Vacancies

The Plymouth city manager position and one seat on the Canton Township board of trustees are vacant. The search for the new city manager has hit a snag and at least five candidates are unofficially in the running for the Canton appointment. Both stories appear on

Competitors?

It's official now that girl athletes can compete on boys' teams. But should they? It's a question that has provoked a lot of serious thought, and you may find some experts' answers rather surprising. It's in today's Women's Section.

Turnover

When Schoolcraft College trustees walked into their meeting, picking a new board chairman wasn't on the agenda. But they changed that - and the chairman, too.

Will Canton Township Gain Its Own Direction, Identity?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles dealing with Canton Township's search for identity and independence.

CANTON

If you've driven down Sheldon Road south of Joy Road on a recent Sunday afternoon, you've noticed the families in their station wagons driving from model home to model home in the new subdivisions.

They've come in response to advertisements in newspapers that say:

"The beautiful Plymouth area offers you low taxes, nearby shopping and recreation."

The house offers "Plymouth School District schools."

Or that the area is "No. 1 in school convenience."

Nowhere do the ads say, "This development is in Canton Township" - although that's where the currently advertised "Plymouth" developments are.

And the prospective house-buyer is further confused by the subdivision names like: "Plymouth Landing," "Plymouth Mills," "Olde Plymouth," and "Plymouth Park."

None of those is in Plymouth or Plymouth Township.

A map in one advertisement for the Republic Development Corporation's Plymouth Landing development shows the city of Plymouth located 1½ miles south of its real location.

WHAT BEARING does all this have on Canton Township's identity?

The Plymouth Mail & Observer posed that question to Philip Dingley and John Flodin, Canton Township's supervisor and clerk.

They agreed that while Canton is being sold on the basis of its proximity to Plymouth, eventually it would gain its own identity.

"Canton's going to become more Canton," Flodin said. "There's Canton, Ohio and a Canton, Ill. or Wisconsin; and we could have a name of our own."

Canton Township used to have a name of its own when it was a leading agricultural area. But now its mildly-rolling fields are yielding rows of houses that will have a Plymouth telephone exchange and a Plymouth address and families that will send their children to Plymouth schools and shop in Plymouth.

DINGLEY credited Plymouth School District - which takes in about 70 per cent of Canton Township - with drawing many of the new families.

"You know why? The Plymouth School District is recognized as a very good district, and busing is another thing," the supervisor said. Plymouth School District has not been included in any of

Ford Ties Numerical Crime Rise To Reporting Procedure Changes

By MAURIE WALKER

Although there was some increase in crime in Plymouth during 1972, the city again remained free of murder and had only one armed robbery.

These facts were revealed in the annual report by Police Chief Timothy Ford, who said that in 1971, three armed robberies were reported. Unarmed robberies rose from one in 1971 to four last year.

In the "crimes against person" category, which includes homicide, robbery, assault and rape, the figure rose by 32.8 per cent over the preceding year.

However, Ford explained this increase reflects his method of reporting crime, such as assists to other police departments and responding to alarms, two categories not included in previous reports. The chief said that while the rape figure shows there were five last year compared to one the previous year, attempted rape was included under that category last year. This was not so in 1971.

BOOSTING THE figure under the "crimes against person" category were aggravated assaults which climbed from 15 in 1971 to 33 in 1972.

There was one assault with intent to murder, the attack on Charles Finlan last May. None was reported the previous year. Assault with weapons rose from three in 1971 to 10 in 1972.

Ford said that under his system of reporting crimes, it is almost impossible to compare figures with the previous year (1972 was his first full year as chief).

As an example, he cited the larceny figure which shows that larceny over $50 rose from 140 in 1971 to 185 last year.

"The 1972 figure includes attempted larceny, which wasn't included in 1971's report," Ford said. "In addition, in this report we have, in many categories, included responding to alarms as part of the total figure."

As an example, he cited the non-residence burglary figure which climbed from 58 in 1971 to 111 in 1972.

"Many of these were false alarms," he said. The residence burglary figure also shows an increase of 14 in a year. There were 36 in 1971, and 50 in 1972.

FORD SAID that to help reduce burglaries, his department has made recommendations to the victims. "Many of the suggestions have been implemented, and there appears to be significant improvement in this category of offense during the past two months."

He added that for the potential non-resident burglary victim, his "target toughening program" has been put into effect.

"This involves a number of collateral actions. For the police department, the program requires special patrols, surveillance, and allied security techniques."

"For the potential victim, the program requires an intensive review of his vulnerability and a realistic view of what he can do about it."

Ford said that if the potential victim is willing to spend the time, effort and money required, "his vulnerability can be reduced to virtual zero."

TURNING TO the drug picture in Plymouth, the chief said that 19 violations were reported last year compared to eight in 1971 and 13 in 1970. "We find no epidemic of drug abuse in the city."

Increased traffic within the City of Plymouth has boosted the accident figure from 280 in 1971 to 448 in 1972. Of these, personal injury accidents rose from 54 the previous year to 103 last year while property damage climbed from 226 in 1971 to 345 last year.

Seventeen cases of reckless driving were reported last year compared to six in 1971. Driving under the influence of alcohol citations reached 22 compared to 15 the previous year and speeding violations rose from 514 in 1971 to 820 last year.

"THE FACT that substantial increases can be observed in the personal injury accident category and in all moving violations, particularly hazardous violations, strongly suggests a significant increase in poor driving habits on the part of some drivers within the community," Ford said.

"To combat this higher accident incidence, we are requesting the creation of a traffic section within the Plymouth police department," the chief added.

Plymouth's 18-man police department in 1972 patrolled 108,400 miles, compared to 99,897 in 1971 and answered 1,946 complaints compared to 1,583 the previous year.

City Manager Search Hits Snag

PLYMOUTH
The search for a new city manager for Plymouth has suffered a setback.

The two leading candidates for the job have withdrawn from consideration.

"Now we're starting from scratch," said Mayor James McKeon, who had hoped to have a new city manager by today.

"The earliest we would be making our decision is two weeks, and any man that we chose is going to have to have 30 days notice," McKeon said.

The two candidates who withdrew from consideration were among six being considered by the city commission.

McKeon said the commission has now talked to all six and has singled out two of them for further consideration.

BOTH MEN who withdrew did so because the cities they work for gave them "better offers," the mayor said.

In both cases, McKeon added, representatives from the Plymouth city commission had talked to editors of the newspapers in the candidates' towns and the papers broke the confidence they had been asked to keep.

As a result, he said, the chamber of commerce in one town headed up a drive to keep the one man and in the other city the manager was made another offer.

Since the names of the candidates are not released for professional reasons, The Plymouth Mail Observer was unable to contact the two candidates who withdrew to ask them if there were other reasons for removing themselves from consideration.

IT HAS BEEN rumored that one, or possibly both, candidates withdrew because they heard of disagreements between the previous two city managers, Norman Gaffney and Richard Blodgett, and the city commission.

While McKeon did not comment on that, he did say, "I really doubt that I have all the information about why they turned it down."

McKeon said that since his term expires this year, he would try not to get involved in the selection of a new city manager to a great degree. He and City Commissioner William Silvis, whose term also expires in November are prohibited from running for a third term by the city charter.

Who Will Get Vacant Canton Trustee Post?

By EDWARD WENDOVER

CANTON
Canton Township trustees must soon fill the township board seat vacated by the resignation of Ray Deeds.

According to the township charter, the seat must be filled within 45 days of the Jan. 23 meeting at which Deeds' verbal resignation was accepted.

This would mean the board would probably act on naming a replacement at either of its regularly scheduled meetings on Feb. 13 or 27.

WHILE NO candidates for the position have received any boost from the remaining six board members, five persons have been discussed as possible appointees so far.

analysis

They are:

- Robert Greenstein, an attorney who has been nominated by the Windsor Park, Northwest Homeowners and Holiday Park civic associations.

- Felix Dapkus who was recommended by Deeds when he announced his own resignation.

- Conrad Dennis, a 20-year-old man who lost in his first try for public office in last November's trustee race.

- Ellen Ruland, a new appointee to the Canton Township Planning Commission.

- Bill Dickie of Warren Road.

ACCORDING TO Phil Dingeldey, Canton Township supervisor, Dapkus and Dickie have written him expressing an interest in the seat but he has made no decision as yet.

Dingeldey said Dennis "should be considered" and questioned whether Mrs. Ruland's new duties with the Democratic Party would leave her enough time to serve on the township board.

Dingeldey said he would like to see the board of trustees represent a cross-section of the community but did not pinpoint what particular area he felt the appointee should represent.

In backing Greenstein, the three civic associations hope to muster enough influence to get a representative of the newer, north-end subdivisions on the board.

Although Greenstein is a long-time resident of Canton compared to the newer families represented in the associations, he is generally considered sympathetic to their causes.

The Windsor Park Civic Assn. had originally nominated its president, Ernie Koch, as a candidate for the seat after Deeds' announcement that he was moving was made public in The Plymouth Mail & Observer.

THEY WITHDREW Koch's nomination after the three civic associations banded together in support of Greenstein -- whose name was well known -- thinking that he

Jaycettes Need 'Helping Hands'

PLYMOUTH
The Plymouth Jaycee Auxiliary is lending a "helping hand."

If you've seen houses with signs showing an open blue hand, you might have wondered what the signs meant. The wordless signs are symbols which children can read and recognize as a place to get help if they encounter trouble away from their own home.

The "Helping Hand" program, which is sponsored by the Jaycee Auxiliary, is again seeking volunteers who will display the sign in their windows to offer help to children.

Application forms are being sent home with elementary school children in the Plymouth School District now, according to Diane Glass, chairman of the "Helping Hands" program.

All applicants are reviewed by the police department before the Jaycettes authorize them to participate in the program.

VOLUNTEERS participating in the program are instructed to call the proper authorities and the child's parents in case of emergency. They do not administer first aid, transport children or give food or beverages to them.

Mrs. Glass said it is essential that parents explain the program to their children and show them the homes nearby which display the "helping hand."

She added that the following instructions are given to volunteers:

- DO NOT administer first aid.
- DO NOT give food or beverage (child may be allergic or diabetic).
- DO NOT transport child in your car.
- Call the police immediately in any case -- no matter how minor -- involving a crime of an adult against a child or a malicious act of one child against another.
- If you suspect the presence of a molester, call the police immediately.
- When calling the police, be sure to write down the name and rank of the officer to whom you have spoken. Include time and date.
- Postcards with an informational form on the back will be left in the home to be filled in and mailed to us when the hand is used, one to the police, one to the Plymouth Jaycee Auxiliary.
- "HELPING HAND" signs are not to be transferred to another person or another home. When and if you no longer wish to participate in the program, contact your school. We have recom-might have a better chance at the appointment.

Deeds, who resigned because he is moving to Howell, was praised by the township board for his "outstanding efforts" on the board.

mended replacement homes, which must be recorded with the police department.

- You are not expected to break up fights or give medical attention, but only to bring the situation to the attention of the proper authorities and the parents.
- Children are NOT to use volunteers' homes merely as toilet facilities.
- It is suggested that porch lights be turned on in morning during the dark winter months.

Applications for the program are available from Mrs. Glass, 702 Coolidge, Plymouth.

NW Canton Density Change To Be Studied

The Wayne County Planning Commission will hold a special meeting at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 7 to consider a proposal to revise the density limits in northwest Canton Township.

At its Jan. 17 meeting, the county planning commission tabled the density item to "have more time to collect more evidence," said Francis P. Bennett, director of the commission.

While the meeting is not a public hearing, the public may attend. It will be held in the county planning commission offices at 2331 W. Fort St., Detroit.

Canton ZBA To Study Bell Center Zoning

CANTON TOWNSHIP
Canton's zoning board of appeals has under advisement a request from Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to build an electronic dial switch center on Sheldon Rd., south of Cherry Hill.

The request was forwarded by the township's planning commission. Because the building would be located in a residential area, the request must first be approved by the appeal board before the commission can act, explained Michael Manore, planning consultant.

The proposed one-story building would be shielded from nearby homes by a greenbelt, according to Manore. Arrangements would also have to be made to install water and sewer facilities.

Over 17,000 tons of pears are grown annually in Michigan with most of the crop winding up at canning plants.

Sgt. Mary Takes Part In Air Test

PLYMOUTH

Sgt. Richard A. Mary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Mary, 40688 Ivywood Lane, Plymouth, took part in a recent exercise to test a long-haul communications system designed to provide emergency telephone, teletype and data relay communications service in a tactical situation.

Sgt. Mary, a communications specialist, and approximately 1,000 other members of the 3rd Mobile Communications Group of Tinker AFB, Okla., participated in the two-week operation.

The test was run a distance of 1,154 miles between the Oklahoma City headquarters and Phoenix, Ariz. Two terminal units and seven relay units operating in between covered the distance by bouncing ultra-high frequency signals back and forth off the six-mile-high ceiling of the earth's troposphere.

Sgt. Mary is a 1969 graduate of Plymouth High School.

JA Company

Metropolitan Detroit at Cobo Hall in March.

Calco Co. has 35 members and 150 stockholders, each of whom invested one dollar to get the concern started. The company will be liquidated in May and stockholders will receive back their investment and dividend.

The umbrella stand is one of three Calco products. The first was a watchband calendar, produced and sold to get financing for the main product, "Washable Lovable Pillows."

The pillows, covered with washcloths bearing Peanut characters and stuffed with foam rubber, were a hit with teenagers and with their mothers who could toss them into the washing machine. They sold for $2 each.

THE UMBRELLA stand, Calco's newest product, sells for $3. The No. 10 cans, gleaned from the Ford cafeteria, are scrubbed in the Kosciolk garage and augmented by seconds from a cannery. The painting is farmed out.

Wendel, Calco president and a senior at Plymouth High School, recently attended a three day JA management conference in Cincinnati. His company has a monthly payroll of $120. Workers are paid 35 cents an hour for two hours a week of employment, officers receive six dollars a week and salesmen receive a commission.

Leading salesman and a contender for the top salesman award given by Sales Marketing Executives of Detroit is Fred McKernan, a 10th grader at Northville High School.

McKERNAN, who walks door-to-door marketing his products, aims to top $1,000 in sales by May.

Leglietner, a 10th grader at Bishop Borgess High, is vice president in charge of sales.

David Troppi Ends Training

PLYMOUTH
Army Pvt. David A. Troppi, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E.

Troppi, 783 Harding, Plymouth, has completed a five-week light vehicle driver course and three weeks of on-the-job training at Ft. Polk, La.

He was trained in operation and maintenance of military vehicles of less than 4½ tons rated capacity and in transportation of personnel, equipment and supplies.

Pvt. Troppi entered the Army in July and received basic training at Ft. Polk.

Graduates Cum Laude

Mrs. Margaret Irene Dornes, 9154 Lilly Road, Plymouth, graduated cum laude from Western Michigan University at fall commencement exercises.

keeping track of all sales and inventory.

Last year Calco won the best product award with a Stars and Stripes cordless clock, winning out over more than 400 competitors. However, since each company liquidates in May, last year's JA members were different although with the same company name, sponsor and advisors.

Contest judges this year were Don DeGroot, vice president and general manager of WWJ stations and general chairman of JA Week in Southeastern Michigan; D. Robert Bell, general manufacturing manager, Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors; William M. Dull, manager of organization, planning and development for Detroit Edison; Wesley R. Johnson, president of Woodall Industries; and Henry Moses, president of Consolidated Capital Corp.

Circuit Court Gets Canton Murder Trial

Ralph H. Bledsoe, 21, of Westland, has been bound over to circuit court in the robbery-murder of a Canton Township motel operator.

District Judge Dunbar Davis ordered the man bound over following pre-trial examination in Plymouth this week.

Bledsoe is charged with the Sept. 25 murder and robbery of Richard M. Sharr, who was bludgeoned to death at the Sharr Motel, 40240 Michigan. The killer also took $225, police said.

Bledsoe pleaded innocent when arraigned before Davis in Plymouth following his arrest.

He was remanded to Wayne County Jail to await arraignment in circuit court on Feb. 13.

Highway Dept. -- Overpasses Won't Have Sidewalks

PLYMOUTH Pedestrians who use roadways which cross the proposed I-275 expressway have apparently suffered a setback in the drive to get sidewalks on overpasses. Plymouth township had written to state highway officials asking if sidewalks would be placed on the bridge areas, but failed to get a concrete answer--literally speaking.

What the township learned was that space has been provided on the shoulder of the road for walkways, but not actual concrete sidewalks. The letter from the state highway director stated that the bridge structures will be 46 feet wide and will provide a 10 foot shoulder on each side of the road.

"It is our considered opinion that until such time as sidewalks are constructed on the approaches, the 10-foot shoulders across the structure provide ample space for incidental pedestrian travel." "The incidental pedestrian travel" the letter refers to would include many school children, and those who would have to cross Joy Rd. to get to Fiegel Elementary School, pointed out Township Clerk Helen Richardson.

THE LETTER went on to say that at the time approach sidewalks are provided, it would be possible to place a concrete overlay on the outer portion of the shoulder to provide a 4-foot sidewalk and still leave a 7-foot emergency shoulder.

The highway department letter also failed to mention the Joy Rd. crossing, reporting only on Ann Arbor Trail, Cherry Hill, Palmer and Warren Road bridges. The latter three are in Canton Twp., but are part of the Plymouth School District.

"Joy Rd. is the most important one for us--and it wasn't even mentioned," commented Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, township treasurer.

The highway department communication prompted Maurice Breen, former Plymouth Township supervisor who was in the audience, to question the lack of commitment on the part of the state.

Two years ago, Breen said, the state was asked to provide sidewalks "and they agreed to WINE TASTING will be the highlight of the Plymouth Newcomers meeting on Thursday, Feb. 1 in the Mayflower Meeting House. Hospitality will begin at 11:30 a.m. and an "Old Plymouth Colony" luncheon will be served at noon. Cost is $6 and prospective, current and former Newcomers are invited. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Ronald Charles of 25047 Maplewood. Baby sitting service can be arranged by calling Mrs. Paul Kittl of 11141 Parkview.

A "HAROLD'S Club party" will be held by The Plymouth Newcomers at 8:30 p.m. Feb. 17 in the UAW Hall, 35603 Plymouth Rd., Livonia. Tickets for the party are $10 per couple and include a midnight buffet and prizes as well as the games. Reservations may be made by sending a check (payable to Plymouth Newcomers) to Mrs. Keith Proulx of 42970 Lindsay, Plymouth.

Citizens To Study Land Use

CANTON In its study of land uses, Canton Township will draw upon its residents for long range goals and policies.

