Helping Others

A drop-in center that gained permanent guests in the form of a canine family serves Plymouth sociologically in many ways. Elinor Graham took a good look at "Our House" and the problems which its trained personnel try to solve, a look which she shares in a penetrating discussion that will interest all parents.

Col. Davids Tells Townships To Plan Police Departments

By MARIE MCGEE

Canton and Plymouth Township officials were urged this week to begin planning basic and "frill-less" police departments for their communities.

The advice came from Col. Fredrick Davids, former director of the Michigan State Police and now head of the University of Michigan safety division.

Col. Davids was the key speaker at the election meeting Feb. 7 in Canton Township of the Western Homeowners' Improvement Association, a group of residents living in the area bounded by Joy, Ford, Napier and Sheldon Roads.

HIS ADVICE was particularly timely in light of the recent announcement by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners that the Sheriff's Road Patrol will be phased out as an economy measure. Both Canton and Plymouth Townships depend on the road patrols for the major share of their police protection.

Col. Davids told his audience of over 100 persons that the elimination of the road patrol is fairly certain and that the affected communities are actually 1½ years behind in setting up a contingency plan.

A stop-action court suit initiated by several out-county communities will have little effect and elimination of the road patrol is inevitable, he predicted.

He advised the two townships to begin immediately to make plans to provide their own police protection, and cautioned them to start on a small scale and enlarge the department as land development becomes more fixed.

"There is no need for a 50-man department at the present time," Davids commented.

Keep the operation basic and keep it "frill-less," he went on.

Present expressway construction will play an important role in the growth pattern of the two townships, Davids felt.

"START SMALL and then wait and see what is going to happen to the areas because of the road construction," Davids said.

Using neighboring Northville as an example, Davids said that the two townships could set up small departments and use the capabilities of the State Police posts in their areas. This was particularly true of the dispatching service the State Police offers.

By using the State Police dispatcher, the communities would be able to trim the amount of money needed to set up a police department, he said.

