Close For Tre-Ore

The Observer Newspapers general offices at 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, and the Southfield editorial office at 20099 W. 12 Mile, will be closed for business and the switchboards off from noon to 3 p.m. on Good Friday, March 31, to allow employees to attend services in the churches of their choice.

Roth Turns Down Detroit-Only Plan

Federal Judge Stephen Roth appears today to be paving the way for a metropolitan-wide school integration plan by his rejection of all three Detroit-only plans presented to him.

Roth's ruling, contained in a six-page opinion, came as introduction of metropolitan plans began in his U.S. District courtroom in Detroit. "That the court must look beyond the limits of the Detroit School District is obvious," Roth said.

Roth said the court has authority -- "nay, the duty" -- to integrate schools on a metropolitan basis on the strength of the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 ruling that declared "separate but equal" facilities unconstitutional.

The metropolitan plan was filed by the State Dept. of Education. This plan includes the metropolitan area (Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties) as a tax base although all school districts in them wouldn't necessarily be integrated.

Up They Go

Hundreds of flying objects will dot Plymouth's sky this afternoon -- or tomorrow, if rain interferes -- as the youngsters flock to the Little League diamonds on Plymouth Rd. for a kite flying contest. Another big treat awaits community children Saturday in the form of an Easter egg hunt.

CITY AND TOWNSHIP firefighters and Plymouth police combined efforts Saturday afternoon in a dramatic attempt to rescue a 55-year-old man who had suffered an apparent heart attack while strapped to a 50-foot tower.

The spring afternoon drama began when Vincent E. Burke of 15100 Plainview, Detroit, was working on the citizen band radio tower in the back yard of Virgil Joseph's home at 799 Sunset.

Burke was wearing two safety straps as he worked trying to install a new section to the tower. Suddenly he fainted, but was held by the straps. Mrs. Joseph called police and firemen.

When city firemen received the rescue call at 2:43 p.m., they had heard that a man was having a heart attack in a backyard -- not that he was on a 50-foot tower.

When they responded with the city ambulance, they weren't prepared for a tower rescue.

Once they were on the scene, Lt. Paul Sanders scaled the tower and began mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while other firemen called for a ladder truck and asked the township fire department to assist them with their snorkel truck.

Sanders told The Mail and Observer that Burke didn't appear to be breathing. "That tower was very unstable," he said, "and there was considerable wind."

When the township snorkel arrived and was put in position, Sgt. Fred Knupp and Fritz Honke were able to get Burke into the bucket. The man was lowered and given oxygen and resuscitation en route by ambulance to Wayne County General Hospital where Burke was pronounced dead on arrival. (Photos by Ken Garner and Bob DeLano)

A Breath-Taking Rescue Try

Democrats Face Delegate Fights In 4 Precincts

By FRED DeLANO

With Michigan's presidential primary election and selection of new precinct delegates set for May 16, candidate lists in the Wayne County portion of the 2nd Congressional District show there will be delegate contests in only four of the 17 precincts -- all of them within the Democratic Party.

These will be in the third and fifth precincts of the City of Plymouth and the third and fourth precincts of Plymouth Township.

Not only have Republicans avoided all contests within the 17 precincts of the two Plymouths and Northville Township in Wayne II, but they actually fell five short of naming enough candidates for all available delegate posts.

A breakdown of Democratic candidates shows that 20 marked their petitions as "uncommitted" in reference to any of the candidates for the party's presidential nomination. Fourteen designated Sen. Edmund Muskie, nine committed themselves to Sen. George McGovern and two others pledged themselves to Sen. Hubert Humphrey. There are 12 Democratic vacancies in the district, but not a single candidate put down the name of Alabama Gov. George Wallace as a designee.

Those who are elected as precinct delegates in the two parties must meet within 10 days of the May 16 election to select representatives for the state convention where, in turn, national convention delegates will be chosen.

Some of the holes in the May 16 slates probably will be filled by write-in candidates, and other vacancies may be filled by appointments at the district convention level -- which in the case of Wayne 2nd is tantamount to a county convention.

The lists of precinct delegate candidates who met the March 24 filing deadline are replete with the names of past and present party luminaries. However, only in the four precincts mentioned have more Democrats filed for election than there are positions available. The total list of candidates follows:

PLYMOUTH CITY

Pct. No. 1 -- Democrats (Four to be elected): Barbara Burcaw, uncommitted; Kenneth Burcaw, uncommitted; William H. Yost, McGovern. (One vacancy). Republicans (Two to be elected): Richard Byrne, Michael Conrad.

Pct. No. 2 -- Democrats (Three to be elected): Mahlon Green, Muskie; Carl J. Kilpela, Muskie; Marcia Borowski, uncommitted. Republicans (Two to be elected): Patricia Krolikowski (One vacancy).

Pct. No. 3 -- Democrats (Four to be elected): Robert E. Dwyer, uncommitted; John J. Gillis, uncommitted; William Grimmer, uncommitted; Mary Eileen Healy, McGovern; Thomas H. Healy, Muskie; Richard Wernette, uncommitted. Republicans (Two to be elected): Charles Newland, Paul Groth.

Pct. No. 4 -- Democrats (Four to be elected): Billie Bidwell, Humphrey; Thomas Eidson, uncommitted. (Two vacancies). Republicans (Two to be elected): Anthony Licata, Patricia Eddy.

Pct. No. 5 -- Democrats (Four to be elected): Patrick Foley, uncommitted; David McAninch, uncommitted; Douglas McClellenn, McGovern; Sandra McClellenn, McGovern; Ralph Achley, McGovern. Republicans (Two to be elected): James Jabara, John Harper.

PLYMOUTH TWP.

Pct. No. 1 -- Democrats (Four to be elected): Donald Birkmeier, uncommitted; Jane Dolies, uncommitted.

Rafferty Next At Schoolcraft

Educator Max Rafferty will give the "Conservative View of Student Unrest" at Schoolcraft College on Thursday, April 6.

Dr. Rafferty's talk will be at 8 p.m. in Waterman Campus Center. Tickets will be sold at the door and are on sale in the college's student activity office in Waterman.

Known to some as the "little red schoolhouse superintendent," Rafferty became prominent when he was elected state superintendent of public instruction in California in one of the largest outpouring of votes case in a non-partisan election. He was re-elected in 1966 in a landslide.

Running as a Republican, he lost a U.S. Senate bid to Democrat Alan Cranston and later was defeated for his education post.

A native of New Orleans, Dr. Rafferty is currently dean of the school of education at Troy State University in Troy, Ala.

He is a graduate of the University of Southern California and the University of California Los Angeles and has been awarded honorary degrees from Lincoln University and Brigham Young University.

Dr. Rafferty delivered what is considered one of the most controversial speeches on education, called "The Passing of the Patriot" in 1961. He authored the books "Suffer, Little Children" and "What They Are Doing To Your Children."

Dr. Rafferty's honors include three George Washington honor medals and the American educators medal from the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge; the Shanland memorial award from the American Assn. of School Administrators; and the honors citation from the National Society of the Children of the American Revolution.

EMU Computer Seminar Set For Business

A seminar for businessmen on planning and implementing computer systems, sponsored by the Bureau of Business Services and Research at Eastern Michigan University, will be held Wednesday, March 29, at the Washtenaw Country Club in Ypsilanti.

The cost is $60 a person including tuition, materials and luncheon. A company which enrolls two persons may enroll a third at no extra cost, and State of Michigan employees may attend at a reduced rate. Write the Bureau of Business Services and Research, Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, 48197.

Camper Group To Organize On April 4

The National Campers and Hikers Association will host a chapter organizational meeting, Tuesday, April 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the Livonia Court House, 15218 Farmington Road, Room E.

Anyone interested in camping or hiking may attend and bring another camping family with them.

Field Director Marjorie Miner and District Field Director Stan and Nora Tkacz, will explain NCHA and answer any questions. Slides will be shown on different activities at our campouts. Refreshments will be served immediately following the meeting.

ASC Earnings Down For '71

Results for 1971 were announced today by Associated Spring Corporation, headquartered in Connecticut and having a plant in Plymouth. Net earnings were $4,666,767 or $2.21 per share, compared to $5,506,943 or $2.64 per share in 1970.

Sales for 1971 totaled $119,977,224 against $113,498,420 the previous year. ASC chairman Carlyle F. Barnes and president Wallace Barnes cited the persistent sluggishness of the durable goods sector of the economy - ASC's largest market - and increased labor costs as the primary causes of the decline in earnings. Increased pension costs alone cost the company 15 cents per share.

During that period Echols will be present to demonstrate the loom and explain a unique tension device he has developed to facilitate the weaving of a tapestry to be presented to the city at a later date. Visitors will be encouraged to take their turn at the shuttle.

Kite, Egg Contests Set To Go

The weatherman appears to hold the key to the success of a kite flying contest planned this afternoon (Wednesday) for Plymouth youngsters, as well as for an Easter egg hunt planned for Saturday morning.

Both funfests are being sponsored by the city parks and recreation department. The kites are due to be airborne today at 3:30 p.m. at the Little League park on Plymouth Rd. The egg hunt is planned for 9 a.m. Saturday at the Hamilton Street playground.

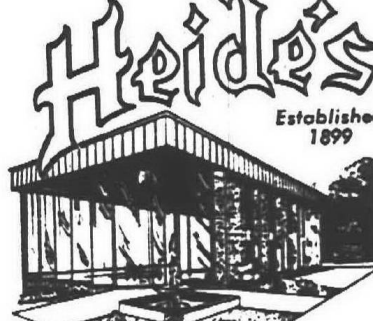

Bad weather today would force postponement of the kite flying contest until the same hour Thursday, said Recreation Director Stanley Stenek. If there is rain Saturday morning, then the egg hunt will be delayed until 2 p.m. Sunday.

Many children have registered in advance for the two events, said Stenek, but even those who have not will be welcome to participate.

Plymouth Brevities

JUNIOR FOOTBALL, Inc. wishes to double its present Plymouth program in the Vince Lombardi league by adding a new unit to be called the Junior Panthers. The present unit is named the Junior Lions.

Each unit provides for 110 boys and is broken into three teams, freshman, junior varsity and varsity. Ages range from nine to 12 and weight categories also are established for each classification. Bud Young and Dick Nelson are spearheading the effort for increased participation.

PLYMOUTH JAYCEES have adopted "Growth of Our Nation" as theme of this year's Independence Day parade, which will be held Tuesday, July 4 even though many businesses also will be closed the Monday before to make it one of the year's longest holiday weekends.

Those interested in entering floats or other units should contact Dennis Richardson of 9560 Terry, who has been made parade chairman. The parade entrance fee is $10 for adult organizations and businesses, or $5 for youth organizations. The money is used for trophies and other awards.

SPRING VACATION starts for all Plymouth schools with the close of classes Thursday, March 30. Students will return to school Monday, April 10.

CANTON TOWNSHIP'S newly organized recreation department is seeking men's and women's slo pitch softball teams, and contact may be made with Jim Thompson at Township Hall.

The men's league will play Mondays and Wednesdays, with the women slated for Friday action. The first organizational meeting will be held Thursday, April 6 in the fire hall at Cherry Hill and Canton Center Rds.

NEAL (DOC) FENKEL, the Plymouthite who has been producing telecasts of the Detroit Tigers' games for many years, recalls that as he was lolling in the sun at Lakeland during an exhibition game recently, "who should come down the aisle but Arch Vallier."

The same week, Fenkel says he was dining in a Florida restaurant and couldn't help overhearing a conversation at an adjoining table. The men were strangers to Doc but turned out to be Con Jones, a former Plymouth resident who is now retired, and a man from Ypsilanti.

THE MONTHLY POTLUCK dinner of the Senior Citizens Club of Plymouth is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. Thursday, March 30 in the Tonquish Creek Manor.

Those attending are asked to bring table service and a dish to pass. The guest speaker will be a representative of the Plymouth Family Service agency.

THROUGH BIFOCALS

By FRED DeLANO / Editor Mail & Observer

EXCITING TECHNOLOGICAL advances in the entire realm of communication lie ahead of us around this whole globe in the coming years. But as much as this stirs the imagination, there's a prospect in the wind for old-fashioned television which is even more breath-taking.

Consider, if you will, placing television cameras in the halls of local government to carry directly into Greater Plymouth homes the live proceedings of the Board of Education, Township Board of Trustees and the City Commission.

This thought, you know, is contained in the initial pitch made to the municipal government by a threesome which would like to get a franchise here for a community antenna television system, known in the trade as cable TV, or more briefly just as CATV.

What tickles my fancy, without quarreling at all with the concept that CATV is a coming thing which could be of advantage to Plymouth, is the idea of turning the chambers of our local legislative bodies into television studios.

Now don't get me wrong. I wouldn't for an instant intimate that our elected officials would be anything less than sensational when the microphones and cameras were turned on. But I shudder when I think how it would look on the tube to see you-know-who dozing at the press table.

ALTHOUGH CABLE TV already does exist in several Michigan areas, and is on the planning board in others, it's only in the most preliminary of talking stages in Plymouth. One of its appeals, of course, lies in increased channel capacity and the precept of holding one of the extra channels strictly for local programming, even though this demands oodles of money for personnel and equipment.

The rosy plan outlined to the commission said, "This channel would be primarily concerned with Plymouth community activities. We would cover city commission meetings, local political campaigns, school events, community festivals, sports events and other special activities. In effect, Plymouth would have its own television station."

One can think of many attractions in the area that could make good viewing such as concerts, dramatics, ball games, an inter-faith Easter morning service in Kellogg Park and a host of others.

But when it comes to the political arenas, I can envision some problems albeit there also could be one great big plus to putting them on the tube. With that kind of exposure, we might at least get Our Leaders to speak up so they can be heard.

THINK, TOO, what a boom this could mean to tatteries, barber shops, beauty parlors and our dramatic coaches. You realize, of course, that in this day and age nothing would do but to have these telecasts of boards and commissions put out over the air in all the glory of living color, and it might revolutionize local politics.

Just assume we had this service right now. The chic frocks of such decision makers as Esther Hulsing, Elizabeth Holmes, Helen Richardson and Beverly McAninch could steal the attention from whether taxes are going up or down.

A debate over whether men's fashions should follow the lead of John Hanskat's modish ensembles, the middle of the road business attire of Harold Guenther, or George Lawton's open-neck lumberjack shirts could reduce the heat over where kids go to school or whether water rates go up.

The potential is limitless, and out of it all might come entirely new seating arrangements for our governmental deliberations. After all, who would want anything but their "best side" to be shown?

The Stroller... Way Of Influencing Votes

By W. W. EDGAR

Shades of the past!

We're heading toward another election day — the first one in years during which whiskey and other spirits may be sold while the polls are open — and The Stroller can't help wondering if it will be anything like the days of yore when many a political battle was won in the back rooms of the old fashioned saloons.

Those were the days when the corner saloon was a gathering place for the males — women customers were frowned upon even in the back rooms. Usually the bars were long and highly polished, and no bartender was worth his salt unless he wore a nicely twirled mustache and could slide a glass of lager the length of the bar and have it stop in front of the customer. They were uncanny as marksmen.

The bars themselves were unusual in that they had a tiled trough in the front, below the foot rail, and a stream of water flowed all day as part of the ecosystem of the time. This running water covered the sins of tobacco chewers and the cigar smokers who tossed their "butts" aside while quaffing of the amber brew.

Always gathering places, they took on special importance as election day neared. For it was in the saloons — or the back rooms — that most of the campaigning was done. And lo, the poor candidate who failed to call.

EVEN DURING prohibition days, the "blind pigs" and after - hour drinking places were the focal points of the office seekers. Many a round of drinks was purchased with the thought that each was another vote.

And it was not uncommon for the "ward heelers" to gather up the voters on election day and stop for a drink en route to the polls. And they never were allowed to forget who bought the drink.

One of the most famous areas in the "dry" days was the 22nd ward in Detroit, known among the politicians as the "freight train."

There often comes to mind the election night when Johnny Smith, the former postmaster who was running for mayor, sat in his headquarters after the polls closed.

For a time he was trailing. But he never gave up. "Wait till the freight train comes in," he told all of his helpers. And sure enough, when the "freight" arrived, Johnny Smith was the new mayor.

AND SOMEWHERE down in the coal regions of Pennsylvania, there is a statue hidden away in some corner that stands as a reminder of one of the oddest political battles ever in the saloons of the day.

It is the life size statue of a fellow named "Butch" McDevitt, who made a successful run for the office of sheriff in Luzerne County by one of the most bizarre campaign tricks in the annals of the Keystone state.

An unknown when he announced his candidacy, he toured the county the two weeks before election. He visited every saloon en route. He walked in, shook hands with everyone, then passed the cards of his opponent and left without buying a drink.

It has the desired effect.

"That cheap so - and - so," the customers chorused, "I won't vote for him. He won't get my vote."

He and his helpers followed the same pattern on election day. And when the votes were counted Luzerne County had a new sheriff — "Butch" McDevitt.

IT WAS a costly victory, though.

Taking his success to heart, he decided there should be a monument erected to him, and he had it done. With the job done, he invited his political aides — those who passed out his rivals cards during the campaign — to join him in taking the statue to Washington to stand with the nation's greats.

But Washington would have none of it.

So, a disheartened "Butch" McDevitt returned home — and even his fellow townsmen would have none of the statue.

That's why it is standing in some remote corner of the coal regions — a silent reminder of political battles in the old saloon days.

Wonder if they'll be coming back?

Honeycutt Now Through Basic

Army Pvt. Stanley B. Honeycutt, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Honeycutt, 1610 Sheldon, Plymouth, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, Armor, Ft. Knox, Ky.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Honeycutt served with Company A, 11th Battalion of the 4th Basic Training Brigade.

Dr. Clark's Saga At Its Sad End

By EMORY DANIELS

A Jackson County coroner's jury ruled late Monday afternoon that the cause of death of Dr. Ronald E. Clark, former Farmington Township physician, was accidental.

The inquest lasted four hours. Testimony was taken from a number of witnesses, including four prisoners who saw Clark fall. Only prisoners had witnessed the fall; the guard for that area of the prison was elsewhere at the time of the incident.

The six-man coroner's jury deliberated about 45 minutes before ruling that the incident was accidental. A substitute was made when one jury member left at noon and was replaced by a reporter for the Jackson Citizen - Patriot.

ALL JURORS agreed there were no "sinister forces" involved, but there was some conflict over a letter the doctor had sent his wife.

The doctor had written that he had been threatened by a large, red-headed prisoner and "feared for his life." The red-headed prisoner's cell, Clark's attorney reports, was directly in front of the spot where Clark went over the railing.

The coroner's jury, which usually contains the same members each time it meets, had been critical in the past of the railings because they felt some one might fall through them one day.

Arrangements are being made for Clark to be buried Tuesday (March 28) in the prison cemetery. His wife, Mrs. Violet Clark, said he would have wished to be buried there since he spent the last years of his life in Jackson.

Clark died the morning of March 23 after falling about 34 feet from the fifth floor prison gallery of Jackson State Prison to the concrete floor below.

State Police speculated that Clark fainted and slipped underneath the safety guard rail. He had been under medication for a bleeding ulcer and had previous fainting spells while at Jackson, says Clark's attorney, James E. Wells of Southfield.

WELLS SAYS Clark has been suffering from ulcers for at least two years and had fainting seizures in Wayne County Jail last summer while awaiting trial for the death of Mrs. Hannah Bowerbank of Detroit, a former office aide for Clark.

Clark had been convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to two to 15 years in prison for the death of Mrs. Grace Neil of Livonia. He was coming up for parole when Detroit police charged him with first degree murder in the death of Mrs. Bowerbank.

Clark was housed in Wayne County Jail while awaiting trial and fainted a couple of times while in that prison, adds Wells.

When the trial started, Clark pleaded guilty to manslaughter in open court against the advice of his attorney and was returned to prison. Conditions in Wayne County Jail were so bad, Clark said then, that he'd rather plead guilty to get out of the county jail and return to Jackson where he felt safer.

Wells criticized prison officials Friday for allowing Clark to be housed on the fourth gallery. Epileptic persons, prisoners given to fainting or those under medication, Wells added, are kept on the first floor where Clark should have been housed.

Wells added he felt state prison officials were negligent but that the state was immune from prosecution unless it granted consent.

CLARK WOULD have been eligible for parole again about a month from now and was looking forward to moving to British Ghana where he planned to teach at a college established there by the Ba'hai faith.

Clark had a Ph.D. as well as an M.D. in chemistry and once taught both chemistry and physics while imprisoned in Jackson. Both Clark and his wife Violet are members of the Ba'hai faith.

The former physician had once filed a complaint with the Michigan Civil Rights Commission that he was being harassed by police because of his religious beliefs.

"My unorthodox religious beliefs and liberal philosophy have been unpopular in the small, conservative community in which I practice."

In 1962, Clark had plans of returning to Ghana with his wife to practice medicine. Mrs. Clark had done her doctoral dissertation on African students living in the U.S.

When the Clarks were married, they honeymooned in Ghana for 17 days but returned to America when Kwame Nkrumah, then dictator of Ghana, decided he didn't want a white doctor coming in.

"I treat Negroes and other minority group persons with respect, and my wife and I hold religious meetings which Asians, Africans, American Negroes and other ethnic group attend. My wife and I are members of the Ba'hai faith and believe in the oneness of humanity."

CLARK WAS considered by some as a pioneer of medicine for his early research in the use of sodium pentothal (truth serum).

His supporters, including his wife, felt the doctor was ahead of his time and was being harassed and wrongfully imprisoned.

Wells, for one, submits that sodium pentothal can be used in relaxing the tensions of patients suffering from such nervous related problems as obesity, alcoholism, migraine headaches, ulcers or high blood pressure. Clark had reportedly been treating Mrs. Neil for high blood pressure and obesity.

But, in separate court trials, Clark was found guilty of causing the death of two patients by applying an overdose of pentothal. Higher courts, including the U.S. Supreme Court, have to date refused to overturn either of those convictions.

THE POLICE theory in the entire Clark episode is that the doctor caused the death of Mrs. Neil, who was said to be the only eye-witness to the Bowerbank death.

Wells and Mrs. Clark both report the doctor had been in good spirits in prison, based on the latest letters sent his wife.

Wells adds he doubts very much that suicide was a factor because Clark was expecting to receive about $20,000 from the estate of Mrs. Ellen Wismer, mother of Mrs. Bowerbank.

Mrs. Bowerbank died in November 1967. In 1969, Farmington Township Police exhumed the body of Mrs. Bowerbank, but it was two years later that Detroit police decided to charge Clark with the Bowerbank death.

In December 1970, Clark was being removed from Jackson to Wayne County to stand trial on the Bowerbank manslaughter charge when he fell to the ground complaining of a heart attack. Prison doctors tested and ruled out a heart attack but did say the doctor was extremely anemic.

After further tests, prison doctors discovered Clark had a bleeding ulcer, a recurrence of an earlier ulcer problem.

When the coroner's inquest completed Monday, funeral arrangements can now be completed and soon the long standing episode of Dr. Clark will be ended.

His friends and wife will continue to believe him innocent, but both court convictions still stand. A tragic end, but the life story of Dr. Ronald E. Clark is now complete.

Are we becoming a nation of rule breakers?

My agents report that many of us do not "close cover before striking." Some will not "cut along dotted line." While other more rebellious souls absolutely refuse to reveal a breakfast food box according to instructions.

Once I even did not "use handrail." So, you see, I'm not hilly white either. However, there are some rules I swear by and bust my britches to fulfill.

One of these rules is to service the equipment we sell. Lennox air conditioning and heating equipment is famous for a minimum of servicing but the buyer is still entitled to have someone standing behind the product. We do. And so does the Lennox company.

Another rule is not to stint on quality. This isn't self-righteousness. It's just good business. We expect to remain in business around here for quite some time to do so successfully we cannot give short measure of quality.

Another rule: no high pressure selling. The suede shoe operators have sort of worked the furnace business over. But we are not all like that.

It all adds up to one rule. And that is to satisfy the customer. It's a rule we never want to break. Try us. Phone soon.

But be sure to "listen for the dial tone" and keep your mouth within 2 inches of the mouthpiece!

2 Presidential Candidates Are Interviewed

U.S. Rep. Shirley Chisholm (D-New York) and Sen. Hubert Humphrey will be the presidential candidates featured in video-tape interviews at Schoolcraft College April 3.

The public is invited to view the tapes which feature one-hour interviews with each candidate. The tapes will be shown at 8 p.m. in Waterman Campus Center.

The showing is part of a series of candidate interviews on video-tape shown weekly at the college. The series is co-sponsored by the District 30 Jaycees, Livonia and Northville - Plymouth League of Women Voters, and the Schoolcraft student activities and community services offices.

OWNER Charles M. Bauervic, president of the Rose Co., says it will be among the first Michigan condominiums of its type offering complete flexibility of office space from 800 feet up.

Designed especially for the medical profession, it will not be partitioned until such decision is made by each individual owner.

Thompson-Brown Construction Co. is general contractor for the two-story structure designed by Straub, Van Dine, Associates.

Mortgage funds have been arranged through Builder Investment Group (BIG), a $67 million Florida business trust. BIG, which is headquartered in Philadelphia, has been on the New York Stock Exchange since 1971.

Exclusive sales agent for the Quakertown Medical Arts Condominium is Thompson-Brown of 32823 W. 12 Mile, Farmington Township.

BESIDES THE distinct advantages provided through condominium ownership, Quakertown Medical Arts Condominium incorporates the added benefits of ramped, electrified sidewalks, elevators operating at half-story stops for patient convenience and 360-degree lighted parking.

Also featured is a private owners' lounge where doctors can relax with sauna, showers, exercise equipment, television, bar and vending equipment.

At the same time, the condominium is located within a mile of the I-696 Orchard Lake exit.

