86% Of PHS Students Choose Mod Scheduling

By EDWARD WENDOVER

More than 86 per cent of next year's Plymouth High School students have opted for the modular scheduling system.

According to the preliminary tabulation of schedule requests returned by the students who will represent next year's ninth, 10th, 11th and 12th grades, 417 out of the estimated 3,360 indicated a preference for traditional scheduling.

The Plymouth school board voted on Jan. 8 to offer both the modular and traditional types of scheduling next year in light of the controversy which the modular scheduling has produced.

The four class groups differed widely in their decision to elect one system or another:

- Among next year's ninth graders, 279 out of 850 -- or 32.8 per cent -- elected traditional scheduling;
- 84 out of 875 students -- 9.5 per cent -- who will be 10th graders next year preferred the traditional form of scheduling;
- 41 out of next year's anticipated 11th grade enrollment of 870 -- or 4.6 per cent -- preferred traditional;
- And only 1.7 per cent -- 13 -- of next year's 765 seniors opted for traditional.

Kent Buikema, principal of Plymouth-Canton High School, said he felt that many responses were not discussed with parents although the form is supposed to be signed by a parent or guardian.

He said there were some instances of forgery and of schedule requests turned in without signatures. Following further processing, Buikema said, parents will be able to check on what their children requested if they don't know.

"We are well aware that if the kid wants to be on modular and mama doesn't want it, they (the students) won't even discuss it at home," Buikema told the Mail & Observer.

"We assume there are kids who have not gotten parental permission," he said.

What the low number of students, particularly in the upper classes, opting for traditional scheduling will mean is not yet known. It may not be known until late July or early August, said Supt. John M. Hoben.

Originally, Hoben said, it was thought that a minimum of 200 students in each grade level would be needed to set up a traditional scheduling system.

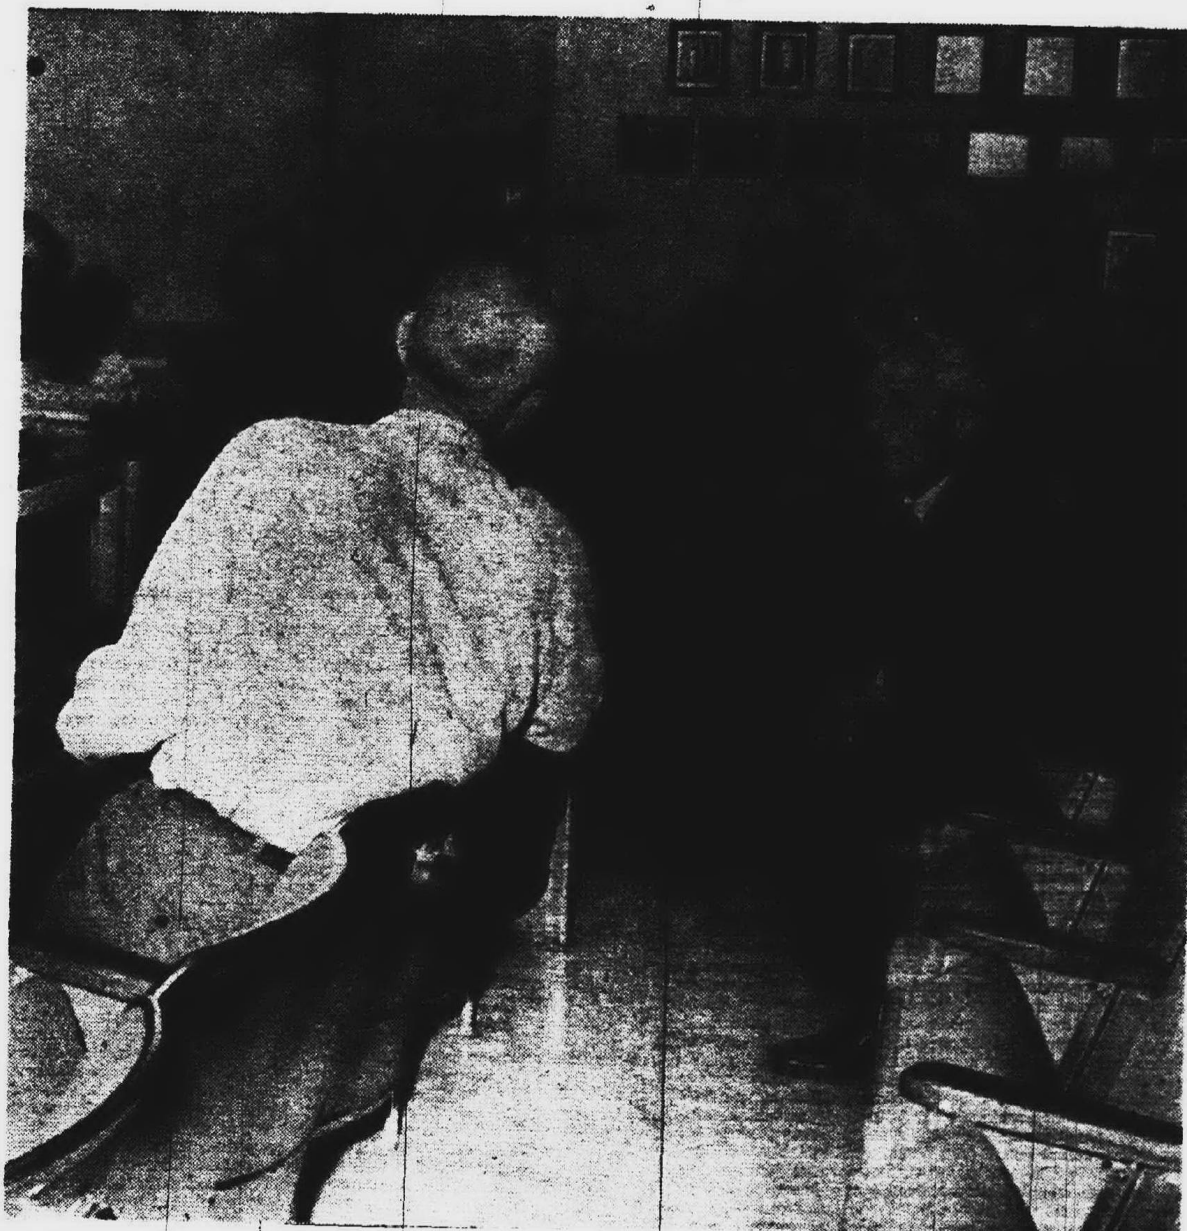

One option, Hoben added, may be to give those upperclassmen requesting a traditional type schedule a tightly structured schedule under the modular system.

Buikema said that option has been available for students who needed structured schedules under the modular system now being used at the high school.

Hoben said the low preference of traditional scheduling among the upper-class students who have experienced the modular system is "rather significant."

He also said that in the cases of students opting for traditional scheduling, "I have a feeling that a lot of them are parental decisions."

Some parents have criticized the modular system because their children were not able to use their time wisely during the long breaks often occurring between classes.

A DISCUSSION — Two men discuss their situations while waiting to be heard by the City of Plymouth's board of review. The review board hearings, which were extended an extra day, came on the heels of the recent city-wide reassessment which one taxpayer at the hearing described as "this annual penalty for keeping up and improving their property" (Observer photo by Maurie Walker)

Review Board Gets Assessment Gripes

By MAURIE WALKER

It was like walking into a courtroom -- there were grim faces, worried faces, a few bewildered faces.

It wasn't a courtroom, however. It was the city commission chambers at Plymouth City Hall where a board of review was holding hearings regarding the recent general reassessment.

The faces belonged to businessmen and homeowners, young and old, who had come to find out about "this annual penalty for keeping up and improving their property," as one man described it.

There was a small gathering, about 25 persons, on hand when the session opened Tuesday noon before board members Fred Beitner, Fred Hadley and Cliff Tait. Kenneth Way, city treasurer and assessor, was also on hand to help explain the assessment picture.

Some property owners sat patiently, awaiting their turns before the board. Others, when they learned they could simply fill out a form, did so and left.

Because no decisions were made at the hearings-- decisions were to be made at a later date by the board of review -- property owners were informed that if they "just want to fill out a form and leave, they would be notified of a decision by mail at a later date."

"You will get the same consideration on your appeal whether you stay or simply leave the form with us," Way explained.

The board members listened patiently to each property owner who appeared before them. Through their understanding attitude, the session ran smoothly. In fact, as one lady remarked as she was leaving, "They smile a lot."

While some persons seemed satisfied with the board's answers to their questions, a few weren't.

As one man remarked, "This is an example of democracy in action. Nobody wins but the City of Plymouth."

Another was heard to say: "Well, they let you fill out a form and then say they'll notify you later of the decision on your appeal."

"Frankly, I don't look for anything very exciting," One man turned to his wife, saying:

"Maybe we should keep the house and sell the lot."

One young woman complained of the assessment increase on her co-op.

"It's over-assessed for the market value," she told the board. "We are paying a larger assessment for our small quarters than are some homeowners."

Following a lengthy explanation by Way, who told her the appeal would be studied, the young woman left, still not convinced, but smiling along with the board.

Whether the appeals will amount to anything remains to be seen.

At least, residents of Plymouth had "their day in court."

Way had predicted a large turnout for the review board hearings because of the recent city-wide reassessment.

30% Make Honor Roll At PHS

Almost 30 per cent of Plymouth High School students achieved honor roll status during this year's first semester, with 53 students earning perfect, all-A grades.

A total of 980 students had a first semester average of B or better, or 29.7 per cent of the student body.

Letters of commendation have gone out to the parents of all the honor students.

The "B"-or-better figure this year nearly matches the 29.9 per cent on the honor roll for the first semester of 1970-71, the first year of modular scheduling.

This year's statistics broken down by classes show 24 per cent or 211 freshmen on the honor roll, 28 per cent or 245 sophomores, 31 per cent or 243 juniors, and 38 per cent or 281 seniors.

The statistics also show a nearly four per cent decline in the number of students receiving failing grades this year as compared with last year's first semester.

The figures showed 23.5 per cent of students receiving failing grades at the end of this year's first half and 27.3 at the same time last year.

Overall statistics showed improvement in 17 of 24 categories in a comparison of the first semester of the two years. Plymouth-Salem High School Principal Bill Brown said.

Canton 'Shortchanged' By Revenue Sharing?

By MARIE MCGEE

Some Canton Township officials are beginning to wonder if highly-touted revenue sharing shouldn't be symbolized with a double cross instead of a dollar sign.

Canton's share amounts to $36,000--compared to neighboring Plymouth Township's whopping $190,000--and trustees are plainly puzzled by the big difference.

Supervisor Philip Dingeldey said "something's wrong," and added that the township's accountants were even asked to review all the records but could find no discrepancy.

