

She has been awarded an $800 scholarship from the Academy's school but needs an additional $2,400 to pay for tuition and room and board for the entire year.

Her parents have gathered $1,600 to insure completion of the first semester but are seeking a willing patron to sponsor their talented daughter for the remaining $800.

DURING JULY, Andrea attended a month's session at the National Academy of Ballet. That trip alone was quite an honor, and little did she realize that more was to come.

Aspirants from many states and abroad submit applications, but only a small percentage are selected to attend the Academy, and then only after careful screening.

Andrea has wanted to attend the summer course since she was 13 and during the two years saved $475 from part-time jobs to make the trip.

While at the school, she attended classes from 8 a.m. til 6 p.m. six days a week. Academic subjects were worked in with the aesthetic courses and discipline and decorum were highly stressed.

The school is headed by Thaila Mara who is a European prima ballerina and an author of several ballet books. The institution, which is the only European ballet school in the U.S., is rated as the top school for serious and theatrical ballet in New York City.

AFTER GRADUATING from the summer session, Andrea returned to Farmington unaware of the impression she left on her instructors.

The school called her parents and told them their daughter was a gifted dancer with unusual talents which should be further developed.

In fact, her grasp of the art impressed the school so much it offered Andrea an $800 scholarship—the first time in the history of the school that it offered a financial grant.

"We, of course, feel honored that Andrea was accepted and because of her diligence, dedication and potential while there was awarded a partial scholarship of $800 and encouraged to return for the full term," says Mrs. St. Mary.

The school is very select with class sizes running from seven to eight students. Last June's graduating class was only seven. Academic levels run from the fourth to twelfth grades.

THE CURRICULUM for Andrea's sophomore year will include: regular high school academic courses; Russian and French; sewing; costume design; staging; ballet techniques; piano lessons; music appreciation; and fencing. This will require a minimum of three hours of homework a night.

Andrea will be leaving in a couple of weeks for New York and will be keeping a close eye on the mail from home, hopeful of news that a patron will provide $800 for the second term.

The National Academy of Ballet is sending a letter of recommendation to the Farmington Jaycees who have said they will consider sponsoring Andrea.

Farmington Public Schools have also been contacted and are reviewing scholarship sources to offer assistance in applying for a grant.

Mrs. St. Mary explains that most Academy students are sponsored by their state or city governments or by a local civic or art group.

ANDREA'S INTEREST in the art probably stems from the fact her mother is a dancing instructor. She began dancing at age four and during the past school year took lessons two-three times a week and all day Saturdays.

Her life has been completely dedicated to mastering the hardest art, ballet. She maintains a strict diet and constantly exercises to keep the proper weight.

Although ballet builds muscles for other sports, there is not another sport which strengthens ballet dancers. In fact, Andrea has had to give up swimming and gymnastics because she started developing a muscle in her shoulder.

While not earning money, Andrea lives classical music and ballet and will spend hours at a time listening to "Swan Lake."

Among her trophies are two first place awards in Detroit competition.

Following high school graduation, she hopes to join a professional ballet company on tour. And that tour may well include a performance at Farmington East Junior High School where Andrea has been a student for the past three years.

But first, to New York.

'CURTAIN GOING UP'

The Ann Arbor Civic Guild, a community theater organization noted for their high standard of excellence, have crashed through the experimental barrier with an initial summer season of workshop productions.

For the months of July and August, a hard-working group of Ann Arbor Civic thespians gave local audiences a chance to see three productions over a period of some six weeks. Plays ran the gamut from farce to the classic Chekhov period piece "Uncle Vanya."

THE CHEKHOV play was the last on the summer schedule and brought the season to a happy, fun-filled conclusion. Director Dave Siglin staged this venerable classic with the sure touch of a Broadway professional. His ability to bring out the creative best in each member of the cast was evident all evening.

"Uncle Vanya" is not one of the better scripts that Anton Chekhov wrote. His "Three Sisters" and "Cherry Orchard" scripts are more mature pieces of dramaturgy. "Vanya" was written during his formative years (1886-88) as an author, director, and actor. A good share of the writing was repitious and discursive.

Director Siglin solved the problem neatly by deleting almost a third of the original script. Horrors! Not that! Surely, Siglin didn't take such liberties. A classic violated!

Yes, he did. The results were a lively "Uncle Vanya." The joys and frustrations of early Russia to be found on some of the large estates was all there and quite understandable. By cutting away some of the chaff, the audience could cope with most of the Chekhov philosophy. Sense emerged out of chaos.

Charles Stallman in the leading role of Uncle Vanya projected the complex feelings of an embittered, middle-aged human being caught up in this vortex of time.

CHEKHOV'S constant aim in the five dramas he wrote was to paint life in all its true aspects. His "Uncle Vanya" takes eight characters and shows how they all fall short in their attempt to fill out their lives and make a true contribution.

Let's hope the Ann Arbor Civic Guild continues the summer workshop on a permanent basis. In fact, there's no reason why their workshop building couldn't be in operation during their regular season.

Other community groups might take a lesson from the Ann Arbor Civic and plan to use their warehouse, storage rooms, or meeting places as small, intimate theaters. This production of "Uncle Vanya" (in the round) with the audience limited to 60 observers was a flawless gem.

Director Siglin paced his production perfectly. The edited script ran only one hour and 50 minutes with two intermissions.

THAT'S THE SOUND — Wes Harrison the sound effects domo is just one of the featured acts in the "Sing Out America" program Sept. 13 in Cobo Hall. Headlining the evening's program are the Four Freshmen and the New Christy Minstrels. Tickets may be obtained from the Farmington Jaycees or Cobo Hall.

Local Delegates Find HHH Almost In Control

CHICAGO -- Delegates from Overland communities swooped into this armed camp of Democrats and took up bell-weather positions on all candidates as the convention poised for its roll calls.

Philosophical views were in a stand-pat position, but how they will be expressed ranged widely among the candidates. Plainly, Hubert H. Humphrey was the favorite as the delegates swept from caucus to caucus, but there were sallies on behalf of others.

GARY FRINK, the 19th District congressional candidate of the party, conceded that Humphrey had it wrapped up, but he sensed a willingness by Senator Eugene McCarthy to take the No. 2 spot.

"I was elated at the prospect," he said, Frink was en-chanted about the talk of Senator Edward Kennedy and the speculation that he might go for the presidential nomination. "I would be for it," he said. "It would be a pleasure to run with him."

Alternate Glenn Hartsell of Redford said that there appears to be no problem for Humphrey, and that a boomlet for Kennedy would toss a monkey wrench into the party's machinery at this point.

He reasoned that Kennedy had not asked for the nomination, had not expressed himself on the issues, and his candidacy at this late date would take time to consider before sorting out the party's nominee.

LIVONIA Councilman Jerry Raymond, the only delegate from the Wayne 19th, said that Humphrey "seems to be in control of things."

Insiders said that McCarthy people are conceding the Chicago show to Humphrey and are going back to nail down un-committed electoral college electors, if possible.

They said former Michigan State Chairman, Zolton Ferency, left via air Sunday for that purpose in Michigan. Ferency was the third alternate delegate and earlier said he would ignore Chicago, Paul Y. Kadish, of Livonia, said that "it looks like Humphrey all the way."

THE COUNT in the Michigan delegation showed Humphrey with 61 delegate votes to 12 for McCarthy, despite the slippage in the open polls for Humphrey.

There was some pressure as the roll call vote on the floor neared for another poll of the delegation.

One of the biggest flips for the Michigan delegation was whether to open the caucuses to the Michigan press. The first decision by the executive board was to bar reporters. Robert Dwyer of Plymouth, chairman of the 2nd Congressional District, went to bat for the press. His work got reporters admitted to the latter stages of the first caucus Sunday night. It developed that the delegation's sergeant-at-arms, Jerry Sixbey, of Brighton, escorted Observer reporters in at Dwyer's insistence.

2 From Michigan Aid Drive To Draft Sen. Ted Kennedy

By DON HOENSHILL

CHICAGO -- Michigan Democrats today stood behind the charismatic questionmark of Senator Edward Kennedy as the countdown showed a surface landslide for Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The reality of Humphrey is here with the challenge of Senator Eugene McCarthy and the lesser swath cut by Senator George McGovern.

Two Michigan leaders of the Democratic National Convention moved quietly inside a group seeking to draft the youngest Kennedy for the Presidency. They held meetings far into the morning Monday with California House Speaker Jesse M. Unruh.

SENATOR Philip A. Hart and Michigan State Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin both said they were part of a move to determine Kennedy's wishes and, if he agrees, to move toward dumping Humphrey and McCarthy and installing Kennedy as the presidential nominee to go against Republican Richard M. Nixon in the general election Nov. 5.

The Kennedy development gripped the delegates in the corridors and the watering spots of this convention city, jittery and armed to the teeth against any demonstration that gets out of hand.

Former Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle stated, as the delegates settled themselves, that he would put Kennedy's name in nomination. This alone was enough for Humphrey and the others to start looking over their shoulders.

