Schools Ask Voter OK For Added Millage Plan

Farmington Tax Loses

Farmington School District voters went to the polls in record numbers Monday to reject by 205 votes a 3.5 mill operating tax increase. The vote was 6,185 against to 5,980 in favor. Similar proposals were defeated last June and August. School officials attributed the loss to "concerns in the community centering on bussing or the taxation issues."

Mermaids All

Since the '50s, Plymouth High School girls who swim in Water Waves have been presenting annual synchronized aquatic shows, and this week there will be three performances in the pool at the new school. Stephanie Luce is the '72 soloist.

'75 cents, please'

Your Observer carrier will ask for three extra nickels this month when he comes by to collect. As a young businessman, he's faced by the problems of rising costs, and the extra 15 cents will help him increase his earnings and give him the incentive to continue good delivery to you. And it's a bargain for you, too, since getting your hometown newspaper at regular newsstand prices would cost you an extra 45 cents! Be sure to ask your carrier for a receipt - it will insure regular delivery of your hometown newspaper. And it's worth face value toward an Observer want ad!

Pointing to a $1,950,000 deficit in meeting the proposed $10,850,000 budget for 1972-73, the Plymouth Community School District board Tuesday voted to ask voters for approval of two additional mills and a 5 mill renewal at the annual school election on June 12.

The requests will be in the form of three separate issues... the first calling for a five-year renewal of 5 mills which expired last December; the second asks for an additional mill for five years; and the third is for an additional mill for one year.

Acting Supt. John M. Hoben and Board President Mrs. Esther Hulsing explained that the one mill on the third issue will not be levied unless needed.

"We need this for a contingency to handle such items as the Ford Motor Co. suit protesting the assessment of the property on Sheldon Road in Plymouth Township," said Melvin Blunk, assistant superintendent in charge of business. "Ford is attempting to recover $260,000 from the 1971 school taxes it paid and it could cost us as much as $123,000."

"Then there's the Public Law 139 which requires all school districts in Wayne County to lose a quarter of a mill of the allocated millage to support the Wayne County Community College. We feel this is double taxation for the Plymouth school district inasmuch as it supports Schoolcraft College. The board is seeking legal recourse relative to the act. If we lose the quarter mill, it will take $85,000 from our anticipated income.

"Third, there is a strong possibility the board will have to pay retroactive 1971-72 pay totaling $95,000 to employees. All of this adds up to $303,000 and the second additional mill would take care of it.

"HOWEVER, if it came to pass that all three of the items were resolved without a loss of funds, then the second new mill wouldn't be levied."

Although visibly disturbed by the failure of the 3.5 millage issue in Farmington Monday night, the overwhelming defeat of a new millage proposal in Northville three weeks back and the fact that a renewal request in the Wayne-Westland School district passed by only six votes, board members agreed that they had no other recourse.

Starting with the existing budget of $9,775,000 and adding the cost of opening Plymouth-Canton high school and Miller Elementary School ($295,000), using the Price Control Board's recommended wage increase ceiling of 5.5 per cent ($450,000) and the cost of providing for 660 new students ($330,000), the administration arrived at a budget figure of $10,850,000.

The current anticipated revenues, which are based on this year's state aid formula, the projected increase of 660 pupils; and the millage now available to be levied would produce operating funds of approximately $8.9 million for the 1972-73 school year. The difference between the budget estimate and the known resources is $1,950,000.

At the present time, the school district has a total levy of 22.05 mills due to the expiration of the five mills last December. If the renewal is authorized then the total levy will go up to 27.05 again or at the same level as when classes started in September.

With the approval of the renewal, the school district would have revenues of approximately $10.5 million, provided the state contingency fund is not established for the coming school year.

Missing Cannon Pops Up

If it's true that there's no such thing as a bad boy, then the mysterious disappearance of the city's cannon two weeks ago and its equally mysterious reappearance probably will be dismissed as a practical joke.

The cannon is now safely chained to the Riverside Cemetery flagpole, about to be moved to Farmer and Starkweather where it will adorn an Old Village flower garden.

It's chained to the flagpole because, in a driving rain at 4 a.m. last Saturday, it was between the cemetery and the Hillside Inn that two Plymouth police officers found the 60 millimeter World War I relic.

Guarding it that odd hour were Kenneth Vogras, DPW director; Louis J. Norman, a former Plymouth Township trustee; and N. C. Reker, Vogras' brother-in-law from California. The flatbed truck that stood nearby allegedly belongs to Norman, an excavating contractor.

The cannon had "disappeared" from the DPW garage, and the official claim now is that Saturday night Vogras received an anonymous phone tip that the weapon could be found at an isolated spot on Five Mile. After recovery, it was only natural to detour through the cemetery.

During the period the cannon was missing, police searched several dumps and quizzed a number of persons. But no one ever looked in Louie Norman's barn.

Observer Announces Price Change

Monthly home delivery price of the Plymouth Mail & Observer will be increased by 15 cents, effective this month.

Announcement was made by Publisher Philip H. Power, who explained that the price change was made necessary by rapidly rising costs. He added that it would enable Mail & Observer carriers to increase their earnings and provide incentive for better delivery to their customers.

Power pointed out that at 75 cents per month, home delivery of the Plymouth Mail & Observer represents a savings of 45 cents per month under the regular newsstand price.

Power explained that the price change was fully in accordance with federal regulations dealing with Phase II of the president's wage-price stabilization program.

NO ONE WROTE a "please come home, all is forgiven" letter, but Plymouth's missing cannon has reappeared and at the moment is chained to the flag pole in Riverside Cemetery. Its next site will be in a floral plot at Farmer and Starkweather. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

Proposed City Budget 'Suspect,' Says Citizen

Plymouth's proposed 1972-73 municipal budget was challenged during Monday night's required public hearing as being "suspect as to accuracy, content, planning and projection."

These charges were leveled by Anthony Licata of 1290 Woodland Place on behalf of the Plymouth Civic Federation, of which he is chairman.

Although the federation is small, with a current membership of only 18, it includes several Republican leaders including former mayors James Jabara and James Houk.

THE GENERAL fund budget recommended to the city commission by City Manager Norman Gaffney suggests a two-mill increase in the property tax, raising the rate from $13.86 per $1,000 to $15.86. It calls for increased expenditures of $158,000 over the current budget.

Commissioners have held five budget committee meetings, seeking ways to pare planned expenses before the document is put into its final form. Mayor James McKeon said several more sessions will be called before consideration is given to adoption of the budget next Monday.

Even though no public hearing as such will be on that agenda, McKeon promised "at that time, anyone who wants to comment will have the floor."

The charter requires that the budget for the ensuing fiscal year, which begins July 1, be adopted in the first meeting of May. McKeon has said that his personal goal is to cut at least one mill out of the city's manager's proposal and thus keep the levy under 15 mills.

LICATA, A FORMER state representative and currently a Republican member of the State Reapportionment Commission, was one of several citizens who spoke Monday against any increase in taxation. The hearing lasted 90 minutes and it was the first time in years that it was anything other than a formality.

Licata charged that, as presented, the budget violates two provisions of the charter. First, he asserted that even though the charter requires reasons to be included for increases or decreases, only five of the 26 itemized departmental budget accounts in general fund expenditures "are discussed in any way."

Licata also charged there would be a charter violation in going beyond 15 mills, declaring, "Only the people, the voters of Plymouth, can permit this - by a vote. It is not a bureaucratic prerogative. It is not even the prerogative of the city commission. It is a prerogative of the people only."

"I suggest to you, Mr. Mayor and Commissioners," he added, "that these items I have pointed out to you make this proposed budget suspect as to accuracy, content, planning and projection. "We urge the commission to require a more precise and more meaningful document - one that is compatible with the criteria set forth in the charter, and at the same time make every effort to keep expenditures so that they can be disbursed under our present tax levy."

A comprehensive study into the possibility of contracting with the City of Plymouth to provide necessary township police protection was approved unanimously Tuesday night by township trustees.

It was emphasized in Supervisor Maurice M. Breen's recommendation in behalf of the study that "it would be necessary to return to the board, of course, before any binding commitments are made."

The motion sanctioning such negotiations at the administrative level for the purpose of formulating recommendations was made by Trustee Russell Ash.

Although the proposition drew barbs from Trustees Elizabeth Holmes and Frank Millington, even though they voted to go along with the approach, Trustee Gene Overholt gave Breen his strongest support with the declaration:

"I'd like to see this sort of a study progress. We've already done some investigating with the county sheriff and with state police, but before we make a decision we need to know all possibilities, including starting our own police department. This is one of them."

IT IS NO secret that break-ins and robberies in the township have increased greatly as the population has grown in recent years.

Not only has this been of great concern to officials and residents, but the fact that the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol has been instructed to phase out its protective patrols also has served to foment a crisis.

The city has a force of 16 officers plus several dispatchers working under Chief Timothy Ford. It is too early to estimate what expansion in manpower, facilities, patrol cars and other details would be necessary to cover the township, too.

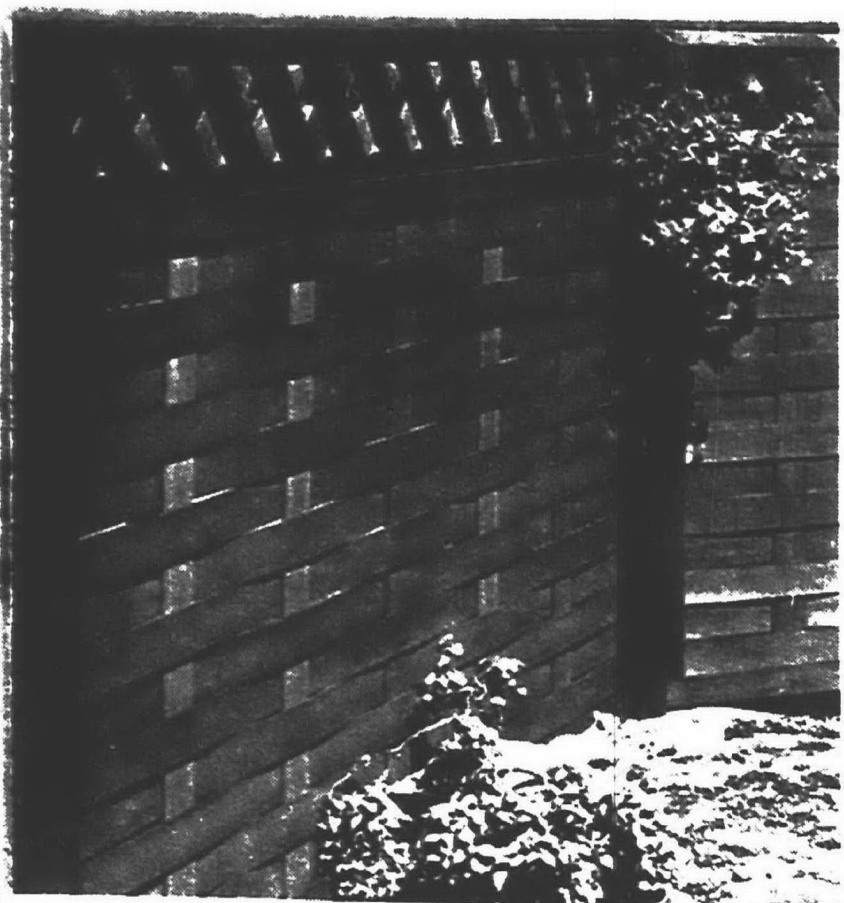

Millington sounded a note of caution when he said, "When we get down to police, we get down to millage," but trustees agreed that one of the purposes of the upcoming study will be to determine the price of city service in comparison to a contract with the sheriff or starting from scratch with the township's own department.

TWO HOPA CRABTREES were planted in Wilcox Park at the juncture of Mill and Starkweather Monday as part of the Old Village beautification program. Officiating at the Arbor Week ceremony was Mayor James McKeon. With him is Doug Blunk, president of the Old Village Merchants Association, both surrounded by children from Starkweather school. The trees were donated by Plymouth postal employees and the evening Kiwanis Club. (Observer photo by Maurie Walker)

Voc-Tech Seminar Set At Schoolcraft

A brand new class designed for persons unsure about the technical career area they wish to enter will be offered at Schoolcraft College the third week in June.

Called the "vocational-technical orientation seminar," the class will give students an opportunity to explore the types of careers available in technical areas.

It will provide information about Schoolcraft programs and employment opportunities, and it should help the student make an intelligent choice concerning the technical field for him and the best way to prepare.

The class will be limited to 50 students on a first-come basis. The only charge is a $20 tuition cost, and two hours of credit will be earned.

Both men and women will want to consider taking the seminar. Areas to be investigated include accounting, civil technology, automotive service, data processing, electronics, metallurgy, culinary arts, manufacturing, and many more. Individual and group counseling will also be included.

For further information and enrollment materials, telephone Richard Holmes, director of industrial education, at the college.

THROUGH BIFOCALS

By FRED DeLANO / Editor Mail & Observer

MY FRIEND on the next stool was complaining about what he said was a lack of governmental cooperation between our two Plymouths, and I told him he didn't know what he was talking about.

He asked why we have two treasurers, two clerks, two assessors, two public works departments, two engineers, two fire departments, and two building inspectors. I stood mute and asked what chance he thinks the Tigers have of winning the pennant.

He brought up the fire at Jack Selle's Buick agency and said he couldn't understand township firemen keeping their apparatus in the barn when they were less than a block away. The answer that Jack's dealership lies within the city didn't satisfy him.

He said isn't it funny that the city is considering an increase in water rates right after joining the Detroit system, and yet the township has gone for years as a member of that same system without boosting its charges. I said he picked the wrong word; it wouldn't be funny, it would be tragic.

ALL OF THE points that were raised do make sense. Yet, in the last couple of years there actually has been great improvement in essential cooperation even though we are not much closer to merger.

One can see it most of all in the recreation programs. Establishment of a joint authority as brought up again recently by the League of Women Voters makes so much sense that this may be exactly the impetus needed to make it a reality.

A lot of work already has gone into the planning of a mutual refuse collection system, and it is hoped the finished package can be worked out by the end of this year.

Now plans also are afoot to consider giving the township the police protection it needs and to do it through contractual arrangements with the city. If that can be done, a subsequent step could well be some sort of semi-consolidation of the fire fighting forces.

DUPLICATION OF EFFORTS could be eliminated if enough people really cared about it, but to date the opposing troops have been able to maintain an effective roadblock through the sham of the so-called City of Plymouth Heights.

In fact, just recently a new batch of petitions was filed asking election of still another charter commission for the Heights, and that situation may go on ad infinitum.

For the time being, then, the way around that barrier may be by the means of contracts and creation of authorities, and that's the direction the administrative heads of the two governments appear to be pushing.

The cooperative attitudes taken by City Manager Norm Gaffney and Township Supervisor Maurie Breen have rubbed off on some -- but not all -- of the underlings. Bit by bit, the fences are being broken down, with recreation leading the way. There's hope for one Plymouth yet.

Scott, Olson Win Honors

Two students from Plymouth are among those recently honored by Ferris State College for scholastic excellence during the winter quarter.

They are Edward T. Scott, 416 Evergreen, a business major, and Lawrence C. Olson, 41890 Ann Arbor Trail, enrolled in technical and applied arts.

To be named to the academic honors list a student must earn at least a 3.25 average on a 4.0 basis and carry a full academic load which is 14 quarter hours or more.

RAY MASTERS of Plymouth will entertain with such mime characterizations as this as part of Saturday's fun-filled "People Day" program offered by Kaleidoscope Plymouth. The attractions will be centered along Main Street and in Kellogg Park.

Olson Named To Dean's List

David Olson of 333 N. Evergreen, Plymouth, was one of 243 Grand Valley State College students named to the dean's list at the end of the winter term.

Olson received his commendation after achieving a 4.0 average during the term.

Festival To Have Funtime

PLYMOUTH It will be "People Day" Saturday in downtown Plymouth as the Kaleidoscope festival of arts offers a variety of entertainment for young and old.

Mrs. Denver McCord, who is chairman of this feature, said Kellogg Park and the sidewalks of Main Street will serve as impromptu theaters for puppet shows, mime and music starting about 10 a.m. and continuing until late afternoon.

Ray Masters, Plymouth puppeteer, actor and mime, will be joined by other actors to perform, one of their skits being the Mad Hatter's Tea Party.

John Osborne of Detroit will bring a Punch and Judy show to the downtown area and also will do balloon sculptures.

"There will be clowns, all kinds of music, folk singing and marching," said Mrs. McCord. "We also will have street artists at work, all as an extra attraction to Artrain and the Kaleidoscope festival in general."

the civilian labor market.

Carlson is now serving as an aircraft control and warning technician with a unit of the Aerospace Defense Command at Luke AFB, Ariz.

After leaving the Air Force, he plans to work in the refrigeration and air con-

Students To Rule Court In 6 'Law Day' Trials

PLYMOUTH
Law books are much in demand among Plymouth ninth graders this week as they bone up for the six mock trials in which they will participate Saturday at City Hall.

It's all part of the "Law Day" observance arranged by District Court Judge Dunbar Davis and civics instructor Wayne Weimer to increase student awareness of legal procedures.

Fellow students and adults are welcome to attend the trials which will be divided between the actual courtroom and the city commission chambers, said Davis. Local attorneys are serving as consultants to the youngsters in preparation of their cases.

PROCEEDINGS will get under way at 9:15 a.m. with two trials running concurrently in the adjoining rooms. One involves the charge of first degree murder and the other is a damage suit against a basketball coach resulting from the latter's demand that a player have his hair cut.

The four other trials will follow as courtrooms become available, with the total docket to be completed by mid-afternoon after a noontime break for lunch.

The Stroller

C&O Site Could Be Old Village Jewel

By W.W. EDGAR

Somewhere in this favored land there's a life size wood carving of the Lord's Supper, and somewhere close by there's also a life size wood carving of the crucifixion with Christ on the cross between the two thieves.

They are the handiwork of an elderly gent names Weiss, who once was proprietor of the Mt. Vernon Hotel at Northampton, Pa. in the heart of the Dutch Country.

These were not just ordinary carvings. They were the work of an artist. When the carving was finished, he painted them in colorful fashion to make them appear life-like. Through the years they became a tourist attraction and folks came from most states in the union - just for a sight of them.

Then came the time when the elderly gent was called to the Great Beyond and his son came into possession of the famed carvings, along with a myriad of smaller examples of his dad's art.

The younger Weiss was a 400 - pound behemoth built along the same slender lines as a C&O box car and was the type of person who required a great amount of sitting down to make him tired.

First thing he did was to have the popular carvings placed in a barn at the rear of the hotel and he didn't care if anyone came to look at them.

ONE SUMMER, on a return to the home precincts on vacation, The Stroller planned a treat for a few friends. He was going to show them the carvings about which he had spoken in such high terms.

"They're back in the barn," the younger Weiss said, "and here's the key if you want to see them."

What a shock it was to open the door and see the carvings covered with dust and dirt. But that was as of nothing compared to the shock the next summer when The Stroller was told on another visit -

"Someone came and took them away. I don't know where they are."

From that moment on, Northampton and the Mt. Vernon inn lost much of their charm, and the elder generation just shook its collective head in dismay that such a fate could befall the carvings.

Since then, there have been rivers of tears spilled - even by the younger folks - because the carvings became lost somewhere in the everyday workaday world.

They'd give most anything to have the carvings returned. But their whereabouts never was learned and there's a deep void at the end of the bus line in Northampton, Pa.

THE STROLLER got to thinking of the carvings and the lure they once had when he toured the Artrain at the C&O crossing in Plymouth several days ago.

As his eyes gazed on the creative works displayed in the old freight station and the imaginative setting, he couldn't help hoping that some way could be found to make it a permanent exhibition - and a setting for the future works of the residents of the entire area.

True, the folks behind Artrain are planning an annual display of some sort - but the charm and the setting of this first visit of the Artrain may not be present in the future exhibitions.

So, why not put forth every effort to acquire the C&O site for a permanent exhibition grounds and even go to the extent of acquiring additional land to build up a complex that would be an asset to the entire community?

If there is any truth to the adage that opportunity knocks only once, there is no time to lose.

