Santa Claus Arrives Saturday!

By MARTHA MAHAN

The Christmas season will open with song and twinkling lights in Plymouth Saturday and the top man, himself, will be there.

Santa Claus will arrive at Kellogg Park at noon Saturday.

On hand to greet the jolly old gent will be Mayor James McKeon and Township Supervisor John McLaren. Most of the area's young folks are expected too, for a wide-eyed stare at Santa and to watch as the park's Christmas trees spring into bright, gay color.

Santa will lead his young followers in holiday songs before following the red footsteps, which have miraculously appeared on the sidewalks, to his headquarters at 825 Penniman (formerly Schrader's Furniture store).

The footsteps will serve as happy guides, too, for children wishing to talk with Santa right up to Christmas Eve. He will be at his headquarters each week day from 1 to 5 p.m., with an additional two hours -- from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. -- on Fridays. Santa, along with his elves, also will be on hand to take in the whispered secrets from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturdays and from noon to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

Santa's arrival is just the beginning of a month long celebration arranged by the Christmas committee of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

A public Christmas walk, dubbed "A Christmas Carol," will be held for adults only on Friday, Dec. 1 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and again from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

A Christmas bazaar, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club, will be held at Masonic Hall Dec. 2 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A Christmas open house, with Santa and his elves among the celebrants, will be held in Old Village on Dec. 3 from noon to 5 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

A "mitten tree" will stand at the Detroit Edison Co. office from Dec. 4-18 under sponsorship of the Woman's Club of Plymouth.

All members of the community are urged to donate children's mittens to be hung on the tree for needy children. The office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. for donors.

On Dec. 10, the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra will present a Christmas concert in the Plymouth High School auditorium at 4 p.m. The Lion's Club will conduct a candy cane sale Dec. 15-16. Judging of home and store Christmas decorations will be carried out Dec. 16 under sponsorship of the Jaycees.

Boys and girls unable to visit Santa in person or who have last minute thoughts about gifts may talk with him by telephone from Dec. 20-23 between the hours of 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Children may make a "Call to Santa" by calling the Chamber of Commerce. That program also is sponsored by the Jaycees.

City Manager Gaffney Resigns

By W. EDWARD WENDOVER

City Manager Norman M. Gaffney has resigned his position effective Friday, Dec. 1.

Gaffney tendered his letter of resignation to Mayor James McKeon at the close of Monday night's city commission meeting.

Although he did not cite why he was resigning, it was evident that the growing friction between him and the commission was a major factor in his decision.

Gaffney said that although he did not have another job lined up, he would remain in the public service field and that he was interviewing for at least one position next week.

The commission accepted his resignation without comment.

In his letter of resignation, the city manager praised his department heads and other city employees "who are so dedicated in community progress."

"I AM VERY proud of the accomplishments made in the last two years and offer best wishes for much progress in the future."

"I would like to extend my thanks and appreciation for the courtesies and cooperation which were afforded me by the commission, the various boards and the employees," Gaffney's letter said.

In another statement released over the weekend, Gaffney listed the new cultural center as "my greatest achievement."

Teachers, Schools Reach Accord On 1973-74 Pact

The Plymouth Community School District and its teachers have reached agreement on their 1973-74 contract.

In bargaining which both sides described as "harmonious," the Plymouth Education Assn. (PEA) and the school board negotiators reached tentative agreement, which includes a 4.5 per cent across the board pay increase, last Wednesday.

In a ratification vote Tuesday afternoon, the teachers voted 237 to 18 in favor of the contract.

School Board President George Lawton said that six of the seven school board members who could be contacted had given verbal approval of the agreement and that it is expected the board will formally approve the pact at its next meeting Tuesday.

THE AGREEMENT, which will cost the district about an additional $300,000 for the school year, includes in addition to the 4.5 per cent across the board increases:

- An increase in employee life insurance from $10,000 to $15,000.

- An increase in sixth grade camp teacher and weekly director salaries from $80 to $100.

The salary increase will mean about $400 to $500 per year more to the average Plymouth teacher.

In addition, the PEA has pledged its support to the Dec. 11 millage bonding question and has said it "dedicates its association membership to active participation in the educational programs."

The PEA said it will donate labor and money to the bond program millage drive.

ACCORDING TO the tentative agreement, an "on-going committee will be formed to study salaries of teachers involved in coaching and advising extra-curricular activities.

There is no stipulation for class size in the new contract - an item which many PEA members had wanted in the 1972-73 contract.

Ray Homer, chief negotiator for the PEA said it was virtually impossible to include class size statistics with the growth projected for the district.

Lawton said there were "no philosophical differences between teachers, administrators and the school board on class size."

THE BARGAINING for next year's contract began soon after the 1972-73 contract was ratified in late September. Bargaining usually begins in May and a settlement is reached sometime near the beginning of the school year.

Both the PEA officials and the district's representatives praised the quick negotiations this time.

Homer said the bargaining sessions were marked by "harmony and cooperation with an emphasis on problem solving.

"We've discontinued the adversary relationship we've had in the past," he added.

"I think the PEA has accepted the position that it's desirable for everyone to act in the interests of better education," Homer said, adding that he estimated this bargaining session represented one per cent of the time and energy usually seen in negotiations.

SUBSEQUENTLY, both sides agreed there was a saving in legal fees.

John Ryder, PEA president, said the bargaining saw "a lot more positive approach this time."

Ryder said that he and Homer; Bill Grimmer, PEA vice president; and Joe Henshaw, PEA president elect, were going to recommend that the PEA membership ratify the agreement.

"Maybe this will set a pattern and in the future years we won't have to wait to see what the others (districts) settled for," Ryder said.

Goble Pleads Guilty To Larceny Charge

By MAURIE WALKER

Ralph Goble, 29, former supervisor of new construction for the Plymouth School District, has, through his attorney, pleaded guilty to "attempted larceny from a building under construction."

Arrested Sept. 13 on a charge of larceny over $100, Goble through his attorney, offered the reduced plea before Wayne County Circuit Judge Benjamin D. Burdick. The judge is taking the plea under consideration and has scheduled Jan. 9 as the date for a decision.

Goble had turned himself into the Redford State Police post, saying at the time, "I don't know what the whole thing is about."

The warrant against Goble charged that he "feloniously did steal a Universal Hot Cabinet (from Canton High School) which then and there was owned or possessed by the school."

STATE POLICE, however, charge that Goble is responsible for the disappearance of several other items of food hauling equipment.

He had been hired for the supervisor post in the spring of 1971 after being recommended by the site committee made up of former Supt. James Rossman and former trustee John Hanskat.

He is free on $1,000 personal bond pending outcome of the trial.

GRIM SEARCH -- Braving the icy waters of Wilcox Lake last week were skin divers from the Michian State Police who are seeking the whereabouts of John Edward Higgins, 22, of 616 Church St., Plymouth. Higgins has been missing since early in the morning Nov. 13 when the car he was driving went off the road at Hines Dr. and Northville Rd. His passenger, Edwin A. Cooper of 600 Lindsey Dr., Plymouth, went for help. When he returned Higgins was gone. State police feared he may have wandered into the lake. A long search by police has thus far failed to turn up any clues. (Observer photo by Maurie Walker)

Building Pacts OK'd By S'craft

Schoolcraft College trustees awarded $173,550 in contracts for construction of an addition to the Liberal Arts building last week.

H. F. Goode Building Co. of Taylor was the lowest of 12 bidders for the architectural contract. The company bid $87,000 on the base bid and $4,400 on an alternate bid for carpeting.

The mechanical contract went to McDonald Plumbing & Heating of Detroit which was lowest of six bidders meeting specifications. The company gave a base bid of $66,240 and an alternate bid on lawn sprinklers of $1,150.

The lowest of nine bids on the electrical contract was Durand Electric Co. of Livonia with a bid of $14,760.

Completion of the addition is scheduled for July.

P.O. BOX Drugs

How Drugs Can Affect Olympians

Questions should be sent to the Community Commission on Drug Abuse, P.O. Box Drugs, Livonia 48151.

This Summer's Olympic games have prompted a number of questions. We are answering several representative examples today.

Q. What drug was the Olympic swimmer, Rick DeMont, taking? Was he cheating? Do you think he should have lost his gold medal because of this? Who was to blame?

J.L. Southfield
A. First of all, the drug, (really a combination of three drugs) was called Marax. This is a prescription drug used for the relief of asthma and which Rick has had to take since childhood. The ingredient which caused him to lose the gold medal was ephedrine, a drug which has mild stimulation as a possible side effect.

This particular use of the drug was legitimate so there is no question of cheating.

The more difficult question is, "Who's to blame?" There have been a lot of charges and counter-charges: the athlete, coaches, team physicians have all been blamed in one way or another. The unfortunate fact is that, according to Olympic rules, use of the particular drug even if legitimate and properly reported would still automatically require disqualification.

Q. I've heard it said that drugs are commonly used to increase athletic achievement. The way Olympic records have been falling in recent years, I'm almost forced to believe this. Is there something to this?

P.M. Livonia
A. In fierce competition when every possible advantage is taken (including shaving the head to decrease drag in swimming), it was inevitable that drugs would be tried.

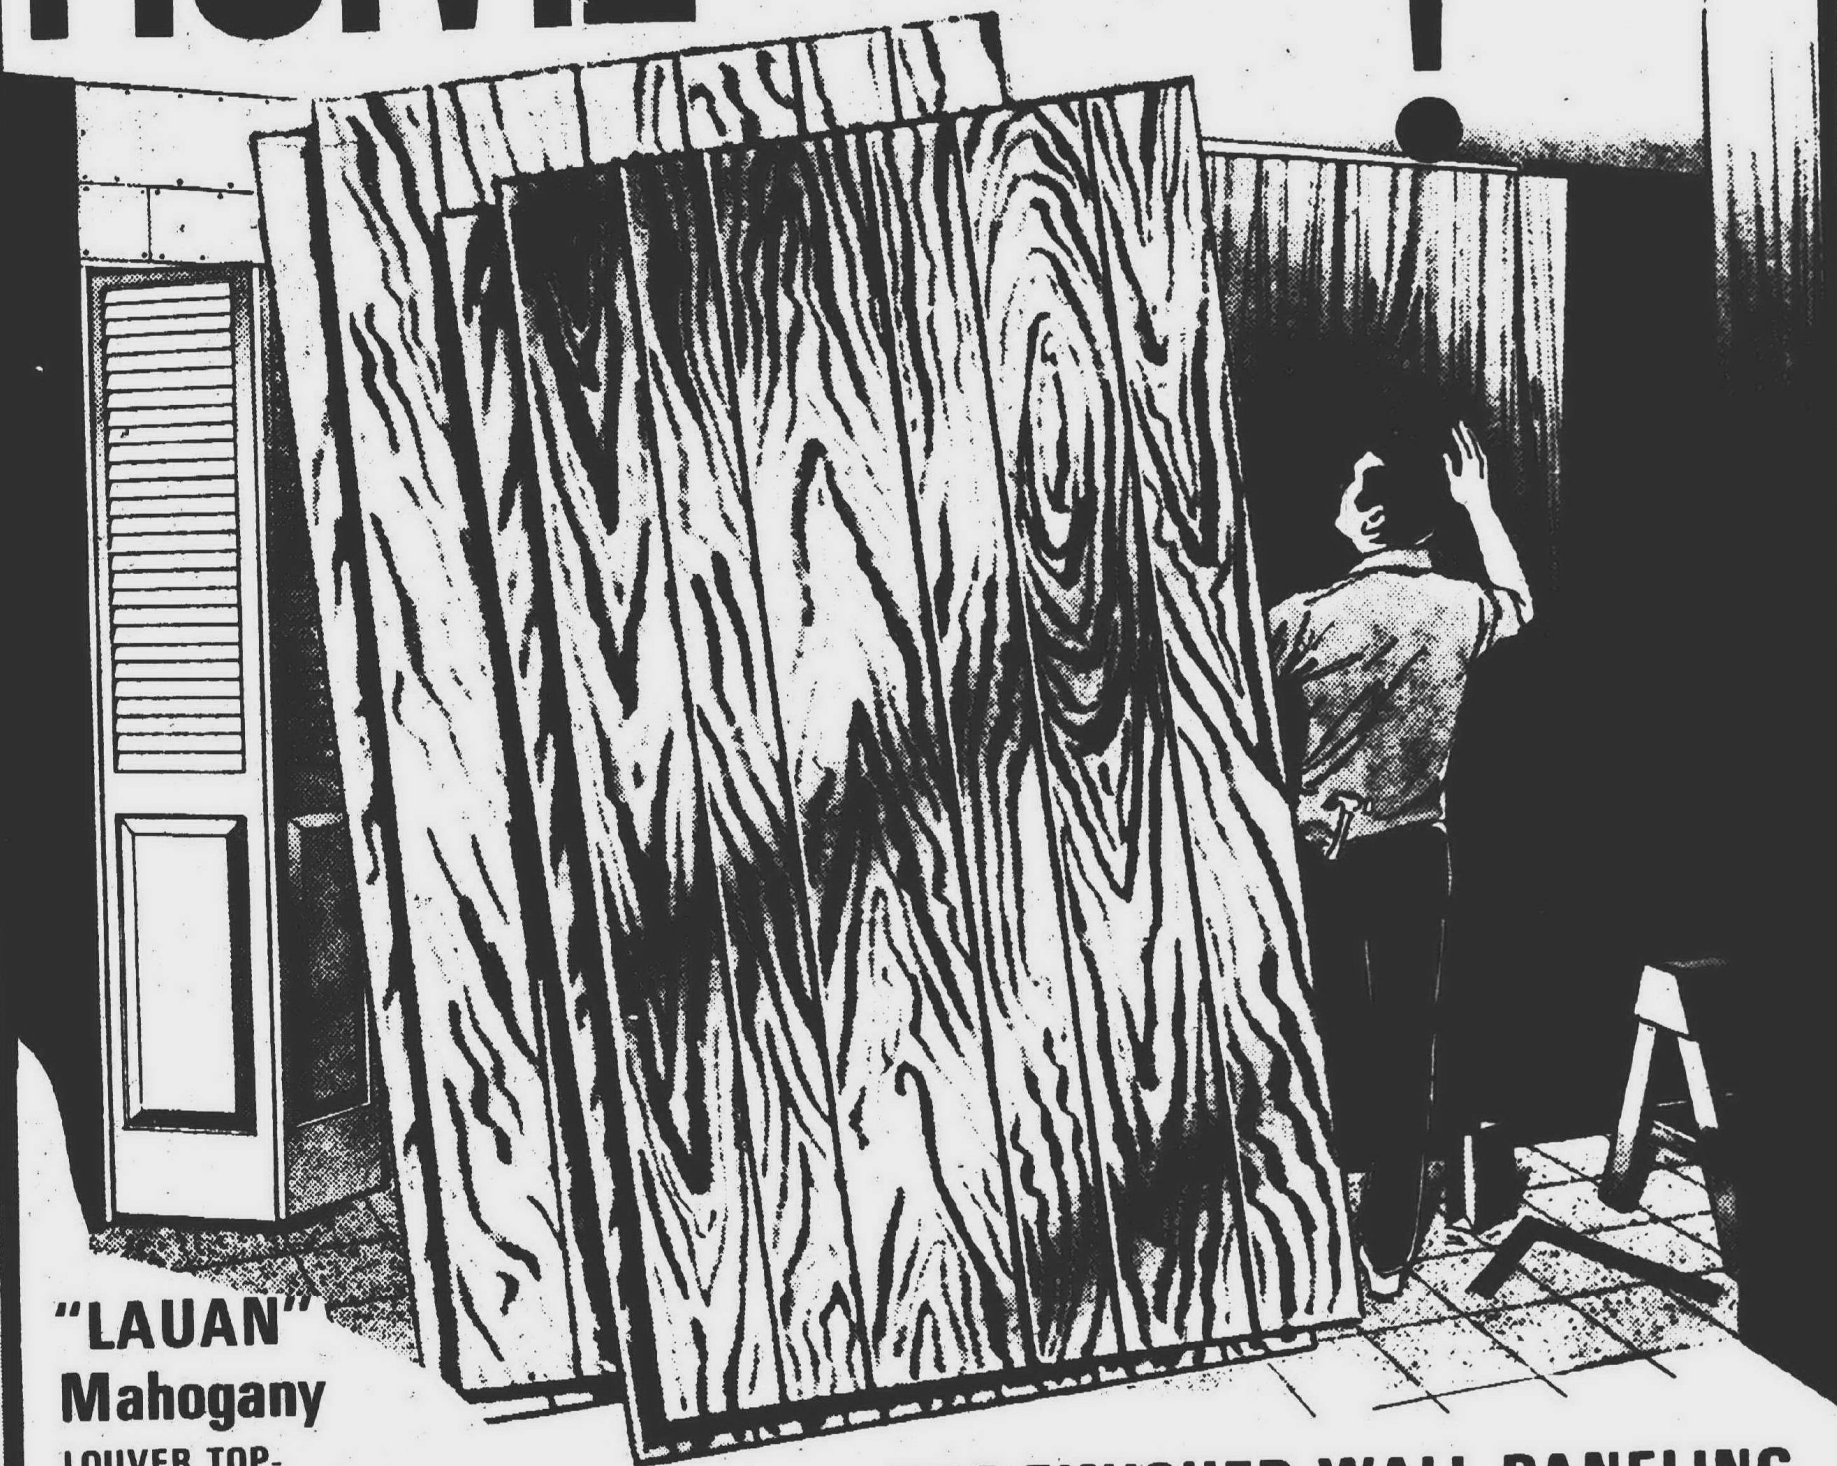

It is unfortunately true that use of various drugs has become prevalent among some athletes. This phenomenon, we feel, is serious enough to warrant devoting the next few columns to it.

What is not true is that drugs are helping to break records. There is simply no documented evidence to support any such success. What has been documented are the physical damage and deaths caused by "performance" drugs in sports.

Perhaps the best indication is that drug-taking in sports was thought to be minimal because only rarely did drugs show up in the urine of winners. More comprehensive tests revealed that drugs were showing up more frequently than had been assumed -- but among those who finished out of the money.

There are still only two basic requirements for success in sports. And modern chemistry still has not succeeded in putting brains in the bottle or guts in a pill.

Turkey White Meat At Peak

By W. W. EDGAR
Roving Editor

If there is more white meat on your turkey than you expected this Thanksgiving Day, don't be too surprised — it was planned that way.

For more than five years, the turkey breeders, recognizing the public taste for white meat, have been experimenting and now feel that they've about reached the peak.

First, they discovered that the white turkey had a larger breast than the time-honored bronze bird that our Pilgrim forefathers found when they landed in New England. This meant that the white bird had more white meat, so the trend went to breeding white birds.

It was noted, too, that the breast bone of the white turkey didn't have as large an angle and, therefore, could develop much faster.

As a result the bronze, or black, turkey, was bred almost out of existence.

"BUT NOW," Lloyd Sharland, of the famed Gottschalk Turkey Farm, explained, "we've got the breasts almost as big as we can get them."

As he spoke, Sharland pointed to the dressed birds on the table and explained that the meat on either side of the breast bone was almost up to the point and the "valley" usually found was almost closed.

"Can't get much closer than that," he said, "and we can't get the breast much deeper — after all, the hen still has to walk."

With the development of the white turkey to satisfy the desire for more white meat, a great change has come over the turkey breeding industry.

No more do the local fanciers breed the birds, and many of them have eliminated the hatchery entirely. Instead they satisfy themselves by buying the baby chicks and raising them.

This has made the breeding business a regular science.

UNDER THE PLAN now in vogue, most of the eggs are produced in California and sent to the Ohio hatcheries to be hatched.

Once the baby chick breaks the shell and starts his travel toward the dining room table, the California breeders sent their best inspectors to look over the flocks of new chicks.

"They select the best of the lot — those with the widest breasts — and they are sent back to California for breeding purposes," Sharland explained.

"The consumer gets the rejects — and even these have much larger breasts than ever this year."

"I think science has gone as far as it can go, and from now on it will just be natural growth."

WITH THE ADVANCE of the white turkey, the bronze has faded from the picture, but the Gottschalk farm managed to purchase 100 of them from an Ohio hatchery this year, "just to show."

"Oh, we'll sell them," Sharland explained, "but for the time we will have them to show what the old time turkey looked like."

With a sly grin, Sharland added, "We like the white bird better, too, because it is easier to clean. With the bronze bird, the black pin feathers are more noticeable, while on the white bird you can't see them as well."

With the breasts developed almost to full size, he has only one fear for the future:

"If the government goes through the rumored plan to prohibit the use of biotics in the feed, it may retard some of the development."

If this happens, it will be a blow to the breeders — and to the lovers of the white meat on Thanksgiving Day.

SCIENCE MAY HAVE gone as far as it can in growing turkeys for Plymouth tables with the maximum amount of white meat. (Observer photo)

City Won't Buy Edison Building

PLYMOUTH The Plymouth City Commission has decided against purchasing the former Detroit Edison Building across from city hall on Main Street.

Following several discussions during commission meetings and study sessions, Commissioner Ernest Henry's motion to purchase the property failed for lack of support Monday night.

Henry's motion came after a lengthy discussion on utilizing the Edison building for city police department offices.

Following the motion's failure, Mayor James McKeon appointed Commissioners Norbert Battermann and Henry to work with the planning commission on the space limitation problems at city hall.

Student Trips Are Approved

PLYMOUTH Student trips to Williamsburg, Va., and to the United Nations in New York were approved by the Plymouth Board of Education.

Scott Beaman, history teacher, will take 21 advance placement high school history students to Williamsburg for five days. Cost to the school district will be less than $100, according to Supt. John Hoben.

Students in the international relations classes taught by Ray Homer and Robert Thams will visit the United Nations April 29 to May 3. The annual trip is to study the United Nations and observe it in action.

Burroughs Assessment Lowered $1.6 Million

PLYMOUTH A "compromise" settlement on the assessment of the Burroughs plant has been given tentative approval by the Michigan State Tax Commission.

The agreement was reached by representatives of Burroughs, which had appealed its 1971 assessment, and Maurice Breen, outgoing Plymouth Township supervisor, and Melvin Blunk, assistant superintendent for business for the Plymouth Community School District.

assessment for 1971 and 1972 of $5,400,000. The 1970 assessment was $7,101,016 but the company has since moved much of its inventory from the Plymouth Township plant.

INCLUDED in the agreement are:
• A reduction of Burroughs' assessment of $7,034,680 state equalized value to $5,400,000.
• A three-year varying assessment of the Burroughs plant which would eliminate the need for a refund on 1971 taxes by applying a credit to the 1972 assessment figure.

UNDER TERMS of the pact, Burroughs' assessment will be $7,034,680 for 1971; $3,765,320 for 1972; and $5,400,000 for 1973. The $3,269,360 reduction in SEV for 1972 makes an average

Tax Refunds To Citizens Are $7,974

PLYMOUTH Tax refunds totaling $7,974 were approved by the Plymouth Board of Education Monday, bringing the total returns to taxpayers to $21,600.

The refunds have been ordered by Louis Funk, Wayne County treasurer based on citizen appeals of their tax assessments. The reductions in assessments were approved by the Michigan Tax Commission.

Canton Township residents getting cash refunds from the school district are Robert A. Achione $99; H.M. Brody, $136; Mrs. Ernesto Constantino $190; Walter Laskos, $329; and Donald and Diane Schmidt $278.

Plymouth Park Apartments Inc. in Plymouth Township was granted a refund of $1,820 and Clawson Concrete Co. of Plymouth Township $503. Morris Sukenic of Plymouth Township will get a $4,618 refund.

The old gent with the long white hair slipped quietly into the office. It wasn't until he put aside the scythe and reached for the calendar to remove a sheet that The Stroller realized he was being paid a visit by his buddy of long standing - Old Father Time.

For more than seven decades he had been making these annual visits and when he took the page from the calendar and said in that familiar voice, "Happy Birthday," it was the signal for a bit of reminiscing.

The Stroller: A Visit With Old Father Time

Like two old grads who get together once a year on Homecoming Day at their alma mater, we enjoy nothing better than discussing the many fine things that have happened along the way.

"Of all the things you've seen over the years," the old gent asked, "What would you consider the most unusual?"

THE STROLLER didn't have to ponder long to recall it.

It was a night back in the early '20s, shortly after he left the little, old hometown in Pennsylvania to seek a livelihood in the big City of Detroit.

Before he left the home fires, The Stroller's mother had warned him to be careful. "You'll find things a bit different in the big city - just be careful."

Well, on this particular night early in spring the final edition of the Free Press was off the press and The Stroller had started for his home in the downtown YMCA.

As he walked up Woodward Avenue -- it was now after midnight -- The Stroller noticed a big, black limousine pull up to the curb in front of a music store. When it stopped he saw a man get out, walk over to the doorway where a blind man was standing with a hand filled with pencils.

TAKING THE PENCILS from his hand, he led the blind man to the limousine. "Imagine that," The Stroller said to himself, "robbing a blind man-- I guess mother was right."

With that The Stroller caught up to the standing limousine in time to notice that it was filled with blind men-- and the driver was their manager, who took them to their stands each evening and then called for them at the end of the shift.

From that night on, The Stroller has experienced many unusual things as he arrived in Detroit when rum running was popular and visiting "blind" pigs was a way of life.

"REMEMBER THE night you took a visitor on a tour of the 'blind pigs,'" Old Father Time asked, "and you almost had him scared to death?"

Memories now came rolling back, and it wasn't difficult to recall. We visited one of these "spots" -- next to the Wol erine Hotel-- and had just introduced the home town guest to the owner when the door opened, and a voice cried -- "You will try to fix a horse race, will you?" and with that he shot the lone diner to death right at the table.

Old Father Time chuckled at the recollection and countered-- "YOU HAVE had some wonderfully fine experiences, too. How about the thrilling moment when you sat in Comiskey Park in Chicago and saw your friend, Joe Louis, crowned the world heavyweight champion and the morning you went for that ride with Gar Wood in the famed Miss America X-- and then the satisfaction of being one of the lucky fellows who has lived through three wars and two depressions. With that he picked up his scythe and headed for the door, saying-- "Happy birthday. Hope to see you again next year."

Firemen Stop Picketing

PLYMOUTH week over delays in getting their 1972 contract, have called off their protest.

Dale Bowerman, president of the Plymouth Firefighters Union, called the pickets off Monday after five days. He said he did it "to reestablish our good faith" in City Commissioner Beverly McAninch.

"She's been fair and just with us, but she hasn't in my opinion had the cooperation of the rest of the commission," Bowerman said.

HE SAID Mrs. McAninch had called him Sunday to discuss the differences with the firemen, who said they were picketing over the delay in their contract.

Bowerman said he received a copy of the negotiation transcripts -- the last step before the finalized contract -- on Monday, six months after the agreement was approved by the city.

At Monday night's meeting, the city commission also passed a resolution adding an additional 5.5 per cent increase to the increase already being paid to the firemen.

BOWERMAN HAD SAID before the meeting that if the commission approved that raise and if the negotiation transcript met with the approval of their attorney, their problems would be resolved. The total pay increase -- amounting to 11 per cent -- will be subject to a determination by the pay board.

In commission study session Monday night before the meeting, Mrs. McAninch said some of the firemen were asking for negotiations to begin on the 1973 contract.

Includes Rubbish Pickup

Canton Passes Budget

By MARIE MCGEE

CANTON TOWNSHIP Provisions for house-to-house rubbish collection, a salary hike for firemen and possible purchase of land for a new fire station are projected in Canton's $1 million - plus budget adopted recently at a special meeting.

