Graves In Action

The man who led the ticket in Plymouth's recent school board election has built a strong reputation for his work among the youth of Livonia, and now has launched a new program to bring students and police closer together. Wylie Gerdes takes over most of Bifocals to tell how John Graves has gone about it.

They Were Heard

New England Village Subdivision residents didn't like the late-afternoon traffic habits of many motorists who have been using their area as a shortcut from Sheldon Road. Their pleas for City Commission action have brought them happy results.

Telling Their Story

It was "open house" last weekend at the Mail & Observer Building, and the teen-agers who are turning it into a youth activity center used the occasion to spell out their purposes and tell their needs. The numbers to call to lend them a hand also are listed.

IS YOUR OBSERVER PILING UP AT HOME?

You're on vacation. You've just hit the open road. You've taken care of all the details at home — the cat's at the neighbors, the fish are with Aunt Martha, the milk man said, "Have a great time!", and the television is unplugged. The only thing you have to worry about is what you're going to do with the pile of Observer Newspapers that will be waiting for you when you get home.

WHY WORRY?

If you forget to tell your Observer Carrier to hold your hometown newspaper until you are home again, just call 261-3800 from the next rest stop. A friendly circulation staff member will take care of this last-minute detail.

TOP PRIZE FOR THE BEST float in the adult division of the Fourth of July parade went to this entry of St. Peter's Lutheran Church. It showed children at school desks in front of a teacher who turned the pages of the book, "This Is Your Country," to separate patriotic messages. It was the second year in a row St. Peter's had captured the first place trophy in float competition. (Observer photo by Harry Mauthe)

City Tax Boost To Reach 25%

Property owners in the City of Plymouth can expect their summer tax statements to show an increase of approximately 25 per cent over last year's, City Treasurer Kenneth E. Way disclosed this week.

Way said this is due to an increase in the state equalized valuation of real property from 1.68 per cent of the local assessment to 1.87 per cent, plus a 1.5 mill increase in the municipal tax rate.

The rate now is $13.86 per $1,000 in equalized assessed valuation compared to last year's $12.36.

Although the city's tax statements are supposed to be in the mail by July 1, Way said they have not yet been received from the county offices where they are printed.

"We hope that it will not be more than a month's delay so that we will be able to get them out by Aug. 1," said Way. "The usual 40-day payment period will be allowed from the date they actually are mailed."

Because no tax monies are expected to be received before August, the city has had to transfer money from the equipment reserve and contingency funds to meet accounts payable and the employee payroll in July. The same step was necessary last year because of the same delay in getting tax statements from the county.

Way announced, too, that an audit of 1970 tax collections shows that 95.36 per cent of the levy on city property was paid. The 4.64 per cent delinquency represents $156,592.61 and this, plus interest, is to be collected by the county treasurer.

Collections were divided in this manner:

County: $455,002.78 levied; $432,361.83 collected.

School District: $2,134,027.14 levied; $2,027,778.75 collected.

Schoolcraft College: $113,430.27 levied; $107,801.00 collected.

City Operating: $792,089.34 levied; $774,442.39 collected.

City Special Assessments: $11,625.20 levied; $7,197.55 collected.

The aggregate levy was $3,506,174.73 and collections totaled $3,349,562.12.

Parade Climaxes Nation's Birthday

From beauty contest to parade, from fireworks to Kiddies Day, Plymouth's 1971 Independence Week theme of "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness" proved to be a living symbol of deep-rooted heritage to the thousands of persons who joined in the local observance of the nation's 156th birthday.

"You work eight months on this thing, ask many people to give their time and energy and even money, and then it's just great to see it all come together and to hear the applause as the flag goes by. I'm real happy," was the summation from Dave Wickard, general chairman of the week-long celebration for the sponsoring Jaycees.

Except for rain on July 5, final day of activity, the week was blessed with sunshine and the conditions which prevailed Saturday, July 3 for the climactic parade were ideal. This was an event which many hailed as the finest Plymouth has seen and perhaps helped serve to lure a record throng to the aerial fireworks display which featured the night of the Fourth.

Reigning over the entire spectacle was the beautiful Sherrill Bollin, chosen on opening night as "Miss Plymouth" of 1971. One of the most significant features of the parade came in its opening minutes, during the pause at City Hall when British Consul General James T. Hyslop read the annual message from the Lord Mayor of Plymouth, England, who currently is Mrs. D. F. Innes.

AS HE STOOD with Mayor James B. McKeon at the memorial which focuses upon a piece of the dock from which the Mayflower sailed from England in 1620, Hyslop presented this message from Mrs. Innes:

"I ask you, Mr. Consul, on Independence Day 1971, to convey to the mayor of Plymouth, Michigan, and to the citizens warm greetings and affectionate regard from the people of Plymouth, England."

"In accordance with custom, I have to report as to the condition of the four imperial locust trees planted in our city centre. I am happy to say that three continue to flourish and that the fourth, which gave us concern last year, has recovered and is now growing satisfactorily. (The reference is to trees which were a gift to the English city from Plymouth).

"At a time when this city faces a serious threat to its powers and status from central government, we place special value on our links with Plymouth, Michigan, and other communities across the seas which share an honoured name and a common heritage. "As the American flag flies over Plymouth, England, on July 4, we are reminded, with particular poignancy, of the principles of independence and effective democracy for which it stands."

PARADE VIEWERS who lined the route along Main and Hartsoff Streets showered applause upon the more than 60 entries, and in a ceremony at the conclusion trophies were awarded by a panel of six judges. These were the winners:

Floats, Adult Division — First, St. Peter's Lutheran Church; second, Plymouth

Business and Professional Women's Club; third, Plymouth Kiwanis Club.

Floats, Youth Groups — First, Calvary Baptist Church Youth; second, World Peace; third, Plymouth Wesleyan Church Youth.

Floats, Commercial Division — First, Sibbold's University Fence Co.; second, Harb's Restaurant.

Bands — First, Marauders Drum and Bugle Corps of VFW Post 9507, Madison Heights; second, Clan McRae Pipe Band, of Detroit; third, Amherstburg Community Band, of Amherstburg, Ont.

Majority Groups — First, Pace Setters Drum and Baton Corps, of Melvindale. Bicycle Decorations — First, Cortney Warrick.

None except first place trophies were awarded in the last two categories.

THE JUDGES were City Commissioners Robert Sincok and Norbert Battermann, Township Trustees Frank Millington and Gerald Burke, and Board of Education Trustees John Hanskat and George Lawton.

Jaycee contest awards which were presented on the East School carnival grounds Monday included a television set for Dennis O'Connor, 15046 Robinwood; a snowblower donated by Saxtons for Ray Mason, 8246 Forrest Dr., and a bicycle for Bev Reinke, 6154 Amboy, Dearborn Heights. For the Jaycees, in addition to Wickard as general chairman, James Herter served as parade chairman, John Harper as chairman of the fireworks show, and Dave Swinton as chairman of the "Miss Plymouth" pageant.

Territorial Crash Toll Mounts In New Death

The Territorial Road auto crash which claimed the life of Dr. Paul John Benson three weeks ago added its second victim with the burial Tuesday of Sylvestre Villegas, who never regained consciousness after the station wagon he was driving was struck by the Benson vehicle.

According to the sheriff's report of the June 16 accident, Dr. Benson was eastbound near Napier Rd. when he went into an unexplainable 200-foot skid, at the end of which he veered from his lane into the westbound lane and struck the oncoming Villegas car.

Still hospitalized, and unaware of her husband's death, is Mrs. Nora Villegas. Their two children, Stanley, 12, and Sidney, 5, have been released after treatment for serious injuries and are being cared for by grandparents in Detroit.

Villegas, 39, had lived in Livonia for many years before he and his family moved to a Salem Township home at 6629 N. Territorial little more than a year ago. He was employed as a tool and die maker by the Huff Carbide Tool Co. in Redford.

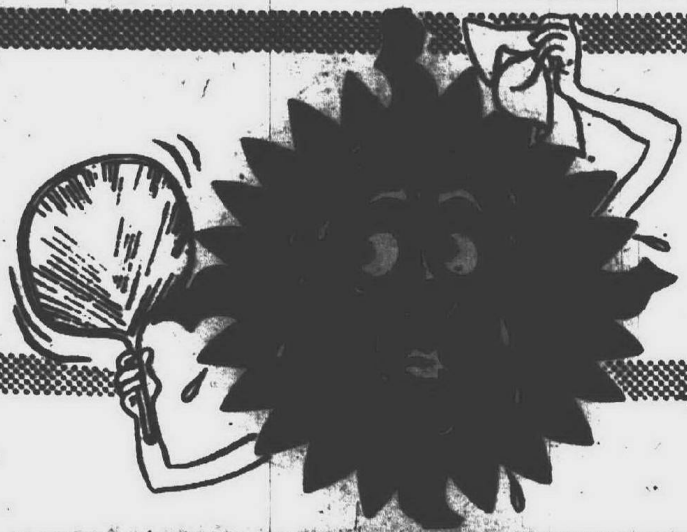

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at the McCabe Funeral Home in Detroit with burial in Livonia's Parkview Cemetery. The only survivors are his wife and two sons.

Rev. Edward Terry, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, 2300 W. Chicago Blvd., who officiated at the final rites, said the Villegas couple had been members of the congregation there "at least 17 years—ever since they were kids—and have always been fantastically active in church affairs."

Numerous inquiries from Plymouth area residents who have expressed concern about the future welfare of the two Villegas boys are being referred to Rev. Terry, as he appears to have been more closely associated with the family than anyone locally.

There is no indication as to when Mrs. Villegas will be released from Wayne County General Hospital where she is under care for brain damage plus facing the added possibility of a leg amputation, Rev. Terry reported.

Fire Pact May Hinge On Panel

PLYMOUTH Unless there is quick agreement between the Plymouth city administration and members of the fire department, the dispute over a new wage contract for the firefighters will be submitted to binding arbitration.

Notice that Local 1811 of the International Association of Firefighters, which represents the city department, was seeking such action was given the City Commission Monday.

The attorney for the firemen, Clarence R. Charest, wrote the commission: "It appears that we are unable to amicably resolve the existing demands and, accordingly, we desire to enter into binding arbitration on the unresolved issues which exist."

However, Charest did leave the door open to a last-ditch effort to reach agreement through direct bargaining when he added, "We would also suggest that prior to the first meeting before the arbitrators, that we meet with yourselves in the hope of resolving this matter."

The old two-year contract between Local 1811 and the city expired July 1. Under state law pertaining to fire and police labor negotiations, either side has the right to request binding arbitration by a three-man panel.

The commission acted immediately Monday to appoint its professional negotiator, Thomas J. Callan, to that panel.

JOHN GRAVES is far better known in Livonia than he is in Plymouth, and yet on June 14 he received more votes than any other candidate for the Plymouth Board of Education. This newspaper endorsed him wholeheartedly, based in the main upon his record of outstanding service to the youth of Livonia — a realm of activity into which he fits naturally as a Franklin High School official.

The thing is, however, that he's our resident, not Livonia's, and now in the dignified post of a school board member he has everything going for him in trying to foster some of the same ideas he has put across in Livonia.

His latest came to the fore since the election and my colleague Wylie Gerdes, who is editor of the Livonia Observer, wrote quite a piece about it a few days ago. This is the sort of stuff we expect John to push in Plymouth, and Wylie's story will tell you why.

By WYLIE GERDES

A group of youths from Livonia's Franklin High School will get a chance to see Livonia from a policeman's point of view in a program sponsored by the Livonia Police Department and the Livonia School District.

John Graves, student activities director at Franklin who formed the school's highly successful and nationally acclaimed community services program, came up with the idea of placing students in work situations with the Livonia police department.

GRAVES, a resident of Plymouth, recently was elected to the Plymouth School Board.

The youths, some of whom Graves politely commented had "negative contacts" with police, will ride in scout cars, work with police dispatchers and help counsel youthful offenders for 100 hours. For completing the program, a student receives credit toward graduation.

Graves and Cpl. Robert Van Dyke, administrative assistant to Chief Robert Turner, hope to get federal funds for the project, but both feel the project will continue even if federal funds are not available.

Van Dyke told several teenagers at Franklin that the basic idea of the program is to give them "a little closer working rapport with what the cops have to do."

"You'll see we have other things to do other than just hassling kids," Van Dyke comm ntd.

He added that the program will benefit policemen by showing them the teenagers side of the picture.

"We'll get a better idea of what it's like to be a teenager. We're going to learn as much from this as you will," the corporal commented.

Van Dyke said he hopes the youths can begin working with police in a couple of weeks.

The department, he said, will try to place students in the area they're most interested in.

Some persons in the program, Van Dyke said, will be able to ride in scout cars.

