Optimism Reigns

Mayor James B. McKeon looks back upon 1971 and ahead into the municipality's prospects for 1972, and likes what he sees in both directions. In fact, optimism is the very keynote of his annual message to the citizens of Plymouth, which also promises a "hold the line" approach to the tax rate.

'Sound' System

Year-end reports from the school system and the Plymouth Area Planning Commission echo the same sound optimism found in the statement by Mayor McKeon. Interestingly, both of these messages were penned by the community's most beleaguered man of the moment, James H. Rossman.

Youth Winners

Mark McKelvey, Tom Stoecker, Debbie Slider and Martin Korte were the Plymouth area's most successful recent election candidates, the balloting being done in the 23rd YMCA Youth Legislature when it convened at Lansing.

'Must Work Together,' Says Head Of Chamber

President, Chamber of Commerce

The Mail & Observer asked that I write this article in behalf of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce. I was recently tagged as the chamber president for 1972.

However, I am writing not so much as the Chamber president, but rather as a newcomer to the Plymouth area, with a reflection or two about Plymouth and what should be done in the future.

To begin, when I say "Plymouth," I don't mean the City of Plymouth. I mean the larger community which geographically fits into the Plymouth Community School District. This includes a much larger area which is about the same jurisdiction served by the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

I CAME TO Plymouth nine years ago and have found it a fine place to live. Nearly everyone would agree with this evaluation.

Plymouth is fortunate. Somehow it has maintained a separate and distinct identity. This has been done notwithstanding the fact that Plymouth is now a part of the greater Detroit metropolitan area. I don't know when Plymouth became a part of this miniature megalopolis. Perhaps the process is still continuing.

This town and area used to be like so many mid-western small towns; that is, a small agrarian community with the town being a service center for the larger area. This obviously is no longer the situation. Plymouth has been drawn into a larger entity. Unfortunately that larger entity demands conformity.

Nearly all the large metropolitan areas around the country look alike. They have the same over abundance of quick-food service places and gas stations, congestion, and an obvious lack of long-range planning. This homogenizing process by eroding the identity of where a person lives tends to destroy an individual's separate identity.

SO FAR, Plymouth has in part resisted this trend. It still has a separate identity. There are many characteristics and features of Plymouth which could be cited to document this fact. I doubt that I could provide a total list.

However, it consists in part of the fact that Plymouth still has a central business district. This seems to be a unique phenomenon in western Wayne County.

It could consist of the fact that Plymouth High School has one of the finest high school bands in the nation. Most certainly it does consist of the fact that there are large number of people in our community who are civic minded and willing to give freely of their time to community projects—I am sure that this community has more meetings than any place on earth.

It could consist of the fact that the various municipal governments of Plymouth have been fortunate enough to attract and retain some temperate-minded public servants, both elected and appointed.

Certainly that list would contain the fact that there are many older residents of the Plymouth area who view Plymouth as home and would not move if they had the opportunity. Of course, there are other factors which are part of the list.

However, that separate identity is in jeopardy. Plymouth has won several of the battles in its effort to maintain itself, but it hasn't won the war. I might add that I don't view these efforts by Plymouth to keep a separate character as being ignominious. The objective is desirable.

The fact that so many people wish to move here is evidence of the wisdom of this effort. And, if nothing else is true, it is obvious that having a separate identity makes the whole Plymouth area much more marketable.

IF PLYMOUTH is to continue to exist with a personality and identity separate from the larger metropolitan community, it must be increasingly conscious of its advantages and it must organize itself to preserve those advantages.

Plymouth needs more and better cooperation between the many and diverse elements in the community. The various municipal governments need to work together.

There is constant chatter of joint efforts, but pitifully little evidence of it. The public has a right to expect the various municipal governments to be magnanimous in their relationship with each other. If there cannot be unification, then this is minimal.

Police Appeal For Death Witness

By EDWARD WENDOVER

Plymouth and State Police are investigating the death of 15-year-old Craig Schultz who was found lying in the intersection of Blunk and Blanche streets Thursday night.

Exactly how the youth received his fatal head injuries, or how he came to be lying in the intersection with his bicycle on top of him, has not yet been determined by Plymouth police who are being aided in their investigation by the State Police crime laboratory.

Police Chief Timothy Ford said, "Thus far we're proceeding along the investigation of a hit-and-run accident but we can't place a car there — we simply don't know."

Ford told The Mail and Observer that police believed someone witnessed the mishap although no one has reported to them.

"SOMEBODY SAW it happen and we hope they'll come forward. We're appealing to the better side of whoever witnessed this to come to us and tell us what happened," Ford said.

The Central Junior High student was found lying in the southwest corner of the intersection by a woman who was driving by about 10 p.m., police reports indicate. She stopped and ran up to a nearby house to call police.

The resident of the house ran outside with a blanket to help the boy, police said. He told police he found the boy lying in the street with his bicycle on top of him. The man told police he moved the bike off the boy's legs and covered him with the blanket.

According to police, the boy was taken to St. Mary Hospital by fire department ambulance and was pronounced dead on arrival there.

ALTHOUGH THE death certificate classified the death as "bicyclist struck by an auto," Ford said they have not been able to determine that.

"Our investigation thus far has revealed that there was no point of impact," Ford said. "In a hit-and-run accident there is always some type of physical evidence — even if it's only dirt dropping off the bottom of a fender — there's always something."

"We've found nothing," the chief said.

According to Lt. Roger Vanderveen, who is investigating the boy's death, State Police crime experts are examining the bike and the boy's clothing for traces of any foreign material such as car paint. There was a slight dent on the front fender of the bike but it was not known if this was caused by an impact (with a car) or by the bike falling, Vanderveen said.

One theory, Ford said, was that the front wheel of the bike had simply frozen up, pitching the youth into the street on his head.

Ford said the investigation would continue and urged anyone having information about the mishap to call police.

SURVIVING the youth, who was an avid Little League baseball player, hunter and fisherman, are: his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Schultz of 653 Leicester; a sister, Caryn; a brother, Curt; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. Schultz and Mrs. Irma Bower. Leo and Robert Schultz are president and vice president respectively of Vico Products Co., 41555 Ann Arbor Rd.

The boy had lived in Plymouth with his parents all his life and was a member of St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Services were held in the Schrader Funeral Home Monday with the Rev. Leonard J. Koeninger officiating. Several of the boy's schoolmates served as pallbearers and burial was in Riverside Cemetery.

Will Rossman Charges Be Public?

By FRED DELANO

A new area of apparent difference between the Plymouth Board of Education and James H. Rossman came to the surface this week as the deposed superintendent awaited the written list of his alleged infractions of board policy.

Mrs. Esther Hulsing, board president, indicated that this elected body of seven has no intention of making its specific charges against Rossman known to the public unless they become available to all in court.

To the contrary, Rossman inferred that he wants the general citizenry to know the specific allegations — as well as his studied answers to them — when he declared:

"I've always operated as though in a fish bowl, and I see no reason to change now."

When the board adopted a resolution Dec. 13 firing Rossman, that resolution said the cause of his discharge was that he had consistently failed to abide by all the policies as adopted by this board." In a letter signed by Mrs. Hulsing and hand delivered to Rossman Dec. 18 it was stated:

"We will present to you, with specificity, the actual occasions and instances in which you have violated board policy, in writing, and these will be delivered to you at your home no later than Wednesday, Dec. 22."

IT THEN was agreed between the board and Rossman that because he already had planned to be out of town Dec. 23 and 24, and because of the activities of Christmas weekend, delivery of the written charges could be postponed until Monday, Dec. 27.

However, on Sunday, Mrs. Hulsing conferred with Attorney Edward Draugelis, who has been retained specifically to represent the board in this case, and they decided that all board members should get to see the document prepared by Draugelis before it would be delivered to the ex-superintendent, whose contract was supposed to run until June 30, 1973.

Because of holiday absences from the city, this means Rossman probably won't know the specific allegations until later in the week, and while this delay did not bother him, it did prompt this comment:

"I'd have thought the whole board would have wanted to look at them (the detailed charges) before taking formal action in the first place."

The board hopes to use the written charges as a springboard that will lead to a negotiated out-of-court settlement on the balance of Rossman's $28,000 annual contract.

Rossman, in turn, has spoken frequently of turning to the courts to protect his "rights."

Are Drug Programs Working?

Questions should be sent to the Community Commission on Drug Abuse, P.O. Box 148, Livonia, 48151.

This week's column is a continuation of answers to an earlier question. The question was whether various drug programs were effective in stemming the abuse of drugs.

To solve a problem you first have to identify it — both as to its nature and extent.

Several years ago, it became apparent that there was a drug problem in most suburban communities. But no one was able to give any sort of statistical information. Today there are many unanswered questions, but some facts and trends are being discovered.

ONE OF THE ways in which such facts are established is through the "analysis anonymous" program sponsored by the Livonia Westland Community Commission on Drug Abuse. Through this program, people can submit samples of suspected drugs to certain neighborhood pharmacies for analysis without contacting the police or without revealing their own identity.

In the past year several hundred samples have been submitted for analysis and the Commission has compiled data on the results. Some revealing statistics have resulted:

- 1) Half of the samples were tested out positive.
- 2) The largest percentages were amphetamines ("pep pills"). Just slightly under one-third of all positives were amphetamines.
- 3) Barbiturates (sleeping pills) accounted for almost one out of five positives.
- 4) Marijuana was less than one - third of the positives.
- 5) LSD was found very little, accounting for between seven and eight per cent of the positive tests.
- 6) Heroin showed up in small percentage (less than three percent).

WHAT CONCLUSIONS may be drawn from these statistics?

Pep pills and sleeping pills account together for more than half of the drugs of abuse in these figures. These drugs, along with alcohol, would then seem to constitute the greatest problems in these communities for both young people and adults.

LSD seems to have fallen out of disfavor, possibly because of some very unfavorable reports as to its dangers.

There is heroin present in these communities. Even the small percentage reported is cause for concern.

One of the highly visible trends is the great increase of barbiturates over the past year. In the month of November 1971, barbiturates accounted for 80 per cent of the positive tests. It should be born in mind that these drugs are both lethal and may become truly addicting.

The user himself is a hazard, and presents a serious problem to the community. His actions while under the influence of barbiturates are similar to those of a drunk: belligerence, lack of judgement, loss of coordination and greatly slowed reflexes are common effects. Behind the wheel of a car he would be as dangerous or more dangerous than one intoxicated with alcohol.

SO WE SEE that patterns seem to be developing that show relatively little presence of the exotic drugs such as LSD, mescaline etc., but a great presence of more commonplace drugs — but drugs which present very serious problems to the user and to the community.

year, a special feature of the show will be the presentation of six acts selected in a "ty-wide talent contest. All acts in the schools will be under the direction of Bandmaster James Griffith.

The 11-member marching band, the 80-member symphony band, the 55-member concert band and the 18-member stage band, all under Griffith's baton, each will be featured in a particular phase of the program.

In addition, there will be a guest trumpet soloist, Dr. Carlyle Hume, who currently is teaching music at West Middle School. A former member of the San Diego Symphony, his professional experience includes performances under the direction of such noted conductors as Arthur Fiedler, Andre Kostelanetz and Carlos Chavez.

Band members have decided to dedicate the show to the memory of the late Dr. Frederick B. Steiner and a portion of the proceeds will go into a scholarship fund named in his honor. The fund will be used to help send students to the PHS band camp.

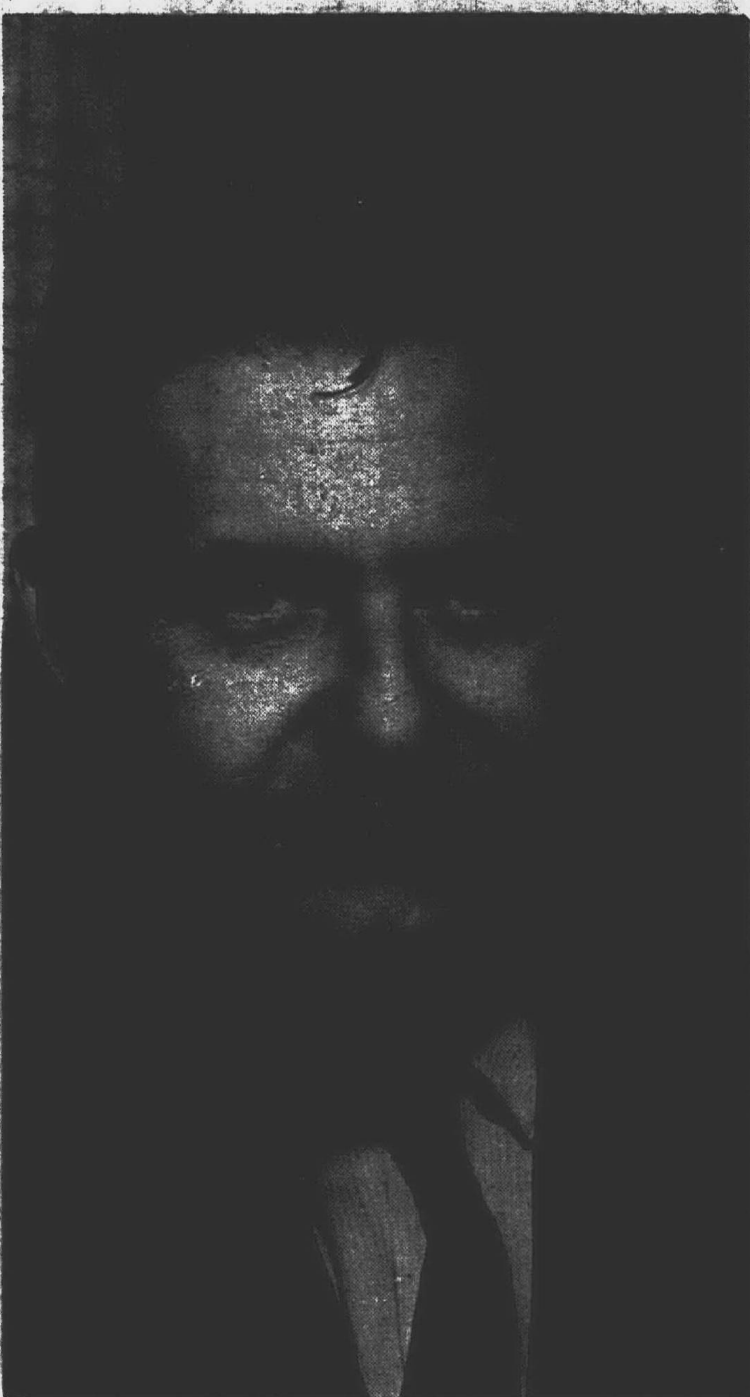

All tickets for the Jan. 15 program are priced at $2.

MAYOR JAMES B. MC KEON

Looks To '72 With Optimism

By MAYOR JAMES B. MCKEON

For many years, all areas of leadership in Plymouth have worked to build a unique city. Consequently, significant accomplishments in 1971 were the results of the efforts of prior years.

Numbered among these accomplishments were: Formation of a recreation program, a contract for the new cultural center, an accelerated street program, drainage improvements, a more reliable source of water, realistic law enforcement, and innovative youth programs.

The year 1972 will see the erection of the new cultural center and the Historical Society Museum, both of which will add to Plymouth's being the center of community activity.

All of these accomplishments have or will improve our life style in Plymouth. Most of them, however, have been possible only as the result of added taxes, and to some these added taxes have been a heavy burden.

OTHER ACTION taken by the city in 1971 should ultimately lessen the tax load for some. One was the formation of a non-profit corporation to provide economical housing for the retired. Another was the initiation of plans for commercial development to broaden the city's tax base and to make available more convenient shopping.

This city commission, by employing a commercial consultant and an architect-planner, has greatly increased the possibility of extensive commercial development taking place in Plymouth during the coming years.

In the almost seven years that I have been on the city commission, I have never been as optimistic as I am now of the prospects of downtown development. This is a challenge we must meet in 1972.

ANOTHER CHALLENGE we must meet is to provide more innovative city management. In my opinion, this city is better staffed and equipped than most cities of this size. During the coming year, we should see more efficient day-to-day operation resulting in a significant budget surplus.

The residents of Plymouth have the right to expect that we will hold the line on the tax rate in setting the new budget.

The many years of planning and hard work will make 1972 a banner year in Plymouth.

Traffic Signs To Be Altered

Plymouth's City Commission has authorized Police Chief Timothy Ford to make a wording change in traffic signs at six Sheldon Rd. intersections for the convenience of residents in the area.

Included are "no left turn" signs at Goldsmith, Junction and Farmer, a "no right turn" marker at Nantucket and all-inclusive "no turns" signs at Blanche and Lexington. In each instance the effective hours are from 3 to 6 p.m., and as currently worded they indicate enforcement can be expected seven days a week.

9 Paving Jobs On County List

PLYMOUTH Nine major road resurfacing projects, costing an estimated $1.3 million, have been scheduled by the Wayne County Road Commission for completion in the Plymouth area by the fall of 1973.

They are part of a $12.7 countywide program which will begin next summer, it has been announced by the road commission chairman, Michael Berry, who is now a Plymouth Township resident. Berry said it will be the largest single resurfacing program ever undertaken by the board. It will be financed through the sale of gas and weight tax anticipatory revenue bonds.

Berry added that the use of revenue bonding will permit the board to do work in two construction seasons that would ordinarily take several years.

The two projects of greatest interest in the immediate Plymouth community involve Ann Arbor Trail and Lilley Rd.

ANN ARBOR TRAIL will be resurfaced for a distance of 1.46 miles from General Drive to boundary line between Plymouth Township and Livonia. The cost is pegged at $135,000.

The Lilley Rd. project will be for 1.22 miles from Plymouth Rd. to Ann Arbor Rd. (a strip also known as Mill Street), separating the city and the township. Estimated cost of this resurfacing is $143,000.

These are the other projects on the list for this vicinity:

Cherry Hill: (1) Haggerty Rd. to Canton Center Rd., $224,000; (2) west line of Westland to Lotz Rd., $60,000;

(3) Beck Rd. to Ridge Rd., $159,000.
Joy Rd.: (1) Holly Dr. to the west Westland line, $27,000; (2) Main St. to Lilley Rd., $54,000.

Five Mile Rd.: (1) Sheldon Rd. to C&O tracks, $319,000; (2) Northville Rd. to Haggerty Rd., $186,000.

County '71 Report: Reform Coming, But Resistance Stiff

An "outstanding" record was compiled by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners during 1971, Board Chairman Robert E. FitzPatrick told the members in a year-end progress report.

FitzPatrick detailed the accomplishments of the board at its final meeting of the year Dec. 20. It was also the last meeting of his one-year term as chairman. Board members will elect next year's chairman Jan. 4. FitzPatrick said he will be a candidate.

At least a dozen major steps to improve the county government, plus economy measures which could save $5.2 million this fiscal year, were listed in his report.

"This has not been an easy year," FitzPatrick declared. "Judicial and legislative decisions beyond our control have worsened the precarious financial condition of Wayne County by mandating expenditure of additional large sums."

OTHER PROBLEMS he cited were the deaths of Commissioners Joseph Cardinal and Frederick Yates and criticism which, he said, sometimes appeared to stem from "misunderstanding and thinly-veiled attempts to preserve established fiefdoms in county government."

"I have often used the expression that everybody wants progress, but no one wants change," he stated. "Never was this more true than in county government."

The board "has been both responsive and responsible in representing the people of Wayne County," FitzPatrick declared.

FitzPatrick listed the following major steps to improve the structure and function of county government, and to "provide central control where it has been lacking until now."

• "By taking direct control of the filling of all job vacancies and of all overtime work, we have increased productivity and realized a savings projected at an annual rate of $5.2 million."

• Creation of the function of

fiscal adviser under the board to overcome the lack of checks and balances in the county fiscal structure and to maintain continuous review of all spending.

• Withholding of 10 per cent of all departmental appropriations "to give the board the time, the flexibility and the controls needed to conduct an effective fiscal review of all operations."

are under way to improve the functioning of the medical examiner's office, the civil service commission, and the labor relations board. In addition, the possible merger of the Detroit and Wayne County health departments is being evaluated.

The county chairman also listed measures taken to improve conditions at the county jail, which he described as "perhaps the most difficult problem to confront Wayne County in recent history."

He said the elected board "inherited" the jail problem upon first taking office three years ago. He said complete renovation of the plumbing, ventilation and lighting at the jail, at a cost nearly $2 million, is under way after being stalled by the overcrowding at the jail.

He noted that the jail population has been reduced from about 1,400 to 875 since the elected board took office, "through a number of programs which this board helped to bring about."

Other jail improvements started or planned include:

A reception and medical diagnostic center, to be constructed with the help of a $750,000 federal grant; a Jan. 1, 1973 target date for a start on the building of additional jail capacity; a federally-funded study of the entire Wayne County criminal justice system to identify the type of jail needed; and creation of a citizens committee in conjunction with New Detroit, to help develop solutions to the jail problems, with the aid of a $50,000 New Detroit grant.

"IN RELATED fields," FitzPatrick stated, "our planning of a new rehabilitation facility for juvenile delinquents is well under way, with the help of a $300,000 federal grant."

FitzPatrick commended the board for having "the courage to make one of the hardest—and I believe one of the greatest—decisions in the history of Wayne County when we approved the riverfront stadium project in September."

Dearborn Man Dies In Crash

PLYMOUTH
A 44-year-old Dearborn man died last week when his car apparently went out of control near Sheldon Rd. and Arlington in Plymouth Township and hit a ditch.

Joseph Gavorek Jr., of 24841 Cherry Hill, Dearborn, was pronounced dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital at 6:25 p.m. Dec. 22.

According to Wayne County Sheriff reports, Gavorek was thrown out of his car after it left the road, hit a ditch, and rolled over.

WINDY by DON KEETH

Ever wonder why the wind blows and the breezes breeze?