Although the process of how the residents will be selected to serve on a Land Use Plan committee has not been determined, the township board has given an initial approval to a proposal made by the township engineering consultants, Wade, Trim & Assoc.

The proposal, developed by Michael Manore, chief community planner for the firm, would include 25 members on the citizens advisory board.

SEVEN OF those 25 would be the members of the planning commission; six would be representatives of the Northwest Homeowners, the Northwest Civic, the Windsor Park Homeowners, the Carriage Hills Homeowners, the Willow Creek Homeowners and the Holiday Park Homeowners associations; five representatives from Canton Commons, Deer Creek, Willows, Village Squire and Canton Gardens multiple and townhouse developments; three representatives from Royal Holiday Park, Canton-West Point Manor, and Wagon Wheel - College Park mobile home parks; one representative of the Canton Chamber of Commerce; one at - large representative of the mobile home parks; and one representative from the agricultural sector of the community.

PHIL DINGELDEY, township supervisor, said the advisory committee proposal was basically acceptable but it would be necessary to determine how these representatives would be picked.

He suggested that the representatives and some alternates could be nominated by the groups they represent to provide a back-up. The township board would make the final decision on who was appointed to the advisory committee.

Dingeldey said he hoped Wade, Trim would further define the committee's role and that a representative, perhaps Manore, would meet with the committee members at first to help them determine how they should proceed.

"They should be given some direction," the supervisor said. "The consultant should say, 'This is what we want to arrive at.'"

The Wade - Trim report called for the committee to meet for the first time no later than Feb. 28 and hold two meetings each month until a final report was delivered on July 12.

Faced with the rapid growth of the township, Canton trustees voted on Dec. 12 to update the present land use study, which was adopted in 1965.

According to the advisory committee proposal, the report made by the committee would be used to establish long - range planning goals in the up - dated land use report.

Merle Evans To Bring Circus Music To Town

By FRED DeLANO

PLYMOUTH It will be 54 years in March since Barnum & Bailey's "Greatest Show on Earth" and "Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows" combined to present their first super - circus.

Yet the man who led the band that day in New York's Madison Square Garden is still going strong.

Sunday the 74 - year - old Merle Evans, who became a tradition of the "big top" in his own right, will be guest conductor when the Plymouth Community Band presents a concert of circus oriented music at 3:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Born in Columbus, Kan., Evans was playing cornet in the town's municipal band at the age of 10. Five years later he left home to play with the S.W. Brundage carnival band. Later, he played his horn on a Mississippi River showboat and for a while directed the band for the traveling wild west show that featured

William F. Cody, better known as "Buffalo Bill."

AT ONE POINT in time Evans also played in a Salvation Army band to keep from going hungry.

Evans was only 20 when he took over in 1919 as bandmaster of the combined Ringling - Barnum & Bailey attraction. He estimates that before he retired from the circus 44 years later he had a part in 18,250 performances.

This meant giving more than 3.5 million musical cues in the fast paced format of circus entertainment. It is estimated that at least 160 million persons have seen Evans' "big top" shows as he played the cornet with one hand and directed with the other.

The composer of many fanfares and marches, he sometimes uses portions of more than 200 numbers during a single performance. He has been making guest appearances with high school and municipal bands for the last decade, and this will be his second appearance in Plymouth.

Tickets for Sunday's concert will be available at the door. They are $2 for adults and $1 for children 12 and under.

I-75 Bottleneck To Be Widened This Year

Nearly all of I-75 Freeway between Flint and Bay City will be widened to six lanes this year, the State Highway Commission says.

The 46-mile section of four-lane freeway, inadequate for present traffic volumes of up to 51,000 vehicles a day, is one of the most serious bottlenecks on the state freeway system.

State Highway Director John P. Woodford said an additional lane in each direction will be constructed on existing right-of-way.

Bids on four separate projects totaling $12 million were taken last month for widening 21.4 miles of I-75 between US-23 south of Flint and Birch Run in southern Saginaw County. Work will begin next week.

Bids on 21.6 miles between Birch Run and Midland Road north of the US-10 interchange west of Bay City will be taken later this year.

EXCLUDED from the widening project is the three-mile section of I-75 between the I-675 Freeway interchanges east and north of Saginaw. This portion, including construction of a new high-level Zilwaukee Bridge, will be reconstructed and widened at a later date.

Financing of the extended widening project all the way to Bay City was assured by recent passage of Gov. William G. Milliken's Transportation Package by the Legislature. It provides additional financing for state highways, county roads, municipal streets and public transportation.

Although the widening work will require closure of one freeway lane in each direction, Woodford said that every effort will be made to minimize interference with traffic.

These include: Suspension of work between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m., Monday through Friday, when all freeway lanes will be opened to traffic.

Suspension of work between Friday noon and Monday morning, permitting full use of existing lanes by heavier weekend traffic.

Accelerated night work schedules, including two work shifts, to reduce total time required for completion of the project.

While no detour will be necessary, motorists regularly using I-75 are urged to seek alternate routes around the construction area, if possible.

Widening of I-75 between US-23 and Birch Run is expected to be completed this fall.

RONALD R. DAUM, 24590 Lincoln, Farmington Township, has been appointed corporate service officer of Manufacturers Bank. Daum manages the bank's corporate services department. He joined the bank as data processing supervisor in 1966 after graduating from the University of Michigan with a bachelor's degree in business administration.

THOMAS L. SWEENEY, 27022 E. Arden Park, Farmington Township, has been promoted to second vice president of Manufacturer's Bank. Sweeney is in charge of the Grand River-Halstead branch. He has been with Manufacturer's since 1956 and was named a branch officer in 1968. He is a member of the Farmington Chamber of Commerce and holds a graduate certificate from the American Institute of Banking.

Notice of Hearing Affecting Residential Gas Rates

Consumers Power Company has filed an application with the Michigan Public Service Commission for authority to incorporate a fuel and purchased gas cost adjustment clause in its Residential Service (Open Order Rate "A") MPSC No. 6 - Gas. Consumers Power Company's presently effective gas rates for commercial and industrial customers now contain adjustment clauses which permit adjustments in those rates to reflect changes in the cost of gas. The requested authority to incorporate a fuel and purchased gas cost adjustment clause in the residential rate results from recent amendments to the laws relating to public utilities.

The incorporation of the proposed fuel and purchased gas cost adjustment clause in the gas residential rate schedule will cause the residential rate to increase or decrease as the cost of gas increases or decreases.

A public hearing will be held on Consumers Power Company's application at 9:30 a.m. on February 12, 1973, in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan, for the purpose of determining whether the authority sought should be granted. Any interested parties may attend the hearing and participate, subject to the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. Copies of the official notice of this hearing and the application of Consumers Power Company are available for inspection at the office of the Secretary of the Commission, 5th Floor, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan, and at the office of the Secretary of Consumers Power Company, 212 West Michigan Avenue, Jackson, Michigan.

Hamilton Chief Denounces Suit

Richard H. Headlee, president and chief executive officer of Hamilton International Corp., calls an approximate $10 million suit against 30 present or former officers and directors a "fair attack" on their business judgment.

Our principal affiliate, Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co. of America, is not a party to this suit, and thus in no way are its policyholders threatened, nor its funds and reserves," said Headlee in a Jan. 18 letter to shareholders.

Hamilton International has its headquarters in Farmington. It is a holding company whose principal subsidiary, Alexander Hamilton Insurance, originally was based in Plymouth.

THE LAWSUIT which prompted Headlee to issue a special statement to shareholders, as well as a public statement on the subject, was filed Jan. 15 in U.S. District Court by John G. Crumb of Marion, Ind. Crumb, who owns more than 2,000 shares, said he was acting on behalf of all of the estimated 30,000 shareholders.

He charged the 30 defendants of mismanaging and wasting the company's assets and collecting excessive salaries, bonuses and other benefits.

Both Headlee and E. Keith Owens, whom Headlee succeeded last November, are among the defendants.

Headlee has spearheaded a complete shakeup in Hamilton's top administration since he took over and said the new management "has for some time been aware of the threats by certain dissident parties to file such a suit."

"As a matter of fact," he stated, "the threat of such a suit was used to try to force me to accede to certain demands, one of which was to add eight directors of their choosing. We refused to accede because we did not think the demands were in the best interests of all of our shareholders."

"THE NEW management has been hard at work since it was installed last Nov. 1. It is regrettable that we now must divert our attention from the primary job of selling life insurance and building a strong financial institution to that of defending the company's integrity against these dissidents."

"The present considerable strengths of Alexander Hamilton Life include $110 million in assets, more than $1 billion of life insurance in force, and more than $13 million in capital and surplus funds after making provisions for all liabilities."

Headlee also said in his letter to shareholders that one of "the major misstatements" in Crumb's suit "is the unfounded allegation that the life company's cash flow may not be sufficient to meet mortgage money commitments over the short-term."

"This is simply untrue," he declared.

Crumb's suit alleges that management of the company was "under the complete control and domination of Owens," whose annual salary was $117,000. Hamilton now has a ceiling of $50,000 on its executive salaries.

Michigan's people and Michigan's industrial economy depend on energy. Without it, everything stops! But in Michigan, as in other states, there is a shortage of natural gas. So Consumers Power Company organized a subsidiary company to look for new gas reserves.

Shown here is a drilling rig in a newly discovered offshore gas field in the Gulf of Mexico. Other gas also has been found in Louisiana. However, it may take three to five years for this gas to reach Michigan. In the meantime, Michigan must look to new gas wells in northern Michigan, and to a gas reforming plant being built at Marysville.

Consumers Power Company is continually looking for new sources and methods of providing natural gas. It requires a big investment in time and money, but it's the only way you'll have gas when you need it.

Canton's Identity

the metropolitan plans proposed as a solution to Detroit school segregation in the case now in federal court. Canton Township used to have several small school districts but now, due to consolidation, has only small portions of the Belleville and Wayne-Westland districts as well as Plymouth.

ANOTHER reason for the developers' "Plymouth" tag for Canton houses is the generally favorable connotation of Plymouth, Dingledey said.

"Plymouth is becoming a prestige address on the west side," he said. "I don't resent it."

"As people come out here -- who knew where Warren was, for instance? -- you're going to start seeing 'Canton' in print a lot more," Dingledey said.

He added that the shopping convenience of Plymouth is a drawing card, although Canton is not as dependent upon Plymouth as it sole trade center as it once was.

"I used to ride in a horse and buggy to Plymouth (to go shopping)," Dingledey said. "Now my wife goes over to Westland where there's free parking. They spend the whole afternoon over there."

BOTH DINGLEDEY and Flodin agreed that a shopping complex, such as the one proposed for Canton Township at Sheldon and Joy roads by Developer Dominic Mocerri, would affect area shopping patterns as well as increasing trade within Canton.

"This is going to do just as much to Plymouth as to Canton," Dingledey said.

"The people who are in marketing suggest that this would be a complement to Plymouth," Flodin said. "If it were located in the geographic center of Canton it would tend to isolate Plymouth."

Perhaps Canton would gain some identity as a trade area if Mocerri sticks with the name he's proposed for the project -- Canton Woods.

Another boost to Canton Township's identity, say Dingledey and Flodin, may come from increased governmental services which the township is implementing.

Long-range planning for the township includes a civic center on the site of the 60-acre recreational park at

Dingledey compared these plans with the civic center which Livonia is building.

THE CURRENT status of Canton's involvement in two area authorities proposed to deal with rubbish and recreation is that the township will initiate its own programs to deal with those problems. The rubbish authority which is currently being studied by the cities of Plymouth and Northville and the townships of Plymouth and Northville probably will not be implemented before the summer. Originally Canton Township would have been included.

"Canton Township wasn't against any of these cooperatives in principle," Dingledey said. "We got forced into a situation where we had to do something on this rubbish situation."

The new budget for Canton Township calls for implementing curb-side rubbish collection by mid-spring.

SIMILARLY, the Canton Township board voted at its last meeting to hire a full-time recreation director beginning in early summer.

While Canton would have been included in a recreational authority with Plymouth, Plymouth Township and the Plymouth School District, the portion of Canton not in the school district would have been excluded.

"We felt responsible for all the areas, north and south," Flodin said.

Dingledey and Flodin agreed that if an area-wide program of any type could serve all of Canton better than an individual program, Canton would join.

The important criteria, Dingledey said, is that the program "is good for the community as a whole."

They said the increased governmental services, particularly those where the township showed its own initiative, would help Canton residents gain identity for the community.

While Canton may some day want to incorporate, they said, the services now offered in the township would lead toward greater identity even as a township and ward off any possibility of annexation.

Canton Township, they feel, will increasingly find its own identity and cohesiveness through increased population, the development of trade areas and increased governmental services.

Allen Park Smothers Plymouth's Cage Hopes

By FRED DeLANO

Plymouth's Rocks gave it all they had, but as Coach Fred Thomann conceded, "We just didn't have enough," in succumbing to Allen Park's Suburban Eight leaders, 77-63, when the invading Jaguars ran wild to an 18-5 margin in the final five minutes.

Even without their top muscleman and rebounder, Ron Egloff, who was in bed with the flu, the Rocks fought Allen Park virtually to a stand-off before the Jaguars slammed the door with convincing authority.

Trailing 59-58 three minutes into the fourth period, Plymouth suddenly wilted. From then until the final buzzer the Rocks could net only one field goal and three free throws against the unrelenting Parkers and their intimidating 6-11½ star, Tom Agardy.

"Tom pulled it out for us," remarked Jaguar Coach Mike O'Hara in tribute to the big senior's game-leading 27 points and domination of the backboards. In that department Allen Park led 46-27, and Agardy got at least half of them.

Plymouth's Jeff Jacobs, drawing the defensive assignment on Agardy as the sub for Egloff, played his best game of the season, but spotting the Jaguar a height edge of seven inches was too much. Agardy's turn-around jumper and tip-ins complemented his rebounding to such a degree as to leave Plymouth only one hope.

To win this one, the Rocks needed a superb shooting night and they didn't get it. In fact, the Jaguars had an edge there, too. They averaged 43 per cent by hitting 33 of 77 from the floor compared to Plymouth's 35 per cent on 24 of 68.

Although Kevin Moore and Steve Robb each popped in 19 points for the Rocks, Allen Park's tight defensive tactics on Tim Van Wagoner accomplished just what O'Hara wanted.

The Rocks' No. 1 gunner with an average of 20 points through the first 12 games, Van Wagoner rarely had time to maneuver for a clear shot Friday and made only three of 19 from the field. This was 16 per cent compared to his 12-game mark of 48 per cent.

Allen Park is now 7-0 in the Sub-8 and 11-2 overall. Plymouth has fallen to 4-4 in the league and 9-4 for the season.

This game, coupled with Livonia Bentley's loss to Dearborn, turns the Sub-8 title chase into a two team affair between Allen Park and 7-1 Redford Union, which invades Plymouth Friday. RU is 12-1 for the season, the only loss being 79-63 at Allen Park. The rematch for those two will be at RU Feb. 13 and it could be for all the marbles.

Plymouth led the Jaguars five different times, but never at a quarter break. Allen Park had the nod, 18-17, after the first period, 35-31 at the half and 51-47 after three quarters.

Plymouth made a major bid for control as Jim Szilagyi and Moore teamed for nine points as the second half opened. This put the Rocks on top 40-37, but Agardy, Jim Bearman and Mike Flood retaliated with 10 straight and the Jaguars led, 47-40.

Robb, Moore and Jacobs brought the Rocks on strong again, despite a personal spree of 10 by Agardy. With the Allen Park lead down to one point at 59-58, it looked for a moment as though the Rocks might atone for the 75-74 defeat the Jaguars handed them in December.

Then, whoosh! After the count had edged to 64-60 it took Agardy, Bearman, Kirk Tooley, Jim Perry and Jeff Maddock just two minutes to make it 75-60. There was no comeback from that.

A touch of irony surfaced after the game in conversation with Agardy's father. After leaving the Plymouth gym, the elder Agardy -- 6-4 himself and a former Cass Tech basketball player in the '40s -- headed for his job on the midnight shift as a supervisor in the Chevrolet plant on Eckles Rd., Livonia, where he has worked for 17 years.

All that time he has been commuting from Allen Park, but admitted that "lately I've been thinking about moving up this way."

WHOA, THERE LITTLE MAN -- Although Plymouth's Tim Van Wagoner (24) stands 6-3, the Rocks' leading scorer was no match for Allen Park's 6-11½ Tom Agardy (53). The Jaguar giant, who appears about ready to gobble up Van Wagoner in one bite, paced Allen Park to a 77-63 victory with his own 27 points and agile defensive play. (Observer photo by Harry Mauthe)

Churchill Puckmen Fall To Southfield, 6-1

"The Jays are back!" bellowed Southfield High hockey Coach Art Carinci after his Blue Jays outskated, outscored and upset Churchill High, 6-1.

It was the third victory for Southfield and the first ever for a Southfield team over a Livonia squad in Suburban Hockey League action.

THREE QUICK goals in the first 6½ minutes told the story, with the Blue Jays outshooting Churchill, 24-20.

For Churchill and Coach Adam Mitchell, it was probably the most disappointing setback in their hockey history.

"It was a key game for us and we blew it," said Mitchell.

whose Chargers stand 5-2-1 in the Suburban League behind Stevenson at 7-0. "The only hope we have now is if somebody else beats Stevenson and we beat them twice."

"Southfield came out to play and we didn't," added Mitchell. "Their three quick goals all but killed us."

"Maybe we didn't deserve to win, but we shouldn't have lost that bad. We just can't win away from home!"

Southfield drew first blood at the 1:10 mark in the opening period when Mark Farber bested Churchill netminder Mike Parks. Bob Mead assisting.

Churchill then fell two men short when Sam Bird and Bob Rion were off for roughing and the Blue Jays struck again. Farber scoring with Jack Booth.

TWO MINUTES later, Bob Mead slapped a shot by Parks and it was 3-0 Southfield after the first period.

Southfield was a man short when it scored its fourth goal late in the second stanza. Roger Mead was off for high-sticking but his brother Bob slapped in his second goal unassisted to push the margin to four.

Churchill did manage to bounce back, with Mead still in the penalty box, for its lone tally.

SAM BIRD scored, Brian Veasey assisting, to make it 4-1 after two periods.

The Blue Jays were not to be headed in the third period and flipped in two more goals by Roger Mead and Kevin Nucelli to all but tuck away a Southfield first.

'Win For The Gipper' Days Are Over!

The Bulldog bite is missing some teeth these days as the prep basketball season heads into its final month.

John Farrar's Bentley Bulldogs were off to a flying start in the '72-'73 campaign, sporting a 5-2 mark at the start of the new year and standing 3-0 in the Suburban Eight.