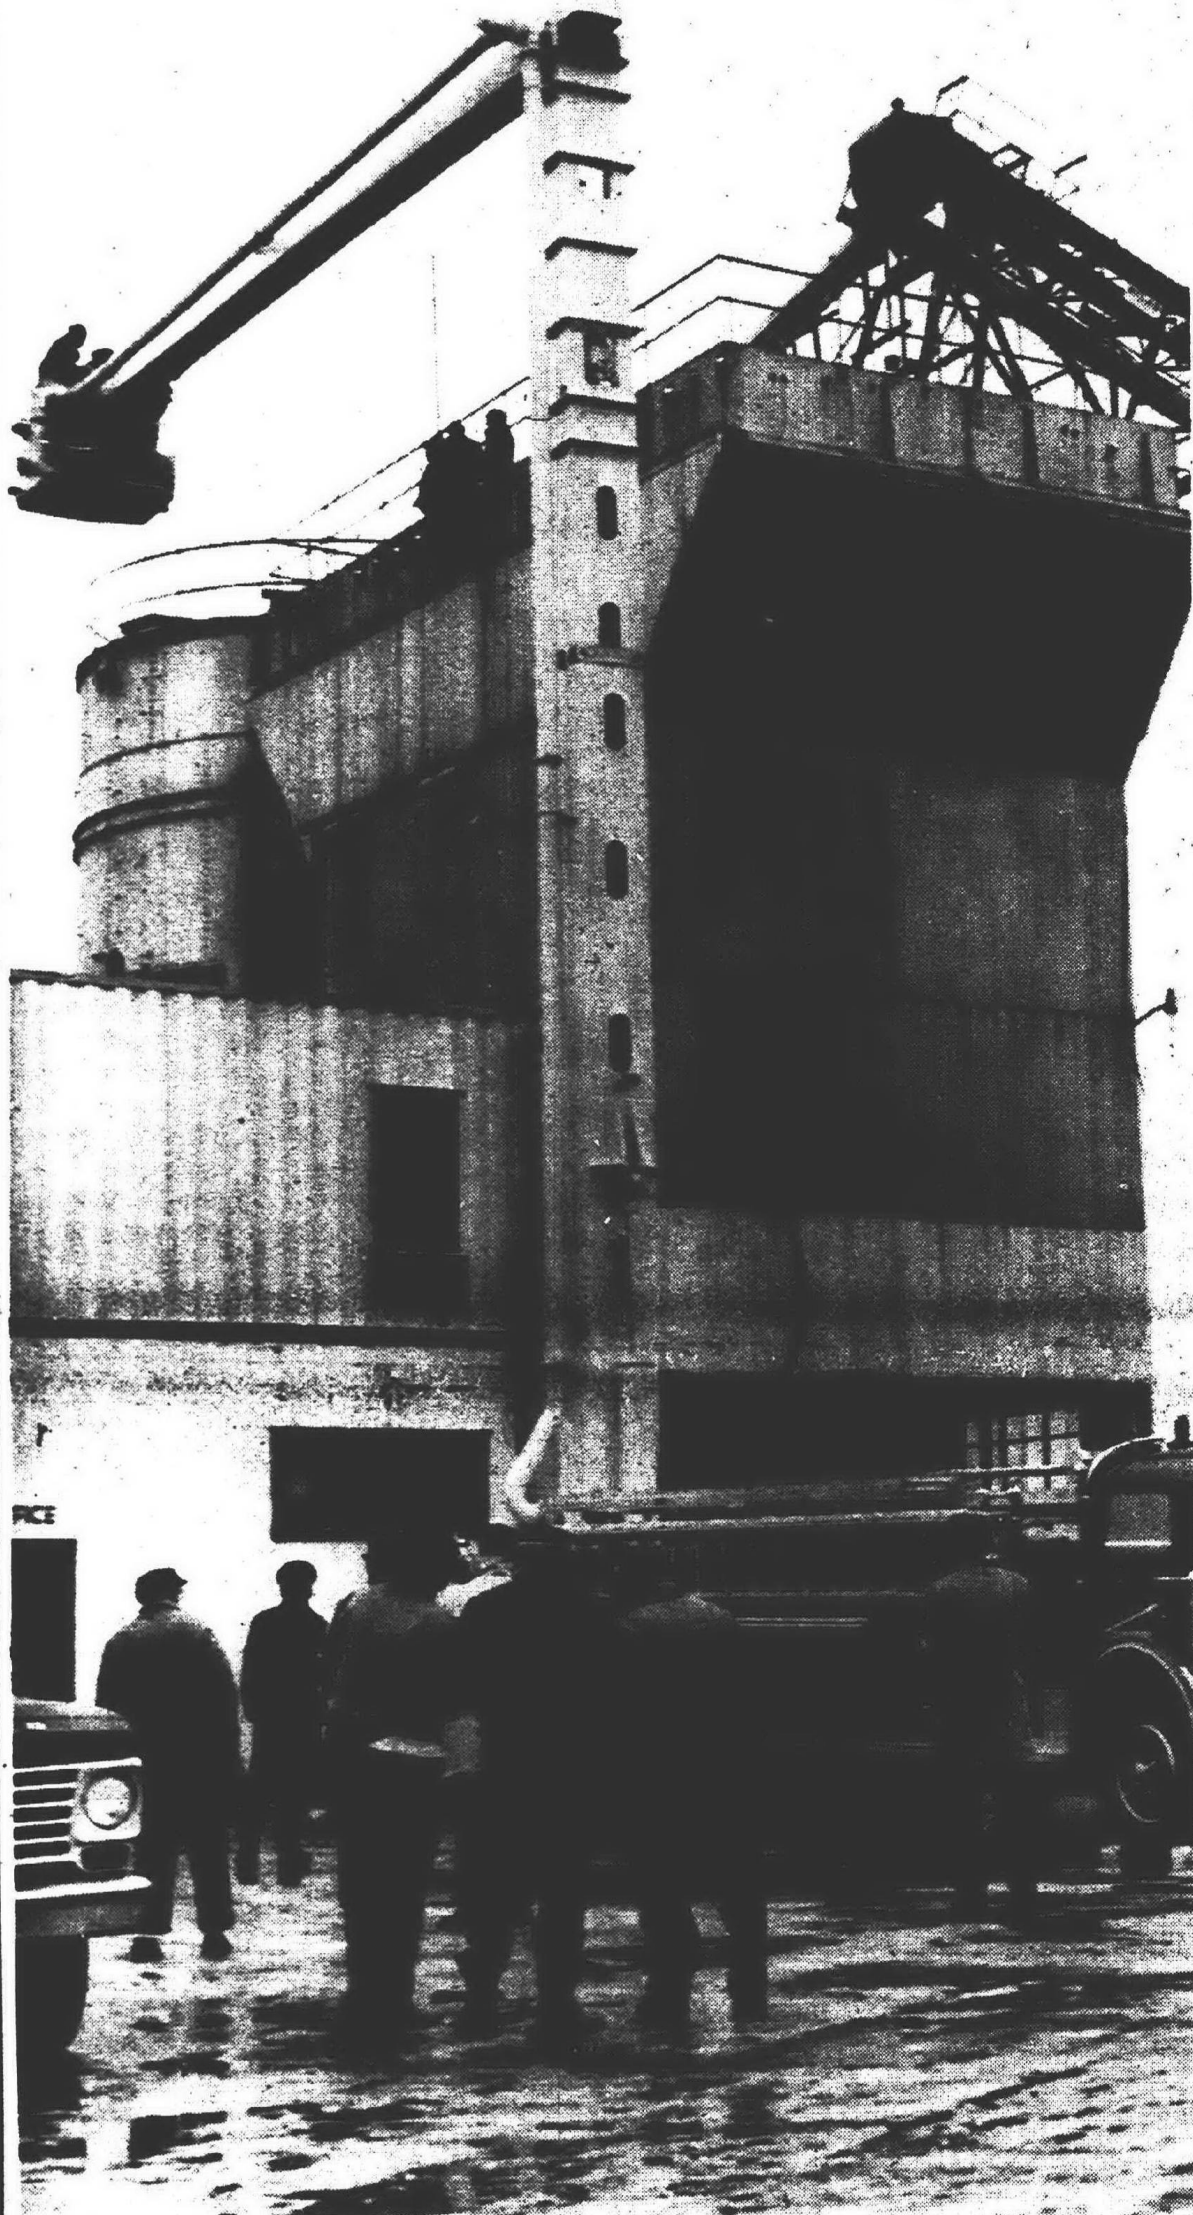

After four or five years on a small scale - and after all the road activity ends - the two communities were advised "to take another look at the police protection picture."

"You may be pouring a lot of money down the drain, if you don't," he warned.

He also prophesied that within a year a new State Police post will be in operation in the Plymouth area. The proposed post would replace the Seven Mile-Grand River operation, which would then possibly become liaison operation, and dispatch facility.

Two areas are now under consideration, he said. One was the Northville Training Home on Sheldon Road and the other was a site in the Northville-Five Mile Rd. area.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP FIREMEN went to the rescue recently of an injured man atop this tower of the Fendt Transit Mix Co. in Novi, removing him with the township's special truck. Fred Oeschger, 43, of Wixom, was working atop the tower when a conveyor belt started, trapping him between the belt machinery and a vent shaft. Oeschger suffered a fractured vertebrae and could not be moved by ladder. Plymouth's snorkel was called in desperation and firemen brought the man down nearly an hour after the accident. Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole commented, "I don't know what we could have done to get him down if the snorkel hadn't come through, although we did have a helicopter standing by." A recent accusation that Plymouth schools are "short changing prisoners and making a profit" at the night education program at the Detroit House of Correction is a "typical Carl Levin trick," according to Acting Supt. John Hoben.

Levin, a Detroit city councilman, charged that the Plymouth school system is misusing funds for the program and received $133,881 in state aid for it in the past two years, but spent only $57,123 on the program.

In response, Hoben sent a letter to Levin explaining Plymouth's expenditures for the high school program, concluding that Plymouth schools are actually putting extra money into the program, a sharp contrast from making a profit on it.

Levin hasn't responded to the letter, that Hoben has concluded, and it is now a "dead issue."

"But I think we got a black eye out of something we didn't deserve," Hoben said. "Carl Levin is just feathering his nest down there."

Using the state aid formula and the total Plymouth membership count of 10,348 full-time equated students, Hoben concluded that $15,000 of the $34,282 cost of the Dehoco program is "produced by local effort of Plymouth taxpayers."

Similarly, the taxpayers put $11,900 into the 1970-71 program, Hoben concluded.

STATE AID is allocated to school districts based on their full time membership counts. Plymouth has 10,348 full time equated students, of whom 10,135 are day pupils, 83 are evening school credit students, and 129 are full time equated Dehoco students. Actually 250 inmates participate in the Dehoco program, but it amounts to the equivalent of 129 full time students.

"To determine the state aid per member, we divide this figure ($1.5 million in state aid) by 10,348 and find it to be $149.41," Hoben's letter states. "When I multiply this figure by the 129 full time equated members at Dehoco, I get $19,281.36 as the portion of state aid produced by Dehoco memberships."

"Our budget for 1971-72 for the Dehoco program is $34,282, which means in essence that $15,000.64 is being produced by local effort of Plymouth taxpayers."

Hoben also explained the figures for the last two years relating to the Dehoco program.

"Your quoted figure of Plymouth schools receiving $133,881 over the last two years in an error as you have not taken out the deductible millage factor applied against it," he stated. "Instead, over the two years you mentioned, we received instead of $133,881 the figure of $51,273.08."

"I WOULD appreciate your conveying this explanation to the City Council," wrote Hoben. "I would further state that the administration by Herbert Woolweaver, the Plymouth Schools, and the Detroit House of Correction of this school has been at a high level of competency."

"I regret the negative publicity that we have received over our efforts to provide a service to 'your institution' (underlined) and would challenge the city schools of Detroit to provide this service. I would also welcome a visit from the auditor general to review our records," Hoben said.

Hoben said that the City Council could technically charge Plymouth for some operating costs and use of the Dehoco facilities as well as a portion of the cost for the director at the jail who helps oversee the program.

But by the same token, Plymouth could charge off some of its expenses for Woolweaver's (director of adult education and recreation) time, his secretary's time, transportation and other costs.

If the Dehoco program were taken out of the Plymouth school district's responsibilities, it would only lose $4 per student in state aid, compared with the $970 currently spent per pupil, he added.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE of "Our House" at Harvey and Fralick have a new family to care for since this uninvited dog dropped in and a few weeks later gave birth to these four puppies. Playing with "Kid" and the pups are Gregg

Carlson, Stark Saunders and Murph Guideau, and for the canine family the drop-in center has become a permanent home. (Observer Photo by Bob Woodring)

'Our House' Proving Its Value

By ELINOR GRAHAM
PLYMOUTH

What do you do at a youth drop-in center when you have a "drop-in" who sets up housekeeping and refuses to leave?

This is the situation at 185 S. Harvey, also known as Our House.

More than a month ago, a friendly, golden-eyed stranger arrived. She was well-behaved and seemed to have no personality problems. Her needs appeared to be shelter, food and love.

Love and empathy are in abundance at Our House, so she was fed and she showed no intention of leaving. The young people had long discussions about whether she should be allowed to stay.

In the meantime they kept feeding her and called Dr. Cliff McClumpha to give her a medical shot, in case she hadn't had any.

Some suggested that perhaps she was pregnant. Others disagreed. They said she was over-eating, just getting fat.

ON SUNDAY, Jan. 29, in one of the quiet rooms at Our House, she gave birth to four black and white pups. They don't resemble their mother at all. She seems to be part collie and part German shepherd with the brindle coloring of the shepherd and the muzzle of a collie.

And so she and her family are ensconced. They call her "Kid," and "Sweetie" and other endearing names. She must have sensed that this was the place to bring your troubles.

There seems to be some confusion in the minds of many Plymouth residents about the role the city-owned Our House plays in the community.

They ask, "If they have the youth activities center in the old Mail and Observer building, why do they need that other place?"

Or, "If it's some kind of a crisis center, I shudder to think of the harm some untrained kids can do in trying to help someone who is really in trouble."

The "other place" is Our House, over on the corner of Harvey and Fralick. Until last fall, when the new youth center was opened, it was called Fralick House.

OUR HOUSE serves in an entirely different capacity to the activities center or the old Fralick House. To quote a member of its board, "The house is in business to put itself out of business."

It is a crisis center, a place to go where someone will listen to your problem, whether you're a scared parent or youth. Once you have made the contact by buzzline or by a personal visit to the center, you are no longer alone with your dilemma.

For example: One of the three telephones in the buzz line room rings. It is a frightened young man. He thinks he may have venereal disease. He is told to go to Wayne County General Hospital as soon as he can. He is assured that there is no age limit, parents needn't become involved, but "get at it." He has avoided the embarrassment of facing his family doctor and parents. He has been going through his own little private hell and will keep it private.

ANOTHER CALL... a small, hesitant voice, "Could you tell me where a person could go to find out if they're pregnant?"

The information is given, kindly and unemotionally.

And so it goes. Calls from parents wondering if somehow, through the grapevine, they may get some word of a runaway son or daughter. Winter is not the prime season for runaways, they say at the center.

Calls from lonely kids who just want someone to talk to. Repeaters on these have some kind of a problem. "Neglected kids aren't necessarily poor kids," we were told.

AND THERE are the calls relating to drugs. In the past year they fielded 121 calls concerning drug information, 13 for overdoses, 81 about drug reaction and 24 for drug addiction information.

They have handled 23 bad reactions from chemical drug abuse and have made several referrals to other agencies for people addicted to heroin. One person was helped in withdrawal from heroin with 24-hour-a-day support from the staff at Our House. Now they will help the person evolve a new life style.

