Circus Fanfare

There will be a circus flavor to a February concert by the Plymouth Community Band, for the special guest will be the man who is known as the "Toscanini of the Big Top," Merle Evans. Bifocals tells of the Evans career, capped by half a century as Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey bandmaster.

EIGHT SPECIALLY DESIGNED tables for the use of physically handicapped and retarded children at Elm School, the northwest day training center at 12330 Middle Belt, recently were completed by shop students of instructor Pat Gorman at Central Junior High School. The tables are adjustable in height and have spaces that permit children to play opposite each other

Canton Trustees Voice Opposition To Bussing

By FRED DeLANO

In a strongly worded resolution which objects to using school children as "chattels" to bring about equal civil rights, the Canton Township Board of Trustees has taken a firm stand against cross-district bussing.

The Plymouth Township board expects to consider a parallel measure in its Feb. 8 meeting. Although its language may not be as forceful and as all-encompassing as the Canton resolution, the Plymouth document will embrace the same anti-bussing concept. It is being drawn by Supervisor Maurice M. Breen, upon instruction of his colleagues.

The issue stems from the Detroit school integration case before U.S. Judge Stephen J. Roth, one which has raised the possibility that to achieve integration in Detroit students may be bussed from one district to another within Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

Plymouth School District's Board of Education voted only last week to authorize its legal counsel to intervene in the Detroit case.

The board said at that time that "it is the intent of this school district to maintain the concept of neighborhood schools" and to "maintain as nearly as possible local control of schools."

In taking the intervention action, the board followed a lead already established by several other school districts which could be affected by the ultimate Roth decision.

THE CANTON resolution was adopted unanimously and reads:

"Whereas, the Charter Township of Canton is unalterably opposed to usurpation of any constitutional rights of the citizens of this community, and

"Whereas, our nation has for generations protected the rights of the 'American Family,' and

"Whereas, this and many other communities are appalled by the judicial cloud allegedly promoting the forcible movement of students from one community to another for integrated schooling purposes, and

"Whereas, the Township Board in no way intends to interfere with the education of the Canton Township students, however, it does intend to protect at all lengths their inalienable right as citizens of Canton Township, and

"Whereas, the Township has the responsibility to protect the life, limb and liberty of its citizens, and

"WHEREAS, student cross-bussing would, if permitted and tolerated, springboard the forcible movement of citizens from one place to another for undefined purposes and time without even a requirement for license or permission, and permission, and

"Whereas, the Township Board believes the United States President, Congress and Supreme Court should in the exercise of their respective governmental obligations and rights, strengthen not weaken our 'American Family' structure,

"Let the father and the mother decide the destiny of their children and prevent the 'authors of cross-bussing system' from using our children as chattels in spearheading their gimmick for so-called equal civil rights. Let our family stand upon that which our nation was built; without it everything is lost, and

"Whereas, the Township Board likewise believes that the Governor, the House and Senate and Supreme Court for the State of Michigan should strengthen the line for freedom and oppose any invasion of the personal and human rights for all of the citizens of the State of Michigan.

"BE IT RESOLVED, the Charter Township of Canton officially declare its opposition to the forcible cross-bussing of students of this community to another community or any other movement of its citizens being forcible in nature of principal. "Be it further resolved, that the Township Board urges the citizens of Canton Township to make known their opposition to such a movement and the complete support of the Township Board in this matter.

"Be it further resolved, the Township attorney be placed on the alert with full authority to institute judicial proceedings for and on behalf of the citizens of the Charter Township of Canton in the event notice is served upon the Township or any of its citizens in an attempt to force such movement on the citizens of the Charter Township of Canton."

City Paving Plans List 16 Projects

The most ambitious street resurfacing program ever undertaken by the City of Plymouth in a single year is being projected by the municipal administration for 1972.

Six projects are scheduled for work this spring, and City Engineer Thomas Waffan hopes to get commission authorization to proceed with 10 more in the fall.

When the commission meets next Monday it is expected to adopt a resolution declaring its intent to issue special assessment and general obligation bonds that will make possible the spring paving of these streets:

Carol, from Forest to McKinley; Caster, from N. Holbrook to N. Mill; Harding, from Maple to Burroughs; Karmada, from Junction to Farmer; Junction, from Sheldon to Karmada, and Simpson, from Main to McKinley.

Total cost of these six projects is estimated at about $369,000. Of this, $188,000 would be passed on to property owners in the form of special assessments and $181,000 would be paid by the city-at-large.

THOSE PROJECTS alone stand to make this Plymouth's busiest paving year since a $2 million, five-year resurfacing program was proposed by Waffen in 1970 and subsequently given commission endorsement. However, it may not stop there.

The city engineer said this week that "we're also trying to shoot for these jobs to be done next fall."

Kellogg, from Maple to its south end; Deer, from Wing to the south end; Union, from Mill to Holbrook; Beech, from Harvey to McKinley; Hartsough, from Harvey to McKinley; Dewey, Harding and Roosevelt, all from Hartsough to Ross; Farmer, from Sheldon to the railroad and Pacific, from William to Blanche.

In 1969, portions of McKinley, Blanche and Wing were resurfaced. Included in 1970 were Palmer, Joel R. Sheridan, Forest and the Farmer extension. Last year, sections of Wing, Deer, Ann Arbor Trail, Holbrook and William were paved, but at no time have the sights been set as high as they are for the months ahead in '72.

Meanwhile, the commission also is pondering construction of a connecting link between Deer and Union through Kellogg Park, and is cooperating with the County Road Commission on plans for the remodeling of the intersection of Main and Mill Sts. The latter is not expected to reach the physical construction stage before 1973.

Rossman Issue Is Still Stalled

By KATHY MORAN

Three weeks have passed, and still deposed Supt. James Rossman and the Plymouth Board of Education have not reached an agreement.

Meanwhile, Rossman continues to collect paychecks from his $28,000-a-year salary.

The fired superintendent was offered the position of consultant to the acting superintendent, but Rossman has yet to start working.

Rossman says he hasn't been called to duty yet, but trustee George Lawton said the board is eager for Rossman to assume his responsibilities.

"They haven't given me assignments or office facilities or clerical assistance," Rossman said. "I'm ready to respond to their request."

Lawton said Rossman's duties are outlined in the proposed settlement agreement, but Rossman hasn't responded to them.

"The duties have been outlined for Mr. Rossman in the proposed agreement," Lawton said. "If those duties aren't satisfactory, I would hope they could be amended so he could begin work as soon as possible."

IT IS assumed that Rossman will be assigned to work in the areas he is most familiar with. Lawton acknowledged that some of these areas might include work with the area planning commission, a population and growth study, the resulting affect on school facilities and a transportation study.

In any case, Rossman's responsibilities won't be trivial and will be commensurate with his professional experience.

While Rossman is awaiting a directive related to his new responsibilities, he is also taking issue with the board resolution of Jan. 10 which includes the offer for the consultant's position.

The resolution states that Rossman is to "disassociate himself from any and all school activity, except those as provided for in this resolution and as may be provided for by this board in the future, if any, and that under no circumstances will James H. Rossman be carried on the payroll of this school district in any capacity whatsoever beyond June 30, 1973."

"I'M SHOCKED that any board of education in this society would even imply they have the power to order an employee to disassociate himself from school activity," Rossman said.

"It was this Napoleonic attitude on the part of boards that led to the teacher tenure acts 40 years ago.

"State law clearly gives me tenure as a teacher," Rossman said.

Lawton said that the board "has no intent of denying Rossman any rights he has under the tenure law."

The proposed agreement reportedly protects Rossman's retirement and tenure rights.

ROSSMAN ALSO contends that he did not meet with the board during January 1971 when the board claims it expressed its dissatisfaction and urged Rossman to seek employment elsewhere.

Because of his father-in-law's death on Jan. 12 and his father's death on Jan. 26, Rossman said he did not meet with the total board during that month and only heard "innuendos" of the board dissatisfaction that following May.

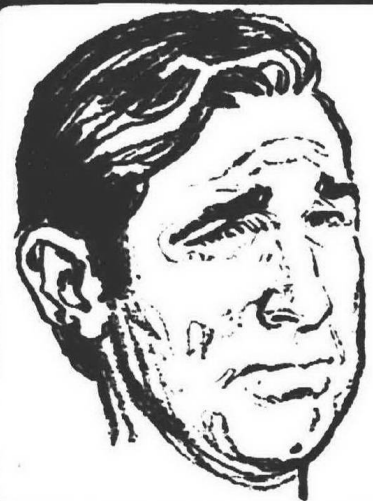

"The board apparently held executive or secret sessions for so long that it had no recollection or record of its discussion," Rossman said, implying the board could not remember if it discussed the problems with Rossman or just within its ranks.

That an agreement will be reached soon with Rossman is doubtful because of dissatisfaction expressed by Rossman. No meetings are scheduled for this week between Rossman, Lawton, and attorneys for both sides, though the attorneys are continuing to correspond with each other.

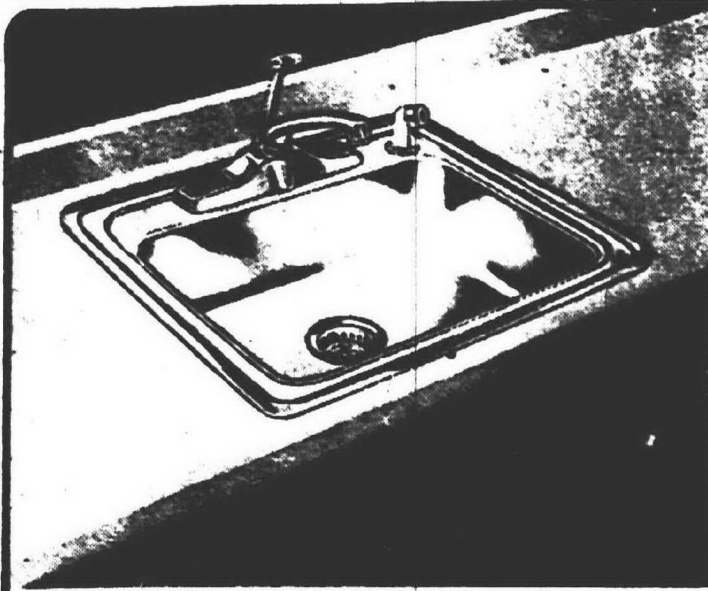

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE for Youth Inc. in the operation of its downtown teen center was given another boost with the presentation of these two $100 checks. One came from the Business and Professional Women's Club and

Rouge Talk Set By Army, WRC

A report on floods and flood potential in the Upper River Rouge flood plain will be made at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 9 in the Livonia City Hall, 33001 Five Mile.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will present relevant information from a recent report concerning parts of Livonia, Farmington Township, Redford Township and the City of Detroit.

Co-sponsors of the meeting with the Corps of Engineers are the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) and the Water Resources Commission of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The report covers also the Minnow Pond Drain, Bell Branch and Tarabusi Creek and is part of a comprehensive study of the Rouge River basin undertaken in recent months by the Corps of Engineers.

Purpose of the meeting is to present information that will be of critical value for planning, zoning, subdivision platting, storm drainage, sanitary sewer facilities and for parks and recreation multi-purposes, Paul Reid, AID, PCP, SEMCOG Regional Planner said.

The report will be made by Maurice Rappin, chief of flood plain management services for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Detroit District.

P.O. BOX Drugs

$1 Badly Spent On Booklet

Questions should be sent to the Community Commission on Drug Abuse, P.O. Box Drugs, Livonia, 48151.

Q. I recently purchased a booklet on drug abuse that was being sold door-to-door for $1. But now I wonder if this was a legitimate thing or if I had been taken in.

(This from an anonymous woman who left her copy of the booklet at the offices of the Community Commission on Drug Abuse for evaluation.)

A. We've studied the booklet in question, "Drug Abuse in Livonia and Westland" at some length.

Wow! Well, let's assume that the author of this booklet was sincere and well-intentioned and that the dollar he asked for it merely reflected the time and trouble involved in collecting and presenting the material, and that this dollar was not intended as a source of profit only.

This publication was born without benefit of proof-reading. Mis-spelling is rampant. But this is only the beginning.

Our favorite entry is that under the heading "Cocaine". Cocaine here is listed as a narcotic. It is not, neither medically nor legally. It is described as "stupor-producing" whereas in point of fact, it is a profound stimulant.

It is claimed to have a "great capacity for addiction." It does not. A gram (about 1/30 of an ounce) is said to sell for $20 and an ounce to sell for $200. Simple arithmetic would show that an ounce should sell for $600 rather than $20. A "spoon" is quoted as selling for $20 — obviously less than a gram — whereas a "spoon" is generally at least twice that amount.

A good second would be the category THC. The impression is given that this potent extract of marijuana is actually available in this area. It isn't. THC is fantastically difficult to produce. It's equally difficult to maintain (has to be kept at low temperatures and should be bottled under nitrogen).

Last year somebody actually got a good dose of THC on the West Coast — from someone calling himself "The Cosmic Traveller." This event was so exceptional as to receive national press coverage. We're given to understand that this is an every day occurrence in this area.

The Commission on Drug Abuse is described here as an informational agency.

THROUGH BIFOCALS

By FRED DeLANO / Editor Mail & Observer

IF YOU EVER blew a cornet, or attended a circus, you won't miss the concert being planned by the Plymouth Community Band the afternoon of Sunday, Feb. 20, for there with horn and baton in hand will be Merle Evans, the "Toscanini of the Big Top."

This musically conscious community has had many orchestral and band guests of great note through the years, and on this occasion in the Plymouth High School auditorium a distinguished new chapter will be added.

For half a century, Merle Evans led the band for "the biggest show on earth," the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus, and it's a real triumph for Bandmaster Jim Griffith and his cohorts of the Community Band to be bringing him here as soloist and guest conductor.

There's a certain special flair to the music of a circus band, and no one on the face of this earth has captured its mystery better than Evans. Because of his presence, the whole program will be given a circus atmosphere — right down to the peanuts, popcorn and balloons for the kids — and already there's talk of dusting off the SRO sign.

MANY A KID has yearned to run off with a carnival or a circus, and maybe some of the pillars of our own community knew the urge years ago but conquered it to stay and amass their fortunes in the less glamorous dodge of the business world. Evans did not.

Born in Columbus, Kansas, Merle Evans was playing cornet in the town band at the age of 10. When he was 15 he joined the band of a carnival that was appearing in Columbus, and from there he has traveled the trail from medicine shows to riverboats and ultimately to the big top itself.

He began his association with Ringling Brothers as its bandmaster in 1919 and must be listed as one of the most colorful musicians of our time.

Composer of many marches and fanfares himself, Evans also is a cornet virtuoso of not in his own right and often has made guest appearances such as this with some of the nation's most prominent symphony groups. Plymouth should fit him well.

LOCAL SERVICE CLUBS are cooperating with the Community Band to try and pack the house for the Evans appearance, and with tickets selling at $1 a head they shouldn't miss.

This band, of course, is best known for its summer concerts which are offered weekly in Kellogg Park, but actually it continues in rehearsal throughout the year and now, Feb. 20, will be making its debut in that acoustic gem, the PHS auditorium.

It has been a long road since 1959 when five Plymouth musicians first got together and rode on a flat-bed lorry in the July 4 parade as the forerunner of the Community Band, and of the original five, only Keith Burton and Bill Upton are still active.

Nonetheless, as members have come and gone, a high degree of professionalism has been maintained, and something special has been given to Plymouth by their efforts. Few communities, indeed, can boast of an 80-piece civic band, tax free, and even a Merle Evans should take delight in the musicianship he finds on a February afternoon.

MERLE EVANS, known as the "Toscanini of the Big Top" for his many years as a circus bandmaster, will appear Feb. 20 with the Plymouth Community Band in the high school auditorium.

Augustine fourth. Heading the east-west point totals were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Zeeman first, Mr. and Mrs. Al Short second, Helen Gilbert and Virginia Bake third, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Yoakum fourth.

A BIG HELLO is in order for another new batch of families reported by Welcome Wagon to have moved into Plymouth community just recently.

Among them are Gerry and Richard Detata from Westland, Monica and Bernard Boczar from Dearborn Heights, Sharon and Henry Johnson from Akron, Ohio, Lucy and Robert Ling from Detroit, Rosalie and Vern Hackett from Romulus, Katherine and Raymond Schultz from Detroit, Diane and Don Albertson from Dearborn Heights and Marcy and Leonard Yermal from Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Gladys L. Nesbitt of 9260 McClumpha Rd., Plymouth, was presented a world globe with a plaque attached naming her as an "honorary" millionth member, representing this area.

Mrs. Nesbitt, 71, is the widow of the late Robert D. Nesbitt, and was cited by Richard A. Roberts, manager of the Plymouth office of the auto club, as the person in the area who has been a continuous member longer than anyone else.

She has been a member since Jan. 1, 1919, and throughout the years has been an active participant in many civic undertakings.

Local Firm Meets Price List Order

Reports published elsewhere that the Pease Paint & Wallpaper Co., 570 S. Main, Plymouth, had "refused" to post base-period price lists were branded as false Tuesday by the company's owner, Howard Green. In addition, assistant U.S. Attorney Harold Hood told the Mail & Observer that this was too strong a description of the Pease circumstances. Pease was one of 10 Detroit-area firms cited in federal court suits Monday for allegedly not complying with price commission regulations in the posting of price lists, but Green said there is now full compliance. According to Hood, the suits were based on investigations by the Internal Revenue Service. He added that IRS representatives were in Plymouth Jan. 14 and Jan. 26. "We hope all 10 will comply and that the requests for injunctions can be dropped," said Hood. Green said he had been given 10 days by IRS to post the signs and had done so, but apparently not in time to forestall the filing of the court action, which asked a civil penalty of $2,500 against each of the 10 firms, as well as an injunction. Whether compliance with the regulations now will cause the entire petition to be withdrawn was not indicated.

Holbrook.

4 Bands At Junior Class Fete

Profits will be divided between the Plymouth State Home and Buzz Line, with tickets selling for $2 in advance and $2.50 at the door. Non-residents of the Plymouth school district will be admitted only if they have been issued guest permits from the high school office.

Kellogg Park Fine As It Is

EDITOR:
Kellogg Park is definitely a highlight of Plymouth. It comes as a great surprise to our family, that anyone would even consider changing the structure of the park unless for beautification purposes.

We are one of the few communities left with such a lovely central location for summer family functions, not to mention holiday decorations. Granted, streets can always be closed off for such purposes but the effect can hardly be called the same.

