Couldn't Wait

Although five seats on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees will be filled by an election two weeks hence, the lame duck board this week filled an existing vacancy by appointment of one of their former members. The vote to bring Erv Brown back as a trustee was 6-1.

Now Hear This

Hell hath no fury like an irate citizen who sits down to pen a letter to the editor, and such issues as the starting time of PHS classes and whether the music is too loud at some teen parties demonstrate the point.

Enrollment this year will be down at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic School, but St. Peter's Lutheran Day School expects an increase. Both of Plymouth's parochial schools have completed plans for the coming semester.

WITH THE AID OF A GIANT CRANE, this $10,000 steeple was placed in position Thursday on the First United Methodist Church under construction on N. Territorial Rd. The congregation expects to move from the old church next to Central School early in the winter. The steeple of the new church has an all-aluminum covering over a steel frame and was made in Campbellsville, Ky. The gold colored cross has a built-in lightning rod. (Observer photos by Bob Woodring).

Bd. Of Ed. Ponders School Tax Cut

By FRED DELANO

The one meeting of the year which many residents consider to be the Board of Education's most important will see members wrestle Tuesday night with the question of establishing the 1971 school tax rate, which for 1970 stood at $33.30 per $1,000 in state equalized valuation.

Melvin Blunk, assistant superintendent in charge of finances, said there is no question but what the present debt levy, which constitutes $7.60 of that $33.30, can be reduced $1.25 and still permit the school district to meet its bond obligation. This does not necessarily mean there will be a break for taxpayers, however, because the board has it within its power to raise the current tax for operations ($25.70) by $1.35 per $1,000.

The maximum amount which the board can levy for operations is 27.05 mills, but at tax time last year it was found the budget could be met by going only to 25.70, leaving 1.35 mills unlevied.

THE BOARD membership appears split on the question of whether to go for all they can get, or cut the rate as much as the budget will permit.

In Blunk's words, "the cart is before the horse" because, while the law demands that the tax rate be set before Sept. 1, the budget itself cannot be firmed up because the Legislature still has not adopted the school aid bill.

The tentative budget which Plymouth presented to the Wayne County Tax Allocation board in April predicted operational costs of about $9.8 million compared to 1970-71 expenditures of approximately $1 million less.

Recently the school board ordered administrators to slash planned expenditures by at least $400,000 and come back with a new budget plan. This, too, may be a subject for debate in the meeting which will get under way at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the school administrative offices, 1024 S. Main.

State equalized valuation for property in the school district now totals $303 million compared to $256 million a year ago. The district includes all of the city and township of Canton, Northville, Salem and Superior Townships. The latter two are in Washtenaw county.

CLOSE TO the surface in board minds on the tax rate question is the realization that sometime during the coming school year it will be necessary to ask voters to approve a renewal of the special five-mill levy which expires with the present tax year.

Some feel this may be the propitious moment "to win friends and influence people" by keeping the 1971 rate as low as possible instead of socking property owners for the allowable maximum.

The district escaped the necessity of a millage election this year, but both millage and a new bond issue are in sight for 1972.

Community Fund Goal: $175,600

Plymouth Community Fund leaders have set their sights on raising a record $175,600 this fall, emphasizing that "while there's a freeze on wages, prices and rents, there's none on giving."

At a meeting this week of committee chairmen, PCF President Joe West and R. L. Coosaia, who is fund raising director, announced that the drive will be launched at 10 a.m. Tuesday Sept. 28 with the traditional torch lighting ceremony in Kellogg Park.

IT WILL continue through Thursday, Nov. 4, with the door-to-door residential calls taking place during the first week of October. Co-chairmen of that effort will be Mrs. Carl (Charlene) Zeese and Mrs. Lou (Gail) LaRiche.

Other group leaders include William Carlson and Tony Ruggerio, industrial; Bill Decker, business; Bob Utter, special gifts and clubs; Ron South, educational; Tom Healy, professional, and Kenneth Way, governmental.

The quotas assigned for these various segments of the campaign are $136,000 for industry, $15,000 for business, $8,000 for residential, $7,000 for education, $5,000 for professional, $3,000 for clubs and $1,600 for governmental. In all instances the figures show an increase over the 1970 drive when the total raised was $160,299.

THE AGENCIES which have already been recommended for grants by the PCF board of directors, and the amounts budgeted, include: Red Cross, $6,647; Boy Scouts, $11,760; Girl Scouts, $13,800; Plymouth Dental Fund, $5,500; Michigan Cancer Fund, $750; Senior Citizens, $2,800; Visiting Nurse Association, $5,800; Salvation Army, $16,000; Family Service, $42,434, and YMCA $14,000.

There are other applications which still are under consideration. The PCF board includes West, Fred Beiter, Rev. Paul Cargo, Earl Gibson, Gerald Greer, John Herb, Mrs. Esther Hulsing, Tom Notebaert, John Peard, Mrs. Daisy Proctor, Mrs. Helen Richardson, Ed Schening and John Thomas.

WMU Awards Degrees To 5

Five Plymouth students graduated from Western Michigan University at the conclusion of the summer term there.

They were among the 2,750 who received diplomas at commencement exercises recently.

The Plymouth graduates are: Janet Lee McCully, of 9100 N. Territorial; Shirley I. Walton, of 640 Ross; Joann Skeba, of 701 Pacific; Deborah L. Arrington, of 41137 Crestwood Drive; and Constance E. Bannan.

28 Clubs Plan Festival Events

Of the thousands of area residents who attend the Plymouth Fall Festival each year, many hundreds are on the giving end as well as the receiving end.

Twenty-eight community organizations will take part this year in the four-day event, scheduled for Sept. 9-12. While a few, such as Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, boast memberships upwards of 120, most of the groups are a quarter that size. In either league, it takes talent and teamwork to pull off a project that sells.

Major events such as the Symphony League's annual Antique Mart, the popular Kiddies' Pet Show and the Arts and Crafts Show planned for the first time this year by the Community Arts Council, draw widespread attention. But it's the smaller concessions which combine to fulfill the festival's promise of "something for everyone."

