Hoben's Contract

The renewal of School Supt. John M. Hoben's contract will not be "automatic," says one school board member who has been politicking among other board members to gather votes. "With Malice Towards None" takes a look at the situation.

Are School Candidates Good Voters?

By W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Four of the six candidates running for Monday's school board election have been perfect or nearly-perfect voters, school election records show.

After learning that school board candidates in some other communities had never voted in a school election, The Plymouth Mail & Observer checked the Plymouth candidates' records.

They showed that while four of the six had rarely missed a school election, Zelda L. Flora, a candidate for the four-year term, had voted only once in the last 10 school elections.

Mrs. Flora said Tuesday night at the candidates' forum that she had voted "in almost all" of the school elections since she had registered.

Records show that she registered to vote here in 1955 and voted in the 1956, 1957, 1959, 1962, 1963 and 1969 school elections.

She missed the 1958, 1960, 1961, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, 1970, 1971 and 1972 regular school elections as well as the December Plymouth special election on the bond issue and the 1971 Schoolcraft College special election.

The records also show that Joseph I. Gray, a candidate for the one-year school board seat, voted in a Plymouth school election for the first time in 1972 when he was an unsuccessful candidate for the two seats won by Marda Benson and Gary Minto.

Gray admitted Tuesday night that he had not voted before that and said he had not been interested in school matters before that time.

The election records show he registered here in 1968 but failed to vote in the 1968, 1969, 1970 or 1971 regular and special school elections. He voted in the June and December elections.

According to the records:

Jay S. Finch and E.J. McClendon, who are both candidates for the four-year term, both registered in 1966 and voted in every local school election since that time.

Marcia Borowski, a candidate for the one-year term, has voted in each school election since she registered here in 1970.

David Trent, who first registered here in August, 1971, voted in the special Schoolcraft College election in September 1971 and the regular Plymouth school election last year but not in the December special election.

He said Tuesday night that he had voted in each school election since he registered to vote.

Officials Predict Close Votes On Millage, Bonding Issues

The renewal millage will pass easily but the operating millage increase and the building bond issue will be close.

That's how George Lawton, Plymouth school board president, assessed the outlook for Monday's local school election.

If absentee ballots are any indication of the turnout to be expected, the polls, which will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., may be crowded.

A large number of absentee ballots have been returned by senior citizens and students away from home, school officials say.

In addition, the 700 new registrations drummed up by the pro-millage committee are expected to add to the poll lines.

The expected turnout is apparently due to the number of issues on the ballot - the largest ballot ever seen in a Plymouth school election, according to Melvin Blunk, assistant superintendent for business.

The first proposition is the $14.15 million building bond issue, which would be used to build and furnish new high and elementary school facilities.

That proposition is a pared down version of the bonding proposition rejected by voters in December's special election.

The second proposition is a 1.5 mill operating renewal for five years.

The third proposition is a 1.55 mill operating increase which the school board says is necessary to meet rising costs due in part to the district's growth.

Supt. John M. Hoben described the proposition as the "bare minimum."

"It is incomprehensible that we can maintain the same quality program" without the increase, Hoben said.

The last local proposition is a unique, one-year 0.4 mill levy to be used for safety purposes.

Commenting on the propositions, Hoben said he was "cautiously optimistic."

Lawton said he saw "no problems at all" on the operating millage renewal but that the additional operating millage and bonding propositions would probably be "close."

The school board head also said he had "no idea" how the safety millage would go. "As far as I'm concerned, it's an advisory item that shows how much the community supports."

In addition to the propositions, the district's voters must pick between three candidates in each of two school board races - a four-year term and a one-year term.

Candidates for the four-year term are: Jay S. Finch, Zelda L. Flora and E.J. McClendon.

Candidates for the one-year term are: Marcia W. Borowski, Joseph I. Gray and David Trent.

Plymouth School District voters will also be voting on four Schoolcraft College Board races - three six-year terms and one two-year term. (See page 10A.)

A map of the new Plymouth School District precincts and voting places appears in today's Plymouth Mail & Observer on Page 2A.

Township To Weigh Shared Revenue Use, Asks Public Input

The Plymouth Township Board has tentatively decided how it will spend its federally shared revenue but wants to hear what the township residents think about it.

At its meeting in township hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday, the board's first agenda item will be a public hearing on its proposal.

Although a public hearing is not required on how the money will be spent, the board agreed last year to seek the taxpayers' advice on the matter.

"A public hearing is not essential," said Township Clerk Helen Richardson, "but we want them to have an opportunity to say they do or don't like" the way we're suggesting it be spent.

The tentative agreement reached by the board on May 7 calls for almost half the $650,000 the township will receive from the federal government over five years to be spent on "public safety."

The proposal specifies the following uses of the money:

PUBLIC SAFETY - $315,000
Purchase of land and construction of Fire Station 3 - $150,000; township's participation in sidewalks (not building them but participation in some costs) - $100,000; fire equipment (principally a pumper truck) - $65,000. (The fire station and pumper truck items are proposed to consume most or all of the federal revenue share of the township for the first half of 1973.)

RECREATION - $240,000
Service building at the recreational site - $35,000; recreation site lighting - $50,000; neighborhood park development - $10,000; recreational facilities expansion - $145,000.

MacDonald To Address Baccalaureate

Edwin MacDonald, pastor of the Church of Nazarene in Plymouth, will be the main speaker at Sunday's senior baccalaureate service.

It will be held at 2 p.m. at Plymouth Salem High School auditorium. Students will provide vocal and instrumental music.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION - $70,000
Storm sewer participation along Ann Arbor Road - $70,000.

LIBRARIES - $25,000
Increase in the township's allotment to the Dunning-Hough Memorial Library.

SC Summer Classes Open

A number of Schoolcraft's summer activity programs are open for persons who missed registration during May.

Beginning diving and competitive diving classes are still open as well as parent and tot (five and under) swim, folk and square dancing, gymnastics for ages 7-15, and gymnastics apparatus for those over 15.

Registrations are taken in the registrar's office on campus, or persons may telephone Mrs. Lottie Malaniak on campus.

Fees for these community services classes range from $5.50 to $12 for college district residents. Non-residents are charged double fees.

Miss Plymouth Contest Underway

Applications are now being accepted for the 1973 Miss Plymouth contest, sponsored by the Plymouth Jaycees.

Chairman Richard Barber announced the date of the contest to be June 23 in Canton Senior High School at 7:30 p.m.

Any girl who lives or works in the Plymouth community is eligible to enter, provided she's between the ages of 17 and 25. Applications to enter the contest will be available this week in the chamber of commerce office and also in some of the local beauty salons.

Each contestant is sponsored by a local merchant, businessman, or agency, and the winner will be crowned during the public ceremonies held at Canton High School.

For further information or questions, contact Richard Barber, 498 Pacific, Plymouth.

Student Works On Publication

Jon Olson, of 333 Evergreen, Plymouth, was among students at Grand Valley State College who compiled the first in a planned series of community service bulletins.

The first issue of "Delta Access" focuses on foods. Future issues will feature topics ranging from social services and housing to communications and alternative education.

Traffic Safety Interests New Canton Group

CANTON
Traffic safety conditions within the subdivision will be the immediate concern of the newly organized Carriage Hills Civic Assn., according to the interim officers.

The association is now conducting a membership drive in the Canton subdivision after holding an organizational meeting last week.

Named interim officers were Gifford Brown, Barbara Babier, Dennis McManis and Donald Carlson.

"We hope to get 375 members by the time the membership drive ends," stated Brown, who is heading up the group until permanent officers are elected.

Ultimately, when the subdivision is built up, the association could have as high as 1,000 members and be one of the largest in the township's federation of civic associations, which also was recently organized, he said.

Guest speaker at the first meeting was Atty. Robert Greenstein, president of the Northwest Homeowners Assn.

Board Members' Politicking May Mean Hoben's Contract Renewal Isn't Automatic

With the spotlight focused on Monday's school elections there's another matter that's been lost in the glare.

The school superintendent's contract is up for renewal — and apparently it won't be automatic.

While one would think the crucial nature of Monday's millage and bonding issues would be enough to keep the school board members occupied with politicking, some of them have been busy politicking about the superintendent's contract instead.

The matter is to be decided at a special school board meeting called for 8 p.m. Tuesday in the school board offices — but some members said there wouldn't be a quorum present.

The absenteeism was not going to be a coincidence, admits Gary Mirto, spokesman for the "anti-automatic contract-renewal" forces.

Mirto says the idea is to give the board an opportunity to discuss John M. Hoben's performance over the past year before signing him to another two-year hitch.

Faced with a non-quorum, Lawton decided Friday morning to move the matter to Monday night's regular meeting.

But Mirto admits he'd like to see the matter tabled until after the two new school board members can join the board.

Thus, the district's voters may do well to consider the implications of that when they go to the polls Monday.

Here's the box score: FOR RENEWING HOBEN'S CONTRACT NOW — Board President George Lawton and Carl Berry (who will leave the board in July).

FOR RE-EXAMINING THE CONTRACT — Mirto, Fred Penar, Marda Benson.

UNKNOWN — John Graves (whom Mirto claims for their team) and John Ohno (who will also leave the board in July).

The balance obviously hinges on the members elected Monday if the Mirto-Penar-Benson team can stall the contract renewal until after the first board meeting in July.

Leading contender for the four-year school board term, most observers say, is E.J. McClendon.

The one-year race, the same unofficial observers say, is a toss-up between Marcia Borowski and Joseph Gray.

Both McClendon and Gray have been publicly endorsed by Mirto. He admits, he has discussed renewal of the superintendent's contract with both.

Mirto said neither McClendon nor Gray took a position on the matter.

At Tuesday's candidates'

forum, all six board candidates hemmed and hawed around the question of renewing Hoben's contract saying they weren't yet privy to the necessary information.

Bida Quits DPW Post -- Again

PLYMOUTH Joe Bida, Plymouth Township's DPW and recreation director, has resigned effective June 30.

In a one-sentence letter to the township board dated June 5, Bida asked to be relieved of his duties for "personal" reasons.

It is the third time Bida has resigned from the position, but he reconsidered the last two times.

Although he declined to comment further on his resignation to The Plymouth Mail & Observer, it is generally known that Bida has felt hamstrung in his job by the township board's change in stance on extending sewer and water lines and the board's position on the township recreation site.

Bida's resignation will be considered by the board at its meeting Tuesday night.

Elementary Boundaries Considered

PLYMOUTH According to the tentative agenda for Monday's regular Plymouth school board meeting, the following items will be discussed:

- Elementary school boundaries for 1973-74.
- Reopening of Central School.
- Two proposed school sites.
- Estimated cost of a Joy Road overpass by Fiegel School.

The meeting starts at 8 p.m. and will be held at Plymouth-Canton High School.

Science Club Enjoys Trip

PLYMOUTH Fifteen members of the 3-D Science Club at Middle School East drove to and from Niagara Falls and spent five hours of sight-seeing there in a daylong whirlwind trip.

The club, sponsored by Joseph A. Ditzhazy Sr., left Plymouth at 7 a.m. and arrived back home at 12:30 p.m.

They visited the falls, toured the park area to view the flowers, rode to the top of Skylon Tower, shopped for souvenirs and rode along Parkway Drive to see the chasm, rock layering and swift movement of the water. They paused at the whirlpool for rides and picture taking, stopped at the largest hydro-electric plant in the world, and exclaimed over the largest working floral clock in the world.

Sixth graders making the trip were Patti Doherty, Dawna Fletcher, Andrea Graham, Tresia Huddleston, Ken Jenkins, Vicki Jones, Brian Kalliel, Dave Keen, Howard Lukefahr, Erin Moore, Laura Oksanen, Donna and Crystal Roper, Judy Szabla and Joan Wilhelm.

