Would you think that a successful business venture could be based upon reshaping sweet potatoes by removing the ingredients, grinding them and restuffing the skin to a uniform size? As unlikely as it sounds, The Stroller finds this to be a sample of American ingenuity as he asks, "What will they come up with next?"

IT WAS A HAPPY NIGHT for these leaders of the Plymouth Community Fund campaign Thursday when their combined reports showed contributions of more than $168,000. From the left are Ron Coosaia, general chairman; Ken Way; Tony Ruggerio; Joe West, PCF president; Mrs. Charlene Zeese; Mrs. Gail LaRiche; Bill Decker; Bob Utter; Tom Healy and Ron South. (Observer photo by Harry Mauthe).

PCF Sets Record Of $168,769

By FRED DELANO

Plymouth area residents and workers, plus its business firms and industries, have opened their hearts and wallets wider than ever before to make the 1971 Community Fund campaign the most successful ever conducted here.

The 200 volunteer workers who have been striving since Sept. 28 to put the drive over the top gathered Thursday night in the Mayflower Meeting House for what they hoped would be a "victory" banquet to close the campaign, and that's exactly what it turned out to be.

When the reports of all seven committees were tabulated, it was found that the total amount pledged stood at a record-breaking $168,769. This surpassed the previous high mark which had been established last year by more than $8,400.

Both Ron Coosaia, the general chairman of the campaign, and Tony Ruggerio, who shared chairmanship of the industrial committee with Bill Carlson, emphasized that in industry's record contributions of $137,371, the role played by employees of local firms was of paramount importance.

After getting off to a discouraging start, the campaign closed with a rush in its final few weeks, and once again it was the industrial giving that rescued the effort and made continued financing of numerous service organizations possible.

JOE WEST, who is president of the PCF board of directors, expressed elation at the outcome and said that the results will permit the board to meet its budget demands as planned.

Allocations which have been recommended include these amounts: American Red Cross, $6,647; Boy Scouts, $11,760; Girl Scouts, $13,800; Plymouth Dental Fund, $5,500; Michigan Cancer Foundation, $5,000; Senior Citizens, $2,800; Visiting Nurse Association, $3,800; Salvation Army, $16,000; Family Service, $42,434; YMCA, $14,000.

Other grants also are under consideration of the board to be made from the balance.

THESE WERE the amounts raised by the seven committee groups as reported Thursday by their chairmen:

Industrial, $137,371, Ruggerio and Carlson co-chairmen; business, $12,581, Bill Decker chairman; residential, $7,004, Mrs. Charlene Zeese and Mrs. Gail LaRiche co-chairmen; special gifts and clubs, $3,090, Bob Utter chairman; education, $5,358, Ron South chairman; professional, $2,610, Tom Healy chairman, and government, $755, Ken Way chairman.

The PCF board is made up of West, Fred Beltner, John Herb, Mrs. Daisy Proctor, Rev. Paul Cargo, Earl Gibson, Gerald Greer, Mrs. Esther Hulsing, Tom Notebaert, John Peard, Mrs. Helen Richardson, Ed Scheping and James Thomas.

GUEST SPEAKER at Thursday's banquet was Wayne County Probate Judge George N. Bashara, who reminded his listeners, "After having given your money, you have the right to know where your money goes," and praised the PCF for the service it has provided for agencies here since the mid '40s.

Bashara devoted his remarks mainly to the problems of drug abuse: "I sincerely believe this is the greatest single problem we face today. Unless we can turn it around in the next decade, we will become a second rate nation."

Bashara has been on the probate bench only since 1969, but in that time said he has "committed about 2,500 addicts."

He said that in Wayne County alone there are more than 32,000 heroin addicts.

"The sad part is that even after committing these persons to hospitals, within six months after they are out, eight of every 10 will be right back on the street shooting heroin again."

He declared, "By my experience, I can guarantee that one of every three young people who experiment with marijuana will go on to some harder form of drugs, and 40 per cent of those who try heroin once will try it again."

"One morning they'll wake up and they will know that they can't even get out of bed without about $20 worth of heroin. Then it will get to $75 to $100 a day, so they will con their parents and friends and steal from about anybody."

"The long term answer has to be in education, not just in the 13-17 age group but as soon as they are able to think for themselves."

HE TOLD of a plan he introduced as judge in which students from the sixth, seventh and eighth grades visit his court and then are taken to Wayne County jail "because I want the kids to see where they would have to stay if they are arrested."

A group of students from Pioneer school in Plymouth made this trip last week, and Bashara said:

"Today's kids are the most intelligent and sophisticated group that ever lived on the face of this earth, but I want them to see the facts firsthand."

As answers to the drug problem he called for better hospital facilities and an educational program "to teach your children a respect for drugs when they are four, five or six."

Santa Claus To Arrive By Helicopter Saturday

Plymouth will take on its annual holiday look next weekend, sparked by the arrival at noon Saturday, Nov. 27 of Santa Claus in a helicopter which will land on Main St. between Penniman and Ann Arbor Trail.

The bewhiskered gent from the north pole will be given an official welcome by Mayor James McKeon and Supervisor Maurice Breen and then will set up shop in his Kellogg Park hut, which he will find has been specially decorated by the Garden Club.

The hundreds of youngsters from the community who want to tell Santa their Christmas list will find him available all of that afternoon and then from 1 to 5 p.m. each Monday through Thursday, from 1 to 8 p.m. every Friday and from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays right up to Dec. 24.

Santa's presence is only one of many features of the Christmas in Plymouth program arranged by a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Stores will remain open evenings for the convenience of shoppers beginning Friday, Nov. 26, the day after Thanksgiving, and then there will be such highlights as these in the weeks ahead:

6th Graders At West Plan First Concert

The sixth grade band of West Middle School will make its first public appearance at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 23 when an ensemble concert is presented in the school cafeteria under direction of bandmaster Jeffrey Drifmeyer.

Groups featured will include the flute ensemble, which has Caren Fowler as leader; clarinet ensemble, Diana Barber leader; percussion ensemble, David Vaughn leader; trombone ensemble, Bill Christie leader; French horn trio, Joe Reese leader, and a trumpet quartet by Jim Schnoop and Chris Saxton.

SATURDAY, Dec. 4 — Christmas bazaar from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Masonic Temple, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Wednesday, Dec. 8 — There will be a "mitten tree" at the Detroit Edison Co. from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., sponsored by the Woman's Club of Plymouth. Townspeople are urged to contribute children's mittens at the Edison office and later they will be distributed among needy families.

Saturday, Dec. 11 — The Plymouth Symphony will present a Christmas concert under the direction of Wayne Dunlap at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Friday and Saturday, Dec. 17 and 18 — The Lions Club will sponsor a candy cane sale.

Saturday, Dec. 18 — "Merchants Appreciation Day." From 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. mothers may leave their children from three to 10 years old at the Central Junior High School auditorium while they shop. The Jaycees will provide sitting service and will put on a special program of films for the children.

Saturday — Dec. 18 — Judging of Christmas decorations at homes and stores will determine prize winners in a contest sponsored by the Jaycees.

Sunday, Dec. 19 — A community sing-a-long will be held at 3 p.m. in Kellogg Park, led by Fred Nelson. Choral and instrumental groups from the high school will participate and music sheets will be provided to the public.

Monday, Dec. 20 through Thursday, Dec. 23 — From 7 to 9 p.m. each night the Jaycees will conduct a "Call to Santa" telephone service for youngsters and the number will be 453-1540.

THE MUNICIPAL Christmas tree in Kellogg Park, decorated with a myriad of lights by the DPW, will come aglow next Saturday with the arrival of Santa Claus. Other decorations in the park and at City Hall are being put up by the Newcomers Club.

The nativity scene in the park has been bolstered this year with new figures donated through contributions from the Jaycees, Kiwanis Club, Colonial Plymouth, Newcomers Club, Woman's Club and the Garden Club.

The Lions Club also is aiding in putting up street decorations, and children will find a special mailbox in Kellogg Park for their letters to Santa. This is being sponsored by the Business and Professional Woman's Club.

Capt. Warren Yoder, who heads the Salvation Army here, also has announced that the organization's annual kettle program will get under way next Saturday, the main location being in front of Kresge's on Main St. Members of service clubs will assist the Salvation Army staff in manning the kettle.

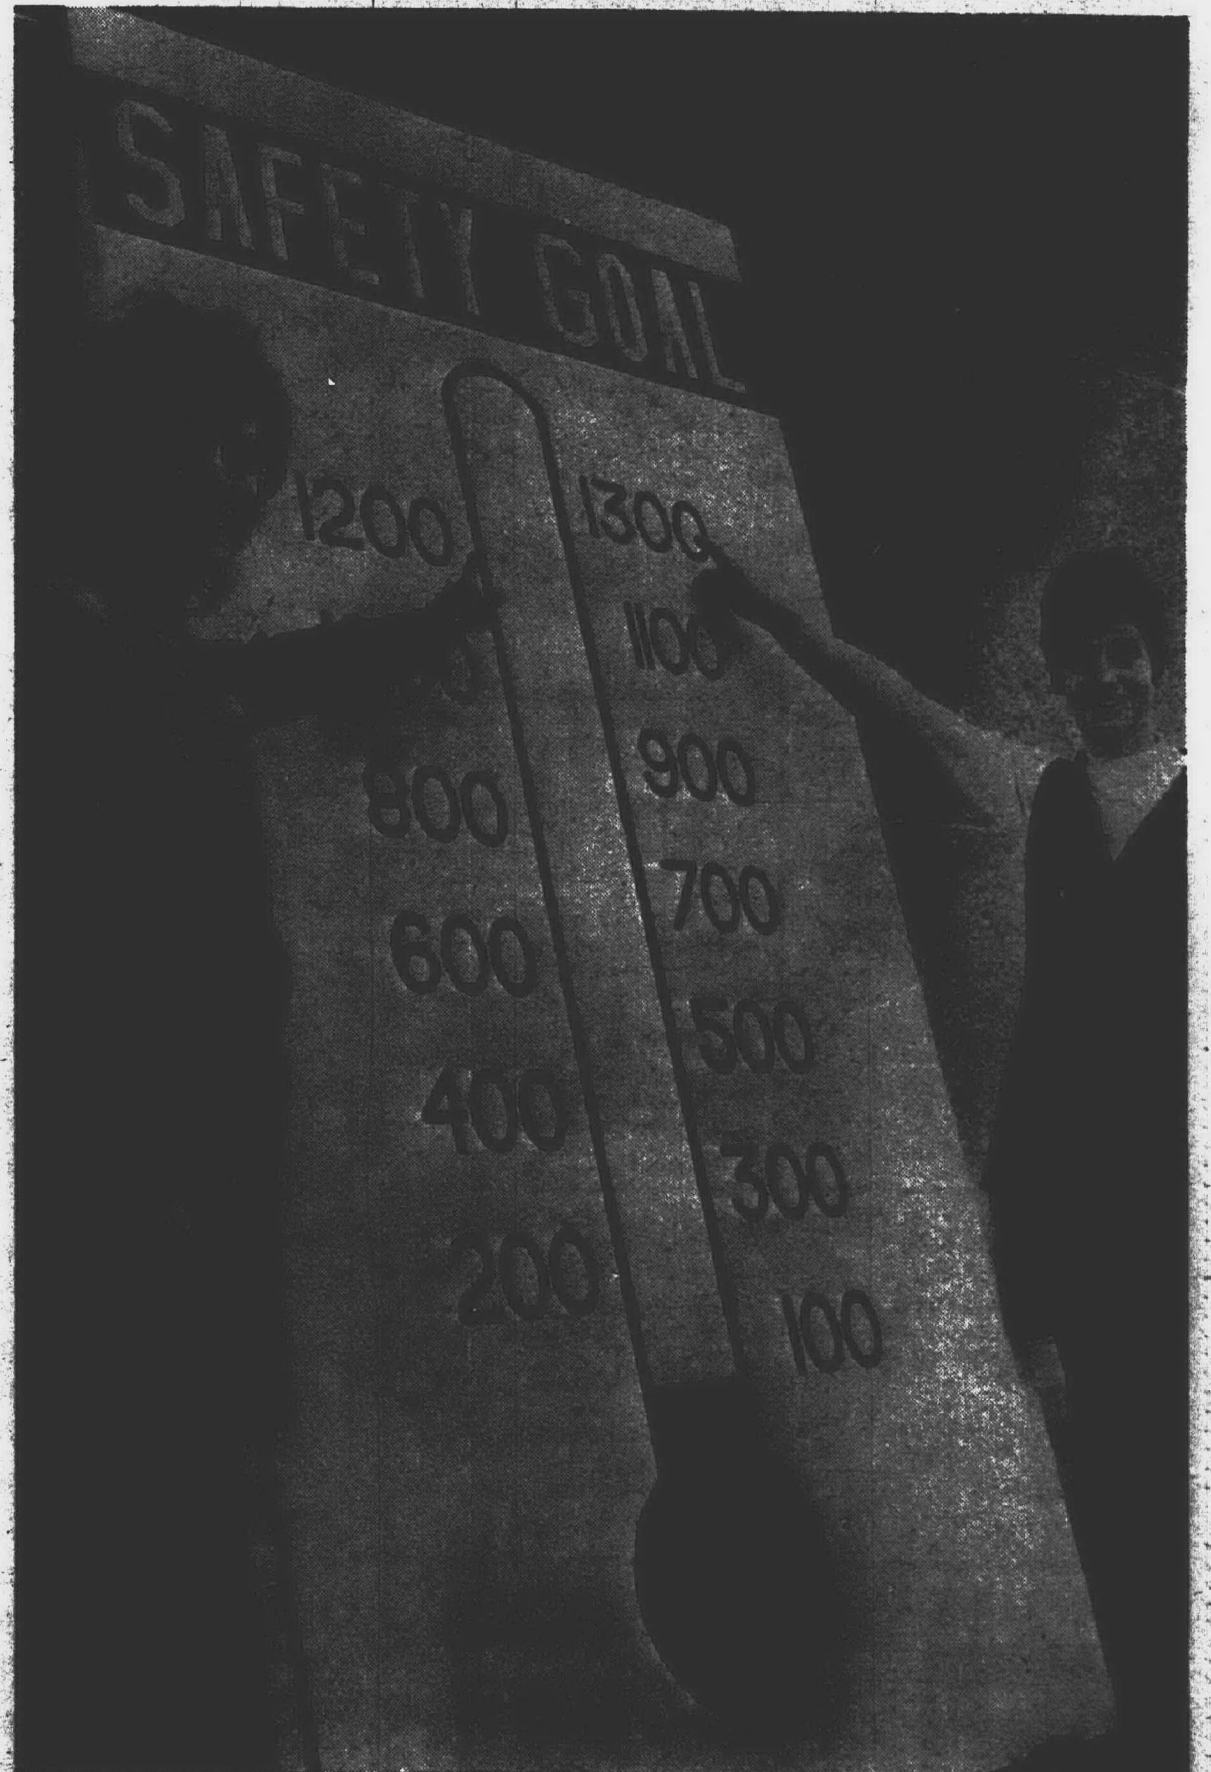

We'll Be Closed For The Holiday

All offices of Observer Newspapers Inc. will be closed Thursday, Nov. 25, for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Club secretaries will have to get their notices in to local editors a day earlier to make the weekend edition.

Deadline for display advertising and commercial classified accounts will also be a day earlier — at the close of business on Wednesday.

Deadline for individual classified ads will be the same — Friday at 10 a.m.

THE ALLEN SCHOOL PTA has launched a drive to raise $1,300 for the installation of crosswalk blinker signs in front of the school on Haggerty Rd. for student safety. They will keep track of the progress toward that goal on this thermometer, shown by Mrs. Lolly Bulkema (left), second grade teacher, and Mrs. Sue Hands, PTA president. Frank Millington, Plymouth Township trustee, gave the keynote address at the meeting and praised the Jaycees.

