

Moceri Proposal Resurrected

By EDWARD WENDOVER

The way has apparently been cleared for the resurrection of a Westland-type shopping center proposal at Joy and Sheldon roads in Canton Township.

Moceri Building Co., which in August made a request to rezone that 194-acre site for such a regional shopping center, has been told by the Canton Township Planning Commission to come back with a similar proposal.

An attorney for Moceri Co., Gilbert Franklin, had said Moceri withdrew its original proposal because residents of the area, in trying to block such a shopping center for the site, had caused the rezoning decision to be delayed too long.

But when the development company came back to the planning commission with a new proposal for a much smaller, local shopping center and a single-family home and apartment development for the site, Franklin said, the planning commission said nothing less than a regional shopping center was acceptable for the site.

Not only did the planning commission ask Moceri to develop a regional shopping center on the site, it also, has polled the township board members on its feeling about the second regional center proposal, even though it has not yet been officially submitted.

The poll was taken Nov. 12 at a joint meeting of the township board and planning commission. The proposed township land use plan, which shows the Moceri site as a regional shopping center, was discussed.

According to a township board member and a planning commission member, the poll showed the township board opposed the Moceri project, 4-3.

Reliable sources told the Plymouth Mail & Observer, however, that one negative board member was wavering and might change his vote to yes under pressure from the planning commission.

Polled as in favor of rezoning the site for a regional center were: Township Supervisor Phil Dingeldey, Township Treasurer Grant Campbell, and Trustee Don Korte.

Those polled as against were: Township Clerk John Flodin, and Trustees Bob Griffin, Jim Poole and Brian Schwall.

Poole was not at the meeting. Schwall, who spoke against the rezoning, had to leave the meeting early. Both their votes were thus assumed to be "no."

Following that session between the planners and the board, the planning commission instructed Township Planner Mike Manore to write Moceri a letter expressing its desire that a regional shopping center be built on the site.

No official action was ever taken by the planning commission to authorize such a letter or even to support a regional center on the site.

Franklin told The Plymouth Mail & Observer that Moceri "would comply with the letter" in resubmitting a proposal.

He said the new plan will include some changes from the original proposal.

These will include addition of landscaping to screen the center from Joy Road, a pedestrian bridge to Gallimore School, housing for the elderly, and a wider road at the south end of the project.

The Moceri attorney said the developer hoped the matter would be resolved — one way or the other — soon.

"We're running out of time. So whether we win or lose, let's get it resolved," Franklin said.

A public hearing on the plan has been set for Dec. 18. In addition, time at the Dec. 4 and Dec. 18 planning commission meetings has been set aside for discussion of the new proposed land use plan.

The plan, released this week by Manore, was compiled from the Citizens Advi-

11-Year-Old Girl Hit Near Fiegel School

An 11-year-old girl on her way to school early Monday morning was injured while crossing Joy Road near Fiegel Elementary School.

The area where she was hit has been the topic of two separate controversies over traffic and pedestrian safety.

Allison Schourk of 8270 Forest was hit at 6:39 a.m. when she apparently ran in front of a car driven by Carolyn William, 33, of 33715 Chief Lane, Westland.

State Police said the William car was not traveling fast, but bumped the girl, rolling her into the mud along side the road.

She was taken to Wayne County General Hospital where she was treated for scratches and bruises before being released.

Mrs. William was not held and no charges were placed against her, State Police said.

Residents of the Fiegel School area complained last spring that Joy Road was hazardous to students crossing on their way to school.

Those complaints led to an agreement between the Plymouth School District, and Plymouth and Canton townships to share equally in constructing a pedestrian overpass by the school.

Work on the overpass has started but thus far only the footings are in.

More recently, residents of the area complained that the Joy Road overpass over I-275 now under construction presented a traffic hazard and additional safety problems for children crossing the road to school.

The elevation of the overpass makes it difficult to see pedestrians crossing the road or traffic turning into side streets, the residents charged.

That matter has apparently been resolved by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge James O'Hair who ordered that certain changes in the overpass' construction be made mandatory.

Among the changes agreed to by both residents and the state and county road departments are the addition of left-turn and deceleration lanes and a regrading of the overpass incline into side streets.

SANTA ARRIVED in Plymouth Saturday for the holiday season. He'll greet kiddies at his "house" in Kellogg Park from 1 to 5 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, from 1 to 8 p.m. Fridays and from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays. Several hundred youngsters turned out in the drizzle to see Santa arrive in the Chamber of Commerce parade. (Observer photo by Doug Johnson)

Schools Get Gasoline, Lower Thermostats

Parents, make sure your children take sweaters to school with them this winter.

That word of advice comes from the Plymouth school administrators, who have ordered the temperature cut back to 68 degrees in all school buildings during the day.

City and state institution administrators were taking similar steps.

In a memo ordering that measure, Supt. John M. Hoben outlined other steps the schools will try to take to get through the "energy crisis."

One encouraging word, Hoben told The Plymouth Mail & Observer, is that the district without gasoline for its buses. To combat the emergency, buses were traveling to a Livonia gas station for fuel.

A strike by drivers for Marathon Oil Co. had left the district without gasoline for its buses. To combat the emergency, buses were traveling to a Livonia gas station for fuel.

Marathon and its drivers have reached a settlement, buses have gasoline, and the possibility that the district would have to suspend pupil transportation has been avoided, Hoben said.

"The situation is now normal," the superintendent described the bus fuel situation.

The fuel oil situation, while not posing an immediate threat, has necessitated energy-saving measures in the schools.

Hoben's memo to all district school administrators outlines such other measures as:

- Cutting exterior lighting of buildings and parking lots.

- Cutting night lighting of buildings except in specific rooms where maintenance staff members are working.

- Cutting lights in non-instructional areas (hallways, cafeterias, etc.) to a minimum.

- Lowering school thermostats to 68 degrees an hour after school days end.

Hoben said that four schools in the district — Geer, Truesdell, Smith elementaries and Middle School East — are heated with fuel oil.

"We don't anticipate a shortage (of fuel oil) but we're cutting back like everybody else," Hoben said. "There's no guarantee we can get delivery."

The "energy crisis" has hit other public buildings through measures similar to those taken by Plymouth schools.

City Manager Fred Yockey has ordered thermostats set back to 68 degrees in all municipal buildings; outside lighting decreased in parks and around buildings (including Christmas lighting), and has instructed city employees not to leave vehicles idling and not to exceed 50 miles per hour while driving city vehicles.

In addition, the city has formed a committee of some of its department heads to study the energy situation and to make recommendations on conserving energy.

At the state Center for Human Development, the heating fuel situation is causing some cutbacks in building use and a 68 degree limitation.

Some older buildings on the grounds and the swimming pool have been closed down due to problems of fuel oil availability for the heating plant which heats both institutions.

A spokesman for the two facilities said that while some energy-saving steps were being taken, the situation was "not a major crisis."

The Michigan State Police sub-post in Plymouth reports no noticeable decrease in speeds of drivers in the area and said the requested 50 mph restriction on speed was, as yet, unenforceable.

PROPOSED LAND USE guidelines from the Canton Township Citizens Advisory Council have been made into a map by Township Planner Michael Manore. The most significant difference between existing zoning and proposed land use is the site on Joy Road for which a large regional shopping center is again being proposed by Moceri Building Co. the map of the entire township (only a portion is shown here) proposes low density suburban single family housing west of Beck Road and north of Ford Road. The proposed land uses will be discussed at the Dec. 4 and 18 Canton Planning Commission meetings and public comments (verbal or written) on the plan will be taken then. If adopted, the land use study would not change any zoning but would serve only as a guide to future land use in the township.

Local Legislators Split On Issue Of Food Tax

LANSING State representatives from Observerland split 4-2 with two absent on a bill to exempt food from the state sales tax.

The bill was defeated when the House gave it only 49-37 support, with 56 votes needed for passage.

Supporting it across party lines were Reps. William Keith (D - Garden City) and Ray Smit (R - Ann Arbor), whose district covers most of the Plymouth area.

Opposed were Reps. John Bennett (D - Redford) Thomas Brown (D - Westland), R. Robert Geake (R - Northville), whose district covers most of Livonia, and John Markes (D - Westland) who also covers part of Livonia.

Absent were Reps. Joseph Forbes (D-Oak Park), whose district includes eastern Southfield and Lathrup Village, and Ray Baker (D-Farmington), who covers western Southfield.

Although pushed by Democratic leaders, the bill received bipartisan support. Opponents argued it would cost local governments too much in revenue and that in modern supermarkets, the definition of "food" was unclear.

Odd-Year Election Defeated

LANSING All four Observerland state senators opposed an unsuccessful attempt to change the election of county and local judges and township officers to odd-numbered years.

Senate Joint Resolution M got only 15 favorable votes and 17 opposed; 26 were needed to place the proposed constitutional amendment on the ballot.

Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) joined a preponderance of Democrats to help defeat the measure.

sory Council report on land use in the township.

One major difference between the map and the council's report, is that the Mocer site is shown as best suited for a regional shopping center although the advisory council could not reach agreement on where such centers should be located in the township.

The proposed land use map also shows a regional shopping site on Michigan Avenue between Canton Center and Beck Roads. That site is zoned for such a center while the Mocer site is not.

A complete map of the land use plan is posted for inspection at the township fire station at Canton Center and Cherry Hill roads and at the township water department on Geddes Road.

If the proposed land use plan is adopted, it would not change existing zoning but would only serve as a guide for future land use.

'Guys & Dolls' Is Scheduled

The Center Theater will open a 12-performance engagement of the hit Broadway musical "Guys and Dolls" on Saturday, Dec. 1.

OBSERVATION POINT

Things Of Plenty In Days Of Shortage

By Philip H. Power
Publisher

Energy. Newsprint. Firewood and Franklin stoves. Mason jars. Cotton, wool and leather. Bicycles. Steel and copper.

Beef. Pork. Wheat. Cabbage. Chicken. Eggs. Onions. Apples and cider. Walnuts. Potatoes. Peruvian anchovies.

Food freezers. Mortgage money. Gasoline and fuel oil. Small cars with low gas consumption. Christmas lights. Railroad cars. Airline flights. Mass transit in the suburbs. Rose Bowl votes for Michigan.

Yup. You guessed it. Above is a list (not guaranteed to be complete) of things in short supply these days.

But, as you drive along at 50 miles per hour, already 15 minutes late for your important appointment, it might be helpful to your peace of mind to contemplate some of the things which are not in short supply.

DURUM WHEAT, for example, had a bumper crop this year, according to the friendly folks at the U.S. Department of Agriculture who brought us the sale of so much of the rest of our wheat to the Russians.

That's good news for pasta lovers, since about the only thing you can do with durum wheat is turn it into spaghetti. And vermicelli and noodles. Macaroni. Rigatoni. The mind reels with the cornucopia of pasta to be available to us during the coming year.

What's to put into the sauce isn't as clear, but the dairy industry (buoyed with increased government price supports - another thing seemingly in plentiful supply) says there is plenty of cheese and butter.

To cut the starch you might consider Maine sardines, which were harvested in record numbers again this year. Or try the vegetable supply stand-outs of 1973: turnips, rutabagas and Brussel sprouts.

California grape growers have just harvested the biggest crop in history after last year's bumper, so we'll have plenty of raisins for dessert after the grapes dry out and can be packaged.

OTHER THINGS in plentiful supply these days come readily to mind:

• Trucks driving at 55, whizzing by one on the expressways, their drivers waving jauntily at the slowpokes holding up traffic in their private cars.

• Cadillacs and Continentals sitting in profusion on local car lots, just waiting to be purchased by that lucky man who happens to own a gas station and have a friendly wholesaler.

• Neighbors who walk around their house in shirt sleeves, giving the clear impression that their thermostat is set at 74 degrees, while you are trying to persuade your wife the old sweater that Aunt Minnie knitted years ago makes her look lovelier than ever before, your breath making frosty swirls in the air as you expostulate.

• Cramps and aching muscles, as you wake up on the Monday morning following the Sunday driving ban, having decided that the five mile walk to the friend's house to watch the game on TV was a mere nothing.

The list is endless, if you only think a bit. Like the man said: Enjoy, enjoy!

Jackie Klein writes

How To Cooperate During Crisis

Because my husband honestly believes I started the energy crisis singlehandedly, I'm figuring ways to conserve power. I've even taken to polishing only every other tooth with my electric tooth brush.

I admit I may have contributed my share to the energy shortage, but swear my ever lovin' spouse conspired to create it just for my benefit.

How many guys do you know who leave all the lights out for burglars, expect their wives to read Braille and turn the house into an igloo because they insist Eskimos are healthier and live longer?

Some men save stamps. Mine saves matches to light our way through the darkness. We have 500 match folders that say, "Happy Marriage Sophie and Rudolph." "Bar Mitzva Blessings Jeremiah." "Trusty Towing Service." "Marvy Mufflers." "Tuneful Tune-ups-24 Hours a Day." and "Have No Fear With a Maidenform Brassiere."

When the matches run out, I'm going to get my hubby a candle-making kit. For some couples, dinner by candlelight is a romantic occasion. In our house, we use electricity for special events like when I cook.

OK hubby mine, I'll cooperate. But just keep in mind I can't be different strokes for different folks.

For the sake of saving gas, you can buy me a high-speed Schwinn. Remember when you said the way I drive, a bike is the only kind of wheels I deserve? But you've got to promise to get a Honda, goggles and a helmet. I'll supply the black leather jacket with the emblem that says, "The Over 50 Daredevils."

I'll stop heating the oven for your frozen TV dinners if you'll promise to love what the Colonel cooks and settle for Big Macs, Dunkin' Donuts and "Peptic Pizza Parlor." Or how about that charming little cafe where you asked if they had botulism and they said, "No, only what's on the menu."

Don't think I'm unwilling to do my share. I'll even make you Wheaties and swear not to burn them.

If you'll let me shave one quarter of each leg per month with your electric razor, I'll let you grow a beard. And don't forget hot water uses energy. There's nothing like 10 pushups and a cold shower to get you going in the morning after a hearty breakfast of iced Sanka.

I have to concede three televisions going at one time puts a strain on the energy supply and am perfectly willing to compromise. Once a week you can watch football and a rerun of "The Three Stooges." Once a week I can watch "Return of Peyton Place" and "As the Stomach Turns."

The rest of the nights we do something really spectacular like talking to each other.

You can do things like caking the frames of the windows and doors and installing weatherstripping to keep the warm air from escaping. You can put up storm doors, insulate the ceiling, clean the furnace, fix the leaky faucet and seal all openings to prevent air flow.

I will do my little bit for the energy crunch effort by washing and drying your shirts only once a month and buying you disposable jockey shorts. I'll trade my toasty electric blanket for Dr. Denton's. I'll trade my curling iron for rollers that clink upon the pillow and wake you up so I can trade in your electric clock radio.

Did I just hear you say the energy crisis is all politics? Let's turn on all the lights and celebrate.

Leonard Poger writes

When Will Board Learn To Keep Its Nose In Joint?

There are times when politicians are breaking speed records in putting their feet in their mouths and looking foolish.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners held the local record four years ago when it tried to push through fulltime salaries for the part-time posts.

Since then, little has been heard from the commissioners - which is probably a good sign.

But a committee of the county board last week shattered the calm when it voted 4-1 to adopt a resolution calling for the impeachment of President Nixon.

The resolution is a good example of the county - which isn't the first public agency to approve a similar resolution - sticking its political nose into an area which isn't its business.

The anti-Nixon resolution from a predominantly Democratic county committee is galling for a few reasons.

One is that one factor listed for Nixon's impeachment is his refusal to obey a federal court order to turn over specified tape recordings of conversations in his offices.

That sounds good and proper from the county point of view.

But it was the county board which, earlier this year, refused to obey a circuit court order to pay salary boosts for various county employees.

The commissioners not only deliberately disobeyed the court order but even offered to accept a jail term for contempt of court.

So much for consistency. But the biggest gall of the county committee is that the impeachment issue is a federal government matter and certainly one too complicated and important for any county figures to worry about.

The practice of political bodies stepping into areas which they were neither asked nor welcomed started two years ago with the cross-district school busing issue.

At that time, every group of politicians from a township board to a city council was approving resolutions left and right expressing opposition to busing.

Some of the agencies were told by their lawyers that busing is primarily a matter between the federal courts and state and local school districts.

It doesn't involve city, township, or county governments but that didn't stop local politicians from passing their beloved resolutions.

For those readers who aren't familiar with those type of resolutions adopted by governmental agencies, copies of the statements are mimeographed and sent to appropriate state, county, or federal legislators.

The county committee's resolution on the Nixon impeachment should be aimed only at the waste basket.

TV Muffs Game Color

Like many broadcast firms, ABC-TV puts its better minds to work promoting programs rather than actually producing and directing them. The botched handling of the "color" surrounding the Michigan-Ohio State football classic is a case in point.

ABC-TV boasts it is "recognized around the world as the leader in sports television" - so says its promotion writer.

Yet anyone with an ounce of show biz sense (and after all, sports television is show business) would have known that three of the most interesting things about that game were:

1. The Michigan band - best in musicianship and second best in marching in the country.

2. The Ohio State band - best in marching and second best in musicianship in the country.

3. Whiskey - the perky, wirehaired fox terrier who pushed a maize and blue soccer ball the length of the gridiron, giving the last performance of her brilliant career.

So what did the great minds of ABC do at halftime?

They cut half or more of OSU's band show for commercials. Well, that can be justified for economic reasons, but the injustices went further.

Only the last minute of Michigan's band show hit the screen, and the plucky Whiskey was reduced to what seemed like two seconds but could have been 1.8.

In their place, we were treated to a halftime discussion of the play by Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, retired head coach of Michigan State, and Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame's coach.

Duffy blew at least a minute making a joke about the spelling and pronunciation of Ara's last name before getting around to asking Parseghian what he thought of it all.

