All On Festival

The entire schedule of events of the 1971 Fall Festival, plus feature stories on many of the attractions, will appear in a special section of your next edition of the Mail & Observer. Because of a change of publication dates due to the Labor Day holiday, this will be at your door Thursday, and will be your entertainment guide for Plymouth's biggest event.

Culinary Science

The same Plymouth business leaders who might not help milady prepare dinner in the family kitchen again will give the culinary art a real scientific touch next Sunday, reports The Stroller. He tells of the assembly line science behind the Rotary Club's chicken barbecue.

Gun Instruction

With the hunting season approaching, youngsters 12 through 16 are reminded that they can't apply for their first license without having passed a course in gun safety. The Canton Hunt Club is taking care of that need by providing qualified instructors for a series of three classes.

What, No Midway?

What's Plymouth's Fall Festival all about, anyway? What is there that can appeal to so many thousands when there aren't any carnival rides or the hoop-la of a midway? A look at the Festival through Bifocals shows the secret of success lies in a turn of the century approach to small town entertainment.

Prep Prospects

State champion North Farmington is preparing to open its football season against Pontiac Northern. Southfield is relying on seniors this year. Plymouth will try a two-platoon system. Livonia Franklin has defensive line problems. Here's how the high school football season shapes up.

Plymouth Schools Now Mecca For Teachers

By FRED DELANO

If the rest of Michigan is eyeing Plymouth with awe this September, there are several good reasons.

At a time when one school district after another has cut teaching staffs, voted down millage proposals and slashed budgets, the Plymouth Board of Education has been able to accomplish such miracles as these:

The number of teachers has been increased from 439 to 467; a new contract has been agreed to which will give teachers a 9.4 per cent financial boost when the wage freeze ends; the operating budget tentatively has been upped by about $1 million over last year; there has been no cry for new millage and, in fact, Monday night the board actually reduced the school tax rate by three-fourths of a mill. This is 75 cents per $1,000 in assessed valuation.

Budget expenditures are still tentative because the Legislature has yet to act on the state aid program, but the board's educated guess is that income from all sources will be close enough to the $9.6 million it wants to spend for operations so that only minimal adjustments will be needed in the months ahead.

THE AFFLUENCE of a district which contrasts with many of its neighbors by having no deficit, and which backs each student this year with approximately $30,000 in state equalized valuation, is reflected in one particularly unusual statistic.

Maybe the word got out that Plymouth was hiring, not firing. At any rate, Asst. Supt. Earl Gibson revealed this week that the 65 new teachers who have been hired either as faculty additions or replacements were chosen from roughly 4,000 applicants.

The reason for this record number of requests to work in the Plymouth system stems from a shortage of teaching jobs throughout the state, coupled with attractive conditions here, according to Gibson, who is in charge of personnel.

"We have always had more than the usual number of applicants because this is recognized as a good teaching situation, both in the school and in the community," Gibson stated. "But this year's record high also reflects the fact that there are now more teachers than there are teaching jobs in Michigan."

Except for one remaining post, the staff was rounded out to its planned limit with approval of 19 final contracts this week.

THOSE TEACHERS and their assignments include:

George Bachmann, auto shop, PHS; Mrs. Lolita Buikema, elementary, Allen; Anthony Corrigan, elementary, Gallimore; David Falzetti, art and industrial arts, Central; Mrs. Carla Garbin, home economics, PHS; Mrs. Paula Holmes, elementary, Allen;

Also, Mrs. Kathy Huyck, Spanish, PHS; Mrs. Eleanor Jones, crisis teacher, Isbister; Ellen Koponen, math, Central; Mrs. Roberta London, speech, full district; Mrs. Jill Potter, English and language arts, Pioneer; Mrs. Mary Reading, business education, PHS.

Also, Mrs. Faith Schweiss, vocal music, Central; Mrs. Florence Slocum, business education, PHS; Lynn Wise, elementary, Gallimore; Mrs. Catherine Bowles, remedial reading, Central; Mrs. Nancy Drifmeyer, general music, East; Mrs. Denise Kilbury, English and reading, Central; Mrs. Ellen Knesper, mathematics, PHS.

STATE financial aid per student is not expected to be any more for Plymouth than it was last year, and perhaps a shade less. This is in keeping with the Michigan philosophy that as any district improves its ability to pay its own way from local taxation, its share of state assistance goes down proportionately.

The school tax rate for 1970 stood at $33.30 per $1,000 in equalized assessed valuation. The board now has dropped it to $32.55 for 1971, which is the figure on which December tax statements will be based.

The debt levy has been lowered from $7.60 to $6.25 while the operational levy has been increased from $25.70 to $26.30.

This latter boost of six-tenths of one mill is well within the board's leeway which had seen 1.35 allowable mills (or $1.35 per $1,000) go unlevied last year. In fact, for two years the board had seen fit not to levy the maximum it was allowed from voted millage and even now it is 75 cents per $1,000 under what the community has approved.

WILLIAM SICK was the only board dissenter on the operational levy, pointing out that because of the increase in property assessments (the district's SEV has jumped from $256 million to $303 million) the typical taxpayer still will pay about 15 per cent more despite the slightly lower rate.

"Now is the time for us to show great restraint because next year we'll have to go to the voters for a five-mill millage renewal," cautioned Sick. The vote on the question, however, was 6-1.

The budget still is subject to a public hearing, but the date won't even be set until the meeting of Sept. 13.

Meanwhile, teachers will assemble at 8 a.m. Tuesday when they are expected to approve basic contract terms as proposed, even though formal ratification will come later. By Thursday, 10,000 students will be in class.

State Arbitrator Steps Into Twp. Fire Pact Feud

Robert G. Howlett, chairman of the Michigan Employment Relations Commission, announced Thursday that he has appointed Detroit Attorney Thomas V. LoCicero as arbitrator in the bitter dispute between Plymouth Township firemen and the Board of Trustees.

Submission of the contract quarrel to the State Department of Labor under Michigan's binding arbitration law for police and fire units was asked some time ago by Township Local 1496 of the International Association of Fire Fighters.

This step came about when negotiations on a new contract fell apart in early summer as a majority of trustees rejected terms of a pact which had Supervisor Maurice M. Breen's recommendation of approval.

The old contract expired at the end of April, and although Breen had negotiated salary terms acceptable to the firemen, he could not sell enough colleagues on granting retroactivity to May 1 as the firemen demanded.

The dispute has been hung up on that basic issue ever since, with firemen also showing increasing dissatisfaction with some other provisions on which there was earlier accord.

THE THREE-MAN arbitration panel which now takes over includes Township Attorney Donald Morgan as the appointee of the trustees and Atty. Clarence Charest, who is legal counsel for the fire fighters union. LoCicero has been appointed as the "neutral" of the trio and obviously carries the deciding vote.

LoCicero served on the Wayne County Civil Service Commission from 1942 to 1971 and has been named to the post of fact finder for the Michigan Employment Relations Commission in a number of cases. He has practiced in the realm of labor law for nearly 30 years.

LoCicero told the Mail & Observer late Thursday that he had talked to both Morgan and Charest earlier in the day. As expected, he declined to make any comment on the issues of the dispute, but did say he will come to Plymouth to conduct hearings. Date of the first meeting of the panel still has not been set.

LACK OF sufficient men on duty has forced the township several times lately to make one-man ambulance runs, and the city has filled the breach by sending one of its firemen to aid as a second stretcher bearer.

The situation is tense enough to have prompted the City Commission into a special discussion during a committee of the whole meeting recently, pointing toward a more stern approach on help to the township except in cases of extreme emergency.

The legislation under which the fire fighters have appealed for binding arbitration was adopted in 1969 and is known as Public Act 312. It prohibits public police and fire departments from striking, offering the compulsory arbitration procedure as an alternative.

This is the first time it has been brought into play in Plymouth, although the city's own firemen have threatened to take the same step unless there is progress on their contract to replace the one which expired June 30.

Gas Firm Workers End Strike

Some 200 employees of the West Wayne Division are among 5,400 in Michigan who are voting by mail this week on a proposed new contract with Consumers Power Co.

An agreement was reached last week between negotiators for CP and the Utility Workers Union, ending a 112-day strike against the utility.

About 70 per cent of the West Wayne Division workers returned to their jobs Wednesday, and 90 per cent were expected back by the weekend, according to Wendell Mason, assistant manager for the division.

The division, located on Farmington Rd. in Livonia, provides gas service to customers in Livonia, Farmington, Plymouth, Northville, Wayne, South Lyon, Salem and New Hudson.

WORKERS WERE to return to their jobs under the provisions of the agreement which expired in March, pending the outcome of the current 90-day wage-price freeze initiated by the Nixon Administration two weeks ago.

Workers will be balloting on the company's so-called "May 12" offer plus modifications suggested by state and federal mediators on Aug. 5. These modifications included increases in wages, pension benefits, vacations and hospitalization.

Involved in the bargaining were state mediator Ed Connors, and federal mediators James Burke from Detroit and Ralph Patterson from Washington.

Lions Club Helps Better Vision Plan With $1,200 Gift

The Plymouth Community School District will have a new vision screening program this school year because of a $1,200 contribution by the Plymouth Lions Club. The screening will be conducted by trained technicians from the Wayne County Health Department.

Although new to Plymouth schools, the program has been available and in operation throughout several communities in Michigan for 16 years.

The program involves the use of a telebinocular instrument incorporating a battery of tests which screen for visual acuity, foresightedness, and the use of the two eyes together (muscle balance).

The screening will be available to all children in grades K, 1, 5 and 9 attending both the public and parochial schools, as well as all special education students or other students who have symptoms of vision difficulties, said Dr. Ed Page, Lions club president.

"THE VALUE in the vision screening program is that it finds a large number of children who have vision defects. Of the children who fail one or more parts of the program, a large percentage are found to need treatment by eye doctors," said Dr. Page.

"Well over 90 per cent of the children who fail do receive treatment. Children who fail will have a letter sent to their parents explaining the problem with the recommendation that the child be evaluated further by an eye doctor."

"Another important feature of the program is that through early detection and correction of vision defects, many children will receive an opportunity to take fuller advantage of their educational program. Likewise, many conditions which might result in permanent eye damage or loss of vision can be corrected if detected and treated early."