"Maybe this will help the pig in the car rap a little better," Van Dyke commented.

HE ADDED that others might be used to counsel youthful prisoners, the age group in which suicides are most common.

Hours will be flexible, he said, noting "our store is open 24 hours a day."

In replying to a comment from a youth about a ticket the youth received for a curfew violation, Van Dyke said it is the "hard nosed" cop that often has trouble relating to youths.

"This is the kind of cop we are trying to change," Van Dyke said.

Van Dyke asked the students to show restraint in dealing with policemen.

"A lot of policemen aren't particularly fond of long hair," he noted but asked the students not to "get all out of shape" if they are kidded about their hair.

Graves said he is enthusiastic about the program.

"WE FEEL this is probably one of the greatest things we've done in a long time," he said.

The Franklin student activities director, named one of the outstanding men in the state by the Michigan Jaycees, said the program will be more meaningful because the youths involved have had trouble with the police.

A further step in the program, Graves said, is to bring a police liaison officer to the school. He noted he has discussed the idea with several student groups and they agreed to the plan as long as the officer is not in the school in a punitive role.

Graves said the police officer could act as a resource for classroom teachers, teaching units on police work. His role would be preventative rather than punitive, Graves said.

"GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a prime objective of the school," the introduction says. "Obviously, if one looks at juvenile crime statistics, drug abuse, and citizen apathy this prime objective is not being well met. Effective programs, designed to improve the citizenship of youth, based upon respect for law and due process, are not to be found in great numbers."

Playground Plan Adds Swimming

PLYMOUTH

Three playground activity sponsors operating in the Plymouth community this summer have arranged that youngsters participating in these programs will have occasional free swimming in the pool at Central Junior High School.

Playground leaders are in charge of arrangements and of the achievements that qualify youngsters for swim periods, cost of which will be absorbed by the school recreation department, the city recreation department and the YMCA.

School sponsored playgrounds are at Allen, Farrand, Fiegel and Smith. The city is operating the Hamilton Park, Sutherland-Forest, Elm and Holbrook playgrounds and within the next week or two will have its downtown "tot lot" open on Ann Arbor Trail near Harvey. The YMCA is in charge of the playgrounds at Starkweather and Gallimore schools.

Brass Has Spotlight At Concert

PLYMOUTH Brass ensemble music by the Chamber Arts Quintet will be an added feature of the Plymouth Community Band concert at 8 p.m. tonight (Thursday) in Kellogg Park.

The band's summer series of six weekly concerts in the park opened last week before one of the largest crowds in its history and Director James R. Griffith has arranged that each program will be supplemented with special soloists.

Tonight's quintet was organized and is led by Leroy E. Lane, an accomplished University of Michigan music graduate who served during the past year as band director at Pioneer Middle School.

Whether he was to continue in the Plymouth school system was in doubt for a while, but this had been resolved with his appointment to take on the responsibility of the Central Junior High School band department, and continue at Pioneer as well in 1971-72.

Lane plays the tuba in the Chamber Arts Quintet and with him are two trumpeters, Daniel B. Holt and Arthur G. Davis, plus Stuart B. Delaney on the French horn and Charles F. Davis, playing trombone.

Delaney and Charles Davis both graduated from Plymouth High School last month, while Holt and Arthur Davis will be members of the graduating class next spring. All have won many awards for their musicianship and all have been among the top members of the nationally acclaimed PHS band.

"Original brass ensemble music composed during the 17th and 18th centuries when brass music was at its height is featured by the quintet," said Lane.

"Though the music is old, it remains very attractive to today's audiences. Due to the rich tonal color and the rhythmic activity of that period's music, it remains fresh and interesting."

The quintet will perform the "Almand" and "Gaillard" by William Brade, the allegro moderato from "Symphony for Brass Quintet" by Victor Ewald, and the brass quintet "Rondo" by Arthur Frackenpohl.

3 Plymouthites Gain Degrees

PLYMOUTH Three students from Plymouth were among the 1,495 recipients of degrees during recent commencement ceremonies at Central Michigan University.

They were Terry Gaylord Boden, of 1142 Byron; Donald R. Cooper, of 751 Auburn, and Susan L. Driscoll, of 39500 W. Warren.

Residents Win 'No Turn' Fight

Petitions from upwards of 100 residents of New-England Village Subdivision asking that right turns off Sheldon Road be prohibited on two streets between 3 and 6 p.m. brought decisive action Monday from the Plymouth City Commission.

Backed by the recommendation of Acting Police Chief Loren Johnson, the commission voted unanimously in favor of such "No Right Turn" signs to bar traffic from entering Nantucket and Lexington for that three-hour period.

The Wayne County Road Commission was asked to install the signs as soon as possible, and City Manager Norman Gaffney predicted the work will be done within six weeks.

Johnson also said the county had not responded favorably to a suggestion that it install a

The petitions from homeowners in the New England section, which is north of Penniman and west of Sheldon, voiced this complaint:

"Traffic from the Ford plant, Western Electric and other institutions on Sheldon Road cuts through this subdivision to avoid waiting for the traffic light at Sheldon and N. Territorial.

"This situation makes it impossible for our children to safely cross the streets in our neighborhood. The turning traffic is a hazard and we fear for our children's lives."

In commenting Johnson declared, "These people have a right to relief."

Plymouth's Truax Hurls 2nd No-Hitter

Just to pitch one no-hitter would thrill any hurler. But to record two in less than a year ... well --

That's the achievement Brad Truax, of Plymouth, can talk about in the days, the weeks, the months and years to come.

TRUAX PITCHED his first for Plymouth High. Now he's playing with most of his prep teammates on the Plymouth team in the International Division of the Greater Livonia Connie Mack League.

And with a great deal of thanks to Truax, Plymouth held a slight lead as this week's action began.

After being troubled by an arm ailment, Truax has come back in flying style in the last two weeks. Twice he was called upon in relief to save the day for Plymouth and emerge with the victory.

Then Thursday, Truax was back in a starting role against the Livonia Patriots, the summer version of Franklin High. And he responded with a no-hit gem in blanking the Patriots, 5-0, as Plymouth posted its sixth win in seven starts.

Thurston, meantime, downed Hubert Realty of Livonia (Stevenson High), held on to second place with a 5-1 record, while the Patriots slipped to third place with a 4-2-1 mark.

Truax struck out six and walked three as he took complete charge against the Patriots. He also helped his own cause by singling home Jim Grimmer with the game's first run.

Then Truax started a two-run inning in the fourth with a single. After Dave Hees was safe on an error, Steve Robb singled home two runs.

Hits by Ken Rocco, Stan Britton and Gary Crocker led to the final two Plymouth runs.

Steve Kreager, one of the top area pitchers, gave up four hits, fanned nine and walked two in Thurston's whitewash of Hubert.

Singles by Dennis Poppenger and Ken Chopek and a fly led to Thurston's first run. Mike Robinson singled home the other two Thurston runs in the fourth inning.

REDFORD TOWNSHIP'S Warholak Uniroyal Tires rolled along to its sixth win without a loss and also tightened its hold on first place in the National Division by edging Crowe Royals (Livonia Bentley), 4-3. Crowe is in second place with a 5-2 mark.

Randy Ferguson, the All-

Observer pitcher, picked up the win, but he needed a brilliant play by R. J. LeRoux with the tying run on third and two out in the final inning to save the game.

LeRoux picked up a chopper by Al Hernandez and fired to first just in time for the final out.

Crowe had taken a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Pat Perino doubled in Bob Spritzer and Hernandez.

LeRoux's triple and a sacrifice fly gave Redford its first run in the third and then Warholak scored three times in the sixth with only one hit. Bill Booker singled, went to second on a wild pitch, to third on an infield out and stole home.

Kurt Fritz walked, advanced to third on two wild pitches and came home on an error. Then Glen Richmond walked and ran around on three passed balls.

Three singles by Warholak, Spritzer and Paul Sevigny gave Crowe one run in the third before LeRoux made his great play to nail Hernandez.

Ferguson fanned 11, walked three and gave up five hits — three in the last inning. Bob Duncan and Brian Dinsmore hurled for the losers.

A TWO RUN HOMER by Marty Raymond, after John Combes had singled, enabled North Farmington to gain a 4-4 tie with Franklin before the game was called because of darkness after six innings.

Raymond and Wolf had connected for hits to help North Farmington score its first two runs while Franklin tallied all its runs in the third inning on five hits — one a two-run double by Darrah.

In the American League, Garden City West moved out Northville, 3-2, to remain unbeaten with a record of four wins and a tie.

National Pride (Churchill High) blanked Livonia Optimists, 3-0, as Mike Keller ran his string of scoreless innings in Mack play to 14 straight.

He struck out 12 and allowed only three hits to keep National Pride a half game behind Garden City with four wins and one loss.

All-Observer outfielder Steve Chilenko and Roy Henriksson led the National Pride attack, figuring in all the runs.

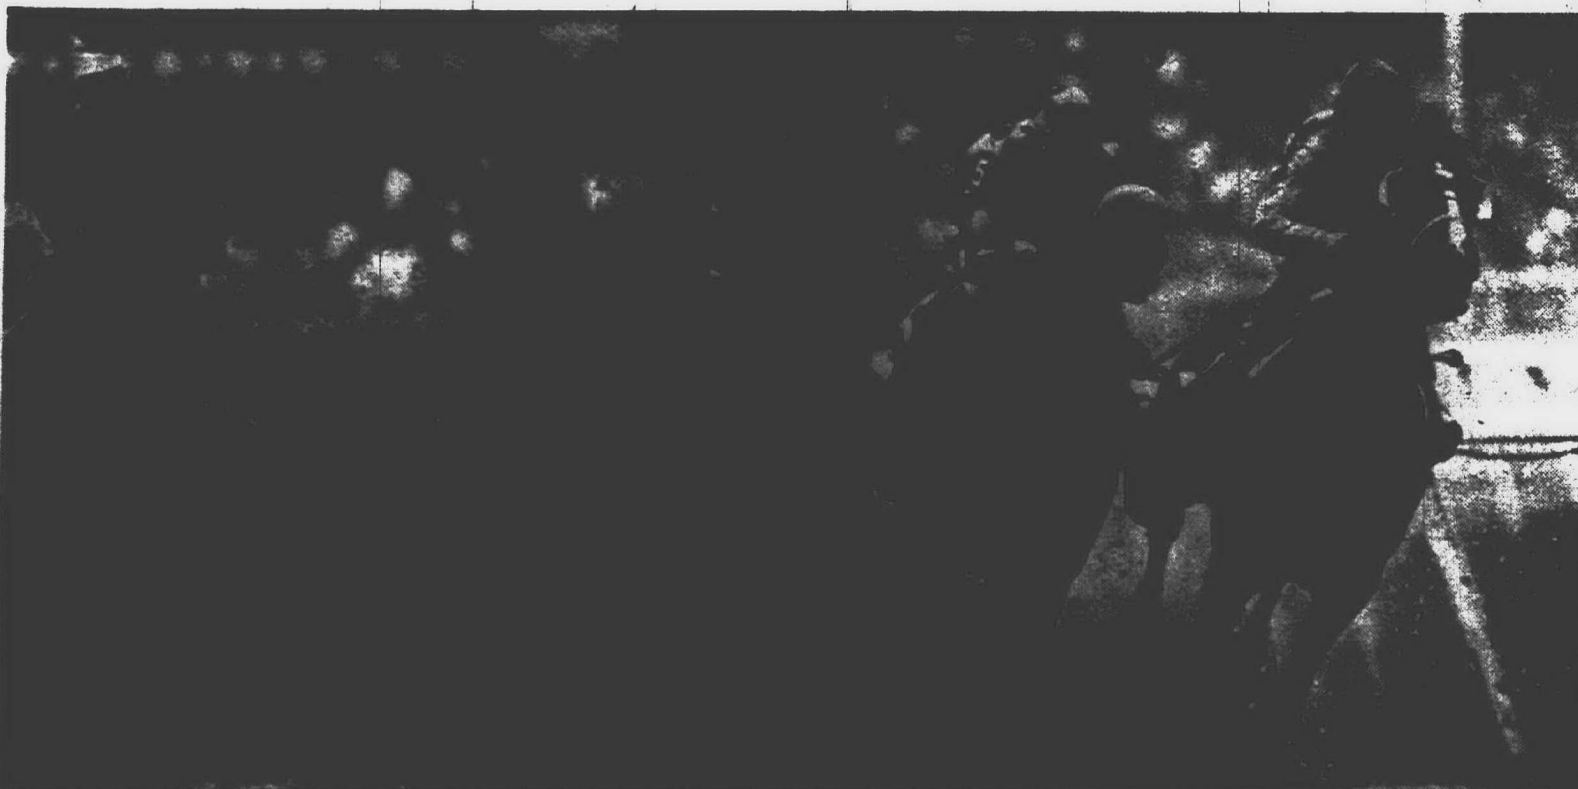

Chilenko had two hits and each time drove in Henriksson. Henriksson had two hits and one chased home Bob Blaise against losing pitcher Joe Kearney.

