Boom Continues

Approval of a new 60-acre apartment development which will call for 500 more living units in Canton Township within two years also encompasses the go-ahead for an adjacent industrial park. It is in keeping with the developer's theory that "people like to live near their jobs."

Off And Running

Marshal Manning, Democratic party chairman for the Plymouth community, takes issue with Bifocals' recent assertion that the party's local leadership is suffering from lethargy. His letter to the editor tells the lively things that are going on.

There isn't much one can do with a size 37AA shoe except look at it, but that's good enough for former Plymouth mayor James Houk. After many years in the shoe business, Houk considers this his prize possession and W. W. Edgar tells the interesting tale of its history.

Dingeldey Backs Police Plan

By MARIE McGEE

CANTON TOWNSHIP
Canton Township Supervisor Philip Dingeldey said this week that he is "100 per cent in agreement" with the advice of former Michigan State Police Director Fredrick Davids that Canton and Plymouth Township should do something immediately about establishing their own police departments.

In fact, Dingeldey said, he has already held exploratory talks with officials of both the State Police and Sheriff's Road Patrol.

"I'm convinced that we could furnish our own police protection for half the cost that Wayne County is paying," Dingeldey said.

He said it was regrettable that the Canton board didn't realize at last year's budget planning sessions how serious the county was about scrapping the road patrol.

"We would have very definitely done something at that time," he continued. "We couldn't believe it was going to happen."

Instead, Canton went ahead and set up a full-time fire department.

Dingeldey said that the formation of a basic police department would be one of two priority items for the board of trustees to consider when budget time rolls around this year.

The other will be the expansion of the township's rubbish collection service. Hopefully, by next year, individual pickup service will be instituted. At the present time, Canton residents have to take their rubbish to the township's sanitary fill facility, now being operated by the American Rubbish Co.

At a meeting Feb. 7, sponsored by the Canton-based Western Home Improvement Association, Col. Davids urged the two townships to take steps to furnish their own police protection and pointed out the many services available to them through the State Police.

CHILDREN'S DENTAL HEALTH WEEK not only brought visits of local dentists to all Plymouth elementary schools but also featured a poster contest that helped students remember proper tooth care. These are the winners from each of the schools: Lee Walbridge and Karen Albright, Gallimore; Dawn Oakley and Debbie Matzo, Fiegel; Stephanie Houppert and Susan Farewell, Farrand; Duncan Moshimer and

Sharon Radionoff, Bird; Bobby Jo Ramp and Coleen Wendland, St. Peters; Christina Nimke and Keith Greenleaf, Allen; Bobby Mester and Janet Davies, OLCG; Mark Swanson and John Kelliher, Smith; Mark Guenther and Kathy McIntosh, Starkweather; Ricky Maertens and Denise Gaertner, Isbister, and Jeff Serppel and Jeff Lahr, Tanger. John Pingel Will Lead Tribute At Guideau Scout Retirement

When Charles (Uncle Chuck) Guideau steps down Friday night from his pinnacle as one of Plymouth's greatest Boy Scouting leaders across three decades, the public tribute he will receive will be led by Michigan State University's first football All-American.

John S. Pingel, who starred at halfback for the Spartans in the mid-'30s and who just a year ago was president of the Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts, has agreed to fill the role of guest speaker despite a busy world-wide travel program as president of Ross Roy, Inc., one of the nation's top 50 advertising agencies.

By itself, this will be one of the greatest salutes to be given the popular "Uncle Chuck," whose retirement as scoutmaster of Troop 862 has prompted a testimonial dinner to be held at 7 p.m. Friday in the VFW Hall, 1426 S. Mill. It is Mayflower Post 6695 of the VFW which sponsors the troop.

GUIDEAU is a holder of scouting's silver beaver award for his long-time service and also has been elected to the Order of the Arrow. During his 30 years as a scoutmaster, more than 1,000 boys have come under his direction. He has awarded the eagle badge, scouting's highest rank, to nine of them. Pingel long has been active in community service and as president of the Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts helped bring about the continuing growth of this organization throughout the metropolitan area.

During World War II, he served as a lieutenant colonel, winning the bronze star and purple heart, and then entered the advertising business after his discharge.

As president of one of the major agencies of the United States, he also is a director of the American Assn. of Advertising Agencies and is chairman of the board's committee on work with students and educators.

In 1968, Pingel was elected to the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame, the top honor for a former college football player. He graduated from MSU in 1937, and during his varsity gridiron career the Spartans beat the University of Michigan three years in a row. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

PLYMOUTH'S City Commission took official notice of Guideau's years of service and impending retirement with the adoption of a resolution this week praising his outstanding leadership, declaring:

"Whereas, Charles Guideau has served the community well for a great number of years in boys' work, and

"Whereas, as scoutmaster, Charles Guideau has enriched the life of over a thousand youth through example, guidance and dedication in the field of scouting, and

"Whereas, Charles Guideau will be honored at a testimonial dinner on Feb. 18, 1972 for his enviable record and outstanding leadership and devotion to youth work.

"Now, therefore be it resolved, that the City Commission of the City of Plymouth, Mich., does hereby publicly thank and extend its appreciation, and that of the entire community, to Charles Guideau for his outstanding contribution to the community."

It Will Be Circus Time For Bandsmen Sunday

The Plymouth Community Band will be the last of the area's foremost musical groups to use the acoustically perfect new high school auditorium for a concert showcase Sunday afternoon when the famed circus conductor, Merle Evans, appears as guest conductor and soloist.

Such organizations as the Plymouth Symphony, Youth Symphony, high school band and orchestra, choral organizations and even some of the middle and elementary school musicians already have performed from the vast stage of the auditorium.

Listeners who helped make Plymouth music-conscious with their attendance at previous concerts through the years in the old Central School gymnasium and multi-purpose room have been awed by the "new sound" which acoustic improvement has made possible.

Sunday's concert, which will open at 3:15 p.m., will offer still another opportunity for contrast, as the music to be featured will be the brassy, quick-tempered circus style which carried Evans to fame during his half century as bandmaster for the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey circus.

The Community Band, which was formed in 1959, is better known for its summer concerts in Kellogg Park, and this will be one of the rare occasions when there will be an admission charge to hear the band perform. Tickets are priced at $1 and some still remain on sale at the Melody House.

AFTER AN initial series of numbers under the baton of James Griffith, the band will be joined by Evans to perform these numbers with a circus motif: "Thunder and Blazes" (elephant act); "Teddy Bears' Picnic" (bear act); "In a Persian Market" (wire act); "Barnum and Bailey's Favorite" (liberty horses); "Kentucky Sunrise" (clowns); "Jungle Queen" (lion and tiger act); "Georgia Camp Meeting" (high school horses); "Blue Tango" (high wire act); "Wedding of the Winds" (flying act) and "Gallop Go" (races).

Evans' career is an extraordinary one, for he has performed in old-time minstrel shows, carnivals, show boats, medicine and wild west shows, as well as with the world's No. 1 circus.

Known as the "Toscanini of the Big Top," he joined his town band on the cornet in Columbus, Kan., at the age of 10 and has been going strong ever since. Sunday's concert also will include balloons for the children and refreshments.

PHS Head Defends Discipline

By KATHY MORAN

Reported discipline problems in Plymouth High School drew about 15 angry parents to the Plymouth Board of Education meeting Monday.

Angered over reported sexual activities going on in the school, as well as incidents of gambling and fighting, the parents demanded that strict discipline controls be placed on the students.

PHS Principal Bill Brown assured the parents that students are disciplined and their parents are notified whenever they are caught at such activities.

Both Brown and Acting Supt. John Hoben told parents that the rate of such incidents has dropped drastically over the past year and they "are continuing to take positive measures to correct these situations."

Five sets of students caught gambling in the school have been suspended this year, Brown said.

After discussing one incident that particularly irritated the parents, it was found that the situation was blown out of proportion by rumors circulating among students.

In a school with 2,300 students, a certain amount of trouble is anticipated, Hoben said.

"I know these things go on, but we certainly don't condone these things," he said. "Ninety per cent of the students are behaving in a normal, responsible way."

He said the situation at the high school is "20 times" better than last year. The parking lot has been fenced in and a guard has been placed on duty to patrol that area.

"I can only tell you the change in the high school over the last year is astounding," Board member John Hanskat agreed. "I'm very pleased with these kids relative to what I see elsewhere."

DR. JOHN OHNO, newly-elected board member, sided with parents and expressed concern about the "deteriorating atmosphere" at PHS and said he favors a detailed school code.

Both Brown and Hoben urged parents to go to the school and see the facility in operation.

Some parents complained about the free time the students have as a result of the new modular scheduling.

Under modular scheduling, the school day is divided into 20 modules and classes vary in length from two to more modules.

Brown said that the typical student has about 33 per cent of his time free for study or to participate in school activities, an increase from only eight per cent under the traditional scheduling.

A total of 142 students each received three failing grades at the end of the first semester of the scheduling system, but Hoben said these students have been assigned to counselors and teachers for individual attention so that "their time is wisely used."

"We have fewer students failing and more students on the honor roll," Brown said, adding that 30 per cent of the students were on the honor roll.

THE MAIL & Observer has received numerous phone calls from parents upset about the free time the students have during the day.

But an analysis of the grades for the first semester shows that 23 per cent of the 10th graders were on the honor roll, 28 per cent of the 11th graders, and 42 per cent of the seniors.

Students getting one failing grade totaled 14 per cent in 10th grade, 15 per cent in 11th, and 13 per cent in 12th. Those with two failing grades were six per cent in 10th, nine per cent in 11th, and four per cent in 12th.

Three or more failing grades were given to nine per cent of the 10th graders, six per cent of the 11th, and three per cent of the 12th.

The high school has 808 sophomores, 786 juniors and 622 seniors as well as 23 in special education.

The 142 students with triple failing grades "are not an atypical grouping, as we had similar numbers under the traditional scheduling," Hoben stated in a memo to the board. "We recognize the problem and are attempting to remedy it with a positive solution."

MSU Honors Area Students

A number of Michigan State University students from Plymouth were placed on the honors list for the fall term.

They were: Marvin Ash, 16620 Haggerty; John Breed, 1476 Penniman; James Buike, 15670 Northville; Carl Cederberg, 39936 Warren; Linda Demeritt, 1440 Woodland; James Fishback, 1754 Nantucket; Raymond Fleszar, 725 Irvin; Mary Gaffney, 545 Byron and Carol Goltz, 11261 McClumpha.

Anne Heidryckx, 46000 Ann Arbor Trail; Gary Hukka, 42644 Postiff; Suzanne Kinler, 9350 Southworth; Judith Meece, 7842 Kaiser; Suzanne Noll, 46878 Betty Hill; Robert Rogalski, 39857 Edmonton; James Ruby, 40840 Five Mile; Jeffrey Scott, 8950 Ann Arbor Rd.; Eric Smith, 15560 Robinwood; Mary Swanson, 44715 Charnwood; Marjorie Vanatta, 11380 Eastside; Cynthia Wilkin, 440 Ross, and Michael Zimmerman, 14110 Linden.

Drugs

No Kicks
From Coke
Any More

Questions should be sent to the Community Commission on Drug Abuse, P.O. Box Drugs, Livonia, 48151.

Q. I'm a pharmacist and was referred to your column for the answer to a rather puzzling situation that has arisen lately. Kids are coming into my pharmacy requesting Coca-Cola syrup in large quantities. They even try to consume it on the premises which I have put a stop to.

I'm aware that cola beverages contain a mildly stimulating dose of caffeine alkaloids - such as could be gotten from several cups of coffee. But is there some new "kick" that's been discovered in this syrup? Is there anything to justify my refusing to sell it under these unusual circumstances? This sort of business I don't need.
B.B., Livonia

A. Let's answer your last question first. You are under no obligation to sell this product to people who give evidence of using it (whether successfully or not) for kicks. The general rule being that "no good will be done."

You are correct in your evaluation of this syrup being no stronger a stimulant than coffee. We suspect that your clientele is about three-quarters of a century behind the times: Coca-Cola (originally formulated by a pharmacist, by the way) at first did contain cocaine, an extremely potent stimulant. It was also found - and legally - in many tonics of the time. As the dangers of this drug became apparent, it was dropped from the list of ingredients. Cola beverages today are safe for most people.

This is a convenient opportunity to mention the subject of "Coke and aspirin." People we have talked to from age 7 to 70 eventually get around to asking about this combination. There has never been any documented evidence that Coke and aspirin do anything. Why this particular rumor persists to this day is a mystery to everyone concerned.

It might be helpful to mention to those who are trying to "act big" by attempting to abuse cola syrups that the major use of this product is for treating nausea of infants. Rather large amounts are administered (preferably as directed by a physician) for vomiting in infants and children. Pointing out that "cola syrup is for babies" may help to cool some of the "big shooters" who are bothering you for it now.

Q. Here is a conversation I overheard between two really young children: "I'm gonna grow my own marijuana." "Where can you get it?" "From birdseed." "Do you know what the seeds look like - so you can sort them out?" "Nope, you just throw a lot of seeds out into the field. When they grow you can tell real easy."

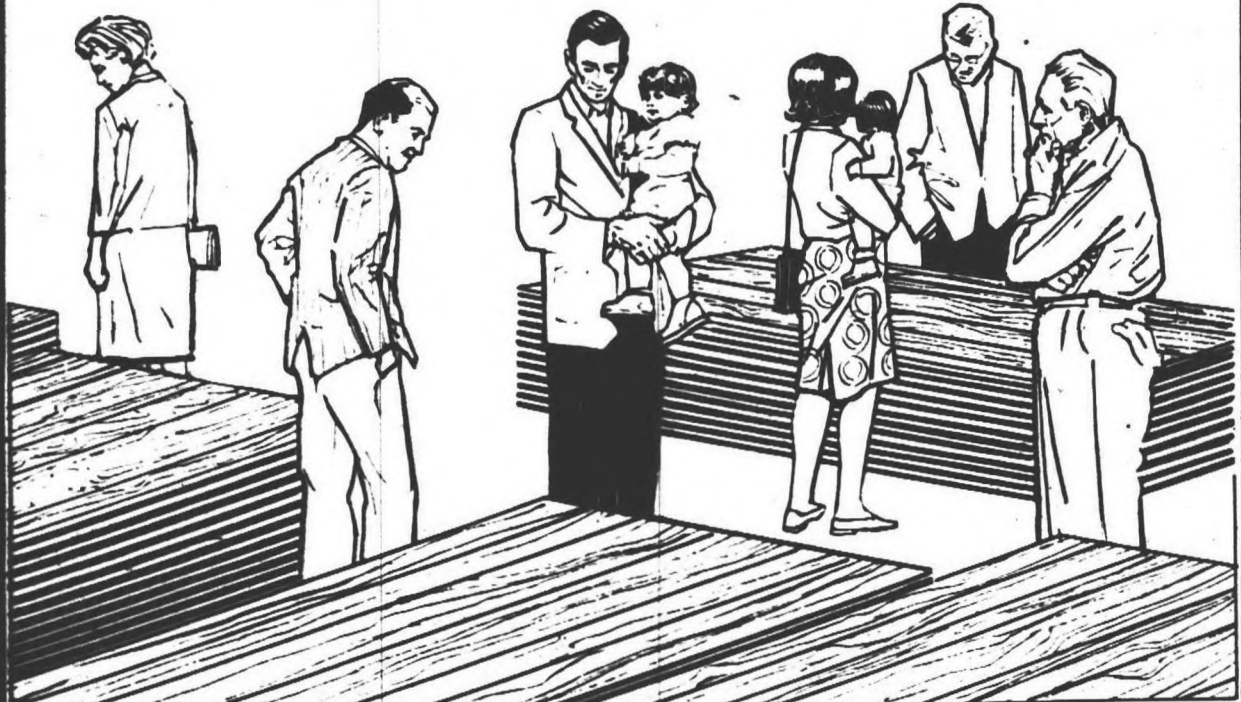

The kid seemed quite knowledgeable and self-confident. I found myself becoming quite apprehensive. Can this be done?
Mrs. R.B., Westland

A. Not any more. Birdseed used to contain a fair proportion of seeds from the cannabis (marijuana) plant. They contain a considerable amount of nutritional oils. Since the advent of marijuana abuse, these seeds have either been eliminated or sterilized. (Rape seeds, oddly enough, are still present.)

The next question that arises would be if the sterilized seeds could be consumed for effect. The answer is no: the active ingredient in marijuana is concentrated in the resin (gummy substance) secreted, not in the seeds.

The child will not be harmed, but his parents should be advised - in a low-keyed manner - that their child has expressed such a desire to experiment.

THROUGH BIFOCALS

By FRED DeLANO / Editor Mail & Observer

IT WAS DIFFICULT, last week, to tell which of three moments of triumph was the most enjoyable for the young man in our family. As a parent, it was equally difficult to gain any sense of direction as to whether it will be his gift of gab, love of music or gargantuan appetite which will be the basis of a professional career.

At our house, we believe a kid should be allowed pretty much to pick his own profession, and in my own mind there is a suspicion that what we are raising is a gourmet who needs to find a niche that will let him buy his food wholesale.

For instance, we were guests at a brunch Sunday in Farmington and not until after 4½ bagels laden with lox, cream cheese, onion, tomatoes, cucumbers and various condiments did this growing lad come up for air. It was Jewish fare, as you can see, but take my word for it, he holds no ethnic prejudices and at home that evening attacked a ham with equal vigor.

It started me thinking about how lucky this boy and his sister are in the exposure they have had to a variety of food far different from my own boyhood when the queen of the kitchen was a grandmother who didn't believe a piece of meat could be served unless it was fried beyond recognition. For that matter, escape from that theory has led to a world of gastronomic discovery for me, too.

I'M NOT KNOCKING old-fashioned midwestern cooking, or the delightful aroma that comes from an oven containing an apple pie or homemade bread, but good eating need not stop there.

I think of some of the places Lady Fortune has led us through the years: Pier 4 and Jimmy's in Boston, Bookbinder's in Philadelphia, Victor Hugo's at Laguna Beach, the La Gloria down near Ensenada and dozens of others in New York, Chicago, New Orleans, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Baltimore, Milwaukee and a host of stops in between.

That dear old grandmother would twirl in her tomb and ask deliverance for any of her clan if she thought they would admit finding soft shell crabs, or blue point oysters, or a Caesar salad and its anchovies, or even the hot and savory dishes of Mexico tastier than a piece of beefsteak she had hammered into submission.

Maybe it was because it was the post-World I era when prejudices against much of Europe still were prevalent, but about the only "foreign" dish I remember on the table was Chinese chop suey.

ALL THAT has changed as even the young ones in this generation have had their appetites honed by the realization that food experimentation can be a real delight, and that dishes of foreign origination are not to be snubbed. They benefit, of course, from having a true culinary artist as a mother.

Their own eventual mates may find them hard to live with later on when it is insisted that sauces and gravies can be made properly only with wine as an ingredient, and that grape leaves are intended to be stuffed with ground beef and rice. But it has been fun learning.

Then, too, the mood always can be lightened by recollection of one tale from their childhood when their mother confounded an acquaintance who inquired what was to be served for dinner that night by answering, "Musgoes."