The Plymouth Lions Club has provided assistance to the visually impaired through several similar programs. They serve as an eye collection substitution for the Lions of Michigan. Eye Bank located at the University of Michigan Hospital.

Housewives, Take Note

By W. W. EDGAR

It looks ever so simple when you line up on Penniman Avenue and are served a box of barbecued chicken at the annual Fall Festival. But few in the thousands who will be served are aware that these "amateur" chefs, by dint of hard work over the past 15 years, have reduced the barbecuing activity to a science.

Through the years fellows like Mike Hoban, one of the top school officials; Jack Sells, the auto dealer; Bob Sincock, member of the City Commission; Ed Sawusch, manager of the Anchor Coupling plant, and Jim Thomas, head man at the Consolidated Gas Co., wouldn't think of entering the family kitchen to prepare a meal.

But on this one day it is a treat to watch them as they join other leaders of business and industry and toil in the hot sun so that thousands of persons can be served and the festival made a success.

Even Ralph Lorenz, the inn keeper, and retired Robert Stronich, the major dante at the refreshment establishment on the hill, leave their own hostilities to work on the serving line and gladly greet some of their regular customers who now are about to tickle their palates with a leg of chicken.

the 75-foot stoves. These stoves, too, are the result of trial and error over the years.

Some of the sharp-minded business leaders figured that some control of the barbecuing could be had by building long stoves and turning the grills along what is a culinary assembly line.

THESE MENTAL wizards also figured that if the fire was kept to a certain height along the route it would provide just enough heat to barbecue the chicken to anybody's taste.

To obtain this, they built the stoves with cement blocks and measure the fire by the height of the blocks. You see, there is no guess work in any part of the action.

Now, the stage is set. The grills are loaded with 24 chicken halves and started on their way. And if you took the time to count, the grills are turned 28 times enroute to the "loading zone."

While the chicken is being prepared other factors come into play, too, that have been reduced to a science over the years.

With Wilford Bunyes at the controls, the old steam engine from the farm provides the medium for boiling the corn as it, too, moves along an assembly line to be husked.

Meanwhile, another group is preparing the cardboard boxes and as the chicken and corn arrive at the "loading zone," all hands go to work so that you can be served a dinner that is hot and delectable.

There is nothing like the Plymouth barbecue anywhere in the land.

No wonder 13,000 dinners can be served in a mere matter of six hours.

Come out next Sunday and see for yourself.

FEW IN THE vast throngs realize that every bit of stove area has been measured and each incoming truck is assigned a place at an exact location so that not a second or an inch is lost.

Few housewives can tell you how many steps are required to reach one portion of the kitchen or the other. And, in the preparation of food, they are guided, for the most part, by instruments on the stove.

It is a different matter when you move outside and these housewives could learn a few tricks from these "amateur" chefs.

This "scientific" process begins with the ordering of the chicken. This may be surprising to many, but in placing the order the Rotarians ask that the right and left sides of the chickens be separated and that the boxes be so marked.

Why? Over the years they have learned - at the expense of losing some of the delicacies - that best results can be had when the chicken halves are folded under each other on the grill. And when opposites are on the grill there is a big bump that makes them difficult to handle.

Next, the exact distance is measured from the truck to the serving line at the end of

WITH ASSEMBLY LINE speed and skill, Plymouth Rotarians have reduced their annual barbecuing of thousands of chickens for the Fall Festival to an exact science. As The Stroller discusses, by the time these racks flip-flop their way to the serving point, each bird is done to perfection. The 1971 barbecue will be Sept. 12. (Observer photo)

Club Offers Gun Safety Instruction

PLYMOUTH The Canton Township Hunt Club has moved quickly to provide neophyte hunters the safety instruction now required by state law.

The state requires that any boy or girl from 12 through 16 applying for a hunting license for the first time present a certificate showing that the applicant has passed a safety course. The law became effective Sept. 1.

The Canton Club is qualified to provide such instruction and six instructors will conduct classes Wednesday, Sept. 8, Saturday, Sept. 11 and Wednesday, Sept. 15 under the chairmanship of Ray Deeds. There will be a charge of $2 per person, all of which goes to the state to cover certification costs.

The first and third sessions will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the township water board hall, on Geddes Rd. east of Sheldon. The Saturday program will involve shotgun shooting on an outdoor range. The class is limited to 50, and anyone interested may contact Deeds at his residence, 47650 Hanford Rd.

2 Commission Sessions Set Within 3 Days

PLYMOUTH It will be a short but busy week for the Plymouth City Commission.

The first regular meeting of the month, which normally would be held Monday, has been postponed until 7:30 p.m. Tuesday because of the holiday, and a committee of the whole session is planned for Thursday night.

One of the highlights Monday will be City Engineer Thomas Waffin's submission of financial estimates for beautification of the Central Parking Lot and for reconstruction of the Agnew arcade from Main St. into the lot.

Thursday the commission will grapple informally with an issue that has been a bugaboo for several weeks as an attempt is made again to work out an acceptable special assessment formula for reconstruction of Junction and Karmada Sts.

Grease Blamed In House Fire

Seventeen city firemen and all available apparatus responded Tuesday afternoon to bring under early control a fire in the Dr. John Stathakis home, 1381 Woodland Place.

Fire Chief George Schoenneman said that grease overheated on the electric range in the kitchen, igniting the hood above the stove, with the resultant fire going up the hood into the attic.

Although Schoenneman reported that the house was filled with heavy smoke, he defined the damage as "light" and said it was confined mainly to the kitchen and attic.

Bowling Loop Has Openings

Chairman Beverly Jordan of the Plymouth Symphony League bowling group announced this week that openings still exist for competition which will begin Thursday, Sept. 16 at the Plymouth Bowl.

Those interested in joining the bowling loop may contact Mrs. Jordan, 41431 W. Five Mile Rd., or attend a general meeting to be held at 1 p.m., Sept. 10 at Plymouth Bowl.

Free baby sitting service will be available on the first day of league competition.

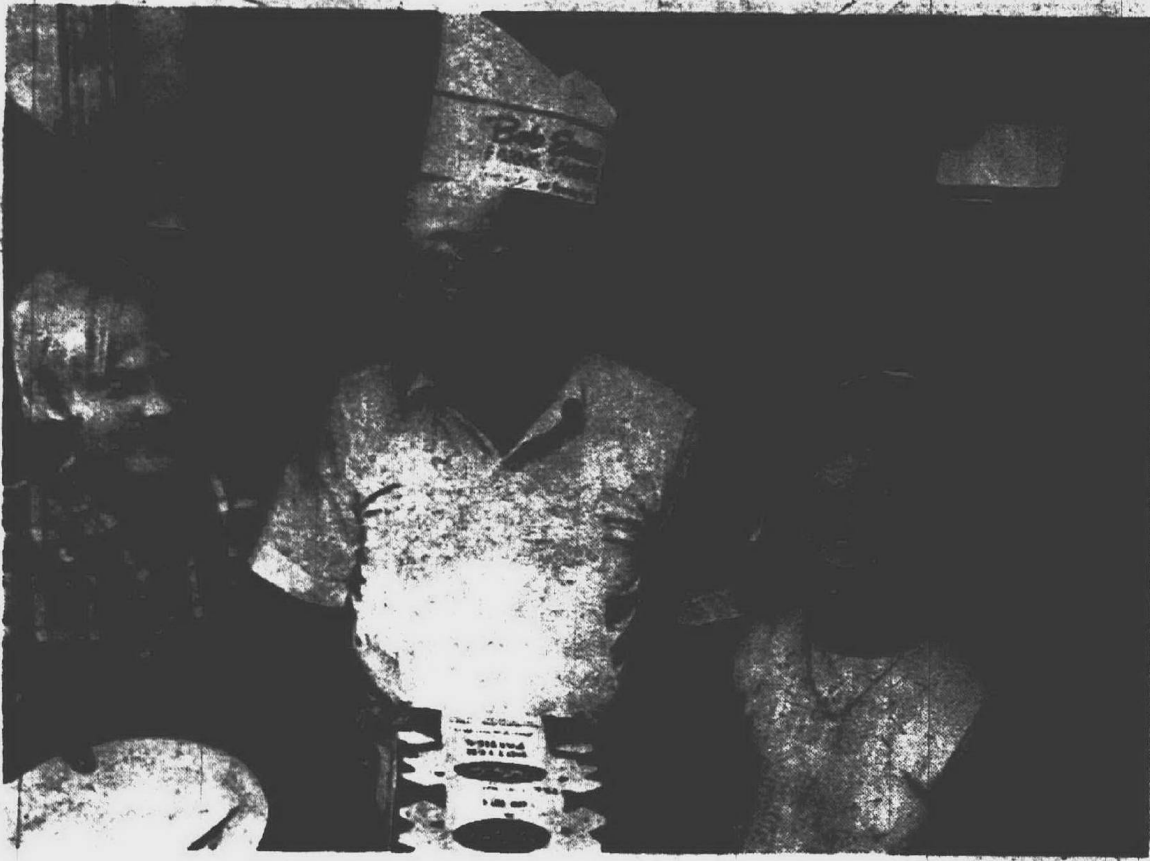

Persons who wish to sign up as bowling substitutes also are needed, said Mrs. Jordan.

PHS Students Can Get Class Plan Tuesday

Plymouth High School Principal Bill Brown announced Friday that a special orientation program will be held Tuesday, Sept. 7 for students who were unable to attend similar sessions during the past week.

Brown said the high school will be staffed from 9 a.m. to 12 noon to accommodate these 10th, 11th and 12th graders.

During this period they may pick up their class schedules for the fall semester, get locker assignments, have identification pictures taken and submit applications for parking lot permits.

JOE WEST, president of this year's Fall Festival, long has been among the hundreds of club volunteers who annually turn the event into a mammoth feast. ## Center Seeks Supplies

PLYMOUTH With plans progressing for an open house at Plymouth Youth Inc. headquarters throughout the Fall Festival, Director Dale Yagiela has reiterated the need for donations of equipment and supplies.

