GROUND SOON WILL BE BROKEN for construction of the Dunning Memorial Museum at the corner of Church and Main, across from City Hall, and when completed will have this appearance, as presented by the architect. The museum has been made possible through the fund raising efforts of the Historical Society and, in particular, a gift in excess of $100,000 from Miss Margaret Dunning.

Gift From Margaret Dunning Speeds Plans For Museum

By W. W. EDGAR

The long dreamed of historical museum is going to become a reality.

Through the generosity of Margaret Dunning, one of Plymouth's most dedicated philanthropists, it will be built as a memorial to her parents—Charles and Bessie Dunning—and presented as a gift to the people of the entire Plymouth community.

Announcement of the generous gift was made at a meeting of the Historical Society on Wednesday night and brought an end to the secrecy that has surrounded the identification of the donor for the past several months.

In announcing the plans for the building that will fit into the same general pattern architecturally as the City Hall and the Dunning-Hough Library, no mention was made of the exact amount of the money involved. But the donor later confided that it would be in the six figure bracket.

Presentation of the gift brings to an end the speculation and dreaming that have gone on for the past 15 years when the first thoughts were given to raising the old buildings opposite City Hall and constructing a museum in keeping with the lofty ambitions of the Plymouth Historical Society.

UNTIL A FEW months ago, the idea was little more than a dream, but several other dedicated persons—Clarence Moore, Ernie Henry and Herald Hamill—never lost faith.

Then, out of a clear sky, they announced that a donor was standing by waiting for the Historical Society to purchase the site before any building plans could take shape.

Desperately, these men worked on the solicitations of funds to make the purchase and it was consummated only a few months ago when Cass Hough, member of another of Plymouth's dedicated families, sent word from Arkansas, where his company is now located, that he would contribute whatever sum was needed to close the deal.

No announcement ever has been made of the size of the Hough gift. But it linked the Hough name with the museum, just as it was the Hough family that made the library possible.

The new museum will be known officially as the Dunning Memorial Museum, and will contain two floors of exhibit space. There will be a lower level (basement) and the first floor.

According to present plans, ground will be broken within 60 to 90 days and the building will be completed in time for the 1972 Fall Festival.

IN PRESENTING the museum as a memorial to her parents, Miss Dunning confided that at one time her mother, who died 15 years ago, had her eye on the site of the old city hall. Instead, she chose the library that was almost lost when Wayne County officials no longer could make a go of the facility. It was then that her mother stepped in and made possible the present facility that stands as a twin to the City Hall.

"I am delighted to make the museum possible," Miss Dunning stated, "as it will help to bring happiness to all the people and become a way of life in the entire community."

For years one of the most active women in Plymouth, it is ironic that she never has held membership in the Historical Society. Years ago she was affiliated with the city's two banks—the Plymouth United Bank and the First National, which later became the National Bank of Detroit.

Her home, she also owned and operated the Dunning Store on Forest Avenue—the business now known as Minerva's Dinning's.

President of the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union, she also is an antique car buff and has five of the charming models in her possession.

But there is one she'd like to see brought back to Plymouth. That is the Alter car that was manufactured here some years ago.

"There is only one in existence," she commented. "It is owned by someone down in Ohio. I sure would like to have it brought back."

THEN, WITH A smile, she said:

"We'll have a place to put it now."

News that the Historical Museum was to become a reality was met with great appreciation by all city and township officials and businessmen. They see it as another jewel in the city's crown and a boon to the downtown area.

It will be a most important segment of what is now the cultural center of the city and is certain to fulfill the hope of the donor who repeated, "It should bring happiness to a lot of people."

Township Faces Firefighter Crisis

WHETHER YOU CALL the disease which has afflicted Plymouth Township firemen the blue, green, purple or yellow flu is unimportant. Although their attorney says, "This is not a strike," the fact remains that the 17,000 residents of the township have been placed on the brink of disaster by tactics adopted by the firemen in their struggle for a new wage contract.

Consider the implication of potential loss of life and property in this statement from a written report submitted this week by Fire Chief James E. Gignac to Supervisor Maurice M. Breen and his colleagues on the Board of Trustees:

"Due to lack of manpower, our squad has not responded to fire alarms on 33 occasions since May 28, and the snorkel has not responded on 12 occasions."

Gignac went on to say that 16 times during June, July and August, the township had to call on the city fire department for help to transport emergency patients to hospitals, explaining that due to that same lack of manpower his department often has only one fireman on duty at a time—which is neither enough to lift both ends of a stretcher or to fight the fire that may be threatening to burn your home to the ground.

ATTORNEY CLARENCE CHAREST, who is counsel to the firefighters, told the trustees the other night, "We are not withholding services and don't intend to." Then he went right on to say that the men will not respond to call-backs after they have put in the minimum number of hours required by state law.

Township Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes asked if it is true that the full-time firefighters are coaxing the volunteer force to adopt the same approach, i.e. not report when called. She got a vague answer that neither upheld nor denied her implication.

"The firefighters will respond as they always have, when they are under contract," declared Charest. "You are not being fair to these people because you are not paying them wages comparable to surrounding communities. We don't feel we have an obligation to put in any more than the basic minimum time required. This is not a one-way street. But this also is not a ploy to force you to hire more men."

The labor contract between the township government and firemen expired at the end of April, and the dispute has become so tense that it has been submitted to the State Department of Labor for binding arbitration.

"The only problem in this dispute is retroactivity," said Charest in demanding that terms of a new contract be worded to make them effective as of last May 1, a condition which a majority of the board refuses to grant.

THE STATE OF MICHIGAN has given Plymouth Township its worst possible fire insurance rating, which means that you dear people pay the highest price for insurance that can be charged. Chief Gignac says this would be cut in half if he had acceptable manpower.

Conditions in the City of Plymouth are bad, but not that bad, among its firemen, too. They also are working begrudgingly without a contract, but they are working—and grabbing all the overtime they can get.

In the city, the biggest issue which has thwarted negotiations on a new contract to replace that which expired June 30 is that of so-called moonlighting. The administration wants to bar that time-honored practice of firemen, and the smoke-eaters refuse to accept such a dictate.

One of the hilarious sidelights to this dispute is the fact that last week the Fall Festival paid $137 to off-duty firemen for that very purpose—moonlighting to protect festival properties, apparently with the full knowledge of Our Leaders who preach one rule and practice another.

Perhaps what the Plymouth community needs is a cataclysmic fire, with burned bodies strewn across the landscape, just to wake somebody up that this damned dispute has gone too far. Neither side in either of our governments is entirely right, or entirely wrong, any more than the school board or teachers were two years ago. Maybe YOU should be the one who must inevitably be picked to prove that point, and to restore fire protection to the level humanity expects and pays for.

The Stroller...

Minister Awaits Retirement Smiling

By W. W. EDGAR

It isn't often, as you stroll along life's highway, that you meet a more interesting fellow than the Rev. Henry J. Walch, who is now approaching retirement from the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church in Plymouth.

Sitting in his office, with the rays of a setting sun sweeping across his desk, he was counting the days until he would move into the ranks of the unemployed and couldn't help recalling the path he had traveled from the time he decided to become a member of the cloth until this moment when he would bring it to a close.

There were many laughs along the way and many moments of solemn problems, but all in all he admits having had a most enjoyable time.

With a broad smile he recalled that one of his first charges was in Rochester, N.Y. near his home town, during the depression.

"There were so many people out of work," he said, "and the depression so deep because most of the church members were laborers, that I had to accept half salary - and feel lucky to get that."

"But I never met so many wonderful people - people who were able to smile at adversity - as I had in that first charge."

DR. WALCH recalled that he started his ministry in the little town of Oakfield, a town of only 200 or 300 people in upstate New York. But what this congregation lacked in numbers it more than balanced in good fellowship.

Possibly feeling that the conversation was getting too serious he turned in his chair, shielded his eyes from the sun and confided, "I've had some odd experiences, too - and it was a queer twist of the fates that brought me here."

"Even the fact that I studied at Elmhurst College was odd, because, as a young lad I was always afraid of Indians and fellows with knives. I was always scared stiff about murder - and yet I left the calmness of upper New York state to study just outside of Chicago."

