5 Get School Endorsements

By FRED DeLANO

Plymouth's impending school board election appeared this week to have turned into a wide open and unpredictable scramble as five of the nine candidates gained public endorsement from one political faction or another.

Two seats on the board will be up for grabs June 12, when voters also will decide the fate of three millage proposals. This double importance has stirred more school campaign interest than at any other time in years, a fact which is evidenced by the endorsement picture.

The Plymouth Education Association has given its organizational support to Mrs. Marda Benson and Gary Mirto.

IN CONTRACT, the executive committee of the local Democratic party recommends the election of Dr. Donald Davies and Prof. E. J. McClendon.

These commitments were followed Tuesday night by the decision of the Plymouth Civic Federation to support the candidacies of Mrs. Sara (Sally) Evans and McClendon.

And from still a fourth source, this being a self-appointed citizens committee headed by Dr. Cliff McClumpha and Harold Guenther, has come campaign backing for the twosome of Mrs. Evans and Mirto.

The four other candidates who at this point seem to be going it entirely on their own are Carl Berry, Rosalie Ann Bales, Betty Bacik Emanuel and Joseph Gray.

THE PUBLIC will have the opportunity to hear the views of all nine at a "candidates night" forum to be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, June 8 in the commission chambers of the Plymouth City Hall.

This program is being sponsored jointly by the Jaycees and the League of Women Voters.

Each candidate will make a five-minute presentation on the priorities of the school district and how to implement them. Mrs. Donald Stacy, the moderator, then will direct questions from the audience to the candidates.

THE P.E.A., in giving a "superior" rating to Mrs. Benson and Mirto praised Mirto's wide background in school matters and said of Mrs. Benson, "She feels that curriculum matters should be one of the primary concerns of the Plymouth school board."

Chairman Marshall Manning of the Democratic committee said the committee considered the two prime criteria for judgment to be concern for the welfare of the child and, secondly, total qualifications of the candidates.

Anthony Licata, civic federation chairman, defined the key criteria as being capability of leadership, an understanding of the problems and time to devote to board work. After an earlier evening of interviews, this group conducted eight ballots Tuesday night before being able to settle upon majority recommendations.

PLYMOUTH REMEMBERED its war dead Memorial Day with a traditional ceremony which saw Commanders John McGonagle and Ed Holdsworth of the American Legion and VFW place a wreath at the Kellogg Park monument while bugler Harry Krumm stilled the audience of hundreds as he played Taps. Smuggling Ring

An estimated $3 million worth of cocaine was confiscated in a raid on a Southfield home Wednesday afternoon. Four suspects were arrested, including two from Southfield and two from Plymouth Township.

Dennis Aschim, special agent in charge of the U. S. Bureau of Customs, said customs agents led a raid on a private home "within three blocks of the 10 Mile-Southfield Rd. intersection" which resulted in the confiscation of approximately 15 pounds of cocaine, about $33,000 in cash, and six guns.

The smuggling operation was discovered in Miami, Florida, and traced to the Southfield home, he said.

The alleged couriers, Douglas R. Kapp, 20, of 8740 Antler Circle and Kathy S. Lucas, 25, of 42560 Postiff, both of Plymouth Township, were flown to Miami for arraignment, according to Aschim.

The remaining two, a husband and wife, LeRoy F. Collier, 31, and Lizzie Collier, 26, of 18470 George Washington, Southfield were arraigned in Federal District Court, in Detroit on charges of possession with intent to distribute. Each was held on $25,000 bond, cash or security. Maximum penalty is 15 years.

Gunman Wounds 'Chuck' Finlan

By FRED DELANO

Charles "Chuck" Finlan, 43, one of Plymouth's most prominent native businessmen, lay at death's door in Wayne County General Hospital Wednesday night after being shot three times in the head and chest by an attacker in the parking lot next to his office at 500 S. Main.

The shooting occurred at approximately 6 p.m. Wednesday, and within 10 minutes State Police took a suspect into custody as he was driving north on Northville Rd. His identity was not disclosed.

A SPOKESMAN for Wayne County General Hospital said that at 7:30 p.m. Finlan's condition was "critical."

Plymouth Police Chief Timothy Ford and other officers were immediately at the scene and were told by several eye witnesses that the person who shot Finlan drove away in a black sports car with a vinyl top.

The alarm to other police branches was sent immediately and the unidentified suspect was apprehended after driving along Main Street and then north on the route to Northville.

Finlan is the third generation insurance agent in his family and he and his wife, Jean, have two daughters and one son. Their home is at 12600 Beacon Hill Drive in Plymouth Township.

FORD DISCLOSED that when officers found Finlan lying next to the passenger side of his car in the Main Street parking lot, all of his trouser pockets had been pulled out, as evidence of a robbery motive.

Late Wednesday evening Plymouth police tentatively identified the man they are holding in the Finlan shooting as Donald Alan Crenshaw of 488 S. Fox Hills Drive, Bloomfield Hills. He is white, 29, six feet tall and weighs 170 pounds. He carries a federal gun permit and police are holding a Browning automatic as evidence.

Unofficially, it was reported that Finlan's wallet was found in the suspect's car.

Ford said he expected to arraign the suspect in 35th District Court today (Thursday) on at least a charge of attempted homicide.

Meanwhile, he and his staff were exploring all angles and quizzing the suspect as to motive and detail.

The location at which Finlan lay at the right side of his automobile in the parking lot, which is located between Ann Arbor Trail and Wing Street, puzzled police.

They found three cartridges, but could not determine whether Finlan was getting into or out of his car at the time of the shooting. It is known, however, that only minutes before he had left a meeting at the nearby Mayflower Hotel to return to his office.

Whether he went to the office directly or to the car is not known.

A witness who rushed to the scene talked to Finlan as he was being put into the ambulance and the information Finlan provided as to his suspicion of who shot him and why was turned over to the police.

Kids Deserve Support On Millage

MAYBE IT WOULD BE WELL, before expressing some personal thoughts on the upcoming school millage election of Monday, June 12, to remind the electorate that any registered voter in the Plymouth School District may participate in the decisions at hand.

It is not necessary to be a property owner to cast a ballot on millage any more than it is in helping elect two new members to the school board.

There's always much confusion over that point, and invariably pro-education votes are lost because some people mistakenly believe that school elections are only for (a) property owners or (b) those who have children enrolled in the system.

Put that out of your mind. If you are registered, you are eligible to vote on all the questions -- but be sure to find out your proper polling place, for they are not necessarily the same as in city, township, state and national elections.

AS I COUNT BACK through the years, children of mine have been enrolled in the schools of Los Angeles, Long Beach, Detroit, Bloomfield Hills, Farmington and Plymouth -- certainly enough for comparison. The benefits to these children never were greater than they are here, and I am selfish enough to want to keep it that way.

Putting it another way, I don't want the current crop of kids deprived and cheated next year of any of the educational opportunities that have been available to them during the school year now drawing to a close.

plymouth THROUGH BIFOCALS

By FRED DeLANO / Editor Mail & Observer

Despite universal antipathy to rising taxation, I think that most parents must agree -- and, for that matter, those young voters who are not parents at all as yet. There might even be a few grandparents on this side of the fence.

Many of our citizens are irritated with our Board of Education, it is true. For instance, the natives are restless over such items as busing, truancy, discipline in general, the handling of the James Rossman case and the whole issue of tax reform.

But let us not confuse the issues of the contest between nine candidates for the school board with the facts which show the need for millage renewal, and the levy of at least one new mill, if a Plymouth education is to be as meaningful as it has been in the past.

You can fight with the board all you want, but why in Heaven's name penalize 10,000 kids by voting "no" to necessary financial support?

THERE IS ONE STEP which the school troops could take in the next few days, if they had a mind to, which might ease some of the tension. My reference is to the fact that even as all stops are being pulled in behalf of the millage campaign, there are negotiations in progress at the same time over a new teachers' wage contract for 1972-73.

As a homeowner and parent, I would like to be told jointly by the PEA and administration before election day that they had agreed to live totally within governmental guidelines as to the structure of any increases.

I don't want my "yes" vote June 12 interpreted by either side as permission for unlimited salary standards in August, and I see no reason why such a display of honesty should be too much to ask right now.

When boiled down to dollars and cents, the permissible school tax rate would go up only $2 per $1,000 in state equalized assessed valuation even if all three propositions are approved. Added to that will be 75 cents per $1,000 which we've already given the board permission to levy.

Although it's none of your business, the SEV on my house currently stands at $14,848. The tax increase, if all three millage questions are approved, will cost Mother Goose and me 79 cents a week. We consider our kids that good an investment, and, the last I knew, yours were, too.

MRS. RONALD (PAT) HARGROVE, Plymouth chairman of the 1972 muscular dystrophy drive to be conducted June 6, meets with the campaign's poster child, eight-year-old Darryl Ayers.

MD Drive Chairman Is Named

PLYMOUTH

Mrs. Ronald (Pat) Hargrove of 9116 Elmhurst will head the 1972 muscular dystrophy fund raising drive in the Plymouth area, it was announced this week.

The house-to-house solicitation will be concentrated in a four-hour effort between 5 and 9 p.m. Tuesday, June 6 and Mrs. Hargrove currently is seeking volunteers to participate.

Richard J. Miller, president of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy Associations, said proceeds will support medical research and patient services for victims of the disease.

Detroit's muscular dystrophy clinic provides free diagnosis, therapy, braces, wheelchairs and social services. The disease, as yet incurable, primarily attacks children and is nearly always fatal. Headquarters of the association are at 400 W. Marshall, Ferndale.

Committee Answers Millage Questions

PLYMOUTH

The Plymouth Citizens for Better Schools Committee has prepared the following questions and answers in behalf of the millage propositions on which Plymouth School District voters will ballot in the June 12 election. The Mail & Observer is publishing them as a public service.

1. Question: What are we voting on?

Answer: The June 12 ballot asks voter approval to renew five mills and vote two additional mills for operation of our schools.

2. Question: Are all of these requests contained in one proposal?

Answer: No. Three separate proposals will be submitted for voter approval.

Proposal No. 1 asks voter approval to renew five mills which expired on Dec. 31, 1971.

Proposal No. 2 asks voter approval of one additional mill to meet the added costs of an estimated increase of 660 student enrollment, provide additional special education services, and to implement a social studies program in the elementary schools.

Proposal No. 3 asks voter approval of one additional mill, or a fractional part thereof, to meet possible loss of revenue through payment of the Ford Motor Co. reassessment suit, the possible loss of .25 mill to Wayne County Community College, and the payment of retroactive pay to some of the School District's employees.

3. Question: Why is this money needed?

Answer: Largely due to four factors beyond the school district's control --

The rapid growth in student enrollment due to new families moving into the district.

For the past two years, the Legislature has not paid out to school districts the funds it appropriated. The Legislature has used these funds and other monies to balance its budget. These repeated cuts in state aid to Plymouth amount to $227,335.

A 1970 State Supreme Court ruling that prohibited sale or rental of textbooks and collection of student fees for school supplies. Unexpected district cost to provide "free" textbooks and supplies was $156,597 during 1970-71.

Rising costs due to inflation.

4. Question: Why is the millage request for five years?

Answer: Several reasons. There is the need to be able to plan for education in a community for more than one year at a time just as there is a similar need in business or industry. The five year duration guarantees that monies will be available to operate the schools and maintain the level of quality which is currently provided.

5. Question: What about tax reform?

Answer: Litigation is pending on the constitutionality of the property tax as a fair method of supporting schools. That case will be heard by the Supreme Court.

Petitions calling for a change in the method of financing schools are now being circulated to put the question on the November ballot. Tax reform, promised for the past three years, may come during the next year. But no education - tax reform could go into effect for next school year.

Meanwhile, the additional millage will allow the district to combat inflation, guard against program cuts, and provide a good education program for our children during the coming years. We should place the blame for our tax frustrations squarely where it belongs, on us adults, and not our children.

6. Question: What will happen if the millage fails?

Answer: If the millage fails, your Board of Education will have to wrestle with the painful decision of where to make deductions in addition to those cutbacks already made. In effect, voters would be settling for a second - rate school system.

Canton Trustee Resigns

By MARIE McGEE

CANTON TOWNSHIP

To avoid any possible future conflict with Civil Service Commission rules, Vern Rorabacher has resigned from the Canton Township Board of Trustees.

His successor will be 62 - year - old Robert H. Griffin, of 39500 Warren Rd., a Detroit News production department supervisor.

Rorabacher is a full time fireman with Canton's newly organized fire department. Informed sources say he felt that his job status might be in conflict with Civil Service Commission regulations that state trustees may not be Civil Service employes.

THE ISSUE is a hazy one for township officials, who are now in the process of setting up the Civil Service organization after approval by Canton voters in the May 16 election.

"Frankly, we don't know whether he's in violation or not," said Clerk John Flodin. "We haven't had time to check into it."

Rorabacher, a native of Canton, has been on the board since 1968. His term will expire on Nov. 20, 1972.

Griffin moved to Canton from Detroit three years ago. He made his first appearance before the Canton board several years ago to complain about long election voting lines at Gallimore School.

HE'S ATTENDED every board meeting ever since -- usually accompanied by his wife, Marie. Sometimes he even brings several of his neighbors from Royal Holiday Park where the Griffins now reside.

"I've become very close to Canton politics," Griffin said. "I'm proud of the way Canton operates. I like the closeness to people of this form of government."

Griffin's appointment came at a special meeting of the board held May 22.

Resignations, Leave OK'd

PLYMOUTH

Two resignations and a leave of absence were approved this week by the Plymouth Board of Education.

Both Rose Bloom, second grade teacher at Fiegel, and Mary A. Martin, vocal music teacher at Gallimore and Smith, resigned because they are moving.

Jaycees, Auxiliary Pick New Officers

PLYMOUTH New officers of the Plymouth Jaycees and their auxiliary, the Jaycettes, will be honored Saturday at an inaugural dinner and ball to be held at the Hawthorne Valley Country Club.

Heading the Jaycees for 1972 - 73 will be Karl Gansler, a five - year member of the organization who succeeds James Herter. The new president of the Jaycettes is Jo Ellen Hincker, who takes the gavel from Carol Wickard.

Gansler received another honor recently when he was named Michigan's "sparkplug of the year" at the state convention of Jaycees. At the same meeting the Plymouth chapter was given the second place award for public relations achievements among the state's 258 chapters.

"We hope to have one of the most exciting years in the history of Plymouth Jaycees this coming year and all young men between the ages of 18 and 36 are most welcome to work and join with us in this effort," said Gansler.

NEW OFFICERS elected with Gansler include Dennis Richardson, internal vice president; Carl Glass, external vice president; Mark Lane, administrative vice president; Bill Graham, treasurer, and Douglas Hincker, secretary.

They all will serve on the board of directors, which also includes Paul Campbell, Dave Aldredge, Len Krajewski, John Stow and Carl Berry. As immediate past president, Herter now becomes chairman of the board.

The Jaycettes held their own installation and awards dinner last week at the Hillside Inn. Those newly elected, besides Mrs. Hincker, include Pat Krajewski, vice president; Sue Gansler, secretary; Diane Glass, treasurer and Diane Swinton and Jeanne Schwartz, directors.

Guests for the evening included three past presidents, Dianne Conrad, Kari Miller and Judy Turck plus the district vice president, Mary Ann Hosking, of Wayne.

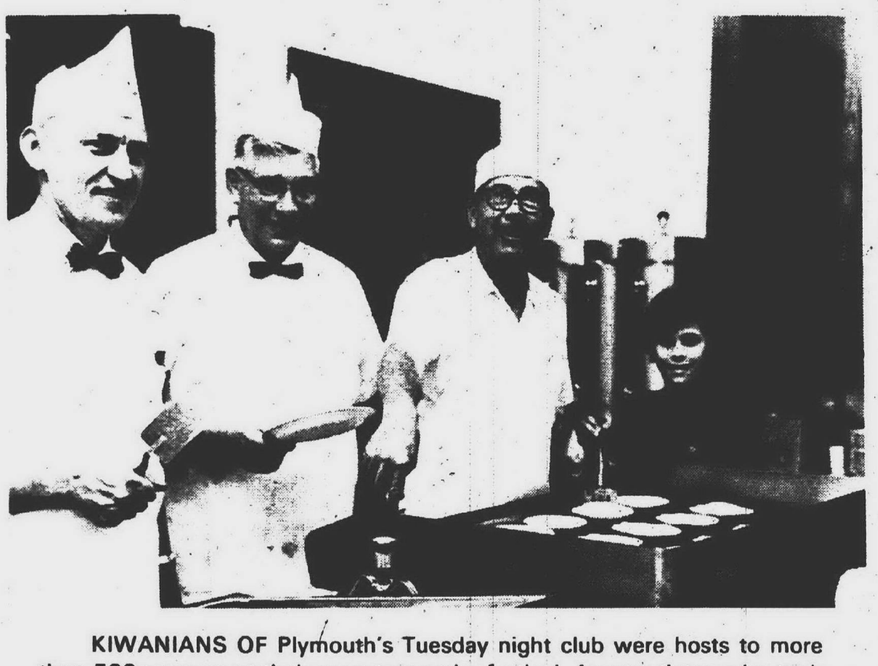
Band Plans Fund Drive At Concert

PLYMOUTH Formation of a "Podium Club" to help provide financial sponsorship for the Plymouth Community Band will be explained to concert goers when the band presents its first outdoor program of the season Friday night in Kellogg Park.

This introductory concert will open at 8 p.m. and will be a preview of the six - week series that will get under way June 29.

Conductor James Griffith lists "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" and numbers from "Show Boat" as among the highlights of Friday's program.

In recent years, the band organization has faced a financial struggle to meet its budget.



KIWANIANS OF Plymouth's Tuesday night club were hosts to more than 500 persons at their recent pancake festival. Among those who took turns on the kitchen crew were (from left) W.J. Kincade, William Sempliner and Chet Haynes, with the help of young Richard Laible. This feast will be followed Saturday, June 3 by the spaghetti dinner sponsored by the Kiwanis Thursday noon club. Dinners will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. in the Masonic Temple for $1.75. (Observer photo by Doug Johnson)

Hoben Has No Regret In Leaving Football

By W. W. EDGAR

The elevation of Mike Hoben to the role of superintendent of schools in Plymouth proved once again that the pathway of life can be filled with many unusual twists and turns.

Not many people know it, but Mike, at one time, was headed for what could have been a glamorous career on the national football scene. But fate stepped in, and because of illness in his family, Mike changed direction.

In the midst of accepting congratulations and well wishes on all sides at lunch the other day, he got to talking about his days as a high school football coach in the little town of Cheboygan.

"We had quite a league up there," he commented, "and competition was as keen as one could find anywhere. Bob Devaney, now athletic director at Nebraska who was named 'coach of the year' last fall, was coaching at Alpena. Mike Corrigan was at Petoskey and Tom Devine, now coach of the Green Bay Packers in the National Football League after a successful reign at the University of Missouri, was the head man at East Jordan."

Recalling that the names of Devaney and Devine had emblazoned the national headlines for the past several seasons, Mike smiled a bit and said, "They all went off to the University of Wyoming together -- and I was invited to go along."

FROM THE strange look in the eyes of some of his listeners, Mike must have sensed that they were wondering why he didn't accept the invitation.

"I had illness at home," he explained, "and I wasn't in a position to travel."

Instead of joining the group headed for national fame, he came to Plymouth and used his talents as football coach of the Plymouth High team for 11 years -- and established quite a record with the Rocks.

Has he ever regretted the fact that he turned down the opportunity to gain higher stature in football?

"I haven't regretted a minute of it," he answered, "for if the truth were known, I was starting to get bored with football coaching.

"There was more than enough activity and pressure for anyone during the season," Mike pointed out," but the time between seasons was long and uneventful. So, teaching became more and more important to me. It kept me close to the students, and there was some real pleasure in seeing them progress."

HIS FIRST step away from the football team came when he was named assistant principal of Plymouth High. Before the new building was completed on Joy Road, he was promoted again -- this time to the role of assistant superintendent of education.

Then, when Jim Rossman was relieved of the superintendent's role, Mike was named "acting superintendent" a post he held until boosted to the top last week.

Even now, as he spoke of his new role, there was a touch of irony in the scene. For only a few tables away, Rossman was with another group - and all within view of the man who succeeded him.

As we sat and chatted, The Stroller recalled the day he asked Mike if he missed drawing diagrams of offensive plays and defensive maneuvers on the blackboard for the football team.

"There's not too much difference between designing football plays or figuring millages and budgets for the entire school system," was his reply.

And from the smile on his face these days you know that Mike is enjoying his new role and has no reason to regret the fate that caused him to turn his back on an opportunity for a glamorous role on the national football scene.