Plymouth Teenage Republicans (TARS) plan an encore of last year's successful boutique. They will sell paper flowers, purses, beads and other unusual items. The Three Cities Art Club will hold a sidewalk art display and sale. The Optimist Club will sell helium filled balloons.

The YMCA will offer a do-it-yourself art sale, in which customers can dab their choice of paint on a revolving disc and create their own modern art.

A dunking tank will be set up by the Plymouth High School

Rockettes, offering players three chances to hit the target with a ball and dunk the person sitting in the tank.

SNACK STANDS at Kellogg Park during the festival will include a bagels booth, manned by the high school student council; popcorn, sold by the YMCA Indian Guides, fudge, sold by Beta Sigma Phi, and cookies and coffee to be sold by the Order of Rainbow Girls.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6695 will sell sno-cones and cotton candy; Sceptimist Club will sell apple cider and doughnuts, and the Mayflower Townhouses community relations committee will serve old-fashioned penny candy.

The senior citizens of Plymouth will have a stand for the first time this year, selling coffee and cookies, and the Plymouth Symphony Society will offer boxed cakes. Snack items also will be sold by the Plymouth Theatre Guild, while the high school junior class will sponsor a produce stand selling corn, tomatoes, melons and other fresh fruits and vegetables.

The Chamber of Commerce will be on hand, distributing informational brochures on the Plymouth area, and behind the scenes, the Colonial Kiwanis Club will assist with assembling and dismantling the concession stands, owned by the Fall Festival committee and stored during the year by the city.

HOMEMAKERS who are weary of kitchen detail can hang up their hotpads during the festival.

On these four days, the clubs will do the cooking: specifically, the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club, the Lions Club, Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club and the Jaycees.

In recent years, they've dished up more than 20,000 meals to families from all parts of Wayne, Washtenaw and Livingston Counties during the four-day event.

"Festival" is a derivation of "feast," and feasting is the major attraction of this community holiday. Tables will be set up in Kellogg Park, surrounding a portable bandstand which will feature free entertainment each afternoon and night.

Patrons will collect their meals, as in the past, from the hot concession stands in the lot facing the park between the Penn Theatre and Masonic Temple.

THE BILL of fare includes: German-style knockwurst and sauerkraut, hot dogs, German potato salad, German chocolate cake, chips, pop and ice cream from noon to 8 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 9, served by the Business and Professional Women's Club;

Fish, deep-fried on location, with french fries, cole slaw, rolls and beverages from 12 noon to 1:30 p.m. and 5 to 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 10, will be served by the Lions Club.

Hot pancakes, syrup and sausages will be served with milk or coffee from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 11, by the Kiwanis Club, followed by a dinner of charcoal roasted ribs of beef, salad, corn on the cob, rolls, ice cream and beverages from 6 to 10 p.m., sponsored by the Jaycees.

Barbecued chicken and more roast corn on the cob, specialty of the Rotary Club, climaxes the festival from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday. The Rotarians' culinary reputation last year drew a record crowd of nearly 14,000.

Chairmen of the various functions include Mildred Blackford and Grace Rix, German dinner; Dick Schwallier, fish fry; Len Wendel, pancakes; Douglas Hinker, beef rib dinner, and Dr. C.A. McClumpha, chicken barbecue.

The proceeds of each event are used to further community projects and services. The Lions Club, for example, spends its profits on sight conservation programs and optometric services for children whose families cannot afford to pay expenses. Kiwanis directs its proceeds toward opportunities for youth.

Organizations such as the Plymouth Community Fund, Chamber of Commerce, Salvation Army, Boy and Girl Scouts, Junior Achievement, Youth Inc., and many others benefit from the Fall Festival.

THIS IS THE lead character in the marionette show "Rumplestiltskin," which will be presented by the Community Arts Council at 1, 3, 5 and 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 11 in Central Junior High School in conjunction with the arts and crafts show during the Fall Festival. The production is accompanied by tape recorded dialogue and music, with the puppets handled by Philip Molby.

Lame Duck SC Board Fills Martin Vacancy

By KATHY MORAN

The lame duck board of trustees for Schoolcraft College appointed Erwin ("Erv") Brown, a former trustee, to fill the vacancy on the board from the resignation of Dr. George Martin.

Dr. Martin had resigned from the board on Aug. 3 for health and professional reasons.

Acting on advice from the college's legal counsel, the board voted 6-1 to appoint Brown to the remaining two years of Martin's term.

IMMEDIATELY after the vote, Dr. James Boswell, who had dissented, left the meeting in protest.

"I just can't sit here after that," Boswell said as he walked out. He had walked out of the board in protest nearly 18 months ago and just recently began attending the meetings again though he abstained on most votes.

Larry Vandermolen, a Schoolcraft faculty member, also objected to the appointment of a new trustee by the board.

Five trustees will be elected on Sept. 13 and will take office on Oct. 4. The board will meet once in September before all but Dr. R. Robert Geake and John La Rue leave the board.

"I do not think it is appropriate to fill the seat now because we will have a new board in September," Vandermolen said. "To do so at this time is bad politics."

"It is bad for the millage. There will be a reaction in the community, and their revenge will be taken out on the millage," he added.

BROWN WAS highly recommended by all board members except Boswell.

"I think we are fortunate to have him," Mrs. Moehle said.

Prior to acting on the appointment, President C. Nelson Grote read advice given to the board by the law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, regarding the necessity of appointing a new board member prior to the Sept. 13 trustee election.

Dr. Grote said the Community College Act states that "whenever a vacancy in the board of trustees occurs, the remaining members of the board by majority vote shall fill the vacancy immediately with a qualified elector of the community college district."

"The question then depends on the meaning of the word 'immediately,'" the advice states. "The use of the word precludes any delay which is not occasioned by necessity. Thus, it would be our opinion that the board need not act to fill the vacancy at the meeting of Aug. 4, 1971 but that the vacancy should be filled at the next regular meeting if at all possible."

"We are strongly advised that it would be appropriate to take action at this time," Dr. Grote concluded.

