I find it difficult to believe everyone else considers it a.

Another reason for the current political climate in Canton is because too many taxpayers have been to planning commission meetings and even public hearings and were not allowed to present their views -- this is called "George Lawton Democracy."

And the most aggrevating thing is when we taxpayers go to a public hearing and the minds of some of the commissioners (especially Mr. Lawton's) are already made up, without taking into consideration the pleas of the people. I'm sure Mr. Lawton wouldn't bother with public hearings if they were not required by law. By the time any issues get to the board. the citizens are extremely irate due to their past experiences.

Just as a point of interest, the following legal opinion is printed on page 443 of the official rule book, "A Manual for Township Officials": "The offices of member of township zoning board and member of a board of education are incompatible." - Attorney General, Frank J. Kelley.

When the Center is completed, a few short months from now, we'll start enjoying a whole new experience in living.

To begin with, we have quite an estate. Our 5-story residence building is set nicely on 34 acres of beautiful open space in the northeast part of the city ... just about a mile from North Campus.

The landscaping is going to be really lovely, and having such an expanse of landscape provides nice recreational opportunities. Like gardening, picnicking, walking, putting and fishing on our man-made lake.

Although we have all the amenities of country estate living, we're actually inside Ann Arbor. The shopping and entertainments in town are just a short drive from your personal carport or a comfortable ride on one of the Center's complimentary buses.

Dining is a daily delight in the pleasant atmosphere of the Center, with private dining rooms available to make entertaining guests an effortless pleasure. And, the meals are not only delicious, they are also nutritionally planned, > making it easy to get one's daily vitamins.

Socializing is a natural part of Melanie Robinson of Plymouth will soon be able to remove the prisoner of war bracelet that hasn't left her wrist since April, 1972.

S'Sgt. Richard Perricone is coming home.

The thin band of nickel plated metal stamped "S Sgt. Richard Perricone 7-12-67 has been a constant reminder to Melanie that a fellow American was held captive in North Vietnam. The date signifies the time which S Sgt. Perricone was first declared missing in action.

"I couldn't do anything about the war" savs Miss Robinson. "But at least, by wearing the bracelet. I was reminding myself and others was among instructors at the about all the personal tragedy University of Michigan's 16th associated with war."

What do you think about year-round school? That was one of the questions which the Plymouth School District study committee on building alternatives asked 25 selected persons from the area Saturday.

The committee was formed to study alternatives to building more schools as an answer to the problem of housing the rapidly increasing school population.

Meeting each Monday, the study committee has been researching alternatives which may be offered to the district's voters in advisory referendum form.

The referendum, which would probably be just an advisory question. was suggested as one possibility by Wendell Hough and E.J. McClendon, cochairmen of the study committee.

The committee hopes to consider all the alternatives. draft reports on each, seek opinions from selected citizens and then undertake a random mail survey of 2,000 voters in the district.

Following the results of that survey, the committee will weigh asking the board to place an advisory question on the ballot, the co-chairmen said.

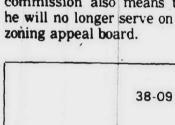

A target date for the mail sampling is in May. The study committee was formed following voter rejection of a bond issue in December that would have gone toward building more schools. A smaller but similar proposal will also be on the June 11 school ballots.

There's no telling where or when the dream season is going to end for Livonia Churchill, basketball king of the Western Six and pretender to the Suburban Eight crown after whipping three of that loop's loftiest members for the district tourney title.

Tonight (Wednesday), the Chargers (18-5) will meet the Inter-Lakes kingpin. Walled Lake Central (18-4), in Churchill's first appearance in a state regional. Tip-off will be at 8 p.m. in the gym of east of Merriman.

Wednesday, March 14, 1973

'Twas the hour back from Tigertown and all through the house, not a newspaper was shuffledjust scattered about.

But staring right in the face when I entered was a vision I just couldn't believe.

Churchill High, the school that always wins when I pick it to lose, had won one of the toughest basketball districts in the state over Bentley, Redford Union, Plymouth and Stevenson.

I found this hard to believe and at first thought maybe I had amassed too much sun in Lakeland, Fla., but a second glance and a phone call confirmed it.

Churchill, in only its third year of varsity competition, had won its first state tourney game ever over Bentley and then proceeded to rip two teams that sported a combined record of 32-8.

The 18-5 Chargers successfully defending their first Western Six cage crown with a 46-45 win over Harrison and now have their first district trophy.