Parseghian was appallingly ill-prepared. First he admitted he had never seen Michigan or Ohio State play. Then he described the strategies of the two teams in a synopsis of what he doubtless read in a morning newspaper. Unable to analyze further, Parseghian discussed replays of first-half scoring.

If ABC-TV had been interested in first-class sports coverage, it would have brought in someone who had at least seen the teams play - maybe the sports editor of the Ann Arbor News, a Detroit or Columbus newsmen, or perhaps our own Eddie Edgar.

The decision to show first-half replays was stupid beyond belief. Those plays had all been replaced once or twice after they occurred; they were shown again on evening news shows; they'll be shown again on Bo Schembechler's own program Tuesday evening.

All the while, remember, ABC-TV was ignoring the OSU band, the Michigan band and Whiskey, three factors as responsible for 1973 attendance at the Ann Arbor and Columbus stadia as Schembechler's and Woody Hayes' three - yards - and - a - cloud - of - dust football.

As things worked out, there was considerable footage of the Michigan band's postgame show. But never a word that it was coming, so a lot of viewers missed it.

Ever the careful newsmen, I watched the screen credits at the end of the telecast and am prepared to tell you the names of the stoopnagles responsible for such a dull-witted halftime show:

Chuck Howard was the producer and Andy Sidas is the director of that ABC-TV sports misrepresentation.

It is hard to believe that your paper is in such dire need of funds that you resort to accepting ads from an abortion clinic. Are you doing the community a service? Even putting it on the society page along with the weddings and engagements.

Strange, isn't it, that not too long ago the killing of innocent people in Vietnam was so loudly protested. Why is it acceptable here, and you advertise it?

I do not wish to have your paper in my home. So as not to embarrass my delivery boy, I am asking you to see that it is not delivered to this address.

Haunted House Helps Many

EDITOR:

I would like to thank you for the outstanding coverage of our Jaycees haunted house. We had the most successful year in history, largely due to your efforts. The articles were informing and comprehensive, and I'm sure they were responsible for the tremendous attendance we had.

And other thanks to the people who attended the house. We hope you enjoyed this year's haunted house as much as the Jaycees did in presenting it.

Your participation has given us funding for future community projects, like the Mother Waddles feed-a-city canned food drive, shooters' education, Christmas shopping tour for needy kids, and senior citizens Christmas lighting tour.

You were all greatly appreciated.

Why Not Tax Rebate?

In 1972 an effort was made to encourage grass roots participation in the political process by allowing a tax deduction (kickback) to individuals donating money to a Presidential candidate.

That effort was less than successful because the grass roots donations were diluted by corporate contributions prior to the April 7 disclosure deadline.

Now, the Senate Watergate Committee is considering legislation to strengthen the impact of grass root donations by curbing corporate contributions.

It is doubtful whether any campaign financing reform can do much to generate grass roots involvement. The main reason is that it is the non-involvement of the masses that necessitates expenditure of such large sums to obtain a national office.

A more effective piece of legislation might be a program of kickbacks to individuals as a monetary reward for exercising the responsibilities of citizenship. Congress could enact a law granting a tax credit of $10 for each time an individual votes.

The tax credit could be allowed for each city, township, school, county, state or federal election. In this manner, citizens would be encouraged to do their duty at all levels - instead of just every four years when the "biggie" comes around.

If involvement is the goal, it makes more sense to offer tax credits for actually voting than for merely making a campaign contribution. Isn't it more important that each citizen vote?

It may sound crass to reward citizens financially for voting. Well, it is crass but nothing else has been successful to get citizens to be citizens.

It is far more undesirable to continue holding local municipal and school elections with the outcome decided by less than half the registered voters. Democracy shouldn't function this way.

Perhaps it is time to admit we are living in a capitalistic-dominated democracy. Citizens are moved by money, not duty. America is a materialistically oriented society and, unfortunately, it might be that only money speaks.

If it takes money to get citizens to vote, then maybe that ought to be considered. This may have a familiar ring, but maybe citizens should get a kickback for doing what is in the best interest of the giver. I don't like it, but know nothing else which might work.

City Establishes Donations Policy

PLYMOUTH The City of Plymouth isn't going to give money to just anybody who asks anymore.

Numerous requests by "non-profit organizations" and programs for city contributions have led the city to adopt a policy on donations.

Henceforth, the letter requesting funding from the city must include or answer the following:

- Name of organization.
- Goals of the organization.
- Itemization of services that will be rendered to residents of the city by the organization.
- Other organizations in the area providing similar-type services.
- Attempts which are being made by the organization to become self-supporting.
- How many Plymouth residents the organization plans to serve.
- Amount of the requested donation.
- If granted, what the funding will be used to accomplish.
- Whether organizational personnel are volunteers or paid.
- Whether the organization requested funds from other governmental units in the area. If so, what amounts.

The requests for donations must also include an up-to-date financial statement, a proposed budget itemizing use of requested contribution from city and a written statement of past performance.

Three metropolitan area artists will hold a combined showing of their works at an exhibit Dec. 2 to 22 in the Plymouth House Galleries, 308 N. Main, Plymouth.

The exhibit opens with a reception from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 2, at the gallery. The public is invited.

Among the exhibitors is Randal Fettes, a graphic artist from Plymouth. Fettes, who attended Detroit Arts and Crafts, will show about 15 pieces of silk screen graphics. He teaches graphics for the city of Dearborn.

J. William Poceta, a painter from Dearborn, and Camille Douglas, a metal craft artist from Dearborn, will also show their works.

Display Opens

Two students from the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College will open "A Woman's Touch in Ceramics" at the Artforms Gallery on Sunday, Dec. 2. Paula Rosensweet of Huntington Woods and Julie Walkosky of Bloomfield Hills will present the show from noon until 7 p.m. in the gallery, 1943 Livernois, Detroit. The show is a prelude to a Christmas show featuring several artists from OCC.

Jonathan's Flight OK

By JAN WILLIAMS

It would be great to see Jonathan Livingston Seagull competing against George C. Scott or Marlon Brando for an Oscar.

But I doubt if Jonathan will get his chance to refuse the coveted award—at least not this time around.

"Jonathan Livingston Seagull" was adapted from the best-selling book of the same name by Richard Bach. For some reason, the words on paper were easier to accept than those uttered by James Franciscus, the voice of Jonathan.

The story involves Jona-

JONATHAN LIVINGSTON SEAGULL
now showing at Quo Vadis
Rating: G

than's quest to fly higher, farther and faster than any seagull ever has before. He invites the wrath of the rest of the flock, however, with such foolish ideas.

But poor Jonathan just can't hack the day-to-day task of fighting among the gulls for bits of garbage.

Eventually, he runs into a flock of a different kind and learns words of wisdom from an elder gull who shares his outlook on life.

Various meanings can be read into the tale. But it's left up to the viewer and his state of mind as to exactly what they are.

No matter what your attitude is toward looking at life through a seagull's eyes, the photography is so magnificent it makes the film worth viewing.

Musicale Sets Student Recital

The Livonia Musicale will feature a free, public recital by outstanding local music students on Sunday, Dec. 2, at 4 p.m. in the Liberal Arts Theater of Schoolcraft College, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Performing will be pianist Debbie Bowden, Karen Kan, and Lori Varnes; harpist Mary Morgan, singer Julia Broholm and violinist Charles Roth.

Of special interest will be a complete performance of Mozart trio in E Major (K. 498) by Dan Horn, on piano, Max Raimi, on viola, and Tom Horn, on clarinet.

The Grapewine

By SAM ZAWDEN
What does a varietal name on a wine label mean? Federal regulations permit the use of a varietal label when a wine contains 51% of the grape named. There is some pressure among the better vintners to raise the percentage to 60% or 75%.

The French blend more than we do. Few Bordeaux chateaux use more than one-third Cabernet Sauvignon in their wines. As many as fifteen types of grapes can be blended into Chateau-neuf-du-Pape, a famous Rhone Valley wine. The result? A rich, dry wine.

European vintners have begun imitating American varietal labels, renaming Bordeaux, Burgundy and Spanish wines for the varietal grapes from which they are made.

Some American vintners have created their own hybrids; their varietal names, then, are thus far as exclusive as a brand name. What's in a name? A good glass of wine. Choose your favorite -- or let us help you -- at

Scouts To Collect Goodwill Clothing Bags On Saturday

The second phase of the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, Holiday Good Turn for Goodwill Industries will be completed on Saturday, Dec. 1, when more than 300 troops will collect filled clothing bags recently distributed to homes in the metropolitan area.

Filled clothing bags picked up by the scouts will provide employment during the coming winter months for more than 200 handicapped employees of League For The Handicapped-Goodwill Industries.

On Nov. 17, the scouts delivered Good Turn clothing bags to 200,000 homes in the metropolitan Detroit area and asked householders to fill them with usable clothing for pick up by 10 a.m. on Dec. 1.

The entire Goodwill trucking fleet, augmented by trucks from trucking companies and business firms, will be stationed at key locations throughout the area to be filled with bags collected by the scouts. Many Teamster Union members are donating their services for the drive. Other volunteers from various sources will help unload trucks at the Goodwill plant.

The Good Turn clothing drive is an annual project of the Detroit Area Council. It provides an excellent opportunity for a large number of scouts to participate in a community effort and help handicapped people have full-time work.

The Detroit Area Council is the largest scout council in the nation, with 100,000 registered boys and adults in the program. Goodwill Industries is a division of League For The Handicapped-Goodwill Industries and provides employment and training for handicapped individuals through the collection, repair, and sale of discarded articles from homes.

LEONARD ZAWACKI of Farmington Hills, a National Bank of Detroit employee for the past 26 years, has been named an assistant cashier in NBD's regional banking division. He is currently manager and officer in charge of the Southfield-Warren office. Zawacki attended Detroit Business University and holds a graduate certificate from the American Institute of Banking.

OU Teaches About Comet Kohoutek

ROCHESTER "All You Ever Wanted to Know about the Comet Kohoutek but Were Afraid to Ask" is the topic of a free public science program at Oakland University Monday, Dec. 3.

The 8 p.m. session in 190 Hannah Hall is sponsored by the department of physics. The program will provide background and viewing information on a comet that experts predict may be as large as any yet known.

By the end of November, the comet will become visible to the naked eye; by Christmas it could well be the brightest object in the sky, except for the sun and moon; and by January it will probably sport a fanlike tail that will cover a sixth of the sky, physics department spokesmen said.

This comet and others will be discussed in the OU program by physicist Norman Tepley. William Schultz, an astronomer from Cranbrook Institute, will show slides and cover viewing possibilities and the comet's importance to astronomers. Charles Broh, English, will speak about the comet in history and the arts.

The Comet Kohoutek is named for its discoverer, Lubos Kohoutek.

The More The Merrier

grilled turkey

This Christmas try something a little different for the traditional family meal. Gather the family around hearthside and charcoal grill part of the meal right in the fireplace. It makes an especially warm and cozy gathering for the smaller family.

For the fireside Christmas dinner, try a turkey breast, a nice change from a whole turkey. Most turkey breasts are found in the frozen meat section of the supermarket and range in size from 3 to 10 pounds. For the larger 8-10 pound breast, simply fillet it or remove it from the breast bone on either side.

THE BONED BREAST is wrapped in bacon and grilled very slowly over a bed of coals. The key to juicy, tender turkey breast is to grill it slowly. If there is room, while the turkey is cooking, do double duty with the lighted briquets and cook the squash too. Place the whole squash right on the coals and let them cook, turning often, and the flavor is simply delicious.

GRILLED TURKEY BREAST

(Makes 8 to 10 Servings)

1 turkey breast, about 8 pounds
Salt and pepper
½ pound sliced bacon

Cut through skin along both sides of the breast bone and remove breast meat. Follow contour of carcass, taking off as much meat as possible in two large pieces. (Simmer bone in water with seasonings and use for soup stock, gravies, etc.)

Sprinkle each piece of turkey with salt and pepper. Wrap bacon strips around each piece and secure bacon with skewers.

Grill about 8 inches from low coals for 1 hour. Turn occasionally with tongs. Turkey is done when lightly browned and tender. Check for doneness by cutting a small slit in largest part of meat.

NOTE: Turkey breasts vary in size from about 3 pounds to 12 pounds. For a small turkey breast (under 4 pounds) crack breast bone, flatten meat and grill in one piece. Time will vary with the size and thickness of the breast. If using a large frozen turkey breast which has been thawed, cook both breast pieces. Leftover cooked turkey may be served cold for sandwiches, used in casseroles or wrapped tightly and refrozen.

EMBER ROASTED ACORN SQUASH

Place acorn squash in coals, leaving a few briquets to surround each. Turn frequently with tongs until fork tender, about 1 hour, 15 minutes.

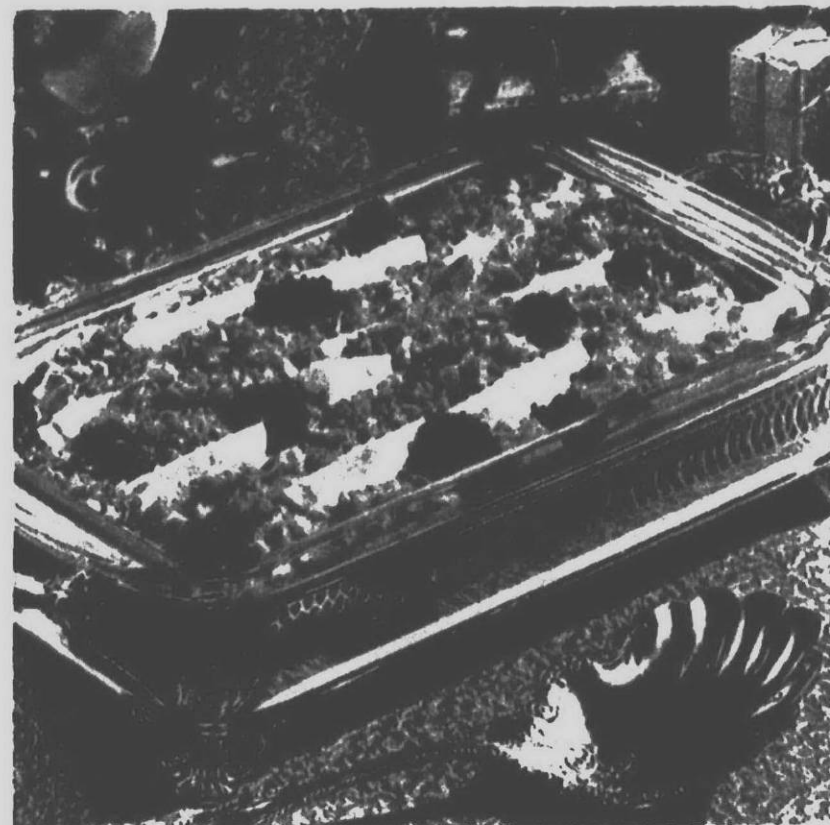

When cooked, remove from coals; cut in half and remove seeds. Serve immediately with butter, salt and pepper. About 1 tablespoon of maple syrup may be added to each squash half. Allow one acorn squash for 2 servings.

yule brunch

Brighten the holiday season with a Christmas morn brunch for your family. You'll treasure the misty glow in the grandparents' eyes as they delight in watching the children open their tinsely gifts.

The nose-nudging aroma of Holiday Broccoli 'N Ham will urge everyone to the table. There are layers and layers of deliciousness in this protein-packed brunch dish. Cut broccoli frozen in an elegant cheese sauce in its own flavor-tight cooking pouch is topped with quartered eggs and rosy-pink diced ham. Condensed cheddar cheese soup gives a double cheese flavor to the casserole. The crunchy topping sprinkled on during the last few minutes of baking is herb seasoned stuffing mix.

A fresh fruit compote, served in a brandy snifter, can double as a table centerpiece ... it is so pretty. Warm petite sweet rolls with whipped butter and mugs of hot chocolate complete the Christmas morn feast.

HOLIDAY BROCCOLI 'N HAM

2 10-oz. packages cut broccoli frozen in cheese sauce in the flavor-tight cooking pouch
6 hard-cooked eggs, quartered lengthwise
2 c. diced ham
1 10½-oz. can condensed cheddar cheese soup
¼ c milk
¼ c butter, melted
¼ c water
2 c herb seasoned stuffing mix

Cook broccoli according to package directions; spread in bottom of 9x12x1½-inch bake and serve pan. Place eggs on broccoli; add ham. Combine soup and milk until smooth; pour over top of broccoli, eggs and ham. Bake in a preheated 400 degree oven for 15 minutes. Combine melted butter, water and stuffing mix; sprinkle over casserole. Bake an additional 15 minutes. Serves 6 to 8.

steamed pudding

1½ c. flour
1 t. baking soda
½ t. salt
1 t. cinnamon
½ t. nutmeg
¼ t. ginger
1 t. vanilla
¼ c. shortening
1¼ c. sugar
2 eggs
2 ripe bananas, mashed
1 tart apple or 1 large raw carrot, shredded
½ c. light raisins

Sift flour with soda, salt and spices. Combine shortening, sugar, eggs and bananas; beat until mixture is very smooth and light. Stir in shredded apple or carrot, raisins and vanilla. Stir the flour mixture into the fruit mixture and blend thoroughly.

Turn batter into a well greased 1½ quart or 2 quart mold. Cover top with foil or double-thick waxed paper, and tie securely with soft twine. Place mold on trivet in large kettle and add enough hot water to come about half-way up sides of mold.

Cover kettle, bring to boil, then reduce heat and keep water on gentle boil for 2 hours. Remove mold and let stand a few minutes; loosen edges and invert on serving dish. Serve warm with hard sauce, or with stiffly whipped cream. Serves 8.

TOYS TO ENCOURAGE the growth of your child's personality and interests should be kept in mind during Christmas shopping.

TOYS

Nothing is more overwhelming than a store's toy department at the height of the holiday season.

The great variety of items makes it difficult to choose the one toy or game that will please the individual child you are buying for and his parents, too.