Conedera Gets Officer Status

PLYMOUTH Navy Ensign Dana E. Conedera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edd A. Conedera of 7367 Birekian Drive, Plymouth, was commissioned in his present rank upon graduation from Aviation Officer Candidate School at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

His parents, and wife Wendy, were present at the ceremonies, during which he received his commissioning certificate from the commanding officer of the Aviation Schools Command, Capt. R.S. Davidson.

He will now go on to the next phase of flight training under the naval aviation program and upon completion of more than a year of intensive ground and in-flight training at Pensacola and other naval air stations, will be awarded the "Wings of Gold" of a naval aviator.

He is a 1971 graduate of the University of Michigan.

Millage Hike Proposed

THIS WOULD enable the district to operate Plymouth - Canton High School, Miller Elementary School, rehire the 81 dismissed teachers, replace retiring and leaving staff members, conduct all extra curricular activities such as forensic, debate, school papers, annual staff, club activities, interscholastic athletics, conduct junior league programs, employ supervisory personnel such as crossing guards, room supervision, bus loading and playground supervision; and provide music programs, other than class activities, such as marching band, glee clubs and the like.

It was pointed out that 81 probationary teachers had received notice earlier that their services would not be required next fall. This is in accordance with the master contract which provides teachers must be notified 60 days in advance of the final day of the school year.

"At this point, we would be about even with the situation as it is right now," said Acting Supt. Hoben. "But we would not have funds to take care of the additional 660 students nor would we have a professional staff for the new high school and Miller elementary. It would provide only for the operational and classified personnel workers but wouldn't do any more than open the doors...there wouldn't be a teacher in sight."

THE BREAKDOWN of the 5 mill renewal, which would bring $1,495,000 into the budget, finds $220,000 for opening Plymouth-Canton High; $75,000 for Miller elementary; rehire 81 teachers for a total of $810,000; replace 16 teachers who are leaving or retiring for $160,000; carry on the work of BCD for $130,000; and continue operation of buildings to support the BCD and community activities for $100,000.

With the renewal plus one mill, the district could hire 19 additional teachers to aid in taking care of the needs of the projected growth of 660 students; implement the three-year study and recommendation of the Curriculum Coordinating Council to change the elementary social studies program; and hire additional special education staff to prepare the school system to meet the mandatory requirements of Act 198 of the public acts of 1971.

There isn't any way that 19 teachers could take care of 660 students but the administration plans adjustments in the staff with the expectation that classroom loads will not exceed a ratio of more than 28.2 per teacher.

The professional staff includes 472 with a teaching staff of 382. The recent dismissal orders for 81 has dropped the teaching total to 301 which the administration knows would boost classroom totals and lower the level of education.

Thus, the administration and the school board believes it is absolutely necessary to have the 5 mill renewal and the additional one new mill approved to maintain the present educational level for the coming year.

Of serious concern to the school district is the threat of lost revenue through the enactment of Public Law 139 which requires all school districts in Wayne County to lose 1/4 mill of their allocated millage to support the Wayne County Community College. This could cost Plymouth $85,000.

THERE IS a known loss of $10 million in personal property taxes in Plymouth Township as a direct result of the retrenching program at the Burroughs plant where employment is down from 5,800 to less than 1,900, according to figures from company officials in the last six months.

The board also is faced with the prospect of retroactive salary adjustments for the bargaining units of the school district's labor force.

This could cost as much as $190,000 and is not included in any escrow account. Three of the five units have petitioned the IRS for salary adjustments.

Because of the uncertainties of the items: Ford Motor suit for adjustment in assessments and return of $260,000 from the township and school board; the payment of a quarter-mill to the WCCC; and the retroactive pay, the school board is asking for approval of Proposition III for one mill for one year to protect the base budget.

It would be levied prior to Sept. 1, 1972 if required. Otherwise, the one mill, or any fractional part thereof, would not be levied.

In addition, the administration is working closely with the recommendations of the Citizens' Finance Committee which asked for a reduction of $319,000 in the budget.

THE COMMITTEE recommended the closing of Central Junior, the former senior high, for at least one year. The administration has recommended limited use for a savings of $140,000.

Other reductions to be started immediately include: elimination of S.T.O.P., $12,000; reduction of aides, $10,500; reduction of in-service, $50,000; reduction of capital outlay, $46,000 for a total of $298,500.

Museum In California Names Ex-Plymouthite To Key Executive Role

Brenda Richardson, a former resident of Plymouth who is the daughter of the township clerk and her husband, has been named assistant director for exhibitions at the University Art Museum at Berkeley, Calif.

Museum Director Peter Selz made the announcement, adding, "Brenda's assistant-directorship gives me special pleasure because she is now recognized in national circles as a museum person of excellence, and this new position is more commensurate with her extraordinary abilities."

Miss Richardson became a research assistant at the museum in 1964, when she was completing her master's degree in art history at the University of California, Berkeley. She has been in charge of administering museum publications and exhibitions since 1966 and was named curator of exhibitions in 1970.

She has also contributed to and prepared numerous exhibition catalogs and organized many shows of her own, including the major exhibition of west coast artist William T. Wiley that was featured in Time magazine. The show opened at Berkeley in September 1971 and has since traveled to museums at Philadelphia, Chicago, and Washington, D.C.

Miss Richardson's articles have appeared in "Art in America," "Art Journal," "Arts Magazine," and other periodicals, and she writes a monthly column on the art developments in the San Francisco area for "Arts Magazine."

Miss Richardson, now 29, graduated in 1960 from Plymouth High School and received her bachelor's degree in English and French literature from the University of Michigan in 1964.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Richardson of Morrison. Mrs. Helen Richardson is the clerk of Plymouth Township, and Mr. Richardson, employed until recently by Burroughs, does commercial photography and plans to go into real estate.

Teacher Rescues Child, 2½

PLYMOUTH A Plymouth teacher is credited with saving a child's life in a near-fatal drowning accident near his home in Ann Arbor.

Robert Garrett was summoned by a neighboring mother after her child had told her that his playmate had fallen into Lake Lila from a dock. The lake is a recreation facility for Village Green Apartments, where Garrett is a resident.

Garrett found the 2½-year-old under the dock on the bottom of the lake.

"He had been under four to six minutes when I got there," Garrett said, "and I began mouth-to-mouth resuscitation right away. He had already turned blue."

Although Garrett had never received formal instruction in lifesaving techniques, he had read about the steps involved.

The child was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor where he is still under treatment since the accident four weeks ago.

Garrett is an eighth grade math and science teacher at Pioneer Middle School.

Central's band and orchestra both scored "straight ones," meaning a superior rating from each of the three judges in rehearsed music plus another for the sightreading of unrehearsed material.

The band from West Middle School, which was eligible after gaining a superior rating at the district level, was scored 1-1-2, the latter coming in sight reading.

OLGC's Students Create Filmstrips

Sixth grade language arts students at Our Lady of Good Counsel composed their own filmstrips for a recent film festival as part of Kaleidoscope Plymouth.

They wrote scripts and planned graphic presentations for the filmstrips. The strips were complete with taped narrations or commendation by a student as the film was shown.

The students presented their filmstrips to an audience and were judged on creativity. The finished pieces dealt with such classroom problems as "Study Habits" by Lisa Skladzein and Linda Bartalsky in class 6-1.

Chris Voytas and Kathy Stacey created "Max's Misspelled Words" among others such as "Dewey

Meade and Mike Schulte, "Number Ciphers" by Jim Marks and John Broderick, and "Tom Swifties" by Tom Covington and Bob Doherty. Class 6-2 students devised "Seabird" by Mary Clare Swabon and Carey Cyburt, "A Parody of Homer Price" by John Lucchetti and John Hull, and "Language Is Symbols" by Bruce Supanich and Jerry St. Pierre.

After the filmstrip presentation, refreshments were served by Denise Ouellette, Denise Kulas, Michelle Leveille, Kathy Sochacki, Carey Cyburt, Tomara Bulifant, Bill Churchman, Jerry St. Pierre, John Hull, Nancy Plas, Jim Holland, Barb Briscois, Debbie Szopa, Lisa Lukens, Tom Covington and Jim Marks.

LAWRENCE LIVINGSTON Memorial Fund Scholarships of $75 each have been granted to Karen Nance and Dan Moyer, both of East Middle School. The scholarships will be applied toward tuition at the National Music Camp at Interlochen. Trustees for the fund named for the late Plymouth bandmaster are Mrs. Livingston, James Griffith and Carl Taylor.

Senators Split 3-1 On Farmer Unions, Pricing

LANSING Observerland senators split 3-1 in favor as the State Senate last week gave 21-11 approval to a bill that would give farmers the right to unionize and power to fix prices on their commodities.

The controversial bill was the work of Sen. Charles Zollar (R-Benton Harbor), himself a wealthy fruit grower and industrialist in southwestern Michigan.

Backing it were Sens. David Plawecki (D-Dearborn Heights), William Faust (D-Westland) and Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth). Opposed was Sen. Daniel Cooper (D-Oak Park).

The price-fixing plan would allow 51 per cent of growers of at least 50 per cent of a certain commodity to set the price for the entire crop.

In the State Agriculture Dept., an "agricultural complaints, appoint arbitrators, render decisions and award damages."

Zollar described it as an attempt to help poor farmers caught in a price squeeze. But an angry Senate GOP Leader Robert VanderLaan called it a giant step into price fixing. VanderLaan voted for it because he said he wanted Zollar's signature on a school aid bill.

He said Zollar "collected all the skeletons he had hidden to get his bill passed." And he accused Zollar of using his power to set himself up for a congressional race.

PURSELL SAID that if Zollar did any arm-twisting, he (Pursell) didn't see it and wasn't on the receiving end. Pursell said the bill had merit: "A lot of the big farmers weren't for it, and a lot of the small ones were. They'd have a large, perishable crop come in, and a processor would come in and drive the price down."

"This will give them a chance to organize and bargain with the processors," said Pursell.

House Rejects Anti-Bus Plan

LANSING Observerland state representatives split 6-2 along familiar lines last week as an anti-bussing amendment to the state constitution fell 10 votes short of passage in the House.

The resolution got 64 favorable votes, with 74 (or a two-thirds majority) needed send it to the Senate, and 36 opposed.

Reps. Marvin Stempfen (D-Livonia) and Joseph Forbes (D-Oak Park), whose district includes eastern Southfield, continued to vote against the resolution.

Backing it were Reps. Richard Young (D-Dearborn Heights), whose district covers parts of Westland and Livonia; John Bennett (D-Redford); James Tierney (D-Garden City), whose district includes northwestern Westland and the Plymouth community; Raymond Baker (R-Farmington), whose district includes Lathrup Village and western Southfield; and James Defebaugh (R-Birmingham), whose district covers Southfield Township.

The measure, sponsored by Democrat Joyce Symons of Allen Park, was recently forced out of committee. Purpose is to give Michigan voters a chance to outlaw school bussing as a way to achieve racial balance.

Opponents argued it would be futile to attack the matter through the state constitution because courts are deciding cases on the authority of the U.S. Constitution, which always takes precedence over state authority.

2 Prizes For Striewski

Ted Striewski, faculty member at the Oakland Community College Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington, has been awarded the top purchase award and an additional prize in the sixth annual national drawing and sculpture exhibition in Corpus Christi, Texas.

The winning entry entitled "Son of Wall Egg" is an epoxy resin construction utilizing cast polyester resin and plexiglass — a technique developed by Striewski. The work will become part of the permanent collection of Del Mar College, sponsor of the exhibition. The award also includes an invitation for a one man show in Texas.

The second award is a cash prize offered by the Coca Cola Bottling Co. for the resin construction entitled "Jumbo Extra Large Egg." The show was judged by the sculptor, George Segal. The exhibition will be on display from May 7 to May 31.

Striewski resides at 26100 Barbados, Farmington.

Interior Design Classes Set For Early May

Knoppow's Wallpaper City on Grand River in Farmington is offering free interior design classes starting in early May.

Designer Patricia Roubie will conduct the three-session seminar with persons who have a basic background in home decorating and want to approach their decorating needs in a professional manner with an overall scheme in mind.

The class will deal specifically with coordinating furniture, draperies, wall covering and carpeting relative to proper placement, period styles and correct usage of texture, color and balance.

Each member will work on completing one room of their home, developing their theme as a professional would.

Observerland Track Relays Saturday

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

The stage is set for the top track event in the area . . . the 1972 Observerland Relays.

A total of 18 schools will be out to capture top honors this Saturday (April 29) at Redford Union's track at Lola Valley junior high with gates opening at 5 p.m.

This will be the second annual Observerland track and field relays with Farmington High the defending champion.

The Falcons walked off with 28 points last year followed by North Farmington with 24, Redford Union 23, Bishop Borgess 20 and Churchill 19.

Meet director John MacKenzie expects all individual records established last year to fall.

"The toughest mark to better will be Farmington Tom Massey's shot put of 55'11 1/2", said MacKenzie. Thurston's Tom Haron should be the strongest of the competitors, with a recent toss of 55'3 1/2".

SATURDAY'S MEET could well be labeled the battle of the minds. Coaches will be shifting their athletes to find right combinations with some stacking some events to go after record times and some spreading out the talent to score the seconds and thirds for an overall score and a shot at the title.

All in all, the meet is shaping up to be No. 1 on the '72 card with powerhouses Bishop Borgess and Livonia Franklin the likely favorites.

Coach Steve Strauch of Brogess and Bob Holmes of Franklin will have to be on the lookout for contenders in Farmington, Garden City West, Redford Union and Stevenson.

The relay lineup is as follows: Bentley, Bishop Borgess, Churchill, Clarenceville, Farmington, Franklin, Garden City East, Garden City West, Birmingham Groves, Farmington Harrison, Southfield Lathrup, North Farmington, Northville, Plymouth, Redford Union, Southfield, Stevenson and Thurston.

The highlight has to be the running of the 440 and 880 relays.

FRANKLIN boasts the top time in the state at :44.1 with Borgess one step behind at :44.3. Next comes Redford Union at :45.1 and Bentley at :45.6. Watch out for a sleeper in Farmington.

The 880 relay list also shows Franklin on top with 1:31.6 and Borgess second at 1:32.5. Farmington is third with a 1:32.8 and RU fourth at 1:33.5.

These two races alone should be worth the evening's attendance. Tickets will be sold at the gate, students for 50 cents and adults one dollar.

The Borgess shuttle relay team is working for the No. 1 berth in the state . . . look for a record time Saturday.

The meet records established last year in the first running of the Observerland relays are:

FOUR MILE RELAY	Churchill (18:49.9)
880 RELAY	North Farmington (1:33.9)
TWO MILE RELAY	Farmington (8:09.2)
DISTANCE MEDLEY	Redford Union (10:53.1)
SHUTTLE HURDLE	North Farmington (:57.8)
440 RELAY	Bishop Borgess (:45.1)
MILE RELAY	Farmington (3:27.0)
SHOT PUT RELAY	North Farmington (141'8 1/4")
Best Put	Massey, Farmington (55'11 1/2")
POLE VAULT RELAY	Farmington (33'6")
Best Vault	Blanchard, RU (13')
LONG JUMP RELAY	North Farmington (57'11 1/2")
Best Jump	M. Gow, N. Farmington (20'8")
HIGH JUMP RELAY	Churchill (16'7")
Best Jump	Sieker, Plymouth (5'10")

The winner of this meet can lay claim to being the No. 1 team in Observerland area, especially since competition of this type demands a show of strength, balance and depth.

There are no individual events. Even the field events are relays in which the performance of each athlete is added to that of his teammates to determine the winner in that event.

Each field event team will consist of three athletes. Thus in the pole vault, the best height cleared by each of the three members of the team is totaled to determine the winners.

There are no preliminaries - all events are final.

The time schedule for Saturday is:

3:30	POLE VAULT RELAY
4:30	HIGH JUMP RELAY
5:00	GATES OPEN, SHOT PUT AND LONG JUMP RELAY
7:30	FOUR MILE RELAY (One Race)
8:00	880 RELAY (Three Heats)
8:15	TWO MILE RELAY (One Race)
8:30	DISTANCE MEDLEY (One Race)
8:45	SHUTTLE HURDLE (Four Heats)
9:00	440 RELAY (Three Heats)
9:15	MILE RELAY (Three Heats)

Individual duels are expected among pole vaulters Craig Boyak of Thurston, Nat Durham of Farmington and Hooker Wellman of Plymouth.

THE HIGH JUMP will feature top performers in Stevenson's Neil Bowlby, Jim Honke of Churchill, Guy Burke of Franklin, Farmington's Durham and Dave Schoof of RU. All are six foot plus jumpers.

Adding to the color of the meet will be the Redford Union Trickettes. The 28 girl team will be assisting all officials. In charge of the unit are RU seniors Kathy Schwanz and Aileen Adagna.

The officials make up a list of their own. RU track Coach John MacKenzie is the meet director, with assistant meet director in the hands of RU Athletic Director Howard Kraft.

THE REFEREE is Bruce Waha, now track coach at Howell High School, and formerly coach at Detroit Redford. Tommy Thompson, executive editor of Observer Newspapers is the honorary referee.

The public address announcer will be none other than Homer Roberts. He is the conservation teacher at RU and announcer of all track meets and basketball games. This is Roberts' 24th year at RU and he is retiring this year with 42 years of teaching to his credit.

"He has been broadcasting ever since we had a PA," commented MacKenzie.

A NF First: Parker Hurls No-Hit Gem

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

North Farmington hasn't been tearing the cover off the ball lately in hitting but it really hasn't had to...the pitchers have been in command.

Louie Doot turned in a brilliant one hit pitching performance in a 1-0 victory over Walled Lake Western and junior righthander Kim Parker completely baffled Franklin with a no-hitter in a Raider 6-0 victory.

What a turnabout it was for Parker. In his last outing against Thurston he was blasted for seven runs in the first inning and was relieved after retiring just one batter.

But against Franklin he was an ace. He walked four Patriots and struck out one. There were three close calls in the route to a no-hitter. Franklin's Wayne Darragh lashed a hot shot to the Raider shortstop in the second inning

Flying High

Thurston extended its unbeaten tennis streak to 6-0 with three consecutive shutouts over Grosse Ile, Bentley and Catholic Central.

The Eagle netmen had previously beaten neighboring Bishop Borgess, 6-1, and squeezed by Trenton, 4-3. Thurston's No. 1 singles, Pat Trappnell, lost his first singles match in 19 duals over a two year span to Fred Pointe of Trenton.

and the ball scooted loose for an error.

Chuck Wolfe made a diving shoestring catch in right field on a drive off the bat of Gar Frantz in the sixth inning and Darragh almost broke it up in the seventh on an infield grounder that John Cassidy picked up and rifled wide of the bag at first. Scott Ramsey took the throw and made the tag on Darragh and the rest was all simple for Parker.

THE RAIDERS did all of their scoring in the first inning off Franklin starter Dennis Watson.

With one out, Doug Moher, Cassidy, and John Haine walked. Marty Raymond struck out for the second out but Ramsey laced a single to right scoring Moher and Cassidy. Wolfe followed with a double. Doot walked and Parker helped his own cause with a two run single.

Franklin sophomore Jamie Knapp relieved Watson and quieted down the Raider bats and allowed only one hit the remaining five innings, a single by Haine in the fifth.

NORTH FARMINGTON collected six runs on four hits and Watson took the loss with Parker the winner.

The Walled Lake Western contest saw each team pound out one hit apiece with the lone run of the game not figuring in the hitting.

Doug Rapp collected the first hit for Western in the bottom of the third but was quickly erased on a line drive double play back to North hurler Doot.

The Raiders tallied in the top of the fourth with Cassidy safe on an error. Haine was safe on an error by the Western pitcher and Marty Raymond drove one deep to left field. The putout was made but Cassidy scampered home with the game's only score.

Mike Gasser ripped a single for North in the fifth but was left stranded and the next seven Raiders went down in order.

AN ERROR allowed Jeff Evans to reach base in the Western half of the seventh but Doot had everything under control and finished his one hit performance, which included five strikeouts.

Tom Wallis' Raiders stand with three wins, two losses and a tie. The loss to Farmington was changed into a 9-0 victory due to an ineligible player.

North Farmington travels to Waterford Kettering Friday and hosts Birmingham Groves on Monday.

Snapper For people who hate picking up after themselves.

