

Pair Win Praise

For carrying out the implementation of the concept that went into the creation of the new Plymouth High School, two assistant superintendents have been praised in a special resolution adopted by the Board of Education.

Rossman Replies

"May all days hold for you the glow and warmth that come with the Holiday Season," was the message of a Christmas card from Esther Hulsing to James Rossman. The latter, who is the center of a current Plymouth political storm, replies with a "Dear Esther" open letter.

4-40 For Police

A 90-day experiment is being planned within the Plymouth police department for a work-week plan of four 10-hour days to alleviate manpower scheduling problems. It will be the first test of the "ten plan" in any police department of Plymouth's size.

Rossman On Job, Off Payroll

By FRED DELANO

James H. Rossman's battle with the Board of Education over whether he still is superintendent of schools reached the ugly stage Friday when he was removed officially from the payroll and secretarial service was denied him. Despite these actions, Rossman continued to occupy his office and said he plans to do so indefinitely.

A conference was scheduled between Mrs. Esther Hulsing, president of the board, and Attorney Edward Draugelis to determine whether legal action will be taken against Rossman to end his self-styled "sit-in" which has seen him report for duty daily since he was fired Monday night.

Rossman was hired as superintendent in 1967 to succeed Russell Isbister, and in 1970 his contract was renewed for three years. It is his position that he cannot be summarily dismissed without a public hearing on specific charges, none of which has yet been presented, and that he must be given legal right to due process before the contract is terminated.

THE BOARD'S resolution of dismissal Monday said only that Rossman "has consistently failed to abide by all the policies as adopted by this board" and that he "has thereby breached his contract of employment with this board and violated the standard of duties as established by the State School Code."

It was specified that the dismissal should take effect as of that same date, Dec. 13. Written charges, enumerating what the board considers specific infractions of the contract, are being prepared, but Mrs. Hulsing said it may be 10 days before they will be completed and presented to Rossman, as he has formally requested.

Meanwhile, Asst. Supt. for Business Melvin Blunk revealed that under the instructions of Draugelis, whom the board has retained as special legal counsel for this matter, Rossman is to be paid only through Dec. 13.

That actually was the first day in the school system's current pay period, and when Rossman gets his check on payday next week it will be for only that one day's work.

FRIDAY MORNING, the two other assistant superintendents, Mike Hoben and Earl Gibson, informed Rossman that also by advice of counsel, he no longer would be allowed the services of Mrs. Garnet Stickney, his personal secretary.

Throughout the week Rossman has been attempting to conduct his office on a "business as usual" basis, and after hearing of the payroll and secretarial decisions he said he still plans to be on the scene Monday and thereafter.

A decision is expected during the weekend through conferences between Draugelis, Mrs. Hulsing and other board members whether an injunction, or some other legal action against Rossman will be sought, and whether trespassing is involved.

Rossman, who has admittedly been at odds with the board for months, said he was mystified "as to why the need for immediacy at this time," adding that he concluded "it must be related to something I said or wrote."

"I concluded that my memo given to board members for Monday's meeting, along with the agenda and other materials for discussion, must have contained something that stirred them up," said Rossman. "I also have been questioning how Treasurer George Lawton could accept some of the billings that have come through in relation to the high school construction. Perhaps they think I'm interfering with the business department."

ROSSMAN POINTED specifically to these comments of his in the memo mentioned as possibly being reason for the board's irritation:

"I urge the Board of Education and administrators to be extremely firm with the architect and the builders in demanding that architectural specifications be met completely before considering any more payment to either the contractor or architectural firm."

"There is no excuse for the procrastination that has taken place since the architect was given specific written statements of deficiency between November 1970 and July 1971."

"Taxpayers have the right to expect us to insist upon workmanship-like construction. The building will be in use for more than 50 years."

"The maintenance costs will be much greater if we permit the acceptance of the shoddy work that is evident in such areas as the gymnasium floor, corridor ceilings, exterior door frames and door hardware, exterior concrete work, some interior block laying, the blacktop drives, the headwall and ditch detail at the entrance to the culverts, etc."

"I repeat, we should be rigid in our insistence that Plymouth High School construction meet specifications before final payment is made either to the architect or the builders."

No Publications Dec. 25, Jan. 1

Observer Newspapers will not publish weekend editions on Dec. 25 and Jan. 1, the Christmas and New Year's holidays respectively.

Publisher Philip H. Power said the unprecedented decision was made in order to give employees and carrier boys and girls a full holiday weekend.

In addition, ONI offices will be closed on the two Fridays preceding each holiday—Dec. 24 and 31. The main office at 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, and the Southfield office at 20099 W. 12 Mile will thus be closed from Thursday at 5 p.m. until Monday at 9 a.m. for each holiday weekend.

A trend has been developing in the metropolitan area to suspend publication on such holidays, Power noted.

Deadlines for the editions of Dec. 22 and 29 will be the normal Wednesday edition deadlines: Monday at noon for women's and church news, Monday at the close of business for general news, and Tuesday at 11 a.m. for classified advertising.

Youth Inc. Finds Santa

Santa Claus has come early to the Plymouth downtown teen center operated by Youth Inc.

Wednesday afternoon with a whopping donation of $2,500 from the Sheldon Road plant of the Ford Motor Co.

As a matter of fact, he has stopped by twice, first with a check for $1,000 from the Plymouth Jaycees early in December, and then Wed-

