WALKATHON for Joey Crissey is led off by Bob Caloia early Saturday morning. The walkers moved down Main Street towards city hall after starting in Kellogg Park. The last walkers finished the five-mile trek by 11:30 a.m. and brought in more than $4,000 in pledges, well over the goal set by march organizers. The funds go to help young Joey, who suffers from a rare muscle disease.

LUNCH WITH THE EASTER Bunny, sponsored by the Plymouth Jaycettes, brought happy youngsters to the Salvation Army Building Saturday, including Jolie Shay (left) and Karin Harris. Marita Goudey was the Easter rabbit. The Jaycettes served lunch at 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m.

Voluntary '45-15' plan OK'd for Miller School

By W.W. EDGAR

PLYMOUTH — To meet the challenge of overcrowded conditions at Miller School, year round classes will be offered on a voluntary basis, starting July 22.

Weeks and weeks of discussion of the 45-15 program reached a climax Monday night when Plymouth Board of Education, without a dissenting vote, adopted the plan with the understanding those families who didn't care for the program would have their children bused to another elementary school.

Under this program the students will be divided into four groups at Miller school and will attend school 45 days and follow with 15 days vacation every four months.

In arriving at its decision the board was influenced by a recent survey that revealed that 313 families with 86.5 per cent of the children in the Miller area (469) favored the year round plan. Only 55 families, with 73 children, or 13.4 per cent of the enrollment, favored busing to other schools. Three families were undecided and two others didn't care.

The survey was considered highly successful in that 376 families responded, while 210 failed to answer. This is above the average returns and it meant that 64.2 per cent of those responding favored the year around classes.

Following the vote, Supt. John M. Hoben voiced his pleasure at the result and explained that classes at Miller school will be limited to the 45-15 program.

"We won't have two programs at the school," he said, "but as yet we don't know to which school the other students from the Miller area will be bused."

Prior to the vote on the motion for adoption of the plan made by TRUSTEE Marda Benson and supported by Joseph Gray, it was evident that there would be little, if any, opposition. There wasn't a murmur from the audience when comments were invited, and none during the discussion of the motion.

In setting up the program the students will be divided into four groups with the first starting on July 22 and finishing on June 19. The second group will start on Aug. 6 and finish on July 3. The third group will start on Aug. 27 and finish on Aug. 8, while the fourth group starts on Sept. 23 and finishes on Aug. 29.

Along with this schedule the following holidays will be observed:

- Labor Day, Sept. 2, 1974.
- Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28-29.
- Christmas, Dec. 23-Jan. 1.
- Good Friday, March 28, 1975.
- Memorial Day, May 26, 1975.
- Independence Day, July 4, 1975.
- Shutdown for groups A, B and C, July 7-18.

• Shutdown for Group D, July 7-11. Supt. Hoben confided that considerable work still needs to be done in organizing the groups and setting up schedules, but that everything would be ready by opening day on July 22.

One of the major items involved will be a matter of bus schedules as they can't be set up until the number of students requiring busing is determined.

With the establishment of the 45-15 program at Miller the Plymouth district will be the second in area to have year round classes at any school.

The plan worked with considerable success last year in Northville and may be adopted in other areas when the overcrowding demands it in the days to come.

"The program at Miller school is on a trial basis," Supt. Hoben explained, "and we will watch it very carefully throughout the year."

4-story ramp eyed

City studies parking problem

By SHERRY KAHAN

PLYMOUTH — A plan for alleviating the downtown Plymouth parking problem by building a four-story structure for 200 cars is being informally tossed back and forth by the city commission.

"This may be the most feasible plan for Plymouth," said Jay Eldridge of the firm of Vilcan - Leman, the planning consultants of the city. "Otherwise an enormous amount of taxable downtown land will have to be given over to parking lots."

The suggestion was included in a preliminary report given the commissioners by its planning consultants concerning the question of downtown parking. The chief recommendation of this report was that any plans concerning the building of parking structures make use of the Municipal Building Authority, which has already been used to build City Hall and the Cultural Center by making a contract with the municipality.

Commissioners also took up the question of the upgrading malls and parking spaces of part of the Old Village area.

At the request of the business owners in the area, the city has produced a preliminary plan for the area bounded by Starkweather, E. Liberty, Mill, and Farmer streets.

In this plan the requested upgrading could be accomplished for an estimated $177,236.95.

"We are not ready for a hearing on the project because it is not yet developed to the point where we can recommend a specific improvement and method of financing," said Fred Yockey, city manager.

As though to anticipate merchants' objections concerning the amount they would be assessed for the improvements in the area, the city is considering a plan to offer the business owners credits on the number of parking spaces they have already provided.

For example, if the city asks for 12 parking spaces for a particular business and the owner has already provided five, the owner would then be assessed for only the seven additional spaces needed.

The amount of money the city should pay for parking as opposed to the amount paid by merchants who benefit financially from parking lots for their customers was also explored by the commissioners.

"What is needed is a common philosophy regarding parking and its costs," said Commissioner Harold Guenther. "After all, our tax base hangs on maintaining local business."

Eldridge suggested that since many small merchants do not have enough money to pay for extra parking spaces, and since banks rarely lend money for this purpose, that they make use of the Municipal Building Authority to help them acquire space.

"Perhaps the city could lease the parking area back to them," he said.

Commissioner John Moehle insisted that the financial policies of the city in regard to the paying for parking space should be the same for everyone.

Safety millage on ballot

PLYMOUTH — When the voters go to the polls on June 10 they will be asked to approve additional millage to augment a safety program for the schools.

The exact amount to be asked has not yet been determined but Supt. John Hoben asked the board of education Monday night to approve a .4 mill tax levy for the safety program.

When this amount was questioned and .3 of a mill suggested in its place it finally was agreed that the school administrators would prepare an itemized program for presentation at the next meeting.

This safety request will be item number 4 on the ballot. The others include the request for renewal of 6.5 operating mills, an amount still to be determined on the bond issue, the safety millage and the election of three members of the board.

Livonia Reserve unit ends annual training

Three elements of the U.S. Army Reserve's 70th Division (Training) "Trailblazers," headquartered on Schoolcraft in Livonia, have completed the first of two weeks of annual training at Fort Knox, Ky.

The division worked directly with its active Army counterparts as part of its annual training mission, and added support when tornadoes hit the area.

"Functioning under these conditions not only enables 70th Division personnel to become directly involved in the demands of an effective administrative system and training program," explains Brigadier General Naiff Kelel, "but provides an opportunity for enhancement of our skills, developed through our two - week association with Fort Knox cadre."

Kelel, who took over the reins as division commander in January, is a Detroit auto dealer and resident of Farmington.

