City Ranked 2nd In State For Fire Damage Last Year

JONELLE MATTEIS

Jonelle Matteis Crowned 1973 Miss Plymouth

Jonelle Matteis, an 18-year-old University of Michigan sophomore, has been named Miss Plymouth of 1973.

Miss Matteis was chosen from among 11 contestants in the Miss Plymouth Pageant Saturday night.

She will reign over the city's July 4th festivities. A resident of Westland, Miss Matteis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Matteis and is employed by her sponsor, Gould Cleaners, which her parents own.

First runnerup in the contest was Marguerite D'Aiuto, and second runnerup was Gale Witt. Other contestants were: Cheryl Hassen, Deborah Lance, Lou Ann Leksche, Stephanie Luce, Robin Powell, Valerie Scheppele, Kathy Secord and Chris Simms.

Miss Luce and Miss Scheppele were among the five finalists.

The Miss Plymouth contest kicked off the annual Jaycee-sponsored July 4th celebration.

The festivities also include the annual carnival at Middle School East which opened Tuesday and will run through July 1. It is open from 1 p.m. to midnight each day.

Plymouth merchants are giving away half price coupons for the carnival rides which are part of the Happy Land Shows carnival.

At 10:15 p.m. Saturday (or Sunday in case of rain) the annual July 4th fireworks will be displayed at Middle School East in the southwest corner of the grounds.

The ground display will also be repeated at the same time on July 4th.

The annual parade will begin down Main Street this year at 12:15 p.m. July 4 from Union Street where it forms at 10 a.m.

Continuing south on Main Street the parade will turn east on Hartstough and end at Middle School East.

Duane Goudy, of 39765 Koppennik is in charge of the parade.

4th To Delay Delivery

The City of Plymouth ranked second in the entire state for heavy fire damage in 1972, hitting a figure of $4,721,013. Detroit ranked first with fire losses set at $27,561,337.

Plymouth Fire Chief George Schoenneman said last year's heavy loss was brought about by the fire which destroyed the Packaging Corp. plant on Sheldon Road last December with an approximate loss of $4 million.

The Selle Auto Agency fire and the Glass Line fire on Ann Arbor Trail contributed to the heavy loss, the chief said.

Fire loss last year in Plymouth Township totaled $217,230 while Canton Township reported a loss of $94,090.

These figures were revealed in the 1972 annual fire loss report compiled by the Michigan State Police fire marshal who said reports submitted by fire departments in the state show estimated fire loss of property amounted to $123,028,359. This is $12,486,347 more than the 1971 loss.

During the first five months of this year, fire loss has taken a big drop compared to the same period in 1972, Schoenneman said.

As of June 1, the loss was $12,678 compared to $125,183 at this time a year ago.

While no loss of life from fires was reported in Plymouth or Plymouth and Canton townships, the state report shows that 304 lives were lost throughout the state from fires in 1972. This was 48 less deaths from fires than reported in 1971.

Of the 304 lives lost last year, 233 were adults and 70 minors, with an additional loss of one fireman.

The report shows that total fire loss for Wayne County hit $45,310,688, with carelessness causing by far the greatest number of fires, 17,586 out of 86,110.

The 1972 estimated fire loss of property in the state, compiled from reports submitted by fire departments, amounted to $123,028,359. This is $12,486,347 more than the 1971 loss. Dwelling fires accounted for $34,548,732.

The report states that again in 1972 the home showed to be the most common place for the loss of life by fire.

Home fires accounted for 171 of the 234 adult fatalities and 66 of the 70 minor fatalities. Homes include apartments and house trailers, the report states.

The state fire marshal said that in summarizing the reports received, "careless smoking, clothing catching fire, and heating units are prime causes of fatal fires involving adults."

"Defective heating units and playing with fire are still major causes of fatalities involving minors. Minors being listed as under the age of 17."

During 1972 there were 86,110 fires reported compared to 101,730 in 1971. There were 32,116 false alarms last year, and increase of 306 over 1971.

Throughout the state, dwellings accounted for 24,045 of the fires; grass fires 18,146; automobile fires 15,300; aircraft 108; house trailers 1,093; school fires 619; bulk plant storage 81, and dry cleaning plant fires 121.

PHS Grad Makes Music

By JAN WILLIAMS

There's a good chance the name Bradley Weage will some day be right up there along with Ludwig von Beethoven and Johann Sebastian Bach. On the other hand, it might be listed along with the likes of Burt Bacharach and Hal David.

But whatever the future holds for Weage, his potential in the field of music is almost limitless.

The 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Weage, 750 Sunset, Plymouth, has just graduated from Plymouth High School. He will attend Western Michigan University this fall on a $500 National Merit Scholarship.

He will also receive $200 from WMU's music dept. and $180 from its music theory dept. All are four year scholarships.

Weage says he got offers from many different colleges, but chose WMU because he was looking for a college large enough to have a good band, but small enough so he won't get lost.

With a major in music composition, Weage plans to do a lot of composing as well as playing with the band.

"I really want to work in electronic music, using a synthesizer," Weage says. "I'll probably be writing a lot of music and maybe occasionally give a live performance."

A synthesizer, according to the dictionary, is a machine with a simple keyboard, using solid-state circuitry to duplicate the sounds of musical instruments, often up to 12 instruments simultaneously.

Weage describes it more simply as a unit resembling a computer which can be hooked to a keyboard, with filters and oscillators sticking out all over.

"It's a fun toy. You can make any sound on it you can think of, if you can figure out all the wires."

Weage has worked with a synthesizer before at WMU. An example of the type of music generated from it is the recent recording, "Switched On Bach."

"The difference is, you write in frequencies rather than notes," it may take as long as three months to write a five minute piece.

"When you play a piece on the piano, you have to put a lot of feeling into it or it dies. It's somewhat the same with the synthesizer."

BRADLEY WEAGE

Weage says he'll stick with writing his own music for the synthesizer. Although he's just beginning his career in electronic music, the area of music composition isn't new to him.

Weage got his start in music at the age of five by learning to play the piano. He wrote his first piece at the age of 10, a piano solo which he has since used as a basis piece for the brass.

Besides the piano, he learned to play other keyboard instruments and the tuba, which he played in the high school band.

"I like the tuba, but the piano is my favorite. Everything I compose I play through on the piano."

He has written pieces for the high school band, woodwind quintet, brass ensemble and the brass section of the Plymouth Youth Symphony.

In his sophomore year he wrote a two-movement piece for the Chamber Arts Brass Quintet.

"They liked it so much they asked me to write a third movement, which I did in one afternoon. It sort of comes easy for me."

He recently wrote a trombone solo which a music agency was interested in publishing until they found out his age. It seems all their composers have doctorates.

Weage is music director for Geneva United Presbyterian Church and plays in the Plymouth Community Band where he has won four summer scholarships. Two were spent studying music composition at Schoolcraft College and two at WMU.

Declining to name a favorite composer, Weage says he enjoys Stravinsky very much. However, he contends he has no desire at this time to write classical music.

"It's like with Beethoven. You have to die before you're recognized. For me, I'd like it to happen while I'm alive."

Weage says he also likes pop music and refined rock and roll.

"Actually I like all kinds of music."

And love of music seems to run in the family. His mother, a former member of a dance band, has published a music theory book. She also teaches piano, organ, trumpet and drums.

His brother, Steve, a 1968 Plymouth grad, was a member of the University of Michigan Marching Band that played in the 1972 Rose Bowl.

But Weage's interests and abilities aren't limited to music. He also won a $200 Michigan Mathematics prize competition silver award which will be used at WMU.

The Plymouth Songwriters Club recently honored him with a dinner at the Round Table Club as first place winner of the Citizenship Award.

Weage is also classified as a semi-professional magician.

THE VIOLENT STORM that raged through Plymouth late Tuesday uprooted this lofty maple beside the W.J. Livingston home at 164 Union St., blocking the street. The 60-mile-an-hour wind wreaked its own special brand of havoc by downing branches and toppling power lines throughout the city. Scattered fires were reported as the result of the downed wires and from lightning. Plymouth Mail and Observer photographer Harry Mauthe was on the scene and captured this exclusive photo of the storm damage.

New Dean Named By S'craft

Thaddeus E. Diebel, a long-time Michigan educator now serving as an associate professor and dean of the vocational-technical division of Northern Montana College, will return to his home state to serve as the new dean of applied sciences at Schoolcraft College.

Diebel will replace retiring dean Jon Adams, who served the college since 1965. Adams, who saw the technical division grow from 550 to 2,600 students during his tenure, was recently granted emeritus status.

Diebel, who has a bachelor's degree from MSU and earned his master's in vocational education at University of Michigan, has worked in vocational education at several levels.

He began his career teaching with the Muskegon schools, where he became assistant director of vocational education. He taught mechanical drafting at Ferris State College for three years before becoming assistant dean of the trade and industrial division there.

He left Michigan in 1965 to become director of vocational education for the state of Montana. In 1966, he headed a party of the U.S. Agency for International Development at the Dunwoody Industrial Institute in Khartoum, Sudan, before the 1967 Middle East war brought about termination of diplomatic relations with that country.

After his stint with USAID, Diebel went to work at Northern Montana College, where he has served since.

In addition to his educational experience, the new dean has a total of six years in a diversity of industrial occupations including tool-making, sheet metal stamping and food processing.

Diebel was chosen from among 72 applicants for the position, narrowed to a field of five candidates who were interviewed by a selection committee, faculty screening committee, Vice President for Instructional Affairs Robert Keene and President C. Nelson Grote.

Volunteers Honored

Four Observerland residents will be given awards for service to the Red Cross, two for 30 years of service and two for 25, at the organization's "good neighbor cruise" June 28.

Honored for 30 years of service to the southeastern Michigan chapter will be Mrs. Harvey (Cora) Springer of Plymouth and Mrs. Ray (Evelyn) Sames of Garden City.

Two Farmington residents will receive 25 year awards - George Cairns and Robert G. Wick.

The awards will be given during a Bob-Lo cruise featuring dancing, performances by Scottish bagpipers, and clowns for children.

Observerland Leads Rotary

Observerland has three representatives among the newly-elected officers of the Detroit Rotary Club scheduled to take office July 1.

They are Ernest W. Sharpe of Farmington, treasurer; Calvin S. Hurley of Southfield, executive secretary; and Albert L. Fuchs of Southfield, member of the board of directors.

Will Jaycee Unorganization Turn July 4 Into A Dud?

With July 4 being close at hand, the details of how the community will honor this traditional holiday are still up in the air.

If you don't believe me, ask the Plymouth Jaycees.

Take the annual fireworks, for example.

Plymouth has always been known as THE community to go to for July 4 fireworks. People have flocked here from miles around.

This year, thanks to Jaycee unorganization, may be different.

It wasn't until Friday that anyone from the Jaycees thought about contacting the city for a fireworks permit -- and that's eight days before they hoped to set off this year's display at Middle School East.

City rule requires 30 days notice. State law requires that the city commission give approval, a $1,000 bond be posted, the police and fire departments' approval be obtained and a certified operator be hired to set them off.

That made it necessary for City Manager Fred Yockey to conduct a telephone poll of the city commissioners on Monday to get the Jaycees the necessary approval that a little advance planning would have made much easier.

The Jaycees said the fireworks problem was due to the refusal of the new owners of the former Burrough's parking lot to allow the fireworks parking there.

W. EDWARD WENDOVER
TOWARD NONE

This meant, say the Jaycees, that a new site had to be found.

But here again, a little advance planning could have straightened things out in time to carry them off without a hitch.

The application for the fireworks permit shows the Jaycees plan to have a ground display rather than the traditional aerial fireworks.

They will be held (pending city commission approval) at Middle School East at 10:15 p.m. Saturday (or Sunday in the event of rain) and again on July 4.

Carl Glass, newly elected Jaycee president, asked us not to mention that the fireworks would be a ground display because "nobody'd come" if they knew.

On the other hand, dear readers, if you went and were disappointed, you'd blame us for not telling you.

This year's carnival, being held again at Middle School East, is the same way.

Originally, the Jaycees say, the carnival company was supposed to be here from Saturday until after the fourth. Now the carnival company will leave Sunday.

Perhaps the carnival company's change of mind isn't the Jaycees' fault, but here again, according to the city, the proper notice and permits weren't obtained.

City ordinances specify that carnival rides must be inspected by the building and fire departments, and the carnival also needs police approval.

Apparently nobody at the Jaycees thought about that. The Miss Plymouth contest this year was true to form -- unorganized.

Judges were changed at the last minute, and the contestants were confused about what was to happen.

Perhaps we're not supposed to question the July 4 celebration. After all, that's right behind apple pie and motherhood and colors that won't run, etc. etc.

But that's why it's important -- the people of this community have long supported the July 4 parade, fireworks and carnival. It's THEIRS, not the Jaycees'.

Sure, the Jaycees organize (?) it, and they're all volunteers, but if they really care about it, you'd think they'd have shown more initiative than they did this year.

In some haphazard way, everything will come off, no doubt. But the quality of this year's festivities will certainly reflect the last minute (if any) planning that went into them.

Only the people will be hurt. Next year, I hope things will be different.

Festival Board Appoints Flum Manager Again

PLYMOUTH The 1973 Plymouth Fall Festival is gearing up with appointment of Tony Flum as manager once again. Indicating the scope of this year's affair, the festival board for the first time has named an assistant manager, Ed Page.

Officers for this year's event are John M. Hoben, Plymouth school superintendent, president; Douglas Hinkler, vice president; Daisy A. Proctor, secretary; and Joseph West, treasurer.

Board members are Eldon Martin, Connie Fitzer, Earl Gibson, Robert Bake, Norman J. Kee, Carl Zeese, Ed (Skip) Dorrington and Douglas Blunk.

The American Assn. of University Women will again sponsor the decorating of store windows. Turn-of-the-century antiques will be used for the decoration with an as yet undecided general theme.

Last year's theme was "Memories are Made of ...". Sue Harper, AAUW general fall festival chairman, says both individuals and organizations are being solicited to provide antiques and/or help decorate windows.

Volunteers should contact Mrs. Harper of 499 N. Evergreen.

LARRY SMITH, a Plymouth resident who teaches at Churchill High School, will travel to Africa to see the eclipse. (Observer photo by Jan Williams)

Teacher Takes Voyage To View Solar Eclipse

By JAN WILLIAMS

LIVONIA Larry Smith, a physics teacher at Churchill High School, says he had five minutes to decide whether to take an ocean cruise to Africa to see the solar eclipse.

"I did some hemming and hawing, but I managed to say yes before the five minutes were up."

Smith, who lives in Plymouth, was notified last month by a friend of a cancellation on the sold out cruise.

"This wasn't something I had planned on for two years, but it sounded great soon as I heard about it."

The cruise will be on the Canberra, a liner which left New York June 22 and will return July 8.

It will rendezvous off the coast of West Africa for one of the longest solar eclipses of our lifetime.

Totality will last seven minutes and four seconds, making the eclipse the second longest in 1,433 years. A comparable eclipse won't occur again until the year 2150.

Thirty-one nationally known scientists will be on board, among them astronauts Neil Armstrong and Scott Carpenter.

"If Gopernicus were alive, they'd have him on board, too," Smith says.

Smith says he got interested in astronomy as part of his physics class, although he hasn't spent a lot of time on the subject.

"But I expect my interest will be greater after this experience."

Smith says although the cruise will include many other things besides the eclipse, that's what he's looking forward to the most.

"I've never seen a total eclipse and I'm really excited about it."

He says the second most exciting thing will be meeting all the famous people on board.

The cruise also will offer workshops and seminars in astronomy, astrophotography, navigation, oceanography, drama and many other science, cultural, social and recreational programs and activities.

Smith says he's well prepared for the eclipse, with two suitcases full of camera gear.

"A lot of things can happen. It might be cloudy. But I'm not thinking of that now. I'm just very excited about the whole thing."

Salvation Army Invites Kids To 'Drop In'

PLYMOUTH The Salvation Army Drop-In Center will welcome both pre-schoolers and their older brothers and sisters during the summer months.

Only pre-schoolers are received during the school year.

The center is located at 290

Fairground Street and is open Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. on a strictly drop-in basis.

"Anyone in Plymouth wishing to leave children for those two hours may do so without charge," said Salvation Army Capt. Warren Yoder.

"There will be games, recreation, handicrafts, snacks and so on for both age groups," he said.

Anyone with questions is invited to call Capt. Yoder at the Salvation Army any morning.

Smit Criticizes Low Response To Sewer Quiz

PLYMOUTH State Rep. Raymond Smit (R-Ann Arbor) urges cities which were sent questionnaires by the State Water Resources Commission to have them returned by July 6.

The questionnaires ask community plans for future sewage treatment facilities and for construction of sewer lines.

Only a handful of the 650 communities to which the questionnaires were sent have responded, Smit said.

"It's going to be the basis on which the federal government allocates funds for assistance on these projects," he said.

"Unless we get better co-

Festival Plans Fun For Kids

The young ones aren't forgotten during the International Freedom Festival ... with a Kiddies Fun Festival in Windsor's Dieppe Park on June 30 and a special children's parade in Detroit's Cultural Center area on July 4 for both American and Canadian children.

You first

It's nice to have the money to treat your family to some of the more special things in life. Consider a "You First" regular passbook savings account that earns 5% annual interest paid and compounded quarterly to get those special things. There is no minimum amount required to open an account. And you may deposit or withdraw any amount whenever you like. And you earn 5% per year daily interest from the date of deposit to the date of withdrawal.

This equals an effective annual rate of 5.09%

Year to year you may want to save for bigger projects. Think "You First" and open a 5 1/2% Certificate Savings Account. Just deposit $1,000 or more for one year. Your Certificate Account will earn 5 1/2% annual interest paid and compounded quarterly from the day the funds are deposited.

That's an effective annual rate of 5.61%

Think "You First" as an investment saver, too. First Federal has a Certificate Account that will earn you a high 6% per year annual interest. With $5,000 or more you can open a Certificate Savings Account for 2, 3, 4, or 5 years. And your account will earn that 6% interest, from the date the funds are deposited, paid and compounded quarterly.

That yields an effective annual rate of 6.14%

What savings plan is right for you, depends on you.

State To Survey Summer Travelers

LANSING Crews of interviewers representing the Department of State Highways will be conducting origin and destination surveys in and around some Michigan cities this summer.

Highway Department personnel, many of them college students hired for temporary summer work, will set up interviewing stations on each highway and major county road into and out of the designated survey area.

Interviewers will ask motorists the origin of their trip, their destination, the purpose and where their venicle is garaged. The interviewer also will note the type of vehicle and number of persons in it.

The data is used for forecasting future traffic patterns for planning highway needs.

Interview stations will be operated from 6 a.m. through 8 p.m., Monday through Friday but will not be operated on Saturday or Sunday.

The survey crews also will be assigned to weekend work at many highway rest areas and roadside parks, tabulating frequency and type of use made of various facilities.

Off-Track Bet Is Endorsed

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has endorsed bills before the State Legislature which would provide bonus payments to Vietnam veterans and authorize off-track betting on horse races.

The commissioners voted in support of four separate House bills at a meeting of their full board last week.

The bill allowing para-mutuel wagers passed the House last week 58 to 45 and is now before the Senate.

If enacted, the bill would enable county boards of commissioners to establish a network of para-mutuel betting agencies and apply the revenue toward community colleges and the local intermediate school district, as well as other county needs.

Rep. George Montgomery (D-Detroit) sponsor of the bill, estimates a $12.5 million per month income, of which 15.5 per cent would be divided among the county, state and the tracks.

Among other major actions, the board increased the rates paid for the care of children who are county wards that live in institutions, private agencies and county boarding homes.

Upon recommendation of its Human Resources Committee the Board granted an increase of $1.50 per day per child for institutional care, and raised rates 75 cents per day per child for foster home care.

Also approved was a grant agreement for nearly $2 million of federal funds for development at the Detroit-Wayne County Metropolitan Airport.

Plans for the improvement project call for widening of the airport entrance and crossover roads and construction and lighting of a new terminal roadway.

A request to apply for other federal funds to continue the Child Care Coordinating Council program was also approved by the board. Total cost of the program for the coming year is $67,000 of which $45,000 will be Federal cash.

The county will supply the remaining $22,500 in in-kind contributions, meaning personnel, equipment and office facilities.

Three temporary positions were also established by the board to provide more security in Common Pleas Court. The jobs will be staffed by sheriff's deputies and are classified temporary pending resolution of questions of legal obligation between the City of Detroit and Wayne County.

The commissioners also approved the hiring of the firm of Van Scoyoc & Wiskup, public utility consultants from Washington, D.C., to assist the board's corporation counsel in its intervention against rate increases proposed by the Detroit Edison Co.

Van Scoyoc & Wiskup are recognized rate analyst experts and will assist the county, the City of Detroit and other intervenors who oppose the Edison request.

Oil Firms Say: Take It Or Leave It

By STEVE BARNABY

The fuel shortage is taking its toll on area school districts as major oil companies have made "take it, or leave it," offers on gasoline bids.

With some of the districts working on a monthly allocation, others have only enough fuel to last until September. One district has run out of gasoline.

Mel Blunk, Plymouth schools assistant superintendent of business, revealed that the Plymouth district ran out of gasoline last week and was forced to buy at public filling stations.

The district was accused to be paying 12 cents a gallon, but is now forced to pay nearly three times that price.

South Redford School District recently advertised for bids and received only one bid which quoted twice the normal price the district is now paying.

Wilbur Bischoff, SR district comptroller, said because of the recent price freeze, he wasn't sure whether the district will have to pay the doubled fee. Beginning in September, the district will be working on a monthly allocation of 5,000 gallons.

Redford Union School District, on the other hand, anticipates no price rise in its renewal of gasoline supply, according to Robert Junkey, assistant superintendent of business. The RU district pays 11.5 cents a gallon.

The Livonia School District, which pools its gasoline supply with the city, is holding its breath on future developments.

For the last two months the district has been on a monthly allocation of 28,000 gallons which is the minimum amount needed, according to William Bedell, assistant superintendent. Currently paying 11.66 cents a gallon, the district doesn't foresee a rise in price, but is not optimistic over how long a supply will last.

Southfield School District reports it is receiving only 90 per cent of its needed supply and has been forced to curtail some activities.

Schoolcraft Taking Late Registrations

Schoolcraft College is accepting late registrations for the summer session from June 26 through 29.

Students wishing late entry into any of the 67 classes being taught in 17 subject areas must gain clearance through the registrar's office. A late fee of $2.50 per course is also assessed.

Late registration is conducted from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 6:30 to 9 p.m. in the auxiliary gym on June 26, and in the registrar's office the remaining days. No student may register after 4:30 p.m. on June 29.

Day and evening classes for the eight-week session began on June 26 and will continue through Aug. 16.

William Adcock, assistant superintendent, says that through the recent acquisition of larger school buses and redrawing of routes, a fuel saving has been made. He also said that some field trips had to be canceled because of the fuel situation.

The Farmington School District, which pools its supply with the City of Farmington, Farmington Township, and Clarenceville School District, anticipates only the present supplier to reply to its bid, says William Prisk, Farmington schools business manager.

They have also been forced to cut services because they aren't receiving 100 per cent of needed fuel.