"Some of us are looking for something to grab, and maybe this is it," said one delegate.

MICHIGAN'S delegation, caucusing in their headquarters hotel on the Lake Michigan waterfront, heard Humphrey's endorsement of pushing a well-packaged humility--ask for help Sunday night.

Earlier, they heard from Alabama Gov. Lester Maddox but brushed off his appeal as that of a Dixie segregationist who in 1964 staged an axe-handle standoff to bar Negroes from his restaurant.

Monday, the delegation heard from McCarthy and completed organizational housekeeping chores.

The last official count of the delegation in June showed 61 for Humphrey, 12 for McCarthy

observing the Democrats and a scattering, including one for a draft of President Johnson. But Johnson has repeated almost every hour that his decision to quit would stand.

As the delegation convened here, the votes seemed to be even further splintered.

GEORGE GOOGASIAN, Oakland County Democratic Chairman, said Humphrey had it all locked up on the first ballot before the convention started, but fell back as the delegates arrived.

"I just saw him on television, and he was coming on awfully strong on Vietnam," Googasian said. "This may cause some defection."

"When I started down here, I may have been the only delegate from Michigan for McGovern. I think he'll pick up 20 to 25 Michigan delegates."

ROBERT DWYER, manager of the Secretary of State branch office in Plymouth, discounted the Kennedy development as only slightly heavier than a rumor and disregarded the other challenges to Humphrey.

"When it's all over, it will be Humphrey," he said.

Maddox was ushered into the caucus room by Secret Service men at 8:30 p.m. Newsmen were barred. In the corridor outside, a hotel employee was hustled 40 feet to a doorway when he didn't move out of the path of the entourage.

Inside the room, an agent of the Observer Newspapers took notes.

Hart asked people to take their seats, and Maddox entered to mild applause. He said he shared Democratic goals "to bring victory in November, and my candidacy will do just that."

MADDOX said that Democrats should put their country first in priority, "then your family, and then your party."

Throughout his talk to the delegation, Maddox clung to the microphone as though holding a glass of fine wine.

He said that "people are insisting upon change" and that "the same old faces are not sufficient," that America needs leadership that is "honest, efficient and morally strong."

Maddox calls for "leadership, not party labels" to bring peace in Vietnam and on the streets of the nation's cities.

He suggested more dollars for the needy, better roads, elimination of slum ghettos, housing for the poor, and accelerated inter-state programs.

"If we had planned for it 20 years ago, if we had worked on it 20 years ago, the ghetto would not be what it is today," Maddox said.

AS HE LEFT the caucus, delegates set up a din of Humphrey clickers--the noisy click-click toy kids get in Cracker Jack boxes. It has become a convention gimmick for Humphrey.

Out in the corridor, Maddox shouted an answer to a question: "I enjoyed it. I had a good time. They were very courteous."

An Englishman's View

The GOP's 4-Year Carnival

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is written by David Mills, an Englishman currently living in the United States who has followed the American political scene closely for a year. A graduate of Oxford University with a degree in philosophy, politics and economics, Mills intends to return to England this fall to practice law and perhaps enter politics himself. His article, cast in the typical mold of the semi-serious, semi-humorous English essay, dissects the meaning of the recently completed Republican national convention.

By DAVID MILLS
Special Writer

The Martian, if he happened to land on Earth every four years and had arrived Aug. 5, would long since have come to the conclusion that the goings on in Mexico City and Miami Beach -- the erection of stadiums and halls, the seemingly pointless running around -- were aspects of the same four-yearly carnival. An Englishman, in the U.S. for the election year, feels attracted to the same conclusion.

Certain characters could equally well be appearing in either part of the fun.

There is marathon runner Nixon, still staggering round the course after eight years, undismayed by a photo finish in 1960 and undaunted by falling flat on his face in the West coast consolation race in 1962. Only a cad would have denied him first place this time. After all, he had run farther and longer than anyone else, and the fact that he had started long before the others was neither here nor there.

Another ambiguous figure is Harry Edwards, to all intents and purposes playing the part of an enraged Mississippi would-be delegate, who will propose H. Rap Brown as a favorite son if the convention isn't run on his terms.

THEN THERE IS Spiro T. Who? He happened to be standing close to the finishing line at the end of the marathon, and in the photo of the finish was mistaken for the person in second place. Charles Percy, pretty disgruntled, said there had been some trick photography. But Strom Thurmond insisted that the camera never lies.

Front runner Nixon had puzzled the onlookers and other participants when the meeting opened. Why wasn't he to be seen anywhere? There was Nelson Rockefeller, belting it out round the stadium in full view, and Reagan ambling along, pretending he was just another spectator.

People were beginning to think Nixon was cutting it a little fine; he didn't even seem to be running anymore. But they forgot all those points he had amassed during the winter and spring trials. No-one else had managed to come first, second, third and fourth in all those places, and that's a lot of points, however you look at it. The way Nixon looked at it showed he was a winner. Somebody from New York said he couldn't possibly have lost, which meant even Nixon could win.