The two losses at that time came in the Northwest Holiday Tourney, six points to Walled Lake Central and one point to Farmington on one of the flattest nights in Bulldog history.

Farrar was coming off a 15-6 "rookie season" and in the Sub-8 finished second best last year at 9-3 behind Redford Union and Carl Andrews. He knew he had the talent to make a run at Allen Park and RU in the likes of Tim Bollin and Brent Boegler.

But the "old wind" of the roundball court have taken their toll. In a matter of 20 days, the Bulldogs have lost five straight games, three of those by a matter of not more than four points.

First came a disastrous journey to Flint Central when the Bulldogs bowed, 89-63. Then a real heart-breaker at the hands of Plymouth, 60-58, where two free throws were missed at the buzzer.

Following came a 66-62 loss to Redford Union, a 64-63 defeat to Churchill on a short jumper at the buzzer and then a fatal blow at the hands of Dearborn, 56-46.

THE BULLDOGS have now slipped to a 3-3 mark in the Sub-8 and a 5-7 overall showing.

"You know, you try not to let this situation get to you, but the more you try, the more it does!" said Farrar.

"This has to be disheartening to the kids and I can't really make artificial appeals to them. I have to be honest and gain some insight in our reactions.

"We are not losing through lack of effort.

"When a streak like this hits a ball club, where we just as easily could be 10-2, about all you can do is explain to the kids that 'this is off' and 'this isn't quite right."

"I can't really see myself yelling at the kids and saying, 'Hev, we have to beat Trenton because they beat us by 40 points some 10 years ago.'

"KIDS DON'T BUY this stuff any more. It's to their credit that they take a more honest approach these days. An honest approach should provide enough incentive. They are the ones who have worked hundreds of hours in the summer, fall and winter.

"When a streak like ours hits, about all that can be done is to make the kid aware of his responsibility to himself and his team.

"The idea of getting up for a game is a little out these days.

"The syndrome of the Pat O'Brien - Knute Rockne days is overplayed.

"This idea of 'let's win it for the Gipper' is not effective as a tactic any more, but only when it really reflects the coach's feeling.

"The idea of losing at the half by 11 points, and going into the locker room - slamming the lockers, kicking over the buckets and yelling and screaming just to create an effect just can't be used today.

"The kids read it as phony!

"You just have to appeal to them realistically.

"Coaching is a funny business. Losing is much more aggravating than winning is satisfying."

Franklin Bags John Glenn, 58-54

The Northwest Suburban basketball race is looking more like a jig-saw puzzle these days as the predicted tangle becomes more confused by the week.

But when it comes down to the last piece to fill the puzzle on that last Friday, the puzzle will be solved and the champion crowned.

And right now there are three teams that firmly believe they are the team.

FRANKLIN, North Farmington and John Glenn all have their sights glued on that crown, with Franklin hoping to defend its first ever.

Franklin's Patriots took a step in the right direction by knocking John Glenn off the shelf of the undefeated into a tie for first.

Glenn fell to the Patriots, 58-54, and finds itself with a 4-1 league mark, the same as Franklin. North Farmington at the same time toppled Garden City East to push its mark to 3-2.

"This race has to go down to the last game of the season," said Franklin Coach Bob Visser. "I see an 8-2 mark taking it all. A 7-3 record will be second best."

"We can't afford not to give 100 per cent each and every game," added Visser.

The Patriots host Garden City East Friday in the start of a 29 day span which has the Franklin club playing nine games, six of them on its home court.

John Glenn, which stands 9-3 overall compared to Franklin's 7-4, snapped a three game winning streak which included a three point victory over Thurston and five points over North Farmington.

"THIS LEAGUE is so balanced that if you have an off-night, you are in trouble," said Glenn Coach Gordie Davis. "Every week is just about a real cliff-hanger."

"We have to get a balanced attack from our kids to keep on winning," the Rocket coach added. "Everyone is keying on Dave Carlington and we have to take the pressure off him."

"We just didn't play as well against Franklin as we have been," said Davis. "We had our opportunities to win it but didn't."

GLENN'S RICK Aro scored the first bucket of the game but baskets by Jamie Knapp and Kevin Kaseta gave Franklin the lead and the Patriots were never to fall behind again.

The Patriots jumped ahead after eight minutes, 19-14, and led at the half, 30-26.

J.P. McBride tied it for Glenn in the opening stages of the third quarter at 34-31 but Kaseta hit a bucket and two from the line and Guy Burke made good a field goal to give Franklin a 40-34 edge.

"We could have put it away then," said Visser. "It really wasn't that close after that."

Franklin led after three quarters, 48-40, but the Glenn Rockets hung in there and started to spurt in the fourth only to have some of the drive taken out when Carlington picked up two technical fouls. One was for questioning a call and the other for slapping the backboard.

Franklin missed on both technical free throws but the Rockets then threw away four scoring chances on steals and the Patriots coasted in to victory.

"WE GOT Glenn to play our kind of game," said Visser. "Our man-to-man game plan was working perfectly and the kids' attitudes just carried us through."

Franklin hit 41 per cent from the floor (21 of 51), while Glenn scored on 24 of 57 for 42 per cent. The Patriots made up the difference at the line where they made 16 of 21 compared to Glenn's performance of six for 10. Glenn did manage to win the rebounding clash, 31-28, but Kaseta was high for Franklin with 13.

GC West Upended By Cherry Hill

The Tri-River title road is not going to be an easy one for the Garden City West cagers to stay on.

Things could get a little bumpy.

CHRIS BABLER'S West Tigers went through their first six league games undefeated but at the same time dropped six non-leaguers.

In the final contest of the first round, the West bubble exploded to the sound of a Cherry Hill victory, 68-65.

West now finds itself in a tie for first with Taylor Kennedy, each sporting 6-1 records, with Schafer and Cherry Hill next in line at 5-2.

The Tri-River will be getting down to the bare facts this Friday when West travels to Kennedy. The Tigers upended Kennedy in the first meeting, 60-54, but Babler is expecting a much tougher time down at Kennedy.

"It's not going to be easy from here on out," said Babler.

CHERRY HILL jumped ahead at the end of one quarter, 17-15, and enjoyed a 37-33 margin at the half.

West fought back to out-score Cherry Hill, 20-12, in the third quarter to take a 53-49 advantage into the final eight minutes.

Cherry Hill spurted ahead again but West's Ken Kinsvator tied it up 65-all with 1:47 remaining.

West called a time out after Cherry Hill missed a scoring opportunity with 1:05 left. The play was set up for Mark Kilbourn but he "was hampered" and missed.

Rick McNally missed for Cherry Hill and West had the ball back with 50 seconds showing on the clock. West went into a semi-freeze but lost the ball on a stray pass with 40 seconds remaining.

Cherry Hill went into a stall and with eight seconds left, called a time out.

JOE CICHON went up for a shot but was fouled by Kinsvator.

Cichon made the first but missed the second, and Bob Fowler tipped in the rebound to drop West from the ranks of the undefeated.

West hit 43 per cent from the floor, 23 of 53, while Cherry Hill came up with 42 per cent on 28 of 66.

The Tigers also won the rebounding battle, 32-30, with Kinsvator hauling in 12.

"Cherry Hill played its top game of the season," said Babler. "We couldn't stop that 5-5 Fowler. He scored 32 points against us."

Churchill Eyeing League Title, Whips Harrison

By TOM DONOGHUE
Sports Editor

It's no secret, the Western Six basketball champions are out to do it again!

Livonia Churchill won its first cage title ever in the '71-'72 campaign and is favored to do it again this year.

Farmington Harrison and Coach Bob Sutter found out why the hard way.

CHURCHILL smothered the Harrison Hawks in a key Six battle, with both clubs sporting 2-1 league marks before the clash.

The defending champs took care of Harrison, 57-50, and find themselves in a tie for first with Walled Lake Western at 3-1. Meanwhile, the Hawks slipped to a 2-2 mark, tied with Waterford Mott.

Now comes the real clincher for Pat Montano and his 9-3 overall Chargers.

They travel to Walled Lake Western Friday in the second and final round of the Six to face a team that topped them, 61-57, in the third game of the season.

"We are going to have to take it to them," said Montano. "This grudge match should be tooth and nail for us."

Western went on a six game losing streak after beating Churchill on Dec. 8. The Chargers have dropped games only to Plymouth and Walled Lake Central since and are boasting the same 9-3 mark this season compared to last year at the same time.

The Six "semi-showdown" between Churchill and Harrison caught both "flat" during the final week, with timing an evident factor being left in the classroom.

"It was an alley-cat ball game," said Montano. "Neither team dominated." HARRISON spurred ahead, 4-0, in the early moments on two quick buckets by Nick Nicolay who captured game honors with 26 points.

The Hawks maintained a margin and led after one quarter, 14-11.

Churchill rebounded, caught Harrison and went up at the half, 25-23.

The Chargers scored three straight buckets in the second minute of the third quarter, two by Phil Damaska and one by Mark Reed to jump up by 10, 35-25.

Churchill kept its 10 point margin at the end of the third to carry a 43-33 score into the last eight minutes.

Harrison fell behind by 12 but the Hawks started to flap their wings and scored four straight buckets by Dan Hickey, Mike McGrath, Dave Cleary and Nick Nicolay.

All Churchill could muster was a couple of free throws and Nicolay hit two more buckets to close it to 51-48 with two minutes remaining.

WITH 1:47 showing on the scoreboard, Churchill's Phil Skender missed on a two-point attempt. Harrison hauled in the rebound, down by three points, but threw the ball away and the game at the same time.

Damaska was fouled for Churchill and made both from the line: Charger power took over with Reed popping in two more and Don Braun one.

Churchill finished 23 of 57 from the floor for 41 per cent and the Chargers won the rebounding contest, 32-26, with Braun collecting 11.

The Charger defense held Jeff Sietoff to only three buckets and two free-throw. The lanky center had been averaging 22.1 points a game.

"They did a good job on Sietoff," said Sutter. "Even though it wasn't one of his better games."

"Churchill's second and third efforts really killed us," he added. "They made us come out of our zone and we ended up making 20 turnovers."

HARRISON HOSTS Waterford Friday and Birmingham Seaholm Tuesday, Feb. 6, before traveling to Waterford Mott Friday, Feb. 9.

"One more loss and we are out of it," said Sutter, whose Hawks stand 5-5 overall, 2-2 in the league.

'Northern Too Tough'

Spartans Lose, 63-51

Stevenson basketball Coach George VanWagoner isn't throwing in the Inter-Lakes towel yet, but his thinking has to be in that direction.

Pontiac Northern ripped Stevenson, 63-51, and sent the Spartans falling into third place in the Inter-Lakes with a 2-2 mark.

THE HUSKIES of Northern are first at 4-0, with Walled Lake Central second at 3-1. The Spartans have lost to both.

"There still exists an outside chance for us to win this thing," said VanWagoner. "Central is going to have to beat Northern and we'll have to take the both of them."

The Northern defeat was the second straight for Stevenson which had climbed to a 7-3 mark but now stand 7-5 overall.

LINCOLN PARK stunned the Spartans, 73-64, for its first cage victory in two years.

"We just had everything working against us at Lincoln Park," said VanWagoner. Things stayed about the same against Pontiac Northern.

"NORTHERN is always tough at home," said VanWagoner. "Our reserves, who had lost only one game, even took it on the chin."

"We have managed to beat them only once in six tries on their court," said the Spartan coach.

Stevenson opened with ideas of an upset as Dale Haberman hit three quick buckets to put the Spartans up, 6-0.

But Northern fought back to take a 19-12 lead after one quarter. Tom Centers put Stevenson back on top 28-27 with 30 seconds left in the first half. However, Lo Gibson sank a bucket at the buzzer to give Northern a 29-28 margin at the half.

PONTIAC OUTSCORED Stevenson 16-13 in the third and jumped on the Spartans in the fourth, 18-10.

"Their outside shooting beat us," added Van Wagoner. "They are not as big as we are but they go to the boards with a lot of people."

Northern hit 29 of 81 for 36 per cent while Stevenson made 20 of 63 from the floor for 32 per cent.

Stevenson won the defensive board, 28-22, but Northern controlled the offensive boards, 21-19.

The writing will be on the court for the Spartans this Friday as they travel to Walled Lake Central. Stevenson has to win or else that towel just might come out.

RU Cagers Clip Belleville For 9th Straight, 77-60

The ball of yarn is starting to unravel in the Suburban Eight basketball race. Allen Park is still the front-runner with an undefeated 7-0 mark, but the list of contenders is now narrowed to one.

The one is defending Sub-8 champion Redford Union with a 7-1 showing.

RU blitzed Belleville, 77-60, for its ninth straight win since it lost to Allen Park down in Parker territory, 79-63.

THE RU PANTHERS, the No. 1 cage team in Observerland, sport a 12-1 overall mark and travel to Plymouth Friday night. But Coach Carl Andrews knows this season will be determined 11 days later, Feb. 13, when he plays host to none other than Allen Park.

"This race is going to be a lot tighter than last year," said Andrews, whose Panthers won it with a 10-2 mark in '72 and Bentley second at 9-3.

For one thing, this season all teams play 14 league games — a complete double round robin — instead of 12. "Bentley and Plymouth are both having their problems but I am still hoping Bentley can take Allen Park on its home court," said Andrews.

BENTLEY has yet to play the Parkers and entertains the front runners on Feb. 9 and Feb. 27.

"I can see this whole race coming down to our final game with Allen Park. It's on our home court and if they beat us, that's it."

"I really thought Plymouth could beat them," added Andrews.

ALLEN PARK upended the Rocks, 77-63.

RU led all the way in knocking down Belleville for the second time this season, 63-54 the first round and 77-60 this time.

Belleville jumped to an 8-2 advantage but the Panthers bounced back to take a 14-13 first quarter edge. RU outscored Belleville 17-13 in the second eight minutes to lead at the half, 31-26.

The Belleville crew stayed with RU the third quarter, both teams popping in 19 points to make it 50-45 going into the final eight minutes.

Freshman Yee MSU Gymnast

Freshman Dennis Yee has made the Michigan State gymnastics team.

Yee, a native of Farmington, is a former prep standout at Farmington High School and is now a member of the still rings contingent at MSU. While in high school he also lettered in football.

Head coach George Szypula looks for Yee to add much needed depth to the Spartans title hopes for the 1972-73 season. "With steady work, Szypula looks for Yee to be a star in Michigan State's gymnastics future."

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

Although Northville Downs opened its 39-night winter meeting Monday, Executive Manager John Carlo is anything but satisfied with the allotment of harness racing dates by Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley.

Carlo's major complaint concerns the manner in which Shirley has gradually slashed Northville's summer dates from 54 nights in 1970 to 35 in 1971, 36 in 1972 and 36 in 1973.

"In an operation such as ours where the location isn't the best in the area, we have to depend on summer racing to make up for deficits from the winter meeting," points out Carlo.

"Thus, when we drop from 54 nights to 35 in a single year, it's just like taking the cream off the milk and still calling it top grade. We know we have the best setup for winter dates with our glass enclosed, heated and air conditioned clubhouse and grandstand. Why should we be penalized for making such improvements?"

"We know that Northville is an out-of-the-way spot when the roads are icy and slippery. We also know that we'll have an ideal location when the new highways are completed and opened, but that's still a few years away."

"RIGHT NOW we tackle competition from Windsor during the winter and summer. It's difficult to be competitive when Windsor has the better location for patrons from Detroit's east side. The distance is shorter, the roads are better in winter and the facilities are similar. We get little play from the east side, which has long been known as the life blood for race tracks."

for years bettors from that section have poured into the thoroughbred and harness racing plants.

"Windsor has no complaints about running against Northville because of the location, but won't tangle with Wolverine or Hazel Park because location favors each."

"Thus, when the commissioner keeps cutting down our summer dates, he is placing us in a position where we can't possibly make up for the lower mutuel play and attendance during the winter."

Carlo refuses to accept the commissioner's story that he can't make adjustments in the dates. Shirley feels Northville is receiving equal treatment with 39 nights in winter and 36 in summer for a total of 75.

Wolverine and Hazel Park each have 82 nights; actually no more than 36 during the summer months. Jackson at Northville has 24 nights in January and 47 in early winter for a total of 71. This is in addition to a 57 night session in late summer and late fall at Jackson.

Carlo has a schedule he feels would meet with the approval of all tracks... provided that Hazel Park or the Detroit Race Course makes improvements necessary for year round racing.

that Hazel Park, if winterized, would have a nightly average handle of around $800,000 within a year."

Carlo predicted, "It has the location and, without competition from the runners, could shatter all Michigan records. More than that, it would force Windsor to close its doors during the winter. That's what the commissioner has been trying to accomplish for some time."

"It would keep Michigan money in Michigan and give the state additional revenue from the increased handle."

The personable Northville boss also has figures to support his stand against betting gimmicks. Carlo doesn't like gimmicks and feels they have had a big role in the attendance and wagering dips across the land.

THE STATISTICS show that of 62 meetings in 1968, when the gimmicks were at the popularity peak, 44 showed hikes in attendance and 54 had big increases in handle.

In 1969, with 68 meetings slated, 45 had better crowds and 52 showed higher wagering figures.

In 1970, with a total of 69 meetings, 41 had increases in attendance, two were even and 23 had drops. In wagering, 46 showed hikes and 20 had big dips.

In 1971, with 70 meets, 33 had better crowds and 37 reported major declines. Wagering was up at 21 and down at 49.

The 1972 story was the saddest in recent harness racing history. There were 70 meets in which a mere 18 showed attendance increases and 52 reported dips. Wagering was down at 36 and only 34 had any gains over the previous years.

"We have received a breakdown in the wagering," said Carlo. "It conclusively shows that betting on the gimmicks dropped in each of the past three years. Track operators blame it on the gimmicks. Our figures show the same story... that's why we are limiting gimmicks to a daily double and three perfectas this year."

"Come another season and we may drop all but the daily double."

"It has long been my belief that there is only a certain amount of money in any crowd and it will go through the machines whether on straight betting or gimmicks."

CHARGER BALLET? -- Churchill's Phil Skender (10) goes through the motions in a drive against Harrison's Jeff Sietoff (53). Churchill went the motions of another Six victory, 57-50 over Harrison. (Observer photo by Tom Donoghue)

Scott Bjerke took over the controls for RU in the fourth quarter and hit six field goals and one free-throw for 13 points as RU made nine of 17 from the floor to outscore Belleville, 27-15.

"Belleville went into a press and Bjerke started driving from all over the place," said Andrews. "It had been just a matter of time before we broke it open."