Youth Inc. is operating the former Mail & Observer Building, 271 S. Main, as an activity center for young people of the community and in Yagiela's words:

"Now that the youth center is becoming a reality, our need for equipment and supplies has become great, ranging from furniture to craft materials."

Yagiela then added, "We would like to remind residents that Plymouth Youth Inc. is a non-profit and tax exempt organization. Donations in the form of equipment and supplies are tax deductible.

"Our only request is that items donated be in reasonably sound condition. We are able to make minor repairs and to refinish furniture, but items needing major refurbishing are a burden."

YAGIELA LISTED these as the most essential items which the organization is seeking:

For the vending and snack bar area -- cafe tables, wrought iron legs for tables, chairs, trash containers.

Art supplies -- acrylic paint, brushes, crayons, artist's charcoal, assorted paper, water color sets, assorted inks and pens, woodcarving tools, wood working clamps, muslin material for canvas, batik wax and dye, macrame twine, silk screen brayers and lacquer paper, potter's wheel and kiln, clays and glazes.

Supplies for clean up -- janitor mops and sponges, push brooms, floor wax, assorted cleaning agents and compounds.

Photography -- enlarger, easel for printing, timer, thermometer, dryer.

Game area -- three pool tables, three cue sets, three ball and rack sets, two ping pong tables, kitchen type tables and chairs.

Stage area -- small public address system, large projector screen, loan of 16 mm sound movie projector, loan of 35 mm slide projector, hand tools.

Yagiela said there also is a need for adults who are willing

Year Of Study Abroad Awaits Plymouth Coed

PLYMOUTH Katherine L. Gotshall, of 1116 Harding, Plymouth, was among 200 pioneering college students who departed Sept. 1 for Arundel, England to enroll in the first class of New England College's overseas branch.

Miss Gotshall, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Gotshall, is a visiting student from Albion College and will major in field studies in the sciences. Miss Gotshall will return to Albion after one year of study in Arundel.

New England College is a four-year liberal arts college in Henniker, N.H., and is the first American institution to operate a branch campus in England. The branch will provide a four-year sequence of courses and will enable liberal arts students from either the NEC-Henniker campus or any other college in the country to enrich their programs by attending the branch for as many years as desired.

Of the 200 enrolling students, 84 are upper classmen transferring from New England College in Henniker. The other 116 are entering freshmen and transfers from other colleges throughout the country.

HAVE YOU EVER, in this age of super highways and space ships, longed to be part of a more relaxed, peaceful era? Just for a day or two? Well, that's really what the Plymouth Fall Festival, which opens next Thursday, is all about.

Strangers expecting to find neon lit carnival rides, belly dancers and a giant midway may be disappointed to find that instead there are booths selling homemade fudge, popcorn and old fashioned penny candy, for what the festival does is show we folks of 1971 what a good time was in 1900.

That was when entertainment meant gathering with your family and neighbors for a picnic in the village square and listening to live music from the bandstand. Seasons were celebrated with lavish community dinners, and sometimes the whole city took a holiday and put on a fair.

That is exactly the flavor of the Fall Festival, which in its 16 years has become Michigan's biggest community event of its kind. It leaves the carnival hoop-la, buggy races and animal displays to others and turns back the clock to a sample of Americana prevalent before cinemascope, TV tubes and other distractions.

EVERYONE GETS into the spirit at festival time, for there's a touch of nostalgia in us all which, in this case, finds expression in turn of the century costumes and down-to-earth small town togetherness which surmounts political differences and ignores city-township boundaries.

It's a time when you will find downtown merchants decorating their windows with antique advertisements and merchandise, and when mothers and daughters dress up in bonnets and ankle-length calico dresses to compete for prizes awarded for best turn of the century costumes.

It's a time, too when you can browse among the clothing, jewelry, furniture and other articles of yesteryear at the Symphony League's annual Antique Mart, or see the works of artists and craftsmen in the newest feature of the festival -- the Arts and Crafts Show at Central School.

More than two dozen organizations will have their concession booths at Kellogg Park, where from the bandstand will come lively and delightful entertainment from Thursday through Sunday.

For a special kick, don't forget the pet show. There will be more scrubbing and beautifying of animals by the kids of Plymouth families these next few days than you can imagine, and Saturday morning they will be out by the hundreds. It's a sight to remember, but there's one new rule this year: No horses or ponies will be allowed. They're simply too big for this type of program, but anything else has a chance for a ribbon.

BEST OF ALL, however, is the feasting. This is the real distinction of this festival, which had its origination in a barbecue and which now has become a four-day picnic that sees hundreds of our men and women manning the cooking and serving lines so that no one goes away hungry.

Maybe there should be one word of caution to neophytes who have just moved into the community: This doesn't come free, so don't leave your wallet at home.

Thursday's German Night items are ala carte, but you can be well fed for about $1.50. The fish dinner Friday is $1.75. On Saturday pancakes and sausage are $1.25 and the beef rib dinner that night goes for $2.50. The barbecued chicken and buttered sweet corn package Sunday calls for $2. If yours is a family of four, and you go the whole route, you won't have much left out of a $40 bill.

Festival President Joe West, Manager Tony Flum and members of the board have done a great job of planning this 1971 fete, and there is fun in store for everyone. Included on that board are Mike Hoben, Daisy Proctor, Terry West, Dick Anderson, Harold Fischer, Dale Carmine, Eldon Martin and Charles Heidt. They deserve high praise for the perfection of their planning, and they promise that there won't be a rain cloud in sight.

WHEN PASTOR John L. Drummond started the Covenant Community Church in Redford Township in 1935, the church consisted of a frame building in the midst of farms. It was located in the spot where the permanent church stands today. The gravel road to the right of the building is Beech Daly.

NOW A MODERN church which has been added onto several times, Covenant Community Church serves several hundred persons who come from surrounding areas including Brighton, Allen Park, Livonia, Westland, Southfield and Redford Township. This picture was taken before Beech Daly (street in the foreground) was widened.

Church To Mark 36th Anniversary

By KATHY MORAN

This weekend will be a double celebration at Covenant Community Church in Redford Township.

A homecoming program on Sunday will celebrate the return of five former parishioners who left the congregation to work full time in Christian service. The five will return for a reunion and a discussion of their work.

But the homecoming will also be a celebration of 36 years since the founding of the church by the Rev. John L. Drummond, who has stayed with the church through its years of growth.

WHILE MOST ministers move around in their work, Rev. Drummond turned down several offers in order to be a part of the church's growth from 20 families to more than 700.

"I never felt my work was finished," he said. "It has been exciting and the church has always been growing." And probably the most important ingredient is when he adds: "I love the people."

Sitting back in his chair and pondering his long service to the church, the aging Rev. Drummond said, "I had chances to go to churches that seemed to have more potential at the time."

"But I always felt that this is where God wanted me to be. I look back with a great deal of satisfaction."

The philosophy that has guided him through the years is to teach the people to love God—then everything else takes care of itself.

"If you love, then you give," he said. "If a man loves a woman, he gives everything he owns to her. If a man learns to love God, he gives everything to Him."

One by-product of this philosophy is the generosity his congregation has shown toward the missions, Rev.

Drummond says. They donated $50,000 to the missions last year.

He can remember when the church was a small struggling group of 20 families and when the church building was a tiny wooden structure in the barren area.

LOCATED AT Beech Daly and Student, the church now owns 43 lots and has two wings for the estimated 725 Sunday school students. It is sandwiched in a residential area and is currently planning to build a student activities building to accommodate the ever-growing youth program.

"I am beginning to marry children whose parents I married," he said. "And I have dedicated infants whose parents I dedicated."

One of the high points in his career was the dedication of the sanctuary in December of 1949 when the church's population had jumped from 20 families to 400 in 14 years. And when he retires in three years, he will have a church that has grown still more in size and population.

His main source of pride is the 30 persons who have left his congregation to go into full time Christian work.

Former parishioners now are working in Lebanon, Mexico, Africa, Brazil and Spain as well as in areas of the United States.

Five of these people will be back on Sunday to share some of their experiences with the congregation that has helped support them.

Included in the five is Rev. Drummond's son, David. Also returning are Navy Chaplain Edward Hanawalt, Pastor William Dondit, Rev. Paul Murphy, and Rev. Morgan Angliis.

THE HOMECOMING will begin with Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. followed by the regular morning service at 11 a.m. with a sermon by Chaplain Hanawalt.

The congregation will gather for a picnic style dinner in the church basement and will conclude with an afternoon service at 2 p.m. Letters from former members and foreign missionaries will be read.

The young Rev. Drummond will show pictures of his recent trip to the Holy Land at the celebration which is open to all members and former members.

Sorrows Church Gets New Pastor

Msgr. Joseph L. Imesch, who has been secretary to John Cardinal Dearden since 1959, has been named new pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church in Farmington.

He is replacing Msgr. Thomas Beahan, who is retiring after serving the parish for 28 years.

Msgr. Imesch will assume his new duties Sept. 13, and conduct his first mass for the parish Sept. 19. Msgr. Beahan will conduct his final mass at Our Lady of Sorrows Sept. 26.

The new pastor was formerly an associate pastor at St. Charles Catholic Church, Detroit, and at St. Mary's of Redford.

He studied in Rome at the Gregorian University and at Sacred Heart Seminary in

Deep Commitment To Truth Is Urged

Deeper commitment to truth is demanded by all who would help mankind, more than 5,000 Christian Science college students from 31 countries were told recently in Boston.

Both student speakers and guests emphasized the need for commitment to the "truth of God and man" in helping to heal pollution, drug addiction, racism and other problems.

Some 250 students from Michigan attended the three-day biennial College Organization meeting held at the First Church of Christ Scientist. Among those from Overland were David Rockington of Plymouth, Cynthia Bell and Andrew Hickman of Livonia and Darryl Carlson of Farmington.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER was Carl J. Weiz, editor of The Christian Science Journal, the Christian Science Sentinel and the Herald of Christian Science.

"The truth of God and man is a tremendous force, an irresistible power," he told the gathering.

"Human life is not to be escaped from but to be understood," he said, adding that when it is understood the lack of love in human life "can be eliminated and the truth demonstrated. This demonstration alone can awaken human beings to their capacity to eliminate the causes of war, poverty, disease."