When purchasing a toy or game, the shopper should look for various product features and also keep in mind the individual child --his age, abilities and interests. If the toy is not suited to his personality, he probably won't play with it and your money will be wasted.

Among the guidelines to follow when selecting toys and games is to find something with educational or instructional value --in addition to play interest. Many toys are produced with the intent of combining learning and amusement to aid a child's development. Even playthings for infants and toddlers are designed to catch their eyes with colorful patterns and build their strength and dexterity.

Games make good holiday gift choices because they provide a multiple learning experience. Covering a wide range of subjects, they teach numbers and counting, build vocabulary words, give a short course in geography or offer a history lesson.

Pre-school age children are interested in things they can construct by building up or tearing down. One toy that aids development for this age child is the Cootie Bug. Popular for more than 25 years, it teaches numbers and counting. Another is Billy

A gleaming tea service against a red tablecloth; the traditional silver candelabra with a twist of greenery and red candles; a simple bowl filled with fragrant pine cuttings.

Sparkling silver is a natural complement to holiday festivities. Getting rid of tarnish and keeping that sparkle is primarily a matter of understanding silver, so borrow a few tips from the W.J. Hagerty people, who have been in the business of cleaning silver for almost 80 years.

SILVER TARNISH is the result of a chemical change when sulphur gases in your home's atmosphere settle on the metal. That's why silver tarnishes fastest when the house is closed up during the winter months.

If you've had your silver tucked away, it will undoubtedly need a thorough cleaning. What used to be a tedious, messy scrubbing job has been made so simple now --Hagerty put silver polish in an aerosol can. When even badly tarnished silver pieces are restored to like-new brilliance, the shine remains because there's a built-in tarnish preventative.

FROM TIME TO TIME, when you notice a darkening or yellowing, simply wipe it away with Silversmith's Gloves, which have a dry polish and tarnish preventative in them. Your silver will retain its silversm-iths' hue indefinitely without further thorough cleaning.

Here are a few more do's and don'ts from these experts:

1. Avoid rubber in silver decorations and table settings. Rubber contains sulphur which can cause permanent damage if in direct contact with silver.

2. Christmas fruit bowls are great, but be sure to line the silver bowl with plastic or a glass liner; fruit acid will pit silver. The same is true for arrangements of tree cuttings.

3. If silver should come in contact with salt, wash it as soon as possible. Salt also pits silver.

4. Washing will remove the tarnish preventative from the silver, so after sudsing the coffee service, give it the once-over with Silversmith's Gloves.

5. Using your silver will actually make it lovelier. It develops a patina, a meshwork of light scratches and marks which gives a deep, rich warmth to well-used silver.

Christmas decorating with silver can be stunning. And once you've discovered how easy it is to maintain silver, why not leave it out year-round --add a little sparkle to Easter . . . and Valentine's Day . . . and summertime parties. Before you know it, the holidays arrive again and the silver is ready.

SILVER

THERE'S NOTHING like sparkling silver to make Christmas entertaining festive.

SURE TO MAKE CHRISTMAS MERRY, a puppy under the tree. Treat him gently, give him lots of rest and keep him away from all swallowable objects -- from tinsel to turkey bones.

Christmas Puppies

Deck your halls with boughs of holly, but make sure they're out of Bowser's biting range. Holly berries can poison a dog. Mistletoe is dangerous too.

If there's going to be a puppy under your tree this year, make plans for a very wary Christmas. Until he grows a bit, chewing is baby Bowser's favorite sport, and you can bet your bottom Christmas tree ornaments that he'll sample everything in sight during the Yuletide season.

In fact, Christmas is an especially hazardous time for puppies, according to Bob Bartos, Director of Friskies Research Kennels.

GLASS ORNAMENTS, tinsel, and figures in your under-the-tree creche (a holy terrier in Pennsylvania wolfed down one Wise Man, Joseph and half an angel before anyone noticed) are just the kind of thing a puppy gulps now and regrets later.

Exposed extension cords, which he loves to get his teeth into, may give him the shock of his life. Soft rubber, as found in many children's toys, tears easily and can stick to puppy's insides. Wooden and plastic toys can be chewed into splinters.

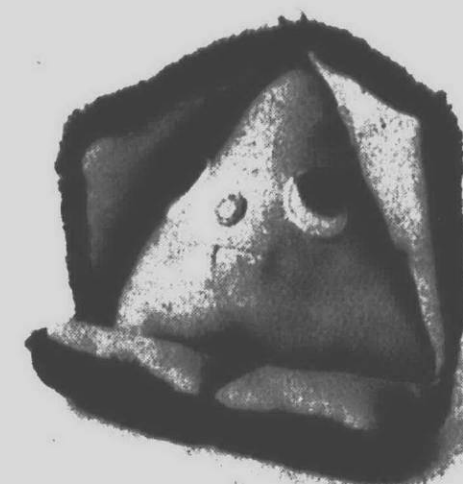

Your safest course is to clear the decks of all swallowable objects when puppy has the run of the house. And while you're at it, get rid of those tempting turkey bones; a little gnawing can make them as sharp as daggers. Even an older dog will go for leftover bones, so put them safely out of reach.

In spite of the fact that canine sales shoot up 50 percent at Yuletide, Christmas day is not the best time to introduce a new puppy to your household, advises Bartos, author of (the paperback manual) "All About Puppies." Christmas morning chaos can be terrifying to the little fellow, and if his first day in new and strange surroundings is an exhausting and frightening experience, you could end up with a nervous pup on your hands.

IF A PUPPY heads your family gift list, why not choose one ahead of time and make arrangements to pick him up after Christmas, when all is calm? You can still make his imminent arrival an exciting surprise on Christmas morning. Hang an extra stocking filled with a new collar, leash, doggy toys, and a stuffed dog peeking out. This is one way to make Christmas last longer. Puppy might last longer, too!

If such delaying tactics won't work, do keep puppy out of the Christmas hub-bub as much as possible. Remind the children that he's not a toy. Handle him gently. Put him in a quiet room frequently for naps. Give him some safe toys of his own, and make your house as puppy-proof as possible. For the Christmas puppy, take a tip from Good King Wenceslas -- look out!

Squeak-A-Boo from Fisher Price...

Goat, which teaches eye-hand coordination and dexterity.

School-age children enjoy the fun of competition and trying to win against another player. For them, traditional boxed games such as Don't Break the Ice give hours of play value and test their skills. These games also give learning experiences that are valuable life experiences, for they teach youngsters how to cooperate with others, how to follow rules and how to make decisions.

As children grow older, they find "super-action" games that test their skills more challenging. That's why 8 to 14 year olds enjoy the fast-moving competition of Trap Shot and Spin-Off. Family strategy board games such as Money Card and Optile also appeal to this age group, as they require quick thinking and planning while sharpening their calculating powers.

Keeping in mind what kind of toy or game is appropriate to the child's age group, the shopper must also recognize whether the plaything is well-constructed and free of safety hazards. Before buying any toy or game, check the copy on the box for warranties or guarantees which indicate the manufacturer's willingness to stand behind his product. Also, look over the object for sturdy, durable construction and safety.

On the whole, toys and games on the market today are safer than ever before. This is due to government standards for inflammability and toxicity together with efforts on the part of industry manufacturers to make products free of safety hazards. However, the name and reliability of the manufacturer should also be considered when selecting an object for play. A well-established firm with years of experience has succeeded by offering quality products backed by research and testing.

With these shopping pointers in mind, it should be easier to evaluate the array of toys and games offered and to find one that will be used and enjoyed repeatedly by the child who receives it.

GIFT WRAP

DISTINCTIVE GIFT-WRAP to make even a small gift eye-catching...

Often a small Christmas present looks over-decorated when a patterned Christmas wrap is used.

To make a small gift eye-catching, select a solid color paper --red, green, gold, silver --your favorite. Then give the package a three-dimensional quality. For example, you can take some "Q-Tips" cotton swabs from the medicine chest and lay them out on the box. Glue them in place, add a star and a circle and you will have a distinctive package.

For another package, glue a three inch plastic foam circle to the box. Cover the circle with glue, then sprinkle gold glitter. When the glue dries, the glitter will sparkle. Then snap cotton swabs in half and insert them in the "gold" plastic foam. Then add colorful circles. (Note: glitter may be obtained in dime stores or wherever craft materials are sold.)

Traveling Teens Will Talk To Boost Exchange Program

By MARGARET MILLER

When you're a high school senior and you've spent a summer visiting in a foreign country, you just love to talk about it.

What's more, you want more kids to have the experience.

And that's the basis of a new Youth For Understanding "speakers' bureau" program being launched here.

It will give clubs some enthusiastic speakers and interesting programs, let the students spread the word about YFU and raise funds to expand the program.

Under the plan, 16 high school senior "returnees," those who have come back from summers with families abroad, will offer their services as speakers for club, church and service groups.

In return for the talks, which will be illustrated with pictures they have taken on their visits, they will ask a contribution to Youth For Understanding.

Mrs. Ann Timmons of Farmington, coordinating the program, said the money would be credited to the school the student attends, and the fund thus accumulated will be divided among students from that school who qualify for YFU visits next summer.

"It's such a fantastic experience, I want to recommend it to everybody," said Denise Ott, Plymouth resident who attends Our Lady of Mercy High School and visited in Holland last summer.

"I've wished the price could be less so more people could do it," added Sue Raybuck of North Farmington

DENISE OTT (left) of Plymouth, Sue Raybuck of Farmington and Merja Syrjanen, an exchange student from Finland, check the slide illustrations they will use for travel talks to boost Youth For Understanding. (Observer photo by Harry Mauthe)

High School. She went to Germany.

Mrs. Timmons agreed that the $850 price tag on a two month visit seems high to some and possibly could increase.

"That's the purpose of our new program - to make these visits possible for more students," she said.

The returnees, who also include Mexico, Sweden, Denmark, Norway and France among the lands visited, probably will be joined in their project by some of the foreign students spending the current school year in this area under YFU.

These students are from all those countries, as well as Japan, the Philippines, Liberia, Yugoslavia, Greece and Finland.

Merja Syrjanen, visiting from Finland and attending Stevenson High School while living with the Ernst Price family in Livonia, said she's hoping to participate as her command of English improves.

"I brought many pictures from Finland, and my father is sending me more," she said. "I hope to find a projector suitable for showing them."

The returnees all are from Farmington, Plymouth, Livonia, Northville and Novi, the district for YFU headed by Mrs. Nina Orr of Farmington.

Organizing for the first time this year, they have set themselves to aid the visiting students in any way they can.

One activity this fall was a Halloween party for the visitors and their local "sisters" and "brothers," introducing the exchange students to the strictly American customs of bobbing for apples and eating pumpkin pie.

The Youth For Understanding speakers are ready to share their experiences in club programs. Organizations interested may call Mrs. Clay Timmons, 33606 Hillcrest, Farmington, or Mrs. Wesley Orr, 26508 Farmington Road, Farmington.

Youth For Understanding is a program that began after World War II and involves exchange visits by students for either a summer or a full school year.

Centered in Ann Arbor, it sends students from all over this country to a score of lands overseas. More information on YFU is available from high school counselors or from Mrs. Orr.

CHARLIE, THE COMPUTER, was watching as Pete Chompouras kissed his bride Sharon following their wedding in the Realtron office in Redford Township. (Kathy Willens photo)

'License Contract Properly Confirmed'

By MARGARET MILLER

Sharon and Pete and Charlie tied the knot the night before Thanksgiving. Sharon and Pete have new wedding rings. Charlie can point with pride to some big print-out sheets that had a prominent spot at their wedding reception.

Charlie, it should be explained, is the computer "brain" of Realtron Corp., 2405 Five Mile, Redford Township.

Not exactly mobile, he got to join 100-plus guests at the wedding of Sharon Berman and Pete A. Chompouras because they chose to have the ceremony in a conference room of the company where they met and work and fell in love.

Wayne County Clerk Joseph B. Sullivan was the one who said "I now pronounce you man and wife" at the conclusion of the traditional ceremony.

But Charlie still had the last word. Programmed especially for the occasion and plugged in over his telephone speaker by Jack Jominy, president of Realtron, Charlie told the newlyweds:

"Computer to address group now present Nov. 21, 7 p.m. Realtron group present to see license contract properly confirmed. Status is now not bachelors. Immediate magic improvement. You two are one. Female now private property. Future prospect is security. Status now not taxable. Computer state Thank You."

Jominy pointed out that if Charlie's language seemed stilted, the guests would have to understand that his vocabulary numbers just 256 words, the kind usually used to transmit real estate information all over the country for the computerized real estate firm.

The bride, collections supervisor at Realtron, and the bridegroom, an accountant there, had decided to have their wedding in the office building but their fellow workers arranged Charlie's participation as a surprise.

"We wanted to be married here because this is where all our friends are, and Mr. and Mrs. Jominy made it possible," Sharon said.

She added that because she is Jewish and Pete is Greek Orthodox they had decided on a civil ceremony and a non-church setting, and the office seemed perfect.

"All the employees are our friends," she said. "It's a family place and everyone is close."

Sharon's sister, Brenda Mermell of Detroit, was maid of honor, and the best man was John Chompouras, the bridegroom's cousin.

Also in the wedding party were James and Mary Nelson of Inkster, another couple who met at Realtron employees, and Sharon's young son and daughter from her previous marriage, Barry and Michelle Berman.

Charlie was in on the wedding preparations as well as the actual ceremony. He computerized the invitations.

And a printout of the words "Charlie Ties the Knot" was displayed in the Dula Party Room, Redford Township, where the reception was held.

Before leaving for the reception, the newlyweds heard the congratulations of Hazard Reeves, chairman of the board of Realtron Corp. He talked from New York over the same computer speaker Charlie used.

An added fillip for the bride was the fact that she fit beautifully into a small-sized, tiny waisted wedding dress.

"When I started working here I weighed 260 pounds," she confided, "and I'm 140 now. Everybody here helped me do it. There's no company like this one."

Sharon and Pete are on their honeymoon and will make their home in Livonia. Charlie is keeping things going at Realtron.

Dinner To Aid Dehoco Law Library Fund

Women students at the Detroit College of Law will sponsor a spaghetti dinner on Sunday, Dec. 2, to raise funds for a legal education course and law library at the Detroit House of Correction in Plymouth Township.

The dinner will be in St. Benedict parish hall, one block east of Woodward and south of McNichols, Highland Park. Dinner will begin at 5:30 p.m. followed by a talk at 7 p.m. by Lee Dell Walker, a jailhouse lawyer, and entertainment by the Blackacre Blues Band. Tickets are $2.50.

The law library will be for the women's section of Dehoco. The prison houses all women convicted of felonies in Michigan but lacks the legal research facilities for inmates to use in appealing their cases.

Samples of all will be available with a hot luncheon to be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

This Petite Foreman Is An Ex-Model

If Beverly Muse appeared on TV's "What's My Line?" the panelists would be perplexed.

Her petite figure and fashionable dress are no clues to her occupation. But when she exchanges her pastel-tinted, wire-framed specs for safety glasses, dons a monogrammed smock and steps onto the floor of the Chevrolet Motor Division's Spring and Bumper Plant in Livonia, it becomes evident.

Miss Muse is a foreman. A former typist and occasional fashion model, Miss Muse supervises 32 hourly employees, leading her team in handling up to 1,800 automobile bumpers per hour in the plant's packing department.

"The job is quite a responsibility," she says. "It's a challenge — a challenge I needed and requested."

"As a foreman, I work with people and with machines. I deal with the people first. If the people aren't operating well, they won't operate the machines well."

Beverly speaks softly and modestly. But she makes it known she wasn't handed her foreman's position.

"I had to earn my stripes," she said. "Before I made the request to work as a foreman, I had to feel confident in my capabilities to do the job. My peers and co-workers helped to instill some of that confidence."

"I was given a chance to get a good look at the job as a temporary summer replacement foreman," she said. "It was a training program. On Aug. 1, I got my stripes. I became a full-time foreman."

LOOKING MORE LIKE a model than a factory worker, Beverly Muse, 22, is a foreman at the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant in Livonia. A former clerk-typist and occasional fashion model, Miss Muse supervises a team of 32 hourly workers in handling up to 1,800 automobile bumpers an hour in the packing department.

"My previous experiences — I've been with General Motors for five years — helped me reach this position."

Miss Muse, who lives in Belleville, began her GM career at age 16 as a Belleville High School "co-op" student.

Each day she attended school four hours, and worked four hours as a typist at GM's Hydra-matic Division in Ypsilanti. After high school, she continued her work at Hydra-matic while attending Eastern Michigan University on a part-time basis.

She took an educational leave for eight months to take business administration and secretarial courses at EMU.

Beverly then came to the Spring and Bumper plant as a clerk in the maintenance section of plant engineering.

"I was a dispatcher," she says, "and my job was to find the people to service the plant machines."

She then became a clerk in the personnel department of the plant where she provided service to people rather than machines.

As a foreman, Miss Muse cruises the floor of the packing department several times in the course of her 4:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. shift. She makes certain the working conditions, employee morale, housekeeping and efficiency are up to par and records her employees' time and overtime.

Each day she figures "the lineup" or number of bumpers that must be packed, and she controls electronically the lines on which the bumpers ride into her department. She supervises the "RPO" or "Regular Production Option" which in the case of the automobile bumper, is the addition of a vertically-placed metal, rubber-stripped part.

The operation of her department usually runs smoothly, Beverly reports. "But if I ever get a problem I can't handle, my general foreman is always there," she said.

"Some day I think I'd like to be a general foreman," she says, "or maybe a superintendent. Or maybe go all the way," she adds, "and be a general superintendent."

Her goals reach beyond her work. Miss Muse says she would like to do more traveling and even try racing stock cars.

She says she would like to continue modeling clothes but is quick to add that she is glad to experience the challenges of being a plant foreman.