RU hit 30 of 58 from the floor for a 52 per cent shooting average and outrebounded Belleville, 35-34, with Jerry Petsch hauling in 11 and Bob Eland 10.

After RU won the Northwest Holiday cage tourney, Andrews stated that his squad wouldn't lose a game the rest of the regular season, and if they did it would have to be an upset.

Maybe the coach knew what he was talking about. The next two weeks will tell.

A Spartan Massacre! Stevenson Wins, 16-1

In the front row of the stands at Ford Ice Rink, a rooster wore a button that read "Stevenson Hockey Power."

There wasn't one Southfield Lathrup fan around who questioned that button.

Stevenson High demonstrated its prowess with a Suburban Hockey League record in a 16-1 onslaught against first year and winless Lathrup.

Even the one Lathrup goal was scored by Stevenson on a stray pass!

It was Stevenson's and Coach Gerry Goode's seventh consecutive victory in the Suburban League for a 14 point total in sole control of first place.

CHURCHILL is three points down the line, sporting a 5-2-1 mark after an upset loss to Southfield, 6-1.

Lathrup, meanwhile, is at the bottom of the Suburban barrel with an 0-8 showing, scoring only five goals in the eight games and allowing eight per game.

Lathrup goalies John Hawkes and Bruce Ruhl were met with a 55 shot barrage, while Stevenson netminder Dave Swierpel turned back only 11 Lathrup shots in the 45 minute contest.

The high flying Spartans, anxious to gain ground on the fallen Churchill team, opened with a score in each of the first four minutes against a weak Lathrup defense and goalie Hawkes.

Bob McLive, Jerry DiRusso, Steve Hillman and Kurt Geiger put the Spartans up, 4-0, 4:35 into the game.

DON FINN and Wally McLimurray made it 6-0 after the first period, with Stevenson outshooting the Chargers, 15-4, and three penalties called.

The Spartans kept on Lathrup and slapped in four more goals in the first eight minutes of the second stanza. Geiger, Brian VanNorman, Don Finn and Hillman all scoring.

Then at 10:27, a Stevenson pass bounced off senior center Dale Marczak past Swierpel into the net and a shutout was broken. Greg Schultz was awarded the goal for Lathrup.

DEFENSEMAN Bill Finn and Paul Vermeesch added two more goals for Stevenson and it was 12-1 after two periods.

Ruhl went into nets for Lathrup and the Spartans went hat-trick hunting.

Hillman slapped in his third at 1:13. Geiger assisting. Hillman returned the favor at 6:49. Geiger flipping in his third goal, Hillman assisting.

Two minutes later, Hillman passed to Don Finn who bested Ruhl for his hat-trick and Stevenson's 15th goal.

WITH 1:23 remaining, Hillman concluded the awesome attack with goal No. 4. Don Finn assisting. For the Spartans center, it was the completion of a 4-4 night, four goals, four assists and a total of eight points.

Fifteen penalties were called, eight against Lathrup and seven against Stevenson, with Spartan Bill Finn awarded a misconduct in the late stages of the third period.

Stevenson has just one clash this week. This will be Friday in the 9 p.m. game at Ford against the on and coming Bentley crew which has outscored its opponents 39-16 in the last five games.

LATHRUP, on the other hand, finds itself pitted against Bentley tonight

(Wednesday) in the 8 p.m. Ford game and against Churchill Thursday at the Southfield Civic Center, 3 p.m.

Area Junior Players Win Badminton Titles

The Observerland area was well represented in the annual Midwest Junior Badminton Championship held at the Freeman School in Flint.

Two male athletes won all three events in their age groups.

Pat Trappnell of Thurston High School swept the 18 and under bracket, winning singles, doubles and mixed.

Paul Rogind, 14, of Farmington won singles, doubles and mixed in the 15 and under class.

Paul's older brother, Eric, 17, of Farmington Harrison High captured the 18 and under doubles with Trappnell, and was runner-up to Pat in mixed teaming with Janet Owens of Birmingham Seaholm.

CHRIS SAXTON, 13, of Plymouth won the boys' doubles and was runner-up in singles and mixed in the 14 and under shot.

Kevin Kohls, 13, of Redford Township was runner-up in the 13 and under boys doubles, teaming with Mike Beavers of Flint.

The next two months will see the juniors training, practicing, and traveling to other tournaments in preparation for the National Junior Badminton Championships which will be held at Cranbrook in Birmingham, March 20-23.

This will be only the third time that the junior championships have been held in Michigan since their inception in 1947.

Assumption Knocks Off Stevenson Skaters, 3-1

Stevenson hockey Coach Gerry Goode likes the prep competition in Canada, even if it does mean chalking up another in the loss column.

Assumption of Windsor handed Stevenson its second defeat in the home and away series between the two clubs, 3-1, but Goode couldn't have asked for a better showing from his Spartan puckmen.

"The kids just played one heck of a game," said Goode. "I wasn't the least bit discouraged by the loss."

ASSUMPTION toppled Stevenson in the season's first meeting, 8-4.

The Spartans have now lost only three matches, two to Assumption and one to Cranbrook, and all three were out of the Suburban Hockey League.

Assumption outshot Stevenson, 22-18, and drew first blood at the 9:16 mark in the first period.

Stevenson notched it at one-all a minute later when Don Finn picked the corner. Steve Hillman assisting. But Assumption goalie Tom Morse closed the door and the Spartans were futile from there on out.

The first period ended in the 1-1 deadlock with no penalties being called.

ONLY THREE penalties were whistled in the second, Stevenson collecting all three. Four were called in the third, Assumption picking up three.

Assumption jumped on Stevenson with only 43 seconds elapsed in the second period when Mike Eaves beat Vermeesch. Gary Lamphier assisting.

The final score was a power play goal while Stevenson's Wally McLimurray was off for elbowing.

Jack Rosaasen slapped it home at 7:09. Eaves assisting.

Franklin Girls Conquer Glenn

Franklin High's girls volleyball squad came from behind to topple Westland John Glenn in Northwest Suburban League action.

It was Franklin's eighth win against only one loss.

Glenn won the opening match, 15-13, but Franklin rebounded in the second, 15-2, as Gale Williams served 13 straight points.

Franklin won the third and deciding round, 15-11.

The Northwest League meet is today (Wednesday) at John Glenn.

Eyeing 2nd Place Bentley Rips Franklin

Bentley is out to even the score with a few teams in the Suburban Hockey League.

The Bulldog pucksters lost to Churchill, Franklin and Stevenson but managed to salvage wins over Southfield High and Southfield Lathrup in round one.

But it wasn't until the start of the second round that Coach Mike Dudley had everyone off the injury list and the Bulldogs are out to set a few things straight.

Bentley outskated Churchill for a five-all tie and destroyed Franklin, 8-2.

Now comes the real test of Bulldog power.

BENTLEY will be taking on undefeated Stevenson in the 9 p.m. clash Friday, Feb. 2, at Ford Ice Rink. The Spartans blitzed Bentley in that uneven first round, 11-1, but the Bulldogs now have their eye on second place with strict revenge a keynote for Friday's clash.

Dudley must have been wondering how Franklin ever beat him in the first round, 5-2, when his Bulldogs all but carried the Patriots around the ice for an 8-2 rebound victory.

Bulldog netminder Mark Reid turned in a top-notch performance with 29 saves to his credit in what Dudley labled his "best show yet."

FORWARD GREG McKernan was the offensive story with a goal in each of the three periods for his first Suburban hat-trick.

Each team fought off two penalties in the early moments and it wasn't until the 10:16 mark when Bentley finally struck.

BOB WAZILEWSKI beat Filarecki and the Bulldogs were still coming.

At 11:41, Greg Rackowicz picked the corner and McKernan scored 64 seconds later to give Bentley a 3-0 lead after one period.

Dave Manoogian and Steve Marlowe made it 5-0 early in the second before Harold Vella got Franklin on the board, Mark Field assisting to make it 5-1.

But McKernan bested Filarecki again to up it to 6-1 after two periods.

McKERNAN slapped in his third at 3:12 in the third, Rackowicz assisting, and Jeff Munson followed to pad the Bulldog margin.

With 10 seconds remaining, Field scored Franklin's second goal.

Only 13 penalties were called. Bentley winning that contest also, 8-5.

Bentley's Dave Manoogian went down in the late stages of the third period, victim of a high stick, and was rushed to St. Mary Hospital where stitches were administered around the right eye.

"It happened right in front of our bench," said Dudley. "The play was moving away and all of a sudden Dave went down and a pool of blood surrounded his head."

"He just said his eye hurt and he wouldn't let go of his stick while laying on the ice," added Dudley. "I always stress that the kids hang onto their sticks tight at all times. He wouldn't let go of it until we carried him off the ice."

MANOOGIAN received 20 stitches around the eye and will be out of the Bulldog lineup for some time.

Bentley hosts Southfield Lathrup tonight (Wednesday) at Ford Ice Rink, 8 p.m. and then it's Stevenson Friday.

Franklin Coach Paul Ferguson hopes for a revival in Friday's 7 p.m. clash at Ford against Southfield High.

Raiders Topple GC East, 65-51

North Farmington is still in the running for the Northwest Suburban basketball title in the opinion of Raider Coach Ken Dean.

"Two losses will win this thing and three might get you a tie," said Dean after his Raiders upended Garden City East, 65-51. "This race is still wide open."

Franklin toppled John Glenn to place the two in a tie for first with identical 4-1 marks, while North is next in line at 3-2. East slipped into a tie for fourth with Oak Park at 2-3.

North lost to Franklin and Glenn in the first round and contends with Oak Park and Thurston before playing the two front runners back to back on Feb. 16 and 23.

BY BEATING East, the Raiders also upped their overall showing to 8-4 in comparison to the 5-7 record they had last year at this same time.

Billy Joe Young's East Panthers, who were enjoying a five game winning streak since the start of the new year, opened up with a 16-13 first quarter edge. John Grigal scoring the first five points for East.

North's shooting game changed in the second quarter from a six for 17 to 10 for 15 and the Raiders jumped ahead, 35-28, at the half.

KIM PARKER scored 10 and Mike Daley six in the 22 point explosion for North.

Parker scored 12 of North's 14 points in the third quarter to keep his squad in command as East hit for 17, Bernie Soya popping in seven.

North led going into the final stanza, 49-45.

With 3½ minutes remaining, John Grigal put in a two-point shot for East to tie it at 55-55. Soya and North's Dave Ellsworth traded buckets to make it 57-57.

Then came what both coaches agreed was the turning point.

A FOUL was called against East and the official ruled that the East player, having raising his arm, slapped it down too hard on his side and a technical was assessed.

Parker made the charity toss and North was given the ball. Kim Gassior then scored on a left-handed layup, making it 60-57, 2:40 remaining.

Jim Fredericks popped in another Raider basket to increase it to 62-57 and the North victory was intact.

Each club scored 30 field goals, with the game being decided at the free throw line where East hit one of three and North five of eight.

EAST FINISHED 30 of 63 from the floor for 48 per cent and North hit 30 of 61 for 49 per cent.

"Both teams played excellent basketball," commented Young. "It was a shame one team had to lose. This had to be our second best ball game yet."

North won the rebounding battle, 35-28. Bruce Taylor was high for East with eight and Ellsworth high for the winners with 12.

Turnovers were at a low, with North collecting 12 and East only eight.

"We played well enough to win," said Young.

"We don't have a lot of talent this year but we have some of the biggest hearts," concluded the East coach.

EAST PLAYS at Franklin this Friday.

Young's Panthers beat the Patriots twice last year in their own gym. Once came during regular season action, 57-54, and the second was in the opening round of the districts, 82-69.

The last time East played in the Franklin gym was when East captured the regional championship last March 10 against Detroit Northwestern, 55-51.

NORTH FARMINGTON hosts Thurston Friday.

Ski Heil

By

BILL CAMERON

Snow, snow, beautiful snow, where are you hiding? If I had my druthers, I'd head for the Canadian Rockies or Lake Tahoe. Some friends of mine just returned this past week and they said the snow conditions are perfect. Seeing as I don't have my druthers, I may have to give it up entirely for this winter.

Snow reports from northern Michigan are rather sketchy. Ordinarily by this time each year I'd have made at least three trips up north, but I'm like the average skier. I'm a little hesitant about driving four or five hours and not too sure about finding adequate snow conditions.

Most of the areas have snow making equipment but unless the temperature drops to below 28, it is impossible to make snow. What with all the rain we've had, it just about washes away any base they may have built up.

My friends at the Canadian Government Tourist Bureau tell me that skiing is good at Mt. Tremblant near Montreal. The province of Ontario is fair to good.

I even heard rumors that snow conditions in Europe aren't too great. But I find that hard to believe. You may not be able to ski into town, but usually the runs up on top are great.

I noticed where Livonia Ski Skule has a three day trip to the Bahamas in May. They've got the right idea. The Livonia Tennis Club has a weekend trip to Toronto, Feb. 16-18, leaving Windsor at 6 p.m. by train. Anyone interested is welcome to join the group.

I haven't seen too many people on crutches lately. That's either a sign of everyone getting smarter or fewer of us skiing. I hope it's the former.

NOTICE: We have sold several pieces of ski equipment through our Swap Shop which my secretary is running at the Livonia Y. If you wish to purchase used ski equipment or have a desire to sell yours, contact "Bonnie" at 261-2161.

Mott Snags Farmington In 'Comedy Of Errors'

Farmington High is on a streak that first year Coach Bruce Brown could do without.

The sputtering Falcon cagers dropped their sixth consecutive ball game to Waterford Mott, 70-52.

Bentley's Tom Duprey broke a school record in the 100 yard freestyle with a :51.1 clocking.

Bentley Drops 5th Straight

Bentley fell a notch deeper into a five game losing streak by taking one on the chin against Dearborn High in Suburban Eight basketball action, 56-46.

After piling up a 5-2 record, the Bulldogs have dropped five straight, three by not more than four points.

"We just got off to a bad start against Dearborn," said Bentley Coach John Farrar, whose Bulldogs beat the Dearborn five in the first round, 58-53. "We never bounced back."

"We were never in the game," he added. "Those close losses are taking their toll on us."

BENTLEY could muster only 11 points in each of the first three periods and only 13 in the final eight minutes. Dearborn hit for 15 in the first, 14 in the second, 15 in the third and 12 in the final quarter.

The Bulldogs shot 18 for 45 from the field for 40 per cent, while Dearborn hit 20 of 52 for 38 per cent. The difference was at the line where Dearborn made good 16 of 21. Bentley hit on only 10 of 22.

Tim Bollin paced the rebounding game with 13 grabs as Bentley won the boards, 32-38.

It's Servite, 76-68

Borgess Loses

Coach Jim Brisky is the first to admit that his Bishop Borgess cagers have their troubles with Servite.

"Servite just blew us apart in a man-to-man setup," said Brisky after Borgess dropped a 76-68 decision. "They just plain outthrew us."

It was loss No. 5 for Borgess in its first year in the Catholic League's First Division Double A with two victories shining not so bright.

have the home court advantage," said the Borgess coach. "We were called for 18 fouls. Servite only 13."

Servite jumped to a 12-2 lead early in the opening stanza, hitting six straight layups, and Borgess found itself behind after eight minutes, 23-12.

Borgess almost fell out of the gym in the second quarter with Servite hitting 12 of 19 from the field and exploding to a 52-33 halftime margin.

Borgess journeys to Bishop Gallagher Friday and St. Mary of Redford the following week before its regular season ends on Feb. 13 with Shrine.

Special Nights For Basketball In Farmington

Prep basketball attendance in Farmington should be on the rise in February.

Farmington Athletic Director John Cotton has announced two basketball ticket selling promotions.

"In an effort to generate interest in interscholastic athletics and provide nights for family fellowship and student fun, we have established six basketball games of special interests," said Cotton.

There will be three "Family Buck Nights" where all members of one family accompanied by a parent will be admitted for $1.

THESE THREE games are: Feb. 6, Birmingham Seaholm at Harrison; Feb. 13, Southfield at Farmington High; and Feb. 27, Waterford Kettering at North Farmington.

There also will be three "Rexall One Cent Sale Nights" where if you purchase one ticket at the established price, you pay one additional penny for the second ticket.

The "One Cent Nights" are: Feb. 2, Thurston at North Farmington; Feb. 2, Waterford at Harrison; and Feb. 16, Stevenson at Farmington.

Milford Trounces Trojans, 52-36

Clarenceville just can't seem to put it together when it meets Milford on the basketball court.

The Trojan cagers have been held to just 36 points in each meeting, losing the first round, 52-36, and again, 59-36.

The now 4-10 Trojans were hot off a 58-54 victory against Northville but you couldn't have even guessed this when they took the court against Milford.

Both clubs sputtered to a nine-all first quarter tie.

THE SECOND period saw Clarenceville turn to a semi-control game, hurting Milford's man-to-man setup. Milford then switched to a zone and Clarenceville sputtered out.

"We just don't have the outside shooters and rebounders to work against a good zone," said Clarenceville Coach Ralph Weddle. "They beat us on the boards."

Milford outrebounded Clarenceville, 41-21, with Barry Kloenhamer hauling in 21 rebounds to match the Trojans himself.

CLARENCEVILLE hit only 15 of 57 from the floor for 26 per cent. Quite a comparison to only three nights before when the Trojans shot 57 per cent against Northville.

Milford popped in 24 of 55 for 44 per cent.

"This had to be one of our poorest showings in the six years I have coached basketball at Clarenceville," said Weddle.

The Trojans, who stand 0-6 in the Wayne-Oakland League, host West Bloomfield Friday.

Lions And Wolverines Both Get 'Their Man'

By W. W. EDGAR

The difference in the philosophy of professional and college football was emphasized again when the Detroit Lions signed Don McCafferty as the new head coach and Bo Schembechler was given a five year pact at the University of Michigan.

In selecting McCafferty, the Lions made it known that they were satisfied that the former coach of the Baltimore Colts would make the club a contender for the Super Bowl.

Meanwhile, Schembechler was rewarded because of the strong defense that carried the Wolverines to the Rose Bowl twice in the last four years and helped them win or share the Big Ten title three times in the same period.

In signing McCafferty, the Lions also dispensed with the "home grown" theory that enabled Joe Schmidt to come up through the ranks to take over the top job.

THE LIONS made no secret of the fact that their offense left something to be desired and that the Super Bowl appeared to be out of their grasp with the current system.

In their search they looked for what sports knows as "money player" -- one who has been through the mill and can instill the winning spirit into the team.

In the two years McCafferty was head man with the Colts he built a record of 26-6-1 and took the Colts to the Super Bowl.

