Residential Unit Development Rejected By Township Board

KENNETH WAY, Plymouth city treasurer, is expected to be made acting city manager by the Plymouth City Commission on Monday night. Way has served in that capacity on previous occasions when Norman Gaffney, who resigned the manager position effective Friday, was absent. The city commission will begin interviewing candidates for the city manager position this week, according to Mayor James McKeon.

By EDWARD WENDOVER

The Plymouth Township Board voted 6-1 Tuesday to reject a residential unit development plan proposed by the Planning Commission.

About 100 persons attended the meeting to watch the developments on the proposal and applauded following its defeat.

The proposed change in the township zoning ordinances would have accommodated optional methods of development for 80-acre parcels by allowing a mixture of types of residential units.

Trustee Russell Ash cast the lone dissenting vote against rejection.

MOST OF THOSE speaking from the audience said they opposed parts of the proposal — particularly a section which would allow a residential unit density about twice as high as now permitted. Trustees voting against the measure said they favored parts of the proposal but could not support it in its entirety.

Dr. Richard Gornick, president of the Plymouth Hills Civic Assn. and vice president of the Plymouth Community Improvement Assn., spoke in opposition.

"This is contrary to the best interests of the township and the school district," he said, adding that the proposal represented the "higher density thinking inertia."

Gornick said his organizations were opposed to the higher population density that would be possible under the proposal and that he saw no reason why the present zoning ordinances — which allow for planned unit development on 40 acre parcels — were in need of change.

G.W. DEAN told the board that "without exception, the people who have moved out here did it to have more space."

Therefore, he said, increasing the population density, as would be allowed under the proposal, is "opposed to the interest of those living here."

Loren W. Gould asked the board to support the proposal. Ned Sturton, a former member of the Plymouth school board, spoke against the proposal.

"The increased density is the primary argument," Sturton said. "For a community to grow in an orderly way, there is a pace of growth that must be maintained to avoid straining the service systems" such as schools and roads, he said.

Following the public comments on the proposal, the board discussed it.

Trustee Frank Millington said, "The old ordinance prohibits an increase in the density and the new proposed one encourages it."

ELIZABETH HOLMES, township treasurer, said that a scan of the tax rolls showed there are 31 parcels of 80 acres or more — totaling 2,261 acres — that would be eligible for the proposal if passed.

"I find little fault with the articles as written," Mrs. Holmes said, "but I find several things about the implementation that frighten me."

She said her main worry was a phrase that left final approval of 80-acre residential unit development to "the discretion of the township board."

Mrs. Holmes said that recent legal rulings have indicated that there must be sufficient reasons to deny zoning and that this phrase may be too vague.

"I'm not opposed to new development though," she added.

ASH, THE board representative on the township planning commission which unanimously approved the proposal on Oct. 11, said, "I am not the foremost proponent of the amendment."

He said the intent of the

Rossman To Serve As School Consultant

James H. Rossman will begin working for the Plymouth Community School District as a consultant Monday morning.

The final agreement between Rossman, who was fired as school superintendent last Dec. 13, and the school board was reached Friday.

Rossman told the Plymouth Mail & Observer that the agreement had no bearing on the damage suit which he has said will be filed against the board over his firing and that he intends to continue that legal battle.

Although he has continued to collect the $28,000 annual salary he had been making as superintendent, Rossman had not accepted the consultant position that was offered by the school board shortly after he was fired.

BOTH ROSSMAN and School Board President George Lawton said they were happy with the arrangement.

"I'm pleased to return and render services for the salary being given," Rossman said.

Lawton said, "Our sole object is to gain a value for the number of dollars this district is spending in salary." He added that the school board "bore no malice" to Rossman.

There was some discussion among school board members and administrators about whether Rossman's recent employment for a local real estate firm would conflict with his school employment.

Lawton said, "We would expect two things that he (Rossman) provide — the usual duties devoting his full day to the school system and that operating any real estate interests doesn't conflict with his employment for the school system."

ROSSMAN SAID he would work full-time for the schools and that if he did have any real estate interests, he would not become involved in any that would conflict with his school position.

He did say that he would not relinquish all right to additional outside employment.

Rossman's duties as a consultant will include areas pertaining to site development. He will have an office in the library at Central School and will under the agreement serve through the terminating date of his contract, June 30, 1973.

Restaurant On Wheels Proposed For C&O Freight House Siding

By W. W. EDGAR

A plan that would transform the old C&O freight house into a museum and exhibit hall for the arts and crafts, and serve as a front for a four car "restaurant on wheels," moved a step closer to reality this week.

At a joint meeting of City of Plymouth and C&O officials, the entire plan was discussed, and the lone barrier in the path was a feeling on the part of James Alvord, assistant superintendent of the C&O, that such a development would be dangerous to life and limb so close to the railroad tracks.

Under the plan, the City of Plymouth would lease the property that runs the full length of the existing spur and then sub-lease the rear portion to Calvin Boles, of Milford, for the unusual restaurant.

THIS "RESTAURANT on wheels," planned to be the first of four in the state, would consist of four passenger and one baggage car. The lead car would serve as a club car, and the two middle cars would be dressed up diners, with the fourth car containing a complete kitchen.

On completion Boles will attach his own private car to the train.

In making the plea to Alvord and Murray Kartsen, superintendent of the C&O, Mayor James McKeon stressed that Plymouth is greatly in need of novelty shops and unusual businesses and that this section of the city, known as Old Village, was in dire need of a good restaurant.

The railroad officials voiced their opinion that it was a novel plan, but Alvord stuck to his plea that it might be dangerous to the patrons so close to the tracks.

In the end he agreed to give the idea some serious thought and that, possibly, moving the freight house to the back of the property might cause him to change his mind.

HE ASKED the city officials to make an official request to lease the property and that it would be acted on as soon as possible.