"It is refreshing to meet a group of young people who do more than just talk about improving something," Millington said. "The Canton Jaycees are do-ers."

PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD OF EDUCATION MINUTES

A regular meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, was held on Tuesday evening, October 26, 1971, in the Board Room of the Administration Building, 1024 South Mill Street, Plymouth, Michigan.

Vice President Hanskat called the meeting to order at 8:04 p.m. Due to the large number of guests present, the first portion of the meeting was moved to East Middle School Cafeteria.

Present: Members Graves, Hanskat, Lawton, Ohno, Penar and Sick.

Absent: Member Hulsing.

Administrators present: Supt. Rossman, Assistant Supts. Gibson and Hoben; Directors Kees and Page and Assistant Director Masteller.

Others present: Bill Heath, FEA, and about 200 Citizens.

President Hanskat dispensed with the regular order of business to hear a report from Superintendent Rossman on (1) State legislation on state aid and the veto of portions of the State Aid Bill. He urged citizens to visit, meet or write to their State Senator and State Representative. He also reported that the estimated dollar amounts on state aid have been recomputed by Mr. Blunk and a report would be received during the next two weeks; (2) on Zero Property Tax Proposals; and (3) De Jure Segregation in Detroit. Mr. Rossman reviewed the Roth Decisions to date and presented a resolution which would be used by all districts served by Region 9.

Assistant Supt. Gibson reported on his meeting on October 20 with Attorney Tom Schwarz regarding the Judge Roth decisions and noted the dates for future action as follows: November 4, Detroit Board of Education report on magnet plan is due; November 14, other parties to the suit may object; December 4, a report is due on the desegregation of the Detroit school system; February 4, the State Board of Education Suburban Plan is to be presented; and March 3, proposals and appeals from other parties to the suit may be filed.

Member Hanskat entertained questions from the audience. It was requested that each Board member present his own personal view on the matter of school busing. A member of the Canton Township Homeowners Association presented a resolution from that group going on record against forced busing. A member of the Canton Township Homeowners Association, representing 150 families, presented their position. A petition was also presented from one hundred students in 11th grade at Plymouth High School stating their views.

Member Hanskat asked that Mr. Gibson be appointed to keep the public informed, to announce in the paper any action taken after every meeting of the Board and to announce meeting dates so all who desire to may attend. Mr. Rossman was asked to state his personal position on forced busing.

It was moved by Member Sick and seconded by Member Penar that the following resolution be adopted:

"WHEREAS, as a result of an action pending before the United States District Court in Detroit, Michigan, the Court has directed that a metropolitan plan of desegregation be submitted to the Court as a result of the Court's having a de jure segregated public school system in operation in the City of Detroit; and WHEREAS, the Board believes that it is the obligation of the Board to take such action as may be necessary or advisable to protect and preserve the interests and lawful rights of the Board and the community which it serves; it is

RESOLVED, that the Plymouth Community School District, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, authorize the Michigan Association of School Administrators, Region 9, to engage and employ such legal counsel as said Association may deem competent to represent the interests of this School District and those other districts who are members of said Association."

"The Winds of War," by Herman Wouk. Navy Commander Victor Henry, predicting the Nazi-Soviet pact prior to World War II, catches the eye of F.D.R. and begins a close relationship with him and other historical figures.

"Wingarden," by Elsie Lee. Chloe Wingate inherits an old pre-Revolutionary house in which strange cousins materialize, and strange, spooky sounds are heard.

"The Betsy," by Harold Robbins. An intra-family power struggle for control of a vast automotive empire involving the development of a dream car to be called The Betsy.

"The Ra Expeditions," by Thor Heyerdahl. This is the account of the author's latest voyage - by papyrus boat from Africa and the American continent - in the company of six other men of varying cultural backgrounds.

"Event 1000," by David Lavalley. Here the author describes the attempts to rescue as many as possible of the crew of the nuclear submarine USS Lancelot, sunk 200 fathoms under the sea.

"Johnny Got His Gun," by Dalton Trumbo. This is an anti-war novel dealing with the thoughts of a totally disabled veteran of World War I.

"Plants Are Like People," by Jerry Baker. Here Jerry Baker, "America's Master Gardener," looks upon plants as people, with their own personalities and special language, and advises anyone who gardens to do the same. Occasionally they even need to be disciplined like children, and he tells how to whip a lousy tree when it stops growing.

"Forests Of The Night," by Elliott Arnold. A former RAF crew member, upon a visit to modern-day Germany, finds a sinister neo-Nazi movement operating.

"Natalie Natalia," by Nicholas Mosley. Anthony Greville, a conservative M.P., is involved with African affairs, and also in an adulterous affair with Natalie.

"Dear Run," by Edward Connolly. Sickened by his experiences in Vietnam, a young veteran sets out to establish a commune near a small Vermont town.

"Any Woman Can!" by David Reuben. Now the author of "Everything You Always Wanted To Know About Sex," the book that sold faster than any volume in hard-cover publishing history, and revolutionized America's approach to sex, has written a new book addressed to women.

THROUGH BIFOCALS
By FRED DeLANO / Editor: Mail & Observer

BRAD PARKINSON and Mrs. Janet Kneff are apt to think they are in Mecca when they visit Plymouth Tuesday as representatives of that northern Michigan complex for the betterment of the arts which we call Interlochen.

Parkinson and Mrs. Kneff are members of the admissions staff and will be headquartered at the Mayflower Hotel all day Tuesday to discuss Interlochen's winter Arts Academy and summer National Music Camp programs with parents and students from this area.

Then, after these informal visits, they will put on a formal slide presentation for the public at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Dunning-Hough Library.

One assumes that these official delegates from the north woods are only minimally acquainted with Plymouth as a little town somewhere between Detroit and Ann Arbor, and not aware that Plymouth really is to the realm of music what River City was to Meredith Willson's character creation of Prof. Harold Hill.

What I'm saying, with typical verbosity, is that if there is any corner of the United States where music is in the blood more than it is in Plymouth, I have yet to hear of it. In fact, I have been meaning for some time to suggest to Cornelius Buekema, head of the publicity bureau at Interlochen, that in his dedication to journalistic truth he dateline news stories as emanating from "Interlochen - a Plymouth, Mich., suburb."

recalling the 1951 World Series. I was covering for a California daily, and while we scribes all were on the field prior to the first game at Yankee Stadium, I violated a rule or two by strolling out to the center field wall to let my own eyes see three of the most significant plaques in all sports history. They are dedicated to Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Miller Huggins. At that moment, I knew this was the major leagues. Interlochen affects me the same way.

MANY PLYMOUTH KIDS have attended summer or winter sessions at Interlochen, and one night last summer when we left the bowl, it was almost like watching the traffic at Main and Ann Arbor Trail from the number of hello's there were to familiar faces.

Just a few nights ago, the Plymouth High School band had its annual banquet for members and parents, and Bandmaster Jim Griffith was kind enough to ask Mother Goose and me to attend. We all know from their oft honored musicianship that this is one of the best units of its kind in America, and here again on Tuesday the camaraderie that was evidenced bespoke a pride that made this plateau believable.

Music and laughter are our two greatest international languages, transcending all artificial barriers of color, creed and origin, and in our house we have more than a little of both. The laughs take care of themselves, and three saxophones, a baritone, a mellophone, a clarinet and a piano take care of the rest. But in Plymouth, this is not unique.

All I'm really saying is that Tuesday these two Interlochen representatives, Brad Parkinson and Mrs. Kneff, may need a whole floor of the Mayflower, not just one suite. There's that kind of an atmosphere that prevails here for what they're marketing, and whether it's seen in the sixth grade bands or the Plymouth Symphony, it's one of this community's claims to greatness.

Win Awards

Three Plymouth women won prizes in a contest sponsored by Anderson Crafts, 634 S. Main, Plymouth.

Mrs. Heather E. Shephard of Drury Lane, won a turkey and turkey platter; Mrs. Anna Nash of Jener Place, won a ceramic boat by Ron and Linda; and Mrs. Vincent C. Matthews of Ivywood, won a set of hand-crafted jewelry by Louise.

YES, IT IS TRUE that Interlochen offers the world more than just musical artistry, including dance, drama and the visual arts, but since its founding in 1928 by the late Dr. Joseph E. Maddy that acreage carved out of the forest south of Traverse City has best been described, in one critic's words, "the most competitive and most triggering of all the music camps of America."

As a wordsmith, I like that use of "triggering." That's exactly what a visit to Interlochen, a stroll through its lakeside facilities and attendance at a concert does to one. It triggers the adrenalin, speeds the blood stream, brings tears to the eyes, and makes one proud. In other words, it turns one on.

This is not to knock other music camps scattered across Michigan, for they all are well directed and of noble purpose, and last summer we spent a few bucks in our family to see that son Bob got to attend one over near Three Rivers.

However, let me describe what Interlochen is by

Shopping A Delight This Way

PLYMOUTH There will be a real Thanksgiving feast at the home of Mrs. Steve Agdorny this year because she just won $140 worth of groceries in a free shopping spree at a newly opened Wrigley Supermarket.

A 20-pound turkey was among her winnings.

Mrs. Agdorny's bountiful harvest came just in time for the holiday dinner to which she has invited 12 guests.

Her shopping spree was the second in conjunction with the grand opening of the Wrigley store at Ann Arbor and Haggerty Rds. in Plymouth.

One free five-minute shopping spree was awarded to the first person in line when the doors opened on Nov. 4. Mrs. Agdorny won her spree when she won a contest at the store.

She and her husband live at 6200 Ridge Road, in Plymouth.

The United Negro College Fund thanks RCA Corporation for contributing this space.

We've Got A Goldmine Here!

A goldmine of talent: the 40,000 students at the 36 colleges belonging to the United Negro College Fund.

These predominantly black schools (all fully-accredited four-year institutions) have been described by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education as a "national asset." Without them, thousands of young black men and women would never see the inside of a college.

And when they do get into these colleges, they come out as solid contributors to our society. Black colleges turn out half the nation's black elected officials, 85% of our black doctors, 75% of our black PhD's. People like Martin Luther King, Julian Bond, Angie Brooks of the U.N., and thousands more.

America needs more of them. And there are more where they came from. In the South and the North. On the farms and in the ghettos of America.

But most of them can't afford to go to college. 70% of them need financial aid. The great majority come from families earning less than $5,000 a year.

UNCF needs $10,000,000 this year to support its 36 schools. Help us tap this goldmine.

GM's Computer Can Spot Drunks

By EDWARD WENDOVER
You may want to think twice about "that last one for the road" if GM gets its way about requiring all cars to be equipped with a new device it is testing.

The "Phystester" is a small, computerized instrument that looks like a push-button telephone and would be mounted on a car's dashboard. It will test the car's driver in order to separate the physically and mentally qualified drivers from the drunks, the severely ill or the emotionally upset. The device takes some getting used to; it took this sober reporter a dozen tries to get the hang of it. But once it's made standard equipment, it should keep at least 80 per cent of the drunk drivers off the road, said F. Harger Green, chairman of the GM plants city committee in Livonia.

GREEN BROUGHT one of 63 Phystesters now being tested by GM and the U.S. Dept. of Transportation to Observer Newspapers for a demonstration.

The device is triggered when the driver inserts the key in the ignition switch. Before the car will start, the driver must pass the Phystester examination.

First, the driver must punch in a five-digit code number, programmed differently in each car. This acts as an anti-theft device as well, Green said.

After correctly punching the car's code number, a random five-digit number is flashed on a screen for 1½ seconds by the computer. The number goes off and then the driver has 3½ seconds to punch in the number he has seen.

During that 3½ seconds, another light comes on instructing the driver to hit the brake on the car - this must be done as soon as the light comes on and the brake must be released when the light goes off.

It isn't easy.

THE MENTAL agility test (punching the numbers) and the motor response test (hitting the brakes) must be combined and passed in three tries or the Phystester shuts down for half an hour - time enough, GM thinks, to help a drunk sober up or an emotionally upset driver to cool off before getting on the roads.

"It's not that GM is a bunch of prudes," Green said. "It's just that it will help reduce the number of accidents caused by drunk drivers."

The device includes a bypass system that would be hooked up to flashing lights or the car horn. This would permit emergency use of the car that would attract attention of police and warn other motorists to stay out of the way.

With mass production, the cost of the device would be less than that of a car radio, GM estimates.

"But the idea of the Phystester won't succeed unless it's made standard equipment on all cars," Green said.

With the increasing federal safety standards legislation, the Phystester's day may not be far off.

Harold Gandee IRS Sets Tax Clinics In Detroit

PLYMOUTH
Airman Harold D. Gandee, son of Mrs. Harold L. Gandee of 11505 Beck Road, Plymouth, has received his first U.S. Air Force duty assignment after completing basic training at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Texas.

The airman has been assigned to a unit of the Tactical Air Command at Shaw AFB, S.C., for training and duty as a law enforcement specialist. Gandee is a 1971 graduate of Plymouth High School.

Norman Aboard Honored Ship

PLYMOUTH
Navy PO Third Class James C. Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Norman of 45180 N. Territorial, Plymouth, is a crew member of the USS Sampson, a Charleston, S.C. based guided missile destroyer which has received Destroyer Squadron 32's battle efficiency "E" award for 1971.

His ship, which has returned from operations in the Mediterranean, was awarded the "E" for the second consecutive year for overall readiness, operational safety and efficiency, and "excellence in all areas of destroyer duty."

The U.S. Internal Revenue Service will be conducting free one-day tax clinics in Detroit.

A new dimension in the 1971 clinics, according to District Director Thomas A. Cardozo, is that special clinics will be held on business tax matters as well as the usual individual tax return clinics.

Although these federal tax information sessions are designed principally for practitioners and preparers of returns, the general public may also attend without charge, Cardozo said.

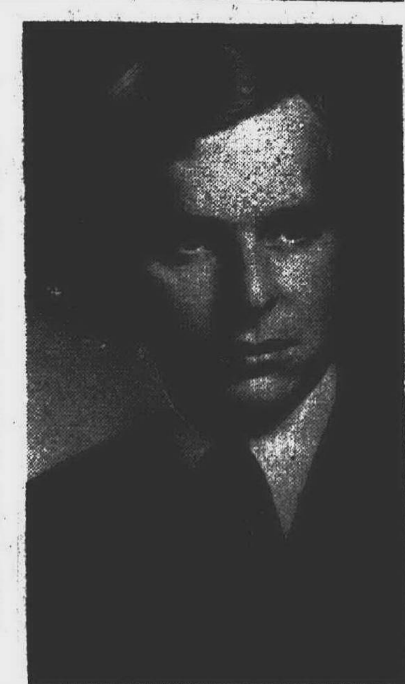

In Detroit, the clinics on 1971 individual tax matters will be held on Dec. 6, 8, 10, 13, 15, 16 and 17. Clinics on business tax matters will be conducted on Dec. 7, 9, and 14.

All clinics will begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at 4:30 p.m.

Because of anticipated heavy attendance, it will be necessary to make reservations. Interested persons should write immediately to Chief, Training Branch, P.O. Box 84, Detroit, 48283. Alternate date preferences for the Detroit clinics should be specified because of limited seating space and anticipated heavy enrollment.