The Plymouth Community Band entertains 20,000 to 25,000 people annually. Among these are very young children who must develop a love for music during such a relaxed concert atmosphere, not to mention all the popcorn and candy they can afford at the Penn Theater. I doubt if the results would be the same in an auditorium or by sitting on lawn chairs and blankets in the street.

Group's Stand Given Clarity

EDITOR,
I would appreciate clarification on the article written in Saturday's paper. It sounds as though I am backing the school board in intervening in the school desegregation case.

My actual statement was that although we appreciate the efforts of the Plymouth School Board, and I am sure that they have the interests of the people in mind, all school districts in the state are agents of the State of Michigan and subject to the jurisdiction and supervision of the State Board of Education.

Therefore, Tri-County Citizens For Intervention In

Federal School Action No. 35257 is continuing its membership drive to give parents and children complete representation in court with no political strings attached. The Tri-County Citizens' motion to intervene which was filed on Dec. 2, states in sum and substance that it is unthinkable for the court to entertain entering a judgment in this case involving all or any of the 85 suburban school districts unless and until some claim is stated against the suburbs and PROVED with full participation by the school children and parents in their own behalf.

Robert J. Lord, attorney for Tri-County Citizens, will further explain our position at a meeting to be held at Middle School East on Feb. 7 at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Groom Family Seeks Donors

EDITOR:
The family of the late Delbert Groom appeals to the citizens of the Plymouth community for 23 pints of blood.

Doctors and nurses at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor worked around the clock to save his life, and a complete change of fresh blood was ordered twice a day.

However, at 11 a.m. Jan. 19 they removed their surgical gowns and slowly walked from his room. They had lost the battle to save his life. We had lost our dear father and husband.

He died of serum hepatitis contracted through the 28 pints of blood used in September when he underwent heart surgery.

Anyone wishing to donate blood may do so by calling the family or the Red Cross branch. Donors are asked to specify that the blood be credited to Delbert Groom at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

How 5-Year Recreation Plan Could Boost Local Parks

By TIM RICHARD

With the $100 million from the 1968 recreation bond issue just about gone, Gov. Milliken is considering a new five-year program of state support of local recreation.

Milliken said the program would begin this year with $9 million in grants. This would be matched by federal and local funds.

The governor gave few details when he mentioned the proposal in a speech to the Michigan Recreation and Parks Assn., a group of local government officials convening in Lansing last week. And the program so far is only a proposal by the state Dept. of Natural Resources that the governor is considering.

It's Milliken's custom to keep a departmental proposal under review for several weeks before adopting it as his own.

THE PROGRAM approved by voters in a state referendum in 1968, he said, "has moved along quickly - so quickly, in fact, that bond funds are rapidly running out."

Funds for state parks are expected to run out this year and for fisheries, wildlife and forest recreation by 1974. "Funds for both the local grants and urban areas programs will be almost 100 per cent committed by the close of the current legislative session," said Milliken.

Of the $100 million fund, $30 million went to local units of government, and Milliken reported that more than 550 cities, townships, villages and counties have submitted a total of 1,237 applications. By mid-summer, 850 projects will have been funded.

When that fund runs dry, however, "this stimulus to city, county and township effort will disappear," Milliken warned. He said ideally local units need $1.2 million more in facilities to serve their 1970 population levels and the state $400 million more for recreation and $800 million more for waterways, wildlife, fisheries and forests.

Thus, the total need is $2.4 billion, the governor said, an amount the state "cannot hope to allocate."

THE DNR HAS put together a five-year plan calling for $228 million for local programs, $141 million in state programs and local participation of $110 million - the program Milliken's office is now pondering. "The department also proposes the initiation of an entirely new system of grants to local units for program support, suggesting $1 million for the first year," said Milliken, adding:

"It is not enough to build pools and playgrounds. We must have cities where people want to live and landscapes where they enjoy being. We must have recreation with opportunity for action and involvement for all our people."

"We must act firmly to preserve and create beauty and to protect our land, air and water. Recreation and the preservation of the environment go hand-in-hand, and I am deeply committed to both."

Where To Find A 'Common Man'

EDITOR'S NOTE: We here-with share with readers in other communities the wry social insight and wit of Emory Daniels, editor of the Farmington Enterprise & Observer and author of "Daniels' Den."

The Common Man will seldom receive this column's praise because the writer is unsure who he is.

Dick Nixon apparently knows who the CM is, but that's why he is apparently president. Although mentioned often in political speeches, the Common Man has an unlisted phone number and can only be located geographically as being somewhere in the midwest.

THE LABEL Common Man usually stirs mental pictures of Abe Lincoln, William Jennings Bryan, Andrew Jackson, Harry Truman and Spiro Agnew.

Actually, though, the well-being of the commoners on this earth has been better served by such aristocrats as Thomas Jefferson, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy.

The wealthy have often been the primary benefactors of the Common Man. This is acceptable because today's society refuses to recognize poverty as a trait of the Common Man.

A person on welfare or ADC roles is ruled ineligible by the credentials committee for membership in the Commoners Club. So is the wealthy, but not always. A number of persons admired as common men are quite wealthy, such as Jimmy Hoffa, George Wallace, Billy Graham and Johnny Cash.

INCOME is a tricky criterion to determine who the Regular Joes are. Mostly the Regular Joes earn between $7,000 to $9,000 a year, but that scale can be waived if you talk and act like the guy within the RJ range.

Almost as important as income range is how the laborer earns his living. The Common Man must either earn his keep by brawn or supervise those who earn their keep by the sweat of the brow.

A social worker earning $7,500 a year is not a Common Man because he cannot talk and act like George Wallace or Johnny Cash.

The commoner can live in a three-bedroom home with basement and two-bay garage. But the cars within cannot be a roadster or luxury auto. He can have a college degree but must drop out from the club if he holds an advanced degree, regardless of income or job position.

THE COMMONER must obey the laws his fraternity brothers obey and is allowed to break those laws the brothers break.

He can avoid the draft by paying off the local draft board or getting married and begetting children. But he cannot avoid by going to Canada because this is desertion for which there is no amnesty.

He can cheat on his income tax forms but must file. Failure to file, after all, is unpatriotic.

The distinctions are too fuzzy for me to define the Common Man. Until better defined, the Common Man will continue to be the other guy because he's definitely not me.

Here Are U.S. Rent Hike Rules

The new rent regulations under Phase II of the economic stabilization program have raised questions by citizens around Michigan for the past 10 days.

IRS stabilization offices in Michigan report that over 50 per cent of the questions being received from the public concern the new rent regulations issued last Dec. 29, by the Price Commission, according to Thomas A. Cardoza, district director.

He stated that the Price Commission rent regulations,

Bill Would Let Homeowners Air Complaints

Homeowners would be given greater protection against faulty construction, poor workmanship or poor materials under a bill introduced in the Senate by Sen. Carl D. Pursell (R-Plymouth).

The bill would amend the law prescribing duties and powers of the state Corporation and Securities Commission to provide that the commission may consider homeowner complaints about erection, construction, replacement, repair, improvements or demolition of buildings covered in the law. It also provides that the commission may take action to correct situations in violation of the law.

Under the present law, only complaints made by the "proper authorities" are considered by the commission.

"Homeowners, especially those purchasing property through government financing, have become increasingly irked by finding serious flaws in their property and with little, or no recourse, against the sellers," Pursell said.

are designed to reduce the average rate of rent increased while allowing the landlord to maintain a reasonable rate of profit.

IN GENERAL, the new rules are:

- Tenants must receive written notice at least 30 days before a rent increase goes into effect.

- The rent increase notification must contain a complete explanation and justification under the current regulations for the increase.

- Rent may be increased 2.5 per cent on annual basis of the base period rent to cover operating costs such as labor, electricity, gas, fuel, interest, etc.

- Increases in state or local property taxes, government fees and levies and increases in charges for municipal services (exclusive of gas and electricity) may also be added to the base rent plus the 2.5 per cent increase. Increased taxes and charges for municipal services must be prorated for the first such period that commenced one year before the effective date of these regulations (Nov. 14, 1971).

- Rent may be increased 1.5 per cent per month for capital improvements made after Aug. 15, 1971. However, a rent increase for a capital improvement may not exceed 10 per cent of the monthly rental without prior Internal Revenue Service approval.

CARDOZA SAID that the complete regulations on rent are continued in the Federal Register published Dec. 30, 1971.

Citizens may obtain a copy of the rent regulations by writing to the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, and asking for Part II of the Federal Register dated Dec. 30, 1971. The publication is available for 20 cents per copy.

WHAT'S NEW?
by DON KEETH
You meet an acquaintance and "What's new?" is often one of the opening plays.

But don't try it on me unless you really want to hear what's new. Because I have something new that beats all. And I'm ready to bend your ear about it.

It's something you really should know about. Caesar would have given half of Gaul for it... but you can get it for pennies a day. Are you a quiver with curiosity? (Well, I'll tell you anyway.) This new thing is TOTAL COMFORT. Every hour, every day, every month of the year indoors you can live in Total Comfort. Air fresh and lively. Delightful humidity. Dust and pollen and smoke almost completely eliminated. Temperature exactly as you want it. Quiet. Softly flowing air circulation.

Oh sure, there have been furnaces, air conditioners, filters and all that stuff around for years. But NOW it has finally been engineered into an integrated system that completely treats the air you live in. The big secret is in constant treatment. No other system does this. Therefore no other system can do the job as well. Simple. But it's new. Great ideas usually are simple.

So what's new with you? "WE TRY HARDER"

The Stroller... The Tall Tale Tellers

By W. W. EDGAR

If they ever revive the once popular contests to determine the king of the tall tale tellers at any of the annual festivals in the suburban areas, The Stroller will have an entry who'll be difficult to beat. And he came upon him quite by accident.

He may not be the equal of the legendary Parson Weems, who earned the ranking of the all time All-America king with his ever popular tale of George Washington and the chopping down of the cherry tree. But he will rank near the top.

The Stroller's discovery came about the other day at the luncheon table when Mary, our favorite waitress, served several pieces of chocolate cake with tiny drips of chocolate scattered over the white icing top.

Rather facetiously, someone mentioned, "Looks like the rats have been in the pantry."

That started it.

"Speaking of rats," Attorney Bill Sempliner said, "did you know that they are on the increase and there now are three for every five humans?"

"According to what I read," he went on, "they average about 750 to an acre — that is, if you don't see many of them. But when you see the rats out in the open on farmland, this jumps to 1,500 an acre."

"I DON'T KNOW about that," City Commissioner Harold Guenther cut in, "but I do know that they can offer a puzzle. I've had some out in the barn — and when I've looked around, all I could find was several small holes ... not big enough to allow them to crawl through."

"Don't kid yourself," our friend "Doc" Salan interrupted. "Rats will crawl through anything. We even found one in the mechanism of our Volkswagen," and Don Sutherland, the figure filbert, nodded his assent.

"I don't know about that," Guenther answered, "but I do know that back on the farm when I was a young fellow the rats gave us all sorts of trouble. They'd get in the feed and chaw away at food in the pantry and their scratching and clawing kept you awake nights."

For a moment there was silence. Then Guenther, with the serious look of a city commissioner, unknowingly made his bid as a contender for the role of king among the tall tale tellers.

"I remember one time back in our little town," he began, "there was all sorts of trouble with rats — big ones, little ones, all kinds. There seemed to be nothing you could do about it."

"THE PEAK came when the owner of the little grocery store started complaining about the loss of eggs. What puzzled him was the fact that he never noticed the loss until he got to the bottom of the crate."

"Down, on the bottom layer, he'd find empty spaces where the eggs had been lifted."

"How could his customers take the eggs off the bottom without disturbing those on the top, especially during store hours," he kept asking himself.

"Maybe it is the work of rats," he was told, but he just laughed off the suggestion.

"Finally, it got so bad that he gave some thought to the fact that it might be the rats. So, he set about investigating."

THEN, ACCORDING to Guenther, it was decided to put on a "night watch." Sure enough, they caught the villains.

"It was discovered that the rats worked in pairs. The leader would work his way into the crate, using his back to lift up the cardboard container," said Guenther.

"He then would wrap all four legs around the egg to get a good hold on it."

"How could he move if all four legs were wrapped around the egg?" Bob Bake, the real estate man, asked.

"That's where the partner came in," Guenther answered. "The first rat's tail always was left sticking out of the crate. Once his legs were wrapped around the egg, the second rat took the first one by the tail and pulled him back to their hide-away."

Try to top that!

Denies He Gave Beer To Minors

A 41-year-old Plymouth man pleaded innocent at his arraignment Monday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor in connection with an incident last week when he allegedly supplied two girls, aged 14 and 15, with beer.

James B. Rolling, of apartment 1 at 389 W. Ann Arbor Trail, was released on $100 cash bond following his arraignment before District Judge Dunbar Davis, and his trial was tentatively scheduled for Feb. 14.

Rolling was charged in a warrant issued by the prosecutor's office Friday.

Police sought the warrant, they said, after the two girls were found with a can of beer by Patrolman Carl Berry at about 7 a.m. Jan. 24 outside Rolling's apartment.

ALTHOUGH CRAIG MOONEY of the Plymouth Mites hockey team is only five years old, he's already a capable skater and stick handler, much of the skill coming from practice sessions such as this on Wilcox Lake which has been a mecca for literally hundreds of skaters in recent days. How To Take Advantage Of Our Trash Mounds

By W. W. EDGAR
Roving Editor

From coast to coast, research engineers and scientists are pointing their talents to the great challenge of 1972—getting rid of the nation's trash and garbage in the drive to improve our environment.

Great strides forward were made during the past year with the war on pollution that brought some control of fumes from combustion engines, and millions were spent to clean the rivers and harbors.

But the big problem still remains—what to do with the tons and tons of trash and garbage—from beer cans to worn out automobiles—that are thrown away each day.

ACCORDING TO a national survey, conducted a few months ago, communities throughout the land hauled away 60 million tons of trash, 30 million tons of paper, four million tons of plastic, 48 billion cans, 26 million bottles, seven million TV sets, and vast quantities of grass clippings, dead cats, empty boxes, old clothes, discarded refrigerators and furniture.

At this rate the sanitation departments around the country will be faced with one million tons of new garbage tomorrow morning. They'll have to do something with it before darkness falls because the next day there'll be another billion tons awaiting them.

What to do with it? This is the big problem.

But if coming events cast shadows before them, we are due for some interesting methods of disposal that well could lead to the establishment of a multi-million dollar industry.

UP TO NOW, there have been only three methods of disposal—landfill, burning in an incinerator or carrying it out to sea and dumping it.

With the population climbing and with it the need for more homes, opportunities for landfill are diminishing, and the cost of incinerators has reached the point where it no longer is profitable to use them. For instance, the City of Philadelphia spent $6 million for an incinerator in 1965 that now costs $14 million.

So, the nation's scientists and research engineers are pointing their talents in other directions—some of them most exciting.

They have inaugurated an activity now called recycling and already it has produced some almost unbelievable results.

They have taken glass and crushed it, then mixed it with asphalt for the building of new roads.

The Japanese put garbage into a powerful hydraulic press, squash it into dense blocks and put them in a casing of concrete or steel for use as building blocks.

SOME OF OUR American scientists have mixed garbage and sewage waste together and used the result as an aggregate in a new type of concrete.

Some of the other, far-out experiments include the burning of garbage to generate power and heat.

Combustion Power Co. in California is building a pilot plant to separate out and burn 40 tons of combustible trash a day. If the experiment works, a full scale facility is planned that will handle 400 tons daily. It is said that a plant of this size could provide about 20 per cent of the power needs of a city of 200,000.

They've even gone so far, according to word from Nashville, Tenn., as to try a garbage burning system that will heat or cool buildings. It will have two high temperature incinerators in which oil is to be burned to assure the necessary combustion of the garbage.

If this plan works, scientists say, the buildings downtown can be heated in the winter and cooled in the summer for a fraction of the present costs.

Some scientists have gone so far as to say that the real answer lies in a self-sustaining fusion action that can come about in a very much complicated system.

AT THE MOMENT, the recycling of bottles and the "shredding" of automobiles are two major activities to handle trash, or what one scientist called "resources out of place."

Billions of bottles are recycled and now are being used for street paving, glass wool insulation and even glass bricks for decorative home building.

The "shredding" of old autos is close to home, too. At Rube's old auto pond and scrap yard on Schoolcraft Road in Livonia, wrecked cars from within a radius of 150 miles are started on the recycling route. Rube removes off all the salvagable parts, then flattens the bodies and sends them to a plant in Belleville.

There they are put on top of one another in a rectangle 18 feet long, seven feet wide and about a foot high and then run through a "shredder."

This reduces the old rusty carcass to ribbons for easier handling in recycling.

EVEN OLD TIRES that used to be an eyesore along the highways are being put to use.

They, too, are being shredded and mixed with glass for street paving. In the experiments so far, the combination of old glass and rubber proves better than ordinary paving.

And imagine this!—old tires are being salvaged for use to attract marine life. They are being placed on the barren stretches of sea floor where they become artificial reefs and havens for all sorts of marine life.

Garbage and trash may offer a real challenge in 1972, but methods used to meet it should provide some of most exciting news of the new year.

Dentists To Visit Schools

Plymouth's observance of the 24th annual National Children's Dental Health Week Feb. 6-12 will be highlighted by visits to all public and parochial elementary schools by local dentists to stress the importance of good dental habits.

Assembly programs will culminate the activities of the Plymouth Dental Society, which also is sponsoring a poster contest among all youngsters from the first through the fifth grade.

A box of sugarless candies will be given to each room winner and two transistor radios will be awarded at each school. One will be for the creator of the best dental poster in the first three grades, and the other for grades four and five.

DR. J.R. Robison, acting as spokesman for the society, said that city-wide grand prizes in the poster contest will include a bicycle for grades one through three and a tape recorder for grades four and five. Both prizes currently are displayed at the Trading Post.

The society organizes and provides a fluoride program for all children at cost, said Dr. Robison. In addition, indigent children receive free dental care from participating dentists through the Plymouth Community Fund.

The society's coordinator with the school system is Mrs. J.J. Thuer, who organizes the entire fluoride program and also distributes all materials, prizes and educational aids to the schools for Dental Health Week.

Anchor Cuts Its Dividend

Anchor Coupling Co. Inc. directors have voted payment on Feb. 29, of a dividend of 15 cents per share to shareholders of record Feb. 4.

According to Don F. Stranberg, Anchor president, the dividend reduction from 22½ cents per share will enable Anchor to build additional working capital to meet anticipated increases in business volume. Anchor's home office is at Libertyville, Ill., and one of its plants is in Plymouth.