Tom's Service won on a forfeit when Garden City East failed to field enough players.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE two days can make at a race track. The thoroughbreds found the the Detroit Race Course lightning fast Saturday as shown above and times were close to records on several occasions. It was speed and more speed turning into the long stretch (below). Then came the rains Monday afternoon and this is what took place. Racing through the rain and mud, only the two leaders are in view while those trailing are hardly discernible.

Redford Hits Snag In Adray League

The winning ways of Redford's defending champions in the Greater Livonia Adray baseball league have ended.

After Redford won seven and tied once in its first eight starts, Garden City arose to halt the streak, 6-1, at Ford Field.

Greg Puishes, a standout athlete from Garden City East, silenced the heavy Redford bats with five hits while Tim Carr, Randy Ferguson and John Renko shared the mound duties for the losers.

Poland the winning pitcher. Dale Rumberger started for Plymouth, but had to leave early because of a sore arm and John Stout finished up.

Plymouth took a 1-0 lead in the first when Steve Chilenko singled in Stout, but back came Garden City with two runs in the second when Sylvester and Poland singled. McHugh doubled and Krol walked for two runs.

Plymouth tied the game 2-2 in the third when Stout was safe on an error. Walt Williams singled, Chilenko walked and the next man hit into a double play.

Jim Whaley's double broke the tie and put Garden City ahead in the fourth. In the fifth Sylvester walked, Kesik singled and McHugh doubled for two more runs.

The final Plymouth run scored when Howie Schryer doubled and Rumberger singled in the seventh.

GARDEN CITY took a 2-0 lead in the first inning and stayed in command the rest of the way.

Al Poland, Pat McHugh, Keith Sylvester and Denny Kesik lashed singles in the first inning. In the second McHugh doubled in Poland, who had singled.

McHugh doubled in two more runs in the fourth and in the fifth Puishes singled in the final Garden City run.

An error and a fielder's choice led to the only Redford run and ruined Puishes' bid for a shutout.

The win was the second in a row for Garden City in weekend action.

Friday, the team had downed Plymouth, 5-3, with

Drought Finally Ends For North Farmington

It was a long, unhappy drought for North Farmington in the Greater Livonia Adray Baseball League.

Six games ... all defeats. Sunday it was a different story when North finally emerged with a victory, decisioning Westland, 5-3, at Ford Field.

Mike Hart, from Our Lady of Sorrows, hurled for the winners. He was tagged for 10 hits, but he struck out 11 to work out of several jams.

John Combes, from North

Farmington High, lifted the team into the lead with a three-run homer in the third inning after Harvey Sell was safe on an error and John Haine walked.

SINGLES BY Hart and Tom Young produced what proved the winning run in the fourth and then Haine and Combes singled for an insurance run in the fifth.

Singles by Kuchman and Conlon brought in Westland's first run while Terry Mills, Bob Briggs and McMillan singled in the fifth for the other Westland runs.

Westland also dropped a 5-2 decision to Northville, which climaxed a big weekend by downing Livonia Hubert Realty, 3-2.

Bernie Bach was the winning pitcher against Westland as Northville scored five times in the first inning and made the lead hold up.

Two walks, a triple by Dan Boehm, a single by Dennis Benedict, a triple by Jim Bearse and a single by Steve Utley accounted for Northville's flying start.

Briggs singled in one Westland run and Mills the other.

NORTHVILLE BEAT Hubert as John Morrison allowed four hits and fanned four to outduel Ken Ockerman, Dave Rice and Rob Hollandsworth in a battle which required nine innings (two more than the regulation) to settle.

The game went scoreless until the sixth when Dan Boehm doubled in Rick Adams to put Northville ahead, 1-0.

Hubert tied it in the seventh when John Grills singled in Jim Erwin, who had walked and was sacrificed to second.

In the top of the ninth, Bob Walden was safe on an error and scored the go-ahead run for Hubert on Grills' single.

But Northville won it in the bottom of the ninth when Benedict, an ex-Thurston High star, tripled; Bearse singled him in to tie the score.

Utley singled, Griffin was walked intentionally to load the bases and Morrison won his own game by bouncing a hit through the infield.

The loss was the second in weekend action for Hubert, which was blanked, 8-0, by Redford Friday when Jim Murray hurled a two-hitter and fanned eight.

Seven Redford runs in the second inning settled the game. Bill Herbert, Dennis Poppenger and Bill Booker singled to load the bases. John Renko doubled in two runs, Jim Murray doubled in another, Jess Washington singled in two more and Kirk Taylor wound it up with a homer.

Kirk Taylor singled in Booker with the final Redford run.

Gal Fires First Ace In Livonia

It was a long time coming but Whispering Willows, the Livonia municipal golf course, finally has a hole-in-one by a feminine golfer.

It all came about when Irene Nicol, of Dearborn Heights, hit a perfect five-wood on the 125-yard 16th hole... and then gasped in amazement when the ball landed on the green and bounced into the cup.

The ace was the first for Irene in seven years of play. She had a 102 for the 18 holes.

MICHAEL WRIGHT, a 13-year-old who resides at 21326 Stahelin, Southfield, recorded a hole-in-one on Redford's 104-yard fifth hole with a seven-iron. He has been playing for four years and this was his first. It didn't bother him a bit. Mike turned in a 34 for the nine holes.

Betty Rouse, 24819 Donald, Redford Township, realized a 10-year ambition when she aced the 146-yard fourth hole at Bonnie Brook. Betty used a seven-iron and the ball was on line all the way. She had a 40 for the round.

Glenhurst was the scene of two aces. The first Morry Gurwich, of Oak Park, on the 155-yard fifteenth hole with a seven-iron. It was his first and he recorded a 92 for 18 holes.

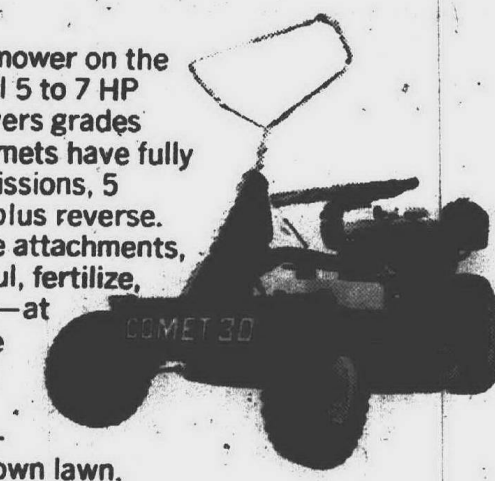

Carl Robinette, who has been playing golf for 51 years, dropped a seven-iron in the cup on the 146-yard 17th hole for his fourth ace. He shot a 78 for the 18 holes.

Stringers Give Farmington Legion Victory Zip

With the Stringer brothers, Randy and Rich, leading the way, Farmington's American Legion baseball team gained a split in a Sunday doubleheader against Troy.

The Stringers sparked a 6-2 Farmington win in the nightcap after Troy had won the opener, 4-0.

Rich Stringer was the winning pitcher in the second game as he scattered six hits and struck out six for his second conquest in three decisions.

A five run uprising in the second inning.

Randy walked in the first inning and came around as John Holappa singled and Dan McGrath and Tony Wenson each drew walks.

Then in the second Bruce Economeau and Ray Ponke singled to start the big five run explosion. They were sacrificed along by Rich Stringer and scored on Randy Stringer's single.

Holappa followed with a double that scored Rich Stringer. McGrath was safe on an error and Tony Wenson followed with another double. Holappa, Economeau and Ponke each had two hits for the winners.

FARMINGTON'S BEST

chance came in the third inning when Ray Stringer singled along with two walks to fill the bases with one out. But the runners couldn't get any farther.

Stringer singled for the other Farmington hits.

The split came after Farmington had bowed to Waterford's defending 18th District League champs, 6-2, when North Farmington's

John White was charged with the loss.

Waterford scored two runs on errors and without a hit in the first inning. In the fourth, Jeff Doak tripled in two more runs.

Farmington scored in the fifth on hits by Randy Stringer and Economeau, plus an error and a fielder's choice.

Waterford added two more runs in the sixth inning on two walks, a hit batsman and a single.

Farmington, now 4-9, plays Berkley at home Friday and then entertains Auburn Heights in a doubleheader on Sunday.

Southfield Bats Boom In 3 Wins

As players go on the Southfield American Legion baseball team, Steve Gombar is one of the youngsters.

He's still got two more years of high school left at Brother Rice, while most of his Legion mates already have received their prep diplomas and are making plans to attend college in the fall.

But youth must be served, and when Gombar pitches, he's a tough cookie.

routing Auburn Heights, 9-0 and 14-1, in an American Legion doubleheader.

The sweep upped Southfield's record to 12 wins against two defeats and a tie and kept them in a virtual deadlock with defending champion Waterford for the league lead.

Bob Brown twirled a three hitter, fanned 11 and walked one for Southfield in the opener against Troy.

He coasted along as the Southfield bats struck early and often.

In the second inning, hits by Dan Damiani, Dennis O'Rourke, Al Davis and Gary Martin, along with a sacrifice fly by Rich Stabile produced three runs.

In the third, Damiani, O'Rourke, Martin and Mazza singled for two more runs. Kevin Milliken walked, stole second and scored on O'Rourke's hit in the fourth. In the sixth John Solberg singled, O'Rourke was hit by a pitch and Davis and Sam Ranzelli followed with run producing singles.

Solberg doubled in Milliken in the seventh with the final Southfield run.

THE INTERMISSION between games didn't cool off the Southfield bats.

They swung merrily on to make things easy for Bruce Digue, who allowed Troy only five hits.

Milliken and Davis singled for one run in the first inning and then in the third Mazza singled, Milliken doubled, Solberg walked and Damiani singled for three more runs.

Mazza singled in the fourth and scored on an error. In the fifth Southfield exploded for four runs as Davis, O'Rourke, Martin and Digue singled and Troy helped out with a couple of errors.

Three more Southfield runs cashed in during a sixth inning uprising. Solberg and Mazza singled along with a walk to Damiani, a sacrifice fly by O'Rourke and an error.

The final two runs came home in the seventh when Solberg walked, Damiani doubled him home and O'Rourke followed with an RBI single.

Southfield was to play at Berkley Wednesday and then will be off until hosting Troy in a doubleheader Sunday.

GOMBAR WAS in control again when Southfield rebounded from losing in its previous start to Farmington to down Walled Lake, 6-3, and remain in a head-on duel with Waterford for the 18th District lead.

Gombar allowed six hits and fanned eight. His teammates, meantime, gave him more than sufficient support.

Southfield took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on hits by Gary Mazza and Dennis O'Rourke. In the second, Southfield scored three more when Gary Martin, Albee Davis and Dave Casai all singled and were helped along by a two-run error.

In the third, the Southfield bats rang again. O'Rourke singled and John Solberg was safe on an error. Martin was safe on a fielder's choice to permit O'Rourke to score. Then Davis tripled to chase Solberg and Martin home with the final two runs.

WHEN BIG BATS boom it's almost impossible to stop a baseball team, especially when it also comes up with some super pitching at the same time.

Three Senators Back Income Tax Increase

By KATHY MORAN
Three of Observerland's four senators voted for a one per cent increase in the state income tax levy effective Aug. 1 last week.

The increase, which would bring the income tax level to

3.6 per cent for at least a year, was favored by Sens. William Faust (D-Westland), Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth), and Daniel Cooper (D-Oak Park). Sen. David Plawewski (D-Deerborn Heights) voted against it primarily because

"I didn't know what the money was going for." The Senate was deadlocked on the increase until the Democrats held a caucus. After getting Gov. Milliken to sign an admission that the increase was necessary, the Democrats delivered the votes needed for passage. The final vote was 22-16. Plawewski said the discussion in the caucus centered around the "lack of leadership on the part of Gov. Milliken." He said Democrats were disenchanted because Milliken had said there would not be a need for an increase in income taxes to the public but representatives from his office were urging an increase behind the scenes. "We wanted him to make a public stand on it," Plawewski said. He said his biggest objection to the increase is that the senators were asked to vote on the basis of general figures with no breakdown on where the money would go.

An amendment to the bill would drop the increase on Aug. 1, 1972 if the Legislature hasn't asked the voters questions on the graduated income tax and the lowering of property taxes used for school operations.