ACCOUNTANTS' REPORT

Board of Trustees
Schoolcraft College
Livonia, Michigan

We have examined the financial statements of the several funds of Northwest Wayne County Community College District (Schoolcraft College) for the year ended June 30, 1971. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements of financial condition, operating revenues and expenditures, and changes in fund balance present fairly the financial position of the several funds of Schoolcraft College at June 30, 1971, and the results of their operations and changes in fund balance for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note A - Accounting principles and fund classifications

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the balanced-fund principle of accounting and on an accrual basis. For statement purposes, the accounts of the College have been classified into five balanced-fund groups, which are described as follows:

- (1) General Fund, which shows those activities financed by student tuition and fees, annual appropriations from the State of Michigan, and property tax revenues.
- (2) Restricted Fund, which shows institutional activities financed by direct gifts and grants and other revenues which must be used for the purpose specified by the donors. Because of the size of the funds, included herein are Endowment Funds of $2,250.
- (3) Auxiliary Activities Fund, which shows the activities of largely self-supporting enterprises operated principally to provide services to the student body, faculty, and staff.
- (4) Student Loan Fund, which shows the transactions relating to loans to students.
- (5) Plant Fund, which shows the transactions relating to the investment in institutional properties, including indebtedness incurred in the financing thereof.

Note B - Temporary investments

Temporary investments of the several funds at June 30, 1971 are stated at cost and include $1,395,539 in certificates of deposit, $843,061 in savings deposit receipts, and $69,724 of accrued interest thereon.

Note C - Bonds payable

The principal and interest on bonds are payable only from designated property tax levies. The College has levied a .537 mill tax (approximately $720,000) for the year ending June 30, 1972, which together with funds on hand will be adequate to meet payments due during that year, including mandatory prepayments for the 1982 debt retirement.

The bonds are generally taxable, bear interest at rates varying from 3 1/2 to 6 1/2 percent at various dates through 1995.

Note D - Retirement plan

College contributions for the year to the Michigan Public School Employees Retirement Fund aggregated $258,686.

More than 60 horses will be shown, including the fine dressage breeds of Andalusian, Arabian, Morgan, American saddle bred, American albino, Palomino, and Appaloosa. More than 30 Lipizzaners will perform. Often described as the "ballerina dancers of the equine world," Lipizzaners are of Spanish and Arabian stock, and have been bred and trained for more than 400 years at the Spanish Riding School in Vienna. Once the breed was the sole property of the Hapsburg monarchy.

He was especially enthusiastic over the strength of the textile and metalworking entries. Merritt has been particularly interested in Michigan craft activity since he was director of the Flint Institute of Arts from 1947 to 1951.

ALL OBJECTS in the exhibition are for sale through the museum shop. The show is a biennial event, alternating years with Michigan Artists Exhibition. Readers Write: Public Support Delights Band

EDITOR:

Recently, the members of the Plymouth High School Symphony Band had a fund raising venture, a deal sale to raise money for the band's trip to Mississippi in February.

The band called for assistance and the citizens of Plymouth responded heartily to a degree that delighted everyone connected with the enterprise.

The economic situation everywhere is delicate, with financial matters a primary issue. It was really gratifying the way the residents of Plymouth reached into their pockets to aid our cause.

We, the bandmen of Plymouth High School wish to thank the people of Plymouth and publicly announce our gratitude for your donations.

PLYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL SYMPHONY BAND

Puts Bussing In New Light

EDITOR:

This letter is an appeal for a simple but sensible explanation of the current public school "forced" bussing in Michigan. There is an urgent need to cease injuring the majority while we strive to advance the cause of any minority.

The first step is for every responsible official in our governmental system, at every level - local, state and national, and in all branches, to recognize and clearly understand that our government is based on the principles of precise division of powers as well as responsibilities at each level and every branch.

The second step is to remind every honest citizen, and more specifically, every elected official, that prior to taking office each is given the oath of office in which he promises to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States. Let these defenders of this great system of ours become fully aware that it is the Constitution which is the "supreme law of the land" and not the Supreme Court. Our elected representatives obtain their powers from the consent of the governed - we the people - and not from any court of justice.

The officialdom of the media - newspapers, radios and television, are equally guilty for spreading misinformation. Whether ignorantly or intentionally is irrelevant. Let these facts speak for themselves:

1. The first article to the Bill of Rights does guarantee to the people the right to petition the government for a redress of wrong done to them. It is therefore not disloyal to ask those elected representatives to act on behalf of the electorate - the people.

2. To suggest that an amendment be added to the Constitution of the United States does not mean rewriting our living document. Maybe the word amendment is a misnomer. Hence, a situation. We have added to the Constitution and only one has been found lacking in support and hence removed (18th Amendment repealed).

3. The law-making body of our nation is the Congress, not the Supreme Court. Hence, it is the responsibility of the Congress to add whatever strengthening links may become necessary to the Constitution. For Congress to fail to act is to be negligent of its fundamental duties to the people of the entire nation.

4. Justices of Supreme Court and judges of all courts have specific responsibilities only to determine (explain) whether a particular law is good or bad for the people. It is not the prerogative of any judge to enforce an act of Congress such as did Judge Roth by ordering the Michigan State Board of Education to implement educational policies.

In summary, let every one understand, especially Senator Hart, that ours is a government of separate branches, based on checks and balances. Congress makes the laws, the president enforces them. The Supreme Court simply determines whether a law is good or not after someone has asked, but not before. Let this system be strengthened and preserved to our posterity without force.

The will of the ballot must prevail.

Good Support Given UNICEF

On behalf of the Plymouth Community Council of Churches, I'd like to thank the residents of the city and township of Plymouth for their generous support of the recent UNICEF drive sponsored by the council.

Having worked with adults on fund-raising drives, I was particularly impressed with the interest and enthusiasm of the young people of the community in raising funds for this worthwhile cause.

Youngsters from the following youth groups did a great job canvassing the community: First United Presbyterian Church, First Baptist Church, First United Methodist Church, St. John's Episcopal Church, St. Kenneth Parish, YMCA, Girl Scout Troops 367, 500, 626 and 640. Bill Heiney and the Hofmann family also helped.

The $800.20 that was raised here in Plymouth, although over $100 less than was raised last year, will help purchase vitamins, vaccines, medical supplies, food and school supplies for needy children in more than 100 nations. UNICEF has a particularly great need for funds this year, since it has allocated $3 million to aid the displaced mothers and children among the more than eight million Pakistani refugees within East Pakistan.

Plymouth residents who did not have an opportunity to contribute to UNICEF during our solicitation, or who would like to supplement their contribution, may send a check or money order payable to the U.S. Committee for UNICEF to P.O. Box 1704, Church Street Station, New York, New York 10008.

City Firemen Draw Praise

EDITOR:

The following is a copy of a letter I have addressed to George Schoeneman, City of Plymouth fire chief:

"I would like to extend my gratitude to you and your department for the expeditious handling of the fire in my property located at Harvey and Wing. The fire occurred Saturday night, Oct. 30.

"It is my understanding that the fire was first spotted and reported by one of your men on patrol. I feel this early discovery probably saved the building from burning to the ground.

"The fireman who spotted the fire deserves credit for his alertness and the person who made the decision to send out patrols that night deserves equal praise as well. My thanks to both.

"A special thanks to Robert Degen who stayed behind awaiting our arrival. When we arrived, he was most courteous and helpful, which made it much easier for us to get through the first part of a bad experience.

"I'm so sorry that Mr. Degen's parked car was seriously damaged by a passing motorist. I trust that the city will do whatever it can to assist Mr. Degen in recovering for his damages. My best wishes to a fine fire department."

Quick Action Appreciated

EDITOR:

Recently I had a small fire in my home and I called the Plymouth Fire Department. They immediately responded and within three to five minutes I had two fire trucks at my door.

I want to say, "Thank you," for responding so quickly and turning what could have been a tragic day into a happy day.

They also checked my house over to make sure everything was okay.

Again many thanks to the firemen.

Hits Inflation In The Schools

EDITOR:

Quoting the Sage of Claremore, Oklahoma, 'all I know is what I read in the papers', and now I see we have a $26,000 per annum school superintendent, with three $25,000 a year assistants. Hoo, boy, the James Brothers and the Dalton Boys never had it so good.

Perhaps it's the modus operandi employed that makes the difference. The Coffeyville gang had to pack a six-gun and ride 'hell bent for leather,' while the local lads use only a little stiletto, called 'tenure' and straddle a saddlesore nag, named 'millage.'

Ah!, but who dares to challenge the 'inflation-juggernaut' of progress?

PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT Plymouth, Michigan BOARD OF EDUCATION MINUTES

A regular meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, was held on Monday evening, October 11, 1971, in the Board Room of the Administration Building, 1024 South Mill Street, Plymouth, Michigan, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

President Hulsing called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m.

Present: Members Graves, Hanak, Hulsing, Lawton, Penar and Sick.

Absent: Member Ohio.

Administrators present: Sup't Rosman, Assistant Sup'ts Blunk, Gibson and Hoban; Director Kee, Administrative Assistant Sirbaugh and Assistant Recreation Dir. Masteller.

Others present: John Ryder, PEA; Kenneth and Janice Nicholson, Emma and Michael Neibauer, Sylvia Stets, Nancy Clayton, Richard Davidson, Kenneth and Pat Jones, Elizabeth and Glen Harley, Eva Grace, Diane Lambert, John Constantine, Gail Vargas, Rita Mincavage and Don Stoecher; Kathy Moran, Plymouth Mail & Observer.

It was moved by Member Hanak and seconded by Member Graves that the minutes of the regular meeting on September 28, 1971, be deferred for consideration at the next regular meeting.

Ayes: Members Graves, Hanak, Hulsing, Lawton, Penar and Sick.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Mrs. Diane Lambert, from the Holiday Park Homeowners' Association, addressed the Board regarding students congregating to board the buses between the hours of 6:30 and 7:45 a.m. and doing damage to the property of Michael Neibauer at the corner of Holly and Joy Road and to the brick pillars of the public property entrance to the subdivision. After discussion, President Hulsing directed the Administration to work out three or four more bus stops widely enough separated so that no large number of students would be congregated in any one location and to implement this plan by Thursday, October 13, 1971, if possible. Member Hanak suggested that in the future administration work with builders as they plan subdivisions and provide bus-loading areas so this situation will not rise again.

A citizen stated that she was meeting with Principal Rank and Safety Director Smith to contact Canton Township regarding installation of 1,000 feet of sidewalk from Holly Drive to the east which will alleviate some problems. The Board was most grateful for her concern and encouraged her to continue her work with the Township.

The Superintendent's Report was received. It was the consensus of the Board that at the present time the School District continue with its own attorney rather than share the cost of attorneys attending hearings relative to cross-district busing of students during the coming months. Mr. Rosman reviewed the status of Judge Roth's orders regarding student transportation.

The Fourth Friday Official Membership was reported as 10,124.5.

Assistant Sup't Hoban reported the shuttle bus service from Plymouth High School, requested by the Student Council at the last meeting of the Board, had been set up and four buses leave the school at 4:30 p.m. and travel to the areas of Holiday Park, Lake Pointe, West Middle School and Central Junior High School and then return to the garage.

Mr. Rosman reported that there have been many changes in the Department of Education Rules and Regulations relative to Adult Education, Athletics, Remedial Reading, Vocational Education, Special Education and in the distribution of State and Federal Aid. He noted that the School District has been approved for $18,118 of federal aid for the second year of the GUIDE project. He also reported the Policies and Procedures approved by the Board are midway in completion.

Mr. Hoban presented memorandums to the Board for informational purposes relative to the Curriculum Coordinating Committee's activities, the program of governmental unit cooperation in recreation program services and on his concerns and the status of new programs for the present school year. He also reported that the Educational Division is gathering books to be sent to Wayne County Juvenile Detention Home at the request of the Home.

It was moved by Member Lawton and seconded by Member Sick to approve payment of the following Operating Fund, Revolving Fund and Building and Site Fund bills:

The Stroller... Ingenuity Pays

By W. W. EDGAR

In the mail the other day came a fascinating little card that is the latest product of American ingenuity.

On it were 12 little plastic stickers, each containing a page from the 1972 calendar, with instructions to peel them off monthly and stick them on the face of your wrist watch so that you have the dates in front of you in a second or two.

Looking at them and the simplicity with which these little stickers could help a busy man, The Stroller had to smile and whisper to himself, "What will they come up with next?"

It seems only a few months ago that the small calendar to be inserted on the wrist band of your watch came on the market - and at fancy prices.

Now, they could become passe, all because some American (not Ford) came up with a better idea with a price that would please the most frugal.

The Stroller couldn't help but wonder what would happen now to the gold and silver inserts on the watchmaker and jeweler's shelves. They could be a drug on the market and another victim of American ingenuity that never seems to slow down.

IT REMINDED The Stroller of a friend, who, some years ago, came up with the idea of glazed cement blocks in a variety of colors as the latest thing for store fronts in the ever-changing business world.

Seemed like the friend had it made - for this was something new and novel and a real eye-catcher.

But, lo and behold, before he could finance the marketing of the blocks, another fellow came out with metal squares twice the size and only a fraction of the cost - and "killed" the glazed blocks.

You can now find some of them being used as stepping stones in The Stroller's lawn.

And speaking of American ingenuity, there's the case of Dick Kimbrough, a former Plymouth businessman, who now has a "going thing" out in Arkansas. In fact, he has been so successful that he is enlarging his plant, according to some of his friends.

And what do you suppose he has done?

DON'T LAUGH. But he became concerned with the fact that the common sweet potato was so varied in size and shape that it often proved troublesome to the housewife who had to juggle it around in cooking utensils in order to prepare it for a meal.

So, struck with a surge of American ingenuity, he hit upon the idea of reshaping the sweet potato. This he does by taking the ingredients out of the "skin," grinding it, and stuffing it back into a skin like sausage to have them all the same size and shape.

As a result the once troublesome sweet potato no longer is a problem in the kitchen, and housewives are taking to the new product in ever increasing numbers.

"Now, he's planning to do the same thing with the common Irish potato," according to word from his Plymouth friends.

What a fine way to introduce the Thanksgiving season.

AND SPEAKING of those who are stuck with products because of American ingenuity coming up with better ideas, one of The Stroller's friends, now long gone, became fairly wealthy all because his original idea was pining out.

Years ago, the late Ted Kimber manufactured wooden wheels for roller skates. As new products came on the market, there was less and less demand for wooden wheels.

So, he turned to bowling and, with the same amount of material, started to manufacture bottoms for bowling pins.

In no time "Kimber Bottoms" became a household word in bowling.

That's American ingenuity. It's unmatched in any other country.

Hope you enjoy the sweet potatoes with your Thanksgiving dinner.

Plymouthite Finds Role As Teacher Presents Problem

By BETH JOHNSON

EAST LANSING

A student conducting a class can present problems, as Lyle Meier, a senior in physics at Michigan State University, has discovered.

Lyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meier of 14943 Lakewood, Plymouth, found it "difficult at first to teach" a group of freshmen and sophomore students.

He conducts a physics recitation class in which students are given an opportunity to ask questions about the lecture material.

"Sometimes I find myself caught in blind alleys when I try to do a problem from scratch rather than just copying the answer from the book," he explained.

"But the class is fun. I enjoy it."

"I have to keep up with the lecture material," he added, "to be prepared for the class."

MEIER RECEIVES $300 a term for his teaching services at Lyman Briggs, college of natural science, at MSU. Junior and senior students in physics are selected for a teaching position on the basis of their grade point average.

Two summers ago Meier received a $600 research grant from the National Science Foundation. He conducted experiments concerning platinum metal.

The summer project was influential in his decision to enter a master's degree program in geophysics rather than physics.

He was disappointed with his summer research project because the "results were irrelevant to the world," Meier explained he thought the experiment was "too specialized and not related to the world" problems.

He sees geophysical research as bringing direct benefits because it deals with problems of the tangible earth, such as oil research.

MEIER WOULD like to do research for an oil company after completing doctoral studies. He would also like to return to the classroom.

"I'd like to teach, but I need the practical experience first," he added.

Meier's avid science interest may have been influenced by his father, who is a chemistry teacher at Plymouth High School.

But adds Lyle, "I don't particularly like chemistry lab classes. They're too messy."