The 70th Division is comprised of more than 3,100 men and women in nine elements throughout Michigan and Indiana. Although "Trailblazer" units attend monthly drills at their home armories, the almost 12 months leading to annual training each year, in reality, are spent preparing for the two weeks of intensive camp activity at an active Army installation.

During the division's first week in Fort Knox, starting March 30, Kentucky was lashed with the worst tornado in recorded history. Louisville, 30 miles north, was badly hit.

Brandenburg, a small town of 1,700 residents about 12 miles northwest of Fort Knox, was virtually leveled as 30 persons were killed.

Almost 100 persons were evacuated to Ireland Army Hospital at Ft. Knox, where 70th Division surgeon personnel were on hand to assist as casualties were treated. Many division men also donated blood when needed.

An example of their training was a "dry run" phase of hand grenade instruction. The instruction, made up of several stations, each emphasizing a different combat situation and position, stresses both accuracy and safety. After the dry run, trainees move to the live grenade range.

3 residents earn trophy in First Aid

Three Livonia residents were members of the Northwest team which recently took first place, for the second consecutive year, in the Red Cross First Aid contest.

Members of the winning team included: Paul Yoshikawa, Gerald Bartlett and Cornell Starnoran, all of Livonia; Janet Carney and Joe Carney of Dearborn; and, Tom Cory of Southfield.

Each participant received a trophy from George Wibby, director of Red Cross safety programs. An engraved wall plaque will be placed in the Red Cross Northwest regional office in Garden City.

Teams consisted of Red Cross volunteer first aid instructors representing chapter headquarters in Detroit and its five regional offices.

The Oakland team finished second, Detroit team third, Macomb team fourth, Downriver team fifth, and West team sixth.

Each team solved six first aid problems related to accidents that occur in the home, at work, or during recreation. The teams were rated on how well they surveyed the situation, administered aid and time it took to complete the assignment. Judging was done by Red Cross first aid instructors.

Cage game to aid state flood victims

The Detroit "Tip Toppers" and disc jockeys of W4 are having a basketball game on Friday, April 19, to provide funds for Michigan flood victims.

The game will begin at 8 p.m. in Franklin High School, 31000 Joy between Middle Belt and Merriman in Livonia. Admission is $1 or a donation.

The height requirement for membership in the Tip Toppers of Detroit is six - feet, two inches tall for men and five - feet, 10 inches for women.

And you can train in area New job avenue has opened

By W. W. EDGAR

An entirely new avenue of opportunities has been opened at Schoolcraft College for those mechanically or electronically inclined who are looking for a career that will provide stability and security for a lifetime.

It is a two - year biomedical equipment program with a curriculum designed to develop technicians to acquire the necessary knowledge and skills to maintain and service medical electronic equipment and associated interface devices utilized in hospitals and other agencies.

Only five schools in the country are offering such a course and Dean Ted Diebel, who came to Schoolcraft last fall, claims it is a vigorous program.

"It demands great effort on the part of the students," he said, "and they should show great aptitude for mechanics and all the latest electronic equipment."

"This hard work will be rewarding because there are plenty of employment opportunities and any graduate would not have to go in search of a position. Instead, they'd look for him."

Dean Diebel explained many of his present class of 27 have had a year or more of training in electronics before joining the biomedical group.

"Any student looking ahead to the program," he explained, "Should be trained in electronics, particularly in trouble shooting and diagnosing the calibration of electronic devices."

"Then," he continued, "the student will spend two semesters on the job in various hospitals and other agencies to gain experience in maintaining the machines."

This is a whole new field, according to the dean, who stated that, in the past, most of the men who worked on the medical equipment were furnished by industry and learned the hard way.

With the modern equipment now available to handle all sorts of medical cases it became more and more necessary to develop talented technicians to keep it in repair.

That's why this program was designed and students are now coming from miles around the state to enroll at Schoolcraft and take advantage of the opportunity to prepare for a most rewarding career.

At present, Schoolcraft has nine members of the class enrolled in a co-operative plan with various hospitals and other agencies in the area. This number will be increased as the classes grow in size because, according to Diebel, there will be a greater demand for this type of service.

"It's just amazing, what advances are being made in medical equipment. Machines now are doing things that were thought impossible not too many years ago. And with each new step there is more need for the expert technician."

The student who completes this course at Schoolcraft qualifies for an Associate in Applied Science degree.

Along with this biomedical program Schoolcraft is offering a companion course to teach students how to use the modern devices to analyze body tissues and fluids. They don't diagnose the ailment. Instead they analyze the blood, urine, etc., and prepare a report for the doctors.

This course was started in the fall of 1973 and the class now boasts 18 members. Already one member, who had previous experience, is ready to graduate.

Diebel is enthused over the reception and success of the program thus far.

Before coming to Schoolcraft he was stationed in Montana and long before that he worked at Ferris College in Big Rapids with Dean Jon Adams, the man whom he succeeded at Schoolcraft last fall.

2 earn coveted writing awards

John H. Ryskamp of Livonia and Kathleen Kozachenko of Plymouth were among winners in the prestigious Hopwood contest for creative writing at The University of Michigan.

Ryskamp, of 11040 Melrose, won a major essay award of $500 for his "Civil War Humor." He is a senior.

Miss Kozachenko, of 11541 Aspen Dr., won a $300 minor poetry award for "The Moon Is Warm." She, too, is a senior.

The Avery and Jule Hopwood awards, among the largest cash awards for creative writing in the country, are now in their 44th year. They come from an endowment fund bequeathed by playwright Avery Hop-wood and vary in amount according to the quality of the work.

Awards totaling $22,900 were given to 35 winners this year. There were 19 major and 20 minor awards in the fields of fiction, drama, poetry and essay.

Graduate students may compete in the major division and undergraduates are eligible only for minor Hopwood awards. Seniors may compete in either contest.

Winners were announced in a ceremony in Rackham Lecture Hall.

The annual Hopwood lecture was given by poet W. D. Snodgrass, whose subject was "Moonshine and Sunny Beams: Ruminations on 'A Midsummer Night's Dream.'"

C'ville grants 1st sabbatical

The Clarenceville Board of Education granted its first sabbatical leave request ever and formally adopted measures to make the budget flexible to change during the school year in actions taken at last Thursday's regular meeting.

Junior high school social studies teacher David Poggione will be the first Clarenceville teacher to take a sabbatical when he goes on leave next year.

In other action, the board agreed to make a provision in its policy to alter budgets during the school year when unexpected revenues come in or unanticipated expenditures must be paid.

The board also decided to permit students with 19 credits, one short of the 20 required to graduate, to participate in June commencement ceremonies even though their diplomas will be delayed.

The board announced a May 19 deadline for nominating petitions for the June 10 school election.

Terms of board members Melvin Kuehn and Robert Ericksom will expire this year.