BOSWELL OBJECTED to the action, saying: "At least the lawyer gives you a decent out and says 'if at all possible.'"

After the vote, Dr. Grote called Brown and he came to the meeting shortly afterwards. He was sworn in after the meeting.

Brown served on the board between 1962-65 after being appointed to fill the unexpired term of Ward McCain, who had died. Brown did not seek re-election.

ERWIN BROWN Fills SC Term

He served on the Livonia school board between 1958-62 and again from 1965 until 1970 when he resigned to go to Brazil for Ford Motor Co.

Brown is a cost analyst with Ford.

With his wife, Marybelle, and three children Brown has lived in Livonia for 17 years. Two of his children attended Schoolcraft. His son is going to Peru with the Peace Corps.

The Stroller... Drama In Government

You won't find them listed on the amusement pages of your favorite newspaper, but the best entertainment to be found in the suburban areas these days is at the weekly meetings of the city councils and school boards.

Never a week goes by that these sessions don't provide some of the finest comedy- and drama- to be found anywhere.

During the past few months The Stroller has been privileged to attend many of these sessions in various parts of Observerland and he was provided with many a chuckle.

FOR INSTANCE, down in Westland one evening in the midst of a request for a zoning change to provide for a new church building, one of the council members, in high dudgeon, stated for all to hear, "I think we have too many churches now."

You can imagine the hush that fell over the gathering- and the smile that followed when they pondered the question - "Can you have too many churches?"

On another occasion, in Garden City, a mother arose at a school board meeting and demanded to know who conceived the idea of laying asphalt under the playground equipment.

One school board member looked at the others in surprise and then admitted that they had no idea who first conceived the idea of laying the asphalt under swings and monkey bars, etc.

"I have no idea who conceived the idea of concrete roads, either," one of the board members remarked.

But the chuckles turned to drama when the mother explained that her son had fallen from a monkey bar, landed on the concrete, and had suffered a concussion- and she won her request for a study of conditions on the playgrounds.

THEN THERE WAS the woman who appeared before the Garden City council to complain that, several years ago, she signed a petition for a gas station - and "we got a car wash instead."

"That's nothing," one of The Stroller's colleagues said, "Michigan voted for Humphrey in the last election - and we got Nixon."

Most of the drama comes when assessments for improvements are being considered - and you never know who will be cast in the role of the villain.

Harold Guenther, member of the Plymouth City Commission, found that out last week.

Harold happens to be living on one of the streets that is being paved and you can imagine his feelings when one of the taxpayers arose in protest and asked:

"How come the assessment on my street is higher than on Holbrook (the street on which Guenther lives)?"

"I couldn't tell him that conditions vary on various streets," Harold explained. "Had I got into the discussion, it would have appeared that I was concocting a phony excuse. So I just kept quiet - the villain in the piece."

ONE OF THE most humorous incidents The Stroller recalls came during his tenure of office on the Livonia City Council shortly after the city was incorporated.

To help improve conditions, the council had approved street lights for a new section of Rosedale Gardens, and one of the newcomers appeared before council to complain.

"I am a hard working man," he said, "and I need all the rest I can get. But those street lights shine right in my eyes, and I can't get to sleep."

He was making a very dramatic plea when the late Jack Whitehead arose from the council table, turned to the complainant and said: "Young fellow, you can solve your problem very easily- just sleep with your head at the foot of the bed."

Letters To The Editor

Classes At PHS Start Too Early

EDITOR:
I would like to voice opposition to the 7:30 a.m. schedule proposal for Plymouth High School. Being in school by 7:30 will mean catching a bus by seven and possibly earlier; which in turn means getting up not later than 6:30. That is cutting it short if they are to have a half-decent breakfast. This is just too early, as was 7:45. The reasons against it far outweigh the reasons for such a schedule. Having had two recent graduates, I feel slightly qualified to at least give an opinion. Number one, students at this age need rest as much as younger ones. It is next to impossible to boot a 16 to 18-year-old to bed by nine or 9:30. If a student is in any outside activities, occasionally there are week-day meetings - not to mention involvement in sports programs that on occasion have a school night date. These cut into study hours making early to bed next to impossible.

The hours in winter which are walked in the dark of morning would be lengthened. The lunch hour would not doubt be earlier; but as now it's too early for many in tune with the dinner hour.

Teachers, too, should be given consideration - for it will mean much earlier arrival in the classroom to be ready for a class at 7:30.

I'm in full agreement with the board member who stated he'd rather see the students in higher grades start at 8:30 or nine if it is a question of transportation.

With parents both working in many homes, a child would be better coming home at 3:30 and lessening the time period until parents arrive.

There is to be a school board meeting Tuesday, Aug. 31 at 8 p.m. Any parent feeling opposition to the early hours should attend the meeting.

What Are Teens Expected To Do?

EDITOR:
When in the course of human events it becomes necessary to call the policy on our fellow man, please let us consider the circumstances.

During the summer, our Colony Swim Club on Beck Road has three teen parties - one each month during our short swim season. These are supervised parties, including a band, refreshments and the facilities of a lovely, clean, and heated pool-lifeguards included.

Aye, here is the rub. Each time the music gets under way, modern beat with amplifiers, 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. only, the police are called. There are no homes within a quarter of a mile of the pool.

Teenagers seem to be the limbo members of our society. They are criticized, chastised, suspected and considered rude. Then, when they are swimming, dancing, and having a taste of sociability, the police are called. No wonder they have difficulty understanding.

As a parent I cannot understand how a few hours of music is so intolerable to a fellow human. What is an individual, to use the utmost drastic means in our society on this activity planned and supervised for the future leaders of this same society?

Some statistics: June- 200 children, eight parents, police arrived; July- 148 children, eight parents, 9:10 police arrived; August- 108 children, eight parents, 8:20 police arrived.

These teen parties are open to friends who are willing to abide by the rules--"No alcoholic beverages, remain in swim area." If one brash phone call to the police can break up a supervised teen party without reason, then what is possible between people in this tortured world?