The Garden City School District is also working on a monthly allocation. Ed Herhips, business manager, says the district is at "the mercy of fates and the oil industry" as to whether the district will receive gasoline from one month to the next.

He said there was some hope in the situation when the present supplier assured the district that the oil company was under a "moral obligation" not to cut off the supply.

Chapman Wins State Amateur Golf Title

By TOM DONOGHUE
Sports Editor

Farmington's Bob Chapman hit his first tee shot Tuesday morning to join a field of 250 in the 62nd Michigan Amateur golf championship.

The 19 year-old Farmington High grad tapped in his last putt Saturday afternoon, eight rounds of golf under his belt, his blond curly hair a little lighter, his smile unlike any he has given the golf balls he drives.

Chapman, a Stanford University junior, beat the field of top amateurs in Michigan and defeated Dr. Wayne Kramer, a dentist from Flint, in the finale, five and three.

The Farmington golfer became the youngest Michigan Amateur champion since Chuck Kocsis won the 1930 title at the age of 19.

Farmington Athletic Director Jack Cotton was on hand at Charlevoix to watch one of his former athletes win the state title.

"Mr. Cotton congratulated me and commented that it sure had been one heck of a week for Farmington, first the Playmate of the Month from North Farmington and now the Michigan Amateur golf champion from Farmington," said the newly crowned champ.

Chapman graduated from Farmington High in '71. No. 1 golfer all three years for the "Blue and White," and All-InterLakes in the three year span.

At the age of 13, Bob was champion of the State Jaycee tourney at Frankenmuth in the 17 and under bracket.

Bob finished fourth in the state for Farmington High as a junior and sixth his senior year. Along with his golf prowess, he played three years of varsity basketball for the Falcons.

The National Junior championships lured Bob to Spokane, Washington at the age of 15 and to Maryland at the age of 17.

Chapman, who has learned his golf at Meadowbrook Country Club, was Detroit Junior Champion at 15 and 16 and runnerup at the age of 17.

Bob left Farmington in the fall of '71 for Stanford University to major in economics and decided to carry the clubs instead of dribbling the basketball.

Chapman made the freshman team and just completed his sophomore stint on the varsity with a 76.1 average.

"I was fourth or fifth man most of the season," commented Chapman, "I started to play bad near the end of the season and slipped to the No. 6 slot."

Stanford was only allowed five in the NCAA finals and the fifth man who averaged 75.8 nipped Chapman for the honor.

This year's Michigan Amateur challenge was the fourth attempt for the aspiring Chapman but the first past the first round.

The field of 250 was sliced to 64 after the 36 hole qualifying rounds.

Chapman shot a 72-73 for the ninth position and it was then into match play.

Bob won his first match, five and four, and defeated Stan Thompson of Grosse Isle in the second round, three and two.

In what Chapman referred to as one of the tourney's biggest upsets, Pete Green of Orchard fell to Bob in third round play, two to one. Green was just back from the U.S. Open.

Chapman handled Burt Cooper, two and one, in the fourth round and Mike Husby, six and five in the semifinals.

It was then to the final against Dr. Kramer and it was never close after the first hole which Chapman won.

"Everything was just going right for me, I felt good and the weather was great," added Chapman, "I finished six under par for the tournament."

Bob was handed a golf club at the age of seven by his father, Harvey Sr., vice president at S.S. Kresge Co., and a former University of Michigan football player.

"My dad has really encouraged me in golf," said Bob, "He is about a nine handicap now and things usually get fairly interesting when we hit the links together. Of course I give him the nine strokes."

What's next for the young Chapman?

His golf calendar is looking like a relief pitcher's charts in the heat of a pennant drive.

Coming up is the Western Juniors at Duke University, Western Open in Benton Harbor, Michigan medal play at Orchard Lake, the Porter Cup in New York, the Eastern Amateur and the National Amateur in Toledo.

Then comes junior year at Stanford where Bob is confident he will remain in the starting rotation.

Chapman found it hard to believe he actually won the Michigan golf title, his parents didn't -- they walked the final three days around the course with their son, they knew he would win, doesn't every parent?

Redford 'Run Machine' Scores 6th Berry Win

Redford Appliance turned into a run-making machine in pushing its unbeaten string to six in Berry National League baseball action.

The Redford Union High summer club exploded for 33 runs in two games in crushing Franklin Village, 15-0, and overpowering North Farmington, 18-7.

Mark Hiller went the distance for Redford in the shutout allowing just three hits, walking one and striking out seven.

Chris Thomas, Jim Richter and Erdal Tekisalp chucked for Franklin with Redford collecting 11 hits along with eight base on balls. Starter Thomas suffered the loss.

Redford opened with three in the first on singles by Mike Kalil, Dan Barron and Mark Yourchock, a sacrifice by Glenn Richmond and another hit by Lupe Bravo.

The National League defending champs and front-runners followed with one in the second, one in the third, nine runs in the fourth and one in the sixth on a solo four-bagger by Kalil.

Redford continued its attack against North Farmington.

Tom Nippa went the route on the Redford mound, gave up five hits, nine walks and nine strikeouts.

North's Jerry Doot stuck it out on the mound, giving up 14 hits, seven walks and nine strikeouts.

North Farmington started off to a 5-0 explosion in the first when Nippa ran into a streak of wildness and Coach Bob Atkins decided to let his young lefthander pitch his way out of it.

Nippa walked the first five batters he faced. Chris Weber, Mike Combes, Bruce Brewin, Marty Raymond and Terry Hamilton all drew base on balls with the first three scoring on wild pitches. John Creighton then singled and Redford was down, 5-0.

Redford sliced it to 5-3 in the third. With one out, Kalil walked and with two out, Yourchock walked. Glenn Richmond tripled in both and Ron Campbell singled in Richmond.

The summer Panthers took charge in the fourth when Gary Fuls was hit by a pitch, Nippa was safe on an error, Kalil was safe on an error and Yourchock doubled to give Redford a 6-5 lead. A hit by Campbell increased it to 7-5. North Farmington got one back in the last of the inning when Brewin was hit by a pitch, Raymond walked and Creighton singled.

The fifth inning saw Redford score again when Fuls walked, stole second, Kalil and Yourchock singled.

North bounced back to make it 9-7 when Doot walked, was wild pitched to second and Chris Weber singled him in.

Redford power then prevailed with three runs in the sixth and six in the seventh on two homeruns by Bravo and Fuls. Yourchock, Richmond and Campbell finished the North contest with three hits apiece.

LOSING HIS BALANCE on a throw to first is North Farmington Koebel third baseman John Cassidy. That's Livonia Griffin Coach

There must be 500 individuals taking tennis lessons in Livonia. Classes are being held at Franklin, Bentley, Churchill and Stevenson High Schools beginning as early as 7:30 a.m. These classes are sponsored by the Board of Education as part of their summer program use of school facilities.

Classes for youth are held every morning during the week and adult classes meet Monday through Thursday at Bentley and Stevenson High Schools. The adults meet twice a week for three weeks and the youth every day for two weeks. Registrations are taken at the courts.

Other classes are being conducted by the Livonia Park and Recreation Department, the Livonia Family Y and a private individual. Farmington and Plymouth are offering instructional classes as well. It wouldn't surprise me if there were 1,000 people in Overland taking lessons. (There are probably 5,000 that should).

One doesn't have to be a genius to realize that we're creating a shortage of tennis courts. It may take the politicians a longer time to realize this, as most of them are golfers and can afford to spend five hours on the course.

Many of our local players are traveling to Canton Township where there are 14 courts available. Good tennis players congregate where there are a large number of courts.

The Livonia Tennis Club is now meeting at Stevenson High School on Friday evenings from 6 - 10 p.m. It's not the best night of the week but when there are classes every other night, you don't have much choice.

That is one reason we haven't run a men's league similar to our successful women's league. The large majority of women can play in the daytime while the opposite is true for the men. We'll attempt to run a men's league at the five new indoor courts at the Livonia Family Y when they are open in October.

If you have any old tennis rackets, ice skates, skis, or any other kind of used athletic equipment, you can sell them at the Rotary Youth Foundation "Used Athletic Equipment Sale", Saturday and Sunday, June 30, July 1, at the Livonia Family Y, 14255 Stark Rd.

Equipment may be brought to the Y on Friday evening, June 29 or Saturday morning, June 30.

BITING THE DUST at home plate in Adray baseball action is Livonia Griffin hurler Jim Zimmerman after a bang-bang play with the

Plymouth Bidwell Winds Up 2nd

Second best was all Plymouth Bidwell could come up with in the first round of the Adray competition. Coach Wayne Sparkman knows better than anyone that he let the first round title slip away.

Redford captured the first round with a 6-2-1 record. Plymouth was half a game back at 6-3 and Sparkman didn't have to think twice about two losses by one run.

A 2-1 defeat at the hands of Westland all but revealed the fate of Plymouth while at the same time front running Redford was blitzed by North Farmington Koebel, the lone win for the crew from North.

"We let this round slip away," said Sparkman, knowing his baseballers will be in there in the next two rounds.

Plymouth nipped Southfield Lathrup in eight innings, 2-1, to complete the first round and opened the second round with a 7-5 triumph over Farmington Sincola.

Steve Robb sent the distance against Southfield for his second win in as many starts. The lanky righthander handcuffed Lathrup on two hits, walked four, hit three batsmen and struck out five.

Carey Braha suffered the loss for Southfield, giving up five hits, walking three and striking out three.

Plymouth struck in the third with one out. Dave Hees doubled and his brother Dan doubled him home.

Southfield came back to tie it in the sixth when John Dallao blooped the first hit off Robb, a pop fly. Sha Ramrick sacrificed him to second and John Wenzel singled Dallao in.

Plymouth tucked away victory in the eighth. Pinch-hitter Jeff Waller led off with a single and Jack Mathias ran for Waller. Dan Hees sacrificed Mathias to second and Lary Graves doubled him home for the tie-breaking tally.

It appeared that Southfield would come back in the bottom of the eighth when lead-off batsman Rich Barrel walked. Dallao sacrificed him to second and Ramrick drilled a shot down the first base line. Plymouth first baseman Mathias dove for it, stabbed it and doubled Barrel off second.

Sparkman's ace Graves lasted only three innings. Farmington with Terry Laird working in relief for the win. Graves gave up five runs, two earned, and seven hits in three innings.

Laird allotted Farmington only one hit in the final four innings.

Bill Barker went the distance for Farmington, gave up 13 hits, walked two and struck out four.

Plymouth tallied three times in the second when Bill Kovacs doubled, Robb was safe on an error with Kovacs scoring, Greg Lane singled in Robb. Bart Taylor singled and Jim Grimmer singled in Lane.

Farmington bounced back in the last of the third to take a 5-3 lead.

Rick Pauline started things off with a base on balls, Mark Miron singled and Greg Hool walked. Pat Loras and Pat Nicolin were safe on errors. Gerry Malloy singled and second and Ray Ponke singled.

Plymouth found the range in the sixth and scored four times to give Laird all he needed for victory.

Lane led off with a single, Laird was safe at first on a sacrifice that was bobbled by Farmington and Grimmer beat out a bunt to fill the sacks. Dave Hees singled in two to tie it at five-all and Dan Hees bunted but Grimmer was nailed at third. Graves was safe on an error by the Farmington shortstop with Dave Hees scoring and Kovacs singled in Graves to put Plymouth up by two.

Northwest Champs Remain Unbeaten

The Northwest Suburban League baseball champions are hoping for a summer repeat.

Franklin High's summer contingency, Berry, knocked off Northville, 6-0, and Franklin Village, 7-1, to boast a 4-0 National League record in the Berry League.

Redford Appliance is also undefeated in the National with a 6-0 mark. The two meet Saturday, June 30, at Rotary Park at 5 p.m.

Jamie Knapp picked up his first win for Franklin in the Northville clash with a two-hitter, walking three and striking out four.

Wayne Rennault suffered the loss, giving up 10 hits, walking three and striking out three.

A solo round tripper by Tony Dattilio in the third gave Paul Hunt's crew a 1-0 lead which was padded in the fifth. Dave Watkins was safe on an error to open the fifth. Jeff Waterstone singled him in and proceeded to steal second.

Dattilio and Gar Frantz singled. Wayne Darragh was hit by a pitch and Longway walked. Bob Follow singled to make it 6-0.

Rich Gaber got the call to the Berry mound against Franklin Village and responded with a five-hitter, walking three and striking out 12.

Mike Kennedy took the loss for Franklin Village, giving up eight hits.

Berry jumped on Kennedy for four runs in the second. Ron Vanderlinden, Darragh, Follow singled, Gaber drew a walk. Waterstone walked and Frantz singled in two.

A single by Kennedy, a hit batsman, and a single by Rick Goudie made it 4-1 in the third. Berry came back with a triple by Darragh and single by Longway in its half of the stanza to push it to 5-1.

A walk to Waterstone and home run by Frantz climaxed the Berry attack in the fifth.

Plymouth Nips Churchill Berry

The Plymouth Elks came up with a run in the last of the seventh inning to upend Churchill Berry, 4-3, and remain undefeated in American League Mack competition.

It was the fifth victory for Plymouth and the first loss for Roger Frayer's club.

Tom Willette went the distance for Plymouth, giving up four hits, walking two and striking out nine. Ken Wood and Kevin Nelson hurled for Berry with Plymouth banging out eight hits and reliever Nelson suffering the loss.

Berry jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first on a single by Mike Gottshall and home-run by Al Leirstein.

Plymouth came back with one in the third on three straight singles by Tom Willette, Tony Rossi and Keith MacDonald helped along with an error.

Singles by Robb Willette and Mark Stephens, a stolen base by Stephens and an error made it a two-all contest in the fourth.

Berry again took the lead in the fifth when Phil Skender was hit by a pitch. Bob Blaies singled, Brian Kelly sacrificed the runners along and Rick Dreher's bunt squeezed in Skender.

A two out four-bagger by Steve Robb in the fifth again notched things up and set the

Livonia Overpowers NF Koebel, Nips Westland

Livonia Griffin closed one door with an overpowering triumph and opened another with a one run squeaker.

First round Adray baseball competition came to a close with Livonia crushing North Farmington Koebel, 10-3, and finishing fifth in the 10 team standings at 3-2-3.

Coach Ron Hellier got his crew off to the right start in second round play with a 1-0 tipping of Westland.

Jim Zimmerman and Mike Keller combined talent in the lopsided North Farmington affair with Zimmerman taking the win, working the first five innings.

Dave Riebe, Ivory James and Don Combes hurled for Koebel with Livonia collecting 10 hits, just one more than North, and starter Riebe took the loss.

Livonia started things off with two runs in the first. Jeff Waterstone doubled, stole third and scored on a sacrifice by Mick Cron. Roy Henriksson and Gar Frantz were safe on errors with Henriksson scampering around on the second mishap.

North Farmington got those two back in its half of the inning. John Cassidy walked, Dave Gass singled and both dashed around when Marty Raymond doubled.

Livonia continued to demonstrate its offensive talent in the second while North was stopped.

Steve Chilenko drew a walk, Zimmerman and Jeff Waterstone were safe on errors. Cron walked and Henriksson singled to push it to 5-2.

Four consecutive singles by Temby, John Sichta, Zimmerman and Waterstone and a steal increased it to 8-2 in the third.

North's Bruce Brewin singled and Cassidy doubled to cut it to 8-3 in the fourth.

The fifth saw Livonia add another run on singles by Sichta and Zimmerman. The final tally came in the sixth on three straight walks to Frantz, Sichta and Chilenko and a hit batsman.

The Livonia bats slowed down against Westland with hurler Dell Malloch pitching a two-hitter.

But Livonia came up with a run in the top of the seventh to open the second round in the win column.

Malloch struck out nine and walked three while winning hurler Dan Green gave up four hits, two walks, and seven strikeouts.

Gar Frantz led off the Livonia seventh with a three-bagger, only the second hit off Malloch. Howard Schryer banged out a single in the fifth.

After Frantz tripled, Schryer walked and with one out, Pat Perino walked to load the sacks. Malloch bore down and retired Steve Crowe on strikes. Sichta grounded one to second that was bobbled, tossed to first and dropped and Frantz scored. That was all Green to chalk up the victory.

On Top With 6-2-1 Mark

Redford Wraps Up 1st Round

One down and two to go. That's the way Redford Adray Bob Atkin's mind has to be clicking these days.

The defending champions captured first round honors with a 6-2-1 mark with Plymouth Bidwell a half step off at 6-3. There are now two more rounds and two more champions and as far as Atkin is concerned, he would rather not have a playoff at the end of the third round.

But the way the other nine clubs are coming on, there could very well be a different champ in each round. Redford clinched the No. 1 berth with a 3-0 triumph over Garden City which placed eighth with a 2-5-1 showing.

Jeff Moon and Scott Evans worked the Redford mound. Moon went the first 5 1/3 innings, gave up no runs on two hits, walked one and struck out one. Evans came on for the save.

Redford scored once in the second when Glenn Richmond was safe on an error and with two out, Steve Friedman doubled him home.

The fifth saw Redford push the margin to three when Moon singled. John Knox was safe on an error and Bill Fraser was safe on an error with the left fielder dropping a fly allowing Moon and Knox to score.

North Farmington Koebel decided to make things interesting in the final weekend of the first round. The Koebel crew won its only game of the first round over Redford 7-2.

Scott Evans, Tom Miller and Jeff Moon all worked on the Redford mound with starter Evans taking the loss, North Farmington collected eight hits.

Al Anderson hurled for North and gave up two runs on six hits, walked four and struck out two.

Koebel scored twice in the first off Evans when Cassidy was safe on an error. Bob Gass, Rick Caverella, Marty Raymond and Combes all singled.

A walk to Glenn Richmond and a two-bagger by John Broder cut it to 2-1 in the second but North went back to work.

Raymond singled to open the third. Bruce Brewin was hit by a pitch and Mark Copp tripled in both runners to make it a 4-1 clash.

A walk to Mark Yourchok and an error got another run back for Redford in the third.

An error, walk to Gass, single by Caravella and another Redford error pushed it to 6-2 in the fourth. An error and single by Caravella in the fifth was the way it ended, 7-2.

Redford regained its composure to open the second round with a 2-1 win over Southfield Lathrup.

Redford didn't overpower its opponent this time. In fact it collected only one hit, that a single by Yourchok in the sixth inning.

But Redford did manage to score two runs and beat Southfield.

Jeff Moon went the seven innings for the win, giving up four hits, walking four and striking out four for his third win.

Taking the hard luck one hit loss for Southfield was Jack Booth who walked two and struck out four.

Redford scored first in the first inning when Friedman was hit by a pitch. Yourchok drew a walk and Fraser forced Yourchok at second.

Atkins then called for the double steal. Friedman scored and Fraser was safe at second and Redford was up, 1-0.

A walk to Keith Hackala and double by Jerry Ferrer tied it up in the third for Southfield.

The deciding run came in the bottom of the fifth when Broder walked, and Durance sacrificed him to second. R.J. LeRoux was safe on an error with Broder scoring and that was all Moon needed to work with.

Thurston Downs Bentley Crowe

Thurston pushed itself back over the 500 mark in Berry American play with a 7-5 victory over Bentley Crowe and a 5-4 nipping of West Bloomfield.

A 3-2 overall record shows Thurston in the middle of the eight team American pack.

Mark Falvo picked up his first summer victory on the Thurston mound against Crowe Associates. Bentley High's varsity team. Falvo gave up the five runs on seven hits, walked six and struck out eight.

Bob Deacon worked the mound for the losers, giving up all seven runs on only six hits. He struck out two, walked three and hit three Thurston batsmen.

Deacon hit Gary D'Ascenzo to start the Thurston first. He wild pitched him to second and Ray Ivey singled him home.

A walk to Kurt Beadle, sacrifice by Mike Robinson, an error and a single by Falvo pushed it to 3-0 in the second.

Thurston increased its margin to five in the third. Mike Hill drew a walk and Tom Dowdy singled. Robinson was safe on an error by the Crowe shortstop and Mitch Drozdowski singled.

Crowe struck back with two in the fourth when Waldo was safe on an error and Doug Macklon smashed a four-bagger.

A single by Mark Newell, two passed balls and a ground out sliced it to 5-3 in the fifth.

Thurston bounced back in the last of the inning. Hill singled and moved around to third on an error. Chris Queen sacrificed him in, Jeff Krzywada and Robinson walked and Drozdowski singled in Krzywada.

Crowe's final comeback came in the sixth when Klop and Hirst drew walks off Falvo. Newell singled and Brent Boegler doubled. It fell two runs shy and it was on to West Bloomfield for Thurston.

Ray Ivey hurled for the summer Eagles. The hard throwing righthander gave up 10 hits, walked one and struck out six. Mark Edlen suffered the defeat for Bloomfield. He was haunted by five errors, gave up only four hits, walked three and struck out six.

West Bloomfield took a 2-0 first inning lead when Zamboldt singled, Bob Gass walked, Mutknick singled and Dan Rowley singled.

Thurston fought back to tie things up in the third. Mike Robinson singled and Mike Donoghue walked. D'Ascenzo was safe on an error to fill the sacks and John Roy singled to score two.

Ivey got things going for Thurston in the fourth with a lead off walk. Hill and Dowdy singled. Robinson walked and Donoghue was safe on an error to make it 5-2.

Bloomfield came back in the seventh. With two out, Gass and Mutknick singled. Dan Rowley singled in Gass and Bob Rowley singled in Mutknick moving his brother Dan around to third, with the tying run.

West Bloomfield had the wind taken out of its sails when Rowley rounded the bag too far at third and was cut down.

3 Wolverines On All-Big 10

Three players from the University of Michigan earned berths on the 1973 Big Ten All-Academic baseball team.

Mark Crane, a junior shortstop from Flint; Craig Forhan, a sophomore right-hander from Detroit, and Tom Kettinger, a senior outfielder from Oak Park, Ill. were the Michigan players selected. Lettinger also was named to the All-Big Ten team picked by the coaches, in addition to being Michigan's MVP.

Women's Rights Ready To Swing Big-Bat Again

By W.W. EDGAR

The champion of women's rights in the Congress of the United States has come to bat again.

This time U.S. Representative Martha W. Griffiths (D. 17th District) has come to the defense of 12-year-old Carolyn King, who has been denied the right to play Little League baseball - even though the officials of her hometown in Ypsilanti have threatened to deny the use of the city playfields to the Little League.

Speaking on the floor of Congress last week, Mrs. Griffiths pointed to the flaw in the legislation that created the Little League and limited competition to boys.

In stressing her point that the law was discriminatory, she introduced a bill that would amend the present statute to permit girls to compete for positions on Little League teams on the same basis as the boys.

"There are very few courses of action available to correct this discriminatory situation," she told her colleagues. "We could repeal the act that incorporated Little League baseball. We could even enact legislation that would terminate Little League baseball's tax exempt status.

"There is only one real alternative open to Congress and this is to amend the act.

"This would place girls on an equal footing with the boys under the Little League's federal charter and I am introducing such a bill."

Mrs. Griffiths stressed the fact to her colleagues that there are no hidden results in her bill. Girls would not be required to use the same locker room as the boys. If a girl was removed from the game because she was pitching poorly she would not be sent to the men's showers.

She also stressed the point that a girl who could not field ground balls or hit fast balls would not be granted any more advantage in "getting on the team" than a boy with similar deficiencies.