"I feel we've been short changed," declared Dingeldey.

His remarks were part of discussion he initiated on how shared revenue should be spent. He asked trustees to begin thinking about projects the money could be spent on.

Township Clerk John Flodin said some confusion was created by the question on the tax form asking for the resident's address.

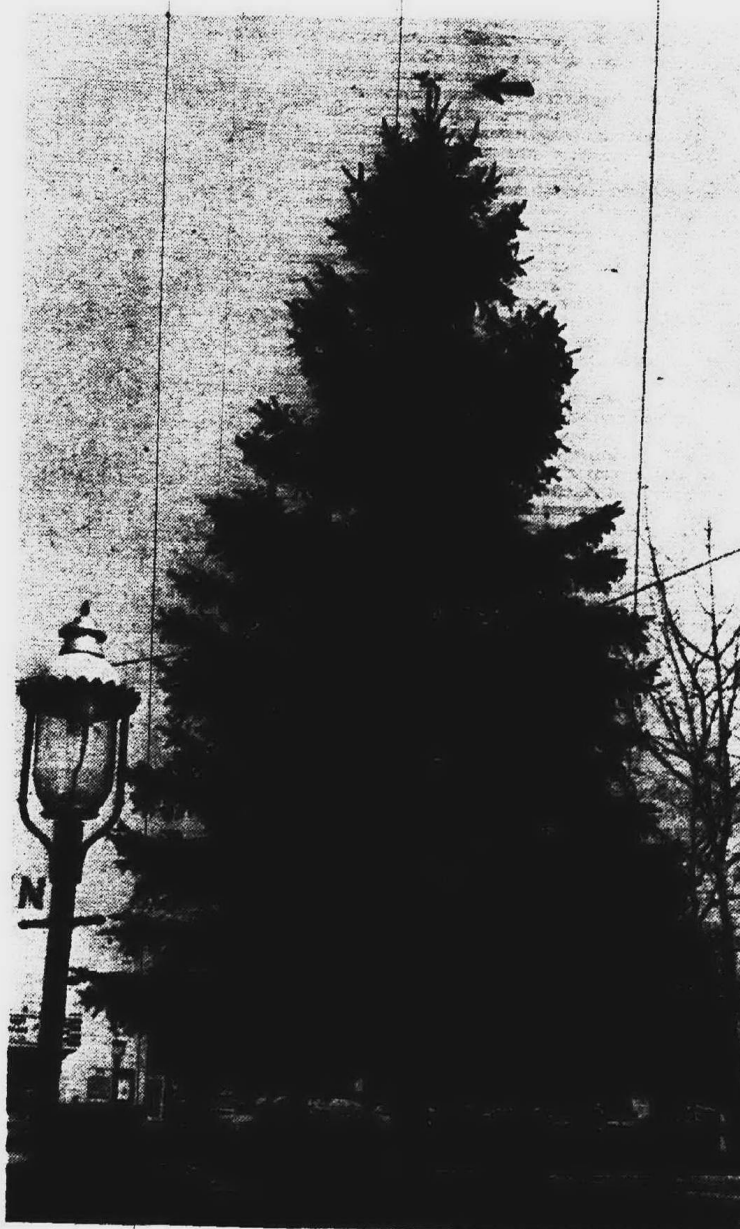

Canton has three post office designations, Flodin said, depending where you live in the 36-square mile township that also encompasses three school districts.

The news media, he said, is helping to correct the confusion that has affected other townships as well as Canton.

In the meantime, Dingeldey said Canton's U.S. congressman, William Ford, has been asked to help figure out why Canton's share is so small--or why Plymouth Township's is so large.

The Plymouth City Commission has also complained to the federal government about its share of the shared revenue based on what Plymouth Township got.

'Twp. Should Publish Its Meeting Agenda'

Plymouth Township has a problem of too little newspaper publicity concerning its agenda for public meetings and decisions made in closed meetings which affect only a very small area of the township.

A group of citizens worked very hard for over a year to prevent some rezoning on Bradner Court from R-1 to T-0. In November, the people of Plymouth Township voted to keep the R-1 zoning.

This February, due to the simple recommendation of the township attorney, the vote of the people was amended in such a way that land may as well be transitional office (T-0).

This is going to be on the agenda Tuesday, but once again the people won't know until AFTER the meeting when the notes are published. No published agenda?

Berg Says He Hasn't Quit Plan Commission

CANTON

Bart Berg, a member of the Canton Township Planning Commission, has apparently not resigned from his post contrary to a report published elsewhere.

When questioned by The Plymouth Mail & Observer, Berg said he had not resigned.

He would not say whether he would resign later however.

"That's nobody's concern but mine," Berg said.

According to Canton Township Supervisor Phil Dingley, Berg has submitted a letter to the township board expressing displeasure following the board's recent votes to put a six-month moratorium on rezoning of multiples and to block a proposal to rezone a portion of northwest Canton.

The planning commission had recommended that the northwest rezoning be granted and failed to second a motion that would have established a multiple rezoning moratorium.

George Lawton and Lynn Wilson, chairman and member of the planning commission respectively, resigned Tuesday night in protest of the township board's actions overturning the planners decision.

Lawton and Wilson signed a letter which was submitted without comment after Tuesday night's planning commission meeting. Berg did not sign that letter.

ED WINGARD MATT FORTNEY

Ever hear of a burying beetle? This small creature was given its name because of its habit of burying the bodies of small vertebrates to be used as a nest for the beetle's eggs. The beetles dig away the earth beneath the body until it sinks below the surface of the ground. This insect can be recognized by two red spots or bands on its back. Believe it or not, the beetle, is a valuable part of the life chain of nature.

'Safety' Leads Issues On Survey

The results of a survey taken by the Citizens for Safety Committee show that most of those responding favor using their communities' federal shared revenue for safety.

There were 85 responses to the survey, which was published in the Plymouth Mail & Observer, according to Mrs. Mary Leich of 9167 Redbud, Plymouth.

Mrs. Leich said about 55 of the responses came from Plymouth Township residents and the other 30 came from Canton Township residents.

The survey asked area residents to give their first three choices for use of the as yet uncommitted federal revenue shares given to both townships. The choices were to be made from eight categories.

Totals of the responses, however, fail to add up properly -- indicating that some respondents marked "safety" for each of their first, second and third choices and that some respondents gave more than one first and second choice.

The results, as submitted to the Mail & Observer, are:

•Public Safety -- 73, first choice; 30, second choice; 23 third choice.

•Environmental protection-- eight, first choice; 20, second choice; 17, third choice.

•Recreation--one, first choice; 16, second choice; 10, third choice.

•Social services for the aged -- four, first choice; seven, second choice; nine, third choice.

•Health--zero, first choice; eight, second choice; 11, third choice.

•Public transportation--one, first place; three, second choice; six, third choice.

•Libraries--one, first choice; five, second choice; zero, third choice.

•Financial administration--one, first choice; two, second choice; zero, third choice.

Mrs. Leich also said that under the public safety responses, 20 specifically asked for sidewalks, three mentioned better police protection, and two suggested better lighting, and two wanted the new revenue used for walkways.

"We wish to thank the Observer Newspapers for their help in making possible this public survey," Mrs. Leich said.

She added that she would present the survey report at Tuesday's Plymouth Township Board meeting.

Supported by Russell Ash and carried unanimously.

RESOLUTIONS Resolution and Agreement. Re: Area Wide Recreation Authority. Gerald Burke stated that he didn't like the idea of paragraph No. 9 in the memorandum of agreement as the Recreation Board should not have such complete control over the money. Helen Richardson stated that Attorney Morgan had not seen this resolution and agreement and advised her that he would like to see it before it was passed upon. Gerald Burke stated that he didn't like to write a blank check for the authority. Gene Overholt stated that the idea of a joint recreational authority was a good one, but felt we needed to know more about it. Helen Richardson advised that in their meetings with the various municipalities the urgency was prevalent now, due to the City of Plymouth needing a Recreation Director immediately. The School wanted out of recreation, due to Mr. Woolweaver's leaving this year, so it was the feeling of the majority that now was the best time to have a joint authority and in so doing, a Recreation Director would be hired to correlate the recreation for the entire community. Russell Ash stated that the Resolution the Board had before us this evening, also included the approval of the memorandum of agreement and didn't believe that we were ready to approve both this evening. Mrs. Holmes stated that she felt the agreement was similar to one drafted by Ralph Cole some years ago and could see nothing wrong with it, other than she felt the terms of the board members should not terminate all at once, nor should they be one year terms. Discussion was held by the Board Members, and the consensus was that possibly four members' terms should expire on January 15, 1974, and four members' terms expire on January 15, 1975, and the length of terms be changed from one year to two years. Mr. Ash moved that the Township Board of trustees state that they do indeed feel in keeping with the joint recreation authority's concept. Supported by Mr. Overholt and carried unanimously. It was the feeling of those present that the Resolution and Memorandum of Agreement should be referred to Attorney Morgan for his comments, and undoubtedly other municipalities would also have suggested amendments and/or comments. There being no further discussion, it was so ordered and to be placed on the March 13, 1973 agenda. Gene Overholt moved to adjourn the meeting. Supported by Helen Richardson and carried unanimously. Supervisor McLaren adjourned the meeting at 10:03 P.M.

Approved, J. D. McLaren Supervisor. Respectfully submitted, HELEN I. RICHARDSON Clerk. These minutes are a synopsis. The official minutes are on file in the Clerk's office. Publish: March 10, 1973.

Contemporary Word Fits Series

A young clergyman who finds "some of the best 20th century theology being written by its poets, playwrights and novelists" will draw from the contemporary scene for his first Lenten sermon series in his new church.

The Rev. Jeff Goldsmith, of Geneva United Presbyterian Church, being established to service Canton Township, will present the series in Pioneer Middle School, Ann Arbor Road west of Sheldon.

The congregation, now numbering nearly 20 families, meets at 10 a.m. each Sunday in the school until a church home can be built.

Lenten services, with the theme "The Gospel as Interpreted by Contemporary Artists," will run from Sunday, March 11, through Easter Sunday, April 22. Communion will be served this week and on Easter.

Ideas from the musical "Hair," folk operas "Jesus Christ, Superstar" and "Godspell," films "The Parable" and "The Hangman," Paul Horgan's novel "Things as They Are" and Eugene O'Neill's play "Lazarus Laughed" will be included in the Lenten sermons.

Rev. Goldsmith said his studies of literature and theology have convinced him that new interpretations of Biblical passages are to be found if we "look at the contemporary artists and see what they are saying."

"People tend to react strongly against a work like 'Hair,'" he added, "but behind its language is a tremendous amount of searching for God, for the meaning of life, for answers to the question 'How do I treat my neighbor?'"