Scientists might have many reasons. Personally, I think one of the reasons is that man was not designed to live in stagnant air.

Or it could be vice versa — the breezes came first and good old Mother Nature designed man to fit in.

Well, the fact remains that we are all equipped with snorkels called noses through which we take in air. As long as we breathe air, live in air, sleep in air, play in air and work in air, why not do all this in air that is as pleasant as possible?

Where you live or work or worship, indoor air should constantly be changed and freshened. It should circulate gently to eliminate stratification and staleness. It should be clean and at the right temperature.

No great revelation, this. Just common sense. So why talk about it? Because, my friend, the basic facts about the air we live in are often overlooked even in the so-called "modern" heating systems of today. Some have no provision for air circulation!

As long as I am paying out good money for this newspaper space, let me hasten to add that my basic stock in trade is air... the handling, conditioning and moving of air. We do this in the manner that we believe sincerely to be the best known. Ditto for the equipment we use to do it... Lennox.

If your present or future plans call for heating or air conditioning, call me. I'll give you the air... the kind you need.

THROUGH BIFOCALS
By FRED DeLANO / Editor Mail & Observer

A WEEK AGO, when Christmas greetings were extended in this space in several languages to a number of local folk and assorted others, wouldn't you know it, when we got to the bottom of the page a lot of names were left on the cutting room floor. Well, just as the postman always rings twice, so does Bifocals.

One of my best and most cynical friends says this whole approach is just a way of beating the postal rates and greeting card racket in general, which of course misrepresents my basic charitable nature and good-will toward mankind. Womankind, too, for that matter.

Now we're into another holiday week, and while it lacks the religious significance of Christmas it is one which represents a welcome milestone. The agonies of 1971--and there have been many--are almost ended. Though they cannot be forgotten, every contest -- and that's what life has become -- welcomes a turning point for the better.

As one wishful thinker and eternal optimist to another, may that prove just what the stroke of midnight Friday will prove to be in your house, our house, and throughout the world.

HAPPY NEW YEAR (and here we pick up the thread of endless names from a week ago), and hoping that 1972 may be the happiest and the most bountiful year yet for:

Margaret Dunning, Frank Arlen, Dorothy Knecht, Oscar Puckett, Tom Kelly, Jane Stacy, Jeanne Mettetal, Judy Gunther, Peggy Tungate, Marilyn Dwyer, Dick Wernette, Jim Dyer and John Ort.

Capt. Warren Yoder, Win Schrader, Jeanne Gaffney, Betty Lowe, Pauline Rossman, Marge Baker, Sue Harper, Verne Olds, Herb Woolweaver, Larry Masteller, Betsy Delaney, Ruth Burr, Dave Smith and Bud Weber.

Agnes Rollins, Carol Wickard, Alan Faber, Dave Aldredge, Marvin Terry, Warren Bradburn, Herman Bakhaus, Bill Ross, Sol Ross, Dale Carlson, Duane Wakefield, Carl Lampton, Millie Blackford, Frank Henderson, Edith White, Bob Bake, Kurt Thrun, Hal Young, Dain Pearson, Penelope Wright, John McGonagle, Carvel Bentley, Johnny Crosby, Bob Shier and all the membership of that most imaginative of all Plymouth organizations, the Tonquish Creek Yacht Club.

Adult Ed Classes Open

The Plymouth school system's continuing education and recreation department will be accepting registrations from now until Jan. 17 for its winter semester. Classes in three areas will be offered.

High school credit classes will range from American history, art and auto mechanics to basic communications, mechanical drafting, psychology and typing.

Enrichment courses will include such diversified activities as interior decorating, bridge, and upholstery.

Recreational activities will cover all weekend ski trips and evening skiing in addition to basketball for both girls and boys, swimming, ballet, badminton and gymnastics.

The continuing education office is located in Central Junior High School.

Plymouth Brevities

YOUTH INC., which operates the teen center in the former Mail & Observer Building in downtown Plymouth, will send at least 100 of its members into the community Thursday to conduct what's being called an "information canvass."

Their purpose will be to give out letters to householders as to the goals and activities of the center, and to answer any question residents may have. They will try to cover all dwellings in the city and township in a single day.

FALL FESTIVAL directors will hold their annual meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 5 in the commission chambers of City Hall, and a full financial summary of the 1971 operation is due to be presented at that time. All organizations participating last fall are asked to send representatives, and the general public also is welcome.

The meeting will mark the elevation to the Fall Festival presidency of John M. (Mike) Hoben. The new vice president is Dale Carmine, Daisy Proctor will continue as secretary and retiring president Joe West now becomes treasurer.

SANTA CLAUS established a new popularity record -- if such a thing is possible -- during his stay in Plymouth from Thanksgiving weekend until Christmas Eve.

During that period the old gent with the whiskers had 6,321 visitors at his abode in Kellogg Park, which topped last year's total by almost 1,000.

CHRISTMAS TREES soon will be ready for discard, and city residents have been given an easy answer on what to do with them by DFW Director Ken Vogras.

His instructions are simply to put the trees at the curb on regular refuse collection days and they will be picked up and put through the truck choppers along with the rest of the trash. There will be no big burning of trees this year, what with the feeling about pollution and all.

LADIES OF VFW Auxiliary 6895, which is an adjunct of the Mayflower Post here, are proud of their contribution to the "Toys For Tots" campaign conducted by the Marine Corps.

With the help of Brownie Troop 248, the auxiliary repaired and made new dresses for 30 old dolls and also provided an assortment of toys and games for the Marines' Christmas distribution.

RUMMAGE ITEMS for the Youth Symphony Association's sale Jan. 15 and 16 will be accepted between 1 and 5 p.m. through Thursday at the office of Dr. Joe Jender, 211 N. Sheldon.

Contributions of clothing, books, furniture, sports equipment and other odds and ends are being solicited, and all will be marked Saturday and Sunday afternoons, Jan. 8 and 9, when deliveries also can be made.

BIDS ON THE $1.5 million in revenue bonds being sold by Plymouth's Municipal Building Authority to finance the cultural and recreational center will be opened at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 4 in City Hall.

Meanwhile, the general contractor already has started preparation of the site at Farmer and Theodore. When finished, the building will provide multi-purpose recreational facilities and the community's first enclosed ice rink.

THE 1971 state equalized valuation of the city's major taxpayers lists these as the 10 leaders, in this order:

Western Electric, Bathey Manufacturing, Dunn Steel, Packaging Corp. of America, Anchor Coupling, Detroit Edison, RCA, Stahl Manufacturing, Consumers Power and Parker Hannafin. Western Electric's SEV is $6.4 million, with runner-up Bathey far behind at $1.8 million.

ALL CLASSROOMS in Plymouth area schools will reopen next Monday, Jan. 5, and on the PHS sports calendar three contests top the action for the first week of the new year. All three will be away from home.

On Thursday, Jan. 6, the Rock swimmers will invade Milan, while the wrestlers travel to Dearborn. In basketball, it will be Plymouth at Livonia Bentley on Friday night, Jan. 7.

HIGH WINDS which have hit Plymouth twice this month have resulted in a warning to householders from DFW Director Kenneth Vogras about dangerous trees.

Beginning early in January, the city's tree contractor will remove any dead wood hanging over streets and sidewalks, said Vogras.

The Stroller...

There's Excitement Ahead

In a few more hours Guy Lombardo, who has been Father Time's stand-in for, lo, these many years, will lift his baton and the Royal Canadians, who play the "sweetest music this side of heaven," will fill the air with the strains of Auld Lang Syne.

It will be the magic moment that marks the passing of another year—the moment when thousands gather in churches and, clasping hands in friendship, join in the singing the old refrain.

Other thousands will gather in the posh night clubs and dance the old year out and the new year in.

It is a hilarious moment when the hands on the clock get together at midnight to mark the passing of another twelvemonth.

When the strains of the old Scottish number fade into the night air, and the music dies down and folks look ahead, there is only one question in their minds—"What kind of a year will it be?"

THE YEAR that has just slipped away had its big moments and, at other times, fell to the depths. So, there is reason to ask, "What will the new year bring?"

Well, one never knows what is in the offing, but there are some signs that the new year will be most exciting—and, in many ways, our lives could be changed.

For example, can you imagine living without money?

Our forefathers did it. They traded goods with the Indians, went hunting for food, and hewed the logs to build their homes. And they got along rather well.

At least they made one of the greatest deals of all time when they purchased the island of Manhattan (New York) for a string of beads which history has valued at a mere $24. It has been said, facetiously, that the Indians in New York night clubs now are selling manhattans for $24 just to get even.

THE PUBLIC prints carried a story a few days ago that a small town in Ohio is experimenting with a system that eliminates money.

The merchants in town have joined hands with the town's only bank and, by use of a computer, no money is needed.

The housewife simply goes to the check-out counter at the supermarket and shows her credit card, which has been treated with some sort of magnetism. This card is placed in the register, contact is made with the bank, the sale is completed in the computer, and the lady goes home.

No cash money needed. No chance of robbery. No fear of hold-ups in the store...and all is serene.

The computer, with the background of the purchaser in its mechanical innards, refuses to take bad accounts. Imagine that!

Now it is planned to have the employer simply contact the bank and have your salary or wages credited to your account. So, money is eliminated there, too. No more bookkeeping departments and one check a month pays all your bills.

Sounds fantastic—but don't forget they laughed at Robert Fulton with his first steamboat and at the man who made the first umbrella.

EVEN OUR home entertainment is due for a change and the television set of the future (maybe this new year) will hang on the wall like a picture and be only about an inch or an inch and a half thick.

And sooner than you may believe, you'll be able to pick up the receiver on your telephone and then see the person with whom you are speaking.

Just the other day, The Stroller saw this phone demonstrated at the Michigan Bell Building on Ann Arbor Road. It is not quite ready for general use yet, because, like the early days of television, the picture can't be sent further than the horizon—about 75 miles.

But, somehow, that problem will be solved, and we'll be living in what can almost amount to a new world.

So, come on Mr. Lombardo. Raise that baton. We're looking forward to the new year with great anticipation.

Let's all join hands and bid farewell to 1971. Auld Lang Syne.

Navy Hospitalman Kenneth F. Bjornbak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Q. Bjornbak of 46877 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, has graduated from the Naval Aerospace Medical Institute, Pensacola, Fla.

He is now qualified to serve as an aerospace medicine technician for flight surgeons in aviation units, aiding in maintaining the health of flight crews. He attended Plymouth High School.

Services for a 1965 Plymouth High School graduate who died last week when his car was struck by a train were held Monday in Plymouth.

Donald G. Stamper of 103 Maple Drive, Belleville, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor last Wednesday.

According to Wayne County Sheriff reports, Stamper's car was struck by a Norfolk & Western train at the railroad crossing on Bemis Road near Ypsilanti about 6:15 p.m.

The crossing was unmarked, according to the sheriff's report, and the engineer saw Stamper's car approaching the crossing at the last minute and was unable to stop the train. No charges were made.

A lifetime resident of the Plymouth area, Stamper was a unit manager at St. Joseph Hospital. He was attending Washtenaw Community College.

Surviving are: his wife, Sharon; a daughter, Trina; a son, Donald G. Jr.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey G. Stamper of Plymouth; a sister, Debbie Stamper of Plymouth; and his grandfather, George Stamper of Vada, Ky.

Services were held at the Schrader Funeral Home with a unit manager at St. Joseph Hospital. He was attending Washtenaw Community

ORDINANCE NO. 376

AN ORDINANCE TO PREVENT, REDUCE OR ELIMINATE BLIGHT, BLIGHTING FACTORS OR CAUSES OF BLIGHT WITHIN THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH; TO PROVIDE A METHOD OF REHABILITATING AREAS IN THE CITY WHICH HAVE BECOME BLIGHTED; TO PROVIDE FOR THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE ORDINANCE; TO REPEAL ANY ORDINANCE OR PARTS OF ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT WITH THIS ORDINANCE; AND TO PROVIDE PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION HEREOF.

THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1. Authority for Enactment. This Ordinance is enacted pursuant to the provisions of Act 344 of the Public Acts of 1945, as amended, and Act 208 of the Public Acts of 1949, as amended.

Section 2. Title. This Ordinance shall be known and may be cited as the City of Plymouth Anti-Blight Ordinance.

Section 3. Purpose. Consistent with the letter and spirit of Act 344 of the Public Acts of 1945, as amended, and Act 208, of the Public Acts of 1949, as amended, it is the purpose of this Ordinance to prevent, reduce or eliminate blight or potential blight in the City of Plymouth by the prevention or elimination of certain environmental causes of blight or blighting factors which exist or which may in the future exist in said City, and to rehabilitate already blighted areas in the City.

Section 4. Causes of Blight or Blighting Factors. It is hereby determined that the following uses, structures, conditions and activities are causes of blight, or blighting factors which, if allowed to exist, will tend to result in blighting and undesirable neighborhoods, and which if alleviated or remedied will tend to rehabilitate already blighted areas. On and after the effective date of this Ordinance no person, firm or corporation shall maintain or permit to be maintained any of these causes of blight or blighting upon any premises in the City of Plymouth, owned, leased, rented, or occupied by any such person, firm or corporation.

A. In any area other than those having a valid junk yard permit or used car license, the storage upon any premises of junk automobiles is prohibited. For the purposes of this Ordinance, the term "junk automobiles" shall include any motor vehicle which is not licensed for use upon the highways for a period in excess of thirty (30) days, or which does not have license plates attached thereto, and shall also include, whether so licensed or not any motor vehicle that is inoperative for any reason for a period in excess of thirty (30) days.

B. In any area zoned for residential purposes, the storage upon any premises of any building materials or construction equipment, unless there is in full force and effect a valid building permit issued by the City for construction upon said premises and said materials are intended for use in connection with such construction. Building materials shall include but shall not be limited to, lumber, bricks, concrete or cinder blocks, plumbing materials, electrical wiring or equipment, heating ducts or equipment, shingles, mortar, concrete or cement, nails, screws, fence posts and fencing material of either wood or metal or any other materials used in constructing any structure or fence.

C. In any area other than those having a valid junk yard permit, the storage of accumulation of junk, trash, rubbish or refuse of any kind, except domestic refuse stored in such manner as not to create a nuisance for a period not to exceed fifteen (15) days. The term "Junk" shall include but shall not be limited to, parts of machinery or parts of motor vehicles, unused stoves or other appliances stored in the open, remnants of wood, metal or any other material of other cast-off material of any kind, whatsoever whether or not the same could be put to any reasonable use.

D. In any area, the existence of any structure or part of a structure which because of fire, wind or other natural disaster, or physical deterioration is no longer habitable as a dwelling, nor useful for any other purpose for which it may have been intended.

E. In any area, the existence of any vacant dwelling, commercial building, garage or other out building unless the same are kept securely locked, with windows kept glazed or neatly boarded up, and otherwise protected to prevent entrance thereto by vandals or unauthorized members of the public. Provided, however, that the existence of any vacant boarded up building for a period in excess of six (6) months shall be deemed to be a cause of blight or a blighting factor.

F. In any area, the existence of any partially completed structure unless such structure is in the course of construction in accordance with a valid and subsisting building permit issued by the City, and unless such construction is completed within a reasonable time.

Section 5. Enforcement and Violations
A. This Ordinance shall be enforced by the City Director of Building or by such other person or persons as may be designated by the Mayor.

B. The owner, if known, and the occupant of any premises upon which any one or more of the causes of blight or blighting factors set forth in Section 4 hereof are found to exist shall be notified in writing to remove, eliminate such causes of blight or blighting factors from such premises within ten (10) days after service of notice upon him or them. Such notice may be served personally or by certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the owner at the address shown on the latest City Tax Rolls, and to the occupant at the address of the premises involved. If the owner or occupant cannot be served personally or by certified mail, a copy of the notice shall be posted in a conspicuous place on the premises and published once in the official newspaper of the City. Additional time may be granted by the enforcement officer where in his opinion bona fide efforts to remove or eliminate such causes of blight or blighting factors are being made.

C. Failure of the owner and or occupants to comply with such notice within the time set forth in the notice shall constitute a violation of this Ordinance.

Section 6. Penalties. Violation of any of the terms of this Ordinance shall be a misdemeanor punishable upon conviction thereof by a fine not to exceed $500.00 or by imprisonment in the discretion of the Court. Each day that a violation of this Ordinance is continued or permitted to exist without compliance shall constitute a separate offense punishable upon conviction in the same manner prescribed in this Section.

Section 8. Saving Clause. The repeal provided for in the preceding Section of this Ordinance shall not abrogate or affect any offense or act committed or done, or any penalty or forfeiture incurred, or any pending litigation or prosecution of any right established or occurring prior to the effective date of this Ordinance.

Section 9. Severability. The various parts, sections and clauses of this Ordinance are hereby declared to be severable. If any part, sentence, paragraph, section or clause is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid by a Court of competent jurisdiction, the remainder of the Ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

Section 10. Publication. The City Clerk shall cause the Ordinance to be published in the manner required by law.

Section 11. Effective Date. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be emergency legislation and shall be in effect in the City of Plymouth immediately upon publication of the Ordinance as required by law.

Made, passed and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, this 20th day of December A.D. 1971.

Park Fees Equalized By State

Michigan's 1972 state park vehicle entrance permits, which go on sale Dec. 15 at parks and recreation areas where they are required, carry the same basic fees for residents and out-of-state visitors as the result of legislation recently signed into law by Gov. Miliken.

The new fee schedule, enacted to eliminate different charges for nonresident state park users, equalize the rates of daily and annual permits at $1 and $5, respectively.

Previously, non-residents paid $2 for daily permits and $5 for annual permits, while residents could buy the same windshield entrance stickers at $1 (daily) and $3 (annual).

AS ONE OF two exceptions to the new standardized fee schedule, a special $1 annual park permit has been approved for residents who are 65 years and older. Supplies of the new permit are still in the process of being printed and should be available at state parks in mid-January.

Under the other exception to the basic fee structure, the Natural Resources Commission set a daily permit charge of $2 for non-residents who use Warren Dunes State Park in southwestern Michigan.

Through Nov. 30, permit sale receipts for this season totaled more than $1.8 million.

ONCE A BEEHIVE of activity, an operating room in Ridgewood Hospital stands empty. After years of serving many western Wayne County residents, the osteopathic hospital on Geddes at Godfredson Rd., southwest of Plymouth, has closed because of fire codes, building codes and lack of patronage. School Outlook 'Sound' As '71 Ends

(Editor's Note: In each of recent years, the Mail & Observer has asked the Plymouth superintendent of schools early in December to summarize that year's school district achievements. James H. Rossman officially was superintendent for all except the last 18 days of 1971, and the summation he had prepared prior to the board of education's action of Dec. 13 follows.)

Nineteen seventy-one has been an exciting year in the history of Plymouth Community School District. For the first time in several years there is adequate space for every child and desirable educational programs. The new Plymouth High School was finally dedicated on Dec. 5, and an excellent forward-looking speech was given by Gerald Fischer, former board of education president. A Curriculum Coordinating Council, organized last year and made up of faculty members and administrators, has had several of its recommendations approved by administration and the board of education and they are now in operation. Included are major program evaluation, modified home reporting system, improved general education programs at all grade levels, many innovative, effective educational programs throughout the district and the broader elective programs provided at the high school in conjunction with the modular-flexible scheduling organization.

The district measured well on the State Pupil Assessment Program, as was anticipated. The results, however, are being studied toward further educational improvement. Educational aides have been added in the school district to provide further assistance to the students and to give teachers time to render high level professional services. Student teachers from several universities are receiving experience in the Plymouth Community School District, supervised by excellent staff members. Western Michigan University has a student teachers' center in the Plymouth Community School District where course-related activities are taught simultaneously with the student teachers' actual teaching experience.

THE DISTRICT has several federally funded programs in operation including Program D.R.U.G.S., funded under Title III, ESEA grant; Program GUIDE funded under the Vocational Education Act; Program STOP, funded under the National Highway Safety Education Act; elementary counseling and summer camping program for selected students, funded under ESEA, Title I; certain equipment items purchased with assistance from NDEA, Title III; the purchase of school sites with assistance from federal funds under HUD and funds were also received under the Vocational Education Act to assist in the equipment of vocational facilities.

The school district has established, with the assistance of the Plymouth Rotary Club, a Rotary school farm where children may visit as a part of enrichment for their interest in animals, the out-of-doors and general rural life.

The senior high school building has incorporated an FM radio station that will begin broadcasting during January 1972. The new athletic fields, stadium, all-weather rubber surfaced track and tennis courts were placed in operation this fall. Currently there are 105 classrooms under construction, to meet the immediate needs from growth in school district population, including the new Miller School located south of Warren and east of Sheldon, and the new Canton High School located on the Educational Park. The school district is ahead of the present growth however, problems loom with future rapid growth.

The greatest problem facing the school district during 1971 was the transportation-road safety problem that has taken much time at board of education meetings and promises to continue as a problem into 1972. The safety committee will continue to study and identify the hazardous areas and attempt to find ways to provide safety warning devices and safe means for children to cross streets and to walk to and from school, or be transported to and from school. The school district is in a very sound financial condition with no deficits and a balanced operating budget for 1971-72 school year. There have been no teacher layoffs as has been done in many districts this year.

In summary, the district enjoys excellent adequate facilities, an outstanding basic education program combined with innovative, effective education programs that capitalize upon the individual initiative and the individual differences in youth; new scheduling organization at the senior high school, modified reporting systems, both pupil assessment and program evaluation, moderate federal funded programs, continued action to take care of future growth and a sound financial structure with balanced budgets.

Rossman Continues In PAPC Role

PLYMOUTH Although James H. Rossman has been relieved of his duties as superintendent of the Plymouth Community School District, he has been authorized to continue as one of the Board of Education's representatives on the Plymouth Area Planning Commission (PAPC).