Mrs. Griffiths further stressed her point by stating that if Billy Martin, the Tiger manager, had a chance to sign a woman who could hit home runs like Hank Aaron, field like Al Kaline or pitch like Wilbur Wood, he'd do his best to get her name to a contract.

4th In Legion Standings

Farmington Slips Again

Farmington slipped to fourth place in the 18th American Legion standings after suffering a 2-1 defeat to Walled Lake and a split with Waterford, winning the first game 3-1 in 12 innings and dropping the second, 4-0.

Rochester is on top with an 8-1 mark. Berkley and Waterford are tied for second at 7-3 and then comes Farmington at 6-4.

Jim Grace handcuffed Farmington in the Walled Lake clash. The righthander allowed just three hits, walked two and struck out nine.

Taking the defeat for Farmington was Dennis Hagen who allowed five hits, walked three and struck out eight.

Farmington drew first blood in the first stanza when Rob Holton was safe on an error and Randy Stringer singled him to third with one out. Tom Celani walked to fill the sacks.

Don Hunt then went down swinging but the ball got by the Walled Lake catcher with Holton scampering in.

Walled Lake came back with one of its own in the second on a walk to Frank Marrott, a passed ball and single by Paul Bedinger.

Walled Lake wrapped up the victory in the seventh with an unearned run. Phil Yeager was safe on an error. Rick Pesko was safe on a boot by the shortstop and after just missing a double play, Hagen yielded a single to Chuck Downing with Yeager scoring to win for Walled Lake.

Chris Morris and Rich Stringer locked in a pitcher's duel in the first of two Sunday.

Morris gave up the three runs, allowed seven hits, struck out six and walked three for Waterford. Rich Stringer started for Farmington, worked the first 10 innings, giving up one run on three hits, walking five and struck out 13.

Dennis Hagen hurled the final two innings for Farmington, gave up one hit and picked up the victory.

Waterford tallied first off Stringer in the fourth when Mike Grace doubled and scored on a hit by All Keebaugh.

Farmington tied it up in the seventh. Ron Buck singled and Ken DiRocco ran for him. Mitch Thomas drew a walk and Rich Stringer singled to score DiRocco.

Farmington ended the extra inning contest in the 12th. Thomas walked, Rich Stringer singled and Sam Pink sacrificed both runners along.

Eric Hansor singled in Thomas and Stringer scored when the Waterford catcher stepped out of the catcher's box during an intentional walk to Hagen.

The second game was a different story for Farmington.

Farmington Coach Wally Christensen called on Tim Hammer for the first time this season and Hammer lasted only four innings, gave up two runs on four hits and took the 4-0 loss.

Waterford scored two other runs off Jeff Herman.

Mark Collard worked for Waterford, allowing four hits, striking out four and walking four.

Waterford scored twice off Hammer in the fourth after two were out. Chris Morris singled, Greg Swanson walked and Jim Wheeler beat out an infield hit to load the bases. Bob McLelland followed with a double and Waterford was up, 2-0.

Singles by Keebaugh and Swanson and an error pushed it to 4-0 in the sixth.

Farmington jumps back into action tonight (Wednesday) at Drake Field against Auburn Heights at 6 p.m.; against Royal Oak Friday at Drake at 6 p.m. and travels to Auburn Heights Sunday for a twin-bill starting at 2 p.m.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

With the ninth and final leg of the rich Can-Am series for three and four year olds as the feature for the first four nights of its 36-night summer meeting, Northville Downs is off to a much better start than a year ago. Business and attendance are up slightly over 1972 and it appears Executive Manager John Carlo's prediction of the track's best year may come true.

It is evident the impetus of the highly successful Wolverine campaign has rubbed off and is making itself known at the Downs. It also is evident the Can-Am pace didn't mean that much since Friday's attendance was up slightly over a year ago but the handle was just about even.

Be that as it may, the $12,500 stake brought the biggest upset of the series and found Michigan-owned Hasty Ed beating the odds-on favorite Muddy George to the wire in 2:01.4.

Hasty Ed, owned by Andy Begg and Clayton Faurot of Marshall, not only beat the Canadian star but ended a string of 12 straight victories at the same time. Muddy George, piloted by Ron Waples, made a slight bobble as the field turned into the backstretch the first time round and never did catch Hasty Ed.

The Michigan colt was in front at the quarter and stayed there for the remainder of the mile. Driver Faurot had Ed leading by a length at the half in 1:01.3 and by two at the three-quarters in 1:32.

Muddy George made a bold bid on the final turn and through the short stretch but Hasty Ed had opened up five lengths and was four in front at the wire. Muddy George was second and Hurricane Shadow third.

Prior to the race, Hasty Ed showed one second and six thirds in the series. The winner's share of the $12,500 boosted Ed's earnings for the year to almost $22,000 even though it was only his second triumph of 1973.

The top eight in points qualify for the $50,000 finale next Saturday at Scioto Downs near Columbus, O. Muddy George, Hasty Ed, Hurricane Shadow and Smog, from the Stanley Dancer stable, are certain to start.

Blu Fireball, the speedy four year old star of the Rob-Way Stables of Charlevoix, Mich., stole the thunder from the bearsats Saturday at Northville in the $6,250 invitational pace before a crowd of 6,275.

One of five starters in the rich overnight, Blu Fireball, guided by Clyde Snook, sped to the top spot in the backstretch the first time round and stayed there for the remainder of the mile.

All of the four challengers took a crack at Blu Fireball at some time during the two laps but none was close, even at the finish. Banner Ranger, with Merritt Dokey in the bike, came closest with a belated rush but was still back at the finish in 2:02.1.

Easy Irv, the four year old sensation of the Wolverine meeting, appeared to have a chance at one stage but Driver Beatrice Farber couldn't keep Irv going and he was fourth with Tricky Dale fifth.

Run Blue Run, a three year old had better luck with Mrs. Farber at the reins in the $5,000 preferred pace, heading off a closing rush by Arl Time to win in 2:02.1. Beah had her gelding leading the pack at the halfway point and she never gave Joe Adamsky a chance with Ark Time from that spot.

Dave Garland, director of publicity and public relations for Jackson Raceway for the last year and a half, has turned in his resignation to President and General Manager Leon Slavin.

Dave took the post just before Jackson's summer meeting in 1972 and handled the chores for the last fall and winter meeting at Northville Downs and the January campaign this year.

However, he had long expressed a desire to get back in the vicinity of his hometown in New Hampshire ... he will now since has accepted a position of executive secretary of the New England Harness Horsemen's Association which includes Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine.

Dave had served as executive secretary of the Michigan Harness Horsemen's Association prior to shifting to Jackson Raceway. He is well known in the New England states and we wish him well in his new post. He'll leave for the east as soon as he disposes of his home in Northville.

Bob Kalish, better known in harness racing circles as "Trader Bob" of Southfield, unveiled one of the newer members of his powerful stable Saturday at the Downs.

Bob, who has never been known as one to fall in love with any horse and generally trades off any that aren't performing as he desires, went into the New Zealand market to purchase three pacers.

In his usual manner, Bob hasn't divulged the total price of the trio except to HERVE FILION, the incomparable Canadian driver, appears to be pulling away in his quest for an unprecedented sixth straight North American race winning championship.

Harrison's Fortner Now A 3 Sport Coach

Larry Fortner has put on the shoes he knows will fit at Farmington Harrison High School.

Fortner, who last school year, made the switch from Redford Union to Harrison in the teaching and coaching department has now been assigned to handle three varsity sports.

After eight years of handling wrestling at RU and five years as assistant track and cross country coach, Fortner made the move to Harrison and guided the Farmington school to its first winning wrestling season. Coaching assignments at the new three year-old Farmington school have been caught in the wind now.

Head track coach Bill Rankin is now varsity football mentors at Birmingham Groves. Cross country and tennis coach Dennis King has decided to stick with just tennis.

Fortner saw the opportunity and Farmington Athletic Director Jack Cotton appointed him head track and varsity cross country coach and still wrestling coach at Harrison.

In five years of coaching junior varsity track at RU, Fortner compiled a 75-0 dual meet record, never losing a match.

Fortner graduated from Redford Union High in '59, an All-Stater in both track and cross country, and went on to Michigan State University on a full scholarship.

In '63, Fortner finished fifth in the NCAA meet for All-American acclaim in the pole vault event with a height of 15 feet.

Westland Burgers Finish 4th At 5-4

Westland Burger King tipped Plymouth, 2-1, and up-ended Redford, 3-0, to finish first round Adray play in fourth place with a 5-4 mark.

Art Mach went the distance against Plymouth and came up with a three hitter, walking one and striking out eight. Terry Laird and John Owens hurled for the Bidwell squad with Westland collecting six hits and starter Laird taking the defeat.

Westland scored its two runs in the fifth. Ken Robinson opened with a single, Mach singled and Jeff Hodgkins sacrificed the runners along. Bob Ganzak followed with a single to score Robinson and Dell Malloch singled to score Mach and Westland was on top, 2-0.

Plymouth's lone tally came in the sixth when Dave Hees drew a walk, Dan Hees sacrificed him to second and Larry Graves singled to score Dave Hees.

Westland wrapped up its first round play with an upset triumph over Redford, 3-0.

John Glenn's Jeff Hodgkins went the full seven innings against Redford, hurled a two-hitter, walked three and struck out three.

Mark Miller and Tom Miller worked the Redford mound with starter Mark Miller taking the loss.

Westland pushed a run across in the third when Hodgkins was safe on an error. Robinson singled and J.P. McBride singled to score Hodgkins.

A walk to Ganzak, double by Robinson, sacrifice by McBride and single by Mach upped it to 3-0 in the fifth. That's the way it remained with Hodgkins putting the handcuffs on Redford.

There's New Hope For Giant Elms

Dutch elm disease kills 400,000 American elms a year, and homeowners and taxpayers spend $100 million a year just to remove the trees it kills.

It has attacked American elms in 40 States and Canada, and now threatens to cross from Idaho into California.

Now, for the first time since the disease was discovered in 1930, there is solid hope for stopping it.

A two-pronged concentrated research effort by agricultural scientists is now paying off. Tree pathologists have found a chemical treatment to stop the disease and its carrier, the elm beetle, while tree geneticists have created an elm hybrid that is resistant to the fungus.

The chemical treatment uses a pressure injector to put a fungicide directly into the vascular system of the tree.

Agricultural Research Service scientists at the shade tree and ornamental plants laboratory in Delaware, Ohio, report that this new concept for application of chemicals to ornamental plants is not only an extremely effective method of getting disease-fighting substances into a tree's system, but it also prevents any chemical contamination of the environment.

"Intravenous" treatment relies on an injector with a source of pressure (either compressed air or nitrogen gas) to force liquid chemicals into trees.

It requires a pressure-holding tank for the liquid, and an apparatus that can be attached to the trunk or roots of a tree (trees that are hooked up for these injections remind one of hospital patients receiving plasma).

Benomyl, which was recently registered by the Environmental Protection Agency for treatment of Dutch elm disease (DED), is the most effective fungicide tested so far by the scientists at the Ohio lab. It moves readily in elms and is highly toxic to the DED fungus.

The next challenge for the USDA scientists is to find a more economical way to introduce benomyl (or other promising chemicals) into trees. But the injector system, even though costly, is still not as expensive as removing a dead tree. And it requires smaller quantities of the chemical than does application by spray or through trenches around the roots of the trees.

This year USDA scientists are extending their tests and will treat trees with injections ranging from slight to 50 per cent. They will check all treated trees periodically and record progress. Scientists are hopeful that, with success in these tests, the injection treatment will be available commercially in another two years.

The second research payoff came in December 1971 when USDA's Agricultural Research Service released a new hybrid, Delaware No. 1, to nurserymen for mass propagation. This hybrid resulted from a cross between a Siberian elm and a resistant Dutch selection.

Delaware No. 1 has a lot going for it. It has shown resistance to DED in all tests, and to date has shown no susceptibility to other pests. It grows well and shows good form.

It is hardy, having survived plantings as far north as Mandan, N.D., where temperatures range from minus 40 degrees to over 100 degrees F. Further tests are going on.

It will take time to propagate enough of the new elms to begin replacing those that are dying and those that have been removed. But in a few years, homeowners and park superintendents will be able to plant new elms for future landscape majesty.

Geneticists at the Delaware Shade Tree Laboratory have also found American elms that are resistant to DED and if these trees hold up they will be available to the public in the not too distant future.

Dutch elm disease probably entered this country in the late 1920s, hitchhiking on imported elm logs. The disease was first recognized in the U.S. by a young agricultural research technician, Curtis May, working at the Agricultural Experiment Station in Wooster, Ohio.

May diagnosed the disease at two sites in Ohio. In Cincinnati the infection appeared near a wood-working plant that had imported burl elm for cutting fancy veneer. In Cleveland, it was found in elms alongside a railroad track where imported logs were unloaded.

Later, the disease turned up near the piers in New York City where several log shipments had arrived. Heavy infections developed along railways transporting the logs. The infection also gained a foothold in Baltimore, again near piers where incoming ships unloaded elm logs.

Because DED was unknown in the United States, and because it takes time for infected trees to show visible symptoms, DED firmly established itself before it was identified. By that time efforts to stop its spread were futile.

When May made his diagnosis, he was fortunate in getting early confirmation from a Dutch authority, Dr. Christine Buisman, who was visiting the Arnold Arboretum in Boston. Long involved with the fight against DED in Holland, she quickly verified Dr. May's conclusions.

Still, no one knew how DED was spread. Some European scientists thought it was airborne, others that it moved through the soil. The elm bark beetle escaped blame until later, when scientists discovered that this beetle, peculiarly, reproduces only in dead and dying elm wood.

The beetle was identified as the culprit at a time when DDT was being highly touted as a cure-all for pests. For a time it looked as if DDT might work. Tree pathologists coupled a cut-and-destroy campaign for infected trees with a DDT spray program for healthy trees, but the program wasn't good enough.

State and federal laboratories intensified their research. The Universities of Connecticut, Wisconsin, and Massachusetts, as well as Cornell and Iowa State universities, made notable contributions to fundamental knowledge.

Then, in 1960, the Agricultural Research Service set up its Shade Tree and Ornamental Plants Laboratory at Delaware, Ohio. Federal research on Dutch elm disease was concentrated there.

Work already begun by Dr. May for a resistant variety was transferred to the Delaware laboratory, and study was intensified on the DED fungus.

Ultimate victory over DED is now in sight. Thanks to dedicated researchers, in a few years homeowners and park superintendents will once again be able to plant and enjoy the majestic American elm.

DISCOURAGING THE SUN:

HOW HOMEOWNERS CAN MAKE AIR CONDITIONING MORE EFFICIENT.

Deciduous trees shade house in summer-let winter sun in.

Wall and roof insulation keeps sun's heat out of house.

Roof overhang on south shades large glass areas from sun.

Roof line running east and west reduces heat gain. Light colored roof helps, too.

Porch and garages located on east or west end of house help shield house walls from sun.

Deciduous trees on east and west with shrubs and thick grass help absorb sun's rays.

Tips On Care Of Cut Flowers

Those bouquets of flowers you've been bringing in from your garden add a lot of beauty and color to your home, and the longer they last the more enjoyment they provide.

William H. Carlson, Michigan State University horticulturist, has some tips on how to keep your cut flowers looking good longer:

- Cut the flowers in the early morning or late evening when they are crisp. Use a sharp knife or shears.
- Put the flowers into a bucket of warm water right after you cut them, and leave them there for about two hours before arranging them.

- If you can't arrange your flowers for a while, cover the bucket with plastic and put it in the lower half of your refrigerator.

- Wash vases or containers before you put flowers in them.

- You may want to add a commercial flower preservative to the water. If you'd like to make your own, mix one 12-ounce bottle of 7-Up, 12 ounces of water and 1/4 tablespoon of bleach.

- Don't place your arrangement in drafts or near radiators, direct sun or electric lights.

- Move the flowers to a cool spot at night to keep them looking fresh.

Summer Buys, Winter Drafts

Most families that plan to move do their house-hunting during the summer months.

Besides the features of a house itself, they check into such factors as the availability of schools, shopping centers and other things necessary to the daily convenience of the whole family.

One important factor that sometimes is neglected when a home is under consideration is the heating system, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau points out. That's because the weather is warm and the system is shut down.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

Don't forget to make successive sowings of corn so it won't all come on at once. Or you can plant early, midseason and late varieties at the same time for a succession.

Then make more plantings of your favorite type every 10 days or two weeks. Be sure to plant corn in blocks of at least three rows side by side, rather than a single long row, to insure pollination and a full set of kernels.

When it comes to varieties, home gardeners have a great choice. The extra sweet "bi-colors" are good. Try Sprite, with white and gold kernels on the same ear. Sweet Sue is another white and gold worth trying.

Butter and Sugar has white and golden kernels with a creamy texture. Plant seed in rows, three feet apart (depending on how you plan to work the soil) and space seeds four to six inches apart.

You can thin early varieties to 10 inches apart and later kinds to 15 to 18 inches apart. Some gardeners like to plant three seeds in a cluster (called a "hill") and this works out fine.

Got your pumpkin seeds in yet? We're hoping you will join our "fat pumpkin" contest and put in some pumpkin seeds. This makes a good project for the kids and we hope parents will get their children to raise giant pumpkins. If you'd like a free package of seed, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for your seeds.

If you're putting water into a sprayer tank, here's a word of warning. If the hose end gets below the water level and the water pressure happens to drop, backsiphoning may occur.

This will suck the pesticide-water mixture into the plumbing, contaminating it. The hose end should not extend into the tank. An air gap should be present, that is, water from the hose should always fall through air before it reaches whatever is in the sprayer tank.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC:
A reader writes: "Please tell us how we can get rid of poison ivy growing near our rose bushes. Should we spray?"
Answer: Watch out for the weed killers. Drifting or fumes from a weed killer can kill your plants. Put on a pair of rubber gloves and try to hand pull the weed. You can starve it out by yanking the plant out as soon as it makes any growth.

Or put the tip of the poison ivy in a jar of weed killer, or household bleach, and the plant will commit suicide by absorbing the chemicals.

Poison Ivy? Get Rid Of It

Beware of that pretty vine growing along the stone wall in your back yard or climbing up the trunk of your favorite tree.

It could be poison ivy!

According to Michigan State University horticulturists, several varieties of poison ivy can be found in both shrubs and vine forms. Its leaflets characteristically grow in groups of three.

The summer months are a prime time for poison ivy problems, so if you find this plant growing near your home, do something about it. There are two basic ways to get rid of poison ivy - mechanical and chemical.

If you have only a few plants, pull or dig them out when the ground is damp. Cut vines on trees at the base and pull them away from the tree. Wear rubber gloves and protective clothing when working around poison ivy and wash the clothing separately when you're done.

If you use a chemical herbicide, follow the packager's recommendations carefully. Use a sprayer equipped with an extension so that you don't have to get too close to the plant. Be sure to spray the entire plant - foliage, stems and bark. Don't allow the spray to contact ornamental plants.

Cultivation and mowing are not effective in eliminating poison ivy.

Keep an eye on the plants to make sure they don't come up again. If they do, eliminate the regrowth right away.

Too Much Water Can Kill Plants

Too much water can do garden plants as much or more harm than too little water, say Michigan State University horticulturists.

Plants suffering from too much water about their roots often experience wilting, chlorosis (yellowing) of the foliage, reduced vigor, death of foliage and death of shoots.

The reasons for excess water in the root zone may be many, they explain, but all are caused by either poor drainage or excessive or too frequent applications of water.

As a good rule, water gardens once a week during the summer so that the soil is moistened to a depth of six inches.

ATTRACTIVE OFFICE at home blends harmoniously with the overall decorative scheme. Designer Emy Leaser suggests a setting with a nostalgic but practical roltop desk placed near, but not in, the living room. Strong primary colors link the two areas which are further blended by the vibrant red Bigelow carpet. An added bonus is the static resistance of the carpet due to the Brunson fiber added to the continuous filament nylon.

If It Holds Soil It's A Potential Hanging Basket

Hanging baskets can add a new dimension to your gardening, according to Michigan State University horticulturists. They are especially nice in indoor gardens, terraces, patios and greenhouses.

Baskets may be planted with one, two, or more species of plants. When using two or more, place one rather upright variety in the center and trail others around the basket's edge.

Hanging baskets can be made from almost any object that will hold soil and allow drainage, say the experts, but some possibilities include hollowed coconut shells, old shoes, kitchen collanders, or standard clay pots.

Assembling the hanging basket is relatively simple. Mix equal parts soil, sand, and peat moss with one quarter pound of superphosphate, grade 0-20-0, for every bushel of soil mix.

Small pebbles, pieces of broken pot, coarse sand, or ground charcoal should be included in the mixture to allow for efficient drainage.

Watering depends upon the conditions in which the plant is raised. As a rule of thumb, water your hanging basket thoroughly if the topsoil is dry and wilting is beginning to occur. Wait, then, until this condition is again reached before watering.

Nutrients are essential to plant growth. One teaspoon of fertilizer to one pot every two to three months should keep the plants in good shape. Caution: Do not over fertilize!

Plants in hanging baskets can be shaped by removing several inches of terminal growth at regular intervals. Old flowers, seed pods, and dead materials should also be removed to prevent insect and disease infestation.

For more information on hanging baskets, write to the Bulletin Office, Box 231, East Lansing, Mich. 48823 and request Extension Bulletin 758.

Transplant This Year

If only a few of your hyacinths or tulips came up this year, the bulbs may need thinning and transplanting, say MSU horticulturists.

Dig them up in the summer after the bulb coat turns from yellow to light brown. This will give them time to cure before they're replanted in the fall.

Vacation Homes Give Architects Free Hand

ONE OF A SERIES of new vacation home designs, this "eagle's nest" is ideal for rugged hillside locations. It features observation tower decks and Perma-Shield gliding patio doors to take full advantage of the views.

Whether you own them -- or design them -- vacation homes let you escape the routine.

An architect who specializes in residential and vacation home design says that most of today's housing "is not what people want," because its design is influenced by "routine" deterrents ranging from local zoning to the architectural preferences of the neighborhood.

According to Robert Martin Engelbrecht, AIA, head of R.M. Engelbrecht and Associates, Princeton, N.J., the result is "homes burdened with criteria."

Vacation homes, however, allow "a freedom of design that is as much an escape from these restrictions as a vacation is from a daily job."

This "freer aspect" of vacation homes was evidenced in a market survey undertaken by Engelbrecht's firm for a group of some 20 major building product manufacturers.

A leading window manufacturer felt the character of vacation homes was changing radically -- as were owner and builder demands.

The survey showed that do-it-yourself vacation "cottages" were giving way to sophisticated, high-quality leisure homes -- some costing more than primary residences -- and that owners were demanding "exciting" designs, comfort, and low-maintenance convenience features.

To meet these demands, Engelbrecht's firm has designed a continuing series of contemporary vacation homes.

When necessary, the present 21 designs will be updated, and new ones are expected to be added each year.

The houses are designed for all geographic locations, including beach and mountain areas. They tend to be spacious and lofty; feature large decks and wide glass areas; and have a wood look.

Modular construction is often used to achieve design flexibility.

Quality building materials are specified to assure that the homes will meet "contemporary standards."