Starting off the year with a $250,000 surplus - not enough for a hoped-for police department - the township will see curbside rubbish pickup by April or May, announced Supervisor Philip Dingley.

The sum of $48,000 has been budgeted for this new service which Dingley has pressed for ever since the township turned over its sanitary fill operation to American Rubbish Co.

The site is in the Warren-Haggerty Rds. area, Dingley said, and is now undergoing condemnation. Once that is completed, he said, the township hopes to purchase the property to build a fire station to serve the mushrooming northeast sector of the township. A voting precinct is also expected to be located in the proposed facility, he said. An additional $24,000 capital outlay building and improvement fund will help with the construction of the station itself.

The township will continue to support its fledgling recreation program, concentrating largely on obtaining a full-time director and by recreational expenditures of varying amounts.

Canton's first full-time recreation director upon graduation next April, Dingley said.

Her salary is reflected in the $10,375 budgeted under recreation salary and wages. An additional $500 is listed for contractual services to further implement the program. The senior citizens have been granted a $1,600 budget for the coming year while the entire recreational program expenses have been set at $4,650.

Another big item in the budget is that of $20,000 for consultant fees.

AT THE SAME special meeting at which the budget was passed, the board voted unanimously to cancel its contract with the Detroit firm of Parkins and Rogers and Associates, who have been responsible for the major part of the planning pattern established in Canton over the past four years.

The contract will be replaced by a similar one with Wade, Trim and Associates, township engineers, who have branched out into the planning field. Now associated with the Wade-Trim organization is Michael Manore, who was formerly with Parkins and Rogers and assigned to Canton for the past several years.

A copy of the budget can be obtained from the township clerk's office, in the water department building on Geddes Rd.

was cited for the rescue last spring of two women who were trapped inside their trailer at 14333 Elm when fire broke out. (Observer photo by Maurie Walker)

INCLUDED ALSO in the $1,044,760 budget is a slight salary increase, totaling $22,000, for township firemen, now members of a full-time department that was established last year by the township board.

Dingley said there wasn't enough money in the current budget to start a police department, but it still will get top priority when funds do become available.

The biggest chunk of the budget outside of salaries went into a $120,300 capital outlay land and improvement fund for the possible purchase of land on which the township hopes to build a second fire station.

ALMOST SIMULTANEOUSLY with the passage of the budget was the announcement by Dingley that 20-year-old Brenda Pollock of Canton has been hired on a part-time basis to help with the program, concentrating mainly on the senior citizen program at the start. She fills the vacancy created by the resignation of the previous senior citizen program coordinator who was forced to leave because of a family illness.

A senior at Eastern Michigan majoring in physical education, Miss Pollock hopefully will become

"I don't believe anyone knows the hours, days and weeks of study, meetings and frustration that went into the planning and development of this project," he said.

Gaffney also praised the efforts of the former city engineer, Thomas Waffan; the former recreation supervisor, Stan Stenek; the acting recreation director, Daniel Venezia; and the city purchasing agent, Walter Adams, "who contributed so much in ideas and extra effort to the center."

Gaffney also cited other accomplishments during his two year administration such as: street paving, Detroit water hookup, traffic study, recreation program, development of parks, Old Village revitalization, reappraisal of real estate values in the city, state and federal grant increases, and reorganization of the police department under Chief Timothy Ford.

GAFFNEY, 51, was appointed Plymouth city manager on Dec. 7, 1970 and assumed his position on Jan. 6, 1971.

Prior to his appointment, Gaffney had served as city manager for Dowagiac since 1969. He had taken that job after serving two years as borough manager at Lewiston, Pa. and four years as city manager for Northlake, Ill.

His background of 20 years in public service includes jobs as city commissioner for Port Huron and St. Clair County administrator.

On accepting his Plymouth post in 1970, Gaffney said, "It is my sincere belief that running a city is very similar to operating a large business or corporation where problems of public relations, budget, personnel, purchasing and service are some of the major factors."

A city manager "must have the courage to support the action of the council and the personal confidence to make recommendations to them."

"If you (the city commissioners) are seeking an experienced, aggressive and imaginative city manager, I should be right for you," Gaffney wrote in 1970.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARINGS ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS CITY OF PLYMOUTH, MICHIGAN

At a meeting of the Zoning Board of Appeals to be held in the Commission Chambers of the City Hall on Thursday, December 7, 1972, at 7:30 P.M., a public hearing will be held to consider the following:

APPEAL CASE NO. 71-23—Robert T. Venn, 105 S. Haggerty, Plymouth, Michigan, requesting permission to construct an addition to the convalescent home at 105 S. Haggerty and to construct an apartment building on the adjacent lot at 100 S. Haggerty, said construction being in conflict with the provisions of SECTION 601, paragraph 2, sub-paragraphs a. and b., relating to convalescent homes, of Zoning Ordinance No. 341.

ORDINANCE No. 341, SECTION 601, Paragraph 2, sub-paragraphs a. and b., states as follows:

"2. a. The site shall be so developed as to create a land building ratio on the lot or parcel whereby for each one (1) bed in the convalescent home there shall be provided not less than eight hundred (800) square feet of open space. The eight hundred (800) square feet of land area per bed shall provide for landscape setting, off-street parking, service drives, loading space, yard requirements, employee facilities, and any space required for accessory uses. The eight hundred (800)-square-foot requirement is over and above the building coverage area.

"2. b. No building shall be closer than forty (40) feet from any property line."

All interested parties will be given an ample opportunity to participate in the Hearing and at the close of said Hearing, all comments and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the Zoning Board of Appeals prior to rendering its decision.

County Drug Programs Tab Put At $4 Million

Approval to seek nearly $4 million more of federal, state and local money to finance narcotics treatment and rehabilitation programs has been granted by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The commissioners authorized four separate grant applications to be submitted by the Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health Services Board, which would also administer the programs.

The largest grant request is an appeal for mostly federal funds issued through the National Institute of Mental Health and would total $2.8 million.

Of this amount, $310,000 would come from state sources and $209,340 from nine Wayne County cities and townships, and the Detroit Rotary Club. The program would provide services for periods up to one year.

THE CITIES involved are Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Garden City, Romulus, Inkster, River Rouge, Taylor, Livonia and Plymouth, and also Redford Township.

Another grant program totaling $515,556 is planned to provide drug rehabilitation for inmates of the Detroit House of Correction (Dehoco), plus after-care for those treated for drug problems while incarcerated there.

Staff for this one-year project would be furnished by two established drug treatment centers, SHAR House and Alexandrine House. SHAR House would administer the program for women, and Alexandrine House for men.

The commissioners also authorized an application to fund a methadone maintenance and detoxification program for drug dependent persons referred by the courts as an alternative to trial or sentence. This program began in January, but $400,000 more is being sought to extend it through June 1973.

An application for $170,150 to fund a one-year TWI-DA House project was also approved by the commissioners. TWI-DA House was established by former addicts who help professional staff members run a therapeutic program based on experience rather than theory.

NONE OF THE grant programs require county expenditures, and could conceivably end when grant funds are expended. They were approved by the commissioners last week.

The Mental Health Services Board is an agency authorized under the Michigan Community Mental Health Service Act (Act 54) and created by the city and county government for development and coordination of a network of mental health services within Wayne County.

It oversees an annual budget of more than $10 million and funds 17 agencies which serve the needs of mental health and drug abuse within Wayne County. Earlier this month the Mental Health Services Board received a separate grant of more than $1 million to treat 595 drug dependent persons who are already on waiting lists of established programs.

Farm Tax Cut Bill Denounced

A House bill being touted as property tax relief for farmers actually would be a windfall for land speculators, a financial blow to schools and a tax increase for homeowners, according to Wayne County commissioners.

The county legislators last week voted to oppose House Bill 6229 which has passed the House and is now before the State Senate. The commissioners directed that the Senate be advised of their position.

Opposition to the bill was recommended by the general government committee of the Board of Commissioners. Commissioner Rose Mary C. Robinson, Detroit Democrat and general government vice chairman, spearheaded the opposition.

"THIS BILL would impose a burden on the average homeowner and small taxpayers in Wayne County," she stated. "It would exempt certain properties from the tax-rolls and other taxpayers would have to pick up the burden."

Supporters of the measure contend it would preserve Michigan's dwindling farmlands and encourage preservation of "green belts" and other open spaces through tax relief.

Farms which have produced a gross income of $100 or more per acre during three of the preceding five years and farms of 100 or more acres would be eligible for exemption from regular property assessments.

Instead, those properties would pay an annual "specific" tax in lieu of the regular property tax which is based on the market value of the land. The specific tax would range from $4 to $10 per acre, depending on soil composition.

Lands qualifying under the open space provisions of the bill would pay an annual specific tax of $7 per acre. CHARLES E. MORLEY, director of the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation, said land which qualified under the bill would be taxed as if it were worth from $160 to $400 per acre.

There is virtually no farm land in Wayne County that is not worth more than $400 an acre, he said, and some is worth as much as $50,000 per acre because of its intended use for apartment development.

Land speculators could reap a tax bonanza by buying eligible land, holding it at least five years while paying the nominal "specific" tax, then either reselling or developing it, Morley said.

School districts and other taxpayers would suffer if the bill is adopted in its present form, Morley added.

He said school districts which encompass rural areas would lose part of their state aid revenues because by state aid formula is based on state equalized valuation which would be decreased by the exemptions.

NON-FARM taxpayers

could find themselves paying higher taxes because tax rates might go up to offset the loss of revenues to schools and other governmental units.

"This legislation could really be a disaster in areas of primarily agricultural land worth more than $400 an acre," Morley said. "Generally speaking, virtually all land devoted to farming and open spaces would be undertaxed."

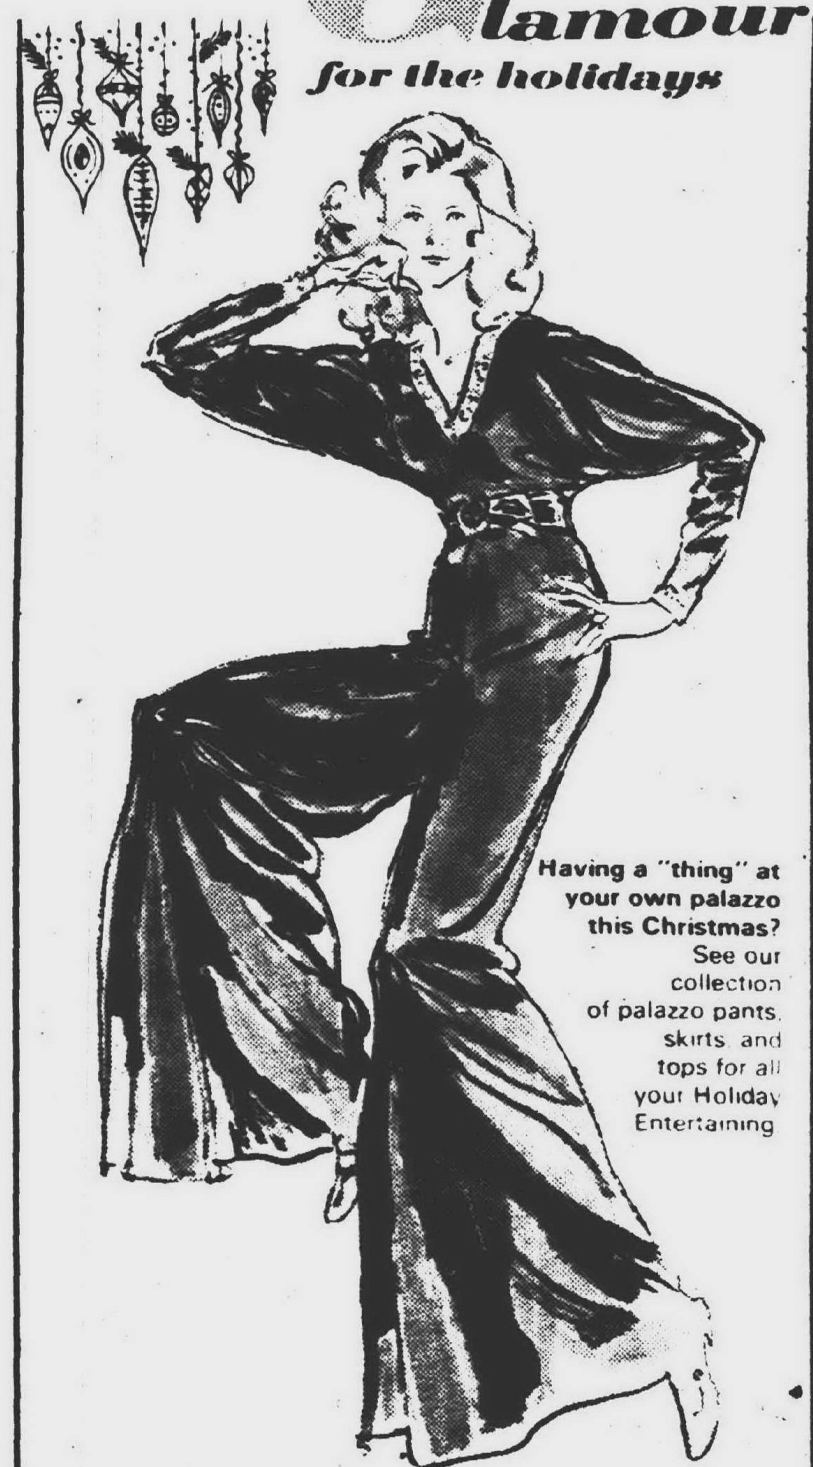

Morley said it was impossible to estimate at this time how much tax revenue might be lost in Wayne County. Approximately 100 of the county's 622 square miles are still being farmed.

Much of that already has been purchased by developers and speculators and is being farmed temporarily under lease and share-cropping arrangements, and thus would qualify for exemption under House Bill 6229.

Morley said most farm land in Wayne County is worth at least $3,000 per acre. Under the state constitution, land is assessed at half its market value. Thus, the average property tax of $50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation would amount to $75 per acre compared with the $10 per acre provided in the bill.

Passage of the bill as now written would actually spur land acquisition by speculators and thus actually defeat its own purpose in the long run, Morley said.

NEA Takes Credit For Esch Election

The National Education Assn. claims its endorsement of U.S. Rep. Marvin Esch (R-Ann Arbor) helped him win his reelection bid against State Rep. Marvin Stempien (D-Livonia).

Strong teacher backing helped a total of 140 U.S. representative and senator candidates win election from the 184 it endorsed.

"It was heartwarming to have the endorsement of the NEA," said Esch, who is a member of the House Committee on Education and Labor. "I look forward to working with the NEA during the 93rd Congress."

Bond Issue Questions Answered

PLYMOUTH
In preparation for the Dec. 11 special election for the $21 million school bond issue, the Plymouth Community School District has drawn up a question and answer pamphlet on the bond proposal.

The school district has been distributing the pamphlet in Plymouth and The Plymouth Mail & Observer prints it as follows in its entirety as a public service:

Q. As a taxpayer, how much am I paying for operation and debt payment solely for the Plymouth community schools?

A. The operating millage in the Plymouth Community School District is 27.05 mills; 5.95 mills are levied solely for the purpose of paying debt on building and sites for which bonds have been issued.

Q. What is the purpose of the millage for operating the schools?

A. For the purpose of paying day-to-day bills of the school district. Heat, light, salaries, transportation, and supplies are examples.

Q. What is the purpose of the debt payment now in effect?

A. Debt payment is used strictly to pay off the cost for bonds which have been issued by the District for buildings. The money has been borrowed by selling bonds which are paid off with interest over a period of years, somewhat like the mortgage on your home.

Q. If the millage is defeated, would it mean the end of the modular scheduling?

A. No. The cost of operating all school programs comes out of the operating millage. This is a bond issue and the money from it can only be used for building and sites.

Q. Just how would the new bond issue funds be used?

A. See attached material entitled $21 million bond issue.

Q. How much would the new levy for debt cost me?

A. It would increase the levy for debt for all property taxpayers in the Plymouth District by 1.25 mills or between $12.50 and $25 annually for the average property owner.

Q. How do you figure that?

A. The true value of most properties in the Plymouth School District ranges from $20,000 to $40,000. You pay on 50 per cent of the true value thus 1.25 mills x $20,000 x 50 per cent equals $12.50 increase; or 1.25 mills x $40,000 x 50 per cent equals $25 annually or a range of $1.05 to $2.9 per month.

Q. Wouldn't a $21 million bond issue cost me more than that?

A. Under normal circumstances it would; however, we will now be participating under the Michigan School Bond Loan Act which permits us to assess a lower rate to pay for our bonds but pay for them over a longer period of time. While we have to pay additional interest it permits us to defray our debts over a longer period of time, it decreases the burden of a sudden large increase in debt payment.

Q. How does the Plymouth debt retirement and operating tax rate compare with other cities in this area?

A. Plymouth debt retirement tax rate would be in the same position as Livonia, Wayne and other districts who are on the state bond loan fund. Our current operating tax rate is lower than their districts.

Q. Why isn't something other than property taxed for school building purposes?

A. Present state law provides no source of income to local boards of education other than the local property tax. The State Legislature or a referendum of all the people has the power to change the situation. Michigan has passed laws exempting part of the property tax for older citizens.

Q. All other factors aside, how can the average Plymouth Community School District citizen afford to pay additional taxes?

A. If you check the facts carefully you will find you can't afford to miss the opportunity to support our schools. Certainly the cost of education has gone up just as all other items have. Certainly local taxes have risen in the same proportion, but public education still remains an excellent bargain truly not an expense but an investment. Education in Plymouth reflects excellence in past financial planning. Only a slight increase in expenditures will produce continued excellence.

Q. How is the operating money spent?

A. Percentage-wise, the money is spent in the following manner:

Elementary instruction	30.58%
Secondary instruction	37.94%
Special education	2.69%
Summer school	0.07%
Administration	3.93%
Health and nursing	0.32%
Transportation	2.99%
Operation	12.71%
Maintenance	3.58%
Fixed charges	4.14%
Capital outlay	1.05%

Q. Will you be asking for further increases in taxes in the next several years?

A. If our population continues to increase we will need both new buildings and money to operate them. Taxes for operation will increase. Taxes for equipping new buildings and acquiring sites probably will remain at about seven mills since we will be on a state bond loan program, but our debt will increase. However, if new bond issues are required, it will be necessary to bring that question to the taxpayers to increase the debt.

Q. Why has Central Middle School been allowed to stand empty this year?

A. There has been some use of Central for continuing education, recreation and special education. We could have used the space at Central Middle School this year since we knew our enrollments would increase to near the capacity of the other middle schools, however, the committee that studied this problem showed that we would save some $160,000 by closing Central for regular student use for a year. It also is giving us needed time to renovate Central School from a high school into a middle school.

Q. Don't you have vacant rooms in other buildings in the school district?

A. There are vacant classrooms in buildings in the school district, however, we will be growing at such a rate that we will need all of these sometime during the next school year. Also some of the unused rooms have been turned into additional library space and other uses.

Q. Transportation is a big expense, would we do more or less bussing when new schools are completed?

A. We will probably be doing about the same amount of bussing as we have in the past if construction of new buildings keeps pace since we are attempting to maintain the neighborhood school concept where possible. This is being done by acquiring sites and building the schools within each new housing development if possible.

Q. Will my taxes be increased by a favorable vote on Dec. 11?

A. Your taxes will be increased by a favorable vote on your January 1974 tax notice.

Q. What will happen if the levy is unsuccessful on Dec. 11?

Increased bussing, higher pupil/teacher ratios and possibly eventually having to go to extended school days or split sessions.

Q. How do you know you need these buildings?

A. The board has had a group called the "Judd Committee" composed of local citizens knowledgeable in their area, assisted by the Wayne County Intermediate School District, studying this problem for approximately two years. Their report was made to the Board of Education this October and the financial implications of the report were presented to the board on Nov. 6.

Q. What alternatives are there to the proposed building program?

A. Additional bussing to accommodate students in buildings where we have classrooms, extended school days, split sessions, year-round school and increased pupil/teacher ratios.

Q. What are your enrollment projections and how do you know?

A. Current projections of the Judd Committee show 13,000 students in 1973, 15,000 in 1974, 17,000 in 1975 and 19,000 in 1976. Most people feel these figures are conservative.

Q. Why do you waste money on a special election when the polls were open Nov. 7?

A. It is less expensive for us to operate our own election since we have our own registration and fewer precincts which are contiguous with our school district. The school district line cuts across many townships and the city of Plymouth. It also permits our taxpayers to concentrate on one proposition rather than a large number of candidates and issues.

We are sure that many other questions will come up in the course of meetings and conversations. If you don't know the answer contact your building principal or the campaign coordinator, Earl Hogan at the school board office.

ALAN F. GOVE

New City Engineer Appointed

PLYMOUTH
Alan F. Gove, presently serving as second engineer for Portage, Mich., has been appointed Plymouth city engineer effective Monday.

Gove, 32, was appointed Friday by City Manager Norman Gaffney who said, "I believe his (Gove's) talents will lend much to the future progress of the city."

Prior to his two years with Portage, Gove served six years with the engineering department of Lorain, Ohio.

In responding to his notice of appointment, Gove wrote Gaffney, saying, "Your innovative approach to community improvement and the citizen support your programs and policies seem to have generated are a positive indication of sound administrative leadership. I will do my best to promote and improve the unique quality of life established in Plymouth."

The city engineer position has a starting salary of $17,500.

State Job For Dr. Shader

By LEONARD POGER

GARDEN CITY
Dr. Don Shader, Garden City school superintendent for the past five years, was due to be named today (Wednesday) to the second highest administrative post in the State Dept. of Education.

Shader, who is also president of the Michigan Assn. of School Administrators, has been offered the post of deputy superintendent of education under Dr. John Porter, state school superintendent.

The State Board of Education is scheduled to meet at noon today in the Holiday Inn in Southfield to formally confirm the recommendation of Porter in public.

Shader, 41, is expected to replace Dr. William Pierce, who has taken a high-ranking post in the U.S. Health, Education and Welfare Dept.

DR. DON SHADER

summer of 1968. Of the 19.1 mills, seven mills were an increase and the balance a renewal of an expiring millage.

On approval of the bond issue, Shader then supervised construction of the $1.1 million O'Leary Performing Arts Center adjacent to East High School, named for Dr. Edwin O'Leary, who was school superintendent for 15 years until 1967.

The building program included the new administration building; instructional materials centers at all nine elementary schools; band and orchestra suites at two junior highs; improved athletic facility including a new football field, at West High School; and a new warehouse.

HE HAS emphasized curriculum development, public relations, community school concept and administrative improvements. Shader has recommended 85 curriculum changes, all of which were approved by the school board.

Outside of the Garden City schools, Shader served as president of the local Kiwanis club and worked as its publicity man. Last July, he was elevated to the presidency of the Michigan Assn. of School Administrators.

Married and the father of a son and daughter, Shader was superintendent in Clintondale Schools in Macomb County for two years, served as a high school principal and teacher in that district, and taught in Oak Park and also in Germany for Defense Dept. personnel.

He has his bachelor's degree from Illinois State University and his doctorate from Michigan State University.

If the state board confirms Shader's appointment, a press conference will be scheduled later in the day to publicly announce the action.

Special emphasis for the 1973 edition is on photography. The yearbook will include a picture of each student in the senior high -- freshmen through seniors.

Photographers this year are Gordon Tucker, Joey Lebovic, Carson Carpenter and David Case.

This year the book is over its sales goal with 634 copies sold. The first deadline was met on Nov. 11.

According to Mrs. Francis Skarvi, yearbook adviser, the American Yearbook Co. was selected as a new printer this year. This year's book will be larger in size and in number of pages than last year's.

At a high school assembly held earlier this year, the yearbook staff presented a slide preview of this year's book. Editors for 1973 are Tucker and Jody Aaron, both of whom were editors last year and who have served on the yearbook staff since their freshman years.

New Coaches

Ed Barnett and Bruce White, newly-named assistant wrestling coaches at Wayne State University, captained the 1971 and 1972 Tartar mat teams respectively. Each lettered four times in the sport at WSU and were teammates at one time of first-year Head Coach Ed Johnson.

C'ville PTSA Meets Tonight

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday, the Parent-Teacher-Student Assn. of Clarenceville High School will meet on Wednesday, Nov. 29, at 8 p.m. in the high school library.

Speakers include Miss Susan Gross and Miss Barbara Johnson, both of the high school foreign language department, and Robert Young, director of vocational education for Clarenceville and Novi.

Principal Ray Renbarger said students are encouraged to attend the meetings.

WANTED

In connection with good grooming and style conscious persons interested in having their clothes restyled or altered. Personal fittings on both men's and women's clothing in our modern tailoring shop. Phone 349-3677, Lapham's, 120 E. Main-Downtown Northville.

They Tutor During Study Hour

Clarenceville has 12 junior high students who have no study hall time. These students instead of using study time for themselves go each school day to Grandview Elementary School.

At Grandview, they tutor elementary students, prepare remedial materials, help correct assignments and assist the elementary teachers.

Students participating in the program are April Aitken, Ray Bednar, Andrea Bender, Eva Bradley, Sue Johnson, Donna Lay, Dawn Mammana, David Nedeau, Jack Rolitzky, Ken Ross, Laura Williams, and Pamela Williams.

THE OBSERVER learned that Shader was being considered for a new post last week, but it wasn't until Monday morning that it learned that he was in line for the No. 2 post in Lansing.

At that time, a high state official was questioned about Shader's job prospects in a state education agency and The Observer was told that Shader was scheduled to be named to the deputy superintendent's post. The official asked that he not be identified.

In a telephone interview Monday morning, Ladislaus Dombrowski, administrative secretary to the State Board of Education, confirmed that Shader's appointment was on the board's formal agenda for today's meeting.

Dombrowski said that no specific time for the effective date of the appointment was approved yet, but indicated that Shader would be moving to the Lansing post in January.

Shader was questioned about any job changes but refused to confirm or deny any plans.

The district's second school chief in the past 20 years, Shader had achieved a state-wide reputation for school curriculum, an area the school board hired him for in the spring of 1967.

IN THE past five years, Shader has guided the Garden City schools through its largest bond issue for construction projects, $4.1 million in late 1967, and its largest operating millage proposal, a total of 19.1 mills in the Technology brings more natural gas to Michigan

A typical natural gas reforming plant.

For the past year Michigan has been affected by the national shortage of natural gas, and by the limited supplies available by pipeline from other states. At the same time, the demand for natural gas — one of the cleanest sources of energy — has continued to rise.

Now, thanks to a technological breakthrough developed by the British Gas Council in 1964, a new source of natural gas will become available to our 860,000 customers — from Canada.

To provide this additional gas for Michigan, Consumers Power Company is building a $40-million natural gas reforming plant at Marysville, in St. Clair County; the first of its kind in this hemisphere.

This new reforming process takes light liquid hydrocarbons and reconstitutes, or reforms, them into natural gas. In 1972 these natural gas liquids will begin arriving from Alberta, Canada, via a 1600-mile pipeline. By 1973 we expect to be able to provide 100 million cubic feet of natural gas daily for our customers; and output is expected to double in 1974.

Natural gas is vital for Michigan and its people, and Consumers Power is seeking every available means to meet this ever-growing need.

'Kids Don't Need Football!' - Bryant

By W.W. EDGAR

Some years ago one of the most popular songs in the fall ran —

"You've got to be a football hero, if you want to get along with a beautiful girl".

