School Officials Foresee 2nd Try For Bond Issue

By KATHY MORAN

Plymouth School District will give it a second try and put another bond proposal before the voters next year. This was the consensus of school administrators and board members as they surveyed Monday's election results spelling defeat of a proposed $21 million issue by a 3 to 2 margin.

No matter how they juggle students and school boundaries, school officials say they can't fit 4,000 new students expected by 1974 into current facilities.

IF THE ISSUE had passed, the district would have immediately floated a $12.9 million bond to construct two elementary schools for 1973-74 and complete Phase III of Plymouth - Canton High School.

"We will have to come back to the voters," Supt. John M. Hoben said. "The question is, 'With what?' I can't predict the board on that."

Under state law, the district has to wait six months to return with exactly the same issue, he explained. But if the issue is revised - either upward or downward - the board can set another election in two months.

"I'm disappointed with it (the defeat)," Hoben said. "I feel there's no possible way to keep up with the projected growth on a minimum time schedule."

The only precinct to pass the issue was in Canton Township - and that was only by three votes. The Canton residents voted 363 for it compared to 360 against.

"IT'S DISGUSTING -- they are their schools," Trustee Marda Benson said of the Canton vote. "Canton is where the schools are going to be, and it only came in by three votes."

"I think that people didn't realize that by voting 'no,' all of the schools are going to be affected," she added.

Operating costs are going to increase because students will have to be transported farther, and crowded facilities will tack added maintenance and depreciation costs onto schools, Deputy Supt. Earl Hogan said.

"I assume the responsibility, as others do, that we simply did not convey to the voters the urgency of the situation," he said.

PCT.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	TOTAL
YES	275	363	178	108	263	277	256	1,720
NO	440	360	390	253	333	375	386	2,537

A PRECINCT BOX SCORE for Monday's school bond proposal defeat shows that it passed only in Pct. 2, which includes the Canton Township portion of the district. That's where the schools which the bonds would have financed would have been located. The proposal passed by three votes in Pct. 2 and lost by more than 2-1 in Pcts. 3 and 4.

HOBEN SAID that the real pinch will be felt in mid-1973 as the schools surpass their capacities.

The reopening of Central School will accommodate the 2,000 new students expected next year, Hoben said. But another 2,000 students are anticipated for the 1974-75 school year and current buildings won't accommodate those students, he said.

At least 16 to 18 months are needed for construction of an elementary school, and additional time is needed for planning and preparing the drawings.

These time schedules mean that the district can't possibly have two elementary schools by the opening of 1974-75 school year - even if a bond issue passes in the next election, Hoben said.

"IT'S UNFORTUNATE that the bond issue went down from the standpoint that the lead time for constructing a school is perhaps two years," Board President George Lawton said. "This would indicate that we will be in very serious situation by mid-term in the 1973-74 school year."

"When an issue that the board has felt is so clear cut fails to pass, it would cause me to think that the board has to meet with the administration and determine what is the best direction for the district to take."

"I think it should be said that no matter what hardships are created for the young people, all students in the total district will be given every bit of education that the board can provide for them," Lawton said, adding that all areas of the district will be on equal footing in terms of shortage of facilities.

THE PATTERN for the election defeat may have been set early in the campaign when turnouts for meetings on the issue were low.

"We couldn't rouse anybody out of the apartment buildings in Canton," Hoben said. "I think we've run into a lot of apathy in the people."

"It certainly was apparent that their minds were made up," he said of the voters who did show up at the polls.

Lawton said he wasn't surprised at the "no" votes but said that people who would have voted "yes" failed to vote.

"I think we have to give the people who should have voted 'yes' a second chance," he said.

LAWTON BLAMED the feeling that the schools will be built in Canton for the bond defeat. The public doesn't realize that all the students will be affected if new schools aren't constructed to accommodate the student growth, he said.

Hogan, who coordinated the campaign, was disappointed that "18 per cent of the registered voters made the

Wayne 2nd Dems Ask Manning's Resignation

By EDWARD WENDOVER

Feuding within the Wayne County 2nd District Democratic Party has surfaced again.

At the district party executive board meeting Nov. 21, the board members present voted 11-2 to censure Chairman Marshall Manning and request his resignation.

Responding to that move, Manning said he would not resign and described those seeking his removal as "a motley band of political amateurs... losers and misfits."

IN MINUTES of the Nov. 14 district Democratic executive board meetings released to the press last week, the following accounts were given:

"The (executive) board then moved to a lengthy discussion of the recent actions of Board Chairman Marshall Manning."

"The discussion centered on Manning's refusal to participate in the fall campaign, his unwillingness to provide (the Plymouth area campaign) with necessary information, and his seeming lack of leadership in assuring Wayne County 2nd a voice in Wayne County Democratic affairs."

"(Executive Committee Member Richard) McGinn moved that Manning be censured for his actions in the recent campaign and that a letter requesting his resignation be addressed to him. McGinn further defined 'censure' as a slap on the wrist - an expression of dissent from Manning's actions."

The Nov. 14 minutes then show that Eric Gearn, another member of the committee, made a substitute motion that a special committee be formed to talk to Manning privately and ask for his resignation. This motion passed 8-3 and McGinn withdrew his motion, the minutes show.

THE NOV. 21 executive board minutes then show that a report from a member of the special committee said that during an interview, Manning referred to "misunderstandings" and "lack of communications" with the executive board.

The minutes then show that Manning was given the floor. "He said that the meeting as it was being conducted was unconstitutional. He also wished to have a motion to speak to," the minutes say. "McGinn moved that Manning be censured for his actions and that a letter requesting his immediate resignation be sent to him. Manning asked what actions he was guilty of."

Manning said he would call an executive board meeting early in December and then left the meeting.

FOLLOWING THAT, the minutes show, the vote on McGinn's motion was 11 "yes," two "nays," and two abstentions.

The minutes show that McGinn then moved that that action be released within the party and to the press. That motion passed 9-2 with two abstentions, the minutes show.

In a letter delivered to The Plymouth Mail & Observer, Manning responded to the action taken by the executive board as follows:

"A motley band of political amateurs has continued to effectively demonstrate how far removed they are from reality by their most recent hilarious activities."

"This little band of losers and misfits has seen fit to pass a resolution suggesting the retaining of Mrs. Jean Westwood as chairperson of the Democratic National Committee. Now this tiny group that in no way represents the thinking of

Canton Twp. Bd. To Meet Twice A Month

Beginning in January, the Canton Township Board of Trustees will hold regular meetings twice a month.

According to Township Supervisor Phil Dingledey, the township board, which now meets only once a month on the second Tuesday, has had a great increase in the business it must consider because of the township's booming growth.

Zoning change requests which are ruled on by the township planning commission must receive final word from the township board.

"Our meetings have been getting lengthy," Dingledey said.

The addition of a second meeting each month also means an increase in expenditures since the four township trustees are paid $20 per meeting. That already has been included in next year's township budget and will amount to less than $500.

Dingledey said it might not even amount to that much because the additional meeting may reduce the need for special meetings which the board has had to call frequently.

The supervisor also said the more frequent meetings may aid development in the township. "If you hold a meeting a week after the planning commission, you don't hold up the developer," he said.

The planning commission meets the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Youth Inc. Will Hold Art Show

Late Christmas shoppers may browse at the winter art show sponsored by Plymouth Youth, Inc. Dec. 15-17 at the Center for Young People on S. Main Street.

Young artists from the Plymouth community will offer for sale their graphics, paintings, tapestries, pottery and woodcarvings.

The artists also will conduct demonstrations of pottery, woodcarving and silk screening techniques.

Proceeds go to Plymouth Youth, Inc. for operation of the center.

Survey Shows Students Favor Mod Scheduling

About 90 per cent of the weekend Plymouth Mail & Observer.)

The high school radio station, WSDP, had requested permission to stay on the air late in order to cover the modular scheduling meeting live but was turned down by Bill Brown, high school principal, who said, "We've never gone this route before (using extended hours)."

(A complete story on the meeting, which included equal time periods for pro and con discussion of modular scheduling and the students' reactions to it, will appear in

The station will air the meeting from 4 to 6 p.m. Thursday.

Regional Seminar Dec. 14

"Southern Regionalism" and its accomplishments will be examined by a panel of area citizens at a public seminar in Monroe on Thursday, Dec. 14.

The seminar will begin at 8 p.m. in Room 140 of the Life Science Building at the Monroe County Community College, 1555 Raisinville Road.

A case study paper, "Southern Regionalism" was written especially for the seminar by Dr. John DeGrove, dean of social science at Florida Atlantic University. Dr. DeGrove emphasizes the Atlanta, Jacksonville, Miami - Dade and Nashville movements.

Dwight B. Havens, president of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of the seminar.

A PANEL WILL discuss the panel's relevance to Southeast Michigan and respond to questions from the audience as time allows.

Panel members are: Ralph B. Guy, Jr., U.S. district attorney, Detroit; Dr. Arthur L. Johnson, vice president, university relations, Wayne State University; Frank T. Judge, assistant director of urban and community affairs office, Ford Motor Co.; State Rep. Raymond D. Kehres, Monroe; Edward R. Koch, Bill Sandy Co., Inc., Detroit; Francis A. Kornegay, executive director of Detroit Urban League; James D. Macklin Jr., mayor of Monroe; Robert W. Page, mayor of Birmingham; Philip H. Power, publisher, Observer Newspapers Inc.; State Rep. Raymond C. Smit, Ann Arbor; John Soave, counselor at Stevenson High School in Livonia; Arden T. Westover, chairman of the Monroe County Board of Commissioners; and a political science student from Monroe County Community College.

THE EVENING'S discussion and the full paper on southern regionalism will be published as part of the "Regionalist Papers," a year-long regional governance project being sponsored by area universities and by Metropolitan Fund, Inc., a non-profit urban research agency in southeast Michigan.

This seminar paper is number nine of 12 discussion papers exploring the potentials of regional governance in the United States.

Summaries of this seminar paper will be available at the meeting. There is no admission charge.

6 Policemen Graduate From OCC Course

Five policemen from the Livonia Police Dept. and one from the Redford Township force will graduate from the basic police course at Oakland Community College on Dec. 15.

Dems Ask Manning's Resignation

Democrats have passed a resolution of censure for my actions in the past campaign. "Then a certain Marcia Borowski, an ex-Goldwater supporter, who refers to mainstream Democrats as fascists, has sent me a letter requesting my resignation. "This little group of losers is led by (Robert) Dwyer who was a primary loser for county commissioner in 1970, lost a bid for state party chairman by worse than 20-1 (voted down by 2-1 in his own district) and most recently got landslide in his futile attempt to live at taxpayers' expense by running for the State Legislature.

"Also included in this group are McGinn, who recently was a loser for precinct delegate and (Larry) Vandermolen who not too long ago was a loser in a Republican congressional primary. These people just do not seem to understand that they are not with it at all as far as the people in the Democratic Party are concerned.

"I HAVE NO intention of not continuing to lead the local branch of the Democratic Party. This group of losers and infiltrators will have to peddle their foreign party line jargon and tactics elsewhere. I shall, along with mainstream Democrats, work diligently for the defeat of and purging from the party of these types. "This is all smokescreen. None of these people voted for me for chairman. This is all a beginning campaign to defeat me for re-election as chairman in the coming convention."

FEUDING between the Manning forces and those voting to censure him also surfaced in the district convention this fall in which Manning lost a bid for chairman of the delegation to the state convention to McGinn.

Manning's term expires at the end of the year. It would take another local party vote of its delegates to unseat convention and a two-thirds him as chairman.

Arrowsmith's Win Cost Him $1,200

His winning campaign for county commissioner in the 27th district (including Plymouth) cost Brian Arrowsmith, a Republican, $1,200 compared to $330 spent by his Democratic opponent, Paul Lada.

Arrowsmith received $500 from the 15th Republican District Club and $680 in private contributions.

He spent $420 on signs and materials, $315 in printing, $125 on headquarters rental, $78 on rental of a motor home and $65 on ads.

Lada financed his own campaign spending $175 on printing, $90 on literature, $65 on signs and $60 on postage.

By MAURIE WALKER

PLYMOUTH The visiting and party season is drawing near, a season for many good times. But don't rely on Lady Luck in place of a good babysitter. Parents who are leaving the home for the evening should make arrangements to have a dependable babysitter.

"Children left alone at home would be trapped and helpless if fire or another emergency occurred," warns Plymouth Township Fire Chief James Gignac.

"Studies by the National Fire Protection Association show that one of every four children who die in fires is alone and helpless at the time of the tragedy."

HERE ARE some guidelines from the chief who urges all parents to take these precautions to protect their youngsters from fire at home and at play:

- Give babysitters specific instructions on what to do in an emergency.

(These include a tour of the house, pointing out at least two escape routes from each room; orders to get the children outside the instant anyone smells smoke or gas in the house; and instructions on how to get in touch with the fire department, parents, doctor and police.)

- Keep young children, age two and under, in constant sight and mind.

- Teach older children how to use and respect fire. Remember that children learn best by the parents' good example.

- Keep the house free of fire hazards. The fire department will cooperate by making a fire hazard inspection on request, Gignac said.

- Teach children of all ages various ways to get out of the house safely in case of fire. Have them learn at least two escape routes from every room, rehearse the routes until everyone knows them by heart, and emphasize that once they are out of a burning building they must never go back inside for any reason.

Bond Issue

decision for the rest of the people.

"That people would let a small group of voters decide a question like this is incomprehensible to me," he said. "Most people could have had this for $25 a year."

"Evidently we didn't do the job of conveying the message of how drastic the needs are," Hoban said.

Although the bond issue lost in all precincts except Canton Township, it lost by greater margins in the City of Plymouth. Precincts 1, 3 and 4 in the city sent the issue to defeat by 2 to 1 margins. Precincts 5, 6 and 7 in Plymouth and Salem Townships defeated it by a narrower margins of 3 to 2.

Forty-two ballots were spoiled, either because voters checked the box rather than putting an "X" in it or because the ballot was folded wrong.

Planners Deny Multiple Zone Request Again

CANTON TOWNSHIP For the second time, the Canton Township planning commission has denied the rezoning request of Robert Rubin involving 25 acres at the southwest corner of Haggerty and Palmer Rds.

Rubin had requested a change from residential to multiple for the construction of 328 one and two bedroom apartments. Commissioners balked at the plan, declaring there was "so much land already zoned for multiples."

Rubin's attorney argued that the site is surrounded by commercial and other apartment projects, but he failed to sway the commission.

The planning commission rejected the same request two months ago and it was then submitted to the township board which ruled that the planning commission should reconsider it.

The Stroller: One Out Of 15 Shoplifts

It may be difficult to believe, but one person out of every 15 across the land is a thief.

They may not be the hard-boiled bank robber or masked men engaging in armed robbery but they are engaging in larceny in its simplest form—shoplifting.

The Stroller was almost lifted out of his boots the other afternoon when listening to the results of a recent survey in which it was stated that we are now entering the season of the year when shoplifting becomes a social problem that can be linked with welfare and all other forms of social dislocations in this generation.

"Would you believe it," Harvey S. Price, director of security for the J.L. Hudson Co., asked. "If I told you that the 'shortages' or goods lost by shoplifting, will run into more than $3 billion across the nation?"

Sr. Citizens Elect Grosjean

PLYMOUTH Edward Grosjean will serve as president of the Senior Citizens Club of Plymouth for 1973.

He was picked at the annual election of officers held Dec. 7 in conjunction with the club's regular monthly business meeting. Installation will be held Jan. 4.

Other new officers are Mrs. Ann Haag, first vice president; Kenneth Truesdell, second vice president; Mrs. Winifred Downing, secretary; and Walter N. Fletcher, treasurer.

Skiers Plan Alpine Trip

PLYMOUTH Canton Township Ski Club plans a Dec. 19 trip to Alpine Valley.

The group will meet at Township Hall on Geddes Road at 5:45 p.m. and depart in individual cars at 6 p.m. Any resident or worker in Canton Township interested in making the trip should call Brenda Pollack at the Canton Township Recreation Department.

Bridge Play Shifts Location

PLYMOUTH Plymouth's duplicate bridge play will move to the new Cultural Center on Friday, Dec. 15. The players have met at Dunning-Hough Library.

Last week's open pair tournament resulted in these overall winners: first, Edith Jones-Kay Lansing; second John and Arveda Mack; third, Aileen and Stan Hench; fourth, Ike Sarason-Wayne Hatfield.

All bridge players are invited to the Friday evening play each week. Rating points are awarded all winners.

County Gets Racquet Club Rezone Request

CANTON TOWNSHIP The Canton planning commission has referred to the Wayne County Planning Commission a rezoning request involving 20 acres at the southeast corner of Lilley and Warren Rds. for a multiple housing project to be known as Racquet Club Apts.

The referral was made after the commission held a public hearing Dec. 5 on the project. There were no objections filed.

Co-developer Richard Lewiston told the commission that the project will consist of 190 townhouses, 34 of which will be three bedroom units. Lewiston said the development will be in the "luxury range," with rentals from $215 to $280 a month. Focal point of the recreational facilities will be several tennis courts, Lewiston said.

The commission will make its decision after the county group files a recommendation.

May Festival

The Ann Arbor May Festival at the University of Michigan will celebrate its 80th anniversary in May 1973.

"It used to be that larger merchants budgeted one per cent of their sales to offset shoplifting," he said, "but that figure has jumped to as high as six per cent in the past five years."

AS HE SPOKE, Price shook his head and went on, "And the odd part of the whole affair is that at the end of the nationwide survey, we aren't certain whether the folks who do the 'lifting' believe it is a 'prank' or a 'game'."

"So few of them realize that in reality it is stealing—and is punishable by law—even to the extent of being put in jail."

"They have to be caught and brought face to face with the law before they realize just what they've done."

To make his statements even more surprising to The Stroller, Price stated that the recent survey revealed that 7 1/2 per cent of the "lifters" were under 21 years of age. Even more shocking is the fact that 65 per cent of the "amateurs" are under 19 years of age.

"We have placed these people engaged in shoplifting in four categories—the juvenile amateur, the adult amateur, the professional and the hit and run lifters. In the latter group we have placed those who enter a store and with one sweep clean off a shelf and run."

"In these cases, it is like football, only we can't catch the guy with the ball."

ASKED WHAT IS being done to curb or cure this social problem, the Hudson official said that it was simply a case of public pressure.

"We have adopted a slogan called STEM," he said "and that, translated means, 'Stealing Takes Everybody's Money.' Added to that, the merchants have adopted another—'Shoplifting is Stealing.'"

Surprising as The Stroller was on learning the extent of shoplifting, he wasn't prepared for the next revelation.

"We have found, surprisingly, that the problem is a product of the white, middle-class persons and not in the inner city as one might suspect."

"And we have found that in a majority of the cases among juveniles, it is a matter of trying to keep up with their buddies—the desire to have someone like him or her—that drives them to what they seem to think is a prank."

WHAT ARE merchants doing to try to curb this latest social problem?

"Well, we have turned to electronics," Price answered.

"We have devices that can detect metals in your clothing. And we have started to employ closed circuit television on a major scale. And we are striving to make the employees more conscious of their part to be on the lookout.

"Five years ago," he sighed, "we never would have thought of such tactics—but now—"

With that The Stroller remembered, "one person in every 15 is a thief."

No wonder they rate shoplifting as one of the major social problems of the age.

EDITOR:
I wish to thank the two officers, Morrissey and Norris of the Fire Department, and Officer White of the Police Department who came in answer to my call Dec. 5.

They were great, and the team work was so fast I didn't know what was going on. GL. 3-1234 is a number that comes to my mind as soon as any trouble comes up. Plymouth has the greatest police and fire department.

The baby is fine now due to the team work of these three men. Thank you all again.

Kaiser, Berg Seek Gas Station Ruling

By MARIE MCGEE

CANTON TOWNSHIP
It's been a tough uphill battle, and Canton Planning Commissioners Bart Berg and Wes Kaiser weren't about to have their struggle to gain some kind of local control on the location of gas stations die a legal death.

By that they meant they aren't about to see their efforts languish on the desk of Township Attorney William Sempliner for what to them is a rather obvious reason.

Berg — long an outspoken foe of gas stations — commented: "No one wants to defend a gas station ordinance because of the unlimited funds of the oil companies."

KAISER AND Berg set out more than a year ago to draft guidelines governing the location of filling stations and public garages. The text was finalized several weeks ago, and the commission held a public hearing Dec. 6. There were no objections to the addition.

"Has this been submitted to the township attorney for study?" asked Commissioner Louis Stein.

Somewhat defiantly Berg replied that "we never could get a response from the attorney." He said that Kaiser's amendment, patterned after the one recently adopted by the City of Detroit, was submitted to the attorney more than a year ago but there has been no reply.

That's when he made his remark that no one wants to take on the oil companies.

However, Kaiser and Berg agreed to let Sempliner have another chance to check the legality of the amendment after being reassured that the attorney's opinion would be back before the commission later this month.

"I know counsel (Sempliner) personally and there's no reason why it can't be back by the second meeting of the month," promised Commission President George Lawton.

The size of bedroom closets depends on what your family needs. Some families have larger wardrobes than others. Some have the habit of storing every imaginable sort of thing in their bedroom closet. Before you shop for a new house, assess your family's needs in this area. You may find that extra space in bedroom closets is either a luxury or a hazard. Go ahead and measure closets and compare to make sure you are perfectly happy with what you get.

You'll be perfectly happy with the results you get when you list with HARDFORD REALTY, 976 S. Main St., 463-7800. Your home will be given maximum exposure to the public with MLS, and our nation-wide transfer service gets many referrals that are looking in your area so that your home will be sold promptly to a qualified buyer. THROUGH BIFOCALS
By FRED DELANO

IF YOU WERE at the right place at the right time recently, and if you held tickets with the right numbers, you are $36,000 richer and perhaps are again on speaking terms with your creditors.

Lightning such as that does strike members of the human race occasionally, as several million persons in our state pray that it will each week. However, this essay concerns itself not with Michigan's new legalized lottery but with the sport of kings.

That $36,000 mentioned above was what you would have collected at Windsor Raceway if you had won the quadactor Nov. 29 and Dec. 6. On the first occasion, the combination of 2-4-8-5 was worth an eye-opening 28 grand, and six nights later 7-2-4-5 paid $8,000 and change.

Good Heavens, I understand some folks don't make 36 thou in a whole year.

There are many who disdain investing in this type of gamble, but for those who do believe that Lady Luck may someday glance their way, let me tell you two true stories. The same Plymouth man is involved in both.

NOW, MOST handicappers like to have some reason for betting a horse, although there are times when picking numbers out of a hat does just as well. As the late Paul Chandler used to say to the touts, "Tell me a story." If he thought the reasoning why a certain beast would win was any good, off to the windows he'd go.

The character now in mind, a good friend of Paul's by the way, hit it big one day on the daily double at Hazel Park just because he knew the 9-5 combination had not come up at any Detroit track in two years.

Selecting an honest friend whom he knew to be a daily patron of the oval, our Plymouthite counted out the funds necessary to cover $5 wagers on the 9-5 for the last three days of the meeting and crossed his fingers.

Sure enough, that very evening the errand boy called aghast. The 9-5 had scored, paying something like $880 for $2, and to this day the fellow who played messenger complains because the bettor didn't share his "inside information."

THE SAME astute gentleman included a visit to Aqueduct during a New York trip some years later, and when the annual running of the Remsen Stakes came up on the card, he chose a horse named Figueroa Bob.

There were sentimental reasons for this, and apparently there had to be, for as post time neared Figueroa Bob never was less than 35 to 1.

Hastening to make his contribution, he joined the line at a $5 win window but became impatient. The chance of being shut out and not being able to buy an interest in the chase grew to a crescendo because of the length of the line, so he sidled over where the traffic was thinner -- to the $50 window. To win, of course.

Came the race and -- you guessed it -- there was Figueroa Bob out there winging all alone when they hit the wire. Pocketing well over $1,000, our man immediately was tapped for a $300 loan by a wealthy Detroit jeweler -- who had just witnessed the same thing you are hoping for, figuratively to be hit by gambling lightning.

UNUSUAL COLLECTION -- R.K. Nunn of Plymouth displays his collection of Christmas seals which he has loaned to the Plymouth library for the Yule season. Nunn started his collection in 1930, the stamps dating from 1907 through 1972. The picture in the center is of Emily P. Bissell, the designer of the 1907 seals, the year the first Christmas seal sales was held in the United States. Inspiration for the Christmas seal originated in 1903 in Copenhagen, Denmark. State Police Open New Sub-Post, Laboratory

By MAURIE WALKER

PLYMOUTH

The former administrative office structure for the Plymouth community schools, located on Lilley Rd., has taken on a new look as well as a new important role.

Where once school administrative personnel worked, the building now is the headquarters for the Michigan State Police crime laboratory as well as a state police sub-post.

An open house, in which all interested persons are invited, will be held at the crime laboratory on Wednesday, Dec. 20 from 3 to 9 p.m. Guided tours of the facilities will be conducted by state police personnel who will explain the work of the lab's various departments.

Formerly located in quarters at the old Detroit Edison building on Main Street in Plymouth, the crime lab's new location allows for an expanded staff and greater efficiency.

THE BUILDING houses 20 lab employees as well as eight state troopers, a sergeant and a lieutenant.

The crime lab services all police communities in Wayne and Washtenaw counties, part of Oakland county, the prosecutor's office as well as the courts. It also services federal agencies if requested to do so.