Business Pioneers Honored

PLYMOUTH The business pioneers of Plymouth were paid an unusual tribute Wednesday.

They were guests of the chamber of commerce at a luncheon in the Meeting House as part of Livelihood Day in Michigan Week and were presented certificates to serve as testimony of the part they played in helping to build the community.

More than 70 persons were at the festive board when John Thomas, president of the Chamber of Commerce, paid the official tribute and introduced the oldsters among the group.

FOREMOST among them was Bob Beyer, former owner of Beyer Drugs that dates its debut in business back to 1856.

Next was John McLaren, of the McLaren Coal and Lumber Co. that dates back to 1900. The third in the triumvirate was Bud Schrader, of the Schrader Funeral Home that has been in the Plymouth business district since 1904.

One of the surprised guests was white-haired Rony Wood, who has conducted a photographic studio on Ann Arbor Trail since 1918. "But I really started in 1908," he said proudly.

It was the first time that so many of the business pioneers had been gathered at one meeting in years, and this is likely to become part of Livelihood Day each year.

HERALD HAMILL, the township engineer who established his business in 1926, was one of the speakers, and he traced much of the business history of the community. Ralph Lorenz, owner of the Mayflower Hotel, recalled the incidents that led up to the building of the hostelry.

The other speakers included Wendell Lent, of Lent Clothiers, Frank Henderson of the Plymouth Plating works, who presented the certificates, and W.W. Edgar, of Observer Newspapers, Inc. Ed Kivela, of Detroit Edison, was general chairman.

Here is the official list of those who were honored and had been in business in Plymouth 25 years ago:

It's Wayne vs Farmington In Finale

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

Now there are two...

It's Wayne Memorial and Farmington High in the Les Anders baseball tourney championship. Wayne knocked off Bishop Borgess behind the no-hit pitching of Art Mach, 4-0, and Farmington toppled Stevenson, 5-2, in semifinal action.

The tourney finale is set for Tuesday (June 6) at 7:30 p.m. at Livonia Ford Field, and Wayne has to be the favorite.

The Inter-Lakes' Falcons were 5-4 in league action and stand 9-7 overall and are still alive in the state baseball tourney. Farmington meets Garden City East on Saturday in a district semifinal.

FARMINGTON crushed Bentley in the first round of the Les Anders and zipped by John Glenn. Then it was a romp over Stevenson and now its the final against Wayne.

Meanwhile Wayne nipped Farmington Harrison, 3-1, toppled Thurston, and surprised Bishop Borgess to make its way into the finals.

Borgess ran into some tough luck and a pitcher named Mach in the semifinals. The Wayne right-hander came about as close as you can to throwing a perfect game.

He allowed one runner to reach first and that was Paul Banion in the second inning on a walk. Otherwise it was all Mach who chalked up 12 strikeouts.

The one anxious moment in his no-hitter came in the top of sixth with Mike Milosch lining a hot shot to Emmet Hannon at second. The Wayne second baseman made a diving catch and threw out Milosch and the rest was easy for Mach.

The rest of the tough luck that Borgess Coach Jim Birsky ran into was the absence of his two top ball players. His leading batsman in Paul Davis (.365) and top hurler in Reese Dobrick were nowhere to be seen at the start of the game.

Come the fourth inning, both arrived after encountering car trouble while out at the lake over the holiday but the damage was done.

WAYNE SCORED two off Borgess pitcher Gary Percha in the third inning. With one out, Mike MacGregor and Harold Durrie drew bases on balls and scored on a triple by Mach who was cut down at the plate attempting to score.

Wayne added two in the fifth on a walk to Hannon and singles by Durrie and Mach and the rest of the show belonged to Mach with a no-hitter to his credit.

STEVENSON STRUCK first in the opening inning. After two outs, Mike Tressler tripled and scored on an error by Farmington catcher Tony Wenson.

The fifth inning belonged to Farmington with the Falcons pushing across their entire output on three hits with the help of two Spartan errors.

All five runs were unearned but Falcon Coach Richard Roy wasn't complaining.

With one out, Mark Love and Jeff Herman singled. Dennis Detrich and Dennis Hagen were safe on errors and Bob Holton flied to center for the second out.

But Mike Flynn kept Farmington alive and all but killed Stevenson with a three run round tripper to put the Falcons up, 5-1.

STEVENSON CAME BACK in the bottom of the stanza with leadoff back-to-back triples by Bob Bialy and Don Finn for one run but Harte bore down and struck out the next three Spartans to halt the threat. Stevenson just couldn't get rolling again with the five run inning leading to the Spartan downfall.

Harte went the distance for Farmington, allowing seven hits, striking out 10 and walking two. Cady and Tom Centers worked for Stevenson with the starter Cady taking the loss.

RU Still Fighting For League Title

Redford Union has been knocked out of state tournament baseball action but the Panthers are alive and doing fine in the Suburban Eight conference.

Going into the final week, RU, Belleville and Edsel Ford all shared 8-4 league marks and RU closes the season with games with each.

RU tipped Plymouth, 2-0, for its eighth league win but fell to Detroit Cody in a pre - district contest, 8-7.

It was junior lefthander Tom Nippa who kept the Plymouth bats in check with only two hits. Both came off the stick of Larry Graves who collected lead off singles in the second and seventh innings. Otherwise it was all Nippa.

JOHN OWENS hurled for Plymouth and pitched a good game except for one little mistake and that being one that has plagued him the entire season. . .the gopher ball.

In the bottom of the fourth, Steve Friedman singled and Mark Yourchock blasted his third round tripper and that's all RU needed to get by the Rocks who stand 5-7 in the conference and 7-11 overall, but the Rocks do have one on RU . . they are still in state tourney competition with an Ann Arbor clash on tap Saturday at Adrian.

The closely knitted clash wasn't without its anxious moments. In the top of the sixth, Ron Egloff uncorked a 400 foot drive deep to center. RU's Mark Durance got a good jump on the ball and caught it going away.

The Saturday district battle featured Cody's Bob Owchinko against RU's previously unbeaten Gary Fulks.

CODY WENT UP by one in the third inning with Rick Paul safe on a three base throwing error by the Panther catcher and an infield single by Tom Buck.

The Panthers got the one run back plus one in the third with Durance safe on an error, and Kurt Fritz connecting on his fifth four - bagger to left center and it was 2-1 RU.

Then came the top of the fifth and what a fifth for RU and Coach Bob Atkins. Ken Lis walked, Dave Butek was safe on a fielders choice with Lis out. Vic Jordan walked and Paul was hit by a pitch to fill the bases.

FULKS COULDN'T find the plate and walked Buck to force in one run and then walked Owchinko to bring in another. Coach Atkins had seen enough and brought in reliever Tom Miller.

The Panthers didn't say die and came back with two of their own in the fifth. Friedman walked and moved up on a single by Fritz. A wild pitch scored Friedman but Fritz was nailed attempting to score on the same play.

GLENN RICHMOND then tripled and Lupe Bravo singled to slice the margin to three runs.

Cody added a run in the top of the sixth when after two outs, Buck was safe on an error and scampered around on a two - bagger by Owchinko.

RU rallied in the bottom of the sixth but fell a run shy. Rob Campbell and Ron Campbell drew base on balls and Friedman singled to fill the bases.

Fritz drew a base on balls to force in Rob and Mike Johnston was safe on a fielder's choice with Ron and Friedman both scoring and that's how it ended, 8-7.

St. Agatha Falls, 3-2

St. Agatha dropped out of the state baseball tournament with a 3-2 loss to St. Ladislaus and the Aggies finished with a 6-11 overall mark.

SENIOR MARK MIRON hurled for the Aggies and gave up seven hits, struck out three and walked one in taking the loss.

The Aggies scored in the opening inning to take a 1-0 lead. Mike Barden singled, Tom Nemes singled and Pat Brown drove in Barden with the first tally.

St. Agatha went up by two in the third on a two-bagger by Rich Kayfez and a single by Barden.

ST. LADISLAUS struck with one run in the third, fifth and seventh innings to score a pre-district win and knock St. Agatha out of the running.

Bishop Borgess Wins Catholic Track Title

A year can make a lot of difference. If you are dubious, then ask Coach Steve Strauch of Bishop Borgess High who saw his team weather a disqualification in the mile relay and then win the 440 relay, the final event of the afternoon, to capture the Catholic League's first division championship by a margin of five points over De Porres.

Competing at Brother Rice, Borgess wound up with 44 points against 39 by De Porres, which recently won the state Class C crown.

Just one year ago, Borgess lost the championship by a half-point to Brother Rice. This time Rice wound up sixth with 16 points. U of D was third with 31 followed by Shrine 22 and Divine Child 18 to mention the leaders.

Borgess won the 880-relay but was disqualified for running out of its lane. The error cost six valuable points and placed the new champions in a spot where they had to take the 440-relay, the final event of the day.

THE QUARTET that was clocked in :44.0 was composed of Neil Falls, Kevin Kleinsmith, Tim DeBeliso and Greg Battle.

It was one of four individual titles taken by Borgess. Battle took the low hurdles in :20.0 and finished second in the 100-yard dash. Shawn McCarthy won the long jump with a leap of 20'7 3/4 inches. Dennis Cummings accounted for the fourth first when he took the pole vault with a height of 12'6".

Actually Battle was timed at :10.2 in the century, the same clocking as Divine Child's Osear. The only difference was that the placing judges gave thenod to Osear and second place to Greg.

PAT DAVEY, the son of State Boxing Commissioner Chuck Davey, accounted for the lone title for Brother Rice when he won the two mile race in 9:45.0. Brother Rice picked up its remaining points on: Kevin Callaghan, second in the high jump; a fifth by Doug Pracher in the shot put; a fourth by Callaghan in the 880, a third by Mike Mathews in the mile.

Borgess scored in the following manner, excluding the four firsts; Battle second in 100; Dennis Hicks, third in 880; Dan Madden, fourth and Jim Bearden, fifth in two mile; Mack Sopko, third in high hurdles; fifth in mile relay; Keith Burke, fifth in high jump; and Rick Cudini, second in shot put.

Watch For All-Area Selections

The All-Observer, All-Area squads are in the making with the top trackmen to be announced in next Wednesday's edition (June 7) and the all star baseball team in the following Wednesday editions on June 14.

First and second teams and honorable mentions will be revealed as selected by area coaches and Sports Editor Tom Donoghue. In addition will be the No. 1 coach in each sport as well as the top trackman and top baseball player.

Don't miss it...All Area selections coming up in the Observer Newspapers.

Plymouth Gains District Semifinals

Plymouth High stayed alive in state tournament baseball action with a 6-4 triumph over Monroe and its on to the district at Adrian, Saturday, June 3.

The Rocks meet Ann Arbor Pioneer in the semifinals at 10 a.m. with the winner in the district finale at 3 p.m.

LARY GRAVES and John Owens worked for Plymouth on the mound with Owens picking up the win in relief. Graves hurled the first three innings, giving up three runs, two unearned, on two hits and five strikeouts. Owens worked the final four innings and gave up one run on one hit with seven strikeouts to his credit.

It was Owen's fifth win against six losses.

Bob Jett went the route for Monroe and gave up nine hits, walked two and struck out three in taking the loss.

Plymouth scored once in the first and twice in the second to take a 3-0 lead. A Dave Hees double and Ron Egloff single accounted for the first inning run. Jeff Stringer started the Rocks off in the second when safe on a fielder's choice.

Chuck Amyx doubled and both scored on a two - bagger by Dave Hees and it was 3-0 Plymouth.

Monroe bounced back with three runs in the third. Jett drew a base on balls and scored on a double by Chuck Mozingo. Plymouth then fell into hard times with an error by the left fielder and third baseman allowing two more runners to score and it was a tie game.

A SOLO TALLY in the top of the fourth gave Monroe a 4-3 edge. Ken Mink was hit by a pitch and moved to second on an attempted pick-off that went astray. Mozingo singled and Mink scampered home.

Plymouth came back in the bottom of the fifth to notch it at four all. After two outs, Dan Hess walked, stole second and scored on a double by Egloff.

The Rocks moved ahead to stay in the sixth on a single by Graves and a round tripper by Pete Jenner which cleared the 340 mark in center field.

Plymouth stands 5-7 in Suburban Eight play and 7 - 11 overall. The Rocks wind up league action today (June 1) at Dearborn.

Stevenson Girls Win Track Triangular

Stevenson High girls scored five firsts enroute to a triangular track win over Northville and Walled Lake Western. The Spartans totaled 48½ points with Northville second at 46, and Walled Lake third with 42½.

DIANE DETTER was a double winner for the Spartans with firsts in the standing and running long jump. Miss Detter leaped 8'2½" in the standing and 16'11½" in the running.

Nancy Gavoor won the 100 yard dash for Stevenson at :12.0 and the Spartan 880 relay squad clocked in at 1:57.7 for another triumph.

Clarenceville Finishes In Tie For 2nd Place

Clarenceville wrapped up its Wayne-Oakland baseball play with a second place tie with a 5-5 record. The Trojans toppled Bloomfield Hills Andover, 10-2; lost to West Bloomfield, 10-8; and fell victim to Clarkston, 7-4, and now look forward to the Ypsilanti Lincoln game in state tournament action.

Chip Meyrelles and Terry Laird worked for Clarenceville on the mound in the 10-2 win over Andover with Meyrelles chalking up the victory.

CLARENCEVILLE did its damage in the fourth and fifth innings with four in the fourth and six in the fifth.

Meyrelles opened the fourth on a routine grounder that was booted for an error. Greg Saarela forced Meyrelles at second and Brian Luka walked to put runners on first and second.

Ken Smith lined a double into right to score two, and Howard Fershtman tripled to score Smith. A Terry Earls single brought in Fershtman to make it 4-0.

THE TROJANS bats went to work in the next inning with 11 Clarenceville players going to the plate. Again it was an error that started things off with Laird on first by way of an error.

Laird stole second and scored on a one base hit by Meyrelles. Meyrelles moved around to third on two passed balls, Luka walked and stole second and Brian Rippon walked to fill the bases.

Fershtman drew another base on balls to force in Meyrelles and Earls doubled to score three Trojan runners.

THE WEST BLOOMFIELD loss saw Meyrelles, Tim McCammon and Laird take turns on the Clarenceville mound with Laird taking the loss. Rick Edelen and Bob Jones went the route for Bloomfield with Jones capturing the win in relief.

Clarenceville scored one in the first on singles by McCammon and Saarela, and added two in the fourth on singles by Rippon and Fershtman and two errors.

A single by Saarela, two errors and a double by Rippon scored three in the sixth and a Luka two run homer in the seventh concluded Clarenceville's scoring with West Bloomfield a two run victor.

THE CLARKSTON BATTLE was called after five complete innings with Clarenceville down, 7-4. Clarkston had collected seven runs on five hits with two errors while Clarenceville had four runs on four hits and also two errors.

The Court Jester

by BILL CAMERON

What does it take to become a tennis player? The obvious things come to mind--coordination, ability to move, good eyesight, judgment, timing, reflexes. But what about some of the not so obvious qualifications--patience, motivation, attitude, intelligence?

Tennis involves more than just two people standing on opposite sides of a net hitting a ball. My experience has shown that it takes three to five years for an individual to "put it all together" and become a decent player. Therefore, motivation, patience and attitude are the key factors.

Why do you want to learn the game? Is it just for the exercise? It is something you can participate in with your family? You have a competitive nature? I'm sure there are many reasons, but basically you must want to learn and are willing to put the time into it.

This is where patience comes in. Most beginners are in a hurry. They rush their shots; they don't wait for the ball to come to them; they want to play games instead of practicing.

Some are looking for instant success. If they haven't mastered a particular stroke after two lessons, they become discouraged. Their attitude is poor. How many times have I heard "I'll never learn that!"

We chastise our children for having a poor attitude yet we are often as guilty as they. One of the laws of learning is repetition. The more we practice something, normally we'll get better at it. It becomes a habit that we don't have to think of. This is where kinesthetic sense takes over.

WE ALSO REACH a plateau of learning. Some of us stay on that plateau longer than others. This is where instruction becomes so important. You may have trouble with your serve. It may be accurate but have no power.

Unless you find a knowledgeable tennis pro to advise you, you may have the problem for quite some time. Eventually you may discover the reason yourself--poor toss, racket gripped improperly, poor body alignment, etc. But until then you stay on the plateau.

The intelligence I speak of is synonomous with maturity. Do we understand the meaning of angles, spin, depth, placement? How does the sun and the wind affect our play? The old axiom "We get old too soon and smart too late," holds true for many of us, primarily because no one has told us or we've never bothered to ask.

The next series of classes for beginners and advanced players will be starting soon. Call the "Y" and leave your name and phone number if you're interested.

What A Dust Storm! Stevenson Wins, 11-10

It was some kind of game with Stevenson pitted against Franklin in a pre - district round of the state tournament baseball world.

Stevenson led by as much as 8-1 going into the bottom of the fifth and when the dust cleared after seven completed innings, Stevenson proved a narrow victor over Franklin, 11-10.

A little of everything happened with each side banging out nine hits but Stevenson getting one more run than Franklin.

Stevenson now faces Bentley in a district semifinal at Southfield High on Saturday (June 3) at 12:30 p.m. A Spartan win will pit Stevenson against the winner of the Farmington - GC East game at 3 p.m. the same day.

Dave Johns and Nelson Cady worked for Stevenson with Johns getting the win and Cady the save. Jamie Knapp and Tim Griffin combined for Franklin on the mound with Knapp getting the loss.

THE SPARTANS opened with a bang in the top of the first and Franklin Coach Ron Hellier knew it was going to be a long afternoon.

His sophomore hurler Knapp just couldn't find the plate and walked Mark Temby, Bob Ganzak and Bob Bialy to fill the bases. Knapp struck out Don Finn for the second out but John Horstman lined a single into center field, or what appeared to be a single.

Patriot centerfielder Jeff Waterstone charged the ball and it took a weird hop and bounced over the outstretched glove and Horstman rounded the bases with a grand slam home run.

STEVENSON added two in the third and walks to Finn and Johns and a single by Horstman and it was 6-1 in favor of the Spartans.

Walks to Bob Bialy, Horstman and Temby and singles by Mike Godbey and Johns scored two more in the fifth and Stevenson was close to walking away, 8-1.

But Franklin started kicking up its heels. With one out Dattillio walked and Griffin and Waterstone singled. Karney Derderian and Frantz followed with walks and a sacrifice by Steve Crowe scored Derderian.

KEVIN PALMER connected on a two - bagger and the Patriots had sliced the margin to 8-6.

Stevenson came back with another in the sixth and Coach Hellier was wondering if he did have a stopper in Griffin. Mark Keifer and Bialy singled and Finn walked but Griffin bore down and the Spartans only collected one run.

The sixth stanza saw Franklin erupt with one run.

With one out, Dattillio singled and Griffin blasted a triple for Franklin's seventh run. Stevenson called an appeal play at first, saying that Griffin had missed the bag.

THE APPEAL was nullified but the umpire didn't call a balk that happened on the appeal play. Johns threw to first on the appeal with a foot on the rubber and the ruling states that a throw to an unoccupied base is a balk.

Coach Hellier was outspoken but failed to lodge a protest and Griffin was left stranded at third in what should have been a very important Patriot run.

Stevenson scored twice in the seventh on a triple by Ganzak, an error and a single by Bialy and the Spartans were up by four.

JOHNS WALKED Frantz and Crowe to open the bottom of the seventh and Palmer connected on a three - run homer to cut the difference to one again.

Stevenson Coach Joe Jandazek brought in Nelson Cady who got Dave Hollandsworth to strike out but Tim Livesay drew a base on balls. Fallow grounded out and Griffin went down swinging to end the rally and the game with Coach Hellier still wondering why he didn't lodge a protest.

Falcons Knock Off Harrison, 3-1

The Farmington High baseball squad is alive and doing fine.

The Falcons knocked off Harrison in a pre - district round, 3-1, to move into the semifinal against Garden City East Saturday (June 3) at Southfield High at 10 a.m.

Coach Richard Roy's baseballers are also alive in the Les Anders tourney with a championship match coming up Tuesday, June 6, at Ford Field at 7:30 p.m.

This could be the year for Farmington to explode to a big finish. The Falcons finished 5-4 in Inter - Lakes action and stand 9-7 overall with two of those losses really victories.

Farmington had to forfeit two early season wins because of an ineligible player and 11-5 sounds better than 9-7.

THE HARRISON clash featured Hawk Gary Morrison against Falcon Jim Harte.

Farmington struck first in the bottom of the first when after two outs, Tony Wenson singled, stole second, moved to third on an error and zipped home on a wild pitch.

