

Revised Traffic Loop Plan To Be Proposed

After lying dormant for some time, the off-again, on-again, downtown business loop is being given a new lease on life.

For more than a decade the loop has been discussed as a means of "saving" the downtown business area. Time after time it was studied — and then cast aside for one reason or another.

Now, however, the hope that springs eternal has given a new impetus to the project through the hiring of the firm of Vilcan-Leman as city planners.

This firm, through its representative, Jay Elderidge, has been working since last April and now is preparing to present the loop again.

"We're going to look at the plan," City Manager Fred Yockey, said, "and this time we hope it will meet with approval."

Although no official announcement has been made, it is understood that the proposed loop will be much smaller than originally planned.

When first offered, the loop was to run from Union Street to Wing Street. Now, it is planned to cut it off at Church Street.

By shortening the loop, Mary Childs, chairman of the planning commission, explained there will be more concentration on business.

"When you see what the business people have done in Old Village," she said, "then you can visualize what can happen in our downtown area."

"Old Village also shows what can be done by cooperative effort, and our business people and the two commissions — the city commission and the planning commission — are more determined now than ever to make the loop possible."

According to the present schedule, a plan will be drawn. Then every land owner and businessman in the area will be visited and asked for suggestions.

There will be plans for parking to be discussed and, maybe, some buildings will have to be moved.

"When the review is completed and the plans approved," Mrs. Childs said, "I'd like to see us have all the material in a small book that could be used when discussing opportunities in the loop. This would enable us to show prospects what land is available — what land could be put together — and what parking is available — or required."

Mrs. Childs admitted the project may take some time, but, at least, she said, new life is being pumped into the loop again — this time with greater hopes of success than ever before.

TCYC Commodore Delaney, Flagship Listing Off Thumb

By KATHY MORAN
(From somewhere near Port Austin)
Ahoy, Plymouth land-lubbers; hear this!

Robert Blaise Delaney, first commodore of the Tonquish Creek Yacht Club, has been spotted off the coast on the tip of Michigan's thumb standing waist-deep in water and yelling, "Who pulled the plug?"

It seems the wind shifted unexpectedly (to that fearless navigator anyway), and water came oozing into his 42-foot yacht.

It was previous ownership of a similar vessel which left him on unfirm ground while serving as commodore of the boatless-yacht club.

Although natives of Port Austin were reluctant to help the sopped sailor at first, they turned out at the shore with their coffee cans to bail him out after he convinced them he wasn't a pirate seeking their fortunes.

In an exclusive interview with the Plymouth Mail & Observer on a secluded back road somewhere in the thumb area, Delaney admitted, however, that he was still having difficulty explaining a skull and crossbones flag found atop his mast and architectural plans of a swinging aqueduct for Port Austin's Main Street which were found in a footlocker.

Those plans, this paper learned, had been modified from those for a similar aqueduct over Plymouth's Main Street to serve the Tonquish Creek.

After failure by the Plymouth City Commission to approve those plans and the federal government's rejection of a grant to build the facility, Delaney set sail to peddle the plans to Port Austin's city council.

There were also rumors that Delaney had become disenchanted when a Plymouth tavern keeper — who had been handling the creek club's mail — changed the motif of his pub to a nautical emphasis.

Nonetheless, after Delaney denied reports that he was "three sheets to the wind" at the time his vessel suffered from that sinking sensation, the Port Austin natives pitched in to bail out 9,000 coffee cans of water from the yacht's stateroom.

The natives also secured the creek club commodore's boat with 9,000 feet of clothesline and kite twine to support the soaked carpeting, clothing and bedding.

When last seen, Delaney was kissing Terra Firma — a Port Austin local resident? — and mumbling something about starting a Pinnebog River Yacht Club with membership limited to land-lubbers who own nothing larger or more seaworthy than a rusty coffee can.

In the past, the Tonquish Creek Yacht Club has awarded honorary memberships to captains of vessels involved in major accidents which do not result in a loss of life.

Steve Redfern, the current TCYC commodore, would neither confirm nor deny the rumor that the club was considering some special award for Delaney's sinking.

THE PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY FUND 1974 drive was officially launched Thursday when Miss Plymouth, Jonelle Matteis, lit the symbolic torch in Kellogg Park. This year, the torch will not remain lit during the fund's campaign because of the energy crisis. Instead, said Fred Beitner, a member of the fund's board of directors, "you should ignite the fire within your hearts." The goal of this year's drive is $194,800 — about $13,000 more than last year's goal. (Observer photo by Bob Woodring)

Community Fund Cancels Dinner

A lack of interest in the Plymouth Community Fund's special invitation dinner planned for Monday night has caused its cancellation.

Duffy Daugherty, former head football coach at Michigan State University, had confirmed plans to serve as keynote speaker at the event.

Ralph Brown of Western Electric, chairman of the industrial sector of the 1974 fund campaign, said Thursday that he was notifying Daugherty of the meeting's cancellation.

Brown said that of more than 80 area industries who were asked to attend the kick-off dinner, only 24 had responded favorably.

The dinner had been aimed at increasing interest of the community's smaller industries in helping the fund.

Each year, the biggest segment of the Plymouth fund has come from industry's contributions — and often these donations have not been made until the last minute, with the fate of each campaign hanging in balance until the industrial reports are received.

"If we didn't have industry backing us, we couldn't raise $40,000," said William Carlson, a member of the fund's board of directors.

Leonard Evans, the campaign's general chairman for this year, said after the cancellation announcement was made, "This really points out what these (campaign) chairmen have been facing."