The bill is expected to pass in the House with a 111 per cent vote, bringing the tax level from the current 2.6 to 3.7 per cent. If this increase is approved it will be sent to a joint conference committee to iron out differences.

Suburban Gardener Potted Plants, Trees Add Decorator Touch

By BETTY FRANKEL

Have you ever tried growing plants in a pot — outdoors? It's a new style — old style of gardening that is easy to do and can add a special touch to your garden or even solve some outdoor decorating problems.

There is now an interesting and attractive display at Livonia Mall of plants in large containers. There is an assortment of handsomely designed pots, filled with a wide range of materials from colorful little bedding plants to rather large trees.

The pots give the gardener a way of displaying plants that are of special interest to him. It is also a way to make ordinary plants seem special. Plants have been grown in containers since ancient times. Wall paintings in Egyptian tombs depict gardeners tending potted palm trees, and the gardens in Persian miniature paintings show pots with roses and other colorful plants.

The famed hanging gardens of Babylon, long regarded as one of the wonders of the world, achieved their dramatic verdant effect through many large plants grown in lead-lined containers built into the tiered terraces leading to the temple.

POTTED PLANTS have been an important part of walled Spanish patio gardens, and have been used to good advantage in Spanish-style gardens in the New World. Recently their use has spread and potted plants have become popular garden accents in all parts of the country.

A shapely pine tree or Japanese maple in a handsome container is an elegant accent for a front entrance. A redwood tub planted with a flowering tree can be the focal point for a deck or patio, and some large pottery bowls filled with petunias and geraniums or marigolds can add a wonderful splash of color at the edge of the swimming pool.

Tubs or large pots can provide garden space on apartment balconies or by mobile homes. A big plant or a vine in a pot can add drama to a blank wall, brighten a dull corner in the garden, or even provide some portable shade. Pots in containers can be used to make a barrier, to create a sitting area, or to define a walk-way.

A single huge pot can be used or numerous small pots can be grouped. Small pots are effective lined up along the top or base of a wall and are attractive grouped on steps for a mass display of color or greenery.

In most cases it is best to decide first where to use the potted plant. Then select the pot that is right for the spot, and last of all choose the plant that will grow in the spot you have chosen and is the size and type that will be most decorative.

POTS CAN BE anything that will hold a plant — from elegant antique urns to rough wooden crates or even sewer pipes. They should be compatible in feeling with the area in which they are to be displayed.

Standard red clay flower pots or redwood boxes seem to go well with most styles of decorating or types of architecture. Barrels, crocks, copper wash boilers and big iron kettles help carry out an early American theme. Large simple styled cement or Fiberglass pots are especially suitable for contemporary decor.

There are also handsome large pots available made of asbestos cement. These are durable but weigh much less than a comparable sized cement pot.

It is important that the pots have a hole in the bottom for drainage. The plants will suffer if the soil is water-logged. The drain hole should be covered with a piece of clay flower pot or a piece of fine meshed screening before the pot is filled with soil.

To facilitate drainage and to preserve wooden pots, it is helpful to raise containers an inch or so off the ground on cleats or some other inconspicuous support.

MOST PLANTS need a porous, fast draining soil mixture, but one with enough organic material in it to hold moisture by the roots.

The amount of water needed varies with the location and size of the pot as well as with the type of plant. It may be necessary to water every day or even twice a day in exposed locations. Because of the frequent watering, fertilizer may be needed more often than would otherwise be the case.

Almost any kind of plant can be grown in a container — at least for a short period of time. This includes trees, shrubs, evergreens, annuals, perennials, bulbs, vines, fruits, vegetables and herbs. There is really no limit, but the plant and the growing conditions must be right for each other.

Transplant Bulbs For Better Blooms

Were your tulip and hyacinth flowers disappointingly few and small this year?

If they were, the bulbs probably need transplanting, says R.A. Mecklenburg, Michigan State University horticulturist. Small flowers, few flowers, or both, indicate overcrowding.

When transplanting bulbs, dig them during the summer so they will cure before they're replanted in the fall, recommends Mecklenburg. But make sure the bulbs are ready for digging by uncovering a few bulbs. If ready, the bulb coat will be light brown. The plant usually reaches this stage after the leaves turn yellow.

Keep dug bulbs out of bright sunlight, suggests Mecklenburg. Spread them to dry in shallow trays in an airy spot under shade.

About Sept. 1, separate dry clumps of bulbs into smaller pieces. Do not tear apart any bulbs that are not dry, warns the horticulturist. With replanted bulbs, you can look forward to better blooms.

Performers Are Serendipitous

By KATHY MORAN

A "new and happy event" is blooming at Loty's Pavilion Room in Plymouth from now until July 14.

The event is created by the Serendipity Singers, whose lively performance more than suits their name. Serendipity connotes the discovery of a new and happy event and the art of doing many things well at the same time.

And the four males and four females fit their namesake almost too well when they fill the Pavilion Room with their swinging, jazzed-up folk tunes.

THE MALE MEMBERS strum on a banjo, two guitars and an electric base guitar besides accompanying vocally the four leading female singers who spice up the renditions with tambourines.

Considering the group has experienced a complete turnover in the last six months, they hit the stage with a togetherness that only lags when they break the music with a few tired jokes.

They enjoy themselves on stage and it can't help but rub off on the audience — even though opening night last Thursday drew only a few spectators because of competition from the Freedom Festival.

THEIR VERSATILE repertoire is rooted in old-time folk songs like "Simmer Man" or Woodie Guthrie's ("the only Guthrie with talent") "This Land Is Your Land." But throughout the show, the performance is laced with more current tunes taking in the talents of Bob Dylan, the Beatles, and Kris Kristofferson.

Before long the audience is clapping and singing along making it sheer enjoyment for almost any age group.

Moving Firm Picks Ehinger For New Post

Albert J. Monro, president of Wolverine Moving and Storage Company, announces the appointment of C.I. "Hap" Ehinger as national account sales manager.

Ehinger comes to Wolverine Moving and Storage Company with twenty-five years sales experience in the transportation industry. He is a past president of the Traffic Club of Detroit.

Wolverine's office is located at 38160 Amrhein Rd., Livonia.

Voters Favor Drug Reform

Observerland residents showed cohesiveness on concern over drug problems in their answers to a questionnaire mailed to residents of the 19th congressional district by Congressman Jack McDonald (R-Farmington).

Residents of Farmington, Livonia and Redford Township expressed approval of a bill co-sponsored by McDonald that would halt military and economic assistance to foreign countries who fail to take steps to prevent narcotics from being produced or processed and shipped to the United States unlawfully.

Ninety-one per cent of persons answering the fifth annual questionnaire favored the bill and 99 per cent favored some reform in the welfare system.

Results showed that the constituency view crime, education, and pollution respectively as domestic priorities needing attention by Congress.

More than one-third favored the president's Vietnamization program in Southeast Asia and 29 per cent favored a specific date for withdrawal. Twenty-four per cent indicated they would favor immediate withdrawal from Vietnam while 12.5 per cent called for a military victory.

On the draft question, 53 per cent favored abolition of the draft and the establishment of an all-volunteer army.

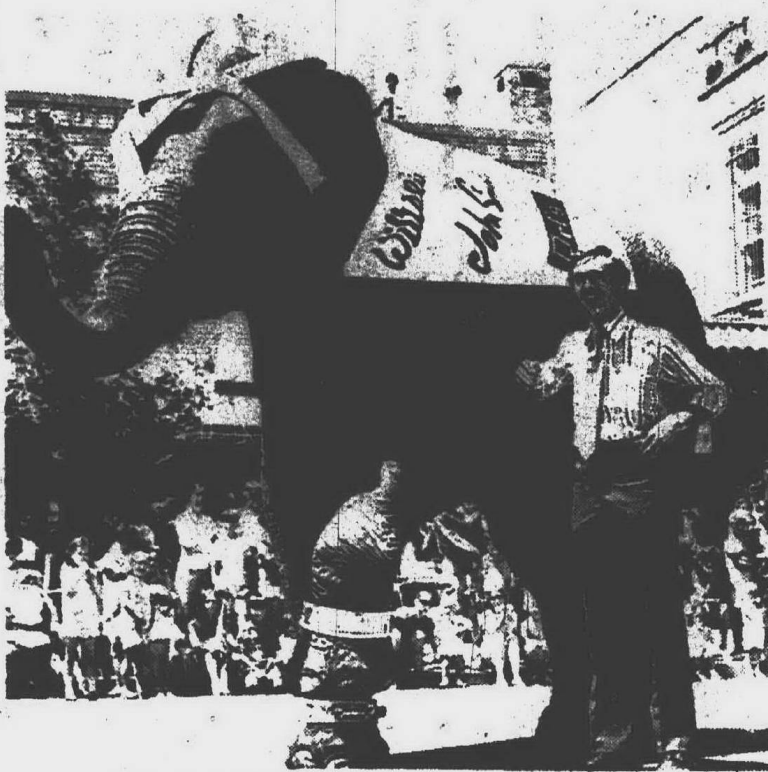

More than half - or 53 per cent - of the respondents opposed setting a pollution tax to aid in cleaning up the environment but 61 per cent of the 18 to 21-year-olds supported the tax.

"Most of the comments on this particular question alluded to making polluters pay extra taxes," McDonald said.

"My feeling on the matter is that if we are to improve our environment, everyone is going to have to get involved. Up to one-third of our pollution is caused by the generation of electric power, sewers and sewage treatment, garbage and trash disposal, and home heating."

"As the technology is developed and implemented to correct the debilitating effect of municipal pollution costs for each of the services will increase to pay for the improved facilities," McDonald said.

In other questions, 76 per cent of the respondents supported the concept of a Consumer Protection Agency and 58 per cent favored a National Health Program. Federal revenue sharing, which would have the federal government return some of its revenue to communities, was supported by 64 per cent.

Expansion Plans OK'd By S'craft

College enrollments are up and Schoolcraft College facilities are remaining the same.

For this reason, the college's new president, Dr. C. Nelson Grote, asked the board of trustees for immediate approval of construction plans that will give the college the space it anticipates needing by September of 1972.

"We have some building problems that simply can't be delayed," Dr. Grote advised the board.

The administration submitted a main recommendation and two alternates to the board of trustees. After some discussion, the board adopted the recommendations.

THE PLANS as adopted would permit the purchasing of five temporary units for $90,000 that would be available for classrooms and office space by September 1972.

Another $60,000 would be allocated for architect's fees to develop final plans and bid documents for a 22,000 square foot addition to the Vocational Technical Building, scheduled for completion in September 1973.

The final two recommendations adopted by the board depend upon whether the one mill tax hike it is seeking in a Sept. 13 election passes.

If the millage passes, the college would immediately apply for state construction funds of up to 50 per cent of projected costs on the Fine Arts Building and the vocational-technical addition.

If it fails, the college will apply for the state construction funds on only the vocational-technical addition.

THE DEBATE between board members centered on the Fine Arts Building and whether it should be constructed before any other buildings on the campus.

However, they were told that if the millage fails, the college will not have enough funds to construct the building and purchase temporary classrooms that will be needed in 1972.

The money used to purchase temporary space and construct the vocational-technical addition if the millage fails will come from the $1 million that is available from a 1968 bond issue.

OBSERVATION POINT

Suburbs' Business Boom Creates New Kind Of City

By Philip H. Power
Publisher

Ernst & Ernst, a prestigious old accounting firm, is moving its offices from Detroit to Southfield.

The Automobile Club of Michigan is moving to Dearborn.

Pan American, Eastern, Swissair, Delta and United Airlines are all moving to the suburbs, mostly Southfield.

Every day comes news of another business pulling out of the central city and moving to the suburbs. It's even got to be a joke, so that no company president is safe from being ribbed at a party about moving his offices to Southfield.

But the exodus from Detroit has not only been to Southfield, Farmington, Livonia, Plymouth, Westland - all have experienced a boom in business construction, and there is no reason to think that it will stop in the foreseeable future.

THIS IS because the reasons firms have for moving to the suburbs are not the kind which can easily be ignored or changed.

High crime rate in Detroit is perhaps the biggest. Companies are afraid of their employees being mugged or molested while walking to and from parking lots. Thefts of purses and business equipment from downtown offices are common. Under these conditions, employee morale suffers.

High crime rates breed high insurance costs, in some cases over 30% higher in Detroit than in the suburbs.

Although land in the suburbs is often more expensive than in Detroit, businesses have found that reduced costs in insurance and security systems and better employee morale more than make up for the difference.

Parking downtown is expensive, too, making it hard for companies to recruit workers, particularly when they are competing against suburb based companies with free parking lots.

Mass transit is also a factor. The Detroit area has notoriously poor mass transit facilities, and that makes it hard for customers and workers from outside the central city to get in and work or shop.