Harrison fought back to tie it at one all in the second without the benefit of a hit. After Harte had struck out the first two batsmen, Morrison drew a walk, and Nick Nicolay was safe on an error. Bryan Collins drilled one to the shortstop who booted it and Morrison came home with the run.

FARMINGTON responded with two runs in the third on three hits to take a lead it never relinquished. With two outs, Wenson singled and scored on a two - bagger by Harte. Rick Pauline followed with a single and coupled with an error, Harte scored the third run.

Harte went the distance for Farmington, allowing just three hits, striking out 10 and walking two.

Gary Morrison gave up five hits for Falcon batsmen, struck out five and walked two.

Harrison finished with a 6-2 Western Six mark that was good enough for the crown and slipped to a 10-7 overall record.

NF Raiders Wrap Up Season With 2 Wins

North Farmington wrapped up its '72 baseball season with victories over John Glenn and Farmington Harrison to finish at 4-6 in Northwest Suburban action and 8-10 overall.

The Raiders made use of three Glenn errors to score a 5-3 victory with Louie Doot and Kim Parker working on the mound. North came back the next day to edge rival Harrison, 2-1, with Doug Moher hurling a four hitter.

The Raiders opened the Glenn battle with five runs in the second inning on four hits. Parker was safe on an error and next followed three consecutive singles by Scott Ramsey, Chuck Wolfe, and Tom Hamilton. Doot drew a base on balls and Mike Gasser was safe on an error.

John Cassidy finished the scoring with a single to right and the Rockets had tumbled to a five run deficit, with Glenn pitcher Steve Kaufman the blunt of three errors.

GLENN GOT one back in the second on singles by Roger Sanders, Mike Null and J.P. McBride. A three - bagger by Jim Laughren and a ground out scored another in the fourth and the Rockets pushed across their third in the fifth on singles by McBride and Jeff Hodgkins.

It was North's Doug Moher against Harrison's Tom Young in the season finale. The Raiders again made use of their opponent's mishaps and scored both runs in the second stanza.

Scott Ramsey walked and was sacrificed to second by Marty Raymond. Chuck Wolfe doubled to score Ramsey, stole third and scampered home on an error.

HARRISON MUSTERED only one run and that in the first inning. With one out, Jeff Kallgren singled, stole second and scored on a one base hit by Young.

The Hawks loaded the bases in the seventh inning with two outs but Moher got Kallgren to fly out and the Raiders ended the season on a winning note.

Glenn Rockets Tip Cherry Hill, 2-1; Alive In Tourney

John Glenn moved into district semifinal action with a 2-1 baseball triumph over Cherry Hill. The Rockets meet Ypsilanti Saturday (June 3) at 12:30 p.m. in Adrian.

Plymouth is going against Ahn Arbor Pioneer in the 10 a.m. game and the two winners battle it out in the district finale at 3 p.m.

Glenn sophomore Jeff Hodgkins went the distance, allowing four hits, striking out 10 and walking one. The district win evens his mark at 4-4.

Ken Wassus hurled for Cherry Hill and took the loss, giving up only three hits, walking three and striking out seven.

CHERRY HILL struck first in the second inning. Dave Zafke drew a base on balls and scored on a two-bagger by Rick Yankee.

Glenn rebounded with two in the fourth stanza and that's all it needed. Hodgkins singled and Mike Borders and John Lee drew walks to fill the bases.

Roger Sanders then delivered his biggest hit of the season... a single to score Hodgkins and Lee and put Glenn in front to stay.

The Rockets stand 10-11 overall.

GC East Squeaks By Churchill

Garden City East squeaked past Livonia Churchill in a pre-district baseball contest, 1-0, and now meets Farmington in the district semifinal at Southfield High at 10 a.m. on Saturday.

The winner plays the winner of the Stevenson - Bentley game at 3 p.m. for the district title.

Ken Wood pitched his heart out for Churchill and gave up only two hits in the six innings with the lone tally coming in the opening stanza.

After two outs, Keith Anleithner drew a base on balls and Dennis Ray laced a double to bring in Anleithner with what proved to be the difference in the Garden City Park battle.

LARRY SAGE collected the other hit off Wood in the third inning with a one - bagger but was later cut down on the bases.

Dennis Ray hurled for East and chalked up his eighth win against two losses.

The East hurler walked one, struck out three and gave up six hits, with Al Leirstein banging out two singles.

Detroit Polo Club Opening

The Detroit Polo Club announces a 10 game home schedule for the 1972 season to be played at the club's new polo grounds located on Milford Road at Watkins Boulevard, three miles north of Milford.

Home games will be played on Sundays at 2 p.m. The opening game will be against Mahoning Valley Polo Club on June 4.

The club's new facilities include two watered polo fields, grandstands, and stabling for 30 horses.

4th No-Hitter

When Wayne State University freshman right - hander Greg Boos no - hit Spring Arbor (Mich.) College, 1-0, on May 1, it marked the fourth no-hitter by a Tartar pitcher in the last three seasons. It was also Boos' first college victory.

Groves' Girls Win NW Title

Birmingham Groves ran away with honors in the Northwest Suburban girls' conference track meet with 59 points.

Livonia Franklin finished second in both relays and ended up second with 52 points. John Glenn placed third at 42½ and Oak Park finished fourth with 36. Thurston mustered only one point with North Farmington showing a big goose egg.

Groves scored five firsts and four seconds enroute to the crown with two league records going by the wayside.

Franklin's Maureen Donahue crossed the 440 yard finish line in 1:03.1 and Oak Park's Jan Daba won the 880 run in 2:39.5.

Earlier in the week, Franklin crushed Glenn in a dual meet, 65½ to 34½. Gail Kopchia was a triple winner with firsts in the standing long jump, 80 yard hurdles and 100 yard dash.

Miss Kopchia has been invited to run in the Girls' National AAU in California in July. She qualified for the high school meet with a time of :10.9 in the 80 yard hurdles. A clocking of :10.8 stands as the state record.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

Wolverine Raceway gave it a good try Saturday but fell way short of the goal of a million dollar handle. As it was the track management saw wagering soar to the highest total of the season with $910,633 in the cash box at the end of the evening.

It was the third time of the meeting and the fourth time in two years Wolverine had bettered $900,000. The record for a single night was set a year ago, when Albatross, the wonder pacer, attracted more than 12,000 customers who wagered $924,444.

The $900,000 barrier has been cracked on three different Saturdays during the current meeting with totals of $902,000, $900,000 and now $910,633.

Now the countdown is three with that many Saturdays remaining of the 82-night campaign. Racing Secretary Ron Giehls hopes to have programs similar to that of Saturday on the next two weekends and would like to believe that the million hurdle will be cleared on one of the two Saturdays.

After that there will be the appearance of Albatross, for the Matron four year old pace, combined with the "Good Ol' Days" celebration on Friday, June 16, and Saturday, June 17 to achieve the goal. If it has happened before, there is an excellent change that the combination of Albatross and "Good Ol' Days" will turn the trick.

There was a thought that last Saturday would be the best chance but the crowd was only 11,587, almost 700 less than the Saturday of a week earlier, and the management knew early that it would never make a million.

THERE WAS a chance of setting a new single night record but that vanished when a late scratch in the 10th race cost almost $6,000 in the trifecta pool and took a horse out of the race.

Despite that, betting did reach a high for the year on a single race when the machines showed a total of $98,610 on the eighth race. That was the second highest in Wolverine history, short of the $118,708 wagered on the Albatross race last fall.

After 62 nights, Wolverine boasts an all-time high nightly average of $594,908. Business was excellent over the weekend with a total of $1,701,143 for Friday and Saturday and the handle for the week was $3,789,138. The average handle for the six nights was $631,520, the second highest in track history.

Incidentally, for the records, Wolverine beat the Hazel Park runners for the seventh straight Friday with a total of $780,510 compared to $729,000.

Of course the story was much different Monday (the holiday) where Hazel Park totaled $1,492,552 against Wolverine's $614,005.

Be that as it may, the 6,979 that attended the night races made up one of the largest Monday night audiences of the meeting.

MALCOLM Phillips, the slender Kalamazoo driver who was leading driver when he broke both wrists in a race accident, is back in action after almost two months on the sidelines.

Strange as it may sound, Phillips was leading the driver standing when injured and was still on top as late as last Friday. His 18 firsts, eight seconds and seven thirds in 65 starts gave him a .381 winning percentage and the 65 races kept him eligible for the championship.

But he'll have to go from here on in and there's plenty of competition from second place Tom Merriman (.347), Gerry Bookmyer (.325) and Chris Boring (.323).

NORTHVILLE Downs is going to have plenty of competition for top pacers and trotters during its summer meeting which opens on June 21.

Toledo will inaugurate its summer meeting Saturday and Windsor will open its first summer harness racing campaign on June 18 with a Sunday matinee. That means Windsor will probably be dark on the final two nights of the Wolverine meeting and then open on Wednesday to go head-and-head for all of the Northville dates.

A year ago, Northville was in the fortunate position of being able to keep the better horses because the owners didn't have any place to go during the 42 nights.

That is, no place to go if they expected to race at Wolverine when that meeting opened in early August. We know of no track that will open its barn area to stables it knows will only be around for a short time. Generally the management makes it clear...stay for the entire meeting or look elsewhere.

As we see it from this angle, Northville will be competing against Windsor for the best horses. The one that gets them will be the track that offers the largest purses.

We shall see what we shall see in another two weeks when owners and trainers will have to make up their minds.

THE SERIES of $5,000 Michigan colt stakes are being presented this week at Wolverine. Matter of fact, two were raced Monday night, one as a pre-program event and the other on the regular card.

Richard Oldfield's Gypsy Woman won the two year old filly trot in 2:09.4 with Oldfield in the sulky. Gypsy Woman was in the second spot until the top of the stretch when it shot past the leading Arbor Daisy to win by a length.

It was a different story in the three year old filly pace where Bobby Williams guided Knight Knox to a length victory over Maid of Knight in 2:01. Knight Knox also is owned by Oldfield.

The three year old race was a battle from the start between the victor and Maid of Knight. The latter wilted in the drive to the wire and just did hold off Shiaway Trudy for second.

It was one of the fastest duels of the year between the fillies and the quarters went in :30.1, 1:00.1, 1:30.3 and 2:01.

Plymouth Scores 'Cindergirl' Win Over AA Huron

The Plymouth girls captured nine firsts to blitz Ann Arbor Huron in a dual track meet, 73-36.

Sophomore Barb Smith paced Plymouth with wins in the 80 yard hurdles; 220 yard dash; running long jump, and the third leg of the winning 440 relay.

Plymouth shutout Ann Arbor in the 440 yard run, running long jump and high jump to score an easy 37 point victory.

Snapper For people who hate picking up after themselves.

It's not just luck that one of the largest grass catchers you can buy has our mower attached to it. When we designed the Snapper, we weren't trying to build a better mower, we were trying to build the best mower, and we did, right down to the grass catcher. The Snapper Comet has a big 6 bushel grass catcher attachment that unloads in seconds. The V-18 and V-21 have a large 3 bushel bag. Whichever one you choose they all pick up grass, leaves and twigs. Work less and enjoy it more!

June To Bloom At Meadow Brook Hall

Meadow Brook Hall on the Oakland University campus, Rochester, will burst with bloom... June 21-22, when district one of the Federated Garden Club of Michigan presents a "first ever" flower show

This extravaganza features an exhibition of 45 artistic designs on the main floor of the manor, a judged standard flower show with artistic, horticulture and educational exhibits in the entertainment hall, artistic exhibits in the second floor family bedrooms, and a tour of the great manor house and its surrounding gardens bedrooms, and a tour of the great manor house and its surrounding gardens

The rural and elegant atmosphere of the Matilda R Wilson estate is a perfect setting for this inclusive display of beauty which is open to the public, admission $1

The objective of this joint effort by the 55 garden clubs in district one is to provide monies for the scholarship fund of the Foundation of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan Mrs Charles J Pollock, of Orchard Lake, chairman, and her committee have expertly fashioned this magnificent floral occasion, "June Blooms at Meadow Brook Hall"

MEADOW BROOK Hall is the huge Tudor style manor house which was the home of the university's benefactors, late Mr and Mrs Alfred G Wilson, for 40 years At the present time the splendidly furnished home of 100 rooms is available for use as a daytime and resident center for professional and personal development

The hall is one of the most outstanding homes in America, a grand testimonial to the Wilson's attention to detail and the finest workmanship

The building, though fashioned in Tudor and Jacobean styels, was crafted by American artisans. The fireplaces and chimneys are monumental, the grand staircase and mantel carvings are refined grandiose in the manner of 17th century sculptor Grinling Gibbons and the ornate plaster ceiling in the Dining room is a gem.

The spacious rooms will be further enhanced by beautiful fresh floral artistic exhibits created for specific focal areas by outstanding and experienced arrangers. Designs of dried material created by committee members will also be on exhibit

The great hall, dining room and library with their dark oak paneling will have massive arrangements permeating a breath of June throughout the main floor. The family bedrooms on the second floor will feature artistic designs complementing the beauty of the handsome and intimate furnishings.

SOME OF the arrangements will incorporate elaborate containers which have permanent locations in the manor house. These containers were selected by Matilda R. Wilson from various countries. A specifically detailed and fully equipped flower arranging room was incorporated in the manor provide fresh flowers for the enjoyment of the Wilson family and their guests.

The exhibition placements are only part of this "first ever" show. It is unique in that it combines an exhibit and a judged standard flower show with a house and garden tour as one grand event.

The judged show will be displayed in the entertainment hall and game room. The show's artistic division consists of eight classes with four entries each, the titles suggesting exciting events which could be celebrated in a private home or at Meadow Brook Hall, such as "Garden Party," "Afterglow," "Debut."

The horticulture division will be staged in the fountain room and is open to members of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan for exhibiting specimens of show quality. The Herb Society will have a display in the entertainment kitchen.

Special educational exhibits, namely, conservation, world gardening, birds, and foundation, landscape design school, flower show school, people and their environment, sears environmental improvement program and garden therapy, will be located in the sun room.

The pleasure of becoming acquainted with new materials and media is always a challenge for today's women who wish to create for their own homes. "June Blooms at Meadow Brook Hall" is an opportunity to live and learn.

The hours are Wednesday, June 21 1-4 p.m., and Thursday, June 22, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Mrs. Fred Mueller of Detroit, director of district one, says, "We invite the public to visit this mangificent flower show presentation midst the grandeur of lovely Meadow Brook Hall."

ECLECTIC ROOM ARRANGEMENT is a marvelous mix of traditional and contemporary pieces with new plastic and rosewood color case television looking well against clinker brick fireplace and oak paneled wall Parson's design white plastic coffee table echoes the plastic case and pedestal of the color TV set Decorative accessories drawn from several cultures include a turn-of the century doll from India on the television and a ceramic horse from Mexico on the mantel The yellow, red and black print on the paneled wall is a contemporary graphic by America's Calder

Green Sound Barriers Reduce Noise Pollution

Ours has become a noisy society. Fast-moving traffic, sirens, super-sonic booms, industrial machinery and the noise of jet engines combine to produce a constant challenge to our tranquility. Even the "new sounds" in music-electronic guitars and the never-failing top volume-have become irritants to Americans' comfort.

The effects are seen in frayed tempers, restless nights, and that bugaboo of modern man, tension. Clearly, noise pollution is increasingly leading to physical and mental injury and illness.

Yet one of nature's greatest reaources offers help in alleviating this pandemonium, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. It is the simple, green leaf. Among its many other talents, a leaf has the ability to act as an acoustical baffle, defelcting sound waves, changing their direction, and reducing their intensity.

Highway planners are now aware of this talent of the leaf. They have learned that mass plantings of hedges, trees, shrubs, grass and vines can reduce the noise of heavy highway traffic

The noise level above wide expanses of concrete can be reduced as much as threefold if the concrete surface is broken up by plantings.

Buffer planting can also reduce noise adjacent to airports and industrial sites. And it can be incorporated into the landscape design of every home.

FTC Guides Curb Labels

Solid wood won some protection from imitation wood wall paneling under Federal Trade Commission guides which become effective Dec. 15.

FTC guides are intended to assure the consumer is informed accurately and adequately on what he is buying, and is not deceived by false or misleading labeling.

"Wood pattern" or "wood-grain finish," says the new guide, may not be used without qualification to describe panels which have been stamped, pressed or rolled to change the natural grain.

Strict labeling also applies to veneers.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

Home grown tomatoes: If your plants are tall and spindly at transplanting time, don't despair. Set the plants in deeper, covering the whole stem. Roots will form up and down the buried stem, and before long the plant will catch up with a husky plant.

Of course, if we had a choice between a stocky plant and a spindly one, we'd plant the former. Keep the newly set plants well watered. We like to see the vines trained to a wire fence since it produces cleaner fruit, less foliage disease and often a greater yield. Plants can be set three by two feet if trained on a fence.

By the way, ever try freezing your surplus tomatoes? Here's a new wrinkle on freezing your excess tomatoes this fall.

A reader writes: "I scald medium - sized tomatoes to remove the skins, then let them cool thoroughly. Next put them on wax paper on a cookie sheet and place in the freezer until frozen solid (overnight). Put in a plastic bag and return to the freezer.

You can use as many at a time as you like, and they will not be frozen together. It works on medium size or small tomatoes such as Pixie, or Small Fry, which are easily raised in apartments, on balconies or window sills.

GROW SUMMER squash: If you've never grown summer squash, then you've got a real treat in store. Modern summer squash hybrids take little space and produce bumper crops. You can sow four to five seeds per foot of row, or six to eight per cluster. If you sow seed in a group, be sure to thin them one foot apart in rows, or three plants per hill.

About the only care squash need is a little dusting with rotenone or Sevin to check the cucumber beetles and squash borers.

Note: Be sure to pick the fruit while young and tender, from just after the blossom drops until six or eight inches long. Keep all fruit picked so the vines continue to produce for a long time.

FREE: Send me a self - addressed, stamped envelope for my bulletin, "How to Grow Squash." It also contains some wonderful recipes for using this great vegetable.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC: "Our poinsettia is quite tall and we would like to start new plants. Can it be cut back?"

Answer: Yes, cut the tops back about half or more. Make four inch cuttings from the tops and root them in small pots or boxes of moist vermiculite, sand, or perlite. A clay pot filled with one of these materials makes a fine propagating "bench" for starting most house plants, including geraniums, violets, poinsettias, etc.

Plan A Rest Area To View Your Labors

In landscaping a yard, complement flower beds and other plantings with a restful area from which the finished scene may be enjoyed.

Benches built into a corner privacy screen of 1x3-inch western cedar on 4x4-inch posts offer a quiet retreat and a place to chat with visitors.

A combination garden house can provide storage for mower, other equipment as well as a covered area for a brunch table and chairs.

More Space, More Tomatoes

"The next time you consider staking tomatoes, think about the possibility of having fruit that is smaller and scalded," says Gerald E. Draheim, Wayne County extension horticultural agent.

Many urban gardeners stake tomatoes because they want to get more plants per square foot. Although the practice does save space, Draheim points out that some problems may arise.

Staked tomatoes lose their bottom foilage and sometimes the foliage around the fruit. This could result in scalded or "sunburned" fruit.

"Research has proved that unstaked tomato plants will supply as much as 10 pounds more fruit per plant than staked plants," says Draheim.

Pergola Accents Entry Area

Designing the exterior entrance for a home always has been a challenging job, today made the more interesting – and difficult – by modern emphasis on auto travel.

Where once an attractive footpath winding through the center of the front yard was both appropriate and sufficient, the arrival of guests by car has made that arrangement all but obsolete.

A practical approach adopted by many families combines the entry walk with offstreet parking for guests. Usually the parking area is at one side of the house with the walk running through or alongside the car area, then in a line parallel to the house.

The plan has merit, not only because it recognizes that foot traffic begins where auto traffic ends, but also because it doesn't demand a traditional handling of front yard landscaping.

Perhaps the plan's only problems are those of pinpointing the entry walk for the benefit of those who don't arrive by car and of retaining its important role as an entrance to the house.

MANY solutions are possible, however. For one family, it was to build a small pergola at the corner where the walk turns from the driveway toward the house. Charming – even whimsicial – the pergola is a just-right accent for the entry area.

Its construction was post-and-beam, using, for effect, larger wood members than were necessary for structural purposes. Yet its appearance is light and small-scaled.

Barely more than eight feet square, not counting roof projections, the pitched-roof pergola has six 4x6-inch posts set in two rows of three posts each.

The rows are just four feet apart and the three posts per row are spaced about two feet apart.