In fact, in his role as recently elected president of the PAPC he chaired the December meeting of this organization after being dismissed as superintendent, and said Monday that as far as he knows he will continue to do so throughout 1972.

However, his capacity is that of a private citizen alert to past, present and future planning problems rather than that as administrative head of the school system. The PAPC directorship also includes two school board members, George Lawton and John Hanskat.

In a year-end discussion of PAPC functions, purposes and future projection, Rossman issued the following statement as its president:

TO PROMOTE and assist with the development and maintenance of a healthy non-residential tax base for the Greater Plymouth area is the major objective of the Plymouth Area Planning Commission (PAPC).

The name is somewhat misleading. It is, however, established by state law that enables the several units of government to establish an area planning commission to concern itself with developing a satisfactory tax base to support the area.

The City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton Township, and the Plymouth Community School District each appoints three members to the commission and makes financial grants to support the commission budget. Commission members are:

From Plymouth School District - James Rossman, George Lawton, John Hanskat.

City of Plymouth - William Silvis, Harold Guenther, Clarence Moore.

Canton Township - Robert Wade, Don Korte, Phillip Dingeldey.

Plymouth Township - Frank Millington, Clark Finley, Maurice Breen.

The commission elects its own officers within its membership, adopts its budget within funds available, employs a director, sets its goals, establishes its working procedures, evaluates results, and reports to the supporting units of government.

THE AREA Planning Commission works with the separate governmental unit planning commissions, and zoning boards, to advise of non-residential tax base opportunities, and to advertise the Greater Plymouth area as an excellent community for business and industrial expansion.

The PAPC maintains an office in the Mayflower Hotel in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce. Director John Wright acts as a coordinator to provide information and assistance to all who show an interest in locating a business or industry within our school district.

Under the leadership of 1971 president, Robert Wade, and Director John Wright, the PAPC has:

1. Initiated the over-all plan for the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township resulting in the map development.

2. Negotiated with approximately 100 different commercial and industrial companies who have shown interest in locating in the area comprising the Plymouth School District.

3. With the cooperation of local industry and Sen. Carl Pursell been successful in enabling legislation to be brought before the House that will place us, if passed, in the Detroit truck zone.

4. Negotiated for funds for an overpass at Sheldon and the C&O Railroad.

All of us in the Plymouth Area Planning Commission predict outstanding activities and many major construction projects will be developed in 1972. At least $200 million worth of new non-residential tax base will be brought into the Plymouth area to keep up with residential construction.

The meeting was called to order at 8:03 P.M. by the Supervisor. All members were present.

READING, CORRECTING AND APPROVAL OF MINUTES - Regular Meeting, November 23, 1971. Mr. Breen advised that the wording on Page 3, the second item, should have the words "in his opinion" deleted as it was the opinion of the Attorney, not his. There being no additions or further corrections, Mr. Ash moved that the minutes be approved as corrected. Seconded by Mr. Burke and carried unanimously.

READING, CORRECTING AND APPROVAL OF BILLS - In the discussion on the List of Bills under the General Fund, attention was called to a $100 item for "repair of Smeeth transmission for Fire Dept." and it was the consensus of opinion that this amount be paid but debited to American LaFrance, inasmuch as this equipment is still under warranty. Also, an amount of $718.44 in the General Fund and $22.63 under Water and Sewer due National Chemsearch were questioned, and it was determined that these items be deleted pending further information from the DPW Supt. There being no further additions or corrections, Mr. Millington moved that the List of Bills in the Grand Total Amount of $22,460.52 be paid. Seconded by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously.

OLD BUSINESS - Donald Morgan-Ralph Alloway, Re: Adoption of Ordinance in regard to Reciprocal Hearing. Mrs. Richardson moved that the Board adopt the Ordinance designated as the Fire Prevention Code, to be known as Ordinance XXIV. Seconded by Mr. Overholt and carried unanimously.

Donald Morgan-James Gignac, Re: Adoption of the 1970 Edition of the Fire Prevention Code and Amendments. Mr. Burke moved that the Board adopt the Ordinance designated as the Fire Prevention Code to be known as Ordinance XXIV. Seconded by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously.

NEW BUSINESS - Donald Morgan, Re: Gift of Easement for Roadway by Robert D. Willoughby, et al., from Township Hall to Liley Road. Mrs. Holmes moved that the Board accept the dedication of the easement for roadway from Robert D. Willoughby, et al., as stated above. Seconded by Mr. Overholt and carried unanimously.

Residents of Terry Street, Re: Requesting a street light at Terry St. and Ann Arbor Road. Mr. Ash moved that the Board approve this street light installation and forward the request for installation to the Detroit Edison Company. Seconded by Mr. Burke and carried unanimously.

Consumers Power Co., Re: March 14, 1973 Election - Approval of Franchise Ordinance and approval of Election Expense Deposit. Mrs. Richardson opened this subject matter by stating that she had asked Mr. Harry Bowers, a representative of Consumers Power Company, to present a thousand dollar deposit to the Township to cover costs of election for the approval of the franchise ordinance, and that Mr. Bowers was present. Mr. Bowers then presented the $1000 check to the Clerk. Following this, Mrs. Holmes moved that the Board accept the $1000 deposit for the election expenses and approve the franchise Ordinance for presentation to the electorate. Seconded by Mr. Ash. Mr. Breen advised Mr. Bowers that possibly another matter would appear on the ballot with the franchise request and Plymouth Heights Election, but it would not pertain to public utilities. The question was called and the motion carried unanimously.

Harvey Zitel, Re: Recommending the Combination of the Water and Sewer System into one set of accounts. Mr. Millington moved that the Board concur in the recommendation of the Township Accountant as it pertains to the combination of the Water and Sewer System into one set of accounts. Seconded by Mrs. Richardson and carried unanimously.

Richardson, Re: Transfer of Monies for both General Fund and Water & Sewer Accounts. Mr. Overholt moved that the Board concur in the recommendation for the transfer of monies as set forth in the communication of December 9, 1971, from Mrs. Richardson. Seconded by Mr. Burke and carried unanimously.

Breder-Hamill and Associates, Re: Final acceptance of Motor Pit and Payment of same. The communication from Breder-Hamill outlining the costs on the above-mentioned project was read by Mrs. Richardson. Also, Mrs. Richardson advised that Mr. Side had approved same. Mrs.

Richardson moved that the Board approve the cost of extras as covered in the statement of December, 1971, from Territorial Construction in the amount of $2525.30. Seconded by Mr. Millington and carried unanimously. Then, Mrs. Holmes moved that the Board concur in the engineer's recommendation and accept dedication of the meter pit and approve the payment of the final bill in the amount of $22,159.33, which includes the extras. Seconded by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously. Mrs. Richardson then moved that the Board approve the statement from Breder-Hamill in the amount of $2,462.06, said amount to be paid out of construction funds. Seconded by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously.

Then, Mrs. Holmes moved that the Board concur in the engineer's recommendation and accept dedication of the meter pit and approve the payment of the final bill in the amount of $22,159.33, which includes the extras. Seconded by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously.

Mrs. Richardson then moved that the Board approve the statement from Breder-Hamill in the amount of $2,462.06, said amount to be paid out of construction funds. Seconded by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously.

Breder-Hamill & Associates, Re: Final Acceptance of Sheldon Industrial Park Sanitary Sewer for Operation and Maintenance. Following the reading of this communication, Mr. Ash moved that the sanitary sewer running in a southerly direction from Five Mile Road through the proposed Sheldon Industrial Park be accepted by the Township Board for operation and maintenance. Seconded by Mr. Burke. Following this, Mr. Breen advised that the acceptance of this sewer had been approved by the Sewer and Water Department. The question was called and the motion carried unanimously.

James E. Gignac, Re: Requesting that his unused 6 days vacation be carried over to 1972. Mr. Breen opened this subject matter by stating that it was before the Board because the policy of the Township is that employees must use all allotted vacation time within the calendar year. In the discussion, participated in by the members of the Board and the Fire Chief, Mrs. Holmes stated that she believed the Township's policy needed revision, particularly with reference to the use of time off, but that any changes to be made should be effective at the beginning of the year. Following this discussion, Mr. Millington moved that the Board request for this year only that all employees take their remaining vacation time prior to December 31, 1971. Seconded by Mrs. Holmes. The following roll call vote was taken: Ayes: Millington, Overholt, Ash, Holmes, Richardson. Nays: Burke, Abstaining: Breen. Mr. Burke asked that the record reflect that he did not believe the Fire Department should be lacking its Chief for the remainder of the year.

L.W.G. Enterprises, Inc. Re: Authorization for the Board for the Building Department to issue a permit for the construction of one model house on Lot No. 62 of Beacon Estates Subdivision No. 2. Following the reading of this communication containing the request as mentioned above, Mrs. Richardson moved that the Board approve said request. Seconded by Mrs. Holmes and carried unanimously.

James Gignac, Re: Promotion to Step No. 5 for Firefighter Larry Groth. Mrs. Richardson moved that the Board concur in the recommendation by the Fire Chief and promote Firefighter Groth to Step Five of the Wage Progression Guide, effective December 1, 1971. Seconded by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously.

James Gignac, Re: Increase in Fire Department Manpower. Mr. Overholt stated that he believed the department could operate more efficiently with the addition of a firefighter and he would move that the Board authorize the Fire Chief to add one firefighter to his staff. Seconded by Mr. Ash and carried unanimously.

Jim Johnson, Re: Request to sell Christmas Trees N.E. corner Ann Arbor and Hagerty, Gary Misch, Re: Request to sell Christmas Trees on N.W. corner Joy and Sheldon. Mr. Overholt moved that the Board approve the requests as stated above, and in addition request the Clerk to submit an Amendment to the Ordinance which would alleviate the problem encountered by the necessity for Board action on these requests. Seconded by Mr. Millington and carried unanimously.

Mr. Ash moved to adjourn the meeting, supported by Mr. Overholt. Supervisor Breen adjourned the meeting at 10:05 P.M.

Approved, MAURICE BREEN Supervisor
Respectfully submitted, HELEN RICHARDSON, Clerk

Planners Pass Shopping Center

WESTLAND residents in the southwest corner of the city may have a new neighborhood shopping center in their future.

The Westland Planning Commission last week unanimously endorsed a rezoning request which would allow a supermarket, gas station and other commercial services on a seven-acre site on the northwest corner of Newburgh and Palmer Rds.

Basics Over

LIVONIA Marine Pvt. Ronald C. Sergison, son of Wanda M. C. Sergison of 8904 Parent, Livonia, has graduated from basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif. He is a 1971 graduate of Churchill High School, Livonia.

The favorable recommendation will be forwarded to the city council for final action.

SEEKING the rezoning is George Smith Real Estate, represented at the commission's public hearing by Claude Howard.

There were no objections voiced about the rezoning request by neighboring residents or the Wayne-Westland Community Schools, which sent a letter to the commission.

Howard said that the rezoning would allow Standard Oil Co. to modernize its existing gas station on the corner.

HE SAID that many residents who live just south of the proposed center want a shopping center nearby.

Under questioning by commissioners, Howard revealed that Farmer Jack Supermarkets plans to build a store there.

He promised that the development would all take place at the same time, a comment made to assure commissioners that the gas station would be built first with the balance of construction being delayed for a long period.

CITY Planning Director Randall Graves urged that the rezoning be approved but recommended that the realtor's proposal for a C-3 zoning be reduced to C-2-A, which is a commercial use but one that gives the city more controls over the development and protects single-family homeowners to the west.

The commission's approval also placed a maximum size of 150-by-150 feet on the gas station site.

Passenger Killed In 1-Car Crash

WESTLAND A Westland man was killed when the car he was a passenger in flipped over and crashed Thursday in Van Buren Township.

Victim of the one-car accident was Angelo Carrabotta, 45, of 30453 Birchwood. He was in a car driven by Calvin Williams, 27, of Inkster.

Carrabotta was thrown out of the auto when it flipped over just east of the border between Wayne and Washtenaw Counties.

Williams was treated for injuries at Beyer Memorial Hospital, Ypsilanti, and released.

Teen Dance Set For Friday

WESTLAND A teen dance featuring four live bands will be held Thursday night, Dec. 30, by the Wayne-Westland Parent Drug Abuse Committee in the Wayne Ford Civic League hall.

The dance, to be held from 8 p.m.-midnight, will feature the Roamin' Empire, Ice Fire, Ostrich, and Red Devil Express band. Tickets are available at the door.

Plymouth Wins Holiday Clash

By FRED DELANO

Plymouth's third holiday basketball tournament championship in four years, achieved through successive victories last week over Thurston and Stevenson, has buoyed the Rocks for the 10 game siege against Suburban Eight competition which still remains.

Hosting its own invitational for the first time, Plymouth continued its startling turnaround after three straight early season losses by crushing Thurston, 76-47, and then taking a 50-46 decision from Stevenson in the championship game.

The Rocks had warmed up for this doubled-dipper with a pre-tournament win over Edsel Ford and now will take a 3-3 record on its invasion of Bentley on Friday, Jan. 7, having held their last three opponents all to 47 points or less.

In 1968, 1969 and 1970 Plymouth had won the Wayne invitational twice, sandwiched around a runner-up finish, and in those three seasons the Rocks lost only four games in the old Suburban Six, three to Bentley.

STEVENSON had the roughest road in the tournament at Plymouth, getting to the finals only after outlasting Churchill, 36-34, in overtime on the first night's program. In the consolation game Thursday between first night losers, Churchill whipped Thurston, 60-54.

Dave Van Wagoner, who is the only senior in Plymouth's starting lineup, paired with Steve Robb to pace the Rocks to the crown, when each scored 12 points in the title game against Stevenson, although Dale Haberman of the Spartans took game honors by pumping in 15.

The Rocks never trailed after Ron Egloff pushed them ahead, 15-14, in the first moments of the second quarter. Three times Plymouth led Stevenson by as many as 10 points before the Spartans staged a late surge that saw them put 15 points on the board in the last four minutes.

LARRY FISHER and Kelly Smith reduced a 41-31 Plymouth edge by four points, all on free throws, and frequent fouling by Plymouth continued to plague the Rocks into the final seconds. Haberman dropped in three charity tosses, and Jim Macy picked up two more as Stevenson chipped away to cut the Rocks' lead to 49-44 with half a minute left.

Macy scored from the corner to make the lead only three points, but Plymouth maintained control in the waning moments, with Jim Szilagyi getting the final point from the charity line when he was fouled at the buzzer.

Coach Dick Bearup of the Rocks conceded afterward that he "never considered it was safe," praising Stevenson as well-coached by George Van Wagoner. Bearup admitted that Stevenson's failure to penetrate Plymouth's zone defense effectively while it was used most of the last three quarters probably was vital to the outcome.

The Rocks outshot the Spartans from the floor, 18 goals to 14, but blew a chance for a bigger victory margin by missing 16 of 30 free throws.

CHURCHILL took Thurston's measure in Thursday's preliminary with a well balanced attack that saw four players scoring in double figures. Roy Henriksson led the way with 12, Mark Reed and Jim Foster each added 11 and Bruce Van Wagoner picked up 10.

Thurston's main impetus was provided by Steve Hunter's 17 points, backed by Dave Harding's 16.

When the tournament opened Tuesday, it was strictly a romp for Plymouth in outshooting Thurston, 76-47, as 11 of the 15 players used by Bearup cracked the scoring column.

However, the Churchill-Stevenson affair was a squeaker in which both teams shot miserably from the floor. Stevenson finally won it on a basket by Kelly Smith with only four seconds left in overtime.

Walled Lake Central proved to be the best of eight teams in capturing the Northwest Suburban holiday basketball tournament championship. Central defeated Redford Union, Henry Ford and topped Bentley in the championship clash, 63-55. The tourney was co-hosted by Bentley and Redford Union. Other teams involved were North Farmington, Walled Lake Western, and Farmington.

This marked the sixth appearance for Central in the holiday battle with its best finish being runner-up twice before the win over the Bulldogs.

WL Central 63 Bentley 55

CENTRAL JUMPED to a 13-2 first half lead in the championship battle with Bentley. Ron Bawalski managed the lone field goal for the Bulldogs while Central's Steve Serra popped in seven points.

Bentley was losing the ball every time it came down court and when the Bulldogs did manage a shot... it just wasn't falling through the hoop.

Bawalski found the range for Bentley in the second half but the Bulldogs trailed at the half, 31-18. Bentley was encountering difficulty working the ball in while Central was concentrating on its running game.

Bentley came to within four points with two minutes remaining in the third quarter, 39-35, but Central hit on six straight points and held a 45-35 fourth quarter lead.

Central maintained its lead in the final stanza and the closest Bentley could get was at the final buzzer when Tim Bollin scored on a three point play to make it 63-55.

The championship game box score:

Farmington 67 Redford 62

Farmington beat Detroit Redford in the first round, 67-62, with Joe Montgomery pacing the Falcon attack with 24 points. Dennis Hagan followed with 18 and Dan Lekovich with 16.

Farmington trailed at the half, 24-22, but bounced back with 45 points in the second half to win by five.

Bentley 69 W.L. Western 47

Bentley captured its first round win over Western, 69-47, with Ron Bawalski popping in 23 points. Gordie Chaisson and Dan Weiss also hit the double figure mark for Bentley with 14 and 11 points respectively.

Tony Howell paced Western with 15 points.

The Bulldogs jumped to a 37-17 first half lead with Bawalski scoring 19 of his 23 points. Bentley outscored Western in the second half, 32-30, with Chaisson totaling 10 in the final stanza.

Henry Ford 76 N. Farm 52

North Farmington spurred to a 15-14 first quarter lead but Henry Ford scored 20 points in the second quarter to lead at the half, 34-30. The second half saw Henry Ford outscore the Raiders, 42-22, with four players hitting the double figure mark.

Kim Parker led all scorers for North Farmington with a 25 point output but the Raiders were outshotted and outshot.

W.L. Central 77 RU 70

CENTRAL LED all the way in a first round win over the Panthers, 77-70, despite a 30 point output by center Mark Kenny. Central balanced its scoring with Randy McLean totaling 25 and Steve Serra popping in 24.

RU made a run at Central in the closing minutes with a 27 point burst in the fourth quarter but the 50 point combination of McLean and Serra proved too much for the Panther five.

RU 68 N. Farm 59

THE PANTHERS jumped to a 24-13 first quarter lead in a consolation clash and went on to topple the Raiders, 68-59.

Mark Kenny paced the RU attack with 22 points followed by Bob Schaner with 16 and Scott Bjerke with 10.

Kim Park totaled 25 for North in its second loss of the tourney.

Bentley 79 Farmington 49

THE BULLDOGS ended any hopes Farmington had of a tourney championship in a second round, 79-49, crushing win.

Bentley was never challenged after holding a 41-27 first half lead. Dennis Hagan led the Falcons with 20 points while the Bulldogs had three players in double figures.

Tim Bollin led the victors with 20 points, followed by Dan Weiss with 19 and Ron Bawalski with 17.

Henry Ford 76 Farmington 64

FARMINGTON LOST its second game of the holiday meet to Henry Ford which finished with two wins in the three game match.

Henry Ford jumped to a 22-11 first quarter lead and led at the half, 43-33. Farmington was outscored in the second half, 33-31.

Joe Montgomery scored 22 for Farmington, and was followed by Jeff Baker with 16 and Dennis Hagan with 12. Darrell Costantini totaled 18 for Henry Ford.

N. Farm 73 W.L. Western 63

North Farmington won its only game of the tourney in a 73-63 battle over Western in a consolation clash at Redford Union.

The Raiders spurred to a 21-14 lead and were never challenged after building up a 38-24 halftime score. Kim Parker accounted for 24 points for North.

Three other players hit the double figure mark for the Raiders: Dave Ellsworth had 17, Fred Creighton collected 11, and Shawn McCrum popped in 10.

Dan Louiska totaled 20 for Western in its third loss of the tourney.

RU 79 Redford 56

REDFORD UNION captured its second win after the opening loss to Central, in a 79-56 win over Redford.

The second quarter told the story as the Panthers outscored Redford, 21-6, to hold a 30-21 halftime advantage.

Mark Kenny led all scorers with 22 points, followed by Bob Schaner with 17 and Mark Durance with 15.

Tom Randall paced the Redford offense with 17 points.

Observerland Cage Ratings

The prep basketball season is rolling along... and here is the first prep ratings in Observerland which comprises 21 area schools.

Undeafed Garden City East gets the early nod with a 5-0 record, including victories over Edsel Ford, Bishop Borgess, Robichaud, Wayne and Franklin. The Panthers have averaged 77 points and have held their opponents to a 61 game average.

John Glenn went into its Christmas tournament with a 5-0 record, topped Wayne, 85-75, in the opening round, but lost to Belleville in the championship clash. The Rockets at 6-1 hold down the No. 2 rating.

Brother Rice is undefeated at 4-0 and is positioned No. 3 in the ratings and Clarenceville claims No. 4 spot with four straight wins including a 106-61 triumph over Crestwood.

Churchill lost the opening round of the Plymouth holiday tourney to Stevenson but bounced back to down Thurston and extend its record to 5-1, for the No. 5 spot.

The Country Day Yellowjackets continued their winning ways and boast a 3-0 record and a No. 6 rating in Observerland.

Bentley is having its ups and downs but holds a 5-2 record and No. 7 position. The Bulldogs lost a squeaker to Edsel Ford, 52-50, and lost in the Christmas tourney finale to Walled Lake Central, 63-55.

Franklin turned in its best performance of the season against Garden City East but lost, 57-54, and holds a 3-2 overall record and No. 8 rank in the area.

The Panthers from RU lost to Walled Lake Central in the opening round of the holiday tourney and suffered a one point defeat against Trenton to stand 4-2 and place No. 9. Plymouth has won three straight, including the holiday tourney, after losing its first three games.