For example, all designs call for low-maintenance Perma-Shield windows and gliding patio doors. These units have vinyl-clad wood-core sash and frames that won't require painting and will not pit, rust or corrode.

Double-pane insulating glass -- which eliminates the inconvenience of separate storm sash -- is standard.

One of the most dramatic designs in the series is the Olympic -- a two-story eagle's nest perched on columns and "connected" to a hillside by a bridge. There's a spiral staircase between floors, and three "lookout" decks.

Gliding patio doors and casement windows open the house to sunlight and views.

This home and other designs are depicted in the Series II Vacation Plan Guide, available for $2 from V-PAC Council, P.O. Box 622, Princeton, N.J. 08540.

Green Thumb Writer Wins National Award

George ("Doc") Abraham, whose Green Thumb garden column appears in the Observer Newspapers, has been named America's leading horticultural journalist by the Men's Garden Club of America.

"Doc" and his wife Katy were given the top award for outstanding contributions in the horticultural field because of their work through radio, television and newspaper articles.

The Green Thumb column is carried regularly in this paper. The gold award recognized Doc and Katy for their work with young people in schools, as well as many of America's 80 million gardening adults who follow their advice.

The Green Thumb family enterprise started back in 1947 shortly after "Doc" was discharged from the Army after five years of military service in World War II.

Doc started writing the weekly column which has spread to 135 newspapers in America and Canada.

During that period, Doc teamed up with his wife Katy to produce a question and answer feature, and conduct the Green Thumb radio program which has been carried continuously over WHAM in Rochester, N.Y. for nearly a quarter of a century. Doc and Katy have conducted their own TV program over WOKR-TV, and ABC affiliate, for more than three years.

The Green Thumb team, as they are familiarly called, brought up their family in Naples, N.Y. where they conducted a commercial greenhouse and landscape business for more than 25 years, making them well qualified to write and talk about indoor and outdoor gardening.

The special citation was presented for "outstanding contributions to the field of horticulture through their down-to-earth writings and informative shows which have provided inspiration, education and entertainment for so many of America's 80 million gardeners." This is the fifth national honor to come to the Abrahams.

This is the fifth national honor to come to the Abrahams.

The Observer Newspaper's other garden columnist, Betty Frankel of Farmington, was named top garden writer in the country earlier this year by the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn.

Pinch Mums For Beauty

Pinching mums now will result in bushier plants with more flowers this fall, according to MSU horticulturists. You can remove the top half inch of each shoot by pinching it between your thumbs and forefinger and breaking it off.

BATHROOM DECOR has taken a long step toward developing a new style -- one characterized by warmth and textures. In this bathroom a corner linen closet was removed so that a dressing counter could be installed. Necessary storage space was built in beneath the twin lavatories.

It Pays To Get Best Bathroom Equipment

As with everything else you buy, bathroom fixtures come in a range of types and prices.

You'll get the most for your money if you buy quality equipment that will give you many years of trouble-free service. Your plumbing takes a lot of hard wear, so it pays to get the best.

These tips on ways to upgrade your bathroom come from the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau:

1. Buy a siphon jet water closet. It has the best mechanical function, is the quietest and is easiest to keep clean. If you get the off-the-floor type, it will make cleaning the floor easier too.

2. Get a vanity lavatory with storage space beneath and counter space for your toiletries. It will dress up the room's appearance too.

3. Make sure the lavatory bowl is a generous size. It won't take up much more room and it will give you greater convenience when you do your laundry or shampoo your hair.

4. Tubs come in various sizes. One that's a few inches deeper, wider or longer will make your bathing more relaxing and enjoyable. You can get tubs with slip-resistant bottoms, shelves for grooming aids and other special features.

How GM's Dauch Became No. 1 At Chevy Spring Plant

By FRED DeLANO

When Chevrolet recently announced appointment of Richard E. Dauch as manager of the division's spring and bumper plant in Livonia, it was done with typical corporate formality.

However, between the lines of a news release prepared in accordance with a tried and true, colorless General Motors format, lay intimations that Dick Dauch is an unusual man.

An interviewer comes away from the giant plant on Eckles Road convinced Dauch is all that and more.

The mere fact that he won't reach his 31st birthday until July 22, yet already has been entrusted with the No. 1 post at a key facility in Chevrolet's far-flung operations, attests that this is more than just another young man in a hurry. The job he holds isn't for mental lightweights.

There is a conviction that Dauch is a name the entire motor industry should mark well in its future book for possible listing at the corporate pinnacle.

For the nonce, however, his dedication is entirely to the new task at hand — one that is wrapped in thousands upon thousands of bumpers and coil and leaf springs.

The trim 6-3, 220-pound ex-footballer from Purdue University knows as well as any of the 3,600 employees under his command that the past growth and success of this important cog in the GM scheme of things wasn't his doing.

But he also realizes more keenly than any of those 3,600 that the continued growth and success of this plant in a highly competitive field is his baby for the immediate future.

Standing on a ledge behind Dauch's desk is a framed copy of an essay, "What It Takes To Be No. 1," written by the late Vince Lombardi, who carved his own niche at football's pinnacle as one of the pro game's most successful coaches.

There is an unspoken significance to its prominent place among artifacts deemed worthy of inclusion in an office where production charts and blueprints of expansion dominate.

When Dauch's predecessor, Walter O. Muller, was tapped a short time ago to become manager of Chevrolet's Detroit gear and axle plant, Chevrolet Manufacturing Manager James W. McLernon plucked Dauch from Flint at one of the Livonia plant's pivotal moments.

Well under way is a physical expansion program which will add thousands of square feet to production facilities as well as lead to a substantial increase in the number of employees.

DICK DAUCH, new manager of Chevrolet's spring and bumper plant in Livonia, shows a poster montage created by former colleagues at the Chevrolet assembly plant in Flint. It depicts highlights of his career and now hangs prominently in his new office. (Observer photo)

Too, this summer sees the Eckles Road facility under extreme pressure of having to juggle production schedules while making major changes in eight of the 13 press lines before starting work on 1974 model components.

What Dauch refers to as the government's "first time demands" concerning barrier impact standards for bumpers made it necessary to accelerate '73 model bumper production while still mapping the plans for back-to-back model change-over production requirements.

Succinctly, Dauch states: "This plant has a mission to accomplish and whether we accomplish it depends on how we all perform — all 3,600 of us."

He is quick to point out that although General Motors is the plant's parent and chief customer, "this is not a monopoly and we must remain competitive in our prices to match the market."

It is not unlikely that some biographers would label Dauch the ideal "all-American boy" type. There are chapters in his background — such as having been the high school football captain who married the cheerleader — which lean that direction.

There are others who might say this product of an Ohio farm near Ashland took dead aim on a target and that year by year he has moved closer to the bull's eye.

bly plant at Flint as a college graduate-in-training. Somewhere along the line he had a chance to decide whether to go into assembly of passenger cars or trucks and he chose the latter.

"As a farm boy, I was close to trucks," he recalls now. "And when you work with trucks you learn to work with all types of people and to learn schedules. That's really what this business is all about — to run by schedule."

Statistics on the importance of truck transportation in the U.S. economy have soared in recent years on a course almost parallel to Dauch's own executive ascendancy and to the boom that has hit Chevrolet spring and bumper.

"The rapid development of recreational vehicles has played a big part in bringing about the skyrocketing demand for this plant's products. With that, the commercial truck market has come along fast," says Dauch.

Just how fast is emphasized in the latest edition of Motor Truck Facts, which points out that all previous production and sales records for the truck and bus portion of the automotive industry were broken last year.

Each month, January through December, a new monthly high was set with total sales reaching more than 2.4 million for the year.

The publication notes that much of the increase was spurred by the growing popularity of light trucks for personal transportation and recreation. Nearly 10 million U.S. households now own light trucks, many as the sole means of motor vehicle transportation.

Dauch became a foreman in the Flint assembly plant in 1965, general foreman in 1967, superintendent for truck production in 1968, superintendent of inspection early in 1971 and general superintendent of plant production in July the same year.

When Dauch graduated from Ashland High School and enrolled at Purdue, it was with the reputation as a top athlete in all sports. He became the Boilermakers' starting fullback on teams which posted 6-3, 4-1 and 5-4 records in '61, '62 and '63 respectively.

"I had hoped for a career in pro football and was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams," he remembers. "However, a knee injury knocked that out. I knew I couldn't meet the Rams' standards, and it turned out that I got started in this business the same time as the truck market."

"The answer to all problems is people," he said during a daily walk-through of the plant he now directs. "It means getting the right person for the right job."

The youngest plant manager in Livonia spring and bumper plant's history could have added that if the shoe fits, put it on.

Although he has done just that, he didn't say it — and for the information of high school coaches in the area, the house-hunting Dauch family includes an 11-year-old lad from the same mold as his pop.

Record Sales For Realtor

For the second consecutive month, Real Estate One announced record sales during a single month.

May sales for the Real Estate One network of 41 offices totaled 594 properties valued at $16,161,408. This dollar volume represents a 57 per cent increase over May of last year in which 390 properties were sold for a total of $10,266,723.

Real Estate One sales for the first five months of 1973 total $67.3 million, up 28 per cent over the first five months of 1972.

Nothing Like Dime Hot Dogs To Give Kids A Big Evening

Wolverine Raceway was allowed only one family night this season on orders of Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley. And the kids took full advantage of the big night on the traditional Good Ol' Times program.

It was a night for the young ones as the track turned all prices back to the turn of the century and offered hot dogs for a dime, with a limit of six, soft drinks for a nickel, popcorn and peanuts for five cents along with free admission to the grandstand for all 12 and under.

What would you do if you were 12 and under and had a chance for dime hot dogs and to see the trotters and pacers perform? The answer is go out and fill up on franfurters.

In addition there were Dixieland bands, glee clubs and other entertainment.

It was a night for fun and the kids enjoyed every minute of it. That is they enjoyed it while loading up on sandwiches but whether the story was the same all evening is something to which parents alone have the answer.

It is known that more than 50,000 hot dogs were consumed during the evening, most by the thousands of youngsters who got in line as early as 6:30 p.m. and the lines were still long when the horses went to the post for the final race at 11:45 p.m.

The annual eating marathon attracted almost 16,000 to the track ... the third largest crowd in state history and the biggest of the season for the Wolverine 82-night meeting which ended on June 19.

What better place to see than over Dad's shoulder?

Lines formed early and continued all night for dime hot dogs

There were 15,599 watching the races and many had to stand on the apron in front of stands.

HAPPY NIGHT ...
(Above) Mama enjoyed the big deal but tiny daughter was still skeptical. (Left) Big smiles show how much this duo liked what was going on ... especially the nickel soft drinks. (Right) No question why these three were at the races. They couldn't resist the dime hot dogs.

What's the use of standing when one can sit on fence alongside the mile track?

A Dixieland band greeted patrons at gate.

The Stroller: Adding To An Unusual 'Picture' Album

By W. W. EDGAR

Years ago, on the advice of his first old editor, The Stroller started what has become a most unusual picture album.

No, it isn't the ordinary type that contains snapshots taken here and there on family outings where uncles, nieces and aunts stand like so many wooden soldiers. Nor is it one of those albums that contains the life story of the owner — from his days as a babe in the altogether up to through the years — the picture of him in his first pair of long pants — or in his first sailor straw hat. . . or of his first days in school . . . or pictures of the class reunions or Sunday school picnics.

This is an album of mental pictures and it had its beginnings in a most unusual way.

One afternoon, shortly after The Stroller had forsaken the grease and muck of the machine shops to start traveling along the journalistic trail the old editor called him into his private office.

"The two most important tools you need in this business," he said, "are an all-seeing eye and a retentive memory."

After letting that thought sink in for a moment he added: "When you look at something take a good look. Get all the details, then remember what you saw."

"You may not need the picture today or tomorrow. But some rainy afternoon when things are dull you can reach up in your mental album, take out a picture, and weave a story from the event of days or months before."

The Stroller took that advice. Ever since that afternoon years ago, he has been cataloging mental pictures of unforgettable sights and Lady Luck has given him plenty of assists.

He has watched the changing of the guards at Buckingham Palace and he has looked on as the Queen reviewed the troops. He has ridden down the Rhine River in Germany and thrilled at the sight of the ancient castles telling of another day along the way.

He has seen the tulips in Holland and stood in awe at the Arch of Triumph in Paris. And he has had the privilege of looking at the Cathedral of Notre Dame from the banks of the Seine. In his unique album, too, are pictures of the flowered chalets in Switzerland and the sight of the mighty Alps as seen from the basket of a cable car.

Over the years The Stroller has watched the sun set in the Hawaiian Islands where orchids grow like weeds and are known as "blooming idiots." He has sat for hours drinking in the sight of the stone faces of the four presidents at Mt. Rushmore and he has enjoyed many a late afternoon hour watching the sun go down behind Long's Peak at Estes Park in Colorado. He has stood with open mouth, stunned almost, with the beauty of Yosemite National Park and the multi-colored banks of the Grand Canyon.

These are a few to go with such mental pictures as the sight of the famed Mormon choir in the Salt Lake City tabernacle or the banana boats unloading their wares at New Orleans at daybreak. Then, too, there is a mental picture of the fishermen dropping their early morning catches on the dock at Seaside Park in Bridgeport, Connecticut, and the view of the Statue of Liberty on a moonlight night from the seat of a helicopter.

Each year as he returns from a vacation The Stroller takes time to review the album and decide if his latest crop of mental pictures is worthy of a place with such famous sights that will live with him forever.

One of his prize mental pictures is the view of the Straits of Mackinac from the porch of the Grand Hotel — a sight no artist could paint. Then, there is another — of Niagara Falls in winter dress.

As he returned this year The Stroller decided to add a few more — and strangely, there are unforgettable sights close to home.

The other evening he enjoyed the company of friends on the tip of the gravel peak — highest point in the hills along Grand Traverse Bay. The entire bay area and the Leelanau Peninsula contribute to one of Nature's better landscapes.

Next, we sat along the newly developed promenade in the little community of St. Clair and watched with great interest as the great lakes freighters glided by with the Dominion of Canada as a background.

There are few places in the world where one can sit on a comfortable bench in a park and watch ocean going vessels moving along the St. Lawrence seaway and still be close enough to a foreign country to watch the traffic rolling by on its main street.

Yes, these two pictures — the view of the Grand Traverse Bay area from the top of the gravel peak, and the never to be forgotten sight of the heavy laden freighters gliding by the St. Clair Community promenade like silhouettes against the sinking sun — have earned places in the most unusual of all albums — a volume of mental pictures.

Those two views alone made a vacation worth while.

2 Complaints Filed Against C&O Railroad

PLYMOUTH Two complaints have been filed against the C&O Railroad, charging extended blocking of crossings on Monday.

Robert Lyttle, 4443 Erik, said he was northbound on Sheldon Rd. at 9:37 a.m. when an eastbound freight train was crossing the road. He told police he left the area after nine minutes had passed and that the train was still there.

Lawrence D. Ray, 201 N. Main, said he was held up at the Main St. crossing from 6:43 p.m. Monday until 6:50 p.m. when the tracks cleared. He said the train was at the crossing when he arrived.

RAY DEPEW, a former Plymouth resident and Canton High School sophomore who recently moved to Ontario, reached the rank of Eagle Scout at a court of honor held by local troop 1535 shortly before he left Plymouth. Ray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don A. Depew.

Gets Degree

PLYMOUTH Nathan W. Luibrand of Plymouth has been awarded a bachelor degree by the University of Montana. Luibrand majored in forestry.

'Kids' Will Sing In GC

A three-act musical, "An Evening with Billy James Hargis, All-American Kids - 1973-74 Style," will be presented in Garden City on Tuesday, July 3.

Presented by the American Christian College, Tulsa, Okla., the program will begin at 7:30 in Garden City East High School, 6500 Middle Belt.

The group consists of approximately 35 student singers, musicians, technicians and adult sponsors. The concerts are part of a summer tour aimed at acquainting America with American Christian College.

The program includes arrangements of Christian hymns, patriotic and gospel music. Dr. Hargis is president of the college.

The choir appears regularly on a nationally televised weekly program.

The Plymouth Community Fine Arts Council, which for the past three years has concentrated on working in schools, is now branching out to bring theater to Observerland.

Arts Council Sponsors 3 Shows

THE DAY OF THE JACKAL - Edward Fox plays the Jackal, a paid killer who is hired to murder Charles De Gaulle. Michel Lonsdale plays the police commissioner, whose mission is to foil the attempt. (PG, A-3)

SCARECROW - Gene Hackman and Al Pacino star as two guys who are heading for Pittsburgh, but are really going nowhere. Some of the scenes were filmed in Detroit with local talent. (R, none)

SLEUTH - Laurence Olivier and Michael Caine star in this excellent tale of murder in an isolated English manor house. (PG, none)

PIPPY LONGSTOCKING - Here's one for the whole family, based on the novel of the same name by Astrid Lindgren and starring Inger Nilsson. (G, none)

THE EFFECT OF GAMMA RAYS ON MAN-IN-THE-MOON MARIGOLDS - based on a 1971 Pulitzer Prize play, this story of a widow who takes out her frustrations on her teenage daughters is well done. Joanne Woodward stars. (PG, none)

WALKING TALL - Joe Don Baker stars as a wrestler who becomes sheriff of a small town in the South, and leaves a trail of corpses behind in his efforts to clean it up. (R, C)

SOYLENT GREEN - Charlton Heston in the year 2022 tries to save the world from ecological disaster, including the transformation of people into snacks. (PG, A-3)

MAN OF LA MANCHA - Acting and photography are outstanding in this musical version of the adventures of Don Quixote. Peter O'Toole stars with Sophia Loren as his Dulcinea. (PG, none)

THE POSEIDON ADVENTURE - Roddy McDowall and Shelley Winters make up part of the passenger list on an ocean liner which goes down under a tidal wave. (PG, A-3)

CHARLOTTE'S WEB - Spider Charlotte befriends Wilbur the runt of the pig litter and helps make him a celebrity. A delightful version of the E. B. White classic. (G, A-1)

HIGH PLAINS DRIFTER - Clint Eastwood plays the stranger who rides into town to protect and punish the cowardly citizens and give the girls a thrill. (R, B)

LAST TANGO IN PARIS - The much-touted film in which Marlon Brando plays Paul, a middle-aged man who tries to forget his wife who committed suicide through a sexual spree with Jeanne (Maria Schneider). (R, C)

THE HARRAD EXPERIMENT - James Whitmore and Tippi Hedren play a husband and wife team who experiment at their college with various living arrangements, including exercises in the all-together. (R, none)

PAPER MOON - More than nostalgia, this is a real slice of the '30s. Tatum O'Neal is great with her father, Ryan O'Neal, as the nine-year-old who teaches the con artist a few tricks. (PG, A-3)

Industry ratings for general audiences: GP - suggested for mature audiences (parental discretion advised); R - restricted - persons under 17 not admitted, unless accompanied by parent or adult guardian; X - persons under 18 not admitted; age restrictions may be higher - check theater.

by Gae McCord, revealed last week that it is bringing into Plymouth's Salem High School three outstanding theatrical attractions for the 1973-74 season.

The first is country-western music star, Jimmie Rodgers, appearing with the Americana Dance Theater in "Untamed Land." This features 40 dancers, actors, singers and folk instrumentalists in a full-scale new musical about the Old West. The show recently toured the United Kingdom, Europe and Israel. This is set for 8 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 13.

The second attraction is a hilarious comedy, "No Sex Please, We're British." Presented by a New York company, this will feature a "name" star, as yet unnamed.

"No Sex Please" will be seen at 6:30 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 11.

In March, the PCAC will present the Continental Theater Company, a group of enthusiastic young professionals out of Wichita, Kan., in "The Fantasticks."

Mrs. McCord's committee must have sold-out houses for all three performances, but all are optimistic.

"We're dealing with the same groups that bring plays and musicals into Ann Arbor and Detroit," she noted.

"And here, we don't have the long drive or the parking problem." There'll be no charge for parking either, yet ticket prices should compare very favorably with those charged by the larger centers... or even with the price of admission to a movie.

All seats will be reserved and series subscriptions will be offered. These will be on sale at the Plymouth Fall Festival in September, but you can put in your requests with committee members ahead of time.

The plans for bringing in the performing groups grew out of a couple of "happenings" last winter.

The PCAC and the cultural affairs department of Schoolcraft College co-sponsored an outstanding performance by the Jose Molina Dancers.

Then, the Michigan Council for the Arts offered a grant to the PCAC for presenting a New York Company, which had previously appeared at the University of Michigan, in "A School for Scandal."

This gave the needed impetus and prospects look brighter next year for Observerland theater audiences.

Fireworks Go Off On Monday

DETROIT This year's Detroit-Windsor International Freedom Festival promises to be another outstanding two-country event. It will be the 15th celebration.

Highlights include such traditional favorites as the fireworks extravaganza sponsored by Hudson's. It is scheduled this year for the evening of Monday, July 2, for July 3 if weather forces cancellation on July 2.

The Gar Wood Race for unlimited hydroplanes will be held on the Detroit River at Belle Isle on July 2. Windsor's Dominion Day parade will also be on July 2.

Family picnics will be held in Windsor on July 1, and in Detroit, July 4. Special attractions at the Detroit picnic will be two performances by the Primo Family, (1 and 3 p.m.) and two one-hour street dances (2 and 4 p.m.).

The children's parade will be July 4 in Detroit's Cultural Center area.

The Thunderbirds, famed

USAF flight demonstration team, will appear mainly over the Windsor area and over the Detroit eastern fringe area on July 1 and 2.

Cinema Canada, special showings of outstanding Canadian films and a popular feature of past festivals, will be seen in Detroit's Ford Auditorium the evening of July 3.

The Goodyear blimp will make a special appearance in the Detroit-Windsor area flying over the cities with animated pictures and messages on July 1 and 2.

Other events in Detroit include an international round and square dance, an art show in the Kern Block and a special July 4 in Southwest Detroit.

Americans may join Canadians in Windsor for Waterfront Day, including parachute jumping, June 30; a special air show at the Windsor Airport featuring World War II aircraft, July 1 and 2; and country-western show with Roy Clark the evenings of July 3 and 4.

Festivals with an ethnic background will be part of the celebrations. The American Festival will be held on Detroit's riverfront June 29-July 1.

The International Dance Review by some 30 ethnic groups will be held this year at the festival site. There will be two hours of ethnic dance reviews on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

The annual Greektown Festival will be held on Monroe Street in Detroit June 29-July 1.

Kids May Explore Visual Arts

Losers Lose In 'Scarecrow'

BLOOMFIELD HILLS
From macramé to ceramics, elementary school children will have a chance to experiment with the visual arts in summer art classes at the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries.

The classes are offered to students in grades one through three and four through six. The younger students will attend class from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Classes for older students will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on the same days.

The first term will run July 10-26, and the second, July 31-Aug. 16. Tuition is $53 for a three-week term and $106 for both terms. All materials are provided.

Using the open classroom approach with one teacher for every 15 students, drawing, painting, ceramics, sculpture and printing processes will be introduced. No previous art experience is necessary.

By BETTY MASSON
The movie "Scarecrow" kind of reminds me of what happens when you pick up a stone and watch what is living under it.