His signing with the Lions was reminiscent of the spring of 1933 when the Tigers, wallowing in sixth place, purchased Mickey Cochrane from the then Philadelphia Athletics.

"He's a money player," the Tigers said at the time, "and he could take us places."

When Cochrane reported, he asked for one more "money player" -- a fellow who had been through the mill -- and the Tigers purchased "Goose" Goslin. It is history now that the Tigers won the American League pennant in 1934 and the world series in 1935.

The "money players" developed the winning spirit.

That's what the Lions were looking for and in McCafferty they think they have their man.

SCHEMBECHLER'S reward at Michigan hit the other extreme. "Bo" has built a winning record with the strong defense. He argues that if you keep the other fellow from scoring, you have a better chance of winning. Thus far, it has worked.

Since "Bo" has taken over at Michigan the Wolverines have been accused of playing dull football -- but they have been winning.

As one critic put it, "Winning isn't a matter of life and death at Michigan-- It's more important than that."

Redford's Bob Atkins Puts Adray Baseball Cap Back On

Sports Editor

Bob Atkins is not a man of many hats.

In fact he wears two, baseball and football.

But he wears these two like no other coach around.

Bob is the head coach for football and baseball at Redford Union High School as well as for the Redford Connie Mack baseball club. Now he also is stepping back into the Adray baseball program after a two year vacation.

The 35-year-old head whistle blower in Panther territory coached the Adray entry from '65 to '70.

In those six years, his Redford squad never lost the league championship or the outstate title and he was runner-up in the '68 nationals, losing to New Orleans in the national finale.

Atkins bowed out in the '71 summer program and Pat Sheridan took over the reins. The Redford Adray squad won the league and outstate title both years but friction was reaching a head between Sheridan and the Livonia League on recruiting practices.

SHERIDAN has just recently made the move to the Detroit Adray League where recruiting is big business and Atkins has stepped right back in, his Adray shoes still warm. "My family was very disappointed when I got out of the Adray program," said Atkins. The Atkins family consists of his wife, Marty, daughter Debbie (13), and sons Bob (12), Craig (11) and Tommy (15).

"I have to have the greatest wife in the world," said Bob. "She coaches a softball team in the summer and my daughter Debbie plays on it. Marty knows scouts and parents better than I do."

"My family is always the No. 1 rooting section."

BOB IS considered the "Dean" of most baseball and football coaches in the area. He has coached varsity baseball at RU since '62 and has captured six Suburban Eight championships.

Atkins has had the No. 1 assignment on the Panther gridiron since '67 and for three years straight literally walked off the bus from the baseball nationals in Johnstown, Pa., onto the football field at RU.

The Farmington resident never played high school ball and began coaching at the age of 15 in Cheboygan, for a local softball team.

Atkins has compiled an overall baseball record of 454 wins and 167 losses. This includes six Connie Mack championships, six Suburban Eight titles, three Class D crowns and a Connie Mack state title in '65, and all the hardware picked up in six years of Adray ball.

Now comes the challenge of Adray baseball again. Bob can see his Redford team playing at least four games a week.

"In all fairness to the team and the league, we have to get extra games on our schedule. We can go through and give the league race a real shot with two pitchers, but you can't survive in any tournament unless you have at least five pitchers. The trouble is, you can't have five with only two games a week in the league."

"I am hoping for some help this summer in the Connie Mack program so I can spend more time with the Adray team."

"ADRAY IS a win proposition. Mike Adray is my sponsor and a good one. He wants to win more than anything, but I won't sacrifice my principles just to win."

"This Livonia League is a community league and decent balance has to exist. Before I left two years ago, I proposed the idea of four outsiders and that's the way it is now."

"These outsiders should strengthen each and every team for tournament competition."

"This is a quality league with excellent competition and the kids who play in it take pride in this league."

"This might sound funny, but my dream is not to win the national title in Johnstown. I am not saying that I wouldn't want to, but this isn't all I gear myself and my team for."

"If you take care of everything else, winning will come. Coaching Adray ball is a little different than high school. The kids are older and you have to be more liberal. But win, lose or draw, we talk -- and then run."

"Sure, I feel a responsibility to my sponsor -- not necessarily to win all the time but more not to embarrass him with our achievements."

"MIKE ADRAY wants a winner. I want a winner. The caliber of this league has risen and some coaches even get paid for winning some titles. "All I can say about that is 'different strokes for different folks.'"

"I always expect my players to be gentlemen above all else. I don't care what anyone says, there is still a lot of sportsmanship left in athletics today."

"Hey, of all the trophies I have ever won the one I cherish most is the Sportsmanship Trophy we won in the '68 finals at Johnstown."

"I would be lying if I said I wasn't going after the national title but there is always something to be accomplished along the way."

"People tend to stray away from keeping things in their proper perspective. If you take care of other things, winning and losing will take care of themselves."

Bob Atkins is back in Adray baseball and Adray baseball will always remain a winner with Bob Atkins around.

Franklin Breaks 'Churchill Spell'

It has taken Franklin High about half a year, but the Patriots finally did it.

Franklin finally beat city rival Churchill in a varsity sport.

Churchill swept the fall sports and topped Franklin in basketball, wrestling and hockey. The last hopes for the Patriots narrowed down to a dual swim meet.

FRANKLIN baseball Coach Ron Hellier was already starting to put up "incentive posters" in the locker room. But the Franklin swimmers splashed their way to victory and all but dunked Churchill in a non-league dual match, 55-40.

It was Franklin's fifth win against one loss.

THE PATRIOTS captured five individual firsts along with the 400 freestyle relay, six seconds and six thirds. Brad Kenny established a school record with 4:12.4 in the 400 yard freestyle for Franklin.

Individual winners for Franklin were Tom Segasser, John Kortesoja, Dave Balmaves, Kenny and Dave Daberkoe.

The relay foursome of Kortesoja, Foley, Wright and Balmaves set a Franklin pool record for the Patriots with a 3:35.1 clocking.

Franklin also crushed

another city opponent in Bentley High, 52-43.

The Patriots scored only four individual firsts along with the 400 freestyle triumph but captured seven seconds.

Eagles Drop 9th, 76-74

Oak Park Edges Thurston

A layup by Lonnie Ford with two seconds remaining put another damper on an already damp Thurston High basketball season.

Oak Park handed the Thurston Eagles their third straight Northwest Suburban defeat, 76-74.

THURSTON is sitting in the cellar of the Northwest with an 0-5 mark and stands 2-9 overall.

Oak Park led after one quarter, 19-16, and kept its three point margin at the half, 37-34. Thurston sliced it to 51-50 after three quarters and it remained nip-and-tuck up to the buzzer.

"We just couldn't get over the hump," said Thurston Coach Dan Bennett. "Oak Park always had the lead on us, we just didn't have it."

JOHN ROY tied it up for Thurston, 74-74, with 15 seconds remaining and Oak Park called a time out, 10 seconds remaining to play.

Ford drove in and scored an easy two points and with two seconds to go, Steve Hunter passed up to Kennan for Thurston who let go a shot from the top of the key.

It hit the front of the rim, bounced away and the Eagles had fallen again.

THURSTON HIT 31 of 78 from the floor for 41 per cent and Oak Park scored 49 per cent on 31 of 64.

The Eagles did manage to win one thing.

Thurston outrebounded Oak Park, 48-35, with 6-2 Hunter collecting 16. Keenan captured scoring honors for Thurston with 27 points, hitting on 11 of 19 from the floor. The 5-9 senior guard topped his season average to 16.9.

ONE OF THE key factors in this Thurston defeat was the absence of Mark Falvo in the scoring column. "Mark scored 23 for us the week before but after a zero first half, I had to pull him. He just hasn't been up to par physically," said Bennett.

Paneling Gives Cabinet A Facelift

A dull, khaki-colored file cabinet can be given a new, interesting face with a few pieces of prefinished paneling.

Prefinished woodgrained hardboard with a high fidelity woodgrain reproduction is particularly attractive on an old file cabinet.

Cut the paneling with a fine-tooth saw and attach it with wallboard adhesive or contact cement. Be sure to knead the pieces after you apply them to assure a strong bond.

The hardboard is highly resistant to rough treatment and is washable with a damp cloth.

Detailed instructions for installation are usually included in each package.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

Philodendron and rubber plants: Here are two items we get many letters about.

First, the so-called "split-leaf" philodendron is not a philodendron, but rather correctly named Monstera deliciosa. I doubt if the correct name will ever be accepted, however.

When this plant is young, it develops solid leaves or leaves with slight indentations. As it matures, it has holes in it, like a slice of Swiss cheese, hence the common name "Swiss Cheese" plant.

The common or "heart-leaved" philodendron is the one found in most homes, and it has been called "man's best friend" even though it provides him with no food or fiber. The dog and the philodendron share this reputation because they are well adapted to live in close harmony with man.

Care: Monstera, like philodendrons, syngoniums, pothos and other vining plants of the Aroid family, all take the same care. Give them a warm temperature of 75 degrees F. with variations from 65 to 85 degrees.

Yellowing of leaves, followed by dropping, usually means the plant has been overwatered, or drainage is poor. Make sure water does not stand around the roots. Allow the plants to become fairly dry between waterings.

A weak, yellowish color without any appreciable leaf drop means too much light or direct sun on the leaves. Give the plants less light and no direct sun.

The rubber plant isn't really a rubber plant but a fig (Ficus elastica) and is sometimes called the "Indian rubber tree" because it yields a latex milky sap. Greenhouse men feel that the rubber plant is probably the best value for the money when it comes to large foliage plants.

Care: Water, thoroughly, then allow to dry out. Overwatering and too little light will cause leaf drop. They will also cause the bottom leaves to turn brown along the edges.

ZINNIAS: Our zinnias are better than ever. A point to remember is this: Don't sow your seed too early--allow four weeks before setting out time. Zinnias will not germinate satisfactorily if the soil temperature is less than 70 degrees F. Cover seed with a light dusting of peatmoss or vermiculite. State Fair is a variety highly resistant to mildew and alternaria blight, so if you've had trouble growing zinnias, order seed of this variety. GREEN THUMB CLINIC: A reader writes: "We received a nice poinsettia for Christmas, but the leaves started to drop. What makes this?" Answer: Could be due to dry soil, dry air, lack of light or too hot a room temperature.

Good Food Begins Year Of Ox

By ELLY

Deck the halls with boughs of sesame and pine. Chinese New Year is fast approaching and time to decorate your home the traditional Chinese way.

Chinese New Year falls this year on Feb. 3. It'll be the first day of the year 4671 in the Chinese calendar and the beginning of the year of the Ox.

For the Chinese it's a big day for giving and receiving presents. Fruit (especially oranges), foods, potted plants for friends; fabrics and ornaments for one's own family are the traditional gifts.

Children are dressed in new clothes and parents and relatives give them small amounts of money, wrapped in red paper that symbolizes good luck.

To assure good luck for your own family in the Year of the Ox, write "luck phrases" on pieces of red paper.

The Chinese use words such as prosperity, longevity, good health, happiness or wealth. Then hang the red papers throughout the house and have a happy Chinese New Year.

THE YEAR of the Ox brings to mind a Chinese style beef fondue:

Allow 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 pound of beef tenderloin, cut into one-inch cubes per person. Provide an assortment of oriental sauces, such as soy, teriyaki or sweet and sour. Each of these is available bottled.

Place about 1 1/2 inches of cooking oil in an electric fondue pot and turn to "meat" setting. In a non-electric pot, heat oil on range in fondue pot, then transfer to canned heat. Give each person a long-handled fork and let him spear his own chunks of meat, cook it in the oil until it is done to his liking, and dip it in one of the sauces. Provide additional forks for eating. Fondue forks can get very hot. Serve with egg rolls and a salad.

GOOD FORTUNE MEAT LOAVES

1 can (6 ounces) tomato sauce
1/3 c. sweet and sour sauce
2 T. soy sauce
2 lb. ground beef
2 eggs, beaten
1 t. dry mustard
2 t. onion powder
1 can (3 ounces) chow mein noodles, finely crushed
1 can (1 pound) fancy Chinese mixed vegetables, drained and rinsed
1/4 t. pepper
1/2 t. salt

Combine sauces; reserve 1/4 cup for baste. Combine remaining sauce and ingredients. Shape into eight loaves. Place in shallow baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 50 minutes, basting occasionally with sauce.

CHINESE CHICKEN WITH NUTS

2 whole chicken breasts, boned, skinned (4 pieces)
1 c. cornstarch
2 t. salt
1 t. sugar
1 t. monosodium glutamate (optional)
2 egg whites
1/4 t. dry sherry or shao hsing wine
1/4 c. finely chopped fresh walnuts, or an equal amount of skinned, chopped Brazil nuts
Peanut, vegetable or corn oil for deep frying
Parsley

Slice the chicken breasts at an angle into paper-thin slices. This is easier to do if the meat is partially frozen. Set aside on waxed paper.

Place the cornstarch, salt, monosodium glutamate and sugar in a bowl. Add the wine and blend. Beat the egg whites lightly but not until frothy, and gradually stir them into the cornstarch mixture. Stir until smooth. Arrange the chopped nuts in a pie plate or other plate.

Dip the chicken fillet first into the cornstarch mixture on both sides, then into the chopped nuts. Place on waxed paper and let stand until all the pieces are coated.

In a wok or deep-fryer, heat the oil to almost the smoking point. Turn off the heat and add the chicken pieces, a few at a time, without crowding. Cook, stirring and turning the pieces until golden brown, no longer than two or three minutes. Turn on heat, if necessary, for the past pieces, but do not overcook. Drain on paper toweling. Garnish with fresh parsley sprigs and serve immediately. Serves eight.

Masonry 'Bricks' Installed By Home Handyman

SIMULATED BRICK kitchen is the weekend work of a home handyman using only simple household tools. The "bricks" are made of crushed stone and fiber glass and come in easy-to-install panels.

Time was when a brick or stone kitchen was very expensive. Masonry in the cooking area was restricted to very posh homes.

Now, with the introduction of man-made masonry panels, practically anyone can have the look and feel of brick or stone in the kitchen. The panels are designed for home handyman installation, and they come complete with mortar.

A brick-like panel is made by Masonry Corp. from crushed stone and fiber glass. The panels, covering approximately two square feet each, can be installed over any wall surface.

Half-inch ring shank nails are used for installation on drywall, plaster or other nailable surface. Nylon expansion bolts, supplied with the panels, are used when applying the panels to cement walls.

SINCE DRYWALL and plaster walls are usually backed by 2 by 4 studs on 16-inch centers, you should be able to nail into at least two 2 by 4 studs at several points in each of the 28 3/4-inch panels.

On those instances when you will hit only one stud behind the panels, the nylon expansion bolts should be used for added support.

Whether nails or expansion bolts are used, it is important that maximum adherence be obtained. Nail into as many studs as possible, making sure you use a sufficient number of expansion bolts to keep the panel from bowing.

Installation begins at the top of the wall. Start by cutting off the two half-bricks that extend beyond the end of the panel (save these two ends). Then nail the panel to the studs at the mortar lines.

When working at the floor line, cut the panels so that the last row is snug with the floor. If the floor is not level, cut the panels at the required level.

After all panels are fastened to the wall, apply mortar in a 1/4-inch bead in all recessed mortar lines of the bricks. Mortar is applied through a cartridge-type caulking gun. The extruded mortar bead can be smoothed with a trowel. General setting time is 24 to 48 hours. Spills and smears can be wiped up with laquer thinner before they have set or hardened.

The brick-like panels are both moisture and heat resistant. Dirt and grease can be removed simply by wiping with a wet sponge or ordinary household detergent.

Winter Yard Work Gives Plants Head Start For Spring

EAST LANSING Want to have a yard you can be proud of next summer?

February is the time to start working on it, according to Michigan State University landscape experts. Here are some of their suggestions:

- Remove any dead or dying trees. If you don't have the time or the tools to do the job right, or if the tree is tangled with telephone or power lines, hire expert tree workmen. February is an excellent time for this job since professional workmen are not too busy and less damage will be done to the frozen ground. Tree removal is also made easier by the absence of leaves.
- Plan early for any landscaping you may want to do. Visit your landscape architect now for help in deciding where to plant. Then pick out or namentals and shrubs for your yard from your nurseryman.

- Protect your shrubs and trees from winter hazards. Check plants after heavy storms and carefully brush off excess snow and ice with an old broom. Heavy snow loads can break off branches or ruin the shape of your evergreens.
- Protect roadside shrubs from salt damage by setting up a low fence covered with burlap or some other heavy material between the plants and the road.
- Use stakes to support tall spindly plants against winter winds.

In summary, your basic objective is to prevent cold, dry winter conditions from drying out newly set plants. You will save replacement costs as well as having more vigorous plants to enjoy next spring.

CONTEMPORARY hobby room was planned for a young couple whose interests include rock collecting, reading and weaving. Chess set is placed front and center on a transparent cube table. Primary walls are paneling, painted a stark white. For contrast, shelf unit is fronted with a prefinished hardboard paneling that simulates rosewood.

Herb Garden Easy To Install

A herb garden adds a dash of spice to cooking chores. So, why not create one in your own kitchen?

A wall panel of perforated hardboard will do the trick. The panel is easily installed over furring strips attached to the existing wall.

Hooks for hanging baskets and brackets for shelves of plants fit into the perforations. Readily available at lumber dealers and building supply stores, the panels come prefabricated or ready to paint.

In addition to the herbs' distinctive smells and delicious tastes, the hanging garden will make a refreshingly different wall accent.

Camping In Winter Boomed By Parks

Camping -- once considered only a warm-weather activity -- is now one of the fastest growing segments of the winter tourism scene, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

A survey of all Michigan state parks and private campgrounds shows a 35 per cent increase in those staying open this winter as compared with a year ago. The greatest growth has been in the number of private parks keeping gates open year around.

This winter for the first time, private parks operating from December through March outnumber the state parks. There are 92 private parks staying open this winter. This is 37 more than a year ago, or a 65 per cent increase.

State parks staying open to service the winter camper number 65, an increase of five over last winter.

MANY OF the private park operators staying open this winter claim that snowmobilers are a major reason for the increased demand in camping space.

One of every three private campground operators responding to an Auto Club questionnaire stated that snowmobilers have access to trails from their parks.

Auto Club points out that the family which likes to snowmobile often owns a recreational vehicle that can be towed in winter to where snow conditions are best.

Camping enables snowmobilers and skiers to reduce the cost of a weekend considerably. Nightly fees vary from a maximum of $2.50 to a minimum $1.50 at state parks and from $2 to $6 nightly at a private park.