NBD women bankers win promotions

MRS. BETTY PINT

MRS. SANDRA DAVIS

MRS. LORETTA MCGHEE

HERE'S THE old time passenger train kitchen that soon will be used to prepare the food when the novel Golden Spike restaurant opens down along the C&O tracks at Starkweather Street.

The Easter bunny arrived a few days early for three Plymouth women, all employees of the National Bank of Detroit (NBD), who received notice of promotions to high ranking executive posts late last week.

In an unprecedented move for a regional operation, Robert Barbour, vice president and director of 15 branches with headquarters in Plymouth, announced the three promotions at the same time.

The Easter egg with the most ornaments and the biggest of the trio went to Mrs. Betty (Korte) Pint, an employee of NBD for 26 years, who was elevated to manager of the Ann Arbor Road - Harvey branch. She had served there as senior assistant manager for six years. She is the first woman manager of a branch in the region.

Choice Easter presents went to Mrs. Sandra Davis, promoted to senior assistant manager of the N. Territorial - Sheldon branch, and to Mrs. Loretta McGhee, named senior assistant manager of the downtown Plymouth branch.

"This marks the first time we have promoted a woman to a branch manager in this region," said Barbour. "We would have announced Mrs. Pint's new assignment earlier but we wanted to make certain she wouldn't be moved out of the area. So we withheld the announcement until it was decided to keep her in Plymouth where she has been such a valuable employee for so many years."

"Personally, I am real happy to keep all of the trio in this region. They have worked here for years, are part of Plymouth and we think they should remain here."

Mrs. Pint replaces Paul Strong as manager. He was transferred to manager of the Metropolitan Airport branch which is much closer to his home in Flat Rock.

Mrs. Pint broke into the banking business as a teller and cashier for the Plymouth United Savings Bank and became associated with NBD when it took over in 1952.

She served 20 years with the downtown Plymouth branch, many years as assistant manager before transferring to the Ann Arbor Road - Harvey operation as senior assistant manager. She has held that position for six years.

She is a native of Plymouth, attended schools there and is a graduate of Plymouth High. She is a daughter of the late Harry and Myrtle Brown.

As a native - born she has been active in many organizations over the years including the Plymouth Community Fund, Fall Festival Board, Plymouth Historical Society and the Plymouth Business and Women's Professional Club.

Mrs. Davis was born in Northville but moved to Plymouth at an early age and considers herself a Plymouthite. She is a graduate of Plymouth High and attended Cleary College in Ypsilanti.

She first joined NBD in 1955 and served seven years before moving to Huntington, W. Va. After three years she moved back to Plymouth and has been an NBD employee since 1965.

She started as a teller and went through the ranks to assistant manager and now to senior assistant manager. She is a member of the Plymouth BPW.

Mrs. McGhee, a native of Detroit and graduate of Cooley High, started her banking career with the Bank of the Commonwealth shortly after graduation from high school. She transferred to Manufacturers after three years and then joined the NBD branch in Wayne two years later.

She has been an employee of NBD for 21 years, working in Wayne for several years before shifting to downtown Plymouth in 1958.

The three appointments become effective at once.

Madonna graduates to have full week

Robert FitzPatrick, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, is retreating from his earlier suggestion to levy a countywide tax to finance public safety.

On Monday, FitzPatrick asked the commissioners to "postpone indefinitely" taking any action on asking for a public vote on the proposal.

The backtracking followed two public hearings, one in Westland and the latest in Livonia, which resulted in minimal support for the proposal. In Westland, the majority of those attending opposed the idea. In Livonia, only two residents showed up.

"I regret the failure of those responsible for the law enforcement and criminal justice programs in the county to understand the need," FitzPatrick said Monday. He pointed to opposition from township and city officials as the reason why he recommended indefinite tabling.

Mrs. Mary Dumas (R - Livonia) suggested that the poor attendance in Livonia may have resulted from the previous night's storm which left many area residents jittery and with clean-up tasks.

Also attending the hearing in Livonia were commissioners Richard E. Manning (D - Redford) and Brian Arrowsmith (R - Plymouth).

The decision whether to place the public safety tax on the ballot is being studied by the board's general government committee.

Samuel Turner (D - Detroit) had indicated after the recent Livonia hearing that his committee had "received sufficient reaction from public officials and citizens" to make a decision — implying a negative recommendation to the board would be made.

FitzPatrick had suggested a "fair share" formula through which 80 per cent of the $13.3 million annual revenue raised by a special one - mill property levy (some $10.7) would be allotted among the 43 cities and townships proportionately. The county would use the remaining 20 per cent, about $2.6 million, for its law enforcement programs.

The levy was suggested as a means of making up for $7 million grants for law enforcement which are expiring within the county. Many of these programs now face severe cutbacks, and the county and local communities will have to make up the loss if the programs now financed by the grants are to be continued.

FitzPatrick retreats from public safety tax

A full week of activities have been planned for the 136 students who will graduate from Madonna College in Livonia on April 28.

This year's graduating class is the largest in the college's 27 year history. Some 111 students will receive bachelor degrees, 22 associate degrees, and four will earn the certificate of achievement. One student, Dennis P. O'Leary of Inkster, has earned two bachelor degrees.

Of the 74 students earning bachelor of science degrees, 51 earned them in nursing, nine in criminal justice, and five in radiologic technology.

The remaining majors are in biology - chemistry or home economics. Majors of the 37 BA degree graduates include art, music, social science, religious studies and English. Of these, 18 qualify for teacher certification in either elementary or secondary schools.

Commencement ceremonies will be held in the College Activities' Building at 2:30 p.m., following the baccalaureate mass at 1 p.m. in the campus chapel.

Graduation week will begin Monday, April 22, at 12:30 p.m. when the senior class will plant a symbolic tree on the campus. On Tuesday, April 23, at 11 a.m. there will be a memorial mass for deceased members of the Madonna College community.

A convocation to honor students receiving special awards will be held in the Activities' Building April 27 beginning at 7:30 p.m. At this time the president, Sister Mary Danatha, and the dean, Sister Mary Lauriana, will announce recipients of graduation honors and high honors. They will also present the Lumen awards for Christian spirit, service and commitment, and name those elected to national scholastic and activity honor society, Kappa Gamma Pi.

At commencement, valedictory and salutatory addresses will be given and graduating nurses will receive their caps and pins.

Last year, 91 students graduated, including four males — the first in Madonna's history. This year, 37 of the graduates will be men.

Petition campaign planned

Nixon impeachment drive to 'go public' here

By LEONARD POGER

WESTLAND — A state-wide campaign to impeach President Richard Nixon will "go public" this week in Westland.

Local leaders of the Michigan Citizens for Impeachment will hold a petition drive and informational campaign Saturday, April 13, and Sunday, April 14.

The directors revealed they will ask the Westland City Council soon to put an impeachment proposal on the August ballot.

