Sponsors of Plymouth participation in the three-city Vince Lombardi Junior Football League have obtained more than $10,000 worth of new equipment for the boys and hope to double the size of the program this fall. Registration is set for Aug. 12. These are among the details in Plymouth Brevities.

Plan For Bonds

Plymouth's school board is beginning to make plans to submit a bond issue to the electorate late this year, and a four-man committee has been created to formulate campaign details. In addition, a public relations committee also is being formed.

YOUR HOMETOWN NEWSPAPER

When whittled down to its marrow, the biggest emphasis for this area in Tuesday's statewide primary election falls upon the Republican contest for nomina- Lilley Rd., and Thomas P. Sullivan, of 9124 Lilley Rd. tion to the post of Plymouth supervisor.

It is a race which pits the incumbent, Maurice M. Breen, against the establishment of the GOP in the township, and which has turned into a public battle between Breen and his own party's candidate for reelection as township treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth of trustees in 1968. In 1970 he decided to run for Holmes.

In addition to waging his own campaign against two party rivals, Breen is openly supporting a political newcomer, Mrs. Anna Milligan, for the Republican nomination as treasurer in an effort to unseat Mrs. Holmes, who has held the office since 1953.

In turn, Mrs. Holmes has taken up the cudgel to try and whip Breen, bringing into public glare the long simmering political feud between the two.

Newspaper advertising has linked Mrs. Holmes as running in a parlay with supervisor aspirant J.D. McLaren, but she admits to equal endorsement of the third GOP candidate, Wilson Augustine, emphasizing that Breen's defeat is more important to her than the question of who accomplishes it.

TOWNSHIP DEMOCRATS face no such in-fighting as the Republicans, who also are caught up in a six-way party scrap for the two nominations which are at stake for the board of trustees. In this contest the pair seeking reelection are Russell Ash and Gerald

Here is the full list of township candidates:

Supervisor -- Maurice M. Breen, incumbent, of 41121 Greenbrook Lane; J.D. McLaren, of 12815 Beacon Hill Dr., and Wilson R. Augustine, of 47566 Joy Rd. (Republicans). Joseph G. Krochmalny, of 40514 Pinetree (Democrat).

Clerk - Helen I. Richardson, incumbent, of 9110 Morrison (Republican). Lois Lane, of 9665 Haggerty Rd. (Democrat).

Treasurer - Elizabeth Holmes, incumbent, of 8801 Oakview, and Anna Milligan, of 42405 Schoolcraft (Republicans). (There are no Democratic candidates).

Trustee -- Russell Ash, incumbent, of 47192 Stonecrest Ct.; Gerald J. Burke, incumbent, of 11232 Russell; Richard Gornick, of 11849 Amherst Ct.; Gordon T. Campbell, of 45050 Joy Rd.; William L. Evans, of 15114 Maplewood Lane, and Soren T. Pedersen, of 9011 S. Main (Republicans). Earl A. Dey, of 11580 Parkview Dr.; Ralph Goble, of 15149 Bradner, and Joseph A. Rey Sr. of 11456 Mona Ct. (Democrats).

Constable (Two to be elected) - Donald King, of 41151 Micol Dr., and Jame L. Cousino, of 11220 Haggerty (Republicans). Douglas J. Ritter, of 9100 (Democrats).

BREEN IS 39 and served several years as a member, as well as chairman, of the township planning commission before he was elected to the board supervisor after the retirement of John D. McEwen and was elected after narrowly defeating Paul Albright in the primary.

An attorney, he holds bachelor and law degrees from Wayne State University. He was on the legal staff of the Wayne County Road Commission for five years and also served as special assistant to the Michigan attorney general while in private practice. He is a former director and officer of the Plymouth Jaycees and also former president of the Lake Pointe Homeowners Association.

McLaren is 56 and a graduate of Plymouth High School. He also attended Detroit Business University. Wayne State University and the University of Michigan. He is owner and manager of the McLaren Company, McLaren-Silkworth Oil Co. and the McLaren Transit Mix Co. He was a member of the Plymouth school board from 1963 to 1967, and when a resident of the city, served on the municipal board of review from 1959 to 1970.

Augustine is 62 and has a bachelors degree from Oberlin University. For 24 years he has been Michigan representative of the Mueller Co., engaged in sales of water and gas utilities materials.