"Hair" will be discussed, along with the 16th chapter of the Gospel of Mark, in the first service March 11. Titled "An Open-Ended Gospel," the sermon will deal with the ending of the second gospel and its implications for discipleship in the 1970s.

Other topics are: March 18—"The Parable"—A discussion of the film in which Jesus is presented as a clown and the 11th chapter of Mark.

March 25—"The Wisdom of Man and the Wisdom of God."—a discussion based on Genesis, 1 Corinthians and "Things as They Are."

April 1—"You Are the Light of the World"—a discussion of "Godspell," the modern presentation of Matthew's gospel.

April 8—"The Hangman"—showing and discussion of the animated film using Maurice Ogden's poem.

April 15—"Was Jesus Christ a Superstar?"—discussion of the folk opera especially from the standpoint of the betrayal by Judas.

April 22—"The Resurrection Gives Us Freedom"—a discussion of O'Neill's drama about the Biblical Lazarus being raised monkey business in these two gimmicks and I don't like it one bit.

'Lightshine' Set In 2 Churches

The St. James Singers of St. James United Methodist Church, Detroit, will perform the religious folk musical, "Lightshine," in Newburg United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia, and in St. Matthew United Methodist Church, 30900 Six Mile, Livonia.

It will be staged at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, March 15, in Newburg Church, and at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 28, in St. Matthew's.

The group includes Livonia residents, Alex. Jan and Randy Cronenwett and Bob Stewart.

The text of "Lightshine" is based on the Sermon on the Mount, but it has an up-to-date dialogue and is accompanied by a contemporary sound and beat.

This will be its first complete performance by the St. James Singers. The group has been together for two years and has presented another religious folk musical, "Tell It Like It Is," and the Christmas musical, "It's the Lord's Thing," for church and audiences throughout the metropolitan area. Last summer, the group toured out-state.

The group consists of about 40 singers, plus piano, guitar, bass guitar, drums and harpsichord instrumentalists. For "Lightshine," a harmonica, banjo and fiddle have been added.

Members of the group are not professionals, nor are they a church choir. Most are from mid-teens on up and most are members of St. James Church.

Mark Benner of Detroit is the director and Lou Scovill of Novi is the musical director. Among the singers are Gordon Nusz, associate pastor of St. James, and his wife, Shirley; and Jean and Jan Churchill, wife and daughter of the church's senior pastor, the Rev. Ralph D. Churchill.

Sanctuary Will Be Consecrated

Congregation Adas Shalom will hold its first Shabbat service in its new main sanctuary at 9 a.m. Saturday, March 17.

The morning worship will begin at 9 a.m. in the social hall, and at 9:45, the Hakhshara (or consecration of the new sanctuary) will begin. The synagogue is located at 2901 Middle Belt, Farmington.

Led by Rabbi Jacob E. Segal, Hazzan Nicholas Fenakel and the Synagogue Choir, youth and adults of the congregation will join in the procession as the sacred scrolls of the law are transferred from the social hall to their permanent place in the ark of the sanctuary.

Rabbi Segal will deliver a sermon on "Memory and Vision: A People's Priorities." Plans will be announced for the "Weekend of Dedication," which will take place in early September.

At that time, the artistic woven tapestry of the ark and other sacred adornments will have been completed. This will mark the beginning of a full year of dedication of Adas Shalom in its new Farmington location.

Rabbi Segal will be the guest speaker at the congregation's Men's Club Forum at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, March 11. He will show colored slides taken on his recent trips to Israel. His lectures as well as the breakfast, will be held in the social hall.

A service will be held in the small chapel at 8:30.

'Is Anybody Home?' Lecturer's Topic

A former physical education instructor, Nancy E. Houston of Urbana, Ill., will give two Detroit area lectures entitled "Is Anybody Home?"

She will be heard at 8 p.m., Saturday, March 10, in First Church of Christ Scientist, 1100 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth. Dr. A. Richard Krachenberg, first reader, will introduce her. Local arrangements are being coordinated by Ronald F.

Warnke, lecture committee chairman. Local members have invited all interested persons to attend without charge.

She will also speak at 8 p.m., Tuesday, March 13, in Fourth Church of Christ Scientist, 24400 W. Seven Mile, Detroit.

Both lectures will be open to the public.

In her talks, she will emphasize individual responsibility for contributing to peace in the community and in the world. She will also describe a number of healings through spiritual means.

Miss Houston was assistant professor of physical education at the University of Illinois.

Since 1954, she has devoted her full time to the healing ministry of Christian Science. She is presently on an extended tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Future programs, to be held every Wednesday evening, will include a supper at 6:30, followed by classes for children, youth and adults at 7:30.

Dr. William Whitledge, pastor of the church, is teaching a class on the prophets of the Old Testament.

The Rev. William McLaughlin, assistant pastor, teaches a class based on Eric Berne's book, "Games People Play."

Four Plymouth churches -- First Baptist, Calvary, Plymouth church of the Nazarene and Plymouth Wesleyan -- are sponsoring the crusade. Other members of the evangelical team that puts its message into music are Butch Hunt, Pam Murphy, Kathy Brawley, Kathy Behnan and Russ Chasteen. The school is located at 650 Church, Plymouth.

Berkley Wins, 60-58

Lathrup Title Hopes Dashed

Southfield Lathrup's district basketball tourney battle with unbeaten Berkley was the classic everyone expected and it took a layup with four seconds remaining to give Berkley a final 60-58 edge.

Lathrup thus dropped from state competition with a brilliant 20-2 mark for the season and in Saturday's district finals at Seaholm it will be Berkley vs. Brother

Rice for the title 7:30 p.m. Bob Malaby, Observerland's No. 1 scoring ace, started the tense battle as though he were going to lead Lathrup to victory single-handed. Malaby popped in the first 15 points scored by the Chargers, who led after the opening period, 17-15.

As an overflow crowd of 3,500 screamed, the two cage rivals traded the lead nine times, with the score tied on 12 other occasions, to set the scene for the final dramatics.

Berkley led at the half, 32-27, and after three periods, 48-46. In the final stanza, with 2½ minutes remaining, the score was knotted at 54-all and it was tied again at 58 with 45 seconds left.

Berkley's Bears, in possession, kept the ball and went for the final shot. Bruce Flowers, a 6-7 sophomore, put it in the hoop for the two points that killed Lathrup's hopes in a real heartbreaker. Malaby led all scorers with 25 points, with Andy Tracey and John Gardner also in double figures for the Chargers. Bob Pyykkonen and Flowers were high for Berkley with 19 and 18.

Henry Ford Captures Title From Harrison

Farmington Harrison went the distance, but the last few yards were just too much.

Detroit Henry Ford took the measure of Harrison's club on its own court in the district championship round Friday, 57-52, after Harrison had fought its way to the finals with victories over Southfield and North Farmington.

Jeff Sieloff was worth 12 points to Harrison in the first quarter as the Hawks and Ford fought it out, 12-12. Before the first half was over he had run his count to 19 points, plus grabbing 10 rebounds, and at that point Harrison held a 32-24 margin. Henry Ford made a different story of it in the second half, pounding the Hawks 17-8 in the third period and 16-12 in the fourth.

Neither Sieloff nor any of his mates could consistently crack the Ford defense, particularly from the outside, and after three periods Ford was in command, 41-40.

Sieloff wound up with 27 points for the night, but only eight of them were in the second half as Ford changed its defensive tactics. He was Harrison's only man in double figures.

Harrison led late in the fourth period, 50-49, but Ford rallied for the points that turned the tide and Harrison was sent to the sidelines with a 14-8 mark for the season.

Clarenceville Beaten, 74-64

Riverside knocked Clarenceville out of district basketball competition with a 13-point burst in the last two minutes for a 74-64 victory in the South Lyon tourney.

Clarenceville led in the late stages of the fourth quarter, 62-61, when Riverside caught fire for a 13-2 margin in two minutes time.

Clarenceville had four scorers in double figures: Paul Simons, 22; Greg Saarela, 16; Brian Luka, 14; and Rick Beyer, 12. The loss was the team's 15th of the season against four wins.

Hawks Eliminate North; Falcons Lose In Semis

Hawks

Farmington Harrison broke in front for keeps at the end of the third quarter in its intra-city district cage tournament battle with North Farmington and went on to win, 50-41.

A slow-paced first period saw North in front, 7-6, but at the half it was Harrison on top, 23-22. The Hawks had the upper hand in both of the last two periods after North's Raiders had shot into a 27-22 lead early in the second half.

Jeff Sieloff led Harrison with 16 points and Dan Hickey added 15 in reversing a 49-43 Hawk loss to North in the first game of the season.

North Farmington wound up with an 11-10 record for the campaign.

Falcons

Prospects for an all-Farmington district cage final were killed when Detroit Henry Ford eliminated Farmington High in the semifinals at Harrison, 60-59.

It was a seesaw battle all the way, being tied seven times.

Farmington's Falcons led at the half, 30-28, but trailed after three periods, 43-39. After the Detroiters took a 57-52 lead Farmington came back to tie it up at 57-all on Bob Drake's jumper.

Falcon Jim Eathorne knotted it again at 59-all but a free throw by Jesse Williams gave Henry Ford the victory with nine seconds to go. Joe Montgomery led Falcon scorers with 17 points, while Duane Howard was high for Henry Ford with 21.

Farmington finished the season at 3-18.

Southfield

Farmington Harrison's host club began its drive toward the district finals by eliminating Southfield High in the first round, 60-51, as Jeff Sieloff and Dave Cleary combined for 46 points.

Although Southfield opened a 10-2 lead, Harrison had pulled into a 12-12 tie by the end of the first period. The Hawks took a 29-23 lead with them at halftime and led after three periods, 45-42.

Sieloff led the scoring with 26 and Cleary picked up 20 as the Hawks shot 53 per cent from the floor. Ira Labensky with 14 and El Holton with 12 were Southfield's only men in double figures as the Blue Jays finished their season at 7-14.

Farmington to a 65-63 tournament basketball victory over Bloomfield Hills Andover.

The Falcons entered the district meet at Farmington Harrison with only a 2-17 record, but put four men in double figures to beat Andover with a 21-point surge in the fourth quarter.

Andover led at the half 29-28 and after three periods, 48-44, in Tuesday's opener. But with two minutes left in the ball game, Farmington had gone in front by six.

Jim Eathorne, Bill Marra and Joe Montgomery scored 15 points each for the Falcons and Dennis Hagen added 14. Tom Fischer led Andover with 19.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

After an investigation that extends back to the first week in February, it appears that Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley is finally taking action on a reported scandal at the Jackson-at-Northville meetings in early winter and during the month of January.

Although his name probably won't be mentioned, we somehow get the idea that the investigation was started by John Carlo, executive director of Northville Downs.