Service Will Be On Nov. 24

Updating Due On Guidelines

CANTON TOWNSHIP Plans to update Canton township's PUD (planned unit development) guidelines will be discussed by the Canton Township board at its December meeting.

Cost of the proposed updating was set at $2,000. A representative of Parkings and Rogers, Detroit-based planning consultants who are employed by the township, will be on hand to explain the changes they feel are necessary.

Canton Faces Zoning Hassle

the ground floor of the same building. The space reportedly has been used in the past for storage.

Family ties complicate the issue. Smith is the brother-in-law of Louis Smith, former township supervisor and longtime chairman of the planning commission of which he is still a member.

Smith's son, Andrew Jr., is a member of the zoning board of appeals.

Both Stein and Mrs. Pearl Doyle, planning commission secretary, have publicly opposed the appeals board action.

They did so at the commission's Nov. 2 meeting.

IN ADDITION to the action itself, Mrs. Doyle intimated that the public could misconstrue the appeals board approval because of the family relationships involved.

It could be interpreted, Mrs. Doyle theorized, "that he (Smith) can get anything he wants because his son is on the appeals board."

"If you let me, how can you say so to anyone else?" she asked.

Stein sponsored a resolution, which passed unanimously, calling for the township board to censure the action.

He based his disapproval largely on an Oct. 23 opinion by Township Attorney Sempliner that stated the zoning board of appeals had acted illegally in granting Smith's request. Sempliner's letter indicated that the appeals board had changed the zoning and "it does not have the power to grant the request."

Stein's resolution stated that the planning board was "greatly concerned" and "apprehensive" of the precedent being set.

Both the elder Smith and his son were present at the Nov. 9 township board meeting to defend the appeals board approval.

There had been no change in zoning, the pair said, but merely the "upgrading" of the building, which is allowable for buildings of non-conforming use as long as the basic structure remains unchanged.

The younger Smith also said he had conferred with Sempliner since the Oct. 23 opinion was written and said that apparently he (Sempliner) had overlooked another section of the ordinance which allows the expansion and extension of buildings of non-conforming usage.

TRUSTEE Ray Deeds countered by quoting still another section of the ordinance that states non-conforming buildings can not be enlarged or changed structurally.

One of Stein's charges was that the Smiths hadn't applied for a building permit. But the Smiths told the board a permit wasn't needed because the lower apartment had been more than partially completed quite some time ago.

"Everything was in-the-plumbing and the heating-it's just that no one lived in it," the Smiths said.

Friction increased when Mel Paulsen, building inspector, stated that the Smiths didn't ask for a building permit, but only for part permission to remove a set of garage doors to install some windows.

Ironically, the township board lacks power to overrule the appeals board decision.

THE ISSUE might have to be resolved in court-with Stein as the possible complainant, it was pointed out.

Privately, several trustees took a dim view of the appeals board action.

Sitting in the hottest seat of all is Treasurer Grant Campbell, who is also chairman of the planning commission and a member of the zoning board of appeals. "Personally," he told the Observer, "I feel we did the right thing. All he was doing was upgrading the building, and that's allowed."

Pg. 1, 4th line, last paragraph: omit the word "plan"

Pg. 2, 3rd line, 2nd last paragraph: insert "this" before "Administrator," omit "the"

The motion was carried.

The Public Hearing on the Proposed Budget for 1971-72 School Year was declared in session.

Assistant Sup't Blunk was asked to present a summary of the development of the budget since January, 1971. The proposed budget indicated General Operating Fund Estimated Receipts for 1971-72 of $9,775,187 and operating expenses of $9,775,185, an increase in income of $970,000 and an increase in expenses of $989,671 over 1970-71.

Member Lawton pointed out that the increase in income should be related to what has been collected in increased local taxes and that the cost of education per pupil will be $989 in 1971-72 as compared to $915 per pupil in 1970-71. Member Sick felt that with the proposed budget up 11.3% and the number of pupils increased 5.1%, wage and salary increases granted by the Board would account for the difference in the budget increase for this year. Mr. Blunk concurred in this.

Mr. Blunk announced the Annual Report, based on the official audit of the 1970-71 school year, would be published in the Plymouth Mail and Observer at an early date and that his office would be happy to explain any portion of the report upon request.

Mr. Doherty asked Member Hanks whether the School Board was contemplating asking the voters to approve the 5 mill renewal next year. Member Hanks replied that they were but hopefully would not ask for any more than the five mills.

It was moved by Member Lawton and seconded by Member Penar that the Public Hearing on the Budget for 1971-72 School Year be declared closed and that the budget be approved as presented.

Ayes: Members Graves, Hanks, Lawton, Penar and Sick.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Representatives from Wakely, Kushner Associates, Architects, briefly reviewed site plans, equipment schedules, specifications and drawings and cost estimates for Canton High School Phase II - vocational education wing, two stories, 45,000 sq. ft. Expenses for Phase II would come from building and site fund monies which have accrued interest and from investment proceeds of bond revenues, and at this time another bond issue would not be required.

Phase II would house about 300 students in all types of vocational study. Considerable discussion followed concerning the relative priorities that should be assigned to Canton Phase II compared with other school facility needs.

It was moved by Member Penar and seconded by Member Graves that bids be taken on Phase II of Canton High School.

Ayes: Members Graves, Hanks, Lawton, Penar and Sick.

The motion was deferred.

Mr. Blunk was requested to obtain information from the State regarding changes in funding which might have a bearing on a decision to request bids at a later date.

A citizen inquired whether there were plans to light tennis courts and plant trees in that area at the high school. Member Hanks replied there were no plans to do so at present.

A petition requesting a Skywalk across Joy Road for the safety of children going to and from Fiegel School was presented to the Board. The petition contained 660 signatures of parents and other interested parties in the Fiegel School area.

Mrs. Tony Tonda Safety Representative for Fiegel School, read a report to the Board which stated: (1) Four hundred and seventy-six children live across Joy Road from the school and 280 cross two times and even four times each day. (2) No sidewalks are available and children walk in the road. (3) There is road and apartment construction nearby. (4) In winter children walk in snow banks and on main roads and have tendency to slide into Joy Road. (5) Crossing guard sometimes must cross 65 children at one time.

Members asked which other schools might have high accident potential, with the response that Gallimore, Bird, Tanger and Allen School do have. It was stated that State law permits school districts to use public funds for this type of safety device.

It was moved by Member Sick and seconded by Member Lawton that the Board take the petitions under advisement and refer them to the Assistant Superintendent for Business for a recommendation by the second meeting in October.

Ayes: Members Graves, Hanks, Lawton, Penar and Sick.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Hanks stated the school system certainly wants to solve the needs of the children going to and from school in this and every area, and the Board hopes citizens will continue to press the Townships for sidewalks which would greatly alleviate the situation.

Bill Moehle, representative of the Plymouth High School, presented a petition signed by 318 students of the high school requesting a shuttle bus from the high school to the downtown areas or to the middle schools. Many more students could then participate in extracurricular activities after school and it would benefit those who have jobs during the day on the co-op program who must otherwise drive to school and pay the parking fee.

It was moved by Member Graves and seconded by Member Penar that the Superintendent be directed to have students picked up as buses return to town in the afternoon and transport them to central locations in the downtown area after regular school hours.

Ayes: Members Graves, Hanks, Lawton, Penar and Sick.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Proposed school plans were discussed by Superintendent Roseman. It was moved by Member Lawton and seconded by Member Penar that the Board go on record as not planning to purchase 10,000 acres and that the developer and the Canton Planning Commission be notified so that the property can be utilized.

Ayes: Members Graves, Hanks, Lawton, Penar and Sick.

as to whether anything is needed from the Township to allow them to balance a site on the southwest corner of Beck Road and Ann Arbor Trail and northwest corner of Beck and N. Territorial.

Mr. Breen said the Township has no control over moving soil on private property, and it would be up to the Building Inspector to check grades when necessary.

Mr. Overholt asked about drainage and disturbing the natural cover on the site, which could possibly, through soil erosion, cause contamination of the streams. Mr. Breen replied that this would be controlled by the Department of Natural Resources. Mr. Overholt requested they be notified of the moving on these particular sites.

(c) Mrs. Richardson asked Mr. Hamill, the Township Engineer, if the proposed widening of Ann Arbor Road as a Boulevard would make a difference in future water and sewer lines being considered. Mr. Hamill replied they would have to plan accordingly as soon as they know what is being planned.

Mr. Breen said they would like to dedicate frontage now for a boulevard so the County could plan for the ultimate improvement of Ann Arbor Road, and they were having the Township Board informed of their plans so the Township could plan accordingly.

Approved, MAURICE BREEN Supervisor

Respectfully Submitted, HELEN RICHARDSON Clerk

Published: Nov. 20, 1971

The motion was carried. Sup't Roseman reported the Wayne County School Board Association will meet at Pioneer Middle School on October 28, 1971, at 6:30 p.m. He also explained the duplication and distribution of Policies and Procedures as they are progressing at the present time.

Assistant Sup't Hohen reported the first meeting of the Community-School Council will be held on November 1. Modular Scheduling Program at the high school will be discussed. He asked that Board members participate in discussion groups if possible. He also reported that he had met with officials concerned with recreation in the municipalities and the schools. They will continue to meet on a bi-weekly basis to effect cooperation relating to recreation so efforts will not be duplicated.

Mr. Hohen stated the staff is still gathering information on the utilization of Central School. The single-school concept, as opposed to a two-school concept for Plymouth and Canton High Schools, was brought up in discussion. Next year Canton High School would house 9th, 10th and 11th grade students and Plymouth High School would house 9th through 12th grades, the students to be selected on a random basis. It was the consensus of the Board that the single-school concept would remain for the 1972-73 school year but that direction for Canton High School should be discussed further for future years.

It was moved by Member Sick and seconded by Member Graves that the dedication date for Plymouth High School be set for December 5, 1971. Ayes: Members Graves, Hanks, Lawton, Penar and Sick.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

"University Hills Church," the congregation's brochure states, "takes its confessional stand upon the historical evidence of the self sacrifice of Jesus Christ as the clue to God's disposition toward all mankind."

"It is the conviction of this church that the good news in the gospel is that God is unconditionally for man and not a threat to man."

"University Hills Church is community oriented, rather than a denominationally-oriented ministry."

"Our doors stand open to all who will inquire after and celebrate the grace of God and who will enact for mankind the graciousness of Godliness."

THE CHURCH has as its confession of faith the words of the hymn, "The Church's One Foundation," and its prayer is an adaptation of the prayer of St. Francis.

The film featuring Art Linkletter and provided by the Aid Association for Lutherans, depicts the drug scene and shows how resources already available in the community can be put to use to find solutions to drug abuse.

The Rev. Bernard Kube, associate pastor, said the film is free and open to the public, and added that church leaders hoped those present would want to organize a community action program along lines that have been suggested by the makers of the movie.

Linkletter, in his presentation in the film says drug misuse "has become epidemic and we are likely to lose the very young people who will lead this country in the years to come if we do not join to do something about it."

Ecumenical Service Is Planned

Celebration of both the sacred and secular aspects of Thanksgiving will be the theme of the annual ecumenical Thanksgiving Service for the Farmington area.

The service is set at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 24, in Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church, 23615 Powers.

Clergy and laity from several Farmington churches will participate, and an ecumenical choir under the direction of Don Zelinski of Our Lady of Sorrows will furnish the music.

THE REV. JOHN HOOPER, minister of Trinity Episcopal Church, will be the speaker. His message will pick up the theme of the coming together of sacred and secular.

Other clergymen participating will be the Rev. Carl Kalkreider, pastor of Antioch Lutheran Church and president of the Farmington Ministerial Association, and the Rev. Joseph Imesch, pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows. It is the first time that the service has been held in the Sorrows sanctuary.

The thinking behind the service was explained by the Rev. Meredith T. Moshauer, associate minister of Nardin Park United Methodist Church and chairman of a planning committee for the annual service.

"THIS YEAR'S service," he said, "attempts to acknowledge that there is a secular world which everyone lives in, and in part also ventures into the sacred world."

"Our unit as a community lies more in the secular than in the sacred. We have thought that to have a Thanksgiving worship experience which does not present this may be avoiding reality."

"Was not the original

edith Moshauer and the Rev. Robert Rokusek, associate pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows. (Evert photo)

Thanksgiving is a acknowledgement of this?

"IN THE SERVICE this year, through this setting, we are attempting to say that God is the one to whom we are thankful and that the world in which we exist is also a place in which God and man are acting out this thankfulness. "We do not presume to say that the world is past redemption. However, we are thankful that God has not given up."

Others who worked with

Rev. Moshauer on the planning committee were Mrs. Edmund Whiting of St. Clare Catholic Church, the Rev.

Hugh C. White of First United Methodist and the Rev. Gary Cowell of Incarnation Lutheran.

Welfare Reform Meet Set

Welfare reform will be the subject of an open meeting scheduled at 8 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 21, in St. Gerald Catholic Church, 21300 Farmington Road, Farmington. All residents of the 14th State Senate district are invited to attend.

SPEAKERS WILL include Laura Hess, community relations employe of Wayne County Social Service, and Paula Tobocman, human resources chairman for the Farmington-West Bloomfield League of Women Voters.

Miss Hess will discuss the possibilities of the federal government taking over welfare agencies and the problems in such a situation. Mrs. Tobocman will talk about the present welfare situation in Michigan.

The meeting is part of a growing movement to organize welfare groups in state senate districts. Individuals, churches and community organizations already are forming coalitions to work for legislative changes to improve the welfare system and encourage greater understanding on the part of the public.

Those in this area interested in the move may attend the meeting at St. Gerald or call Mrs. Marguerite Kowalski, 36680 Brittany Hill, Farmington.

Rev. Stroud Will Be Installed

The Rev. Jerry B. Stroud will be installed as pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, 14350 Wormer, Redford Township, at the 10 a.m. worship service Sunday, Nov. 10.

The Rev. Robert L. Wietmann, bishop of the Michigan district of the American Lutheran Church, will conduct the service. A coffee hour will follow.

Rev. Stroud is a graduate of Capital University and the Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary at Columbus, Ohio. A native of Dearborn, he has served as assistant pastor of First Lutheran Church of Detroit Lakes, Minn., and as pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Waukegan, Minn.

Pastor Stroud, his wife Anelle, and their three children, Holly, Laurel and David, will reside at 26551 Davison.

Rev. Lester Kinsolving's Religion Update

Football is still a wondrous thing at Notre Dame - but it is no longer holy, as it was in the days of the late Chaplain John O'Hara.

Father O'Hara (later cardinal archbishop of Philadelphia) used to issue bulletins carefully correlating the rate of student mass attendance with Irish touch-downs.

Along this line of reasoning, it could also have been contended that the gridiron gladiators of the golden dome almost invariably vindicated the Faith by conquering both the United States Army (West Point) and Navy (Annapolis) - although almost never contending with any other Catholic institution.

Hence, when one Notre Dame team snapped the 44-game winning streak of the University of Oklahoma, the captain of the Fighting Irish remarked to reporters:

"That victory was for every Catholic in Oklahoma!"

THIS COMMENT was described last week, however, as "perfectly horrible" by Father John O'Brien, one of Notre Dame's most venerable and revered scholars and one of the nation's most renowned Catholic spokesmen.

Father O'Brien hardly derogates football, having once played quarterback against the immortal Knute Rockne (who, as coach, won 105, lost 12 and tied 8) the year before Rockne and Gus Dorais introduced the forward pass.

A photograph of Father O'Brien's St. Viator's College team is in his study - with the written notation: "We scored against Notre Dame."