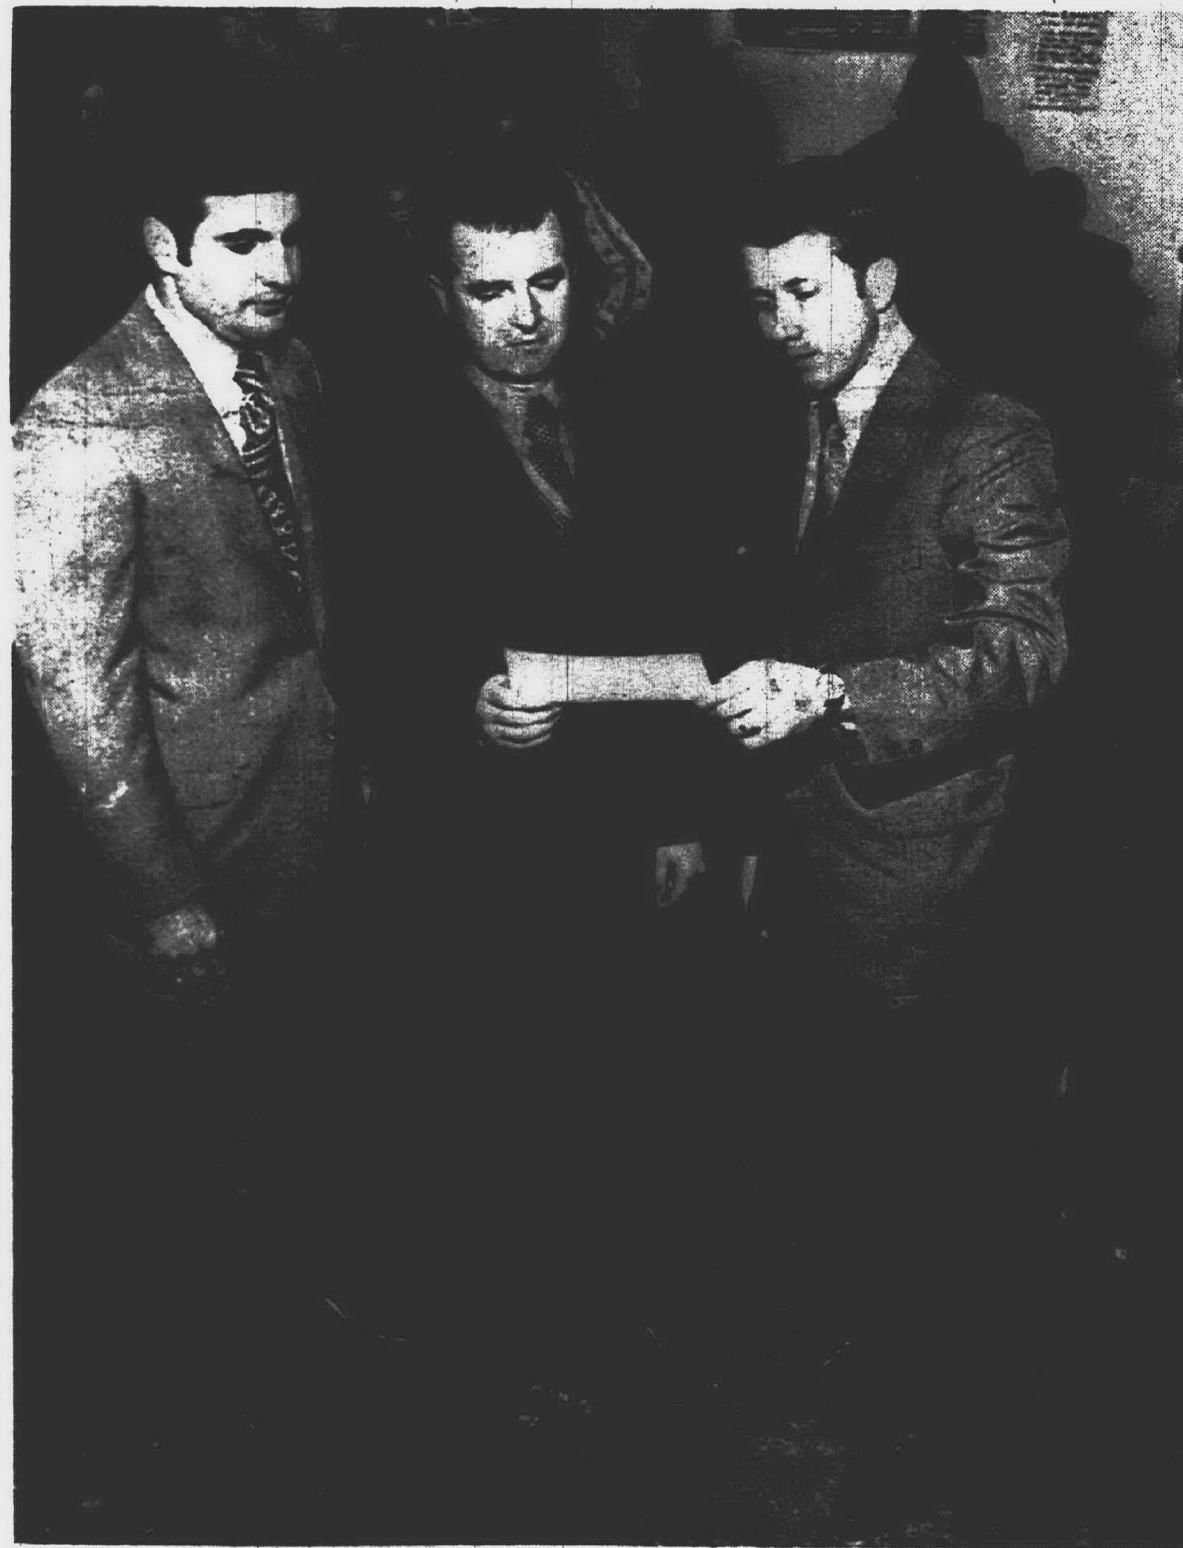

The Ford contribution to Youth Inc.'s building renovation fund was made upon the recommendation of the local plant's Plymouth area community relations committee of which Dain Pearson is chairman and Tony Ruggerio secretary.

"As a corporate citizen of the Plymouth area, Ford feels this donation to Youth Inc. is for the betterment of the youth of the community," commented Pearson as he handed the $2,500 to David L. Smith, president of the adult Youth Inc. board of directors.

"We feel your activity is worthwhile and that it is much needed," added Pearson in expressing the hope that other corporate and business citizens will follow Ford's lead in solid support of the teen center.

$2 Million Sports Complex Coming

By W. W. EDGAR

A $2 million sports complex that will include a regulation sized hockey arena and ice rink, 40 bowling lanes and eight tennis courts (four indoors and four outdoors) along with an indoor golf course and practice greens is to be erected on a nine-acre site at Ann Arbor Road and General Drive in Plymouth Township.

Under study for the past several months, the plans were completed and announced Thursday by owner Finlay McQueen, who stated, "This is the first complex of its kind in the country, and I think it will fill a long felt need in the community."

as president and general manager.

Present owner of Plymouth Bowl on Plymouth Road, McQueen also owns Southfield Bowl on Eight Mile Road in Southfield and his name has been synonymous with bowling for four decades.

His father owned and operated Gleneagles, when it was a popular pin palace on Livernois Ave. in Detroit, and Argyle Recreation at the intersection of Grand River Ave. and Plymouth Road.

THE ELDER McQueen was a firm believer that bowling should stand on its own and was the first proprietor to scoff at any thought of having a cocktail lounge in conjunction with the toppling of tenpins.

When he retired to a home in California and "Young Fin" took over, this policy was changed to meet the trend of the times.

The new complex, when completed, will give the Plymouth community, once a desert for hockey players, the finest facilities in the western suburbs.

The City of Plymouth now is floating a bond issue of $1.5 million to construct a regulation ice arena at the rear of Central Junior High School to serve as a memorial building for the city's centennial. This arena, along with the McQueen promotion, will give the community two regulation sized rinks and eliminate the need of the youngsters traveling miles in the wee hours of the morning for their practice sessions.

"Our timetable," McQueen stated, "will depend on the township planning commission. It could take anywhere from eight months to two years before it can be opened.

"We have to go through the process of re-zoning the land, which is now part of the Gould Industrial Park, and that could take time, even though the planners favor the complex."

IN ANNOUNCING plans for the competitive sport segment of the complex, McQueen also stated that there would be a sizable restaurant and a section devoted to the handling of sports equipment.

"All types of businesses have found it practical to locate in shopping centers," he said, "but this is the first sports super-market in the country where you can shop for your own leisure and pleasure."

With plans also under way to provide recreation on the 63-acre site now owned by the township adjacent to Hilltop Golf Course, the new complex will help to make Plymouth township one of the major sports centers in southeastern Michigan.

All of the most modern equipment on the market will be installed in the complex.

The 40 bowling lanes will be a Brunswick installation with automatic ball returns and automatic scorers. These automatic pinsetters are valued at approximately $8,000 each, with each scoring machine that covers two lanes an additional $4,000.

The golf course will be the latest design for indoor play and will have regulation sand traps along with putting greens.

It will be the same with the tennis courts. They will have a special playing surface that will make them available in all types of weather.

NO MENTION was made of a swimming pool, but McQueen hinted that could come later.

"I've been thinking of this complex for a long time," he said, "and have visited many sections of the country to get the latest ideas, all of which will now be incorporated into one operation."

"I was amazed," he continued, "when I learned of the demand for hockey facilities. My biggest surprise came in the little community of Fraser, where the lone rink no longer can meet the demand and a second rink is being built."

"And now with two rinks in the Plymouth area, all the youngsters who want to play and have their leagues will have the opportunity."

Hoben, Blunk Praised By Board Of Education

PLYMOUTH Belated credit for the role they played in bringing about the development of the new Plymouth High School was paid this week to two assistant superintendents, John M. Hoben and Melvin Blunk, by the Board of Education.

Feeling that this pair had been overlooked in the way of personal mention at the time of the formal dedication ceremony Dec. 5, board member George Lawton presented a resolution which then was adopted unanimously and which stated:

"WHEREAS Plymouth High School was dedicated the 5th of December 1971;

"And whereas at that dedication, credit was given for the concept of the idea for the school;

"And whereas it is now appropriate that credit be given to those responsible for the implementation of that concept;

"Now therefore be it resolved that John M. Hoben be officially commended for the dedicated, tireless job that he has done in making individualized instruction through modular scheduling a reality in Plymouth;

"And be it further resolved that Melvin I. Blunk be officially commended for the efficient and businesslike way in which he coordinated the immense amount of paper work and detail which were necessary to the completion of this project;

"And be it further resolved that this board extend the thanks of the entire community for a job well done. The community is enriched by their efforts."

Plymouth Brevities

IF YOUR HOME is adorned with Christmas lights, be sure they are turned on tonight, as the judging committee from the Jaycees will be making the rounds this evening to determine winners in the decorating contest, both for homes and businesses.

For that fact alone, this probably will be one of the two best weekends for those who enjoy the Plymouth area's holiday beauty to take a drive themselves.

SING ALONG time, don't forget, will be 3 p.m. Sunday in Kellogg Park, where Fred Nelson will lead the community caroling, aided by brass and vocal groups from the high school. It's a family-type entertainment.

Also one more reminder to the youngsters who may have a last-minute request to pass on to Santa Claus. They can talk to the jolly old fellow by telephone from 7 to 9 p.m., Monday through Thursday just by dialing the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce office, 453-1540.

THE GYMNASIUM at Central Junior High School will be open four days during Christmas vacation in the schools to all students who may wish to play some pick-up basketball, or other activities. However, there will be a definite schedule for age groups.

Dates the gym will be available include Wednesday, Dec. 22; Monday, Dec. 27; Tuesday, Dec. 28 and Wednesday, Dec. 29.

On each of those days, students from the elementary schools can have the gym from 1 to 3 p.m., and then those from East, West, Pioneer and Central can use it from 3 to 5:30 p.m. It will be reserved for high school students and adults from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

YOUTH SYMPHONY members will be dinner guests of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night, Dec. 21 in the Mayflower Meeting House and then will present a concert for the pleasure of the Kiwanians. The conductor of the symphony, which includes many of Plymouth's finest young musicians, is H. Michael Endres.

As one of its fund-raising activities, the adult association which supports the youth symphony is planning a rummage sale for Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 15 and 16, at 211 N. Sheldon.

Collection dates for the gathering of items to be put up for sale will be from Dec. 27 through Dec. 30, between 1 and 5 p.m., at the same address, which is the office site for Dr. Joe Jender, association president.

Time To Bring Joy To Others

EDITOR:

Jingle bells, jingle bells is heard all thru the town. Time to let people know that the Christmas season is here. People begin to push and shove others to get their treasures they think will make members of their family happy. Let's see now, a bike for Billy, a sled for Jean and a new automobile for mom and dad. This is the season in which the stores make the biggest profit of the year.

People today, in this commercialized society, do not stop to think of what this season is really about. The purpose of this joyous occasion is good will toward all men, and people are either too busy or they forget the meaning of Christmas due to the materialistic world. Sure, it's the time for joy and happiness, but people tend not to stop and think where this season all started. Let's take time to remember.

People will say, "I think of the Christ Child when I go to church services on Christmas morning." But did you ever notice them look around, not really knowing what is going on in church, and thinking of how other people are dressed? This season, instead of always thinking about material things, let's take time out to bring joy to others as the Christ Child once did centuries ago.

THROUGH BIFOCALS
By FRED DELANO / Editor: Mail & Observer

THE SECOND most tragic situation in Plymouth's educational history has seen the superintendent of schools (or is he?) sitting at his office desk each day since the board of education thought it had fired him Monday night, attempting to do business as usual.

When I say "second most tragic," this gives the teachers' strike of 1969 the dubious honor of still retaining the blue ribbon, as well as having been the instrument which first dramatized, for all to see, what a poor relationship existed between James H. Rossman and Plymouth's academic force.