How Milliken School Plan Could Affect Tax

By GUY SNYDER
Special Writer
Gov. William Milliken is calling for local support of a state constitutional amendment that would greatly ease the burden of local school property taxes on suburban residents, while improving education throughout the state.

Under a new method of financing schools proposed by the amendment, local suburban property taxes would be cut as much as 69 percent while providing more teachers and funds for better vocational and special education programs in Michigan schools.

The revenues lost by the property tax cut would be made up by a boost of 2.3 percent in the state personal income tax rate, with either a state value added tax, or a special state tax on business properties.

GOV. MILLIKEN told an assembly of 300 in Detroit's

City-County Building that one of the greatest responsibilities of state government was to provide fair and equal education for all Michigan children. He said the state aid concept of improving a school system by allocating more funds per pupil was failing and should be abolished.

"Because I believe that the key to educational investment is how much education we buy, not just how much money we spend," Milliken said, "my plan is to equalize educational opportunity on student-staff ratios, rather than on dollars per pupil."

Milliken's plan, included in the proposed state constitutional amendment would:

- Establish a 47 teacher per 1,000 student ratio base in all Michigan schools.

- Cut all local property taxes to 12 mills, of which six must be approved by voters in each school district.

- Establish a state wide property tax of 4 1/2 mills for vocational and special education programs in Michigan schools.

Though the amendment would set local property taxes at six mills, Milliken said, an additional "enrichment" tax of six more mills would be allowed if approved by the voters of a local school district for either increasing the teacher/student ratio or further improving a school district's educational programs.

MILLIKEN STRESSED that although tax collection would be taken out of the hands of local school boards, his plan would not decrease school board power.

"School boards will continue to do the same things they do now," Milliken said, "with one exception - they won't have to fight the battles of operational millage campaigns, and they will know more clearly how much money they will have available from year to year."

According to the Milliken plan, a family of four with an annual income of $15,000, living in a home valued at $26,000, would save from $77 to $133 in yearly school taxes.

The Milliken plan also contains a tax refund scale for state residents who rent apartments or homes. Up to $90 yearly could be refunded to renters.

The only exemptions to the Milliken plan would be local school property taxes voted for the payment of school debts and interests on school bonds.

REFERRING TO the proposed 2.3 per cent state income tax increase as a replacement for property taxes, Milliken said that he was forced to use a flat increase in the tax for school financing, instead of combining the school tax amendment with an amendment to allow a state graduated income tax.

He said the graduated income tax issue had been defeated twice before at the polls, and that if he combined it with his school tax proposal, both issues would fail.

Milliken is currently touring the state to discuss with Michigan residents his proposed constitutional amendment, and to gather the 300,000 signatures necessary to place his amendment on the November 1972 ballot.

Stevenson Falls To Lathrup, 46-45

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

Southfield Lathrup moved into sole possession of second place in the Inter-Lakes basketball race with a 46-45 squeaker over Livonia Stevenson. Walled Lake Central continues to dominate the league with a 6-0 record with Lathrup trailing at 4-2. Stevenson fell into a third place tie with Farmington at 3-3. Lathrup travels to Central Friday and Charger Coach Jim Kourtakis believes Walled Lake can be beaten. "Central beat us 76-53 the first time around," said

Kourtakis. "But we have come back to win five of our last six and our lone loss was a two-pointer to Oak Park. I really believe we are capable of beating them."

THE CHARGERS spurred in front 17-11 in the first quarter against Stevenson and captured a 30-24 halftime lead. Lathrup went up by as much as 12 points in the third quarter but the Spartans outscored the Chargers, 9-8, and trailed by five going into the final eight minutes.

With six minutes remaining, Kelly Smith hit two from the floor and Stevenson was on top for the first time, 44-42.

The Spartans then went into a stall. "They were forcing us to leave our zone," added Kourtakis. "We released the two front men and had them chase the ball."

After two minutes of stalling, Dave Kelly was fouled but missed at the line and Lathrup missed on its scoring opportunity and Stevenson was back in the stall. A Spartan scoring play failed and Charger Barry Brodsky was fouled.

Brodsky made good on two from the line and it was notched at 44-44 with one minute left. Smith was fouled for Stevenson and put the Spartans back in front with one of two. Stevenson missed on another scoring chance after a Lathrup technical but the Spartans had the ball and the lead with 40 seconds remaining.

A Stevenson shot bounced off the rim and Charger Kelly Trent grabbed the rebound. He was fouled and made two from the freethrow line and the Chargers were one up at the buzzer.

"We dominated the game for three quarters but the Stevenson defense got to us in the fourth quarter," said Kourtakis. "They went up by five points and our kids just didn't quit."

LATHRUP shot 39 per cent from the field on 17 of 43 while Stevenson scored on 17 of 55 for a 31 per cent.

Trent led in rebounding with 14 as Lathrup outbounded the Spartans, 35-32.

"We started out slow and just couldn't seem to capitalize on our scoring opportunities," said Stevenson Coach George VanWagoner. "A little more self-discipline in the fourth quarter could have made the difference."

LATHRUP stands 6-5 overall while Stevenson dropped to a 5-7 mark. Stevenson hosts Farmington Friday while Lathrup gets its last shot at front-running Central.

BULLDOG SCORE -- Bentley's Tim Bollin (51) goes in untouched for a score against Allen Park. (Observer photo)

Jaguars Put A Scare In Bentley's Hopes

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

The clock showed 17 seconds left and the scoreboard had Bentley up by five points but...Allen Park scored two quick baskets and Bentley missed on two, one-and-one situations, and the margin was cut to one point as the buzzer sounded giving the Bulldogs a 68-67 Suburban Eight win.

"We were playing bad basketball in the final quarter," said Bulldog Coach John Farrar. "We were up by as many as 17 points in the third quarter. What really topped it off was our performance at the line in the last three minutes. We hit on one of eight freethrows."

ALLEN PARK opened up an early 8-2 lead but the Bulldogs fought back to capture a 20-13 first quarter edge. Bentley outscored Allen Park in the second periods, 20-14, and held a 40-27 halftime advantage.

Tim Bollin popped in 11 points in the second quarter with Bentley hitting on 17 of 37 while the Jaguars scored on 11 of 28 from the field.

Each squad totaled 17 points in the third quarter and Bentley led, 57-44, going into the final eight minutes. Midway in the quarter, the Bulldogs were up 61-52 but the Jaguars reeled off six straight points and the momentum changed.

THE BULLDOGS maintained their lead and with 1½ minutes left on the clock led 67-60 but Mike Flood hit on a three-pointer for Allen Park and hit on two more from the key while Bentley was having its trouble at the freethrow line.

The Bulldogs held on in the final seconds and now sit in second place tied with Trenton at 5-2.

RU is leading the Suburban Eight with a 6-1 mark followed by Bentley and Trenton.

BENTLEY shot 40 per cent from the field on 26 of 64 while Allen Park hit on 28 of 58 for 48 per cent. The difference was at the free-throw line with the Bulldogs making good 16 of 25 and Allen Park collecting nine of 11.

Ron Bawulski led Bentley with 26 points followed by Bollin 20 and Brian Gates 10. Flood paced Allen Park with 24 points, followed by Tom Agardy with 15.

Bentley hosts Edsel Ford Friday.

Glenn Rebounds For 9th Victory

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

Birmingham Groves almost pulled off a Northwest Suburban basketball upset, pressing John Glenn all the way before losing 50-48. Groves hit the first bucket and led up to the three minute mark in the final quarter. The Falcons spurred to a 13-10 first quarter lead and increased their lead to four points at the half, 29-25.

"We were not moving well," said Glenn Coach Gordon Davis, who found himself back in the coaching reins after a teacher strike prohibited him from coaching last week against Oak Park. "I found out about an hour before the game that the strike was settled and I could return to coaching."

"I hadn't been with the team the entire week and we dropped behind by as much as nine points in the second quarter."

JIM WILLIAMS sank a two pointer in the final seconds of the third quarter and Glenn moved to within two points, 38-36.

With three minutes remaining, Tim Horton popped in a field goal to notch the score at 46-46 but Tom Adams put Groves back in front with a 13 footer.

Dave Carlington tied it at 48-48 on two free throws with one minute left. Groves missed on its scoring chance and Williams was fouled for Glenn and made good one of two from the line.

HORTON was fouled and connected on one free throw and Glenn was up by two. With five seconds remaining, Scott Friesner let go of a desperation 20-footer but it fell short and the Rockets were up at the buzzer.

Glenn shot 40 per cent from the field on 19 of 47 while Groves managed the same number of field goals but with 16 more attempts, 19 of 63 for 30 per cent.

Glenn collected 12 of 22 at the line and Groves hit on 10 of 14.

Carlington and Williams paced Glenn with 15 and 12 points respectively.

DON LARSEN led Groves with 15 points, followed by Adams and Friesner with 11 apiece.

The Rockets hold down first in the Northwest Suburban with a 5-1 mark and stand 9-2 overall. Glenn travels to Thurston Friday while Groves, which stands 1-5 in league action and 1-9 overall, travels to Oak Park. The lone win for Groves was against Oak Park in a 57-56 squeaker.

MSU's Allen

Eric Allen virtually rewrote Michigan State's football record book with his great 1971 season. He set two NCAA, four Big Ten and nine Michigan State marks in various categories and tied two other MSU standards.

WSU 'Tartars'

Wayne State University is the only college or university in the country with the nickname "Tartars." It was adopted by all-school vote in 1927 and replaced such former tags as "Griffins" and "Munies."

Observerland Cage Ratings

Garden City East toppled Robichaud, 79-64, to remain in the No. 1 position with a 9-2 mark but closing fast is Redford Union, also with a 9-2 record.

The Panthers hold down No. 2 and are enjoying a seven game winning streak and stand 6-1 in the Suburban Eight.

JOHN GLENN slipped a little but managed to hold onto the No. 3 berth with a narrow 50-48 win over Birmingham Groves. Brother Rice remains in the No. 4 spot after a 65-61 victory over Notre Dame.

John Farrar's Bentley Bulldogs are No. 5 in Observerland but that position became a little slippery after a close 68-67 win over Allen Park.

Franklin stayed No. 6 after an 80-53 revenge triumph over Thurston. Churchill swayed a little but remained in the No. 7 berth. The Chargers lost to Schafer but topped Northville, 99-77.

Clarenceville downed Milford, 57-52 to retain the No. 8 position and Garden City West moved into the rankings and into the No. 9 spot with a 99-62 triumph over Crestwood.

Country Day blitzed Peck, 85-29, to remain in the No. 10 ranking.

Churchill Takes Giant Step To Cage Crown

Churchill took a giant step in its quest of a Western Six basketball crown with a 99-77 win over Northville.

The first place Chargers stand 5-0 in league play with Waterford Mott second at 3-2. Churchill boasts a 9-3 overall mark with losses to Stevenson, Franklin and Schafer the lone scars on the record.

"We are one step away from capturing our first cage title," said Churchill Coach Pat Montagano. "One more victory will assure us of at least a tie and a win over Mott will clinch it."

The Chargers host Warren Sterling in a non-league clash Friday and host Mott the following Friday.

CHURCHILL led the entire distance against Northville en route to a record scoring mark. The Chargers set a school mark with 99 points, breaking the old standard 88 against Gibraltar Carlson set two years ago.

"Needless to say, it was our top offensive showing," added Montagano. "But I was a little disappointed in our defense with the 77 points being the greatest output scored against us this season."

Churchill went up, 25-15, at the end of one quarter and increased the halftime lead to 50-30. The Chargers blitzed to a 30 point lead in the third quarter, 70-40, and led going into the final eight minutes, 75-52.

Northville outscored Churchill, 25-24, in the fourth quarter but the Chargers had done their damage.

CHURCHILL scored 45 per cent from the field on 31 of 69 shots and Northville hit on 17 of 42 for 40 per cent.

A total of 107 free throws were shot in the contest with Northville picking up 33 fouls and Churchill 31. The Chargers fell a notch short of spectacular in the first half, making 26 of 28 free throws.

"Mike Keller made a bundle in the first half," added Montagano. "He collected 12 from the line on 13 attempts. We played a tight man-to-man game and were driving towards the basket and they kept fouling us."

Churchill ended up with 37 of 54 and Northville held its own at the line, sinking 43 of 53, making it a total of 80 of 107 completed for a 75 per cent average.

Five Chargers hit the double figure scoring mark. Phil Damaska paced the attack with 19 points followed by Keller with 18. Roy Henriksson added 11 and Jim Foster and VanWagoner each popped in 10 points.

Ron Crane led Northville with 26 points, four field goals and 18 of 22 free throws.

Lions Invade Stevenson Gym

It will be the Detroit Lions against the Livonia faculty, not in a football game, but a basketball game at Stevenson High today, Feb. 2.

The kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. with such Lions as Mike Lucci, Nick Eddy, Altie Taylor, Gregg Landry, Paul Naumoff, Lem Barney, Jerry Rush, Wayne Walker, Chuck Walton, Mike Weger, Bill Cottrell and Craig Cotton in the Detroit lineup.

The faculty squad consists of Jim George, Ray Komula, Dan Freeman, David Fuller, Doug Doney, Mike Demery, Doug Johnson, Tom Tanner, Fred Price, and John Pantages.

The Stevenson High Booster Club is sponsoring the event and tickets will be available at the door for $1.25.

Spartans Overpower Patriot Pucksters, 5-4

Franklin gave it all it had and then some, but the Stevenson High hockey squad spirited Patriots and the Spartans scored their third league victory in a come-from-behind, 5-4 clash.

"We really concentrated in the third period," added Goode. "We had one penalty and outshot them, 13-4."

3rd Straight Win Raiders Tip Oak Park

North Farmington is moving up in the Northwest Suburban basketball race. The Raiders topped Oak Park, 72-65, for their third straight league win after being 0-3.

Schoolcraft Suffers 3rd 'Cage Loss

Schoolcraft College fell out of the ranks of the unbeaten in the Eastern Division of the MJAC basketball race.

The high-flying Ocelots were topped twice and stand 4-2 in league action and 8-7 overall.

Monroe Community College blitzed Schoolcraft, 99-83, with Jim McElroy hitting for 44 points. Monroe hit on 23 of 28 from the line and popped in 37 field goals.

A three point play by Louie Doot tied the game at 54-54 and the Raiders gradually edged ahead with help at the free throw line.

North hit on 11 of 14 from the line and with three minutes remaining, Oak Park got desperate and started throwing the ball away.

Oak Park scored 50 per cent from the floor on 28 of 56 while North mustered 35 per cent on 24 of 69. The difference was at the line... the Raiders hit on 24 of 30 and Oak Park connected on nine of 20.

Willie Rankin led Oak Park with 15 points, followed by Marcelouse Wiley and Nate Kerper with 14 apiece and Ed Brandford 10.

The Raiders held the rebounding edge, 43-33 with Ellsworth picking up 13 and Fredericks hauling in 11.

Stevenson remains undefeated overall with a 6-0-2 record while Franklin dropped to an overall 2-7-1 record.

"We were forced to play their type of game," said Stevenson Coach Gerry Goode.

FRANKLIN JUMPED to an early lead with only 15 seconds elapsed with Jack Wright slapping the puck home past Spartan goalie, Van Vermeesch.

Stevenson came back with two scores by Steve Hillman and Frank Geluso but Patriot Doug Cumming tied it up at 7:57 in the first and the score was notched at 2-2.

Hillman scored his second goal on a power play setup at 6:27 in the second but Franklin came back to take the lead on goals by Wright, his second, and Mark Allen.

STEVENSON OUTSHOT Franklin in the second period, 14-9, but the Patriots hung in with fine goal-tending by Wayne Oliver.

Blitz Thurston, 80-53

Franklin Cagers Gain Revenge

Tim Dietz tied a school scoring mark as Franklin healed "an old wound" in toppling Thurston, 80-53, to remain in the thick of the Northwest Suburban race.

Thurston throttled Franklin in the first round, 75-60, for one of the two league losses and the Patriots stand at 4-2 behind front-running John Glenn at 5-1.

DIETZ tied a mark set by Charles Wiggins in 1969 against Oak Park with 36 points.

"In our early season nightmare against Thurston we played their type of game and ran with them," said Franklin Coach Bob Visser. "This time we worked for a good shot and the kids were up for revenge."

Thurston shot 50 per cent from the field in the first match, 32 of 64, while Franklin shot 26 of 87 for a 29 per cent.

This time the tables were turned. Franklin shot 50 per cent from the floor on 34 of 68 with Thurston scoring on 19 of 60 for 31 per cent.

FRANKLIN jumped to an early 16-11 lead and exploded for 23 points in the second quarter to lead at the half, 39-22.

"The first quarter score was the closest Thurston could get," added Visser. "It was no contest after that, we completely dominated the boards and enjoyed one of our finest games from the floor."

The Patriots put it together in the third and fourth quarters with 21 and 20 point outbursts while Thurston mustered 16 in the third and 21 in the final quarter.

Thurston was outrebounded, 54-39, with Franklin's "big three" hauling in 41 of the 54. Dietz collected 18, Rick Graham added 12 and Tom Luch had 11.

The "big three" also paced Franklin in scoring with Dietz popping in his record 36, Graham scoring 14 and Luch adding 11.

STEVE HUNTER led Thurston with 14 points, Mark Helenbart totaled 11 and Mark Falvo had 10. Falvo totaled 20 against Franklin in the first meeting.

"We are not planning on any help in winning the Northwest crown," said Visser. "Our momentum is building and I have had the same starting five in there, the last six games."

"North Farmington surprised everyone with a win over Oak Park and this is some help that we didn't count on, but we play at North Farmington Friday and they are starting to come around.

Harrison Title Hopes Vanish With Mott Loss

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

Any hopes Farmington Harrison had of a Western Six basketball crown will have to wait to next season.

The Hawk cagers had an outside chance to catch front-running Churchill but first had to get by Waterford Mott. Harrison didn't get by Mott and fell for the second time this season, 79-56.

Harrison lost to Mott in the first meeting, 59-56.

"We plain got zipped," said Harrison Coach Bob Sutter. "They came out and surprised us with a 2-1-2 zone. They have been using a man to man press against everyone and the tight zone threw off our complete game plan."

Mott's 6-6 senior center Don Allen got things rolling with the first bucket and Harrison fell behind at the end of the first quarter, 24-13.

HARRISON moved into a full court press in the second quarter and came up with steal after steal and the score was tied at the half, 34-34.

Jim Mason and Jeff Sietoff collected 12 and 10 points respectively in the half to put Harrison back in the game but the tide was soon to reverse back to the first quarter style.

Mott opened the second half with seven straight points and Harrison was beaten in the first two minutes of the quarter with Mott jumping to a 58-44 third quarter advantage and outscoring the Hawks in the final period, 21-12, to stand 3-2 in league play.