Krochmalny, the only Democrat running for supervisor, is 33. He graduated from the University of Detroit and is a financial analyst for American Motors. His background includes work in all phases of accounting, and he also is vice chairman of the local Democratic committee.

ALL CANDIDATES were asked by the League of Women Voters to state their positions on township priorities, the league stressing that it is a nonpartisan organization whose purpose is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in their government. The candidates for supervisor gave these replies:

Breen: "I reiterate the position that I have followed for some eight years of active township leadership: First and foremost, the attempt to treat every individual and business in a fair and courteous

In fact, if our Fall Festival committee would like to go back to the days when the Rotary chicken barbecue included Loren's special dinner rolls, he and Loren Jr. are ready to provide them, just as they did in a quantity of 14,000 for the last time in 1967.

Confidentially, they are just as good as ever, too. Our clan found that out during our own tour north when we discovered the Goodales back in the bakery business on Norway Street, just off Grayling's main

That is Plymouth's greatest northern gathering point, as many of its young people soak in the culture, and droves of parents arrive to enjoy the magnificence of the weekend concerts.

What a pleasure, for instance, on a Saturday night at Interlochen to encounter Gerry Fischer - our former school board president -- who was in from Hope College, Holland, Mich., New York, with his family.

No one is interested in hearing a travelogue of another's vacation, but most of us usually come up with one unique experience. In our own case it was canoeing, for the first time ever, some 17 miles down the Au Sable.

The ghosts of the Ottawa and Chippewa Indians who long ago used that same stream must have shuddered as the amateurs paddled by, caroming off logs and stumps, but the beauty of it all was worth every moment and sore muscle.

ONE CAN'T HELP but be impressed by the imagination, and the cooperation between government and private business, that has helped lead to the boom of the entire Grand Traverse Bay area.

William S. Smith, in a Traverse City Record-Eagle editorial, praised the hundreds of persons whose efforts and talents helped make the recent 1972 Cherry Festival another great success. He said, in his discussion:

"PERHAPS MANY of us who live here are too prone to take the whole thing for granted, just as we are inclined to accept the bay waters, the hills, the woodlands and all the other scenic beauties with which this region is blessed. They're here, and we sometimes are not truly appreciative.

"But the Festival goes on and on, maintaining its high caliber of programs and its multitude of entertaining events year after year -- and it does so because there are local people who make it go."

Well, the secret of success is the same in Plymouth, in Benton Harbor, in Holland and throughout this great state of Michigan where an annual local festival of one sort or another helps give identity to so many communities.

Township To License Mini-Bikes

Starting on Sept. 1 all mini bikes, motor scooters, snowmobiles and all other motor driven vehicles must be licensed in Plymouth Township.

Over the opposition of Clerk Helen Richardson and Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes, the trustees approved an ordinance calling for noise abatement and the licensing of the vehicles in hope of gaining better control of what has become a problem.

Both officials who cast negative votes claimed the ordinance did not cover the noise problem that was the original complaint of the residents. They also claimed that the licensing procedure would be an extra burden on the clerk's office.

Paralyzed From Polio, Mettetal Pilot Solos Despite His Handicap

By DOUG JOHNSON

On some early evenings if you pass by the open hanger at Mettetal Airport you may see a wheelchair parked next to a wall.

The owner, crippled by polio, is learning to fly.

In fact, last week Richard Schwendenmann, 22, of Redford Township soloed for the first time. Those who fly single engine small aircraft know what his accomplishment means.

A pilot must operate the stick to lift the plne, the throttle, and the rudders. The rudders are operated normally by the feet, but he is paralized from the wait

Schwendenmann must use a specially engineered device that allows him to operate the rudders with his hands.

HOW DID the first solo flight rfeel? "I was nervous - that's about all I can say - nervous."

Nervous or not, he is determined to get his private pilot's license. Both he and his instructor at the school, Don Potocki. are convinced he can make it.

"I got interested one day when I went with my boss on a flight over some property my father owned," Schwendenmann said. "I enjoyed it, and I thought that here was something I'd like to learn. So I looked for some information on learning to fly, and gave it a whirl," he noted.

To fly, he purchased a special device which must be attached to the foot pedals for the rudders. Designed by a flyer who is aso crippled, William Blackwood, the device will work on various models of the Piper Cherokee line of aircraft.

