Oakland County drain commissioner Daniel Barry and his former deputy, James Nichols, were arrested Friday on charges growing out of a six-month, citizen's grand jury probe.

Indictments returned Thursday accuse both men of two counts of bribery and conspiracy to bribe, three counts of misuse of public funds, and one count of a conflict of interest.

Barry is also accused of obtaining money under false pretenses and Nichols is also charged with perjury. Penalties on all charges against Barry total up to 36 years imprisonment and/or $13,000 and those against Nichols total 41 years and/or $13,000.

Nichols now is supervisor of the county's $25 million anti-pollution project. The grand jury investigation grew out of misconduct charges against the two men brought by James Turnerm, publisher of a monthly magazine and one time candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Sales Attraction

Among summer's traditional features in Plymouth are the "sidewalk sales" of merchants, and the Chamber of Commerce's retail committee has set the last weekend in July for the 1971 bargain attraction. Details are now in preparation.

City Undecided On Street Ratio

Proposed repaving of Junction Street from Sheldon to Karmada by replacing the present sealcoating with concrete, has touched off a debate within Plymouth's City Commission which can affect every other street reconstruction project either already approved or still on the drawing board.

The issue is should property owners pay special assessments at the rate of 75 per cent of the cost per front foot for the land which abuts the improvement, the city as a whole paying the remaining 25 per cent?

Plymouth's policy used to be 50-50 on such assessments, but all paving projects approved so far this year — and scheduled for work later in the summer — have been at 75-25. These include Ann Arbor Trail, William, Deer, Wing and Holbrook and despite the protests of residents the new ratio has prevailed every time it has come to a vote.

However, when City Manager Norman Gaffney submitted a cost report this week on paving Junction, as well as Karmada, it brought a split in commission philosophy which was evidenced by Commissioner William Silvis' motion to revamp the projects on a 60-40 ratio because of the heavy industrial use of these two streets.

Public hearings on the Junction and Karmada projects will be held July 26.

Fall Festival Planning To Buy $46,000 Lot

By FRED DELANO

An imaginative plan to make as many as 55,000 persons each the fictitious owner of one-fourth of a square foot of a vacant downtown lot between the Penn Theater and Masonic Temple was launched this week by the Fall Festival board in order to raise funds to buy the property.

The lot is on Penniman Avenue and is the serving center for Fall Festival food concessionaires, with total use being required when the Rotary Club puts on its chicken barbecue on the final day of the Festival and in the process prepares some 13,000 meals.

Fall Festival directors have an option to buy the 13,901-square-foot lot from Charles P. Finlan for $46,622 and must make a down payment of five per cent, or $2,331.10, by Oct. 1. The balance of payments would be made over a period of 10 years, at an interest rate of seven per cent.

At a board meeting Wednesday night, Harold Fischer outlined the process through which Festival directors hope to accomplish the financing. In brief, the plan proposes the sale of 55,604 available segments of one-quarter square foot each at $1 per sale, starting immediately.

"BUY A PLOT and share a lot of the Fall Festival," is the theme of the campaign, said Fischer.

He emphasized that if successful in gaining ownership, the Festival board wants to convert the property into purposeful year-around community activities and will welcome suggestions on uses to which it might be adaptable.

The board took an option on the land with a $100 payment in February and must give Finlan $200 more by July 31 to extend that option until the end of September. The option monies will be applied toward the down payment.

ALL OF THOSE who participate in the program will receive a deed of trust to the number of segments financed, although this will not carry any title to the property. Attorney John Thomas, who drafted the deed, in fact included a paragraph in the legal looking document which states:

"The party of the second part may well and truly consider that during and while the property described in the grant is owned and controlled by the party of the first part that he or she has contributed to the well being of the Plymouth Community, the agony of the poor soul drafting this instrument, and is in a non-legal sense the owner of a one-quarter (1/4) square foot of said premises."

The Festival this year will take place on Sept. 9, 10, 11 and 12, based as usual in Kellogg Park.

If ownership of the Finlan lot is gained, Festival president Joe West said it is planned to deed the property to the city and then take a 99-year lease for its use. He said its current assessed valuation is in excess of $20,000.

Expect Esther Hulsing To Retain Presidency

Plymouth's restructured Board of Education will hold its initial meeting of the new fiscal year Monday night, with the three men who were elected June 14 taking part in formal activities for the first time.

The trio includes John C. Graves, Fredrick M. Penar and John M. Ohno. A fourth neophyte is Wilson W. Sick who took his seat at the last meeting as an appointee to replace the recently resigned Robert Gilmore, a vacancy that came too late to fill by ballot.

The holdovers on the board are Mrs. Esther Hulsing, who will begin her 18th year of service Monday, and the two men elected in 1970, George F. Lawton and John E. Hanskat.

There appears little question but what Mrs. Hulsing will be reelected to another year as president of the board. Not only has she expressed willingness to accept the post once again, but her very experience virtually dictates such a choice in the eyes of her colleagues.

Mrs. Hulsing was elected for the first time in 1954 and now is entering the final year of her present term of membership. Whether she will go for reelection again in 1972 she has not indicated.

Other organizational details Monday will include the naming of such other board officers as vice president, secretary and treasurer, plus establishment of key committee chairmanships before attention is given to the normal agenda of educational and business affairs.

Detroit Water To Flow Soon; Rates To Go Up

With the start of construction of the two Sheldon Road meter pits that are required to tie the city of Plymouth into the Detroit water system, municipal officials this week expressed optimism that the actual connection can be made by early September.

In fact, City Manager Norman M. Gaffney has included in his latest monthly report a list of suggestions designed to help householders keep water bills as low as possible in face of the fact that rates will go up.

The decision to connect with Detroit instead of continuing to use water from local wells was made by city voters March 24, 1970, the majority being a skimpy 16 votes in a turnout of 39 per cent of those who were registered.

The City Commission has given first reading to an amendment to the water ordinance which includes a new rate scale, but when the measure comes up for final approval revisions may be made in that scale. The commission is expected to act on this by early August.

THE FIRST draft of the amendment proposes these basic rates: 50 cents per 1,000 gallons for the first 30,000 gallons; 40 cents per 1,000 gallons for the next 70,000 gallons, and 33 cents per 1,000 gallons for all over 100,000 gallons.

City water users currently pay 34 cents per 1,000 gallons for the first 17,000; 23 cents per 1,000 gallons for the next 50,000; 17 cents per 1,000 gallons for the next 133,000; 15 cents per 1,000 gallons for the next 300,000, and 13 cents per 1,000 gallons for all over 500,000 gallons.

It also is proposed to increase the bi-monthly service charge and to establish higher minimum charges.

THE COMMISSION has not set the date for final consideration of the rates, but meanwhile Gaffney offered these tips in recognition of the fact that "we will soon be drinking and using a new quality of water, but it will cost us more, too."

"It is suggested that along with summer months, it may be well to have your plumbing checked and check for leaky faucets. In 90 per cent of complaints of high water bills, the reason is a leaky faucet or flush box. It is almost impossible for a faulty water meter to increase the reading or an improper operation to cause 'skips on the meter.' As the summer months approach, we expect an increase in water use, thus the repairs of leaks will conserve water and save the citizens' high bills.

"1. Have leaky faucets fixed or replaced immediately. A 1/16th inch leak wastes 3,000 gallons a month. At average rates, this costs $30 a year. If the leak is from a hot water faucet, add about $20 for the cost of heating the water.

"2. Have a circulating pipe loop installed between your water heater and individual fixtures. You'll get hot water at the fixture immediately instead of having to run it awhile. This can save another $35 a year.

"3. Equip your faucets with aerators. They introduce millions of air bubbles into the water. You use less water because it suds up faster.

"4. If you have an old-fashioned showerhead, replace it. New ones on the market use less water and actually increase enjoyment of the shower, since they permit you to regulate the spray.

"5. Add a thermostatic temperature control to your shower. A family of four will average about 1,400 shower baths a year. Hand-valve showers waste about 2.5 gallons of hot water while the bather adjusts the water to the desired temperature. A thermostatic control will save you at least $10 a year in water and fuel.

"6. Some authorities claim close to 50 per cent of the water from municipal systems is wasted. Consciously work at saving water until it becomes a habit. For example, stopper your sink or use a dishpan when washing dishes. Stack them and rinse them at one time with a hose spray instead of individually. Don't leave the water running while shaving. A running tap while shaving uses about 20 gallons.

"7. Keep water in your refrigerator for drinking purposes or have an automatic ice water dispenser installed. You won't have to run the water to cool it when you're thirsty."

Merchants Set Annual Sidewalk Sales Dates

PLYMOUTH
Plymouth shoppers can go ahead right now and circle the dates of Friday and Saturday, July 30 and 31 for their biggest bargain-hunting spree of the summer.

The retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce announced this week that the annual "sidewalk sales" will be conducted by merchants on those days.

The hours will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday, and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

As an extra attraction, that week's concert in Kellogg Park by the Community Band will be presented on Friday night instead of Thursday. Traditionally the event brings hundreds of shoppers into the market place in response to the merchants' united program of reduced prices. The scene is expected to be the same later this month.

Merchants who are not located in the downtown area can obtain sidewalk space on Penniman Ave., or in front of stores not having outdoor displays, through the Chamber of Commerce.

Only businesses with a Plymouth address and having merchandise at reduced prices will be allowed to participate. All who do take part must provide ample room for pedestrian walking even though their displays are outside.

PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT Plymouth, Michigan BOARD OF EDUCATION MINUTES

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, was held on Monday evening, May 17, 1971, in the Board Room of the Administration Building, 1024 South Mill Street, Plymouth, Michigan, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

The special meeting for the public hearing of the grievance of Mary Lou Peterson was called to order by President Hulsing at 7:07 p.m.

Present: Members Hulsing, Hulsing, Lawton, Storton and Tripp.
Absent: Member Gilmore.

Administrators present: Superintendent Rossman, Assistant Superintendent Blunk and Hoben, Director of Personnel Kee, Director of Special Projects Doyle and Principal Smith.

Others present: Arthur Frederick, Dallas Goss, Bill Heath, Ray Homer, Fred Penar, John Ryder, Tom Schwarz, Donald Sutherland and Timothy Yoe.

Bill Heath, Representative of the Plymouth Education Association, stated that Mrs. Mary Lou Peterson did not pursue the grievance; that the Plymouth Education Association was following through on this grievance in order to set a precedent for similar situations.

The Plymouth Education Association contends that Mrs. Peterson was hired on a special deal and not according to the regular teaching contract to serve as a half-time, fully qualified counselor with no credit given for her 3 1/2 years previous experience and allowing no fringe benefits. As she was not given the complete package, a new category was created without consulting the Plymouth Education Association, causing a violation. Mr. Heath stated that Mrs. Peterson is a member of the bargaining unit. It was decided to file a grievance as she was not given full consideration. The Plymouth Education Association is asking that she be paid on the basis of a first year teacher, including fringe benefits.

