Vendor Control

Canton Township is eyeing an ordinance to control vendors after several mothers complained to the township board that vending trucks are becoming a nuisance.

Better Ratio

The male-female ratio was better and the music was just as good at Tuesday evening's chamber music concert at Schoolcraft College. Compared with the first concert the ratio was up to two men for every three women, from one to three. Maybe for the third, July 17, it will be even-steven.

Wayne County May Finance Road Patrol Until Next Year

By W. W. EDGAR

A truce has been called in the battle to eliminate the sheriff's road patrol.

Faced with the threat of a law suit being planned by township supervisors throughout the county to preserve police protection service, the Public Safety and Judiciary Committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has recommended that the patrol be funded for the remainder of the fiscal year which ends in December.

This recommendation now will go to the board's Ways and Means Committee and then before the entire body for final decision.

The committee recommendations usually are followed.

Faced with the possibility that the county may some day eliminate road patrol protection for townships, the Plymouth Township board had approved adding an advisory question on law enforcement to the special Sept. 4 election.

The question will ask simply whether township residents are satisfied with their current police protection.

Plymouth Township has considered several possibilities to provide better police protection including contracting with the city of Plymouth police department, contracting with the county for additional coverage and starting its own force.

Canton Township has considered starting its own police force and in plans for a municipal center recently unveiled in The Plymouth Mail & Observer, the board has proposed a large police facility to be located at Canton Center and Cherry Hill roads.

Prior to this week's action the county board had planned to eliminate the road patrol on Aug. 15 as an economy measure.

After taking this action the commissioners were bombarded with protests.

First, the sheriff's patrol pleaded for a continuation of the funding because under the law, the sheriff has the responsibility of providing protection.

Later, the township supervisors joined forces to consider a court fight to continue the patrol.

Under the chairmanship of George Moore, supervisor of Huron Township, the supervisors were mapping a fight to keep the patrol - even beyond the funding date in the last quarter of the fiscal year.

With the recommendation to fund the patrol for the remainder of the fiscal year, the fear that Plymouth and Canton townships, along with the others, would be without the patrol would be postponed.

It was good news, too, to the township officials who were certain that they would be forced into court action at least for awhile.

When asked about this possibility a few days ago Plymouth Township Supervisor J. D. McLaren stated that it wouldn't surprise him if court action was necessary.

Some of the townships have a skeleton police force - notably Northville Township, where a chief and three patrolmen do the job.

The townships affected by the recommendation to fund the patrol for the remainder of the year are Plymouth, Canton, Northville, Van Buren, Huron and Sumpter.

To cover this area three cars are on the road at all times and they are manned by 34 officers.

UPSTAIRS FIRE -- Fire swept through the upper portion of this house at 981 N. Mill in Plymouth last week. The upstairs was in flames when city firemen arrived; a passerby had routed two children out of the lower portion of the house before firemen got there. The blaze originated in a small second floor room housing a dryer and some clothing; exact cause of the fire is unknown, however. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

Consolidation Advisory -- What Are Ramifications?

By EDWARD WENDOVER

There are several ramifications of the consolidation advisory question which will be on the Sept. 4 Plymouth Township ballot.

Those ramifications may not only determine whether the question passes, but also may affect the future of Plymouth and Plymouth Township unification efforts.

First, the very action of the Plymouth Township Board to place the question on the Sept. 4 ballot has given rise to two interpretations.

Other items on that ballot will be proposals on extending the Byron Creek Sewer into the western portion of the township and on the township purchasing Hilltop Golf Course. Opponents of both those proposals are expected to be anti-consolidation.

Proponents of unification claim that the township board purposely added the consolidation question to a negatively slanted ballot to insure its defeat.

Unification opponents see the board's action as a weakening of its historically conservative stand on township government.

Somewhere between those two opinions lies the township board's feeling, which, according to Supervisor J.D. McLaren, is that the township should get as much mileage as it can from an election that they were forced to call when the anti-sewer extension forces successfully undertook a petition drive.

Helen Richardson, township clerk, said she hoped the voting would prove once and for all how township residents feel about consolidation.

McLaren said the board saw the Sept. 4 ballot as the only opportunity to approach township residents on the consolidation issue before the next regular election in November 1974.

By far the most important ramification of the advisory question is the very term, "consolidation."

Technically, "consolidation" means that two governmental units join together to form a new one, writing a new charter.

"Annexation" on the other hand means that one community (generally a township) is absorbed by a second community (generally a city) with an already existing charter.

(The recent Northville unification proposal was to annex Northville Township to the city. That proposal was defeated narrowly by Northville Township voters.)

McLaren said the township board considered the distinction between "consolidation" and "annexation" when it discussed the advisory question wording.

But proponents of unification say the easier route is annexation because consolidation is apt to be opposed by city residents.

Thus, the proponents say, the question being pointed toward consolidation may put off unification.

On the other hand, consolidation may be more palatable to township residents than annexation and may help in getting a positive vote.

Yet another aspect of the Sept. 4 consolidation question is the annexation hearing scheduled Aug. 8 by the State Boundary Commission.

At that time the commission will consider a long-standing petition to annex a part of Plymouth Township's Plymouth Road corridor to the city.

The Boundary Commission is not apt to rule in favor of the petition, but its very consideration of such an issue may again bring to the forefront the possibility of the city eyeing expansion either in small parcels or of the township as a whole.

The advisory question, therefore, may add another dimension to the unification discussion.

Now there will be debates of whether consolidation or annexation is better and this, unless resolved quickly, may divide the pro-unification forces and make them ineffective.

Will the pro-annexation forces in the township - if there are any - work to defeat the consolidation advisory?

The election results may answer that question and define further the ramifications of the advisory question.

Unification of Plymouth Township and the city may either be hastened or put off indefinitely by the advisory vote results.

Hilltop Price: $390,000

The proposed purchase of Hilltop Golf Course by Plymouth Township would cost $390,000, or about $6,000 per acre, if approved by the voters on Sept. 4.

An agreement signed by the township and representatives of the estate which owns the golf course set the price.

The township board Tuesday night voted to put the Hilltop purchase proposal on the Sept. 4 special election ballot.

Township officials say the purchase will be made partly with revenue sharing funds and would not require additional tax dollars.

The ballot proposition will stipulate the $6,000 per acre price and a maximum of $390,000 for the approximately 64-acre site.

Police Have No Suspects In Bomb Case

By DOUG JOHNSON

Here is a summary of the details of the State Police report.

A State Police lab report on the bomb that was placed behind the National Bank of Detroit early last week has given Plymouth police few clues, merely confirming what was already suspected.

The bomb shattered windows and left a small hole in the ground behind the NBD building sometime early in the morning of July 3. The bomb was apparently meant for the Army recruiting office on the second floor of the building.

Although Plymouth police, State Police, the Detroit Police Department intelligence squad and the Federal Bureau of Investigation are all interested in the case, no suspects have been identified by police.

The bomb report, filed by lab specialist Earl Leedle, showed the bomb was an amateur pipe explosive, using a quick match fuse and smokeless gun powder - the type often used by sportsmen reloading shotgun shells.

Det. L. L. Rodger VanderVeen of the Plymouth police said the report from a similar attempted bombing at the Navy recruiting station in Jackson showed the same type of bomb had been used but that a comparison of the exact type of powder was not possible since so little powder was left after the Plymouth explosion. The Jackson bomb did not explode and was discovered.

They collected as many pieces of the bomb and debris as they could. The report shows the pipe bomb was carried to the scene in a red and blue carry-all bag. The debris also included glass, black tape, masking tape and a few grains of powder.

The bomb did little damage other than breaking windows; however, like a hand grenade, the pipe bomb could have killed or maimed had anyone been around to be hit by pipe fragments, the report said.

VanderVeen said officers on the case feel the best they can do is check on known suspects - people they consider capable of the bombing.

A letter from a group called the People's Revolutionary Army of North America sent to the Jackson Citizen-Patriot late last week is still in the hands of State Police, who are running several tests in an effort to trace the letter. The letter boasted the group had planted both bombs.

The letter report will take several days because of the sophisticated methods the crime lab must use, VanderVeen noted.

The Stroller: On Dropping Athletics

Every time he reads in the public prints that some area school board is considering the dropping of the athletic program as a means of trying to balance the budget, The Stroller can't help recalling a visit he had several years ago with "Fritz" Crisler, retired athletic director at the University of Michigan.

It was a beastly hot afternoon and we were sitting in the huge Michigan Stadium where work had just begun on the installation of synthetic turf.

It was an odd sight - the playing field ripped up and covered with gravel that was to be the undercoating for the new surface.

But the visit was only a few minutes old when the sight of the torn up field was ignored and Fritz was discussing one of his favorite subjects.

He had just been asked what he thought of the idea of dropping the athletic programs in the various high schools as an economy measure.

"I honestly think it is a terrible mistake," he answered, "and I'll tell you why."

Fritz, always a great phrase-maker in his football coaching days, then explained his reason and the words should stand as a warning to all educators who are quick to make a target of the athletic programs.

"These people forget," Fritz said, "that an athletic program is our last bastion of discipline."

"While many of the younger generation have a tendency to go it alone, and some even become destructive, the young students who report for football, or any other form of athletics, will listen to, and obey, a coach."

The former Michigan director called attention to the many young fellows who go through a rigorous training program "just to make the team."

"They'll give up smoking and other things," he said, "just to get in good physical condition with the hope of representing his school on the field of athletic strife."

"Take athletics away from them," he continued, "and there'll be nothing left as a measure of discipline."