Who are people who man buzzline?

They range in age from 11th graders on up and no one answers that phone without training.

The twice-a-week training session goes on for several months. Psychologists, psychiatrists and pharmacologists aid in the training. They learn how to question and how to talk.

A representative of the Suicide Center comes for one class. Ruth Abell of the Family Service office advises them and Carl Berry of the Plymouth Police Department serves as an instructor.

WHEN THEY HAVE completed the course, they know where to find help immediately in case of an emergency, what referral agency can handle what problem, and when to just play it cool, talk and listen and arrange for the caller to drop in at the center for further conversation and help.

Our House averages more than 85 walk-ins per week. The house is "clean" — drugs are not allowed.

They try to keep on top of the street drugs. If word gets around someone is peddling something up in Kellogg Park they try to get some and find out what it is.

Once it turned out to be horse tranquilizers. Local drug stores sometimes help in analyzing an unknown.

HOW IS Our House supported financially?

The house was originally given to the city for a youth center by Judge Dunbar Davis. Parent organization for the center is the Council for Community Concerns, Inc. It serves Canton, Plymouth and Northville townships and the cities of Plymouth and Northville.

The CCC has a nine-member board of trustees, four of whom must be between the ages of 16 and 25. Rev. Peter Schweitzer of the Plymouth State Home and Training School heads the board.

Other members are Carl Berry; Dr. John Brady, Garden City Osteopathic Hospital; Diane Carlson, housewife; James Doyle, Hoben said that Plymouth took over the Dehoco program, where inmates can earn high school degrees, because no one else would do it and because the jail is located in the school district.

"We did it more as a community service type thing than as something we wanted to do," Hoben said.

THE SENIOR CLASS at Plymouth High School is hoping to net at least $1,000 from the professional wrestling program which it is sponsoring at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the PHS gym. Receipts over and above expenses will go toward defraying such commencement costs as caps and gowns, speaker's fee and decorations.

Top bout on the card is that between "Killer Brooks" and "The Great Igor," no doubt a ferocious blood-letting that will cause sheer pandemonium. The rest of the program includes two tag team matches and a bout between a pair of feminine wrestlers. Plymouth's Jerry Vettese, who has been going to Lou Klein's wrestling school, will be in one of the tag matches.

Student tickets are priced at $2, with adults paying $3. They will be on sale at the door and 400 ringside seats will be available on a first-come, first-served basis.

ICE SKATERS at the township's artificial rink in recreation park at Ann Arbor Trail and McClumpha have been provided an extra convenience through the generosity of Stewart Oldford.

DPW Director Joe Bida of the township has announced that Oldford has donated a small wooden shanty which has been moved to the site to serve as a warming hut and a place to change shoes.

GEORGE WASHINGTON sales are being planned by many Plymouth merchants for Feb. 21 and 22, the former date being the official holiday this year. The sale will feature prices ending in 22.

Meanwhile, the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce is putting the finishing touches on a number of business promotions to be used through 1972.

The next full membership luncheon of the chamber will be held at noon Tuesday in the Mayflower Hotel. The price will be $3.75 per head and the speaker will be John G. Coulson, training development manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

His topic will be: "What About No Fault Auto Insurance?"

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT members of the Plymouth JA center made their sales pitches before a panel of judges a few nights ago in the annual "best salesman" contest and the winner was Robert DeLano of 272 Pacific, a Central Junior High School ninth grader who is president of the Ford-sponsored Watch-It-Go-Go.

He now will compete against the winners from the 26 other JA centers in southeastern Michigan, whose ages range through the senior year of high school, in the semi-finals Saturday, Feb. 26 in Detroit. Sales presentations will be made before a panel of three judges from the Sales and Marketing Executives Association.

The five finalists selected that day will compete for the southeastern Michigan title of "best JA salesman" March 6 at the Sheraton-Cadillac.

PAUL HUYCK has been elected president of the municipal housing commission of Plymouth, the body which controls the senior citizens housing development known as Tonquish Creek Manor.

At the same time, Ralph Deetz was chosen as vice-president, while City Clerk Eugene Slider will continue as secretary. The city commission is represented on the housing board by William Silvius.

MRS. ROBERT BEYER will open her home Monday for a meeting of the Women's National Farm and Garden Club. Tea chairman will be Mrs. Bruce Richard assisted by Mrs. Robert Erdelyi, Mrs. Austin Stecker, Mrs. Robert Sincok, Mrs. Kenneth Wilske and Mrs. Thomas Stevens.

The program will feature a discussion and demonstration of crafts by Mrs. Beyer, Mrs. Sam Volpe, Mrs. Louis Norman and Mrs. Erling Oyen.

IT WAS "lucky Thursday" for pupils at Farrand Elementary School this week when an electric motor on the school's furnace burned out, leaving the Lake Pointe educational structure without heat.

Principal Ann Welch said that through a "pyramiding" telephone system it was possible to notify "almost all families" early in the morning that there would be no classes.

GOLFERS, ATTENTION! Anyone with connections who can arrange to buy three tickets for the 1972 Master's tournament at Augusta, Fla., can strike up an instant friendship with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Newton of 576 S. Evergreen, who would like to attend.

Mrs. Newton, who was one of the prime organizers in arranging for the Plymouth High School band's trip to Mississippi, was too ill to attend last Tuesday's dress rehearsal concert. Band members had planned to give her a special surprise gift and when she found out she said, "If I had only known, I would have crawled to be there."

U.S. REP. MARVIN L. ESCH (R-Ann Arbor), who represents you on "the hill" in Washington, will be at Plymouth High School Monday morning to address Warren Vanderbosch's government class at 9:40 and other student leaders at 10:40.

Each will seek reelection in the reconstituted 2nd District in November. The man he defeated in 1970, Michael Stillwagon, who lives in Ann Arbor and has a law office in Plymouth, says he has not yet decided whether to challenge the incumbent.

2 Arrested In Plymouth

An 18-year-old Livonian faces examination in Plymouth District Court Monday on a charge of breaking and entering the Colonial Cleaners, 1275 S. Main Street, Plymouth, on Feb. 3.

Thomas S. Marta, of 17627 Delores Road, was arraigned Feb. 4. He pleaded innocent and was released on $1,000 surety bond. A 16-year-old Livonian youth who was arrested with Marta in connection with the break has been remanded to juvenile authorities.

They were arrested early in the morning Feb. 4 by Livonia police, who saw them and felt they matched the descriptions of the burglars being sought by Plymouth police.

THROUGH BIFOCALS
By FRED DeLANO / Editor Mail & Observer

GOVERNMENTAL REFORM was the conversational theme Wednesday as some of the intellectuals gathered for tea and volunteered suggestions on how to cut costs and thus bring about a saving to the taxpayers.

There was basic agreement that there is too great an overlapping of functions among local neighboring governments, but there was no unanimity on how to eliminate it.

Consolidation of the city and township of Plymouth into one municipality was regarded favorably by one of the clan, who spoke of it merely as "an adjustment of boundaries," but from another source came even a broader proposal, one I never had heard before.

He isn't ready to be identified publicly with this yet, for he is just starting to put the pieces together, but the suggestion is that instead of little bits of inter-governmental consolidation we try to form a new county!

The area would be that which lies between Telegraph Rd. and the present Wayne-Washtenaw border, and between Eight Mile Rd. and I-94. The contention is that the communities involved, which now make up the northwest corner of Wayne County, share many common problems and could merge their services to the financial advantage of all residents.

AT FIRST BLUSH, even though I recognize that geography and mutual problems bind the individual entities together in the area mentioned, it seems too impractical a step to be brought about.

What's sticking in the craw of the guy who popped up with this idea is that Wayne County is so dominated by the City of Detroit that we should ask for a divorce and go our own way.

The immediate approach in the decade of the '70s, and which can be practical, is for the western Wayne County local units to work together more and more, blend their services where possible, and to pursue this through the Western Wayne County Mayors and Supervisors Association.

Supervisor Maurice Breen of Plymouth Township, Mayor Edward McNamara of Livonia and Mayor Edward Bivens Jr. of Inkster are three of the most dominant, forward thinking men in that association, and it is reasonable to expect that they may play leading roles in fostering this approach.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION tossed into the same conversational hopper could well be considered by the committee which has been asked to review the Plymouth city charter. The person who offered this one would like to abandon the present system of electing city commissioners at-large and go to a ward pattern.

He points to the fact, for instance, that of the seven present commissioners, four of them live in Precinct Five, two live in Precinct Four and one of them in Precinct Two. Precincts One and Three are not represented.

James McKeon, Beverly McAninch, Robert Sincok and Ernie Henry represent Precinct Five, Bill Silvius and Norbert Battermann are in Precinct Four and Harold Guenther hails from Precinct Two.

This town is small enough so that any given commissioner should understand the problems beyond his own neighborhood, but the west side representation is a little topheavy, isn't it?