Member Storton referred to the circumstances of hiring Mrs. Peterson. She was hired to serve as a counselor half days for the balance of the 1970-71 school year; that she was a special case and due to budgetary reasons this was the only basis for hiring on a half-time basis to provide the counseling needed at West Middle School.

Mr. Heath affirmed that the grievance had been filed within the 50 day time limit.

After considerable discussion President Hulsing announced that the Board of Education would discuss the grievance and would advise the Plymouth Education Association by letter within seven days of their decision.

Secretary Hulsing announced that the following nominating petitions had been checked with registrations of school electors and declared valid and they had been filed in the Administration Office prior to 4:00 p.m., Monday, May 17, 1971:

plymouth THROUGH BIFOCALS

By FRED DELANO / Editor: Mail & Observer

AS ONE parade nut to another, what do you say we take in one of Michigan's finest next Friday up at Traverse City when the 45th annual National Cherry Festival comes to a climax?

After having the appetite whetted by Plymouth's fine Fourth of July pageantry, that's exactly what this clan of mine will be doing after spending much of this coming week challenging the fish which allegedly abound in a lake tucked into the landscape near Interlochen.

Like the rest of the great unwashed public, we're going vacationing and the tourist lures of that area which some call "the Miami of the north" won the dinner table balloting over all other points, hands down.

It's strictly by coincidence that we'll get mixed up in Cherry Festival activities, but through deliberate decision that we will visit the National Music Camp at Interlochen and tour the Leelanau peninsula. Please keep Plymouth tidy until our return.

ONCE OUR FAMILY had decided where to go on our own vacation, we turned our thoughts to wondering how to entertain some friends who are coming from Baltimore later in the year. Thanks to a recent column by The Stroller about Plymouth's tourist attractions, the answer was at our fingertips all the time.

As The Stroller suggested, we can start by looking at the old black stone at Mill and Main which marks the end of the onetime plank road from Detroit.

Then we can stop at City Hall and check out the chunk of rock that came from the dock from which the Mayflower sailed in 1620, ending up by admiring the plaque on the face of the Mayflower Hotel which indicates the site of Plymouth's first house.

After all that excitement, a relaxing rest on a bench in Kellogg Park will be in order, but then what?

WELL, FOR ONE THING, I think I would like them to meet Ralph Lorenz and sit in on a coffee session of the Society of Gloom and Doom, which meets daily to settle the world's fate. It would show how abreast we are of the times.

After that, so that they could both regain their optimism and admire our foremost monopoly in operation, a stop at Schrader's would be just the ticket.

The piece de resistance, of course, would be having enough luck to find the board of directors of the Tonquish Creek Yacht Club in session. Those who fly the TCYC burgee now are almost as numerous as Rotarians and currently are caught up in a sail-rending debate over navigational programming.

The issue is what horn signal to use as yachts approach the creek's Sheldon, Harvey and Main Street crossings. There is agreement that masts must be lowered, but the admirals are uptight over a suggestion that at the intersections Capt. Hornblower sound one long, one short, three long, two long, one short, five long, two short, three short and one medium well blasts.

Now that certainly would be something to take back to the shores of the Chesapeake, and if it doesn't prove a vacation is needed nothing will.

Rezoning Gets Test

CANTON TOWNSHIP Canton Township's recently adopted C3 special commercial zoning will be put to the acid test Aug. 3 at a public hearing.

Several sites along Ford Rd. and one on Michigan Ave. have been singled out as having the characteristics that meet the C3 zoning requirements.

The C3 designation was adopted last month by the planning commission as a tool in the proper development of two of the township's main thoroughfares.

Sites that will be considered for rezoning to C3 must be a minimum of three acres and be at least 900 feet deep.

Up for consideration at the public hearing will be certain areas bounded by Haggerty and Lilley Rds., Morton-Taylor and Sheldon, Sheldon and Canton Center Rds. All are on the north side of Ford.

Most are presently zoned C2. The Michigan Ave. site is a strip from Beck to Denton on the north side of the highway. A map showing the proposed changes is on display for the public to view in the Cherry Hill-Canton Center Rd. fire station.

Lions Club President Is Ed Page

CLIFFORD J. DEPEW, of 157 Union, Plymouth, has been presented a diamond studded tie chain after completing 25 years of service with Dunn Steel. He started as a header operator and now is secondary department foreman.

New officers of the Plymouth Lions Club were installed at the annual ladies' night officer installation party, held recently at the Thunderbird Inn. Newly-elected District Governor Charles Lavery of the Wayne Lions Club officiated.

Taking over the gavel from outgoing president Don Tate is Dr. Ed Page, director of special education in the Plymouth school system.

Other officers are Louis Schult, first vice president; Richard Schwaller, second vice president; Ed Kerstens, third vice president; Charles Harvey, secretary; E.T. Miller, treasurer; Daniel Pressede, tail twister, and Chet Solowiej, lion tamer. Directors will be Fred Clement, Don Hay, George Illingworth, Noble Kheder, Robert Erdelyi, William Fehlig, F. Harger Green and Robert Richardson.

In addition to installing the above officers, Lavery made the announcement that he has appointed Illingworth to a post on the District 11-A-1 cabinet, as representative of the Welcome Home for the blind in Grand Rapids.

The home is a Lions originated and supported facility for housing the aged blind.

A further highlight of the evening was the induction into the Plymouth club of the new Lions.

Tocco To Play Concerto By MacDowell July 13

James Tocco, the popular young pianist from Detroit, will appear again this year as guest artist at Schoolcraft College's fifth annual Summer Music Festival.

Tocco, who placed fifth at the International Tchaikovsky Piano Competition in Moscow a year ago, will perform Edward MacDowell's Second Piano Concerto with the Court Orchestra on Tuesday evening, July 13.

THE CONCERT, which begins at 8:30 p.m., will be under the baton of Wayne Dunlap, director of the Schoolcraft College Summer Music School and Festival.

Tocco's first appearances in this country after last year's competition were also with the Schoolcraft Summer Music Festival. He has made a number of appearances in the area since then, including a recital on the University of Michigan's prestigious summer piano series at the Rackham Auditorium in Ann Arbor, and recently with the Detroit Symphony in the Save-Orchestra-Hall concert. This past year he has been artist-in-residence at the University of Wisconsin.

This year's festival focuses on American music, and there are some items of special interest on the series. Tuesday's concert opens with Henry Kimball Hadley's overture, "In Bohemia." Hadley was one of America's leading composers in the early years of the present century, but has since dropped into virtual oblivion. The piece, dedicated to Hadley's friend Victor Herbert, was commissioned by the Bohemian Club of San Francisco in 1901.

An interesting event will be the performance of Aaron Copland's "Appalachian Spring" in its original complete version for thirteen instruments.

Probably Copland's most famous work, the score was commissioned by the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Foundation and first performed at the Library of Congress in 1944 with Martha Graham and her Troupe. The orchestration calls for nine strings, three winds and piano.

PRECEDING TOCCO'S performance of the MacDowell concerto, Michael Stoune, guest artist from Ann Arbor, will perform Robert W. Jones' "Nocturne for Alto Flute, Strings and Percussion." Jones is composer-in-residence at Schoolcraft College. Stoune, a doctoral student at the University of Michigan, gave the "Nocturne" its world premier with the Plymouth Symphony in January.

The July 13 concert will be in the Waterman Campus Center on the Schoolcraft College campus, which is located on Haggerty Road between Six and Seven Mile Rds. in Livonia. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for children.

The Summer School Orchestra will present its first concert the same week, on Friday, July 16. That concert, also beginning at 8:30 p.m., will include Charles Ives' Second Symphony, Robert Ward's "Jubilant Overture," and Brahms' "Variations on a Theme of Haydn." The concert will be in the Waterman Campus Center and will be open to the public without charge.

Castoffs Might Grace Dolly Or Even Mame

By KATHY MORAN

Ever think that that old graduation dress you have stored in mothballs but are on the verge of throwing out could be worn by the famous Dolly?

Or that those old pointy shoes with the narrow spiked heels that seem so unbearable now could make the spotlight?

Your old castoffs may be just what your local community theatre is longing to put on the stage.

And imagine going to one of their productions and seeing your old Easter bonnet in scene II of act I!

Castoffs from old trunks and attics nourish the collection used by the Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild and kept by Mrs. Shirley Hulet. They are a vital part of their productions.

LIKE THE donations recently given by Mrs. Alyce VanSaw of Livonia whose attic housed a number of out-dated hats and shoes. Instead of pitching them out, she scouted around for someone who could make use of them.

"Rather than throw them away, I wondered if someone in production could use them," she said. "They are long-gone as far as styles are concerned but they still have a lot of good use in them."

"That is the way I have gotten a lot of things," Mrs. Hulet chined in.

From cleaning out trunks and salvaging usable clothes, Mrs. Hulet has come across some beautifully styled dresses as well as some valuable antiques.

Included in her collection is a dress once owned by silent screen star May Erwin who was also a member of the Ziegfeld Follies.

Her collection began with a number of beautiful old dresses that trailed their way into her possession. Once owned by two sisters from Kalamazoo, some of the dresses were made in France and England.

Besides being adaptable for stage use, they are valuable because of the history they tell.

"I consider them works of art," Mrs. Hulet said of some of the older ones. "I can't imagine the number of hours of hand sewing that went into making them."

"They were made to last," she said. "They just didn't throw clothes away. You might have a dress made that would last your lifetime."

BECAUSE THEY should last so long, dresses were made of durable fabrics with large seams, buttons and hooks that were adjustable as the person grew. Many of the slips had drawstrings that were easily adjustable.

These factors make the dresses perfect for stage use because they can be adjusted to the actress' size.

And because laundering wasn't as convenient as it is today, girls often wore "morning coats" to keep their dresses clean but which could be tossed aside quickly if company stopped in.

Some of the older dresses in the collection date back as far as the 1890's and are too fragile for stage use. So the guild members use the dresses to make patterns and copy the styles.

Other dresses were designed by draping material over dress forms and sewing scarves onto them for decoration.

BUT EVEN THE more recent model dresses are usable for the guild because they can tailor them to suit the styles peculiar to the era portrayed in their productions.

All the dresses are stored in trunks—especially those that date back to the Roaring 20's and beyond because they are often weighted down with lead work.

The theatre guild makes use of men's clothing and patterns with distinctive style notes as well.

So if you do not have the talent or desire to go on stage—maybe Aunt Suzie's nightie that is stashed away does.