"The key factor was the fact of the Mott defense blocking Sietoff off in the key," said

Sutter. "He had only one field goal in the second half."

"In addition to blocking off his shooting, Mott kept him off the boards with only six rebounds. He has been averaging about 14 per game," added Sutter.

MASON led Harrison with 18 points, followed by Sietoff with 15.

Russ Poster paced Mott with 21 points. Mark Lawrence added 16 and Jerry McKay collected 11.

Mott scored 55 per cent from the field on 31 of 56 shots while Harrison had 18 of 54 for 33 per cent.

Harrison plays at Northville Friday and at Eisenhower on Tuesday.

GC East Keeps Going With 79-64 Triumph

Garden City East returned to its winning ways with a 79-64 cage victory over Robichaud, but the Panthers remain two games off the pace in the Mid-Wayne race.

Inkster stands on top with a 7-0 mark which included a recent overtime win over East. "It's highly unlikely that somebody is going to beat Inkster," said East Coach Billy Joe Young. "We have an away game coming up with Inkster and we hope to win."

Inkster boasts a 10-1 mark and East stands 9-2 overall, and 5-2 in league play.

East jumped out to an eight point lead twice in the first half but Robichaud fought back to trail at the half, 34-32.

THE PANTHERS hit on 14 of 24 in the first half with Dave Jackson collecting 10 points in the second quarter.

The first four minutes of the third quarter was all Garden City East, as the Panthers reeled off 15 points to four by Robichaud and led at the end of three, 53-42.

Randy Mastako totaled nine points in the outburst.

The fourth quarter was a succession of foul shots on each side with East hitting on 16 of 17 and Robichaud making good, 12 of 17.

EAST scored a 50 per cent shooting mark from the field on 26 of 52 while Robichaud hit on 22 of 74 for 29 per cent.

Robichaud went to the line 30 times and hit on 20 and East scored on 27 of 31, with Jackson popping in seven of eight, Jeff DeHarte hitting seven of seven, and Mastako scoring on seven of seven.

Jackson led in scoring with 27 points, followed by DeHarte 23, Mastako 15 and Jack Hayes 12.

Robichaud was headed by Luke Ealey with 21 points. Roy Johnson added 12 and John Dillard totaled 11.

JACKSON collected 14 rebounds in leading East to a 35-31 advantage. East hosts Wayne Friday.

Panthers Win 7th Straight

Redford Union basketball Coach Carl Andrews emphasizes that his team cannot afford to lose... and the Panthers reeled off their seventh straight win in an 84-64 triumph over Edsel Ford.

RU stands on top of the Suburban Eight with 6-1 record and boasts an overall 9-2 mark.

"Bentley and Trenton are right behind us," said Andrews. "The tough portion of the schedule is in front of us with Trenton, Bentley, Allen Park and Belleville clashes coming up. It could go down to the final game."

Bentley and Trenton stand one game off the pace with 5-2 records.

at the end of one quarter, 19-15, and totaled 22 in the second quarter to hold a 41-29 half-time advantage.

Bob Schaner hit for 17 points in the half with RU shooting 49 per cent from the field on 13 of 27 attempts.

The Panthers increased their lead to 19 points at the end of three quarters, 64-45, and substituted freely in the final eight minutes.

RU had a 46 per cent average from the floor on 28 of 61 and made good on 28 of 43 from the line. Edsel Ford hit on eight of 18 freethrows.

Schaner paced all scorers with 31 points followed by Kenny with 18.

Bob Berce led Edsel Ford with 22 points and Mike Booth added 15.

Kenny hauled in 17 rebounds and Schaner collected 10 as RU outrebounded Edsel Ford, 51-35.

The Panthers travel to Allen Park Friday.

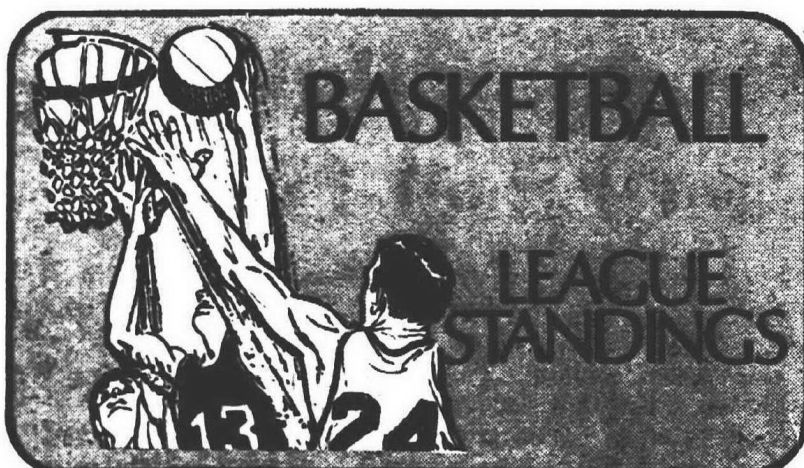

Howard Kraft Elected To Post

Howard Kraft, athletic director of Redford Union Schools, has been elected to a one-year term on the representative council of the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

He will represent southeastern Michigan on the 14-member council, which is responsible for the control and management of athletics in Michigan secondary schools.

Trojans Knock Off Milford, 57-52

The Wayne-Oakland conference basketball race is shaping up to be a battle to the finish...with the finish featuring a Feb. 18 clash between Clarkston and Clarenceville.

The Trojans knocked off Milford, 57-52, and remain tied for second with Bloomfield Hills Andover at 4-2. Clarkston is in first with a 5-1 mark. Clarenceville concludes the regular season play with Andover on Feb. 25 so the race features a three way dash.

The Trojans invade West Bloomfield Friday.

Clarenceville and Milford fought to a 12-12 tie in the first quarter and Milford spurred ahead at the half, 27-25.

"They zoned us in and boxed in our leading scorer and rebounder in Chip Meyrelles," said Clarenceville Coach Ralph Weddle.

It was back and forth in the third quarter with Milford again holding a two point margin, 43-41, going into the final quarter.

The Trojans exploded in the early moments of the fourth quarter and with six minutes remaining, Phil Halstead put Clarenceville up, 51-45, but field goals in the final quarter.

Milford closed the gap to 54-51 with two minutes on the clock but Paul S. nions hit a short jumper to put the Trojans up by five.

"The defense won the game for us," added Weddle. "Milford collected only two Clarenceville hit 50 per cent from the floor on 20 of 40 while Milford scored an amazing 64 per cent but on only 20 of 31 shots.

The margin was at the line with Clarenceville hitting on 17 of 30 and Milford making good 12 of 20.

Halstead led in scoring for the Trojans with 17 points, followed by Meyrelles with 12 and Simons with 10.

FRANK MERRIAN paced Milford with 18 points and Randy Shangs added 12.

"We are in good shape now," added Weddle. "We have beaten Clarkston but lost to Andover. We are ready for the second round."

Ski Heil

By

BILL CAMERON

Lightning strikes again. I was just informed that Mrs. Virginia Dernay, 16129 Ellen Drive, Livonia, suffered a fracture while skiing at Mt. Brighton three weeks ago.

The reason it wasn't called to my attention was probably because it was the one class that we cancelled due to a snowstorm and left it optional for those that wanted to, to go.

It was her second time on skis and according to one of her friends she was quite enthusiastic and was doing well until she fell late in the day and her bindings failed to release.

I RECALL TELLING Mrs. Dernay about the only accident we had last year and her comment was "I hope lightning doesn't strike in the same place twice."

It seems she talked three of her neighbors into participating which is what happened last year. Mrs. Dernay, mother of five children, has a great attitude and is looking forward to next year. We all wish you a speedy recovery.

The turmoil at the Winter Olympic Games has begun. Carl Schranz, veteran Austrian skier, has been declared ineligible by the Eligibility Committee.

This is the first step in the war between Avery Brundage and the F.I.S. (Federation International de Ski) world governing body of the sport of racing. It has been rumored that Schranz is worth about $60,000 a year through endorsements, etc.

Obviously he has remained an amateur and payment of these funds supposedly are "under the table". Watch for the Austrian team to pull out of the Olympics, followed no doubt by several other nations.

The hypocrisy in the sport has finally been challenged and it will no doubt effect the summer Olympics Games and the whole "Amateur" question in sports.

Snow conditions are great in northern Michigan, Ontario and Colorado. Don't judge skiing by what you see in your backyard. Search for snow.

GC West Scores 6th Tri-River Win, 99-62

Six Tiger cagers hit the double figure scoring mark when Garden City West romped to an easy 99-62 win over Crestwood to remain in Tri-River contention.

West stands with a 6-2 league record but Melvindale remains undefeated at 8-0. The Tigers stand 6-4 overall and host Schafer Friday.

THE TIGERS had a six-man balanced attack which accounted for all but 10 of the 99 points. Ken Pawenski paced West with 25 points, hitting on 10 of 10 from the field. Mike Lewis followed with 17 points, Kurt Lewis added 13, Jerry Volas contributed 12 and Tom Jones and Bob Carr each popped in 11 points.

It was nip and tuck in the first eight minutes with West managing a 25-20 first quarter edge. The Tigers exploded for 31 points in the second quarter to lead at the half, 56-36.

"Our game plan was to work a combination defense to cut down on their outside shooting," said West Coach Chris Babler. "Our shooting was by far the best it has been all season."

WEST hit 10 for 14 in the first quarter and 13 for 24 in the second with Pawenski collecting 15 of his 25 in the second.

Crestwood could not get any closer than 19 points as West totaled 26 in the third quarter to lead 82-49.

"We were beating their press and kept pulling away," added Babler.

WEST shot a 60 per cent from the field on 39 of 65 while Crestwood hit on 25 of 69 for a 36 per cent. The Tigers collected 21 of 28 at the line and Crestwood popped in 12 of 18.

Kirk Lewis led with 14 rebounds as West out rebounded Crestwood, 43-31.

Rocks Lose 62-53 Clash Falcons Even Record At 3-3

By FRED DELANO

Plymouth slumped Friday to its poorest basketball mark in four seasons as the Rocks absorbed a 62-53 home court defeat at the hands of the Dearborn Pioneers, this third straight loss in the Suburban Eight leaving them 2-5 in league play and 4-7 for the season.

After winning one title outright, sharing another and taking runnerup honors in the Suburban Six over the last three years, the 1971-72 Rocks have fallen upon hard times in the expanded Sub-8 and face an uphill struggle even to finish at .500.

The performance against Dearborn was the third in a row and the fifth in their last six that the Rocks have fallen short of the 60 point mark after they had opened the season by barreling to at least 67 points in each of their first five games.

Top producers against Dearborn were Dave Van Wagoner, and Ron Egloff, each with 14 points, and Jeff Jacobs with 13. The best the Rocks could do was pull into a tie four times in the first half as the Pioneers broke into an early lead and never fell behind. John Renko and Barry Copeland led Dearborn with 22 and 21 points respectively.

DEARBORN led 15-12 after the first quarter, 30-23 at the half and then by only a 38-35 count at the end of the third period, but at that point the Pioneers put on a crushing nine point spurt that killed any remaining Plymouth hopes.

Renko picked up four quick points as the fourth quarter opened, followed by a jumper from Copeland which made the count 44-35 before Jacobs could get a Plymouth goal. Kevin Nelson and Copeland teamed for three additional Dearborn points to make it a 10-point lead at 47-37 and after that the Rocks never came within six of catching up.

Besides Egloff, Dave Van Wagoner and Jacobs, Plymouth's only scorers were Tim Van Wagoner with six points, and Jim Szilagyi, Glenn Smith and Leonard Yermal, each with two points.

Friday the Rocks will host Belleville, which also is 2-5 in the league but which edged Plymouth, 79-76, in double overtime when the two teams met on the Belleville court earlier in the season.

Farmington evened its Inter-Lakes Conference basketball record at 3-3 with a 64-49 victory over Waterford. The Falcons stand 5-7 overall and travel to Stevenson Friday.

Stevenson and Farmington are tied for the No. 3 spot and two of the Falcon league triumphs have been over winless Waterford.

Tom Runyon hit the opening bucket for Waterford but Farmington moved to an 18-10 opening quarter lead with Dan Lekovich directing the play.

The Falcons spurred to a 10 point margin in the second quarter but Waterford fought back to trail at the half, 32-25. Farmington broke the game open in the third quarter, outscoring Waterford, 17-6.

and carried a 49-31 lead into the final period.

Waterford totaled 18 in the final quarter to 15 by Farmington.

FARMINGTON hit on 27 of 71 for 38 per cent from the floor and Waterford was out rebounded 49-40.

Thurston Rallies Past Edsel Ford

Thurston picked on the Suburban Eight cellar dweller, Edsel Ford, in an 89-74 non-league victory. The Eagles fell to Franklin Friday in a Northwest Suburban battle to stand 2-4 in league play but downed Edsel Ford Saturday to stand 3-8 overall.

Edsel Ford is in last place in the Suburban Eight with a 1-6 record.

"It was a clash between two teams that haven't been enjoying the best of seasons in their respective leagues," said Thurston Coach Mike Pasternak.

"If we can continue to play like we did against Edsel Ford, we can beat anyone in our league," added Pasternak. "Front running John Glenn plays on our court Friday and we are sure hoping for an upset."

EDSEL FORD and Thurston opened the first quarter in a seesaw affair with Thurston capturing a slim, 18-17 lead. The high flying Eagles blitzed for 30 points in the second quarter to grab a 48-30 halftime advantage.

Mark Helenbart hit for 10 points in the second stanza with Thurston shooting 53 per cent from the field.

Thurston increased its lead to 31 points in the third quarter but Edsel Ford fought back to outscore the Eagles, 25 to 21 but Thurston held a 20-19 edge in the fourth.

THE EAGLES scored 51 per cent from the floor on 38 of 70 shots and made good 13 of 18 from the line. Edsel Ford connected on 26 of 37 free throws.

Helenbart totaled 23 points to lead Thurston in scoring, followed by Steve Hunter with 20, Dave Harding with 18 and Mark Falvo with 11.

Bob Berce led Edsel Ford with 25 points. George Neidson added 13 and Mike Booth collected 10.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

Pruning shrubs: With spring not too far off(?) many home gardeners are getting the itch to trim some shrubs and ornamentals.

No reason why you can't start trimming any time now, and save the clippings to force them into bloom indoors. Most of them will bloom if you put the twigs in a vase of water.

Here are a few shrubs and tips on pruning them:

Altheas (rose of sharon): Needs little pruning. Prune anytime before growth starts.

Almonds: Prune little, if at all, directly after they bloom.

Barberry: Trim any time.

Butterfly bush: Dies back nearly to ground in winter.

Wait until spring and cut all branches back to live wood.

Calycanthus: Needs no pruning, except to remove a dead branch or an unruly one if desired. Do any time.

Coralberry: Needs no pruning, except to keep it in good form.

Cornus (dogwoods): trim sparingly, if at all.

Cranberry (high bush): This is a large bush and should have room to develop naturally. Do not prune, as you will remove flowers and berries.

Deutzia: Prune very little, if at all, just after blossoming.

Deutzia gracilis may need an occasional trimming, but wait until after blossoming. Most deutzias will winter-kill a bit at the tips so in spring, just snip off the dead tips.

Forsythia can be trimmed now. Put the trimmings in a vase for a room full of golden bells. Or wait and trim after blooming. Heavy pruning now will remove buds and spoil your spring show.

Honeysuckle (Tatarian), needs thinning out once in a while. Prune sparingly.

Hydrangea (snowball bush) can be trimmed back to the ground. You'll get fewer but larger blossoms. Prune before any growth starts. Hydrangea P.G. can be trimmed simply by cutting off the old blossoms.

Japanese Quince needs no pruning except slightly to keep it in good form. Lilacs can be thinned out. Cut dead wood, limbs that crisscross one another, and remove some sucker growth. Privet can be shaped in spring.

If spireas are overgrown and have a lot of leggy growth, cut the plants back to within six inches and let all new growth appear.

A rough rule to follow: shrubs that blossom early on last year's growth should be pruned just after the bloom. Those that blossom late in summer or in fall, bloom on twig growth of the summer and should be trimmed in the spring before any growth starts.

GREEN THUMB bonus: Are you baffled about trimming forsythia or stubborn lilacs? Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for my bulletin, "How to Trim Lilacs and Forsythias." It's guaranteed to make these plants bloom by the bushel for you.

Farmer's Week Slated At MSU

EAST LANSING

Farmers' Week, an annual event at Michigan State University featuring the latest agricultural developments, will be held March 20-24, according to Byron H. Good, MSU professor of animal husbandry and event chairman.

Theme for the 1972 show is "Now and 1985." The program will tie in with "Project 80 & 5," a study in which members of MSU's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources have been taking a hard look at what rural Michigan will be like in 1985, with some additional glimpses at the year 2000.

Farmers' Week is open to the public, and annually draws some 20,000 visitors to the MSU campus.

THE DICTIONARY defines the word "den" as: a center of secret activity; a hollow or cavern used especially as a hideout; an animal's lair. Today, the most common explanation is a comfortable, secluded room. This family den designed by Leif Pederson. NSID sports a profusion of "collectibles." Bleached oak floors stained white, contrasts with lustrous tones of antique furniture. Red walls and upholstery lend vivid color.

'Boy Proof' Son's Room

You can "Boy-proof" a youngster's room so that vulnerable walls become resistant to childish abuses and maintenance consists of an occasional damp-wiping rather than frequent repainting or papering.

Use prefinished tongue-and-grooved planks. These 16"x8" planks come in a variety of textures and colors. They are applied with concealed metal clips and adhesive.

Winter Is Good Time For Some Yard Work

EAST LANSING

Go out there in all that snow and work in the yard? You've got to be kidding!

Now that your first reaction is out of the way, Michigan State University landscaping experts do recommend winter as the best time to do some of that necessary yard work so you won't be hassled with it next summer.

Now is a good time to remove any dead or dying trees. If the tree is small, and there aren't any complications like phone or power lines, you can do it yourself. If it is big, now is a better time to hire skilled tree workmen. Spring and summer will find these experts busy fertilizing, spraying and pruning.

If they come when the ground is frozen, your lawn won't be damaged by the falling tree or by their trucks. Also, leafless trees are more easily cut and disposed of.

Winter is a good time to pick out ornamental plants and shrubs for later planting. A trip to the nurseryman now will let you see how the plants look in the winter, and you can pick out plants that have interesting bark colors, foliage or berries that will add a little color to your winter landscape.

After heavy ice or snow storms, check your evergreens. The extra weight of ice or snow can break branches or ruin the attractive shape of prized shrubs.