It's not just luck that one of the largest grass catchers you can buy has our mower attached to it. When we designed the Snapper, we weren't trying to build a better mower, we were trying to build the best mower, and we did, right down to the grass catcher. The Snapper Comet has a big 6 bushel grass catcher attachment that unloads in seconds. The V-18 and V-21 have a large 3 bushel bag. Whichever one you choose they all pick up grass, leaves and twigs. Franklin's '440' Fastest In State OBSERVER RELAY PREVIEW -- Bishop Borgess and Livonia Franklin went at it in the same heat of the 440 relay in the Heart Relays at John Glenn. Franklin's Ken Yuhasz hits the wire ahead of Bishop Borgess' Greg Battle (left), and the Patriots scored a :44.1... currently the fastest time in the state. The same two teams will be at it again in Saturday's Observer Relays. (Observer photo)

Franklin, Borgess Capture 2nd, 3rd In Heart Relays

Livonia Franklin and Bishop Borgess couldn't wait to knock heads in this Saturday's Observerland Relays. The two area powerhouses warmed up for the 18 school meet with a second and third place in the Heart Relays at John Glenn. Dearborn captured the 12 school meet with 53 points. Franklin sprinted to second with 34 points and Borgess fought to third with 28.

Franklin's 440 squad captured first with a :44.1, currently No. 1 in the state. Making up the sprinting quartet are Chuck Quinn, Joe Jinnett, Mark Newman and Ken Yuhasz.

The Patriots also scored a first in the 880 relay with a time of 1:32.0. Harvey Allen, Chuck Quinn, Jinnett and Yuhasz made up the combination.

MARK NEWMAN headed the long jump list with the help of Pat Genrich and Guy Burke.

Franklin's shuttle hurdle relay team ran into trouble five minutes before the event started.

"Newman hurt his ankle and he was to take a leg in the shuttle hurdle," said Franklin Coach Bob Holmes. "Luckily we were in the fourth heat so I had a little time to seek out a runner."

Little did senior John Casey know that he would be taking part in the Heart Relays.

"I found Casey in the stands," said Holmes. "He is on the track team at Franklin but wasn't running, just there as a spectator. He borrowed a pair of shoes and a track suit and changed in the bus."

Franklin captured second in the event with Bob Lee, Dave Frecka, Mark Bair and Casey.

TOM CHESTER, Dave Draplin, Bob Stewart and John Dawe scored a Franklin second in the distance medley relay with 10:51.2 and Paul DeNapoli, Pete DeNapoli and Mike Feister took third in pole vaulting with a total height of 31 feet.

Borgess didn't set any state records and for that matter, did not win a first. But Steve Strauch's cindermen won three seconds, four thirds, one fourth and one fifth to land behind Franklin in third place. The three seconds came in the four mile relay (Jim Bearden, Tom Mulvihill, Doug Kreucher, Mark Oller), 19:14.4; two mile relay (Craig Lantto, Dennis Hicks, Dave Strauss, Ken Yates), 8:32.4; and the 440 relay (Neil Falls, Kevin Kleinsmith, Tim DeBeliso, Greg Battle), :44.3.

Kimball Zips By Southfield

Southfield High failed to find the winning combination in its second track meet and fell to Royal Oak Kimball, 72-51.

The Blue Jay trackmen captured seven firsts and for a moment it appeared they were going to remain in the thick of it. At the start of the 100 yard dash, Southfield was in command, 36-32.

But the 100 which has plagued Southfield proved a menace again and Kimball shutout the Blue Jays to take a 41-36 lead.

Southfield has failed to score a point in the 100 yard dash in the past two years. Kimball picked up momentum and dashed to a 21 point win.

SAG Gymnasts Win 22 Ribbons

The girls teams of the Southfield Association for Gymnastics brought home 22 Ribbons, three Medals and a team trophy from the Southwestern Ontario invitational gymnastics meet in Windsor. Southfield was the only American team invited.

The Junior Girls (15 and over) team trophy was awarded to Kitty Skillman, Sara Skillman, Cindy Wright and Lisa Kellman.

Kitty, Sara and Cindy won three medals for all-around performance: Kitty gold, Sara silver, and Cindy bronze. With the help of Lisa, they also swept the Floor Exercise.

Miki Greer, Sheri Greer, Sue Wright and Brigid Mullane won seven ribbons in the novice girls (14 and under) competition.

COACH Dave Huber, expressed the hope that the girls' performance would be repeated at the M.A.G. state finals April 22 in Kalamazoo.

Michigan State football teams are only five victories shy of the 400 mark in their history, with the record in 75 years showing 395 wins, 212 losses and 35 ties.

10 Walks Spell Difference In RU Loss

A six run sixth inning proved the difference in the Suburban Eight baseball clash between Redford Union and Livonia Bentley, with the Bulldogs from Bentley holding a 10-4 edge.

"We just fell apart at the seams," said RU Coach Bob Atkins after watching his hurlers give up 10 walks and his defensive unit make five errors.

It was a 4-4 game going into the sixth when Bentley put together four walks, two hits, two errors and two wild pitches to tally six times.

Joe Kearney went the route for Bentley for the win and allowed seven hits, walked four and struck out four.

TOM MILLER started for RU, was relieved by Gary Fulk, Tom Nippa, and Martion as Coach Atkins was having trouble finding someone to put the ball over the plate.

Bentley scored one in the first when Gregg Neale was safe on an error. Bob Deacon and Pat Perino followed with singles and the Bulldogs were up by one.

Bentley spurred ahead by three in the top of the third with Neale starting the rally again. He was hit by a pitch and Perino and Gentz walked. Two errors and a sacrifice by Bob Wasilewski brought home two more runs and it was Bentley, 3-0.

RU got one back in the third on walks to Miller and Steve Friedman and a one base hit by Kurt Fritz.

THE BULLDOGS pulled ahead by three again in their half of the fifth on a home run by Gentz.

But the Panthers fought back to tie it at four all in the bottom of the fifth, with the help of the long ball.

Mark Durance and Friedman singled and Fritz unleashed a tremendous drive to left field for a three run homer off Kearney.

Then came the sixth inning.

WASILEWSKI singled but was forced at second on a grounder by Kearney with Steve Houghton failing on a sacrifice and with two outs, Platt walked and Kearney was on first.

Neale and Deacon walked. The RU shortstop booted a

The Yellowjacket trackmen finished on top of the 12-team heap in class C with the high hurdle relay team of Bob Zinkel, Mike Glock, Harry Davis and Grant Whittlesley capturing first with a time of 1:12.0.

Country Day had a third in the two mile relay; a fourth in the shuttle lows; a fifth in the shot put; and a sixth in the mile relay.

Wayne State University senior cross country captain John Gores and teammate Frank Tymrak have each completed a marathon (26 miles, 385 yards) in under three hours.

Eagles Continue Assault; Franklin Fails To Rally

Thurston continued its assault in the Northwest Suburban League with a 4-2 triumph over Livonia Franklin. The Eagles stand 2-0 in the conference and 2-3 overall.

Thurston was the visiting team but the game was played on the Thurston diamond. Bad weather had prevented playing on the Franklin field thus the Eagles were at the advantage before the game started.

Bill Fraser was safe on an error to start the Thurston first. He moved to second on an error and scored on a single by Bob Ghannam. Franklin had scoring opportunities in the second and third stanza but failed to capitalize.

The Patriots notched it at one all in the bottom of the fourth. Tim Livesay singled, stole second, advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored when Dave Hollandsworth went down swinging on a bad pitch that got by the Thurston catcher.

THURSTON spurred back in the fifth. Mike Robinson tripled, Bill Fraser singled him home, stole second and scored on a single by Don Murdock.

The Patriots came to life in their half of the inning when after two outs, Steve Crowe tripled. Livesay singled scoring Crowe but the rally ended with Franklin one short.

Thurston added an insurance run in the seventh off reliever Griffin. Robinson walked and scored on an error and a single by Ghannam.

FRANKLIN was far from dead in the bottom of the seventh. Jeff Waterstone walked but Wayne Darragh grounded out. Gar Frantz singled but Crowe grounded out and Livesay struck out to end the game.

Ghannam went the distance for Thurston chalking up the win and Franklin starter Rick Frayer took the loss.

Thornbladh, Mutch Show Well

U-M Grid Jobs Beckon

By W.W. EDGAR

Two former Observerland high school football stars - Bob Thornbladh, of Plymouth, and Craig Mutch, of Thurston - served notice on Coach "Bo" Schembechler Saturday that they'll be ready to do their part when the University of Michigan begins defense of the Big Ten title next fall.

Even though they were on the "Blue" squad that lost to the "Whites", 14 to 12, they were in the thick of competition all the way.

Thornbladh, who was the third string fullback last fall and automatically moved up to the second string upon the graduation of Fritz Seyferth, played most of the annual spring practice finale and gave an excellent account of himself.

But the most pleasing showing was that of Mutch, who missed last season because of an injury. Craig captained the "Blue" defensive unit and was in on most of the tackles. His lone miscue came near midfield when he dropped the ball after correctly diagnosing a pass play. He had the ball in his hands with an open field ahead.

Other than that he romped over the offensive backfield and, unless some misfortune strikes again, he'll be heard from in a big way next season.

Aside from the showing of these two players,

Michigan also put some speedy backs on display. Among them was Harry Banks, a shifty speed merchant, and "Cowboy" Walker who was the backup man for Billy Taylor a year ago.

Among some of the other newcomers who will bear watching is Dennis Franklin, a black quarterback, who is not only a sharp runner, but a fellow who can throw a long pass.

It was his 60-yard pass to Gil Chapman, another sophomore wingback, that gave the "Blues" their first touchdown.

Throughout the game the coaches kept experimenting with the passing game and it was evident that Schembechler, stung by the criticism of a year ago for the lack of a passing game, will go to the air frequently next Fall.

FIVE QUARTERBACKS were on parade throughout the afternoon. The lone newcomer was Franklin and whoever wins the starting assignment may have to beat him for the job.

Otherwise it appears like another battle between the two juniors - Kevin Casey and Tom Slade - who handled the job a year ago.

While neither caused any thrills by his passing ability last Saturday, Casey was pressed into service as a punter - and did a remarkable job.

Rockets Blast Oak Park, 10-2

The John Glenn Rockets enjoyed a good takeoff in Northwest Suburban league baseball action with a 10-2 triumph over Oak Park.

Glenn lashed out 11 base hits and utilized eight Oak Park errors enroute to its fourth straight win.

Jeff Hodgkins went the distance for Glenn allowing seven hits, walking one and striking out one. Randy Farber and Marv Raufman worked on the mound for Oak Park with Farber taking the loss.

J.P. McBride singled to open the Glenn assault and was sacrificed to second by Hodgkins. Roger Sanders was safe on an error and Mike Borders drilled a single to center scoring McBride.

The Rockets added one in the second on a walk to John Lee, a stolen base and a run producing single by McBride. The score remained 2-0 to the top of the fourth.

Glenn's Jim Laughren walked, stole second, advanced to third on an error, and scampered home on a double by Lee. Russ Rayburn was safe on an error scoring Lee and scored himself on McBride's third straight hit ... a double to right.

HODGKINS and Sanders followed with singles and the Rockets were up by six going into the bottom of the fourth.

Oak Park put together singles by Stuart Zonder and Jerry Muskovitz to get one back in its half of the fourth but Glenn bounced back in the top of the fifth.

Borders walked, moved to second and then to third on two passed balls. Laughren walked. Rich Kaufman was safe on a fielder's choice, Jeff Brittain singled and Dave Hein doubled, and it was Glenn, 8-1.

Jerry Muskovitz doubled and scored on an error for Oak Park's second run in the sixth but the Rockets weren't through.

Three errors and a triple by McBride produced two more runs and the Rockets had an eight run victory.

McBride was the big story with four hits in five at bats in the Glenn attack, including a double, triple and four runs batted in.

GLENN hosts league rival North Farmington today (April 26) with a non-league game against Ypsilanti on Friday.

ONE TO WATCH in Saturday's Observer-Relays is Farmington's sprinter Mark Timmons. He is currently No. 1 in the 220 yard dash and No. 2 in both the 100 yard dash and 440 yard run. (Observer photo)

Churchill Edges Mott

It was a scoreless battle up to the bottom of the 10th inning.

Waterford Mott and Livonia Churchill found themselves locked in a pitchers dual with Mott's Jim Zimmerman pitted against Charger Ken Wood, but Churchill pushed across a run in the 10th inning to win, 1-0.

Both teams had rallied on different occasions but neither could score, that is until Churchill came to bat in the bottom half of the 10th.

Sophomore catcher Rod Hanratty walked and with one out was moved to second on a sacrifice on Wood. Bob Blaines walked to put Chargers on first and second with two outs.

Roy Henriksson then became the man of the hour with his fourth hit and Hanratty dashed home with the winning run.

It was Henriksson's 10th hit in 21 at bat this season for a .476 batting mark.

Churchill Coach Roger Frayer was especially pleased with the backstop duties of Hanratty who found himself in the first string lineup with the absence of starting catcher Bruce Van Wagoner.

But the extra inning show belonged to Wood and Zimmerman. Zimmerman allotted Churchill five hits, two walks and struck out 15. Wood gave up hits, walked two and struck out 12.

MOTT left seven runners on the bases with one getting as far as third in the fourth inning.

Churchill stranded only five in the extra inning contest.

The Chargers travel to Wayne Wednesday and host Walled Lake Western Monday.

GC West Cindermen Hit 90 Mark Twice

Garden City West found a lucky number in 90.

The Tiger trackmen topped Melvindale and Garden City East by identical 90-33 scores and Coach Bob Lee is looking forward to Saturday's Observerland Relays with a hopeful eye.

West is taking up its share of the top times, distances and heights in the area's top ratings and the Tigers remain undefeated in dual competition.

West shutout East in the low hurdles and shot put and blanked Melvindale in the two mile, shot put and pole vault.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

CHICAGO Did you ever grab a seat for lunch and then discover you are sitting alongside nothing but glass on the 95th story of a Windy City skyscraper?

We might add that for one accustomed to sitting in a dining room at ground level, it was quite something else to look out over the Chicago loop, Lake Michigan and for quite a few miles north and west while waiting for a waiter to pour a cup of coffee.

Never was coffee more welcome. It took the chatter out of the teeth, relaxed muscles and made everything appear perfect until we looked down again...there may be some who get a kick out of seeing strings of automobiles moving along a ribbon highway for as far as the eye could see, but we aren't of that group.

Inasmuch as none of the countries represented in the driving series has a building anywhere near the height of the Hancock, we wondered how the visitors felt when they looked down. At least we have been in tall buildings before but the visit to the Hancock was something else...just like standing on a rug and having it go straight up.

The eight champions include: Joe O'Brien, representing the United States; Herve Filion, last year's world's champion reinsman with more than 500 victories, representing Canada; Vic Frost, Australia; Adolf Ubleis, the defending champion of the series from Austria; Giuseppe Guzzinati, Italy; Gilbert Martens, Belgium; Peter Wilfenden, New Zealand; Willie Rode, West Germany.

All were on hand for the luncheon with the exception of Martens, Filion and O'Brien. One wondered how come all of the visitors from far off could make it but O'Brien couldn't. Martens was supposed to be ailing from the effects of his passport shots... personally we believe he heard of the 95 floor trips on the elevator.

O'Brien phoned Bergstein to say he couldn't make it because he was making arrangements for the handling of his 60-horse stable while he was busy on the tour. Filion begged off for a similar reason.

Just to keep you accustomed to the magnitude of the series, it will have the drivers appearing at 11-member tracks of the HTA.

Maywood Park in Chicago officially opened the series Monday and the scene shifted to Painesville, O. on Tuesday. Wednesday was an open day for the drivers to visit the Fort Erie thoroughbred track at Fort Erie, Ontario.

Then it will be Vernon Downs on April 27; The Meadows on Friday, April 28; Greenwood Raceway in Toronto, Ontario on Saturday, April 29; Blue Bonnets in Montreal on Sunday, April 30; Wolverine Raceway, next Monday (May 1); Rosecroft Raceway in Maryland on May 3; Atlantic City Raceway, May 4; Saratoga Raceway in New York on Friday, May 5; and the windup at Liberty Bell Raceway in Philadelphia on Saturday, May 6.

The Court Jester

by BILL CAMERON

Ski Heil! Oops, I meant to say tennis, anyone? Now that the ski season is over (they were skiing at Boyne Mountain last weekend?), it is time to get your trusty racket out and head for the tennis courts.

You say you don't have anyone to play with? One answer is to join a tennis club. Livonia has a good one. Some 40 enthusiasts turned out for the initial meeting last week where they heard President John Hookey unveil the club plans for the coming season.

THE CLOSED CLUB tournament this year will consist of singles competition for men and women in A and B categories. They will also conduct the annual open tourney in August.

There is also a good chance they'll offer a few clinics for advanced players.

John Hookey has arranged for the courts at both Stevenson and Churchill High Schools to be reserved each Thursday night for club play. You will find players of all abilities, with one thing in common - they enjoy the spirit of competition. Show up any Thursday and join the fun.

If you missed the picture in last week's Observer of the Court Jester surrounded by those seven gorgeous gals, it was your loss. My "protégés" will be modeling tennis clothes at the Livonia Family Y

Spring Fashion Show next Wednesday, May 3, at 9:30 a.m. (Coffee hour at 9:00 a.m.)

There will also be several models from Nadons modeling bathing suits and other spring sportswear. I've been told that one of the models might be the winner of the Miss Detroit Universe Contest. Tickets are available at the Y or at the door - donation $1.25

I HAD the opportunity of seeing the China - American Table Tennis exhibition at Cobo Hall a few weeks ago.

I was fascinated with the speed and agility of these world class players. There is a great similarity between the forehand and backhand strokes of the two sports with the table tennis players utilizing more spin, particularly on service.

The games are very compatible, as witness the transition made by two of Livonia's better tennis players, Jim Shea, now playing No. 1 for Stevenson High School, and Janice Martin, former national junior table tennis champion, now attending Schoolcraft College.

I guess the moral is to start with "ping-pong," move up to table tennis and you'll find it easier to play tennis. I have 100 adults in my tennis classes, methinks I should have started some of them in ping-pong! Just kidding group!

Plymouth Swallows 6 Error Loss

Six errors tell the story in what Plymouth baseball Coach Wayne Sparkman labeled his squad's "worst showing of the season."

Plymouth dropped the Suburban Eight Allen Park contest, 6-3, to stand with an even two all mark. The Rocks travel to Belleville Friday for another league clash, and play host to Franklin on Saturday in a twin bill.

Allen Park opened the scoring with two runs in the top of the fourth. Leon Goetz walked and moved to second on a wild pickoff attempt. Dan Perry singled driving in Goetz and next followed a fluke infield grounder which resulted in another score.

Jim Oates tipped a slow roller down the first base line. The Rock first sacker picked up the ball but forgot to tag first and then rifled a throw to second with the ball carrying into left field. By this time, Perry had scampered around the base paths and Allen Park was up by two.

Allen Park added two in the fifth with Tom Bockel lashing out a double and Dogtz hit by a pitch. Tim Bencher blasted a 295 foot home run over the left field wall and the Parkers went five up.

BOB TOMES was safe on an error to open the Allen Park sixth. He advanced to second on a wild pitch, moved to third on a passed ball and dashed home on another infield error.

The Rocks were faced with a final inning shot at a six run deficit.

Dennis Grimes walked and Joe White was hit by a pitch. Steve Robb singled in Grimes and Rob Jenner doubled scoring White and Robb and the margin was sliced to three but Plymouth lost its steam and fell three runs short.

Rob Willette started Plymouth, working one inning, allowing no runs, no hits, but walking three and was relieved by Robb.

ROBB HURLED four innings, giving up five runs, one earned and was handed the loss with Larry Graves working the final inning giving up one unearned run.

Jeff Maddos was the winning pitcher for Allen Park with Jeff Hrdlecka chalking up a save.

LEAPING HAWK -- Farmington Harrison's Frank Arcangeli is the Hawk "do everything man" and is expected to give Plymouth's Scott Dunson a run for the money in this Saturday's Observerland Relays in the 880 yard run. (Observer photo)

Harrison Tips League Rival

Farmington Harrison opened its Western Six baseball schedule with a 3-1 victory over Waterford Mott.

The Hawks now stand 3-0 overall with the loss to Farmington now in the win column by way of a forfeit.

GARY MORRISON went the distance for Harrison, allowing only three hits, walking five and striking out eight in chalking up the win.