Personally, I would like to see a charter proposition calling for election of one commissioner from each of the five precincts, plus two at-large. My own vote on that would be "yes," how about you?

the county appropriations committee, he added.

In a phone interview with the Observer Newspapers, Davids then lashed out at the political maneuvering at the county level that resulted in a "no" answer to the State Police request to rent and renovate two empty cottages at the Northville training school site for a combined State Police post and enlarged crime lab. (The present crime lab is located on Main St. in Plymouth in the former Edison building.)

The State Police's offer was rejected, Davids reported, on the grounds that the presence of state troopers so close to the school would have a bad effect on the students.

Davids said that the school superintendent disclaimed the county's reasons for refusal.

Meanwhile, Davids continued, "The buildings are still there, still empty and still deteriorating."

Also present at the Monday night meeting was Plymouth area County Commissioner John McCann.

McCann's remarks indicated he was in favor of retaining the road patrols, but admitted his opinion "was like a voice in the wilderness."

Pastor Clifford Of Calvary Dies

The Rev. Patrick J. Clifford, who led Calvary Baptist Church of Plymouth to four-fold growth during his 32 years as its pastor, died of a heart attack in his Plymouth home early Thursday.

The well-known clergyman, who left his work at Calvary last May 23 to follow a mission ministry, had apparently been recuperating well from two major surgeries during the last few months.

Death came on the day that he and his wife, Helen, were planning to leave for a Florida vacation. Suitcases had been packed into the car for a Thursday departure from their home at 452 Maple.

REV. CLIFFORD, 63 at the time of his death, first came to Calvary in 1949. He saw the church through three building expansions, culminating in 1966 with the construction of its present church home at 43065 Joy.

During his years there, membership of the church quadrupled.

Last summer he announced he was leaving the Calvary pulpit to become minister at large for the Berean Mission, Inc., with headquarters in St. Louis, Mo., and to continue as a consultant for the Michigan Sunday School Association.

He had kept busy with both callings until taken ill a few months ago.

Pastor Clifford was born in 1908 in Oakville, Ont. He graduated from high school there and graduated from Denver Bible College in Denver, Colo.

His only church pastorate before coming to Plymouth was 9½ years as minister of the Three Rivers Bible Church in Three Rivers, Mich. He and his wife were married there.

He also served from 1946 to 1949 as director of the Church Service Center in Detroit, working first with servicemen and later with young people in the city.

Tickets will be sold at the door for the program which begins at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 18. Admission is $1 per person.

DR. MAXEY is noted as a specialist in theology as related to women. Besides lecturing in a number of universities, she has written "The Authority of the Symbol" and "Beyond Eve and

Mary." She is assistant professor in the department of religious studies at the University of Detroit.

In her talk, she will deal with the ideas and opinions of Christians of the past as they relate to women. She will update the subject by discussing the role of women in society and religion.

Have women been treated unjustly in the past by an uneducated male population? What is happening today to either degrade or uplift women in general? These questions and others will be presented along with a series of pictures to augment the material.

DR. MAXEY earned her doctor of theology degree in Christian ethics at the Union Theological Seminary, New York City. She also has an MA in systematic theology and medieval philosophy and a BA in philosophy.

Future programs will deal with "The Egg, Holder of Life, Symbol for Man, Artist's Canvas," on March 10; "Glass and Ancient Religions," on April 14; and "Wonders with Weeds," on May 12.

An Ash Wednesday communion service will be held in the sanctuary at 7:30 p.m.

Peace And Pluralism Youth Seminar Topics

New ideas on world peace and world pluralism are being reported in Methodist churches and youth group meetings all over eastern and Upper Michigan as the result of a recent excursion to New York and Washington.

The trip, a seminar sponsored by the Detroit United Methodist Conference Board of Christian Social Concerns and Missions, involved 132 young people, including two from Newburg United Methodist Church, Norman Laich of Livonia and Kim Greenwood of Plymouth.

Visits to the United Nations and New York churches, a tour of Harlem, a day in the U.S. Capitol, talks with Congressmen and some rapping among themselves contributed to the ideas on peace and pluralism they carried away from the Jan. 22-28 seminar.

THE REV. BEN BOHNSACK, associate minister of Newburg church, was director of the seminar, and the Rev. Dean Klump, associate minister of the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth, was one of the adult sponsors. Both their wives also accompanied the youths.

Rev. Klump will report on the seminar when he preaches in the Plymouth church at the 9 and 11 a.m. services Sunday, Feb. 13. His topic will be "The Global and Personal Issues of Peace."

The ideas of both peace and pluralism were central to the seminar, Rev. Bohnsack said. "By pluralism," he added, "we meant exposing the youth to different life styles and ideals. We wanted to help them meet with people of differing philosophies and form their own ideas about how people and nations differ and are alike."

THE TWO YOUNG CLERGYMEN said there wasn't much attempt to integrate or sort out the information garnered from the many experiences of the seminar.

"We did divide up in groups of about 10 young people and an adult," Rev. Bohnsack said, "so the students could talk over what they had seen and heard and discuss their impressions."

The young people's New York experiences included visits to several large city churches and an evening session with a Greenwich Village church, the clergymen said, and there was a bus tour of Harlem conducted by a black sightseeing company.

"I think that gave them a different sort of view of that part of New York," Rev. Bohnsack said.

At the United Nations, speakers from both India and Pakistan were supposed to address the young people, but the Pakistan man failed to show. However, there were talks on mission work by the church in the new nation of Bangladesh.

In Washington, the ministers reported, the students were somewhat appalled by the small number of law-makers on the floor during congressional sessions, but impressed at the fact that all the representatives from their areas found time to talk personally with them on issues they had been studying in the seminar.

Rev. Bohnsack and Norman, a Church Hill High junior, met with Rep. Jack MacDonald, and Rev. Klump and

Kim put their questions to Rep. Marvin Esch.

Then the entire group gathered for a meeting with U.S. Senator Philip Hart.

A final-evening communion service, in which each participant broke bread and shared his cup with those with whom he had found the most meaningful relationships, climaxed the seminar.

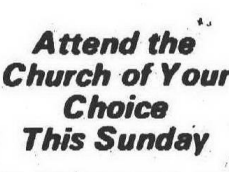

THE GENERAL THEME of the seminar, as Rev. Klump put it, was to find ways to be responsible Christians and to work for peace in the nation and the world."

To this end, the adult leaders had each youth give his definition of peace when the meeting days were concluded.

"Peace is love," one youth answered. Other definitions included "Peace is the United Nations," "Peace is being black and liking a white person," "Peace is impossible" and, perhaps in summation of a long-to-be-remembered experience, "Peace is 132 instant friends."

Religion Update

Rev. Lester Kinsolving's

When Massachusetts Democrat Robert Drinan first arrived in Washington a year ago, an initial question of newsmen was what he should be called — as the first Catholic priest ever elected to Congress.

"How about Bobby?" quipped the new congressman from the state of Jack, Bobby and Teddy. "I don't care what they call me, just as long as they call me!"

Would he continue to wear his priestly garb while the House was in session? "It's the only clothing I own," explained the Jesuit priest.

A MORE plausible reason for wearing his round collar on the House floor seemed apparent during an exclusive interview with this writer, in which Father Drinan strenuously protested against what he termed "priests being made non-persons."

"Our father who art in Congress," as his supporters joyfully hailed him when he won the election, appears to have encountered his strongest opposition not from Protestants, but from conservative Catholics.

Politico-comic William F. Buckley, for example, wrote that on the day Drinan was elected, God must have been out to lunch.

"Superb!" countered the immensely affable former dean of Boston College law school, "but whatever God allows is eternal — through all the election days!"

This ultra-conservative line has just recently been picked up by Philadelphia's Archbishop John Cardinal Krol, the recently elected President of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops.

Cardinal Krol says that a priest "is not to enter the world of partisan politics" or to "invade the competency of the laity." (The cardinal's statement should indeed prove hilarious to those liberal members of the U.S. Catholic Bishops Conference — or to members of the Pennsylvania state legislature — who can attest from vivid experience with his eminence that political competence is by no means confined to the laity.)

BUT DURING his interview with this writer, Father Drinan disclosed that when the issue of his running for office came up in his own Archdiocese of Boston, no less an authority than the late Richard Cardinal Cushing commented: "I think it's a great idea!"

There are a number of people besides Cardinal Krol who will disagree with the late and widely beloved archbishop of Boston. One of them is William Loeb, publisher of New Hampshire's Manchester Union Leader.

This unbelievably far-right periodical, quite possibly the most ridiculous and dreadful newspaper in the Western Hemisphere, campaigned assiduously for the early parole of Jimmy Hoffa — from whom it had borrowed $2 million in 1962, in order to be able to continue its wholesale pollution of the granite state.

Congressman Drinan blasted the early parole of Hoffa as "scandalous" while Father Daniel Berrigan is denied parole."

THE OUTSPOKEN congressman has also been a long time critic of the House Committee on Un-American Activities — whose methods provoked President Harry Truman to call it "the most un-American thing in America."