With the usual twinkle in his eye, he went on, "Do you know how I ever got to Plymouth?"

Without waiting for an answer, he said -

"I came out here because my boy was run over by a car in southwest Detroit. When that happened, I decided that neighborhood was not for me - so I started looking around."

"Of a sudden I remembered the Presbyterian Church in Plymouth - the church in which I was received into the ministry. You know, a fellow always has an attachment for the church where such things happen."

"By coincidence, the Plymouth church was about to make a change in the pulpit - and fortunately I was chosen - away back in 1943. And here I am, now getting ready to leave for a life of travel abroad."

Plymouth Brevities

By HURST DELANO

BILL AND JANE Clarke spent the summer at Long Lake near Traverse City. Bill caught four fish. He'd have had a fifth except it tore off his line in leaping 10 feet from the water and almost capsizing the boat.

John Hanskat, vice president of your school board, talked at the Lions meeting Thursday in the Thunderbird. He talked about youth.

The Plymouth Youth Symphony laid an egg in its auditions and now will have open auditions for any kid interested at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 21 in the music area of the new high school. If you need transportation, contact Mrs. Paul Penabaker, 41441 Greenbriar.

The Theatre Guild has this announcement:

"The Plymouth Theatre Guild will open its 1971-72 season with a meeting on Monday, Sept. 20 at 8 p.m. in Room 110 at Central Junior High School, with discussion of plans for the first show of their 28th year in the Plymouth area.

"Never Too Late" was the production chosen for this fall's opener, because it is a show appealing to both young and old alike, with a part for anyone interested in walking the boards.

"No experience is needed and everyone is welcome to join in the fun. There are numerous jobs, like set design, make-up, lighting, etc., to be filled by those not wanting to act and still are interested in giving their talent to community theatre, which Plymouth has enjoyed these many years."

BOB DELANEY and Bob Dwyer went to Grand Traverse Bay last weekend to fish. They didn't catch any. They left the keys to the boat behind in Plymouth.

City Manager Norm Gaffney checked his birthday on the September calendar at City Hall. They gave him a martini glass.

If you have anything to add to this potpourri of Plymouthdom, send it to the editor. Make sure to make it air mail, though, because the address has been switched to Livonia.

Next Friday's Plymouth High School football game at Dearborn will begin at 3:45 p.m.

Michigan will beat the Aggies at East Lansing by less than 50 points and Ohio State by less than 30.

LIKE PANCAKES and sausage? Then go the Gallimore PTA's supper Tuesday, Sept. 28 between 5:30 and 7:30 p.m. A family ticket will be $5, or you can pay $1.25 per adult and 75 cents for each child under 12.

The Plymouth Area Planning Commission meeting had to be postponed. All the city guys were out of town.

Mayor Jule Famularo of Troy had such a good time here last May on Mayor's Exchange Day that he invited Our Leaders to come up for golf, cocktails and dinner at Sylvan Glen, which is Troy's new municipal course and inn.

The Y-Indian Guides of the Plymouth YMCA presented their annual "Y - Indian Guides - A - Rama" Thursday at East Middle School. Indian Guides are fathers and sons five to nine who meet twice monthly for the purpose of fostering companionship between each other. The president is Joe Henshaw. Don't knock the purpose.

Why does Ken Vogras keep the cannon locked up in the DPW garage? Let's put it back in the park, or even on top of the hotel. Boy, would that ever show those you know - what's where we stand!

NO WONDER Paul Sincok played the organ recital so well at the Fall Festival; he was just back from eight weeks at Interlochen. And pound for pound, age for age, is there a better musician in town than Marty Jahara?

Golfers beware. There's a new guy in town who bought George and Shirley Spaul's house. He's on the Ypsi faculty at Eastern Michigan University. He used to coach baseball and golf at the University of Detroit. Name: Pat Cavanaugh.

A get acquainted meeting for Plymouth registered nurses will be held at 7:45 p.m. Monday, Sept. 20 in Room 101 of Central School. Mary Pinkerton is in charge and all RN's are invited.

There will be a regular city commission meeting Monday night. Wonder if anyone will ask what happened to that idea about getting Detroit water in here by Sept. 1, and will that 50 per cent increase still go into effect Sept. 30 for the old mud?

'No Politics,' Says Lutheran Broadcaster

WASHINGTON — Dr. Oswald Hoffmann, Lutheran Hour speaker, told members of the Lutheran Laymen's League in their recent convention that "We're not interested in partisan politics in our church."

"God has told us what to do," he added, "tell the good news of Jesus Christ. And that is what we are doing, all over the world through The Lutheran Hour."

The LLL, an auxiliary of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod and sponsor of The Lutheran Hour, gathered for its 45th annual convention in the Washington Hilton Hotel.

Dr. Hoffmann, in reference to the Missouri Synod Convention which was held earlier this month, said it is time for the people in the church to recognize that "God means what He says in 2 Corinthians 5:19-20 — We are reconciled as Christians, and it is time we began to act as reconciled people."

Dr. Hoffmann said there are many people who have a great part in the task of "Bringing Christ to the Nations," which The Lutheran Hour has been doing over radio for 38 years. He referred to the staff members at Lutheran Hour headquarters in St. Louis, to the officers of the LLL, to the Lutheran Hour branch managers and their staffs, the Lutheran pastors, and "all of the Christians of the whole church."

The Lutheran Hour is heard by a weekly audience estimated at well over 40 million people in 125 lands around the world. More than 1,700 radio stations feature Lutheran Hour programs, which are produced in 41 different languages at 23 branch offices around the globe.

Is the Jesus movement just a fad?

Despite T-shirts, buttons, stickers, and even a "Jesus People's wristwatch," the movement is here to stay, more solid than a fad, according to an editorial in the Sept. 16 issue of "Christianity Today."

A bi-weekly evangelical thought journal, "Christianity Today" has reported the movement's beginnings as far back as 1967 and before it had a name.

Though acknowledging that cases of "head-wagon Christianity" exist, the magazine states that "many of the counter-culture converts—the 'street Christians'—of the years 1967-70 are still hanging in there, spiritually stronger than ever."

In addition, some Bible-study groups among adults are multiplying, church youth groups are growing in numbers and spiritual maturity, and students converted in campus revivals are carrying on effective ministries. The charismatic phenomenon is spreading in the major institutional churches, most noticeably among Roman Catholics.

"THIS MOVEMENT comes, after all, as water to the long-parched ground of many churches where the faith has either been abortively demythologized or lifelessly dogmatized," the editorial explains.

Faults in the Jesus movement may be over-reactions against equally wrong conditions in churches: "over-zealousness, social neglect, excessive emotionalism," versus "lifelessness, coldness in worship, lack of genuine fellowship and fervor."

Far from a fad, the Jesus movement was seen to be just one aspect of a world-wide spiritual growth.

"The Church in America has been growing at a rapid rate that the continent may be predominantly Christian in just three decades. Christianity is also growing in South America; it is the evangelistic missionary is growing up to 10 times faster than the birth rate." Other factors are Korea and India, while there are rumors of a spiritual build-up in Eastern block nations and the Soviet Union.

In fact, the world revival predicted by the Bible may be at hand, according to Dr. Robert G. Cozzani, professor of systematic theology at Asbury Theological Seminary, writing in a related article in the same issue of the magazine.

STUDYING BIBLICAL predictions concerning the last days, Cozzani reports that great revival is near at the same time as great adversity— wars, famine, earthquakes, floods and the "complexity of these prophecies makes any conclusion tentative."

Today's world scene is strikingly similar to the Biblical predictions: "The forces of evil as becoming more sinister and aggressive, and on our present course the dissolution of society seems inevitable. At the same time there are increasing signs of spiritual awakening," observes Coleman.

The "spiritual revolution" will prepare the way for the return of Jesus Christ to earth.

according to Coleman's scriptural research.

"Anticipation of this day is a summons to action," states Coleman. "...Never has there been more yearning by more people for spiritual reality, nor has the Church ever had the means it now has to take the gospel to the ends of the earth."