It will be managed by a professional management corporation under the direction of a management committee which will consist of representatives of the office and unit owners.

TRENDS IN FEDERAL DOLLAR OUTLAYS

Is the United States observing the proper priorities in applying its financial resources?

This question is raised each year by those who perennially challenge proposed outlays for space and national defense. This year is no exception. However, public opinion polls and the news media reflect that more and more people are becoming knowledgeable about the facts.

And the facts are these: the dollar outlays for space and national defense have been declining since the high cost-point of the war in Southeast Asia in 1969. At the same time the dollars spent for human and physical resources programs (everything from agriculture and rural development to natural resources, education and welfare) have been increasing dramatically.

'Smack' Is New Slang Name For Drug Heroin

Questions should be sent to the Community Commission on Drug Abuse, P.O. Box Drugs, Livonia, 48151.

Q. The other evening my son and some of his friends were very seriously discussing something they referred to as "smack." From their actions and the tone in which the conversation was carried on, I had the uneasy feeling they were discussing some kind of drug. Is there anything you can tell me about this?

A. Yes, they were referring to a drug which you would recognize more readily by its more common name -- heroin.

Q. Is there any place where I can go for help? I have been

Letters To The Editor

Single School Idea Boosted

EDITOR: The school board's action last week certainly indicates an equal split in their opinion "one high school vs. two high schools." Because it is such an important matter, I would suggest they be willing to put the question to the voters before it comes up as part of the reason for increased taxes.

The single school system is not new. It is, in fact, what we have today and will have for next year. It then becomes a matter of degree "how big" can a single school complex be and operate beneficially for all those concerned — the students, the parents, the taxpayers and the community.

I would like to propose a single school system in which the newest high school, "Plymouth Canton," would be used for the ninth and 10th grades with the overflow from the 10th being placed in "Plymouth Salem."

As class sizes vary, the 10th and 11th grades would vary their accommodations between the two complexes. This should not be difficult in that many special classes — auto shop, IPS languages, etc. — could be taken at various grade levels, and a distinct advantage is available because of the modular scheduling process which would allow the large groups in one building and the smaller groups in another.

The advantages for such a single school system are: We keep intact our rather wonderful symphony band and improve many of our music groups. Our sports groups will certainly maintain and improve their excellent standing and we could build an intramural sports system second to none, a system we badly need to provide equal opportunities for our girls as well as the guys.

Our libraries could be additions to rather than equal to our present system — and you get this at a considerably more economical base than any dual system devised. Even the names could be the old fashioned Plymouth Junior and Senior Highs.

There would be no good or bad side of the line of demarcation as in the proposed separated schools and there would be no line on a map telling you what high school to go to.

Our high school youth also have a stake in speaking out on this. The school board more directly affects your life style than any other political force. You will be, or are, 18 years of age and your vote is to be reckoned with.

State Test Use Under Attack

EDITOR:

I would like to see your paper concentrate on what I feel is the real issue in the Plymouth Salem - Plymouth Canton High School controversy. This being the statement made by acting Supt. Hoben at the Plymouth school board meeting on March 13.

The statement made by Mr. Hoben was "that one of the determining factors in drawing up the presently constituted boundaries was socio-economic." These socio-economic conclusions were arrived at from questionnaires contained in last year's state evaluation tests.

I question the constitutionality of forcing children in the school system to answer questionnaires that will later be used to discriminate against them. This is the issue that should be examined at this time, so public awareness will bring the attorney general's office and the State Board of Education's attention to this matter.

Yacht Set Eyes New Float Ideas

By ELINOR GRAHAM

PLYMOUTH With its belated New Years Eve party proclaimed an unqualified success, Observerland's only yacht club is heading full sail for its next major venture, a float in Plymouth's Fourth of July parade.

The parade entry will be all the floating possible for the Tonquish Creek Yacht Club, since none of its members owns a yacht.

Somehow, there's a sense of justice in the revival of Tonquish Creek's claim to fame. The meandering little stream that rises out in Plymouth Township, flows through and under the city of Plymouth, back through the township and Westland until it joins the Middle Rouge, once played a major role in the village of Plymouth.

The following quote is from a history of the Plymouth Fire Dept.:

"TO FIGHT early fires, people banded together in bucket brigades. Water was often drawn from Tonquish Creek, which ran along Harvey Street north of Ann Arbor Trail, and then jogged south to run where Forest Ave. is now. The creek is still there but runs underground. "It is possible that the big fire of 1893 spurred the townspeople on to doing something about a fire department. Flames clawed the sky all day long in that fire, which destroyed the business district on Main St. between Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman Ave.

"A call for help was sent to the Detroit Fire Department. They obliged by putting a fire truck on a flat car and sending it out by train. By the time the assistance from Detroit got here, the people of Plymouth had dammed up Tonquish Creek.

"The Detroit crew began pumping water from the creek to fight the blaze. Unfortunately, the creek began to run dry, and sand got into the expensive Detroit equipment.

"The City of Detroit quickly dropped its good Samaritan role and sued Plymouth for the cost of the damage."

Yacht club members have tossed around plans for widening the creek and making it navigable as far as the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Announcement of a contest for the design of the float was made by the commodore, Robert B. Delaney, at the March 24 New Years Eve party. For any of those 400 members and guests at the dinner dance in the Mayflower Meeting House who were unable to hear the contest rules, here they are:

A cash prize of $25 and an honorary membership will be awarded for the best sketch for a float design, for the fourth of July parade. All entries must be attached to one of the following items and mailed to the TCYC administrative offices, at 747 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, by June 1:

- 1) Old Arch Vallier campaign posters.
- 2) Old Herb Straley news clipping.
- 3) Old "Mango" application for remodeling.
- 4) Any old unpaid Plymouth parking tickets.
- 5) Old street closing notices.
- 6) Old obituary notices.
- 7) Old bailbonds or fine receipts for selling printed material, without a Plymouth license.
- 8) An essay by a ninth grader explaining why the city was right in rejecting a plan to construct a five story luxury apartment in downtown Plymouth.

9) A brief make-believe story about Margaret Wilson's explanation to the city commission, why she should be permitted to show "X" rated movies.

10) A copy of an old Plymouth Eagle.

11) A Johnny Billingsley clean plate award certificate.

12) An imaginary conversation with Bud Schrader after a hard day's work.

13) A certified copy of Carl Berry's qualification questionnaire submitted to the Jaycees for the "man of the year" award.

14) A pair of Judge Davis's old jogging shorts.

15) An explanation why Frank Millington should not erect a guillotine in the township, if he is elected the supervisor.

Ohno Seeks To Unite Opposing School Forces

By KATHY MORAN
PLYMOUTH
A modification of the plans for the two high schools on the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park has been proposed by Plymouth trustee John Ohno in an effort to unite two opposite views on the board of education.

Plymouth Mail & Observer, Dr. Ohno suggested that the school system continue with the two - school concept but build in a special procedure for making exceptions to the geographical boundaries. Using a screening procedure, certain students would be able to attend the school of their choice under his proposal.

DR. OHNO emphasized that the two high schools are complementary but not exactly the same. The schools were planned in that manner to avoid duplication of expensive programs in both schools.

Dr. Ohno's proposal will not affect the operation of the high school next year since the two schools will be operated as one.

Under plans for the following year, students will be split according to geographic boundaries. If a student wants to take courses in a program that isn't offered in his school, he can sign up and walk over to take the classes at the other school.

DR. OHNO'S plan would expand that premise further and allow certain students to register in the school that offers the program that student is interested in.

For example, he said, "in special cases, I feel that two students from the same family do not have to attend the same high school, if the administration and parents recognized the necessity to change our traditional geographic regulation and permit the student to take advantage of special interest curriculum available in a particular school."

The proposal would entail setting up a high school screening committee to review cases of students who wish to attend the opposite school than where their geographic boundary would send them.

Students would have to demonstrate a reason for asking for the change and the middle school administration would have to give the recommendation.

The recommendations would be limited, based on capacities in the high school and specific programs, according to Dr. Ohno's suggestion.

Students who fail the screening process would attend the school in their geographic area, he said.

Dr. Ohno said he did not support the one - school plan because it would treat students similar to college students though many of them are not ready for that responsibility.

THE ONE - SCHOOL plan was proposed by trustee John Hanskat. It would divide the schools into departments instead of separate schools and students would travel back and forth between buildings taking their classes.

"I still support the two - school concept because it was planned that way," Dr. Ohno said. "But we can make modifications in it. I would like to keep equal opportunities for the students."

In his letter to the Plymouth Mail regarding the March 13 board meeting, Dr. Ohno stated: "As the paper reported, three enthusiastic board members favored the college - type single - school concept, and the more conservative three members insisted the traditional strict geographic splitting of future high school populations into two schools."

"Being the only member in the middle of the two opposing arguments, I abstained and did not have a chance to clarify the two reasons for my abstention.

"I place my emphasis on the discipline problems and the responsibilities of each high school principal and his assistants because high school students are not ready to be treated similar to college students. Some students are not even ready for modular scheduling.

"I REALIZED that so many citizens in our community still do not know what is really going on in our educational system. In order to make the second reason clear, I am writing this letter together with my proposal. The second reason is as follows:

"I want to give at least an equal opportunity to all high school students in the entire school district before splitting the population based on the location of his residence, because 'naive' geographical splitting is not in the best interest of our community as far as the complementary high schools are concerned.

"For the benefit of our entire community, I am willing to make an effort to unite two opposing groups by proposing this new concept."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS CITY OF PLYMOUTH MICHIGAN

At a meeting of the Zoning Board of Appeals to be held in the Commission Chambers of the City Hall on Thursday, April 13, 1972 at 7:30 P.M. a public hearing will be held to consider the following:

APPEAL CASE NO. 71-16 - John S. Walters, 400 N. Main Street (455-6600) requesting permission to use property at 156 Liberty Street for a single family residence, which use is in conflict with the provisions of Article XV, Section 1502, Paragraph 5 D of Ordinance No. 341 regarding non-conforming use.

ZONING ORDINANCE NO. 341, ARTICLE XV, SECTION 1502, Paragraph 5 D, states that a non-conforming use superseded by a permitted use may not thereafter be resumed.

All interested parties will be given an ample opportunity to participate in the hearing and at the close of said hearing all comments and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the Zoning Board of Appeals prior to rendering its decision.

Phys Ed Or Classrooms? SC Decision

By KATHY MORAN

After delaying action on three projects, the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees has decided to examine the college's building priorities and funds at a special study session April 19.

The decision came after the board was faced with a request for continuing plans on a $250,000 outdoor physical education project.

Just the week before, the board refused to approve spending $165,000 for three temporary buildings because some trustees objected to the large expenditure for a relatively small increase in classroom space. The buildings would have created six available classrooms for the rapidly expanding student population.

At that time, the board delayed action until the administration could report on less expensive ways of obtaining the space.

SOME TRUSTEES expressed surprise when faced with the physical education request last week and said they would prefer the money be allocated for permanent buildings.

"Last week we lamented the need for classrooms," Mrs. Rosina Raymond said. "I know all these things are needed, but what are the priorities?"

"Apparently there is some money there," she added while talking about the previous week's report where the dwindling money in the building and site fund was discussed.

"As I look at those plans, I see only two areas where we are teaching students a skill they can use after they get out of college," trustee Leroy

"As I look at those plans, I see only where we are teaching students a skill they can use after they get out of college."

--Trustee Leroy Bennett

Bennett said. "I have to ask myself if maybe we shouldn't ask them (physical education instructors) to look at their program again."

ERWIN BROWN suggested that the board examine building priorities at a "study" session and "find just where we are going before we haven't got any funds left."

During the previous week's discussion on temporary classrooms, Bennett had expressed hesitation to spend money in the building and site fund for temporary facilities when it is possible that the college could get matching funds from the state to build a permanent facility.

In some cases, the state will match dollar for dollar the amount expended by a college for building construction. The board had asked for matching funds on the vocational addition being planned for completion in 1973, but was turned down.

At Wednesday's meeting the board passed a resolution renewing its plea to the Legislature for matching funds on the project.

Since a millage request was defeated by voters on Sept. 13, the college has to curtail building plans because of lack of funds.

The administration and board are both trying to appropriate wisely the remaining building and site funds to get the maximum results from the expenditures.

"Every one cent we spend today may be worth two tomorrow," Bennett had said previously when discussing matching funds.

The outdoor physical education facilities were trimmed down from an initial $1.19 million plan that was submitted to the old board in January 1970. It would provide 12 tennis courts, softball areas, golf areas and soccer areas.

President C. Nelson Grote said all the areas were for instructional and not athletic areas.

The board also delayed action on a $7,000 master landscape plan.

Arch Vallier said he would talk with the college architect to see what can be done in the way of a permanent classroom building that would be built in modules as the college gets the money.

Retroactive Pay Approved At SC

Retroactive pay totaling $84,000 has been paid to Schoolcraft College faculty members and office personnel after authorization of payments was given by the Internal Revenue Service.

Approval of the payments did not require further adjustments in the college's $6.1 million budget as was previously warned.

After being forced to cut back spending by $200,000 earlier this year, the college administration stated that further cuts would be necessitated if retro pay was approved.

HOWEVER, JUST prior to the IRS' approval, a budget review indicated sufficient money in the operating budget to cover retroactivity.

Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote applied to the IRS (a Pay Board agent) to pay secretaries their 8.8 per cent pay raise and faculty the 11 per cent pay raise for the period the wage freeze was in effect.

Agreement on the secretaries' contract was reached on Oct. 27 and it was signed by both sides by Nov. 2.

Though the agreement fell during the freeze, the secretaries based their retroactivity request on the fact that the contract was given an effective date of Aug. 17.

During bargaining, the administration had offered the secretaries a higher percentage increase if they made the effective date Aug. 17, instead of July 1 when the old contract expired, according to Jane Lurain, president of the secretaries union.

The IRS granted retro pay for the secretaries without qualification.

HOWEVER, WHEN it approved the faculty payment, IRS originally specified that the retro pay not exceed seven per cent and that the college give a certified notification to the IRS that it did not pay more than an aggregate seven per cent.

After this decision was announced to the faculty, the Faculty Forum (teachers union) requested clarification from the IRS on whether the seven per cent included increments.

Response from the IRS was that it didn't include increments, bringing the actual faculty payment to 11 per cent.

The faculty had negotiated its contract in 1970 and was in the second year when the freeze took effect.

C. RAYMOND LA MARCHE, newly elected chairman of Ford Motor Co. Oakland County community relations committee, accepts the gavel from retiring committee chairman R.C. Leary of Birmingham. LaMarche, 33112 Oakley, Livonia, is manager of the Detroit supply and central parts depot of tractor and implement operations. The committee is responsible for charting Ford's involvement in urban affairs and for assigning priorities to charitable donations.

GM Payroll Is Record At $80.7 Million

Payrolls at General Motors' three Livonia operations set a record at $80.7 million during 1971, up more than $8.5 million from the previous record year of 1969.

Employment totaled 7,150 compared to 5,700 at the end of 1970.

The record figures were revealed in a statement by F. Harger Green, chairman of the GM Plant City Committee and Fisher Body plant manager; Walter O. Muller, Chevrolet plant manager, and Dick French, GM parts division manager.

The final audited figure was nearly $1.4 million higher than the preliminary payroll figure announced a month ago.

In addition, GM paid $87.4 million to some 1,450 firms within a 75-mile radius and awarded more than $155,000 for employee suggestions.

Milliken Will Talk At SC Graduation

Gov. William G. Milliken will speak at commencement exercises for Schoolcraft College on April 23.

Approximately 500 students are expected to graduate from the community college in April. The exercises will begin at 2 p.m. in the Physical Education Building and are open to the public.

Previous commencement speakers have included educators, a clergyman, a publisher, an industrialist, but this is the first time the college had had a politician.

Milliken became Michigan's governor in 1969 and before that served two years as lieutenant governor under George Romney.

The Traverse City Republican also served two terms in the State Senate and was majority floor leader in 1963.

He is president of J.W. Milliken Inc., a department store chain with stores in Traverse City, Cadillac and Manistee.

The 50-year-old governor is a graduate of Yale University. He has been awarded honorary law degrees from the University of Michigan,

GOV. WILLIAM MILLIKEN

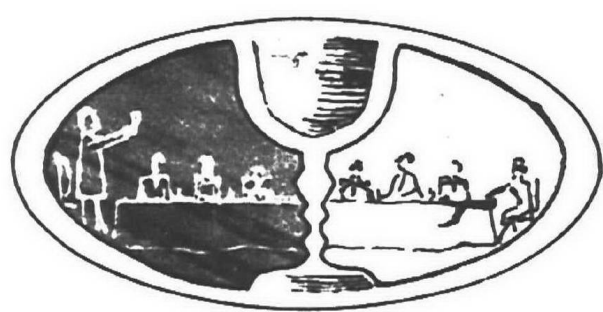

Eastern Michigan University, Central Michigan University and Detroit Institute of Technology. He was also awarded a doctor of humane letters degree from Northern Michigan University.

Milliken is a member of the board of counselors of Smith College in Northampton, Mass. where his daughter, Elaine, is a senior. He also a former trustee for Northwestern Michigan College in Traverse City.

Schoolcraft Hikes Fall Tuition $1

By KATHY MORAN

A tuition hike amounting to $1 per credit hour for in-district Schoolcraft College students will go into effect next fall as a result of unanimous board action last week.

The Board of Trustees voted 8-0 with little discussion to hike tuition from $10 per credit for in-district students to $11, from $20 to $22 per credit for non-residents, and from $30 to $33 per credit for out-of-state students.

Full time students will end up paying $12 more a semester or $24 for the year (full time is 12 credits a semester). But the average number of credit hours taken by a student is nine so the increase will be roughly $9 per semester for in-district students.

Full time non-residents will pay $48 more a year and out-of-state students about $96 a year.

THE HIKE IS expected to net the college $170,500 in additional revenue next year, according to President C. Nelson Grote.

Explaining that the tuition boost is "one of the few variables available to us," and that in-district tuition hadn't been increased since 1968, Dr. Grote advocated the increase.

Asked by a student why other alternatives were not taken before passing the burden on to the students, Dr. Grote said, "We are talking about hundreds of thousands of dollars of adjusting that must be done."

"The magnitude of the problem is tremendous. At the moment, the needs as reflected by the budget requests are between $500,000 and $600,000," Dr. Grote said emphasizing that other alternatives are being investigated to balance rising costs.

A BUDGET review submitted to the board in February by the faculty gave several suggestions on cutting expenses. The main recommendation was to eliminate six administrative positions worth $200,000.

It appears unlikely that recommendation will be acted on this year because the board voted to renew the contracts of the administrators involved after an "executive" (closed-door) session during the meeting.

A study session the previous week gave faculty and administrators alike the opportunity to air opinions on the middle management positions that would be eliminated under the faculty recommendation.

During the study session, it was evident that administrators were in favor of retaining the positions while faculty who were present were generally opposed.

BUT WHEN the board discussed administrative contracts, it went into a so-called "executive" session. Afterwards the board came into public session to renew contracts for the six administrators involved as well as the entire level of middle management.

In addition to raising tuition, the college has the alternative of asking for a millage increase. But a September 1971 millage request of one mill was rejected 2 to 1 by voters.

The college currently levies 1.77 mills ($1.77 per $1,000 state equalized valuation) for operating and .55 mills for debt retirement.

The only other alternative for getting more revenue for the coming school year is an increase in appropriations from the State Legislature. Dr. Grote recently appeared before the Senate Appropriations Committee to answer questions on the projected budget.

SC Proposed State Aid Told

Based on a projected full time student enrollment of 4,000 students, Gov. Milliken has recommended that Schoolcraft College get a state appropriation of $2.78 million next year, according to Rep. Marvin Stempien (D-Livonia).

The final recommendation will not be known until later in the year, Stempien added.

The college's appropriation for March totaled $207,600.

Programs are funded according to their costs. Stempien said the college receives $600 for each liberal arts and business student, $788 for each vocational-technical student and $846 for each health student.

Tiger Rookie Hurler Gives Dad Thrill

By W. W. EDGAR

No one is looking forward to the opening of the major league baseball season with greater anticipation than Fred Holdsworth, principal of Northville High School. And for a very good reason.

His 19-year-old son, Fred Jr., has been the talk of the Tiger training camp and is looked upon as the first rookie since Art Houtteman to win a place in the starting list of pitchers.

As he sits in his office, high on the hill at Eight Mile and Sheldon Roads, the principal has a difficult time keeping his mind on anything but the hope that the boy can make it.

"At home we've all got our fingers crossed," he'll tell you, "and nothing would please us more than seeing him in a starting role as the fourth pitcher."

In his mixed emotions, though, he qualifies his wishes for a starting role with the remark that he wants him to pitch—regularly.

"I'd rather see him down in Toledo, or some other high minor league club," he pointed out, "than sitting on the bench with the Tigers."

"I don't know too much about this fellow

Fowler who coaches the Tiger hurlers," he went on, "but unless young Fred is learning something under his care, I'd rather have him pitching."

AS HE SPOKE the elder Holdsworth turned in his chair and smiled the smile of a proud father who couldn't hide his feelings.

"We talked to young Fred over the phone Sunday night," he said, "and I asked him, rather jokingly, what kind of a pitch he served to Herman Killebrew, the Minnesota Twins slugger, the other afternoon when he hit a homer and the Twins scored four runs in the first inning."

"He told me it was a good pitch, and that Herman was pulling away from the pitch. But, young Fred told me that Killebrew had so much power, he still lifted the ball far enough for a homer."

YOUNG FRED is not only impressing Billy Martin, the Tiger manager and the other baseball men down there, but he is even delighting his father—and not only on the mound.

"I was delighted with the way Martin handled the boy after that bad inning. He didn't give up on him, but kept him in the game and he followed with three great innings."

"And I also was delighted with the way the boy handled himself. If you recall he hit a triple and a single and after the game remarked, 'After the way I pitched, I should do something to help win the game.'"

Young Fred comes by his baseball ability naturally. His father was a big righthanded pitcher who played on many of the top amateur clubs and was a teammate of Lloyd Brazil, the U-D immortal in the Pontiac League.

He also pitched three years at Wayne State University and was a regular on the mound during his four-year hitch in the Marine Corps.

He hesitated a moment, possibly anticipating the question as to why he didn't go further.

"I was a lefthanded batter," he said, "and I had an awful time against southpaw pitchers and their curves. So I turned to education."

Young Fred was torn between higher learning and baseball according to his dad, but, between them, they figured he could get his education later.

"I started him young," the elder Holdsworth says. "We used to play catch in the back yard. I kept emphasizing from the start that control was the most important thing and young Fred has that."

"And he won't have my trouble against southpaws—we taught him to bat righthanded."

THE YOUNGER HOLDSWORTH has been a major league prospect for the past several years. He played in all the little leagues in Berkley and was a member of the championship team in the Les Anders Tournament.

Aside from that he starred at Northville High for three years while compiling a 29-3 record.

"That's why I want him to pitch," his dad repeated. "Sure it would be grand to see him land the Tiger berth—but not at the expense of sitting on the bench."

"He's still in the learning stage and needs work."

"But we're all keeping our fingers crossed."

Raiders Looking For Solo March To Baseball Title

North Farmington and John Glenn fought to a co-championship last year in the Northwest Suburban baseball race with identical 7-3 records.

This season the Raiders could do it all alone. Coach Tom Wallis boasts six returning lettermen including All-League catcher John Haine and is very optimistic about the upcoming season which opens against Farmington on April 10.

"We have some good talent coming back and two outstanding prospects in Lew Doot and Kim Parker," said Coach Wallis. "We are looking to improve upon our '71 mark of 11-7."

Haine is the backbone of the squad with an average of .375 in his junior season.

"There isn't enough," you can say about Haine," added Wallis. "He is a real team leader and we are looking for another great season from him."

MARTY RAYMOND and Chuck Wolfe compose the returnees in the outfield with Raymond hitting .285 and Wolfe .200 last season.

The infield has Dave Nauman and Scott Ramsey returning with .265 and .200 averages respectively, and Doug Moher will be the lone man on the mound with varsity experience.

Wallis is hopeful juniors Doot and Parker will take controls in pitching. Doot compiled a 2-3 record and batted .306 on the junior varsity and Parker finished with a 4-3 mark and hit .500.

"If Doot and Parker come around," added Wallis, "we are definitely going to be tough."

Mike Gasser, John Knock, Tom Hamilton, John Cassidy, John Dwyer, Brad Houck, and Steve Ryan round out the list of hopefuls.

It's That Time Again; 'Golf Bug' In The Air

The bunny won't arrive until Sunday but long before that time the annual duel between golfers and the small white pellet will have started at Livonia's Whispering Willows golf course on Saturday morning.

It didn't take many of the bright sunshine days of the past week to get the blood of the golfers boiling ... and on this premise Pro Gary Whitener is looking forward to the largest opening weekend attendance since the course opened.

"We could have opened a week ago and had a large crowd," said Whitener, "but we announced our official opener for April 1 and that's what it is going to be."

Whitener and Livonia Supervisor of Parks and Recreation John Dufour are looking forward to the best season ever.

The course grossed more than $150,000 a year ago with a net profit of $45,000 on the record 46,000 rounds. The profits kept most of the recreation program going throughout the year.

Whitener will have the same staff as in 1972.

Greens fees will be the same as in 1971 with the following schedule:

RESIDENTS — Monday through Friday, $2.75 for nine holes and $4 for 18. Saturday, Sunday and holidays, $3.25 for nine and $5 for 18.

NON-RESIDENTS — Monday through Friday, $3 for nine and $4.50 for 18. Saturday, Sunday and holidays, $3.50 for nine and $5.50 for 18.

SENIOR CITIZENS — Monday through Friday (must teeoff by noon), $1 for nine and $2 for 18.

