And like its neighbor, Livonia, Canton could face some of the same financial difficulties that accompany rapid growth, believes Township Clerk John Flodin.

. . . HE POINTED OUT that the principal revenue from the state is computed on population figures.

Commenting on Canton's boost in state revenues. Flodin commented, "We're fine now, but as the population expands and the needs increase that money won't go very far."

Livonia was in a similar dilemma. Its 1960 census showed a population of 66,702, but by 1970 it had almost doubled in size to its present 110.109. This 65 per cent growth rate is the third highest in Wayne County.

ONCE AGAIN, sidewalks - or rather, the lack thereof - are plaguing Our Leaders in Plymouth Township.

Tuesday night, petitions with 193 signatures were presented to the trustees from parents seeking sidewalks for the safety of children from two subdivisions who must walk hazardous roadways to East School. The frustration those Salem Square and Arbor Village parents already feel will multiply manyfold before the job gets done.

A township board is a relic of governmental antiquity and does not have authority such as that of our City Commission in any matter of roads and sidewalks. In the city, the commission can command sidewalk construction (and does). The property owners must pay the full shot.

In the township, a voluntary special assessment program must have the acceptance of 60 per cent of the landholders across whose property sidewalks are constructed, and right there is an almost insurmountable barrier.

THE SCHOOL BOARD cannot promise the families in question permanent bus transportation to East, as the distance is less than 1½ miles. However, in view of the crisis and hazards, the board did bend enough to OK busses for just this semester - being emphatic in telling the parents not to count on a renewal after June.

It also should be pointed out that construction of sidewalks along a route to school is not the responsibility of the board of education.

The Salem Square and Arbor Village parents have taken the right step in voicing an official plea through petitions to the township trustees.

THE MAIN ENTRANCE to the Plymouth Community Recreation Center would be on west side as envisioned in this architectural drawing by Nordstrom-Samson Associates. The location would be at Farmer and Now, they would be well advised to go to the Wayne County Road Commission as well.

Two years ago the township had a sidewalk ordinance under consideration and the trustees promised Tuesday to blow the dust from its proposed 14 pages and give it another look. The trouble, is, though, that there seems no way around the willingness to pay factor.

MAYBE NO ONE ELSE in the room Tuesday thought of it as I did, but right there in living color was one more piece of evidence why it would make sense for our city and township-to consolidate as one municipality. Those 193 petitioners ought to get on that band wagon.

A city government has many powers under the law that its rural cousins in the townships do not, and this was a case in point. Greater Plymouth cityhood would provide a solution to Salem Square and Arbor Village pleas for sidewalks in no. time.

-- It just might be that some of the opposing diehards who have fought this progress on the pretense of tax savings won't be so convinced after looking at their new township assessments.

After a lapse of simest a half-century, the rolling hills in the extreme northwest corner of Wayne County have become a focal point of public interest. If present plans materialize, they will, become a jewel among state parks.

At the moment, the State Dept. of Natural Resources, noting that Wayne is the only county in Michigan without a state park, is dickering for the purchase of the 865 acres from the City of Detroit in an effort to preserve one of the last wooded areas from the ravages of the developers.

It was back in the early '20s when these rolling hills. with their stands of aged timber, far removed from the smoke and din of an industrial city, were considered an ideal location to house and treat the unfortunate sufferers of tuberculosis. then commonly called "consumption."

IN ST. LOUIS, the faculty of Concordia Seminary charged, in effect, that it was being subjected to an unholy inquisition by Missouri Synod President J.A.O. ("Chairman Jao'') Preuss. President Preuss' probe was described by the faculty as "unscrip-tural...unethical...unrealistic... .divisive...disruptive...detrim ental..."

"Such an extraordinary procedure," charged the embattled faculty, "threatens to jeopardize the accreditation not only of this seminary, but of every institution in our synodical system."