Mirto described the claims as "characteristic of their (pro-Hoben) attitudes."

The district's voters should at least be aware that their school board — which not long ago went through a nasty time firing its superintendent — has not returned to "normalcy" as far as the top administrative posts go.

Hamilton 'On Right Track,' Stockholders Told

By FRED DeLANO

The tumultuous, uncertain years for Hamilton International Corp. and its principal subsidiary, the Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co., may have ended.

Certainly, confidence and optimism were the keywords of the annual stockholders meeting of the Farmington-based corporation when Richard Headlee capped his first seven months as president and chief executive officer with the statement: "Your new management has set the stage for a bright and successful future for your corporation in the insurance industry."

"I wouldn't want you to presume I have any magic wand, but we will know where we are going and will demonstrate to the business community of the Midwest that we can run a first class financial institution."

Although Hamilton never has paid a dividend to investors since the company was formed in 1963, Headlee said results of the first quarter of 1973 "would indicate we are on the right track."

"Net income, before realized investment gains, was $568,000 compared with $389,100 for the same period in 1972. This is a 47 per cent increase over last year," said Headlee.

"Even though there was an increase in total assets of nearly $11 million, and a gain in income from operations over the previous year, in 1972 we suffered a loss of $1.5 million."

The 43-year-old Headlee explained to an estimated 250 stockholders in the Raleigh House that this "included provisions for a loss of $802,000 on a building and real estate in Louisville, Ky., and an extraordinary charge of more than $1.4 million representing provisions for a loss on the company's real estate development at St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands."

Headlee succeeded E. Keith Owens as president of both companies last Nov. 1 and said that one measure of success thus far "is the fact that we expect to effect annualized savings of about $1.2 million in 1973."

Reorganization and consolidation of management functions in both companies have resulted in the number of officers and staff directors being reduced from 34 to 22 -- "a savings of about $200,000 a year in executive compensation."

"No officer's combined salary and bonus will exceed $50,000 in 1973," said Headlee. "This is compared with the $117,000 received by the former chief executive officer (Owens) in 1971, and with the aggregate $258,865 paid to four other former executives during that same year." Headlee's own salary is $49,500 for 1973. Although his contract does not extend beyond the current year, he concedes that his horizons with the company do extend into the future.

Headlee also disclosed to stockholders that Owens has started action in Oakland County Circuit Court disputing the company's right to terminate an agreement made when he resigned, spelling out terms of part-time employment through 1976.

The Owens agreement was dated Nov. 8, 1972 and it was cancelled by the board of directors Feb. 23 this year.

It provided that for performing such duties "as might be requested from time to time by the president" Owens was to be paid $7,000 per month until Dec. 31, 1972 and annual amounts of $45,000 for 1973, $40,000 for 1974, $20,000 for 1975 and $10,000 for 1976.

Special emphasis was placed on new capital which has come into the company since the management shakeup.

Headlee said a group headed by Carl R. Pohlad, Minneapolis businessman and banker, has invested $3.5 million in Hamilton, adding:

"The new capital was used to retire a $3.3 million loan with the Louisville-Royal Bank and Trust Co. This relieved the company of approximately $250,000 in annual interest and freed the capital stock of Alexander Hamilton Life, which had been pledged as collateral to secure that loan."

Headlee made these nine points in reviewing gains made in recent months:

"In a nutshell your new management has:

"1. Significantly reduced expenses and number of personnel.

"2. Improved the overall image of Alexander Hamilton Life.

"3. Sold the Life of Kentucky office building at the cost on the company books.

"4. Restructured and consolidated your marketing efforts.

"5. Laid the groundwork for new large group insurance cases.

Boy Injured, Hit-Run Car Sought

By MAURIE WALKER

PLYMOUTH

A hit-and-run driver, who struck a Plymouth youth on Monday afternoon, is being sought by Plymouth police.

Michael McClure, 12, of 156 Caster, was injured in the leg as he crossed Plymouth Road near Mill Street.

Witnesses told police the car crossed the double yellow line in the center of the road. After hitting the boy, the car fled the scene "at a high rate of speed."

Michael was taken to St. Mary Hospital and later released. Police say he was not seriously injured.

The car was described to police as being a black and red, late model Chevrolet. It had mag wheels with the rear end of the car jacked up.

Present: Lawrence L. Benson, Chairman; Mirto, O'Neil, and Penar. Absent: Member Berry.

Administrators present: Sup't. Hobert, Deputy Sup't. Hogan, Assistant Sup'ts. Blunk and Gibson, Adm. Assistant-Counselor Koe, Supervisor Sirbaugh, Assistant Director Masteller, Principal Smith and Area Coordinator Baker.

Others present: Fred DeLano, Chairman of the Board; M. Borowski, J. Finch, and S. Flora, Candidates for School Board; R. Greenstein, North-west Canton Homeowners Association; J. Ryder, IEA and other interested citizens.

It was moved by Member Benson and seconded by Member Mirto to approve the minutes of the regular meeting of April 30, 1973, as distributed.

Ayes: Members Benson, Graves, Lawton, Mirto, O'Neil and Penar. Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Suggestions from citizens were invited at this time. Mr. Robert Greenstein, President of the Northwest Canton Homeowners Association, rose to reply to the members of the Board of Education regarding that group's position on the millage issue in the forthcoming election. Mr. Greenstein wished to clear up any misunderstanding and asked that the Board still consider the issuance of a statement on an ideal growth rate for the Community. Members of the Board replied to Mr. Greenstein, referring him to the Joint Report, the Rossmore Report and the Maximum Utilization Committee activities. Member Mirto replied the Board could do nothing to prejudice planning or growth within any Township or City. Member Penar asked that the Northwest Canton Homeowners Association list those guidelines or thoughts which might go into determining optimum growth, along with basic considerations for this. Other Board members concurred. Member Benson requested that this matter be made a subject for discussion at the next Workshop Session of the Board on May 21 at 6 p.m.

President Lawton explained his position in declining a moratorium on building in Canton Township and that he had reviewed problems of the School Board whenever a new subdivision was presented.

Mr. Gregory Dean, representing the Community Improvement Association of Plymouth Township rose to second the position of the Northwest Canton Homeowners Association in requesting the statement on desirable growth rate.

Assistant Sup't. Blunk spoke to the issue of the Michigan State Department of Education regarding their change in attitude for allowing bond issues over the years, feeling that their attitude has become more astute and that they must feel a bond issue in Plymouth is necessary at this time if it were allowed.

Mrs. Marcia Borowski rose to speak to the millage issue as discussed, also expressing the opinion that overbuilding is considered a problem by the electorate and that the Board and millage campaign workers should direct much more attention to quelling fears on overbuilding.

It was moved by Member Benson and seconded by Member Benson that this Board move in the direction of joining the Michigan Association of Improved School Legislation.

Ayes: Members Benson, Graves and Lawton. Nays: Members O'Neil, Penar and Mirto.

The motion was defeated.

Administration was requested to submit more information as to whether this School District could be represented as well as the seven other districts now represented by lobbyist under the MAISL group, and how much legislative support the District could expect from the organization under a three-year contract.

It was moved by Member Penar and seconded by Member Benson that this Board continue membership in the Michigan Association of School Boards with annual dues of $1,200.

Ayes: Members Benson, Graves and Lawton. Nays: Members Benson, O'Neil and Mirto.

The motion was defeated.

It was moved by Member Benson and seconded by Member O'Neil to approve request by Stanley Towers to attend outside conference at no added cost to school district other than providing a substitute.

Ayes: Members Benson, Graves, Lawton, Mirto, O'Neil and Penar. Nays: None.

How 8th Graders Serve Community

By RICH McCULLEN

PLYMOUTH
A group of 20 eighth graders from Pioneer Middle School have put together a playground obstacle course that would do Parris Island proud.

The course was the major effort of an experimental class at Pioneer called "community service," taught by Pioneer teacher John Emery, and offered this year to eighth graders in lieu of a study hall period.

Although originally suggested by Emery, the playground improvement project was chosen by the students themselves, in keeping with the philosophy behind the course.

Students select their projects with an eye to making maximum use of work time, and plan them from the ground up - using in the process a wide range of "traditional" disciplines.

The obstacle course, for example, involved a substantial amount of measuring and surveying which taught students as much geometry as Emery is able to teach in his mathematics course.

The course was laid out in the only available playground space which could be used without encroaching on the baseball diamond, a drainage ditch and fence.

The students mapped out the 250 - foot U-shaped course on paper and constructed it with wooden scale models before attempting to build. The area itself was "surveyed" by the student builders with such primitive instruments as a stick and ball of string. Even with the disadvantage of their tools, the length of the course along the fence is parallel to within 3 1/2 inches.

In addition to the surveying, each angle of a cut in a log and the depth to which each pole is sunk was computed by the students themselves, using and learning in the process simple geometric concepts.

The materials and tools were largely products of student ingenuity. Telephone poles were donated by Detroit Edison and Michigan Bell, and the tools were scavenged from fathers' workshops and the Pioneer industrial education department.

Lumber, bolts, nails and the like were paid for primarily from the proceeds of a school paper drive conducted earlier this year.

The course, when completed, will include approximately 10 obstacles, including such staples as ropes to climb, walls to jump and beams for testing balance.

The playground improvement is one of several projects which the 20 boys completed during their one - semester course.

Handbell Ringers Keep Old English Art Tuned

By BETTY MASSON

In Livonia's Rosedale Gardens United Presbyterian Church, the saying is "42 bells and still growing."

They're not referring to a Navy clock gone haywire, of course, but to the English art of handbell ringing, which is becoming increasingly popular in the U.S.

Beginning seven years ago with a memorial gift of the first two octaves (25 bells), the church now has a three octave set and is working on a fourth.

Three are adequate and flexible, according to the church's music director, Mrs. Shirley Harden, but four and five octave groups are becoming more common.

Rosedale Gardens has also just added a new group of bell ringers to its roster, making six in all. The latest group is finally getting some 12 enthusiastic adults into the act.

The other five are the Prep Class (fifth and sixth graders), the Bell Boys (12 boys), the Rosedale Ringers (seventh, eighth and ninth graders), the Carillon Choir (high school girls) and the Senior Ringers (senior high students).

What does it take to be a good bell ringer?

The ability to read music and faithfulness in attending rehearsals and performances are most important, according to Mrs. Harden.

Sight reading ability is important because each ringer has to be able to pick out his own note or notes from among many (the more talented and experienced players can ring more than one bell).

And since everyone is responsible for his own note, there's a big gap when one of the ringers is missing. There are no other instruments or voices to glide over the gap as there would be in a group of singers or instrumentalists.

Bell ringing originated in England, when the villagers complained about the loudness and discordance of the sounds created by the church change-ringers.

In change-ringing, church bells are rung by teams in which each member pulls the rope controlling one bell.

As a result of pressure by the villagers, the change ringers did their practicing on smaller (and quieter) bells, but using the same sequences they would on the bigger bells.

Mrs. Harden confesses that she started her handbell ringing career with some misgivings: "I didn't think I would like it."

But she has changed her mind and now feels that "the music grows on you. The more you hear, the more you want to hear."

Seven years ago, there was no school for handbell ringing.

Poolside Jazz Series Starts

The Poolside Jazz Series at the Hotel Pontchartrain in Detroit will feature the Austin-Moro Band in its first summer concert Wednesday, June 13.

The concert, featuring songstress Sandy Mandella, will run from 6 until 9 p.m.

The Brookside Jazz Ensemble, featuring vocalist Ursula Walker, will perform Wednesday, June 20. The two bands will alternate Wednesdays through the summer.

An "afterglow" dance period will follow each concert.

So after the bells arrived, Mrs. Harden had to learn by trial and error, by talking with people who had also learned by trial and error and by attending workshops.