"While Fritz didn't mention it that hot afternoon, he was thinking of the advanced programs that now include the girls."

Told that some of the educators at the high school level claimed such things as football were just another avenue of public entertainment, Fritz turned in his seat in disbelief.

"Those fellows never sat in this stadium on a fall afternoon and watched the old grads as they followed the fortunes of their Alma Mater," Fritz was quick to counter.

"A college athletic program - and a high school program for that matter - is a rallying point for all students."

"Watch the old grads, especially on 'Homecoming Day' and you'll see one of the greatest demonstrations of loyalty you'll find anywhere."

The Stroller recalled the many times he had seen the old grads, stand and cheer, and oftentimes plead in choked voice for "their team" to carry on.

It is quite a sight in the vast Michigan stadium of a Saturday afternoon in the fall. And, unless one is careful, he soon is caught in the emotional tide of loyalty.

Each time this happens The Stroller can't help but think that all of this wouldn't happen and such loyalty never would be inbred in the business and industrial leaders if it hadn't been for an athletic program in our high schools.

Canton Weighs Vendor Control

By KATHY MORAN
CANTON

Complaints from Canton mothers have prompted township trustees to consider adopting an ordinance to regulate ice cream vendors' operations.

Mrs. Cathy Prince, representing mothers from Olde Plymouth subdivision, urged trustees Tuesday to "do something" about the vendors.

She said as many as five trucks have been spotted in their subdivision with some making more than one trip through each day. Besides the nuisance they pose, Mrs. Prince said she is concerned about the safety of children who run into the streets after the trucks.

Clerk John Flodin said trustees are studying ordinances from neighboring cities before drawing up one for Canton.

"It's a simple matter to adopt an ordinance," Flodin said. "But enforcement is something else."

He noted that if a company meets the standards set in the ordinance, the township would be obligated to issue it a license, even if it meant that five companies had trucks operating in each subdivision.

"I don't know how you could enforce it unless you have people watching trucks all the time," Trustee Robert Griffin said.

"I think the mothers would watch them," Trustee James Poole replied.

Supervisor Philip Dingeldey said trustees will discuss the problem at the next meeting after studying ordinances from other cities.

From Rifle Salesman To City Manager Aide

By W.W. EDGAR

PLYMOUTH

For a young fellow who has known only 28 summers, Ray Quada has travelled a long, circuitous and most unusual route to his desk as administrative assistant to Fred Yockey, Plymouth city manager.

Along the way he worked on the night shift cleaning up the DPW garage in East Lansing, while attending Michigan State, and he once sold rifles, though he didn't carry one during his two years in service at Ft. Knox, Ky.

All the while, though, his course was set in the direction of a city manager's office. He came by this naturally as his father-in-law, and his father-in-law's father, held down positions as city managers in Lapeer and Portland respectively.

"I was fascinated by their work," he confided when revealing how he happened to come to Plymouth.

"After I left the service in 1968, I enrolled at Michigan State and finished there in 1970. It was while there that, to earn a bit of money, I worked in the DPW building and did other chores for the city of East Lansing."

It was just a year after his graduation that he finally got moving in the right direction toward the goal.

He had been selling sports goods, including rifles, when he accepted a position as an assistant to Yockey in Midland.

It was under Yockey that he got a real education in the intricacies of the city manager's position and he profited accordingly.

They became good friends and it was a natural move when he left Midland last May to join Yockey in Plymouth.

Arriving here, he took an immediate liking for the city because "it reminds me so much of my home town in Marshall, Michigan."

At the moment he is engaged in negotiating new contracts with the city employees and, according to him, proceeding just fine.

"I'm well pleased with the people here," he said when talking of his new surroundings. "They have treated me fine and my fellow employees in city hall have been great."

The father of two boys, most of his leisure time is taken up with them. But he does get a chance to play golf and go swimming on occasion.

"Another thing I like about Plymouth," he said, "is that it is close enough to give me a chance to see the Tigers play. I'll really enjoy that."

He hopes to see them in a hurry because he soon will be tied up and burning midnight oil helping prepare the annual city report.

City Purchases 2 Lots For Elderly Housing

PLYMOUTH

The Plymouth City Commission has approved the purchase of two lots on Ann Arbor Trail to keep together a parcel of land intended for senior citizen housing.

At the request of Pilgrim Towers, a non-profit organization, which has proposed an elderly citizen housing project for the site, the commission bought the two parcels the same day the Pilgrim Towers option on them was to expire.

Pilgrim Towers still has the option on several surrounding parcels and is waiting for federal funding approval to begin the project.

City Manager Fred Yockey said the two parcels were bought on land contract, thus no down payment will have to be made and the city pays only interest.

He added that rent from the properties will pay back most of the interest.

A Pilgrim Towers spokesman said the organization hopes to pay back what money the city does not recover in rent.

The commission voted 5-0 to buy the land.

Commissioner Beverly McAninch, who was absent, submitted a letter opposing the purchase.

Gasoline Cans Ignite In Car, Man Burned

PLYMOUTH

Three cans of gasoline in the rear of a Volkswagen van ignited Wednesday evening, forcing the driver to jump from the vehicle while it was moving.

Matt Stevens, 18, 40753 Orangelawn, Plymouth, suffered burns to his hands and face when his van caught on fire after the gasoline was apparently ignited when the engine backfired.

The accident occurred while Stevens was driving south on Lilley Rd. near Met-tetal Airport. Canton Township firemen said when they arrived moments later the van was a mass of flames. Over 1,000 gallons of water were used to douse the blaze.

State Police said the van landed in a nearby ditch and no other vehicles or persons were involved in the mishap.

Police cautioned motorists to avoid carrying gasoline in containers in their cars despite the current gas shortage.

It is thought fumes from the three cans in Stevens' van were ignited by nothing more than the backfire.

No Suspects

The night of the explosion State Police also found a cardboard box full of newspapers in front of the NBD bank and treated it as if it might be a bomb. It was not, however, the report stated.

The Plymouth draft board office, at 595 Forrest was also hit by a bomb - on May 28, 1971.

The little tugboat's ability to push a big ocean liner around has always been a subject of fascination.

But it's really quite simple. The tugboat is custom built for its assignment. It has the power to do a big job. It is operated by a skipper who is highly skilled. The largest liner is a pushover for this combination.

The mighty little tug has its counterpart in advertising—the newspaper Want Ad.

The Want Ad's diminutive size is a deceptive cover-up for its surprising power. Imagine a simple three or four line advertisement, which costs less than dinner in a good restaurant, motivating twenty or thirty people to respond. It happens all the time!

An Observer Want Ad can play the part of a problem solver for you. It will sell a valuable but unneeded article, find a job, find you a needed employee, find you a place to live, or serve you in countless ways. (Want Ads have been used to sell tugboats.)

It won't be long until an occasion will arise when you can profitably use a Want Ad. When that time comes, pick up your phone and dial 522-0000. A friendly ad taker will help you word your ad for quick response.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MINUTES

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, was held on Thursday evening, July 5, 1973, in the Conference Room of the Administration Building, 454 S. Harvey Street, Plymouth, Michigan.

President Lawton called the meeting to order at 6:42 p.m.

Present: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, McClendon, Mirto and Penar.

Absent: Member Graves.

Administrators present: Sup't. Hoben, Deputy Sup't. Hogan, Assistant Sup'ts. Blum and Gibson, Principals Bullock and Workman, Director Masteller and Supervisors DiMedio and Symonds.

Others present: E. Wendover, Plymouth Mail & Observer; S. Mack, Safety Committee; L. Olson and C. Bellanger, Transportation Committee; J. Ryder and C. Maier, PEA and other interested citizens, students and parents.

Member Mirto reviewed agreed-upon possible reductions in the District Budget for the 1973-74 school year as outlined in a memorandum to the Board from Sup't. Hoben, entitled "Agreed Reductions" and dated July 4, 1973. Discussion followed on several items and indication made that any items related to scheduling should be decided upon in order to allow administration to go ahead with plans for the year. Sup't. Hoben reported that new teachers would be hired as "new hires" and would not be experienced teachers. He also indicated that there were 5,000 applications pending so new teachers would not be difficult to obtain. On the matter of Central Administration, Member Gray felt the community should be aware of the cuts proposed and that Central Administration had been reduced by five the previous year as well.

Member McClendon felt that the Board's position should be that instructional programs are the primary concern of the Board and that all other programs would suffer with the reductions. Member Mirto asked to go on record with the position that he was in accord with reductions as discussed on July 2 in a workshop session but that his next choice for reductions would be the Middle and High Schools Athletic Programs and Performing Music Programs. In addition, consensus was that other items which might be reduced included the re-analysis and re-organization of the Recreation Authority commitment, especially as regards use of school facilities and the closing of all school buildings one-half hour after class dismissal.

It was moved by Member Penar and seconded by Member Mirto to instruct administration to implement Cost Reduction Items No. 118, Page 1-3 of memorandum on "Agreed Reductions" dated July 1, 1973, in the amount of $608,522.00.

Ayes: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, McClendon, Mirto and Penar.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

It was noted that Item No. 1-15, proposed on Page 3 of memorandum dated July 4, were still to be considered and must result in cost reductions totaling approximately $200,000.

Sup't. Hoben also pointed out that check points for increased numbers of students would be held on July 15, August 15 and August 30, and the hiring of teachers would be projected to head count only as of those dates.

Sup't. Hoben read a proposed resolution from Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, which would provide for machinery to be put in motion for a possible millage election to be held on August 20, 1973. It indicated the last day of registration for such election to be at 5 p.m. on Friday, July 20. Sup't. Hoben pointed out that September 15 would be the last day for possible millage election which would enable millage to be placed on 1974 tax rolls in December.