Now, ironically, Father

Drinan has been appointed a member of this committee, which has the new name of the House Internal Security Committee. He has created a furor by exposing not only the source of income of one of the committee's star witnesses — but the file containing what he described as "raw data taken from right wing journals and allegedly Communist publications from unnamed sources and faceless informers," which included material on 754,000 U.S. citizens.

Here, as well as in his singularly effective opposition to the absurd "prayer amendment," Father Drinan can do so much more than criticize or demonstrate — in a nation which is generally fed to the teeth with demonstrators.

And it is fortunate, indeed, that neither the U.S. Constitution, nor Roman Catholic canon law specifies that when a man is ordained he in any way abdicates his citizenship — including the right to hold public office.

THREE LIVONIANS, representing a total of 223 years' membership in St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, will join in the 100-year-old church's Reunion Sunday activities Feb. 13. Walter Mielbeck (left) was baptized in St. Paul and has been a member since 1894. His wife (center) joined in 1898, and her sister, Mrs. Lena Salow, in 1901. They live in the Newburgh-Five Mile area.

TRIUMPH MAGAZINE, an unofficial Catholic periodical edited by Buckley's sister (and which reads as if it were ghost written by Genghis Khan), contended that Father Drinan should have been welcomed to Washington "with just one word: Resign!" — not from Congress, where he fits, but from the priesthood which he has dishonored."

Archeology Is Sermon Topic

Rabbi Ernest Conrad of Temple Kol Ami will continue his monthly series on archeology at services at 8:30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 18. The congregation meets in Birmingham Unitarian Church, Lone Pine at Woodward.

Rabbi Conrad will discuss the recently-published book, "Oh Deities and Dolphins," by the late Dr. Malcom Glueck.

Dr. Glueck, who was president of the Hebrew Union College from 1941 until his death in 1971, was one of the discoverers of King Solomon's copper mines near modern Elath in southern Israel.

St. Paul Lutheran Plans 'Reunion Sunday'

"Reunion Sunday" on Feb. 13 is the second event in the Centennial Year program for St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, 17810 Farmington Road, Livonia.

The church, this year marking 100 years in Livonia, plans a full day of special activities and has mailed more than 500 invitations to former members of confirmation, Christian day school and the Sunday school classes.

The Rev. Hugh A. Reaume, a son of the St. Paul congregation who began his ministry in 1962, will be guest speaker for the 8:30 and 11 a.m. services.

He is pastor of Salem Lutheran Church in Scottsdale, Ariz.

HOLY COMMUNION will be observed at both services, and the choir, directed by Mrs. Vera Schuessler, has prepared a special song of prayer and will sing "Grant Unto Thy People, O Lord." A social hour for members and returning friends is planned from 4 to 5:30 p.m., and those attending will be able to view a large exhibit of photos and mementos.

Bob Habermas headed the committee that assembled the exhibit.

FOLLOWING a buffet supper at 5:30 p.m., there will be a centennial slide presentation, prepared by Mrs. Pat Lohrengel, complete with sounds of the past. The Rev. W.F. Koelpin, pastor of St. Paul, will be master of ceremonies for the Reunion Sunday activities.

County Governments Topic For LWV Panel

Current trends and possible changes in the structure of county government will be explored in an open panel discussion sponsored by all the Leagues of Women Voters in Oakland County, Wednesday, Feb. 16, at 12:30 p.m., in the Royal Oak Library, 222 E. 11 Mile, Royal Oak.

Panelists will be Robert Queller, director of research for the Citizens Research Council; Robert E. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners; William L. Cahalan, Wayne County prosecuting attorney; Mrs. L. Emery Dearborn of the Oakland County Board of Commissioners; and Roger Marz, professor of political science at Oakland University.

Queller will present the Citizens Research Council's proposals for the reorganization of Wayne County government and their implications to Oakland County. Fitzpatrick will discuss present plans in Wayne County to implement the Council's suggestions. Cahalan will speak against the proposals as they affect his office.

Among the proposals made by Citizens Research Council are more appointive, rather than elective, offices when possible; integration of various boards, commissions, and offices; the establishment of departments whenever possible; and the creation of an administrative head of county government either elected or appointed.

The Citizens Research Council also proposes many changes in the structure of county government take place at the state level to allow for reorganization, rather than going through the process of a home-rule charter framed by a county charter commission.

The meeting is free and open to the public. The Leagues urge all citizens interested in their county government to attend.

Financing Of Schools LWV Topic

John Hoben, acting superintendent of Plymouth Community Schools, and Melvin Blunk, assistant superintendent, will head a panel on school finances for the Plymouth-Northville League of Women Voters meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 15, in the Central Junior High School cafeteria.

Those who attend will set up a mock budget for the school district. How the school aid formula and millage is determined, how the local property taxes are collected and spent and budgets for the near future will be discussed. Mrs. Edward Hancock is in charge of the program.

Because this is a subject that concerns all citizens of the community, the public is welcome and encouraged to attend.

At last it happened!
A bowling record that has stood for more than 30 years finally has been bettered.

It happened last week in a mixed league in St. Louis when Ray Orf, a 30-year bowler with an average of 212, rolled a three game series of 890 to better little Allie Brandt's mark of 886 that has been in the books since Oct. 25, 1939.

To get the record breaking total Orf did what many persons thought impossible when he opened with a spare and then potted 35 strikes in a row for games of 290, 300 and 300.

Inasmuch as the score was posted in sanctioned competition it is certain to be recognized by the American Bowling Congress.

Until Orf rolled his amazing series Brandt's record was the oldest on the ABC books.

SPEAKING OF records Don Yerkes, a retired Northville businessman who bowls in the Meadowbrook Golf Club league at Merri-Bowl gave the senior citizens—and many younger fellows—something to think about last Sunday.

Now 74 years old he linked games of 224, 279 and 203 for 706. It was one of the highest series bowled at Merri-Bowl this season.

Andy DeCamillo was the man of the week at Bel-Aire Lanes when he inserted a perfect game between counts of 221 for a 742 series—highest of the week in Observerland.

ONE OF THE oddities of the year happened at Southfield Bowl when two retirees—Louis Brikmann and Herbert Teabey—each 71 rolled identical games of 277 while opposing each other on lanes No. 7 and 8.

Brikmann, with an average of 157, had games of 150, 192 and 277 for 619. Teabey started with a 153 and followed with 246 and then matched Brikmann with a 277 for a 676 count.

Meanwhile, at Southfield Bowl, Joe Driscoll, bowling in the St. Eugene League, had a dream shattered. After piling up 11 strikes in a row he went in "light" on his 12th ball, left up No. 5 and 9, and had to settle for a 288 and 667 series. He had opened with a 165 and added a 214 before his big game.

MANY UNUSUAL things happen in the Senior House League at Bel-Aire. Just imagine rolling a 604 and being the low man on your team.

That's what happened to Steve Killian, as his team rolled games of 1014, 1163 and 1028 for a 3265 series.

High scores dominated the Classic when Dale Etherington showed the way with a 696 on games of 226, 226 and 244. Right behind came Bill Copper with 691, Fred Bickle with 675 and Chuck Ruel with 668.

Double century figures also were posted by Joe Runyan when he laced games of 204, 219 and 156 for 639 in the Guys and Dolls League.

THE HIGHEST series ever bowled in Ark Lanes West—a sizzling 748—was rolled by Dick Creman, of Walled Lake.

Bowling in the Arklights League, where he averages 174, Dick linked counts of 277, 215 and 256.

Ark Lanes opened in August, 1969.

DOUBLE CENTURY figures are becoming quite common in the various classics around the area.

Bob Cassar set the pace in the Garden Lanes loop with a 690 and was followed by Ray Thorpe 686, Dick Preston 679, Paul Horowitz 668, Edward Shelley 652 and Mike Mathis 642.

At Eastland Bowl, Paul Horie showed the way with a closing 268 for 672 and was trailed by Gary Johnson who opened with a 268 for 669. Behind this pair came Jay Dishong with 665 and Paul Sterling 659.

The latest entry in the oddities series is Gus Pappas who bowls in the West Side American Legion league at Garden Lanes. He had the odd distinction of opening with a strike, leaving up the No. 7 in the second, converting the spare and then closing with 10 in a row for 280.

ELLIE WILKINS came through again in the Livonia Lanes Ladies Classic when she won the first game 192-23-215, but then gave way to Marge Bashor, who won the final game 211-21-232 and the series 564-63-627. Loretta Reid took the middle game 184-45-229.

STEVE RENNER took scoring honors in the Teen Classic at Farmington Lanes with a 564 series and Jackie Bird topped the girls with 517 to beat out Janet Jasper by seven pins.

In the Prep Stars circuit Harold Rutla showed the way with a 200 in 526.

Hawks Blister Utica As Mason Hits For 40

Harrison's senior guard Jim Mason set a school scoring mark with 40 points against Utica Eisenhower in a 92-62 rout.