Mott's Jim Zimmerman took the loss. He gave up eight hits in six innings but struck out 12 Hawk batters.

Randy Cook opened the Mott first with a single but was left stranded.

Steve Morrison singled for Harrison in the first and advanced to second on a passed ball. But the Hawks faltered and the next three batters went down swinging.

Gary Morrison singled in the second and stole second but was left stranded. Mott put together two walks in the third but couldn't score and the Hawks put it all together in their half of the third.

First baseman Bryan Collins singled, Jeff Kallgren singled, and Dave Manos doubled scoring Collins and Kallgren. Tom Young

Aggie Pitcher Steals Show

Mark Miron stole the show in St. Agatha's shutout baseball win over St. Andrews, 4-0. The Aggie hurler allowed only five hits, walked four and struck out three. His bat also provided the offensive punch with a double, triple and two runs batted in.

The Aggies outthrew St. Andrews, seven to five and St. Agatha shortstop Mike Barden turned in a brilliant performance with eight assists and three putouts.

Falcons Extend Unbeaten Dual Record To 4

Farmington High extended its unbeaten dual meet record to four with a narrow track win over Birmingham Groves and an Inter-Lakes conference triumph over Waterford.

The Falcon trackmen put together nine firsts in the 70 to 53 match against Groves and won all but two events in the one sided Waterford meet, 90 to 33.

Farmington's Nat Durham captured double honors in the Groves contest with a six foot high jump win and a vault of 14'2" which is now No. 1 in Observerland.

Bruce Stirling was a Falcon double winner in the Waterford battle with firsts in the low and high hurdles. Farmington swept all three relay events and travels to Stevenson Thursday for another league match.

FIX-IT TIP

Perennials Next In Series

A wrench and a hammer should be included in your list of basic tools if you intend to do your own repairs around the home.

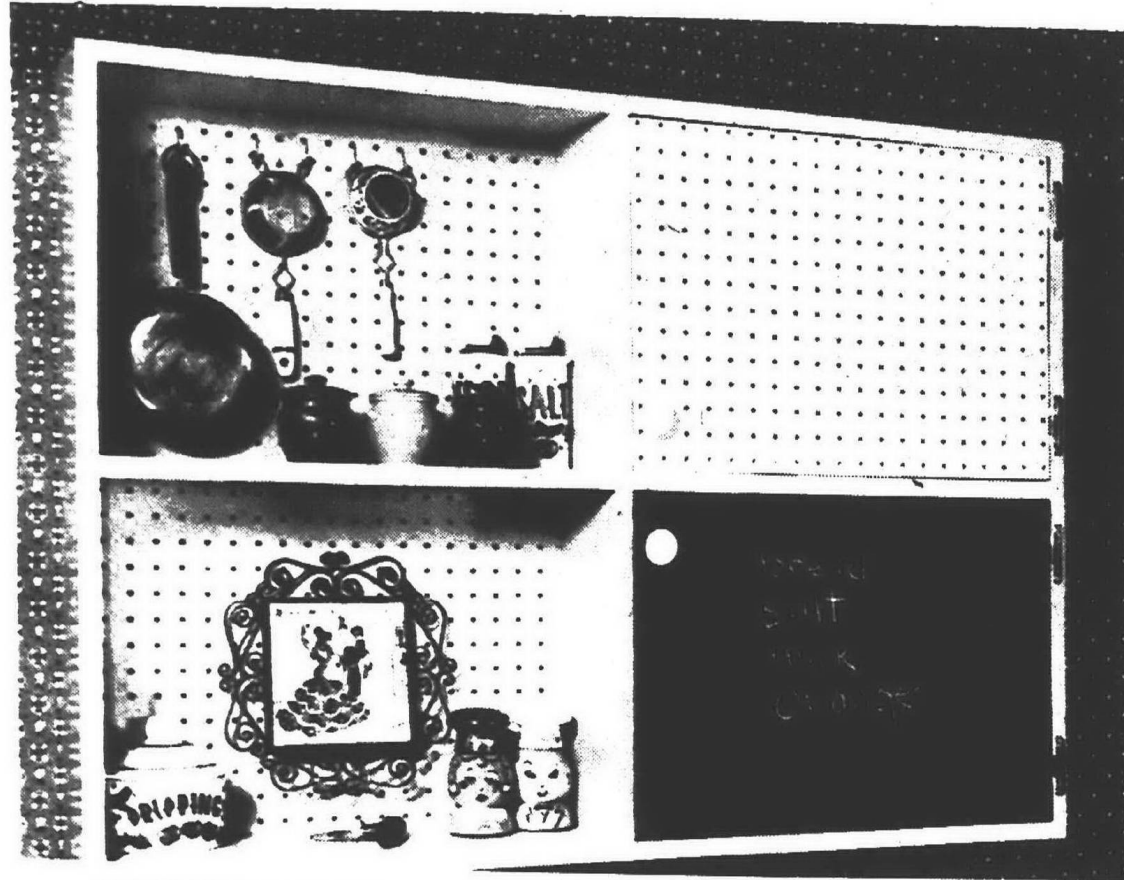

Get an adjustable wrench of the crescent variety. A 10-inch one will handle most jobs but consider smaller and larger ones in time. The smooth square-jawed monkey wrench and the pipe wrench are others to consider if you get into plumbing repairs—which you will eventually.

Buy a claw hammer with a forged-steel head. The 14-ounce hammer is a good all-around hammer.

"The Perennials in the Home Garden" is next in the series of lectures presented by the Michigan Horticultural Society. "How Does Your Garden Grow?"

Munns Caldwell, Michigan State University horticultural agent, will discuss perennials such as chrysanthemums, iris, daylilies, lilies, phlox and many others Monday, May 1, 1972 at J.L. Hudson's downtown store 13th floor Pine Room, from 12 noon to 1 p.m.

There will be no charge for the lecture, but a box lunch charge of $1.65 will be made for each registrant. Reservations are required by calling Hudson's downtown.

THE MESSAGE CENTER does double duty as a storage unit. The perforated hardboard permits hanging those kitchen gadgets one wants in a hurry. The blackboard is indispensable for grocery lists, appointments and chores which have been done. Send 75 cents, coin, check or money order (make payable to Easi-Bild Pattern Co. Inc.) for cabinet message center pattern No. 578 to P.O. Box 215, Briarcliff Manor, N.Y. 10510

New Grass Research At MSU

Focusing on major problems in sod production and turfgrass maintenance in Michigan, research at Michigan State University has resulted in the following new information on turfgrass diseases, winter protection, herbicides and fertilization.

Studies by Drs. Joseph Vargas and Charles Laughlin show a possible relationship between Fusarium blight and soil nematode. Fusarium, a fungus disease, can cause severe turfgrass damage—especially in the popular Merion Kentucky bluegrass.

Dr. James Beard, professor of crop and soil science, says that some golf course managers may not be giving young turf plots enough protection against winter injury, particularly on golf greens. Beard notes that 0.3 to 0.4 cubic yards of top dressing material per 1,000 square feet were needed to give good winter injury protection to highly maintained turf areas during MSU tests. This rate is higher than those commonly used on golf courses.

Dr. Al Turgeon, formerly of MSU, now at the University of Illinois, reports that the experimental herbicide, endothal, can effectively control one type of Poa annua—a bluegrass species that is considered a weed.

In MSU studies, Turgeon found that endothal kills bunch-type Poa annua, but only stunts the creeping-type of this weed. Endothal is also available for controlling broadleaf weeds and some aquatic weeds.

Dr. Paul Rieke reports that soil testing for nitrates isn't effective in determining nitrogen needs of sod. The soil tests vary too much to give good results, so producers must still partially rely on their own observations and past experience, he says.

Second Day

Make over a leftover for an elegant entree by arranging hot cooked pork slices on seasoned rice or noodles. Top with a heated sauce of cream of mushroom soup slightly diluted with rose or white wine.

Some of the most modern features—from electric heat to remote-controlled door openers—can be found in apartments. They're part of the convenience package being offered to draw—and keep—tenants.

Recently, the Bureau of Building Marketing Research queried 243 apartment builders throughout the country to determine multi-dwelling trends.

It found: today's typical apartments are larger (934 square feet compared to 903 square feet a few years ago); six out of 10 apartments have four or more rooms; 70 per cent have washers and dryers for each unit of seven or eight apartments; more than half of the apartments have individual cooling systems; and eight out of 10 buildings are air conditioned.

electrically-heated buildings where full thermal insulation is a construction requirement.

TRENDS TOWARD individual apartment entrances (reported in more than 53 per cent of the buildings), large glass areas and balconies constitute a need for well-designed windows and doors. The availability of stock sizes of ponderosa pine windows, panel doors and patio (or balcony) doors in a variety of styles makes their use practical.

Use of insulating glass, obtainable in all ponderosa pine windows and patio doors, eliminates the need for storm sash and substantially reduces maintenance.

Tenants' concern for security was reflected in an increasing use of protective devices in main entries and lobbies. Twenty-one per cent of the apartments have remote control door openers, 31 per cent have intercom speaker systems, and 4 per cent have closed-circuit TV.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

Planting trees: If you're setting out trees or shrubs, remember that they should always be pruned back at planting time. Take out at least 1/3 of the top limb growth. This balances the top with the root system which has also been damaged in digging.

It's important too, to snip off a bit of each frayed root. If the new tree is heavier limbed on one side, take out enough branches or cut it back so it is the same all around. Cut out any limb which makes a narrow crotch. Remember the narrower the crotch angle is, the weaker is the limb. Crotches with wide angles are the strongest.

Make the hole large enough to accommodate the roots. NEVER wind the roots in a ball or twist them in a knot, because this will strangle the tree. Many a shade tree is slowly strangling itself because the roots are twisted in a ball.

TAP THE MAPLES: Many readers let their children tap their maple trees on the premises, and we were happy to see that the kids were encouraged to do this. Tapping backyard maples is a real nature experience, and even though it takes 35 to 50 gallons of sap to make one gallon of syrup, it's worth the effort in fun alone.

The season is over with now, and one of the mistakes some tappers made was to leave the sap in the bucket too long. Never let the sap remain in a bucket more than eight hours, especially in warm weather.

A good point to keep in mind next year. Those of you who boiled the sap indoors found that it was a messy job. Some even found it loosened the wallpaper or the plaster! Next year, boil the sap out of doors, because of the water given off.

FREE: Would you like a set of cards with famous recipes dealing with maple syrup? The U.S.D.A. Forest Service in cooperation with the University of Vermont has produced a fine set of recipes which we are privileged to offer. Just send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for the complete set of cards dealing with maple syrup. You'll find a lot of good information waiting for you.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC: A reader writes: "I have a 'Corn' plant bought from our florist. Please tell me what care it needs."

Answer: Your plant is a Dracaena (pronounced "Druh - Seen - uh") and it likes a temperature of around 72 degrees, bright sunny window and a "uniform supply of moisture. Avoid a glazed or plastic container as these plants need plenty of air around the roots. Syringe foliage with soapy water once a month to discourage red spider mites, the only serious pest.

How To Cut Water Bills

"Better water management" is a term you'll be hearing a lot this year. It refers to the need for water conservation and pollution control. Even if your area doesn't suffer from water shortages, there is much you can do to conserve water in your home, and save money in the process.

These water - saving tips come from Donald Priest, a regional director of the National Assn. of Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Contractors. He represents the states of Michigan and Ohio for the 8,500 - member association, which is dedicated to upgrading plumbing standards and promoting public health.

1. Have leaky faucets fixed or replaced. A 1/16th - inch leak wastes 3,000 gallons a month. At average rates, this costs about $30 a year. If the leak is from a hot water faucet, add about $20 for the cost of heating the water.

2. Equip your faucets with aerators. They introduce millions of air bubbles into the water. You use less water because it suds up faster.

3. Replace old - fashioned shower heads. New ones use less water and increase enjoyment of the shower since you can regulate the spray.

4. Add a thermostatic temperature control to your shower. A family of four averages about 1,200 shower baths a year. Manual control showers waste about 2.5 gallons of water while it's being adjusted to the desired temperature. A thermostatic control can save you at least $10 a year in water and fuel.

5. Some authorities say that 50 per cent of the water coming into the home is wasted. Work at saving water until it becomes a habit. If you wash dishes by hand, stopper your sink or use a dishpan. Rinse them at one time with a hose spray instead of individually. Don't leave the water running while shaving. A running faucet while shaving uses about 20 gallons.

Has Earth Day Lost Its Punch In 2 Years?

By BETTY FRANKEL
Special Writer

"Earth Day," April 22, came and went this year with very little fanfare. It was just two years ago that the first "Earth Day" was celebrated with huge rallies in high schools and on college campuses all over the country. Ecologists and politicians, concerned students and their equally concerned parents gathered to discuss environmental problems and promised to bend every effort toward finding solutions to these problems.

"Pete" Petoskey, of the Michigan State Department of Natural Resources, commented that two years ago he was asked to give 11 talks on ecology. Last year six groups asked him to talk, and this year there were no requests at all.

Is it possible to become so complacent so quickly? Although some progress has been made, the environmental problems that aroused such concern two years ago still exist.

The air is still being polluted by fumes from automobiles and factory smokestacks. The water in lakes and streams is still being polluted with waste products from industrial plants and with sewage from communities. We are still using resources with reckless abandon. Natural areas are being converted into housing developments. Wetlands are being filled in, and rich farmland is being paved for parking lots.

Have we forgotten the problems and the dangers—or have we just given up?

THERE ARE things that you can do as a gardener, as a homeowner, and as a concerned citizen.

Do you bother to take your newspapers to a collection center? Do you recycle your bottles and cans? It is a small gesture, but worth doing. Many cities find that the volume of trash they collect has fallen over 25 per cent because of recycling.

Do you try to conserve fuel and energy—turn off the lights when they are not needed; form a car pool, etc?

Do you have a compost pile in your yard to convert fallen leaves and clippings into humus that can be recycled back into the soil to keep it rich and fertile? A compost pile doesn't take up much space and is simple to make but is worth every bit of effort involved.

What about insect sprays and herbicides and pesticides? Do you still use them indiscriminately? Make sure you use sprays and dusts recommended by the Department of Natural Resources, and use them only when absolutely necessary. Recommended insecticides include methoxychlor, malathion, naled, dibrom, pyrethrum, rotenone and abate.

MANY INSECTS and diseases can be controlled by checking the yard and garden frequently and picking off or cutting off twigs that are infested. Also, plant trees and shrubs that provide food and shelter for birds. The birds attracted to the yard will help you keep the insects under control.

Use mulches around shrubs and in garden beds to conserve moisture and keep down weeds. Wood chips, pebbles, grass clippings, hay, straw, buckwheat hulls, cocoa bean shells, chopped corn cobs are but a few of the things that can be used for mulching.

Another thing that you can do is explore the undeveloped areas in your community.

Learn what these lands are like and what their assets are. Are you aware of the value of wetlands? These low, marshy areas—big or small—are so important. They are a valuable resource and should not be filled in. They are needed so water can collect in them and then gradually seep into the ground replenishing the supply of ground water. This keeps it at the proper level so wells continue to flow and plants can flourish. Wetlands are valuable wildlife areas.

MANY KINDS of grasses and reeds, shrubs and wild flowers grow in these areas giving them a special, unique beauty, and they are the home of a multitude of small creatures—frogs and dragonflies, herons and redwing blackbirds, mink and muskrats, and many more—all dependent on each other and on the wetland habitat.

Thus you and your representatives can work together to keep earth alive.

Garden Reminders

The planting season is here. Now is the time to plant leaf-losing trees and shrubs, evergreens, roses and perennials.

Get deciduous trees and shrubs planted as soon as possible.

Early May is the best time to plant fruit trees, magnolias, birch trees and others with thin bark. Evergreens are best planted later in May.

Perennials are sprouting and they can be dug, divided and transplanted now. If possible wait until later in the season to divide early blooming perennials or flowers may be sacrificed.

Seeds of hardy vegetables and annuals can be sown in the garden now, but wait a bit before seeding tender plants or setting out tomatoes or eggplant.

Plant Delphiniums In Early Spring

Among the stateliest of garden flowers is the delphinium. Stems may grow to six feet and more in height.

The closely set florets turn much of the stems into spires of color.

Contrary to popular belief, the finest delphiniums do not grow from seeds sown in late summer.

Instead they result from sowing seeds outdoors early in spring in rich, well drained soil, preferably in a special seed bed.

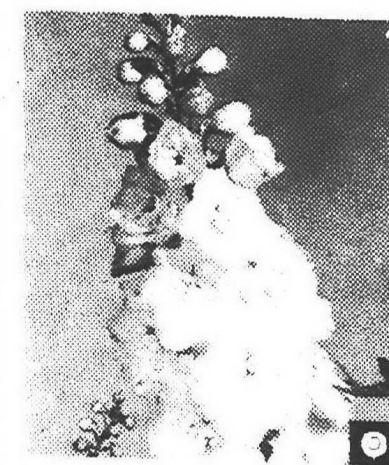

An important tip: cover seeds with sieved soil only an eighth inch deep. Then firm soil to seeds.

When seedlings sprout remove any that are crowded, transplanting them if you wish, but leaving most where they grew until they are three or four inches tall.

Then move them where they are to bloom, allowing at least 1 1/2 feet between plants.

Regular fertilization and plenty of water (laying down the hose and soaking the soil around the roots) should result in some blooms the first year; a full crop the second.

THE ULTIMATE development in delphiniums is the strain called Pacific Coast hybrids.

There's A Tomato For Every Purpose

You may think that a tomato is a tomato but that's not precisely the case. There are varieties that bear such huge fruits that a single one may tip the scale at two pounds! Then there are the little fellows intended for popping whole into the mouth.

And in between there are many sizes, several colors, early, mid - season and late - bearing varieties, plus those resistant to one or several common tomato diseases and those for specialized purposes.

For huge fruits, to impress friends and neighbors yet please the family's palate, choose Beefsteak, Burpee's Delicious or Park's Whopper, the last named ripening fruit about a week earlier than the others. All three are disease resistant.

AT THE OTHER end of the size scale are the always popular Yellow or Red Pear, Yellow or Red Plum and Red Cherry tomatoes, loved by children.

There are also newer small-fruited varieties, excellent for growing in pots to provide food while ornamenting your patio.

These include Small Fry, Patio, Pixie, Stokesalaska and Tiny Tim, the last two earliest to bear. There's also Sugar Lump, its name referring to the extra - sweet flavor.

Fordhook Hybrid, Early Giant, Moreton, Park's Whopper, Vogue and Fireball are others which produce in short order.

VF (the name indicating resistance to verticillium and fusarium wilts, both diseases), Jet Star and Supersonic are considered mid - season varieties, while Ramapo, Big Boy and those old - timers, Beefsteak and Ponderosa (pink in color) are all late bearers.

OCC'S ORCHARD RIDGE campus got 100 new trees and bushes in a single hour recently, thanks to students, faculty and staff personnel on the campus at I-696 and Orchard Lake Rd. in Farmington Township.

Orchard Ridge Getting Greener

The grounds of the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College will be greener this year, thanks to the efforts of students, staff and young people in the area. On a recent afternoon, students, faculty and staff personnel planted 100 assorted trees and shrubs in a single hour, concentrating around the main entrance of M Building.

Farmington area elementary schools and scout groups are being invited to help plant 3,000 seedlings — pine, wild grape and multiflora rose — during Arbor Week, April 23-29.

An ad hoc campus committee is attempting to preserve a natural look on the campus, in line with the architect's basic guide. William McNaughton, who can be reached at the campus phone, is handling information on the projects.

McNaughton is also arranging biology class trips on a nature trail and outdoor lab covering several acres of ponds, streams, marsh and forest. The area will also be open to the public this fall.

Among leaders in the campus beautification project are Orchard Ridge Provost S. James Manilla; Marilyn Fox of 35281 Lewis, Westland; and Charles Shuler of 36028 Lyman, Farmington.