Member Mirto stated that the adoption of the legal opinion as provided in the resolution does not commit the Board of Education to seek an election.

It was moved by Member Mirto and seconded by Member McClendon to adopt the resolution for an election on August 20, 1973, as established by the legal document prepared by counsel.

Ayes: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, McClendon, Mirto and Penar.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Member Penar and Member Benson both pointed out that they would be against another election being called on August 20, and would not support such a vote unless the community agreed to give a loud, clear demand for such vote as an indication of opposition to budget cuts as proposed. This was the general consensus of the Board members.

It was moved by Member Mirto and seconded by Member Penar to amend approved Board minutes of June 11, 1973.

Page 1, last paragraph Change "4.5 mill" to "4.5 million"

Ayes: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, McClendon, Mirto and Penar.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

It was moved by Member Mirto and seconded by Member McClendon to adjourn this meeting.

Ayes: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, McClendon, Mirto and Penar.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

The meeting was adjourned at 7:05 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
GARY A. MIRTO, Secretary

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR:

As a resident of Plymouth for less than a year, I read with considerable interest Mr. Wendover's column in the June 27 edition concerning the Jaycees' preparation for the July 4 activities. Although I don't know Mr. Wendover, I could not help but be struck by the tone of the article.

While Mr. Wendover's intent may well have been to perform a reporting function for the community, the zealousness with which he performed his task smacked greatly of irresponsibility on his part.

His article certainly has placed him in a "no lose" situation in that he can say "I told you so" if the program is less than adequate, or "I saved the program" if it does. In so doing, he has attacked a volunteer organization which, in my short time in town, has appeared to do more in the area of community service than others.

This is unfortunate in that anyone who has had any association with service clubs is well aware of the organizational difficulties often accompany the development of projects. Part of an organization's progress comes from learning through doing, and an important part of this training is criticism, such as that voiced by Mr. Wendover.

In fairness to all in the community, constructive criticism should be based on fact, not opinion, and devoid of emotion. Mr. Wendover's article lacked both.

I am certain that underlying Mr. Wendover's remarks is a sense of responsibility to the community, a stated goal of the Jaycees. Perhaps Mr. Wendover should consider joining the Jaycees so that he may improve the organization's capabilities from within.

St. Edith Combines Sports, VBS

Kids in St. Edith Catholic Parish in Livonia can't complain of nothing to do this summer.

The church, working with young men from St. John Provincial Seminary in Plymouth, is offering a full program of sports and three sessions of Bible school to keep them busy.

Four seminarians, Larry Delonay, John Keegan, Mike Daly and Denny Wagner, are working for the summer at the church located at 15089 Newburgh.

"We noticed last year when we were directing the Bible school that a lot of kids were just hanging around," Delonay said.

"So we decided to try the sports program," Keegan runs a full program of games and activities from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Activities include softball, soccer, volleyball, tetherball, kickball and basketball for the active five- to 12-year-olds, as well as some craft work and quiet games.

Field trips and special events like pets shows are part of the program, and the only costs are for craft supplies, pop and transportation.

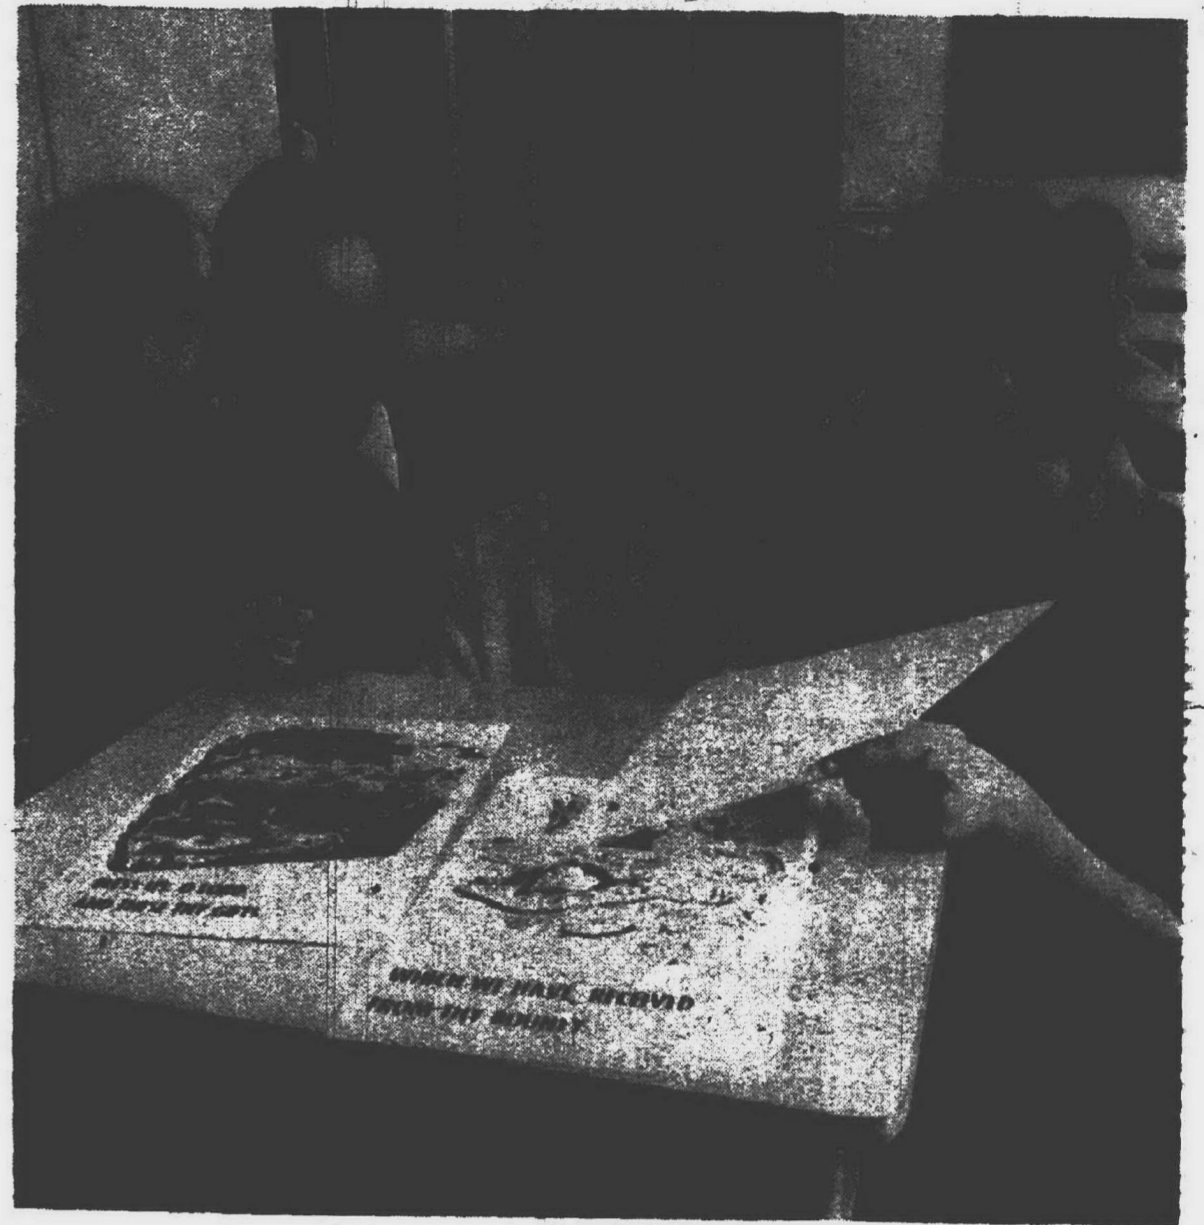

Wagner directs the Bible school, currently halfway through the second of its three two-week sessions. The last will run from July 30 to Aug. 10. Parish members work with him as teachers.

Held each morning from 9:30 to 11:30, it involves the children four through nine years of age in singing, recreation, crafts, stories and Bible readings.

Each day presents a major Bible theme geared to the age level of the children. The cost is 50 cents per week per child, and openings for the third session still are available.

Between 120 and 130 youngsters are on hand each day for activities at the church, Delonay said. About 60 per cent of them are parish children, the rest from the neighborhood.

"We're glad to have everyone," the seminarian said.

Summer Adventurous For Aldersgate Teens

The junior high group in Aldersgate United Methodist Church of Redford Township is known as Christian Adventure, and the young people are living up to their name this summer.

Their Wednesday program involves about 40 teens in a varied list of learning socializing and serving activities.

The group meets at 10 a.m. for worship, study and discussion on the theme "One World and the Creator God."

At noon there is a break for a sack lunch and then some special activity in the afternoon.

This Wednesday the teens and their counselors will head by bike from the church at 10000 Beech-Daly to Hines Park and Plymouth.

On July 25, there will be a bus tour to Lansing to visit the offices of State Rep. John Markes and tour the capitol and the Michigan State University campus.

Horseback riding, a swim party and a visit to a nursing home to sing and bring fresh garden flowers to patients all are planned during August.

The program will end with a trip to Cedar Point Aug. 29. The trips have been partially financed through a car wash and paper drive earlier in the year.

To make a well-balanced summer program, the group also is helping man the Redford Township recycling station and working on the church grounds by digging out old shrubs, weeding and planting new greenery.

The young people also are assembling Christmas tree ornaments to be sold in the fall, with proceeds going to the League for the Handicapped.