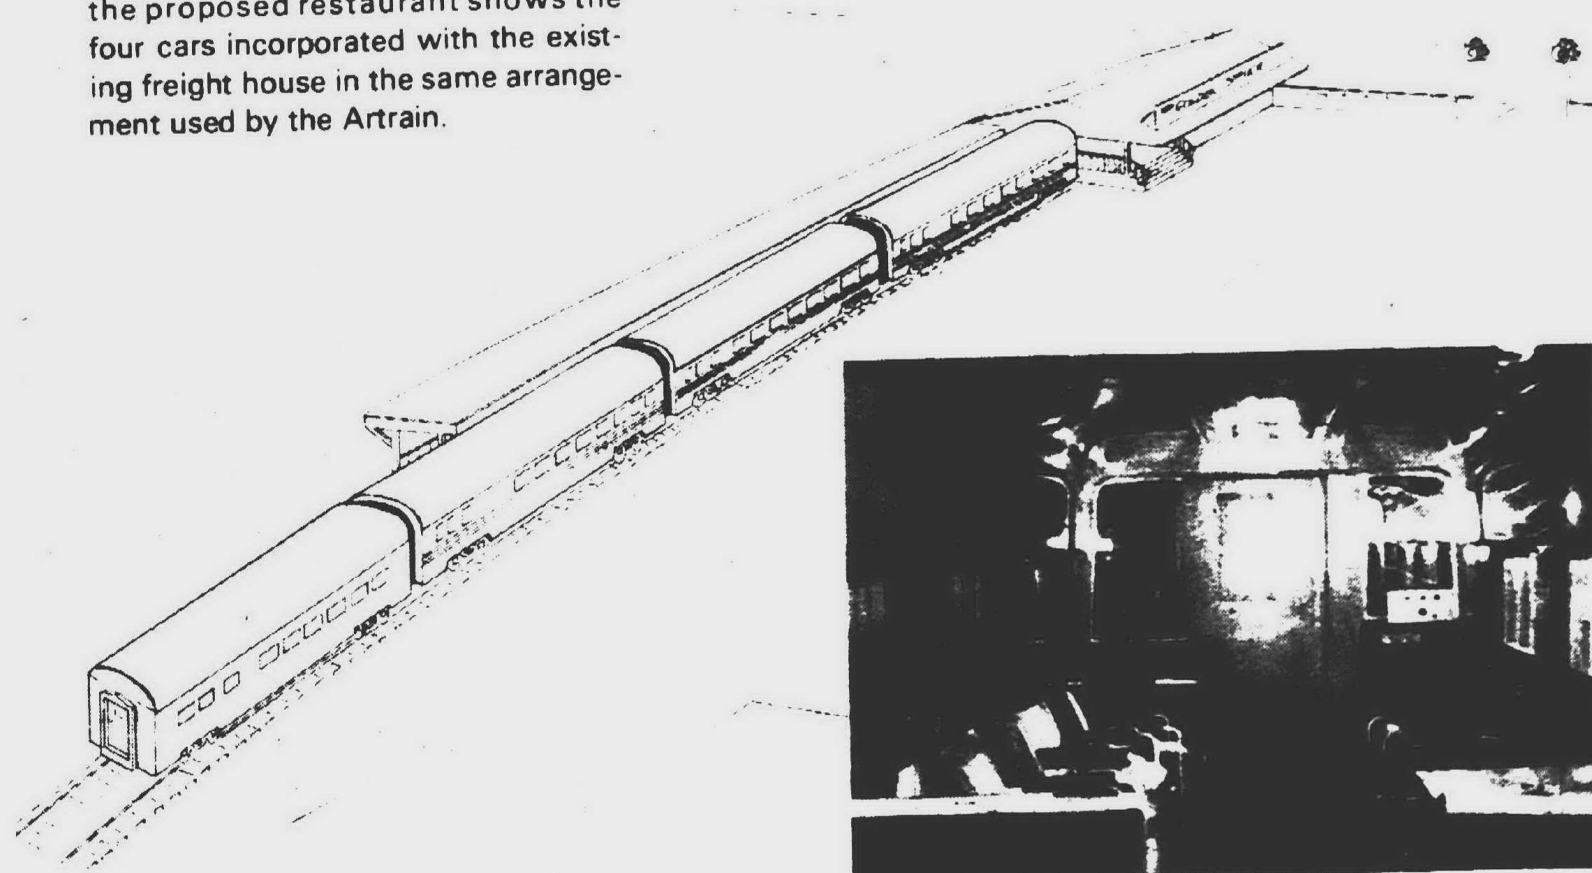

While the joint meeting with the railroad people was being held, the City Planning Commission approved the concept of the plan for the "restaurant on wheels." All that is left is the decision of the railroad.

Supt. Kartsen admitted that the plans were afoot to raze the old freight house as the railroad had little use for it in the present scheme of things. "However," he said, "I am all for your plan for the museum and the restaurant. It would certainly be a novel development."

The freight house, built almost a century ago, has a great deal of sentimental value to the city. On its interior walls are signatures of some of the old time

The Stroller...

Which Is Better, Manager Or Mayor?

The departure of Norman Gaffney from the city manager's desk in Plymouth has helped revive an old argument on which The Stroller cut his eye teeth in politics some years ago.

It is the argument over which is the better form of government--a weak mayor with a city manager or a strong mayor system in which the people choose the leader?

Under the weak mayor form of government, voters select the commission and the members of that group name their own chairman, or mayor, who carries on the meetings and is a sort of "glad-hander" for visiting delegations.

Under this form, the commission, all of whom are residents and serve on a part time basis, employ a city manager to actually run the city.

WELL, BACK a few decades ago when a move was under way to incorporate the City of Livonia, The Stroller was voted a place on the charter commission.

At the time, the drive for cityhood in Livonia was tied to the opening of the Detroit Race Course, and every effort was being put forth to reach the goal before the track opened.

There was $500,000 at stake under the law which states that the city in which the track is located shall share in the pari-mutuel betting, up to $500,000. This figure since has been raised.

So, when the Charter Commission set about the task of writing the document the first thing to do was choose the form of government we wanted.

And we set up a schedule.

giving us only 90 day to do the job.

THERE WAS little thought given to any other system than a "strong" mayor form of government inasmuch as Jesse Zeigler, who had been the township supervisor 27 years, was considered the choice for mayor and the man best suited for the job.

When the sessions started, the bomb was dropped as two of the commissioners held out for a city manager form of government. Their argument was based on the fact that a professional man was better suited to do the job.

"Where can we get a more experienced man than Jess?" the other members chorused. "He knows the area and the people." But the argument still persisted.

Finally, The Stroller was named to a committee of three to make a study of the various forms of government with serious thought being given to the city manager plan.

In company with two colleagues, The Stroller traveled the state and interviewed officials in many cities, towns and hamlets until there was some question in our minds, too, whether a city manager wouldn't be best for the job.

THEN CAME a morning in Saginaw when we called on the city manager, who was building a great reputation.

For more than an hour he extolled the virtues of a city manager system. He was gaining points along the way until he was asked, "Who sets the tax rate?"

"I do," he said firmly, "and no city manager worth his salt, would have it any other way."

That settled it.

We didn't want an outsider fixing the tax rate.

So, in the end, the strong mayor plan won out, 5 to 2, and Livonia still is working under that charter.

Once the decision was made, folks came to the fore stating they were pleased that we didn't turn the area over to a professional man who would "spend our money to build a reputation and then look for greener fields."

THERE HAVE BEEN areas where the City manager form has worked well--and Farmington is a great example.

There are other areas where the "weak" mayor became ambitious and tried to play the role of the "strong" mayor. Friction results.

The Stroller always has been an advocate of the strong mayor system and a strong believer that the head of the city "should be one of our own," instead of passing the buck to a city manager--who may not work smoothly with a commission.

It is a never ending debate, but The Stroller well remembers the time he cut his eye teeth in politics on that very subject.

residents and other mementos that would fit into the museum character that is planned.

"For sentimental value alone, it should be saved," said Bill Hann, representing Old Village. "And it would be an attractive piece in the future plans for the development of the Village."

THE PLYMOUTH ARTS Council has shown interest in the old building since it was used for the Arttrain earlier in the year.

"There are any number of uses that could be made of the building," City Commissioner Harold Guenther told the railroad officials. "The City of Plymouth leans toward the arts and crafts and the old freight house would be ideal for a show place. There could be other uses."

Then he added, "We might even consider a farmer's market."

The city commissioners have agreed to approve a liquor license for the restaurant, and Cole is hopeful that the plan can be formally approved in time for a grand opening by April 1, 1973.

ASIDE FROM the activity in Plymouth he also is planning the same type of restaurants on the railroad sidings in Grand Rapids, Lansing and Traverse City.

In offering the plan for the "restaurant on wheels," Cole admitted that he has been a railroad buff for years. He is proud of his private car that was built 50 years ago for the president of the Santa Fe railroad at a cost of $200,000 and later used by MGM for such well known actors as Mary Pickford and Clark Gable.

"Right now I am sold on the restaurant idea," he said, "I'm ready to get to work as soon as the C&O says the word."

Unit Development

proposal was to allow a combination of zoning because it might be desirable to have a mixture of housing types due to land terrain.

Ash said the present ordinances and the proposal attempted to make allowance for open space that would not be maintained by the township but by an association of the people living in that particular area.

Trustee Gene Overholt said the proposal had some good points -- specifically mentioning a provision for a perimeter similar to existing residences -- but added that he did not like the density portion.

"I don't know if we're ready in Plymouth Township to double the number of people in 100 acres," Overholt said.

MILLINGTON said he thought most of the people are against increasing density. "I see no reason why a government should encourage development with the situation of the school system," he added.

Trustee Gerald Burke praised the work of those who had contributed to the proposal -- which took more than 1 1/2 years to complete -- but said he felt there were some things in it that need to be changed.

Burke said he hoped some of the better ideas could be incorporated into the zoning ordinances later.

Helen Richardson, township clerk, said, "It is too soon for something like this. We should take the good parts out and incorporate them in revisions now under study."

Millington agreed that some parts of the proposal should be used later.

Burke moved that the proposal be denied; Overholt supported the motion. Ash cast the lone dissenting vote.

School Board Supports Recreation Authority

PLYMOUTH A Plymouth area recreation authority was given added impetus this week when the Plymouth Board of Education pledged its active support of the proposal.

The action put the school district in harmony with the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township whose governing boards bodies pledged their support in early November.

Approved in a 5-0 vote, the motion resolves that "the Plymouth Community School District go on record as favoring a total community recreation authority" and "indicates its willingness to participate in such an authority."

The resolution also notes that "it has been a tradition in the community to provide a sound wholesome recreation program" and that "it appears that a better recreation program can be provided by all governments working together on one program."

SUPT. JOHN Hoben had recommended to the board the proposed authority that the school district join the other units of government in arranging programs and schedules. The facilities of the local governments and school district would be utilized but ownership of the facilities wouldn't change.

The Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service conducted a special study recommending that an authority be formed which would assume responsibility for financing and managing the recreation program.

Funding should be placed on a per capita basis except for the school board's contribution which would be to provide capital improvements on the school facilities, the report states.

THE REPORT also recommends that an "experienced professional" be hired as the "chief executive officer."

The school board's formal support of the authority leaves just Canton Township uncertain about supporting it.

School trustees voting for the proposal were chairman George Lawton, Marda Benson, Gary Mirto, Dr. John Ohno and Fred Penar. John Graves and Carl Berry were absent.