Due to the fantastic response from the Observer's free student ads, Larry, 16, has been kept busy all summer. It has helped him assume responsibility financially, and kept him out of trouble.

Signal Too Short

EDITOR:
Dorothy Lent sent in a very good article for the Aug. 18 issue and I would like to add to it. The traffic lights at Ann Arbor Trail and Main Street seem to be working for cars only as the "walk" signal doesn't permit a pedestrian to get halfway across the street before it changes.

2 PHS Grads Attend Taylor

Among the 500 new students enrolled for the fall term at Taylor University in Upland, Ind. are two Plymouth High School graduates.

Sharon L. Cape, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Cape, 46511 Betty Hill, and Daniel L. Schmunk, son of Mrs. E. R. Schmunk, 44760 Gregory Lane, are attending a week long orientation session before school starts Sept. 1.

Lynda Cooley Now Corporal

Marine Cpl. Lynda L. Cooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris B. Cooley, of 11511 Brownell Ave., Plymouth, was promoted to her present rank while serving with the third Marine Aircraft Wing at the Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, Santa Ana, Calif.

THE SEAS were rippling from a soft and gentle summer breeze when the flagship of the Tonquish Creek Yacht Club, with pennants flying to indicate both the commodore and vice commodore were aboard, sailed from its Detroit River moorings for Traverse City.

Despite the fact that their compass went awry by 40 degrees, thus leading to confusing Mackinaw for Rogers City, they made it. This by itself defied lines of a poem I remember from childhood:

"Did she ever return? No, she never returned, and her fate is yet unlearned; And for years and years fond hearts have been waiting for the ship that never returned."

You see, there really is such an entity as the Tonquish Creek Yacht Club, fully chartered by the State of Michigan. It's a one-of-its-kind type of yacht club, if you will, but it does have about 85 card-carrying members who appreciate that Plymouth needs a touch of humor. That there aren't 85 yachts is beside the point.

THE IDEA of this thing was born, appropriately, in a section of the good ship Mayflower called the First and Last Landing over a serving of grog when the moon, rather than the sun, was over the yardarm. It seemed obvious to all that Plymouth needed a route to the sea, which some nights might be the short route home.

First plans projected using the flood control pond which the city and township have talked about west of Sheldon as a yacht basin. This meant the club would apply for federal funds to dredge out Tonquish Creek and the Rouge to connect Plymouth with the St. Lawrence Seaway.

However, inasmuch as the necessary draw-bridges would tie up downtown traffic even more than our train crossings, the site of the proposed basin and clubhouse has been switched to the point of confluence of Tonquish Creek's north and south branches.

This happens to be on the city's side of Ann Arbor Rd. on a piece of property which interestingly enough the commodore happens to own. Sale to members of foot-square segments of water front acreage (each with a view, of course) is a distinct possibility.

IN TRUE democratic fashion of appointment rather than election, such flag officers as fleet surgeon, chartmaker, scribe and measurer have been given the traditional pennants of the yachting set. It was necessary, however, to explain to the measurer that he is responsible for verifying the length of various craft and that his title has nothing to do with jiggers.

This really has been a shakedown season, and the winter is likely to be devoted to giving members their swimming lessons, teaching them nautical nomenclature, and finalizing the by-laws.

It is the suggestion of this poor landlubber (TCYC Card No. 21) that the latter be broad enough to incorporate several laws already well accepted by mankind which appear pertinent.

Included would be Murphy's Law: "If something can go wrong, it will," and certainly McGurk's Law: "Any improbable event which would create maximum confusion if it did occur... will occur." Then, these three, too, should be put in there somewhere: occur." Then, these three, too, should be put in there somewhere:

Chisholm's Second Law of Human Interaction: "Anytime things appear to be going better, you have overlooked something;" Finagle's Law: "Once a job is fouled up, anything done to improve it makes it worse," and finally Crane's Law: "There is no such thing as a free lunch." Cast off, mates!

Get Acquainted Days Planned

Sixty-five new members of the teaching staff of Plymouth schools will spend two days getting acquainted with the system and the community Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 1 and 2.

In their first orientation session, to be held Wednesday morning at East Middle School, administrative details pertaining to such matters as payroll forms, personnel procedures and special services will be explained. This will follow coffee and rolls with school board members and administrators.

565 Pupils To Enroll At OLGC, St. Peter's

PLYMOUTH
Plymouth's two parochial grade schools anticipate a combined enrollment of about 565 students when their doors open next week, down an approximate 100 students from last year because of cutbacks at Our Lady of Good Counsel.

OLGC at Penniman and Arthur, and St. Peter's Lutheran Day School, 1309 Penniman, both conduct classes through the eighth grade.

PRINCIPAL James Dyer, who is beginning his third year at the OLGC helm, said that the aftermath of the state aid battle has seen a reduction of four classes from the program which the Catholic school formerly conducted. One classroom has been dropped in each of the first four grades, with a parallel reduction in staff.

Dyer said he anticipates an enrollment of about 460 compared to last year's 570, adding that he has a waiting list of more than 100 pupils whose families would like them to attend OLGC.

DAVID JACOBS, now in his second year as principal at St. Peter's, said that classes there will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 8 for an anticipated enrollment of 165 students, a figure which reflects a 10 per cent increase over 1970.

Registration at St. Peter's will take place from 9 a.m. until 12 noon Wednesday, Sept. 1. The daily schedule of classes runs from 8:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and the school has a teaching staff of five, Jacobs included.

Classes will begin Thursday, Sept. 9, said Dyer, with students in the seventh and eighth grades going to school from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Hours for the first six grades will be 8:40 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The school has a teaching staff of 12, including five nuns and seven laymen.

City Hydrants To Be Flushed

PLYMOUTH
A program of flushing all fire hydrants in the city of Plymouth will be started Monday, Aug. 30, it has been announced by DPW Director Kenneth Vogras.

Flushing will be done between the hours of 9 p.m. and 1 a.m. throughout the week, said Vogras.

He added that "we will be flushing more vigorously this year due to the near Detroit water tie over."