But Father O'Brien, a leader in ecumenical cooperation, is glad that Notre Dame football is no longer a holy war - or in improper perspective for what has become a great university. He recalls, for instance, a 1963 West Coast press conference for the newly elected Notre Dame president, Father Theodore Hesburgh - at which nobody showed up but sports-writers.

FATHER O'BRIEN'S sense of proportion appears to be shared by that dark and devastatingly charismatic French Armenian Presbyterian whose Notre Dame coaching record is fast approaching Rockne and Frank Leahy (87-11-9). In an exclusive interview, Head Coach Ara Parseghian told this writer:

"We're really an educational institution with a religious affiliation. A football team is certainly not a religion. But I believe that we have demonstrated that a great university having a great football team can go hand in hand."

Coach Parseghian conceded: "Yes, the team attends mass all together before every game - because football is much more than physical; it's emotional and spiritual and this develops a sense of unity."

He also disclosed: "There has never been any attempt to convert me - I'm here as a football coach, and my religious affiliation is my own business. So far as I know, it was the same way with Knute Rockne."

ROCKNE, a Norwegian Lutheran, became a Catholic after years of seeing his team go voluntarily to early mass - and subsequently showing far less pre-game anxiety than their coach.

Parseghian also denied recurrent reports of an invincible recruiting system - allegedly operated by every priest and nun in the U.S. in order to supply football talent for the most victorious of Catholic colleges (won 532, lost 144, tied 38). "Priests are usually loyal to their own environment," he contended, "although some are sympathetic to us. But there are many more outstanding college teams today, so we really have to compete for the boys."

Parseghian has a distinct edge, nevertheless. Notre Dame has become the Catholic Harvard, among many other reasons because it has provided an academic refuge for such brilliant, if controversial scholars as Fathers O'Brien, John McKenzie (now at DePaul University) and James Burtchell.

So in addition to obtaining a good education, the young football star who chooses the Irish can play on turf sanctified by more pros and All-Americans than any other college team in U.S. history.

He can also count on being fired up weekly by the most spine-tingling of all football songs, as capacity stadium crowds and millions of subway alumni still sing, at the top of their lungs:

"Send a volley cheer on high - Shake down the thunder from the sky! What though the odds be great or small, Old Notre Dame will win over all."

Following an annual custom, three Redford Township churches will join for a Thanksgiving Eve ecumenical service in Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church, 17116 Olympia.

The other churches participating in the service at 8 p.m. Nov. 24 are Good Shepherd Lutheran and Village United Presbyterian.

A combined choir of 200 voices will perform several songs of the season under the direction of Patrick Bellemann, choir director for Our Lady of Loretto, and Roger Phillips, choir master at Village church.

Margaret Williams at the organ and an orchestra of musicians from Our Lady of Loretto will accompany the group.

The Rev. David B. Antonson of Village church will deliver the sermon. Other clergymen participating will be the Rev. Godfrey Alberti of Good Shepherd, the Rev. James A. Crawford of Village, and the Rev. Robert Ryan and the Rev. Tom Borkowski of Loretto.

The community is invited to join in the musical worship service of thanksgiving.

Methodist Ministers To Sing

The Light Company, a musical group composed of three United Methodist ministers, will lead worship services at both 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday, Nov. 21, in Newburg United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia.

The three are Dave Trout, Bill Hanlin and Bob Morley. With the encouragement of their church, they left the local parish ministry to experiment in a contemporary medium. Their emphasis is on the good things of life with which people of all faiths and ages can identify.

The Light Company deals in contemporary music, letting the songs that come from this generation speak to this generation about responsibility to life and to one's fellow man.

They are sponsored by the board of evangelism as a touring group relating contemporary music to the worship of the church.

'Peace' Theme Of Folk Service

All Saints Lutheran Church, Joy and Newburgh Roads, Livonia, will hold a folk communion service at its worship service Sunday, Nov. 21, at 10:30 a.m.

The service will include guitar accompaniment and will involve members of the congregation in prayers and the reading of the lessons. It will be built around the theme of "Peace."

All Saints holds folk services once a month and members of the community are invited to attend. The Rev. Dale Krueger is pastor of the church.

Christian Scientists Will Meet Nov. 25

Thanksgiving Day services are planned for Christian Scientists throughout this area.

The services, which are open to the public are scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 25. They will be held at 11 a.m. in First Church, 33111 Ford Road, Garden City; First Church, 33825 Grand River, Farmington; and Fourth Church, 24400 W. Seven Mile, Detroit; and at 10:30 a.m. in First Church, 1100 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

INDIVIDUAL EXPRESSIONS of gratitude are expressed by members of the congregation and no collections are taken during the service.

It will include this passage from the Bible: "All things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God."

Local members are inviting friends and neighbors to attend.

THE GARDEN CITY service will be conducted by David Brandon, first reader, and Mrs. Margaret Schnell, second reader. Mrs. Brenda Krachenberg will be the soloist, with Mrs. Joan Yoakam as the organist.

The service in Detroit will be conducted by John F. Benkelman of Livonia and Mrs. Chlomara Austin of Westland. Mrs. Katherine Fox will sing.

Mrs. Ellistine Beall will be the soloist, and Mrs. Edris Neale, the organist, for the Plymouth service. It will be conducted by Alex C. Howell and Mrs. Ferne Anderson.

S'field Author Warns Against Neo-Nazism

DICK BENSEK

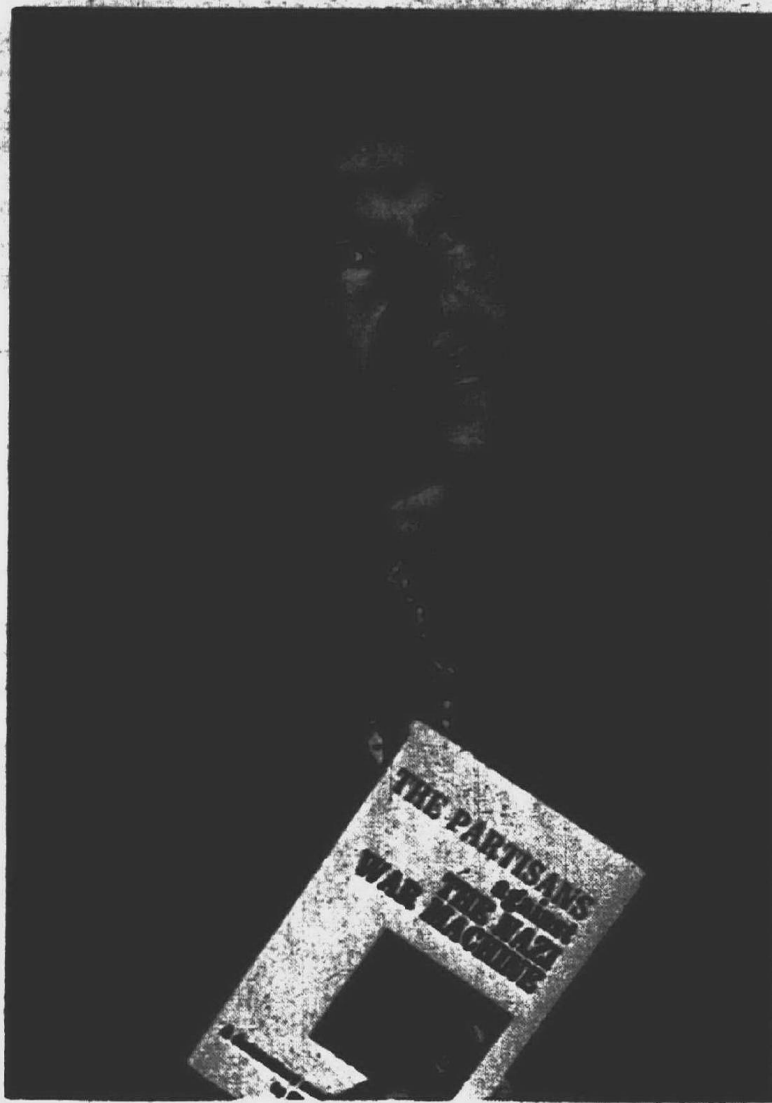

The trick to saving food costs is to use not one trick but many. It is the cup of soup or glass of juice as a nourishing first course that helps round out a meal. It is soup or vegetable juice stretched by adding vegetable cooking water you save for such purposes. Fish, cheese, and other protein rich foods are sometimes good alternates for meat. Celery stuffed with cottage cheese or hot bread fills out an otherwise skimpy meal without adding much to the cost. A hearty dessert compensates for a light main course, and you can always serve coffee cake for dessert!

We never leave anything to chance in the preparation and serving of food. For a meal you won't forget dine at DANISH INN, 32305 Grand River Ave., 476-5320. "Farmington's Finest." Lunch menu features three specials daily, we honor almost every credit card and there is plenty of parking. Closed Thanksgiving.

HELPFUL HINT: Never forget that bread cubes are great recipe extenders!

By BETTY MASSON
It's hard to get Hyman Sherkman to talk about his wartime experiences. But it's easy to read about them, because Sherkman has just written a documentary novel of World War II on the Eastern front. He has written it, not so much out of a desire to see his name in print, as out of a deep conviction that "Nazism has done irreparable harm to humanity. This history should never be forgotten or else it may repeat itself."

The book is titled "The Partisans Against the Nazi War Machine," and is published by Jonathan David Publishers, Middle Village, N.Y. SHERKMAN'S EXPERIENCES are those of many Jewish people, caught up in the Nazi hatred. He was fortunate enough to escape, but many members of his family did not. He eventually came to America, settled in Southfield and began the United Drapery Mills in Livonia, which he has operated for 17 years. His book came as a result of reading the works of Simon Wiesenthal. What stuck in his memory was the statement, "I'm among those who believe in an after-life. There will come a time when we will be asked by the victims, 'What did you do after we left you in Germany?' Some will say,

"Well, I went to America and made a good living. I would like to add 'I was thinking of you too.'"

Sherkman's book, written in longhand during lulls at work, is his way of saying both "I remember" and "I am concerned."

According to Sherkman, "There are books written on the subject, but not enough. As long as Nazism still pollutes the air, people should be reminded that this is a dangerous political cancer." He believes that "neo-Nazism, which is Hitler under different names, is evident in this country."

"There are organizations right here in Livonia which are very close to the fascist ideology of Hitler."

THUS SHERKMAN'S book is an effort to show the dangers of neo-Nazism. In moving flashbacks, he illustrates how Jews were made fun of and persecuted in Lithuania before the war. And he shows how unimportant differences become when people are faced with a common danger and a mutual struggle for survival.

His story revolves around the experiences of two brothers: David, who managed to catch the last train out of Wilno, heading East for Russia, and of Aaron, who was not so fortunate when the Germans arrived.

Interned in a concentration camp, he is forced to undergo all its horrors, including the ultimate one of escaping only by pretending to be dead amid a heap of dead bodies.

He joins the partisans, the guerillas on the Eastern front, and ekes out of a dangerous existence until the Russian Army is able to turn back the Germans.

Sherkman's book is not a profound one, in terms of characterizations or motivations, but it is informative and readable. And it is thought-provoking. It does remind us of those troubled times, and could well be revealing to those to whom World War II is only another page in long-ago history.

Plymouth Show Goes On Dec. 10

The Plymouth Players felt it's never too late, so after a year and a half of inactivity, they're planning to bring stage shows back to Plymouth with the Broadway hit "Never Too Late."

It will be staged Friday and Saturday night, Dec. 10 and 11, in Plymouth Central High School.

LARRY COOK and Helen Fortney have been chosen to play the lead roles of Harry and Edith Lambert, an older couple who discover they're about to become parents again.

Tom Butki will be seen as father's favorite target, his son-in-law, Charlie. The pair lives with Mr. and Mrs. Lambert, and the son-in-law works in Lambert's lumber yard, where he's considered as useful as a termite.

Judy Pavia plays the 24-year-old daughter who tries to free herself from the kitchen chores she inherits from her pregnant mother by duplicating that condition. Mother is going all-out on visits to the beauty parlor and exercises in check-writing.

OTHERS in the cast will be Richard Brown as Mayor Crane, their next-door neighbor; Clemmie Cyburt as a friend with lots of advice for the expectant mother; Dick Panko, Robert Hruska and Edward Wojtan.

Andy Hruska is the director, and Effie Kuisel is the producer. Sets are being designed by June Brenner.

Gazehound Unit Plans Match

The Michigan Gazehound Association is sponsoring a fun match Nov. 21, at the Livonia Mall, Middle Belt and Seven Mile. This is for all hounds who hunt by sight, Afghans, basenjis, borzois, Irish wolfhounds, salukis, Scottish deerhounds, greyhounds and whippets.

ENTRIES WILL be taken from 12 noon, and judging will begin at 1:30 p.m. The order of the red boot will be awarded to best adult in the match, and the order of the white bootie will be given to the best puppy.

Word Games Are Delightful In 'Rosencrantz'

In repertory at Wayne State University's Hilberry Theater. Cast as Blackstock. Script by Tom Stoppard. Directed by Richard Spear.

By TIM RICHARD

The final scene of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" is full of death, by sword and by poison. But Hamlet's two silly friends, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern, are so utterly unworthy that we never get to see them die. Their deaths are simply reported by another character.

Tom Stoppard has taken two characters who appear only briefly in Shakespeare's work and built an entire play around them. Indeed, James Corrigan (as dear Rosencrantz) and Howard Jensen (as gentle Guildenstern) are on stage nearly the whole time.

Blocs of lines concerning them are lifted from Shakespeare's original, but seen through the eyes of these zany poseurs the action is out of focus. So confused are they that often they can't remember their own names.

IN PLAYWRIGHT Stoppard's hands, R & G become burlesque comedians, if one understands that to mean in the Laurel-Hardy, Abbott-Costello, Quixote-Panza, McCarthy-Bergen tradition. It is a form of humor dating back to ancient Egypt.

What makes them even more delightful is the way in which Stoppard has mastered scholastic word-and-logic games which the two collegians play for points, as in a tennis match. The verbal cross-fire demands one's fullest attention.

In the original, the Players perform a tragedy, at Hamlet's direction, but in R & G they are a motley crew, more adept at porno than at art, more inclined theatrically to buggering Alfred than slaying him.

King Claudius and Queen Gertrude come off much as in the original; Hamlet here is more contemptuous than Freudian, Ophelia more stacked than sedate.

THE POINT seems to be that R & G are mentally dead long before Hamlet tricks the king of England into killing them. Their deaths are due not to deep motives and violence, but in Guildenstern's words, "Death is a failure to reappear." Thus, they are so shallow that they don't get to die on stage even in a play devoted to them.

WSU's Hilberry Theater is departing somewhat from its theme this year. Instead of works by Moliere and Shakespeare, so far it has presented modern works with classical themes (the first being "A Man For All Seasons.")

It's an interesting twist. Audience response, again, was less than overwhelming; the factors of direction, acting, staging and costuming all seem excellent, but the quality that ignites is missing, and I can't put my finger on the fault.

ALTHOUGH FINDING ostrich feathers may be a bit of a problem, the work of art Richard Lattimore is holding will become "Nellie the Ostrich" by Dec. 4. The future puppet will be the host at a Christmas theater party being given for area children that day and Dec. 11 by the Masque Players of Schoolcraft College. Lattimore, a speech and drama major, is getting some help from his father, Richard W. Lattimore.

Schoolcraft Students Ready Shows For Kids

The Masque Players of Schoolcraft College are venturing into the realm of theatre for children with an "Ostrich's Christmas Party," to be held at the college Dec. 4 and 11.

The party will feature two motion pictures, including one made by the players and involving most of them as well as their dogs, cats, turtles and mice.

LEN STONE of Farmington was responsible for the photography and the organization of the program which involved many people, animals and locations.