But those days are gone now — perhaps forever.

You can take the word of Ed Bryant, recently retired football coach at Southfield High School, for the great change.

"A boy doesn't have to be a football hero any more," Bryant said in looking back over eight years at the helm of the Blue Jays.

"The boys today don't need football. And many of them don't want it. They can attain status as a campus hero without it. They don't need football any more to attain scholarships. Many of them don't need them."

"So, the entire atmosphere of the game has changed in the eight years since I have been the coach."

Despite the seeming lack of interest of the Blue Jays — or a majority of them — who finished the 1972 season without a single victory, Bryant is carrying many fine memories with him as he leaves the gridiron.

He won't be too far away from it as he will continue as director of athletics at Southfield and plans to spend more time rounding out a full time program.

HIS YEARS as the top man with the Blue Jays haven't all been bad and among his mental souvenirs will be the 1966 and 1967 seasons when his teams won seven of the nine games played and were a factor in the northwestern suburban areas.

With these memories will come the mental pictures of such stars as Ted Simmons, Rocky Rowe, Lance Pasci, Jerry Abel and Joe Saunders, one of the finest ends ever to step on the Southfield gridiron.

As he looked back over the past season he admitted that he wasn't too surprised at the dismal showing.

"From the start," he explained, "I told everybody we were in trouble. I pointed out that we were slow and inexperienced and rather slow to learn. The proper attitude wasn't there."

"Then," he said, "after the second game, I told my fellow coaches — and Principal Robert Hall — that I planned to step aside as coach at the close of the season."

"We had just lost to Waterford Township, 28 to 0," he continued, "and the signals were plain that we were headed for a dismal season."

LATER, HE CONFIDED that he was just too busy with the athletic program to devote the time needed to develop a football team.

"When the Board of Education voted $12,500 to establish a hockey program, at both Southfield and Southfield Lathrup, I knew I couldn't go on in football, too."

There was no rancor in his voice as he spoke, but it was plain that Coach Bryant was riding himself of a heavy load by laying down the football reins.

The one thing Bryant emphasized as he put aside the football duties was that he was not pressured into resigning as coach.

"I would have fought it, had I been under pressure from anyone," he said.

Although his coaching methods had been criticized by many of the regular fans, Principal Hall never was among the press box critics.

"We have a young, inexperienced team," he said repeatedly as the defeats piled up. "We are about a year away but the players are improving."

Then came the meeting with Southfield Lathrup in the final game of the season and the Blue Jays absorbed a 60 to 8 trouncing. That was the blow that, seemingly, changed everything.

It was a bitter defeat for Bryant to swallow, even though he wasn't surprised by the defeat — only by the margin. His was a bitter closing to an eight year career.

A graduate of Olivet College where he won 24 letters in athletics, Bryant came to Southfield in 1955 and coached reserve sports until he was named head football coach in 1965.

Since then his teams have compiled a 34-29-1 record, and Bryant is finishing with a winning average despite the sorry showing of the 1972 combination.

NO SUCCESSOR has been named, but Bryant indicated that the new coach would be selected from the ranks, since they're talking about a cut-back in teachers next year.

Over the years Bryant has seen many changes in the coaching field and many changes in high school sports — but the biggest one without doubt is the changed attitude of the players who no longer have the burning desire to win or the love of the game that marked many of their predecessors.

"It's too bad," Bryant concluded, "but you no longer need football to be a campus hero."

BOWING OUT after eight years as head football coach at Southfield High School is Ed Bryant, who still will remain as the school's athletic director.

CALLS IT QUILTS — Southfield football Coach Ed Bryant has retired from prep football, saying that football has changed and not all the boys need it or want it any more.

Churchill Drops 3-2 Opener To Allen Park

Churchill's hockey season didn't exactly start where its football squad left off.

The Charger pucksters, who finished 10-2-5 last season, dropped their '72-'73 season opener to Allen Park, 3-2.

"We were a little green for this one," said Churchill Coach Adam Mitchell. "We had only three practices and were just getting down to the basic fundamentals and we had a game already."

Churchill's next contest is on Dec. 8 in the Suburban Hockey League opener with Bentley at Ford Ice Rink.

"ALLEN PARK came out skating," said Mitchell. "They were all huge and took advantage of our inexperience." Churchill sports five sophomores, five juniors and eight seniors.

"We have less experience this year but more desire," added Mitchell. "It's just a matter of time before we start to click."

Allen Park out-shot Churchill, 22 to 14, with senior Mike Parks turning in a fine job in the Charger net.

Allen Park struck first at the 4:50 mark in the first period.

ED KELLY scored his first of two goals assisted by Jack Manard and Perry Petterle. Churchill notched it at one all on a power play with only 39 seconds remaining in the period when Paul Phillips slipped a shot past Allen Park goalie Gary Bryant.

Allen Park moved ahead at 4:05 in the second stanza with each squad playing a man short. Mark Miller scored unassisted.

Churchill rebounded six minutes later on a Jim Gagnon goal assisted by Brian Veasey and Steve Ursitti.

THE CHARGERS had an opportunity to go ahead early in the third period when Kris Kostolansky broke in on the Allen Park all alone. The shot deflected off the goalie's skate and Allen Park's Kelly scored a minute later assisted by Randy Wise.

Tops On Defense

Lathrup's Ruhl No. 1

Choice of the "Defensive Player of the Year" is unanimous in Observerland.

Bruce Ruhl, a 6-2, 188 pound senior from Southfield Lathrup, captured the No. 1 billing, and what a prep career he has had.

The defensive and offensive halfback began his momentum at Lathrup in his freshman year and carried it through, getting stronger with each and every game.

Lathrup has a point system on defense: two for a solo tackle; one for an assisted tackle; five for a pass interception; and five for a fumble recovery. Ruhl collected 19 points as a freshman, 86 as a sophomore, 154 as a junior and 197 his senior year in only six games.

As a ninth grader, Ruhl stood six feet and weighed in at 165 pounds. He was a running back and defensive back on Darrell Harper's squad, rushing for 451 yards in 69 carries, scoring five touchdowns and one extra point and hauling in seven passes for 72 yards.

The Lathrup four-year letterman was All-League his sophomore season as well as honorable mention All-State.

IN THE 10TH GRADE, Ruhl rushed for 576 yards in 114 carries, caught 31 passes for 367 yards, scored 13 touchdowns and eight extra points and intercepted five passes.

The 11th grade saw Ruhl make the All-Inter Lakes team, All-Observer team, AP All-State squad and All-Oakland County. The Charger speedster accounted for 739 yards on the ground, 341 in the air and scored 13 six pointers and one point after along with six pass interceptions.

The senior showed the promise of a lifetime.

But three days before the '72 opener, Ruhl sprained his ankle in an intra-squad game and sat on the bench for three games in three of the longest weeks ever for the Lathrup senior.

"It was really depressing," said Ruhl. "Here I was captain of the squad and I couldn't even do my share."

Ruhl finally got back into action for the Utica Eisenhower game which the Chargers won, 20-0, and it was time for Ruhl to put on his show.

IN THE FINAL six games this season, Ruhl collected 395 yards rushing in 61 carries, caught 14 passes for 195 yards for 10 touchdowns and 11 extra points and intercepted eight passes.

Ruhl was All-Met Suburban, All-Oakland County, AP All-State again and All-Observer again.

In four years at Southfield Lathrup, Ruhl... Rushed for 2,161 yards in 358 carries;

Caught 68 passes for 995 yards;

Scored 41 touchdowns and 21 extra points;

Totaled 267 points himself; and Intercepted 19 passes.

Ruhl has received letters of interest from about 25 colleges including Tennessee, Notre Dame, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Georgia Tech, Florida and Ohio State.

"I am going to see what they all have to offer before making my choice," said Ruhl. "I don't really want to go where there are freshmen playing now. I would probably like to stick with the Big 10 and play with a team where I can fit in right away."

Bruce is planning to major in business and is carrying a 3.4 average.

"I have always tried my best to be the best," said Ruhl.

Ruhl's greatest admiration is for the guys who sit on the bench.

"I admire the guys who rack themselves out week after week in practice and watch the game from the sidelines."

According to Bruce, his greatest thrills at Lathrup came in the Waterford 20-0 victory when, as a freshman, he scored two touchdowns and gained over 100 yards and in a 24-0 win over Farmington his sophomore season with two touchdowns and 200 yards to his credit.

RUHL HAS LOOKED up to and admired his head coach, Harper, who also had Bruce do the punting. A 78 yarder against Royal Oak Dondero was the longest in his career.

A tip of the hat to Observerland's top defensive athlete of '72.

Bruce Ruhl, a name that is sure to be heard in the ranks of college football.

Carzon Places 4th In Finals

The '72 golf campaign produced one sparkle at Bishop Borgess High in the person of senior Bob Carzon.

Carzon placed fourth in the Catholic League finals at Ruckham Golf Course with an 83, and placed sixth in the state regionals with an 82. The Borgess golfer finished with a 41.5 average for nine holes.

Humphrey, Kaestner Share Coaching Honors

It was a perfect season for Churchill football and head Coach Ken Kaestner.

The '72 season marked Churchill's fifth and Kaestner's fifth.

The '72 season marked a perfect 9-0 record by his Chargers and Co-Coach of the Year honors with Gary Humphrey of Garden City East.

It has been a tough road for the Western Six champions who sported a 3-3 record with an all - sophomore squad in '68; 0-8 with a junior team in '69; 2-3-3 in '70; 4-4 in '71; and now a 9-0 mark in '72 which includes a string of six consecutive shutouts.

KAESTNER'S CHARGERS opened the season with a 7-6 victory over Thurston and then proceeded to ring up six straight shutouts over John Glenn, Waterford, Farmington Harrison, Northville, Waterford Mott and Walled Lake Western.

Churchill then upended Franklin, 20-8, and climaxed the perfect year with a 13-6 triumph over Stevenson.

A total of 20 points was scored against Churchill in the nine games on three touchdowns and all by way of passing.

"It's been just one heck of a super season," said Kaestner. "It's been a tremendous thrill to coach these kids. They were a loose bunch but never once was there any back biting."

The 36 year - old Churchill whistle blower graduated from Broad Ripple High School of Indianapolis in '54 where he played center, standing 5-7 and weighing 147 pounds.

KAESTNER WENT ON to major in physical education at Michigan State where he graduated in '58. He coached football and track at Auburn Heights Avondale in '58 and '59 and at Whittier Junior High '60 through '65.

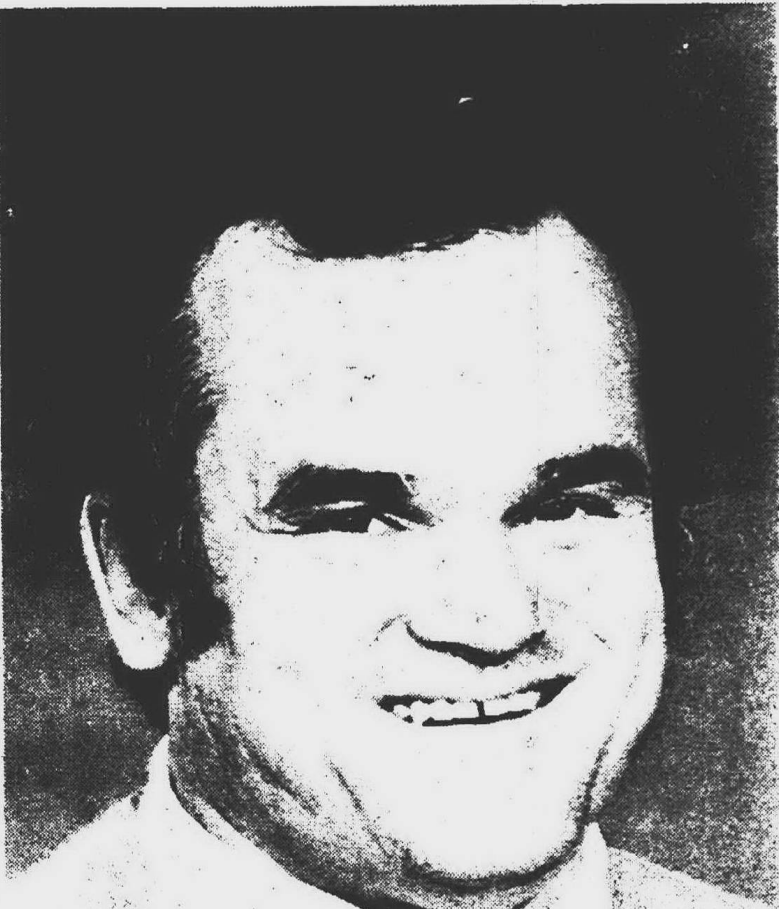

The Charger mentor went on to North Farmington under Ron Holland in '65 and '66 as junior varsity line coach and coached varsity at Brighton High School in '67 where he finished at 3-6.

It was then on to Churchill where some of the most spirited hard nose football in the area has been played.

Ken's biggest rooters are his wife, Marilyn, and his three daughters Susan (11), Jane (10), and Julie (4).

"They come to all the games and tell me when they see something is wrong," said Kaestner. "They all speak right out."

CHURCHILL HIGH and Kaestner will never forget the '72 football season and the 12-0 triumph over Waterford Mott. Congratulations Ken.

KEN KAESTNER
Churchill Grid Coach

Garden City East closed out its '72 football campaign like a true champion and East head coach Gary Humphrey closed out his coaching career the same . . . a true champion.

Humphrey directed his '72 Panther squad to a 9-0 record, won the Northwest Suburban Conference and finished No. 3 in the state rankings, and has now received Co-Coach of the Year honors with Churchill's Ken Kaestner.

The Panther coach knew he had the talent and speed this year but didn't have any size to speak of. But Gary knew he had one thing that would give him another winner . . . a working unit of kids that gave 100 per cent all the time and always believed in themselves.

Gary isn't the last to admit and is in fact the first to say that he built for this season with 26 seniors in his ranks.

EAST ROLLED over Riverside in its opener, 27-0, and crushed Flint Central, 26-0. Next came victories over Franklin, John Glenn, Oak Park, and Thurston, a 7-0 triumph over North Farmington, a come from behind win over Taylor Center, 21-19, and the season finale over city rival Garden City West, 48-0.

The Panthers outscored their opponents, 259 to 63, and Humphrey closed out a seven year coaching span with a 46-14-2 record which includes three Mid - Wayne championships and now a Northwest Suburban title.

Humphrey decided that this would be his last season early in the recent campaign.

"My kids are growing up and I want to spend some time with my family," said Humphrey. "I have a cottage at East Tawas and haven't been able to take advantage of it."

"I hope my replacement comes from my staff," added Humphrey.

THE PANTHER SQUAD told Humphrey that they were going to win the GC West finale for him but Gary came back with "go out there and win it for yourselves."

Humphrey then realized he had about 40 sons playing on the gridiron for him.

GARY'S NO. 1 rooting section has been led by his wife, Gail; 12 - year - old son Mathew and four - year - old daughter Jill.

The 36 - year - old Humphrey is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and said he will remain on at East as a physical education teacher.

However, don't be too surprised if you hear of him slipping away to northern Michigan, a slip that will be very costly to all concerned in the area.

Humphrey said that he couldn't have written a book any better than the '72 season, that it was the greatest thing to happen at East.

East will have a new coach in '73 and fans hate to guess at the size of the shoes he will have to replace.

GARY HUMPHREY
GC East Football Mentor

GC East's Steve Orr No. 1 Offensive Star

Garden City East could do no wrong with Quarterback Stevie Orr barking out the signals.

The Observer Newspapers

wherever you go and you'll be a winner every time," said GC East Coach Gary Humphrey.

Orr masterminded the Panther squad to a 9-0 record which included the Northwest Suburban championship and a No. 3 ranking in the state.

RU, Edsel Ford Share 1st Team Grid Honors

Redford Union and Dearborn Edsel Ford shared top billing in the Suburban Eight All-League football selections.

RU and Edsel Ford each placed three players on the first team defense and three on the first team offense.

Steve made the jump to varsity his junior year and passed for 1,080 yards on 54 of 102 passes for eight touchdowns and ran for 450 yards in 76 carries for 11 six - pointers.

The Panther quarterback hit on 63 of 129 pass attempts this season for 15 touchdowns with only two intercepted and ran for 468 yards in 94 carries for another seven touchdowns.

"I firmly believe that Steve is the No. 1 quarterback in the state," said Humphrey. "He runs the way a halfback does and has the ability to pick out his second receivers."

In two years of varsity football, leading his team to 16 wins and only two losses, Orr: Passed for 2,114 yards on 117 of 231 attempts; Finished with a 51 per cent passing average;

Threw 23 touchdown passes; Rushed for 918 yards in 170 carries;

Scored 18 touchdowns on the ground;

And totaled 246 points in the 18 games.

"Steve has something in him that you just can't coach," said Humphrey. "He has an uncanny sense of when to run and when to pass."

"If somebody doesn't take a chance on Stevie in college, they are missing the boat."

READING THE DEFENSE was Orr's biggest asset.

"About half of the plays I ran this year were audibles," said Orr. "We are set up to change our complete offense at the line."

The No. 1 offensive prep player of the year, Garden City East's Steve Orr.

Livonians Win In Competition

Sharon Hinkle of 14812 Fairway in Livonia captured sixth place in the lightweight division of the 60 mile competitive trail ride sponsored by the Arabian Horse Association.

Miss Hinkle and her eight-year-old gelding Peppy captured sixth in the horses five years old and over and carrying weight of rider and tack of 155-179 pounds.

Richard Miller of 37737 Kingsbury in Livonia won fourth place in the heavyweight division.

The trial ride was held at Locust Farms in Kirtland, Ohio.

The defensive end slots went to Ron Bazy of Edsel Ford and John Hochstein of RU.

Pete Gade of Bentley, RU's Jerry Petsch and Gary Templin of Allen Park won line positions and Edsel Ford's Tom Miller, Trenton's Doug Mehrhof, and RU's Mike Burke captured the top linebacker berths.

Defensive secondary honors went to Belleville's Mike Dansard, Edsel Ford's Jim Cameron and Bentley's Bob Wasilewski.

Edsel Ford and RU also shared the offensive end position with RU's Bob Eland at one side and Ralph Plummer the other for Edsel Ford. Belleville's John Alford and RU's Jerry Petsch shared tackle duties and RU's John Hochstein and Trenton's Scott Brewer won the guard slots.

Trenton's Warren Liverance was All-League center and Edsel Ford's Mike Booth No. 1 quarterback.

THE BACKFIELD was made up of Belleville's Mike Dansard, Edsel Ford's Tom Miller and Trenton's Paul Fleszar.

Announcing The '72 All-Observer High School Gridiron Selections!

By TOM DONOGHUE
Observer Sports Editor

The prep pigskins of Observerland have been bounced around for 157 games, and out of the 18 area schools comes the '72 All-Observer Football Card.

Seniors dominate the 23-man roster with only four juniors making their way on the all-star lineup.

And Garden City East dominated the senior rundown with six making the first team, three on defense and three on offense. Bishop Borgess was next with three on the roster.

The team was represented by 12 of the 18 area schools.

Garden City East's Steve Orr and Southfield Lathrup's Bruce Ruhl were selected the top preps of the season. Orr on offense and Ruhl on defense, and East's Gary Humphrey and Churchill's Ken Kaestner shared coach of the year honors.

The All-Area offensive lineup:

RON EGLOFF (End), Plymouth, caught 25 passes his junior year for 385 yards and five touchdowns ... caught 25 passes this season for 392 yards and another five touchdowns ... top notch blocker ... 35.4 yard average in punting ... Coach Tom Moshimer calls him a "blue chipper" who could play for any college.

JIM WISNIEWSKI (End), GC East, East's key pass receiver ... made 23 catches for six touchdowns and 361 yards ... good speed, 4.7 in the 40 yard dash.

DENNIS BURTON (HB), GC East, All-League and All-Area last year as junior ... rang up 1,129 yards in 154 carries and scored 13 touchdowns ... totaled 1,227 yards his junior year along with 15 touchdowns ... scored 25 touchdowns his sophomore year on junior varsity ... totaled 53 six-pointers at East ... strongest runner in the area.

NEIL FALLS (HB), Bishop Borgess, rushed for 610 yards in 129 carries ... caught six passes for 117 yards ... averaged 22 yards per kickoff return ... scored seven touchdowns ... totaled 1,054 yards at Borgess ... selected to first team Catholic AA Division ... enjoys running over people.

BRAD PEASE (HB), North Farmington, one of two juniors on all-area offensive squad ... All-Northwest Suburban ... gained 887 yards in 161 carries ... scored 10 touchdowns, four in one game.

STEVE ORR (QB), GC East, Top offensive player of '71 ... Panther's leader on and off the gridiron ... completed 63 of 129 passes for 15 touchdowns ... ran for 468 yards in 94 carries and seven touchdowns.

DAVE LAABS (C), Bentley, two year starter ... All-Suburban Eight ... lineman of week at Bentley in five of first seven games ... tops on punt and extra point snaps.

JERRY PETSCH (T), Redford Union, "a real gentleman," in the words of Coach Bob Atkins ... played strong tackle and about anywhere he was needed ... All-Suburban Eight on defense and offense ... most teams ran away from his side.

MATT WARRING (T), Stevenson, All-Inter Lakes ... strong side blocker ... has quickness and size and strength to match any opponent ... team's top all-around performer.

MATT HEPLER (G), Southfield Lathrup, does the 40 yard dash in :05.1 ... two years All-League and All-Area as junior ... best offensive lineman ever at Lathrup ... bench press 325 pounds ... third in all area shot-putters.

MARTY KENNEDY (G), Bishop Borgess, three year starter as junior ... offensive player of week four times and defensive player of week three times ... strongest blocker ... 95 per cent blocking adequacy ... Tri-Captain.

The All-Area defensive lineup:

DAVE HOLLANDSWORTH (T), Franklin, team captain and most dominant player on Patriot squad ... went both ways as tackle ... averaged six solos and seven assisted tackles per game ... All-Northwest Suburban.

PETE GADE (T), Bentley, toughest hitter ever at Bentley High ... paced squad in tackles every game ... All-Suburban Eight.

RICH MCCOIN (T), GC East, smallest member of All-Observer defensive unit at 5-6 and 168 pounds but quickest and one of strongest ... best interior lineman ever at East ... averaged eight solo tackles per game ... All-Northwest Suburban.

KEVIN ARNOLD (DE), Churchill, team's most valuable player ... All-Western Six ... blocked five kicks, two field goals, one extra point and two punts ... 101 tackles in nine games ... area's premier pass rusher ... dropped quarterback 20 times ... started 17 straight games at defensive end ... AP All-State defensive end.

RON WASCZENSKI (DE), GC East, All-League and All-Area as junior ... All-Northwest Suburban ... top notch guard on offense ... outstanding blocker ... only player on East that went both ways this season.

DAVE HARDING (LB), Thurston, voted top defensive player of Northwest Suburban Conference ... only a junior ... 68 unassisted tackles and 72 assists ... three pass interceptions ... on offense, caught 20 passes for 430 yards and two touchdowns ... lettered in football, basketball and baseball as sophomore.

BRIAN PARTIE (LB), Stevenson, team co-captain ... two year starter ... All-Inter-Lakes ... 65 first hits and 64 assists ... recovered four fumbles ... blocked three extra points ... heart of Stevenson lineup.

PAT BROWN (LB), St. Agatha, Catholic All-League as sophomore, junior and senior ... All-State honorable mention as sophomore and junior ... averaged 15 tackles per game, eight solos ... voted outstanding linebacker in Second Division West ... on offense, gained 448 yards in 54 carries and four touchdowns ... converted 14 of 17 extra points ... kicked three of four field goals, longest 44 yards.

BRUCE RUHL (HB), Southfield Lathrup ... by far the No. 1 athlete in Observerland if not the state ... four year starter ... three years all-league ... '71 AP All-State ... scored 41 touchdowns in four years ... 2,102 yards rushing and 1,021 yards receiving ... punted, kicked off ... rated "blue chip" potential in Big 10, Big Eight and Southeast Conference.

TIM ARNER (HB), GC East, Panther free safety ... intercepted six passes ... All-Northwest Suburban ... constantly came up with key play in East title role.

JOHN DWYER (HB), North Farmington, senior quarterback co-captain ... four pass interceptions ... North's MVP ... passed for 675 yards and eight touchdowns ... gained 142 yards on the ground for two touchdowns ... kicked 11 of 12 extra points ... passed for four two-point conversions ... punted for 1210 yards for 40 yard average, longest 67 ... tackles ball carrier for loss five times from his corner back slot.

TOM BIRNEY (K), Bishop Borgess, junior specialist from Scotland ... bottled five of six field goals on 41, 36, 34, 26 and 24 yard three-pointers ... converted 23 extra points ... punted for a 36.4 average ... kicks 55 yard field goals in practice.

Volleyball Hits Observerland

By BILL CAMERON

Move over guys! Not only do you "have an uncle in the furniture business" but that pretty little girl next door is taking over the sport of Power Volleyball!

Young ones, old ones, short ones, tall ones, 500 strong, made the city of Livonia and Schoolcraft College in particular, for eight hours anyway, the volleyball capital of the United States.

The occasion?

The first annual Power Volleyball Clinic sponsored by the United States Volleyball Association, the Livonia Family Y and Schoolcraft College. By no stretch of the imagination did anyone anticipate the flood of registrations and phone calls. Mike Cicchella, program director of the Livonia Family Y and key organizer of the clinic, spent the better part of a day trying to locate enough volleyballs and ended up with 30.

Marv Gans, director of athletics at Schoolcraft, set up nine volleyball courts in his two gymnasiums and supplied enough food to feed half of Livonia -- and then they came -- from every corner of Michigan -- Sturgis, Adrian, Battle Creek, Ann Arbor, Port Huron, Lansing.

INDIVIDUAL PLAYERS, coaches, whole teams appeared.

Stevenson and Churchill High, Southfield and Plymouth had coaches and players participating. Those that weren't participating were scribbling in notebooks. Others were doing "Japanese rolls," "kamikaze dives" and several other advanced techniques made popular by the world champion Japanese women's team.

Dr. Murray Koorhan of Livonia and midwest director of the U.S.V.B.A. commented that there was no doubt that the television exposure of the Olympic volleyball competition had a great impact on those present. In his 20 years of association with the sport, he has never witnessed such an overwhelming response in numbers for a clinic.

Leadership was provided by Mick Haley of Battle Creek, whose women's team finished fifth in national competition last year. He was assisted by Jerry McNamara, assistant volleyball coach at Ball State University. Between the two of them and their teams, they kept 500 gals and about 50 guys moving around all day.

The backyard, playground brand of volleyball is passe. Now it's bump, set and spike. Emphasis is on serve, return of serve, blocking, team play. You never see an open hand lifting a ball or scooping it or throwing it as is so common in most gymnasiums.

Now it's position, execution, finesse. Women have to hit that ball over a 7 1/2 foot net while men have to get over an eight foot net. The idea is to jump as high as you can when that ball is close to the net and hit on top of it and down into the opposing court.

In topflight competition, the ball, on a hard driven spike, has been clocked at over 100 M.P.H. That's why it is called Power Volleyball. And don't think the gals can't hit hard. They put some of the men to shame!

As an outgrowth of this clinic, Cicchella is establishing a women's league that will play a full schedule beginning in January. If anyone is interested in entering a team or playing on a team, contact him at the Livonia "Y". In his spare time he coaches the Schoolcraft College women's team.