Although the state police laboratory never enters a case except by request of other law enforcement agencies, it receives approximately 450 such requests a month.

THE SPECIALISTS working in the lab are experts in narcotics, ballistics, analyzing fingerprints, blood, or any evidence found at the scene of a crime, be it fire, theft, or murder.

In addition to blood examinations, fingerprints, analyzing drugs and tracing evidence through hair, fibers and firearms identification, the laboratory has bomb disposal experts equipped with a bomb disposal truck.

Services performed by the state police crime lab are provided at no expense to the communities, according to Lt. Ken Christensen, the officer in charge of the laboratory.

"Approximately 80 per cent of our work is done for local communities," Christensen said. "In our new quarters we have about three times as much working area as we did in the old building where we were housed since April 1, 1969."

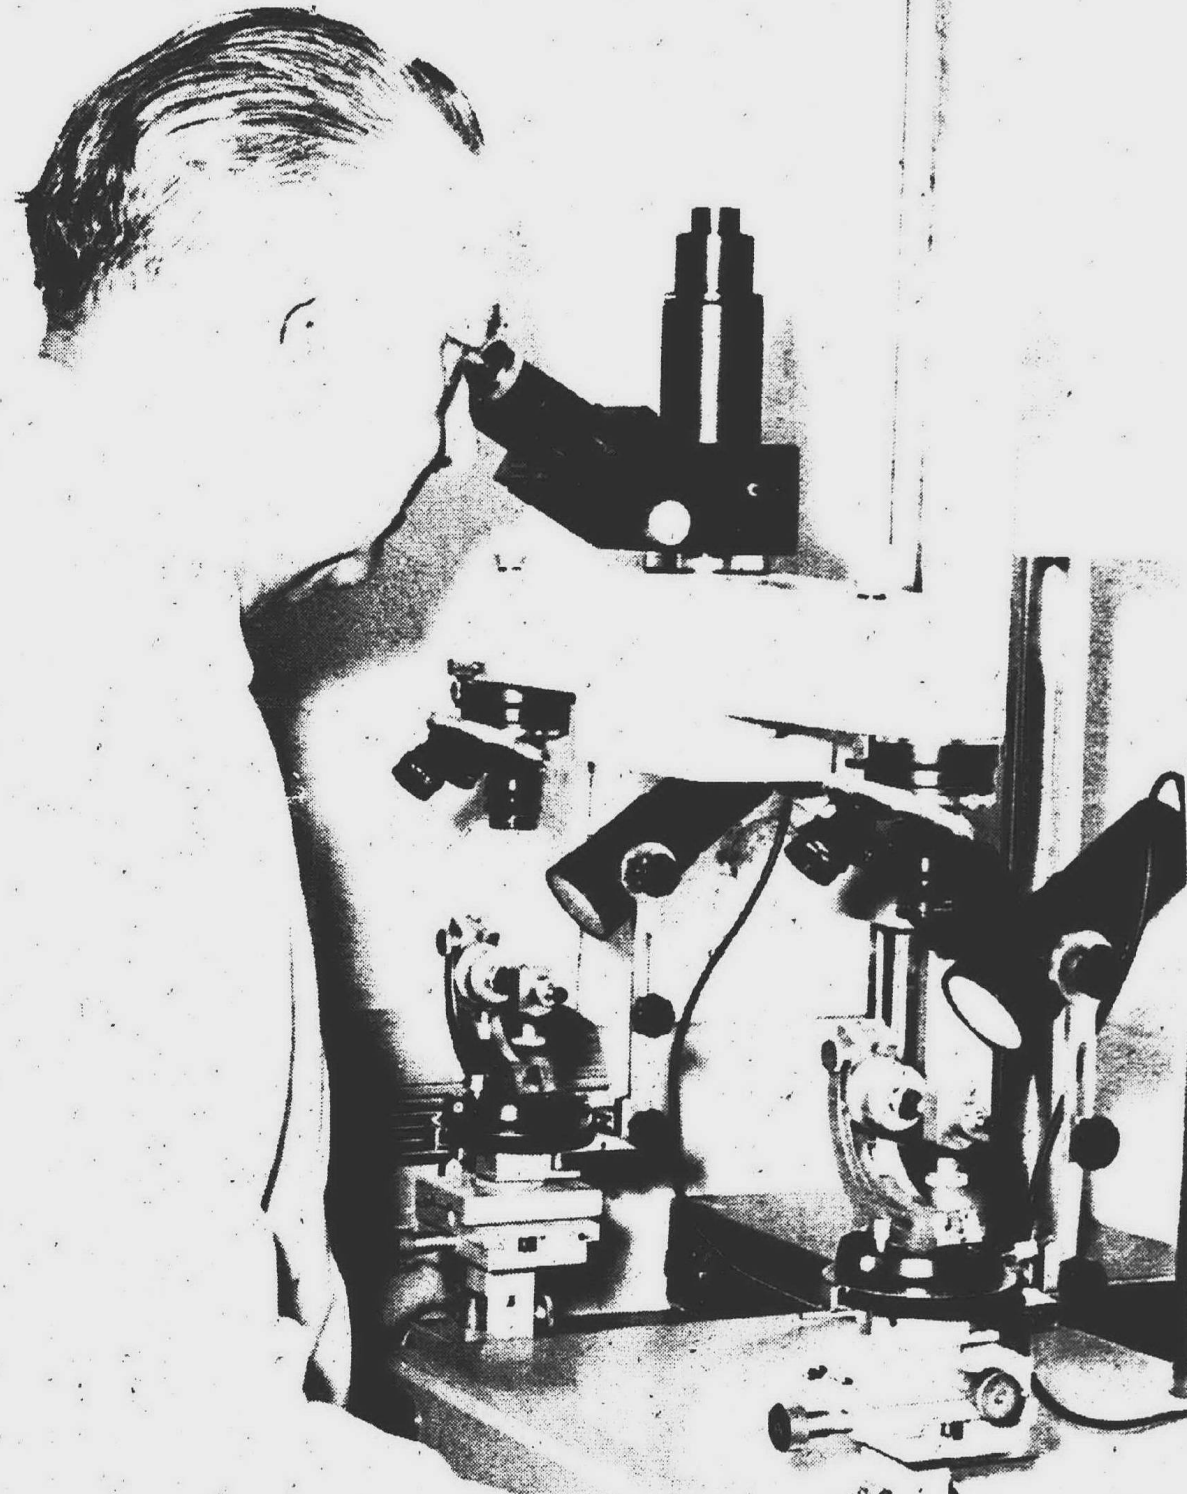

EXACTING WORK -- Dr. Don Plautz utilizes some of the various equipment available to specialists working in the crime lab. From one strand of hair, crime lab men can tell a person's blood type. Testing saliva on a stamp will also reveal the type of blood the user has.

ON DUTY -- Sgt. Dale LaTulip is shift commander at the recently organized Michigan State Police sub-post located in the former Plymouth community schools building on Lilley Rd. between Ann Arbor Rd. and Ann Arbor Trail. The post consists of eight troopers, a detective sergeant and a lieutenant. The state police crime laboratory shares the building. (Observer photos by Maurie Walker)

FIREARMS WORK -- Cliff Leedle, state police laboratory specialist, is an expert on firearms identification. The scope he is using is a vital part of his equipment. In addition to lab work, the staff often is called upon to provide testimony at trials.

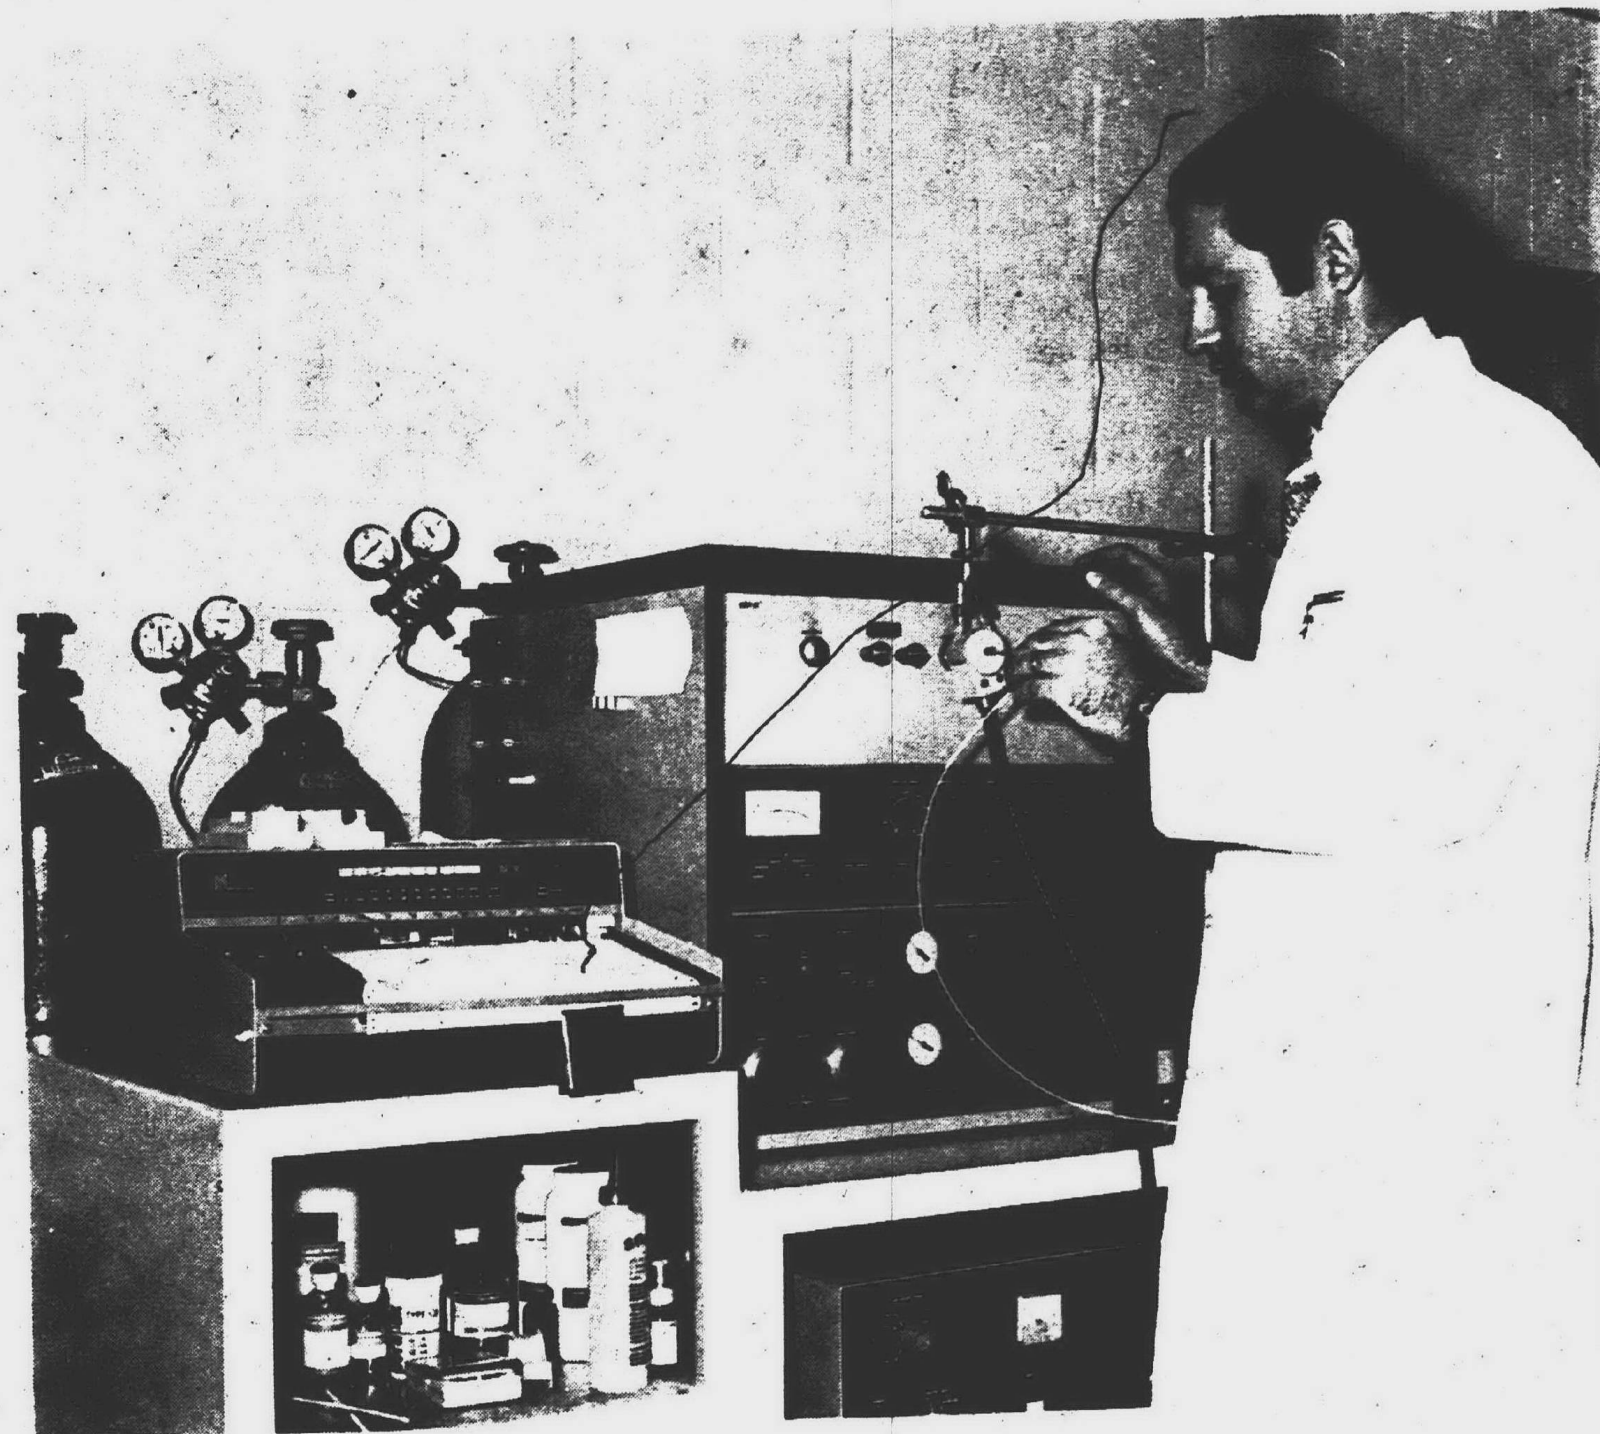

FINGERPRINTS -- Analyzing fingerprints is another job performed at the state police crime laboratory. Checking prints on evidence supplied the laboratory by a police agency is Trooper Harry Reed.

BALLISTICS -- Trooper Mike Arrowood fires a gun into a padded canister in order to examine the bullet for comparison with another.

The state police crime laboratory serves 80 police jurisdictions in three counties.

ANALYZER -- This is a gas chromatograph which analyzes the composition of paints, a job often turned over to the state police crime lab by a police agency seeking assistance in solving a crime or accident. State Police Sgt. Thomas Nasser is operating the equipment.

McCann, Manning Hit Board Pay Hikes

Both Wayne County commissioners John McCann (D-Livonia) and Richard Manning (D-Redford Township) have lashed out against the pay increase that the commissioners voted for themselves on last week.

McCann voted against the increase and Manning was absent.

It passed in a 13-5 vote with one abstention. Manning later declared the action illegal, saying that the board violated a rule prohibiting it from acting in less than 72 hours from the time the committee made its recommendation.

COMMISSIONERS voted to pay themselves $30 a meeting for each meeting they attended up to eight a month. They increased the base salary for the board chairman from $12,000 to $14,000 and for the vice chairman from $10,000 to $12,000.

The meeting allowance would boost commissioners' maximum pay per year to $12,880.

Manning also said the vote was illegal because it violated a rule requiring the ways and means committee to study any measure involving an expenditure.

A third rule was broken, he said, because the commissioners voted on the measure the same day it was introduced without suspending the rules.

Manning, a Redford Township attorney, said he would file a formal objection with the board, asking that the proposal be referred back to the Ways and Means committee.

IN A REPORT to the board, the salary committee had stated that the "present compensation of $10,000 per annum has been in effect since Jan. 1, 1969, and the increased activities, duties and responsibilities by the members of this board warrant a salary adjustment at this time."

The board amended the salary committee's report to give commissioners the option of waiving per diem compensation for any or all meetings if they wish. The amendment was proposed by Commissioner James DeSana (D-Wyandotte).

Based on an estimated 30 Ways and Means committee meetings annually, the chairman's potential salary is $14,900 and the vice-chairman's $12,900, according to the report.

Commissioners also approved a four per cent salary hike for the deputy clerk, drain commissioner, prosecuting attorney, register of deeds, undersheriff and treasurer.

Also approved was a recommendation that the board of commissioners conduct a special study of the salaries of all elected officials, their deputies and top county administrators.

"We believe this over-all study to be necessary to eliminate the 'see-saw process' whereby salaries paid to various positions in these categories are used as argument for salary adjustments for other positions in these categories," the committee stated.

A $750 ANNUAL increase requested for the six Probate Court judges was turned down by the commissioners, as recommended by the committee. Probate judges now receive $34,000 annually.

In recommending the per diem compensation, the salary study committee cited the board's efforts to improve the functioning of county government by eliminating "faceless" boards and commissions and analyzing the operation of many departments.

"The members of this Board of Commissioners are expending more and more time in becoming more knowledgeable in the many and varied aspects of county government..." the committee report stated.

Markes' Win Cost $3,700

John Markes, Democrat, spent $3,700 to win the 36th state representative seat by just 200 votes over Republican Ralph Miller who spent nearly $1,000 on his campaign.

Markes listed his receipts as totalling $2,470 and an unpaid debt of $650 for a vote recount.

He spent $1,700 on postage, $1,100 on printing, $800 on newspaper advertising and $50 on rental of a clubhouse.

Grand Jury Address Told

Wayne County Circuit Judge Thomas J. Foley, who is in charge of the Wayne County Citizens Grand Jury, has reminded citizens that a post office box is available which allows private citizens to contact the grand jury without first contacting a public official.

Information can be addressed to Wayne County Citizens Grand Jury, P. O. Box 30, Detroit, 48231.

"The advantages of direct access by citizens is a very healthy step which cuts through the red tape procedures that have stagnated law enforcement procedures," Foley said.

Woman Wins $10,000 Lottery Prize

GARDEN CITY
With Garden City's weather even worse than Marquette's where the drawing was held, Mrs. Isabel Scott would be wise to take her $10,000 lottery winnings and depart for the sunny south.

Mrs. Scott, a widow and Garden City barmaid for the past 20 years, was among six finalists at the Michigan state lottery's second super-drawing.

Another area resident, Mrs. Virginia Tannehill, a Westland supermarket cashier, also won $10,000.

Mrs. Scott was uncertain at first how she would use her winnings. She commented that she probably would "take a vacation and just get away for a while."

Mrs. Scott was accompanied to Marquette for the drawing by her sister, Mrs. Peggy Frank, and a niece, Toy Ergonis. The three spent 14 hours on a bus from Detroit to reach the Upper Peninsula city.

Lawrence Francis of Detroit, a Ford Motor Co. factory worker, won the big prize of $200,000. Daniel Lowney, a brewer at the Bosch Brewing Co., Houghton, and Mrs. Betty J. Laffrey, Flint department store clerk, each won $50,000. The third $10,000 winner was Mrs. Theresa Deral, Dearborn department store clerk.

Principals Attend Workshop

Twenty-one principals from Garden City School District took part in a three-day workshop last week to learn some of the problems and issues involved in educating the handicapped children in their school buildings.

The workshop, conducted at Haven Hill Conference Center, was intended to help principals become a more effective resource for classroom teachers and to urge them to become advocates of including handicapped children in regular classrooms.

A simulation game developed at Syracuse University was used at the conference. It confronted the administrator with realistic in-basket memos, correspondence and phone calls from teachers, principals, superintendents, parents, state department and agency personnel.

Helping with the conference was Mrs. Margaret Naumes, director of special educational for Garden City public Schools. She assisted Dr. Robert Guarino, workshop leader, from the Institute for the Study of Mental Retardation and Related Disabilities, University of Michigan.

No Qualms About Junket -- Baker

By KATHY MORAN

At least one local legislator returned from the highly-publicized junket to Miami Beach, Fla., without "any qualms about it."

State Rep. Raymond Baker (R-Farmington) was back in his Lansing office Monday after the all-expenses paid week at a legislative conference in Miami.

The National Society of State Legislators, of which Baker is a member of the board of governors, and National Conference of State Legislators met in the same time in Miami with 37 Michigan legislators attending.

State Rep. John Bennett (D-Redford Township) was among the legislators attending the conference but couldn't be reached after he returned. He was attending caucus meetings in Lansing on Monday.

BOTH LEGISLATORS were given $519 each to cover their Florida expenses. Baker said Speaker of the House William Ryan (D-Detroit) approved the expenditures from state funds for each legislator.

"I have no qualms about it," said Baker, whose district spreads to Southfield. "I feel my time was used to useful advantage."

"I attended all the meetings, or at least all that I was able to attend. I wasn't at the race track—either the dogs or horses."

Articles in the metropolitan papers criticized legislators for basking in the sun and attending the races while at the conference.

Baker, who said he didn't take his wife with him, said that as a member of the board of governors, he was requested to attend the meeting.

"I've been most conservative on taking business trips," he said. "I think this is my third—all of them have been business trips."

"I have found that local school board members, county officials and city and township officials often take similar trips."

"I've had lots of opportunities to go on trips before," he said emphasizing that this is only his third.

He said he shared a "modest room" at the Bal Moral motel with Rep. Clifford Smart R-Walled Lake. "In fact, we had a black and white television that didn't work."

Baker said he didn't have much time to be in the sun and is "going down there on my own over Christmas."

How Students Can Get SC Aid

Two deadlines for applying have already passed, but Keith Witmer says there still may be financial aids available for persons needing assistance to attend Schoolcraft College during the winter semester.

Witmer is director of financial aids and placement at the college. His office will provide loans, outright grants, and work-study opportunities for 350 students this year. Expenditures will total about $350,000, or an average $1,000 per student.

Financial assistance is available primarily for full-time students. The kind and amount are based on need. "We do have a few dollars of loan money for half-time students," Witmer said, "but our emphasis is on the person who attends full-time."

STUDENTS ON work-study assignments are employed both on campus and at agencies in the immediate area. They may work up to 15 hours a week and wages vary from $1.60 to $2.50 per hour.

The director went on to say that the original deadline for applications was Nov. 15, which he extended to Dec. 1. He would still encourage persons to apply now, however.

He said they will be given every consideration, although at this point he could not assure they would know what help they might get before classes start on January 6.

Regular registration for Schoolcraft's winter semester will be conducted Jan. 3 and 4.

OPEN MONDAY THRU SATURDAY 9:30-5:30 • SUNDAY 11:30 A.M. to 5:30 P.M.

IN THE SPIRIT of peace and holiday happiness, the 90-foot tower at Schoolcraft College was ablaze with 2,000 multi-colored lights for Christmas. College President C. Nelson Grote turned on the lights on Pearl Harbor day in the hope that the country will be at peace when the tower is lighted next year. The designing and engineering was completed by Jim Dawson of the maintenance staff, and Floyd Kehrl of Northville donated the money for decorations. Kehrl and his late wife also donated the bells in the tower. (Observer photo by Harry Mauthe)

Keith's Victory Bill $2,000

William Keith's successful campaign for the state representative seat held by retiring Rep. James Tierney (D - Garden City) cost $2,000.

Keith filed his expenditures with the Wayne County elections office on the Nov. 27 deadline. Forms for his Republican opponent, Dorman Smith, were returned to the office because the address was incorrect.

Keith received $990 from the UAW in his campaign. Other donations included $250 from the Democratic Legislative Campaign Committee; $200 from REAL political action committee; $100 from the Telegraph Road Table Top Assn.; $100 from Orin Jewelers; $100 from the Michigan Contractors political action committee and $100 from J. M. Farlane in Garden City. He spent $1,000 on printing, $175 on a reception, $170 on hall rental; $100 on newspaper ads; $100 on stamps; $100 on a band; and $100 on poll workers refreshments.

Pudding Is Traditional But Light

"Hurrah for the fun,
"Is the pudding done?"
"Hurrah for the Christmas Pie."

By ELLY

The traditional steamed pudding served at the end of sumptuous holiday meals is often so rich and heavy it goes uneaten.

Here is a brand new recipe for a pudding filled with fruit, spices and nuts and flavored with brandy. It is baked in the oven and is much lighter than the steamed version. It can be prepared several days in advance and heated up just before serving with a creamy brandy sauce.

HOLIDAY BRANDY PUDDING

- 3 c. mixed candied fruits
- 3/4 c. brandy
- 2 1/2 c. all-purpose flour
- 1 t. baking powder
- 1 t. salt
- 1/2 t. each, cinnamon, nutmeg and allspice
- 1/2 c. shortening
- 3/4 c. sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 c. golden molasses
- 1 c. finely chopped apple
- 1 c. soft bread crumbs
- 2 c. chopped walnuts

Combine candied fruits and brandy. Cover and let stand four or five hours or overnight. Stir several times to distribute the brandy. Sift flour with baking powder, salt and spices. Beat shortening, sugar and eggs together well. Add candied fruits and brandy, molasses, apple, crumbs and walnuts. Stir in dry ingredients just until well blended. Turn into a well-greased, well-floured, two-quart ring mold. Cover top with foil, pressing around outer edge of pan to seal. Bake below oven center in moderately slow oven, (325 degrees F.) one hour and 40 minutes, or until a pick inserted in center of pudding comes out clean. Remove from oven, let stand 10 minutes, then turn out onto serving plate. Serve warm with creamy brandy sauce.