The story is a modern, but modified version of the Pled Piper of Hamelin. Major role in the film is played by Brian Dumsick, a Livonia youngster. Cynthia Price of Farmington plays his sister, and Sharon Milligan of Plymouth and Robert Budecky of Detroit plays his parents. Verna Spayth is featured as the candy lady.

The other movie is entitled "Dragon's Bread," an all-puppet movie, created to surprise and please as well as teach a small lesson on brotherhood. The story concerns a princess who is captured by a dragon and then saved by a child when the adults fail.

The films will be introduced by "Nellie the Ostrich," a puppet being created for the performance by Richard Lattimore, a speech-theatre major from Livonia.

"The Ostrich's Christmas Party" will be staged in the Liberal Arts Theatre at 10 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m., Dec. 4 and 11.

TICKETS WILL be 50 cents each. They will be available at the door, but advanced tickets will be on sale in the college bookstore. Since the theater is small, only enough tickets will be sold for each performance to provide everyone with a seat.

The films are under the direction of Ralph Kelly, instructor in English and drama.

According to Kelly, "The Players have long wondered if there would be a need and interest in theater programs for children. This event is planned either as an end or a beginning."

beginning. The players have put forth much creative thought with the belief that the children of the area would benefit from and enjoy such a program.

Battersby To Give Concert At Madonna

Edmund Battersby, a young American pianist, will be presented at Madonna College, 36600 Schoolcraft, Livonia, at 3 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 28.

The concert will take place in the college residence Hall. Admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for students. Tickets are on sale at the music department or may be purchased at the door.

Battersby was born in Detroit in 1949. He began his formal training at the age of nine with Marino Tanzi in Trenton. He graduated last spring from the Juilliard School of Music, New York City, and made his American debut at Lincoln Center.

He has also made appearances on European radio and television, and has been official pianist for the Eisenberg cello master classes in Cascais, Portugal.

30% Of Housewives Are Using Non-Phosphates

A survey of housewives' attitudes about ecology and laundry detergents has revealed that 30 per cent of those questioned believe phosphates in detergents are harmful to the ecology. The study showed that 30 per cent are presently using a non-phosphate detergent.

Leo S. Singer, president of the Miracle White Co., which makes a phosphate detergent, said he was encouraged by the fact that 30 per cent indicated they were using a non-phosphate detergent. He believed that this reflects an increasing trend in housewives' concern about ecology. At the present time, he noted, about 20 per cent of detergent sales are non-phosphate.

SINGER ALSO pointed out that non-phosphate detergents have been on the market only since January 1971. It takes time to get the word out about ecology, he said, and even more time to change the opinions of housewives.

Participants in the survey, conducted by Selz, Seabolt and Associates, Inc., a public relations firm, were 232 housewives from all sections of the country responding to questionnaires to determine what effect the current phosphate-in-detergent controversy has made on their laundry attitudes and actions. The average size family in the group is four.

A majority of the housewives believe that non-phosphate detergents clean clothes as well or better than phosphate detergents.

The panel of women was asked if they checked the detergent package for the amount of phosphate it contained. Fifty-three per cent said they did not check the package, while 39 per cent did.

KNOWLEDGE OF five words that have been in the laundry ecology news was tested. At least 83 per cent said they knew the meaning of phosphate, biodegradable and enzymes.

However, 87 per cent said they did not know the meaning of eutrophication (the process of waterways aging rapidly due to over-abundant nutrients such as phosphates stimulating the growth of algae, etc.) and NTA (nitrilotriacetic acid - a substitute for phosphates which has not been used in detergents since December 1970 because of unresolved questions concerning its possible long-term effects on health and the environment).

The women were asked who they thought could do the most to help fight pollution. Fifty per cent said individuals, 18 per cent named industry and 16 per cent named the government.

Asked if there was anything they could do to help fight pollution, 91 per cent said yes and 38 per cent cited the use of low phosphate or non-polluting products, 24 per cent said recycle paper and glass, 15 per cent said selective buying of reusable, biodegradable products, and 13 per cent said don't litter.

MRS. RICHARD J. FELTS
(Leslie Margaret Smith)

Felts-Smith Vows Spoken In Plymouth

Leslie Margaret Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith of Amherst Court, Plymouth, became the bride of Richard Jay Felts in a recent ceremony in the First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Felts of Clarksburg, Md., formerly of Union Lake, are the bridegroom's parents.

Dr. Henry Walch officiated for the afternoon ceremony, and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Haldon Smith of Orlando, Fla.

THE BRIDE made her white satepeau gown with lace and pearl trim. It featured an empire waist, high collar and full sleeves. With it she wore a shoulder veil held by a satepeau cap, and her bouquet was white mums and roses.

Mrs. Stephen Lewis of South Rockwood, Mich., was matron of honor. She wore a gown of avocado green with fall colors at the neckline and cuffs and carried an orange-tipped yellow fuji mum.

Two bridesmaids, Natalie Hoffman of Dansville, N.Y., and Barbara Lynn Felts, sister of the bridegroom, wore gowns like the honor attendant's and carried single yellow fuji mums.

STEPHEN LEWIS of South Rockwood, was best man. Guests were seated by James Kerby of Lansing and Ronald Riggs of Cincinnati.

For the wedding and reception in the church's fellowship hall, the bride's mother wore a light green ensemble and the bridegroom's mother was in beige. The couple greeted 100 guests before leaving on a Canadian honeymoon.

They will live in Rochester, N.Y. Both are graduates of Michigan State University. The new Mrs. Felts recently completed a dietetic internship at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston and her husband is employed by Kodak Corp. as a design engineer.

Martha Mary Chapel at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, was the setting for the Oct. 2 wedding of Gloria L. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Smith of Redford Township, and John D. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Earle Roberts of Buffalo.

THE BRIDE wore an A-line empire ivory peau de sole gown with a high Victorian neckline and Camelot sleeves. The skirt was appliqued with Alencon lace, and the chapel length train was also trimmed with embroidered Alencon lace. Her silk illusion veil was held by a Camelot style cap of lace and seed pearls, and her bouquet was of sweetheart roses, stephanotis, ivy, dried fern and bittersweet.

Rhonda Smith, the bride's sister, was maid of honor, and the bridegroom's nieces, Sharon and Susan Lapp, were the bridesmaids. They wore empire gowns with copper-colored bodices and creme-colored skirts and they carried Williamsburg arrangements of dried flowers and deep orange sweetheart roses.

KENNETH COTT of Southfield was best man. The ushers were Mark L. Smith, the bride's brother, John Kreatic and Robert Schuck of Buffalo and Thomas Flynn of Birmingham.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Dearborn Inn.

THE 131-MEMBER Clarenceville High School marching band had only 35 members when Director John Neztok took over some years ago, but now the band is big enough and good enough to play for a Lions game on Dec. 5. This is the formation they will use for the drum section's specialty. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

C'ville To Bubble At Lions Game

Clarenceville's 131 high school bandmen will present the half-time show at the Detroit Lions - Philadelphia Eagles football game on Sunday, Dec. 5. Under the baton of John Neztok, Clarenceville's navy-uniformed musicians have the distinction this year of being the only high school band invited by the Lions to present, in addition to the half-time show, the pre-game and post-game program. Director Neztok has created his own band formations using the title "Salute to the Lions."

AS ITS pre-game offering the band will extend season's greetings to the Lions and their fans. Features of the band show will include, a la Lawrence Welk, a champagne bottle and glass. While the band plays "Auld Lang Syne" the champagne cork will pop and the bubbly wine will be poured into the glass.

As the band forms a Christmas tree, 13 balloons will be decorated as Christmas balls to decorate the tree. Written on them will be such greetings as "Go Lions," "Happy New Year" and "Love CBS." (The Lions' game will be televised but not within a 75-mile radius of Detroit.)

Departing from the holiday theme, the band will play a funeral dirge as it forms an aerosol spray can designed to "kill" bugs. The 11 "bugs" who will scamper around the field awaiting their fate from the spray will represent the Philadelphia Eagles.

Remaining numbers in the band show will be dedicated to Lions' Coach Joe Schmidt and owner William Clay Ford. The band's final offering of the day will feature the percussion section in a rendition of "Heat Wave."

THIS YEAR marks Neztok's 11th as Clarenceville's high school band director. When he took over the podium 11 years ago, the band numbered only 35.

The Trojan band — by invitation — has marched twice (1968 and 1970) in the J.L. Hudson Thanksgiving parade. It earned the governor's trophy at the National Cherry Festival in Traverse City in 1968 and was also awarded "best band" distinction at the same festival in 1967-68.

Other football-day activities for Clarenceville bandmen have included appearances in band day festivities at Big Ten games at the University of Michigan and Michigan State University. By Spartan request, the Trojans presented the post-game show at MSU's band day in 1969.

Clarenceville's bandmen have established themselves as promising musicians by repeatedly earning top ratings at Michigan district and state music festivals.

A number have earned scholarships to Interlochen near Traverse City and to Blue Lake Camp, a summer music retreat near Muskegon run by Michigan State University. One band member has earned a berth with the Detroit Youth International Orchestra and will tour Europe next summer with the group.

Upcoming: Trojan musicians tentatively have scheduled a four-day spring tour of Washington, D.C., with a possible performance on the Capitol Building steps.

THE PERCUSSION section will be featured in "Heat Wave" when the Clarenceville High School band performs at half-time in the Dec. 5 Lions-Philadelphia football game in Tiger Stadium. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

Single Ticket . . . Double Lift

Now one can ski Alpine Valley and Mt. Holly on a combination ticket good for both areas. Enjoy two of lower Michigan's finest ski areas on the same weekend and double one's skiing fun. Alpine Valley is located on M-59, west of Pontiac in Milford. Mt. Holly is on Dixie Highway just off I-75 in Holly.

In addition to the existing chairlifts and tows, Alpine Valley and Mt. Holly have the greatest skiing capacity in Southern Michigan. A double ticket which lets you experience two ski areas in one day. Morning, Noon and Night.

Alpine and Mt. Holly have snowmaking equipment. This assures a steady season of fun. Mt. Holly's newest slope has a vertical drop of 250 feet, making it a run of 1800 feet. They just added a Sitlift to the area along with the existing four chairlifts and 12 tows.

FOR A double lift, Alpine's beginner area offers gentle curves and sweeping slopes with an improved chairlift slowed down for your convenience.

Alpine Valley can offer one Southeast Michigan's steepest runs, while Mt. Holly invites one to experience Southeast Michigan's longest run.

There are 34 slopes in all—many brand new and just waiting for one to test his skill. Twelve chairlifts, 24 tows and one Sitlift area are ready and waiting to make one's skiing experience enjoyable.

Alpine and Mt. Holly have taken advantage of the summer to remodel and improve their lodges. This year Mt. Holly has a completely remodeled lodge featuring a sandwich shop and cocktail lounge.

A new rental shop making available the latest in skiing equipment. It has doubled in size to accommodate even more skiers when they come off the slopes.

To make it easier and more convenient for all skiers who will be taking advantage of the combination ticket, Alpine and Mt. Holly have enlarged and improved the parking facilities to comfortably accommodate even more cars.

Olympia Hosts Heavyweight Championship

Dick the Bruiser and Baron Von Raschke will battle for the World Wrestling Association's heavyweight championship in the first of a double main event on Friday, Nov. 26 at the Olympia Stadium starting at 8:30 p.m.

A main event, a rematch of an earlier meeting in which Bruiser regained his title, will be a German-death match. Under the rules of a German-death match, everything goes, with no time limit, no count-outs and no disqualifications.

The second of the double main event will pit the WWA's tag team champions Black Jack Mulligan and Black Jack Lanza against Wilbur Snyder and Yukon "Moose" Cholak.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

As predicted and expected, Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley is still talking about announcing the 1972 racing dates but that's about all.

Shirley indicated he would announce the allotments shortly after the first of November. Then he delayed it another week and that week has passed and still nothing from the commissioner.

By law he must announce the thoroughbred dates by Dec. 1 and to all intents and purposes he has done that. Most everyone in the business knows that Hazel Park will have 132 days next year and the Detroit Race Course will have 108.

That was by request of the DRA officials who indicated they preferred not to have 120 days in 1972 because of the work on highways adjacent to the track.

For instance, Middle Belt Road will be closed from Schoolcraft to Plymouth during the entire season. With problems like that, the DRA preferred to take less days for the one season. It was okay with Hazel Park to take the additional dates for the one year. So the thoroughbred dates are all set. They could be announced any time and not surprise a soul.

BUT THE HARNESS dates are something else. Wolverine and Hazel Park trotters seem assured of their dates since each uses the facilities of the runners.

Wolverine, which will have the early part of the summer, must end its season by the end of July and Hazel Park must start the first week in August.

Thus it would appear that Northville Downs would have dates during the late winter and then 35 days in June and July, following the same format as this year.

But Executive Manager John Carlo isn't in agreement with that thought. Carlo insists that Northville have a longer meeting in the summer and that's the snarl as we hear it.

Perhaps there is one thing the commissioner is forgetting . . . he and he alone, with the advice of the governor, has the right to set the dates.

If Shirley has a set of dates in his pocket that follow the format discussed above, then it is his right as commissioner to allot them and simply tell the tracks, "here are the dates for 1972" and leave it go at that.

He may not have satisfied management but he will have dates. The tracks will know when they'll open and can make plans and racing will be set for another year.

We do hear that Shirley plans on having the harness season opening on Jan. 1 and continue through the entire year. Now we'll wait and see what happens.

WINTER IS on the way. And the Hazel Park Race Track, where the thoroughbreds will go through December 18, is ready.

This will be the first taste of Winter racing for Michigan's No. 1 track. And all conditions are "Go."

Patrons can watch the races in comfort from the enclosed, heated lower grandstand or from the pleasant clubhouse. There are also four enclosed levels adjacent to the grandstand where patrons can bet, relax, watch the races on closed-circuit TV, and laugh at the weather outside.

Bert Thompson, director of racing, reports that the track is assured of an ample supply of horses to provide full, well-balanced cards each day.

"We need a minimum of perhaps 1,250 head for our daily programs through the rest of the meeting," he explains. "We will have between 1,350 and 1,400 on the grounds in late November and December. We're in good shape. Several more good stables have checked in lately."

Track superintendent Ken Marshall sees no problem with the racing strip, even in sub-zero temperatures. He has spent years studying the operation of other tracks in frigid weather. He knows what he will have to do.

Post parade for the first race begins at 2:10 p.m. on Saturdays and holidays and at 3:20 p.m. on weekdays.

IT'S WINNER vs. winner in the first division of the Jackson - at - Northville pacing series, headliner of Jackson's Saturday night action at Northville Downs.

The series, which Leon A. Slavin designed to attract, and hold top pacing talent for the 42 night meet, more than lived up to its advance notice last week. This week's matchings could be even more sensational.

The first division, which goes as the eighth race matches the six leading money winners thus far of the series. This pits last week's winners, Thimble, and Prince Knox against each other along with Winter Dean, Jerco, Jerry Pick, and Bedford Jet.

Thimble, the 3-year-old pacing filly from Jackson, O. won in 2:03 2/5 last week in a stirring stretch battle with Winter Dean, that had most of the 5,234 fans lunging at the finish were right along with their choices.

Prince Knox scored in 2:04 1/5 and seemed a rather easy winner in what had been thought to be the tougher division.

Thimble's winning tactics included a 29 2/5 first quarter, and a 29 4/5 final quarter. She was on top all the way. This time she may have more difficulty reaching the top, for Jerry Pick, whose first and second quarter clockings often border on the near record side, is in the same division.