Connecting pairs of posts across the four-foot width are 2x6s, nailed in pairs that clasp the posts. Resting on the crossbeams and clasping rows of posts lengthwise are beams made of a 2x8 and a 2x6. The 2x8 is nailed to the inside of the rows of posts, and the 2x6 to the outside.

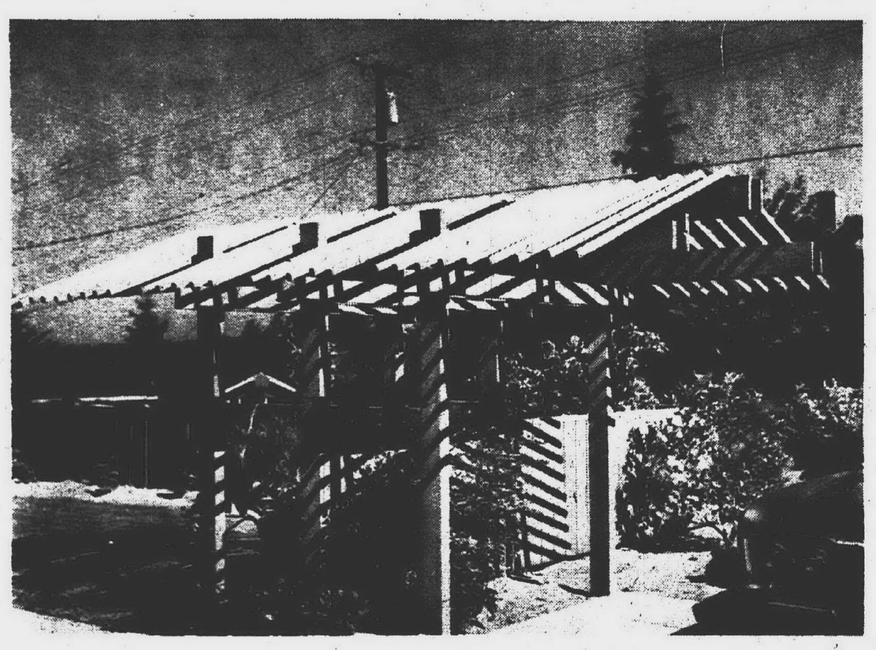
For a ridgebeam, a pair of 2x8s was used. Appearing suspended in thin air, the 2x8s actually are nailed on either side of and supported by two-foot-long pieces of 4x6 which, in turn, are nailed between the three pairs of crossbeams.

THE PERGOLA is roofed with 1x2s on edge. Laid like closely spaced rafters, with ends projecting to form "eaves," the 1x2s cast eye-delighting shadow patterns that change through the day with the changing direction of sunlight.

The pergola straddles one end of a screen that outlines the parking area and swings around at the street side to enclose the front yard.

Plantings of nandina, rhododendron and viburnum davidii are grouped along the screen and under the pergola.

Compatible shrubs are used as foundation plantings in te border between house wall and front walk, while, on the pergola's side, lawn joins paved walk in a clean line.



PERGOLA POINTS to entry walk. Fenced front yard needed a gateway to point out the entrance walk, adjoining driveway, and this pergola does the job. Simple structure uses Douglas fir 4x6 posts, 2x6 and 2x8-inch beams and 1x2s on edge for "rafters." Shade-loving plants thrive under pergola's shelter.

Bulletin Available On Pest Control

EAST LANSING

Each spring homeowners are "bugged" by insect pests attacking trees and shrubs. Controlling these pests often becomes a baffling task for the amateur gardener.

According to entomologists at Michigan State University, effective pest control is based on proper application of the appropriate chemical at the correct time. Although no one chemical will adequately control all pests, a combination of several applied periodically can provide an all-purpose spray and relieve some of the homeowner's headaches.

A mixture of sevin, malathion, and kelthane, applied on a regular schedule and in accordance with the label directions, provides general plant protection.

However, warn the specialists, all-purpose sprays are generally more expensive and will not control all insects. Certain pests will require special treatment.

For information on specific chemicals and their rates of application, see your local county extension agent or write to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State University, P.O. Box 231, East Lansing, Mich. 48823. Ask for EB-534, "Controlling Pests of Trees and Shrubs."

Shortage Feared

A potential raw material shortage facing forest-based industries stems from the fact that two-thirds of timberlands are poorly managed, asserts the Western Wood Products Association.

To meet U.S. needs, industry is providing 2½ times as much wood per acre from its own lands as do big federal and small private owners-and the difference lies mainly in forest management or lack of it, says the largest lumber organization.

Declining federal timber sales (by two billion board feet on national forests in two years) are bound to affect building materials in the future, WWPA warns.

Gardening Has Its Dangers

"Gardening can be most enjoyable and free of injury if you work at it the right way," advises Dr. W. C. Jenkins, medical director of an insurance company.

"But if you're an office worker and then turn to a full day of hard manual labor on a weekend, you could transplant yourself into the sick bay," Jenkins points out. "Instead, take it slow and easy during your gardening sessions, and don't overdo it."

Cuts, scratches and bruises, the inescapable fate of most gardeners, should not be ignored, warns Jenkins. Since tetanus is present in soil, a booster shot of tetanus toxoid may be called for if you have not kept your immunization record up to date.

"Check with your doctor," he advises.

"TO PREVENT blisters, it's wise to wear gloves when digging or pruning shrubs or trees. Wear a hat and glasses to prevent eye injury."

All power tools should be handled with respect. Safety instructions usually accompany power tools and should be read and followed carefully. Youngsters should not be allowed to operate them.

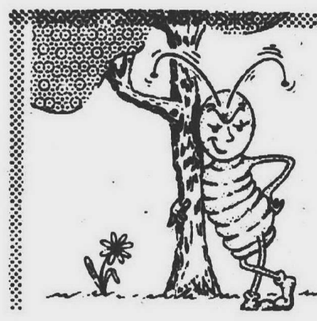
Misuse and improper storage of pesticides can lead to serious accidents, the medical director warns. "Carefully read the instructions on all pesticide packages, follow their safety instructions and always keep them away from children."

He also cautions gardeners to keep an eye open for poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac. "Look for the three leaf sprigs that make poison ivy and poison oak. If you're unsure, consult a botany handbook or garden encyclopedia.

"You can remove poison ivy from your yard by digging it out, roots and all, being careful not to touch it. If you are unlucky enough to get a poison ivy rash, your doctor can suggest medications to ease the itching and discomfort while healing progresses."

Avoid Blindness

Fifty percent of all blindness is preventable, according to the Detroit Society for the Prevention of Blindness, a Torch Drive service. An eye examination every two years and good eye safety standards are the best insurance against blindness.



Pest Of The Week

Sycamore Anthracnose, a fungus leaf and twig disease, is severe this year due to low temperatures (55 degrees F and below) at the time of bud initiation. Leaves wilt, often causing the complete loss of the first set of leaves. Twigs and small branches will be killed back and small cankers will appear at the base of the twigs. Powdery mildew is often associated with the anthracnose in early summer.

When leaves are fully developed another phase of the disease appears, causing triangular brown areas in the leaves which eventually cause browning and death of the entire leaf. Infected leaves fall throughout the summer.

CONTROL: Spray as leaf buds swell in the spring of the year with two tablespoons per gallon of Benlate 50 per cent W.P. Although sprays should have started just as the leaf buds begin to swell, one spray at this time will be beneficial in reduction of leaf loss during the rest of the year.

Little Summer Bulbs Lend Exotic Touch

By BETTY FRANKEL
Special Writer

Are you looking for something different to grow in your garden? Why not try ismenes, montbretias, achimenes or kniphofias? They certainly sound unusual-and they are.

They are known as summer bulbs and are tropical plants that produce their blooms in our gardens from bulbs that are planted after warm weather has arrived. Because they are tender the bulbs are lifted in fall and stored indoors during the winter.

Better known summer bulbs are gladiolus, dahlias and tuberous begonias. Others include calla lilies, canna and fancy leaved caladium.

The summer bulbs -- either the well - known ones or the unusual exotics -- are easy to grow and give great results for very little effort

Gladioli require no special care but need a sunny spot. Everyone knows their long spikes of ruffled blooms. There is a wide array of colors so you can choose shades that compliment your indoor decor. They make excellent cut flowers.

DAHLIAS are among the most spectacular flowers. There are dwarf kinds with flowers a couple of inches in diameter on plants a foot high, and there are kinds that grow as tall as a man and have blooms as large as a dinner plate.

There is a gorgeous array of colors and a variety of flower forms including singles, quilled, ruffled and pompons. Dahlias have attractive dark, glossy leaves. Plant them in full sun and plan to stake the tall kinds.

Tuberous begonias have exotic blooms in tropical shades of coral, scarlet or yellow. The plants, which are less than a foot high, can be grown in garden beds, in planter boxes, or in pots. Hanging baskets are ideal because the blossoms tend to droop. Partial shade is required, but in too heavy shade the plants become spindly and bloom is aparse.

ISMENES, known also as Peruvian daffodils, have broad strap-like, light green leaves. The large funnel-shaped white flowers are borne at the top of 18 inches tall, stout leafless stems. They have a sweet, pleasant fragrance. Isemes can be grown in pots, but they are especially striking against dark evergreen foliage. Full sun is needed.

Kniphofia is also called tritoma or red-hot poker. The spikes of brilliant red and yellow flowers are very striking and are often used by florists. The dwarf types are about 18 inches tall. Others are three to four feet.

Achimenes are quite different, being small and delicate. They are relatives of the African violets, and need a semi-shady situation with protection from the mid-day sun. Good drainage is essential. The dainty tubular flowers are pale pink, violet, purple, or scarlet and bloom for a very long period of time. Achimenes can be planted in garden beds, but are most delightful in window boxes, patio pots or in hanging baskets.

MONTBRETIAS are among the most beautiful and decorative of the summer bulbs. The scarlet, orange, yellow or salmon flowers are produced on graceful spikes two to four feet long. They are like miniature gladioli and make excellent cut flowers. They need full sun and lots of moisture.

Cannas were a great favorite in Victorian times. Every park had a bed of canna. They are experiencing a new popularity because new kinds have been developed. The older ones were about five feet high and had either blazing red or bright yellow flowers.

Select Proper Spray Equipment

EAST LANSING

Selecting the proper spray equipment is an important step in effective insect control, say entomologists at Michigan State University.

"If you don't have the proper application equipment, you're licked before you get started, and it doesn't really make any difference how good the insecticide is," says one of MSU's lawn and garden specialists.

Before buying equipment, keep in mind the size of the job, kind of performance desired, kinds and amounts of insecticides to use, amount of water needed per spraying, size of plants to be treated, and amount of money you want to "shell out," advise the specialists.

They offer the following information on certain kinds of spray equipment available today:

HOSE - END sprayers are small and are attached on the end of a garden hose. The spray container varies in size from one-half pint to one quart and usually delivers one to 15 gallons of finished spray. Material is drawn from the jar and mixed with hose water as it flows out of the nozzle.

A hose-end sprayer is a good piece of equipment which requires no backbreaking pumping. However, it may plug with wettable powder formulations and result in contamination of the end of the hose.

COMPRESSED air sprayers are metal tanks with one to three gallon capacities. Air is pumped inside the tank with a plunger, and spray is delivered through an attached nose and nozzle.

This is a good kind of sprayer which can apply the chemical to both the top and bottom of the leaves, but requires pumping.

HERE'S THE NEW exterior of Farmington Lumber Co.

FARMINGTON LUMBER Co. -- before remodeling.

Farmington Lumber Remodels

Farmington Lumber Co., one of the oldest firms of its kind in the area, has a new appearance after a remodeling of its exterior at 32800 Grand River.

Inside, new display islands and merchandising improvements have been added, and owner Conrad Sullivan says the firm will handle a wider range of materials and services. No remodeling cost was revealed.

The firm was founded in 1914 by Amos Otis, of an old Farmington family, and incorporated in 1915. Its original name was Farmington Lumber and Coal Co.

At one time, the old-Inter-Urban Railroad used its premises to turn around for the trip back to Detroit.

A branch yard was opened in 1949 in Novi but was sold in 1963. Otis sold the company in the late 1930s to a group of investors who made it part of a chain of lumber companies, and Sullivan purchased their interest in 1969.

Oakland Dems Pick Drive Chairman

The appointment of Kerry Kenneth Kammer of Pontiac to head the Oakland County Democratic Party's 1972 state membership campaign has been announced by county chairman Morley A. Winograd of Troy.

While at Wayne State University, Kammer chaired Students for a New Congress and established other chapters at major universities in the state.

Following graduation, Kammer became campaign manager for the late August Scholle during his 1970 campaign for Congress in the 18th District.

LRTG Offers 3 Workshops

The Theater Guild of Livonia-Redford will again offer a summer workshop for beginning and advanced actors.

Jim Wotring will teach the classes in the guild's playhouse at Five Mile and Beech Daly, Redford Township.

Beginner sessions will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., beginning June 17 and continuing for the following three Saturdays.

A minimum of 12 persons is required for this workshop which is open to children between the ages of 10 and 15.

The advanced course, for those 16 and over will be held Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 10:30 beginning June 15.

The cost of either workshop is $16 for the four sessions.

The guild is also offering a make-up workshop for persons over 15. It will meet Saturday afternoons, June 17 and 24, from 1:30 to 3:30. The cost is $8 which includes supplies.

Registrations should be mailed to Mrs. Terry Borovik, 16200 Westbrook Drive, Livonia, 48154, before June 10. A deposit of half the workshop fee should be enclosed. The rest should be paid at the first session. Registrants should include their name, street, city, phone number, age and class desired.

Wotring has his MA in theater and film from UCLA. A popular LRTG director, he does at least one show for the guild each year. He operates his own movie production company.

Mercy Sets Arts Program For Kids

DETROIT

An unusual program combining the performing and graphic arts will be offered to children this summer at Mercy College of Detroit, 8200 W. Outer Drive. It will be open to those between the ages of eight and 13.

Monday through Friday sessions will be held from 12:30 to 2:45 p.m. during the five-week period beginning Monday, June 26, and ending Friday, July 28. The class size is limited and applications must be submitted to the college before June 15.

The directors include Sister Gertrude McSorely, teacher of children's drama; James Foote, associate professor of speech and drama; and Phyllis A. Noda, lecturer in art education.

The program will seek to integrate the fundamentals of dramatic expression such as dynamic movement and vocal expression with the graphic arts.

Film-making will be an important part of the program.

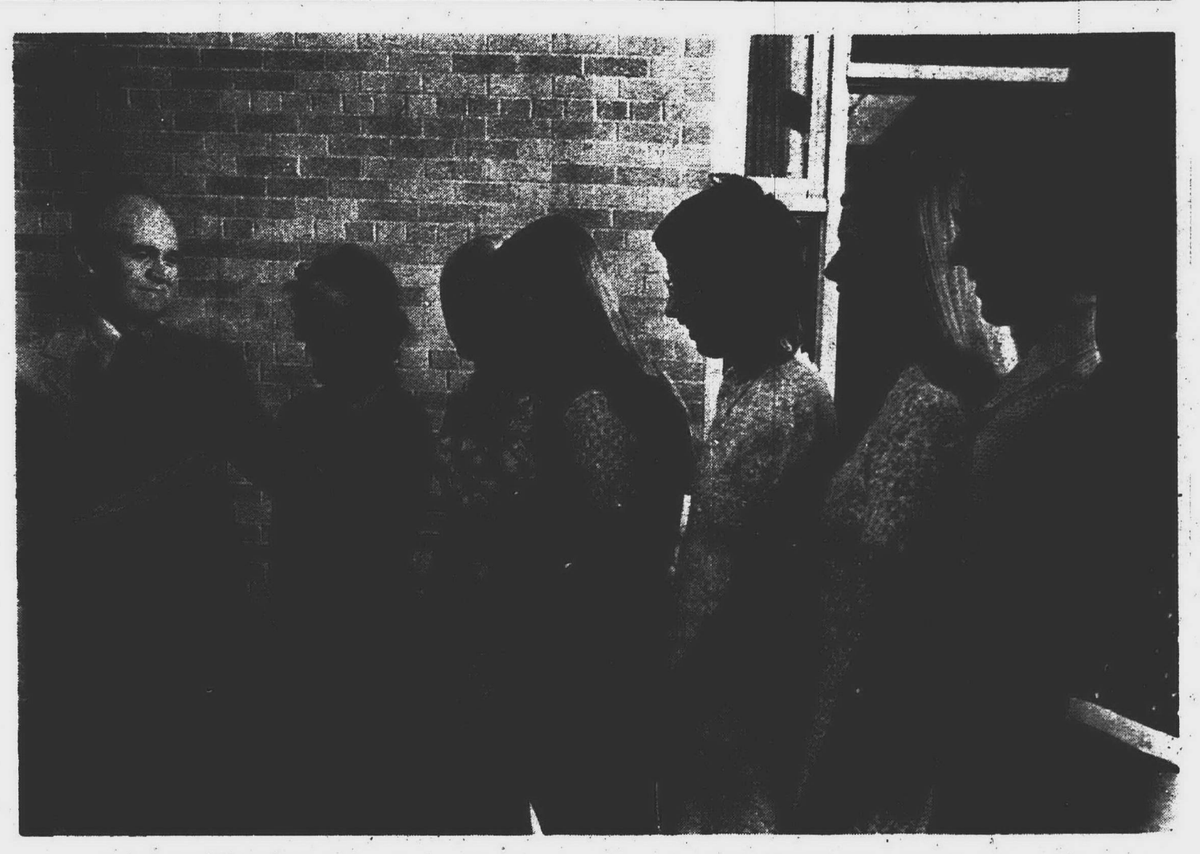
Festival To Run 10 Days

The second annual Michigan Art Festival will be held at Oakland Mall, Thursday, June 15-Sunday, June 25. The event is open to all artists in the area.

Judging will take place Friday, June 17, and awards will be presented at 8 p.m. the same evening. The public is invited to watch.

In addition to the paintings there will be exhibits and demonstrations by sculptors and craftsmen--wood carvers, glass blowers, caricaturists, portrait artists and potters.

Oakland Mall is located at I-75 at 14 Mile. Exhibit hours are daily from 9:30 a.m.-9 p.m. and Sundays noon - 5 p.m.



THE PLYMOUTH Symphony Society awarded seven scholarships at its annual meeting. Wayne Dunlap, the conductor, hands checks to (from left) Libby Glover, Gabriele Klassen, Laura Jender, Gail Murphy, Janis Shier, Kathy Stein and Liz Moehle. Miss Shier received the $100 Russell Isbister award, the others receiving awards of $50 or $75. A special scholarship for $75 went to William J. Ryan of Livonia as outstanding music student from Schoolcraft College. (Photo by Ken Garner)

Will-O-Way Schedules Workshop

BLOOMFIELD HILLS

A theater workshop will be offered from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m., Sunday, June 4, in Will-O-Way Theater, 775 W. Long Lake Road.

Classes are limited and registration by phone is advised. The program is planned for teens and under-teens and will focus on new theater techniques.

These include theater games using the Grotowski method of exploring space and environment and the use of responsive theater. The latter allows the audience to participate by giving directions and suggesting situations to the actors and even by joining in. The concept was devised by David Shepherd who trained such famed actors as Mike Nichols, Elaine May, Barbara Harris and Shelley Berman.

The program will also allow self-evaluation through use of closed circuit TV. Students may see themselves in instant replays so they may determine the good points and the flaws in their movements and speech.

The workshop will be led by Celia Merrill Turner, director of Will-O-Way.

Cost of the course is $10.

Water Colors

BIRMINGHAM

Noted watercolorist Mary Jane Bigler will have a one-man show of her work painted during travels in Europe in 1970 in the Little Gallery, 915 E. Maple. The show will run June 4-July 1. The opening day reception will run from 4 to 7 p.m.

NORTHLAND THEATER manager Eugene Grew (right) congratulates Mr. and Mrs. Al Fliger of Oak Park whose attendance at a recent performance of "Fiddler on the Roof" broke the all-time house record for reserved seat features. With the Fligers is their daughter, Andrea. The new record is 307,649 people in 356 performances. Previous record-holders were "Funny Girl" and "Thoroughly Modern Millie." The Fligers received a refund and a dinner out as mementos of the occasion.

BAA Meeting Set For Friday

BIRMINGHAM

The Sounds of Peace, a seven-member folk music group, will play at the annual meeting of the Bloomfield Art Association on Friday, June 2.

The meeting will be preceded by a picnic for BAA members at 6:30 p.m., at the BAA, 1516 S. Cranbrook Road.

COMMENTARY

Writer-Lover Woody Gets Aid From A Ghost

By WYLIE GERDES

Is Woody Allen Charlie Chaplin's premature reincarnation?

Not quite, if Allen's new movie "Play It Again, Sam" is his best.