Schwendenmann said he liked the Piper model because it had a hand brake rather than brakes on the floor. As proof that others like him can fly, Schwendenmann notes he bought No. 51 of the devices made by Blackwood.

Schwendenmann, who lives with his father at 10123 Tecumseh in Redford Township, works as a clerk in Livonia for a Standard Oil fuel dealer, Milton L. Stover, whose dealership is at 13301 Inkster Road.

The young pilot began flying in April, and has logged about 13 hours so far. He must complete 55 to 60 to get his license. "I think he will also get some instrument ratings," Potocki said. Before he flew, starting in April, he had attended ground school.

A graduate of Thurston, Schwendenmann comes to the airport two or three times a week. Flying lessons cost at the rate of about $18 an hour (plane plus instructor).

His big dream -- a pilot's license, and a twin engine Cessna Skymaster, which costs about $60,000.

The toughest thing to do, he notes, is landing, because it takes all kinds of eye and hand coordination.

"BUT IT has nothing to do with being handicapped," he added.

Lessons take place within a 10-mile radius of the airport. located at Joy and Lilly Roads in Canton Township just south of Plymouth. The instructors work for Plymouth Aero Inc.

Schwendenmann gets to and from work and flying lessons using a van, also equipped with special hand controls, built and patented by he and his father.

Instructor Potocki is obviously pleased with his student.

He is confident that Schwendenmann will not give up until he reaches his goal.

Monday, Schwendenmann. and another instructor who works with Potocki, Todd Pederson, (only 19 but a qualified teacher) took the promising pilot up for more instruction.

SCHWEDENMANN said that the first flight'- the one over his father's land - made him air

Apparently it was only temporary, and has been replaced by a desire to master flying.

SPECIAL CONTROLS enable Schwendenmann to fly the plane without the use of his legs. The device was invented by a man who is also crippled.

Michigan farmers are harvesting large crops of both sweet and tart cherries, he reports. Most of Michigan's cherry crop is harvested in July, but the fruit is available until mid-August from northern farms.

What is Your Position on Busing?

ROBERT P. GRIFFIN

AN OPEN LETTER FROM U.S. SENATOR ROBERT P. GRIFFIN TO ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANK KELLEY

FRANK KELLEY

July 26, 1972 Dear Mr. Kelley:

Your call for a moratorium on discussion of busing is an affront to the intelligence of Michigan voters. What they want, and have a right to expect, is a moratorium that would stop busing — not discussion.

Furthermore, since you are a candidate for U.S. Senator, the people of Michigan expect you to answer, not only for your past record but also as to how you would vote on the important legislative proposals related to busing which are pending in the Senate.

Your suggestion for a moratorium on discussion came in a hastily called press conference after I responded Monday morning to a reporter's question about your handling of the appeal in the Roth case.

As I indicated, I was appalled and disappointed to learn that the Court of Appeals in Cincinnati found it necessary to be "highly critical" of delays by your office in perfecting the appeal.

As the Detroit Free Press reported on July 18:

"The three-judge appeals court panel was highly critical of the failure of Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley and his staff to pursue an early appeal of Roth's controversial ruling.

After you dramatically rushed back from the Democratic National Convention at Miami to take "personal charge" of the Roth case, it was noticed by many that you did not personally appear in court but left the job of arguing the case to a subordinate, Robert Derengoski.

Reporting on the hearing July 17 in Cincinnati, the same Free Press article said:

"Only the purchase of the buses — the lone facet of Roth's decision which is final — was at issue Monday. When State Solicitor General Robert Derengoski tried to broaden his arguments to discuss Roth's entire decision, Judge Edwards said:

'If you are so eager to have us hear those issues, why have you not asked Judge Roth for certification (to pursue an early appeal)? Why are you avoiding asking for certification? And why have you avoided it all along?'"

On July 23, The Detroit News found it necessary to comment on your handling of the appeal as follows:

"Coupled with other indications of either incompetence or apathy on the part of Kelley's office, it might be quite in order for the state to engage a law firm dedicated to the anti-busing position and thoroughly prepared to defend it. Kelley's record of supporting busing is not the stuff of which vigorous pleadings are made."

I do not know whether 'such blunders were due to "apathy or incompetence," as The Detroit News has suggested, or whether your delay in perfecting the appeal was deliberately timed for political reasons related to the November election.