Jim's position on the latest crisis, and the bent of his reasoning, are found in these words from the letter he has addressed to the board, making it evident that he does not accept it as fact that he was fired outright:

"I request ... that I be given the opportunity to answer the specific charges BEFORE ANY FINAL TERMINATION DATE of my contract be effective. My contract as superintendent of Plymouth Community School District does not expire until June 30, 1973." (The capitalization is ours and has been added to emphasize Rossman's insistence that nothing can be considered final until he is given a public hearing on charges that have yet to be detailed.)

AS YOU CAN GUESS, you can cut the tension in the school system's administrative building on Mill Street with a penknife. The situation is awkward, and conversation is stilted, yet to all intent and purpose Jim is determined to go about his daily routine despite the fact that he is not going to be paid for it.

He addressed the League of Women Voters Thursday as head of the school system and introduced Mike Hoben, Mel Blunk and Earl Gibson as his "assistants."

He went to a conference at Schoolcraft College Friday as Plymouth superintendent, and he has every intention of retaining his title as president of the Plymouth Area Planning Commission. He is continuing to sign correspondence as superintendent.

It doesn't seem likely that anyone will attempt with physical strength to eject the 250-pound Rossman forcibly, as they did in April 1964 to Montgomery Ward's board chairman, Sewell Avery, but it is ludicrous to think this can go on forever.

Rossman admits that the three assistant superintendents did not come to his office this week for their usual Wednesday summit conference, but Jim had a way of meeting that snub, too. He simply went to each of them.

What will he do if the board obtains a court order which makes the administration building off limits to him? Well, he speaks with such sincerity of respect and honor for the courts that I presume he would obey - but you can bet he'll ask the interpretation of his own legal counsel first.

IT IS NO SECRET that there has been long-standing friction between the board and Rossman. He was on the verge of being fired in June, and only two months ago it was told in this very space how the board had met privately at 7 a.m. Oct. 13 in the Mayflower Hotel to decide whether to act, and then copped out. So what happened since then that caused the pendulum to swing?

Rossman himself thinks it concerns his insistence that the contractor rectify all mistakes in the new high school, an area in which maybe he isn't supposed to have the authority anymore. But, really, it may be something much more trite.

It just may have been that the straw which broke the camel's back was the feeling of at least one board member that Mike Hoben was slighted when credits were being passed out at the high school dedication two weeks ago, and that Rossman was responsible. I don't know how impressively that would read in a court room, but as salt in the wound, it will do.

There were only two ways this whole thing was going to be handled without stirring up a public mess. One would have been for Jim to have accepted a job elsewhere and voluntarily resign, which is what the board hoped would happen. The other would be to pay him the $126,000 which he calculated in June his contract was worth. It is evident that the board now has decided that whatever the price ultimately negotiated, it is worth it. For that, it is a sad day.

65 Scholars Win Acclaim

PLYMOUTH Sixty-five Plymouth High School seniors were honored last week when they were formally inducted into the National Honor Society during a convocation at the high school.

"On this occasion the high school publicly recognizes and commends its pupils who have earned distinguished academic records," said Frankie LaMirand, a member of the faculty honor society committee.

The convocation address, "Challenges of Tomorrow," was given by John Hoben, Plymouth schools assistant superintendent for education. Theophile Weybrecht outlined the "Ideals of the National Honor Society" to the inductees.

The students inducted have maintained at least a B average since the 10th grade. "It is accordingly appropriate that those pupils be honored who have most clearly and effectively recognized the first reason for a school's existence - to offer educational opportunities," Mrs. LaMirand said.

This was the 15th honors convocation at Plymouth High School since the honor society was started there in 1957.

THE NEW inductees are: Joy Ann Ableson, Christine Ackerman, Barb Baumgartner, Bridgett Buie, Arviline F. Burden, Sarah M. Cargo, Ken Case, Sharon Cavanaugh, Carol Cavender, Teri Covington, Stephen Davio, Veronica Daziens, Diane DeBear, Michele Du Bach and Susan Dybas.

Others are: Lynne Elton, Anne Eisen, Nancy Finlan, Sharon Foster, Cindy Green, Sally Guegian, Linda Hagopian, Kathy Harris, Dave Hees, Paul Heinmiller, Carl Herter, Kevin Jones, Debra Keeth, Amy Kenyon, Mary Ann Kraay, Terese Kulick, Stephen Leclair and James Lee.

Also inducted were: Ellen Macocha, Mary Beth Mayhall, Jane Mills, Bill Moehle, Sandra Morris, David McAninch, Mark McKelvey, Peggy O'Day, Deborah Park, Beth Parrott, Pam Powell, Mary Rogers, Elizabeth Rouston, Cynthia Rowland, Debra Sanocki and Nina Sartori.

THE FACULTY committee of Mrs. LaMirand, Scott Beaman, Joan Fischer and Ehtylene Hazelwood was aided in preparing the convocation by George Kunc, a student teacher at the high school from Western Michigan University.

A procession, recessional and the "Allegro from Quarter 1" by J.C. DeArriaga were played during the convocation by the Plymouth High School String Quartet featuring: Janis Shier, violin; Margaret Lang, viola; Charles Wells, bass; Jim Lee, violin; Bill Moehle, cello; and Molly Jewel, piano.

Following the convocation, a reception was held in the cafeteria to honor the inductees and their parents.

3 Teachers Get Tenure

Three teachers were given tenure in the Plymouth schools after approval by the Plymouth Board of Education Monday.

Tenure was approved for Elin Haddad, Central math teacher; William Bartlett, math and science teacher at East; and Dwight Anderson, English teacher at Plymouth High School.

The teachers have taught in Plymouth for 2½ years and were recommended for tenure by their tenure coaches and the administration.

"In all cases, the recommendations were clean, direct and to the point," Asst. Supt. of Community Relations Earl Gibson said.

The board also approved maternity leaves for Joan Musch, part-time kindergarten teacher at Allen; and Sharon Belobraidich, first grade teacher at Bird.

It accepted the resignation of Virginia Abraham, third grade teacher at Fiegel.

Rossman Letter

The following was delivered to the Mail & Observer Friday by James H. Rossman as an "open letter" to Mrs. Esther Hulsing, president of the Plymouth Board of Education:

"Dear Esther: Thank you for the Christmas card I received from you Dec. 15. Its message: 'May all days hold for you the glow and warmth that come with the Holiday Season.'"

"My first reaction was to ask, 'How hypocritical?' 'Instead, I wish to turn the other cheek.'"

"YES, ESTHER, each day since Monday evening I have received 'the glow and warmth' from many citizens who wish me well in my 'fight for rights.'"

"Esther, Plymouth schools now enjoy, for the first time in several years, adequate, excellent facilities to support improving educational programs that challenge individual students with broad range of abilities, interests and aptitudes.

"We enjoy excellent public support for education. We have excellent working conditions for professional staff, and provide a very favorable teacher - pupil ratio and some additional education aides to help pupils and teachers.

"We have avoided the mass teacher layoff crisis faced by many school districts. We have a balanced budget and no deficits from previous years.

"Although by comparison, Plymouth is an 'educational utopia,' we seek further improvements and face many problems with rapid growth.

"A public controversy extended over the weeks ahead is unfair to this wonderful Plymouth community.

No one wins. The school district loses.

"YOU HAVE AN excellent reputation as a board member locally and at the State School Board Association level.

"I also have an excellent reputation as a school administrator in Michigan school districts for more than 30 years.

"I ask that you lead the board to rescind the action taken Dec. 15; review the code of ethics of the Michigan Association of School Boards and the Michigan Association of School Administrators; provide for me a list of those concerns the board has relating to our relationships, and then call a meeting for us to determine how to capitalize upon the strengths of every administrator and every board member."

The letter was signed, "James H. Rossman, Superintendent of Schools."

Plymouth Police Study 4-Day, 40-Hour Week

By EDWARD WENDOVER

The "ten plan" - a work week of four 10-hour days - is now under study by the Plymouth Police Department which expects to try the plan for 90 days beginning Jan. 1.

Officials of the Plymouth Police Officer's Association (PPOA) and the police department have studied the plan together and have agreed to waive conflicting portions of their contract during the proposed test period.

Police Chief Timothy C. Ford has asked the city commission's permission to enter into the test period.

"The department has held a series of meetings with the total department and officials of the PPOA during which we have explored as many of the problems in this plan as we can reasonably anticipate, short of an actual test period," Ford said in a letter to City Manager Norman M. Gaffney. The "ten plan" was suggested by the department to alleviate some manpower scheduling problems that exist under the current eight-hour shift, five-day system.

TIMOTHY FORD

FORD OUTLINED the following problems the department has experienced with the present work week: "Called for 'service demands' placed upon the department have not coincided with an eight-hour shift concept. The workload cannot be distributed equally over any eight-hour period. "Manpower distribution under the classical eight-hour system cannot lead to meet anticipated 'called for' service.

"Provisions contained in the present contract between the city and the PPOA do not allow equitable distribution of available off time - especially weekends, and have worked a hardship on the city as to a requirement for double-time where sick time is used. "Both of these problems have resulted in some departmental unrest, even though agreed to by the negotiating parties to the contract.

"During the past months, the department and the PPOA has explored a number of alternative schedules designed to rectify the inequities and have settled on one which seems to offer the greatest chance of success," he explained.

FORD SAID the "ten plan" has been tried in more than 500 industries and 60 municipal governments, including eight or 10 police departments.

"While it (the "ten plan") seems to work in larger departments, our investigations suggest that it can work to the advantage of small departments as well," Ford said. "This will be the first of its kind for a department of our size in the United States."

Three major advantages would accrue under the "ten plan," Ford said.

• It allows for "manpower load" over peak "called for" service periods.

• There is a resultant increase in departmental efficiency created by this kind of distribution and provides for higher departmental morale because of "created access to weekend 'off time.'"

• Economies have been realized by departments entering into this program because of a reduction in certain kinds of overtime, particularly sick time.

But, Ford said, the "ten plan" could have its drawbacks too.