CREAMY BRANDY SAUCE

Measure 1 1/2 cups sugar, 3/4 cup butter or margarine, one cup whipping cream into heavy saucepan. Bring to boil, stirring now and then. Remove from heat and slowly add 1/4 cup brandy. Stir in one teaspoon grated lemon peel and one tablespoon lemon juice. Serve warm or cool. Makes about three cups.

STEAMED GRAHAM PUDDING

- 1 1/2 c. flour
- 1 c. graham flour
- 1/2 t. salt
- 1 t. soda
- 1 t. baking powder
- 1 t. cinnamon
- 1/4 t. cloves
- 1/2 c. pecans, broken
- 1/2 c. dates, chopped
- 1 c. molasses
- 3/4 c. buttermilk
- 1 egg
- 4 T. melted butter

Sift all dry ingredients together, add dates and nuts, stirring well. Add remaining ingredients. Pour into greased mold, cover and steam for three hours. Serve with hard sauce.

HARD SAUCE

- 1 c. confectioner's sugar
 - 1/3 c. butter
 - 1/2 t. flavoring (vanilla)
- Cream butter until very light. Add sugar very slowly, beating until light and creamy. Add flavoring and beat again. Grate nutmeg and a little orange peel over the top.

OLD-FASHIONED SUET PUDDING

- 1 c. suet, chopped
 - 1 c. molasses
 - 1 c. cold water
 - 1 c. raisins or chopped figs
 - 2 1/2 c. flour
 - 1 t. salt
 - 1 t. soda
 - 1 t. cinnamon
 - 1/2 t. allspice
 - 1/4 t. cloves
 - 1/4 t. nutmeg
 - 4 t. baking powder
- Mix together suet, molasses, water and fruit. Sift dry ingredients and add first mixture, stirring well. Pour into a greased mold and cover. Steam three hours or pour into 12 individual molds and steam one hour. Serve with hard sauce.

Christmas Gifts To Please The Gardener

By BETTY FRANKEL
Special Writer

Are you looking for the perfect gift for a friend or relative with a green thumb?

How about some garden tools or equipment, a good book on gardening, or a beautiful and unusual house plant. Unfortunately it is not too easy to find good gardening equipment at this season. Many of the nurseries have closed up for the season, and others are filled with Christmas greens and tinsel and the gardening things and growing plants have been displaced. However, some stores have kept a small stock on hand.

are designed to go atop a pole. Don't forget to include a supply of birdseed, too. Plain sunflower seeds are great.

or some trailing philodendron and you have it made.

It might not be a bad idea to include a bracket for suspending it, too.

There are quite a few books on general gardening now available. One of the very best is an old favorite called "Americas Garden Book" by Bush - Brown (Scribner). Another good one is "Wyman's Gardening Encyclopedia" (Macmillan). Among the most attractive garden books to be found are the volumes in the Time - Life garden encyclopedia. They are well written and liberally illustrated with luscious full color pictures, and include many clear drawings, too.

Each deals with a separate topic and is complete in itself. One would make a nice gift, but the whole set would be really great. Volumes include Roses, Lawns and Ground Covers, Trees, Evergreens, Landscaping, and others. They are a good buy at $6.95.

NOW FOR THE books. They come in all kinds and sizes, including many nice paperbacks that make good "stocking stuffers." Among the paperbacks look for "Greenhouse Gardening for Fun" by Clare Blake, published by W.M. Morrow; "The Joy of Geraniums" and "African Violets" by Helen Van Pelt Wilson (Scribner), and "The After - Dinner Gardening Book" by Richard Langer (Collier) which gives information about raising house plants from seeds, pits, and other parts of plants that are normally discarded in meal preparation.

For the specialists there are books on roses, and on growing plants under lights, and on organic gardening. There are books on landscaping, and books on plant names and the history of plants, or books about other peoples gardens. The latter includes "The Gift of a Garden" by Beverly Nichols, which is a condensation of three famous English garden books.

WATERING CANS, either the big utilitarian kinds to use outdoors, or smaller decorative ones for indoor plants, are another possibility. They can be presented with a bouquet of cut flowers or a pretty little plant tucked into the top opening.

Pots are another possibility, and these, too, run the gamut. They can be small and simple and inexpensive, or they can be large and impressive. A good-sized decorative pot is nice to have to slip flowering plants into. Choose a size that will accommodate a seven inch diameter pot which is the size that azaleas, mums and poinsettias often come in.

There are beautiful Japanese porcelain pots available, or shiny brass ones, as well as handsome pottery. A ceramic pot crafted by one of the artists in the area would be especially nice.

There is a real vogue for hanging pots, and a pot equipped with chains or cords for suspension could make a real hit. These, too, come in all kinds from the simple red clay type to handmade pottery in bizarre shapes. Tuck in a fern

If you are looking for something really special for the gardener - and good for the environment, too, a "shredder - bagger" may be the answer. This is a machine that grinds up leaves, twigs, grass clippings, and other garden debris so it is compact for disposal, or even better is in perfect condition for the compost pile. They are available for less than $200.

If you want an even more impressive gift to go under the tree, you might put a red ribbon on a rototiller. Even a new stainless steel trowel would be welcome. Or a new very lightweight, easy to handle portable sprayer for the rose buff.

If the gardener is a bird - watcher, too, how about a birdfeeder. They come in all styles from cute and coy to rough and rustic, and include ones that look like barns, A-frame chalets, and even satellites. The latter are supposed to be squirrel proof. Some are to hang and others

Beginners Can Make Christmas Wreaths

EAST LANSING If the price tag on that lovely evergreen wreath has dampened your Christmas spirit a bit, consider making your own, suggests J. Lee Taylor, Michigan State University horticulture specialist.

With a minimum of equipment and a little practice, you can turn out beautiful wreaths suitable for either indoor or outdoor decorating.

For the foundation of a small wreath, a coathanger shaped into a circle or a plastic foam frame is satisfactory. For a larger, heavier wreath, Taylor recommends a length of number-9 wire bent into a circle.

The size of the evergreen sprays wired to the frame is determined by the size of the finished wreath. For a wreath about 14 inches in diameter, four-to-six inch sprays are recommended. Smaller wreaths require shorter pieces, while larger ones can use sprays up to 12 inches long.

The sprays are bound to the frame with one continuous strand of florist wire. Fasten the wire securely to the frame first, Taylor advises, and then tightly bind the greens onto it with three or four turns of wire, lapping the bushy part of each spray over the wired ends of the preceding one so that none of the wiring is visible.

BEGINNERS usually find it easier to point all the sprays in the same direction, Taylor notes, but you can also point half one way and half the other. Or you may make the wreath thicker at the bottom.

If your wreath will be placed against a wall or a door where the back will not show, you need to bind greens on only one side of the frame. For a wreath that will hang in a window or on a glass door where both sides will be visible, add one or two sprays to the back of the frame at the same time the greens are bound onto the front.

The finished circle of greenery may be decorated with cones - natural, shellacked, or painted - bells, tiny gift-wrapped boxes, colored ribbons, glass or plastic Christmas-tree ornaments, gourds, nuts and berries, even fresh fruit.

Remember that materials on a wreath used outdoors must be waterproof, Taylor adds.

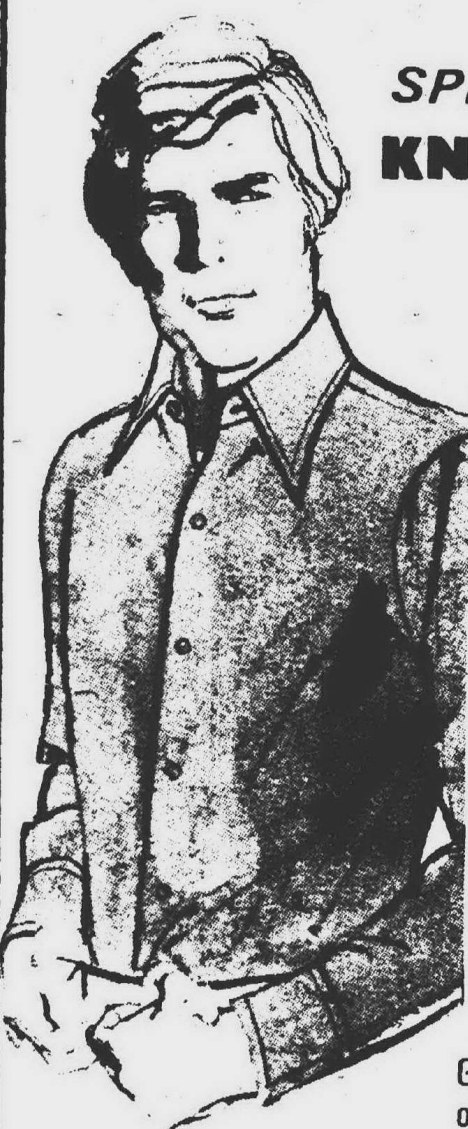

ELEGANT AURA - Coordinating cotton fabrics set the tone for this room that has an aura of refined elegance. Waverly's Salisbury fabric in a large floral bouquet pattern of blue and gold appears as slipcovers on twin chairs. A coordinating floral stripe graces the windows and covers the wall above the dado. Traditional furniture and accessories round out the decor. Both fabrics have a Scotchgard finish.

Jerusalem Cherry For Christmas

EAST LANSING Are you looking for a Christmas plant? Why not choose one that bears its own holiday decorations?

The Jerusalem Cherry with its round, red fruit will add a bit of living color to your holidays.

To keep the fruit on the plant as long as possible, Michigan State University horticulturists advise giving it bright sunlight and cool temperatures (45-55 degrees at night). Water the plant thoroughly; both leaves and fruit will drop off if the plant wilts.

Bob Lusk Calls It Quits At John Glenn

Could Not Communicate?

By TOM DONOGHUE
Sports Editor

John Glenn High School is without a football coach. After nine years as Glenn's head mentor, Bob Lusk has resigned.

"Win, win, win - this is all people are stressing these days," said Lusk. "If winning is more important than the enjoyment of the sport, I want out."

Winning hasn't been the joy of all words around the Glenn gridiron since it's first kickoff in 1964. The sputtering Rockets and Lusk have compiled an overall 36-40-3 record with a 7-2 Northwest Suburban League co-championship performance in '67 the highlight of Glenn football.

"GLENN PRINCIPAL Frank Higgins and myself mutually agreed to my resignation," said Lusk. "I told him (Higgins) all along that if he wasn't happy with my performance, to let me know."

"He let me know and indicated he wasn't very happy with the football situation at John Glenn."

Three reasons were given to Lusk for this unhappiness.

"HIGGINS TOLD ME that I wasn't able to produce a consistent winner; that my overall record was very poor and that there existed a communication gap between myself and my players," said Lusk.

"I, of course, cannot disagree with the first two facts," added Lusk. "But the communication gap statement I didn't understand and Higgins couldn't be and wouldn't be specific on this."

"When you don't win, I guess there is always a communication gap," contemplated Lusk.

"Higgins has been unhappy with football at Glenn and being the principal, he has the right."

"Apparently his unhappiness leaked out to the community and he was caught in the position where he had to make a move," added Lusk.

"You know, in the nine years of coaching at Glenn, I have not had one major college player. I guess that means I am a bad coach."

"I GUESS it is my fault, but my opinion is quite different than the facts."

"Higgins was unhappy, so I resigned."

GLENN FINISHED out the current campaign with a disastrous 1-7 record.

"I have taken the talent I had and attempted to make a winner of it, but more importantly I have tried to make it fun and enjoyment for the kids. Some people in the community don't understand high school sports. All they think about is winning and if you don't win, something is wrong," stated Lusk.

From the No. 1 whistle at John Glenn came this from Principal Higgins:

"Every coaching assignment is a yearly appointment and Bob and I agreed that he should resign."

"I DON'T BELIEVE the coaching staff was surprised at all," added Higgins. "We have good feeder schools in our football program and our progress should be better."

"This move should be a step in the winning direction."

The move turned out to be a two - letter process to the Wayne - Westland Community School Supt. Harry Howard.

Howard received a letter of resignation from Lusk, but it was written by Higgins.

A NEW LETTER had to be delivered to Howard, this one actually written and signed by Lusk.

"Mr. Higgins first came in with a letter he wrote himself," said Howard. "This I had to refuse."

"Mr. Howard has since accepted a letter from Bob Lusk and the resignation is effective.

"As far as I know, I have no reason not to accept it, except for a few unsigned letters I have received," stated Howard.

Lusk explained, "I let my own philosophy trap me. I showed too much individual concern in a team sport."

LUSK IS STAYING on as head wrestling coach and is still teaching in the physical education department.

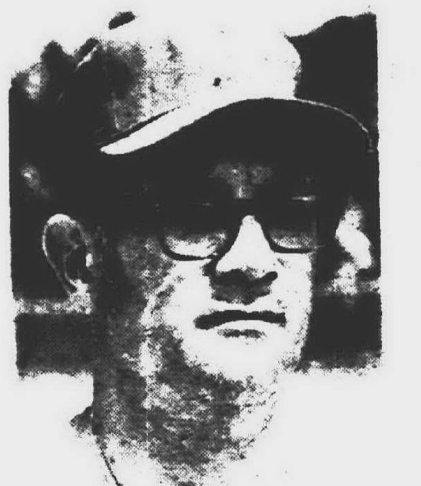

A 15 - year coaching span in football has now ended and Lusk believes that the personality of the individual player has changed with society and that the boys aren't as dedicated anymore. Lusk started off as head coach at Lincoln Park High School in '58 through '62 and moved to Western Michigan University as assistant coach before coming to Glenn.

A GRADUATE of William and Mary College, Lusk played one season with the Detroit Lions organization and a pre - season stint with the Philadelphia Eagles in '57.

What now at John Glenn? Rumors had it that Lusk's entire coaching staff was going to resign with him and Lusk's statement, "the people I worked with are all loyal to me," seemed to lean toward this.

But Higgins denies any reports of such an incident. John Glenn High School is without a football coach.

BOB LUSK Resigns As Head Coach

Allen Park Clips Plymouth, 75-74

By FRED DeLANO

Plymouth's first taste of defeat in the current basketball season, a 75-74 loss at Allen Park, wasn't the tragedy followers of the Rocks may have attached to it.

Coach Fred Thomann found a silver lining in the way his club fought back from a 16-point second-quarter deficit to come within an ace of beating the Jaguars on their own floor.

"We're better ball handlers than we showed early in the game when Allen Park built up that big lead," reflected Thomann, who is in his first year at Plymouth. "We made more turnovers in the first 12 minutes than in our first two games combined."

"The thing that really was encouraging was the way we came back. We're going to be in the thick of this thing (the Suburban Eight title race) all the way."

UNBEATEN ALLEN PARK, a state quarter-finalist last winter and the favorite for this season's Sub-8 crown, built up a 39-23 lead before the Rocks found their poise. From that point on Plymouth outscored the Jaguars, 51 to 36.

The Rocks were scheduled for another road test Tuesday night at Edsel Ford, a 63-51 victory over Trenton in its first league game. Friday night Plymouth will return to its own court to face Belleville.

Allen Park got great rebounding from its 6-11½ center, Tom Agardy, and while Agardy also led Jaguar scoring with 18 points the true floor strength of the Parkers appeared to lie in the quickness of its co-captains, Mike Flood and Jim Perry. Their cat-like ball stealing was a thorn to the Rocks all night.

Down at the half, 43-35,

Plymouth cut it to 59-53 after three periods as Tim Van Wagoner and Ron Egloff began finding the range consistently.

Perry and Agardy were the key men in pushing the Jaguars ahead 72-66 after five minutes of the final period, but they barely hung on from there on in.

EGLOFF DROPPED in two foul shots and Jim Szilagyi laid it up successfully after a steal to cut it to 72-70. Jeff Maddock canned one from the corner to make it 74 for Allen Park but Egloff offset that basket with two more charity tosses.

A free throw by Perry made it 75-72, but Egloff rebounded the second try and Steve Robb scored for Plymouth to cut the margin to one point.

With three seconds remaining, Plymouth got the ball out of bounds at the far end of the court. A quick pass in from Bruce Johnson to Robb and then to Van Wagoner gave the latter the chance for a desperation shot from mid-court, but it went astray at the buzzer.

Van Wagoner led the Rock output with 29 points, Egloff next at 21. The Rocks shot 40 per cent from the floor to Allen Park's 45 per cent.

Franklin Knocks Off GC East In NW Opener

Franklin High took its first step in defending its Northwest Suburban basketball crown.

The step was a giant one for Bob Visser's Patriots. Franklin held on in the closing seconds to edge Garden City East, 63-62, and now stands 2-1 overall and 1-0 in league action.

For Visser the victory had to be doubly sweet.

He has played Billy Joe Young's cagers twice and lost twice, both last season. Now East is in the Northwest and Visser has a win over Young.

"We were lucky to get out of that East gym with a victory," said Visser. "Their gym is so small in relation to ours, it has to be 20 points in their favor."

The key to the Franklin win? "Jamie Knapp just played one heck of a ball game for us," said Visser. "His 26 points and Jeff Waterstone's defense on East's Randy Mastako made all the difference."

EAST, which now sports a 1-2 mark, jumped to a 16-12 first quarter lead but fell apart at the seams in the second period with Franklin jumping to a 30-26 halftime margin.

"We just had a horrible second quarter," said Young. "Couldn't do anything right."

It turned into a see-saw affair in the third stanza with East scoring 20 to Franklin's 15 and East held a 46-45 edge going into the last eight minutes.

With two minutes remaining, Kevin Kaseta connected on a two - pointer to give Franklin a three point lead. Knapp stole the ball from East's John Grigal and was fouled in the acting of shooting.

KNAPP POPPED IN the two from the line and with 1:48 left, Franklin was up by five, 63-58.

Tim Arner and Grigal connected on a pair of field goals after Franklin missed on another free throw and Knapp was fouled again but missed. East had a shot with four seconds remaining but fell short and the Panthers dropped their second, the first by two and now by one.

East finished with 26 field goals, two more than Franklin, but made good only 10 of 16 at the line while Franklin scored on 15 of 25.

"We fouled too much," said Young.

FRANKLIN WAS on target from the floor with 50 per cent, 24 of 48, and East made good 26 of 61 for 42 per cent.

"One surprise was that we (East) outrebounded Franklin," said Young. "Bernie Soya paced us with 12 with the final statistics having us in front, 35-31."

Franklin's rebounding game was in the hands of Kaseta with 15 and Knapp with 11 for 26 of the squad's 31 rebounds.

One sour note for Franklin was the injury to Guy Burke who turned his ankle in the first quarter and will probably be out until after the holidays.

"This race is really going to be something," said Visser. "All three away teams won

Everyone Is Losing Along With The Loser

"Webster" defines a coach as an instructor or trainer of athletics. Apparently Webster was not thinking ahead to the year 1972. Today's coach is everything and a coach. He is a psychologist, doctor, counselor, social worker, masculine Ann Landers, a father, a taxi driver and a friend. But to some, the coach is a way out... one who has to take the butt of all criticism.

THE FAMOUS SPORTSWRITER Grantland Rice once wrote this piece about the "Head Coach." "They reform me each new season as they point to each new fault. "And their hands are turned against me as they crowd me to the vault. "Perhaps I'm overfeatured in the alumni's stirring plea. "Perhaps I'm more important than a mere game ought to be. "But with all the sins they speak of, and the list is quite a span, I'm the soul of high school spirit, and the maker of a man." A good many people would do themselves good to read and re-read this article and actually think about it. I picked up a Plymouth High School newspaper, "The Centicore," dated November 1972, and would like to pass on to you what I read in the "Rock Pile," which was written by a Plymouth senior, Tim VanWagoner.

"WINNING IS ONE THING. Winning at all costs is another. I regret to say that professionalism has filtered all the way down to the high school level, at least here in Plymouth. It's too bad to see alumni, parents, students and whomever else it may concern merely turn a team off when it starts to lose. Or more specifically the coach. Sure, it's the coach's fault when his squad gets beat, right? Wrong! There doesn't always have to be a goat for every defeat. Maybe, just maybe, the other team could be a little better.

"I sat in the stands for the Plymouth-Edsel Ford football game on Nov. 3 and heard numerous clever remarks shouted out by disgruntled adults when the Rocks were behind. Over to the right came, 'C'mon Moshimer, be a little innovative and pass the ball!' It just so happened that the next play was indeed a pass that unfortunately was intercepted. Over to the left I heard, 'What kind of jerk call was that!' ... Enough said?

"You have to ask yourself what high school athletics is all about. Should players go out on Friday nights and have a fun time playing football and basketball or should they go out on the court and gridiron with only one feeling, fearing to lose? You tell me.

"WHATEVER BECAME OF... Winning isn't everything, it's how you play the game."

A tip of the hat, a ring of the typewriter and a twirl of the mustache to Tim VanWagoner, who is himself a starting basketball player on the Rock squad.

When the supposedly adult world criticizes and knocks the idea of winning and just how much it is stressed it is one thing.

When the kids themselves question the motives of those involved in guiding them forward, it is another thing.

Glenn Gets Over Oak Park, 73-67

LAYING IT UP for a score is John Glenn's Dave Carlington who popped in 20 points against Oak Park in the Rockets' 73-67 victory. (Observer photo by Tom Donoghue)

John Glenn basketball Coach Gordie Davis is not about to have a repeat of the '71-'72 cage season when his Rockets won their first six games and then sputtered to a 10-6 year. Peaking too early is not going to be the '72-'73 story. Glenn squeezed by Oak

Park in its Northwest Suburban opener, 73-67, for its third consecutive victory after an opening loss to Kennedy. "We are improving with every game," said Davis, who sees his Rockets as definite contenders in the Northwest. "No peaking too early this year."

The Oak Park contest was decided on the boards with Glenn besting the Redskins, 35-26, with 6-4 Dave Carlington hauling in 15 rebounds to boast his average to 14 per game. "Our advantage on the boards gave us that needed second and third shot," added Davis.

Glenn sported two 20 point men in Jim Kholmman and Carlington. Frank Miles headed Oak Park with 21, followed by Willie Rankins with 17 and Lonnie Ford with 13.

DAVIS does have one problem in his plans of up-setting the Northwest "apple cart"—co-captain J.P. McBride is out indefinitely with a knee injury.

"We hope to have him back after the holiday break," added Davis.

The Rockets host Garden City East Friday night in the next round of the Glenn take-off to the Northwest crown.

Harrison Wrestlers Tip Rocks

Things are a little sweeter now for Coach Larry Fortner and his Farmington Harrison wrestling squad.

The Hawk wrestlers edged Plymouth, 26-21, for their first win of the young season and the first home victory for Harrison in two years. It also was the first for Fortner at Harrison after transferring from Redford Union last year. "This young team is starting to blossom out," said Fortner who boasts two freshmen, five sophomores, three juniors and two seniors.

At 98 pounds, Plymouth's Ross Harz pinned Harrison's Scott Norton in 1:58 but Harrison's Jim Sietz came back to win the 105 bracket over John Majors, 3-2.

decisioned Hawk Kurt Heiss, 10-0, at 119 pounds, and Plymouth's Dave Edmisten outscored Harrison's Kevin Hickey, 4-0. Harrison freshman Norm Hess won his second straight match, beating Bill Reynolds at 132 pounds, 6-2. At 138 pounds, Plymouth's Keith Carmickle decisioned Steve Arcangeli, 7-2, and at 145 pounds, Harrison's Steve Paternal decisioned Plymouth's Steve Goodwillier, 15-8.

MARK BENTIVOLIO of Harrison and Scott Agnew of Plymouth fought to a nine-all deadlock at 155 pounds and Harrison's Bill Phillips decisioned Russ Brink, 12-7. At 185 pounds, Harrison's Ron Stark pinned Plymouth's Larry Fidge in 3:20 and Plymouth's Butch Campbell decisioned Wally Kurzeja, 10-1.

Eagle Matmen Trounce Ypsi

Thurston High wrestling Coach Jim Copp knows he has a good thing in his '72-'73 squad.

The Eagle matmen opened with a non-league triumph over Ypsilanti, 34 to 17, making this only the fourth time in Thurston's 16 year history that it has beaten Ypsi and the first time ever for a two year streak.

SAL MARSALISE started Thurston off with a 98 pound decision over Chuck Wolf, 5-2, and Jim Dovey pinned Larry Walker of Ypsi at 105 pounds in 1:23. Thurston's Jim Matherley and Ypsi's Ken Hawkins drew at 112 pounds and Ypsi's Brad Holman defeated Ken Harb at 119 pounds, 6-0.

At 126 pounds, Thurston's Tom Lovasli outscored Brian Etchison, 6-1, and at 132 pounds, Tom Fletche lost to Grady Rice of Ypsi, 15-1. Mark Muller scored a Thurston triumph at 138 pounds over Dave Nelson, 2-0, and Thurston's Jeff Scott pinned Mike Weatherspoon in 1:10; in the 145 class.

The 185 pound decision went to Thurston's Curt Richert against Tryone Hudson, 10-1 and Thurston forfeited the heavyweight berth to Gregg Boik.