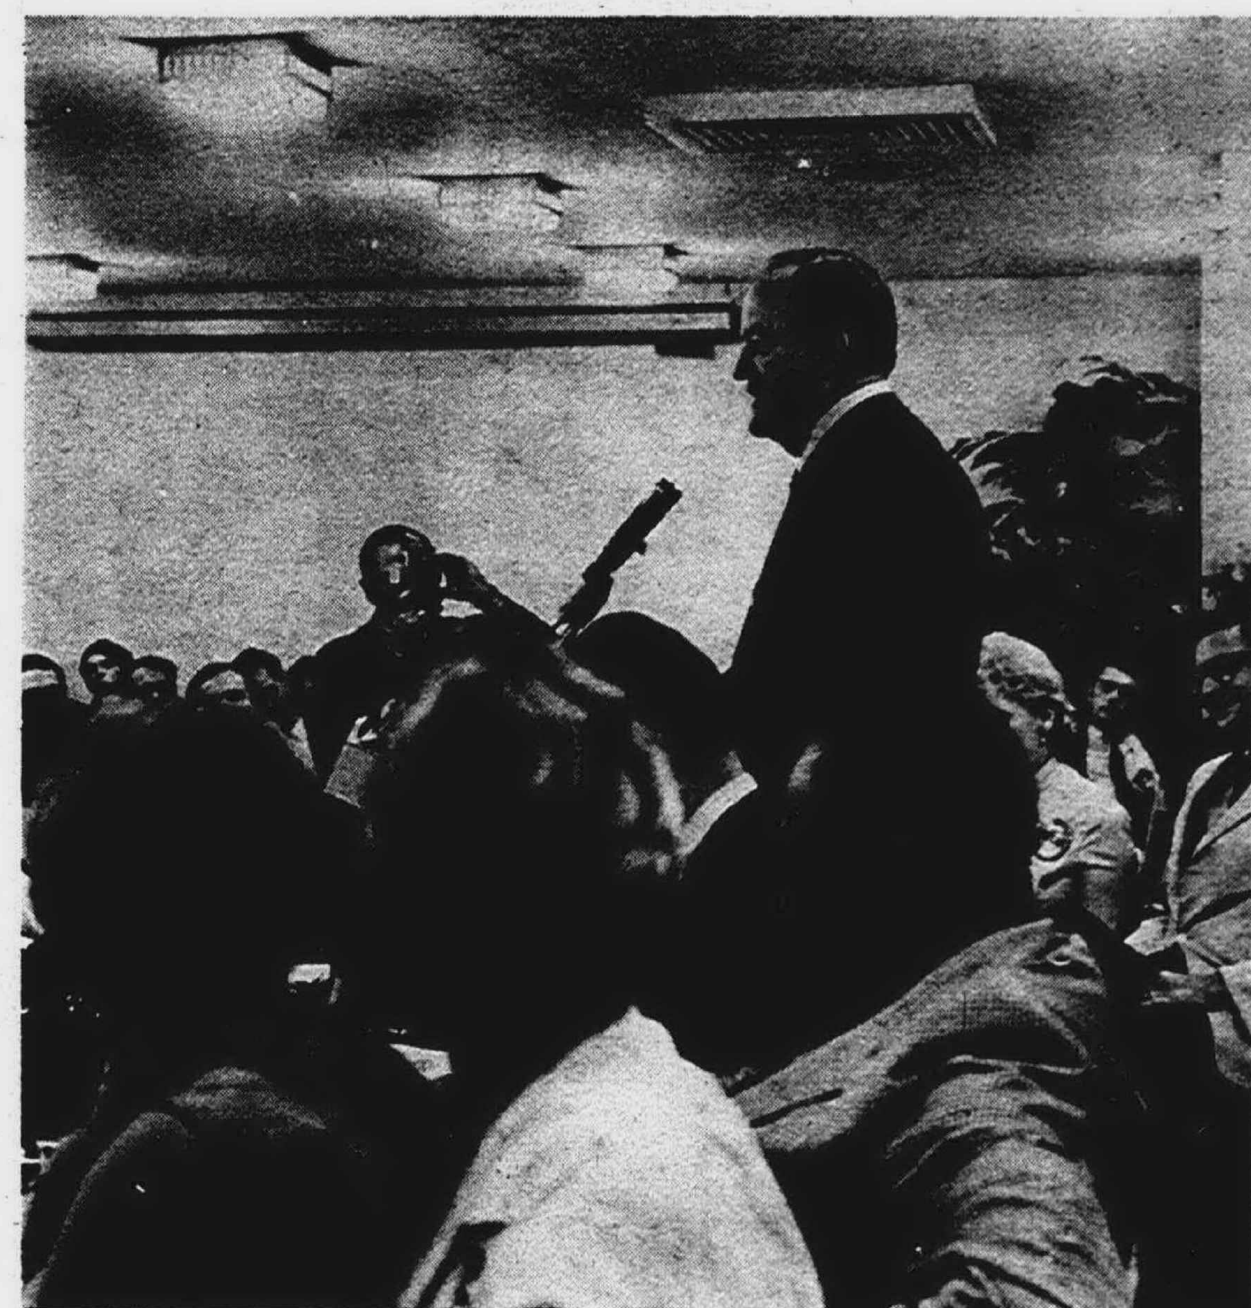

ANYWAY, HE TURNED UP eventually, and went into a huddle with his seconds. They were getting alarmed by Reagan, so Nixon went down to the southern end of the stadium and told them all to stick with him and the goodies would come their way after he won the race; and what with Strom Thurmond handing out the lollipops and beer, that seemed to do it.

Bob's Bag: Hippy Cleanup!

CHICAGO -- Bob Dwyer, the young Wayne 2nd District chairman who is a delegate to the Democratic National Convention, may be liberal in his politics, but he's clean-scrubbed in appearance and button-down in his dress.

He also has a sharp wit, and he threw every barb he could into the many hippies floating around town.

Dwyer collected many tiny bars of soap provided by a local hotel, tripped over to Lincoln Park, and distributed them to the hippies, chirping: "This is my flower...here's my bag."

Daley's Hot Cops Didn't 'Bust Punks'

By PATRICK HINDERT

"I WANT YOU to judge me on my record, my stand," he said. "You don't fire the team or the coach for winning."

"President Johnson is working for peace, and if he doesn't get it by the end of his term... then the president of the United States who succeeds him has an obligation to find the peace in Southeast Asia and in Vietnam."

He repeated Johnson's position that the United States has shown its desire for peace by halting the bombing of over 92 percent of the population in Vietnam. Now, he said, is the time for North Vietnam to show a response of restraint.

HE URGED the country to tackle the problems of the cities, to end the wars in the streets, to find a way for the ghettos to become livable, contributing factors in society.

Humphrey said he is not "the new Humphrey" or the "old Humphrey," charging that Republican candidate Nixon has changed positions at least six times in the last 20 years. "There is only one Hubert Humphrey," he said. "That's the one who is talking to you right now."

Humphrey the humble laid it out flat for the Michigan delegation as he finished his appearance.

"To put it bluntly, when you needed my help, I was there," he said. "I need your help now, and I want you here with me."

CHICAGO -- Dick Daley's cops opened the Democratic National Convention with a bang Sunday night.

As gunshots ripped the quiet of the summer night, 500 Chicago policemen busted an illegal hippy camp-in in Lincoln Park. They arrested 11 flower children out of 1,000.

No blood was spilled, no skulls were cracked. The cops showed restraint in a highly emotional confrontation.

CHICAGO POLICE had mapped out every detail of the action many days in advance. Preparation began six weeks ago when a long-haired committee requested a camping permit from Mayor Richard Daley.

When Daley denied the request, hippy leaders vowed to continue their venture illegally. Warned in advance, the police were ready when scores of hippies began congregating in Lincoln Park Sunday afternoon, stationing themselves in strategic locations. Squads of patrolmen waited silently for the park to close at 11 p.m. The number of patrolmen gathered near the park increased steadily, until more than 500 men surrounded the area.

As the hour approached, the police became restless. Conversations which had previously concerned trivial topics now turned to the task at hand.

"Shut up, Michaels, you'll get your chance."

SOME PATROLMEN held personal grudges against the hairy crowd.

Many reflected a more conciliatory tone.

"They're all kids, that's what worries me," said one concerned cop. "What will happen when they grow up?"

Another patrolman worried about respect for the law. "They can hate my guts, but they have to respect the law. Otherwise, our society can't survive," he insisted.

The police approached the hippy bust with mixed feelings of sympathy and disgust. They did not hate the hippies. They just could not understand them.

FINALLY, AT 11:40 p.m., police lieutenants began scurrying among patrolmen shouting mobilization commands. The bust began immediately.

Quickly organizing into 10-man squads, the police donned light-blue riot helmets and grabbed snub-nosed rifles.

The cops appeared apprehensive. They expected trouble. Several gunshots sounded as they entered the park. After that warning, no sounds emerged from the murky wooded area.

The raid lasted less than a half-hour. No one was injured seriously. Chicago police arrested 11 hippies.

IN A FIT OF uncertainty, students rushed police and launched a verbal salvo. Cries of "police brutality" filled the air.

Although frequently threatening to use their clubs, the cops kept their cool throughout the ordeal. Forming a gigantic wedge, they first divided the students and then dispersed them.

"The Russians invaded Czechoslovakia, the police invade us," cried one retreating hippie.

"They're nothing but legalized Hell's Angels!" complained another.

By 2 a.m., a calm existed and the police slowly began to leave the Lincoln Park area. Their restraint had prevented a blood-bath.

Michigan Dems Accent Youth And Black Man

CHICAGO -- The Michigan delegation to the Democratic National Convention places a heavy accent on youth and offers strong support to the black man.

Michigan has more black delegates and black alternates than any other delegation.

Several weeks before the 1968 spring state convention at which the national delegation was chosen, Michigan Democratic leaders pledged they would select a racially representative delegation.

A high percentage of these black delegates and alternates live in the Detroit area.

THE AVERAGE AGE of Michigan's Go-Go Democratic delegation is a dynamic 44 years. Leader of this Pepsigeneration is William E. Thompson, 29, of Traverse City, youngest Michigan delegate.

Cecil A. Runyan, 82, of St. Clair, is Michigan's oldest delegate.

Only 15 of the Michigan delegates were women. The typical delegate is married and has three children.

LIKE OTHER state delegations, the Michigan group possesses a wealth of political experience. More than 40 per cent have held public office and have participated actively within the Democratic Party.

Yet this is new blood, because 57 of the Michigan delegates who are attending their first national political convention.

There are 27 people in the delegation with a labor background. This fact helps to explain the wide support Hubert H. Humphrey has found among the Michigan delegates.

Local GOP Backs State Ballot Winners

GRAND RAPIDS -- Observerland Republicans voted with the majority in the only two contested nominations at last weekend's Republican State Convention.

The GOP held its fall meeting to nominate a candidate for the State Supreme Court, and two each for the State Board of Education and the boards of the University of Michigan, Michigan State University and Wayne State University.

It was a good show for suburbia. Four of the nine nominations went to residents of Detroit's suburbs, one went to a Detroit resident and four went to outstate residents.

SUPREME COURT Justice Michael O'Hara, of Menominee in the Upper Peninsula, won renomination for a full term unopposed.

Under a quirk in Michigan's election laws, political parties nominate candidates for the state high court, but the candidates run on a nonpartisan ticket.

Incumbent justices have the option of seeking a party nomination or filing on their own. O'Hara accepted the nomination.

The court's membership was due to be cut from eight to seven. This problem was solved when Justice Theodore Souris, a Democrat, resigned in June.

STATE BOARD of Education

Public Assistance Costs More Than Roads, Education

Despite federal aid for the war on poverty, highways and education, the federal government's biggest aid program is still public assistance, according to 19th District Congressman Jack McDonald.

Public assistance during fiscal 1967 cost more than $4.2 billion, said McDonald, a Redford Republican.

The highway program cost a bit more than $4 billion in grants for construction, maintenance and related activities.

OTHER BILLION-PLUS aid programs were $3 billion for education; $3.5 billion for agricultural conservation, extension work and research; $1.4 billion for public health research and services; and $1.3 billion for the anti-poverty program.

RICHARD ERNST

nods went to Mrs. Barbara Dumouchelle of Grosse Ile, a one-time elementary teacher, and James Ten Brink, retiring intermediate school district superintendent from Muskegon. They were unopposed.

They will try for the seats held by Carmel Della Quadri of Houghton and Marilyn Jean Kelley of Ann Arbor, both of whom are expected to be renominated at the Democratic State Convention next weekend.

Unopposed for renomination to the University of Michigan Board of Regents were Frederick Matthaei Jr., Bloomfield Hills financier, and Lawrence Lindemer, Stockbridge attorney and one-time GOP state chairman.

LOCAL REPUBLICANS supported Richard Ernst, a Birmingham executive in a firm that manufactures class rings, as he won one nomination to the MSU Board of Trustees.

Wayne 19th District Republicans backed Ernst 18 to 12 over John Pingel, Grosse Pointe Woods advertising executive.