After a lengthy discussion, board members decided to allot one-half hour for proponents and another half hour for opponents to speak. The final half hour will be allotted to students.

Board chairman George Lawton said time limitations might be stretched to accommodate the audience.

Students interested in voicing their opinions should contact Brian Smith, vice mayor of the student council, through either principal's office.

SEVERAL PARENTS attending the board meeting said that the suggested format would tend to polarize parents on the system.

Some suggested that the administration and board should explain what efforts are being made to correct alleged problems at the high school.

Trustee John Ohno renewed his suggestion for formation of an educational improvement atmosphere committee. The committee would be composed of school officials as well as parents and students and take positive steps to improve school atmosphere.

He suggests that such a committee could deal with the issue of free independent study time, which has become a frequent complaint among parents.

How School Libraries Changed

By MARTHA MAHAN

The oldtime school library has come a long way from a tiny space with children packed wall-to-wall and only books to read.

It even has a new name.

Children now use a "media center" instead of a library. And it contains a wealth of audio-visual resources and equipment along with the still important printed materials. The intent is to keep pace with changing educational needs and developments.

Typical of this concept in Plymouth Community Schools is Smith Elementary School's media center. Two former classroom areas were transformed into a roomy, comfortable, attractively furnished space with a growing collection of stimulating and appealing audio-visual resources. It is now a vital and functional element of the total school program.

The November meeting of the school district's media specialists (formerly known as librarians) was held at the Smith center. The time was devoted to previewing, examining and evaluating a wide variety of audio-visual materials as part of the selection process for acquiring new resources for other media centers.

MRS. JANIE GUNDLACK, media specialist at Fiegel School, examines a film strip being considered for use in Plymouth school media centers.

BERTHA GREEN, director of libraries for Plymouth Community schools, checks the multi-purpose storage unit at the Smith School media center.

MRS. CARITA BERGELIN, Plymouth-Salem media specialist, and John Olson from Plymouth-Canton listen to a tape recording to judge its teaching qualities.

By FRED DELANO

RICHARD T. THOMPSON, our executive editor, who was laid low by a heart attack two months ago, called from home a few days ago with a reminder that this business about "administrative interference" on the part of the Plymouth City Commission is far from new.

Although it will be some time yet before Tommy regains full physical prowess, there's nothing wrong with this darned Buckeye's mental processes. In keeping up to date, he wasn't at all surprised when he heard of City Manager Norman Gaffney's resignation.

In fact, RTT isn't surprised any more whenever anyone quits at City Hall, for he has been viewing local politics so long that he realizes it's second nature for our Leaders to meddle in departmental matters.

One of Tommy's own by-line stories, which appeared on the front page of the Mail & Observer on June 25, 1967, can be cited as evidence of this. That little gem appeared under a head reading "Goaded Tactics Of Commission Find Mark Again" and opened with these paragraphs:

"PLYMOUTH'S CITY Commission will have to go down in annals as the greatest group of marksmen in the city's history. No other governing body in the past can boast of setting up five targets and shooting all 'down with dead center hits."

"That's quite a remarkable feat considering that all was accomplished by an apparent campaign of public harassment over a period of time that eventually resulted in the desired goal."

"For the record -- the fallen include, and all over a period of three years -- longtime City Manager Albert Glassford, City Clerk Richard Shafer, longtime Department of Public Works Supt. Joe Bida, longtime Chief of Police and Director of Public Service Kenneth Fisher, and now City Attorney Thomas Healy."

"Judging from the activities of recent meetings the next targets in whatever order one prefers are City Manager Richard Blodgett, who has been under constant fire from Commissioner Arch Vallier, and recently appointed Police Chief Robert Corrington."

LATER IN THE same story, after discussing the Healy resignation in detail, there were these paragraphs:

"The fact remains that the City Commission, and one must consider all of the commissioners being a party to the harassing tactics, have forced five top city administration officials to resign over a period of three years."

"It may be the tactics of one or two members but when it is allowed to take place in meeting after meeting without the other commissioners taking a stand, then it must be taken that the commissioners are in accord with the harassment."

It's a matter of record, of course, that since that was written both Blodgett and Corrington indeed did throw in the towel as Thompson predicted. So have four others whom Tommy didn't even know in '67, Police Chief Herb Straley, City Engineer Thomas Waffan, Recreation Director Stan Stenek and now Gaffney.

All of this is pertinent because now the commission is off on another of its manhunt, seeking a replacement for Gaffney.

The number of times that commissioners on the dais in official meetings have publicly embarrassed one department head after another is as long as your arm. Any candidates for the current city managership vacancy should realize this is the traditional "modus operandi" of Plymouth commissions, and the man hired need not list "guts" as one of his strong points.

IF YOU CAN'T keep your husband away from the TV set during the football season you might as well find out what the game's all about. At least that's the idea of Mrs. Catherine Wilkin, left, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Stephanie Wilkin, both of Garden City, who were among the "football widows" who enrolled this fall in a class taught by Robert Moseley, (right) public relations director and attendance officer for the Garden City school district. The course in the district's adult education program has been designed to help women appreciate football and talk about it with their husbands, and Moseley taught it complete with diagrams of common plays. THE OPERA "Amahl and the Night Visitors" will be presented in the First United Presbyterian Church of Farmington Dec. 3. Singers from left are Donald McEachen, John Cross, Robert Taylor, Susan Mosshammer and Donald McDaniel.

Presbyterian Choirs Present 'Amahl' Dec. 3

Choirs of the First Presbyterian Church of Farmington will present the one-act Christmas opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," the evening of Sunday, Dec. 3, in the church sanctuary. There will be two performances, at 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. The church is at Farmington and 11 Mile Roads.

Seats are reserved and tickets are available from any member of the church choir, from Mrs. Nancy Taylor at the Quakertown office of the Metropolitan National Bank of Farmington, or from the church office.

Susan Labatt is producer-director of the opera, the first ever commissioned for American television. It has been presented by NBC each Christmas Eve since 1951 and has been seen by more people than any American opera. John Cross will direct the music for the Farmington presentation and Carolee McDaniel will be accompanist. Others in the cast include Sheldon McDaniel, Robert Taylor, Don McEachen, Don McDaniel and Susan Mosshammer.

"Amahl" is the warming story of a crippled shepherd boy who lives with his widowed mother in a hut by the side of a road leading to Bethlehem. The Three Kings of the Orient pause on their way to see the infant Jesus for rest and refreshment. Amahl calls in neighboring shepherds to see the kings and the wonderful gifts they carry. The shepherds entertain the kings with dancing and a feast of fruits and nuts.

During the evening, the crippled Amahl is miraculously cured. Out of gratitude, his mother allows him to join the three kings when they resume their journey.

Church Temple Presents Drama By Rabbi

"Does It Pay To Be Jewish?", a play by Rabbi Sherwin T. Wine, will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 8, in place of the regular service in Birmingham Temple, 28611 W. 12 Mile, Farmington.

Rabbi Wine, leader of Temple Israel, and Lorraine Ernst will head the cast. She is a graduate of the Goodwin Theater and has appeared on local television as well as in the Jewish Community Center's production of "Another Part of the Forest."

The purpose of the play is to promote reflection on the meaning of Jewish identity.

Following the play, the congregation members and guests will be divided into small discussion groups to consider the implications of the drama.

Birmingham Temple, in keeping with its philosophy of Humanistic Judaism, has experimented with several innovations for its Friday evening services. The drama presentation is the latest.

A SENIOR CITIZENS' BOOTH will be one of the features of the Christmas Boutique at St. Agatha Catholic Church, Redford Township, on Sunday, Dec. 3. Mrs. Vickie Jacobson (left), Ed Grobowski and Mrs. Margaret Silversides look over some of the wares to be sold.

Seniors' Work Is Featured By St. Agatha

Senior citizens, headed by Mrs. Margaret Silversides, are contributing a lion's share of work to the Christmas Boutique scheduled Sunday, Dec. 3, in St. Agatha Catholic Church, 19700 Beech - Daly, Redford Township.

The elder members of the church have been working since May on ponchos, Raggedy Ann dolls, pillows and other handmade items to sell in their own booth.

They also will stock and staff a bake shop for the boutique, to be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the school gymnasium. St. Agatha is located just north of Grand River.

A Christmas shop will feature hand-painted angels, pine cone wreaths and decorated ornaments. The children's shop has a large variety of knits and hand-sewn clothing, and a special toy shop will show Barbie bride dresses.

Several other shops will feature Christmas gift ideas, and there will be a snack shop open all day.

Tickets, at $2 per person, will be obtainable at the door.

Covenant Players Visit Ward Church

The Covenant Players, a contemporary drama group from California, will perform in Ward United Presbyterian Church, Farmington Road and Six Mile, Livonia, at 7 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 3.