All junior highs in the Aldersgate neighborhood are invited to join in the activities.

'One In Spirit' At Riverside

"One in the Spirit," a gospel group from Warner Southern College at Lake Wales, Fla., will present a sacred concert in Riverside Park Church of God, 11771 Newburgh, Livonia, at 7:30 p.m. Monday, July 16.

The group includes Dennis and Linda Harasty, Dennis Hines, Don Hackney and Cathy Davis.

The five are on a tour of 10 states including Alabama, Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina as well as Michigan.

Their program includes vocal and instrumental music and testimonials. The concert is open to the public.

St. Paul Plans Paper Drive

The Youth Group of St. Paul Lutheran Church, 20805 Middle Belt, Farmington, will hold a newspaper drive on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 20-22. A truck will be on the parking lot late Friday afternoon through Sunday evening for donations.

Larger amounts will be picked up. Interested donors should call the church office.

Livonia Couple Are Delegates

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Johnson of Livonia will attend the 17th quadrennial general conference of the Pentecostal Holiness Church as delegates.

The conference will begin Aug. 2 in Roanoke, Va. Bishop J. Floyd Williams, the general superintendent, will preside over the week-long conference. Problems of administration, programs for the next meeting and church policies will be discussed.

Official delegates will number about 600, but it is expected that more than 4,000 persons will attend.

Religion Update

Rev. Lester Kinsolving's

"It is time that American coaches realized that a male's hair is not just an American tradition, but an issue involving Biblical principles."

—Tony Simpson, in "Texas Coach" magazine

The current epidemic of young male mopheads was just beginning to show faint but welcome signs of abatement, when the wire services nationally transmitted this Biblical theology of Coach Simpson.

Some of the most rebellious of these hairy youngsters were (happily) just beginning to realize that their hirsute fad has become tired and boring rather than shocking — in that it consists entirely of a "talent" on which they can be equaled by most imbeciles and exceeded by all apes.

Then came Simpson's pronouncement — and the immediate and predictable reaction. Right down there in Houston, two of the city's leading teen jocks announced that they would boycott sport altogether before allowing their luxuriant locks to be violated.

These potential hair-martyrs did not, reportedly, remind Coach Simpson that had their hirsute devotion been maintained in Old Testament times, it might have saved the Bible's most athletic character.

But even though Samson was mighty (or, as football coaches often put it, "real physical") he was also simple enough to disclose to a designing woman named Delilah (Judges 16:17) the secret of his inimitable strength: hair.

It is not known precisely how much this succumbing of a mighty male to a mere female motivated St. Paul to ask his Corinthian parishioners (1 Cor. 14:11): "Doth not even nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair it is a shame unto him?"

Long hair was, admittedly, a shame (although not necessarily shameful) elsewhere in the Bible, in the case of King David's son Absalom. But this was a matter of practicality rather than morals, for Absalom got his hair caught in a tree while riding a mule (II Samuel 18:14) — a rare snare in the case of today's youth.

On the other hand, it is difficult indeed to see how the U.S. Navy can contend that its sailors who sport wild hairdos are "in uniform" — especially when they look so sloppy in comparison to the U.S. Marines, who, commendably, have refused to engage in such youthful pampering.

Columnist Carl Rowan has strongly advised young blacks to grow up and stop glorifying in their "Afros." This grotesque and ostentatious hair-do suggests a mouse being crushed by a bowling ball.

But at least Afros are generally neat in comparison to some of the Caucasian cranial creations.

Rather than suggesting anything Biblical, these weird styles call to mind Greek mythology — with the snake-haired Medusa, one look at whom turned the viewer immediately to stone.

Some will rebut that "Jesus had long hair," — as did editor Eugene Price of the Goldsboro News-Argus, in North Carolina.

But among a deluge of reaction pro and con, one reader wrote Price requesting that he provide proof for Jesus' alleged long hair.

Replied Price:

"Not only do we not have any proof, we wish we had never even said it!"

PLYMOUTH CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE will hold its second annual community bike parade beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday, June 21 and Linda Bradford (left), Joyce Witt and Jeanette Witt are getting their bicycles ready. The parade, with police escort, will leave the church at 41550 E. Ann Arbor Trail about 1:30 p.m. and travel to the center of town and then back to the church for refreshments. Adventist Ministers Ready Conference Site

One hundred Michigan "men of the cloth" will converge on Grand Ledge, 10 miles west of Lansing, Sunday, July 15, to become temporary "blue collar" workers.

They are Seventh-Day Adventist ministers, who will join another 100 church employees from throughout the state to prepare for the 105th annual camp meeting of the Michigan Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists.

This will begin Thursday evening, July 19.

The clergymen will help prepare the 60-acre site for an influx of approximately 6,000 Michigan Adventists. They will reside on the grounds during the 10-day session in tents, cabins, trailers and dormitory rooms.

Some will attend the camp meeting as part of their regular yearly vacation.

An additional 12,000 to 14,000 will be weekend visitors, driving in just for "Sabbath" (Saturday) or staying the weekend in area commercial facilities.

Setting up this temporary tent and trailer city is a major operation.

Pastors and other church workers will pitch and equip up to 600 family tents; assemble and place benches to provide seating for 10,000 in the camp's main pavilion; set up four large auxiliary meeting tents and equip them as well as six additional auditoriums for special groups.

Some will be kept busy putting up signs, stringing electrical wiring or caring for the countless other duties required to prepare the huge campsite for the convention.

"We don't pitch as many tents as we used to," reports Robert D. Moon of Lansing, president of the Michigan Conference. "More than 200 permanent cabins have been erected, and space has now been provided for more than 500 campers and trailers."

Tents provided by the conference have wooden floors, electricity and a table. Chairs, beds, mattresses and other materials are supplied according to each family's needs. Some furnish the tents themselves, bringing from home all sorts of equipment, including full-size refrigerators.

In spite of tired muscles at the end of each day, most ministers enjoy "camp pitch." The physical exercise, with perhaps a game of baseball in the evening, is good for them, they feel.

Working with other ministers during the day also gives them a chance to trade ideas which can be used in their own ministry in the months ahead.

Adventists number nearly 20,000 adult members in the Michigan Conference.

Her Tasty Chicken Alicante May Be $10,000 Fare

By MARGARET MILLER

It may be a race with the stork as well as competition with good cooks from all over the country, but Mrs. Sandra Garcia of Farmington plans to prepare her finest Alicante Chicken in Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 11.

If her second child doesn't decide to arrive early, and if she can best 49 other contestants, this former North Farmington High School home economics teacher could come home with $10,000.

Her chicken and artichoke recipe, which she developed while visiting in Spain several years ago, already has won her $100 in a national contest sponsored by the National Broiler Council, representing the chicken industry in the country.

It's the first contest recognition for this kitchen whiz, and that seems a bit surprising.

"I own just about every cookbook you could name," she said, "but I hardly ever use them. I just love to create my own recipes."

The recipe for Alicante Chicken wasn't in her files, though, until the contest directors sent it with the word that she was a finalist.

She had served it to her husband, Dr. Remigio Garcia, and told him she was going to enter it in the 1973 national chicken cooking contest.

"I save my recipes when they really appeal to him," she said. "This dish wasn't one he especially liked, so I didn't even save the recipe."

"After I heard I was a finalist I cooked it again and I think it made more of a hit this time," she laughed.

The dish, which uses black and green olives as well as chicken and artichoke hearts, is named for a place in southern Spain the Garcias visited.

It's a favorite town for Dr. Garcia, who grew up in Spain, and his wife was introduced to artichokes in that area.

"I had never seen them growing before and I was fascinated," she said. "That's when I decided to try cooking them with chicken. I thought they would go well together."

Back home, Sandra Garcia saw the contest advertised in a magazine and decided to try the combination.

She added the olives and flavored the dish with garlic, white wine, salt and pepper and Accent, the product of one of the contest sponsors.

Though Mrs. Garcia first made her Alicante Chicken with the fresh artichokes of Spain, she worked out her recipe with frozen artichoke hearts.

"That was to make it quicker to prepare," she said.

She expects to cook it a number of times before September to get it perfected. In that she'll probably have plenty of "help" from two-year-old Maria Elena, who just loves to join her mother in the kitchen.

And she'll also need the cooperation of the second Garcia child, due to be born not too long after the national competition.

While competing in Little Rock, she and other cooks will be the guests of the broiler industry people of Arkansas and the co-sponsors, makers of Alcoa Wrap, Wear-ever cookware and Mazola corn oil as well as Accent.

As well as the top prize, there's a second prize of $4,000, third prize $3,000, fourth prize $2,000 and fifth prize $1,000.

With all her recipe experimentation, only one of Sandra Garcia's concoctions ever has been published. That's a pineapple-ham casserole that appeared in a book of favorite recipes of home economics teachers.

"It's basically a sweet-and-sour recipe—the kind that's quite popular today," she said.

The ham-and-pineapple casserole and several others worked out by Sandra Garcia will be published by The Observer in next Wednesday's Observing Life section.

Here's how she cooks Chicken Alicante:

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces

½ c. corn oil

1 clove garlic, minced

1 box (9 ounces) frozen artichoke hearts, thawed

1 can (7½ ounces) jumbo black olives, drained

12 large green olives, drained

¾ c. dry white wine

1 t. Accent

½ t. salt

½ t. pepper

Heat corn oil in a 10-inch fry pan over medium heat.