The ratings:

	W	L
1-Garden City East	5	0
2-John Glenn	6	1
3-Brother Rice	4	0
4-Clarenceville	4	0
5-Churchill	5	1

Ski Heil

By BILL CAMERON

BRECKENRIDGE, COLORADO

"When the building plan is completed, the various Four Seasons Village facilities will be able to accommodate 6,000 people, offering a sophisticated mix of winter sports, fine entertainment and dining, luxury lodging and an incomparable setting for residents and visitors alike."

I DID HAVE the opportunity to take my first "ski-touring" lesson, and I took it to like a duck to water. Many of Colorado's ski areas (commonly called Ski Country, U.S.A. - and rightfully so) are expanding their cross-country touring trails, realizing the potential growth in the sport.

I found it very easy to learn, safe and fun. This has to be the answer to you frustrated winter sports enthusiasts who worry about breaking bones, costs, getting to and from ski areas, and the interminable waiting in lift-lines.

We were also offered the opportunity of snowmobiling in the high country but because of the pressure of time, we weren't able to squeeze it into our schedule. As it was, we had to miss the dogsled races, the speed-skating contest and the sleigh rides for we had to move on to Vail."

The above 185 words were left out of last week's column, which was no fault of your writer. If there are times when it appears I've left you completely hanging, have pity on me. I'm at the mercy of a machine!

THIS COLUMN was supposed to be on my impressions of Vail. I hesitate on writing about it for fear I'll get chopped off again. It would take a full column to extol its virtues, so I'll save it till next week.

By the way, next week should really kick off the ski season, what with the Livonia Ski Skule starting Jan. 6, Livonia Family Y Ladies Ski Day at Mt. Brighton on the same day, and Viking Ski Touring classes at Hawthorne Valley Country Club on Saturday, Jan. 8.

Of course a little natural snow would be most helpful, but I'm optimistic. I predict a very large snowfall by then! The Sisters at Madonna College are praying for me - aren't you?

Wishing you all the happiest of New Years - THINK SNOW!!

Ski Classes Open Jan. 6

Are you ready to try your hand at skiing in the annual Observer-Livonia Parks and Recreation ski skule? There isn't anytime like now to get adjusted...the opening classes of the first nine week session begin next Thursday, Jan. 6 at the Mt. Brighton facilities.

More than 600 participated in the ski skule a year ago and reports from Directors Joe Czaplak and Norb Kopeikin indicate the registrations already have passed that total.

Now's the time to get some use from the skis and other outdoor equipment Santa dropped off a few days ago.

DESPITE the unseasonable weather, Gene Hill, general manager of Mt. Brighton, says there's plenty of snow and hundreds of skiers have been using the facilities since the plant opened on Dec. 3.

REGISTRATIONS are still being accepted for the Livonia Ski Skule with sessions on Thursdays and Fridays for the initial nine-week session.

Fill out the blank printed elsewhere on this page and follow the instructions.

The classes start at 6 p.m. with the following schedule: Thursday - Jan. 6, 13, 20 and 27; Feb. 3, 10, 17, 24; and March 2. Friday - Jan. 7, 14, 21, 28; Feb. 4, 11, 18, 25; and March 3.

The six week second session starts in late January with the following schedule: Thursday - Jan. 27; Feb. 3, 10, 17, 24; and March 2. Friday - Jan. 28; Feb. 4, 11, 18, 25; and March 3.

OCC Upset In Hockey

Western Michigan University upset Oakland Community College 3-2 to win the OCC invitational holiday hockey tournament.

Both teams looked good in Friday's preliminary matches, with WMU an easy 14-3 victor over Central Michigan, and OCC defeating the U. of Illinois, 6-3, to gain a berth in the tournament championship.

Farmington's Brian MacDonell scored WMU's initial goal of the championship game with only 1:45 elapsed in the first period, on a pass from teammate John Anella, and the Broncos never relinquished the lead.

Four minutes later, the two teammates exchanged favors, with Anella scoring on MacDonell's assist for a 2-0 WMU lead at 5:53 into the first period.

OAKLAND'S FIRST goal was scored by Tom Zarb, who beat Western's goalie Jim Kish on a pass from Chuck Rossie at 14:40, to finalize the first period scoring at 2-1 in favor of SMU. Kish then proceeded to hold OCC scoreless during the second period, while his teammates added four goals to pad the Western lead to 6-1 for the start of the final period.

MacDonell scored his second and third goals for the hat-trick at 9:25 of the second period. Al MacNichol tallied Western's third goal of the second stanza, followed by MacDonell's fourth goal of the game at 18:54.

The third period saw a strong effort by OCC to regain the lead, with a total of four Raider goals getting by Kish. Oakland came within three goals at 13:44 of the final period, on scores by Dave Rae, and two by leftwing Tom Zarb, which were scored within thirteen seconds of one another, to trim the Western lead to 7-4.

Zarb's third period efforts gave him a hat-trick for the game, but Jim Hamelink scored Western's eighth and final goal at 18:00 unassisted, to put the game out of reach. The Raiders continued to press, however, and with fifteen seconds remaining, Bob Blackmore scored the fifth and final Oakland goal of the game, on assists from Chuck Rossie and Dave Rae.

AT POST-GAME ceremonies, Western Michigan captain Brian MacDonell accepted the championship trophy from Kenneth Maas, publisher of Face-Off Hockey Magazine on behalf of his teammates. In addition to his four goals, the Western Michigan junior from Farmington was named the tournament's most valuable player.

Three members of the OCC hockey squad were voted to the all-tournament team by the coaches of the four participating colleges. Goalie Craig Wojay played one of his finest games of the season in the 6-3 semi-final victory over Illinois, and finished the game with a 91 per cent save average. Defenseman and alternate captain Rossie collected two goals and two assists in the tourney, and was voted one of the tournament's two outstanding defensemen.

The Raider all-star trio was completed with the addition of Zarb, who scored a hat-trick in the championship game and contributed two assists in the 6-3 OCC victory over Illinois in the semi-final match.

LARRY ANGGOTT who bowls in the Thursday Mixed League at Bel-Aires Lanes, will have good cause never to forget his final 1971 performance.

Taking his regular turn on the lanes last week he ran into six splits in his three games. Here's the list that's enough to cause a nightmare - 6-7-10, 3-6-7-10; 4-10, 4-7-9, 5-10 and 7-10.

Then, to top off the evening, he "blew" the No. 9 pin.

MARY MOHACSI, former metropolitan bowling queen, showed her former all-star teammates that she has lost none of her scoring ability last week at Pine Tree Bowl.

Bowling as a substitute in the Ladies Major League, she fired a 630 to pace the entire league.

DICK BEATTIE returned to his old form to close out the year. On games of 213, 257 and 247 he posted a 717 to top Westland Classic and set the pace for Observerland bowlers during the week.

At this figure he was four pins ahead of Bob Hart who had a 713 on games of 225, 246 and 242. With a 257 middle game John Wodarski landed in third place with 680.

DAVE PASHKAT, a 16-year-old who carries a 179 average at Westland, hit his peak last week when he put together games of 208, 244 and 244 for 696.

THE GIRLS again stole the show at Mayflower Lanes when Maureen O'Connor had a 205 in 527 and Tina Goroste closed with a 217 for a 504. It was the highest either ever had bowled.

THE YOUNGSTERS had a great time at Merri-Bowl over the Christmas season.

First, Carolyn Fine, a 116 average bowler in the Parks and Recreation League, posted games of 177 and 152 for a 329 in her two-game series.

Then James Halod, with a 99 average, had identical games of 143.

Added to these Joyce Yarde had a 126 triplicate.

GRADY BORTWOOD with a 640 and Leo Harsley with 601, showed the way in the Guys and Dolls League at Country Lanes. And Phyllis Spencer, with an average of 153, found the range and posted a 200 game in a 544 series.

Buchanan contributed a 247 to win the holiday prize. CAROLYN NEDERKORN waited until the holiday period to show her ability in the Livonia Lanes Ladies Classic. She had a 487-102-589 to take top honors.

Individual game winners included Becky Parks 185-32-217, Lee Schuyler 185-13-198 and Dorothy Thompson 183-35-218.

LOU HAYDU, veteran of the All-Star Classics, showed the way in the Garden Classic with a 686 that gave him a five pin lead over Mike Mathis with 681.

Other high scores included: Al Voss 674, Fred McLean 673, Steve Pallman 667, Ron Kovak 655, Bill Collett 647, and Gordon Cantwell 647.

BEL-AIRE CLASSIC bowlers bowed to Bob Walters who profited with a 258 to opener to post a 683. Tom Kinjirski was right behind with a 674. Andy Camillio landed the third spot with 666.

In the Odd Couples League Norm Rose set a high mark with a 650 on games of 239, 233 and 178.

When it comes to odd experiences Bill Shiebel earns the award. Bowling in the Briar Hills league he opened with a split, then struck out for a 279 in a 633 series.

Gladys Saetkas was the woman of the seek in the Ladies Classic. She linked games of 225, 210 and 195 for 640.

BOWLERS IN the senior house league stole the show at Oak Park.

Joe Bell fashioned a 684 on games of 246, 234 and 204, while Al Feldman had a 648, followed by Bernie Woerdeman with 637 and Ron Tutaluk with 637.

Falcon Wrestlers Upset Kimball

Farmington wrestlers squad ended Royal Oak Kimball's 22 dual meet winning streak in a 31-26 upset. Each team scored six wins but the Falcons outscored Kimball in the point production.

Farmington's John Osestoski pinned Kimball's Chuck Seymour in the 125 pound bracket to get things rolling for the Falcons. Bill Mason continued the Farmington assault with a 13-0 score over Bill Lewis at 105 pounds.

Kimball scored a pin in the 112 pound class with Paul Amell taking Dan Longline down. Falcon Rob Churella pinned Ken Lang in the 110 pound class with a time of 1:43. Pete Osestoski also pinned his Kimball opponent, Tom Ryan, in the 126 pound class.

Kimball's Bill Haynes pinned Falcon Dave Burley in the 132 pound bracket and Rich Dewolfe outscored Farmington's Kevin Ratliff, 10-9 in the 138 pound category.

FALCON Jeff Krause totaled 11 points to Tony Krolkowski's two and Farmington had another win in the 145 pound class.

Bill Seery scored a 9-3 win over Farmington's Tom Impelizzieri in the 155 pound class and Falcon Rick Colley scored a pin in the 167 pound class against Rex Poff.

Harold King totaled 16 points in the 165 pound division to topple Farmington's Mark Walsh and Kimball scored a victory in the heavyweight class on a bye.

ALTHOUGH things have been relatively quiet at Hazel Park since the meeting closed on Dec. 18 while waiting for the new owners to take over, there are more than 500 horses on the grounds using the small indoors track for morning workouts.

There is a possibility that many will move to Toledo in the next few days but most owners and trainers indicated they would stay at Hazel Park until the season opener on Feb. 26.

A Toledo meeting is the only answer for most since the stall allotments already have been made at the Fairgrounds in New Orleans, at Hot Springs and at Tampa.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

After two weeks of darkness, harness racing returns to Michigan Saturday (Jan. 1) with a 10-race program at Northville Downs which officially marks the opening of year round racing in the state.

Leon Slavin, president and general manager of Jackson Raceway which is conducting the Jackson-Northville campaign, fought hard for a continuance of the 1971 meeting to the end of the year but couldn't get approval from Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley.

Now Slavin will learn just how much damage was caused by the two week layoff while Windsor Raceway continued operations with the exception of Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. Damage in this respect concerns the attendance and handle...

did fans take off for Windsor during the two weeks and will they return?

The Jackson Raceway boss will have the answers to both queries in short order. Patronage was on the downward trend during the final two weeks of the meeting which ended on Dec. 18 due to the weather and the poor condition of the racing strip.

During the two weeks, the half mile track has been recovered with a ground slag composition that John Carlo, executive manager of Northville Downs reports will result in a hard, fast all-weather surface.

Carlo personally took charge of the installation, supervising a crew of workers in covering the racing strip from the inner rail to the outside barrier with more than eight inches of the slag.

The process included pouring large bits of slag on the dirt track. This was followed by several layers of finer slag and then a couple inches of sand.

The new surface was pounded down by huge pieces of equipment and then turned over to the horsemen for daily workouts. The thought is that the pounding by the horses will work it into excellent shape for Saturday's inaugural card.

If it does what Carlo and his associates are certain it will do, then Jackson-Northville will have an excellent track year round and the muddy, heavy going that marked the races earlier in the month will be eliminated.

PRESENT PLANS call for the Jackson-Northville season to continue on the same lines prior to closing.

Racing Secretary Tom Smith lost some of the stables during the layoff when owners and trainers shipped to Chicago, some to Windsor and several of the better horses to Pompano Park for the meeting which opened on Dec. 10.

The draw for the opening program is scheduled for Wednesday morning and that's when Smith will learn how many of the better pacers and trainers will be available. He knows for sure that Thimble, winner of the early winter pacing series with a sweep of all five of the legs including the $10,200 finale, is gone. The speedy three-year-old filly shipped to Windsor after the championship and proceeded to whip the best there.

All officials of the early winter meeting will be back for the 25 night midwinter session that goes through the final week of January.

Posttime will be 8 p.m. with the nightly double on the first two races, a perfecta and two trifectas. There is a possibility that Slavin will ask permission for another perfecta or perhaps a quinnella.

COMPETITION for the wagering dollar will be keener than ever starting Saturday since the thoroughbreds will open a lengthy meeting in Toledo and Windsor will be battling Jackson-Northville for patronage every night with the exception of Monday.

The answer to the question "Has Jackson-Northville cut into Windsor's business?" was answered during the nights since Northville Downs went dark.

Windsor's handle picked up something like $100,000 every night and almost $150,000 on Friday and Saturday.

But it must also be pointed out that Windsor started its Wednesday matinee as soon as Hazel Park closed and added a few promotions that worked wonders.

For instance, the Windsor track management made arrangements for Herv Filion, the top driver in North America who recently set all-time records for wins in a single year and also for a career, to appear on Sunday's card.

It also must have arranged for the spectacular reinsman to have live horses in every race for he set a record with seven firsts and wasn't worse than third all afternoon.

His appearance also had a definite effect on the crowd and wagering for the afternoon. One recalls that the appearance of Albatross, everyone's choice as pacer of the year, resulted in a handle of $924,000 at Wolverine, first time wagering ever went over $900,000 at a Michigan harness track and now one driver has the same kind of magic at Windsor.

Glenn Toppled In Tourney Finale, 81-77

By TOM DONOHUE
Observer Sports Editor

High-flying John Glenn Rockets lost their early season spark and were toppled by Belleville in the final round of the Wayne-Westland Christmas basketball tourney.

John Glenn, which had won its first six games, was edged out in the closing minutes of the championship clash, 81-77.

This marks the second holiday crown for Belleville in the Wayne-Westland tourney. The Tigers captured the crown in the tournament's initial kickoff in 1968. Glenn failed again in its bid to win its first holiday title. This marks the second runner-up finish for the Rockets.

Belleville won its opening round game against Wayne, 81-66, and Glenn defeated Cherry Hill, 74-68.

THE ROCKETS led at the half, 37-30, but Cherry Hill came back with 27 points in the third quarter to even the score at 47-47, going into the final stanza. Glenn took the lead early in the fourth quarter and held on for its sixth win of the season.

Jim Williams paced the Rocket attack with 20 points, followed by Dave Carlington with 18 and Jim McBride with 10.

Wayne trounced Cherry Hill, 80-58, in the consolation round while Glenn pitted action against Belleville.

THE ROCKETS won the opening tip, however, Belleville scored the first basket to take an early first quarter lead. John Lee scored for Glenn and Kim Horton sank a free-throw to give the Rockets the lead with three minutes elapsed.

Belleville's Mike Garland popped in three consecutive baskets and the Rockets were down 12-7.

With 1:32 remaining, Carlington was fouled and Belleville received a technical for the failure of the player to raise his hand after committing the infraction. Carlington proceeded to sink three from the line and Glenn was back on top, 18-15.

The lead exchanged hands in the closing seconds of the first quarter and Belleville held a 21-20 lead going into the second quarter.

Lee, Williams and Carlington hit on three straight baskets and Glenn started in - front, 25-23. The score sawsawed back and forth and Williams scored on a hook shot in the last second to give Glenn a 44-43 halftime advantage.

The lead exchanged hands 17 times in the first half with Glenn controlling rebounds.

WILLIAMS and Carlington each contributed 14 points for Glenn in the first half while Garland popped in 18 for Belleville.

Lee scored on a 15 footer to open the third quarter but Belleville tied it at 48-48 with 1:45 gone in the second half. Midway through the quarter, Glenn jumped to a five-point lead with Lee driving in for a layup.

Belleville came back with Garland pacing the attack to put the Tigers up by one with 36 seconds remaining in the third. Williams hit on a jumper and the Rockets enjoyed a 61-60 lead.

Belleville won the fourth after a freethrow by Glenn and the Tigers were up, 68-62.

With two minutes remaining, Williams scored on a rebound and the Rockets had closed the gap to 73-71. Horton hauled in a defensive rebound and passed ahead to Lee who scored the tying basket, making it 73-73.

GARLAND scored for Belleville and Horton fouled out for Glenn and the three point play put the Tigers up, 76-73.

Lee scored two quick buckets in the closing seconds but the Rockets fell four points short in their quest of a holiday crown.

Glenn shot 44 per cent from the floor, hitting on 28 of 63 while Belleville hit on 33 of 66 for a 50 per cent.

"We ran into some cold shooting the final quarter," said Glenn Coach Gordon Davis. "We were getting the shots but the ball just wasn't dropping in."

"We just couldn't stop Garland from scoring," added Davis.

Garland paced all scorers with a 39 point output followed by Ed Branam with 15 for Belleville.

GLENN had three players in double figures with Williams scoring 19, Lee totaling 18, and Carlington collecting 16.

The Rockets stand 6-1 overall and face North Farmington on Jan. 7 in a Northwest Suburban clash.

5th Win For Panthers East Edges Franklin

Undefeated Garden City East rolled to its fifth win in a 57-54, victory over Franklin.

The Patriots, now 3-2, were paced by Tim Dietz who popped in 13 from the field and four from the line for 30 points.

But East, which hit 50 per cent from the field, put together a team effort and held on in the closing seconds in its narrowest winning margin.

"Both teams were forced to work for the good shot," said East Coach Billy Joe Young. "Because of this, neither team had the ball as much as it wanted."

FRANKLIN won the opening tip but Dave Jackson, of East, opened the scoring on a short jumper followed by Jeff DeHarte with a 15 footer and East was up, 4-0.

Rick Graham tipped in a Dietz shot for Franklin's first score but Jackson scored again and East was up, 6-2. The Panthers held onto the lead up to the seven minute mark of the first quarter when Dietz scored five straight points and the Patriots were ahead, 12-11.

Jack Hayes scored from the line to tie the score at 12-12 to end the first quarter.

EAST jumped to a 20-14 lead in the first three minutes of the second quarter as the Patriots were having trouble getting the ball out of their zone.

Franklin came within one point, 26-19, with Steve Cass sinking a free throw after East's John Grigal picked up foul No. 3.

Each team popped in two from the field and Rick Graham hit one from the corner with a minute remaining in the half and Franklin had a 25-24 lead.

FRANKLIN outbounded East the first half, 18 to 16, with 10 being defensive grabs. Tom Luch collected six and Dietz picked off five for the Patriots.

Dietz led all scorers with 11 followed by East's Jackson with 10 and Rick Graham at nine.

East took the lead early in the third quarter on a short jumper by Bruce Taylor and the Panthers were never to fall behind again. Franklin tied the score twice in the third but East managed to pull away.

The Panthers jumped to a 45-40 advantage at the end of three quarters and Franklin closed the gap to one, with Luch and Dietz hitting to make it 46-45.

East went into a semi-stall and within two minutes, increased the lead to 10 points, 54-44. Franklin's Luch fouled out with 3:53 remaining and the Patriots were having trouble controlling the ball.

DIETZ changed the momentum for Franklin, hitting on three from the field and the gap was down to four points, 54-50, with 1:14 remaining.

Jeff Derte scored for East and the Panthers went into a stall but Franklin came on strong in the final minute with Rick Graham and Dietz scoring but the Patriots were caught holding the ball... and three points short at the final buzzer.

Dietz led all scorers with 30 points while East had two players in doubled figures; DeHarte collected 19 and Jackson scored 18.

EAST is 5-0 overall and travels to Garden City West for a Jan. 4 rival clash. Franklin hosts Churchill on Jan. 4.

SCHEDULED FOR COMPLETION by June 1974, this intersection of I-96 along Schoolcraft and I-275 along Haggerty Road will link freeway traffic from the northwest suburbs with downtown Detroit. This view looks northward.

Construction along Schoolcraft will be nearing completion in 1972 and traffic will flow with virtually no interruption along the expressway service drives from the Detroit city limits to Haggerty.

Fewer Highway Tieups Seen By End Of '72

By EDWARD WENDOVER

Most of the driving headaches caused by construction of I-96 along Schoolcraft Road will be only memories by this time next year, State Highway Department officials say.

According to bid specifications on Schoolcraft construction already begun, all of the service drives to the I-96 Schoolcraft corridor will be completed and open to traffic by mid-November of 1972 except the west-bound service drive between Ingham and Middle Belt roads.

"Once the service roads are open, local traffic will have virtually no interruptions," a State Highway Department spokesman said.

And once the service roads are open, construction of the expressway itself can proceed rapidly, the spokesman said. A tentative date for completion of the entire I-96 project between Telegraph and Haggerty Rd. has been set for late 1973.

"That's barring strikes and a lot of bad weather," the spokesman added.

SO FAR, everything is on or ahead of schedule, said the spokesman, crediting good weather and absence of strikes.

Portions of I-96 in the Schoolcraft corridor, either finished or under construction, will cost $78 million.