This yearning often takes the form of the hope or dream "that the time of troubles will somehow give way to a wonderful, spiritual Golden Age," writes Dr. Harold O.J. Brown, theological secretary.

New Devotional Is 'alive now!'

"alive now!", a new devotional guide to be published by the magazine "The Upper Room" in connection with the United Methodist Board of Evangelism, will offer its first regular issue in October.

It will be published quarterly.

Differing from many devotional guides, "alive now!" does not require a certain reading schedule but instead has several topics which may be completed at once or read occasionally over a longer period of time.

A test issue published in the spring was devoted to three issues — "The Emerging Christians," "Crutches" and "Joy." All are explored through artwork, essays, prayers and poetry.

"A Christian should be an Alleluia from head to foot," the magazine proclaimed. "alive now!" may be ordered for 75 cents from the United Methodist Church General Board of Evangelism, 1908 Grand, Nashville, Tenn. 37203. Reduced prices are available for orders of 10 or more or 25 or more.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY for William F. Ebert, director of the Livonia branch of the League-Goodwill, was part of a visit by handicapped clients to the Newburgh United Methodist Church recently. Youth fellowship members were hosts for the occasion, and magician Felix A. Lorenz Jr. entertained the guests. # Msgr. Beahan Retiring; 28 Years in OLS Parish

For the second time this year, the parishioners of Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church in Farmington have been jolted by an announcement in their Sunday bulletin.

The first, early this year, announced the closing of Our Lady of Sorrows High School. The second on Aug. 15 was a message from their pastor, the Rev. Msgr. Thomas P. Beahan, informing them of his retirement to be effective Sept. 1.

THE PARISHIONERS of OLS are setting aside a week, from Sept. 18-26, to honor the monsignor and it will be known as "Msgr. Beahan Week."

The week will officially open with the annual Golf Outing at Mersey's Golf and Country Club on Saturday, Sept. 18.

The annual golf outing was originated by the OLS Booster Club many years ago and has always been an occasion of fun and merriment Msgr. Beahan enjoyed participating in.

MSGR. BEAHAN

The event is open to everyone and it is hoped non-parishioners will make reservations early by contacting Frank Carro or Joe Nitekiewicz.

THE WEEK will end on Sunday, Sept. 26, when the monsignor will offer his last mass at 6 p.m. The mass will be a consecrated High Mass and the concelebrants will be priests who have served as assistants to the monsignor in the past.

Singing the mass will be the 28-voice OLS Parish Choir directed by Don Zielenki and accompanied by a four-piece brass section, organ, harp and guitar. Soloist Mrs. Barbara Bailey will present a selection from Handel's "Messiah," "Beautiful Are the Feet of Them That Preach the Gospel of Peace."

Clergy of the local vicariate and members of his family will be in attendance as the guests of the monsignor. Following the mass, a reception will be held from 5 to 7 p.m.

The reason for Msgr. Beahan retiring at this time was summed up in the opening paragraph of his message to the parish. "An accumulation of too many years has caught up with me and I am forced to resign as pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows."

He became pastor on Oct. 6, 1943 and in the 28 years he served in this office he became more than just the spiritual leader of his parish, says one of his parishioners. "He was counselor, confidante and friend to each of his parishioners and his influence for good works was a solid contribution to our community," says Dennis Jones.

MRS. OSCAR ZIEMBA, Sunday school publicity chairman, and Clyde Hobbins Jr., Sunday school superintendent, look over plans for the Sunday School contest being held at Clarenceville United Methodist Church.

Joy And Sadness Mix In New Year Festival

By RABBI MARTIN GORDON
Lewiston Jewish Congregation
Joy and sadness are twins, and the closeness of their relationship is never seen more clearly than at the New Year.

The Old Year, with its disappointments and frustrations, has departed; the New Year with its promise and fulfillment has dawned. It is natural for thoughtful people to call a halt to the busy tempo of their life's problems, its meaning, and use the New Year season for reflection on life's problems, its meaning and its purpose.

This is why the Jewish New Year festival is not an occasion for indulging in hilarity or exuberant mirth, but the beginning of the 10 days of penitence when men are called upon to reassess the value of their lives and consider how the quality can be improved.

But for all his dissatisfaction with his present course, the man of faith affirms that life is God-given and worth living. Rosh Hashanah is a festival, but it is a religious festival, and the keynote of the day is a spirit of quiet confidence in which man seeks to overcome the hindrances to better living by placing his trust in God.

With Yom Kippur, the festival of Rosh Hashanah has come to take a place of prominence on the Jewish calendar. The powerful fascination of those "Days of Awe" continues to draw the majority of Jews into the synagogue.

Although present day Jewish preachers tend to deplore this "three-day-a-year" Judaism—and so far as Judaism is a religion intended to embrace the whole life, their criticism is well founded—yet it is in many ways an encouraging sign of the basic appeal of our faith that at least on these days the challenge does not go unheard.

It is not unusual for men and women to change the whole course of their lives under the influence of the lovely home ceremonies and stirring Synagogue Service of the "days of awe."

Here it is possible, in the expressive words of our rabbis, for man to acquire his eternity in one hour.

Lecture Set In Plymouth CS Church

"Loving to Live" is the subject of a free public lecture on Christian Science to be delivered by Grace Bemis Curtis of Pittsburgh, in First Church of Christ, Scientist of Plymouth, at 4 p.m. Sept. 19. Miss Curtis, who studied at Rochester School of Music and the New York School of Music and the Arts, was a teacher and concert pianist prior to entering the public practice of Christian Science. She is a member of the board of lecturership of the "mother church," The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The public is invited to hear her speak. The infants' room in the Sunday school will be open, with attendants on duty.

Bogolea To Speak In Westland

Mike Bogolea, director of the Community Commission on Drug Abuse, will speak at 8 p.m. Monday, Sept. 20, in the Episcopal Church of the Holy Spirit, 34645 Cowan, Westland. Bogolea will report on the work of the commission, its scope and purpose and the ways in which the community can help accomplish its program.

New Group For Seniors

St. Damian Catholic Church will hold the first meeting of a new group for senior citizens Tuesday, Sept. 21, at 12:30 p.m., in the parish community room, 29891 Joy Rd., Westland.

Anyone interested is invited to attend. The group will be organized by citizens themselves and they will plan their own activities. Refreshments will be served. Bea Hollingsworth, 8220 Huntington Drive, Westland, is chairman of the group.

Card Party

The Daughters of Isabella will hold a card party Tuesday, Sept. 21, in the Knights of Columbus Hall, 39750 Ford, Garden City. Proceeds will go to charity.

"STOP BEING EARTH- BOUND," urged the advertisement offering membership in "The Rosicrucian Order - A.M.O.R.C."

"SECRET POWER... INNER VISION... THE ANCIENTS CALLED IT COSMIC CONSCIOUSNESS," note the familiar ads in a wide variety of publications, from "The New York Times" to "Popular Science." While this advertising costs considerable money (Chief Rosicrucian, "Imperator," Ralph Lewis admits to "half a million or more") the advertisement return is impressively visible in one full block of San Jose, Calif. For the headquarters of A.M.O.R.C. ("Ancient Mystical Order Rosae Crucis") is something of an Egyptian Disneyland - a multi-million dollar complex composed of Egyptian museum and temple, planetarium, art gallery, idols, tablets, Sphinx, amulets, scrolls and scarabs.

U.S. HISTORY repeatedly attests the massive American fascination for the bizarre and occult, particularly when it is skillfully pitched as authentically ancient (like Mormonism), and gilded with the exciting allurements of a secret society.

But as Carlton Brown, a writer who for purposes of investigation joined the Rosicrucians, observed:

"Secret, super-wise and advanced as these teachings are, they can be mastered at home by anyone who can read." (There is even a home initiation ceremony, with the "neophyte" looking into a mirror, in candlelight, and chanting: "Hail rosy cross.")

In actuality, therefore, the only real secrecy about the Rosicrucians is their income and total membership, which Imperator Lewis, during an interview, indignantly refused to disclose. He did concede, however, that members pay a $10 initiation fee, plus $4.50 per month; that there are members all over the world; and that the order has grown considerably since 1934, when court records revealed a membership of 60,000. (At the current dues rate, this would exceed $3 million per annum.)