When you check the plants, use a broom to brush off excess snow or ice before the plant becomes damaged. If the temperature is very low (below zero) use extreme care when removing snow and ice. At these temperatures the woody parts of the plant are very brittle and many break when you remove ice or snow.

THOMPSON-BROWN

The Moth: $200 Million Despoiler

Consider the poorly-fed moths in today's society. For one thing, the diminutive clothes moths, with a wing spread of only a half-inch, don't eat at all. All they're interested in is... yes, sex. They have no food hunger at all.

The clothes moths are really imagoes, as biologists call them.

Having emerged from their cocoons, the imagoes promptly start perpetuating the vicious life cycle of their kind. The female begins laying eggs for as long as 24 days, depositing a total of 200 to 300 in dark places, preferably deep in the nap of wool or at the base of the hairs of fur. Having completed her mission, she dies.

The male may zoom around another week or so, when he, too, dies. Chances are any clothes moth on the wing is a male, as a female heavy with eggs simply runs when disturbed.

IN EIGHT or 10 days in a warm room, the eggs hatch; in a cool place, they require three to four weeks. Then comes the real culprit of the family, the translucent white caterpillars just a millimeter long.

These voracious youngsters immediately begin feeding on the animal fibers in which they hatched. Ordinarily, it takes from six to eight weeks for them to hit their stride; in cold and adverse conditions, they'll work away at the vulnerable woollens and furs for as long as four years.

As soon as the larva is mature, it spins a cocoon. It then spends four weeks pupating, following which it emerges as an imago.

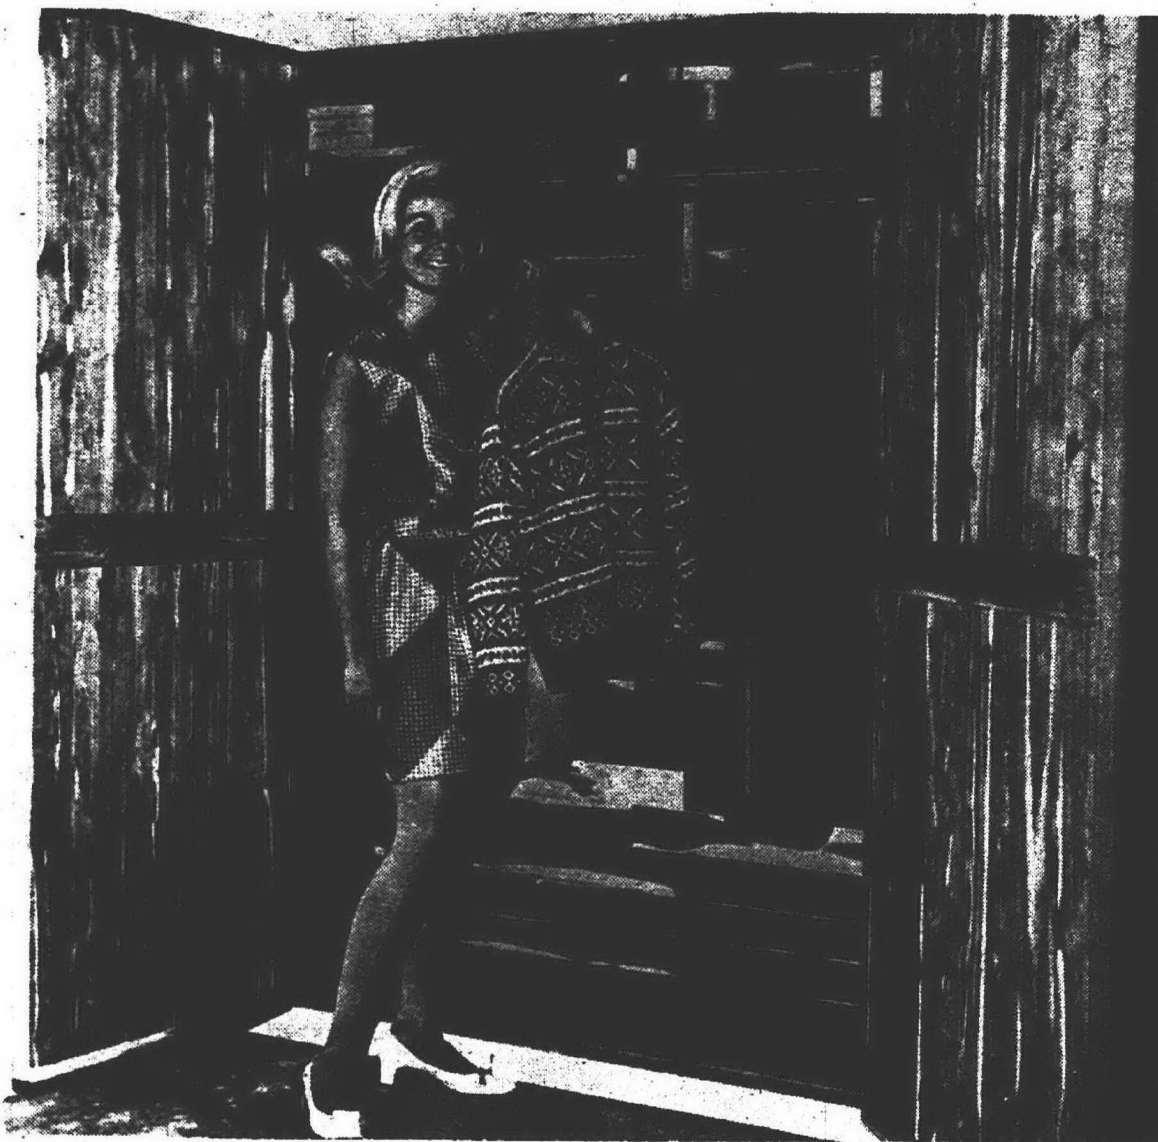

Estimates have been made that the clothes moth larvae of the world eat about a thousand tons of wool every year. In the U.S.A. alone, it's said they do $200 million of damage every year. Practically all homes are infested with them to some degree.

ONE WAY to reduce moth infestation and damage is to provide a cedar closet or other lined container for woollens and furs, according to a spokesman for the Aromatic Red Cedar Closet Lining Manufacturers Association.

The pleasant aroma of the aromatic red cedar, it has been known for centuries, is a successful moth repellent. Yet, the fragrance of the wood is pleasant to humans. This dual-personality wood, as a result, has become popular as a closet liner in thousands of homes.

A researcher, pondering what moth larvae fed on before clothes were invented, figured they were scavengers that dined off carrion. He theorizes they gradually adapted themselves to furs, feathers, wool cloth and other animal products.

Some experts hold that the

THIS SPACIOUS closet also is a basement room divider. One side is "hers" and the other is "his." Each side has three full-size access doors. Her closet is on one side, his on the other. Since all interior surfaces are covered with moth-resistant aromatic red cedar wood, the threat of moth damage is eliminated. Write a postcard to the Aromatic Red Cedar Closet Lining Manufacturers Association, 39th floor, 221 North LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill. 60601 for a free plan.

three-stage clothes moth family, due to the strange (and costly) diet, have a nutritional problem because they don't get vitamins. They observe that may be the reason the larvae go after food stains in clothing as a No. 1 target.

Members of the association point out the importance of cleaning or thoroughly brushing garments before storing them in an air-tight cedar lined closet. Food stains especially should be eliminated as a precaution against moth damage.

BRUSHING is a good way to make sure the tiny eggs, which are smaller than the head of a pin, are removed. Cleaning fluids, of course, have a similar effect.

Moths go back to Biblical days. When Job was feeling especially depressed, he compared himself to a moth-eaten garment. Moths were just one of Job's problems. They are the problem of most families in temperate climates all over the world. "A cedar-lined closet is the easiest and most economical way to eradicate moth damage in a home," said the spokesman for the association. "Weatherstrip the door and put the tongue-and-grooved cedar boards on every surface, including the floor, ceiling and door. The greater the odor, the greater the protection."

Aroma Of Cedar Lasts For Over 100 Years

How long does the aroma of aromatic red cedar last? Very long, say researchers for the Aromatic Red Cedar Closet Lining Manufacturers Association.

Cedar used to build houses and barns years ago, when it was more plentiful, still retains the pleasant aroma 125 or 150 years later when torn down for other uses such as pencil stock.

"In fact," an association spokesman says, "many of those most familiar with cedar claim that the older the wood, the more fragrant it is."

"The forest service quotes a statement attributed to men who made a business of digging up cedar logs long buried in the swamps of New Jersey. These men reported the fragrance of the wood to be as great as that of fresh-cut timber. In some cases, it was estimated these logs had been submerged for more than one thousand years."

An association member received a letter enclosing a photo of an old cedar water main laid 105 years previously.

However, much of the old pipe was not removed.

"Fifty-five years after that, a telephone company was excavating for a conduit system. The section of water main shown in the picture was dug up at that time. It was buried under about five feet of earth and was in an excellent state of preservation."

He wrote that the wood was sound, with no decay apparent, but the iron bands used for binding the joints were almost rusted away.

"Its aromatic qualities were unimpaired; in fact, the aroma seemed, if anything, to be more pronounced than in green, freshly cut wood."

"If the aroma of the cedar seems to diminish with the years," the association spokesman said, "it's only because the wood pores have been clogged with dust or lint. Dust the boards occasionally, and once every year or two give them a light sanding with fine sandpaper. You'll find the aroma is thus renewed."

Corklike Paneling

IF YOUVE always wanted a cork wall effect in your recreation room but haven't felt you could afford one, now you can. Masonite Corporation has introduced a panel of durable hardboard with the authentic look of cork. And it's budget priced. Called Valencia, the panel has a dark brown cork color. Each 4x8-foot panel consists of 16 cork textured vertical areas of varying widths that break off at staggered levels and feature different textures from course to course.

The rich-appearing panels offer homemakers an opportunity to create accent walls in their homes with the authentic look of cork. The panels are available at lumber and building materials yards.

If Blacks Veto Woodward NE Transit Line May Be First

By TIM RICHARD

Black legislators from Detroit are opposed to a plan for a rapid transit line in the Woodward corridor. They threaten to vote against Gov. Milliken's proposed highway-roads-transit package unless some plans are changed.

If the Woodward corridor is rejected, the leading candidate as a replacement may be the northeast corridor, in the general path of Gratiot Avenue into Macomb County.

So says Thomas Lipscomb, director of the Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA). Lipscomb says there's little chance a line into the western suburbs in the Schoolcraft corridor could pay its way soon. Lipscomb talked about the politics and economics of rapid transit in an interview with Observer Newspapers, following a general assembly meeting last week of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

FOR SEVERAL years, transportation planners had agreed that the Woodward corridor was the logical first step in linking the six-county region in a transit network. But suddenly, a few weeks ago, black state representatives from Detroit withheld their votes on Gov. Milliken's proposed two-cent hike in the gasoline tax which would provide $84 million for freeways, roads and SEMTA's work.

One reason, they said, is that construction would rip up their neighborhoods, but an even bigger reason was that there are few industrial jobs for blacks in the direction of Royal Oak, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

Blacks charge that the Woodward corridor line would serve chiefly to help well-to-do suburbanites into and out of Detroit faster and make things easier for doctors and professional people to get patients to their new suburban offices, but would do little to help blacks seeking jobs.

State Rep. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth), chief sponsor of the package, is currently heading negotiations to win 56 votes in the House to pass the program. As of last Friday, Pursell said he could count on 52. Compromises were being made.

AS SEMTA's chief operating officer, Lipscomb said the northeast line appears to be the next logical candidate. It may be politically acceptable to black lawmakers because of the number of industrial jobs in Macomb County.

SEMTA thinking is that transit lines should just about break even on operating expenses but would have to get government construction funds.

Not only must a line generate a good load of customers during peak (morning and evening commuter) hours, but must also have a good traffic potential during non-peak hours, said Lipscomb.

For this reason, he said, the northeast line has an advantage over any lines that might be built along the Schoolcraft corridor, toward Metropolitan Airport or downtown.

Grote Named To Council

Schoolcraft College President C. Nelson Grote was appointed to the state advisory council for Title I of the Higher Education Act, Community Services and Continuing Education Program.

Village Players Will Do 'Salesman'

The Village Players, of Birmingham, will present Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" at the Playhouse on Chestnut St., Birmingham, Feb. 4, 5, and 11, 12.

The part of Willy Loman, the salesman who compensates for his inadequacies with fantasies, will be taken by John Mitchell. Mrs. Carol Hodges has the part of Willy's long-suffering wife, Linda. Their sons, Biff and Happy, will be played by Boris Sellers and Shields Hodges.

Others in the cast include Chesles Himelhook, Beverly Reitz, Bob Overmyer, Ben Benson, Sid Britton, Mitzie Eveland, Jim Balmer, Donna Snyder and Marie Wagner.

Eric Holmgren is the producer and Bill McCall, director. June Hanson is assistant director. Mrs. Donavan Gray is ticket chairman.

This is the first show of its kind since the gallery opened 23 years ago. Works by painters Maggie Citrin of Detroit and Barbara Keidan of Birmingham will also be shown, along with sculptures by Jean Spreen of Beverly Hills.

The gallery, located at 915 E. Maple, is open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. every day except Sunday and Monday.

DETROIT "The Tempest" has been selected as the premiere production for The Theatre, a new facility resulting from the merger between Marygrove College's speech and drama department and the University of Detroit's department for the performing arts. It is located on the Marygrove campus, W. McNichols at Wyoming.

"The Tempest," Shakespeare's turbulent story of man's struggle to adapt to and communicate with his fellow men, will open at a gala "president's preview" Feb. 3 (Thursday).

REGULAR PERFORMANCES are scheduled for Feb. 4-6, 10-13, and 17-20.

Performances begin at 8:30 p.m., 7:30 on Sundays.

Individual tickets may be obtained by writing or calling the Performing Arts Center, University of Detroit, 4001 W. McNichols, Detroit 48221. Season tickets and group rates are also available.

Noted actor Shepherd Strudwick, who is guest artist in residence, will star as Prospero.

Now teaching acting styles to a class of BFA students, he has had starring or featured roles in more than 25 New York productions, more than 50 motion pictures and countless television shows, including the winners of two Pulitzer prizes, two Drama Critics' awards and three Academy awards.

Detroit audiences will remember Strudwick for his performances in Arthur Miller's "The Price" and Edward Albee's "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" at the Fisher Theatre.

He has recently appeared in episodes of "The Name of the Game" and "MacMillan and Wife."

"CHILD'S PLAY," Robert Marasco's Broadway hit, is the second production of the season. The winner of five 1970 Tony awards, it will have its Detroit area premiere on March 9 in The Theatre.

Strudwick will star as Joe Dobbs in this production. Dr. James W. Rodgers, chairman of the consolidated department for the performing arts, will direct both plays.

The first season in the new theater will close with a new adaptation of Aristophanes' Greek classic "Lysistrata" by David Regal. An original rock score accompanies this comedy, which will open April 6. Regal, who is also a guest artist in residence, will direct it.

The new theater, built by students, seats 500 persons. The project was conceived during Sir Tyrone Guthrie's residency at the University of Detroit in the fall of 1969. The structure was designed by a U of D master's degree candidate, Harold Thrasher, who attended the National Theatre School in Montreal. The construction was under the supervision of Michael Huesman, the technical director.

Parking is available for 500 cars at the theater.

With the addition of the new facility, the schools are now offering an intensive two-year program which leads to a BFA degree in theatre.

Belgian Group Stars Feb. 12

DETROIT The highly-acclaimed National Orchestra of Belgium, under the baton of Michael Gielen, will come to the Masonic Auditorium Saturday, Feb. 12, at 8:20 p.m. Tickets are available at the auditorium box office, Grinnell's downtown and Hudson's.

Cantata Group British Plans Concert To Present 'Superstar'

DETROIT The Cantata Academy of Detroit will hold its last subscription concert of the season in Mariner's Episcopal Church located in the Detroit Riverfront - Civic Center development.

An all - Baroque program has been chosen for the event, scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 6. Tickets are available at Hudson's and Grinnell's.

Highlight of the concert will be a performance of the seldom - heard "Missa Papae Marcelli" by G. P. da Palestrina, a master work requiring a full range of choral capabilities as most of the sections are written for five and six parts. The mass is written for a cappella performance and will be sung in Latin by the 24 - voice Cantata Academy Choir. The program also includes works by Bach, Handel and Biber.

A full company of 31 voices and instruments organized by the Original English Opera Company will present seven performances of "Superstar" on the stage of the Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward, Feb. 8, through Saturday, Feb. 12.

The presentation will be the first in a professional theatre in the Detroit area. Two matinees will be offered during the five-day visit.

Particular highlight of the English troupe's authentic rendering of songs from the hit rock opera will be the additional performance of the Gemini Light Company, perhaps the outstanding special effects group to come out of the rock movement.

Already experienced with two months' performances in the U.S., the English opera company has been applauded for its honest and authentic interpretation of the British-written libretto.

Dr. Audley Grossman, curator of theatre arts at the museum, believes that the high acoustical quality of the auditorium will deliver the music with a fidelity not yet experienced by "Superstar" fans throughout the country.

LIGHTFOOT, who was born in Orillia, Ont., a small town 80 miles north of Toronto, attended a now defunct music school, Westlake College in Los Angeles in 1958. While there he studied orchestration and worked as a music copyist and studio singer. Later he was a vocal arranger and writer and producer of commercial jingles in the California area.

Around 1960 he became interested in folk music and started to play the guitar.

It was his friend, Ian, of Ian and Sylvia who encouraged him with the guitar. They later included two Lightfoot songs in their repertoire, "For Lovin' Me" and "early Morning Rain."

Lightfoot began to adopt the folk style, polishing it gradually in coffee houses and folk clubs and later in bars around the Toronto area.

GORDON LIGHTFOOT

In 1965 Lightfoot signed to United Artists Records and his LP's were released about every 10 months - "Lightfoot," "The Way I feel," "Did She Mention My Name," "Back Here On Earth" and "Sunday Concert." Four of these sold over 100,000 in the Southfield concert.

Canada alone. "Sit Down Young Stranger" was released under the Reprise label in 1970. Lightfoot plays both six and 12 string guitar. Guitarists Red Shea and bassist, Richard Haynes, will be with him for these sold over 100,000 in the Southfield concert.

Will S'craft Residents Pay Tax Twice?

By KATHY MORAN

Whether property owners in the Schoolcraft College district will end up paying taxes for the support of both Schoolcraft and Wayne County Community College is stirring great concern among local residents, school officials, and politicians.