How did Churchill Coach Pat Montagano react to his team's showing?

"It was just super!" said Montagano whose Chargers finished 9-8 in their first year of varsity competition and 12-5 last season. "The kids went after everyone and came out like champs!"

"I took that district trophy home, set it on the table and just sat there with it all night-never fell asleep, just tried to figure out what had happened. "I just couldn't believe it!"

"The kids were confident and looking for each other and we took everyone on the boards. Phil Damaska, Jim Foster and Don Braun just played super!"

"I knew we had an inside shot at the district and playing on our home court had to help."

Churchill stands 12-3 on its court for the season and 6-2 on the road.

Now comes the regional test for Churchill, a team that you have to believe in at this point.

Damaska (21) drives past Plymouth's Bruce Johnson (32) in the district finale at Churchill Damaska pumped in 25 points to give him 69 points in the last three games as the Chargers dumped Plymouth, 68-57, for the district crown. Churchill will face Walled Lake Central tonight at Franklin High (8 p.m.) in a regional battle.

ROYAL CANADIAN HALF GALLONS

The Franklin regional features Walled Lake Central, Franklin, Detroit Murray Wright and the "glass slipper" Chargers.

The Chargers match talents with Walled Lake Central tonight (Wednesday) at 8 p.m.

Central (Randy McLean and Co.) is nothing new to Montagano and his crew.

Churchill fell to Central at Walled Lake on Jan. 12, 64-54, when the Chargers ran out of gas. But on Feb. 16, Churchill upended Walled Lake on the its home court, 68-59.

"If we can hold McLean to 30 points and get Imhoff to foul out, we will be all right," added Montagano. "When we are right, it is going to take a team with four 'basketball players' to beat us."

Montagano believes that if Churchill can get by Central, he could be carrying home another trophy, one that would be only three games away from a state championship.

Churchill's basketball season has to be a complement to a football team that finished with a perfect 9-0.

"This has to show the caliber of our senior class," said Montagano. "How can you subtract from a 9-0 football season or a current 18-5 basketball season?'

Montagano is the first to admit that "March Madness" has struck Churchill High. He believes in his players and they believe in him.

The Chargers have a winning combination going for them and this will probably come to a surprise to most Churchill fans - but I am picking Churchill to take top billing in the Franklin regional.

We will be selecting a most valuable player and this will be announced along with the all-area team immediately following the championship game.

Stevenson has to be the favorite, but if Churchill has picked up any of the fever generated by its basketball team, the finale could be interesting.

They advise that the best time for pruning is in late February or March, before the new growth begins.

Remove all dead. broken or diseased branches: drooping branches; and those growing vertically up through the interior of the tree. Make a parallel cut as close to the parent branch as possible. Be careful not to bruise or tear the bark. Where two or more branches are crossed, leave the best one.

Prune your trees lightly. especially young trees. Remove branches with sharp angle of attachment to the trunk and thin out others. spacing them about one foot apart along and around the trunk.

To prune your fruit trees properly, you will need a pair of strong hand shears and a fine - toothed pruning saw. Keep your tools clean and sharp.

prune shrubs, fruit trees, grapes, evergreens and almost all other garden for hedges or some plants, except roses.

For roses wait until all danger of heavy frost is over. During cold weather plants are dormant, and fresh, open wounds are less subject to insect and disease attacks.

Like everything else, there are a few exceptions. Spring flowering shrubs are best pruned after they have flowered. If loss of some of this season's blooms is not important, go ahead and prune them now.

A few items such as maple and birch bleed (lose sap) after pruning in late winter. Many gardeners think this is want to head the plants back.

Now's an ideal time to technique used frequently, but is one of the poorest for plants. Save your shearing evergreens such as arborvitae. "Heading back" means that branches are cut back to healthy side buds. Its purpose without destroying the natural shape. Heading back develops more dense growth. since branches cut back may develop more than one new branch from each shoot. Thinning a bush means that an entire branch is dompletely removed - you thin them out, and no stub remains so the wound heals be done gradually over a period of several years. removing only a few old or diseased branches at a time. If the bush is full of dense growth you can do the job all

Don't be afraid to prune. Forget many of the rules that bog most gardeners down. It's better to do some pruning than to neglect the plant and let it grow into a monster.

Wayne County Offers Tree, Shrub Seedlings

There are many places for good quality trees in Wayne County in rural as well as in residential areas.