Harrison Cagers Tip Waterford

Farmington Harrison tuned up for Western Six basketball competition with its first victory in three games, a 58-56 triumph over Waterford.

Now comes Waterford: Mott this Friday in Harrison's league opener.

"This Mott game has to be our key if we are to do anything this year," said Harrison Coach Bob Sutter. "Mott defeated Northville and Churchill lost to Walled Lake Western last week. Down went two of the teams I expected to be strongest."

Mott defeated Harrison twice last year, 59-56, and 79-56.

AFTER SUFFERING losses to North Farmington and Oak Park, the Hawks finally put it together to break into the win column.

"It was close all the way," said Sutter. "Both clubs totaled 21 errors each to indicate the style of play."

It was 12-all after one quarter, and 25-24 Harrison at the end of one half. The Hawks jumped to an 11 point lead early in the third stanza but when Jeff Sietzoff picked up foul No. 4 Sutter had to replace him and Waterford slowly crept up.

Harrison led after three quarters, 46-42, and stayed four up with one minute remaining.

WATERFORD SCORED with four seconds left to cut it to 58-56 and Harrison threw the in-bounds pass away. Waterford got off a last second half court shot but the buzzer sounded and the Hawks escaped with a win.

Harrison hit on 21 of 47 from the field for 45 per cent and Waterford scored 25 of 65 for 38 per cent.

Rebounding had to be the key to Harrison's victory.

Stevenson Pucksters Wallop Franklin, 4-1

It was Paul Ferguson's first test as head coach of the Franklin High hockey squad and if it had been up to Paul, he would have taken his team home after the first period against Stevenson, 1-0 victors, completely dominating the 15 minutes.

But two periods remained against the strong, balanced, experienced Stevenson team and the Patriots from Franklin were soon to run out of gas. They lost their Suburban Hockey opener, 4-1.

For Stevenson it was a simple matter of getting it all together.

THE SPARTANS got it together with three goals in the second period and one in the third, to stand with a win and tie against Catholic Central.

Franklin drew first blood at 3:17 into the clash.

Stevenson's Bob McLive was given a two minute penalty for delay of game, and 13 seconds later Dan Longeway spotted the upper right hand corner of the Stevenson net and slapped it home from the point on a pass from Harold Vella.

Spartan goalie Van Vermeesch was beaten cleanly.

Franklin knew it had its hands full the remaining two periods to contain Stevenson and the 1:23 goal against them in the second was not what they needed.

Stevenson's Don Finn, who must have spent at least two-thirds of the game on the ice, let go a shot from the blue line that banged off the goal post, hit the stick of Franklin defenseman Tom MacKenzie and trickled into the Franklin net past the sprawled body of goalie Don Perrie, and it was a tied game, one-all.

"THAT SCORE just took the wind out of our sails," said Ferguson.

Franklin then had two power play opportunities but failed to connect and Stevenson struck again at 6:54 on a Brian VanNorman goal assisted by Steve Hillman.

Six minutes later, Stevenson scored again.

Wally McIlmurray rifled a shot by Perrie with Hillman again picking up an assist, while Franklin's Mark Field was just getting out of the penalty box after serving a two minute tripping call.

Stevenson added its fourth with nine seconds remaining in the third and final period.

It was a power play score with Franklin's Dave Hochstadt off for high sticking, Dale Marczak beat Perrie and Kurt Geiger picked up the assist.

Stevenson outshot Franklin, 29-21.

The Spartans go up against Wyandotte tonight (Dec. 13), travel to Southfield Lathrup on Thursday in round two of the Suburban League and play Assumption at Windsor Arena on Monday, Dec. 18.

Churchill Coasts By Bentley, 3-1

Churchill continued its supremacy over Bentley in the world of prep hockey.

The Bentley Bulldogs who dropped three to Churchill last season, slipped to a 3-1 defeat to Churchill in the Suburban Hockey League opener at Ford Ice Rink.

The first period belonged to Bentley although both squads got off seven shots. Neither was able to put the puck in the net.

Bentley struck first blood at 4:09 into the second period.

With Churchill's Greg Hiram off for slashing, Bob Wasilewski flipped a shot by goalie Make Parks with Bob McCann picking up an assist.

CHURCHILL came back to tie it at 8:57 on an unassisted goal by forward Jim Gagnon.

The winning goal was scored with Bentley two men short and Churchill one. Churchill's Hiram and Bentley's Paul Roshirt went off for slashing and Bentley's Greg Rakowicz was called for boarding 40 seconds later.

Pat Meyers skated in on Bentley goalie Mark Reid and picked the upper right hand corner for Churchill second score with Doug Lloyd picking up the assist.

HIRAMI ADDED an insurance goal for Churchill at 11:41 in the third period, Paul Phillips assisting.

Churchill goalie Parks was the key to the Charger victory, turning away 24 Bulldog shots.

Penalties were even with both teams picking up eight. Bentley goes up against

At Allen Park Friday

RU Rips Belleville For 3rd

Redford Union is making no qualms about it, the Panthers are out to defend their Suburban Eight basketball crown but Coach Carl Andrews realizes it's going to be one heck of a battle.

The battle began in the league opener with Belleville.

The Panthers' fough back from a 23-14 first quarter deficit to topple Belleville, 63-54 and it's on to Allen Park Friday night in a key conference clash.

Allen Park just got by Plymouth, 75-74, and the eyes are now upon Redford Union to rub some of the "ink" away from the 3-0 Parkers.

RU is also 3-0.

league's balance in the first quarter of the first game with Belleville, being outscored, 23-14.

"BELLEVILLE just about blew us out of the game in that quarter," said Andrews. "We were 14 points down at one time."

RU regrouped its forces in the second period and got back into the game, scoring 20 to Belleville's 13 and trailed at the half by only two, 36-34.

"It was a simple case of Belleville cooling down and us (RU) finally getting it all together," added Andrews. Belleville led most of the way in the third quarter with both squads totaling 12 apiece and RU trailing, 48-46, going into the last eight minutes.

The fourth quarter belonged to the Panthers from RU 17-6. "We shut them off cold," added Andrews. "We went to a ball control game and brought Belleville out of its zone."

RU HIT 45 per cent from the floor and outrebounded Belleville, 37-29, with Panther Jerry Petsch hauling in 16.

"The kids never gave up," said Andrews.

"And once we got the lead early in the fourth, that was the game."

"ALLEN PARK is bigger than us but I feel we can stay with them," added Andrews. "We will have to overcome Allen Park's home court advantage. We have to come up with a good shooting game."

"We are going to have to play one heck of a game to get out of that gym alive," said Andrews. "The Suburban Eight race is really something this year and I know nobody is going to go undefeated."

Farmington Drops 2nd

Farmington High ran into a hot shooting Pontiac Northern club and dropped its Inter-Lakes basketball opener, 75-52.

That's loss No. 2 for the Falcons in as many starts with new Coach Bruce Brown still looking for the taste of victory.

The Falcons go up against Waterford this Friday in round two of the Inter-Lakes before the Christmas break and the holiday tourney at Bentley and Redford Union.

Pontiac Northern spurred ahead after one quarter, 14-13, and jumped to a 34-25 halftime lead. The third quarter was almost a repeat of the first with Northern holding a 17-16 edge, but the roof fell in on Farmington in the fourth.

THE FALCONS were outbounded, 19-5, in that quarter and outscored, 24-11.

Northern hit 36 of 65 from the floor for 55 per cent while the Falcons sputtered to a 33 per cent mark, 19 of 55.

Charlie Hodge put on quite a scoring exhibition for Northern. The Pontiac senior hit 17 field goals and one of one from the line for a game high of 35 points.

Emmanuel Watson followed with 15 and paced Northern with 19 rebounds as Pontiac outbounded Farmington, 43-25.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

The value of promotions at a race track was proven Sunday at Windsor Raceway when a crowd of 8,602 turned out in wintry weather to watch North America's top eight drivers meet in head-to-head competition.

Following the pattern of the world's championship series sponsored by Harness Tracks of America each spring, the "Challenge of Champions" was exactly that even though world champion Herve Filion had to be content with a sixth place finish.

Each of the eight drivers competed in all 10 of the races on the program and none was able to pick the horse he wanted to drive. It was all done by the luck of the draw and each had to accept whatever came up.

The result was that Filion, who has shattered all previous records for victories in one year with his total of more than 570, had to be content with one trip into the winner's circle.

In the complicated point system, it was French-Canadian Gilles Gendron who came out with the championship and the $10,000 car for the winner. Gendron had 183 points with Joe Marsh, Jr., a long time favorite with Detroit fans prior to taking his stable to Chicagoland, a close second with 178.

LEW WILLIAMS, the No. 1 black driver in United States who is leading the Windsor standings, was third with 173 and Filion well down in sixth with 101.

Marsh could have won it all in the final race with a second place finish but after leading most of the mile, his horse, Topical Bonn, wilted in the stretch and wound up fourth. Gendron was a distant last with Hello Judge but he had the big prize all wrapped up. It sounds a bit strange but Gendron won three races and each at boxcar payoffs. He won the third with Black Arrow ($29.50), Pleasant Cash ($26.30) in the fifth and Arvilla Mac ($21.80) in the seventh. But regardless of where he finished in this first "Challenge of Champions," the enthusiastic crowd had nothing but praise for Filion. He has to be one of the most amazing drivers ever in harness racing.

Remember a few years back when Ohioan Bob Farrington set a world's record by winning the national championship with slightly more than 300 winners? Bob was heralded from coast to coast and throughout North America as the greatest of all time.

LEON SLAVIN, president and general manager of the Jackson - at - Northville meeting, will offer his top promotion of the early winter meeting Saturday in the finale of the late closing pacing series.

It's rare when a race at Northville Downs has a $10,000 purse but that's what Slavin is putting up Saturday and he's hoping the largest crowd of the season will be on hand to see the big event.

At the moment Michigan Mack, the fleet four-year-old owned by Ralph Mapes, is the early favorite. Mack has won four of the five legs to date and has shown that he'll be the one to beat in the finale.

Faced with five challengers last Saturday, Michigan Mack pulled away from his rivals in the final quarter to win handily in 2:03.02, one of the fastest miles of the meeting.

Tricky Dale, from the Bob Kalish stable with Tom Merriman in the sulky, was second and Don McMurray's Mr. Shadow a fast closing third.

Should Michigan Mack win, and there's every reason to believe he will, the pacer will still fall short of the record-making performance of Ohio-owned Thimble a year ago when the three-year-old made a sweep of the pacing series.

But there isn't anything wrong with picking up a fat check in four of five weeks and then coming back to snag the big one in the finale. That's the goal of Mapes and his outstanding star.

One has to wonder just what the State Legislature is thinking about when it considers passage of the controversial dog racing bill. It may have been passed by the time this is published but it doesn't alter the fact that there's quite a bit of skulduggery going on that involved House members.

As we recall, it was only two years ago that State Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley lengthened the thoroughbred and harness racing seasons to hit competition from Windsor Raceway and Toledo Raceway and keep Michigan money in Michigan.

His decision has been successful inasmuch as the Jackson - at - Northville meeting has cut into the mutual handle at Windsor. One has to realize that every dollar wagered at Northville is a dollar that used to go to Windsor or Toledo.

TOLEDO, on the other hand, ran into the same problems that the DRC and Hazel Park faced in winter racing for the runners... bad track reluctance of jockeys to ride and poor attendance... and dropped the throughbreds entirely for a late spring, early summer harness meeting.

What seems to strange is that the Legislature would even consider legalizing dog racing when it will furnish opposition for the trotters and could well cause a dip in wagering comparable to that which hit New York City tracks with the advent of offtrack betting.

A legislature that has accepted favors from dog racing lobbyists should take a dim view of passing such a bill. Voters have been made aware of many of the occurrences in recent months and most certainly will remember when the next election comes around.

Injuries Take Toll

'Limping' Thurston Falls To North

By TOM DONOGHUE
Sports Editor

Hopes of a winning basketball season have been known to dwindle to nil, come the half-way point, for countless prep teams.

Thurston High School, by fate and not choice or lack of good basketball, has just about reached that point after only three games.

The '72-'73 cage season appeared good at Thurston, with Dan Bennett taking over the reins, and all signs were "go" toward a winning season and a shot at the Northwest Suburban title.

Before the season's first tip-off, Thurston ran into its first yield sign when junior stand-out Dave Harding transferred to Catholic Central.

THE EAGLES and Coach Bennett knew they would miss Harding but they knew they could work around his loss. The Eagles opened with an overtime loss to an experienced Stevenson squad, 76-75, and fell to Churchill the next night, 74-72.

It looked like just a matter of time before Bennett and his Eagles would jell and take charge.

THE CHARGE was then halted, the jell melted and Thurston has all but run up its white flag.

North Farmington topped Thurston in the Northwest Suburban opener, 63-53, but more important and more disheartening was the loss of two Thurston cagers to the disabled roster.

Thurston's leading scorer, Steve Hunter, sprained his ankle in the third quarter and with some luck will return to the lineup after the holidays.

The crushing blow came with one minute elapsed in the final quarter when North Farmington's Gasior broke for the basket. Thurston's John Roy and Bill VanAlsten drove in with Gasior.

VanAlsten leaped high and hit his right arm against the backboard.

THE EAGLE forward then flipped and tumbled to the court with a compound fracture in his left arm which cracked when he hit the floor.

Both Hunter and VanAlsten were taken to Botsford Hospital and VanAlsten later was moved to Oakwood in Dearborn to under-go surgery.

"It was a bad night all around," sighed Bennett. "It is really going to be rough now but we will show up and the kids will keep on scrambling. They are not going to quit."

"VanALSTEN was the team hustler, he made us click," added Bennett.

For North Farmington and Coach Ken Dean it was victory No. 2 and one step in the right direction of taking the Northwest title away from Franklin, which also won its opener against Garden City East.

"We stuck to our game plan and made Thurston shoot from the outside," said Dean. "They (Thurston) didn't fast-break as I expected and it was just a super defensive effort."

After one quarter, Thurston and the Raiders from North were deadlocked at 16-16.

North's defense went to work in the second quarter and Thurston was without a two-pointer for 7:17. Meanwhile the Raiders' Dave Ellsworth and Kim Parker were hitting and North had built up a seven point margin.

Thurston just couldn't work the ball in for a good shot and fell behind at the half, 30-25.

Parker connected on two quick buckets to open the second half and North was up by nine. Hunter sprained his ankle for Thurston and the needed scoring punch was gone.

Offensive fouls started taking their toll on Thurston and the Eagles trailed 44-33 going into the final eight minutes.

VanALSTEN FELL to the floor and broke his arm and all but broke Thurston's

Choose your weapon.

Easy does it with International Harvester snow removal equipment.

The master strategists from International Harvester have three not-so-secret weapons for you to win the war against winter. The walk-behind snow blower, the riding mower and the lawn and garden tractor.

Every one of them is designed and engineered to make it as easy as we know how. All you foot soldiers take a look at the walk-behind snow blower. It's self-propelled, winterized to start at sub-zero temperatures, and blazes a trail 26 inches wide.

For those of you with more land to patrol, we suggest you do a hitch with us. We've got a range of snow throwers (from 32 way up to 42 inches wide) that easily attach to our riding mowers and tractors. Then they launch the snow up, up and out of the way. You aim it anywhere you want it from the driver's seat. While you're up there, get the feel of power that takes you through the snowiest terrain. Then think about how easy we can help you plant next spring, mow next summer and sweep next fall. After all, couldn't you use a little more year 'round relief? Come in today.

Ski Heil

By

BILL CAMERON

All a ski writer needs to inspire him is freshly falling snow. It also seems to inspire all his friends who come up with some great ideas on what to write about. In spite of them, I think I'll write about something else.

Let's discuss equipment. For the beginner, you're better off renting equipment until you find that skiing is your thing. You can rent at ski areas or local ski shops. I prefer local shops because you can try on the boots at your leisure and in many instances, the equipment is newer.

Several of the local ski areas keep their equipment for several years and you are usually given a pair of boots that a thousand people have worn. You also take a chance on having a ski area run out of rental equipment. This happened to my daughter last year and she was very disappointed.

If you have your own equipment you'd be smart to go to the local ski shop and have them adjust your bindings. There is nothing more frustrating than to have your bindings set too loose and your ski come off while you're walking. And there's nothing more dangerous than to have the bindings set too tight. They are supposed to be "release" bindings and should release when you fall forward, backward or sideways.

There are almost as many different bindings on the market as there are skis. Unless you are buying a package, your bindings are separate from your skis. Whatever you buy, make sure the salesman explains the mechanics and adjustment. Don't fall for that "any child can adjust" business. Your ski shop will adjust those bindings according to your height, weight and skiing ability. If you are a frequent skier they probably should be checked twice a year. Better to be safe than sorry.

If you have a fear of height and you're not in the greatest condition, why don't you try cross-country skiing? The Viking Ski shop is offering instruction and rental equipment each Saturday and Sunday at Hawthorne Valley Golf Club. I'll be there Sunday at 1 p.m. to try it out. It's a great way to get in shape!

How many of you have used equipment that you'd like to sell? Or how many of you would like to buy some used equipment? I've had several inquiries about used children's equipment. I know the problem of keeping kids in boots each year.

It would be nice if I could set up a swap shop, but it requires a lot of time and effort and I have neither. But I've come up with an idea that may be feasible. If you would drop me a card with a description of the equipment, size and asking price, I'll have my secretary compile a list and mail it to each one of you. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and enclose your phone number as well. Send it to me, c/o Livonia Family Y, 14255 Stark Road, Livonia, Mi. 48154, or drop it off. The sooner the better.

The snow conditions were great at Mt. Brighton last week. The turnout for our Ladies Ski Day was small but enthusiastic. They all appeared to have one thing in common, aside from being lovely, and that was a sense of humor. (I use the past tense because I left before their class was over.)

The first time on skis is a traumatic experience for a lot of people. I remember one brunette last year who was doing fine until she had to learn to ride the tow rope. This "monster" has discouraged more beginning skiers than falling down a hundred times. If you're not careful, you can have your arms wrenched from your shoulders and be pulled flat on your face. This gal was and hasn't forgotten it to this day.

Approach that rope with caution! Make sure your skis are pointing uphill, about a foot apart from each other, knees bent, weight on the balls of your feet and not forward! Let the rope slide between your hands and gradually tighten your grip. You'll find yourself being pulled gradually forward. Relax, keep those knees bent and don't sit down!

If someone in front of you falls, don't panic. Relax your grip and let go of the rope. Dig your poles behind you into the snow to keep yourself from falling backward. Wait for the poor soul that fell to get out of the way and then start the whole process over.

If it's you that fell, get out of the way right away. Roll over if you have to. Riding two ropes is an incentive to improve your skiing so that you can ride chairlifts or go to areas that have T-bars or poma lifts. Or better yet, gondolas or cable cars!

But don't get discouraged. We all have to crawl before we can walk, and fall before we ski. It's a matter of building confidence. That's part of the instructors' jobs. A good instructor can make all the difference in the world. His job is not only to teach, but to sympathize, rationalize, motivate, stimulate and instill the confidence in yourself that enables you to progress rapidly.

Churchill Stunned... Dunked By Western

Churchill High School does not like to lose.

In fact, the Chargers hate to lose so much that they went 9-0 during football season.

Next on the conquest list was the '72-'73 basketball season.

Churchill opened with victories over Thurston and Dearborn and was set, so Coach Pat Montano thought, for the Western Six opener with Walled Lake Western.

The Chargers are out to defend their first cage title and are favored to do so.

WALLED LAKE Western had a different idea. Churchill lost.

The deciding factor was the third quarter, "the worst quarter of basketball ever played at Churchill," according to Montano.

Churchill hit on only two of 19 from the floor and blew a 33-28 halftime lead to trail going into the fourth period, 42-37, and ended up on the short end of a 61-57 score.

"It was just one of those nights," said Montano. "Having Phil Skender out of the lineup with a sprained ankle didn't help the cause any."

Skender had averaged 15 points per game in the first two outings.

The contest opened with Churchill hitting seven of 18 from the floor in the first quarter and jumping to a 22-12 advantage with Bob Blaies scoring five and Phil Damaska eight.

THE CHARGER attack slowed down in the second, being outscored 16-11, cutting the halftime margin to 33-28.

Then came the disastrous third quarter, Western 14 and Churchill four.

"We plain out lost something in that third quarter," added Montano. Churchill bounced back in the fourth, regained its composure and moved to within four with 1:57 to show on the clock. A traveling call nullified one bucket and Western broke into a stall and chalked up victory No. 3.

Walled Lake hit 23 of 47 from the floor for 49 per cent while Churchill sputtered at 26 per cent, 17 of 65.

"This is the lowest shooting percentage I have ever had in my coaching years at Churchill," said Montano.

Churchill won the game on the boards, 32-25, with Mark Reed hauling in 16 rebounds to head the Chargers' 18 offensive and 14 defensive collections.

Walled Lake had four players in double figures with Tony Howell scoring 15, John Pranger 14 and Gary Moyski and Kevin Tobel adding 10 each.

DAMASKA PACED Churchill with 19, followed by Reed's 11 and Don Phillips with 10. Don Braun, who had scored 14 and 15 in Churchill's first two games, was held to one field goal in the first quarter and four of seven at the line.

The Chargers host Northville Friday in their second Western Six Clash before the four-team holiday tournament with Thurston, Plymouth and Stevenson.

"We will bounce back," concluded Montano. "We are too good a ball club not to."

WL Central Nips Spartans, 64-63

Free throw shooting is starting to take its toll at Stevenson High.

The favored club to upend Walled Lake Central in the Inter-Lakes basketball conference missed 18 from the charity line and fell to Central, 64-63, the same score by which Stevenson lost to Redford Union only three nights before.

"We played a poor defense and were terrible at the free throw line," said Stevenson Coach George Van Wagoner, whose Spartans now stand 1-2 overall and travel to Walled Lake Western Friday.

A total of 72 fouls was called in the 32 minute contest, with Stevenson having five players foul out and Central four.

"THE LAST TIME I had five players foul out was in my first game as coach back in 1952," said Van Wagoner. "We fell behind and had to play catch up basketball and go after the ball."

"Free throw shooting can make or break you and it broke us."

Central led after one quarter, 17-11, and stayed on top at the half, 42-30. Stevenson came back at the Walled Lake team with 14 in the third and 19 in the fourth, holding Central to 22 points in the second half but just couldn't come up with the pressure bucket.

With three seconds remaining, Jeff Matar sank two free throws to put Stevenson within one and that was the closest the Spartans could get all night.

STEVENSON HIT 22 of 66 from the floor for 33 per cent while Central connected on only 19 of 58 for 33 per cent also. The big difference was at the free throw line where Central made good on 26 of 38 and Stevenson only 19 of 37.

GC West Bags Kennedy In Tri-River Opener

After three straight defeats, Garden City West was ready to play basketball and play basketball it did.

West opened its Tri-River competition with a come-from-behind victory over league favorite Taylor Kennedy, 60-54, and if Coach Chris Babler gets as much "mileage" from his players throughout the season as he did against Kennedy, West is going to win the crown.

"We just have to keep winning," said Babler with 13 league games remaining. "Kennedy is the favorite with 13 of 14 players back, Cherry Hill will be tough, but we will be in there."

Kennedy and West fought to a 10-10 first quarter score but the West Tigers fell off the mark in the second with Kennedy enjoying a two to four point lead the entire quarter and leading at the half, 28-24.

"We didn't shoot well the first half," added Babler. "We hit on only seven of 28 from the floor."

MARK KILBOURN and Ken Kinsvator got West back on track in the third quarter with six points each and the Tigers outscored Kennedy in the period, 16-12, to notch it at 40-11 going into the final eight minutes.

Kilbourn put West out in front with a quarter opening bucket and Kinsvator followed with two. All of a sudden, the Tigers were on the loose with a 46-40 margin.

Kennedy bounced back to trail by two, 52-50, with 3:12 remaining, but West's Bobby Carr was fouled and given three shots at the foul line after a Kennedy technical.

Carr popped in all three. West went into a stall and that was the game. West's first victory after losses to Wayne, John Glenn and Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Babler couldn't have asked for a better second half from his players who hit on 12 of 19 from the field and finished with a 40 per cent mark, 20 of 50. Kennedy hit 18 of 53 overall for 34 per cent.

KENNEDY DID WIN the game on the boards, outrebounding West, 32-24, behind 6-3 Mike Alley who hauled in 11.

Ted Richmond and Kilbourn paced West with eight rebounds each. West's offensive punch was in four Tigers.

Paul Tatro paced the squad with 17, Kilbourn had 13, Kinsvator 12, and Richmond 10. Richmond is fast becoming known for his artistry at the charity line.

The 6-3 senior netted only one field goal but hit on eight of nine at the line to make him 16 of 17 for the season.

Kennedy had three players with 11 points each in Mike Lauerman, Dennis Bruder and Chuck Hokey.

West travels to Crestwood Friday night in game No. 2 in search of the Tri-River crown.

Girls' Volleyball

Franklin, 3-1

Girls' volleyball is moving into high gear in Observerland with Livonia Franklin setting the pace with a 3-1 record.

Franklin matched talents with Stevenson in its opening match.

Stevenson won the first game, 15-6, but Franklin came back with a second game score of 15-7 and then won the finale, 15-11, to take match honors.

Franklin's starting line consisted of Liz Sullivan, Mary Lannoye, Naura Campbell, Lori Gotts, Pam Mapes and Mary Ann Brzy.

