School Decision On Budget Cuts Expected Soon

By W. EDWARD WENDOVER

A decision on what items will be cut from the Plymouth schools for next year is expected next week.

The Plymouth School Board will meet in a workshop session Tuesday night and a special meeting Thursday night to present a finalized list of priorities from which the board must select programs it wants trimmed from the 1973-74 budget.

The cuts are expected to total about $750,000 from the district's proposed 1973-74 budget as a result of the voters' June 11 defeat of an operating millage increase proposal.

School administrators say the budget cuts are necessary in light of an anticipated 1,100 student population increase for next fall.

School Supt. John M. Hoben told The Plymouth Mail & Observer the board has informally agreed to trim non-instructional items before curtailing educational programs.

School administrators have held several meetings and the board has discussed the budget cuts in executive sessions three times thus far.

Hoben said he hopes to prepare a definitive breakdown of programs and their budgets — referred to as a "laundry list" — following Tuesday's workshop session.

"We (the administrators) can make recommendations, but the board must make the decisions," Hoben said.

The superintendent said the board must decide soon where budget cuts will come in order to prepare next year's programs before school opens in September.

Hoben said the district is currently holding up all hiring until a board decision is reached on what programs will be curtailed.

Two other uncertainties which enter into the board's budget considerations are the number of students expected to enroll in school and the amount of state aid the district will receive.

Hoben said the administrators are using the 1,100 figure as an estimate of the student population increase and last year's state aid figure as an estimate of next year's amount.

Thursday's special meeting, at which the board is expected to narrow down the laundry list, will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the school board offices, 454 Harvey St.

Little Red Schoolhouse Still Thrives Today

By W. W. EDGAR

Driving by, it doesn't look any different from any other building that has survived the ravages of time for a century or more.

But the little, two-room Geer school at the corner of Godfredson and Ann Arbor roads isn't a relic from the past, waiting to crumble and be cast into the limbo of forgotten things.

Instead, it is a cherished red brick edifice that links the past and present and has become the pride of the Plymouth Community School District.

Unlike its modern companions that are built of stone and glass and harbor such things as huge resource centers, gymnasiums and large reading rooms, Geer school is a living example of the days when education was defined as the three R's—reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic.

But at the close of the school year when results are determined by such things as state examinations and assessments, little ol' Geer ranks up near the top with the best of them.

Presided over by two teachers—Rita McClumpha and Mary Horwood—the school is unusual in many ways.

First, the two teachers are so dedicated to the environment and the opportunity to show results that they have turned back offers to teach in larger, more modern institutions.

Second, it is a throwback to the days of the old country school in that there are four grades for the student body that never numbers more than 50.

With this sort of setup, all students can listen in on the class work of the others. In fact, an individual student can listen in on the top class for four years.

"Perhaps that's why the Geer students always rank so high in state assessments," Earl Gibson, assistant superintendent of schools, remarked.

"It's a rather odd thing, too," he said. "But several years ago an attempt was made to close the school — mainly for economic reasons. But the parents — and the students — would have none of that."

"The parents appeared at a meeting of the board of education with petitions from 97 per cent of the families demanding that the school be kept open."

Once the decision was made to continue the school, things really began to happen.

An anonymous donor provided the school with a new roof.

Canton Postpones Liquor License Requirement Study

By STEVE BARNABY

Area businessmen desirous of a Class "C" liquor license to enhance their proposed bowling alley, motel, bars and restaurants in Canton Township will have to wait another month for an outline of requirements drawn up by the township board.

With eight applications pending, only two allocations are available until another census is taken in 1980.

Class "C" licenses permit the sale of liquor by the glass over the bar.

The U.S. census figures show Canton's population to be 11,026 when, in actuality, the population has grown to more than 19,000, township officials say.

The board previously agreed to outline requirements by June 26, but delayed for further study.

Phillip Dingledey, township supervisor, said the board has been lax in granting licenses and should be more discriminatory in their requirements.

"We should get the most out of the licenses for the benefit of the township. We don't want to hand them out promiscuously," he said.

He held out hope that recent legislation introduced by Rep. Bobby Crim D-Davison

Stephanie Flora Studies In Japan

Stephanie Flora, a Michigan State University freshman from Plymouth, will spend the summer in Japan studying that country's contemporary political and social forces.

Miss Flora, of 165 W. Liberty, will be among 20 MSU undergraduates taking part in the 15-credit independent study program offered by the university's Office of Overseas Study. She is enrolled in MSU's James Madison College.

Classes during the July 1-Aug. 23 session will be taught in Tokyo and the historic city of Otsu. The students will stay in Japanese homes for five days and spend another 10 days visiting Hiroshima and industrial and resort cities on the Inland Sea.

The study program will include intensive instruction in the Japanese language.

It will look at the development of Japan as a major world power and the factors of its national growth such as geography, culture, social systems, and transformation of the role of families and women and youth.

The group also will investigate the relationships of national development to Japanese foreign policy and relations.

Instructor will be Dr. Wesley R. Fishel, professor of the James Madison College and political science. Other lecturers, both Japanese and American, will teach in their areas of special competence.

Dr. Fishel spent several years in Vietnam and was a Guggenheim Fellow in Japan.

Township Will Start Cleanup On Thursday

In an effort to clean up debris from this week's storm, Plymouth Township will make the rounds of the area on Thursday with a branch chipper to collect broken branches up to four inches. Residents are requested to place the debris in front of their homes to be collected by 8 a.m.

Township Calls Sept. 4 Election On Sewer

By MAURIE WALKER

PLYMOUTH
A special election will be held Sept. 4 in Plymouth Township for voters to decide whether sewer lines should be extended into the western portion of the township.

The township board this week passed a resolution and approved the ballot wording submitted by Clerk Helen Richardson.

Mrs. Richardson said other referendum items could appear on the ballot.

"We are working on some other items, but as yet they are not ready," the clerk said. "We must reach a decision by next week, however, in order that the ballots and other material necessary for the election can be prepared in time."

The proposition will ask: "Shall the township of Plymouth, County of Wayne, Michigan, ratify and execute a contract with the county of Wayne which shall pledge the full faith and credit of the township for the payment of such sums as may be necessary to retire County of Wayne Bonds to be issued to finance costs of necessary sanitary sewer facilities and appurtenances for the township in the presently estimated amount of $1.5 million?"

Mrs. Richardson said 1,302 persons had signed a petition calling for such a referendum.

"The majority of these signatures proved to be valid," she said.

"Under the law, they only needed 900 valid signatures or at least 10 per cent of the townships registered voters."