His girls could beat any men's team in the area, playing U.S.V.B.A. rules that is! Most men "lift" the ball with an underhanded motion using their fingers and palms of the hand. According to the rules, this is a no-no. One now takes the ball on the forearms with arms together, extended, and relaxed. You can't play catch and throw anymore!

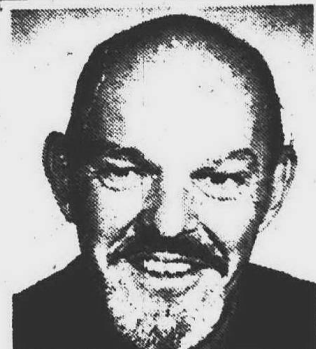

Congratulations should be extended to Schoolcraft College, the Y and the U.S.V.B.A. for making this clinic possible. It seems such a same that a truly American sport has not produced a world championship. The game originated at the Holyoke, Mass. YMCA and spread throughout the world. It is not uncommon for matches to attract 10-20,000 spectators in Europe and the Iron Curtain countries. Yet our men's and women's teams both failed to qualify for Olympic competition. Maybe somewhere in that group at Schoolcraft there are a couple of candidates for the 1976 team. I wouldn't be surprised.

Ski Heil

By

BILL CAMERON

Can you imagine 65 people skiing at Boyne Mt. last Saturday? That has to be one of the earliest openings in years. Generally, Thanksgiving is the kick-off date for most ski areas with Dec. 15 the official "season" for most European resorts and a few western areas.

I am still trying to psych myself and I haven't quite made it. One way I've found to get really enthusiastic is to attend the AYH ski movie which will be held at Ford Auditorium in downtown Detroit (tonight Wednesday) at 8:30. Warren Miller will be there to show his latest film, "Winter People."

If you can't make that, you might try the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Friday night to see John Jay, the father of ski movies, show his latest flick.

If neither of those dates is available, how about coming to our Ladies Ski Day registration on Friday, Dec. 1, at 1:30 p.m. at the Livonia Family Y? I'll have a movie on skiing in Switzerland and talk about equipment, etc., in preparation for our venture out to Mt. Brighton ski area each Tuesday or Thursday.

Everyone seems to be asking the question "Where are you going to ski this year?" I haven't the vaguest idea but I can tell you where to ski.

FOR OPENERS how about Zermatt, Switzerland -- the most beautiful ski village (in my humble opinion) in Europe? (We still have several spaces available before our deadline of Dec. 1.) Next, St. Antoine, Austria -- miles and miles of open slopes. Val d'Isere, France, is also one of my favorites. The French resorts have blossomed in the past five years and you can't go wrong at any of them.

Vail, of course, has to rate as one of the great ones in this country. I'd enjoy visiting the latest area, Snowbird, just 35 minutes from Salt Lake City. I don't know if I could handle the powder snow of Alta, but it would be an experience.

The Canadian Rockies seem to hold a charm of their own as does Mt. Tremblant in eastern Canada.

The New England areas, particularly Vermont, where the boom started, offer excellent skiing. But I really have a secret desire to visit a ski area that not too many people are aware of. It's brand new, uncrowded (so I'm told) but a little difficult to get to. Unfortunately it is situated in the north of Scotland (my heritage is showing) and a little inaccessible. But I can see some interesting possibilities for a combined ski and theater tour of London. Sound interesting?

Oh, well, there is always Mt. Brighton, Sugarloaf and Boyne Country. They can be fun, too. All you need is a sense of humor, good companionship and a few dollars and you can have a good time anywhere.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

As usual, Leon Slavin, genial president and general manager of Jackson Raceway which is conducting the winter meeting at Northville Downs, has plans for a big Thanksgiving at the glass-enclosed plant.

It will be bargain night in the clubhouse and grandstand with turkey dinners offered at each with reduced prices. The cover charge in the clubhouse has been dropped for the evening and one will be able to get a five course dinner at the most reasonable price in the area.

A buffet dinner will be offered in the grandstand starting at 5 p.m., early enough for all of those from the backcountry to enjoy a Thanksgiving dinner and still return to the barn area and the paddock in plenty of time to handle horses for the evening racing program beginning at 8 p.m.

Slavin adopted the Thanksgiving policy years ago at Jackson Raceway and when awarded the early winter dates at Northville Downs, he continued along the same lines.

It does give workers in the barn area and families an opportunity really to enjoy Thanksgiving and also provides a holiday dinner for those who like to watch the pacers and trotters perform from the clubhouse.

However, those planning to use the clubhouse facilities should make reservations. The combination of dinner and racing has proved popular in past years and the story likely will be the same this year.

Just to make the night one for the families, Slavin has issued orders to admit all children accompanied by an adult free of charge. Thus, mom and pop can bring the entire family, enjoy the buffet in the grandstand and then get seats in the unreserved section. It all adds up to a happy ending to a holiday.

RACING Commissioner Leo Shirley must have a good idea by now of what the racing dates will be for 1973. It is known that Shirley has held numerous meetings with the heads of the various tracks in the past month, attempting to come up with dates that will be satisfactory to all.

But such probably won't be the story when he announces the thoroughbred dates by Dec. 1 and harness racing by mid-December in accordance with state law.

What with Hazel Park changing owners and Paul Ryder announcing his retirement as vice president and general manager of the Detroit Race Course to accept a position with Castleton Industries in Florida, Shirley will be dealing with new faces at both running tracks.

It was announced earlier that both the DRC and Hazel Park had asked for 120 days of racing in 1973. However, it is believed the DRC will be satisfied with 108 days, as was the story this year, and end the season in late November.

Hazel Park, which was purchased by Herb Tyner and Bernie Hartman several months ago after more than a year of negotiation, is reported to have asked for only 120 days, starting in March, instead of the 132 it received this year when it accepted 12 days of the DRC allotment and battled the elements in mid-February.

Unless top officials of the various racing associations are wrong, the dates will be similar to those of this year. At least most tracks are making plans on that basis. But there is one big rub.

Wolverine and Hazel Park harness racing tracks have requested back-to-back meetings which means Northville Downs would lose its lucrative summer dates. The latest rumors are that Commissioner Shirley is giving the requests some thought but has a great reluctance to any changes that would work a hardship for Northville.

It won't be long until the dates for the runners are announced and then the standardbred operators will have to sweat out two more weeks before they learn what's ahead for them in 1973.

THIS MARKS the first appearance of good ol' Doc's column since October. We have been on the ailing list for almost two months and just now received permission to do a bit of pecking on the typewriter. Hope that all followers of the pacers and trotters in Observerland enjoy these tidbits. They will continue on a weekly basis until late winter when we hope to resume on twice a week basis.

IT WILL BE a long time before Slavin, boss of racing at the summer meeting of Jackson Raceway in Jackson along with the Jackson-at-Northville campaign, forgets closing night at the autumn session.

Wagering and attendance for the final program were near record highs and Slavin had visions of a season high handle.

So what happens? There were five objections, each of which delayed action, with the result that the final race had to go off in seven minutes and the wagering just missed being the best of the meeting. "Just imagine," fumed Slavin, "A record in our grasp and then come five objections. I guess that comes under the category of the luck of a track operator but what a way to end a meeting. Five objections on the closing night...I'll never forget it."

But he has already and is busy with plans he hopes will make the current campaign the best since he started operating at Northville Downs.

Livonia Ski Skule Ready To Tackle Mt. Brighton Jan. 4

It's "Think Snow" time again and the Livonia Ski Skule is ready to start skiing. The Livonia Recreation Department has again organized a program of skiing for all new skiers, those wishing to improve their skills and for general skiing for the Observerland area.

The Thursday and Friday sessions, which last nine weeks, kick off on Thursday, Jan. 4 at Mt. Brighton.

Anyone in Observerland can register for the Skule by sending in the coupon below along with a $1 fee.

The skiing cost at Mt.

Brighton is $4 with own equipment which includes lesson; all rope tows and use of slopes until closing. Cost without equipment is $6 which includes rental of boots, skis and poles, lesson, all rope tows and use of slopes.

It will be get acquainted night for the Ski Skule on Tuesday, Dec. 5 at the Senior Citizens and Adult Center, 15218 Farmington Road, just south of Five Mile Road in Livonia.

Ages of last year's skule, which included 2,000, ranged from 10 to 60.

Any questions can be answered by Livonia Parks and Recreation or leaders Joe Czaplak and Norb Kopeikin.

Churchill Upends Spartans

Churchill came from behind to blister Stevenson in the opening match of the girls' volleyball season.

Stevenson's varsity squad toppled the Charger six in the first set, 15-12, Churchill rebounded to even it up and force a third and deciding game with a 16-14 victory.

Senior Sharon Perkins opened the serve for Churchill and scored six consecutive points. After a Charger mishap, senior Debbie Humbach served nine straight points and the Churchill squad had shutout Stevenson, 15-0, for the triumph.

It was a non-league victory for Churchill, which opens Western Six competition today against Northville.

"Stevenson just couldn't return our serves," said Churchill Coach Mrs. Allred. They ran into the illegal return problem."

Churchill is coming off a '71 mark of 3-4.

7-6 Edge

Michigan State's 19-12 football victory over Ohio State in 1972 gave the Spartans a 7-6 edge in the all-time series with the Buckeyes.

Spartans To Face 2-8 Northwestern

EAST LANSING Michigan State's football team will face Northwestern Saturday at Spartan Stadium in Duffy Daugherty's last game as the Spartans' head coach.

Kickoff time is 1 p.m. EST. Duffy, in his 19th year as head coach, made a formal announcement about his resignation on Nov. 3, just before the Purdue game.

Through 10 games this season, Daugherty's teams have won 108 games, lost 69 and tied five. His clubs have racked up 11 winning seasons, won two Big Ten titles, finished second four times and have been ranked among the nation's top 10 teams a total of seven times.

DAUGHERTY'S BEST seasons were 1965 and 1966. Over that period MSU won 19 games, lost one (the 1966 Rose Bowl) and tied one (the highly publicized 10-10 Notre Dame game in 1966). The Spartans were rated the best team in the country in 1965 and ranked second to Notre Dame in 1966.

The Northwestern game not only is Duffy's last one, but it is also the final time 25 seniors will be playing in Spartan Stadium. On defense, among seniors bowing out are All-American safety Brad VanPelt, line-backer Gail Clark, end Brian McConnell and tackle Gary VanElst.

Among offensive stars finishing up are tackle Joe DeLamielleure, split end Billy Joe DuPree, and Marv Roberts.

Northwestern is 2-8 on the season and 1-7 in the Big Ten to date, but always manages to give State a rough time. Last season the Spartans were riding a four-game winning streak, but the Wildcats ended it 28-7. Northwestern also won in 1970, by a score of 23-20.

The game has been designated "Family Day" by The Spartan Athletic Department. The head of the household pays only $4 for his ticket and then it's only $2 each for the rest of the family.

Population Hot Spot: Canton Twp.

Seminar Set For Educators On Arbitration

An Observer Roundup
Canton Township far outdistances other Observerland communities in its rate of growth since 1970, according to a population study issued by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

Since the 1970 census, Canton has grown 40.6 per cent in population and 49.6 per cent in the number of occupied dwelling units.

The figures gathered by SEMGOG are based on building permits issued in each community and added to the 1970 census figures. The study assumes that dwelling units are built and occupied according to the following schedule: six months for single and two-family structures and nine months for multiple family structures such as apartments and townhouses.

The study uses the same number of persons per unit as the 1970 census found.

THE AREAS of Farmington, Southfield and Westland all show increases in dwelling units of 15 per cent or more since 1970.

Canton Township is second only to Brownstown Township for rate of growth in Wayne County. Brownstown is growing at a 63.7 per cent rate for population and 75.2 per cent rate for dwelling units.

The total rate of growth for Wayne County is 1.5 per cent in population to a 1972 figure of 2.7 million and 1.9 per cent in dwelling units for a total of 345,000.

Canton's population grew from 11,026 in 1970 to 15,500 as of July 1, 1972. The dwelling units grew from 3,260 in 1970 to 4,880 in 1972. In 1970, there were 3.31 persons per unit.

Westland shows the second highest rate of growth from Observerland's Wayne County communities. It grew from 86,750 persons in 1970 to 97,000 in 1972 for a 11.8 per cent increase. Housing units grew 15 per cent from 23,000 to 26,500. There were 3.64 persons per unit in 1970.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP grew 6.3 per cent in population from 17,500 to 18,600 and 6.9 per cent in housing units from 4,900 to 5,250. A total of 3.4 persons were figured per unit. Livonia's growth continued to stabilize from its rapid growth in the early 1960s, showing a four per cent population increase in 1972 from 110,100 to 114,500. Dwelling units increased 4.4 per cent from 27,700 to 28,900 with 3.94 persons per unit.

The City of Plymouth grew 2.1 per cent in population from 11,760 to 12,000 with 3.1 persons per dwelling unit. The number of dwelling units increased from 3.1 per cent from 3,760 to 3,880.

Garden City had the lowest growth of 1.8 per cent from 41,860 to 42,600 with 3.99 persons per unit. Dwelling units increased 2.1 per cent from 10,480 to 10,700.

OAKLAND COUNTY'S total growth rate was 7.4 per cent from 907,870 to 975,000. Dwelling units increased 8.3 per cent from 265,000 to 287,200.

The City of Farmington's population increased 19.1 per cent from 10,300 to 12,300 with 3.30 persons per unit. Dwelling units jumped 24.2 per cent from 3,130 to 3,890.

Southfield's population jumped 14.3 per cent from 69,300 to 79,200 with 3.4 persons per unit. Dwelling units increased 19 per cent from 20,000 to 24,000.

Lathrup Village showed a population rise of 11.2 per cent with 4,670 residents in 1970 and 5,200 in 1972 and 4.17 persons per household. The households increased 11.4 per cent from 1,100 to 1,250.

Wood Creek Farms gained 10 per cent in population from 1,090 to 1,200 with 3.73 persons per unit. Dwelling units increased 11.1 per cent from 234 to 260.

IN FARMINGTON

Township, the population increased 9.5 per cent from 46,760 to 51,200 with 3.62 persons per household. The number of households grew 10.7 per cent from 12,900 to 14,300.

Franklin Village grew 1.1 per cent from 3,300 to 3,380 with 3.64 persons per unit. Dwelling units increased 1.2 per cent or from 920 to 930.

Beverly Hills experienced an eight-tenths per cent growth from 13,600 to 13,700 and 3.59 persons per unit. Dwelling units increased one per cent from 3,750 to 3,790.

Quakertown had the lowest percentage of growth in Observerland with a four-tenths per cent increase, or three persons over the 1970 population figure of 837. Dwelling units declined by two from 212 in 1970 to 210 in 1972, for a drop of nine-tenths per cent.

The American Arbitration Assn. will hold a seminar for teacher and school board representatives on "Dispute Settlement in Public Education" Dec. 6 and 7 in the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.

Registration can be made by contacting Harry R. Payne, Detroit regional director, American Arbitration Assn., Penobscot Bldg., Detroit 48226. Arbitrator James R. McCormick will discuss concepts and procedures of fact-finding; compensation, work load and leave; and discipline discharge and miscellaneous concepts. Other speakers will include George T. Roumell Jr. on fact-finding criteria; M. David Keefe, the procedures of arbitration; Harry Edwards on arbitrability; and Richard L. Kanner on assignment and layoff.

Housing Group Wins On Appeal

A non-profit corporation made up of doctors and personnel from Northville State Hospital recently made strides in its attempt to get a permit to build a moderate-income, state-subsidized housing complex in Walled Lake.

Walled Lake has been fighting the housing complex since plans began in 1971. The city is now attempting to invalidate a decision by the State Court of Appeals issued

Oct. 27. That decision reverses an earlier Oakland County Circuit Court decision and would remove obstacles from getting the building permit.

The Northville Area Non-Profit Housing Corp. was formed by "a group of interested employees," Dr. Richard Budd, superintendent of Northville State Hospital said. It isn't connected with either the hospital or the Dept. of Mental Health, Dr. Budd added.

Many of NSH's employees are attendants, maintenance and cafeteria workers. Many, too, are black and commute long distances from Detroit. Hospital officials have long felt the need for adequate employee housing in the suburbs, but "SNOB zoning" has been a serious barrier.

THE LATEST attempt to prevent construction of the housing complex was made by attorney Robert Lord, who was hired by the Walled Lake City Council to fight the case. Lord is attempting to get a new hearing in the Court of Appeals by claiming that one of the judges, Victor Targonski, was improperly appointed to the court and shouldn't have ruled on the decision.

The Northville non-profit group paid $350,000 of state money for 30 acres of land in Walled Lake, according to City Manager Harold Ackley.

The land had been rezoned from single-family to multiple residential in 1967. Worried Walled Lake residents checked the rezoning transaction and decided that too little public notice had been given before the public hearing.

OAKLAND CIRCUIT Judge Farrell Roberts upheld the city's claim that the 1967 rezoning was invalid because of insufficient public notice when the Northville group attempted to use the city for a building permit.

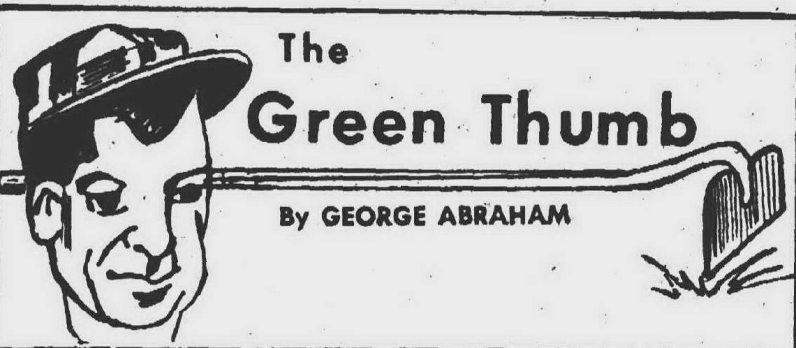

The Court of Appeals reversed this decision Oct. 27, clearing the way for issuance of the building permit.

Ackley said the city will pursue the controversy all the way to the State Supreme Court, if necessary.

He said that citizen objections center on overloading the schools; overtaxing city facilities and roads; and adding people to the city who "have come from everywhere and have no real interest in the city."

"There's no way of telling what type of people you'll get," he said. "They (subsidized housing) haven't proved out well at all in other areas."

He said that if the complex is built about 2,000 persons will be added to Walled Lakes 4,000 residents. The complex residents will be in the $4,500 to $12,000 income bracket he said.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

Starting plants: Many gardeners want to start making new plants by cuttings, and a question we get often is: "How do you make a cutting?"

First, a cutting is nothing more than a "slip" or tip from a growing plant. To make a cutting, take a sharp knife and cut a tip about four inches long. Just where you make the cut isn't too important. Some florists feel that if you make a cutting on a node, or about 1/4-inch below the node (also called a joint) you get more roots.

Most gardeners pay no attention to where the cutting is made. How about dipping the tips in a hormone powder to promote rooting? It works fine, but here again, a good many gardeners never use a hormone powder and they start dozens of plants.

Cuttings can be placed in a glass of plain tap water, or if you prefer use vermiculite or perlite. Be sure to remove the lower leaves so you can insert the stem in the rooting material, without danger of rotting.

If you have some showy gloxinias or rex begonias, you can try a different method for making new plants. Take a razor blade and make small cuts through the veins on a leaf. Then lay the leaf on a moist surface such as sand, perlite or vermiculite. You'll be surprised to find small plantlets forming at the spots where the veins were slit.

MIX UP house plant soil: This is a reminder to mix up a batch of house plant potting mixture so you'll have some on hand when winter rolls around. A mix that will do for almost all house plants consists of using one part each of sand, peat and loam. You can add some perlite or vermiculite to this to increase drainage and make the mixture lighter for root growth.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC: "This fall we set out some evergreens (Japanese Yews, Hollies and two rhododendrons.) Is it necessary to protect them?"

Answer: Just to be on the safe side, you should put up a burlap screen to prevent wind or sun injury. Or you can spray the foliage with one of the plastic sprays (called anti-desiccant) designed to cut down on water loss. Also make sure the plants go into the winter with plenty of moisture in the soil. Root systems of plants vary in depth, so give your evergreens (or non-evergreens) two or three hours of a steady soaking.

Sprinkling the surface of the soil each day is not enough. Water them thoroughly.

Blood Unit Holiday Hours Set

A series of public donor drives to help insure an adequate supply of blood during the coming holiday season has been scheduled by the Michigan Community Blood Center (MCBC).

The Michigan Community Blood Center is a statewide non-profit organization devoted to research and education in the field of blood banking.

Drawings will be conducted in MCBC's new self-contained bloodmobile from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on the following dates and locations:

Tuesday, Nov. 21, Korvette Federal's Shopping Center, 12 1/2 Mile and Southfield Rds., Southfield.

Friday, Nov. 24, Arlan's Dept. Store, Telegraph and Eight Mile Rd., Southfield.

Wednesday, Nov. 29, Korvette's Shopping Center, Telegraph and W. Chicago, Redford.

Nov. 30 through Dec. 2, Westland Shopping Center, W. Warren and Wayne Rd., Westland.

ONE OF THE MOST cherished trophies awarded for many years in Detroit was the Bud Shaver memorial trophy "for outstanding contributions to sports." It was a creation of the now defunct Sports Guild, and its 1957 recipient was W. W. Edgar.

JOE LOUIS -- Detroit's "Brown Bomber" -- one of the greatest heavyweight fighters who ever lived, had great help along the way from one of his "discoverers" and closest advisers, Eddie Edgar. Eddie was instrumental in starting the Golden Gloves in Detroit and covered every one of Joe's title fights.

WALTER HAGEN revolutionized the status of golf professionals as he swept to one championship after another and it was in 1944, at Red Run, that a photographer caught "The Haig" confiding in Eddie how it was done.

AMONG THE HIGHLIGHTS of W. W. Edgar's versatile reporting of all sports were the chronicling of the world record shattering feats of motorboat racer Gar Wood. Here is Eddie (center), still able to wave as though "it's all in a day's work," after riding at 124.58 miles per hour in Miss America X on the Detroit River. At the wheel was Wood (left), aided by mechanic Olin Johnson.

It's No. 75 For Eddie, 'And Still Going Strong'

By FRED DeLANO

Seventy-five years seems too short a period for any one man to have lived so completely, so enjoyfully and to have done so much for the pleasure of others as W. W. Edgar.

Yet, when Eddie reached what he called "the three-quarter pole" Sunday, the most frequent phrase which crossed the minds of the many who knew of the milestone and extended best wishes was framed in the words, "and still going strong."

Scores of civic organizations, community governmental units and sports organizations have paid tribute to Eddie throughout his long and fascinating journalistic career for his participation and many personal contributions of time and effort in their support.

OBSERVER NEWSPAPER employees, who have come to know and revere this round emigrant from the Pennsylvania Dutch country since he became a colleague in 1967, paid Eddie their own "Happy Birthday" tribute Friday when he was joined by his wife of 42 years, Leona, for the occasion.

And in Eddie's typical, twinkling way, his response to his party was one that looked to the future rather than the past -- as he called it the "spirit of 76."

It is doubtful whether many ever have been so lucky as to be so in love with his life's chosen pursuit than W. W. Edgar.

Michigan knows him best for the many years he has devoted to the cause of sports, and while Observerland shares this respect for Eddie, it also knows the many other civic avenues of his interests.

A member of the charter commission whose work led to the incorporation of the City of Livonia, Eddie served as vice president of the first Livonia City Council and through the years his work in strengthening the municipality has known no limits.

The warmth of the yarns he spins in his personal column, "The Stroller," have brought him award-winning recognition from the Michigan Press Association. ONI readers know, too, that often his columns and features have penetrated the sores of government and of society in general as, again typically, he seeks to make this a better place to live -- not content with past successes or the status quo.

ALTHOUGH A MAN who serves others, for which there is no greater reward than the tribute of his fellow man, Eddie would disdain being labeled a saint. In so doing, he might point to the fact that at the age of 12 he was the pool shooting champion of the Lehigh Valley.

Unsuspecting Detroiters, in later years, were to learn that his mastery of the cue was an ability with which they hadn't reckoned.

It was in 1924 that Eddie came to Detroit to begin work on the Free Press where he stayed for 24 years. Several years in the machine shops of the Bethlehem Steel Works, after having to leave high school to help support his widowed mother and the family, were not to his liking, and almost by accident he stumbled into newspaper work. First this was in his hometown of Catasauqua, Pa., and then at Allentown.

His career at the Free Press, which saw Eddie ascend to the sports editorship, was a love affair with one of the greatest eras of sports.

He rubbed elbows and became great friends with the likes of Gar Wood, Joe Louis, Ty Cobb, Mickey Cochrane, Gus Dorais, Walter Hagen, Fielding Yost and many others.

The University of Detroit awarded him a varisty "D" for his outstanding reporting on the exploits of the unbeaten 1928 Titan football team, and the present day list of awards and citations keeps growing.

RETIRING FROM the Free Press in 1948, Eddie became executive secretary of the Bowling Proprietors Assn. of Greater Detroit and in the 16 years that followed he probably was more responsible than any other one person for the boom bowling experienced in the metropolitan area.

Eddie's hand still is highly prominent in bowling affairs as he continues to give his weekly bowling report on the Bob Reynolds sports show at WJR every Friday -- a broadcast he has missed only five times since '64!

In 1964, at the age of 67 when most men already are in retirement, Eddie Edgar joined Observer Newspapers and has continued to distinguish himself both journalistically and in sports and community activities.

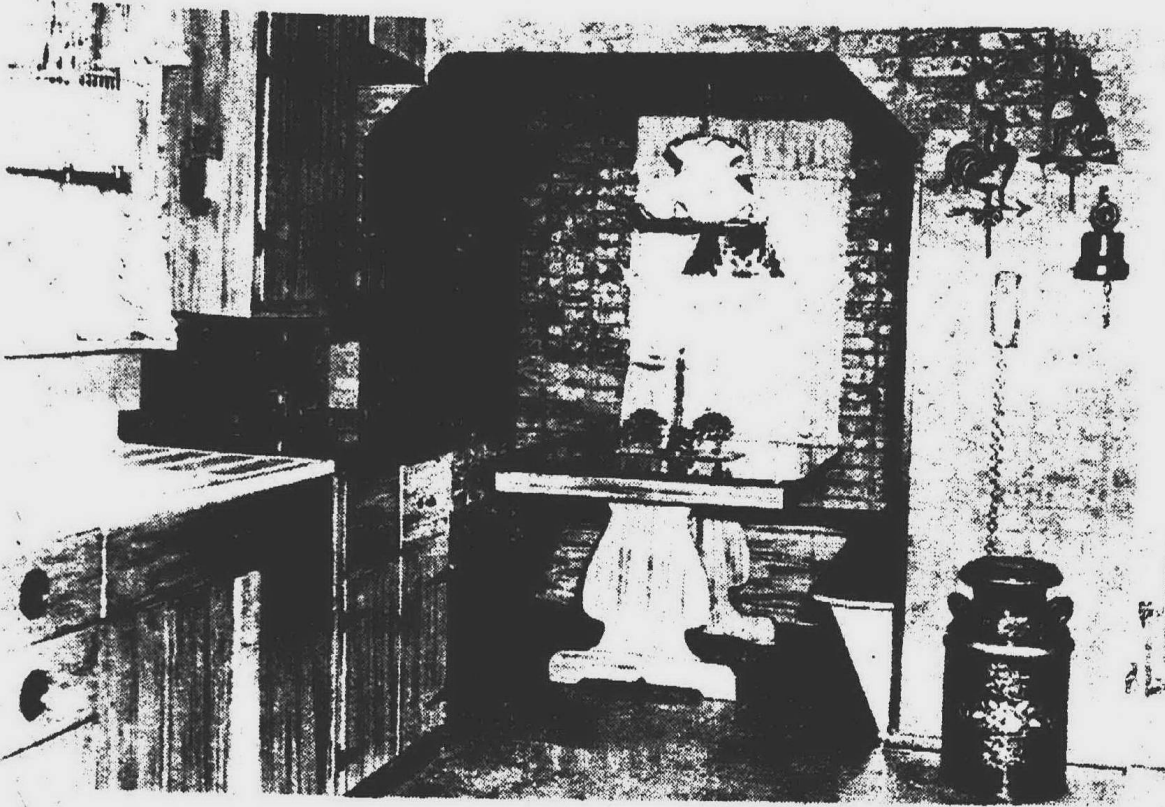

If anything, "still going strong" is an understatement. May it long continue.