THE HIGH FLYING Patriots toppled Oak Park in their next round, 15-10 and 15-7, for victory No. 2 but lost the next match to Ann Arbor Pioneer by scores of 15-13, 15-13.

Franklin rebounded three days later over Ann Arbor Huron with two quick wins of 15-11 and 15-12.

THE ROCKS CRUSHED

Mott in the first game, 15-3, but fell off the mark in the second, losing 16-14. Plymouth bounced back to win the finale and the match, 15-6.

Plymouth's front line consists of Gabi Rode, Barb Smith, Colleen More, Chris Klucka, Barb Croci and Nancy Lay.

Farmington Harrison zipped past Churchill, with the Chargers winning the first game, 15-11, but losing the next two, 16-14 and 15-11.

WEDNESDAY'S ACTION (today) pits Garden City East at John Glenn, Plymouth at Northville, and Churchill at Waterford Mott.

Clarenceville goes against West Bloomfield on Thursday and Friday's competition has Franklin at Stevenson and Northville at Harrison.

Team Captain

Team captain for Michigan State basketball in 1972-73 is 6-7 senior center Bill Kilgore of River Rouge, Mich.

Bentley Wins, 58-53

Bentley basketball Coach John Farrar has a good thing going in his Bulldog twosome of Brent Boegler and Tim Bollin, and if he has anything to say about it the two will have exactly the same thing to eat before every game from now on.

Boegler and Bollin paced the Bulldogs to an opening win over Farmington with 25 and 17 points respectively and the Suburban Eight opener with Dearborn was an instant replay with Boegler popping in 25 and Bollin 17 as Bentley triumphed, 58-53.

"You couldn't ask for better performance from the two," said Farrar, whose Bulldogs now stand at 2-0 and host Dearborn Edsel Ford Friday night. "They won another for us."

THE ROAD to victory No. 2 wasn't without it's anxious moments.

Bentley led after one quarter, 16-9, but Dearborn came back to trail by only one at the half, 26-25. The Bulldogs woke up in the third period to outscore their opponents, 21-10, and held on in the final eight minutes after being outscored, 18-11.

"It was a funny game," added Farrar. "We would take a decent lead, blow it and bounce back in a few minutes."

"DEARBORN is a real scrappy ball club," said Farrar. "They are going to beat some people."

"They completely surprised us with a man-to-man press in contrast to our zone and every rebound under the boards was like a mix-master in action."

"They are small and scrappy," added Farrar.

Dearborn outshot Bentley from the field and scored seven more field goals. Bentley hit on 18 of 46 for 39 per cent while Dearborn popped in 25 of 57 for 44 per cent.

THE DIFFERENCE was at the free throw line.

Dearborn was called for 24 fouls and Bentley only 12.

Bentley made good 22 of 32 at the charity line and Dearborn three of six.

The Bulldogs outrebounded Dearborn, 38-29, with the prize twosome doing their thing. Bollin hauled in 17 and Boegler 14 to account for 31 of the club's 38.

Bollin and Boegler were the two in double figures for Bentley, 17 and 25, while Dearborn was headed by Barry Copeland with 16 and Jamie Robbins with 14.

Borgess Drops No. 5, 68-51

First-year Borgess varsity coach Jim Briskey isn't happy with his cagers' performance in the Catholic Double A Division.

"We are just making too many mistakes and I am hoping it is just a matter of time before we put it all together," said Briskey after Borgess dropped its fifth to Servite, 68-51.

BORGESS STANDS 2-5 overall and 0-2 in league action, with Bishop Gallagher on tap at home Friday.

"The Servite score is not at all indicative of the game," added Briskey. "We were within four points all the way, until the final four minutes where we just ran out of gas."

Servite led after one quarter, 17-10, and 32-28 at the half, with Borgess failing to come up with the key bucket and trailing after three quarters, 48-40.

Borgess shot 37 per cent from the floor on 24 of 64 while Servite hit 50 per cent, 25 of 50.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

He Calls Them 'Honey Birds From Heaven'

(Marie Long, longtime columnist of local events in the Farmington Enterprise and Observer, had a bee problem. She called on Hector McGregor to help get rid of them. The following is a letter Mrs. Long received from McGregor.)

be forced to eliminate them altogether.

In most cases honey bees are gentle and do not wish to make enemies with us. They consider themselves friends and would delight in making you some extra honey for any help you can give them.

take our honey and place new frames for them to keep busy.

When we get honey bees out of a house we place a hive near their place in the house and try to make them see that it is better than where they are. This can be done by making it uncomfortable where they are. As the hive is right near, they will sometimes go right in and at the same time get all the honey out of the house.

It takes a pretty smart beekeeper to get them to do this. We try to get young beekeepers started by getting their bees that way and learn how to keep the "honey birds" calm so they want to live with us the way we want them to.

I hope I succeeded in getting the honey bees all out of your house. They were in a very difficult place right by the chimney, up and down inside, and up and down the wall. It was with regret that I finally had to exterminate them. If it is at all possible I will try to save the honey bees because they are a great benefit to the neighboring community in their pollination work. It is really a sad thing to Anyone with the problem of having any type of bees in their house or a place near human activity had better get an experienced person to get them out or send for the booklet "Removing Bees and Wasps from Home Area" by Dr. E.C. Martin, Department of Entomology, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan, 48823; or, the District Agricultural Extension office in my area.

Do not try just anything that is recommended for ordinary insects. "Just anything" will really make more problems.

WHEN WE PLACE empty frames (combs) for them they delight in going to work on them and getting them filled again when they have ample stores for their winter supplies already. This proves that these little creatures would not sting you unless you make them suspicious and make them believe you are going to steal their winter stores.

Our "honey birds" pay very little attention to us when we

Home gardeners like to cuss moths and butterflies in summer, but in fall many use them to predict what kind of a winter we'll have.

Can the banded woolly bear and other caterpillars be depended upon to tell what kind of a winter we're in for?

Many think so, including my own wife who's been studying the woolly bear for years.

You'll be interested to know, first, that there are more than 20,000 kinds of butterflies, and four times that many moths, so there's really no shortage of weather prophets, if you want to take up the subject of predicting the weather ahead.

If you take a look at the woolly bear caterpillar, you'll note it has a shiny fur coat, coal black at the ends and a rich chestnut - brown in the center. The tips represent fall and spring, and the middle represents winter. According to those who know weather forecasting, if the rich brown color in the middle is long, it means, a long, tough winter is in store. But if the band is short, you're in for a mild winter.

Entomologists have tested this theory for years and no scientific results have been published that we know of. In some areas, the woolly bear caterpillar has a long brown segment, indicating you'd better buy some winter underwear and keep your snow shovel.

A wild, woolly winter is in the makings, if you read the caterpillars correctly.

Other signs include: heavy crops of fruit, nuts and berries; hives full of honey. As you stroll thru the woods note the crop of nuts on oaks, beeches and other plants. Old folks say these bumper crops mean a tough, cold winter is in the works.

How about your onion skins? Are they thick and tough? "Onion skin thick and tough, coming winter cold and rough." Some say that if your corn husks were thick and tough, a rugged winter is ahead.

GREEN THUMB NOTE: If you're a woolly bear watcher, please write and tell me how you predict winters. What other methods do you use for predicting mild or wild winters? I would like to hear from any one who follows this fascinating subject. I'm preparing a leaflet on "How to Predict the Winters" and need your help in gathering information for it.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC: A reader writes: "I keep reading about new grasses which can be used to renovate the lawn. Please tell us if these are better than the old ones." Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy of my bulletin, "How to Renovate the Lawn." It tells about using many new grasses.

GIFT-MAKING IDEA -- Ever think of using cotton swabs on the wall? Here's how: create a picture of a Victorian-styled house by gluing swabs against a bright-colored cotton fabric. Glue on cotton embroidery trim for shrubbery, and set the finished picture in a simple black frames.

Houseplant Course Given

Houseplants may need larger containers when roots appear on the soil surface and protrude out drainage holes.

Invert the plants, tap the containers on the edge of a bench and remove the plants with soil from the pots. If the soil is covered with a network of roots, transfer the plants.

According to a Pennsylvania State University correspondence course on houseplants, repotting can be done any season. A good time is when plants begin active growth as in early spring.

BEGONIAS, ferns and other plants grown for their foliage need repotting every two or three years. Select containers with diameters one-third to one-half the plants' heights. A begonia 12 inches tall needs a pot four to six inches in diameter.

Provide drainage in the bottoms of the containers. A pot six inches in diameter needs one inch of broken crockery or gravel. When repotting orchids and cacti, fill the pots one-third full of drainage material before putting in the soil.

These and many other practical tips on selecting and growing houseplants in the home are included in the course.

To secure a copy send your name and address to Houseplants, Box 5,000, University Park, Pa. 16802. Make checks in the amount of $4.65 payable to The Pennsylvania State University. There are no other charges and a complete course copy comes to you by mail.

Handy Jim's FIX-UP TIPS

Room Comes to Life

THIS interesting basement recreation room, once somber and uninviting, has come to life with a simple transformation inspired by a family with imagination.

At right, the observer might think he was near a lake or ocean. But not so. This wall was covered with a realistic seascape mural which seems only a stone's throw distant. Like the table tennis outfit in the foreground, it's all in fun. And this basement has become a fun place in actuality as well as appearance.

Early Ice Can Be Dangerous

"Beware of early season ice" is the Department of Natural Resources' cold-weather warning to Michigan outdoorsmen.

"There is always a certain degree of risk in going on the ice, and the footing is especially dangerous on newly-formed ice," cautions Robert Dyke, head of the DNR's Marine Safety Section.

He explains that it takes prolonged freezing temperatures to produce reasonably safe ice. Such ice usually appears bluish.

Quite often, however, at this early stage of winter, ice appears transparent or honeycombed and that, says Dyke, is a danger sign to "Keep Off."

THE RULE of thumb for ice safety:

Two inches — one person
Three inches — several persons spread out

Four inches — general use (fishing)

It normally takes more than 4 inches of good, solid ice to safely support snowmobiles. As for cars and other such vehicles, "leave them ashore for safety's sake," urges Dyke.

What should you do if you break through the ice?

"Keep calm," emphasizes Dyke.

"Bulky winter clothes will support you on the surface for a few minutes. Extend your arms along the ice edge to help distribute your weight and kick your feet hard. With help from the kicking action you can ease your hips onto firm ice."

"You then can roll away from the spot where you went through the ice. Stay in a prone position and ease away from that trouble spot. Don't stand up until you're reasonably sure that you've reached safe ice."

Nine Leagues of Women Voters, including four from the local area, have formed a River Rouge basin committee to urge consideration of the water resources in any plans for the basin.

Leagues from Livonia, Northville-Plymouth, West Bloomfield-Farmington and Southfield-Lathrup joined those from Allen Park, Detroit, Birmingham-Bloomfield, Troy and Dearborn-Dearborn Heights on the committee.

The committee is a response to the recently announced plans for construction of an 18 mile long tunnel which will take care of the river overflow, channeling it into the Detroit River. The plan also calls for 791 acres of flood plain which could be used for parks.

THE LEAGUES' committee was formed "because of the numerous plans being discussed that will affect the water resources of the River Rouge Basin," according to Mrs. Ray Goeboro, committee chairman. "The River Rouge Basin must be considered in its entirety when any plan is proposed."

The leagues have studied water resources and agreed that several steps are necessary including long-range planning, a complete river basin study, management of water resources on a river basin basis, adoption of measures appropriate to the basin, coordination between agencies and departments, supplying information to enable intelligent weighing of alternative plans and citizen participation in water resource decisions.

Several committee members met with Wade Trim & Associates which drew up the proposal for a tunnel and flood plain.

MRS. GOEBORO said the committee is studying the plan and will react to it later.

She said the leagues have urged that county officials consult with experts in all fields — biologists, hydrologists, environmental scientists and engineers — while the plans are still being formed.

They also have urged that public hearings be held within the basin area, scheduled at convenient times and with prominent notification, so that the communities will become involved in it.

Drive To Mix

Whatever water is added to a car battery in freezing weather, the vehicle should be driven several miles so the fresh water can mix with the electrolyte, according to auto experts. This will prevent freezing and subsequent damage to the plates and battery case.

'73 Fishing Licenses Go On Sale

Distribution of Michigan's 1973 fishing licenses and rules is completed to some 3,000 local dealers in this state by the Department of Natural Resources.

The new licenses, covering the 100th season of fisheries management in Michigan, carry the same fees as this year. Those unchanged rates are:

Resident annual, $3.25; non-resident annual, $6.25; resident and non-resident trout and salmon stamp, $3.25; non-resident seven-day, $5.25; resident and non-resident three-day, $2.25; resident and non-resident one-day for Great Lakes and connecting waters, $1.25; and senior resident (for persons 65 years and older), 75 cents.

Any of these licenses for 1973 are valid at the time of purchase, including during the month of December.

DISSENT

View points expressed in DISSENT do not necessarily reflect those of Observer Newspapers Inc., but are presented in the belief that publication of all segments of thought on a public issue is a prerequisite to understanding and progress.

By G.S. VASILAST

The headline stared out at me in your Dec 2 edition and asked "Why No Fan Support?" After reading the article, I too began to ponder this perplexing situation.

Athletics are as American as the flag. After all, nowadays it seems that the only time people sing the National Anthem is at athletic events. Besides that, even President Nixon enjoys sports.

I AM an ex-Thurston student, from the last graduating class, and I just can't understand what has happened to the spirit in my alma mater. I can remember the excitement that used to be created by the athletics in the school.

Before the big game, there always used to be big pep rallies. Classes were shortened so the assemblies could be held during school hours, and as the time of the event drew closer, you could just feel the excitement in the air.

When the announcement, "Would the pom pon girls, cheerleaders, and members of the band please report to the gym" came over the loudspeakers, you could see disappointment in the eyes of all of the people who weren't members of the pom pon girls, cheerleaders, or the band. But people still anxiously awaited the assembly. The spirit was strong.

As for the assemblies themselves, it's hard to explain how glorious they were. Everybody went to them. They were mandatory, of course, but who wouldn't want to go to one? The gym was always packed when I would walk in, the band would be playing the school song, and some 10 cheerleaders or so would be standing up front clapping and jumping and yelling.

Finding a good seat in the bleachers was always a problem because they were always packed.

EVEN THOUGH I wasn't a part of the teams, I still felt that it was my duty to look like a supporter. Blue and white were the only colors of clothes that I would wear before the big game and I can't conceive of a reason why everyone didn't do the same.

The yelling and screaming was always a lot of fun, and I think the whole emotional climax of the event came when the team came streaming out of the locker room in a single line. They always looked confident that they would smash the other team, and I guess the reason that we were in the stands was to bolster them to victory by our shouts and screams. Why else would we be packed in the gym like sardines?

The only thing that I can think of as a cause of the lack of fan support in the schools deals with the selfishness of some students. The artists, the writers, the musicians -- perhaps they feel slighted by the emphasis in the schools on athletics. Kids that spend hours working on a canvas, or students that have blisters on their fingers from practicing on guitars -- they probably feel that they don't get enough attention.

There is always one art show for a couple days every year, and bands can sometimes perform in the gym during lunch if they beg -- I mean, ask -- the administration. The writers can submit their work to the school's newspaper or literary publication for printing -- that is, if the administration likes it.

THOSE UNGRATEFUL students should be taught a thing or two about dedication. Just think about how hard the teams work! Those other students may work for hours on their painting or writing or whatever, but big deal.

Who ever saw a work of art as exciting as a touchdown?

If You've Got The Research, You Gain Political Power

Conservatives used to say it during the Roosevelt-Truman era. Liberals said it during the last campaign. And it's true.

The executive branch of government is growing more powerful. The legislative branch, which is supposed to be a co-equal, is getting relatively weaker. Government at most levels has Big Brother problems.

There's nothing clandestine about it. It's just that knowledge is power, big bureaucracies have lots of information at their fingertips, and so they are at a relative advantage when dealing with a legislature or the public.

THAT POINT was driven home to me rather emphatically when, as a congressional staff man a few years ago, I worked on a project to get the Defense Dept. to give up Fort Custer to the state so that its miles of woods, fields, river and lakes could become a state park.

DOD, as it's known in Washington jargon, is nothing if not a gigantic bureaucracy. It had all kinds of figures on the land's value for defense purposes, its potential value in the year X plus 12, the value of its aging buildings, the value of its half-track trails and the like.

Many of these prices, we suspected, were cockeyed -- but how was anyone going to argue with DOD's computers?

Well, the truth of the matter is that the military simply had no further use for much of the property, and today it's an attraction in the park system serving a good-sized chunk of southern Michigan. But it was a darned tough battle against DOD's power of knowledge.

WHAT BROUGHT that tale to mind was the recent comment of State Sen. Carl Pursell, of Plymouth. Pursell is a Republican and politically is extremely close to Gov. Milliken, so what the senator had to say about executive power is all the more important:

"Michigan's Legislature, like those in many other states in recent years, has permitted the executive branch to assume important legislative functions ...

"Even though the authority for adopting the budget lies with the Legislature, there is a serious imbalance between the governor's ability to use an expert staff to prepare his budget and the lack of comparable legislative staff to work on a comprehensive look at spending policies."

"The governor's office," Pursell went on, "has assigned to it a substantial Bureau of Programs and Budget, with numerous subdivisions geared up with financial experts, economists and budget examiners.

"In contrast, Michigan's Legislature is not primed to carry out its ultimate responsibility in this field, even though we do have a competent but limited fiscal agency assigned to us."

THEN PURSELL really strikes home:

"It is uncomfortable to admit, but we in the Legislature have been reduced essentially to a nitpicking operation that carries with it the inevitable pork-barreling and, in desperation, across-the-board budget cutting instead of responsible budget-building procedures."

"We usually wind up rather docilely taking the creation of the Bureau of Programs and Budget, making minor changes and dutifully putting our label on it."

The same story could, I suppose, be repeated at the local level, in colleges and school districts. To paraphrase an outdated axiom: It's not who you know; it's what you know, what you can find out in a hurry, and whether you can analyze it more competently. That's the source of power.

The True Motive$ On 'For $ale' $igns

Aside from the school busing issue, nothing gets suburbanites more uptight than integrated housing patterns, open housing laws and potential loss of property values.

What it boils down to is money rather than social policies. Groups on opposite sides of an issue usually have the dollar sign in mind when they stake out their positions.

A good example is last week's action to ban "For Sale" signs in front of single-family houses in Southfield unless the potential seller gets permission from the zoning board of appeals.

AS IN ANY conflict, there are two diametrically opposing viewpoints.

On one side is the real estate establishment which feels that such a ban on "For Sale" signs may inhibit its freedom to advertise.

A city hall figure argues that such a ban may be in violation of the U.S. Constitution's rights to free speech. But real estate men and others involved in the controversy usually put constitutional rights aside when there is money at stake.

Supporting the city council's action banning "For Sale" signs is a homeowners' association which feels that an over-abundance of signs in any neighborhood may affect property values.

A point well taken.

There are other suburban cities nearby where there are four or five such signs in a single block. This situation is a buyer's market instead of a seller's market. That isn't so bad if you are the buyer.

BUT THE homeowners' group and the realtors -- though on opposite sides -- still have the same economic interests at heart.

A homeowner, when it comes time to sell, obviously wants to move it quickly at the highest price possible.

The realtor certainly wants the homeowner to achieve that goal so that he can get the commission and pay a few bills this month.

The homeowners' association also wants to ban "For Sale" signs to avoid potential "block-busting" tactics and a quick turnover of occupants in the neighborhood.

Reading between the lines, this could mean that the present homeowners want as much notice as possible before the "neighborhood changes" so they can quickly make their sale of their own houses and move further north and west.

THE CURRENT ban on "For Sale" signs, for all the heat generated by public debate, probably won't have much impact on the Southfield real estate market.

Persons looking for a house in a given neighborhood can go to the nearest real estate office which maintains a weekly computerized listing maintained by numerous firms working together, or check the "houses for sale" columns in any newspaper.

In addition, "For Sale" signs for offices and plants usually have no impact on the movement of the property and buildings. That kind of advertising is usually confined to trade magazines or realtors who specialize in that kind of market.

But whatever the arguments homeowners and realtors have about the new Southfield ban on "For Sale" signs, the old-fashioned American dollar bill is the basis for their viewpoints.

Snow Fools Drivers

"I don't care if it snows or freezes I am safe in the hands of ..."

That appears to be the feeling of those drivers who disregard the safety of others and zoom past car after car in these days of slippery, icy highways in the morning and evening rush hours.

While others inch their way along the roads and hope and pray that they'll get home safely to put on slippers and thank their lucky stars they can watch the "tube" without fear, there are always those who seem to think they are blessed with guardian angels watching over and protecting them from accidents.

It is always this way after the first heavy snow of the season...the one that dumps about three inches of the white stuff that looks so beautiful but brings all sorts of traffic problems.

It is the first time drivers have encountered slippery going since the final storm late last winter and they are careful, much more so than they are after getting adjusted to winter travel.

BUT THERE ARE always those wild ones who believe they can drive just as well on ice as on dry highways. They're the ones that splash slush over your car as they flash by and cause you to make some remarks concerning their parental background.

They're the ones that suddenly come to a rude awakening when they speed up to a busy intersection, find the traffic light turning red and the road slick underneath. They're the ones that skid into cars, in a frantic effort to stop, and wind up in hospitals -- they and the persons in the car or cars they hit.

Why are we mentioning these things? It's rather simple; we ran into some of these nutty drivers just about a week ago during the first heavy snowfall of the season.

We were going west on Schoolcraft, a road everyone knows is difficult to drive considering that the State Highway Dept. is constantly changing routes from the temporary service lanes to the permanent and than back again, during the storm.

THEN AS WE NEARED the intersection at Farmington Road, a car roared by in the right lane, westbound, just after the light changed to red.

Fortunately for all, traffic had not started to move and the youthful motorist, who had no thoughts of safety, skidded through the intersection, swerved from side to side and then sped on. One wondered what would have happened had he tried to apply the brakes...our car was alongside at the time.

In the late spring and summer, we read stories from traffic officers warning drivers to be careful because the youngsters are getting out of school and often forget about traffic. It appears that in early winter, we should be reading stories stressing safety and the high cost of hospital care before some of the wild drivers wind up in a hospital bed and take others with them.

Dog Lobbyists Work In Florida

Whether one likes it or not -- and we don't one bit -- word from Lansing is that the House will approve the controversial dog racing bill before the end of the week.

If that happens, then Gov. William Milliken will have to decide whether to sign or veto the bill which already has the approval of the Senate.

During the last 10 days, some members of the House have received unfavorable publicity for junkets to Florida with state funds. Would you believe that no less than six attended the dog races late last week with the tab reportedly picked up by a lobbyist for the dog racing interests from Michigan?

Remember, it wasn't too many weeks ago that this same lobbyist was said to have handed cash to several House members, who accepted.

If the dog racing bill is passed after such blatant incidents, then one wonders what the voting public can expect of legislators in the future.

The state pays the expenses of a trip to Florida. A known lobbyist picks up the dinner check for legislators at a dog racing track, and then voters are supposed to be so gullible as to believe that voting on a bill is for the best interests of the state...or, should we put it, for the best interests of a rich, selfish group.

It will be interesting to follow developments in the State Capitol during the next few days.

Livonian Asks Student Gang Action

EDITOR:

Seeing the mayor and commissioner of drug abuse attack Sen. Birch Bayh's comments about Livonia on television should surprise no one: it was inconsiderate of Sen. Bayh to single out this town above others where the problem is just as severe.

However, Livonia does have serious problems I think the people of this city want to ignore. The increase of drug use in the junior and high schools is just one part of it: other crimes, such as assault, are widespread and just as widely disregarded.

Four or five years ago, students at Bentley and Franklin, and at junior highs such as Riley, were making bitter jokes about "nice, safe schools" they'd like to attend which were located in Detroit's "inner city."

Not much public attention was drawn to the dangerous gangs in the schools, nor is much said now about the gangs that are making schools, parks, and other facilities unsafe to go near. When some news about gangs does hit the papers, people just don't seem to see it. I read the Observer and News through every issue, and I've noticed the large number of articles about crime. Yet when I told a friend that minors had been arrested at Schoolcraft and Farmington with, among other things, a machine gun and a sawed-off shotgun in their possession, he (and others) refused to believe it, even though the article made your front page.

The people of this town had better wake up. We may be the wealthiest city of our size in the state or nation, but we certainly haven't created a safer environment than poorer cities elsewhere. Compared to just about any town in the west, this city is the scene of a minor crime wave. Most important of all, it seems to me, is the need for action to prevent gangs, especially of minors, from gathering anywhere in the city.

As president of the North-west Communities Association for Retarded Children, I must advise that we had a tremendous response from the community regarding the Christmas cards we had for sale, as the result of the picture of a card. Many people cut the picture from the Observer and sent it to us, asking for more information.

As a mother with a child residing in Plymouth State Home, I wish to thank those responsible for the many articles in the Observer which present the problems, programs and needs of these special people.

The Observer has certainly done a terrific public relations job for the handicapped. Everyone in our association is appreciative of the efforts of the Observer. I know I'm speaking in behalf of our entire membership.

Instrument Use Demands Care

EDITOR:

This year the Livonia Board of Education had approved a maintenance fee of $10 per year for the use of school owned instruments by fifth and sixth graders and junior high students. Later it was reduced to $5 per year, as some thought the fee was unfair. This fee was found necessary to help defray the cost of maintenance and repair to the instrument.

