He said that the Fire Department was about 85% of the Township's budget. He said he did not know if the Township would come up short and that it would not be fair to have to short other departments in order to pay salaries to the Piremen. He said that things of the shove nature were optional and perhaps they would have to be cut out of the budget. Mr. Burke said that this was well taken and that perhaps the Clerk budget. Mr. Burke said that this was well taken and that perhaps the Clerk could give the Board a re-cap of costs. Mrs. Richardson, stated that this would show up on the 6 month audit report that she was presently preparing. Mrs. Holmes said that the firemen only responded to approximately one call per day and that there was plenty of time for training programs in our own stations. Burke moved that the Board approve the request to send Chief Gignac to the International Association of Fire Chiefs. Supported by Mr. Ash. In the discussion that followed Mr. Overholt stated that due to the cost of the Fire Department to the Township, Chief Gignac should be senf to the State Conference rather than the International as the cost would be about half. refund of $350.00 from the total $750.00 paid for Conditional Use Request heard before the Planning Commission for Nursery School at St. John's Church. Mrs. Richardson said that a precedent had been set on other requests of only $400.00, due to the use of an existing building. Mr. Burke asked if this group was non-profit and non-discriminatory. Mrs. Ash was of the opinion that it was non-profit but that it was not known if it was non-discriminatory. Mrs. Holmes moved that the fee said by the Emerson School for Talented Young People be reduced by $350.00 and Joan Navarre be refunded the money, due to no Engineering Pees being required for a marsery school at St. John's Church. Recipe Winner: Easy, Light And Tasty

Nearly 200 Observerlanders entered their favorite recipes in the Focus: Suburbia recipe contest. Recipes were judged on the basis of flavor, simplicity of preparation and availability of ingredients.

Judged the best of all recipes submitted was Mrs. David Paap's formula for lemon bars. The Livonia reader said that she "came by this recipe while living in St. Louis and after trying it, it soon became

"It is not only easy to make, but delightfully light and tasty, with just the right amount of lemon flavoring. I'm happy to share this recipe with you ... from St. Louis ... to Livonia."

A beef and eggplant casserole got the judges' votes for the best entry in the meat casserole division. Shirley Nachman, of Southfield, described her recipe as one "that freezes well and can be made when vegetables are plentiful and served all year

First prize among the vegetable/salad dishes went to Ilene Smith of Southfield for a cheddar-spinach loaf. She writes: "This recipe is my own concoction and is enjoyed by my family either hot - or cold as a side dish."

Jean Moore of Redford was awarded first prize in the dessert category for a rusk dessert. 'This is one of my favorite's - do hope you will consider this dehelous dessert and try it out," Mrs. Moore ex-

Two red velvet cakes, a cake made with lingon berries and a rhubarb bread were among the out - of - the way entries in this category.

Fewest entries were in the vegetable/salad classification. But though few, they were mighty. A recipe for scalloped pineapple, two variations of corned beef salad and a sauerkraut salad were some of the more intriguing side dishes.

In the casserole/meat area, Observerlanders revealed their preferences for economical, yet hearty fare. The majority of recipes had ground meat as a base, whether in a "hobo stew", chili beef, meat loaf, meat balls or combined with rice, noodles or

A few chicken recipes, a few fish or seafood -- but in general it was ground meat by a large lead.

If a picture were to be drawn of what most Observerlanders eat at home, it would have to include a pantry full of semi-prepared foods around which many dishes are based. The addition of soups, gelatins, refrigerator rolls, ready - made pie crusts, whipped cream substitutes pervades the recipes which The Observer received.

Although they result in what is probably delicious eating, it tends to make one wonder whatever did Grandma cook ... after all, Dream Whip's a relati-