OVERTIME MUST be based on a 10-hour day. Thus vacation, extra duty and sick time must be charged off on the basis of 1.25 times the basic eight-hour unit, the chief said.

"To work, this plan requires the continued efforts of all personnel involved to 'make it work.' A relaxation of the necessary vigilance would result in excessive overtime hours," Ford warned.

The test period is subject to cancellation by unilateral action by either the association or the department, Ford said. "During this test period the department will continue a constant evaluation to make judgments as to the plan's efficiency in future operations."

PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT Plymouth, Michigan

BOARD OF EDUCATION MINUTES

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, was held on Thursday evening, December 2, 1971, in the Board Room of the Administration Building, 1604 South Mill Street, Plymouth, Michigan.

The meeting was called to order by President Hulsing at 8:03 p.m. Present: Members Hulsing, Lawton, Ohno and Sick. Absent: Members Graves, Hanak and Penar.

Administrators present: Superintendent Rossman, Assistant Superintendents Blank and Gibson, Principal Smith and Director Masteller. Others present: Dolly Carter, John Ryder, Ray Homer and Bill Heath. Plymouth Education Association: Henry Rupert, Jim Symonds, Lynn Dillmeigle, Brian Gillis, Frederick Libbing, Marjorie Goss, Dallas Goss and Brian Roman.

Assistant Superintendent Gibson reviewed a memorandum to the Board of Education relating to Phase II - Wage-Price Freeze Information. Member Lawton asked for a review of the administration salary adoption procedure.

Assistant Superintendent Gibson referred to the minutes of June 22, 1971, when the Administrative Salary Guide was approved providing for evaluation of administrators and the motion calling for a further review of administrative salaries in September. He also referred to the minutes of the July 12, 1971, meeting when the Business Office was authorized to pay administrators on the 1970-71 salary scale until final 1971-72 salaries were determined. He referred to the August 9, 1971, meeting when he had presented specific recommendations for specific administrators' salaries including evaluation and that his recommendation was tabled for consideration at a later meeting. He also referred to the minutes of October 13, 1971, when the specific individual administrators' salaries for the 1971-72 school year were approved.

It was moved by Member Lawton and seconded by Member Ohno to pay administrators the 1971-72 salaries and fringe benefits as established for the 1971-72 school year starting with November 15, 1971, and that further consideration shall be given for retroactive salaries upon receipt of written authorization from the Internal Revenue Service relating to the specific Plymouth Community School District salary situation.

Ayes: Members Hulsing, Lawton, Ohno and Sick. Nays: None.

The motion was carried. Assistant Superintendent Gibson agreed to write a letter to Internal Revenue Service for clarification of retroactive salary policy.

It was moved by Member Sick and seconded by Member Ohno to start paying teachers' salaries and fringe benefits on November 15, 1971, in accordance with the Master Agreement; that no retroactivity for the period of September 7, 1971, through November 12, 1971, would be paid in accordance with National Price-Freeze Policy; and to pay Contract Riders in accordance with the Contract unless the accrued time of performed duty was during the freeze which would demand payment on the old schedule. Contract Riders demanding pro-rating will be paid in that manner.

Ayes: Members Hulsing, Lawton, Ohno and Sick. Nays: None.

The motion was carried. It was moved by Member Ohno and seconded by Member Lawton to adjourn the meeting.

Child Center Teachers 'Sick' In Pay Dispute

At least 22 of the 34 teachers at the Wayne County Child Development Center in Northville called in "sick" Thursday during a contract dispute that has lingered since June.

The teachers have been paid according to the 1969-70 pay scale although their 1970-71 and 1971-72 contracts are signed and valid, according to Robert Johnson, president of Local 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Workers, AFL-CIO.

Johnson said the 1970-71 contract was signed on June 29 by the labor board in Wayne County. Under the normal process, it should have gone almost immediately to the Board of Commissioners for signing.

But when it was channeled through committees to the board, the contract was delayed because of irregular meetings in the summer.

The result was that the board finally signed it in October, when the wage-price freeze was in effect. Then complications arose over whether the retroactivity should be paid and until what date.

JOHNSON SAID the board agreed to pay the retroactive salaries through Aug. 14 before the freeze took effect. The teachers think they should be paid through the freeze because the contract had been agreed to in June.

But so far they have not received any retroactive pay—even that from Sept. 1, 1970 to Aug. 14, 1971. That portion was promised by Nov. 14, according to a teacher, but they haven't received it yet.

Meanwhile, the teachers are beginning to think they are pawns in a game and will never get that pay.

Representatives of the administration were not available for comment before deadline.

Teachers also expected retroactive pay based on the 1971-72 contract by Dec. 11, but are still waiting for it.

"We feel the teachers have suffered grave injustices through no fault of their own," Johnson said. "If the commissioners were acting in good faith, the teachers would have had their pay by now."

"They are not willing to make them (the teachers) whole and bring them up to date," he said.

pay us our money. Then it all seems logical."

The teachers want the money due them for the time period up until the freeze was imposed. Until the commissioners release the funds they will continue to be paid on the 1969-70 pay scale.

Maternal Care Unit Is Started

A citizens committee established by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has begun development of a coordinated county-wide program to improve the quality of maternity and infant health care for indigent families.

greatest concentration of this kind of problem.

"The situation requires a program that is coordinated and comprehensive. A pregnant woman should have available full pre-natal care, hospital and delivery care, post-partum and infant care."

Dr. Sherman said the committee is challenged to present the Board of Commissioners a plan that is feasible and effective and to also recommend measures for financing the program.

"We must also determine what share of the pie that different financial resources can contribute toward," he stated.

Called the Citizens Committee for Maternal and Child Care, the committee is composed of representatives from major hospitals, social service agencies, and other organizations concerned with health and medical care.

Chairman of the new committee is Dr. Alfred I. Sherman, chief of obstetrics and gynecology at Sinai Hospital, Detroit.

THE COMMITTEE will develop proposals to best meet the maternity and medical needs of indigent persons in Wayne County, and report to the Board of Commissioners by February 1972.

Dr. Sherman said, "there is an excessive mortality rate for both infants and mothers in this area."

"One of the first steps of the committee will be to discover the areas where there is the

OTHER MEMBERS of the committee include:

R.B. Shelton, director of the Wayne County Social Services Department; Symond Gottlieb, executive director of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council; Milton H. Watson, director of the Detroit Model Cities Health Council; and Marvin Meltzer, director of the Wayne State University regional medical programs.

The resolution creating the committee was adopted by the Board of Commissioners on Nov. 18.

Anti-Poverty Barrier Hurdled

Federal approval of the operating agency designated by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has removed the last barrier to resumption of anti-poverty programs in the county outside Detroit.

The Board of Commissioners was notified this week that Communities United for Action, Inc. (CUFA) has been approved as the community action agency by the regional U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) in Chicago.

This opens the way for perhaps a million dollars in federal funds to come into eight federally-designated "target areas."

THE NEW anti-poverty agency replaces a citizens committee which was dissolved a year ago after the regional OEO refused to renew $776,000 in federal funds, charging that the program was "generally ineffective" as then structured.

CUFA was organized by the seven mayors and one township supervisor of the eight target area localities — Ecorse, Hamtramck, Highland Park, Inkster, River Rouge, Romulus, Taylor and Sumpter Township. The mayors and supervisors sit on the CUFA board of directors, along with four county commissioners and 16 residents elected from the target areas, plus others.

The Board of Commissioners designated CUFA to run the poverty program after holding a public hearing at which there was general support by those present for CUFA.

"WE ARE very pleased that federal approval has been granted," said County Commissioner Roscoe Bobo, D-Ecorse, chairman of the commissioners' Economic Opportunity Committee. "The next step, I understand, will be to apply for federal funds to finance program planning and the hiring of an executive staff."

University Hills Church Dedicates New Home

University Hills Church of Farmington will dedicate its new sanctuary and educational facilities with special services at 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 19.

The community-orientated church, which grew out of the Christian Reformed Church and is affiliated with that denomination, is located at Farmington Road and I-94. A "Dedication Fanfare" composed by Roland Sharrett, director of music, and performed by a brass ensemble, and liturgical readings by Wallace Smith of the Oakland Community College faculty, will highlight the program.

ALSO PARTICIPATING in the service will be the Rev. Ronald Peterson, representing the Christian Reformed denomination, and the Rev. John Stegenga, pastor of the Cherry Hill Christian Reformed Church in Inkster. Dr. J. Harold Ellens, pastor of University Hills Church, will be liturgist and preacher for the dedication service. His sermon title will be "Where Does God Live?"

Smith, who teaches drama at the Orchard Ridge campus of OCC, will read from the Biblical books of Hebrews and Revelations.

The brass ensemble also will perform a hymn fanfare and Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary," and a youth chorus will sing "They'll Know We Are Christians By Our Love," and "Dutch Folk Tune."

PROMINENT in the service will be "Great Is Thy Faithfulness," a hymn selected by the congregations its theme, "God make me an instrument of Thy peace," and an adaptation of the St. Francis prayer, that it has chosen as a definition of its ministry.

"To be a community-oriented church," Dr. Ellens said, "means that prayer drives us to the task of placing 'people needs' in our community before all institutional and traditional requirements."

University Hills Church was organized in 1967 and broke ground Easter Sunday for its contemporary sanctuary, topped by a tall cross. The first service there was held on Thanksgiving Day.

Contractor for the building was C.H. Habertorn, who will send greetings for the dedication service.

On Dec. 12, the congregation received 24 new members, eight by profession of faith, one by baptism and 15 by letters of transfer.

CHARLES BURR as Amahl and Mrs. Joseph Washburn as the mother in a scene from "Amahl and the Night Visitors," to be presented this weekend by the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth. (Observer photo by Harry Mauthe)

Plymouth Church Plans 2 'Amahl' Performances

A ninth-grader just turning 15 and a Plymouth music teacher will sing the leading roles in "Amahl and the Night Visitors," to be presented in the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth this weekend.