Last parts of the I-96 route to be completed will be overpasses and interchanges—particularly those at Telegraph and Haggerty roads where I-275 will meet I-96 (Schoolcraft) and proceed north to the present interchange of I-96 and I-696.

The interchange of I-96, I-696 and I-275 (in Novi) will take up 633 acres (almost a mile square) and cost $15 million. The I-275 and I-96 interchange, which will be near the present intersection of Schoolcraft and Haggerty roads, will cost $14 million.

The Telegraph and I-96 (Schoolcraft) interchange will cost about $7 million and will be a tri-level intersection, much like the junction of the Southfield Expressway and Eight Mile Road. It is scheduled to be finished by August 1973, highway officials say.

This means that the motorist who uses or crosses Schoolcraft Road can look forward to a smoother, less interrupted journey by the end of the new year.

Drug Unit Reviews 1971 Ups & Downs

By LEONARD FOGAR

WESTLAND
Westland's first and only private drug-fighters will end their first year next month—a year marked by a series of accomplishments mixed with some frustrations.

The Wayne-Westland Parent Drug Abuse Committee members have described themselves as the only "action group" in an area mainly devoted to professional studies by other groups.

COMMITTEE Chairman Tom Taylor was asked by The Observer to list the group's accomplishments and comment on their failures in the group's first year of activities.

Taylor, a Westland police sergeant, said that the committee "picked the hardest method of fighting drug abuse—trying to change attitudes of youngsters who feel that taking drugs is the 'cool thing' to do."

"We feel that teenagers will listen to each other and that adults need 'credentials' before they can get across to them," Taylor said.

"We want kids talking to kids and we are just the vehicle for that," he added.

THE COMMITTEE was formed in mid-January last year because of the members' "dissatisfaction on the lack of an effective drug campaign in the city and that there was no city-wide organization" devoted to combating drug abuse.

Major accomplishments, according to Taylor, were the poster and essay contest held among local students on the drug issue; "our 'infamous fight with city hall' on $20,000 eventually approved for expansion of the Community Commission on Drug Abuse; initiating a regular contact with local teenagers; and the use of a billboard at Wayne and Marquette Rds. to show an anti-drug use message, taken from one of the prize-winning posters entered in the spring school contest.

The message deals with the ambiguous matter of attitudes and that's hard to measure, he said.

The billboard art has shown a hypodermic needle and a coffin handled by six pills pictured as symbolic pollbearers.

"THERE is nothing pretty about a coffin scene or a needle," said Taylor in responding to published criticism of the committee's billboard.

"This is reality and something teenagers know about," he said in pointing out that the billboard scenes were taken from the winning posters entered by local students last spring.

THE CONTINUOUS contact with teenagers has been accomplished through Friday night dances sponsored by the Wayne Ford Civic League, of which committee members are all members.

The dances are manned by committee members and have built up a rapport with the teens. Then efforts were made to "introduce an anti-drug element" for the teens.

Those moves included bringing in speakers and films telling about the evils of drugs.

The billboard is located near the entrance of John Glenn High School and the message and art work changes monthly.

TAYLOR FEELS that the use of a billboard to display an anti-drug usage message "is one of the best things we've done."

The billboard's message is subtle and not pushed on anyone, Taylor stressed.

continue our program," he emphasized.

Other frustrations came from published criticism in a local daily newspaper concerning the banquet held in May to honor the poster and essay contest winners and the chairman's name on the Wayne-Marquette billboard.

TAYLOR SAID that the committee itself agreed to put the chairman's name in the corner of the billboard—and then only so passers-by could have someone to contact if they wanted to contact the committee.

But in future billboards, starting in February, the chairman's name will be dropped and replaced by the committee's logotype.

The group is an open one and interested persons may attend its monthly meetings, held in its member's homes.

Discussing the committee's frustrations, Taylor said that one of the "disheartening" aspects of the first year has been that "we can't measure our success."

TAYLOR SAID he can only compare the committee with other programs and make a conclusion.

The only other program with specific figures is the federal government's rehabilitation center for addicts in Lexington, Ky.

The federal hospital has only a two per cent success ratio, the chairman said.

"But we must have enough confidence in ourselves to continue our program," he emphasized.

Other frustrations came from published criticism in a local daily newspaper concerning the banquet held in May to honor the poster and essay contest winners and the chairman's name on the Wayne-Marquette billboard.

TAYLOR SAID that the committee itself agreed to put the chairman's name in the corner of the billboard—and then only so passers-by could have someone to contact if they wanted to contact the committee.

But in future billboards, starting in February, the chairman's name will be dropped and replaced by the committee's logotype.

The group is an open one and interested persons may attend its monthly meetings, held in its member's homes.

ON THE "infamous fight with city hall," Taylor reiterated the committee's position in opposition to the $20,000 extra funds for the CODA, now headquartered in Livonia but looking for a Westland crisis center site.

The committee is opposed to any "duplication" and fragmentation of services," Taylor said.

"There is already a master plan proposed for Wayne County designating Wayne County General Hospital in Westland as the program's center."

All the local small drug abuse groups will have money troubles, the chairman added.

Bright Yule For Indians

Christmas day was considerably brighter for Indian children at Holy Childhood Mission School in Harbor Springs, as well as for other Indians throughout northern Michigan.

Observerland residents, led by youngsters, sent 1,365 cans of food, including 1,165 collected as admission to a Clarenceville School District holiday choral program.

In addition, the load included 19 bicycles, more than 200 boxes of clothing, 10 cartons of toys and a variety of soaps.

LEADING THE drive and making an all-night drive by truck for a 5 a.m. delivery was Hank Chruscial, chairman of the Indian affairs committee of the Western Wayne County Conservation Assn., and Ed Goldstein.

Helping with the loading were Indians from the Muskegon area, who received a load of 805 cans of food and 10 cartons of toys for their area.

Aiding in the collection were Girl Scout groups headed by these neighborhood commissioners in the suburban area: Mrs. Mike Duhovich, Mrs. Robert Hudson, Mrs. Earl Todd, Mrs. Jack Hacker, Mrs. Daniel Wisner and Mrs. Grace Wiebel.

Sacred Heart Byzantine Rite Church donated items left over from a rummage sale, and WWCCA/Paul Cooper aided in loading a truck donated for the northbound trip.

AN EARLIER load of clothing, food and toys went to another Indian Enterprises outlet in Berrien Springs, in the southwest part of the state. In a letter, Wilbur and Wanda Shagonby, who distributed the gifts, described the delight of Indians there who had received gifts.

"We have been swamped with people... They even come back to show us how nice they look in their clothing. It is really heart-warming to see how proud they are to have decent clothing."

"The food went to families who had been without work for over a year. One family had nine children."

"Needless to say, the toys are gone! Each child got one new and one used toy... We have served over 200 families since we last saw you."

NINETEEN BICYCLES, some new and some rebuilt, were loaded in Livonia for delivery to Indian children in the northern part of the state. On the ground (from left) are Jim Weaver and Doug Pierson, both of the non-profit Indian Enterprises group; Ed Goldstein of Livonia and Paul Cooper of the Western Wayne County Conservation Assn. On the truck is Hank Chruscial of WWCCA.

TEN CARTONS of toys and 200 boxes of clothing were received with smiles.

Try A Hot Sandwich Buffet

By ELLY

Hot sandwiches are a great way to satisfy hearty appetites. They are right for any time of the day. They may be served at a New Year's Eve gathering, for lunches, or for a snack after skiing or skating.

Some of the most outstanding sandwiches of all time are made on hot toasted English muffins. And, as the staff of a specialty bakery company has found, hungry people can be most creative when it comes to making hot sandwiches.

When a good assortment of meats, vegetables, cheese and seasonings is made available and a group is given the go-ahead, there will be as many flavorsome muffin toppings as there are people in the group. They include two pizzas and a muffin burger.

PERSONAL PIZZAS

6 English muffins
Margarine or butter
12 slices fresh tomatoes
Garlic salt
Dried oregano leaves
12 slices mozzarella cheese
Toppings (optional): anchovy fillets, sliced mushrooms, Italian sausage, pepperoni, sliced green onions or pimiento-stuffed olive slices.
Split English muffins by scoring with the tines of a fork and then gently pulling apart. Spread with margarine or butter and toast. Place tomato slice on top of each muffin half. Sprinkle with garlic salt and oregano. Place mozzarella slice on top and sprinkle with Parmesan. Broil pizza three to five minutes or until cheese bubbles and muffin is thoroughly heated. If desired, garnish with anchovy fillets, sliced mushrooms, Italian sausages, pepperoni, sliced green onions or pimiento-stuffed olives. Makes six servings. NOTE: One two-pound can Italian style peeled tomatoes, drained, may be used in place of tomato slices. Break up tomatoes lightly with a fork and place on muffin halves.

ENGLISH MUFFIN PIZZAS

4 English muffins
Margarine or butter
1 (16 ounce) can stewed tomatoes, drained
8 ounces bulk sausage, cooked, drained and crumbled
Salt
Oregano
2 T. grated Parmesan
1 c. (4 ounces) shredded mozzarella cheese
Split English muffins by scoring with tines of a fork, then gently pulling apart. Spread each muffin half with margarine. Place about two tablespoons each of tomatoes and sausage on each muffin half. Sprinkle with salt and oregano to taste, then Parmesan cheese. Top each pizza muffin with about two tablespoons of mozzarella cheese. Broil six inches from source of heat four to five minutes or until cheese is melted and pizza muffins are heated. Makes four servings.

MUFFIN BURGERS

2 lb. ground beef
2 t. salt
1/2 t. pepper
8 English muffins
Margarine or butter
1 c. catsup
1 T. Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 t. prepared mustard
Dash Tabasco sauce
8 tomato slices
Mix together beef, salt and pepper. Shape into eight beef patties. Broil to desired doneness. Split English muffins by scoring with a fork and then gently pulling apart. Toast; spread with butter or margarine. Mix together catsup, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and Tabasco sauce. Place tomato slice on each hamburger. Serve between toasted muffin halves with spicy catsup sauce. Makes eight servings.

FRESH TOMATO BRUNCH

8 slices bacon
3 large tomatoes
8 eggs
2 tablespoons milk
Sauté bacon until crisp in large skillet. Drain on absorbent paper. Reserve 3 tablespoons bacon drippings. Cut stem end from tomatoes and cut each tomato into thirds crosswise. Sauté tomato slices on both sides in reserved bacon drippings until heated. Place on serving platter. Keep warm. Beat eggs with milk. Season with herbs if desired. Scramble eggs in skillet. Turn out on platter. Garnish with bacon strips. Makes four servings.

OBSERVATION POINT

1971 Brought 2 Key Issues For Suburbs

By Philip H. Power
Publisher

The year 1971 was an odd one for the suburbs.

It was a year during which it looked as though they really were going to build a stadium for the Lions in suburban Pontiac. But then when the costs became clearer and when the state legislature passed a hotel sales tax bill for Wayne County, it seemed as though the new stadium would be built in downtown Detroit.

It was a year in which the contractors started tearing up Schoolcraft Road to build the new expressway which is supposed to be finished sometime in 1972 but probably won't be completed until 1974. But then it was a year in which no progress was made in building overpasses for railroad lines or resolving problems with existing expressways, such as the exit-entrance ramps at I-696 and Orchard Lake Road in Farmington Township.

It was a year in which there were more children than ever before attending local schools. But it was also a year when the legislature never quite got around to resolving the problem of how to finance public education in this state and the taxpayers revolted against the property tax by turning down millages all over the place.

So in many respects, 1971 was a mixed year.

TWO KEY developments, however, came through loud and clear: population growth and the bussing issue.

Population growth, which everyone said was going to be the big fact of the suburbs during the decade of the 1960's, was pinpointed this year when the results of the 1970 census finally became available.

While Wayne County as a whole was only growing at a rate of 1.1% from 1960 to 1970, mostly owing to out-migration from Detroit, and while Oakland County was registering a 31.5% growth rate during the past decade, the suburbs served by this newspaper were growing at a rate of over 52%.

Look at these rates of change over the past decade: Farmington City — 50.1%; Farmington Township — 83.2%; Southfield — 120%; Lathrup Village — 31.5%; Plymouth City — 34.1%; Plymouth Township — 109.2%; Canton Township — 107.5%; Livonia — 65.1%; Westland — 50.3%. The only suburbs showing low growth rates — Garden City with 10.1% and Redford Township with 0.9% — are fully developed communities.

What all this population gain, accurately revealed for the first time this year, suggests is that the suburbs are now the most powerful influence in the state and the nation.

We will be getting more money from government, assuming a per-capita distribution formula; we will be gaining more political power, particularly when congressional and legislative districts are re-drawn next year; and we will be looked to for regional leadership, particularly as Detroit struggles from one crisis to another.

ALL THESE facts were centrally involved in the other issue to dominate this year — bussing.

Originally the response of the courts to the charge that school systems in Detroit and Pontiac were segregated, the issue came to roost in the suburbs when Federal Judge Stephen Roth hinted in a ruling that he was thinking of requiring suburban school districts around Detroit to participate in eliminating legally sanctioned segregation in the schools.

The issue produced a major new political organization, the National Action Group, which spread from Pontiac to nearby suburban communities. It probably re-elected U.S. Senator Robert Griffin. It forced northern liberals who had been pointing the finger of blame at the south suddenly to sit back on their haunches and figure out just how far their liberalism went when their own kids were involved.

It also made politicians, liberal and conservative alike, realize that although the suburbs might be the coming dominant force in politics, they could not be written off as just another lumping of people.

For basically, the bussing controversy is a uniquely suburban issue, bringing with it all the hopes, fears, and aspirations of suburbanites, coupled with an antiquated tax structure and rising political power of the black majority in Detroit.

Obviously, it will take many years — perhaps a decade — to work out the bussing issue. But what 1971 proved was that the issue existed in full, deep-blooded intensity, and that no one in the suburbs could ever ignore it again.

Tim Richard writes

Brains A Must?

"Democracy," said the late H.L. Mencken, "is the theory that the people know what they want and deserve to get it — good and hard."

And they may be getting it harder than ever if Federal Judge Damon Keith ultimately gets his way in a case involving the Plymouth city charter.

Judge Keith ruled unconstitutional the entire section of the Plymouth charter requiring that city council candidates (1) be property owners and (2) be residents of "the city of homes" for at least two years prior to the election.

The city will appeal on point 2, and the case will be of interest to all Observerland cities because they all have residency requirements of at least one or two years. Judge Keith suggests the only requirement be that one be a registered voter, which requires six months residency in the state and 30 days in the community.

THE IRONY is that most governments, when hiring a clerical person, require that the person have some minimal level of education, usually high school. In fact, it's even necessary for a janitor who sweeps the floors to have some degree of literacy so that he can follow printed directions and read the bulletin board.

But do we require our councilmen and legislators to be wise? No. Do we require them to have some understanding of constitutional law, statutes, political science, economics, biology? No, no, no, no, no. Do we even require them to be literate? No.

The lawyers have an explanation for it. To run for a policy-making office is a "right," but one has no legal "right" to be a clerical employee or a janitor.

That may be good constitutional law, but it's hardly good sense.

And we are now at the point where, by Judge Keith's ruling, a city can't even require that its councilmen be around town for a year or two so that the folks can get to know them a little and size them up.

IN THE FIELD of political science, there's a theory that lawmaking bodies should be representative of the populace. By this theory we should have some degree of proportionate representation of occupational groups, races, sexes, age groups, income classes and levels of knowledge.

This contrasts to the old notion that the laws should be written and signed by the likes of Adams, Jefferson, Lincoln and that elitist crowd.

The new notion of democracy may make good constitutional law, but it's a dumb way to run a government — assuming, of course, that one accepts the debatable proposition that the people running a government should be smart.

Board Table Lobbyists?

The upsetting thing about the issue of so-called "advisory seats" on the Schoolcraft College board was not so much that it got four of the five votes needed for passage, but that it was even taken seriously.

Stripped of its gimmicky wording, what the Schoolcraft board was discussing wasn't "advisory" seats at all. It was discussing whether lobbyists should be seated at the board table with freedom to take part in the deliberations at any point.

Special interest groups — teachers, their unions, other staff, students, alumni, businesses and guardians of the public morals — have their place. They can and been discussed, including, the installation of a huge, lighted fountain in the center of Wilcox. This could be done, engineers claim, by burying pipe in the lake.

This fountain, which would recycle the water, would suck the water from the bottom and discourage weeds.

ASIDE FROM BEAUTIFYING the area, the lakes could be a perfect recreation link between the state park and Hines Parkway.

They not only would provide swimming, boating and fishing in the summer months, but ice skating in the winter. Thousands of young folks who now must accept the wee hours of the morning in neighboring ice arenas for hockey practice, could utilize the lakes for ice skating and practice and the older folks could enjoy an evening of skating, too.

County officials have frowned on the idea of deepening the lakes on the pretext that the anticipated cost of a half million dollars is too much.

Is it? The three lakes could not only provide recreation, and add to the beauty of the area, but also could be a tourist attraction.

If the north end of the metropolitan area can have Kensington Park, and the East Side enjoy Metropolitan Beach, the west side also is entitled to some outstanding facilities.

What could be better than Newburgh, Wilcox and Phoenix Lakes.

It's time to take another look.

Dismissal Has Plymouth Agog

By ELINOR GRAHAM

The recent manipulations of the Plymouth school board have been a topic of conversation at holiday parties in the area. There have been many unanswered questions and a few that have been answered.

General reaction to changing the lock on Supt. James Rossman's office is one of distaste and embarrassment to the whole community. It has brought up the query, "Could they be keeping evidence vital to Rossman's defense out of his reach?"

MEMBERS OF THE previous board of education have been asked, "Why on earth did you hire the man in the first place?"

The answer is always the same. The members say that after months of carefully studying the credentials of scores of applicants, Rossman topped the field with the qualifications they required. And after three years of working with him they maintain they had not regretted their choice.

In June of 1970, after three years in the Plymouth school system, Rossman discussed leaving the district, with the board. His point was that he did not want to follow the pattern of replacing a longtime superintendent and be criticized for not "filling his shoes."

The board persuaded him to stay. It seemed Rossman was his own man and was doing just what he had been hired to do.

Another mystery pops up. Consider the timing in this one.

An almost entirely new board took office later in June 1970. There was the usual summer vacation recess. But now we hear reports that in November of that year the board was unhappy with Rossman for not carrying out its directives.

In a short two months, this almost new board was becoming disenchanted.

"Could it be the new high school? Or the auditorium? Remember the fuss over that?"

It seems architects for the school were hired two boards ago, so he can't be blamed for that. The second high school is going along according to schedule.

As for the auditorium...that was explained. The orchestra pit had to be that deep to allow for a door into the storage rooms. The balcony had to have the extension that cuts down on the view of the stage from the front rows of seats. It was a compromise they had to make so the balcony can be divided into two classrooms by sliding walls.

"Maybe it was the teacher's strike?"

THE TRUSTEES MADE it very clear at the time that he was following the board's directives on that. Thus it can't be the strike.

So the questions continue: "How could the board take the awesome step of firing Rossman without all its members present?"

"Was Board Member John Graves really sick that night?"

"Was Board Member Wilson Sick at a party at Hillside Inn that fateful night?"

"Why was Ed Draugelis retained to represent the board in this matter when it already retains a firm which specializes in labor relations?"

"Did Rossman himself write the introductions for the dedication ceremony of the new high school, or did someone hand him a piece of paper with the suggested list?"

"Is the board divided into two cliques?"

Let us hope Rossman, the board and the community can come out of this situation with some shred of dignity.

Lakes Should Be Cleaned Out

Now that the wheels are in motion to complete the purchase of the Maybury Sanatorium and grounds and convert the area into a state park, the time has come to take a serious look at the three lakes—Phoenix, Wilcox and Newburgh—that will link the park with Edward Hines Drive-way.

Transition of the Maybury property is being made possible through a grant of $1.5 million from the federal government and it would be almost a mockery on the lavish plans to have the three lakes left in their present polluted condition.

FOR SEVERAL YEARS

attempts have been made to clean up the lakes and make of them a real recreation area much after the fashion of Camp Dearborn, near Milford. But with each attempt the Wayne County Road Commission has claimed there are no funds available for the work that would have to be done.

Those, in the know, who have looked at the lakes, claim they should be deepened. It is said that Wilcox Lake is little more than six feet deep. Because of this the algae flourishes and rises to the surface, making boating almost impossible—and fishing just a dream.

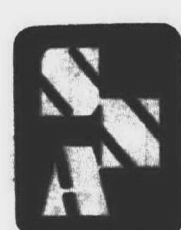

Along with the suggestion to deepen them, other plans have

Is A Man 'Un-American' Commissioners Split On Expenses To Flee Mediocrity?

EDITOR:

In reference to Emory Daniels' editorial in the Dec. 15 issue, I must say I enjoyed his tongue-in-cheek treatment of Quakertown and its quest for fifth class city status. I fully realize, in this rapidly changing society, how "un-American" it is to wander from mediocrity. We must not strive to live where we want to live, on whatever size lot our housing budget allows. We must not try to govern ourselves but rather put this power in the hands of increasingly larger forms of government.

That way we can all strive to be average. And I suppose that once we are a part of Farmington Hills, and some of our lovely scenery goes the route of reasoning, we should all feel "very average."

I kind of think we all like things the way they are, but that is being conservative and I realize that is becoming "un-American," just as "un-American" as our choosing to live here.

The manner in which Emory Daniels presents himself as quite an authority on the subject makes me wonder in which community he has chosen to live. I also wonder if his references to "X" movies (Valley of the Dolls) upon which he based his editorial, has anything to do with his "Americanism."

Anti-Crime Unit Lauds Tierney

EDITOR:

We, the members of the Wayne County Organized Crime Task Force, wish to thank and to commend Rep. James Tierney for his outstanding work on behalf of House Bill No. 4747, which would allow wire tapping, with many safeguards, in the fight against organized crime.