This was in obvious reference to the fact that water used by the city for this purpose will cost more once the contract with the Detroit Water Board takes effect than it does now from the city's own wells.

How to perk up a summer-weary lawn!
This is the time of year when most lawns need reviving. Best way we know is to feed with Scotts famous TURF BUILDER, the fertilizer that helps grass multiply itself. It goes right to work building thicker, greener, sturdier turf. Strengthens grass roots too, so your lawn will "winter" better. Clean. Lightweight. Easy to handle. Use it any time, any weather. Will not burn grass or harm grass seed.

Torahs Move By Motorcade

The Torahs of Congregation Beth Abraham will be moved by motorcade Sunday, Aug. 29, from their present home on W. Seven Mile in Detroit to the new synagogue and school on West Maple in West Bloomfield.

Ceremonies to mark the transfer of the Torahs will begin with a brief service in the Detroit sanctuary at 9:45 a.m.

At that time the Torah scrolls will be formally removed from the Aron Hakodish and transported in a police-escorted motorcade of open convertible cars to the new quarters.

THE MOTORCADE will proceed west on Seven Mile to the Lodge Expressway, then north on Middle Belt and east on Maple.

A reception in the new building at 11:15 a.m. will follow the receiving of the Torahs.

Rabbi Israel I. Halpern and Cantor Shabtai Ackerman, assisted by a synagogue choir led by Cantor Israel Fuchs, will conduct the ceremonies in both locations, and the Beth Abraham youth group will participate in the honor guard and escort group.

THE CONGREGATION plans open house in its new location for the Hebrew School and youth department from 10 a.m. to 12 noon Sunday.

Benefit Lunch Is Scheduled

The Women's Fellowship of Mt. Hope Congregational Church, 30330 Schoolcraft, Livonia, will sponsor a benefit lunch for Mother Waddles on Thursday, Sept. 9.

Mother Waddles will speak at 11:30 a.m., and lunch will follow. Donations are $2 and babysitting will be provided.

THE MUSICAL VANNS — more formally the Rev. and Mrs. A. R. Vanderploeg of Toledo, will lead worship services in the Parkdale Assembly of God, Livonia, at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 29. The couple has conducted crusades and evangelistic meetings throughout the country. The clergyman plays 20 different musical instruments, sometimes as many as four at once, and his wife is an expert on the multi-kord, a miniature harp played like a steel guitar. The church is located at 36516 Parkdale, a block south of Plymouth Road west of Levan.

Rev. Lester Kinsolving's Religion Update

"If there is no reasonable expectation of my recovery from physical or mental disability, I request that I be allowed to die and not be kept alive by artificial means or heroic measures."

This sample directive, addressed: "TO MY FAMILY, MY PHYSICIAN, MY CLERGYMAN AND MY LAWYER," is a form suggested by the Euthanasia Society Educational Fund at 250 W. 57th Street in New York City.

AND WHILE the word euthanasia (mercy killing) is still anathema to most civil and ecclesiastical legislatures, a growing segment of the populace appears to be in agreement with the rest of this proposed directive:

"Death is as much a reality as birth, growth, maturity and old age — it is the one certainty. I do not fear death as much as I fear the indignity of deterioration, dependence and hopeless pain. I ask that drugs be mercifully administered to me for terminal suffering even if they hasten the moment of death."

"This request is made while I am in good health and spirits. Although this document is not legally binding, you who care for me will, I hope, feel morally bound to follow its mandates. I recognize that it places a heavy burden of responsibility upon you, and it is with the intention of sharing that responsibility and of mitigating any feelings of guilt that this statement is made."

A widespread adoption of this carefully worded statement might well cause more than one clergy leader or legislator to re-think the present status quo — where a suffering animal is without hesitation given the same merciful release which human beings are denied.

SOME CLERGY cite the commandment "Thou shalt do no murder" in opposing euthanasia. But euthanasia (from the Greek, meaning "good death") is not killing with malice, but with mercy and forethought. Moreover, it is not a choice between life and death — but rather between two forms of death: one that is swift and merciful, the other which is long and agonizing, with progressive and often horrible deterioration.

More than one clergyman, including Henry P. Van Dusen and Henry Sloan Coffin, has challenged the idea that God's will cannot operate through the hypodermic of a merciful physician — but must wait upon the hideous proclivities of a creeping carcinoma.

And even so conservative a pontiff as Pope Pius XII held it morally permissible, if life is ebbing hopelessly, "to permit the patient, already virtually dead, to pass on in peace."

His fellow Catholics of an earlier era were even more tolerant. There was Saint Thomas Moore, whose classic book "Utopia," justified euthanasia. St. Jerome justified self destruction if a virgin found her chastity threatened by rape. And Lactantius, one of the early Church fathers who was tutor to the Emperor Constantine, justified suicide in cases of torture.

THE BIBLE FINDS no more condemnation in the suicides of Saul and Samson (under extreme circumstances) than does history condemn such suicides as Hannibal, Cleopatra, Seneca and Aristotle, all of whom were faced with torture.

Admittedly, if voluntary euthanasia were ever enacted into law, there might be abuses. But the rarity of such abuses in a carefully designed and supervised law would hardly approximate the hideous and agonizing abuse which a legalistic society has inflicted upon so many of the slowly dying.

A case in point was Jonathan Swift. This priest-journalist's tragic death is vividly recounted by one biographer:

"It took him eight years to die, while his brain rotted...knives had to be kept entirely out of his reach...for the last three years he sat and drooled. When the end came, his fits of convulsions lasted 36 hours."

Five years before the end, Swift wrote in utter pathos to his niece: "I am so stupid and confounded that I cannot express the mortification I am under, both of body and soul!" But in those days (as today) his church's litany pleaded: "...And from sudden death, Good Lord, deliver us."

Film Series Is Planned

Lord Kenneth Clark's "Civilisation," the famous color film series on the cultural life of Western man, will be shown at Saint Mary's College, Orchard Lake, beginning Sept. 14.