In the school district where I used to live, before I moved to Livonia, students interested in playing an instrument were required to buy one from the very beginning. As a result, my brothers each own some type of instrument, and we found out that their upkeep is very high even with the best of care, and a fee of only $5 a year doesn't even pay for a trumpet valve adjustment.

These instruments cost hundreds of dollars and when you are young you don't realize the care you have to take, and just carrying it home in its case can jar something loose or dent it.

Perhaps if parents and students would know the cost of these instruments from the start and how to care for them, the cost to the school district might be reduced. Even a well kept instrument needs regular repairs, and I have seen many instruments mishandled by younger students because the school owns them.

Abortion Topic Well Handled

EDITOR:

Norman Lear deserves much credit for the sympathetic yet funny handling of the sensitive subject of abortion in the Nov.

14 and 21 segments of the "Maude" television series.

Problems of social acceptance, mutual decision, personal convictions and risks of a late-in-life pregnancy were dealt with empathetically and fairly.

As Maude herself stated in the show, this was a decision that only she and her husband could make and only for themselves. Thankfully, Mr. Carino allowed his Detroit audience the same freedom - to choose for themselves whether or not to watch the program.

EVERYONE in this picture wore the christening gown that little Brian Pawlowski of Westland is modeling for our photographer. Brian wore it, too, when he was christened a few days later. He's being held by his mother, Mrs.

2 Christening Gowns Are Family Heirlooms

Two heirloom christening gowns that starred in recent Observerland baptisms can count 154 years of age and eight generations between.

It would be harder to count the number of babies that have worn them on the big baptismal day.

One of the gowns — dating back to 1887 — was worn Nov. 25 in St. John Episcopal Church in Plymouth by three-month-old Matthew Thomas Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes of Plymouth.

Officiating at the baptismal font on that occasion was Matthew's uncle, the Rev. Herbert Stevens, one of the eight previous wearers of his champagne-colored lace gown.

The other one was made in 1903 and worn, for about the 20th time, by Brian Paul Pawlowski, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pawlowski of Westland. His christening took place Nov. 26.

BRIAN WAS christened in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne, and on hand were his brother, mother and grandmother and assorted aunts, uncles and cousins who previously had worn the long, fine cotton christening gown.

THE DRESS worn by the Hayes baby was made for the 1887 christening of Nellie Louise Smith, whose home was in New Boston, Mich. She was Matthew's maternal great-grandmother.

His grandmother, Elizabeth Wilson, wore it in 1914, as did his mother, then Elizabeth Stevens, in 1941.

Other wearers were Matthew's great-aunt, Mrs. E. H. Vas Nunes of Huntington Beach, Calif., his great-uncle, W. T. Wilson Jr. of Marysville, Mich., his uncle, Rev. Stevens, who is pastor of the Trinity Episcopal Church in Bethlehem, Pa., and cousins Billy and John Wilson of Marysville.

There were about 30 friends and relatives on hand for his christening and the reception that followed in his parents' Plymouth home. His godparents are Sharon Cole of Tustin, Calif. and Charel J. Koehn of Utica and Frederick Rosenberg of Denville, N.J.

THE CHRISTENING dress that was worn by Brian Pawlowski came to this area from Buffalo, N.Y., where it was made by his great-great-grandmother in 1903 for the baptism of her son, Howard Holmes.

It was worn later by his four children, including a daughter, Mrs. Carol Holmes, Hawks, who moved to Livonia six years ago.

Also wearers were Mrs. Hawks' eight children, Linda Holz of Buffalo, Barbara Giezentaner of Inkster, Mrs. Pawlowski, Sandra Hawks Murawski of Westland, and Robert, Cynthia, Christina and Steven, all living at home.

"And it was worn by some of my father's other grandchildren and some nieces and nephews, which would make it worn by well over 20 babies," Mrs. Hawks calculated.

Others in Brian's generation are his brother, two-year-old Scott, and cousins Michael and Eric Holz and Laura and Matthew Giezentaner.

Mrs. Holz came from Buffalo to serve as godmother, and the godfather is James Jackson of Garden City.

m. m. memos

I'm working my way this week through the annual ritual known as Operation Christmas Card. Because I don't work for the post office, I don't really knock it. But—

Feelings of diorganization do creep in when several cards arrive in the mmail before I've affixed the first signature or licked the first stamp.

Life seems to be disintegrating when the much-revised address book really falls apart and the telephone book shows signs of doing the same.

Writing the same address wrong three times, I begin to wonder how badly my mind is slipping.

It seems a bit ridiculous when I greet in neighborhood or office the person to whom I addressed a card the night before.

Writer's cramp takes over as I pen note after note on the back of the cards. I just won't resort to the family newsletter solution, but why, I ask myself, don't I keep up these correspondences through the year?

But it's a mighty feeling of accomplishment when the last note is written, the final stamp is in place and the cards are bundled and taken to the post office.

Then the lovely cards and Christmas messages arrive from around the country and long-time friends mention once more that our annual family photo was enjoyed.

And I'm sure again that Operation Christmas Card is well worth the best I can give it.

They're Not Out, But...

Dolls Getting Brushhoff?

Pretty dolls and frilly dresses are time-honored symbols of a little girl's Christmas.

But do they still have top billing on Santa Claus lists, and are they still a top priority item in Goodfellow baskets?

We made an informal survey of Goodfellow volunteers in Observerland after hearing about a lady who loved to dress Goodfellow dolls but hadn't been able to find one this holiday season.

INDICATIONS were that only about half the communities in this area still distribute dolls for dressing by community women and giving to needy families, and fewer make a major point of sewing small dresses.

The idea seems to be that many little girls would just as soon have a game to play with her brothers and that she's more comfortable in a warm pair of slacks.

"Don't get me wrong—dolls aren't out," said Lt. Paul Sanders of the Plymouth fire department, who has long been associated with Goodfellow drives in his community.

"If a little girl wants a doll, she'll get one, and we give out a dozen or so each year. She'll also get a dress if she wants one."

"But we've found that games and sports equipment more often are requested and mothers more often mention slacks for their daughters instead of dresses."

THE GOODFELLOW leaders in Plymouth decided against distributing dolls for dressing this year, Sanders said.

"To distribute dolls, we'd have to have between 100 and 200 to satisfy all the groups interested, and that takes a good share of the money we can spend on toys," he explained.

"We try to stay on top of the situation and use our funds to buy what's needed most."

DEFINITE DISAGREEMENT was voiced by Mrs. Shirley Richardson, who heads Goodfellow doll and dress drives in Farmington.

Doll dressing was done in Girl Scout troops and several PTA groups made dresses, with fashion shows completing the project.

"The interest this year was greater than ever," said Mrs. Richardson, who went to talk to several of the groups that participated.

"And if you saw all those girls gathering around for a closer look at the goodfellow dolls, you'd never think dolls are losing their appeal."

IN REDFORD TOWNSHIP, Mrs. Delores Peters agreed that the smallest girls "like to have one dress that is new for them," but said the older ones seem to prefer a blouse and skirt or pair of slacks.

ABOUT 30 little girls in Livonia will receive dolls dressed by senior citizens in McNamara Towers, reported Clarence Jahn, Livonia Goodfellow leader.

Dressing Goodfellow dolls is a popular activity in Garden City and Westland, and leaders there said a doll automatically goes into a basket for a girl that age.

Livonia high school seniors who receive some of those Dollars For Scholars that will be passed out next June will especially appreciate the organizing ability of a lady who's done a lot of youth volunteer work.

Mrs. Doris Wilkins would be the first to insist that credit for the scholarship funds should go to the kids who canvass the community in the program that is the only one of its kind in this area.

But her leadership over the last five years has played a big part in the drive that last year raised $9,400—enough for 32 scholarships in amounts of $200 to $500.

EACH YEAR of participation in the drive sponsored by the Livonia affiliate of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation makes Doris Wilkins more convinced of its worth.

"It's a good program," she said. "We do good things for the kids who need it right here."

Mrs. Wilkins, mother of a Michigan State University graduate and a current student at MSU, said funds are often likely to go to the student who isn't headed for a four-year university program.

"We look a great deal to the student who needs that extra push and maybe is planning to attend vocational school, trade school or beauty college."

"An award of the amount we can give may be just what's needed to enable a student to begin work at a local college but on the other hand would be only a small part of the money needed for attending college away from home."

THE STUDENT'S interest in helping himself also is considered, she added, so most winners are students who have part-time jobs.

Dollars for Scholars awards are open to all seniors of Livonia high schools, Mrs. Wilkins said. Applications, available from counselors, are being prepared right now and should be in by the first of the year.

The Citizens' Scholarship Foundation, parent organization, began in 1957 in Fall River, Mass., when a local optometrist, Dr. Irving Fradkin, became worried about the number of Fall River students going on to college and decided to try to find ways to get financial aid for those who needed it.

A citizens' committee formed and functioned successfully. Since then several thousand other communities have begun their own programs and Sam Levenson, educator and comedian who recently was a Livonia Town Hall speaker, now is honorary national president.

IN LIVONIA, said Doris Wilkins, funds are raised through three sources—business contributions, student fund-raisers and a student canvass that aims to hit every house in Livonia.

Solicitations to businesses are made in March, she said. One student fund-raiser will be a battle of bands, planned for sometime in the spring, and the house-to-house canvass will take place on a special "Dollars For Scholars" day, scheduled May 5.

"The students do a tremendous job," Mrs. Wilkins said, "but I've always been amazed to find that adult participation in the canvass is almost nil. We need about 20 adults to help drive in the canvassing, and last year we had trouble finding even that many."

DORIS WILKINS came to her Dollars for Scholars job from a long line of "just about any kind of volunteer work that involves kids."

"It's so easy to get involved and so hard to quit," she laughs. Joining the PTA when her son was in kindergarten, she found herself "on the board before I knew it" and eventually president of her school PTA and then in Livonia PTA Council.

"The council was sponsoring organization for a Boy Scout troop," she said, "so that automatically involved me in Boy Scouts, and that led to Girl Scout work. I've held almost every job from assistant leader on up."

For 10 years she conducted courses to train adult Girl Scout leaders.

Now fully involved in the Dollars for Scholars program, she's preparing for a January meeting with the council that will direct its activities and then a February session with student leaders.

"That's when the young people take over the program and run it," she said.

With considerable help from a dedicated adult volunteer.

MRS. GARY JOHN SCHULZ
(Jo Ann Weber)

Bay City Church Scene Of Nuptials

Gary John Schulz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Schulz of Lujon Avenue, Farmington, claimed Jo Ann Weber as his bride in a Nov. 11 ceremony in Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Bay City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Weber of Bay City. The Rev. Emil Kasischke officiated.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a princess gown of ivory satin decorated with peau d'ange lace and pearl and crystal beading. Matching lace edged the cathedral veil that fell from a camelot headdress. Her flowers were pompons, fuji mums, stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy.

Jill Weber was maid of honor for her sister and the bridesmaids were Karen Schulz, sister of the bridegroom, and Julie Somalski of Essexville, Mich. They wore floor-length brocade gowns in a pink, ivory, moss green and plum print and plum-colored velvet vests. Their bouquets and floral headbands were purple mums, pink carnations and static and baby's breath.

Flower girls Ashley and Kristen Ogden of Bay City wore moss green velvet dresses and carried baskets of carnations and baby's breath.

George Paul of Midland was best man and the groomsmen were Ralph Schulz of Colorado, brother of the bridegroom, and Tom Wills of Lansing.

Both mothers wore floor-length gowns. Mrs. Weber chose aqua chiffon and Mrs. Schulz was in apricot knit.

The reception for 300 guests was held in Monitor Township Hall in Bay City. After a New Orleans honeymoon, the newlyweds will make their home in Midland.

The new Mrs. Schulz is a graduate of Ferris State College and her husband graduated from Michigan State University.

Hermanns Wed In Dearborn

Susan Marie Demmer became the bride of William Michael Hermann in a recent morning ceremony in the Catholic Church of the Divine Child in Dearborn. The Right Rev. Msgr. Herbert F. Weier celebrated the high nuptial mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Demmer of Dearborn. Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Hermann of Redford Township are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride wore a white satin organza gown with full skirt and reembroidered alencon lace at the high neckline and on the lantern sleeves. Matching lace edged her silk illusion mantilla, and she carried white roses and mums.

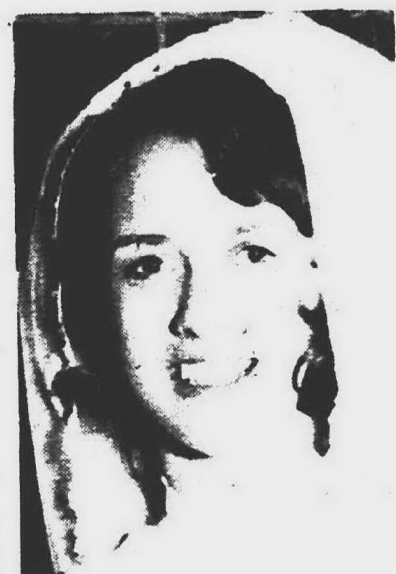

PATRICIA GROSZKO was matron of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids were Marianne Demmer, another sister; Carol Campau, sister of the bridegroom; Roylene Hermann, his sister-in-law, and Patricia Milne.

All wore gowns with white chiffon bodices and olive green skirts. The bodices were trimmed with white lace entwined with green chiffon and tiny gold applied flowers, and they carried yellow, gold and bronze mums.

In similar dresses were flower girls Jean Demmer, the bride's youngest sister, and Deanne McClure, cousin of the bridegroom.

KENNETH DePERRO was best man. The guests were seated by William and James

MRS. WILLIAM HERMANN
(Susan Demmer)

Demmer, brothers of the bride; Edward Hermann, brother of the bridegroom, Robert Campau and Robert Schafer.

For the ceremony and wedding breakfast at Western Golf and Country Club, Mrs. Demmer selected a silk worsted turquoise dress and Mrs. Hermann was in blue polyester crepe. A reception and dinner dance at Vladimir's in Farmington took place in the evening.

The couple's honeymoon trip was to Jamaica, and they are living in Southfield.

Vows Taken In Aldersgate

Sherryl Lynn Jueckstock and Francis James Neville were united in marriage in a recent evening ceremony in Aldersgate United Methodist Church of Redford Township, with the Rev. William Wager officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Jueckstock of Moccasin Avenue, Westland, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Francis Neville of Sunbury Avenue, Livonia.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a modified victorian peau de soie gown with cathedral train and nottingham and chatilly lace trim. Her veil was cathedral length and she carried a candle lantern surrounded by fuji mums, orange roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

ROXANNE JUECKSTOCK was maid of honor for her sister and the bridesmaids were Nina and Marsha Neville, the bridegroom's sisters, and Gay Bennett of Westland and Linda Evans of Detroit.

All wore empire gowns with white lace bodices and orange chiffon skirts and carried candle lanterns with baby carnations, roses, daisies and baby's breath.

Michael Neville, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were John Krieger of Livonia, Bruce Bennett of Westland, Gary Calder of Livonia and Craig

MARK EVANS of Detroit was ring bearer.

Mrs. Jueckstock wore an olive green antique satin dress with ivory silk organza sleeves, and Mrs. Neville selected a pink crepe gown with black braid trim.

After greeting 200 guests at a reception at Idyl Wyld Golf Club, the newlyweds went to Gatlinburg, Tenn., for their honeymoon.

Both employed by Deluxe Check Printers, they are making their home in Detroit.

Pictures for wedding and engagement announcements must be mailed or brought to the office of The Observer Newspapers, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, 48150. Forms to supply the necessary information also may be obtained there. Pictures should be black and white and clear, and wedding pictures must be of the bride alone.

Our picture-printing charge is $2.50 for engagement and one-column wedding pictures, and $5 for two-column wedding pictures. Checks should be made out to The Observer Newspapers.

Pictures can be mailed back only if an addressed and stamped envelope is supplied. They also may be picked up at the office at 36251 Schoolcraft after publication.

There is no charge for a wedding or engagement announcement with no picture.

It is not possible to inform you exactly when the announcement will be printed. Extra copies of the paper in which it appears must be ordered after publication through our Circulation Department.

NANCY LANGRELL

CAROLINE STALZER

Mrs. Wesley Langrell of Grand Ledge announces the engagement of her daughter, Nancy, to Timothy Lewis, son of Mrs. Fred Morris of Garden City and the late Robert Lewis. Both are graduates of Eastern Michigan University. The bride-elect, also the daughter of the late Mr. Langrell, teaches at Grand Ledge High School. Her fiancé, who graduated from Garden City West High School in 1967, is a lecturer at EMU. They plan to marry June 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stalzer of Westmore Avenue, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Caroline (Carrie), to Charles J. Corrigan of Westland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Corrigan of Havertown, Pa. The bride-elect is a 1970 graduate of Bentley High School and her fiancé graduated from LaSalle College in 1971. Both are employed by the Ford Motor Credit Co. They plan to be married in April.

Mrs. Emma Jean Tabor of Westland announces that her daughter, Janet Lou, will be married Dec. 16 to Gary Alan Brandemuhl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brandemuhl of Livonia. The bride-to-be is a 1970 graduate of Franklin High School. Her fiancé graduated from Stevenson High School in 1970 and attended Schoolcraft College for two years. They plan to be married in Nevada and will live in Van Nuys, Calif.

DR. AND MRS. NICHOLAS SELLAS of Plymouth show the sign their three children made for a name day party honoring Dr. Sellas Dec. 8.

Name Day Party Honors Dr. Sellas

St. Nicholas may be the fore-runner of Santa Claus but he's also the patron saint of Dr. Nicholas Sellas, Plymouth resident and pathologist at Garden City Osteopathic hospital.

Which was reason enough for his wife, Catherine, and three children to give him a surprise name day party in their home Dec. 8.

The children, Spencer, Laraine and Steven, helped make a big sign for the occasion.

Mrs. Sellas served Greek delicacies including pastitsio (baked macaroni and meat), keftethes (meatballs) and tiropetes (cheese-filled strudel) to some 70 guests. Assisting for the occasion was Mrs. Irene Hart of Plymouth, who created a three-tier cake topped by a traditional crown.

On hand for the party were friends from Plymouth, Farmington, Livonia, Redford, Westland, Southfield, Dearborn Heights, Dearborn, Mt. Clemens, Sterling Heights, Ann Arbor and Cleveland.

St. Nicholas lived in the fourth century and was known as a benefactor of the poor. He is one of the most

Son Is Randall

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Robertson, 9116 Farmington Road, Livonia, announce the birth of a son, Randall Neal, on Dec. 4 in Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn. His grandparents are Mrs. H. E. Williams of Livonia and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Robertson of Union City, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Richard Uday of Woodhill Road, Southfield, announce the engagement of their daughter, Candice Lynn, to Dr. Benjamin N. Sherbin of Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sherbin of Oldham Road, Southfield. The bride-elect is a senior in the University of Michigan school of natural resources. Her fiancé graduated from the College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery in Des Moines and practices in Warren. They plan to be married Dec. 17 in the Hotel Pontchartrain and will honeymoon in New York and the Canary Islands and make their home in Warren.

Try Separates In Buying Tots' Holiday Clothes

Separates are more flexible than one-piece garments, and unfitted or empire-style dresses are not so easily outgrown as fitted styles.

These were just two of the suggestions on buying gift clothes for pre-schoolers offered at a recent fashion show of children's clothing at Hudson's.

CONSIDERING THE rate at which children grow, it's also wise to look for deep hems to let down (if a pressed in or faded hemline shows, cover it with lace, braid or ribbon).

Too-short jumpers can have a new and longer life with the addition of colored leggings or tights.

When buying new clothes, parents are also advised to look for tucks and pleats around shoulder lines and large underarm seams to "give" with growth.

One of the first things to look for in buying clothes for pre-schoolers is ease in handling. This promotes self-reliance and could prevent an accident. When the child tries on new garments, watch to see if he can handle buttons, zippers, snaps and any decorative metal fasteners himself, say Hudson's experts.

What the child likes to do and does most also should be taken into consideration. Does he mostly crawl, climb or sit? Matching or coordinating cover panties with little girls' dresses help at the heavily worn seat area. In boys' trousers, look for rivets or bar tacking at the crotch and pocket sides.

Reinforced knees are invaluable and don't have to be noticeable. Look for fused transparent patches on the inside of the pant legs.

BESIDES EASE of handling, durability and growing room, other value gauges are finished seams, good seam allowance, straight, flat seams that won't pucker and flat-laying zippers on firmly woven tape. Zippers should lock at the top and not slide down. Once up, zipper pulls should remain flat against the garment and not pop up or protrude.

"Real clothing value is getting these features along with a good price," says Lucky Weddigen, area sales manager in children's wear. There's little value in low prices without these quality checks, she stresses.

How important is fashion at this age? Clothes help form a child's opinion of himself. They can make him feel good about himself and contribute to a good school experience. However, fashion for preschoolers should be practical first.

For example, the layered look is practical because it means many interchangeable separates which can add variety and versatility to the wardrobe. But for some very small children, all these pieces can be too much to handle, points out Mrs. Weddigen.

ONE SOLUTION is this case is to search for the layered look built in—a set—in vest, sleeves of different material, white collar and cuffs and skirt or slacks sewn as one garment.

The same effect as a shrink top-over-sweater is available in single garments.

Mrs. Weddigen offers these clothing care suggestions:

Keep a file box by the washing machine with cards for each garment. Put the hang tags and product information from new items on the cards. Label individually—"Susie's red sweater," "Tommy's gray slacks," etc.—along with date of purchase.

When in doubt, always check laundering instructions.

GROWING GIRLS can get long use from smock-styled dresses such as this. When it gets short, just pop it over slacks or tights. Kristine Pesut of Windsor is the model.

RNs May Go Back To School

Registered nurses may update their skills before returning to work through 240-hour courses beginning Jan. 29 in Hutzel Hospital in Detroit and in the spring in Schoolcraft and Oakland Community Colleges.

The courses, conducted by the Michigan division of vocational education in cooperation with the Michigan Nurses Association and the Michigan Employment Security Commission, all include clinical practice in hospitals as well as classroom work.

Diagnostic and therapeutic measures used in care of adult medical-surgical patients will be covered in the eight-week courses that involve four six-hour sessions each week.

The course at Hutzel Hospital, 432 E. Hancock, Detroit, will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Registration should be done through Ruth E. Blakeley, R.N., at the Michigan Employment Security Commission, 7310 Woodward, Detroit.

The course at Schoolcraft College will begin April 16, and also will offer 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. classes four times a week.

Clinical practices will be at Annapolis Hospital in Garden City.

The training course being offered through Oakland Community College will be conducted in William Beaumont Hospital, 3601 W. 13 Mile, Royal Oak. It will be conducted four evenings a week, from 4 to 10:30 p.m., beginning March 12.

Registrations should be in by Dec. 14 or as soon as possible for the course at Hutzel. Those interested in the Schoolcraft or OCC courses may contact Miss Blakeley for registration information.

Candlelight Vows Unite Finleys

A candlelight ceremony Oct. 21 in St. Paul Lutheran Church in Northville united Linda Sue Parlette and Mark Joseph Finley in marriage.

Their parents, Plymouth residents, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parlette of Robinwood Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Foy Finley of Ann Arbor Road.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory sateen and cluny lace gown with high neckline, lantern sleeves and chapel train. Her short veil fell from a camelot cap of lace, and she carried a nosegay of deep red, pink and white dried flowers.

DIANA PARLETTE, as maid of honor for her sister, wore a ruby red velvet gown with a cluny lace bib front. Dressed like her were the bridesmaids, Carol Parlette, another sister, and Sue and Marikay Finley, the bridegroom's sisters. All carried nosegays of dried flowers and wore flower clusters and ribbon in their hair.

Harold Wilhelm of Ypsilanti was best man. Seating the guests were Wayne Tormala of Southgate, Jerome Kimble of Ferndale and Ron Finley, brother of the bridegroom.

Both mothers selected pastel gowns for the wedding and church hall buffet dinner reception. Mrs. Parlette's costume was pink and Mrs. Finley's pale green.

THE YOUNG COUPLE went to the Smoky Mountains for their honeymoon and will live in Plymouth.

The new Mrs. Finley is a 1971 graduate of Plymouth High School and employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Her husband graduated from Plymouth High in 1968 and is a senior at Eastern Michigan University. He is employed by the Hawthorn Center.

Area Soroptimists Announce 1973 Awards Of Merit

Soroptimist Clubs in Farmington, Livonia, Plymouth and Redford are announcing the start of their 1973 Youth Citizenship Award competitions.

Each club will award prizes of $150, $100 and $50 to three top high school seniors in its area.

First place winner in each locality will be eligible to compete for the $1,000 award in the Soroptimist Midwest region, one of 17 awards given in 15 regions and two affiliated areas by the Soroptimist Federation of the Americas, Inc.

Regional winners then may compete for a $1,500 finalist award.

IN 1972 James Abowd of Harrison High School in Farmington won his local competition and then went on to win the $1,000 midwest region prize.

All young people who will graduate from area schools by June 1973, are eligible in the competitions. All may get information and application forms from their high school counselors.

Awards are made on the basis of service, dependability, leadership and sense of purpose. All applications must be accompanied by three letters from adults not related to the candidate.

Local winners will be selected by a judging committee outside the membership of the Soroptimist clubs.

THE SOROPTIMIST Foundations Youth Citizenship Awards are not scholarships but awards of merit. They are paid in cash, and the winners are free to use them in the way that will best further their aims and purposes, for travel, for example as well as college tuition.