I do know that in your press conference Monday you did not answer obvious questions raised by the criticism directed at you by the Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

You have repeatedly talked about your "personal" efforts to obtain a stay of Judge Roth's order. However, I am told that you have made no personal appearances in court; and that on Thursday, July 20, when the Court of Appeals heard arguments and issued a stay order, you were actually in New York, not Cincinnati, attempting to hire a speechwriter for your campaign.

Whatever the reasons for your actions and inaction in the Roth case that look like foot-dragging, your views and various positions on busing are a central issue in this campaign. Instead of a moratorium on discussion, how about some clarification from you?

ers of the Michigan Democratic Party signed a policy statement endorsing busing. You said then:

"We accept busing as an instrument for immediate implementation of the courts' rulings. We accept busing as an imperfect and temporary mechanism to help erase the imbalances in our educational system."

Following the Democratic convention Miami, you registered some disapproval of the national platform plank on busing, which reads:

Transportation of students is another tool to accomplish desegregation. It must continue to be available according to Supreme Court decisions to eliminate legally imposed segregation and improve the quality of education for all children."

After studying the two statements, I am at a loss to understand how you could support one and reject the other.

Because of the confusion and misunderstanding which has arisen from your inconsistent statements on busing, I call upon you to answer, directly and forthrightly, some questions which Michigan voters have on their minds. First of all, Mr. Kelley

1. Do you now support or repudiate the policy statement supporting busing which you signed last October?

From time to time since your announcement as a candidate for Senator, you have said you oppose cross-district busing. But in January of this year, you told a conference of school administrators in Grand Rapids that you favor one-way cross-district busing. You said:

"We know that we should get inner city children out of the ghetto schools but we are not accomplishing anything by sending suburban

2. Do you still favor one-way cross-district busing?

You have been critical because, along with President Nixon, I have tried to secure enactment by Congress of legislative proposals to stop — not just postpone — forced busing. The failure of Congress to act so far is due in part to the fact that few other states have experienced the busing threat posed by Judge Roth's order. In addition, it should not be overlooked that your political party controls both houses of Congress by wide margins.

In February of this year, when the Higher Education bill was before the Senate, I offered an amendment designed to withdraw by statute the jurisdiction of federal courts to issue busing orders. The approach is similar to the Norris-LaGuardia Act which withdrew jurisdication from the federal courts to issue injunctions in certain labor dispute cases.

As you may recall, my amendment was adopted at first by a three vote margin. But later, after several Democratic Presidential candidates — including George McGovern — flew back from the Florida primary campaign, the amendment was reconsidered and defeated by a single vote. I think the people of Michigan are entitled to your answer to this question:

Paid For By Concerned Voters For Griffin, James Umphrey, Treasurer

3. If you were a member of the Senate, would you — like Senator McGovern — vote against such a proposal to withdraw jurisdication from the Federal courts to issue busing orders?

I have strongly supported President Nixon's legislative proposal for a moratorium on busing. He has been unsuccessful, thus far, because of opposition in Congress. I believe the people of Michigan are entitled to know —

4. If you were in the Senate, would you — like Senator Mc-Govern — oppose President Nixon's proposed moratorium on busing?

I have introduced a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution which reads as follows:

"This Constitution shall not be construed to require that pupils be assigned or transported to public schools on the basis of their race, color, religion, or national origin."

At one point you astounded Michigan's legal community with your comment that my proposed Constitutional amendment on busing would be held "unconstitutional" by the Supreme Court. From press reports, I learned that your Deputy, Leon Cohan, tried to straighten you out when he said something that most lawyers already know:

"A constitutional amendment is in itself correct (legal) and cannot be declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court."

Michigan voters would like to know now, Mr. Kelley,

5. Do you still believe that a Constitutional amendment to prohibit forced busing would be unconstitutional?

6. If you were in the Senate, would you — like Senator Mc-Govern — oppose my proposal for a Constitutional amendment to prohibit forced busing?

I agree with you that there are other important issues besides busing to be discussed in our campaign. You may be certain that there will be discussion about differences between us on foreign policy and other domestic issues. However, at the outset of this campaign, in light of the intense interest of the people in the busing problem, I believe they are entitled to straight answers from you to the questions set forth in this letter.

On October 7, 1971, I said that I believe it is . . .

"... fundamentally wrong for any instrumentality of government — including a court — to discriminate in the treatment of children on the basis of race.