Today, while there are still no schools, the picture is much brighter because more and more good music is being arranged for handbell choirs.

The Rosedale Gardens choirs are just as happy, and comfortable, presenting concerts of show tunes as they are playing at church services and weddings.

They are eager to play for community organizations, and interested persons should contact the church.

This month, two of the choirs, the Bell Boys and the Rosedale Ringers, are going to Morehead, Ky., to attend the national festival of the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers ... only it's not really a national festival.

The guild has grown so large it has had to split its national meeting in two. One is being held in Kentucky and the other in Arizona.

Twenty-two persons will be going from Livonia, to join with some 100 other choirs (consisting of about 10 persons each).

It's a thrilling experience to hear the massed choirs play, reports Mrs. Harden.

Eighty choirs will present solos, including the two from Livonia. The convention, which begins June 26, goes through June 29.

Earlier this month, on June 17, at 7 p.m., the Senior Choir will present a farewell concert. The present group will be breaking up as many of its members go off to college. But many will be back to join in when they come home on holidays, as does Ginn Valance, now a student at Central Michigan University.

Her sister, Patt, is one of the seniors and she will soon be off to Michigan State University. Patt has been studying handbells ever since they began ringing at the church.

But there will still be a Valance in the choir. Brother Jim, 13, is one of the Bell Boys.

Church affiliation is not a requirement for membership but it is encouraged, according to Mrs. Harden. The music may be English, but at least one of the choir's sets of costumes are strictly Scotch Presbyterian plaid.

KEEPING AN eye on the director is handbell ringer John Beumler.

THESE HANDBELLS are manufactured by the only U.S. company in the handbell business, the Schulmerick Co. of Sellersville, Pa.

They are permanently tuned, and 25 bells would cost somewhere around $900.

ROSEDALE GARDENS United Presbyterian Church now has six handbell choirs, all directed by Shirley Harden (right). Participants range in age from fifth graders through adults.

Outdoor Concert Featured June 17

A free concert featuring six popular performing groups will be presented outdoors at Schoolcraft College the afternoon and evening of

Sunday, June 17.

Sponsored by Schoolcraft's student activities board, the general public is invited to hear Thomas Blood, a five-piece jazz group, start the concert at 3:30 p.m. The Chip Stevens Group, featuring jazz-rock, and Father, a vocal group accompanied by electric violins, will follow.

Folk-rock singing star Jonathon Round is scheduled for a 7 p.m. performance. The Whiz Kids, a 2-piece electronic sound will follow. The final act will be Brussel Sprout, a seven-piece country-rock group.

Schoolcraft student Pat Barret has coordinated the entire concert.

"In case of rain we'll move inside to the physical education building," he said, "but we hope this won't be necessary because our campus is just perfect for an outdoor concert. We think people who attend will like what they see as well as what they will hear."

The college is located at 18600 Haggerty, between Six and Seven Mile, Livonia.

All a fellow has to do, you say, is listen while visiting the various gathering places, then sit down and write.

Well, are you game enough to join The Stroller in a leisurely stroll through the area and learn, first hand, just what happens.

You are. Let's start right here on Main Street in downtown Plymouth.

Here comes a smiling gent and from all appearances he might be our first contributor.

"Just the fellow I'm looking for," he says as he offers his hand in friendship.

"As a veteran baseball writer," he starts, "you ought to be familiar with Tiger Stadium. The Rotary Club is having a baseball party down there and I want to know where my seats are located."

"Can you tell me where Section 17 is located?"

True. The Stroller has spent many an afternoon in the ball yard — even back in the days when it was Navin Field. But he spent his time high up in the press box and had no need of section locations. So, he couldn't answer.

Next came a lady who seemed to recognize The Stroller by the manner in which she smiled.

Sure enough. "You get around a lot," she said, "so maybe you can help me. I've been looking for an appliance store downtown and can't find one. Can you tell me why there is no such thing?"

"I think Plymouth is the only city around here without a place to buy a refrigerator, a TV or any of the other appliances."

Well, it doesn't seem like a good day for picking up nuggets in Plymouth, so let's move on.

Now, here we are in Garden City — where there are many places that look like anything but gardens.

"Can you tell me," another man walking along asked, "why they built a nice city hall here with a fire station next door, then deserted a building that could house the police department instead of the dull looking place they have?"

The Stroller couldn't answer that, either.

Now, we're in Livonia where the search may be more fruitful.

Walking into the corner barber shop where there is almost always a fountain of information, the man in the first chair spoke up.

"Weren't you one of the first officials when we became a city?"

Assured that the identity was right he asked:

"Can you tell me why, oh why, you fellows decided to mould a civic center here at Five Mile and Farmington Roads — right next to two cemeteries on one side and a high school on the other? You can only grow north and south and you're hemmed in on the east and west?"

That touched a sore spot. When The Stroller was on city council he felt the same way, but was out-voted and he never knew exactly why the site was selected.

No news, here, so let's go up to Farmington and Southfield.

No sooner had we reached the main corner than an old acquaintance who happened by said, "I've been meaning to call you. I was in an argument the other night and I argued that the Tigers once boasted the batting champion of the American League and traded him away before the next season began. Was I right?"

Right, you were. The champion was a big hunk of a man who couldn't field his position at first base and traded him off to the Red Sox.

Still no news.

No sooner had we reached Southfield than my friend who thought the job was so easy, asked:

"Why do they keep on building office buildings out here when they aren't renting the ones they have now?"

There was no answer to that, either.

Now we are at the end of the leisurely stroll. We've answered a lot of questions — but we didn't unearth any nuggets of information.

"So, you still think the job is a cinch, eh," strolling all day, meeting people and winding up without a thing to write about.

"I guess the grass always looks greener on the other side," he smiled and slowly walked away.

Smit Attacks Gas Station Price Signs

PLYMOUTH Ever been lured into a service station by a sign showing a lower than average gas price, then spotted a "plus tax" in tiny letters that brings the price up?

State Rep. Raymond Smit (R-Ann Arbor) has introduced a House bill to prohibit such practice. His district includes a portion of Plymouth.

"Michigan law presently requires that a dealer posting a price sign must indicate some place on that sign that it does not include tax if it does not," Smit said. "To get around this rule, they print 'plus tax' in such small letters that they can hardly be seen unless you walk right up to the sign."

The amount actually charged for tax is usually one cent additional, Smit said, and "has little relationship to the four cent federal tax or nine cent state gasoline tax or four per cent sales tax."

Smit's bill would require that any sign posted referring to gasoline price be the same as the price on the pump, include all taxes to be levied or collected and be expressed in terms of price per gallon.

It would also require that there be a word description of the grade of gasoline being advertised, include the price and grade of each gasoline being sold, and have lettering and numbering of a size which could easily be read by a person having 20/20 vision from a distance of 200 feet.

A violation would be classified as a misdemeanor.

Letter To The Editor

'Defeat Bond, Millage Issues'

EDITOR:

Thank you for the publication on May 23, of letter re: "Tax Spiral."

Recently our Plymouth Community School District mailed a post card survey purporting to seek the opinions of voters. The questions were a repetition of former publicity suggesting renting homes, or schools in other districts, or other space or paying tuition to other schools for our children, etc.

The district has recently rented some of its building space, purchased and remodeled, at a substantial sum, a building from the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. The Plymouth High School on Main Street stands practically unused.

The drive for renewal and various new millages plus a bond issue of $14.150 million for construction of new schools appearing upon the ballot June 11, is made in the face of the fact that the assessed equalized valuation of property for tax purposes has been raised a very large amount and the school district will receive a very substantial increase in tax funds through this maneuver.

This will increase heavily the tax burdens of business, the old, and younger people trying to pay for their homes. By use of economy in administration a surplus from the added taxes mentioned above may be accumulated and additional schools built on a cash basis, if, as and when needed.

It is believed all proposed millage and bond issues should be defeated to the end that taxpayers can meet their taxes and school salaries and overhead be paid.

Unity Sets Dedication Service

Unity of Livonia (formerly Unity of West Suburbia) will dedicate its new church building at 28660 W. Five Mile at 11 a.m. Sunday, June 10.

Robert P. Sikking, executive director of the Association of Unity Churches of Unity Village, Mo., will be guest speaker. Gene Sorenson is minister of Unity of Livonia. Church members who have given special help to the building program will be honored.

The church was founded in 1962 and has grown to a congregation of more than 200 members.

Regular services are held at 11 a.m. each Sunday. Several classes are also held. Anyone may attend.

The newest of these is being conducted by Sorenson on Sunday mornings at 9:30. The subject is "Spiritual Cybernetics." Interested persons may call the church.

Following Sunday's service, the youth of the church will host a coffee and fellowship hour.

ROBERT SIKKING

CARS DECORATED with Bible school themes will parade in the neighborhood of Clarenceville United Methodist Church Saturday, June 16.

Clarenceville Church Begins VBS With Parade

Decorated cars, floats and clowns will be featured in the parade planned at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 16, by Clarenceville United Methodist Church.

The parade annually launches the Vacation Bible School sponsored by the church located at 20300 Middle Belt, Livonia.

It will be held in the church neighborhood, with many of the church school children joining the march. Prizes will be given for the best cars and floats.

The Bible school will run from Monday, June 18, through Friday, June 29. Using the theme "Reach

Out with Jesus," it will offer classes for everyone from kindergarten through youth department. An adult Bible school will be offered in the homes of church members at 7:30 p.m. each day. Reginald McConnell will be the teacher.

The vacation school will close with a special program at 7:30 p.m. on the final day, June 29.

Mrs. Robert Kutschke, director of religious education for Clarenceville UMC, is in charge of the school. Children needing transportation to the daily sessions should call the church office.

Aldersgate Reception Fetes Mission Family

A missionary family that visited Aldersgate United Methodist Church last weekend will return to Mexico with personal knowledge of the Redford Township congregation as well as its financial support.

Aldersgate, located at 10000 Beech-Daly, has for more than five years been the major supporter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woods in their mission work in the Puebla area of Mexico.

On June 3, the Woods and their three daughters, Wendy, Mandy and Mary, visited the congregation and gave a report on their work.

Following a church supper, they showed slides of the work done in teaching new agricultural methods of the Mexicans and of the new school Mrs. Woods opened for the children of the farmers.

The couple also addressed the two morning worship services in Aldersgate. A reception followed each service.

Originally from the Kalamazoo area, the Woods have spent five years in their mission assignment and will return to Mexico late in July.

For the past year they have been living in East Lansing while Woods worked on an advanced degree in communications at Michigan State University.

GR Baptist Honors Graduates

High school and college graduates will be honored by Grand River Baptist Church of Livonia during services at 7 p.m. Sunday, June 10.

The students affiliated with the church, located at 34650

Six Mile, will receive gifts from the congregation. A reception in the church hall will follow the service.

Among those to be honored are Jackie Sieb and Debbie Davis, graduates of Michigan State University.

Those who have completed high school are Debbie Walkowiak, Nancy Williams, John Shaw, Kathy Parks, Kim Lassiter, Bill Craver, Jeff Myers and Debbie Croll.

Graduate Sunday Set By Lakepointe

Robert L. Husband, dean of student affairs at Spring Arbor College, will be guest speaker at Lakepointe Community Chapel for the special Graduation Sunday service June 10 at 11 a.m.

Lakepointe Chapel is located at Schoolcraft and serves the Plymouth, Livonia and Northville areas with a special emphasis toward youth.

Husband received his BA at Central Michigan University. He then joined the staff of Voice of Christian Youth as speaker and counselor for this organization in the Detroit area.

He also served as staff consultant for Fellowship of Christian Athletes, developing their high school program for Michigan, and at the same time attended the University of Michigan for his master's degree in guidance and counseling.

At the time of his appointment, he was the youngest dean of students in Michigan.