The work of Mr. Tierney in fighting and working for this bill in the House will, we hope, eventually result in successful

6 Adult Art Classes At Madonna

Six adult art classes will begin at Madonna College, 36600 Schoolcraft, Livonia, the week of Jan. 9. The courses will run for 14 weeks.

Interested adults seeking non-credit art courses at a nominal tuition fee of $24 may choose any of the following:

Workshop in drawing and painting (10 a.m. to 12 noon) on Monday consists of drawing in various media as a preparation to work done in oils and experimenting in water color and or oils.

Oil painting, (7 to 9 p.m.) on Monday, emphasizes color-mixing, positioning and achieving depth perception.

Advanced oil painting, (10 a.m. to 12 noon) on Tuesday, emphasizes a more contemporary approach to composition and techniques of painting, as well as abstraction.

A basic course in acrylics, (10 a.m. to 12 noon) on Tuesday, bridges a beginner from drawing to painting in acrylics.

Oil painting, (10 a.m. to 12 noon) on Wednesday, emphasizes composition with the subject matter left to the student's option.

Advanced oil painting, (7 to 9 p.m.) on Wednesday, is concerned with techniques in painting landscapes, street scenes and a certain amount of abstraction. There will also be experimentation in contemporary methods of painting.

Registration will take place in the art department on Jan. 7 from 7 to 8 p.m. and Jan. 8 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Sister Angeline will answer telephone questions.

Two Wayne County commissioners from Observ-erland voted for $100-a-month expense accounts the Board of Commissioners voted for itself last week. Voting for the expense pool were Richard E. Manning (D-Redford Township) and James McCartney (D-Westland).

John McCann (D-Livonia) voted with eight other commissioners against the proposal. The final vote was 14-9.

The 26 commissioners will be reimbursed for actual expenditures incurred in their work up to $100 per month under the plan. Expense vouchers must be submitted to the county Board of Auditors who will authorize the payments.

The expense accounts are in addition to the $10,000 salary paid each commissioner. The commissioners are prohibited by law from raising their own salaries during their terms of office.

If all the commissioners collected the $100 per month in expense, the total cost to taxpayers would be $31,200 annually.

Citizen Groups To Aid County

Two citizens committees have been established by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to help choose a new chief medical examiner and assist with reorganization of the county morgue.

The two groups are a professional credentials committee and the administrative organization and public relations committee. Both will advise the board's law enforcement and public safety committee, chaired by Eugene A. Sikora, Detroit.

Referring to the professional credentials committee, Sikora said, "This group of medical experts will give us professional help in selecting a highly-qualified pathologist to serve as chief medical examiner, and we are conducting a nationwide search to locate such a person."

"WITH assistance from the administrative organization and public relations committee we hope to improve the administrative operation of the office, until it is one that serves the public in the most efficient way possible," he added.

The professional credentials committee, to consist of five members, will include representation from the schools of medicine from Michigan, Michigan State and Wayne State universities, plus Harper Hospital and Wayne County General Hospital.

Members of the administrative organization and public relations committee are being recruited from both public and private agencies. Funeral directors, union representatives and communications personnel have also been invited to serve.

THE COMMITTEES will begin deliberations as soon as all members are chosen. Among those who have already agreed to serve on the administrative organization and public relations committee are:

Robert White, editorial director of WJBK-TV; Wayne County Prosecutor William Cahalan; and James H. Cole, Jr. of Cole Funeral Home in Detroit.

How Reps Ignored State Party Lines

By KATHY MORAN

An analysis of the votes cast by Observerland's eight state representatives on six of the major bills showed that, for the most part, the voting patterns of the local legislators were predictable. The area has at least two "liberal" leaders in Reps. Marvin Stempien (D-Livonia) and Joseph Forbes (D-Oak Park). More conservative voting patterns were evidenced in Reps. Richard Young (D-Dearborn Heights), James Tierney (D-Garden City), Raymond Baker (R-Farmington), and John Bennett (D-Redford Township).

Bennett (D-Redford Township).

Both Reps. Thomas Brown (D-Westland) and James Defebaugh (R-Birmingham) demonstrated fairly unpredictable or "swing" voting trends on major issues.

PROBABLY THE most progressive piece of legislation to gain approval in the Legislature this year was the lowering of the age of majority in Michigan from 21 to 18. Under the legislation, persons in the 18 to 21-year-old age bracket were given full adult status in all matters from purchasing a home to buying alcoholic beverages.

The change becomes effective on Jan. 1.

This bill saw Stempien, Forbes, Defebaugh and Brown behind it, while Young, Tierney and Baker were opposed.

The major bone of contention for conservatives in the bill was lowering the legal drinking age with opponents arguing 18-year-olds couldn't handle the responsibility and an increase of traffic accidents due to drunk driving would result.

Bennett pulled a reversal on this bill when he voted to keep a higher limit on the drinking age. This amendment failed, and Bennett then voted with liberals for the entire age of majority package, including the lower drinking age.

THE BILL that hit the taxpayers hardest was the 1.3 per cent increase in the state income tax effective in August. After a compromise on the actual amount of the increase, both houses approved the tax which is now at the 3.9 per cent level.

Again Stempien and Forbes voted with the liberal backers of the increased tax. Brown also voted for it as did Tierney.

Though many conservatives did not back the increase, Tierney is from an area which rarely opposes school tax boosts.

Voting against the tax hike were Young, Baker, and Bennett.

Splits Cross Party Lines

An analysis of voting patterns on six major bills indicated that the voting trends were:

"LIBERALS": Reps. Forbes (D-Oak Park) on all six votes, Marvin Stempien (D-Livonia) on all six votes.

"CONSERVATIVES": Richard Young (D-Dearborn Heights), four of six votes, James Tierney (D-Garden City) on five of six votes, Raymond Baker (R-Farmington) on five of six votes, James Defebaugh (R-Birmingham) on four of six votes, and John Bennett on 3 1/2 of five votes.

"SWING": Rep. Thomas Brown (D-Westland) three liberal and three conservative votes.

ANOTHER TAX bill considered by the Legislature was one to impose a five per cent tax on hotel and motel bills in Wayne County. Passed by both the House and Senate, the bill is now awaiting Gov. Milliken's approval. The estimated $2.5 million gained by the tax will be used in financing the Detroit stadium.

Assuming that the "liberals" would support the bill Stempien and Forbes by their affirmative votes again fit a predictable pattern. Both Bennett and Baker broke the patterns by voting with the liberals for the bill, as did Defebaugh.

Following the "conservative" vote against the bill were Young, Tierney and Brown.

LEGISLATORS considered several gambling bills this session, and one passed by the House would legalize off-track betting. It is now awaiting Senate action.

This time Young and Brown voted with Stempien and Forbes for passage. Tierney, Baker and Bennett voted against it.

The wiretap bill passed most recently by the House is evidence of a split between the more liberal legislators and those who are more conservative.

Expecting the liberals to oppose the bill, which it was argued would infringe on an individual's civil rights, Stempien and Forbes again fit the liberal tag by their opposition votes.

Conservatives argued for the bill, which won passage after a second vote. They argued that law enforcement officials are hindered without it in investigating major crimes.

Upon approval of circuit court judges, a 20-day warrant could be issued for wiretaps to county prosecutors under the House version.

Tierney was one of the main sponsors of the bill and was supported in the drive for passage by Defebaugh, Young, Brown and Baker. Bennett did not vote.

ANOTHER BILL that generally split forces in the House was the final passage of the $519.0 million welfare bill.

The compromise bill drew support from Stempien and Forbes as well as Young and Bennett. Voting against it were Tierney, Brown, Baker and Defebaugh.

Still facing action by the House when it reconvenes on Jan. 12 is action on the abortion reform bill passed by the Senate. One attempt to begin discussion on the bill in the House died for lack of a second.

Milliken's transportation package is bottled up in the House currently. The 19-member Black Caucus of the House is holding back its votes because of the mass transit program provided for in the bill.

A portion of the two cent per gallon gas increase would be used for mass transit, but black legislators are opposing the planned route on Woodward.

Generally, it is expected that the liberals will go for passage of the package and abortion law reform, but it remains to be seen how Observerland state representatives will vote on the issues.

No Vote Pattern Seen With 4 Area Senators

By KATHY MORAN

While Observerland's state representatives followed some general voting patterns during the recently-completed session, the area's four senators defied any such categorizing.

Issues such as abortion law reform and the increased income tax split the legislators for various and unpredictable reasons.

Though the Senate had its share of party line votes, the local legislators don't fall into a liberal-conservative classification.

ABORTION reform drew negative votes from Sens. David Plawewski (D-Dearborn Heights) and William Faust (D-Westland) but for entirely opposite reasons.

Sens. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) and Daniel Cooper (D-Oak Park) voted for the reform. The bill is awaiting House action.

Plawewski, whose 12th district includes Redford Township, has a large Catholic and anti-abortion constituency, but Faust voted against the bill because it wasn't liberal enough to suit him.

The bill which passed in March has a 90-day residency requirement as well as a provision requiring the father's permission if he is available.

IN KEEPING with the sentiment expressed by his constituency, Plawewski also opposed the no-fault divorce bill, which his three local colleagues supported. This bill cleared the House and was signed into law.

The 1.3 per cent income tax increase which was effective in August drew opposition from both Plawewski and Pursell. Faust and Cooper voted for the bill.

Pursell, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, has kept an eye on state financing and also voted against the revenue sharing bill that cleared the Legislature. After the revenue-sharing vote, Pursell said he opposed it because it just gives money to select cities. Also, he said it was not cleared through the appropriations committee and thus was not put into perspective in terms of the entire state budget.

The revenue sharing bill, also was opposed by Plawewski. It drew support from Faust and Cooper, both of whom said it was long overdue.

WHEN THE SENATE voted to approve the federal constitutional amendment giving 18 to 21-year-olds the right to vote in all elections, Faust was the only opposition vote from the area.

He said his vote was based on the fact that the Michigan voters had turned down the issue in two previous elections. Faust was a supporter of the lower voting age.

Most recently, the legislators split on both the welfare appropriations bill and the hotel-motel bill tax.

Faust voted against the $519.1 million welfare bill for the fiscal year which began last July 1.

Together with Cooper, Faust also opposed the five per cent tax on the hotel and motel bills in Wayne County. Plawewski and Pursell voted for the bill, which is part of the financing plan for the Detroit stadium.

'Dimes' Ball Will Welcome 1972

Observerland residents can dance in the new year and extend a helping hand at the same time by attending the New Year's Eve March of Dimes benefit dinner dance at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth.

For $20 a couple, participants will get a London broil dinner, dancing to the music of a professional band and a chance to win prizes donated by Plymouth merchants.

They also will have the knowledge they are contributing to the continuing battle against birth defects.

The ball is the first effort of its kind by the Plymouth March of Dimes committee, but Mrs. Barbara Olson, chairman, said the hope is to make it an annual affair.

"We want to give the people of Plymouth and the surrounding area a close-to-home place to go on New Year's Eve," she said.

The dinner will be served from 8:30 to 10 p.m., Mrs. Olson said, and a cash bar will be open all evening.

Tickets are the same price for all attending, she added, advising all couples to arrive in time for dinner.

An auction of some of the donated gift items will be one of the features of the evening. Others will be awarded as prizes.

Mrs. Norene Ferrari is co-chairman of the event. The ball committee urged advance purchase of tickets, which are available at D.D. Hair Fashions on Main Street in Plymouth, Pick of the Wick in the Plymouth Mini-Mall and Minerva's-Dunning's, or by calling Mrs. Robert Olson, 1464 Hartsough, Plymouth, or Mrs. Vincent Ferrari, 47840 Ford Road, Plymouth.

A limited number of tickets may be available at the door.

"Have fun for charity; bring the whole crowd," is the theme of the first annual March of Dimes New Year's Eve dance.

"We hope we're starting a tradition," Mrs. Olson said.

For St. Michael Parish

Holidays Now Mean Sharing

For members of St. Michael Catholic Parish in Livonia, Christmas and other holidays become each year a time for a little more sharing.

From children in the parish school, located at Plymouth and Hubbard, to women in the altar guild circles, the St. Michael outreach keeps widening.

Now included are several inner-city parochial schools, a lot of Detroit families, children who are patients in St. Mary hospital, and several Observer-area nursing homes. "The holidays mean more when we think beyond ourselves," said Sister Mary de Sales, principal of the St. Michael school. "And it's been a parish-wide effort - now some of our families keep up year-round contact with families in the inner city."

ACTIVITIES earlier this year have included taking about 600 candy-filled Easter baskets to three Detroit parishes - St. Leo, St. Anne and Most Holy Trinity - and distributing baskets of groceries to families in the inner-city at Thanksgiving.

Then at Christmas more baskets were delivered - to different families - and the children of the school brought gifts for distribution to the children in the downtown parishes.

"Each child picked out a new toy - one he would like to receive," said Sr. de Sales. "Then we wrapped and sorted the gifts according to age and sex, and some of the sisters from the school and women from the parish delivered them just before Christmas."

SEVENTH GRADE children at the school made caroling in nearby convalescent homes their special Christmas project, Sr. de Sales said.

"We were so pleased at how much the older people in the homes enjoyed having the children there," she added. "They wanted to touch them, and many told us the carols we sang were their favorites."

MRS. DOLORES WEINBURGER, who is St. Michael's vicariate representative for Christian service, told the different ways that the idea of service has spread through the parish. "Whole families get involved," she said. "Many families in our parish have 'adopted' families with children of similar ages that we met through our school visits."

"One bachelor asked what he could do this Christmas and I gave him the name of a family badly in need of sleepers for the children. He went out and bought them himself."

"A family in our parish that is moving to Arizona decided to give up part of its own

Christmas and supplied boots for a Detroit family.

"Our catechism classes have provided food for the baskets. A sewing group of older women meets each Tuesday and makes lap robes and slippers for patients at the nursing homes. One circle in the women's guild picks up the heating bill for a needy family each month."

"It's really mushroomed," said Sr. de Sales, and she and Mrs. Weinburger agreed that the activity is of great benefit to St. Michael giver as well as inner-city receiver.

China Painters Go Chinese

The Northville Spring China Decorators will hold their first meeting of the new year at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 6, in the Plymouth Credit Union.

Goldie Latchford will continue her workshop on decorating jars in oriental style. Members who have prepared the background finish to the jars will apply Chinese designs and gold filigree. Their completed containers will be similar to those likely to be seen in stores to foretell President Richard Nixon's visit to China in February.

GOP Unit Picks Slate

Norma Henderson was re-elected president at the last meeting of the Republican Women's Organization of Farmington.

Other officers are Mary Rairigh, first vice president; Elsa Harms, second vice president; Annabel Gabel, recording secretary; Pat Hamlin, corresponding secretary; and Willaine Northway, treasurer.

Plans for fund-raising events such as card parties and a fashion show will be made at the January board meeting.

Born Dec. 16

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trombley of South Lyon announce the birth of their first son, Kurt Franklin, Dec. 16, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. Kurt's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Norris White and Mr. and Mrs. E.F. Trombley, all of Plymouth.

Second Son

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Angilosanto of Livonia announce the birth of their second son, Ronald Joseph, on Dec. 1. The baby weighed nine pounds, one ounce, and was 20 1/2 inches at birth.

GIFTS WERE PLACED on the desks of children in Holy Trinity Catholic school in Detroit.

Spotlight on Women

Of course I wasn't really glad Christmas was over, I assured one of the girls on Dec. 26.

And I meant it. No matter how rushed the season, it never fails to excite me.

But because the rush may have communicated itself as strongly as the excitement, I'll make a few resolved before we pack Christmas away in cardboard boxes for another year.

One is that I'll write down now some of the things I thought of too late. And do them while there's still time next year.

I'll cut down a bit on plans, so we all can enjoy more the activities of the season.

Although I object to carols in the stores early in the shopping season, I'll get our own records into full view by Dec. 1. Then I won't be listening to my favorites for the first time on Christmas Day.

I'll be more a stickler for tradition, rather than giving in to expediency, realizing how much our time-honored ways of doing things mean to all of us.

Mainly, I'll try to keep in mind that Christmas is just one of 365—oops, 366—days on the 1972 calendar. I'll try to make the rest of them count, too.

MRS. ELEANOR DOCTOR, of Redford Township, has been named nursing director by the Four Chaplains Convalescent Center, 28349 Joy, Westland. She will help establish a new skilled nursing care wing, which will open next year. Mrs. Doctor, a registered nurse, is a 1967 graduate of Henry Ford Community College nursing school and worked at Edgewater, Mt. Vernon, Royal and Bloomfield Hills nursing centers before accepting her new position.

Prenatal Series Is Planned

The second in a series of classes for expectant parents will be offered by the Wayne County Health Department, beginning Jan. 10.

The classes will be held every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 in the South Oakland Health Center, 27725 Greenfield, Southfield. They run for eight weeks.

Registrations are being taken at the health department's education office.

The classes are co-sponsored by the Oakland County Medical Society and various adult education departments throughout the county.

Public health nurses deal with topics such as the mental health of the family unit, growth and development of the baby, before and after birth, labor and delivery and care and feeding of the infant.

Northwest YW Plans 100 Classes For Winter

Registration for winter classes at Northwest Branch YWCA, 25940 Grand River, will open Jan. 3. Classes will begin the week of Jan. 17.

Programs designed for men, women, teens and children will result in more than 100 classes this coming winter term.

CO-ED SUBJECTS for men and women will include fencing, golf, volleyball, swimming, general investments, yoga, Black history and an aircraft ground school. Leisure time skills such as bridge, painting, ceramics, guitar, decoupage and ballroom dancing will also be taught.

Activities for teens and young people include ballet, yarncraft, baby sitting, sewing, art, guitar, fencing, swimming and driver's education.

A special program on Saturday mornings for sub-teens includes a skill level swimming class. Preschoolers swim classes and a nursery program are also available.

PROGRAMS FOR women only include a ladies' day out package offered three days a week. Morning and afternoon classes will be given in such subjects as knitting, creative stitchery, sewing, bridge, physical fitness, art, crocheting, macrame, yoga, aqua gym, cooking, sculpturing, decoupage, ballet, ceramics, bowling and swimming. A nursery program is offered for infants and pre-schoolers.

Many of these same subjects will be offered during the evening hours. The popular powder puff mechanics will again be available.

Early registration is advised since all programs are limited in enrollment.

CLARENCE DORST samples a cookie made by his wife, Ruth. They recently marked 60 years of married life. (Evert photo)

Dorsts Of Farmington Now Married 60 Years

If he had to give a recipe for 60 years of happy marriage, Clarence Dorst of Farmington would say it's knowing when to "keep your lousy mouth shut."

"And that goes for both me and the missus," he added, grinning at his wife, Ruth.

The Dorsts, 21-year residents of Lilac Street, celebrated their 60th anniversary in November with three parties and messages of congratulation from President Richard M. Nixon on down.

"WE CERTAINLY weren't trying to see what a wonderful couple we could be," Mr. Dorst said. "I wouldn't give you anything for that kind of husband and wife."

The Dorsts were married in Cincinnati in 1911. Clarence Dorst had lived in that city all his life and Mrs. Dorst had moved there with her family from the tiny town of Terrace Park, Ohio.

"We met at church," she remembers. "He made eyes at me from the choir."

"You were smiling at me," her husband retorted. "Wonder it didn't get me fired—I got paid $10 a week then, too."

THE COUPLE moved to Detroit in 1916 and lived on American Avenue more than 30 years before taking up residence in Farmington.

"When we put down roots, they go deep," Mrs. Dorst said.

Dorst retired only five years ago from a Detroit brokerage firm. He enjoyed keeping active well past retirement age, but objected a bit when fellow workers asked visitors to guess his age.

"I'm 83, and my wife is 84," he said, "but I don't think it's something to play cute games about."

THE COUPLE has two sons, Thomas, who lives in Plymouth, and Robert, a Livonia resident. There also are four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. The youngest great-granddaughter, just 10 months old, recently received a pink and white afghan that is one of many Mrs. Dorst has crocheted.

Parties to honor the elder Dorsts' long marriage were held at the homes of son Robert and one granddaughter.

"And then our neighbors here on Lilac surprised us with a party one night," Mr. Dorst said. "That was really a surprise—we opened the door and there they were. Like someone blew the roof off the house."

The Dorsts used to be active in church work but find ill health keeps them from attending regularly now. Mr. Dorst is troubled by arthritis and his wife had a fall last spring.

"I was in the hospital and missed seeing our magnolia tree in bloom," she said regretfully, "and I couldn't do any gardening last year."

RUTH DORST said she does lots of crocheting and cooking and her husband is a crossword puzzle fan, though "he really doesn't like retirement much."

"It would be all right if you could get around more," he agreed. "But I can't complain—we like it here and have wonderful neighbors."

Urban Crisis Will Be Topic

"Urban Crisis" will be the topic at the next meeting in the First Thursday series sponsored by the adult education community of St. Gerald Catholic Church, 21300 Farmington Road, Farmington.

It is scheduled at 8 p.m. Jan. 6.

Richard B. Lobenthal, director of the Michigan regional office of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, will be the speaker.

State Rep. Marvin Stempien will lead a discussion period following.

Lobenthal is a faculty member of the department of sociology of Wayne State University and a private consultant in the field of civil rights and intergroup relations. He is currently president of the Michigan Association of Human Rights.

He will explain his thesis that "the urban crisis is in fact a combination of many of our most pressing social problems: crime, racism, urban sprawl and urban decay, lack of adequate funds, crisis in education, pollution, alienation and apathy — to name only a few."

Tickets are $3 for each session. High school and college students will be admitted for $1. Bill and Cathy Bechtel and Ken and Rosemary Doyle are in charge of arrangements for the series.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edward Finnimore, residents of Livonia for the last nine years, celebrated 50 years of married life Dec. 28.