The petitions, which were submitted to the township June 8, were circulated and filed by the Community Improvement Assn. of Plymouth Township. The association has objected to the township board's April 24 vote of 4-3 to extend the Byron Creek Sewer to Ridge Road from its present terminus near Ann Arbor and Sheldon roads.

The split vote April 24 overturned the board's Feb. 27 vote of 4-2 to cut off the sewer extension at Beck Road.

This April 24 decision came under threat of a class action lawsuit from the Plymouth Center Stewardship Assn., an affiliate of the Mormon church, apparent property owner at Powell and Ridge roads.

The special election Sept. 4 will cost about $3,500, Mrs. Richardson said.

"A great deal of preparation is necessary since the county will not help us in this," she said.

vided all new shrubbery, and another paid for the removal of the old bushes. Still another provided a great deal of the renovation.

"Then, one day," Gibson said, "Mrs. McClumpha asked for permission to 'hook up' an old gas stove so that the students could prepare hot lunches—something they never enjoyed before."

"Once this was granted, the teachers and the students did all sorts of things. They not only prepare hot sandwiches, but hot dogs and beans too. One day they even baked cookies."

"Because of these things, and the general attitude of the teachers, students and parents—the school provides one of the most unusual chapters in the history of the educational system in Michigan."

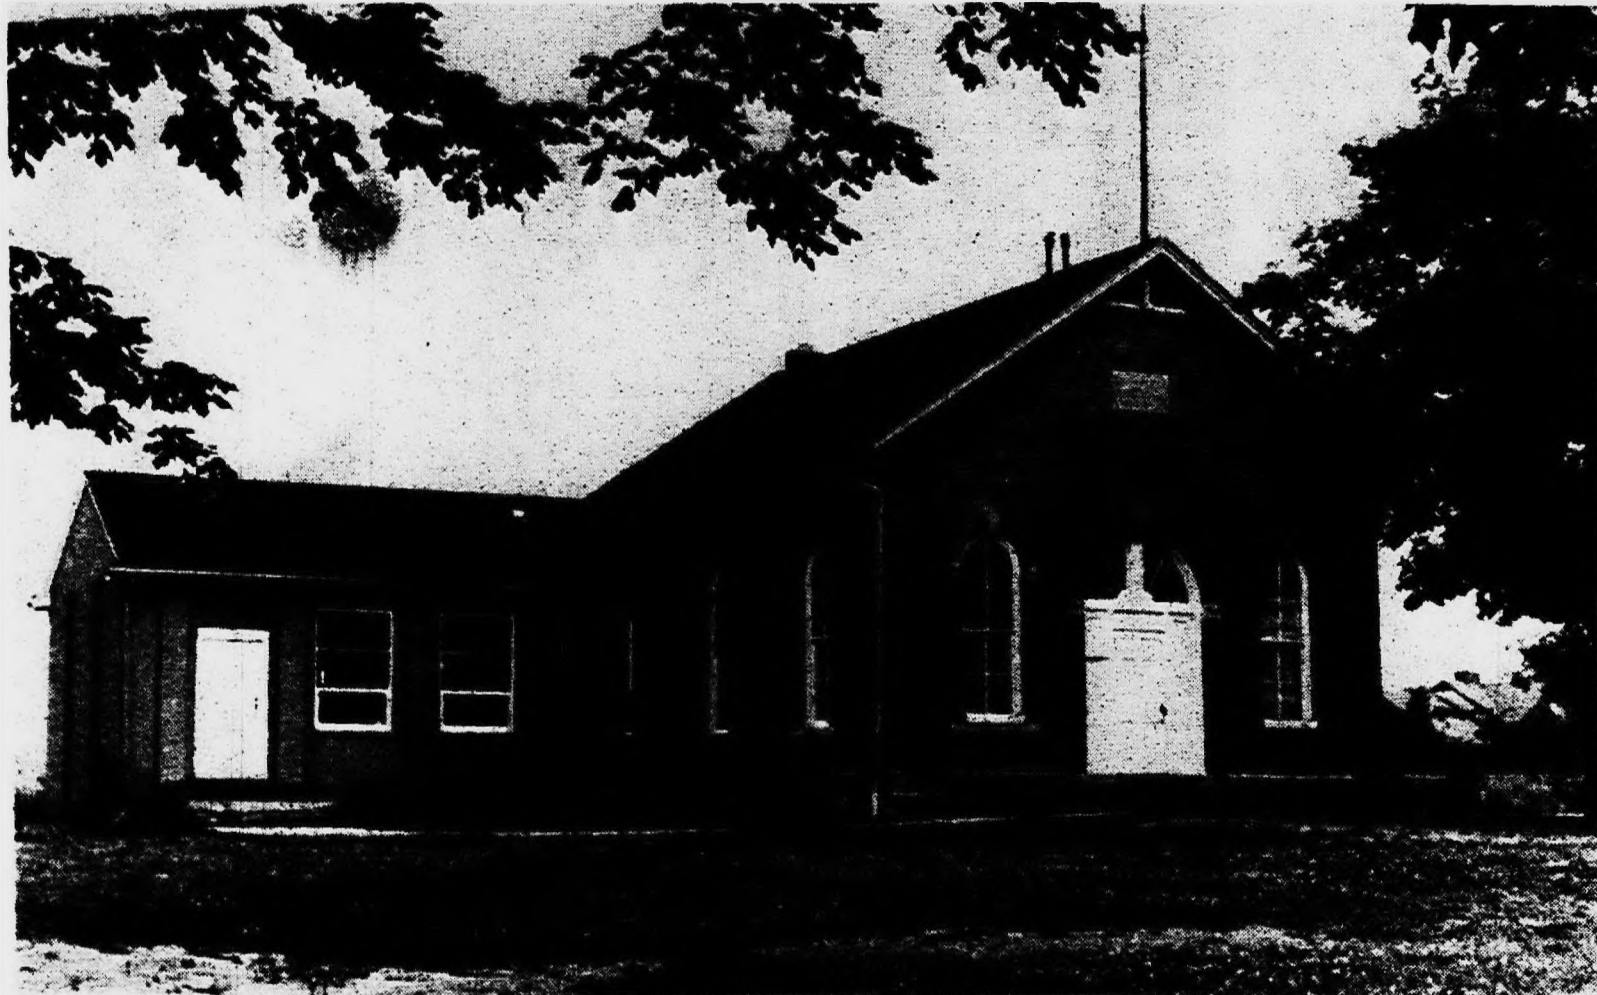

Built in 1872, it was an independent school until 1963 when it was admitted to the Plymouth district.

Through the years, many of its students went on to higher things in the business, social and political worlds.