Graduates to be honored include: David R. Claus, University of Michigan; Andy Logan, Western Michigan University; Mary Ellen Kemp, Schoolcraft College; Linda Duncan, Elaine Logan, Jackie Melvin, Phil Pappalardo, Churchill High School; and Greg Hoffmann and Tim Sheets, from Plymouth Salem.

DAVID AND CHARLES Hoff of Livonia attended classes together at a two-day conference sponsored by Detroit area Jehovah's Witnesses.

Father And Son Study Together

A Livonia father and son, Charles and David Hoff, were among 20 families from Livonia and Farmington who participated in a Jehovah's Witnesses two-day teaching session in Detroit recently.

Some 900 Jehovah's Witnesses from the Detroit area attended the meetings. David handled one of the program parts and gave a seven-minute talk on missionary work in the Argentine in the model ministry school.

The program was titled "Using Our Bible - Trained Conscience to Make Right Decisions."

David commented: "Some people my age, I guess of practically any age, seem to feel that learning about divine law and principles and trying to live by them would restrict their personal freedom."

"But I believe that if I'm going to make wise decisions in life, it only makes sense to tune my conscience to Christian principles."

"These principles are a safeguard, but also allow great personal freedom with reasonable boundaries. And, as my dad says, 'The horizon of benefits is endless'."

Reviewing another part of the program, Charles Hoff observed:

"It's so easy to think we don't need personal direction from anyone outside ourselves. But I liked the proverb quoted by one of the speakers, 'Before a crash, the heart of a man is lofty, and before glory, there is humility.' To place overconfidence in yourself, whether you are a parent or a teenager, would be inviting disappointment, or a crash."

"A lot of today's problems can be so much easier to handle when approached with a mild-tempered attitude."

"For example, a family functions more smoothly when each person's ideas are given sincere thought. I really enjoy doing things with my children, whether it be some form of sports or something more serious, such as the convention we are all attending together."

Other members of the family are Mrs. Dorothea Hoff, Danny, 13; Chuckie, 6; and Luwetta, 5.

Both Hoff and his son are enrolled in the weekly ministry school sponsored by the Farmington Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses.

United Assembly To Get Certificate

The United Assembly of God, 42021 Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, will receive its official certificate of affiliation with the General Council of Assemblies of God on Sunday, June 10.

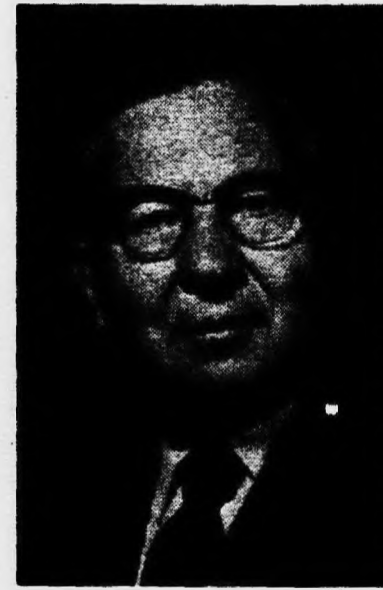

The Rev. Parvin C. Lee, Michigan district superintendent, will present the certificate to the congregation that came into being when the Parkdale Assembly of God and the Plymouth Assembly of God merged earlier this year.

The certificate shows that the United Assembly is registered under that name with the denomination's world-wide headquarters in Springfield, Mo.

Rev. Lee also will present to the youth of the congregation a missionary award plaque in honor of a contribution of $1,300 given to the national Speed-the-Light fund.

Fifteen persons will be received into the new merged congregation as charter members.

At 7 p.m., the congregation will join with the Livonia Assembly of God and its pastor, the Rev. Ken Wallace, for a water baptismal service.

St. Vincent Society Seeks Help

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul has sent out appeals this month to all its friends for donations to support Camps Ozanam and Stapleton.

This year marks the 51st year the society has offered free two-week camping periods to underprivileged boys and girls. The camps are located north of Lexington, Mich.

Ruben Queen, president of the Livonia Particular Council, reports the objective of the current campaign is to raise $153,000 to send 1,750 children to camp. The cost for each camper runs around $5 a day, or $70 for the two weeks.

All parish councils and organizations in the Detroit area will designate Sunday, June 24, as St. Vincent de Paul Summer Camp Sunday. However, the society needs additional help from the general public. Donations may be mailed to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul Camp Fund, 2629 Lenox, Detroit, 48215. They are tax deductible.

Haut Heads Timothy Board

Members of the administrative board of the new Church Council of Timothy American Lutheran Church, 8820 Wayne Road, Livonia, will be installed at the 11 a.m. worship service Trinity Sunday, June 17.

They are Glenn Haut, president; William Billings, vice-president; Gloria Kessler, secretary; John Shepherd, treasurer; Jack Frazier, trustee; and Del Wilbert and Stan Arnold, deacons.

The board was elected last month. It will have responsibility of appointing seven members to the program board. This will complete the makeup of the council until the next election is held, in December 1974.

The church is celebrating the feast of Pentecost, sometimes known as Whitsunday, on June 10. This marks the coming of the Holy Spirit to the small band of apostles gathered in Jerusalem on the first Pentecost, and is the date on which the Christian church celebrates its beginnings.

Livonians Confirmed

Seven young Livonians were confirmed in services Tuesday, June 5 in Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake Road, Pontiac.

Religion Update

REV. KINGSOLVING

After bands of African guerrillas had killed two land inspectors and wounded a farmer and his two daughters in a rocket attack on a farmhouse in Rhodesia, Prime Minister Ian Smith broadcast over Salisbury radio:

"Behind the rockets that were fired in the night, behind the land mines and the other weapons, stands the money from the World Council of Churches (WCC)."

Not so at all, contends the WCC's ranking executive, General Secretary Philip Potter of Geneva. For even though Dr. Potter will admit that WCC has never investigated to learn what the African guerrillas actually did with $200,000 in gifts from the WCC, "We know it wasn't used for arms," he claims.

How does he know? "We know because we trust them," he replied, piously.

The day before he made this statement at a San Francisco press conference, Dr. Potter told an audience of seminarians and faculty across the bay in Berkeley:

"The role of theology is to be an agent of change - with a refusal to be caught by what is... Revolution and violence are admittedly dangerous. But didn't Easter bring the promise of revolution? Or is theology the sophisticated servant of the status quo?"

Dr. Potter provided much the same type of fiery challenge that evening - but to a crowd of 400, which was shockingly slim in comparison to audiences of five times that number which the Northern California Council of Churches was able to attract less than a decade ago, for any national or international ecumenical leader.

The following morning, during his press conference, Dr. Potter was asked just how he had managed to be a "revolutionary agent of change" during the four years he was pastor of a Methodist Church in Haiti. More specifically, he was asked how he had been able to do this and still remain unjailed and unshot.

Dr. Potter immediately flashed the giant and lusty smile with which he very effectively punctuates his forceful preaching. But the substance of his answer hardly sounded prophetic.

Rather, it sounded as if he had been instantly converted by a conservative "Salvation-Not-Sociology" Jesus Freak:

"I taught the Gospels, with stories I told so that the people could get what I meant. There was a mild form of police state and no free speech."

"When you are in a totalitarian state - and I was not a native Haitian - there are all sorts of devious means to preach the Gospel. One has to be cunning!"

This extraordinary ability to effect instant change, such as from "revolutionary agent for social change" to "cunning pastor," was further apparent when Dr. Potter was asked about his statement that the WCC "is challenging the discrimination against Indians in Brazil and other places."

Does "other places" include Uganda, where (East) Indians and other Asians have not merely been discriminated against, but have been deported by the thousands?

"The issue of Indians in Uganda is totally different!" cried Dr. Potter, now notably peevish, (about what he grumbled were "Unchristian questions.") For this massive and brutal deportation, which is far more drastic than anything in what Dr. Potter calls "fascist South Africa," was done by order of Uganda's unquestionably fascist dictator, Maj. Gen. Idi Amin ("Big Daddy") Dada - who is not white.

"The Ugandan Indians were a privileged people!" So spoke Philip Potter, whose present salary and past ability to obtain enough education for a doctorate makes him one of the world's most privileged West Indians.

And even though he is so "largely in control" of the multimillion dollar machinery of the WCC headquarters in Geneva, it is safe to presume that the Swiss will not run him out of the country because he is "not indigenous."

ROBERT C. (DOC) WHITE, magician who is athletic trainer at Wayne State University and president of the Michigan Christian Athletes, will be guest speaker for the Grand River Baptist Church father-son banquet at 6:30 p.m. Friday, June 15. White has traveled with WSU teams in international competition, served as a trainer for U.S. teams in the 1968 Olympics and worked with the Detroit Lions and Detroit Pistons. Reservations for the banquet may be made by calling the church, 34650 Six Mile, Livonia.

Schoolcraft Candidates Agree On Voc. Ed. Aid

By KATHY MORAN

The similarities more than the differences between candidates for the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees were apparent during a candidates night Wednesday.

Seven of the 10 candidates in the June 11 election attended the forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters. One candidate, Richard Buerk, was unable to attend but sent a representative.

Three persons will be elected from a field of eight to six-year terms on the board. One will be elected from a field of two for a two-year term.

Running for six-year terms are incumbents Paul Kadish and Nancie Blatt, both of Livonia, as well as Dr. Gerald Cox of Garden City, Buerk of Westland, Noel Little of Northville, James Higgins of Livonia, Gerald Lunden of Livonia and Alfred Ringsred of Plymouth. Neither Higgins nor Lunden attended the forum.

Mark McQuesten and Ronald Cowden, both of Livonia, are competing for the two-year term.

The candidates were given two minutes for a brief presentation and were asked two questions.

They were asked if Schoolcraft should work with local school districts in developing vocational and career programs. All agreed.

They also were in agreement on a second question on whether students and staff should be solely responsible for electing a board to run their college. All candidates opposed this proposal.

McQuesten, a former Schoolcraft student who currently manages the Livonia office of Associated Group Underwriters, stressed his experience in student leadership positions at the college.

"It gave me some knowledge of how the community college operates and how the students at the community college operate."

Cowden said his position as student activities director at Bentley High School gives him an opportunity to work with Schoolcraft officials and a direct interest in the programs it offers.

"People are not aware of what Schoolcraft offers to this community," he said.

Mrs. Blatt, a substitute teacher who was appointed to the board in January, said the college is an alternative "at a low cost" to four-year institutions and offers community service and career education programs which are needed.

"Since I was appointed to the board, I have had both the pleasure and the thrill to be associated with this very unique organization."

Buerk was represented by his brother, Phil, who said they "both feel Richard has very much that he can bring to Schoolcraft College."

Buerk is assistant principal of Stevenson Junior High in Westland.

Currently a business teacher at Kettering High School in Detroit, Dr. Cox said that if he is elected he would assess the "effectiveness of the administrative staff" and determine if the curriculum advisory groups are functioning properly.

Dr. Cox emphasized that "I support Dr. (C. Nelson) Grote all the way." Grote is Schoolcraft's president.

Incumbent Kadish, currently board treasurer and delegate to the Michigan Community College Association, said "Schoolcraft is great and the community college system in Michigan can be great."

"Community colleges are going to be THE institutions," he said, noting that Schoolcraft has outstanding programs for high school graduates and local citizens.

Miss Little, a former student and insurance adjuster, said she "can relate to the students because I have some knowledge of their problems; I can relate to the board members and relate to the faculty and administrators."

She would like to start an orientation program for residents in the community so they can see where Schoolcraft is located and what it has to offer.

Ringsred, also a former student and former systems analyst, said the college has a "disruptive attitude which prevents it from doing the best possible job it can."

"The board should take on the responsibility to eliminate that attitude so we can produce a community college which is a model in the state."