The source of concern is Public Act 139 which allocates the 15 mills collected by Wayne County among townships, cities, the county and school districts.

Before the act was passed, the Legislature agreed to divert some of the money collected by Wayne County for support of WCCC, since voters have repeatedly refused millage requests for the college.

THE WORDING of the act makes it uncertain whether one-quarter mill of the 15 mill county assessment from all Wayne County property owners will go for support of WCCC.

If it does, residents of Livonia, Clarenceville, Plymouth, Garden City and Northville will, in effect, be contributing to the support of two community colleges. They are currently assessed 1.77 mills for support of Schoolcraft.

Another possibility is that the quarter - mill will be subtracted from the 8.9 mills that the county tax allocation board returns to school districts for their operations. If that happens, the school districts will be pinched by the lower appropriation than they currently get from the county.

THE WORDING of Act 139 sounds as though a quarter - mill will be taken from the 15 mills paid only by residents of the WCCC district, which includes Redford Township.

But in that case, residents of the Schoolcraft district would pay a quarter - mill more for county operations than are residents of say Redford Township because they would still have to pay the full 15 mills.

And this would violate the principles of uniform taxation and equal protection of the law, State Rep. Marvin Stempien (D-Livonia) said. Schoolcraft College's attorney has already said that in his opinion, Schoolcraft would not be entitled to collect that quarter - mill from the district's residents for its own operation.

Residents of the Highland

Park and Henry Ford Community College Districts are also involved in the uncertainty.

AFTER DISCUSSING the problem at its last meeting, Schoolcraft trustees voted to authorize the college administration to work with its member school districts and to "take appropriate action" to investigate implications of Public Act 139.

All the school districts except Livonia have expressed their concerns about the act in writing to Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote, Livonia is expected to follow suit.

The districts have indicated they will share the costs of legal advice.

STEMPIEN said the problem is still in the "embryo" stage and will come to a head in April or May when the Tax Allocation Board will interpret the wording of the act.

He said that when the bill which became Public Act 139 came over to the House from the Senate, he recognized the possibility of some residents in Wayne County being assessed for support of two community colleges.

Stempien, who is House majority leader, insisted that the wording assures that the quarter - mill would not be assessed for WCCC's support from property owners already supporting a community college.

He was assured that the wording would prevent double taxation, but said that now school officials are afraid that the tax allocation board will assess the quarter - mill county - wide. The seven - member board has two school representatives who could be out - voted by the five other members representing cities and townships.

STATE SEN. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) said that he is working with senators and representatives to come up with a bill that will clarify the act.

"I am considering one bill to rectify that problem eliminating the one - quarter mill from the law," he said. "I am meeting with Wayne County Community College officials and with members of the House to determine an alternative method of financing the college."

Voters from WCCC district have repeatedly turned down millage to support the college.

Pursell emphasized that he would not settle for "one without the other." He said it would be irresponsible to cut out the quarter - mill for support of WCCC without providing an alternative method for financing the college, saying that "the present law is inequitable and unfair."

Theatre Is Getting New Look

Mounting a theater production has always called for a lot of behind - the - scenes work and a lot of unsung heroes, but even more than usual has been going on this year as the Livonia - Redford Theatre Guild prepares for its production of "The Lion in Winter" this month.

Guild members figure a couple of angels or gift horses might help the "Lion," but promise in spite of everything the theater will be "presentable" by opening night Feb. 11.

The "fun" has been brewing for several years now, with the guild always having to search for places in which to stage its productions. Rental of school auditoriums has always meant that their schedules have to be arranged around the school's, plus a good deal of tiresome shifting back and forth of costumes and scenery. Up to now, only one-acts have been performed in the guild headquarters.

SO THE GUILD members decided that they should take a look at what they had.

What they had was a cluttered, dingy building on Beech-Daly, a block south of Five Mile Road in Redford Township.

Could something be done with it? Member Warren Reinecker decided that it could, especially when he heard from a friend who had a friend who had a sister who lived in Owosso that an old barn was for sale.

Reinecker bought the barn and with a crew of his friends tore it down.

Early one October morning Bill Lynas, Ross Hulet, Don Warren, Mary O'Connell and Marion Tournaud drove up to Owosso with a U-Haul trailer to bring back the barn (wood). Mrs. O'Connell and Mrs. Tournaud went along to take out all the nails, and the Jack Piersons made a spaghetti supper for the crew.

SINCE THEN, guild members have been putting up barnwood whenever and almost wherever possible (working from Reinecker's scale model of a whole new look for the building).

Whenever possible so far has involved working around the guild's November production of "Babes in Arms," weekly actors workshop classes, rehearsals for "The Lion in Winter" and, within the last two weeks, tryouts for the annual children's show to be held in March, plus a benefit show and competition in a contest in Detroit in March.

The guild also felt the freeze literally and economically when the furnace had to be repaired early in January at a cost of $186. This means that some of the renovating (possibly the chandeliers) will have to wait.

But they do have the new stage finished and will have lots of barnwood nailed into place by the opening night.

MEANWHILE ANY contractors or electricians who would like to contribute their talents (or would wait for their pay) may contact Mrs. O'Connell or Mrs. Tournaud. They are promised plenty of free advertising in the guild's publications.

One problem will have to be tackled before spring. The back door of the theater will have to be raised and the back built up or an awful lot of barnwood may get washed away in spring floods.

Mrs. O'Connell, the president, has promised that if attendance at "Lion" is good, the guild will have comfortable seats in time for the next production "Plaza Suite."

Meanwhile there will be much to be seen opening night. Pages will escort guests from the city parking lot across the street and floodlights will light up the theater. The (new) red carpet will be down and the inside will look a lot different.

The new theater will hold 100 persons, and so reservations (even for ticket-holders) must be made for this performance by calling Mrs. Daniel Borovik, 34948 Grove, Livonia, or Mrs. Jack Pierson, 15583 Sussex, Livonia. Performances will be Fridays and Saturdays, Feb. 11, 12, 18, 19, 25 and 26. An 8:30 curtain will be observed for all six.

THE GUILD'S first "really, big show" in its own building will star such regulars as (from left) J. Craig Collicott, Moya Taormina, Russ

Vogel and Warren Reinecker. Moya plays Queen Eleanor, and the other three play her sons, Richard, John and Geoffrey. (Evert photos)

KATI BEDDOW of Franklin is in a pensive mood as she rehearses for the role of the young French princess Alais in the guild production.

THE THEATRE GUILD of Livonia-Redford is getting a new look, as members work hard to remodel the building on Beech-Daly, Redford Township, before the play "The Lion in Winter" opens Feb. 11.

Retirement Age Splits 4 Senators

LANSING Observerland's senators split on a bill that would lower the retirement age for Michigan lawmakers from 60 to 55.

Republican Sen. Carl Pursell of Plymouth voted against it while Democratic Sens. Daniel Cooper of Oak Park and David Plawewski of Dearborn Heights voted for it. Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) was absent.

Without debate, the Senate passed the bill 22-6 and referred it to the House.

Legislators are eligible for 26 per cent of their $17,500 annual salary when they retire if they have served eight years in office. For every year beyond eight, they can collect an additional three per cent, not to exceed 50 per cent of their salary.

Cook Candy For Your Valentine

Old fashioned sentiment never goes out of style. And one of the sweetest ways of expressing it is with a gift of home-made candies.

Candy-making is much easier than it used to be for modern recipes are precise and surefire. Corn syrup helps to prevent the formation of unwanted crystals in cooked candies.

For Valentine's Day gift giving, make several varieties of candy. Begin by making large red hard candy hearts. Decorate each with a lacy looking edge made by writing with icing forced through a decorator's tube.

No gift of candy is complete without a fudge. A good, not too sweet one, is made with dairy sour cream. Include squares of fudge, a chewy peanut butter candy and easy-to-make Nutty Mocha Balls in your gift assortment.

CANDY HEARTS

1 c. sugar
1/2 c. light corn syrup
1/4 c. water
Corn oil
1/4 t. peppermint extract (optional)
Red food coloring

Mix together sugar, corn syrup and water in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture boils and sugar is dissolved. Boil without stirring, until temperature reaches 295 degrees F. or until small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads which are hard. Meanwhile, grease two baking sheets with corn oil. Remove syrup from heat and stir in extract and food coloring. Arrange 12 greased heart shaped cutters on greased baking sheets. Pour hot candy mixture immediately into molds to depth of 1/4 inch. Remove cutters when candy is hard. Decorate with confectioners sugar frosting. Makes about 12 candy hearts.

CRUNCHY CHEWS

3/4 c. dark corn syrup
3/4 c. sugar
3/4 c. creamy or chunk style peanut butter
3/4 c. salted mixed nuts or peanuts, broken
4 1/2 c. corn flakes

Mix corn syrup and sugar in large saucepan. Bring to full boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Quickly stir in peanut butter. Add mixed nuts or peanuts and cereal, stirring to coat evenly. Turn into greased (13"x9x2-inch) pan. Cool. Cut into squares. Makes 4 1/2 dozen (1 1/2-inch) squares.

SOUR CREAM FUDGE

2 c. sugar
1/3 c. light corn syrup
1/3 c. dairy sour cream
2 T. margarine
1/4 t. salt
1 t. almond extract
1 c. coarsely chopped pecans
1 c. candied cherry halves

Grease 8x8x2-inch pan. Mix together sugar, corn syrup, sour cream, margarine and salt in three quart saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to boil. Cover and cook one minute. Remove cover. Boil, without stirring, over medium heat until mixture reaches 236 degrees F. or until syrup when dropped into very cold water, forms a soft ball which flattens on removal from water. Remove from heat and let stand 15 minutes. Add extract and beat until mixture begins to lose its gloss, about five minutes. Stir in nuts and cherries; turn into prepared pan. Cool, cut into 36 pieces.

NUTTY MOCHA BALLS

6 (1-ounce) squares semi-sweet chocolate
1/4 c. light corn syrup
2 c. confectioners sugar
2 T. instant coffee powder
1/2 c. hot milk
1 t. vanilla
1 2/3 c. graham cracker crumbs
1 c. chopped walnuts
Finely chopped

Melt chocolate over hot water. Remove from heat. Add corn syrup and sugar, mixing well. Stir coffee powder into milk and stir into chocolate mixture. Add vanilla, cracker crumbs and walnuts, mixing well. Chill about one hour or until firm enough to handle. Roll into one inch balls. Roll balls in finely chopped walnuts. Cover and store in refrigerator. Makes about 40 balls.

OBSERVATION POINT

Bussing Issue Overwhelming Political Year In Suburbs

For the time being, the bussing issue is fairly quiet.

You can still hear the thunder in the distance (the Federal Judge's recent decision in Richmond, Va. to join two white suburban school districts with a black inner city district). But the storm won't break until later this month when Federal Judge Stephen Roth finally says what he thinks of the various integration plans submitted to him.

But in the meantime, it's easy to see how profoundly the bussing issue is shaping Michigan politics and public policy, particularly here in the suburbs.

A GOOD EXAMPLE occurred last week when Attorney General Frank Kelley spoke to the Farmington Chamber of Commerce annual dinner.

Kelley, as virtually everyone knows, is panting to run for Robert Griffin's U.S. Senate seat this year. But Kelley has problems; as columnist Judd Arnett put it earlier this week in the friendly Free Press, "the enthusiasm for his candidacy does not everywhere reach a crescendo when this possibility is mentioned."

At the Farmington meeting, he was faced with a largely Republican group. Audience reaction was cordial but cool, until Kelley got hit with a question on bussing.

"I take it as major premise that the point of the issue is to equalize educational opportunities for all children," Kelley replied. "That may mean that it is appropriate to bus children from poor educational districts into better ones. But it certainly does not mean that children from good educational districts should be sent into bad ones, merely to equalize educational opportunity."

Kelley added that he expected court decisions on the bussing matter to be appealed "all the way up through the U.S. Supreme Court," and that he felt that bussing suburban children into the inner city "just isn't gonna happen."

KELLY GOT a round of applause for that one.

Politically, it was a carefully designed position which can be defended in black communities and which meets the needs of the white suburbs.

But it put the Attorney General somewhat at odds with his own party's position on the issue. This position, worked out last fall after Democratic State Chairman James McNeely got trapped by a reporter's question into saying he supported the bussing idea, was that the party didn't think bussing was a very good thing but that it was about the only option available at present to overcome segregation in school districts.

Kelley, however, is a realist. He knew what his suburban audience felt on the issue, and he came as close as he could to reassuring people that he agreed.

ANOTHERWAY the bussing issue has affected politics in these parts is in the now stalled reapportionment of congressional districts.

This one will eventually wind up in Federal Court, mostly because a bi-partisan reapportionment group could not agree on how to re-draw district lines.

Most observers figured they could not agree because of partisan haggling about which party was going to be gerrymandered out of a district. But bussing was another big factor.

To understand just how, consider one proposal which would have moved the 19th district (currently including Livonia, Farmington and Redford Township) west, to pick up Livonia, Plymouth, Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. Ann Arbor busses students within the district to achieve racial balance, and there are a lot of people in Ann Arbor who think this is a very good idea.

But how does a poor politician run from such a district? He can't very well be against bussing when he speaks in Livonia and then drive to Ann Arbor and be for it.

Similar arguments affected consideration of the 18th district (currently including Southfield, but near enough to Pontiac to raise bussing fears) and the 15th district (now taking in Westland and Garden City, but close to Ypsilanti.)

ANY POLITICAL year such as this one has the usual amount of double talk.

But in this year, when bussing is the number one issue out here, we can expect a lot of politicians to be putting out an unusual amount of hot air because of bussing. And it's started already.

"SIR, HOW DO YOU STAND ON BUSSING?"

"WHAT CITY AM I IN?"

Tim Richard writes

Is Change Needed In School Patterns

I guess maybe I have to take some of the flak.

Dwayne Riley, on WWJ television news the other night, had a yarn about 18-year-old students at a suburban high school (not in Observerland) having lunch in a local bar. Under the new age of majority law, many high school seniors can do just that.

These 18-year-olds, as legal adults, no longer need notes from mommy or daddy to excuse themselves from school. They can do it themselves.

Newsman Riley commented that this was a problem which no one foresaw when the age of majority legislation was being drafted. On this point he was wrong.

IT WAS THIS writer who wrote Observer Newspapers' "white paper" on the age of majority back in mid-1969 after doing research on the idea for three years. Our proposal at that time was that Gov. Milliken appoint a commission to analyze the earlier maturing of our populace and make a compilation of all laws and regulations with any form of minimum age, the idea being that we should probably lower the age of everything.

Milliken did appoint a Governor's Special Commission on the Age of Majority with little fanfare, and early in 1971 that group made its proposal of a uniform age of majority at 18.

Personally, I would have been happier if they had suggested 19, but if the experts give you the choice of 18 vs. 21, then clearly 18 is the better alternative.

BUT THERE WAS another part of our white paper, entitled "The Generation Gap Under The Law," which seems to have been overlooked. One paragraph suggested:

"Not only legal ages could be affected by a more precise knowledge of maturity, but our entire educational system, too. A news magazine suggests, in discussing campus revolts, that freshmen enter college about two years earlier, on the average."

A typical high school student completes 12th grade a little after his 18th birthday. He completes work on his bachelor's degree, assuming he doesn't drop out for awhile, a little after his 22nd birthday. If he does any graduate work, he's in his mid-20s or older by the time he completes it.

That's too old. I think these people are entirely capable of accepting a speeded-up curriculum, graduating from high school at 17 or 16 and from college at 22 or 21. There's no sense to having them hang around a campus to complete paper requirements for a diploma or degree when they're bored and itching to tackle something bigger.

GREAT BRITAIN went to 18 as the age of majority five years ago, but the entire British social system was better equipped to handle it. As I recall the report of Her Majesty's Commission, a much smaller percentage of Britons go on to college; the overwhelming majority have completed their educations by age 15 and have been in work force or playing adult roles for three years by the time they're 18. The overwhelming majority of Michigan 18-year-olds, on the other hand, are just completing high school.

Revising Michigan's age of majority laws downward to a uniform 18 was a relatively simple task. Revising the educational system to get kids out of high school at 17 or 16, however, will be tremendously complex.

Moreover, our teachers, counselors and principals, whom we tend to consider very liberal these days, will actually turn out to be conservative, stodgy, hide-bound, tradition-encrusted and stick-in-the-mud when asked to do so.

Nevertheless, the need to speed up the system is too terribly obvious for us to be satisfied with the present slowpoke system. HEW down in Washington and the State Board of Education in Lansing need to get busy on it.

R.T. Thompson writes

Livonia Leads Rotary In International Study

We doff our hats today to the Livonia Rotary Club which achieved the unusual honor of nominating three young men to District 640's international study project and placing all three on the five man team.

International Rotary requested all districts in the worldwide organization to plan projects for 1972 that would cover a wide variety of programs, all leaning towards international themes.

The request was made last year and District 640 Governor Hugh Archer sent letters to all clubs for suggestions. After a special committee perused all plans, it picked the one for an international study of Japan. It involves a five-man team, accompanied by Archer, spending 40 days in Japan, studying the economy, education, business, commercial and agriculture philosophies of that nation.

Then on its return to the United States, the team will make up individual reports which will be sent to all clubs.

It is the most comprehensive venture ever taken by District 640, which includes clubs in Michigan and Ontario, and marks the first time a Rotary Club has sent a delegation abroad for an extensive study of one country.

Area clubs in District 640 are: Livonia, Plymouth, Wayne, Northville, Southfield, Farmington, Garden City, Westland, Novi, Redford Township, Dearborn Heights, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Walled Lake, Monroe, Belleville, Dearborn, Inkster and Trenton.

Livonia nominated Tom Gorton, president of the Livonia Jaycees; Tom O'Connor and John Graves.

Gorton, who is an engineer for Ford Motor Co., had the endorsement of the Dearborn Club. Graves, head of counseling at Livonia Franklin High, a resident of Plymouth and a member of the school board there, had the backing of the Plymouth Club.

THUS IT WASN'T entirely a surprise when all three Livonia nominees were named. It came as a distinct shock to club members but not to most clubs in the district that had members on the final selection committee.

The thought behind the final choices, from the list of 18 which survived preliminary judging and interviews, was to have a team of men with varied occupations and interests. This would result in a more complete study and bring back a more accurate picture of Japan of today.

District leaders wanted someone from farming, an engineer, educators and professional services.

The selection committee sifted through the finalists and came up with five men who should meet the recommendations of the district.

In addition to the Livonia trio, it picked Kenneth Goetz, of Riga, nominee of the Blissfield club who is ranked with the top young farmers in his section of Michigan. He is the operator of a large farm, dealing in beef cattle in addition to farming.