Minnie Zielke is chairman of the Farmington competition. Other Soroptimist members taking charge in the other areas are J. M. Sanderson in Livonia, Sharon Cotton in Redford and Garnet Trower in Plymouth.

The deadline for submitting applications is Jan. 1, 1973.

Childbirth Unit Will Show Film

The Childbirth Preparation Association will sponsor the showing of the film "American Naissance: A Journey With a Friend" at 8 p.m., Friday, Dec. 15, in Christ Lutheran Church, 2535 Ford Road, Dearborn Heights. A donation of $1 per couple is requested.

A couple who practice the Lamaze method of childbirth will be on hand to answer questions.

The association, a volunteer service organization of women who have used Lamaze, offers classes in Redford Township, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Trenton, and Wyandotte. A new series begins approximately every seven weeks. Interested persons should write to the Childbirth Preparation Association, P.O. Box 73, Lincoln Park, 48146.

MORE THAN $800 was raised in a rummage sale Dec. 9 sponsored by the auxiliary of the North Western Guidance Clinic in Garden City. Also received were the contributions of two wheelchairs and a table for use in the Merriman House Placement Center for mentally-handicapped teens. From left, looking over sale items, are Johanna Hall of the NWGC staff, Evelyn Wolf, auxiliary chairman and Janet Blumberg of the NWGC board of directors.

Farmington Club Will Entertain

Members of the Soroptimist Club of Farmington will hold a party for the 26 clients of Farmington's work activity center, New Horizons of Oakland County, at noon Thursday, Dec. 14.

The party will be held in the center, 31500 Grand River. The business and professional women of the club will bring in a meal of fried chicken, French fries, salads, pop and candy for the physically and mentally handicapped clients.

The Soroptimists adopted the center as a standing project after learning of the rehabilitation program from Mrs. Rita Moshammer, who is a supervisor at the facility. She is also a Soroptimist.

On Dec. 15, Farmington's New Horizons workshop members will join their colleagues from the Pontiac workshop and another work activity center in Madison Heights for a Christmas party. This event will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., in Mercy Center, 11 Mile and Middle Belt, Farmington.

All-Scout Skating Party Set Dec. 29

Livonia Girl Scouts are invited to take part in an all-scout skating party planned for Friday, Dec. 29 at Ford Field, Lyndon and Farmington Rds.

Coordinating the event is Mrs. Joyce Green, 9131 Brentwood, Livonia. In its third year, the skating party this year will open with a ceremony featuring flags from around the world, Mrs.

Green said. The event will close with the traditional scout goodnight circle with the girls still on skates.

Another innovation will be the opportunity for scouts to work toward the skater badge. Any troop interested in joining the fun is asked to contact Mrs. Green. Cost of the party is 50 cents per girl and the admission must be prepaid.

League Sets Tea

Mrs. Ann Page of Ann Arbor will speak on recycling for members of the Plymouth Northville League of Women Voters at their holiday tea scheduled at 1 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 14, in the clubhouse of King's Mill Apartments on Northville Road, Northville. Guests will be welcome at the session.

Mrs. Page represents the speakers' bureau of ENACT, an organization that concerns itself with recycling of consumer products.

She will discuss the latest legislation in that area and the action private citizens can take to implement reuse and recycling. The information is being presented in preparation for taking consensus on the future federal role in solid waste management.

Introducing Mrs. Page will be Mrs. Donald Stacy, newly-elected president of the Plymouth-Northville LWV. Dried floral arrangements for holiday giving will be available for sale at the tea.

Trojan Band Gets Trip--If

Clarenceville's award-winning high school marching band will take part in the National Cherry Festival in Traverse City next July if members can raise most of the expenses themselves.

The school board last week agreed to underwrite the cost of gas and oil and to furnish three school buses to transport the 140-member band. The salary of band director John Nezek will also be paid.

As for the other expenses like food and lodging, the band members will have to raise the funds themselves, it was agreed.

CONCURRING with the board's action was Nezek.

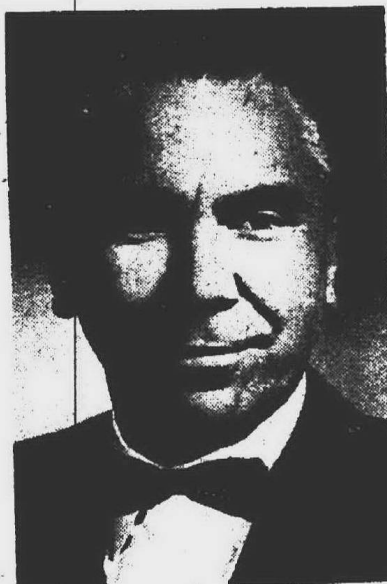

"No way would we ask the school district to finance this trip," Nezek commented. "We raised the money for the Washington competition and for a similar trip to Traverse City in '67-'68--and we'll do it again," he said.

Estimated cost of the trip is $5,000. Nezek said he was hopeful of getting volunteer bus drivers which would cut down the cost considerably.

But before he does anything, the band director said he planned to poll band parents to see how many students are interested and available. If enough interest is shown fund raising plans would begin, he said.

Participation in the cherry festival July 9-14 is by invitation only. Select bands with outstanding reputations for fine performances have been invited to compete, the festival committee said. Kenneth G. Bloomquist, director of bands at Michigan State University, will be guest conductor.

EDWARD W. SCHENING of Orchard Lake was appointed vice president of manufacturing for the corporate staff of Burroughs Corp. Schening, who joined Burroughs in 1935, has held several management positions including the general managership of the Plymouth plant in 1965. In 1954 he was chief design engineer of the Plymouth plant.

But Not Detroit Busing OK -- To Walled Lake

By MARIE McGEE
To quote school trustee Ray Chaiken, it'll be like "going out first class and returning tourist."

But at least the 66 Clarenceville students will have some elbow room to eat their lunches on the bus while en route to area vocational classes at Walled Lake High School.

The board last week approved the request from high school Principal Ray Renbarger to add an extra bus to carry students to the school. For the trip back, however, they will have to jam into one bus as they now do.

The board granted the request when it was learned that the bus ride to Walled Lake also serves as the students' lunch period and that many of the students are forced to sit three in a seat.

"IT DOESN'T give them very much room," stated Supt. David McDowell, who added that he fought the request for the extra bus "since September until I learned that it is the only break these kids have between classes."

The school district will be reimbursed up to 80 per cent of the cost by the state, it was disclosed.

In discussing the vocational classes it was revealed that Clarenceville has the highest attendance record of any of the schools transporting students to the classes.

"The kids are sticking to it and like it," commented Dr. Renbarger.

THE SCHOOL board also made two other decisions involving buses.

One was to authorize business manager Edward Salisz to order replacements for two 1965 vehicles.

Salisz said the district has the opportunity to save a considerable amount of money if the order is placed by Dec. 22. Salisz said the bus company had offered to sell the bodies at last year's prices, which could result in a savings up to $1,000. A similar offer was made by the company which supplies the bus chassis.

"Possibly, there could be a savings of $100 to $200 per chassis," reported Salisz.

THE BOARD authorized an emergency expenditure made by Supt. David McDowell involving the district's role in the Detroit integration plan.

A resolution passed last Thursday officially authorized the school district attorneys, Dell, Shantz, Booker and Schulte, to carry Clarenceville's appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

The move to the higher court came when the appellate court recently turned down Clarenceville's plea and an appeal before the Supreme Court had to be filed within 90 days.

CHS Field House Too Costly

Budget-conscious Clarenceville Board of Education members have decided to wait until next year to make a decision on a new field house at the high school.

A look at the architect's plans for a new facility last week prompted the board to back away from any commitment for the time being.

Estimated costs of the new facility are far more than the board had anticipated, according to board president Dr. Samuel Prisk. The board had figured spending around $100,000 for the sports facility, including new bleachers, but learned from architects that the costs would be closer to $260,000.

WITH STUDENT enrollment on the decline and the limited amount of time the field house is actually in use, the board agreed to hold a "study" session in January "to re-evaluate and set some new priorities" before making a final decision.

The board has already agreed to drop plans for new bleachers because of the cost. They also have tentatively abandoned plans to renovate the present structure, favoring instead a smaller but completely new structure.

"These are some of the things we will take up at the study session," Dr. Prisk said. By that time, too, the district will have a budget printout on how much money is actually available to spend on the proposed facility, he added.

The district still has the spectre of tax reassessment refunds looming on the horizon.

2 Businesses Fined $450

The Michigan Liquor Control Commission has fined two local businesses for selling to a minor and dismissed charges against a third local business.

The Quik Pik Food Store at 38675 Ann Arbor Rd., Livonia, was fined $300 after a hearing in Lincoln Park on Nov. 21. A 15 day suspension of the store's liquor license was waived.

Marco's Inn, 38410 Grand River, Farmington, was fined $75 for selling to a minor and another $75 for a minor consuming liquor on the premises.

A charge on the premises being occupied after the legal hour on June 2, was dismissed against Cloverlanes Bowl, 28900 Schoolcraft, Livonia.

New Cultural Center Opened With Fanfare

PLYMOUTH
This is the most beautiful building of its kind I ever have seen -- and the people of Plymouth have every right to be real proud of it.

These words, spoken by Mrs. Jack Adams, widow of the man who made the entire state "hockey conscious" as the manager of the Red Wings, sounded the keynote of the dedication of the Plymouth Cultural Center Sunday afternoon.

More than 200 persons who gathered for the ceremony echoed Mrs. Adams' words as they toured the $1.5 million dollar facility that includes an ice rink equal to the size of the hockey surface in the Olympia Stadium.

So impressed with the facility was Mrs. Adams that, at the conclusion of the dedication program, she announced the presentation of a perpetual trophy to be known as "the Jack Adams trophy" which will be awarded to the team that wins the championship of the Plymouth leagues.

"Jack would have been so proud to have been here," she said, "and I think it is only fitting that he should be made part of it. With that in mind, I want to present a trophy that can be used like the famed Stanley Cup with the winner's name engraved on it each year."

"THAT TROPHY will have the honored place in our trophy case," City Commissioner Robert Sinecock, chairman of the dedication committee, stated, "and will be guarded as a treasure."

In the absence of Johnny Wilson, coach of the Red Wings who had been scheduled as the main speaker, Mrs.

Adams addressed the gathering in a nostalgic tone.

"I can remember when Jack and I came here," she said, "Managing, coaching and scouting, along with directing the use of a building, was a one-man job. Now, with beautiful facilities, hockey has caught on and it no longer can be handled by one person."

"Who would have dreamed that such things as reading rooms, and an auditorium would be part of a hockey rink?" she asked. "You have it all here and you have every right to be proud."

Prior to Mrs. Adams' appearance, Mayor James McKeon served over the ribbon cutting ceremony and welcomed the gathering. He told of the work that went on during the past five years to make the facility possible.

Sen. Carl Pursell served as master of ceremonies.

FOLLOWING Judge Dunbar Davis' invocation, Thomas J. Kelly, chairman of the Municipal Building Authority, presented the key to Mayor McKeon. Mrs. William LaGosch, president of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Club, presented the landscaping.

A congratulatory message from the people in Plymouth, England, was read to the gathering after which the officers of Passage Gayde Post 391 of the American Legion presented the American flag for the building.

As one of the speakers remarked, "With the dedication of this building, and the Historical Museum now under construction and the Dunning-Hough Library, Plymouth has the facilities to make it the "capital of western Wayne County."

New Laws, Trails For Snowmobilers

Eight years ago when snowmobiles were still a curiosity, an estimated 14,000 were in use nationwide — about 10 per cent of them in Michigan, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

In Michigan alone this winter, 40,000 new snowmobiles are expected to be sold as the state's number of registered snowmobiles soars well past the 300,000 mark.

By winter's end, snowmobiling will have pumped an anticipated $290 million into the state's economy. This estimate projects a $50 million increase over last winter's expenditures on snowmobiles, accessories and related items. That outlay generated almost $12 million in state tax revenues.

"To accommodate this ongoing boom, 200 more miles of state forest trails and 70 of Michigan's 79 state parks are now open to snowmobile use," notes Joseph Ratke, Auto Club's touring manager.

BUT RATKE ADVISES snowmobilers to fami-lize themselves with Michigan's tougher snowmobile restrictions before operating their vehicles this winter.

Aimed at curbing the ever-increasing snowmobile accident rate, the new law takes full effect this season. It allows snowmobiles to be driven only on road right-of-ways — not the roads themselves — north of a line from Muskegon to Bay City. Use of public roads or right-of-ways south of the line is absolutely forbidden.

An amendment to this state law which would have permitted snowmobilers to use highway right-of-ways throughout Michigan is not expected to receive legislative approval this year.

After Jan. 1, 1973, the law will prohibit children aged 12 to 15 from driving snowmobiles without adult supervision unless they have successfully completed a safe snowmobiling course. Children under 12 cannot operate a snowmobile on public property.

The State Legislature has also earmarked almost $600,000 in snowmobile registration revenues for use by state and local agencies for trail development and snowmobile safety programs.

"Snowmobile accidents claimed the lives of 30 people in Michigan during 1971-72 and injured another 1,969," says Ratke. "Hopefully, the state's more vigorous involvement in snowmobile accident prevention will change this alarming trend."

IMPRUDENT SNOWMOBILE use has also resulted in the vehicles being barred from four public game areas in southern Michigan. Maintaining that snowmobiles were harming wildlife and damaging land, the State Dept. of Natural Resources (DNR) has prohibited their use in the Danville, Gourd Lake, Minden City and Murphy Lake areas. The scramble area of the Rogue River (in Kent County) is also off-limits to snowmobiles.

To offset these closings, the DNR is in the process of leasing 18,000 acres of private land in southern Michigan for snowmobile operation.

Snowmobilers will have access to four new routes in northern Lower Michigan developed by the DNR, which now provides 900 miles of snowmobile trails in 39 state forests.

The new routes are: the Fur Farm Flooding Trail north of Clare, the Red Oak-Lovelle-Lewiston Trail between Mio and Grayling, the Rose City-Clear Lake Trail north of West Branch, and the Brush Lake Trail near Atlanta.

Under a $273,000 improvement program, the DNR has purchased eight trail-grooming machines to keep state forest trails in good shape this winter.

USE OF STATE PARK facilities, however, will be left up to the discretion of the park manager. Snowmobiles definitely will not be allowed in state parks if less than four inches of snow are on the ground.

A $5 annual park permit sticker is required for cars entering a state park. If a snowmobile is taken into a park, whether used in the park or not, it also must have a $5 vehicle sticker.

Michigan's four national forests — Ottawa, Hiawatha, Manistee and Huron — are open again this year to snowmobilers. The national forests offer a wide variety of marked trails, ranging up to 40 miles in length, plus a vast network of unmarked logging trails. Maps and trail information can be obtained in ranger district offices in the four forests.

Snowmobiling courses for youngsters aged 12 to 15 will be offered by local law enforcement agencies throughout the state. Safety certificates will be awarded upon successful completion of eight hours of classroom instruction and a two-hour examination, including operating a snowmobile.

Information on where classes will be held is available through district DNR offices and county sheriff's departments.

AUTO CLUB ADVISES all snowmobilers to keep these simple safety rules in mind this winter:

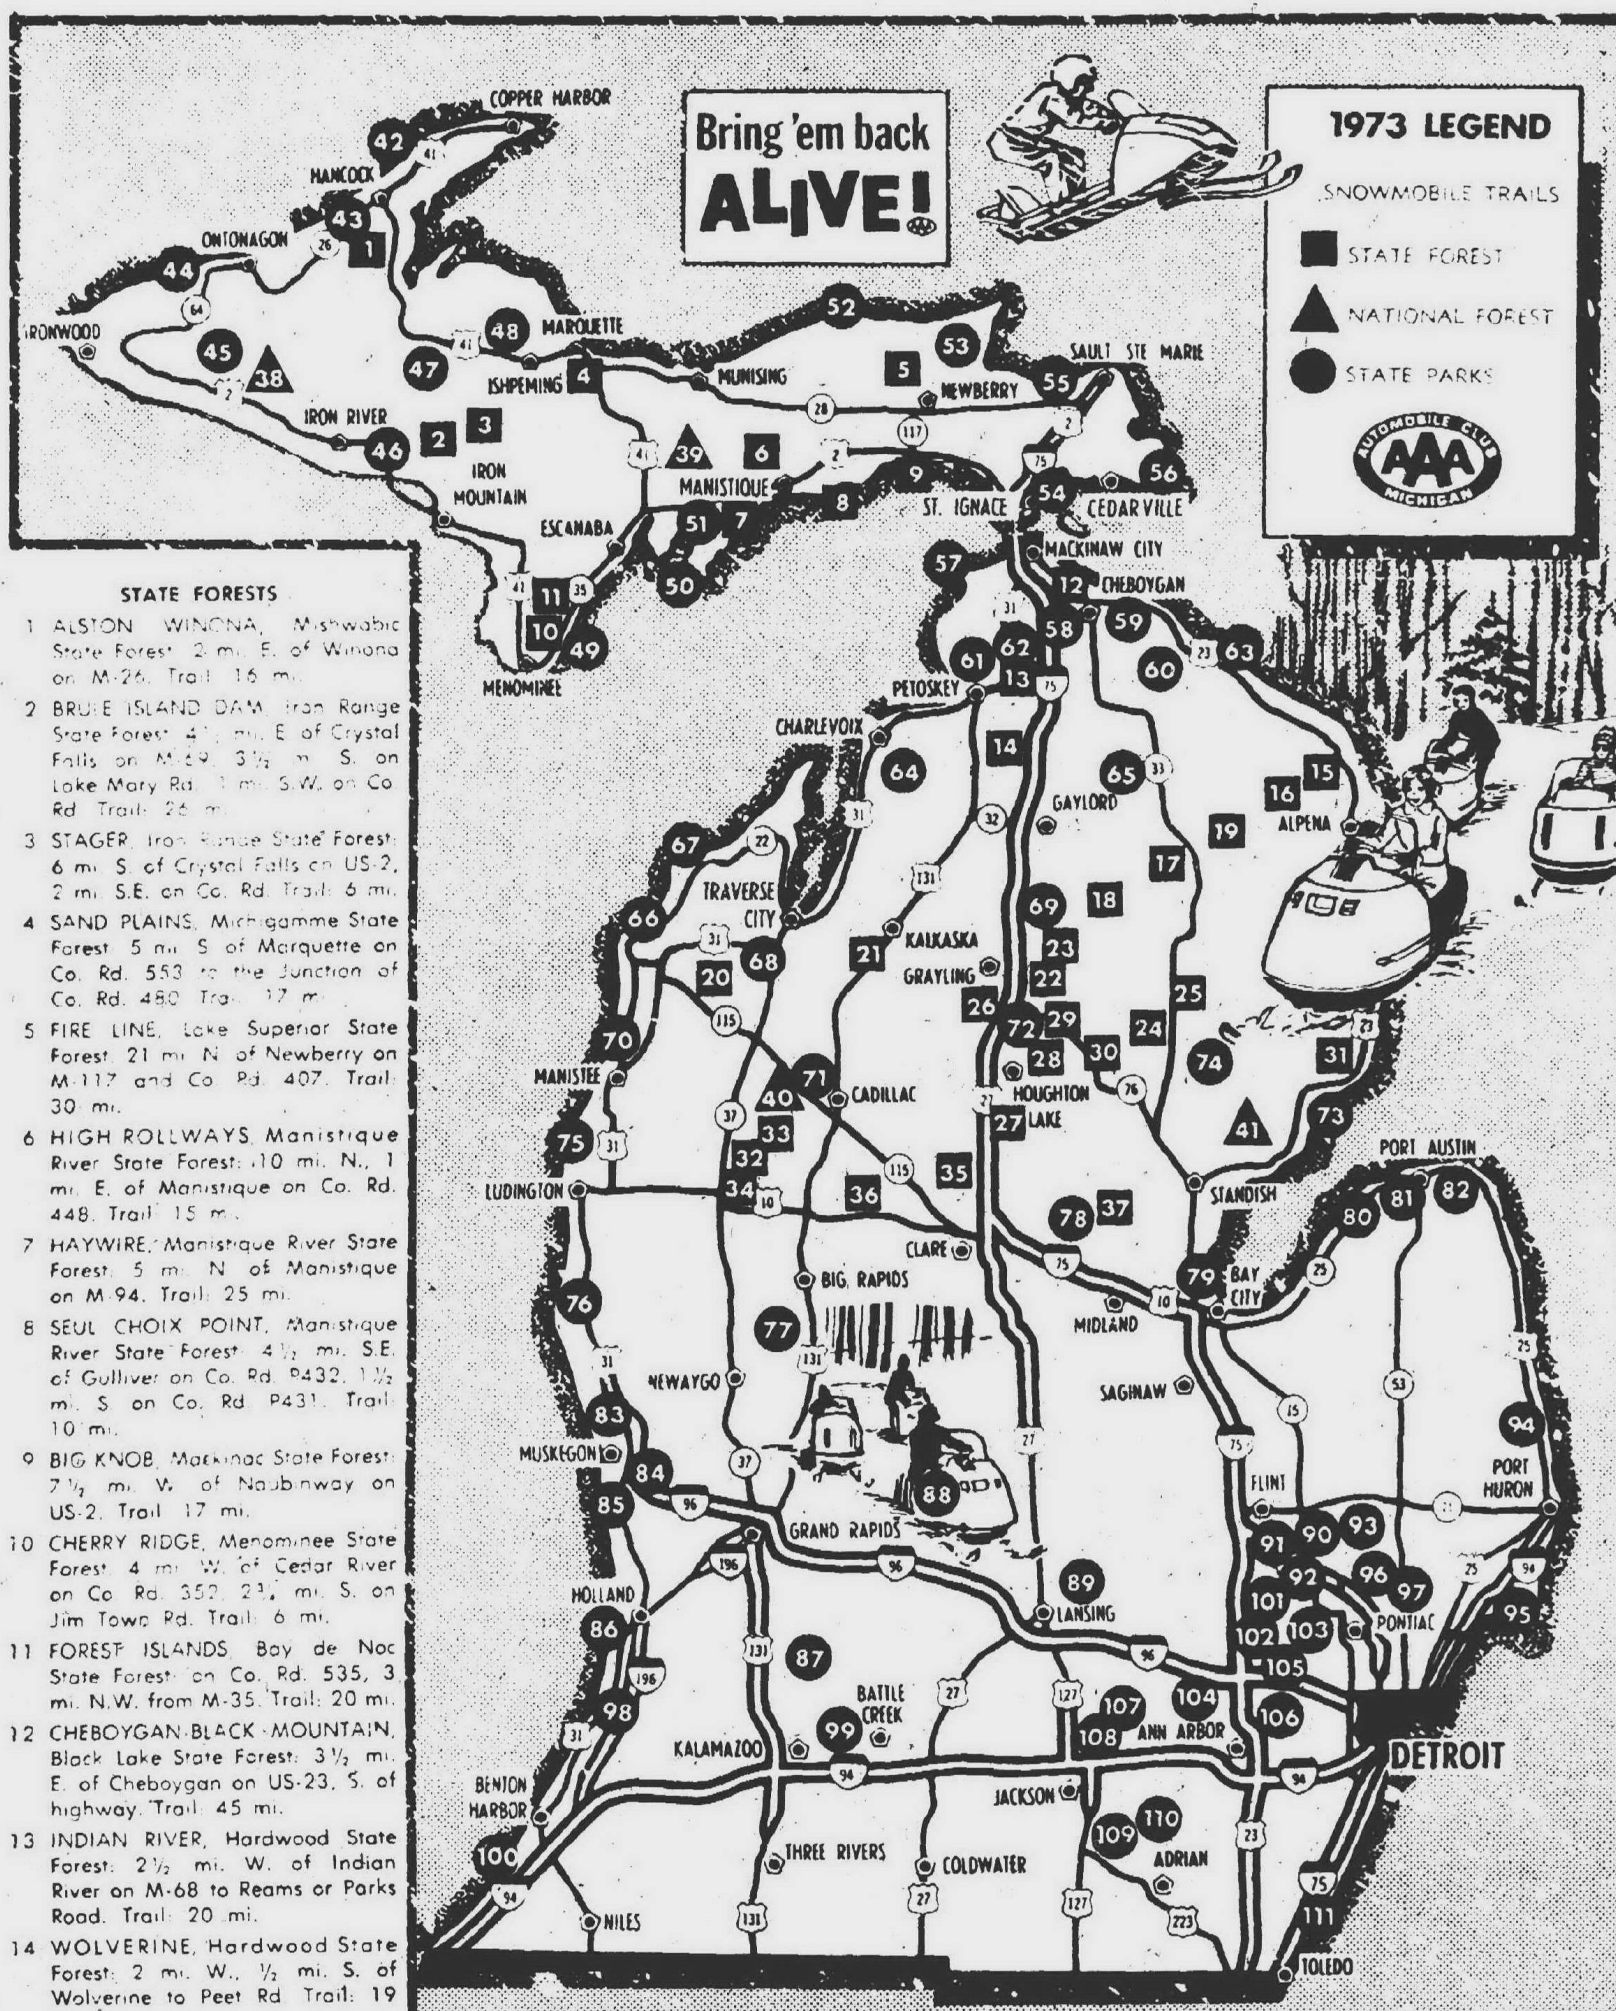

• Avoid illegal use of roadways where most snowmobile deaths occur.
• Know trails and stay on marked routes.
• Carry area maps plus a compass.
• Be aware of and abide by state snowmobile laws.