Outlining the group's plans were Henry Johnson, 22, of 32317 Ogema, and Mrs. Catherine Shivers, 25, of 7809 August, both of Westland.

They are 15th Congressional District leaders for the state committee.

Until now, the committee has been circulating petitions among Democrat Club members.

The petition and information drive at Westland Center will be from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, April 14.

The district leaders already have 1,000 signatures on petitions and hope for another 3,500. There is no set deadline for the conclusion of the drive, Johnson said.

They hope to collect 3,500 signatures on petitions which will be sent to Rep. Peter Rodino, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee holding hearings on impeachment.

The state committee is halfway toward its goal of 200,000 signatures on petitions, Johnson said.

In kicking off the Westland petition campaign, Johnson and Mrs. Shivers announced that local officials will be at Westland Center's mall at 1 p.m. Saturday, to launch the drive.

Those officials include Congressman William Ford, City Councilman Justice Barnes, 15th District Democratic Chairman Vincent Pettipren, Wayne-Westland Democratic Club President Fred Klus, and Mrs. Annetta Miller, Democratic member of the State Board of Education.

Besides the petitions, Johnson and Mrs. Shivers will pass out buttons, bumper stickers and literature on why they feel Nixon should be impeached.

The state committee has issued 21 reasons it feels Mr. Nixon should have charges brought against him by the House of Representatives for a trial in the Senate.

The committee said the president and his subordinates have "fostered, tolerated, and attempted to conceal the worst political scandals in this nation's history."

It claimed that Nixon has repeatedly kept information about the Watergate issue from the public despite public promises of cooperation.

The committee cited his "interference with freedom of the press" through wiretaps of reporters and Federal Bureau of Investigation probes; impounding of funds approved by Congress; alleged unethical and illegal tax deductions; and his alleged coverup of the Watergate issue.

Johnson said the 15th District impeachment petitions aren't just a Democratic Party effort to get Nixon out of office or a partisan effort.

He and Mrs. Shivers said much of their support has come from Republicans and former Nixon supporters.

Although the Democratic Party has gone on record as endorsing the petition drive, the party has yet to financially support the campaign.

Even organized labor has yet to help the state committee.

Johnson said the United Auto Workers has donated $50 while the AFL-CIO has donated office space in Detroit for the state group.

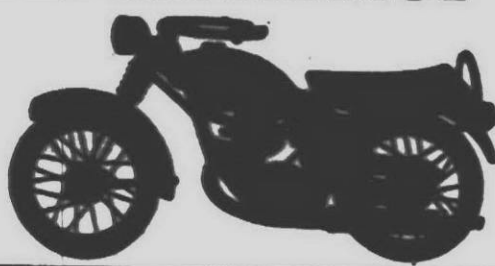

Johnson said that many Democrats feel that the problem is just a Republican issue for that party to resolve.

But many Republicans feel the issue is hurting their party and working for Nixon's impeachment.

County studies youth agency funding

In deciding the feasibility of a single agency to coordinate all youth services in Wayne County, a committee of public officials and experts established to study the question will concentrate on problems of planning and funding.

The head of the committee, County Commissioner Mary E. Dumas (R - Livonia) said, "The planning for youth services and the allocation of dollars is a fragmented operation among several agencies under jurisdiction of county government."

Mrs. Dumas commented after an April 1 meeting with representatives of various county agencies and departments, including the courts system, the Community Mental Health Services Board, the Intermediate School District, the County Referral Center, Juvenile Facilities Network and the Board of Health, among others.

She said the group examined the services that each agency provides to youth clients, and their need to refer to other agencies for additional services.

Mrs. Dumas was named head of the study committee by County Board Chairman Robert E. FitzPatrick, who also appointed Commissioners Brian G. Arrowsmith (R - Plymouth) and Edward K. Michalski (D - Detroit) to serve on the committee.

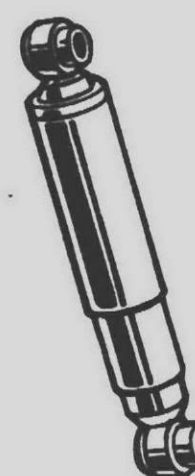

Mrs. Dumas and Commissioner Tom F. Taylor (D - Westland) are sponsors of the resolution adopted by the Board which authorized the study.

Both Mrs. Dumas and Taylor are members of the Board's Human Resources Committee, which acts as liaison between youth agencies and the board.

Mrs. Dumas said the group concluded there is some overlap of duplication of services.

'Let's keep small town atmosphere'

BY SHERRY KAHAN

PLYMOUTH — Margaret Mead had to travel more than 4,000 miles to the island of Samoa in order to make an impact on the world of sociology.

Four students at Plymouth - Salem High School are hoping to do the same without stepping one inch outside the city limits.

Sandy Cooper, Gail McKenny, Marguerite McKenzie, and Greg Merriman recently completed a survey for their advanced sociology class which they hope will make an impression on the powers - that - be in Plymouth.

In a nutshell, the survey revealed that residents of Plymouth for the most part did not want the city to grow. They hope their city will keep the small town atmosphere that attracted them in the first place.

Many persons interviewed were willing to accept limited and controlled growth, but feared that if it followed its present direction, their town would someday wind up like so many others, industrialized and heavily populated.

Earlier this year while looking for a class project, the four students opted for a survey of the attitudes of the people of Plymouth about their town at the suggestion of Greg, whose father, Earl Merriman is a member of the city planning commission. The idea came to Greg after he viewed movies of the town taken in 1940.

After preliminary planning and formulating a list of what they believed were satisfactory questions, the students began to interview members of the community.

"In our department we feel that sociology is a living thing," said Kathy Chmielewski, the students' teacher. "We want our students to go out into the community and learn to be objective about it."

The students each specialized in an age group. Gail studied those between the ages of 14 - 16, a group expected to live in the community for at least a few more years. Marguerite specialized in those between the ages of 17 and 20, the age that many young people go away to college or to find employment.

Sandy Cooper carried her survey sheets to individuals between 20 and 40, usually the newer residents in town, and Greg visited those 41 years of age and older, often those who had lived longest in Plymouth.

In general they found people cooperative, although a few acted hurried.

"When I went into Canton Township they practically dragged me in the door to tell me their gripes," said Sandy. "They expressed a great deal of resentment toward the merchants of Plymouth because they felt these merchants resented them."

Sandy also became aware of such sociological reactions as a tendency on the part of dwellers within Plymouth to look down on those living outside the town.

"One lady who lived for many years in town said that her family was extremely upset when she moved outside the town," she said.

The people she met in Canton also told her that Plymouth citizens seem to favor growth as long as the industry and developments come to Canton.