IMPERATOR LEWIS, an elderly, white-haired, mustachioed man, vehemently and repeatedly contended: "We are not a religion."

Some investigators of Rosicrucianism, such as U.S. Catholic magazine, would in some measure agree with this contention, describing the cult

Rev. Lester Kinsolving's Religion Update

as "a popularized mixture of theosophy, alchemy, gnosticism, masonry, Vedanta, astrology, cabalism and antiquated science." (Rosicrucian literature, for example, features contentions that under the Pacific Ocean there is the "Lost continent of Lemuria.") And while Imperator Lewis disclosed that "We are not directly related to the Egyptian Pharaohs - only traditionally related," his creation of Little Egypt in San Jose hardly reinforces this disclaimer. Rosicrucianism has been bouncing around occult circles ever since Medieval Germany, and there have been a number of modern manifestations. There was, for example, Dr. Karl Gardner's "Holy Rosicrucian Order" - during Prohibition. As a cult, the order was allowed by law to dispense sacramental wine. But a band of raiding Feds discovered that Dr. Gardner had provided his 300 followers with some 50,000 pints within one 60-day period (together with ardent Biblical admonitions to "Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake," - Timothy 5:23.)

Imperator Lewis also recalled that in Tampa one Albert Saunders was ousted from the Order. (Saunders publicly accused H. Spencer Lewis - the present Imperator's father and predecessor in this office - of using an alias, "Rolye Thurston," and claiming credentials from non-existent educational institutions in India and New York.)

He also conceded that one Thord Kilmahleto "was once connected with our organization." (Kilmahleto's widow filed a $2 million lawsuit in 1949, charging that Lewis had ousted her completely from what her late husband had in 1918 bankrolled as "a business" with Lewis Sr., providing some of the funds, only promotional ability.)

Circle To Hold Benefit Party

Sacred Heart Circle 261, Daughters of Isabella, will sponsor a benefit card party Wednesday, Sept. 22, at 8 p.m., in the all-purpose room of St. Mary's of Redford High School, 14771 Mansfield at Grand River, Detroit.

Proceeds will be used at the discretion of Msgr. William J. Sherzer to assist needy children of the parish with tuition.

For reservations call the chairman, Mrs. Peter J. Montagne, 31625 Shilwaukee, Farmington.

"Yes, and Al Capone and all the Mafia are all Catholics," he retorted angrily, "but who ever writes about that?"

Rice Banks On New Faces In Football

"New Faces of 1971..." You might say that about Brother Rice's football team which begins its 1971 season Saturday night in a non-league game against Aquinas.

Rice has enjoyed tremendous success in the two years Al Fracassa has coached there. In those two campaigns, the school has a 15-2-1 record.

Last season Rice went 7-1-1 with the only loss coming at the hands of Shrine whom Rice will meet next Saturday night at Royal Oak Kimball. Fracassa this year is short on returning starters. He has only eight back — six from the defensive unit.

HE SAYS he likes what he sees in the '71 crop and apparently others agree with him. Rice has been installed as one of the teams to beat in the All Boys Division of the Catholic League.

Of the two offensive returnees, only tackle Nick Keller will start Saturday. Captain-Halfback Rick Costantino is out with a broken collarbone and likely will miss three or four games.

On defense, the starters on deck again are halfback Dan Damiani, tackle Jim Prindiville, safety Tim Zinosky, middle guard John Hausmann, linebacker Mark Hendricks and end Bob Zych.

Offensively, it'll be a young backfield that starts for Rice against Aquinas.

experience. Scott Lucas at fullback is a senior while halfbacks John Callen and Steve Lyons both are sophomores.

Damiani, who starred last spring for Rice in baseball and during the summer on Southfield's American Legion nine, will be one of the offensive ends as he goes both ways.

Mark Wojciechowski will handle the other end.

Keller and Joe Leone will operate as offensive tackles with Zyk and Kevin Stark at the guards and Prindiville also going both ways working at center.

Rice will have three non-league tests before starting its quest for all-boys honors on Oct. 9.

Southfield Harriers Nip Lathrup

With Dan Henry capturing individual honors, Southfield High's cross country team decisively crossed town rival Southfield Lathrup, 26-29, in a dual meet.

Henry was timed in 14:18 over the 2½-mile course to finish far in front of Bill Jordan of Lathrup, the runner-up, who was clocked in 14:50.

Third was Bob Corcoran of Southfield. Then came Mark Feldstein (L), Kevin Charnesky (S), Kevin O'Neil (L), Bill Rubin (SF), Tim Bell (L), Rick Driscoll (L) and Andy Hernandez (S).

Southfield runs Ferndale Monday in its first Southeastern Michigan Association meet of the season.

MSU Sellouts Slated For Tube

Fans, unable to purchase tickets for Michigan State football games with Notre Dame and Michigan this fall will have the chance to watch the contests on Game-of-the-Week telecasts presented by ABC on successive Saturdays in October.

On the NCAA TV grid series for 1971 are the Oct. 2 clash between State and Notre Dame in Notre Dame Stadium, and the Oct. 9 meeting involving MSU and Michigan at East Lansing.

This is the year of the big experiment on the bowling lanes in Observerland.

More and more leagues are turning to the point system instead of just games won and lost to determine their leaders and it promises a lot of excitement before two many weeks go by.

Under the point system each member of a team engages in a match game with his opponent in the same position on the rival team. They bowl for four points — one for each game won and a point for the total pins.

Once these points are decided the teams also decide four points — one for each game won and an additional point for total pins.

BY ADOPTING the point system many leagues figure they can retain interest and create a great deal more competition and rivalries. It also may bring about a condition where a captain changes his line-up each night in an attempt to upset the opposition.

The All-Star Classic used the point system last season on a trial basis. This year, it will return to the games won and lost and forget the points.

Meanwhile the Ladies Major League and a host of other circuits have adopted the point system. It even has extended to the Teen Classics.

Fred Hamlin, genial host at Farmington Lanes, is introducing the new style to his teens on the theory that they might just as well learn the new competitive style early in their careers.

THEY HAD another wild scoring night at Wonderland last Tuesday where Tommy Ranes set the pace with a 703 series on games of 231, 204 and 268.

The real battle came for team honors where Bill Walker's Standard Compost rolled 3158 to show the way. Only 33 pins separated the next three teams. Jack Norton's Redford Sales fired a 3063, Jack Piscopink's Thunderbird quintet registered a 3032 and Kenny Cummings Wonderland combination came through with 3027.

WHILE HIGH score always are pleasing to George Rashara, he is all smiles these days over the showing of other members of his family.

His daughter, Lila, a first year bowler, shot a surprising series of 556 on games of 175, 169 and 192, but the real thrill was furnished by seven-year-old Ronnie who put together games of 94, 118 and 92 for a 304.

The top junior in the Teen Age circuit was Larry Cuita, a 14-year-old lad, who linked games of 236, 237 and 144 for 613.

MONTE ONZCA had good reason to be all smiles this week.

His Coon Bros. team fired a 3104 series in the Westland Classic — and it didn't phase him a bit that he was low man on the team.

Ray Williams put together counts of 246, 191 and 257 to lead his mates with a 694. Behind him came Ted Baketselos with 669, Tom Vallone with 631, Larry Kellogg with 576 and Onzca with a 534.

Bill Spargo took individual honors for the night. He strung together games of 234, 225 and 229 for 688 and Harry Fill landed third with a 663 that included a 258 finisher.

In the Westland Women's Classic Denise Begin was high with a 619 and Dee Engle had high game with a 227.

It was Sharron Engle who took a share of the spotlight with a 164 triplicate.

LARRY KILGORE stole the show in the Moose League at Garden Lanes with a hefty 761 in another week of high scores.

Close behind him came Bill Montgomery with 658 and Jerry Pollard with a 650.

Ron Thorpe was high in the Classic with a 662, but he beat Fred McLain by only two pins.

In the Junior House loop Rich Huddleston set the pace with a 622 and a one-pin edge over Bob Hewitt.

HAVE YOU ever fired a shot and couldn't explain what happened?