Mason broke his own record of 29 established last year, connected on 17 of 29 from the field and hit on six of seven at the freethrow line.

THE HAWKS advanced their overall record to 5-7 and travel to Churchill Friday for a Western Six battle.

Harrison jumped to a 10 point lead early in the Utica contest and was up after the first quarter, 23-11. The halftime score showed the Hawks leading 48-27, and Harrison went on to outscore Utica, 44-35 in the second half to capture a 30 point victory.

"We had the size on them," said Harrison Coach Bob Sutter. "Our zone press really contained them. We forced them into 28 turnovers. But we are known to be a turnover club and committed 19 of our own."

The Hawks completely dominated the boards, outrebounding Utica, 59-24, with Jeff Sietloff hauling in 15 and center Larry LaBett collecting 11.

Harrison scored 41 per cent from the field on 34 of 83 shots, while Utica hit on 24 of 69 for a 34 per cent.

PIN-POINT SHOOTING from the freethrow line was absent with Harrison hitting on 24 of 43 and Utica making good only 14 of 41.

Mike Sullivante and Terry Copacia paced Utica with 17 points apiece.

"Everyone popped in a couple of buckets in our top offensive effort," added Sutter.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

Will Action step into the shoes vacated by Thimble, the spectacular Ohio filly pacer, and become the darling of harness racing fans at the Northville Downs meeting? The answer to that question will come tonight (Saturday) at the "Downs" when the seven-year-old from Pandora, Ohio, bids for his third straight victory in the weekly featured pace.

Action, who has provided plenty of it in the two weeks of Northville's winter campaign, was a bit slow rounding into top form... winning once once in four starts at the Jackson - Northville season.

Then Driver - Trainer Mark Grismore finally let him loose on the opening program of the 42 - night season, and he responded with a half-length triumph over the fastest pacers at the track.

Most folks considered the victory a bit of a fluke and allowed Action to go postward as co-favorite to a week ago in a $3,000 handicap pace.

GRISMORE didn't waste any time in showing he expected to drive his speedy star to a second straight win, sending him to the front from the starting gate and keeping him there for every inch of the mile.

Johnny G, who has had trouble getting untracked, came on strong in the stretch and made a bold bid for an upset. But Action had it when needed and flashed under the wire with a half length to spare.

Now Action is going after No. 3, a triumph that will still leave him two short of the amazing string put together by Thimble in sweeping the early winter series at Jackson - Northville in spectacular style.

It will be recalled that Thimble picked up more than $15,000 for her owners and then took off for Windsor before moving south.

ACTION has a rough row ahead in the stiffest competition Racing Secretary Harry Peterson could corral for the race.

There are six challengers, all recent victors, including: Briar Lea Andy, Chief Okemos, Johnny G, Vesta's Boy Len, Mister Margay and Ohio B. Lee.

As expected in a handicap event, Action drew the outside post but he has shown plenty of speed getting away from the gate and should be on top by the time the field rounds the first turn.

If he does, then Driver Grismore probably will dare anyone to catch his pacer... none has for two weeks but then this is anything Saturday and most anything can happen and probably will.

THOSE WHO FOLLOW the standardbreds closely have been wondering what happened to veteran driver Don McMurray who hasn't been in the sulky for almost a week.

Reports from the barn area are that Don injured his back during a morning workout and hasn't been able to train his extensive public stable. Most of the pacers and trotters in his string are being handled by other drivers.

Warren McMurray, son of starter Elwood McMurray who is a brother of Don, stepped in to help his uncle on several occasions.

With all of the cold weather, it may be some time before Don is able to get back into action.

MICHIGAN'S harness racing colony was saddened a few days ago with news that Chalmers Harmon, who raced at Detroit area tracks for more than 20 years, had died of an apparent heart attack at his Ohio home.

Harmon was best known for his driving feats in the early '50s when he had two of the most outstanding horses competing in the area. He checked in from Ohio as a comparative unknown, but quickly became one of the best known as he guided his horses to victory after victory.

In recent years he had only fair stock but was a regular at all Michigan parimutuel plants, generally winning his share.

Harmon will be missed when the standardbreds switch to Wolverine Raceway in mid-March. He was popular with all drivers, trainers and owners.

IT WILL BE more of the same when Hazel Park opens Michigan's thoroughbred racing season two weeks hence on Saturday, Feb. 26. That was assured when Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley was informed the sale of the track couldn't possibly be completed until the end of March.

Thus the same management will be in charge as that which handled the 1971 meeting which ended on Dec. 12. The proposed sale was announced in November but negotiations ran into unexpected snags which delayed any chance of final action until the 132 day meeting has been underway for almost six weeks.

RU Cagers Make It 9 Straight In 64-63 Trenton Squeaker

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

Redford Union basketball Coach Carl Andrews had a slight grin on his face after his Panthers came from behind to edge Trenton, 64-63, for their ninth consecutive win.

The grin changed to a wide smile after he heard that Bentley fell to Belleville in another Suburban Eight battle.

"I was really glad to hear it," said Andrews. "Every little bit helps. We are in a good position now but we still can't afford to lose."

"We have Dearborn, Bentley and Belleville coming up. Funny things have been happening this season but it appears that all is turning our way," added Andrews.

It was a funny game for RU as the Panthers saw a five point halftime lead vanish and before they knew it... RU trailed by nine going into the final quarter.

"We were lucky to come out with a victory," said Andrews. "We committed 28 turnovers in contrast to the eight we have been averaging per game."

RU TOOK the opening tip and led for the opening six minutes until Trenton's Steve Spalsbury hit two from the line to put Trenton up 11-10.

Panther Bob Schaner put RU back in command. It proceeded to reel off eight straight points to lead after the first quarter, 18-15.

RU TURNOVERS kept Trenton in the contest and the Panthers held a 33-28 halftime advantage. The lone bright spot in the RU lineup was the brilliant shooting by center Mark Kenney who hit on seven of seven from the floor and totaled 16 points in the half. Kenney also collected seven rebounds with RU outrebounding Trenton, 21 to 12.

"I couldn't believe how many times we were turning the ball over," said Andrews. "Everytime we committed one, we lost four points... two we could have scored and two scored."

Midway through the third quarter, RU was up, 41-34 but the tide was soon to change. Trenton hit for 10 straight points in the final two minutes of the quarter to take a nine point, 54-45 lead.

THE PANTHERS didn't give up and fought back to within three points with 2:57 remaining. Kenney and Schaner woke up and hit on two quick buckets and with 2:14 left on the clock, RU was only down by one, 61-60.

Kenney hauled in a key rebound and passed ahead to Schaner who swished it home and RU was back in the lead with one minute remaining. Trenton missed on a one-and-one situation and Kenney hauled in another big rebound. Then came the big moment for RU senior guard Pat Wilkie. He was fouled and faced with two opportunities at the freethrow line.

Trenton Coach Dennis Wilkie, no relation to the Panther guard, knew that another Wilkie could beat him and his cagers. So Pat, who has averaged 2.3 points a game, stepped to the line and popped in both free-throws to put RU up 64-61 with 35 seconds remaining.

MIKE SELLECK of Trenton scored with six seconds left but the Panthers had made their move and were in front at the buzzer.

"The third quarter was almost unbelievable," added Andrews. "We hit on four of nine from the field and four of 11 at the line while Trenton totaled 26 points."

RU came up with a 52 per cent shooting average on 26 of 50 from the field and outrebounded Trenton 38 to 27 with Kenney collecting 13 and Schaner totaling nine.

THE PANTHERS stand 8-1 in Suburban Eight action and Bentley fell into a second place tie with Dearborn at 6-3. Trenton fell to a 7-7 overall mark and RU boasted its record to 11-2.

STEVENSON SCORE — Spartan captain Frank Geluso (3) skates in all alone for his first of three goals against Southfield. Pulled out of

Undefeated Stevenson Romps Over Southfield Pucksters

Undefeated Livonia Stevenson blitzed for six goals in the opening period to throttle Southfield High, 9-3, with captain Frank Geluso hitting the hat trick.

Geluso scored two goals in the first period and completed the assault in the final period. Stevenson outshot Southfield in the Observerland hockey clash, 50 to 14 as the Spartan skaters kept Blue Jay goalie Steve Sund hopping in the Southfield net.

Dave Shierpel and Van Vermeesch shared duties in the Stevenson net.

Stevenson stands with seven victories and three ties to its credit and meets Franklin Friday in the 7 p.m. clash at Ford Ice Rink.

Kurt Geiger, Don Finn,

Steve Hillman and Geluso all hit the scoring mark for Stevenson in the opening period with Steve Feldman scoring twice and Chuck Coury once for Southfield.

The first three shots Southfield took at the Spartan net went in for scores but the Stevenson pucksters proved more powerful overall.

Gordie Bowie and Hillman tallied for Stevenson in the second period, and it was more than just a goal for the Bowie. It was his first of the season and in the stands to congratulate his son was his father, Dan Bowie, who was celebrating his birthday.