BOYS AND GIRLS (17 and under) — Mondays, 8 a.m. to noon, $1 for nine and $2 for 18.

6 p.m.) $2 for residents and $2.25 for non-residents.

Starting times are available for Saturdays, Sundays and holidays with a charge of 25 cents per person.

Whitener emphasizes that there is no league play at the course with the exception of the women's Friday morning Golf League. Other than that, it is open play at all times.

At the moment he is busy with plans for a junior golf clinic for youngsters scheduled for the week after Livonia schools close in June. The clinic annually attracts hundreds of youngsters who receive their initial introduction to the sport.

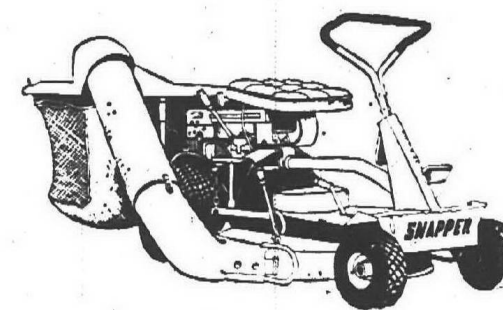

Plans for registration for the clinic will be announced later.

Merchandise of all brands and prices will be available in the pro shop beginning with opening day. The course also has a driving range and a practice putting green and pull carts and electric carts for hire.

Harrison '72 Baseball Story Like Wine: Improving With Age

Farmington Harrison opened last baseball season with six straight losses but this year it could be a different tale for Dick Tyler's Hawks. The "infant" of the three Farmington high schools compiled a 5-12 loss record without the services of a senior class. Harrison has its first senior class this year but surprisingly enough, there are only four on the roster. "We have 75 kids out for the squad," said Coach Tyler.

"Our nucleus is the junior class. We have 10 juniors on the varsity."

Harrison will be running into stiff competition in the Western Six in Churchill, Waterford Mott and Northville. Mott captured league honors last season with a 6-0 mark, with the Hawks in the basement at 1-5.

"We should be coming around this year," added Tyler. "But I think we are one season away from the title."

THE KEY to the Harrison attack lies in the bat and arm of 6-1, 175-pounder Gary Morrison. The junior left-hander paced the Hawks last season with a .333 batting average on 16 hits in 48 trips to the plate.

Morrison also hurled 43 innings in his sophomore season in earning a 2.6 ERA with a 3-5 record.

Pacing the seniors are infielders Tom Young and Jeff Kallgren and outfielder Dave Manos. Young compiled a .119 batting mark last season and scored 0-6 on the mound, and is looked to concentrate this season on his work in the infield and at the plate.

KALLGREN blasted 13 hits in 53 at bats for .245 and Manos was second highest with .279. Dan Hickey was being counted on for a strong bat this season but will be lost for the spring due to a back injury.

John Allen and Bryan Collins are the two junior hurlers joining Morrison in the pitching rotation with Charles Economou looked upon for relief help.

The Harrison squad boasts seven returning regulars. Two freshmen have also made the Hawk roster in catcher Sam Pink and infielder Steve Morrison.

The upcoming season can't be classified as a rebuilding one but one of putting the finishing touches on what should shape up to be a championship run... next season, with 10 returning starters.

U-M Prof Joins Battle For Girls' Competition

LANSING A University of Michigan authority on constitutional law has joined the battle for state legislation that would allow girls to compete in interscholastic noncontact sports with boys.

In testimony before the Michigan House Education Committee, Prof. Yale Kamisar argued that the current Michigan High School Athletic Association rule prohibiting females from competing in such interscholastic sports as tennis, golf, track and swimming constitutes a denial of equal protection under the state and federal constitutions.

(The committee later voted to report out to the floor a Senate bill allowing females to compete in noncontact sports.)

of non-discrimination requires that high school girls be considered on the basis of their individual capacities and not on the basis of any stereotypes about girls generally."

Responding to the argument that female participation in varsity sports would force an "unpleasant association" upon male athletes, Kamisar pointed out that the males have a "reciprocal freedom" not to compete if the participation of females displeases them. But this freedom, he said, must be subordinate to the right of females to compete.

KAMISAR likened the problem of sexual equality to the racial sphere, where a black's right to serve on a jury or live in a particular neighborhood takes precedence over a white man's freedom to associate with whomever he chooses.

Under the constitution, Kamisar said, "sex, like race, is a suspect classification because it relegates a whole class to an inferior status without regard to individual capacities."

A number of female tennis players and their coaches also testified at the hearings, saying that if females were allowed to compete they could earn spots on their high school teams.

Kamisar also contends that, under his interpretation of the principle of non-discrimination, participation of females in noncontact sports would also apply to intercollegiate competition.

If a woman is proficient enough to make a college track or tennis team, for example, she should not be prohibited from competing, the U-M law professor says.

Plymouth Baseball Season A Big ???

This should be a rebound year for the Plymouth High baseball squad which finished seven and 12 last season in a tie for the league's No. three slot. But it is fast becoming filled with question marks.

The Rocks boast six returning lettermen and have six key junior prospects up from the junior varsity but Coach Wayne Sparkman is a little leery of the outlook. "We have a very inexperienced team this season," said Sparkman. "This has to be truly a rebuilding year for Plymouth."

Senior John Owens is the lone returning pitcher with only one decision to his credit. The infield is being built around the talents of seniors Jim Grimmer and co-captain Dave Hees.

Dave and his brother Dan are the Rocks co-captains with Dan the only returning outfielder.

SPARKMAN is looking for Allen Park transfer student Larry Graves to put a real surprise in the Plymouth attack.

"Graves could erase one of the question marks we have in the hitting department," said Sparkman.

Keith MacDonald, Steve Robb, and Rob Willette head the list of hopeful junior hurlers.

RON EGLOFF and Jeff Stringham should round out the infield with Steve Crowther working for a varsity berth in the outfield. Plymouth opens with Ypsilanti on April 5 and clashes with Trenton on April 18 in the first Suburban Eight battle.

Who's Back In The Running?

Who's coming back in the area prep track scene?

The following is the complete breakdown of tracksters from the 21 schools in Observerland who placed in the "top 10" in their event in the area last year.

The 880 yard run was the single event which fails to boast one returning letterman.

High jump appears to be the strong event with the top three high jumpers returning. Guy Burke was No. 1 for Franklin and the area with a distance of 6-foot-2. Stevenson's Neil Bowlby was second on the list at 6-foot-1 1/4" and Redford Union's Dave Schoof placed third at 6-foot-1".

All three are back again this season for another jump at first place in the Observerland ratings.

FARMINGTON'S MARK TIMMONS placed second in the 100 yard dash and second in the 440 yard dash. Timmons is back again this season for a run at the No. 1 berth.

Churchill's Dennis Curtis ran the two mile last season in 9:31.4 for the No. 2 position, and Farmington's Nat Durham was second last year in pole vaulting with 13'11".

For who's who in the returning season:

The new shoes have been broken in, the hurdles have been cleaned off, the shot puts are every ounce the weight they are cut out to be, and the batons are waiting to be passed.

The '72 track season is here. The majority of the 21 high schools in Observerland get their foot in the door Saturday in the Spartan Relays at East Lansing.

The initial kickoff for a few of the ambitious teams was last Saturday at Eastern Michigan's Huron Relays in Ypsilanti. Ann Arbor Pioneer captured team honors in the 83 school mixup with 53 points. Second place was won by Amherst Steele of Ohio with 35.

Observerland schools didn't exactly set the EMU fieldhouse on fire but did manage to walk away with two honors.

BISHOP BORGESS won third in the shuttle hurdle relay and Farmington's ace pole vaulter in Nat Durham placed sixth in the high jump.

Making up the high flying Borgess quartet were Jim Doherty, Mark Cesarz, Neil Falls and Tim DeBeliso. Borgess clocked in at :30.5 in the preliminaries with Port Huron High. Detroit Northern had the fastest time in :29.6 but Pontiac Central sprinted to :29.5 in the final to win top honors in the Detroit Northern second followed by Borgess.

"It was really a tremendous finish for the four kids," said Borgess Coach Steve Strauch. "It was the first time they worked together."

"I was pleased with our all around performance," added Strauch whose team collected eight points for third place. "It was a respectable meet."

A shining star in the Borgess plans had to be the time of sophomore Steve Legel who was clocked in the two mile at 10:32. Belleville's John Cross broke all records for the meet in 9:19.21.

In another Borgess sophomore gave an impressive showing in the mile run. Mark Oller clocked in at 4:48 and junior Rick Cudini shot putted 46'2" to place in the top eight and was in the running up till the last flight.

FARMINGTON'S DURHAM chose the high jump event and placed sixth with a height of 6'2". Dave Armstrong, of Amherst Steele, captured first with 6'4 1/2".

Durham will be back to pole vaulting Saturday in the Spartan Relays. The Falcon senior placed eighth in the state finals last year.

Southfield's two mile relay squad fell out of competition in heat one with 8:45.8 and Farmington's Bruce Stirling gave the top area showing in the 65 yard high hurdles with :8.7.

Redford Union's Tom Burke made it as far as the semifinals in the 60 yard dash but fell out of the running with a 6.7. Flint Southwestern's Mark Garrington captured honors with 6.4.

THURSTON'S CRAIG BOYAK placed in the pole vault but failed to reach the winning height of 14 feet.

Most of the squads move into action Saturday with the first dual meet on Thursday (March 30), between Franklin and Churchill.

The following are summaries of some of the area's top track prospects:

BISHOP BORGESS -- Boasts 25 returning lettermen after Catholic league runner-up honors in '71. Returning are: senior Greg Battle, All-City 1971 in low hurdles and member of 1:31.3 880 relay squad; junior Jim Bearden, All-City 1971; senior Tim DeBeliso, All-City 1971 as member of 1:31.3 880 relay; senior Dan Madden, All-City 1971; senior Al Nemfer, All-City 1971 in 220 yard dash and member of 1:31.3 880 relay; Ken Yates, sophomore All-City 1971; and junior 1971 All-City Mark Oller.

BROTHER RICE -- Finished sixth in Mansfield Relays; winner of Brother Rice Relays; ran the fourth fastest four mile relay in state's history at 18:21.4; extended undefeated dual meet record to 33; and won First Division Catholic title for third straight year. Not a bad year at Rice and the Warriors sport senior high jumpers Jim Brunetto and Kevin Callaghan this season.

CHURCHILL -- The Chargers boast the area's

No. 1 cross country team with all runners reporting for track in an 80 man turnout. Churchill has 19 returning lettermen with high hopes for sophomore sprinter Bob Mindoya and pole vaulter Mike Fisher. Waterford Mott is defending champion with Churchill second best. Mark Malney and Dennis Curtis are co-captains and Coach Fred Price is expecting strong results from his now junior mile relay squad.

FARMINGTON -- Coach Jerry Young sees it as a three way battle in the Inter-Lakes between himself, Pontiac Northern and Stevenson. Falcons were 11-0 in dual meets last year with the conference crown, were Observer Relay champions, state regional champions and finished sixth in the Class A finals. Farmington boasts 11 returning lettermen in Lee Blodgett, Nat Durham, Marlin Fedewa, Bob Durham, Eliot Goldbaum, Jim Nuttal, Kevin Rylance, Bruce Stirling, Mark Timmons, Charles Wilson and Bruce Bender. Falcons have a string of 20 dual meet wins going with three conference crowns in the last four years.

FRANKLIN -- Has the makings to be the strongest team in the area. Defending Northwest Suburban champions with an 8-0 mark including a first in the Western Wayne Invitational. Returning standouts are: John Dawe, league champion two miler; Joe Jinnett, league second place in the 440; Ken Yuhasz, league champion in 220; Guy Burke, second place in league high jump; Bob Lee, second place in league high hurdles; Mark Newman, league champion in low hurdles and eighth in state meet; and both 880 and mile relay squads boast returning league champions.

GARDEN CITY WEST -- finished the '71 season second in the Tri-River league with a 9-1 mark. Tigers boast 24 returning lettermen with standouts in senior Ed Sweda (440), senior Don Custard (two miler), senior Carl Gill (880), senior Bob Hayes (mile), and senior John MacGillis (880), and senior Bill Batherson (pole vault).

NORTH FARMINGTON -- Coach Ron Holland sees his Raiders as a top contender in '72, with only two returning lettermen in hurdler Bill Weaver and pole vaulter Bill Doerr. Cross country lettermen are miler Dale Carruthers and two miler Mike Harris. Outstanding prospects are sophomores Brad Pease, Dave Babcock, and Dan Kramer, in the sprints and long jump. Steve Barth is working hard on the hurdles and middle distance runners appear to be Vic Donohue, Jim Fredericks and John Daubemeyer.

PLYMOUTH -- Nine returning lettermen in captain Tom Matthews, captain Scott Dunson, Carl Herter, Cal Hammond, Andy Fox, Mike Zander, Hooker Wellman, Kevin Blackmore, and Bruce Pederson. Zander and Wellman vaulted 12-4 in their junior year.

REDFORD UNION -- Finished second in league last season will be led by tri-captains Tim Biehl (440), Rick Kirtzman (two miler), and Tom Tullock (Shot put, sprints). Senior Dave Schoof is expected to score high in the high jump and hurdles. A total of 35 sophomores round out the 81 candidates and Coach John MacKenzie sees Allen Park and Dearborn the teams to beat.

SOUTHFIELD LATHRUP -- Coach Jerry Mineweaver hopes to improve upon last year's mark of 3-7 with 70 candidates out for the squad.

Lathrup boasts seven returning lettermen in Larry Weinberg, Scott Boyd, Tim Bell, Matt Heppler, Jon Winston, and Rick Driscoll.

STEVENSON -- Finished third last season in Inter-Lakes with 5-5 record. Strength of Spartan attack will be in the distance events.

Members of regional championship cross country squad will fill spots on 880 team along with two - mile berth. Stevenson boasts 15 returning lettermen with standouts in: Neil Bowlby, last year's high point man and conference MVP and high jump; Dave Mathia, one of top distance runners in area; Bill Walker, Pat Opsommer, Paul Walchieski and Kevin Maly round out distance attack with junior pole vaulters in Dennis O'Keefe and Lyle Perceival.

THURSTON -- Placed second in Northwest Suburban, last mile relay team that placed second in state at 3:22.4. Boasts only 10 returning lettermen to improve upon 5-5 season. Senior Craig Boyak is returning league champion in pole vaulting and is looked upon to go places this year. Steve Basler, Tom Haron, Dan Luge, Dave Antuan, Bill Vanalster, Dennis D'Annunzia, Dave Drake, Dale Coudill and Mike Jones round out Eagle assault.

WINE MAKING FACILITIES
 The basic facilities are simple. Avoid any and all facilities of brass, copper, tin, plain iron with which wine or wine may come in contact. Items generally used are: 1. crushing & pressing facilities 2. fermenting vessels which may vary in size with scale of operation needs. 3. one hydrometer. 4. 30 deg. with or without build in thermometer also 1 hydrometer cylinder to hold juice or wine for testing 4. some good quality rubber or tygon tubing, plastic funnel (s), plastic bucket, fermentation lock(s) gauge and sterile cotton 5. storage & aging containers such as gallon jugs, demijohns or barrels, depending on size of operation. Last some bottles with screwcaps or corks.
 Always clean up immediately following each use. This practice saves much time in getting ready for the next use and avoids attraction of flies or possible molding.
 Following the preparation of room, equipment and facilities, the next step is the maintenance of your working facilities.

As the British say, "It was terribly nice" of the British Overseas Airline Corporation (BOAC) to have that birthday party for me last week. There were over 200 guests present.

Of course, it just happened to coincide with their annual gathering for travel agents, writers, etc. The big announcement was the beginning of daily, 747 service, Detroit to London, effective April 30. If you've never flown in one of these spacious "flying hotels" you have a new experience coming.

During our conversation, Russ Schweiger, genial DSM informed me that skiing in Scotland is becoming very popular. There are three areas in the Scottish Highlands, Cairngorm, Cairnwell and Glencoe, where skiing starts officially in December and ends in May.

Serviced mainly by chairlifts and T-bars, altitude ranges from 3,000 to 4,000. Sounds like it would be fun. I wonder if they ski with their kilts on?

THIS EDITION wraps it up for this season's ski articles. Next season I hope to do first hand reporting on skiing in Vail, the Canadian Rockies, Zermatt, Switzerland, plus a few lesser known areas.

If you need information on any area, drop me a line. Of course you're only going to be rid of me for a few weeks. By then I'll have stepped into a phone booth, changed my clothes and emerged as the "Court Jester" with my trusty, never fail tennis racket in hand scouring Observerland in search of news of courts, personalities, equipment, etc.

I'll be offering adult indoor tennis lessons soon with registrants being accepted at the Livonia Family Y starting March 27, for both morning and evening classes. Tennis is a great sport. It gets you out in the fresh air and sunshine, makes you move (which we don't do enough of), can be played all your life, only takes an hour and two people for a good workout and courts can be found in almost every country in the world. You're never too old to learn — try it — you'll like it!

Auf wiedersehen, adios, au revoir, arrivederci, see you around!

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

Any questions about the future aspects of the Wolverine Raceway meeting appear to have been answered over the weekend.

That is as far as business and attendance is concerned. Nothing makes the general manager of a harness racing plant happier than to have a night when the wagering and turnstile count is better than that at the afternoon for the thoroughbreds.

It doesn't happen often and principally on a Friday night — such as last Friday when there were big smiles at Wolverine Raceway after a crowd of 8,436 wagered $598,977 compared to 6,667 and $547,810 at Hazel Park.

IT IS AN indication that Wolverine appears headed for its best meeting, one that may shatter all of the records set a year ago.

Just to go a step father, Wolverine was just short of $700,000 Saturday when a season high of 9,626 turned out and bet $670,484.

That's a high for Michigan this year in both statistics. From all indications it's just a sample of what's ahead.

Hazel Park's business has shown tremendous growth in the past two weeks and with the weather finally breaking, it seems like those who stayed home because of the cold have finally got the "bug" and are practically knocking down the gates to attend the races.

With spring here and with better stables with faster horses due in momentarily from the south and east, both the runners and the trotters are on the verge of hitting highs that will continue throughout the summer and early fall.

It's great to see the sun shine . . . it's great to see the tracks drying out . . . it's great to see horses performing as they should and not plowing through mud, water - logged racing surface with a half - frozen crowd looking on from its regular place along the rail.

It's just great to see things going our way again after so many months of cold, dreary, snowy weather.

THIRTEEN FEATURE races carrying purses in excess of $270,000 will be offered during the Hazel Park meeting now in progress, according to the schedule released by Jack Klucina, racing secretary.

Headlining the program will be the 15th running of the Michigan Derby, a $50,000 race for three year olds, one of the premier events of Michigan's turf season. It will be run on Saturday, June 10 at a mile and a sixteenth.

The Michigan Derby Trial with a purse of $20,000 will be the feature a week earlier, going at one mile. Many of the Derby entries compete in this event.

In addition to the $50,000 prize for the Derby there'll be two other features with purses of $25,000. The Richard A. Connell Stakes will be run at a mile on July 15. It honors the former President of Hazel Park race track.

The James V. Bellanca Memorial Stakes for $25,000 is the top attraction of the closing date of the 132 day meeting, the earliest and longest in Michigan's history. Four events with $20,000 pots are scheduled along with six at $15,000 in what racing director Bert Thompson calls the most attractive stakes program ever offered by Hazel Park.

In addition to the purse the winner of each stake will receive a trophy.

Lawns Aid Ecology

A well kept lawn not only adds beauty, but does much to protect the environment from pollution. A good grass sod permits almost no soil erosion or sedimentation of streams. A lawn holds down dust, keeps air cleaner. The grass absorbs noise, and refreshes the air through oxygenation and transpiration.

It may even absorb some polluting gases. A lawn has a cooling effect in summer, often keeping the ground 40 or 50 degrees cooler.

Spring-Easter Hold Promise Of Rebirth

By BETTY FRANKEL
Special Writer

Easter and spring are inextricably tied together. Both celebrate resurrection and rebirth. In fact, the word "Easter" comes from the same root as the word "east" which refers to the position on the horizon from which the sun rises at the time of the vernal equinox. It is the time when spring officially begins.

Also, in ancient pagan times, an Anglo-Saxon goddess of light and spring was named Eostre. Her festival was celebrated in April and that month was known as Easter - month. We have taken the name of the goddess of spring and the name of her month and endowed it with an even greater meaning.

Easter, thus, is joyously celebrated for the hope it holds for man's spiritual rebirth as well as for the promise of nature's renewal.

We seek eagerly for signs of this renewal - robins returning from their southern sojourn, the first hint of green in the lawns, the brightening gold of willow trees, and the gay blossoms of crocus and other tiny early spring bulbs.

We bring potted flowers into our homes, because spring is not advanced enough to bring many flowers to our gardens. These flowers forced into bloom are cherished for their beauty and for their symbolism.

EASTER LILIES are especially appropriate symbols since their white petals correspond to the use of white in the churches to represent joy and light and purity.

Although the Madonna lily (Lilium candidum), a well-known garden flower, is sometimes forced for Easter, most Easter lilies are Croft lilies or Bermuda lilies or other varieties of the oriental lily known botanically as Lilium longiflorum.

This name refers to the long flower bud and large size of the flower. Almost everyone is familiar with these large white trumpet flowers.

There can be anywhere from a single blossom atop the tail leafy stem to a cluster of nearly two dozen blossoms. These flowers are beautifully fragrant, too.

ALTHOUGH Easter lily bulbs are seldom sold for garden use, they can be planted in the garden. Keep watering the plants even after the petals have fallen. When the foliage turns yellow put the pots in the basement or garage and stop watering. When the weather is warm, plant them in a sunny spot in the garden.

To do this, pull the bulbs from the pot. Don't bother to remove the soil that clings. Just plant the bulbs, soil and all, and then cut back the tops to ground level. Soon another stalk will grow, and you may get another crop of lily flowers in late summer.

In future years the bulbs will sprout in spring and the flowers will appear in mid-summer. These plants are a little tender and may not last many years in the garden, but if they are in a spot that suits them they may thrive for years to come.

PUTTING GREEN of artificial turf is designed for do-it-yourself installation. According to the manufacturer, the home putting course can be constructed in two weekends.

Back Yard Putting Green Has 5 Holes

Along with the nursery catalogs comes a new thought for the home gardener who enjoys his golf game - a five-hole putting green designed for do-it-yourself installation.

Specially created by the Ozite Corporation for use with Lawnscape, their new artificial turf, the home putting course can be installed in two weekends. A three page construction blueprint includes suggestions for landscaping the putting green, which is the focal point of the yard. The plans also give detailed instructions and hints on each step of the construction process.

Plans are available as part of a package offered by building supply dealers. Also included are 24 yards of Lawnscape and five professional putting cups and flags.

The package price is under $300 excluding foundation, and dealers are prepared to advise prospective builders on the kind of foundation materials best suited to their needs and their budgets.

In addition to providing fun for the whole family, the putting green provides a focus for the yard and has the extra, added attraction of requiring very little maintenance.

Ozite recommends washing the artificial turf with the garden hose and using either a broom or an outdoor vacuum to clear off leaves, twigs and other debris. Wintertime maintenance is nonexistent, as all materials will withstand both snow and freezing temperatures without extra care.

Buying a new mower? Many are wondering which mower does a better job — the old reel type or the rotary mower. If you're a rough - and - ready gardener and are thinking about buying a new mower, my advice is to make it a rotary type.

The reel type is gaining in popularity, but it's mainly for the man who wants a perfect lawn. The rotary type mows weeds and all and to me it's one of the greatest boons to home gardening.

How about alternate mowing with a reel mower and a rotary mower? This might make good sense since the rotary mower "sucks up" the clippings, while the reel type clips more cleanly with its scissors action.

Better stick to the rotary mower because it cuts well and leaves the lawn with that well-kept look. In August when the plantain sends up a flower stalk you'll be glad to have a rotary mower, because the reel only knocks it down.

Starting morning glories? Some gardeners have trouble getting the morning glory seed to germinate. The seed coat is hard and bony, but you'll be surprised to see how quickly the seed germinates if you start them in the Jiffy pellets. Keep them moist and WARM ... 80 degrees until germination starts. With the 80 degrees temperature you get seed starting within two days.

Some gardeners start hard-coated seeds such as morning glory, wood roses, etc. by filing a notch in the seed coat, until you see the white meat. This allows moisture to enter and hastens germination.

NOTE: Since the morning glories can be started within a couple of days from seed, wait until May to start your plants. Many start them outdoors, directly in the ground.

Pepper seeds are one of the most stubborn to start indoors. They need plenty of heat — 80 degrees and moisture at all times. Salvia also falls into this group — plenty of heat, or they'll rot before they root.

FREE: Having trouble starting seeds? Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for my guide, "How to Start Seed." The back of this guide has some good tips on growing peppers from seed, right up until time of harvest.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC: "Our geraniums are three feet tall. Is it too late to take cuttings and start new plants?"

Answer: No, make cuttings about four inches long. Remove bottom leaves and insert cuttings in boxes of builder's sand, perlite, vermiculite or plain tap water. After they have rooted, pot them up in a mixture of one third each, sand, peat and loam. Cut the mother plant back to within four inches, and it will form a dandy plant by May or June.

Geranium 'Tree' Is Garden Accent

Plants grown in "tree" or "standard" form have, for generations, been used as accents in the garden — to center a bed, line a path, guide the view to a distant point by the use of a far - off vertical plant.

There are many plants that can be grown as standards. Among the most popular nowadays are lantana and fuchsia.

Heliotrope used to be a favorite and might be again, while the easiest plant to train in tree form is the geranium.

Would you like to grow a geranium tree or perhaps two of them for accents in your garden?

If so, select a strong, sturdy young plant that has a straight, preferably thick stem.