"To assign and transport a child to a school far from his home, solely because he happens to be black or white, runs counter to the basic guarantees that our forefathers thought they wrote into our Constitution."

That is how I stand on busing, Mr. Kelley.

Now, what is your position?

Sincerely

Jonep Bigger.

Robert P. Griffin U.S. Senator

Law To Help 18-Year-Olds

LANSING A bill introduced by State Rep. Marvin R. Stempien (D-Livonia) to expand the home buying market to young people has received final legislative approval.

The Stempien bill changes the Michigan Probate Code, primarily allowing unmarried persons over 18 years of age to buy a home without special petitions, bonds, notices, inventories, accountings, and confirmations.

The legislation compliments an earlier law, also sponsored by Stempien, which opens home buying to married persons between 18 and 21 years of age.

"These young people were formerly minors under the law," Stempien said, "but under the new Age of Majority Act they are legally adults. This new legislation will bring state probate statutes in the area of mortgages into conformity with the Age of Majority Act and will mean additional new rights for our young citizens.

"If these young people can vote, serve in the armed forces and exercise adult rights and responsibilities in other fields, they surely should have the right to buy homes without unnecessary entanglements."

He points out that the new law will offer the home buying rights now limited to married young people to all persons 18 years old and older.

"Admittedly," he said, "the number of unmarried persons between the ages of 18 and 21 who want to buy homes is comparatively small. Yet, there have been any number of instances in which persons under 21 were in a position to buy a home but have had difficulty in doing so simply because they were unmarried. Michigan law now rightly grants these young people equality.

The City of Detroit also has a

The City of Detroit also has a health department, which is supposed to coordinate and cooperate with the county. Although people from both the city and county health departments have tried, they have not been able effectively to coordinate their separate programs.

Nearly 4,000 mothers annually in Detroit fail to get before and after birth medical care and counseling, despite the fact that six different agencies in the city and the county offer such services.

• City-county programs to control tuberculosis have been stalled for years because of a fight between the two health departments about what is the best method of treating the disease.

• One of the biggest health problems of our time is the mushrooming spread of venereal disease. Effective programs to cope with the problem have never got off the ground because of a city-county debate on who was responsible for funding and operation.

• Recently a city-county health director of public health resigned because of the constant fights and bickering between the two local governments.

IT'S AN APPALLING situation, and one that shouldn't be allowed to go on any longer.

And fortunately, something is being done about it.

In a just-released report, a special Detroit-Wayne County task force has recommended the merger of the two health departments.

Specifically, the committee suggests creation of a five-member County Health Board, with three representatives of the county picked by the board of commissioners and two city representatives picked by the mayor. This board would select a county health director, who would merge the operations of both departments within one year

The report also advocates increased citizen participation in public health matters through a system of advisory councils and establishment of a new management - planning unit to tighten up administrative procedures and get better use of the tax money spent for public health.

The report has been submitted to the County Board of Commissioners and the Detroit Common Council.

JOHN McCanh, Wayne County Commissioner from Livonia, served as co-chairman of the merger study committee. He backs the merger: "Bally-hoo and huffing and puffing, the worrying, and threatening, about cleaning up the environment will be nomore than that unless we put together the government system needed to do the cleanup job. A powerful public health system with an efficient environmental control program that unifies action for the entire county would be possible under a single city-county health department."

Other advantages of the merger include elimination of the bickering and fighting between the two departments that have paralyzed effective health programs in the past, reduction of overlapping administrations to get more coherent direction and policy formation, and elimination of some duplicated positions with consequent reduction in operating expenses.

The study committee also argues that the merged department would be one of the biggest in the country, and thus more able to get an increased share of federal public health funds that are becoming available.

OF COURSE, the argument isn't all one-sided.

If the plan goes through, Detroit would gradually cut its share of funding responsibility, which means that over a period of time county taxpayers would have to pick up part of the tab. Then, too, there is the worry that a merged health department might spawn a huge, expensive bureaucracy.

But, on balance, the argument clearly favors merging the two departments.

Merger would bring more effective health care to the resdents of this area, probably with increased federal support. It would stop the squabbling that has hindered health programs in the past, and it would allow a tough, business-like administration which would save the taxpayers some money.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners and the Detroit Common Council should approve the proposed merger promptly.

TEAMWORK AT LAST?

Tip To Voters On Tactics Used By Politicians

Suburban voters will soon be barraged by volumes of political campaign material in the next week or two by candidates for various state legislative, congressional, and county commission positions.