Charles Burr and Mrs. Joseph Washburn will star in the performances scheduled at 8 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 18, and at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 19, in the church located at 680 Church Street, Plymouth.

Heading the production of the contemporary opera will be Oliver Wagner, music director of First United Methodist.

GIAN CARLO MENOTTI's opera tells the story of a crippled boy and his mother. They live in poverty among shepherds. One night the three kings, on their way to Bethlehem to pay homage to the newborn Christ Child, stop for shelter at the rude hut where Amahl and his mother live. They are given hospitality and are entertained by the neighboring shepherds.

The mother envies the gold and other splendid gifts being brought to this child the kings don't even know. In the early days she steals some of the gold and is caught.

When she explains to the kings that she needs it for her starving child she is forgiven. Then they tell her about their child and the new light He will bring into the world and the kingdom He will build. The poor widow repents and returns the gold.

And Amahl, in a gesture of innocent generosity, offers his crutch, his most precious possession, as a gift to the child. In doing so he is miraculously cured of his lameness, and he is allowed to follow the Kings to Bethlehem to give thanks to the Christ Child.

CHARLES BURR, singing the title role of Amahl, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Burr of Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth. Celebrating his 15th birthday this weekend, he is a student at Central School and a member of the school band. He also is active in the church's youth fellowship.

Mrs. Washburn will sing the mother. She has sung with Overture to Opera Co. and has appeared as soloist with the Plymouth Community Band. She teaches flute and piano to area students.

U-U Plans Celebration Of Solstice

The Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington, 2301 Halstead, will celebrate both Christmas and the winter solstice with a family service at 8 p.m. Dec. 24.

The service will portray Christmas as a holiday that has roots deep in pre-Christian tradition and means for many today the celebration of birth, hope and the future.

The importance of the cultural heritage will be reflected through the use of festive lights to usher in the winter solstice.

Song, candles and hopes for peace on earth will be highlights of the service, and refreshments will be served later.

'Messiah' Is Planned

Handel's "Messiah" will be presented at 7 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 19, in Highland Park Baptist Church, 2000 Lahar, Southfield, by the church's Chancel Choir.

The leading tenor role will be sung by Jeremy Slavin, a teacher from the Philadelphia School of the Bible. He is the son of the Rev. George Slavin, pastor of the church.

The alto role will be sung by Carol Knight of Orchard Lake, and soprano parts by Marge Chomer of Detroit and Margaret Londal of Farmington.

Neil C. Neideck will be the musical director.

A SLEIGH complete with a "reindeer" and a balloon on every car greeted worshippers leaving St. Paul Presbyterian Church in Livonia last Sunday to remind them of the Christmas family night in the church at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 19. The public program will feature the church drama department, five choirs and a visit from Santa Claus. The church is located at Five Mile and Inkster. Pictured are Pamela Nelson (left) and Linda Bozzi, both of Redford Township.

Cass Chorus To Perform

Portions of Bach's Mass in B minor will be performed Thursday evening, Dec. 30, at 7:30, in St. Edmund Catholic Church, 12000 Twelve Mile, Warren. The work will be performed by the Cass Tech High School Alumni Chorus and Orchestra, under the direction of Rolo Tarrant.

The concert is part of the Music Heritage series and there is no admission charge.

Inter-Faith Players Will Stage Christmas Play

Working from a script written by Mrs. Lafert Porter of Westland, the Inter-Faith Players have prepared an original play for the Christmas season and are touring it in this area.

It will be presented at 4 and 7 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 19, in St. Mark's Presbyterian Church, 26701 Joy Road (between Inkster and Beech Daly), Dearborn Heights. The play has already been performed this month in Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church and Presbyterian Village, entitled "Love at Journey's End," this is the fourth play written by Mrs. Porter for the group which has been in existence for two and a half years.

AS DIRECTOR of music for St. Mark's, it was Mrs. Porter's job to create a church-wide Christmas activity. Her first attempt three years ago was a simple story dealing with the reaction of the animals in the Bethlehem stable to the strange events of Christmas Eve.

Response to this production was so great that an Easter play was suggested.

But since St. Mark's is a small church, it became evident that there were not enough young people in the church to complete the cast.

The Inter-Faith Players were the result. The current play is being directed by Nancy Brennan, a senior at Franklin High School, Livonia, and a member of St. Damian's Catholic Church, Westland.

Assisting her are Sandra Daas, who is also a senior at Franklin and a member of the New Hope Missionary Baptist Church, Dearborn, and Charles Beaumont, a recent graduate of Franklin and a member of St. Mark's Church.

THE CAST and production staff also include Donna Carley, Skip Congdon and Nancy Muma of Livonia and Mary Ellen Dosenbach, Brenda Harwood, Deanna Porter, Doug Porter and Rick Wright, of Westland, as well as students from Dearborn and Dearborn Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. John Porter of Westland are sponsors of the group, which operates fully on free will offerings collected at some of their plays. Original director of the group was Jennie MacLean of Redford Township.

As a change of pace, the group plans to present the classic "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder early next year and invites all interested persons to contact St. Mark's for details. New members are welcome.

3 Services Scheduled

Three Christmas Eve services, at 7, 9 and 11, will be held in Orchard United Methodist Church, 30450 Farmington Road, Farmington. All will conclude with the service of candlelighting, in which each worshiper will be given a Christmas candle.

The first service will be a family service with music by the children's choir. It will include a short Christmas cantata. A nursery will be provided.

The youth and adult choirs will provide music for the festive 9 and 11 p.m. services. An instrumental group and brass choir will be featured. Mrs. Marion Greene is director of music and Janet Greene is the organist. The pastor, the Rev. Eric S. Hammar, will preach on "For the Person Who Has Everything."

Rev. Lester Kinsolving's Religion Update

One hundred and seventy-one years ago this Christmas morning, the meager congregation at St. Paul's Cathedral in London for services appeared to verify the recurrent reports of the death of Christianity.

The previous Easter, St. Paul's Dean Tomlin had lamented: "In that vast and noble cathedral no more than six persons were found at the Table of The Lord."

RATIONALISM was rampant in Europe. In Paris, the crucifix at Notre Dame had been replaced with an actress, as the goddess of reason.

But somehow, Christianity hung on, as it had been doing, recurrently, for eighteen centuries of almost countless resurgences. Its staying power derives from the principal activity in the brief ministry of its founder: the training of 12, especially selected leaders of a new organization.

These leaders were called apostles and the organization called the Church before it owned an inch of real estate. They were highly improbable leaders for any budding ecclesiastical organization. Not a priest or Levite among them, but rather they were comprised for the most part of a number of profane fishermen (like one named Peter) plus one particularly scandalous recruit: one of the hated tax collectors (Publicans) named Matthew.

THIS SELECTED group made it seem Jesus was in favor of disorganized religion. That the church at its origin was as full of faults as any other organization comprised of human beings is apparent from its records, called Gospels. Particularly so "on the night in which He (the leader) was betrayed..." by one of them, denied thrice by another and finally deserted by all the rest.

Still, without this initially dismal organization's miraculous staying ability and capacity for rejuvenation, the name of Jesus Christ would be virtually unknown today and his gospel long since forgotten. There would never have been any Christmas.

Always, even in its most terribly discouraging eras, the church has somehow managed to produce some agents of rejuvenation -- frequently from the most improbable sources.

IN THE LAST century, for example, a young school teacher tried affection and reason with his class of unruly boys -- who were used to regular beatings as the customary form of discipline. They took vast advantage of him; so much so that he was summoned by the principal, who fired him, with the exquisitely cruel observation:

"Mr. Brooks: You are a failure as a teacher. And having failed here, you will fail at anything else you try to do."

The sensitive young man subsequently experienced a nervous breakdown which, but for the love and religious devotion of his mother, might well have become permanent psychosis. Later he entered theological seminary -- but so uncertain of himself and of religion that he would not become a confirmed member of the church until his senior year.

YET OUT OF THIS crucible of doubt and suffering, there emerged one of the most magnificent preachers in U.S. or world history. Phillips Brooks was not only one of the most incisive and courageous opponents of slavery, but his marvelous eloquence in preaching the love of God, rather than the fundamentalist wrath, had its effect on all of American Christianity.

He had vehement opposition, of course. Just prior to the hour of his consecration as Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, the procession stood waiting outside of Trinity Church in Boston's Copley Square, while the presiding bishop dutifully read a number of furious written protests from various Episcopal dioceses and bishops. This was followed immediately, however, by a joyful singing of the hymn: "Rejoice, Give Thanks And Sing!"

In 1867, just after America's bloodiest war, Brooks spent Christmas Eve in Bethlehem. Writing in the Shepherd's Field, he touched on poetic immortality, with lines destined to lighten the darkness and lift the hopes of millions -- even in the darkest age:

"Yet in thy dark streets shineth the everlasting light; The hopes and fears of all the years are met in thee tonight."

ECUMENICAL REFLECTIONS

By MARLYN W. WHITE
Unity of West Suburbia

In the nativity story we are told of the three gifts (gold, frankincense and myrrh) that were presented by the three kings to the baby Jesus. Have you ever stopped to think that we were never told what happened to these gifts?

Let us use our imagination to consider what might have happened.

Since the gifts were given to Jesus as an infant, we can assume that Mary and Joseph would put these gifts aside until such a time when Jesus would be old enough to determine their use.

AS HE MATURED, Jesus, completely enveloped in His love for people would undoubtedly be seeking ways to help them. It seems reasonable that His first response to those who came to Him in need would be to give them what they thought would help them. We can almost hear the people crying out "If only I had money all my problems would be solved."

In our mind's eye we can see Jesus responding to their pleas by giving generously of His riches and observing the fruits of His own good deeds.