William Decent had this experience at Country Lanes when he converted the difficult 7-10 split. For the life of him he doesn't know how he did it.

WHEN IT comes to odd experiences on the lanes few can beat what happened to Andy DeCamillo in the Bel-Aire Classic.

He opened with a 288, followed with a 257 and then, dropped to 191 for a 736. At that, he not only was high for the league, but it was the highest series rolled in Observerland during the week.

Other high Classic scores included Fred Zicke's 649 and a 640 by Bill Moore.

In the Senior House League Wally Missud had a 232 in 688 and Steve Keilian a 236 in 655. And Eve Lannon fashioned a 615 in the Ladies Classic with games of 192, 205 and 218.

DON HUNT got away to a great start in the high school league at Farmington Lanes with a 201 to set the pace.

At the same time Colleen Flynn, an all-state selection for two years, posted a 199 in the prep girls group and Becky Chelton had a 188 in the Junior III group. Terry Rine showed the way with a 183 in 445.

THE EARLY Birds had a high scoring session at Mayflower with Pat Galonec setting the pace with a 214. Mickey Laux had a 213 in 465.

SAM HASEN posted a new season high in the English Lodge loop at Oak Park Lanes with a 267.

Schoolcraft Board Has Majority From Livonia

By KATHY MORAN
Three Livonia residents and two Plymouth residents won seats on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees in the college's first at-large election Monday.

Beginning six-year terms on the board Oct. 4 will be Mrs. Rosina Raymond, teacher from Livonia; Leroy Bennett, Livonia school administrator who lives in Plymouth; and Archibald Vallier, retired Plymouth engineer and business consultant.

The two year terms were won by Mrs. Mary Dumas, Livonia substitute teacher and Republican activist; and Paul Kadish, insurance partner and leading Democrat.

Martin, who recently resigned from the board.

Chairman of the mathematics department at Livonia's Holmes Junior High, Bennett recently underwent surgery and was not available for comment after the election.

Vallier, 57, is completing his eighth year on the Plymouth City Commission. He is a retired engineer and currently is an ecology consultant for the state.

Vallier resides at 1338 Penniman, Plymouth. He was also not available for comment after the votes were tabulated Monday.

"I'M PLEASED that a well-balanced board was elected," Mrs. Dumas said. "I think we will all work together and all do our best to represent each and every community in the college district."

"I believe it should be a productive year for the college," she added.

Mrs. Dumas, 48, of 17630 Loveland, Livonia, has been active in Livonia politics and is a member of the League of Women Voters. She also is a volunteer probation officer for the 16th District Court in Livonia.

"I AM LOOKING forward to two years on the board," Kadish, 35, said. "I intend to work hard."

Kadish, who ran an unsuccessful State Senate campaign a year ago, said his first actions on the board will be to move for ex-officio seats for a student and faculty member, as he promised in his campaign.

Kadish, of 18687 Purlingbrook, Livonia, is a partner in Kadish-Friedman Insurance Associates and a member of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce and the Livonia Jaycees.

THE AT-LARGE elections were ordered by a circuit judge to satisfy the "one-man, one-vote" rule of constitutional law.

Counting the holdover board members, Livonia School District, with slightly more than half of the college district's population, has five of the eight seats; Plymouth, two; Northville, one; and Garden City and Clarendonville, none.

"I WILL DO my best to justify the faith and confidence in my ability shown by the voters," Mrs. Raymond, the top vote-getter in the election, said.

"I feel my victory is probably more one for the people who worked so hard on my campaign," she said.

"Working with them was one of the more rewarding parts of the campaign."

A resident of Livonia for 20 years, Mrs. Raymond, 57, was initially involved with college when it was formed in the early 1960s. She resides with her husband, Jerry, at 15906 Oak Drive.

BENNETT, 41, of 14387 Northville Road, Plymouth, served on the board from 1963 to 1967 but was defeated for reelection by Dr. George "Pollution: Cities In Crisis" will be discussed by environmental expert Dr. Granville H. Sewell on Wednesday, Sept. 22 in the first of a series of lectures at Schoolcraft College.

Dr. Sewell, an associate professor at Columbia University's Division of Urban Planning, will speak at 8 p.m. in the upper level of Waterman Campus Center. Tickets are $2 for the public or $15 for the series of 12 lectures.

The author of several reports on the environment, Dr. Sewell is a consultant to government agencies.

HIS UNDERGRADUATE work was in civil and sanitary engineering, and his doctorate was in political science and economics. He also studied cultural anthropology at Harvard University.

He has directed studies for Battelle Memorial Institute, a "think tank," in the Middle East, Turkey, Nigeria, Korea and Panama on areas such as housing conditions, transportation planning, tropical ecology and the food-population problem.

In the United States, he has prepared reports on water resource allocation in the northwest, outdoor recreation and resources in Ohio, interaction between resource use and the environment in the eastern Gulf of Mexico.

The lecture series presented by the Cultural and Public Affairs Committee at the college will present speakers such as liberal attorney William Kunstler, astronomer Sir Bernard Lovell, civil libertarian Alan Reitman, and Robert Moorman, former disciple of Dr. Timothy Leary.

A FOUR-DAY symposium on human sexual relationships will be given in February by nationally-known gynecologist and marriage counselor Dr. Earle Marsh.

Dr. Marsh's topics will include "Sex: Natural or Unnatural," "Men and Women, Different or Alike,"

GRANVILLE SEWELL
Urban Planner

"The Human Sexual Response," and "The Sexual Minority and the Sexual Majority."

Reitman will discuss "The Pentagon Paper - A Case Study of Individual Rights versus Government Authority" on Oct. 7.

Conservative Sen. John Tower (R-Texas) will give the second lecture of the series on Sept. 30 on "Conservative View of National Problems."

A season ticket to the lecture series is $15 or each individual lecture will cost $2 per person.

Schoolcraft students will be charged 50 cents per lecture or $5 for the series.

Pursell Asks Intervention In OU Strike

The closing of Oakland University at Rochester, following a walkout nine days ago of more than half of its faculty, has prompted Sen. Carl D. Pursell (R-Plymouth) to call upon Gov. William G. Milliken to intervene personally in the dispute.

Pursell specifically asked the chief executive to consider:

"1. A review of the Oakland University administration-faculty dispute which has caused a walkout.

"2. To recommend appropriate action to allow the students to return to the university to continue their education while negotiations continue."

Commenting on the many calls and letters from students and parents, he said, "I believe negotiations could continue and at the same time students could begin the fall session. A reasonable number of days to bargain could be set."

The senator noted that 189 of the faculty's 325 full-time members belong to the striking union group, which was formed only last year. The closing of classes has kept 7,500 students away from their studies on orders from the school administration, he added.

MIKE VITTI displays a copy of the six-act play he wrote to help raise funds for SHAR-house. (Observer photo)

Drug Dangers On Stage

By LEONARD FOGER
GARDEN CITY

A young Garden City man, who has seen the inside of the drug world, is using a typewriter and the theater stage to warn others about the dangers of drugs.

Mike Vitti, 23, of 30635 Krauter, has written a play, "From Darkness . . ." and hopes to have it produced soon.

VITTI SAID the production will raise funds for SHAR-House, which he described as a "live-in addiction center."

To produce the six-act play, Vitti issued a public appeal for young people interested in taking part in a live production.

He needs actors, writers, stagehands, and production people and "no experience is needed" for young people to apply, he said.

THERE ARE 24 roles in the play which was scheduled for production before three people in six key roles dropped out.

A theater workshop he plans to hold for interested people has already attracted many teenagers from the Garden City-Westland communities, including a number from John Glenn High School which has an active drama club.

Vitti said that the play will be produced in the Central Methodist Church, Woodward and Grand Circus Park in downtown Detroit, about eight weeks after the stage crew is assembled.

REHEARSALS will be held in St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church, Ford Rd. at Evergreen in Dearborn Heights; and Trinity Methodist Church, Woodward and Davidson in Highland Park.

Vitti also said that he is trying to get businesses to sponsor the play with all of the money going to SHAR-House, at 9433 E. Jefferson, Detroit.