Greg found that the majority of those 41 and over with whom he left his surveys wanted Plymouth to remain a small town. Among those living here one to five years, twice as many wished it to remain as it is. Nine out of 13 of those living here five to 10 years agreed with them.

Of the 17 surveys filled out by those living here 10 to 20 years, 12 were against change and five were not. Greg noted that the latter were business people.

Of those in residence for over 20 years, the six who answered the question did not like change. Almost all of the age group Greg interviewed planned to remain in the community.

"Before the survey we all felt that the 17 - 20 age group would be very unconcerned about what was happening around here," said Marguerite. "After all, many of them will be leaving this area before long."

However, she found them very concerned and willing to express themselves strongly. To the question of how they felt about the changes since 1969, most of them felt negatively.

Of the group living in the city one year to five, nine out of 13 had a bad feeling about the changes. Of those who lived here five to 10 years, 16 felt negatively and none felt good. Nine of those in residence for 11 to 16 years felt bad and none felt good about changes.

By high majorities those interviewed felt theirs was no longer a truly colonial town with a small town atmosphere. Very few of them liked the direction the city was moving as far as such things as expressways and high population were concerned.

Residents of six years and more felt bad about the changes, 14 to 6, with seven indifferent. Seven thought of it as a colonial town, 10 as a city. Seven thought it was changing and three were indifferent about it.

One significant point emerges from the interviews with the youth of Plymouth. Few plan to remain in the community. The intent to depart was particularly high among the group between 17 and 20. Discounting the indifferent votes, those living here five years or less voted 12 to 2 for leaving.

Residents of five to 10 years indicated departure plans by a vote of 14 to 0, while of those living here from 11 to 16 years, six plan to move and one to stay.

"Since it seems to be impossible to stop growth, I like the idea of controlling it," said Greg.

Weigh consolidation against future taxes

All right, the consolidation study is out and there are only three weeks left before the May 7 consolidation election in Plymouth City and Township.

It's time for both sides to stop hiding behind their nebulous smoke screens of "better governmental efficiency" and the "rural township atmosphere."

Let's see some real out in the open discussion of the single issue that blocks consolidation — the tax rate which the new, consolidated city must levy to provide needed services.

The report by the Michigan State University Institute for Community Development estimates the unified city would have to levy 9.7 mills.

And therein lies the rub. Plymouth Township currently levies 3.28 mills and it doesn't take an Albert Einstein to figure out that 9.7 mills is about three times as high.

So the anti-consolidation folks will just sit back and talk about how nice their country roads are, implying that the first act of the consolidated city would be to pave everything in sight, when all along they know the tax rate issue is quietly smiling over their shoulders.

Of course, the pro-consolidation folks will bring out the MSU report's estimate that the township tax rate doesn't include refuse pickup, police protection and assorted other services currently offered by the city.

But the anti-consolidationists retort that things aren't bad in the township — everyone seems to be getting along OK.

What the anti-consolidationists don't talk about is the future, other than to say something like, "If the people want more services they can vote additional millage."

W W WITH M M ALICE T TOWARD N N ONE

By W. Edward WENDOVER

They lose sight, however, that the trend they're encouraging now in getting township voters to vote down consolidation with one hand on their wallets is likely to continue.

In the days of the taxpayers' revolt that stymies schools, can the township realistically expect to get a vote to increase millage?

It is important that voters think about current tax rates. But they should also think about their future tax rates and the level of governmental services they can expect.

Take, for example, the citizens' study committee on police protection in the township which hasn't released its report yet and probably won't until after the consolidation election.

According to the MSU researchers who talked to Col. Fred Davids, head of that citizens study committee on police, the committee is considering two proposals that the township begin its own police force.

The estimated costs of the two plans are 1.54 mills and 1.84 mills.

Should the township board decide that's the answer, where is the money going to come from?

It's going to come out of the pockets of those who are voting against consolidation because it would cost more money.

As the township matures and more services are needed — such as a third fire station in the western portion of the township — they'll be asked to contribute even more in taxes. Already the township fire department costs more each year to operate than is raised from the voted .5 mill.

Let's see the two sides on consolidation argue out this point in the next three weeks.

If you're going to vote on consolidation, read the MSU study or read about it. It looks into the future, and ideally shouldn't we plan for the future?

Then let's have some discussion on the issue of the tax rate — now and what it might be in the future.

It would be a shame to see the consolidation issue fail just because the tax issue was looked at narrowly.

That would be a blind vote on the part of those whose heads were in their wallet pocket — or thereabouts.

The Stroller On eating habits

You possibly never have paid much attention to it, but we humans have some very strange eating habits.

This came to The Stroller's attention again the other day at luncheon before we got beyond the soup course.

One of the chaps, for instance, broke his crackers into the soup and asked for a second helping. Then he broke the second order into the broth and stirred the entire contents until it looked like a bowl of green cement.

The chap at his side went to the other extreme. He didn't break the crackers into the broth. Instead he'd take a bite of the cracker and then a spoonful of the soup — with the thought that never the twain shall meet until they reached his stomach.

The third chap was a combination of the other two. He'd take a bite of the cracker and quickly add a spoonful of the soup before he'd start masticating the contents. Then there was the fourth lad. He had no use for the crackers. He brushed them aside and was content with the broth alone.

These eating habits always have fascinated The Stroller. Well he remembers, as a young lad, how his Pennsylvania Dutch grandfather solved the problem of eating stewed peas without having them drop from his spoon to the table or to the floor.

On this particular Sunday, with the entire family in attendance, he had the misfortune of dropping more than a few peas. Before they hit the floor The Stroller's kindly old grandmother admonished him for setting a bad example for the children.

Granddad never said a word in rebuttal. He simply took a helping of potatoes, mashed them and then covered them with the peas. This done, he ate the combination with a fork — and nary a pea fell.

Would you believe it — he set the style that has been a custom in our family through the years. The custom isn't confined to peas, either. The Stroller wouldn't think of eating sweet corn tidbits without first spreading them over a helping of mashed potatoes.

The real laugh comes with sauerkraut.

While most folks who like sauerkraut eat it separately from their potatoes, The Stroller again uses a layer of mashed potatoes as a base, then covers them with the kraut and its juices. And that is a dainty dish fit to set before a Queen. But it never fails to cause a lot of eyebrow lifting and comments that it is an unusual habit.

The strangest eating habit The Stroller ever has seen was that of a big, robust fellow back home who was a great lover of Dutch apple pie — the kind with the crust on top. But, much as he liked it, he wouldn't think of eating a slice of it until he covered it with ketchup.

Watching him eat this combination always was a treat and he was one fellow who never could eat in private. He did the same when it came to oyster stew. He'd break the crackers in to the stew and then cover them with ketchup.

While we were discussing these habits the other day Jack Selle, the auto dealer who has spent much time in search of big game in Africa, told one of the strangest tales.