"Ecology and Population" control was the subject of a symposium. Other topics explored at the meeting included racism, international hostility, identity, sex morality, home and family, women's liberation and the drug culture and occultism.

A number of college students spoke out of firsthand experience with spiritual healing, including a Californian, who told how she was freed from dependency on drugs; a Korean who described the protection he experienced through prayer in a combat zone in Vietnam; a

Reincarnation To Be Topic For Lectures

Various aspects of reincarnation will be examined by Col. Arthur J. Burks (USMC) in lectures at 8 p.m. on Sept. 8 and 9 in the Northland Community Center Auditorium.

"Set Yourself Free" is the title of the lecture on Sept. 8 and "God's Earthly Companions" will be discussed on Sept. 9.

Col. Burks, who has written more than 20 books on metaphysics, transmigration and effect factors in human personality as a result of his investigation of reincarnation.

The lectures, which are under the auspices of St. Timothy Abbey Church in Warren, are open to the public.

Rev. Lester Kinsolving's Religion Update

Working newsmen throughout the world recently received a helping hand—at least in its ideal—from The Vatican.

In a 20,000-word pastoral instruction, approved in its entirety by Pope Paul and entitled "The Media, Public Opinion and Human Progress," The Vatican "utterly condemns the violence against newsmen."

Citing reporters and photographers who "at times risk their lives in the line of duty," the document says: "The safety of such correspondents should be assured in every possible way because of the service they render to man's right to know what is happening."

PRESS PHOTOGRAPHERS will be particularly grateful for this expressed concern—especially those who must photograph riots, and are dangerously vulnerable to attack from the side, while trying to focus their lenses.

Reporters, who often shield their photographers from such attacks, will also be grateful for the Vatican's admonition to "keep to the facts and bear down on the most important of these..."

Columnists, editorial writers and other interpretive writers will appreciate another admonition in the document: "The meaning of what the press reports should be brought out by explanation."

Religion writers will especially rejoice in this statement of ideals from the head of the world's largest denomination—particularly if these ideals are ever carried into effect throughout the Catholic Church itself. For instance:

● This might mean that Pope Paul would give consideration to a new editorial policy (preferably a new editor) for the Vatican's own daily newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, which is very probably the deadliest excuse for a newspaper of any publication west of Pravda. (One candidate for editor could be Robert Hoyt, who made The National Catholic Reporter one of the top religious newspapers in church history and was recently fired by an ungrateful board.)

● The U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops, which makes decisions vitally important to 49 million Catholics (and a great deal of their cash) would immediately stop holding their deliberations behind closed doors.

ACTUALLY THIS attempt at secrecy has been in vain, according to Hiley Ward, religion writer for The Detroit Free Press. Ward reports that he has monitored the last six bishops' meetings, by using everything from the men's room to a 20-foot extension ladder.

His only concern, as he and another religion writer listened behind a curtain at the recent bishops' meeting in Detroit, was that they might give themselves away to the security police by snoring audibly during some of the more extended speeches. Writes Ward:

"I am confident that, even betraying our secrets, the bishops' meeting could again be cracked...I suspect that it would take 50 policemen, a budget of $50,000 and some know-how from the FBI to really keep us out."

Catholic bishops are by no means the only denominational officials who are fascinated with the (inevitably vain) allurements of concealed conclaves. Episcopalians can be every bit as sticky regarding "executive sessions." And sometimes laymen can be even stickier—as was the case recently with University of California professor John T. Noonan.

Dr. Noonan is a trustee of the Jesuit-owned University of San Francisco, which recently underwent a spectacular "Battle of the Jesuits," when the president, Rev. Albert Jonsen, described his seminary classmate and vice president, Rev. Robert Sunderland, as "a good guy, but a bad administrator."

AT THE CONCLUSION of a (closed) meeting of the USF trustees—at which Rev. Sunderland appeared to testify—this writer went to the executive offices and tried to obtain some official comment regarding the trustees' decision in this undeniably newsworthy case. Here he was confronted by Dr. Noonan, who issued a unilateral order: "Get out!"

By way of charitable response, this writer has sent Dr. Noonan a news report of the Vatican document about the press—with underlined passages regarding the reporter's obligation to "bear down," together with the document's sympathetic notation that newsmen often encounter "formidable obstacles."

A Safety Special

Gallimore and Tanger Elementary Schools are working on a special safety project in cooperation with Eastern Michigan University and the Michigan Department of Education. The purpose of the project is to develop a K-12 Safety Education Curriculum for schools throughout the state. Four other school districts are involved. There is every reason for such basic, inherent values as safety, citizenship, and conservation to constitute an important part of the Continuing Education for both Credit and Non-Credit will be starting soon - Sept. 20-21 are the starting dates for most all classes.

Registration, however, begins officially September 8th, but we are accepting registrations now. Our office is open from 8:30 to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, and Monday through Thursday in the evening from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

New Growth In School District

Subdivisions are bursting out all over the Plymouth Community School District.

Home construction is booming along Sheldon Road, north of Joy Road, north of Warren Road and south of Warren Road where about two homes are being completed every day.

More than 500 townhouses and apartments are being constructed along Haggerty between Palmer and Ford Roads. Apartments are under construction along Ford Road east of Haggerty; along Lilley Road north of Joy Road; along Mill Street near Ann Arbor Trail; along Ann Arbor Trail east of Haggerty Road; and along Joy Road east of Haggerty Road.

Paved streets have been completed in a subdivision along Lilley Road south of Warren Road and are being constructed along Ann Arbor Trail west of Sheldon Road.

Other subdivision plans that have been drawn for preliminary review include an extension of Beacon Hill Subdivision; an area at the corner of Palmer and Hamman Roads; a large area along Palmer Road between Sheldon Road and Morton Taylor; more than 100 acres along Lilley Road between Ford and Warren Roads; 80 acres along Sheldon Road south of Ford Road; an area west of Canton Center Road and south of Warren Road, ninety acres west of Beck Road between Ann Arbor Road and Joy Road, some small areas along Haggerty and Lilley Roads south of Ford Road and a new apartment project on Joy Road across from Fiegel School.

Most subdivisions plan to start construction within a year and expect their subdivisions to be completed in a five-year period. When completed these areas alone will bring to the School District more than 12,000 families or more than double the school enrollment.

A School Yard Worth Waiting For

Labister Elementary School children have a double treat awaiting them this fall. First there is a large blacktopped play area complete with lined game areas and the necessary play equipment. This area is adjacent to the field area where the large playground equipment and ball diamond are located. The second treat is the landscaped front yard and court yards of the school. Shrubs and trees have been planted to develop a complete and imaginative plan for the former farm fields. Consultants from the county drain commission, service and the University of Michigan Conservation Department helped examine the problems and potential. Mr. Russell Bjornbak, a long time Plymouth resident, developed the committee's ideas into a plan which called for play areas, beauty areas, and wildlife areas. The planing was done slowly and carefully and was not completed until the spring of 1970. However, the work and the research has given the children and teachers a lasting plan from which to work. Come visit the Labister site and see the changes that have taken place. Also, while you're there, try to visualize the nature area to be developed in the future from seedlings, the giant trees that will have grown from the little trees now there, and the obstacle course that is now only a dream. The plantings and the

New Athletic Facilities Readied

Athletic fields at Centennial Educational Park, Joy and Canton Center Roads, are taking shape following months of construction. The drainage system is complete. Fourteen tennis courts are ready for service. An all-weather rubber track will soon be completed. The football field has been graded and is neatly dressed in bright green sod, kept wet with an underground sprinkler system. A 4,000-seat grandstand is ready for spectators and 2,000-seat mobile bleachers are at the Central field ready to be moved. Entrance buildings that contain toilet facilities and refreshment stands are nearly ready.

Twelve baseball and softball fields will be seeded this fall.

With time for grass to grow, good maintenance practices to develop and final development of plans the Centennial Educational Park will provide outstanding facilities for community-school utilization.

Nurse Aide Program Introduced

This year the Plymouth High School will open its doors to secondary students of the district with a growing number of new ideas and innovation programs. One of the newest of these programs is the nurse aide program. For the first time, forty tenth and eleventh grade girls will begin a program of formal instruction in health occupations. The purpose of this health program is to focus attention on nurse aide careers. Mrs. Janet Charrity, a registered nurse with a rich background of experience in teaching nurse aides, will carry the major responsibility for the introduction and involvement of this program to the total curriculum of the High School.

The Nurse Aide program is two years in length. The first year is designed to offer a concentrated area of classroom study supported by simulated laboratory experience to teach the practical skills of a nurse aide. During the second year of this program, the students will be placed in hospitals and nursing homes through the High School Cooperative Training Program, where they will gain on-the-job experience related to the training they received in high school.

Students will then be able to apply formal classroom training to real situations encountered while on the job. All work experience in the hospitals and nursing homes will be planned and supervised through a training agreement between the school and the participating hospital or nursing careers.

The nurse aide career is just one of many occupations in the health field with a high demand for employment. It is our hope that this program represents the first step in our District's attempt to introduce to those students who have the interest and ability to the vast occupational areas of health careers.

A study conducted by the Lansing Community College, states that a more realistic ratio for effective care should be 350 to 100,000 population.