OLGC's Father Byrne Retiring

By MARGARET MILLER

After 20 years as pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church, the Rev. Francis C. Byrne will retire Monday.

A mass of thanksgiving at 9:30 a.m. and an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. will mark his final day of service Sunday.

But the day will be one of well-wishing rather than farewell, because Fr. Byrne plans to stay in Plymouth, continuing with Our Lady of Good Counsel as its pastor emeritus.

"I'll be visiting and doing a lot of the things I have done right along," he said, "but I won't have the parish responsibility."

The Rev. Kenneth MacKinnon, who came to OLGC early in 1973 to join Fr. Byrne as co-pastor, will take over the parish leadership.

Sunday's festivities will culminate a week of special activities in Fr. Byrne's honor.

Tributes began with a Tuesday dinner hosted by Fr. MacKinnon and Deacon Anthony Litwinski and attended by priests of neighboring parishes.

On Thursday, the children of Good Counsel School joined Fr. Byrne in a special mass and then put on an entertainment in the school hall.

The Most Rev. J. Walter Schoenherr will be present at Sunday's mass of thanksgiving as the Archbishop's delegate for the clergy.

Representing the parish family will be James McKeon, mayor of Plymouth, and William Penrice.

Fr. Byrne was born in Milford and attended school there through the eighth grade.

His high school years were spent at Holy Name Institute, located within Blessed Sacrament Cathedral, and he then went on to University of Detroit and attended seminary at Mt. St. Mary's of the West in Norwood, Ohio.

He served in St. Bernard parish and at Blessed Sacrament in Detroit and in Sacred Heart Catholic parish in Imlay City before coming to Plymouth in 1953.

The Our Lady of Good Counsel parish then had about 600 families. In the years Fr. Byrne has been here, the parishes of St. Edith in Livonia, St. Kenneth in Plymouth and most recently Divine Savior in Canton have split off and OLGC now numbers some 1,800 families.

During his administration, Good Counsel built a school and a new church and renovated the former church building to give the parish a multi-purpose hall and offices for a religious education program.

Good Counsel's school now has a faculty of 15, including Sisters of St. Joseph and lay teachers. James Dyer is principal.

A religious education program for children who do not attend the parish school and for adults is directed by Elizabeth Hogan.

Miller Woods Faces Toughest Battle Now

The Miller Woods may have won its final battle against the utility companies — but the end of its war for survival is not in sight.

With the help of the Plymouth school board which got Detroit Edison Co. to divert its lines around the climax forest on Powell Road between Beck and Ridge roads, one battle was won this spring.

The school board, alerted to the woods' uniqueness by the Plymouth Study Group, demanded that Edison re-route its lines to the new sub-station being built on Powell near Napier.

But before the school district had purchased the wooded site, an easement was granted to American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Michigan Bell to run lines along the road through the woods.

Recently the phone company cleared a path through the area for its underground lines, but the publicity nurtured by the Miller Woods campaign averted a catastrophe.

A spokesman for the Michigan Bell engineering division said the woods' notoriety was a factor in the company's decision to run its lines underground through the area.

While several more lines are expected to be needed there, the company ran a multi-purpose line through its right-of-way so that future lines can simply be laid through those channels to avoid further disruption.

"In order to hide everything, we put it underground," the Bell spokesman said. "We won't break ground again."

The underground lines cost Bell an estimated 2,000 per cent more than the unsightly overhead lines that would have been the alternative, the company said.

During the line's construction, however, the company did clear a swath of undergrowth parallel to the road and about 20 feet in.

"We removed only scrub growth," the Bell spokesman said. He explained that any-

THIS SWATH was cut through the Miller Woods recently by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Michigan Bell Telephone Co. It's for an underground, multi-purpose cable and will eliminate future digging for more cables which are anticipated, a Bell spokesman said. The company removed only scrub growth in the cable laying and tunneled under larger growth. (Observer photo by W. Edward Wendover)

The undergrowth cleared in the operation has already begun to grow back.

But even with those battles won by Miller Woods against the utilities, the biggest fight has yet to be.

It's the fight against the inconsiderate few who feel that a lonely country road is a spot for free dumping.

It's those folks who, with total disregard to others, may mean the downfall of a picturesque area like Miller Woods.

While their piles of rubbish infuriate township residents who live along our country roads, their actions really spoil the more isolated beauty spots which they think "nobody owns."

Whether anybody owns them (of course, somebody owns every piece of property, and in this case it's the school district), they are still a sore spot in everybody's eyes when heaped with garbage.

During Michigan Bell's recent work in the woods, workmen noticed a man pull up and dump a load of garbage.

When they took down his license number, the fellow stopped and asked why they were writing it down.

"We're going to turn you in," they replied.

"Oh, I didn't know anybody cared about dumping here," he replied — either naively or with his tongue in cheek.

The workmen told him that if he cleaned up his mess, they'd throw the license number away. He did it.

Even though the Bell workmen cleaned up garbage in the woods, as the school district did too, the battle still looms.

If the utilities can cooperate in the drive to save the only climax forest in the area, why can't the public — the people who are really going to benefit?

If our unique woods can survive the utility services that are bombarding the Napier-Powell roads area because of both the AT&T long lines tower and the new Detroit Edison Baltic Station, why can't the populace spare it from an even more ignominious death?