DICK BENSEK

Fresh meat that is to be stored in the home refrigerator for a short time before cooking keeps best when it is removed from the tight transparent wrap and paper tray in which it was sold and wrapped loosely in waxed paper or foil. A tight wrap keeps the surface of the meat moist and encourages growth of microorganisms that eventually cause off-flavors. Store the meat in the meat compartment or the coldest part of the refrigerator. Then when you get ready to cook it, you will be sure that it is ready to eat!

When you are ready to eat fresh foods cooked to perfection dine at DANISH INN, 32305 Grand River Ave., 478-6320, "Farmington's Finest." There is a 33-entree menu including four of our most popular dinners — Roast Prime Rib of Beef, Frikadeller, Dover Sole and Viking Sword. Hours: 11 a.m.-2 a.m. with dinners during the week until 10 p.m.; Fri. and Sat. until 1 a.m.

HELPFUL HINT: A cut that is solid meat and has little bone will provide at least 4 servings for every pound.

The Stroller... Anniversary Of A Pilgrimage

July 13!

This date may not mean much to you. But to the 53 persons who made the pilgrimage to Plymouth, England, last summer to help in celebrating the 350th anniversary of the sailing of the Mayflower, it is a date that will live with them always.

It marks the first anniversary of the start of the trip that, in many ways, could be compared to the ocean crossing of the original Pilgrims in 1620.

There was an emotional peak as we gathered that sunny afternoon at Metro Airport waiting for the take-off on a great adventure.

To most of the group it was the first ocean crossing and the opportunity to see "new" land. It also was a determined group — determined to place Plymouth, Michigan, in the forefront of all other Plymouths in the USA, in the eyes of our "cousins" across the sea.

Determined! One of the group, just as jovial at the take-off as any of the others, was in a wheel chair, vowing that her temporary handicap couldn't keep her off the plane.

This was just the beginning.

FROM THE moment the Michigan delegation set foot in Plymouth, England, there was a carnival spirit and a feeling of friendship that tightened the bonds more than any one had realized.

With each passing day the two groups — the host Plymouthians and the Michigan delegation — were bent on making an impression on the other, with the result that neither group will ever forget the visit.

As we mark the first anniversary, The Stroller can't forget that the American flag was flying alone from all the government buildings during our stay. In all business places, too.

One can't easily forget the lasting impression made by the Royal bombing squadron that put on an air show the like of which we never had seen. As a closing salute to the Michigan group, they flew in formation emitting exhausts of red, white and blue, that floated in the air for hours. And none of the party every will forget the farewell banquet when Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth permitted the Royal Marine Guards to do an exhibition drill in the great Guild Hall as a tribute to the Michigan party.

ON DEPARTURE we left behind a newly planted tree at the Door of Unity and four Imperial Locust trees planted in the City Hall Center, but we in return brought back memories that are priceless. The English hosts left a great impression — so much so that many of them are "pen pals" now and keep up correspondence with several members of the party.

What kind of an impression did we leave behind?

The answer came on July Fourth during the short traditional stop at the City Hall Plymouth Rock when the British Consul read a message from Her Worship, Mrs. D. F. Innes, Lord Mayor, who wasn't in office at the time of our visit a year ago.

"At a time when this City faces a serious threat to its powers and status from Central Government, we place special value on our links with Plymouth, Michigan," she wrote, "and other communities across the seas which share our honored name and common heritage."

"As the American flag flies over Plymouth, England, on July 4th, we are reminded, with particular poignancy, of the principles of independence and effective democracy for which it stands."

Now, on this first anniversary of the delightful trip we have proof that our mission was accomplished.

2 Share Low Hilltop Score

PLYMOUTH

Myra Cochran and Elsie Manson posted a nine-hole Scotch two-ball score of 37 at Hilltop Golf Club to take top prize in last week's Plymouth Women's Golf League competition. Trailing by one stroke were the twosomes of Mary Smith — Mary Purins and Carol Bluerock-Dottie Maybury.

The league's list of par shooters for June tournaments included Doreen Volpe, Mrs. Cochran, Linda Golbesky, Virginia Burghardt, Betty Weideman, Betty Porter, Mrs. Smith, Helen Olaszewski, Bev Booker, Sharon Mardis, Mickey Carlos and Joan O'Connell.

Low scoring honors in the June 10 and June 17 competition went to Mrs. Burghardt and Mrs. Olaszewski.

Mrs. Richardson advised that Mr. Simkins had submitted the Subdividers Maintenance and Performance Agreement Bond in the amount of $20,200.00 and the Performance Bond covering the installation of Monuments and Lot Stakes at the above mentioned subdivision in the amount of $3,500.00, which was the amount given by Mr. Hamill in his letter to the board. Mr. Morgan had examined the general bond and agreed that it was acceptable. Mrs. Holmes moved approval of the final plat and acceptance of the bonds as submitted and authorized the Clerk to sign the Mylars. Supported by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously.

Parlane Meadows Subdivision No. 1 - Re: Request for release or reduction of bond. Mr. Ash moved that the board authorize the D.P.W. Superintendent to make a final inspection of Parlane Meadows Subdivision No. 1 and return to the board with his recommendations on a reduced bond by the July 13, 1971 meeting. Supported by Mr. Millington and carried unanimously.

Maurice Breen - Re: Purchase of Station Wagon for Liquor Inspection and Dog Warden Office. Mr. Breen advised that a new vehicle was needed for the above mentioned uses and was requesting the board to approve purchase of same. He then submitted the following quotations: Ford $3,195.00, Chevrolet $3,204.00 and Colony Chrysler $2,583.50 (quote good until June 17). After lengthy discussion, Mr. Millington moved to grant authority to the Township Constable, Mr. King, to check on cars and purchase same, at an amount not to exceed the amounts stated. Supported by Mr. Ash. Discussion followed and the feeling was that a purchase of this nature should definitely be a bid item. The motion was defeated by a five to one margin with Mr. Millington voting Aye. Specifications were then listed as six passenger Standard Station Wagon V-8, Automatic Transmission, Heavy Duty Suspension, Power Brakes, Power Steering, Black Walls. A motion was made by H. Richardson, supported by R. Ash to advertise for bids for a 1971 Station Wagon, with the above specifications and bids to be opened on July 13, 1971. Carried unanimously.

Maurice Breen and Frank Millington - Re: Fire Department Contract. Mr. Breen referred to a communication dated April 30, 1971 which was presented to the board members by Mr. Millington and himself which covered items under discussion, as well as an additional communication dated June 29, 1971 covering negotiations with the Firefighters Union. Discussion was held on call back runs in Paragraph A and Mr. Burke moved that call back time be approved on the three conditions stated in the April 30th communication, plus a fourth that when only one full time man is on duty at the time of the fire rescue runs where the squad goes from, one full time man should be called to the scene, subject to all full time men would come back at their specific scale, unless an officer is specifically requested to appear. Supported by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously.

The next request was for a $20,000/$40,000 Life Insurance Policy through Michigan Township Association. Mr. Millington moved approval for the Township Bargaining Committee to negotiate the figure. Supported by Mr. Burke and carried unanimously. It was determined that all employees of the Township would receive the same benefit as approved for the Firemen.

The next request was that the Township grant a 50% total disability for on job injury subsequent to the time Workmens Compensation benefits are exhausted, this subject to Social Security benefits and a credit to the Township for 2nd party recovery. Moved by Mr. Burke, supported by Mr. Ash that the Township grant 50% total disability for on job injury, subsequent to the time Workmens Compensation benefits are exhausted, and subject to Social Security benefits and a credit be given to the Township for third party recovery, also subject to a physical certification in accordance with the Contract revisions.

AYES: F. Millington, G. Burke, R. Ash, M. Breen

NAYS: E. Holmes, H. Richardson

The motion carried.

The next request was to place on the ballot on the next election available at no extra cost to the Township the proposal relating to the adoption of the provisions of Act 345. Moved by E. Holmes, supported by F. Millington to deny this request as it is not relevant to this particular contract. Carried unanimously.

The Firefighters Union had also requested Retroactivity to May 1, 1971, if and when the contract was signed. Moved by Mr. Ash, supported by Mrs. Holmes to deny retroactivity to May 1, 1971. Carried unanimously.

Mrs. Holmes moved to adjourn the meeting. Supported by Mr. Ash. Supervisor Breen adjourned the meeting at 11:34 P.M.

The meeting was called to order by President Hulsing at 8:00 p.m. Present: Members Gilmore, Hanksat, Hulsing, Lawton, Storton and Tripp. Absent: None.

Administrators present: Superintendent Rossman, Assistant Superintendents Blunk, Gibson and Hoben, Director of Personnel Kee, Principals Smith and Workman and Assistant Principals Opple and Kleinsmith.

Others present: Joy Knight, Donna Young, Kathy Wood, Mary Stover, Janet Garrity, Gerri Ferdinand, Mike Shay, Kay Williams, Al Wood, Laura Badendieck, Sonja Krug, Shirley DuFort, Winton Kloosterman, Frank Philips, Nancy Slayton, Charles Slayton, Barry Bartlett, Paul Kitti, Gene Zang, John Fisher, Jr., Robert McGregor, Wayne Weimer, John Crosson, Grace Light, Gary Balconi, Max Sommerville, Paul Cummings, John Howe, Derald McKinley, Warren Groth, Wakely Kushner, Kathy Moran, Plymouth Mail & Observer.

Mrs. Grace Light presented a Supportive Staff Study relating to the utilization of para-professional assistance at Plymouth High School during school year 1971-72. Duplicated reports had been distributed to the Members of the Board of Education on May 19, 1971. The recommendation summary indicated that ten teaching stations should be provided with supportive staff members as follows:

1. Language Arts Resource Center
2. Language Arts Social Studies AV Center
3. Language Laboratory
4. Social Studies Resource Center
5. Science Laboratory
6. Home Economics Food Service Training Center and Food Laboratories
7. Library Resource Center
8. Audio Visual Media Center
9. Physical Education Girls' Locker Room
10. Physical Education Boys' Locker Room

President Hulsing thanked Mrs. Light for her presentation and indicated the recommendations would be given serious consideration as budget items are considered for adoption. Administrators pointed out that $27,000 for the employment of para-professionals for the Senior High School had been included in the preliminary budget.

Paul Cummings, Director of the Elementary School Camping Program, led discussion and made a presentation relating to the sixth grade camping program. He considered it a very successful program recognized by many universities and other school district visitors.

Gary Balconi presented pre and post activities for students. Printed outlines and policies were distributed. Student log books were shown as examples of learning activities. Proposed learning activities at camp are studied previous to going to camp. The development of the log book is begun many weeks before the youth go to camp. Creative writing projects are developed both before and after camp.

John Howe, the first School District Camp Director, presented curriculum topics relating to the basic philosophy of the camping and outdoor education program. He indicated the program helps (1) to remove the barrier of the four walls of the traditional classroom by using the out-of-doors laboratory; (2) ecology: the role of animal and plant kingdom with the integration of specialized instructional areas; (3) ecology - man and his relationship to his total environment.