School Board Schedule Of Meetings

The Plymouth Community School District Board of Education opening of the meetings will be held twice each month on a scheduled for 8:00 p.m. If any citizen would like to speak to a scheduled basis. These two meetings are on the Second Monday and Fourth Tuesday of each month in the Administration Building at 1024 South Mill Street. All meetings are public and

Starkweather Remodeled

During the summer vacation much work was started to improve the facilities at Starkweather School. The greatest need was a larger library which would serve as a resource center. All teaching aids - books, records, tapes, AV equipment, overhead projectors, tape-recorders and the like - would be stored there then sent on loan to the classes. This room is being established in a former classroom. It will have new furniture and have adequate space for the Librarian to work with several children at one time. The former library, a small room, has been paneled and furnished for a Teachers Lounge, lunchroom, and office for the Physical Education teachers, and Teachers Aide. The office on the second floor used by the Counselor and School Social Worker has been paneled and carpeted, covering up the cracked plaster on the walls, and

Schools Are Ready For 10,000 Students

With the opening of this school year the student population will reach the 10,000 mark in school membership. During the last few years the growth of the student body has been at a moderate pace, but as new subdivisions are constructed in the district we can expect the beginning of another rapid growth cycle. The school district has prepared for some of this growth by the building of the Canton High School, and the Miller School is well on its way in the Old Plymouth Subdivision. The Plymouth High School will open the doors this year with the full facility in operation. The wing was completed late in the school year and is now ready to handle all activities. The school staff of 466 teachers, 37 more than last year, will be on hand on Tuesday, September 7, to begin their preparation for the students. During these two days there will be orientation periods in each of the buildings for the new and the experienced staff members. Registration of new students can be taken care of in each of the schools offices and the parents are encouraged to visit the school in either Tuesday or Wednesday of the next week so that their children can be enrolled before the first day of school. The school secretaries are able to work with you in completing the registration material. The high school will institute a parking permit program this fall which will make it necessary that all students who will drive to school on a regular basis will need to have a parking permit. If you have any questions or wish to get your permit contact the high school office.

Schools open on Thursday, September 8, 1971 for all Plymouth students.

Phase Elective English Introduced At Plymouth High

Nongraded, Phase Elective English Curriculum is the new technical term for the new Plymouth High School English program. It is a program that is increasingly being adopted by high schools in Michigan, where it originated, and throughout the country. Phase Elective has been enthusiastically received by teachers, students and parents wherever it has been implemented. Basic language skills developed in an integral part of each elective course. Courses in speech, acting, composition, television and radio, research, journalism and creative writing complement the many literature courses. Very simply, The Phase Elective Curriculum allows students to choose, according to their language capabilities and by their parents who have read the descriptions and phase levels of English courses offered on a semester basis. Each course concentrates on a particular author, period, or theme. At Plymouth High School, 41 courses offer a wide variety of learning experiences. Students, after examining course descriptions, select, elect courses that meet individual needs. The teacher, in turn, is teaching a course in which he has expertise. Courses are phased to indicate levels of language sophistication, and students are encouraged to assess their own language skills before selecting courses. Students who need help in making course selections are assisted not only by counselors, but also by English teachers familiar with their language capabilities and by their parents who have read the descriptions and phase levels of the students' interests and language needs. The Nongraded, Phase Elective English program encourages students to assume the responsibility for educational decisions and allows for a more individualized course of study based on the students' interests and language needs. New Report Cards For

Elementary Schools

At the close of the first marking period Plymouth elementary students will receive a newly designed report card. This new card reflects many of the changes taking place in the schools' instructional practices. Instead of giving a letter grade in specific subjects, the card will identify actual performance levels in Reading and Mathematics with a specific list of the skills which the child has mastered. Over the year the child's progress will be plotted to show the skills acquired. In this way individual growth will be measured for the entire year.

The card will not really be a "card," but rather a printed carbon form that does not need to be returned to school. This will eliminate lost cards and cards that somehow never get back to school. At the end of the year both the teacher and the parent will have a full record of the years work without additional copying.

This new report form was designed last year by a Committee of teachers and administrators. The Committee made use of much information gained from pilot report cards in use at the Farrant, Tanger and Ibbister Elementary Schools. The Board of Education has approved a one year trial period with a careful evaluation in Spring of 1972.

Beginning late in September and early October workshops will be held in each Elementary Building to acquaint parents with the new form and how it should be used in evaluating their child's progress. Teachers also will have workshops in evaluating students and the use of the new reporting form.

A conference will continue to be scheduled with each parent at the end of the first marking period to explain in detail the child's progress and special needs or concerns.

Rotary School Farm

Plymouth Rotary School Farm has increased its animal and waterfowl population considerably during the past few months. Baby kids, lambs, duckling, chicks and calves give an added feature to the learning experiences inherent in the school farm.

W.S.D.P. Our FM Station

Sometime late in October or early November, Plymouth Community School residents can set their F.M. dials to 88.3 and receive Community School information and music being beamed to them from their local High School. Station W.S.D.P. (School District of Plymouth) will become an actual broadcasting station after four years of intensive research, and application procedure to accomplish this end. The station has a two-fold objective, to teach the broadcasting programming.

trade and to enrich the Speech-English curriculum, and secondly, to provide the greater Plymouth Community a public relations instrument which will beam a variety of public interest programs such as community calendar, public meeting of interest, election results, news, music, sports and a variety of educational programs from the wire services. We welcome this newcomer to our community and desire your ideas and input into the success of its programming.

New Construction Continues In School District

Canton High School, the second high school on the Plymouth Community School District Campus, is progressing daily and when completed will be one of the finest athletic plants in the area. This field, of course, will fulfill the needs of both high schools.

Miller Elementary School, the new elementary school under construction east of Sheldon Road and north of Ford Road, is now progressing and steel work is rapidly fitting into place. This facility is scheduled for completion and occupancy in September 1972.

New construction of school facilities is a continuous process if we are to provide the educational requirements for those children residing in the homes of the numerous new housing developments of our school district.

The Centennial Educational high school on the Plymouth Community School District Campus, is progressing daily and when completed will be one of the finest athletic plants in the area. This field, of course, will fulfill the needs of both high schools.

School Libraries Expand Service

Plymouth school libraries - one in every school - continue to expand their services to students and teachers. Most of the libraries, with enlarged collections of audio-visual as well as printed resources, are reaching more students through a greater variety of learning tools now available for their use.

New audio-visual equipment and the resources with which to use them are now an important part of practically all library collections. Librarians are taking over the responsibilities of film rental programs and instruction in the use of audio-visual machines. They are collaborating with teachers to a greater degree than before in such educational efforts as individualized and developmental reading programs. Production of original audio-visual resources for classroom use is also accelerating.

Community involvement is growing. As examples we have the successful book fairs that were conducted in four of the elementary schools last year, aided by the librarians, and the fact that there were volunteer mother aides in four of the secondary libraries.

Hundreds, and in some cases over a thousand, class groups were scheduled into the libraries last year. As other measures of growth, the book holdings of the libraries are now 99,212 volumes compared to 81,506 last year, and circulation figures show that 406,678 items were borrowed as compared to 338,134 a year ago. These kinds of figures show how essential library service is in our educational program, and how well-used the libraries are.

Curriculum Coordinating Committee

The Curriculum Coordinating Committee, a joint committee of administrators and teachers, have worked on a number of Curriculum Projects this past year. Their responsibility includes reviewing, evaluating and creating curriculum studies, course guides and proper media and textbooks for the Plymouth Schools. Many curricular areas were included in this year's study and most will be implemented in the school year 1971-72. Included among the studies were the following:

1. Photography - Science Curricula - High School.
2. Astronomy - Science Curricula - High School.
3. Spiral Language Arts Curriculum - Pioneer District, commercial vendors, subject and media experts, etc.
4. Humanities Program - Pioneer
5. Report Card Evaluation and Review - K-8
6. Language Arts Learning Center - Ibbister
7. Construction of Unipacs - Home Economics - 6-12
8. Follow-up Studies - Vocational Education - High School.

9. Industrial Arts Electronic Curricula for Middle Schools - 6-9
10. Phase Elective English - 9th
11. Drug Education - K-12

Middle School Music, Middle School Philosophy and Structure and K-5 Social Studies will be extended as continuation studies for 1971-72 Curriculum Coordinating Committee considerations.

Much effort and time was produced by the 24-member Committee who use the talents of the entire Plymouth Community teaching and administrative staffs in Study Action Committees. In addition, many professional resource media and personnel were used such as universities, Intermediate School District, commercial vendors, subject and media experts, etc.

The improvements will be reflected in the 1971-72 subject fields. The Curriculum Coordinating Committee is busy organizing for 1971-72 and will evaluate four major phases of the curriculum. Each year four different areas will be emphasized and will cycle the entire curriculum every four years thus giving us an updated look at the teaching of Plymouth Community Schools every four years.

School Bus Transportation

Students in Kindergarten, Grade 1 and Grade 2 will be transported to the school they attend if serious hazards exist as determined by school personnel. Students in Grade 3 through Grade 5 will be transported to the school they attend if they reside one mile or more from the school. Students in Grade 6 through Grade 12 will be transported to the school they attend if they reside one and one-half miles or more from the school. These limitations apply to both public and non-public school students. Under normal conditions, elementary pupils can be expected to walk a half mile and secondary pupils one mile to bus routes.

In view of the fact that the Plymouth Community School District will have more than 266 bus route and 2,192 bus stops this year, space will not permit us to publish the complete list of all routes and all stops. Most transportation schedules will remain the same as last year with one major exception - the pick-up time for all students transported to Plymouth High School (Grades 11-12) will be 15 minutes earlier than last year.

Students and parents desiring transportation information are requested to either phone Mr. Robert Houghton, Director of Transportation, 483-4646, or obtain the information from neighbors. Students and parents residing in new housing developments are encouraged to phone Mr. Houghton.

Regular transportation services for public and non-public school students will begin Thursday, September 9. Students are advised to be at the designated pick-up locations on time.

Student Lunch Cost In School Cafeterias

The cost of student lunches served in school cafeterias of the Plymouth Community School District during the 1971-72 school year will be 45 cents for Central School students, 40 cents for middle school students and 35 cents for elementary school students. Plymouth High School cafeteria service includes a choice of numerous ala carte items with the regular lunch costing 55 cents for students.

The cost of milk in all schools except Plymouth High School, Geer School and Truesdell School will be 3 cents per half pint carton. The price to be charged for a half pint carton of milk at Plymouth High School, Geer School and Truesdell School will be 4 cents.

Lunches may be purchased in all schools of the school district except Geer School and Truesdell School - beginning Thursday, September 9, 1971, the opening day of school. Milk may be purchased at Geer School and Truesdell School.

Reporting To Parents On Student Progress

This year all students of the district will have the same schedule for receiving their grade cards. In the past there were three distinct schedules, but now with the changes at the secondary level of instruction all periods will be on the ten week basis.

There will continue to be the parent-teacher conferences on a regular schedule to supplement the grade cards. Parents are encouraged to call the school offices whenever there are concerns about the progress of their child. Special conferences will be arranged.