We can almost sense the overwhelming realization taking place within Jesus even as He shares.

Jesus begins to see that the outer gifts that He has bestowed lovingly and freely, while they produced temporary happiness, did not have any lasting effect.

Jesus becomes more and more aware that these outer gifts have not changed the people themselves, only their temporary circumstances. They still think, feel, and express in the same old ways. They still carry with them the same attitudes of fear, hate, guilt, inferiority, and selfishness. They still carry with them their own unhappiness.

PERHAPS it was in the very act of giving away the three gifts that Jesus was motivated to seek and to find another gift -- a gift that would be of lasting value.

Jesus wisely understood that the greatest gift within them "The kingdom of God is within you." (Luke 17:21) In other words, the potential for good is within you and can only be given expression through you.

There is no greater gift than the birth of the Christ within you. When you become consciously aware of this gift and begin to cherish it and use it, you discover that it is the most precious gift of all.

In this one gift you have been given the power to make your own world. As you become God-centered, filled with peace, love, and goodwill instead of problem-centered, filled with anxiety, hate, and selfishness, the world becomes a better place and the second coming of the Christ is realized through you.

New Year's Eve Movie Is Planned

"Lost Generation," the latest release from World Wide Pictures, will be shown Friday, Dec. 31, in Ward United Presbyterian Church, Six Mile and Farmington Roads.

There will be no admission charge for the 10 p.m. showing.

"Lost Generation" uses multiple screen images and a probing documentary style to investigate attitudes on dissent, violence, the mood of America, and the answers that can be found by this generation as they face the decisions of life.

Shots were filmed in Alaska, the southern states, on farms and in small towns of mid-America, as well as in the dying Haight-Ashbury hippie district of San Francisco.

The feature-length film includes appearances by Bill Graham, Art Linkletter and Jack Webb, as well as the opinions of both young and old, urban and rural, rich and poor.

Instrumentalists Join Yule Concert

Three choirs and assisting instrumentalists will join in a Christmas concert at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 19, in the First United Methodist Church of Farmington, Grand River at Warner.

Featured will be the Carol and Wesley choirs of the church, directed by Mrs. Robert Cook, and a festival of lessons and carols, presented by the Chancel Choir, under the direction of Michael Rasmussen.

Nancy Kamm, Farmington violinist, will be guest soloist with the youth choir portion of the program, and members of the groups will play French horns, clarinets, flute and drums.

Soloists with the Chancel Choir will be Mrs. Ralph Matzmueller and Mrs. Clifford Kirkland.

Rev. Howard Snell, associate minister.

Donald Tromans will present an organ solo, "Carol Rhapsody."

Refreshments will be served in the church social hall after the concert, and the concert is open to the public.

SC Rejects Advisory Bd. Seats

By KATHY MORAN

Despite political maneuvering and compromises, the motion to establish advisory seats on the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees was defeated Wednesday.

A motion to approve the "concept" of advisory seats to the board was defeated in a 4-4 vote with five votes needed for passage.

Mrs. Rosina Raymond, Paul Kadish, John LaRue and Erwin Brown voted in favor of the motion while Mrs. Mary Dumas, Arch Vallier, Chairman Robert Geake and Leroy Bennett voted against it.

IF THERE IS an intense interest among students and faculty for a seat on the board, it was not reflected in the audience. Only two faculty members and one administrator watched the two-hour discussion. The only students present were a reporter and editor from the Campus Globe, the student newspaper.

In the course of the discussion, the issue became whether to approve the "principle" of having advisory seats before setting parameters or restrictions on the position.

The persons in the advisory seats can't legally have a vote on the board. But whether they can sit in on executive sessions or participate in all discussions would have to be decided by the board.

Vallier argued that approving the seats in concept without actually establishing them would be similar to approving a blank check. Mrs. Dumas agreed and voted with the opposition although she campaigned for her seat saying she would support the "concept" of advisory seats.

WHEN DISCUSSION on the issue was initiated, Mrs. Raymond moved that seats for students, faculty and non-teaching personnel be approved in concept for a trial period beginning at an "appropriate time" in the current fiscal year and continuing through fiscal year 1972-73. After that period the positions would be evaluated and either continued or discontinued. Kadish seconded the motion.

Her motion also provided that the board would have to approve guidelines governing the seat before the board formally approved the seats.

Early in the discussion, it became apparent that Bennett would vote against the motion because of lack of guidelines, and the maneuvering began. Amendments were offered to get more votes, but were defeated. A motion to table the question was also defeated.

When Brown entered the meeting nearly two hours late, the discussion turned toward winning his vote and both sides reiterated their positions.

BASICALLY PROPONENTS think the seat will improve rapport and communications on the campus where a lack of communications has caused several problems.

Opponents say that the seat will be a pacifier and not a solution to any flaws in the communication channels. It could become a means of bypassing the channels, it was argued.

The board spent five hours in the past week debating the question, and it is still uncertain whether it will come up again.

A three-hour study session one week ago was attended by persons generally in favor of approving the seats for a trial period. Little opposition was expressed at that time.

Detours Planned For I-275 Work

Governmental officials in Farmington Township, Novi and other communities are being briefed by the Michigan State Highway Department on upcoming construction detours in their areas.

Detours are scheduled for Nine Mile and Haggerty area and other areas along the new I-275 expressway under construction.

Changes include complete and partial closings of some roads, installation of bridges, culverts, drainage and truck routes.

Information is also being exchanged on how to provide for the proper routing of emergency and other traffic during the I-275 construction period.

The major contract for the expressway has been awarded to the Holloway Construction Co., and construction crews have established project headquarters in the City of Novi.

Construction will begin this winter in the Farmington Township-Novi area and continue for the next two years with completion target set for late 1974.

Nature Trails Open All Year

Take a "self-guided" nature hike along the trails this winter at the nature study area of Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica. See exhibits in the nature center or hike along the trails daily, except Mondays.

Red Cross Is Hospitals' Top Blood Source

The nation's 5,800 community hospitals transfused almost three million units of blood during a recent six-month period, with 20.8 per cent being supplied by the hospitals' own blood programs.

According to a survey conducted by the American Hospital Association, collections through American Red Cross centers continued to be the largest single source of blood for community hospitals, accounting for 40.5 per cent during the six-month period January 1 to June 30, 1971.

Other sources included community blood banks (20.5 per cent), commercial blood banks (13.6 per cent), other hospital banks (1.7 per cent) and other sources (2.9 per cent.)

Letter To The Editor

Enjoys Praise Of Interlochen

EDITOR:

Thanks for the plug for Interlochen in the "Bifocals" column. I read a Xerox of it attached to a bulletin board in one of the dormitories at Interlochen. I was very pleased to see it.

My family used to live in Plymouth, and as early as 1954, we kids were spending our summers at the National Music Camp. Soon we were joined by many others, to the point that Plymouth is indeed Interlochen Heights today.

The Stroller... Watch Those Whiskers!

The countdown has started and children throughout Christendom are anxiously awaiting that magic moment when the stout, old gent with the white whiskers slides down the chimney for his annual visit on the world-wide good will tour.

But while these countless thousands will be watching and waiting on Christmas Eve, The Stroller will be celebrating an anniversary of The Great Disillusionment and the moment when his childish faith was shaken.

For weeks he had been practicing his part for the Christmas Eve pageant in the little white church back home. He was to recite the time honored poem "Twas the Night Before Christmas", and he had recited it so often he could almost say it backwards.

Older members of the church had built a platform in front of the pulpit that was to serve as a stage for the production. On one end was a huge Christmas tree that he helped decorate "to help Santa with the long night's work."

Just off the center of the platform, other members of the adult groups had constructed a temporary fireplace and the chimney where Old Santa was to make his entrance as the climactic moment of the pageant.

ALL THE WHILE The Stroller sat there, awaiting his turn and confident that, he would not hesitate a second when his turn came.

Finally, it did.

When his name was called The Stroller proudly walked up the aisle, took his place on the center of the platform, and, fortunately, went through "Twas the Night Before Christmas" without a semblance of a hitch.

As he finished there was a faint sound of "Ho - Ho - Ho" coming down the chimney.

The big moment was here! Old Santa had found the chimney. In a moment or two the wide-eyed youngsters would see the little round man bearing gifts.

They no longer remained seated. The suspense was reaching its peak when, suddenly, there was a great thud - a sound like a big bag hitting the floor.

A scream went up in the old church when Santa came tumbling down and his big bulk could be seen in the opening of the fireplace.

He started to struggle in the hope that he could make his entrance. But, lo and behold, the lads who built the fireplace had forgotten to measure his girth.

The old gent couldn't get out - without help.

THEN, AS HE stuck his head through the opening, his long, white whiskers caught on a nail and hung there as his face came through the opening.

"That ain't Santa Claus," one of the kids shouted. "That's Dan Milson, our coal man."

Sure enough that's who it was - the man who delivered coal to those who had coal fires in those days.

That was the moment of the great disillusionment and no amount of excuses that "Santa needed help" would soothe our disappointment.

The childish faith was shattered and that night The Stroller didn't have to retire early. He joined the great army of Santa's helpers.

So Santa, when you come down the chimneys of the world Friday night - please, please watch your whiskers.

It's Holiday Tourney Time

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

There will be visions of sugarplums dancing in the air this week and nine Observerland schools have visions of capturing a Christmas Tourney basketball crown.

It's holiday tournament time and nine area schools will be competing in three tournaments; which include the Northwest Suburban Christmas Tourney, the Plymouth Holiday Basketball Tournament, and the Clarenceville Christmas Tourney.

The Northwest Suburban tournament is being co-hosted by Redford Union and Bentley, and involves eight schools: Farmington, Detroit Redford, Bentley, Walled Lake Western, North Farmington, Henry Ford, Redford Union and Walled Lake Central.