The Stroller: On A 'Different' Strike

The recent unrest among the school teachers of the state who walked the picket lines instead of taking their stations in the classroom, and the current negotiations for a new contract in the auto industry, remind The Stroller that he once was a participant in a most unusual labor uprising. It wasn't a strike in the terms we know today. Neither was it a work stoppage...but it did result in a forced sale of a herd of prize cattle down in the Dutch country of Pennsylvania.

Ordinarily you wouldn't link a herd of cattle with the operation of a newspaper. But here's what happened.

Nettled because their favorite morning newspaper had been sold to a faction of opposite political leanings, a group of "Dutch Democrats" started a newspaper, albeit on a rather shaky foundation.

It was here that The Stroller started his daily walk along the journalistic trail and was enjoying every minute of it - even though the rumors started to fly that the paper's future looked a bit dark.

Then one evening, as we reported for work, it happened. It was "pay night." But as we took our various positions in the news room we were told that our pay was being held up until there was more money in the fund.

This came as a bit of a shock, but it was eased when we were told that it might be a wait of only a few hours.

Quickly there was a meeting of the minds and we reached an unusual decision.

We decided not to walk out. We also decided that we would continue to work - but we wouldn't send our copy to the printer. Each of us had a large spindle on our desks and as our stories were written we placed them on the spindle amid the cries of the printers for copy.

Finally, the treasurer of the company was notified. He was a fine old Dutchman named Harry Gangware who proudly boasted of having one of the finest herds of prize cattle in the entire state, and he lost no time getting to the newspaper office.

Surveying the scene and listening to the decision that "there would be no copy sent to the printer until we got our pay," he commented:

"There's only one chance of solving the problem tonight. I'll call a friend of mine and if I can sell him a cow or two, I'll put up my personal check for the pay roll."

That's exactly what happened. It was close to midnight when the cattle deal was made over the phone and we got our pay.

That was not the end, however. This act was repeated each week until the entire prize herd was sold - and Harry Gangware went into retirement from the newspaper business.

What happened then? Well, another official of the young paper was a candy manufacturer and he took up the task of raising money to meet the payroll each week. As you might guess, it took a lot of candy sales to balance the sale of a prize cow. So, this plan didn't work too well.

Then, as far as The Stroller was concerned, Fate stepped in.

He was invited to join the sports staff of the Detroit Free Press and he came west before the demise of both the paper back home and the candy factory.

Today's unrest in the labor market would have a difficult time matching anything like that record.

Good Counsel Sets Lectures On 'Diversity'

The Rev. Ronald Modras of St. John Seminary will begin a series of Friday morning lectures Oct. 5 under sponsorship of the adult education program of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church of Plymouth.

The series, set to run from 10 to 11:30 a.m. in the seminary, Five Mile east of Sheldon, will include four lectures in October.

Fr. Modras is a professor of systematic theology on the seminary faculty.

His talks on Oct. 5, 12, 19 and 26 will deal with diversity in four ways — within the church of the New Testament, within the Roman Catholic and Orthodox tradition, within the Roman Catholic and Protestant tradition and within the Catholic church today.

REV. RONALD MODRAS

The series is open to the public and free. Fr. Modras received his doctorate while studying under the Rev. Hans Kung at the University of Tübingen in Germany.

He has published a book, "Paths to Unity," and several articles in various magazines including America.

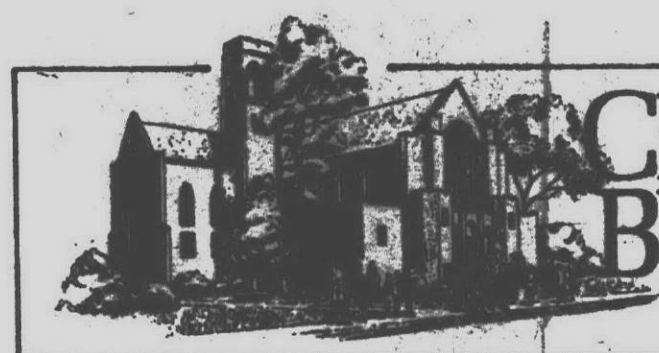

He has an article on pluralism and diversity among churches that will appear in the next issue of Concilium, an international journal published in Holland.

Fr. Modras also has taught at the University of Detroit.

'Ape' Bombs Out As Film

By JAN WILLIAMS

Desmond Morris' "The Naked Ape" may have been a best-selling book, but the movie version is far from a box office success.

"The Naked Ape," a story about man's evolution, traces his development from 10 million years ago to tomorrow with the integration of live action and animation.

Johnny Crawford, of the old "Rifleman" series, has the starring role — as what I'm not sure. But I'm inclined to think it was modern man's version of the ape.

The action begins in a jungle during a war. A discussion of man and ape takes place between Crawford and his buddy, Dennis Oliveri.

The scenes that follow during the next 80 minutes are confusing. Much of that time is taken up by discussions of sexual behavior patterns of man and ape.

THE NAKED APE now showing at Quo Vadis Rating: PG

Crawford and his girlfriend, Victoria Principal, act out the human part in a college campus setting.

The ape, or prehistoric man, acts out his part through animation during prehistoric times.

Based on audience response, the animated scenes scored much higher than the live ones.

As the film draws to an end, the scene shifts back to the jungle war. There the action ends for Crawford as well as the viewer.

Producer Zev Bufman's idea of such a man and ape comparison was a good one. However, Director Donald Driver, who also wrote the screenplay, just plain didn't get it all together on film.

Famous Films To Be Shown

The Livonia Public Library will present a series of famous Warner Brothers films beginning Monday, Oct. 2.