They will be honored by their six children and their families in an open house Jan. 8.

The Finnimores were married in Toronto and lived in Detroit before moving to Livonia. Mr. Finnimore was employed by the Ford Motor Co. after 39 years service and retired in 1962.

Their children are: Ed Finnimore of Arizona, Don Finnimore of Livonia, Jack Finnimore of Walled Lake, Mrs. Viola Johnson of Farmington, Mrs. Cathy Bielek of Ohio, Mrs. Gayle Meyer of Livonia.

There also are 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Heirloom Pearls Worn By Bride

A string of pearls worn by four generations of brides in Susan Gail Brimhall's family was her "something old" when she exchanged vows with Duane Melvin Suomi in a recent ceremony in Satellite Beach, Fla.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brimhall of Graham Road, Redford Township.

The ceremony took place in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Suomi.

MRS. DUANE SUOMI (Susan Brimhall)

dress of blue and white flower print and carried a smaller version of the bridal bouquet.

The bridegroom's brothers, Dale and Dave Suomi, served as best men.

After a reception in the Suomi home, the couple left on a short camping honeymoon in Florida. They will live in Satellite Beach.

The new Mrs. Suomi is a 1971 graduate of Redford Union High School and her husband graduated from Satellite Beach High School.

Many Welcome Brannan Baby

John Christopher Brannan, the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Brannan of Garden City, had plenty of doting adults in the family to welcome him.

John, born Oct. 26 in Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Smith and Mrs. Arlene Brannan of Westland. He also has four great-grandmothers, three great-grandfathers and two great-grandmothers.

Museum Features Durer, Picasso

During the holiday season, the Detroit Institute of Arts offers a 101-gallery package of attractions and events.

In the south wing lobby, a new 10-minute film introduction to the museum is featured.

Prints and drawings by Picasso salute the world's most famous living artists on his 90th birthday in the main building.

Children of all ages enjoy "Look-Touch-Learn," the multi-media show that appeals to all the senses.

THE STAIRS just off the Kresge Court lead to the underground museum, where paintings and photographs show popular taste in the museum's early years, beginning with 1883. Underground hours are 1 to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday.

The museum, including the Kresge Court cafe, is open Tuesday through Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and admission is free.

Casting Call

Cast tryouts for the Southfield Community Players' production of "The Emperor's New Clothes" will be held in Levy Junior High School, Nine Mile between Telegraph and Beech, on Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 5 and 6. Auditions will begin in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Twelve speaking parts plus an open number of extras are required for the production. Persons applying must be 18 years of age, and or graduated from high school.

The play is scheduled for performances in Lederle Junior High School on Feb. 24 and 25 and in Birney Junior High School on March 2 and 3.

In addition, actors who audition must be available for an unscheduled benefit at Children's Hospital, plus two benefits the players have pledged to the Detroit Parks and Recreation Dept.

Amusements

SUSAN LATHAM of Farmington is playing the part of Hansel in the Greenfield Village Players presentation of "Hansel and Gretel." Performances are at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Dec. 29, 30 and 31. The final show will be at 2:30 p.m. Jan. 2. All performances are in the Henry Ford Museum Theater, Dearborn.

Bird Count Is Jan. 2

The Detroit Audubon Society will conduct its annual Christmas bird count on Sunday, Jan. 2, from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Those taking part will meet at the Cranbrook Nature Center. Each person will be assigned to a group with a particular territory to cover. To get to the center, take the road into Cranbrook from Lone Pine Road between Woodward and Telegraph. Yellow Audubon signs will direct participants to the center.

All over North America, the Christmas bird counts will take place. Detroit's official count will be sent to the national society, and the total count of the 700 or so groups participating is published in a paperback the following summer. Everyone who takes part in the count and contributes a dollar to help defray expenses receives a copy.

Participants are advised to dress warmly, and to take binoculars and a sack lunch to eat in the car at noon.

Singletons Will Meet Jan. 6

The Dearborn-Livonia Singletons will hold their next dinner social beginning at 6:30 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 6, in Master's, Seven Mile and Middle Belt, Livonia. Membership is for those between the ages of 25 and 45.

Artrain Will Arrive In Plymouth April 19

There's an Artrain in Observerland's Christmas stocking. It will arrive in Plymouth April 19.

Artrain is Michigan's answer to what to do when you're lucky enough to have three Renoirs, two Matisses, an Andrew Wyeth, a sculpture by Henry Moore and a statue of Chinese jade from the Ch'ing Dynasty and you want to show them to a lot of people.

Artrain is a five-car "touring art experience," which has been visiting cities, big and little, throughout the state since last May.

THE TRAIN will be making its first stop in Overland. Originated by the Michigan Council for the Arts, it will stand in Plymouth at the C&O siding at the Starkweather Avenue freight office until May 6.

Improvements in the appearance of the area are being planned by a site preparation committee. Other committees representing the Plymouth Fine Arts Council are planning a host of activities for the occasion.

Mrs. Ray A. (Jo) Hulce, 3275 McClumpha, is Plymouth's Artrain chairman.

SCHOOLS ARE encouraged to work with the local Artrain chairman and provide tours for their students.

There is no admission charge to visit Artrain, although visitors may leave donations in a box provided to help defray the cost of operating the train.

CARS ONE and two contain films, slides, art work and narration to familiarize the visitor with the importance of art in our society.

Car three is the gallery. Included in the exhibition are examples of work by contemporary artists, paintings, sculpture, ceramics, prints, weaving and jewelry.

Car four is the baggage studio car. Here, resident artists and invited local artists work in various media. Visitors are invited to ask questions and view, first hand, the creative process.

MSU Student Will Represent A YSC

A Livonia student, Stephen Misiewicz, has been named American Youth Symphony and Chorus student representative for this area. Misiewicz, who is a freshman majoring in music and television and radio at Michigan State University, was a member of the 1970 good-will concert tour of the group. He played first string bass in the orchestra. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Misiewicz, 36532 Jo Anne, Livonia.

There is a traveling staff. However, they do not live on the train, but stay in housing locally provided. Housing is the responsibility of the host community.

The A YSC, a non-profit educational organization, based in Chadron, Neb., will sponsor four good-will concert tours this summer. These will include the annual European tour for orchestra and chorus, a tour of Europe and the Mediterranean area by the Symphony of Winds and Chorus, a similar tour by the Symphonic Band and Chorus, and a music camp at sea concert cruise for orchestra, band and chorus.

The latter is a cruise to the Bahamas aboard the luxury Greek line T.S.S. Olympia.

Students between the ages of 15 and 21 may apply for the three European tours, and students 11 through 15 are eligible for the cruise. Interested persons should contact Misiewicz or write A YSC National Headquarters, 730 Main Street, Chadron, Neb. 69337.

Three very different types of movies are being shown in the four new theaters which comprise the newly-opened Tel-Ex Cinemas, Telegraph and 10 Mile Roads.

"Sometimes a Great Notion," the new picture which many think will bring Henry Fonda an Academy Award, is being shown in both the Tel-Ex 1 and 2. The movie also stars Paul Newman and Lee Remick. It is about a lumbering family in Oregon which cherishes its independence more than any benefits a union might bring it.

STARTING TIMES in the two theaters will be staggered, precluding long waits and lineups according to Harvey Farber, general partner of Tel-Ex Cinemas. "Medea," with Maria Callas in the title role, is another first-run movie, but one which is expected to have a more limited appeal. It is running in Tel-Ex 3.

Based on Euripides' story of Jason and the Golden Fleece, it has outstanding photography and scenery. The scenes of human sacrifice may be too vivid for many.

Farber says he will continue to show quality pictures in one of the Tel-Ex houses as long as the customers support them. "Since our auditoriums are small, we do not need too many people to keep these limited-appeal features running," he says.

IN LINE WITH another general policy is the third feature, "Summer of '42." The Tel-Ex intends to bring back big hits of past years which many people missed or would like to see again. "Summer" has been very popular in this area for about the past six months.

The $500,000 theater complex seats a total of 1,036 persons in two 303-seat auditoriums and two 215-seat auditoriums. It features the latest in motion picture theater equipment, including fully-automated Norelco F.P. projectors.

BAA Sets New Class

BIRMINGHAM The Bloomfield Art Association is now taking registrations for a young adult drawing and painting class. Designed for youths between the ages of 16 and 21, the class is entitled "painting for young adults." Richard Dexter, the teacher, will emphasize the variety of techniques possible through the use of acrylics as a painting medium.

The term will run for 10 weeks at the BAA, 1516 S. Cranbrook Road. Classes begin Jan. 17.

OCC Drama Program Needs Time, Money

By BETTY MASSON

It's a pretty safe prediction there'll be more productions at the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College (in Farmington) during 1972.

Two men who are directing the future of the theater program there are under no illusions. It won't be easy to make it grow.

But there are some encouraging signs.

Four recent all-student one-act productions were a success attendance-wise. There was no question about them being a financial success because they were free. But the students gained valuable experience in all phases of theater work from directing to carpentry work.

They also found that the project was a lot of fun and generated a lot of enthusiasm.

TO THE SURPRISE of Wallace Smith, drama instructor who oversaw the proceedings, and Dr. Daniel A. Greenberg, chairman of the department of speech and foreign languages, even the Saturday matinee was well-attended.

Looking ahead to the new year, Smith says more student productions are definitely in the works, two or three depending on time.

At the same time, Smith is planning to stage John L. Carlinio's play "The Brick and the Rose," which he will open up to the community participation with open auditions.

Dr. Greenberg and Smith are planning a "first" for Orchard Ridge for this spring. This will be a major production, "possibly a mystery story." This too will be open to community players.

"ENROLLMENT IN our department is looking up," says Dr. Greenberg. "In the speech and theater department, fall enrollment was about 35 per cent above the fall of 1970, and all signs from the mail registration indicate it will be even higher in the winter."

Dr. Greenberg will offer again his new course in film appreciation and history. Tying in with the student activities free film service, he'll show and discuss such films as "From Here to Eternity," "Intolerance," "Cat Ballou," "Little Caesar" and "Yankee Doodle Dandy." The new semester begins Jan. 10, and Dr. Greenberg will offer the courses on Tuesdays, between 1 and 4 p.m., and on Thursdays, from 7 to 10 p.m.

He's also hoping to stir up some interest in a debating team, by adding a one-credit adjunct (called forensic activity) to the debating course.

Smith is continuing with his play production course begun last winter and hopes to give his students, both young and old, a little extra experience by having them direct students in the acting classes. Smith also hopes to be able to offer advanced acting classes at OCC by next fall.

THIS IS SOMEWHAT astonishing progress in view of the difficulties a community college faces in building a theater program.

First problem is time. Many students work as well as attend school. Much time is spent commuting to and from school.

It's hard to find actors and actresses who can spare the hours necessary for rehearsals.

Secondly, it's a matter of space. "We really need a theater, but the whole money scene makes it difficult," according to Smith. At the moment, the theater department has commandeered two rooms in the basement of Building J. The one which they use for their theater holds only about 75 persons.

BESIDES BEING realistic about the difficulties they face in expanding the theater program, both Dr. Greenberg and Smith are realistic in their approach to teaching theatre.

Dr. Greenberg is as knowledgeable about carpentry as he is about movies. He got his start in theatre building scenery, and spent a summer at the Falmouth Playhouse in Massachusetts as a scene carpenter.

He has also done a lot of work on the technical side of theatre in the Detroit area, and before coming to OCC was business manager at Channel 56 TV. He received his BA from the University of Michigan in English, his MA in theatre from Wayne State University, and his PhD from Wayne from the radio and TV department.

Smith, who also has a BA and MA from WSU, regards acting as a craft, not an art, and says, "All my work is geared, not from what I've learned at college, but from what I've learned in the last 28 years. It's practical, not idealistic textbook stuff."

He has appeared in many productions in the area, including some with the Hilberry Theatre and the Detroit Repertory Company, and has worked in movies and on TV as well.

Presently he not only teaches, but also does many industrial films.

Smith's play production course includes instruction in conducting tryouts, casting, problems of directing, motivation of action and speech, stage business and production coordination.

And maybe from this beginning will come the students and members of the community with the devotion and enthusiasm needed to make stage productions a big part of community college life.

It won't happen tomorrow. But it's going to make strides in 1972.

EMU To Have 'Superstar'

YPSILANTI "Superstar," a production of the American Touring Company will be presented at 7 and 10 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 22, in Eastern Michigan University's Pease Auditorium.

Mail orders are being accepted now through Jan. 7. A self-addressed stamped envelope and a check should be sent to the Office of Student Life, Third Floor, McKenny Union, Ypsilanti. Tickets are $4 each.

4 Wheelers Meet Jan. 8

The Wolverine Four Wheelers will meet at Stan Sajewski's, 10111 W. Warren, Detroit, at 8:30 p.m., Jan. 8. The club is planning its annual hunt and hare race for four-wheel drive vehicles on Jan. 9. Members will meet at the Bloomfield Plaza, Maple and Telegraph Roads, at 9 a.m.

DICK BENSEK

Because no man had ever discovered how to splice and plant a mushroom seed, the ancient believed that bolts of lightning created these small vegetables. Many centuries through the ages, especially the Romans, appreciated the mushroom's distinctive taste and texture. But the mystery of their creation was matched by the mystery of how to tell the edible mushroom from the lethal one, and many, understandably, did not want to take the chance. Thanks to an enlightened generation of gourmets at the courts of Louis XIV, however, mushrooms are not so much of a mystery to us today. Otherwise, think of the lightning bolts it would have taken, merely to stock your local store!

It's no mystery why more and more people dine at DANISH INN, 32306 Grand River Ave., 476-5320 - It's the distinctive menu and fine service. We feature a number of Danish Dishes plus a complete menu of other foods with 33 entrees in all. We honor almost all credit cards and are open 11 a.m. - 2 a.m. with dinners during the week till 10 p.m., Fri. and Sat. until 1 a.m., closed Sundays. All of us at the Danish Inn wish you and your families a Happy New Year.

HELPFUL HINT: Use a cotton stocking to cover your baby's glass bottle; it keeps the bottle from slipping, and teaches the baby how to hold his own.

'Forced Bussing' Won't Integrate

So Detroit School Trustee Pushes 'Magnet' Plan

By EDWARD WENDOVER
There won't be forced bussing of school children, either between districts or within one district, if Patrick A. McDonald, member and past president of the Detroit Board of Education, has his way.

"Forced bussing may achieve desegregation by numbers, but integration is something else," McDonald said in a recent visit to The Observer Newspapers. "Force is not the answer."

McDonald, who says he's wrongly labeled a conservative because of his opposition to forced bussing, is the author of an incentive magnet school plan which was submitted in the Detroit school desegregation suit by the Detroit board as its top plan for achieving integration in the city's schools without involving suburban districts.

"MAGNET SCHOOLS," according to McDonald, would attract integrated student bodies because students would attend a specific school where a particular course of study is offered.

To provide an incentive for the regional school boards in Detroit to offer courses that would attract an integrated student body, they would be given additional money the closer their schools came to paralleling the racial mixture of the entire Detroit system, he said.

McDonald's plan was given preference over a second intra-district desegregation plan for Detroit that would involve bussing a limited number of students to different schools two days a week.

But in submitting the two plans to U.S. District Judge Stephen J. Roth, who is hearing the Detroit school desegregation case, the Detroit board said that a "metropolitan plan" (one which included suburban schools) was the only meaningful long-range solution to segregation in the city's schools.

THE FORMER Detroit board president, a lawyer by occupation, objects to the idea of a metropolitan school plan.

"All you're doing is creating a mammoth bureaucracy," he said. "How can a board oversee everything in a superdistrict?"

"The only reason Judge Roth would not go (to a metropolitan district) is if he's convinced by logic and reason that a metro-district just isn't educationally sound or administratively feasible."

—Patrick A. McDonald

educationally sound or administratively feasible; I'll be presenting that argument," McDonald said.

McDONALD SAID that some of the suburban districts should be represented in the Detroit desegregation suit since a metro-plan will at least be considered.

"I'm thinking of introducing a motion at our next board meeting instructing our attorney to seek admission of the suburbs into the suit," he told The Observer.

"This may sound crazy and idealistic — you can't live in a vacuum and say the hell with the suburbs. You have to get involvement," McDonald said, adding that a metro-district is not the answer to getting that involvement.

"If you're forced to do something, you tend to be counter-productive."

"Desegregation is a negative thing — it's numerical. Integration is a step beyond that where there is a working relationship of and, beyond the numerical mixing. It must be voluntary," he said.

"We're trying to see if we could come up with a plan that's educationally sound yet lead to integration."

"THE EASIEST thing for a person to do is to say, 'I'm against bussing' or 'I'm for it.' The toughest thing is to try to get some type of compromise that works."

McDonald termed the bussing issue "a fakey problem."

"It doesn't really get to the issue of segregation in society. It doesn't get to the underlying causes."

Reps Can't State Police Give Postal Expanding Lab References

U.S. Representatives are prohibited by law from giving recommendations for postal positions.

In response to continuing inquiries Congressman Marvin Esch (R-Ann Arbor) said that congressmen are prohibited from giving references by the Postal Reorganization Act of 1970.

Esch said that under this Act selections for the position of permanent postmaster are made by national or regional selection boards guided by the best principle of selecting the best qualified person.

These boards are made up of representatives from the Postal Service, the Civil Service Commission, the American Arbitration Association, university business school faculties, and management consultant firms.

Esch further pointed out that the Act clearly states that anyone who requests or solicits a recommendation is subject to disqualification from the Postal Service.

The Michigan State Police Crime Laboratory in Plymouth has received permission to erect a "temporary classroom" type building on its property.

In making the request for the temporary structure, Detective Lt. Kenard Christensen, commanding officer of the Plymouth facility, said the crime laboratories had exhausted the space presently available.

He said that the present staff size of 17, which began with five technicians when the laboratory opened, will be increased by four after Jan. 1.

The city commission unanimously approved the request.

Christensen said that the building would not be there for an extended period of time since the State Police are looking for a spot to build a new post, district headquarters and laboratory building in the Plymouth area, and the present building will be vacated when that is built.

The proposed structure would be about 10 feet wide and 50 feet long. "We feel that it would be barely visible from the street and would not be objectionable," Christensen said.

"I would like to thank (Plymouth Police) Chief Tim Ford and the Plymouth Police Department for the splendid cooperation extended us since we have been in the city," said Christensen. "It is this type of cooperation that improves law enforcement and makes Plymouth and the surrounding communities a better place to live."

Vet Employees Are Honored

Six Observerland residents will be among the 1,200 J.L. Hudson Co. employees honored for 25 year's service with the company. They will participate in the third annual banquet of the Twenty-Five Year Club on Jan. 6 in Cobo Hall.

Among those honored will be James Bethune of Westland, Lillian Fotiu, Mary Shaw and Kenneth Heckman all of Livonia, Robert Wright of Farmington and William Crick of Southfield.

If you've been looking for a way to get back into it for the New Year consider the variety of evening and Saturday extension classes we're offering for the Winter Term. College classes can provide you with an opportunity to meet people, exchange ideas and perhaps get a better grasp of things.

You can work toward a degree or certificate or expand your knowledge of a special interest area.

If you have never attended college classes before we'll show you how easy it is to get started.

Despite Brush Fires, OCC Is Accredited

By KATHY MORAN

After facing countless brush fires, and even a forest fire or two, Orchard Ridge Provost S. James Manilla says he has found his first year on the local campus of Oakland Community College "very stimulating, very interesting and always unpredictable." Since assuming the leadership post on the campus in Farmington a year ago, Dr. Manilla has had to cope with a seven-day faculty strike, a bombing, a black student protest, and discontent among some student and faculty groups.

But he has also seen expansion of the "Burst" education concept (an individualized approach to learning), the college earn its accreditation from North Central Association, and the work on his doctorate degree wind to a close.

STUDENT enrollment increased over the year period. Orchard Ridge is one of four campuses of Oakland Community College. The total OCC enrollment fell for the first time from 15,000 students in the fall of 1970 to 14,563 this fall.

But at Orchard Ridge, enrollment increased from 6,114 in the fall of 1970 to 6,253 this fall.

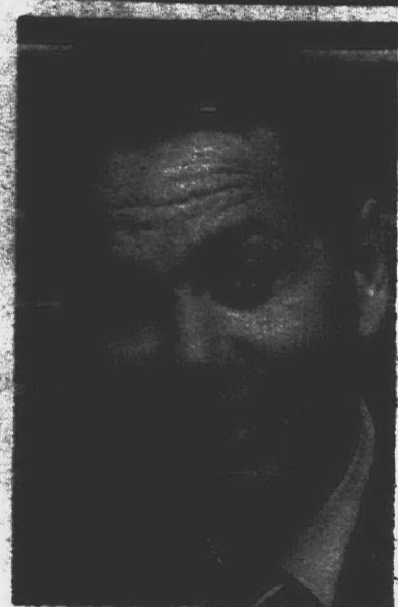

Dr. Manilla said he doesn't want the campus enrollment to grow much more—not beyond the 7,000 level.

"Beyond the 7,000 level, a campus tends to get dehumanized and depersonalized. I'm strongly opposed to that."

The 46-year-old provost tries to become acquainted with individual students and faculty members. One method he uses is a regularly scheduled "rap session" where he leaves his office in the administration building and takes a chair in a lounge in the student activities office. There he casually chats with students or discusses controversial issues they are concerned about.

REFLECTING on his experiences in nearly 15 months as provost, Dr. Manilla said, "There is a struggle for power in education among the students, faculty and administrators."

"There is a shifting of power to faculty and students, but once they have attained the power, it becomes a problem

"There is a struggle for power in education among the students, faculty and administrators. There is a shifting of power to faculty and students."

and took us into the mid-semester to adjust afterwards."