In vain the lady searched the stores for this apparent delicacy, finally returning in despair to ask where they could be found. Mother Goose's answer seems obvious in retrospect, "Why, just open the refrigerator door and everything that's there must go." You know, that sort of a dinner isn't bad, either.

Canton To Get Industrial Park

By MARIE McGEE

CANTON TOWNSHIP. With the verbal confrontation of a year ago between the planning commission and the township board all but forgotten, Canton Township is looking forward to the development of its first industrial park.

The industrial park site approval is encompassed in plans calling for the building of apartments on a 60-acre site between Sheldon and Morton-Taylor Rds., south of Michigan Ave.

Final approval for the multiples came at the Canton board's Feb. 8 meeting, a little more than a year after the plan was first introduced by a group of Plymouth area developers.

THE DEVELOPER, Beaver Construction, since joined with the Homewood Co., a building company, in the plan.

Initially, the plan was rejected by the planning commission because the apartments would be located in Canton's industrial corridor. At the time, Planning Consultant Michael Manore said it was an intrusion that conflicted with the master plan. The commission confirmed the recommendation and turned down the project.

However, trustees felt the plan had merit, especially when the developer promised to turn the adjacent 69 acres into an industrial park. The township board, however, stipulated at the outset of talks that the two projects had to be done simultaneously.

STILL IN the formative stages, the park "is coming along," reported Supervisor Philip Dingeldey.

The property on which the apartment complex will be built was rezoned from industrial to R1 (residential) and was once owned by the pioneer farming Fischer family.

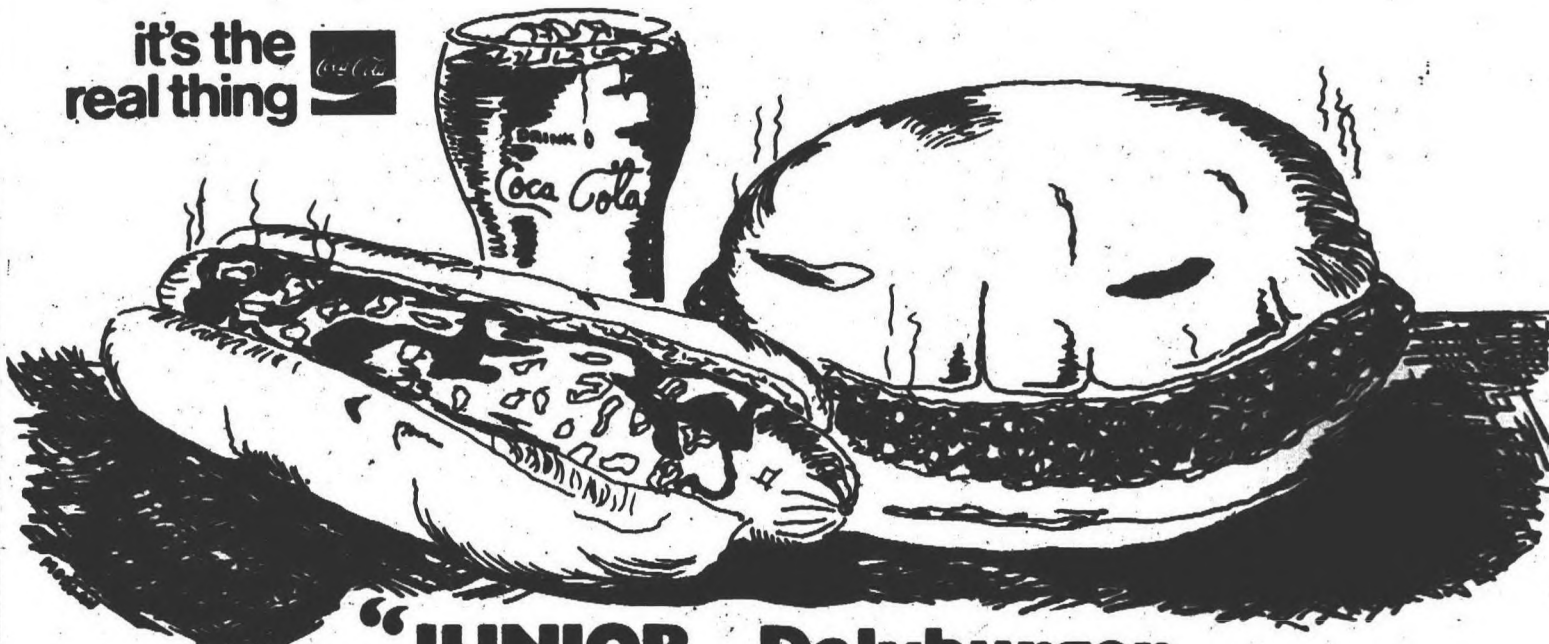

Beaver Development, also involved in the construction of the large Squire Apartments in Canton, has a similar apartment project in Plymouth, located across from the Burroughs plant.

"People like to live near their jobs," Beaver officials stated repeatedly in their fight to get the Canton rezoning.

The new development will be known as Sheldon Commons and calls for 300 units to be built this year, followed by 200 in 1973.

The Stroller... Playing For Big Stakes

By W. W. EDGAR

Years ago, The Stroller used to take keen delight in studying the expressions on the faces of the groups gathered around the checkerboard when Newell Banks, then the world champion, out-manuevered his rivals.

In the quiet atmosphere of these matches, one could hear a pin drop as they concentrated on the next move, trying to get the best of the old master.

This seldom happened as they learned on one occasion when he left the room for a few moments. On his return, he asked the opponent, "You made two moves while I was gone, which one do you want to keep?"

These marathon checker matches are now in the limbo of forgotten things. On their departure, many of the same groups crouched over crossword puzzles trying to think of a three-letter word for something or other.

The crossword puzzle era has about run its course now. But little groups still gather around tables and whisper in soft tones while perusing maps of all areas of western Wayne County.

These groups are far removed from such things as checkers and crossword puzzles, but their moves can be just as important. You see, they are real estate men, each plotting the next move as the construction of the two new expressways presages a major program of expansion - with the Plymouth community in the center.

THEY ARE playing for big stakes - and, depending on the moves they make, our way of living and the general appearance of the entire area will be changed, drastically.

Nothing official ever is announced when these little groups disperse. But if you believe all the rumors that follow, all of western Wayne County is due for a development explosion.

If you can believe what you hear, Farmington and Redford Township will, at long last, establish downtown areas, with office buildings and all manner of new architecture.

Livonia, too, will have a real downtown at the intersection of Five Mile and Farmington Roads, replete with a series of high rise buildings, a towering city hall, and even lighted fountains along the boulevard areas.

If one is to take these rumors seriously, they'll even have a suitable monument erected at the entrance to the Livonia Civic Center to replace the gas station that was razed during the street widening program.

It doesn't take much imagination to visualize the scene. If and when it happens, Livonia's long-awaited downtown will be a model for others.

Well beyond the rumor stage is the activity in Garden City where plans are progressing for an urban renewal project that will change the entire complexion of things at the corner of Middle Belt and Ford Roads.

It will include an ideal business center and a long planned home for senior citizens.

LIKE FLIES attracted to a lump of sugar, these real estate fellows now tell you that Canton Township is "hot." Down there they're dreaming, too, of high-rise apartments, offices and a civic center, along with huge commercial and residential developments.

But at the moment, rumors are loudest in the city of Plymouth.

If one paid any attention to the whispering now going on, there'll be high rise buildings all along Main Street, huge new office complexes with spiraling parking ramps and all the other "jewelry" that goes to make a thriving city.

Northville is planning to create a new downtown. It already has the spiraling parking ramp, and now the business section is supposed to be due for a real face lifting.

OUT OF ALL the rumors that are piled upon rumors, there are only two things certain:

The City of Plymouth will have a new Historical Museum and it will be located on Main Street, plus a Cultural and Recreational Center behind Central School.

All the rest is just rumor...unadulterated rumor. There is an old adage that "Where there's smoke there's fire."

But they once taught us that the moon was made of green cheese, too.

Just to be safe-if you are planning a trip, don't stay away too long. You may not know the old place when you get back.

Donald White Dies Under Shifting Steel

PLYMOUTH Services were held yesterday (Tuesday) for Donald W. White, 55, of 14864 Thornridge, Plymouth, who died Friday when he and another employee at the Ford Motor Co. Sterling Plant were pinned under two rolls of steel.

Sterling Heights police said the men were crushed by the rolled steel which fell from a truck when a weighing scale, upon which the steel was resting, shifted. Also killed was Thomas K. Robine, 25, of Inkster. Services for Mr. White were held at the R.G. & G.R. Harris Funeral Home with Dr. William B. Mercer officiating. Burial followed in Roseland Park Cemetery. A 20-year resident of the Plymouth community, White was a truck driver. He was a member of the Nardin Park United Methodist Church, Teamsters Local 299, Zion Lodge 1 of F&AM, the King Cyrus Chapter 133 of RAM and Detroit Commandry 1. Surviving are his wife, Delores; and two daughters, Bonnie and Linda.

SCHOOL MUSICAL directors from throughout the south gave the Plymouth High School band a standing ovation lasting nearly four minutes after the band presented its invitational concert last Friday at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Bandmaster James Griffith commented that the applause lasted so long "it actually got embarrassing." His praise for the hospitality shown the 89-member PHS band knows no bounds, and Griffith is now working on a full report of the trip.

Canton Rec. Plan Needs More Data

CANTON TOWNSHIP Southfielder John White's "dream" to build a vast recreational facility in Canton Township has hit a technical snag.

White was hopeful of receiving the planning commission's approval for the rezoning of 16 acres on the south side of Joy Rd., between Ridge and Napier, from R-1A (residential) to O-R (open space-recreation) when he appeared before the Canton group at its February meeting.

But when the sketches were scanned, planning commissioners learned that the legal description was inadequate. They gave White two weeks to furnish the data before setting a date for the public hearing.

A tennis buff, White is planning a 40-acre development that would include tennis courts, squash and paddle ball courts as well as a year-round swimming pool and ice skating rink.

Puts Faith In Young People

EDITOR:

It has been my worthwhile experience on occasion to speak to many young people, including journalism and English classes at our new high school, as well as other youth and adult groups on such subjects as parent-teen relations, pornography, alcohol and drug education, race relations and other concerns relevant to our present day society.

I have been amazed and gratified at the response and view points of some of the youth with regard to these various questions, which revealed much responsibility and remarkable sense of values and direction.

In a world of international insecurity, moral crises and tremendous pressures confronting our younger generation, it is indeed encouraging to know that many of the young people, our future leaders, are not drop-outs, failures, anti-parents, nor against the establishment. Bless them! They need our encouragement.

Democrats Are Alive And Well

EDITOR:

Compelling facts dictate a personal response to your "Bifocals" column making reference to the lethargy of the Democratic Party leadership.

The viewpoint of the inner circle is that the Democratic Party is going through a self-revitalizing made evident by the various reform commissions and conventions. Our party is again leading the way in its desire to be ever more reflective of its national electorate majority.

Letters To The Editor

reflected in the 13 months of my chairmanship by a vigorous activity that senses total victory in '72.

I submit that our record of achievement would not indicate our imminent death or any significant lethargic affliction. The Democratic Party of Plymouth is alive and well and looks forward with eager anticipation to the coming months.

The 1970 voting in Plymouth elected six of nine of the top state officials: Philip Hart, Richard Austin, Frank Kelley, James Tierney, William Lucas and John McCann.

The local branch of the party created campaign materials that were so well thought of that the UAW's Solidarity House has asked and received permission to duplicate and use them throughout the nation by its political arm, UAW-CAP.

The first of what is intended to be an annual party picnic was successfully held this past August.

A concerted drive to cause ideology compatible with that of the Democratic Party's contributed to the election of our three endorsed candidates on the Plymouth School Board: Graves, Ohno and Penar.

In addition, the local party is working actively to enlarge youth registration. We invite the Mail & Observer, the Republican Party and all community interests to join us in this effort. We have requested cooperation from both the city and the township for school registration efforts for the newly eligible electorate. As of this date they have not taken any action.

The local branch of this Democratic Party has created and offered to the Wayne County Democratic Committee and the Democratic State Party a voter registration and precinct delegate down - the - street program, that has been accepted.

The Democratic Party of Plymouth is most grateful for the Observer's tips on how to "lure a few of the non-believers into the fold."

Perhaps your solicited concern for our growth is at least equalled by the party's leadership; witness our paid-for invitational ads in the Observer.

We in all sincerity must admit being remiss in not being able to go beyond our recent membership meeting. The condition of the local treasury prohibits extensive paid advertising. Under normal conditions, we are most anxious to notify the Observer of any and all activities.

These have not been normal times. Our most talented secretarial staff of three lovely ladies has had, I would say, more than its share of misfortune. Our secretary was recuperating from most critical surgery. Our corresponding secretary's mother - in - law is hospitalized with a heart attack and the mother - in - law of the third member of our staff died in Butzel Hospital.

In light of the above I hope you will pardon our omission in not notifying the Mail & Observer about our membership meeting at which Judge Horace Gilmore spoke.

To preclude a similar incident happening, the Wayne II Democratic Party takes this opportunity to notify all that membership meetings, with comparable illustrious guest speakers invited, are tentatively scheduled for June 1, Aug. 3, and Oct. 5.

In addition, this writer would welcome an opportunity to meet with Mail & Observer people to divulge all of our plans and proposals, to dispel any and all thoughts of secrecy, and or any other malefactions.

I personally thank you for your attention to our growth prospects and hope the Observer will again show its concern for strengthening the community participation in the delegate process as it did in its editorial in the summer of 1970.

Well, let's strive toward the best of all possible worlds and hope that all's well that ends well! The ominous incident, our failing to notify the Mail & Observer of our meeting, may yet serve virtue. The Mail & Observer may reach the exalted position reserved for divinity, and the most pure. Remember: "To err is human, to forgive divine." Please forgive us.

Fischer Heads Western Home Organization

CANTON TOWNSHIP Harold Fischer, prominent Plymouth area realtor and planning consultant, was elected president of the Western Homeowners Improvement Association at a recent election meeting.

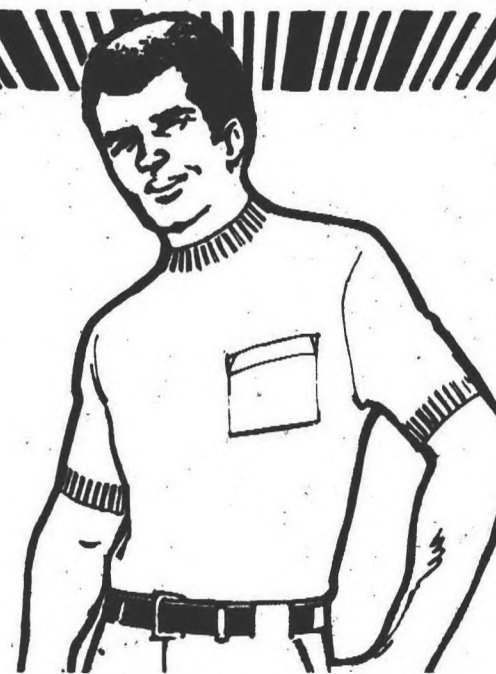

Robert Wade, of the engineering firm of Wade, Trim and Associates, was elected vice president, representing Canton residents. His counterpart for Plymouth township was Robert Ervin. Bruce Richard was named secretary and Robert Kemnitz was elected treasurer.

The 120 - member homeowners association is made up of residents in the area bounded by Joy-Ford-Sheldon-Napier Rds.

Fischer indicated that the association will begin an extensive membership campaign and may begin sending representatives to Canton and Plymouth Township board of trustee meetings in an effort to keep abreast of land development.

New Flood Plain Lines To Help Area

By TIM RICHARD

Local officials are in a better position to enforce flood plain and anti-filling ordinances now that they're armed with a new report by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The $71,000 report covers 28 miles of the Upper Rouge, Minnow Pond Drain, Bell Branch and Tarabusi Creek in Farmington Township, the City of Livonia and Redford Township, along with a small corner of Detroit.

The flood plain report was unveiled last week in a public meeting in Livonia city hall by Maurice Rapkin, chief of flood plain management services for the Detroit office of the Army Engineers.

Highly technical, the report offered no recommendations, leaving some Redford Township officials (in particular) a little frustrated.

LIVONIA OFFICIALS, however, were pleased at the support the Army Engineers' report gave to city ordinances.

Said Mayor Edward McNamara: "This puts the City of Livonia in a good position to enforce our ordinances. We've had an anti-filling ordinance some time," to which Councilman Jerry Raymond added: "You try to fill in a flood plain in Livonia and ya get shot."

City Engineer Ed Siemert said: "Their flood plain boundaries are very close to what we had defined. But their study is much more sophisticated. They've calculated river flows with a computer."

"Our flood plain study was done in 1965, working with records of the 1947 flood. At first we didn't define flood plains, and our ordinance wasn't too enforceable," said Siemert, recalling a case the city had to compromise in court.

A later city ordinance did define flood plains, and both Mayor McNamara and Siemert suggested the ordinance should be amended to include the newest flood plain definitions from the engineers.

COUNCILMAN Robert Bennett, however, was critical of what he called a failure to recognize that an urbanized area can now have "a 70-year flood with a 50-year rain." He said major floods may continue to occur more frequently because of the rapid runoff of rainwater.

The meeting was attended by 52 persons - most Livonia councilmen, some Redford Township trustees, representatives of the Redford and Farmington beautification commissions, a City of Farmington engineer, road commission staffers from Oakland and Wayne Counties, environmentalists from Detroit, private engineers and builders.

They were told of two state laws by James Bolton, of the bureau of water management of the State Water Resources Commission.

One is the subdivision control act, in which preliminary plats go to the WRC for review of their effect in flood plain limits.

The flood plain control law requires a person to get a WRC permit before altering or filling any part of a flood plain.

BOLTON SAID the WRC encourages communities to use Army Engineers flood plain information in their zoning, subdivision and building ordinances. He also said they could adopt even tougher standards than in the state law. (Both Livonia and Southfield extend their controls to three feet beyond the flood plain limit.)

Speakers discouraged the idea of creating dams to impound water as a method of flood control. Such ponds take up valuable land and aren't popular with the public, they advised.

They also talked down the idea of a flood control project on the Upper Rouge - for example, deepening, clearing, straightening or riprapping the channel - because these can upset the balance of nature and are opposed by environmentalists.

The meeting was chaired by Paul Reid, director of the planning division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments. Reid said local units of government are responsible for applying flood plain information to their local ordinances and enforcing them.

To the question of whether municipalities should "reserve" or buy up flood plain land, Reid said "there is no way to 'reserve' privately-owned land. It can only be regulated by law."

SANDING A BLOCK of wood is good therapy for a person who needs to use the muscles in his back and arm as Carol Second of Redford Township discovers in her training for an occupational therapy assistant position.

BEFORE THE YARN can be threaded through the loom, it must be carefully prepared as Roberta Bergman of Livonia discovers. Each of the occupational therapy students may practice what he learns in class while working in the field under registered occupational therapists.

They're In Training To Train The Disabled

By KATHY MORAN

At midpoint in his career, a man stricken by a heart attack can suddenly become disabled and unable to support this growing family.

If a woman with a young child has a stroke and loses the use of an arm, every movement around the home becomes a labor.