Oakland 19th delegates gave Ernst overwhelming support. Wayne 2nd District threw all its seven votes from the Plymouth-Northville area to Ernst.

Ernst won on a roll call, 860 to 709.

Ernst has declared his opposition to a sliding-scale tuition plan adopted by the Democratic majority on the MSU board.

The other MSU board nomination went to Donald Diehl, Ingham County farmer and former MSU grid star.

OBSERVERLAND delegates also supported Kurt Keydel, a Detroit publisher of a German language newspaper, as he overwhelmed Dr. Alexander Blain, Detroit physician, 1,392 to 180 for one nomination to the Wayne State Board.

The other WSU nomination went uncontested to Victor Raviolo, an American Motors group vice-president.

Mrs. Delores Kory, Wayne 19th chairman and E.O. (Bud) Weber, Wayne 2nd chairman, both reported a feeling of unity in the party and a good reception for Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, vice-presidential nominee.

REP. JACK McDONALD (R)

Michigan received more for highways ($161 million) than for welfare ($130 million), McDonald's figures showed.

Michigan's share of the other programs was $94 million for education; $66 million for agricultural programs; $48 million for public health; $41.5 million for antipoverty.

The increase in U.S. public assistance payments over fiscal 1966 was about 17 per cent. Included were such programs as old age assistance, aid to the blind and disabled and aid to families with dependent children.

IT IS BELIEVED the trend toward larger total welfare payments has continued and that the public assistance category will remain one of the largest of the federal grant-in-aid programs for some time, McDonald said.

This trend continues as academic experts and politicians argue that new methods must be found to aid the nation's poor.

Police Plan Extra Patrol For Labor Day Weekend

With high volume traffic expected over the Labor Day weekend, the last of the major summer holiday periods, the Michigan State Police will operate highway patrols from noon, Friday, August 30, to midnight, Monday, September 2, Col. Frederick E. Davids, department director, reported.

As was the case for the July 4 weekend, Davids said another state area has been selected for intensified enforcement in the coming holiday period. Though the area is not identified, he pointed out that law enforcement has nothing to fear from this activity.

In noting that Michigan's traffic death count so far this year is running more than 10 per cent higher than in the comparable period in 1967, Davids emphasized that motorists must exercise good judgment in all driving situations if the Labor Day weekend is to show an improved traffic record.

LAST YEAR Labor Day period accidents claimed 48 lives, the highest on record for that weekend and one of the state's worst holiday tolls. For the 78-hour period this averaged one death for every hour and 38 minutes.

Department aircraft, weather permitting, and motor vehicle inspection will participate in the holiday patrols. District commanders will utilize officer personnel, both uniform and detective, to assure maximum coverage in their areas.

Generally, State Police patrols will provide maximum coverage from 3 p.m. to at least 9 p.m. daily during the

U.S. Medical Schools Draw More Negroes

About 300 Negro students are expected to enter United States medical schools this fall, a 50 per cent increase over the number who entered five years ago, according to a preliminary report by the American Association of Medical Colleges.

The report was based on information provided by 90 of 101 medical schools which were sent questionnaires.

ALL SCHOOLS currently enrolling students, plus seven which expect to accept their first classes in 1968 or 1969, were polled.

Seventy-nine of the 90 schools indicated that, among racial minority groups, they were primarily concerned with Negroes. Twenty-three indicated special interest in admitting Oriental-Americans, 12 in admitting Mexican-Americans, and 7 in admitting American Indians.

Twenty-four schools reported they had developed special recruiting activities for members of minority groups attending four-year colleges, and 20 noted similar efforts at the high school, junior high school, or grammar school levels.

Most medical schools interviewed Negro applicants and holiday weekend. Special attention again also will be given to those sections of highways having bad accident experience.

offered them places for the next academic year, the report showed. About 100 members of minority groups, other than Negroes, are expected to attend the 90 medical schools.

IN ANSWER to a question regarding the preparation of applicants from minority groups, seven schools reported that such applicants had been admitted conditionally on the basis that they would undertake a supplementary program of academic preparation prior to enrollment.

Forty schools said they had special financial aid programs available to minority groups. Special counseling was available in 33 schools.

Some schools are considering, and others already operating, summer remedial and fellowship programs for applicants from minority groups.

The purpose of the questionnaire was to provide a comprehensive picture of efforts by medical schools to enroll members of minority groups.

The report, and the A.A.M.C. questionnaire, were prepared by Dr. Roy K. Jarecky, associate dean for admissions and student personnel in the University of Kentucky medical center.

Mardiros Has Vote Muscle To Win Back Chairmanship

By DOUG JOHNSON

Ron Mardiros was defeated by Gary Frink in his bid for the Democratic nomination to Congress, but while he lost the battle, he won the war.

He will regain control of the Wayne 19th Democratic Party in February's party reorganization.

Mardiros, who on the eve of his defeat, denied he was interested in control of the party, helped elect 24 McCarthy delegates in Livonia's 44 precincts, during the Aug. 6 primary. Three other delegates favor South Dakota Senator

RON MARDIROS (D)

George McGovern, 15 lean to Humphrey, according to Mardiros.

Mardiros ran on a "peace at home and abroad" platform and openly supported Eugene McCarthy.

If the 24 McCarthy delegates stick, Mardiros can become chairman of Wayne 19th once again.

ALL OF THIS was abundantly clear last Thursday night at Stevenson High School when Wayne 19th Democrats, mixed with others from the Oakland portion of the 19th and the 18th, met with present 19th Chairman Jerry Raymond to talk about the issues.

Raymond, who tonight, (Wednesday) must vote along with Michigan's other 99 votes to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, had called the meeting to get people's stand on the issues.

He, with alternate delegates Paul Kadish and Charles Deamud, all stated their views, then fielded questions from the sparse audience.

It was all one-sided.

THEY HAVE A saying about strife-torn Livonia Democrats, according to Gary Frink, the party's nominee for Congress. "First they open up with the machine guns; then they get out the bazookas."

Frink opened Thursday's session with a few remarks, then ducked out into the steamy night air to meet his son at Tiger Stadium to watch a game.

Thursday it was machine guns, bazookas and even some heavy artillery.

After he was gone and the three delegates had outlined their views, Mardiros quietly fired the opening salvo.

He presented the delegates with petitions for McCarthy with 2,045 signatures; said the latest survey showed McCarthy leading Hubert Humphrey five to three, that an Oakland County survey showed a marked preference among Democrats for McCarthy.

Mardiros also showed a test precinct (precinct 8 from Li-livonia) where McCarthy polled 206 votes, Humphrey 77 in a straw vote.

In the same precinct in two different mock elections, Humphrey polled 121, Richard Nixon 58 and Wallace 79. In a different contest, McCarthy polled 161, Nixon 46, and Wallace 47.

The straw vote shows McCarthy taking Nixon and Wallace votes—a neat trick.

FROM HERE ON, the three-hour session was sparked by heated exchanges between Raymond and the McCarthy supporters.

Mrs. Millie Rowson, local chairman of the Michigan Conference of Concerned Democrats, took the floor and said many active Democrats "would be up in arms" if Humphrey were nominated.

She said there were three key issues—"peace now, poverty, and an end to all racism. There are two candidates running on these issues, McCarthy and McGovern, and I urge you to think of these issues."

Mrs. Rowson said she thought many party workers would not support Humphrey and do the day-to-day work for him. Alternate Delegate Charles Deamud chided her harshly: "I'll never secede from my party. Whoever comes out of the convention, I'm pledged to support them."

Then one man in the audience asked how Humphrey could "drop the yoke" of Johnson, in a bitter word battle, Raymond said he "didn't have the answer. I came here to seek the answer. No fool will force me to decide now."

"Are you calling this man a fool?" came from another section of the audience.

RAYMOND DIDN'T answer the question and continued to outline how he felt on the issues. At one time or another he noted:

1. He would not vote to seat any racist delegation from a southern state.
  2. He favored a national presidential preference primary.
  3. The invasion of Czechoslovakia was related to Vietnam because Czech heavy industry was committed to making war machines for Vietnam.
  4. He favored a cease fire on both sides, including the bombing, if a mutual date could be set.
  5. He favored establishing free elections in the south and a peace zone with UN troops keeping order.
  6. Law and order should include enforcement of the 14th amendment.
- Both Kadish and Deamud took slightly different points of view.
- Among those disagreeing with Raymond was Alan Sultan, law professor and Democrat from Farmington, who criticized the entire presidential nomination procedure.

HOW THE LINEUP of opinion and newly elected delegates will affect party reorganization depends on time and circumstance.

There are constant fights in Livonia and elsewhere in Wayne County among Democrats because there is so much at stake—control of the City-County Building, local city commissions, the State House of Representatives, the U.S. Senatorial seats, several Congressional seats and sometimes the governorship.

This year, it includes president of the United States.

And that's what the fight over issues and candidates was all about last Thursday at Stevenson between Livonia and Farmington Democrats.