The group was organized a decade ago and presented its first series of Christian dynamics productions in September 1963.

Charles Tanner, who had been seeking for some time to develop drama in the church, was commissioned to write and produce three one-act plays dealing with themes relating man and God.

His plays were received with such enthusiasm that the theater group stayed together and became the Covenant players.

The Players received 64 requests for performances during their first year and 614 the second year. The first road trip was to Seattle in 1965, and out of it grew a regular touring group.

To date, the Covenant Players have given more than 65,000 performances and traveled to 50 states, Europe and Canada. Some of their outstanding shows have been put on for Vietnam veterans in hospitals, on planes in flight and on ox - carts during HemisFair 68.

The women of the church will hold a party at 8 p.m., Dec. 7, and the Christian education department will present its Christmas program at 11 a.m., Dec. 17.

Christmas Eve services, Dec. 24, will be at 7.

Parkdale Hosts Evangelist

The Rev. William Caldwell, evangelist and author from Tulsa, will conduct special services nightly from Dec. 5 to 10 in the Parkdale Assembly of God, 36516 Parkdale, Livonia.

Services Tuesday through Thursday will be held at 7:30 p.m., and the church's annual missionary convention will begin Friday, Dec. 8, to climax the week.

A "Supper from Around the World" will be served at 6:30 p.m. Friday, and Rev.

Caldwell will show slides of his missionary trips.

On Saturday, the church plans a 6:30 p.m. time of special prayer, with emphasis on missions, and Sunday services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. will feature a missionary victory rally. There will be music by the Parkdale Voices.

The Rev. David Kristy, pastor of Parkdale Assembly of God, said the public is invited to all services.

Rev. Caldwell's mission work has taken him to all 50 states and many foreign countries.

WILLIAM CALDWELL

Rev. Lester Kinsolving's Religion Update

The lot of the minister's child has never been easy.

But the heavy burden of an unmerciful stereotype (a choice between being either Superprude or Holyterror — with nothing in between) has now been substantially increased — from the White House, of all places.

"I remember very well when I was a kid that the minister's son was the biggest liar in the classroom," announced John Ehrlichman, one of President Nixon's top aides.

"I'm afraid we've got something of that kind confronting us in this political election," Ehrlichman told reporters, in reference to what he alleged were falsehoods enunciated by a minister's son named George McGovern.

ERLICHMAN is the president's top domestic adviser — in a nation whose laws and ideals are manifestly opposed to discrimination against anyone on the basis of ancestry.

But since Ehrlichman once knew one lying minister's son, therefore Senator McGovern can be regarded as suspect — along with all other ministers' sons who have felt the brunt of this thoughtless remark from so high ranking a source.

During an interview, Ehrlichman told this columnist that the untruthful minister's son (whom he declined to identify) was his classmate in junior high school in Santa Monica, Calif.

When asked whether there were in that class any politicians' sons, (among those liars besides "the biggest"), Ehrlichman at first chuckled, and then added, seriously:

"My comment was directed only toward one minister's son, George McGovern, who has in his campaign wrapped himself in his father's mantle."

HAVE NIXON'S poor but hardworking parents in Whittier not been extensively featured during the campaign?

Ehrlichman conceded that they had, and went on to comment:

"In the area of political hyperbole, I've found that there is a peripheral effect you don't contemplate at the time you make statements."

The presidential assistant went on to note:

"Perhaps my statement in this regard was unfortunate, and perhaps too colorful. The only untruthful ministers' sons I have known are this school classmate and my boss' opponent."

RARELY HAVE any of the Nixon administration insiders so apologized — most of them reportedly being as righteously self-assured as presidential press secretary Ron Zeigler.

And Ehrlichman's apology may help alleviate the burden upon all ministers' sons — such as being reared in the goldfish bowl of a personage, where in the event of any misbehavior at all, the gossip can gallop.

Bible College Choir To Sing

The choir of Great Lakes Bible College will be in Livonia for a concert on Wednesday evening. The group will be singing at 7:15 p.m., Dec. 6, in Memorial Church of Christ, 35475 Five Mile, as part of special services being held throughout the week of Dec. 3-8.

Max Hickerson, minister of the Cloverbrook Christian Church in Cincinnati will speak at the 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. services on Sunday. He will also speak at Monday-Friday services, at 7:30 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hargrave of Lansing will be in charge of the music at these services.

Max Copeland and Mark McGilvery are the church's ministers.

10 Commandments Viewed Anew

The Ten Commandments will be viewed not as restrictions to liberty but 10 means of keeping all at liberty in a talk by a Christian Science lecturer from England speaking in Farmington Dec. 9.

Geith A. Plimmer, internationally-known member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will be sponsored by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Franklin - Meadowlake when he speaks at 10:30 a.m. in the Old Orchard Theater, Orchard Lake Road.

His talk, "The Healing of Moral Weakness," will be free and open to the public.

Ann Setlock, former "queen" of the metropolitan area bowlers, and long time member of the Thunderbird Inn team, has served notice that she is on the way back.

Competing in the Ladies Major League at Pine Tree Bowl last week, the Garden Lanes instructor put together games of 223, 258 and 226 for 707 -- the third highest series bowled by a woman in the area this season.

The top score was a 727 bowled by Penny McLain, one of the rising young stars, several weeks ago, and a few days later Freda Chandler posted a 709 count.

Ann had been nursing a back ailment during most of last season and the early weeks of the present campaign. But the 700 series now is serving notice that she'll be in the thick of the race for top average honors over the rest of the way.

SCORING dropped off a bit in the men's classics during the week. After a series of sky-rocketing counts, only three 700 series were posted during the past week.

Jimmy Shelp topped the list with a 733 total at Westland. He strung games of 278, 247 and 208 to beat out Leo Stantomburlo by 20 pins for the pace-making role.

The third to break the 700 barrier was Bob Cassar in the Wonderland Classic last Tuesday night. Bob opened with a 259, but fell to 199 in the second game and then closed with 248 for his big count.

DICK PRESTON, another veteran, missed the charmed circle by nine pins, counting a 691 at Wonderland.

WHILE THE individuals are in a bit of a slump, interest in team scoring is increasing and two combinations set a fast pace in the Wonderland loop. Hank Gniwewski's team posted a 3213 and Redford Bowling Sales had a 3125.

The top mark is held by George Bashara's Wonderland team with a 3251.

One of the big features of the night was produced by Jim Large of the Roma Hall team, when he registered a 203 triplicate.

SPEAKING OF triplicates, Janet Fox, bowling in the Farmington Country Club league at Northwest Lanes, rolled three identical games of 189. It is the highest triplicate reported by a woman this year.

LISTED AMONG the oddities of the week is an all spare game rolled by Duaine Wigger at Bel-Aire Lanes. A 126 average bowler, she rolled 180 in her all spare game and wound up with a 487 series.

THE WOMEN took the play away from the men in the Bel-Aire Classic that had been the highest scoring circuit in the area.

Pat O'Malley bowled an unusual 246 game in that she had two misses. She then added a 174 and 145 for a 565, saying "my legs felt like rubber near the finish."

At the same time Arlene Garver placed a 201 game between counts of 153 and 165 for 519 to lead the senior house league.

The "Lady of the Week," insofar as local leagues are concerned, is Nancy Hill, a 149 average bowler, who fired a 618 to establish a new high for the Ladies Classic at Westland. Though she carries only a 149 average she came through with games of 178, 208 and 232.

A NEW NAME popped up among the winners in the Livonia Lanes singles classic when Eleanor Slavin topped the field with 469 - 138 - 607. The single game winners included Betty Moeller with 174 - 37 - 211; Lois Merriman with 179 - 29 - 208 and Loretta Reed with 174 - 44 - 218.

JEAN CLOW took top honors for women in the Mayflower Mixed League with a 557 series that included a 209 game. Robert Bellesteer topped the men with a 235 in 611 and Mary Boldt took some of the spotlight by converting the 5-10 split.

THERE WAS quite a battle at Farmington Lanes for top honors in the Farmington Noon Classic before Jan Vanderwill landed on top with a 243 game in a 571 series. At this figure she beat Gloria Mertz who had a 211 in 562.

The Hibbs family also shared much of the spotlight for the week when Kevin Hibbs had a 209 in 612 in the Teen Classic and Carol was the leader among the girls with a 180 in 496.

Then to top it off, Kenny Hibbs paced the Junior House League with a 263 in 635.

ROUNDING OUT the week Tod Lipa was high among the juniors at Country Lanes with a 560 and Bert Lamb had a 257 game between counts of 172 and 129 for 558 in the men's circuit.