Derald McKinley discussed extra-curricular activities at camp such as arts and crafts that are somewhat oriented to the out-of-doors, nature talks, cook outs, archery, skating, work projects for the nature center, tree thinning and planting new seedlings, astronomy lessons, films, conservation discussions, group singing, square dancing, game activities, fishing, sledding, etc. He indicated that health checks are made during the camping period.

Tom Workman discussed the organizational structure of the camp. He indicated that the university junior and senior students are scheduled as camp counselors, that teacher orientation begins when a teacher is interviewed for employment, that pre-planning is done for various camp sessions depending upon the time of the year that such sessions are scheduled and that emergencies procedures are well planned and parents informed.

Charles Wolfe, a student from Plymouth High School, told of his sixth grade camping experience as he remembers it six years later. He emphasized the following:

1. the awareness of people
2. conservation education
3. ice fishing
4. tree identification while trees are without leaves
5. wildlife habitat, tracking, etc.
6. food is great, KP is bad, discipline is very good, strict rules, learning while having a good time

Ed Kleinsmith gave the administrative point of view. He indicated the middle schools serve the age of growing up; the exploratory experiences are important; that youth learn to cooperate with other youth, parents, pupils, teachers, administrators, etc. He indicated camp helps to develop independence among the students. He felt the camping program was a very important part of the middle school program.

Paul Cummings summarized by indicating that we now charge $13.50 per student for the week of camp and that eight years ago $12.50 was charged. He indicated that the camping site will become a problem in the future because we now use nine weeks of the camping time at Proud Lake - four years ago we used only six weeks. He indicated that six school districts book Proud Lake Camp and in the future we may need to provide a day camp at the Centennial Park Nature Center as well as attempting to locate possible future camp sites away from the School District. He recommended that we consider the purchase of a site near a state conservation center and begin the planning now for the purchase and development of such a site.

President Hulsing thanked the various people who participated in the presentation of the sixth grade camping program.

Frank Philips from Allen School area spoke in behalf of parents from the Allen School area regarding safety of the children to and from Allen School, inasmuch as the Board of Education had indicated that children would not be transported this fall. He said the expressway construction will create extreme hazards and that parent car pools would also create some safety hazards at the school. He presented signatures of 297 parents who requested the Board consideration for transporting the youth until safe ways are provided for youth such as sidewalks, traffic lights, etc.

Members of the Board of Education indicated the group should discuss the problem of sidewalks and other safety matters with Township officials as they discuss and prepare for alternative solutions.

Three bus safety representatives names were left with Superintendent Rossman to be added to the District Wide Safety Committee for continued study. They were Mrs. Sullivan, 3030 Ann Arbor Trail; Frank Philips, 10080 Wolf River Drive; Laura Badendieck, 41255 Bruce.

After considerable discussion the matter of bus safety was referred to the Safety Committee for further reports and alternative solutions to be presented to the Board of Education at a later time.

Warren Groth from Wakely Kushner, Associates, presented bid summaries for construction of athletic buildings at the entrance to the football field.

It was moved by Member Hanksat and seconded by Member Tripp to approve issuing contracts to Fordon Construction Company for construction of the two buildings as follows:

Base Proposal G1	$93,200

Religion Update

ST. LOUIS

The 11.6 million-member Southern Baptist Convention's meeting here was for the most part so unusually sensible as to be downright alarming to the news media.

This annual gathering of America's largest Protestant denomination is usually a reporter's dream-of-furious forensics, antediluvian resolutions and elected presidents who either trans parently dodge questions on contemporary social issues, or are like Dallas' inimitable ultra conservative, the Rev. Dr. Wallie Amos Criswell.

Dr. Criswell, to be sure, was on hand to deliver a thunderous, 45-minute denunciation of the theory of evolution — with the climax: "Once I was a monkey on a banyan tree;

Now I'm a professor with a P-H-D!"

And while the congregation of 13,000 delegates ("messengers") loudly applauded this colorful and charming theological fossil with his glass-shattering voice, Dr. Criswell was decidedly upstaged by his presidential successor, Dr. Carl Bates of Charlotte, North Carolina.

DR. BATES, a tall, gentle man, was completely forthright in revealing his convictions about a number of social issues at the traditional presidential press conference. While upholding capital punishment as Scripturally justified, he took a position that abortion is justified in cases of rape, incest, predictable deformity and threat to health.

The convention subsequently followed this lead, as well as passing a number of eminently sensible resolutions asking for more humane treatment in prisons as well as a reform of the courts as recently called for by Chief Justice Warren Burger.

While there were the traditional pronouncements against the demon rum, the convention commended President Nixon for withdrawing troops from Vietnam and asked that he continue doing so. The giant assemblage also condemned anti-Semitism and defeated a motion to censure the United States Supreme Court's ruling on public school prayer.

But on the final morning of this otherwise ironic and commendable convention, the denomination's notorious troglodyte bloc of theological far-right wingers surfaced and was able to stampede the convention straight into the Middle Ages.

THEY VOTED to fire one of Britain's most prestigious Baptist scholars, Dr. G. Henton Davies, from his job of writing a Southern Baptist commentary on the Book of Genesis. Dr. Davies had been so dangerously liberal as to write that God did not really wish Abraham to murder his own son, Isaac.

While this patent suppression of scholarship and assault on academic freedom passed by only 382 votes, its effect has apparently spread terror among some of the agencies of the denomination, such as the Sunday School Board in Nashville.

This enormous and affluent agency recently ordered 15 copies of a new film entitled "Sex Is A Beautiful Thing," produced by Johnson-Hyquist Productions of Northridge, Calif.

The film has been warmly praised by the educational departments of such strongly conservative denominations as the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod and the North American Baptist Conference, which noted: "We have had some resistance toward any type of sex education, based on a German-ethnic conservatism. The response to the film was excellent. . . It was done in very good taste. . . We were impressed with the contrast that were shown between the plausible-sounding, smoothly-presented Playboy situation ethics philosophy and Christian principles."

Odell Crowe of the Sunday School Board admitted the truth of a report to this writer that the agency ordered the film with the understanding that the entire appearance of Playboy's affable religion editor, Anson Mount, be cut out.

100 Youths Will Get Training In Fire-Fighting

The Detroit Fireman Junior Cadet Training Program, an experiment in racial accord which earned national acclaim last year, was renewed on June 23 under the co-sponsorship of the Detroit Fire Department, the Detroit Board of Education In-School Neighborhood Youth (NYC) and the Detroit Catholic Youth Organization.

The nine-week course of instruction and drills will train 100 young men in fire fighting and fire prevention. The trainees, 16 to 18 years of age, will be primarily inner-city youth.

AMONG THE benefits, it is hoped to build rapport between the fire-fighters and the inner-city youth, to develop a source of future Fire Department recruits, to educate trainees in fire safety and to encourage young men to finish high school, a minimum requirement for future enlistment in the department.

The idea for the course came from the CYO, which acts as the coordinator among the sponsors. The NYC recruits trainees, pays them and provides a full time counselor.

The Fire Department contributes use of its training academy facilities and provides instructors.

THE BIGGEST achievement last year was the growth of mutual respect between the firemen and the youths. Urban fire departments across the country have studied the experiment with interest.

The youths were separated into four 25-man platoons. Discipline was strict, semi-military. The boys had to measure up to tough standards and to develop pride in themselves. They loved it — and that's the way the program will be run this year.

The boys take naturally to the training exercises. They are taught how to administer first aid, tie knots, use different nozzles and lines, handle 25-foot ladders and extensions, and jump into safety nets. These are useful exercises, and fun, too.

"When the boys finished the training program, they were good and they knew it," says John King, president of the Phoenix Association, an organization of black fire fighters. "They knew we had a good fire department, too. Those boys grew in maturity and purpose."

Last summer Phoenix members were asked to initiate the pilot program, which they did. Many of them have volunteered for the assignment again this year. King, who was the fire department coordinator last summer, will spearhead the project again this year. The training program will be in operation five days a week through Aug. 20.

Sisterhood Elects

Mrs. Richard J. Bayles was installed recently as president of the Sisterhood of the Livonia Jewish Congregation.

The installation was conducted by Mrs. Seymour Ungar and Mrs. Morris Herman in the LJC's new building at 31840 Seven Mile, Livonia.

Other officers include Mrs. Sam Siegel, Mrs. Philip Minus and Mrs. Samuel Braunstein,

corresponding secretary and Mrs. Ben Mirkin, financial secretary.

Directors for the coming year will be Mrs. S.R. Gordon, Mrs. Solomon Goldfarb, Mrs. Martin Gordon, Mrs. Max Kuperman and Mrs. Edward Udman.

Camp Set For Deaf

A camp for persons who are deaf or hard of hearing will be held for seven days beginning Aug. 8 at Grass Lake near Jackson.

Persons of all ages can participate in the camp for all seven days or for any part of the week. Children under nine must be accompanied by an adult.