At the start of the current Northville Downs meeting in late January, Carlo announced his track would not have any of the betting gimmicks that involved more than two horses.

"There are too many things that can happen with trifectas and quadractos," said Carlo. "I don't approve of either type of gimmick and won't allow them at any of our meetings."

"Besides stories have been coming to me of some monkey business in these two gimmicks and I don't like it one bit."

Perhaps it was that remark that set Commissioner Shirley and his staff off on a thorough investigation of the trifectas at the Jackson-at-Northville meetings.

It is known that about the same time a similar probe was started at Windsor Raceway and each investigation appears to have brought out some fire where there was so much smoke.

From Windsor come rumors that a leading Michigan driver-trainer is involved.

From the information sifting in from the barn area at Northville Downs, one is told that several drivers have been questioned about possible collusion in trifectas.

It's all in the rumor stage at this point but Shirley did send his deputy commissioner, Richard Morris, who is in charge of harness racing, to Lansing earlier in the week to present facts from the investigation to the Attorney General's office for a review and recommendation for action.

At the time this was written (Thursday) no definite action had been taken but Windsor did conduct a lengthy meeting earlier in the week during which more than 20 persons were questioned.

If the rumors at Northville Downs have any truth, then one has to believe that eight or 10 drivers, a couple of trainers and some owners may be called in for additional questioning.

Meanwhile, Northville Downs, which has a nightly double and three perfectas as its gimmicks, moves into the final Saturday (tonight) with a better than average program headed by the weekly $3,000 preferred pace.

Johnny G., a nine-year-old who gets better with every start, and Wendy W., a seven-year-old with nothing but victories during February, share the spotlight in the co-features.

Johnny G. owned by Angus McIntyre of Port Huron, didn't get to the races until two weeks ago but flashed his oldtime speed last Saturday in winning the rich overnight race.

The veteran was one of the state's best last season when he had a winning time of 2:01.1 and added $25,083 to his bankroll. In two starts this year he shows a win and a third.

Tricky Dale, the six-year-old star of the Bob Kalish stable from Southfield, pressed Johnny G. all the way last week and will be back again as the top challenger.

Others starting are Knox Abbe, Katfish, Action and Erianas Valley.

Fans will be watching the performance of Wendy W. owned by Arlie Auckerman of Jackson, in the eighth race where it will bid for its fifth straight win.

After finishing way back in his 1973 debut, the son of Elby Hanover has been unbeatable. Even though moving up in class, Wendy W. will be the choice again this time.

Going against him are: Scamp Direct, Sis's Time, Ruby's Mission Time, Apparition Hal, Ricky Worthy, Shaway Tommy and Timmy Dares.

THIS 'N THAT ... Dick Rudnicki, currently paddock judge at Northville Downs, will have the same position at the Wolverine meeting. A former editor and owner of the Fowlerville weekly, Dick decided it was easier to build up a bankroll by announcing and officiating at the races. So he sold the newspaper and is doing quite well, thank you, as a track official.

John Broderick, longtime presiding judge at Wolverine Raceway and at Hazel Park, has left the ranks of confirmed bachelors. John recently confirmed reports that he had wed a longtime friend from his hometown of Chatham.

Whips Thurston, 86-64

Franklin Roars Into Cage Regionals

Breaking loose from a 55-55 tie with 17 seconds remaining in the third period, Franklin went on a scoring spree that netted 18 consecutive points and whipped Thurston, 86-64 in the district tourney finals on the Franklin court.

It was one of the most amazing offensive displays of the tournament and found the Patriots collecting 29 points in the final eight minutes.

Up to that time it was a wild contest with the score knotted no less than eight times and the lead changing hands on 16 occasions.

The tournament triumph, first for Franklin in history, sends the Pats against Detroit Wilbur Wright in the opening round of the regional tourney Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Franklin.

The second game will match the winner of the Walled Lake district against the winner of the Churchill meet at 8:30 p.m.

Kevin Kaseta, lanky Franklin junior center, paced the victory with 37 points on 14 field goals and nine of 13 free throws for a school record. It shattered the former mark of 36 held jointly by Kaseta and Tim Dietz.

Kevin had 11 in the first quarter, six each in the second and third and 14 in the final frame. He collected 12 in a row during a three-minute span in the fourth quarter on three field goals and six of six foul shots. It was his prolific scoring that enabled the Patriots to open up the tremendous lead.

Franklin, which whipped Thurston twice during the regular season, found itself with a real battle this time. The Eagles came out to play basketball and that they did for three periods.

The Patriots held a 21-20 edge at the end of the first quarter, thanks to Kaseta's 11 points. It was a two pointer by Jeff Waterstone in the final 13 seconds that put Franklin ahead.

Thurston fought like Tigers rather than Eagles in the second frame and had the lead three times before dropping back, 37-34 at the intermission.

It was a seesaw struggle throughout the third quarter with the teams exchanging the lead seven times and Franklin finally emerging with a 57-55 edge.

But that was the end for Thurston. The Patriots hit their hottest scoring of the entire season and quickly moved in front, 71-55. Kaseta had his string of 12 points and total of 14 in three minute span.

Steve Hunter (17), Johnny Stein (15) and Kevin Keenan (14) were the big gunners for Thurston. Back of Kaseta in Franklin scoring came Jamie Knapp with 17 and Tim Fischer with 12.

THURSTON (64): Hunter 8 1-4 17; Beadle 3 0-0 6; Stein 7 0-2 14; Keenan 6 3-4 15; Falvo 4 1-3 9; Roy 0 1-2 1; Robinson 0 2-2 2; Totals 28 8-17 64.

Churchill Victory Over RU Sets Up Charger-Rock Final

It will be the host Churchill Chargers vs. Plymouth for the championship of the district basketball tournament at Churchill tonight (Saturday).

The Chargers set up this neighborhood match by knocking off Redford Union in Thursday's semi-finals, 64-52, as they led from the opening tip-off.

Phil Damaska led the Churchill attack with 22 points, aided materially by 19 from Don Braun and 12 by Phil Skender.

Refusing to be intimidated by RU's musclemen, Churchill's Western Six champions excelled on the boards through the play of Braun and Mark Reed. After leading 30-26 at halftime, they built the lead to 17 points after three minutes of the fourth period.

The game was five minutes old before RU could notch its first point and the Panthers already were behind by nine when they did.

Gary Fuls was the standout in RU's catch-up tactics and he did all that was asked by caging 26 points. However, he was the only Panther in double figures. RU finished the season 17-4.

Churchill now stands 17-5 for the season, while Plymouth is 15-5. In the Christmas tournament on the same court, Plymouth beat the Chargers, 61-58.

Game time Saturday will be 7:30 p.m. in the Churchill gym on Newburgh Rd. between Joy Rd. and Ann Arbor Trail.

Plymouth-Stevenson

Plymouth's 20 to 5 scoring advantage over Livonia Stevenson during a 6½ minute span overlapping from the third to the fourth quarter put the Rocks into Saturday night's district cage tournament finals at Churchill High School.

It was a surge which carried Plymouth from a 44-40 deficit to a 60-49 lead four minutes into the final period. Tim Van Wagoner's eight points led the drive, but four other Rocks also scored.

Although Stevenson bounced back with three quick buckets to cut it to 60-55, the Spartans could not match Plymouth's domination in the waning minutes Wednesday. The Rocks finished on top, 69-57.

The Rocks had stormed to a 20-12 first quarter lead, but the Spartans controlled the boards so completely in the second quarter that Plymouth's half-time margin was only 32-31.

Dale Haberman, Greg Eardley and Tom Centers played key roles in Stevenson's comeback and Haberman was the game's leading scorer with 19 points. Steve Robb paced Plymouth with 18.

Stevenson wound up with a 36-26 rebounding advantage but the Spartans couldn't match Plymouth's sizzling shooting from the floor which netted eight baskets out of 12 shots in the final period.

The defeat gave Stevenson a 12-9 record for the year, while Plymouth will take a 15-5 mark into tonight's championship match.

Churchill--Bentley

Phil Damaska and Mark

Reed combined for 15 points in the last five minutes of Churchill's opening district basketball tournament test to lead the Chargers past Bentley, 50-44.

They took charge Tuesday with Churchill leading 35-34 and after Reed dumped in five straight, Damaska did all the rest of the winners' scoring as he boosted his game total to 22.

Meanwhile, the frustration mounted for Bentley, which had led 16-10 after the first period and the Bulldogs suffered their fifth loss in a row to end the season 8-13.

Churchill led at the half in the match between the two Livonia schools, 25-22, and 35-27 after three periods. The Bulldogs were as cold as ice through the middle two periods, getting only six points in the second quarter and five in the third.

Brent Boegler and Tim Bollin led Bentley scoring with 18 and 17 points respectively. Bollin's output gave him a total of 1,042 for his varsity career.

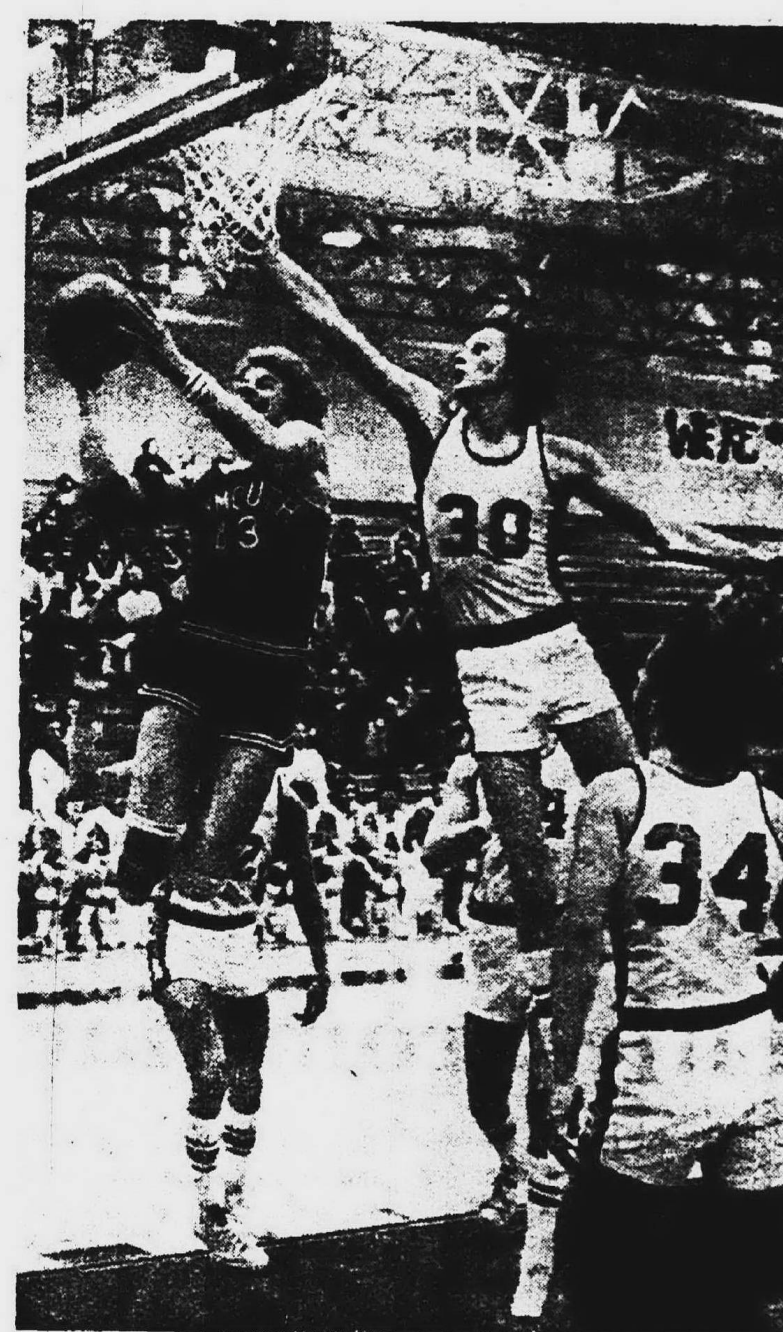

Carlington Puts Glenn In Finals

Dave Carlington's career scoring high of 33 points led Westland John Glenn into the championship round of the Belleville district basketball tourney.