Fortunately, these cases are not as disastrous as they might be because of the skills of occupational therapist assistants.

The tool and die maker who finds himself unable to do the detail work can salvage some of his skills and return to a job and support his family.

And the mother can learn how to set up her work area in the kitchen to use her time efficiently to complete her housework and child care with one good arm.

A ONE-YEAR training program at Schoolcraft College prepares assistants to work with those persons who have been disabled in some way or persons who have never had complete use of certain muscles.

At first glance, the training rooms look like arts and crafts rooms.

One room features a wall lined with saws, hammers, chisels and various tools while the other room contains several looms.

Mrs. Masline Horton, the only full-time therapy instructor at Schoolcraft, teaches her 18 students weaving, woodworking, knitting, ceramics, block printing, silk screening, and leather work.

Each skill can be utilized in some way to make a handicapped person use different muscles.

A person who doesn't have full use of one arm can exercise the arm by pushing a saw or sanding a piece of wood.

THE STUDENTS, half of whom are married women returning to work after raising families, learn which type of activity relates to what type of problem. They have the opportunity to actually practice what they learn in the clinic required experience.

Under direct supervision by registered occupational therapists, each Schoolcraft student works at five different locations with various patients.

Mrs. Horton said students develop skills and learn to write up their observations through practical experience.

"Most of these gals have never been in a hospital setting before, and most have some fears. They begin to feel comfortable around the handicapped through this experience," she said.

"We almost get more than they (the patients) do out of it," said Carol Second of Redford Township. "How could you do anything without it (practical experience) - pull out your textbook?" Martha McLeon of Detroit asked.

WEAVING IS MORE difficult than some students anticipated. Instructor Masline Horton (left) and student Helen Collins of Southfield comb over Mrs. Collins' work to find a mistake that will take hours to fix. Besides learning the tools of the trade, the women students learn how to cope with frustration through their own experiences.

SEVERAL WOMEN in the program said practical experience gives them an opportunity to decide which area they will pursue when they finish the intensive 11-month training.

They work with physically disabled patients, retarded children, mentally ill adults, and elderly persons and through the experience can determine which areas they enjoy most.

They may work at Sinai Hospital one semester, Plymouth State Home the next, and Ypsilanti State Hospital or Mount Carmel Hospital in the final stretch of the course.

It is structured so that students work one afternoon a week during the first two semesters, then spend two intensive six-week sessions at different hospitals during the spring and summer sessions.

IN THE CLASSROOMS.

which are now located at Northville State Hospital for lack of room at Schoolcraft, the women learn how to use tools "safely and correctly" and learn techniques to use with perceptually handicapped patients, visually handicapped as well as efficient homemaking skills.

They learn to test for and assess the skills that a handicapped person has and prepare him for entry into vocational rehabilitation.

Currently the entire class is planning a party for 50 retarded children at Plymouth State Home.

Problems that the average person wouldn't consider have to be planned for by the students.

They want to serve refreshments, but have to be ready to cope with the child who can't swallow properly or the one who can't hold a cup. Candy has to be the type that melts in the child's mouth. Popcorn is a "no no" because a child could choke on it.

Games, decorations and prizes all have to be geared for the retarded children. When it is over, the women will know how to plan such activities for their own patients.

And as one frustrated student said while laboring over her weaving, "By the time we are done, we will have learned fairly well how to handle the patient's frustrations."

OF 25 STUDENTS who started the program, 18 are still in, and a waiting list of more than 100 students is growing for the 1972 program starting in August.

Because of the limited number of places where students can get their practical experience, the course must be limited to 25 and must be taken in sequence.

When graduates receive certificates of completion, they will have the distinction of being in one of the few occupations that is still actively seeking personnel.

A beginner can make between $5,900 and $9,300 in the first year.

"I'm quite pleased with our graduates," Mrs. Horton said. "They have made quite an impression on the market to the point where employers call to get more of our graduates."

Fish Can Help Your Busy Days

By ELLY
Everyone has days when there aren't enough hours to accomplish all that is scheduled.

Fish stick wrap-ups make a hot, satisfying lunch or an in-a-hurry dinner. This easy entree may be prepared ahead and refrigerated until time to pop it in the broiler.

The recipe, from the National Marine Fisheries Service, calls for pre-cooked fish sticks which are sandwiched with strips of pimiento cheese and wrapped in bacon slices. They may be served on buns or as the main course for dinner.

Sole filets offer fine eating and cook quickly. These tender pieces of fish adapt well to rolling or stuffing.

Sole are members of an amusing fish family called flatfish. Their unusual characteristics make them distinctive from other species. These funny fish, shortly after beginning life, change from the average shape to a flat shape that, strangely enough, resemble a flying saucer.

The Saucy Sole recipe presents the filets broiled with a tasty, low-calorie sauce that keeps them moist. Each serving contains approximately 175 calories.

FISH STICK WRAP-UPS

24 frozen fried fish sticks
6 slices (one ounce each) pimiento cheese, cut in 4 strips
12 slices bacon

Top 12 frozen fish sticks with two strips of cheese. Cover with remaining 12 fish sticks. Wrap bacon lengthwise around sides. Secure with toothpicks. Cover broiler rack with heavy duty aluminum foil. Cut four or five slits in foil to allow fat to drain during cooking. Place fish sticks on broiler rack. Broil about four inches from source of heat for 10 to 15 minutes or until bacon is crisp. Turn once during broiling. Makes six servings.

SAUCY SOLE

2 lb. sole filets, fresh or frozen
2 T. butter or margarine, melted
2 T. chili sauce
1/2 c. low calorie mayonnaise
1/2 t. celery salt
1/2 t. dry mustard
1/2 t. paprika
1/2 t. wine vinegar

Thaw frozen filets. Skin filets and cut into six portions. Place fish in a single layer on a well-greased bake and serve platter, 16 by 10 inches. Pour butter over fish. Combine mayonnaise and seasonings. Broil fish about four inches from source of heat for five minutes. Spread mayonnaise mixture over fish. Broil three to five minutes more or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes six servings.

FLAKY CRAB SNACKERS

1 can refrigerated butterflake biscuits
2 egg whites
1/4 t. salt
1 can crabmeat (7 1/2 ounces) finely flaked
1 c. mayonnaise
1 T. chili sauce

Pull apart each biscuit to make two thin biscuits. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet at 400 degrees for eight to 10 minutes until golden brown. Beat egg whites and salt until stiff peaks form. Fold in crabmeat, mayonnaise, chili sauce and a dash of pepper. Spread each biscuit with about one tablespoon of the crab mixture. Bake at 475 degrees for three to five minutes, until golden brown. Watch carefully. Serve hot. Canapes may be assembled ahead of time, refrigerated one to three hours, then browned, just before serving. Makes 24 canapes.

CLAM BISQUE

1/4 c. margarine
2 T. cornstarch
1/4 t. pepper
Liquor from canned clams
Milk to bring volume of liquor to 1 1/2 cups
1 c. light cream
1 (8-ounce) can minced clams
Melt margarine in two-quart saucepan. Remove from heat. Add cornstarch and pepper and stir until smooth. Drain clams, reserving liquor. Add enough milk to make 1 1/2 cups. Gradually stir into cornstarch mixture. Stir in cream. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and boils one minute. Add minced clams and boil one minute. Makes three cups or about four servings.

OBSERVATION POINT

Party Tax Solution To $$ Problems?

By Philip H. Power
Publisher

One reason our politicians are perpetually in trouble is that they're geared toward solving problems. Solving problems is difficult if not impossible when you go at it by the traditional method -- i.e., identifying the problem, analyzing, developing alternative solutions, testing them and so on.

The way to solve a problem is to look at it as an opportunity and use one problem to demolish another. Take the twin problems of (a) whether Michigan should have a presidential primary, for which there seems to be some popular demand, and (b) how our political parties (especially the Democratic, now $9 million in the red) can finance their campaigns.

The wheelings and dealings of politicians are too dreary to be reviewed here. Besides, according to one colleague of mine who specializes in solving the problems of the world, they're all wrong. Only partly in jest, he offers this suggestion:

THROWING TRADITIONAL approaches to the hot winds, the perfect way out is to hold a presidential primary but charge each voter a $5 fee, the funds to go into the national committee treasury of the party in whose primary he votes.

The advantages are multitudinous:

- Joe Blow on the street gets to cast a direct vote for the candidate of his choice. With an investment to protect, Joe will take his politics more seriously instead of succumbing to television images.

- The state can rake off enough to cover the cost of the election, at a great savings to the general treasury.

- The political parties not only get out of debt but can build up a big enough kitty to run their '72 campaigns.

- The problem of "cross-overs" is virtually eliminated. No Republican would have spent $5 to vote for Gene McCarthy over Lyndon Johnson in the 1968 New Hampshire primary; no Democrats will vote for John Ashbrook over Richard Nixon if it means building the GOP fund.

THE IMMEDIATE objection from Democrats, in particular, is: What about the poor people who can't afford $5 to vote? The objection is totally phony.

Right now, most Observer-land districts in the Democratic Party have an "open delegation" rule for the state convention: Anyone can become a state convention delegate (and these chaps pick the national delegates who nominate the presidential candidate) either by being an elected precinct delegate or by buying a $5 membership in the Democratic Party. Political power is for sale.

Precinct delegate elections aren't costly, but the serious delegate has to invest some time circulating his petition and, if there's competition, ringing a few doorbells. Time is money, and that time is worth far more than $5.

Moreover, the real cost of exercising power is not the $5 party membership; it's the cost of spending two days at a state convention, half of which are in Detroit, the other half in Grand Rapids, and that means hotel bills, mileage, even time off from work.

Thus, it would be fairer to the poor to charge them $5 to vote in a presidential primary than to have them incur the costs of attending a state convention. Let us hear no more crocodile tears for the poor from those who oppose a primary.

AND IF THERE are politicians who are truly concerned about a poor person's inability to scrape up the $5 fee, let them put the poor to work for the party, addressing envelopes, tacking up posters, sweeping and painting the party headquarters, and then pay them in a certificate that could be redeemed for a party ballot in the primary.

His plan, to be adopted, may require changing the 24th amendment to the Constitution which prohibits a poll tax.

I don't know whether the whole idea is legally feasible, but it merits some consideration among armchair philosophers. It's probably too logical, however, to be seriously considered by politicians.

Tim Richard writes

Orchard Ridge Paper Causes Its Own Woes

College journalists carefully study the first amendment, guaranteeing freedom of the press, and cite it whenever the college trustees and administration attempt to crack down on a wild student paper.

Unfortunately for young journalists, courts are reluctant to protect the campus paper's rights for fear of meddling in internal college administration. Moreover, since the college typically owns the newspaper's office and would have to pay off any libel suits, it's easy to argue that the students don't own the paper anyway. But enough of this legal fol-de-rol.

WHAT BRINGS the college paper's vulnerability to mind is the problems faced by the Recorder, student publication at the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College. Some trustees would as soon eliminate it, but the majority has voted to put the Recorder on probation, whatever that means.

The Recorder has attractive makeup and some good typography, but on balance it's a bad paper, and its badness appears to be the deliberate policy of Editor John David Smith and his staff.

Oh, it has been worse, to be sure -- like the time a couple of years ago when it published a 16-page edition that included 14 pages of essays about an anti-war march in Washington, one page of sports and one page of campus news that was nothing but administration handouts. These days, at least, the Recorder staff knows there's a campus.

A MAN ARRIVING from Mars, knowing nothing about the Orchard Ridge campus in the hills of Farmington Township, would still never guess that it was in a suburb of Oakland County and that the enrollment is 90 or 95 per cent white by reading the Recorder.

In the news columns of the 24-page Feb. 7 issue, for example, there's not a picture of a white OCC student except on the sports page.

There are, however, pictures of Andrew Pulley, the black Socialist Worker vice presidential candidate; two pictures each of Black Panthers John Jerome Huggins and Alprentice "Bunchy" Carter; and several pictures of the Wayne County Jail -- in a publication that doesn't serve Wayne County.

Not a single story could be called straight news. The article headlined, "Dr. Hill at Credibility Gap" begins: "Central office administration, under the direction of President Hill, is playing their annual game of misinformation, half-truths and jive, that they call administrative procedures, with the student body of OCC."

THE BACK PAGE is devoted to an ad for a forthcoming visit from John Sinclair (Rainbow People's Party; marijuana, etc.). The ad doesn't say so, but it turns out Sinclair's appearance is sponsored by the Recorder itself.

Another ad says "Free Angela Davis." I assume it's an ad, even though it isn't marked "paid political ad." Perhaps it isn't a paid ad.

The classified section has an ad with a cartoon of a nude male. The text: "Got any news??? Join the Recorder."

Four-letter words abound. Personally, I don't object to the words themselves, being a lost cause myself. It's just that they are used so badly. Four-letter words can be very effective if you choose them well and deliver them gracefully, but this Recorder staff doesn't know how to cuss worth a damn.

The Recorder's pervading fault is its utter contempt for its readers' intelligence and taste. To use the language of romance, a newspaper needs to woo readers; the Recorder instead practices verbal Onanism, and as a result it's got trouble.

Why Overflow Crowds At Games?

By W. W. EDGAR

Although there have been no major uprisings in high school basketball games throughout Observerland thus far this season school officials are flirting with danger by permitting standing room crowds in the inadequate gymnasiums.

Admittedly, it would be difficult to deny any student the right to see his or her team in action but the fact remains that overcrowded conditions, at times, interfere with play.

This is true when spectators are permitted to line up against the back walls -- almost under the basket -- while the player is in the act of trying a free throw.

And again when he comes whirling down the court to attempt a close-in shot.

In some cases the first row of the bleachers is so close to the playing area that the spectators' feet are on the line. This tends to bother the player who comes dribbling down the sidelines -- especially if his team is playing "catch-up" ball.

Emotions run high in these high school games and students yell and scream in a display of loyalty. It wouldn't take much to cause an emotional explosion and bring about an uprising such as caused many of the schools to ban night games.

So, it might be well for the school officials to take a good look and apply more stringent preventative methods.

It may be well to eliminate the first row of seats to give the players more freedom on the court. And it would be well worth while to eliminate standing along the back wall -- virtually under the basket.

Sure, it would cut into gate receipts. But the crowds should be limited to the seating capacity -- with no standees.

Anything more than that is always a gamble.

Is it worth it?

AN ACCIDENT IS TRAGIC ENOUGH...
WHY COMPOUND IT WITH INSUFFICIENT
ROAD PATROLS?

R.T. Thompson writes

'Voice Of Experience' Says Get Police Now

A voice that should know spoke out to members of a neighborhood civic association from Canton and Plymouth townships recently and made a strong recommendation for immediate action on a police department for the two communities.

The voice was that of Col. Fredrick Davids, retired director of the Michigan State Police who resides in Plymouth Township. Davids is now head of the University of Michigan safety division but he still maintains his interest in affairs in the Plymouth community.

The matter of police protection for the two townships has reached major proportions in recent weeks since the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has made known its intention of discontinuing the sheriff's department road patrol. The patrol has been the principal policing unit in the townships.

Davids is well aware of the future of the road patrol since the matter was first broached while he was head of the State Police.

"THE TOWNSHIPS were told by the then Board of Supervisors that it was thinking of eliminating the road patrol as an economy measure as many as four years ago," Davids said. "There isn't any way that court suits will halt the move. They may delay a final action for a while, but the end of the road patrol is inevitable."

Although the townships have been slow in making plans for police protection, Davids urges that steps be taken immediately to form police departments on a small scale and enlarge as land development makes it necessary.

He implied that both Canton and Plymouth townships have been dragging their feet and already are about a year and a half behind in their planning.

Perhaps it would be wise for the two township boards to sit down with experienced persons such as Davids and get the full advantage of their thinking.

A RECOMMENDATION coming from Davids should be enough to make the two boards sit up and take notice. Each has been warned that the road patrol services will be eliminated. Each has been told that it can't depend on the State Police for full police protection, but each apparently thinks it is better to cover their heads in sand and hope the problem vanishes.

We know for a fact that the State Police gave the area a bit more than normal service during the regime of Davids. We never were told, but we have a strong feeling that he sort of mentioned to the Redford and Ypsilanti posts that it wouldn't do any harm to have cars in the area most of the time.

Col. Davids still resides in the communities. He has maintained his interest in activities, but he isn't in a position to get special State Police treatment any more. That's why his suggestions are now so important.

Pro-, Anti-Abortionists Disapprove Of 'Barton'

Pro-Abortionist Rips 'Barton'

EDITOR:

Men like "Henry Barton," of the Legal Abortion for Women referral agency, continue to exploit women along with the back alley butchers as long as we have the present abortion law. Until we change the law, they will get the profits and women will die or suffer financial and physical hardship.

Good medical care is only possible under good medical supervision by the Health Department. The present abortion law was passed in 1848 to protect the life of the women and not the fetus. To deny women the right to good, legal medical care, which is available to the rich woman, is discrimination. To oppose abortion reform on any other grounds needs legal clarification.

There is no law that states a fetus is a human being. The legal ruling which gave the fetus a financial settlement stated that it should not be interpreted in any other way under the criminal abortion law. It did not rule that the fetus was a human being.

It is immoral to force an unwanted child to accept the abuse and neglect that unwanted parenthood inflicts upon him. It is immoral to force a woman who has been raped to have a baby.

It is immoral to force a child to have a baby. It is immoral to force a woman to make her stretch her budget, to take away from one little mouth food that belongs to another.

Continue the list of why desperate women seek abortions and then decide where the priorities on your conscience should be. Until we change the law, we are responsible for the conditions it produces.

State Rep. Marvin Stempien, our majority leader in the House of Representatives, wants to amend the state constitution to give women equal rights. Why has he denied us the right to decide if, when, and how often we choose to become mothers? Where were all the other representatives when we tried to get Sen. Gilbert Bursley's bill approved? Is this not one of those women's rights he wants to amend to the Constitution?

If Rep. Stempien is sincere, he will clarify the question publicly and not use that as a political ploy to entice the women's vote. Why has he consistently voted against abortion reform if he is so concerned about women's rights?

Conception Starts Life

EDITOR:

I have been reading with interest your abortion coverage and have noted with regret that you continually seem to promote the abortion movement ("Mr. Barton" followed by a professional nurse seeking signatures for a petition opposite three housewives from a neighborhood group.)

I am a registered nurse that has had several years of obstetrical experience in addition to general nursing and hate to see erroneous information passed on to the public.

I'd like to ask "Mr. Barton" for his source of information—perhaps a trip to the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago would enlighten him. Their display of the fetus at the various stages of development is excellent and proves that life is constant from the moment of conception.

I hate to think what will become of a society that decides murder is justifiable. Certainly there are enough contraceptive means available for every man and woman to employ who wishes to do so.

It would be interesting if some of these so called friends of women in distress, as these abortionists and others who promote their work like to be labeled (it does sound nicer doesn't it?) would check the mental status of their patients, contrary to what they like to think, statistics prove that many women have guilt feelings with resultant mental depressions, many of these occur immediately while others are dormant for years. What appears to them as a solution at the time is nothing more than a temporary escape.