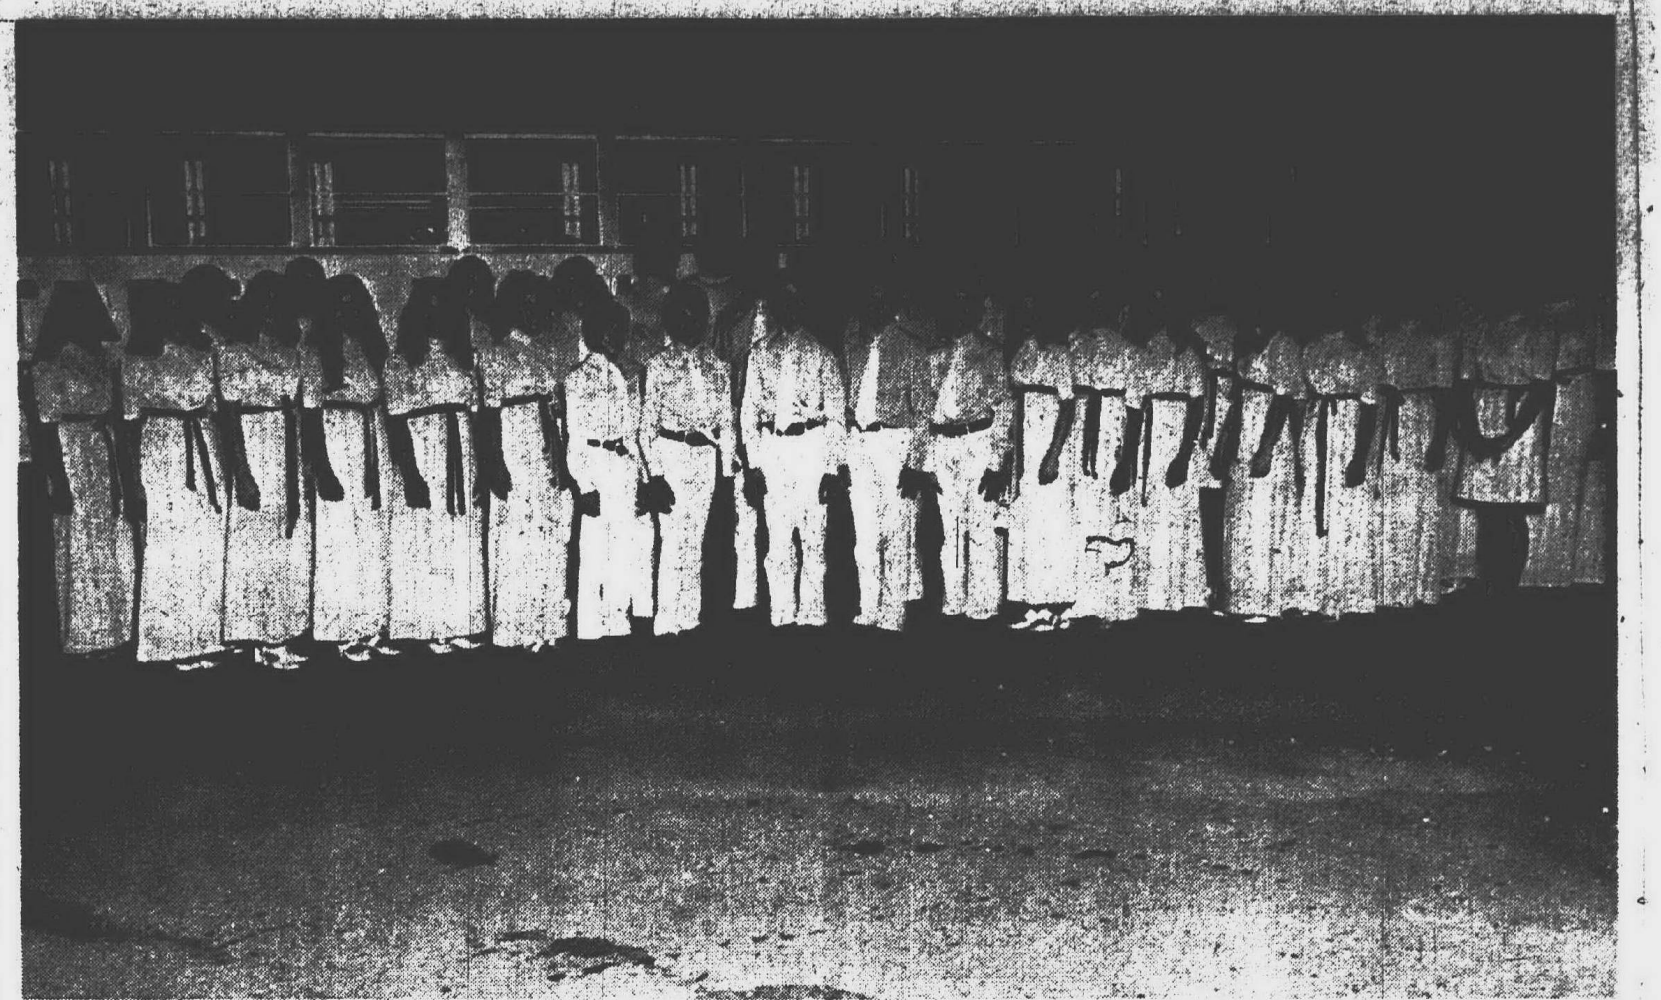

Handicrafts, swimming, baseball, volleyball and Bible classes are among the activities planned for the week.

Though it is sponsored by the Michigan District Council of Assemblies of God, it is open to deaf persons from all denominations.

The total cost for the week is $25 and children between three and eight years of age pay half price.

A camp banquet will be held on Saturday, Aug. 14.

Information on transportation and reservations can be obtained from the Assemblies of God, 6053 Chase Road, Dearborn.

Lutherans Update Book Of Numbers

One of the problems of studying statistics of church membership is to find a precise definition of a member. It can be a complex exercise.

According to its constitution, the American Lutheran Church's members consist of congregations. Of these there are 4,822. The number is declining, and that's being interpreted as a healthy sign.

The statistical pattern is to tabulate the number of people whom the congregations list as members. This is done among Lutherans under the categories of baptized and confirmed. (Baptized membership includes children; confirmed are those having been instructed in the faith and received by a formal rite—a rite now being modified in a way to drive statisticians even farther up the wall.)

BY THE PATTERN of the past the baptized membership of the ALC at the end of 1970 was 2,343,000, a decline of 16,000 for the year. Percentage-wise that's a loss of 0.6 per cent. But the confirmed membership grew by 3,574, to 1,775,573 during the same period of time.

No one is shouting for joy about statistical achievements.

But Dr. Kent S. Knutson, president of the ALC since Jan. 1, is far from discouraged, far from pessimistic in his analysis of the data. He sees signs of deepening vitality and hope.

Obviously one of the factors affecting ALC statistical data in the baptized membership category is a declining birth rate nationally, and the reasonable possibility that within the ALC constituency the birth rate may be somewhat lower than the rate for the nation as a whole.

Within the ALC membership, there is a high percentage of professional people, farmers and some other categories of people not regarded as "big family" types.

ANOTHER FACTOR: The net loss shown at year-end is established by subtracting "losses" from accessions. Among 213,515 thus subtracted during 1970 are 68,892 who are "removed" under a category called "inactives."

They have not ceased being "church members" by any theologically recognized criterion. That is, they have not died, transferred elsewhere, or renounced the faith. If these new inactives had not been subtracted the ALC 1970 membership would have shown a significant gain.

But you can't do that. Not by statistical principles which seek to establish comparative figures, year to year.

Nevertheless, it is policy with the ALC to encourage congregations to trim their membership roles realistically. There's a financial incentive to do so because costs of operating district structures have long been raised through per capita assessments. A congregation is reluctant to have an unrealistically high membership on which to have its assessment determined.

"It may be," said Dr. Knutson, "that we are in a period of history where the numerical size of the church will level off, possibly recede a bit, but this does not in any sense weaken the impact which can be made upon society. The impact could, indeed, be strengthened under these circumstances."

THE BEST definition of "the Church," speaking theologically, according to Dr. Knutson, is "the people of God." And for that company of believers there is no roster.

Under the "state church" system traditional in Europe and still prevalent in several countries where Lutherans and Catholics are most numerous, every citizen is also a member of the church until he takes the initiative to be removed from membership.

Although there have been increases in the number of such defections in Europe in recent years, church membership is still the generally accepted status.

The New Testament prescribes a formula for "excommunication." But those persons, 68,892 of them in 1970, removed from the ALC congregational roster as "inactives" are in no sense excommunicated. Excommunication by the biblical formula has never been widely practiced, except in such polemical situations as were triggered by the 16th century Reformation movements in Germany, England and in other parts of Europe.

Excommunication appears to have become even more rare in modern times. Normal functioning of "the Church" in its structured forms, Dr. Knutson points out, is carried out more effectively when communities of motivated people pool their energies and loyalties to undertake specific work which they believe applies Christianity in its most profound purpose to the needs of society.

For those lacking in motivation and zeal to be "dragged along involuntarily" does not strengthen the "corporate witness" which the Church is established to communicate, according to Dr. Knutson. "And the useless incorporation of their names for statistical reasons could dampen the enthusiasm of the zealous."

ANOTHER COMMON mistake in reading statistics, according to ALC data analysts, is to look at "too short a piece of the string."

Arnold Mickelson, ALC secretary, who is responsible for accumulating the Church's statistics "and mulling over them," has discovered that the ratio of ALC membership (the tabulated variety) to the U.S. population was almost exactly the same in 1970 as it was in 1960.

The rate of growth chart during the past decade shows the two lines—ALC growth, and U.S. total growth—as being not precisely parallel, but in intimate relationship with each other, never getting very far apart.

Looking at the best of the ALC's geography—a 12 state contiguous area in mid-America where its membership is most highly concentrated—the rate of ALC growth over the 10-year span was 10.2 per cent, while the U.S. total was chugging along in that same area at a rate of 9.6.

ALL SET for a tour of Michigan's Upper Peninsula are members of the junior high youth group of Ward United Presbyterian Church, Livonia. Eight of the 18 who are now on the bicycle trip are shown. Don Kamen of Garden City is leading the 10-day tour, which will wind up July 15 at the Mackinac Bridge.

Church School Begins

The theme of a Vacation Church School beginning this week at the First United Methodist Church of Farmington is an exploration into a child's relationship to God and all peoples of the world.

Children who will begin kindergarten in the fall through sixth grade students are eligible for the one-week school. It will be held from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. each day.

Registration will be held on Monday, July 12, at the church at Grand River and Warner. Each family will pay $1 to cover school costs.

Children will participate in classroom study and crafts as well as music activities and a daily worship service. They will also have time for a snack and a recreation period.

Under the direction of Mrs. Donald Holt and Mrs. James Peramp, the volunteer staff includes Mrs. Ralph Mattmueller, Mrs. Dean Miller, Debbie Hester, Mrs. Robert Ely, Mrs. James Ellis, Mrs. Fred Yorke, Mrs. Charles Kreuger, Mrs. Robert Warner, Mrs. William Fanning and Mrs. Eugene McAdams, the church director of Christian education.

Teen helpers include Janine Ellis, Barbara White, Kathy Mattmueller, Dan Holt and Steve Miller.

Teens Seek Adventure And Spiritual Renewal

Eighteen hardy Oberlin-area teens and their leader are circling Michigan's Upper Peninsula this week in a long bicycle trip designed to couple adventure with spiritual renewal.

The young men, members of the junior high youth group at Ward United Presbyterian Church in Livonia, began their trip Monday, July 5, and expect to be back at the Mackinac Bridge July 15.

DON KAMEN of Garden City, Christian education director at Ward, is leading the travelers, who have been in training for months in order to cover between 80 and 100 miles a day.

Traveling with them in a pickup truck to carry camping supplies and to head up preparation of meals at the end of each day's ride are Mr. and Mrs. Ken Casey of Westland, whose son, Larry, is one of the cyclists.

The idea of a different sort of church activity was born last winter, Kamen said. "On the way home from a hockey game," Larry added.

In talking it over in their youth group with their parents, the boys evolved the idea of a trip modeled roughly after the "Wandering Wheels" trips, led by evangelist Bob Davenport of Taylor University.

THE TEENS had seen films made of the tours led by Davenport.

Kamen, in presenting the plan to the church leaders, said the tour would "give each guy the adventure they desire and need, coupled with spiritual renewal."