Total sound is the full impact... distortion-free sound. You can play this Speaker System at full volume and you will consistently enjoy the pleasure of complete musical definition of instruments, natural presence and perfect musical balance. Begin with the strength and fidelity of the bass notes... they're reproduced by the powerful woofer incorporating a rolled free-edge cone. Here is the efficient long cone excursion necessary for faithful reproduction of the low frequencies. Brilliance and purity of sound are the hallmark of this system's powerful high frequency driver and wide dispersion reproducer. A completely airtight enclosure provides an "air cushion" which damps out the speaker's natural tendency to continue vibrating once it is set in motion. Compliance of the air permits the speaker cone to move forward and backward, but returns the cone to its natural position once the cycle is completed. Since the air has little mass, it has no audible effect on the sound, its purpose is to eliminate inertial vibration, harmonics and distortion which otherwise would alter the sound from the original. This system offers theoretically perfect acoustic dimensioning and a completely airtight seal. Front and back baffles are permanently sealed with a special epoxy and the speakers are gasketed to insure an efficient and airtight acoustic suspension.

Schoolcraft Asks For Place In Law

By TIM RICHARD
Schoolcraft College and three others in Wayne County aren't mentioned in a State Senate bill defining community college boundaries, and Schoolcraft trustees think they should be. The local fear is that some officials in the State Dept. of Education want to see Schoolcraft absorbed by Wayne County Community College, perhaps along with Henry Ford and Highland Park colleges. Schoolcraft trustees voted 6-1 last week to ask the Senate "to specifically establish the Schoolcraft Community College District" in SB 1302. They also asked that the bill be amended to provide for election of trustees in the June school election rather than in the November election of odd-numbered years.

TRUSTEE PAUL Y. Kadish cast the dissenting vote. He quoted State Rep. Marvin Stempien (D-Livonia) as saying there is "no immediate danger" that state officials will try to have WCCC absorb Schoolcraft.

Kadish also opposed the Senate bill's provision for at-large election of trustees.

Trustee Leroy Bennett, however, contended that "the time to act is now," adding that the bill (if amended) "makes us more like the other community colleges."

SB 1302 WAS introduced by Sen. Gilbert Bursley (R-Ann Arbor) and co-sponsored by Sens. Coleman Young (D-Detroit), Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) and Charles Zollar (R-Benton Harbor). It is currently in the Education Committee.

It defines the boundaries of 23 existing community college districts, including Oakland and Washtenaw, and sets up four others in western and northern parts of the state.

But no mention is made of Schoolcraft, WCCC, Henry Ford or Highland Park.

It provides for at-large election of trustees (which Schoolcraft's majority likes), calls for seven trustees (Schoolcraft has eight but doesn't object) and allows community college boards to levy up to two mills of property taxes for operations (Schoolcraft trustees love that because they currently may levy only 1.77 mills for both operations and debt retirement).

THE ISSUE of reorganizing Schoolcraft's board arose a year ago when members of the New Democratic Coalition of Livonia went to Wayne County Circuit Court to challenge the constitutionality of the college's old apportionment plan. That plan gave each of the five K-12 member districts a trustee, regardless of population.

Because the Livonia district has nearly 10 times the population of the smallest district, NDC-L had no trouble getting Judge Roland Olzak to declare that plan in violation of the "one man, one vote" principle.

Judge Olzak ordered trustees elected at-large.

But an Observer Newspapers poll of NDC-L members, including Kadish, showed they overwhelmingly preferred splitting the college district into smaller voting districts of equal population rather than voting at-large.

THE COLLEGE board resolution, offered by Chairman Robert Geake, asks the Legislature to retain the at-large plan because Schoolcraft is a "district comprising five secondary school systems which include or extend into parts of four cities, seven townships and three counties."

It argues that "any plan other than at-large election of trustees (is) cumbersome, expensive and of short-term validity due to rapidly changing population in some areas of the district."

Supporting the resolution were Dr. Geake, Bennett, Mary Dumas, Arch Vallier, Jack LaRue and Erwin Brown. Absent was Rosina Raymond.

ROCHESTER Four contemporary folk artists will headline a series of Wednesday night concerts at Meadow Brook Music Festival this summer.

The four concerts will be given by Buffy Sainte-Marie, Arlo Guthrie, Mary Travers and John Denver.

The Folk Series, which was initiated last year at Meadow Brook has become one of its most successful events, drawing thousands of enthusiasts to the natural wooded setting of Baldwin Pavilion on the Oakland University campus.

BUFFY SAINTE-MARIE will open the series on July 12. A philosophy graduate of the University of Massachusetts, Buffy, who is of Cree Indian heritage, has for 10 years been singing her own songs of

His albums include "Running Down the Road" and "Washington County."

Mary Travers will perform in concert on July 26. Mary was for ten years the feminine member of the successful trio Peter, Paul and Mary, appearing before over seven million people. Now a solo performer, Miss Travers has released her first LP record as a single, "Mary."

Artrain Is A Beginning

By BETTY MASSON

Going through Artrain will take you less than an hour, but it may leave an impression that will last a lifetime.

An amazing amount of information about art is contained in the five-car touring art experience now at the C&O depot on Starkweather Street in Plymouth, but maybe what isn't there is just as important.

THE TRAIN serves to pique your curiosity and sends you home to any books about art you happen to have around the house.

And also, hopefully, to create some works of art of your own, or maybe to put mirrors to work as creatively as Artrain has done.

Artrain, sponsored by the Michigan Council for the Arts, and "on the road" since last May, will be in Plymouth until May 6. It is open Monday through Friday, from 2 to 4:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 8 p.m.; Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.; and Sunday, from noon to 8 p.m.

"MAN CREATES," the introductory film is an eight-minute history of art.

"Man is driven to create by his dissatisfaction with that which is," claims the commentary. And "art alone has been the consistent factor by which civilizations have been measured."

How long the urge to create has been around is shown graphically in the first exhibit which features African masks, a funerary stele, Egyptian, Indian and Oriental artifacts dating back 3,000 years, plus a full suit of armor which is a big hit with the kids.

Then it's on to a section on motivation, a series of beautiful photographs of scenes. These are the motivators, man's "love of life and his desire to possess it forever."

NEXT COME the innovators, Klee, Matisse, Roualt and other 19th century impressionists, who wanted to capture more than a view.

Shown next in the train is a brief display and film on the tools men use in creating their works of art.

The ecology-minded will particularly enjoy the section on environmental art, and those who are painting today will want to spend extra time in the car which is devoted to contemporary art. Here variety is definitely the word.

THE LAST is in some ways the best, watching local craftsmen at work and admiring the works of art by Plymouth's school children, which line both the covered walkway from the train and the depot itself.

I admired "our very first conceptual work" by students from Allen School. It's an innovative work itself, composed of almost everything imaginable -- bottle tops, crayons, seeds, bits of wool and a bunch of other stuff which the unimaginative would throw out.

I also like the charming primitive work by Gallimore School's second graders and admire the healthy egos of Smith School's fourth graders. Their poster was composed of self-portraits.

TOURING THE train doesn't take long, but visiting all the Artrain - activities in Plymouth could take a very long time.

Activities for the next week include the following:

April 26--At 8 p.m., Plymouth Study Club lecture by Guy Palazzola, noted Michigan artist and instructor. Plymouth High School Auditorium balcony.

April 27--At 8 p.m., Schoolcraft College Stage Band concert, Plymouth High School Auditorium.

April 28--Student Arts and Crafts Exhibition, Plymouth High School.

April 29--"Kaleidoscope: People Day." An all-day downtown Plymouth celebration with a stamp show, movies, puppets, madrigal singers, mime, theater, strolling minstrels and family fun sponsored by the Rotary Club.

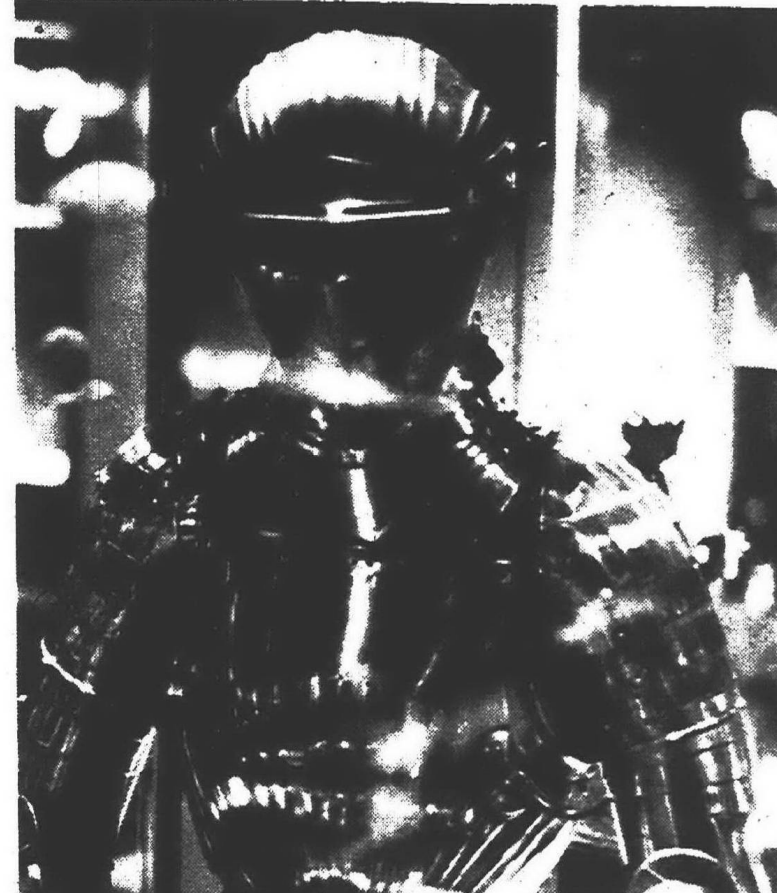

May 1--"Senior Citizens' Day." Special guided tours of Artrain begin at 2 p.m.

May 2--Parade of Bands. Plymouth High School gymnasium.

Brochures are available at Artrain.

A YOUNG VISITOR admires some of the paintings found in Artrain's contemporary exhibition.

ARTRAIN'S SUIT of armor is fascinating to children, and sure proof that people are getting bigger.

Last Youth Concert Is April 30

DETROIT The Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra will perform its final concert of the season at 3:30 p.m., Sunday, April 30, in Ford Auditorium.

Mischa Mischakoff, former concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and teacher of many members of the Youth Orchestra, will be the soloist in Max Bruch's Concerto for Violin and Orchestra.

Paul Freeman will conduct the program which will include Concerto Grosso for String Orchestra by Ralph Vaughan Williams and "Roman Festivals" by Ottorino Respighi.

Admission to the concert is $1. All proceeds go to the Youth Orchestra's scholarship fund.

Tickets are available at Ford Auditorium box office.

Last year, all John Benson saved was $54.32. This year, he joined the Payroll Savings Plan.

Poor John. Money just seemed to slip right through his fingers. Every time he planned to stash something away, there wasn't anything left.

Then John decided to join the Payroll Savings Plan where he works. Now, an amount he specifies is automatically set aside from his check before he gets it. And invested in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Because John has become such a systematic saver, he's almost forgotten about it. When he gets around to remembering, he's going to have quite a nest egg laid away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds--for E Bonds, 5 1/2%, when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 1/2%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

If you keep forgetting to save something out of your check, join the Payroll Savings Plan and let somebody else do the remembering for you.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

4 Government And Business Leaders Honored By S'craft

For everyone concerned, getting an honorary degree from Schoolcraft College was an unusual kind of honor.

The community college Sunday awarded degrees to Gov. William G. Milliken, who, though frequently honored, had never received a degree from a community college; State Rep. James Tierney; Floyd A. Kehrl, banker and philanthropist; and Jan Reef, Dutch-born industrialist who had never received a college degree.

In his first commencement as Schoolcraft's president, Dr. C. Nelson Grote made the presentations. Here are excerpts from the resolutions approved by the college board of trustees:

GOV. MILLIKEN, honorary associate of arts.

"...Has demonstrated a sincere interest in providing educational opportunities as governor of the State of Michigan, as a member of the board of counselors of Smith College in North Hampton, Mass., and as a member of the board of trustees of Northwestern Michigan College in Traverse City."

"...Has demonstrated continuing and abiding concern with the welfare of education at all levels...and has honored this college and its graduating class of 1972 with his presence as governor and as keynote speaker."

Milliken earned a BA degree at Yale University and is a Republican.

REP. TIERNEY, a Democrat serving his fourth term in the House, honorary associate of applied science.

"...A native of Jackson and a product of its public schools, lived in Detroit before settling in Garden City, furthering his education at Ford Technical School and through night school classes, having worked in industry as a technician.

"...Distinguished himself in PTA and school affairs, as director of youth activities for his church, and as councilman and mayor of Garden City..."

"...Has devoted over 30 years of his life in service to city, county, state and nation...a loyal supporter of vocational and technical education."

FLOYD A. KEHRL, honorary associate of applied science.

"A lifelong resident of the Schoolcraft College District, having been born on Five Mile Rd. in Livonia, graduated from Plymouth High School and having attended the University of Michigan."

"...President of the First National Bank of Plymouth...and a vice president of the National Bank of Detroit from 1952 until his retirement in 1968...active dairy farmer..."

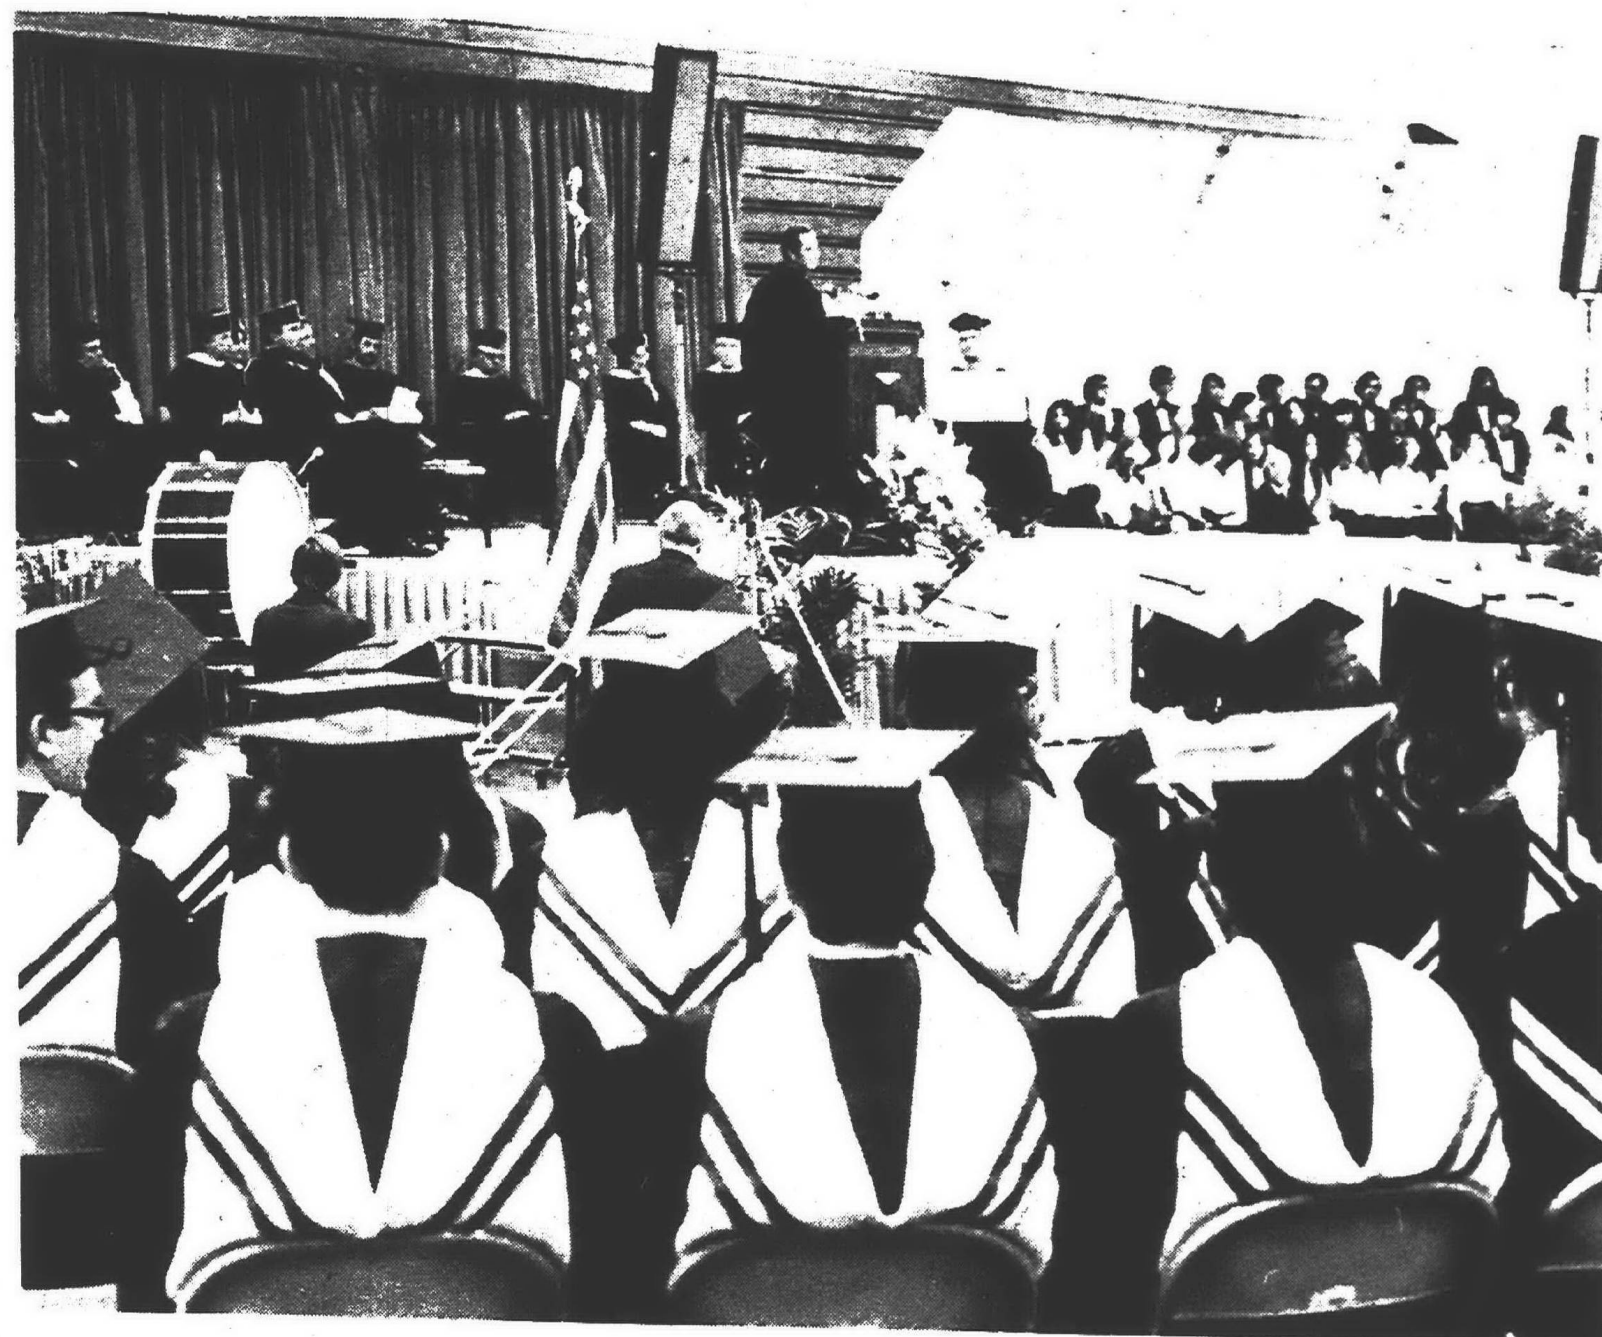

"...He and his late wife, Shirley, contributed the three large chiming bells in the campus bell tower, a structure which has since become an important landmark and the symbol of Schoolcraft College."

JAN REEF, inventor and founder of Reef Manufacturing Co., resident of Northville; honorary associate of applied science.

"...A native of the Netherlands by birth and an American by choice since 1921..."

"...A special friend and supporter of Schoolcraft College in many ways, most prominently in his work with the Schoolcraft College Foundation, as a charter member and trustee in 1966, as a vice president from 1968 through 1970 and as the current president of the foundation."

SOME 175 OF SCHOOLCRAFT'S 500 graduates turned out for graduation ceremonies and to hear Gov. Milliken. Others have gone on to four-year colleges and jobs. (Observer photo)

Miss Marianna Fortuna of 8829 Mercedes, Redford Township, has won the honor of representing the state of Michigan in the 24th annual National Chicken Cooking Contest to be held May 20 in Birmingham, Ala.