U-D Whips Borgess, 56-43

Bishop Borgess fell into a turnover slump and dropped to 500 basketball with a 56-43 loss to U-D High, putting the Spartans at 2-2.

U-D ran around Borgess' man-to-man defense in the opening quarter to spurt ahead, 18-9, and maintained its lead at the half, 27-15.

BORGESS dropped off the mark by 14 in the third quarter but rebounded to close within three points at the start of the fourth, 40-37.

The ball started turning U-D's way again and Bill Ward made good on two one-and-one plays to put U-D out of reach and Borgess into the loss column.

Borgess sported two in scoring double figures with Mark Sopko popping in 16 and Greg Drypen 12.

SENIOR SOPKO now has totaled 87 points in four games for a 21.7 average.

Greg Jansen was the lone player in double figures for U-D with 12 points.

Now with two non-league parochial losses and two public school victories in the books, Borgess is ready for Double A competition. The Spartans opened with Divine Child Friday, have another non-leaguer with Garden City East at home Tuesday (Dec. 5) and travel to Servite on Friday.

Wayne Tips GC West

Call it "first-game jitters," label it inexperience, no matter the title the Garden City West-Wayne Memorial cage opener was a whistle blowing affair with a total of 62 fouls called.

The infraction contest was a tie at 31 apiece.

THE SCOREBOARD tally was a little different with Wayne an 84-66 victor.

Lathrup Girls Foiled In Cage Opener, 61-12

In their first taste of varsity competition, the Southfield Lathrup girls' basketball squad fell to Birmingham Seaholm, 61-12.

"I expected a sour note for the first few games but nothing like this," said Lathrup Coach Chuck Daniel. "Seaholm has been fielding a squad for the past three years."

The one bright note was the junior varsity's victory, 18-4. Lathrup travels to Birmingham Groves on Wednesday, Dec. 6 for game No. 2.

"This was just the kind of game I was scared of," said West Coach Chris Babler. "They (Wayne) came at us and ran, ran, ran. We got into foul trouble and they eventually got away from us."

West was ahead after one quarter, 18-16, and built up a 29-22 margin with two minutes left in the half. But Tiger Ken Kinsvator, a 6-5 junior and only returning starter, was already in foul trouble with four after six minutes in the first quarter, and Wayne came back at West cutting, the lead to 31-30 with two quarters left.

WAYNE OUTSCORED West in the third quarter, 27-15 and moved ahead 57-46.

With half of the final quarter remaining, the Tigers moved to within six, 70-64, but missed on a one-and-one situation and by this time, Kinsvator, captain Mark Kilborn and Ted Richmond had fouled out and the gap continued to widen.

West was 19 of 64 from the floor for 28 per cent while Wayne hit on 32 of 67 for 47 per cent. The Tigers made good 28 of 45 from the charity line and Wayne popped in 20 of 41.

Wayne had five in double figures with Craig Barczuk tops at 16. John Marmul followed with 14, Steve Braun with 12, Glen Amborse at 11 and Steve Taylor with 10.

Kilborn paced West with 22. Bobby Carr added 14, and Richmond followed with 12.

Wyandotte Slips Past Bentley, 2-1

Livonia Bentley opened it's '72-'73 hockey campaign on a sour note in a 2-1 loss to Wyandotte.

The Bulldog pucksters notched it at one all with four minutes remaining but Wyandotte slipped one into the Bentley net with 56 seconds left to score a first round triumph.

"We played good hockey but we were really hurting," said Bentley Coach Mike Dudley. "I could play only two lines because of injuries, but we will get them next time around."

The first period was marred by penalties, with Bentley getting the whistle five times on three trips and two hooks while Wyandotte was called for three two-minute infractions.

BENTLEY GOALIE Mark Reid kept it a scoreless tie, twice shutting the door when the Bulldogs were short two men.

Wyandotte broke the ice at the 8:29 mark in the second period on an unassisted goal by Rich Solowski. Only one penalty was called in the second, a two-minute high sticking penalty against Mike Trumitch of Wyandotte.

The Bulldogs tied the game at the 11:11 mark in the final stanza when Jeff Monson beat Wyandotte goalie Bill Fisher on a pass from Bob Wazilewski.

With only 56 seconds left on the clock, Wyandotte jumped ahead to stay on a goal by left-winger Rick Gatschell assisted by Bob Langley, in a scramble shot in front of the Bulldog net. Wyandotte out-shot Bentley, 32-21.

BENTLEY HOSTS Southfield Wednesday (Dec. 6) in the opening contest of the newly formed Suburban Hockey League at Ford Ice Rink at 8 p.m.

The Bulldogs go against Churchill next at 7 p.m. on Friday, with Stevenson and Franklin matching talent in the 9 p.m. clash. Both of these games also will be at the Ford rink.

5 Point 3rd Quarter Pinpoints Glenn's Loss

Four minutes without a basket doesn't make it a long season but it did make for a disappointing cage opener for Westland John Glenn.

The Glenn Rockets, who opened last season with six consecutive victories, dropped their non-league clash to Tri-River favorite Taylor Kennedy, 68-56.

Glenn led midway through the second quarter but fell behind at the half, 29-27. The "cold spell" then set in for the Rockets, with Kennedy building up a 42-32 third quarter margin.

The Rockets scored only five points in the quarter, going four minutes without a score, and the rest was easy sailing for Kennedy.

KENNEDY WON the opening tip-off and led for the first six minutes. Glenn spurred ahead by three but trailed after the opening quarter, 15-12.

Kennedy also took the second quarter tip, jumped ahead by five points but hit a low spot and Glenn's Dave Carlington found the mark, putting the Rockets up, 25-20, with three minutes left in the half.

Glenn followed with three straight turnovers and Kennedy edged up by two at the half, 29-27.

CARLINGTON, Glenn's 6-4 senior, paced the Rocket squad with 16 points.

Kennedy started driving early in the third quarter while Glenn was having its problems breaking the Eagle zone and started throwing the ball up just for the sake of getting off a shot.

Glenn trailed after three quarters, 42-32.

THE ROCKETS came to within seven points with four minutes remaining but Carlington fouled out and the Glenn hopes dwindled with the hot shooting of Kennedy's Mike Louderman who totaled 23 points. Chris Bruder followed with 12 points.

Carlington was high game man with 25 points and 6-4 junior Brian Kaluzny followed with 10.

The Rockets hit on only 61 of 62 from the floor for 34 per cent and made good 14 of 19 at the line. Kennedy hit on 23 of 49 from the field for 47 per cent and made good 24 of 33 at the line.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

It will be like the "Charge of the Light Brigade" Saturday (tonight) at Northville Downs when 11 of the fastest and best pacers on the grounds clash in the fourth leg of the $30,000 pacing series at the Jackson-Northville meeting.

The series was inaugurated by President and General Manager Leon Slavin a year ago when Thimble, a three year old Ohio owned, swept the five events and went back to the Buckeye State with earnings of $15,000 for the five week period.

Seldom were there more than eight entries in any of the 1971 stakes. But the situation is a bit different this year when Racing Secretary Tom Smith discovered he had only 11 eligibles for the fourth leg.

This posed a problem of either splitting the field into two divisions of five and six or putting all in one race. Smith decided on the latter, fearing that races with only five or six entries could be disastrous if there were late scratches.

So, for the first time at a Jackson at Northville program, there will be 11 starters with eight in the first row and three trailers. The huge field, which lists a two horse entry from the Ralph Mapes stable, will mean that wagering will include a field.

There will be eight numbers in the betting along with a field that will include the No. 9 and No. 10 horses.

WITH TWO WINS in three legs, Michigan Mack, the speedster from the Mapes stable, is the early favorite. Matter of fact, there are those who believe Michigan Mack will make it victory No. 3 and then capture the $10,000 finale in another week.

Mack teams up with stablemate, Grumpy Gabe, as the Mapes stable entry. Ralph will beat the reins of Michigan Mack and Gabe will be handled by Joe Mapes.

Bedford Jet, a victor in his first start of the meeting a week ago, may be the one who'll upset the favorite this time. Guided by Gordon Norris, The Jet always had a liking for the 'Downs half-mile strip and showed he's at top form with his easy win in his debut.

KNIGHT DESIRE, a fast one from the Sid Lockhart stable of Pontiac who has been a disappointment in the series to date, showed excellent form in a workout earlier in the week and could win it all.

Others in the field are: Rushing Time, George Williams; Mr. Shadow, George Davis; Erlana's Valley, Eddie Morgan, Jr.; Ruby's Mission Time, Gerry Banfield; Pappa's Michael, Don McIlmurray; and Frontier Chip, Corky Ham-mell.

The stake is listed as the eighth event on the 10-race program.