Dairy Cows Productive 3-4 Years

Three to four years is the average productive lifetime of good dairy cows in Michigan herds.

Michigan State University dairy scientists point to Dairy Herd Improvement Association records to show that about 32 per cent of the cows are removed from the higher producing herds in Michigan each year.

Nearly 60 per cent of these cows are removed because of low production. Sterility was the second largest reason in 1967. Low production and sterility together accounted for 75 per cent of the animals leaving the herd last year. Another 15 per cent were eliminated because of problems with milk fever. Fourth in the fatality list was "hardware disease," which is a common term for an obstruction of the digestive system caused by a metal object which the cow has picked up in grazing or eating silage or grain.

The incidence of bloat causing death in Michigan dairy herds has been reduced from about 10 per cent five years ago to less than five per cent last year.

Be Cool: Use Ice In Cubes

By JOYCE TOTTON

On these hot summer days we like to have something cool and refreshing and still receive the necessary nutrients in our diet.

One way to do this is to plan ahead and prepare foods in the cool of the day, which seems to be the early morning.

Main dish salads are easy to prepare and contain protein as well as many vital nutrients.

If you want to get your jello to set quickly you can do it with ice cubes. If you are using a three ounce package of gelatin, add six ice cubes in place of cold water, stir until melted.

ARE YOU aware of the many uses of ice cubes? Here are a few.

Ice cubes are one of the best first aid devices.

BURNS. Place a burned finger in ice water or apply ice directly over the burn until the pain is gone. This will cut down swelling and blisters, as well as relieve pain.

CUTS. An ice cube will check bleeding and keep germs dormant.

SLIVERS. Hold the ice cube over the sliver until the area is numb, then lift out the sliver with a sterilized needle.

An ice cube will also reduce bruises and relieve muscle strain.

It is also an aid in removing gum from a garment. Place an ice cube on gum until it is very firm. Then carefully scrape off the gum.

CHICKEN-CRANBERRY MOLD
Number of Servings - 8
Cranberry Layer:

1 T. unflavored gelatin
1/4 c. cold water
2 c. whole cranberry sauce
1 c. crushed pineapple
Lemon juice to taste
1/2 c. chopped nuts

Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve over hot water. Add cranberry sauce, pineapple, lemon juice and nuts. Pour in a baking dish. Chill until firm.

Chicken Layer:
1 T. unflavored gelatin
3/4 c. cold water
1 c. salad dressing or mayonnaise
3 T. lemon juice
3/4 t. salt

2 c. cooked chicken, diced
1/2 c. celery, diced
1 T. parsley, chopped

Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water; dissolve over hot water. Blend in salad dressing or mayonnaise, remaining 1/2 cup cold water, lemon juice and salt. Stir in chicken, celery and parsley. Pour over firm cranberry layer. Chill until firm.

CHICKEN SALAD SUPREME
Number of Servings - 8
2 1/2 c. cold cooked chicken, diced

1 c. celery, finely chopped
1 c. white grapes, sliced
1/2 c. toasted almonds, sliced

1 T. parsley, minced
3/4 t. salt
1/2 c. whipped cream (opt.)
1 c. mayonnaise or salad dressing

Stuffed olives (garnish)
Chicken slices (garnish)
Lettuce
Combine all ingredients. Serve on lettuce. Garnish with olives and chicken slices if desired.

Observer WORLD OF WOMEN

m. m. memos

Two more huge elms were felled in our front yard recently, the last of our personal trees to be victims of the scoundrel dutch elm disease.

The loss was a sad one, of course. Any tree that has grown to two-story or more height seems to deserve a better fate than sudden browning and shriveling of leaves, the mighty power saw and the gobbling grinder that reduces thick trunks to sawdust.

For our yard, removal of two more big trees was not quite as tragic as for some. Lots of non-elms still tower over the house.

There are some pluses we can find, as long as we had no choice.

Without a doubt, more sunlight will get to our gardens and hopefully produce bigger and better blooms. One of the girls pointed out that we're also going to see more and brighter sunsets, without trees in the way.

And, while mourning the loss of the tall timbers I have another thought about elms.

I'm sure I've pulled literally thousands of elm seedlings from our gardens and lawn over the years, and still they sprout faster than I can bend over to pull them out.

No matter how much more destructive work the Japanese beetle does to its stately prey, I can't believe the elm tree is ever going to be stamped out.

Beth Learns A Painful Lesson

When little Beth Frigon returns to Wilson School, in Livonia next Wednesday, new red shoes will be easing the pain and hiding a limp.

Beth, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frigon, lost the baby toe on her left foot July 6. She was riding a two-wheeler, barefooted, and caught her toe in the chain sprocket.

Rushed to St. Mary Hospital, doctors sewed the toe back on, but days later, it had to be removed.

Says Beth, a lively little girl with a long black braid, "I never did cry—but I sure did yell!"

Beth still is soaking her foot daily and walking with a hobble and telling anyone who asks about the limp that "I'll never ride a bike barefooted again."

Farmington Man Takes Indiana Bride

Linda Dorothy Brobst married David Michael Bush in a double ring ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church, Valparaiso, Ind., on July 20.

The Rev. Darrell Parker, of the First Presbyterian Church, Valparaiso, Ind., and the Rev.

C. Lowry Horner, of Ashland Presbyterian Church, N.J., officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Brobst, of Valparaiso, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Bush, of Farmington.

MRS. DAVID BUSH
(Linda Brobst)

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of white organza with alencon lace sleeves. Her chapel-length organza train was accented with alencon lace appliques and her petal headpiece secured a three-tiered veil.

The bride carried a cascade of cymbidium orchids and stephanotis with ivy.

Karen Brobst, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. Beverly Brobst, sister of the bride, and Kathy Bush, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns of yellow chiffon over satin accented with yellow, orange and green embroidery at the waists, cuffs and headpieces, which secured shoulder-length yellow veiling.

PAUL BUSH served as best man, Martin Heintz, Joseph Dragan, and Gordon Larzalere were ushers. Linda Brown was flower girl and David Brown served as ring bearer.

Mrs. Brobst wore a mint green A-line sheath under a green organza coat and Mrs. Bush chose a pink lace sheath with matching accessories.

A reception for 110 guests held in the Valparaiso University Student Union, followed the wedding.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Valparaiso University and the bridegroom is a 1965 graduate of Michigan Technological University and a member of the American Metallurgical Society.

Following their honeymoon in Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan the couple traveled to Peoria, Ill., where they will make their home.

'Women On The Go'

By MARGARET MILLER

Chamber Secretary Kept On The Gallop

Mrs. Virgil Gagnon has a job with the Westland Chamber of Commerce that she finds "the most fascinating and the most frustrating" of any she's ever held.

Fascinating, because being executive secretary of the chamber keeps Harriet Gagnon in close touch with the galloping development of the area that has been her home for 29 years.

Frustrating, because she sometimes runs out of time and answers serving the Chamber and of people of the community.

"I HAVE 12 bosses and they are all marvelous," Harriet Gagnon said, referring to the

C. of C. board of directors. "But when I took this job, they asked me if I'd fill in until the organization was built up to the point where they could hire a trained professional in the field."

"So I guess that means that if I do a good job I'll get fired."

Mrs. Gagnon, wife of a Westland City councilman, began her present duties last March, but she was in on the chamber's organization from its beginning.

THE GROUP came into being "in the middle of our living room floor" in 1963, she said. At that time, the area that now is the city of Westland was still Nankin Township, and Virgil Gagnon had not yet retired from his service station and garage business.

As organization got underway, Harriet Gagnon was the chamber's first secretary. "Unofficial and unpaid," she explained.

Then Ted Kuckelman, of Belleville, who had organized several chambers of commerce, was hired as executive secretary.

MRS. GAGNON gave Kuckelman a hand on various projects frequently, until last March, when he retired, for the third time and at the age of 80.

At that point, Mrs. Gagnon said, John Nolan, of the Westland shopping center, told her the board of directors had decided they would like a replacement who would be familiar with the area and its businesses. They asked her to take on the job.

Harriet Gagnon describes the Chamber of Commerce as a "public relations agent for the city." Carrying out its work involves a day full of activity, she finds.

WHEN HER telephone rings, it might be a resident complaining of broken glass in the street near his house, or someone wanting information about tax bills, or, recently, a query about when the next beauty contest would be held in Westland.

The day's mail usually brings requests for city maps or information on governmental residents. Or an outline of the school districts—there are seven of them that take in parts of Westland. Or questions about the community from prospective residents.

"I TRY to refer them all to the best source for answering the question," Mrs. Gagnon said, "but sometimes I have to check out the answer myself."

That's what occupies part of her time outside the office, along with visiting Westland business people to enlist new Chamber of Commerce members. As of now, she figures the chamber includes 35 to 40 per cent of the business in town.

WHILE WATCHING the great growth of the area where she lived, Harriet Gagnon has been associated with several of its businesses.

HARRIET GAGNON in front of her Chamber of Commerce office.

"I held a number of jobs while my two sons were growing up," she said, "but I never wanted to be away from home except when they were in school, so I changed positions frequently."