As a nurse, I choose to uphold life, not destroy it. As a mother, I, too, am aware of the facts of unwanted children, starvation, war, etc., but I fail to see murder as a solution for the ills of our society. If there is no respect for life in our society how can we have respect for any natural or man made law?

EDITOR'S NOTE: Careful readers will recall that several past articles have quoted anti-abortion sources and that we have made it a policy to balance coverage on this important issue.

Thomas F. Rost, manager of the beautiful new Harris Funeral Home in Garden City, combines youth with the practical know-how and the wisdom that comes from being brought up in the Harris tradition. Tom's grandfather and great-grandfather were founders of the firm.

"I learned early," says Tom, "that funeral direction requires ability as well as a kind heart. People who experience a death in the family need more than understanding, they need someone they can rely upon to handle the many details. That's why we strive to be sympathetic professionals."

David Whitney is a Harris professional whose thoughtful service has been appreciated by thousands of people. David is manager of the superbly appointed Harris Funeral Home in Livonia.

Each of these top Harris directors reflects the helpful concern for people which has been a Harris hallmark for over half a century. There are five Harris Funeral Homes conveniently located to serve the metropolitan area.

Band Builds Energy Sinclair Follows A Tough Act

By KATHY MORAN

It was a big build up for a big letdown.

After the rock band "Mixed Generation" worked a group of students to the point where some were dancing on the tables, political activist John Sinclair took over the stage at the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College for a big comedown.

Sinclair, who was recently released from jail where he was serving a 10-year sentence for possession of marijuana, was brought to the Farmington campus by the student newspaper, Recorder. A standing-room-only crowd assembled to hear him and the band.

"THE BROTHERS of Mixed Generation got the energy so intense in here that it's a comedown to have me talk," the chairman of the Rainbow Peoples Party (former White Panthers) said.

He was right. It's hard for any speaker to measure up to such a high note that the band left on. But Sinclair didn't add much excitement.

He urged students to work together for whatever changes need attention - but declined to make suggestions on where to start.

"Look around you, see what has to be done, see who's there to do it, and get together and do it," he said.

"Everybody sits around talking ... Ain't no sense in talking now - it's time to get moving," he told the students. When pressed for suggestions, Sinclair told them he was busy doing things that needed to be done in Ann Arbor and that it was up to the students to find out what has to be done in their own area - and to do it.

"People live wherever they live and they've gotta deal with the problems where they live," he said.

SINCLAIR DID tell them they need communication centers to let people know what's happening and to avoid duplication and wasted efforts.

He cited the Recorder as the communication center on the campus and urged students to put their support behind the paper.

Currently the weekly tabloid is under a probation imposed by the OCC Board of Trustees for use of four-letter words.

Sinclair cited the probation as repression from the administration.

"Whenever someone tries to do anything, the administration is down on them. It used to be they'd do that to people who were smoking (marijuana), but if you look around, you'll see that didn't work," he said.

Former Recorder editor John Morris told the students, "Obscenity isn't the thing, they want to shut down a political energy center."

STUDENTS WHO expected Sinclair to relate some of his experiences during 2½ years in prison went away disappointed.

"Being in a penitentiary is like being in a high school where you can never go home," Sinclair said in his only reference to that portion of his life.

He commented on how things had changed during the time he was cut off from society, saying people seem to have "tightened up" and concerned themselves with just survival.

Now his direction is to get people activated again. He is busy doing things in Ann Arbor like teaching a class in community control of prisons, organizing a food cooperative and urging people to work together for changes.

PLAYING POOL HALL tough guys are (from left) Mike Shannon of Ferndale, Dave Ackroyd of Farmington and Jeff Schnudeberg of Southfield. They'll be seen in the play, "The Brick and the Rose," being presented in J-180, of the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College, 27055 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington. The play will be performed at 8:30 p.m., Feb. 17-19 and 24-26 and also at 2 p.m., Feb. 19 and 26. There is no admission charge.

Builders' Show Preview Set In Suburban Malls

What's new and exciting in the 1972 parade of idea homes and apartments in metropolitan Detroit?

Residents of the seven Observerland communities and surrounding districts will have an opportunity to view models of the idea homes in a special preview of the 1972 Builders Home, Furniture and Garden Show at the Livonia Mall starting Saturday (Feb. 19).

The mall show is the third and last of a series staged in large shopping centers with the thought that it would build interest in the Cobo Hall show starting March 18 and continuing through March 26.

THE MINIATURE shows at the malls are sponsored by the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit and its affiliate, the Apartment Association of Michigan in cooperation with the managements of the shopping centers.

The show at Livonia Mall will display scale models of all "idea homes," the "house of nails" (basis of a $20,000 contest at the Cobo Hall event), and more than 100 commercial exhibits of home products and equipment.

Prices of the idea homes range from approximately $20,000 to more than $80,000, exclusive of furnishings. Basic prices do not include necessarily the land, landscaping, drapes, carpeting etc.

The first of the three mall shows was held in the Oakland Mall, the second in the Pontiac Mall and now the finale in the Livonia Mall.

SHOW OFFICIALS reported large crowds attended the first two and are looking for more than 200,000 during the eight day run. The Livonia showing ends on Feb. 27.

Area builders participating in the Cobo Hall show include: Allstate Homes Inc., Westland; James S. Bonadeo, Plymouth; Consolidated Development Co., Southfield; Curtis Building Co., Livonia; Duke Building Co., Farmington; Hauser-Fonville Inc., Livonia; HRS Building Corp., Westland; Meyerson Building Co., Farmington; Nosan Building Corp., Farmington; and Fred Green-span, Plymouth Township.

James L. Babcock, BAMD president and member of a pioneer home-building family on Detroit's east side said some 400 builders are represented in the membership of BAMD, which has more than 800 regular and affiliate members.

"Our association has every reason to believe that the Parade of Idea Homes, with its 34 houses and apartments fully furnished and decorated, will draw record crowds during the period from Jan. 15 through March 18, date of the opening of the 1972 Builders Home, Furniture and Flower Show at Cobo Hall."

RU Closing In On GC East In Ratings

Redford Union is fast closing the gap between its No. 2 ranking and Garden City East in No. 1 East rolled over Annapolis, 92-66. RU squeaked past Trenton 64-63, and blitzed Dearborn, 72-55 for its 10th consecutive win.

It may take a state regional tourney between the two to decide the No. 1 team...

FRANKLIN jumped from No. 4 to No. 3 and the Patriots find themselves first in the Northwest. Suburban conference with a six game winning streak. Franklin's key will be the Glenn clash Friday.

Brother Rice climbed back up in the standings with two victories including a first round Catholic League win over Pontiac Catholic. Rice meets DePorres Thursday in the semifinals.

It's No. 5 for Clarenceville after an impressive win over Waterford Kettering but the Trojan key will be Friday's battle with front-running Clarkston in the Wayne-Oakland league.

GARDEN CITY WEST has been coming into its own and now is No. 6 after a Southgate win while Bentley slipped to No. 7 after a Belleville loss, even though the Bulldogs got out of hot water after a Plymouth win. A key battle in the Suburban Eight comes Friday with RU invading Bulldog territory.

John Glenn was sliding along on top of the ratings until Thurston pulled off a Northwest Suburban upset and then North Farmington pulled off another and Glenn slipped to No. 8. It has a chance to climb with a Franklin clash the featured event.

The Chargers from Churchill just bobbled away a chance to clinch the Western Six title and were toppled by Waterford Mott, 54-51, and stand No. 9.

COUNTRY DAY won a game and lost a game to remain in the No. 10 position, and with all the key battles taking place Friday...next week's top 10 will look like a jig-saw puzzle about to be puzzled. The ratings:

East Romps Over Annapolis As Jackson Scores 1,000th

Dave Jackson scored his 1,000th point in a Garden City East uniform, the first Panther cager ever to reach that cherished goal, as East romped to its 11th win over Annapolis, 92-66.

With 10 seconds remaining in the third quarter, Jackson popped in a freethrow for his 19th point and the Dearborn Annapolis crowd gave Dave a standing ovation as it turned out to be his 1,000th point.

This year Jackson has totaled 336 points in 13 games for a 25.8 average tops in Observerland.

EAST jumped on Annapolis in the later stages of the first quarter to grab a 23-16 edge. The Panthers gradually pulled away scoring 23 in the second quarter to capture a 46-29 halftime lead.

Jeff DeHarte hit for 12 and Jackson added 15 in the half with East going 19 for 39 from the floor.

The Panthers outscored Annapolis in the second half, 46-37, to win by a 26 point margin and stand 7-2 in the Mid-Wayne conference behind undefeated Inkster at 9-0.

East is 11-2 overall and entertains Taylor Center Friday. Taylor is the team that upset East in the first round and the Panthers have an opportunity for revenge on their home ground.

EAST outrebounded Annapolis, 56-26, with Jackson hauling in 16 and John Grigal collecting 13.

The Panther starting five hit double figures for the second time of the season with Jack Hayes leading the assault with 22 points. DeHarte followed with 20 and Jackson 19. Grigal added 13 and Randy Mastako had 13.

East hit on 29 of 67 from the floor for 43 per cent and Annapolis scored on 24 of 69 for 36 per cent.

GC West Faced With 'Must' Win

The success of Garden City West's basketball season may very well be told in the outcome of the Melvindale-Southgate battle as the Tigers find themselves in a "must win" and "hope that Melvindale loses" situation.

Melvindale is on top of the Tri-River conference with a 10-1 mark with West one notch off the pace at 9-2. The two teams split in their head-on clashes, and West now has to rely on somebody else knocking off Melvindale.

"Southgate is about the only team that has a shot at beating Melvindale," said West Coach Chris Bahler. "They conclude regular season play with Riverside and Crestwood but these should be easy victories."

The Tigers kept pace with Melvindale with a 66-48 win over Southgate. Ken Kinsvater hit for seven points in the first quarter and Ken Pawenski totaled eight in the second and West was up, 31-26, at the half.

SOUTHGATE closed the gap to five points in the third quarter but West pulled away to a 46-35 advantage and hit for 20 in the final stanza to coast to a 18 point win.

Kirk Lewis sparked West in the fourth period with 14 points and nine rebounds.

Lewis led the Tigers with 15 points, followed by Kinsvater with 14, Jerry Volace with 13 and Pawenski with 12.

WEST outrebounded Southgate, 45-30, with Kinsvater hauling in 15 and Lewis collecting 12.

The Tigers hit on 31 of 64 from the floor for 48 per cent and Southgate popped in 20 of 77 for 28 per cent. At the free-throw line, West hit on four of 10 and Southgate made good eight of 17.

West travels to Cherry Hill Friday but the Tiger eyes will be on the Melvindale clash.

RU Barrels Over Dearborn, 72-55

Friday's Redford Union-Bentley basketball clash could have been the Suburban Eight showdown had it not been for a Belleville upset over Bentley.

Redford Union rolled over Dearborn, 72-55 for its 10th consecutive win and the Panthers boast a 9-1 league mark and stand 12-2 overall.

Bentley is two paces off the Panther tracks with a 7-3 record and RU Coach Carl Andrews feels fairly safe that his cagers have all but wrapped up the Suburban Eight crown.

"A win Friday will clinch the title for us," said Andrews. "We have Belleville the following Friday in our season wrap-up but we would sure like to win the crown at Bentley."

"It ought to be one-heck-of-a-game," added Andrews. "I have never played on the Bentley court but from what I hear, the RU-Bentley clashes are always down to the wire."

As long as Redford Union has been in the Class A category, no Panther squad has ever taken the crown outright but Andrews sees nobody stopping him this season in his first at RU.

The Panthers continued their winning streak that started with a North Farmington holiday tourney victory on Dec. 21, and opened up an 18-14 first quarter edge.

RU NEVER dropped behind and led at the half, 33-29.

"It was a tight game in the first half," added Andrews. "But we opened it up in the second half and coasted to another win."

Rockets Falling

NF Upsets Glenn

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

The Rockets were looking for their second boost but received a jolt and a basketball upset as North Farmington handed John Glenn its second straight loss to knock the Rockets out of first in the Northwest Suburban conference, 64-61.

Glenn, which started the year with six consecutive victories, was upset by Thurston a week before, 77-69, and now finds itself in second place with a 5-3 record behind Franklin at 6-2.

THE ROCKETS play host to Franklin Friday and the Patriots are enjoying a six game winning streak which started against Glenn on Jan. 14, 51-41.

This could very well be the deciding clash in the battle for first with all indications being that Glenn peaked too early in the season and will be struggling to hold its own.

Meanwhile, North Farmington is coming to age. The Raiders, in topping Glenn, scored a fourth victory in their last five games and stand 4-4 in the Northwest Suburban after starting with a 0-3 mark.

THE RAIDERS boast a 6-8

overall mark and host Birmingham Groves Friday.

"I think Glenn just out-fumbled us," said Raider Coach Ken Dean. "We committed more turnovers but Glenn was guilty of more mental turnovers which don't show up on the charts."

North Farmington totaled 25 turnovers and Glenn committed 18.

JIM WILLIAMS popped in the opening basket for Glenn but North jumped to a 12-8 lead. The Raiders hit on only three field goals but made good six of 11 from the line.

"It was a ragged first quarter," said Dean. "And it continued so throughout the remainder of the game."

Glenn went up midway through the second quarter yet North fought to a 26-24 halftime advantage. Glenn's big 6-8 Williams collected three fouls as did North's big man 6-5 Dave Ellsworth.

"Everybody was getting in foul trouble," said Dean. "But nobody was capitalizing at the line."

The Rockets hit for 21 points in the third quarter to carry a 47-45 lead going into the final eight minutes. It was an up and down quarter for each squad but North finally pulled away with two minutes remaining on clutch baskets by Kim Parker and Ellsworth.

GLENN shot 36 per cent from the floor on 24 of 66 while North scored on 20 of 60 for 33 per cent.

Bentley Uses 'Bench' To Save Plymouth Win

By FRED DELANO

Al Siterlet and Brent Boegler came off the bench to lead a fourth quarter Livonia Bentley comeback that produced a 64-60 victory over Plymouth Friday, keeping alive the Bulldogs' hopes of moving into a tie with Redford Union for the Suburban Eight basketball title.

With all teams having only two games left in the league schedule, the showdown will come this week when RU invades Bulldog country in quest of the triumph that would give the Panthers an outright championship.

RU stands at 9-1 and Bentley 7-3 and the latter's only chance is to win the last two starts, with Redford losing again in the Feb. 25 finale. That last night's action will see Bentley at Dearborn and Belleville at Redford.

The Bulldogs started off as though they would blow Plymouth off the court, shooting over the Rocks' zone for a quick 10-1 lead in the first three minutes.

Led by seven points from Jim Szilagyi, the Rocks cut the margin to 18-15 by the end of the first quarter and still were down by three points, 31-28, at the half.

minutes after the second half opened and before the third quarter ended at 47-47 the score had been tied six times, with Plymouth forcing ahead on four occasions.

Throughout the second half the Rocks did a masterful defensive job against Bentley's six-foot-seven Tim Bollin, limiting him to two points, but they couldn't match the punch Siterlet and Boegler provided with nine points between them in the final period.

Halfway through the last quarter Bentley had moved to a 59-50 edge, and a late spurt sparked by Ron Egloff and Tim Van Wagoner wasn't enough to pull the Rocks back even.

Both Coach John Farrar of Bentley and Dick Bearup conceded that the Bulldogs' bench strength was the difference between the ball clubs. Earlier in the season Bentley had beaten Plymouth, 48-45. Although the Rocks were without regular center Jeff Jacobs, who was in bed with the flu, Bearup didn't fall back on his absence as an alibi.

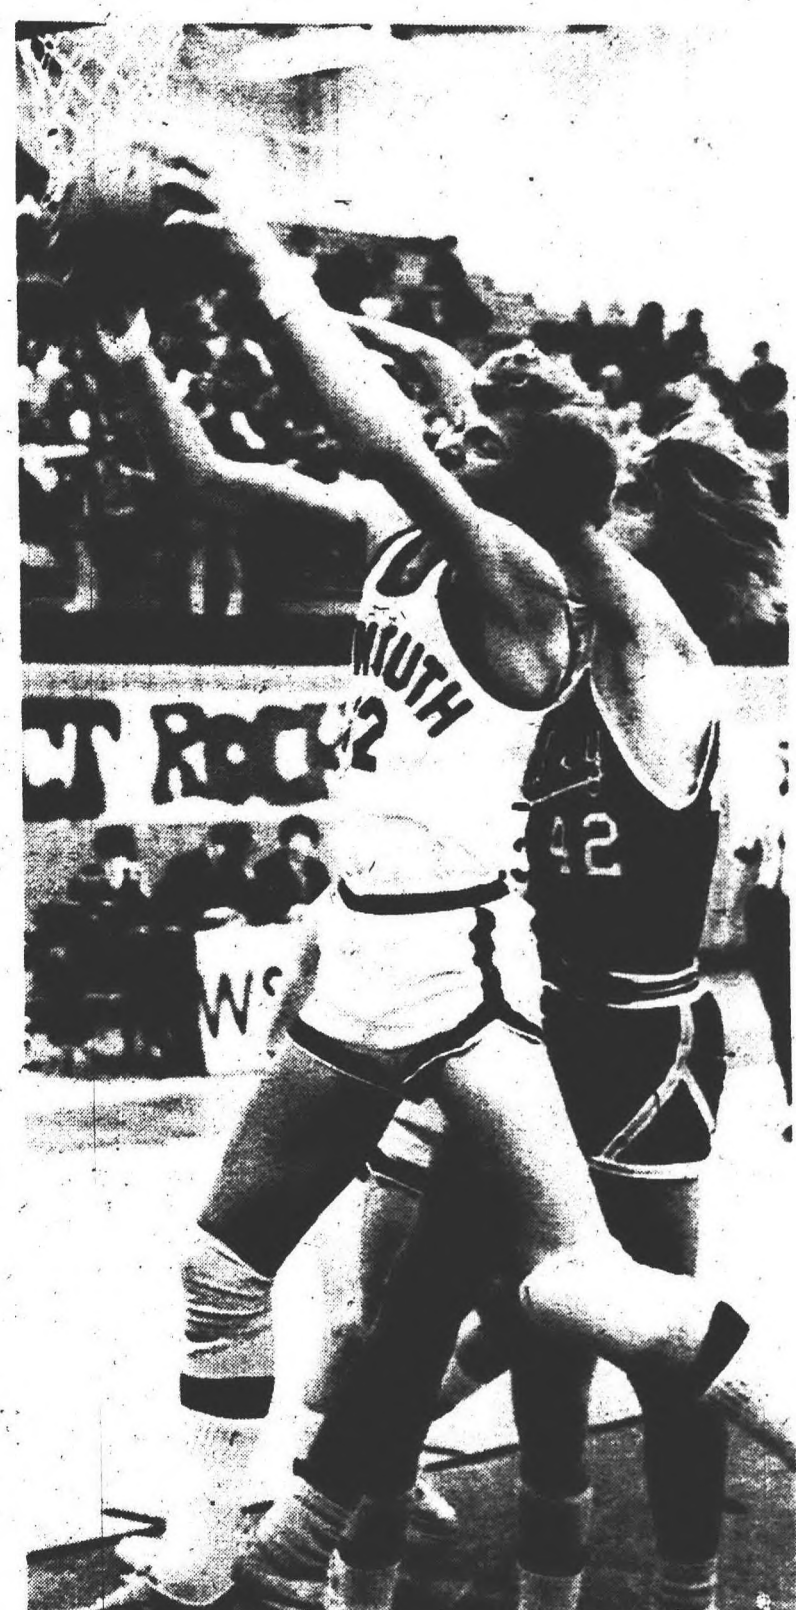

Egloff, Szilagyi and Van Wagoner shared scoring honors with 16 points each, Bollin topping the Bentley output with 15.