A CURIOSITY is that with the exodus from Detroit to the suburbs going on at a rapid rate, there are many multi-million dollar structures going up in the very central area of Detroit.

Michigan Bell is spending $41 million for a new building. Burroughs is putting $35 million into expansion, and Blue Cross-Blue Shield has $34 million in a building. There will be a $49.5 million addition to Harper Hospital, and $2 million is being spent on Children's Hospital.

These structures, however, do not represent a wholesale building boom throughout Detroit. Although the number of new businesses opening up in Detroit each year is greater than the number leaving, the majority of these new establishments are very small.

In 1970, an estimated 2,000 businesses opened up in Detroit. But only 100 were worth more than $10,000.

THE RUSH from Detroit has benefited the suburbs enormously. Southfield, in particular, has reaped the harvest of development and tax base. But other suburbs in the northwest corridor have been helped, and it can be predicted that the boom will go on.

This trend means quite clearly that the old notion that the suburbs are nothing more than bedroom towns servicing the business and industry of Detroit is dead. The suburbs are coming into their own, with their own industry and business base, with employees and management staff living in the same or bordering suburban communities.

It's a very important trend, and one matched only by the curiosity of the new multi-million dollar buildings going up in the heart of Detroit. It may be that eventually we will have a situation in which the suburbs and the heart of downtown Detroit are thriving, while the rest of the central city is caught in the vice of poverty and business depression.

If that happens, we might be able to get to downtown Detroit to pay our Michigan Bell bill at their new building, but we'd have to do so in an armored car.

Some rational policy for working out business development on a regional basis has to take place before that happens. The only problem is that it doesn't seem to be in anybody's interest to do it.

R.T. Thompson writes

Where Are Those Who Saw Car Run Down Girl?

It's unbelievable but true.

On June 1, more than a month ago, a high school senior was run down and killed in broad daylight; the driver sped away and hasn't been apprehended yet.

For four weeks the grieving parents have been mourning the loss of their oldest daughter... a member of the graduating class at Livonia Bentley High... and they can't understand why no one has come forward to help police catch the hit-runner.

There isn't anything worse in this whole wide world than a motorist killer who runs down and kills a pedestrian and then zips away, hoping that his identity will never be known.

It hardly ever works out that way. Eventually someone steps forward and gives the information to the police that they have been seeking so long.

It probably will happen in this case but one wonders how anyone can be that hardened that he or she will keep ducking away, ducking away from the truth and still show his or her face in public just as if nothing has happened.

The hit-and-run death occurred around 4:30 in the afternoon on Henry Ruff Road in Livonia. That's in a subdivision where there isn't a direct through street to Schoolcraft for the driver to make a hurried exit. The person at the wheel either had to drive screeching through the neighborhood and gradually work out to Schoolcraft... or must be a resident of the area and raced down a street or two and then into the garage at his or her home.

IT WOULDN'T be a bit surprising to discover the driver lives within a block or perhaps two from the scene of the accident. The one at the wheel could conceivably be a neighbor of the dead girl and her parents.

The Livonia police have been tracking down all leads and they had quite a few within a matter of days but thus far they all have been fruitless.

The police can't do it all themselves. They must have the help of witnesses and they are convinced that there are people who saw the accident, saw the car speed away, saw what kind of car it was and saw the driver, probably someone that they know.

It's high time that these persons stepped forward and revealed to the police what they know. It's time the residents of the neighborhood stand up and get counted.

We wonder how these people would feel if it was their daughter who had been killed at what should have been the happiest moment for the victim and her parents... the first high school graduation.

HOW WOULD you feel if one of your children had been struck down and weeks passed with no knowledge of who did it? Then place yourself in the position of the parents, perhaps your neighbors, who have had this thing going on and on for more than four weeks.

Somewhere in Livonia there is a killer. Somewhere in the neighborhood are persons who know how the accident happened and know who was driving the car. The police need your help, the parents need your help, the community needs your help... they need it right now, not tomorrow but today.

We have a strong belief that somewhere in the community are parents who believe they are protecting a son or daughter who was at the wheel of the death vehicle. If not parents, then there is a family protecting a father or mother who was driving the car.

Let your conscience be your guide, but we hope that a conscience-stricken person will come forward to ease his or her mind. Also, it will take a big load off two parents who are still in a state of shock and will be until they know who killed their daughter.

Collegian Speaks Up

By LINDA ZAVITZ
Eastern Michigan University

Why is our educational system failing? Why is there an ever increasing amount of drop-outs? The answer to both of these questions is, our grading system and the chronological method of dividing students into class levels.

Grades don't prove the intellectual ability of a student because of the fact, all teachers grade differently. Teachers all present specific standards that they expect their students to meet, and if they don't they receive poor grades.

GRADES ARE NOT a learning device for children, they are only a hindrance to the learning process. With grades, learning becomes no longer an enjoyable experience, but instead, it becomes a process of merely memorizing information and regurgitating it.

What our educational system fails to recognize is that every student is an individual, with different needs, and interests and most important different intellectual capacities. Why downgrade a student because he is a slow learner?

The present system of classifying students according to age puts a great deal of pressure on the slow learners. They become discouraged because they know that, no matter how hard they try they still will only get average, or failing grades.

These are the students who drop out of school and join the list of unemployed young people.

Also, what happens to the quick learners? Why should they be forced to remain in a classroom where the educational material is elementary to them.

All I am saying is, give all students an equal opportunity for an education. How? By classifying students according to their achievement ability and by eliminating our present grading system, and instead grade according to the progress a student achieves as an individual.

Jackie Klein writes

Agreement Ends Long Fights

The recently resolved dispute over the height of the proposed 12-story Raleigh House Hotel in Southfield will carve an ample niche in the city's history. It could also be an example to other Observerland communities.

The agreement marks "finis" to year long skirmishes and negotiations between some 800 homeowners who live between Lahser and Telegraph, 10 Mile and 10½ Mile, and Sammy Lieberman, executive vice president of Raleigh House Caterers, acting on behalf of developers of the proposed hotel on Telegraph near 10 Mile.

RESIDENTS JOINED forces against the hotel's originally proposed 14 stories. A strong coalition of five homeowner groups used city hall facilities for sessions with developers.

The agreement sets a classic example of resident-petitioner-city hall cooperation minus court intervention and plus the potential strength of logical thinking homeowner groups.

It points up what can be accomplished through cool, rational give and take, leaving accusations out of debates, and enlisting the invaluable support of city officials who don't take kindly to emotional name calling.

On the face of it, the Raleigh House agreement with its compromise reduction of two stories doesn't appear to make major waves. But as the homeowners' attorney Jeffrey Leib puts it, the long list of fringe benefits which are part of the hotel site plan make the agreement a hefty compromise package.

IT'S A MATTER of a bird in the hand being worth more than chasing one around the bush, because homeowners most likely would not have gotten all those concessions had they gone to court. And lawsuits are not famous for cementing good neighbor relations.

It's far better to have men like Southfield City Administrator Peter Cristiano sitting on both sides of the negotiating table, lending a stabilizing influence, than a court judge who might humiliate the homeowners' appeals.

And there's much to be said for the expertise of City Planner Don Gross and Traffic Engineer Roger Smith and the dignity of Basil Natoci, president of one of the homeowner associations, who truly represented his people. And young attorney Lieb didn't rush headlong into a lengthy court suit which would have hit his clients hard in their pockets.

Not to be ignored is the added cost to developers. Conditions of the agreement, signed by Lieberman, cannot be called "peanuts" even when added to the price of the $7 million hotel.

Erecting a six foot high, 50-foot-long berm along Berg and landscaping it with year round vegetation perpetually sprinkled and maintained, isn't cheap.

Neither is using brick on the hotel's east facade similar to that of the catering house or conforming to some of the agreement's architectural requirements.

THE AGREEMENT calls for a lot of other protections like low intensity lighting, lighted marquees related to Telegraph, no roof signs and no access to Berg.

In exchange, residents agreed to support the site plan along with a few variances developers will request of the city's zoning appeal board.

All in all, what transpired around the bargaining table at numerous sessions paid off substantially in tangible benefits, good relations, and possible future victories for other concerned, co-operative property owner groups.

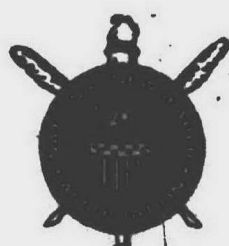

It proves you can fight the establishment and win if you keep your cool and persevere.

A Word To Penny-Wise: Troubles To Get Worse

EDITOR:

We may be only three girls, but we're speaking for 1,500 in just our school alone. Harrison High, along with all other Farmington schools, has quite a lot of school spirit. Take away our sports, which will result from the millage not passing, and there goes all of our spirit.

You people out there who voted "no" for the millage don't understand the importance of it to us. You complain about the destruction and violence going on. It's going to get worse. Kids always have to have something to do.

Without our sports, there's going to be a lot more wandering the streets at night. That's not a threat, it's a "word to the wise." More kids with nothing to do means more drugs, more drinking, more destruction. Besides all of that, sports are fun not only to watch but to play. They promote better grades, better health, better sportsmanship, and a better sense of responsibility.

As far as the money goes, think back when you were in high school. Most schools did have sports. What would you have done without them? The small amount of money to each family makes up the large amount the schools need.

So, when millage comes up again in the fall, vote "yes" for us.

dent teaching gives them an excellent opportunity. These opportunities are utilized by getting through as easily and as fast as possible.

Books and experts say this is how a child learns. My limited experience as a student at Eastern Michigan University has shown every child needs individual attention with many ways of getting across the concept. No one way is best.

Talk, they all talk with great ideas. Practice proves otherwise, though. Ask one of them their objectives (behavior, attitude, knowledge) and they stumble until a neat book answer comes to mind.

Teachers are not a dignified profession especially when the teacher feels he/she is a baby sitter rather than a motivator. We need TEACHERS. Where are they?

New VFW Post Seeks Vets

EDITOR:

On behalf of a small group of men dedicated to community services, commonly referred to as members of the newly formed P.F.C. Patrick J. Connors V.F.W. Post No. 4034, I want to thank you for publishing a lead story regarding the formation of our new post.

Although our organization's home base is Livonia, we did not want to imply that our recruitment efforts were restricted only to Livonia veterans. Certainly, we extend an invitation to all eligible veterans to become charter members of our Post regardless of their residency. Our efforts have been concentrated throughout the entire state.

Incidentally, this article was instrumental in encouraging several veterans to make inquiry. However, they remarked that the article failed to mention how an interested veteran could become a member of our Post. Should anyone be interested in our organization, they may call any officer, including myself.

For the small group of men who really care, I thank you for your recognition.

Hard Drugs Bring Crime

EDITOR:

The number of murders and robberies involving innocent people increase every year. Taxes go up as the amount of police protection goes down.

One of the reasons for our increased crime rate is hard drugs. The years are past when hard drugs were found only in the ghetto. Now parents throughout the country tremble at the thought of their young children coming into contact with a drug pusher and hard drugs, and it happens, whether we would like to face it or not. This sickness is spreading and eating holes in our society like some kind of cancer.

Let's face the problem realistically. We know hard drugs exist and we know from experience the problem isn't solved by confiscating some of the supply or locking up a few pushers until they can get back on the streets. Battling the physical and mental problem of drugs using the police is like throwing a bucket of ice on a forest fire. Let's take the problem off the streets and put it in the hands of competent medical people.

We need federal funds available to open up clinics throughout the country to provide hard drugs at nominal cost, or free if the user can't afford it. Make the clinic so much cheaper than the pusher. It would no longer be profitable for the pusher, the last person in the long chain of the black market, and so we would see the black market diminish greatly.

Help to stop the habit, of course, will be offered, not forced, on the user.

We'll see a drop in crime when there aren't gang wars over drug territory, or desperate people who will even kill for the money to support their habit. The idea of a drug clinic is not new or radical, but being used in England with good effect.

Press Has Obligation

EDITOR:

I have to compliment you on the comments you made in your recent column of the government and the press.

Since the subject matter had to do with the freedom of the press, you state "I feel I must go beyond the normal subject material of this column - local matters, of direct concern to us in the suburbs - and discuss them."

Of course, the attempt made by government officials to keep secret, information which the people need to know in order to protect their welfare, is of direct concern not only to people in this locality but to all of the people of the Nation. Just why you had to make an exception to your established policy - restricting editorial comments to local matters - to publish your "observations" on this subject, poses a question. Is it your judgment that only the big city news media are competent to provide the public with information of national importance to all citizens and to discuss these matters?