Plymouth High Band Off To Camp

The members of the Plymouth High Band were off this week to their annual camp where Director Mr. James Griffith will put them through their paces so the spectators will enjoy the performances during the football season.

Camp Imistree, located near Maple City, Michigan, will resound with the blare of the horns and the quiet trills of the woodwinds all week long. The students will have some time for their own pleasures, but the main thrust of the camp is to upgrade their skills and marching ability.

The band will return to the Plymouth community on Sunday, September 5, 1971 and will play for the assembled teachers on Tuesday, September 7th in the High School auditorium.

Country School Tradition Still Alive

Geer School houses approximately 40 students in two classrooms. Mrs. Mary Lou Horwood is the teacher for the combination first and second grade class and Mrs. Rita McCumpha will teach the combination third and fourth grade class. Special service personnel from the Bird Elementary School will provide the school with Art, Music, and enhance its appearance, but also improve its effectiveness for the children and community. The exterior brick is being sandblasted and will be resealed to prevent weathering and deterioration. Eaves, downspouts and tile to drain away surface water have been installed. New fencing and a blacktop play and parking area are scheduled for installation. In addition the school's Parent organization has recently erected a sign that gives identity to the school.

The Geer School through its enthusiastic parents and children continues to operate as a community center. Its parent organization includes every one from students to senior citizens in its functions maintaining the interdependent close knit relationships characterized by the country school of years gone by. The students find in the combination classes a freedom to learn and relearn in many different ways. Classes often and easily take on the non-graded approach which more modern school settings are trying to achieve. As a result the children of Geer are happy well-trained students who compare very favorably to students in the entire district.

State Of Mich. Assessment Tests

Again the fourth and seventh grade students of the Plymouth Community Schools were tested by the required State of Michigan Assessment Battery. Plymouth's composite achievement was at the 75th percentile when compared with other schools in the State. The highest area of achievement (33rd percentile) was in the Vocabulary area. A marked improvement was registered in the areas of attitude toward achievement, attitude toward school and self-concept with some of our schools scoring in the high 90th percentiles.

Student Teachers In Plymouth

Western Michigan University is again participating with the Plymouth Community School District in a cooperative student teacher program. Dr. James R. Doyle will serve on a half-time basis as Coordinator of Western Michigan University student teachers during the school year.

One of the two balcony sections, as viewed from the stage.

Plymouth High Schools New Auditorium

The new facilities at Plymouth High School have all been designed with the idea of utility foremost in mind. Plymouth's auditorium, partitions closed it can accommodate one group of 828 and two groups of 150, or one group of 828 and a group of 150. The facility has been scheduled for classes approximately 63 per cent of each week. In addition, other classes will meet in the area as needs arise.

Other unique features of the auditorium include separate public address systems in each of the three lecture areas, adequate stage area, an orchestra pit, and ample space under the stage area for teaching stage craft, a course to be offered in the school curriculum.

Plymouth's modern, tri-visible auditorium serves many purposes. It can easily meet the needs traditionally assigned to such an area. It will be heavily scheduled for community functions during non-school hours. In addition, its Canton High School nears completion.

Missionary Plans Talk In Plymouth

Virginia C. Hamlin, an Assemblies of God missionary to North India, will be guest speaker Wednesday, Sept. 8, at 7:30 p.m., in the Plymouth Assembly of God, 42021 E. Ann Arbor Trail.

The public may hear her speak and see her collection of slides, curios and Indian costumes.

MISS HAMLIN has served the national church as Sunday school representative, a job which involved considerable travel throughout India promoting Sunday school work, holding workers' training courses and conducting Vacation Bible Schools and children's meeting.

For six months before her return to the U.S. on furlough, Miss Hamlin was supervisor of the Bettiah Assemblies of God Orphanage and School, located about 40 miles from the border of Nepal. During her term, she also served as secretary of the field fellowship of Assemblies of God missionaries in North India.

Miss Hamlin first went to India in October 1951, and has completed three terms of service there.

SHE GRADUATED from Central Bible College, Springfield, Mo., in 1946. She took further classes there during the spring semester this year, working towards a degree in Christian education. Before her missionary appointment, Miss Hamlin pastored a church in Michigan and also worked for a time under the Michigan Home Missions Department of the Assemblies.

SA Corps To Expand Facilities

Ground-breaking ceremonies will be held Sunday, Sept. 12, at 12:15 p.m. for new facilities of the Detroit Citadel Corps of the Salvation Army. The new building, which will include a chapel for the Citadel congregation and facilities for community activities, will be located at 26700 W. Warren Rd., Dearborn Heights.

live in Dearborn Heights, Garden City, Westland, Livonia and other western suburbs. Services are presently being held in a small church building which was formerly the Warren Valley Baptist Church. They are held each Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. and the midweek prayer meeting and Bible study sessions are held Wednesdays at 8 p.m. Major Herbert Luhn is the Corps officer-pastor. The new building, an addition to present facilities, will cost about $400,000 and give an additional 20,200 square feet. Main rooms will be an auditorium seating 300, an all-purpose room and gymnasium, nursery, offices, craft room, youth activity rooms, choir and band rooms and locker and shower rooms.

The Corps, a congregational unit of the Salvation Army, has been meeting at the Dearborn Heights location since March of this year. Its membership numbers about 200, and it is noted for its excellent brass band composed of about 40 men.

'Good Samaritans' Have Day Sept. 5

In a second thrust at raising $1.5 million for "Project Neighbor," a social concerns endeavor, congregations of the American Lutheran Church throughout the country have been asked to designate Sept. 5 as "Good Samaritan Sunday."

Responding to a 1970 convention directive that the Project Neighbor campaign be "spurred on to a successful conclusion," George A. Parks of Los Angeles, national chairman, has addressed a letter to the 4,822 congregations of the church suggesting additional cash gifts.

FUNDS RAISED by the special drive are used to augment a $500,000 annual appropriation by the ALC, originated in 1968, to alleviate national crisis conditions in community originated projects.

The day will begin with a 1 p.m. mass in honor of the Polish saints, and will include a visit to the Alumni Memorial Library, a lecture on Father Maximilian Kolbe, the priest-martyr, and the dedication of the Cross of Polish relics, donated to the schools by the Cardinal Primate of Poland, Stefan Wyszynski.

Journals, Memories Come From Study Tour

Journals packed with notes and programs and memories filled with exciting experiences belong to 10 Ladywood High School students back from a study tour of Europe.

The girls, members of a 60-student contingent that spent a "Summertime in Europe" under sponsorship of the Detroit Archdiocese, figure they'll find plenty of use of the things they learned as they resume studies at the Livonia school this fall.

Michelle Mayville, Mary Reddington and Carole Barann, all Livonians, described visits to London, Paris, the Netherlands, Austria and Rome that were part of the six-week course.

THEY ALSO reported with enthusiasm an extra few days in Belgium, where several of the students lived for a few days with relatives of one of the nuns who served as counselors for the trip. "That was the best part of the trip," Mary said. "The family took us everywhere and everyone did so much for us."

At each of the five stops there was study of the culture of the country and a chance for the American students to make comparisons with other lands.

Teachers from each country helped with the school instruction, the girls said. As part of the study course, each member of the course made a journal, including in it notes on class sessions as well as tickets, snapshots and concert programs and tour brochures.

"Sometimes it seemed kind of hard to keep it up," Carole said, "but it certainly was worth it to have the journal as a souvenir."

HIGHLIGHTS of the trip, besides the jaunt to Belgium, included the Louvre statues, the Roman ruins and a last-day farewell mass.

"We had such a good group, and we made friends from all over Michigan," Michelle said. "It was hard to leave everyone."

They were, however, all glad to get back to hamburgers, hot water, families and the English language. And they agreed they definitely planned to return to Europe.

Wolverine Celebrates 100th Year Of 'Grand'

The Roaring Grand, with the nation's best two, three and four-year-old pacers and trotters, moves into Wolverine Raceway Monday for a two week celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Grand Circuit.

Speedy Crown, winner of this year's Hambletonian, trotting's counterpart of the Kentucky Derby; Albatross, the year's most outstanding three-year-old pacer with 14 straight victories; Hoot Speed, Quick Pride, A.C.'s Orion, Kentucky, Strike Out, fastest two-year-old pacer with a time of 1:58; and Song Cam, unbeaten juvenile trotter with nine wins in a row—all are expected to perform during the celebration.

Incidentally, the program starts Monday and continues through Saturday, Sept. 18.

THE RICH STAKES program opens Wednesday, Sept. 8 with the renewal of the $25,000 Matron for three-year-old trotters and continues for eight successive nights.

That's the most stakes ever put together in such rapid fire order in this part of the Midwest.

Just to add a bit of frosting to the cake, Wolverine will present its "Good Ol' Times" program next Friday (Sept. 10) in conjunction with the 20th revival of the ancient Motor City Pace.

A year ago the old times night attracted the largest harness racing crowd in Michigan history with 19,715 passing through the turnstiles to wager an all-time high Wolverine record of $850,982.

Actually, the Roaring Grand portion of the two-week celebration doesn't begin until Wednesday (Sept. 8) but what a start...the $25,000 Matron three-year-old trot that brings Speedy Crown to the attention of area fans for the first time.

Driver-Trainer Howard Beissinger called Wolverine Racing Secretary Bill Connors

earlier in the week to report that his Hambletonian champion would arrive over the weekend and workout on the big mile track Monday.

Naturally, he is the early choice, just as he was in DuQuoin, Ill., and that's as it should be since he'll have most of the same list of challengers.

Castleton Farm's Hoot Speed, who beat Speedy Crown earlier in the season, will be on hand as will Billy Haughton's A.C.'s Orion, Stan Dancer's Quick Pride and Savoir, who had a 2-4 finish in the two heats of the rich classic.

Aged trotters move into the spot light Thursday for the Merchants and Manufacturers stake which has an estimated value of $25,000 and goes two heats over a mile.

THEN COMES "Good Ol' Times" and the Motor City Pace on Friday (Sept. 10). It will be a night when Wolverine rolls back the prices to the good old days.

There'll be hot dogs for a dime, admission to the grandstand for 50 cents, pop, ice cream and popcorn for a nickel. All of the prices that go back to the turn of the century.