But the old school remained to fight the rigors of time. Although its bell and bell have been long gone and it has many scars of the rugged existence it still stands and carries on the pride of the entire district.

The resignation of Joseph Bida, DPW superintendent, was accepted by the Plymouth Township board this week.

Bida, who will leave the post this weekend, was asked by Trustee Gerald Burke to consider staying on the job until a replacement is hired.

He told Supervisor J.D. McLaren that he would, however, "offer my help in any way I can."

The resignation passed 4-1 with Burke voting no. Two trustees were absent.

At the previous township board meeting, a motion to accept Bida's resignation failed 3-2.

The bill would require that the state conduct a census after five years, instead of the usual 10, if the local unit of government requested it.

The Storm...

Hits City, Townships Hard

By MAURIE WALKER

PLYMOUTH
Switchboards at local fire departments as well as at the Plymouth police and Michigan state police stations were "lit up like Christmas trees" for several hours during Tuesday's storm.

Fire Chief George Schoenneman said his fire units were all over the City of Plymouth answering a total of 41 calls between 3:20 and 7:10 p.m.

"The electricity was out at city hall from about 3:30 p.m. until Wednesday morning," the chief said. "We had to use the emergency generator to keep things moving."

Schoenneman said there were no ambulance runs, and that most calls were for downed electric wires.

Two garages were set afire by falling wires. A high line fell on a garage at 897 Blunk, posing a potential danger.

"We handled this without anyone getting hurt and with only light damage from the fire," the chief said.

Another high line fell across a garage at 419 Blunk. The wires were cut by Detroit Edison Co. crews.

Schoenneman said it was fortunate there were no injuries from falling wires.

"A fallen wire poses a real threat. One can be down a half-block from you, and if it is lying across a metal fence, you could be killed."

The storm caused a record number of runs for the Plymouth Township fire department.

Sgt. Ernest Honke said between 3:04 and 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, there were 20 calls.

"The previous record for a similar period was 13 calls," Honke said.

The majority of township runs were due to fallen wires, the sergeant said. No injuries were reported.

A spokesman for the Michigan State Police Plymouth sub post said the station was swamped with telephone calls during the height of the storm. Here, too, the majority of calls were to report fallen electric wires.

"Some calls were from persons who weren't certain who to call, and in some instances we had to transfer them either to the Plymouth or Plymouth and Canton Township fire departments," the spokesman said.

Fallen trees posed another problem for police-traffic had to be detoured from several streets.

As late as Thursday, barricades appeared on several Plymouth streets as workmen handled the job of removing and cutting up fallen trees.

Plymouth police and the Michigan state police sub post said their telephones were busy all day Wednesday answering calls from residents complaining because they were still without electric power.

Calls were still coming in Thursday, both stations reported.

In the Plymouth Hills subdivision, falling tree limbs destroyed the roofs of at least two homes.

High winds caught a 75 foot long piece of wall covering at the Ford Motor Co. Sheldon Road plant and battered it down. That damage was quickly repaired and caused no interruption of the plant's operation, a Ford spokesman told The Plymouth Mail & Observer.

An awning on James Scieba residence at 14295 Shadywood Drive in Lake Pointe was blown up onto their roof.

Some Plymouth and Canton Township residents were without power until Friday morning and utility repair services were telling callers on Tuesday that service would be restored "by 5 p.m. Friday."

Many homeowners in outlying areas traveled into town to buy dry ice for their refrigerators and bottled water when their electric pumps weren't functioning.

Utility company crews worked throughout the area all night Tuesday and Wednesday trying to repair the storm's damage.

THE WIND UPROOTED several large trees in the Plymouth Hill Subdivision area, damaging the roofs on at least two houses.

DOWNED WIRES from the storm set this garage on fire.

County Gets $6.8 Million Federal Aid

Wayne County received an estimated $6,682,767 in federal shared revenue for the first half of 1973.

These funds did not make it possible, however, to reduce taxes or to initiate new programs since inflationary cost increases in existing service programs necessitate the allocation of those funds to maintain the present level of services, county commissioners said.

The bulk of the federal money — $4.5 million — was allocated to social services for the aged and poor.

In addition, $1 million went to public safety and law enforcement programs; $1 million to health programs and $100,000 to environmental protection.

WILLIAM C. OTT of 7623 Sussex Ct., Plymouth, has been promoted to the post of general supervisor of labor relations at Detroit Diesel Allison, a division of General Motors. Ott holds a BS degree in business administration from Ferris State. He joined the division in 1965 as a college student trainee. He was named a labor relations representative in 1971 and labor relations supervisor in 1972.

LaRue Eyeing Term As S'craft Chairman

By KATHY MORAN
Schoolcraft College's new board of trustees will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the board room to reorganize and elect new officers.

The meeting will be the first for two trustees elected June 11-Dr. Gerald Cox and Ronald Cowden. Incumbents Paul Kadish and Nancie Blatt both won seats on the board in the election.

Board Chairman John LaRue indicated he will seek a two-year term as board chairman. LaRue was first elected chairman in January after former chairman R. Robert Geake was elected to the State House of Representatives.

LaRue was elected chairman when the board decided to elect new officers rather than let vice chairman Rosina Raymond succeed Geake.

Paul Kadish was elected temporary chairman of Monday's meeting. LaRue was nominated but declined, saying that "since I would consider becoming chairman if elected, for the next period of time, I think it appropriate that I decline to be temporary chairman."

The board adopted new bylaws at its meeting Wednesday despite Mrs. Raymond's efforts to have adoption delayed until after the new board members take office.

Among the changes made in the bylaws is one to allow officers to hold more than one term. If the new bylaws hadn't been adopted, there would have been a question whether LaRue could be re-elected despite the fact that his first term was only six months.

"Certain things which were changed in these bylaws were done for a reason," Mrs. Raymond said without elaborating. "There's no reason why we couldn't appoint a temporary chairman and adopt these bylaws later. I maintain the two new board members should have something to say about this."

If LaRue had been prevented from seeking another term because of the bylaws, Mrs. Raymond likely would have sought the chairmanship again. She did not indicate if she will challenge LaRue on Monday.

PAINTING WILL BE among activities in the summer fine arts program sponsored by the Plymouth Parks and Recreation and open to all area elementary and high school students. Those interested may register in the Cultural

Northville Plans Parade On The Fourth

Detroit Tiger pitcher Jim Perry will lead Independence Day festivities in Northville, heading up the annual July 4 parade beginning at 10 a.m.

Some 60 units have agreed to take part in the Jaycee-sponsored parade down Main Street. Immediately following the parade at 11 a.m., Jaycees will begin serving their annual chicken barbecue in the city hall park at Wing and Cady. Adult portions are $2.25 and children's $1.50.