For President Preuss, who believes that Adam and Eve were historical beings and that Jonah was literally swallowed by a great fish, has appointed a "fact-finding commission," designed apparently to flush out alleged heterodoxy at Concordia.

is somehow checked (or even recalled from office) at the denomination's blennial convention next July, the "Miserv Synod" has another leading heresy-hunter in Dr. John Warwick Montgomery of Deerfield, Ill.

Montgomery, chairman of the church history department at Deerfield's ultraconservative Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, has far more academic distinctions than Preuss - which achievements he is by no means reluctant to display.

For instance, he recently participated in a debate at San Deigo State College, where he arrived equipped with a-mimeographed resume and biographical sketch which was five pages long. with 140 entries.

In San Diego, for instance, Montgomery described debate opponent Joseph Fletcher (of new morality or 'Situation Ethics'' fame) as "virtually a mid-20th century Marcionite." (Marcion, a second century heretic, advocated dropping of the Old Testament from Christian scripture.)

After Fletcher had contended that sometimes lying is ethical conduct - as in the case of saving a child's life by concealment from a notential murderer - Montgo mery affirmed:

"There is no way short of sodium pentothol, of knowing when the situationist is actually endeavoring to set forth genuine facts and when he is lying like a trooper. . .it leaves me, the protagonist, and you the audience, entirely incapable of ever being sure that Prof. Fletcher means what he save."

Vatican Council Changes of Detroit agree with the manner, and speed, of church renewal growing out of the Vatican Council of the early 1960s, according to the most recent report on an archdiocesan survey, "Insight: Our Faith Today," ordered by Cardinal John Dearden.

About half of the remainder think changes are being made too quickly and the rest are equally divided between those opposing change entirely and those wanting change speeded up.

The survey, which was supervised by Dr. Arthur X. Deegan, director of the archdiocesan Office of Planning and Research, used computerized techniques scientifically to sample the 1.6 mil-lion archdiocesan Catholics. Priests, sisters and brothers and high school and college youth were also surveyed.

..... REPORT highlights: • Prayer, the sacraments and the mass, and "His presence in ordinary events" are now the most popular ways of expressing how God comes into one's life.

About a third still are opposed to folk masses and distribution of communion by laymen.

· More than half of archdiocesan Catholics go to confession less often now than they did five years ago."

• A little more than half think the church is "more important" than it was five years ago, but the rest said it is "less."

Anti-Catholic discrimination is reported minimal. • The Laity strongly en-dorses teaching of religious principles, as opposed to action programs involving

Sometimes the two play duets in church, and Cindy may well turn the pages for her at Sunday's concert. David, who is 12, also plays the piano and clarinet. Byron is six, but his time will come. Not only does Mrs. Bunton have a busy musical schedule, but after weighing the pros and cons of going back to work when the children were all in school, she decided to put her sewing talents to use. It's a good bet that the gown she chooses for her first symphony solo appearance will be one she created herself.

An exchange student from Sweden features the 1971 All-Observer, All Livonia High School hockey team.

Ake Flintull, who is spending the year attending Bentley High, paced the team in scoring as Bentley carried off the regular-season title with a total of 19 points.

Livonia Stevenson placed second with 14 points and earned the right to oppose Bentley for the Livonia Cup Saturday evening, (tonight) at the Ford Arena. Third place went to Franklin with eight points, while Churchill had seven points.

One of Flintull's 25 goals came Wednesday when Bentley nipped Stevenson, 3-2, in the finale of the regular campaign.

Don Coombe and Bob Evasick scored the other Bentley goals while sophomore Dale Marczak knocked in both the tallies for Stevenson.

Livonians Topple Redford In Semi,

By BOB McCLELLAN Livonia Stevenson continued its winning ways in the state baskethall tournament by whipping Detroit Redford Wednesday in double overtime, 73-67.

Redford succumbed after overcoming an 11 point fourth quarter deficit and losing three of its starters on fouls in the closing period of regulation play.