The 6-4 Glenn senior paced the Rockets to a 74-61 win over Garden City West in Thursday's semi-finals. Glenn is meeting the host Belleville quintet for the title in a 2 p.m. game today (Saturday).

West was no easy touch for the newly crowned Northwest Suburban champs, leading 34-31 at the half behind the shooting of Mark Kilbourn who paced the Tigers with 25 points.

After three periods it was tied at 48-48 and Glenn then put it all together for a 26-13 romp in the final eight minutes.

One of the keenest battles in years is being waged along the metropolitan Detroit bowling front to determine the top average winner.

According to the latest averages taken in the two qualifying leagues -- The All Star Classic and the Michigan Open Classic -- three sharpshooters are tied for the lead with averages of 203.

Among this trio is Fred Vitali, who does a lot of his bowling at Westland Bowl and is one of the new members of this year's Stroh team. Tied with him are Mike Totsky, a former "King," and Bill Spargo, a veteran of the top leagues.

Vitali is leading the All-Star at the moment with a 205 average and a 201 in the Open. Totsky is second in the All-Star with 202 and has a 204 in the Open. Spargo has 201 in the All-Star and 205 in the Open.

This gives each of the trio a "mean" average -- the basis on which the winner is judged -- of 203. Their closest rivals are John Buggerio, former Stroh captain, and Bob Hart.

The Jac-Ro team that includes Elvira Toepfer and Anita Cantaline, two well known bowlers in Observerland, reached the top of the national honor roll this week when it posted a 3,107 series in the Bowlerettes League at Motor Lanes.

With Elvira showing the way with a 726 series on games of 253, 244 and 229, the team had counts of 1014, 1031 and 1062.

The 3,107 is a new high for the city this season and is the first registered nationally. The 1062 game also is a new high, but it had to be shared with the Rollie Barrett team that also posted a 1062. While all this was writing a new page in league history, Jerry Ritter posted a 279 for a new high single for the year.

The Detroit Women's Bowling Association opens its annual tournament Saturday afternoon at Hartyfield Lanes in Berkley and will run for the next month.

Among those missing for the opener at 2:30 p.m. will be the Motown Record team that will be defending its state title at Kalamazoo. The Thunderbird Hilton team, with Ann Setlock at anchor, also will be on the squad.

Scoring fell off in both the Westland and Bel-Aire Classics. Jerry Holt was tops at Westland with a 668 with Harvey Wilson only two pins behind. Bob Denison landed third with 658. There were no scores to shout about at Bel-Aire.

It was a different story at Garden Lanes. Here Al Massecar finished with games of 274 and 265 for a 764. Dick Preston, one of the stars among the veterans, took runner-up honors with a 686 and Al Kowalski opened with a 255 for 666.

Ray Smith and Kevin Hibbs put on quite a show in the Farmington High School League at Bel-Aire Lanes.

Bowling opposite each other, they went down to the last few frames before Smith won with a 647, while Hibbs was 10 pins behind. To gain the victory Smith linked games of 279, 226 and 142. In his opening game he had nine strikes in a row before getting a 10 pin tap. Hibbs countered with games of 258, 176 and 203.

In the other leagues at Bel-Aire, Chuck Hall paced the Senior House League with a 671. Gil Schornhorst showed the way in the Businessmen's League with 666; John Fowler was top man in the Mixed League with 632.

Patriots, Eagles Beat Detroiters

Patriots

Tim Fischer's field goal midway through the overtime period sparked Franklin, to victory over a scrappy Cody team which refused to admit defeat.

The Patriots tallied six points in the extra stanza but it was Fischer's two-pointer that was the winning margin. Jeff Waterstone and Kevin Kaseta each hit on two free throws to account for the six points.

As it was, Franklin had to come from behind in the closing minutes of regulation time to knot the count, 58-58, as the gun sounded.

Fischer and Jamie Knapp were the big gunners for Franklin in the come-from-behind fourth quarter. The former had six points and the latter four as the Pats overcame a five point deficit to win.

Music Clubs Plan Festival

More than 400 young musicians will take part in the Junior Music Festival sponsored by the Southeast District of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs.

It will begin at 9 a.m., Saturday, March 17, at Schoolcraft College. This is the largest number ever to participate in the annual event.

Each applicant will undergo a private audition and will receive a rating of superior, excellent, very good, good and fair. Three consecutive years of superior ratings earn the student a gold cup, awarded by the Michigan Federation.

To attend the festival, the child must be a member of a junior club affiliated with the Michigan Federation and be under the age of 19.

The majority of festival musicians this year are piano students and will be judged by Donald Morelock, a member of the Schoolcraft College music department, Pamela Fishwick, Juliana Kan, Sheila Stephenson and Teruko Yamasaki.

Ann Dalida, a member of the Windsor Symphony Orchestra, will judge string players with Janet Lee, president of the Royal Oak Musicales, serving as vocal judge.

Brass and woodwinds will be rated by Thomas Bacon, assistant principal French horn player for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The festival is not considered a competition but is meant to estimate musicianship and encourage further musical study.

Mrs. Harold Hudspeth of Livonia is the chairman. Her committee members are Mrs. George Rickey of Farmington, Mrs. Eugene Albright of Rochester, Mrs. Charles Betzner of Royal Oak, Mrs. Robert Livesay of Birmingham and Mrs. Phillip Stephenson of Huntington Woods.

Kennel Club Show Has 3,124 Entries

DETROIT The Detroit Kennel Club's 35th annual all-breed dog show, which will be held in Cobo Hall, March 11, will be the biggest of its kind in North American this year.

There will be 3,124 dogs from 114 breeds. This will be the only banded show of the year in this area. Dogs will be required to remain on their benches from 11:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., except for the time they are in the show ring.

Judging will begin at 9 a.m. and run to about 10:30 p.m. Thirty-two judges will work in 23 rings to reduce the huge entry list to six group winners for the best in show judging.

The competition has brought an unprecedented enrollment of 220 Shetland sheepdogs. The borzoi is second with 150 dogs. Others in the top 10 are Afghan hounds, 131; Irish setters, 115; collies, 103; German shepherds, 92; Alaskan malamutes and Doberman pinschers, 89 each; Great Pyrenees, 88; and St. Bernards, 85.

The obedience trials have attracted 138 entrants.

There will be two special attractions, a sled-pulling contest and relay races between teams of obedience trained dogs from Detroit and Cleveland. Starting time for these events is 3 p.m.

All of the well-known breeds will be represented. In addition, the show will offer such exotic breeds as the Akitas, Bichon Frises, soft-coated Wheaten terriers, Papillons, Lhasa Apsos, Vizslas, Kuvaszoks and Komondoroks.

The AKC recognizes 118 breeds and the DKC show will have 114 of them.

The DKC is a non-profit organization which seeks enough income from the show to meet operating expenses. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children.

Films listed in this guide are showing in area theaters. Check the theater listings for the specific theater and time of showings.

Do You Need The Services Of An Interior Designer?

Do you need help in decorating or redecorating?
What can an interior designer do for you? Let's ask one and see.

NAOMI STONE LEVY has been a Detroit-area interior designer for many years. Use a decorator? It is her firm conviction that you can't afford not to.

"The problem with amateur decorators is that they don't really know what they don't know," Mrs. Levy began. A good designer has been trained both by a formal education and by the experience of doing various homes.

She pointed out that the area of proportion and scale is where the untrained person makes the biggest mistakes. He will buy something too big for a room or too small. "Of course, too big is always worse."

The most common error the amateur makes, according to Mrs. Levy, is placing furniture around the perimeter of a room. He sees the walls and corners and that's all, she explained. "What he should be concentrating on is the positioning of conversation groups and traffic patterns."

"When I see a piece of furniture placed kitty-cornered between two walls, it bothers me. In general, you show off your corners, don't hide them."

Is hiring a decorator expensive?

No reliable decorator would ever charge a customer more than the retail price for a piece of furniture, carpeting or whatever they were ordering, Mrs. Levy declared. The decorator's profit is the difference between the wholesale price and the retail price. If you bought through a store, you would pay the retail price anyway and not have the benefit of a trained person's advice.

"Of course, if there are changes to be made in the architectural background of a home, and I design the changes, I charge a consultation fee."

In addition, the interior designer knows places and sources that the average person wouldn't know, Mrs. Levy said. You might shop eight stores for a certain piece and still not find it. "If you had asked a good decorator, they would have already done that kind of research and additionally would know a dozen more places where just what you want could be.

MRS. LEVY has just returned from a two-day research trip to New York "to see what's new."