For five years, from 1961 to 1966, she ran the first Tonquish post office.

"My husband's service station got so many requests for stamps and money orders that I decided to set up a station in the corner of the garage," she said.

"At first I just handled stamps, but later we had money orders, special delivery and parcel post."

AT CHRISTMAS TIME, the postal service required two extra helpers and more room than the service station could spare.

Mrs. Gagnon helped organize the Business and Professional Women's club of Westland and was its first president. She also is a former columnist for The Observer. She maintains her BPW membership and also is on the board of management for the Western Wayne County YMCA. Just now that post involves work on the travel and adventure series of programs, to begin Oct. 12 in the Wayne Memorial High School auditorium.

She also manages to find time with her sons' families. Ray lives in Wayne with his wife, Jackie, and children Rayma, Pam and Scott David. George, better known as Mickey, and his wife, Dorothy, are Westland residents, and their daughters are Tammy and Terri.

New UF Program Benefits Youth Of Western Wayne

Youths from Westland, as well as Inkster and Wayne, are beneficiaries this summer of a special summer program tailored to their needs by Neighborhood Service Organization of Western Wayne, a Torch Drive service.

Patterned after NSO's Youth Service Corps in Detroit, the program for 14 and 15-year-olds provides work experience, vocational guidance, counseling, supervised recreation and educational activities.

The youths referred to NSO's Western Wayne office at 30168 Liberty Ave., Inkster, are working 20 hours weekly assisting police with many important, but time-consuming, routine jobs.

THESE TASKS include checking abandoned cars, investigating vacant lots and buildings, and reporting any evidence of vandalism.

The program is one of many made possible by a United Foundation grant of $600,000 for additional summer opportunities.

Planned by United Community Services (UCS), the programs involve the cooperation of established agencies, both voluntary and private, churches and some 47 neighborhood groups.

THE UF GRANT is helping nearly 18,000 youngsters find gainful employment, making camperships available to 2,542 needy children and providing professional treatment services to 1,530 troubled youths, delinquents and school drop-outs.

Administered by UCS, planning and budgeting federation for local Torch Drive services, the summer programs were planned in cooperation with the New Detroit Committee, the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation, the Youth Opportunity Council and voluntary agencies.

POLICE HELPER — Bobby Joe Rich, 15 of 455 Linville, Westland, is among a group of youths gaining experience in police work through the Youth Service Corps organized by the Neighborhood Service Organization of Western Wayne. He is assisting Marge Garth of 8336 Perrin, Westland, detective bureau secretary for the Westland Police.

Sis, Brother Star In Tennis Meet

The Trapnells of Redford Township are doing right well by themselves in tennis.

Frayer Leads Alma Scots Grid Team

ALMA -- Roger Frayer, of Livonia, is one of the 45 veterans of Alma College's undefeated 1967 Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) football champions who will begin 1968 drills the first week of September.

Alma was Michigan's only undefeated collegiate team in 1967 and was ranked 20th in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics' final listing. Seven all-MIAA performers are among the 45 veterans returning to the Scot squad.

Frayer, a five foot 10 inches 175-pound defensive halfback, is Co-Captain of the 1968 club. Roger had a great year in 1967. He will quarterback the defense from his backfield spot.

Remaining games on the Scot schedule are: Oct. 12, Albion; Oct. 19, Adrian; Oct. 26, at Olivet; and Nov. 2, Kalamazoo.

There's Fred, 21, who was captain of Wayne State University's netters last spring and is one of the favorites in this weekend's Detroit Open tourney.

Then come sister Barbara, 16, and brother Pat, 13. They distinguished themselves in the junior phase of the Detroit meet this past week.

Barbara, who returns to Thurston High School in 10 days, teamed with Sue Pritula of Detroit to beat Anita Gibson of St. Clair Shores and Kathy Bock of Redford Township, 6-3, 6-2, for the girls' 18-under championship.

It was Barbara and Sue fighting head on for the singles crown with Sue winning out, 6-3, 6-2. Barbara had downed Anita Gibson of St. Clair Shores, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3, in the semis.

Pat, meantime, lost to Tony Lamerato of Hamtramck, 6-3, 6-1, in the boys' 14-under singles and then teamed with Joe Rath and Detroit to lose to John Pollock of Huntington Woods and Todd Beel of Birmingham in the doubles finals, 6-4, 6-2.

The Pollock-Beel duo put out Dick Carlow of Redford Township and Ron Devries of Detroit, 2-6, 6-1, 7-5 in the doubles' semifinals.

Four Records Fall In Waterford Races

Four track records fell Sunday in the Waterford Hills Sports Car Racing Club's road races as drivers went on a speed spree at the Oakland County course.

In the preliminary Bob Tranosou, Detroit, cracked the Sedan-3 mark with a 1:26.3 clocking in his Lotus Formula-B for his 10th consecutive win this season.

Bob Najmowicz, Detroit, won A-Production honors in his Corvette. Bob Acton, of Livonia, won B-Production class and Len Pickering, Grosse Ile, was the winner in A-B-Modified class.

Beverly Schulz, Garden City, posted a win in Sedan-1. Bob Rooske, of Inkster, also won a title in VW sedans class and set a track record.

Baseboards in a room can be painted about the same color as carpeting. The effect is pleasing in many instances.

CHURCH FAMILY — William Ely (left) is leaving his research chemist work to join the faculty of Great Lakes Bible College, Lansing.

His family includes Mrs. Joan Ely, Greg, Debbie and Pat, all active members of Memorial Church of Christ, Redford Township.

Research Chemist Will Turn To Teaching In Bible College

When he's ready to retire, William Ely has decided he'd rather look back on a career of helping young people than one concerned only with business.

So the tall church worker, who's a long way from retirement, is giving up his post as research chemist at Parke-Davis to become head of the science department at Great Lakes Bible College.

Bill Ely, his wife, Joan, and their three youngsters, for eight years active members of Memorial Church of Christ, Redford Township, will head for Lansing in the next few weeks to take up the new work. Their current home is in Livonia.

ELY, WHO taught for three years at Carnegie-Mellon University, before joining Parke-Davis, said he gets his greatest satisfaction from teaching "under the right circumstances."

titude and atmosphere of a Bible college."

"The kids at such schools have respect for authority and respect for each other, and sometimes you don't find that at larger schools," he said. "At Great Lakes, the faculty is small but second to none, and the school is rapidly becoming very highly rated academically."

ELY SAID the school is hoping to acquire more property and expand its facilities to offer a full junior college program.

"That will mean broadening of the science department to include chemistry and other sciences," Ely said. For now, his department includes gen-

Ely has taught part time at the college previously and been on its curriculum study committee.

Joan Ely also plans to work at the college, possibly as a librarian this year. She might later transfer to bookkeeping work.

LIFE FOR the family probably won't change greatly, since both parents figure they'll soon take up active membership in one of the four Church of Christ congregations in the Lansing area.

At Memorial, they joined forces to serve as sponsors of the senior youth group for four years.

Ely served as deacon, elder, chairman of the board and trustee, taught a Bible survey and college class in the church school and was a member of the church softball team.

His wife has been choir member and soloist and choir director for four years, has taught in the church school junior department for six years and served as president of the women's council.

THE ELYS also have served as forwarding agents for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Poorman, another Memorial family now serving as missionaries in Rhodesia, Africa. They plan to continue that work from their Lansing home.

The children are Pat, 12; Debbie, nine, and Greg, four.

Livonian Among Leaders Of B'nai B'rith Convention

Arthur C. Schlott, of Livonia, is one of 14 Detroit area leaders of B'nai B'rith who will participate in the Jewish service organization's triennial convention opening Sept. 7 in Washington.

The 14 are elected delegates to B'nai B'rith's five-day international meeting. More than 1,500 delegates, alternates and guests, representative of B'nai B'rith affiliates on five continents, will attend.

The convention, inaugurating B'nai B'rith's 125th year as the nation's oldest service organization, will probe more than a score of critical issues affecting Jewish community life here and abroad.

ISRAEL'S Deputy Prime Minister Yigal Allon, regarded as a likely candidate for Prime Minister when Israel holds its national elections next year, will appear before the convention.

Discussions on the urban crisis, Jewish-Negro relations and the problems of white merchants in the black ghetto will include addresses by Howard J. Samuels, head of the Small Business Administration, and several leaders of Negro movements.

CONVENTION SESSIONS on teen-age youth, the campus rebellions, Jewish education and Jewish family life, reflecting B'nai B'rith's specialized interest in these areas and its $6 million-a-year sponsorship of major youth programs, are also featured.

WRITER-MUSICIAN — Don Zechman, director of music at St. Matthew United Methodist Church, Livonia, is one of the writers for "Common Life," a semiannual book for senior high students that is part of a new church school series being published for the United Methodist Church. Zechman, organist and choir director for St. Matthew services, is a graduate student at the University of Michigan.

First Projects Planned For ADF Million

The go-ahead signal has been given for the first four projects to be financed out of a $1 million-plus collection asked by Archbishop John F. Dearden last May to help meet "the crisis in our cities." Donations were made in connection with the annual Archdiocesan Development Fund (ADF) campaign.