He told the group that when the big game is bagged and the task of dressing the animal is started the natives eagerly reach for the kidneys.

And they eat them while they are still warm," Jack confided.

As most every one at the table shuddered at the mere thought of this practice, it reminded The Stroller of the day he was enjoying an order of pickled tongue — one of his favorite dishes.

"I couldn't think of eating that," his companion said. "Why, it comes out of a cow's mouth."

Then he ordered a couple of eggs. Strange, we humans.

These kids were super

EDITOR:

People hear so many things about how bad the kids of today are with the drinking and dope situation in our schools.

Well, I would like to say we had 72 SUPER KIDS from our Plymouth schools for a cast party at our home after the play, "Oklahoma," and I never met such a fine, well behaved bunch of kids. They did all the work preparing for this party and all shared expenses. They are welcome in our home any time.

Maybe a few more parents should get involved with these kids and see what a fine group of young people we have.

Ford surveying his constituents

U.S. Rep. William D. Ford (D-Taylor) has begun distributing his annual public opinion questionnaire among residents of his 15th District, which includes Westland, Garden City and part of Canton Township.

The questionnaire will be mailed to each of the 150,000 homes in the district. The results will be tabulated by volunteer workers in Ford's 15th District office and announced by early summer.

"This year's questions emphasize two of the nation's primary concerns at this time — the energy crisis and the proposed impeachment of President Nixon," says Ford. Other questions deal with inflation, anti-pollution measures, troop reduction in Europe, and federal spending.

Retarded teens enjoy recreation with 'buddies'

BY MARGARET MILLER

A "buddy system" is recommended this year by the National Association for Retarded Children as it seeks to increase membership rolls and abet interest in the problems of the retarded.

The idea is to have each active member enroll another — a "buddy."

But within the Northwest Communities Association for Retarded Children, the branch of the national encompassing Redford Township, Plymouth, Garden City, Livonia and Northville, buddies have another connotation too.

The word "buddy," besides use in seeking new members, makes present ones think of the activity nights and swim program the NCARC sponsors for its young people.

On Friday evenings in the Livonia Family Y you can regularly see plenty of activity, games, relays, fun on the mats.

Participants are retarded teens and their "buddies," volunteers who come each week to join them in the fun.

For most of the retarded kids, the evening is a highlight for the week — a place to go and build friendships.

And that's true for most of the volunteers, too.

"I demand Friday nights off work," said Pat Rooney, a young woman who works in a bookstore and has been a volunteer with retarded youngsters since she was in junior high.

She's nearly always on hand the three Fridays in the month when the sports program is held in the Family Y, and she comes also on the one Friday each month when the NCARC sponsors a dance at the Cooper Annex School, Ann Arbor Trail and Middle Belt, in Livonia.

Jerry Driscoll, a sophomore at Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit, and one of the volunteers who have pretty much taken over the Family Y program this year, agreed.

"The kids call you back," he said. "I had to skip two Fridays because of some other commitments, and I really missed coming."

Tom Novack, a Northwest Communities member who helped begin the program last year and still lends his supervision, said it was his observation that "the volunteers have as much fun as our kids."

Anyone watching on a typical Friday night would have to agree.

Between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. the atmosphere is strictly one of enjoyment of physical activity and comradely encouragement.

"It's not easy to tell which kids are which," someone remarked.

Novack and Bob Brooks formed the activity night program and did most of the planning and whistle-blowing last year.

Then they suggested some of the volunteers take over the direction. The group, including several seminarians from Sacred Heart and St. John Provincial Academy in Plymouth, was glad to comply.

Jerry Driscoll and Pat Rooney agreed the number of volunteers now participating has increased to the point where "we could handle a lot more kids."

"We hope more will start coming," Driscoll said. "If parents or other volunteers will get them here, we'll show them a good time."