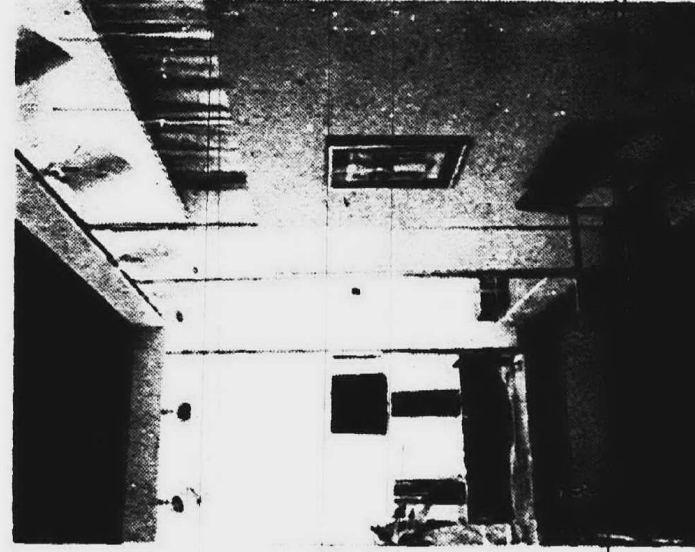

"The person who wants to hire a decorator should see his work first," Mrs. Levy advised. "If you are interested in contemporary, go see contemporary homes he has done. If early American is what you want, make certain that is a style he is good at."

What happens when a designer and client do not see eye to eye?

"There are definitely times when a decorator and client don't come in on the same wave length," Mrs. Levy admitted. "From my point of view, I will not put something in a room that I know is absolutely dreadful. But if it's not terrible, even though I don't prefer it, then I generally let it go by." If the conflicts get out of hand, she advised an amicable parting of the ways.

Mrs. Levy drew a quick sketch of "the ideal client" as "one that is willing to listen but also willing to make judgments for herself. 'I ask an awful lot of questions of my clients,' she added. "What is the function of the room? What are your favorite colors? What don't you like?"

"I can find out a lot by what they say about the furniture and accessories they already own. When a person says he bought something 10 years ago and hates it, but that he bought effects depending on the mood you want to create.

Where recessed lighting is used to its best advantage is to complement a particular furnishing or to highlight some special decorative asset. A fireplace may be even more outstanding under recessed light.

"You can put recessed lighting in older homes just as well as the newer ones," Rondello reminded. "It doesn't have to be a cold, modern kind of look. It all depends on how it's used."

TRACK LIGHTING is perhaps the newest look in lighting decor. "It's like someone took an airplane and wrote 'Try track lighting' all over the sky," Rondello laughingly related. "In the past year or so, every other person who comes in wants to know about track."

Although it has been in use for almost 15 years, track lighting is still a novelty for home lighting. It features electrified tracks of four and eight feet with spotlights which can be chosen from various styles and run along the track according to particular lighting needs. The track can make 90 degree turns which make it suitable for corner lighting.

According to Rondello, people do not give much thought to their outdoor lighting. "Usually people come in to replace an exterior lantern, because their old one has rusted or broken," he reported. "I usually try to get them to buy a cast aluminum type with acrylic panels. This will all but eliminate corrosion, rust and breakage."

MANY PEOPLE try to match their post lanterns to their front door light, but it is not really necessary, Rondello said. "As long as both are in keeping with the feel and style of the outside architecture, they don't have to match."

In his own home, Rondello and wife Rosemarie -- a fourth grade teacher at St. Fabian School in Farmington -- have solved most of their lighting problems to their own satisfaction.

"When we built our house I was not in this business," and didn't pay much attention to the fixtures. "Don admitted. With new knowledge about lighting, they changed most of the fixtures, and then found they wanted to change the furniture to go along with the look they had created."

Turn On To New Ideas In The Lighting Field

almost a necessity for the person who wants to properly light his home.

"It's not the cost of a fixture that makes it good or bad," he was quick to point out. "It's how it fits into the area. Quite often a $90 simple chandelier is more appropriate than an $800 model, because the expensive one is too ornate or too massive for the space. I try to direct them not to sell them."

PEOPLE WHO BUY new homes today have been forced into some concern for lighting because they are given a "lighting allowance" by the builder. This is a relatively new trend, according to Rondello. The builder used to put in the lighting, and that was that.

Allowances vary according to the price of the house and the builder. But Rondello believes that "a really good job of lighting a whole house cannot be done for less than $400." When he speaks of lighting, he is talking about fixtures, exclusive of lamps.

Downlighting or recessed lighting is the "in" thing today, but Rondello warns that it can be very stark, if too extensively applied.

"I like to see recessed lighting used in combination with conventional fixtures," he said. In a dining room a beautiful chandelier in addition to down-lighting can give you varied

Recessed lighting comes in a variety of styles.

Lighting is one of the last things people are concerned with in their homes, even though it's as important as any other element in decorating.

So speaks Don Rondello, of Peppermill in Farmington, though he admits a slight prejudice. Rondello is a lighting consultant at Michigan Chandelier Co.'s Birmingham store.
He is a firm believer in coordinating lighting with interior decor. But, he warns, it is not an easy thing for the average person to do.

"I really don't think people can light their homes by themselves," Rondello said. "People tend to underscale or overscale because they don't know the dimensions they should be looking for. A lighting specialist or interior decorator who knows his lighting is interest. Books and trophies reflect family hobbies as well as serving to "decorate" the book shelves.

another item 20 years ago and still loves it, it helps me to help them."

Mrs. Levy laughed as she recalled one decorating experience. When she met with the couple, the husband asked her if she had heard of the "drop dead" period. When Mrs. Levy said no, he explained that they wanted their home to be so outstanding "that people should be bowled over."

"I spent two months with the lady, and in all that time she didn't order a thing. They were building a very contemporary home, but had come from homes that were very ornate and traditional.

"It was a process of education.
She became a good friend, and the home I think was a success from both our standpoints."

Mrs. Levy isn't one to condone what she calls "showroom decorating." Many times you are caught by a bright color or a vivid furnishing, she cautioned. "But being attracted by it and living with it are two separate things."

FOR COUPLES just starting out

-- usually in an apartment -- Mrs.
Levy tries to get them to put the main part of their money into "the things that will move well. Instead of buying a long sofa for a small apartment, buy a love seat and chair. They can add the long sofa later when they move to a house."

She helps couples moving into an apartment or condominium from a large home to cull the best things they have. If they insist on a huge lounge chair that went well in their large family room but will take up the whole of the small den they will be moving into, it becomes difficult.

"There are plenty of interior designers who should not be allowed to call themselves that," Mrs. Levy readily admits. She hopes that one day, a decorator will be forced to have a license, but so far enough support has not been mobilized to accomplish this.

But Mrs. Levy is certain that a good decorator can help a housewife avoid costly mistakes that cost both money and the anguish which comes each time you enter the room where the mistake "lives."

Do Ask Husband's Advice On Decorating Decisions

Should hubby have a "say" in home decorating? Yes, say furniture designers.

Just as when he offers advice on the dresses you buy, he should have even more of a say in making decisions about the look of where he is going to live.

While some husbands profess not to be interested in the project of decorating, they are few and far between. Department and furniture store surveys show that men often ask the practical questions when purchasing, while women are inclined to buy what they like to look at.

Therefore, his preferences paired with hers are apt to end up with the best results.

While wives should listen to husbands, they should avoid discussing their decorating decisions with just anyone who has a willing ear. A friend can be helpful in choosing a costume since she can see from an angle from which you cannot see yourself, but the opposite is true in viewing a room.

You can see the entire room, and it should reflect your personality and that of your family. If you are easily swayed by others, chances are you will wind up with a distilled version of what several unrelated people's like.

So, have faith in your own judgment, and that of your mates. After all, you picked one another!

A SPIRAL STAIRCASE is dramatically accentuated by a floor to ceiling palm tree jutting up behind it. Smaller plants at its base add color and atmosphere. Without the greenery, this room might well be architecturally interesting, but cold.

It's on the floor...
It's on the wall...
It's an Accent Rug!

The accent is on accent rugs.

Rugs, custom tufted, have been gaining in popularity. They have become an art form for the floor that attracts attention and gives off the aura of warmth which all of us strive for in our decorating.

These are not the room-size rugs that have been long in use. Rather, these are rugs created strictly to stand alone as focal points in a room and not as a background. They are being made in thick, heavy plushes and shags with carved figured borders and are modern, boldly scaled and brilliantly colored.

Shaped as squares or rounds, rectangular or octagonal, some rugs have several textures within them for interesting effects.

Manufacturers conceived these rugs to be viewed under today's marvelous glass-topped tables in dining areas as well as living rooms . . . and also with the popular "see-through" plastic chairs. The designs are meant to be seen.

Some collections feature brilliant accent colors on a solid white ground. White as a background provides absolute decorating versatility and is the perfect frame or border to set off the pattern of strong accent colors. This permits the rugs to be used on every type of floor -- tile, vinyl, wood and even carpet of any color.

In addition, there's a new art form afoot with the advent of limited editions of made-to-order accent rugs.

These rugs are not created for a market, but for individuals. In this situation, the designer has absolute freedom. Colors are totally unrestricted; yarns can be skein-dyed to order, or can come from the inventory of many colors available.

Created for specific settings, designed to the specifications of the individual or the designer, there is no limit to size or shape since each rug may be created of a piece.

Many rugs will not go on the floor at all. They will be hung on the wall to add warmth and distinction to a room that a covered painting or wall-hanging would. And unless you have a miniature Batman or human fly about, you will not have to worry about carpet wear . . . just a little dust!

Greenery Instills "Life" in any Decorating Scheme

Whether your home is early American, country French or 1973 contemporary, it is not complete without greenery in the form of live, healthy house-plants.

Rooms which lack any living plants often seem sterile and lacking in warmth, no matter how artistically they have been decorated. On the other hand, rooms containing house plants appear to be full of vitality and intimacy -- though a piece of furniture may be missing or a rug is more than slightly worn.

FOR BEST RESULTS in decorating with plants, don't just plunge in. You wouldn't think of buying a picture or chair without a lot of thought as to size, styling and the mood you are trying to create. Plants, too, require a certain amount of thought.

For a large room, it's wise to choose large-scale plants, even small trees or medium-sized shrubs which are suited to the light conditions. Too many small plants dotted around in large spaces create an overly fussy effect. If you already have these small plants, group them together on a table or in a floor-type planter designed to hold several plants so that a mass of green is the over-all feeling.

A small room which needs intimate touches would probably be overwhelmed by a large rubber plant standing in the corner, but it might be just the spot for several favorite flowering plants if the light is good, or for pots of African violets, Chinese evergreen and baby's tears if the light is poor.

THE LIGHT AIRY FEELING of this storeroom is both heightened and toned down by the addition of living plants: Although the feathery floor plant and ivy on the table add to the ethereal feeling of the room, the printed scheme is relieved by the mono-chromatic tables and greenery.

COLOR OF FOLIAGE and flowers is important in choosing your plants. A canny selection can result in spectacular effects. In a room containing mostly plain colors and surfaces, the Paisley-like patterns of massed coleus can be stunning.

Or, if the decorative scheme is one of many patterns and colors intermingled as seems to be prevalent today, even more color and pattern can be contributed to the riotous effect by the very same plants. Or, if you want to "put out" the riot, a sleek variety of philodendron or feathery palm would be a choice.