Youth Symphony, Choirs Presenting Christmas Concert

PLYMOUTH
An annual Christmas concert will open the 1973-74 concert season for the Plymouth Youth Symphony, which is now in its fifth season.
The concert will be presented at 8 p.m. on Dec. 4 in Plymouth-Salem High School Auditorium under the direction of H. Michael Endres, youth symphony director.
Groups featured with the symphony during this year's concert will be members of the Suzuki Violin Ensemble, a harp solo by sixth-grader Fred Andres and the choirs of Central and West middle schools.
Selections to be performed include "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," themes from "Nutcracker Suite," "Morning Has Broken" and "A Musical Sleigh Ride."

The combined choirs, numbering more than 100 members, will join with the 60-member symphony for such selections as "Praise Ye the Lord of Hosts," "Old St. Nick Takes a Rockin' Trip," and "Three Songs for Christmas."
This is the first time that the youth symphony has performed with the choirs. Endres said, "There is a great deal of music for choir and orchestra, and this gives a wide range of experience to the kids."
Although known as the Plymouth Youth Symphony, the group is open to anyone and presently includes students from Westland and Redford Township. Endres said the symphony is especially in need of string players.

A NEW FLAG was presented to the Plymouth Community Cultural Center by Catherine Faria and the Passage-Gayde American Legion Post in honor of all veterans and Mrs. Faria's brother, Frank Green. The new flag replaced the one originally flown since the center's dedication program a year ago. That flag was donated by Leicht family and was taken back by Kenneth Leicht (to right of flag pole) a Vietnam veteran. Presenting the flag were Ernest Koi (left center), American Legion Community Service chairman, and Bob Finley, (middle right) post commander. Accepting the flag on behalf of the city were James McKeon (left) former mayor, and William Zirblis, (right) parks and recreation director.

by
DOC KEETH
Cool heat!
No, this old square is not trying to talk in rock and roll vernacular... although the term "cool" would fit rather neatly. The subject of these brief paragraphs actually is cool heat. Heat that doesn't feel warm. Sounds stupid, eh? Well, it's not. But it does cause a bit of a problem if you don't know about it. Hence this information:
The best type of heating you can have is a Total Comfort System. It is a ducted system that continually treats the air you live in. This means the air mover is "on" all the time. It never stops. This is vital to comfort.
HOWEVER, some people are apt to call the installer and say, "Hey, Buster, this heating system is blowing cold air! What kind of a film-film are you pulling on me? There it is—cool heat. Why?"
Sometimes the air in your home does not need additional heat; it's just right as it is. But the air treating system is still cleaning, humidifying, freshening and circulating the air. The air mover is always "on". This means unheated air (air at room temperature) is coming from the air outlets in the rooms. Right near the outlet, this moving air will feel cool because of evaporation from your skin. Very natural.
If registers are properly located, you'll never feel this "cool heat" because we always located them where people do not normally stand or sit. You'll notice it only if you make a point of putting your hand or face very near the outlet. Room occupants feel Total Comfort. If the blower did not operate constantly, heat would stratify and all air treatment would stop... not good! But with constant blower operation you enjoy a perfect indoor climate.
Real cool, man! (Oops, there I go again.)

Overpass Battlers Are Determined

You can't fight city hall, says the old adage.

But the residents of Holiday Park and Deer Creek Park developments in Canton Township have proved you can even fight the state capital.

The Canton residents rose up in protest when they discovered the Joy Road overpass over I-275 proved to be so high that it created traffic and safety hazards in the area. The overpass happens to be just down the road from Fiegel Elementary School where there've been safety problems even without the overpass.

After getting township officials behind them, the Cantonnites told the State Highway Department they meant business - if they couldn't get the overpass hazards corrected, they'd stop it altogether, they said.

Then Canton filed suit asking for an injunction to halt the overpass' completion, and Deer Creek's owners also filed suit claiming the construction which blocked the apartments' entrance was making it hard to rent out the units.

State and county road officials, faced with the possibility of having the suits block construction for an indefinite time, backed down.

Before the suits were filed the road officials took an attitude saying, "We're the highway department and we'll decide what's safe or not."

But when the judge came out to look around and said, "There're definitely some problems here," road officials began to talk a little more about reaching some compromise.

So some changes were made that would insure the overpass area would be a little safer.

The point is, however, that what the highway departments (both state and country) say and what they do are two different things.

The Holiday Park and Deer Creek Park residents are to be praised for what they've accomplished so far and for keeping their guard up to make sure the highway changes are made.

Highway officials should be reminded that they will be expected to follow through on what they say - or find the area's residents may take the whole mess into the governor's office if necessary.

An 11-year-old girl was hit by a car while crossing the road at the site Monday.

Fortunately, she wasn't seriously injured but the mishap points out that what the Fiegel area residents are saying is true. Highway officials should see that foot-dragging won't solve the safety problems.

Cushion Helps

A seat cushion is designed to make you comfortable. A "safety cushion" is designed to keep you out of collisions.

A "safety cushion" is the distance you leave between your vehicle and those in front and behind. In winter you need a greater "safety cushion" between vehicles.

According to the Highway Traffic Safety Center of Michigan State University a vehicle without snow tires or chains requires from five to 10 times more stopping distance on snow or ice. Doesn't it make sense to keep your distance?

Transfers Push Salem To Sub 8 Favorite Role

This could be the "Year of the Rocks" in the Suburban Eight basketball race.

Fred Thomann's second year at Plymouth Salem could carry a tune of a championship.

Allen Park won it all last year and Redford Union the year before. These two clubs should provide the strongest opposition to Thomann's plans.

In Thomann's "rookie stint," the Rocks placed 9-5 in the loop and 15-6 overall, the lone loss outside the league coming in a district finale against Churchill.

The 1974 picture wasn't bright for Plymouth with no starters returning - losing nine seniors. But a 6-0 junior from Allen Park transferred in, a 6-2 junior guard from Trenton transferred in, a 6-3 forward from Ohio has moved in and just two weeks ago a 6-6 sophomore from Peoria, Ill. transferred into Plymouth Salem territory.

A somewhat puzzled picture has turned to the bright side.

"I think we can do it," said Thomann. "The kids are coming along and we are really excited about the season. These extra bonuses have really given us a new outlook."

"It is not everyday that a 6-9 player with tremendous potential moves into your area, to say nothing of the other three transfers," added the Salem coach.

Thomann has two half-year starters returning in 6-4 senior forward Bruce Johnson and 5-9 senior guard Rick Neu. Both saw limited action last year due to injuries.

Dave Pruett at 6-0 is another guard off last year's varsity Thomann will be counting on.

At center will be the brother of an Allen Park center that all but knocked the Rocks last year. Junior Eric

FRED THOMANN
Plymouth Salem

Senior Jeff Zeal at 6-0 and 6-2 Jim Mason will be adding bench strength to the Rock assault. From Ohio is 6-3 junior Mark Manthey and from Trenton High is transfer junior 6-2 Jim Anderson.

Mike Jones (5-10), John Maloney (6-1) and Joe Langkabel (6-3) round out the Salem card.

This card, which Thomann was more than content with,

CARL ANDREWS
Redford Union

He already has the ability to play on most varsity lineups but we feel he will gain valuable experience with the junior club first.

Salem's offense is not Thomann's concern now.

"We will be putting the ball in the hoop," he said. "It is the defense we are concerned with now along with one other important factor."

"We are missing team unity. There is a lot of outstanding talent here now but with the constant change in personnel, it is tough to keep everyone together."

Across the way, there is a team that believes it can give Salem or for that matter any other Sub Eight team a real battle for the title.

Carl Andrews' Redford Union Panthers finished 10-4 in the league last year and 17-4 overall the last two years giving Andrews a 34-8 showing in his two years at RU.

"I look for an even league," he commented. "From what I hear though, I guess Plymouth has to have the edge."

Andrews is building from last season's No. 6 man in 6-4 Glen Sander, who finished with a 10 point scoring average.

Other seniors are 5-6 Dan Baron, 5-9 Curt Montney, 6-4 Nic Mavron, 5-9 Jerry Law and 6-2 Brian Crenshaw.

Promising juniors are 6-4 Jack Helzer and two 6-6 players in Gary Kochish and Randy Aardal.

"We are going to need a great team effort," added the Panther coach. "We lack experience and will have to rely on defense, hawking the ball, and fast breaking."

"Size wise, we are bigger than the past two years but we are greener and hopefully we will be ready for the Suburban Eight by the Christmas break."

Now we come to Livonia Bentley territory.

John Farrar directed Bentley to a 15-6 showing his first year and finished 8-13 last season.

Farrar has five back from his 1972-73 squad in 6-5 Randy Little, 6-2 Eric Bracke, 6-1 Paul Veach, 6-0 Alex Charnas and 5-10 Mark Newell.

Juniors that will give him support are 6-0 forward Don Kegley who averaged 15 points a game last year on the junior varsity, 5-11 Dan Dinsmore and 6-0 guard Tom Schultz.

"I can't imagine any club smaller than us in the Eight," said Farrar who will be without his big man Tim Bollin for the first time since coming to Bentley.

"There is tremendous competition within now, more than any team I have ever had. This makes for more production out of practices and this is the sort of thing that can make a season complete."

"We will be tough to defend with balance our key word. Our question mark now is who will be putting the ball in the bucket."

"One thing is for sure this season. Bentley will be in all of the games and hopefully these one to three point decisions will go our way."

Thomann's "rookie stint," the Rocks placed 9-5 in the loop and 15-6 overall, the lone loss outside the league coming in a district finale against Churchill.

The 1974 picture wasn't bright for Plymouth with no starters returning - losing nine seniors. But a 6-0 junior from Allen Park transferred in, a 6-2 junior guard from Trenton transferred in, a 6-3 forward from Ohio has moved in and just two weeks ago a 6-6 sophomore from Peoria, Ill. transferred into Plymouth Salem territory.

A somewhat puzzled picture has turned to the bright side.

"I think we can do it," said Thomann. "The kids are coming along and we are really excited about the season. These extra bonuses have really given us a new outlook."

"It is not everyday that a 6-9 player with tremendous potential moves into your area, to say nothing of the other three transfers," added the Salem coach.

Thomann has two half-year starters returning in 6-4 senior forward Bruce Johnson and 5-9 senior guard Rick Neu. Both saw limited action last year due to injuries.

Dave Pruett at 6-0 is another guard off last year's varsity Thomann will be counting on.

At center will be the brother of an Allen Park center that all but knocked the Rocks last year. Junior Eric

Senior Jeff Zeal at 6-0 and 6-2 Jim Mason will be adding bench strength to the Rock assault. From Ohio is 6-3 junior Mark Manthey and from Trenton High is transfer junior 6-2 Jim Anderson.

Borgess Cagers Dumped Twice In Holiday Meet

Bishop Borgess' basketball quintet found little to give thanks for in the Thanksgiving tourney at Southgate Aquinas.

Coming off a 10-11 season, Jim Brisky's crew came up with little to cheer about in the four team tourney - the lone club not to break into the win column.

Host Aquinas routed Borgess in the opener, 82-52, while U-D High got by Catholic Central. Aquinas ventured forth to win the tourney while U-D tipped Borgess in the consolation, 65-49.

"We can really chalk these two up to experience," commented Brisky whose Spartans finished 2-2 last year in the tourney which was then eight teams. "This gave us a real taste of what we are in for. Our lack of height is going to make us go out on the attack."

A 17 per cent field goal mark in the second quarter all but decided Borgess fate against Aquinas. After trailing only by six after one quarter, Borgess popped in only three buckets in the second quarter and fell behind at the half, 44-27.

Aquinas upped it to 61-38 at the end of three quarters and outscored the Spartans, 21-14, in the last period.

Borgess finished with 31 per cent from the floor compared to Aquinas' 29 of 57 for 51 per cent. Free throw shooting saw Aquinas hit on 24 of 36 and Borgess made good on 12 of 24.

Brisky picked up some of the pieces against U-D but it was again shooting that led to defeat.

U-D hit on 27 of 61 for 44 per cent and Borgess only 18 of 54 for 33 per cent.

Greg Dryden's 10 points got Borgess off to an 18-15 first quarter lead over U-D but foul trouble took its toll. Tom Bulger at 6-2 and Jim Pierce at 6-2 picked up their third fouls, Borgess' attack was gone and U-D jumped to a 30-26 lead at the half.

The two forwards fouled out early in the fourth. Borgess found itself outscored, 21-11, in the third quarter and 14-12 in the final.

The one plus sign in the Borgess assault was the rebounding department which it captured by a 38-36 margin. Dryden hauling in 11 and Mike Milosch 10.

Now comes the Catholic Double A opener against Shrine this Friday. Shrine won its season opener over Bishop Foley, 72-55. Brisky, whose Spartans fell twice to Shrine last year, is hoping for a turnaround.

Area Wrestling Coverage Set For Expansion

There will be a new flavor in the Observer coverage of the 1973-74 prep wrestling card.

To complement the match and invitational stories will be weekly team ratings along with individual ratings. Sports Editor Tom Donoghue will meet every week with three coaches who will be responsible for three separate areas in Observerland.

Thurston High Coach Jim Copp will be handling Redford Union, Southfield, Southfield Lathrup, Bishop Borgess and Bentley along with his Eagle squad. North Farmington head mentor Jim O'Leary will be responsible for talent information out of Farmington, Harrison, Clarenceville, Stevenson, Franklin and his Raider squad.

John Glenn Coach Bob Lusk, considered the "Dean" of area wrestling coaches, will head up the Churchill, Plymouth Canton, Plymouth Salem, Garden City West, Garden City East and his Glenn Rocket area.

RO St. Mary Nips St. Agatha, 57-52

A 34 per cent shooting mark from the free-throw took its toll on St. Agatha.

The Aggies hit on eight of 23 charity tosses and let a 34-30 halftime margin slip away to a 57-52 defeat at the hands of Royal Oak St. Mary.

Royal Oak led after one quarter, 18-17. St. Agatha fought back to take the lead on a bucket by Larry Lapalm and a 34-30 advantage into the locker room at the half.

An eight point spread quickly vanished in the third to a slim 44-43 edge.

St. Marys went on to outscore St. Agatha, 14-8, in the final stanza. With seven seconds remaining and the Aggies trailing 54-52, Mike Rex was blocked out on a layup attempt, the ball was turned over and St. Marys made good use of a bucket and free-throw to seal victory.

LaPalm, a 6-2 junior, was high man for St. Agatha with nine field goals and three of five from the line for 21 points.

Trojans Looking Fresh

Bob Wolfe has taken on the challenge of varsity basketball at Clarenceville High.

The 1973-74 campaign will be season No. 1 for Wolf, who has coached junior varsity basketball and is the Trojan golf coach.

Ralph Weddle stepped down from basketball to concentrate on his football coaching assignment and Wolf is now faced with a picking up the pieces from a 4-15 season.

"It is going to be a real challenge," commented Wolf. "I first have to break a lot of previous thinking around here - basketball wise. I have to instill into the kids the idea of winning basketball."

"Hopefully I can get basketball on a positive level here at Clarenceville."

Wolf has two returning starters in Brian Luka and Tim McCammon. Both are seniors and Luka at 6-3 and McCammon at 5-11 will be the key to a successful campaign.

Another letterman is 5-11 junior Rick Beyer.

Up from the Trojan junior varsity are seniors Bill VanDike at 5-10 and Clark Burt at 6-3 and juniors Tony Phillips at 5-10 and 6-0 Brian Hester.

"We are going to try for a total team picture and get away from individual performances," added Wolf. "Experience and how fast we can obtain it will be our key to success."

The positive points in the Trojan program according to Wolf are hustle and desire.

"Our negative factors have to be the league we play in and our lack of a big man," added the Trojan coach.

Clarenceville, which was winless in the Wayne-Oakland League last year, will be moving out of the loop in two years. But for now it will have to put up with Class A schools in Milford and defending champion Waterford Kettering.

The Trojans are the lone Class B school in Wayne-Oakland.

"We are hoping to surprise a few teams and rattle a few bones this year," said Wolf. "We will be going to the fast break and team play and hopefully instill basic fundamental play in the kids."

Churchill Hopes Are High

Observerland will boast one contender and two probable spoilers in the Western Six basketball race.

Defending league champion Churchill has the green light on for a successful repeat with Waterford Mott and Northville picked to give the Chargers a real battle.

Meanwhile Farmington Harrison and first year Plymouth Canton will be out to gain experience and hopefully play a role in the race...if nothing else, in the spoilers role.

"I see us as a pretty good ball club," stated Churchill head mentor Pat Montagano whose Chargers reeled off a

Western Six

19-4 mark last year and advanced farther than any club in the area in state tourney action.

Churchill fell to Detroit Murray - Wright in a regional finale, 83-47.

"It looks like Mott, Northville and us for the league race," added Montagano who was also selected coach - of the - year for the 1972-73 season.

Montagano's No. 1 Charger has to be his 6-7, 225 pound center - Don Braun, who averaged nine points and 16 rebounds per game last year as a junior.

"Don is our real horse and it will be him that will carry us through our first few games of experience," added the Churchill coach.

Don Forest at 6-5 and Ken Landini at 6-2 will be the forward strength with 6-3 Matt Foster showing promise in pushing the two. The guard lineup has 6-2 Rich VanWagoner, 5-9 Chuck Wayne and 6-1 Brian Kelly in control with 6-2 Al Leirstein ready to break into a starting role.

"If Landini, VanWagoner and Braun can carry us through the first four or five games, we will follow through," added Montagano who is in season No. 6 and has sported a 31-12 mark the last two years.

"Size has to be a plus factor for us," added Montagano. "Landini at only 6-2 can jump like a 6-5 center."

Churchill's bench strength will be covered by 6-3 Jay Nelson, 6-2 Mark Roncoli and 6-1 sophomore Mike Streicher.

Lack of experience is what will work against Churchill along with a complete new style of basketball.