FIND A STAKE strong enough for support and several feet tall (so it doesn't have to be replaced as the plant grows) and place stake and plant in a pot one size larger than the plant is in. Tie plant to stake, allowing space for stem growth.

Remove all side shoots, leaving only the foliage at the top of the plant. As new buds sprout from the trunk, keep them from growing.

Fertilize once a month, keep new stem growth tied to the stake. Water as necessary, allowing soil to become dry on top between waterings.

If the roots become crowded, move stake and plant to a larger pot.

In time your care will result in a sturdy stem with a mass of leaves and flowers on top — a real conversation piece.

It is better to keep the plant in the pot, moving it outdoors in summer, indoors in winter. Handled thus, it will become larger and lovelier each year.

A "TREE" or "standard" plant is a garden conversation piece. This one is a lantana.

A BEDROOM located adjacent to the main living area becomes a visual asset when an old-style swinging door is removed. A floor-to-ceiling, translucent-paneled sliding unit was substituted. To provide a rich background for the bed and to tie the two rooms together, the far wall of the bedroom was covered with the same Masonite brand paneling. Wall-to-wall carpeting was extended into the bedroom to give the appearance of greater expanse.

Gene Krupa To Give Clarenceville Concert

Gene Krupa, the drummer who is credited with moving the drums from the back to the front of the big bands, will appear at Clarenceville's L. E. Schmidt Auditorium, 20155 Middle Belt Road, Livonia, on April 16 at 8 p.m.

He will perform with the Six Star International Jazz Band of Andy Mormile and Al Winters, both originally from New York, but now Detroit based.

TICKETS FOR the Krupa concert will be on sale from 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. on the Thursdays and Fridays preceding the concert. They are priced at $2.50 each.

Mail orders will be filled by Mrs. Jan Slatin, 20394 Louise, Livonia, 48152.

Krupa's appearance at Schmidt Auditorium is being sponsored by the Clarenceville Entertainment Series.

Krupa was the first drummer in jazz history to attain a position of global renown. His steady relentless beat and ever-improving technique made him a vital figure in the years of Benny Goodman's triumphs.

HE WON ALMOST every award available to a jazz musician while fronting his own bands with his showmanship. There are few drummers who have not studied Krupa's methods and hold him in high esteem for his contribution to jazz.

Al Winters played with Benny Goodman in 1962 and his trombone has backed such notables as Bobby Hackett.

GENE KRUPA will be in Clarenceville for a concert Sunday, April 16

Andy Mormile has shared the greats as Woody Herman, stage of New York's Lionel Hampton and Gene Metropole with such jazz Krupa.

Al Pacino Has Hardest Role In 'Godfather'

By EMORY DANIELS
"The Godfather" probably will be film of the year, but if Oscars are given for talent, the "best actor" honor should be given Al Pacino.

Pacino, cast as Michael Corleone, son of the Godfather, was given a difficult role and performed brilliantly. Michael, the innocent, Ivy-league member of the family, transferred from a role of non-involvement to replacement for Don Vito Corleone, played by Marlon Brando.

"The Godfather" gave Michael the independence to stay out of the family's business and that option was taken. Michael dates a nice American girl, daughter of a minister, and behaves like the son of a minister until the decline of the family's fortune leads Michael toward taking an active role in "the business."

ONCE IN THE family business, Michael hardens and eventually takes full command when the Godfather dies from a heart attack. This transformation in character makes the role of Michael much more difficult than that of Don Corleone, whose image is constant.

This is not to underrate Brando's excellent portrayal of the Godfather. But the Godfather never grows in character and remained the strong, firm ruler of the family.

Brando fans will be amazed because he is unrecognizable thanks to the art of a pretty good make-up man, and because the voice, movements and mannerisms are completely atypical of the Brando movie attendees know. Although this masquerade is creative and innovative, it requires a less difficult acting performance than what is demanded of Pacino.

Wise choices in the casting were made in the persons of Robert Duvall as Tom Hagen, Richard Castellano as Clemenza, Diane Keaton and Kay, Abe Vigoda as Tessio, Al Martino as Johnny Fontaine and Lenny Montana as Luca Brasi.

James Cann, however, was not the Sonny Corleone characterized in the book. He should have come out more sassy, disrespectful and impulsive than shown in the film.

THE GODFATHER

now showing at

Americana, Terrace

Rating: R

DIRECTOR FRANCIS Ford Coppola, 31, did an excellent job in structuring the film and keeping the plot honestly close to that of the best-seller by Mario Puzo. Coppola's expertise is best confirmed by the fact that the film is shown for three hours without intermission and without the audience becoming restless.

The plot is the story of the decline of an Italian syndicate in the '40s, because the Godfather refuses to become involved in the drug business. The subsequent gang warfare ruins the old syndicate structure, and Michael emerges as the new type syndicate leader.

Brando describes the film as a collorary to corporate life and the struggles among business magnates to protect territory and control underlings. This is not an apt description, mainly because corporations limit abuses to killing spirits of individuals and usually avoid murdering persons.

Instead, the film is a story of extreme family loyalty and how the syndicate operated in the good old days.

Wolverines Rally Will Help Kids

The Wolverine Four Wheelers, Inc., will meet at 8 p.m., Saturday, April 1, at Rinke Jeep, 38141 Gratiot, Mt. Clemens, to make plans for what promises to be a busy month.

The Wolverines will hold their first night rally, treasure hunt and hound and hare race Saturday, April 22. Held in conjunction with the Ford Motorsports Association, registration will begin at 6 p.m. in the Brennen Pools parking lot, Plymouth Road near Outer Drive. The first car will leave at 7 p.m. There will be a $3 entry fee and dash plaques for all contestants.

PROCEEDS FROM the event will go to the Methodist Children's Home. Last year, the Wolverines raised $150 for recreational equipment for the home.

The club will visit the Detroit Sport Buggy Club Farm (near Ionia) April 8 and 9. Members will leave from the Tel-Twelve Mall, at 7 a.m., April 8, and for those who can only go on Sunday, a group will leave the mall at 7 a.m., April 9.

The club's race team will meet at 8 p.m., Tuesday, April 4, in the home of Claude Conn, 30219 Fink Drive, Farmington. Several Wolverine vehicles will be on display the weekend of April 13-15 in the Livonia Mall, Seven Mile and Middle Belt.

PAM BOURLIER is the new membership secretary of the four-wheel drive club and interested persons should write to her at 802 N. John Daly, Dearborn Heights. Connie Conn of Farmington and Diane Macy of Livonia are the new co-editors of the club newsletter.

Other officers are Baldy Pohl of Allen Park, president; Wayne Macy of Livonia, vice president; Marge Devers of Royal Oak, secretary; Ruth Bowlin of Warren treasurer; Roger Palmer of Detroit, news and film director and Jim Bowlin of Warren, trailmaster.

Films listed in this guide are showing at area theaters. Check the theater listings for the specific theater and time of showings.

THE GODFATHER - Marlon Brando plays the head of the Corleone family in a film which explores the public and private lives of Mafia members. Though it runs three hours, it's an engrossing film. (R, none)

MARY, QUEEN OF SCOTS - Vanessa Redgrave plays Mary Stuart, and Glenda Jackson portrays Elizabeth Tudor. The film is up for five Academy Awards. (GP, A-2)

WHAT'S UP, DOC? - Ryan O'Neal and Barbra Streisand star in this film about an eccentric girl and a music professor. (G, none)

I WANT WHAT I WANT - Transvestism is the topic for this film starring Anne Heywood and Harry Andrews. It's handled with restraint. (R, none)

CISCO PIKE - Kris Kristofferson plays a lad who is on his uppers in California and decides to make some money selling grass for a crooked cop. (R, B)

MADE FOR EACH OTHER - Comes from the same duo who were in "Lovers and Other Strangers." Renee Taylor and Joseph Bologna. It's another adult comedy set in New York. (PG, none)

DIRTY HARRY - Clint Eastwood and Harry Guardino star in a film about cops and robbers and killers. (R, none)

THE GARDEN OF THE FINZI-CONTIS - The plot revolves around anti-Semitism in an Italian town during the reign of the Fascists, and its effects on three young people. It's well done. (R, A-3)

CABARET - Liza Minnelli plays the love-starved promiscuous Sally Bowles, making her way up in the tawdry, pleasure-seeking Germany of the 1930s. (PG, none)

NICHOLAS AND ALEXANDRA - The story of the Russian court before its downfall is told in the grand style. Runs three hours. (GP, A-2)

THE FRENCH CONNECTION - The fight against heroin smuggling on a large scale makes an exciting, realistic detective movie. With Gene Hackman. (R, A-4)

THE HOSPITAL - George C. Scott and Diana Rigg star in this comedy about a plot to use the hospital system to commit several murders. (GP, A-3)

Farmington Artists Plan Show, Sale

Richard Hallagan will be guest artist at the Farmington Artists Club's spring exhibit and sale, set for April 14-16 in the Farmington Masonic Temple, 23715 Farmington Road (at Grand River).

Hallagan will exhibit four pieces of sculpture.

The show will be open Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 5 p.m. Admission is free and refreshments will be served.

The club is now in its eighth year and has a membership of 105 artists from Farmington and surrounding areas. The exhibit is a semi-annual event and will feature an "art on a budget" department (unframed art works). The exhibit will be judged by Katharine Smith, art advisor at the Detroit Artists Market, and Derek Wernher, director of the Pontiac Creative Arts Center. Wernher has taught at the Bloomfield Art Association and Oakland Community College.

Neil Diamond Concert Set

Folk-rock singer and composer Neil Diamond will give a concert at Eastern Michigan University at 8 p.m., Sunday, April 9, in Bowen Field House.

Artrain Visit Sparks Contest

All of Plymouth will be an art gallery next month when Artrain arrives.

Artists from Plymouth and the surrounding suburbs will have an opportunity to win awards and have their work displayed by entering a juried art show being sponsored by the Three Cities Art Club.

The works of art will be displayed by Plymouth merchants in their store windows and the public will be invited to choose the most popular entry by filling in preference ballots.

Awards will be given for best in show and most popular entry, as well as first, second and third place ribbons for each classification. Classifications include paintings, graphics, ceramics, textiles and sculptures.

Entry forms, which are available at the library, at area art supply stores and by calling Mrs. Roger Wright, 298 Blunk, Plymouth, must be mailed no later than April 9, to C. Phelps Hines, P.O. Box 145, Northville, 48167. There is a fee of $1 per entry and a limit of two entries per classification.

Artists will take their work to the Dunning-Hough Library, Main and Church, Plymouth, on April 15. Winners will be announced April 29. The Artrain will be in Plymouth April 19 through May 6.

BOB GIANDILETTI of Livonia and his latest trophy. He became the Michigan 1972 accordion champion this month.

Bob Giandiletti Wins Accordion Competition

Bob Giandiletti, a 15-year-old Bentley High School student, is Michigan's 1972 accordion champion.

He won the award in a competition in Dearborn Heights with "The Wanderer" by Schubert and "Introduzione e Fuga" by Fugazza.

Bob now becomes eligible to compete in the national accordion contest which will be held in July in Washington, D.C.

One of his competitors will be his brother, Mike, 17. The winner of this contest will compete in a world accordion contest.

Bob has been taking lessons for nine years from Tony Dannon and has been competing since he was seven. So far, he has won 35 trophies. His two brothers, Mike, and David, 10, have also taken state and national awards. Altogether they have won 86 trophies.

Bob is in the 10th grade and plays saxophone in the school band.

Entries Sought For Art Show

Applications are now being accepted for the Greenwich Village days sidewalk art show May 12 and 13. This is an annual event held in downtown East Lansing.

Artists wishing to participate may obtain application forms from the East Lansing - Meridian Area Chamber of Commerce, 210 Abbott Road, East Lansing, 48823.

Deadline for submitting applications is April 5. The show is juried, and artists will be requested to submit slides of their work. Approximately 150 artists will be invited to display and sell their work.

Belly Dancing Class Planned

Women who are looking for something fun and exciting to replace old-fashioned exercising may join a special six-week course in belly dancing.

Classes will meet Monday morning at 10 beginning April 3 in the 10 Mile Branch of the Jewish Community Center, 15110 W. 10 Mile, Oak Park. The course is $6 for members and $10 for non-members. Registrations are being taken at the Main Building, 18100 Meyers, Detroit.

Cooley Will Seek OC Sheriff's Post

Lt. Herbert C. Cooley, 45, service training and community liaison officer of the Pontiac Police Dept., said he will seek the Republican nomination for Oakland County Sheriff.

A 21-year veteran of the Pontiac police force who is coordinating an efficiency study of the department, Cooley said his campaign will call for "long overdue upgrading of the Sheriff Department's services."

He said his platform will include establishing higher educational and training standards for deputies, stopping crime within the jail by reforming "intolerable" jail conditions, and moving the department into a leadership role in the "war on illegal drugs in the county."

COOLEY, A Drayton Plains resident, said there is "an obvious lack of concern for in-service training and educational programs on the part of the present administration."

"Today's enforcement officers want high professional standards and the public demands them," Cooley said.

He said that the new jail (scheduled to open this summer) won't change what happens inside the jail and pledged to end the jail's "present role as a factory for criminals."

Cooley said the Sheriff's Dept. should take the lead in anti-drug efforts by coordinating and supporting community drug programs in Oakland County as well as "going all out against the pushers and dealers."

During his 21 years on the police force, Cooley has served in the patrol, traffic, vice and detective bureaus as well as administration. He has attended classes and seminars at several universities providing him with a wide spectrum of law enforcement including juvenile delinquency, homicide investigation and administrative decision making.

IN 1967 HE was elected to the Waterford Township Board. He is a nine-year member of the Pontiac Optimist Club, serving three years on the board.

Criger Elected To Bank Board

Marvin J. Criger, of 454 Arthur, Plymouth, senior vice president of Bank of Dearborn, was elected to the bank's board of directors at the recent annual meeting of shareholders.

Criger, a career banker since 1936, joined Bank of Dearborn as vice president in 1955 and was promoted to senior vice president in 1959. He has served previously as cashier of Plymouth United Savings Bank before its merger into National Bank of Detroit.

Criger is a graduate of University of Detroit with a bachelor's degree in business administration and has completed the School of Banking program at University of Wisconsin. He is a member of the Plymouth Symphony Society and has been a member of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, School Curriculum Committee and Veterans Memorial Foundation. He has been treasurer and two-term president of the Plymouth Community Fund.

MARVIN J. CRIGER

2-Mill Tax Plan Asked By College

The Schoolcraft Board of Trustees endorsed a recommendation that would divide the entire state of Michigan into community college districts and give each authority to levy two mills for operating expenses without a public vote.

The recommendation was made by the Michigan Community College Assn. and has been drawn up in bill form for introduction into the Michigan Legislature.

The districting plan for the state would not affect Schoolcraft's boundaries. Currently members of the Schoolcraft District are Garden City, Plymouth, Northville, Livonia and Clarenceville school districts.

THE BILL WOULD give the college power to levy three-tenths of a mill more for operating expenses than it does at present. Current millage rate is 1.77 mills ($1.77 per $1,000 state equalized valuation) levied for operating expenses.

The plan would affect the Wayne County Community College District (which includes Redford Township), where voters have repeatedly refused to vote for millage to support the college.

The plan would call for election of seven trustees to govern each district, but this provision would not affect Schoolcraft's eight-member board because Schoolcraft is defined under a separate provision in the Community College Act.

State Curriculum Control Under Fire

The role of the State Board of Education in curriculum planning came under fire in a discussion among Schoolcraft College trustees last week.

The Schoolcraft board unanimously supported a plan to limit the state board's role to coordination and planning—not supervision and control of programs.

Schoolcraft's action was prompted by recent action taken by the Michigan Community College Assn. (MCCA).

THE MCCA ASKED its members to take a position on a recent action of the state board. The state board adopted five basic responsibilities, including the right "to approve or disapprove all proposals for the establishment of new public institutions, and to approve or disapprove the establishment of new programs or the continuance of existing programs at public institutions."

Schoolcraft trustees agreed that the state board plays a valuable role in coordination but should not have the power to determine which programs should be offered and which should be discontinued.

"I personally don't think we should have to run to the state board every time we want to make a change in our curriculum," trustee Arch Vallier said.

Dr. Robert Keene, vice president of instruction, explained that the college currently must get approval for new programs through the state board. This approval then guarantees that the college will be reimbursed for the instruction.

It has never happened to Schoolcraft that the board has rejected a program, Dr. Keene said.

THE RESOLUTION passed by the trustees states that "no issue is more vital to the supervision and control of community colleges than the establishment of new programs and the discontinuance of existing programs."

It further states that "only locally elected boards, with the advice and recommendations of their administrative staff, have the knowledge, expertise and understanding of the needs of their respective communities and institutions to make decisions regarding programs."

The motion defines the state board's "constitutional role and responsibility" as one of coordination and planning, "not control of higher education."

Find Out About OCC Programs

Groups interested in learning about Oakland Community College's innovative approach to education can have a college representative explain the programs.

Arrangements can be made by contacting Betty Setz, director of community relations, at the college's central office, 2480 Opdyke, Bloomfield Hills.

The college employs a series of "no-fail" tests to determine how students use their senses and approach learning situations. Each student goes through the three-hour "diagnostic testing" and then is given a computer print out of his learning patterns and strengths and weaknesses.

The approach is proving "more successful and stimulating" for students according to Mrs. Setz.

Brand Names Honors Chatham

Chatham Supermarkets announced it has received a "certificate of distinction" in the Class I food stores category in Brand Names Foundation's retailer-of-the-year competition.

Chatham said its award was for "good retail citizenship, consumer protection and outstanding merchandising practices in 1971." The award will be presented April 20 in New York.

Bridge Fans In Tourney

Area bridge players are among the 4,000 persons taking part in the spring national tournament of the American Bridge League in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Topping their section in the Oakley pairs, a one-session championship, were Bernie Kent of 1973 Weyer, Livonia, and Bob Webber, of Farmington.

W.H. Dougherty of Forest View, Southfield playing with Diane Johnson of East Lansing, topped their section and were second overall in the Kahn's Weiners Pairs one-session championship.

Six major titles were decided in the tournament.

Planning Execs Set Seminar

The Planning Executives Institute has scheduled a seminar on planning and evaluation Friday, April 21, at the Sheraton Inn in Woodhaven.

Edward J. Green, president of Planning Dynamics, Inc., will conduct the seminar.

Objectives of the seminar are to give an understanding of changing managerial requirements and to explore the application of dynamic planning techniques to increase management effectiveness.

Registrants participate in group discussions and in workshop.

For details about the seminar, contact Mr. Pete Van Hull of Arthur Andersen & Co.

K.O. Near For Elm Disease?

New research findings in Michigan State University bring hope that the 1970s might see the end of major Dutch elm disease outbreaks in Michigan.

Dr. Jonathan W. Wright, MSU forestry scientist, has been evaluating some 30,000 elm trees imported from Europe and Asia and says, "We are betting that we already have elm varieties with enough resistance to survive the disease."

And Dr. James Butcher, MSU entomologist, is optimistic about "natural" control for the bark beetle that transmits Dutch elm disease. The "natural control" in the form of a parasite, Dendrosoter protuberans, has been established near Detroit by Dr. Butcher. If the parasite spreads throughout the state, it could be an important factor in stopping Dutch elm disease.

Anti-Bussing Gets 6-2 Vote

LANSING Observerland representatives split 6-2 in favor of an anti-bussing parliamentary maneuver which was lost last week in the State House of Representatives.

Favoring the maneuver were Democrats John Bennett of Redford, Thomas Brown of Westland, Jame Tierney of Garden City and Richard Young of Dearborn Heights, along with Republicans Raymond Baker of Farmington and James Denebaugh of Birmingham.

Opposed were Democrats Marvin Stempien and Joseph Forbes of Oak Park, both of whom are generally found on the liberal side of controversial issues.

THE VOTE was 53 in favor (with 56 needed for passage) and 43 against a motion to remove an anti-bussing proposal from a hostile committee.

The Committee on Amendment and Revision of the Constitution has refused to release for floor debate a proposed constitutional amendment.

That amendment would prohibit assigning pupils to a specific school to achieve racial balance without the written permission of a child's parent or guardian.

Ironically, the amendment, when introduced, was co-sponsored by 76 representatives.

The discharge maneuver was supported by 20 Democrats and 33 Republicans and opposed by 32 Democrats and 14 Republicans with five Republicans not voting.

Proponents argued that people are becoming hysterical about bussing and should have a chance to vote on it.

Opponents charged the amendment would only fan the flames of hysteria and "play on the weakness of people."

GARY R. GLOTZHOBER of 30643 S. Wendybrook Ct., Farmington, has been appointed an assistant director of Sinai Hospital, Detroit. He will be responsible for communications services, radiology, laboratory medicine and central schedule services. A native of Dearborn, Glotzhober earned degrees at the University of Michigan in business administration and hospital administration.

New Contracts For 21 At SC

Contracts for 21 Schoolcraft College administrators were renewed by the board of trustees after an "executive" (closed-door) session.

According to the master contract for the Schoolcraft College Assn. of Administrative and Professional Personnel (SCAAP), the administrators are constantly on two-year contracts. Every year the contracts are renewed for an extended year unless they are notified prior to March 1.

Ronald Griffith, community services director, and Richard Saunders, fine arts director, were issued second-year probationary contracts.

CONTRACT EXTENSIONS were granted to:

Russell Bogarin, financial aids director; Robert Breithaupt, culinary arts director; Patrick Butler, librarian; Richard Chatham, data processing manager; Norman Dunn, registrar; Marvin Gans, physical education director.

Barbara Geil, admissions director; Ronald Monfette, apprenticeship director; Ann Moore, purchasing agent; Harriett Sattig, health careers director; John Webber, counseling director; and Fred Wrenbeck, security supervisor.

After completing two years of probation, the following instructors were given regular contracts: Roland Anderson, business education director; Clay Fechter, social sciences director; David Heinzman, public relations director; Richard Holmes, technology director; Louise Huston, accountant; Lawrence Ordowski, liberal arts director; and Norman Wheeler, math and science director.

Student Loans Are Delinquent

A total of $414 in student loans was declared delinquent and the deficit was transferred to the Scholarship and loan account by the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees last week.

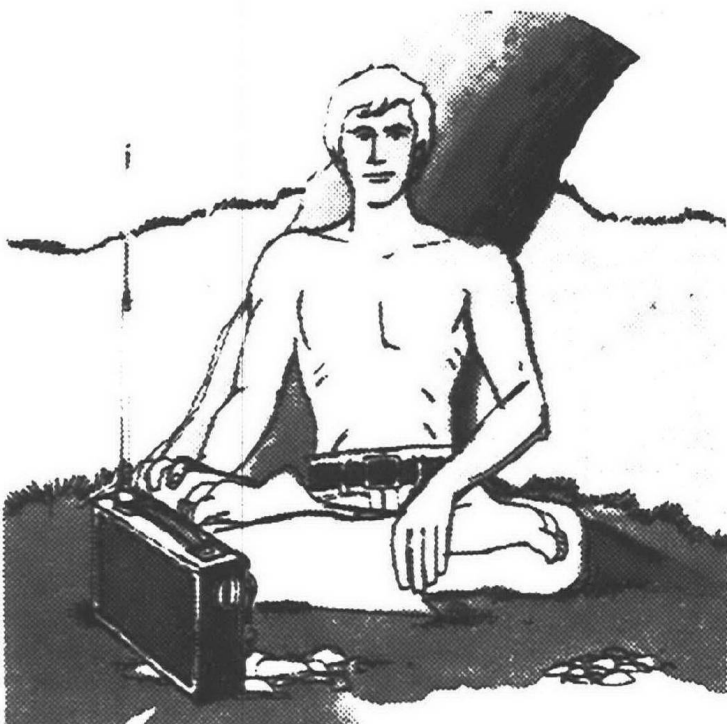

LILLIAN B. BATES of Livonia has been appointed manager of the personnel and administrative services department of Ford's customer service division. Mrs. Bates joined Ford as a marketing staff secretary eight years ago and went to the customer service division a year ago. She is a director of the International Assn. of Personnel Women and holds memberships in the Women's Economic Club of Detroit, Personnel Women of Detroit and the President's Michigan Advisory Council of the Status of Women.

THE FISHER 450-T 180-Watt-Remote Control Receiver

A truly magnificent unit, with a vast array of features and a huge power reserve. Ideal for the dedicated audiophile, as well as all those to whom the life-like reproduction of a variety of entertainment and educational materials on records, tape and FM is an important part of daily living.

THE FISHER XP-65

Free-Piston 3-way Speaker System

The Fisher XP-65 reproduces the entire audio spectrum from an incredibly low 33 Hz to beyond the limits of human hearing (20,000 Hz). The XP-65 is capable of such fantastic bass because it has high-efficiency bass driver with a heavy magnet structure and a highly compliant half-roll surround. Crossover takes place at 600 Hz, at which point the sealed, separately enclosed 5-inch mid-range driver smoothly takes over. Crossover from mid-range to treble occurs at 3,000 Hz. The treble speaker is an extremely wide-dispersion cone-type tweeter that provides transparent and brilliant reproduction of the high end of the audio spectrum. The low-mass tweeter cone accounts for the especially good transient response the speaker delivers. A special fibrous damping material prevents annoying distortion caused by cone resonance.

Can We Develop Land Rationally?

By DAN MCCOSH

"Do the laws secure our land?" was the question posed at a symposium recently at Oakland University.

Politics and land? Money and power? The stuff of great discussions, all right. It was one portion of a series sponsored by "The Citizens Council for Land Use, Research and Education."

The purpose: "Exploring possible alternatives in order to secure Oakland County's land 'through rational development,'" according to the promotional brochure.