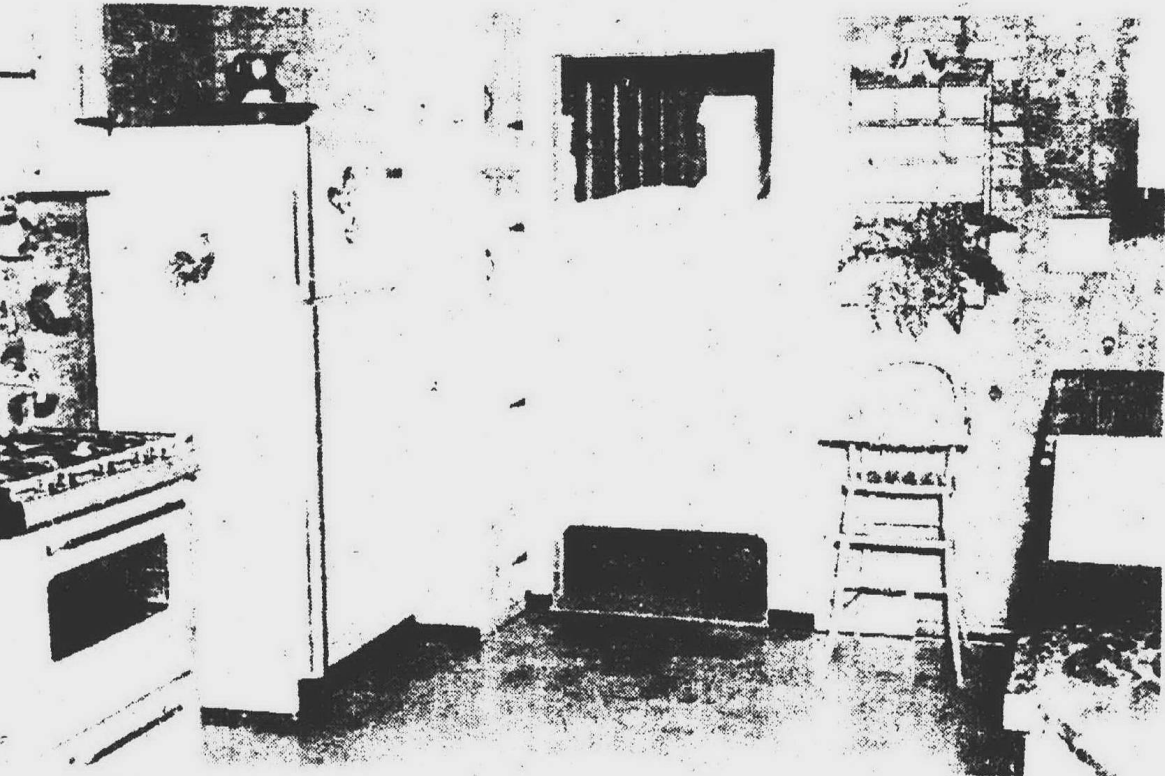

HE'LL WEAR "OI' 75" only once, but when he did there was Mrs. Wilson W. Edgar -- Leona -- there to share the joys, and maybe a few tears of happiness, with Eddie.

AT NOTRE DAME, about 1926, as the former Irish great, Gus Dorais, who then was coach at U. of D., watched a Notre Dame triumph from the sidelines, who else would you expect at his side but Eddie?

THE TIRED OLD KITCHEN was the starting point in the renovation efforts of a young couple who bought an aged two-story house. Choosing a 19th century decor, they used sandpaper, gold paint and brown ink to convert kitchen cabinets into antique wood cupboards. Every inch of space was used in the breakfast nook area through the use of benches along the walls.

RED BRICK LOOK was achieved by using hardboard paneling on the walls. Black molding was used at floor, ceiling and room entrance to set off the Masonite brand Plantation Red paneling. Conversion of the kitchen took approximately two weeks of spare time work for the young couple. Antiques were used to accent the room setting.

Quality Now Emphasized In Apartment Construction

Apartment construction accounts for over fifty per cent of all housing starts, and is expected to increase even more within a few years.

Some of the prime reasons behind the trend to multifamily buildings, according to Apartment Construction News, are:

- The increasing cost of land
- The declining birth rate
- The rapid increase in the number of working wives
- The desire for no-maintenance housing
- The planned recreational and social amenities offered by multi-family complexes.

ANOTHER reason for the move to apartments is that quality, as well as quantity, is being emphasized. This is leading to a new look in garden and highrise apartments and in attached townhouses.

The institutional look of "sameness" is on the way out and a warmer, more inviting home-like appearance is in.

Quality materials, such as wood windows and panel or louver doors, are being used to accent the "character" of the overall design -- be it traditional or modern.

Their use is feasible because ponderosa pine windows and both panel and louver doors are available in stock sizes and come in a variety of contemporary and traditional styles.

Residents find them attractive, designers versatile, and builders more practical and less costly than custom units.

ponderosa pine panel doors is their design authenticity. Handsomely detailed styles, such as Cross-and-Bible doors (with four upper panels resembling a cross, and two lower panels depicting an open book) effectively stress a community's Colonial architecture.

The variety of window styles offers appropriate beauty -- plus other tenant benefits.

Casement windows, for example, have slim lines and unrestricted glass areas that go well with modern decor. They give good visibility and open outward at a 90-degree angle for maximum ventilation. Double-hung styles are traditional, and bows and bays reflect Colonial decor.

USE OF insulating glass in weatherstripped wood sash adds another quality bonus. The combination gives maximum protection against heat loss and condensation. This means year-round comfort for tenants, and lower heating and air conditioning bills for owners.

Since storm sash isn't needed with insulating glass, there's less upkeep.

With apartment construction up, prospective tenants will have a wider choice. Owners know tenants go where the quality is, so they're taking care to provide it.

How Can Cities Use New Funds?

By LEONARD POGER

City and township officials in the metropolitan Detroit region learned the "dos and don'ts" of spending millions of federal sharing dollars to be mailed out soon by the government.

Some 150 officials, including many from western Wayne County, attended a Michigan Municipal League workshop last week in Westland Shopping Center's auditorium.

The workshop was held to tell city and township officials when the federal checks will be mailed out (sometime in early December); what the funds can be used for (just about everything); and the kind of continued reporting the communities must accomplish to keep on getting the federal funds.

The workshop follows congressional approval of the president's $30.2 billion revenue sharing plan to pump into state, county, and local governments over the next five years.

LOCAL governments are being tested to see if they can spend money as well as the federal government, the audience was told by Robert Fryer, Municipal League director.

"There is no doubt that we can do a better job. The only alternative is more centralization of government."

Fryer said that "critics and Monday morning quarterbacks," after the money is spent, will claim that city officials are not being responsive to local needs.

Some segments of the community will want the new federal funds used to reduce local property taxes while others will urge the use of the money for environmental benefits.

In the final analysis, there will be three groups of persons for local officials to satisfy, Fryer said.

Those three are the local electorate, which he called the most important; the State Legislature, which will be looking at the spending of federal funds in terms of state revenue sharing; and Congress, which will be looking at the performance before agreeing to continue the program after its first five year period.

OTHER MML officials told the audience that the federal funds can be used for just about any city program or service. The only exception is that it can't be used to obtain other federal program funds which require a local financial contribution.

The federal funds are to be used "only for the priority expenditures which include eight areas of city services:

Public safety; environmental protection (which takes in sewage disposal, rubbish collection, and pollution abatement); public transportation, health, recreation, libraries, social services for the aged or poor, and financial administration.

Other rules require that the cities put the money in a separate trust fund and that the interest collected on it be spent "with a reasonable" amount of time, or two years under federal law.

To keep the public and news media informed on how the money is going to be spent and how it is eventually used, there are two federal requirements.

One has city officials issuing a proposed use of the federal funds, and the other has the officials printing a report on how the money is eventually used. Both reports must be published in a local newspaper, and other news media have to be made aware of the existence of the reports.

THE CITIES will receive their first checks from the government in early December for the first six months of this year with another check coming in early January for the last six months of 1972.

From then on, the checks will be sent out every three months.

County Retirees' Pensions Boosted

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has granted its retired employees a pension increase ranging up to six per cent.

About 2,800 retirees will benefit from a revision of the employee retirement ordinance which was amended by the commissioners during their board meeting Nov. 16.

The amendment increases the retirement allowance by six per cent for all employees who were retired by April 1970.

Those retired between April 1970 and April 1972 will receive increases ranging from six per cent down to 0.25 per cent. The highest rate applies to those retired nearest 1970, the lowest to those retired in 1972.

Employees who retire after April 1, 1972 will not benefit from the change, but are expected to receive even larger pension allowances due to general pay increases and cost of living compensation.

The cost of these increased allowances will be borne entirely by the retirement system's reserve fund, which maintains a surplus. State law prohibits use of the retirement reserve fund for any other purpose.

"This increase was necessary to enable retired county employees, many of whom receive a pension of only $75 a month, to cope with the rising cost of living," said Robert E. FitzPatrick, chairman of the Board of Commissioners.

Some people learn the hard way. Paychecks disappear fast.

Day-to-day living expenses eat up a lot. And maybe part goes in the savings account for this year's vacation or another immediate goal.

A good chunk of that money seems to disappear by itself.

So it's no wonder that when it comes to long-term goals, or when an emergency comes up, there simply aren't funds to meet the need.

Unless there was a nest egg building up all that time.

A good way to build that nest egg is with U.S. Savings Bonds. The easy way to buy them is to sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. An amount you specify will be set aside from your paycheck and used to buy Bonds.

And while you're going through grocery bills, car repairs, vacation weekends, kids' toys and nights out on the town, you'll know you're saving money too.

That's good to know.

Now E Bonds pay 5 1/4% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

Macaroni Enlivens Leftovers

By ELLY

Ever hear the legend of how macaroni was invented and how it got its name?

It was during Marco Polo's sojourn in China, the story goes, that one of the members of his company became enamored of a beautiful Chinese girl. One day, as she was kneading her bread dough, her lover enticed her away from her chore. On their return they found the dough covered with fallen leaves.

The inventive Italian came up with a solution. He proceeded to strain the dough by forcing it through the holes in a wicker basket. The dough would come out the openings and the leaves would stay in the basket.

Instead the long strands of dough dried and hardened in the sun. The maiden gave him the strange looking pieces of dough (he was heading back to Italy) and later on he cooked them.

Everyone thought they tasted just great, even Marco Polo. All the way home he had to keep on making more dough strands to satisfy his companions.

And that is how Naples became the macaroni center of the world.

How was it named? An Italian ruler, on first tasting the pasta, exclaimed, "Ma caroni," which means, "How very dear!"

All of which is a rather round-about way to lead up to what to do with leftover Thanksgiving turkey. If you tire of turkey sandwiches, this baked turkey-macaroni salad sounds good.

BAKED TURKEY- MACARONI SALAD

- 2 c. elbow macaroni
- 4 c. cooked, diced turkey
- 1 1/3 c. toasted chopped almonds
- 1 T. fresh lemon juice
- 1 t. grated lemon rind
- 1 1/2 c. grated Swiss cheese
- 2 t. celery salt
- 1/2 t. pepper
- 1 1/2 c. mayonnaise
- Parsley

Cook and drain macaroni. Combine with all other ingredients except parsley. Turn into buttered two-quart baking dish. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven for 30 minutes. Garnish with parsley. Serves four to six.

TURKEY LOAF No. 1

- 2 c. cooked turkey
- 1/2 c. cooked carrots
- 1 c. cooked frozen green peas
- 1/2 c. diced celery
- 1 c. fresh white bread crumbs
- 1/2 c. milk
- 2 egg yolks, well beaten
- 1 small onion, chopped fine
- Juice of 1/2 a lemon
- 1/2 t. savory
- 1 t. salt
- 1/4 t. pepper
- 1 c. diced crustless bread
- 1/4 c. melted butter

Put the turkey, carrots and peas through the food chopper. Place in a bowl and add all except last two ingredients. Butter an 8 by 4-inch loaf pan generously. Put mixture in pan. Mix bread cubes with melted butter and spread on top of loaf. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven 35 to 45 minutes. Serve with light white sauce flavored with parsley.

TURKEY LOAF No. 2

- 2 c. chopped cooked turkey
- 4 c. bread crumbs
- 1/2 c. milk
- 1/4 c. butter
- 2 eggs
- 1 t. salt
- 1/2 t. white pepper
- 3 T. onion juice
- 1 c. finely chopped carrots
- 2 t. minced parsley

Mix ingredients in order given. Pack in greased bread pan and bake for one hour in preheated 350-degree oven.

BACONY BRUSSELS SPROUTS

- 2 (10-oz.) packages frozen Brussels sprouts
- 1/2 cup beer
- 2 tablespoons instant minced onions
- 2 cups water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 6 slices bacon, diced and fried until crisp
- 3 tablespoons chopped parsley

Combine Brussels sprouts, beer, onions, water and salt. Cook uncovered for 15 to 20 minutes or until sprouts are tender. Drain and place in a serving dish. Top with butter. Garnish with crisp bacon pieces and chopped parsley.

IN ORDER to win his love, Garry Riecke has to face three fencers. They are (left to right) Jerry Thomas, Marty Moorehead and Riley Tadlock. Ann Button, 35042 Hees, is ticket chairman for "The Fantasticks," the first musical to be staged by the WWCP in six years.

ALL SORTS of strange things happen in "The Fantasticks." Here the young lovers are separated by a wall, but the wall happens to be a human being, Juan Pablo Verde in real life. Lydia Droz and Garry Riecke play the lovers.

'Marigolds' To Play At U-M

ANN ARBOR presented by the University of Michigan's Pulitzer prize-winning play, "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds," will be in the Power Center for the Performing Arts.

Films listed in this guide are showing in area theaters. Check the theater listings for the specific theater and time of showings.

THEY ONLY KILL THEIR MASTERS-- James Garner stars in this mystery-comedy, along with Katharine Ross, Hal Holbrook and Harry Guardino. (PG, none)

RAGE-- George C. Scott both directs and stars in this story of a man's revenge against the Army for the death of his son and the loss of his land.

ULZANA'S RAID-- Burt Lancaster fights off both cowboys and Indians in this Western. (R, none)

ELVIS ON TOUR-- This documentary style movie analyzes Elvis and his rise to stardom through scenes and interviews of the singer on tour. (G, none)

FIDDLER ON THE ROOF-- The movie, based on Broadway's longest-running musical, lives up to expectations with excellent photography and singing. (G, A-1)

DELIVERANCE-- Four men challenge a river and a group of hostile mountaineers. Stars Burt Reynolds and Jon Voight. (R, none)

A SEPARATE PEACE-- Set in the summer of 1942, this story is about life in a boys' boarding school. Based on the novel by John Knowles. (PG, none)

LADY SINGS THE BLUES-- Based on the life of the legendary Billie Holiday, it has Diana Ross in the leading role. (R, none)

THE VALACHI PAPERS-- More about the Mafia, based on Peter Maas's book of the same name. (R, none)

SWINGIN' STEWARDESSES-- This is a not-very interesting attempt at combining a travelogue and sexploits. (X, C)

Westland Civic Players Ready Musical Fantasy

Amusements

Tickets are now on sale for the Wayne Westland Civic Players' production of "The Fantasticks," to be staged at 8:30 p.m., Friday and Saturday, Dec. 1 and 2, in John Glenn High School, 36105 Marquette, Wayne.

Anne Button, 35042 Hees, Livonia, is the ticket chairman. They are $3 for adults and $1.50 for students and senior citizens.

"THE FANTASTICKS" is the first musical comedy to be staged by the WWCP in six years, and includes such songs as "Try to Remember," "Soon It's Gonna Rain," "Plant a Radish" and "Never Say No." The music is by Harvey Schmidt and the script is by Tom Jones.

The story centers on young love and how it grows to maturity. It's a fantasy and a child's jungle gym will be used by the players to help create the aura of whimsy and make-believe.

"It's an intimate type of show," says Lois Tobin, the director who is also drama teacher at John Glenn. "The actors talk directly to the audience."

Riley Tadlock of Belleville will play the role of the narrator or El Gallo. He's a romantic, Latin American swashbuckler.

GARRY RIECKE, a John Glenn student, plays the boy, and Lydia Droz, a Franklin High School student, is cast as the girl. Carl Schuman of Livonia and Floyd Guernsey of Wayne play the two fathers who plot to bring the couple together.

FLOYD GUERNSEY (left) and Carl Schuman discuss horticulture and love in this scene from the Wayne-Westland Civic Theater's production of "The Fantasticks," playing Dec. 1 and 2 in John Glenn High School. This scene revolves around the song "Plant a Radish." Guernsey and Schuman play the plotting poppas of the young lovers. (Observer photos by Dewey Jenkins)

Other characters in the play are The Mute, played by Juan Pablo Verde of Ypsilanti; the Shakespearean actor, Gerald Thomas, a John Glenn drama teacher; and the Man Who Dies Well, Monty Moorehead of Westland.

Bruce Graden, another John Glenn teacher, is the musical director, and Lois Shafer of Wayne is the director of choreography. Joan Wilson of Westland is the assistant director.

Westland Club Now Has Daily Lunches

Westland's Over 21 Club, once a meeting place for matinee-going matrons, has revamped its menu and is now offering lunches five days a week.

The club, located atop the Quo Vadis Entertainment Center, at Wayne and Warren Roads, is still catering to the Wednesday matinee-goer, but is also hoping to attract area businessmen who want to eat in a quiet, intimate setting.

"Marigolds" deals with a brilliant, but plain, young girl who is dominated by an embittered mother and a beautiful, popular sister.

Zindel, who struck it rich both financially and critically with "Marigolds," has also found success with his second play "And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little." His newest work, "The Secret Affairs of Mildred Wild," starring Maureen Stapleton, has just opened in New York.

THE CLUB, which opened in 1967, still has its popular evening out special. You can enjoy the dinner menu, which features sirloin steak, frog legs, and fried shrimp, and see a movie afterwards in one of the center's four theaters. This offer is available Sunday-Thursday evenings.

If you want to sit at the bar and sip a few drinks, you can still watch a movie. It overlooks the center's drive-in theater, and ear plugs are available.

For a Victorian delight, there is a steam crock of onion soup served with a loaf of warm bread and a glass of wine. This goes very well in the club's opulent red and black 1890s decor.

La Parisien, a sirloin-steak, is the most expensive item on the luncheon menu. It's $2.75. For dieters, there's a large Over 21 salad.

AAUW Will Stage Musical

The Birmingham Branch of the American Association of University Women will present a musical version of "A Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens at 11 a.m., Saturday, Dec. 2.

It will be staged in Birmingham Seaholm High School Auditorium, W. Lincoln and Cranbrook Roads. Tickets are $1 each.

Melodrama Or Farce Play Is Entertaining

By TIM RICHARD

It's hard to know what to make of "The Three Musketeers," which opened last week in repertory at Wayne State University's Hilberry Classic Theater.

As written and acted, it's a straight melodrama about love and glory and intrigue, sort of like an Errol Flynn "B" movie.

Yet when the amorous Duke of Buckingham tells the wavering Queen of France that "Thousands may die, but I must see you again," you and the rest of the audience crack up as if Peter Raby's script were a farce.

The graduate school students received only mild applause when it was all over, but undeniably it was a great evening out.

THE PLAY closely follows the plot of Alexander Dumas' 1845 romantic novel about cadet d'Artagnan (Michael Santo) and the three wildest of the Musketeers, a group in the service of King Louis XIII and distrustful of the conniving Cardinal Richelieu.

James Corrigan has choreographed an incredible number of sword fights -- the best, incidentally, this playgoer has ever seen on a stage. Director Richard Spear has a tremendous job in using 25 actors to fill 80 roles on a stage that is less than half the size, I would guess, of the Stratford (Ont.) Festival, where it was performed in 1968.

With such a display of arms, I fully expected someone to get an eye poked out, but it fortunately never happened.

With so many characters and so much action, no one really gets to reveal himself with the exception of first Musketeer Athos (Hilberry veteran David Q. Combs), the drunken, cynical first husband of the wicked Milady de Winter.

Ordinarily I close my eyes at head-chopping scenes, in movies or on stage, but this time I didn't mind seeing the de Winter woman catch hers at the end. That broad had the reverence for life of a hippie and the morals of a hippie. She needed killing, even if it was ordered by a vigilante court, by the saints!

RUSSELL SMITH has designed the Hilberry's most elaborate set to date. It includes a revolving room that just transports actors on and off stage, alternately serving as a private chamber or a wine cellar. The stage's second floor has a map of France with a tiny spotlight pointing to appropriate towns, announcing which tavern the current brawl is taking place in, or simply saying "Meanwhile..."

"Musketeers" is swash-buckling, rollicking, earthy of humor, lofty of sentiment ("One for all, and all for one"), complicated (one of the queen's maids is a double agent, but I never figured out which one), full of lusty women and hobbling cuckold husbands -- in short, thoroughly entertaining.

It whets the appetite for future Hilberry offerings -- Miller's "The Crucible," Sheridan's "School for Scandal," Moliere's "Volpone" and Kaufman's "Cat among the Pigeons" -- as well as for such carry-over productions as Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Romeo and Juliet."

ROBERT QUIGLEY as Bobby, in the Bonstelle production of the musical "Company," doesn't lack company here. His friends, who worry about his being lonely are (left to right) Karin Figlen, Barbara Bean, Linda Conner, Joni Howie and Millie Whiteside. The musical will be performed Nov. 24-25 and Dec. 1-2 at 8:30 p.m. and Nov. 28 and Dec. 3, at 2:30. Tickets are available at Wayne State University's Hilberry Box office and at Hudson's.

'Peter Pan' Has Dec. 2 Opening

"Peter Pan," one of the most endearing of all theatrical fantasies, will be brought to the stage for two performances on Saturday, Dec. 2, in Stevenson High School, 33500 W. Six Mile, Livonia.

It will be staged again Saturday, Dec. 16, in Franklin

High School, 31000 Joy Road. Curtain times both days will be 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

The show will be directed by Russ Vogel of Livonia, who is also playing the role of the dreaded Captain Hook. Carey Dietrich of Farmington is playing Peter Pan.

Tickets may be purchased by mail order or at the door for $1. To purchase tickets by mail, send a self-addressed stamped envelope along with a check or money order to Peter Pan Tickets, P.O. Box 2595, Livonia, 48150. Checks should be made payable to Production Players.

Clubs Plan Convention

DETROIT The Michigan State Numismatic Society will hold its 17th annual coin convention, exhibition and bourse in the Detroit Hilton from Nov. 24-26. It will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

The society is planning events for the whole family. Throughout the show hours there will be a fashion show, fabric painting and a Dutch treat luncheon for women. All day Saturday, there will be juniors' programs for the children.

There will be meetings and programs of the Early American Coppers, the Paper Money Collectors of Michigan, the International Order of Wooden Money and the Michigan Token and Medal Society.

Featured in the lobby will be a U.S. and U.N. Post Office. The Abraham Lincoln Museum will also be on display, and on Friday there will be two tours of the National Bank of Detroit's Money Museum.

The MSNS is headquartered at 13114 W. Warren, Dearborn, 48126, and Mrs. F. M. Schook, P.O. Box 2014, Livonia, 48154, is the administrative secretary.

29 Are Chosen For OU Choir

Farmington, Livonia, Southfield and Redford Township students are among the 29 who have been chosen as members of the Oakland University Singers.

They are Jan and Nancy Greene of Farmington; Bonnie Hart of Livonia; Miriam Parr of Redford Township; and Vickie DeMeyer and Mary Fardell of Southfield.

The group is the second oldest musical organization on the Rochester campus, and since its founding in 1965 it has performed throughout Michigan and neighboring states, winning favorable reviews.

12 Southfield Residents Are In JCC Musical

Twelve Southfield residents are involved in the production of "Milk and Honey," being presented in the Center Theater of the Jewish Community Center, 18100 Meyers, Detroit, Dec. 3-17.

"Milk and Honey," a musical by Jerry Herman and Don Appell, is about a group of tourists in the Holy Land. It is being presented in celebration of Israel's 25th anniversary.

PERFORMANCES are set for every evening at 8:30, except Monday and Friday. Sunday evenings, there will be a 7:30 curtain and there will be a 2:30 matinee of Dec. 17. Reservations should be made by calling the center weekday mornings.

The director is Steve A.

Edwards of Southfield. He has studied at the International School of Brussels, Belgium, and has appeared in many musicals in the Detroit area, including the Southfield production of "Bye, Bye Birdie."

Jocelyn Krieger, also of Southfield, is the musical director. She studied at the American Theater Wing in New York City, and has appeared with the Detroit Symphony and in concerts in New York, Chicago, Cleveland and in Canada. She sings in 11 languages and is also the only female gypsy orchestra leader in America.

Benjamin H. Craine is the lighting director and Joan St. John of Lathrup Village is the associate director. Mrs. St.

John is founder and director of the Lathrup Children's Theater.

STAGE MANAGER is Leo Seligson of Farmington. He stage-managed two previous center productions.

E. Toby Lantz and Carole Chase, both of Southfield, are program book chairmen.

Harriet Goldman of Southfield is the co-star of the production. She has previously appeared in musicals with the Berkley Players and has sung with the JCC choral group and the Shalom Aleichem Chorus.

Also in the cast are Abby Moran, Michelle Zatkun, Franklin J. Sterns, Shelley Grant, Morris Berk and Janice Lee Saul, all of Southfield; and Sue and Ron St. John of Franklin Village.

Detroit Symphony Plans 3 Christmas Programs

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra will present a Christmas festival this December with emphasis on family entertainment. A colorfully staged production of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker" ballet, Handel's "Messiah" and an orchestral-choral pops program will be featured.

The festival is scheduled for Dec. 9-17 in Ford Auditorium.

Because of the heavy ticket demand for two "Nutcracker" Ballet performances previously announced for 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., Dec. 9, the symphony has added another. This will be at 2 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 16. Tickets are now on sale for all festival events at the auditorium box office, Hudson's and Grinnell's.

"NUTCRACKER" features the popular Detroit Severo Ballet Company and the production is the same show that was broadcast as a television special last Christmas under sponsorship of U.S. Steel.

(Observerland fans will have an opportunity to see the Severo Ballet Company in "Nutcracker" on Dec. 10 in Plymouth High School Auditorium, Joy and Canton Center Roads, in a performance with the Plymouth Symphony. This will be at 4 p.m. Tickets are $3 for adults and $1.50 for students. Ticket requests may be mailed to the Plymouth Symphony Society, Box 467, Plymouth, 48170).