A newspaper editor is usually deluged with much more political material than the average voter reads in his favorite newspaper at home.

I FEEL this is a good time to let the average voter who usually doesn't know one candidate from another in on a few secrets of putting together campaign statements.

In addition, there are a few tricks to the trade of trying to con the voters that candidates wish the public didn't know about.

In the interest of public service, which includes spoiling a few political secrets, here a few tips to the voting public.

Watch for the key phrases such as "busing, tax reform, welfare reform, representation of YOU the voter, and public service to my constituents."

LET'S TAKE a few of the key catchwords that politicans like to use in the campaign without saying too much.

Busing is on everyone's mind. Most candidates — if they want to get anyone's vote other than their own and their wife's — are opposed to cross-district busing.

They always claim that parents "have a constitutional right" to attend their neighborhood school.

If a candidate tells you that, ask him which constitution he is referring to. The federal constitution in no way refers to neighborhood schools. In fact, the constitution doesn't even mention schools. Only the federal and state governments are named.

"concerned" about tax reform.
But they are careful to avoid saying whether they are opposed to reform or in favor of it. In addition, they are usually caught between one conflict and another when pressed on details.

For example, they want to reduce property taxes for schools but are reluctant to raise the state income tax to make up the difference. If a candidate tells you that he wants more services for less taxes, throw him out of the building. He is a fraud.

"Representation" is an important promise to taxpayers by candidates. If you happen to run into a candidate, ask him to explain in detail how he plans to carry out this goal.

MANY OFFICIALS usually lose touch with their supporters within hours after being sworn into office. They also get an unlisted telephone number and appear again only during the campaign for re-election for another term.

If an incumbent happens to mention such things as tax reform, welfare program problems, and the like, try asking him why he hasn't done anything about those issues while he is in office.

If he is a challenger, ask him specifically just how he plans to solve the tax and welfare problems.

Usually, you'll get some answer like "I'll have to give it more study after I'm in office."

Enthusiasm Wanes On County Home Rule

Two years ago, we gave a rousing endorsement to the home rule charter proposal for Wayne County. It was defeated, and the proposal has been placed again on the Aug. 8 ballot.

Things have changed since then, and we no longer have the same enthusiasm for county home rule that we once had.

WE NOTED in 1970 that the state law allowing county home rule was weak -- that it fails to give counties the same range of options to restructure their 19th century forms of government that a different state law gives to cities. It's legally possible for a charter not to contain any changes at all.

Indeed, with the crop of relative unknows running for charter commission, many of them obscure county employes, there's an excellent reason to think that an unaggressive, stand-pat, courthouse gang of candidates will be nominated Aug. 8 and elected in November. That helps dampen our previous enthusiasm.

What has happened since 1970 is that State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth), a vigorous reformer himself, has been pushing a bill to allow for a county executive — one who would have some real management and budget writing powers.

The bill has the strong support of Wayne County Commission Chairman Robert FitzPatrick (D-Detroit), a leading reformer.

OPPOSED TO the Pursell bill and advocating passage of the home rule proposal – are Prosecutor William Cahalan and other members of the courthouse gang.

We suspect they will work for a weak charter that will protect their little fiefdoms. We suspect they will try to hide behind a weak charter and frustrate efforts to get a strong county executive plan. The fact that Pursell and FitzPatrick are opposing the present county home rule proposal impresses us.

We suggest to our readers that those who still want to see county reform go ahead and vote for the home rule proposal Aug. 8. There will be another chance to vote again once the charter commission has done its work. If the charter is badly written, we can always kill it at the second election.

Sense And Nonsense

It looks like Canton Township is going to get another chance "to do it yourself."

Faced with the task of laying out the 20-acre park site made possible by state recreation bond money, Canton officials took up the offer of the Department of Natural Resources to do the layout at no cost to the township.

The township waited patiently for eight months for the DNR plans.

FINALLY, last week the "plan" arrived. It was a hastily penciled sketch on notepaper that looked like it took the best part of five minutes to prepare.

"We waited for eight months for this?" amazed and disappointed Canton recreation commission members asked.

What makes the incident doubly disappointing is the amount of time the township lost while DNR officials were supposedly working on the layout.

The "free" service turned out to be rather costly. That's one lesson the township learned. The other is that the expert is rarely the guy from out of town.