Adding to the fun will be a dunk tank and watermelon contest at the barbecue site. Contestants get three tosses for 25 cents at the dunk tank.

The watermelon contest, open to children 12 or younger, begins at 1 p.m. Prizes will be awarded the fastest eaters.

The annual fireworks display, billed as larger than ever, is scheduled to begin at dusk.

David Paap Is New Pastor For All Saints

The Rev. David A. Paap will be installed Sunday, July 1, as pastor of All Saints Lutheran Church, Newburgh and Joy, Livonia.

Ordained June 17 in Milwaukee after graduating this spring from Concordia Seminary at St. Louis, he will become the third pastor for All Saints. He succeeds the Rev. Dale Krueger, who left last April to accept a Kalamazoo call.

The Rev. Roger Schleef, Livonia circuit counselor for the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, will be the installing officer.

Preaching on the occasion will be the Rev. Paul Heinecke, mission director for the Michigan District. Dr. Paul Foelber and the Rev. Roland Boehnke, who have served as vacancy pastors, will be liturgists.

Following the 10:30 a.m. service, the All Saints congregation will hold a reception for Rev. Paap and his wife, Patricia.

Rev. Paap, 25, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert Paap of Franklin, Wis.

After attending public schools in Franklin, he went to Concordia High School and Junior College in Milwaukee and Concordia College in Fort Wayne, Ind., earning a degree in 1969.

While studying at the seminary, he attended U.S. Army chaplain school at Fort Hamilton, N.Y., and holds a commission as a chaplain in the U.S. Army Reserves.

He served a year of internship under the Rev. Paul Martin at Trinity Lutheran Church in Memphis.

His ordination took place in Mt. Zion Lutheran Church, Milwaukee.

REV. DAVID A. PAAP

FORMER LIVONIAN Dick Miller and his wife, Ruth Ann, will leave soon for missionary work in Paupau, New Guinea, with the Wycliffe Bible Translators, Inc. Miller, who graduated from Franklin High School in 1965 and has degrees from Moody Bible Institute and Wau-besa Community College in Illinois, will be a jungle pilot in the primitive area. Mrs. Miller will do hospital work. Both completed three phases of intensive training with the Wycliffe organization to be prepared for mission work in isolated areas.

Dr. Hess Plans Talk On Trip

Dr. Bartlett L. Hess, pastor of Ward United Presbyterian Church, Six Mile and Farmington Roads, will speak on "The Isle That Is Called Patmos," at 7 p.m., Sunday, July 1.

The talk is about Dr. Hess's recent trip to the Holy Land. Pictures of the tour will be shown after the service by Larry Butler in Fellowship Hall.

Another feature of the evening service will be "Spotlights of Vacation Bible School," with Sue Simons, Daniel Marlow and Priscilla Strong.

PENTECOST SUNDAY, June 10, was marked by a birthday party in Rosedale Gardens United Presbyterian Church of Livonia. As part of the service, Juli Harden and Tim McCloskey lighted 20 candles on a birthday cake, each representing a century of the Christian church's lifetime. Relighting candles were used, so Juli and Tim were unable to blow them out. Dr. Richard C. Dunkelberger, senior pastor, explained that the candles represented the fact that all efforts to destroy the church have been unsuccessful and its light remains.

Quakers Mark 140th Year

The Religious Society of Friends is marking the 140th anniversary of the founding of the Livonia Friends Meeting this weekend with a "Spree '23" information booth.

Friends will assist in staffing the Ford Field booth with literature advocating an end to the draft, amnesty, racial integration and a just order of national priorities.

Later this year, special meetings for worship will be held to commemorate the Friends' anniversary.

The Quakers were the first settlers in Livonia Township in the 1820s, and even then they were dedicated to peace and human rights.

They organized a meeting for worship in 1833, and it was established under the care of New York Friends in 1834.

In 1846, they constructed their second meeting house on Seven Mile Road, west of Farmington Road. Presently it is known as Quaker Acres and owned by the city of Livonia.

The first known war-resister in Michigan belonged to the Livonia Quaker Meeting. Robert Glasier settled on a homestead in 1834. During the Mexican War, he refused to drill with the militia or pay war taxes. He was convicted and was jailed in Ann Arbor for his stand against the war.

Glasier was also a conductor of the Underground Railroad, and accompanied William Lloyd Garrison on a tour of Michigan in an effort to end slavery.

Other Livonia Friends pioneered in the temperance and women's suffrage movements.

Rev. Johns Opens Caseville Vespers

The Rev. Elsie Johns, long-time minister of Caseville United Methodist Church in Livonia, will open the Wednesday vesper services in the historic Caseville United Methodist Church at 8 p.m. July 11.

The Wednesday vespers series is part of a program of special church services sponsored by the Top-of-the-Thumb Resort Ministries for vacationers in the northern thumb area.

The ministries, established three years ago, also offer a Sunday vesper series in the William Lyons Phelps chapel in Huron City, outdoor services at 10 a.m. Sundays at Oak Beach and KOA Camp at 9 a.m. and story hours in four locations during the week.

Committee On Women Her Task

The United Presbyterian Church's worship book may see some language changes as the result of studies in which a Farmington resident assisted during the recent 185th General Assembly at Omaha.

Mrs. Phyllis R. Johnson, a member of First United Presbyterian Church of Farmington, served as a member of the assembly committee on women during the meeting.

She said her group gave special attention to possible changes to remove "exclusive sex language" from the book.

St. John Sale Set June 30

St. John Episcopal Church, 555 S. Wayne, Westland, will hold a rummage sale beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, June 30.

Never Enough Foster Homes To Go Around

There never are enough foster care homes to furnish instant love for tiny children or supportive understanding for troubled teens.

That's the word from the people responsible for finding care for the young who, for a variety of reasons, need a home temporarily.

Donald W. Rolph, supervisor of the adoption and foster care department of Oakland County Juvenile Court, brought the message to a recent gathering sponsored by the Christian service commission of Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church in Farmington.

Similar appeals have come from the Wayne County department of social services through its foster home recruitment unit.

"Our need is for foster homes that will accept children over 10," Rolph told the group at Sorrows.

"Needless to say, these are the hardest to place. There seems to be plenty of foster mothers eager to take care of the little children who come to us -- the teens present a greater problem."

Children come under jurisdiction of the Oakland Juvenile Court either through acts of delinquency or neglect or abuse of their parents, Rolph said.

Then they go to Children's Village in Pontiac. Some stay there and many who could better benefit from home care are placed in one of the 100-plus homes available.