Films such as "42nd Street," "Yankee Doodle Dandy," and "Treasure of Sierra Madre," will be shown, featuring such stars as John Barrymore, Bette Davis, Errol Flynn and Clark Gable.

The series will run for 11 weeks and will be shown in the Carl Sandburg Library, 30100 Seven Mile, on Tuesdays at 7 p.m. They also will be shown at the Alfred Noble Library, 32901 Plymouth Rd., on Thursday nights at 7.

Titles and dates are listed on programs available at both libraries. The first program introduces the series with lecture and film clips from early movies.

Free tickets are available in the Alfred Noble Library and telephone reservations are accepted.

Music Festival Set

The St. John Music Festival will begin its 23rd concert year Oct. 21 at 3 p.m. in St. John Episcopal Church, 50 E. Fisher Freeway, Detroit.

The concert program will include the "Magnificat" by Giovanni Battista Pergolesi, from a recently discovered manuscript in the Bergamo Library.

They will also perform the Concerto Grosso in D for strings with organ by Vivaldi, the Credo from the Mass in A by Cesar Franck, the Sanctus by Johann Sebastian Bach and the Christmas Oratorio by Camille Saint-Saens.

Singer-musicians from the metropolitan area and the internationally known organist, composer and director, August Maekelberghe, will be featured.

The concert will also feature instrumentalists from the Detroit Symphony and guest organists. It is free and open to the public.

Theater-Goers Get A Lift

Round trip chartercoach service from the Westland Center to the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium will be available starting Saturday, Oct. 20.

round trip transportation, celebrity party and one show.

Buses leave at 1 p.m. for the 2 p.m. performance and return to the center by approximately 4 p.m.

The first show of the season is "Alice in Wonderland." It's the first of 12 arranged by the Westland Shopping Center in cooperation with the Detroit Institute of Arts' Youth Theater.

'73 Duck Season

Michigan's 1973 duck season has been set for Oct. 10-Nov. 23 under a daily 100-point system of regulating hunter take, as the result of action announced by the state Natural Resources Commission.

The commission, acting on waterfowl hunting options offered by the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, also placed the state's upcoming goose season at Oct. 1-Nov. 30 in the upper and northern lower peninsula and at Oct. 10-Nov. 30 in the southern lower peninsula.

The 1973 duck season will be five days shorter than the 50-day season of 1972. Habitat deterioration in Canadian breeding areas prompted the decision to shorten the season, say Department of Natural Resources' wildlife officials, noting that this fall's flight is expected to be down 30 per cent from last year's.

Limited hunting of canvasbacks and redheads will be allowed this year.

The counties where hunting or taking canvasbacks or redheads will be forbidden this year include Bay, Huron, Macomb, Monroe, Muskegon, St. Clair, Tuscola and Wayne. The rest of the state will be open for hunting of both species.

As in the past, this fall's point system will give the highest rating—thus greatest protection—to those birds in shortest supply, with canvasbacks and redheads each granted 100 points.

Under the daily limit of 100 points a day, each of the following ducks will hold the following point values:

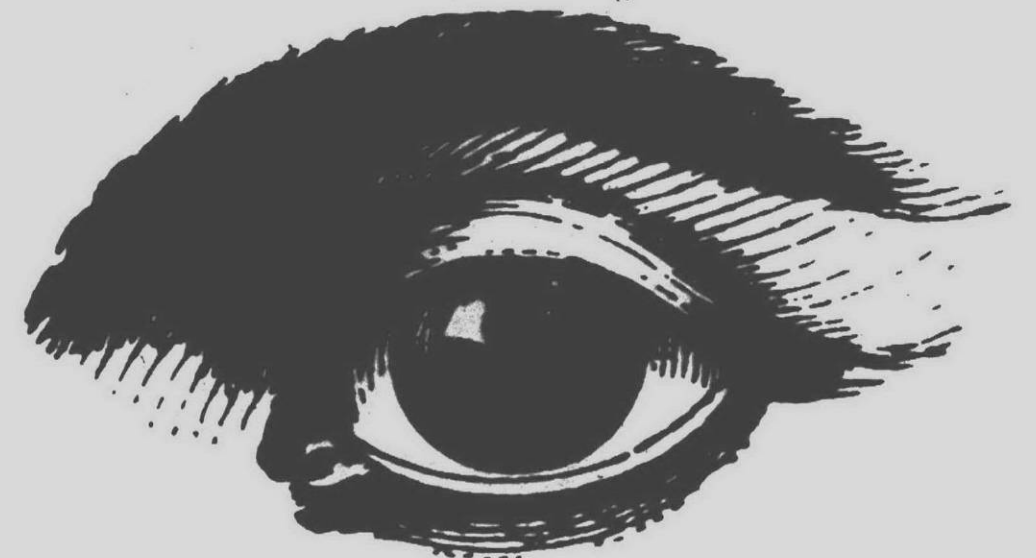

Hen mallard, black duck, wood duck and hooded merganser, 90 points; drake mallard, pintail, ringneck, goldeneye, bufflehead, oldsquaw, ruddy, 25 points; all other ducks, including the other merganser species, 15 points apiece.

As a sporting plus to this fall's regular duck season and its point system, Michigan again will have a special season on scaup, running this year from Nov. 24 through Dec. 9. The special hunt, set with limits of five scaup a day and five in possession, will cover selected waters and marshes, with specific locations to be determined later this week.