"We are a more discipline ball club and will have five good players on the court, all capable of scoring. We will not be relying on just three to put it in the hoop."

"We are out to match last year's mark," concluded Montagano.

Over at Farmington Harrison, Coach Bob Sutter has not thrown out the white flag yet but realizes that it could be a long season for his Hawks.

"We are young and inexperienced and the 1973-74 season will simply be a rebuilding one," said Sutter. "But we will be out to upset some people league contention and play the role of a spoiler."

Sutter has no lettermen returning.

His one returning starter 6-1 forward Dave Cleary recently transferred to Catholic Central.

Bob French, off a knee injury last year, at 6-1 is expected to handle the quarter-backing chores at guard with 6-1 sophomore Mike Styles, a transfer from San Antonio, Texas at the other guard.

Bob Mason, at 6-4 will handle the center chores and these three will be the key to the Hawk attack which finished 14-8 last year.

Other hopefuls in Sutter's attack will be 5-11 senior guard Bob Kingsbury, 5-8 junior guard Paul Wick, 5-10 junior guard Tom Uphoff and 5-11 forward sophomore Jeff Otto.

The "baby" of the Western Six will be Plymouth Canton, minus a senior class. The Chiefs saw what happened in football competition and things don't look much brighter for them on the court. Canton was 0-5 in the Six football race.

Varsity coach for the Chiefs is Casey Cavell whose junior varsity club finished 9-2 last year.

Eight are back off that club in 6-2 forward Ron Lack, 6-1 guard Tom Close, 6-0 guard Brian Stemmerger, 5-11 guard Scott Dunagan, 5-10 guard Kim Hammonds, 6-3 Rick Thom and 6-2 Don Lloyd.

Dave Edwards is No. 8 on that list but will be out until after Christmas nursing a torn rib cartilage.

"We are a well balanced team," said Cavell. "Everyone of the top nine is capable of scoring 10 to 12 points a game."

"We have just as good talent as anyone else in the league but are missing that thing called experience."

"If we can finish close to .500 ball we will be happy," finished Cavell.

Lathrup Hoping To Defend Title

Southfield Lathrup did it all last year in the rookie season of the Met Suburban basketball conference.

Lathrup Coach Jim Kourtakis sees a lot tougher road this time around.

"The Met is going to be a strong, well-balanced league this year," said Kourtakis whose Chargers dashed away with first year honors with a 10-0 mark and finished 20-2 overall. "The weak clubs of last year have everyone back."

The 1972-73 campaign opened with an 84-44 victory over Lake Orion and then a loss to Berkley, 70-54. What followed was 18 straight victories ... a perfect 10-0 Met League mark and then Berkley.

Berkley tipped Lathrup in a district finale, 60-58.

Kourtakis is the first to admit he doesn't have a Bob Malaby to lead his Chargers this year. His 6-0, 155 pound All-Observer star paced all scorers in the area with a 23.5 average.

Malaby is gone via graduation but Kourtakis knows he has another superstar in 6-8, 205 pound John Gardner.

The senior All-Leaguer was the No. 2 rebounder in Observerland last season, hauling in rebounds at a 15.2 per game clip and finished with a 13 per game scoring average.

"John has to be the key to our success in defending the Met crown," added the Lathrup coach who is in his sixth season. "His inside game is much improved and he is just an all-around aggressive player."

"Our front men are going to just have to get him the ball."

Gardner is the solo returning starter back in the Lathrup lineup. He will be aided by three returning lettermen in guards Jim Ballantyne, Scott Sperlich and Larry Harwood, all checking in at 5-9.

Junior hopefuls in Kourtakis' attack will be 6-1 Ron Silberstein, 6-3 Jim Bacinski, 6-1 John Harding, 6-1 Rick Gorosh and 5-10 Tom Hart.

Silberstein and Hart are the two leading scorers from last year's Lathrup junior varsity crew, which finished 10-10.

"Working with just one starter is going to take us a while to mesh together," added Kourtakis. "I have to hope for a few wins before the holidays, by then we should be set."

Lathrup appears to have its work cut out in defending the Met crown.

Glenn, Franklin Are Ready For Showdown

Early signs point to the Northwest Suburban basketball race as a two-way struggle.

Livonia Franklin and Westland John Glenn, who battled it out the last two years, will be at it again.

A three-point play in the closing seconds has decided the Northwest title between the two clubs the past two seasons, Franklin winning it, 55-52, in the 1971-72 season over Glenn and Glenn taking it, 56-55, last year.

Oak Park has to be the next probable contender in the Northwest with North Farmington, Thurston and Garden City East bringing up the rear.

The Glenn Rockets are coming off their first league title and an 18-4 showing. They will be sporting three returning starters in 6-4 senior center Brian Kalumy, 6-1 senior guard Jim Kholiman and 6-4 senior forward Jeff Brittain.

"These three are the real heart of the club," commented Glenn Coach Gordon Davis who is ready to tackle his sixth season, boasting a 51-37 overall record.

The Rockets also have returning their '72 No. 6 man in 6-3 junior Terry Johnson. At a guard slot will be a 5-10 junior Harry Polobino who averaged 17.5 points last season on junior varsity.

Davis has extra strength in 6-2 junior John Jesson and 6-2 senior George Todoroff. "We are not real big but we do have good balance," added the Rocket mentor. "Our key will be to function as a team. We have better than average speed but might encounter problems with the big clubs."

"I would have to say that man - for - man we have better balance than last year's squad. We don't have a Carlington around - just five good solid ball players."

"I see the race between us Franklin and Oak Park. We are solid. I am optimistic and we have the feeling of winning."

Glenn will be in its first full 20 game schedule this year. The Rockets who have played only 18 the past seasons, dropped a home and away match with Brighton and have added Southgate, Melvindale, Taylor Truman and Farmington.

Then there is Franklin power and Coach Bob Visser is more than hoping for a carry over from football season where the Patriots won their first title in 10 years.

The Patriots are coming off a 15-9 season and it will also be season No. 6 for Visser who boasts a 47-49 overall showing, 36-24 the last three years.

"Things are taking shape

KEVIN KASETTA
Franklin's No. 1 Hope

and blending together," commented Visser. "We have a different type of club than last year and are ahead now with experience."

Visser's No. 1 performer and possibly tops in the area is 6-8, 195 pound Kevin Kasetta. The All-Northwest, All-Observer, and honorable mention All-Stater hit at a 48 per cent average from the floor, scored a 19.2 scoring average and averaged 14 rebounds per game last year as a junior.

Jamie Knapp is Visser's second returning starter. The 6-1 senior averaged 12 points per game last season. Knapp and Kasetta will be co-captains.

No. 3 man will be 6-8, 180 pound senior forward Keith Blazaitis with 6-0 Dan Christner, 5-11 Jim Baigrie and 5-11 Ken Fry rounding out the starting rotation.

Promising juniors are Rick Gibson (6-5), Tim Newman (6-0), Joe Pollard (5-8), JoJo Scarpace (5-8) and Rick Vartasian (6-1). Visser is also high on sophomore Sam Williams at 6-2.

Matt DeMars, a 6-0 192 pound senior will be the quarterback, Franklin's point man.

"John Glenn is the team to beat," commented Visser. "We have a score to settle with them."

Visser and his Patriots won't have long to wait. After opening non-leaguers with Wayne and Plymouth Salem, Franklin opens Northwest play home against Glenn on Dec. 7.

Ken Dean's North Farmington Raiders will be back from an 11-10 season. It was a year where they finished 5-5 in the Northwest, losing twice to both Glenn and Franklin - that's four defeats and all by a total of 11 points.

The Raider head mentor who has two returning starters sees this season as a rough road to stay on.

"We are going to have to

get our opponents to play on our level," said the Raider coach who is starting his fourth season with a 28-31 showing. "We won't be able to battle it out all the way with all teams."

The heart of Dean's card will be 6-3 senior Jim Fredricks and 6-1 senior Mike Daley. His senior roster will be rounded out by 5-11 Mike Bancroft, 6-3 Dennis McCrary, 5-11 John Creighton and 5-11 Ed Garneau.

Three juniors who could see a lot of playing time are Bob Petak (6-1), Tom Moore (6-1) and Mike Soldan (6-0).

"It is going to be a run-and-scrabble season for us," added Dean. "We will have to make up with hustle in what we lack in size."

Over at Garden City East, Billy Joe Young has one returning starter in 5-10 Bob Bills and he started only two games in the Panthers 9-12 season.

The only other returning letterman is 6-2 forward Tim Gilligan. Up from junior varsity are 6-4 Mike Loacano, 6-0 Roy Hale and 5-7 Jim Peter.

Three sophomores in contention for Young's starting lineup are 6-3 Chris Wysocki, 6-3 Greg Emery and 6-1 Jim Riley. Rounding out the East squad are 6-1 Paul Soya, 5-8 Ron Zonca and 5-9 junior Roger Barsamian.

"This is the most inexperienced ball club I have ever had," said Young now in his 13th season at East with a 208-97 record. "We are not big but we do have some talent here."

"On paper we should finish on the bottom of the Northwest but I think we won't play that way."

A Thurston club which finished 6-17 under first year coach Dan Bennett will have two returning starters in 6-0 senior guard Kurt Beadle and 5-11 senior guard John Roy.

Four key juniors up from the junior varsity in Bennett's plans are 6-4 Gary Birreta, 6-1 Rick Fernandes, 6-2 Dave Polidori and 6-0 Dan Spillard.

"We have more depth than last year but the boards will again be a question mark," said the Eagle coach, who has Cory Rodriguez and Jim Fazzini to fill in.

"We are hoping for team play but speed is a question mark now with a lot of other things."

Height Should Push West Tigers To Top

For most prep basketball squads, the season opens this week and wraps up in early March.

Garden City West is not among that "most."

Chris Babler's West Tigers must make it early or not make it at all.

"We have to find the right combination quick," commented Babler whose crew is hoping to bounce back from an 11-10 season. "These first few weeks could very well tell our season story."

Most area clubs play in three or four games before the Christmas holiday break with coaches getting a real look and opportunity to make changes before the heart of the season is upon them.

The heart of West's season is now.

In the next three weeks, West plays over a third of its schedule, seven games in a matter of 21 days. Two are Tri-River league clashes and five non-leaguers.

The five non-leaguers are against definite contenders in their respective leagues in Wayne, Westland John Glenn, Ann Arbor Pioneer, Brother Rice and Livonia Franklin.

Tri-River

Cherry Hill and Taylor Kennedy are the two league foes slated before the holiday break.

This is season No. 7 for Babler who has finished three times in first and three times second. Basketball at West is just not a losing sport.

Babler has compiled an 87-31 mark in the six years, winning the crown in '68-'69 and '70 seasons.

His 1970-71 club, Rick Drewitz and Co., was the last to win the Tri-River and advanced to the state semi-finals before bowing to Pontiac Central, 84-79.

The last two seasons it has been 11-6 and 11-10.

Babler is ready for another winning season and has the talent for it.

"This will be the tallest club I have ever coached," commented the Tiger mentor. "And our defense is going to be stronger than most."

The always Tri-River contender has two returning starters in Ken Kinsvater and Paul Tatso.

Kinsvater at 6-6 is ready to start year No. 3 in a Tiger starting uniform and Tatso at 6-1 are West co-captains.

Kinsvater averaged 11.2 and Tatso 7.2 points for West last season.

Other returning lettermen are 6-3 senior Paul Collins, 6-1 senior Scott Chidenster and 6-3 junior Jay Gooch who was sixth man last season as a sophomore.

Babler's already tall lineup was given a real shot in the arm when 6-7 senior Bob Pease transferred in from Westside High School of Greer, S.C., Arkansas.

West will also be sporting a 6-5 junior in Randy Shelly who averaged 18.5 on the Tiger junior varsity club last year and a 6-3 sophomore Dave Niles.

"All signs point to the Tri-River being a battle between Cherry Hill and ourselves," added the West coach. "But those quick seven games before Christmas have me worried."

Another aspect that has Babler worried is the foul department. "Our bench will have to help out when we get in foul trouble," he said.

Cherry Hill, with four transfers from Detroit, and West have to be favored to knock off defending champion Schafer.

"I can see a 12-2 record or maybe even a 13-1 showing taking the Tri-River," concluded Babler.

The question of just how good his tall Tiger crew is will quickly be answered against Wayne, John Glenn, Pioneer, Cherry Hill, Brother Rice, Kennedy and Franklin.

Huskies The Ones To Catch

This could be the year of the Huskies in the Inter-Lakes basketball race.

Pontiac Northern, with seven returning starters, has to be the favored club to capture top billing in the five team league but the Huskies could find a thorn in Stevenson High.

George Van Wagoner's Spartans, who finished 12-9 last year knocked off Northern 66-59, in the regular season finale last season.

"Sure Pontiac will be strong and the team to beat," commented Van Wagoner. "But we came on at the end of last year, knocked them off and we will also be a much improved team."

Van Wagoner's team has to be loaded with question marks in that he has only one returning starter and one other returning letterman.

Ray Davis at 5-11 is the solo starter returning with an eight point scoring average with 6-1 forward Dave Link the only other letter winner back.

The rest of the squad is composed of Gary Beyrand (6-0), John Bowlby (6-1), Joe Centers (6-4), John Dolan (6-1), Keith Emerson (6-3), Dave Galindo (5-10), Jim Gilland (5-9), Dave Haberman (a 6-4 sophomore), George Herman (6-2), Joe Isanhart (6-5), Jim Mikula (6-3) and Bob Toth (5-8).

"We have a good crop up from a 14-4 junior varsity team that also won the Christmas Tournament," added the Stevenson coach. "We may surprise a lot of people."

"The key has to be as to how fast we gain experience. If real hustle can win it, we will be in it."

Van Wagoner's one concern has to be his club's free-throw shooting, along with shooting from the floor.

"Last year we hit on only 54 per cent from the free throw line," added the Spartan coach. "We hit 34 per cent from the floor. If we hit 60 per cent from the line and 40 from the field we would have won the league."

This will be Van Wagoner's 22nd year of basketball coaching, seventh for Stevenson. He has compiled a 292-132 mark and set his sights on No. 300 with hopes it comes early in the campaign.

The other Observerland talent in the Inter-Lakes besides Stevenson is Farmington.

The Falcons stumbled to a 3-18 mark last year under first year Coach Bruce Brown. It was a tough situation for Brown, attempting to change an entire program and get it back on its feet on one year.

"We will be competitive this season," vows Brown. "I can see us breaking the .500 mark and we will not get embarrassed this time around like last. Things should be much more aggressive around here."

Farmington's two starting guards will be 6-0 senior Bob Drake and 5-8 senior Jeff Herman. At center will be 6-3 senior Larry Cavins with 6-2 Al Bylski and 6-2 Don Hunt filling out the five starters.

Brown's prospective juniors up from junior varsity include 5-10 guard Mark Schultz, 6-1 Dave Tyler and 6-1 Mitch Thomas who averaged 15 points per game last year.

"Our goal is to improve on defense."

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

From all indications the battle for the championship of the early winter pacing sessions at the Jackson-Northville meeting will go down to the $10,000 finale without a distinct favorite.

For a while it appeared as if Zephers Q and Michigan Mack would have the qualifiers to themselves and then stage a duel on the final night. That's far from the story now, especially since Sammy Key has become a standout favorite after winning two consecutive legs.

Sammy took the show away from the two Michigan contenders with rather easy victories in each of the past two legs. It won handily last Saturday, with Tom Harmer in the sulky, in 2:10.3 over racing strip that couldn't be rated any better than slow after day long showers.

The strange thing is that neither Zephers Q nor Michigan Mack was among the top three. The former wound up fourth and Mack fifth as Easy Tom duelled with Sammy Key for the win with Shiaway Doctor third.

It will be interesting to see what happens in the next three legs. Thus far, Zephers Q has won twice, Michigan Mack once, Sammy Key twice and Jed McClure once.

Still among the contenders and ready to break loose at any time are such speedy ones as Tricky Dale, Apparition Hal, Tiger Jet and Steve N.Z.

It could be that Leon Slavin, president and general manager of Jackson, will be able to present one of the finest races of the entire year on the final Saturday of 1973.

Interest is building up each week in the series, especially since there isn't any such thing as a heavy favorite. Perhaps the finale will match as many as six or seven winners of qualifiers...and that would be a fitting climax to one of harness racing's best years in Michigan.

WAGERING HAS BEEN at a high level at the meeting ever since the break when Windsor was closed down for almost a week by a strike of horsemen over use of the controversial single shaft sulky.

Those who follow the paces and trotters closely discovered facilities at Northville Downs are excellent, with the exception of lack of parking space, and easily accessible.

The result has been better than ever racing at the half-mile track, larger crowds and near record wagering.

The Downs handled $391,125 Saturday...very good for this time of year.

ON THE OTHER SIDE of town at Hazel Park, track officials are anxiously awaiting the anticipated announcement from Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley of the thoroughbred dates for 1974.

It is believed Shirley will make the allotments known to the public since the racing act provides he must announce the dates for the runners by Dec. 1. Look for each track to receive the maximum of 120 days as requested.

Then comes the even bigger question of what he'll do with the standardbred dates. All track managements are wondering if Shirley will cut off summer dates to Northville Downs and give back-to-back allotments to Hazel Park and Wolverine.

From the recent Grand Circuit meeting in Columbus comes announcement of the spring and fall meetings at Hazel Park and Wolverine. The former has received early June and the latter early September dates.

THE MANAGEMENT at the Hazel Park runners isn't complaining about the progress of its early winter meeting but there is a reason to believe that business isn't as good as expected.

For the second Saturday in as many weeks, wagering failed to come close to the anticipated million that is needed to keep the daily average where needed to crack the nut...which means making ends meet.

Rain and a slightly chilly afternoon held attendance down to less than 8,000 with the result the wagering totaled $819,356.

But when considered that isn't too bad on an afternoon that included direct competition from the Michigan-Ohio State football game.