In fact, you probably have such a place for trees around your house, building, or play area. Trees can be used as a natural screen to give you the privacy of your pool, patio or backyard.

Trees can be planted in residential areas for a number of reasons: for shade, for beauty, for it to reduce the size of a plant song birds and for conservation.

> In rural areas trees have been planted for reforestation, wildlife habitat improvement, farmstead, and feed lot windbreaks, as well as those reasons given in residential planting.

The Wayne County Soil Conservation District is making trees available to the public.

These are tree seedlings that range from six inches to 12 inches in height. The minimum order is 50 trees of any species. The evergreens available are: Scotch pine, rapidly. Proper thining should red pine and white pine at $4 per 100; Norway spruce at $5 per 100; and blue spruce at $8 per hundred.

The hardwood trees and shrubs are honeysuckle and stratified black walnut. The black walnuts are $1.50 per pound of nuts.

In addition to the trees, a packet of 250 assorted hardwood shrubs is available at $8 per packet. Some of the shrubs are: autumn olive, silky dogwood, Washington hawthorne and Siberian crab. All of the shrubs produce fruit that is preferred food for a variety of song birds.

Orders will be filled on a first come, first serve basis. We reserve the right to cancel orders and refund payment if necessitated by "weather or reasons beyond our control."

Orders should be received by April 1. To obtain order blanks contact the Wayne County Soil Conservation District. P.O. Box 642, 2006 S. Wayne Rd., Westland, Mi 48185.

CANTON

Mrs. Martha L. Foster, an area pioneer, is dead at the age of 102.

Mrs. Foster died Monday of a heart attack just six days after her 102nd birthday.

Funeral services will be today (Wednesday) at 2 p.m. at Schrader Funeral Home with the Rev. Paul S. Thompson of the First Baptist Church of Plymouth officiating. Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery.

Mrs. Foster was born Martha Tillotson on a farm in Canton Township and lived her entire life in the area. Her final years were spent at the Hanlon Convalescent Home.

She was twice married and twice widowed, but never had children. Her first husband, Charles Farrand, was a truck gardener. The second, Frank Foster, was employed by Ford Motor Co. and died in 1940.

By Philip H. Power Publisher

The worst cut of all was that just after some helpful fella in the U.S. Agriculture Department advised us all that fish was a cheaper source of protein than meat, the government turned around and devalued the dollar. Since something like 70 per cent of all the fish eaten in this country is imported, devaluation means that fish will go up by around 10 per cent in the next week or so.

Maybe those college kids down in Oklahoma.who got so much ink last week with their anti inflationary dog food diet are on to something. I remember in my youth having an occasional shoving match with old Boy out there in the back yard after the dish was put down, and if memory serves, kibble biscuits aren't all bad.

There are other ways of beating the skyrocketing cost of food. A lot of folks I know here who have big lots are deep in the middle of planning a nice vegetable garden this summer. Seeds are on order; prehoeing exercises are under way; the county agricultural extension agent's phone is constantly busy.

There are only two catches to the home garden strategy. The first is bugs and cutworms, but Nancy Richard (wife of our News Editor Tim Richard), who has plenty of experience in this area, assures me that it's just a matter of constant vigilance and effort.

pocket and a basket of fresh vegetables in your kitchen, you're likely to get a rock through your plate glass window, courtesy of the millions of housewives who are even more anti-farmer these days than they are anti-busing.

FARMERS ARE in trouble in more ways than one. Not only are they (somewhat unfairly) being blamed for the rise in food costs, but also they are literally being pushed off their land by rising taxes.

Land that is worth, say, $650 an acre for farming is worth a whale of a lot more to a developer who wants to put up a shopping center or a subdivision. As the suburbs pushed increasingly into the farming areas, land values started to jump... and so did property taxes.

For a time the farmers fought back by using their clout with township assessors to rig their assessments, but in time the liberals got sore at such inequity (not to mention the folks who bought a home in a new sub and discovered that their land was being assessed at about double the rate of the farmer across the next mile road.).

So assessments were equalized. which was just but which also raised property taxes so high that farmers found they simply couldn't keep up. So they sold their land to developers.

ments have released a study showing that after awhile there simply won't be any farm land to speak of in Wayne and Oakland counties.

OBSERVATION POINT

IN RESPONSE to this, officials in the Michigan Department of Agriculture have started firing off press releases suggesting that all farm land will be gone from southeastern Michigan by the year 2000 and that this will produce severe food shortages and change our diets.