LOOKING AHEAD to Friday's crucial game against Redford Union, Farrar commented, "Our kids are definitely up and I think we can knock them off." In their first encounter this season, RU won, 62-61.

Chargers Baffled In Title Quest

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

The stage was set for a championship cage wrapup but Churchill didn't follow the script and dropped its first Western Six battle to Waterford Mott, 54-51.

Churchill boasts a 5-1 league mark with Farmington Western and Walled Lake Harrison remaining on the schedule. Mott is second at 5-2 with Northville left on Feb. 25.

The Chargers can clinch at least a share of the title with one victory in the remaining two games, and can wrap it up with a sweep.

"We are still in the lead," said Charger Coach Pat Montano. "Somebody has to beat us and we are the type of club that will come back after an upset loss."

It was a peculiar first quarter with the Chargers jumping out to an early lead and Mott sagging back on defense in a tight zone.

"We held the ball out and were waiting for Mott to come to us," said Montano.

Churchill had control of the ball and the lead and held the ball for a three minute span with Mott satisfied with its defense.

"The refs warned Mott that it had to come after the ball," added Montano. "There is a rule that states a team behind has to go after the ball, they sat back and a technical was called."

"We were just attempting to get Mott out of its tight zone and come to us."

CHURCHILL was ahead at the end of the quarter, 17-9 and hit on eight of 20 from the floor to lead at the half, 33-24.

Mott came on strong in the third quarter and caught the Chargers with five minutes remaining. Mott fought to a 42-40 lead going into the final stanza and it was nip-and-tuck to the final seconds.

With 27 seconds showing on the clock, Churchill was down 50-49, and Bruce VanWagoner passed ahead to Phil Damaska who scored on a three point play but the refs disallowed the play because of an out-of-bounds violation called after the play was over.

THE CHARGERS missed on five opportunities at the line in the final minute to drop a three point decision.

"The roof just fell in on us in the final quarter," concluded Montano.

Churchill scored a respectable 45 per cent from the field on 14 of 39 shots while Mott hit on 15 of 55 for 27 per cent. The Chargers connected on 24 of 36 free-throws and Mott made good 23 of 37.

MARK REED hauled in 13 rebounds with Churchill outbounding Mott, 31-24.

Churchill stands 10-5 overall and hosts Farmington Harrison Friday. The Chargers topped Harrison in the first round, 62-51.

Groves Swims Past Thurston In NW Battle

Birmingham Groves swam to a Northwest Suburban win over North Farmington, 71-34, with two of its swimmers setting pool records.

Birmingham's Mark Colville established a North Farmington record in the 50 freestyle at :23.0, and Groves' Don Lindsay set a pool record and a Groves school record in the 400 freestyle with a time of 4:05.2.

Don Dodge, John Buchan, Dave Williams, and Rick Keidan combined for a Birmingham victory in the 200 medley relay with a 1:48.9 time and Groves took the 400 freestyle relay at 3:37.6 with Mark Wood, Matt Jerue, Bill Thompson and Rick Clarke.

Spartan Skaters Crush Bentley For 8th Win

Undeclared Stevenson rolled past Bentley in Livonia prep hockey action, 6-1, and Churchill blitzed Catholic Central in a non-leaguer, 5-2. Stevenson outshot Bentley, 33-22, with Spartan goalie Van Vermeesch turning in a fine performance. The Spartans stand 4-0-1 in league play and 8-0-3 overall while Bentley remains tied with Franklin in the cellar at 1-4-1.

Brian Van Norman and Kurt Geiger opened the scoring for Stevenson in the first period. Dennis McLean got Bentley on the board with only 59 seconds elapsed in the second period but Dale Marczak got one back for Stevenson to make it 3-1 after two periods.

Don Finn slapped in two goals and Marczak scored his second as Stevenson skated away to an easy victory.

Churchill remained one point behind Stevenson in the overall standings with an impressive 5-2 win over Catholic Central.

Central's Craig O'Donnell tipped in a shot at the 1:20 mark in the opening period but Churchill bounced back to take the lead on goals by Mark DeRoche and Mike Casey.

O'Donnell knotted the score in the second period with his second goal but Churchill exploded with three in the final period on two goals by Rob Jenkin and a solo by Bob Rion.

Churchill outshot Catholic Central, 37-21.

Franklin Climbs To Top Of Heap

The high flying Franklin cagers swept to their sixth consecutive victory and bounced into the No. 1 spot in the Northwest Suburban conference, with a 6-2 mark. The Patriots whipped Oak Park, 67-47.

Franklin was tied with front running John Glenn, but the Rockets were knocked off for the second straight week in a North Farmington upset with Raider Coach Ken Dean pulling a 64-61 win out of his bag of tricks. The Rockets now find themselves in second at 5-3.

"To say the least, I was very surprised at the Glenn upset," said Franklin Coach Bob Visser. "But I still firmly believe we have to do it ourselves."

THE PATRIOTS get their chance Friday when they meet Glenn on the Rocket court. Franklin toppled Glenn in the first round, 51-41.

"Glenn's only chance is to beat us," added Visser. "If we win, we clinch at least a share of the crown."

Franklin stands 10-3 overall while Glenn has slipped to a 9-4 mark after winning its first six games.

Rick Gramh put the Patriots up on a freethrow and a short jumper, and Franklin led at the end of the quarter, 13-11. It was 23-20 at the half and Franklin gradually pulled away in the third quarter with a 41-33 margin.

FRANKLIN edged Oak Park in the final period, 20-14, to coast to a 14 point win.

Tim Dietz hauled in 13 rebounds with Franklin outrebounding Oak Park, 31-22.

Franklin hit on 25 of 48 from the field for 52 per cent while Oak Park connected on 22 of 55 for 40 per cent.

"We forced them outside," added Visser. "We kept them away from the boards and played a good defensive contest."

"Our Glenn game will be a highly emotional one and I believe the team that keeps its cool and controls the ball will emerge the victor," added Visser. "We have to play our style of ball game."

Hawks Run Past Western, 85-51

Farmington Harrison pushed its Western Six record to 3-5 with an 85-51 win over Walled Lake Western and the Hawk cagers stand 6-7 overall.

Harrison started out in a full court press and jumped to a 21-5 first quarter bulge but Western bounced back with 20 points in the second quarter to cut the lead to 32-25 at the half.

THE HAWKS put it all together in the third quarter, outscoring Western, 28-15, and poured it on in the fourth, 25-11, to score one of their easiest victories of the season.

Western hit on only 20 of 64 from the field for 31 per cent and Harrison made 30 of 82 for 37 per cent. A vast margin appeared at the charity line where Harrison popped in 25 of 40 and Western made good only 11 of 33.

Harrison completely dominated the boards with 70 rebounds in contrast to only 35 by Western. Jeff Sileoff and Joe Doa totaled 14 rebounds apiece and Mike McGrath added 11.

JIM MASON paced Harrison with 20 points, followed by Doa with 12, and Ed Frankel and Sileoff with 10 apiece.

Western was led by Dan Loviska with 21 and Terry Howell with 11.

The Hawks are faced with a key Western Six battle Friday at Churchill. A Harrison win could throw the title up for grabs.

Aggies Falter In Cage Finals

St. Agatha dropped its second round clash in the Catholic League Second Division cage playoffs to Immaculate Conception, 80-76.

The Aggies fell to St. Florian in the first round but rebounded to a 65-56 win over Royal Oak St. Mary.

"I knew it was going to be one of those nights," said Aggies Coach Tom Sankovic. "The busses never showed up to take us to the game and we ended up driving our own cars."

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION jumped to a 19-16 first quarter edge and spurred to a 41-31 halftime advantage. Conception totaled 20 in the third quarter to 22 by St. Agatha and the Aggies were picking up momentum.

St. Agatha hit for five quick buckets and with 46 seconds remaining, the Aggies had cut the margin to one point, 75-74, on a basket by Mike Rex.

Tom Mack connected for Conception with 30 seconds showing but Aggie Phil Hickey popped in a two pointer to put

St. Agatha down by one, 77-76.

With eight seconds remaining, George Dackin was faced with a one-and-one situation for Conception. He missed on the attempt but the ball bounced back into his hands and he followed through with a two-pointer and was fouled on the drive. He completed the three point play and the Aggie rally was halted.

"I really thought we might have caught them," added Sankovic. "If only we could have got that last rebound."

ST. AGATHA was paced by Mark Miron and Tom Churches who totaled 20 apiece and Pat Brown who added 11.

Immaculate Conception had its starting five in double figures. Mack led the assault with 20 points, Dackin added 17, Jerry Poloch and Mark Shawnik popped in 14 each and George Ninowski contributed 13.

The Aggies hit on 28 of 61 from the field for 45 per cent and made good 20 of 28 from the line while Conception hit on 14 of 20.

Trojans Face 'Real Test'

The Wayne-Oakland conference basketball crown will be on the line Friday when Clarenceville invades Clarkston and Trojan Coach Ralph Weddle believes Clarkston's luck is about to run out.

Clarenceville stands 6-2 in league action, one notch behind Clarkston at 7-1. The Trojans topped Clarkston in first round competition, 88-78, but have fallen to Kettering and Andover.

Clarkston has been riding on thin ice in the last four games, capturing a one point and two point win and scoring a double overtime victory over Kettering and an overtime clash over Andover.

"Clarkston's luck is about to change," said Weddle. "We are going to put them on the map and then take them right off."

"The key in Friday's battle will be how will we stop scoring ace, Gary White, who has averaged over 30 points a game."

"It's a do or die battle for us," added Weddle. "If we lose, it's all over."

CLARENCEVILLE blasted

Kettering, 88-57, in a grudge match from the first round which saw the Trojans fall, 73-71.

Kettering spurred to an 8-6 lead but Clarenceville came on to outscore Kettering after one quarter, 19-11. Paul Simons stole the ball three times in the second quarter and hit for 11 points as Clarenceville bounced to a 47-24 halftime lead.

Chip Meyrelles and Phil Halstead popped in 12 apiece in the half and the Trojans blitzed to a 32 point advantage after three quarters, 76-44.

KETTERING outscored Clarenceville in the final stanza, 13 to 12, but the Trojans had their 10th win against two setbacks.

Clarenceville ended up taking 30 more shots at the bucket than Kettering and scored 43 per cent from the floor on 37 of 77 shots. Kettering hit on 21 of 47 for 48 per cent.

The Trojans made good 22 of 37 from the line while Kettering hit on 13 of 27.

Clarenceville was sparked by the ball handling of Bob Tyler who totaled nine assists.

Ski Heil

By

BILL CAMERON

Can't afford Europe? Can't afford Colorado? Bored with local skiing? Treat yourself to a foreign trip by just crossing the border of our friendly neighbor to the east and in five hours you'll be in Collingwood, Ontario where you'll find three great ski areas - Blue Mountain, Georgian Peaks and Talisman.

I have to confess, they put anything up north to shame. Not only are they twice as high (768' vertical drop at Blue Mountain) but twice as long.

If I were a beginner - intermediate skier, I'd spend my time at Talisman. They have some great fun runs that are wide and gradual.

IF YOU LIKE moguls, Georgian Peaks has two great runs that will excite any hotshot skier plus several good slopes for intermediates.

For pure variety and numbers of slopes, your best bet is Blue Mountain. The runs are two miles wide. They are serviced by five double chairlifts, five Poma lifts and three T-bars. And the view from the top overlooking Georgian Bay is beautiful.

All of the areas now have liquor licenses and several new motels have opened recently, improving the housing situation which has been a problem.

Alpine Lodge at Talisman is an ideal place for families with some rooms having a combination of double bed and bunk beds. Two other things they have going for them are a great dining room and an excellent children's program. Lift fees at all areas are $7 per day. How can you beat that? Try it, you'll like it.

Some of my "friends" thought they spotted me in Sapporo, Japan, via the T.V. I wish they had suggested the idea to the publisher. I was originally scheduled to be in Davos, Switzerland this week, but I sent my wife instead. She is assuming the role of tour leader in my absence.

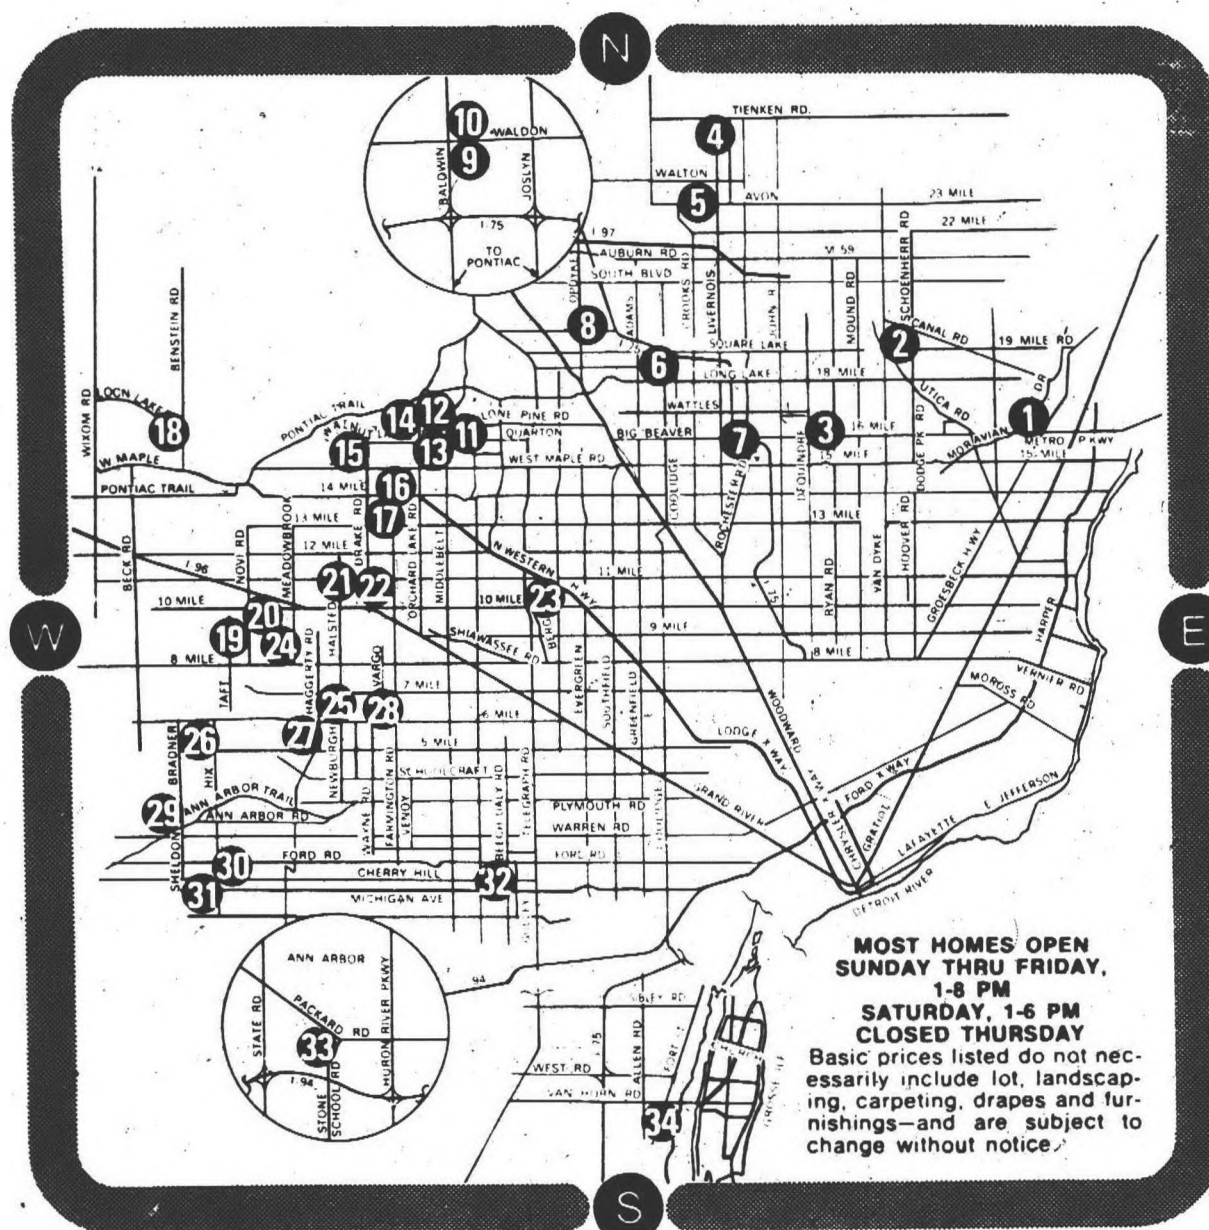

My No. 2 son, Reid is leaving Sunday for a ski week in the Canadian Rockies. It just hasn't been my year. Course I did get to Vail for a weekend, but that just wasn't enough. A ski week is the only answer.

When the "big snow" comes (the Felician Sisters are going to have to pray harder) I am going to take off for somewhere. Care to join me?

Spartans Edge Into 2nd Place

Stevenson moved into the No. 2 spot in Inter-Lakes basketball action with a 44-42 win over Waterford. The Spartans stand 5-3 in league play and 7-7 overall.

But the next two games for Stevenson could very well be a different story as the Spartans contend with Pontiac Northern and unbeaten Walled Lake Central.

Waterford jumped to a 10-7 first quarter score and led at the half, 21-18.

STEVENSON WAS seven of 30 from the field and Waterford hit on 10 of 23.

The Spartans finally broke through to a 34-32 third quarter advantage yet the score went back and forth in the final quarter, with Stevenson on top at the buzzer.

Stevenson hit on 17 of 59 from the field for 28 per cent while Waterford hit 37 per cent on 17 of 46.

THE DIFFERENCE was at the freethrow line with Stevenson making good 10 of 16 while Waterford hit on eight of 15.

Tom Centers paced Stevenson with 14 points, followed by Dale Haberman with 11, including 15 rebounds, and Kelly Smith with 10.

Tom Jones paced Waterford with 14 points and Tom Runyon added 10.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

Winter racing has caught on in its second year at Northville Downs and the state's pioneer of night harness racing is doing a booming business in the first two weeks of its 39 night meeting.

A year ago after 14 nights, the 'Downs had a nightly average of $203,000, fighting a bad racing strip, rain, unseasonable thaws and most everything that could possibly discourage customers.

More than that, permission had been given to a snowmobile racing association to hold a series of races on a weekend at the half-mile plant just a scant three weeks ahead of the winter season opener.

The snowmobile races were a huge success but left the track covered with snow about a foot deep and icy snow along the rail spreading out about four feet.

Eventually the snow was worked off the track but not along the rail where drivers found they had to go out about two sully widths for safe racing. The situation existed almost all through the 1971 meeting.