EDDIE LANDAU, longtime associate of the late Lou Parlato in the program department at Jackson-Northville, Jackson Raceway, Northville Downs and Wolverine Raceway, is reported recovering from a seizure in St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

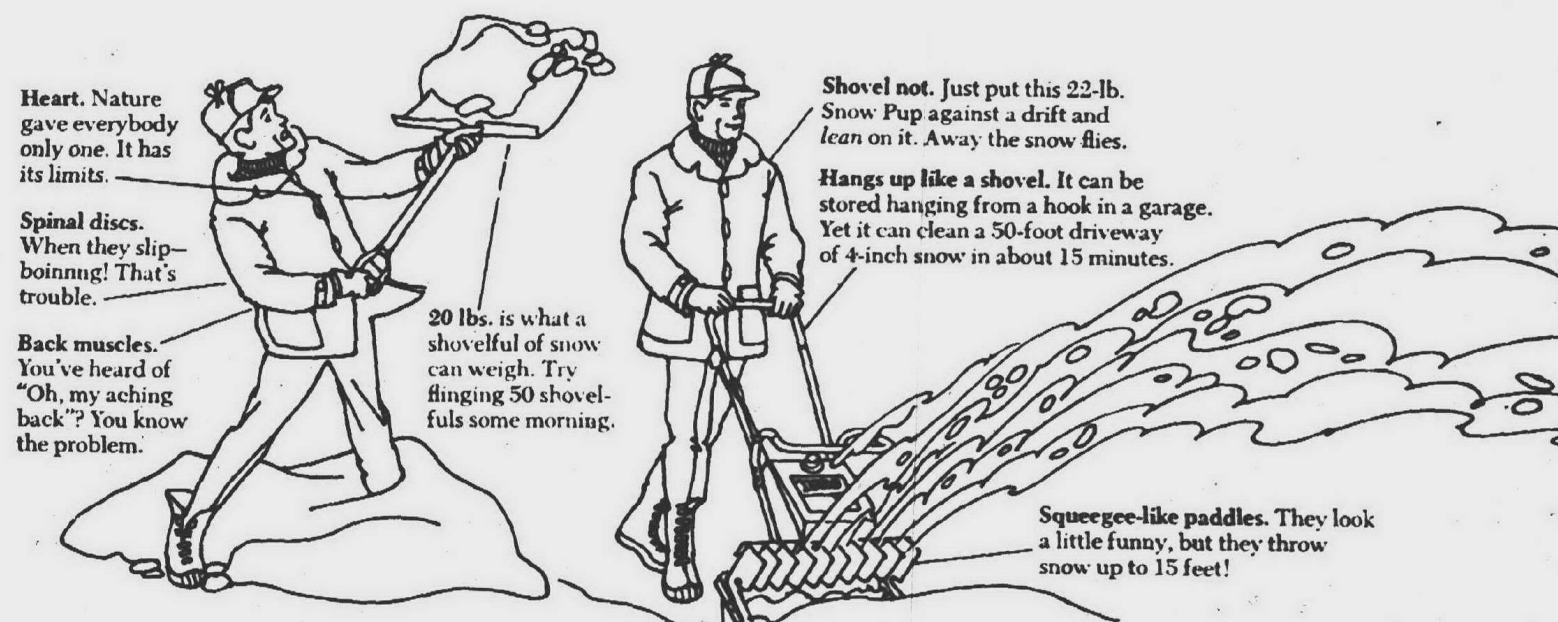

Eddie, who is well known to the horsemen and to patrons, suffered the attack at the Northville track Saturday evening. It was thought at first he had a heart attack but latest information is that he did not.

He's undergoing numerous tests. Hospital attaches report he's resting comfortably. Perhaps get well messages from his many friends would make the days a bit brighter.

Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley doesn't have to announce the 1973 harness racing dates until mid-December, but from all indications it appears that management of the Wolverine and Hazel Park plants are pretty certain of what to expect. It is believed the commissioner will allot dates on practically the same basis as this year.

With that in mind and apparently assured that there won't be any changes, Wolverine has asked for and received Grand Circuit dates of June 8 to June 16 and Hazel Park will hold its Roaring Grand program from Sept. 8 through Sept. 15.

'Nutcracker' Is Dec. 10

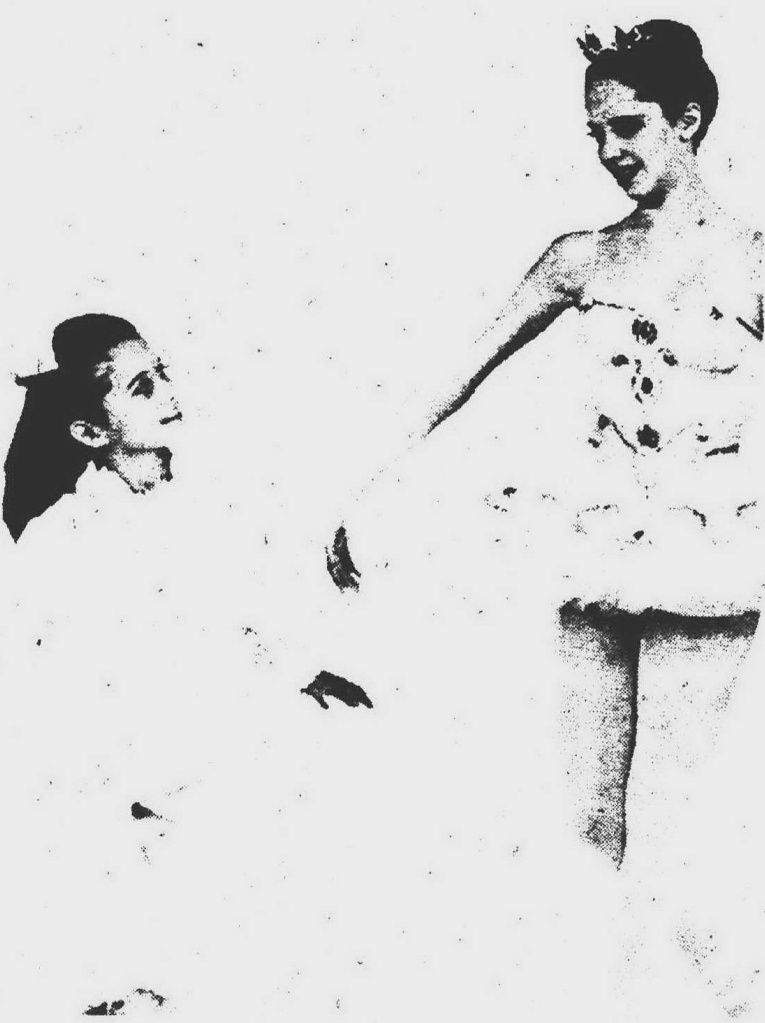

When the famed Severo Ballet Company brings its version of "The Nutcracker" to Plymouth at 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 10, Larry Shear of Southfield will dance the role of the Nutcracker Prince.

With music by Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky and choreography by Sandra Severo (of Livonia), "The Nutcracker" will also be a showcase for the talents of Lisabeth Bailey and Laura Lee Stevens of Plymouth; Carole Cotter and Mary Hammel of Farmington; Lisa Moffitt of Westland; and Shauna and Shellee Joseph and Debbie Rubin of Southfield. The latter four play mice, and Laura Lee has the role of the King Mouse.

Miss Hammel will be the Sugarplum Fairy, and Miss Cotter, Miss Moffitt and Miss Bailey will be in several dances.

THE PLYMOUTH Symphony Orchestra, directed by Wayne Dunlap, will provide the music.

"Nutcracker" tells of the Christmas eve adventures of Little Clara, who has slipped from her bed and is sneaking into the living room to retrieve her favorite doll, a Nutcracker Prince.

GISELE HETU admires the Sugarplum Fairy, played by Mary Hammel of Farmington, in this scene from "The Nutcracker." Gisele, who plays Clara, is the daughter of Detroit Symphony Orchestra conductor Pierre Hetu.

Frightened by the sound of scurrying mice, Clara dives for the door when suddenly the Nutcracker comes to life and rouses all the toys to meet the attack of the mouse army.

Clara watches as the battle rages, and the dolls' defeat seems certain until she hits the King of the Mice on the head with her shoe. In appreciation for her bravery, the Nutcracker Prince leads her through the land of snow into the kingdom of the Sugar Plum. Clara is presented to the Sugar Plum Fairy, and a dance festival is held in her honor.

TICKETS ARE now on sale at $3 for adults and $1.50 for students. They are available at Heide's Gift Shop, Harvey and Ann Arbor Trail; the Record Shop, 770 Penniman; and from Mrs. Robert Zerby, 10434 Homestead Lane. Mrs. Zerby will fill mail orders. Checks and self-addressed envelopes should be enclosed.