These costs are well below the usual $12 to $18 nightly motel charge per couple.

The camping family also can save considerably on meals since most recreational vehicles have kitchen and dinette facilities useable in winter.

MANY OF the private campgrounds offer monthly storage plans. Two Grayling-area parks -- Pine Knoll and Yogi Bear -- charge $10 monthly to store a trailer on a campsite in winter. The camper pays only the $4 nightly fee if the trailer is occupied.

Of the 92 private campgrounds in operation this winter, 76, or almost 85 per cent, offer winter storage.

Storing a trailer at a campground is economical and leaves the family car free to tow snowmobiles. Car gas mileage is cut in half in towing a medium- to large-sized trailer. Auto Club points out.

The average new car hauling a trailer will get about seven miles per gallon. The added cost of pulling a trailer 400 miles on a weekend is about $10, or the cost of monthly storage at some campgrounds.

ANOTHER REASON for the growing popularity of private parks in winter is the availability of heated shower and toilet buildings in addition to heated activities buildings.

Currently, only four of the 65 state parks open in winter offer heated shower and toilet facilities. Sixty-nine, or 70 per cent, of the private parks have heated shower and toilet facilities. Twenty-seven private parks, or almost one of three, have heated activities buildings for public use.

THE FAMILY that owns an unwinterized camping unit can have it made ready for comfort in sub-zero weather with a $100 expenditure.

To provide extra warmth, auxiliary heaters -- either electric or catalytic -- can be used. The cost of good auxiliary heating usually is under $50. An inexpensive, portable electric heater can cost no more than $15. Sleeping bags or electric blankets for the lower bunks are usually a good investment for those seeking comfort.

Most units without storm windows can have them added. Clear plastic sheeting can be used to cut down window heat loss by taping it to the frame from inside the trailer.

Winter Camping Can Be Enjoyable

So it's cold outside. That needn't stop the camper or trailerite from enjoying the great outdoors with his favorite recreational vehicle.

All the gear needed for enjoying winter-time camping or trailering will be on display at the sixth annual Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show and Show from Feb. 10-18. It will be in the Detroit Artillery Armory, 4400 E. Eight Mile.

EMPHASIS, of course, will be on the good-weather travel and camping, but the trailer industry knows that today's outdoor families like their skiing and snowmobiling. Trailers and campers are built to go where the fun is.

"Motor homes, travel trailers and truck campers can be heated quite easily," pointed out Dan Dowsett, director of the show. "They are built to nationally recognized standards to insure adequate ventilation and safety for the user. Proper insulation also is a must. Fiberglass and styrofoam are usually used. Some units can be equipped with storm windows."

BEAUTEOUS BOATS (and boaters) will be on display at the 1973 Greater Michigan Boat Show in Detroit's Cobo Hall Saturday, Jan. 27 - Sunday, Feb. 4.

Spanish Dancers Perform Feb. 1

Following enthusiastic receptions in such cities as New York, Dallas, Atlanta and Boston, Jose Molina's handsome young company of Spanish dancers, singers and instrumentalists will be on stage at Plymouth - Salem High School for one performance Thursday, Feb. 1.

The program is jointly sponsored by the Schoolcraft College Cultural and Public Affairs Committee and the Plymouth Community Arts Council.

General admission at the door is $2. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

BILLED AS "Bailes Espanoles," the troupe has been hailed far and wide since its American debut 10 years ago. The performance features two hours of entertainment by America's number one Spanish song and dance company.

It consists of songs and dances from all of the Spanish provinces, from the court of Charles III, from the great Spanish operas and ballets and from the Spanish gypsy camps.

There are even some works by non-Spanish composers, such as Ravel and Rimsky-Korsakov, thrown in for good measure.

Costumes for the production were designed in Madrid by Spain's foremost designers and are appraised at $80,000.

THE TROUPE is led by Jose Molina, a native of Madrid, who started dancing lessons when he was three. He studied Flamenco and Clasic Espanole dancing simultaneously.

By the age of 17, Molina was renowned in Spain and had toured the major cities of Europe. He came to the U.S., and following an appearance on the Steve Allen Show, was invited to join the Jose Greco company. He remained as first dancer with Greco for five years.

The next logical step in his career, and the fulfillment of the dream of every Flamenco dancer, was the formation of his own company.

Art Show Will Offer Variety

The Sholem Aleichem art show and sale, to be held this year in Farmington, will feature a wide variety of art offerings by more than 125 Michigan artists. They'll be seen Feb. 2-4 in the Labor Zionist Building, 28555 Middle Belt.

Among those having works on display will be a student, Linda Leach of Westland, and a teacher, Igor Beginin of Plymouth.

MISS LEACH is a liberal arts student at Schoolcraft College. She is looking forward to a career as a psychiatric social worker. In her spare time, she likes to paint, and particularly likes to paint horses. In fact she has her own club for those who like to paint horses. Called The White Horse Art Association, the club has about 45 members, nationwide.

She has won prizes for her pictures in state fair shows. She also finds the state fair a good place to go for subjects, even though she has her own horse, which she keeps in Belleville.

Beginin, who moved to Plymouth recently from Sterling Heights, is a well-known painter in the Detroit area.

A GRADUATE of Wayne State University, he is assistant professor in the art department at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti. He is also a member and past board director of the Michigan Water Color Society.

His paintings are notable for their color and story-telling impact, and have won many awards.

The art show and sale, the Sholem Aleichem Institute's main fund-raising event, will be open 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., and 8 to 10 p.m., Feb. 2; 12 noon to 10 p.m., Feb. 3; and 1 to 5 p.m., Feb. 4. Admission charge is $1.

"Meet the artists" night will be featured Friday. Many well-known Southfield and Farmington artists also have their paintings in the show.

LINDA LEACH of Westland will have some of her paintings of horses in the Sholem Aleichem show.

IGOR BEGININ of Plymouth will exhibit his water colors in the Sholem Aleichem art show and sale. He is assistant professor of art at Eastern Michigan University.

String Quartet Should Make College Known

By TIM RICHARD

Whether the Schoolcraft College community appreciates it or not, it has given its name to a musical group that is likely to make the campus known across a good portion of the state.

The group is the Schoolcraft String Quartet, which last week played its first recital under that name in the college's cultural and public affairs series.

About 80 persons turned out, only a handful of them college students. Sharing the spotlight was pianist James Tocco, a bright (though wooden-faced) young musical light who only a week prior got enthusiastic reviews from the two daily papers for a performance with the Detroit Symphony.

THE QUARTET is composed of James Waring and Ipez Redman, violins; David Ireland, viola; and Mario DiFiore, cello. If their names sound familiar, it's because each summer they teach and perform in Schoolcraft's summer music school and chamber series, which is why they borrowed the college's name for their quartet. The biggest chunk of their annual incomes, however, comes from the Detroit Symphony.

The late Harold Laudenslager, who shared a music stand with Waring in the symphony, was featured by his first string quartet. The Schoolcraft Quartet is concentrating on Laudenslager in a series of three performances at the Detroit Institute of Arts, the next being on Feb. 22.

Tocco, a superb technician, showed he had power to spare in Aaron Copland's "Piano Variations." He also showed himself as a team man in the final work, Shostakovich's quintet, opus 57.

There is little to criticize, although Waring's violin sounded harsh, perhaps because of the acoustics in the Waterman Campus Center. The sound of Tocco, which couldn't be turned out and a large sign indicated where to take dirty dishes also were distracting.

THE PROGRAM was entirely contemporary, without a crumb for the classical Haydn buffs or us 19th century Romantic sobs. It's this fan's impression that Observerland jazz tastes are pretty sophisticated, but its chamber tastes are somewhat more restricted. Perhaps the

'Andersonville' Opens Friday

BIRMINGHAM The Village Players of Birmingham will present "The Andersonville Trial" Feb. 2, 3, 9 and 10, in the Playhouse, 475 S. Hunter Boulevard. Curtain time is 9 every evening.

The play, written by Saul Levitt, features an all-male cast. Tickets may be reserved by calling the Playhouse.

Casting Call

The Plymouth Theater Guild will hold try-outs at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 6, in the auditorium of Plymouth Central Junior High School, Church and Main, for its production of "Sunday in New York" by Norman Krasna.

The play will be presented April 12-14. A light, fast-moving comedy, it has two female and four male roles. Anyone interested in helping backstage is also invited to attend the auditions.

The production will be directed by Leonard Pavia.

Madonna Plans Art Classes For Kids

Madonna College, 36600 Schoolcraft, Livonia, is again offering art classes for children and young persons. Beginning Feb. 3, classes will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. each Saturday.

Children between the ages of eight and 13 may take creative drawing or design and composition. Junior and senior high school students may study oil painting.

Tuition for each course is $20. A materials fee of $2 is charged for the creative drawing and design class. Students in the oil painting class will supply their own materials.

Registrations will be held from 7 to 8 p.m., Friday, Feb. 2, and from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 3, in the art department, Room 191 of the Academic Building. Interested persons may call the art department between 8:30 and 9:30 a.m. and 3 and 4 p.m.

'Kate' Needs Help Of Some Musicians

The Franklin Village Players are seeking amateur musicians for their production of the Cole Porter musical "Kiss Me Kate," slated for production in March in West Bloomfield High School.

Auditions will be held at 1 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 3, in Franklin Community Church, Franklin and Normandy Roads. They will be conducted by Barbara Gowans, the musical director.

Interested musicians may call Mrs. Chalmers Brown, 463 Golfview, Birmingham.

All Ages Like 'Godspell'

By BETTY MASSON "Godspell" is a musical written and directed by a young person, composed by a young person, costumed by a 20-year-old and performed by a cast whose oldest member might have been 25. It's obviously aimed at young people.

Thus it was surprising how many older persons were in the audience at Michigan's premiere performances over the weekend.

Young and old both enjoyed it.

THE ROCK MUSICAL, whence comes the hit song "Day By Day," was presented in the University of Michigan's Power Center for our performances before sell-out crowds by a New York touring company. The musical is now in its second year off-Broadway, and will shortly be released as a movie.

Of the "Jesus Christ, Superstar" genre, "Godspell" is a fairly loose interpretation of the Gospel according to St. Matthew, made hilarious with skits, puns and all sorts of stage businesses in the first half. Part way through the second half, though, it becomes serious as it leads up to the crucifixion.

It's tough to go from humor to tragedy, and I don't think "Godspell" pulls it off. Writer-director John - Michael Tebelak would have done better to stick to his somewhat slapstick interpretation of the parables throughout and ended his story earlier.

Tebelak is 24, as is Stephen Schwartz, the composer. Susan Tsu is the 20-year-old costume designer, and her costumes are a delight.

They're an integral part of the kaleidoscopic, patchwork rhythm of the whole production, and include knee pads, such as those worn by basketball players. These are probably needed because it's a vigorous production, in which the cast of 10 seems more like 20. They are almost constantly in motion.

ROLES IN this production are interchangeable, so it would be hard and probably unfair to pick out any performer for special mention. But it is an impressively well cast and rehearsed production. Larry Whitely is the director.

OBSERVATION POINT

School Attendance Hassle Illuminates Conflicts In Society's Rule Making

By Philip H. Power
Publisher

What with the war in Vietnam winding down, high schools and college campuses quiet, and protest movements going out of fashion, it seemed a little out of place when this newspaper "two weeks ago broke" the story that some 500 kids in Livonia schools were staging a sit-in and class boycott.

Evidently, the kids were troubled by a new district attendance policy that the board passed earlier this year, setting an upper limit of seven unexcused absences or tardinesses for continued course credit. The policy replaced an indefinite one which allowed students unexcused absences up to roughly one-third of the number of course hours, which board members and school officials had found was posing problems when kids would save up their absences and just not attend school much at the end of a term.

The demonstrations were orderly, although a few firecrackers were thrown at Bentley High School. Livonia school officials seemed to be making efforts to assure concerned students that they had a right to make their views known, while also pointing out that the district has in being a detailed appeal system for students to get a hearing all the way up to the board level.

Other suburban school districts in this area reported no demonstrations or problems, probably because the majority — Southfield and Plymouth, for example — have no rigorously defined attendance policy for kids to protest against. The rule of thumb in these districts seems to be that if kids skip "too many" classes, they talk to teachers and counselors about the problem; if that fails, they probably won't do very well on their tests and have to take the course over again.

THE LIVONIA sit-ins are interesting because they seem to be so out of tune with these quiet times. No local school official quizzed expected to see the demonstrations spread, and Livonia officials themselves expected the movement to quietly fizzle out after a while.

But the points raised by the kids are interesting and, at minimum, worth considering.

The first is: Why be required to attend a class, if the student's own work is sufficient to keep up with the class and pass tests? If that's so, then what in blazes are the teachers doing in that class that attendance has no bearing on learning the material?

And further, if there are some bright kids in the class who find what's taught to be below their level, can't some way be found to give them more challenging work? (We all know the answer to that one: state aid money just isn't adequate.)

The second is a point voiced by a Livonia parent with a child in the school system, who said the school board was "acting like little tin gods" in making arbitrary and excessively restrictive attendance policies. That may be true, but the board has every legal right to do it, and given the conservative swing in national mood, I'm surprised that they didn't do it before.

THE HEART OF the matter, of course, is that in trying to set up rules in our society — attendance in school, civil rights in voting, equity per pupil in education financing — we have in general tried to make the rules uniform for everyone, uniformly applied. This seems like a good principle, since it gives everybody equal treatment under the rules and establishes a government of laws and not of men.

The problem comes in that not everybody is just the same, nor is everybody in equal need of having rules to govern his conduct.

Many of the kids objecting to the Livonia attendance regulations, for example, are bright students who genuinely feel that being required to be in a slow, boring class is a pointless waste of time. Other students, perhaps less interested in the class or less bright, may well need some kind of attendance regulation if they are to complete the academic work required.

Two different kinds of kids, but one rule. Of course, some object.

The solution, obviously, is to have some kind of rule that takes account of differences between kids. But that is very difficult to write in plain English and harder to administer so that the test of overall fairness of application is met. Plymouth and Southfield are trying this method, leaving the problem up to individual teachers and counselors, and it seems to be working reasonably well — perhaps because for these schools, outside attractions such as the Detroit Race Course are far away.

THERE IS, however, another interest group in this hassle. The ordinary suburban taxpayer, who has been paying ever-rising taxes and is beefing about it.

We all are required to pay our school taxes; if we don't, we go to jail. No seven excused absences; even tardiness in payment causes a penalty.

We are all required to pay our taxes because as a society we have decided that providing education for our children helps us all and in the long run is a worth while investment in each of our futures.

For a taxpayer to see a high school student protest against attendance rules — which, from the taxpayer's standpoint, simply require that students use the educational system which the taxpayer has paid for — is like waving a red flag before a bull.

I'm inclined to sympathize with the troubled taxpayer, but I'm also inclined to feel that the students who are protesting against attendance regulations, ought to be devoting their energies to making the school system have courses and teachers who are so tough and so good that they really want to be in class.

If they don't, and then can't get their high school graduation, and then can't get a job, they'll find out too late that there is a real point to attending classes.

TAKE THE BULL BY THE HORNS —
BUT FOR BETTER EDUCATION

Decision-Making Process Unveiled

We have something positive to report about improved public access to governmental decisions in this dark age of Nixon-Agnew philosophies which hold that the public shouldn't know anything about their elected leaders other than what the elected leaders want them to know.

The good news for the day is the opening of Westland City Council study sessions to local newspapers, a practice only rarely used by other public bodies.

THE OPENING of the doors comes without any formal pronouncements or fanfare — just a simple request by The Observer — met with a positive answer by city councilmen.

The reasons for Westland's opening up its study sessions on public issues are the same we have been citing for years.

We feel the public and press should know as much about how and why officials come to arriving at important public policy decisions, not just what they did, which we can learn from reading the formal minutes.

In most cases, city councils, township boards or school boards hold study sessions (something called "work" sessions, "executive" meetings, or "caucuses") to discuss in detail public business.

Specifically, these meetings allow officials to ask questions about proposed land developments, administration proposals, and — in some cases — figure out how they will vote on the issue in public.

Some councilmen admit that the major points raised in private meetings aren't revived in public.

ONE OFFICIAL pointed out that he asks questions about a development in public only when the same question asked in private isn't answered to his satisfaction.

ONE ADVANTAGE of opening the former closed sessions is the stopping of officials saying one thing in private and taking an opposite position in public for political reasons.

Another is that the public and press will learn more about the decision making process of their public officials instead of learning only how they voted.

We don't feel that everything in city hall, township hall and the school board offices will be wide open as far as public access of information is concerned, but the Westland City Council took a first step in the long journey of improving communications between government and the public.

Tim Richard writes

Attendance: Wrong Issue, At Wrong Time

Perhaps if some Livonia high school students hadn't cut so many classes, they would read the speech in Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" that goes:

"There is a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune. . . . On such a full sea are we now afloat, and we must take the current when it serves, or lose our ventures."

So advised, they might have avoided the ineffective and generally useless boycott of classes which five per cent of the student body recently attempted.

AS I WADE through their canned political rhetoric, I gather they seek both long-range and short-term gains. The long-range issue is a voice for students in the policies that govern them. The short-term issue is the tighter attendance policies that went into effect this school year.

The long-range goal makes some sense, but the tiny group picked the worst possible issue in seeking it. Fighting the attendance rules is as smart as calling for the repeal of Medicare or a renewal of the Vietnam War.

Any industrial plant manager will tell you that in the last half of the 1960s, worker absenteeism often ran as high as 25 per cent, particularly on Mondays and Fridays. Most car buyers have heard that you should "never buy a car made on a Monday or Friday."

The reason is that high wages and plenty of overtime made a lot of people lazy. With poor attendance, production schedules went awry, and unit costs rose; costly overtime became necessary.

It became almost a national illness. Output per man-hour remained practically stagnant in the last half of the 1960s. Poor productivity in the face of rising wages and costs has been one major cause of America's declining position in world markets and the huge blobs of red ink in our balance of trade.

ONLY IN THE last year have industrialists summoned up the nerve to talk about it out loud. General Motors even produced a short film, aimed primarily to employees, arguing that their jobs depended on buying American, taking pride in their work, and getting to work every day.

Livonia School District found that students were abusing the previous, somewhat permissive attendance rules by storing up their allotments of unexcused absences, then knocking off a good portion at the end of a semester.

The new, stricter rules have resulted not only in higher attendance; they also have seen an improvement in students' test scores. Granted, not every class is interesting or even instructive every day; there is nevertheless a positive virtue in attendance.