Since the college calendar was not extended to make up for the lost classes, "It meant we had to cram seven days into the semester," he said.

Some classes met on Saturdays and extra times during the week to make up the lost time, but "the trauma of a strike is something you have to learn to live with," he said, adding that the strikes are part of the "trend of the future."

A WEEK of protests interrupted the spring semester and climaxed when two pipe bombs were exploded in a biology lab. No one was injured in the bombings and since that time three youths who were not OCC students were arrested and convicted.

But out of the discontent expressed by a group of students, Project Oakland County grew.

The project was an attempt to recruit economically disadvantaged students from Oakland County to the college. The 50 students involved in the project at present meet weekly with counselors and get individual attention.

"It is amazing how difficult it is to find the students who are interested in higher education and to keep them interested in their education once they get here," he said explaining that often their background and home life are complicating factors.

ANOTHER project drawing his attention is one designed to beautify the ultra-modern campus. Though the design for the campus was an architectural award, Dr. Manilla said that during some seasons the college looks like "nothing but brick and mortar."

"A landscaping plan was drawn up once, but its cost was prohibitive." Now a project is under way to get people from the community interested in aiding the aesthetics of the campus.

"We hope to get people from the community to take an area of the campus and develop it and maintain it as their own." Already the Farmington Garden Club is getting involved he said.

TAKING an overall look at his brief tenure, Dr. Manilla said his one regret is the lack of time he has had to analyze the future and direction of the campus.

Now that he has completed his 500-page doctoral thesis on the history of the college from 1964 to 1969, the college can assess where it has been.

"A number of what I call 'brush fires' occur daily and must be attended to. I have had little time to reflect, plan programs and determine the direction of the college," he said.

"But I have learned to live with the daily brush fires and problems that occur. Now I'll have some time to sit down and assess where we are going as a campus."

Apprentice Programs Open At Schoolcraft

Opportunities for persons to improve their job skills through "related instruction" (apprenticeship) programs at Schoolcraft College have never been better.

According to Ken Schultz, the college has openings in 24 trade and industrial-related areas. Four major fields of study are offered: (1) Design-drafting; (2) machine trades-machining; (3) manufacturing trades; and (4) service-maintenance trades for industrial application.

Schultz is the director of the apprenticeship program which currently has facilities and classroom openings for up to 200 new enrollees. There are no entry tests or qualifying exams, and for many the tuition and fees are paid in full or in part by their employer.

The Board of Trustees recently adopted new policy which will enable Schoolcraft to enter into contracts or agreements for instructional programs and services with business, industry, and governmental units located within the College district. Under the policy the college will be able to offer in-district tuition rates for employees included in such agreements.

Apprentices may attend either day or evening classes. Most have just one class weekly, usually one to two hours long. Evening classes at Schoolcraft are conducted from 5 to 11 p.m. Programs are usually completed in four years.

HERE'S HOW to enroll in the program:

1. Request a work authorization form from the College. This may be done by telephone or by mail (18000 Haggerty, Livonia 48151).

2. Have the form completed and verified by your employer and return it to the college.

3. Await notification from the college for advising dates and an appointment with Director Schultz, who will assist you in selecting a program of study.

4. Return to the college for registration at the assigned time this coming Jan. 3 and 4. Late registrations will be accepted through Jan. 11.

Employers may call or visit the college for complete details about the apprenticeship program. The office is open daily until 5 and special appointments will be arranged by Schultz.

APPRENTICESHIP training is governed by the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training of the U.S. Department of Labor.

The bureau writes the educational standards which call for agreement among the employer, the union and employee. A large part of the program is conducted in-plant or through on-the-job training assignments.

All instructors in the program at Schoolcraft are journeymen in their own right. Because they are gainfully employed in the areas in which they instruct, they are able to transmit the practical application of skills and training.

The program offers 13 separate classes in mathematics. These range from basic shop math to electrical trigonometry and vectors.

Other classes in basic print reading, industrial safety, slide rule, welding, air logic and fluidics, electrical A.C. and D.C. fundamentals, and basic fundamentals of drafting will all be offered during the winter term.

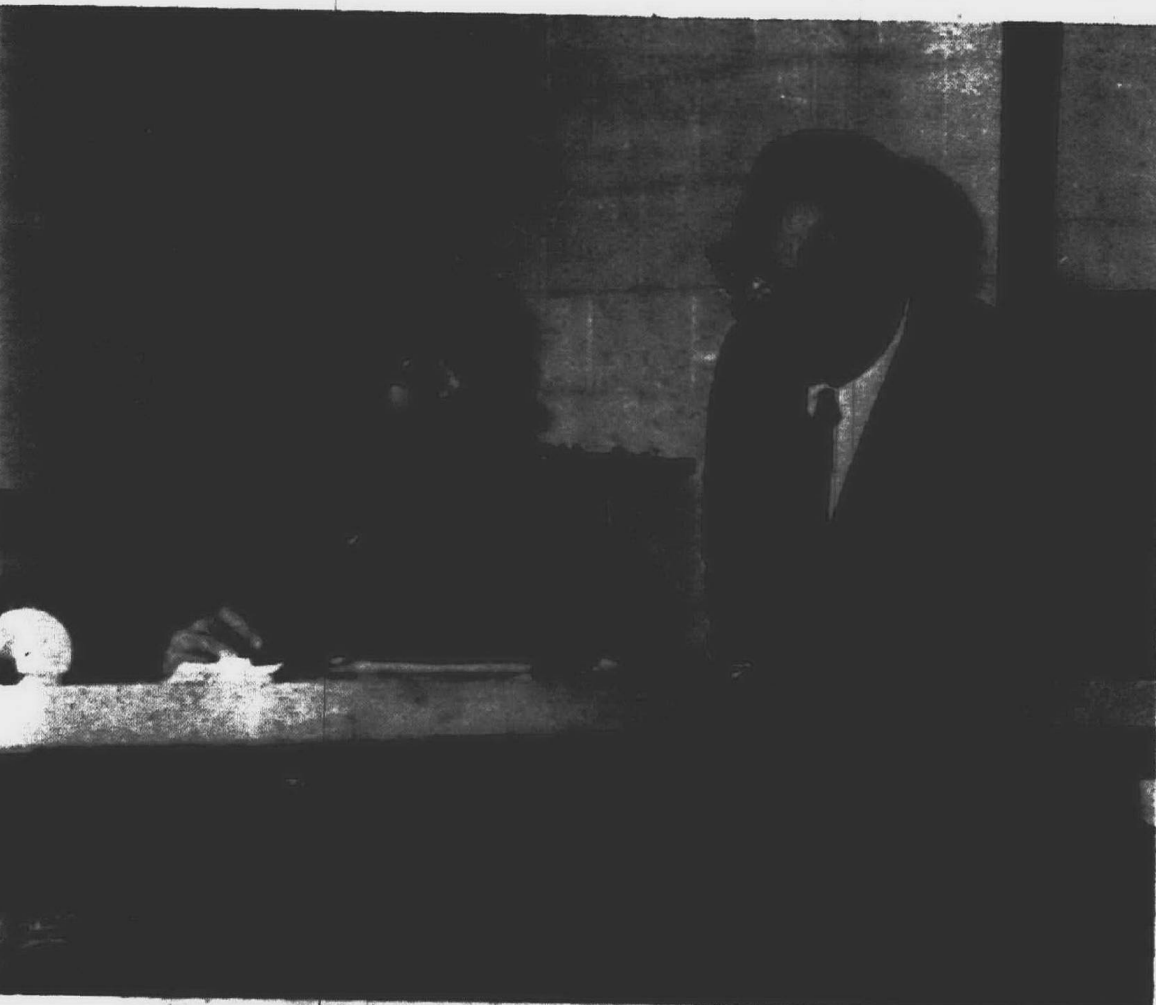

Persons interested in attending the winter term should contact Schultz at the college without delay. Those wishing general information may request a booklet describing the entire program and class offerings, including class and course descriptions.

OU Evening Classes Set

ROCHESTER The winter 1972 term of evening non-credit courses offered by Oakland University's division of continuing education will begin the week of Jan. 17. More than 150 courses in liberal and applied arts and sciences, technical areas, plastics, management, business, computers and real estate are available.

Unusual cultural courses including four state dinners on international themes, two wine appreciation courses, and an evening with liquors and brandies will be held at Meadow Brook Hall, the division's center for living and learning.

New courses in liberal arts and sciences are "the sparkle and terror of modern fiction," beginning conversational Chinese, religions of man, stress and growth in self and society, modern life — beautiful or ugly, individual adjustment — abnormal psychology, mystery of the person and creative thinking. In applied arts and sciences, new courses are automated multiphasic health testing, legal terminology, light home improvement and repairs, and efficient reading for high schoolers.

Two new technical courses in refrigeration and air conditioning include code and licensing.

New management and business courses are negotiating and administering the labor agreement, organizational responses to change, operations and the people who do them, effective executive presentations, facility planning workshop, and your money—use it or lose it.

Real estate courses offered for the first time are appraising for condemnation and exchanging, investment and home trade-in.

Legislators Named To Task Force

State Sen. David Plawecki (D-Dearborn Heights) and State Rep. Raymond Baker (R-Farmington) were among 17 persons appointed by Gov. Milliken to a task force to prepare a State Environmental Education Plan.

The proposed plan will enable Michigan to participate under the Federal Environmental Education Act.

The four objectives of the committee are to develop instructional materials on the environment; to disseminate materials and information relating to curricula on environmental education to schools, mass media, organizations and the general public; to develop comprehensive environmental education training programs for educators, business and industry, governments, organizations and the public; and to develop curricula models in elementary through adult education.

Assembly Of God To Hold Crusade

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Blythe of Nashville, Tenn., will be the evangelists for a "Deeper Life Crusade" in the Plymouth Assembly of God Church, 4201 E. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

The crusade will begin Dec. 31 and continue through Jan. 9.

There will be a Watchnight service Dec. 31 beginning at 9 p.m. and continuing past midnight. There will be no service Jan. 1. Schedules of other services are available at the church.

Rev. Blythe has held the position of Tennessee district aide - de - camp of the Royal Ranger program, the official boys' organization of the Assemblies of God. A graduate of Central Bible College, Springfield, Mo., he was elected to membership in Delta Epsilon Chi and was named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." He is a member of the Tennessee District Council of the Assemblies of God.

The Rev. Warren B. Tyler is pastor of the Plymouth church.

THE REV. AND MRS. CHARLES E. BLYTHE

Religion Classes To Begin Jan. 5

Morning, afternoon and evening sessions will be conducted in the Livonia Lutheran School of Religion, planned for every Wednesday between Jan. 5 and Feb. 9.

All interested in attending should call the education office at Faith Lutheran Church, 30000 Five Mile Road, Livonia.

THE MORNING sessions will be held from 9:30 to 11 a.m. in All Saints Lutheran Church, 8850 Newburgh Road. The Rev. Arnold Jahr will conduct a study of Galatians, entitled "Free to Live."

The afternoon class will be held from 1 to 2:30 in Sword of the Spirit Lutheran Church, 34563 Seven Mile. The Rev. William Lindholm will lead a discussion of "The Old Testament: How to Read and Interpret It."

The evening sessions will be held from 7:45 to 9:30 p.m. in Holy Cross Lutheran Church, 30650 Six Mile, and will include a variety of topics.

Dianna Werlinger will discuss "Why Should I Believe in God the Father," a course for teens and all "young at heart."

"REVELATION" will be discussed by the Rev. Dale Krueger. "Racism in Society," a study of the problems confronting American society is the topic chosen for discussion by members of the Inter-Faith Center.

Cost for the course is $2.50 per person. There is a maximum charge of $5 per family. A baby-sitting service will be provided for morning and afternoon sessions only.

Watch Night Rites Set

"Watch night" services to usher in the new year are planned in several Observer-News papers churches.

Members of the Northwest Church, Christian and Missionary Alliance, Farmington, will mark the last evening of 1971 with a church family dinner at 8 p.m. in the Western Beef Buffet, Birmingham.

A fellowship gathering in the church hall will follow the dinner, with slide presentations reviewing the church year.

From 10:30 p.m. to midnight, there will be worship in music, hymn singing and sharing of the Lord's supper. The church is located at 26111 W. 10 Mile.

A WATCH NIGHT vigil is planned in Judson Baptist Church of Farmington from 9 to 12 p.m. on the last night of the year.

Ward United Presbyterian Church, Farmington Road and Six Mile, Livonia, will show the feature-length film, "Lost Generation," at 10 p.m. New Year's Eve.

The movie is a documentary-style look at attitudes in this nation on dissent, violence and the mood of America, and features appearances by Billy Graham, Art Linkletter and Jack Webb.

Following the film, which is free, there will be an 11:30 p.m. service with Dr. Bartlett L. Hess preaching on "The Days of Our Years."

PEACE LUTHERAN church, Merriman and West Chicago, Redford Township, will have a family candlelight service at 8 p.m. New Year's Eve.

Holy Communion at 8 p.m. is planned in Faith Lutheran, 30000 Five Mile, Livonia.

Plymouth will greet 1972 with an 11 p.m. service Dec. 31. The Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ, 4200 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, plans a communion service at 7:30 p.m.

NEW YEAR'S morning services also are scheduled by several churches, including St. Andrew Episcopal 16900 Hubbard, Livonia. Holy Communion will be served there at 10 a.m.

Covenant Church Hosts Wheaton Musicians

Covenant Community church in Redford Township will host the Wheaton College Symphony Orchestra and Chamber Singers in a concert at 7 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 2.

The church is located on Beech-Daly a block north of Five Mile, and the public is invited.

The orchestra and choir, directed by Arthur D. Katterjohn, assistant professor of music, also plans a concert in the Highland Park Baptist Church, 26000 Lahser, Southfield, at 4 p.m. the same day.

Debora Knipschild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Knipschild Sr. of Plymouth, plays oboe in the orchestra. She is a freshman at Wheaton.

In both appearances, the 53 instrumentalists and 21 singers will perform symphonic orchestra literature, sacred choral music and a sacred cantata.

The orchestra plays Dvorak's "New World Symphony" and Rimsky Korsakov's "Russian Easter Overture." The chamber group sings five selections and combines with the orchestra for Vivaldi's "Gloria."

The current tour itinerary also takes the group to Ontario, Detroit, Saline, and Holland, Mich.

bachelor and master of music degrees from the University of Michigan where he was a member of the marching and symphony bands.

After graduation, he served as director of bands at Saline area schools for 13 years. During this time he also was associated with the University of Michigan Extension Service serving as conductor of the University's Youth Band.

In 1968, after four years as band director of the Joliet Township high schools, Katterjohn joined the Wheaton faculty.

Wheaton, which maintains five music organizations for its students, is a coeducational liberal arts college combining conservative Christian faith and practice with high academic standards.

Christian Maturity Subject For Series

The Good Shepherd Reformed Church, 6500 N. Wayne, Westland, will present a 10-week series of lectures and workshops dealing with Christian maturity.

The series, conducted by the Rev. Herman H. Riffel of Grosse Pointe Farms, begins in January. Rev. Riffel, who has been a Baptist pastor for 25 years, recently returned from a lecture tour in Southeast Asia and the South Pacific.

He served as a church pastor in Ecuador in 1966 and 1967 and later studied at the Carl G. Jung Institute for Psychological Studies in Zurich, Switzerland.

the series will be Jan. 4 and Jan. 11, in the Good Shepherd Reformed Church. The series will then be interrupted for three weeks while Rev. Riffel is away.

It will resume Wednesday, Feb. 9, and will continue every Wednesday through March 29. The time of all meetings is 7:30 p.m.

A REGISTRATION fee of $10 per person ($15 per couple) will be used to defray the leader's expenses. Scholarships are available for those who are unable to pay the fee.

Information can be obtained and registrations made by calling the Rev. Wayne Joosse at Good Shepherd Church.

PHS Delegates Win 4 Key Statewide Posts

PLYMOUTH
The 35 Plymouth High School students who attended the recent 23rd YMCA Youth Legislature at Lansing learned their lessons in practical politics so well they elected four of their group to some of the highest offices in state government.

Granted that they reigned only for three days, it was what one of the Plymouth students called "a fantastic experience" when the more than 400 delegates from throughout Michigan elected Mark McKelvey as speaker of the House of Representatives. They also turned in winning margins for Tom Stoeker and Debbie Slider as clerks of the House and Martin Korte as chaplain.

Plymouth's delegation also had four losers as a further lesson that State Capitol politics aren't all peaches and cream. These were Debbie McAllister, who was a candidate for governor; Carol Cavell, lieutenant governor; Debbie George, secretary of the Senate, and Frank Krone, also a candidate for one of the chaplain posts.

Except for the title of governor, which went to Philip Claypoole of Cassopolis, two nominees were elected to each post. This permitted one to meet with committees while the other was in chambers.

DELEGATES WERE sworn into office in a joint session by Supreme Court Justice G. Mennen Williams and also were addressed by House Speaker William Ryan, Reps. Jackie Vaughn III and John Engler, and Lt. Gov. James Brickley, who was the keynote speaker.

Brickley stressed the opportunity available to most of the delegates who will turn 18 shortly, now that they have been granted the right of franchise.

He stressed his deep regard for America's youth, and also his concern that voter turnout in the under-21 age group in this year's national elections had not come up to optimistic predictions.

Susanna Herkia, a

Plymouth High School exchange student from Helsinki, Finland, attended as an honorary member of the Plymouth delegation. The group's chaperones were William Gretzinger, Mrs. Harold George, Mrs. Doyal Gray and Mrs. Morris McAllister.

CANDIDATES FOR office were required to present brief remarks and outline their purposes, and McKelvey based his candidacy for the speakership of the House on this statement:

"In serving as speaker of the House, I hope to enrich my values and expand my horizons of your government. I feel that if I were to hold this office, I would be an attribute to our Youth Government. I am qualified and, if elected, promise to do my best."

He is a member of the PHS student council, editor of the school paper, Boys State representative and is a member of the Latin Club, debating team, Exchange Club, Teen Age Republicans and Junior Peace Corps.

Letters To The Editor

Stolen Lights Bring Disgust

Editor:

Would you kindly insert the following in your next "Letters to the Editor" column: Open Letter to Christmas Light Thief:

On the night of Sunday to Monday, Dec. 19-20, you decided that your house and/or your Christmas tree looked barren without some pretty Christmas lights, so you did the thing that naturally comes to most of us: you went out and got some.

There's a difference, however. Normal, decent people go out and buy them - it's one of the ways of saying Merry Christmas to neighbors and passersby.

If you enjoyed your Christmas better by having stolen three measly strings of lights in front of our house, then so be it for I feel very sorry for you. Those lights had been put up primarily at the expressed request of our three children who, perhaps fortunately for them, are learning at an early age that people like you will steal anything, even a symbol of a good and wonderful thing like Christmas, if it is not nailed down. Have you considered stealing candy away from babies for your next kicks?

ElectrionGroup Still An Issue

EDITOR:

Now that the city election is long past, and since ex-Republican State Rep. (one term and newcomer to our midst) Anthony Licata chose to use my name quite freely in a letter to the editor in the election issue, I would like to claim the privilege of pointing out that he answered few if any questions that I had raised about the local GOP front group named the Plymouth Civic Federation.

If its purpose is to combat public apathy it would seem that this first effort fell short of success as the same dismal turnout elected their slate, (and 1/2 the Democratic slate.) We are fascinated that it is not an open organization and grateful to Mr. Licata for explaining this.

As for being a legally organized group and registered in the Wayne County clerk's office, I was informed that it was an assumed name, upon whose papers Mr. Licata's name appears alone. Political parties are not self-appointed and do not have the right to exclude citizens.

Mr. Licata, let me assure you that there is very little difference in not excluding the public and just not informing them in advance of your interviews.

While I applaud all and any citizen efforts to increase the vote, it would seem far more honorable for the GOP to make their endorsements in the open as the Democrats did.

The rest of the questions remain unanswered. I'd still like to know how many members were represented Oct. 5, 1971.

Lock Switch Offers Laugh

EDITOR:

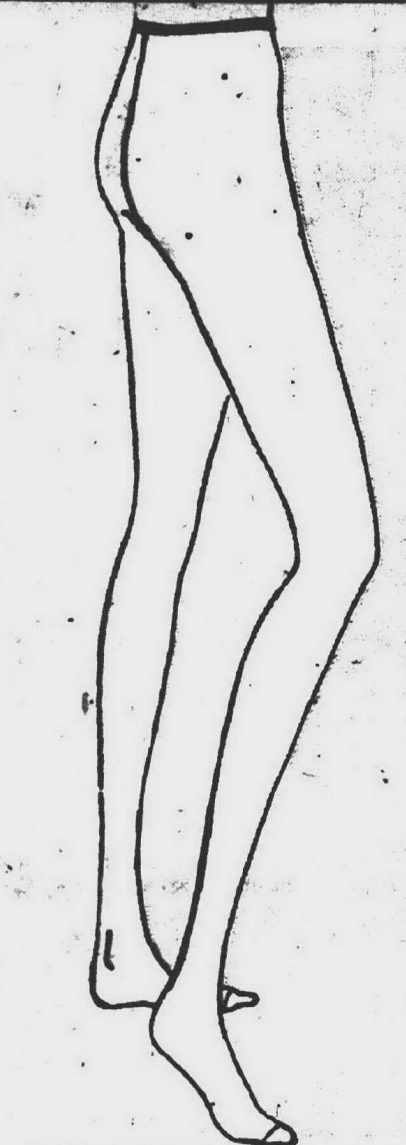

Except that a man's career might be at stake, the item in your paper about the school board changing the lock on Supt. Rossman's door was hilarious.

That maturity level is appropriate in any of the school system's fourth grade classrooms, but I have to laugh picturing the Plymouth Board of Education chanting "Nyaa nyaa, nyaa nyaa" while keeping the new keys just out of Rossman's reach. Good grief.