Last year's concert was sold out and the same thing is expected to happen this year. The company is giving two performances in Detroit's Ford Auditorium on Dec. 9 and a third on Dec. 16 in order to meet popular demand in the Detroit area.

DANCE HALL HOSTESSES in the Livonia-Redford Theater Guild's "Sweet Charity" include (from left) Pam Nelson, Susan Chapman and Karen Collins. Mrs. William Cowen, 7728 Lear Court, Westland, and Mrs. Corky Foster, 16772 Country Club, Livonia, have tickets for the Neil

Simon-Cy. Coleman musical comedy. It will be seen in Bentley High School Auditorium, Five Mile and Hubbard, Livonia, Dec. 8-9 and 15-17. Curtain time is 8:30 every night but Sunday, when it is 7:30. (Evert photo)

Jewell Chorale Plans Concerts

The Kenneth Jewell Chorale, Detroit's highly acclaimed resident professional singing ensemble, has included Plymouth in a list of metropolitan area Christmas concert sites.

The choir will give a concert at 8 p.m., Friday, Dec. 8, in First United Methodist church and at Anderson Music Company, 637 S. Main, Plymouth, at $2 for adults and $1 for students under 18.

THE PROGRAM will

Amusements

cover a wide range of Christmas offerings by composers representing many nationalities and historical periods.

Bach's famous chorale "Break Forth O Beauteous Heavenly Light" opens the program, followed by short motets by Vittoria, Palestrina, Sweelinck and Poulenc. Benjamin Britten's beautiful "Rejoice in the Lamb," with soloists and organ accompaniment will close the first portion of the program.

In the second half, many favorite Christmas carols and spirituals will be heard. They include "I Saw Three Ships," "Coventry Carol," "Hail Mary," "O Tannenbaum" and "The Holly and the Ivy."

The audience will be invited to join in the singing at the end of the program.

THE CHORALE will also present its Christmas concert in Our Lady Queen of Peace Church, Moross Road, Harper Woods, at 7:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 3; and Christ Church Cranbrook, Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills at 7:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 10.

The chorale will be heard in a performance of Handel's "Messiah" with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in Ford Auditorium, Detroit. This will be at 3:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 17.

Schoolcraft Choirs Plan Free Concert

Works by Ralph Vaughan Williams will be featured by the Schoolcraft College Symphonic Choir and Schoolcraft Choral in a concert Friday, Dec. 8.

Under the direction of Bradley Bloom, the groups will perform in Plymouth High School Auditorium, Joy and Canton Center Roads. There is no admission charge. The program will begin at 8 p.m.

Vaughan Williams' Mass in G minor and "Serenade to Music" will highlight the evening.

The mass is for double choir and quartet. Appearing in the latter will be soprano Judy Slade, a member of the Symphonic Choir, alto Louise Davis, a graduate of the University of Michigan in voice, tenor Jerrold Vander-Schaaf, a student in voice at the University of Michigan, and bass E. Lee Davis, a member of the Dusseldorf Opera Company in East Germany.

"Serenade to Music" is based on a text from Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice," which captures the spirit of two young lovers during idle conversation. It is scored for choir, soloists and orchestra.

The soloists will be soprano Constance Avasharian, who has been seen in many local musical theater productions; alto Rosemary Di Domizio; tenor Robert Cassidy; and Davis.

The orchestra will consist of Schoolcraft's Wind Ensemble and guest musicians.

The Finlandia Male Chorus of Detroit will present its annual Christmas concert at 8 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 9, in West Bloomfield Hills High School auditorium, Orchard Lake Road, north of Maple. The concert is under the direction of Eero Keranen of Livonia.

The program will feature the 36-member chorus, the eight-member Finlandia Strings and the five-member Finlandia Brass Ensemble.

Kathleen Merlo, a pianist, will be the guest soloist. Refreshments will be served.

Tickets are available from any chorus member. They will also be on sale at the door.

Luxury is driving a car that's engineered so well only a Rolls-Royce Warranty lasts longer. Luxury is owning a car full of luxuries you'd pay extra for in other cars. How's that for a luxury that makes sense?

under his own steam, setting him free from the sometime availability of Mom as the family chauffeur.

Then, too, the bike is a great equalizer among children. Tall, short, thin, fat, all kids are equal on a bike. It requires no special skills nor a high degree of athletic prowess.

Regular cycling is, of course, good for health and physical fitness. Most youngsters don't care much about that, however, since they usually operate on the theory that anything that is good for you is to be avoided at all costs.

Increasingly, however, they do care about their environment, and many thousands of youngsters will appreciate that their Christmas bike is absolutely non-polluting.

More and more adults will be buying sleek, multi-speed lightweight bikes for themselves and for each other this Christmas, as adult interest in cycling zooms to an all-time high. In recent years, it has been estimated that only 12 to 15% of American bike sales were made by adults. This year, however, it is probably as much as 25 or even 30 per cent of all bikes are being bought for adults.

Americans of all ages are finding new values in the two-wheeler, and many thousands of not-so-youngsters are rediscovering good things about bikes that they once knew and may have forgotten.

Of primary importance to the youngster, of course, and he still represents more than 75 per cent of the American bicycle market - is that riding a bike is fun. It gets him where he wants to go on his own terms and Heaven help those "eight tiny reindeer." If things weren't tough enough pulling that fat little man with a sackful of toys all over the country on Christmas Eve, the eight little rascals (nine, if you count Rudolph), will be staggering under a record load of nearly two million bicycles expected to be delivered by Christmas this year.

America is in the throes of the biggest bike boom in its history, and industry leaders are predicting a record eight million - plus bikes will be sold by year's end. If past marketing experience holds true, the pre-Christmas buying season will be the biggest bike-buying time of the year, and this year it should be the biggest ever.

shepherds and the Wise Men to the birthplace of Christ.

Still other historians have said the placement of ornaments upon Christmas trees had its origin with the Romans who hung little masks of Bacchus upon the pine trees and vines to induce fertility. Other people also decked trees and poles with foods and gifts during the winter solstice and corresponding occasions as offerings to the gods of fertility.

It is a Teutonic belief that the trees of the forest were inhabited by God-like spirits. In order to appease these "spirits," the Germans brought the tree into their homes to show them they were welcome at the winter solstice ceremonies.

Legend has it that Martin Luther, on a clear, cold Christmas Eve, was hurrying home to his family. On the way, he saw a pine tree against the sky, and through its branches, a myriad of stars that seemed to cling to the boughs. That evening, with a small pine tree and candles, he recaptured for his family the beauty of that Increased use of electricity in later years led to development of a transformer, thus eliminating the battery-operated cars. Year after year, new improvements were added. Accessories like railroad crossing gates and whistles became available.

In the early 1950s interest in electric trains took on epic proportions in this country, as families gathered around the train layout, taking turns operating the controls and fixing the derailments.

Now, for the first time in model railroad history, the authentic sound of a chugging steam engine, is coordinated to the speed of the engine and synchronized with the smoke released from the smokestack.

Make this Christmas a "soak it to 'em" good time

Yule time stockings and Christmas are practically synonymous. The tradition of filling stockings during this most festive time of year is really only three centuries younger than Christmas itself.

Over the 16 or so centuries which have passed since St. Nicholas began the practice for all the good little boys and girls who lived in Asia Minor, filling stockings - hung by the chimney with care - has evolved into a worldwide Christmas Eve ritual.

sight, thus giving the world its first lighted Christmas tree.

FIRST CHRISTMAS CARDS - The exchange of greeting cards at Christmas time is one of the youngest of Yuletide traditions - probably not going back more than a century and a half. However, there is no certainty of its origin.

It has been ventured that the idea developed from the elaborate handwritten holiday scrolls which English youngsters sent home from boarding schools just before Christmas vacation to inform parents of their marks. Some enterprising stationers printed special sheets of paper with fancy borders for the benefit of less talented students.

There is also another account handed down through the ages. It is said that the first Christmas card was sent by W.C. Dobson, one of Queen Victoria's favorite painters, in 1845. The following year, Sir Henry Cole found himself too busy to write Christmas letters to his many friends and so asked John Calcott Horsley to make a card for him to send instead.

Horsley's card was condemned by temperance advocates because it pictured a family celebrating the holiday with "brimming cheer." They contended that it was propaganda for drunkenness. The publicity the card received made it popular, as fame often does.

For years, most persons made their own greeting cards. A popular custom was to prepare original drawings with verse, or clip and color pictures from newspapers or magazines, paste them to fancy papers or fringed silk and send them to friends.