The situation is different this year. Executive Manager John Carlo installed a new slag-limestone cover for the track during the period between Dec. 18 and the first of the year.

It was a slow surface for a while until the slag and limestone were packed down. The turn for the better came midway through the Jackson-Northville January meeting and by the time Northville opened on Jan. 29 it was near perfect.

The results? Wagering and attendance are at the highest levels ever for a Michigan winter meeting. The mutual handle for 14 nights is up 25 per cent with an average of more than $270,000. This compares with $247,000 for the Jackson-Northville season.

Saturday's crowd of 5,384, largest to date, poured $385,532 through the mutual machines . . . the latter probably would have been over $400,000 but for one late scratch that took out more than $5,000 and two others during the evening. As it was wagering was highest of the New Year.

"WE BELIEVE we're over the hump in winter racing," said Carlo. "Our patrons now know we have the facilities to keep them comfortable on the coldest nights and the clubhouse dining room has been filled to capacity practically every evening with long lines waiting for reservations on the weekends."

"The clubhouse is one of the big reasons for our success thus far," he pointed out. "More than 40 per cent of our wagering has come from patrons there."

"Our new racing strip more than proved itself during the past three or four nights. We have had several races in times between 2:07 and 2:08 and that's unheard of in Michigan at this time of the year. That's another reason for the increase in patronage."

Meantime, Saturday's program brought out some unusual events. Warhoops, the eight-year-old owned by Obery Johns of Pinckney, started a new winning streak after having a string of seven snapped a week earlier.

This time Warhoops waited until the final quarter to take the lead and then sped home with a half length on second place Navy Sue. It was his eighth win in nine starts.

Action, the speedy veteran pacer from Pandora, O., with two straight victories in handicaps, ran into his nemesis when Vesta Boy Len, guided by Dan Winisky, paced from third to first going into the final turn and stayed there to the wire, winning in 2:07.3.

SPACIOUS AND EFFICIENT - The new gas kitchen has lockers ringed around a center work island to solve accessibility and storage problems. Shelves are shallow with everything within easy reach and sight. The inside of the lockers are all color-keyed; each category of storage has its own color signal. The floor, in Armstrong's vinyl, looks like Spanish tile. (House and Garden)

Items On Cupboard Shelves Spruce Up Tired Kitchen

Most people tend to neglect the decorative potential their kitchen has to offer. Because the kitchen is really the most utilitarian room in the house, beauty is often forsaken for practicality. Yet, with just a little decorative inspiration and the addition of a few simple, colorful accessories even the most mundane kitchen can be turned into a cheerful center for food preparation, and a bevy of other family activities.

To spruce up a tired kitchen, what could be more fitting than a host of inexpensive, practical accessories garnered from nature?

Although there are multitudes of handsome decorative items on the market designed just for kitchen use, you needn't spend a king's ransom to find the proper decorative touches. There's an endless array of decorative potential right on your cabinet shelves, just waiting to be discovered.

spices perk up window sills while an old roasting pan or casserole can be turned into a hardy planter for green or flowering plants.

A maple or pecan butcher block table or counter top, so current for today, lends a contemporary, "natural" look to any style kitchen, and makes a convenient cutting surface, too.

An oak table adds just the right rustic look to an old fashioned kitchen, or a stark, contemporary one as well. If you're planning a new kitchen for your home, remember that hardwood cabinets add rich warmth and the darkest, duldest area.

In addition, they'll help to underscore the latest decorating with the best Mother Nature has to offer.

Dahlia Seeds Planted Indoors

Four months or a little less from the time you plant seeds of small-flowered dahlias indoors, the plants will bloom. That's the reason you start them early, like in late March or early April.

Plant in pots or flats in sterile soil or one of the many starting mediums on the market, covering seeds 1/4 inch deep and pressing them to the material used for growing.

Be sure to keep seeds moderately moist and, as they germinate, which they'll do in eight or 10 days, turn the container daily to keep them growing straight. A sunny window is a must.

When plantlets are a few inches high they should be moved to the garden, if there is no longer danger of frost, or to individual pots of clay or peat if still kept indoors.

SELECT a location outdoors in full sun and space dahlia plants 18 inches apart. They'll form little bushes all by themselves with no "pinching" from you.

If your soil is not rich, add organic matter, mixing it well into the soil, and fertilize before you plant the dahlias. They respond to such treatment.

There are several strains of dwarf dahlias. The Coltness hybrids have single flowers in many colors. Border Jewels form plants 12 to 14 inches high, begin to bloom early and bear four inch-wide flowers that may be double or semi-double in form and show all the dahlia colors.

Early Bird, as its name implies, is earliest to blossom. It is a selection from the Unwin hybrid strain, thus blooms will be double and semi-double in a full range of colors on plants a mere foot high.

THIS LITTLE dahlia came from a plant grown from seeds sown early. Fun for you to do.

Permanent Floors Enhance Resale Value

Planning to build a home? Here's a point to consider when the time comes to decide on floor coverings.

Today it's fairly common procedure to install wall-to-wall carpeting directly over concrete, plywood or plank subflooring. While the elimination of a permanent finished floor under the carpet can save initially on labor and material costs, there is considerable debate as to the advisability of this practice, particularly as it affects the future resale value of the property.

Installation of permanent flooring isn't so much a matter of your preference as first owner of the home; it's the opinion of others that's important should you ever want to sell the property again.

Many homebuyers consider used carpeting an asset if it's in good condition. It saves them the extra expense of buying and installing floor coverings at the same time they purchase a home.

Nevertheless, an astute buyer will also be interested in what's underneath the carpet, for good and obvious reasons. He may eventually want to use area rugs and thus needs to be assured there's a permanent floor available.

Shades Used

Shades can be the decorative answer for a contemporary window wall because they are handsome in themselves, yet subtle enough not to overpower a room.

In the kitchen, many women prefer the easy upkeep of vinyl floor coverings. A carpeted kitchen with nothing more than plywood underneath will probably make the home much more difficult to sell.

If you want to take the risk of building without permanent floors, fine. But keep in mind that if you have to add floors later, they will probably cost a great deal more than if installed as original equipment when the house was built.

There's also the possibility that a subsequent buyer won't be able to obtain as high a mortgage as he needs because of a lower appraisal resulting from the absence of permanent finished flooring.

All things considered, it's probably a good idea to spend a little more initially and install resilient or hardwood flooring when the house is built. Then, throughout the life of the property, the use of carpeting becomes one of choice - not necessity.

How To Choose Quality Furniture

As in most things, there's more to a piece of furniture than what meets the eye.

Although you can easily determine the style and good design qualities of a chest, table or buffet on sight, a quick look will hardly tell you anything about how well a piece of furniture is made. Or how durable it is. And these factors are important because, after all, furniture is a large investment and not something you buy everyday.

Before you purchase wood furniture it is always wise to do some preliminary detective work. All you really have to know to get the most for your money is some specific and not very complicated details to look for. Here's what to do when you consider buying a piece of furniture:

- Find out what type of wood the piece is made of. Solid hardwood or hardwood veneer pieces will be strong and sturdy as well as durable. Generally, most medium quality or high quality furniture is made of different species of hardwood. Look for tags which specify the type of wood used in construction, or ask your furniture salesman to supply you with this information. Be especially careful of pieces which imitate wood, since some manufacturers use printed or painted grain patterns on hardboard, metal, or plastic.

- You can check the sturdiness of the frame of a cabinet or table by placing your hand on the top surface and "rocking" the piece back and forth. If the frame isn't strong enough to withstand the weight from your hand, the piece will move. This loose, low-quality construction is an important alert to furniture buyers.

- Look on the inside of drawers and cabinets. These areas needn't be finished to the same fine degree as the visible parts, but they should be sanded smooth and finished.

- Examine all moving parts in a chest to be sure that they operate smoothly. Drawers should be made to fit perfectly, without jamming, and should open and close when pulled on one side only. Doors should fit snugly and have strong hinges.

- Look at the finish carefully, especially on the posts, door frames, and other less obvious exposed parts. The finish should be applied evenly with uniform color. It should also be smooth and agreeable to touch. Poor or sloppy finishing often suggests inferior workmanship in other parts as well.

- Furniture joints that are smooth, tight and flush in themselves are other signs of quality workmanship. If you evaluate all of these factors in furniture construction, chances are you will get the most for your furniture dollar.

Art Wall Enhances Any Room

An art wall, a decorating trick that enhances any room, is within easy reach of most families, not just the wealthy.

Richness comes with an imaginative choice of wall covering used as a background.

A gallery on living or dining room wall can display whatever is most pleasing - inexpensive prints of old masters, family photographs, contemporary prints, or original paintings by friends or family members.

These can be framed and matted without spending a fortune, using a miter saw and any of a wide variety of molding patterns available at lumber dealers.

Other art walls display small sculptures or wood carvings, pottery, china collections or antiques on shelves of western pine boards.

For a neutral background, choose light-toned western hemlock paneling and where more color and pattern is acceptable the deeper hues of western red cedar boards are suggested.

HUGE GOLDEN-YELLOW blooms and perhaps 25 on a single plant are yours with Gold Galore, a new hedge type marigold, which is an All-America Selections bronze medal winner.

New 'Gold Galore' Lives Up To Its Name

Surely no marigold was ever more accurately named than this one with huge, double golden-yellow flowers that cover the tops of the bushy plants. Really, it furnishes gold galore.

This variety is one of the recently-introduced "hedge" type, so-called because the plants are sufficiently uniform in both height and spread that a row of them may be used for a hedge.

Its vital statistics: height, 18 to 24 inches; spread, equal to height; flower size, 4 1/2 to five inches in diameter; flower type, double, carnation form.

The plants are denser than those of other varieties blooming at the same time, the flowers are larger, while both plants and blossoms retain their vigor through sustained heat; disregard wind and rain.

Do not be upset if the first, early flowers of Gold Galore that bloom in your garden appear close to or under the foliage—the later ones will be well above the leaves, larger than the first blooms, and borne on short, sturdy stems.

IT'S A SCOTTISH PLAID that tidily lends itself to the trim and tailored lines of squared-off chair and angular window drapery in this living room corner. And since the Scots are known for thrift as well as good sense, the plaid companion finds its way to bolster pillow as well, highlighting a solid-colored sofa with a touch of Highland spirit.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

Fireplace wood: Can you use elmwood to burn in the fireplace? Will it harbor the elm beetle?

Elmwood, from cut down elm trees is rated good for fireplace burning. There is a possibility of storing the beetles along with the wood. Store the wood in a garage, and if you're worried about carpenter ants or the elm beetle, spray the pile with Sevin.

And while we're on the subject of fireplace wood, I'll mention the heating and burning properties of some common species. First, let's say they'll all burn and you should use any dead wood available.

Some of the "best" for fireplace are: white oak, apple, black birch, hickory and black locust. Rated "good" are: white ash, beech, black cherry, red oak, elm, maple and black walnut. "Fair": white birch, sycamores, yellow poplar, yellow and red pine.

Some rated poor: Aspen, basswood, willow, white pine and spruce. They'll all burn and they'll all give off heat.

THE WAY VINES twine: Several readers have asked if climbing vines actually twine in the same direction. My answer is no. All twining vines do not twine in the same direction. Some twine from left to right, others twine from right to left, a good point to remember if you ever want to unwind a young vine from a support.

I'm told that vines in the southern hemisphere twine in the direction of the earth's rotation, but I can't believe they'd act any different from vines in the northern hemisphere. Can any plant physiologist clear me up on this, please?

Roughly speaking, vines are grouped into three classes, depending on how they climb. For example, Boston ivy climbs by small rootlike anchors, or discs. Clematis and grapes climb by winding tendrils. Bittersweet and wisteria climb by twining around a support.

GLOSSY LEAVES on foliage: Some people like that glossy effect on the leaves of their philodendrons and other hard-leaved foliage plants. You can use plant shine materials (bought in stores) but be careful about using too much as it causes brown spots.

Give your plants a rinse once every three or four weeks and they'll be nice and healthy. Don't use olive oil, cooking oil or petroleum jelly on leaves for glossy effect. These catch dust and can clog pores.

Glycerine dabbed on a soft cloth can be applied over leaves. Some use a half and half mixture of milk and water. Remove yellowed, or spotted leaves and burn.

GREEN THUMB BONUS: send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for my illustrated guide, "Tips on Growing Annuals."

Sold in America's best men's stores for up to $25.00. We sell all our knits for $7.00. If you want more for your money, then shop in our stores. We do what Detroit's largest department store and Detroit's largest chain of men's stores has never dared to do, that is, sell nationally advertised brands at less than their manufacturers suggested retail. Usually, manufacturers control retail prices in the fashion clothing business. That's why you pay the same price for certain pants no matter where you go to buy them. Shop around and you'll notice this definite pattern. Nobody controls prices in our stores. If you don't want to be herded like sheep to pay the high price, then shop at Pants Galore.

This is a one time purchase. We were fortunate enough to be at the right place at the right time. This leading manufacturer had over 3500 pairs of leather pants left over from his regular fall line. Because we bought them all he gave us a special price which we pass along to you, as usual. We could really sell these for $10 or $12, but we are more interested in giving you a tremendous buy and selling them all than we are in making a killing on this one item. Many other stores could do the same, but they are too anxious to capitalize on their buys and not foresighted enough to realize that in the long run the customer will always come back as long as you give them good value for their money. We are here to stay and each store we open is better than the last, only because, as we grow, our reputation for tremendous buys grows with us. GOPoliticians Go Social A Night

One of the mysteries of Republicanism is the annual Lincoln Day banquet, which the Oakland County GOP held for the 83rd time last week.

It's hardly a money-maker. Chairman Sheldon Smith and the committee charged only $7.50 a plate, which doesn't do much more than cover the cost of a delicious Raleigh House dinner of mushroom barley soup, roast Maryland turkey roll with Cumberland sauce and baked Alaska.

They might have made a little money off the $7.50 VIP cocktail party (the ticket gets you in the door; you buy your drinks).

Possibly, a little money was made from advertisements in the program. An assortment of business firms and no less than a dozen banks bought ads.

BASICALLY, IT'S a social gathering, however. Some 780 places were set, the atmosphere was social, and the oratory of Labor Secretary James Hodgson was low-key. Hodgson said his boss, President Richard M. Nixon, prefers "substance" to "style" (the latter being a favorite word of the Kennedyites).

Nixon's approach, said

Hodgson, "doesn't make him a TV idol. But that's not the way (being a TV idol) you run a nation. Brains and guts and human understanding—that's the way you run a nation."

In Republican ears, the words were so patently true that no one saw a need to applaud, and Hodgson went on about how Nixon appreciates "professionalism... whether it's by athletes, entertainers, astronauts, bricklayers or businessmen."

Hodgson (the "g" is silent) said Nixon had shifted federal spending from 44 per cent for defense and 32 for "human resources" in 1969 to a projected fiscal 1973 breakdown of 32 per cent for defense and 46 for human resources.

OAKLAND REPUBLICANS have developed a nice method of handling a lot of speakers and eliminating a lot of introductions.

First, 19th District Congressman Jack McDonald (R-Farmington) got four minutes to talk and one minute to introduce 18th District Congressman William Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), who got the same and brought on Sen. Robert Griffin, who got the same and introduced Hodgson. Thus, three middlemen were eliminated.

McDonald accused Democrats of "unmitigated gall" in criticizing the Republican administration on the Vietnam war issue after the administration had penned a nuclear non-proliferation treaty and renounced chemical warfare.

Broomfield said Nixon had brought back more than 400,000 troops from Vietnam and predicted his "trip to mainland China and Moscow will be steps to bring about peace."

It was an interesting choice of words on Broomfield's part. Until last year, Republicans nearly always referred to that nation as "Communist China." This year, Broomfield referred to it as "mainland China," a term once used only by Gene McCarthy and William Fulbright, and no one batted an eyelash.

Barry Grant, a former Southfield school board member, awarded prizes for a high school essay contest on drugs and youth crime to David Chase, a Ferndale senior, $100 bond; Sharon Stoner, Royal Oak Dondero, $50; and Cary McBride, Hazel Park, $25.

There were no pickets or protesters, either indoors or out, and the assembly appeared to have a good time.

and Olga Kingery, Broomfield, Ginger and Clement Detloff, and Barry Grant, who presented the GOP's essay awards to high school students. (Observer photo)

RNs To Get Refresher Classes

St. Mary Hospital, 36475 W. Five Mile, Livonia, is again offering a refresher course for inactive registered nurses interested in returning to work.

The refresher course, which is offered as a community service, will begin March 20 and end May 3.

Nurses interested in taking the course should make an appointment for an interview, before March 1, by calling Mrs. Linda Kline at the hospital. Calls should be made Monday through Friday.

CALLER FRED SHIELL of Farmington keeps things moving.

AN INJURED WING can't hold down Mr. and Mrs. Jack Green of Livonia.

Swing Their Partners

SKIRTS WHIRL as bouncy senior citizens swing their partners in Saturday square dances. (Photos by Dewey Jenkins)

Our Seniors

A group of young folks get together in Livonia every Saturday afternoon to swing their partners to some lively hoe-down music.

Their ages may range from 55 to over 80, and most of them are members of senior citizen groups, but once you've seen them in action you can't call them anything but young folks.

Square dances, round dances and occasional waltzes make up the program from 1 to 3:30 p.m. each Saturday in the Livonia Senior Citizen's Center, on Farmington Road south of Five Mile.

Fifty or more dancers who find Saturday afternoons a highlight of their week would be pretty much in agreement with Jack Green, president of the Pioneer group in the Livonia Senior Citizens.

Green slipped on the ice a couple of weeks ago on his way to the Saturday square dance, but was back last week, left arm in a sling.

He and his wife enjoyed the waltzes, but Green had to sit out the squares.

"You can't alemand left with just one arm," he grinned. "I'm going to miss it until I can get back to the square dancing."

Behind all this activity is a young-at-heart Farmington retiree, Fred W. Sheill.

A Farmington native who operated a nursery in Birmingham for years and now has retired to a Farmington home, he took up square dancing a few years ago and now finds it a full time interest.

Besides calling for dances like the Saturday get-togethers in the Livonia center, he teaches dancing regularly in his home and he and his wife are leaders in a corporation to build a center designed just for square dancing.

The firm, Share Recreation Centers, Inc., now is in its fourth year and beginning a building at Milford Road and I-96.

Doing a lot of the financing through regular paper collections and rummage sales, the corporation hopes to have the foundation completed this summer and the building ready to use by 1973.

The corporation, explained Shiell, is made up of 15 stockholders and their wives. They mostly live in the Farmington and Livonia area, he added, but a few have retired and moved to Florida.

"We have a year-around paper drive to help ecology and earn money," Shiell said. "People call us when they get a three-foot stack of papers, and we arrange a convenient time for the pickup. We also accept rummage, clothing and novelties to sell and raise money for the square dance center."

"We feel that papers in the trash,

Puppet Is AAUW Star

Pinocchio isn't a puppet but boy -- he's a grown-up lady. And so are the puppet-maker Gepetto and the Blue Fairy and all the others in the favorite children's classic. All are part of the children's theater production that will be staged in the new Plymouth High School Auditorium Feb. 25 and 26 by members of the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women.