Northville Downs Hosting Lottery Draw Tomorrow

Contestants in next Thursday's lottery super drawing may get a bit cold, but they'll have a check for at least $10,000 to keep them warm.

The Nov. 29 Lottery drawing will be held at Northville Downs race track at 9:30 a.m. The audience will keep warm in the heated, glassed-in grandstand. The super drawing contestants will participate on stage outside on the racetrack itself but heaters are being provided to warm them up.

The Lottery Bureau's mobile drawing unit will be utilized for the proceedings - the first drawing at a state race track.

State Racing Commissioner Leo C. Shirley will be on hand, as well as other local dignitaries including Sen. Carl Pursell, Rep. Clifford Smart and Robert Geake.

Shirley's office provides the Lottery Bureau with certified horse racing results used to generate the weekly winning numbers.

Three bonus numbers will be drawn, and tickets matching two of the three bonus numbers will win a $2,000 gift certificate redeemable at any lottery ticket sales outlet in the state.

As an extra-added attraction for those attending the Northville drawing, the Bureau will also award 10 one-year "Chance of a Lifetime Club" memberships as door prizes.

Winners will receive the equivalent of one free ticket in 52 subsequent weekly drawings. "Chance of a Lifetime Club" applications will be available at the 8,000 sales agent locations around the state within the next few weeks.

How Felician Sisters Came To U.S. 100 Years Ago

By early afternoon on Wednesday, Nov. 21, more than 500 Felician sisters from three states had gathered at the Motherhouse Chapel on the grounds of Madonna College in Livonia.

They were there for a special thanksgiving mass to initiate the year-long celebration of their 100 years in North America.

Appropriately, the service, which Provincial Superior Mother Mary Columbine called "a family homecoming," was held Thanksgiving eve.

In November 1874, the first five Felician sisters arrived in the United States from Poland. They had been sent by the community's founder, Mother Mary Angela of Warsaw.

The five — Mother Mary Monica, Sister Mary Cajetan, Sister Mary Wenceslaus, Sister Mary Vincentine and Sister Mary Raphael — came at the request of Joseph Dabrowski, pastor of Sacred Heart Church.

They settled in Polonia, Wisc. to work with the Polish immigrants. They were soon involved in teaching adults, children and Indians, in child care, care of the sick and the abandoned.

Many more requests followed the first from Father Dabrowski. They came from as far away as New England. In 1882, the first provincial motherhouse was moved from Wisconsin to a more central location, Detroit. In 1936, it was moved again, from St. Aubin and Canfield in Detroit to Schoolcraft and Levan in Livonia.

In the meantime, six other provinces had been formed with vice provinces in Ontario and Brazil. Now, instead of five, there are some 3,400 Felician sisters involved in all kinds of service — teaching, social work, nursing, school, hospital and agency administration.

Mother Columbine describes the service: "We are strictly dedicated to the needs of the community in which we live and the country."

The mass celebration in Livonia was a family homecoming, for each of the sisters had called the Livonia Motherhouse home before being sent to one of 57 places to work.

These include: St. Mary Hospital, 46 elementary schools, two consolidated elementary schools, five high schools, seven central high schools, Madonna College, two fulltime confraternity centers, 37 parish religious classes, 14 mission centers, a home for dependent children in Jackson and a home for the aged in Saginaw.

Geographically this province includes the Archdiocese of Detroit and eight dioceses, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Marquette, Lansing, Kalamazoo, Gaylord, Toledo, Ohio and Fort Wayne, Ind.

Last week's mass marking the opening of the centennial year was purely a family celebration. Principal celebrant was the Most Rev. Arthur H. Krawczak of Ascension Church, Warren. A 69 member sisters choir led the congregation in the liturgy. It was followed by a meal and a get-together.

Mother Columbine called it "a big day for us."

She says there will be celebrations next year in Livonia and other communities in the province that will be open to friends and the general public.

To commemorate the centenary of American service, Sister Mary Elicious recently completed a wall mosaic for the motherhouse. Sister Elicious, formerly on the Madonna College faculty, is instructor in fine arts at Central High School in Jackson.

She describes mosaic as, "a happy media," and her design of traditional Christian and Felician Order symbols as "sort of cubistic — old thought in new clothes."

There are also display cases of memorabilia of the history and early years of the Felician Sisters in America — the bronze bells used to summon the sisters to prayers, a metal cross which hung on a chain outside the front door, dishes used 100 years ago, the original constitution of the new community, pictures and letters from the founder and the original assignment book for the five who went to Wisconsin.

The Livonia motherhouse, built in 1936, is now part of a complex which includes Madonna College, Ladywood High School, St. Mary Hospital and Maria Nursery.

MOTHER COLUMBINE (left) and Sister Elicious, artist of the commemorative mosaic panel, discuss the symbolism of the work. The colorful design is done in Venetian tile. The brilliant sun represents God. Directly below is the Immaculate Heart of Mary through which the Felician Sisters have given all their love in prayer and worship in their 100 years in America.

THE 69 MEMBER CHOIR was made up of sisters from various areas of the province.

Those in the white habits are nursing Sisters from St. Mary Hospital.

21 ways to conserve fuel and money in your home.

The energy shortage in Michigan is for real.

Our supply of heating fuel will be less this year, and we must take steps to make it last all winter. If we each cut back just a little, there should be sufficient energy for everyone.

Things you can do that don't cost money:

1. Turn down your thermostat 2 degrees every other day, until you find the least temperature at which you can be comfortable. (You may be surprised to find that it is below 70 degrees.)
2. Turn down your thermostat at night (and during the day also if everyone is away all day).
3. Close doors and turn off heat to unused areas of home.
4. Close drapes and pull shades at night.
5. Change furnace air filter at least once a month to maintain efficiency.
6. "Balance" system by regulating heat directed to each room (to eliminate a waste of heat in "hot" areas of home).
7. Open shades and drapes on sunny days.
8. Do not hold open outside doors for conversation.
9. Clear all obstructions away from registers and grilles, such as drapes, rugs, chairs, etc., which would restrict air movement.
10. Close fireplace damper when not in use.
11. Turn down your thermostat when away for the weekend or on vacation.
12. Wear heavier clothing at home.

Things you can do that will cost money now, but will more than pay for themselves later:

13. Have heating equipment checked, cleaned, and adjusted for top efficiency by a qualified serviceman.
14. Add insulation in ceiling and walls.
15. Add storm windows and storm doors to your home.
16. Caulk cracks around window and door frames, or any other small openings to the outside.
17. Add a humidifier. Extra humidity brings a feeling of warmth at a lower temperature.
18. Add weather-stripping around doors and windows.
19. Insulate heating pipes or ducts where they run through unheated attics or crawl spaces.
20. Modernize old heating system by replacement with newer, more efficient equipment.
21. Add a clock-thermostat to adjust your heat automatically.

Some special conservation practices for use in commercial and public buildings:

- Turn down temperature in lobbies and other public places.
- Schedule evening meetings into a single heated zone of larger buildings.
- Operate ventilation to the outside on a timed schedule instead of continuously.
- Open blinds and drapes on sunny days.
- Install automatic door closers.
- Control heat by zones, and turn down heat to unused areas.
- Use partitions to isolate areas open to the outside (shipping area with open doors, etc.).

Some estimates of how much you might save on your heating budget:

Whether you heat with gas, fuel oil, or electricity, heating experts estimate that you may be able to save anywhere from 10% to 50% on your present heating efficiency.

INDIAN TRIBES were introduced to the audience by Varky Tadian (center). Paul Mills, (left), furnished the accompanying drum beat. Samples of Indian pottery and basket weaving are displayed in the foreground and a map showing tribal areas in pastel is in the background.

A DEMONSTRATION of Indian weaving techniques is given by Geer school student, Vikki Hargrave. Among the things the youngsters found out in their study of American Indians is that the women always did the weaving.

Geer's Students Act Like Indians

By CORINNE ABATT

PLYMOUTH
The 46 youngsters in the two-room Geer school on Ann Arbor Road are acting like a bunch of Indians.

Nobody is enjoying it more than teachers, Mrs. Rita McClumpha and Mrs. Mary Lou Horwood.

As a tribute to the real founders of the American Thanksgiving, the Geer kids gave a program on American Indians for 180 parents and friends last week.

It climaxed a study of Indians which included customs, crafts, history and a trip to the Detroit Institute of Arts to see the display of Indian rugs and blankets.

The students were divided into groups such as plains Indians, desert dwellers, farmers, seed gatherers. They arranged themselves before the audience in the shape of the United States, seed gatherers in the southwest — each group in the appropriate location.

An understanding of the varied Indian cultures came through the songs which the youngsters sang. One about the beauty of Indian names mentions some familiar ones—Saginaw, Pontiac, Washtenaw, Ispeming, Mackinac, Chippewa, Huron and of course, Michigan.

They sang about ghost dances and medicine dances, girls grinding corn on a flat rock, hunting elk and "a paddle keen and bright."

Mothers put the costumes together from natural colored burlap and students decorated them appropriately, designs and style characteristic of the tribe.

The crafts made a big impression on the Geer Indians. They talked readily about their newly acquired knowledge.

"In weaving," said Sara Powe, "Indians always made one 'mistake,' they thought it brought bad luck to make a perfect piece."

Stacy Post thought of another bad luck omen, "Indians made pictures in sand, but they would erase them because they thought it was bad luck to leave them overnight."

Sombody else remembered that when the Navahos wanted wool for blankets they would steal sheep from the Spaniards.

Varky Tabian reminded his friends that the Navahos who were late in organizing as a unit made blankets for other tribes.

Rick Van Dyke remembered that Navaho designs started with stripes and progressed from squares to diamonds and other geometric shapes.

The girls were interested in the role of Indian women in the life of the tribe.

Several like Jane Warren wanted everybody to know that the women did all the work around the home. They always did all the weaving, too, someone else mentioned.

"The Pueblo Indians taught the Navahos to weave," David Donahue

THE HOLIDAYS were officially ushered in for the Plymouth Community Friday night at the Christmas Tree lighting ceremonies in Kellogg Park. Township Supervisor J.D. McLaren and Plymouth Mayor Beverly McAninch threw the switch to light the tree. On money.

If you'll deposit $1000 or more in a Certificate Savings Account for just one year, you'll earn 6½% annual interest, paid and compounded quarterly.*

And that's a bargain. That means you no longer have to tie up your funds for a long period of time to earn high interest on your savings. In fact, 6½% annual interest yields an effective annual rate of 6.66%.

So ask yourself this: At times like these, when it seems like every day you're getting a little less for your money... shouldn't you take advantage of a savings program that offers you so much?

Whoever thought money would be a bargain?

"A LIFE SAVER" is how John Modozski, the first patient, described the Plymouth Rotary Club's kidney machine unit opened in St. Mary Hospital. On hand for the opening were Sister Mary Calasantia, executive director of the hospital (left) Modozski, the patient, Mrs. Carol Bielicki, the nurse in charge, and Kal Jabara, president of the Plymouth Rotary Club.

Rotary Is Donor St. Mary Given Kidney Machine

LIVONIA The first section of the Plymouth Rotary Club's kidney machine unit at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia was opened officially this week. The unit was opened with one machine and another will be added not later than next March, the gift being part of the Rotary Club's Golden Jubilee observance.

Kal Jabara, Rotary president, greeted the first patient, John Modozski, who told Jabara that the machine "is a life saver to me."

When the unit is completed it will be in a special section of the third floor and will include three rooms. It will be one of the most modern kidney units in any hospital in the state.

"We are very grateful for this gift," Sister Mary Calasantia stated, "as it fills a much needed gap in our service to the entire area."

During the opening moments of the official start the patient, Modozski, stated that had it not been for a kidney machine he would have died some time ago.

"Because of these machines," he said, "my life not only was spared, but I have progressed to the point where I now can enjoy bowling again."

Each patient now spends three sessions of five hours a week during the treatment.

In arranging for the second machine, the Rotary Club has invited the general public to take part in making the complete unit possible. Contributions should be sent to the Plymouth Rotary Club, Plymouth.

Wayne County officials are looking into an Observerland citizens group's charges of mismanagement and inadequacies at a county-operated tuberculosis clinic at 3126 Park in inner Detroit's "Cass Corridor."

The citizens, who call themselves the "Park Avenue Auxiliary," presented their charges at a special recent meeting of the human resources committee of the County Board of Commissioners.

The group consists of residents of the Livonia - Northville - Novi area who became active in the Cass Corridor last summer after county officials urged citizen participation in a "war on hunger" in Wayne County.

The Park Avenue clinic was established several years ago to screen indigents and others in the area for possible TB and to see that those found to be TB carriers are given treatment under the county respiratory disease program.

The citizens group charged that the screening program has been largely ineffective and called for a concerted "out-reach" effort to detect TB cases.

The group also charged that the clinic's performance statistics do not jibe with the clinic budget established by the Board of Commissioners.

Vince Smith, of Northville, a group spokesman, said that an "exhaustive" study by the group concluded there was "possible fraud and, at the very least, gross mismanagement" in the operation of the clinic.

John S. Stock, acting director of the County Health Department, disagreed with that "rather extreme" conclusion. But he said he did agree that the program needs improvement through more "out-reach" and follow-up efforts.

Stock said he believed the apparent discrepancies and its budget could be explained after thorough analysis.

The citizens group also complained there is a lack of coordination between the county and the Wayne County Department of Social Services, a state agency, in caring for indigent TB patients.

The citizens group urged that $135,000 worth of additional staff be added at the clinic. They also recommended an outside audit of the clinic operation.

Members of the human resources committee recommended the group for its active concern. Committee Chairman Paul Silver promised a full investigation and said the committee would coordinate improvements at the clinic.

Commissioner Mary E. Dumas, of Livonia, a committee member in whose district most of the "Park Avenue Auxiliary" resides, praised the group and stated:

"The human resources committee has requested review of many health programs because we know there are some problems with some of them and we do want effective programs."

Silver and another committee member, Commissioner Rose Mary C. Robinson, whose district includes the Cass Corridor area, assisted the citizens group in their research.

Warm Gift Suggestions

A Cold Christmas Is In Store For Us

How are you going to keep them warm, after they've spent the last 20 years with high thermostats and cheap fuel?

Turning down the furnace to 68 degrees will definitely save fuel, as well as fuel bills this winter. But Americans are not used to cooler household temperatures, as are their English cousins.

A few suggestions will help you and your family adjust to turning the thermostat down. First, wear a sweater in the house. With Christmas season nearly here, sweaters or flannel shirt jackets might be your choice for family gifts this year.

Remember the multi-colored afghans your mother or grandmother kept on the back of the sofa? They were in the living room where the family gathered in the evening, handy for covering laps and legs when the snow blew around the house.

Why not rediscover the fun of making your own? Big needles and fat yarn make the afghan project go quickly. Pick up the family room colors for coordinated warmth. And make one for each of the children. Or teach them to make their own.

There's nothing more depressing and uncomfortable than cold feet. A pair of knitted slippers for each member of the family can beat the low thermostat drafts.

Each pair takes one two-ounce skein of four-strand knitting yarn and four hours of knitting time.

For the men's size: Using two strands of yarn (knit double) cast 29 stitches on No. 11 needles. Knit first row across. For second row, K9, P1, K9, P1, K9. Repeat these two rows until you have 14 ridges. For the next eight rows, K1, P1 across. For two rows knit two together all the way across. Leaving about 12 inches of yarn for sewing, cut yarn. Thread yarn on large darning needle and pick up stitches remaining on knitting needle.

Remove stitches from knitting needle and draw yarn to close tip of toe. Sew to beginning of ribbing and fasten securely. Fold back end of slipper evenly and overcast; fasten yarn securely. There'll be enough yarn left over for a fancy tassel or pom pom.

For smaller sizes, decrease number of stitches or size of needles accordingly.

Finally, use electric blankets for extra cold nights. Surprising, but true: your family can use five electric blankets cheaper than keeping the thermostat at 75 degrees all day.

A citizens' advisory committee on environmental quality has figured that using an electric blanket on cold nights costs $3.54 a year. (Multiply that by five and you spend $17.70 - one for mom and dad and four for the kids' beds.)

The committee's charts show that turning down the thermostat from 75 degrees to 70 during the day and 67½ at night results in considerable savings.

Using New York City as a median between mild areas, such as Atlanta, and cold regions, such as Minneapolis, you can expect about a $38 annual savings with gas heat, $55 with oil, and $110 off your electric bill.

Subtract the $17 for five electric blankets from each of these savings figures and you get a net savings for turning down the thermostat of $20.30 (or $1.60 per month) for gas, $37.50 (or $3.18 per month) for oil, and $92.30 (or $7.69 per month) for electric heat.

While everyone may want to try saving fuel by reducing home heating temperatures to 67 - 70 degrees, some discomfort in cooler rooms can be minimized by adopting one or more of these suggestions: wear sweaters, use lap robes or afghans, or substitute electric blankets for 75 degree nighttime heating. It is possible to lower thermostats and keep warm.

TONQUISH CREEK MANOR residents Mary Mihos (left), Lu Taylor and Hallie Martin show some of the wares that will be on sale Saturday, Dec. 1, in the community room of the Plymouth residence for senior citizens. Baked goods, handmade items and jewelry will be offered from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and there will be a spot to sit down and enjoy coffee and cookies. The manor is located at 1160 Sheridan. Working Wives Deserve Low-Maintenance Home

Estimates of the number of wives who hold some sort of job outside the home vary from 16 to 17 million. Other facts about working wives are more certain. For instance:

•Married women hold one out of every five jobs in the U.S.

•Wives represent about 60 per cent of all working women.

•Outside employment leaves less time for daily housework. Some women solve this problem with outside help. Others do housework in the evening and on weekends.

Most take advantage of time - and - labor - saving home appliances and materials.

This emphasis on easy-care can be seen in the increasing popularity of materials such as hardboard wall paneling with minimal - maintenance qualities.