Woody plays himself as a writer for a film magazine who receives assistance from a ghostly Humphrey Bogart. Assistance with what? With Woody Allen, what else but his neurotic sex life.

Allen wrote both the play, which ran on Broadway, and the screenplay. It concerns his efforts to find a woman after his wife leaves him. Woody finally falls for the wife of his best friend.

THROUGH IT all, the forced early portions and the funny later scenes, Woody maintains a certain amount of class. He seems to be aloof from the movie swirling about him. He holds it together just by being himself.

And the movie needs a lot of holding together. It's full of sight gags, which are great when they hit but add nothing to the movie when they fail.

The last scene from the Humphrey Bogart-Ingrid Bergman classic "Casablanca" is the first scene of "Play It Again, Sam" (also a line from Casablanca). Allen seems to have constructed the movie to allow his characters to repeat the "Casablanca" scene.

The first and last scenes of the movie are very nice. In between, Woody is great interacting with the other characters and so-so when holding the screen by himself.

The scenes in which Bogart appears to counsel Woody, and the other dream sequences in the movie, are the best part of the film.

JERRY LACY, who you may have seen playing Bogart in television commercials, slips in and out of the film very effectively. Lacy's advice to Woody is the gist of Bogart: "I never met one (dame) who didn't understand a slap in the mouth or a slug from a .45."

"Play It Again, Sam" is a spotty movie overall. Woody Allen or Bogart freaks won't notice, though, if one can judge from reactions.

The opening scene, which has Woody watching the ending of "Casablanca" brought the loudest applause. The crowd also went bananas over some of Woody's sight gags.

College Group Plans Concert

Lost and Found, a singing group from Anderson College, will present a sacred concert in the Riverside Park Church of God, 11771 Newburgh Road, at Plymouth Road, Livonia, at 7:30 p.m., Friday, June 2.

The group is composed of nine students from the college which is located in Anderson, Ind. It is basically an instrumental and vocal ensemble. The concert is open to the public.

MARLENE BACKUS of Plymouth will display her latest ceramic and macrame ware at the third annual art show sponsored by Gallerie 12. The show opens with an outdoor exhibit from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m., Saturday, June 3, in the Plymouth Community Credit Union, 500 S. Harvey, Plymouth. It will continue in Gallerie 12, 831 Penniman, Plymouth, through June 17.

EMU Sets 2 Music Workshops

YPSILANTI

Two high school music workshops are scheduled to run concurrently at Eastern Michigan University from June 18-30.

A choral arts workshop and a piano, organ and harpsichord workshop will stress instruction in a major and a minor performance area.

Students will register for one workshop but will be encouraged to elect optional study in another.

The fee for the workshops is $115. This covers room, board and tuition. Day students will pay $50. Registrations are being accepted by the Conference Coordinator, Division of Field Services, Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, 48197.

Guild Presents 'King And I'

BLOOMFIELD HILLS

"The King and I" will be presented by St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook, Inc., June 1-3 and 8-9 in the outdoor Greek Theater of the Cranbrook school grounds, Lone Pine Road.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Tickets are available at Grinnell's or by calling the guild. They are $3 for adults and $1.50 for students.

10th Year

DETROIT

The 400-members volunteer committee of the Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts will celebrate its 10th anniversary at an annual meeting and luncheon Thursday, June 1, in the museum's North Court.

In 'Painting'

Dennis Visca of Livonia has been cast in one of three plays to be presented at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, this spring.

The three student-directed plays will be seen on the arena stage of the Shaw Theater June 7-10.

APPEARING IN the Jewish Community Center's production of "Come Blow Your Horn" are (left) Sally Ann Kjellberg of Garden City; Autumn Buss of Farmington; and Carol Rosenblum of Southfield. The Neil Simon comedy will be presented June 3, 4, 7, 8, 10 and 11 at the center, 18100 Meyers, Detroit.

JCC Play To Run 6 Nights

Carol Rosenblum of Southfield, Autumn Buss of Farmington and Sally Ann Kjellberg of Garden City will star in the Center Theater's production of "Come Blow Your Horn" to be presented three weekends beginning Saturday, June 3.

The play will be staged in the Jewish Community Center, 18100 Meyers, Detroit, and tickets are now on sale there. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m, Saturdays, and 7:30 p.m., Sundays. Reduced rates are available for theater parties.

Miss Rosenblum last appeared at the center in "The Odd Couple." She spent five years with the Once Upon a Time Theater in Dayton, Ohio, and has also performed with the center's Young Actors Guild and the Southfield Players.

Mrs. Buss is making her Center Theater debut. She helped found the COOS Players and starred in and directed several of their productions.

Miss Kjellberg has been active with the Bay City Players and the Dearborn Civic Players, most recently appearing in "Most Happy Fella."

"Come Blow Your Horn" is a Neil Simon comedy based on the generation gap.

Dondero Unit To Stage Play

ROYAL OAK

The Dondero Independent Players will present the dramatic trilogy, "America Hurrah," by Jean-Claude van Itallie at 8 p.m. June 3, in Royal Oak Baptist Church, Main Street, north of 11 Mile. Admission will be $1.

The players' group is made up of juniors and seniors at Donero High School, under the guidance of their advanced drama teacher, Harriette Levi. However, the group is not school-affiliated. It is self-supporting and independent.

'Protest' Is Theme

"Protest and Hope," an exhibition which displays artists' reactions to political, social and economic crises, will be on view at the Dunning Hough Library from June 2 through 15.

The exhibition is sponsored locally by the Plymouth Community Arts Council in cooperation with the Michigan Council for the Arts.

"Protest and Hope," prepared by the school exhibition service of the Metropolitan Museum of Arts in New York, deals with a number of artists from different countries and times who have all made visual statements against the violence done to man's mind and body by the powers of other men.

In times of injustice, upheaval and violence, artists have made singularly powerful statements of protest. Implied within each expression of protest is the hope for reason, peace and tranquility.

Eighteen works of art are reproduced, both graphics and paintings, many in color. Commentary on the panels will be available from the librarian. The library is located at Main and Church Streets in Plymouth.

BAA Is Offering 2-Week Sessions

BIRMINGHAM — Two-week sessions for children's classes will be the new summer format for the Bloomfield Art Association art education schedule. The BAA is located at 1516 S. Cranbrook.

In an effort to meet the needs of all children and young people in the area, three two-week sessions, beginning June 19, will be offered. Beginning, intermediate and advanced instruction will be given in each session to allow students who take more than one session to progress at their own speed.

"FORMS AND Functions" for grades one and two will be taught by Barbara Harrison, specialist in elementary art education.

Professional artist Rosemary Stickel is the instructor for "Discovering Materials and Meanings" for grades three through five. These classes introduce students to various concepts and media and allow them to progress according to their ability.

"Beginning Pottery" for grades three through five and an intermediate class for grades six through eight is offered in all sessions under the direction of Harris Deller of Cranbrook.

Ceramic techniques involving instruction on the use of the potter's wheel and firing and glazing methods including the recently revived raku firing is offered for senior high school students.

Drawing and painting fundamentals for grades six through eight will include landscape drawing out-of-doors as well as still life and other techniques.

'Charley's Aunt' To Aid Research

ANN ARBOR — "Charley's Aunt," the frothy comedy first seen in 1892, will be performed nightly June 7-10 in Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre to benefit medical research at the University of Michigan.

All proceeds will be given to the Simpson Institute for Medical Research in the U-M Medical Center. The performances were suggested and will be produced by U-M graduate student Robert C. Chapel whose wife, Judith Z. Chapel, 25, died Jan. 30 at University Hospital.

Chapel also will play the lead role, Lord Fancourt Babberly, a young Oxford student who poses as Charley's aunt. The play will be produced under the auspices of the University Players Guild.

MANY U-M theatre students and Professional Theatre Program fellows have joined the project as actors and stage technicians. In addition, Ann Arbor residents active in Ann Arbor Civic Theatre and the Gilbert and Sullivan Society have joined the production.

Chapel is the business manager of players and teaches a course in acting for television and theater in the U-M department of speech communication and theatre. He is scheduled to direct one of the four plays in the department's repertory program later in the summer.

Hospitals Bucking HEW Charity Plan

By W .W. EDGAR

The three major hospitals in Observerland-- St. Mary of Livonia, Botsford Osteopathic of Farmington, and Garden City Osteopathic-- have joined with other members of the Michigan Hospital Assn. in vigorous opposition to a proposed federal regulation requiring a minimum level of service for persons unable to pay.

The proposal, made by the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, calls for each hospital to set aside a minimum of five per cent of its gross income to cover the cost of services to the poor and indignet.

LOUDEST IN the local protest was Sister Mary Calasantia, executive director of St. Mary, who voiced her agreement with the state association that there is no such thing as "free" care in any hospital.

"Somebody has to pay for this type of service," she stated, "There was a time when there were such things as endowments, availability of funds from various foundations and special gifts. But those days are gone.

"This new proposal asks that we take a minimum of five per cent of our income. That means, with the absence of outside help, we will have to pass along the cost to the patients. It means a raising of our room rates and a boost in cost of all other services. And that isn't fair."

SEYMOUR CANTOR, director of Botsford Hospital, whole-heartedly agreed with Sister Calasantia that the idea was wrong, even though the philosophy was right.

"More than 80 per cent of our revenue is based on our costs and comes from such programs as Medicare and Medicaid. "I don't know if we can accept the added burden of a minimum of five per cent of our gross if the proposal is approved," Cantor said.

"We have no objection with the philosophy. A reasonsable amount charity service has been offered traditionally by many community hospitals, but the amount differs in every community. So, placing a fixed minimum is wrong."

Cantor said the best way to handle the charity proposal, if approved would be, to invite the public served by the hospital to special meetings and explain the program.

"Don't forget," he said, "the present wage and price freeze has had an effect on all hospitals. To retain our employes we have to keep pace with industry, and out costs naturally increased. Like any other business, this reduces the possiblity of building up funds from which charity patients could be served."

ALLAN BREAKIE, executive director of Garden City Osteopathic, joined in the protest: "I don't see how we can go along with the proposal."

Because hospitals are called upon by such agencies as Medicare and Medicaid for service at bare cost, they are left little room for any further charitable tendencies.

"We are in constant competition with industry," he said," to maintain our employes. In view of rising costs, I don't see how we can accept the five per cent minimum proposal.

IRONICALLY, each of the three Observerland hospitals is in the midst of an expansion program which, when completed, will make the charity requirement even greater.

"We will have 370 beds," Sister Mary Calasantia explained. Under this five per cent proposal St. Mary would have to have 20 'charity' beds."

Then she asked: "Who is going to pay for them? 'Who is going to select the patients and determine their inability to pay?"

"How would a patient qualify?"

Pointing out that most patients have Medicare, Medicaid or some form of insurance, she said it would be rather difficult to determine just which patients do not have the ability to pay.

"ST. MARY IS a non-profit hospital and, our books are watched and audited very carefully. We must make complete reports at various stages of the year. And we are running very close to balancing income with expenses. So I don't know where the money would come from under the new proposal."

Outside of another government program for such funding, she pointed out that the money can come from only one source-- the other private pay patients.

"And don't forget," she emphasized, "This would be at a time when the income of these patients already has been interrupted and when they can least afford any other financial burden."

In stating its protest the Michigan Hospital Association called attention to the dramatic increase in the per patient day cost at many hospitals.

"Thus, at the very time when the economic stabilization program seeks to contain costs, hospital costs would be increased in an amount necessitating many appeals for exemptions from price control regulations.

The state association cited the proposed five per cent minimum "an inappropriate invasion of hospitals' right to mange their affairs that seriously jeopardizes the ability of the hospitals to meet their total community responsibilities."

On this point, the three Observerland hospitals heartily agree.

SC Legal Counsel Is OK'd

The Schoolcraft Community College Board of Trustees resisted a little before renewing the appointment of the college's legal counsel for employe relations.

The firm of Butzel, Long, Gust, Klein and VanZile was reappointed legal counsel for employe relations beginning July 1, but the board tabled action on reappointing Ernst & Ernst as auditors.

In both cases, the trustees argued that they should employ local people if possible.

With arbitration cases still pending and contract negotiations currently going on, the board decided to renew the legal firm's contract.

Robert Battista has handled the college's cases for two years. The trustees will consider hiring a local firm next year.

The contract for the auditors would be for the 1972-73 school year, but trustees decided to delay action until the administration could report on the availability of a local firm at the September meeting.

SC Hearing Set On Budget

A public hearing on the proposed 1972-73 Schoolcraft Community College budget will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, June 28, in the Administration Building.

The hearing will be prior to the regular meeting of the board of trustees in the board conference room. College business officials will be present to explain the budget projections.

College's Name Is Official

The Northwest Wayne County Community College District will be officially known as Schoolcraft Community College.

The college, located on Haggerty between Six and Seven Mile Rds. in Livonia, has been popularly known as Schoolcraft since the first board of trustees named it after Henry R. Schoolcraft, a geologist.

In order to avoid confusion, the current administration and trustees sought to have the official name changed. Approval for the change was unanimously given by the State Board of Education and the State Board for Public Community and Junior Colleges.

Watching Big Ships Is Best In Michigan

Like to watch the big ships go by, sometimes as if in a parade?

Michigan offers the best opportunity to do this of any state bordering the Great Lakes.

Generally, the Soo Locks at Sault Ste. Marie, which have 15-foot-high observation platforms; the Lake Huron shoreline, the St. Clair River and the Detroit River offer the best opportunities for closeup views of passing ships.

A MULTITUDE of different types of vessels pass through the Soo Locks in a year, varying in size from small pleasure craft to giant ships. The latter include auto carriers, bulk carriers, cement, package freighters, self-unloaders, tankers and combination passenger and cargo vessels.

Since the St. Lawrence Seaway opened in 1959, there has been an added bonus for boat watchers – a fairly constant parade of foreign ships going to and from Great Lakes ports.

South of Sault Ste. Marie, the Little Rapids Cut, opposite Sugar Island, is an excellent place to watch. A lookout point near St. Ignace, just west of the approachway to the Big Mac Bridge is another.

Other good spots in the Upper Peninsula include Escanaba and in the northern portion of the peninsula, Whitefish Point, Eagle Harbor, Great Sand Bay and Marquette Harbor, one of Michigan's busiest.

An additional treat is the Stewart J. Cort, Bethlehem Steel Corp.'s new giant of Great Lakes shipping lanes which just went into service in May. The Cort is 1,000 feet long and capable of carrying a cargo of 58,300 gross tons of iron pellets.

IN THE LOWER Peninsula, Mackinaw City offers good vantage points for ships going to and from Lake Michigan ports.

South along the Lake Huron shoreline, near Rogers City, is the world's largest limestone quarry. At Harbor View and Quarry View, there are excellent vantage sites for watching quarry operations and see vessels enter and leave the harbor, one of the busiest ports on the lakes.

Port Huron, where the big ships maneuver to enter the St. Clair River, is one of the best viewing areas. A park in the vicinity of the Blue Water Bridge is excellent. The ships remain close to shore past St. Clair, Marine City and Algonac and until they head across Lake St. Clair.

When they near Detroit, Belle Isle with its Dossin Great Lakes Museum is among several good points in the Motor City. Others include the Cobo Hall area, a park at the foot of West Grand Boulevard, and parks in Ecorse and Wyandotte, south of Detroit. The Bob-Lo boats also offer good viewing.

If you'd like to do boat watching from a high elevation, the Blue Water Bridge at Port Huron permits pedestrians to do this without charge.

The western Michigan shoreline presents fewer opportunities for boat watching, since most of the ship parade takes place too far out in Lake Michigan for viewing.

IT TAKES STUDY and practice to recognize the Great Lakes fleet ships by their stacks, but the average boat watcher might keep this cargo movement in mind:

Iron ore traffic goes one way – ore mined from the rich range of Minnesota moves by rail to the loading docks on Lake Superior, thence by ship to lower lake loading docks, for ultimate use by steel mills in such areas as Detroit, Cleveland, Youngstown and Pittsburgh.

Coal moves the other way – by rail to the loading docks at lower lake ports, thence by boat to upper lake ports.

Grain travels in a generally eastward direction – from the Midwest grain belt to eastern ports.

Traffic in oil products, chiefly gasoline, moves in various directions, much of it originating in the refinery center of Chicago, northern Indiana, Toledo, Ohio, and Sarnia, Ont.

Guide books and charts showing how to identify ships of the Great Lakes are readily available at nominal prices from places like the Dossin Great Lakes Museum, the Bob-Lo boats and bookstores.

NO MORE SQUARE WHEELS

by DON KEETH

Imagine the scene. One of our hairy ancestors gets a brainstorm and knocks the corners off a square stone wheel. Oh what joy! The world begins to roll forward.

It continues to roll at an ever increasing rate, I am happy to add.

The latest milestone is right down my alley. And the greatest thing since the wheel.

Lennox has, figuratively speaking, taken the square wheels off air conditioning and put on a new set of super whitewalls.

This is my backward way of saying that central air conditioning has seen some mightily important changes lately. For one thing, it's easier to install. And for another thing, its price has dropped like a raft over Niagara.

The splash has been spectacular. Smart homebuilders are installing this new central air conditioning as an original part of the home. Smart home-buyers and homeowners are looking for it.

And we know where to find it don't we? Down at my shop.

Made by Lennox, naturally, it's called RFC air conditioning. This is not a technical treatise, so suffice it so say that this new equipment is engineered for simplicity. Motors work against low pressures—meaning less wear and tear; less electricity.

There are fewer parts to give trouble. Those that are left are designed for less clogging, slipping, shifting, sticking, jamming and breaking . . . all the things that parts have a tendency to do just at the worst time.

This is history in the making, man! Join in!

NELSON SCHRADER

The best constructed pieces of furniture are held together with mortise and tenon joints. In this type of joint a wooden tongue fits tightly into a slot. Dowel joints may also be used in the framework joinery and frames of upholstered pieces. Round wooden pins, sometimes with spiral grooves, fit into matching sockets and are glued into place for extra strength. Spiral grooving helps to hold the glue. In fine quality pieces, double dowels are sometimes used at the point of greatest strain.

Fine quality furnishings can be found at SCHRADER'S HOME FURNISHINGS, INC., 111 N. Center St., Northville, 349-1838 or 825 Penniman, Plymouth, 453-8220. Come in and see our room groupings in any style you like and all nationally known brands. Established in 1907 to provide complete decorating services. Recipe For Chili Is A Gift

By ELLY

(When you are far away from home, your finances are at their lowest ebb, and Mother's Day rolls around, what do you do? A telephone call would be strictly "collect" so didn't seem appropriate." If you are No. 2 son, you come up with something, and this year it was a recipe column, a little late but an honest-to-goodness recipe column. Here it is.)

SANTA BARBARA, CALIF. When you've been on the road for a month doing the western U.S. in a Volkswagen bus, your diet isn't likely to be varied or balanced.

Sure, there are the occasional roadside meals that seem as good as any, but I think most of that feeling is due to the size of the appetite rather than the quality of the food.

A few times lately I've had noodles and margarine that to me, at that time, were a connoiseur's delight.

Keeping this in mind, I feel it's my duty, as someone who holds eating a top priority affair, to inform the homefolk of my find.

HAVING ARRIVED in Santa Barbara, I was invited to a dinner with some old and new friends. Our hostess was Mrs. Olga Herbert, a person I consider an expert in the culinary arts.

As usual, I brought along my over-sized appetite and proceeded to dig into the main dish, chili con carne, with vigor.

I was stopped short.

This was a dish my meat and potato taste buds needed to slow down to experience.

I realize most cooks have their very own secrets for their chili but don't let the creator's obviously un-Mexican name deceive you. "Try it you'll like it," (Sounds like a bad commercial but it's good chili.)

CHILI CON CARNE

3 lb. ground round (coarse)
2 T. oil
3-4 minced garlic cloves
1½ - 2 c. chopped onions
1 c. chopped green pepper
1 crushed bay leaf
3 whole cloves
2 cans stewed tomatoes (1 lb)
1 can tomato puree (Italian)
2 pkg. Lawry's Chili Mix
Mexian chocolate, ½ wedge, OR
1½-2 T. Ghiradelli's cocoa mix
Salt and pepper to taste
3-4 cans red kidney beans, drained

Crumble ground meat into large chunks. Brown in oil about 10 minutes, browning evenly. In another pan, in a small amount of oil (two tablespoons) cook onion and pepper until translucent. Add garlic and cook until golden. Drain fat from meat. Add cooked vegetables to meat in large Dutch oven. Add tomatoes, puree, beans and seasonings, except chocolate. Cover and simmer slowly for one hour. If mixture becomes too dry, add a small amount of beef broth. It should be thick. About 15 minutes before serving add chocolate, and if desired, ¼ to 1/3 cup bourbon.