The films will be shown to the public in the College Class Building, Room 103, at 7 p.m.

The first of the series is entitled "Frozen World," and deals with the Vikings, the Dark Ages and Charlemagne. There are 13 films in all, designed to bring the varied elements of art, music, literature and political history into a concrete and enjoyable presentation. They span the ages from the fall of the Roman Empire up to, and including, the 20th century.

Leslye Raymer and Joyce Fields have been appointed to the staff of the Jewish Community Center as preschool teachers.

Stephanie Caid Is August Bride

Stephanie Rae Caid became the bride of William Bailey in an Aug. 7 candlelight ceremony in Merriman Road Baptist Church, Garden City.

The Rev. Ray E. Babb officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Caid of Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. Reese Bailey of Garden City are parents of the bridegroom.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight chiffon over taffeta with lace trim and pink ribbon inserts on the bodice, sleeves, collar and train.

A pearl headpiece held her elbow-length veil, and she carried pink and white baby roses.

Her attendants wore pink and blue flowered peasant-style gowns and pink ribbons in their hair. They carried white baskets of pink baby roses and blue and white daisies.

Rita Caid, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Tanya Poole and Pam Fruman were bridesmaids, and Gina Bailey, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

ASSISTING the bridegroom were Ed Wright as best man and Ted Maluch and Tom Keller as ushers.

Mrs. Caid wore a pale pink street-length ensemble and Mrs. Bailey was in blue.

The reception for 140 guests was held in Blue Bonnet Hall, Garden City.

The newlyweds will live in Ypsilanti, where both are Eastern Michigan University students. The bridegroom also is employed by Western Electric in Plymouth.

Plymouth Gets 'Play Skool'

By MARGARET MILLER
Women's Editor

An open house for mothers and pre-schoolers in the Plymouth Salvation Army building on Thursday, Sept. 2, will begin a new phase in the young life of a most unusual nursery.

All mothers interested in the newly-named Play Skool are invited by Salvation Army Capt. Warren Yoder and Mrs. Cathie Walker, Plymouth mother of three, to stop by the Army building at 290 Fairground.

Mrs. Walker has led a group of mothers who worked with Plymouth Family Service to establish a cooperative play center last spring.

Time for the open house will be 9 a.m. to 12 noon, the same hours the free center will be operating when the program for the pre-schoolers begins on Tuesdays and Thursdays later in the month.

THIS FALL, the program that began over coffee cups in Mrs. Walker's home will expand to include trained teachers who will work on a volunteer basis and two social work students from Eastern Michigan University.

"We've made a lot of progress since we started with eight mothers last spring," Cathie Walker said.

The story really goes farther back than that—to Mrs. Walker's determination to find a way to make life more meaningful for herself and others who, like her, were taking care of young children on very limited funds and often without a father to head the family.

Working with Mrs. Ruth Abell of Plymouth Family Service, she used a story in the Plymouth Mail and Observer to invite other mothers help her establish some sort of play center.

Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic church had offered use of its gymnasium facilities for the summer, so the group went ahead with plans.

COOPERATION instead of money was the means of exchange as the group began its drop-in center for mothers and children when the summer began. Toys and supplies were donated, and mothers were invited to bring their children.

If occasionally they wanted to stay and help, that was fine with the organizers. If not, they still were welcome.

Capt. Yoder offered Salvation Army help as the nursery got rolling. With the SA bus, he transported the children on several short trips and provided instruments for one memorable afternoon.

More than 30 families, with more than 130 children, were involved in the summer project.

Toward fall, Capt. Yoder was informed the church facilities would not be available after school began.

He offered the big room at the Salvation Army.

"I WAS INTERESTED because I came to Plymouth from Highland Park and we had a Solo Mothers club there," he said. "I felt there was a need here, and when the center was organized, I wanted to help but didn't want to interfere."

"His offer was a godsend," Mrs. Walker said.

Other help offers came in. Mrs. Linda Leavitt and Mrs. Joyce Totten, both Plymouth residents and former teachers, agreed to take over as program advisers and help as teachers. Fran Carmine, a nurse, said she'd be health adviser.

The organizers set up an administrative board, including Mrs. Abell, Mrs. Walker, Mary Leich as secretary, the teachers and nurse, and Capt. Yoder as community liaison director.

"We had quite a time coming up for that title for Capt. Yoder," Mrs. Walker said. "He's done so much, maybe Superstar would be better."

ONE OF THE GREATEST things about the nursery so far, Mrs. Walker said, is the way some of the children have blossomed.

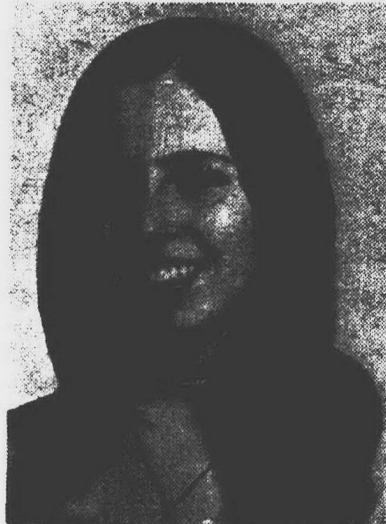

"At first they just stood around and squabbled," she recalled, "and there was one little boy who kept his hands over his face and another who needed his security blanket."

"It was wonderful to watch them start to play together and to realize the blanket no longer was there."

Capt. Yoder and Mrs. Walker agreed that they would like to see more low-income mothers involved in the program. "I think," the captain said, "we'll have to get better established and then we can win their confidence."

Besides the play and learning experiences for the children, Capt. Yoder plans to provide transportation where needed in the Plymouth area, and he also is thinking in terms of recreational activities for the mothers.

"We want to get as many mothers involved as possible," he said. "No excuses for not participating."

MRS. LARRY WILLIAMS
(Kathleen Christian)

Farmington Couple Is Married

Kathleen Christian wore a silk organza dotted swiss gown and carried yellow and white daisies when she exchanged marriage vows with Larry Lynn Williams at noon Saturday, Aug. 14, in the Forest Park Baptist Church, Farmington.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Christian of Cora Avenue, Farmington. Mr. and Mrs. Maru Williams of Slocum Avenue, Farmington, are the bridegroom's parents.