"I am interested in taking the boys," he added, "because I want to spend time with them and win their friendship and confidence before they reach high school age."

"I feel that if I have this concentrated time living and working with them, I will be able to share Bible principles for living that I otherwise do not have the opportunity to do with the junior highs."

Kamen put a pocket size New Testament at the top of each boy's equipment list, and scheduled a half hour for Bible study at 6:30 each morning, after the boys breakfast and check over their bikes and just before they hit the road at 7 a.m.

"Then as the guys ride they have time to ponder and meditate on what they studied that morning," he said.

THE TRIP started from St. Ignace, Kamen said, because "we found the only way we could cross the Mackinac Bridge by bicycle was to get Gov. Milliken to go with us."

The Caseys are carrying a motorcycle with them on the pick-up truck along with the tents and the boys gear and spare parts for the bikes, he said.

Each day, after breaking camp, they drive along to the next camp site and set things up. Then, while Mrs. Casey begins evening meal preparations, her husband rides the motorcycle back to join the group.

"That way, we have a motorized vehicle with us most of the time," Kamen said.

He said he also was notifying county police as they entered each new county, so that a patrol car will be within calling distance. All bikes are flying orange flags and the riders wear orange patches for easy visibility.

The boys worked with Jim Havlick of the Livonia Family Y to set up the conditioning exercises, and they also were drilled in bike safety.

In addition, they rode together each Saturday.

"It was 15 miles the first week and it seemed like a lot," Kamen said. "By the last Saturday, we rode 90 miles and weren't nearly as tired."

Boys on the trip include Randy Bernard, Glen Shaw, Doug Meacham, Scott Allan, Dave Andre, Matt Williams, Doug Atwater and George Currier, all of Livonia; Steve Mather, Mark Churella, Bruce Deighton, Jim Thiel, Jim Anderson, Greg Slagle and Dana Larkin of Farmington; Larry Casey and Fred Brooks of Westland and Phil Ling of Plymouth.

Pastor Schlee In Bible Study

MADISON, WIS. The Rev. Roger Schlee, Pastor of Faith Lutheran Church in Livonia, recently attended an intensive two-week orientation session on the Bethel Series, an international Bible study program designed to provide new Christian awareness for church members of all faiths.

This is the 12th year that the Adult Christian Education Foundation (ACEF), a non-profit organization, has administered the series.

The orientation clinics are attended by pastors and Christian education directors, who return to their churches to train teachers. The lay teachers, in turn, teach the Bethel Series to the adult members.

This year, 230 congregations have representatives present for the Madison orientation sessions.

In the 12-year history of the series, 2240 congregations, representing every major Christian denomination, have involved more than a quarter-million lay teachers and students in the Bethel Series.

The 40-week study program provides students with a firm foundation of Biblical understanding, an incentive and overview for further study, and a basis for interpreting the Scriptures as they relate to everyday Christian living.

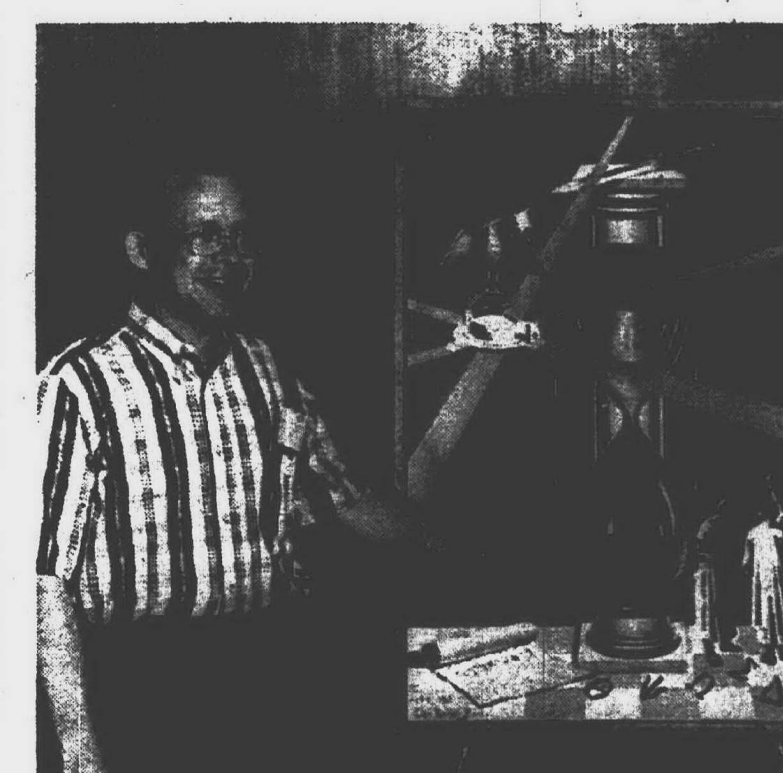

The Bethel Series is international in scope. It is being used throughout the U.S., in a number of foreign countries, and has been translated into six foreign languages.

Registrations are now being taken for the fall preschool program to be held at the Jewish Community Center, 18100 Meyers Rd., Detroit. Places are being reserved on a first-come, first-served basis, although registration is open to members only until Aug. 1.

Transportation will be available.

Meeting times provide a variety of options. Youngsters may attend five mornings a week, five afternoons a week or two or three mornings or afternoons.

For brochures, call Cheryl Guyer at the center.

THE REV. ROGER SCHLEE is shown with materials used in the Bethel Series, an international Bible study program.

Spiraling Costs Hit College Sports Program

By W.W. EDGAR

Intercollegiate athletics have been caught in the whirl of a spiraling inflation and now must be rated as a multi-million dollar business.

Proof of the rising trend is furnished in the athletic budgets of Michigan's two leading institutions of higher learning—the University of Michigan and Michigan State University — each of which has passed the $2 million mark in the cost of providing a program that is highlighted each autumn with the rise or fall of the football teams in the large stadia.

Biggie Munn

The focus is centered on the football squad because it is this group of helmeted athletes that must carry the brunt of the financial burden for the entire program.

To the uninitiated this may seem strange, but athletics at most of our major institutions must pay their own way and not a cent of taxpayer money is used to offset the cost of even providing the facilities.

"I would love to live enough to see the day when the university would assume some of the costs," Clarence (Biggie) Munn, athletic director at Michigan State

Don Canham

University, sighed, as he went over the financial figures for the year.

"Our athletic budget at Michigan State was only $146,000 when I came here in 1946," Munn pointed out. "and last year — the 1969 season — it jumped to $2,077,000."

Much the same is true at the University of Michigan where Don Canham, the athletic director, points out that the budget has increased $600,000 since he took over the assignment little more than two years ago.

"Out athletic budget," he stated, "is $2,839,000 for the current year. This includes the pledge of $326,000 for bonds on the Crisler Arena, giving us an actual working budget of approximately $2.5 million."

"You might be surprised" he went on, "but we have to provide our own maintenance crews in the stadium and all other of our facilities. And out maintenance crew alone numbers 70 employees, most of them unionized."

WHERE DOES the money come from to carry the heavy financial burden for athletics?

Athletic Director Canham furnished the following list of estimated receipts for the year:

Football	$1,400,000
Other sports (basketball and hockey)	$150,000
Radio and TV	$200,000
Golf course, ice rink and promotions	$225,000
Concessions	$170,000
Rose Bowl share and other guarantees	$100,000
Other income — fund raising alumni and interest on investments	$250,000
TOTAL	$2,495,000

He pointed out that the students' athletic fees collected at the time of registration, are used to pay off the bonds on the Crisler Arena.

Against these anticipated funds the Wolverine Athletic Director listed the following expenditures:

Salaries and wages including stadium maintenance crew	$1,171,000
Cost of staging events and phy. ed. classes	$256,000
Related expenses for advertising, Training Rooms and Ticket Offices	$150,000
Grants in Aid to athletes (football and basketball)	$500,000
Expenses involved in maintaining stadium golf course, ice rink and arena	$325,000
Payment on synthetic turf	$50,000
TOTAL	$2,492,000

"These figures will fluctuate," Canham stated, "but roughly, this is our budget."

He stated there were two items worthy of explanation — wages and salaries and aid to athletes. In the first instance, University of Michigan is the lone major educational institution in the country that must provide maintenance crews. Secondly, in order to keep in the top rank, athletes must be recruited and helped and Michigan budgets the same amount for aid as does Michigan State.

"We now have to deal with unions," Canham pointed out, "and that means rising costs of our maintenance crews. Along with that the cost of tuition, room and board for the athletes is on the rise. And we have few athletes who report without aid of some kind."

These rising costs have put a heavy burden on the football squad and caused an entirely new approach to scheduling.

There was a time when both Michigan and Michigan State played several "breathers" before engaging traditional foes. Those days are gone.

"When I came to State," Athletic Director Munn emphasized, "we played such teams as Alma, Albion and Kalamazoo College."

"We didn't care too much about the gate. We wanted game experience for our players. Now, we can't afford it with the type of staffs we must maintain."

State sponsors 15 sports in its program, having added lacrosse a year ago. The Spartans also have a staff of 34 coaches, 33 teachers and 36 graduate students who coach part time.

Michigan has a staff of 45 coaches, trainers and administrators, aside from the 70 members of the maintenance crew.

Surely, with such payrolls and expenses intercollegiate sports has become big business.

And with the burden on the football team, the pressure on a young half back searching for a punt in the sun or a quarterback using the option play when his receivers are covered on a pass is greater than ever.

That's a good thing to remember the next time one of your favorites fumbles.

Farmington Golfer Wins

Mike Monson, 17, from Farmington, shot a 34-39-73 to win the Junior District Golf Association tournament at Atlas Valley. He won by a single stroke.

Tom Derderian, another area player, shared low net honors with a 72 in the championship fight.

Bruce Conroy, also of Farmington, was low in the second flight with a 39-40-79 while Jeff Roth of Farmington placed second in the third flight with a 42-44-86.

Among the girls, Farmington's Luann Schaar shot 91, which with her 12 handicap, gave her low net honors.

EVEN WHEN FILLED TO capacity athletic officials at the University of Michigan and Michigan State University are finding the income isn't meeting the mounting costs of sports programs. The U-M stadium (right) has a capacity of 101,001 and MSU's will hold more than 76,000.

Redford Remains No. 1 Team In Adray League

It's difficult to change the story in the Adray League. Year-in, year-out Redford Township has been the dominating team in the Greater Livonia League for collegians and high school players.

Not only has the Redford Township entry won the Livonia League, but it's mopped up in the state and won honors in the national tournament held each August in Johnstown and Altoona, Pa.

The cast has changed since last year's great season.

PAT SHERIDAN has replaced Bob Atkins as manager. Many of the '70 players now are too old for Adray play, so new faces have been added.