THE PANEL also named David Wilson, associate professor in the school of Business Administration at the University of Windsor, recommended by the Windsor, Ontario club. All of which gives an international touch to an international study group.

Graves, who was named "man of the year" by the Jaycees a year ago, has been an outstanding teacher for several years. His work as a counselor has won recognition throughout the state.

Then he took another step a year ago when he ran for and won a seat on the Plymouth Board of Education. Unusual since he is in the teaching profession and many voters take a dim look of a teacher being on a school board.

O'Connor is an architect for a Livonia firm and has been active in many community programs. He gave the team the professional talent needed to looking into Japan's new look.

Gorton, a research engineer, provided the engineering knowledge and his background as a Jaycee leader also qualifies him for a study of the political and government aspect of Japan.

It's a great triumph for the Livonia club and a great opportunity for the five members. It will be interesting to see and read their reports next fall.

Congratulations to all five men and especially to the trio from Observerland. We know they'll do an excellent job.

Sense And Nonsense

Dr. Richard Kirchgatter, the veterinarian at the Parkview Clinic in Plymouth, was both shocked and surprised when his auto was stolen a week ago.

He was shocked when told of the theft and surprised when on its recovery, the only thing missing was the latest edition of the Plymouth Mail & Observer.

Sense And Nonsense

At the same meeting where it put off a proposed set of guidelines prohibiting "negative" stories in its high school paper, the Clarenceville Board of Education unanimously approved "The Common Goals of Michigan Education" which includes one goal saying, "Education must foster...creative, constructive and critical thinking."

Systems Work At 11 Weeks

EDITOR:
I was greatly disappointed in your fine newspaper when I read the article "How An Abortion Agency Functions." It was filled with false statements, half-truths and contradictions and apparently the reporter did not ask for one single authority to document these statements. Responsible authorities agree that by eight weeks, all the body systems are present. By 11 weeks, all the body systems are working. The heart beat begins between the 18th to 25th day. (James M. Tanner, Gordon Rattray Taylor and the editors of Time-Life Books, "Growth," New York, Life Science Library, 1965, page 64.) Electrocardiogram recordings can be taken at nine or 10 weeks. Young people, who have this awesome decision to make over life and death, should not be presented an article of this nature without having the many false statements which it contains exposed for what they are.

Heart Beat At 18 Days

EDITOR:
I would like to make a reply to "Henry Barton" (an alias) of the Legal Abortions for Women (LAW) agency, whose article appeared in the Jan. 19 issue of the Observer. He stated that he assures a woman in her second month of pregnancy that "by no stretch of the imagination is it a baby. It's just a late period." Also, according to Barton, a woman who is within 20 weeks of pregnancy is not carrying a baby, but rather an embryo with no size, shape or identity. Henry Barton should educate himself to a few facts. Dr. Maureen Fedeson, MD, is an anesthesiologist on the staff of Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital and she stated recently that "if implantation takes place at six days, then at 18 days a heart beat can be monitored from the fetus; and at 27 days brain waves can be monitored, all this before the woman's missed her first period and even suspects she's pregnant."

Dr. Fedeson went on to say she feels "it's intellectually dishonest to accept heart and brain waves as evidence of life for the adult but not for the fetus."

Must We Join SEMCOG?

EDITOR:
I have just finished reading "There'll always Be A SEMCOG - FitzPatrick."

I was appalled to read that FitzPatrick, as new chairman of SEMCOG, intends to "guarantee dues of all eligible members" and that "the county will hold the seats of all those entities who haven't joined or paid dues" and "we'll vote them and these communities won't have a voice until they pay their dues."

Mr. FitzPatrick criticized several communities for withdrawing from SEMCOG. What were their reasons for leaving other than what the chairman called "short-sighted and selfish?"

What has happened to a community's rights to make its own decisions? What has happened to self-government? What depth of power does SEMCOG hold that it can force a community to be a member even though a town decides otherwise? Where is the legality of this?

His biased and opinionated views of education frightens me. He sounds like a conquering Caesar -- a dangerous man who will rule the world from Rome.

I would appreciate a reply. What can I do to fight this? Where do I begin? Who do I contact?

JEANNETTE ZEZYKA
Garden City
EDITOR'S NOTE: SEMCOG is a voluntary association that no one is forced to join. Under its new finance rules, the six county boards will pay the bulk of member dues but will be reimbursed if local units (schools, cities, townships) join.

In return, the county boards will be able to fill executive committee seats if local units fail to join: "He who pays the piper gets to call the tune." FitzPatrick is actually encouraging local units to join.

If reader Zezulka wants Garden City to have a voice, she should encourage her city council and school board to join and ask that the Schoolcraft College board retain its membership. Neither Garden City unit is a member.

Put Redford On The Map

EDITOR:
I have lived in Redford Township for 22 years. I would like to know why most residents use Detroit, Mich. as their town. We do not pay taxes to Detroit, and I resent being told we must use it for postal reasons. (We have a Redford Heights Post office, 48240).

I think this could be one of the reasons the map people aren't too excited to put our township on the map. I always use Redford Township 48240 on all my correspondence and I think all our residents should do like wise. I am happy to say I live in Redford Township.

MRS. MILDRED VAN DUSEN

'Litter Box' Goes to Katz

EDITOR:
Winner of the cactus-lined litter box for the year 1971 goes to Dr. A. Edward Katz, Livonia school trustee, for the stupidity shown in (an) article in the Observer that the city, state and federal taxes used to build homes in the suburbs for Detroit residents, also tax and maintenance free as they don't intend to do anything for their selves.

Did it ever occur to Dr. Katz that Livonia was not built by plush cats smoking expensive cigars, but by people working in business and industry as those drones in the inner city and at the same pay scale?

State To Back Regional Planning With $100,000

By TIM RICHARD

Five years ago, the Michigan Legislature fought long and hard over a bill that would permit local governments to organize regional councils of governments.

This year, the state may go a long step further by appropriating up to $100,000 for the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments and $25,000 to $100,000 for others across the state.

This strong endorsement of regionalism came last week from Gov. William G. Milliken. Ironically, it came at a time when SEMCOG is losing members, particularly in the school bloc.

BESIDES MILLIKEN'S budget proposal, SEMCOG, a six-county voluntary agency, has two other cheerful prospects.

At Friday's annual meeting in Detroit's Cobo Hall, Milliken was introduced by State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth), who pointed out that he is the only southeastern Michigan person on the State Appropriations Committee. Pursell is one of the state's strongest champions of SEMCOG. SEMTA (the transit agency) and other regional bodies.

Robert FitzPatrick, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, was elected chairman of SEMCOG. Although he is a Democrat, FitzPatrick has a close working relationship with Republicans Pursell (a former county board member) and Milliken.

Milliken smiled at the prospects. In an interview with Observer Newspapers, he said, "Carl and Bob have a good working relationship. Bob's not a typical Democrat." And he nodded agreement to the suggestion that the senator isn't a typical Republican.

FitzPatrick, a Detroit resident with a medical clinic in Livonia, acknowledged in a separate interview that attitudes toward regionalism cut across party lines, as do attitudes toward reform of county government.

The difference between people, said FitzPatrick, is not a partisan label but a willingness to make structural changes in government.

The old-liners — whether they be Democratic county officers in Wayne or Republicans in Berrien — seem always to want to postpone big decisions and changes, and just operate the way they always have.

Significantly, in the Michigan Senate, the chief sponsor of the county restructuring bills FitzPatrick wants most is Carl Pursell.

Moreover, Milliken, Pursell and FitzPatrick use similar language when discussing the high quit rate of SEMCOG's school members. Milliken calls it "too bad." Pursell shakes his head sadly because three school districts he represents recently dropped out (Livonia, Plymouth and Farmington), and FitzPatrick calls it a "shame."

IN OBSERVERLAND, — these units of government still remain in SEMCOG:

Oakland County — City of Farmington, Lathrup Village, Oakland Intermediate School District, Oakland County Community College, the county itself.

Wayne County — Cities of Livonia and Plymouth, townships of Plymouth and Canton, Schoolcraft College (currently re-assessing its role), Wayne County Community College, intermediate school district, county government, Wayne-Westland School District.

IN HIS SPEECH calling for state aid to SEMCOG, Milliken said:

"I have recommended in the budget which I presented to the Legislature last week that the state make financial assistance available to multi-purpose, regional planning agencies established through the cooperation of local governments within the state planning and development regions."

"I have proposed a minimum of $25,000 and a maximum of $100,000 per region, with the exact amount available determined by population."

TO JUDGE the size of the state grant, consider what other sources of revenue are bringing SEMCOG:

• Member dues (mostly from counties): $367,000.

• Business contributions for a solid waste disposal study: $102,500 sought, $51,350 received as of Jan. 1.

• Business donations from 100 major firms in the region: $89,500 forwarded or pledged toward a goal of $165,000.

DR. EWART GUINIER

will discuss "Can the Blacks Go It Alone? What Price Coalition?" at Schoolcraft College at 8 p.m. today (Wednesday) in the Waterman Campus Center. Dr. Guinier is professor and chairman of the Afro-American studies at Harvard University. Admission to the talk, which is sponsored by the Cultural and Public Affairs Committee, is $1 for students and $2 for the general public.

Justice Is Compared In Seminar

A short seminar on comparative criminal justice systems of Europe and the United States will be conducted by Major E.O. Hjellemo of Oslo, Norway, at Schoolcraft College from 7-10 p.m. on Feb. 8 in the Forum Theater.

The seminar is sponsored by Schoolcraft's community services office in cooperation with the Michigan Law Enforcement Education Association and the Macomb County Community College Criminal Justice Center. No registration fee is required.

Schoolcraft Puts COG On Trial

By KATHY MORAN

The current structure of the school bloc in the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) could be the deciding factor in Schoolcraft College's decision whether to renew membership in the organization.

At least two trustees are opposed to renewing membership in the regional planning organization because the community colleges are completely outnumbered by the K-12 schools in the school bloc.

The board voted to defer action on membership renewal until the Feb. 23 meeting when it hopes to have a representative from SEMCOG talk to the board about the advantages of continuing membership.

TRUSTEE MARY Dumas, an alternate delegate to SEMCOG, voiced opposition to renewal suggesting that the college wait until community colleges are given a greater voice in SEMCOG.

Currently, community colleges are included along with school districts in the school bloc. School districts and community colleges from Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair, and Washtenaw Counties are eligible for membership.

Livonia and Plymouth School Districts withdrew their memberships in SEMCOG this January, leaving Schoolcraft College as the only member from the college's district.

Arch Vallier, Schoolcraft delegate to SEMCOG was not present at the board meeting, but reportedly is opposed to renewing membership.

MRS. DUMAS SAID that she and Vallier evaluated the significance of the college's membership in SEMCOG and concluded that it should not be renewed.

"We felt the community colleges were really not being properly represented," she said. "The issues before the bloc are primarily K-12 issues. Since the colleges are so totally outnumbered, if the bloc made a decision we didn't like, we would have to become a party to it because of our membership."

"We believe in the principle but do not like the structure," she said. "We would like to come back to SEMCOG (later) with some kind of voice."

Mrs. Dumas suggested temporary withdrawal from the organization until colleges could be accepted as a separate bloc with a seat on the executive committee. Currently the school bloc has a seat on the executive committee of SEMCOG but it is held by a K-12 representative.

"MY EXPERIENCE" with SEMCOG has been the same as Livonia's, trustee Erv Brown said. "There's a lot of money going into SEMCOG, but nothing coming out of it."

Board Chairman R. Robert Geake spoke in favor of renewing membership.

"I feel very strongly that Schoolcraft should continue its membership in SEMCOG," Dr. Geake said. "I think we should exercise some leadership and stay in SEMCOG and speak not only for the community college but for our member school districts."

Dr. Geake said that the reason local districts withdrew from SEMCOG was "more for financial reasons than that they didn't believe in regional planning."

"If anything, this is a stronger reason why we should stay in," he said.

Dr. Geake proposed a motion that Schoolcraft renew its membership stating that the college "recognizes a role and obligation to provide educational leadership and now finds itself the only organization left to represent this region in the SEMCOG education bloc."

Geake's motion was set aside after the board voted to defer action until the next meeting.

Girls Take The Cake . . . And Decorate It

Once they decorated a cake at a slumber party and delivered it wearing pajamas.

Another time the cat licked the roses from a flowery masterpiece.

A patch of ice on the sidewalk spelled disaster for still another home-baked special on the way to delivery.

But it all added up to a smashing successful fund-raising project for a Livonia troop of Cadette Girl Scouts.

The whole delicious project began because Cadette Troop 620, which meets in Emerson Junior High, decided to make a visit to Savannah, Ga., the birthplace of Girl Scout founder Juliette Low.

The trip would cost a couple of thousand dollars, and up to the fall of 1970 the girls had managed to raise a few hundred on projects like bake sales and cookie and calendar sales.

At that point Mrs. Willadean Zedan, one of three co-leaders of the troop, offered to teach the girls cake-decorating.

She had learned the art herself and taught it to several girls, and she pointed out that daughter Anne-Marie, youngest of her five children and a member of Troop 620, had been paying for her own clothes from cake-decorating profits for quite a while.

The troop's 19 members were a bit skeptical that rosettes on birthday cakes would solve all their financial problems, but they thought it sounded like fun and attended Mrs. Zedan's four lessons.

That was about 700 cakes and $1,500 ago. In the 16 months in between, the girls baked and delivered birthday cakes, anniversary cakes, graduation cakes, Thanksgiving and Christmas and Easter cakes and others for just about any occasion you could name.

What's more, six of them entered decorated cakes in the junior division at the Michigan State Fair, and they came out with two first place ribbons, three seconds and a third.

They use a mix — always the same brand — for the cakes, and the icing is Mrs. Zedan's standard recipe.

"But it tastes different the way each of the girls makes it," she puzzled.

In decorating, they added plenty of variations to the designs they worked out originally. Advertising has been only by word of mouth, with the exception of a small item in a mimeographed subdivision paper.

Sheet cake pans and a specially-built form for Snoopy's dog house were added to the equipment, and the girls, on order, have turned out cakes with boating, motorcycling or fishing themes. Mothers helped a lot by taking orders, but the girls did practically all the baking.

The money for the Savannah trip is in hand now, and the girls are making plans to go during Easter vacation with Mrs. Zedan and their other leaders, Mrs. Barbara Caldwell and Mrs. Clarice Leggat.

Mrs. Zedan figures they've gained a lot more than money for the trip.

"They've learned to accept responsibility and they have a skill that they can use all their lives," she said.

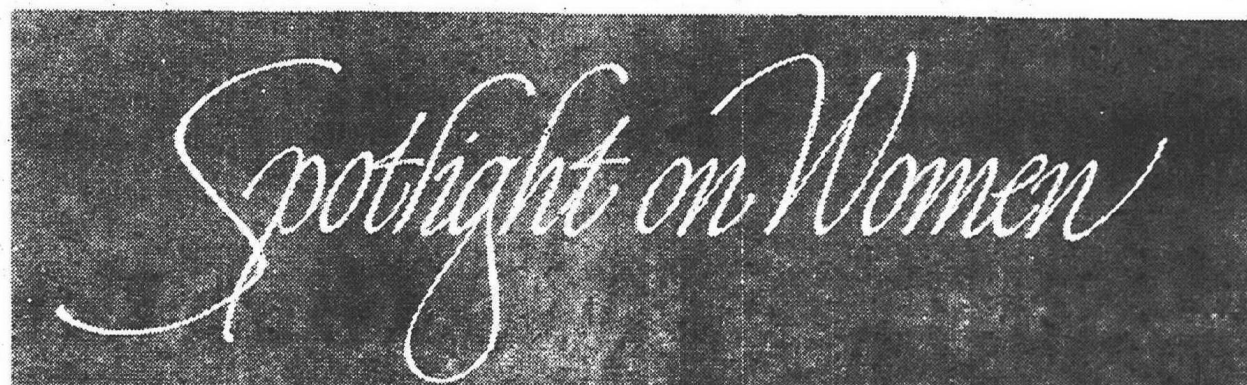

And those who have sampled the attractive and tasty cakes will be glad to know they're still available. Several of the girls now are going into business for themselves.

A STEADY HAND ices a rose for a sheet cake that went to a convalescent home. Sue Schou wields the icing tube, while Shelly Caldwell, left, and Carol Leggat watch. (Observer photos by Bob Woodring)

A SNOOPY CAKE and a wedding cake are admired by Mary Welker, Debbie Schou and Ann-Marie Zedan.

A View Of Moms And Kids

"A Quest for Understanding Mothers and Their Children" will be the topic of a talk by Helen Keane in the next Birmingham Temple Town Hall Series.

The meeting will be held Wednesday, Feb. 9, in the temple, 28611 W. 12 Mile, Farmington. Refreshments will be served at 12:30 p.m., and Miss Keane will speak at 1.

DEBATE ON ABORTION

Reform!

Sophie Drutchas of Redford Township is a nurse who has turned her major attention to a drive for reform of abortion laws.

And she feels the two are closely connected.

"This is part of what I chose as my profession as a registered nurse," said this widow who is coordinating the Wayne County portion of a drive to get the question of abortion reform on the Michigan ballot next November.

"Unwanted pregnancies add to the problems of health as well as creating social, economic, moral or religious problems."

MEMBERS of the Michigan Coordinating MEMBERS of the Michigan Coordinating Committee for Abortion Law Reform must get 250,000 signatures on petitions in order to get the question onto the ballot, Mrs. Drutchas said.

To date, the number inked on the petition blanks is a little over 131,000 and the drive has to be completed by March 1.

So Sophie Drutchas' main occupation now is helping set up centers where representatives of the committee can have petitions available for all interested to sign.

Booths where petitions may be signed will be set up in the Livonia Mall Jan. 29 and 31 and Feb. 1, 4, 7, 8, 12, 14, 15, 18, 19 and 28, Mrs. Drutchas said.

She also said petitions would be available at the Tel-12 Mall on Wednesday, Fridays and Saturdays during February and in the Westland shopping center Fridays and Saturdays through the month.

Few issues have proved so explosive as the move to change Michigan's abortion laws. Both sides of the controversy are presented here.

No Change!

Three Observerland mothers active in the battle against any abortion law change have voiced strong objections to recent statements by an abortion agency operator.

The three are members of "People Taking Action Against Abortion," a group with Michigan headquarters in Wayne, and their main concern is rebutting a claim by the man who assumed the name of "Henry Barton" in an interview published Jan. 19 in this paper.

They felt misunderstanding and harm might result from uninformed persons reading his contention that the fetus of a woman "within 20 weeks of pregnancy" could be considered "an embryo with no size, shape or identity."