This fall's goose season will carry a bag limit of five geese a day and five in possession, following last year's basic format. However, as part of that quota, the daily take on Canada geese is again limited to one, with the possession limit for Canada geese also established at one. Geese again will be legal targets in the Saginaw Goose Management Area during the

Oct. 1-Nov. 30 period. They also will come under special seasons in Allegan County from Oct. 21 through Nov. 14 in the Seney Goose Management Area (Oct. 1-Oct. 30).

Eagle 3-Milers Blank Hawks

Thurston High cross country Coach Ray Williams couldn't have asked for a more perfect performance from his Eagle three-milers.

His harriers scored two shutout triumphs over Oak Park, 15-0, and Farmington Harrison, 15-0.

The Oak Park win was the first league encounter in the Northwest Suburban and the Harrison match pushed the overall Eagle record to 4-1.

Paul Benedict captured first place honors in the Oak Park meet with a 16:17 clocking followed by Lou Torcolacci at 16:20, Dan Graustein at 16:52, Jerry Meredith at 17:05 and Bob Wilson at 17:08.

Thurston also took sixth and seventh place with Eric Forbes clocking in at 17:17 and Lou Moceratini at 17:47. Sid Chiot was the first to cross the line for the Oak Park Redskins in eighth with a time of 18:27.

The non-league victory over Harrison featured a three-way Thurston tie for first between Graustein, Torcolacci and Benedict, all hitting the string at 17:35, followed by teammates Forbes at 17:42 and Wilson at 17:54.

Harrison's front five was headed by Hutchinson in sixth (18:23), Hrutkay in eighth (18:30), Wumer in 10th (19:00), Fumer in 11th (20:33) and Nelson in 12th (20:34).

Bowling take heed!

Don't be lured into the latest experiment of soaking your bowling ball in acid to soften the plastic shell so that it will take a better grip on the hard surfaces to bring about better scores.

This fad was started by Don McCune, leading money winner in the rugged competition of the professional bowlers tour when he soaked his ball in a mixture of methyl ethyl ketone to soften the plastic and give his ball a better chance to "work".

Since then it is being copied in many areas. But finally the word has come along that MEK is very dangerous. It can ignite or explode and can cause no end of trouble - even fatalities.

According to word being passed along, MEK is much more dangerous than gasoline in that it has a flash point of 20 to 24 degrees compared to 30 for gasoline.

Imagine what would happen in any of Observerland's bowling palaces if one of these balls that had been soaked in MEK suddenly exploded. Even worse, just imagine a few balls on the return rack igniting by some spark. There would be havoc - and possibly loss of life - as bowling establishments have been known to be fire traps.

So, the word is being passed along - don't experiment with MEK.

Tom McKay, secretary of the Greater Detroit Bowling Association, revealed that, to his knowledge, only one bowler has tried the experiment in the All-Star leagues, although some of the suppliers have been toying with the idea.

The pins went flying in the Wonderland Classic where five bowlers bettered the 700 mark and two teams posted scores above 3,200.

Bill Lang set the pace with a 733 and was followed by Ken West 721, John McKeever 712, John Grinrod 710 and E.N. Pedrys 707.

The CRS team topped the squad list with a 3280 and Westland Bowl was over the hump with a 3203.

Scoring in the three other major classics in the area dropped a bit during the past week and not a single sharpshooter broke the 700 barrier.

Dick Preston, another of the veterans who has been doing well, paced the field at Garden Lanes with a 653 and was followed by Jerry Fisher with 642. George Hollenbaugh landed third with 640, while Jim Hayes had a 637 and Bill Montgomery a 623.

In the Westland Classic it was Bernie Peters who paced the pack with games of 221, 236 and 227 for 684. His closest rival was Harvey Wilson with a 666.

Scoring followed an unusual trend in the Bel-Aire Classic where most of the stars suffered last game jitters.

Jim Bingham showed the way with 652 and Fred Ringrose had a 647, but you'd never believe what happened.

Ray Pederson opened with a 279, followed with a 213 and then slumped to 150 for 642. Nick Colucci was off to a good start with a 265, but had to settle for 640 and Dan Feloni couldn't do better than 643 after a 243 in his first game.

The same malady struck the Early Birds at Bel-Aire as Arlene Garver posted a 265 game and settled for a 605.

Tony Fauchier joined the Triplicate Club at Garden Lanes with three identical games of 171.

The girls had a fine time at Westland where Betty Wengcl set the pace with 602 and Gerri Beatie was consistent with games of 190, 197, and 192 for 579. While this was happening, Pauline Volas posted a 232 in 560 and Charlie Staggs had a 268 in 617 in the Industrial League.

One of the happiest girls in the area was Virginia Jeske who went 100 pins over her average at Mayflower Lanes with a 214 game in a 487 series.

Gene Randall joined the Classic League pacemakers when he fired a 639 to top the scoring in the Mixed Classic at Farmington Lanes.

Meanwhile Jan Kleser topped the Ladies noon loop with a 233 in 564 and Pat Kemp took top honors in the Friday circuit at 565. Ray Smith paced the Teen Classic with 563 and Judy Wilkinson was high in the Farmington Meadows Mixed League with a 226 in 563.

Gerry Wilson walked off with top honors in the Livonia Lanes Ladies Classic with 478-126-604 that included a single game of 181-42-223. Other single game winners were Eleanor Slavin with 158-49-207 and Loretta Moersch with 182-39-221.

Dearborn Halts Bentley Streak

Dearborn High captured the odd number places and Bentley the even, and the Bentley Bulldog six-victory cross country streak came to an end.