But Redford Township rolls on. A 2-0 win over Plymouth Wednesday upped the record to nine wins against just one loss.

Kurt Taylor turned in his second straight shutout as he allowed three hits, fanned eight and hit one batter.

In two games, he now has permitted only four hits while whiffing 18 and walking two. Losing pitcher Van Gaffe deserved a better fate. He issued seven hits, walked four and struck out seven.

Redford scored in the first inning when Taylor doubled home John Renko, who had reached first on an error.

That's the way the game stood until the sixth when Redford scored its second run on a walk to Tom Ray and singles by Bill Herbert and Dennis Poppenger.

Redford left eight men stranded on base and had men in scoring position in the third and sixth innings.

In Wednesday's other Adray game, darkness halted North Farmington and Livonia Hubert Realty with the score tied at 3-3 while Northville picked up a forfeit win when Garden City failed to field nine players.

Boat Class For Young Sailor

All young people between the ages of 12 and 16 who have not attended a course in safe boating and are desirous of doing so still have the opportunity to do so, Sheriff

William Lucas has announced. To operate a motorboat in excess of 6 h.p., without adult supervision, the state of Michigan laws require satisfactory completion of a state approved safe boating course.

The Marine Safety Division of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department is announcing a final class will be conducted the week of July 19 at the Patrol and Investigation headquarters, 3100 Henry Ruff, Westland.

Each student must attend three classes which will be held the evenings of Monday, July 19, Wednesday, July 21 and Friday, July 23, from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m.

All persons completing the six hour course and passing the examination will receive a safe boating certificate to carry on their person while operating a boat, as required by Michigan state laws.

To enroll in this course, call between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Marine Safety Division.

IN THE POCKET

By W. W. EDGAR

For many years bowling has been looked upon as a non-spectator sport — and rightly so.

But it wasn't always so. There was a time not more than a decade ago that the top teams in the major traveling leagues had great followings and packed each establishment to capacity when they appeared.

A bit further back fellows like the incomparable Joe Norris and Johnny Crimmins and the original Stroh team were great attractions.

When the late Louie Sielaff and George Young developed the E&B, and later the Pfeiffer teams, they bowled to standing room gatherings.

Yet, it is difficult to believe that there was a time in Detroit when the gathering was so great at a match that Tom Haley, one of Detroit's immortals, refused to bowl until the crowd moved back.

This unusual chapter in Detroit's bowling history was written in 1910 when Detroit was playing host to its first ABC tournament at the old Wayne Gardens.

Tom had rolled 617 in the team event and a 639 in the doubles. With that count to inspire him Tom opened his singles with a 236 and followed with 288.

The word passed along that Tom was on his way to a 700 series — a feat that never had been accomplished in the ABC.

With the pressure on, Tom started his third game with a spare and a double. Immediately all bowling ceased on the other 15 lanes.

The excitement became so great that the fence behind the bowlers was broken down and spectators began swarming around Haley's lanes.

Saturday 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Thurs. - Fri. 9 - 8

The spectators literally were on his back, shouting encouragement — and this almost proved Tom's undoing.

In the eighth frame, so history tells us, he left up the No. 10 pin on a solid hit, then missed the spare.

At this point Tom refused to continue until the spectators were moved back and he stood on the approach for at least five minutes before he resumed.

Despite all this confusion he still bowled a 201 game for a 705 — the first 700 series ever rolled in an ABC. And this blazing finish also gave him the all-events title with a record (at that time) 1961.

THE THURSDAY Mixed League at Country Lanes came up with a real oddity. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hayes crossed with Mr. and Mrs. Don Long and here is what they posted:

Jerry Hayes 139
Ginger Long 140
Barbara Hayes 141
Don Long 142

YOU WON'T BE able to tell the teams without a scorecard in the Westland Classic next season.

There has been a general shifting of personnel during the summer with the result that there will be some entirely new teams.

In the shifting several teams were lost, so there are a few openings.

JIM MORRELL was the top scorer in the Wednesday Mixed League at Merri-Bowl. He posted a 266 in 682, one of the highest scores posted in the area during the summer sessions.

Rick Pomerville got away to a good start with a 242, but "choked" and finished with a 532 series.

In the junior group Pete Hay, a 13-year-old lad, set the pace with a 200 in a 546 series.

SCARCELY A WEEK goes by that some woman doesn't come up with a great shot at Bel-Aire.

This week it was Joan Reynders who converted the 3-7-8-10.

But it remained for Bertha Simonsen to give them something to talk about. One of the top scorers in the league, she opened with games of 216 and 200 and, alas, fell to 120 in the final.

Chris Stevenson was high with a 576 that included an opener of 237. Other high singles included Helen Stratford 181 and Ivette Thompson 180.

National Pride Finally Climbs Into Loop Lead

It's a coincidence, perhaps, but the sponsors of the National Pride team in the Greater Livonia Connie Mack League can take real pride in their team.

National Pride actually is the summer version of the Churchill High team with coach Roger Frayer switching over from the prep post to guide almost his same players on the sandlots.

All is happy on the National Pride front after a 1-0 victory over Garden City West lifted the Livonians into first place in the American League of the Mack competition.

It was National Pride's sixth win in seven games while West suffered its first loss along with one tie in seven outings.

Bob Phillips and Ken Wood teamed to hold Garden City West scoreless. Phillips worked the first five innings and Wood the last two as the latter stretched his streak of scoreless innings to 14 during which he has struck out 23.

The only run came off Mike Dobbs, who took over in the sixth inning from Chuck Volas. Mark DeRoche walked, stole second and raced around on Ernie Comini's second single of the game.

RED HOLMAN of Plymouth squeezed past West Bloomfield, 6-5, as Gary Close led the way by batting in four runs with two doubles and a single. Close's second double scored Kevin Moore, who had walked and stole second with the winning run in the seventh. He had doubled earlier in the third to drive in Rob Jenner and Moore in a big three-run, third inning.

In another American League game, Northville downed the Livonia Optimists, 2-2, as Jeff Moon hurled 6 1/2 innings and Scott Evans came on to retire the final two men with two runners aboard.

Dave Coe collected two of the three Northville hits while Moon got the other. Singles by Combe and Kearney and three walks netted Optimists their two runs in the fifth inning.

Miller Joins Redford Greats With No-Hitter

When one pitcher bows out at Redford Union High School, there always appears to be another waiting in the wings to take over.

In recent years, Redford Union has boasted such Observer area All-Stars as Dale Björke and Randy Ferguson.

Next in line could be Tom Miller, who'll become a 10th grader in the fall.

MILLER IS playing on Redford's Warholak team in the Connie Mack League. It is comprised of members of this past season's Redford Union co-champs in the Suburban Six League... and also of some players, like Miller, who'll be moving up to the varsity.

Miller showed he's ready to hurl for the RU varsity when he hurled a no-hitter, blanking Franklin, 3-0, in the Mack League.

He struck out seven and walked two, one of whom was erased in a double play. As a result he faced only 22 batters, one over the minimum in a seven-inning game.

Warholak, which is leading the National Division of the Mack League, scored twice in the third inning on only one hit — a single by Ron Lehr. Miller's fielder's choice, R. J. LeRoux's walk, Mark Durand's walk and a wild pitch sent the runs across.

LeRoux singled, stole second, went to third on a wild toss and came home on a squeeze with the final Warholak run.

NORTH FARMINGTON turned back Gates Realty of Plymouth, 3-1, in another National game.

John Combes, from North Farmington High, gave up two hits in mastering the Plymouth team.

John Haine walked and scored on Dave Nauman's hit for the first North Farmington run in the third inning. In the fourth, Combes struck out, but was safe at first when the ball got away from the Gates' catcher.

Rick Garneau singled Combes along and both men scored on Charles Wolfe's double.

CROWE ROYALS (Livonia Bentley) had no trouble downing Garden City East, 9-2, behind the five hit pitching of Brian Dinsmore, who hurled the distance. He struck out four.

Al Hernandez and Pat Perino each drove in two runs for the winners while Paul Devonty and Ken Grant knocked in one each. Grant's RBI came on a perfect squeeze bunt.

Four runs in the fifth inning settled the outcome.

Thurston Retains Lead; Makes Hubert Sixth Victim

It's still Thurston riding along on top in the International Division of the Greater Livonia Baseball League.

The combined pitching of Steve Kreager and Mark Miller, plus the wildness of Livonia Hubert Realty pitchers made it possible for Thurston to post a 7-5 decision — its sixth in seven starts.

THURSTON SCORED six times in the third inning on only two hits. Four walks and a hit batsman went along with singles by Ben Fontani and Mike Robinson to inflict the damage on pitcher Bob Bialy.

Then Dennis Poppenger socked a homer in the fourth inning for the final Thurston run. After that Bialy and Mike Gee kept Thurston scoreless, but the damage had been done.

Kreager hurled the first five innings for the winners, allowing five hits and fanning

11. Miller finished up.

Tim Rose doubled in Bialy with Hubert's first run, Randy Hickerson doubled with Tom See and Gee aboard for two more Hubert runs in the sixth. Walks to See and Gee and an error produced two more Hubert runs in the seventh.

Livonia Patriots (Franklin High) came up with some crack pitching by Tony Kaseta to down Plymouth, 8-1. Kaseta yielded five hits to master Brad Truax, who had won his last three starts.

The Patriots scored once in the first inning when Rob Hollandsworth's sacrifice fly admitted Paul Sopsich, once in the second on Don Opland's single, walk and an error and once in the fourth when Opland singled and Steve Crowe tripled.