This is, of course, nonsense. In an age of rapid mass transport. food is shipped around the country much like automobiles, and except in very general terms a shortage of farm land in southeastern Michigan isn't likely to do much more than inflation has already done to our diets.

But there is a point to the concern.

Part of it has to do with a feeling that our society has gone too far, too fast with development, that our suburbs are in serious danger of becoming nothing more than a homogeneous mass of subdivisions, that our kids are so enthralled at the easy-money - shoot - the - angle ethic of a TV society that the hard-working, honest-talking ethic of the farmer will soon forever be gone.

seems to have passed them by in the rush for asphalt and cinder block.

Food Prices And Shopping Centers:

Is Suburban Development Worth It?

There's a lot of talk about a new shopping center in Canton Township, and the big center that was supposed to go into the northwest part of Farmington Township is still floating up in the air preparatory to settling somewhere in that vicinity. It may be that development is inevitable, that growth demands shopping areas, that developers always win.

But at this point of the evolution of the suburbs, it seems to me that we ought to start asking ourselves if the creation of yet another shopping center or the development of yet another condominium project is really worth the final eradication of nearby farms and fields and trees and our heritage in the land.

IS THAT A GAVEL OR A CLUB ?

The second is that if you're seen at the business end of a shovel, wearing denim overalls with a red bandana in your

Mary Dumas' Stand Lauded

Anyone know where I can get a long-stemmed daisy? The stem has to be long enough to conceal a hacksaw blade. I may need to take one to Mary Dumas in the Wayne County Jail next week.

Mrs. Dumas and 16 other county commissioners have been ordered by Circuit Judge Joseph A. Sullivan to begin serving jail sentences next Monday for contempt of court. There's an interesting thing about judges: When they send a dope pusher or murderer or rapist to the hoosegow, it's for a definite term -- a year, five years, life. In a contempt case, however, your stay in jail is indefinite.

I've picked on Mary before when I thought she was wrong, so elemental fairness requires me to back her when she's right. What's more, my support is scored double fortissimo, with ampli-

Many Peculiarities Of Human Behavior

There is no dress so ugly, so tasteless, that some woman won't buy it.

The most predictable news handout of the week, hot from the mimeo machine of the Michigan Assn. of School Boards, said the MASB board "expressed sincere dismay. . . at some of the recommendations for tax cuts contained in Gov. Milliken's 'State of the State' address.'

Funny thing about our food industry: They always contended that trading stamps don't really raise consumer prices; but federal requirements on the printing of ingredients and nutrional values they see as extremely costly.

In any line at the counter of a drug or party store, 10 per cent of the customers take 90 per cent of the time.

fiers turned up full blast.

What happened is that the union of circuit court probation officers didn't like the kind of wage settlements other unions were getting from the County Labor Relations Board. So the union made its own deal, for quite a bit more dough (up to 21.6 per cent), with the judges themselves.

The judges ordered the county commissioners to pay the bill. The commissioners - our legislators -- said "nuts." So Judge Sullivan, despite a conflict of interests, says "jail, March 19."

There's a constitutional question: Does the legislative branch of government pass our budgets. or does a court order a budget and then tell the legislative branch -- and us taxpayers -humbly to pick up the bill or go to jail?

Oakland County prosecutor.

There's an even bigger question which no court has faced, a question that mere lawyers can't comprehend: What kind of fiscal mess will we have if one branch of government is funded automatically while other branches have to go through the review process?

Judge Sullivan will not allow the county to develop orderly pay scales for various classes of civil service. He won't allow our lawmakers to balance the needs of the-circuit court against the needs for the hospital, the jail, the treasurer's office, the park system, the air pollution control system, the sheriff's department . .and so on.

Judge Sullivan puts on his blinders and says: "Pay any court bills we run up."

That's a dismal way to run a government, but it seems to be the judicial trend. Up in Lansing, as I noted last week, Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh has had the gall to ask publicly that the courts get an automatic three per cent cut of all revenues, with no legislative questions asked.

County Commissioner Paul Silver, not exactly one of my favorite characters, was right for once when he said: "The king (Sullivan) has dissolved parliament. We no longer have a legislative body in Wayne County."

So today's honor roll includes County Commissioners Mary Dumas(R-Livonia), Tom Taylor (D-Westland), Brian Arrowsmith with (R-Wayne), Chairman Bob Fitz Patrick, Paul Silver and the other commissioners gutsy enough to resist judicial royalty.