Add minced garlic and cook until garlic turns light brown. Add chicken and cook 15 to 20 minutes or until chicken is golden brown. Set aside. Mix together artichoke hearts, black olives, green olives, wine, Accent, salt and pepper. Place chicken in 13½ x 9½ x 2½-inch baking pan lined with heavy duty aluminum foil. Add the artichoke-olive mixture to chicken. Cover pan with foil and seal edges tightly. Bake in 350 degree oven one hour or until chicken is done. Serve immediately. Makes four servings.

WHAT CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CAN DO FOR A FAMILY.
It can bring an understanding of God's closeness and care, helping each one in the family in everything he does.
It can develop a deep love for the Bible, and joyful obedience to God's law.
It can teach every member, and the family together, to heal problems in the way Jesus showed.
How can Christian Science do all this? Through Sunday School classes that strengthen children. Through Sunday services that inspire parents. Through Wednesday testimony meetings where personal accounts of healing are shared. Through Reading Rooms where truths are pondered in quiet.
Won't you invite Christian Science into your family's life?

Thurston Making Waves In Berry Play

Thurston is beginning to make believers out of its foes in the Berry Baseball League.

The American Mack race now has a 7-3 Thurston club fighting it out with Plymouth. Churchill Berry and Bentley Crowe. Thurston ripped D&G Heating, 9-1, and upended Crowe, 11-4. Ken McLean got the starting assignment against Stevenson D&G Heat, and worked the first five innings. McLean gave up one run on two hits, walked four and struck out seven. Rick Bylin picked up the save, going the final two innings and not allowing a hit.

Taking the loss for D&G was Leon Gribeck with Thurston collecting eight hits.

Thurston's big inning was the fourth when it scored five times on five hits, a walk and an error. McLean started it off with a three-bagger. Mitch Drozdowski singled him home and Mike Robinson singled.

Gary D'Ascenzo walked and Mark Falvo was safe on an error to score another. John Roy and John Broder followed with hits and the rest was all Thurston. The Thurston bats were ringing against Bentley Crowe.

Dan Vezina and Brent Boegler couldn't stop Thurston, with 13 hits coming off the two as Thurston sprinted to an 11-4 decision. Vezina took the loss.

Chris Queen and Falvo worked for Thurston. Falvo relieving Queen on two different occasions. Queen worked four innings, allowing three runs on five hits, walking three, hitting three and striking out four. Falvo hurled three innings, allowed one run, two hits, walked one and struck out three.

Queen picked up the win. Bentley Crowe made it 1-0 in the first when Bob Cross was safe on an error, stole second and scored on a hit by Mark Newell.

A single by Roy, stolen base, error and passed ball tied it at one-all for Thurston in the bottom of the stanza. Thurston went up, 2-1, in the second when Drozdowski singled, Curt Beadle walked and Mike Robinson singled in Drozdowski.

Thurston upped it to 5-1 in the third. Falvo singled, moved to second on a passed ball and scored on a hit by Roy who advanced to second on a passed ball. Ray Ivey was safe on an error with Roy scoring and Beadle singled in Ivey.

The fourth saw Thurston explode to a 9-1 lead. Queen was safe on an error and D'Ascenzo sacrificed him to second. Falvo was safe on an error and Roy walked to lead the bases. Broder beat out a bunt to score Queen and Drozdowski and Beadle followed with hits to score three more.

Crowe made it 9-3 in the fifth on a hit by Mark Newell Boegler and Paul Roshirt were hit by pitches and Bob Deacon singled in two runs.

Thurston got two back in the seventh on a walk to Mike Hill and singles by Falvo and Roy. A walk to Newell and singles by Boegler and Deacon produced Crowe's final tally in the seventh.

Ev Hubble, a counter employee at Westland Bowl, became the toast of the bowling world on Thursday - and not because of a bowling score.

She hit the jackpot in the Michigan lottery and walked away with the top weekly prize of $200,000.

She became the first bowler to cash in on any of the major prizes and the members of her bowling team were with her when fortune struck.

Mac Goldman, former manager of Merri-Bowl, wants his friends to know that he hasn't gone into retirement. "I just retired from Merri-Bowl," he explained.

If coming events cast their shadows before them, there will be a re-birth of trio bowling during the fall and winter season.

For most of the summer, the bowlers who have been accustomed to five-man team bowling have competed in what has been termed "trio bowling" and liked it.

There is little chance that the major leagues will change, but the trend is gaining and there is no telling what will transpire.

There was a time when no one thought that national match game team championships would fade from the picture. But they did. Later, doubles play - which once was popular - went into the limbo of forgotten things on the all-star level.

So, there's no telling. Maybe we will see a great increase in three-man teams when the snow begins to fly.

One of the hot beds of trio bowling this summer has been Bel-Aire Lanes in Farmington where the stars have been turning in some good counts.

Dave Nutt was the pace-maker this week with a 603 on games of 223, 198 and 182. Right behind him came Jim Potter with 226 for high single honors, while Mike Maviglia was next with a 222.

These are anxious days for three of the state's top junior bowlers.

They are Linda Laeder of Grayling, John Cavanaugh of Detroit and Duane Corbin of Kalamazoo, and they're keeping in rhythm to bid for the All-America Youth Championships which will be decided in Washington, D.C., during the last week in July.

This trio paced the field in the state roll-offs that were limited to high school seniors.

Young Ray Sewell, a Farmington lad of 13 who carries a 135 average, had one of the best nights of his young career when he put together games of 160, 152 and 146 for a 458 series.

Farmington Legion Climbs Into 2nd

Farmington's American Legion team which slipped from first to third in the 18th District standings, bounced back into second after a 3-1 victory over Waterford Chief Pontiac.

It was Farmington's 13th victory against six setbacks. Rochester still holds first place with a 143 mark with Waterford slipping to 12-7.

Farmington Coach Wally Christenson again called on his ace hurler and Rich Stringer did the job as he has on four other occasions.

Stringer chalked up his fifth win, coming through with a five hitter, striking out 14 and walking four. That makes 66 strikeouts for Stringer in 45 innings to go with an 0.18 earned run average.

Taking the loss for Waterford was Chris Morris who gave up the three runs, on four hits, walking one and striking out five.

Waterford took a 1-0 sixth inning lead on a crowd maneuver. Mike Grace led off with a base on balls and Gary Devar followed with a drive to deep center. Farmington outfielder Tom Celeni went back on the ball but ran into a crowd of parents watching a little league baseball contest and the ball dropped for a three bagger.

Farmington came back in the last of the inning to score three times. Rob Holton was safe on an error by the second baseman, Jeff Herman singled and both runners moved up on a stolen base.

With no outs, Celeni singled to left to score two, Sam Pink was safe on an error, Celeni stole third and Pink second. Waterford elected to give an intentional pass to Stringer and on a three ball-no strike pitch, Stringer connected for a sacrifice fly. Celeni scoring and Farmington had a two run lead and the game.

Plymouth Ends Round Over Southfield, 10-5

Plymouth Bidwell concluded second round Adray baseball competition with a 10-5 victory over Southfield Lathrup to finish 5-3-1.

Bidwell stands 11-6-1 overall heading into the third and final round.

The second time around proved a little easier for Plymouth against Southfield. Plymouth squeaked out a 2-1 win in the first meeting but walked away from the Lathrup team this time, 10-5.

Plymouth Coach Wayne Sparkman started with right-hander Steve Robb who had beaten Lathrup in the first match. Robb lasted only 2 1/2 innings, gave up four runs - one of which was earned, allowed three hits, walked two and struck out one.

Mike Smock, from Ann Arbor Pioneer, worked the middle 2 1/2 innings, gave up one run on three hits and struck out four. He picked up the win with Terry Laird chalking up the save.

Rick Yorke, Carney Braha and Jack Booth hurled for Southfield. Yorke started, worked three innings and gave up five runs. Braha took over in the fourth and took the loss.

Southfield drew first blood in the opening stanza. With one out, John Dallao walked and Keith Hakala was safe on an error, putting runners on second and third. John Wenzel singled them in, moved to second on another error and scampered in on a hit by Lee Manduzzi.

Plymouth bounced back from a 3-0 deficit to tally four times in the second. Greg Lane singled and with two out, Mike Kolb tripled and scored himself on a wild relay into home.

Dave Hees was then hit by a pitch, stole second and brother Dan was safe on an error, Dave scoring. Larry Graves followed with a hit to score Dan and Plymouth had a narrow lead.

Southfield tied it in the third when Wenzel was hit by a pitch and Bruce Digue doubled him home.

The last of the fourth saw Plymouth explode for six runs. With Yorke still on the mound, Dave Hees singled, stole second and scored on a hit by Dan.

In came Braha, Graves, Jeff Waller and Jim Grimmer all drew bases on balls. Kovacs followed with a two run singled, Lane sacrificed in Grimmer and Robb singled to complete the assault.

Southfield tallied once in the fifth on a single by Wenzel, an error and single by Rick Ferrel.

West Bloomfield Jumps Back Into League Race

West Bloomfield climbed a few notches in the Berry League American standings.

Bloomfield knocked off the Clarenceville Bankers, 6-1, and the Garden City Patriots, 8-2, to up its record to 6-5.

Rick Edelen went the distance for Bloomfield, recording his second win against one setback. Edelen hurled a five-hitter, walked five and struck out seven.

Clarenceville used Brian Luka and John Henderson for a seven hitter with Luka taking the loss.

Bloomfield jumped on Luka in the second inning for three runs on two walks, two hits and an error. Bob Jones was safe on an error, Bob Rowley singled and Tom Kekonen walked to load the bases. Edelen was hit by a pitch to force in one run, Dan Rowley drew a walk to score another and Joe Zamboldi singled to make it 3-0.