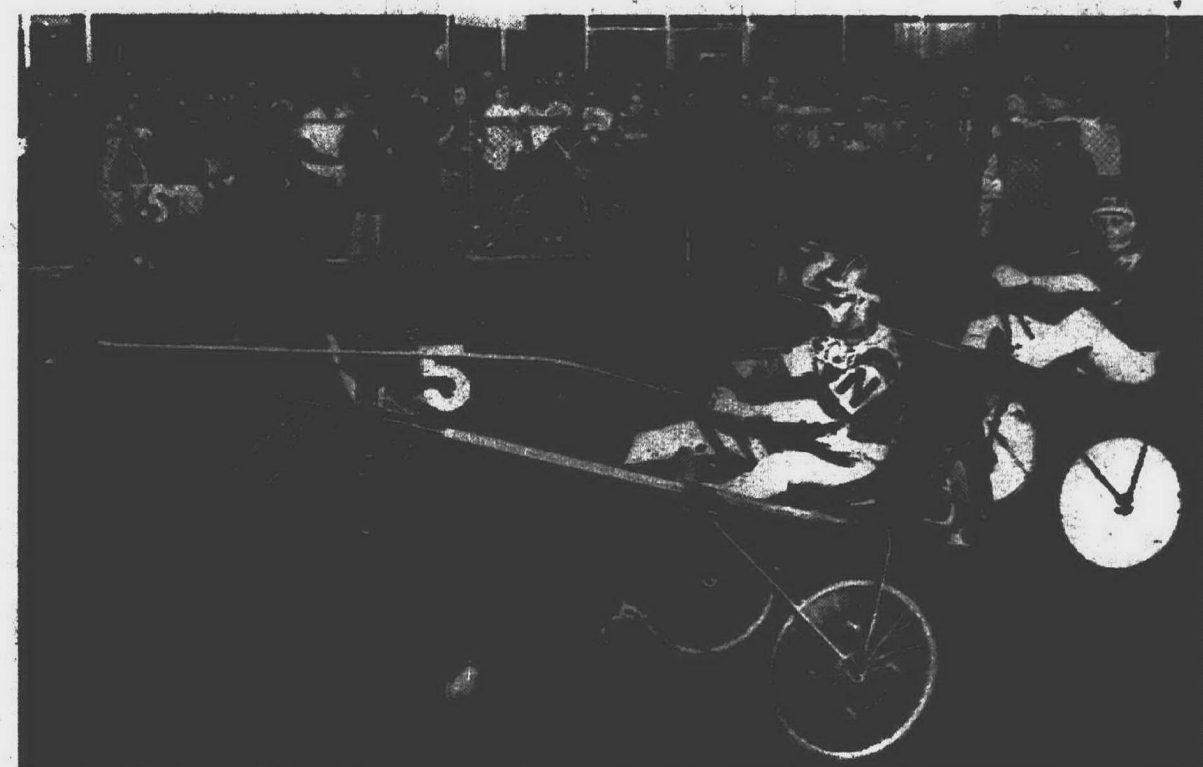

Four runs in the fifth put the game on ice with four walks and a single by Gar Frantz doing the trick. Opland singled home Frantz with the final Patriots' run in the sixth inning.

Plymouth escaped a shutout when Dave Hees singled and came around on an error in the second inning.

Farmington Harrison squeezed past Novi, 5-4, as Tom Young rescued Gary Gaspar with some neat relief pitching.

All Harrison runs were scored in the fourth inning. Gaspar walked and Young tripled him in. Then walks to Jeff Kallgren, Tim Collar, Gary Mooney, Tim Golich and Dave Manos and an error produced four more runs in the inning.

UNDER THE WIRE goes Special Boy, one of the stars of the Bill Longo stable of Farmington, to win his sixth victory in seven starts. The aged trotter is considered the best on the grounds at Northville Downs and has made shambles of all competition. He has won two invitational in as many starts at the 'Downs.

BOB SITKAUSKAS, of Crowe Royal, is caught in a rundown between third and home when he tried to score on a sacrifice that didn't materialize. Three Warholak Tire players, close in on Bob who finally was tagged out by the third baseman. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

Lathrup Beats Geakes; Then Ties Bloomfield

By STEVE STEIN

The Lathrup Lions continued their fine showing in the Oakland County Senior Babe Ruth League with a 4-0 victory over Birmingham Geakes, and then a tie with first-place Bloomfield for the second time, 2-2.

The games gave Lathrup a record of 9-3-3 with four contests to play in the regular season.

In league play against Birmingham, Lathrup pitcher Paul Jacobs hurled his second straight shutout, this one a two-hitter, striking out six batters.

Jacobs will be a senior next year at Southfield Lathrup. Lathrup scored in the second inning on a single by Rick Vogeley, a walk to Milt Thackaberry, and a single by Larry Heidloff.

The Lions scored three more in the fifth. Jeff Goldberg was safe on a fielder's choice, and stole second. Andy Barak walked, Goldberg moved to third, and Barak went to second on a double steal. Both scored on a single by Dave Kay. Kay then scored after singles by Vogeley and Thackaberry.

THE GAME with Bloomfield was halted after seven innings. Barak pitched well for the Lions, allowing two unearned runs in the first inning and only giving up three hits.

The Lions scored single tallies in the second and fourth innings. In the second, Thackaberry singled, Howard Wallach and Jim Millan walked, and Barak drove in Thackaberry with a sacrifice. Barak knocked in Millan with a triple after Millan had walked in the fourth inning in the final scoring of the game.

Lathrup loaded the bases and failed to score, and a Bloomfield runner was picked off second to end the game.

Benefit To Aid Ex-Cager

A group of cub scout fathers in Livonia is furnishing living proof that charity begins at home and that lessons learned as a scout live on and on.

Learning that John Richardson, 35885 Orangelawn, a former basketball star at the University of Detroit, was being kept alive by an artificial kidney machine and needed help these fathers have organized a benefit.

WITH THE HOPE of raising a sufficient sum to outfit the Richardson basement as a clinic and install a kidney machine, they have arranged a dinner dance at St. Bernard's Seminary, Ann Arbor Trail at Telegraph, on Saturday, July 17.

According to Mike Furlong, co-chairman of the fathers committee, the tickets are $15 per couple and this price includes a buffet style dinner, dance, music, refreshments and a performance by a banjo playing priest.

The machine enables Richardson, who played basketball at the University of Detroit for one year before going into military service, to be employed as a salesman. He is married and has four young children.

Richardson is currently being treated with a kidney machine, supplied by the Michigan Kidney Foundation at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

BUT HE needs one at home, Furlong said, because thrice-weekly treatments, each lasting seven hours are necessary. Furlong said the Veterans' Administration is going to furnish a machine while Richardson's fellow employees and other volunteers renovate his basement into a clinic to house the unit. Furlong said medical supplies for each treatment will add up to $3,250 annually.

Pick Adray Stars For Annual Battle

The stars will shine in a big way at Tiger Stadium this week.

The best of the American and National leagues will oppose each other Tuesday night, and then Wednesday morning the young greats of the state Adray baseball program will take over the Tiger diamond for two games.

The first battle will pit the cream of the Greater Livonia Adray League against the best of Detroit at 10 a.m. Then it will be the Port Huron team vs. Midland in the second all star game.

The members of the greater Livonia team have been announced, selected by the seven managers in the league. They are:

Infielders: Rob Hollandsworth, Livonia Hubert; Stu Rose, Livonia Hubert; Pat McHugh, Garden City; Bob Briggs, Westland; Rich Adams, Northville; and Dennis Poppenger, Redford.

Outfielders: Jeff Washington, Redford; John Combes, N. Farmington; Gordon Ezzes, Redford; Keith Sylvester, Garden City; and Jim Cron, Livonia Hubert.

Pitchers: Kirk Taylor, Redford; Jim Murray, Redford; Dave Rice, Hubert; John Morrison, Northville; and Tim Carr, Redford.

Catchers: Dale Rumburger, Plymouth; and Tom Roy, Redford.

Southfield Wins 13th; Can't Catch Waterford

Let it not be said you can't bring together boys from two different schools and mold them into an instant winner.

Take the case of the Southfield American Legion baseball team.

It is made up of performers from Southfield High and Brother Rice...the cream of two crops, as the ol' saying goes.

Coached by Fred Goldberg of Southfield, the team is operating at a blazing clip. By beating Berkley Wednesday, Southfield chalked up its 13th victory against two defeats and one tie in the 18th District.

A walk and an error brought in two runs and Gombar helped his own cause with another hit that sent in the third run of the inning.

Gary Mazza's sacrifice fly produced the fourth run and Dick Stabile singled to produce the fifth and final run.

In the fourth Southfield added its final marker on a walk to Gombar and singles by Mazza and Stabile.

Berkley's two runs resulted from three walks and a single in the fourth inning.

Plan Safety Class

BUT IT STILL hasn't been able to pull away from defending champion Waterford which is dueling Southfield all the way for the district flag and the eventual chance to advance into the regional.

"We have excellent pitching and timely and powerful hitting," says Goldberg.

Actually, the mound staff centers around Bob Brown and Steve Gombar, both from Brother Rice.

It was Gombar's turn against Berkley and he responded with a two hitter as he struck out 11 and walked five. Gombar was able to relax a little after Southfield unloaded for five runs in the second inning.

Dan Damiani, the all-Observer outfielder from Brother Rice, singled along with Dennis O'Rourke to get things going.

The Western Wayne County Conservation Club, with headquarters on Napier Rd. in Plymouth Township, will be conducting a young hunters safety class in August.

Young hunters under 17 are required by state law to have either previous hunting experience or have taken the hunter safety course and examination.

Under the law, passed in 1969 by the State Legislature, the state shall appoint instructors and collect a $2 fee. If the course is completed, a certificate is granted and the license can be issued.

The Conservation Club will sponsor as many sessions of the class as are necessary, charging $3.50. Of that, $2 will go to the state as required, the rest to the club for shooting supplies.

Anyone interested in the class should write the Western Wayne County Conservation Club, P.O. Box 101, Plymouth, Mich., 48170.

Scouts Study Art, Stage

Two Livonia Girl Scouts are among five from the Detroit area who are attending an arts workshop on the campus of Northern Michigan University at Marquette through July 17.

They are Catherine Munz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Munz of Melrose Avenue and Katherine Wojtan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wojtan of Hubbard Avenue.

Miss Munz will major in theatre and staging for the two-week course, and Miss Wojtan will major in art. Both will also take classes in other artistic fields, such as music, literature, modern dance and television.

For Miss Munz, it will be a short trip away from home as a sort of preparation for a longer one in the fall. She will take a 13th year of high school in Finland, where she will live with a friend, Anae Saarinen. Miss Saarinen has been living in Farmington for the past year as an exchange student in the Youth for Understanding program.

Miss Munz graduated from Livonia's Franklin High School this year. She is a senior scout in Mrs. Kenneth Brown's Mariner Troop which meets in Redford Township.

Miss Wojtan is a student at Ladywood High School in Livonia, and will be a sophomore in the fall. She is affiliated with Cadette Troop 1937 which meets in Kennedy School. She has been a scout for seven years.

CATHERINE AND KATHERINE look over the best route to Marquette as they discuss their two weeks at an arts workshop on the campus of Northern Michigan University. The two Livonians are Catherine Munz (left) and Katherine Wojtan. The camp is operated by the Girl Scouts.

The purpose of the workshop, according to Mrs. Richard E. Cross, president of Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit, is to uncover individual talents, to discover areas for which participants are best suited in the choice of career and to obtain an appreciation of all arts and how they relate to each other. More than 200 Girl Scouts from Michigan and nearby states are expected for the workshop, sponsored by the Michigan Trails Girl Scout Council with headquarters in Grand Rapids.

Workshops To Study Past

Boys and girls will travel back through time by participating in the "Then Again" workshops being offered this month and next by the education department of the Detroit Historical Museum, Woodward at Kirby.

Sessions will be held for children ages nine through 12 Wednesdays and Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Registrations should be made at the museum.