You assert "A free press has the obligation to report to the people just what is going on in their government." How does that square with your policy of restricting, to purely local matters, the information the Observer papers will print and discuss? You own and publish these papers and can do as you please, in which case you are disregarding - not only your own obligation to report - but the right of the public to learn, what is going on that affects their welfare.

Directly or indirectly every problem that now plagues this nation has been caused by unconstitutional actions taken by government officials.

"Politics" has become rotten to the core. The people have not been educated to what has gone on, since the adoption of the U.S. Constitution and establishment of the Federal Government, so they could bring incompetent or corrupt government officials to account simply because the so-called free press has not fulfilled its obligations.

I have presented, to people in your organization, information about Sec. 3 of the Fourteenth amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which automatically disqualifies any public official from continuing in office who "shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the Constitution of the United States or shall have given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof." Congress was given authority to enforce the 14th amendment by proper legislation. But for over 100 years Sec. 3 of XIV has not been enforced!!! Rather it has been deliberately ignored, because public officials in particular and a lot of other people, who are obtaining "special" advantages at the hands of corrupt officials, do not want constitutional government.

This is a matter of most vital importance to the people "in the suburbs" as well as everywhere else in this United States. It too "strikes to the heart of what is democracy!!"

I am mailing a pamphlet that discusses Sec. 3 of XIV in more detail and suggest that it is a matter that should be given some attention in your editorial columns.

Why County Must Save Its Farmlands

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of four articles excerpted from "Planning and the Environment" by the Wayne County Planning Commission. It deals with what county and local governments can do to preserve the environment. The first article deals with preservation of open space.

An optimum range of level and distribution of population in Wayne County should be selected and considered the target level.

The range selected should be such that suitably located space will be ample for all the living activities which the population may choose and so that there can be a wide range of options available as to living types, recreation, education, culture, aesthetic experience, transportation, employment—including agriculture—and commerce.

See Drop In Water Deaths

Michigan has had a reported 196 water accidents in the first half of this year which killed 88 persons and injured 96 others, State Police provisional figures showed. Compared with the same period last year, deaths were down by 21, accidents by 33 while injuries were up by 16.

The deaths included 34 swimmers and waders, 14 boat passengers, 12 boat operators, 18 who died in various falls, two divers, three who attempted rescues, two who died in snowmobile mishaps, and three miscellaneous.

The reports showed nine drownings in swimming pools, 20 drownings while fishing, and that nine victims were under five years of age.

THE 1960 population of the County was 2,046,297. In 1970, it had increased only to 2,065,751. Thus, in one sense, the county had already achieved a stable state of population.

This, however, is a meaningless fact since the real significance of the decade's census figures is the distribution of population losses and gains. Nine cities, including Detroit, lost 183,561 persons, while 34 other units of government gained population by percentage figures ranging from 0.1 percent to 109.2 percent.

Many factors explain such shifts. Some factors are logical and natural as the general affluence of portions of the population increases; as living standards rise; as age of structures takes its inevitable toll; as preference in activity choices change, and as new products are available.

Other factors causing population shift have been founded on racism, ignorance, fear, mistrust, and contempt. These factors must be rooted out of our experience, since they damage much more of the fabric of society than merely its land-use distributions.

TO ARRIVE at an optimum target population range for the county, more research needs to be done, and the Planning Commission proposes to undertake such a study, with other county agencies, under a federal grant. However, some aspects of such a study can be stated now.

The 2-2/3 million people now living in the county occupy, for urban purposes, about 460 square miles, and for agricultural purposes about 160 square miles. The space needs for adequately providing the full "quality of life environment" for the current population will require some increase in the land now included in the urban use figure.

A county soils study, just now starting, will give important information on the areas which are prime for agricultural use.

Since Wayne County is a major consumer of certain crops and is a leading producer among counties of the state for some of the same crops, (vegetables, seed, sweet corn, flowers), and since such agricultural land contributes to the greenbelt and open space urban areas need, it is logical to consider the retention of good cropland for this purpose, even in this urban county.

We have, in other words, a fortuitous proximity of crop to consumer which should not be sacrificed on the altar of speculative land exploitation.

THERE ARE additional very important reasons for the retention of open land in the urban area—reasons not directly involved in food or fibre production.

Regardless of the ultimate population growth of the region and regardless of the economic pressures it puts on the land, rational planning for that population dictates that the settled areas be intertwined with guaranteed open areas for:

1. Recreation and recreation. The greater the population, the more urgent the need.
2. Atmospheric chemical replenishing.
3. Encouragement of relating location of jobs to housing.
4. Discouragement of random decentralization.
5. Provision of space for at least some use of soils in waste treatment.

6. Ground water-table recharging.

7. A land bank—or safety factor—to have available in the event totally new forms of urban (or agricultural) living and demands appear.

8. Forestation for buffering sound and sight.

WAYNE COUNTY should resist the idea, which may be presented in regional plans, that the whole county is too close to the population center to be able to justify agriculture and open space and that these functions must all be provided at the outer edges of the region.

The county must also reject the inevitability of overcrowding and of enduring whatever population growth some computerized curve projections plot on a chart.

How Area Lawmakers Voted On Trailers

By KATHY MORAN

In the course of four months of voting on the 14-foot trailer bill, the Legislature has added and then taken out amendments to the bill.

If the bill is signed into law by Gov. Milliken, it will allow transportation of 14-foot wide trailers on Michigan's 10 to 12 foot wide highways except on Saturday, Sunday and from noon on the day preceding a holiday until noon on the day after.

Observerland's four senators voted for the bill when it cleared the Senate a second time recently.

In the House, all Observerland representatives voted for the final bill on June 29 except Rep. Thomas Brown (D-Westland) who had also voted against it in May, and

Rep. Richard Young (D-Dearborn Heights) who had voted for it in May.

Young could not be reached for comment on why he changed his vote.

When it originated in the Senate, the bill called for allowing transporting the trailers on state highways and passed by 23-8.

PRIMARY proponents of the bill were representatives of the growing modular-housing industry. Current laws limit vehicle widths to 96 inches and permits can be obtained to transport 12-foot wide trailers.

Sens. William Faust (D-Westland), Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth), Daniel Cooper (D-Oak Park) and David Plawecki (D-Dearborn Heights) voted for the bill in March and again in June.

But when it passed the House in May it was amended to allow transporting the vehicles on Saturday, Sunday, and holiday and would limit speeds to 35 m.p.h.

At that time Reps. Marvin Stemples (D-Livonia), James Tierney (D-Garden City), John Bennett (D-Redford Township), Joseph Forbes (D-Oak Park), and Young voted for passage.

Brown voted against it and Rep. Raymond Baker (R-Farmington) did not vote on it.

IT WAS referred back to the Senate for approval of the amendments and the amendment to allow weekend and holiday transporting was taken out of the final bill. The bill that passed the House the second time did not have the amendment in it.

When it passed the House the second time, Young and Brown voted against it. The compromised version passed by 67-31.

A representative of the U.S. Department of Transportation said that the bill will be carefully studied before the "monster" trailers will be allowed on the roads.

Federal authorities have already rejected a plea from industries to give blanket approval to transporting the units.

VW Driver Sought In Accident

Parents and friends of a young Redford man who died May 17 as a result of injuries he received in a May 7 accident are seeking any witnesses to the mishap.

They are specifically looking for the driver of a Volkswagen seen near the accident.

David W. Johnson, 20, of Redford was hit on Venoy Rd. near Forest in Wayne while riding on his motorcycle. The motorist who hit him left the scene, but his car has since been identified. City of Wayne police say that it is very important that additional witnesses be found if the case is to be prosecuted.

Anyone with information can call the City of Wayne police department, detective bureau.

4 Officers Finish Course

Four Observerland residents were among the 43 police officers to graduate from a basic police training course offered by the Oakland Police Academy and Oakland Community College.

Graduating from the course were: Dianne Decker, of 3221 Grandview, Westland, in the Southfield Police Department; Leslie Newman, of 3025 Aster, Farmington, Southfield Police Department; Raymond Hall, 1100 W. Hampton Court, Westland, Royal Oak Police Department; and Dennis Rufford, of 3105 Shawness, Farmington, Farmington Township Police Department.

The officers earned nine credits in courses in law enforcement, criminal law and justice, physical fitness and defensive tactics.

Natural Cookery Aids Flavor

By ELLY

The trend toward natural food cookery is intended to bring about the rediscovery of fresh, full flavors by replacing granulated sugar with honey or white flour with whole wheat flour.

Although natural foods encompass everything from fruits and vegetables to grains and meats, one of the most readily available is the milk product group. It provides high quality protein, carbohydrate, easily digested fat, Vitamin A, calcium, and many other vitamins and minerals.

This cottage cheesecake recipe combines natural foods but the method is strictly 20th century and the result is good old-fashioned homemade.

COTTAGE CHEESECAKE

Crust:
2 c. graham cracker crumbs
1/4 c. butter, melted
1/4 c. honey
1/2 t. cinnamon

Combine ingredients. Press firmly on bottom and about two inches up sides of a buttered nine-inch spring form pan.

Filling:
4 egg yolks
1 c. plain or flavored yogurt
1 1/2 t. vanilla
1/4 c. honey
1/4 c. whole wheat flour
1 T. lemon juice
1 T. grated lemon rind
1/4 t. salt
1 pound (2 cups) creamed cottage cheese
4 egg whites stiffly beaten

Combine all ingredients except egg whites in the electric blender. Blend until smooth. Pour mixture into mixing bowl; fold in egg whites. Pour into prepared pan. Bake at 325 degrees for about one hour or until knife inserted near edges comes out clean. Cool and then refrigerate. Cut into wedges and serve plain or with crushed sweetened strawberries, raspberries or sliced peaches.

CHOCOLATE BANANA CREAM PIE

Baked 9-inch pastry shell
1/2 c. sugar
5 T. flour
2 c. hot chocolate milk
1/2 t. salt
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 T. butter
1 t. vanilla
2 or 3 bananas, sliced

Topping:
3 egg whites
1/4 t. salt
1/2 t. cream of tartar
6 T. sugar

Combine sugar, flour and salt in top of double boiler. Gradually add chocolate milk. Cook about 10 minutes over boiling water until mixture thickens, stirring frequently. Add small amount of the mixture to egg yolks. Gradually add egg yolk mixture to chocolate mixture. Return to double boiler and cook until thickened, about three minutes stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add vanilla and butter; cool. Arrange banana slices on bottom of pastry shell. Pour filling over bananas.

For meringue, beat egg whites until frothy. Beat in salt and cream of tartar. Add sugar a little at a time, beating well after each addition. Beat until stiff and glossy. Pile lightly on top of filling, sealing edges to crust. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes, or until delicately browned.

CHEESE FILLED RASPBERRY RING

2 pkg. raspberry flavored gelatin
2 c. boiling water
1 1/4 c. cold water
2 c. frozen red raspberries
2 c. cottage cheese
1 c. pineapple chunks

Dissolve gelatin in hot water; add cold water and chill until partially thickened. Fold in raspberries and pour into a 1 1/2-quart ring mold. Chill until firm. Upmold on crisp salad greens. Fill with cottage cheese and pineapple mixture. Garnish with red raspberries. Note: 1 1/4 cups fresh raspberries may be substituted for the frozen ones. Serves 10.

Set Target Date For Rescuing Rouge River

By W.W. EDGAR
For the first time since the war on pollution began, a target date has been set for the "Rescue of the Rouge."
Meeting in special session with the representative of the volunteer groups who will wage their annual cleanup campaign, Ervin Steiner Jr., chairman of the public works committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, Monday morning asked that every effort be made to complete the job in two years.
"With the way things are lining up and the cooperation of all concerned, this should not be too difficult a target to hit."
"If we succeed in hitting it, all we will have left is the matter of maintenance—and that should be easy."
The volunteers, consisting of the "Rescue the Rouge" committee along the main branch, and the combined Plymouth-Livonia Jaycees, on the Middle Rouge, learned Monday that they are getting additional help from the county.

"Aside from the $10,000 that has been appropriated to the drain commission for the use of its men and equipment, an additional $7,500 has been set aside for the road commission," Chairman Steiner stated.
"And don't forget to charge off some of that money to the parks department," former chairman Albert Zak, cut in. "That department is part of the picture, too."
Aside from increasing the appropriations, the commissioners also asked that the work be extended beyond the one or two days in each section.
As a result Tom McPhail, head of the "Rescue the Rouge" campaign, agreed to have the volunteers work on the main branch during the entire week.
This will enable the equipment, on loan from the county, to do a better job of removing the debris.
The main branch cleanup is scheduled for Aug. 14-15 and the middle Rouge for Sept. 25. It is expected that some work on the Middle Rouge will be done during the week, but most of the volunteers will be back in school.