The Christmas festival pops program will be at 8:30 p.m., Friday, Dec. 15.

THE ORCHESTRA will be led by Sixten Ehrling, and the Rackham Symphony Choir, conducted by Charles Heard of Westland, will sing.

The program will include music from Rimsky-Korsakov's "Christmas Eve," Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel," "Greensleeves" and the popular song "The Many Moods of Christmas."

Pierre Hetu will conduct "Messiah" at 3:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 17.

The Kenneth Jewell Chorale will be featured with soloists Doralene Davis, Alice Dutcher, Anastasios Vrenios and will be featured with soloists Doralene Davis, Alice Dutcher, Anastasios Vrenios and Charles Rose.

'Carousel' Is At Will-O-Way

The musical "Carousel," by Rodgers and Hammerstein, is now playing at the Will - O - Way Theater, 775 W. Long Lake Road. The show will run Nov. 24 and 25 and Dec. 1 and 2.

Among those in the cast are Dr. Ivan Green and Bruce Paterson of Southfield and Pietro DiGiorgio of Garden City.

Reservations are recommended and must be made by calling the theater. The curtain goes up at 8:30 p.m.

NEA Booklet

A short booklet, "Programs of the National Endowment for the Arts," is now available from the Michigan Council for the Arts office, 10125 E. Jefferson, Detroit, 48214.

It lists and briefly describes program areas currently available for funding through NEA.

'Oh, Kay' To Open

BIRMINGHAM "Oh, Kay," a musical comedy by P.G. Wodehouse and Guy Bolton with lyrics by Ira Gershwin and music by George Gershwin, will be staged two weekends by the Village Players of Birmingham.

It will be seen at the Playhouse, 475 S. Hunter at Chestnut, Nov. 24 - 26 and Dec. 1-2. Curtain time for the Nov. 26 performance is 8 p.m. All other performances will begin at 9 p.m. Tickets may be reserved by calling the Playhouse.

The show, which was first opened in 1925 and revived in 1962, is a delightful romp of the prohibition era, recreating the 1920s with bootlegging, mistaken identity and the eternal chase by revenue officers intent on seeing America thrive.

Bruno Gelber To Be Soloist

The young Argentine pianist Bruno Leonardo Gelber will perform Ravel's piano concerto in G with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at concerts Friday and Saturday evening, Nov. 24 and 25, at 8:30 p.m., in Ford Auditorium.

There will be no Thursday evening performance this week due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Tickets are available at Hudson's, Grinnell's and the Ford Auditorium box office. A limited number of discount tickets at $1.45 for students and senior citizens will be available at the box office beginning at 7:45 on concert nights.

Sabre Champ

Steve Danosi, Wayne State University sophomore fencer, won the 1972 Norman Birkenland Sabre Trophy, defeating, among others, nine-time winner and former All-American Bill Goering.

Thanksgiving: Images Out Of The Past, Realities Of The Present

As geese migrating south in the fall, our minds around Thanksgiving time instinctively fly back into our past.

Grandmother's house, standing primly white in the fresh snow, a spruce tree greenly etched in the front yard. The black iron wood stove in the kitchen, warm and brimming with the good smells of turkey and mince pie. The old cut glass, hauled out of the corner cupboard, set on the big embroidered linen tablecloth. Grandfather steeling the big carving knife to razor sharpness.

All of us have these images in the attic of our memory, some of them out of our own personal past experience and others coming to us out of the collective pioneer farming history of our nation.

And at this Thanksgiving season of 1972 here in the suburbs, with miles and miles of expressway under construction and row upon row of new houses going up in the subdivisions, these images of the past seem both strangely out of tune with today's reality and wistfully familiar, comfortable and warm.

For the past they evoke compared to the present we know is somehow more human and less sterile, more scaled to a personal proportion and less to an efficiently run assembly line civilization.

TWO NEWS stories over the past few weeks brought these reflections home to me in a very real way.

The first concerned the death of a genuine pioneer in Oakland County, Arthur Lamb, who died in Farmington at the age of 91. Married for 67 years, Mr. Lamb and his wife, Rena, lived in Farmington when Grand River was a wood plank road and the trees were big and thick across the farms. A carpenter by trade, Mr. Lamb served on the Oakland County board of supervisors for 16 years and as mayor of Farmington from 1929 to 1933.

He was a tall, gentle man, much concerned with his friends and reflective of his past. I think he sensed the jarring contrast between his images of the past and the reality of his present.

Some years ago, we left a meeting of the Farmington Exchange Club together and looked down Grand River toward the center of town. The new city hall was across the way and the cars hummed busily up and down the big, paved street. "I dunno," he said reflectively, "maybe we've got a little too big for our britches."

At this Thanksgiving time, I like to remember a man like Arthur Lamb.

I ALSO LIKE to think about my friends, Frederick and Clayton Koch, who ran the Koch sausage shop on Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth Township.

The shop was warm and clean, with neat pine paneling on the walls and the good, earthy smell of home cured bacon and ham and freshly stuffed sausage. If you stood at the clean oak counter, you could look through the door back into the work room and see the surgically clean stainless steel slicers and grinders they used to make their sausage.

Prepackaged in cellophane it wasn't, and if you asked the Kochs what was good that day, they'd give you the straight answer instead of telling you any old thing just to make a sale.

It was a shop run to human scale. When your wife needed the knives sharpened, you could bring them in and turn them over to Clayton for honing. He'd have them ready the next day without thinking about a bill, and you'd drop by to pick them up and have a chat about what was transpiring in town.

Well, a couple of weeks ago, the Kochs sold their corner lot and went out of business. They decided not to sell their famous sausage recipe to anyone, because they felt their high standards wouldn't be followed.

Across the street is a big shopping center, with a big plastic sign and a spacious asphalt parking lot.

This Thanksgiving -- and at others in the future -- I'll think about the Kochs and their shop and Arthur Lamb and pioneers like him, and feel thankful.

And a little bit wistful, too.

The Undiscussed Economic Issue: Quality Of Work

By W.W. EDGAR

Few people in high places are talking about it publicly, but underneath all of the prognostications for the next four years lies one of the gravest problems the country ever has faced.

It has to do with the nation's economy that can be traced back to the loss of the pride in workmanship for which America once was noted, the slumping of American productivity, and the loss of prestige in the market places of the world.

There was a time when the other nations of the globe looked to America for leadership. It was called the American "know-how" -- and they thrilled at the productive capacity of the United States.

THIS CAME TO light in World War II when the United States became the "Arsenal of Democracy" and the defense plants fed the allies most of the war equipment -- and on time.

Even away from the war, America set a pace that flabbergasted the rest of the world. There was the time when the Rolls Royce motors were considered the best in the world -- but didn't get top rating for the war effort because it took the greater part of a week for England to turn out a finished product.

"Send us the blueprints," said officials at Packard Motor Co. in Detroit, "and we'll make them." It is history now that Packard received the blueprints, and after a month they were turning out 30 Rolls Royce motors a day -- to the great astonishment of the British manufacturers.

AMERICA'S slump in the world market was brought out into the open a week ago by Ned Storton, of Plymouth, a vice-president of the Detroit Tooling Assn. who recently returned from Japan.

"Until America regains its pride -- the pride of accomplishment and the ability to turn out a superior product and the workers are considered humans instead of numbers -- we are due to take a big drop in the market places of the world," he said.

He pointed out that the Swiss have taken over the watch making and clock industry of the globe -- that Japan has cornered the TV and radio markets with a fine product and now has made another dent in the market place with the Toyota automobile.

"The Japanese now have exports in large numbers to five countries," he went on, "and the market is increasing. This can be a blow to America as we manufacture more automobiles than we need and our economy will suffer greatly without exports. The loss of a large portion of the auto market will cause another dip in out balance of payments and cause the economy to dip.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED to American pride?

No one can point a finger on the exact reason -- but the assembly lines can take a lot of the blame. The worker used to take pride in his work when he, alone, took a piece of metal and turned out the finished product. Now, no one worker can be credited -- it is everybody's job and the assembly line pace is so fast that, with the wink of an eye, a part can be missed and the product becomes inferior.

American prestige in the market place isn't helped when the word is spread that the major motor companies are recalling cars by the thousands, yes millions, to correct flaws in workmanship.

You don't hear of the Japanese recalling their models.

The worker's attitude also has changed, and this is a major part of the problem.

There was a time long ago when the writer was employed at the Atlas Portland Cement Co. in eastern Pennsylvania. When employees were asked where they worked, it was customary to answer, "The Atlas Portland Cement Co. -- the largest in the world."

There was pride in the answer. Now, when you ask the workers back home where they are employed, they answer, "Up at the cement plant."

The pride in their work and in their company has gone.

THIS LOSS has worked its way through the entire manufacturing process until American productivity and workmanship no longer dominate the world market places.

Regaining this pride is the major problem that must be solved if America is to maintain its place as a world leader -- in peace as well as in war.

The author writes

Mary Vs. Rosina: Gr-r-r-r!

Bullfighting has never gone over in the United States, and bear baiting has long been outlawed. But if you enjoy a good old-fashioned bare-fanged, snarling battle, you ought to see the ladies on the Schoolcraft College board go at it.

Mary Dumas and Rosina Raymond had labored long and hard in the political vineyards of their opposing parties, but about a year ago, fate played a practical joke and got them both elected to the college board. If they had used rapiers and poison instead of words, the board room would look like the stage in the concluding scene of "Hamlet."

MRS. DUMAS was recently elected as a Republican to the Wayne County Commission, which made her happy enough, and the fact that she whumped Rosina's son Eldon made her positively gloat, the Raymond family being in Livonia politics approximately what the Kennedys are in Massachusetts or the Longs in Louisiana.

Mrs. Dumas, as my peers at the Northville Record so aptly put it, is "her own worst enemy" and has let it be known that she will hang onto the college job in addition to serving on the County Commission. She has some research from the State Senate saying those positions are not in conflict and may be held simultaneously. Good ol' Mary. Common sense be damned.

While running for the county job, Mrs. Dumas issued some literature describing her college trustee's job, and if you didn't know better, you'd have thought she ran the whole institution on Haggerty Road herself, without any help from 200 or so other people. Naturally, Mrs. Raymond and some of the other trustees saw red and came within a single vote of bouncing out Mrs. Dumas as board secretary and alternate SEMCOG delegate.

MRS. RAYMOND, for her part, has come up with some choice comments that have been quoted in news stories and deserve to be re-quoted on this sheaf of more or less intelligent opinion.

Of Mrs. Dumas' and Dr. Robert Geake's successful bids to other offices Nov. 7, Mrs. Raymond said: "I'm a little tired of this stepping-stone business," as if it were somehow un-American not to run for higher office. No offense intended to Schoolcraft College, but I never figured its board should be the ultimate jewel in anyone's political crown.

Mrs. Raymond also objected to voting on the appointment of an auditor and a law firm with this rationale: "I don't want one or two people voting on who we (the board members who didn't get elected to higher office yet) are going to have to work with." Really. That's what the lady said.

WE WILL HAVE further treats in store for us in January when

Election Could Be A School Holiday

By MARIE MCGEE

The presidential election has come and gone and the small annoyances of the day have faded. Except for one.

School boards throughout Observerland would do well to dismiss school at the elementary-junior high level on election day. The action would eliminate some extremely hazardous traffic conditions and at the same time do away with a lot of unneeded commotion caused by children trying to get to and from school while motorists jam every available inch of open space around school sites in an attempt to get as close as possible to the polling places.

School parking lots are turned into obstacle courses as children scamper in and around vehicles parked at all angles. Many cars are parked illegally (as one law-abiding third grader we observed attempted to tell a woman whose car was blocking the crosswalk).

THEN WHEN YOU have a murky, rainy day like we had this year, it's twice as bad. Granted, school was only in session a half-day, but that was bad enough. Visibility was near zero when school was dismissed at noon, and youngsters tore out of the buildings oblivious to the weather and the drivers who were hell-bent for the election polls.

The situation at some Livonia schools, for instance, bordered on the chaotic as mothers added to the confusion by attempting to pick up their youngsters by car because of the inclement weather.

Imagine what it was like when the school bus arrived.

Fortunately, there weren't any serious mishaps reported.

Long lines of chattering people strung out along the school corridors are hardly conducive to learning. Rather, a festive air seems to predominate -- so why not make it a holiday?

Think about it, board members. You've got four years to make up your minds.

Sense And Nonsense

High School's 'Sex Service Center' Rapped

EDITOR:

I have just finished reading an article which appeared in the Oct. 10 edition of Livonia's Stevenson High School paper, The Stevenson Ambassador. The article informs teenage girls of an organization, which is a branch of Planned Parenthood, called YES, (Youth Education on Sex). YES offers services to teens under the age of 18, ranging from informal rap on sex to examinations for pregnancy, V.D., conception control and distribution of free birth control devices.

All services are free, can be obtained without parental consent and all records are kept confidential. The article goes on to say that the teen center staff includes qualified doctors, nurses, and counselors and that they are financed partially by the Department of Health and Welfare.

What a sick society we have become when we have centers where children can go to have their immorality condoned and encouraged and even subsidized by the taxpayers' money. I wonder if anyone down at the YES Center has thought about handing out a message that Jesus is coming soon along with the free birth control pills. Whatever excuse people have today for the immoral things they are doing, it is still just plain old unadulterated sin, commonly referred to as "fornication" in the Bible.

Our society has fulfilled another Biblical prophecy in which it says that in the last days, evil will appear good and good will appear evil.

READERS' FORUM

Please type (or write clearly) and limit letters to 300 words.

- Letters must be signed, with the writer's address. Names will be withheld only at the writer's request and for good cause.
- The editor reserves the right to reject unsuitable letters.

There will be great immorality and increased lawlessness and children shall turn away from their parents. Isn't that a perfect description of our world today?

Please print my letter because it might make just one young person realize that sin is still sin, regardless of the times. Jesus is the same yesterday, now and forever and He is coming again soon.

Freedom Or Carelessness?

EDITOR:

What kind of freedom do you give your child?

It appalls me that parents will let their children leave the protection of home during daylight and evening hours without knowing where they are going, who they will be with, how they can be reached or when they will be home. The freedom of movement that we gradually grant our children should be measured by the degree of responsibility they show.

As a parent, I do not wander aimlessly about the streets, nor do I walk out of my home without having a firm destination. What peculiar logic would allow me to grant that kind of freedom to my children regardless of their age?

That kind of freedom is "carelessness" in the true sense. It shows a child, in effect, that you do not care. And what, if not responsibility, will you get in return?

First Graders Win A Treat

The first grade class of Miss Anne Harrington at Clarenville's Edgewood School recently won the Parent Teacher Organization's membership drive.

As winners the first graders received an ice cream treat and money to purchase educational games for the classroom.

Although the drive has been completed, parents may still join the PTO.

Leave Abortion To The Woman

EDITOR:

Wednesday, Oct. 25, while reviewing Proposal B, the abortion reform referendum, Observer Newspapers seemed to indicate by the use of dark type a concern that the bill had no provision for the father of the fetus to take part in the decision to terminate a woman's pregnancy. There are many valid and pragmatic reasons for this to be the case.

It certainly seems implausible that a rape victim would seek "permission" from her attacker to terminate her pregnancy. Should a woman who discovers that she is pregnant during divorce proceedings be required to ask consent of the already recalcitrant husband? Should a pregnancy imposed by an alcoholic husband depend upon his dubious decision as to whether it should be terminated?

Public Gets A Look

St. Mary Sets An Open House

The enlarged St. Mary Hospital, dedicated to the relief of pain and suffering Tuesday afternoon, will open its doors to the general public both Saturday and Sunday.

The open house will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. on Saturday and from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday and will include special guided tours.

The 371-bed facility now takes rank with the top institutions of its kind in the state -- and in the middle west.

ALL OF THE latest equipment will be on display, and an entirely new concept of patient care will be shown to the public and friends of the Felician Sisters who own and operate the institution.

One of the newer trends in patient care is the development of lounges, equipped with tables and chairs, radio and television -- much on the order of club rooms.

"The patients who are recuperating can even have their meals served in these rooms," said Sister Mary Calasanta, executive director of the hospital. "They even can play cards or checkers to help pass the time that otherwise used to be boring."

The private rooms also have taken on a new look and are equipped with the very latest furniture and furnishing that are as modern as tomorrow.

Auditor, Lawyer Finally Named

After months of delays, the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees appointed an auditing firm and general legal counsel for 1972-73.

The appointments had been delayed because of attempts to get local firms to handle the college's business.

Both appointments went to out-of-district firms.

ERNST & ERNST, an auditing firm which has handled the college business since 1969, was reappointed for the balance of the year. The motion by Erwin Brown also states that the "appointment may be extended beyond the fiscal year on an annual basis, contingent upon satisfactory performance."

The vote was 6-2 with Mrs. Rosina Raymond and Arch Vallier opposing it. Voting for it were Paul Kadish, Dr. Robert Geake, Mary Dumas, John LaRue, Leroy Bennett and Brown.

The legal firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone was retained as the college's general counsel through June and "will be extended beyond the current fiscal year contingent upon satisfactory performance."

Trustees split 5-3 on this motion with Brown, Mrs. Raymond and Vallier voting against it.

Both Mrs. Raymond and Vallier had spoken in favor of giving the college's business to local firms.

MRS. RAYMOND had attempted to delay the votes until after January because "I don't want one or two people voting on who we (the board) are going to have to work with." She was referring to Dr. Geake and Mrs. Dumas, who recently won election to state representative and county commissioner posts respectively.

Ernst and Ernst of Detroit was retained based on the firm's experience handling college audits and on past performance. It was pointed out that 22 of the employees are residents and thus taxpayers in the Schoolcraft college district.

Bennett had urged that the college retain Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone because it is always up to date on legislation in the State Legislature and Congress affecting colleges.

Bradford Set Thanksgiving

By order of Governor Bradford of Mass., the first Thanksgiving was set for Dec. 13 when colonists were to feast and offer thanks for their survival. The menu for that Thanksgiving dinner included venison, wild turkey and many different corn dishes.

Thomas F. Rost, manager of the beautiful new Harris Funeral Home in Garden City, combines youth with the practical know-how and the wisdom that comes from being brought up in the Harris tradition. Tom's grandfather and great-grandfather were founders of the firm.

"I learned early," says Tom, "that funeral direction requires ability as well as a kind heart. People who experience a death in the family need more than understanding, they need someone they can rely upon to handle the many details. That's why we strive to be sympathetic professionals."

David Whitney is a Harris professional whose thoughtful service has been appreciated by thousands of people. David is manager of the superbly appointed Harris Funeral Home in Livonia.

Each of these top Harris directors reflects the helpful concern for people which has been a Harris hallmark for over half a century. There are five Harris Funeral Homes conveniently located to serve the metropolitan area.

By 1976 We Face Mountain Of Trash

Interest in garbage is pretty low. Most people don't think about it other than to remember which day to put it on the curb for collection. But what happens to it after it's collected will become a chronic problem by 1976 unless some safeguards are met now.

This is the simple conclusion of a preliminary report on solid waste disposal issued by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments last week.

MOST SOLID waste ends up in landfill sites currently, but land for these sites is becoming more and more scarce, says Homer Case, chairman of the SEMCOG study and supervisor of Bloomfield Township.

Some highlights of the report:

- If people and industry continue producing solid waste refuse at the same rate as at present, there will be an accumulated overload of 4.8 million tons by 1976.
- In 1970, the pro-rated amount of trash per person per day was 14.7 pounds in Wayne, Washtenaw, Macomb, Oakland, St. Clair and Monroe counties.
- Seventy-two per cent of the daily per person solid waste output comes from industrial, commercial or construction processes that provide jobs in the region.
- In the six counties, 39 landfill sites are currently in use but seven will be filled in the next year and approximately 14 more will be needed by 1976.
- By 1995, the problem will be even greater. A deficiency of 300,000 acre feet (defined as one acre of space and one foot deep) will exist unless new techniques are developed or new landfill sites are opened.

County and Oakland County, the problem is even more severe because the space for landfills is nearly used up, Case said. Collection units will have to go outside the county for landfill space, he said.

The solution? Case said that taking the problem off the backs of local governments and putting it on the county's shoulders is one possibility.

"I personally feel that a government larger than local governments will have to have the power through the State Legislature to deal with the problem," he said.

This shift of responsibility would have to begin with the State Legislature, he said.

CASE AND HIS committee suggest that tight legislation could be passed to empower a county agency to buy land to create landfills. The entire operation should be under a state agency such as the Dept. of Public Health.

The legislation would have to include "stiff regulations so that the landfills don't hurt neighboring property values," Case said.

The entire operation could be financed by the selling of bonds which would be retired on income generated by a charge for dumping in the landfills, he suggested.

SEMCOG doesn't want — and doesn't want — the authority to handle the waste problem on a regional level, Case emphasized. It merely is conducting the study and drawing up recommendations on solving the problem, he said.

Glass recycling centers make a small dent in the solid waste problem but the eventual solution to the problem will include recycling, incinerating and disposing of waste in landfills, he says.

IT'S SOCIETY'S obligation to taking care of industrial waste also, Case said.

"Up until now, government hasn't taken care of industrial waste," he said. "Industry has had to provide its own way out."

"It is clear that solid waste disposal is everyone's problem. While it is true that all of us are contributing more and more to household waste, the bulk of the load is related to earning a living," he says of industrial waste.

Metcalf and Eddy Inc. of Boston, a consulting engineer firm, made the regional estimates on trash ranging from the 1970 estimate of 34,730 tons per day to the forecast for 1980 of 43,220 tons per day and 1995 of 51,650 tons per day.

THE AVERAGE person can help the problem by cutting down on his solid waste as much as possible and leaning on his state legislator for his support in creating solid waste legislation.

"The critical thing is to convince the State Legislature to move on it," Case said. Support of the legislators "takes a little prodding from home," he said.

Four local residents served on the committee studying the problem, including Robert Coleman, 37710 Wendy Lee, Farmington, director environmental health for the Oakland County Health Department; Carnes Hill, 29940 Woodbrook, Farmington, principal engineer for Ford Motor Co.; Samuel Katz, 31841 Franklin Fairway, Farmington, salvage operation manager for J.L. Hudson Co.; and Ed Siemert, 15950 Oporto, Livonia, Livonia's chief engineer.

BELLY DANCING at the Northwest YWCA - it's a classical dance form the students are learning from teacher Mary Ann Rose (in front).

Calling YW Members: --Anyone For Belly Dancing?

YWCA staff members will tell you with a chuckle how the new course came to the Northwest Branch at 25940 Grand River this fall.

"The women would sort of sneak up to the desk," it was reported, "and ask in a confidential whisper, 'Where do you register for... belly dancing?'"

"And they'd grin at each other a little sheepishly when they were directed to their waiting room."

BUT ALL that changed almost instantaneously when teacher Mary Ann Rose came on the scene.

Her knowledge of the mid-east ethnic dance form was thorough, her enthusiasm was contagious and her lithe figure was proof of the positive effect it could have on the measurements.

"By the end of that first class they were practicing coming back down the hall," the staff member said.

It was by request that belly dancing invaded the Northwest YW - and a lot of other spots that up to now have been ballet and tap dance strongholds.

One query came from Barb Bonifield of Southfield and several other local women who had won a trip to Hawaii as representatives of a line of beauty products.

"We thought it would be a good way to lose a few pounds to look better in bathing suits - and maybe give those hula dancers a little competition," Mrs. Bonifield said.

A couple of housewives had a little different reason for wanting the dance form taught.

"We'd like to provide a little very private entertainment for our husbands," one explained.

THE CLASS was offered after someone at the Northwest YW learned that Miss Rose, a Grosse Pointe resident, was teaching belly dancing in other Y branches. And instant acceptance followed. One local lady put it this way:

"I've belonged to the Y for years - taken tie making and craft classes and bridge. I thought I'd try something different."

Belly dancing is a distinct art form, says Miss Rose, who learned it from a friend visiting in this country from Arabia.

"I had done a lot of folk dancing," she said, "and had been interested in learning this kind of dancing. It's the classical form of the dance that she taught me and that I teach, somewhat different from the one seen in night clubs."

BELLY DANCING is great exercise, especially for the shoulders, waist and stomach, says this teacher.

"But you must go home and practice after learning the movements," she added. "And the better condition you're in, the easier you can do it."

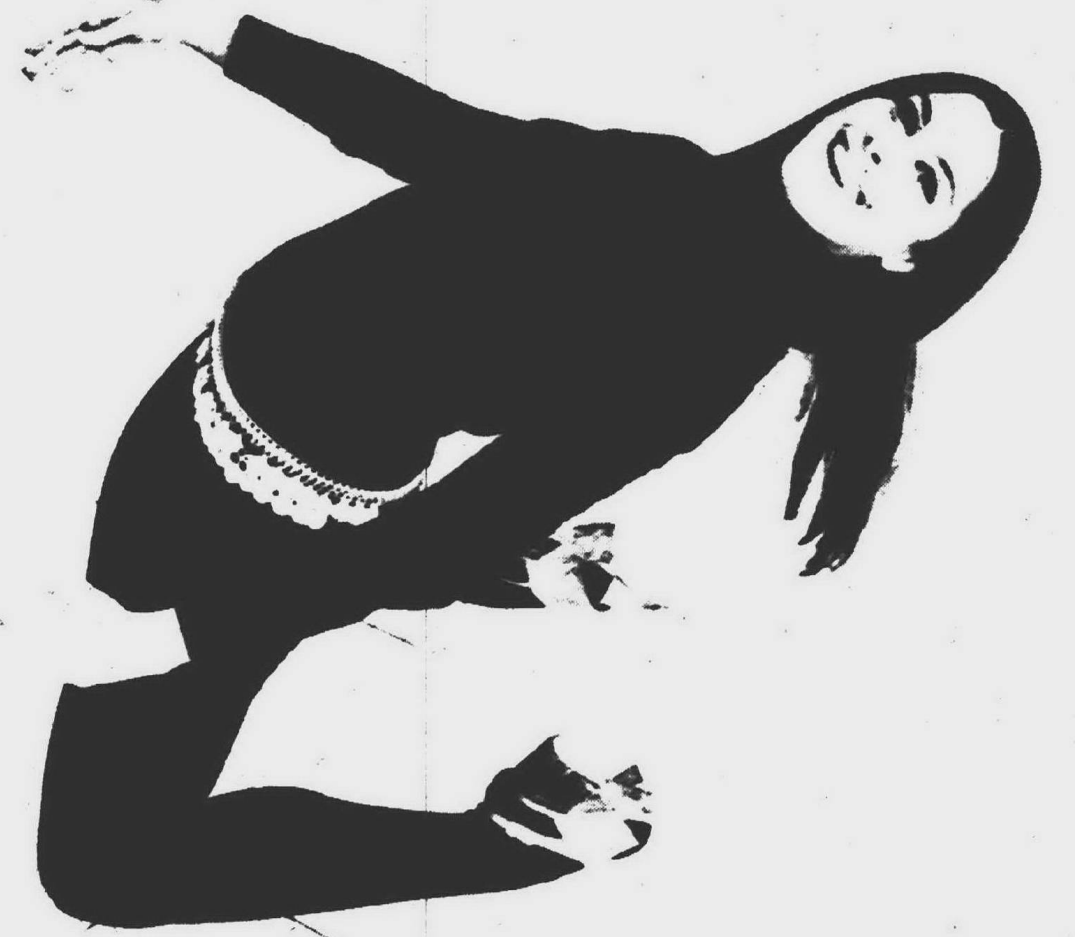

MISS ROSE SAID she's read that belly dancing is an interpretation of childbirth. "And actually," she added,

"it's excellent exercise for expectant mothers as a preparation for the birth process."