FOR THE 12th ANNUAL AAUW drama for youngsters, something new has been added in the form of a 2 1/2-foot puppet to play the role of Jiminy Cricket, friend and conscience to the puppet Pinocchio.

Mrs. J.D. Campbell, AAUW member, constructed the puppet of felt and papier mache. The newest cast member is hand-operated, with special extension rods making both arms and legs movable.

Pinocchio, Jiminy and the rest may be viewed at 7 p.m. Friday, Feb. 25, and at 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 26.

A benefit performance also will be presented Thursday, Feb. 24, for more than 300 children from Our Lady of Providence, the Plymouth State Home, Wayne County Child Development Center and Hawthorn Center.

In keeping with a long-standing tradition of AAUW children's theater, the young members of the audience will be able to meet and talk with the cast after each performance.

MRS. JOHN ANDERSON is directing the two-act play. Cast members are Mrs. Joseph Uhl as Pinocchio, Mrs. Juergen Badendieck, Mrs. Donald R. Edwards, Mrs. J.D. Campbell, Mrs. Fred Andres, Mrs. Richard Panko, Mrs. Glenn Davis, Mrs. Michael Malmer, Mrs. Robert Dwyer, Mrs. Richard Fritz, Mrs. William Gratsch, Mrs. Richard Kirchgatter, Mrs. David Van Hine, Mrs. Donald Helm, and Sue Moco.

Musical accompaniment will be provided by flutist, Jane Visser, a Central Junior High student and Plymouth Youth Symphony member.

"Pinocchio" is being produced by Mrs. William A. Fisher. Business manager is Mrs. B.W. Secord, assisted by Mrs. Gene J. Schirmer. Other committee chairmen include Mrs. William A. Riley, scenery; Mrs. Jerry Steele, costumes; Mrs. Frank Belobraidich, music; Mrs. David Cunningham, props; Mrs. Eddy Fleming, make-up; Mrs. Sanford Burr, stage manager; Mrs. Alan Wakenhut, publicity; Mrs. Margaret Larson, posters; Mrs. Gary Balconi and Mrs. P.D. Vincent Jr., luncheon.

TICKETS for the play are 50 cents each and available Feb. 16, 17, 18 in the Plymouth elementary schools, as well as at Plymouth Record and Tape Center (formerly Melody House) beginning Feb. 17. Tickets may also be purchased by contacting ticket chairman, Mrs. George Pethel, 14595 Shadywood, Plymouth.

Livonia ticket sales will be handled by Mrs. C.M. Clemens, 9950 Levan and Mrs. Michael Malmer 14630 Susanna.

Based on past experiences, Mrs. Pethel advises parents to purchase tickets early as there are usually few, if any, tickets available at the door. Two additional performances will be presented at 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Saturday, March 11 in the Northville High School auditorium. Ticket information for these performances may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Pethel or Northville ticket chairman, Mrs. Douglas Whittaker, 1068 Grace Court.

Proceeds from the play will be donated to the National AAUW Fellowship Fund, which assists American and foreign women in graduate study programs here and abroad.

It might not be too far-fetched to call Mrs. Clara Rousseau the mother hen of Schoolcraft College.

Her knowledge of the school which, since its earliest beginnings, has been part of her life-together with her genuine interest in everyone there from Dr. Nelson Grote, the president, to the student who gets a parking ticket—could well earn her the description.

Officially, Mrs. Rousseau is administrative assistant to the president of Schoolcraft, a title she acquired in 1967.

IN THAT POST, she has served under both Dr. Eric Bradner, the first Schoolcraft president, and Dr. Grote, his successor, and was well qualified to serve as a liaison when the administrations changed last year.

"She has been invaluable to me as a brand-new president," Dr. Grote said.

"I think somebody had Mrs. Rousseau in mind when they invented the words knowledgeable, organized, dedicated and professional. And besides all the other good things I could say about Mrs. Rousseau, she is an awfully nice person—a joy to work with and a joy to know."

WHILE APPRECIATING the thorough knowledge of his administrative assistant, Dr. Grote is inclined to tease her by suggesting she makes like a mother when dealing with the students.

And Mrs. Rousseau figures he's probably right.

"I get the ones who have a problem," she says. "Rule infractions or not being able to get the classes they want. I see them when they've exhausted all other avenues for assistance. I try to help straighten things out."

"And I have to admit I'm

partial to the boy students—with two sons of my own I talk the boy language."

CLARA ROUSSEAU has been talking school language since her sons were small boys. "I've really gone through school with them," she muses. Bob now is completing four years in the Navy and Don is a freshman at Central Michigan.

A resident of Dearborn Heights, she worked first in elementary school offices in the Crestwood District and later in the administrative office.

She joined the Schoolcraft staff more than a decade ago when organization was beginning in the old Newburgh school. Mrs. Rousseau was the ninth person on the staff of the new college, and now only two have been with Schoolcraft longer than she.

"At first there were two other girls, and we all just worked," she said. "There was so much to be done."

But as the organization grew, she took over as secretary to Dr. Bradner, and eventually moved into the administrative post.

HER EXPERIENCE with the college has been valuable to new members of the Schoolcraft board of trustees as well as to Dr. Grote.

"It's pretty unusual that we had six new board members out of eight after the last election," she said. "They all are working to do a good job, and they've studied the workings of the school, but there are so many inside matters where they need more information. It's a challenge helping them."

Schoolcraft has grown a lot in her years there. Mrs. Rousseau believes—in its educational opportunities and public image as well as physical facilities.

The students have changed too, she knows. They've become more serious and interested in the whole educational picture, as the recent bid for a student seat on the board indicates.

"I don't think that was really needed," she said. "Our new board has passed a policy that anyone in the audience during a board meeting may speak on the issue being discussed, so the students can be heard."

"And there are plenty of other channels through which they can make their ideas known."

WHAT DOES Mrs. Rousseau see ahead for Schoolcraft?

More educational offerings, more service to the community, more students taking advantage of the close-to-home college.

"And that means we must have more facilities," she added. "I don't see how people can vote down millage—they wouldn't if they'd stop to think how much they would have to pay if they were to take over the education of their children."

Baby Sitting Course Set By YWCA

A course in baby sitting for special children is being offered by the YWCA of Western Wayne County, in cooperation with Mary L. Durbin of the special services department of the Garden City Schools.

The course, which begins Thursday, Feb. 17, is designed to train sitters to stay with retarded children. It will be offered at the YWCA, 1034 Monroe, Dearborn, one day a week for six weeks.

Participants will make kits to help them in their work and will visit Elm School to observe retarded children in their school activities. They will also study general first aid, aids for games and crafts, understanding retarded children and techniques for working with them.

Anyone interested in taking the course should contact Aileen Grey, program director at the Y.

The Y is also sponsoring another special program, VEP's Fun Night. This is a once-a-month night out for trainable retarded children from Norris School.

Volunteers are needed to help supervise games, run movie projectors, make refreshments, help with tours and outings and share their skills and knowledge.

Women To See Robison Play

The Women of North Farmington and their guests will see David B. Robison's play "Promenade All!" at the Fisher Theatre, at 2 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 23.

Reservations must be made with Louise Dolsey, 28825 Ravenwood, by Feb. 18.

Hume Cronyn, Anne Jackson and Eli Wallach star in the comedy in its pre-Broadway run.

CIS Villager Will Give Talk

The program of Children's International Summer Villages will be explained at a meeting at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 22, in Bingham Farms School, 23400 W. 13 Mile, Birmingham.

Arrangements for the program have been made by Ernest F. Wheaton of Farmington, president of the Detroit Chapter of CISV. The speaker will be Rick Glasser, an 11-year-old delegate to a CISVillage in Chateau Fleuri, France, in 1971.

Wheaton, members of the CISV, past delegates and their parents will be on hand to answer questions.

Applications will be available at the meeting or may be obtained by writing Children's International Summer Villages, Inc., 18450 Fairway Drive, Detroit, 48221.

Guest speaker for a program Feb. 15, in Oak Park, also arranged by Wheaton, was Jonathon Ross, who was a delegate to a village in Kuddewords, Germany.

CISVillages are held in several locations around the world each summer. In 1971 there were 17 villages. Each has from 30 to 50 11-year-old children, from eight to 12 nations coming together for four weeks of camp life. Emphasis is on activities which encourage close relationships among the children, swimming, games, sports, arts, crafts and singing.

The organization selects 11-year-old students since it believes they are less apt to be influenced by prejudice and can absorb new ideas and thoughts about others in foreign countries to promote world friendship and understanding.

THE DETROIT CHAPTER will send a delegation to a village to be held at the College of Education, Beckett Park, Leeds, England, from July 9 to Aug. 4. Two boys and two girls and a qualified adult at least 21 years of age will be selected to go. The adult delegate will travel with the children and remain in residence during camp.

They will meet delegations from Costa Rica, Finland, Germany, Great Britain, Israel, Kenya, Norway, the Philippines, Roumania, Spain and Yugoslavia.

Working Mothers To Speak

A conversation on "The Child and the Working Mother" will be held at the Center for Continuing Education of Women, 330 Thompson, Ann Arbor, on Thursday, Feb. 24, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Of the 30 million U.S. women in the labor force, some 39 per cent have children under 18. Working mothers and those who choose not to work are seeking ways to combine job and family and provide adequate care and development for children.

The center conversation will discuss informally some of the questions, and some of the answers, asked and reached by professionally employed women as well as those not now in the market-place.

All interested persons are welcome.

Boxes are 50 cents each. Eighteen and a half cents of that represents profit for the council and five cents is profit for the troop.

Mrs. Hagopian said that by popular demand the council is returning this year to the Burry Brand of cookies sold in years before 1971.

"But now they really love it. Some of the ladies come without partners, but they switch around so everyone gets a chance to dance."

The dancing is Western style, Shiell said, which means that everyone is participating all the time instead of watching a head couple.

"But it isn't hard to learn," he added.

All senior citizens in the area are invited to the dances, he said. And all who would like to participate in the center by donating newspapers and discards may call the Shiells who live at 33735 Alta Loma, Farmington.

Detroit Edison will begin accepting recipes next week for its 11th annual Queen of the Kitchen contest for women who work. Contest dates this year are Feb. 1 through March 1.

From entries received, 10 women will be chosen to take part in a cook-off on Wednesday, March 15. Each finalist will receive an electrical appliance.

THE CONTEST is open to women who are employed full-time outside of their homes and who live within the boundaries of Edison's Southeastern Michigan service area. They are invited to submit a recipe for a main-dish meal based on frozen foods.

Professional home economists and cooks, and employees of Detroit Edison or members of their immediate families are not eligible.

Entries must include name, address, place of employment and telephone number, and should be sent to Edison's Electric Living Division, 2000 Second Avenue, Detroit, 48226, before midnight, March 1.

As in the past, recipes and photographs of the 10 finalists will be published in a handsome booklet for general distribution, free of charge.

THE GRAND PRIZE is a deluxe range and the "queen" will have her choice of top-of-the-line models of ranges which will be on display that day. An electric hostess set, consisting of fondue pot, hot platter and table broiler, will be awarded as second prize; and the third prize will be a "party pair," including an electric chafing dish and broiler-skillet.

The judges will be food writer Kay Savage; Cyrilla Riley, Detroit News household editor; and Lee Murray, consumer consultant for the American Dairy Association of Michigan. Contestants must be able to compete in the cook-off which will be held in Edison's Electric Living Kitchen in Detroit on March 15. Decision of the judges in the selection of the finalists and cook-off winners will be final.

3 Local Reps Back Transit Bill

LANSING Disappointed at the House's rejection of the transportation package bill, State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) said legislative leaders would try again to pass it this week.

The House last week gave 50 votes for and 54 against Gov. Milliken's proposed two-cent increase in the state gasoline tax and the related plan to use part of it for rapid transit.

Observerland representatives split three in favor and four against it, with one absentee.

IN FAVOR were Reps. Marvin Stempien (D-Livonia) and Joseph Forbes (D-Oak Park), both of whom have voted consistently for urban-oriented and regional programs, along with James DeFebaugh (R-Birmingham). Opposed were Reps. John Bennett (D-Redford), Thomas Brown (D-Westland), James Tierney (D-Garden City) and Richard Young (D-Dearborn Heights). Rep. Raymond Baker (R-Farmington) was missing due to minor surgery.

In the party breakdown: Democrats supported it 30-24; Republicans produced 19 in favor and 30 against; and each party had three absent.

PURSELL HAD been chief sponsor of the transportation package in the Senate and had chaired leadership efforts to draw up a compromise plan to suit balking House members. "I'm hopeful we can get another vote this week," said Pursell. Fifty-six votes are needed for passage.

"Tension was very high. Some out-staters were afraid to vote for it because under redistricting they will be running against incumbents, and they don't want this used against them."

McDonald Attacks Immigration Chief

WASHINGTON Congressman Jack McDonald (R-Farmington) has called for the resignation of Immigration and Naturalization Service Commissioner Raymond Farrell and urged investigation into the agency's affairs.

McDonald said he has been conducting a private investigation for several months into the impact of illegal aliens upon the country's economy and society. The 19th District Congressman said: "I have come to the conclusion that Commissioner Farrell has seriously crippled the effectiveness of the Immigration Service."

McDONALD blasted Farrell's performance in letters to President Richard Nixon and to U.S. Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.), who chairs the House Government Operations Committee. The INS has been faced with steadily increasing chores in handling of non-immigrant visitors, protecting borders against illegal entry, curbing smuggling of aliens and carrying on surveillance of those illegally here, McDonald said.

He accused Farrell of letting his organization "rusticate" and blamed him for the presence of two million illegal aliens who have "had a major effect on our economy."

Citizens and legal immigrants are denied as a result of the illegal aliens holding jobs in this country, he said, and estimates are that the aliens send between $1 and $2 billion out of this country annually. Fraudulent dependency claims made by the aliens, cheats the country of $1 billion in tax revenues, he added.

He also questioned an alleged improper use of Immigration Service funds for entertaining high officials.

In recent weeks, opposition had come from a number of Detroit black legislators, but last week such leading blacks as James Bradley, James Del Rio and Daisy Elliott were solidly for it.

Pursell expressed disappointment at two negative votes - Michael Dively (R-Traverse City) and James Tierney (D-Garden City).

"Jim Tierney surprised me because he had seen the Toronto system; he's been for it and even issued statements supporting it," said Pursell.

"TIERNEY SAID he voted against it because of all the 'wheeling and dealing' on the bill and because of the high tax rate already imposed on gasoline.

"For one thing, there were so many deals, so much pork barreling - everyone wanted

Impounding Of Funds Attacked

WASHINGTON U.S. Rep. William D. Ford (D-Taylor) has co-sponsored legislation designed to prevent the president from "impounding" funds allocated by Congress.

Ford charged that President Nixon has deliberately delayed the spending of up to $11 billion which was appropriated by Congress over the past two years for projects such as water line and sewer construction, urban renewal, low cost housing and mass transit.

"I suppose that we can expect to see this money released over the next nine months to help bolster the economy in time for the next November's election," Ford predicted. "That may be a fine political game, but it is an appalling example of disregard for the nation's millions of unemployed."

The proposed legislation would bar the president from withholding appropriated funds from one year to the next. It would require the president to notify Congress whenever appropriated money is impounded and Congress would have 60 days to approve the action.

Young Will Testify In Washington

Rep. Richard Young (D-Dearborn Heights) will appear before the Judiciary Committee of the U.S. House of Representatives on March 1 to testify on facts relating to the bussing of school children across school district lines.

Young, who opposes such a method of achieving integrated schools, said he would also visit Richmond, Va. and discuss with Virginia House member T. Dix Sutton, a resolution introduced in the Virginia Legislature.

It would call for a constitutional convention for the purpose of amending the U.S. Constitution to prohibit the assignment of children to schools based on their race, religion or national creed.

Young said he doubts that there is a chance of the U.S. Congress passing such an amendment to the Constitution but thinks that the opportunity is greater for three-fourths of the State Legislatures to take such action.

The Michigan Legislature has passed such a resolution and is encouraging other State Legislatures to pass similar ones.

something in it for their district," Tierney said. "It sickened me. I was plenty disgusted with all of the deals made to help get guys reelected. Some of them were even calling their amendments 'reelection' amendments."

Tierney also dislikes the high rate on gasoline, amounting to one-third to one-half the cost per gallon, he said. He argued that if the gas tax is to be hiked, the tax on diesel fuel should also be boosted.

"Gasoline is not a luxury item; it's essential for both the rich, poor and medium income families," Tierney said. "Yet it is taxed at over one-third the cost per gallon in my community. If this were a luxury, I could see it."

Though the bill would not have specified a mass transit corridor, Tierney expressed opposition to the two main plans under consideration.

The Woodward corridor would be too expensive, and he doubted if either the Woodward or downriver systems would get enough use to make it worth the expense.

"HOW MANY people who say they want mass transit would actually get down there and use it?" he asked.

One alternative would be to utilize the railroad lines not frequently used leading into Detroit for a transit system, including the one going through Livonia, Tierney suggested.

Pushers for the mass transit package won't get Tierney to change his mind as long as all the amendments remain intact, he said, so they will have to go to other lawmakers for the six more votes they need.

Crash Program On Alcoholism Called Urgent

A southeast Michigan member of Michigan's new Advisory Commission on Drug Abuse and Alcoholism said today she will press for action on four "top priority" problems.

Mrs. Phyllis Tuttle, executive director of the National Council on Alcoholism - Greater Detroit Area, and one of seven members of the commission appointed last week by Gov. William Milliken, identified as priorities:

- Clarify the extent of addiction to alcohol, pills and illegal drugs.
- Initiate and develop a state-wide program of action.
- Provide adequate treatment for alcoholics and their families.
- Evaluate drug abuse and alcoholism rehabilitation programs to find which work best, and why.

Crash programs on all four phases are urgently needed, she said.

MRS. TUTTLE is planning a conference on hospital care of the alcoholic, to be held Feb. 28 and 29, in the Sheraton Motor Inn, Woodhaven.

Purpose of the conference is to assist general hospitals in their programs for the admission and care of acute alcoholics. The conference is one of a series being held throughout the country.

Persons wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Tuttle or John Parker at National Council on Alcoholism, Greater Detroit Area, 6131 W. Outer Drive, Detroit, 48235.

Among the speakers at the conference will be Terrence Carroll, director, Comprehensive Health Planning Council, Detroit; John McConnell, chief, Alcoholism Control Section, Michigan Department of Public Health, Lansing; and Dr. Frank Seixas, medical director, National Council on Alcoholism, New York City.

Reports Mrs. Tuttle, "At our office we get calls every day from sick alcoholics needing treatment but we have few places to refer them. Within the city of Detroit only one general hospital offers a treatment program for alcoholism, although there are probably 75,000 alcoholics residing in the city."

"In all of Southeast Michigan there are only seven general hospitals which provide identifiable services for alcoholics. A total of 35 beds is being used for persons with diagnosis of acute alcoholism - with a potential sick list of 200,000 alcoholic patients."