Miss Fortuna, who was crowned Detroit Edison's "Queen of the Kitchen" with another chicken recipe three years ago, will prepare her recipe for "glorified chicken" in competition with finalists from 49 other states and the District of Columbia for the top prize of $10,000. Her recipe was selected through a detailed judging procedure from thousands of entries. Winning recipes were kitchen tested for taste, appearance and workability.

The contest is sponsored by the National Broiler Council in conjunction with Ac'cent International Inc., Best Foods a Division of CPC International Inc. for Mazola corn oil and Mazola margarine; Alcoa Wrap; and Wear-Ever Aluminum, Inc. for its cookware.

Each finalist will receive $100, a state winner's trophy, and an expense-paid trip to Birmingham for the national cook-off.

Here's Miss Fortuna's recipe which may win her $10,000!

GLORIFIED CHICKEN
1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces.
2 t. Ac'cent
1/2 t. pepper
2 T. grated onion
5 T. margarine
2 T. flour
1 1/2 c. chicken broth or two chicken bullion cubes dissolved in 1 1/2 c. water
1/2 c. cream
1/2 t. instant coffee
1/2 c. water
4 T. grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 c. seedless grapes
3 T. sherry

Season chicken with Ac'cent and pepper. Melt two tablespoons of the margarine in 13x9x2-inch baking pan. Place chicken in the melted margarine. Sprinkle grated onion on top. Bake in a 375-degree oven for 45 minutes, turning chicken once. Melt remaining margarine in a saucepan; blend in flour. Add broth and cream, stirring constantly. Cook over low heat five minutes. Mix coffee and water; pour over chicken. Pour sauce over chicken. Sprinkle cheese, grapes and sherry over top. Bake in 425-degree oven for 10 minutes. Makes six servings.

MRS. DARLENE MAROHNIC, home economics teacher at Churchill High School in Livonia, has an official entry in the Blue Ribbon Food Fair and is eligible for cash awards totaling $5,000.

The national awards program, sponsored by Favorite Recipes Press, is open to home economics teachers in junior and senior high schools.

First place entry will receive the grand award of $2,500.

ORANGE CUSTARD PIE
Pie Crust
1 c. flour
1 1/2 T. sugar
1/2 t. salt
Cut in 1/3 c. plus 1 T. shortening
Add 1 T. water beaten with 1 egg

Toss until moistened. Roll out and line one nine or 10-inch pie pan. Flute edges and freeze until ready to use. Freezing prevents crust from becoming soggy. (Must be in Corning or metal pie pan.)

Custard
Beat together:
Grated rind of 1 orange
3/4 c. orange juice
1 c. sugar
1/2 c. Karo syrup, dark
3 eggs
2 T. cornstarch mixed in 1/3 c. warm water

Set this aside.

Cake Layer
Cream together: 1/2 c. sugar, 3 T. butter. Beat in 1 egg and 1/2 large ripe banana or 1 small banana. Sift together 1/2 c. flour with 1/2 t. baking powder. Fold into banana mixture alternately with 1/4 c. milk. Begin and end with milk.

Now, rebeat orange custard and pour into frozen pie crust. Drop cake mixture on top by tablespoon. Bake in 350-degree oven for one hour. Turn pie after 30 minutes to avoid browning on back side.

OBSERVATION POINT

Housing Patterns Lie At Heart Of Bussing Issue

The degree to which cross-district bussing has permeated political and business decisions in this area is a good index of the emotional power of the issue.

A realtor from Plymouth told me the other day that he expected his business to boom because Plymouth seems to be outside the area for suburban bussing that Judge Roth is talking about. Some homeowners from other suburbs, unwilling at any cost to see their children bussed into Detroit, my source reports, will sell their present homes and move to Plymouth.

The Livonia school district, torn by factionalism on the board, got itself together last week and sent two school busses on a 40-minute ride to Detroit to help build a case against bussing on the grounds that it is too expensive and unfairly penalizes the kids being bussed by excessively long rides.

The school millage election in the Wayne-Westland school district ended with a slim six vote plurality for the millage, despite district voters' past record for support for education. In this election and in Monday's vote on 3.5 mills for operating funds in the Farmington School District, the dominant issue has been bussing.

THE ARGUMENT is simple: Why should we, the voters in suburban school districts, vote to tax ourselves to support local schools when it might be that in a short time our system will be buried with Detroit's.

I happen to think it's a poor argument on two counts: 1) Why should we penalize our children's schooling now in response to the fear that there may be bussing some time in the future? 2) If local voters won't support their own school system, the only alternative is for the state to support them; if the state puts up the money for local school systems, the idea of local control is gone forever.

However, the emotional power of the bussing issue is so strong that these counter arguments often fall on deaf ears.

It's like an old City Editor once said about his staff of reporters: "We want to cover this city like a bad smell."

THERE ARE TWO oddities about the development of the bussing issue so far.

First has been the position of suburban liberals, i.e., those people who could have been expected to be sympathetic to the key problem bussing is supposed to solve - segregated and unequal schools. Liberals holding elected offices have ducked the issue as much as possible, understanding quite well that the overwhelming majority of their constituents are against bussing.

But even the private citizen liberals with no elected office to protect or political ambitions to nurture have not been strong supporters of the bussing idea. I suspect that at bottom, they too are worried about the safety of their children, the length of the bus ride, and the quality of whatever school their children might be bussed into.

SECOND IS that virtually no one - for bussing or against it or agonizedly ambivalent - has been talking much about the gut of the issue, which is not education but housing.

The reason schools are segregated is that housing is segregated. The reason inner city schools are bad and suburban schools are good is that inner city residents are not as rich and therefore do not pay as much taxes to support schools as suburbanites.

As long as housing patterns are segregated, schools are going to be segregated, and as long as that's the case there will be pressure from the courts for bussing plans.

At this stage in the development of the debate, it might be useful for the many suburban residents who are responsibly opposed to bussing to think through what can be done to integrate housing.

If a sensible integrated housing plan could be worked out to take effect quickly and widely, the neighborhood school under local control could be saved and bussing made unnecessary.

Tim Richard writes

Why Not Put Bussing To Its Greatest Use?

There was an old Walt Disney movie with a song about a "Laughing Place," and it advised, "Take a frown, turn it upside down..."

The movie is now considered racist, but the advice is still good. If something appears to be a liability or a danger, look at it another way and it will be an asset and an opportunity. That's the philosophy of the Lake Kenwood Surf and Turf Club members, who are turning their super-puddle into an object of great mirth.

The same kind of positive thinking could help us out in the bussing situation. Suburban opinion is probably 10 to 1 against cross-district bussing to achieve racial balance, but if bussing's opponents would reconsider, they could use the possibility of bussing to great advantage.

Figure it out. The bussing plans submitted to Federal Judge Stephen Roth generally call for a 70-30 or 80-20 white-black balance. In other words, only about 25 per cent of suburban kids would be transported in any one year.

BUT WHICH KIDS? Somehow, if there is to be bussing, someone has got to make a decision as to which kids leave the hallowed neighborhood school. A lottery is a simple but unimaginative way of doing it. There are better ways.

Is smoking a problem in school? Well, bus the kids who get caught smoking.

Are the kids' hairdos greasy, their jeans cruddy, their general appearances unsavory and unsanitary? Well, make an announcement that those 25 per cent worst appearing students will make the long ride down to Cooley High.

Vandalism -- there's a tremendous problem in suburbia, especially in junior highs. So let's make a tally at all the junior highs in town, and the school with the greatest damage rate will have the greatest number of its pupils transported.

Any student strikes lately? Assign a higher export rate to that school.

Poor response to your school's Earth Week project? Well...

Got the idea?

THE ADVANTAGES are numerous, and the whole concept is so logical that it probably won't be adopted, but let's run through them anyway:

School boards could pretty much repeal the dress codes, which are unpopular with students because they represent petty coercion.

Students would have an incentive - that is, a positive reason for behaving - instead of the essentially negative kinds of discipline our schools still employ.

Parents, who oppose bussing even more strenuously than the kids, would quit neglecting them in their efforts to keep their youngsters out of (ugh!) Detroit.

In general, we would be exporting our problems, an action that would upgrade the general deportment in our schools. You can't knock that.

FINALLY, THERE'S a legal point. Increasingly, parents are hiring tough lawyers to defend Johnny when he gets in trouble, and often they're winning. But in a legal sense, bussing someone to Detroit couldn't be considered punishment, so the legal beagles would have nothing to appeal if a smoking, dirty, destructive Johnny is shipped off. School authority couldn't be challenged.

"Take a frown, turn it upside down..."

R. T. Thompson writes

Will Farmington Millage Defeat Become Area Trend?

Defeat of the 3.5 school millage issue in Farmington Monday appears to be a sign that school boards in Observerland - and for that matter, throughout the state as well as the United States - are going to meet resistance to all millage proposals.

Farmington had one of the largest voter turnouts in years for a school issue. Those close to the trend of elections predicted that a large vote could mean a "No," and that's exactly the way it turned out.

Of course, there is the matter of 3.5 new mills, meaning an increase in the taxes of every property owner in the Farmington school district, and it is well known that most electors are taking a dim view of increased tax payments.

Sense And Nonsense

Graffiti has it that Mrs. Irene McCabe has some calloused views on bussing.

Be that as it may, but one Detroit newspaper reporter's account of her arrival into a large Ohio city revealed that not everyone knows who Mrs. McCabe is or why she is marching to Washington.

According to the newspaper account, a group of Ohioans watched as the weary group plodded down the highway, followed by their two house trailers. Among the spectators were some small children.

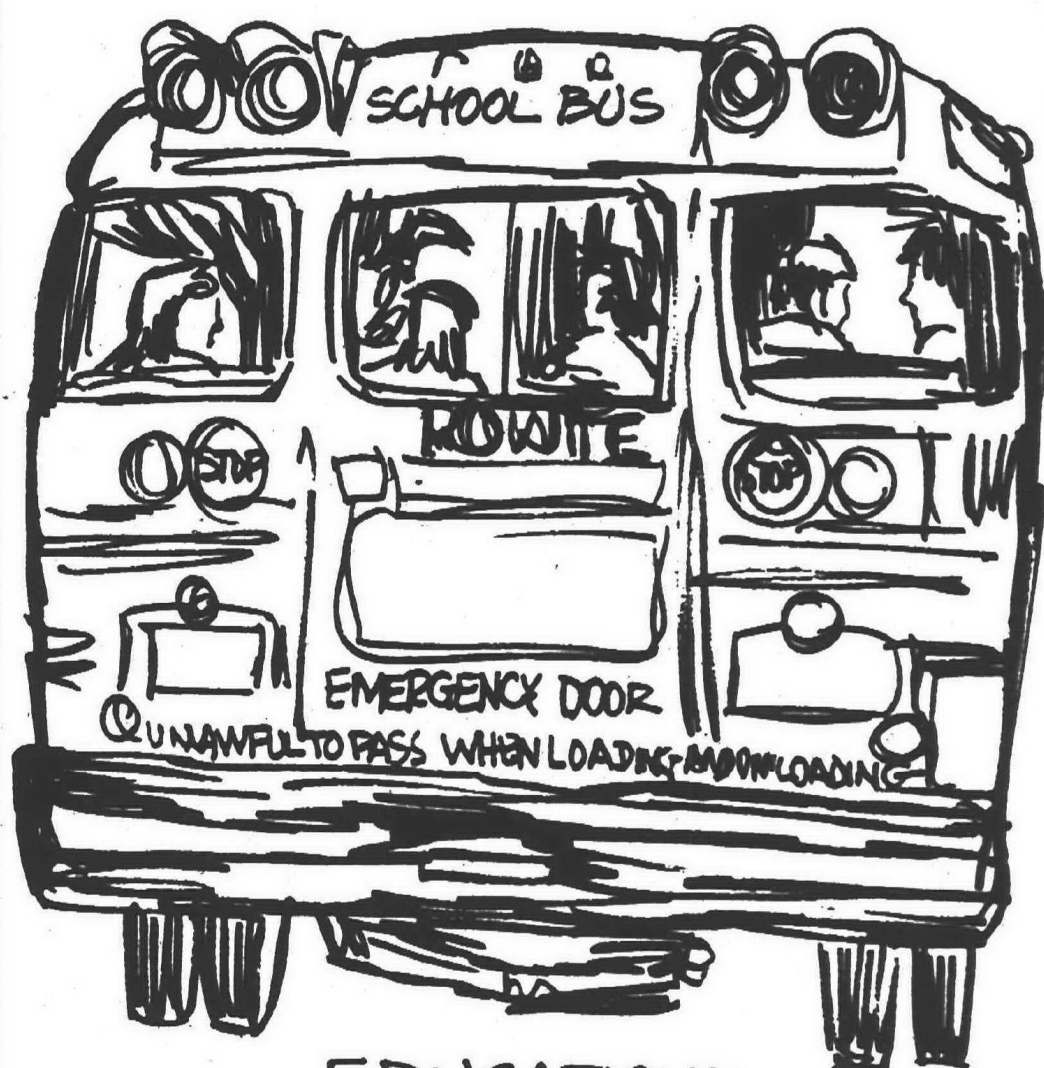

Overheard was one youngster asking: "Who is she?"

The answer: "Someone selling trailers, I think."

From the mouths of babes...

Maybe the opposition should begin following the trailers with a couple of school busses.

TEST YOUR SENSE OF HUMOR.

EDUCATIONAL "PADDY WAGON"

ONE WOULD HAVE to say that the Farmington issue had only a slight chance of passing, even though those in favor staged a tremendous drive during the past three weeks to get support.

When more than 10,000 go to the polls and the issue loses by only 205 votes, then it appears as if the work of those in favor had excellent results. But unfortunately not good enough to overcome the built-in "no" group.

The big thing is that the Farmington election may be the trend for all such polls in Observerland. It means that there is a voter revolt against increased taxes and even against the renewal of millage.

For instance, the Wayne-Westland School district had a recent vote on millage renewal, and it barely received support, passing by a margin of six votes. That result is being contested, and a recount will be made. It could be that the renewal will lose in the recount; after all, six votes aren't many and could be rubbed out in a recheck of the absentee ballots alone.

IT WILL BE recalled that the Farmington board asked the electors for approval of a 3.5 additional mills a year ago and the proposal was turned down.

However, during the campaign, the board emphasized that failure of the millage would result in cutbacks including the extra-curricular activities... sports, band and the like.

This was repeated time and again by board members during the campaign to get favorable votes. Folks were well aware of the cutbacks that would be made. Trustees didn't make the program reductions a threat, but simply told voters that there would be no money, and such things cost quite a bit.

There isn't any question that the campaign hit home because several outstanding high school athletes transferred to other states when the millage failed. They wanted to play football, basketball, baseball and all of the other sports, and Farmington wouldn't have any starting last fall.

But at the same time board members were warning of the effects of failure of the millage to pass, a group of parents was talking to trustees with a proposal to raise the funds necessary to carry on the sports and music programs.

Within two days after the millage defeat, board members agreed to accept the offer of the citizens group to raise the necessary funds.

This despite warning from many close to the board that such an acceptance would make voters question the credibility of the trustees in the future.

One doesn't hear speech after speech telling of cutbacks in programs if an issue fails and then two days later have the talks refuted by an extraordinary agreement.

PERHAPS THE FEELING in Farmington is that if the citizens group financed certain programs during this school year, then it follows, why can't they continue in the future... for instance like for the next school year?

Regardless of how one feels, the defeat in Farmington, which follows one in Northville and in Pontiac, makes things look rather gloomy for any other school district requesting new millage or renewals.

Requests are certain to come from Livonia, Plymouth and Redford Township in the not too distant future which makes one wonder will Farmington and Northville defeats set the pattern?

Safety Needed For School Busses

EDITOR:

Congressman William S. Broomfield of Royal Oak recently sponsored a bill in the U.S. House of Representatives that deserves the support of every concerned American. It would require that all school busses be equipped with seat belts and safe seat backs of proper height and padding to substantially reduce injuries.

Last year more than 4,000 school children were injured in what one educator calls those big "sheet metal coffins."

Presently no state nor the federal government requires seat belts and padded backrests in busses. Congressman Broomfield stated that the American Society of Oral Surgeons reported over 1300 children were injured when they were thrown against the seat ahead of them. Often this seat back is framed with a dangerous steel bar.

John Porter, superintendent of public instruction for the State of Michigan, stated in front of the Economics Club of Detroit on March 6 that approximately 50 per cent of Michigan students ride busses.

House Bill 13143 has been referred to the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. It asks that the secretary of Transportation establish standards which require that school busses built after June 30, 1972 be equipped with safety equipment. Buses built before this date shall be equipped with proper seat backs and lap belts.

The bill would require federal grants be made to local school districts to upgrade their busses.

In my opinion, this is a significant bill and it deserves the support of all Americans and deserves it NOW.

Please write to your Congressman today.

UN Seeking School Control

EDITOR:

In November of 1960 the 11th session of the General Conference of UNESCO (United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization) prepared a treaty entitled "Draft Convention Against Discrimination in Education."

A few months later a Committee on Mission and Organization of the U.S. Office of Education issued a booklet entitled "A Federal Education Agency for the Future." Together the U.S. Agency Booklet and the UNESCO Treaty presented a three point program for U.S. education:

1. Massive and continuing federal aid to education will eventually eliminate state, local and private financing of schools and colleges and thus transfer to the federal government total responsibility for education.
2. This responsibility will be placed in an agency of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare with such broad administrative powers that will not be answerable to Congress or to the public.
3. The federal agency will, however, be answerable to the United Nations. It will make regular reports to UNESCO under the general supervision of UNESCO requiring American educational institutions to conform with what the international socialists and communists of that organization demand.

U.S. Congressman John Ashbrook and four other representatives filed as part of a formal Congressional Committee a report regarding the UNESCO Treaty:

"UNESCO's proposed new treaty is now before the State Department. It would deliver the entire American educational system into UNESCO international control. It would close every private and parochial school in the United States. It would automatically remove education from under domestic law and control. It encompasses every phase and facet of American education...."

Another reason why we should get the U.S. out of the UN and the UN out of the U.S. MRS. CLAIRE BOMER Westland

What Happens With Bussing

EDITOR:

I, as a student, would like to express my opinion on bussing. I moved to Michigan from another state, where our schools were always integrated and everyone was satisfied. But then a few people in high positions were not happy because an exact percentage of each race wasn't exactly distributed in each school.

So they shuffled the kids and bussed them from one end of the district to the other. That district spent more time and money on bussing than on our education.

As a result the neighborhood concept of the school was lost. The kids lost their school spirit. Vandalism resulted because some kids felt they had no school they cared about.

Most of all, parents lost interest, parents who volunteered their help and time no longer bothered. Some of these extra responsibilities placed on the teachers were too great and most of our best teachers left, many quitting even before retirement.

So I am for improving and keeping the neighborhood school no matter how many of each race go there.

ROBERT EWALD Livonia

Big Budgets, Higher Taxes

EDITOR:

In view of the increasing concern of our citizens regarding assessing and property taxation, we feel that a few facts should be revealed.

To begin with, Article IX, Section 3, of the state constitution states in part: "The legislature shall provide for the determination of true cash value of such property; the property shall be uniformly assessed, which shall not, after Jan. 1, 1966, exceed 50 per cent of true cash value."

The following is a statement from George Montgomery, a Detroit Democrat and chairman of the House Taxation Committee, and former Republican Rep. James Folks, who formerly headed the taxation committee.

"State equalization does not increase the local property tax bill, but rather higher budgets and increased spending by the local units of government are the real reasons for the increasing local property tax bills."

There is no statutory compulsion on any unit of local government to impose the maximum tax rate available on the increased state equalized values. The tax rate is determined by the actual needs of the local units of government and an increase in the state equalized valuation does not mean that there must be an increase in the local property tax bills. An increase in taxation is necessary when the needs of the current year are not satisfied by the budgets of the previous year.

In many cases, citizens are told when they visit city hall, that the county has raised the factor for equalization on property in the city, and there is nothing that can be done. The truth is that taxes have been raised because, the local officials regard equalization as a "bonanza." They raise their budgets to satisfy the increase in taxes instead of lowering the tax rate to keep taxes at or near the old level. TOM CROWE Westland

Strange Set Of Values

EDITOR:

Our men in Vietnam have waited long enough for our support; too long to be shot down by a macabre ballot of death for the unborn. At least these men have the courage to accept freedom's responsibilities. How unlike the Americans (?) at home who are discarding all. A strong set of values to say the least.