Secure our land? From what? For whom? The 20 assembled experts on land use were in constant conflict on these basic questions, but rarely addressed themselves to these issues directly.

FOR EXAMPLE William H. Whyte, author of "The Organization Man" and amateur land-use expert, made the remark, "The New Jersey authorities missed a great opportunity when a hurricane on the Jersey shore swept shanty towns into the ocean; they could have picked up the land cheap, but they didn't have the money available."

In contrast, Paul Masserman, from the Oakland County UAW-CAP, posed the question "Why does the Michigan Dept. of Natural Resources stock lakes with public funds and then refuse to provide public access to them?"

It would have made a great confrontation between the elitist, New England country squire Whyte, and the populist, land-use-to-the-people Masserman, but unfortunately they spoke two hours apart and never faced each other directly.

THE SYMPOSIUM attempted to explore the land-use laws, including zoning, open housing, home rule, state control and eminent domain, and how these laws related to land use.

The topics in the all-day seminar included:

- The Heavy Hand of History.
- Home Rule.
- Should The State Retrieve Its Power?
- Ways to Save The Land (legal and otherwise).
- Review of site plans through a regional planning agency.

- Property tax benefits for 'open space'.
- Cluster housing and site-oriented architecture.

WHYTE WAS unconvinced it was possible to end "urban sprawl" and felt it was only possible to control it and make the result as pretty as possible.

Agreement came from a discussion group on the roads, including Robert Boatman, planning director of Michigan highways; Charles F. Leman, of Villikan-Leman Assoc.; Christopher Wzaczny, architect, and Margaret Evans, planning commissioner from West Bloomfield Township.

The discussion briefly mentioned the relationship between sprawl and the expressway. "the way most people want to live," according to Leman.

Rapid transit was supported in principle by all participants.

"We are all in favor of rapid transit. It would get all those other cars off the expressway and leave it for ourselves," Mrs. Evans commented.

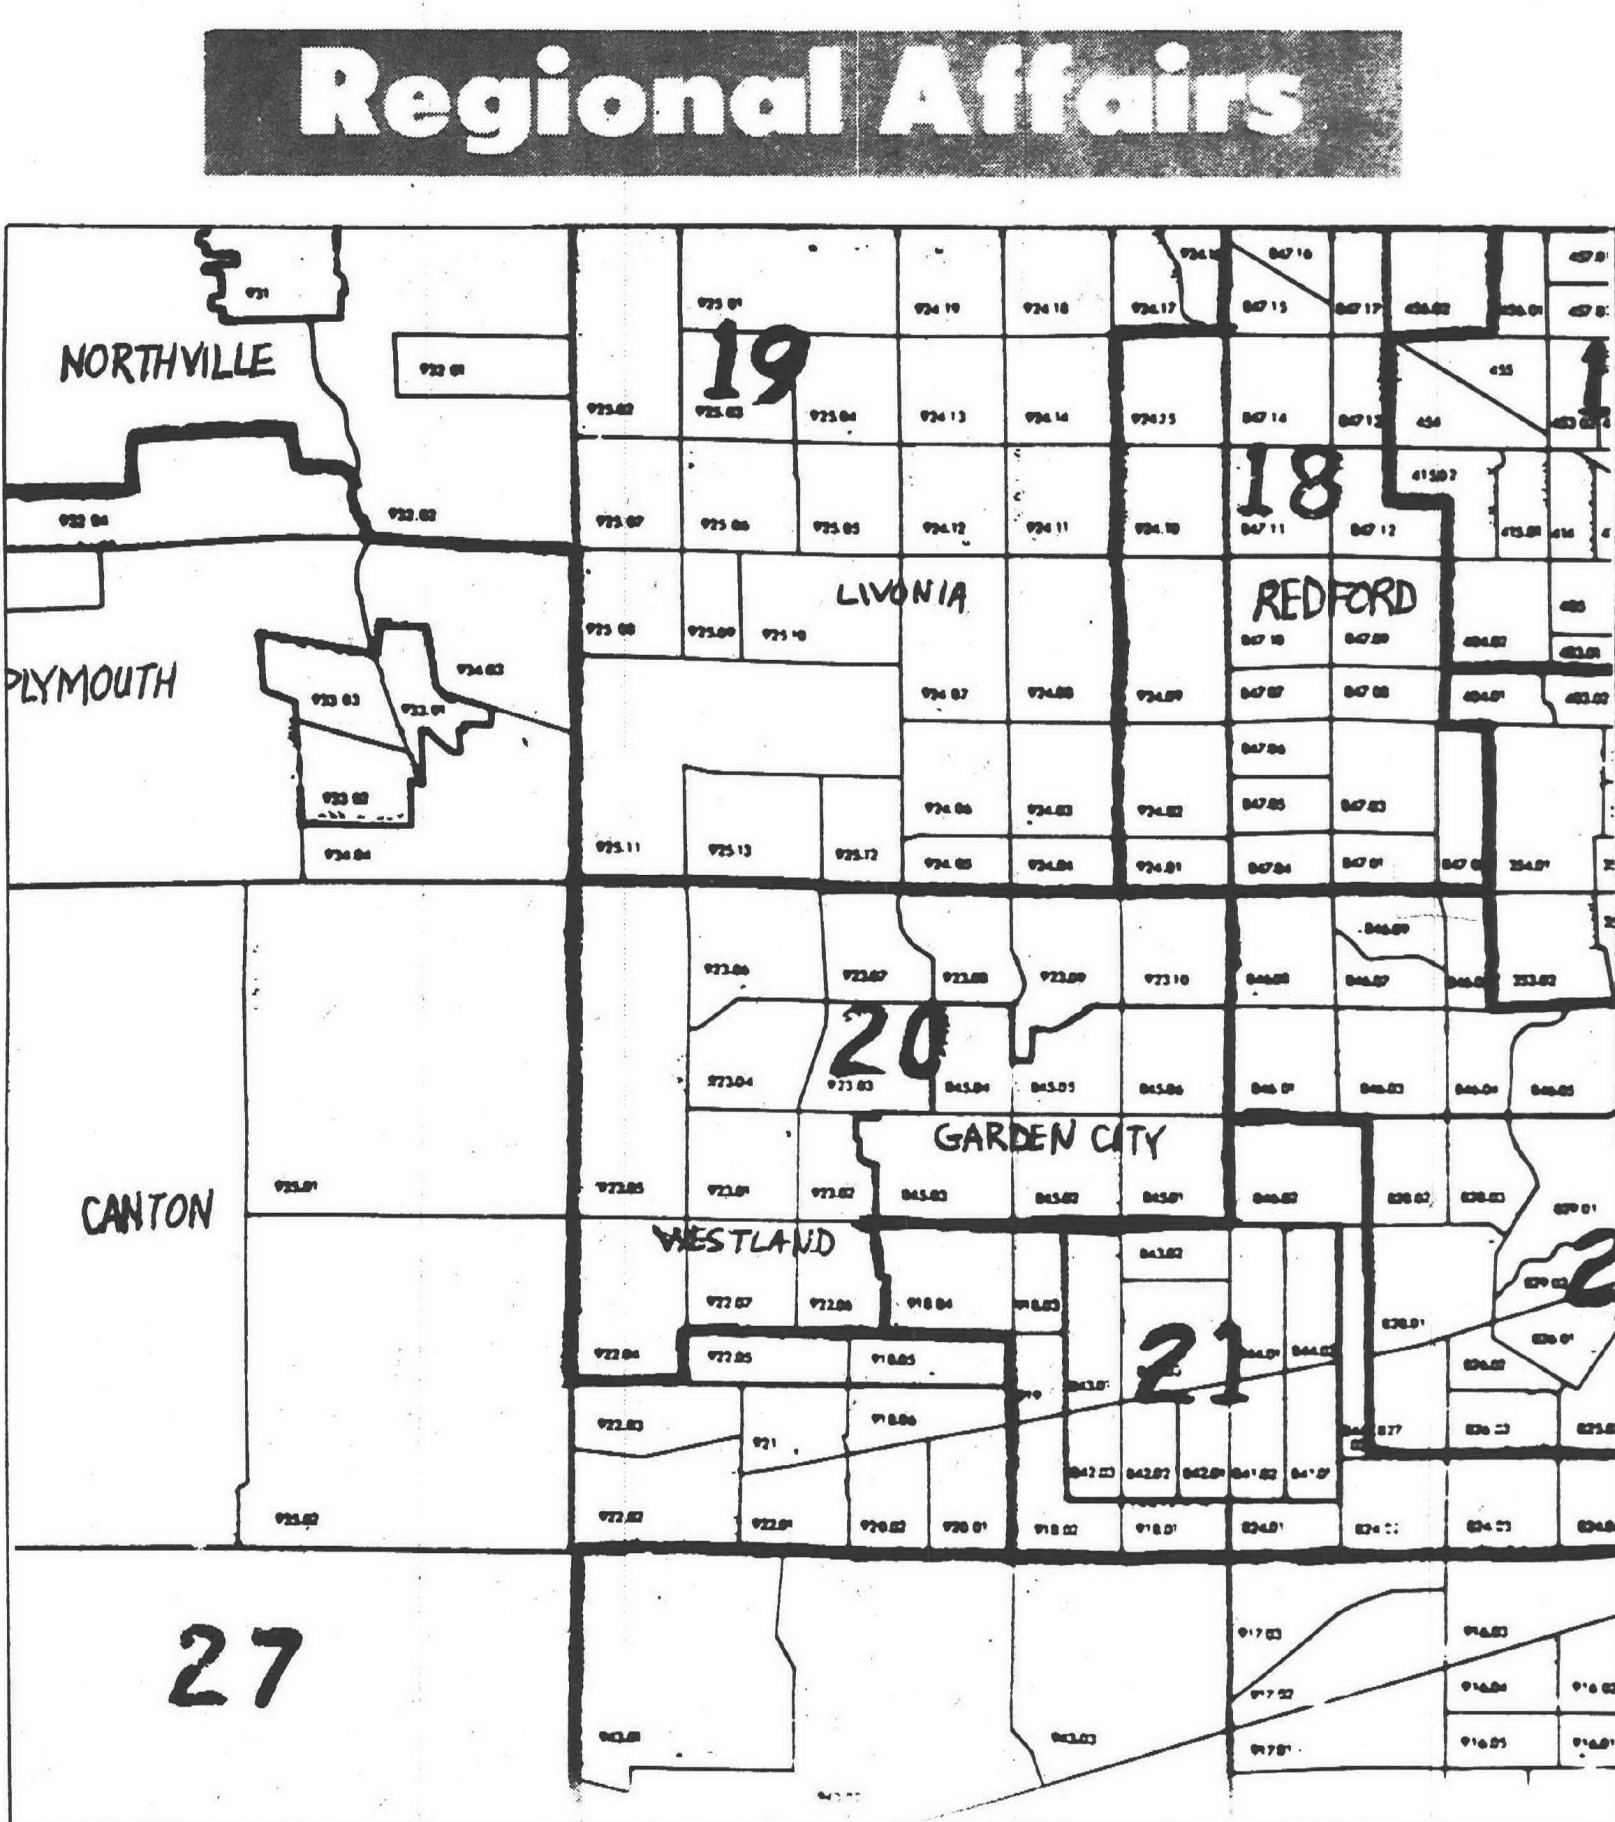

THE LAW since the 13th century has pretty much guaranteed the right of the property owner in western society, according to John Mogk, from the Wayne State law school.

Mogk discussed the topic "The courts say land has social value" and outlined the limits placed on property owners powers in the United States.

Restrictive deed covenants, subdivision "associations", and the oversized lot requirements have been successfully attacked before the U.S. Supreme Court under the "equal protection" clause of the U.S. Constitution.

Deed restrictions against the sale to religious or racial minorities were first attacked shortly after the abolition of slavery, but remained intact until 1945, when they were struck down by the Supreme Court in the case of Shelly vs. Kramer.

Subdivision associations "buyback" agreements have also been successfully attacked, along with some cases of restrictive zoning, according to Mogk.

West Suburbs To Gain 2 County Board Seats

While the exact boundary lines have not yet been established, there will be a general revision in the makeup of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners based on an equal distribution of the population as determined by the 1970 census.

As a result, the commission will be increased from 26 to 27 members; the inner city will lose a seat, and the out-county area will gain two new districts in which no incumbent now resides.

The two new districts will be No. 21, which is largely the City of Inkster, and No. 27 which is all of the area west of Haggerty Road from the City of Northville to the Monroe County line.

Districts No. 5 and No. 6 are being combined into one district where incumbents Hugh Ferguson and Charles Currie will face each other for the seats in the August primary. Highland Park and Hamtramck also are being combined, and this is the area in which former chairman Albert Zak resides. The Grosse Pointes also are being combined into a single district.

IN THE GENERAL reshuffling, Observerland's three commissioners have seen their areas changed considerably.

Commissioner John McCann (D-Livonia) has lost that portion of his original district lying west of Haggerty with the exception of that portion of a line drawn between Five and Six Mile Road. He also loses the portion, east of Middle Belt, which has been shifted over to Richard Manning (D - Redford Township).

Manning's district will include nine square miles of Livonia and a few blocks of northwest Detroit.

Commissioner James McCartney (D - Westland) loses Inkster from his district.

A new district will include part of Northville Township, the Plymouth community, Canton Township, the City of Wayne and a strip down to the county line.

UNDER THIS rough draft of new districts, including the two new ones, the population is set at approximately 98,000-99,000 in each district.

And while his district was shaved on both east and west sides, McCann still will have the largest number of constituents -- 100,037.

The Wayne County Election Commission now is working on the refinement of the new plan, and a final report is expected within the next month.

When the plan is finalized, Districts 21 and 27 will be areas where no incumbent resides, and it means that new names will be on the primary ballot seeking the vacant seats.

While originally established as a 26-man board, it has the right to increase in size to 29 members, depending on population trends.

Creativity And Health Stressed In 'Y' Classes

LIVONIA
The Livonia Family Y will offer a variety of camping experiences to young people in the area this summer.

For the mini-set, the "Y" has a Kiddie Kamp that will provide opportunity for pre-kindergarten (four-five year olds) boys and girls to enjoy an experience away from home. This three-day-a-week program helps them adjust to leaving home while having fun in crafts, swimming and games.

BOYS AND GIRLS five-eight years old will enjoy Fun Camp. Swimming, crafts, nature lore, group games and plain fun can make this a summer experience for your child. Bus service is provided for all children in Livonia.

Being located at the "Y" and Hines Park keeps your child close to home, under good supervision and enjoying the summer months.

"Tall Timbers" is an exciting, adventurous funtime for boys and girls 8-12 years-old in day camping. Exploring the camp ground at Ohiyesa, boating, fishing, horseback riding, crafts, swimming, nature lore, camp crafts and an overnight highlight an experience at this camp. Group fun and individual learning can be a worthwhile experience for your child.

This summer all YMCA resident campers will attend Camp Nissokone located near Oscoda. Boys and girls 8-17 years of age will enjoy horseback riding, boating, nature lore, camp crafts, sports and aquatics. Transportation to and from camp will be provided.

ADDITIONAL ADVENTURES for the older boys aged 14 to 17 include Canadian tripping, back packing, and outpost wilderness survival camping.

All Y youth camps will operate in two-week sessions as follows: June 26 to July 8, July 10 to 22; July 24 to Aug. 5; and Aug. 7-19.

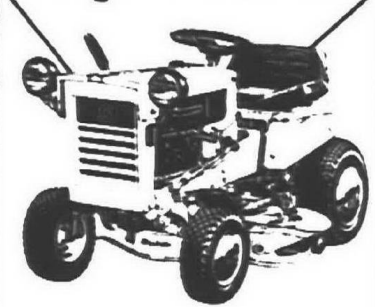

Tent and trailer camping is also available for families at Camp Ohiyesa near Milford and complete one-week family camp is planned for Nissokone from Aug. 27 to Sept. 2nd.

Dal R. Yanke Training In Field Work

Army Pvt. Dal R. Yanke, 17, son of Bruce I. Yanke, 17551 Rexwood, is assigned to Ft. Ord, Calif., where he is training under the modern volunteer Army field experiment.

The new concept, called VOLAR, combines basic and advanced individual training into a single 16-week program. Decentralized instruction at the unit level and a reduction of formations and inspections gives the soldier more time to train and increased off-duty time. Fewer restrictions on off-duty travel and improved living facilities are other benefits of the VOLAR concept.

Pvt. Yanke began his training with Company A, 4th Battalion of the 2nd Brigade and is scheduled to complete the first phase on April 28.

The soldier is a 1971 graduate of Clarenceville High School.

The soldier's mother, Mrs. Sandra S. Yanke, lives at 21437 Oxford, Farmington.

Franklin Hosts Consumer Day

LIVONIA
Consumer education from many views was the subject of the third in a series of symposiums held at Franklin High School.

The school invited representatives of consumer organizations to a two-hour consumer awareness day program at Franklin. The school, in response to the new 18-year-old age of majority law, has sponsored information sessions on political participation and legal aspects of adulthood.

C. Lane Breidehstein, president of the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Detroit, delivered an address to about 600 students. After the assembly, the students had a chance to ask questions of a group of resource people in small seminar sessions.

Also attending the symposium where Diane M. Place, consumer specialist for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; Albert G. Isaac, consumer protection division of the state Attorney General's office; Dianne McKaig, executive director, Michigan Consumer Council; Frank Baker, director of the insurance bureau of the State Department of Commerce and John Criner, extension home economist, Michigan State University.

Pay Boosts Affect Navy

LIVONIA
Young men and women now enlisting in the U.S. Navy receive 100 per cent more pay each month than they were receiving. This is due to the largest military pay raise in history, 2.4 billion plus a 7.2 per cent raise which became effective Jan. 1.

While attending recruit training at either Great Lakes, Ill., Orlando, Fla. or San Diego, Calif., a young man will be earning $288 each month, compared to $134 which a recruit formerly earned.

After taxes and deductions, a recruit now receives a twice-a-month pay check of $123. In addition, if the recruit is married he will receive an additional tax free $105 each month, increasing his pay check to $178 twice a month. Upon completion of recruit training (nine weeks), he will automatically be promoted to pay grade E-2 and receive an additional $32.70 per month. This brings a bachelor's pay to $320.70 before taxes.

OBSERVATION POINT

Detroit's Cultural Centers Need Help From Suburbs

Do the suburbs have a responsibility to the core City of Detroit?

A lot of us living in the suburbs frequently take advantage of the Detroit Zoo, or the Institute of Arts, or the Historical Museum. All these institutions are supported by the City of Detroit, and all of them are in trouble because of sharp Detroit budget cutbacks. Ought the suburbs to help them out?

Good questions, these. And at least two residents of the suburbs and one local city council feel the answer should be "yes."

LAST WEEK, C.M. King, a Farmington resident, sent a letter to the city council inquiring whether the city ought to consider donating $6,000 to Detroit to help finance the institutions enjoyed and often used by Farmington residents.

King suggested that $2,000 each should be sent to the art and historical museums, the zoo, and the library system. "We are a normal educated, middle-class, bedroom community of this great metropolitan area," remarked King. "Our culture, especially as it pertains to our children, is in no small way dependent on the metropolitan culture centers.

"I believe the good example of Farmington would be followed in good time by other suburban communities as they realize how dependent they are on these superb Detroit facilities," King concluded.

IN DISCUSSING the letter, the Farmington council agreed that the city could not spare the six grand. But the council did not just drop the idea; there was discussion about ways in which help could be given.

One thought endorsed by Farmington Mayor Wilbur Brotherton is to amend the Detroit city charter to allow cultural institutions such as the zoo or art institute to charge admissions. The current charter prohibits admissions fees, and Detroit Mayor Roman Gribbs is backing the proposed change.

The Institute of Arts recently started asking visitors for voluntary donations at the front door, and so far the only question raised is whether Detroit residents paying Detroit taxes should be asked to contribute.

Acting Farmington City Manager Robert Deadman likes the idea of changing the Detroit charter, too. He also raises the possibility that Detroit's cultural institutions might be re-cast into a metropolitan regional authority, similar to the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority, which has had successful experience with area-wide parks programs.

"There is a fair chance that the council would adopt a resolution supporting the Gribbs' amendment (to Detroit's charter)," Brotherton summarized. "There is something to be said for the observation that persons who use these facilities should pay."

ANOTHER INDICATION OF suburban support for Detroit cultural institutions could be seen at last week's Fash - Bash, a benefit fashion show and auction sponsored by the Institute of Arts' Junior Council. The bash was a big cocktail party thrown at a downtown hotel, with various area celebrities modeling donated fashions and bids going to benefit the institute's youth theater program.

In addition to the usual folks from Grosse Pointe and the Lafayette Park area downtown, there were a lot of people from the suburbs out here in attendance.

One was Erwin Link, who lives in Redford Township and runs a business in Livonia. He came out of the evening with two suits of clothes more and $280 less in his pocket.

Was it worthwhile? "You bet it was," Link said. "The suburbs should get involved in the cultural institutions in Detroit. After all, they serve the entire area, and they should be supported by everybody who can, regardless of where they live."

I THINK Farmington's King, the Farmington mayor and council, and Redford's Link all deserve a pat on the back.

Each in their way has recognized that cultural institutions in the area serve all of us in the area, regardless of what city houses them.

Questions involving culture and the quality of our lives cannot be limited to the City of Detroit. They cannot be stopped at the Eight Mile Road.

The cultural institutions in Detroit are too important to this entire area to be allowed to collapse under Detroit's financial crisis.

Suburban help is needed, and it's nice to see it coming.

Local Talent Tops Theatrical Heap In Metropolitan Area

By BETTY MASSON

"Although we got rave reviews, we lost $400" is the plaintive comment in the Wayne - Westland Civic Theater's description of its 1964-65 season.

The Livonia - Redford Theater Guild has regularly skirted the thin line between solvency and disaster in its almost 20 years of existence... and just as regularly received rave reviews.

Today we join the communities concerned in congratulating LRTG on winning the Detroit City Theater Association award for having the best production; the Wayne - Westland Civic Theater for having Rosemary Moorehead, the best director; and Redford Township for having the best actress.

The amazing part is that without taking away any credit from the actresses and actors who took part in the productions in Detroit, both groups could have "fielded" two or three other casts capable of doing equally as well.

We know. We've been "raving" about them for a long time, along with the Farmington Players and the Plymouth Theater Guild which almost went down for the count, but is getting under way again.

THE COMMUNITY theaters' victories, plus the opening concert this month of the Westland Civic Symphony, seem to point up the fact that there is a real growth of interest in culture in the suburbs.

We wouldn't venture to say that community theaters won't have any more financial problems. The LRTG will probably have to use some of its $1,000 prize money on such a mundane, unromantic project as building up its back door so all its sets and costumes won't get washed away in the spring floods.

But we can assure of our continuing sympathy and support.

The suburbs certainly have problems, but there are some awfully good things going on here too. Some of the best are happening in the arts.

WHY DO PEOPLE get so involved in these sorts of things? Because the everyday, the humdrum have never been enough for mankind. It's the same kind of challenge that drove Columbus to find out what was beyond the horizon.

We all want a challenge, a pride in achievement and a change in our everyday lives.

The arts, far from being "sissy" stuff, can provide this kind of challenge.

An actress about to make an entrance feels the same sort of delicious panic that a racing driver feels before the flag goes down.

The arts are unusual because they are areas in which young and old work together in harmony. Their growth is the best thing that could happen with all this talk about alienation and the generation gap.

Right now culture seems to be snowballing in Observerland.

CONSIDER:

The Westland Symphony began rehearsals in January and gave its debut concert this month. Between 500 and 600 persons turned out to hear it. Fifty musicians are in it.

Madonna College has just presented its first full-length drama; Oakland Community College's drama department is expanding rapidly and its auditions are often open to all members of the community; and at Schoolcraft College a group of students and a creative teacher, Ralph Kelly, are spending their Sundays writing and rehearsing an original rock opera.

At least two groups, in Livonia and Westland, have been formed in the past year to present children's plays. In Farmington, a group of college and high school students are planning to stage plays during the holidays.

Also in Farmington, the Musicales is rehearsing an original musical written by two of its members.

Artrain comes to Plymouth April 19, and there are a host of events planned around this under the direction of the Plymouth Fine Arts Council. Plans include a competition for area artists sponsored by the Three Cities Art Club and the Plymouth Symphony is building its April 16 concert around the Artrain theme.

Farmington artists will have their semi-annual show next month.

The Clarenceville Entertainment Series is already working on plans for next year. And much, much more.

The opportunities for creativity and self-expression are growing every day. And we think this is great!

A Different Girl Each Year

By APRIL KORNMILLER
Farmington

When my parents virtually buttoned up my coat, packed my suitcase and sent me off to college in the fall of '68, they waved good-bye to an enthusiastic girl anxious to be educated. When I returned home in June, having tasted of that forbidden fruit, my parents opened the door to an angry young lady who spoke of war and peace, racism and oppression.

This self-styled "revolutionary" returned home disillusioned and saddened by a violent sophomore year which culminated in the deaths of students at Kent State and Jackson State in the spring. My third year was one of self-examination and at least partial self-acceptance, while my fourth year's experiences are only half begun.

MY PARENTS, who love me and are concerned about what kind of person I become,

DISSENT

View points expressed in DISSENT do not necessarily reflect those of Observer Newspapers Inc., but are presented in the belief that publication of all segments of thought on a public issue is a prerequisite to understanding and progress.

have viewed each year with increasing discern as each successive homecoming brought a different girl from that high school senior they had been so proud of.

The most threatening thing for them was the realization that these changes in their daughter were not just brief fazes after which I would become my old high school self again; but that they were stages in the evolution of a person that would outwardly be very different from the daughter they had known.

Rather than accepting the fact that I had become my own individual self of my own free will, they chose to blame the big bad university at East Lansing for corrupting me.