The 500 of Livonia's 10,000 high school students who boycotted classes to protest the new attendance policies were swimming against the tide. They picked a poor issue at this time in history.

With the seas against them, they not only lost their case with the board of education and the public, but they probably did much harm to the long-range students' rights movement as well.

Sense And Nonsense

(A Correction)

Last week an item in this space chastized the Farmington school board attorney for advising the board against telling the public why it forced the superintendent to resign. We had the right principle, but the wrong lawyer. Robert Kelly, the regular school board attorney, was erroneously blamed. The bad advice was actually given by Thomas Schwarze, a special counsel whom the board hired at a clandestine meeting, bypassing Kelly. Bob Kelly is innocent, and Schwarze gets the blame.

'Willing To Pay,' Declare Parents On Millage

EDITOR:
We believe our children are getting a good education in Wayne-Westland schools, and we're willing to pay for it. We'll vote YES on the 21 mill renewal on Tuesday, Feb. 6.

Some of our neighbors want to support the schools, but feel that taxes are too high and must be cut back.

We agree that taxes are high, but so are food prices. What if we decided to cut our family's food budget by eliminating meats, milk and other protein-rich foods from the menu? We would survive, but chances are we'd soon be feeling a little sick.

The same with our schools. If we reduce the millage, many of the good programs of our schools will have to be curtailed. The schools would survive, but we'd soon notice that the quality we've come to expect would be looking a little sick.

It's the children who will feel the bind in the classroom if we don't support our schools. And without knowledge and skills that come with a good education, our children will be disadvantaged as they cope with life in the future.

W-W Millage Given Boost

EDITOR:
As parents of three elementary school children, we are deeply concerned about the quality of public education.

Certainly our schools face a most difficult challenge in their role of preparing our children to live in this rapidly changing and troubled society.

Let us as residents of the Wayne-Westland School District do our part by approving the millage renewal and by taking a renewed interest in the efforts of our schools.

/Westland Community schools. This issue is one which affects us all whether we have children or not.

In a community such as ours, which attracts mainly young families, properties will be less desirable and less marketable if our schools should be reduced to a half-day schedule.

Clearly, citizens have an opportunity to maintain the present quality educational program in our community by voting YES on the 21-mill renewal, but it is apparent that many are bogged down with undue worry about busing.

Detroit may receive a loan such as our sister city of Inkster did some years ago, but who wants to repay a loan plus interest right off the top of your school budget? (Currently 16 per cent of Inkster's budget is for this purpose.) We have the opportunity to keep our schools financially responsible and able to devote the monies where they should be directed — right on the educational process.

The Supreme Court has directed our attention to the crux of one of the problems facing education today: namely, the unequal distribution of property tax revenue whereby a mill in one community might yield far more — or far less — than in a neighboring community depending on industrial wealth.

The only responsible choice a local school district has is to continue with the best educational system possible for its children until the Legislature can work out a solution to this problem. I urge local citizens to become informed by contacting their area elementary principals if they have not already received pertinent information about the election.

MRS. JOSEPH CHICKY

OKs Renewal Vote Feb. 6

EDITOR:
I am writing to encourage the people of the Wayne-Westland community schools to get out on Feb. 6 and renew our present 21 mills.

We are all concerned about the busing problems and state financed schools, but these will all have their day in court. In the meantime we are faced with the problem of giving our children a good education.

If for one do not want to see the music, art and recreation programs cut from our schools. Too many children benefit from them. I feel they have their place in school as well as a quality academic program.

Donation Helps Ease The Pain

EDITOR:
Many, many thanks for my letter being in print concerning the loss from a Plymouth High School locker of Robert Barnett's Christmas gift of a tape recorder.

There has been no response from the girl or boy, but we wish to thank the gentleman who came to the door, leaving $10 for Bob and asking Bob to pray that God forgive the girl or boy.

He would not leave a name, and just said he was "a big brother in Christ" and that this was his thanks. He didn't wish to know our faith, but said that until we all come back to Christ these hurts will remain.

Sodom Finds Rebirth Here

EDITOR:
So now Michigan will have its abortions, along with its gambling and its very lenient attitude toward murder and its tolerance of pre-marital sexual relations.

What is next? Just call us Sodom. God help us here in the "Wonderland" state. Michigan is now a good state to be from, not in.

Just for a moment, let's forget about the women who will seek the services of a doctor for an abortion. Let's look at the doctor.

The Bible still says if a person takes the life of an unborn child, that person should be killed. Our laws can change, God's law does not. Look it up in the Bible, Exodus 12:22-25.

I'm all for treating the one performing the abortion by the same method used for the abortion. Who wants to be first? After all, our state would probably allow it.

It is a shame our lawmakers can't pass some laws to protect us, instead of harm us. How about a law to protect the non-smoker? Or, how about closing the shopping centers on Sunday so that workers could spend the day with their families and go to church?

There is still hope for Michigan if we get back to the place where our values are put on the right things. We better get right with God.

GRACE BREAZEAL
Plymouth

Livonia Needs Transit Plan

EDITOR:
An anti-smog program of gas rationing has been proposed by the federal Environmental Protection Agency for the Los Angeles area. If put into effect, the action would curtail automobile use by as much as 82 per cent in that metropolis, at least during their most polluted summer months.

Nearer, the Consumer Power Co. has placed restrictions on their services. Worried about reduced supplies of natural gas, the firm has announced that it will not take on any new small business and industrial customers at this time.

Inasmuch as the gasoline used for cars is a by-product of natural gas, it seems safe to project a not-too-future time when shortages of this fuel will cause problems for automobile owners. The price tag alone on restricted supplies of gasoline could be prohibitive for the average American family.

Meanwhile, there is now more road construction equipment in Livonia than trees. Even so, hardly a week passes when a new road project isn't announced by the mayor.

However, I have yet to hear of one proposal for public transportation in our city. Instead, Livonia officials continue to assume that all people are mentally and physically healthy and wealthy enough to own a car. Thus, Livonia increasingly looks, and feels, like one large intersection.

It's time our city's administration showed some responsibility toward a vision of tomorrow. Alternate forms of transportation must be provided. A jitney system could service the city quite effectively for now. Bicycle paths along the major roads would be helpful.

And hopefully, Livonia's participation in metropolitan-area planning for a mass transit system would allow us to ease into the coming decades prepared.

What is purple, has four wheels, works in Ann Arbor and currently holds interest for Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Ford Motor Co. and General Motors? The answer is Dial-A-Ride, a system of bus transportation now in experimental use in a section of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Nancy McCann hates to drive to her job near the University of Michigan when the roads are slippery, and because she lives in Ann Arbor there is a solution to her problem. She steps to her phone and calls Dial-A-Ride. In about 10 minutes a mini-bus decked out in passionate purple picks her up at her door. "For only a recent fare I am also saved the hassle of fighting traffic and finding a parking place," she says.

Like a number of other frequent users of Dial-A-Ride she often exchanges a few jokes and comments on the weather with Dave the driver who by now is almost an old friend.

Mrs. Mona Walz buys a monthly pass on Dial-A-Ride for $15 and uses it to commute to her classes at the university where she is a graduate student. The pass can also be used for unlimited rides by her children or her husband. Every Saturday, for example, her daughters, 6 and 10, take Dial-A-Ride to the Y. The girls later drop in at the bakery and just downtown stores before calling for a ride home.

Mrs. Walz also appreciates the friendly atmosphere of this neighborhood operation. Once when the children were overdue she phoned the dispatcher. "We're running a little late, Mrs. Walz, but they were just picked up on Main Street," he reassured her.

Mrs. Walz is aware that on a yearly basis her family's use of Dial-A-Ride costs $180, not only considerably less than the price of a second car but even less than the insurance for such a car.

Meanwhile back in Redford a student stands in the cold on Five Mile Road with his thumb in the air hoping for a ride to Schoolcraft College. In Plymouth a retiree decides to stay home that day and eat less rather than attempt the five-block walk to the nearest grocery store in near-zero weather. In Farmington a young housewife reluctantly gives up her parttime job at a nursing home because of the difficulty of finding cheap, reliable transportation to work.

In Livonia Norbert Topolewski, director of Community Youth Employment recently pointed out that an important element in successfully placing a youth in a job is transportation. "In some cases," he said, "employers will hire a candidate not because he is the best qualified, but because he has the best transportation. In other cases students must terminate their employment because, as soon as they lose their ride, they no longer can get to work."

Topolewski is also involved with the career exploration and training program at Franklin High School, which has made arrangements with local businesses to train young people. Lack of transportation usually eliminates a number of young people from this useful training program.

Franklin also offers credit to students who do volunteer work at the police department, nursing homes, Wayne County General Hospital and Plymouth State Home. Frequently the desire to be useful on the part of these students is curtailed by lack of a means of travel.

A member of the Livonia police department has also decried the lack of local public transportation. She thought that a portion of juvenile crime might be lessened if young people had a way to get about and participate in more of the activities offered by the community.

In current years many residents of Observerland have found that the car, hailed so joyously a few decades ago as the answer to most transportation difficulties, has not only left a few problems unsolved but contributed a few of its own, principally pollution, traffic jams and the over-taxing of fuel supplies.

BUT IS PUBLIC transportation the answer?

Anyone who has accustomed himself to the luxury of stepping from his doorstep to his car is not about to opt for a three-block walk through the snow to catch a bus which may be late. Any housewife who draws a map of the zigzag route she drove on her daily errands knows that a bus line would be hard put to follow her.

The 20th century's middle-aged spread has created a car-oriented environment so decentralized that one wonders if public transportation will ever be able to help.

Does this mean that Observerland residents have to give up hope of decent public transportation within our borders or carrying us into Detroit? Not at all. Transportation experts point to "demand scheduling." One example is Dial-A-Ride.

In its first year in a small experimental area of 2,100 homes in southwestern Ann Arbor Dial-A-Ride successfully fulfilled the transportation needs of 200 persons a day. The following year ridership began to rise to more than 250 a day, indicating to the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority that more and more customers were beginning to rely on it.

Peak hours of service are 7-9 a.m. and 3-6 p.m., proving that more than housewives on a shopping spree make use of it.

DIAL-A-RIDE was begun in the fall of 1971 as part of an attempt by the Transportation Authority to restructure a failing commercial bus system. The U.S. Department of Transportation had already decided to sink its test money into Haddonfield, N.J. So the Michigan Bureau of Transportation and the City of Ann Arbor provided most of the funding, the state being interested in studying the plan for possible use elsewhere.

Ford's transportation research and planning office designed the dispatching system and service layout and provided a test vehicle. A headquarters was set up at 315 W. Huron, and two additional vans or mini-buses were acquired. Total yearly budget was $180,000; almost one-third was later returned in fares.

It was not the intention of the authority to take passengers anywhere they wished to go. Rather, it worked out a route through the city that took in shops, banks, government offices and Greyhound bus line of the downtown area and added to it the campus of the university and the hospital -- in other words, places where most people would wish to go.

THE AUTHORITY is hoping that this test may be only the beginning for Ann Arbor. Recently it pulled all its plans together and decided to go for broke, unveiling a new citywide transportation system that could make Ann Arbor one of the most envied cities of the country.

Prepared by a full-time consultant, the system combines a number of neighborhood Dial-A-Rides with an improved bus system. Using 36 vehicles in 11 different zones at peak periods, the buses will run seven days a week, their number tapering off in slack hours.

The plan was read to the city council Jan. 22. If approved by the council, the proposal will be on the ballot in April as a 2½ mill tax increase. If voters reject the proposal, not only will Ann Arbor turn down an improved bus system and the neighborhood Dial-A-Rides, but the present experiment will doubtless also slide down the drain.

Girl Competitors

Are We On The Right Track?

By BETTY MASSON

It's now official that girls must be allowed to play on boys' athletic teams in non-contact sports if they want to and can qualify.

This happened last week when the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that female pupils in Michigan may participate in non-contact interscholastic sports, such as tennis.

But is this the way to go?

MANY of the 10 panelists in a recent discussion of "Women in Sports-1973" held in the Clawson YWCA seemed to have their doubts.

"I don't like the idea of girls competing on boys' teams," said Fred Piepers, director of athletics for Royal Oak Schools, "because the girls won't make it until we get things where the girls can compete equally. Also it could work two ways and the girls might get bumped from their own teams.

"The real problem is that we don't have enough offerings for the girls," he continued.

The reason is the lack of facilities, a country-wide problem, he said.

"My belief is that 50 per cent of the population is female. Therefore, use of school facilities ought to be split 50-50, but this is not being done," he said.

"On the other hand, we don't want to cut back on the boys' activities."

THE APPEALS COURT ruling came as a result of a suit filed on behalf of two Ann Arbor girls who wanted to play tennis on the boys' team.

The court upheld a preliminary injunction saying the girls should be allowed to play, but modified the injunction which would have allowed girls to participate in contact sports as well.

A 1972 act by the Michigan Legislature has a similar effect. It allows females to participate in all non-contact inter-scholastic athletics in schools which lack girls' teams. Although it takes effect in spring, already it is generally being observed, at least in this area.

And in both cases, no one has really defined "non-contact" sports.

In a discussion of the possibilities of girls getting on boys' teams, the panel agreed that in many sports physical strength is less important than muscular control. But one panelist remarked:

"No girl, no matter how hard she tries, could leap as high as Nureyev."

GIRLS' athletics have come a long way in schools and elsewhere in the last 10 years. There was general agreement on this point, but there were many questions about where to go from here.

• Should girls play men's sports with men's rules, modifications or something different?

• Is athletic competition bad for girls and women physiologically or psychologically?

• Are girls naturally less interested in sports and competition?

• Or haven't they had the opportunities?

• Should efforts be concentrated on broadening the scope of intramural activities for girls instead of stressing inter-varsity competition?

Panelists confessed they didn't know the answers, but pointed to many unanswered questions in the realm of boys' sports too. Are football and competitive swimming bad for young muscles, for instance?

"Research in the area of sports and competition for women is just beginning," said Fran Jones, a swimming expert, and Jean Blievornicht, a physical education teacher.

Westland's Marie Neu Is State Junior Miss

A Westland teen who swims, sings and acts and "wanted to do something toward paying her college expenses" is Michigan's Junior Miss for 1973.

Marie Neu, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Neu of 23020 Sandra Drive, was crowned Saturday night in Pontiac Northern High School, scoring first among 23 finalists.

She won four scholarships totaling $1,300 to be added to the 60 per cent tuition grant to Eastern Michigan University, awarded by the Westland Jaycees to the winner of the local junior miss pageant in October.

"Eastern Michigan is where she's planning to go at this moment," her proud father said. "She wants to major in drama and music."

FIRST, THOUGH, Miss Neu will compete for the national junior miss crown in Mobile, Ala., early in May. This time she'll be seen on national television.

Classmates from Rosary High School in Detroit, as well as friends from University of Detroit High School working with her in a production of "Guys and Dolls" and about 50 Westland Jaycees were on hand to see the state finals in Pontiac.

"Maybe they knew something we didn't," Neu said.

The judging is based on poise, youth fitness, scholastic ability, creativity and performance, and interviews with the judges.

Miss Neu sang "Mira" from the musical "Carnival" for her performance.

SHE HAS participated for years in musical groups at Rosary and St. Bernardine of Siena school. She and her sister, Susan, have competed for several years in synchronized swimming with the Garden City Parks and Recreation team.

The swimming competition has taken her to events in California, Texas, Florida, Iowa, Kansas, Ohio and other states.

"The swimming was just great for the fitness part of the competition," Neu said, "and the traveling and meeting other people meant so much in giving her poise and confidence."

MISS NEU entered the Westland contest after reading about it in this newspaper.

"She hasn't been able to hold a part-time job because of all her extra activities," Neu said, "and she wanted to help pay her college expenses."

Biggest prize for the state contest was a $1,000 Charles P. Hunt memorial scholarship from the Coca Cola Co. There were $100 scholarships from the Community National Bank, the J.L. Hudson Co. and the Pontiac Jaycees.

Two other Observerland contestants, Cynthia Van Bynen of Garden City and Patricia Deering of Farmington, were among the state finalists.

Plans Go On Despite Tragedy

A lovely new Livonian -- recently arrived from Vietnam -- will have a traditional church wedding despite the tragedy that has befallen her new family.

Nguyln Thi Mong, or Chien, came here Dec. 28 with Sp 4

Brian Eschels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav E. Eschels of 11860 Alois, Livonia.

They had met and married in Vietnam during Eschels' year-long tour there, but the young people and the family wanted a second ceremony. A wedding was planned in St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The date was indefinite -- sometime in February, between the time the soldier was to receive his expected Army discharge and the March expiration of Chien's temporary visa.

AFTER the holidays, Eschels went to Fort Knox in Kentucky to complete his service tour and Chien stayed with the family to get better acquainted. It was then that Gustav Eschels suffered a heart attack.

He was doing well for a time, but a second massive attack Jan. 21 ended his life. The wedding will go on as planned, said his widow, Mrs. Patricia Eschels.

"It was their father's wish that the wedding plans continue," she added.

The date still hasn't been set, but Chien has a white gown to wear. Mr. and Mrs. David McCotter of Livonia are planning to take part in the ceremony, along with Brian's brother and sister, Bruce and Barbara Eschels, and step-brothers Greg and Ronald Chaudoin and Ron's wife, Stephanie.

THE REV. Winfred Koelpin, who officiated for Gustav Eschels' funeral and comforted the family in its hour of grief, will be present again for the joyful occasion when the Christian marriage vows are spoken.

Chien still doesn't speak much English, but Mrs.

Eschels said she fits beautifully into their home life.

"We're the only family she has now," she added. "And she's a wonderful daughter-in-law -- I couldn't have a nicer one."

AAUW Helps New American

By MARGARET MILLER
Clemency Pletcher has an unusual name bequeathed by a great-grandmother, an English heritage and recently-acquired American citizenship and a home in Livonia she shares with a husband and three young sons.

She also has most of a degree in languages from the University of Michigan, thanks in part to the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Pletcher, now going to Ann Arbor three times a week for language and education courses, is in her final semester of classroom work, with practice teaching still ahead before she can qualify to teach in high school.

LAST TERM, a grant of $250 from the Plymouth AAUW provided a big boost for this native of England majoring in German.

"I was just thinking about going back to school," said Mrs. Pletcher, "and I read in the Observer about the scholarship offered to a woman returning to college."

"I decided that sounded like me, and I applied. I really didn't expect to win, but it certainly was a big help and I'm extremely grateful to the group."

Women On The Go!

MRS. PLETCHER first became interested in studying German while a schoolgirl in High Wycombe, located in Buckinghamshire between London and Oxford.