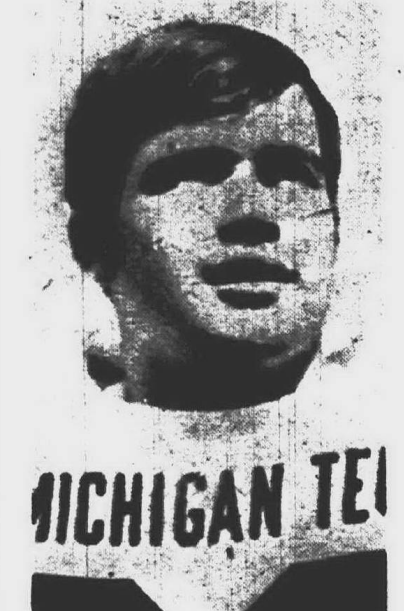

By virtue of being a non-money-winner in the series, Michigan Mack, making its first start in the event, drew into the second division. Ralph Mapes will drive the winner of the $25,000 Midwest Pacing Derby from the four post. Tricky Dares, Johnny G and Knight Ballard will give the Hillsdale hopeful a test.

It is an all-pacing card on tap. So talent laden is the program that the likes of Charlie Van Dorsten's Hudson's Laddie, Bill Abdon's Corn Chips, Bitty Boy, for Ray and Earl Forsyth, and Michigan Pacing Derby winner, Corker, Bill provide the action in the sixth race, the first Tri-fecta event.

Course Record

Wayne State cross country runners Julius Aiello, Geoff Lane, Al Mette, Rich Sands, Frank Tymrak and Keith Wright all gained a share of the Lawrence Tech course record when their blanket finish was timed in 22:23.5 for the four-mile circuit.

Southfield Lacks Height

Blue Jays Basketball Season Is...?

With the graduation of Brad Allen, lanky 6-7 All-Area and All-Observer center, and Roger Peterman, high scoring 6-4 forward, the high flying Southfield Blue Jays will be flying a little short this season.

"We are really hurting in the size department and will have to concentrate on a running game," said Southfield Coach Don Kaump.

The Blue Jays, who open against Redford Union on Dec. 3, finished 8-2 last year in their conquest of the Southeastern Michigan crown, and were 16-3 overall.

"We won the first 15 games last year," said Kaump. "Then we lost one point decisions to Hazel Park, 73-72 and Ferndale, 61-60."

SOUTHFIELD captured the first clash of the regionals over Dearborn, 73-67, but lost in the second round to Fordson, 76-61.

"Our squad is composed of all seniors with three returning starters," added Kaump. "We are not lacking in experience — just height."

The three lettermen are: Rick Moscow, a 6-2 All-League forward; Randy Levine, a 5-11 guard and Mike Klaiman, a 5-8 guard.

The two that round out the starting squad are Mark Stiles, who will be a late starter due to a bone fracture in his hand occurred during football season, and center Mark Lundell who stands 6-5, and will be playing his first season on the varsity.

"We can't explain the reason for an all-senior squad except that there has been a poor turnout in junior sports," stated Kaump.

SOUTHFIELD won the Christmas tournament last year but has decided to drop out of the holiday meet this year and therefore added two games on its schedule.

"There was just a lack of interest and a conflict involving holiday vacations," said Kaump. "We added games with Fordson and Bloomfield Hills Andover to replace the tournament."

The Blue Jays play their first league game at Ferndale on Dec. 10.

"Birmingham Seaholm is the team to beat this year in the league," declared Kaump. "It has four returning lettermen and it appears that we will be fighting it out for second with Royal Oak Kimball."

"If our fast breaking offense improves, we should give Seaholm a good battle but our lack of size is going to work against us all season," added Kaump.

This year's squad is quite a change from the 1970-71 attack where Kaump had Brad Allen at 6-7, Bob Green at 6-5 and Roger Peterman at 6-4.

ALLEN is playing basketball at Central Michigan and Green at Eastern Michigan. Peterman is playing football at the University of Kentucky.

"Allen, Green and Peterman averaged 42 points a game," stated Kaump.

Kaump has coached varsity basketball at Southfield for four years and has compiled a 60-12 record including one outright and two co-championships.

Before making the move to Southfield, Kaump coached for eight years at Detroit Vocational and compiled a 117-21 record which included five Catholic A-West championships.

"It is going to be a challenging year," concluded Kaump. "One where we will have to out-run our opponents to victory."

No. 1 Lathrup Captures Its Goals In Only 4th Year Of Competition

By W.W. EDGAR

Few football teams have set as many goals — and reached them — as Southfield Lathrup in the high school season just closed.

Long before the first kickoff in September — the Chargers, and the coaching staff headed by Darryl Harper, set their sights on four lofty goals. In order they were:

- To square accounts with crosstown rival, Southfield High.
- To conquer Pontiac Northern and take the curse off what had been labeled a "freak" victory last season.
- Successfully defend the Inter-Lakes Championship.
- Finish the season undefeated.

No mention was made of any possible ranking among the pollsters at that stage of the campaign.

THE CHARGERS — and their coaches — felt that if the four goals were reached the rankings in the state prep polls would take care of themselves.

So, what happened?

The first goal was attained when the Chargers humbled Southfield and squared their series at two victories each.

Next came the game with Pontiac Northern. And from the first kickoff it was evident that no "break" would decide this encounter.

It may be recalled that a year ago the Chargers were on the losing end until the final seconds when the most notable "goof" of the entire season turned defeat into victory.

That was the play in which Dave Chism, the Pontiac quarterback, thinking he heard the final whistle tossed the ball into the air in a gesture of triumph.

It so happened the final whistle hadn't blown. Instead the Chargers took the ball and raced it over the goal line for a touchdown that brought the triumph.

The play was noted from coast to coast as the most unusual game ending in years.

This time there was no freak and the Chargers upset Pontiac beyond all argument.

Then came the final test — the meeting with Royal Oak Kimball, undefeated champion of a rival league.

IT MADE LITTLE difference to the Chargers.

They were on their way now. But in spite of a long string of victories and the league title tucked away, conductors of the major polls ignored them.

This was sad news for Kimball as the Chargers, battling for recognition, left little doubt as to the better team with a decisive victory. Only Birmingham Seaholm remained a barrier and that was overcome with ease.

The four goals had been reached.

They could be ignored no longer.

And while the Observer Newspapers rated them tops in the area, the major polls placed them second — behind Muskegon High.

All four goals had been reached in only the fourth year of competition. It may take a long time to equal that mark.

All-Area Grid Picks Coming

Wednesday's Observer Sports section will feature the All-Area football teams, selected by Sports Editor Tom Donoghue and 15 high school area coaches.

Featured will be an All-Observer defensive squad and an All-Observer offensive team, along with the coach of the year.

Schoolcraft Knocked Out Of Regionals

Schoolcraft dropped a 4-2 decision to Macomb Community College in the first round of the soccer regionals at Delta College, Bay City.

Macomb went on to win, qualifying for the nationals in Miami, Fla.

Doug Anglin of Novi and Iain MacDonald of Livonia scored the goals in the loss to Macomb which saw Schoolcraft outshoot its opponents 21-10.

In the consolation round, Macomb took a 4-2 beating at the hands of Lorraine College.

First Contest

Wayne State University's WSU Stadium was opened October 26, 1968, with a 61-29 Homecoming victory over Washington (Mo.) University.

NO. 1 — It was a number one season for Lathrup Coach Darryl Harper and his Chargers. The four goals they had set were accomplished in a perfect 9-0 season.

Tigers Open April 11 With New York Yankees

Opening day at Tiger Stadium will arrive later in 1972.

The curtain raiser, matching the Tigers with the New York Yankees, will fall on Tuesday, April 11 — five days later than opening day in 1971, earliest in the club's history.

The 1972 home season also will close later, the curtain dropping Wednesday, Oct. 4 in an afternoon match-up with the Boston Red Sox. There have been closing dates that late in other seasons, but none recently.

The home schedule, announced by Jim Campbell, executive vice-president and general manager, lists the 81 games to be played on 78 dates, the same as last year, with 49 night dates, the same as the last two campaigns.

THE FIRST GAME under the lights will be April 28 against the Chicago White Sox, eight days later than 1971, and the last will be Oct. 4 with the Red Sox, latest night game in Tiger Stadium history.

There are only three doubleheaders, two on Sundays with the Red Sox July 30, and the Cleveland Indians Aug. 13, plus the usual twi-nighter for Shrine Night June 6, with the California Angels.

The only holiday date will be a single Labor Day game with the Indians Sept. 4. It will be played at 7:15 p.m. — as will all Monday night games, of which there are 10. Saturday afternoon games will be at 1:15 p.m. (except two in April at 2:15) and there are 11 of them, plus one Saturday night game with the Yankees Sept. 9.

Other night games will be at 8 p.m., afternoon single games and doubleheaders at 1:30 and twi-nighters at 5:30.

THE YANKEES' opening day visit will be their first since 1963 when Frank Lary and the Tigers wrested a 5-3 decision in 36-degree weather before 29,411 fans.

An unusual feature of the schedule is four visits by the Yankees instead of the usual three for an Eastern division foe. The American League champion Baltimore Orioles have drawn seven night games out of nine they will play at Tiger Stadium, including two in a long weekend stand June 30-July 3.

Ticket prices for 1972, including special rates for season and combination plans, will be announced soon, Campbell said.

IN THE POCKET By W.W. EDGAR

There's an old saying in the world of tempers that "Bowlers Never Forget."

It will be proven again this weekend at Westland Bowl when the Michigan Major Association dedicates its monthly tournament to the memory of Al Dent, one of the original boosters of the group, who died the past year.

Modeled much after the Pro Bowlers Tour, the Michigan Majors have filled a long-felt need with the monthly tournaments in various sections of the state.

They bring together the state's outstanding amateurs in a rugged two day test and the events are becoming more and more popular.

The preliminaries and qualifying rounds are scheduled on (this) Saturday, with the finals Sunday afternoon.

It is understood that a record entry will step to the firing line when competition begins.

DICK PRESTON, one of the veterans of the All-Star Classics, is enjoying one of his better seasons.

He contributed the highest series of the week in Observerland when he posted a 742 series to pace the Garden Lanes Classic. He led his closest rival, Fred McLean by 50 pins, while Jeff Messias landed third with a 664.

Preston and McLean still top the averages with 217 with Ron Kovac far back in third place with a 206 average.

Others above double century figures include Paul Sterling 206, Paul Zaziac 205, Ron Brennan 202 and Ken Geisler 200.

THANKS TO A closing game of 267, Bill Spargo cracked the 700 barrier in the Westland Classic and paced the entire circuit with a 709. After opening with a 249 he fell to 193 and closed with the big count that gave him a 23 pin margin over Vic Capaldi, who landed second with 695. Jim Wrublewski landed third with a 682.

Among the oddities of the week, Jack Black, bowling in the Westland Junior House League, converted the 7-10 by bouncing the No. 7 off the back board to topple the No. 10.

DAVE SOUTAR, the former Detroit star who is fourth among the nation's money winners on the pro tour, lost his charm at Hartfield Lanes in the big event last weekend.

He finished far behind Don Johnson, who had the title tucked safely away, before he met Dave Davis, the southern southpaw in the finals.

SOUNDING A warning to the all-stars in the area that he is bidding for top honors, Harry Fill posted another 700 series during the week.

Bowling in the Wonderland Classic, he put together games of 210, 243 and 255 for a 708 to beat out Bill Lane for pacesetter honors by seven pins.

Hill's big series enabled the Continental team, captained by Ron Fournier, to register a 3123 series.

SPEAKING OF oddities — Bob Walter contributed one of the most unusual when he bowled identical scores two weeks in a row in the Bel-Aire Classic.

On each occasion he opened with a 158, followed with 224 and finished with 173 for 555. Jim Berringer topped the Classic with a 674, beating out Tom Smith by three pins and Al Messicar landed third with 630.

In the women's circuit, Jackie Dix set a high for the season with 234 - 206 - 157 - 587. In another ladies circuit Gladys Slickas posted a 681 on games of 233, 216 and 262 and Mary Lou Keating continued her high scoring with 192 - 181 - 263 - 578.

Another high for the season was posted in the Kimberly women's league when Norma Beman posted a 562, with a 233 opening game.

THE FATHER & Son League at Merri Bowl set a fine target for all other circuits when the combinations of Mike and Bud Moran and Carl and Ken Ausland, bowling as a team, registered a 2060 series. Carl, the son, had a 231 in a 776 opening game.

The all-day institute will feature Mrs. Howard Levine, Orange, N.J., national chairman of women's communal services of the Council of Jewish Welfare Federations and Welfare Funds, who will give the keynote address on the spheres of commitment of Jewish women.

Mrs. Lewis S. Grossman, Detroit, briefing chairman for the women's division, will serve as moderator for a panel consisting of George M. Coronary Training Set For Nurses

Nurses who want to work in coronary care units or emergency or recovery rooms are being offered an intensive 10-day course that will begin Monday, Nov. 29.

The course, also for nursing supervisors and educators, is sponsored by the Michigan Heart Association and will be given at its central office, 16910 W. 12 Mile, Southfield.

The class will be limited to 30 students and will offer 17 subjects to be taught by 16 local physicians and four nursing experts. Interested nurses should write or telephone the heart association.

This class is the second sponsored by the association, a United Fund agency, since the Michigan Assn. for Regional Medical Programs federal agency withdrew support last August because of lack of funds.

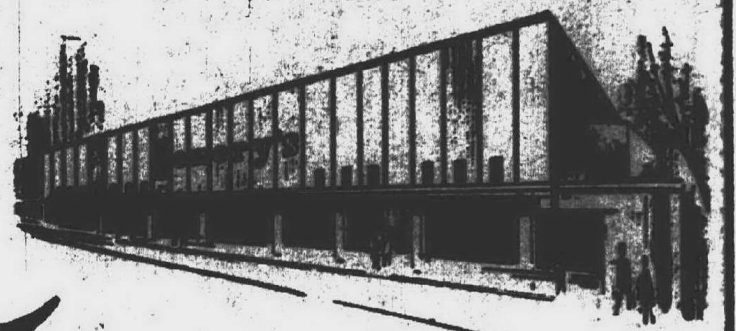

In the three years that ended in August, MARMP had financed more than 35 such classes throughout the State. The association, which now has to charge a nominal fee, had sponsored a series of classes in 1966-68.

Dr. Gerald M. Breneman, president of the association, said coronary care units usually can reduce hospital heart deaths by about half. Experts of the American Heart Assn. estimated that when CCUs are generally available throughout the Nation, they will save more than 50,000 lives a year.

Dr. Breneman, associate physician at Henry Ford Hospital, said CCUs are equipped with monitors which sound an alarm when the patient's heart goes too fast too slow or loses its rhythm. The nurses are so important because they are always in the unit, and they must know right away what kind of irregularity they are seeing and what drugs to use.

How TV Is Abused By Politicians

By TIM RICHARD

"You folks let us get away with terrible things," said B. Kenneth McGee, a man who makes his living running political campaigns.

He was talking about the political commercials on television to an audience at Schoolcraft College recently, and at least a few persons threw up their hands in horror at the mention of TV commercials.

"Ever since Bobby Kennedy, a candidate appears with his tie down and his coat off. You use a zoom lens on him, and he does a lot of talking to poor folks.

"You package the candidate and sell him," said McGee.

A CLEVELANDER, McGee recalled an Ohio congressional campaign in which a hard-hat worker appeared saying: "Why do I like — —? Because nobody pushes him around."

Said McGee: "It's left to the viewer's imagination if it's the blacks or the poor or whatever who are doing the pushing."

In a television commercial, he added, a candidate doesn't have to prove he can write or think. He doesn't even have to prove he can talk because a voice can be dubbed in.

But he said he's finding that "people are getting a little suspicious of TV."

If television is such a low-level method of communication, and if voters' emotions can be exploited so easily, what can be done to force a higher level of campaigning?

"Limit campaign spending," McGee answered.

IN RESPONSE to an audience question, McGee said he never conducts a dirty campaign unless the situation is desperate, and even then he sticks to the truth.