Guided Nature Real Estate Walks Planned Salesman For 2 Parks Course Set

Special guided nature walks will be held starting at the Nature Centers of Stony Creek Metropark near Utica, and Kensington Metropark near Milford, on Sunday, June 10 at 8 a.m.

Thomas H. Smith, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, pointed out that these walks are for the general public to help acquaint area citizens with a better understanding of the natural world around them.

He also advises persons to wear sturdy shoes that will keep their feet dry. Walks will last from 1½ to two hours, and park naturalists will explain features of the area. Persons who have binoculars and a hand lens are advised to bring them along.

Additional details about these Sunday morning guided nature walks are available by contacting the Stony Creek Metropark Nature Center of the Kensington Metropark Nature Center.

Turf Tips, Quilps

By Doc Minard

If you were one of those who attended last Saturday's program at Wolverine Raceway and thought you had viewed one of the best cards ever presented in Michigan ... then you better plan on being present (tonight) Saturday.

The program makes last week's presentation look like amateur night at the theater. Racing Secretary Bill Connors found himself with so many top horses that he divided the card into a $12,500 invitational and a series of preferred events. It is all geared to bring all the best to the attention of fans and Connors has achieved just that.

A week ago, Connors matched three sophomores against three four-year-olds and the result was just about the finest race ever presented in Michigan.

Tonight, Connors has matched three-year-olds against the year older competition again and then dropped some to the preferred class. The result is no less than four races that could well bring four clockings of less than 2:00.

If that happens, and it well could, then the big mile track will become the first in the Midwest to record so many fast races.

The invitational has a field of 10 in which Jr. R. Skipper, the brilliant sophomore from the J. Russell Miller stable of Dutton, Ontario, will try to shake the slump that has marked performances in his last two starts here.

The Skipper was fourth last Saturday but he's topped this time and could well take it all. He was finished in 1:59 a week ago, finishing behind Racing Knight (1:58.4), Keystone Pebble (1:58.4) and Easy Irv (1:59).

So, take a look at his competition this time and you'll note Keystone Pebble, winner of the $100,000 Realization at Roosevelt Raceway three weeks back, and Easy Irv are in the field.

Added to the list of challengers is none other than Jay Time, the great four-year-old from the Gene Riegle stable making its debut at Wolverine.

Then there are: Blue Fireball, Mighty Fire, who won the second Invitational a week ago, in 2:00.2; Windy Way, with a clocking of 1:57.4 during the recent west coast meet at Los Alamitos; Bramble Hall, Fast Clip and Goodbye Columbus.

Matched in the $8,500 preferred are Bret Over Again, one of the nation's best sophomores; Creeder Linbo, the four-year-old owned by Joe Sacco of Southfield who won his debut a week ago in 2:00.3; Shaway Lad, Dashing Dancer and Tricky Dale.

In the $8,000 preferred are: Local Time, Prince Knox, Banner Ranger and Key Creed to mention a few of the starters.

The $7,500 preferred lists: True Temper, Track Master, Adios Rick, Shiaswassee Squire and Garcon Roux.

These are only the high points of a program that could draw the largest Saturday audience of the season and also send the handle soaring past a million for the sixth week in a row.

On the other side of town, Hazel Park will present the $25,000 added Michigan Breeder stakes with a full complement of 10 going post-ward.

In the featured roles are: Tattle Mar, the four-year-old filly who upset an excellent field a month ago, including The Cutter, from the Redbob Farm.

The Cutter was a nose victor a week ago in the Larkspur Handicap and appears back in the form that made him a $100,000 winner in 1972.

Others eligible include: Dittoland, Classic Brandy, Ace Commander, Top Voltage, Lucky Nine, Play Fashion, Sing Gold and Cedar Siding.

U-M Dentists Invent Plastic Mouthguards

ANN ARBOR Your son won't have to take a chance on a toothless grin if he participates in rugged, collision sports.

All he has to do is slip a lightweight piece of plastic over his upper teeth, say dentists at the University of Michigan, reporting on the results of studies they have done on the efficacy of modern mouthguards.

They really work. In fact, they are so effective the U-M dentists can practically guarantee in most instances that your son can survive literally years of collision sports such as amateur football, hockey, soccer, basketball or boxing and still keep his smile intact.

The major reason is the evolution of the mouthguard. It has been adapted from a block of hard wax or rubber clamped between the teeth to a transparent, energy-absorbing covering which fits comfortably over the upper teeth.

Faculty members at the U-M School of Dentistry say these new mouthguards not only protect the upper and lower teeth, but also prevent concussions by stopping the transmission of force through the jaw and skull.

The new generation mouthguards are barely noticeable when worn, allow the athlete to talk or take a drink of water and yet they will not fly out at the first hard jolt.

The devices work because the custom-fitted plastic covering both absorbs energy and spreads the impact of a blow over the upper teeth and jawbone. The guard also cushions contact between the upper and lower teeth. For this reason they are sometimes prescribed for patients who grind their teeth while sleeping.

The U-M dentists began several years ago to evaluate the various types of commercial mouthguards available, to both judge their effectiveness and to see if they could be improved upon. Participating in the research were Drs. William C. Godwin, Robert G. Craig, and Brian R. Lang with the aid of dentists in the Ann Arbor area, dental students and U-M athletic department officials.

The research, described by Dr. Godwin as the most extensive clinical investigation of mouth protectors in the United States, has covered several seasons of various sports, more than 1,000 athletes and many more thousands of mouthguards.

The U-M dentists tested, in the laboratory and on the playing fields, more than a dozen commercially-sold mouthguards plus making their own custom-fitted versions out of a variety of plastic materials.

The various mouthguards, mounted on casts of upper teeth, were battered by 3/4-inch steel ball bearings fastened to a pendulum.

They also were scientifically stretched, torn, squeezed, and ripped as well as worn and chewed by athletes from grade school through college varsity sports.

The results, according to Dr. Godwin, are that most of the commercial mouthguards given significant protection, some more than others, but any mouthguard is better than none.

The U-M dentists also came up with a mouthguard of their own design which they believe combines the best energy-absorbing and impact-spreading properties.

Some of the commercially made mouthpieces, sold to parents or coaches, require some expertise in forming plastic or waxes, plus sometimes time-consuming baking or boiling to cure the device.

Dr. Godwin said that literally anyone can vacuum-form the U-M type mouthguard once a cast of the upper teeth is obtained. The recommended equipment, devised by the dentists, is a tank-type vacuum cleaner attached to an old fashioned wide-surface shower head.

The cast costs about $3 in materials, and most private dentists Dr. Godwin has worked with are willing to donate their time to make the casts. Once the cast is obtained it is kept on file in the athletic department office.

To replace mouthguards worn out or lost during the season requires an 80-cent, five-inch square of polyvinylacetate plastic, which is softened in boiling water, dropped over the teeth cast on top of the shower head, and vacuum-formed instantly.

After cooling a couple of minutes, the guard is trimmed to a horseshoe shape and is ready to slip over the teeth. The process takes about seven minutes from start to finish and can be done by coaches, assistants, managers or cheerleaders, Dr. Godwin said.

The U-M mouthguards are worn by most U-M varsity squad players in contact sports as well as by players in the Ann Arbor public schools.

Dr. Godwin and his associates hope to make the use of some kind of mouthguard universal in all contact sports and are working through national athletic associations to make wearing of the guards mandatory at sanctioned events.

Edsel Ford Tips Rocks; RU Settles For 2nd

Redford Union's winning and hoping days are over.

The Suburban Eight defending champions found their '73 baseball campaign changed into a "must win and hope that Edsel Ford loses" situation.

RU had a shot at the title if Edsel Ford dropped its final three games and RU won its last three.

With two games remaining, RU held up its end of the bargain with a 3-2 victory over Dearborn. However, Edsel Ford's 2-0 league championship triumph over Plymouth decided the season.

Edsel Ford finished 11-2 with RU next best at 9-4. The four league defeats for RU came at the hands of Plymouth, 3-1; Dearborn, 4-3; Belleville, 4-2; and Allen Park, 3-2.

RU was the only Suburban Eight team to upend champion Edsel Ford.

The Panthers finished 23-9 overall for '73.

Tom Nippa closed out his RU pitching career with the 3-2 win over Dearborn.

The senior lefthander hurled a two-hitter, walked six and struck out 11 to finish 10-2 on the year and 15-3 in a two-year Panther span.

Nippa hurled 73 innings for Bob Atkins' crew this season.

gave up 43 hits, 17 earned runs for a 1.63 earned run average, struck out 91 but walked 54.

Taking the final setback for Dearborn was Dave Kopal, allowing six hits, walking three and striking out five.

Dearborn broke loose for two runs in the second. Joe Mayo was safe on an error and Bob Theisen was safe on a fielder's choice with Mayo safe on second.

Suburban Eight

Nippa then picked Mayo off second but a passed ball allowed Theisen to move up to second.

Bob Knoop followed with a run scoring single and after two outs, Craig Sheffely walked and Kopal was awarded first on a catcher's interference call.

Nippa then lost Mark Paulausky to force in Knoop with the second tally.

RU came back in the third when, after one out, Tom Utch singled. Nippa went down on strikes, but Mike Kalil singled Utch to third and stole second himself.

Gary Fulk delivered a double to right center and Utch and Kalil scampered in to tie things up.

The deciding run came in the seventh when Bravo walked, stole second, moved around to third on an infield out and dashed in on a suicide squeeze by Nippa.

Atkins must have had visions of the Garden City East loss in the bottom of the seventh.

It was only two days prior that RU lost the district title to East on a bases loaded walk in the last of the 10th and it had all the signs again in the Dearborn battle.

Nippa retired the first two Dearborn batters on strikes but then proceeded to walk two.

Keith Begin then laced a shot down the third base line that was stabbed by Steve Friedman. A throw to first was dug out of the dirt by Mark Yourchuck and the RU had its victory.

Meanwhile, Plymouth was dropping its finale to Edsel Ford to decide the league title.

Plymouth outlit Ford, five to four, but the Rocks couldn't put the hits together.

Edsel Ford tallied once in the fourth. With one out, Gary Dorosh was safe on an infield hit when nobody covered first on a grounder to Tony Rossi at second.

Mike Burke forced Dorosh at second and moved up himself when the toss to first sailed into the dugout.

Greg Gomolak followed with a grounder to Rock third baseman Jeff Waller that was bobbled and thrown away, with Burke scoring.

Plymouth's lone scoring opportunity came in the last of the fourth. With one out, Robb Willette and Ron Egloff both singled with Willette stopping at second. Jim Szilagyi then struck out attempting to bunt.

John Chiatatas delivered a base hit up the middle, but Willette held up at third. When the ball skipped past the catcher, Willette broke toward home and the pitcher.

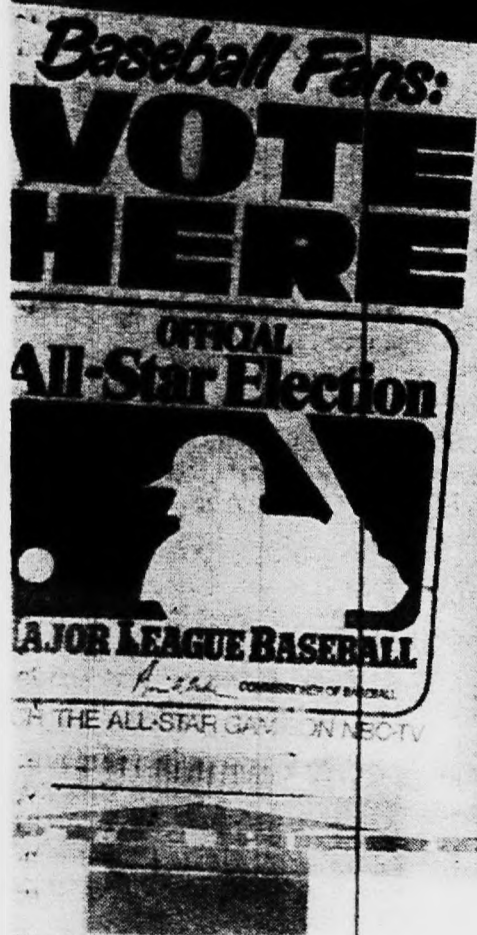

who was backing up the play, tossed him out and the Rocks were halted.