She then went to Germany as an Oper student, participating in a program in which students work in homes in return for the chance to go to school in a foreign country.

While in Germany, she met her husband, Robert, who was serving two years there with the U.S. Army.

A resident of Adrian, he was halfway to a degree in business administration from Michigan State University.

"So after we were married, he went back to school at State and I went with him," Mrs. Pletcher said. "I took languages, of course."

AFTER GRADUATION, Robert went to work for Aetna insurance and was sent to Maryland, where the couple's three sons were born. Timmie now is six and in the first grade at Tyler school. Kenny is four and Robbie is three. They were transferred to the Detroit area two years ago and moved to their Livonia home.

Clemency Pletcher finds the double role of student and mother most satisfying.

"I have a fine babysitter, and she makes it possible," she said, "but I know I'm much happier and nicer to the kids on the days I'm home. I study when ever I have a spare moment."

Her love for languages has stayed with her. "It includes insight into how other people live, and I think we need more knowledge of that kind," she said.

PLANS NOW call for completing work on a degree and then getting a teaching certificate. "And then, if I can't find work teaching, I'll probably go on and get my master's degree."

"I love going to school, and my husband's all for it." Sandwiched in between final requirements, degree and certificate will be a trip to England to visit.

"I haven't been home in four years," Mrs. Pletcher said, "and my father never has seen our youngest boy."

Snow White Gives AAUW Problems -- Not Dwarf-Sized

How do you build a barrel-shaped, dwarf-sized bath tub, complete with running water? How do you hide a talking genie inside a queen's hand mirror? How do you transform seven full-grown women into seven dimpled, dwarf-sized little men?

These are but a few of the funny, frustrating problems facing the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women as they prepare to present their 13th annual children's play, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

THE FAIRY TALE classic will be staged for Observerland youngsters on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 23 and 24, in the Plymouth-Salem High School auditorium. Four performances are scheduled, at 7 p.m. Friday and at 10 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Saturday.

Two additional performances will be presented in the Northville High School Auditorium on March 10.

Western Wayne Y To Hear Author

Mrs. Helen Southard, a psychologist who is presently writing a book on raising children in the age of women's liberation, will be guest speaker at the 28th annual meeting of the YWCA of Western Wayne County.

Members and friends will meet at 6:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 1, in the Ford World Headquarters Executive Building, for the dinner meeting. Reservations may be made by calling the YWCA, 1034 Monroe, Dearborn.

Awards will be given to the outstanding YWCA volunteers of the year, the Y-teen of the year, volunteers who have given five or more years of service, others who have made outstanding contributions to the YWCA and to organizations and churches reaching their goals in the 1972 membership campaign.

Nursing Students Are Graduated

Four nursing students from Garden City and Westland are among 54 new graduates of the one-year program in practical nurse education conducted by Ann Arbor public schools.

They are Karen Jill Chambers and Mrs. Priscilla Tutton of Westland and Beverly Annette Davis and Nancy Jean DiAngelo of Garden City.

Graduation exercises were held Tuesday, Jan. 30, in Huron High School in Ann Arbor.

This is the 48th class to graduate from the program since its formation in September 1949. So far, approximately 1,800 students have graduated. The majority are now working in hospitals, doctors' offices and health agencies.

Mothers March Today

The Mothers March, a fund-raising event aimed at prevention and treatment of birth defects, gets under way today (Wednesday) and continues through Monday, Feb. 5.

Those who are not walking members of the annual March of Dimes appeal are asked to be giving members. When the doorbell rings, you are asked to welcome the wearer of the Mothers March badge. He may even be a man whose badge reads "Tonight I Am a Mother."

March of Dimes funds reach many areas in the prevention and treatment of birth defects. The National Foundation backs research, medical care and education in efforts to pinpoint and correct the reasons for these tragedies.

Its chapters around the country work closely with many health departments and medical societies in rubella immunization drives, prenatal care projects and genetic counseling.

Birth defects are this nation's second greatest destroyer of human life.

Quakertown Questers See Duck Decoys

Mrs. Phyllis Ellison of Southfield will show her duck decoy collection to the Quakertown Questers when they meet at 12 noon Wednesday, Jan. 31, in her home at 21480 Civic Center Drive.

Lowell Jackson, author of "Ben Schmidt, a Michigan Decoy Carver," will be guest speaker.

Mrs. Ellison is founder of the Michigan Decoy Association and has hand-carved duck and geese decoys all over her historical home, a building that used to be a Methodist church.

The home also is used as a meeting place for decoy carvers and collectors. Members of the Questers will find decoys arranged throughout the building - in the church sanctuary, on the walls, in the bedroom and even on the stove in the kitchen.

Girl Competitors

SO FAR, all that research has proven is that men are physically stronger than women, and women bruise more easily. On the other hand, women mature earlier physiologically, and a 15-year-old girl might be able to compete and win against a boy of the same age.

"But it looks now," said Piepers, "like we are following right down the line and copying boys. I'm not sure that's right. We've made a lot of mistakes in the boys' programs, too."

Until recently, the panelists reported, the girls were not encouraged to compete. Sports activities were for recreation only.

"Competition for girls was not considered 'feminine' in the 1960s," said Louise Parker, girls' physical education teacher at Kimball High School.

"Now we are seeing that girls do have a competitive spirit. We've never tried to exploit it before," she said. "We had our first state meet this year in competition swimming, and the girls worked just as hard as the boys. The endurance and strength are there."

MRS. BLIEVERNIGHT told of refereeing a girls' basketball game before Christmas in which the Southfield-Lathrup girls team was pretty bad. In a recent game, the team had improved tremendously.

The girls' coach (male) demanded -- and got -- use of the gym five days a week, just like the boys, she said.

Mrs. Jones commented:

Seldons Wed By Candlelight

In a recent candlelight ceremony in St. Paul Lutheran Church, Farmington, Theodore Seldon II claimed Janet Heyman as his bride.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Seldon of Farmington. Mrs. Jean Kronberg of Westland and Robert Heyman of Ohio are the bride's parents.

The Rev. Walter Rutkowski officiated for the double-ring ceremony, which included communion for the bridal couple.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a candlelight lace-trimmed gown that had been in the bridegroom's family more than 40 years. A pearl crown held her four-tier veil, and her bouquet was centered by a white orchid grown by the bridegroom's uncle.

Marylou Seldon, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and wore a dress with avocado crepe bodice and moss green velvet skirt.

Bridesmaids Kerry Davis and Lynn Jones and junior bridesmaids Jill and Julie Kronberg, sisters of the bride, wore similar dresses in burgundy, purple, royal blue and raspberry. All carried cornucopias of fruit, wheat and ivy designed by the maid of honor.

ROBERT MARQUESS was best man. The ushers were Carl Haldy III, Arthur Brunner Jr., Carl Romp and Patrick Brunner, all cousins of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Kronberg wore a floor-length gold chiffon dress and Mrs. Seldon a floor-length raspberry brocade gown purchased on a recent trip to Hawaii.

Leaders Study Aid For Handicapped

A special information and training workshop for Girl Scout leaders who have handicapped girls in their troops will take place from 7:30 to 10 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 6, in the Marygrove College Conference Center, 8425 W. McNichols, Detroit.

The workshop is being sponsored by the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit, under the supervision of Ivy Reed, director of program development, and Patt Stanton, field executive.

"THERE ARE more than 80 troops in our council with one or more handicapped girls as members," said Mrs. Reed. "Many of the leaders who work with these girls have not had any previous experience in dealing with exceptional youngsters."

"In the workshop, we will attempt to provide them with special training and valuable resource information."

The key speaker will be Dr. Hugh Watson, a River Rouge school psychologist, who will present an overall view of working with handicapped youngsters. Dr. Watson is better known to the council as the Wayne State University professor who works with the

County To Fund Medical Testing

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners plans to allocate up to $100,000 to continue operation of a novel health project which features computer coordination of medical examinations at the Wayne County General Hospital.

The project, initially funded by an expired grant from the Michigan Assn. for Regional Medical Programs, is said to offer more and better physical examinations in less time than was possible before it was started about one month ago.

Officials at the hospital, at Merriman and Michigan Avenue, say the new program can handle more than 20 different tests on as many as 100 persons in a single day.

In the test package are an electrocardiogram, a diabetes examination, various X-rays, 12 different blood tests, and eye, cancer, dental, hearing and urine analysis, plus detection of sickle cell anemia.

THE PROGRAM, called the "multi phasic screening project," was instituted primarily to provide inexpensive, comprehensive examinations for the poor, but its huge capability can easily service additional referrals from private physicians.

Cost of the series of tests can reach, $55, but adjustments are possible in accordance with a patient's income and ability to pay. These payments are expected to cover most of the program's annual operating cost, estimated at $362,450.

That amount is considered minimal in comparison with costs of the long-term care usually required when an illness goes undetected and untreated in its early states, according to medical experts.

Tentative approval of the $100,000 appropriation was given Jan. 25 by the Board's ways and means committee, which also recommended final approval when the measure comes before the full board, probably in early February.

Federal Fiscal Responsibility Bill Introduced

U.S. Rep. Marvin Esch (R-Ann Arbor) has introduced a three-part federal fiscal responsibility bill to reassert congressional control of spending and set a spending limit.

Esch said it is designed to limit spending to the available dollars, speed up the paying of bills to local and private contractors and avoid impoundment of funds by the executive branch.

It will also make the federal fiscal year to coincide with the calendar year.

One portion of the bill will allow the impoundment of funds on a percentage across-the-board basis. The president must notify Congress immediately and either house of Congress will have 60 days to disprove the impoundment.

Esch Aide Is In Livonia

Dick Raison, district representative for U.S. Rep. Marvin Esch (R-Ann Arbor) will be in Livonia on Wednesday, Jan. 31 from 1 to 5 p.m. to talk with constituents about any concerns or problems.

Raison will be at Esch's district office, 15273 Farmington, at Five Mile. Residents from Livonia and Plymouth are invited to visit.

Hines will be replaced in Ann Arbor by Dean Stevenson of Whitmore Lake.

YOU AND THE "BTU" By DOC KEETH

Not Noli "BTU" isn't a Russian raspberry. It does have an international connotation, though... it is a British Thermal Unit. And whether you know it or not, you buy millions of them every year.

Just as a quart is a measurement of buttermilk, so the "BTU" is a measure of heat. It's about the amount of heat put out by a wooden match. (If you want the exact definition, dig out your old high school physics book... I've lost mine.) Anyway, it's a precise measurement.

When you buy air conditioning, you buy "BTUs" of cooling... or the amount of heat the air conditioner can take out of the air. When you buy heating, you buy "BTUs" to put into the air. The amount of heating or cooling is usually figured on an hour's basis... so we get "BTUs" per hour, or BTUH.

So what?

So, friend, the thing to look for (especially when buying air conditioning) is the BTUH rating of the air conditioner. Don't let anybody "snow" you with talk about tons of cooling or horsepower. It's that little old BTU that counts. Tons and horsepower are too vague. I've seen some "two ton or two horsepower" units advertised; figured in the accurate BTU way they would be lucky to do 1 1/2 tons of cooling. ("Tons of cooling" is based on the heat required to melt a ton of ice in 24 hours, which equals 12,000 BTU per hour.)

When comparing cooling equipment, check the specifications for BTUH rating. Check, too, for electrical consumption. It means operating dollars to you.

Of course I'm telling you all this because our Lennox equipment has the best performance ratings around these parts. And most other parts, too.

2 SEMCOG Blocs Get Observerland Leaders

By KATHY MORAN

At least two local residents will be in the forefront of regional planning and problem solving with their selection to leadership positions in the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

Arch Vallier of Plymouth was elected to chair the school bloc, and Lawrence Pernick of Southfield will chair the county bloc. Both were elected to the posts during SEMCOG's annual general assembly on Friday.

Vallier serves as Schoolcraft College's delegate to SEMCOG and as a college trustee had recently advised the college to renew its membership.

Pernick is an Oakland County commissioner and is one of the board's three delegates to SEMCOG.

SEMCOG HAS for a bloc for each type of government—counties, townships, cities and villages, and school districts.

During the annual meeting other officers were elected without challenge, including James L. Grannan, councilman from Fraser, as chairman.

Former Chairman Robert FitzPatrick, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, did not seek the customary second year term so that "the chairmanship could be turned over to a delegate from outside of Detroit and Wayne County."

"My purpose was to demonstrate that this association has roots in local government in southeast Michigan and that all of us—large cities and small, rich communities and poor, urban counties and rural counties—need a healthy regional council," he said.

Homer Case, supervisor of Bloomfield Township was elected first vice chairman and Conrad L. Mallett, a Wayne county commissioner, was elected second vice chairman.

BOTH VALLIER'S and Pernick's election as bloc leaders came at the same meeting where steps were taken to lessen the impact of individual blocs on the total group.

The delegates received an amendment to the by-laws to

Madonna Opens Kids Art Class

Madonna College, 36600 Schoolcraft, Livonia, is again offering art classes for children and the young student, beginning Saturday, Feb. 3.

Classes in "Creative drawing" and "design and composition" are open to children ranging from 8-13. The oil painting class is open to junior and senior high level students.

Tuition for each of the three courses is $20. A materials fee of $2 is charged for the creative drawing and design classes. Students in the oil painting class supply their own materials.

Registration will be held Friday, Feb. 2, from 7-8 p.m. and Saturday, Feb. 3, from 8:30-9:30 a.m.

For further information call the college between 8:30-9:30 a.m. or 3-4 p.m. eliminate bloc voting. The amendment will be voted on during a June general assembly.

In the five years since SEMCOG was formed, voting was done by each bloc, and approval of a motion required affirmative votes by three of the four blocs.

In some cases this meant that a motion was defeated because two blocs opposed it even though a majority of delegates favored it. It was this method of voting that caused some members, particularly school districts, to withdraw.

The voting change is more equitable, Vallier said, noting that in the past community colleges were generally outvoted by the school districts.

MEMBERSHIP in the school bloc has dwindled to only nine districts, but Vallier hasn't determined if one of his new responsibilities will be to recruit members.

Altogether, 135 districts are eligible for the school bloc. The nine members include the intermediate school districts from Livingston, Macomb, and Wayne; Bloomfield Hills and Taylor School Districts and the community colleges of Monroe, Washtenaw, Wayne County and Schoolcraft.

Of one thing Vallier is certain: Colleges and school

Post Offices Have Forms For Aliens

About 4.5 million aliens in the U.S. are expected to report their current addresses this month to nearly 32,000 post offices.

The Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952 requires aliens resident in the U.S. on Jan. 1 to make the address reports to the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

As in past years, all post offices are participating in the program to the extent of distributing address reporting cards (form I-53) to aliens and forwarding the cards after completion to immigration offices.

The form—a manila punch card similar to the one used for 1972 alien reporting—is available at all post offices. Completed forms must be turned in before the end of January.

The cards were supplied to post offices late in 1972 by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, but following their regulations the forms could not be handed out to the public until this month.

Mrs. Raymond Overturned SC Board Switches Heads

By KATHY MORAN

The chairmanship of Schoolcraft College's Board of Trustees was pulled out from under Rosina Raymond last week.

John LaRue, who has sat on the board nearly four years, emerged as chairman after an emotional debate.

Mrs. Raymond was re-elected vice chairman, Paul Kadish was re-elected treasurer and Mrs. Clara Rousseau was elected secretary. Mrs. Rousseau is administrative assistant to President C. Nelson Grote. The secretary and treasurer don't have to be trustees.

The terms expire on June 30. Mrs. Raymond sat in the chairman's seat Wednesday during the first regular board meeting since former chairman R. Robert Geake was elected state representative.

As previous vice chairman, Mrs. Raymond thought she was sitting comfortably and even had removed an item regarding election of officers from the agenda prior to the meeting.

BUT IMMEDIATELY after the meeting opened, trustees Arch Vallier and Leroy Bennett moved to elect new board officers.

Apparently caught off-guard, Mrs. Raymond asked if they meant election of a vice chairman (to fill her vacancy) and secretary (to fill Mary Dumas' vacancy, created when she was elected Wayne County commissioner).

"I'm talking about the seat of chairman and secretary," Vallier said, starting the move to replace Mrs. Raymond.

JOHN La RUE
New Chairman

Mrs. Raymond had requested an attorney's opinion on whether she could officially succeed Geake as chairman.

Although Gregory Curtner of the law firm Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, stated that the "vice chairman automatically became chairman as of the effective date of the previous chairman's resignation," he also quotes from the community college statutes which say, "The officers shall be elected for a term of two years, subject to change of officers by resolution of the board."

MRS. RAYMOND interpreted the opinion as meaning she was the official chairman but the majority of the trustees said it gave them the authority to resolve to elect new officers.

"If we are to have any election of officers, it would seem fit to me that we have an election of all officers," trustee Paul Kadish said.

"This is a complete reorganization of the board—it is quite different from election of one officer," Mrs. Raymond said. "I think we're stretching a point here."

She fought the proposed election, saying it possibly conflicted with the college by-laws, was unnecessary and was contrary to precedent.

The precedent she cited was when Harold Fischer resigned from the board in 1969 and Mrs. Jane Moehle succeeded him as chairman.

TRUSTEE ERV Brown challenged Mrs. Raymond's request for an attorney's opinion without approval from the majority of trustees.

"I don't care who is going to be chairperson of this board, but they're not going to do my thinking for me," he said.

Despite Mrs. Raymond's protest the trustees voted to reorganize the board and she finally voted with them.

The board moved on to other business, but as soon as the election came up for discussion, Bennett nominated LaRue for chairman.

Again Mrs. Raymond protested: "I think the chair would rule that we are ahead of ourselves here. We are railroading something here. A reorganization of the board is not in order."

Michigan is one of the nation's leading growers of rhubarb. Produced mainly in Macomb county hothouses, it is harvested from January to April in specially constructed cellars and shipped to consumers as far away as Boston, New York and Kansas City.

Debate over the election became increasingly intense until Mrs. Raymond declared "right now I do not have the stomach" for the chairmanship.

"BELIEVE ME, it's not that I want it. I believe I don't think I want it now. I feel a little like in Britain where if you don't have the support, you don't have it. I just don't want any railroading here. I believe in the democratic process."

When Vallier protested her "insinuations of railroading," Mrs. Raymond rebuffed him saying he shouldn't get personal.

As nominations resumed Kadish was nominated but withdrew, and a unanimous ballot was cast for LaRue.

Vallier nominated Mrs. Raymond for vice chairman and, after hesitating, she accepted "because I'm a good sport, but that's off the record" she added referring to the press. She voted against her nomination.

The next reorganization will occur after the June 12 trustee election.