"A school millage campaign was the dirtiest one I've ever been in," said the veteran of several black vs. white candidates campaigns.

"There was the most jungle in-fighting in the school campaign."

"School board members, whatever they tell you, are not in it for those little kiddies. They're in school politics 'cause that's their thing."

Regional Drain Plan Unveiled

A 20-year water-sewer-drainage plan for southeast Michigan projects has been received by the executive committee of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

The $2.4 billion plan is the outgrowth of months of SEMCOG staff effort in coordinating proposals from a wide variety of agencies and communities within six SEM counties (Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne) and in liaison activity with state and federal agencies.

The U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) required that the SEMCOG regional plan be defined as a prerequisite for continued federal assistance for such projects.

A DECISION by the State Water Resources Commission in September to require that the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area should plan to tie into a major interceptor system and single treatment plant at the mouth of the Huron River is incorporated in the plan.

Ann Arbor and Washtenaw County officials indicated they will ask a court to halt implementation of the plan and permit, instead, independent systems for that area.

SEMCOG's report included differing versions of short-range and long-range plans for development of water supply systems in northern St. Clair County and central Monroe County. Continuing studies are underway to resolve issues — principally whether Detroit Metropolitan Water District proposals for service or local governmental unit proposals will be adopted as part of the ultimate regional plan.

THE CURRENT SEM-Plan for water-sewer-drainage systems by 1980 projects that most of the proposed construction needs ($1.7 billion) will be for sewage disposal systems.

While customer relations may seem like a new innovation in the industry, it is not new at Emmert Chevrolet. Since the day our doors were first opened in 1932, we have constantly strived to provide customer satisfaction after the sale. YOU RIDE IN STYLE AND COMFORT :: This Subaru wagon is a great Subaru car. It has a quiet horizontally opposed engine. Quiet no-lan. Inboard brakes and rack-and-pinion steering. And, of course, the stable front-wheel drive. On corners, curves, ice, snow, gravel, all the sticky spots -- it's the same stable-riding, road-hugging, easy-steering Subaru.

NEW MODELS FROM CHEVROLET -- To keep pace with the changing scene of the '70's, Chevrolet is offering its customers a whole new concept in light-duty commercial vehicles -- passenger trucks. Nine different and highly colorful design patterns, designed by GM Styling, are now being introduced by the company for dealer merchandising in the growing personal usage-type truck market. Among the decals available are the Blazer "Fastners" design (top) and the Suburban "Flame" (bottom). The checked running light covers of the Blazer were designed to add an extra decorative touch and protect the lights from stones and other objects when not in use. Other available decal designs have been tagged Eagle, Senderman, Rippler, Hawk, Sprink and 1776. The permanent-adhesive, vinyl decals can be installed by a dealership in less than four hours. Average cost of the decals is less than $65 plus installation labor.

New for '72

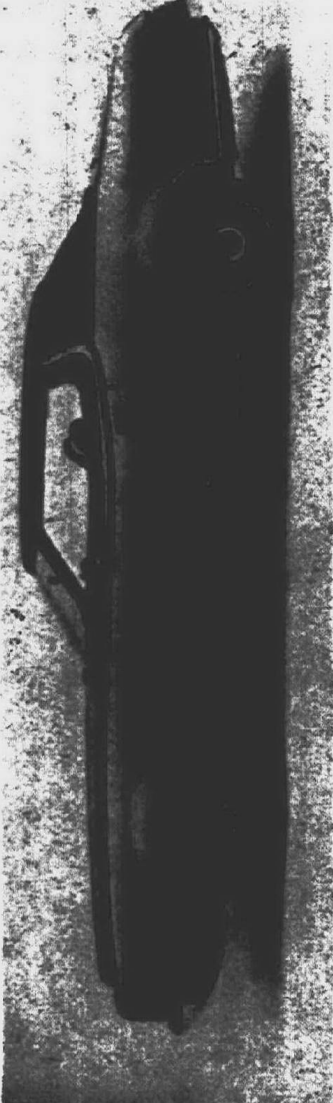

For a Little Car,

IT'S A LOT OF CARE.

THE 1972 CONTINENTAL MARK IV is a union of tradition and technology. Drawing from its predecessors, the classic Mark I, Mark II and Mark III, the Mark IV retains the simplicity of design and understated elegance that has characterized the "Marks" of the past. The Mark IV grille is strikingly similar to that of the Mark III, but the lines are more chevroned and a handsome stand-up ornament appears above it. Longer, lower and sleeker than the Mark III, the Mark IV offers increased interior roominess and such standard equipment as computer controlled anti-lock braking, Carlier electric windows, automatic temperature control and a unique oval opera window in the rear roof pillar.

THE GRACEFUL SILHOUETTE of the Mercury Montego MX Broughton (above) reveals an all-new car for 1972. Dramatic long hood/short deck styling and clean contours with ventless glass give the new Mercury intermediate a more elegant and refined look than ever before. A quiet and more comfortable ride is the result of the new separate frame and body construction and the new rear stable-coil suspension. There are nine Montego models offered in 1972, including a fastback version -- the GT.

New For '72 From Lincoln-Mercury

CAPRI, LINCOLN-MERCURY'S popular German-built sports coupe, adds a V-6 engine to the line in mid-December. The Capri V-6 model, which also has rally instrumentation, larger tires and bigger brakes, is expected to have a suggested retail price of about $3,000. The smooth and quiet V-6 engine, which has a displacement of 2.6 liters or 155 cubic inches, handles optional automatic transmission and air conditioning with ease and still has ample power in reserve for expressway passing situations. An exclusive for Capri among popular-priced cars sold in the U.S., the basic V-6 has been thoroughly tested in millions of miles of driving in Europe since it was introduced by Ford of Germany in 1964.

DIANA LYNN

Observerland Beauties Among Nine Miss Detroit

Officials found it impossible to choose a Miss Detroit Auto Show from a lineup of beautiful models, so they picked nine, one for each day of the Show which opened today at Cobo Hall.

NANCY SPIESS, twenty-three-year-old Livonia resident, began her modeling career when she was a junior in high school. After graduation, Nancy continued her career by fashion modeling and appearing in numerous print advertisements, including ads in national publications like Life Magazine.

Nancy has also appeared in many industrial and educational slide and movie films. An outdoor enthusiast, Nancy enjoys such active sports as ice skating and snowmobiling.

Nancy is fond of traveling and would like to model in national television commercials.

DIANA LYNN, twenty years old, is a Junior majoring in Business Administration at Oakland Community College. Born in Southfield, Miss Lynn began her modeling career two years ago, after completing a special course of instruction at one of the major modeling schools. Diana now teaches, at the same school, when not studying, on a modeling assignment, or enjoying such outdoor activities as skiing in winter and swimming in summer. After graduation from Oakland, Diana would like to pursue a career as a full-time model.

KAAREN LEE, (not pictured), a Southfield resident and high school honors graduate, has been modeling for the past two years.

The nineteen-year-old Miss Lee plans to continue her modeling career while attending Wayne State University where she hopes to earn a degree in Mass Communications. When she is not on a modeling assignment or studying for school, Miss Lee trains and rides her own horse Bucky with the desire of being a polo player.

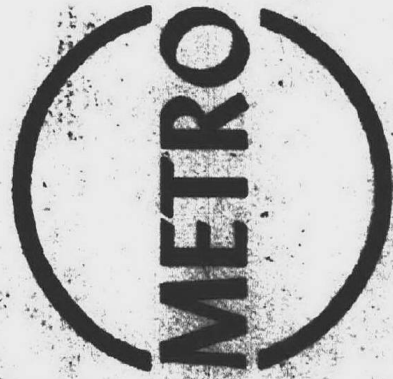

Aside from her vigorous outdoor activities, Kaaren is a classical ballet dancer and has appeared in many fashion publications including Seventeen Magazine.

See What's New For '72 At The 56th Auto Show

OPENING AT COBO HALL on November 20, the 56th Detroit Auto Show will provide visitors with the added luxury of gold-carpeted aisles to make the walking easy. Shown rolling out the carpet are, left to right, Douglas S. Dalgleish, show chairman; Jerry Blufford, vice chairman; Russ Gilbert of Town & Country Dodge; Farmington, committee member; and Boyce Tapp, general manager. Again this year, the Detroit Auto Show will include a special exhibit of motor homes and pickup campers in Hall D.

Visitors to the 56th Detroit Auto Show will walk on gold-carpeted aisles this year as they inspect the hundreds of new domestic and imported passenger and sports cars, motor homes and pickup campers that go on display Saturday, November 20.

In addition, they will have an opportunity to take part in a nightly auction, win one of ten trips for two and enter a motor home contest.

Billed as "Wheels & Winners '72," the big event will also feature a display of distinguished racing cars, and the personal appearances of many sports stars and TV and radio personalities.

According to Douglas S. Dalgleish, chairman for the third year in a row, the Show will have more of the same special attractions that made last year's an all-time record breaker.

"Our innovation of auctioning new cars at an auto show was such a success," Dalgleish points out, "that we decided to increase it from five nights to every night this year, and add some popular sports vehicles to the auction."

Starting each night at nine, a Ski-Doo snowmobile, a Honda trail bike and Honda all-terrain cycle will be auctioned, followed by a new car. On the first night, Saturday, November 20, the auction car will be a Comet. On succeeding nights it will be a Cutlass, Colt, Cricket, Vega, Pinto, Gremlin, Volkswagen and Ventura II.

"The free trips and the $25,000 motor home contest were big drawing cards, too, last year" Dalgleish adds, "with more than 142,000 visitors placing ticket stubs in the free trips depository and over 113,000 entering the motor home contest."

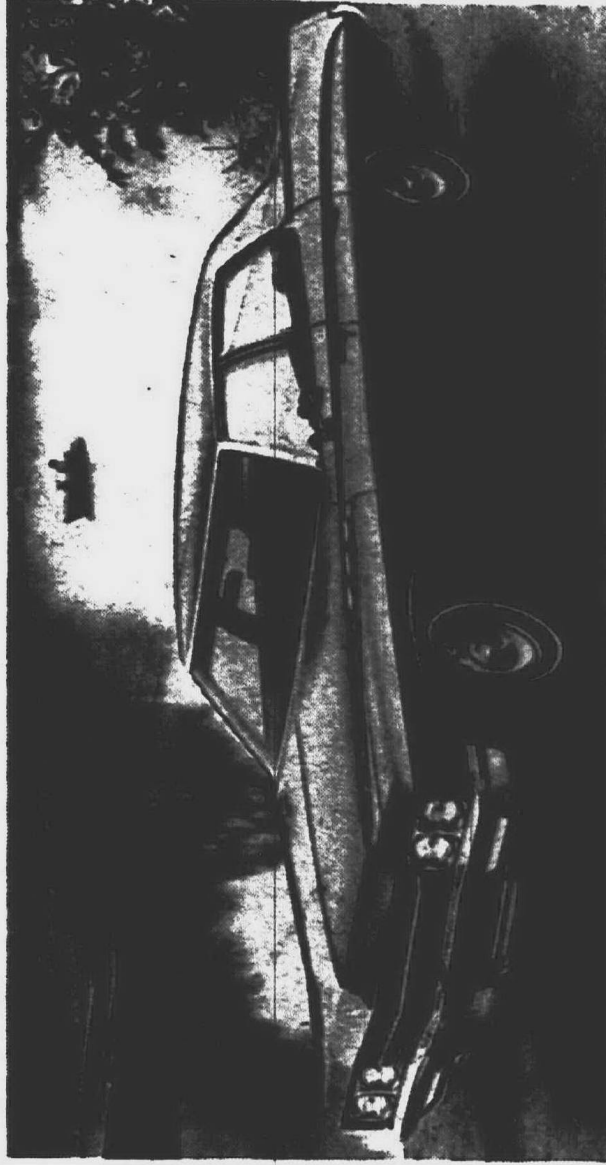

Every day, some lucky visitor will win a week-long trip for two to Acapulco, including room accommodations at the beautiful new Condesa del Mar Hotel. The grand prize will be a trip for two to Fiji. The winners will fly to Acapulco and Fiji on American Airlines.

Open from noon to 11 p.m. each day, the Show will run during the Thanksgiving holiday and close on Sunday night, November 28.

Auto Show History Spans 4 Decades...

Forty-four years separate these two photographs of Detroit Auto Shows. The upper one was taken during the 1928 Show in Convention Hall, said to be the largest single-floor exhibit facility in the country at that time.

The 1970 Show in Cobo Hall, lower photo, broke all attendance records.

Auto Shows have been held in many other locations in Detroit since the first one in 1899. Including the Light Guard Armory, Subers Beer Garden, Riverview Park, Billy Sunday's Tabernacle. The Wayne Gardens, the Ford branch plant at Woodward and Grand Boulevard, Michigan State Fairgrounds and the Detroit Artillery Armory.

It's Anyone's Guess at Auto Show Auction!

It will be interesting to see what the public pays for the nine new cars that will be auctioned, one a night at nine o'clock, during the Detroit Auto Show!

"We don't care how low they go for," says Show chairman Doug Dalgleish, "the idea is to create some fun and excitement each night. In fact, I'll bet the high bidders get some real bargains!"

The auction was so popular last year that the show committee decided to expand the number of auction nights from five to nine this year. In addition to a Vega, Volkswagen, Pinto and Gremlin, a Comet, Cutlass, Cricket, Colt and Ventura II will go on the block.

For the warmup each night, a snowmobile, trail bike and all-terrain cycle also will be auctioned. The snowmobile, a Ski-Doo model 335, lists for $850. The Honda trail bike, model CT-70 lists for $339, and the Honda all-terrain cycle, model ATC-90, for $549.

Auctioneer Joe Tate of Warren, who will conduct the nightly event at Cobo Hall from November 20 through 28th, is said to be worth the price of admission, whether or not one bids on the cars or sports vehicles!

Driver's Test At Auto Show

An audience participation game which tests the driver's knowledge of Michigan's traffic laws will be the centerpiece of the Chrysler-Plymouth exhibit at the Detroit Auto Show November 20-28 at Cobo Hall.

The exhibit will also feature a Plymouth Duster which has been cut in half longitudinally to show its safety features and rugged construction, an engine display which demonstrates progress in reducing engine emissions, and a "police car of tomorrow," a specially-equipped Plymouth Fury.

The "know your traffic laws" test is a mechanized, multiple-choice examination in which participants exercise the various options presented by a variety of traffic situations. Each person taking the test will receive a free key chain inscribed with the slogan, "Traffic Laws Protect You. Obey Them."

Show goers visiting the exhibit will get tips on competitive driving from the famed drag race team of Ronnie Sox and Buddy Martin.

who will be on hand to greet the public, display their race car, a Plymouth Road Runner, and answer questions during the full run of the show.

Last September, the Sox and Martin team won the Pro Stock Eliminator title at the National Hot Rod Association national drag meet at Indianapolis. In August they won the Super Stock Eliminator championship at the International Hot Rod Association Summernationals at Bristol, Virginia. The team also won Pro Stock Eliminator at the NHRA Grand National at Montreal in August. They were also winners at the NHRA Springnationals at Dallas last June.

Sox and Martin have dominated the major drag race events in recent years. In 1969 they became the first team to win the super stock eliminator title in the NHRA's three major meets of the year.

Chrysler-Plymouth will display four on turntables. The turntable cars will be the Plymouth Cricket, Plymouth Fury, Chrysler New Yorker, and Chrysler Imperial. On the floor will be two Plymouth Dusters, one Plymouth Valiant, one Plymouth Scamp, two Plymouth Barracudas, six Plymouth Satellites, eight Plymouth Furies, eight Chryslers, and three Imperials.

On hand to describe the cars, discuss the special exhibits, and conduct the "know your traffic laws" test will be 24 pretty young girl models and two men.