ALICE JOHNSON, as maid of honor, wore a pale green floor-length gown and carried a basket of yellow and white daisies.

Ned Gerber was best man and the ushers were Bruce Christian and Bobby Percer. Also in the wedding party were Leslie Lorraine, niece of the bride, as flower girl, and Barry Williams as ring-bearer.

The two mothers wore street-length polyester dresses. Mrs. Christian's in blue and Mrs. Williams' in pink.

A RECEPTION for 250 in the Brightmoor Temple followed the ceremony.

The couple will live in Canton, Ohio. The new Mrs. Williams is a 1971 graduate of Farmington High School. Her husband graduated from Farmington High in 1969 and attended Central Michigan University.

CAROL KLANCNIK Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klancnik of Barwell Avenue, Farmington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol, to Ronald Rossi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rossi of Detroit. The bride-elect is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and teaches in Taylor. Her fiancé is employed by Darin and Armstrong. They plan a Sept. 4 wedding.

Wolverine Stars Eye Track Record

"If Wolverine Raceway's track record isn't broken Saturday in the $6,000 Invitational pace, then it probably will hold up until the start of the Grand Circuit program on Sept. 7."

That was the way Racing Secretary Bill Connors put it after lining up one of the finest programs ever offered in Michigan. It contains 10 paces, and every single one is well balanced and could bring a photo finish.

"We have the best class of pacers ever at Wolverine this year," said Connors. "Thus, we are able to fill our Saturday programs with just about the best races ever seen in this section of the land."

Connors isn't fooling. The proof came a week ago when a crowd of almost 12,000 sent $811,000 through the mutual machines, the fourth highest handle in the track's history.

IF THE WEATHER remains cool and the track fast, then fans might well see the 1:58 record, set by Knox Patch a year ago, fade into oblivion.

There is still some question in the minds of those who viewed last Saturday's card that Knox Patch may have come close to his record. But the visumatic timer waited until the feature race to break down, and the official clocking never came.

However, the photo finish has a backup on its film and it definitely indicated that Knox was short by two full seconds with a time of 2:00.2.

The story could well be different in this week's rich overnight for the field of six includes all of the fastest at the track.

Just to make the menu a bit more tasty, Keystone Pat, one of the nation's top four-year-olds, has been shipped in ahead of the Grand Circuit and will make his first appearance in the Invitational.

Keystone Pat, handled by Jack Hayes, won $83,068 a year ago as a three and shows earnings of $119,635 for two years of competition.

This year he has a clocking of 1:56.4 in a stakes victory at Vernon Downs, has been in the money in 10 of 23 races and has added $51,736 to his bankroll.

He is one of the big reasons why Connors feels the track record will go by the boards.

LIKE KNOX Patch, Keystone Pat likes to fly to the front from the starting gate and stay there for the entire mile. This time he'll have plenty of competition from Knox Patch who also likes to be in front all the way.

The result should be one of the season's top duels.

The other starters include: El Patron, 1:59.3; Right Honor, 2:00; Record Time, 1:59.3; and High Ideal, 2:00.1.

The remainder of the program is just about as tasty and includes: two preferred paces at $5,400 each; three for $4,000 each; one for $3,900; and three others with purses of $2,300 and upward.

CONDITIONING HELD the attention of area prep gridders this week but the weeding out process starts Monday when the teams will be allowed contact scrimmages for the first time. No team in the lower peninsula is allowed to start varsity competition before Sept. 17. (Observer photo by Harry Mauthe)

Youthful Livonia Bowler Is National Champion

By W. W. EDGAR

Little Timothy Wilson, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Wilson, is proudly wearing a crown as the City of Livonia's first national individual bowling champion. Competing in the National Youth Fitness Tournament in Boston, Mass., he put together series of 457, 444, 528 and 526 for a 1955 count that topped the 9-11 year old bracket.

Nine states were involved in the tournament that is part of the President's Physical Fitness program and little Tim became the idol of the entire assemblage.

DESPITE HIS age Tim has been bowling for four and one half years.

He got his start in the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation league at Livonia Lanes. After several years in that circuit he graduated to the Saturday morning league in the Michigan Youth Bowling Association and now has become one of the most likely looking prospects to come along in a while.

"Little Tim has all the right moves," Lois McAllister, who was a member of the national champion Gears by Enterprise team some years ago, remarked. "He could go a long way."

He comes from a bowling family. His mother and dad compete in the mixed doubles league at Livonia Lanes and the proud mother let it be known that the first of three daughters will attempt to follow Tim's footsteps this fall.

campus capers in athletics

By RICHIE

John Gores, a Livonia Stevenson High graduate, will serve as co-captain of the Wayne State University indoor and outdoor track teams in 1972.

A senior, married and the father of a son, Gores is a three time track letter winner.

He also competed in cross country and won varsity letters as a sophomore and junior.

He set a school mark of 9:17.5 indoors in the two-mile last winter and has a best time of 4:18.8 in the mile. Outdoors, Gores had personal bests of 14:59 in the three-mile and 4:24.8 in the mile while setting a college mark of 9:23.4 in the two-mile.

THERE WILL BE plenty of familiar Observerland names on future Michigan teams that is provided freshmen who have accepted athletic tenders make the grade.

Gary Kardos, of Livonia, one of the stars of the Junior Red Wings last winter, is listed among the frosh hockey hopefuls. With Kardos at the University of Michigan and Mark Howe, son of the all-time Red Wing great Gordie Howe, shifting his activities to Toronto, the junior Wings are going to be hard hit for top players next winter.

Bill Srock, the southpaw star hurler for Southfield High during the spring, will enroll as will Rick Seid, the great all-around athlete from Oak Park. Rick was rated as one of the best prep catchers in the area and was drafted by the Boston Red Sox.

Rupert Hansen, who won numerous honors in gymnastics while a member of the North Farmington varsity, is one of the outstanding candidates for the Wolverine squad during the coming winter season.