And there'll be the renewal of the historic Motor City pace with a purse of $25,000 and an anticipated entry of 20. Should the entry force two eliminations, which is probable, then the first five finishers in each will come back for the championship finale.

And that's just the start of a celebration that finds: Monday, Sept. 13—Matron for two-year-old trotters for $12,500; Tuesday, Sept. 14—Matron, two-year-old pace for $12,500; Wednesday, Sept. 15—Matron, four-year-old pace, $40,000; Thursday, Sept. 16—Matron, four-year-old trot, $40,000; and Friday, Sept. 17—Matron, three-year-old pace for $25,000.

The last mentioned brings Albatross to town and gives fans a chance to see the successor to Bret Hanover.

ALBATROSS, the newest "wonder horse" of the standardbreds, will perform before Detroit area and Michigan harness racing fans at Wolverine Raceway during Grand Circuit week. The three-year-old has a string of 14 straight victories, a clocking of 1:57 and is a prohibitive favorite in the Little Brown Jug slated for late September in Delaware, O.

Larry Snyder Heads For New Jockey Honors

In 1969, Larry Snyder set an all-time Michigan riding record by winning 144 races in 90 days at the Hazel Park Race Track. The way he is going these days, Snyder could shatter that record in the thoroughbred meeting which will continue through December 18 at Hazel Park.

In the first 24 days of the meeting, Snyder has gone to the post 158 times with 41 winners, 27 show horses and 22 that placed. If he can continue that pace, he will account for 163 decisions in the first 90 days.

If he maintained that winning percentage for the additional 30 days at the track this year, he could wind up with a staggering total of 204 victories.

HE HAS a long way to go but he is on his way. He has already had five days at Hazel Park this season in which he has won three races, and one afternoon on which he won four.

Only twice in the first four weeks has he failed to make it to the winner's circle at least once in the afternoon.

Durability and limitless energy are Snyder's great assets. He has ridden an average of almost seven races daily. Snyder always comes to win. He does his best every time the bell rings. He never beats himself. His feat of finishing in the money better than 50 per cent of the time points up his high consistency.

"I'm getting some live horses," smiles Snyder. "No jockey can win if he doesn't have enough horse under him."

There is more to it than that, of course, but Snyder is never a man to boast. The 29-year-old Toledo (Ohio) native remains one of the most modest stars in sports' big time. His success has never gone to his head.

If Snyder wins the riding championship this year—and there's nobody close to him now—he will become the first jockey to take the title four times at Hazel Park.

He won the riding honors in 1966, 1969 and 1970, besides finishing second in 1967 and 1968.

More than a quarter of a million strong, Metropolitan Detroit's vast army of bowlers will move to the firing line this week to open what has all indications of being the best season of all time.

For the first time the army will include more than 100,000 women and there will be approximately 50,000 youths to help write a new page in tenpin history.

All of the firing lines in Observerland are filled to overflowing and, in many cases, there will be as many as five leagues a day to meet the demand.

As an example there are so many senior citizens in the ranks that Livonia Lanes, where the league got its start, has been forced to organize the second circuit. As a result they'll be bowling in both morning and afternoon.

At Merri-Bowl the story is the same. Doris Maltby reports that she has many more requests than she can fill and that it is going to be a good trick if they can pack them in.

There will be some other changes along the line.

The Livonia Lanes Classic, long a fixture on the bowling scene on Monday nights, has passed from view and the bowlers now will compete in the Whirlwind League.

THE BOWLERS turned back the pages last weekend and many of them had the time of their lives celebrating "The Good Ole Days."

Many establishments in Observerland had turnaway gatherings during the afternoon and evening when the bowlers appeared in the outfits they wore 25 years ago and paid the same price—25 cents a line.

In some cases the bowlers waited four hours for their turn on the approaches—and this was the only thing different than what we now know as the good old days.

THERE ARE rumors around Westland Bowl that Tony Lindemann, former captain of the champion Stroh team, has just about changed his mind on retiring.

At the close of last season he gave up the Alexander-Horning franchise in the All-Star Classic and announced that he was about to become a spectator.

Now, it is rumored that he will be back in the Westland Classic where he can again become a rival to Eddie Lubanski who is joining the Ira Wilson team.

THERE IS ONE bowler in the area who is not looking forward to the coming season with any degree of delight.

She is Ann Setlock, instructor at Garden Lanes and the top average woman bowler in the state a year ago.

Sometime during the summer Ann suffered a pinched nerve in her back and is now under a doctor's care.

"I can still bowl," she says, "but it is with a bit of a strain. I certainly am not looking forward to some of the painful nights I am sure to suffer."

With Ann on the disabled list her rivalry with Elvira Toepfer for the top average title will be broken up. Ann finished second to Elvira for four years before she finally landed on top last year.

Elvira, now a grandmother, showed some of her skill last weekend in Flint where she finished in 11th place in the Women's National Pro Tournament.

Elvira, now a grandmother, showed some of her skill last weekend in Flint where she finished in 11th place in the Women's National Pro Tour tournament at South Lanes. She was the only Michigan bowler to cash and came away with $500.

THERE'LL BE a new battle front for the bowlers in Observerland within the next few weeks.

Woodland Lanes, a 20-lane establishment, is about ready to open. It is located on Plymouth Road, just a bit west of Farmington Road.

AS A TRIBUTE to little Tim Wilson, who brought Livonia its first national individual bowling championship last week by winning the 8-11-year-old bracket in the Physical Fitness tournament in Boston, they are going to hang a picture of him in Livonia Lanes.

He will be the first bowler so honored in Observerland.

It's PP&K Week, So Says Milliken

Gov. William Milliken has declared this week Punt, Pass and Kick (PP&K) week in Michigan. PP&K is a football-youth program in which more than 20,000 Michigan boys enrolled last year.

The program is co-sponsored by Ford dealers across the country and the National Football League. Now entering its 11th year, PP&K has attracted more than 7,000,000 boys—including more than a million last year.

REGISTRATIONS for the 1971 PP&K competition are being accepted through Sept.

30 at participating Ford dealerships in Michigan.

Participants punt, pass and kick against boys' own age. Any boy aged 8 to 13 is eligible to register. He must be accompanied by one of his parents or his legal guardian. There is no entry fee.

Scoring is based on distance and accuracy.

Twelve national finalists, two in each of the six age groups, will compete for the championship during half time of the NFC-AFC Super Bowl game in New Orleans, Jan. 16.

CONTACT WORK, especially on offensive maneuvers, has the attention of Farmington High gridders who finally started drills last Monday. The Falcons have two weeks to get ready for their opener on Sept. 17. (Observer photo by Harry Mauthe)

Raiders Must Rebuild For Defense Of Title

The dawning of the new high school football season automatically directs the spotlight on a team that almost wasn't — North Farmington.

In 1970, the Raiders were champions of Michigan's Class A gridiron wars.

They won nine of nine and cleaned up on everything possible...from the Northwest Suburban League title to the Observer area crown to the state Class A crown.

But there were days last week when it appeared the Raiders might not be functioning this fall along with their rivals at Farmington and Harrison High because of the failure of a millage vote.

THE CITIZENS CAME to the rescue of the Farmington sports program, and other extra-curricular activities within the schools, and coach Ron Holland of North Farmington says:

"We'll be there, with 11 men on the offense and 11 on the defense."

This might be taken to mean the Raiders won't pack the wallop they did a year ago. That admittedly will be tough with a loss like quarterback Drew Mahalic, prep player of the year in Michigan who now is at Notre Dame.

But, those who know will tell you: "Don't cry for North Farmington. They'll be rough again."

Holland really isn't crying. He has 14 seniors back and the overall squad has grown from just 26 a year ago to 40 this season.

Marty Raymond, who missed a good deal of last year with a shoulder injury, stepped up as Mahalic's replacement at quarterback, although John Dwyer is making a serious challenge for the post.

Gow's brother Craig, who was an all-conference defensive back last season, is destined to do a lot of running offensively along with Brad Pearce and Bob D'Agostino.

Chuck Wolfe and Bill Doerr are dueling as the slot backs with Bill Weaver, the Fredericks brothers, Jim and Tom, and Bill Gilmour out at the ends. Tom Fredericks is a senior, Jim a sophomore.

In the line, there are Chuck Petersen at center, guards Stanton Clough, Mark Daubenmeyer and Jim Lough at the guards with Ron Crow and Dave Rotary at the tackles.

Most of the Raiders will go both ways.

S'field Banks On Seniors For Winner

"The Year of the Senior....."

That's the way it looks, football speaking, at Southfield High School after one week of conditioning and another week of full-scale practice.

Surveying the scene, Coach Ed Bryant finds his 60 man squad is dominated by seniors and sophomores with "not too many good juniors in between."

So, at least to start the season against Southfield Lathrup a week hence, Bryant will count mostly on seniors to carry the load, although he's certain that along the way the underclassmen will blossom and work their way into the Blue Jays' picture.

THERE ARE NO tears for Bryant, although there well might be what with the losses via graduations of the likes of John Solberg, and Roger Peterman among others.

Solberg ran for more yard age in his prep career than anybody in Southfield history as he erased the record previously than anybody in Southfield history as he erased the record previously set by Ted Simmons, who now catches for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Peterman, meantime, cracked the Southfield record for pass receptions.

Both wound up gaining postseason all-star acclaim as Southfield finished with a 6-3 overall record and placed third behind Ferndale and Kimball in the Southeastern Michigan Association.

"We have good size, good attitude and will have good speed," says Bryant who has eight starters back among his 16 lettermen.

He's looking to Bill Sage, a senior, to pick up some of the slack created by the departure of Solberg.

"Bill is a fine runner who sure would have taken some of the pressure off John last year had he not suffered a knee injury that kept him out," says the veteran coach.

Jim Hartman appears to have the inside edge at quarterback as he duels with Chris Blazok for the post.

Pat Watts shapes up as a standout fullback while in the line there are Joe Saunders and Mark Ditchfield at the guards and Mark Lundell and Bill Zukoff at the tackles.

Linebacker Duane Petrillo is another on whom Bryant says "we are building around for 1971."