I firmly believe that attaching blame to a large university and the "dark elements" connected with it for corrupting today's youth is a cop-out, for it doesn't give credit where the credit is due. If parents disapprove of what their children have become, they themselves are the source of the problem, for they're the ones (by their example) who gave us values to respect and follow.

A source of even greater disagreement is our assessment of today's youth. My parents look at our dress, our speech, our opinions and actions and judge them as being bad, while I see these same things and say they're beautiful.

There is an obvious difference now in the way the younger generation dresses. My parents term it "sloppy" (I fondly call it "grubby") and say it reflects a lack of concern for our persons; for they believe that a person's outer appearance reflects the same general state of mind.

My parents and I agree to the extent that I also believe that our casual dress reflects our inner thoughts -- we do place less of an emphasis on outer appearance. If you feel as I do that clothes don't necessarily reflect a person's character, then what a person wears is not of major importance.

Our casual dress is also a reflection of the greater leisure time Americans today have -- as much a reflection of our affluent society as the four day work week and the trend towards casual sportswear in fashionable society.

ANOTHER REASON for the way we dress is economical. It is less expensive to wear jeans than skirt and sweater outfits and many of us, while going through school, don't have the luxury to be clothes conscious.

Wearing slacks rather than skirts is also a matter of practicality in cold and damp weather and a matter of comfort in warm times.

Our dress may be influenced by the college atmosphere -- to the extent that if we are competing against each other at all, it is not over material acquisitions but rather academically. Our effort and our graded performance are more a criteria for advancement by the University establishment than the clothes we own.

Yes, our attitudes and actions are different from that of our parents, for we have grown up in a time much different from the post-depression years. My orientation is not towards the acquisition of material goods because, let's face it -- I've grown up in the wealthiest nation on earth and it is highly unlikely I shall ever go hungry or starve from malnutrition as other peoples do.

Examining the state of our troubled nation, however, I cannot equate prosperity with greatness and I search now for a humaneness in life to complement our technological advancements.

Don't expect me to be future-oriented as you have been. My world has been the world of Cold War and nuclear strike capabilities, and in such a world I do not think in terms of grandchildren.

So rather I concentrate on "where it's at" -- now -- and on making the most of myself (whatever that may be) and of my relationships with people.

Whether you can understand what I'm saying or not, don't blame college for this attitude. University life did give me the opportunity to expand in many different directions; I was the one who chose my paths.

Bad Jail Violates Inmates' Rights

EDITOR:
In response to Tim Richard's editorial on the millage proposal to build a new Wayne County Jail:

His implication that the court made a political decision (in part, "It's quite another thing when a court tells us to levy taxes and spend millions of dollars on some buildings") is a distortion of the truth.

The ruling of the Wayne County Circuit Court was that the conditions in the Wayne County Jail were so horrible that they constituted "cruel and unusual punishment" in violation of the inmates' eighth amendment rights.

The judges charged that the jail was unsanitary; that plumbing, heating and wiring systems were totally inadequate; that vermin were rampant; that medical attention given to inmates was unsatisfactory; that no psychiatric attention is given to mentally ill or potentially suicidal inmates; and that inmates were kept in a position of "forced idleness," with no exercise, in an "intolerable, dehumanizing overcrowding fraught with potential for epidemics and riots."

Their findings dealt with violations of the constitutional rights of the inmates. (And "inmates" in the Wayne County Jail are those prisoners who have not yet come to trial, those presumed innocent until proven guilty.)

So, it was not the judges that ordered a new jail. The Wayne County, Board of Commissioners made that decision.

His article goes on to criticize plans of Michigan's Human Rights Party to instigate a similar suit against the state prison system, by saying: "I'm hoping the radicals, if they really want to be worthy of their name, will drop their plan for an anti-prison suit and devote that money instead to campaigning for the jail system."

I call your attention to a portion of Philip Power's column that ran the same day, same page, as the jail editorial, "Wayne County could build a new jail and pay for the bonds by more property taxes -- without a vote of the people." He referred to the implications of the recent state Supreme Court ruling that "there were, in effect, no real limits to local property taxes."

If you felt Human Rights Party efforts were so important to this millage campaign, why didn't you attack the composition of the 60 prominent citizen committee appointed to wage the campaign itself?

If the court's ruling on such a matter is so abrasive to you, why haven't you charged the Legislature with dereliction of its duties? Their actions could have prevented any such case from having to go to court.

Indeed, why haven't you criticized the commissioners themselves for wasting the time of a 60 prominent citizen committee when all they have to do is levy the taxes required, as Mr. Power pointed out, and they could go on to other problems?

JEANEANE HAVSTAD,
Chairperson
Human Rights Party of Michigan
Livonia

EDITOR'S NOTE: Since the two editorials were written, Wayne County Board Chairman Robert FitzPatrick has stated: "We have to go to the people as far as we are concerned. I think we would want the public to know that we were not going to build a jail without a vote, but that the court said 'you will build a jail and levy the taxes necessary'."

In addition, after Mrs. Havstad's letter was received, the court itself said: "Positive action to make a new jail a reality is long past due," which is the strongest kind of judicial hint that a new jail is endorsed.

Integration Vote Hit

EDITOR:
On March 13 at the meeting of the Livonia Board of Education, I was astounded to hear four elected board members vote in favor of a resolution endorsing "integrated housing" for equalizing education.

Our board's primary responsibility is to the students of the Livonia school district. The quality of education being offered to Livonia students won't be improved by integrating housing in Livonia or elsewhere.

Board members Joyner, Hierta, Katz and Murch have no business using the Livonia school board as a platform for advancing personal racial objectives regarding housing. I hope that they resist future temptations to abuse the influence of their elected positions.

Candy Sale Big Success

EDITOR:
The Detroit Area Council of Camp Fire Girls, Wa No Su District, wishes to thank all the residents of this area for the tremendous support given the organization's fund-raising candy sale.

The Wa No Su District is pleased to announce that the 1972 candy fund-raising effort was very successful. This was due in large part to our hard-working Camp Fire Girls and adult volunteers. But public responsiveness made the drive a soaring success.

'Lake Kenwood' Gets Angry Jibes

EDITOR:
I am writing hoping I am not too late for the Gala Event. I'm sure that somewhere on the schedule for the Farmington Township Board is the time and date of the dedication of Lake Kenwood to the happy contented persons of Farmington Township.

What other municipality can boast about a natural lake situated in such an ideal location? How soon will lake lots be available, or have those "rascal real-estates" already gobbled up that prime property? I suppose. Well, that's my luck.

If plans have not been finalized, I hereby formally request the township board, in its entirety, to perform dedication services to this "Monument to Its Own Glory." It is but another result of the thoughtful consideration of our illustrious board.

Surely they cannot and would not deny this natural habitat they have permitted for animal life such as mosquitoes, snakes, flies -- not to mention the modern day cemetery type construction of it. Is dredging equipment available in case some unappreciative child should fall in and drown?

Earl Teeple (township supervisor) has asked and asked the board to refrain from permitting this artistic stretch of landscape, but the board, adamant in its "straight thinking," insisted the people in our area deserved this. Only another "faux pas" (excuse my poor French) - "coup de gras" in the brilliant careers of our abominable board. I might add, that since you are careful to show no prejudice, I am sure that we can all expect a similar type benefit in our neighborhood.

For any citizens concerned about boating licenses, concession stands, life saving equipment, pollution, tours, picnics, etc., call your Township Hall and ask for assistance. They will see to it you get what you are asking for.

Give Nixon Some Credit

EDITOR:
I am very disappointed that people have not responded more favorably to a president who has made every effort to respond to us. Not bowing to any extremists, President Nixon has done much to confirm the existence of our democracy and the importance of us "average American" nobodies.

All of us "middle of the roaders" agreed that it was the educational standards that needed raising, not the number of busses. The president listened, agreed, and acted accordingly. Now the people look upon him in questionable wonder. What do they expect from the man? Miracles?

Personally, I believe President Nixon has shown excellent judgment during his term of office. He has made every sincere effort to consider ALL Americans. He has attempted to solve our serious problems in ways that would benefit everyone. At least give him credit for trying. For the resulting success or failure actually depends on our own efforts.

150 Families Got Shoes

EDITOR:
Would you please put a public thank you in the Observer from Indian Enterprises to Mr. and Mrs. Hank Chruscial, the Western Wayne County Conservation Association, the people and businesses in Observeland and Teledyne Co. of Muskegon for the recent shipment of toys, clothing and shoes our people received.

We have served some 150 families with shoes and some 100 with clothing, plus have enough toys to supply the two annual Christmas parties which are held in December. Last Christmas we had an attendance of near 500 Indian children at the Muskegon - Oceana County party and nearly 400 at the Mason - Manistee County party.

We would like to let the people who helped and cared enough to make our people a little more comfortable know that we do appreciate it. It is wonderful to know that people still care.

'I'm Not Running String Of Delegates' -- Teacher

Charges that political science students being pressured to run for precinct delegate were flatly denied by their Schoolcraft College instructor, Dr. Larry VanderMolen.

VanderMolen said that the project is entirely voluntary and the students who do not run May 16 will be treated the same as if "they never heard of it."

Thirty - four of his 140 students (or 24 per cent) in Political Science 105 have volunteered to seek election. VanderMolen said those who win will get extra credit.

The extra credit will have the effect of raising a student's grade one point. All the students will be able to earn top grades in the Survey of American Government class, regardless of whether they run.

"There is no force, there is no requirement," VanderMolen said. "It is not required at all. Those who don't participate will get the normal type of grade for the course."

VanderMolen said he was aware of discussions on this project held by the Wayne County Democratic Committee and local Republicans in a meeting.

But he said the discussions were based on "misinformation."

REDFORD TOWNSHIP Clerk Ruth Sullivan (a Democrat) complained that some students came to her to register and take out petitions and told her they had to run to get a good grade in their class.

She quoted one student as saying he had to run to get a good grade but "if elected, I won't serve."

VanderMolen said that he would consider it normal if one or two of the students elected do not serve since 30 per cent of those delegates elected in previous elections have not participated in any way.

HE CONSIDERS the project to seek election the same as a project where students can volunteer to write a term paper for extra credit. In both cases, those who don't volunteer are not punished in any way.

Using his own classes, VanderMolen said he has a "control" group and can see which students come forward and make the extra effort.

"If they take the extra step, they deserve the extra credit," VanderMolen said.

"I can test to see what participation level they have," he said, explaining that the major reason the primary election was scheduled in the first place was to allow young voters an opportunity to participate in the political process.

"I am not running a string of delegates," he emphasized.

ONE STUDENT - candidate, Darlene M. Magnus, of Garden City, was quoted by the Detroit Free Press as saying her instructor "suggested we ought to run as a good way to get to know about our government."

"He told us that if any of us ran and went to the county convention our grade would go up one point. About three - fourths of the class is running," she was quoted as saying.

VanderMolen said that of his five classes, some are actively participating in it and some aren't, but the total is 34 students. Another 15 students, some of whom are former students in VanderMolen's class, got petitions from VanderMolen and filed for election.

He said he will have more details on the student - candidates later this week, including how many are in each party's races.

Of the total 49 students who have notified him that they will seek election, VanderMolen said 25 are from Livonia, nine from Detroit, six from Westland, one from Dearborn Heights, three from Garden City, one from the City of Plymouth, one from Plymouth Township, one from Northville Township, one from Novi, and one from Inkster.

VanderMolen is a Northville Township Democratic delegate and will seek reelection.

Ladywood Junior Again Science Fair Winner

Anne Pawlak, a 16 - year - old junior at Ladywood High School in Livonia, was one of two grand award winners at the Metropolitan Detroit Science and Engineering Fair last weekend at the University of Michigan Dearborn campus.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pawlak, 5686 Lumley, Detroit, and a repeat grand award winner from last year.

This year Miss Pawlak did a study on the effects of light on the sexual development of mice. Her research was explained in her talk, "Histological and Physiological Effects of Illumination upon the Pinea Gland and Reproductive Organs of Mus Musculus."

Among the results: Mice in total darkness were found to become listless and sexually inactive.

MISS PAWLAK began her project last May with an idea she got from her family doctor.

Mary Jo St. Amour, her biology teacher last year, became her project advisor. Michael Jones, former teaching fellow at Wayne State and Miss Pawlak's present physics instructor, has helped her in an advisory capacity and in securing materials.

Besides her scientific interests, Miss Pawlak also sings and dances. She was recently involved in a major role in Ladywood's musical production of "Brigadoon."

Although Miss Pawlak has no definite career plans, she is thinking of going into medicine or research after college. Her mother is presently an adult student at Madonna College in Livonia, and her father is an employee of Ford Motor Transmissions.

Robert Morse, a 15 - year - old sophomore at Dearborn's Divine Child School, is the other grand award winner.

Both grand award winners will display their projects at Cobo Hall on April 12 to 16 along with other prize winners. The list of other winners in the fair was not available at deadline time and will be published in the weekend edition.

Design Studio To Open

A Detroit interior design studio will expand its facilities this June when it moves its headquarters to the Southfield area.

Walter Herz Interiors has designed interiors for private residents as well as for offices and clinics since 1944.

State Asked To Pay For Prexy Primary

LANSING A bill to amend Michigan's recently adopted presidential primary bill to have the state pay all the election costs was introduced in the Senate by William Faust (D-Westland).

The Faust proposal would change the new law's provision that only cities with populations exceeding 90,000 would have the total primary costs paid by the state while communities with less than the population amount receive $180 for each precinct within its boundaries.

"The $180 amount would cover half of a precinct's election costs in suburban areas," said Faust. "The taxpayers would have to pay for the rest."

"Many suburban communities just can't afford it," he said. "They are having a tough time trying to stay within tight budgets without having the unexpected burden of a special election cost thrown at them."

"Compounding the new primary bill's shortcomings is that some small rural communities stand to make money because their election costs are almost nil."

The senator pointed out that only nine Michigan cities, including Livonia, have populations above 90,000 according to the 1970 census figures.

From Plymouth State Home

Thanks For 12,500 Hours

PHILIP AND FAYE SILLS
10,000 hours

Dedication can be defined in many ways, and 12,500 hours of service to the Plymouth State Home and Training School would be one of the best ways to spell it out.

That's the record of six amazing volunteers who were honored recently by the home in its 14th annual service awards program.

Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sills, Farmington couple who have put in 10,000 hours with the young residents over the last few years.

THAT'S 7,000 for Mrs. Faye Sills, who last month won United Community Services' "heart of gold" for her efforts in the Plymouth Home, and another 3,000 for her husband.

Their work has been mainly among the blind youngsters in Sullivan Hall.

Then there's Sue Bogart, who started working as a volunteer in the Plymouth Home recreation department in 1968 when she was a student at Plymouth High School. Now she attends Schoolcraft College, and she's still giving her time and talent to the Plymouth Home.

Officially she was honored for 1,000 hours service. It's quite a bit over that, said Mrs. Virginia McIlhargie, coordinator of volunteers.

Honored for 500 hours of service were three dedicated Plymouth women, Mrs. Juanita Fenkell, Mrs. Jean Henshaw and Mrs. Miriam Sutherland.

Mrs. Fenkell and Mrs. Henshaw are clerical volunteers, and Mrs. Sutherland works with the blind children in Sullivan Hall.

ALL SIX RECEIVED service pins at the March 19 awards program. Pins for 200 hours' service went to three other adults and 14 other teens from this area.

The presentation were made by Peter D. Schweitzer, director of community relations, and Mrs. McIlhargie.

State Sen. Carl Pursell was speaker for the occasion. Mrs. Hazel MacCallum of Redford Township and Kathleen Meier and Ann Drouillard of Plymouth were the adults honored with 200-hour service pins.

OBSERVERLAND teens who won service award pins for serving 200 hours in a single year are:

Mary Jane Cadaret, Larry Davis, Mary Lee, Barbara Nelson and Laurie Hancock, all of Plymouth.

Sandy Rich, Linda Moore, Kathy Murphy and Beth De Stigter of Livonia.

Pam Crenshaw, Donna Estes, Pat Covert and Marge St. Aubin of Westland.

Christa Tesner of Farmington. Maria Berzanski and Marilyn Price of Redford Township.

Service award certificates went to teens and adults who have been aides at the home for a full year.

ADULT RECIPIENTS, by area, were:

Plymouth -- Mrs. Ann Fowler, Mrs. Jean Henshaw, Mrs. Evelyn Hull, Mrs. Loretta Olson, Paul Sanders, Mrs. Miriam Sutherland, Mrs. Patricia Beck and Mrs. Margo Conn. Redford Township -- Mrs.

Jane Bashara, Mrs. Margaret Williams and Mrs. Grace Pentolino.

MORE THAN 50 area teens received service award certificates. By area, they were:

Plymouth -- Marcia Berry, Mary Cadaret, Barbara Camp, Barbara Drouillard, JoEllen Eves, Lori Finney, Sue Kivesto, Jane Koepke, Kathy Koepke, Mary Laible,

New Coalition Asks

'Don't Amend Constitution'

By MARGARET MILLER
Women's Editor

In the midst of the furor over marches to Washington and political maneuvering over the prickly bussing issue, there's a group of women standing up against any constitutional amendment in that regard.

Their Constitutional Coalition group, growing out of the Panel of American Women, is taking the position that "the aim of the citizenry and Legislature should be to create education systems that make bussing unnecessary."

"To clutter the Constitution with an amendment on a passing issue would demean the Constitution," their statement declares.

THE CONSTITUTION Coalition is urging all who "share this concern" to write to officials in Washington and Lansing to make their feelings known.

Represented in this area by Mrs. Kenneth Doyle of Livonia and Mrs. Walter Krapff of Farmington, the coalition is circulating petitions against constitutional amendment and will follow the lead of State Rep. Alma Stallworth (D-Detroit) in a "coffee marathon" to get women together for letter-writing sessions.

Mrs. Doyle will be hostess for a coffee at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 4, in her home at 31648 Pembroke, and Mrs. Krapff plans one at the same time Tuesday, April 11. She lives at 33454 Harlan Drive, Farmington.

ROSEMARY DOYLE and Sue Krapff both have found they must look at the controversial bussing issue and the resultant clamor for constitutional amendment from their vantage point as suburban mothers and members of the Panel of American Women.

The panel, made up of women with varied racial and religious backgrounds, sends teams to women's clubs to talk about their differences and, more important, their likenesses.

Both have looked closely at their own feelings on the whole issue and come to the conclusion that bussing may be needed to correct inequities but that it shouldn't be the major issue.

"We should be directing all our energy into good education for all instead of concentrating so much on that little yellow bus," Mrs. Krapff said.

She added that she can't get out of her mind one statement in Judge Stephen Roth's opinion that says "a citizen's constitutional rights can hardly be infringed simply because a majority of the people choose that it be."

"That's what has been done," she said, "and if we keep denying some rights to some and changing the Constitution to fit, we don't have democracy."

"I DON'T THINK anybody is saying bussing is a solution," Rosemary Doyle said.

"But I feel I've been left with a heritage of discrimination, and my generation is suffering because of it. Sometime we must face the fact of discrimination. We can't leave it for the next generation to bail us out."

"If we don't work it out now, these kids we're so worried about will have the same problems, only worse."

Mrs. Doyle said people tend to forget that "laws have been broken" and rights guaranteed have been ignored.

"When an individual breaks laws, we expect reparation," she said. "But when the whole system breaks them, our reaction is to change the Constitution."

MRS. KRAPFF pointed out that some 42 per cent of the nation's children do ride busses to school for various reasons, and added that some aggressive black leaders now are opposing bussing "because for years blacks have seen bussing used against them, to keep segregation going."

Both women said they were disappointed in the position taken recently by President Richard Nixon.

"He seemed to have no concrete suggestions for improving education, other than apparently endorsing the 'separate but equal' doctrine," Mrs. Krapff said. "And that's a step back, to the 1800."

THE PROBLEMS of upgrading education for all are not insurmountable, Rosemary Doyle believes.

"If this country can send a man to the moon," she said, "Surely we can solve the problem of education. But we must stop concentrating so much on our own rights and think about what is good for all."

The Constitution Coalition is seeking to work with other groups supporting the effort to inform lawmakers that there are many who oppose constitutional amendment.

These include the Council of Negro Women, Business and Professional Women's Club, NAACP, League of Women Voters, Urban Coalition, Interfaith Centers for Racial Justice, Citizens for Suburban Responsibility, Council of Urban League, Detroit Commission on Community Relations, the Michigan Civil Liberties Union and the Metropolitan Coalition for Peaceful Integration.

The Coalition also is circulating petitions opposing "any constitutional amendment to prohibit bussing for the reason that it would demean and diminish the Constitution and publicly declare a retreat from constitutional principles."

Anyone interested in obtaining a petition or hosting a coffee may get in touch with Mrs. Krapff or Mrs. Doyle.

New Sewing Classes Will Begin April 10

A wide variety of sewing classes will begin the week of April 10 in seven Hudson stores, including Northland, Westland and Downtown. Registrations are now being taken in the pattern department of each store.

Everything from basic sewing to crewel and needlepoint will be offered. Other classes include intermediate sewing, fashion knits, tailoring, pants perfection, knitting and crocheting, a course to teach both men and women how to make a man's sports jacket and a special class for men.

With the exception of the pants perfection class which will meet two hours a week for three weeks, all classes meet two hours a week for six weeks.

SISTER BENEDICTA MARY

Sr. Benedicta Will Conduct Student Tour

Sister Benedicta Mary, art teacher at Mercy High School in Farmington, has been appointed teacher-counselor for Scholastica International's 1972 summer-travel program for high school students.

She will escort a group of 10 students on a six-week tour of Europe. The group will be based for four weeks in Italy where it will study the art, architecture and philosophy of Western man. The remaining two weeks will be spent in Paris and London.

Two girls from Mercy High are participating in the program. They are Nancy Hanks and Karen Peek, both of Detroit.

The program is sponsored by Scholastica Magazine, Inc., which publishes 32 classroom periodicals reaching over 20 million readers.

Course In Retirement Is For Young And Old

"Looking Ahead To Retirement" is the name of a new course being offered this spring at the YWCA, 25940 Grand River, Detroit.

The course is for men and women of all ages. It is designed to give helpful information and direction for retirement security to young marrieds, singles or those approaching retirement.

Such subjects as wills, investments, mutual funds, insurance, social security and real estate will be discussed in the six-week course. Joseph Mayo, Pat McCourt, William Byrne, and John B. Carlin Jr. will be the instructors.

REGISTRATIONS FOR THIS and a variety of spring courses are now being taken at the YW. Classes begin the week of April 10.

A course in interior design will cover basic principles of design, including space and scale, color, texture, fabrics, floor and wall coverings and accessories. It is hoped to present it in a way which will help individual members understand how to apply it to their own particular situations. Projects will be assigned.

Laura A. Topalian will be the instructor. She is a graduate in interior design of Wayne State University.

Two other new courses being offered by the YW are one in black history and one entitled "New White Consciousness." The latter will deal with the consequences of racism. Both classes will be offered for nine weeks and begin April 12.

The YW's education course on alcohol addiction and its place in the American social structure will also be offered for a nine-week term beginning April 12.

This course is for anyone who has ever had a drink or served one. Special emphasis is put on the role of hostess with tips on how to serve alcoholic beverages without unintentionally becoming "pushers" of what has been called America's "number one drug."

The class format will be extended to include information on the reaction of various tranquilizers and common medications with one another or combined with alcohol. The course will include a field trip. There is a $5 registration for the course, which is entitled "Reflections in a Glass."

Y Club Plans Card Party

The Women's Service Club of the Northwestern YMCA will hold its annual card party Thursday, April 13, in the game room of the Y, Seven Mile and Lahser, Detroit.

Proceeds will go towards youth activities. The party will be from 12:30 to 3 p.m. Tickets will be sold at the door for $1.50 per person and baby sitting will be provided. Coffee and dessert will be served.

New Commission On Women Gets EMU Approval

A commission on Women has been given the green light at Eastern Michigan University and is expected to become operative in the fall.

The proposal for the commission, submitted by the executive board of the Faculty Women's Club, recently was approved by EMU President Harold E. Sponberg. It says "all matters of equity for women shall come within its jurisdiction." This is interpreted to mean women students and staff members as well as faculty.

THE 10-MEMBER body will "give continuing direction to an all-institutional program for women... handle complaints and... administer periodic reviews of the implementation of institutional programs and policies."

development of recruiting practices in jobs for women, and education of employing units on the availability and suitability of women for jobs at all levels.

The commission will also "review all publications of the institution to assure that they promote a positive image of women and other minorities."

FOR STUDENTS, it will "review policies, climate and customs regarding the admission, financial support and counseling of women students."

Members of the commission, to be appointed by President Sponberg, will include representatives of the three colleges, the applied science departments, the university library, and administrative, professional and non-academic personnel. One undergraduate and one graduate student will round out the list.

Great-Grandparents Look Back 62 Years

There have been lots of ups and downs, pleasures and troubles, for Louise and Fred Smith since their marriage in Sault Ste. Marie back in 1910.

But now, 62 years and 27 great-grandchildren later, both can look back and say "We've come through it all pretty well."

The Plymouth couple celebrated that fact in a quiet way with a couple of family parties to mark their March 28 anniversary.

"WE WERE a couple of kids," Mrs. Smith said, as she talked about the Sault Ste. Marie wedding in her home on Auburn. Both natives of the Soo area, they spoke their vows in her parents' home.

They lived in Sault Ste. Marie until 1910, then moved to Detroit and finally to Plymouth, where they had farm property on Joy Road.

After selling to the Calvary Baptist Church, they tried living in the north again for a couple of years, but came back to Plymouth to stay several years ago. "Had to save on the telephone bills," Fred Smith said.

MR. SMITH worked as an elevator repair man for several Detroit companies, retiring from Kelvinator 14 years ago.