A special appropriations body has approved:

A $74,000 loan as "seed money" to test the feasibility of having housing prefabricated by the hard-core unemployed for erection in the inner-city;

A $101,000 grant to start an educational center which will pioneer a method to aid children handicapped by their early environment;

A $5,000 grant to continue a volunteer program aiding the poor of Pontiac;

And a $30,000 grant to help finance inter-faith Suburban Action Centers seeking to undermine the basis on which racial prejudice is built.

"THIS IS ONLY a start, but we believe it is a constructive start on a program designed to find practical projects that may inspire widespread imitation when and if they prove their worth," said the committee chairman, the Rev. Father Robert V. Monticello.

"They should be practical because they have been put to severe tests by both experienced planners and by representatives of the people they are designed to benefit. This is a time-taking method, but it is also a method that often gets results."

The committee has studied scores of proposals and is expected to approve several other programs as soon as the technicians and the people to be benefited reach a meeting of minds on implementing procedure.

THE HOUSING LOAN would help establish a non-profit, community-owned manufacturing firm, employing workers from "the under-developed sector" who will learn job skills under various existing training programs, both government and private. Six lots on which to erect the first units have been reserved and an inventory of suitable manufacturing plants has been made.

Shop-fabricated one-story units—constructed to be stacked into two-story units—will be made of wood and steel members, with plumbing, heating and electrical equipment meeting code standards. Various makers of prefabricated housing have been contacted to cooperate in manufacturing operations.

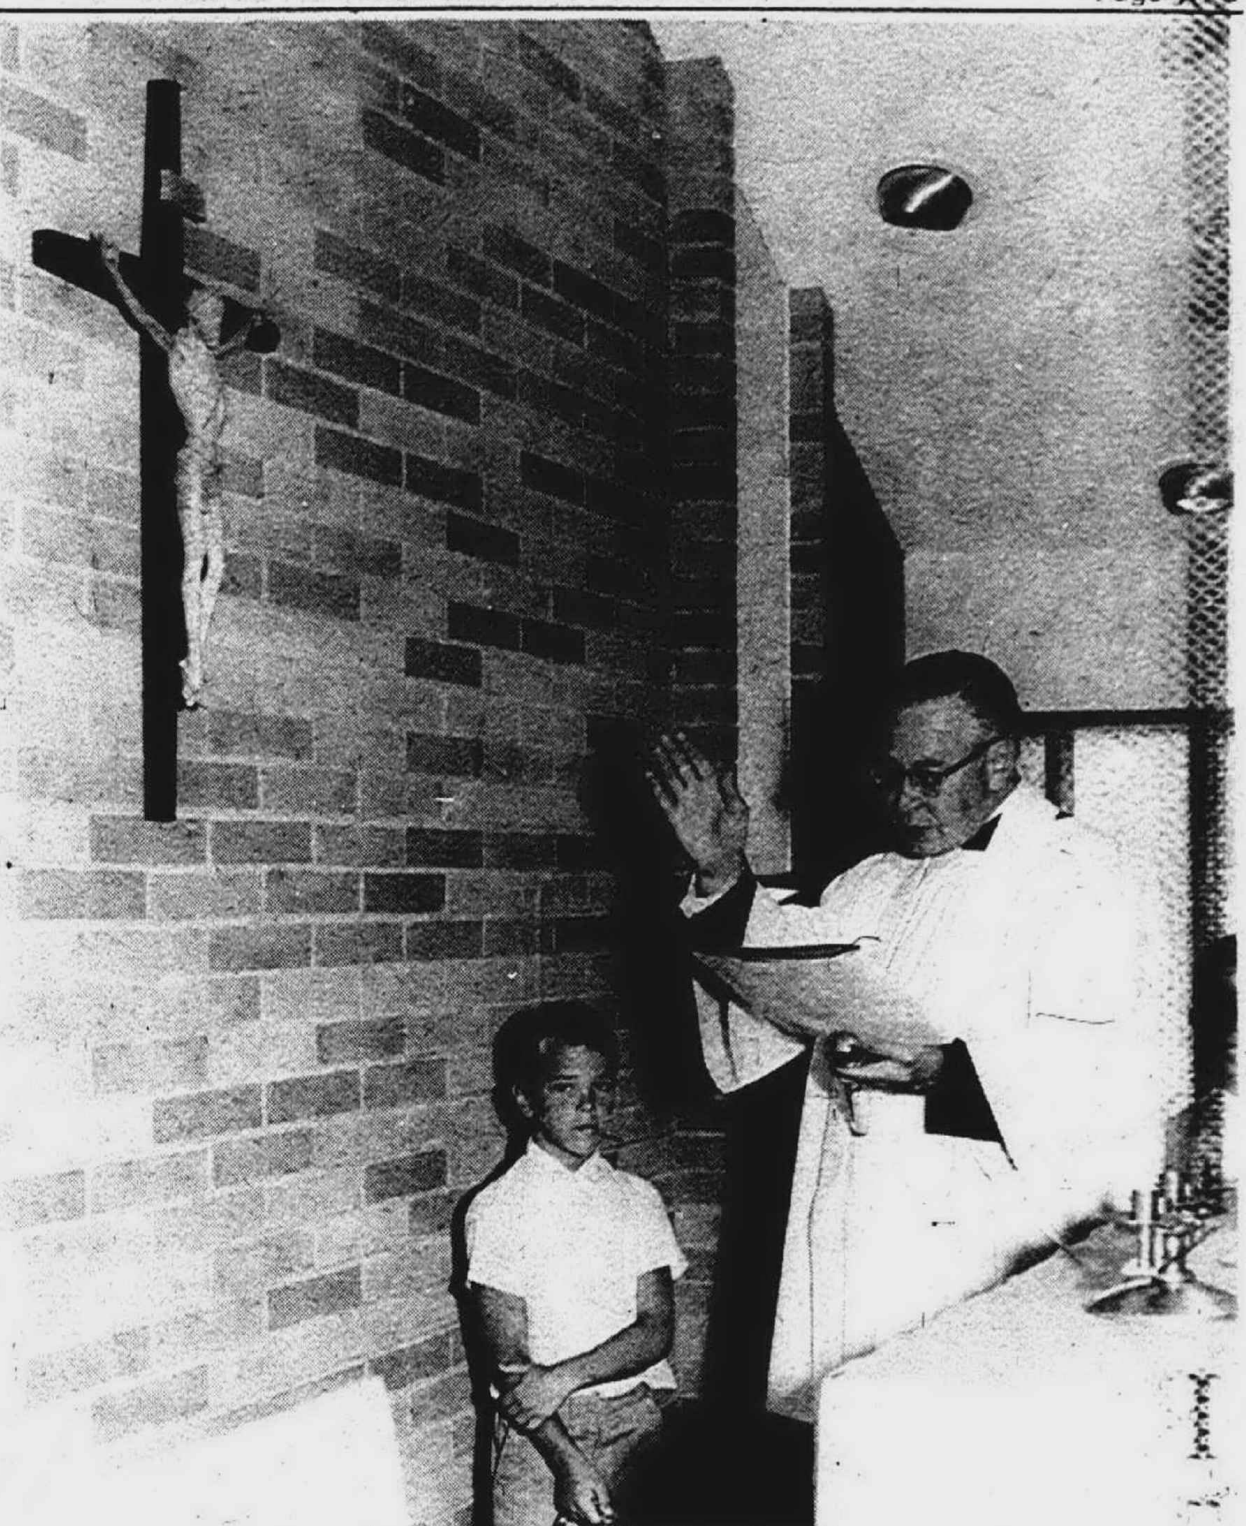

The pilot project is expected to produce 15 two-bedroom units selling at from $9,500 to $9,800, plus $2,500 a unit for land. It is estimated that the plant planned could produce 100 housing units a month, giving work to approximately 250 persons. Mortgages would be obtained, permitting return of the Archdiocese's loan so the money could be used in similar projects in other cities within the eight-county Archdiocese of Detroit or be used for other projects now under study.

THE PROJECT to help children handicapped by early environment is the creation of the staff of the Rev. Father John A. George, Ph. D., assistant superintendent of Archdiocesan Schools for Special Education. The heart of it comes in searching out the individual motivations and interests of each child and developing training related to them, rather than concentrating on programs designed to help children generally.

The experiment at Santa Maria Educational Center, 11363 Cardoni, Detroit, will take six to 10-year-olds with serious learning problems from three inner-city schools. The staff, headed by a Negro "community agent" who will also be principal, will consist of three black lay teachers and two specially trained nuns—one black, one white—from the Apostles of the Sacred Heart order of Sisters.

"We must find a middle ground between regular education and education which puts a label on the child that disparages him to himself and others all his life," Father George said. "We will examine the background of teacher attitudes and school policies that result in the 'problem child' label being placed on certain pupils."

THE $5,000 PONTIAC grant is an interim form of assistance to keep alive a program, started by Vista Volunteers, that otherwise would have been killed in the Federal economy program. The hope, Father Thomas said, is that other ways of keeping the program alive will be found.