In this country in 1874, Louis Prang, a sensitive and art-loving lithographer, whose ideas were years ahead of his time, published his first Christmas Card. Prang reproduced the fine art of his day - work by Elihu Vedder, Douglas Volk and J. Alden Weir among others, all long forgotten but capable artists. Today, his collection is among the most prized in the world.

A TRADITION OF . . .

Understanding the origins of various Christmas traditions can provide more meaning to the holidays for families and individuals. Although there are differences of opinion as to exactly how some customs evolved, most authorities believe that these developments represent the origins of the more popular Christmas traditions.

CHRISTMAS - For the most part, Americans regard Christmas as both a holy day and a holiday -- a period of religious devotion and of general relaxation. But this was not always so. The early Puritans opposed the celebration of Christmas and passed a law in 1659 fining anyone who celebrated on Dec. 25. The law was repealed in 1681.

Historians say that this time of year -- the moment of the sun's rebirth (winter solstice) in late December -- was the time for festivals even before Christianity. In most Christian churches, the Christmas season coincides with a sacred season called Advent (Coming) that starts approximately four weeks before Dec. 25. The Christmas season continues to the Epiphany (Jan. 6).

The word "Christmas" is derived from the Greco-Latin words "Christos" (anointed) and "mass" (to send). These words developed into the old English "Christes Maesse" or Christ's Mass denoting the Incarnation. This derivative was used as early as 1038.

At different periods in history, "Christmas" has been spelled Crystmasse, Crestenmas, Kyrsmas, Xmas, Chrystmesse and other ways.

"Xmas," thus spelled, has its origin in the fact that the Greek letter "chi" is written as "X." This letter also was the initial of the name Christos.

GIFT GIVING - The first mention of gifts at Christmastime was the result of the custom instituted by Roman emperors who invited their subjects to make gifts to the monarch at this season. It was less a religious celebration and more a means of obtaining these gifts for themselves. But it is a custom we have taken over in a different spirit today.

For Christians, exchanging gifts at Christmas follows the example of the Wise Men who came from the East bearing gold, frankincense and myrrh for the Christ child. Some historians say the Wise Men arrived on Epiphany and, in many countries, presents are exchanged on Jan. 6.

SANTA CLAUS - The bringer of gifts is a traditional figure that varies from country to country. In Italy it is an old woman, Befana; in Spain, the Three Kings; in Germany, the Christ child; and in many northern European lands, it is Father Christmas. In America, the figure is Santa Claus, and there seems little doubt that he has developed from the tradition of St. Nicholas that Dutch settlers brought to this land in the 17th century.

Historically, St. Nicholas was Nicholas of Patara, a Bishop of Myra in Asia Minor in the 4th century. His feast usually is celebrated on the anniversary of his death, Dec. 6. Tradition makes a point of his generosity, and he also is known as the patron saint of children because he miraculously restored life to three murdered children.

In appearance, St. Nicholas was supposed to have been lean and pale and usually was depicted in bishop's robes. Eventually custom endowed him with some aspects of the more jovial Father Christmas, who wore a red robe trimmed in white fur and was more portly.

It was in America that the finishing touch of a sleigh and reindeer was provided to his portrait in the poem "The Night Before Christmas," written in 1823 by Clement C. Moore.

TREE - Evergreen boughs and trees were used as festive greenery in many pagan rites, as were rosemary and bays, holly, laurel and mistletoe. The Christmas tree as Americans know it probably originated at the winter celebrations of pagan German tribes in the Black Forest. Placing candles on the tree for lighting did not develop until the end of the 17th century. Using lighted decorations is a practice derived from the custom of putting candles in the window to light the Christ child's way.

Christmas is the season when modern man and woman tear through department stores and specialty shops with rampant abandon in search for just the right gifts for those on their lists. Our cover this week offers a few delightful, albeit far-out, suggestions for those who have a certain person on their lists who is wretched to please.

Our suggestions come with no guarantees, but hopefully they will give you a few ideas of your own.

1. THE NINETEEN-FOURTY-TWO HOT AIR BALLOON. This gift looks large, however it is to be inflated by the recipient and comes in a 2'x4' box. Perhaps a talkative relative would appreciate it. (Nineteen-ought-two pilot not included) F O B Flagstaff, Arizona
2. PERAMBULATOR WITH LACE UMBRELLA. This amazing relic is really a portable bar. Perfect for those with pools or large bath tubs. Umbrella collapses, usually when it rains.
3. WIND-UP FUDDUCKER TOY. "Dudley" is just the thing for hyperkinetic boys and girls with mile-wide sadistic streaks. Instructions are too long and frightening to print here. Batteries included.
4. FIVE-LIGHT LAMP POST - AUTHENTIC COLONIAL DESIGN. Good for DAR members or those who imbibe too freely during the yuletide season and appreciate a bit of support. Comes with candles, gas or GE light bulbs.
5. GENUINE REPLICA OF A SAN FRANCISCO CAR. This realistic conveyance is made of high impact chocolate which may be consumed between New Year's and the Fourth of July. Conductor available in Halvah. Peppermint or Creme de Menthe.

6. CHARLIE THE SHEEPDOG. Guaranteed to shed on your rugs, clothes and furniture. Perhaps Charlie would be a good gift for that tussy Aunt who has everything -- except dog hair.
7. MOLLY THE MANNEQUIN. If you have a friend or relative who sews, Molly is great. She tells you how to do all the high fashion things that you see on radio. One of a kind. Not for people who take offense at rude language.
8. ANTIQUE TELEPHONE. Many uses for this one. May be used as a vase, microphone, pencil sharpener, bedside lamp, blunt instrument or jewelry box. Available with or without operator.
9. DELUXE PACHYDERM or JUMBO DUMBO. Perfect for those leather lovers on your list. Tusks are pure plastic. Available in grey or pink. F O B. Washington.
10. DAISY MOBILE. The largest item on our gift suggestion list is painted black with a pure floral pattern. Will go five miles per hour or as fast as the recipient can peddle.
11. FIRST PLACE RIBBON. Perfect for that hard-to-shop-for agist. Wrap an empty box and place this on top. Available in satin or crepe paper.
12. COVERED WAGON. Recipient must be a hardy soul. Comes as a kit. Cannot be constructed in basement or garage. Must have three acres on which to construct. Wash-up kit is optional. Contains a box of Borax and 20 mules.
13. TOTEM POLE. 20 foot collapsible pole. Great for informal entertaining. Grease and pigs extra.
14. SALE BOAT. Was $24.95. Now only $3.98.

JEWELRY:

THE GIFT THAT'S ALWAYS RIGHT

Make your first Christmas gift shopping stop the jewelry store, advises the Jewelry Industry Council, and it just might be the only stop you have to make.

Because there you'll find the gift that means so much, that shows care and concern in selection, that has undiminished beauty and prestige. There you'll find an array of glamor and luxury for everyone on your gift list, at prices to fit your Santa's pocket.

THE GIFT that's set in splendor is her Christmas diamond, and it makes for her memory of a Christmas set in splendor whether it's her first diamond or still another token of love. The jeweler is the connoisseur of diamonds as love gifts. From the fabulous and exotic to the simple and unaffected, he has diamonds that speak of love to every budget.

tie tacs and slides, a diamond accented emblematic ring or daringly textured signet ring, leather accessories for his desk, monogrammed sterling for his bar equipment. She knows lining for his bar equipment. She knows this is the Yule to make him a man of bold distinction.

And to thrill many a Christmas misson the list: fashion jewelry. The figurative pins, the Art Deco rhinestone reminiscences, the pendants, cuff bracelets, the high style rings, even the simulated stones, those fabulous fakes, can fill every fireplace, hanging stocking with a wardrobe of jewelry wonders.

Pearls to glisten against the backdrop of her little party blacks, to give her the classic, feminine beauty she wants this Christmas, pearls to let her know she's your queen of gems: another gifting great from the jewelry store.

And because she wants the very best for her man, she'll direct her booted feet to the jewelry store for the finest assortment of karat gold or sterling silver and stone set cuff links.

crystal watch under his tree: mom's dream time could be diamond studied or electric; junior is sure to want a sporty model, large and bristling with knobs that really do something; sis may ask for a trendy fashion watch or a stylish, karat gold bracelet watch.

The younger names on the list will find their Christmas happiness comes from the jewelry store, too. A young man will bean with prideful pleasure at a sterling silver ID bracelet or gold filled pen and pencil set. The teenage miss will run to the first mirror to see how she looks in a new pair of larger pierced earrings or her favorite Victorian jewelry, all of gold filled.

The toddler may find a locket, a teeny sized ring from Santa, and even baby is included with shiny silver baby cup and flatware to take him through the "p's and q's" of table manners.