Serve with hot garlic bread and salad.

Serves 15 to 16 normal people or eight to 10 starving Armenians.

P.S. Use any available cocoa mix if Ghiradelli's is not available. Add half a teaspoon of cinnamon to cocoa to simulate Mexian chocolate.

Spice CABINET

CHERRY PORK CHOPS

6 rib or loin chops, cut ¾- to 1-inch thick
1 tablespoon shortening or meat drippings
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 can (16-oz.) tart red cherries
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup brown sugar

Brown chops in shortening or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Drain cherries, reserving juice. Add enough water to juice to make 1 cup of liquid. Combine cornstarch and sugar and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Add cherries to sauce and pour over chops. Cover tightly and simmer for 45 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Regional Task Force Could Bring Realism To Area's Crisis

Last week saw a meeting take place which has enormous potential importance to the suburbs and to the entire Detroit metropolitan area.

Called by Gov. Milliken and Housing and Urban Development Secretary Romney, the gathering brought together some 250 leaders in the public and private sectors in this area to consider the emerging urban crisis and – much more importantly – to figure out what to do about it.

Romney set the context for the meeting at the very start: "There is no longer any valid reason for setting central city against suburb, white against black or brown. . . While today we are preoccupied with the narrow legal boundaries of our central cities and the many municipalities around them, it should be possible for us to retain the values of decentralized and small scale government where these are constructive and helpful, and at the same time to pioneer new and innovative ways to deal with the essential unitary problems of the whole real city region."

What Romney was really saying is that we are in the middle of a crisis in this metropolitan area, with a patchwork of local governments wasting resources and tax dollars and no clear way of effectively solving pressing problems that are area wide in scope.

SOUTHFIELD'S Lawrence Pernick, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Commissioners, added a suburban dimension to the problem.

"The suburbs now have double Detroit's population," Pernick noted. "But regardless of where people live in the area, they are lost in the bureaucratic shuffle which too often fails to recognize that it's people who have problems, not local government units.

"The time has come to review the traditional roles of local government, as conditions change and as problems develop. In my view, what is needed is to keep the structure of local government units, but to make them more coherent in an area wide efficiency sense."

Robert Fitzpatrick, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, set the focus of the gathering in terms of selecting one of a set of options concerning local government in this area: (1) Retain the status quo; (2) set up a task force to review ways to correct the urban imbalance problem; (3) create some form of metropolitan government.

PARTICIPANTS BROKE down into discussion groups to consider these options. Discussion was spirited and frank, particularly in view of the fact that most people there realized that the time had come for action and not merely more palaver.

Arguments against setting up an all - powerful metropolitan government were many. Suburbanites were reluctant to see their smaller local governments with advantages of being close to people submerged in a swamp of metro government. Inner city blacks argued that metro government represented not much more than an effort to dilute black power, just now beginning to take over the City of Detroit.

The final recommendation was that Gov. Milliken, in consultation with Detroit Mayor Gribbs and the county boards of Oakland, Wayne and Macomb, select a small task force to make action recommendations within a short period of time.

ALL THIS SOUNDS like another edition of ho hum, with the same people talking about the same old problem, with the same old task force idea being proposed to recommend old solutions.

I don't think that is so in this case. What was really happening at the meeting was that two important developments finally came to the surface.

1 - The fact that this metropolitan area is in a crisis is at last apparent to not only suburban folks and Detroit folks, but also to Gov. Milliken and Sec. Romney. By involving directly the prestige of these two men, state and federal government commitment to a solution has been insured.

2 - It is now clear that the essentially voluntary approach to problem solving advocated by the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments has some serious defects. What the task force will really be doing is looking carefully at the metropolitan problem and at the potential of SEMCOG as presently established to do anything about it.

The task force may or may not come up with anything worth while. But the fact that it exists, with the sanction of state and federal governments, means that there is a healthy awareness that what has been done up to now about solving the problems of this region has been essentially ineffective.

Let's hope the task force gets to work quickly, and that it comes up with a tough, specific, action - oriented report.

Bicycles Are Slow, Noiseless And Rank High In Popularity

The guys with the mini-bikes and ATVs (all-terrain vehicles) are making all the racket, but the truth of the matter is that the bicycle is becoming the most popular vehicle in America.

This year, for the first time since 1897, more bicycles – some 10 million -- than automobiles will be sold in this country.

Not only is cycling a slenderizing form of recreation, but 80 million Americans are looking on it as a way to avoid burning up irreplaceable fossil fuels and clearing the air.

Unfortunately, government policy has been weighted against the ecologically clean methods of transportation, such as bicycles and rapid transit, and has favored the gas-guzzling dinosaur, the two-ton car.

But things are changing – locally, in Lansing and in Washington

SOUTHFIELD HIGH'S ecology students, supervised by teacher James Bugg, are working to get bicycle trails through the city to such places as the Tel-12 Mall, the Civic Center, the two public high schools, Northland and the Franklin Cider Mill.

Sophomore Jayne Sharp and Junior Pat Vachon have been going after the city's highway department for signs to mark the routes. But whether they'll get actual trails, too, remains to be seen.

In the state capital, Sen. Carl Pursell of Plymouth is working on the appropriations committee to earmark money for a bicycle trail along the Edward Hines Parkway. He has some clout there, so his chances of success are good.

Hines Park, when you think of it, is an excellent spot for bicycle trails. It runs along the Middle Rouge River, and that will make for a pleasant atmosphere. The parkway itself is 17 miles long, and that will mean long, uninterrupted stretches of cycling room.

IN WASHINGTON, U.S. Rep. Marvin Esch has introduced a bill to use some of the highway trust fund for the construction of bicycle lanes along roads.

Esch, a guy who thinks in 21st century terms, advises us that only local units of government may apply for funding for bicycle routes, and he is encouraging communities in his 2nd Congressional District (Plymouth, Northville, Livonia) to do so.

"This is not a fad," says Esch. "It is a sincere desire on the part of nearly 80 million Americans to combat pollution, clear the air and come up with a new form of transportation that can take its place in a balanced transportation system. Yet there are scant numbers of bike-ways for those who want to enjoy this form of exercise, recreation and transportation."

And Transportation Secretary John Volpe, another 21st century type, adds: "As far as I am concerned, bicycles have equal rights with automobiles on our cities' streets."

Take Advantage Of Measles Shots

Thanks to the efforts of the Redford Township Jaycees with the cooperation of the Wayne County Health Department, youngsters throughout Observerland between the ages of one year through age 11 will receive measles and rubella vaccine free Saturday.

The measles and rubella vaccine will be offered in both the new one dose combination and in separate shots.

The big thing about the program is that youngsters from any part of Western Wayne County may participate. The program isn't being made available just to those in Redford Township but rather for youngsters anywhere provided they are accompanied by parents or other responsible adults.

The shots will be available Saturday morning from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at two sites, the Redford Township Hall at 15145 Beech Daly and the North End fire station at 18300 Beech Daly.

THIS IS A program that should earn the interest of all parents with children in the age range. So much has been written in recent months about the dangers of measles and rubella that all should participate.

The Jaycees have listed some "should" and "should nots" on the registration sheets which will be available at the two sites.

Those who should have free MEASLES vaccine include all healthy children 12 months through 11 years of age who have never had regular 7-10 day measles, regular hard measles vaccine, or have had measles vaccine when less than a year old.

THOSE WHO should have free RUBELLA vaccine are all healthy children 12 months through 11 years who have never had rubella (German measles) vaccine.

Those who should not have rubella vaccine are: children with a high fever on day of clinic; children with known allergy to rabbits, ducks, chickens and neomycin; and children receiving immunization within past 30 days.

A Year Has Passed ... Still No Clues

By R. T. THOMPSON

In this day and age when we seem to be able to solve all types of problems without too much trouble, it seems strange that just a year ago at this time a teenage senior from Livonia Bentley High was struck and killed by a hit-and-run driver...and the case is still a deep mystery to this day.

There have been no clues, no information, no reports from secret witnesses – just a big blank wall as Livonia police officers still look at the accident reports and wonder how a driver could strike and kill a person in the bright sunlight of late afternoon in May and vanish completely.

It was just a year ago, a few weeks before she was to have been graduated from Bentley High, that Chris Beattie was killed.

Her parents appealed to residents of the neighborhood, to anyone who had witnessed the accident to come forward and tell what they knew. They even offered $1,000 for a secret witness fund...and nothing has happened.

One wonders how it is possible for such things to happen in this modern society...but there it is. A hit-run fatal accident on a bright May afternoon and not a single clue a year later.

We read about such accidents in surrounding suburban communities, and many go unsolved. It just doesn't seem possible that such a death driver could go an entire year without being nabbed, but such is the story of the Chris Beattie death.

For more than a year we have written about this sad incident. We still believe that someone, somewhere, will come up with the information police need to solve the case. Who knows, perhaps the driver will drop in on police and give up? One can't go forever with such a thing hanging over one's head or on the conscience ... at least we don't believe one can.

Why Do We Need A 5-Lane Road?

EDITOR:

Ever since your paper made the announcement that Ann Arbor Road will be widened to five lanes in the near future, I have been asking "why" of various people and have yet to receive a logical explanation.

With the re-location of M-14 and the new expressway, surely much of the traffic will be siphoned off. Few of the Detroit area major arteries are five lanes! Wouldn't it be more prudent to merely resurface it or make it three lanes and spend the remainder to upgrade adjoining roads such as Ann Arbor Trail, Hix, Haggerty, Warren, etc?

I know the highway department does not consider a three lane road safe, but how about Ford Road - a major artery - which runs from two to five lanes at various points? The roads in western Wayne County are a disgrace! First priority should be elimination of all dirt roads which contribute so heavily to pollution.

The greatest need for widening is between Sheldon and Lilley. But do we need five lanes (at great expense and a lengthy construction period) when those five would suddenly become two again east of the expressway?

When will the Road Commission become realistic? The beautiful expanse of concrete on Haggerty between Ann Arbor Rd. and Joy is a prime example of county bureaucracy, built at enormous expense for one concern.

Lib Amendment Is A Threat

EDITOR:

What does it take to get through to our Michigan lawmakers that every vote in favor of the Women's Lib amendment is a direct sell - out of individual freedom and democracy?

Group liberation and individual freedom do not mix. I wonder if people realize how close we are to losing everything that was fought for in our own War for Independence.

As Americans, we all share in the responsibility of keeping this country of ours free. In order to do so, that amendment must be stopped. For if it is ratified, the very foundation of our country will topple from under us.

On the eve of our 200th anniversary, how shall we celebrate the loss of our independence?

Prostitute: Public Servant

EDITOR:

Much has been said in recent years concerning legalizing prostitution. Unfortunately little, to my amazement, has been done.

Men for centuries have organized themselves into unions and fought for wage equality for the benefit of their profession and for public service. Professions have been created as human needs require for the health and well being of the populus.

Today, as in no other era, have morals been questioned and adjusted to our changing times. Merely a few years ago attempting to save a life of another human being was considered immoral and directly against the will of God. Today not to try and help a suffering human is the most immoral ethic in existence and one of the most honored professions.

The prostitute offers a public service needed by todays over - crowded cities where crime runs wild. We talk about better schools and housing in the assumption crime will decrease, but unfortunately it has proved an almost complete failure.

One of the first advantages of organized prostitution, controlled by federal, state, or local government, would offer the all - so - frequently sexually frustrated person a place to turn for professional service.

Drugs, robbery and murder are an intergral part of prostitution. To legalize prostitution, would drastically decrease its counter - parts.

Venereal disease has run rampant and only recently have we even opened our eyes to the health threat it really is. Through government regulations and checkups of prostitutes and files kept, such disease would be diminished by a huge per cent.

The prostitute herself could find honor in her public service and feel proud. She herself would have a regulated rate of pay and receive the fringe benefits which we are so used to receiving. No longer would she have to turn to the over - crowded street for a living, downgraded by immorality and plagued by disease.

How many times have we to pick up the newspaper and glance in astonishment at the sexual assaults upon our children and crime as a whole. I would feel so much safer to know my child was safe from one of the most frequent crimes in today's world and drastically reduce others.

Buses Break Race Barriers

EDITOR:

Certainly there will be problems with busing! But do any of these compare in priority with the ultimate value of busing, namely the breakdown of racial barriers which have existed in this country for generations?

Did you ever see a problem solved where no one had to give up anything?

LARRY R. SCHROCK
Farmington

Busing Solves No Problems

EDITOR:

People who are busing must NOT have any feeling for children – human beings. Maybe they don't remember riding a bus. It certainly isn't something I look forward to.

Through busing, adults would be using kids – other people's kids – to supposedly solve a problem they (the kids) did not create. Is that really fair?

They wouldn't even be suffering for something worth while. They would be suffering for nothing except the satisfaction of the NAACP, because nothing would be solved by busing.

Busing isn't going to get quality education to everyone no matter how you look at it, and isn't that the real problem under all this mess?

And did anyone ever think about all the extra pollution more buses would cause?

JEAN STANSBERRY

Vote Against Brainwashing

EDITOR:

Oh good grief! Now we "bigoted jackasses" who oppose busing and voted to defeat increased taxation to support the schools must listen to the pious mewling of the ultra-phony liberals that we voted "irresponsibly" to deny our poor little children an education.

Hog-wash! Inadequate funds are not the problem with our schools. Marx's sick religion of atheistic materialism, Sigmund Freud's philosophy for animals and sick - minded people, implemented by the Wundt- Dewey techniques for indoctrinating the human mind, constitute the chief problems in our schools that now concern the people.

Voting more and more taxes to finance campus - sponsored communist revolutionary activites, such as we now witness at the University of Michigan, makes no more sense than contributing monies towards the purchase of a guillotine for chopping - off our own heads.

I emphatically deny that I am against providing adequate money to educate our little children. On the other hand, I aver that I am emphatically, absolutely and unequivocally opposed to continued abuse of our schools to brainwash our little children.

Here's A Jar Of 'Tissue'

EDITOR:

Rev. Kinsolving discredits himself, in my opinion, by the use of innuendo and association (May 27 issue).

Of the several millions of abortions performed across the world, what portion of those abortions are the result of incest or actual rape? What's the point in defending abortion on those grounds?

Each aborted woman should be presented with her fetus preserved in a jar. Afterall, proponents say it is just tissue. There's nothing in bad taste about tissue, is there?

Senseless abortion in the millions is in incredibly bad taste, I should say downright evil, so why criticize those who show it like it is?

Fishing Derby Is Saturday

A Tom Sawyer - Becky Thatcher look-alike contest and a traveling trophy to the town with the best young anglers will be added highlights of the 10th annual fishing derby Saturday morning on Newburgh Lake.

Main feature, of course, will be the prizes for the largest specimen of the 10 species of fish known to inhabit the lake.

The boy who dresses most like Tom Sawyer will win a camping tool set, and the girl who appears most like Becky Thatcher will win a reflector heater.

THE RECREATION departments of five communities -- Plymouth, Livonia, Redford Township, Garden City and Westland – have joined the Western Wayne County Conservation Assn. to sponsor the contest. Best young fisherman will win the traveling trophy for his town's department.

"We've got the best experienced fishermen around. Plymouth and Redford are novices, and Westland and Garden City are just learning how," said a confident Bill Zerblis of the Livonia department.

Terry Harbson of the Westland department notes, however, that "although we are fairly new in the participation, we did have the largest participation last year and took a lot of prizes."

THE CONTEST is open to boys and girls in two age groups -- 6 to 11 and 12 to 16 inclusive. Anglers may enter either or both of two relays -- the first from 8 to 10:30 a.m., the second from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Registration is at Newburgh Point on E.N. Hines Drive about a mile west of Newburgh Rd.

Helping the youngsters will be Jim Boote, president of the Motor City Casting League; Art Dittmar, of the WWCCA, a casting expert; and Bob Leach, an expert bass fisherman.

Other species for which prizes will be awarded are bass, red-eared sunfish, pumpkinseed sunfish, bullhead/catfish, trout, northern pike, carp and goldfish.

2 Bloodmobile Visits Set

One will be at St. Matthew United Methodist Church, 30900 Six Mile, Livonia, on Thursday, June 1, from 2-8 p.m.

The other will be at First United Methodist Church, 6443 Merriman, Garden City, on Friday, June 2, from 2-8 p.m.

Under the Red Cross "family plan," a donor's family will receive all the blood it needs for a 12 - month period if the donor gives at least one unit of blood per year.

New LWV Study Aims At Calm In Desegregation

A new study on the question of school desegregated and busing, garnered by Leagues of Women Voters in the Detroit metropolitan area, soon will be available in printed form.

It's aimed at presenting facts to foster a calm view of the emotional issue, said local LWV leaders.

The league, which nationally has taken a position calling for "equality of opportunity for education, employment and housing for all persons in the United States," has prepared the study "in hopes that facts would bring insight and rational discussion to this complex issue," according to a statement from the Plymouth-Northville LWV.

"THE LEAGUES of Women Voters plan to continue to present the facts and to promote calm discussion of school desegregation," the statement added.

"They do this because they believe the basic issue is the right of ALL children to have an equal opportunity for a quality education, and they believe that assuring this right would be a beginning to the solution of the racial and economic divison in our nation."

Reviewing the league's stand with regard to the desegregation and busing questions, the statement pointed out that the position in favor of equal opportunities was reached in 1966 after a two-year study and was agreed on by a majority of all league members.

"As a result of this study," the statement said, "the league determined that busing is one tool that may be used to help provide equal educational opportunity.

"However, cross-district busing was not studied; and, therefore, the legaue has no position on this issue."

FURTHER STUDY by the leagues in Metropolitan Detroit began after Judge Stephen Roth's decision last fall that Detroit schools were desegregated.

Mrs. Virginia Orban, of Northville, president of the Plymouth-Northville LWV, and Mrs. Jane Stacy of Plymouth, vice president, pointed out that the league never takes a position on a court order.

However, the statement said, the decision was "to investigate all aspects of this unique and emotional situation in order to present the facts to the community."

Presentation of the issue before community groups has been the program of metropolitan Detroit leagues, including the ones in Plymouth-Northville, Livonia and Farmington-West Bloomfield.

"The response had been good," Mrs. Stacy said. "It's great to be able to present facts and see people start thinking on an issue that has been so emotional."

THE PRESENTATIONS have included information on the legal aspects of the Roth case, the methods and effects of desegregation of schools in other areas and local housing patterns.

The statement in this regard pointed out it's necessary to realize that "the reason busing is even being discussed at this time is because of segregated housing."

In addition, the 17 leagues in the Detroit area have been cooperating on a detailed study, which is to be available by mid-June.

Mrs. Orban said it is to be offered for a nominal charge to individuals and groups interested in facts on desegregation and busing as they affect this area.

The Plymouth-Northville LWV statement said the new study is in line with a league policy that has brought the organization "a reputation of thoroughness and objectivity."

"Since its formation in 1920, the League of Women Voters has existed to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government," the statement said.

League members in this area will have information on the new printed studies when they are available.

The man of our house always has enjoyed a quite youthful appearance–and I do mean enjoyed.

There was the memorable occasion, fairly early in our marriage, when he went to the door and the salesman there asked if his mother was home.

I've never been able to forget that undiplomatic salesman who didn't even show a flicker of surprise when I went to the door.

Always my husband has been the one who has had to prove his age, and through the years his blond hair has refused to show any sign of gray. It's only recently that you could find silver hairs among the not-so-gold.

So when he returned last week from a supermarket trip and said he'd suffered a severe blow, it seemed natural to ask if the check-out girl had demanded identification before letting him buy wine.

Well, no, not exactly, he said, and told about smiling and saying hello to a very small girl who was being pushed in a supermarket cart by her young mother.

The small one smiled back, he reported, and then said something to her mother. The mother took a quick look at the man of our house and then told her daughter:

"That's right, he does look just like Grandpa."

So I finally stopped laughing and welcomed him to the club. But I must say the incident surprised me. To me, he doesn't look a bit like anybody's grandpa!

Women's College Week Is June 14-17

Michigan women are invited to enjoy a "tangy taste of college life," at Michigan State University June 14 - 17.

This will be College Week for Women, 1972. A fee of $43 includes food, lodging and activities. Interested women should contact one of the Wayne County Extension home economists at Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, 5455 S. Wayne Road, Box 550, Wayne, 48184.

The program is designed for all women, whether or not they are college graduates, housewives or career women, mother, grandmother or new bride.

The "week" deals with family and personal concerns, communication, consumer questions, the problems of aging, leisure time and design decisions. It also explores community and social issues, such as race relations, opportunities in volunteer work, housing, drugs and ecology.