HCMA Deserves Support

"I like to pay taxes," Mr. Justice Holmes once said, "because with taxes I buy civilization."

Today, however, it's getting so that the reverse is true -- we need taxes to get some fresh air and beautiful land in our rapidly diminishing outdoors.

Specifically, we need to pass Proposal D on the Aug. 8 ballot a request for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, which is probably the most efficient and service-oriented governmental agency around.

At present, HCMA gets a quarter-mill from within the constitutional 15-mill limitation. This proposal would raise HCMA's share to a half-mill but place it outside the 15-mill limit.

What we're really voting on, then, is a half-mill increase to be in effect split between HCMA and the County Tax Allocation Board of each county. How that quarter-mill would be split between county, townships and schools would be up to each county allocation board.

The quarter-mill increase for HCMA sounds like peanuts. On a $30,000 house, it means a mere $3.75 a year, but spread over five counties (Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Livingston and Washtenaw), it will bring in nearly $5 million a year.

HCMA GOT its first quartermill in 1940 and in 32 years has developed nine metropolitan parks -- including Kensington, Metropolitan Beach, Stony Creek, Lower Huron, Marshbank and Willow -- in the valleys of the Huron and Clinton Rivers.

We continue to marvel at the superb job HCMA does in preserving the natural beauty, fitting thousands of visitors into the space so they don't bother each other, eeping the places clean, setting up eye-popping nature centers, controlling boat speeds, providing beautiful maps of roads and parks and canoe routes so the public can know what's available, mintaining clean beaches and clean picnic sites . . . and all with a fraction of the rowdiness problems other parks have.

But times are changing. Our current population of 4.5 million will grow to 6.1 million by 1990; HCMA's land holdings of 17,000 acres need to grow to 35,000 acres to satisfy our increasing interests in the outdoors; more and more of that original quarter-mill is going into operations, and we all need to chip in $3.75 or so more annually to provide more development funds.

WHAT WILL WE get for our noney?

• Redevelopment of Belle Isle, which since 1879 has been a true regional park — a new beach, nature trails, a public marina, boat launch, cultural arts center, sports activities center and street lighting. It's a $40 million project over 15-20 years.

Another Oakland County metropark, somewhere between Kensington and Stony Creek.
 (The site can't be identified yet.)
 Mill Creek park in Washtenaw County, west of Ann Arbor. This 4,000 acre site (a little smaller than Kensington) would get a 650-acre man-made lake and facilities similar to Kensington.

Point Mouillee park, 900 acres where the Huron River flows into Lake Erie. This would be essentially water-oriented; development is 10-15 years away.

ALTOGETHER, HCMA is talking about a $100 million-plus program over 20 years with the money properly apportioned between Detroit and the suburbs. Since HCMA exists for only one thing -- day use parks -- there is no danger the money can be used for anything else.

We urge a "yes" vote. With these taxes, to paraphrase Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., we will preserve nature and make civilization more bearable.

The Jaycees, including Gary Bartram (in the foreground) and Mike Giles (on the porch) painted the wood trim on the center at 8068 N. Project Chairman Jeff Johnson stressed that the Jaycees approved the project in May, long before recent city council criticism of the center's appearance. Besides the busing issue, persons answering the congressman's survey also favored an immediate pullout of American troops; felt that the federal government should provide more financial support for education; and favored a national health insurance plan modeled on the social security system.

Nearly 80 per cent of those responding felt that President Nixon's present wage-price controls have failed to slow down inflation.

FOLLOWING are the questions and responses to Ford's survey:

Traffic Safety Is Urged

Residents on James St. near Middle Belt Rd. in Garden City initiated a petition campaign last week to improve pedestrian safety conditions in their neighborhood.

The petition was prompted by the July 19 auto accident in which a 14-year-old boy was struck by a car after buying ice cream from a vendor on James St. The boy is now in traction in Garden City Osteopathic Hospital.

Parents circulating the petition hope to submit the petitions soon to city officials in the hopes of getting signs posted to slow down traffic on the residential street.

Corn Has Delicious History

By ELLY

A thousand years before Columbus, Indians in the southwestern part of what was to become the United States had learned to hybridize corn.

In the year 1000, when the Norsemen visited these shores, Leif Ericson told of the corn he found growing in the Cape Cod area. Botanists believe corn originated in Peru. Whole ears of corn, thousands of years old, have been found in ancient pre-Incan graves.