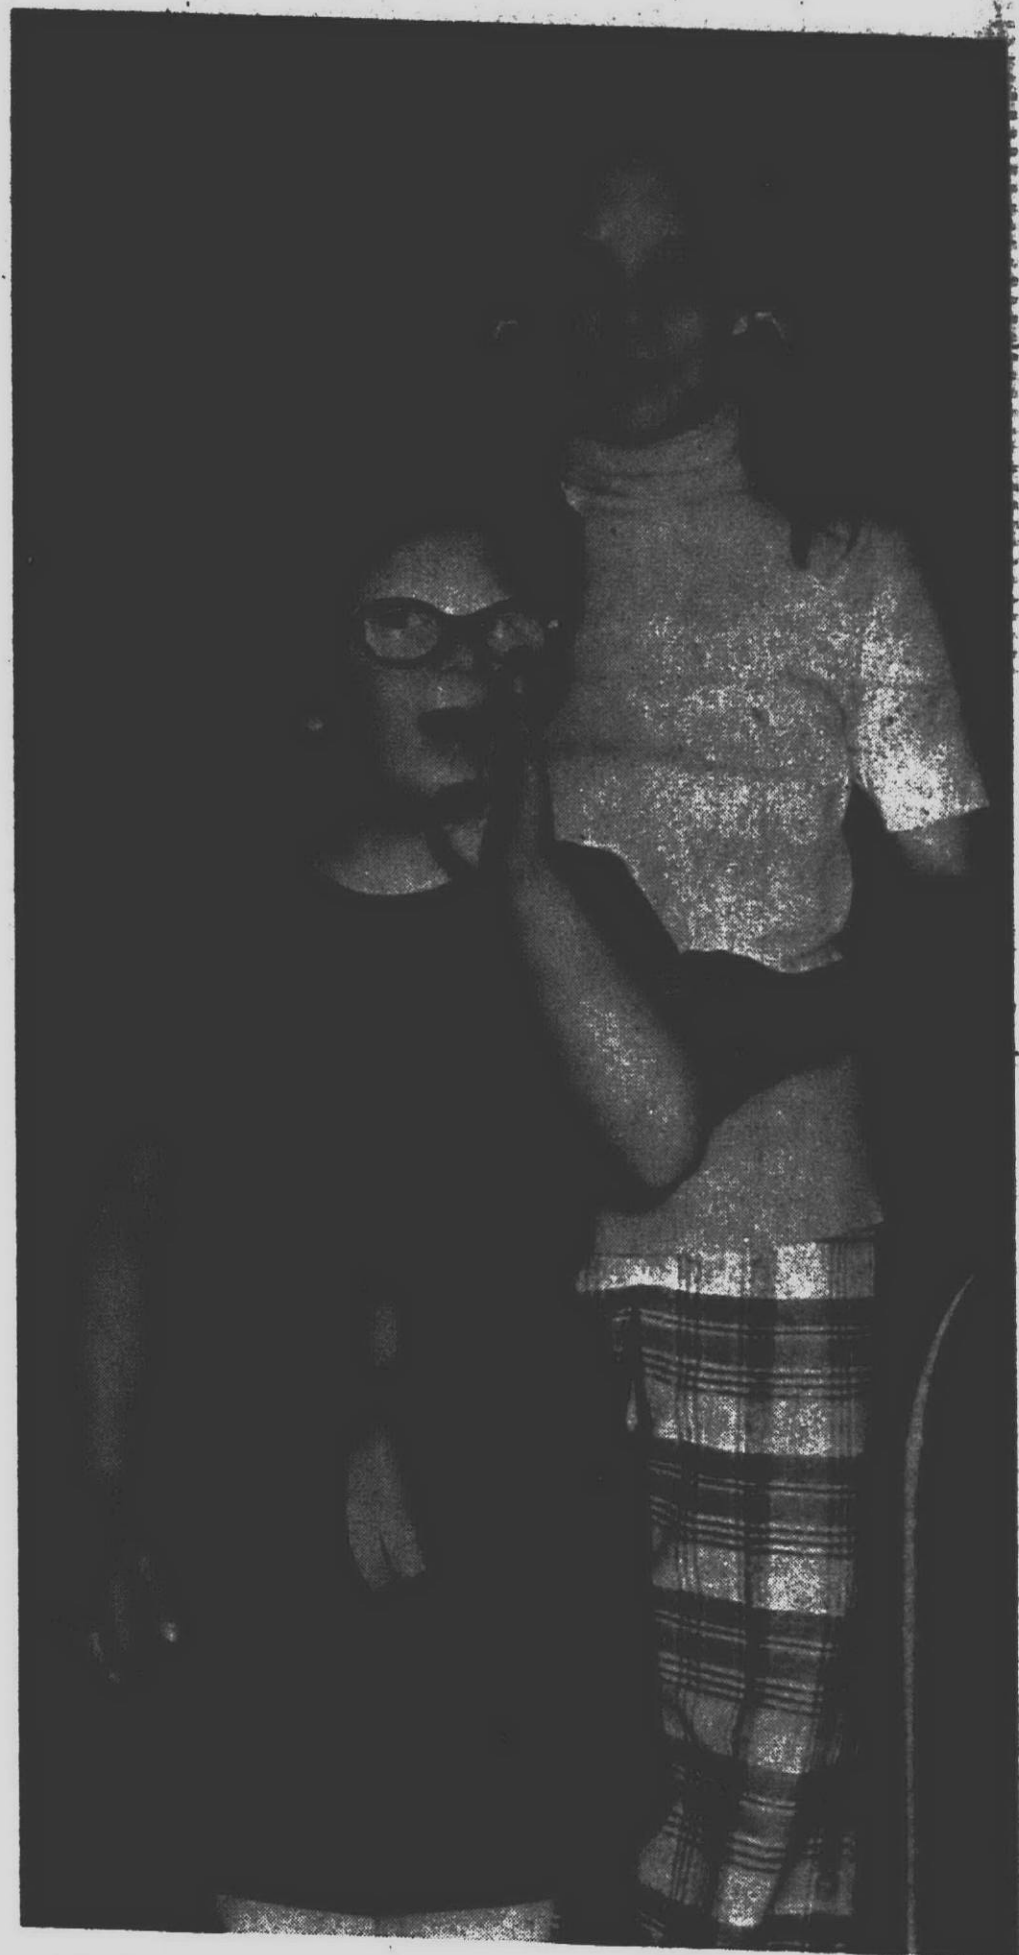

Also part of the NCARC program, and again making good use of the buddy system, is a swim time for handicapped held Saturday mornings in the Livonia Family Y.

This activity brings teens and younger children too. Again, volunteers help and double the fun.