A single by Dan Rowley, an error, single by Dave Gass and three-bagger by Jones pushed it to 6-0 in the fourth.

Clarenceville's lone run came in the seventh on walks to Paul Rasetak and Rick Beyer and a single by Pat Ruvalo.

West Bloomfield Coach Carl Rowley handed Dave Gass his first starting pitching assignment against Garden City and he came through with four innings of two hit ball. Gass gave up two runs and picked up the win with Rick Edelen working the final three innings and recording a save.

Randy Stone and Rick Varterisan were touched for 13 hits by Bloomfield with Stone taking the loss.

Bloomfield all but tucked away victory in the first inning with four runs on three hits coupled with four walks.

Chris Reynolds singled, stole second and scored on a double by Gass. Jones followed with a walk and Gary Mutnick beat out an infield roller to load the bases. Next followed three straight walks to Dan Rowley, Joe Zamboldi and Jeff Stocker and Garden City was down 4-0.

Bloomfield followed with two runs in third and two in the fifth to complete its attack.

Churchill Berry Tips D&G Heat

Churchill Berry broke open a 2-1 pitcher's battle with five runs in the seventh inning to coast to a 7-1 American Mack triumph over Stevenson D&G Heating.

A double by Phil Skender, walk to Bobby Blaies and a stolen base gave Churchill a 1-0 lead in the first.

D&G came back with one in the third when Mineaf singled, stole second, Bill Finn walked and Schmidt singled.

Singles by Mike Gotshall and Bruce Condon and an error gave Churchill the lead again in the fourth. That's the way it remained until the seventh.

Kevin Nelson led off the Churchill explosion with a single. Skender was safe on an error. Kelly singled and Rod Hawraney walked to force in one run.

After Foster went down swinging, Gotshall singled,

Condon grounded out and Al Leirstein delivered a double. Nelson hurled a four-hitter for Churchill, walked one and struck out 11. Jim Brock took the loss for D&G, allowing eight hits, walking five and striking out four.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

Easy Irv, the spectacular four-year-old from the Charley Farber stable which has the fastest mile at Northville Downs this season, won't race tonight (Saturday) ... but that didn't stop Racing Secretary Harry Peterson from arranging one of the better programs of the meeting.

The 'Downs has less than three weeks remaining of the 36-night summer meeting which ends on July 31.

Easy Irv, winner of the invitational in the past two weeks, was invited to which overnight in Chicagoland and Driver Bea Farber had accepted. Then the pacer came down with the virus and was kept on the farm near Brighton.

Meanwhile, Joe Adamsky, the slender Ohio driver, will go after an unprecedented double in the two featured events.

Joe has Whirlaway going in the $4,250 preferred event and Ark Time, his pride and joy, coming out of the No. 6 hole in the $5,000 invitational. He has an excellent chance of winning both.

Ark Time, winner two races back, was a fast closing fourth to Easy Irv a week ago. The seven-year-old has earnings of $100,000 including $6,300 this year.

However, it isn't going to be that easy since his five rivals include all of the better pacers at the track.

For instance, Prince Knox, also a seven-year-old, is fast nearing top form and could win it all if fit and ready. The Prince has banked $25,625 already this season and is capable of a 2:00 mile at his best.

Others facing the starter are: Hoover, the Australian eight-year-old which won a week back in a quick 2:02.1, and H. T. Luca, which wound up second last Saturday in 2:01.3.

Dave Butler and Spook Time complete the list.

Whirlaway, which has shown tremendous improvement since the start of the meeting, has plenty of competition from the five rivals in the preferred.

In the first place, Emerald Scar, one of the stars of the Farber stable, could make things interesting for all going postward. The five-year-old mare shows five wins in 14 starts and earnings of $14,225.

Then there's Mike A Breeze, the five-year-old Rusty Range gelding, which is the early favorite of a 2:02.3 clocking a week ago.

Tijuana Time, the Michigan champion of 1972, figures to be close, coming off a 2:00.3 win at the recent Wolverine Raceway meeting.

The remaining entrants are: Erlana's Valley and Speedy Major.

It is another all-pacing program and with the exception that it doesn't have Easy Irv, it stacks up as one of the better cards of the meeting which only has two more weekends.

CONGRATULATIONS are in order for Gerry Banfield, Sr., the popular Farmington driver, who became a grandfather earlier in the week. It was No. 1 for Gerry and was the first child for Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Banfield, Jr.

HOSPITAL NEWS. Howard Niles, veteran driver-trainer from South Lyon, has been released from St. Mary Hospital in Livonia after suffering a broken hip in an unusual accident on his farm, and has returned home to recuperate.

Latest information from the family is that Howard will be sidelined for several months before he'll be able to resume driving.

SIR DALRAE, the super-horse of 1973, continued his sensational streak with a 1:56.3 victory in the $25,000 Governor's Cup race in Chicago. The four-year-old finished almost five lengths ahead of Breadwinner with Silas Time third and Kentucky fourth.

Sir Dalrae astonished Wolverine Raceway patrons earlier in the season with a 1:58.3 triumph. It wasn't so much that he won but the son of Porterhouse came the last half in a spectacular :56.2, fastest in Michigan history.

Incidentally, Sir Dalrae, with 10 firsts in 13 starts this year, has the breeding of Porterhouse and Queen's Crown. The dam is a daughter of Queen's Adios, who stood for many years as the Manchester farm of the late Bert Brennan.

Huff N Puff and Blu Fireball, two of the faster pacers at Wolverine Raceway, were recent victors in Chicago-land. Each took off for the Windy City to compete for richer purses.

Huff N Puff, who had a 1:59.3 mile at Wolverine, captured a $6,500 overnight invitational for mares in 2:01.1 with Merritt Dokey at the reins.

Clyde Snook was in the sulky when Blu Fireball won in 1:59.2 in an $8,500 invitational pace.

Smog, the four-year-old Meadow Skipper horse, is the new champion of the rich Can-Am series. With Stan Dancer in the buggy, Smog took the $50,000 finale at Scioto Downs in Ohio in 1:59.4.

Michigan - owned Hasty Ed was second with Muddy George third. Hasty Ed ended a 12-race streak of Muddy George in the $12,500 qualifier at Northville Downs. Then he beat the Canadian sensation again in the championship but had to be content with second money.

SIR DALRAE, harness racing's No. 1 star, hasn't suffered from the hot sticky weather in Chicago. He has his own electric fan to keep him cool and dry.

Driver-Trainer Jim Dennis likes his champion to be fresh and fit, so he's keeping the air circulating inside the stalls.

SAC Role Is Evolving

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second article in a series of three describing the operations of Observerland's three Community Arts Councils. They are Farmington, Plymouth and Southfield.

By CORINNE ABATT

With three years of trial and error behind it, the Southfield Arts Council is emerging with a clear definition of its role.

The Council started in 1970 by then Mayor Norman Feder, who wanted a group to encourage and support the arts. Dr. Mervyn Lakin headed the pioneer group and the late C. Allen Harlan followed him as council president.

Mrs. George (Marceline) Gross was elected president in 1972 and was re-elected for a second term last month.

The council role has evolved as two-fold: (1) to help and assist whatever programs are already in existence in the community and to lend support, both financial and moral to them; and (2) to innovate programs.

Because of the nature of the Southfield community, a high income level and a strong Parks and Recreation Dept., there are many types of programs already in existence.

As an example of a supporting role, the council has given support and scholarship money to Workshop in the Woods, now in its third summer on the Duns Scotus College campus. This summer music workshop for young musicians with considerable background is the brainchild of Raymond Benner, of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Working students, along with the staff of professional musicians, present two concerts during the summer and one at Christmas time in the Gothic style sanctuary of the college. Since the beginning three years ago, these chamber music concerts have been given to standing room only audiences.

SECOND TERM Southfield Arts Council president, Mrs. Marcy Gross, sees the council's evolving role as both a supporter and innovator of arts in the community.

Mrs. Gross says that the council recently gave Benner $300 for summer scholarships to be split among five students.

The council is also giving support to the summer workshop sponsored by the Lathrup Children's Theater.

The second annual arts festival, innovated by the council, was held last month on the Civic Center grounds. This mixed media weekend festival included an art bazaar in the ice arena with more than 80 artists participating, music and dance programs on the city's portable stage outside, and an ethnic food section on the outdoor patio.

From the three-day festival, the council netted around $10,000. Half will be presented to the city, earmarked for a proposed performing arts center slated to be constructed behind the municipal buildings on 10th and Evergreen Rds.

The council has already agreed to sponsor a Festival

74 using many of the same ideas that made the recent one a success.

Council is also supporting the summer music workshop for teenagers, a project of the Parks and Recreation Dept. An active council member and school district music teacher, Dave Jorlett, heads this for the third year. The culmination of the workshop will be a production of "The Music Man" the second week in August.

The Southfield Arts Council is building on the projects which have been successful so far. Chances are they will sponsor another one- or two-man exhibit by local artists. The one last December by the Southfield husband and wife team, Marion and Alexandria Beau-regard-Bezou, in the Civic Center was well received.

The series of home recitals which served as a showcase for young talented musicians drew very well and the showing of the Sir Kenneth Clark series, "Pioneers of Modern Art," created unanticipated interest.

Members elected to the new board last May are excited about the coming year. They expect to announce plans as soon as chairmen can be found to head the working committees.

The most they will say at the moment is that there are some great and far-reaching ideas floating around.