OTHERS FROM Southeast Michigan named to the commission are Probate Judge George N. Bashara Jr., and Dominick Taddonio, of Livonia, director of the comprehensive health education curriculum project and lecturer at Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. Tuttle, who since 1968 has directed the NCA's United Foundation - supported agency for aiding alcoholics to recover, said:

"There's $300 million scheduled for release from federal funds for alcoholism prevention and treatment programs in the next three years. Before any Michigan community or agency can qualify there must be an acceptable state-wide plan, so that's a top priority, too."

The Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) and the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan (CHPC-SEM) are likely to be called upon to help in the future campaign, she said.

A plan for Southeast Michigan as one part of the state-wide program must be fashioned, she said.

Other roles for the two agencies, she said, might include the drug abuse program evaluation and the effort to clarify the extent of alcohol and drug abuse in the region.

WITH MORE THAN 200 programs with varied goals and purposes, programs for helping persons addicted to other drugs now functioning in Southeast Michigan, there's a need to bolster successful ones and screen out others, she said.

"Either SEMCOG or CHPC could be empowered to evaluate the programs that have evolved in recent months," she said. "The problem is region-wide, and an agency not directly engaged in a program of its own would be the best means of making such an evaluation."

These agencies also could be commissioned to clarify the severity of the addiction problems, she said.

"We don't know for sure how many alcoholics or other addicts there are in Southeast Michigan or in the state or any part of it."

"An estimate just received from the Michigan Department of Health is that there are over 400,000 alcoholics in Michigan."

Assuming that is correct and one-half of them, 200,000, are in Southeast Michigan, then one of every 12 persons over 25 in the seven SEM counties suffers from alcoholism.

"However you figure it, any is too many."

Schoolcraft Asks $olution In Lan$ing

By KATHY MORAN

State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) and Rep. James Tierney (D-Garden City) met with Schoolcraft College trustees and administrators Monday and heard the budget woes of the college.

The two state legislators (six were invited) listened as a dismal financial picture was painted by college administrators. The meeting had been arranged to alert local legislators to college concerns regarding legislation affecting it.

Chief concerns of the college are a state aid formula that could punish Schoolcraft's growth, a lack of capital improvement funds and a state tuition formula.

ONE CONCERN is a clause in the appropriations bill which could conceivably cost Schoolcraft $205,000 for enrolling one student above the 4,000 student level.

The problem is that the appropriations bill would apply a different formula to Schoolcraft once it has an enrollment of more than 4,000 fiscal year equated students.

The college currently has had 3,400 full time equated students between the fall and winter semesters and expects more than 3,700 by the end of the fiscal year.

Its projections for the 1972-73 fiscal year estimate that the college will total 4,096 in full time equated students.

But technically, under the current appropriations law, the college just has to go one student beyond 4,000 and it will be hit with a new (and expensive) appropriations formula.

"IF WE LIMIT enrollment, whose will it be?" Business Manager Fred Peterson asked when explaining the dilemma.

"We think it is a punitive measure," President C.

Nelson Grote said. "If we do our job and generate over 4,000, we will lose money on every one of the students."

Pursell agreed that it is a punitive measure and said the clause must have been included on the theory that unit costs go down once a maximum capacity is reached.

Tierney complained that community colleges are getting a disproportionate share of the money allocated to higher education, despite the fact that the state is urging community colleges to take up to 80 per cent of the initial student entries into higher education.

"If you really want community colleges to do the job, how come the whole community college budget for the state is only equal to the increase in appropriations to universities?" he asked.

DR. GROTE told the legislators that Schoolcraft is not included in the capital construction appropriations even though it applied for matching funds to build the vocational technical addition.

As a result, the college must construct the addition entirely from local funds which will use up the entire construction budget, thus bringing the expansion on campus "to a screeching halt," Grote said.

He said that the college didn't even get the $14,000 requested for the planning costs for the high-priority learning resources center.

TRUSTEES AND administrators also asked the legislators to make it possible for the college to raise tuition if all other sources of revenue are closed off. Currently in-district students are charged $10 per credit hour, out-district $20, and out-of-state students $30.

Pursell urged trustees and administrators to help the Michigan Community Colleges Assn. to come to an agreement on facets of the proposed appropriations bill so that legislators can work toward a compromise bill that will help all colleges in the state.

16 Pass Course In Snowmobiling

Sixteen students have received State of Michigan certificates enabling them to operate a snowmobile.

They completed a snowmobile safety training program Feb. 12 at the club grounds of the Western Wayne County Conservation Assn. on Napier Rd. in Plymouth Township.

The three-hour classroom session was followed by a one-hour private session in which each student rode his snowmobile around the club grounds. The students were judged on their safe driving skills.

Conservationist for the club, Vic Cuppetilli, together with "Frenchy" Toutant, a snowmobile dealer at Pierre's Outpost, put the program together.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1973, a person who is at least 12 but less than 16 years of age may operate a snowmobile, if he is under direct supervision of an adult or if he has snowmobile safety certificate issued pursuant to section 4-B.

Also speaking during the class room session were Rex A. Schmeler, area supervisor of Wayne County from the State Dept. of Natural Resources explaining the law for snowmobiling on state land; Lieut. Robert Robertson, commanding officer of the Detroit post, Michigan State Police, who explained enforcement of laws throughout the state; and James R. Harington, of Consumers Power Co., a qualified first-aid instructor, explaining basic first aid.

Gas Facilities To Be Expanded

An investment of $2.1 million for expansion and improvement of natural gas facilities in Consumers Power Co.'s West Wayne division is planned for 1972.

James P. Thomas, West Wayne division manager, said a major portion of the funds will be used to extend and upgrade the division's gas distribution system.

More than 17 miles of gas mains will be installed to provide service for new customers, said Thomas. He added that 3.2 miles of system improvements are planned.

Thomas said Consumers Power has sufficient quantities of gas to supply its 79,000 customers in the West Wayne division and the 2,600 customers it expects to add this year.

THE COMPANY expects to complete the conversion of its Northville gas field into a storage facility. The project consists of reworking 11 wells into storage sites and injecting 10.7 billion cubic feet of cushion gas. Thomas said nearly $200,000 will be spent on the work this year.

The division expenditures are part of a statewide expansion program by Consumers Power which will cost $383 million in 1972. More than $57 million will be used to develop natural gas facilities in the southeastern portion of Michigan's Thumb.

At Marysville, near Port Huron, the utility is building North America's first natural gas reforming plant to produce pipeline quality natural gas from Canadian natural gas liquids. Scheduled for initial operation in 1973, the plant will produce 100 million cubic feet of gas daily. By 1974 production will double.

Consumers Power is spending $5.3 million this year to build a 20-mile pipeline from the Marysville plant to the company's Ray compressor station, near New Baltimore.

THE COMPANY is also expanding gas storage areas in St. Clair and Macomb counties. Two gas fields will be converted to storage at a cost of $250,000, and an additional $1.5 million has been allocated for further development of storage facilities.

Thomas said the company is continuing its efforts to provide adequate gas supplies. A subsidiary of the utility is actively engaged in exploration and participated in three major natural gas finds in 1971. The company recently completed a 50-mile pipeline which will transmit gas from recently discovered fields in the Kalkaska area of Michigan.

Westland Firemen Keep Busy In '71

WESTLAND A Westland organization which wants its business volume to drop rather than increase was disappointed during 1971.

The fire department, which issued its annual activities report this week, reported that fires were up 9.3 per cent over the previous year while rescue runs went up about 10 per cent.

ON THE positive side, the department said fire damages dropped 32.5 per cent and false alarms also went down 6.9 per cent.

The department said 12 fires last year resulted in 53.3 per cent of the year's total fire damages.

Six of those 12 fires were described as arson cases while the others were caused by children, playing with matches; a defective appliance; careless use of flammables; and a hair dryer left operating.

OTHER figures in the thick annual report show that Westland has the lowest percentage of false alarms among other western Wayne County cities, with the exception of Wayne.

Westland's false alarm rate of 6.17 per cent of all fire calls is under Livonia, Redford Township, Dearborn Heights, Inkster, and Garden City.

Charts in the annual report show that rescue runs were usually at noon, 3 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Fires were usually reported at 4 p.m.

The Westland firemen responded to 874 fires last year and 1,602 rescue calls.

OF THE 874 fires, the only major increase was in the area of brush - or grass fires.

There was a 50 per cent increase—from 214 to 327.

Most other classes of fires either dropped a bit or increased slightly.

The 1971 fire losses totalled nearly $530,000, compared to nearly $788,000 in 1970.

One figure the fire department was glad to reduce from 1970 was the number of fatalities caused by fires.

There was only one death in a fire, compared to five the previous year.

OTHER THAN statistics, the report tells about two new fire stations completed and occupied during the past year, information on training of firemen, repair and maintenance of equipment; tips on home fire safety, history of water sprinkler systems for building fire safety, and photos of the fire department's many community activities program.

INSTALLED AS new officers of the Mayor's Senior Citizen Advisory Council Friday were (from left) Alex Zukosky, president; Mrs. Winifred Edwards, secretary-treasurer; and Alfred McConnell, vice president. The council recommends programs to serve the community's senior citizens through the Westland parks and recreation department to Mayor Eugene McKinney. (Observer photo)

Anti-Pollution Group To Meet

The Wayne-Westland Recycling Center will meet at 7 p.m. tonight, Wednesday, to distribute petitions and plan a petition campaign for a proposed state law strengthening existing air pollution regulations.

The group will meet in the Wayne Memorial High School student lounge. The meeting is open to any interested persons.

The petition drive will seek public support for an air pollution bill now under study in the state legislature.

Area Students Earn Degrees

WESTLAND Four Westland residents were among the 105 seniors who received degrees from the University of Michigan-Dearborn at recent winter commencement ceremonies. They are William Birkett, bachelor of science in mechanical engineering; Ronald Collins, bachelor of arts; Robert Cosco, bachelor of business administration; and Gerard Sloan, bachelor of business administration.

2 Students Earn Honors

WESTLAND Two Westland residents achieved placement on the fall quarter dean's list at Michigan Technological University, Houghton.

They are Norman Dollhopf, a freshman majoring in general engineering, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dollhopf, 819 Easley Drive; and Louis Klein, a freshman majoring in electrical engineering, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Klein, 1750 Regene.

Enrollment Up

Michigan State University has one of the fastest growing agricultural colleges in the country. Its undergraduate enrollment has jumped by 20.5 per cent in the last year.

JON PIERCE of Dearborn is shown with the biggest scene stealer in the Dearborn Civic Theatre's production "Inherit the Wind," a furry little ape named Monk. Monk belongs to Beverly and John Cunningham of Livonia. Curtain time for the play at Edison Junior High School, 2201 Elmdale, Dearborn, is 8:30 p.m., Feb. 18, 19 and 20. Tickets are available at the door.

ONE OF THE PRIZE possessions of former Plymouth James Houk, who has spent more than 30 years in the footwear business, is this 37AA shoe, which once belonged to the Robert Wadlow, known as the tallest man in the world. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

It's Not A Case Of Shoe Fitting

By W. W. EDGAR

PLYMOUTH For more than 30 years, Jim Houk, former mayor of the City of Plymouth, has been selling all sorts of footwear to persons of all ages in western Wayne County.

But now he has a shoe he wouldn't part with "for love or money."

It's a most unusual shoe because it is size 37AA and once was worn by the tallest man in the world - the late Robert Wadlow, one time resident of Manistee.

"I came into possession of it very unexpectedly," Jim revealed the other afternoon. "I was working for Blake Fisher, founder of the Fisher Shoe Stores in Plymouth, at the time. One day, one of our regular salesmen, a fellow named Jack Kanners, of the Kanner Leather Co., called and asked if I were interested in obtaining the largest shoe ever worn by a human.

"I'll give it to you for five dollars," the salesman said, and uncovered the prize. I just couldn't believe it. I couldn't believe there was a shoe that large. I lost no time in buying it for a keepsake. And now no amount of money would get it away from me," said Houk.

WHAT KIND of a man would require a shoe that size? Jim was quick to reveal the story of the world's tallest man and the quirk that caused his great growth.

He opened his desk and took out a newspaper page, now yellowed with age, that carried the story of the tallest man's death back in 1940.

Baby Wadlow, it stated, weighed a respectable 8 1/2 pounds at his birth in 1918, down in Elton, Ill. Shortly after the birth it was found that something was wrong with the child.

Buried deep at the base of everyone's brain is a lump of tissue about the size of a pea. It is what is called the pituitary gland. Among its functions is the control of one's growth.

Well, nature had forgotten to install this "governor" in Robert's pituitary.

After six months, he weighed 30 pounds, at 18 months he was up to 62, and on his ninth birthday he had grown to be six feet, one inch tall and weighed 180.

ON HIS arrival in Detroit in 1939 he was 21 years old, stood eight feet, nine inches tall and weighed 481 - and was still growing.

Finally, his heart and lungs could no longer adequately supply the huge body and he died in Manistee in 1940 at age 22.

Even in death he was a problem. His casket was made to order. No hearse was large enough and it required 18 men to carry him to his final rest.

"This shoe is all that remains of his possessions," Houk smilingly tells you. "Is it any wonder that I wouldn't part with it - it once was worn by the tallest man in the world."

'Lion' Makes Average Man's Life Look Good

By KATHY MORAN

One walks away with a sigh of relief for the average man and a sigh of pity for royalty after viewing the excellent production of "Lion In Winter."

Now being performed by the Livonia-Redford Theater Guild, James Goldman's play lets the audience peek into the past for a birds-eye view of Henry II's family and the three power-hungry sons anxious to grab the throne of Britain.

Those who have envied the riches and glory of royalty will gladly settle for the simple life of the average man after watching the furious plotting that goes on in this family.

WITH A SUPERIOR cast and a thoroughly professional production, the play reveals a greedy family in which each member plots against the others for the grand prize during the Christmas holiday season.

Howard Egan portrays the not-dead-yet Henry II who favors his youngest son, John (Russ Vogel), for the throne but whose wife favors the oldest son Richard (J. Craig Collicott).

Since the queen is kept imprisoned by her husband and returns home only for the holidays, the maneuvering reaches its all-time high while she is home, but never reaches a conclusion.

The superb performance by Moya Taormina (who has appeared on television, radio and film) as Queen Eleanor dominates the sometimes witty, often touching and always clever, scenes.

"I can't touch my sons except in scenes," the love-starved queen says after she has played one against the other to try to capture the throne for Richard and hurt her husband.

THE SADDEST aspect of the torn family is the love the king and queen have for each other but which was let cool and mixed with hate and the desire to hurt each other.

Henry tries and succeeds very well in hurting her by making no secret of the fact that Alais, a French princess, is his mistress. Kati Beddow plays the lovely spoiled young princess who must pit her strength against that of the shrewd Eleanor.

Of the three sons, John is the most immature and childish, Richard is military-minded but Geoffrey (Warren Reinecker) is, by his own admission the most dangerous "because I have nothing to lose."

Hamilton Aldridge Jr. takes the part of the mousey Philip I of France, brother of Alais and a potentially powerful ally to whichever of the three sons who can win his favor.

Directed by Mary Ann Vosgerchian, the play is loaded with great lines and is strongly recommended.

Two weekends of performances are yet to come, Feb. 18-19 and 25-26. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. in the newly-decorated playhouse, 15138 Beech Daly, south of Five Mile, in Redford Township. Tickets must be reserved by calling Mrs. Daniel Borovik, 34948 Grove, Livonia, or Mrs. Jack Pierson, 15583 Sussex, Livonia.

Among the dishes served Monday were bird's nest soup, Chinese barbecued chicken, sweet and sour fish balls, stuffed black mushrooms, and How U steak. Brothers Are Arrested For Livonia Shooting

LIVONIA

Two brothers, charged with assault with intent to commit murder in connection with the Jan. 23 shooting of a Livonia man, were extradited from California Saturday and arraigned here Sunday.

Charles D. Guthrie, 23, and William E. Guthrie, 21, both of Detroit stood mute at their arraignment before District Judge James Mies Sunday and were ordered held in lieu of $75,000 bond each. Their pre-trial examination has been scheduled for Feb. 22.

After being hit at least three times, Voss fell into the bushes alongside the porch and Guthrie fled, police said.

LIVONIA POLICE said the brothers had been living at 14171 Braille in Detroit but had removed all their belongings before police arrived carrying warrants Jan. 23.

The next time the brothers were heard of was when they were arrested in Anaheim, police said.

Lt. William R. Collins, Sgt. Bobby L. Duren and Sgt. Shirley L. Garrison flew to California Feb. 8 to bring back the brothers.

THE TWO BROTHERS were brought back to Livonia Saturday by Livonia police, who worked along with Anaheim, Calif., police for three days to complete transfer proceedings. The two men waived extradition.

The brothers were arrested Feb. 1 when an Anaheim policeman on routine patrol saw them walking along the street. He stopped them and checked their identification through the Law Enforcement Intelligence Network (LIEN) and learned that warrants charging them with assault to commit murder had been issued Jan. 23.

The warrants were issued 12 hours after Richard V. Voss, 19, of 32507 Lyndon, Livonia was shot while visiting friends at 31641 Scone, Livonia about 1:45 a.m. Jan. 23.

Voss remains in critical condition at Wayne County General Hospital where he was taken following the shooting. He suffered bullet wounds in his neck, left arm and left shoulder, police said.

According to police, Charles Guthrie came to the door at 31641 Scone while Voss was inside visiting friends and asked Voss to step out onto the porch. On the porch, they apparently argued over a $50 debt which Voss owed Charles Guthrie, according to police.

Police said Voss told Charles Guthrie he didn't have the money, and Charles Guthrie then stepped back and shot four or five times at Voss.

DON KEETH

Outwardly I wince, and inwardly I curlle when someone calls forced air heating "hot air."

They are about 30 years behind times when they think in terms of "hot air furnaces." It's an old monicker that has stuck around even though the system itself has evolved into the finest comfort system available.

No more hot blasts or chilly periods. No more dryness to crinkle your hair and skin or parch your nose and throat. No more roar. Hospital-clean. No more stuffiness.

Hot air? Not at all. Warm, perhaps, but hot air is not needed because all the air in the home is always in gentle circulation. Heat is added in small, frequent amounts to exactly match the amount of heat being lost by the house. You feel no temperature variance.

This remarkable evolution also provides perfect humidity control. Air is cleaned (electronic cleaning even removes 90% of airborne dust, smoke and pollen.)

And we add fresh air to prevent stuffiness.

Because this is a central ducted air treating system, it's no trick at all to include central air conditioning ... or add it later.

No other type of heating system can do all this for the air you live in.

You'll not be surprised by the name. It fits. It's the Lennox TOTAL COMFORT SYSTEM ... delivers total indoor comfort quietly.

And that's not hot air.

LIVONIA

Amateur photographers who would like to add an extra sparkle to their color slides can learn the secret from an expert in a lecture being sponsored by the Livonia Camera Club on Thursday, Feb. 17.

Harley Sellings, noted Detroit photographer and an associate in the Photographic Society of America, will present his popular lecture "Slide Manipulation" at 7:30 p.m. in the Senior Citizens Center, 15218 Farmington Road at Five Mile Road.

David Walkowiak, president of the Livonia Camera Club, explained the illustrated lecture will demonstrate how color slides can be improved after they have been processed.

"Most amateur photographers think that once they get their slides back from the processor, there's nothing more that can be done with them," Walkowiak said.