If touches of orange are what you are looking for, a miniature orange tree set on the floor or on a low-topped table might be made to order. For a shimmering grape-purple touch there is the Hawaiian ti plant or the even more striking purplish-red tradescantias.

Plants are not limited to the living and family rooms. They can create striking effects when used in foyers, bathrooms and kitchens. A thin, tall cactus may be used as a piece of sculpture would to dramatize a front entrance. In a bathroom, plants can be used as accents on counter tops or open shelves, or hung from the ceiling or wall in a hanging-basket arrangement.

A KITCHEN is the logical place to grow culinary herbs for winter use, or to begin avocados, sweet potatoes or citrus fruit seeds. The window of a breakfast room or dining area may be just the place for a vine, trailed on strings to frame the view.

Plants, too, can be used to solve some decorating problems. That ugly lamp cord and outlet can be camouflaged by a graceful floor plant. Non-curtained windows may be framed by plants, and still the light and outdoors comes in unfiltered.

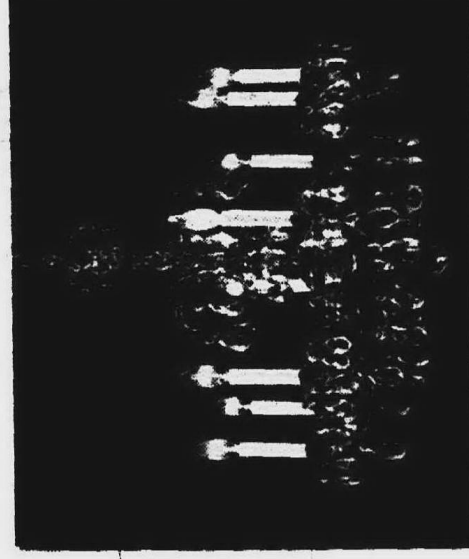

Plant lovers have always appreciated their contributions to indoor cheer, and there really is nothing new in the idea of using plants indoors mainly for their decorative effect. But in this age, where we seem to be losing the atmosphere of greenery, woods and country air, the touch of green and nature a plant brings to a home is doubly appreciated.

To Stamp Your Home Feature Family Interests

Something old, to mix with new Something inherited, tried and true.
Something new, to mix with old
Something intimate, something bold.

What makes your home the personal statement it is has a lot to do with your interests and personality.

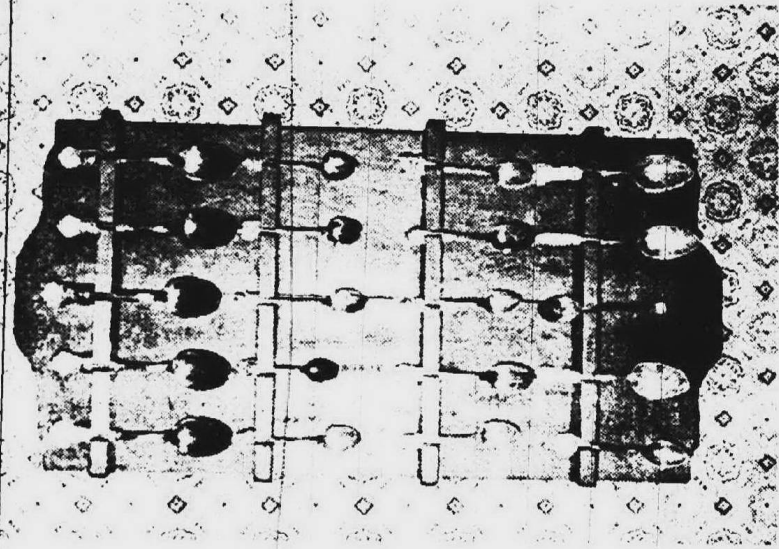

Are you a collector of shells or matchbooks? Are you an antique buff haunting the shops whenever you travel? Perhaps you just can't part with that old pie safe which just kind of turned up in grandmother's attic though everything else in your home is starkly modern.

Whether heirloom or strictly modern, your collections and interests should be shown to advantage, not hidden away in a basement or closet where no one can enjoy them. Properly arranged, the old and new can be a most effective decorating scheme. And one in which your distinctive stamp is shown to best advantage.

If it's a collection you want to present and you have no space, you think... make space. Design a shelf or cabinet arrangement to set them on their own stage. If it's just one object you dearly love, make sure it is well placed and has good lighting. Common sense and good taste should always tell you when you are using pieces improperly. Understatement is always more effective than clutter.

The more your house can reflect your imagination and way of life, the more it will seem like "home" to you and to your family.

Collections such as these spoons add warmth and interest to a home. (Observer photo)

AN OLD PINE PIE SAFE is the proud possession of Mrs. Gordon Andrews of Plymouth. She has placed it in the family room, adjacent to the kitchen and uses it as an extension of her pantry. In days gone by, when pies were baked at home a multitude at a time, they were cooled in such a pie safe. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

Is Anybody At Home?
A spiritual view of home strengthens family relationships and builds a solid basis for world peace.
"Home is our mental environment. It's within us, here and now, then and there, everywhere, and anywhere. It's the very core of our being."
"Spiritual understanding of God is vital in finding what home really is."
Come to this Christian Science lecture entitled "Is Anybody At Home?" by Nancy E. Houston, and hear how "each one of us has to expand our sense of love to include all mankind..."

EARTH IS OPEN AGAIN!!

The Piccadilly Coffee Shop at the Raleigh House is now Ready, Waiting and Serving!

"Since February 9, 1973, we have spent over $100,000 to triple the size of our kitchen facilities in the Piccadilly Coffee Shop. The original kitchen was much too small and inadequate to handle the enormous crowds we first encountered.

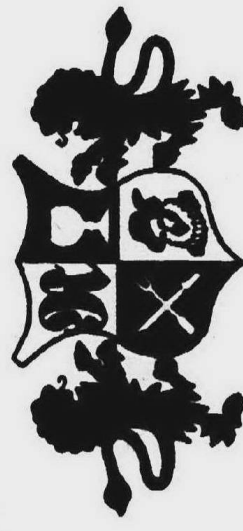

That's why we temporarily closed down the Coffee Shop for 21 days. We really appreciated your patience while we corrected our mistakes. The Piccadilly is open daily 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. and Sunday 11 a.m. to midnight.

Our elegant House of Lords Dining Room is open 6 p.m. every night except Monday. We are accepting reservations. Call 353-0090. We are featuring complete dinners from $7.75 or a choice of our a la carte menu from $5.50.

The Lion's Head cocktail Lounge is open from 11 a.m. 7 days a week and serving a buffet luncheon Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

There is ample free parking for all three facilities. The Piccadilly Coffee Shop, the House of Lords and Lion's Head are all located on the north side of the world's famous Raleigh House, on Telegraph just North of Ten Mile Road."

Prelude to the Great Outdoors at Tel-Twelve

As the days gradually get warmer and the sun shines brightly well into evening, it's hard not to think about summer, vacation, and the almost forgotten great outdoors. The return to nature has rapidly become a well-established fact in American culture and with it, the advent of camping as a way to get there.

Not surprisingly, a vital industry has grown up around this increasingly popular vacation trend. Campers are now manufactured to fit almost every conceivable lifestyle and budget, from humble tents and tent campers to elegant motor homes. All will be on display at Tel-Twelve Mall's third annual Camper Show, March 9-18.

Nine area dealers will exhibit a multitude of camping alternatives. Recreational World's Combi-Camp for instance, imported from Denmark where it is Europe's number one seller, presents campers in their most compact state. Folded up, this tent-camper measures 57" in width and 7'5" in length. It exerts only 20 pounds of pressure on the hitch and can be pulled by even a small foreign sports car. Graduating in size and spaciousness are campers (solid walls with canvas roofs); trailers, which hitch onto cars; and motor homes, truck and trailer in one unit. Motor homes and trailers, completely self-contained with cooking facilities, plumbing, electricity, even bathtubs, provide an alternative for those who like to "rough it" in style. Ranging up to 28' in length, motor homes can be ordered with built-in vacuum cleaners, sundeck roofs, even crushed velvet upholstery.

But whatever one's preference or lifestyle, it's always fun to contemplate the alternatives, browse a bit, or just plain daydream. Supplying an abundance of food for thought at the Tel-Twelve show will be exhibitors McMan Dodge Travelers, Vern Abbey's Recreational World, Delta Aire Trailer Sales, Weir Camping Center, and Wilderness Trailer and Sports Center, Inc., and guest dealers O'Green's Wide World of Camping, Wandering Wheels, Inc., Donbit's Shoppe, and Wonderland Campers.

Tel-Twelve Mall is located in Southfield at Telegraph and Twelve Mile Roads. The show will remain open through March 18th from 10 AM to 9 PM daily and from noon to 5 PM on Sundays.

"HOLIDAY RAMBLER" -- a fun way to spend a vacation on the open road

Live It Up on Your Vacation in a Motorhome

Quiet back country roads lure motorhome travelers who carry luxury living right along with them. "Shunpiking" opens new vistas for fun-minded families by allowing them to explore out of the way spots as they head for a relaxing time at the seashore, mountains or lakes.

If you drive the turnpikes and freeways these days it sometimes appears as if the whole world is on wheels or there are off to see the bad-lands, climb the Washington Monument or visit a grandchild half a continent away.

Allen Burrowbridge owns a campground with accommodations for travelers or campers, near the Delaware Water Gap outside of East Stroudsburg, Pa.

"It used to be that campers were a particular breed," Mr. Burrowbridge said one evening recently as he walked around his acres well filled with tents, campers, travel trailers and motorhomes.

Going Somewhere
What's going on now?

"Now, however, it seems that most of the families who come in here are carrying their houses with them as a means of beating the high costs of motels and hotels, crowds and restricted quarters for children."

Such families have a wide choice of accommodations from which to choose. New camper-operated, well spaced across the country, provide spotless washrooms, laundry, recreation room and pool. Overnight price is $3 per night for two, with extra charge for electricity.

The rigs that roll along the highways are as varied as the families who occupy them. They will range in price from a $30,000 motorhome with tub, shower, toilet, television and stereo tape deck down to an inexpensive tent outfit with cooking done over a campfire and sleeping bags on the floor of the tent at night.

Self Contained
Many units, such as the Avco Grand Lodge, are completely self contained, that is, all waste is stored in "holding tanks" for disposal at "dumping stations" that now are found with increasing frequency at service stations and all campgrounds. Many trailers and motorhomes have their own hot water, tub or shower or both, and are completely air-conditioned.