There's a difference in the way different wards are placed in foster homes, Rolph added.

"The babies are mostly in and out within 24 hours," he said. "Small children need this. They don't understand what's happening to them and they need the security of a home as quickly as possible."

"With the older children, it's a different matter. They need to get acquainted with the foster family they will join. Sometimes several visits at the institution and then weekend visits to the home are necessary before the child feels comfortable, the family feels sure it can handle him and we are convinced the placement is the right one."

Rolph said the department tries not to have its list of foster homes too long "because these foster parents like to be used," but does want a cushion to take care of the times when a lot of cases come in at once.

Families on the foster care list are licensed to take one to four children.

"Mostly we don't place the capacity number of children in homes licensed for three or four," Rolph said. "Again, we like to keep that cushion."

To be licensed for foster care in Oakland County, he said, homes need to meet certain requirements such as a separate bed for each child and separate bedrooms for different sexes when the children are over five. There is a questionnaire to fill out and a screening visit--"not rigorous, but it gets us where we want to be in terms of knowledge."

Foster parents are paid by the county in amounts ranging up to $90 a month per child over 12. That includes food and clothing, but such items as medical and dental expenses are paid by the county.

Rolph mentioned that in his other capacity as supervisor of adoptions in the county he often approves foster parents as adoptive parents for a child who becomes adoptable.

"The foster family doesn't have any inside track or priority," he said, "but adoptions by foster families no longer are a no-no as they once were."

Those interested in being foster parents in Oakland County may get in touch with Rolph in the county court-house in Pontiac.

In Wayne County, the department of social services can be reached at 640 Temple, Detroit.

Youth Class Adopts Retarded Kids

Fifteen retarded youngsters who live in the Evangelical Home for Children and Aged in Detroit have some "adopted" brothers and sisters in Livonia.

The mid-hi class at Pilgrim United Church of Christ, taught by Charles Ruckhaber, decided that these children, most of them quite recently residents of the Plymouth State Home and Training School, needed some contacts with other adolescents outside the evangelical home.

So they have planned and carried out several social events, with the retarded children as their guests.

On the Saturday before Easter there was a party and egg hunt on the grounds at Pilgrim, located at 36075 Seven Mile, Livonia.

More recently, an end-of-school party included games and roasted wieners for the visitors.

Pilgrim's junior high class, taught by Mary Jo Smyth, joined the mid-hi group on that occasion.

FUN AND GAMES were a big part of the evening when the youth group from Pilgrim United Church of Christ in Livonia recently

Rev. Lester Kinsolving's

Religion Update

It has apparently been kept a well-guarded secret, but Christian Science, founded by the late faith healer Mary Baker Eddy, may be rapidly disappearing.

In San Francisco, for example, this column has discovered that during only the past seven years, the Sixth, the Tenth and the Twelfth Churches of Christ, Scientist have all become defunct and their buildings sold.

The Sixth, an impressive building in the posh residential section of Pacific Heights, has had the first and last words carved on its Ionic portico covered up, leaving only "Church of Christ."

Across the Bay in Oakland, the Second, the Sixth and the Ninth Churches have similarly perished.

There have been no replacements in either city, so that during this brief time interval, nearly one-third of this denomination's total churches in these two major cities have been totally wiped out.

What happens to the finan-

Science churches — especially now that church buildings are no longer regarded as one-purpose buildings, but are often converted into very valuable commercial buildings?

This inquiry was directed, in Boston, to Allison Phinney, during my visit to the denomination's new $70 million national headquarters complex, next to the "Mother Church."

Phinney is the assistant manager of the denomination's powerful committee on publications — which controls the famed and often lauded Christian Science Monitor. This daily newspaper, Phinney remarked, lost $5 million last year.

But as to what happens to the financial proceeds of the sale of defunct Christian Science church buildings, Phinney said that he did not know.

Yet in the committee on publications Northern California office, Catherine Chance said that she believed that all such proceeds revert to the Mother Church in Boston.

This is easy to believe, given the almost limitless power of the denomination's five-member board of directors — which is completely self-perpetuating. Not only does this board deny rank and file members the right to vote for the directors of their denomination, but this board also conceals from them and the public the total financial assets — and even the membership figures.

The board of directors even controls all Christian Science pulpits, by requiring that every one of the 3,200 local congregations read the same, generally syrupy, canned-in-Boston sermon which the Mother Church sends out weekly.

Even if the charismatic Mother Eddy were still alive (and Harvard students have been arrested at her tomb seeking to locate an alleged direct telephone line from tomb to board of directors' office), this would be intolerable to most late 20th century young people.