After capturing their first six meets, the Bulldogs wound up on the short end of a 25-30 Suburban Eight score. Dearborn took the first, third, fifth, seventh and ninth places while Bentley won second, fourth, sixth, eighth and 10th.

Dan Vischer was individual champion with a first place clocking of 16:06. Bentley's Tom Hoesy followed with a second place time of 16:18.

Dearborn's Frank Celeskey ran third at 16:20 with the remaining winning card rounded out by Rick DeVore fifth at 16:34, Dan Allison seventh at 16:58 and John Tract ninth with a time of 17:19.

Bentley's Jay Kirksey ran fourth (16:23), Alex Charas sixth (16:47), Chuck Kovach eighth (17:14) and Paul Bien 10th (17:24).

The Bentley junior varsity club forfeited to Dearborn with only three "junior" Bulldogs going up against 15 from Dearborn. Bentley did run third, fourth and fifth in that meet.

Monroe Downs Schoolcraft

Schoolcraft College's Bob Stewart captured first place but the Ocelots did not fare as well as a team in dropping a 26-29 cross country match to Monroe Community College.

Franklin High grad Stewart clocked in a full 30 seconds ahead of the rest of the field with a four-mile timing of 21:43.

Pat Opsommer from Stevenson High was the next Schoolcraft runner to cross the finish line, coming in fourth with a time of 22:51.

Paul Allegrina (seventh), Tom Hallett (eighth) and Denny Bogle (ninth) rounded out the Ocelot card.

Plymouth Wins Dearborn Golf Invitational

Plymouth Salem captured top honors in the 32 school Dearborn Golf Invitational with a score of 329. Ypsilanti and Thurston tied for second with 334 each followed by last year's meet champion from Northville at 348.

The Invitational's No. 3 medalist was Salem's Jeff Roth with a four over par 76.

Other Salem scorers were Jeff Rogers at 79, Ed Olzowski at 83 and Paul Szilagyi with a 91. Salem stands 7-2 overall and 1-2 in Suburban Eight action.

Stolz Jokes

A sportswriter asked new Michigan State football coach Denny Stolz how he planned to replace Brad Van-Pelt, MSU's 1972 consensus All-America defensive back and Maxwell Trophy winner as the nation's top collegiate player.

"Well, our first thought," Denny replied promptly, "was to bring in the Empire State Building."

BRIDGE

We live in a world of bridges, not all of which are constructed of steel and cement. One of the most important bridges in today's world is still under construction, the bridge of understanding...between peoples and nations...spanning racial, economic, political and language barriers. Another important bridge is the bridge of print...bringing people together in a buying and selling situation. The bridge is a newspaper ad.

An advertisement in your newspaper is unparalleled in bringing people together quickly, economically and effectively. When you need to communicate with a customer or if you have something to sell through a want ad...use the most convenient bridge available...the pages of your hometown newspaper.

REFINISHING THEIR DINING ROOM SET was just one of Bernie's many projects.

By JUDITH BERNE

Nancy and Bernie Kraus have expanded the term "do it yourself" to "do everything ourselves."

In their comfortable two-story Farmington home, there is not much that Bernie hasn't built, Nancy hasn't crafted or that they haven't bargain-shopped for --together.

From the address sign at the front door to the wooden deck furniture at the back, the house reflects the ingenuity and creative talents of its owners.

Built around the color scheme of black, white and red, every room has its own variation on the theme. Entering the front hall, gaily striped black and white wallpaper greets you. Bernie put it up as he did all of the paper throughout the house.

Accessories in the front hall consist of an umbrella stand, which Bernie built, a wooden clock --"It really works" --which he and Nancy put together from a kit, a magazine picture which Bernie mounted onto a wooden plaque and an antique plant stand with a coffee grinder on top, discovered in their haunts of antique shops and Salvation Army stores here and in Canada.

Formerly the house had a separate living room and family room at right angles to each other. "For two years, the living room just sat there; it was hardly used," Bernie said. "Finally we decided to treat the two rooms as one large family room. Luckily, the same red shag carpeting ran through both rooms, or we might never have done it."

AUTHENTIC WOODEN BEAMS in the family room were expanded to carry into the living room, as was the dark paneling. "It was a job," Bernie admitted in one of the year's best understatements.

His next project was to build a bar. Constructed out of grey fieldstone, which he cemented together, and topped with black formica, the bar is one even a professional bartender would be proud to attend. Cubicles under the bar, wallpapered in a wipe-off type paper, add a finishing touch.

On the walls off the expanded family room are decorative plaques and pictures, many of which Bernie and Nancy created. Two metal knights take on interest when set into a home-made frame. "I told my daughter to pound on the frames all over as hard as she could." When they achieved that "knocked look" he backed them with red burlap and set the knights in them.

Another inexpensive art object becomes impressive when set into a leather bound frame complete with brass nailheads. A rug, which Nancy hooked in two weeks, is well set off by the dark paneling.

"Nothing in our house cost a lot of money," Bernie candidly admitted. "But if I get an idea, I can usually carry it out."

He freely gives the credit for the overall plan and many of the ideas to Nancy, who said she "could see the whole house almost from the beginning in my mind's eye."

"Our house is a combination of Spanish and antiques," she continued. "Nobody can live with everything all the same, whether it is all Early American or all modern."

"Everything must be practical. I had our sofa recovered in a leatherette finish --it can be wiped off. The accent pillows I am making will be dark colors; then there is no worry about soiling them. I use very few curtains, or drapes, because they gather dust."