Whatever its origin, the Michigan corn season is here. Thanks to planned planting and the development of new species, corn lovers here are assured of plenty of fresh corn from now until the frost comes.

To boil fresh corn ears. plunge the husked ears into a large kettle of rapidly boiling water, enough to cover the ears. Do not salt during cooking. Cover and cook over high heat for eight to 10 minutes. Very fresh corn takes less cooking time. Drain at once and serve with butter, salt and pepper.

ROASTED CORN Pull back the husks and remove the silk. Replace the husks and tie into place with a piece of the husk. Soak corn in salted water for five minutes. Drain. Roast on grill over hot fire for 10 to 15 minutes, turning frequently. Remove husks and serve with butter, salt and pepper.

Ears may also be buried in hot coals after being soaked. Roast for 10 to 12 minutes. Remove husks and serve with butter, salt and pepper.

FRESH CREAMED CORN

Cut uncooked kernels of corn from the cob with a sharp knife. Place kernels in melted butter in a saucepan. Use two teaspoons of butter to each cup of corn. Cover, and cook over very low heat, stirring a few times until corn no longer has a starchy taste. Season with salt and pepper and add two tablespoons of cream to each cup of corn. For a thicker sauce add one tablespoon of cornstarch to the cream before adding it to the corn. Simmer for five minutes. stirring all the time.

SAUTEED CORN AND MUSHROOMS

- 2 T. butter or margarine 2 c. cut fresh corn

- 1 t. sugar 1/4 t. pepper Few springs parsley
- 1 pimiento, diced Cook mushrooms and onion in butter in skillet for about five minutes. Add remaining ingredients except parsley and pimiento and saute for about five minutes longer. Put in serving dish and sprinkle with parsley and pimiento. Makes four to six servings.

CORN PIE

- 2 c. fresh corn
- 1 lb. ground beef 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 T. salad oil or butter 2 T. chili powder (optional)
- 3/4 t. salt 4 fresh tomatoes, peeled and diced

1/2 pkg. corn muffin mix

Brown meat and onion in salad oil (or butter). Add the chili (or curry powder), salt and tomatoes. Cover and simmer over low heat for 15 minutes. Add the cut corn. Blend well. Pour into a greased 11/2-quart casserole. Top with corn muffin batter spreading it all over with a knife dipped in cold water. Bake in a 450-degree over for 20 to 30 minutes or until batter is cooked.

CORN QUICHE

- 1½ c. fresh corn 1/4 c. grated Swiss or Parmesan cheese 5 eggs
- 1½ c. light cream 1 t. instant minced onion
- 1 t. seasoned salt
- 1/8 t. pepper
- 4 slices crisp bacon, crumbied Pastry for one crust 9-inch pie, unbaked

Line nine-inch pie pan with pastry. Mix corn and cheese and put in bottom of pastrylined pan. Beat eggs with cream, onion and seasonings. Pour over corn. Sprinkle with bacon. NELSON SCHRADER

What is Chippendale furniture? There were three cabinet makers named Chippendale: Thomas, his son and his grandson. They designed and made all kinds of furniture in a great variety of designs. At first their furniture was heavy in scale, but gradually it be-came lighter. Their favorite material was mahogany. He often designed whole interiors, which were very elegant using rich fabrics with soft but definite colors -- yellows, green-grays, and sometimes lacquer red.

Whole interiors can be designed with the help of the decorating service at

To learn the truth about Palace Guard begin reading here

You know, some folks still aren't quite sure just what this phrase, "Palace Guard" means to them. Well, to the home buyer, it means that he won't have to worry about all those bothersome things that sometimes go wrong in a home to cost him extra time and money in repairing or replacement of drains, water heaters, furnace motors, and the like. He knows that when he buys a home through us with the Palace Guard contract, his time and money will be safe.

To the home seller, it means PEOPLE. It means people coming to see his home, people who feel confident about buying a home that carries a Palace Guard Home Service Contract because they know its importance. They know that for one full year, the Palace Guard people will repair or replace, in the event of operational failure under normal use or service, absolutely free of charge, any parts within your home. That includes your central heating system, plumbing fixtures, plumbing system, electrical system, water heater . . . even your hot and cold air ducts. And they like that kind of protection.

It's free to the buyer, and free to the seller. It costs us money, but we think it's worth it. Don't