"We'll be able to cooperate more fully," Ike Porter, the Plymouth member of the road commission recreation group, stated, "with the extra money."

We will be able to spend $2,500 a day for each of the three days and that will help."
"I hate to spend taxpayers' money," Chairman Steiner informed the assemblage, "but we will be getting a $300,000 job done in each of the next two years and spending only $17,500 to get it.

"And once the Rouge is cleaned, I think there'll be enough pride among the property owners along the banks to keep it clean."

HE NEEDS money so he has his mini bike for sale. Ken Knapp of 10121 Hix Rd., Livonia may be like a lot of other area youngsters, unable to find a place to legally operate the machine. Area police have warned parents and kids alike: 'know the rules before you ride.' (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

Sizzling Temps Bring Record Park Visitors

Over 1,675,092 persons visited Huron - Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks in June of 1971, compared to 1,525,100 for the comparable month of 1970. Hot, dry and sunny weather most of the month plus a heat wave the final week of June helped increase attendance at all Authority Parks.
Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica had a record 442,300 visitors last month, which surpassed the previous high of 436,100 set in June of 1970.

The previous high of 398,000 set in June of 1966. Last year's attendance figure for June was 371,490 visitors.
Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford had 421,000 visitors last month, which surpassed the 356,000 persons visiting the park in June of 1970, but below the record high of 482,000 set in June of 1963.
Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville had over 288,910 visitors, which exceeded last year's high of 284,000 visitors, but was below the record high of 307,900 persons visiting the park in June of 1966.
Over 93,902 persons visited the three HCMA parks in Washtenaw County during June of 1971, compared to 77,500 for June of 1970. Comparative figures are as follows, with 1970 figures in parenthesis: Hudson Mills - 30,474 (30,880); Dexter - Huron - 25,919 (20,370); and Delhi Park - 37,500 (26,270).

Willow Metropolitan Park, a new regional park under development between New Boston and the Village of Willow in western Wayne County, had 13,000 visitors last month, with no attendance available for 1970.

Billboard Owners Face Legal Action By State

LANSING
Legal action to remove 93 billboards along Interstate freeways throughout the Lower Peninsula was announced today by State Highway Director Henrik E. Stalfeth and Attorney General Frank J. Kelley.
The action represented the broadest attack yet taken by the state against illegal billboards. Removal of the signs, all put up in 1970, will more than double the number taken down by the state since enactment of the 1966 billboard control act.
Stalfeth sent notices both to the owners of the signs and the property on which they stand. Sign owners have 30 days to take them down. Those not removed by July 31 will be cut down by the department of state highways and the owners billed for the expense. Kelley said:

"We will continue to use the present law, as ineffective as it is, until we have a meaningful replacement for it. The effort, the time and the cost to the state in proceeding under the present law is immense and would be greatly reduced if the bill which I have proposed for effective public regulation of billboards is passed.

"Nevertheless, the problem of illegal billboards is so severe that we must take whatever steps are available to us to meet the current situation. Therefore, we will use all of the resources available to us now to continue to make a frontal attack on visual pollution in this state.
"At the same time, I join with the governor, environmental groups and thousands of citizens in this state in urging the Legislature to resist pressures which they face from special interest groups and to pass effective billboard legislation in the public interest."

Forty-eight of the boards to be removed are along I-69 Freeway, 42 in Branch County and six in Calhoun County. Location of others is as follows:

I-75 Freeway - Eight in Cheboygan County, six in Bay County, two in Saginaw County, nine in Crawford County and one in Ogemaw County.
M-76 (To become I-75) - four in Arenac County.
I-96 Freeway - Two in Kent County, three in Ionia County and one each in Clinton, Eaton, Ingham and Livingston counties.
I-196 Freeway - One each in Berrien and Van Buren counties.
I-696 Freeway - Two in Oakland County.
I-496 Freeway - Two in Eaton County.

Red Cross Chapter New Headquarters

The American National Red Cross has designated the Southeastern Michigan Chapter as divisional headquarters, announced Robert G. Wick, newly appointed divisional manager. Renamed the Wolverine

Division, it will provide additional administrative, technical and personnel support to the 43 Red Cross chapters in the Lower Peninsula.
Its main objective will be to establish a close working relationship among these local chapters while allowing them to retain their local autonomy.
According to Wick, the first step taken by the new division will be the pooling of personnel and technical resources.
The new divisional headquarters will be located in the Southeastern Michigan Chapter Headquarters at 153 E. Elizabeth St., Detroit.

What Can One Woman Do?--A Lot

A GROUP of young volunteers look over some of the items collected at the Redford Township Recycling Center, at 12200 Beech Daly. More volunteers are needed to help supervise the center so that the materials to be recycled are properly prepared. (Observer photo by Harry Mauthe)

"What can one man do," go the lines of a much-heard gasoline commercial, "to fight pollution in the air, that's closing in from everywhere?" The answer to that ditty is to buy a particular brand of gasoline.

But in the same vein, many homemakers in Observerland and elsewhere have found themselves looking at the monumental problem of saving our environment and asking the question, "What can one woman do?"

Quite a bit, you learn when you look around and talk to some of the people who are making action in this concern their business.

HOME FRONT saving of waste materials—glass, cans and paper—for recycling is a major contribution any family can make.

Many already are doing so on a regular basis, and are learning how a little effort means a far smaller amount of trash to be picked up on the curb, besides the satisfaction of having done a bit to reduce the mountains of trash our land accumulates. For the benefit of other families who would like to follow suit, heads of two recycling centers in the area have outlined their methods of collections and the reasons they feel it's important.

MRS. BETTY SHAW, one of a quartet that forms the nucleus of a Redford Township recycling center at 12200 Beech Daly, said a statement by Dr. William Stapp of the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources made her realize the necessity of the work.

"He has said that within four or five years, all landfill with a 35 mile radius of Detroit will be taken up with trash," she pointed out.

"Anything we can do to push back that date is absolutely essential, from a dollars and cents standpoint alone. Think how much it's going to cost to haul trash farther away."

"But we also must conserve our resources through re-use. Our supplies won't last forever."

MRS. SHAW works with Mrs. Doris Snudden, Mrs. Muriel Alimpich and Bill Ford to supervise the Redford Recycling center from 3 to 6 p.m. Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays and from 2 to 6 p.m. Sundays.

"Supervision is essential so that the materials to be recycled are properly prepared," she said, "and we need more adults who would give just a few hours a month to this important work."

Those interested could call the Redford Township offices.

Another center operated by the Livonia Environmental Action Committee just south of Five Mile and east of Farmington Road closed briefly but is re-opening this week under supervision.

The hours, previously unlimited, will be Monday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

MRS. SHAW said there are some definite preparation rules for glass, cans and paper brought in.

Saving paper is perhaps the most important, she said, because all that is saved definitely can be recycled into newsprint.

"That saves trees and keeps down the bulk of waste material," she said.

Newspaper brought to both recycling centers must be tied or packed in clean grocery bags, she said. All brought in are taken to the Fishman Paper Salvage Co. in Detroit.

Magazines cannot be recycled, Mrs. Shaw added. "We're suggesting that people share them with hospitals and convalescent homes before they finally are discarded."

GLASS BOTTLES brought for recycling go to the Owen Illinois Glass Co. in Charlotte, which can turn old glass into cullet to mix with new glass in its manufacturing.

"There's no need to remove paper labels," Mrs. Shaw said, "but it's extremely important to remove all metal, including that little ring on pop bottles. That can be done with a small screw driver or can opener."

All bottles should be washed, for sanitation rather than recycling needs. Metal cans are collected at both recycling centers and also at the National Can Co., Levan between Schoolcraft and Plymouth, on Monday, Thursday and Saturday.

Cans should be opened at both ends and flattened after paper labels have been removed. It helps a lot if the three kinds of cans—steel, bi-metal and aluminum—are kept separate.

The Redford Recycling center is planning a special weekend July 16 and 17 when elected officials will be invited to meet constituents there.

m. m. memos

(Because it's vacation time, and because turnabout is fair play, this space will be filled for three weeks with guest Memos. The writers, naturally, are other members of the Miller household. The first is often known as Miss 12).

Sometimes I think people could get along just as well without money.

Although this could be a bit difficult to get used to, there is a solution to just about any problem it would involve.

For instance, stores could let you have merchandise free up to about $200 or $300 of what it would cost if there were money.

Of course status seekers may not like this arrangement. Instead of saying "I spent $250 on this new dress," they would have to say "I used up my whole account."

All in all, I think the advantages outweigh the disadvantages and that this would be a good system for sometime in the future.

But not now. I get too much enjoyment out of arguing for things we can't afford.

—Kathy Miller

Postage Problem To Brides

Couples making wedding plans are warned to be sure their invitations and announcements carry sufficient postage.

More incidents of returning such mail because of insufficient postage have occurred this year, said Mrs. Virginia Buckston of the U.S. Post Office in Livonia.

One ounce is the limit for eight cent postage, she said, and it has to be enforced strictly.

"I think the invitations are getting a bit heavier," Mrs. Buckston said. "People have a little more money to spend, and they are getting heavier stock paper."

Whenever possible, she said, the post office gets in touch with the sender of the invitations so that more postage can be added.

"But sometimes the return address is out of town and there's nothing to do but mark them 'postage due,'" she explained.

If there is any doubt, the post office branches will be glad to weigh the bridal mail to determine how much postage is needed.

YWCA Plans Program For Retarded Children

In these days of more travel and more leisure time for many, there are some families who never take a prolonged vacation or go far from home.

They are the families that include a retarded child, and parents of such children find they rarely can be far away from their situation.

The problem of helping trainable none-the-less retarded children - and their families - find some enjoyable experiences during long summer months is being tackled this year by the YWCA of Western Wayne County.

UNDER THE LEADERSHIP of Mrs. J. R. Naumes, special projects chairman, is launching a summer program designed to provide creative leisure time activity for trainable children from 14 school districts enrolled during school months in the Wayne County Regional program at Norris school, 31627 Palmer Road, Wayne. At the same time parents will be freed for a few hours from the burden of wondering what to do for or with their "special" child.

The program is called VEP, for Very Exceptional Persons. Although it began Wednesday, July 7, volunteers still are needed to meet each Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

The first volunteers had special orientation under the direction of Mary Lou Durbin, special education teacher. Others joining the program will get on-the-job orientation.

Children are divided into three age groups, five to seven, eight and nine and 10 to 16. They enjoy games, crafts, recreation and snacks, all designed to permit achievement for the trainable child.

Special services teachers are working on a volunteer basis to help teens and adults to give a morning each week to make the program possible.

Miss Durbin and Mrs. Naumes both point out that learning what to expect from the children is the most important aspect of orientation. Experience will come from doing as long as the children can sense warmth from the volunteer.

WHEN THE school year resumes, the YWCA plans to assume other roles in a year-round project with trainable children.

In addition, a directory of adults who would like to child sit for parents of these children is being compiled by the YW.

Many volunteers are needed for the VEP summer project so that a ratio of at least five to one can be maintained. Teens and college students, professional women and homemakers and mothers are invited to volunteer. Mothers may bring their own children to share in the activities.

Other volunteers, who can't get away for the morning program, are needed to make recreational aids and prepare materials for the program at home. Instructions will be provided.

All volunteers are asked to call Aileen Grey at the YW.

HUNTER GREEN SUEDE that laces into assorted separates is featured in one of the many make - it - yourself kits in Crowley's new "Crafty Woman" department. The cost is $28 for the vest and $15 for the "short-johns," and the model is Sally Ann Stretton, Miss Michigan World.

New Department Has Craft Kits

Women long on taste but short on handcraft know-how will be able to create their own designer fashions with kits offered in a newly-opened shop in Crowley's Livonia Mall store.

"The Crafty Woman" carries a wide variety of craft kits as well as plenty of kits for ready-to-stitch fashion items. A summer handbag that goes together in white straw and colored flowers, jewelry to assemble from shells and wood, macrame projects and leather and suede to lace into belts, vests, hot pants and handbags are included in the first set of kits.

The other group - requiring a sewing machine but little other equipment or knowledge - features peasant dresses and blouses, patio skirts, pants, tunics and dresses of many kinds. Some are designer fashions, and all include all needed notions.

Prices for the make-it-yourself kits vary widely, with designer styles and suede pre-cut at the top of the scale and junior and misses sizes are included.

She's Been A Visiting Nurse For 40 Years

By MARGARET MILLER

When Mrs. Nora Stage began her nursing training in the mid 1920s, she traveled 50 miles from her thumb area home to Grace Hospital in Detroit.

"It was a pretty long distance and I didn't go back home for quite a few weeks," she recalls.

But in recent years she's put in that amount of travel nearly every day as a visiting nurse in the cities and townships of Plymouth and Northville.