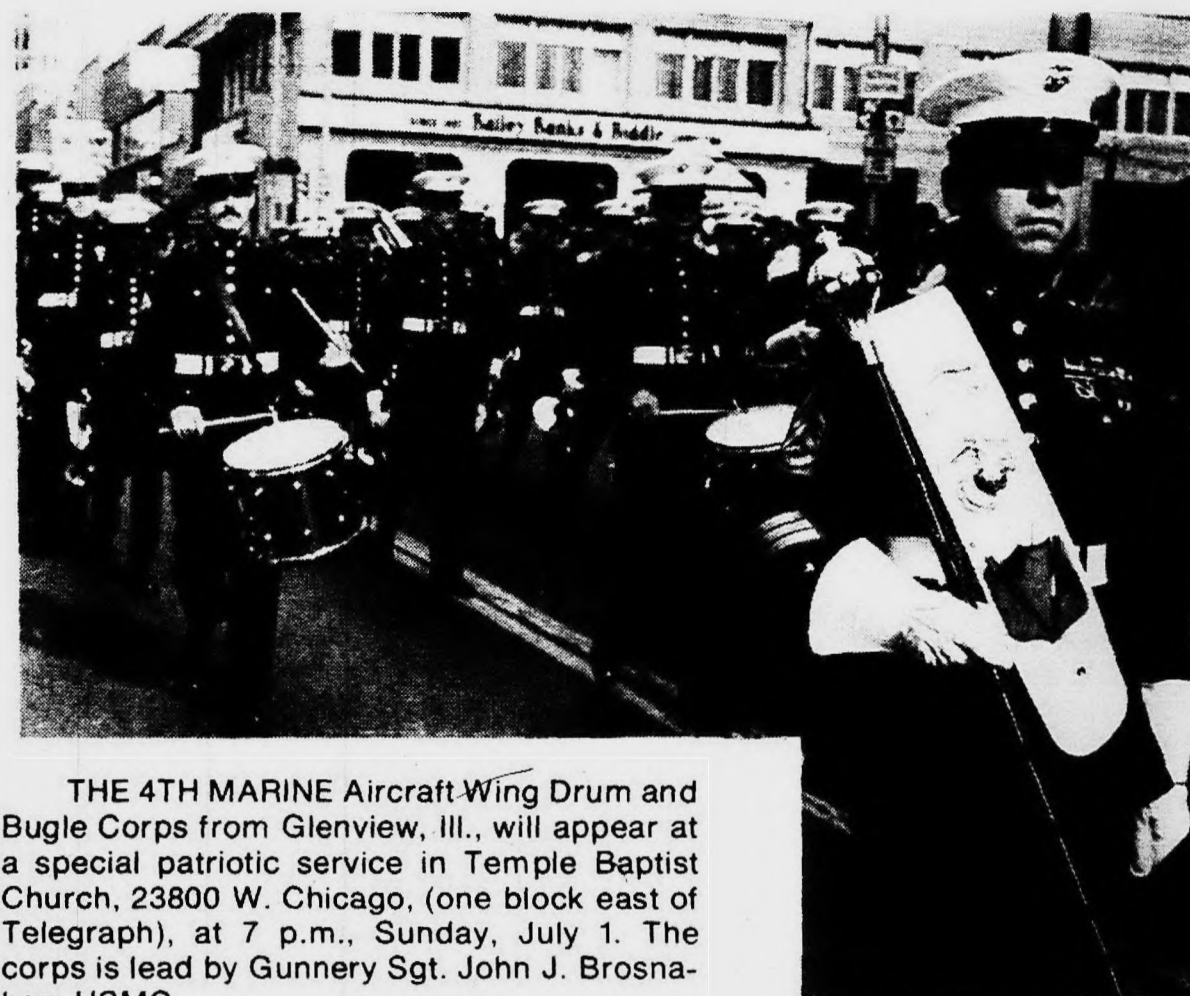

In Malden, Mass., for example, on Sunday, June 3, at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, there were only three people who looked younger than 60 or 70: the virile and hirsute young soloist and two admiring young females.

The total attendance at this main Sunday morning service was 35 — in an attractive Gothic church founded by Mrs. Eddy herself and built to seat at least 10 times this number.

The head usher (there were, amazingly, four ushers for this corporal's guard) described this as "an average congregation."

Just across Boston's Mystic River in the new $70 million building, Mr. Phinney announced that for the first time the board of directors had elected a foreign treasurer for the denomination, Marc E. Engeler.

Engeler is a Swiss banker.

THE 4TH MARINE Aircraft Wing Drum and Bugle Corps from Glenview, Ill., will appear at a special patriotic service in Temple Baptist Church, 23800 W. Chicago, (one block east of Telegraph), at 7 p.m., Sunday, July 1. The corps is led by Gunnery Sgt. John J. Brosnahan, USMC.

Rosary High Hosts Lectures

Six noted theologians will speak at Rosary High School, 8551 Greenfield, Detroit, in a summer lecture series.

It is sponsored by St. Basil Center, Pontiac, and is entitled "Evolution in the Spirit of Religion."

The lectures began at 8 p.m., Wednesday, June 27, and will continue each Wednesday for six weeks. The speakers are all professors on the staff of the New School of Religion, a graduate program of studies, conducted at St. Basil Center.

"We hope," said the Rev. Ed Brennan, director of the center, "to offer the clergy and laity of the Detroit area a continuing serious examination of religious questions in order to deepen our faith and understanding of the church in this time of rapid change."

Season tickets may be purchased at the door for $10, and individual lecture tickets are $2.

Copenhavers Are Delegates To Convention

The Rev. and Mrs. William Copenhaver of Trinity Church of the Brethren, Redford Township, will be among some 850 delegates to the 187th annual Church of the Brethren conference at Fresno, Calif., June 25 to July 1.

The theme of the session will be "Liberate the Word." Business matters to be considered will include ministry, ordination, family life, taxation, war, funeral practices and non-cooperation with the draft.

Speakers will include the Rev. James Armstrong, United Methodist Bishop for the Dakota areas; Howard J. Clinebell Jr., professor of pastoral counseling in the Claremont, Calif., school of theology and Dean A.J. Klasesen of the Mennonite Brethren Biblical Seminary in Fresno.

The Rev. Dean Miller of Lombard, Ill., conference moderator, will conduct the meetings.

String Band In SA Concert

The Salvation Army Swedish Women's String Band from Orebro, Sweden, will present a concert at 3015 N. Main, Royal Oak, at 7:30 p.m. Monday, July 2.

The group, led by Mildred Osterberg, has made many appearances in northern Europe.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

That ancient saying "Old soldiers never die, they just fade away" could well apply to two members of the Northville Downs staff, a pair that has been with the half-mile harness racing plant ever since it opened 30 years ago.

Each is equally prominent in the development of the Downs from a county fair operation to one of the finest half-mile parimutuel operations in the midwest. A plant that is entirely changed from the ancient wooden grandstand of 30 years back to a modern glass enclosed, air conditioned facility attached to an ultra-modern clubhouse.

Of the pair, Executive Manager John Carlo has no intention of retiring, any more than years ago when it became apparent the Downs was going to be a profitable outfit.

Dr. Linwood Snow, long-time president of the Northville Driving Club which leases the grounds to Northville Downs, was ready to call it quits after the 1972 meeting. "Doc" in his 74th year was on the ailing list, didn't feel up to par and decided to retire and move to Florida.

He made such an announcement and wasn't around for Northville's winter meeting in February and March. He was enjoying the sunny south and decided to stay there until the weather broke up north.

That happened just a week or so before the current Downs season opened on June 20.

"Doc" sat around his home for a few days, decided to take a drive down to the race track, ran across several of his longtime friends in the barn area and then visited with Carlo.

He must have had a wistful look on his face, one that told Carlo a story. Finally after a few minutes, John asked "Doc" if he would like to return to his duties as track physician.

"It's still open if you'd like to end your retirement for this meeting," said Carlo. "Nothing has been changed in the first aid room."

Just like that Dr. Snow was back in the harness, looking over the equipment, checking the bandages, pills and other medicines needed for the track hospital.

Thus when the first race started on June 20, "Doc" was watching on the closed circuit television set in his office.

It was business as usual and he couldn't wait until he had his first patient ... not from an accident on the track but one of the hundreds who have visited him for years for a pill, a bit of medical advice and some personal counseling.

One could almost see the big smile and relaxed look as "Doc" settled down to what had been his way of life for 29 years at the track and even more years as Northville's leading physician.

"Doc" Snow is back and all's right with the world again.