The board in addition to Mrs. Gross includes: Paul Feinberg, executive vice president; Mrs. Toby Lantz, programs vice president; John Mason, financial vice president; Mrs. Mary Comer, recording secretary; Bruce Schmidt, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Ruth Africh, treasurer.

Board members at large are Dr. Wayne Buell, Mrs. Madeline Adinoff and Alexander Perinoff.

Franklin Berry Rips Pride

A 13-5 explosion and a forfeit has pushed Franklin Berry up the National Mack standings to an 8-2 record behind undefeated Redford Appliance.

Franklin crushed Churchill National Pride, 13-5, and won a forfeit over Farmington Harrison.

The Pride victory was a come-from-behind explosion.

Berry spotted Churchill five runs in the second inning. With Joe Jinnett on the mound, Lang drew a walk and Mike Rosencold singled Steve Ursitti doubled, Sam Bird singled and Larry Lipa batted out a two-run homer.

Franklin started its comeback in the bottom of the stanza on walks to Dave Hollandsworth, Dave Watkins and Jeff Waterstone, sandwiched with a stolen base and wild pitch, and it was 5-1.

Pride's lead vanished in the third when Berry put together five hits and four walks to jump ahead, 9-5.

Gar Frantz opened with a single, Wayne Darragh singled and Dan Longway walked. Hollandsworth and Watkins also walked and Tim Livesay singled in two. Jeff Waterstone delivered a three-bagger, Tony Dattilo walked and Frantz, who opened the inning, smashed a two run homer.

The fifth saw Berry increase it to 13-5. Longway singled, stole second and was wild pitched to third. Hollandsworth walked, Jamie Knapp, Watkins, and Livesay singled.

Berry starter Jinnett lasted only 1 1/2 innings before being replaced by Knapp who gave up just two hits in the 5 1/2 innings worked. Knapp recorded the win.

Braun and Lipa worked the Pride mound with Braun taking the defeat. Berry collected nine hits, and 13 walks along with one hit batsman, seven wild pitches and two passed balls.

Flat Rock Has Toledo Winner

Flat Rock Speedway had a new winner in the 30 lap feature for late model stocks as young Ron DeWitt of Toledo, O. drove to the first feature win of his career. Starting second in the 17 car field DeWitt finally got by early leader Steve Bunge of Monroe on the 11th lap and breezed to victory over Ed Hage of Ypsilanti and Danny Byrd of Dearborn Heights.

Byrd was fast qualifier at 13:28. Ray Alexander of Southgate won the dash, and Dick Haas of Howell and Jerry Cousino of Temperance were heat race winners. Ron DeWitt won the Saturday night, July 14, will be mid-season championship night at Flat Rock. Late Models will have a 50 lap feature and Figure Eights a 25 lap feature.

Time trials begin at 6:30 with racing at 8:15. Pursuit and consolation winner was Ace Uplinger.

Figure Eight action featured a new winner in the 15 lap feature as Lubie Allen won his first of 1973. Early leader Danny Pace of Plymouth was tapped in the front end allowing the hood to fly up and puncturing the radiator.

In Figure Eight preliminary events Pace was fast qualifier at 14:50.

Mature Program Is On Tap

By TIM RICHARD

A more mature but still colorful program is on tap Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the third chamber concert of the Schoolcraft College summer music festival. Admission is still $1.

It will be an interesting contrast to the youthful works that were delightfully but accidentally put together by Assistant Director Allen Shaffer in last Tuesday's offering.

Pianist Donald Morelock will drop the Mozart sonata listed in the printed program and substitute Haydn's E-flat major sonata.

"It was his last and by far his best," Morelock says. "It has fine coloristic effects; it modulates far afield and has interesting key changes."

Morelock heard the Haydn sonata in Vienna, where he recently spent four weeks studying in master classes with Badura-Skoda and others. That's significant since the theme of this Schoolcraft festival is composers who were influenced by Vienna.

A modern work, Poulenc's "Sextour," is described by Shaffer as "light, sarcastic, witty, urbane - Poulenc thumbs his nose at the audience. It has elements of the cabaret and music hall. It's a virtuoso work."

Pianist Shaffer and the Festival Woodwind Quintet will perform the "Sextour." If you're typical of the In group attending these July concerts, you'll find yourself hearing all the instruments but concentrating your attention on one that impresses you. I found Clarinetist Oliver Green to have team playing abilities that border on the psychic: my companion was wowed by the French horn work of Eugene Wade.

Tuesday's program will close with Beethoven's Quartet No. 9 in C major, the last opus in his "middle period." The middle period is when he produced his most popular Romantic works, such as the violin concerto and the later piano concertos, in contrast to the Haydn-ish classical works of his youth or the murky, disillusioned quartets of his last years. Think of it like Shakespeare's middle years when he produced "Hamlet" in contrast to the early "Richard III" or later "Cymbeline."

"It's like his symphonies" first violinist James Waring says of the Quartet No. 9.

Lori Varns Wins 2 Piano Awards

Lori Varns of Farmington was the only double winner among 38 pianists in the two-week All-State Piano Institute sponsored by the University of Michigan and held at the National Music Camp, Interlochen, this summer.

Miss Varns won the first Orien Dalley scholarship, entitling her to a tuition scholarship to next year's institute.

She was also one of 12 winners of certificates for excellent performance. She chose Ravel's Concerto and was coached by Shirley Strey of Farmington. Her teacher is Mrs. Charlene Slabey of Northville.

Miss Varns will be a junior at Farmington High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Varns of Farmington Road.

This is her third summer at Interlochen. She first went to the music camp on a scholarship from the Farmington Musicale.

LORI VARNs

Miss Varns is organist at the Christian Reformed Church in Livonia, and has acted as accompanist for Farmington High's 12-Tones and for school musicals.

Applegate.

It has the taste of the country club life.

Applegate has all the country club pleasures of the big, crowded developments. But Applegate is small. Uncrowded. A condominium village set in an old orchard.

So you share the pleasures with fewer neighbors. And have more for yourself.

Our heated swimming pool seems more private. Our two all-weather tennis courts more available. You don't have to wait until you're out of the mood for shuffleboard. And you make friends faster in our community clubhouse. Over a game in the game room, a snack, or a friendly evening in our fireplace lounge.

We're keeping Applegate small on the outside. And saving our big thoughts for the inside.

Our condominiums are not apartments, but townhouses. Built big, with two or three bedrooms and features you'd expect to pay far more for. Full dining room. Breakfast room. Family room. 7-foot walk-in closets. Central air-conditioning. Balconies, patios and double parking spaces. A big thought to keep in mind: you get all the benefits of home ownership. Tax savings, equity build-up, a hedge against inflation. While you let someone else do all the maintenance. And our financing makes it possible for you to have extra pleasures now and then.

Applegate is 35 minutes from downtown Detroit. Near everything. Come taste. You'll recognize us. We're the uncrowded place you'll want to call home.

24420 Bashian Drive, Novi, Michigan 48060, (818) 474-7494. Model Townhouses open 11 A.M.-8 P.M. every day. Built by The Richards Group, Inc.

Levitt is the champion price-fighter.

We're as concerned as you are about inflation and the high costs of living today. We know how much homes have increased along with everything else. In 1972, you would have paid about $2,500 less for a home. Even though we try to absorb a lot of the increases, it gets out of our hands. And it has to be reflected in our costs as we build. But we're trying to save the day. And save you money.

There are some 1972 models in our inventory. A good selection in good locations. These were built at 1972 costs. And we are going to keep them at the same 1972 price tags. Many are priced $2,500 below our duplicating costs. We're offering them at the old price. That's one way we can help. So for a short time we're taking you back to 1972. Come out and see a home you can afford. Meet our price fighters at Highland Lakes. You win!

There are some 1972 prices at Highland Lakes.

We have two and three bedroom ranches and town houses. All with full basement, air conditioning, shag carpeting in major living areas. Great kitchens. And the vacation land living of Highland Lakes. Four lakes for boating, swimming or fishing. A sandy beach. Bicycle trails, and tennis courts. Highland House, a magnificent community building with lounge, saunas, billiards, 4,550 square feet of swimming pool plus a little one for tots. See our '72 models for the best value in '73. priced from $28,990

Highland Lakes is located on Eight Mile Road, west of Hogarty Road in Northville, Michigan. Take Grand River (I-96) to Eight Mile. West on Eight Mile to Highland Lakes entrance (one mile west of Hogarty Road). Or take I-96 Northbound to Novi-Northville exit. Left on Novi Road to Eight Mile Road. Left again on Eight Mile Road, approximately 1/2 mile to the Highland Lakes entrance.

Trash Or Treasure?

A NOVICE'S GUIDE TO ANTIQUE BUYING

By CAROL KATZ

The high adventure of searching for souvenirs of yesteryear can be marked with tremors of panic and apprehension for the novice. How do you know what's really what and how do you know whether or not you're being taken?

Anything over 100 years old, according to antique dealers, is considered a bona fide antique. A reputable antique dealer will honestly admit the age of a piece that he wants to sell, although, sometimes, it may be impossible to date it exactly.

Antique dealers, as a group, are as honest as merchants in other fields. "We'd simply lose customers if we didn't try to tell the truth," explained a local dealer in the business for over 20 years. "Our reputation is built on trust."

PROSPECTIVE BUYERS are advised to study the field before plunging into it with a generous outlay of dollars and cents. Books from the public library can explain the age and value of many pieces you'll find in antique stores. Many paperback guides to antique items can be found right within antique shops themselves.

With a sound background of information on styles, types of woods and desirable characteristics of old things, the novice can begin his antique browsing with an air of confidence and authority.