Once considered strictly utilitarian, hardboard has moved into every room in the house as a versatile and decorative wall paneling.

Today it is available pre-finished in a wide range of beautiful surfaces, including: stylish woodgrains, decorator colors, unusual patterns and textures, glamor finishes such as travertine marble, and the moisture - resistant plastic - surfaced variety designed for high - moisture and humidity areas like kitchens and baths.

Hardboard paneling is extremely sturdy, and can withstand hard use without denting, marring or scuffing. Most stains wipe off with a damp cloth.

This means that paneled walls can be kept clean and freshlooking with a minimum of time and effort - a daily worksaver for busy housewives.

Another advantage of hardboard paneling is its easy installation. Panels go up quickly with nails or special adhesive over furring strips or right over existing walls.

Plant Of The Week

The jade plant, Crassula argentea, is classified as a succulent, having fleshy leaves and stems, says William Carlson, Michigan State University horticulturist.

Although the jade plant will survive in poorly lighted locations, full sunlight is necessary for best growth. A south window is the ideal location. A minimum temperature of 65 degrees F is desirable.

Use a sandy, well-drained soil. Keep the soil relatively dry during the winter and water more frequently during summer and periods of active growth. Fertilize once every two months.

The jade plant can also be grown in water, says Carlson.

New plants can be propagated by leaf cuttings and stem tip cuttings.

Mirror 'Sleight Of Hand' Aid In Decorating

When performed correctly, magic is an art which produces illusions and extraordinary results.

A leading supplier of raw glass to mirror manufacturers, encourages you to try a little magic of your own by using mirrors: watch rooms grow, spaces change, discover infinity.

By using mirrors you, too, can become a "sleight of hand" master. For example:

•The oldest mirror trick still works: Use a mirror to make a hall look longer or a room seem larger.

•Place a mirror on a dark wall the sun never reaches. Watch that mirror snare the light.

•Stretch the boundaries of a narrow room with a mirrored wall.

•Enjoy your home's favorite view, even if furniture arrangements force you to sit with your back to the wall. Reflect the view in a mirror.

•Enlarge your apparent dining area by setting your table against the mirrored wall of a tiny dining alcove.

Mirrors do more than provide reflection and decorative wall touches.

They actually can double the apparent size of a room, extend the expanse of walls, ceiling and floor, and give an illusion of greater spaciousness to areas that would otherwise be boxlike and confining.

Take, for example, the case of a small foyer. A mirrored wall enlarges the apparent size of the room and also provides arriving guests with a sneak preview of your home.

In a room this size, an antique mirrored wall is most subtle, yet effective. A handy console table placed in the foyer doubles with the mirror as a grooming aid for making that last-minute check before leaving the house.

Today decorative framed mirrors are being created for every room in the house. Whether a person's tastes are delicate, colonial, modern, traditional or whatever, a framed mirror can be found to answer his needs.

Although the quality of the mirror itself is the prime consideration, a handsome frame will greatly increase a mirror's beauty.

Choose a frame that's the right feeling and the right size for your room and its furnishings -- a slender, vertical mirror over a wide chest will look spindly, a huge mirror over a small table will dwarf it.

More and more decorators are using framed mirrors as though they were pictures. In fact, in busy rooms that require simple wall treatment, mirrors often are more effective than pictures.

Reflect something lovely in your mirror -- a bowl of flowers, a sparkling chandelier. Or if you have a big sofa or table, hang a collection of assorted mirrors above it just as you would put up a picture group.

Experiment with mirrors as a stage director does with lights -- try various places to see what drama their reflected light gives.

Over a dining room buffet, for example, an unusual arrangement can be made by hanging a decorative mirror off center and standing a single candlestick on the other end of the buffet.

At night this irregular balance is especially striking as the light from the candle is combined with the room light reflected in the mirror.

In a living room mirrors can provide a modern look for traditional furnishings.

Try hanging a framed mirror at one end of a sofa or table and balancing a more-or-less equal mass at the other end. This could be a picture, a handsome floor lamp or a vase of flowers on an end table.

In a bedroom, mirrors can double as sliding closet doors. Not only will they serve as a great grooming aid, but they also will catch and increase the sun's light.

The one room in the home which always seems to have a mirror of some sort is the bathroom. If your bathroom is somewhat small, once again a mirrored wall will do the trick.

A medicine cabinet with a decorative frame then can be mounted within the mirror wall. This mirror-on-mirror effect provides a real decorator focal point and increases the light where you need it most.

The most neglected room when it comes to mirrors probably is the kitchen. Yet, wouldn't this be the perfect place to install a small vanity mirror and shelf so a busy housewife can comb her hair and re-apply makeup after finishing her kitchen duties?

To remedy the blahs caused by a kitchen sink and cabinets that face an interior wall, install mirrors on the wall along the perimeter of the counter and below and above the cabinets. The mirrors will reflect the light and the view from kitchen windows on the opposite wall.

The sparkling mirrors are so much easier to clean than painted or papered walls since all the mirrors need to retain their beauty is cleaning with a soft cloth and weak solution.

Mirrors weigh about four pounds to the square foot, a good fact to remember when you hang a decorative framed mirror.

For a mirror weighing less than 35 pounds, use twin-strand wire over two wall hooks, four inches apart.

If you have a heavier one, place hooks farther apart to break the weight. It's best to have glass mirrors cut to size by your mirror dealer since cutting requires special tools and techniques.

UNUSUAL MIRRORED living room wall was created with beveled glass of various shapes and forms installed around an existing fireplace. The apparent size of the room is multiplied, and a lovely second view of outdoors is provided, reflecting the changing seasons.

IMAGINATIVE ARRANGEMENT of decorative framed mirrors and art objects forms a dramatic accent wall. An otherwise harsh, cold den is warmed by the simple composition of shapes on a fabric surface.

Christmas Floral Workshop At SC

Schoolcraft College will offer a special workshop on creating Christmas floral designs on Wednesday, Dec. 12.

The afternoon workshop, to be held in room 400 of the Forum Building from 1:30 to 4:30, has a $10 registration fee.

Mrs. Marie Bush is the workshop instructor; she has taught floral design classes previously for the community services program.

Purpose of the workshop is to teach new techniques of floral design and decoration for the holiday season. Each student will complete and take home a basic floral arrangement.

Demonstrations will be a part of the instruction and will include construction of garlands (roping), wreaths and floral arrangements.

Registration checks should be made payable to Schoolcraft College and mailed to the Director of Community Services, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia, Mich. 48151, by Dec. 7. According to Ron Griffith, director, enrollment will be limited to the first 40 who enroll.

Now that the heat's on in our homes, we can expect some house plant troubles.

Here are a few symptoms to watch, and what to do about them. Bottom leaves turn yellow and drop. It may be due to overwatering, or poor drainage, or plant may be potbound. Dropping of leaves, especially the lower ones, may be due to too much water or poor drainage.

Wilted leaves may be due to too much or too little water, or plant pot is too small or too large.

Dropping of foliage may be due to excess water. Stunted growth: look for tiny white worms in the soil. If present, soak cigar or cigaret butts in water and drench the soil surface.

When all leaves suddenly drop, look for cold air, gas injury, lack of water, or fertilizer injury. Sometimes when you bring plants in from the outdoors, the sudden change will cause leaves to drop.

Leaves drying at the edges or tips may be due to humidity being too low, soil too dry or too wet. Direct sun on leaves may also cause burning around the edges.

Brown spots on leaves may be due to sun burning or fungi or foliar nematode. Avoid getting water on foliage, especially in evening. Light specks on foliage indicate aphids. The specks are skeletal casts. Wash them off with warm water and soap.

Cobweb growth on tips indicates red spider mites. Hold plants under shower and wash them off.

Home gardeners who try to store dry beans often get irked to find their crop has small holes in them. These holes are due to weevils, and they can ruin a jar of dry beans, making them unfit for food or seed.

Let's see how the weevil gets inside the jar. The weevil begins its work by attacking the growing pods in the garden.

When the dry beans are hulled and stored they are already infested with the small white grubs. When beans are stored in a warm place the grubs mature and eat their way out of the dry bean, leaving small holes in the beans.

Here's how to thwart the weevil: (1) Store beans in cans in an unheated room or porch (beans won't freeze). (2) Dip the beans in boiling water for one minute and then spread them out to dry (not usable for beans to be used for seed). (3) Or heat the beans in a shallow open container in an oven for 30 minutes at 130 degrees F.

Seeds may be heated to a temperature of from 130 degrees to 145 degrees F. without affecting their germination.

Youth -- Few Run, Fewer Chosen

An Observer Roundup

That great outcry by youth to reduce the age of majority to 18 has brought about little noticeable change in Observerland's elective political scene.

Only a few 18-21 year olds have felt the call to run for political office, and fewer still have been chosen.

Most contact between youth and government appears to have been fostered by older politicians who have appointed young people as ex officio members of boards and commissions.

Southfield, for example, has named a youth representative to its planning and recreation commissions and library and health boards.

Membership changes as students pass on from high school, but the graduate may continue to serve on an "honorary" basis.

Probably the closest view of practical government action is shared by two University of Michigan students, Rick Bondy and Laura Toy, who are serving as interns in the office of Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara under a university program.

"Youth commissions," as such, existed for the most part before the age of majority was lowered and then, as now, were generally nominal.

Farmington likely has fielded the largest number of candidates in the under-20 age group with at least one in about every local election since the 18-year-old vote was granted.

Youngest candidate elected, however, was William Hartsock, 23, who recently won a seat on the Farmington City Council.

Plymouth elected a 1970 high school graduate, John C. Cummings, to the City Commission last November.

Kenneth Brown, 21, ran unsuccessfully for the Southfield City Council last fall after retiring as an ex officio member of the city planning commission. He wound up last in a field of eight after an energetic campaign.

Judy Cornfoot ran for a Wayne - Westland school board seat as a John Glenn High School senior in 1972 but finished last in a five candidate field with only 216 votes.

Another John Glenn senior, Craig Bielicki Jr., ran as a Republican for the County Commission and polled between 35 and 40 per cent of the vote.

Dennis O'Brien, now a junior at University of Michigan - Dearborn, ran for the Democratic nomination for Redford Township Board trustee in 1972 but was defeated. He now serves on the youth commission.

Mike Peacock, made eligible by the lowered age of majority, tried in 1971 but lost for a place on the Livonia school board.

Young Rick Birdsall serves as vice president of the Livonia School Board Advisory Council, whose members are all appointees.

Garden City's only youth centered activity is the school district's student curriculum council, formed in April of 1973 and composed of 14 students from the junior and senior high school and various school administrators.

One sophomore at Thurston High School serves on Redford Township's beautification commission but only as a courtesy because of his exceptional interest in its work. He is not an appointed member.

However, Redford's youth commission has been active supporting summer dance concerts with bands, road rallies, mini-bike lessons, Saturday movies, and gun home safety courses among other ventures.

The nine member and one ex officio member commission includes two students each from Redford Union and Thurston high schools, and a junior from University of Michigan - Dearborn.

Plymouth's Youth, Inc., is a quasi - government agency, funded through grants from local government and elsewhere which offers classes, handicrafts and other entertainment to the area's young people.

Westland Mayor Eugene McKinney formed a Youth Advisory Council in March of 1971 to provide young people a voice in city government. A committee of teenagers meets regularly to discuss issues and problems but has not been greatly visible.

Wickes To Open 20th Furniture Outlet Here

Wickes Furniture will open a showroom - warehouse - its 20th in the last two years - Thursday at 10 a.m. on Seven Mile west of Middle Belt, across from Livonia Mall.

Manager will be Stanley Hart, who most recently was a store manager for Federal Department Stores in Detroit. A 20-year veteran in retail management, Hart has been a Montgomery Ward district merchandise manager and store manager.

Estimated value of the pre-cast white concrete building shell is $2.9 million. The value of building, 8.5 acres of land, landscaping and inventory has been reliably estimated at $5 million or more.

E.L. McNeely, president and chief executive officer of the parent corporation, said the Livonia complex reflects a "general upgrading of display and merchandise assortment. . . Wickes is shooting for the middle and upper strata of consumers."

The store was designed by Wickes Construction department. Contractor was Daniel Construction Co.

The building is a pre-engineered steel structure with 95,000 square feet of space, including 54,000 square feet of warehouse space. It is capable of storing 52,000 items of merchandise and has a 40-foot customer loading dock for those who wish to take their purchases with them.

Showrooms account for 41,000 square feet of space with 200 room settings and vignettes.

This outlet is one of three planned in the metropolitan Detroit area. An earlier one is in Warren, and a third is planned to open in Riverview early in 1974.

STANLEY HART
New Manager

The store will employ more than 100 area persons full time and others part-time during peak periods.

In its last annual report dated May 18, Wickes reported sales of more than $873 million, up 23 per cent from the previous year.

Net income before taxes was $30.9 million, up 31 per cent, and after taxes $16.9 million, up 35 per cent.

Per share earnings were $2.85, up five per cent from 1972's level of $19.83. There were nearly 8.4 million shares outstanding, up 10 per cent from the prior year.

The company issued its 119th annual report, but its furniture division is just two years old. Its lumber division added 18 new centers for a total of 240.

Midway through the last fiscal year, Wickes closed its manufactured housing operations, which were operating at a loss, McNeely said.

Holiday Wreaths Easy To Assemble

With a minimum of equipment and a little practice, you can make your own holiday wreath suitable for either indoor or outdoor decorating, say Michigan State University horticulturists.

A coathanger or a plastic foam frame may be used for the foundation of a small wreath. For a larger one, use a length of number-9 wire.

For a wreath about 14 inches in diameter, four to six inch sprays are recommended. Smaller wreaths require shorter pieces, while larger ones can use sprays up to 12 inches long. Bind the sprays to the frame with one continuous strand of florist wire. Lap the bushy part of each spray over the wired ends of the preceding one so that none of the wiring is visible.

Beginners usually find it easier to point all the sprays in the same direction.

Your finished wreath may be decorated with many holiday items - cones, bells, tiny gift-wrapped boxes, colored ribbons, Christmas tree ornaments, gourds, nuts and berries, even fresh fruit.

Fish Hatchery In Area Will Help Local Lakes In Restocking By '76

Oakland County's Seven Lakes State Park, now being developed, will contain Michigan's newest warmwater fish hatchery.

Department of Natural Resources' Fisheries Division chief Wayne H. Tody, who made the announcement at a recent Natural Resources Commission meeting, says the hatchery should be in operation by spring, 1976.

At peak efficiency, the Seven Lakes hatchery's output should reach 2.4 million muskellunge and walleye fingerlings, both of which are high-angle-demand predatory species. Northern pike, bass, panfish and sturgeon also will be reared at the new hatchery.

Although the hatchery will supply game fish to stock inland lakes and streams across the state, and for some Great Lake stocking, most Seven Lakes-reared fish will be planted in southern Michigan inland waters. The hatchery also will supply millions of game fish fry and fingerlings for outlying rearing ponds.

The 80-acre hatchery site is on Grange Hall Road between Fenton and Holly, about 15 miles south of Flint. The site was selected from nearly a dozen southern lower Peninsula proposed locations surveyed by the DNR.

The Seven Lakes site was recently approved by the Legislative Joint Capital Outlay Committee. Its $4 million cost will be funded by a Michigan Recreational Bond Program appropriation.

This will be the first southeastern Michigan fish hatchery since the state closed one at Northville some years ago. That site has since been converted to a community park.

The need for a regional hatchery became apparent when restocking efforts here were hampered by shortages of fish and by the difficulty of transporting fingerlings from the Wolf Lake hatchery west of Kalamazoo.

The basic source of water for the hatchery will be the nearby, 44-acre Dickinson Lake, itself within the park's boundaries. Dickinson is a typical "marl" lake, Tody says, with "excellent," oxygen-laced water that is low in both ammonia and metal content, high concentrations of which can complicate fish rearing.

Because the lake is relatively small, however, water must be recycled from the hatchery back to it nearly constantly. To meet this end, the DNR will install a highly effective system for removing nitrogen and phosphorus from the water.

For even purer water, the new hatchery will depend upon at least one deep well, yet to be drilled. Water from a number of area wells has been analyzed and has proven well-suited for hatchery use, Tody says.

The advantage of the hatchery's central location for planting purposes brings with it another plus — its value as an aquatic education center. An interpretive service is planned for operation during visiting hours, and a number of exhibits explaining hatchery functions will be installed.

2 At JHS Honored

Carmen Staltmanis and David Wilson of Clarenceville Junior High School were selected recently by the junior high staff to be honored at a banquet given by the Livonia Optimist Club of Livonia. The banquet was held as part of the youth appreciation week festivities in Livonia.

Law Chapter Sets Meeting

The Detroit graduate chapter of Tau Epsilon Rho, international law fraternity, will hold a pre-convention meeting at 8 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 2 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gold, 33464 Heritage Hills Dr., Farmington Hills.

Botsford Has Paper Drive

Sixth graders at Clarenceville's Botsford School will conduct a paper drive on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 1 and 2. Persons with paper to donate are invited to contact the school for pick up or bring the paper to the school.

NOT JUST ANOTHER SALESMAN

Meet John Peace. Many of you already know John. Former customers at Rosedale Oldsmobile remember the standards of excellence he upheld there in four years as general manager. Ex-Detroiters will recall the courteous service this man offered for 15 years as sales manager of Charlie's Oldsmobile.

John has been in automobile sales since 1939 and believes firmly in the almost forgotten tradition of personal customer service, attention, and satisfaction.

Stop in and meet John or renew a valued acquaintance. He will welcome your visit. There is no hurry at Bob Saks Oldsmobile... except in providing the excellence in service Mr. Peace has a reputation for.

OCC Plans Discussion On Energy

The Orchard Ridge Campus history department of Oakland Community College has announced that noted geology professor, Richard Ward of Wayne State University, will lecture on "U.S. Energy Supplies Until 2000" on Thursday, Nov. 29 at 2 p.m. in Room J-191. The campus is located at 1-696 and Orchard Lake Road in Farmington Hills.