MEANTIME, Northville has been more than holding its own with competition from across the Detroit River in Windsor. Each track shows an increase in attendance and wagering but the Downs is a mile ahead of its Canadian rival.

Racing Secretary Harry Peterson has arranged an attractive program for Saturday as the track nears the first third of its 36-night meeting. It is an all-pacing card headed by a $5,000 Invitational with a field of five and a $4,250 preferred with six facing the starter.

The invitational could be one of the best of the first full week of the season. The field represents the best pacers on the grounds with Easy Irv in the role of favorite.

Easy Irv, the brilliant four year old from the Charley Farber farm near Brighton, had a string of four straight victories at the Wolverine meeting, one in less than 2:00.

This time Irv will have the services of Mrs. Beatrice Farber, lone woman driver at Northville and currently one of the best feminine pilots in the land. Bea appears to thrive on competition and will have plenty of it this time.

She'll be sending Easy Irv against such top reinsmen as Eddie Morgan Jr., Al Stanke, Charley Norris and Tom Wilburn.

Perhaps the best of the lot will be Prince Knox, handled by Norris. The Prince has been a bit erratic this spring, winning handily in one race and then sulking and winding up the track in the next.

Erlana's Valley, with Morgan in the sulky, was the star of the winter meeting and then went off form during the Wolverine campaign. The horse showed signs of regaining his top speed in recent races and could be the one to beat.

Others starting are Dave Butler (Stanke) and H.T. Luca (Wilburn).

The preferred finds Run Blue Run, who paced to an easy win last Saturday with Bea Farber at the reins, going after its second straight. The competition includes: Mr. Bubbles, Major Bucky, Mike A Breeze, Ark Time and Count Kef.

It should be interesting since all have been flirting with a 2:00 mile and the winner could make it this time.

GEORGE SHOLTY, the diminutive driver-trainer who learned the fine points of the business years ago from Tommy Winn, in the metropolitan Detroit area, is the key figure in an unusual story making the rounds in New York City.

George purchased a yearling colt at the 1972 Harrisburg, Pa. auction for $20,000. The handsome youngster was Boyden Hanover, a son of Little Brown Jug winner, Best Of All.

It seems the man Sholty was commissioned to buy the colt for ran out on him and George was stuck with a $20,000 yearling.

"I liked Boyden but not $20,000 worth," said George. So he sold a half-interest to two of his Long Island neighbors, Catherine Picciano and Frank Allecia, their first venture into harness racing.

Recently Boyden Hanover became the fastest juvenile pacer in North America with a 2:01 victory in a $9,500 division of the American-National in Chicago. Sholty drove Boyden.

Incidentally, Sholty is a brother-in-law of Tom Wantz, who has had a great deal of success this spring as driver-trainer for the Ed O'Hare stable of Southfield.

CLINT HODGINS, who was a regular at Northville Downs in the late 1940s, will become the 18th person to be enshrined in the U.S. Harness Writers' Living Hall of Fame.

The official installation will take place Sunday (July 1) at the Hall of Fame of the Trotter in Goshen, N.Y. Clint will receive the traditional Hall of Fame ring and a statuette of him will be unveiled in the Hall of Fame museum.

Since coming out of Canada in the early 1940s, Hodgins has campaigned some of the greatest standardbreds of the past 25 years. His great champions flow by like a modern history of the sport ... Proximity, Bye Bye Byrd, Prince Adios, Cold Front, Adios Butler, Katie Key, Gene Mac, Elaine Rodney and Skipper Thorne.

He has had three "Horse of the Year" winners in Proximity (1950), Bye Bye Byrd (1959) and Adios Butler (1960-61). He also swept pacing's triple crown with Adios Butler in 1959.

Proximity, Bye Bye Byrd and Adios Butler competed in Northville.

Keen Elected 'M' Club Head

James C. Keen, an Ann Arbor businessman and 1963 graduate of the University of Michigan, was elected president of the 3,300-member graduate "M" Club, an honorary organization of Michigan athletic letter winners.

Keen earned two letters in wrestling under the coaching of his father, Cliff Keen, former Wolverine wrestling mentor.

He succeeds Jack Tompkins of Detroit as president of the group.

Churchill High Grad Tosses No-Hit Southfield Gem, 1-0

sports

It was lucky No. 7 night for Gordy Miller.

The Livonia Griffin left-hander hurled seven innings against Southfield Lathrup in Adray action, walked seven and struck out seven and came up with a no-hit gem, 1-0.

It was Livonia's second win in the second round.

Miller, a '72 Churchill High grad, chalked up a 6-1 record for Milligan College, Tenn., this season.

The lone tally came in the sixth when Jeff Waterstone singled and Mark Temby sacrificed him to second. A wild pitch that hit the plate and bounced over the backstop allowed him to reach third.

Southfield pitcher Bob Bodnar uncorked another wild pitch that again hit the plate and Waterstone trotted in with the run.

Miller wasn't without his anxious moments on the Livonia mound.

In the third, Miller couldn't find the plate and walked the first three Southfield batsmen. With none out, Livonia catcher John Sichta picked Mark Hackberry off first base to ease the pressure. Miller walked Rich Ferrel after striking out Keith Hakala to again load the sacks. Miller bore down and retired Jack Booth on strikes.

The lone threat to Miller's pitching gem came on the last play of the game when Southfield's John Wenzel laced a shot down the third base line. Livonia third baseman Mick Crom backhanded the ball and threw to Howard Schryver with Wenzel out by a half a step.

Farmington Legion Tops Auburn Heights, 7-3

Farmington's American Legion baseball crew came up with five runs in the second and two in the third to defeat Auburn Heights, 7-3.

It was the seventh victory in 10 outings for Farmington in 18th District action.

Rich Stringer picked up his fourth victory behind no defeats. Stringer worked the first five innings, gave up no runs, three hits and struck out nine.

Don Hunt hurled the final two, allowed three unearned runs on three hits and struck out two.

Mark Miller went the distance for Auburn Heights, allowing seven runs on seven hits, walking two and striking out three.

Farmington exploded in the second for five runs on three hits.

Dennis Hagen was safe on an error. Tom Celani singled in Hagen stole second and was wild pitched to third. Rich Stringer singled to score Celani. Dave Washburn walked and both moved up on a passed ball.

With one out, Bill Willson squeezed in Rich Stringer and Rob Holton singled in Washburn with Holton scoring run No. 5 on a wild pitch.

Farmington added two runs in the third and after two were out, Rich Stringer and Washburn singled and Mitch Thomas singled in Stringer. Washburn scored on a wild throw to the plate.