Not all that glitters is really old, however. The biggest boom in the local market centers on items that are much less than the 100 years necessary to be regarded as genuinely antique.

Really old things are simply getting harder and harder to find; they've often been snatched up years of ago and are already situated securely in the homes of classic antique buffs. Their prices, too, are often higher than many people can afford to pay.

NOSTALGIA LOVERS are not stopped, however, by the relative scarcity of true antiques. There are vast quantities of old time items dating back 60 or 70 years that are both eye appealing and unique in the sense that they aren't being manufactured today.

Keep in mind, too, that old items consistently increase in value. A quantity carved oak desk dating from 1815 may be worth $85 on today's market; in ten years or so its price will inevitably rise higher.

A good rule for the novice to remember is never to pay more for an old item than you would pay for the reproduction of the same piece in a furniture or department store.

With this in mind, the purchasing of old fashioned goods is really a bargain. That maple reproduction of an old table that sells for $200 in a furniture store won't be worth even half that price in ten years. A genuinely old table, simply by merit of its age, will increase in value as the years go by.

Currently enjoying a high crest of popularity in the market are Tiffany style lamps which come in hanging and table top models. Because their desirability has made them scarce, many antique shops feature convincing reproductions -- plainly marked "new" -- to meet the current demand. Old lamp bases topped by Tiffany reproductions can be found frequently in local antique stores.

THE PEDESTAL TABLE usually crafted of thick oak is another popular item in the Observer area, much in demand for family rooms and country style kitchens. The supply here is also running low, however.

Old wash stands, often marble topped, are still fairly plentiful. Originally used in lieu of the trusty bathroom sink, these now have storage value as well as being able to add an air of nostalgia to a room.

"It's surprising to see how creative many people can be with old things," remarks a local antique dealer. "Wash stands, for instance, are being used as hi-fi cabinets and I've known many people who buy old ice boxes to use as liquor storage units."

ADAM LEASING CORP. 356-6041

NEW OR OLD, it's often difficult to tell merely by looking. Anything over 100 years old may be considered a genuine antique.

Frequently available are pieces of furniture made out of inferior wood in which the finish is rubbing off. These can be purchased, usually at bargain prices and can easily be painted or antiqued to match a particular color scheme. Further embellishments to enhance such a Cinderella piece might include knobs or metal pulls, available in most hardware stores.

Ornately carved old picture frames can be used in a number of ways, also. Filled with heavy cardboard covered by felt they can do duty as bulletin boards, and they also make interesting mirror frames.

OLD TRUNKS—the humped variety are especially big --are being brightly decorated with decals and pictures for use as toy or blanket chests.

As musty, dusty and permeated with the smell of age as they are, antique shops have become increasingly popular with young people, especially hippy types.

"Old clothes are very big now with the younger set," explained one dealer. "They're often stained and smelly --dry cleaning was simply not done years ago --but young people, in their search for nostalgia, really go for them. Antique jewelry is another item that is popular with the young."

Many "junk" items -- ranging all the way from pieces of crockery to old canning jars and metal lanterns -- are being purchased by young marrieds who wish both to save money and lend to their homes eccentric touches of humor and surprise. While they're not valuable and certainly not "antique" in the true sense of the word, junk items are increasingly being shown by dealers.

Old comic books and magazines can give collectors a unique insight into the popular idiom of the '30s and '40s. Because the demand for these is high, the prices for these items often exceed those of old, hard covered books.

Plan a browsing spree through nearby antique shops this summer. Your discoveries will appeal to your sense of the aesthetic as well as your sense of humor!

Within the placid facade of the recently dedicated Plymouth Historical Society Museum, not yet open to the public, a great deal of activity is taking place.

Members of the Historical Society, led by curator Norma Cassidy, are busy accepting, cataloging and cleaning up the hundreds of antique articles which help to capture the history of Plymouth.

The job is enormous. One side of the large room on the museum's lower level has been set aside for the objects which have been classified and catalogued. On the other side and in the front room are the articles yet to be done ... and they keep on coming in.

THE FORMER MUSEUM, a small house which took up only a section of the area of its grander counterpart, had room to display only a portion of the antiques which the Historical Society had in its possession. The rest were scattered about the city — in member's attics and basements — in wait for such a display vehicle as the new museum will be.

Gathering up the articles was a job in itself. Now, as the people of Plymouth visualize the scope and significance of the new museum — more and more antiques are being donated. Indeed Curator Cassidy requests that would-be donors hold off for a while. "Once we get what we have in order then we will announce specific days for receiving new artifacts."

People are drawing up their wills, leaving whole houses of antiques to the museum. Clarence Moore, president of the Historical Society and project coordinator for the museum, wonderfully revealed. "I can easily foresee the day when we will have to auction off things we have in duplicate and triplicate."

OLD BEDS, reversible plows, a wood alcohol stove, a flag case, secretary desks, costumes and bedding from a by-gone era are just a fractional portion of the items yet to be catalogued. A child's white wicker summer carriage ... a bag of mink (predecessors of minkies) ... a slew of children's rockers ... reminds one that even in the old there is the young.

Mrs. Cassidy, who was the first curator of the Society's old museum, recalled her earlier, more primitive cataloging efforts. "We wrote everything out in long-hand in a ledger," she said. "Now we know that hand-written items are not permanent enough. They must be printed."

In the process of cataloging for the new museum, Mrs. Cassidy has changed from a three card to a four card system. "I visited local museum curators for advice," she reported. "They said the cataloging was everything. So we developed the best system we could think of. Items are classified according to donor's name, category, catalogue number and association."

"This is a local museum," Mrs. Cassidy stressed. "We are not in competition with museums in Detroit or Ann Arbor. We are interested in artifacts as they relate to us — Plymouth and environs."

LOCAL OR NOT, Solon Weekes, curator of the Detroit Historical Museum rated the old museum as one of the finest for its size in the country. And indeed, no expense has been spared by Margaret Dunning, who has donated the new building in memory of her parents, Charles and Beale Dunning.

"Whenever there was a question as to cost, she always chose the best," Clarence Moore said admiringly.

"Miss Dunning was the sole contributor to the building proper," Moore reported. This includes the four walls, heating, air conditioning, humidifier, plumbing, electricity, painting and flooring.

The funds which were used to convert the building's first floor into a replica of small town, Main Street, U.S.A. and to landscape the buildings exterior have been raised by the Historical Society, in a drive spearheaded by Moore.

"I was advised that if I could raise $15,000 for the museum, there would be $15,000 available in matching funds," Moore related. "As a kid, I always took a dare. I surely was not about to let this one go."

A COMBINATION OF MONIES raised from the sale of the Plymouth Historical Society's "History of Plymouth," individual contributions and a major amount from the Edward C. Hough-Mary Kimble foundation has allowed the Society to function without aid from the city of Plymouth.

"We were very careful so that we would not be obligated to the city in any way," Moore said. "City officials change."

Right now, Moore is involved in getting sponsors for each of the small store fronts in the museum. The only completed room houses the exhibit of the Daisy Air Rifle Co., one of Plymouth's pioneer industries.

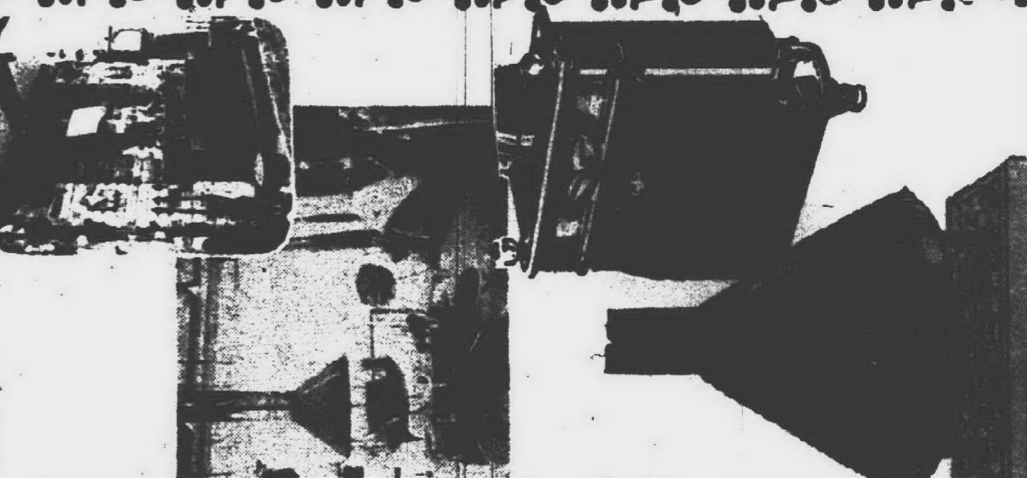

Two others have been spoken for, and possibilities for several others are being discussed. The city of Plymouth will sponsor one: the evening Kiwanis Club, another. Another room will be furnished as a one-room schoolhouse, still another as a Victorian parlor.

Each shop is varied in the styling of its facade including moldings and roofs. The white wood on what will be the general store was taken from old saw mill planks. The bricks on the Daisy Air Rifle Co. came from an old carriage house at the rear of the original Daisy Shop. They are bricks which the Haggerty family of Plymouth manufactured.

Many of the doors to the storefronts came from old buildings throughout the county. The green stained glass at the front of the building was taken from the old Peniman-Allen Theatre, and redesigned as a focal point of the museum front by Clarence Moore.

This museum is a labor of love for a small cove from Plymouth's Historical Society intent on preserving the city's past for its future. As Mrs. Cassidy simply said: "Our little museum was very much appreciated. And if that was, then this surely will be."