It's about a pair of real losers, Max, (Gene Hackman), a product of Denver, who loses because he can't control his temper; and Lion, (Al Pacino), a Detroit who deserted Detroit when he found out his young wife was pregnant.

And herein lies the interest...the last bit was shot in Detroit (which looks surprisingly good in comparison with some of the other cities shown), and several bit parts were played by people we know.

That is (believe it or not) Louise Martin of the Livonia-Redford Theater Group playing the drab gum-chewing ticket collector at the bus depot. There are several good shots of Louise as she joins a company of sometimes appallingly realistic bit players.

We also see a somewhat shadowy Charles Noel, another LRTG performer, in the role of the psychiatrist.

The LRTG's Mary Anne Vosgerchian of Livonia also had a bit part in the film, but we understand it got cut out.

I found "Scarecrow" rather slow-moving, as it probed the friendship between Max and Lion in a cross-country tour.

But it does leave room for speculation, and maybe some interesting arguments. Are Max and Lion losers because of what society has

SCARECROW
Now showing at La Parisien, Americana
Rating: R

done, or has not done, for them?

Or are they losers because of their own inherent character weaknesses?

Will Max be less of a loser for having known Lion and learning that doing a strip tease is better than fighting?

But this is really digging deep under that stone, and better script writing would have helped considerably.

Circus Parade To Be On TV

"The Great Circus Parade," televised in color by the Public Broadcasting Service, will be seen on WTVS Channel 56 from 6 to 8 p.m., Wednesday, July 4.

The parade will feature the legendary 40-horse hitch, marching bands, clowns, old-time circus music and 68 beautifully restored circus wagons.

DUKE ELLINGTON and his internationally famous orchestra will appear in concert at 7 p.m., Wednesday, July 4, in the Cultural Center, 525 Farmer Street, Plymouth. Tickets for the concert are $4 and $3, and are available in advance or at the door, at the center. Interested persons may also call the Plymouth Recreation Department.

Dancers May Earn Degree

DETROIT
The consolidated Performing Arts Center of the University of Detroit and Marygrove College is establishing an academic major in dance-theater.

The four-year program, leading to a bachelor of fine arts degree, will begin in the fall of 1973.

The program will be unique in the Detroit area in that it will be professionally-oriented, created for students who intend to make a career of dancing, while at the same time offering an accredited university degree.

Students will work in classical ballet and modern dance for three years, reserving the senior year for specialization in one of the two areas.

Elective courses will be offered in many areas, including historical, character, tap and jazz for the theater, folk and ethnic dancing, choreography and the history of dance.

The faculty will include teachers from the Detroit area and a guest teacher from a nationally-known company.

There will also be workshops and lecture-demonstrations by members of professional companies visiting in the Detroit area.

Band Concerts Begin Thursday In Plymouth

Summer band concerts in Plymouth's Kellogg Park, by the Plymouth Community Band, begin tomorrow evening (June 28).

Concerts will be held every Thursday evening, from 8 to 9:30, through Aug. 2.

The band, now starting its 15th year of summer concerts, has 70 high school, college and adult musicians. It is conducted by James R. Griffith, who is also conductor of the Plymouth High School Bands.

Prof. George R. Cavender, conductor of the University of Michigan Bands, will be the guest conductor Thursday, July 12.

Ernest A. Jones, board chairman of D'Arcy, MacManus and Masius Advertising, will take up the baton on July 26.

On July 5, the band will have Gary Hill, a University of Michigan marimba soloist, as its guest artist. He is percussion section leader in the U-M Symphony and Marching Bands.

The Wayne-Wonderland Barbershop Chorus will be featured on July 19. This 40 voice chorus is directed by Gordon Limburg of Plymouth and has won the district barbershop chorus championship.

Thursday night's program will feature the "Symphonic Marches" of Richard Rodgers; "The Irish Washerwoman," arranged by Leroy Anderson; "Dragoons of Villars," A French overture; the Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro," by Mozart; and "An Ellington Portrait," arranged by Lloyd Werle; and marches and incidental music.

Earlybirds Can Get Tickets

DETROIT
Orders are now being taken for next season's Young People's Concerts of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Season tickets for both the "Earlybird" (11 a.m.) and "Lazybird" (2 p.m.) concerts are $8 and $6. Orders should be sent to Young People's Concerts, Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Ford Auditorium, Detroit 48226.

Four concerts will be presented. "Ecology in Music" will be the theme for Oct. 13.

Dec. 8, the Detroit Severo Ballet Company will present the "Nutcracker."

A musical exploration of the orchestra's various choirs and how they interrelate to produce symphonic sounds will be the theme of the Feb. 23 concert.

Songs from TV's "Sesame Street" will be featured at the March 30 concert, entitled the "Bob McGrath Show."

All-Michigan Group Plans Finnish Tour

Eighty-four young musicians from Michigan will leave July 5 to join young Finnish musicians in a 35-day midsummer music festival.

The American group is the All-Michigan Youth Symphony, sponsored by Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp.

Observerland members include Derek Bondy and Ellen Plummer of Farmington; Elizabeth Moehle of Plymouth; and Nancy Yagiela of Livonia.

During their stay, they will live in Finnish homes and rehearse in summer music camp with Finnish students. They will give nearly 100 different concerts and recitals.

Conductors of the orchestra are Orien Dalley (professor emeritus) and Donald Grosz of the University of Michigan.

Plymouth Picks 'Angel Street'

The Plymouth Community Theater Guild will open its 1973-74 play season with a chilling murder classic, "Angel Street."

This will be staged in the fall, and will be followed by a full-length children's show. Two more plays will be chosen later.

The guild is planning three summer meetings in members' homes, and its members will hold weekly work sessions as they man the popcorn-candy wagon during the Plymouth summer band concerts. These are held Thursday evenings in Kellogg Park.

Officers for the guild were elected at the last regular meeting.

They are Andy Hruska, president; Carol Carleton, vice president; Richard Brown, treasurer; Effie Kuisel, recording secretary; Larry Cook, corresponding secretary; and Kay Hruska, Clemmie Cyburt, Gail Hering and Mary Thornburg, members at large.

The guild welcomes new members and guests. They should contact any of the officers.

Theater Sets Open House

BLOOMFIELD HILLS Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater, 775 W. Long Lake Road, will hold open houses from 2 to 6 p.m., June 30 and July 1.

Museum To Have 4 Saturday Tours

DETROIT The Detroit Historical Museum and Society have planned four Saturday programs for Detroit area residents who have always promised themselves a tour of their own historical areas, but never got around to it.

Tour guides will be members of the museum's staff.

The first tour, July 14, will be an "Auto Adventure," directed by Robert Kothe, industrial curator. The tour will begin in the museum's storage area where there will be a discussion about the former owners and designers of these vintage cars. The museum's collection will then be shown, and there will be a visit to a restoration workshop.

The second tour, July 21, will be an exploration of "Heritage of Brick and Stone." With Jim Conway, urban history curator, as guide, the group will visit some of Detroit's historic buildings and areas.

These tours will both begin at 10:30 a.m. and finish at 3:30 p.m.

An earlier starting time, 9:30 a.m., has been set for the third tour, "A Day in the Country."

Margot Pearsall, social history curator, will lead the tour through the country home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry D. Stricker. On display will be their collection of glass, crystal, china and curios.

On Aug. 18, Jim Ciaramitaro, acting curator of the Fort Wayne Military Museum, will lead a tour of Detroit's historic Fort Wayne. Then, the tour group will go to Amherstburg, Ont., to see Fort Malden.

En route, the former sites of Fort Pontchartrain and Fort Lernout will be pointed out. This tour will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The tours are not recommended for children under 12.

The cost of each of the tours will be $5, which includes lunch. Travel will be by the museum's "History-mobile," and with the exception of the July 21 tour, all will originate from the Fort Wayne Military Museum where unlimited parking space is available.

Advance reservations are required and should be made by sending your check with name, address and telephone number to the Detroit Historical Society, 5401 Woodward, Detroit, 48202.

Wall Gets Prize For New Play

Robert Wall has received top honors for the second year in a row in the Community Theater Association of Michigan Playwriting contest.

This year's winning play is "Home to Stay," a one-act comedy drama about Dolly Madison.

In 1971, Wall wrote "A Thin Line," a study of Mary Todd Lincoln, which featured Louise Martin, then of Redford Township, in the title role. It was seen on television and helped win Mrs. Martin a best actress award in the Detroit Community Theater Festival.

Wall is community consultant for the Wayne County Intermediate School District, and has worked for the Observer Newspapers.

Announcement of the prize-winning plays was made by Lois Tobin of Westland.

The contest drew entries from more than 40 Michigan playwrights. Awards were presented at a recent CTAM conference in Port Huron.

"Home to Stay" is based on Dolly Madison's efforts to preserve a portrait of George Washington during the siege and burning of the White House by the British, the battle for Baltimore and the eventual victory in 1815.

What's in it for YOU?

What's in it for you--a mother of three, an active member in civic organizations and a terrific cook? "Well, the Observer is the first place I look for savings--if I can save on food and clothes for my family and still be happy with the value I get, I'm rather proud of myself. My boy is active in sports, so of course I like to read about that and then, I'm always clipping the recipes and home improvement ideas. The FOCUS magazine section is fun to read, too. I've enjoyed them since they began last winter. It makes our suburbs seem important with a special section about them each weekend. My mother and I keep a sharp eye on the Want Ads, too. We like to go to auctions and garage sales. And, like my husband, I make a real effort to keep up with my community and the direction it's headed -- actually it's no effort at all with the Observer on our doorstep twice each week.

SC Fine Arts Bldg. Put Off--Indefinitely

Despite apparently wide support among members of the board of trustees, a fine arts building is no longer a part of the immediate future for Schoolcraft College.

Lack of state funding was the overriding cause of the board's decision at a special meeting last week to postpone indefinitely the building project in favor of some more workable immediate goals.

The college must work within a list of building priorities originally dictated by the 1968 bond issue for building and site funds. The college would have to apply to the State Municipal Finance Commission for permission to reorder those priorities to favor the fine arts building now at the bottom of four remaining projects.

Several trustees had earlier indicated support for the fine arts building in the belief that the state would appropriate matching funds for the project in the 1973-74 capital appropriations bill.

No money was included in the Senate version of the bill, and Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote told the board he felt "lucky" to have received as much as Schoolcraft did from the Senate -- a $517,819 reimbursement for the already-completed addition to the applied science building.

Several board members voiced continued support for the facility when a source of financing can be found, and departing trustee Erwin S. Brown urged the newly-constituted board "not to forget the fine arts building."

Replacing fine arts as top priority project will apparently be improvement of outdoor physical education facilities, including building of tennis courts, a project which has brought vocal support from the student body.

The board asked administration to prepare a list of projects for consideration at its next meeting which would allocate building and site funds to the three top priorities according to the 1968 bonding resolution -- outdoor physical education facilities and site improvements, culinary arts expansion, and administrative office expansion. The board specified that "adequate funds" be reserved for several pressing maintenance and repair projects.

Specific amounts will be proposed to the board at a later meeting, probably in July.

NBD To Open 37 Drive-Ins On Saturdays

Saturday drive-in banking service will be available at 37 branches of the National Bank of Detroit beginning in July.

The bank also recently extended hours at 35 branch locations and instituted 24-hour automated banking at eight branches.

Saturday hours will be 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Locations to offer the expanded service include 23309 Farmington Road in Farmington, Northwestern Hwy. and 12 Mile in Southfield, 12 Mile and Farmington Road in Farmington, 12 Mile and Southfield in Lathrup Village, N. Territorial and Sheldon in Plymouth, 28925 Ford Rd. in Garden City, Ford and Wayne in Westland, Wayne and Palmer in Westland, Wayne and Cowan in Westland, Plymouth and Deering in Livonia, and Grand River and Eight Mile in Livonia.

JAMES COLEMAN of Westland has been appointed regional manager-property management and customer relations director of Walter J. Marrs & Co. Coleman is a retired U.S. Army captain and former Michigan middleweight boxing champion.

Merrion Aids EPA Research

David F. Merrion, staff engineer at Diesel Operations of GM's Detroit Diesel Allison Division, will aid the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency without compensation as an "extramural reviewer" for EPA research and demonstration grant projects.

Merrion will review selected applications for EPA grant projects on the basis of their scientific and technical merit, according to Stanley M. Greenfield, assistant administrator of EPA's research and monitoring office.

Merrion heads up emissions and combustion activities under the division's research and advanced development engineering staff. He joined Detroit Diesel Allison in 1959 following studies at General Motors Institute, where he earned a bachelor's degree, and at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he was awarded a master's in mechanical engineering.

State Aid Uncertain; S'craft Cuts Its Budget

By RICH McCULLEN

A long process of line by line belt tightening by Schoolcraft College administrators came to an end with the presentation of a balanced budget to the board of trustees.

The budget, trimmed by $91,000, will be aired at a public hearing tonight (Wednesday) at 7 p.m. in the board room of the college administration building.

Last week's board meeting was a study session to prepare for the hearing.

Extensive cuts were made necessary by a delay in approval of the state appropriation bill for community colleges which leaves Schoolcraft uncertain about the approximately 40 per cent of its budget that comes from the state.

A number of items trimmed may be restored, however, if the bill contains some or all of a special $100,000 grant given the college last year and requested for renewal. Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote was optimistic about the future of the grant, still under committee consideration in the house.

"Our best information is that the committee will report out the full $100,000," Dr. Grote told the meeting, "and it looks like if it comes out of the committee, the House will support it."

"It's still an iffy item, but less of an 'if' than it was a week ago."

Other cuts in several areas of appropriation will dull the effects of the additional $100,000, but Dr. Grote estimated that the grant would still result in a net budget increase of around $60,000.

Although Grote said the House could pass the appropriations bill by within a few days it will still probably be necessary for the college to present the pared version of the budget to the public at tonight's meeting.

Business Manager E. Frederick Petersen detailed specific line item cuts at the study session, telling the board "these papers can never show the blood, sweat and tears that went into them."

The largest savings comes from the area of supplies and materials, where Petersen reported that "nipping all over" resulted in an approximately $38,000 savings from the budget proposed in May.

The largest cut in that area was in the amount budgeted for library books, down about $7,000.

Personal services accounted for about $35,000 in cuts, primarily from part-time faculty salaries.

A $13,000 savings was netted in the area of contracted services, and new data on the cost of utilities and insurance brought a windfall of $12,000.

Petersen emphasized that the budget as presented was still an estimate, although based on the best available information as of June 19, and that current figures are "subject to change according to the whim of the Legislature."

Grote said that services will be narrowly maintained at approximately status quo if the additional grant is not realized.

"This is pretty much a continuation budget," he said.

OBSERVATION POINT

Anti-Busing Forces Winning Legal Argument In The Courts

It's those pauses in the conversation — you know, the ones that open up between the price of beef and the troubles in the Tiger bullpen — that point it out. Especially when one or another Federal court decision is announced, which seems to happen about twice each week these days.

People in the suburbs aren't talking much about busing and maybe half of those "This Family Will Not Be Bused" signs have come down from the front windows.

But you sure didn't notice any of the candidates in the recent school board elections advocating cross district busing, and each and every candidate who filed for city council or mayor elections last week made it quite clear to this newspaper that a key part of the platform was opposition to busing.

Suburban opposition to the metropolitan busing plan ordered so long ago by Judge Stephen J. Roth is just as strong as ever. The reason people aren't marching in the streets is only partly that the cost of meat is a more real problem — for now.

What in fact seems to be happening is that bit by bit the suburbs and the anti-busing forces are winning their case in the courts.

WHEN THE Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals two weeks ago upheld much of Judge Roth's finding that metropolitan schools were segregated and that cross-district busing was an appropriate remedy, it seemed superficially that those opposed to busing had lost an important round.

But when our reporters checked with local school officials and lawyers on the case, they found a real mood of optimism.

First, the Sixth Circuit ruling was not unanimous; it was a split decision, and those who argued the minority side (i.e. anti-busing) introduced into the legal record strong arguments which the U.S. Supreme Court must now consider when it hears the case.

Second, when the Supreme Court ruled on the Richmond, Va., case — one very similar to the Detroit case — it voted by a 4-4 tie to let stand the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals decision overturning the busing order.

THE KEY VOTE on the Supreme Court appears to be held by Justice Lewis F. Powell, who discharged himself from consideration of the Richmond case because of previous involvement before his appointment to the court. With the court voting 4-4 on Richmond, Powell clearly is the swing man when the Detroit case comes up.

Last week, when the court ruled on a Denver, Colorado, school segregation case, Powell made it quite clear that he opposes busing as a means of achieving integration of the schools:

"Any child, white or black, who is compelled to leave his neighborhood and spend significant time each day being transported to a distant school, suffers an impairment of his liberty and his privacy," Powell wrote.

If Powell's sentiments regarding busing were not clear before, they certainly are now.

Local school officials and officeholders — including Livonia's Mayor Edward McNamara, who led a drive at the U.S. Conference of Mayors convention last week to push through a resolution opposing busing as a means of obtaining integration of schools — had been hopeful that Powell would wind up on the anti-busing side.

Now, with their hopes apparently justified, they are eager to join with Gov. William Milliken and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley in appealing immediately the Sixth Circuit's ruling on the Roth findings to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Their tactic is to strike while the judicial iron is hot, and the evidence seems to suggest they are right.

R. T. Thompson writes

Don't Become A Fourth Casualty

The holiday is still a week away but there's no time like now to issue the annual warning to motorists to drive with care, turn the wheel over to others if drinking and avoid travel at high speed enroute home or while going to a summer cottage or to visit friends at a resort.

Officials of the AAA warn this year's midweek Fourth of July holiday could well be the most dangerous of any in recent history. An estimated 3.2 million motorists are expected to drive 282.5 million miles over a 30-hour period.

The combination of drivers speeding near their homes and others rushing to resort spots could cause traffic fatalities to soar.

Traffic experts point out that the first danger, near home driving, is confirmed by State Police statistics which show roughly two of every three fatal accidents over the past five years have occurred within 25 miles of the victims' homes.

They expect the average motorists will drive only about 90 miles during the Fourth holiday. This creates a potentially lethal situation since many drivers tend to be more relaxed and less conscious of traffic safety when traveling in familiar surroundings.

In relatively short holidays, such as this one, many drivers will take their families to a camping area the weekend before the Fourth and return home to work Monday and Tuesday.

Tuesday night they'll set out to rejoin the family and possibly they will be less alert than normal due to work fatigue and eagerness to reach their destination.

It's this dangerous after-work situation that is considered responsible for the record death toll last year when 47 fatalities were recorded during the 102-hour holiday period.

This year's holiday officially begins at 6 p.m. Tuesday and ends at midnight, Wednesday, July 4. Traffic experts from the State Police aren't expecting heavy traffic volume over the holiday due to its short duration.

They expect peak travel times will be in the morning and from late afternoon to early evening on Wednesday.

Fears of possible gas shortages should not deter any motorists from traveling.

False alarm over gas shortages has been cited as a main cause behind an estimated 10 per cent drop in tourist trade in the Upper Peninsula. Those close to the situation are quick to point out that the Upper Peninsula is probably in the best shape fuel wise. Many UP stations are operating with an excess of gasoline due to the decline in tourism in early June.

Drivers are warned to stop for gas when fuel tanks are half-empty and fill tanks during daylight hours to avoid searching for an open station at night.

Motorists are urged to concentrate on safe driving, especially by wearing seat belts at all times and by avoiding alcohol. If they do take these precautions, highway travelers could help cut down fatalities by more than 50 per cent, according to State Police.

The State Police will have 20 per cent more officers on duty than on a normal Tuesday and Wednesday. They will concentrate on patrolling high accident areas and easing traffic tie-ups.

But the State Police can't stop accidents and fatalities if motorists don't use caution and safety on the roads. All must cooperate to make the highways safe... many won't and that's why officials know the road toll will be high again.

Don't be one of those who throw caution to the winds and wind up with their names on the casualty lists. Take care and return home alive.

It's Time People Realized Value Of Police Officers

How often do we truly realize the protection and the help given us by our police departments?

While we sit comfortably at home enjoying television, conversation, or whatever, dedicated men are out on the streets guarding us.

Any person who has spent an evening listening to a police radio, begins to realize the extent to which the various units offer assistance and protection.

This is when one realizes the around-the-clock service our police officers afford.

Listening to radio calls, a growing hobby among many of us civilians, can make a person aware of the busy, dangerous life of a policeman.

The officers, who potentially risk their lives in any call they answer, still respond with a true sense of duty.

A call of family trouble, which to the layman might mean a simple spat among husband and wife, could, and has, meant the answering officer faces a gun when he reaches the scene.

The apparent simple job of stopping a motorist for a routine traffic violation, as many officers admit, can turn out to be the most dangerous job he faces. More than one officer has been injured or killed by some maniac sitting behind the stopped car holding a gun.

Calls to police cars range from searching for a missing child, hunting a sick animal, to investigating a robbery.

Emory Daniels Writes

If It's Legal, Then It's Alright

At least a dozen memories flashed through my mind the other week while listening to Sen. Howard Baker (R-Tenn.) grilling Herbert Porter during the U.S. Senate Watergate hearings.

What stood out in the testimony was the distinction between doing what was right and what was legal. Porter's response to Baker had been given to me by others in earlier situations.

There has developed an attitude among some governmental officials that actions are all right if they aren't illegal. That is, anything goes as long as you adhere to the letter of the law. Legality is the sole standard. Morality or propriety are given little thought.

In suburban communities, and in Lansing, the issue often revolves on an alleged conflict of interest. When put to an official, his response invariably will be "an unlawful conflict just doesn't exist" or "there is nothing illegal in my conduct."

A journalist seldom comes out and asks a politician "Are you a crook?" When asking about conflict of interest, for instance, the question is: "Do you think your decision was proper?" Often, however, the politician never sees the distinction and answers: "It is entirely legal."

Inability to discern this difference is also prevalent among citizens. How many have reacted to Watergate by saying: "That's just politics; they all do it." How many will pass over wire-tapping by arguing it's legal, or should be legal?

A return to morality isn't quite the answer. But a return to conscience is a beginning. Another important need, aptly observed by Sen. Baker, is to stand up and speak when something is wrong instead of waiting for the other guy to squawk. Too often, we merely squeak.

A glance back at the recently completed school campaigns provides a good example of an apathetic citizenry. Yes, let the other guy do it and let him do anything providing it's legal.

Officers who are just doing a day's work for a day's pay, never know what the next radio call will bring.

It takes a special breed of man to be a good police officer. It takes a man dedicated to the protection and welfare of others. It takes a man who disregards his own safety for the protection of his fellow man.

Whatever pay an officer receives, it can never really be enough. His post demands much more than the average job. He must put his duty above family, friends, his likes and dislikes.

A police officer's time is not just spent patrolling streets. He must appear in court whenever a case in which he is involved, comes up.

He might be called out for special duty during an emergency. Or, as has been the case many times, be called upon, through his sense of duty, to protect life or property.

The truth is, a police officer is never really off duty. He must be prepared at any hour of the day or night, to step actively into his role as a guardian of peace.

Listening to a police radio, or spending time just listening to an officer discuss his job, is an education. It brings to light the tremendous job police departments are doing for our country. It reveals the dedication, the problems and the frustrations they face.

The next time any of us has a supposed gripe against an officer, for whatever reason, remember, policemen are human beings.