The "after school hours" will be used to explore the campus, relax, visit the state capitol, or study macrame, batik, crocheting, creative stitchery and sketching.

There will also be swim - and - trim and flower arranging classes.

LONG-TIME SUPPORTERS of the Livonia Town Hall enjoyed spring flowers and sociability at the Town Hall's recent tea in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart of Livonia. The tea kicked off ticket sales for the 1972-73 lecture series, and local women who have purchased season tickets for several years were among the special guests. From left are Mrs. DeeDee Dittmar, Town Hall president, and supporters Carol Jones, Ruth Warner and Vi Roth. Spotlight on Women

Livonian Is A Jockette

Mrs. Janet Kerr, a Livonia who rides for the money with pigtails flying, is a recent addition to the growing roster of lady jockeys.

Mrs. Kerr, 25, and a graduate of Bentley High School, mounted a horse named Picasso at the Hazel Park Race Track recently and finished fifth.

"It was pretty much like I expected," she said later. "Like working the the horses in the morning, only everyone tries a little harder."

THIS NEW JOCKETTE–the term the tracks now use for women jockeys–has been riding horses most of her life. As a child growing up in Redford Township and Livonia, she owned a horse named Peanuts.

In recent years she has been employed working horses six mornings a week at Hazel Park during the summer and at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs, Ark., in the winter. Her husband, Tommy, works at both Hazel Park and Detroit Race Course in Livonia.

She said she's been thinking for a couple of years about riding in a race, and added that it was James Jackson, trainer of Picasso, who "convinced me I might as well get in there and do it not."

JOINING two other Hazel Park jockettes, this 110-pound Livonian has found mainly helpfulness on the part of the men riders.

"The idea of women riding is pretty well acdepted now," she said. "The men are realizing we're really serious about riding."

MRS. KERR also participates regularly in barrel races, the only event in rodeos open to women, and since 1963 has been listed among the top 10 riders for the Michigan Barrel Racing Association.

Her long hair is braided into pigtails when she rides but she doesn't try to tuck them up under a jockey cap.

"I just let them fly," she said.

Born May 3

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Melvin Jr. of Lexington Street, Redford Township, announce the birth of their second daughter, Jenelle Christy, May 3. Her sister, Chalene Anne, is three. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin, who have lived in Redford Township all their lives and are both graduates of Redford Union High School, will be moving shortly to Howell.

WSU Center Offers Screening To Determine Fetal Defects

Genetic screening at the Wayne State University Birth Defect Center now is available to any mother-to-be concerned about possible abnormalities in her unborn child.

This has been made possible under a grant from the National Foundation March of Dimes.

Word of the service's implementation has been sent to physicians throughout the state by Dr. Bernard Mandlebaum, assistant professor at WSU and project director.

THE GENETIC SCREENING will concern itself particularly with Down's Syndrome, the abnormality present when a mongoloid child is born.

Pregnant girls between the ages of 12 and 16 were mentioned in the letter as one group of mothers-to-be for whom "the risk of having an abnormal fetus is high enough to warrant early amniocentesis."

Amniocentesis is a process by which fluid from the uterus is examined to determine possible abnormality and the sex of a fetus.

Others who fit the description, the letter said, are pregnant women over the age of 40, women who have had a child with Down's Syndrom, and women known to carry, or at high risk of carrying, a deleterious X-linked gene.

COPIES of the letter were sent to leaders of local chapters of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children, with a notation that members interested should use their own physicians as a point of referral.

Mrs. Barbara Moore of Redford Township, president of the Northwest Communities Association for Retarded Children, indicated she considered the service a big forward step in the problem of retardation.

"We feel it's part of the purpose of our organization to get information of this sort to the public," she said.

The letter to physicians said the service is free and stated:

"Before accepting a patient into the project, we will discuss the possible risks of the procedure and the chances of failure or laboratory inaccuracies with both parents. We will also obtain written consent.

"The amniocentesis should be done between 14 and 18 weeks of preganancy to allow time for laboratory work and still be within the time limit for acceptable abortion if that course is elected. Abortion of an abnormal fetus is not compulsory and is strictly the decision of the patient and her family."

Burrs Celebrate 50th Anniversary

A reception May 14 in the Dula Party Room, Redford Township, honored the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burr, who have lived on Kinloch Avenue for 12 years.

Hosts for the party were their four sons, Arthur, Edgar and Richard Burr of Redford Township and Joseph Burr of Oak Park, and their wives. More than 100 guests attended.

The Burrs were married May 10, 1922, in Detroit. They also marked the anniversary with a mass of thanksgiving in their home May 10, with the Rev. Robert Ryan officiating.

Mr. Burr was employed by Long Manufacturing in Detroit before his retirement. There are 21 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Y Social Features Sundaes, Concert

Fresh strawberry ice cream sundaes and a band concert will be featured at the annual strawberry festival of the Northwest YWCA.

The program will be held in the YWCA building, 25940 Grand River, Detroit, from 6:30 until 9 p.m., Thursday, June 8.

The concert will be presented by the Pearson Junior High School band under the direction of Dave Bonamici. There will also be a demonstration by the Nalesa International Folk Dance group directed by Phillip Lilt.

The "big band" sounds of the Hilbert Junior High School dance band under the direction of Dauts Moore will end the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. James Nugent is chairman of the social. Patterned after the old - fashioned ice cream social, this family event has been sponsored by the YWCA each June for the past 12 years and has contined to grow in popularity. If the weather is nice, patrons are urged to bring blankets and sit on the lawn. If it rains, the activities will be held indoors.

There is no admission charge, but the Y's Owl Boutique will be open. Sundaes will cost 50 cents.

Women In Business Conference Topic

The first National Conference on Opportunities for Women in Business will be held in Washington June 7 to 9.

Sponsored by the U.S. Commerce Department's office of minority business enterprise (OMBE), the three - day meeting is expected to draw more than 500 business women and those interested in going into business.

The plans were announced by Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson. His wife, Mrs. Sally Peterson, is honorary chairman of the conference.

JOHN L. JENKINS, OMBE director, said the meeting is the first of its kind to be sponsored by his office.

"One of the purposes," he said, "is to bring together successful businesswomen with those considering a business career to share experiences and information.

"The conference will deal with the roles of women in business and opportunities for women in the business world."

PART OF THE CONFERENCE will be devoted to fundamental instruction on business management practices, and one session will deal with what the federal government is doing to encourage women in business.

Another topic will be opportunities for women in the corporate structure. Special emphasis will be placed on motivating young minority women to seek careers in business.

The Office of Minority Business Enterprise was established by President Richard Nixon in March 1969, and placed under the responsibility of the Secretary of Commerce.

Serving as the coordinating agency in the president's minority enterprise program, it seeks to identify and increase opportunities for members of minority groups to enter business or expand existing businesses.

Dinner Reception Marks 50 Years

A dinner reception in Roma Hall Sunday, May 28, marked the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Erke of Redford Township.

A three-tier anniversary cake decorated with pink roses, gold leaves and gold bells was cut for 65 friends and relatives. Mrs. Erke wore a blue dress with white lace trim and a corsage of white roses with gold leaves and gold ribbons.

Edward Erke and Lilly Haske were married May 27, 1922, in St. Stephen Lutheran Church in Detroit. They moved to Redford Township 16 years ago.

Their daugher, Audrey, is married to Dr. Walter Gross, of Livonia. There are three grandchildren, Linda, James and Diane.

Mr. Erke is a retired carpenter and worked as a supervisor for John B. Ebert & Sons for 36 years. Mrs. Erke worked for Vickers, Inc., during World War II and later worked 15 years for General Filters, Inc., retiring in 1964.

They attend Outer Drive Faith Lutheran Church in Detroit, and are members of its Golden Years Club.

Father's Day Ties Featured

For those who are planning to make a tie for dad, Hudson's is sponsoring a series of demonstrations the week of June 5.

The sessions will be held at Northland Friday, June 9, and at Westland, Wednesday, June 7. Demonstrations will be at 11 a.m. and 1 and 3 p.m.

Joan Sglia, home economist representing Stacy Fabrics, will present Tie Makers Guild fabrics in the fabric departments of these stores at 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.

A reception for 150 guests was held in the Ford Wayne Civic League.

Girls Work At Camp

A "fix and mix" weekend May 26 to 29 at Camp Wathana near Holly culminated a month of clean-up activities at the camp on the part of Camp Fire Girls in this area.

More than 300 girls, including those in groups led by Mrs. Delores Czach and Mrs. Joanne Malone of Garden City, participated in the month-long cleaning program.

Among the projects were planting 2,000 seedlings, clearing trails, correcting soil erosion and building foot trails. The girls also worked on cleaning cabins, fixing and painting.

The weekend at the resident camp for CFG groups in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties was designed to give girls and their families an opportunity to know the camp and each other while putting finishing touches on the improved facilities.

Westland BPW Has Installation

Taking office with her were Muriel Tucker and Delores Landeau as first and second vice presidents, Harriet Gagnon as recording secretary, Dorothy McHenry as corresponding secretary and Clarice Nesbitt as treasurer.

New members of the Westland BPW are Mrs. Helen Brown, Georgina Cseresznye, Dorothy Boubresse, Mary Grogan and Frances Young.

Thinking About Camp? So Are The Girl Scouts

With camping season fast approaching, Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit and the Huron Valley Council are expanding their camp facilities and programs.

Three new structures will be on display Sunday, June 4, when the Huron Valley Council holds its annual open house at Camp Linden, north of Hartland in Livingston County.

In the Metropolitan Council, both Camp Innisfree, the recently-acquired 1,000 acre site near Howell, and Camp Metamora, near Lapeer, have openings left for some sessions.

They are open to scouts from the council who are between the ages of nine and 17. Non-scouts and scouts from their other councils may also be accepted if there are vacancies. Prospective campers should call the camping department of the Girl Scout office.

A FEW openings also are available for the fourth session, Aug. 13 to 26, in Camp Narrin, operated by the Southern Oakland Girl Scouts near Ortonville.

Girls interested in regular camping that period or the special ecology unit to be operated at that time may call the Southern Oakland office, 1202 Catalpa, Royal Oak.

Persons wishing to learn more about Camp Linden or the open house should call the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, 310 S. Huron, Ypsilanti.

IN ADDITION to touring the camp, visitors can talk with camp staffers June 4.

This summer for the first time, the camp will offer two one-week sessions in addition to four traditional two-week sessions.

The three new structures include Hunter Lodge, the cook's cabin and a new tent platform unit.

Hunter Lodge is the camp dining hall built this past year at a cost of $150,000 a gift of the combined Earhart family of Ann Arbor. The hall is the largest of the buildings at the camp and can accommodate 200 campers. It can also be used for indoor activities such as square dancing and dramatics.

THE NEW COOK'S cabin is being constructed by the Plymouth Kiwanis Club.

The tent platform unit is made up of 10 platforms. This brings the total number of platforms at the camp to 40 and provides accommodation for 160 girls.

The platforms were constructed by the Seabee Reserve Unit of Lansing under the command of Lt. Com. C. H. Seager.

Other facilities which can be visited are three troop cabins, Ruth's House, Edith's House and Esther's. All are named for prominent Girl Scout volunteers. The troop houses sleep 24-36 girls and are equipped with kitchenettes, fireplaces and dormitory meetings rooms. The camp covers 430 acres.

The council's territory includes Washtenaw, Livingston, Western Wayne and Northern Monroe Counties.

THE METROPOLITAN Council covers most of Wayne County.

Scouts registering for two-week sessions at Camp Metamora and Camp Innisfree choose from a variety of special programs offered for beginning and advanced campers, including setting up outpost camping sites, ecology projects, water sports, backpacking trips, outdoor cooking, preparation for advanced camping trips, and canoe and hiking trips in northern Michigan and in Canada.

Camp Metamora has been in operation since 1937 and is used by troops on weekends during the school year as well as for resident camping in the summer.

Camp Innisfree is under development for a variety of year-round camping programs. The 1972 season offers both troop and resident camping, the latter for the first time.

A third site, Camp Holly, near Holly, is available for troop camping throughout the year.

Resident camping sessions are scheduled at Camp Metamora for June 25-July 8, July 9-22, July 23-Aug. 5 and Aug. 6-19.

The camping sessions at Innisfree are June 25-July 8, July 9-22, and July 23-Aug. 5.

Vivians Earn State Award

For the second year in a row, the Vivians of Plymouth have won first place among Vivians throughout the state of Michigan for their contribution of $3,000 to the Michigan Major Handicap Children's Fund.

The Vivians is an auxiliary group of Plymouth Elks Lodge 1780, which took second place in the state with contributions of more than $7,000 in the men's division.

Announcement of the two awards was made at an installation dinner by the lodge's exalted ruler, John O'Connor.

The group, which has about 200 members, raised money by having volunteers operate the coat room at the Plymouth Elks Club through parties and through the "356 Bank," in which members are asked to contribute a penny a day. Donna Jean O'Connor was chairman of the project.

"Our members work very hard," commented the president, Carol Packard. Lasy year, they raised more than $3,000.

The group received a plaque from the state organization in recognition of its work at a state convention in Pontiac in April.

Mrs. Packard was installed, along with Jeane Eggenberger, vice-president; Kerry Pattison, recording secretary; Betty Evasic, corresponding secretary; Nancy Flynn, treasurer; Corrine Keeler, chaplain; and Jane Sikes, chaplain-at-arms.

3 Take Office In Pioneer Women

Three Observerland women are taking office in the Greater Detroit Council of Pioneer Women.

Installation ceremonies were held Thursday, June 1, in the Labor Zionist building in Farmington.

Mrs. Gerald E. Goldberg of Southfield was installed as president. Stepping into other offices were Mrs. Melvin Shapiro of Livonia, installed as recording secretary; Mrs. Frank Rath of Farmington, installed as vice president of education; and Mrs. Alvin Gale of Farmington, installed as a mailing secretary.

Mrs. Molton Weiss of Farmington represented the National Board of Pioneer Women in the installation rites.

A special feature of the afternoon was presentation of a charter to the group's new Whitehall chapter of Southfield, 17th to be formed in this area.

Pioneer Women is a national organization which raises funds that supply 60 per cent of all social services in Israel for children, youth and women, both Jew and Arab.

Tour Visits Russia, Finland

The department of family and consumer resources at Wayne State University is sponsoring a tour of Europe this summer.

The tour will be from Aug. 6 through 27. Entitled "Consumer Concern International," it will combine study visits to Helsinki, Moscow and Leningrad with attendance at the seventh biennial world conference of the International Organization of Consumers Unions in Stockholm, Sweden.

Students may enroll for graduate or undergraduate credit for the tour through the WSU division of urban extension. For brochures, call or write Credit Programs, Southfield Extension Center, Wayne State University, 25610 W. 11 Mile, Southfield, 48076.

Here's Steven

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald F. Miller of Westland announce the birth of a son, Steven Frederick, on March 23.

Steven has a sister, Stacy, three. Their grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Miller of Farmington and Mr. and Mrs. F. Winston Rabon of Valdosta, Ga.

Communication Is Workshop Theme

A family communication workshop will be held Sunday, June 25, under sponsorship of the Southfield - Lathrup Chapter of Parents Without Partner.

The workshop, which will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., will be conducted by Sandra Landsman, who has an MA degree in guidance and counseling. It will take place in Northwest Unitarian Universalist Church, 23925 Northwestern Highway, Southfield.

RESERVATIONS MUST be made by June 22 with the Southfield Chapter, PWP, PO Box 5048. The cost is $7 per family for members and $10 per family for non-members.

"Women's Liberation, Its History and Its Implications" is the subject for the next meeting of the group. Amy Kell, a student in political science at Oakland University, will be the speaker at 8:30 p.m., Friday, June 2.

THE CLUB meets the first and third Friday of each month in the Southfield Civic Center, Parks and Recreation Building, Evergreen at 10½ Mile, Soutfield.

At its June 16 meeting, the chapter will hear a talk on "ESP, Mind Reading, Astrology" by Robert Butler, and June 30, Dr. Paul T. Adams, author of "The New Self-Hypnosis," will discuss "Mind Power."

'Youth On Drugs' Is Topic

A program on "Youth on Drugs–What the Family Can Do" will be presented Thursday, June 8, in the Danish Club, 22711 Grand River, Detroit, by the Michigan Inter-Professional Association on Marriage, Divorce and the Family, Inc.

Cocktails will be served at 6 p.m., followed by dinner at 7 and the program at 8.

The subject will be covered in a panel discussion. Panelists will include the Hon. John B. Swainson, Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court; Dr. Elliot D. Luby, associate director in charge of clinical services for Lafayette Clinic and professor of psychiatry and psychiatry in law at Wayne State University; and Don Gumbleton, MSW, who has had 10 years experience working with inner city and suburban youth.

Judge George E. Bowles of the Wayne County Circuit Court will introduce the speakers and act as moderator.

Reservations must be in to the association, 1501 Ford Building, Detroit, 48226, by June 6. Cost of the dinner is $7.

Pastor Fathers Perform Nuptials

The ceremony took place in the First Baptist Church of Belmont, N.H.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Rayworth Gillies of Concord, N.H. and the bridegroom's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Bert C. Kreller of Fairlane Ave., Livonia.

Rev. Gillies escorted his daughter to the altar and then took his place beside Dr. Kreller as the two ministers joined their children in marriage.

THE BRIDE wore an empire gown of silk organza with lace and pink embroidery trimming the high neckline. A headpiece of lace and pearls held her veil, and she carried white miniature carnations and pink roses.

Judith Ortman of Mt. Morris, N.Y., was maid of honor. Her gown was cranberry crepe and her flowers pink carnations and red roses.

Bridesmaids Donna Porter of Blaine, Me., and Jackie MacDonald of Corunna, Mich., wore hot pink crepe gowns and carried pink carnations.

DANIEL KRELLER of Livonia was his brother's best man. The ushers were Robert Wells of Lexington, Mass., and Walter Javers of Houghton, N.Y.

MRS. DAVID KRELLER
(Nancy Gillies)

Mrs. Gillies wore an aqua dress and Mrs. Kreller was in rose crepe.

A reception in the church for 100 guests followed the ceremony. The couple went to Florida for their honeymoon.

They are living in Delvan, N.Y. Both are graduates of Houghton College at Houghton, N.Y., and the bridegroom is teaching junior high mathematics in Arcade, N.Y.

LOIS SCHLOSSER

Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Schlosser of Waterferd Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Lois D., to Robert E. Taylor Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Taylor of Wayburn West. The bride-elect is a student at Alma College. Her fiance is a graduate of North Farmington High School and Alma College and is currently studying at the University of Missouri. An Aug. 19 wedding is planned.

PEGGIE BRADBURN

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bradburn of Charnwood Drive, Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Peggie Jane, to Eric M. Haarz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Haarz of Lakewood Drive, Plymouth. Miss Bradburn is a 1971 graduate of Plymouth High School and studied at Cleary College. She is a member of Gamma Eta Sigma Sorority. Her fiance is a 1970 graduate of Plymouth High School and attends Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti. They plan to be married Dec. 15.

GAIL GREENE

Mrs. Phyllis Pride of Doe Lane and Claude Green of Lilly Road, both of Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gail, to Joseph Wnuk Jr., of Plymouth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wnuk of N. Wayne Road, Westland. The bride-elect is in the Plymouth High School class of 1972. Her fiance is a machinist journeyman and a student at Schoolcraft College. They plan to be married Oct. 21

JANICE JACKSON

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Jackson of Alpine Drive, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Janice J., to Lawrence L. Kneisel, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy G. Kneisel of Cowan Road, Westland. The bride-elect is a 1969 graduate of Bentley High School and a senior at the University of Michigan, majoring in political science. Her fiance also graduated from Bentley in 1969 and is a senior in physics in Michigan Technological University. A December wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newman of Stark Road, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Vicki, to Robert Pokerwinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pokerwinski of Belleville. Miss Newman is a 1967 graduate of Franklin High School and is employed at St. Mary Hospital. Her fiance is employed at the Ford Motor Co. No date has been set for the wedding.

VICKI NEWMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Allshouse of Adams Street, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Debra Ann Parker, to Mark Felice DeCapite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario DeCapite, Houghton Street, Livonia. The bride-elect is a January 1972 graduate of Churchill High School, and her fiance graduated from Stevenson High School in 1969. They plan to be married July 21.

Kenneth Jones Is Married In Detroit

A trip to Florida followed the Saturday, May 27, wedding of Ruthann Bernadette Roberts and Kenneth Frank Jones.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Orville J. Roberts of Detroit, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of Rush Street, Garden City. The couple will live in Westland on their return.

THE CEREMONY took place in Evergreen Lutheran Church, Detroit, at 6 p.m.