Parents of two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Gardner of Plymouth and Mrs. Edward LaOnde of Sault Ste. Marie, they also have seven grandchildren and can quickly tally the great-grandchildren.

"The ones who live around here all come to our house every Christmas Eve," Mrs. Smith said.

"Last year we decided to draw names for gifts so we could see the tree," her husband added.

Mr. Smith is 79 years of age and his wife is 78. Both have had serious illnesses in recent years, but are well and enjoying a quiet life now.

IN THE SUMMER, Mr. Smith likes to garden, and is looking forward to planting his flowers and "a few tomato plants."

"I generally can keep busy too," his wife said.

Thinking back, they figure that they've been through three depressions and other hard times, but "It really wasn't too bad and we lived through them, didn't we?" Give and take would be their recipe for 62 years of happy marriage.

"I don't think any couple could ever say they never had an argument," Mrs. Smith said. "So somebody has to give in."

But neither would offer advice to their great-grandchildren or other youth of today.

"They're living in a different world," says this great-grandfather.

The bride-elect is a 1970 graduate of Stevenson High School and employed by the Plymouth X-Ray Clinic. Her fiancé graduated from Bentley High School in 1967 and is chief engineer with Muzak of Detroit. They plan to be married Oct. 27 in St. Michael Catholic Church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nauman of Farmington and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Adams of St. Joseph, Mich., announce the engagement of their children, Kathleen A. Nauman and Todd M. Adams. The bride-elect is a 1968 graduate of North Farmington High School and a senior at Western Michigan University. Her fiancé is a 1972 graduate of WMU and a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity. They plan to marry Aug. 19 in Orchard United Methodist Church, Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Denomy of St. Clair announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty Jean, to William C. Wadland Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wadland Sr. of Ryland Avenue, Redford Township. The bride-elect graduated from Grace Hospital school of nursing and attends the University of Michigan school of anesthesia. Her fiancé graduated from Albion College and attended Harvard University. He is a student in the University of Michigan medical school. A May 20 wedding is planned.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Madigan of Brookfield Avenue, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to Allan Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Edwards Sr. of Orchard Lake. Both are 1968 graduates of Franklin High School. The bride-elect is a senior in nursing at Michigan State University and her fiancé is a March graduate of MSU with a major in business marketing. He will be employed with the Armstrong Company in Lancaster, Pa. They plan to marry June 16 in St. Michael Catholic Church.

MRS. ROBERT HARRY SCHEPPELE JR.

Scheppele - Curtis Vows Are Spoken

Marjorie Ellen Curtis and Robert Harry Scheppele Jr. were united in marriage in an early evening ceremony Saturday, March 25, in the First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton O. Curtis of Postiff Avenue, Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Scheppele of Lilley Road, Plymouth, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. Philip Rodgers Magee officiated, and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

THE BRIDE'S GOWN was silk organza over taffeta with a bodice and bishop sleeves of imported chantilly lace. Seed pearls and sequins trimmed both bodice and A-line skirt with a court train.

Her bouffant veil was elbow-length, and she carried long-stemmed yellow roses. Four attendants wore gowns of field-flower voile over taffeta with moss green satin sashes. They also carried yellow roses.

Mrs. John Rajewski of Midland, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Curtis of Michigantown, Ind., her sister-in-law, and Mrs. Douglas Parks of Ypsilanti and Pamela Cook of Fraser.

JOHN SCHEPPELE of Plymouth was best man for his brother. The ushers were Bernard Curtis of Perry, Mich., and Robert Curtis of Michigantown, brothers of the bride, Keith Evans of Twin Lakes, Mich., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Douglas Parks of Ypsilanti and Joseph Mikelonis of Stockbridge.

Mrs. Curtis wore a mint green gown for the wedding and Mrs. Scheppele was in pink. The reception was in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall in Plymouth.

The newlyweds will make their home on the Michigan State University campus. The bridegroom is a junior at MSU, majoring in chemical engineering.

Foremans Mark 85th Birthdays

Two 85th birthdays were the occasion for a recent celebration in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Foreman, Plymouth residents for 20 years.

Mrs. Viola Foreman had her birthday March 7, and her husband's was March 22, so about 50 relatives and friends gave them a party March 19.

On hand were daughters, Mrs. Joe Skaggs of Deerfield, Mich., and Mrs. Freda Groom of Plymouth, sons Clinton Foreman of Plymouth and Dale Foreman of Livonia, and daughter-in-law Mrs. Esther Foreman of Plymouth, as well as several grandchildren and great grandchildren.

The couple have two other sons, Alton, of Independence, Mo., and Earl, of Coffeyville, Kans., who telephoned in honor of the occasion.

Married in the Oklahoma territory before it became a state, the Foremans will celebrate their 64th wedding anniversary May 18.

Sean Is Here

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCormick of Hix Road, Livonia, announce the birth of their first son, Sean Patterson McCormick, on Feb. 24 in Sinai Hospital, Detroit. Sean was welcomed home by his sister, Jerrilann, 4. His maternal grandmother is Mrs. Harold Rankin of Detroit.

Schoolcraft Women's Club Plans Show

The Schoolcraft College Women's Club will present a fashion show at 8 p.m., Wednesday, April 19, in the Waterman Center of the college, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Ticket price is $1.50, with proceeds going into a scholarship fund for Schoolcraft students.

Tickets will be available at the door or may be obtained by calling Mrs. John Wilson, 17781 Westbrook, Livonia. Refreshments will be served.

Members of the club, which is composed of wives of Schoolcraft faculty members and administrators and women staff members, will act as models.

New Childbirth Series Begins In Redford

Starting dates have now been set for a new series of classes in the Lamaze method of childbirth. Pre-registrations are being accepted by Mrs. Frank Papp, Childbirth Preparation Association, P.O. Box 73, Lincoln Park, 48146.

The class in Aldersgate United Methodist Church, Redford Township, will begin April 17. It will meet at 7:30 one night a week for six weeks. Day sessions are scheduled whenever interest warrants. It is advisable to begin classes at least eight weeks before one's due date. Husbands are urged to attend with their wives, but this is not necessary. A new series of classes begins approximately every seven weeks.

Starting dates and places for other classes are April 4, Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, Dearborn; March 30 and April 24, Southminster United Presbyterian Church, Taylor; April 6, Seaway Hospital, Trenton; and April 3 and 5, Wyandotte General Hospital.

SENIOR CITIZENS from seven local nursing homes were guests of the Women's Association of Northbrook Presbyterian Church, 22055 W. 14 Mile Road, Birmingham, for a luncheon and fashion showing. Residents of Presbyterian Village and their hostesses teamed up as models for the fashion show in a spring setting viewed by more than 130 guests of honor. The guests came from the University Home in Livonia, Farmington Nursing Home and Oak Hill in Farmington; Franklin Manor in Franklin, Bedford Villa in Southfield; Heritage in Beverly Hills, as well as Presbyterian Village. cultural significance, such as Oxford, Stratford-upon-Avon and Windsor, are included in the total cost.

Some evening sessions are planned when guest lecturers are scheduled. No classes are held on the weekends so that additional sightseeing may be planned.

Students earning credit will be required to meet with the instructor during the orientation period to discuss an individual written project. The session is held on the EMU campus June 23 and 24 and the group flies from Detroit Metropolitan Airport June 26. Classes will end at Reading Aug. 2 and students will have until the departure Aug. 18 for independent travel.

COST OF THE WORKSHOP is $850 which includes round trip air fare and transfers, tuition for four hours credit or auditor's fee, room and full board during the period at Reading, and room and breakfast for five days in London. An additional two hours credit may be earned for a further fee of $60.

Applications and a deposit of $100 must be received by April 1 and the full payment is due May 1. For further information, write to the Division of Field Services, Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, Mich. 48197.

GC Nursery To Add New Class In Fall

Good Hope Nursery School, 28680 Cherry Hill, between Inkster and Middle Belt, Garden City, will expand its classes in the fall by opening an additional class for three-year-olds. The class will meet from 9 to 11:15 a.m., Wednesdays and Fridays.

In the class for four-year-olds, which meets Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 9 to 11:15 a.m., there are also a few openings, especially for girls. Interested parents should contact either of the two teachers, Marge Pellegrino, 420 Central, Inkster, or Sally Neslund, 31908 John Hawk, Garden City.

50th Anniversary Feted In Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roperti of Livonia were in Florida when it was time to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary March 9, so their anniversary party went to them.

The garden party in Hollywood, Fla., was hosted by their eldest daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vilella of Hollywood.

Traveling south to be on hand were two other daughters, Mrs. Christine Skrabut of Livonia and Mrs. Theresa Cimino of Plymouth, their son, Fred Roperti of Livonia, Mr. Roperti's brother, Joseph, of Dearborn, and several grandchildren. Mrs. Brenda Wilson of Farmington, longtime family friend, also went to Florida for the celebration.

As part of the anniversary festivities, the couple repeated their wedding vows with the Rev. Frank Flynn officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Roperti were married in Italy and have lived in Livonia for 40 years. For the last two decades they have operated the well-known turkey farm on Five Mile Road.

They have four children, 10 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Easter Eggs Need Careful Handling

Your Easter egg treats will have both eye - appeal and taste - appeal if you cook the eggs properly.

Eggs should be hard-cooked, not hard-boiled. The texture of eggs cooked in the shell is affected by heat. When eggs are cooked at simmering temperatures, below the boiling point of water, the white will be firm but tender and the yolk smooth. Cooked at the boiling point of water, the white becomes somewhat tough and the yolk, mealy.

minutes. Do not let the water boil. Plunge the cooked eggs at once into cold running water and leave until cold.

The green discoloration that sometimes appears between the white and yolk of a hard-cooked egg results from a chemical reaction between sulfur in the white and iron in the yolk. This discoloration is harmless, but unattractive. To help prevent the problem, cook eggs at low temperatures, avoid overcooking and cool eggs promptly.

IF HARD - COOKED eggs are difficult to peel, they may be too fresh. Eggs that will not peel easily after being hard-cooked are generally freshly laid. If stored for several days and then cooked, eggs will usually peel easily.

NUTRITION SPECIALISTS recommend this method for hard-cooking eggs:

Put eggs in a pan and cover completely with cold water. Heat to simmering temperature and cook 20 to 25

Smoking Clinic Set

A "Smoker's Survival Clinic" will be held Monday through Thursday, April 10-13, in St. Paul Presbyterian Church, 27475 Five Mile, Livonia. The clinic will be from 7:30 to 9:30 each evening.

There is no charge for the clinic, but reservations must be made by calling the Michigan Cancer Foundation, Western Wayne Unit, 1112 N. Telegraph, Dearborn, any week day between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

County Home Rule To Be On Ballot

Wayne County voters will ballot on a county home rule proposition in the regular primary election in August.

The County Board of Commissioners voted unanimously to place the county home rule question before the voters Aug. 8.

Voters will be asked whether they want to establish a charter commission to draft a proposed county charter for later submission to the voters. At the same time, candidates will run in a partisan primary election for the charter commission.

IF THE VOTERS establish the charter commission, its members would be elected in the November election. The charter commission would draw up a proposed county charter within the limits set by the state County Home Rule Act. The voters would then decide whether to adopt the charter.

The major feature of a charter county government would be the election of a county executive, the county equivalent of a mayor. A county manager, another office which does not exist at present, could also be established in the charter.

Critics of the present "general laws" form of county government have singled out the lack of a county executive as the major flaw in the present county structure.

The charter commission could also propose the elimination of a number of county boards and commissions.

IN 1968, voters turned down a county home rule proposition by a vote of 362,299 to 316,459.

Home rule supporters blamed the defeat on an inadequate educational campaign and on extremists who charged that county home rule would be a form of "metropolitan government" enabling the county to take over cities and townships.

Any changes made under home rule would affect the county structure only and would have no effect on cities and townships or on the relationships between the county and local communities.

Various civic groups in Wayne County and other areas of Michigan have been pressing for county home rule for approximately 40 years.

PCHA Board Ups Hospital Rates

Garden City and Westland residents will find that the cost of hospital care will go up again -- but not as much as officials of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority said is increasing in other hospitals.

The PCHA board of directors, which includes members from Westland and Garden City, unanimously agreed Thursday to another boost in the daily room rates.

THE NEW rates for semi-private room are $56.50 -- up $4.50 or 8.6 per cent over the previous year.

The room rates -- which were raised along with other hospital services -- were boosted to finance a record $39.9 million operating budget approved for the 1972-73 fiscal year.

The room and other services rates will be increased effective Saturday, April 1.

IN RECOMMENDING the room rate boost and budget adoption, Board Treasurer Roger J. Remer said that the proposed budget "actually slows down the accelerating cost trend which has been common throughout the hospital field in recent years."

The total net increase in various room and service rates is 2.8 per cent, Remer said.

Remer also noted that with the new rate increases, PCHA hospitals (including Ann Arbor Hospital in Wayne) still have some of the lowest rates among comparably sized hospitals in the Detroit region.

THE $39.9 million budget is about 10 per cent higher than the current year's budget. The new budget, which takes effect July 1, 1972, includes expenditures of $37.6 million, or $2.1 million higher than the current year.

The gross budget -- including money earmarked for future construction projects -- is set at $44.9 million of revenue and spending of $41.2 million.

The budget adoption, Remer told the board members, "again insures that the hospital authority's complex of four modern hospital units retains its position as one of the finest health care values in the Detroit metropolitan area."

"ALL OF us can share tremendous satisfaction and pride in this accomplishment," the board treasurer said.

The PCHA administration is still in negotiations with the authority's employees' union but Board Chairman Donald Pizzimenti said that any economic package eventually approved "would fall into the budget" as proposed.

Remer said that above 70 per cent of the $39.9 million budget goes out in employees' salaries.

There was an increase of about 35 additional employees, mostly at Seaway Hospital in Trenton because of higher occupancy percentages.

Jaycees Will Visit State Home

Local chapters of Jaycee District 30, including Northville, Wayne, Westland, Garden City, Belleville, Livonia, Plymouth, and Canton will celebrate Easter on Saturday April 1 with the children at Plymouth State Home.

Highlighted with an appearance by TV's Sir Graves Ghostly, the Jaycees have planned a program which includes a rock band, clowns, a magical act, games and prizes including three bikes and two wagons which will be donated to the home.

District chairman for the project is Gary Wynn of Garden City who said, "This is one of the most important projects that the Jaycees run, and an all-out effort is expected not only from the Jaycees but also from the Jaycettes."

Cake Is Also Easter Centerpiece

When the Easter meal is planned many families opt for a baked ham with a shiny glaze to season both ham and vegetables.

Others have the traditional roast lamb. But for all occasions a festive cake is popular as dessert or in the afternoon with coffee and ice cream.

Two ever popular vegetables are Louisiana yams, either canned or fresh and small white onions both glazed to a rich lustre with a corn syrup based glaze. Canned peaches or pears may be glazed with the same glaze. The glaze may be flavored with orange or pineapple or marachino cherry juice and usually has a hint of dry mustard.

In making glazes for meat they can be as simple as dark corn syrup poured from the bottle the last 30 minutes of roasting or flavored to suit the family taste.

For our Easter Bonnet Cake which can serve as a centerpiece as well as dessert, bake your favorite cake mix or our yellow cake recipe in two layers, one an eight-inch and one a nine-inch layer. Frost with a fluffy white frosting and top with a small nosegay of fresh flowers.

Glazed Ham with Yams and Onions

- 1 ready-to-eat ham (about 13 pounds)
- 2 c. dark corn syrup
- 2 t. grated orange rind
- 1 T. dry mustard
- Whole cloves
- 8 cooked or canned Louisiana yams
- 1 1/2 doz. small white onions, cooked

Trim ham, then place, fat side up, on rack in roasting pan. Heat in 325-degree (slow) oven about one hour and 15 minutes. Meanwhile, mix together corn syrup, orange rind and mustard. Remove ham from oven; score, making cuts about 1/8 inch deep and 1 1/4 inches apart across fat surfaces of ham. Brush ham with one cup of the syrup mixture. Bake in oven about 45 minutes, basting frequently, until ham is well glazed and heated thoroughly. Remove from oven and insert one clove in center or each square marked on ham. Baste once more and heat in oven 10 minutes.

Arrange eight servings each of cooked yams and small white cooked onions in shallow baking pans. Bake frequently with remaining syrup mixture about 30 minutes or until heated and well glazed. A 13-pound ham will make about 25 generous servings.

PINEAPPLE Glazed Ham: Prepare as directed for Glazed Ham, adding one (one-pound, four-ounce) can crushed pineapple to syrup mixture, making cuts in ham 3/4-inch apart instead of 1/4 inches.

Easter Bonnet Cake

- 3/4 c. Mazola margarine
- 1 1/3 c. sugar
- 3 eggs
- 1 t. vanilla
- 1/2 t. almond extract
- 3 c. sifted cake flour
- 3/2 t. baking powder
- 1 t. salt
- 1 c. milk
- 1 recipe White Frosting

Grease and lightly flour one (nine-inch) and one (eight-inch) round cake pan. Mix margarine and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, blending until smooth. Stir in flavorings. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add flour mixture in four additions alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour and mixing just until smooth. Pour into prepared cake pans. Bake in 350 degrees F. (moderate) oven 30 to 35 minutes or until cake springs back when touched lightly. The eight-inch layer may require slightly longer baking. Layers may be split and filled if desired before frosting.

Note: This cake may be baked in one (13x9x2-inch) cake pan 35 to 40 minutes or in 30 medium cupcake cups 25 to 30 minutes.

WHITE FROSTING: Beat two egg whites and 1/4 teaspoon salt until soft peaks form when beater is raised. Mix one cup light corn syrup and 1/4 cup sugar in small saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is completely dissolved and mixture just reaches full boil. Beat hot syrup into egg whites, a little at a time. Beat in 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla. Continue beating until mixture holds stiff peaks. Makes 4 1/3 cups.

How To Make An Easter Bunny Cake

Anyone who enjoys children will enjoy making this gay Easter bunny. It is made by cutting up a loaf cake, then fitting the parts into a bunny shape held together with frosting and small picks. Coconut, of course, makes the fur and jelly beans the eyes and nose.

EASTER BUNNY CAKE

Prepare one-half package cake mix according to package directions or one-half your favorite layer cake recipe, or use the recipe below for Old-Fashioned Loaf Cake. Pour batter into a well greased and floured loaf pan (9 x 5 x 3 inches) and bake in 350 degrees F. (moderate) oven for 25 to 30 minutes; remove from pan and finish cooling on cake rack.

To cut, follow cut lines shown in picture. Trim ears to same size. Trim edges of cake so bunny will stand straight. Stand upright. Slide top piece of cake forward, as illustrated, to form head and body. Fasten two parts of body and ears securely with wooden picks or small skewers.

Frost with no cook frosting rounding out shape of bunny and using a generous amount to form tail. Sprinkle with shredded coconut. Use jelly beans which have been cut in halves for eyes and ears and make rakish whiskers with licorice strips.

NO COOK

MARSHMALLOW FROSTING

1/4 t. salt
2 egg whites
1/4 c. sugar
1/4 c. light syrup
1 1/4 t. vanilla

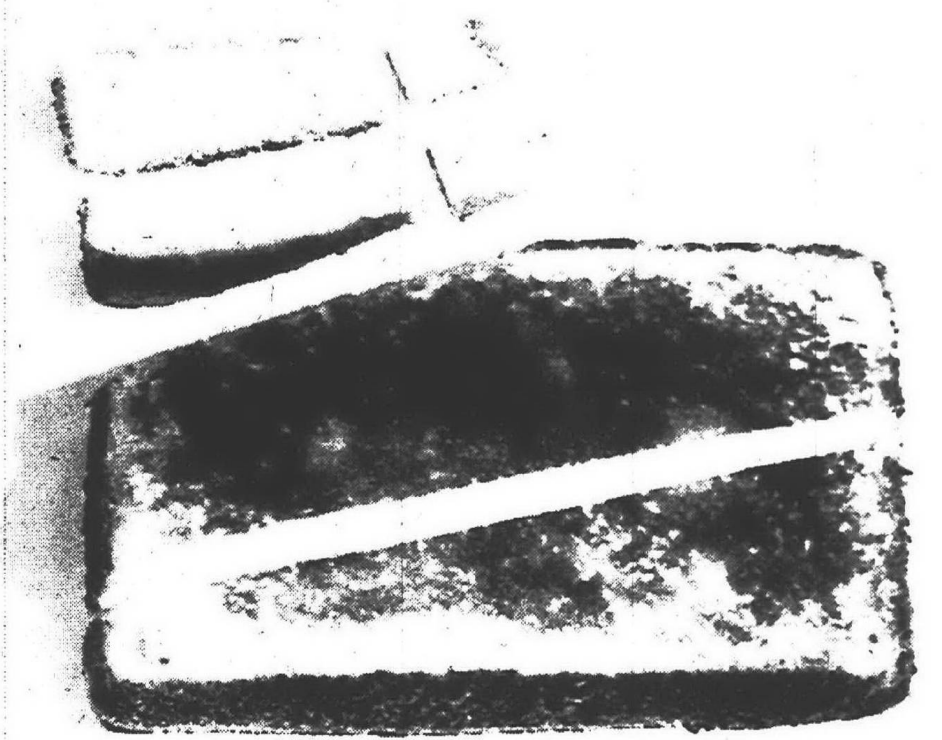

Add salt to egg whites and beat with electric or rotary beater until mixture forms soft peaks. Gradually add sugar, about one tablespoon at a time, beating until smooth and glossy. Continue beating and add corn syrup, a little at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition, until frosting peaks. Fold in vanilla extract. Makes enough to cover bunny or will frost tops and sides of two nine-inch layers.

OLD FASHIONED LOAF CAKE

2 1/4 c. sifted cake flour
1 1/2 t. salt
1/2 c. sugar
1/2 t. baking powder
1/2 c. corn oil
1/2 c. water
4 egg yolks
1 1/2 t. vanilla
1/2 t. mace
4 egg whites
1/4 c. sugar

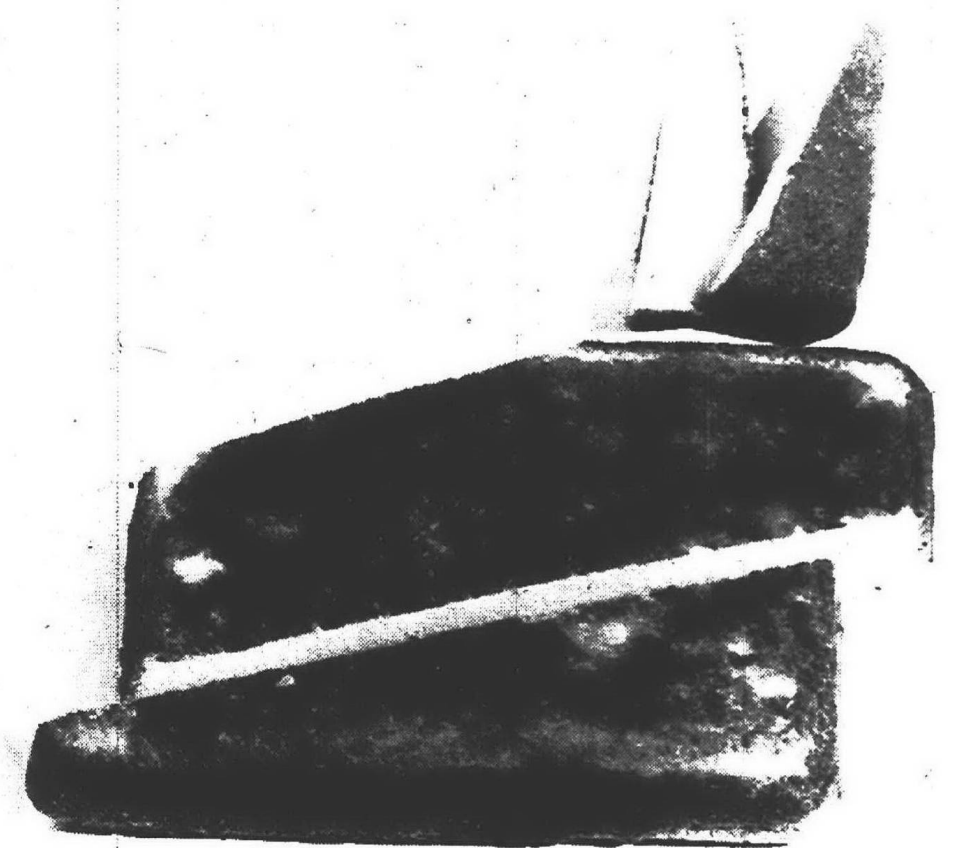

Mix and sift first four ingredients. Make a well and add corn oil, water, egg yolks, vanilla and mace. Beat until smooth and well blended (about one minute). Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; gradually beat in sugar. Fold into first mixture (do not beat). Turn batter into well greased, waxed paper lined loaf pan (9 x 5 x 3 inches). Bake in 325 degrees F. (slow) oven about 1 1/2 hours or until cake springs back when touched lightly with finger. Cool 15 minutes in pan; loosen with spatula. Remove from pan and complete cooling on rack. Frost with no-cook marshmallow frosting.

FIRST STEP in making easter bunny cake: Slice oblong cake lengthwise on diagonal in two places. Make the smaller upper cut, for large ears, about one inch from top left corner tapering to the middle of the cake. Split piece to make two ears. Start the second cut about one inch from bottom left and extend it to middle of right edge of cake. Trim ears to equal size.

EASTER BUNNY CAKE made with a cake baked in a loaf pan; then cut to form the bunny. The bunny is delicious, of course, but you may want to make a supply of cupcakes in case the children want to keep the precious bunny around for a while SECOND STEP: Most ears forward to front and arrange in upright position. Slide large central part of cake forward to form head and body. If necessary, trim edges of cake so bunny will stand straight. Place in upright position on cake plate. Fasten ears and body together with wooden picks or skewers. Spread with no-cook marshmallow frosting.