Remember, too, this would be a much more confused and dangerous world if those men in blue weren't out on the streets and highways, standing guard against crime, saving a life, or just offering a helping hand.

If there is such a national gas crisis threatening the country, why are the gas companies asking for rezonings to allow for new stations in the suburbs with so many other stations closed?

HS Grads' Parents Were Rude

EDITOR:
It is said, if you are really angry about something, sleep on it; if when you wake you are still angry, then tell it as it is. The quote may be a little off, but I am still angry.

We attended the graduation of our son from Plymouth High School. Never in my life have I ever been ashamed of so many people at once. The fine, cultural people of Plymouth really outdid themselves. The only thing I could think of, at the time, they reminded me of a herd of cattle going to the barn for their hay.

The evening was beautiful, the program was progressing well, not dragging a bit, and the boys and girls had waited for this special moment for 12 years. But did those fine people sitting in the stands have the courtesy to show respect for the occasion? Not on your life.

When their graduate's name was read, they promptly got up and stamped out of the stands, not even trying to be quiet, or to move quickly out of the vision of the people still waiting. Near me sat a great-grandmother. She had come to see her great-granddaughter graduate, but all she saw was the rear view of rude, inconsiderate people.

Now many of these people were not strangers to me, there were PTA members, a school teacher, some of Plymouth's finest families, or at least I thought they were. I do feel that our school administrators could have alleviated this problem somewhat by asking people to remain seated.

The next time someone remarks that the young people of today do not have good manners, I think I can say that many of them must have learned their poor manners at home.

I want everyone who was guilty of being selfish and inconsiderate to know how one parent felt. I stayed. I didn't walk out.

Befriends Bird In Farmington

EDITOR:
I wonder how many Farmington residents wake each morning to the sounds of birds? I, for one, enjoy their morning songs. But if Farmington is one bird less tomorrow morning, who will care?

While mowing the lawn, a man found a baby robin lying still, eyes closed. He picked it up and fed it water. Noticing a gash under its right wing, the man puzzled over what could be done. His daughter called the nearest veterinarian, who consented to look at it.

When the daughter arrived with her emergency case, the receptionist was busy writing. After a few minutes she finished and looked at the bird. She asked for the girl's last name, stating that there would be a charge before anything could be done for the bird. The girl and her family, being retired and on Social Security, could not pay.

"But it's not my bird," replies the girl.

"Then whose bird is it?"

The girl thought, "Why is it's God's bird, I guess."

The doctor arrives. He examines the bird. To take care of it there will be a charge, but to put it to sleep will cost nothing.

"He is in business here, you know," adds the receptionist. And so the bird is taken into the back room to be put to sleep. The girl leaves, crying, as the doctor checks in a poodle.

Yes, people today are "in business," not the business of saving lives but that of making money.

My story is true. And so tomorrow there will be one less baby robin in Farmington. And who cares? I do.

Defends Dogs In Plymouth

EDITOR:
Recently a family in our neighborhood received a citation, "DOGS RUNNING LOOSE AND EXCESSIVE BARKING." This was very unfair. There are several dogs in our neighborhood and very rarely do you see one running loose.

The two dogs reported are small poodles, house dogs, and are hardly ever out of their own yard. But isn't it terrible, they can't greet their masters when they come home with a friendly bark!

Then on the other hand, the same neighborhood is deluged with cats. My children cannot even play in their own sandbox or playhouse, because cats have used it for their kitty litter box. We have sand around our pool, that was used for the same purpose. We are awakening at night to the sweet tune of cats.

We are badly in need of an ordinance against cats as well as dogs.

Whoever reported these fine little bothersome dogs, must have a very guilty feeling, or no feeling at all.

'Tremendous Lift' Given

EDITOR:
Indian Enterprises' members and affiliates are once again very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Hank Chruscial, the Western Wayne County Conservation Assn. and all the dedicated persons in the Observerland area who made possible last week a shipment of toys, clothing, bicycles, etc. to be delivered to the Indians on the west side of the state.

Some 689 Indian children will receive toys for Christmas because of these people's friendship. This insures the Indian children in Mason, Muskegon and Oceana counties a happy Christmas.

If you could put our thank you in the Observer Newspapers, we would be very grateful as we would like all the persons who are helping to make the program possible. This has been a tremendous lift to the Indian families of our area.

Despite Honors, Adams' Work Not Done

By CORINNE ABATT

The 30-foot house trailer belonging to Schoolcraft College's Jon Adams, dean of applied sciences, is parked on campus behind one of the buildings.

He and his wife will soon hook it up and drive off and head for, as the retiring administrator says, "I don't know where."

It could be in the direction of Denver, Colo., where Adams has a son and daughter-in-law, the country he and his wife love.

In the past few weeks he has received many honors,

"There is a place for women in drafting. I would think a fourth could be women in all drafting areas. In electronics, we've never had any women, yet this is a tremendous area for women."

He mentions the need for strengths in math, something many women have, and the manual part which they could handle very well.

"Metallurgy is another field which women could get into, yet we've never had a woman in the courses."

He is disappointed that more women are not made aware of these opportunities which do not require any particular strength and offer good career possibilities.

The problem is that most people do not understand what is involved in some of these highly specialized areas.

One novel way to meet the problem was a result of brainstorming by several administrators. The college offers a special course which enables a student to spend one week in almost every phase of the applied sciences, to get a taste of each civil technology, architecture, automotive service, electronics, electromedical, drafting, metallurgy, and more.

At the end of the semester his interests and aptitudes are evaluated. The course is open to high school students as well as those enrolled in the college.

The retiring dean can only wish that many more young people, men and women, could be aware of the career opportunities available in some of the lesser known technical fields.

He mentions the associate degree in biomedical equipment technology (BMET) which provides training in the maintenance and service of medical electronic equipment used in hospitals and laboratories, medical record technology or medical laboratory technology. Surely, he surmises, some of those 400 women waiting to get into the nursing courses, would find these areas equally rewarding.

The dean has been involved in the areas of vocational training for a good portion of his life, both theoretical and practical.

He worked in industry for eight years after graduating from high school in Green Bay, Wis. He completed his college work for a bachelor's degree in industrial education at Wisconsin State University in 1934, took courses at other universities and finished his master's in industrial education at Bradley University in 1955.

But during all this, the career was in full swing. Before coming to Schoolcraft, he was regional representative for the U.S. Office of Education, Manpower Development and Training Program, and before that he served as dean at Ferris State College. He built the trade-technical division to one that has received national recognition.

Earlier he was a supervisor of the Vocational Technical Institute of Southern Illinois University, state supervisor of Trade and Industrial Education for the State of Illinois and a high school teacher in two schools in Illinois.

He also has served as a member and officer in many national organizations, author of more than 50 published articles and consultant for state and national committees, the most recent of which is the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Assn. committee to finalize the new "Standards For Automotive Service and Service Management Programs."

Some 200 friends and associates from all over the state gathered at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth last week to say goodbye. Dr. C. Nelson Grote, Schoolcraft's president was master of ceremonies. Dr. Harold Sponberg, president of Eastern Michigan University, was the speaker.

The college recently granted Adams emeritus rank, yet few really believe that retirement for Dean Adams will ever become a total way of life.

His wife doesn't believe it, and neither would anyone else who has talked about the future of vocational education with him as he strides through the labs, checking and explaining the elaborate equipment, the computers and data processing machinery, the machines for cutting steel, and those which diagnose automotive engine malfunctions in a matter of minutes.

No, no one who really knows Jon Adams believes he can completely detach himself from an area that has been his first love and deep commitment.

Area State Reps Say 'Nay' But House OKs Betting Bill

LANING Only one local state representative supported a bill to permit off-track betting in Michigan which narrowly passed the House last week.

State Rep. Thomas Brown (D-Westland) voted for the bill, which would give counties the option of permitting off-track betting.

Voting against the bill were Reps. William Keith (D-Garden City), R. Robert Geake (R-Northville), John Bennett (D-Redford Township), John Markes (D-Westland), Raymond Smit (R-Ann Arbor), Raymond Baker (R-Farmington) and Joseph Forbes (D-Oak Park).

The bill cleared the House on a 58-45 vote (56 votes are needed for passage) and was referred to the Senate. The House has passed off-track betting bills in 1970 and 1971, but they died in the Senate. In 1972, the House defeated a similar bill.

Sponsored by Rep. George Montgomery (D-Detroit), the bill gives county commissioners the power to allow off-track betting in their area.

Birthright Offers Help, Not Controversy

By MARGARET MILLER

The office of Birthright of Western Wayne County is a couple of rooms over a Garden City jewelry store.

The furnishings are makeshift—all donations.

But over the big desk where the telephone sits, there hangs a huge felt banner with the legend "Nothing Makes Sense Unless You Love."

Those words sum up the attitude of the young women who head this organization's new branch in the Observer area.

Marie Gonzales of Garden City and Nancy Austin of Plymouth can only be described as a serene contrast to those who loudly and bitterly argue both sides of the abortion question.

"We're just here to help," said Mrs. Gonzales, director. "We want to offer a listening ear and a helping hand to all involved in problem pregnancies."

Birthright is an organization that has for several years operated an office in Royal Oak.

Its name defines it as an alternative to abortion. But both leaders emphasize they are ready to listen to anyone, no matter what course of action may be considered.

Among the first couples to come to the office that opened June 4 at Middle Belt and Ford Roads was a young couple seeking a free pregnancy test, one of the services offered.

"They told me they had decided on an abortion if it turned out the girl was pregnant," Mrs. Gonzales said. "She wasn't, so no problem. But we'd never turn anyone away."

Marie Gonzales and her husband, Frank, had been volunteer workers in the Royal Oak office of Birthright for some time when plans began for an office in this area.

Working with Dr. Richard Janes of Garden City, Mrs. Gonzales began a search for a local office "because there is a need in this area."

"I did a lot of walking up and down Ford Road before I found a suitable place," she said. The office she located then was furnished with donations from interested persons. Since it opened, it has been staffed by volunteers and funded through contributions.

Mrs. Austin, who first heard about Birthright through a television commercial, joined as co-director.

Services of Birthright are open to both married and single women, Mrs. Gonzales said.

A woman needing help can call the new Birthright number at any time, and the call will be relayed to a volunteer on a 24-hour basis.

Visits to the Garden City office can be made from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday, or during the evening by appointment.

Mrs. Gonzales is on hand during most of those hours.

and Mrs. Austin, mother of three small children, comes in part of each week. About 30 volunteers assist in the many jobs that must be done, and more are needed.

"We offer counseling on a limited basis and can put people in touch with all sorts of agencies that can help," Mrs. Gonzales said. Some of those she listed as Wayne County Social Services, Catholic Social Services, the Methodist Children's Home and Merillac Hall.

"People get into such a worried state they don't know where to turn," Mrs. Austin said. "We can help sort out what they need."

A supply of maternity clothing and baby clothing and equipment also is being gathered by Birthright to give to those who need it.

Dr. Janes is on the Birthright board of directors, along with Mrs. Gonzales and Mrs. Austin and her husband, Frank. Other directors are Municipal Judge Richard L. Hammer, the Rev. Franklin Williams and Patrick J. Doyle.

Birthright's telephone number is 422-3220. Its address is 2240 Middle Belt, Garden City, and contributions can be mailed to Birthright of Western Wayne County.

There are no fees, Mrs. Gonzales said, and no eligibility requirements, either for volunteers or those seeking help.

"We would never ask 'Where do you live?'" she added. "And we keep confidential all we are told. We are not here to tell these girls what to do. We're here to listen—and to educate—and to help."

Punning is a favorite pastime for assorted members of our family.

The man of the house long ago established a reputation for pulling off some gems in the city room of the newspaper where he works, and the girls have acquired minor fame among their contemporaries for twisting words.

I try too, but I must confess my efforts are greeted oftener by groans than by appreciation. I really wish I could claim the Watergate pun I must attribute to No. 3 daughter. Her younger sister asked if the president would be impeached. "More likely impaired," she said.

Anyway, home conversations often get caught up in a rapid crossfire of puns, and I suggested that the girls get some of these into writing.

"You know we can't do that, Mother," they told me. "It has to be spontaneous."

I had to agree, and I didn't have to wait long for that spontaneity.

One daughter appeared that evening in the new skirt she was making. She handed me a box of pins.

"I suppose you want me to pin that up," I suggested.

"So it seems," her sister put in quickly.

"You're getting the thread of the idea," Her father was into the act.

"Stop needing her," someone else added.

"Plenty of good material here."

"AHEM!"

Of course, by that time someone thought I should be writing things down.

"I'm pinning up this hem," I pointed out. "I can't write with a pin."

"Of course you can," came the answer, "but sometimes you use a pencil."

I give up. I can't compete. But I'll report the conversation just for the pun of it.

Miss Centerfold-- Girl Next Door?

You might think of the current centerfold girl of a well-known magazine as Farmington's girl-next-door.

Well, not really. You don't chalk up a few years of professional modeling and selection for a centerfold and come out looking like anybody's girl next door.

Martha Smith is definitely the polished model.

But in her outlook and conversation, you also recognize the North Farmington High student, MSU coed and Northville State Hospital volunteer that she was just a few years back.

Modeling for the full-length picture has brought "no regrets—not even for a minute," she said.

The boost it will give her modeling career—and her hopes for eventual work on the other side of the camera—are well worth it, she believes.

"After all this blows over," she said, "I want to get into a studio for some practical photographic work and maybe eventually have my own studio."

More immediately, she'd like to use part of the $5,000 fee that goes with the centerfold posing for a trip to Europe.

But both of those ambitions wait until after she finishes a round of personal appearances in connection with the magazine picture.

"Those can be a lot tougher than camera work," she said. "I wouldn't have believed it, but it's kind of hard to smile all day."

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, are taking her new status "in stride," Martha said.

"I think they have mixed emotions," she added. "There are a lot of old taboos to shake off, but I think they also are kind of proud."

Martha did some posing for trial shots before she thought she was being very seriously considered for the centerfold.

"Then when I got a call and was told I'd made it I had some fast decision-making to do."

MAEDC Has New Brochure

The Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children has just issued a new publication, the MAEDC "Questions and Answers" brochure.

Designed and illustrated by Michael Reed, one of MAEDC's Christmas card artists, the booklet discusses questions most often asked about the needs of Michigan's emotionally disturbed children.

They are available from MAEDC, 668 Pallister, Detroit, 48202.

The Redford chapter of the association received 52 new memberships during the spring, and is seeking more. Myles F. Armour is the president and Mrs. Armour is the treasurer. Interested persons may contact the association.

MAEDC is a citizens' organization which has as its sole concern the welfare of the disturbed child. It is organized by parents, professional and other interested citizens.

MARTHA SMITH'S visit to the Observer office meant plenty of photographic activity. This was Bob Woodring's favorite of the pictures he took.

Upset By Kids' Yelling? Their Voices Suffer Too

If your children's shouting and yelling shoots your nerves in the summer, give a thought to their vocal chords. They develop callouses.

That's no joke, said Beverly Selden, who is voice specialist for the Oakland Schools.

"Voice problems breed in summer, particularly the kind of damp summer that seems ahead," explained Mrs. Selden, who conducts six to eight clinics a year for children with chronically hoarse or harsh voices.

"Kids shout at ball games, around swimming pools, in backyard play. They talk over the noise of TV sets, household appliances, and their brothers and sisters in the house."

"By the time the summer is over, callouses, or nodules, have formed on the vocal chords. The kind of chill, damp weather we have had this spring aggravates throat irritation which, in some cases, hastens the formation of nodules."

During the school year, some 200 children whose voices are chronically hoarse or harsh are identified by their classroom teachers and referred by the speech clinician at their school to Oakland Schools voice clinic.

With their parents and the school speech clinicians, Mrs. Selden outlines a voice retraining program for the children. Six to eight months later the children are reevaluated.

In most cases, the nodules have disappeared and the voice becomes normal. Some specialists estimate that seven per cent of school children have nodules on their vocal chords.

By insisting on quieter speaking voices, parents can help prevent the formation of callouses on their children's vocal chords at the same time they are preventing damage to their own nervous systems, Mrs. Selden said.

She agreed it was impractical to expect a little leaguer not to root for his team, even if the enthusiasm did damage his vocal chords.

"Kids don't have to be quiet at ball games," she said. "They can whistle. Whistling doesn't involve the vocal chords. Whistles are just as distinctive as voices. Everyone's whistle tone and pitch is different.

"There are pursed lip whistles, whistles through the teeth, through cupped hands, and the loudest of all, the fingers in the mouth whistle. If all else fails, you can even buy a whistle for 10 cents."

What do the whistles do to parent's nerves?

"A parent can get awfully nervous nagging and worrying about something he can't control," she replied.

"Parents can exercise more control in the house. They can speak softly themselves so the child is invited to reply softly. The noise level in the house can be kept low, so that the child is not tempted to speak over it."

Seminar Deals With Concerns Of Women

Education, economics, family and jobs — all as they involve women — will be the topics for a seminar set Saturday, June 30, in the YWCA Northwest Branch, 25940 Grand River, Redford Township.

Sponsored by the 17th Congressional District Women's Democratic Caucus, it invites women of all political parties to participate.

The gathering, scheduled from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., will be an overall discussion of women's concerns, said Mrs. Barbara Ramsay of Redford Township, chairman.

"We don't want to get into controversial topics like abortion and busing," she added.

"It's an attempt to share with others what some of us have already learned — that when women put their heads together a lot can be accomplished."

Limited nursery facilities will be available, and sandwiches and beverage may be purchased.

No reservations are needed for the conference, but women interested in making use of the nursery should call Mrs. Ramsay, 20524 Denby, Redford Township.

Mrs. Cathy Angelica of Detroit, heading program arrangements for the seminar, said there would be several speakers for the various workshops.

Sharon Kennedy of the Michigan Department of civil rights will lead discussions on working women.

The workshop on women and economics will hear from Esther Shapiro, consumer specialist for the Michigan Credit Union League, and Milly Rawlson, Redford Township resident active in the Business and Professional Women's organization.

Maryann Mahaffey, a member of the Detroit mayor's task force on hunger and a professional social worker, will talk about family relationships, and the resource persons on education will be Joan Keller and Cindy Hawkins, both of Detroit.

MRS. JOSEPH P. GLYNN (Linda Dorian)

Glynn-Dorian Vows Spoken

Linda Dorian and Joseph P. Glynn were united in marriage in a late afternoon ceremony June 23 in St. John Armenian Church in Southfield.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dorian of Summers Avenue, Livonia. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Glynn of Flint are the bridegroom's parents.

The Very Rev. Paren Avedikian officiated for the ceremony, and the bride's father escorted her to the altar.

She wore a gown of ivory peau d'ange with matching lace trimming her long mantilla. Her flowers were roses, stephanotis and baby's breath in a cascade arrangement.

Seven attendants in pink floor-length gowns preceded her down the aisle. Small Victoria Pilgian and Tamara Apple of Livonia were candle girls.

Westland Pair Renews Nuptial Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Albert De Hetre, 34617 Sheridan, Westland, returned to St. Mary Catholic Church in Wayne last Friday night to repeat the marriage vows they first spoke there 35 years ago.

It was an unusual setting with their seven children and 18 grandchildren present for the ceremony.

Following the speaking of the vows the happy couple were guests of their children at an anniversary dinner at the Boardwalk.

Aside from the many gifts and the well wishes of their many friends, Mr. and Mrs. De Hetre also received a letter of congratulation from President Richard Nixon and another from Westland Mayor Eugene McKinney.

Carrying baskets of pink carnations, daisies and baby's breath were Diane Dorian, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Debbie and Julie Dorian, July Glynn, Charlene Balosky and Cheryl Nenedic.

Frank Glynn was best man for his brother. The ushers were three other brothers, Timothy, Terry and Tom, Anthony Abruzzo and Steve Moffat.

The newlyweds will live in Rochester, N.Y.

Both are 1973 graduates of Michigan State University, the new Mrs. Glynn in elementary education and her husband in electrical engineering.

Oakland Y Starts Summer Classes

Registrations for summer classes are now being taken at the Oakland Branch YWCA, 839 S. Crooks, Clawson.

Classes being organized include beginner tennis lessons and advanced beginner tennis, both available in the day and early evening.

Physical education classes include yoga on Wednesday morning or Thursday evening, a shape-up with exercise class on Monday evening, and a balletic exercise class on Wednesday afternoon.

Registrations are also being accepted for summer golf league. The league plays on Friday at Normandy Oaks Golf Club in Royal Oak.

Wednesday ladies day morning classes include a book review series, led by Mrs. Arlene Smoot, interpretive art with Mrs. Ruth Jones, sand candles with Mrs. Bertha Trost and belly dance lessons.

The afternoon classes are duplicate bridge with Mrs. Esther Samuel; chair caning with Mrs. Bertha Trost and a five session class in a "hanging garden" completing a ceramic and macrame garden to hang inside.

Evening classes include basic guitar, needles unlimited, protective car care, decoupage, a sewing workshop, papier tole, and a sewing class to make and fit a body shirt.

Fishers Plan Party June 30

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fisher, 29253 Lyndon, Livonia, are entertaining friends Saturday, June 30, on the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary.

The Fishers have been Livonia residents for the past nine years. Before that, they lived in Redford Township. They were married June 27, 1938.

Couple Honeymoon In Greece

Following a reception for their friends in the Club Bouzooki in Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nittis are planning to leave on a month-long honeymoon in Greece.

They were married June 5 in a civil ceremony performed by Judge Wilham O'Hara of Detroit.

The bride is the former Bobbi Anne Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Smith of Manning Road, Farmington, and the bridegroom is the nephew of Dr. Savas Nittis of New York City.

When they return from their honeymoon, the couple will reside in their new townhouse in Hyde Park in the Lafayette Park section of Detroit.

The bride is a marketing analyst for United Delco in the General Motors Building. The bridegroom is owner of the Club Bouzooki and a styling engineer at the General Motors Technical Center.

Seminar On Alcoholism Set At Mercy College

"The Family Involvement" will be the theme of a day long seminar on alcoholism, Friday, June 29, at Mercy College of Detroit.

The event is being scheduled in honor of the United Foundation's Alcoholism Detection Week, which is co-sponsored by the National Council on Alcoholism, Greater Detroit Area. The council is a Torch Drive supported agency.

Michigan Governor William G. Milliken and Detroit Mayor Roman S. Gribbs have declared June 25-July 1 Alcoholism Detection Week.

In their proclamations both officials state that alcoholism is the most serious drug problem existing in our society today in terms of number of victims, physical damage to the body and its organs, and cost to society.

Both state that alcoholism ranks among the major national health threats, along with cancer, heart disease and mental illness.

And both conclude in their proclamations that alcoholism can be curbed and abetted by making people aware of its symptoms and encouraging alcoholics to seek aid.

The program, being held in the college's Conference Center, will include a movie, "The Summer We Moved to Elm Street"; a panel discussion led by alcoholism therapists; and a presentation by Alanon, Alateen, and Alcoholics Anonymous.

The day will be capped by a play, put on by boys from the Catholic Youth Organization, a Torch Drive service, entitled "Criminal Concealment of the Alcoholic."

The play begins at 7:30 p.m. Price for admission is $1 per family, and the entire day is open to the public and is intended for general audiences. Mercy College is located at 8200 West Outer Drive, Detroit 48219.