• Stay off ice on lakes and streams if conditions are unknown.
• Avoid alcohol.
• Never travel alone.
• Carry safety gear such as snow shoes, flare gun, first-aid kit, axe, extra fuel, new spark plugs, tools for minor repairs and rations.

Snowmobilers are also advised to dress appropriately for wind and weather conditions. Even moderate temperatures, coupled with wind velocity or snowmobile speed, can produce a chill factor capable of causing severe discomfort — even frostbite — to riders.

Township Rezoning OK'd

WESTLAND Developers of a $15 million townhouse complex received final approval from the Westland city council Monday night, but their troubles aren't over yet.

Publication of the zoning ordinance amendment, the final procedural step in any rezoning issue, will be delayed until it is determined if another council vote is needed.

At the center of the issue is whether 20 per cent or more of the adjacent property owners have signed petitions opposing the rezoning of 55 acres on the west side of Newburgh, just north of Ford Rd.

IF MORE than 20 percent of adjacent property owners have the names on petitions, the council must approve the ordinance approved by at least 6-1 under city charter provisions.

The motion to give final adoption to the zoning ordinance amendment was approved but by only a 4-2 vote with one councilman absent.

One time-consuming problem has already been resolved with the revelation by developer Harold Rosin that he has already ordered the required title search to see who owns the adjacent properties. The results of that search will be ready this week.

At present, petitions require only the name of the signer and his address. Rosin said that the name and address aren't enough since the occupants of the homes may not be the property owners.

THE COUNCIL agreed to have the city clerk's office prepare petitions to be used in the future for property owners objecting to a rezoning request.

Those petitions would be a sworn statement that the signers are owners of the land adjacent to a rezoning petition and would list the lot numbers of the property owners involved.

Councilmen favoring the rezoning are John Markes, Henry Lundquist, William Anderson and Robert Wagner. Opposed are Justine Barns and Paul Tavana. Absent was Glenn Shaw.

BANNERS WERE awarded to 13 elementary schools in the Wayne-Westland School District and two Lutheran schools in the city for having a flawless safety record during the 1971-72 school year. In a ceremony held at the Schweitzer School in Westland, the banners were presented to safety patrol boys and girls from Cady, Edison, McKee, Stottlemeyer, Graham, Jefferson, Wildwood, Tonquish, Patchen, Schweitzer, Hamilton, and Tinkham schools in addition to St. John and St. Matthew Lutheran Schools. Elementaries in the city of Wayne getting banners were Walker, Sheldon and Monroe. On hand for the program were School Supt. Harry Howard (left, middle row) Wayne Police safety officer Sherman Pruden (next to Howard) and Westland Police safety officer L.P. Goodlesky (right, middle row). (Observer photo)

How To Raise $63,000 -- Esch Style

The race for the 2nd Congressional district seat was an expensive one with incumbent U.S. Rep. Marvin Esch (R - Ann Arbor) spending $63,350 to recapture his position and State Rep. Marvin Stempien (D - Livonia) spending $42,300 to try to take the seat from Esch. In nine reports filed with the Washtenaw County clerk by the Nov. 27 deadline, Esch listed receipts of $67,600 primarily from Republican organizations and personal contributions. Stempien missed the deadline for his two reports reflecting an income of $41,600. His receipts show his main income was from fund-raisers reaping $15,800, donations of $14,000 from Democratic organizations and another $8,800 from organized labor.

ESCH SPENT nearly as much as he did in 1966 when he beat incumbent Democrat Wes Vivian for the congressional seat. That campaign cost him about $70,000. His prime expenditures in this campaign included $18,370 to Connelly-Stacy advertising agency in Ann Arbor for newspaper and radio ads and agency fees; $11,100 for printing; $7,200 for postage; $3,555 for travel expenses; $2,100 for campaign hats and feathers; $1,875 for rental of bill board space; $1,550 for keypunching voters lists; $1,340 for signs; $1,130 for the Bard Bash fundraiser; and $1,243 for rent.

OTHER DONATIONS include $500 from Philip Buckminister of Chrysler Corp.; $500 from Committee for Action; $500 from the estate of J.N. Pew of Philadelphia, Pa.; $500 from John W. Blodgett of Grand Rapids; $400 from E.J. and Ruth M. Shoemaker of Monroe; $300 from the Plymouth area Republican Women's Club; $300 from Life Underwriters political action committee; $250 from Johnson & Johnson employees good government fund; $250 from Max M. Fisher of Detroit; $250 from Mrs. Robert Duffey of Monroe; $250 from the political action committee for American Imported Auto Dealers Assn.; and $250 from Mrs. Ralph Manassuso of Monroe.

Ann Arbor $200; Kenneth Bronson of Ypsilanti $200; Robert Meyer of Monroe $200; Livonia Republican Women Group $200; Campaign Fund for the Environment in Washington D.C. $200; $190 from Plymouth - Northville Republicans; $130 from Wayne 2nd Congressional District Republican committee in Plymouth; $125 from E.P. Corbets of S. Euclid, Ohio; and $125 from W.C. Knake and $125 from Thomas E. Griffin of Monroe.

Joseph B. Foster of Ann Arbor; Betty Lou White of Monroe; John F. Weaver of Monroe; William E. Bander of Ann Arbor; Jane McIntyre of Monroe; Detroit Piping Industry political action committee; F. Harger Green of Plymouth; J. Gordon McDonald; Douglas D. Crary of Ann Arbor.

Schnackel of Solon, Ohio; Erwin J. Otis Jr. of Ypsilanti; Kenneth Gensler of Monroe; John M. McIntyre of LaSalle; George T. Esherick of Bethesda, Md.; David M. Diltz of Los Angeles, Calif. Also donating $100 were Duray, Stromback of Bloomfield Hills; Lewis Snook of Detroit; Harry A. Lockwood of Monroe; E.J. McCormick of Monroe; Peter Benesh of Monroe; and W.F. Dunkle of Palatine, Ill.

Stempien Run Cost $42,300

State Rep. Marvin Stempien's (D-Livonia) expenditures in the 2nd Congressional District race fell $20,000 short of his incumbent opponents expenses. Stempien spent $42,300 in his campaign compared to U.S. Rep. Marvin Esch's (R-Ann Arbor) expenditures of $63,350.

Stempien and the Stempien to Congress committee filed reports on their campaign expenditures after the Nov. 27 deadline. The committee filed on Nov. 30 and Stempien filed on Dec. 6 in the Wayne County elections office.

STEMPIEN'S prime expense was $19,300 for newspaper and radio ads. His postage cost was $5,400 while printing costs were $4,760.

Other expenditures included $3,950 for headquarters and salaries; $2,500 for fund-raisers; $1,735 for telephones; $1,170 for transportation and ads; $1,000 for signs; $500 for rent; $243 for Xerox equipment rental; and $150 on electric expenses.

Stempien's income reflected $15,800 from fund-raisers; $14,000 from Democratic organizations and $8,800 from organized labor.

He raised $2,300 from a dinner; $1,360 from his Polish party; $315 in ticket sales for a dinner and $12,842 in donations; raffle and ticket sales for a fundraiser, according to his committee report.

Democratic donations came from the Committee for total victory, $10,000; U.S. House Representatives Democratic Study Group, $2,000; Democratic Congressional Campaign committee $1,000; Wayne 19th Democrat $1,000.

ORGANIZED labor support was from the UAW, $5,000; AFL-CIO, $3,000; Transport Workers Union political contributions committee $500; and Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butchers $300.

Other donations listed were $1,000 from Michigan DRIVE; $500 from Machinists non-partisan political league and $300 from FAIR Auto Insurance reform in Detroit.

Other expenditures included $993 for paper and stationery; $930 for apartment rentals; $930 for telephones; $855 for bumper stickers; $780 for rental of typewriters; $700 for luncheons; $435 for car rentals; $425 for rental of a Xerox copier; $340 for newspaper ads not handled through Connelly - Stacy; $300 for voters lists; $300 for hotel bills; and $265 for computer labels.

ESCH REALIZED the largest portion of his income from Washington D.C. based Republican groups - $16,500. The national Republican congressional committee donated $7,500 and the Washington central Republican committee donated $9,000.

He also received 1,400 from teachers unions, including $400 from the Ann Arbor Education Assn. and $1,000 from the National Education Assn.

The Marvin Esch appreciation luncheon ticket sales realized $5,800. The Michigan Doctors

Dumas' Campaign Bill Up

A third report filed on Mary Dumas' successful campaign for Wayne County commissioner brought her total expenditures in the campaign to $2,800.

Mrs. Dumas and the Dumas for County Commissioner committee filed their campaign forms with the Wayne County elections office by the Nov. 27 deadline, but the Phantom Cocktail Party committee filed on Nov. 29.

The report shows that the committee spent and received $700. It received $215 in ticket sales and $485 from Victor A. Dumas, her husband.

It spent $600 on a newspaper ad, $65 on invitations and tickets and $30 on stamps.

Mrs. Dumas Democratic opponent, Eldon Raymond, hasn't filed his expenditures.

Awassailing, Anyone?

For $15 you can enjoy a Wassail Feast this year.

The feast is sponsored by the Detroit City Theater Association and the Detroit Institute of Arts. It will be held in the Institute's Great Hall, beginning at 6:30 p.m., Dec. 15 and 16. Mail orders should be sent, complete with checks and stamped, self-addressed envelope, to Ticket Office, Detroit Institute of Arts, Detroit, 48202.

On the menu will be a wassail bowl, mutton and barley soup, standing prime rib of beef and Yorkshire pudding, pork, leek and vegetable pie, flaming figgy pudding, madrigal singers, dancers, jugglers and a few more special surprises.

Defective Turn Signal

Complete failure of a car's turn signals generally is the result of a defective flasher unit, according to auto experts. The flasher is easily replaceable as it is a metal plug-in unit, about the size of a prescription box, generally located under the dashboard behind the parking brake.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING AIRPORT CONSTRUCTION BOARD OF WAYNE COUNTY ROAD COMMISSIONERS

The Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan announces that, pursuant to Section 16 (d) of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970 (P.L. 91-258), it will hold a Public Hearing concerning a proposed new runway and related facilities at Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport. The hearing will commence at 6:00 P.M. Eastern Standard Time, on January 5, 1973 at Romulus Senior High School 9650 South Wayne Road, Romulus Michigan 48174.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION
The proposed new runway will serve airline operations for domestic and international, as well as air cargo and general aviation activities. It will be constructed in a northeast-southwest alignment parallel to the two existing northeast-southwest runways. The runway will be 2,000 feet southeast of the existing Runway 3R 21L, and will be 10,000 feet long and 150 feet wide with a supporting taxiway system. The proposed construction will include, in addition to the runway-taxiway system, necessary runway and taxiway lighting required navigational aids, security fencing and a new storm drainage system outfalling to a new retention basin. To accommodate this runway-taxiway system it will be necessary to relocate Eureka Road and to relocate the existing perimeter drainage ditch. It will be necessary to utilize 1,524 acres of land for these improvements, which have been or will be acquired.

The hearing will afford interested persons, groups, and agencies an opportunity for public consideration of the economic, social and environmental effects of the proposed new runway and related facilities and its consistency with the goals and objectives of such urban planning as has been carried out by the community. Social, economic and environmental effects mean the direct and indirect benefits or losses to the community as a result of the proposed development. These benefits or losses may include but are not limited to effects on:

- a. Safe and efficient use of the Airport;
- b. Economic activity;
- c. Public health and safety;
- d. Property values; and
- e. The human and natural environment, including:
 - (1) Displacement of persons and replacement housing;
 - (2) Sound;
 - (3) Neighborhood character and location;
 - (4) Fish and wildlife;
 - (5) Historic, natural, scenic and recreation areas;
 - (6) Water and air quality;
 - (7) Land use;
 - (8) Protection and enhancement of natural resources and the quality of environment; and
 - (9) Feasible and prudent alternatives to potential adverse effects on the environment, including consideration of need for the proposed development.

Interested parties may present oral testimony of their views concerning these matters. Although it is not mandatory, the Wayne County Road Commission requests those intending to make oral presentations at the hearing to notify the board in writing or by telephone to Mr. Charles Van Deusen, Project Director, Mezzanine, L. C. Smith Terminal, Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport, Detroit, Michigan 48226, Telephone Area Code 313 941-4891, by Tuesday, January 2, 1973. Anyone wishing to submit questions for comment by the Road Commission in its presentation at the hearing are invited to do so in writing to the above address.

In addition, written statements and other exhibits relating to these matters will be incorporated into the transcript of the hearing, provided such statements or exhibits are submitted to Mr. James M. Davey, Managing Director of the Wayne County Road Commission, 7th Floor City County Building, Detroit, Michigan 48226, Telephone Area Code 313 224-2002, by January 29, 1973. Such written statements or other exhibits may be submitted by any interested party whether or not such party participates in the oral hearing.

In order to afford all those desiring to express their views an opportunity to be heard, each speaker should plan to limit the oral presentation to ten minutes or less. If this time allocation will not provide an adequate opportunity for a fair oral presentation of your views, please contact Mr. James M. Davey, Managing Director of the Board, in advance of the hearing. In addition, all oral presentations, written statements and other exhibits without any length limit are welcomed to supplement the oral presentation, all of which will be incorporated into the transcript.

The Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan are required pursuant to FAA Order 5050.2 and Section 102 (2)(c) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (P.L. 91-190) to prepare a Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement relating to the proposed runway project. This environmental statement is based on studies performed by the environmental consultants to the Board, R. Dixon Speas Associates, Inc., 47 Hillside Avenue, Manassas, Long Island, New York, New York 11030, the Mittle Corporation, 1820, Dole Madison Boulevard, McLean, Virginia 22101, and the staff of the Wayne County Road Commission.

At the hearing copies of the following documents will be available for review by those attending:
1. The Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Statement
2. The Airport Layout Plan
3. The applicable sections of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970, the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 and FAA Order 5050.2
Copies of the following documents will be distributed at the Public hearing:

1. A summary version of the Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement
2. The Airport Layout Plan
3. A limited number of copies of the Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement

The following documents will be available for review at the Office of the Airport Project Director, Mezzanine, L. C. Smith Terminal, Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport, Detroit, Michigan 48226, Telephone Area Code 313 941-4891:

1. Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement
2. The Airport Master Plan
3. The Airport Layout Plan
4. The applicable sections of the Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970, the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 and FAA Order 5050.2
5. The Passenger Terminal and Cargo Facilities Master Plan Report prepared by Arnold Thompson Associates, Inc. dated June 1972
6. The Landmark & Brown Master Plan Report for Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport dated 1967
7. The Master Plan documents of the communities adjacent to the Airport
8. The applicable air and water quality standards
9. Relevant communications concerning the National Airport System Plan

These documents will be available for review thirty (30) days prior to the Public Hearing and for twenty-one (21) days after the Public Hearing. To aid in the dissemination of the vital information concerning this Public Hearing the 19 locations listed following this paragraph have agreed to offer the following documents during the hours listed for the 30 days prior to the Public Hearing and for 21 days after the Public Hearing. The documents available at these locations are:

1. A copy for review at that location of the Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement
 2. A summary of the Preliminary (Draft) Environmental Impact Statement which interested parties may feel free to take
 3. The Airport Layout Plan which interested parties may also take. It should be noted that any of the three documents listed above will be mailed upon request to any individual upon calling or writing the Airport Project Director at the address and telephone number listed above.

Focus: HOPE Folk Festival Is Dec. 17

The Focus: HOPE Christmas Folk Festival 4 will be held at 2 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 17, in the Raven Gallery, Greenfield and 12 Mile, Southfield.

Scheduled to appear are Phil Marcus Esser, Ron Coden, Dean Rutledge, Brandywine, Mike and Barbara Smith, Charlie Latimer, Jonathan Round, Phillips, Brooks and Cooney, Robert Jason, Dave Alexander, Arnie and Bobbie Andrews. Television personality Bob Hynes will assist with the introductions.

Previous festivals have been sellouts.

Tickets are available at the Raven Gallery and at Focus: HOPE, 1125 Oakman Blvd., Detroit. Some will also be on sale at the door. Advance tickets are $3.50. At the door, they are $4.

All proceeds will go to Focus: HOPE, an organization which was originated after the 1967 riots, to help deal with racial problems. One of its projects right now is concerned with the Detroit supplemental food program which provides protein for young children and pregnant women.

A volunteer organization, its director is the Rev. William T. Cunningham.

LINDA BAMFORD of Redford Township will play a flute solo in the Redford Civic Symphony's Christmas concert, set for 4 p.m., Dec. 17. She is a 1972 graduate of Thurston High School and is now studying music therapy at Western Michigan University. The concert will be held in the gymnasium of Redford Union High School, Kinloch and Curtis, and will also feature the Ford Motor Chorus. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Diabetics To Benefit

Diabetic children will benefit from the Dec. 18 premiere of the film "1776" at the American Theater in Southfield. Tickets are available, at $5, $10 and $20, by calling the Michigan Diabetes Association, 6131 W. Outer Drive, Detroit.

All proceeds will go to Camp Midicha, one of the first camps in the nation for diabetic youngsters. It has a recreational and social program, and also teaches the youngsters to follow a rigid diet, regulate their physical activity and give themselves their daily shots of insulin.

The film is an adaptation of the award-winning musical and portrays the intrigue and personalities surrounding the Declaration of Independence. Although it is historically accurate and thus educational, it is a highly entertaining view of the human and humorous side of the founding fathers.

PETER PAN points out the advantages of flying as members of the Darling family look on. Peter Pan is really Carey Dietrich of Farmington and her young friends are (from left) Sue Fronczak of Farmington, Jim Siemert of Livonia and Jeff Lee of Northville. "Peter Pan" will be staged at 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 16, in Franklin High School, 31000 Joy Road (between Merriman and Middle Belt), Livonia, by Russ Vogel's Production Players. Tickets will be sold at the door.

A dozen Years ago...

They walked in a few days before we opened, asking for jobs parking cars. They've been on the lot ever since. In fact, they own it. It's their bag... and in all these years, they've never missed a day. In fact, they expanded and have three or four helpers.

... something you don't find at other restaurants. It's one of those things about the Scotch that is different. If you're a regular, you don't think much about it. Ed and Harold are there... always were and always will be. You know you can count on them taking care of you... part of a night out at the Scotch. Like everything else about the place:

By TIM RICHARD

Ever hear of a show where the chorus steals scenes from the principal characters?

I happens in "Sweet Charity," the musical offering for the season of the Livonia-Redford Theater Guild, and you have three chances this weekend to see it in Bentley High School, Five Mile at Hubbard in Livonia.

Choreographer Bonnie McFarland has done a superb job with the chorus line of mostly suburban housewives, traditionally the butt of jokes in a community musical.

"Big Spender" is topped later by "Rich Man's Frug," and then by "Rhythm of Life," a delightful multi-media presentation spoofing a drug culture church. All have a delightful assortment of costumes (designed by Emma Saley and Warren Reinecker), legs, gestures and fun.

DEBRA MIMS, a Marygrove student who teaches dance, and Shirley

Amusements

Carson, a television production assistant, give strong support as Charity's best girlfriends among the dance hall hostesses.

Howard Egan, one of the best actors in these parts, is appropriately strong - voiced but virginal as Charity's idolized boyfriend, and Dave Tucker, who a year ago was in the audience, stands out as an acting "find" as Herman, the dance hall fuhrer.

Neil Simon's script contains a number of one-liners that can't be botched, and weren't. Unfortunately, a lot of the small scenes were "soft" and punchless. Only the big scenes and chorus lines prevented a dull evening.

THE STUDENT band was fair at its best, bad at times and occasionally a disaster.

Many of Cy Coleman's melodies are as subtle and complex as Debussy's, which is perhaps why only a couple from this show ever made the hit parade, and precise musicianship is absolutely essential. What was heard, however, even threw a veteran singer like Paul Dufault so that he ended a love song on a terrible clinker.

"Sweet Charity" is famous for its mild bawdiness, but there was one obscenity in the opening night performance - the Bentley piano that was obviously, grossly out of tune. Why in hell the conductor didn't discontinue using the instrument, tell the pianist to play only left-handed or get the pianist to play an octave or two lower is quite beyond me.

THE ROLE of Charity is lengthy, demanding and a physical grind for even a female athlete. Roly - poly

GREENFIELD VILLAGE Players Dennis Spaight, Irene Schweyer, Dr. Joseph French and Kenneth Chomont look over some of the masks being made for their Christmas production of "Puss in Boots" at the Henry Ford Museum Theater Dec. 16-31. Directed by Dr. French, this special holiday version of the popular folk tale was written by Chomont.

'Puss In Boots' Gets New Look

DEARBORN The traditional Mother Goose tale "Puss in Boots" will come to life in a fanciful new version for the Christmas season on the stage of the Henry Ford Museum Theater. It is being presented by the Greenfield Village Players to recall the days when theatrical "pageants" were an integral part of the holiday scene.

In a charming script, complete with original music and lyrics, by Kenneth Chomont, the indomitable Puss faithfully serves his master Foofarello through a series of adventures in which he is swindled out of his inheritance and travels to Big City. There he meets a lovely Princess and her wicked Lord Protector, a smooth-talking medicine man-magician and a three-headed ogre.

As in all good fairy tales,

Foofarello discovers he has a fairy godmother, a member of the fairy godmother's union, who is only of minimal assistance because "sometimes a person's better for trials." His two brothers, named Bovinus and Dandini, are the main cause of most of these trials, but he gets help from a magic water pump which dispenses coins.

The medicine man makes his first entrance in a balloon from the sky, thunder and lightning accompany every appearance of the dreaded ogre, doors open and close by themselves and at one point, a huge dragon, breathing smoke and fire, fills the stage.

There are matinee and evening performances at 2:30 and 7:30 on Dec. 16 and from Dec. 16-31. There is also a matinee on Dec. 23.

Special performances for school groups are being offered for the first time this year. They will be from Dec. 18-22, at 10 a.m.

Tickets will be available at the theater box office at $2.25 for adults and $1 for children under 15.

To make reservations for school groups, write or call Theater Arts Department, Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, 48121.

Winnie's Early Years Make Exciting Film

By BETTY MASSON

These are the facts, set forth in any encyclopedia. These are also the facts which come alive and are more gripping than any fictional story in the film "Young Winston."

Working from Churchill's own memoirs, "My Early Life," writer Carl Foreman and director Richard Attenborough have done a masterful job of heightening the impact of the audience's knowledge of what Churchill becomes by focussing on his defeats and victories as a young man.

AT FIRST, there were many more of the former. We meet Churchill at the age of seven being sent away to school, where he is told by the humorless headmaster that his school years will set the pattern for his whole life. If he fails there, he will be a failure all his life. And young Churchill is a failure when it comes to writing exams and feigning an interest in things which don't interest him.

He also fails to communicate with his brilliant father. When finally, on the third exam, he is able to get into Sandhurst, the brash young Churchill is delighted; his father is disappointed in him and tells him so.

YOUNG WINSTON

Rating: PG

When his father dies (of syphilis), Churchill realizes that he must make his name known and thus win the Parliamentary seat he covets (to follow in his father's footsteps and vindicate the suicidal stand which cost him his career). The best way to do this in this era is to win fame in war. He also enlists the help of his American-born mother, Jennie Jerome.

HE TAKES part in an engagement on the Indian frontier, and wins honors for his bravery. He also incurs the wrath of Lord Kitchener for a book critical of the conduct of these engagements.

He promptly wrangles his way into fighting in the Sudan under Lord Kitchener and takes part in the last full-scale British calvary charge. He again distinguishes himself for courage and comes home to run for Parliament.

He is defeated and must do some more fighting to make his name more famous, whereupon he sets out for the Transvaal and the Boer War.

He is taken captive, after saving half of an ambushed trainload of soldiers, and escapes, finally making his name famous throughout the world, at the age of 25.

Simon Ward does a masterful job of portraying the emerging Churchill with the out-thrust jaw and incisive oratory of World War II fame. Anne Bancroft also turns in one of her finest performances as his mother.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

LEO CALWHO?

Films listed in this guide are showing in area theaters. Check the theater listings for the specific theater and time of showings.

THEY ONLY KILL THEIR MASTERS—James Garner stars in this mystery-comedy, along with Katharine Ross, Hal Holbrook and Harry Guardino. (PG, none)

RAGE—George C. Scott both directs and stars in this story of a man's revenge against the Army for the death of his son and the loss of his land.

DELIVERANCE—Four men challenge a river and a group of hostile mountaineers. Stars Burt Reynolds and Jon Voight. (R, none)

A SEPARATE PEACE—Set in the summer of 1942, this story is about life in a boys' boarding school. Based on the novel by John Knowles. (PG, none)

LADY SINGS THE BLUES—Based on the life of the legendary Billie Holiday, it has Diana Ross in the leading role. (R, none)

THE VALACHI PAPERS—More about the Mafia, based on Peter Maas's book of the same name. (R, none)

SWINGIN' STEWARDESSES—This is a not-very interesting attempt at combining a travelogue and sexploits. (X, C)

Industry ratings: G—suggested for general audiences; GP—suggested for mature audiences (parental discretion advised); R—restricted—persons under 17 not admitted, unless accompanied by parent or adult guardian; X—persons under 18 not admitted—age restrictions may be higher; check theater; A-1—Morally unobjectionable—for general patronage; A-2—Morally unobjectionable—for adults—adolescents; A-3—Morally unobjectionable—for adults; A-4—Morally unobjectionable for adults with reservations; B—Morally objectionable in part for all; C—Condemned.