The playwright told The Observer of his drug use in civilian life and in the Army. He used drugs for five years before enlisting in the Army at the age of 20.

"I enlisted to get away from drugs," Vitti said but added that he found more drugs in the Army than in civilian life.

WHILE IN the Army at Ft. Lewis, Wash., he used heroin for the first time and was addicted for about six months.

"There is more drugs in the Army than you could believe," he said.

After getting out of the Army last year, he returned to Detroit and read about SHAR-House.

Vitti said he believes in SHAR-House's philosophy of its addicts trying to reform "having one foot in the community and one foot in SHAR-House and learning to better cope with reality."

Vitti also said that he endorsed the organization's refusal of its addicts in using methadone, which he described as "substituting one drug for another."

"My idea in writing the play is to get the message across for SHAR-House," Vitti concluded.

BAA Offers Arts, Crafts For Kids

BIRMINGHAM The Education Department of the Bloomfield Art Association is offering a complete curriculum of art and craft classes designed specifically for children and young people.

The 10-week fall term beginning Sept. 27, will include drawing, painting, pottery, jewelry, hand-weaving and macrame for high school students. For junior high students, classes in pottery, drawing and sketching and painting are offered.

Elementary classes include pottery and a special "discovery" class which introduces students to all media.

Introduction to art is open to students from the first through fifth grades. Classes are divided into age groups.

The BAA provides professional instruction according to level of ability. Class size is limited to ensure individual attention, and students are allowed to progress at their own rate.

Junior and senior high classes meet weekly in two-hour sessions. Children's classes, except pottery, meet weekly in sessions of one and one-half hour sessions. Materials for classes are included in the tuition fee.

Registrations for the fall term continue through Sept. 25 at the BAA, 1516 S. Cranbrook.

DICK BENSEK

A full dinner service will include shallow soup plates, bouillon cups, and cream-soup dishes. None of these dishes is useful for the service of other foods. Where cupboard space is limited, however, coffee cups may be substituted for bouillon cups in serving small quantities of hot soup or jellied soup. Pottery bowls will do nicely for serving larger amounts of the more substantial soups and are also useful for cereal and baked apples. How the food is served has much to say for the way that it is eaten.

Our complete dinner menu includes Dover Sole, Viking Sword, Roast Prime Rib of Beef and Danish Inn Special, Frikadeller. Plan to dine soon at DANISH INN CORP., 32306 Grand River Ave., 478-5320. ## Return Visit Exchange Gets Students' Approval

At least 10 young women, nine of them from Oberlin and one from the Detroit area, and the nine men, German students, are ready to give each other a return visit to their home countries.

The program, sponsored by the German Society for International Understanding, had as its representatives here Mr. and Mrs. George Schneider of Farmington.

Among the young people who participated were Helen Vasilevsky, who lives in Livonia and attends Wayne State University, Kathy McLellan of Farmington, also a WSU student, and Joan Whitmyer of Northville, beginning her freshman year at the University of Michigan.

It was the family visit exchange that Kathy McLellan found the best part of the program. Her "partner" was Norbert Engel.

"I particularly enjoyed being to know his family and town well," she said, "and when we came over here he had a lot of fun with my brothers."

"I did not know it would be possible to get to know young people from another country so well," Norbert agreed.

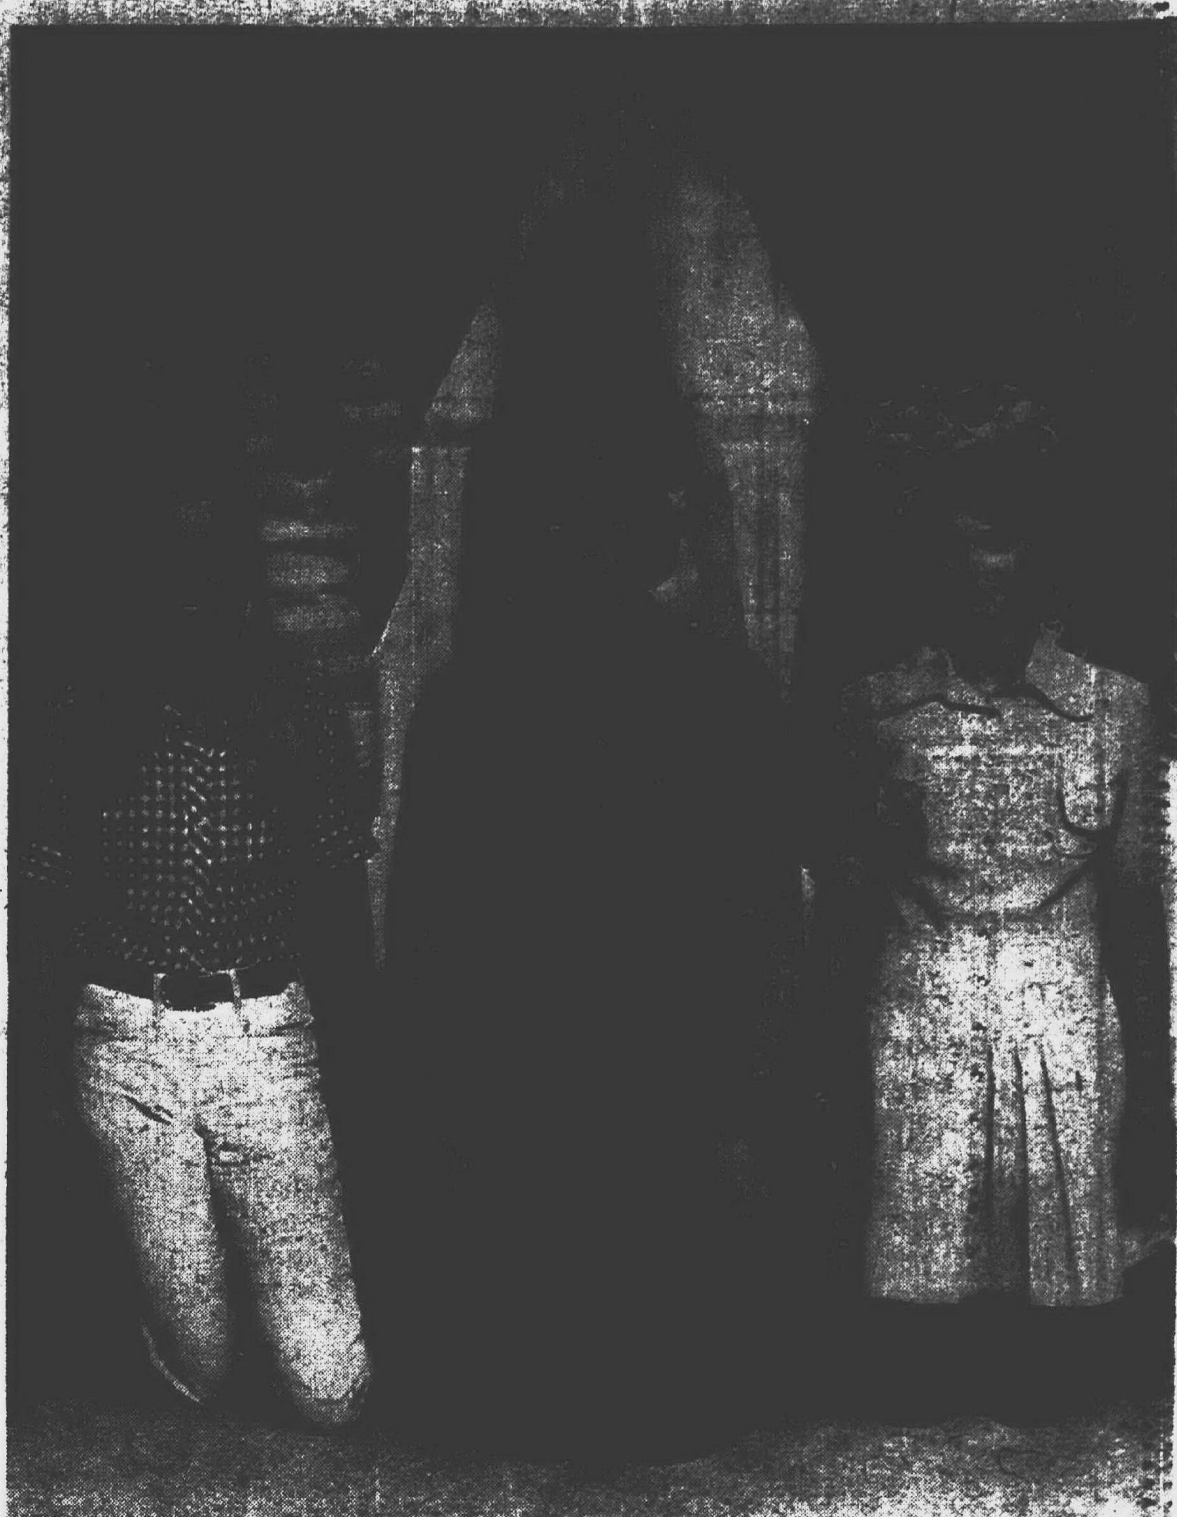

He German counterpart, Annette Dziobek, was surprised to see so many unemployed people here. "In Germany, the living standard is not as high, but nearly everybody has work," she said.