But there's one chap I have my doubts about -- Commissioner Dick Manning (D-Redford). You'll recall that Manning once tried to make school busing a county issue, which it certainly isn't; and that Manning had a lot to say when a radical judge wouldn't stand for the pledge to the flag.

Well, when the chips were

Garden City Snubs SEMCOG

Believe it or not. the chairman of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments came to Observerland suburbs last week and the territory is still alive and well.

Chairman James Grannan appeared before the Garden City Chamber of Commerce and he didn't sprout horns, spit fire, or spread any contagious diseases.

In fact, Grannan is from the suburbs of Macomb County where the fears of "supergovernment" from SEMCOG are as strong as anywhere.

It was appropriate he made one of his first public appearances in Garden City where the city council and school board have refused to join the organization.

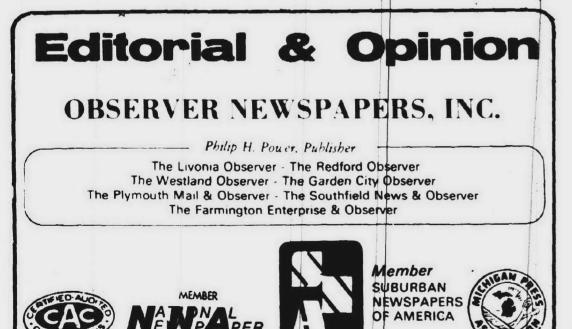

Althergh the municipal government is a chamber of commerce member, no officials appeared for the membership luncheon to hear Grannan.

Several administrators denied there was any intentional move to avoid the SEMCOG chairman or boycott his address to the chamber.

But the final result was the same--Grannar was snubbed.

Chamber officers asked city officials to attend the luncheon and hoped they would become more conscious of their regional responsibilities.

But the city council has been particularly opposed to joining SEMCOG and department heads were reluctant to shuffle calendars to make the meeting.

down on a truly important county issue, Manning abstained. He simply didn't vote. As it turned out, his abstention was legally interpreted as a negative vote, and so he too ultimately came under Judge Sullivan's jail order. Let's let Manning sit in jail a few days before we bring him a long-stemmed daisy.

EDITOR:

May I ask why people who live on Social Security, which as you know comes only once a month, have to wait for their checks when they are in the post office about a week before delivery date?

There are many of us who wait at the mail box for these checks to buy groceries and make payments which we have set up to be paid on the 4th, as checks are due on the 3rd.

Many of us are disabled and have children. Who will feed and clothe them and fight off the bills? Why do we have to worry about this?

We paid in the money and the government has the checks made out, so why can't the nost office deliver them when they should?

Our Women Have Their Day At OCC

"We are socialized and educated as children to be passive servants rather than active leaders."

With this statement, Mary White, a counselor at Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge campus, explained the purposes of the college's first celebration of International Women's Day.

International Women's Day commemorates a strike by women garment workers in New York City in 1857, and has been observed March 8 internationally ever since.

"Our purpose is to raise issues for dialogue between men and women so that together we dan work for change within a system which dehumanizes us all by maintaining sexism and racism," said Mrs. White.

The day's programs covered concerns from poetry reading to civil rights, from Tai Chai to food cooperatives, from abortion to natural childbirth, from women factory workers to the socialization of women, and from women under socialism to a workshop on Lesbianism.

Mrs. White said, "Women today are oppressed by the society and kept as second class citizens in two ways-economically and pyschologically."

Women of all classes in society know psychological oppression. As adults, we often lack the necessary skills and jobs to interact equally in the arenas of power where policy decisions are made by men.

"We succeed by staying within a role definition which accommodates to a system of male privilege.

"Women need first to understand their own oppression, and then they need education," she said.

Representatives of groups that planned the program included Eleanor Wertheimer, who became involved in church activities, adult education, human relations and open housing after her 10th was born; OCC sociology instructor Sadie Davis, and students Leslie Wheeler and Joan Grindel.

UM-D Grant Aids Ecology Teachers

DEARBORN The department of natural sciences at the University of Michigan-Dearborn has received a $51,512 National Science Foundation grant to conduct an eight-week institute for metropolitan area secondary school environmental science teachers.

Heading the institute, which runs from June 18-Aug. 10, is Dr. Orin Gelderloos, assistant professor of experimental biology at UM-Dearborn. The institute, one of 178 NSFsponsored programs, will attract some 30 teachers.

The program will include field studies, laboratory investigations, lectures and seminars and workshops.