FRANKLIN scored its third hockey win against Southfield in a close, 2-1, battle marred with penalties in the final period.

Larry Penington opened the scoring at 12:35 and Franklin led 1-0 with no penalties called in the first 15 minutes.

Kevin Madigan gave the Patriots a 2-0 edge with a goal at 5:32 in the second and Franklin led 2-0 till the 0:41 mark in the third period when Southfield's Bob Mead tallied for the Blue Jay lone score.

The third period saw 15 penalties called in contrast to none in the first and six in the second with Brian Said of Franklin and Bruce Mancel of Southfield picking up game misconducts.

Franklin outshot Southfield, 36 to 19.

St. Agatha Topples RO St. Mary, 65-56

St. Agatha rebounded from its first round playoff trouncing to a consolation round victory over Royal Oak St. Mary, 65-56.

The Aggies lost in the first round against St. Florian, 60-43.

The St. Mary clash depicted the type of season it has been for Tom Sankovic's Aggies... an up and down affair. It just so happens that at the final buzzer the Aggies were in the up cycle and came out the victors.

ST. AGATHA jumped out to an early 11-0 lead and led after the first eight minutes, 17-8. The play got sloppy in the second quarter with the Aggies totaling 13 turnovers and St. Mary outscored St. Agatha, 20 to 8, to lead at the half, 28-25.

"We just fell apart in the second quarter," said Aggie Coach Sankovic.

St. Agatha exploded back with 24 points in the third quarter. Mark Miron tied it at 30-30 and Pat Brown put the Aggies up to stay with two from the line and it was 49-38 going into the final stanza.

St. Mary outscored St. Agatha, 18-16, in the final quarter but the third quarter Aggie burst proved too much for Royal Oak and the Aggies advanced their season mark to 9-7.

ST. AGATHA hit on 21 of 41 from the floor for a 51 per cent while St. Mary scored a 62 per cent on 23 of 37.

Pat Brown paced the Aggies with 19 points, followed by Miron with 17 and Tom Churches with 15.

Brad Jankon and Tom Calverley led St. Mary with 23 and 14 points respectively.

He Turns In Nightstick, To Take Up Drumsticks

By BETTY MASSON

An Observerland policeman is exchanging his nightstick for a drumstick this week.

Jerry McKenzie, who lives in Livonia and is a police officer in Farmington Township, is joining the Stan Kenton Band Wednesday evening (Feb. 16) at the Ruggles Club in Chicago as the band's drummer. After that it will be one-night stands in clubs, schools and colleges in Illinois and Texas, as McKenzie hits the road again. He worked with Kenton from 1959 until 1962, quitting primarily because of his desire to become a policeman.

BUT HE NEVER gave up his interest in music, and thus he was prepared when Kenton, in a concert at Clarenceville High School last November, pulled "a dirty trick" and asked McKenzie to leave the audience and join the band for a number.

He did, much to everyone's delight, and played an old Kenton favorite "Stompin' at the Savoy."

He must have liked it too, because when Kenton called him recently and asked him to come back with the band, his answer was "Yes." But only after a discussion with his attractive English-born wife, Sylvia, because the job means travelling six to nine months out of the year.

"My wife has always been concerned about my happiness," commented McKenzie, and between the two of them they concluded that he would be happiest devoting his full time to music again.

There's no doubt it was a big decision for this father of three boys, but one of the deciding factors was that it was Kenton asking him to come back. "I always said if I ever went back, it would be with Stan," says McKenzie. "He's a great guy!"

McKenzie doesn't have the band's complete itinerary yet, but believes that it will be back in Clarenceville in April.

McKENZIE HAD an early start in his musical career. He had his first lesson on the drums on his sixth birthday. A native of Ohio, he graduated from Lakewood Senior High School. He was captain of the band and majored in music.

Immediately after graduation he went to hear Charlie Spivak play in the Aragon ballroom in Cleveland. He was able to talk to Spivak and told him that he was looking for a job.

AN ADMIRER of Jerry McKenzie's style with the drums is his young son, Kent. Stan Kenton likes McKenzie's work, too, and so McKenzie will be joining the Kenton Band in Chicago next week. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

Two months later, Spivak called him. The band was playing in Vermillion Lake, Ohio, and needed a drummer. Would McKenzie like to audition?

He did, and he got the job. From Spivak's band, he went to the Glen Miller-Ray McKinley Band. Then one night they had a night off from their engagement at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas, so he and a guitar player went to hear Stan Kenton at the Tropicana.

McKENZIE auditioned with Kenton's band and joined it two weeks later. He stayed with it until early 1962.

McKenzie first joined the Detroit Police Department, where he claims, "walking a beat kept me in good physical condition."

A non-smoker, non-drinker, he finds he has to watch what he eats to stay in shape for being a policeman and a drummer.

He claims his success as the latter is partly due to "being in the right place at the right time. I've been very lucky."

He is lucky in at least one respect... he never has any trouble sleeping. And big bands, like Kenton's travel from place to place in busses, so being able to sleep anywhere is a big asset. That, and the ability to pound or pick up a beat.

Players Choose Priestley Mystery

The Farmington Players have chosen a mystery, "An Inspector Calls" by J.B. Priestley, for their spring play. Opening night will be March 10, and the play will run through the weekend as well as the weekends of March 17 and 24.

A limited number of tickets are available by calling Eleanor or Dale Johnson, 24125 Locust Drive, Farmington.

BOB GREGORY is directing the play, which is a mystery with an element of the supernatural.

Ed Risk plays Arthur Birling, a proud, pompous industrialist. His wife, Sybil Birling, who is unquestionably his social superior, will be portrayed by Lois Hill. Georganne McFall is cast as Edna, the maid.

The Inspector, a powerful giant of a man, is played by Bradley Palmer. Fran Zakoor takes the part of Sheila Birling, a pretty girl in her early 20s who is very pleased with life.

Greg Messer is cast as Eric, the shy son of the Birlings, and Perry Lewis plays the handsome, well-bred man-about-town, Gerald Croft.

The play will be staged in the Players Barn, 12 Mile Road, between Farmington and Orchard Lake Roads.

Three Cities Club To Meet

The Three Cities Art Club will meet at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 15, in the old Methodist Church, 109 W. Dunlap, Northville.

Jim Galbraith will speak on "Photography in Art and Occupation" and will show samples of his work. The meeting is open to the public without charge.

Members of the club are currently exhibiting their work in the Elks Temple, 23666 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington.

The Gourmet Adventures of

DICK BENSEK

Both V. Wolfe and Thomas Wolfe, well-known writers, attribute to a well-cooked piece of beef the power to reawaken a man's love. The irresistible perfume of boeuf en daube! The stalwart masculinity of a juicy pot roast! Despite Brillat-Savarin, that famous gourmand, and his belief that one must be born knowing how to cook meat well, today's excellent beef, ovens, and timing devices make it possible for any cook to do justice to a roast or steak. Only remember this: what appeals to the eye will most satisfy the palate: rich, red beef with streaky marblings of fat, veal of the purest pink. A meat thermometer is invaluable to the inexperienced eye in distinguishing various shades of done-ness in these good meats. Feel hungry? Cooking it is so easy and sure — why not have roast beef tonight?

Cooking may be easy and sure but when you appreciate out of the ordinary dishes the place to dine is DANISH INN, 32305 Grand River Ave., 476-5320. We have a 33-entree menu with many Danish Dishes featured including the house specialty, Frikadeller. Hours: 11 a.m. - 2 a.m. with dinners during the week until 10 p.m., Fri. and Sat. till 1 a.m. Closed Sundays. Reservations on the weekend.

HELPFUL HINT: Never buy cheap paint for the kitchen — you wash it too much! Besides, expensive paint goes farther.

Valentine's Day...
A Change From Serious
To Light-Hearted

If, as often said, all the world loves a lover, then Valentine's Day surely has the widest appeal of any celebration.

School kids in Observerland like those across the United States are busy writing their names on the back of colorful Valentines. Brown-ups, young and old alike, pause before the valentine displays thinking who might enjoy one of the bright, cheery cards.

Boy friends arrive with candy or flowers and the women look for something for "that special guy."

Lovers get cards, grandparents get cards and teachers are deluged with Valentines, even from little imps who have been assy all year long.

It's not a serious day, it's a fun day, but it wasn't always so.

Once upon a time Valentine's Day was a time for serious commitment of the heart.

Like so many holidays, it was cele-was sure to fall in love. Cupid, arrows, and colorful birds are still used to decorate Valentines, just as they were decades ago.

Several Valentines found in a family scrap book are examples of the kind of sentiments that were expressed in the mid-Victorian era.

One was a tiny card decorated with gold rococo cupids and flowers that must have accompanied an elaborate gift:

Cupid has started on his way.

Across the silver sea

And so, in honor of the day

He bears this gift to thee!

Let it tell thee loud as the bugle blast.

Of a rapturous love that shall ever last.