Activities run continuously from 9 a.m.-7:30 p.m., with breaks for coffee, lunch, and dinner.

MRS. WALTER JEFFERSON WILLOUGHBY JR. (Karolyn Yuille)

Flint Church Is Setting

Walter Jefferson Willoughby Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Willoughby of Farmersville Avenue, Farmington, claimed Karolyn Beth Yuille as his bride in a June 23 ceremony in Flint.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon P. Yuille of Flint.

Vows were spoken in the Asbury United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Alfred C. Fennell officiating.

The bride, given by her father in marriage, wore a Victorian gown with high ruffled neckline and a broad-brimmed hat with attached veil. She carried a white basket of yellow rosebuds and shasta daisies with baby's breath.

Five attendants wore yellow dotted swiss dresses with long sleeves, high ruffled necklines and empire waists. Their yellow brimmed hats were trimmed with daisies, and they carried variegated flowers in white baskets.

Nancy Davis of Linden was maid of honor.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Patricia Thompson of Flint, Ellen Rockafellow of Clio, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Sharon Yuille and Mrs. Patricia Yuille of Flint, sisters-in-law of the bride.

Thomas Gaylord of Ann Arbor was best man. Seating the guests were the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Dr. Karl Reichardt of Lansing, Robert Swanson of Esc-

Zontas Elect

Barbara Geil, director of admissions at Schoolcraft College, Livonia, has been elected corresponding secretary of the Zonta Club of Detroit.

Two Livonians have also been elected directors of the club. They are Lillian Carroll, assistant secretary of Detroit Edison, and Dorothy Finzel, branch manager, Detroit Bank and Trust.

naba, Lawrence Ryand of Ann Arbor and Bram Smith of Taylor.

Richard Yuille of Flint, the bride's nephew, was ring-bearer.

The reception was a buffet dinner served in the church fellowship hall and the newlyweds went to northern Michigan for their honeymoon.

They will live in the Detroit area while the bridegroom continues his medical studies at Wayne State University. The new Mrs. Willoughby graduated this month from Michigan State University with a degree in special education for the mentally handicapped.

Bride 'Borrows' Sweetheart Pin

Patricia Darling Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Harry Daniels of Trenton Court, Farmington, pinned the Alpha Phi Omega sweetheart pin to her silk organza gown when she became the bride of James Allen Gottfried June 23.

The fraternity pin is passed each year to the girl selected as sweetheart.

The bride also wore an heirloom bracelet watch that had belonged to her grandmother, Mrs. John Alatalo.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gottfried of Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

The ceremony took place in St. James Lutheran Church of Detroit with the Rev. Darwin E. Wilson officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Victorian gown with venise lace in a daisy pattern. Flounces formed cuffs on the full bishop sleeves and edged the skirt and chapel train. The bride's cathedral veil fell from a face-framing lace headpiece, and she carried pink and white sweetheart roses.

Terri Murtland of Farmington was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Lynne Menger of Cleveland, Pamela Graham of Midland, Anita Sites of Columbus, Ohio and Georgia Gottfried of Upper Sandusky, the bridegroom's sister-in-law.

They wore lavender blue floral chiffon gowns with matching picture hats and carried victorian bouquets in shades of lavender, pink and white.

Assisting the bridegroom were Larry Swidzinski of Columbus as best man and ushers Dan Daniels of Farmington, brother of the bride, Tom and Curt Gottfried of Upper Sandusky, brothers of the bridegroom, and David Sites of Columbus.

Mrs. Daniels wore a powder blue chiffon gown with beaded bodice and Mrs. Gottfried's gown was pink.

After greeting 250 guests at a Bonnie Brook Country Club reception, the newlyweds left for a trip through the Blue Ridge Mountains to Williamsburg.

Dessert Pizza Scores After Golf

It is of little consolation to golf widows across the nation that one of the important figures in golf's history was a woman—a Scotch lady of royal blood.

King James IV would have been delighted to know that his granddaughter, Mary, loved to play "golfe" as much as he did.

When she was sent to France to be educated, Mary kept swinging while French youths, whom she called "cadets" (pronounced caddy) chased her golf balls.

Upon her return to Scotland, "cadets" was adapted to "golfe" terminology and the spelling was changed to caddy.

Mary, who became Queen of Scots, continued to play golf openly. It was during her reign that the famous St. Andrew's of Scotland golf course was founded.

Maybe this weekend your husband will ask you to join a foursome with the boss and his wife.

Don't start fretting about your form before you even tee off. Instead, practice for your shining hour—the apres golf activities.

When you're ready to swing at the ball, cleverly divert everyone's attention by inviting them to your place for Dessert Pizza.

Delicious Dessert Pizza has a bake-ahead crust that's so buttery light it tastes like a cookie.

The summer fruit filling can be ready to be quickly assembled after the 18th hole. Just spread juicy a sprinkling of chewy coconut on the cookie crust. Then add the crunch of chopped pecans plus lots of luscious, freshly-sliced strawberries.

Give the pizza a glamorous glaze with melted strawberry jelly.

The basic Dessert Pizza recipe can be varied with different seasonal fruit. Sweetened dairy sour cream gives zing to fresh peach slices and pineapple chunks for a peach of a pizza.

Or top the cookie crust with a tempting banana nut combination featuring marshmallow creme, peanut butter, sliced banana and chocolate and crown each wedge with cool, creamy vanilla ice cream.

DESSERT PIZZA CRUST:
¾ c (1½ sticks) butter
¾ c. sugar
½ t. salt
2½ c. all-purpose flour
4 T. milk

FILLING:
1¾ c. (1 lb. 4½ oz. can) crushed pineapple, drained

¾ c. flaked coconut
¾ c. chopped pecans
1½ c. sliced strawberries
1 c. strawberry jelly, melted

To prepare crust: In a mixing bowl cream together butter, sugar, and salt; gradually add flour. Add milk, a tablespoon at a time. Turn dough onto 12-inch diameter buttered pizza pan and pat dough out to cover pan. Crimp edges. Bake in preheated 400-degree oven, 15-18 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool on wire rack.

To prepare filling: Over crust spread pineapple, sprinkle coconut, pecans and then arrange strawberries. Drizzle melted jelly over. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 8-10 servings.

Note: If a pizza pan is not available, shape a pan using double thickness of heavy aluminum foil and place on baking shell to bake crust.

FILLING VARIATIONS:
PEACH:
Into one cup dairy sour cream gently stir 2 T. sugar. Spread sour cream over cooled crust; then ¾ c. (8 oz.) drained crushed pineapple. Top with 2 c. sliced slightly sweetened peaches and 1 c. blueberries.

BANANA NUT:
In a mixing bowl blend ½ c. marshmallow creme, ¼ c. crunchy peanut butter, and 2 T. milk. Spread over cooled crust. Just before serving top with 2 bananas, thinly sliced. Cut into wedges. Place a scoop of vanilla ice cream atop each serving. Drizzle chocolate sauce or chocolate mocha sauce (1 t. instant coffee dissolved into ½ c. hot chocolate sauce and cooled) over ice cream. Serve immediately.

372 Girl Scouts From Livonia Join Encampment

After five months of training and preparation, a neighborhood-wide camping dream finally came true for 372 Livonia Girl Scouts and their leaders.

The group, all members of Neighborhood 48 of the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit (GSMD), recently spent a weekend of primitive camping at Girl Scout Camp Innisfree.

This outing was one of the first camping trips planned for an entire neighborhood in the GSMD Council. Usually a troop goes camping on an individual basis.

Mrs. Roberta Spencer, chairman of Neighborhood 48, called the encampment "a tremendous success."

"It gave every Scout in the neighborhood an opportunity to experience primitive camping," she added. "We hope other neighborhoods in the Council will follow our lead and plan a camping weekend."

Preparation for the encampment began last January when 24 adults who volunteered to serve as unit leaders were given a six-week in-depth camp training course.

These unit leaders then passed on their camping skills training to their Senior and Cadette Scouts.

The entire group of weekend campers, including 101 Brownies who had never camped before, was divided into 12 units. Two adults, one Senior and two Cadette Scouts were assigned to supervise each unit.

"One of the purposes of our weekend encampment was to give the Scouts and leaders an opportunity to meet others from throughout the neighborhood," added Mrs. Spencer.

"This is why the units were mixed with girls of every age level and from different schools and areas.

"We all worked very hard on this camping trip, but we think our efforts were well worth all the fun and outdoor experiences the girls enjoyed," she said. "In fact, we're already planning next year's neighborhood encampment."

In addition to Mrs. Spencer, other Livonia volunteers responsible for planning the outing are Barb Stewart, Laura Kraft, and Helen Mueller, who also served as camp nurse. Pat Holden, GSMD field executive, assisted with coordination.

MRS. JED L. NORDEN
(Paula Jean Roberts)

Paula Roberts Jed Norden, Wed

Paula Jean Roberts and Jed L. Norden were united in marriage in a recent candle-light ceremony at St. Paul's United Presbyterian Church. Dr. William Whitledge officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roberts of Livonia. Mr. and Mrs.

Gordon Norden, also of Livonia, are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride, given by her father in marriage, wore a white satin organza gown with full bishop sleeves. The tucked organza bodice and front panel were trimmed with alencon and venise lace and a flounce circled the bottom of the full skirt and attached chapel train.

Her face-framing headpiece of lace and organza held her imported silk illusion veil. She carried a Flemish bouquet of pink roses, miniature pink carnations, stephanotis, and baby's breath.

Four bridal attendants wore identical gowns of white eyelet over hot pink taffeta with high necklines and long full sleeves. They carried white baskets of assorted spring flowers in shades of pink.

Mrs. Thomas Moore, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gaetano Rizzo, another sister; Tammy Norden, sister of the bridegroom; and Cathy Stabnau.

William Blacklock assisted the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Paul Norden, brother of the bridegroom; Thomas Sacharski; Michael McIntyre; and Daniel Roberts and David Roberts, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Roberts selected a floor-length gown of ivory chiffon. Mrs. Norden's floor-length gown was blue linen and floral chiffon.

The reception for 150 guests was held at the Thunderbird Hilton Inn immediately following the ceremony.

The couple honeymooned in Jamaica and will make their home in Plymouth.

A Different Kind Of Camp Reopens

Summer vacation can become boring for most kids, but for 60 physically handicapped youngsters, today marked the start of a rewarding, educational and fun-filled summer as the annual summer day camp for crippled children operated by the Wayne County Easter Seal Society.

Marie Neu, of Westland, Michigan's 1973 Junior Miss and Earl Morrall, quarterback for the Miami Dolphins and an honorary Easter Seal chairman, were invited to help the campers and staff begin their summer program with a festive touch.

The eight-week camp, which is operated on the grounds of the Easter Seal Center in Inkster, will run through July 31 for youngsters five to 12 years followed with a two weeks session in August for crippled teenagers.

The camp is designed to help maintain the skills of the participants developed during the regular school year and provides a means for the youngsters to keep active during the summer months.

The camp offers a variety of activities geared toward developing strong character and self-sufficiency.

"The teens help plan their own activities. These include nature study, music, art, dramatics, athletics, crafts and special events with field trips ranging from visiting a farm or museum to watching a Detroit Lions practice session.

This is the fifth year as camp director for George Winfield, a Wyandotte special education teacher. Assisting him is the Easter Seal staff and teachers, with added help from 30 teen and college student volunteers.

At the opening ceremonies, Hugh Allan Hodges, executive director of the society, noted that "this camp means as much as Christmas to the kids who attend. It is through the generous efforts of all our kind contributors who make such a worthwhile project possible."

Student Gets Golden Grants

Three recent high school graduates, one each from Wayne, Oakland and Monroe counties, have been awarded $500 scholarships for 1973 from the Dr. and Mrs. Donald L. Golden Foundation.

The annual grants from the director of the Detroit Optometric Centers went to Carol Leslie O'Donoghue of Waterford, Sylvester J. Onger of Mt. Clemens, and Christina Marie Florkowski of Detroit.

DEBBIE DIEGEL, 7, of Livonia (second from left) gets some help from a teenage volunteer as a baseball practice starts in the opening of the summer day camp sponsored by the Wayne County Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The camp, located in the society's activities center in Inkster, will run for six weeks for children three to 12 years old. (Observer photo by Leonard Poger)

Drug Unit Richer By $126,000

The Community Commission on Drug Abuse will get $126,000 to finance crisis centers in Livonia and Westland and a program for detection and treatment of addicts, according to Wayne County Commissioner Mary Dumas (R-Livonia).

Mrs. Dumas and Commissioner Tom Taylor (D-Westland) helped obtain release of the funds after a mixup in the Wayne County

The funds are part of a $1.9 million federal grant to Wayne County for drug programs.

The Michigan Legislature is expected to act on a bill to put all drug and alcohol abuse programs under the jurisdiction of the State Department of Health through a new Commission on Drug and Alcohol Abuse. Mrs. Dumas said.

THREE RESIDENTS of the Plymouth Center for Human Development helped pick up litter along Sheldon Road last week with help from staff members, including Bridie Saunders (left). The students, participants in the vocational program, were rewarded with a picnic.

State Home's Name Changed

In an effort to erase the stigma attached to homes for the mentally retarded, the Plymouth State Home and Training School's name will officially change to the "Plymouth Center for Human Development" on July 1.

The Northville Township institution for the retarded is one of eight state facilities which will undergo name changes on that date.

The changes were approved by the State Legislature earlier this year to reflect changes in treatment of the mentally ill and to remove the stigmas attached to the institutions.

"The main reason for the changes was to lift the stigma in later life for one who had been confined in a state hospital - a recognized synonym for what was once called an insane asylum or a state home and training school," said Dr. William Womack, superintendent of the center.

Besides, in some cases, the names are becoming somewhat of a misnomer. Starting next fall, intermediate school districts will be taking over the education and training of about 20 percent of the children now assigned to state homes and training schools.

WSU Offers Financial Aid

Deadline for full-time students seeking financial assistance for study at Wayne State University during the 1973-74 school year is Friday, June 29.

Harvey P. Grottrian, director of the office of scholarships and financial aids at WSU, said applications may be obtained at his office, Room 222 Administrative Services Building 2, Cass and Antoinette.

Financial aid will be available to eligible students beginning with the fall quarter in September.

Kids Invited For High Ride On Elephant

Kids up to 80 years of age will have an opportunity to enjoy real, live elephant rides at Wonderland Center, Plymouth at Middle Belt, Livonia, Saturday, June 30 through Tuesday, July 3.

"Packi the Taxi," a two-ton female Asian elephant, will be available for boarding at the west end of Wonderland Mall 10 a.m. to noon, 2 to 4 p.m., and 6 to 8 p.m. daily; and from noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday. Ride tickets are 25 cents each.

Equipped with a howdah which is reached by a ramp ladder, Packi can carry three adults or five children.

Comfort

A key to comfort is insulation. If your home has insulation, you can forget about cold floors, cold walls and chilly corners. Insulation slows down heat loss through walls and ceilings. At the same time, it helps keep cold air from seeping in. And, for summertime comfort, the same insulation that keeps the heated air in for winter warmth, keeps the hot air out. Insulation provides additional bonuses - a more uniform temperature and a quieter home - helps keep outside noises out. Weather stripping, storm windows and doors, or insulating glass all help reduce heat loss, too. So, when you insulate, you're providing a more comfortable home for you and your family.

2 WAYS TO LOOK AT INSULATION

Savings

What about savings? Since insulation helps keep heat from escaping and the cold from seeping in, it follows that it takes less fuel to keep an insulated home warm. (In fact, proper insulation could reduce your heating bill as much as one-third.) Insulation pays year-around dividends because the same insulation that saves you money on fuel costs for winter warmth, saves you money on cooling costs. Insulation keeps your heating and cooling equipment from working overtime. It reduces maintenance and assures a more efficient operation and longer life. Proper insulation pays for itself through lower fuel bills and, at the same time, helps you conserve precious energy.

Proper Insulation pays for itself in comfort and through savings

BALD MOUNTAIN
RECREATION AREA

JUST 33 MILES FROM DOWNTOWN DETROIT IS A MOSTLY UNDEVELOPED STATE PARK WHERE YOU CAN FISH TROUT IN A STREAM, CATCH PAN-FISH, CAMP, HIKE AND STUDY NATURE AND STILL HAVE ALL THE ATTRACTIONS OF METROPOLITAN DETROIT - INCLUDING THE INSTITUTE OF ARTS, BOB-LO TRIPS ON THE DETROIT RIVER AND GREENFIELD VILLAGE. ALTHOUGH AMONG THE LARGER STATE PARKS IN SIZE, MUCH OF BALD MOUNTAIN RECREATION AREA IS UNDEVELOPED. THE 80 CAMPSITES ARE PRIMITIVE, WITHOUT ELECTRICITY. THE 3,024 ACRES OFFER PICTURESQUE LAKES, STREAMS, DENSE WOODS, SCENIC HILLS, WOODED DRIVES. HIKING TRAILS MAKE THE PARK IDEAL FOR NATURE STUDY AND DAY USE BY YOUTH GROUPS. THE PARK IS IN OAKLAND COUNTY, SEVEN MILES NORTH OF PONTIAC, EAST OF M-24.

FOR MAXIMUM SAFETY, BE SURE YOUR TRAILER HITCH IS PROPERLY BOLTED TO THE CAR FRAME, HAS CORRECT COUPLING AND STURDY SAFETY CHAINS. FOR ORDINARY LOADS, A WELL-ENGINEERED HITCH, WELDED OR LOCK-NUT BOLTED TO THE FRAME, WILL DO. HEAVIER LOADS REQUIRE SPECIAL HITCHES FOR LOAD-LEVELING OR LOAD-EQUALIZING.

County Exec Bill Gains Support

A bill to enable the voters to modernize their county governments was moved into position for adoption after officials of major counties endorsed the bill. Chief sponsor is State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth).

The bill would permit the creation of a county executive office and the reorganization of the county structure.

The House Towns and Counties Committee sent the measure, Senate Bill 229, to the House floor by a 7-4 vote June 21, after holding a hearing in Detroit.

Officials of Wayne, Jackson and Bay counties supported the bill at the June 18 hearing in the City-County Building auditorium. The Senate passed the measure by a 30-3 vote last April.

The bill also was endorsed by representatives of the Leagues of Women Voters of Michigan, the Oakland County Democratic Party and a citizens' group called New County, Michigan, Inc.

Macomb County was the only county represented which opposed the measure.

Senate Bill 229 would permit the voters of a county to elect a county executive with powers similar to a strong mayor or to authorize the County Board of Commissioners to appoint a county manager.

The measure, known as the Optional County Form of Government bill, also would permit the streamlining of the county structure. Major departments would be under the direction of the executive or manager and the number of appointed boards and commissions would be limited to those specified in the act.

In testifying before the House committee, Wayne County Commissioner Paul Silver declared that "the present structure of county government in Michigan is out-moded and badly in need of modernization."

He said the problem is particularly acute in large, urban counties such as Wayne, and noted that efforts to improve the county structure have been under way "for approximately half a century."

Silver described the lack of a single executive office as "the single worst flaw in the county structure." He noted that all other levels of government, plus virtually all private organizations, have a chief executive.

However, Silver described the bill as "less than perfect" because it mandates the continued existence of 21 appointed boards and commissions which are not directly accountable to the voters.

All present elective offices would be retained under the bill.

The Leagues of Women Voters were represented by Mrs. Elizabeth Cook, of Allen Park.

A Wilderness Close To Home

There's a state park in populous Oakland County which offers camping, fishing and some of the most rugged outdoor life anywhere, yet is only 33 miles away from all of metropolitan Detroit's finest attractions, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

The park, Bald Mountain Recreation Area, is seven miles north of Pontiac, east of M-24.

The ruggedness comes because much of the park's 3,024 acres are undeveloped and two campgrounds with 40 campsites each have fewer conveniences than some state parks. At Bald Mountain, facilities are primitive—hand pumps, box toilets, no electricity.

But to compensate, there is pristine wilderness—picturesque lakes, streams, dense woods, and scenic hills. The winding roads make pleasant driving. Wild flowers and a mixture of hardwoods and conifers color the hillsides.

A number of lakes are scheduled, and dense borders make access difficult except at prepared entry points.

Fishing is mainly for stream trout, black bass, panfish and pike.

There are boat launching sites at Chamberlain and Graham Lakes.

Camping is at two outpost camp. One is Lone Pine campground on Graham Lake. The other is the Cherry Ridge campground near the park headquarters. Two frontier cabins are available for group use.

The many hiking trails make the park ideal for nature study and for day use by youth groups.

The park had an attendance of 421,737 in 1972, making it one of the most popular across the southern Lower Peninsula.

At various distances from the park are most of metropolitan Detroit's tourist attractions.

Just a short ride, in Bloomfield Hills, is a cultural center known as the Cranbrook Institutions. Its 300 acres include the Cranbrook Art Academy, the Cranbrook Institute of Science and a museum with ever changing exhibits.

At nearby Rochester, there is the Meadow Brook Festival which runs nightly through the summer; and tours of Meadow Brook Hall on campus of Oakland University, the former home of Alfred G. Wilson, who donated the land to the university. There also is an attraction called Rochester Junction, a string of refurbished railroad coaches which offer displays of oldtime railroad and other memorabilia.

The Detroit Zoo, one of the country's finest, is in Royal Oak, about 10 miles from downtown Detroit. It pioneered in the display of animals in natural settings.

Detroit also offers many plant tours, including automotive plants in Detroit, Dearborn and the GM Technical Center in Warren.

In downtown Detroit there is the Detroit Institute of Arts which has a national reputation as one of the country's great art museums. Nearby is the Detroit Historical Museum, which offers a living presentation of Detroit and Michigan history.

Look how little it takes to take a trip by phone.

Midas has opened a new shop.

You won't find the kind of muffler service Midas gives you anywhere else.

At Midas, we'll usually install a muffler in 30 minutes or less. And since we carry mufflers for over 1700 different car models, we'll probably have the muffler you need right away.

As for our guarantee, it has teeth to it. We promise that if anything goes wrong with a Midas muffler we installed on your American-made car, we'll replace it for just an installation charge, as long as you own the car.

We're also part of a chain of over 600 American and Canadian Midas shops. So unlike most guarantees, ours isn't worthless when you're driving out of town.

When you come right down to it, we're not just opening a new muffler shop. We're giving you a whole new kind of muffler service.

What's Spree 23?

Something For Everyone

What's "Spree 23"? Hundreds of Livonians have already spent thousands of hours to entertain you and your family June 28 through July 1 with a celebration in honor of the city's twenty-third birthday.

"Spree 23" is the fourth annual birthday celebration. Livonia 20 marked a milestone in the city's history. The late June event, during the next years, became an excuse for residents to get together for an old-fashioned community happening.

"Spree 23" promises everything from the drama of a Michigan lottery drawing to the fun and games of exciting carnival atmosphere. The highlight of "Spree 23" will be the Michigan lottery drawing on Thursday, June 28. At 10 a.m., the thousands of $25 winners in the lottery will be picked. That afternoon at 2 p.m., residents will have the opportunity to see someone win $200,000.

The drawing festivities, scheduled for Ford Ice arena, are a must for those interested in human drama. Also scheduled for Thursday is a teen dance. The Livonia Spree 23 committee has booked the rock groups Frijid Pink and Rock and the Sharks for the younger set.