Her German counterpart, Annette Dziobek, was surprised to see so many unemployed people here. "In Germany, the living standard is not as high, but nearly everybody has work," she said.

BARBARA MONTAG, partner for Joan Whitmyer, said she found "no great differences" between family living here, and in Germany, but was amazed at the distances Americans travel.

All participants filled out a detailed information sheet so they could be matched with a congenial partner for the 12 weeks.

The program, Mrs. Schneider said, costs $550 for each participant, and the Farmington couple hopes to carry it out again on a larger scale next summer. Students interested may get in touch with Mr. and Mrs. Schneider at 28301 Skye Drive, Farmington.

Australian Lauds AFS

JANE BAUMGARTEN
Mr. and Mrs. John E. Baumgarten of California Street, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Ann, to Michael A. Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walter of Bourbon, Ind. The bride-elect is a 1969 graduate of Franklin High School. A Dec. 3 wedding is planned.

DIANA CARINGI
Mr. and Mrs. Sante A. Caringi of Redford Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Diane Marie, to Edward Jachura, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Jachura of Dearborn Heights. The bride-elect is a 1968 graduate of Thurston High School and her fiancé graduated from Riverside High School in 1962. They plan an Oct. 22 wedding.

"It's a marvelous program—the interest just spreads and spreads."

The speaker was Mrs. Lucy Stirling, who visited Livonia in August because, back seven years ago, she was Australian "mother" to a Marilyn Schult, then a young exchange student from Livonia, and she was talking about the American Field Service program.

Mrs. Stirling, who lives in Adelaide, South Australia, flew here with more than 100 of her countrymen to attend an AFS convention in Atlantic City Sept. 15 to 19.

Most of the 100, she said, are attending the 25th anniversary of the revitalizing of the exchange student program because, over the years, they've had some connection with AFS.

"SOME HAVE had sons or daughters come to the United States," Mrs. Stirling said, "and some others, like me, have had visitors from the U.S."

"And in our group were a few returnees—young men and women who had been exchange students here. Each one made brings more interest—not to just the student but to his whole family and circle of friends and community."

Mrs. Stirling visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schult, parents of the former exchange student who is now Mrs. Dennis Chapman of Salt Lake City.

Before returning to her homeland, she'll pay a visit to her "daughter," a social worker in the western city.

"WHEN MARILYN LEFT at the end of her year with us," Mrs. Stirling mused, "I would not have believed that before she had a chance to return to Australia every member of our family would have come here."

But that was how it happened. Mrs. Stirling and her husband Jack, a building contractor who now is American Field Service president for South Australia, visited the Schult family several years ago and she is making her second tour of the country.

Their son, Andrew, and his wife now live in Canada, and their daughter, Rosemary, and her husband were in the United States at the time of Marilyn's wedding.

AT THE AFS convention, Mrs. Stirling said, delegates from all over the world are taking a close look at the program that had its beginnings during World War I and came into full flower as an international friendship organization in the last quarter-century.

"After 25 years you've got to be sure you're still going in the right direction," she said.

She also hopes to find ways to convince more students from the United States to spend some time in the land-down-under. More than a dozen Australians visited this country last year under the AFS program, she said, and she thinks it would be great to have an equal number go from here, to her land.

Bride Makes Own Gown

Joyce Mallon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Mallon of Farmington, created and made the white crepe satin and organza gown she wore when she exchanged marriage vows with Terry Davis Aug. 28.

She also sewed the pale blue brocade gown worn by her three attendants for the wedding in St. Paul Lutheran Church in Farmington.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry E. Davis of Sturgis.

OFFICIATING for the wedding ceremony was the Rev. John Armstrong, and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

Brides' best man and his sister, Sharon, daughter of the Rev. John Armstrong, and the bride's father gave her in marriage. The bride's veil was shoulder-length tulle, and she carried a mixed colonial bouquet of pink and white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Corrine Vance, the bride's sister from New York state, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Arlene Mallon, another sister, and Donna Danowski of Lansing.

With their floor-length gowns, they carried multi-colored colonial bouquets and wore matching flowers in their hair.

CHARLES REINICK of Norwalk, Ohio, was best man, and the ushers were Kent Norris, Jim Fair and Richard Detloff, all of Sturgis, and Richard Mallon, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Mallon wore a rose-colored silk brocade dress, and Mrs. Davis was in blue crepe.

A dinner reception was held in Kingsley Inn, Bloomfield Hills.

Following a northern Michigan wedding trip, the couple will live in Ann Arbor, where both are seniors at the University of Michigan.

Pamela Frye Weds James R. Sheldon

At a ceremony in Riverside Park Church of God, Livonia, Pamela Sue Frye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Frye of Wisconsin Street, Livonia, became the bride of James Ruben Sheldon, son of Mrs. Bertha Sheldon of Plymouth.

The Rev. Wilbur Kirby officiated at the evening ceremony, assisted by the Rev. J. Clifford Thor. Howard Armstrong was the soloist.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length white Victorian gown. A bow-trimmed cap held her shoulder-length veil and she carried white carnations with white streamers.

Mrs. Edith Riley, the bridegroom's sister, was matron of honor, and Cheryl Evers, Cathy Newman and Lynda Fuller were the bridesmaids. They wore yellow and green gowns with yellow headpieces and carried yellow and white daisies.

The bridegroom's niece, Tina Riley, was the flower girl.

Alan Wilson was best man. Nick Proctor, John Wilson, and Jerry Freyman were the ushers.

A RECEPTION was held in the church hall for 500 guests. The bride graduated from Franklin High School in 1971, and the bridegroom, from Plymouth High School, in 1969.

They will live in Wayne.

Lois Fenn Bride Of Gary Moss

Lois Kay Fenn became the bride of Gary Steven Moss in an afternoon garden-style wedding at the Farmington Community Center.

Their vows were spoken under an arbor covered with boxwood and surrounded by garden baskets of white daisy mums and yellow glads. The Rev. William Lovitt of Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis S. Fenn of Livonia. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moss, also of Livonia, are parents of the bridegroom.

THE BRIDE wore a white linen gown by Priscilla of Boston, styled with an alencon lace bodice and lace edging the hemline. With it she wore a white sheer picture hat trimmed with white velvet ribbon, and carried a nosegay of white daisy mums and yellow sweetheart roses.

Pamela Bivins of Muskegon was the bride's maid of honor, and Mrs. David Smydra of East Lansing was bridesmaid. They wore peasant gowns of navy and white with small embroidered lavender flowers, and carried nosegays of white and lavender mums and lavender statice.

RICHARD SIRIANNI was best man. The ushers were Jeffery Moss, brother of the bridegroom, Barry Fenn, brother of the bride and David Smydra of East Lansing.

For the wedding and cocktail reception for 100 guests, Mrs. Fenn chose a sheer wool multi-colored print gown and Mrs. Moss was in a sheer cotton print.

The newlyweds will make their home in Des Plaines, Ill. Both are 1971 graduates of Michigan State University.