Thomas L. Harris has been a funeral director since 1947. But the Harris tradition of fine service at moderate cost started in 1910 under his father and grandfather. Tom's education at Wheaton College and Wayne University provided his professional qualifications.

However, he considers his intensive apprenticeship in the family-operated business more important. "Our professional responsibility," Tom Harris says, "is knowing what must be done and doing it with finesse."

We try to carry out our duties with real concern for the family's needs."

Five Harris locations serve Metropolitan Detroit.

Faculty Forum Wins 2-1 In College Voting

The Faculty Forum will resume bargaining with Schoolcraft College, secure in the knowledge it has better than 2-1 support from instructors, counselors and assistant librarians.

The Forum last week won 98 votes in a state run representation election to only 46 for the insurgent United Schoolcraft Faculty.

Ten ballots were challenged, and Forum President Richard Arlen estimated that nine were pro-Forum.

There were no votes for "no union," a third option on the ballot required by state law. Of 164 eligible persons, 154 voted.

IT WAS A BAD defeat for the USF, which got fewer votes in the election than the 49 plus signatures it needed to petition for the election.

The Faculty Forum, affiliated with the Michigan Education Assn., has been collective bargaining agent for 160 plus professional persons since 1966.

It is generally considered more moderate than the USF, an independent union headed by Mrs. Carolyn Spatta of the geography department and Angelo Chinni, a philosophy instructor and former Forum officer.

The election concluded a couple of weeks of bulletin board campaigning and meetings as the semester drew to a close.

ARLEN, AN accounting instructor completing his second year as Forum president, said the group will elect officers some time this week, probably by a mail ballot.

A two-year contract expires Aug. 21, and Arlen said "we've already started negotiating. We'll pick up from there."

Chief goal will be some "rough language in the contract that needs to be clarified," he said, adding that "no firm decisions have been made on pay. Money is very tight. We're starting to get figures together."

Arlen himself is heading the Forum's negotiating team, along with Vice President Stuart Bloom and Richard Conalty, a counselor. The college's team is headed by Edward V. McNally, vice president of student affairs, and Gerald Munro, personnel director.

CONGRATULATING the Faculty Forum, Mrs. Spatta said USF members "will continue to work for an effective faculty," although it wasn't clear whether the members would disband.

"We hope that the Faculty Forum affiliate proceeds swiftly in resolving the issue of the two fired faculty members, which was upmost in our minds. We felt the contract negotiated by the Faculty Forum did not afford as much protection for its members as did the previous contract."

"Also at issue was the agency shop clause, which we opposed. We trust the Faculty Forum will rethink this issue," Mrs. Spatta said.

WILLIAM BUETTNER of Southfield is heading a new regional sales office for Englehardt, Buettner and Holt, Inc., at 21751 Nine Mile, Southfield. Buettner, who attended University of Detroit, is a vice president of the 26-year-old firm and will handle real estate and land development activities of holdings in Livonia, Wixom and Avon Township.

Parkvue Hospital Is Sold

The modern 105 bed Parkvue General Hospital located at 28303 Joy Road, Westland, has been purchased by Metropolitan Hospital of Detroit. The purchase was announced by William A. Rothman, administrator of Metropolitan Hospital and its five health centers.

The health centers, as part of Metropolitan Hospital's comprehensive health care program, were established in the 1960s. Parkvue General Hospital, which has been renamed Metropolitan Hospital West, will be the sixth health center. It is scheduled to reopen for service on July 5.

"Metropolitan Hospital West will provide outpatient and inpatient care to the communities of Westland, Inkster, Livonia, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Redford and other adjoining territories which represent a large potential service area where additional facilities are required," said Rothman.

The newly acquired hospital is presently closed for renovation and alterations that will make it functional as a community hospital.

The hospitals and health centers are staffed by a full complement of salaried physicians, nursing staff, specialized technicians and administrators.

A visiting staff of community physicians who are not on the staff of Metropolitan Hospital West, will also be developed.

SC Counselors Aid Seminar Of Secretaries

Three Schoolcraft College counselors will conduct a seminar entitled "The First Day of the Rest of Your Life" for the Huron Valley Chapter of the National Secretaries' Association International at Ann Arbor April 29.

The focus of the seminar will be human potential. That is to help each person discover his strengths, acknowledge and understand his personal achievement patterns and plan immediate action to achieve his goals. It will be conducted by William Heise, John Witten and Robert Burnside.

The three counselors will present some of the material used in the human potential group counseling course offered at Schoolcraft College each semester. The classes held on campus involve small groups of persons who assist each other in identifying positive qualities held by all.

Luncheon speaker for the workshop will be Thomas J. Hilty of Chrysler Corp. He will discuss inflation and unemployment.

Ford Hits Viet War Escalation

Congressman William D. Ford (D-Taylor) has sharply criticized President Nixon's resumption of massive bombing in North Vietnam and has renewed his demand that the United States end its military intervention in Southeast Asia.

Ford joined with a majority of the House Democratic Caucus Thursday to adopt a resolution directing the Democratic members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee to prepare and report legislation within 30 days to set a date for termination of all military activities subject only to obtaining release of American prisoners and an accounting of all servicemen who are missing in action.

The resolution both condemned North Vietnam's current invasion and charged that the American bombing represents a "dangerous escalation of our role in the Indochina War and a direct contradiction of the administration's stated policy of 'winding down' the war."

"President Nixon, who was elected to office on the basis of his 'secret plan to end the war,' has now had more than three years to hear the American people cry that they are sick of the war in Southeast Asia, which has now become the longest war in our nation's history," Ford declared.

SC Tax Has A Built-In Lever

Funny thing about the property taxes Schoolcraft College collects:

The district's state equalized valuation is expected to rise by nine per cent during the coming fiscal year, and the tax rate will remain the same at 1.77 mills, but operating revenues will rise by an estimated 14.75 per cent.

How can that be? How can a nine per cent growth of the tax base bring a 14.75 per cent growth in the yield?

THERE'S A leverage effect at work - the money used to retire debt and pay off principal. Debt service generally runs around $700,000 a year, according to Business Manager Fred Petersen, and that amount stays fairly stable while total revenue rises.

The result is that the college can use a greater proportion of its property tax revenue each year for operations - that is, the salaries of teachers, counselors, custodians, lighting, heating and the rest.

The college board last week set next December's tax rate at the full 1.77 mills authorized by voters.

Those 1.77 mills are expected to yield $2.59 million, or nine per cent more than last year's $2.37 million.

Scrape off $690,000 for debt service, and you have nearly $1.9 million left for operations - 14.75 per cent more than last year.

THE ENTIRE revenue budget is highly tentative, of course. The Legislature in Lansing still hasn't passed an appropriation for community colleges, but Gov. Milliken's proposal, as embodied in a Senate bill, should give Schoolcraft a 19 per cent increase for a new level of $2.78 million.

Add in the other sources, most notably student fees, and total revenue is projected at $6.77 million, up some 13 per cent from the current year.

Even though it means more money, the concept of the community college funding still annoys one Schoolcraft trustee, Leroy Bennett.

"The four-year colleges get a straight appropriation, a flat dollar amount. They get that amount no matter what enrollment is. They can't get less, and there's even a chance they can get more through a supplemental appropriation.

"But the community college's appropriation is based on the number of full year equated students. If the number of students or hours drops, we can get less."

Bennett thinks community colleges should get stable dollar funding from the state.

MEANWHILE, Schoolcraft faces an uncertain picture on the expenditure side of the coin.

The college must bargain with three of its five employees unions this year - the faculty about 160 persons; food service, 12; and operating maintenance, 35.

Whether any will seek more than the 5.5 per cent in the Federal Pay Board guideline remains to be seen.

Contracts with secretarial (50 persons) and middle administrators (30) don't expire for some time yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Tozman of August Avenue, Westland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne, to Michael Powning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Powning of Rockingham Avenue, Southfield. No wedding date has been set.

Women on the Go

Ice Show Star Is 78 Years Old

When the skaters take the ice for Southfield's first ice show this weekend, one of the favorite performers is sure to be a lady in a bright red velvet dress and a wide ostrich-plumed hat.

Mrs. Virginia Dorenbusch is looking forward to participating, even though she first donned skates just a little over a month ago.

It's just another part of her complete enjoyment of life at age 78.

GINNY, AS they all call her at the Southfield Ice Arena, says her reaction was one of "are you kidding?" when instructor Jim Cape asked her to be a Gibson Girl escorted onto the ice by several young men in one of the scenes from the show.

"But he explained that he wanted to show people how much fun skating can be at any age," she said. "And I've certainly had fun, so I'm glad to do it."

"Besides, everyone in the show has been so nice to me, and I skate with such a fine group of young men. They kid me a lot, and one of them calls me Grandma."

THE ONLY problem with playing three ice shows in three days — Friday, April 28, to Sunday, April 30 — has been finding time to fit rehearsals between guitar lessons, singing in a choral club, practicing her accordion and keeping up a lot of social engagements.

Virginia Dorenbusch moved from Grosse Pointe Woods to a trailer park in the southwest corner of Southfield 14 years ago after her husband's death.

"He was ill a long time, and I had plenty of chance to decide carefully how I wanted to live," she said. "I knew I wanted to keep my independence, and decided I didn't need a lot of things to take care of."

So the small trailer has been a perfect place for her.

"I know I'm welcome in the homes of each of my three children," she adds, "but this is home. I've never regretted my decision."

FROM THE TRAILER, Mrs. Dorenbusch makes frequent trips to the Redford Boys Club in northwest Detroit for rehearsals of the Argus Choral Club, a 40-member group that sings frequently in hospitals and nursing homes.

She also has made several excursions with the senior citizens club of St. David Catholic Church of Detroit, furnishing accordion music for their evening out at Emil's Buffalo Ranch near Mt. Clemens. She used to do a lot of accordion playing professionally.

"They pay well and it's such a lot of fun," she said.

AND THEN there were frequent visits to the Southfield Ice Arena, where her daughter, Mrs. Maxine Peletier, skates frequently.

"She's a fine skater," her mother said admiringly, "and she looked so graceful out on the ice that one day I just decided to try. I'd never had on a pair of skates, but I loved to dance."

"At first I just held on to her or the edge of the rink. But little by little I found I could let go and kept gaining confidence."

When the show is over Virginia Dorenbusch will keep on skating and singing and accordion playing and guitar learning and elocuting and enjoying her children and grandchildren because she can't live any other way.

New Group For Retirees Meets Friday

The Livonia chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons will hold its fourth meeting at 1:30 p.m. Friday, April 28, in St. Matthew United Methodist Church, 30900 West Six Mile Road, in Livonia.

The group is open to all persons 55 years of age and older. It is not necessary to be a retiree or a member of St. Matthew.

Thus far, meetings have been held in the afternoon, but tentative plans call for several evening sessions.

In March, 125 persons affiliated and 29 families joined with the national group. Charter membership still is open.

Providence Will Give Free Pap Tests In May

Free pap tests will be made available to Oakland County women on Tuesday, May 9 and Thursday, May 11 through the combined efforts of the American Cancer Society and Providence Hospital in Southfield.

The tests will be given in the hospital, 16001 W. Nine Mile, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on those two days.

Mrs. Roland Cameron of Royal Oak, ACS volunteer-chairman of the pap program, said the pap tests are being scheduled in conjunction with Providence Hospital's observance of National Hospital Week (May 7-13).

Pap tests and numerous patient services are part of a year-round educational and community services program maintained by the Oakland County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Cameron said the testing program will be staffed by physicians, nurses and lab technicians at Providence Hospital. Volunteers from the American Cancer Society will provide administrative assistance.

APPROXIMATELY 200 women in Oakland County will be scheduled to take part in this pap clinic at Providence Hospital.

Those interested should contact the Oakland County Unit of the American Cancer Society at 295 Elm Street in Birmingham to schedule their appointment.

THE PAP TEST is a simple, painless examination for uterine cancer and involves only a few minutes' time.

95 To Get Madonna Degrees

Madonna College in Livonia will near the end of its silver jubilee year with the 25th annual commencement ceremonies for 95 seniors.

A baccalaureate mass is scheduled at 11 a.m. Sunday, April 30, in Presentation Chapel. The Rev. John J. Castellet will be the celebrant, with the Rev. John Quinn concelebrating.

Cardinal John Dearden, archbishop of Detroit, will preside at the graduation ceremonies at 3:30 p.m. in the activities building. Sister M.

Lauriana, academic dean, will present the candidates for degrees and Sister M. Danatha, president, will confer the degrees.

At the commencement, Madonna College will also pay tribute to Mayor Edward H. McNamara of Livonia by awarding a citation and establishing a scholarship in his name.

THE REV. NEIL MCCLUSKEY, SJ, will speak. He is dean of teacher education and professor of education at Lehman College of the City University of New York (formerly Hunter College in the Bronx).

Earlier he served as dean-director of the Institute for Studies in Education of The University of Notre Dame. His books include "Catholic Education Faces Its Future" and "The Catholic University: A Modern Appraisal."

ON THE PRECEDING evening, Saturday, April 29 at 7:30 p.m., an honors program will be held in the college activities building. The speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Richard F. Gottier, dean of academic affairs, Spring Arbor College. Salutatorian and valedictorian will be Carolyn Seymour and Diane Iott, respectively.

The program will include announcement of graduation honors, deans list names, service award winners, Kappa Gamma Pi memberships and listing in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Nursing pins and caps also will be presented, and the class of 1972 will be inducted into the alumnae association.

Tribute will be paid to the first graduating class of 1948, acknowledging their personal and professional accomplishments. A President-Alumnae reception in the Student Center will conclude the convocation.

Fairlamb's Wed 50 Years

A dinner party in a Frankenmuth, Mich., restaurant marked the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fairlamb of Detroit on Sunday, April 23. Hosting the occasion were the couple's five children and their families. The sons and daughters are Charles Fairlamb of Garden City, Ralph Fairlamb of Farmington, Donald Fairlamb of Redford Township, Mrs. Frances Moore of Plymouth and Mrs. Donna Josephs of Baldwin, Mich.

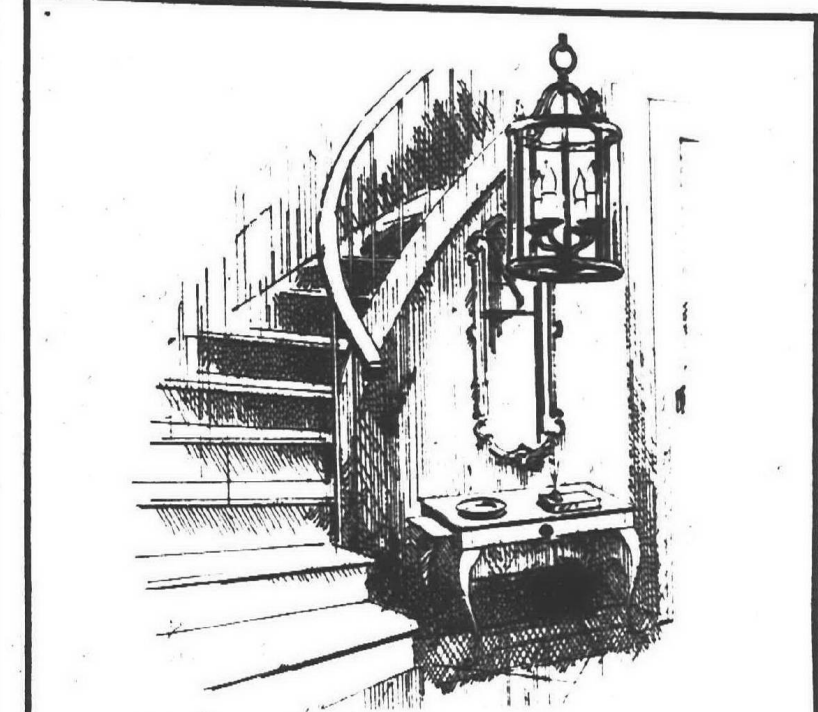

There are 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The Fairlamb's were married in Detroit April 20, 1922. Mr. Fairlamb was employed by the Kelly Coal Co., retiring about 10 years ago.

When hubby is hungry he deserves hot, hearty food quickly. Just simmer browned ground beef with barbecue sauce and pickle relish. Pile the hot mixture on huge fresh buns for satisfying sandwiches.

MRS. RUSSELL ATCHISON (right) of Northville was presented the national Delta Gamma Cable award by Mrs. Robert Jones (left) of Livonia. The award is given annually to outstanding Delta Gamma alumnae. Mrs. Atchison is a charter member of the Farmington Alumnae Association, and was its president from 1959-61. She served as the province alumnae chairman and is now chairman of the house corporation board of the Delta Gamma chapter at Michigan State University. She is also active in many community organizations.

NOW Plans 'Directory Of Women In Business'

Publication of the first "Directory of Women in Business" is now being undertaken by the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter NOW (National Organization for Women).

Subtitled with headings of the arts, education, industry, professions and science, the directory is intended to include all women who receive earnings through ownership, commissions, or fees directly from business services or products they offer to the public.

EMPHASIS IS placed on the fact it is not just a professional directory, but that all kinds of skills should be represented - from free lance artists to women who band together to wash other people's walls.

It is intended to serve women with a dignified businesslike approach to their needs. It will offer a means of making known those in the professions (especially those with specialties, such as gynecologists, etc.) who cannot ethically advertise, but can be listed in a classified manner such as this.

Information and order blanks for listings, ads and the book itself may be obtained from Directory of Women in Business, 764 Channing, Ferndale, 48220. Deadline for material to be in the book is April 30.

In making the announcement, Joan Israel, president of NOW locally, explained that the organization hopes the book will serve many purposes. Peg Smith, a member of NOW, will produce it through her public relations firm.

"Women need to find other women - to help each other. For many good reasons people would often like to do business with a woman, but until now there was no good way of finding them. Also, we hope this will encourage women who must spend most of their time at things other than those for which they are trained or talented, to work on a part-time basis.

"NO MALE LISTINGS will be accepted," she added with a twinkle, "unless their wives are as fully active in the business as the man. It also wouldn't be a bad place for employers to look for all those qualified women they say they can't find."

Planned for issuance annually, the directory will cover the Metropolitan Detroit area only. Listings will cost $5 for the first one, $3 each for any additional ones. A free copy is included in the price of the first listing.

There is also a display advertising space and production schedule available for ads ranging in size from business card to full 5 1/2 x 8 1/2" pages.

Delivery of the directories is expected in early summer and they will be $1.25 post - paid from the same address as above. Orders are being accepted in advance.

Dateline Outdoors

By LEM MESEE
Outdoors Writer

EARLY MORNING nature walks will be conducted at the nature center of Kensington Metropolitan Park at 7 a.m. on each of the four Sundays of May.

From the nature trails, you can see spring wild flowers, migrating birds, animals, insects and aquatic life. Park naturalist Patricia Eising is in charge of the walks.

These conducted tours are limited to families and individuals, not organized groups. Nature brochures and Metropark Guides are available from the Huron - Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 600 Woodward, Detroit, 48226.

MISS EISING, by the way, recently received a meritorious service award from the Assn. of Interpretive Naturalists, of which she was secretary - treasurer from 1967 - 71.

It was well deserved. Miss Eising works mightily to make the environment understandable to all. You don't have to be a biology nut to have a good time at the Kensington Park nature center. It's on the west side of Kent Lake when you go out I-96.

SEVERAL OAKLAND County lakes - Deer, Maceday and Union - should be good bets for trout, now that the ice has melted. They're "tiered" lakes and may be fished prior to the regular trout opener, April 29.

Try minnows and spinners in shallow water, any time of day. As a bonus, you might pick up an occasional jumbo perch.

Sucker spearing is going strong in two nearby spots. Suckers are running from Kent Lake toward the Milford dam, with the heaviest activity around the Sashabaw Creek area. Another good run is on at the Huron River near US-23.

Don't spear a northern pike, though. Courts will fine you anywhere from $25 to $85 apiece.

How Many Shots For Addiction?

Questions should be sent to the Community Commission on Drug Abuse, P.O. Box Drugs, Livonia, 48151.