While the bugle blast metaphor is about as romantic as an air hammer, and the brated long before it acquired its present name. One ancient belief was that birds chose their mates on Feb. 14. Obviously, a lot of folks decided that what was good enough for the birds was good enough for them.

During the Middle Ages in England, Scotland and parts of France, there was a game played on Valentine's Eve. The young people gathered and drew names and the name drawn became the holder's sweetheart for the following year -- his Valentine.

Some Valentine!
Our 1972 youngsters would probably instigate instant rebellion against such an arbitrary system of choosing a date. Those used to today's free-wheeling dating system would want no part of a year's commitment pulled out of a hat.

At one time in Sicily, young women believed that the first man they would see on Valentine's Day would be their bridegroom before the year's end. If he was already married, it would be someone who looked like him.

The Sicilian girls, like kids expecting Santa, were up before the sun to catch a glimpse of the lucky man.

Although these customs sound completely out-of-date with our times, bits still remain.

That lovable golden winged cherub, Cupid, is right out of Roman mythology. Cupid was the son of Venus, goddess of love and one wounded by his arrow words may strike us as funny and stilted, someone kept it as a personal treasure.

Another Valentine from the same book was made of a lacy white paper doily pasted on yellow paper with a sentimental verse inserted at the bottom:

There is no joy to charm me

Unless that joy is shared by

thee

One moment dream about

thee

Is worth a long and endless

year

Of waking thought without

thee

My own love, my only dear.

Today's greeting card writers seem far better able to cope with combining sentimental thoughts and conversational tone.

Just as the number of Valentines people send today is a rebellion against the "one and only" cards of past years, so the "penny dreadful" of the early 1900's was a sharp reaction to the heavy sentimentality of the Victorian era.

The penny dreadful was a single sheet of cheap paper. It contained an ugly caricature and a biting verse at the bottom. Fortunately, these too, seem to have lost their appeal.

Valentine's Day has evolved so now it means cards for everyone, cookies and cakes, parties and pleasant, if not always dead serious, sentiments.

Courtin' Customs

While the word "courtin'" has been relegated to grandmother's quaint vocabulary -- the ancient ritual still takes place in up-dated style.

Until recently, the family was usually in on the courtship in varying degrees. Family involvement and approval grew as civilizations became more and more structured.

At the dawn of civilization courtship probably lasted as long as a walk to the woods with a member of the opposite sex. Later men bought, or fought for or captured the women they wanted.

Later, families realizing that love daughter they had a marketable commodity would arrange a marriage with the highest bidder. This reached its peak when the royal houses of England, France, Russia and Spain would promise their infant daughters in marriage to establish a strong liaison with a foreign power.

This was also a prevalent practice among the Eskimos and the people of New Caledonia and Tasmania.

Only in recent years have young women from Latin countries been free to meet their lovers without being accompanied by the ever-present duenna.

The giving of gifts is doubtless a carryover from the days when man's wealth was a significant factor in his eligibility.

While courtship gifts have run the gamut from livestock to diamonds (the American Indian brought horses to his intended), flowers have always had the edge in sentimental value.

The Greeks wore a flower as a sign of being engaged and the Polynesians wear flowers behind their ears to indicate they are in love.

When the old saw "hearts and flowers" became a part of the courtship scene, it signaled the beginning of choosing a mate for his or her intrinsic worth and physical appeal rather than material possessions.

It's Leap Year

For women who want to follow an ancient tradition, this is the year they can propose to the man.

What better moment than Valentine's Day to take an aggressive role in shaping one's future life?

If the women don't do it this year, it will be 1976 before they'll again have historical sanction for the chase.

Leap Year comes every fourth year when the year number is equally divisible by four and an extra day is added to February. The year 200 will be a bonus Leap Year because not all century years divide by four.

Just how the woman's prerogative year happened to come about, no one is sure, but it's one of long standing.

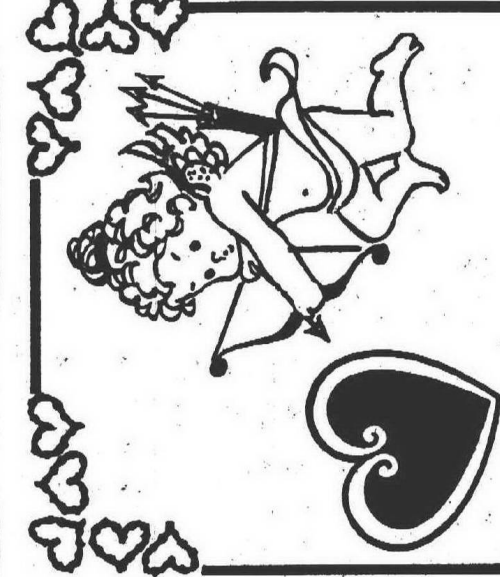

It was declared in Scotland in 1288 that if a maiden lady proposed to a man in Leap Year and he did not accept, he would be penalized -- unless he could prove that he was already betrothed to another woman. Soon after, France passed a similar law and in the 15th century Genoa and Florence did likewise.

Imagine the panic that must have run through the male population in those ancient Leap Years! No wonder some men took to being hermits or joined sea-faring expeditions that committed them to several years aboard ship.

In the off years, women are allotted only one day, St. Valentine's Day, when they can pursue with society's blessing.

With over 300 days left in 1972, there's plenty of time available for the women to zero in on their chosen male target.

"Love and you shall be loved. -- All love is mathematically just, as much as the two sides of an algebraic equation." Emerson

Women's Libbers, Take Heart

The valentine industry in the United States was started by a woman, Esther Howland, of Worcester, Mass.
The enterprising Ms. Howland, daughter of a well-to-do stationer, decided that the manufacture of valentines would be a lucrative business. Previously, they had been imported from England.
She hired women to paste and paint, asked her traveling salesman brothers to include her line in their sample cases and in a rather remarkable period of time had an annual sales volume of $75,000.
The business continued for over 30 years. Ms. Howland was the first career woman in New England and hers was the first valentine factory in America.

Love Letters--The Language Of The Heart

What ever happened to love letters? Have they become an extinct form of expression?

Not hardly, although the form has changed just as life in the 20th century is different from that of a century ago.

Today one can pick up a phone and say what's on his mind... or at least make a stab at it. He can send a telegram or flowers with a brief note. He can catch a plane, or a bus, or hop in a car and be with his love in a matter of minutes or hours and deliver his message in person.

Literature is full of lengthy, passionate love letters--longings of the heart poured out in page after page of epic prose. These were written by people who had no other form of communication when separated by time and space.

There is a lot to be said for a bona fide love letter. The writer can pursue his train of thought uninterrupted by the voice at the other end of the line or the person holding his hand. He can say what is in his heart using as much time as he pleases to edit his thoughts for clarity. Too much editing may skim off the spontaneity.

This idea is expressed in a 12th century letter which Heloise wrote to Abelard.

It is a tragic story of two people who loved deeply and then were separated forever, he to a monastic life and she to a convent. Long after their separation they continued to write to each other.

In one letter she cautions: "...write to me always carelessly and without study. I had rather read the dictates of the heart than of the brain."

She begs him to write that he still loves her and describes her feelings at great length: "I will still love you with all the tenderness of my soul till the last moment of my life."

She condemns herself for her weakness in continuing to love him but womanlike tells him about it: "Veiled as I am, behold, in what disorder you have plunged me!"

Letters sometimes open the door for romance.

Poets Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning were 19th century pen pals. After reading a volume of her poems and before having met her, Browning wrote "I do, as I say, love these books with all my heart... and love you too."

A different side of the person will show up in a love letter. At no time is he more human than when he is expressing his most closely guarded emotions.

The genius of Ludwig Von Beethoven is everywhere in his music. Outwardly he was unattractive. It is said that he was short, not physically attractive and a boor.

He loved deeply, but never married. He wrote, but never mailed three letters to the young Countess Giulietta Guicciardi. It was she to whom his "Moonlight Sonata" was dedicated.

Beethoven concludes one of the letters "Be calm, only by a calm consideration of our existence can we achieve our purpose to live together... be calm--love--today--yesterday--what fearful longings for you--my life--my all--farewell--Oh continue to love me--never misjudge the most faithful heart of your beloved L. Ever thine ever mine

We can only speculate on what might have happened if he had mailed the letters. The Countess married someone else.

A love letter need not be deathless prose nor perfect in its structure. It can be written on a scrap of paper--a few words--I love you--I miss you--come back soon--you are beautiful.

In today's rush-rush world, love letters are sometimes little more than a simple open thought written under the verse of a valentine or birthday card, an intimate note tucked in a husband's lunch box, a brief compliment at the bottom of a grocery list, a note on the refrigerator--these are today's love letters.

They are the things that create a moment of beauty when a person is reminded that someone loves him.

With Love

Love letters are where you find them--sometimes in the mail--sometimes on the refrigerator door. Whether they take a minute or an hour to write isn't as important as what they say...and what is between the lines.