In both their powder rooms and breakfast room, Nancy's distaste for curtains developed into cornice and shade decorated windows. Bernie built wooden cornices which he then wallpapered to match the papers in each room and painted the outside edges. "He even painted the backs of the cornices to match the outside woodwork," Nancy pointed out. "That way if I want to raise the shades all the way up, they will still look good from the back."

NANCY WAS ANNOYED that the dark wood-type formica on the counter bar that divides the eating area from the kitchen showed her children's fingerprints so easily. The MODERN DESIGN is reflected in this streamlined writing table and chair.

The best time to put in a lawn is fall! The best one to put in a lawn is the Lawn-A-Mat man!

From his successful experience on over one million lawns coast to coast, the Lawn-A-Mat man knows that Fall seeding is best because:

1. Fall is the seeding time for 15 of 22 seeded grasses including Kentucky Bluegrass and Fescues, the two best kind of lawn grasses.
2. Lawn seed sprouts fastest in cool weather, grows faster too. The Lawn-A-Mat man knows that grass is essentially a cool weather plant. Fall is the time of year when the lawn's enemies, the hot sun, heat, bugs and weeds are on the wane. He agrees with experts who say that Fall is the best time to start a lawn you can be proud of, one that will probably require less expense than you are putting into your present lawn.

Just as Fall is the best time to put in a lawn, the Lawn-A-Mat man is the best man to put in that lawn. Lawn-A-Mat has put in more than one million lawns and has more lawn care professionals from coast to coast than any other service. Its Lawn-A-Mat seed and chemicals are the highest quality, equal to the best you can buy at most garden centers. This means that you get more for your money in the Fall. The Lawn-A-Mat man is offering you Fall Specials to save you even more.

He will do all the work and it will cost you no more than if you did it yourself. All you do is buy the high quality Lawn-A-Mat products and the work will be done free! Take your choice of two Fall Specials or ask your Lawn-A-Mat man about the Annual Greenskeeper Program.

*Experts from the U.S. Department of Agriculture say "Fall is the best time to start or renovate a lawn"

Desk Work Makes A Difference

Bills get paid faster, correspondence stays-up-to-date and invitations go out on time when the right desk is on the scene.

The desk, originally developed as a writing box by craftsmen in ancient Egypt and China, is the key organizer in today's effort to keep the household running smoothly. Whether it's a streamlined writing table or a classic kneehole design,

Kawasaki Has 18 '74 Models

LIVONIA

This year, motorcycle enthusiasts will have a selection of 18 models to choose from in the Kawasaki line at Pierre's Kawasaki, 30650 Plymouth Road, Livonia.

Frenchy Toutant, owner of the shop, said the new line offers the widest selection of engine sizes ever produced by any manufacturer.

The 1974 line will include the 75cc MT-1 trail bike, the 903cc Z-1 touring machine, five street and sport bikes ranging from 90cc - 750cc, and seven enduros used for street and off the road riding.

Included will be production models of motocross and motorcycles. Racing models in this line will be the KX-450, KX-250 and the KX-125.

the modern desk is a workhorse.

Selecting the correct desk is merely a matter of style preference and functional requirements. For the young couple looking for an apartment-scaled table that doubles as desk and dining spot, a modified Parsons table can be the answer. Approximately 34 inches by 54 inches should do the double duty. Even a budding architect would find ample spreadout space for blueprints and renderings.

Desks are now standard in the many space saving systems available in today's stores. Drop lids, borrowed from the traditional 18th century secretaries (which, incidentally, are reproduced in abundance today also) can be found in many storage systems. Often these "desks" double as bars when guests arrive.

The ubiquitous kneehole desk is interpreted in every size, shape and description, from corner pieces in systems to massive important library pieces. Many of the most decorative desks harbor efficient compartments, including file drawers and drawers within their interiors.

To keep desks as efficient as they were designed to be, desk-top accessories should be kept to a minimum, good lighting made available and a comfortable desk chair added.

solution: Bernie applied fiberglass brick to the surface. It now looks and feels like brick; adds a distinct warmth to the kitchen --and doesn't show fingerprints!

"We didn't do anything to the dining room," Nancy announced as she led the way. "What do you mean?" Bernie put in. "Do you remember how long it took me to re-finish those pieces?" The beautifully finished three piece set, which is probably 70 years old, was one of their "bargains."

"You just can't find pieces like these," Nancy related. "In the past couple of years, people have begun to realize the value of old furniture. They told of a recent trip to a large Goodwill warehouse in Detroit. "It was practically empty."