"Presenting guest speakers such as Prof. Ward is an important function of the college community," noted Prof. Dan Plesko, chairman of the history department. "We're very pleased to be able to present this discussion of the energy crisis at such an appropriate time."

The general public is invited to hear his discussion of the energy crisis.

RONALD S. ROMAN of Redford Township has been appointed director of transportation for Faygo Beverages, Inc., of Detroit. Roman joined Faygo in March 1972 as transportation superintendent. Previously he was director of personnel for Redford Township where he and his family still make their home. He is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

Shelton Talks On Aspects Of Regionalism

Donn Shelton, project director of Regional Citizens, will be the guest speaker at the Birmingham Temple at 8:30 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 5, at 28611 W. 12 Mile Road in Farmington.

The topic is "What is a Regional Citizen?" A slide presentation will be shown, followed by a question - answer period.

Regional Citizens is an organization committed to providing an opportunity for individuals in the metropolitan Detroit region to understand regional problems, work toward the solution of those problems, and exercise citizen involvement.

The program is jointly sponsored by the adult education and the social action committees of the Birmingham Temple. The public is invited.

4 Democrats Will Be Feted For Service

A dinner dance honoring "a century of service" by four Democratic Party members will be held at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 1 at the Bay Pointe Country Club, 4001 Haggerty Rd., West Bloomfield.

Honored will be former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, now a justice of the State Supreme Court; Neil Staebler, former chairman and national committeeman; Billie S. Farnum, former congressman and state auditor general, and Adelaide Hart.

Tickets are $20 each. Contact the Oakland County Democratic Party, 1700 S. Telegraph, Pontiac, for tickets.

Dinner will begin at 8 p.m., and champagne and dancing will continue until midnight. The "Kings of Dixieland" will perform.

"People turn to the Yellow Pages when they want specific answers."

"That's what we think and that's why we list many of our special sign services in our ad," continues Mr. Loren Whitcomb, Whitcomb Sign Co., 7636 West Road, Washington. "With few exceptions, people don't have a definite idea of what they want. Quite often potential customers call and ask about items like displays, plaques, silk screen, pin stripping, electrical signs, etc. We take this as a sign they're probably looking at our Yellow Pages ad. By explaining our services I feel the Yellow Pages has a definite place in our total advertising program."

"Our Yellow Pages ad outproduces all of our other advertising 3 to 1," says Mrs. Rene Clark, Country Estate Mobile Homes, Inc., 58220 W. Eight Mile Rd., Northville. "It's our best advertising investment. Since we've had our ad, our business has increased by 50%! I think some business people overlook the fact that the Yellow Pages maintains a hard-hitting and effective ad campaign of its own. But we only have to look at our results to know that the campaign is really paying off in the form of more business for us."

Mr. Hershel Stuart, Federal Hardware and Supply, 29080 Southfield Rd., Southfield recommends Yellow Pages advertising highly. "My program includes display ads in the North Woodward and East Area Directories. These ads pull in literally hundreds of calls for fireplace fixtures, resulting in sales ranging from $20 to $200. I also receive a great deal of response from our ad at the 'Hardware' heading. This ad produces both calls and walk-in business."

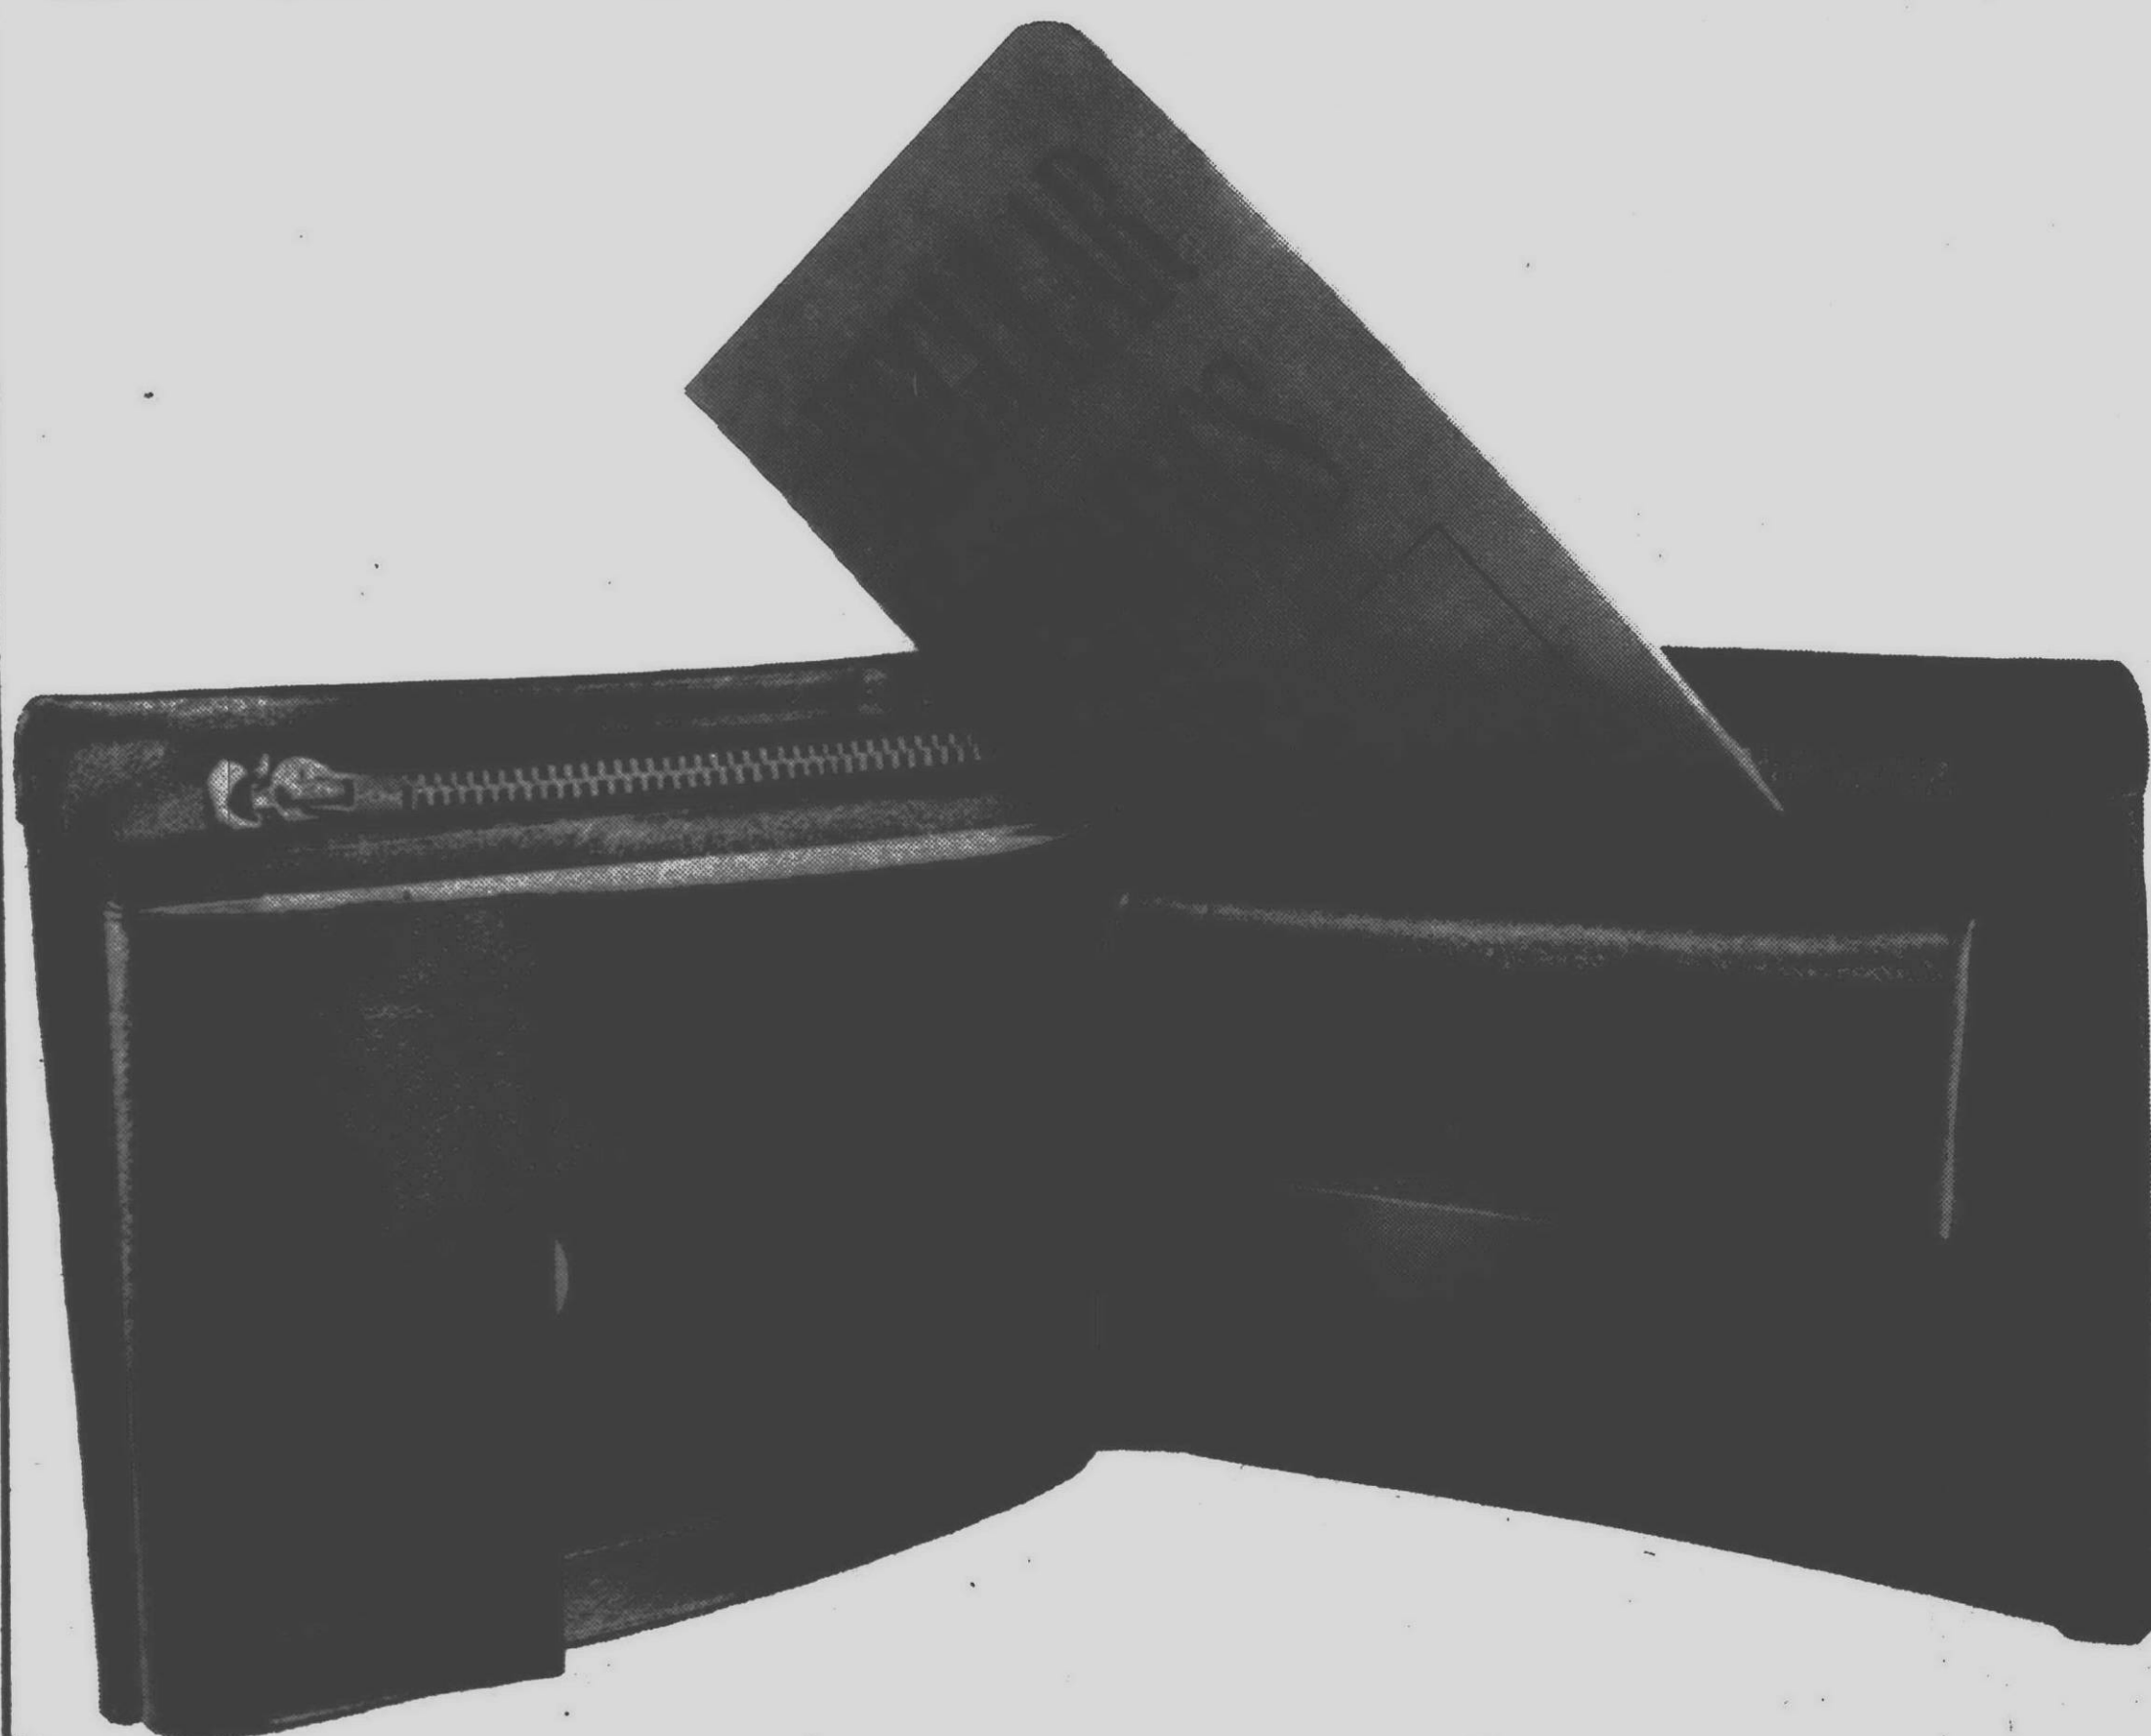

A lot of sales help, that's what the Yellow Pages gives Mr. Chester Podgorny, Venoy Realty Co., 32508 Michigan Ave., Wayne. "During the past 16 years we have found Yellow Pages advertising a very efficient way to attract potential real estate customers. The calls we get from the Yellow Pages are regarded as very important because these buyers are in the market now. We began with a half-page display ad. After we became established we switched to a smaller ad. However, we noticed a definite decrease in leads from the Yellow Pages and decided to return to the half-page ad we carry today."

Travel the Yellow Pages road to sales success. Call your Yellow Pages representative!

Fitting Shoes: Serious Business

Visu-Meter ... Pedograph ... Brannock Device. To the average layman these are meaningless terms. Their names sound like those of sophisticated devices used by our astronauts. This impression is only half right. Sophisticated devices they are, but they're not used in outer space. Instead, they are being used by up-to-date shoe fitting specialists like those found at NAP'S Shoes in Detroit.

Show fitting has come a long way since the pre-14th Century period when three barley-corns equaled one inch or three sizes. Contrary to public opinion, fitting shoes is a procedure that requires much more than a quick check of a floor sizing device.

Recent years have contributed several new innovations which are insuring more thorough and accurate fitting. The days are gone when a show salesman's most complicated fitting tool was a shoe horn. Today, thanks to the innovative efforts of shoe fitting experts, additional tools are being used.

One of these new innovations is the Visu-Meter developed by John S. Ludwig, owner and operator of three large shoe stores in suburban Cincinnati. Mr. Ludwig, President of the Ohio Shoe fitters Association, is regarded as a leading expert in the field of shoe fitting. The Visu-Meter, is regularly used at NAP'S SHOES by our own shoe fitting experts.

As stated, a size device is only a stepping stone to proper fit. It provides only a tentative size range. After this is established, the thorough salesman is ready to use the Visu-Meter.

Without getting too complicated, the Visu-Meter is basically a device that can be inserted in the shoe, tightened and locked. When withdrawn, it is applied to the foot where you can compare the inside shoe length to the actual foot length. The Visu-Meter serves as the indicator to parents of the amount of all important "grow room," in a child's new shoe.

This procedure is just part of the comprehensive procedure each NAP'S employee goes through to insure the most accurate fit possible.

Each NAP'S sales person is thoroughly trained and tested in the areas of fitting shoe and foot construction, and foot growth. NAP'S takes pride in the fact that they are experts in fitting all kinds of feet. NAP'S twenty one years of experience make them a store you can trust for all of your family footwear needs.

In addition, NAP'S is constantly looking to the future in an effort to provide not only the latest in style but also, the latest in fitting technique.

Doctor's prescription shoes are accurately prepared by NAP'S and a complete Orthopedic shoe service is available.

As you can see, shoe fitting has become serious business. Each individual has a different need when it comes to shoes. And don't forget, the way your shoes fit will affect the way you feel.

At NAP'S we've been making people feel good for years. With these new thoughts on shoe fitting in mind, don't you want your family to be fitted by experts?

If your answer is "yes," see the people at NAP'S SHOES ... They know their business.