Edsel Ford scored its insurance run in the seventh on a single by Gomolak, a sacrifice by Jim Cameron and a two-bagger by Randy Owen.

Plymouth finished 6-6 in the Suburban Eight for a share of third place and 7-15 overall.

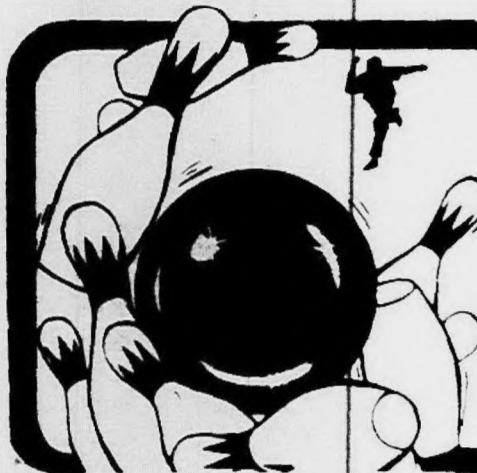

Steve Robb went all the way for loss, giving up four hits, one earned run, struck out two and walked one.

Owen chalked up the victory for Ford, allowing five hits, walking one and striking out 11.

IT'S ALL-STAR VOTING TIME -Detroit Tiger star outfielder Mickey Stanley and Miss Gail Garneau (72 Homecoming Queen of Churchill High in Livonia) urge everyone to cast their ballots which may be picked up and cast in the main lobby of the Observer Newspapers. (Observer photo by Tom Donoghue)

IN THE POCKET

By W.W. EDGAR

Jay Dishong, one of Observerland's top bowlers, is looking forward to the biggest opportunity of his bowling career - bowling for the world championship.

By finishing in sixth place in the all-events in the recent ABC tournament at Syracuse, N.Y., he qualified to compete in the U.S. Trials for the Federation International Tournament in July.

He will be one of 30 in the field and the nine leaders will move on to Bogota, Colombia, South America, for the championship struggle.

To gain his sixth in the all-events, Jay fired a nine-game count of 1953 and marked the highlight of his career to date. But this only whet his appetite for competition in the world tournament.

The growth of classic leagues in the suburbs is having its effect on the top major leagues in the metropolitan area.

These circuits are in trouble and unless there is a change before the fall season opens there is likelihood that the All-Star Classic, one of the oldest, may be short of its 12 teams.

Thus far, three teams - Goebel, Coke and Pants Galore - have lost their sponsors - and only two newcomers have come along to take their places.

The passing of the "Coke" team removes one of original sponsors when the league was organized 38 years ago.

Over all that time the team has had only three captains. The late Henry Ehrle piloted the team for years before turning it over to Steve Cruchon, who later gave way to Tom McKay, secretary of the Greater Detroit Bowling Association.

And the passing of the Goebel team leaves Johnny Ruggerio, former captain of the Stroh team, without an affiliation for the first time in years.

"I'd like to bowl about two more years," he says, "but at the moment I just don't know what team will have me."

Penny McClain, the rising young star, just keeps rolling along.

Not satisfied with topping the averages in the Ladies Major League, she now is blasting the pins at a great rate in the All-Star Summer Doubles at Garden Lanes.

Her contribution this week was a 702 series, gained on games of 244, 247 and 217.

Meanwhile, her husband, Fred, is basking in the spotlight, too, as the winner of the all-events title in the Detroit men's city tournament with an 1883 count.

Plymouth Township will host its first national tournament next January when the Elks Lodges from across the country send their best teams here to bid for national titles.

More than 700 teams are expected and the bowling will be divided between Plymouth Bowl and The Plaza Bowl, now under construction on Ann Arbor Road.

Jerry Lindley and Jim Schwartz are setting a torrid pace in the summer doubles at Wonderland Lanes.

This is a two-game, match game competition, and this pair tops all areas in scoring. Jerry and Jimmy are averaging 400 as a team and have a two game total of 915. For this big count they linked games of 465 and 450.

A 19-year-old lad from the Redford House League--Vicky Aird-- set tongues wagging in the Champion of Champions tournament at Holiday Bowl in Dearborn when he fired a 632 on games of 232, 223, and 177.

He now is carrying a 165 average and bowling in three leagues, with the Redford House League as the top circuit.

Monte Onzca, the dynamo behind the American Motors Tournament at Westland Bowl, has reason to be all smiles. His team is leading the way with a 3135 count.

Farmington Offering Summer Swimming

Farmington public schools are offering a summer swimming program to be held at all three high schools, Farmington, Harrison and North Farmington.

Registration for the site you wish to attend must be done on Saturday, June 9 between 9 a.m. and noon.

Instructional swimming

will be offered in two-week sessions.

Sessions will go from June 18-29; July 9-20; July 23 to Aug. 3; and Aug. 6-17.

Levels one through five will go from 9 to 11:55 a.m., with levels six through 10 ranging from noon to 12:55 p.m.

Recreational swimming for students and adults is Monday through Friday from 1-3 p.m., and Monday through Thursday, 6:30-9 p.m.

Residents of the school district will be given registration priority for the instructional swimming program. The minimum height requirement is that the chin must measure 38 inches from the floor.

Suits and towels must be furnished by participants and anyone with long hair must wear a bathing cap. Open swimming requires that all children below the height of 38 inches must be accompanied by a parent.

All-Star Ballots Ready To Be Cast

A half-million ballots! That's a lot of votes--but that's the number ready for Detroit Tiger fans to cast in the All-Star game election.

The ballots are available now at Tiger Stadium, with others also to be picked up at retail stores handling Gillette products until the voting period ends July 8. More than 20 million computerized cards were printed for this election to pick the starting players in the 40th All-Star game, to be played in Kansas City's new stadium July 24.

Eight Tigers' names are on the ballot--Ed Brinkman, Norm Cash, Bill Freehan, Willie Horton, Al Kaline, Jim Northrup, Aurelio Rodriguez and Mickey Stanley. How many of them land starting positions in the All-Star game depends on how many of their fans care enough to cast their votes before the deadline.

Ballots can be picked up at concession stands at Tiger Stadium. They also are distributed to fans during games by members of Tiger fan clubs. Others will be sent far and wide by various means to create the widest possible voting pattern.

Eight players at each position (24 outfielders in a group) appear on the ballot. There is also write-in space for other favorites. Pitchers will be selected by the American and National League managers.

Four of the Tigers on the ballot have been on previous All-Star squads--Cash four times, Freehan nine, and Kaline 14. So have five other Tiger players--Frank Howard four, Mickey Lolich one, Dick McAuliffe three, Jim Perry three and Tony Taylor one.

Reunion Adds Its Joy To 60th Anniversary

By MARGARET MILLER

Mrs. Marianna DiCicco is a busy lady these days. She's getting ready for a 60th wedding anniversary celebration with her husband Loreto, in their Farmington home.

She's working between showers to plant her annual garden.

And she's catching up on 60 years of memories with her sister, Antonia Persichini, who came from Italy for the anniversary festivities.

Marianna and Loreto DiCicco were married on June 13, 1913, in St. Michale Catholic Church in the town of Valleluce, Italy.

They sailed for America just a year later and settled in Detroit, where Mr. DiCicco worked for the Ford Motor Co. for 39 years.

On their 50th anniversary, they repeated their nuptial vows in Precious Blood Catholic Church in Detroit.

A year ago they moved to Farmington to make their home with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dominic DiCicco.

In their nearly 60 years in this country, Mr. and Mrs. Loreto DiCicco never have returned to Italy. And Antonia Persichini, who raised her seven children in Valleluce, never had visited here.

So it was a happy reunion when the 83-year-old widow arrived last week to be present for the anniversary celebration, planned June 17 in the DiCicco home at 25363 Elizabeth Way.

"She says she's here for 45 days," said Mrs. Antonietta Pacitto of Farmington, her daughter-in-law. "But we hope she'll stay three months."

Mrs. Persichini speaks no English, but she's enjoying grandchildren she'd never seen before—she has 29 altogether and 13 great-grandchildren—and reminiscing in Italian with her sister and brother-in-law.

The elder Mrs. DiCicco wishes she could show her sister more of her garden. "But this has been such a bad spring I have not been able to plant," she said.

Raised on a farm in Italy, she loves planting vegetables and flowers each spring. "When I came to this country I stayed 10 years without a garden," she said. "After that a garden every year."

Soon, if the weather lets her get going, she'll be cultivating three kinds of beans, three kinds of lettuce and three kinds of squash, to say nothing of beets, carrots, endive, tomatoes, corn and Spanish and Italian onions.

She'll take time out June 17 to help her husband and son and daughter-in-law receive 50 or more friends and relatives for the anniversary celebration.

And to help her sister relive the days of long ago.

Garden Unit Plans Picnic

The Plymouth branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will hold its annual picnic at 12:30 p.m. Monday, June 11, at the home of Helen Rosbalt, 1441 Linden, Plymouth.

Mrs. Robert Erdelyi is chairman and her committee includes Mrs. Bruce Richards, Mrs. Carlton Lewis, Mrs. Chester Teasel, Mrs. Vincent Sullivan, Mrs. E.G. Ott Jr. and Mrs. Harry Starr.

Carolyn Smith Is Bride

LOUISE MATHYS

EUGENIE ROMAN

Carolyn Laura Smith and Philip Judson Gatov exchanged marriage vows in a May 11 ceremony in the First United Methodist Church of Farmington.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Smith of Valleyview Circle, Farmington. Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Nichols of Medina, Ohio, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. John N. Howell officiated, and the bride's parents gave her in marriage.

Her long, old-fashioned dress was pink-flowered dotted swiss with a square neckline, empire waist and leg-o-mutton sleeves. Her headpiece was a single gardenia with stephanotis, and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Bethany Smith, of Ann Arbor. She wore a green and pink flower print dress and carried white carnations and pink roses.

Claude A. Nichols, stepfather of the bridegroom, was best man.

The newlyweds decided to delay their honeymoon and will take a ski trip to Aspen, Colo., early next year. They are living in Livonia.

Both are graduates of the University of Michigan and employed by Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Dad's Role Differs 'Round The World

Called padre in Spanish, pere in French, otets in Russian and otosan in Japanese, Dad in different parts of the world has roles that differ even more than his many names.

In the United States, a new father struts around handing out cigars. But among the Ainu of Japan and in many African and South American tribes, the father takes to his bed right after the baby is born and stays there for periods ranging from a few days to a month! The mother, in contrast, returns to her household keeping as soon as possible.

Why? Because it's believed that the newborn child is affected by whatever its father does. If he worked, hunted, chopped down trees or rowed during the first days of its life, the baby might be dangerously weakened by all that strenuous exercise! So Dad follows the safest course--and does nothing.

"CHASTEN THY SON while there is hope," advises the Bible, "and let not thy soul spare for his crying." But in the Arapesh tribe of New Guinea, one of father's biggest jobs is to see that his offspring never cry.

Among these gentle folk, children are given almost anything they ask for, coddled and cuddled well past babyhood. Fathers as well as mothers delight in feeding the youngsters by hand slipping them the choicest morsels of food. The kids grow up, not as spoiled brats, but as replicas of their mild parents.

Can you imagine fathers not being allowed to play with their youngsters? This situation is said to be among the stern Ossete tribesmen of the Russian Caucasus.