Kentucky's Victory In Matron Standout Of Grand Circuit

It will be a long time before any harness fan will forget the 100th birthday of the Grand Circuit and the two weeks celebration at Wolverine Raceway. The eight stakes program brought some of the finest racing ever seen in Michigan in the metropolitan Detroit sector.

Perhaps the best race of the entire series came in the renewal of the $30,000 Matron for four-year-old pacers. It found the spectacular Kentucky winning in 1:58.2 after a brilliant duel with Keystone Pat.

The choices of the betting public, Kentucky and Keystone Pat staged one of the greatest pacing duels of the season with the former coming from two lengths back in the drive to the wire to overtake the leader and go on for the easy victory.

KENTUCKY, who set the Wolverine track record of 1:57.4 two weeks back, had the closing speed needed to beat the highly regarded Canadian star.

Merges Hangover took over the lead after the first quarter from Kentucky and had times of :59.3 and 1:20 for the second and third parts of the mile.

Then he faded out of contention as Pat Crowe, in the sulky in place of ailing John Hayes, sent Keystone Pat on the front. He was still there with Kentucky coming up fast on the outside with a starting to go.

That's when Michella sent his pacer to the front to stay, pulling away in the final 100 yards for the triumph.

The win was worth $19,393 to Kentucky and boosted his season earnings to $231,171 for the Quaker City Stables of Salem, O.

Kentucky paid $3, $2.40 and $2.20 across the Board and Keystone Pat rewarded his supporters with $3.80 and $3.60. Broadman George, owned by Bill Longo of Farmington, was third.

THE DETROIT RACE

Course, long known as the graveyard of champions for the thoroughbreds, cast the same spell over the standstayers when Wolverine presented the $12,500 Matron two-year-old pace.

The stake was divided into two divisions and odds-on favorites were whipped in each with the second dash bringing the largest show payoff in Michigan history.

The latter came when The Hammer, a 51-1 shot, stormed out the field in the stretch drive to finish two lengths in back of winning Kit Hanover and pay $73.50. That was three times more than the previous record of $24.10 on Sept. 19, 1962.

Jay Tink, an Ohio-owned colt, entered the first division as a 2-5 favorite off a string of 14 straight victories. He lost in the final stride to Shadow Wave in 2:00.4. That was a track record for a two-year old and a stake record.

The crowd had hardly recovered from that shocker when Strike Out, a 1-5 favorite with a record of 11 wins and three seconds in 14 previous starts, wilted in the stretch drive and finished fourth behind Kit Hanover, driven by Gene Reagle of Greenville, O. It was Reagle who saw Jay Tink get whipped in the first dash.

Strike Out set a torrid pace of :25.4, :58.2 and 1:29.1 for three quarters with Kit Hanover on his heels. Then in the drive down victory lane, first Kit Hanover then Entrepreneur and The Hammer passed the fading Strike Out.

The time was 2:00.3, bettering the record set two races earlier.

RU Grid Coach Looks Forward To League Test With Bentley

There's more to coaching a high school team in any sport. Naturally, victories are important. So are championships.

While these bring great satisfaction to a coach, in the long run he's perhaps more pleased when he sees his athletes go on to greater heights in college and then the bigger world that follows.

When it comes to winning and producing prep standouts, Bob Atkins of Redford Union rates high in the coaching ranks.

He has had champions in baseball and football. His baseball teams over the years have dominated in the Suburban Six League, now the Suburban Eight.

HIS SUMMER teams have cleaned up honors in Connie Mack and first the Free Press, then the Adray League. He has had the thrill of going places with his Free Press-Adray teams in national competition, once just missing the U.S. title.

Atkins also has enjoyed fine success in football at Redford Union, where he's been the head man just a few years.

His 1969 RU gridgers won the league title and earned for him the Suburban coach-of-the-year title.

But, all in all, Atkins would much prefer talking boys — those who have played and those who still are playing for him.

He can talk about Rick Clark, who is pitching for the California Angels... or Bill Fahey, who finished third in hitting this year in the Eastern League and is considered a prime catching prospect for the Washington Senators.

He can talk about a host of RU footballers who have gone on to play in college.

NOW ON THE first weekend of the 1971 seasons, Atkins is as excited as any coach can be over some of his boys.

One, in particular, is Tom Tullock, who weighs 215 and stands 6-2.

Of Tullock, Atkins says: "He is one of the finest football players in the state. He has been a first team all-league selection at defensive end for the past two years."

Then, after a pause, Atkins lists the names of five other seniors — back Tom Burk, guard Tom Respondak, End Dean Naudi, guard-tackle Kurt Fritz and end Joe Randall.

"These boys, along with Tullock, combine to head the best group of football players we ever have had at RU. Every one has the ability to play college football at some level."

For the moment, Atkins' eyes are glued on the start of the Suburban Eight race (the league this year added Dearborn and Dearborn Edsel Ford), next Friday at Livonia Bentley.

"There's no question we have fine quality, but lack quantity," says Atkins. "We must escape injuries. We can be very tough."

Top Cross Country Teams Continue Streaks

Churchill, Farmington and Redford Union, three of the area's cross country giants, came through with big victories Thursday.

Churchill, led by Dennis Kurtis, edged Livonia Stevenson, another powerhouse, 27-23, in the day's best meet.

Farmington rolled on by sweeping Bloomfield Andover, 15-50, and Redford Union started its bid for Suburban Eight League honors by topping Livonia Bentley, 20-35.

KURTIS CLICKED off a time of 12:54 in pacing Churchill to its thrilling verdict over Stevenson.

He beat out Dave Mathias of Stevenson while Mark Kobylarz and Andy Salotnik, both of Churchill, came in third and fourth, respectively.

The next four slots went to Stevenson runners— Bill Walker, Pat Opsommer, Paul Walcheski and Kevin Maley. Mark Kappler and John Kaminsky of Stevenson rounded out the first 10.

Nick Burton led a 1-2-3-4-5 sweep by Farmington against Andover. Martin Fedraw came in second with Kim Day, Jim Nuttall, Mike McGuire, Greg Sako and Ron Mason next across in the Farmington colors.

The win over Andover came after Farmington had decided Redford Union and Thurston in a triangular meet — Farmington scoring 25 points to RU's 47 and Thurston's 64.

RICK KRITZMAN of Redford Union took individual honors with Stan Basher of Thurston second.

Farmington's Burton, Fedraw, Kevin Rylance, Nuttall and McGuire took the next five slots with the next three positions going to the RU trio of Rick Dryden, Jim Haggart and Andy Wehrhach.

Kritzman came back with a course record time of 13:13.5 at Lola Valley as he raced to a 20 second victory over Bentley's Paul Bortell.

The Okinawa Chamber of Commerce championship (as a Marine in '59) wasn't Lee's biggest title, but it was his first. Since then, you count 'em: Golf Rookie of the Year, 1967; U. S. Open (twice); British, Canadian, Hawaiian, Texas (his home state) twice; and many others, including the 1969 World Cup. Sportsman, citizen, and friend of the Newspaperboy.

"FOLLOW-THROUGH—"
says Lee Trevino—
"IS WHAT MAKES A BOY A GOOD NEWSPAPERBOY"

Lee Trevino thinks like a golfer. And why not? This year he made history by winning three national titles (U. S., Canadian, and British) within a span of three weeks. So when asked about Newspaperboy Day, he had this comment on what makes a newspaperboy tick:

"He follows through. He takes care of his customers. Never mind the season or the weather, your newspaperboy knows you count on him—so he's always there with your paper. Follow-through is what wins golf tournaments—and it's also what wins respect for these young men that serve us so well. I take off my cap to them."

Service, dependability, responsibility—these are all attributes of the successful newspaperboy. And you can add another word too: "thriftiness." Like their parents and many other Americans, thousands of newspaperboys save part of their earnings in U. S. Savings Bonds, in preparation for college or other financial needs of the future.

Buying Bonds is just another example of their all-round good citizenship, another reason for the nation to be proud of its newspaper carriers. Like Lee Trevino's cap, Uncle Sam's hat is off to these young businessmen on the occasion of their annual day in the spotlight—Newspaperboy Day 1971.