Mary Ann Rose teaches the dance to mid-eastern music - she's put together a collection of suitable records in varying rhythms.

The current class numbers about 25. A second eight-week session will be offered in January, and another beginners' course will be started.

"We're also trying to arrange a class in the evening for working women," the Northwest staffer said. "I may try taking it myself."

Levenson's New Book

Sam's A Bridge Builder

By MARGARET MILLER

Sam Levenson would love to do the world a favor by helping it heal its divisions.

Especially does the recent Livonia Town Hall guest want to help the generations find a common meeting ground.

That's what it's all about in his new book, "In One Era and Out the Other," now in the hands of his publisher, and that's in large part what his conversation in Livonia was all about.

"We have to put everything else aside and talk to each other," he said. "Otherwise we're doomed."

THE BROOKLYN - BORN teacher who has made a name as a gentle humorist said he's concentrating now more on writing than on television appearances because today's talk shows don't fit his style. "I don't want to be fast with the quip," he said. "I want to sit down and talk - communicate."

Levenson read several excerpts from his third book, which he said points up some of the differences in outlook to be found between the generations but seeks to emphasize "building bridges" to join them.

Among these was a "Love Letter to My Sophomore," written, he said, out of an observation that "gratitude is one element in our lives that seems to be missing from our children's." Also included was a conversation between a Jewish mother and hippie son planning a new-style wedding.

LEVENSON also read, and then repeated by request, some "beauty tips" he gave his young daughter, now a student at New York University.

• "For lovely lips... speak words of love."

• "For lovely eyes... see the good in people."

• "For a slim figure... share your food with the hungry."

• "For beautiful hair... let children run their fingers through it."

• "For poise... walk with the knowledge that you never walk alone."

"In One Era and Out the Other," the speaker said, is his way of speaking to the young and "trying to put yours and ours together."

LEVENSON ALSO reminisced about his parents and his early life as the youngest of a large family living in poverty, and he threw in some views on education, freedom, love, sex and money. "Papa never broke the Sabbath by working," he recalled. "Of course, the other six days of the week he was unemployed."

"Mama was one of those remarkable women who made do with what we had. We never went hungry, though we may have postponed a meal or two. She feared any debt, and probably that's why I hate credit cards."

"I never saw Papa kiss Mama, but we were raised on a kind of companionship that our children will be lucky if they have."

"We have to put everything else aside and talk to each other. Otherwise we're doomed."

THE EX-TEACHER mentioned he had studied at Brooklyn College, which is tuition free, and said he thinks the country should find a way to lower education costs.

"I'd close the door on no one," he said. "The kid we get into college though he has no money may be the one who finds the cure to cancer."

Levenson defined freedom as "that which makes it possible for me to be less than free when I choose to be," and suggested that in spite of today's emphasis on sex, "we are more in need of a course in remedial love than a course in remedial sex."

"Instant sex is like instant coffee," he added. "Not so good - better if it brews a while. Man does not live by bed alone."

LEVENSON suggested that young people are more fortunate if they have to earn the good things of life.

"There is no greater glory than going from nothing to something and doing it yourself," he declared. "To be given the ultimate reward without having to earn it is an injustice."

He has told his own two children, he said, that their mother is first in his line of priorities, he is second and they come after that. "We don't make a practice of giving them a lot in a material way," he added. "When you give and give, it's anger that comes back."

Someone in the audience asked Levenson which Zodiac sign he was born under.

"I don't pay much attention to astrology," he answered. "I was born in December - under the sign of the delicatessen."

A LOT OF KIDS from Emerson Junior High were on hand to welcome humorist Sam Levenson when he visited the Livonia Town Hall last week. He talked to them and their elders about doing something about generation gaps. (Photo by Fran Evert)

Don't Give Kids Too Much, Advises Speaker

By BETTY MASSON

Giving children too much, whether it's money or success, is a big mistake, according to Peter Lind Hayes.

The white-thatched television and night club performer for the most part delighted his Farmington Town Hall audience last week with his imitations of famous personalities and his comic skits, but he did take time for a few serious answers at the celebrity luncheon afterwards.

"I lost communication with our daughter when she was 14," said Hayes. "Now she's 21. She has dropped out of college ... and is living with her childhood sweetheart and thinking about getting married."

IF HE HAD it to do over again, he said, he would "put her to work as soon as she started walking. I'd have used a velvet whip and made her clean up her messy room."

"Giving kids too much is a mistake," he said. "They just don't understand the value of a dollar."

In answer to a question about whether or not young people should consider the theater as a career, Hayes said, "If you're prepared to work your way up a step at a time, it's all right. But the people I feel sorry for are the young people who have a quick success, a hit record for instance. They're not able to cope with it. The old Trojans (Jack Benny, Bing Crosby, Fred Allen and the like) can cope without losing their sanity." Hayes himself started in vaudeville at the age of nine.

"Of course, it helps (in the theater) if you're a little emotionally unstable. You should never call an actor a ham, because a ham can be cured," he quipped.

With the scarcity of road shows, Hayes seemed to feel that college drama departments offer the best opportunities for aspiring actors and actresses.

"But there's a big difference when you're in an off-Broadway show or in summer stock," he said. "You learn a lot quicker when people pay to get in."

OF THE CURRENT movies, Hayes said he avoids the "nutty, smutty ones," and does a lot of picking and choosing. He recommended "Joe" and "Five Easy Pieces" as movies that have moved him.

HE ALSO revealed that he is playing the role of a homosexual in a new movie called "The Yin and the Yang." It stars James Mason and Burgess Meredith.

"It's a rotten movie," he said. "But the photography is beautiful. Go and see it."

Hayes and his wife, actress Mary Healy, will celebrate their 32nd wedding anniversary next month. "Mary is still 'that girl' to my mother," said Hayes, "but now the tide is beginning to turn because mother thinks maybe the marriage will last."

Besides their daughter, they have a 23-year-old son, who graduated from college in June and was married in July. He is now working as a systems engineer.

Hayes and his wife will be back in Michigan April 24 for a fashion show in Kalamazoo.

Engaged

THERESA KOWALL

Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Kowall of Spring Valley Drive, Farmington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Theresa Stephanie, to Stephen Reid Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ball of Detroit. The bride-elect is a graduate of Our Lady of Mercy High School and studying theater at the University of Detroit. Her fiancé graduated from Cass Technical High School and is a U. of D. architecture student. They plan to marry Dec. 30.

Children's Rights Will Be Topic

A program on "The Civil Rights of Children" will be presented by the Michigan Inter-Professional Association on Marriage, Divorce and the Family, Inc., on Thursday, Nov. 30.

This will be a dinner meeting in the Danish Club of Detroit, 22711 Grand River, with cocktails at 6; dinner at 7; and the program at 8.

There will be a panel presentation by Gabe Kaimowitz, a staff member of the Michigan Legal Services, who is becoming nationally known as a children's rights advocate; Julian Cook, past president of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission who is currently serving on the state board of trustees, Child and Family Services of Michigan; and Edward Ferris, assistant prosecuting attorney, chief of Juvenile Department, Wayne County Probate Court.

Dinner reservations are $7, and may be made by calling the Michigan Inter-Professional Association, 1501 Ford Building, Detroit, 48226.

Smoke Watchers Form 2 New Units

The positive response of research costing millions of dollars. The organization uses 'group dynamics,' a program in which each member aids the others. In a nutshell, you might say that we show people how to stop smoking, easily and forever."

Weekly meetings will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesdays, and at 1:30 p.m., Mondays. A nursery will be available on Monday afternoons. The YWCA is located at 839 S. Crooks Road, Clawson.

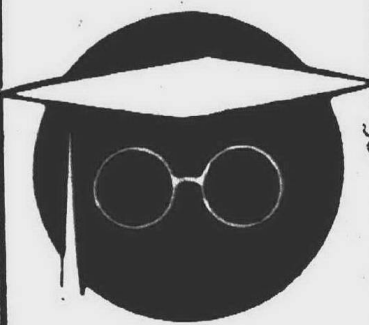

THE NEW CENTER is one of several hundred from coast to coast and one of 12 in the Detroit area operated by Smoke Watchers International.

"Our techniques," says Dan Hassenpflug, state director, "are based on 14 years of intensive institutional research costing millions of dollars. The organization uses 'group dynamics,' a program in which each member aids the others. In a nutshell, you might say that we show people how to stop smoking, easily and forever."

One of the primary reasons for the rapid growth of the organization, he says, is that more than 90 per cent of the members who attend an average of 12 weekly meetings have become true non-smokers. Statistics show that five out of six people who try to give up smoking by themselves fail.

Cost of Smoke Watchers meetings is a lifetime membership for $5 and $5 for each weekly meeting. New members may join at any time.

Bride Wears Chantilly Lace

Sandra Jean Bassett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bassett of Wayburn Avenue, Farmington, wore a chantilly lace gown when she became the bride of Samuel DeFrank Oct. 6.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis DeFrank of Southgate.

The wedding took place in Antioch Evangelical Lutheran Church of Farmington with the Rev. Carl Kaltreider officiating.

THE TRADITIONAL bridal gown featured a full skirt and cathedral train. The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a short veil held by a lace headpiece and carried eucharist lilies with white streamers.

MRS. SAMUEL DE-FRANK (Sandra Bassett)

Linda J. Warriner Weds MSU Grad

A trip to Cape Cod followed the wedding of Linda Jane Warriner and Michael Jon Goodheart in First Presbyterian Church of Farmington. They have now taken up residence in Wheaton, Ill.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Warriner of Farmington and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Barbara Goodheart of Grand Rapids.

The Rev. George Ramsey officiated at the ceremony.

THE BRIDE given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chiffon over taffeta with long sleeves and a shirred bodice. Her veil was held by a white lace cap and her bouquet was of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Judith Heckadon of Encino, Calif., was the matron of honor. She wore a yellow, orange and white flowered chiffon dress and carried a basket of orange and yellow chrysanthemums and daisies.

The bridesmaids were Debbie and Dana Heckadon of Encino, Mrs. Beverly Greeshover of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Susan Sager of Falls Church, Va., and Barbara Hoffman of Farmington.

The bride's nieces, Tara and Mia Warriner of Royal Oak, were the flower girls. All the attendants were dressed like the maid of honor.

LOE EVERETT of Omaha, Neb., was best man. The ushers were Bruce Gooden of New York City, John Hanchak of Fraser, Mark Weurthele of Lansing, Alan Ver Heek of Manistee, and Neil Warriner, the bride's brother.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the Botsford Inn. The bride's mother wore a mint green chiffon gown and Martha Bassett of Northville, the bride's sister-in-law, was her maid of honor. She wore a pink gown and carried a nosegay of white daisy pompons.

The bridesmaids were Vera Viellucci, of Detroit, cousin of the bride, Judy Michaels of Farmington, Paula DeFrank of Southgate, sister of the bridegroom, and Jill Boman of Berkley.

Connie Bassett wore a pink dress for her role as flower girl.

BEST MAN was Dave Feriozzi of Wyandotte. The ushers were Dennis Bassett of Northville and Larry DeFrank of Southgate, brothers of the bridegroom, Steve Crook of Wyandotte and Ron Setser of Southgate.

Jerry Bassett of Farmington was ring bearer.

AFTER GREETING 320 guests in a reception in Behnan Hall in Southfield, the newlyweds went to Florida for their honeymoon. They are living in Southfield.

The new Mrs. DeFrank, a 1969 graduate of North Farmington High School, is a cashier employed by Farmer Jacks. Her husband graduated from Schafer High School in Southgate in 1965 and is a manager with Interstate Department Store.

MRS. RALPH PECKHAM (Linda Michelle Trombley)

Honeymoon Trip Is To Europe

A two-week honeymoon trip to Copenhagen, Vienna, Munich and London followed the recent wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peckham.

Mrs. Peckham is the former Linda Michelle Trombley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Trombley of Shiawasse Avenue, Farmington. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Ralph P. Peckham of Hillcrest Avenue, Farmington.

They were married in a double-ring candlelight ceremony in the First United Methodist Church of Farmington with the Rev. John N. Howell officiating.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin empire gown, designed by Maurer and trimmed with reemboirered alencon lace and seed pearls. She designed and made the headpiece that held her silk illusion veil, and her flowers were white orchids and stephanotis.

Linda DeGroot of Fenton was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Margaret Trombley of Farmington, the bride's sister-in-law, and Beverly Baker of Farmington.

All wore purple chiffon dresses with multi-colored braid at the empire waistline. They carried crescent bouquets of lavender asters,

Kimberly DeGroot of Fenton was flower girl and wore a lavender chiffon dress.

Assisting the bridegroom were his brother, Thomas J. Peckham of Trenton, as best man, David H. Trombley of Farmington, brother of the bride, and Terrence Boucher of Trenton as ushers. Frederick DeGroot of Fenton was ring bearer.

They wore charcoal Edwardian jackets with black velvet lapels, lavender ruffled shirts and purple velvet bow ties.

BOTH MOTHERS wore floor-length chiffon gowns. Mrs. Trombley's in gold and Mrs. Peckham's in turquoise. A dinner reception in Farmington Holiday Inn followed the ceremony.

Both bride and bridegroom are graduates of Farmington High School and Michigan State University. The new Mrs. Peckham is a teacher in the Eisenhower School in Southfield. Her husband is employed as an engineer by Chevrolet division of General Motors Corp.

The couple will live in Farmington.

Girl Scout Camp Gets Big Gift

A gift of $10,000 from General Motors Corp. has raised to $465,000 the development fund for the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council's Camp Linden.

The money was presented by J. S. Garlick on behalf of the GM Ypsilanti Plant city committee.

Money raised for the 430-acre camp in the past two years has provided a boat-house, day camp shelter, dining hall, infirmary, troop house, tent unit, caretaker's house and water system.

Additional camping sites including primitive tent camping areas, beach improvement and reforestation are priority items the GM gift will make possible.

Camp Linden is visited by nearly 5,000 girls each summer.

MRS. MICHAEL ANNETTA (Bonnie Coffman)

Riverside Is Setting For Vows

Riverside Park Church of God in Livonia was the setting for the recent wedding of Bonnie Coffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coffman of Cowan Avenue, Westland, and Michael Annetta.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Annetta of Detroit. The Rev. Clifford Thor heard the couple's vows.

The bride wore a lace-trimmed empire gown and a fingertip veil.

Diann Schultz of Detroit was honor attendant for the bride and Betty Bondie of Westland was bridesmaid. Assisting the bridegroom were Bob Hawthorne of Detroit, as best man and Joe Coffman of Highland Park, uncle of the bride, as usher.

A reception in the church's Fireside Room followed the ceremony, and the couple will make their home in Royal Oak.

Workshop To Benefit

New Horizons, a sheltered workshop for the retarded, will benefit from a Christmas boutique being planned by the Women of North Farmington.

The event will be held Wednesday evening, Dec. 6, in the Farmington Public Library, 12 Mile Road east of Farmington Road. It will begin with a buffet potluck supper.

The bazaar table will feature handmade Christmas items and New Horizons Christmas cards.

Reservations should be made by calling Lois Witt, 32259 Old Forge, Farmington; Phyllis Weinert, 32221 Baintree, Farmington; or Helen Thiel, 32205 Baintree, Farmington.

MRS. VERNA RAY (left) and her teacher, Mrs. Christine Covert, look over the certificate she received as a certified professional secretary. Mrs. Ray, who has been a student at Schoolcraft College for the past two years, is the only Schoolcraft student who has so far passed the six-part CPS test. (Observer photo)

Schoolcraft Student Passes CPS Test

A grandmother who has been on a two-year leave of absence as secretary with the Detroit Public Schools is the first Schoolcraft College business student to become a certified professional secretary.

Mrs. Verna Ray of Detroit took her leave of absence so she could give full time to courses she felt she needed to pass the difficult six-part test administered by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries, in Kansas City, Mo.

SHE IS ONE of 12 in Michigan who passed the test this year, and feels that her studies at Schoolcraft were a great help, besides being enjoyable. She received the one-year basic business certificate from the college.

The six-part test is written in two Detroit locations in May. It covers environmental relationships (problem-solving techniques, essentials of supervision and communications, leadership styles); business and public policy; economics of management (applied economics, principles of management and elements of business operation); financial analysis and the mathematics of business, including basic accounting principles; communications and decision making; and office procedures.

the CPS test was first offered in 1951, and since then 5,659 persons have been certified. Some employers pay all or part of the costs of the tests, and grant salary increases when they are passed.

A SECRETARY does not have to write and pass all six parts in one year. In fact, Mrs. Ray passed five parts last year and the sixth this year.

A Schoolcraft secretary, Jean Stearns, has also passed five parts of the test, and both she and Mrs. Ray were honored at a luncheon by their friends at the college. Mrs. Ray addressed several of the business classes at Schoolcraft.

She will be going back to work in Detroit soon.

YW Plans 'Big Sister' Program

The Young Women's Christian Association of Western Wayne County is organizing a "Big sister" program for women new to this country.

Members of the group will meet on Friday mornings, from 9:30 until 11:30 in the YWCA, 1034 Monroe Boulevard, Dearborn. The first meeting is scheduled for Dec. 4.

Miss Carol Sun at the YWCA is looking after registrations. The group will work to help women make an easy transition to a new country and a new way of life. With the help of women from her own country, the newcomer will be "shown the ropes."

Each member will have opportunities to share her country's culture, cooking, arts and crafts with others. The group also takes trips to points of interest in the metropolitan area.

All interested are invited to join.

Edge Copes Mark 25 Years Wed

It was an unusual silver wedding anniversary celebration that marked 25 years of married life for Mr. and Mrs. Edge Taylor Cope III of Farmington on Nov. 5.

Helen Cope had celebrated her 83rd birthday the day before. Her husband will be 90 on Dec. 9. And the minister who married them, Dr. Benjamin F. Holme, was present in their Farmington apartment when they renewed their vows a quarter century later.

ALSO ON HAND were the children of the couple's first marriages, several grandchildren and about 100 friends and relatives who dropped by to wish them well and a telegram from President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon made the day complete.

Mrs. Helen Gibson LaCroix and Edge Cope III were married Nov. 1, 1947, in Westlawn Methodist Church by Dr. Holme, their pastor in the Detroit church for 17 years. He later served as secretary of the Methodist Union and district superintendent of the United Methodist Church, and now is retired and living in Northville.

MR. COPE was a research engineer with Detroit Edison Co. and later served five years on the faculty of Wayne State University. Mrs. Cope worked as a casework supervisor for the Detroit department of Public Welfare.

The couple moved from Detroit to Farmington in 1951 and had a home in Woodcroft subdivision until taking their present apartment.

Mrs. Cope's daughter, Lois LaCroix Barber, and her husband, Charles, came from Greenwich, Conn., for the anniversary reception.

Also present were Mr. Cope's children, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Cope of Muskegon and Mrs. Ralph Hummel of Colonial Heights, Md., grandchildren Holly and Heidi Cope of Muskegon and Mr. and Mrs. David Cope and Charles and Mary Cope of Grand Rapids.

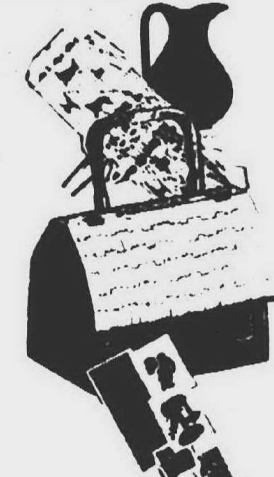

MR. AND MRS. EDGE COPE III of Farmington recently cut an anniversary cake to mark 25 years of married life.

Lunches With Santa To Begin

It's A Girl!

Dot the Clown will make balloon animals for children at this year's "Santa Lunches" sponsored by the Livonia Jaycees Auxiliary.

The lunches will be held in the community room of the Livonia Mall, Seven Mile and Middle Belt, on Nov. 25, Dec. 2, 9 and 16, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The cost is $1.50 per person and tickets are available from Mrs. James Maye, 9829 Roseland, Livonia. The price includes a hot dog lunch and Christmas favors.

Santa will be on hand for each lunch and will visit with each child individually.

Co-chairman for the luncheon are Bing Hominga and Nancy Piepsney. Working with them are Sue Sobolewski, Carolyn Herr, Carol Domzalski, Ruth Maye, Karen Thompson, Martha Davis and Georgiann Wondolowski.

Proceeds from the lunches will go to the auxiliary's charitable projects.

Newlyweds To Live In Cedar Falls

Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. White are making their home in Cedar Falls, Iowa, following their recent wedding in Independence, Iowa.

Mrs. White is the former Annette Bordeau, daughter of Mrs. Marjory Bordeau of Livonia and Robert Bordeau, also of Livonia.

Mr. and Mrs. John White of Independence are the bridegroom's parents. The ceremony took place in St. John Catholic Church, with the Rev. Norman White, uncle of the bridegroom, officiating. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

SHE WORE an ivory chiffon gown with long sleeves, high neckline trimmed in ivory lace and peach-colored satin ribbon on the empire bodice. Her headpiece was a cluster of satin ribbon and seed pearls, and she carried a nosegay of white gladiolas and peach button mums.

Toni Zanzano of Parma, Ohio, who served with the bride in the Women's Army Corps, was her only attendant. She wore a peach chiffon gown with ribbon trim.

RON BAGBY of Omaha was best man and the ushers were Charlie Weber and Jeff Corkery.

For the ceremony and reception in the Pinicon Hotel in Independence, the bride's mother wore a pique gown in white, black and brown print, and the bridegroom's mother chose an orchid dress.

The new Mrs. White is a 1969 graduate of Franklin High School and served in the WAC from 1970 until receiving her honorable discharge shortly after the wedding.

Gifted Child Topic Of Nov. 30 Meet

State Senators Carl D. Pursell and William Faust will report on "Legislation and the Gifted Child" for a parents' meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 30, in the Rosedale School, 9825 Cranston, Livonia.

The meeting is sponsored by the Livonia Parents for Accelerated Education, affiliated with the Michigan Association for the Academically Talented. It is open to all interested parents. The local group's aim, said Mrs. Dorothy Knopper, is to strengthen the Livonia School District's program that now has two teachers working with gifted children, and to push for additional funds from the state.

Current status of legislative programs in this area will get the attention of the two senators during the Nov. 30 meeting.

Home Decor Is Anns' Topic

Home decorating will be the topic for members of the Plymouth Rotary Anns when they meet in the Mayflower Hotel at 12 noon Monday, Nov. 27.

Roberta Steele, for 21 years operator of Cadillac Draperies in Plymouth, will be the speaker, and members are bringing craft projects for a special display.

Phony Kind Of Intimacy

Rabbi Describes Singles' Anguish

By STEVE BARNABY
"Sheila Levine is Dead and Living in New York" by Gail Parent is a novel depicting the traumatic state of young Jewish singles in today's society, according to Rabbi Irwin Groner of Congregation Shaary Zedek, Southfield.

In an appearance before the Town Hall series in Morris Adler Hall, Groner described how Sheila's anguish over being unmarried and her sexual experimentation are typical of today's Jewish youth.

He said the adult world fails to understand the emotional difficulties youth face when dating.

"The Jewish community has ignored means for the unmarried Jews to meet and marry," he said.

Dickshott Talks To AK Psi

Richard J. Dickshott, CPA of Livonia, recently addressed members of the Alpha Kappa Psi Fraternity at the University of Michigan Dearborn Campus.

Dickshott, a member of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants, spoke on the subject "Life as an Independent CPA."

He warned that today's youth are in danger of losing their sensitivity and making marriage a "sexual Olympics," rather than a meaningful and lasting relationship.

"There must be a lasting agreement for companionship and union when the physical intimacy is no longer possible."

He lashed out at the crop of singles' apartments and bars that exist in our society, saying they are fruitlessly striving for intimacy that can't be achieved through these means.

To illustrate the cold aura that marriage has taken on today, he told of the man who advertised in a newspaper for a woman with a threshing machine and requested to see a picture of the thrasher rather than the woman.

He cited computer - dating and publications like "Cosmopolitan" magazine as devices which only confuse single persons even more.

"Cosmopolitan is a sad magazine to read. Sex has become the new technique, device and symbol of desirability."

"The young don't consider compatibility. Society is finding the incidence of divorce higher in disparate marriages. Compatibility is a major factor in a lasting marriage."

TO COMBAT today's high divorce rate, Groner urged young persons seek out those with similar ideas and goals.

He said that, because of today's life style of community living, it is becoming more difficult for couples to discover one another's personalities.

"Society has transformed from the values of old. Virtue and modesty are under attack. Everything is now visible and communal. As a result, the slow discovery of a human being is disappearing."

Groner said stable marriages are needed to preserve the humanity of the adult world.

HE ALSO WARNED of the danger of those who expect too much from their mate.

"Every marriage needs relief and companionship outside of the relationship. Many marriages break up because of the unreasonable demands."

He again cited the old marriage tradition when men and women had interests and friends of their own.

Groner summed up today's struggle for a successful marriage this way:

"It is through frustrations and tension that we grow. The adult way is to make a relationship work through sacrifice, insight, patience, and strength."

LITTLE THINGS MEAN A LOT
by DOC KEETH

In a ball game, one hit can make the difference between a hero or a bum.

In golf, one shot is often the gap between the champ and the "also ran."

Yes, little things make the difference whether it is that special touch of seasoning at a barbecue, or that extra something in the smile of the woman in your life.

So, today I'm selling "little things" in heating and air conditioning. All equipment has the same basic components - motors, blowers, heat exchangers, compressors, cooling coils. The difference comes in the little things - an inch here, extra strength there, a bit extra care in design and in manufacture.

A lot of these little things all add up to a big difference in total quality. That's why we chose Lennox products. Wherever you look on a Lennox air conditioner or furnace, you will find some detail that is missing on the "also ran" brands.

For example, the air filter. Lennox has a new design called the Blue Shield filter. It is curved to offer more air filtering area. It fits tight against the cabinet so there is no air leakage around the edges. Its glass fibers are arranged to catch and hold more dirt. Yet it is less expensive to change than ordinary filters. Another case where little things have added up to a considerable advantage for the buyer.

You are invited to drop in to see the many "little things" about Lennox furnaces and air conditioners for yourself.

Voters Hiked Jail Cost By Rejecting Millage

Because of a court order, a new Wayne County jail is likely to be built despite defeat of millage to finance it in the Nov. 7 election, says the chairman of the County Board of Commissioners.

Board Chairman Robert E. FitzPatrick warned prior to the election that defeat of the jail millage would force financing of new facilities through issuance of bonds at double or triple the cost.

But proposed juvenile justice facilities probably will be delayed indefinitely because a companion millage proposal to finance them was defeated in the election, FitzPatrick said.

"WE ARE UNDER court orders to meet all state housing and jail codes and make other major improvements at the jail," FitzPatrick stated. "Those orders have the force of law, and we have been advised it is unfeasible virtually to rebuild the present jail to meet the requirements."

On the other hand, he said, there is no court order requiring construction of juvenile court and youth detention facilities although additional facilities were recommended by consultants after a lengthy study.

The two proposals were F and G. Both were special five-year property levies.