"They keep saying I'm going out west," Mrs. Stage said of her fellow workers in the Dearborn headquarters of the Visiting Nurse Association.

MRS. STAGE has just retired after 40 years of service to the Visiting Nurse Association.

During that time she worked in three district offices and was responsible for the association's industrial nursing for a time and also served a period of mental health nursing.

Her territory included Livonia when the area was mainly rural, and she also worked in Garden City before taking over her Plymouth and Northville service eight years ago.

She joined the Visiting Nurse Association a few months after graduating from the Garce Hospital School of Nursing.

"That first summer I had so few calls for private duty I had a hard time paying room and board," she remembers.

Nurses were not in as great demand before the days of hospitalization plans, so the young nurse was pleased to find the steady work of a visiting nurse.

OVER THE YEARS, she found the rewards of home nursing great.

Since she first joined the VNA, she has been married and widowed twice and seen three children grow to adulthood. She now has nine grandchildren.

Her work has been basically bedside nursing in the home, including bathing, changing dressings and demonstrating procedures and equipment to family members who help care for a patient.

"Sometimes I do small services like making telephone calls for patients who need help," she said.

Although in recent years her work took her sometimes to homes where there was great financial need, she saw far more cases of real poverty earlier in her nursing career.

"I used to go to many homes that were a mere shell outside and worse inside," she said. "With more help available from agencies, you don't see that now."

WORKING in these suburban communities, she has found a greater and greater percentage of her patients are elderly ones. Sometimes the biggest problem, she said, is to find a way to make them want to help themselves.

Her saddest cases, she said, have been several in which she cared for young mothers who were incurably ill.

Fifteen years ago, when Mrs. Stage completed a quarter century of service, the association honored her with a citation that read:

"Mrs. Stage's quiet, dignified yet warm and friendly manner makes her highly appreciated by patients and their families who rely with confidence on her nursing mittee of the VNA board of skills and practical suggestions."

A new citation was read during her recent retirement dinner in the Hillside Inn in Plymouth.

"These qualities have continued to endear to patients and co-workers for another 15 years," stated Henry K. Wallstrom, chairman of the personnel committee of the VNA board of trustees.

Mrs. Stage, moving to a mobile home in Highland, plans to pursue such interests as needlework and church work.

The retirement party, she said, provided "a very nice climax" to a very rewarding career.

Keep Your Salads Cool

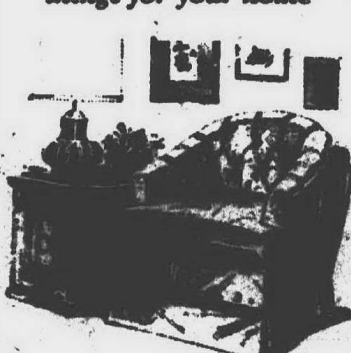

"For salad lettuce so crisp it crackles, place a plastic bag of salad greens in the freezer a few minutes before serving."

That's one of many helpful hints offered in "Salad Greens," a new brochure available free from the Michigan State University consumer marketing service. The six-page folder also contains information on selecting, buying and caring for salad greens. Three pages are devoted to drawings of iceberg, bibb and leaf lettuce, and other greens, along with advice on how to identify each.

Single copies of "Salad Greens" are available at county Extension Service offices, or from the Michigan State University bulletin office, Box 231, East Lansing, 48823.

Abortion Suit Will Be Filed

The Michigan Women's Abortion Suit will be filed Friday, July 9, in Recorder's Court in the City-County Building, Detroit. Some 400 signatures have been collected in the Detroit area and even after filing women will be able to sign.

Copies of the class suit may be obtained by writing to Women's Suit, C-O Wayne Women's Liberation, Box 26, University Center Building, Wayne State University, Detroit, 48201, or calling 577-3409.

WOMEN FROM many different areas in Michigan met and decided to launch a class suit demanding repeal of all Michigan abortion laws in May. The suit claims that abortion laws are unconstitutional because they infringe upon a woman's right to privacy and to control over her own body.

Many of the area signers are high school students, including Karen Pavlik, a Churchill High School senior, who is working on the drive for signatures for the Wayne Women's Liberation group.

"We aim to get all the laws wiped off the books," according to Miss Pavlik. "If this isn't possible, we hope that the suit may help lift some restrictions."

Speakers are available to go out and meet with groups.

Any woman who is a resident of the state, whether or not she has had an abortion, is eligible to be a plaintiff.

Jobs Bill Veto Blasted By Ford

WASHINGTON, D.C. Congressman William Ford (D-Taylor) bitterly criticized President Nixon's veto of the Accelerated Public Works Act, a bill which he co-sponsored to help curb the nation's growing problem of unemployment, and give local communities money to build much needed public improvements which local taxpayers cannot afford.

Ford's district includes Garden City and Westland. "THE PRESIDENT has once again demonstrated his complete lack of understanding of this nation's problems," Congressman Ford asserted. "He seems to have an almost knee-jerk opposition to any measure passed by this Congress to help the unemployed citizens of our country. American workers want to get back to full time employment and the Administration talks welfare reform. Why should it be in-stationary to put the unemployed to work? Doesn't he realize that we are already spending more than $6 billion a year for unemployment compensation? Doesn't he care that nearly 5 1/2 million Americans cannot find jobs?"

FORD NOTED that, in the message accompanying his veto, President Nixon had called for approval of the Emergency Employment Act of 1971, a bill co-authored by the congressman and only recently put in final form by a House - Senate Conference Committee on which Ford served.

"I was amazed to see his veto message expressing approval of the Emergency Employment Act," Ford said. "All during our Conference Committee meetings, we heard threats of a Presidential veto."

THE CONGRESSMAN also commented that President Nixon's chief economic advisor, Dr. Paul McCracken, has publicly stated that economic recovery is moving too slowly to cut down the high unemployment rate.

Dr. McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, was quoted as stressing the importance of economic expansion in reducing unemployment. "The President apparently does not listen to his own chief economic advisor," Ford declared. "Dr. McCracken obviously recognizes the problem of unemployment and the need for economic stimulation to help solve it."

FORD CALLED for all-out public support in a drive to seek a congressional override of the presidential veto. The legislation, he explained, would create an estimated 170,000 jobs almost immediately, by providing federal funds to finance needed public improvements - road improvements, water and sewer facilities, hospitals, and other public buildings.

Local Elections Open For 18-21 Year Olds

The 18-year-old vote amendment to the U.S. Constitution became the law when the 38th state in the nation ratified the measure and that means young people between the ages of 18 and 21 can vote.

The nearest election in the area is the Westland August primary. Friday, July 2 was the cutoff for registrations for that election. Westland city clerk Virgil Gagnon said his office had about 150 18-to-20 year-olds registered to vote. Gagnon cautioned the new voters, however, that final written word from the State Election Bureau had not been received. If these and subsequent registrants can't vote in the primary they will certainly be able to vote in the regular election on November 2, he felt.

Then, unless there is a county-wide vote on vocational high schools or a special election such as on a new charter, Westland's youthful voters' next opportunity would be the June, 1972 school elections.

"I called the county the minute I heard that Ohio had ratified the change," Gagnon said. "And they called the state and the state was calling Washington. All of which means we have to wait to see exactly who can vote when."

Registrations for the November election will close 30 days before the election date, Gagnon said. In August, mayoral and council candidates will be nominated.

In Garden City, city clerk William Oppen said his office had been registering 18-year-olds right along. They have kept the cards separate and not entered them in poll record books. Oppen also reports about 100 registrants.

Garden City has no local election until the school election next June. There is, however, the fall vote for Schoolcraft College trustees in September.

Oppen said young people wishing to register should come to city hall on Middle Belt Rd. They do not need proof of birth since that is checked before the card is entered in the poll records.

No city council election is scheduled in Garden City until 1973.

Both clerks are awaiting detailed instructions on who can vote in local elections from the state.

If the new voters can't vote in local elections, the first major election will be for state and national offices in the August, 1972 primary, a prelude to the presidential election in November 1972.

PCHA Chairman Refuses Vote

Three board members of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority were refused a special meeting this month to hold another election of officers.

The authority, which includes Garden City and Westland among its 23 member communities, usually elects its officers for one-year terms every February.

BUT BOARD members Walter Sudak of Southgate, Elmer Parraghi, of Sumpter Township, and John Kessey of Melvindale, formally asked Board Chairman Donald Pizzimenti for a special meeting on July 15 to hold a new election.

In refusing the request, Pizzimenti, chairman for the last six years, said that the authority's rules and regulations provide for an election only in January or February of each year.

The chairman said that the refusal was decided on after he had reviewed the request with the PCHA's attorney.

PIZZIMENTI admitted that a special meeting may be called by any three board members but he said in his letter to the three that "the stated purpose in your letter contains a matter which cannot be considered at a special meeting."

He also reminded the trio that the next election will be next Feb. 24.

Pizzimenti was re-elected chairman for the past two terms by narrow one-vote margins.

Sudak, Parraghi and Kessey said that refusal to hold the special meeting as requested "will necessitate (us) to take such legal action as shall be deemed necessary to carry out this request."

Family Of 6 Die In Crash

A family of six who formerly lived in Garden City and had relatives in Westland died in a plane crash Friday near Asheville, N.C.

Victims of the private plane crash were Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Jones, who moved from Garden City to Ft. Myers, Fla., about nine years ago, and their four children, Kathy, 16, Randy, 14, Ronald, 11, and Karen, 8.

The Jones were flying their own plane to Mettetal Airport in Canton Township Friday morning enroute to see Jones' brother, Charles, of 7846 Hugh St., Westland.

Mr. Jones was piloting the plane at the time of the crash, which is still under investigation by authorities.

Services are scheduled for 10 a.m., Friday, July 9, at the St. Christopher Episcopal Church, Detroit. The bodies will lie in state from noon to 9 p.m. Thursday, July 8, in the Jarzombowski Funeral Home, Detroit.

DOZENS OF PLYMOUTH area youngsters joined the community's Fourth of July parade with gaily decorated bicycles, featuring flags and red, white and blue ribbons, their presence adding to the gaiety provided by floats, bands and majorettes. First place trophy for majorette groups went to the Pace Setters Drum and Baton Corps of Melvindale (right). (Observer photos by Harry Mauthe)

Show Off New Activity Center

PLYMOUTH Visitors who took advantage of the "open house" at the Mail & Observer Building last weekend found the Main Street structure buzzing with teen-age activity, which is only a forerunner to what seems in store as the months go by.

Given a new outside paint job, and with the interior set up as a refreshment and entertainment center, the former home of the Mail and Observer newspaper staff was shown to advantage to dozens of guests before and after Saturday's parade.

Officials of Youth Inc. explained the programming which is planned for the building at 271 S. Main in this prepared statement:

"You may be wondering what all the activity has been about. The people upon ladders and hanging out of windows have been working to ready the Mail and Observer Building for use as a youth center.

"Plymouth Youth Incorporated plans on financing and developing the facility as a positive channel for youth energy.

"We hope to serve the community in numerous ways. Through activities such as arts and crafts, print-making, dances, food service and a library, we intend to appeal to the interests of a diverse cross section of the community young.

"At the same time, we desire to fulfill our obligations to the community by sponsoring activities such as recycling campaigns, a little theater group and participating in community service functions.

"If you are interested in becoming involved with the center, we hold general meetings on Saturdays at 1 p.m. We invite your interest and support. Your suggestions and comments will be of great assistance to us. Programs will be arranged to accommodate interested groups, and time and space will be coordinated."

THE GROUP also listed items of supplies and equipment which are needed, asking that any persons wishing to make such donations or to help in other directions call 453-3211 or 453-6997.

The needs include tables, chairs and a couch in the furniture line; such art equipment as a kiln, loom, potter's wheel and general art supplies; stereo equipment, microphones and amplifiers in the electronic field, and any equipment and supplies for printing.

In the way of photographic equipment the needs include an enlarger, developing tank, dryer, thermometer, timer, trays, safety light and color processing kit. Hand tools are needed as shop equipment, and such other items were listed as lumber and paint, books, records, pool tables and ping pong tables and supplies.

Under terms of an agreement between ONI Publisher Philip H. Power, who owns the building, and the city government, the municipality is assured of holding the building in trust for at least five years as an activity center for youth and the citizenry of the entire Plymouth community, city and township alike.

Diseased Elms Face Removal

PLYMOUTH An inspection of all elm trees in the City of Plymouth to single out those which have Dutch Elm disease has been started by the department of public works.

Director Kenneth Vogras announced that all homeowners having diseased trees will be notified by mail to have such trees removed. Vogras said that any homeowners who fail to remove diseased trees after proper notice will be subject to penalties under terms of the tree ordinance.