"WE KNOW that human life begins at the beginning, and to pick some arbitrary point to say that this is human is strictly a philosophical point of view and not scientific," said Mrs. Gloria Klein of Westland, president of People Taking Action Against Abortion.

"To terminate life with abortion is to destroy another human being, no matter what the euphemisms, depregnate, terminate the pregnancy, etc.

"When our society chooses to ignore all scientific fact and sanction the destruction of human life, then we must be prepared to meet anarchy."

MRS. PAULA ERVIN, of Plymouth, secretary of the group, said her organization was concerned about "false information" getting to the "the young mother in a first pregnancy who makes a crucial decision."

"Our group tries to disseminate the facts about pre-natal life and the realities of abortion, divorced from emotion as much as possible," she said.

"We feel that only with the facts can we expect our legislatures, courts and individuals to make responsible decisions."

MRS. MARY RYAN, Redford Township adoptive mother, insisted that evidence proves "a fetus is a person, as yet unborn."

"The supreme courts of nearly 40 states, including Michigan, have acknowledged that the unborn child is a person having property rights enforceable in the courts," she stated. Since the unborn has the right to property, certainly he has a right to be born."

Hearing Set On Women's Rights Amendment

A public hearing on an amendment to the Michigan constitution to prohibit discrimination based on sex is scheduled at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 3, in the chambers of the state House of Representatives in Lansing.

The amendment states: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the state because of sex."

It is co-sponsored by 99 members of the house, including all Democratic representatives.

Majority floor leader Marvin R. Stempien (D-Livonia) urged all interested individuals and groups to attend the hearing because he is urging the House Judiciary Committee to report the bill to the House floor for immediate action.

He said the resolution "not only protects women's rights but also stops those laws and practices of the state which discriminate against men."

Reform

mother of four, trained as a nurse at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids and worked in the profession before her marriage.

Last year, after the death of her husband, she worked for the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity in a pilot program in Family Planning.

"I soon found out," she said, "that a woman who was better educated, up higher on the social ladder, or more economically independent could do something about so personal a problem in her life as how many children she could mother adequately."

She said the experience with the OEO, added to earlier work in obstetrics and pediatrics, convinced her that changes were needed and it has to come politically.

And in that arena, Mrs. Drutchas feels, "the anguish of change is slow, frustrating and very difficult."

"Our male political leaders make changes only when they are forced to make them, whether on the local, state, national or international level," she said.

"Until men realize that working together with women, whether in a family or international unit, requires representation of both sexes to solve problems that concern everyone, we can make no progress."

SHE ALSO added she had lobbied for abortion reform in Lansing and talked to many political leaders and "I was amazed at the lack of interest in us on the part of men."

In her current work, Sophie Drutchas said, "she has been asked by those opposed to reform how she can 'seek to destroy and murder.'"

"But I feel," she explained, "that I am helping to bring into the world a loved, wanted human being."

Methadone Is Hazard To Kids

Poisoning of children due to accidental swallowing of methadone pills "is currently a problem in Detroit."

So declare two medical researchers in the current issue of Michigan Medicine, the journal of the Michigan State Medical Society. They studied nine inner-city children - one died and one suffered brain damage.

THE ARTICLE, titled

"Drug Abuse of the Innocents," was written by Dr. Marilyn Heins, in collaboration with Leon Epstein, a Wayne State University medical student.

Dr. Heins, director of pediatrics at the WSU School of Medicine, urges new safety features for handling pills used in methadone maintenance programs and the elimination of use of methadone in pill form altogether if satisfactory controls cannot be established.

"Once any methadone reaches the black market, there seems to be no way to protect young children from accidental ingestion," they said.

The authors advocate safety features for use of methadone, including childproof - sealed bottles; group and individual counseling on dangers of accidental poisoning of children; and home visits to addicts with young children to ensure safe storage.

They recommended that Methadone in pill form be taken off the market unless "strict controls" can be used. Controls apparently have failed in Detroit, they noted.

THE AUTHORS noted that although liquid methadone is potentially more dangerous to children it appears to cause less accidental poisoning, possibly because it rarely leaves clinics in more than two-day supplies and does not appear to be widely available from illicit sources.

The authors did followup studies on nine children treated for Methadone poisoning at Detroit General between Jan., 1970, and April, 1971. There were no cases of methadone poisoning at Detroit General prior to 1970.

The nine children studied by Dr. Heins and Epstein ranged from a year and a half to four years old and all lived in Detroit's inner city. One died, one suffered brain damage, and the other seven recovered after hospital stays of up to 18 days.

Four Area School Districts Join In Intervention Suit

Four of Observerland's school districts have decided to seek intervention in the Detroit desegregation suit before Federal Judge Stephen J. Roth. Others are considering it and may be calling special meetings this week to act on the matter.

The recommendation for suburban school districts to intervene was made by the law firm of Butzel, Long, Gust, Klein and Van Zile which has been engaged by 54 districts in the tri-county area to stay abreast of the Detroit desegregation case and provide information and legal opinions to the school boards. The boards each paid a $100 fee, followed later by a $300 fee to the law firm to research the case. Following the Richmond, Va. school desegregation case where a federal judge ordered cross-district bussing, the law firm advised its clients on Jan. 24 to seek intervention and asked them to respond before Feb. 7.

THE FIRST Observerland school district to join the intervention movement was Garden City. At its meeting Jan. 24, the Garden City Board of Education authorized the law firm to enter the case on its behalf.

"We are not opposed to bussing," Frank Wanderski, president of the board said at the close of that meeting, "just so long as it doesn't cross district lines."

"That's the sole reason we decided to intervene in the case," he said.

The Wayne-Westland Board of Education also approved an intervention motion at its meeting Jan. 24.

Plymouth became the third Observerland district to agree to intervention when it unanimously agreed to enter the suit Jan. 25.

Stating that it "is the intent of this school district to maintain the concept of neighborhood schools" and to "maintain as nearly as possible, local control of schools," the Plymouth school board agreed to intervene even though the final plan may not include Plymouth schools in a metropolitan district. "It could affect us in the future," Esther Hulsing, board president said.

LIVONIA AND Farmington school boards are continuing in their policy of "watchful waiting."

On the advice of their attorney, the Livonia school board decided to wait until Livonia schools are specifically named in a metropolitan district order before seeking to intervene.

Farmington Supt. Roderick J. Smith said the Farmington school board does not plan to intervene at this time. Following the advice of its attorney, the Farmington board has not joined the association of school districts, although it did pay the initial $100 fee to the law firm to receive information about the legalities of the case.

The Farmington school board indicated it might seek intervention if officially named in the suit.

Southfield schools have decided against intervening in the case. Acting on the advice of their attorney, they apparently are shying away from any group action, although they may consider intervening on their own at a later time.

South Redford Board of Education is considering intervention and is expected to call a special meeting to discuss the issue this week.

THE REDFORD UNION School Board called a special meeting Monday night to consider the intervention motion and agreed to intervene.

At its meeting Jan. 27, the Clarenceville Board of Education decided to adopt a "wait-and-see" policy towards intervention. The board's attorney, John F. Shantz, issued a letter of caution to the board Jan. 26.

Budget Warns Soviets--Griffin

President Nixon's proposed increase in defense spending for 1973 can be viewed as a warning to Russia that the United States intends to stay on top in weaponry says Republican U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin.

Speaking to the Livonia Chamber of Commerce last week, Griffin said that increased defense spending is a means of maintaining peace.

"For our own security and to prevent aggression, it is important that we don't give the guarantee that we are going to stand still," Griffin said. "I agree with President Nixon when he says that a strong defense is essential to maintaining the peace."

THE PROPOSED $82 billion defense budget will include spending for defense-related projects, including nuclear warheads and ballistic missiles.

In addition to producing a strong front in relation to defenses, the budget is expected to be a prod to the heavy industries and thus stimulate the economy.

"We are moving toward some kind of agreement in the SALT (Strategic Arms Limitation Talks in Vienna) talks," Griffin said but added that certain areas "like submarines" are crucial areas where there hasn't been agreement.

"Strength is a way of achieving and maintaining peace," Griffin said. "Unilateral weakness is only an invitation to war." He agreed that some areas of the military "need to be weeded out," but stressed that the country still has to maintain strong defenses.

"Those who are misguided into thinking you can achieve peace by the United States disarming itself are not helping the situation any and, if anything, they are just making it worse," he said.

Hussey is president and Crosby executive vice president of the United Northwestern Realty Assn. and Western Wayne - Oakland County Board of Realtors, the nation's largest multiple listing organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Crosby, 34105 State, and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hussey, 2816 Club House Lane, all of Farmington, were recently at the Las Vegas Hilton while attending mid-winter business meetings of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards.

Multi-Town Drug Unit Asks Funds

By LEONARD POGER
Suburban Wayne County drug fighters moved a step closer to getting federal funds for local programs and encouraging more coordination of individual drug centers.

In a meeting in Westland City Hall Monday afternoon, the newly-revamped Western Wayne County Drug Alliance took several important moves to accomplish its goals.

THE ORGANIZATION gained only five members in the first six months of its existence, but has expanded to include various suburban cities, hospitals, and other groups.

As an important first step, the drug alliance presented a suggested dollar figure to the Wayne County Community Mental Health Services Board for possible federal funding.

The suburban group, which met the Monday deadline in getting the combined figure of $3,285,000 to the county board, now faces a Feb. 16 deadline in detailing its proposals for federal support.

THE DRUG alliance also adopted its revised by-laws and elected eight members to its first planning committee.

On that committee are Westland City Councilwoman Justine Barnes and Edward Kane, probation director for the Westland District Court.

Officers of the group since it started are planning to resign by mid-February. They are Chairman Carl Berry of Plymouth, Mike Bogolea of Livonia and Mrs. Jean Melton of Inkster.

Represented at the Monday session, attended by an estimated 35 persons, were Livonia, Plymouth, Garden City, Westland, and Redford Township.

Also sending delegates to take part were other suburban cities and townships in addition to St. Mary Hospital, Livonia; Wayne County General Hospital; Peoples Community Hospital Authority and one of its units, Annapolis Hospital in Wayne; Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic; and various local drug program directors.

THE REORGANIZATION of the drug alliance has been led by the Peoples Community Hospital Authority, which owns and operates four public hospitals in western Wayne County and Ypsilanti.

Representing the PCHA in the move is Myles Lash, administrative assistant to the authority's executive director.

In a letter Monday to the county mental health services board, Lash pointed out two problems in the Wayne County suburbs.

One is the need to encourage "immediate coordinating efforts" among existing drug centers, community groups, and health care facilities.

Another is the "totally insufficient" level of state and federal funds approved for the suburban agencies.

THE SUBURBS met the previous Monday to discuss the new "umbrella concept" for Wayne County drug centers and related agencies and agreed to meet again the next week in Westland.

Lash's letter to the county board also noted that "if the conceptual 'umbrella' works and it distributes the funds in a fair and equitable manner, then we will gladly oblige and walk under it as a group."

"If not, other measures will have to be evaluated since we are rather sure that the 'rain' (the crises of drug abuse) will be with us for some time."

Showing an interest in the revamped drug alliance are 19 western Wayne County cities and townships, seven hospitals; nine local drug centers; and at least six other private or semi-public agencies which would be involved in fighting drug abuse.

SUSAN NASSON, of Garden City, an employee of Chevrolet Spring and Bumper Plant in Livonia, receives her share of the more than $290,000 paid out through the stock purchase program from Walter O. Muller, Chevrolet plant manager. Mrs. Nasson was one of the 213 General Motors salaried employees in Livonia to share in the program's 12th distribution.

Bargaining Workshop Planned

A 10-week workshop in collective bargaining will be conducted on Saturday mornings at Schoolcraft College beginning Feb. 12.

The instructor will be R.H. Phillips, a commissioner with the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in Detroit.

He will provide instruction in the historical and legal aspects of collective bargaining, and will guide participants in simulated contract negotiations and grievance procedures.

A discussion and participation format will be followed to impart methods taught to hundreds of union and management classes.

Registration will be held at 9:30 a.m., Feb. 12 in Room 100 of the Bradner Library. Total workshop costs are $15. Further information may be obtained by calling the community services office at the college.

Housing Isn't Industrialized Yet

Despite promising developments such as improved design and attractiveness, there is no such thing yet as an industrialized housing industry, says University of Michigan Prof. Karl G. Pearson.

There is no consensus, Pearson explained, on such things as production goals, on best materials to employ, on the methods of marketing, transportation, or even nomenclature.

But there have been breakthroughs that suggest a most promising future, he added.

PEARSON, faculty member of the U-M Graduate School of Business Administration and director of the university's real estate education program, discussed "Operation Breakthrough," the experimental housing program sponsored by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to increase the supply of quality homes and improve the life styles of American families.

"Industrialized housing now being built by Operation Breakthrough winners is attractive in appearance and high in quality but, on the whole, does not show substantial cost reductions as against conventional housing," the U-M authority observed.

He pointed out that the 22 Breakthrough winners shared in contracts to produce 2,796 housing units, averaging $22,410 per unit.

"Operation Breakthrough called on U.S. industrial knowledge to solve the twin problems of a housing shortage and spiraling construction costs through a crash program of mass produced, low-cost homes," Pearson said.

"IT TOOK the most fragmented industry in the United States and made it think big. It must be credited with the 20 state-wide industrialized housing codes, pre-empting the contrariety of local codes, and the development of performance criteria for housing evaluation."

Because of Operation Breakthrough, Pearson continued, "scores of companies and consortiums have emerged to concentrate on industrialized housing development."

"Low cost, two-bedroom units, complete with all accessories, are now being built in eight hours with five unskilled workers inside the factory. A factory building system is being created, replacing the individualized splinter groups of times past."

Pearson noted that the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development is certifying new product lines and trying to persuade states and localities to accept this certification in lieu of customary code compliance and inspection. Such a trend will assist in creation of a large enough market for mass-produced housing to justify major capital outlays by industry, he added.

CARL D. BLACK, co-publisher of the Sanilac County Jeffersonian in Crosswell, is the new president of the Michigan Press Association. He was elected last weekend at MPA's 104th annual meeting at Kellogg Center in East Lansing. The convention was climaxed by the 31st "All Michigan Dinner," co-sponsored by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Nominations Sought For Michigan's Mother Of Year

The search for the "1972 Michigan mother" is now under way.

Nomination blanks are now being distributed throughout the state by the Michigan Mothers Committee, Mrs. Wesley L. Mueller, chairman, 30150 Cheviot Hills Court, Franklin, 48025. Deadline for the receipt of entries is March 1.

Anyone may send in the name of a candidate if she has the recommendation of a recognized organization.

Each candidate must be a regular member and worker

Michelle Susan Beyrand became the bride of John R. Harper in an evening ceremony Friday, Jan. 28, in St. Edith Catholic Church in Livonia.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beyrand of Bobrich Avenue, Livonia. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Harper of Glenwood Avenue, Lathrup Village, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. James Ferens officiated.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown with lace trim, bishop sleeves and pale pink flowers down the front. Her full-length veil also was trimmed in lace.

Wanda Faulkner of Livonia was maid of honor. Her gown was hot pink chiffon with white lace trim, and she carried magenta and pink flowers.

The bridesmaids, Peggy Williamson of Livonia and Laurie Nadar and Pat Williams of Detroit, wore similar gowns in pale pink. They also carried magenta and pink bouquets.

Angie Minichiello of Livonia, in a hot pink dress, and Christopher Beyrand of Livonia, in an Edwardian suit and pink shirt, were flower girl and ring bearer.

ATTENDING the bridegroom were Steve Monette of Redford Township as best man and Gary Beyrand, brother of the bride, Greg Layer of Detroit and Tom O'Neil, serving with the U.S. Navy in Philadelphia, as ushers.

A reception for 100 guests in the Farmington Holiday Inn followed the rites.

The couple will live at the Selfridge Air Force base where the bridegroom, an Air Force member since 1971, is assigned to radar. The bride is a student at Virginia Farrell Beauty College.

Fraternity Offers $2,500 Fellowship

A graduate fellowship for advance study in the field of social service worth $2,500 is again being offered by Alpha Xi Delta, a national social fraternity for women.

Interested persons may obtain an application form from Mrs. Robert Chartrand, 34012 Aztec, Westland. Completed applications must be in by Feb. 15.

To be eligible, an applicant must be a graduate of an accredited college or university; have a grade average of B or above; have applied or been accepted for admission to a graduate school of social work; and be interested in pursuing a career with children or youth to combat delinquency in the U.S.

Alpha Xi Delta is offering the fellowship in support of the belief of civic authorities and juvenile court officials that an increasing need exists for qualified professional personnel to work in this field. Combating juvenile delinquency has been the fraternity's main national philanthropic goal since 1958.

Area members recently made special "happy face" wash cloths for children at the Plymouth State Home. For Christmas, they donated all the ingredients for a Christmas party to Half-Way House.

Society Plans Fashion Show

"Hearts and Hemlines," the 10th annual luncheon and fashion show sponsored by St. Colman's Altar Society of Farmington, will be held Wednesday, Feb. 9, in Raleigh House in Southfield.

Mary Morgan will be commentator for the fashion show.

Mrs. Norman Evans of Farmington is chairman and Mrs. James Park of Birmingham is the co-chairman.

Mrs. Ronald Kuhn of Farmington is in charge of luncheon tickets. Also on the committee are Mrs. James Collins, Mrs. Russell Thomson, Mrs. Daniel Carroll, Mrs. Joseph Falls, and Mrs. Raymond Long.

Golf Lessons Are Offered

Registrations for pre spring golf lessons are being accepted at the Northwest YWCA, 25940 Grand River, Detroit.

Daytime, evening and some weekend spaces are available for men, women and teens. The classes are geared for beginners as well as advanced students and will cover six weeks of instructions. Pre-registration is necessary by calling or visiting the YW.

Planning Party

St. Priscilla Catholic Church will sponsor a "Millionaire's Party" in the UAW Hall, 35604 Plymouth Road, Livonia, Saturday, Feb. 5, at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be included in the $6 per couple admission charge.

New Fabrics To Be Shown

A wrap pant-skirt that takes only 90 minutes to make will be one of the highlights of the McCall's fabric fashion show to be presented by the J.L. Hudson Co.

The show will be at Northland Thursday, Feb. 10, and Westland, Saturday, Feb. 12.

Both will be in the fabric department, at 12:30 and 2:30 p.m.

Entitled "Fashion in the Spirit of '72," the show will also feature tapestry all-weather coats and a host of blazers and short crop jackets to top almost any costume.