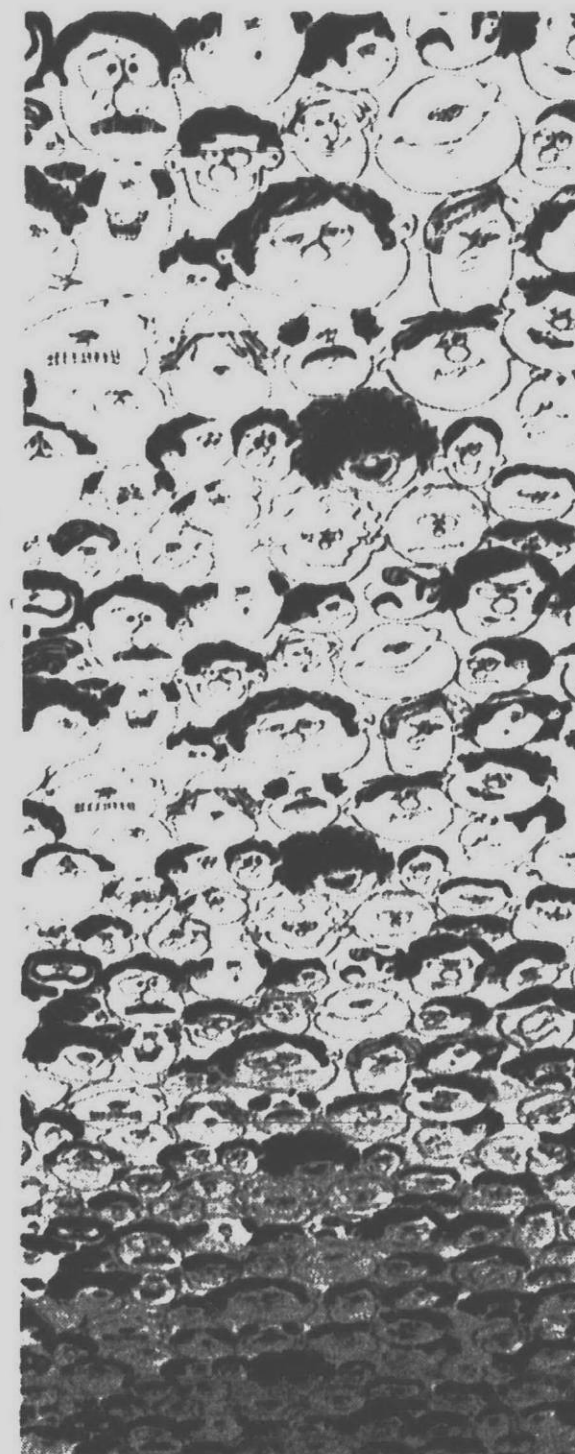

Black and white wallpaper depicting hundreds of faces looks upon those who go down the Kraus' basement stairs. "I saw the paper hanging in a hamburger joint," Bernie confided. "I just had to have it. But finding it took a lot of looking."

The feeling, because the paper is on the slanted ceiling as well as the walls of the stairwell, is that you are entering a playful tunnel. "The children have a great impulse to color in the faces," ever-practical Nancy reported. So far they have apparently resisted the impulse.

Bernie is in the midst of finishing a large basement room as a recreation room for their two girls, Michelle, 6 and Tracy, 3. He has paneled it, and anticipates putting in a ceiling and floor over the winter.

A wrought iron gate, discarded by an employer, separates his work area from the recreation room. Well-equipped and the epitome of neatness and organization, his workshop would be a haven for EVERYMAN...handy or not. "I like to be able to find things," Bernie modestly said. "I never throw anything away—I might be able to use it someday."

UP AND COMING PROJECTS fermenting in Nancy's mind, and which will be at least partially created in Bernie's workshop, are: finishing the basement, putting stucco between the beams on the ceiling of the family room and wall-papering each of his daughter's rooms.

Bernie and Nancy are justifiably proud of their home, but feel their accomplishments are "nothing that special." "Whatever will you write about?" Nancy asked.

What was not written about could make a whole other article...

Kitchen Remodeling: The Costs

How much will it cost to remodel your kitchen?

The rule of thumb estimate is that you'll pay for a new kitchen what you'll pay for a new car.

Obviously there is a wide range in price from a VW to a Cadillac. Just so, there is a wide price range in kitchens.

Ultimately, the accomplishment of a kitchen that is everything your mind envisions and your heart desires lies in factors beyond the dollars you spend.

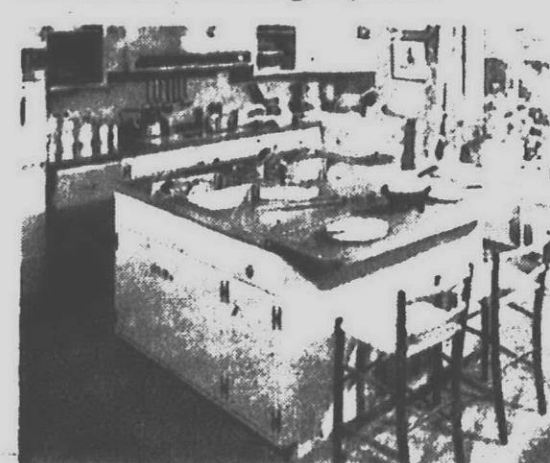

FEW OF THE INGREDIENTS of the contemporary kitchen existed a generation ago, and many are developments of the past decade. The dishwasher, now the No. 1 reason for a remodeling, came along after World War II; now it is available in portable and undercounter as well as conventional styles, and its front panel can be matched to the cabinet.

Resilient floorings have proliferated in color and pattern, as have wallcoverings treated to wipe clean of spatters and stay looking fresh.

Carpeting also has become an important element in kitchen decoration.

Ovens can be placed just about any place, and some are self-regulating as well as self-cleaning. There are microwave ovens for extra-quick cooking; self-venting barbecues; smooth surface cooktops fueled by a choice of electricity or gas; refrigerators sized from mini to maxi, offering different locations and ratios of storage space.

AND IN CABINETS, there is infinite variety as to color, material, style, size, and use, not to mention the shelf and storage options available.

Whether you own a VW or a Cadillac, you have transportation. And whether you spend $1,500 or $15,000 to remodel your kitchen, so long as it functions the way you want, you'll have paid the right price.