Q. Would you please tell me how long it would take to get actually physically addicted to heroin if a person were to try and control their use to only a couple times a week.

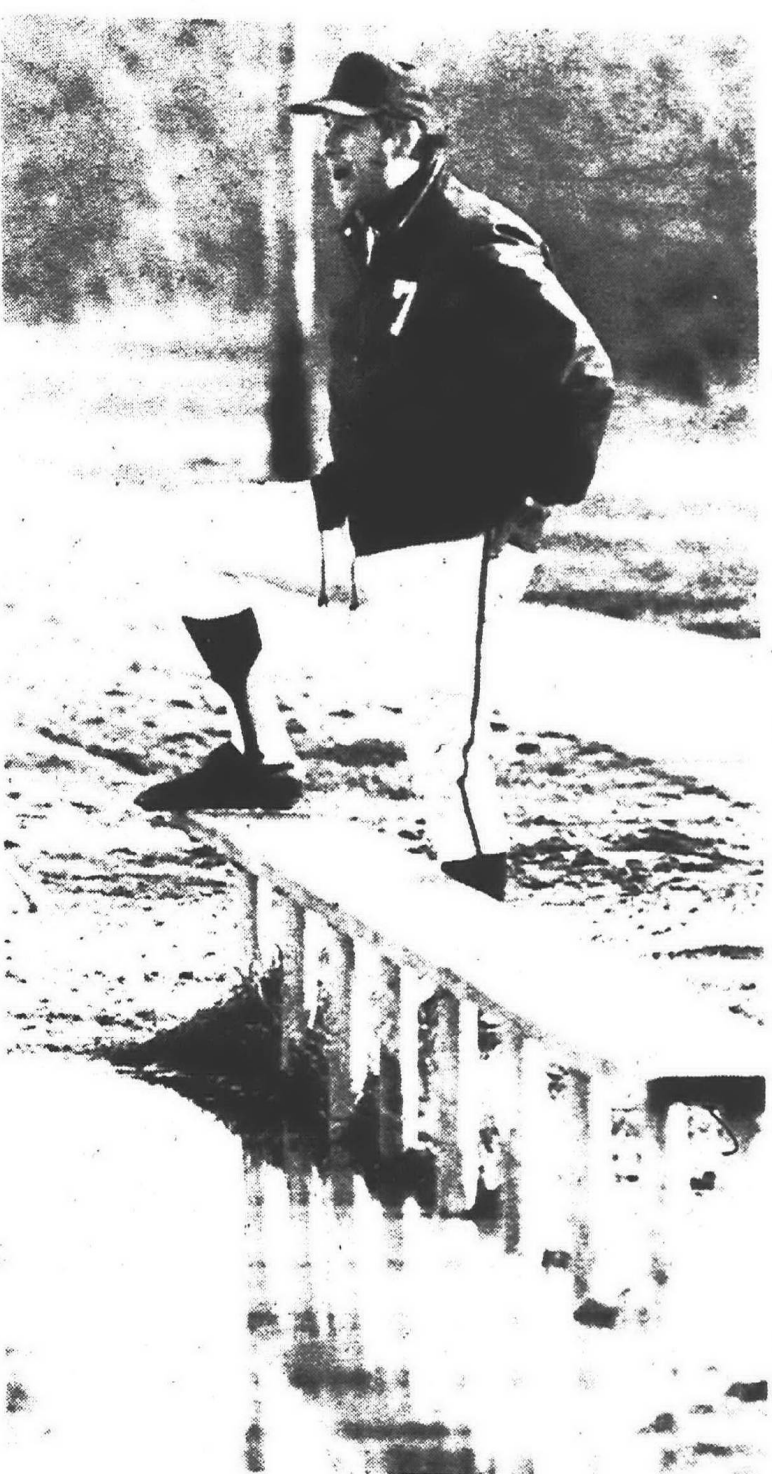

J.D., Westland
A. A couple times a week would be quite enough to cause addiction, which might occur in a matter of a few months. The real danger is that the first shot might be the last. Even experienced addicts can't tell when they are getting an overdose (OD).

Q. How long after using, does methadone or heroin remain in the body? Will it appear in a blood test or urinalysis if it hasn't been used in over a month?

O.M., Livonia
A. The length of time that both methadone and heroin remain in body tissues varies with the dose, but almost all is metabolized or excreted within 36 hours for heroin and within 72 hours for methadone. Neither will be demonstrable in a blood test or urinalysis after a month.

Q. Isn't it true that the high cost of a heroin habit can be cut by using less expensive drugs to get by with between fixes?

L.S. Livonia
A. Yes, and this fact has led to one of the big problems in narcotic addiction today because many of the drugs used to get by on may themselves cause a dependence or addiction. What is happening is that multiple addictions are now more the rule than the exception. Treating a patient who is addicted not merely to heroin, but to sleeping pills and tranquilizers, and who is habituated to the use of stimulants such as amphetamines can be a nightmare.

Kent Wins Bridge League Championship

Bridge players have assembled in Cincinnati, Ohio, for the 15th spring national tournament of the American Contract Bridge League. In the Oakley pairs, a one-session championship, Bernie Kent of Livonia won a section cup.

In 10 days of play, six major titles will be decided, and some 4,000 players will compete. The American Contract Bridge League conducts all of the important bridge tournaments in North America.

Each year the league conducts three national championships and takes part in a world championship, in addition to smaller tournaments.

Bussing, Tax Reduction Top District Priorities

Citizens of State Sen. Carl Pursell's 14th District have two clear priorities: preventing cross-district bussing of school children, and finding some way to reduce the property taxes. The district includes Livonia and Farmington.

This became apparent when the Plymouth Republican tallied more than 6,000 returns from the questionnaire he recently sent to homes in the area.

Pursell's suburban constituents emphatically expressed their sentiments opposing bussing to achieve racial balance. Fully 96 per cent of those responding said they do not favor such a program. Only three per cent agreed with cross-district bussing, while one per cent expressed no opinion.

"I personally believe that the bussing issue, which is under federal jurisdiction, should be appealed all the way to the Supreme Court," Pursell commented.

ON THE SCHOOL financing question, Pursell reported that 77 per cent of the respondents favored either eliminating or sharply reducing school operating property taxes, with the funds made up through higher income taxes.

He said 55 per cent favored a "zero millage" plan, while another 22 per cent chose reducing school operating millage by one half with a corresponding increase in income taxes. The other 23 per cent favored retention of the present taxation formula.

Those who picked one of the two property tax reduction plans were asked what type of income tax they'd like to see replace the property tax revenues. Of this group, 58 per cent chose a graduated tax, and the other 42 per cent favored keeping the present flat-rate tax. It is probable that any tax reform plan will permit the voters to decide this question by statewide referendum.

Pursell's constituents also strongly favor "no-fault" insurance (72 per cent) and mandatory annual auto inspection (70 per cent). On another auto-related question, 55 per cent agreed with banning studded snow tires, while 29 per cent thought they should be allowed and 16 per cent had no opinion.

MOST CITIZENS in the 14th District are satisfied with public school educational quality. However, the small majority (53 per cent satisfied, 39 per cent dissatisfied, 8 per cent no opinion) indicates our schools have a rather tenuous hold on favorable public opinion.

Due to Senate rules which limit the amount of questionnaires freshmen legislators may distribute, it was not possible to poll every home in the 14th District.

How Revenue Sharing Would Help Area Cities

WASHINGTON Local cities would stand to benefit from a $5.3 billion revenue sharing reported out of the House Ways and Means Committee, according to Rep. Jack McDonald (R - Farmington).

The City of Livonia would receive $1.7 million, and the City of Farmington nearly $286,000. Wayne County would receive $54.4 million and Oakland County $16.5 million, McDonald said.

Governments not specifically allotted funds - such as townships - are eligible out of the county allotment. The House Rules Committee, traffic cop of the House, is expected to act the first week in May. If there are no complications, the bill could come to the House floor for action by the week of May 8. McDONALD GAVE this outline of the bill's provisions:

"Funds distributed to local governments would have to be used for (1) maintenance and operating expenses for public safety (including police and fire protection, building inspection), environmental protection (including sewage disposal, garbage collection and pollution abatement), and public transportation (including transit systems and streets); and (2) capital expenditures for sewage collection and treatment, refuse disposal systems, and public transportation (including street construction and transit systems).

"The distribution within a state to the counties, and the municipal and township governments within a county, is made under a formula based on one - third on population, one - third on 'urbanized population' (cities of 50,000 or more and the metropolitan areas surrounding them), and one - third on relative per capita income.

"The latter factor is population multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is per capita income in the United States, and the denominator of which is per capita income in the State.

"THE AMOUNT distributed within a county is divided between the county government and the aggregate of municipal governments within the county on the basis of locally raised revenue raised for education.

"For example, if the total revenue raised in a county area were $1 million, of which the county had raised $300,000, the county government would receive 30 per cent of the shared funds allocated to that county area.

"Two formulas are provided for distributing the remaining funds allocated to the municipalities within the county area:

"First, distribution would be made one - half on the basis of population and one - half on the basis of relative income (that is on the basis of population multiplied by per capita income in the county divided by municipal per capita income; or second, distribution would be made one - half on the basis of relative income and one - half on the basis of population times the per capita revenue raised in the locality.

"In order for states to be eligible for their share of the $1.8 billion, they must continue to distribute as much from other sources to local governments as they did in fiscal 1971.

"Provision is made for permanent appropriation of both the $1.8 billion and the $3.5 billion for the five - year period."

Ypsi Dem Runs For Congress

Billy L. Turner, 40, an Ypsilanti Township trustee, will enter the Democratic primary for 2nd District congressman.

Turner works for Ford Motor Co. in real estate acquisition, sales and property development. He has been an active Democrat 18 years and a township board member the last two.

He is the third man to enter the Aug. 8 primary. Others are Walter Shapiro of Ann Arbor and Washtenaw County Commissioner Frederick Schwall, also of Ypsilanti.

BILLY L. TURNER
3rd Candidate

THE SEAT, WHICH currently covers Plymouth and is expected to include Livonia after reapportionment this year, is held by Republican Marvin Esch of Ann Arbor.

A native of Kentucky, Turner came with his family to Ypsilanti in 1944, and he earned a BA degree from Eastern Michigan University and later attended Detroit College of Law.

"The people are frustrated," said Turner, "because their constitutional rights are being infringed upon and the heavy burdens of taxation are completely unbearable. The individual must have relief from the inequitable property and income taxation."

"The Nixon Administration, fully supported by our present U.S. representative, is leading the country down a path of unsound fiscal policy and into an avenue cluttered with noncredible leadership, cities on the brink of total decay and a war that should be resolved immediately."

Dogs Breeders To Exhibit

The Dog Breeders Registry, Inc., of Michigan will sponsor an exhibit May 5 and 6, at Livonia Mall, Seven Mile at Middle Belt.

Some 100 breeds of purebred dogs will be present from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Breeders will be present to discuss their breeds and answer questions of nutrition, grooming or any other problems of a non veterinary nature.

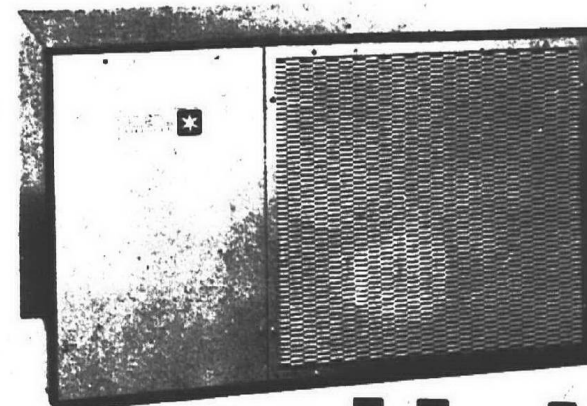

The German Wirehaired Pointer Club will hold a match on Saturday at 1 p.m. On Friday, and during the rest of the time on Saturday, there will be conformation and obedience demonstrations.

Metric System: Costly But Inevitable

By CHARLOTTE MAJZNER
Special Writer

the present duodecimal system, derived from the Romans measuring things in 12s, to the metric system, which measures them in 10s.

"To conduct orderly trade, a society must create and maintain a proper system of weights and measures," says the Encyclopedia Britannica.

JACK ROOSE, president of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce, thinks that since "the rest of the world is on it, it is inevitable that we will change."

There were other views. "At the present time I don't think there is an advantage. It would take a lot of money to change, and we could use that loot for schools. Most people are not anxious to go along with change and I don't know how helpful it would be. It would be convenient as far as trade," says Paul Rosin, president of Westland Chamber of Commerce. "The world would be on the same system, and this is the advantage. It is costly to both the United States and Europe now, but when we change, it would help out both sides," says Ed Lane, executive director of the commerce chamber in Farmington.

JOHN THOMAS, president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce believes that the metric system is "more precise and has mathematical advantages."

Mrs. Jo Neumann, Garden City's executive secretary of the commerce chamber, thinks that it "would give a little more uniformity to our business dealings."

The metric system began in France in 1789, but it was not until 1837 that a law was passed forbidding the use of any units other than the metric in that country.

It was devised by French scientists who hoped to establish a suitable system for all times and all peoples. They based the system on permanent natural standards.

The advantages were so great that it spread to many countries. Now the metric system is used in all continental European countries, Latin America and several Asiatic countries and in nearly all scientific work because of its simplicity.

THE DUODECIMAL

system is our present method of measurement derived from the Romans who divided weights and measures into 12 for the greatest convenience.

The ounce originated from the Roman unca or one-12th, and there is a commercial preference for the dozen since 12 articles can be packaged in a variety of ways.

The foot was one of the earliest linear units and at first was the length of any human foot, later becoming the length of a king's or headman's foot. The inch was originally a thumb's breadth and, according to the Roman duodecimal system, defined as one-12th.

The Romans defined the mile as 1,000 paces or double steps, a pace being equal to five Roman feet. By tradition, England's Henry I is supposed to have decreed that the yard should be the distance from the tip of his nose to the end of his thumb.

THE METRIC system of measurement, under proposition now, is a method of measurement based upon the meter and gram. It is a decimal system of weights and measures represented by standards preserved at the International Bureau of Weights and Measures in France.

The primary standard of length is a bar of platinum alloyed with 10 per cent iridium. The basic unit of linear measure is the meter, comparable to the yard but larger. It is the distance between two lines engraved across the surface near the ends of that bar when the bar is at a temperature of melting ice.

The basic unit of mass is the gram. The standard for the gram is a simple cylinder made of the same substance as the bar. Larger and smaller units are derived from the basic ones in decimal steps of 10.

Stadium Bond Rate 6.64 Pct.

Groundbreaking for the domed Wayne County Stadium on Detroit's riverfront is envisioned for early June as a result of sale of $126 million in revenue bonds to finance the project.

A syndicate headed by two Detroit firms and four out-of-state investors was the lowest of two bidders when bids were opened last week by the Wayne County Stadium Authority.

The group bought the bonds for a net interest rate of 6.63959 per cent over the 40-year life of the bond issue.

THE SUCCESSFUL bidders were represented by the Chicago bond management firm of Halsey, Stuart & Co. The prime members of the group included the First of Michigan Corp. and the Bank of the Commonwealth, both of Detroit, plus Blyth & Co. and Drexel-Firestone Inc., both of New York; and the First Boston Corp. of Boston.

The other bidding syndicate was headed by the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York. Its bid of 6.655 per cent was estimated at about $250,000 higher in interest charges than the successful bid.

Bids were taken after Stadium Authority lawyers advised that two court suits aimed at blocking the stadium did not preclude sale of the bonds. However, they said, one of the court actions which raises a constitutional question must be settled before the bonds "close" in 60 days.

McGovern Campaign HQ Opens

Supporters of Sen. George McGovern, seeking the Democratic Party presidential nomination, have a 15th Congressional District headquarters to get their bumper stickers and campaign literature.

The McGovern campaign center in the 15th District opened Thursday afternoon following ceremonial ribbon cutting ceremonies.

The center is at 6623 Allen Rd., Allen Park and will be directed by District Coordinators Arnold Keller and David Woodrow, both of Taylor, and Larry Knight, of Wayne.

Keller said that the headquarters will maintain hours of 9 a.m. - 10 p.m. seven days a week.

SC Will Go It Alone On Voc-Tech Addition

Schoolcraft College should be able to move into a $1.1 million addition to the Applied Sciences Building in fall of 1973, under terms of bids accepted by the board of trustees last week.

The 25,000 square foot addition will expand by two-thirds the space for vocational and technical offerings in the building on the northeast corner of the campus.

The board voted 6-1 to award four construction contracts totaling $843,000, some $97,000 less than anticipated by architects Rolls-Hammill-Becker.

Trustee Erwin Brown cast the dissenting vote after a 75 minute debate over two alternates in the main contract - partitions and snow melting equipment. Vice Chairman Rosina Raymond was absent.

THE DEBATE WAS touched off when L.O. Lauer Co.'s representative revealed that his firm's bid was lower in nearly every option than the successful bid, but that his firm made a $19,000 error in presenting its bid.

The board majority in effect told him, "touch luck," awarding the architectural trades contract to Arthur O. Misch Co. for $447,767, overall low bidder.

Other contracts and low bidders: Mechanical -- McDonald Plumbing and Heating Co., $213,906.

Electrical trades -- Parker Electric Co., $156,395. Laboratory equipment -- McFadden Corp., $24,870.

THE ADDITION will be fully financed under terms of a 1968 bond issue totaling some $4.5 million. Last year's voter rejection of a pair of property tax increase proposals had no effect on this project.

College President C. Nelson Grote sadly told the board that no aid was available for this addition, either from the U.S. Higher Education Facilities Act or the state budget.

Trustees, therefore, decided it would be unwise to postpone the project while applying for state or federal funds and went ahead to award the contracts.

HERE, BRIEFLY, is what the new addition will provide:

An additional lab for the automotive careers program.

Space for the occupational therapy program, now being conducted across Haggerty Rd. in the facilities of Northville State Hospital.

Room for the civil technology program, now housed in the Service Building.

Room for the business careers program, now housed in the Forum Building.

Such specialized facilities as independent study areas, a weaving room (in conjunction with occupational therapy), an asphalt lab and a concrete curing room (both in conjunction with the civil technology program).

Departmental offices.

A dozen faculty offices, each with room for two instructors.

Milliken Ponders College Aid Plans

Gov. Milliken says he's considering new forms of state aid to community colleges that would treat them more like the four-year colleges.

"Community colleges are developing and changing rapidly," said Milliken, interviewed after he spoke Sunday at Schoolcraft College's commencement and received an honorary degree. "They're a relatively new phenomenon in the state."

Milliken said his office has "under continuing review" the idea, popular among many Schoolcraft trustees, that the two-year colleges receive flat appropriations from the state budget, as four-year colleges do.

Community colleges receive aid on a formula basis, and it is dependent on the number of students. In this respect, their financing is more like those of K-12 school districts.

Nelson Grote, who chaired his first commencement as president of Schoolcraft. The tour went past the Applied Sciences Building for which the college has been seeking construction help (see another story in today's edition).

And at a reception for graduates and their families, Milliken was visibly awed by an ice sculpture done by staff persons in the food service program.

MILLIKEN'S presence was credited by college officials with helping pack the college gymnasium to the rafters for the college's seventh commencement.

An estimated 175 of the 500 recipients of associate degrees and certificates attended. Others have already gone on to four-year schools or to jobs and customarily don't attend.

(A final list of graduates will be published next week, after exams are completed and the administration compiles an official list by community.)

Also back on campus for the first time in many months was Kenneth Lindner, vice president for business who has been ill since last August. President Grote announced Lindner would come back to his office at least part time in May.

IN A KIND of "Future Shock" address, Milliken downplayed not only the certificates of educational achievement but also the knowledge students have acquired:

"Neither skill nor knowledge will prove to be as important to you as character."

"Just as money changes in value, so does the value of your special skills and your special knowledge change according to the demands of the marketplace, and those demands are changing rapidly."

"Today's chemistry will not suffice the day after tomorrow; today's technology will, within the space of a few years, seem as crude as a 19th century handshuttle in a modern textile plant..."

"Your specialties will earn you a living, but the kind of life you lead will depend on other qualities. It will depend on your understanding of and commitment to abiding principles that bind men together - regardless of their special knowledge, regardless of their nationality, regardless of their race."