One obvious reason for the great growth of combining travel with camping or vice versa is the fact that children have an opportunity to run off excess energy after a day cooped up in the car. This is very often not possible with the family who takes a motel or hotel room and the kids are limited to sitting on the floor watching television. Once the chores are done, the kids take off for the swimming pool, playground or hiking trails.

Motorhome Provides Real Living Space

COSTS FAR LESS THAN IT LOOKS. This motor home, The Swinger, is self-contained, has pleasing home-like decor inside, offers plenty of storage space. Easy to handle, too.

Self-Contained Unit Adds Luxury Of Indoors to Great Outdoors

Vacationing Americans see the country in many ways — by car and motels, by car and travel trailer, by motorcycle and pup tent, even by flying their own private airplane. Each in its unique way affords a choice in fulfilling one's craving for adventure and relaxation in the great outdoors. But now the choice has been broadened in a manner which wraps up just about every desirable aspect of these modes of travel, except possibly the motorcycle and the airplane, in a single vehicle for the greater enjoyment and convenience of families or groups of fishermen or hunters or amateur photographers.

The new facility is the modern motorhome — not to be confused with the mobile home, for the former has mobility far in excess of the latter.

The motorhome, brought to its ultimate refinement on behalf of vacationers by Avco, is in fact a fully self-contained home on wheels, built and equipped to go anywhere the driver wants it to go and to stop anywhere for overnight or longer.

Swing Off Road

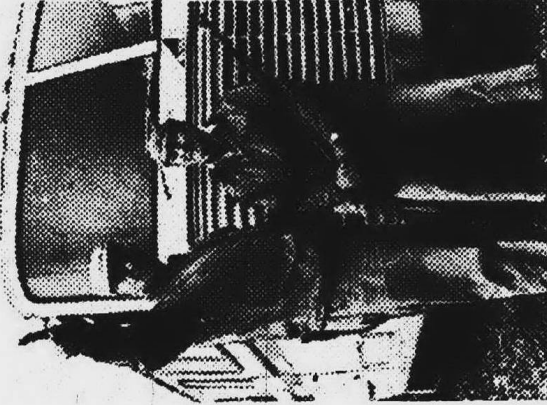

It's so rugged, you can swing it off the road whenever parking is permitted. No worry about the availability of utilities, for everything necessary to normal comfort in one's own home, even to the point where you figuratively "put the cat out" and lock up securely for the night, is built in.

Yes, that includes meal-making equipment, lighting for leisurely living-room-like reading, watching what's on the air, sleeping as comfortably relaxed as one does at home, plus lavatory facilities, all operable without the customary hook-ups required for other types of personalized vacation-time travel.

This complete homelike convenience is made possible by Avco because, included in the motorhome is its own power generating unit.

Under Own Power

But none of this is at the expense of the mobility of this immensely modern vehicle. It moves along the roads under its own power, allowing vacationers to ride high above normal traffic and thus have a clearer view of the passing panorama.

Motorhomes, such as Avco's all-fiberglass Grand Lodge, provide families with adequate living space and comforts similar to those at home. This is particularly helpful for mothers who have children to care for, vacation or not.

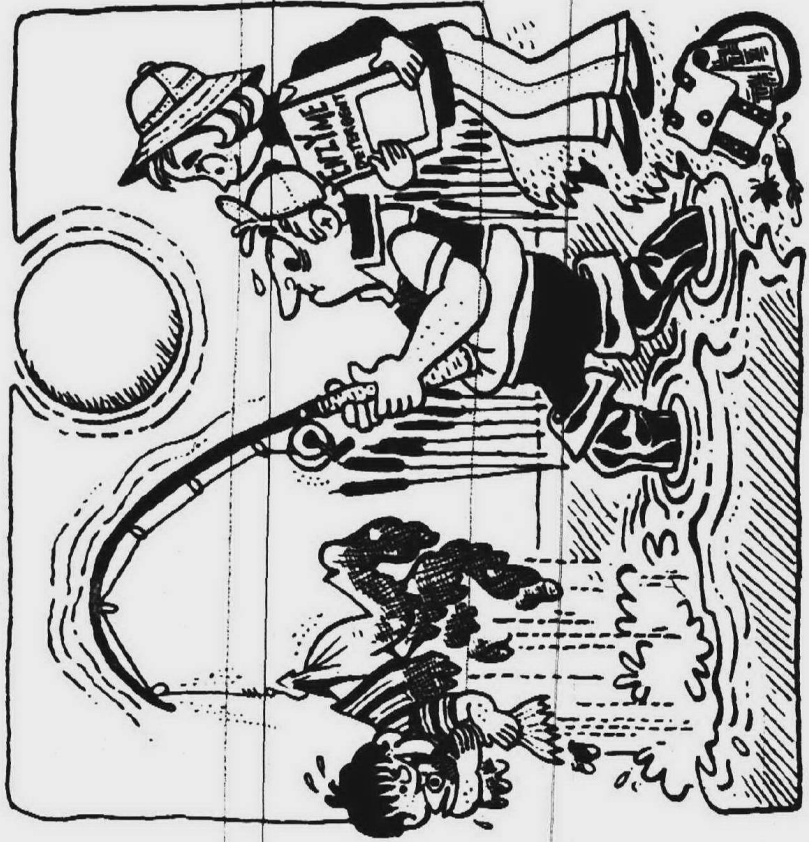

In a motorhome, children have room to move about, play table games, draw pictures, sleep comfortably, or even take a bath while father drives on.

The Grand Lodge is just as great for father, who has to do the driving. Handling this 27-foot motorhome is as easy as driving a car, yet more comfortable. The luxurious driver's seat does double duty: it gives him a high panoramic view of the road; when camping, it serves as an armchair.

Family Comfort

The interior layout and conveniences in the Grand Lodge are designed to appeal to the whole family.

How to Take the Trouble Out of Camping with the Kids

WHEN DAD AND THE KIDS go fishing down by the old campsite, they usually catch more dirt than anything else. But that won't spoil the fun — not even Mom's — if the family camping gear includes a box of enzyme detergent, a non-polluting way to make stains and soil disappear fast.

These days, hardly any vacation except camping out with kids is cheap, non-fattening — and fun, too.

Unfortunately, it often isn't much fun for Mom who has to function as cook, dishwasher, first aid expert, tent caretaker, and, worst of all, family clothes washer. But there are ways to cut down on all these chores and enjoy the easy-living delights of camping along with the rest of the family.

First of all, don't forget that the whole point of camping out is to relax in a natural, informal atmosphere. If you had wanted to dress for dinner and swim in a chlorinated pool, you could have gone to a fancy resort hotel. So don't try to "keep house" as if you were home.

Choose simple meals that don't require many dishes and are quick and easy to cook. Shop for fresh vegetables and fruit at wayside stands — they taste twice as good as the supermarket kind.

Pack a first aid kit, so you won't have to chase ten miles to the nearest store for a packet of bandages or some sunburn ointment.

Kids just seem to attract cuts and bruises, so be prepared.

As for the family washing — there's no way to avoid it, but there are ways to take the drudgery out of it.

Clothes take an extra beating on a camping trip. Grass stains and ground-in soil, are all in a day's play. Fishing or hunting clothes get bloodstained. Casual eating often means more clothes soiled with coffee, chocolate, gravy, catsup and all kinds of fruit and vegetable stains.

Sometimes these stains are tough to remove. Ordinary soaps and plain detergents often won't remove them thoroughly, but an enzyme detergent or an enzyme pre-soak can come to your rescue when you're caught out in the wilds with a batch of dirty laundry. If Dad used his shirt to carry his day's fishing catch or the kids spent all afternoon playing Kit Carson, you'll be glad if your laundry products have enzymes. They help break down tough dirt and many stains into small fragments which can be more easily washed away by regular detergent action.

Campers Can Keep Land Beautiful

A good start on environmental concern is the journey to camp. The evils of being a litterbug should be stressed to children. This might take the form of a game for youngsters—drawing their version of a litterbug to keep them occupied en route.

Grownups, too, should be reminded that a litterbug in the car is the place to stash empty beverage containers, cigarette stubs and wrappings, etc. rather than leaving a wake of trash along the roadside.

Once at your destination, be considerate of your neighbors if you've chosen a public campground. Keep your conversation low and your radio turned down after bedtime. Arrange your camp lanterns so they don't shine into neighboring tents or invade the privacy of others.

To avoid being a litterbug, the source of the camping world, knowing campers set up their own convenient receptacle by supporting a plastic trash can liner on four forked sticks driven into the ground, to provide support for the cross bars.

Dispose of it at the designated trash area if you're in a developed campground. Otherwise, teach "it above ground at night so animals won't be attracted to it. When you leave the campsite, take it with you and dispose of it at home.

As any husband knows, the lady of the house—or in this case, the tent—brings along everything but the kitchen sink on a camping trip. So what about dishwashing in camp? Unwashed dishes and residues of food from the last meal are telling signs of a sloppy camper.

You'll find it's time-saving and less of a chore if you heat the water for dishwashing while the family sits down to eat. Then you can tackle the dishes as soon as the meal is over without missing out on any of the fun. Wiping greasy plates and pans with paper towels before washing simplifies cleaning up.

If you've strung any ropes around the camp for washlines, etc., remove them before you strike camp.

Party-Time Potential

bottles, one to hold vitamins, the other minted iced tea.

Brunch on the beach is fun especially when you satisfy sharpened appetites with orange juice kept frosty cold in a vacuum bottle, fresh berries and cream, pancakes of hot coffee from a picnic jug. With a camp stove, you'll be able to cook up a batch of pancakes in no time at all much to the enjoyment of your picnickers. Tote perishables to the picnic in an ice chest. There'll be plenty of room for thirst-quenching soft drinks, too.

Fresh corn-on-the-cob fans have been known to have a pot of water boiling before going out to pick corn—after donning their track shoes, of course. Maybe you think that's corny but if you have wiseful memories of how good corn used to taste, treat your family to a tallgate picnic with corn-on-the-cob as the star of the menu.

Boil the water on a camp stove while you husk the corn and slice the tomatoes. Cold fried chicken, butter and assorted soft drinks will be chillily nestled in an ice chest. Dessert could be watermelon wedges or one of the popular frozen loaf cakes which can defrost en route.

Let's go on a picnic! Doesn't the idea conjure up wonderful pictures of marvelous food enjoyed in pleasant company amidst scenic settings? If you're still going on the old-fashioned theory that picnics are for Sundays, you're missing out on a wealth of alfresco dining. Every day has its picnic potential according to the picnic experts at the Thermos Division of King-Seeley Thermos Co. If anyone should know about picnics, they should. Who ever heard of a picnic without a Thermos vacuum bottle?

What's new under the picnic sun? Here are some ideas. How about a romantic candlelight picnic a dux in the park before a concert or play? Carry your picnic in elegant style in an outing kit with two Thermos vacuum