Proposal F proposed a levy of 60 cents per $1,000 of equalized valuation. It would have raised a total of about $39 million. Consultants have recommended $39.5 million in jail construction.

Proposal G would have levied 40 cents per $1,000 equalized valuation, raising about $26 million toward construction of juvenile justice facilities. Consultants had recommended $29.3 million in new facilities.

Both proposals, as well as all other ballot propositions that involved money, lost by wide margins. Incomplete returns had Proposal F losing by a count of 425,637 to 331,962 and Proposal G defeated in a vote of 416,098 to 337,315.

CONSULTANTS HAVE

recommended that new jail facilities for 750 prisoners be constructed in downtown Detroit by 1975 and that a detention facility for 400 inmates be built on county-owned land in Westland by 1980. They also recommended $3.3 million worth of additional renovation at the present jail to permit its continued use on a temporary basis.

A $2.5 million renovation program is already under way at the jail.

In response to orders, the Board of Commissioners submitted a jail master plan to a three-judge Circuit Court panel last year. The plan set a 1973 target date for the start of new jail facilities.

The process of selecting architects to prepare schematic drawings for new jail facilities is under way.

FitzPatrick said the consultants' recommendations could be scaled down, but whatever facilities were built probably would have to be financed by a long-term bond issue to keep the annual cost at a manageable amount.

Dumas Ouster One Vote Short

By KATHY MORAN

An attempt to remove Mary Dumas as secretary of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees came within one vote of success last week.

In a secret ballot, Mrs. Dumas' peers split 4 to 3 in favor of her removal with one abstention. The abstention is counted with the majority, but six votes were needed to take the office from her.

Trustee Arch Vallier moved to remove her as secretary "because in my opinion she has used this office to further her political career."

MRS. DUMAS' raised the board's ire during her campaign for bounty commissioner against trustee Rosina Raymond's son, Eldon. She was attacked for saying, in an ad and campaign literature, that she "administers multi-million dollar operating and capital construction budgets and approves all personnel contracts."

As a member of the board, she shares these responsibilities with the seven other trustees and the college's administrators.

Vallier has blasted Mrs. Dumas before her election, saying the statement exaggerated her responsibilities and that she failed to correct it after she had agreed to.

Vallier asked that the board consider removing her as secretary of the board and alternate to the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments. When the attempt to unseat her as secretary failed, he dropped the request to remove her as alternate.

Since Leroy Bennett had attempted to act as a mediator and table the motion until the December meeting and "hopefully give everybody time to let things pass," he probably abstained. His tabling motion failed when no one would second it.

If Bennett abstained, then Erwin Brown was the third negative vote.

Mrs. Dumas will begin her term as county commissioner from Livonia in January. The board asked for an opinion from the attorney general regarding whether she can finish her term on the Schoolcraft Board while serving on the county commission. Her Schoolcraft term expires in June.

Kelley Asked To Rule County, College Jobs Conflict?

An attorney general's opinion was requested by the Schoolcraft College trustees on whether trustee Mary Dumas should resign from her position when she takes her seat on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners in January.

Mrs. Dumas won the county position in the Nov. 7 election over Democrat Eldon Raymond, son of Schoolcraft trustee Rosina Raymond.

If Mrs. Dumas must vacate her college seat, two seats must be filled by the current board before the January meeting.

The other vacancy was created when board chairman R. Robert Geake was elected state representative from Livonia and Northville. Dr. Geake said he would resign "on or about Jan. 1."

MRS. DUMAS said she has sought guidance from attorneys for the State Senate. They said that there was no conflict if she held both positions.

Vallier cited his case when he had to resign from the Plymouth city commission before taking his seat at Schoolcraft. In that case, the attorney general said there was a conflict.

"I would like to have a legal opinion on this," Mrs. Dumas said, adding later that she was "willing to abide by whatever the decision is."

Since the board will have to decide on at least one appointment in the next two months, it is looking for interested citizens who might fill the seat.

The appointee will have an increased opportunity to win a term of his or her own in the June election, trustee John LaRue pointed out.

Democratic nomination for county commissioner in August.

Livonian Aces 127 Yard 14th

It took 45 years but William Thompson of 15682 Westbrook in Livonia finally did it.

The 57-year-old Thompson ached the yard 14th hole at Idyl Wyld Golf Course with his seven iron and carded a 77 for 18 holes.

The shot hit four feet in front of the pin, took two bounces and fell into the cup.

To round out his foursome's card, Bill Olesky's shot hit two feet from the pin. Ken Slowgrave made a 13 footer for a birdie and George Merna parred it for a four-man total of eight on the hole.

Community College Credit Transfer OK'd

Graduates of local community colleges will be able to transfer to four-year colleges without losing general education credits under terms of a statewide agreement between community colleges and universities in Michigan.

Oakland Community College, Schoolcraft College and Wayne County Community College were among the signers of the voluntary agreement Monday.

The 17 four-year colleges signing the agreement pledged to accept general education credits from community colleges, thereby eliminating possible loss of credits for transfer students. Fourteen community colleges signed the agreement.

Believed to be the first of its kind in the nation, the agreement climaxes five years of negotiations led by the Michigan Assn. of College Registrars and Admissions Officers.

The negotiations eliminated institutional differences in requirements in English composition, social science, natural science and humanities courses.

Most of the state's 38 four-year and 29 two-year colleges are expected to sign the agreement when they complete their studies of the unprecedented pact.

SC Picks Printer

The Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees awarded the contract for printing the '973-74 college catalog to Edwards Brothers Inc. of Ann Arbor.

The firm was lowest of seven bidders with a base bid of $6,566.

1973 BUICK CENTURY INTRODUCES NEW BODY STYLE
Roof pillars are combined with frameless door glass to produce this new "Colonnade" roof style in the Buick Century fastback coupe. Front and rear wheel openings are gently flared while the low, horizontally accented grille and the single headlamps allow greater exposure of body color up front.

1973 ELECTRA LIMITED -- BUICK'S TOP OF THE LINE
Buick's finest combination of elegance and unexcelled roadability is provided in the new Electra Limited, shown here in the four-door hardtop version. The new front bumper has been used to maximum styling advantage, providing the base for the new wide, low grille. The wider, more powerful looking headlamps are separated from the grille by a thin line molding that carries the full width of the car.

OPEL INTRODUCES NEW MANTA LUXUS -- Buick's 1973 Open line will feature the new Manta Luxus, combining sport coupe styling with special ornamentation, colors, and interior trim. A manually operated steel sun roof is optional with either regular or vinyl top. Opels are built by General Motors in Europe and distributed in the United States through Buick Opel dealers.

DEAN SELLERS FORD

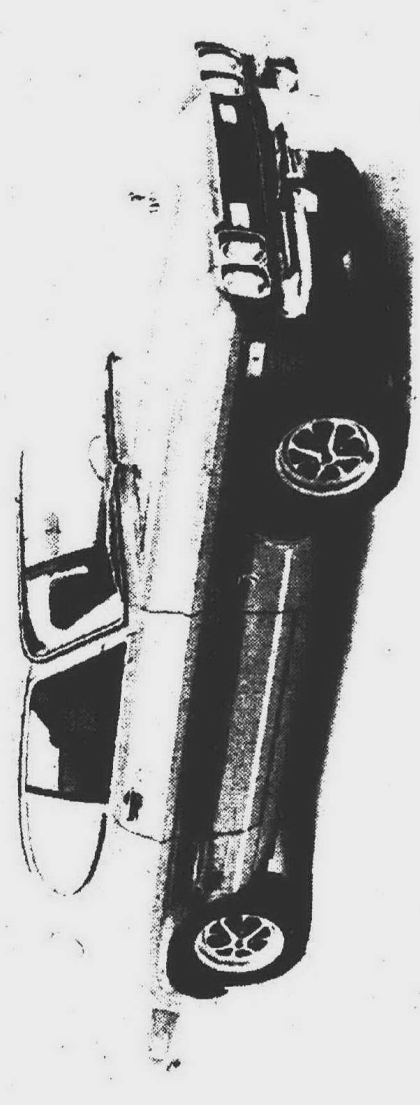

Ford Division's Torino, which set a series of sales records in 1972 in pacing its market segment, presents a new front appearance for 1973 highlighted by a wider grille and a larger impact absorbing bumper. All Torino models for 1973, including this Gran Torino two-door hardtop, feature new high-visibility, low back front bench seats, larger rear brakes and an inside hood latch release. New Torino options for 1973 include steel-belted radial ply tires and a spare tire lock.

Most changed Ford Division car for 1973 is the full sized Ford. Shown here is the LTD four door hardtop. All new sheet metal below the window line and a new segmented grille give the 1973 Ford a more formal look. All 1973 Fords have a new impact absorbing bumper system, although the overall length of the car is increased only about one inch. Power front disc brakes, power steering, SelectShift Cruise-O-Matic transmission and a 351-2V eight cylinder engine are standard in all new Fords.

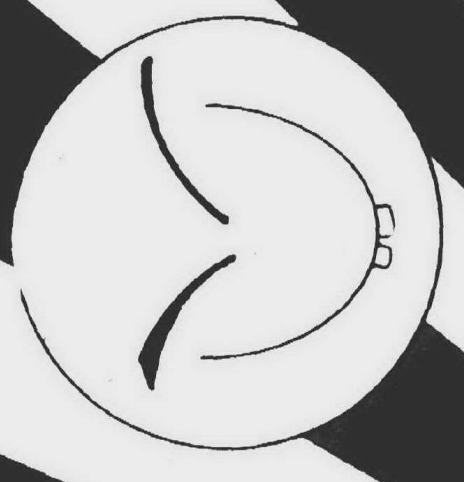

The 1973 Continental Mark IV retains its classic styling with a new diecast version of the distinctive radiator shell-type grille. Refinements include increased front and rear headroom, larger radial ply, steel belted, white sidewall tires, and an improved rear suspension. The already extensive list of standard equipment on the Mark IV is lengthened with the addition of cornering lamps, front bumper guards, a spare tire lock, an inside hood release and elegant opera windows with an etched silver leaf Continental star.

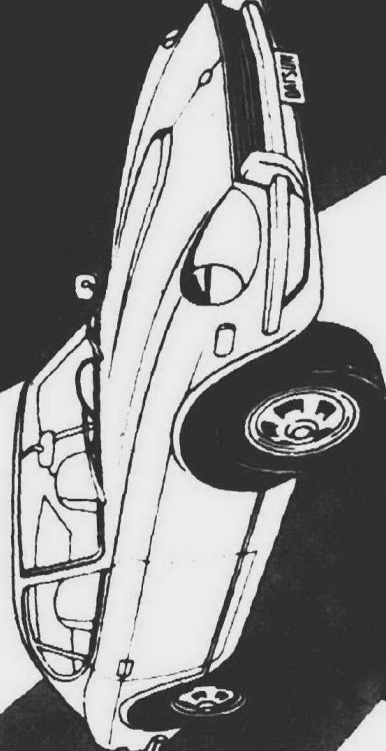

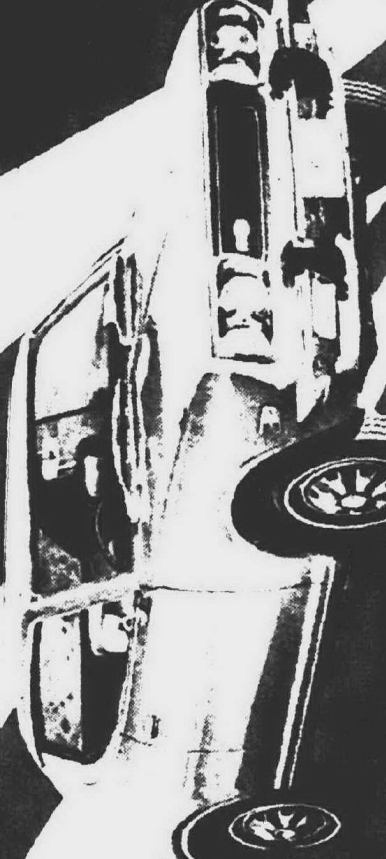

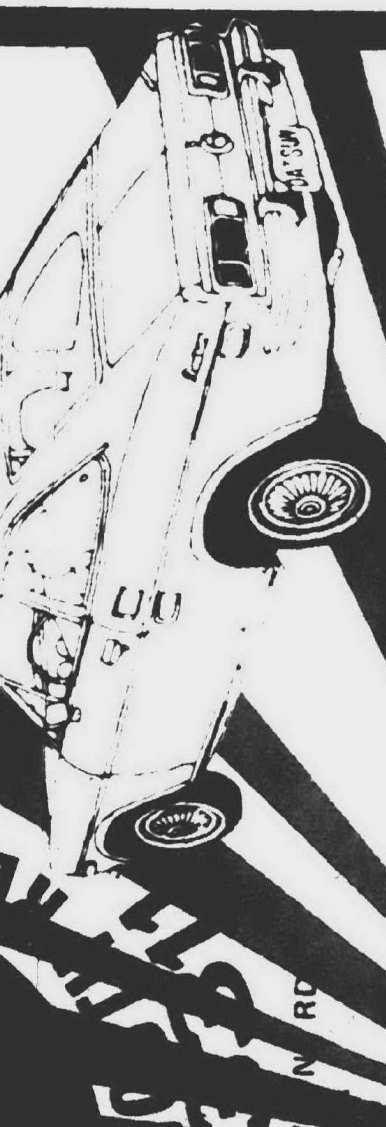

With a sales record for its first two years in the United States unequaled by any other import, Lincoln-Mercury's sporty Capri enters 1973 with a larger standard engine and interior refinements. Complete sporty instrumentation is standard on the Capri 2600 and now optional on the Capri 2000. Interior changes include a new instrument panel with a lockable glove box and new simulated walnut decor. The popular Decor Group option is revised and features a new console, unique seats and an electric rear window defroster.

A new car!

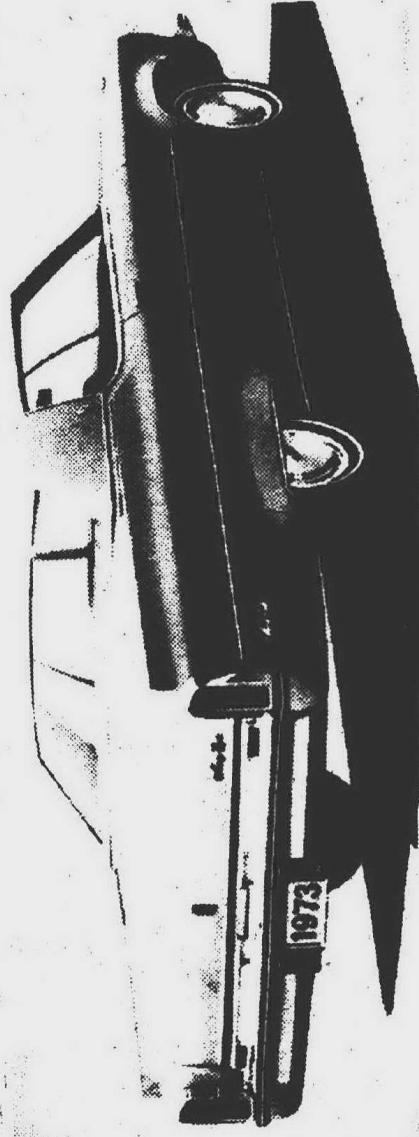

For 1973, Lincoln-Mercury's luxurious personal sports car, the Mercury Cougar, has several new design refinements including a new vertical die-cast grille and distinctive four-pod sequential taillights. The top-of-the-line XR-7 (above) features a three-quarter vinyl roof on the hardtop, interior leather seating surfaces and complete instrumentation as standard equipment. SelectShift automatic transmission and power front disc/rear drum brakes are standard for '73 on all Cougars.

The distinctive Mercury Marquis and Monterey have been completely redesigned inside and outside for 1973. All full size Mercurys have a more formal front appearance, thinner windshield pillars set at a rakish 80-degree angle on four-door models, and a new rear appearance. A classic stand-up ornament graces the hood of the new Marquis Brougham (above) -- the division's flagship of the Mercury line. New standard features for all 13 full-size Mercury models include radial-ply, steel-belted tires; wiper-arm-mount ed windshield washers; an inside hood-latch release; automatic parking brake release and front bumper guards.

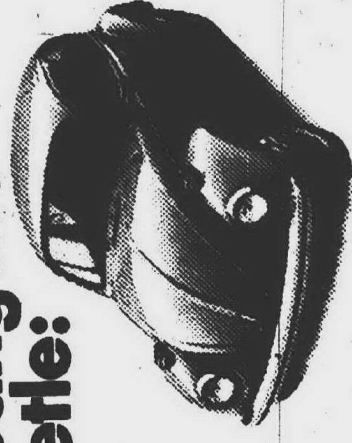

THREE-DOOR OLDS OFFERED -- Oldsmobile's new entry in the compact field, the 1973 Omega, will be offered in three body styles -- a two-door coupe, a four-door sedan and a hatchback coupe.

NINETY-EIGHTS RETAIN LUXURY -- The Oldsmobile Ninety-Eights have received new front and rear treatments for 1973, enhancing their luxury car identity. The lineup consists of a Ninety-Eight coupe and sedan, luxury coupe (shown), luxury sedan and elegant Regency sedan, available for the first time as a full-fledged model.

DETROIT -- The classic Fleetwood Eldorado Convertible shows the crisply sculptured individual front and rear fender treatment. The traditional Cadillac cross-hatch grille design is bold in character on this popular front-wheel-drive car and the motif features square grille openings above and below the center bumper bar.

The 1973 Cadillac features vertically-styled grille and sculptured character of the hood blend well with the head lamps and parking lamps. Front bumper deflection capability is provided by mounting the grille to the bumper allowing both the grille and bumper to telescope beneath the hood during impact. Rolling smoothness is enhanced by improvements in the frames, front suspension, shock absorbers and body mounting system on all cars.

PRIDE OF THE FLEET -- The 1973 Chrysler Imperial LeBaron four-door and two door hardtops contain a long list of engineering refinements and extra touches that make it one of the world's true luxury cars. Emphasis is placed on safety, comfort, and security of driver and passengers.

1973 Javelin Receives New Roof Design

American Motors' two-door sports hardtops -- Javelin and AMX -- feature a new smooth-roof design with optional vinyl roof treatment covering the car top and rear pillars for 1973. Both cars incorporate new twin-pod treatment. Bucket seats are standard in each, with instruments and controls being arranged in an aircraft-type cockpit. All American Motors cars are covered by the company's exclusive Buyer Protection Plan.

A QUIET PLUS -- Plymouth's Sabring Plus two-door hardtop offers a fresh, sophisticated styling theme for 1973 and the quietest ride ever for this intermediate-sized car. Standard: electronic ignition system and disc brakes.

NEW SPORTY GRAND AM -- Topping the Pontiac intermediate line for 1973 is the stunning new Grand Am, which incorporates classic styling with unique ride and handling characteristics. A "soft nose" front end design uses flexible molded urethane which deflects but returns to original shape after being impacted at parking lot speeds in much the same way as a rubber volleyball. The fixed rear quarter window on the Grand Am coupe features body-colored or top-colored louvers.

1973 CATALINA -- The popular Catalina has all-new front end sheet metal with the grille extending the full width of the front providing a strong horizontal theme. The Catalina has a front bumper system which meets the requirements of the Federal bumper standards by being completely self-restoring in a five-mile-per-hour barrier test. Bumper guards and rub strips are available.

Detroit's 57th Auto Show November 18-26

Detroit has another big date in its continuing love affair with the automobile when the 57th Auto Show - "73 Auto Circus" - opens at Cobo Hall November 18.

Beginning with a preview night (November 17) dedicated to raising $50,000 for Detroit Children's Hospital, the show opens to the public on Saturday, November 18 and continues for nine days (through November 26), taking over the entire 400,000 square feet of Cobo Hall exhibit space.

On view will be more than 250 of the 1973 model cars, representing the newest offerings of the automotive industry in the United States and abroad.

While automobiles hold sway in exhibit halls A, B and C, the entire area of Hall D will be given over to an exhibit of 100 recreation vehicles.

There's nothing staid or demure about this year's date between Detroiters -- the makers of autos -- and the objects of their love and labor.

The '73 Auto Circus will feature a troupe of 20 performing clowns, nightly auctions of cars, trail bikes, terrain cycles and snowmobiles.

Before the nine-day courtship is ended, more than 300,000 persons will have moved through the exhibits, in what is annually the biggest and best attended show on the Cobo Hall convention and exhibition calendar.

"It is," says Auto Show Committee Chairman Jerry Bliefeld, "chapter 57 in Detroit's greatest love story."

"What makes it so big is what has built Detroit - automobiles - as well as what Detroiters have built. It's our chance to see what we've done. And to take pride in the industry Detroit gave to the world."

Planning for the '73 Auto Circus has been underway for more than eight months.

While the show committee of the Detroit Auto Dealers Association, sponsor of the annual extravaganza, planned the organizational and promotional structure, the manufacturers guardedly designed their individual exhibits.

"As in past years," said Bliefeld, "we have little advance information on the individual company exhibits. They guard their plans for the Auto Show with the same kind of secrecy they employ regarding design changes."

It is expected that most of the automobile exhibits will be featuring new safety devices in the experimental or production stage. At least two of the manufacturers, Ford and Toyota, will exhibit experimental safety cars and at least one firm - Buick - plans on introducing an entirely new car at the '73 Auto Circus Show.

An over-all circus motif will provide the atmosphere for the show, and a troupe of 20 clowns will provide almost constant entertainment performing impromptu shows throughout the exhibit areas.

There will be clown jugglers and magicians, clowns who can work balloons into fascinating animals, and clowns that are contortionists and others who work with puppets.

At 9 o'clock each day of the show a professional auctioneer will auction off a different 1973 compact model car, a trail bike, all-terrain cycle and a snowmobile, starting November 18.

In the adjoining Cobo Hall arena, show-goers will be able to relax from hiking through the acres of cars and enjoy the full length motion picture, "Grand Prix," which will be shown during the run of the '73 Auto Circus (NOTE: TIMES IN ACCOMPANYING STORY).

'73 AUTO CIRCUS

Free Movie Admission For "73 Auto Circus"

Persons buying admission tickets to the '73 Auto Circus will also enjoy free admission to the showing of the motion picture, "Grand Prix" in the Cobo Hall arena on four different days during the run of the Auto Show.

"Grand Prix" will be shown at 7:15 p.m. on the dates of Monday, November 20 and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, November 22, 23 and 24.

New One-Price Family Admission Policy

The Detroit Auto Dealers Association, sponsors of the '73 Auto Circus 57th presentation of the Detroit Auto Show - have announced a new price admissions policy for the annual exhibit which runs at Cobo Hall November 18 through 26.

Daily individual admissions for adults will be $2.00, and children under 12 will enjoy fifty-cent admissions.

However, one-price family admissions, for adults accompanied by their children, will be in effect Monday, November 20 through Thursday, November 23. The complete family admission charge will be only $5.00.

Tickets to the '73 Auto Circus are available at the Cobo Hall box office. Show hours will be from 12 noon to 11 p.m. each day.

Cars, Cycles, Snowmobiles To Go On Auto Show Block

An auction a night - at 9 o'clock every day of the '73 Auto Circus - will see bidding on compact cars, snowmobiles, all terrain vehicles and trail bikes by persons attending the Auto Show at Cobo Hall.

100 Recreation Vehicles On Display At Auto Show

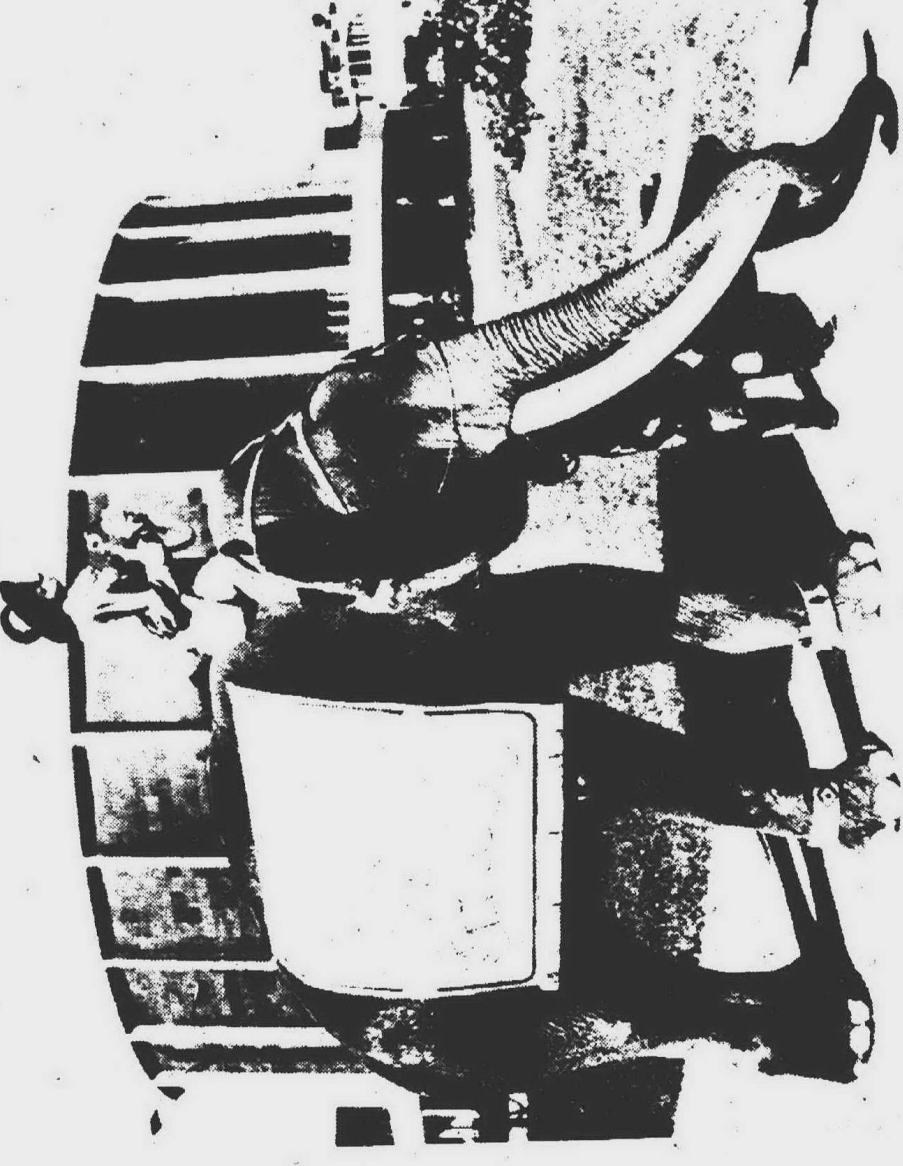

Hall D of Cobo Hall this year offers a display of 100 mobile recreational vehicles during '73 Auto Circus.

The display is symbolic of the rapid growth of the recreational vehicle industry, which is expected to turn out nearly 600,000 units before the end of 1972, with an estimated retail selling price totaling a billion dollars!

The motor home is rapidly assuming a major role in the ranks of the recreation vehicles - with some 30,000 produced in 1970 (the latest full year for which complete statistics are available) and an estimated 1972 production figure of some 60,000 vehicles.

The original recreational vehicles - camping and travel trailers - went on a commercial production basis in the early 1930's, but it was not until after World War II that they captured the public's imagination. Just over 15,000 travel trailers were produced, for example in 1956, and eight years later the annual production figure was 64,000 units! While projections for '72 are ten times that number.