This is the 15th year for the Northwest tourney which began in 1957. Southfield, which dropped out of the tourney after winning it last year, has captured the crown five times. Bentley who last won the holiday clash in 1965, has won the tourney four times.

OTHER WINNERS in the tournament have been Melvindale (1960), Highland Park (1961), Grosse Pointe (1962), Ypsilanti (1967) and North Farmington (1969).

The tournament kicks off Monday night with the Farmington-Detroit Redford, and Bentley-Walled Lake Western games being played at Bentley. At Redford Union will be North Farmington against Henry Ford and Redford Union against Walled Lake Central.

Plymouth High is hosting its first holiday tournament pitting Churchill, Stevenson, Thurston and Plymouth against one another.

A junior varsity tournament is being held at Churchill involving the same four schools.

4 Area Hockey Stars To Face U.S. Olympians

Area hockey fans have a double treat in store Monday at Olympia Stadium when the United States Olympic team faces an all-star squad composed of nine players from the Detroit Junior Wings, nine from the Port Huron Wings of the International Hockey League and Marty Howe, oldest son of the retired Red Wing super star Gordie Howe.

Marty is making a special trip from Toronto for the contest. He is a member of the Toronto Marboros of the Ontario Hockey Association's Major A League. His brother Mark is also a member of the all-star squad.

When the referee drops the puck for the initial faceoff at 7:30 p.m., fans will have an opportunity to see four Observerland players perform against the Olympians, who are making a tour of the United States to raise funds for their appearances in the 1972 winter Olympic Games.

IN ADDITION to the Howe brothers, the all-stars will have Bill Fraser, a student at Thurston High who resides at 9332 Salem in Redford Township, and Jim Piech, who attends Livonia Franklin High and resides at 7400 Randy in Westland.

Bill and Jim are members of the torrid Junior A Wings which recently started the season with 17 victories against four defeats. The team has cooled off since but is still in the thick of the fight for the league crown.

Just to make the evening more interesting, the Detroit Hockey Club will have members of the Red Wing squad on hand for a camera night from 6 to 7 p.m. All attending are invited to participate, bring cameras and have pictures taken with the Wings.

LEADING THE U.S. Olympic team through its first 22 games is six-foot, one-inch, 185-pound center Henry Boucha. In 20 games, Henry has scored 20 goals and added 25 assists for 45 points.

Boucha is considered to be a fine all-around hockey player and probably the most outstanding American prospect to come along in recent years. A native of Warroad, Minnesota, Henry was selected by the Detroit Red Wings in last summer's National Hockey League amateur draft.

According to his coach, Murray Williamson, Henry is big, strong, extremely quick and possesses great stamina. He carries the puck with skill, shoots hard and moves well either way. Henry was a high school sensation in hockey and also an outstanding performer in football, baseball, track and tennis. "A young Jim Thorpe" is the way Murray Williamson put it. Boucha is a descendant of the Chippewa Indians.

Also wearing the Olympic uniform is Tim Sheehy, who is second in scoring behind Boucha with 17 goals and 24 assists for 41 points in 20 games; Tom Mellor with eight goals and 14 assists in 19 games; Wally Olds with two goals and five assists in 11 games and Bruce McIntosh with two goals and four assists in 13 games.

All four of these players are American born and property of the Detroit Red Wings, either through the NHL's amateur draft or acquired as a free agent.

IN THE POCKET

By W.W. EDGAR

It's official now - that big 3671 series fired by the Stroh team at Mercury Lanes several weeks ago has been approved by the American Bowling Congress and placed at the head of the list in nationwide scoring for the season. Along with the team series, the team single game count of 1285 also was approved. That, too, heads the national honor roll.

Topping the nation during the season is nothing new for Stroh's sharpshooters, but only once have the Brewers been at the top when the race finished.

This one national victory came in the 1966-67 season when they posted a 3586 count. Their 1291 was high team game that year, too, and so was their 1326 of last season.

For the record, here is how the Stroh bowlers piled up their big count:

Mike Totsky — 801
Mike Samardzija — 791
Harry Campbell — 736
Dale Seavey — 690
Bob Kwolek — 663

At the moment Stroh is leading the Michigan Open Classic with a 1021 average and is runner-up to Coca Cola in the All-Star Classic with a 1009 average - two points behind the leader.

BOWLERS AT Wonderland set the race for the area pin-stoppers during the week.

First, in the Classic Tuesday night, the Palace team, captained by Ron Sharples, fired a 3194 series and four members of the Classic broke the 700 barrier.

The pacemaker of this group was Al Girolamo with a 717 gained on games of 243, 216 and 258. Next in line was Fred Ringrose with counts of 226, 240 and 244 for 710. He was followed by Sharples who put together counts of 245, 196 and 288 for 709 and Jon Macomber completed the list with a 707. After a 185 start he added games of 263 and 269.

REDFORD BOWLING Sales landed the runner-up scoring spot for the week in the area with a 3168 series in the Westland Classic. This is a new high for the Classic and the big count included a 1147 game.

Jerry Holt led off with a 609 and was followed by Rick Kendall 663, Al Siebodinick 609, Hal Jolley 629 and Dick Lewis. Among their rivals Dan Emmet was high with a 214 and 266 in 667.

Among the women Shirley

Lundeen was high with a 586 in the Queens Circuit and Jan Himmelstach followed with a 245.

AT GARDEN Lanes where Dick Preston still tops the averages with a 217, Imer Santti missed the magic 700 by a single pin. His 699 was high for the night. Among the other high scores were Ron Brennan 668, Tom Gibbons 668, Al Vass 653, Paul Zajac 649 and Joe Morris 647.

JACK SCHUMAKER fired a history making 726 series at Bel-Aire Lanes during the week.

Bowling in the Clarenceville United Methodists league, he linked games of 224, 244 and 258 for 726. This is an all-time high for the league in the 18 years of its existence.

THE 700 CIRCLE was just out of reach for John Wodarski in the Bel-Aire Classic. He finished with a 696 to take the high scoring honors. Jim Ewbank had high single with 257. Al Cogan followed with a 255 and Jim Andries trailed the leaders with a 254.

SOME OF THE highest scoring of the season marked competition in Our Lady of Sorrows League at Bel-Aire. And it was a father and son combination that carried off the major honors.

Ed Dobrowski Sr. showed the way with a 646 and Ed Jr. came through with a 616. Bob Dondierol contributed a 625, while Tim Anlock had a 614, George House a 612 and Jack Brown a 611.

ONE OF THE most surprised bowlers in the area was Lois (Mrs. Bernie) Morrison, of Famous Men's Wear in Plymouth.

She bowled a 126 triplicate in the Thursday Mixed League and didn't realize what she had done until she added her score.

"I just couldn't believe it" was all she could say when informed that she was due for an award.

ANOTHER surprised girl was Patricia Butlers at Bel-Aire. She rolled a 500 - the highest of her career - and a high mark for the league.

TRIPPLICATES seemed to be the order of the day at Mayflower Lanes.

Loraine Wojciechowski put together three games of 135 and Nancy Hardella contented herself with three identical games of 127.

And Norma Keller celebrated her return to work at the Mayflower desk with her first 500 series - a 512 in the Ford Designers Mixed League.

ELLIE WILKIN walked away with top honors in the Livonia Ladies Classic when she posted a 573-64 - 657. Included in this count was a high single of 201-38 - 238. In the other games Gerry Wilson took the opener with a 235-31 - 256 and Theresa Derus won the second with 198-38 - 236.

Cagers Lose, 95-71 North Farmington Blitzed

North Farmington's young basketball squad suffered its second loss of the season in a 95-71 lashing at the hands of an experienced Walled Lake Central team.

"It's tough to beat a team that has two players scoring a total of 71 points against you," said North Farmington Coach Ken Dean.

Central's Steve Serra and

Randy McLean combined for a 71 point output. Serra, a 5-11 guard, totaled 37 points while his counterpart, 6-6 McLean, popped in 34 points.

The Raiders jumped to an early lead with Fred Creighton scoring the game's first basket and North enjoyed a first quarter 22-17 advantage.

CENTRAL went into a half-court press the second quarter and outscored the Raiders, 20-14, to take a 40-35 halftime lead.

"We were just making too many mistakes," said Dean. "Overall we committed 29 turnovers to their 13, and you can't win ball games with that sort of performance."

Walled Lake outscored North in the third quarter, 22-17, and 30-23 in the final stanza to win, 95-71.

Kim Parker paced the North scoring attack with 27 points followed by Creighton with 14.

Central out-rebounded North 42-24.

NORTH FARMINGTON shot 49 per cent from the floor, hitting on 27 of 55 shots, while Central made good 49 of 79 for a 51 per cent.

North opens the Northwest Suburban Christmas Tournament against Detroit Henry Ford at Redford Union on Monday at 7 p.m.

Spartans Crush Hawk Wrestlers

SPARTAN Steve Miller scored a fall at 5:40 in the 132

lb. class against Steve Brandon. Harrison's Steve Bernia scored six in the 136 lb. class to shut out Kevin Beavers.

In a free-scoring match, Steve Paternal of Harrison toppled Dave Stein 12-10 in the 145 lb. category.

Hawk Frank Arcangeli captured the 155 lb. class with a 12-5 win over Stevenson's Brian Partie.

Spartan Mark Warring scored a fall over Mark Bentivello in the 167 lb. class and Glenn Shaw totaled four to Harrison's two by Jeff Hoehner in the 185 lb. class.

HARRISON'S Barry Smeltzer recorded a fall against Rich Setzer in the heavy-weight class to round out the dual-meet card.

Stevenson hosts Milford Wednesday afternoon in dual meet competition.

rival Farmington and never fell behind en route to its first basketball win of the season, 67-59.

Harrison lost its first three games against North Farmington, Oak Park and Waterford, but outshot and out-rebounded the Falcons to capture victory number one.