BLESSING FOR CONVENT — The Right Rev. Monsignor Charles Malloy bestows a blessing on the new St. Fabian Convent, which officially opened with festivities Sunday. The convent is located at 32170 W. 12 Mile, Farmington.

Braille Transcriber Says More Volunteers Needed

"The state of Michigan is one of the poorest in providing books for its blind," according to Mrs. Natalie Lankin, a volunteer Braille transcriber.

Mrs. Lankin, who lives at 32260 Tall Timbers, Farmington Township, is chairman of Braille transcribing for the Sisterhood of Temple Beth-El of Detroit.

She is looking for new volunteers who are interested in learning to type books and other materials in Braille.

ALL BRAILLE transcribing is done by volunteers, and there is a great need for more trained persons who can devote some time to a rewarding and interesting task.

Fall classes are now being formed to learn transcribing. Classes will meet for about two hours once a week from October until June, Mrs. Lankin said. She emphasized that volunteers may be of any religion, denomination or church. Membership in the Sisterhood of Temple Beth-El is required because the sisterhood supplies all books, transcribing machines, paper and lessons for women who are doing this work.

CLASSES WILL be very small, probably eight to ten women, as a great deal of personal attention is required in teaching transcribing. Mrs. Lankin also said that the meeting place for the classes will be a location that is convenient to the volunteers. They will not be required to go downtown to Temple Beth-El headquarters.

Natalie Lankin has been doing Braille transcribing for two years. She does the work in her home on the Perkins Braille sisterhood supplied. She said there is no required amount of transcribing that must be done and that "no one is pushing you."

Transcribers must be certified by the Library of Congress and therefore must submit a manuscript to the Library to receive certification. Mrs. Lankin said that there is no time limit on applying for a certificate, and that the manuscript may be submitted any time after completion of the course.

WOMEN INTERESTED in taking the classes don't need a knowledge of typing. The keyboard of a transcribing machine has only six keys that are used to print letters, punctuation and numbers. It is not at all like a typewriter and is a little easier to learn if the person does not know how to type, Mrs. Lankin said.

"It isn't a matter of speed, either," she added. "Accuracy is most important." Erasures and errors on a page of Braille cause a blind person to slow down and possibly lose his train of thought, Mrs. Lankin explained.

Books are transcribed for the Detroit Board of Education, the Library of Congress, Wayne County and also for any blind person who requests a certain publication in Braille. Textbooks, children's books, religious works, music and magazines are examples of the type of works that are translated into Braille.

THE TRI-COUNTY area sisterhoods of Temple Beth-El are affiliated with the Metropolitan Society for the Blind, a Torch Drive agency, in doing this work.

Readers who are interested in learning to transcribe books for the blind may contact Mrs. Lankin at 626-3377.

Program For Inner City Kids' Degrees

They will be pushed, pulled, coaxed or coached, but 100 inner city high school students are going to get a college education at the University of Detroit.

And in the next five years 500 more will join them in a unique effort by a private liberal arts college to make a college degree a reality for those who might never have had one.

Most of the 100 will pay no tuition. More important, they will have solid support and assistance until they are graduated in 1972.

In return, they will have to study and work harder and longer than they ever have before. They will have to learn new values and new attitudes towards themselves.

U. of D. has committed itself to support the program although it is hard-pressed for cash. It is seeking financial support but at the moment there are only state and federal tuition grants and some voluntary contributions to help out.

The federal Educational Opportunity grants pay up to $800 a year and Michigan higher education tuition grants pay up to $500 a year. Students must apply individually to qualify for these grants.

These financial aids help but they do not pay the full cost. Tuition at the university is $1,400 a year but the actual cost per student is about $2,100.

It takes more than money to get through college and U. of D. is supplying many other needs. Not the least of these is surveillance—in the sense that the students' study habits are being watched. They learn to study as well as study to learn. Coupled with this is a large amount of tutorial help, provided promptly where and when it is needed.

Such extra effort is needed because the 60 boys and 40 girls in the group—80 of them are Negro—are not outstanding candidates for a college education.

Dr. James W. Woodruff, assistant professor and director of Project 100 cites the case of Kirk Gross, a sharp, verbal, 19-year-old Negro youth.

Gross was a C-student at Kettering High School where Dr. Woodruff, who is a Negro, had served during his career as a teacher and counselor with the Detroit public schools. Dr.

Woodruff was assistant director of Detroit's Developmental Career Guidance Program when he joined the university last spring.

"We went all the way back to decide whether Kirk would be a good risk," Dr. Woodruff said. "His high school record was poor and his junior high school record was worse. But in elementary school he had done very well, with his tests showing an I.Q. of 130."

Dr. Woodruff talked Kirk into joining the program and he has worked hard, as have all the others, during the six week summer preparation program. Kirk said he did not find the college work too hard but conceded he now had a new attitude toward schooling.

"I didn't see that a high school diploma did a Negro much good," Kirk said, "but now that I have the chance, I want to get my college degree. I have a purpose now because I feel that I can better myself and help my people."

Although Kirk was recruited by Dr. Woodruff personally, all the public and parochial high schools in Detroit were invited to recommend students.

When they came to the university in June, the students found they had to put in a full day, from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m., although they took only two courses. One is a three-hour English course especially designed for Project 100. The other course can be in speech, sociology or Afro-American history. There are also non-credit remedial courses in basic math and science.

In Project 100, the students spend 90 minutes daily in each class and then another 90 minutes immediately following is devoted to a seminar session with an instructor and one or more "instructional assistants."

There are 20 of these instructional assistants, some U. of D. students and some Public School teachers hired by Project 100. They sit in on the regular classes and the seminar sessions and are assigned to work individually or in small groups with the Project 100 students. In addition, there are a number of volunteer tutors to help the students. Eleven of these are members of Wayne State University's Newman Club who come to the U. of D. campus two nights each week.

Financing for Project 100 has come from several sources. The entire summer program was paid for by a $58,000 grant from the New Detroit Committee. A major gift of $80,000 came from the James and Lynelle Holden Fund and there have been a number of small individual donations.

But the university is still far short of meeting the total cost.

If the program should not be funded, it will shatter some new-found dreams of the young men and women involved.

Doneen DiStefano, 17, was a B-plus student at St. Gregory High School but was planning to get a job, because her mother is on welfare, then she had a chance to join Project 100.

"The work is hard," Miss DiStefano said, "but I'm grateful for the chance. Maybe I can become a teacher."

"There are a number of these programs that provide some hand-holding in social matters for the inner-city students," Martin said, "but this one puts the help where it is needed—in the classroom."

Catholic Writer Quits Column Over Encyclical

John Cogley, syndicated religious writer for Catholic publications, has announced he'll discontinue his column because the recent papal encyclical on birth control had brought him to the point of "personal showdown."

In a column appearing in the Aug. 22 issue of the "Michigan Catholic," Cogley said the encyclical "created a spiritual crisis for me as for millions of Catholics," and stated:

"The Pope's encyclical, for me at least, opened a Pandora's box. The issue is not merely birth control but, more importantly, the teaching authority of the Church, the role of the papacy, and the conflict between Catholic moral theory and the common good of mankind."

"I HAVE WRESTLED with some of these questions for years, but it took the challenge flung down by that good and sincere man, Paul VI, to make me realize that I have not been facing them as squarely as I should have."

"The personal showdown is still to come. It perforce will be a lonely business."

"In the meantime, it would be less than fair to continue to write regularly in papers officially committed to upholding the papal position."

"This, then, will be the last of these columns."

COGLEY, WHO IS KNOWN as a liberal representative of his faith, called the encyclical "a disaster" that could "mark a point of no return for many already alienated Catholics," and added:

"Now it is certain that Pope Paul knew this better than I. He undoubtedly weighed the fateful consequences before he made his decision. Still, he went ahead. For this kind of fidelity to his own sense of duty, the Pope deserves admiration and great human sympathy."

"But what is the individual Catholic, who cannot accept the teaching in good conscience and who believes its effects will be the source of vast evil, to do?"

COGLEY SAID he could not go along with either the leaders who "say the teaching should be ignored" by those who in good conscience cannot accept it, and those who say it should be "accepted in a spirit of humble submission to the teaching authority of the Church."

"Both responses leave me uneasy," he stated. He also felt unable to accept with the idea that "the encyclical on birth control, like hundreds of other errors made by the papacy over the centuries, should be treated as a latter-day Galileo blunder."

Of that course, he said: "I have enough respect for the theory of Catholicism to feel that there is something disingenuous about trying to have it both ways."

HE ALSO CONSIDERED "less than helpful" the suggestion that the individual Catholic should follow his conscience.

"Of course one should follow one's conscience," he wrote, "that was always true. But the question, would one be a better man for following his conscience as Paul suggests?"

"I am ready to be a dissenter, even a drop-out. I do not, however, believe in using the hospitality of a diocesan paper to infiltrate the ideas formally rejected by the church that publishes it."