LED BY TED EXARBOS' seven points, Stevenson hurried to a 16-13 first period lead. The 6' 1" senior poured in another seven markers in the second period, teammate Ron Hoekstra helped with five and the Spartans walked off the floor at the half with a

30-24 edge. The Spartans outscored the Huskies, 17-15, in the third stanza, with Exarhos and Hockstra teaming up for 15 points. This gave Stevenson a 47-39 bulge and it appeared its 10th victory of the cam-paign, including its third in tournament play. Then the roof fell in.

Redford threw up a scrambling, full-court press that rattled the Spartan ballbandlers and forced numerous Stevenson turnovers.

Meanwhile, the Huskies," sparked by 16 points from Willard Fredrick and Donald Savage, took on new life. And with 15 seconds to go, Savage hit a 12 foot jumper that put the Huskies ahead, 61-60. But Hoekstra dumped in a foul shot with the bonus rule in effect to knot the count, 61-61, with seven seconds to go. Patrick In the first three-minute

The Stroller... All Is Not Gold That Glitters

It often has been said that "all is not gold that glitters."

Along with all of his other troubles - a bruised body, badly swollen jaw, and wounded pride - Muhammed Ali, the fallen fistic idol of many, found this out the morning after his defeat at the hands of Joe Frazier.

For weeks on end, the public prints and the air waves were filled with the word that each of the two fighters was being paid $2.5 million for his efforts. This is the highest purse ever paid for a fistic battle and expenses of $255,000. caused no end of tongue wagging.

"Just imagine," one critic $1,897,000. said. "That's $40,000 a minute."

It did seem an outlandish figure, but it was in keeping with the old pugilistic precept that you're worth only what you can draw at the gate. On that basis, the $2.5 million was not outlandish. The event is supposed to have grossed between $20 million and $30 million.

FOR DAYS on end, too, Ali reveled in the thought of collecting that great purse.

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District. Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan was held on Tuesday evening. February 23, 1971, in the Board Room of the Administration Building. 1024 South Mill Street. Plymouth. Michigan, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

The meeting was called to order by President Hulsing at 8:00 p.m.

The awakening came with the arrival of the Internal Revenue agents, and Ali has since.

When the final adjustments any one year. were made, his purse of $2.5 million wilted to a mere $284,550 as take-home pay. Here is how it dwindled.

First, the City of New York stepped in to collect what is termed "non-resident" tax. Ali let it be known that this amounted to $348,000. Added to that, he said he had training

UP TO NOW, it isn't bad. But there's an age-old practice that the manager and the fighter split the purse "down the middle." This practice was started when the wily Jack Kearns managed Jack Dempsey, and insisted that it was a partnership with him furnishing the business mind and Jack the fistic power. So, with Ali and his managers splitting the purse "down the middle," Ali's share is reduced to $948,500. This is the amount - unless he had additional earnings on which he would have to pay income tax.

to $284,550. "That sounds bad," John Roxborough, Joe Louis' manager, remarked with a peek into the past.

"They've reduced the rates since Joe was fighting. When Joe was the champ ion and fighting quite often, he was in the 87 per cent bracket. That meant he got only 13 cents out of every dollar."

So, if you are one of the faithful who has asked "Where did Joe's money go?," that's the answer. Muhammed Ali found that out quickly.

Invest in the good earth

Land is our most precious commodity and it is becoming more precious with each passing day. Whenever a new factory, office building, apartment complex, super highway, airport, or a new home is built, our supply of land suitable for home building is decreased. And as the supply decreases, the price of the remaining land increases. Barring an economic catastrophe, land will never cost less than it does now. Owning your own portion of the good earth, is a lasting investment.

Home ownership is more than just an investment in the good earth. It is the best single investment, certainly the best hedge against inflation, available to any family. No other type of consumer durable goods increases in value over the years as does a home. And no other purchase enriches family life in the same way as does home ownership.