Ed Frankel of Harrison scored the first basket and Farmington's Dan Lekovich came back with a Falcon score, however Harrison went up 8-5 midway through the first quarter.

A three-point play by Hawk Jeff Sietloff put Harrison up, 12-5, but Farmington's Lekovich came back with a three-point play of his own. Lekovich scored with five seconds remaining in the quarter to put Farmington down by one, but Jim Mason of Harrison concluded first quarter scoring on a toss from half court at the buzzer to put the Hawks up, 18-15.

Farmington came close to Harrison several times within one point, yet the Falcons couldn't put the ball in for a score and Harrison led at the half, 28-23.

SIELOFF and Mason opened the scoring for Harrison the second half, and the Hawks held a 38-33 lead midway through the third quarter.

Farmington started momentum late in the quarter but the Falcons couldn't put the ball in the hoop and Harrison led at the end of three quarters, 42-36.

Farmington got to within five points twice during the fourth quarter yet the Falcons just couldn't get it all together and Mason continued scoring for Harrison and with 1:58 remaining, Harrison led, 60-50, and was well on its way to a 67-59 win.

Mason paced the Hawk scoring with 21 points followed by Sietloff with 14 and Joe Doa with 11.

Lekovich hit for 22 points and Joe Montgomery for 16 to pace the Farmington five.

'Black Beauty' Avoids Pathos

By BETTY MASSON
Even though it has a G rating, I don't think you have to take a child along to enjoy "Black Beauty."

I remember weeping buckets over Anna Sewall's story of Black Beauty's life and hard times. Recently I tried re-reading it, but found the writing a little too florid.

BLACK BEAUTY
now showing at
Penn. Old Orchard 2
Rating: G

BEAUTY IS first owned by young Joe Evans (Mark Lester), who carries him, saddle breaks him and loves him, only to lose him when the old squire dies and the thoroughly rotten young squire takes over. Fortunately, he is soon polished off in a horse and carriage accident, and Beauty falls into the hands of a group of Irish tinkers.

In one of the strangest horse races I've ever seen, Beauty helps win the crown of king of the tribe for the Maldons.

Then one night, Beauty is stolen (again) and taken to Spain, where he joins a circus, headed by Walter Slezak. He is returned to England as a gift for a titled English girl, who gives him to her lover, a young English officer.

BEAUTY HELPS the officer prove he is not a coward as charged, although the officer loses his life in India, and Beauty ends up in an English coal yard.

From the coal yard and his cruel master, he is reclaimed and put out to pasture by Joe, now grown up and working as stableman for Miss Sewell.

Amazingly there is no great reconciliation scene... in fact, it's never made certain that Beauty and Joe recognize each other.

This is typical of the way in which the film avoids bathos. Instead it concentrates on the interesting array of characters Beauty meets on his travels. For the most part, what is not said is commendable, but it is sometimes confusing, especially if your attention happens to wander. Fortunately, this doesn't happen very often.

Oh, yes, the kids enjoyed it too, although they were a little surprised at the three or four swearwords in the film.

Without the pathos, director James Hill still gets the message across. If you're like us, you'll go home and give the faithful old dog another pat and biscuit.

Art Institute Is Featuring Durer Exhibit

DETROIT With the art world celebrating the 500th anniversary of the birth of Albrecht Durer, the Detroit Institute of Arts is exhibiting 101 superb impressions of his work.

They are on loan from the Cooper-Hewitt Museum of Decorative Art and Design, along with Durer graphics from the permanent collection and additional loans from the University of Michigan Museum.

Students, Professionals To Give Bach Festival

By CORRINE ABATT

A two-concert Bach festival will be presented at Duns Scotus College, Nine Mile and Evergreen, Southfield, at 3:30 and 8 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 26.

It is titled "Bach for a Buck" and is under the direction of Detroit Symphony musicians, Raymond Benner and Frank Preuss.

The $1 donations for tickets will be used for the benefit of the summer music school, Workshop in the Woods, which Benner and Preuss began at Duns Scotus last summer.

Tickets are available at the college.

THOSE WHO attended the first concert by the Village Chamber Players at Duns

Scotus a year ago will recall it as an unusual treat.

It was given on a starlit, snowy Dec. 26, and as lovely as the night was the music presented by the professional musicians who were joined by music students home from Curtis, Juilliard, Eastman and the University of Michigan.

"Bach for a Buck" will have professional musicians and students again, along with some added features.

Detroit's newest adult chorus, John Dovaras' Village Singers will perform "Swingle" arrangements in the evening concert which will include soloists Jan Albright, soprano, Bro. Grabriel Bassalone, OFM, bass, and Jack Kripl, clarino.

Classical guitarist, Bob Reberger, will be heard in a suite.

For the Preusses, Benners and Mr. and Mrs. Shaul Ben Meir, the concerts have become family endeavors.

Cecelia Benner is organizing the publicity and promotion for the current endeavor. Britt Preuss, a violinist member of the chamber players, is assisting with ticket sales. Genia Ben Meir, flutist, along with her husband, and harsichordist Judy Edberg will perform a concerto for two flutes and orchestra.

Schoolcraft Composer's Work To Be Featured

A new work by Robert W. Jones will be heard when the American Guild of Organists holds its national midwinter convocation Dec. 26 to 29 in Detroit.

Jones is composer-in-residence at Schoolcraft College.

His new composition is a dramatic choral work entitled "Revelation." It is based on the Biblical book of Revelations and other Apocryphal writings.

Commissioned for the convocation by Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, it will be performed there at 8:30 p.m., Dec. 27, by children and adult choirs of the church.

"Revelation" makes use of singing and speaking choirs, a baritone narrator, brass and percussion, two organs and electronic tape.

THE CONCLAVE will offer the public a number of unusual concerts. In addition to half a dozen top organists, the Oakland Baroque Ensemble, the Cass Tech Madrigal Singers, and Martin Bell, priest, guitarist and composer, will be heard.

With headquarters in the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, the convocation is expected to draw 300 musicians from all over the nation.

Joan Haggard, 36481 Elmira, Livonia, is assisting with arrangements for the meeting.

The opening concert will be played by Thomas M. Kuras, Sunday, Dec. 26, at 4 p.m., in the Cathedral Church of St. Paul. Kuras is organist at Blessed Sacrament Cathedral.

Following his recital, even-song will be sung by the St. Paul's men and boys choir.

The Oakland Baroque Ensemble will present a concert in St. Mary's Church, Gresham, at 8 p.m., Dec. 26.

Joan Lippincott, international recitalist, will play an organ concert in Old Mariners Church at 11 a.m., Dec. 27, and a 4 p.m. that day.

Ray Ferguson, organ professor at Wayne State University, will give a recital in Wayne's Community Arts Auditorium.

Robert Clark and Robert Glasgow, both of the University of Michigan; and a harpsichord recital by Mary Lou Robinson of Central Michigan University.

The Cass Tech Choir and Madrigal Singers will be heard at 11 a.m., Dec. 29, in St. Anne's Church. At 2 p.m., David Bowman will play a concert at Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian.

Bell will be presented at 4 p.m., Dec. 29, in the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak.

Out of the dozen concerts open to the public, this is the only one with an admission charge. It is $1.

The convocation ends Dec. 29 with a birthday banquet, celebrating the guild's 75 years. Karl Haas will be the speaker.

ROBERT W. JONES

Amusements Village Cast Plans 'Hansel And Gretel'

DEARBORN The Greenfield Village Players will present a lively production of "Hansel and Gretel" in the Henry Ford Museum Theater from Dec. 22 through Jan. 2.

Adapted from the original German script, the players' version retains many of the songs, dances and background music from the original Humperdinck score.

THE PRODUCTION is designed for the whole family. Everyone will recognize the familiar characters, including the two children, shown as being both charming and mischievous; their parents; and of course, the wicked witch, who is named Rosina Daintymouth in this version.

In addition, the cast includes many others who may be less well known, a regal duchess who is in love with a lowly huntsman, her spoiled brat of a son appropriately named Rottenkins, and a host of gingerbread children, who come to life when Hansel and Gretel kill the witch and break her spell.

PERFORMANCES will be at 2:30 p.m. each day except Dec. 24, and 25 and Jan. 1. There will be performances at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 26 through 31. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children and will be on sale at the door.

DICK BENSEK

Soup and supper -- a connection? According to the eighteenth century Dictionnaire de Trevoux, the word "soupe" is French, but, as the dictionary puts it, "extremely bourgeois; it is well to serve potage; and not soupe". This, however, is a mere social subtlety. The important thing is that by "soupe" Frenchmen mean clear broths into which minced herbs, diced meat or vegetables, toast, and other garnishes are added. In peasant households, the hearty "soupe" may supply the main dish of soup, or supper. This word is also found in Italy, where all broths, clear or thickened, which do not contain a starch such as pasta, rice, or potatoes are called zuppe.

Main dishes of Roast Prime Rib of Beef, Dover Sole, Viking Sword and House Specialty, Frikadeller are the four most popular entrees served at DANISH INN 32205 Grand River Ave. 476-5320. Our lunch menu features three specials daily and we have a special children's menu.

Livonians Set Concert

The Livonia Civic Chorus is being featured in a Christmas program at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, at 1:15 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 19.

The chorus is under the direction of Robert Slusarski, and its president is Walt Meyer.

Lee Baltzer, tenor, Phil Meyer, baritone, Walt Meyer, bass, and June Campbell, alto, will be featured in "Twas the Night Before Christmas."

Meyer and John Gilchrist, tenor, will sing "The Shepherd's Story" and Lois Baltzer, soprano, will sing "O Holy Night."

Open Sundays

The Detroit Institute of Arts will be open both holiday Sundays, Dec. 26 and Jan. 2. Museum hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

HELPFUL HINT: Try making a small roast pork and a small roast beef together -- the meats pick up each other's flavors, delicious!