The midway opens every day at 10 a.m. during "Spree 23." The carnival features 14 rides at 35 cents each. The midway has 24 games to delight all comers.

The evening of Friday, June 29, begins with a German theme. The Livonia Lamplighters Lions Club is sponsoring a Bavarianfest. Beer and German foods will be featured in a pleasant setting, with the proceeds going to help the club's many worthy charities.

Sports fans also will have something to look forward to on Friday. A Ford Field diamond will be the scene of a game between top amateur teams from Detroit and Grand Rapids.

Residents can plan on spending all day Saturday and Sunday at "Spree 23," if they wish. At 11 a.m. Saturday, the Parahawk Sport Parachute Club will give a skydiving exhibition sure to delight spectators. For the kids, pony rides will begin at noon. Also beginning at noon will be flea market for nick-nack shoppers.

At 12:30 p.m. two helicopters will begin giving rides to those who prefer a bird's eye view of "Spree 23." The whirlybirds will continue flying until dark.

Sandwiched among the afternoon's activities will be a helicopter assault demonstration by the 425th Airborne Rangers of the Michigan National Guard.

Another Saturday event is square dancing. The Ford parking lot will be filled with whirling figures from 1 to 3 p.m. Caller will be Fred Schiell.

From 4 p.m., an amateur talent show will take over the "Spree 23" spotlight. Competition will be among both senior and junior divisions. The Livonia Lamplighter Lions Club has donated prize money for winners. For those with sporting blood, the

Firemen Protect People, Property

When Livonia became a city in 1950, the 36 square miles with 17,000 population received fire protection from two fire stations, each equipped with a fire engine. There were four full time fire fighters on the department plus the Chief and a volunteer force of twenty men.

The first year as a city the department responded to 223 fire calls. Open farm land and undeveloped property resulted in many grass and trash fires, with an occasional structure fire. Fire losses for the first year were $111,000.

As the city grew in population so did the fire department, with the third fire station being put into operation in 1952. This station was located at Five Mile and Farmington Road in the rear of the old City Hall building, which is presently the Drug Abuse Center.

When the city offices moved into the new City Hall, the fire department occupied the complete building and this became fire headquarters. An emergency rescue vehicle was purchased and with the manpower increased to 14 full time fire fighters, first aid rescue service was instituted by the department.

Aug. 12, 1963, saw the skies over Livonia darkened by a disastrous fire at the General Motors Transmission plant on Plymouth Road between Inkster and Middlebelt. The fire was the largest fire loss in the country of a building under one roof, with the loss estimated at $55 million. Fire authorities throughout the country realized that due to the type of building construction, this loss could have occurred regardless of the fire department size and equipment.

To maintain adequate fire protection for the rapid growth within the city, a new fire station was put into operation at Farmington Road behind the Sheldon Shopping Center. Additional fire equipment was purchased and additional firemen added to the fire force. The fire department still maintained an active volunteer fire brigade to supplement the 27 full time fire fighters.

It was necessary at this time to institute a Fire Prevention Bureau within the department to conduct fire inspections of the rapidly growing school system and commercial and industrial development. Investigation of fire causes was instituted or conducted and fire safety codes were adopted.

The purchase of a 100 foot aerial ladder and more modern fire engines, which were much larger than the fire engines built in the early 1950s, required that a new fire station at Farmington and Seven Mile be built to replace the one at Middle Belt and Seven Mile.

When the Civic Center was developed in the center of the city a new, modern fire headquarters building was built to replace the antiquated headquarters facilities located in the old City Hall. At this time a second emergency rescue squad was put into service.

With the development of the Livonia Mall, the advent of high rise buildings, the commercial and industrial development in the northeast area of the city and in the southwest section, additional fire protection was required and fire stations five and six were constructed.

In 1971 and 72 stations five and six were opened, with five new 1,250 gallon per minute diesel fire engines acquired and put into service to replace old equipment and to provide for the additional fire engines necessary in the new stations. Twelve additional fire fighters were hired.

With the construction of fire station six a fire department maintenance garage and training facilities were incorporated with the building. Extensive training programs for fire fighters were instituted and are being conducted on a year-round basis to keep abreast of the most up-to-date fire fighting techniques. Fire preplanning of target areas such as large shopping complexes, industrial plants, etc. are conducted by the fire companies.

All fire department apparatus and vehicles are maintained in top operating condition by two full time fire department mechanics.

At the present time the department consists of six fire stations, six engine companies, two rescue vehicles and one ladder truck. The department has 96 full time fire fighters with three fire prevention personnel. Total department complement is 102 full time positions, which includes clerical and mechanical personnel. During the year 1972 the fire department responded to 2,820 runs. Six hundred and twelve were fire runs, 108 false alarms, 2,100 emergency rescue runs.

Plans are underway to purchase two new aerial platforms and the department is planning on improving the emergency rescue services.

mentary schools serving separate communities until 1944. During this period Livonia students attended high school in Plymouth, Clarenceville, Northville and other neighboring districts. In 1944, however, seven school districts in Livonia Township consolidated and elected a single board of education. They were Briggs, Elm-Rosedale, Livonia Center, Newburgh, Pierson, Stark and Wilcox.

Harry O. Johnson was chosen the first superintendent of the district in June, 1944. In 1945 the new district decided to build its first junior and senior high school named for George N. Bentley, a former teacher and merchant who had for many years been a member of both the Elm-Rosedale Board of Education and the new board. Substantially enlarged and modernized, Bentley High School today is one of the four 10-12th grade high schools in the Livonia district.

Lottery Makes Money For Michiganders

If you haven't seen a lottery drawing, you're missing one of the best shows going. No TV game show can compete with the Lottery's Thursday morning giveaway with a top prize of $200,000 and a weekly prize pot which usually exceeds a half-million dollars.

Showtime is 9:45 a.m. each Thursday and the drawing is held in a different location each week to allow everyone in the state to see the program sooner or later.

Drawing locations are normally announced three or four weeks in advance, but the Bureau is receiving invitations months in advance. At least two invitations for 1974 drawings are on file. More invitations are currently being received than can be honored, according to Lottery Commissioner Gus Harrison.

"We had dozens of requests for drawings at different sites during July, the heaviest month for drawing requests so far," Harrison said.

Harrison said the drawings are almost solidly booked through the summer months on a tentative basis. As much as possible, Harrison said, drawings have been scheduled in conjunction with tourist-oriented events or affairs likely to draw large crowds. A list of tentative drawings includes June 28, Livonia's 23rd birthday celebration.

Livonia Library Continues Growth

The Livonia Library System began offering Public Library Service in 1958 soon after the appointment of a library commission.

In 1961, the modern Carl Sandburg Branch (8,600 square feet) was completed. In 1967, the larger (12,000 square feet) unique Alfred Noble Branch was dedicated, adding greater library space to Livonia residents. The city has planned a main library in the Civic Center in the future and additional branch libraries.

The community, from the preschooler to the senior citizen, has access to library services, programs, and facilities. Students use the reference facilities day and night. Both libraries, Alfred Noble and Carl Sandburg, are the city's access and resource center for learning and cultural activities.

The library provides and schedules children's story hours, educational films, lectures, great books and other discussion groups, and other activities to meet the library patron's needs. An extensive file of periodicals, magazines and newspapers is maintained.

New books are continuously added to the basic collection to assure comprehensive research material for a properly informed public. The 1972-73 library budget amounted to $311,000. City support, which includes a book budget of $50,000.

As of January, 1973, there are close to 110,000 volumes available with an annual book circulation of over 415,000, four times the circulation of the first year of operation. This number is supplemented by those acquired through inter-library loan from other libraries.

Non-book and special library materials, such as 16mm films, tapes, Braille and talking books are also available, free of charge, on interloan from the Wayne County Federated Library System. A special collection of the latest titles and best sellers is maintained on a rental basis of five cents per day. Record albums are also available on this rental basis. Another service provided for library patrons is a photo-copying machine in each branch.

The library offers free access to all. Registration and library cards are not required. Books usually circulate for a period of three weeks, and may be renewed if no one else has requested them. The only limit on the number of books taken is in the non-fiction area, two on a subject.

In April, 1972, the Westpocket Branch in the Senior Citizens Building in the Civic Center was opened. Also, the Alfred Noble and Carl Sandburg Branches are now open twelve additional hours per week, from 9 a.m. - 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Goals and objectives for the near future are for a main central library in the Civic Center that would offer an in-depth reference and research collection for the citizens of Livonia. The public library as an institution provides the positive materials and services to the community that enables the people and, from them, the City, to grow and prosper. The people continue their education, become better members of home and community discharge their political and social obligations, develop their creative and spiritual capacities, make use of their leisure time, and contribute to the growth of knowledge.

Resident Won $50,000 From Michigan Lottery

Rosalyn McCormick's friend Marge called her three weeks ago with the news that she had just won $25 in the Michigan lottery. Marge had the numbers 592 on a winning ticket.

"That's fantastic!" Mrs. McCormick told Marge.

Mrs. McCormick had bought a couple of lottery tickets for that drawing also, so she thought she'd check the numbers while Marge was on the phone. Mrs. McCormick pulled the tickets from a drawer, and checked the numbers, but there were no winners.

But she was holding one of the tickets in her hand while she looked. That ticket had a winning combination.

"We were jumping up and down over the phone," Mrs. McCormick recalled. "We were so excited about the $50."

Then Marge read off another number. Mrs. McCormick told her friend that she had that number, too, and it was on the same ticket as the first. This time there was silence from Marge.

"Rosey, Rosey, you've got $10,000!" Marge cried.

Livonia resident Rosalyn McCormick indeed won $10,000 in the Michigan lottery -- plus $40,000 more. She was the second grand prize winner in the Dec. 14 drawing.

big drawing the "longest week of my life." "You're really way out," by the time the big drawing comes, Mrs. McCormick said.

Mrs. McCormick said she had no hopes of winning a bigger prize. "I just went up to get my ten," she said.

However, the drawing almost gave the Livonia family $200,000. The $10,000 winners are drawn first, then the $50,000 winners. At the end, only two numbers remain -- one gets $50,000 the other $200,000. Mrs. McCormick got the $50,000.

But Mrs. McCormick seemed satisfied with her $50,000, which she will receive in $10,000 checks for five years.

Mrs. McCormick was impressed with the lottery drawing operation, despite a recent mixup in the final numbers.

"There's no way you can walk away from the drawing and feel cheated," she said.

She noted about 500 people, plus various dignitaries, witness the drawing.

But Mrs. McCormick seemed satisfied with her $50,000, which she will receive in $10,000 checks for five years.

"Pick it up, kid!"

Lottery Machine Heads For '23' Heads For '23'

Getting the 7,200 pounds of Lottery drawing equipment from site to site is the job of Bureau of State Lottery employees Bob Gafner and Tom DePotyondy.

DePotyondy's main function is to drive the Bureau's 40-foot trailer to the drawing site. Gafner is in charge of checking out drawing sites in advance to make certain the bulky drawing equipment can be accommodated in the building chosen for the drawing. Both supervise the assembly of the drawing unit on the afternoon or evening before the weekly drawing each Thursday.

It takes from four to six hours for Tom and Bob, plus a local or imported labor force of a half-dozen men, to put together the drawing unit. Trustees from the State Prison of Southern Michigan or some other nearby correctional facility or camp are utilized when possible.

The drawing stage measures 32 feet by 10 feet and the blackboard and ball rack are 13 feet high. The ball rack is put together at ground level and then raised -- a task that requires the help of everyone involved in the assembly process.

The key element in the weekly drawing equipment is the set of 1,000 polyethylene balls numbered from 000-999 representing all possible winning lottery numbers. The balls, three inches in diameter, must be arranged in order in the ball rack by hand. That process normally takes about two hours. When the drawing commences, it takes one or two dignitaries about 10 seconds to dump the balls into a plastic drum.

The drum itself is three feet in diameter and over five feet long and is constructed of 1/8 inch polycarbonate material. It has interior blades or "fins" to insure a proper mixing of the balls when the drum is rotated.

The drawing equipment or "Money Machine" was designed by the Bureau and its advertising agency, the Leo Burnett Company of Southfield, and was constructed by the Display and Exhibit Company of Wayne. The unit cost approximately $50,000.

The equipment is stored in Lansing during the week and transported to the drawing site on Wednesday. DePotyondy and Gafner spend non-drawing days maintaining the equipment, checking out future sites, or working in various divisions of the Bureau.

Check Your Tickets For Possible Winners

Winning lottery tickets worth more than a half-million dollars for drawings between November and February remain unclaimed, Lottery Commissioner Gus Harrison says.

"While we are receiving claims for past drawings every day," Harrison said, "nearly 10 per cent of the $256 winners in our first 14 drawings (through Feb. 22) have not yet been processed. A total of 20,818 tickets worth $25 each or a total of $520,450 have not yet been claimed."

Tickets are good for one year after the drawing date in which they were winners, Harrison said, so those with winners in early drawings still have time to make a claim.

"Tickets which won $25 are potentially worth $100,000, since winners of $25 qualify for a subsequent Millionaire Elimination Drawing after they submit their claim," Harrison said.

The slowness of claims also delays the Millionaire Drawing, since an elimination and main drawing are held whenever exactly 120,000 claims for $25 prizes are processed. "There are some cases in which processing is delayed by administrative problems, but we are now fairly current in processing routine claims, Harrison said. "Every week there are more than 20,000 winners of $25 (at the current rate of sales) and we process more than 20,000 claims each week."

Weekly winners of $25 prizes in the lottery have so far won more than $10,300,000 -- including those prizes not yet collected.

Listed below, for those who may have winning tickets and not know it, are the dates of previous drawings, the winning numbers and the number of winners unclaimed as of April 4:

SCANS' EUROPEAN SUBSIDIARY PROVIDES LIVONIA EXPERTISE TO THE COMMON MARKET

"Test Equipment for Industry" Available World-Wide

For fifteen years Scans Associates, Inc., has been one of Livonia's fastest-growing companies. During this period, Scans has earned an international reputation as a top source for quality high-performance testing equipment for the world's leading manufacturers and industrial applications. Manufactured by the world's leading test equipment manufacturers, Scans' equipment is built to last, non-destructive, functional and calibration testing systems for gas and fluid flow, leak detection, mechanical performance and electrical characteristics.

Now Scans has activated a European subsidiary to promote the sale of Scans' products and know-how within the Common Market. Centrally located in Liege, Belgium, Scans International SA is rapidly gaining experience in selling, engineering, manufacturing and servicing the same types of testing systems which are developed here in Livonia. Close cooperation between the two companies enables each to benefit from the special abilities of the other.

This ensures Scans' customers of the finest quality equipment that can be supplied by the facilities of two continents—and puts "Made in Livonia, U.S.A." in every industrial market around the globe.

CREW of the Michigan Lottery drawing will be in Livonia to help someone win $200,000. From left they are Theresa Redden, John Quinn and Vicki Berryhill.

They'll Assist In Human Drama

Four days a week, Theresa Redden and Vicki Berryhill work as secretaries in the Bureau of State Lottery. On Thursdays, however, they have an assignment which makes other secretaries envious. Donning bright green outfits, they travel around the state to assist in the Lottery's Weekly Drawing and Super Drawing.

Joining Lottery Ladies Vicki and Theresa in the Thursday festivities is John D. Quinn, deputy commissioner for operations of the Bureau. Quinn is the emcee for the weekly Lottery "road show" in addition to his normal duties with the Bureau.

Quinn, 44, was one of the first employees of the Bureau, having been involved in the preliminary work leading up to the creation of the Bureau while serving as a deputy director of the management sciences group in the executive office. A native of Corona, N.Y., he joined state government in Michigan after 24 years in the U.S. Army.

He entered the Army in 1946 as an enlisted man, was an infantry officer for 11 years and spent 12 years as an adjutant general corps officer. The highest rank he held prior to retiring in March of 1970 was colonel.

Court's History Matches City Growth

In 1950 when a 36-square mile area became the City of Livonia, with a population of 17,534, Leo O. Nye was justice of the peace.

Robert H. Lorion was elected Municipal Judge when it became a requirement for the judge to be an attorney and took office in July 1958 and remained in office until July 1966, when James R. McCann was elected.

At the time when Judge McCann took Office, Marie E. Talbot was the court clerk and there was a total of six additional employees. Judge McCann appointed Kenneth Kirkwood as director of probation and under his direction and with the assistance of the Deputy Director Jack Kirksey, one of the first probation departments using almost entirely volunteer probationers was established.

My, How You've Grown! District Is 3rd Largest

In 1827, David Ryder purchased 80 acres of flat, open land studded with forests at a cost of $2 per acre. His farm 140 years later is a small portion of the City of Livonia in a densely populated metropolitan area where land values have soared to several thousand dollars an acre.

What is now Livonia was originally a portion of Bucklin Township. In 1831 Bucklin Township was split into two townships, Nankin and Canton. Thereafter, in 1835, Livonia Township separated from Nankin Township. Livonia Township already included several small unincorporated villages.

The first school to be built in the area in 1830 was Schwartzburg School on the northeast corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Wayne Road. The second was Newburgh School, originally a log cabin, in 1831. In the same year, Nankin Township of which Livonia was a part was divided into nine school districts. Newburgh was a small farming village near the intersection of Ann Arbor Road and Ann Arbor Trail.

An 1827 state law required a community of 50 or more to provide a teacher for instruction in reading, writing, English, French, arithmetic, spelling and "decent behavior." The schools of the period were open six months of the year on a tuition basis. Parents were also required to supply the school with firewood. No free public education was available in Michigan until 1842, and then only in Detroit.

Early schools were very crude one-room log cabins with one or two windows, a fireplace, and homemade seats. The teacher lived in pupils' homes and received free room and board as part of his wages. By 1845 the school year consisted of four months of winter school and five months of summer school.

In 1869 Newburgh School became graded. It was educating 108 students with three teachers, two men earning 242.26 per year and one woman receiving $80 per year.

Other early schools included Tamarack, later Livonia Center, at Five Mile and Farmington; Bell Middle Bell between Schoolcraft and Five Mile; Chapman, Middle Bell and Plymouth; Briggs, Six Mile and Newburgh Road; Gaffney, Six Mile and Middle Bell—later Wilcox School; Pierson, Seven Mile near Farmington; and Stark, Wayne Road, but subsequently moved. Chapman and Bell Schools became Elm School in 1876. Each of these schools served a separate village within Livonia Township.

Education in the Livonia area continued to be limited to small elementary schools.

Bavarianfest Planned

Everybody's supposed to have a bit of Irish in them on St. Patrick's Day. During Livonia's "Spree 23" summer festival, visitors will have to have a little bit of German in them. One of the attractions of the festival will be a Bavarianfest sponsored by the Livonia Lamplighter Lions Club. The club is selling beer mugs for $2 each before Spree 23 as tickets to the Bavarianfest.

Richard McNabb, club spokesman, said the Bavarianfest will be held from 6 p.m. to midnight on June 29 and 30. Spree 23, the annual celebration in honor of the city's birthday, will run from June 28 to July 1 at Ford Field.

The beer mugs, engraved with the Lamplighter's insignia, will be on sale at party stores and bars around the city. Mugs also will be on sale at the door.

Besides the liquid refreshments to fill the mugs, the Bavarianfest will feature dancing to a German band. The band, which McNabb said was recommended by the area's German Club, has the title of "Richard Wagner and his Die-Reinlander Band."

Food, including knockwurst and sauerkraut, will also be served. Besides a fun-filled evening, the Bavarianfest also will help the city. McNabb said the money from the event will go for the club's various charity projects. The club mainly works on projects for the blind.

Livonians Win Share Of Lottery Wealth

Livonia residents have collected more than a quarter of a million dollars in prizes during the first six months of operation of the Michigan Lottery, and that's only the beginning.

Lottery Commissioner Gus Harrison said today that at least $226,125 in prize money has been won by residents of Livonia.

The biggest winner so far has been Mrs. Rosalyn McCormick, who collected $50,000 in the third Lottery Super Drawing on Dec. 14. She was one of the final two contestants in that prize.

The Livonia contestants in the first Millionaire Drawing on Feb. 22 were Wesley Abbott and Thomas E. Pearson. No Livonia residents qualified for the second Millionaire event on April 5. Yvonne S. Pelly and Anna Wisniewski collected $1,000 each in the May 10 Millionaire Drawing three.

drawing, and almost walked away with the top weekly prize of $200,000.

Four Livonia residents have advanced to Millionaire Drawings but failed to make the finals and had to settle for the $1,000 "consolation" prize.

Livonia's Finest Stress Community Relations

In May of 1950, the police department's personnel and equipment totaled one patrolman and one pick-up truck, both carryovers from township days.

Two months later, George Harmon was sworn in as Livonia's first chief of police and, by the end of 1950, the department added five patrolmen and two radio equipped scout cars.

The department was headquartered in the old city hall until June, 1951 when it moved across the street to the corner of Westmore and Five Mile Road.

Demands for police services increased along with a rapidly growing population and in mid-1962, the Division moved into a newly constructed facility.

In the 11 years since that time, the department has expanded services and implemented a number of important organizational changes, all with the end view of improving service to the people of the City of Livonia.

In the recent past, the city has been awarded Federal Grants which enabled us to launch experimental programs in innovative law enforcement techniques.

These programs saw the city:

- Field a group of community service cadets walking beats in residential areas of the city. Their major goals were to improve police community relations, serve as preventative force against crime and to handle minor complaints thereby releasing regular officers to perform more urgent law enforcement tasks.
- Place a school liaison officer in a senior high school in a co-operative effort with Livonia Public Schools. The officer's mission was to improve police/school relations and to act as a resource person to students and faculty.

Hi Jumper

A. NO SPRINGS

The Hi Jumper is a "new shape" in our jump board line. The all fiberglass constructed base, eliminating corrosion or stain, along with an eight-foot Hi Flex board completes the unit.

B. Where Space Is Limited

Queen Curve Model QC-4RD — Designed for pools where limited deck space hinders installation of a straight Queen.

C. Electric Insect Killer

Keep those unwanted guests from crashing your party — let an efficient electric bug killer stand guard anywhere in backyards, pools or patios.

D. The Complete Outdoor Cooking Center By Falcon

Great for apartment terrace or anywhere with limited space. Can easily be moved out of sight (even indoors) for storage after use. This self-contained unit holds a standard LP bottle. Sturdy handle allows one person to move grill easily.

POOL HEATERS

Invest 10% more to heat your pool, then enjoy it twice as much, twice as long. Rheem is the best known name in the business.

F. THE SUN SET

As refreshing as a spring rain. As bright as summer flowers. The Sun Set. An exciting new line of casual furniture. Colorful, durable complements to your favorite outdoors. The Sun Set is strongly welded steel furniture. But it has no natural enemies because it's completely enveloped in a seamless, waterproof vinyl jacket. Vinylclad. Our exclusive new fused vinyl powder finish that won't fade or discolor. A finish that is satiny smooth, comfortable and warm to the touch.

G. TERRACE ROSE

With solid aluminum construction and distinctive traditional styling, Terrace Rose is not only highly practical but eye-pleasing as well. It's lightweight, weather-loving and absolutely maintenance free.

Quite frankly, "we're in" on outside furniture, and the price is right. . . "you'll see."