GROWING UP IN HIGHLAND LAKES

Give your kids a real childhood in a clean fresh suburban atmosphere. Where they can lie on the grassy banks of a rippling lake. And look up into a blue sky with fluffy white clouds. A childhood where they learn about birds and flowers and trees. Let them store their childhood memories in Highland Lakes. There's a four hundred acre backyard filled with wonderful things to do. Like boating and fishing on four lakes. And swimming in a big pool or wading in a little one. Tot lots with things to climb in and out of. And charming Northville so close. Where apple orchards fill the air with fragrance. And a cider mill to turn the juiciest ones into an amber nectar. There are still horse farms to see. Watch a chestnut beauty with her colts. But there are city things, too. Like excellent schools. And a friendly community that offers all kinds of programs for fun and education. For kids and grown-ups, too. You'll find wonderful Village Homes in Highland Lakes. Exciting floor plans with Levitt quality built-in features: color coordinated kitchen appliances, color bath fixtures, insulated windows and screens, carpeting in all major living areas, central air conditioning, full basements, beamed and cathedral ceilings, compartment baths . . . and each Village home has its own enclosed rear area for your green thumb gardening. Along with all this, you'll have condominium living, a combination of the best of renting and the best of home ownership. Mundane chores are performed by a staff of expert maintenance men. You'll reap the benefits of growing equity, tax deductions and an opportunity to make an investment in an appreciating real estate market. All of this at a monthly figure that could very well be less than what you are now paying for rent or on your present home. Come see it all. The great community club house with saunas, exercise rooms, lounges and card areas, billiard room and a Rap Room for teens. See the beauty of the land with lovely landscaped areas. Come see Highland Lakes — It's the place for growing up . . . for all ages.

Like Old Man River the Stroh bowling team just keeps rolling along.

Bob Crawford and his mates sounded a warning that they again will be the team to beat in all-star competition by winning the Gavie Sweepstakes Monday night at Fairlanes.

With Bob Kwolek fashioning a 730 series, Stroh posted a 3120 to nose out Edmon Olds by 10 pins, while Coca Cola, with four members in double century figures, landed third place with a 3047.

It was the second year in a row that Stroh won the event which officially opens the season and the fact that three teams bettered the 3,000 mark and two were above 3100 augurs well for a high scoring season.

THERE'LL BE a lot of laughs around the lanes in Observerland on Sunday when the proprietors sponsor what they have termed "The Good Ole Days."

All bowling will be at the oldtime prices of a quarter and all refreshments will have 1925 prices. Along with that the bowlers are being asked to wear any clothes they might have saved from those days, too.

FROM ALL indications trip bowling is going to play a big part in the coming season ... and most of it will be in the early evenings.

This new trend has been brought about by the many requests for league time. In order to accommodate the bowlers the three-bowler combinations are being scheduled at 5:30 and 6 o'clock to make room for leagues at both 7 and 9:30 o'clock.

The new twist is being featured at Country Lanes where two industrial groups have been formed. The Industrial Girls Trio will bowl on Thursdays at 5 o'clock and then the men will take their turn at the pins on Tuesdays at 5 o'clock.

THE LIVONIA CIVIC League, one of the oldest in the area, is ready to start its 31st season at Livonia Lanes.

It was the first league formed when the lanes opened in 1940 and hasn't missed a season in all that time. Among the charter members who will be back are Dr. O. L. Brucker and Clarence Hoffman, former owner of the lanes, and the man who organized the circuit.

RICK CAPALDI will have every reason to recall the dog days of summer.

On the hottest day last week he came through with a 697 series at Westland Bowl. He opened with a 224, followed with a 256 and closed with a 213.

Dick Engel's team landed on top in the final standings of the Trio Classic. With him were George Fujiwara and Dick Newman.

TWO NEW TEEN leagues are being formed in Observerland as the youth bowlers are cutting heavy inroads into the regular schedules.

At Merri-Bowl, they're expanding the Teen Masters League which is open to all youth with averages of 160 or better.

The second league is underway at Bel-Aire where the averages drop to 120 or better for eligibility.

The lower average is being organized as the basis for a full time youth program.

THE CITY of Livonia

UM Fans

ANN ARBOR

Michigan's basketball team drew an all-time high of 127,905 fans for 12 games in Crisler Arena during the 1970-71 season.

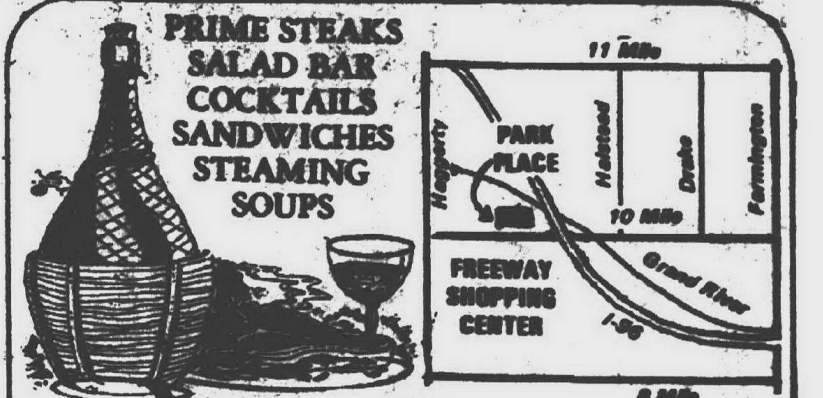

Recreation Department also is planning on another large turnout of in-school bowlers for its week-day sessions.

The league again will be run in each of the Livonia establishments - Merri-Bowl, Livonia Lanes, Wonderland and Cloverlanes.

The total registration this year is expected to pass the 1,000 mark and competition will get under way with the opening of school.

THE B'NAI DAVID Sunday Night Mixed League has put out the welcome mat for all bowlers and their friends. Anyone interested may obtain additional information by writing to Harriet Wilber, 12940 Oak Park Blvd., Oak Park or calling 542-9062.