The bride wore a long A-line white gown with Venice lace trim on the Empire waist, the long bracelet sleeves, the hemline and the full chapel train. She carried white carnations, white roses and stephanotis with two white orchids.

Janet Andrus of Detroit was maid of honor. Mrs. Donnajean Barnett of Westland, the brides' sister, and Christine Ciszewski of Detroit were the bridesmaids. They wore gowns of white, gold and brown printed voile with large-brimmed hats.

TINA MARIA and Tamesa Maria Barnett, the bride's nieces, were the flower girls. Their gowns matched those of the other attendants.

Gary Hillson of Wayne was best man and Gary Jones of Garden City, the bridegroom's brother, and Greg Anderson of Detroit were the ushers. Richard E. Roberts, the bride's nephew was the ring bearer. They wore brown tuxedos with gold shirts.

Only 13 Per Cent Get Salable Skill

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second article by the Wayne Intermediate School District about the one-mill proposal on the June 12 ballot for four Wayne County vocational technical centers. All districts except Detroit and Livonia will vote.

A recent study conducted by researchers at the John Hopkins University Center for Social Organization of Schools indicates that "the first job a man takes when he finishes his formal education is a good indicator of what he'll be doing when he retires."

Will your son or daughter be entering college, or will he or she be looking for employment when he or she graduates from high school?

Only half of the high school students accepted into college actually receive a baccalaureate degree. In addition, the U.S. Department of Labor predicts a future labor market where only 20 per cent of the jobs will require a four-year college degree.

Yet, most high school students believe the only means to financially rewarding and meaningful employment is by obtaining a college degree. Consequently, these same students enroll in the college preparatory curriculum.

SHOULDN'T ALL students be prepared with a salable skill in the eventuality that they may have to seek employment and compete in today's complex labor market?

Unfortunately, only about 13 per cent of our high school graduates are prepared with a salable skill to earn an employer profit on the first day on the job. Will your son or daughter be able to earn a living wage upon graduating from high school, or if he does not finish college?

On Monday, June 12, 1972, voters will have the opportunity to approve a one-mill charter levy to provide for the construction and operation of four area vocational-technical centers to be located in outer-Wayne County. The centers would provide training in 40 different occupational areas, most of which are not currently being offered in today's high schools.

The centers would be available to all Out-Wayne County high school youth. Some of the programs to be offered are:

Air conditioning, appliance repair, auto body, auto transmission mechanics, aviation mechanics, building traces, business machine repair, child care aide.

Commercial art, conservation - parks and recreation, data processing, dental office assistant, floriculture.

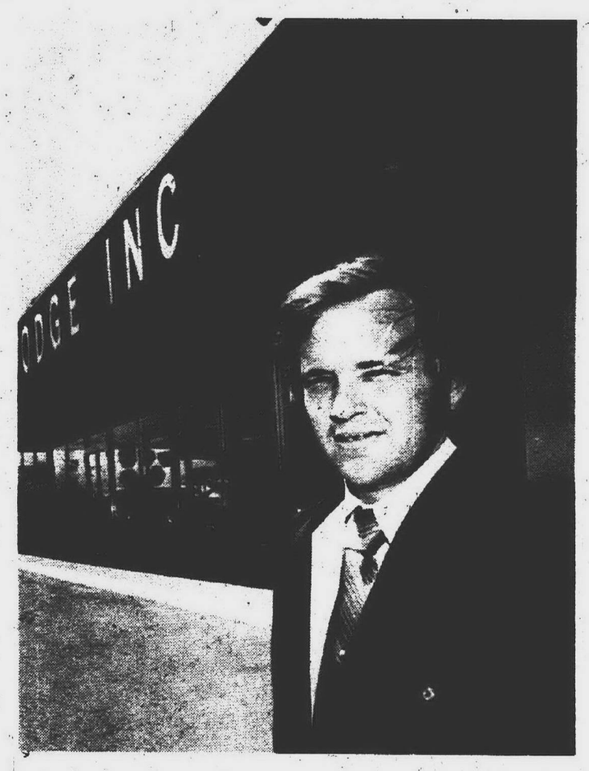
In addition, the centers would be available for adult education, and community college classes.



CHUCK BONSECOUR continues a family tradition as an auto dealer. (Observer photo)

New Dealer Has A Tradition

GARDEN CITY When Chuck Bonsecour took over the Crestwood Dodge dealership, 32850 Ford Road, last month, he continued a long standing family tradition.

"As far back as I can remember," he said, "we've had an automobile dealer in the family - and I am just carrying on."

A graduate of St. Leo College in Florida, Bonsecour turned to auto salesmanship after leaving school and served under his uncle, Ed Schmid, in Ferndale before coming to Garden City.

This is his first venture in a dealership, and he is hopeful of bringing some new ideas and promotional know-how to the business.

"I just couldn't miss this opportunity," he said as he scanned the new operation, "and I hope I can do as well as the others in the family."

His grandfather had a Packard dealership on Gratiot Avenue in Detroit when Packard was the prestige car of the entire auto industry.

His uncle, Eugene Schmid, presently is regional manager of the Chrysler Realty Division, and another uncle, Hank, has a Chrysler dealership in New Baltimore.

"Then I have an uncle Chuck," he smiled, "who is with Covey & Schmid.

"Talk about a family affair - we have it."

NBD Opens New Canton Office

National Bank of Detroit today opened its first branch office in Canton Township and its eighth in the greater Plymouth-Westland area.

The office will be located at the southeast corner of Ford and Canton Center Roads.

"We have taken a close look at the area," said Robert Dart, who has been named acting branch manager of the new office. "We not only see an immediate need for banking services in the area, both to individuals and businesses, but we also see a great potential for the community's development in the next few years.

"Canton Township is one of the fastest growing townships in southeastern Michigan. The claim is substantiated by the area's planning consultants, Parkins, Rogers and Associates, who estimate nearly a five-fold increase over the 1960 population for Canton Township by 1980.

Jaycees To Sponsor Measles Immunization

REDFORD

Free vaccinations against measles and rubella will be offered by the Redford Jaycees in cooperation with the Wayne County Health Dept. on Saturday, June 3.

This year, children between the ages of one and 11 will be able to receive vaccinations against either or both, the regular (seven to 10-day) measles or rubella, commonly known as the three-day German measles.

All unimmunized children in the metropolitan area are eligible for the free inoculations.

PAUL SALAMY, program chairman, said "The recent outbreak of regular measles in Wayne County prompted our decision to sponsor this vaccination program. We believe that it is part of our responsibility to the community to help protect children against this disease, which can have serious consequences for some youngsters."

Dr. Maurice S. Reizen, Michigan's public health director said, "One in 15 children who have measles develop complications like pneumonia, bronchitis, and ear infection or a neurological problem. Fifty per cent of the children who have the disease may develop complications which lead to general poor health, slow learning and personality and behavior changes.

"At one time, it appeared that measles was well on its way to eradication in Michigan," Dr. Reizen said. "But since 1970, the growing number of unvaccinated children has created a large unprotected population. The disease is beginning to reach this population.

"Some of the current cases have occurred in children who were previously vaccinated, but whose vaccinations were originally administered when they were less than a year old," Dr. Reizen stated. "We are urging all parents whose children were vaccinated this early and all parents whose children are over 12 months of age and not yet vaccinated to get them immunized immediately."

RUBELLA, WHILE being a mild disease in children, presents a very serious threat to expectant mothers. If rubella is contracted early in pregnancy, the virus can cause babies to be born with severe abnormalities, including mental retardation, heart defects, deafness and cataracts. By immunizing children -- the major victims of rubella, the risk of exposure is reduced for pregnant women.

The vaccination clinic is scheduled between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. June 3, in the North End Fire Station or the Redford Township Hall at 15145 Beech Daly Rd.

Ft. Wayne Sets Pioneer Day

Built in the 1840's, Fort Wayne is one of Detroit's most historic landmarks.

It is complete with dry moat, casements, tunnels, powder magazines, earthworks and a stone barracks building. There is a Sherman tank from World War II, a howitzer and a 40mm antiaircraft gun from a submarine.

Indian artifacts and many other features for the history "buff" or just plain citizen who would like to visit the past.

THE FORT is the setting for the second annual family Pioneer Day sponsored by the Detroit Historical Society Guild on Saturday, June 3. The public is invited free.

You may have your picture taken with a dry plate camera, select an old fashioned car or buggy for background and wear a duster, see free movies, taste sweet butter churned while you watch, see the making of soap and the dipping of candles.

Quilting and embroidery, caning and rushing, spinning and weaving and wood carving will all be demonstrated.

There will be games for the children, the Second Michigan Volunteer Infantry will be there. The Detroit Police Band will add musical background to the festivities.

In keeping with the "Old Country Fair" atmosphere, there will be hot dogs, pop, coffee, penny candy and old fashioned ginger bread boys.

Burroughs Dividend Up

Burroughs Corp.'s board of directors has approved an increase in the quarterly dividend to 16 cents a share from 15 cents. The dividend is payable on July 20, to shareholders of record on June 23.

This 290th dividend continues a record of regular cash dividends uninterrupted for 77 years.

Plymouth Brevities

PLYMOUTH'S YOUTH SYMPHONY has scheduled its final concert of the season for 8 p.m. Wednesday, June 7 in the Plymouth High School auditorium.

The orchestra will perform under the baton of H. Michael Endres and two of its members will be featured as soloists during the evening. These will be Nina Sartori, violin, and Jean Moorehead, trombone. There will be no admission charge.

SUMMER HOURS at Dunning - Hough Library will become effective Monday, June 5, Librarian Elizabeth Barnwell has announced.

The summer schedule calls for the library being open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Fridays. It will be closed Saturdays until September.

THERE WILL BE fun for all at Isbister School tonight (Thursday) when students, teachers and parents join in hosting the annual Isbister Fair, which will run from 6 to 8:30.

A magician, games and a moon walk will be among the features, with plenty of prizes available which have been donated by merchants. Refreshments will include hot dogs, chips and soft drinks.

MILDRED FIELD, who will be retiring at the end of this semester after many years as principal of Starkweather School, will be honored at a reception to be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, June 4 at the school.

Former Starkweather students, teachers, parents and friends all are invited to attend.

ONE OF THE more unusual offerings of the school system's summer music program will be a Suzuki violin class for children between the ages of four and eight. It will be taught by Mrs. Nancy Driftmeyer, orchestra director at East Middle School.

Originated by Shinichi Suzuki in Japan, the theory is that very young children can be taught to play a musical instrument by imitating an adult.

Interested parents are invited to an information meeting at 8 p.m., Tuesday, June 6 in the band room of West Middle School. A film entitled "Suzuki Teaches American Children and Their Mothers" will be shown and there will be a display of various sizes of children's violins, plus a demonstration by a four - year - old violinist.

TWO TWIN SISTERS of Plymouth recently were honored by a four - generation family party upon the occasion of their 78th birthdays.

The pair were Mrs. Elva Kohler of 297 Fair and Mrs. Olive Fredericks of 814 Fairground, both of whom have lived all their lives in the Plymouth area.

ARNOLD PYLKAS, Gallimore School principal, is among those being honored tonight (Thursday) by the Southeastern Michigan chapter of the Red Cross at the annual recognition night program which will be conducted on a Bob - Lo boat cruise.

Pylkas will be presented a 25 - year award for his service as a volunteer Red Cross water safety instructor since 1947. He is a former varsity swimmer at Wayne State University.

THE SENIOR Citizens Club of Plymouth is planning a baseball outing Saturday and still has seats available on the bus that will take members to the Tiger - Minnesota game. Grandparents may take grandchildren under 14 for the admission price of 50 cents. Bus transportation will be $2 per person, originating from Tonquish Creek Manor.

The club also is beginning to plan for a special three - day trip in September to Mackinac Island. Details on rates for that excursion may be obtained by calling Mrs. Ronald Coosaia, 46770 Betty Hill.

BUDDY SHANAHAN has been crowned the checkers champion of the fourth and fifth grade boys who are in the YMCA group at Starkweather School. A trophy was presented to him by Mrs. Virginia Troyer, fourth grade teacher, and John Howe, second vice president of the Plymouth "Y."

OKERSTROM ROOFING continues to lead the Plymouth Businessmen's Golf League with 25 points, with the Mettetal Airport team second at 22½.

Trailing are Howmet and Hydroflow, 21½; Hilltop No. 1, 20½; Johnston Insurance and Hirzel Insurance, 18; Earl's Equipment, 17; Gaffield Studio, 16½; Air Force Reserves, 16; Hilltop No. 2, 14; Nat Industries, 9, and Mini Kool 7½.

Mettetal and the Air Force share low team net honors so far with a score of 127, while Chuck Harvey and Don Finch are tied for low individual net with 28.

OUR LADY of Victory Catholic Church of Northville has extended an invitation to Plymouthites to help celebrate its 50th anniversary as a parish. The occasion will be marked by a festival Friday and Saturday at the Northville Downs race track.

Friday's activities will run from 4 to 11 p.m., featuring a spaghetti dinner. Saturday's program will continue from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., with games, rides, food and general entertainment.

THE NEWLY organized Canton Township Newcomers Club has called a meeting for 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 7 in Gallimore School. Topics on the agenda include presentation of a slate of officers as well as a proposed constitution.

George Lawton of the Plymouth School District board of education will be the guest speaker. All Canton residents will be welcome. Social chairman is Phyllis Redfern.

Sawusch To Head District Rotarians

PLYMOUTH

Edward Sawusch, general manager of the Anchor Coupling Co. in Plymouth, was paid a high honor by his fellow Rotarians at the District 640 conference at Adrian last weekend.

The popular industrialist was named to the office of district governor for the year 1973 - 74 and will be in that high office when the Plymouth club celebrates its golden anniversary.

The district governor always is named a year in advance and Sawusch will not assume the new role until July 1, 1973.

He is the fourth member of the Plymouth club to be so honored. The first Plymouthite to hold the office was the late George Smith in 1947. Ten years later Frank Henderson served and seven years ago -- in 1965 -- Perry Richwine held the top office in the district.

Sawusch, who came to Plymouth in 1954, has been affiliated with Rotary since 1960 and currently is president of the Plymouth club.

A sizable delegation from Plymouth attended the conference to be on hand when Sawusch was given the news that he had been elected.

"I feel honored that so much confidence was placed in me," he said after the election, "and it will be great to be district governor during our golden anniversary."

School Day To Remain Unchanged

PLYMOUTH

An investigation into the starting times for Plymouth schools began nearly a year ago and ended Monday with just slight revisions.

Last summer, trustee John Hanskat led the campaign to have the high school classes begin later and possibly to stagger elementary and middle school starting times to make efficient use of the buses.

Hanskat reasoned that changing some starting times would avoid situations where some high school students leave early to catch a bus to school and then have to wait 30 minutes or more before classes start at 7:30 a.m.

The board and administration were reluctant to make the changes last year and instructed Asst. Supt. of Business Melvin Blunk to study the possibilities for the coming school year.

BLUNK REPORTED to the board this week that there is general opposition to changing the starting times. He recommended that the board adopt a schedule keeping starting and closing times the same with three exceptions.

The exceptions include putting the fifth graders who will attend East Middle School on a schedule beginning at 8:45 a.m. and ending at 3:30 p.m. Also, the East sixth, seventh and eighth graders will start at 8 a.m. and end at 2:50 p.m.

The times are staggered to keep the fifth graders separated from the middle school children.

Plymouth High School students will get out of school five minutes earlier this year at 2:15 p.m. The PHS change resulted because the school will be on 26 15-minute modules with a 15-minute homeroom period rather than the 20 modules of 20 minutes each as this year.

The high school day is broken into modules for more flexibility in scheduling classes.

TRY OUT A FORD AT VOLKSWAGEN

Try out any of the cars people trade in for new VWs. We get all kinds but we don't sell them again just like that. We check them out first. Give them the 16-point Inspection. Fix whatever needed fixing. Then guarantee the repair or replacement of every major working part* 100% for 30 days or 1,000 miles. Whichever comes first. Incidentally, the guarantee comes with all our used cars. Even Volkswagens.

Party Convention Process At Work

Suburbanite Switch

GOP Crossover Rate 62 Pct.

Political wheels started rolling this week toward the election of state and national convention delegates.

County and district conventions for the major parties began this week to elect delegates to state conventions. National convention delegates will be chosen at state conventions.

Republican county conventions were all held yesterday (Wednesday), and Democratic conventions are scheduled for the weekend.

THE SCHEDULE for Democratic conventions is:

18th Congressional District (Southfield City and Township, Lathrup Village) 2 p.m. Saturday, June 3; Oakland County Commissioners Auditorium, 1200 N. Telegraph, Pontiac.

19th-Oakland Congressional District (Farmington City and Township); 9:30 a.m. Saturday, June 3; Oakland County Commissioners Auditorium, 1200 N. Telegraph, Pontiac.

An Observer Roundup

The busing issue helped put 51 per cent of Michigan votes in Alabama Gov. George Wallace's back pocket last week--but so did a massive Republican crossover.

As near as can be estimated 62 per cent of the Republicans from Observerland crossed party lines to vote for the Democratic presidential hopeful.

Primary results from Farmington City and Township, Plymouth City and Township, Garden City, Westland, Redford Township, Livonia, Southfield and Lathrup Village indicate that either few Republicans voted or that few Republicans voted in their party's primary.

TO DETERMINE the crossover, the Observer looked up voting patterns for each locality in the 1970 election. Assuming that the vote for secretary of state is the most truly partisan vote, it was found that Republican candidate Emil Lockwood reaped 42.56 per cent of the votes cast in Observerland and Democrat Richard Austin got 57.46 per cent.

But in the May primary, only 16.46 per cent of the Observerland votes cast were Republican.

The percentage of Republican crossover can be estimated by dividing the 1970 percentage into the 1972 figure and subtracting from 100 per cent. Using this method, the crossover appears to be 62 per cent.

A number of assumptions are made in this method, primarily that Republicans voted with their party for secretary of state in 1970.

But Michigan voters in general have displayed considerable ticket splitting in voting patterns in recent years, contributing to the election of two Republican governors in a heavily Democratic state.

Also, the 1970 figures do not reflect the large number of 18 to 20 year-old voters that have since been added to the voting polls. In Redford Township, this percentage is set at 10 per cent of the total vote.

EVEN PREDOMINATELY Republican areas such as Plymouth and Farmington gave considerable support to Austin in 1970.

But assuming that the secretary of state vote in 1970 is the best gauge available, the crossover hits well over half of the party members who voted in the primary.

Some of the Republican votes could have been directed at Sen. George McGovern (D-South Dakota), but Wallace's large portion of the votes, despite Democratic Party opposition, indicates he reaped the largest portion of the crossover.

One Democratic official said the results indicate "a complete destruction of the primary system."

He and other officials suggest that a party registration system would give an accurate primary vote. Some states already use party registration for voting in the primary giving persons up to six months prior to the election time to change their registration.

BECAUSE NATIONAL convention delegates are elected in proportion to the vote candidates receive in the primary, a party registration system would assure that delegates are elected to represent their party and not the opposing party.

The results from the Observerland community show that the largest crossover of Republicans was in Garden City, where, if the same method is used, 70.6 per cent of the Republicans crossed over.

The crossover from the other communities is as follows: Redford Township, 69.4 per cent; Westland, 68.9 per cent; Livonia, 60.3 per cent; Plymouth Township, 58.4 per cent; Southfield, 57 per cent; Lathrup 54 per cent; Farmington Township, 52 per cent; City of Farmington 51.8 per cent; and City of Plymouth, 42.3 per cent.

School Aid Bill Draws 2 'Nays'

LANSING

The $1.1 billion school aid bill passed the State Senate last week with opposition from two local senators, including Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) who is on the education committee.

Sen. David Plawecki (D-Dearborn Heights) also voted against the bill. Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) voted for it and Sen. Daniel Cooper (D-Oak Park) didn't vote.

FAUST SAID he voted against it because he had hoped the Legislature would hold off action on the appropriations bill until it provided some assurance that property tax reform would be on the August or November election ballot.

"I thought the most powerful weapon we had was to not pass this bill," he said.

Faust said he opposed final action on the education bill until there was some provision for letting voters decide on the method of financing education, which is currently the property tax.

Other weaknesses exist in the bill, he said, citing the lack of provision for funding programs for the mentally and physically handicapped students.

THE BILL was the first appropriations bill to be approved in either the Senate or House this year. It was sent to the House.

The Senate version marks a $90 million increase in spending for education over last year. It includes an amendment to prohibit the use of the $34.7 million earmarked for transportation for financing busing between school districts to achieve racial integration.

Faust said the bill perpetuates the inequity created when the Legislature first began to provide transportation funds for rural school districts. Those school districts located in urban areas are not reimbursed for transportation expenses.