A man who fondles his children is branded as effeminate! Displays of affection are for Mama. There is one exception: when a toddler reaches the age of four, poor old Pop is permitted to take the child by the hand when walking!

FATHER'S DAY, originated by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd in 1910, is a uniquely American institution. Mrs. Dodd, of Spokane, Washington, was determined to find a way to honor her father, William Smart, a Civil War veteran who reared six motherless children.

She wrote a letter to the Spokane Ministerial Alliance suggesting that the role of all fathers be properly recognized.

With the backing of the alliance and the Spokane Young Men's Christian Association, the third Sunday in June was set aside for sermons to be delivered saluting the fathers of that city.

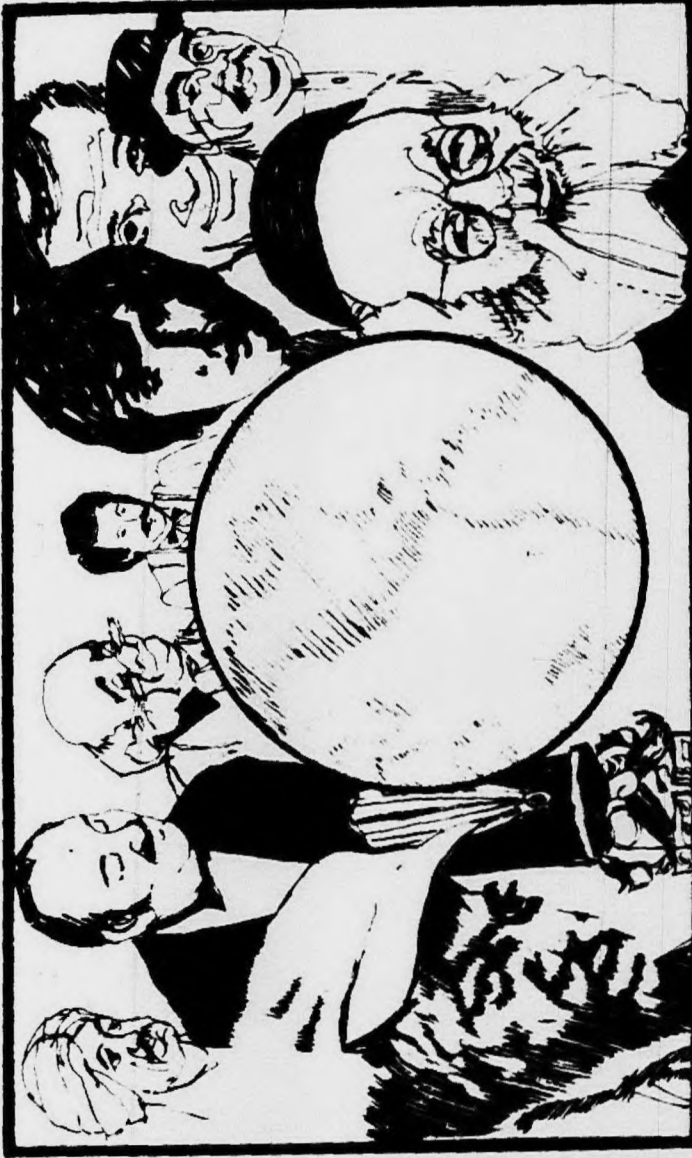

Fourteen years later, President Calvin Coolidge recommended national observance of the day, but it is only recently that Father's Day was established permanently by congressional resolution. It had been designated every year, rather than observed automatically like Mother's Day.

HOW IT BECAME PART of the calendar is an interesting story of angry battles in Congress and protest across the land. One of the most notable efforts was launched by Maine Senator Margaret Chase Smith who, in 1957, sent a proposal to Congress which read, in part:

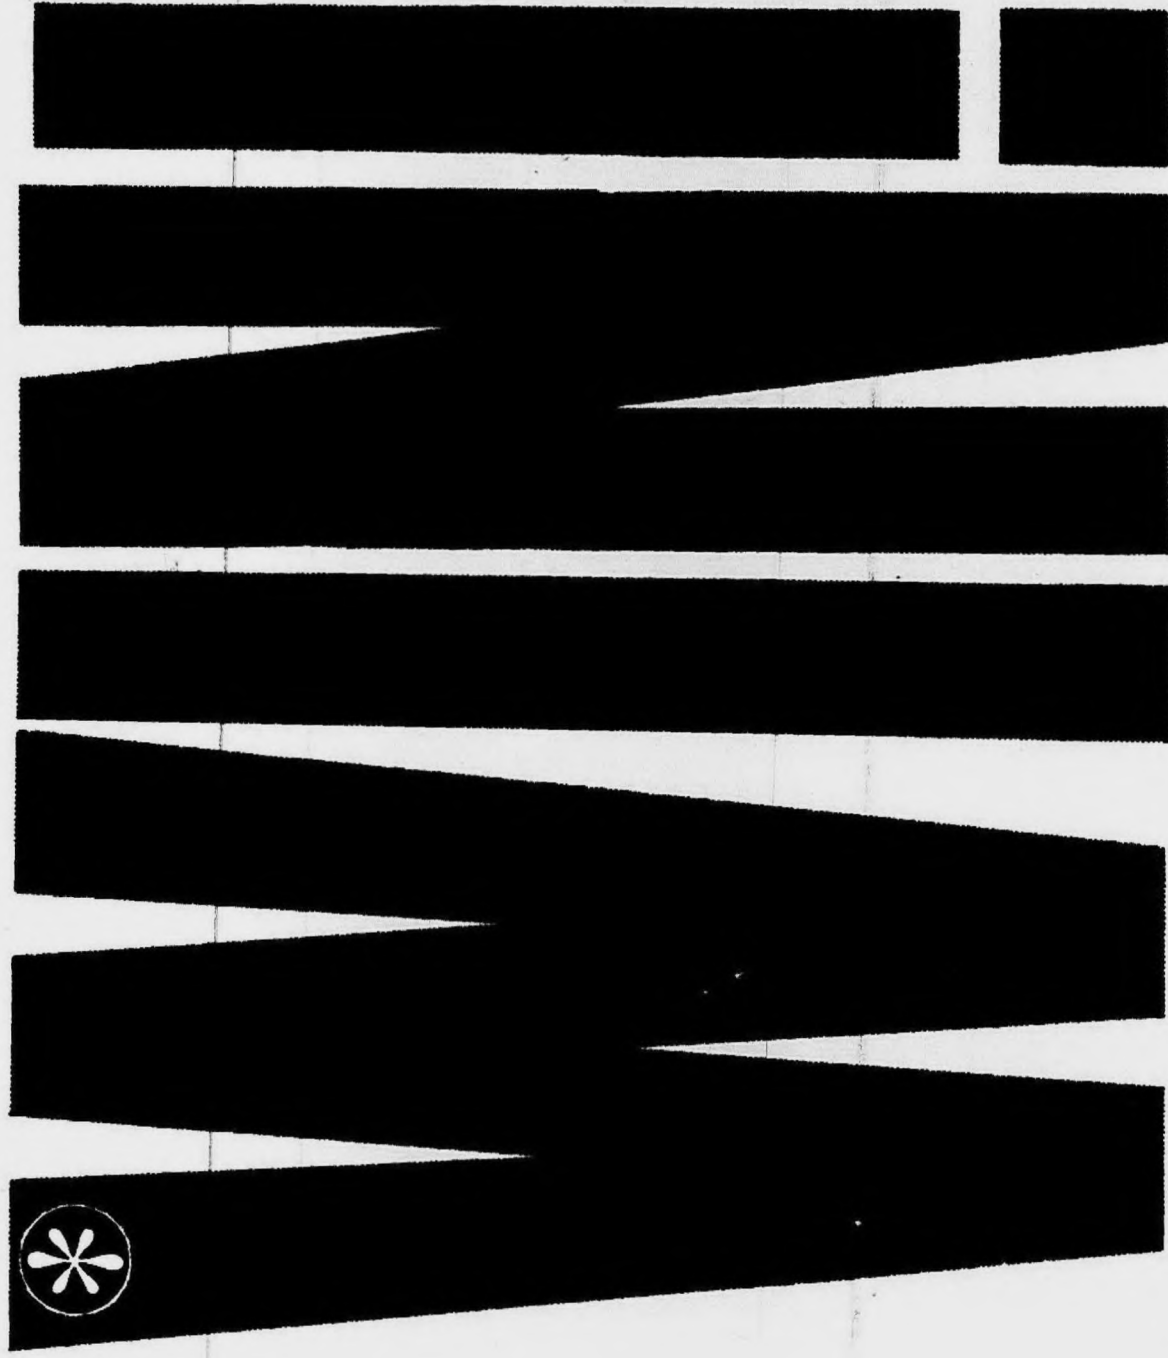

"...The Congress has been guilty now for forty years of the worst possible oversight, to say the least, perpetrated against the gallant fathers, young, and old, of our land... Either we honor both our parents, mothers and fathers, or let us desist from honoring either one... But to single out just one of our two parents and omit the other is the most grievous insult imaginable."

Whether official or unofficial, Father's Day has developed into an occasion for giving gifts and tributes to Dad, cooking up his favorite meal or taking over some of the chores which might occupy him on a normal summer Sunday.

If you have trouble deciding on a Father's Day gift, be glad at least that you don't have the problem confronting a Dinka son in Africa. The young man of the primitive tribe can give only one acceptable gift on an occasion: the skin of the first lion the young man kills.

On June 17th, more than 65,000,000 fathers will know something is up.

The house will be unnaturally quiet; there may even be breakfast on a tray waiting beside Father's bed.
The family car will miraculously be sparkling clean. And the odor of a favorite pie will come wafting from the oven. Ah, yes... it's Father's Day.

The importance of this has been underscored by a Presidential proclamation, but the entire family succeeds better than anyone else in telling Dad what a prince of a guy he is by the very special gifts they give him... gifts that may come from the jewelry store.

Just for a start, the Jewelry Industry Council lists cuff links with matching tie tacs or the wider tie slide. These can be diamond-sparked, karat gold, sterling silver or colored with semi-precious stones for the sophisticated father who wears his French cuffs for those moments that demand distinction.

Then, for a more leisurely look (and Dad is more leisurely these days) dress him for the part with snap-on button cuff decorations, cuff links with interchangeable stones to match Dad's color scheme for the day, the tie tac that lets Dad proudly display the birthstones of his children.

PRACTICAL POP will appreciate pocket accessories - key chain,
money clip, pen, initial belt buckle, monogrammed wallet. These items are classics, always in style and always ready to fill his need.

A style-changing watchband, symbolic pendants, gold and silver neck chains, a sporty belt buckle, a sterling bracelet with matching ring are obviously for the father with fashion flair. Since just about everybody's father has found his own flair

by now, don't be shy about gifting Dad's new image.

A ring can do that expertly: even a signet, birthstone or initial ring will sport a diamond for June 17th gifting. Submerged settings, black enameling, semi-precious stones like lapis flattened or checkerboarded are the exciting new styles for the modernman...Dad.

A watch is the kind of Father's Day gift that makes the occasion a family affair whether it's an elegant gold bracelet watch, a workaday automatic with its own brand of elegance, or a sports watch totalling up points for the family when Dad's at his favorite game.

HOME IS HIS CASTLE and silver is elegantly appropriate for that castle and the Dad within. A silver wine taster on a chain, wine bottle coaster, barbecue dish and carving set gift for the gourmet.

Cigarette boxes, letter opener and limited edition plates depicting everything from peace to the American Indian are particularly personal and uniquely special silver gifts.
Dad's barkeeping is something else
again with a silver ice bucket, cordial set, iced beverage tumbler, on-the-rocks cups.