Auburn Heights picked up its three runs in the seventh off Hunt. Tim Schmante was safe on an error, Mike Delvin singled and John Cornell singled in Schmante.

After two outs, Mark Miller drew a walk and Jeff Knudson bounced a shot off the third baseman's glove. Hunt bore down and struck out the next batsman and it was win No. 7 for Farmington.

Smiths Wed 50 Years

By MARGARET MILLER

A romance begun more than half a century ago in young peoples' meetings in Newburg Methodist Church brings Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Smith to a golden wedding celebration in the same church this weekend.

The white frame church where Beulah Ryder and Clyde Smith met now has a modern replacement. The centennial farm that has been the couple's home now is part of the City of Westland.

Dark hair in the wedding photograph is silvered these days.

But the Smiths, busy with their produce business and many family and social activities, carry on the traditions of two of the western Wayne area's earliest pioneer families.

Clyde and Beulah Smith, married June 30, 1923, in the Ryder farm home, will be greeted by about 140 friends and relatives in the reception at the church on their 50th anniversary Saturday.

The Rev. Frank Field, who has served the Newburg parish for a number of years, officiated for the wedding of the two Epworth League members.

Both grew up on farms that had been in their families for scores of years.

The Smith farm, on Newburg Road south of Joy, was purchased originally by Stephen Smith, Clyde's great-grandfather, who paid $750 for the 80-acre parcel.

His son, Josiah, and his grandson, William J., followed him as farmers on the land. By the time Clyde was a young man, produce sale was taking a big share of the land and work.

"I remember I used to go to the Western Market in Detroit with my father in a horse-drawn wagon," he said. "We'd leave about 1:30 in the afternoon and get into town about 7:30. Then we'd stay overnight, sell our produce in the morning, and drive back to the farm."

The Smiths turned to truck farming in 1919, and the next year Clyde had a two-wheel trailer that he hitched to a 1917 car to get 35 or 40 bushels of produce into town.

That business became the Clyde E. Smith & Sons Farm Market. Flowers have been added to the produce, and Smith and his two sons, David and Everett, have about 2½ acres in greenhouses.

The sons, both of whom have family homes on the original farm property, now operate the business during the winter while their Parents go to Florida.

The Smiths also have two daughters, Mrs. Joyce Tomlinson of Plymouth and Mrs. Marilyn Gray of South Lyon. There are 10 grandchildren, the oldest two boys Churchill

High School graduates this spring.

Although living on farms fairly close to each other the Smiths didn't attend the same high school.

"I went to Wayne High School," Clyde recalled, "because I had to go on the DUR street car and they charged a nickel for each township you passed through. It cost me just five cents to go to Wayne, but to get to Plymouth High School would have been 15 cents -- Nankin, Livonia and Plymouth townships."

He tells his grandchildren now about walking home and spending the nickel on candy," Mrs. Smith said. "They find this hard to understand -- They'd prefer the street-car ride."

Beulah Ryder did go to Plymouth High. Her father dropped her off while making rounds on his milk delivery route.

Among the many greetings the Smiths have received is a card from President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon.

STARS & STRIPES FOREVER

We are currently a nation without heroes, yet the symbol of our country still waves -- though frequently at half mast.

Despite the unsavory revelations that the Watergate testimony brings out daily, few Americans can deny the pride in their heart at the sight of the Stars and Stripes and the playing of our national anthem.

Our founding fathers had the foresight to realize and provide for human failings. They deliberately made the seats of government larger than the men who would fill them. For as presidents come and go -- some in shame and others in glory -- the office of president of the United States remains -- as sought after, as awesome and as weighty -- as when it was first conceived.

The stars and stripes is a symbolic representation of the ideals our nation has stood for in the past and will stand for in the future.

That we should know its history and the traditions surrounding its display is as important today as it ever was -- perhaps more so.

As the flag continues in its symbolic way to move people to attention, respect and pride we may gain enough time and energy to develop a hero or two -- for we are sorely in need of heroes.

-- Judith Berne

The Flag-- A History

In the first years of the Revolutionary War, Americans fought under many flags.

One of them, the Grand Union Flag, or Continental Colors, flew over George Washington's headquarters near Boston. It was the first American flag to be officially recognized by another country.

On Nov. 16, 1776, the American warship, Andrew Doria, saluted a Dutch fort in the West Indies and was saluted in return. This brought a measure of international recognition to the United Colonies.

A flag with 13 stars and 13 stripes received its first salute from another country on Feb. 14, 1778, when French vessels in Quiberon Bay, France, saluted John Paul Jones and his ship "The Ranger."

No one knows who designed the first stars and stripes, or who made the first one. Soon after the flag was adopted by Congress, Francis Hopkinson claimed that he had designed it. Some historians believe that Betsy Ross, a Philadelphia seamstress, made the first United States flag.

Betsy Ross did make flags for the government, but there is no evidence that she either designed the stars and stripes or made the first one. Furthermore, the representation of this flag in later paintings seems to be purely imaginative.

On June 14, 1777, in order to establish an official flag for the new nation, the Continental Congress passed the first Flag Act: "Resolved, That the flag of the 13 United States be 13 stripes, alternated red and white; that the union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

Fifteen stripes were provided for by Congress in 1794 after the admission of Vermont and Kentucky to the United States. It was such a flag flying over Fort McHenry in Baltimore harbor that inspired the poem by Francis Scott Key that later came to be known as "The Star-Spangled Banner."

101 Condominiums For Sale

Applegate.

It has the taste of the country club life.

Applegate has all the country club pleasures of the big, crowded developments. But Applegate is small. Uncrowded. A condominium village set in an old orchard.

So you share the pleasures with fewer neighbors. And have more for yourself.

Our heated swimming pool seems more private. Our two all-weather tennis courts more available. You don't have to wait until you're out of the mood for shuffleboard. And you make friends faster in our community clubhouse. Over a game in the game room, a snack, or a friendly evening in our fireplace lounge.

We're keeping Applegate small on the outside. And saving our big thoughts for the inside.

Our condominiums are not apartments, but townhouses. Built big, with two or three bedrooms and features you'd expect to pay far more for. Full dining room. Breakfast room. Family room. 7-foot walk-in closets. Central air-conditioning.

Balconies, patios and double parking spaces. A big thought to keep in mind: you get all the benefits of home ownership. Tax savings, equity build-up, a hedge against inflation. While you let someone else do all the maintenance. And our financing makes it possible for you to have extra pleasures now and then.

Applegate is 35 minutes from downtown Detroit. Near everything. Come taste. You'll recognize us. We're the uncrowded place you'll want to call home.

24420 Bashian Drive, Novi, Michigan 48050, (313) 474-7494.