Eggs - English Muffins The Ideal Combination

In the spring, when eggs are plentiful and sensibly priced, consider the egg as the basis for lunch or supper dishes. Creamed egg on toasted English muffins, or egg salad also served on a toasted English muffin. And speaking of English muffins, never overlook the ultimate in classic egg dishes, Eggs Benedict, incomplete without the muffin.

EGGS BENEDICT

4 thin slices ham or Canadian-style bacon
4 English muffins
Margarine or butter
4 eggs
1 recipe speedy hollandaise sauce
Fry or broil ham slices or Canadian-style bacon. Split English muffins by scoring with tines of fork and then gently pulling apart. Toast; spread lightly with margarine. Poach eggs. Arrange ham or bacon on 4 of the muffin halves. Top with poached eggs, then hollandaise sauce. Serve with remaining muffin halves. Makes 4 servings.

SPEEDY HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

2 egg yolks
1/4 t. salt
Dash cayenne or white pepper
1/2 c. margarine or butter, melted
1 T. lemon juice

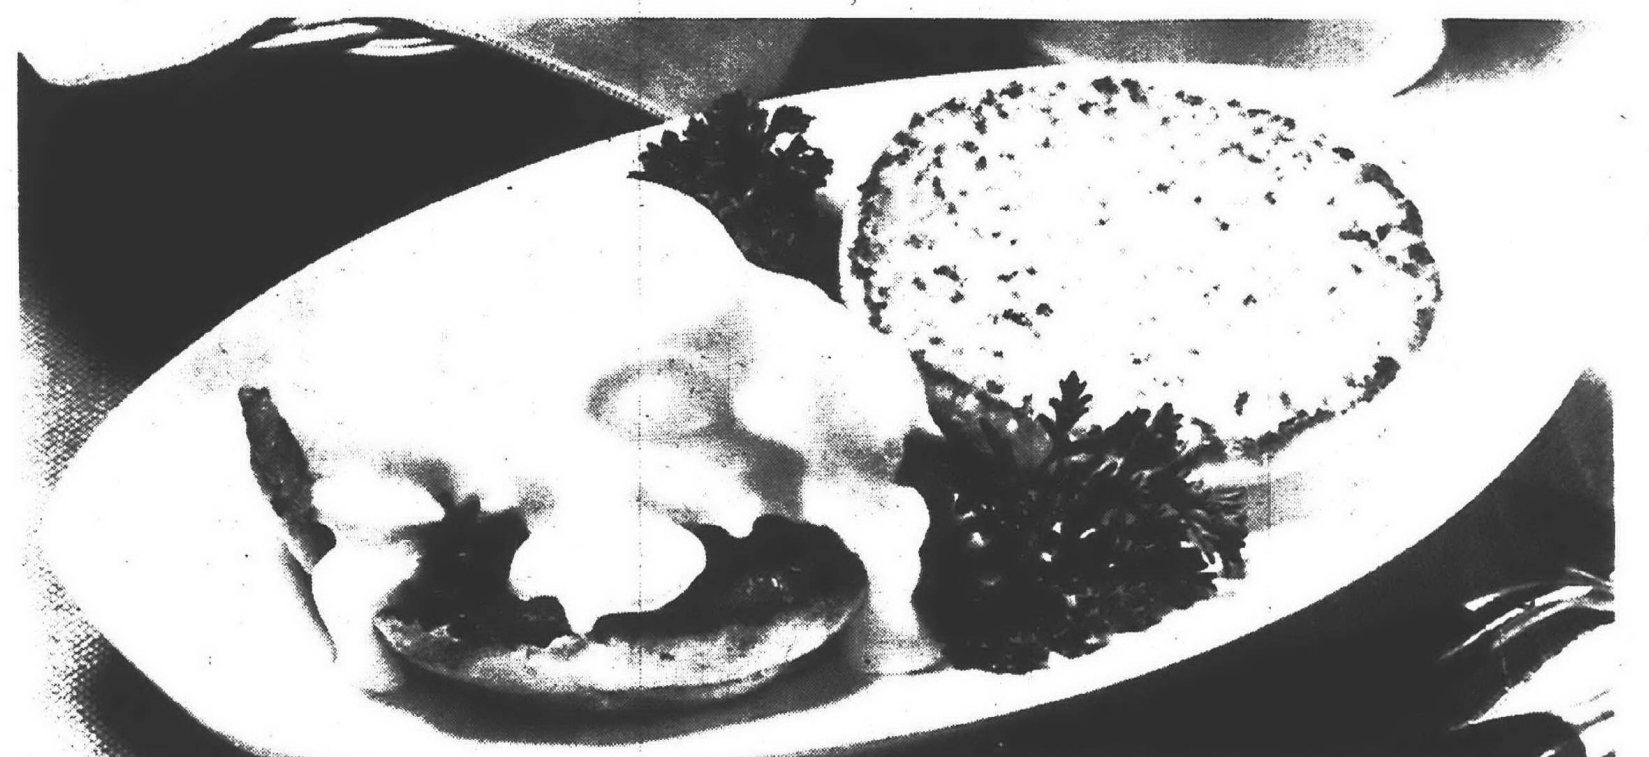

Beat egg yolks with rotary beater or electric mixer until thick and lemon color. Add salt and pepper. Add 1/4 cup of the margarine, a little at a time, beating constantly. Mix lemon juice with remaining 1/4 cup margarine. Slowly add, a little at a time, to yolk mixture, beating constantly. Serve immediately. To keep warm, place in bowl over warm water. Makes about 3/4 cup.

Eggs Benedict a la Nova Scotia: Use 1/4 pound smoked salmon, thinly sliced, to replace ham or Canadian-style bacon.

CURRIED EGG SALAD

4 hard cooked eggs, chopped
1/4 c. real mayonnaise
1 1/2 T. chopped green pepper
1 1/2 T. chopped pimiento
1/2 t. curry powder
1/4 t. salt
Dash pepper
4 English muffins
Margarine or butter

Mix together eggs, mayonnaise, green pepper, pimiento, curry powder, salt and pepper. Split English muffins by scoring with tines of fork and then gently pulling apart. Toast; spread with margarine. Spoon egg salad mixture on four muffin halves; serve with remaining halves. Makes four servings.

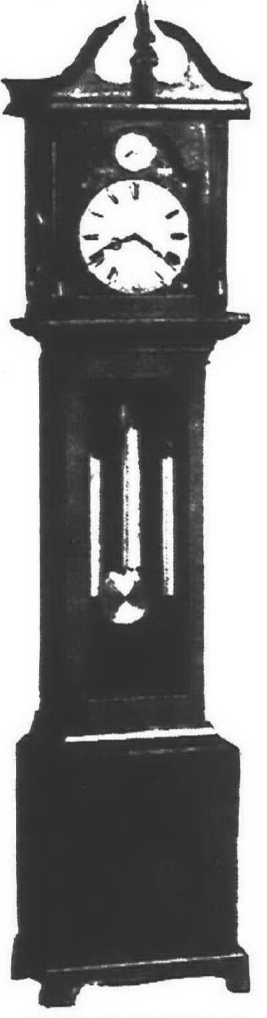

ENGLISH MUFFINS scored and gently pulled apart toast to a peaked goodness with lots of hills and valleys to catch the saucy toppings.

Dateline Outdoors

By LEM MESEE
Outdoors Writer

Everyone to his own first sign of spring. For some folks, spring means looking at the model houses, for others it's the opening day of baseball season, for still others it means kite-flying.

My own favorite sign of spring comes when I go out to a favorite Oakland County lake for some ice fishing and instead find the shoreline ice mushy, hear the boisterous trill from the cattails and see the bright red epaulet of the redwing blackbird.

Like most outdoorsmen, I took his coloring pretty much for granted -- black, after all, is the best camouflage there is which is why the VC use it--but what about that bright red patch on the shoulder?

Wouldn't that make him an easy mark for a hawk?

IT TURNS OUT that the red shoulder has a meaning, but I would never have found out from the standard hunting and fishing magazines. I got the best insight to the springtime mascot of this column from a slick magazine called Natural History and an article in the March issue entitled "The Red Badge of Rivalry" by Douglas Smith.

It seems that the male redwing stakes himself out a territory of 1,000 to 10,000 square feet to which he lures several wives. The better his territory, the more wives he'll attract -- up to six.

He has a song, both boastful and warning, that is best spelled "kone-kee-ree," with a trill on the final syllable.

The usual theory about a male bird's coloring is that it's to attract females, but Doug Smith finds there's more to it than that. What he did was to trap male redwings and use a harmless black dye to discolor their red epaulets.

The lady redwings still liked them, but other male redwings were no longer frightened off the territory. "Of the black - epauleted males, more than half lost their territories to intruding males. In contrast, less than 10 per cent of the controls (male birds whose wings weren't dyed) lost their territories," Smith writes.

Moreover, of the half of the black-winged birds who retained their territories, most were on less desirable tracts of marsh, hence less liable to be challenged.

IN EARLIER experiments,

Smith used a black enamel to discolor the red epaulets with one particularly interesting result to a bird he calls 215: "Within two days he had lost his territory to the two neighboring males. Both had extended their boundaries and divided 215's territory about equally between them."

"These neighboring males held this additional area for about one week. After that, 215 was back near his territory displaying -- white epaulets! He had preened all the black enamel off his feathers. Within two days of his return, he had retaken his territory."

So it seems that white shoulder patches were as effective as red in showing neighboring males that you're tough, important and the boss of your territory.

The territory is defended only in the mating and rearing season, and the young birds are fed aquatic insects from the marsh. After that, territorial lines sort of dissolve.

FUNNY THING about the male bird's colorings. With the redwing, the red epaulet is a sign to intimidate other male birds, and it's sported by a bird who is polygamous.

Bright male colors, polygamy. Conservative or unisex colors, monogamy. I wonder if that tells us anything about our own "mod" clothing patterns and sex practices.

ROBERT L. WRIGHT of 31245 Sturbridge, Farmington, was named sales manager for Plastics Impregnating Division of Fabricon Automotive Products which is headquartered in River Rouge. Wright received a degree in marine engineering from the United States Merchant Marine Academy and a commercial art degree from Ohio State University.

Pursell Bill To Hike Local Road Funds

LANSING Incorporated cities and villages would get sharp increases in motor vehicle fund allotments under a bill introduced by State Sen. Carl D. Pursell (R - Plymouth) and passed by the Senate this week.

The bill, introduced by Pursell after conferring with many local officials in the 14th Senatorial District, proposes to raise the share of highway funds for incorporated cities and villages from the present 10 per cent to 25 per cent a year.

The funds could be used on the major street system of the local governmental entities.

"It is my feeling and the feeling of most local officials I talked with that highway funds are most wisely spent by local units of government, whose officials know best the streets and highway needs of local people," said Pursell.

"At a time when we are under threat of losing some of our highway funds for mass transit systems, I think it is imperative that we protect local units of government to see that they receive sufficient highway funds with which to properly maintain their major street systems."

"The Senate gave strong backing to this bill, and I feel certain that it will also get sufficient support for passage by the House of Representatives."

Committee Setup Changed By Wayne

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners April 1 will begin operating through a streamlined committee structure, designed to speed up the legislative process.

The board recently approved the new setup.

The present structure of 14 standing committees, two special committees and 11 subcommittees is reduced to five committees and one subcommittee.

The time taken to consider many items will be reduced by as much as four weeks, predicted Board Chairman Robert E. FitzPatrick, who proposed the new structure. Of the present structure, only the Ways and Means Committee, consisting of all 26 commissioners, and its special budget subcommittee, will be retained.

MATTERS NOW handled by the other committees will be distributed among four new committees -- Human Resources, General Government, Public Works, and Public Safety and Judiciary.

A key change is elimination of the committee-of-the-whole session now held at each full board meeting. At present, all items from committees other than Ways and Means must go through the committee-of-the-whole before final consideration. Thus, two weeks will be saved in routine action on most items.

"The new structure is the product of three years of experience under the present committee system, and should be a big improvement," said Commissioner Albert J. Zak, chairman of the rules committee which recommended approval of the new setup.

Kiwanians To Hear CPA

Richard J. Dickshott, CPA of Livonia, will address the Plymouth Colonial Kiwanis Club at their next meeting on Thursday, March 30, at 12 noon at the Mayflower Hotel, Plymouth.

Dickshott will speak on "Family Affairs Month," held annually in April as a public service effort of four fields, certified public accounting, banking, law and insurance.

Bill Decker, program chairman of the Plymouth Colonial Kiwanis Club, will introduce Dickshott.

Ecumenical Services Will Mark Good Friday

Many churches in the Observer area are joining in ecumenical worship to mark the three hours of Good Friday when Christ died on the cross.

Worshippers will gather between the hours of 12 noon and 3 p.m. in churches throughout the area.

THE PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY Council of Churches will sponsor union Good Friday services from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. in the New First United Methodist Church sanctuary, 45201 North Territorial.

The Rev. Paul M. Cargo and the Rev. Dean A. Klump will be host pastors, and the preachers for the two hours will be the Rev. Philip Rodgers Magee of First United Presbyterian, speaking on "Conversation from a Cross," and the Rev. Fred Prezioso of Epiphany Lutheran.

During the first hour, Edward Terry will preside and the Methodist church choir will sing. The Rev. Dan Fraser, deacon of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church and council of churches president, will preside the second hour and the choir of the First Baptist Church will sing.

A nursery will be provided.

C. Lindholm of Holy Cross, Dr. Bartlett L. Hess, the Rev. Franklin Williams and the Rev. George Ledden of Ward, the Rev. William D. Rickard and the Rev. Jerome Smith of St. Matthew and the Rev. Errol Bosley of Grand River Baptist.

SWORD OF THE SPIRIT Lutheran Church Seven Mile West of Farmington Road, will host a service for Lutherans from Holy Trinity and Faith Lutheran in Livonia from 12 noon to 3 p.m. Good Friday.

The same churches, along with Holy Cross, All Saints, Ascension, Christ the King and Timothy, will join in a Tenebrae service in Faith Lutheran, 30000 Five Mile, at 7:30 p.m.

The annual union Good Friday service to be held from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. in Southfield Community Church, 21122 Indian, Southfield, will include worshippers from Clarenceville United Methodist, Evangelical Covenant and Rice Memorial United Methodist.

Donald D. Nichols, dean of students at Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College, will be speaker for the separate services in Redford Baptist Church, 25295 Grand River, Redford Township, and Redford United Methodist Church of Detroit. The Baptist service is scheduled from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

SEVERAL GOOD FRIDAY services are scheduled in the Farmington Area.

First United Methodist, Grand River at Warner, will host worshippers from Salem United Church of Christ during the hours of 12 noon to 3 p.m. The theme will be "Silences of Holy Week."

Two Methodist ministers, the Rev. Hugh C. White and the Rev. Howard Snell, will share the pulpit with the Rev. Carl Schultz of Salem. The Methodist Church's Wesley choir, made up of junior and senior high girls, will sing. Charles Cook will be soloist.

Lutheran services in Prince of Peace Church, 28000 Newmarket near 12 Mile and Farmington Road, will be held from 12 noon to 3 p.m.

Seven clergymen will share in leading 20-minute periods of hymn, meditation and prayer, with five-minute intervals between. Their theme will be the seven last words from the Cross.

They are the Rev. Victor Mesenbring of Prince of Peace, and pastors of three other participating churches in the area, the Rev. Victor Habloth Jr. of Grace Lutheran in Redford Township, the Rev. Charles Fox of St. John in Farmington and the Rev. Carl Kaltreider of Antioch in Farmington.

Also speaking will be the Rev. John Angle, Lutheran director of international missions, the Rev. William Woldt, mission executive for the English district and the Rev. Alan Kameus, assistant to the president of the Michigan Synod.

Evening Good Friday services in the Farmington area will be a 7:30 p.m. Tenebrae service in Orchard Methodist, Farmington Road north of 13 Mile, and a cantata, "The Seven Last Words," at 8 p.m. in Trinity Episcopal Church, 26880 LaMueira.

An ecumenical Good Friday service will be held in the sanctuary of North Congregational Church, 26275 Northwestern Highway, Southfield, from 1 to 2 p.m., March 31.

The speaker will be the Rev. Philip Gentile, minister emeritus of Community Congregational Church, Lathrup Village. He is presently serving as minister to the aging at Central Methodist Church, Detroit.

Christian Science Talk Set In GC

Scientific Christianity as a vital force in the liberation of men and nations is the theme of a Christian Science lecture scheduled at 3 p.m. Saturday, April 1, in the O'Leary Performing Arts Center in Garden City.

Howard H. Irwin of San Diego is the lecturer, and his appearance will be sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Garden City. Admission is free.

The lecturer, who also gives talks in French and Spanish, served with the U.S. Military Intelligence in Europe during World War II.

Since his appointment to the Christian Science Board of Lectureship in 1961, he has lectured throughout the United States and in Canada, South America and France.

He has been engaged since 1946 in the public practice of Christian Science healing.

The O'Leary Center is located at 6500 Middle Belt.

ANOTHER ECUMENICAL service will be held in Holy Cross Evangelical Lutheran Church, 30650 Six Mile, Livonia, and will revolve around the theme of the last seven words from the Cross.

Churches participating with Holy Cross will be Ward United Presbyterian, St. Matthew United Methodist, and Grand River Baptist.

Choirs from Holy Cross and St. Matthew, as well as singers from Stevenson High School, will provide special music.

Seven clergymen will participate.

It'll Take Less Booze To Nab Drunk Driver

Drinking and driving will become even more risky when blood alcohol level for determining drunkenness will be lowered to .10 per cent in Michigan effective Friday, March 30.

The current level used for determining if a driver is under the influence of intoxicating liquor is .15 per cent.

The lowered alcohol level is an amendment to the state's implied consent law which provides that drivers have given their consent to a chemical test if they are arrested for drinking and driving.

UNDER THE NEW law, drivers whose blood alcohol level is .07 per cent or less will not be considered under the influence of liquor while those between .07 and .10 per cent will be considered impaired. The blood alcohol levels have been verified as reliable measures of a drinker's reaction to alcohol he consumed.

Six ounces of alcohol (or six beers) consumed within an hour by a 160-pound motorist will cause the blood alcohol level to reach .10, according to Richard R. Dann, executive vice president of the Automobile Club of Michigan. Eight drinks cause it to reach .15.

The rate of alcohol absorption into the blood stream also depends on the rate of consumption and how much the drinker has eaten.

"MICHIGAN NOW has a better chance to cut the number of car fatalities caused by drinking drivers, by insuring that police, prosecutors, judges and juries work together to protect the 95 per cent of drivers who never get behind the wheel after drinking enough to get to .10 and the majority who never get to even .05 and drive," Dann said.

Drinking drivers are involved in more than half of all fatal accidents, Dann said, urging better enforcement of the new law.

According to Auto Club investigations, 20,000 persons were arrested in 1971 for drunk driving, but more than 50,000 drinking drivers were involved in more than 100,000 reported personal injury and fatal accidents.

Of those arrested for drunk driving at the .15 level, only half were found guilty as charged, Dann said. Another 25 per cent are found guilty of reduced charges such as impaired, reckless or careless driving. The remaining 25 per cent were either acquitted or some other action was taken.

IF A DRIVER has his license revoked by the Secretary of State, he can appeal the decision through the State Circuit Court license appeal system. Secretary of State figures indicate that 70 to 80 per cent of the bad drivers who appeal to the courts have their licenses restored, Dann said.

"Most judges say they restore a license because of the hardship its loss means to the driver and his family," Dann said. "Auto Club feels that returning a drinking driver to the road for that reason or giving him a sentence that is not meaningful, is unfair to the 95 per cent of motorists who never reach the .10 blood - alcohol level."

HURRY, HURRY

That's the message from Automobile Club of Michigan to passenger car owners who haven't purchased their 1972 license plate tabs. Elaine Palombi tips her hat to remind motorists that March 31 is the final day for displaying license plates without the '72 tabs. Elaine points to the proper location for the tab -- the lower right corner of the rear license plate.

Bill Would Aid Viet Veterans

Dependents of Vietnam veterans killed or missing in action or prisoners of war will have the opportunity of obtaining a free education in any state supported university or college through a bill introduced by Sen. William Faust (D-Westland).

The bill also provided a 10 per cent discount on college instructional and general fees for veterans with honorable discharges who have served at least nine months in Vietnam.

"This measure will provide educational benefits for the children of Michigan servicemen who so gallantly served their country," Faust said. "It will also provide constructive financial support to veterans who wish to further their education."

"The cost of a college education today is staggering, and the children of Vietnam veterans should not be deprived or hindered from obtaining a higher education because of no parent to provide financial help," Faust added.

Grandview To Organize

An organizational meeting of Clarenceville's Grandview Elementary School Parents Club will be held on Tuesday, March 28, at 8 p.m. in the school. Officers will be nominated at the meeting. One of the purposes of the Parents Club is to be a "rap session" for parents.

LNB Promotes 4 Executives

The Livonia National Bank recently announced the promotion of four employees.

Floyd S. Jarvi, of 7628 Merriman, Westland, was advanced to vice president from assistant vice president. Jarvi has been with the bank since 1963 and is responsible for all the accounting functions.

William F. Eichhorn of 36118 Canyon, Westland, was made an assistant vice president. An LNB employee since 1969, Eichhorn is a credit analyst in the commercial loan department. He is currently studying advance credit techniques at the bank's Detroit correspondent, Michigan Bank.

David L. Griffin of 33156 John Hawk, Garden City was also made assistant vice president. A Livonia banker since 1964, he previously managed other branches. He is a loan officer in the commercial loan department.

Donald P. Schneider of Stockbridge was manager of the Plymouth - Wayne Road office and was made vice president. He is a credit analyst in the commercial loan department.

Anti-Poverty Funds Voted By County

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has approved a $19,300 cash contribution to help finance the resumption of federally-supported anti-poverty programs in eight suburban communities.

County legislators also approved an application for a $150,000 federal grant to pay the bulk of the cost for the first six months.

Total project cost is $189,519. The $39,519 non-federal share will consist of $16,372 in services, $3,847 in cash from the eight suburbs and the $19,300 county share.

The program is being set up by Communities United for Action, Inc. (CUFA), a non-profit corporation organized by the seven mayors and one township supervisor of the eight localities -- Ecorse, Hamtramck, Highland Park, Inkster, River Rouge, Romulus, Taylor and Sumner Township.

The funds will be used to hire an administrative staff for the program which is expected to qualify for at least $1 million in federal funding.

Savings
For You
AT LAST

A system of scheduling service work. No longer will it be necessary to leave your automobile all day for one hour's work or two days for one day's work. Modern systems are expensive, costly to install and maintain and they take high quality people to administer. At Emmert Chevrolet Co., 20000 Grand River Avenue, these costs are secondary when it comes to Customer satisfaction. At Emmert Chevrolet it is not necessary to wait in a long line at sunrise to leave your auto on a first come, first serve basis. Simply call one of our specially trained service writers, explain your service needs. He will then translate this information into a close estimate of the time needed to service your car. You will then be informed of the appointments that are open that day or the upcoming days and the time that you select is YOURS AND YOURS ALONE.

This appointment system sounds simple? It isn't simple, but it works, and surprisingly enough, through efficient use of time, this system makes it possible to offer savings on service work.

For example—on all Chevrolet models our cost for labor only on muffler tailpipe exhaust was $13.50, is now $8.40. Labor only for clutch replacement was $45.00, is now $27.50. The labor only for power glide transmission overhaul was $85.00, is now $69.60. Note that these are not specials, they are now every day prices under our new system. Compare these prices with other dealer service costs!

Only Chatham offers you "Grower's Choice"
Fresh Fruits and Vegetables . . .

Did you know that Chatham pioneered the idea of "Grower's Choice" PREPACKAGED produce in the Detroit area? This means that you get the freshest, most carefully selected fruits and vegetables available. Then, once they arrive in Chatham's ultra-modern produce warehouse, everything is triple-inspected for quality, uniformity and freshness. All fruits and vegetables are packed in convenient size plastic bags. When you shop at Chatham, you can be sure the produce you buy is not only fresh—but also clean and sanitary. And here's a shopping note: These pre-packaged and pre-weighted "Grower's Choice" fruits and vegetables are guaranteed to satisfy—or your money cheerfully refunded.

Things You Should Know... About Eggs!

Q. How can a quality egg be identified?
A. The "Grade" refers to its quality. Chatham specializes in Grade A eggs. When broken out of the shell, these high quality eggs have a high standing yolk backed by a thick, up-standing white. The eggs will spread only over a small area, but as they deteriorate, they spread over more territory.
Q. How can I determine which size is the best buy?
A. Egg size refers to weight as specified by law for jumbo, extra large, large, medium, etc. In buying eggs, consider the price difference between the various sizes. For example, if there is MORE THAN $1 difference in price between medium and large eggs, then pound it there is LESS THAN $1 difference in price between medium and large eggs, then the large size offers more egg for the money.
Q. Is there any difference in the quality or nutritional value of dark yolks vs. light yellow ones?
A. The color of the egg yolk depends mainly on the breed of the hens and their diet. Most of our eggs now come from confined flocks. Their yolks are a lighter more uniform color.
Q. Why do hard cooked eggs sometimes have a dark ring around the yolk?
A. High cooking temperatures or too long cooking cause the dark rings and make the eggs tough and hard to digest. Low cooking temperatures are a MUST! Eggs should always be simmered, NEVER BOILED!
Q. Why are some hard cooked eggs so hard to peel?
A. Michigan State University egg specialists tell us that the fresher the eggs, the harder they are to peel. To peel eggs easily, take them out of the refrigerator 24 hours before cooking.