A handsome pocket lighter, animal figures in crystal, porcelain or pewter, a digital clock for desk or den, and early Americana items that are especially timely as the nation's Bicentennial approaches are more beautiful jewelry gift buys for that beautiful guy you call Dad.

AN ARRAY OF GIFT IDEAS for Dad includes: a pocket computer, a lion which plays Hold That Tiger when you twist his tail, 101 and 86.8 proof bourbon, man-size crystal mugs for mint juleps, miniature slot-machine with slugs, lithograph of mountain quail and a mosquito-netted safari hat. Gifts from Abercrombie & Fitch Co., New York City.

WHAT TO GIVE?-- ALWAYS A DILEMMA

What to gift a great guy, be he father, brother, grandfather or uncle
on Father's day?

Shirts, ties, pajamas, all the necessities make fine gifts, well-appreciated by men. But in this affluent society Dad may have plenty of the basics, and often prefers to choose his own.

A little imagination is in order to think up a present which will give a hardworking man some well-earned pleasure.

Here are some suggestions which would not be hard to find in the Observerland area.

Is Dad a hunting, fishing or sailing enthusiast? How about a finely framed color print of game birds or fish to decorate the den and gladden his eye when his sport is out of season. Or a sturdy visor cap for fishing.

THERE'S A NEW and jaunty safari hat available that comes with mosquito netting which can be let down to protect the face; great for camping, fishing or fossil hunting.

Books are always welcome and there are many brand new ones on sailing, sports cars, antiques, golf, astronomy, just about anything a man could be interested in. The steep price of some of these beautifully illustrated tomes is worth the happy smile on his face at receiving something he wouldn't quite bring himself to buy for himself.

The finest whiskey is another thing Dad may covet. Or if Dad is a brandy lover, get him some. It has prestige-appeal too.

FUN GIFTS like a small pinball machine with all the lights and bells, a mindbender puzzle, a twist-the-lion's tail music box for his desk, a mechanical card shuffler, or a real French chef's bonnet and apron for the Dad who cooks can also make a great hit.

On the serious side he might also like a good camera or some special lenses for the camera he already owns (but take along someone who knows cameras when you shop). A pocket computer will make check-book and tax time easier; a tiny T.V.
will free him from having to watch
what's on the family set.

If your man is a real fashion plate,
the latest thing in Europe and New York is to wear a small chain and medallion under the shirt collar but over the tie, just below the knot, a very smart and dressy look. His Zodiac sign in gold would be just the thing.

Bloomsday Celebration Blossoms On Day Preceding Father's Day

Father's Day this year falls on June 17. But fathers could have reason for celebration one day earlier, because of Leopold Bloom, father-figure to Stephen Dedalus in James Joyce's epic novel, "Ulysses."

The book is the chronicle of a day--June 16, 1904--on which the fictional Mr. Bloom walked the streets and visited the pubs of Dublin.

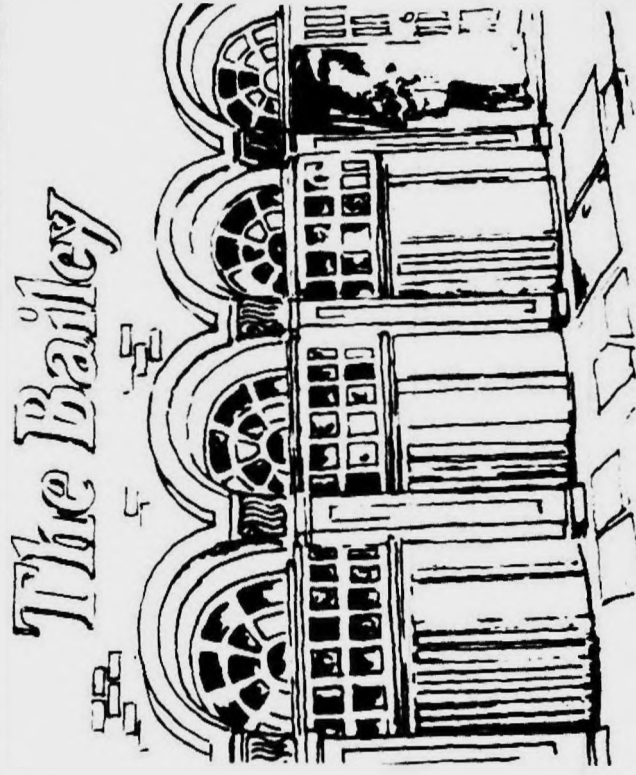

In 1924, ten years after the publication of the book, Joyce wrote from Paris: "There is a group of people who observe what they call Bloom's Day--16 June. They sent me hortensias, white and blue, dyed."

And Bloomsday still is celebrated--not so much with hortensias, but often with Irish whiskey--by admirers of Joyce's masterpiece. In Ireland the literary cognoscente visit the pubs, reverently sipping the native Irish, out of respect for what is generally considered to be the most important of modern novels.

BLOOM'S PREDILECTION for "thick giblet soup, nutty glizzards, liver slices fried with crust crumbs..." was very much in the Irish tradition, dating back more than 800 years, when Irish, the original whiskey, was invented.

In the days of the High Kings of Ireland, at the time of festival, ritual offerings of food would be made by the Druids. According to ancient Gaelic manuscripts, one favorite probably would have been Bloom's mouth water: stuffed oxen. A young ox stuffed with small game--rabbit, pheasant, duck--was roasted on a spit over a great fire. The game stuffing then was served to the kings, and the oxmeat to the lesser warriors.

Stuffed ox has not been a popular dish in Ireland for centuries but for Bloomsday, or any other day, you might want to prepare a more modern Gaelic Sirloin Steak, a recipe that owes much of its distinctive zest to the liberal use of Irish whiskey. Any one of the four Republic of Ireland whiskeys available in the U.S.--Jameson, Paddy, Power's or Tullamore Dew--will do the trick.

So why might fathers be grateful to Bloom? Well, it may not be as well-known as Father's Day, but Bloomsday provides a good excuse to honor Dad a day early, and have a celebration too. Among Joyce devotees the world over there will be reading from "Ulysses," scholarly discussion, and thoughtful sipping of Irish whiskey in mixed drinks, in highballs, or on the rocks with a splash--which is the way the connoisseurs seem to like it.

SINCE BLOOMSDAY OCCURS the day before Father's Day this year, you can get a start on the festivities by presenting Dad with a bottle of Irish whiskey a day earlier.

He'll say: "What's this for?" And you can answer, archly: "Bloomsday, of course."

You might even quote him Joyce's own tribute to the native spirit. The line about "the light music of whiskey, falling into glasses."

And he may be so pleased with the bottle of Irish--and the fact that you've discovered a new holiday for him--that he won't care what sort of necktie you give him the following day.

BLOOMSDAY RECIPE

Gaelic Sirloin Steak

- 2 sirloin (8 oz.) steaks
- 4 oz. mushrooms
- 2 oz. onions
- 1/2 glass Irish whiskey
- 1/4 pt. cream
- 1/4 pt. brown sauce
- 2 oz. butter
- 1 teaspoon French mustard
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- dash of Tabasco
- 1 teaspoon chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon chopped parsley salt
- pepper

Beat steaks out very thinly Put the butter in a pan and allow it to get hot. Season steaks with salt and pepper, place them on pan and cook one minute. Turn steaks and continue cooking another minute.

Add onions and mushrooms, finely sliced, and cook 30 seconds. Pour in Irish whiskey and set alight. Remove steaks and keep them hot.

To the pan, add brown sauce, French mustard, Tabasco, Worcestershire sauce, and cream. Bring to a boil and reduce sauce by half. Season with salt and pepper, sprinkle with chopped parsley and pour over steaks.

Every Man Wants A Den Of His Own

A man's home may be his castle, but traditionally, good old Dad is the member of the family who has least chance to take advantage of his royal retreat.

He's also the one who seldom has a spot to call his own. With the living room decked in French provincial and pastels, and the family room filled with bean bags and stereo sound sets, Dad is often left dangling in between in search of a comfortable place to relax after a hard day.

FOR LEGIONS OF DISPLACED FATHERS, the quest for a masculine haven is more than an idle pipe dream.

Although an added den or a Swedish sauna would soothe the woes of any wandering wage-earner, so would a private corner set aside for relaxation and reading...

Any room that is not used full-time--for instance a little-used guest room--suggests itself for a little masculine tailoring. By bringing in a comfortable chair, a desk and reading lamp, a fatherly fortress is automatically created.

CARRYING THE LOVING CARE a little further, a Father's Day gift of a luxurious wing chair or a massive English desk would be enough to stop any paternal nomad in his tracks.

In planning the perfect gift for the man of the house, it's essential to consider his own personal cravings. Is he dreaming of a private place for peace and quiet, a spot for work, or a hide-away for hobbying?

A careful assessment of gift ideas and a few minor make-overs in time for Father's Day could convince Dad that he's king of the pad after all--and not just for a day.

A PERKY BOW TIE is the perfect touch to complete this imaginative outfit. Whether it is a ready-tied or do-it-yourself bow is anybody's guess.

Can You Tie It In A Knot, Can You Tie It In A Bow?

This year, why not give a twist to the necktie, that old Father's Day gift standby?

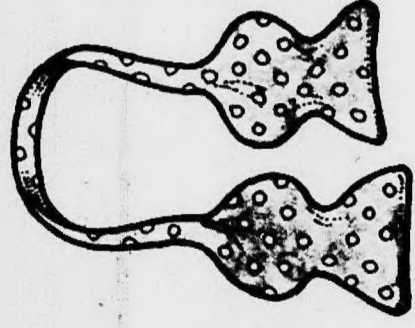

Instead of the usual long version, make it a youthful bow tie and Dad should be absolutely delighted. Bow ties are one of the season's fastest growing men's wear items.

SHADES OF THE Great Gatsby era, well dressed men of all ages are finding them just the right touch for both business and leisure activities.

So why not get Dad started on

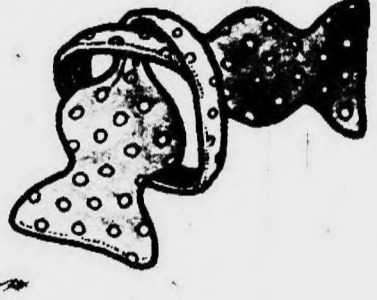

IT'S NOT REALLY difficult to tie a bow tie, they continue. At one recent dinner party, a male guest spent half an hour attempting to instruct his host in the correct tying techniques.

If you have a half hour to spend, more or less, these illustrations should help you, your husband or father, whichever is most fit to be tied.

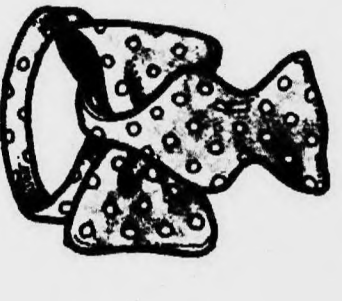

1 (Follow as if you were looking in a mirror.) The beginning is easy—put the tie around your neck. Make sure one end is shorter than the other.

2 Cross the longer end over then under the shorter, through the loop.

3 If you're still with us, double the short end to form the base.

5 Fold the long end back on itself and bring the resulting loop under and behind the tie, poke it through the knot—make sure the flat part is on top.

6 Now adjust by tugging the edges of the bow. No tight now, leave your bow nice and floppy. Congratulations, you're a pro.

179 Card of Thanks

I WOULD LIKE to express my sincere appreciation to the thoughtful friends and wonderful neighbors who helped me in the sudden death of my beloved wife Stella Matlin on May 21. A special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Aggie, Bill Smith, Alvin Bush, Bobbie Holmes, the many friends and neighbors who helped me in my time of need. I shall never forget the tremendous outpouring of human kindness by way of flowers, mass cards, acts of assistance and consolation. May God bless you all.