JEFF MAIN, who was a standout lineman at Our Lady of Sorrows last season, has enrolled at Southfield with the closing of Sorrows' senior high and figures to be a first-rate addition.

There's also Mark Stiles, who came to Southfield a year ago from Ohio, but didn't play any football. Stiles, who went on to make a letter in basketball, should do well as an end.

Bryant will know more about his team after a four-day pre-season scrimmage which will involve Catholic Central, Redford Union and Churchill.

Rocks Eye Two-Platoon System

There may be a professional look to the Plymouth High football team this fall.

If Coach Tom Moshimer's plans work out, he'll go for the two platoon system.

"We certainly have the numbers to do it that way," said Moshimer after his Rocks completed two weeks of practice.

He has 55 juniors and seniors on the roster, along with 33 sophomores.

"With that many we should be able to specialize more than we have in the last couple years," declared Moshimer who is especially pleased by the overall attitude among the candidates.

The roster is not overly stuffed with lettermen. There are just 13 winners of the "P" back and few played too much as starters a season again.

ON OFFENSE only end Gary Close and halfback Carl Herter can be tabbed as regular returnees. They'll team with linebacker Mike Henry to serve as the Rocks' tri-captains.

Defensively, Moshimer had hoped to have the Hees twins-Dan and Dave-working together this season. Last year, it always seemed that one or the other was sidelined with an injury.

Now Dan will miss some of this season because of injury to his hand when cut by glass. He already has undergone surgery twice.

Until Dan returns, Dave will be present to carry the Hees colors.

Not only is Dave regarded a topflight defensive player, he also is one of four candidates staging a bitter fight for the quarterback slot.

Dave is the only senior of the quartet. The others-Jim Szilagyi, Steve Robb and Jeff Stringham-are juniors.

"It's a nice problem, having four trying for the quarterback job," says Moshimer. "There have been times when we were fortunate to have just one good one around."

Halfback Tom Matthews also is a good bet to be a starter. He lettered last season.

Analyzing the Rocks, Moshimer puts it this way:

Defense Franklin Problem

In making comparisons, the defensive line on the Franklin High School football team this fall will look pretty small - when one remembers last year's front wall.

That's the unit which was led by all-stater Jim Craig and averaged more than 220 pounds per man.

This year's front wall will go "only around 190 pounds," said coach George Lovich.

Lovich, however, can take heart. Not too many teams have lines averaging 190 in the prep ranks.

The reduction in the size of the Franklin line is just one of the problems facing Lovich as he readies Franklin for the season opener a week from Friday against Garden City West.

LOVICH IS SHY on returning starters - only two on defense and six on offense - from last year's team which had a 6-1 record, bowing only to Center Line and North Farmington, two of the area's powerhouses.

Mark Newman and Bob Lee, both backs, are the two defensive returnees while the offensive carryovers are led by quarterback John Casey, guard Chuck Clark, end Ron Wilson, back John Pippo and the Graham twins, Mike and Rick.

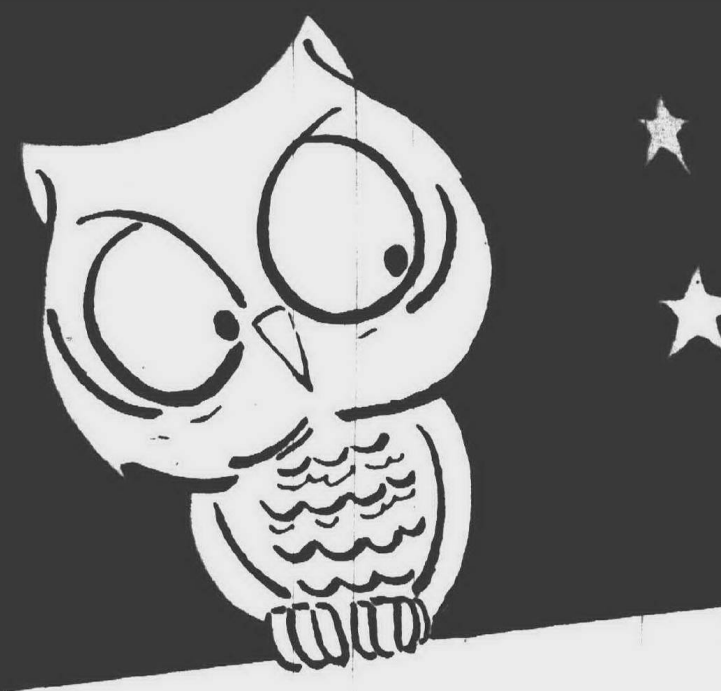

Mike Graham plays tackle and Rick center.

"We have a lot of it's on this team," says Lovich.

Bride's Brother Performs Rites

The Rev. Michael Dunkelberger was the officiating minister at a ceremony uniting in marriage his sister, Susan Kay Dunkelberger, and Peter Michael Russo, Saturday, Aug. 14. He was assisted by the Rev. Andrew J. Forish.

The wedding took place in Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church. Dr. Richard Dunkelberger, the father of the bride, gave his daughter in marriage. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Russo of Leonia, N.J.

THE BRIDE WORE a silk organza gown with an empire waist and Camelot sleeves. Her silk illusion mantilla formed a train and her bridal bouquet was a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids.

Mrs. Mack Burkett was her sister's matron of honor and Mrs. Michael Dunkelberger was bridesmaid for her sister-in-law. Both attendants were gowned in matching dresses with scooped neck white bodices and Camelot sleeves with long full skirts of apricot and white print chiffon. They wore apricot silk illusion veils over Dior bows and carried baskets of daisies and apricot carnations.

Honorary bridesmaids assisting at the reception were Mrs. Robert Regan of Paramus, N.J., Mrs. Joseph Camilleri of Leonia, Mrs. Paul Dunkelberger of Battle Creek, and Mrs. Danny Diehl and Mrs. Arthur Beumler of Livonia.

Joseph Camilleri, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, was best man. The ushers were another brother-in-law Robert Regan, Richard Frolov of Leonia, Mack Burkett of Romulus, and Paul Dunkelberger of Battle Creek.

MRS. DUNKELBERGER wore a beige eyelet dress with white accessories. Mrs. Russo chose pink peau de soie with white accessories. Both wore corsages of orchids. Among the guests was Mrs. Mayia Dunkelberger of Bangor, the bride's grandmother.

The reception was held in the church Fellowship Hall for 325 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Russo will make their home in Emporia, Kan., where both attend the College of Emporia. The bride is completing her senior year, and the bridegroom is working for a postgraduate degree.

Hostesses Offer Service

Welcome Wagon, a business that welcomes new residents to communities, has announced appointment of a new hostess in Redford Township and a new service in Plymouth.

Mrs. Edith Furcsik, 35190 West Six Mile, Livonia, has been a Welcome Wagon hostess in her home city and now has permission from the Redford Township board of trustees to call on newcomers to that area.

She will begin the service as soon as she has sufficient sponsorship from Redford businessmen.

In Plymouth, hostess Marion McQuade will begin calling on brides-to-be whose engagements are announced locally to offer assistance in planning weddings.

Similar services are offered in Farmington by Lettie Jacques and in Livonia by Lorraine Thrush.

Families interested in a call from one of the Welcome Wagon hostesses may consult the telephone book yellow pages.

Bentley Teacher Wed In Dearborn

Gloria Diane Krolicki became the bride of Dr. Ronald Charles Fontanesi in an evening ceremony Friday, Aug. 27, in St. Alphonsus Catholic church in Dearborn.

The bride, a teacher at Bentley High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Krolicki of Dearborn. Mr. and Mrs. Victor L. Fontanesi of Warren are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. John Mitka of New York, cousin of the bride, celebrated the nuptial mass.

THE BRIDE wore a Mr. Irving gown of candlelight silk organza with reembroidered alencon lace fashioning the bodice and edging the hemline. Her silk illusion veil fell from a matching lace headpiece, and she carried white roses and stephanotis surrounding an orchid.

Marsha L. Krolicki, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Linda Krolicki, a cousin, and Carol Bond and Patricia Kurtz.

Their floor-length gowns had white silk organza bodices and challis skirts in a colorful abstract print.

Three young cousins of the bride also served in the wedding party, wearing candlelight silk organza with lace and velvet ribbon trim. Madelyn Krolicki was junior bridesmaid, and Carol and Michele Krolicki were flower girls.

All the attendants carried baskets of deep pink roses.

DR. ROBERT FONTANESI of California was best man for his brother. The ushers were William Fontanesi, another brother, John Fontanesi, a cousin, Dr. Paul Mason, Gerald Zlotucha and Gerald Caratelli. Junior usher was Joseph Fontanesi, the bridegroom's cousin.

Mrs. Krolicki wore a gown of champagne wool silk with beading trim, and Mrs. Fontanesi was in pale yellow silk worsted.

The newlyweds are traveling in Europe for their honeymoon.

Livonia Pair Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tomkiewicz of Stonehouse Drive, Livonia, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, Aug. 22, at an open house in Dearborn Heights. Sixty-four guests attended the party.

Helping them celebrate were their three sons, George and Frank of Dearborn Heights and Thomas Tomkiewicz of Livonia; their two daughters-in-law, and four grandchildren.

The couple was married at St. Stanislaw Church, Wyandotte, Aug. 22, 1921.

IT WAS A GOOD SUMMER for many Observerland youngsters, who attended Michigan's second largest summer camp of the arts, Blue Lake, located 20 miles north of Muskegon. It is affiliated with the Michigan State University youth music program. Noreen Carroll (left) is a veteran Blue Laker, who attended two sessions last year at the camp. She is shown perking up the violin section of the orchestra during rehearsals. Sixteen-year-old Noreen is a student at South Redford's Thurston High School. In the brass section, Tom Sydor, a Clarenceville High School junior, is in the foreground. Sydor was one of three Livonians attending Blue Lake. Others were Charles Rasko and Daniel Beehbohm. Every kind of artistic endeavor is represented at Blue Lake, and that's Rodney Allen at the drawing board. He is concentrating on figure sketches on charcoal during a morning ballet class. Rodney attends Farmington High School and his home is in Northville. Drama courses are also given at Blue Lake.