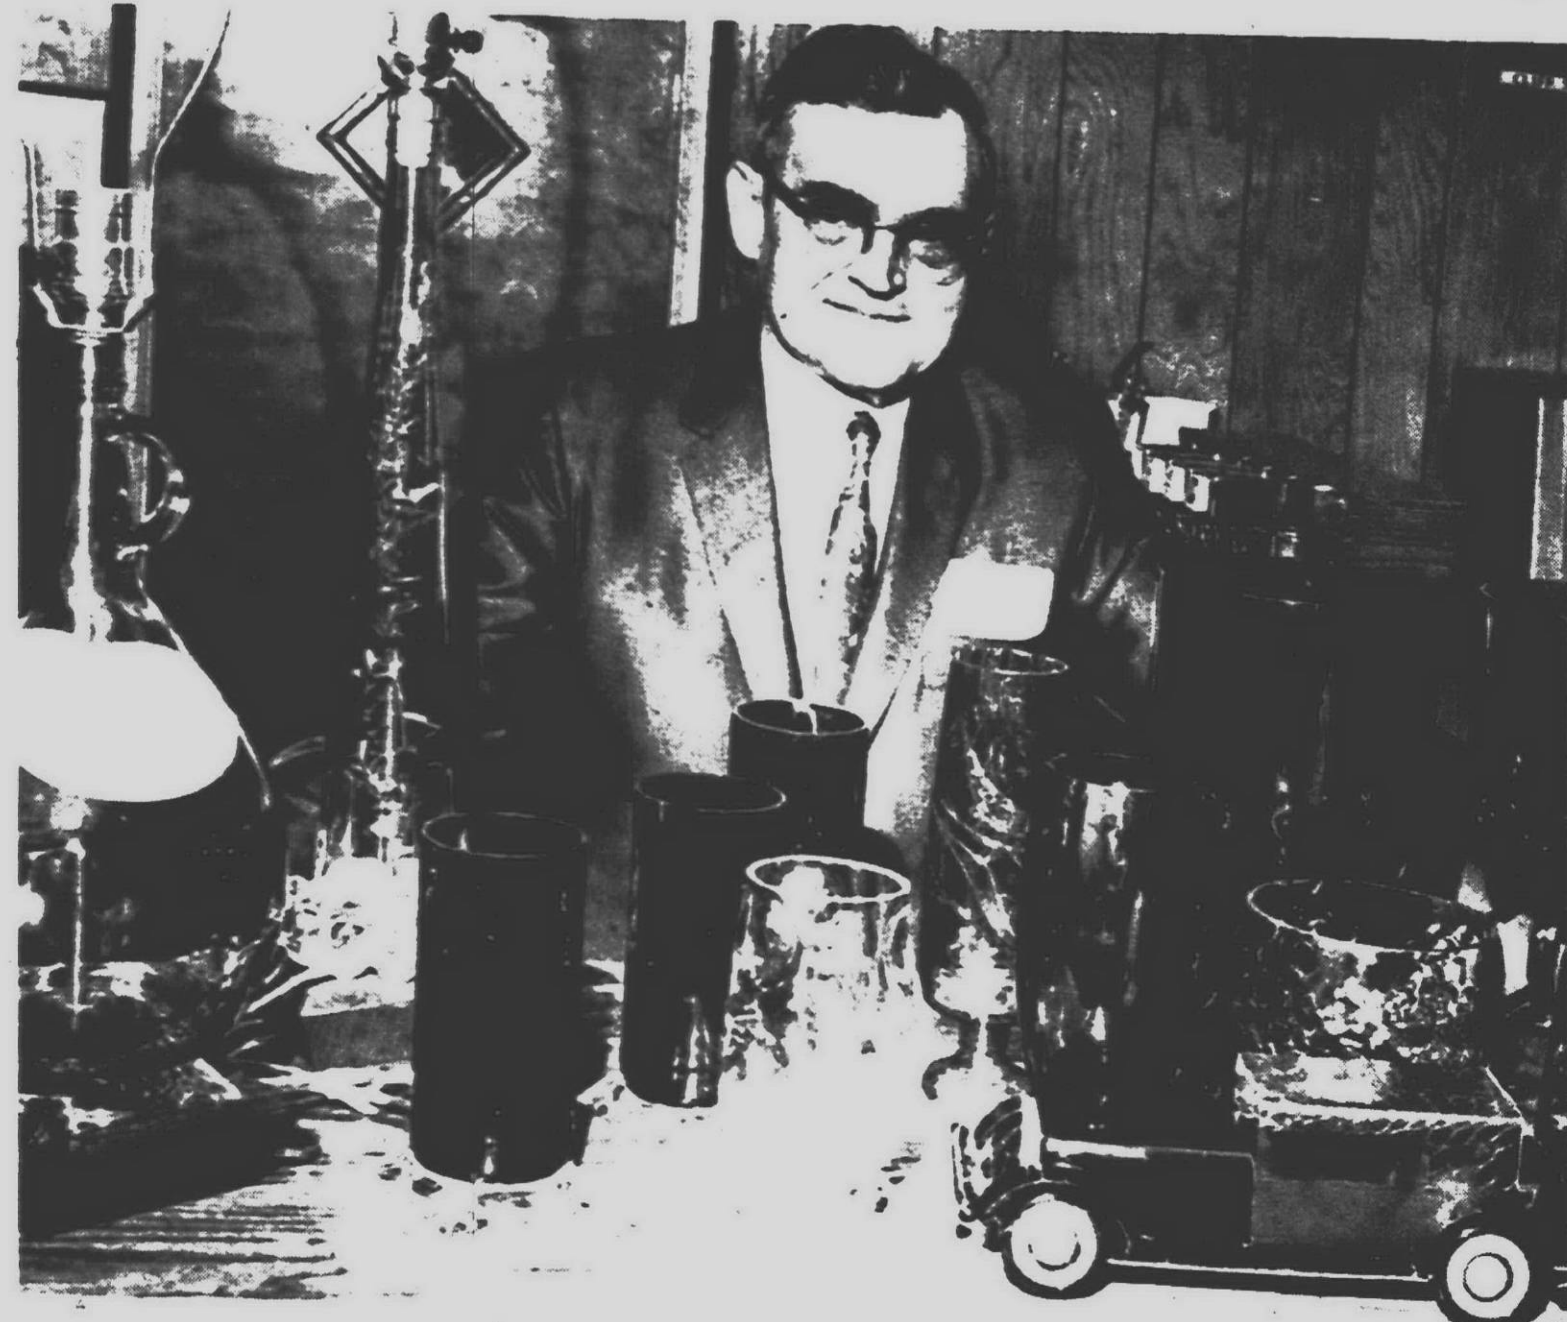

"Our association is very grateful for the opportunity it gives our chil-

Redford recycling center provides hobby materials

BY MARGARET MILLER

Locomotive engines and touring cars as well as lamps, goblets and vases come from the treasure store at the Redford Township Recycling Center.

All are crafted from the bottles to be found there by Chester Skolasinski, a Dearborn Heights retiree.

Skolasinski made the containers that held luncheon flowers for a recent meeting of the Michigan Beautification Commission, hosted by its Redford members in the Disabled American Veterans hall. He also, for that meeting, put up a display of his widely assorted craft projects that begin with bottles.

He felt it was the least he could do. The recycling center that township volunteers operate on Beech - Daly south of Schoolcraft provides him with most of the materials he needs for a fascinating hobby.

"I spend a day a week at the center, looking through the bottles for ones I can use," he said.

Colored glass bottles, oddly shaped ones, and those of an unusual size are the ones he seeks. Or the tiny bottle that might be just right for the wheel of a model train.

Skolasinski has a special glass cutter he made so he can fashion a variety of craft items.

Numerous are the assorted glasses and vases that start as beer and wine bottles — Ripple bottles make especially pretty ones, he points out.

But more attention - getting are the car and train models he fashions from the cast-off bottles and a few other bits of salvage material.

Pictures in books and magazines gave him the models for the car and train engines.

Skolasinski's touring car started with a square whiskey bottle and used some plate glass, also from the recycling center, as a base. Tiny bottles fashioned the wheels and other appointments.

Pill bottles were used for the smokestacks of the train locomotives. They also sport chains made of plastic from popsicle sticks.

It is these special needs, he said, that lead to the long visits to the recycling center.

"Also, I have to have a supply of various bottles," he added. "Sometimes I break four or five before I get a good one."

The only expensive part of the hobby is the glue needed, Skolasinski said. The special kind he uses costs $2 for 120 drops. He also figures it costs about $5 for the electrical parts for a bottle lamp.

Mrs. Skolasinski said bottles tend to accumulate in the basement since her husband retired from the Ford Motor Co. and began his glass work, but she thinks it is a great hobby.

"It keeps me out of my wife's hair," Skolasinski explained.

In Plymouth

AAUW wants books

Do you happen to be up to your broomhandles in spring cleaning? Moving to a new home soon? Perhaps you're an environmentalist interested in recycling your discards or a dedicated bookworm hoping to find a good home for your well-read literary treasures.

If so, members of the Plymouth branch of the American Assn. of University Women are looking especially for you as they search for good used books for their 20th annual book sale to be held May 2, 3 and 4 at Westland Center.

Sheila Norgren, sale chairman, indicated that good books, paperbacks, magazines, sheet music and records in useable condition are still needed.

A permanent collection box has been placed in the Dunning - Hough Library in Plymouth for the year-round convenience of contributors. Other collection points include Great Scott, Wrigley's, Forest Place Mall in Plymouth and Chatham's in Northville.

Persons interested in having books picked up at their homes may contact the assistant sale chairman, Mrs. John Osborne, 38979 Ross, Livonia.

AAUW members have been collecting, sorting, and marking books since early last fall and now have nearly 10,000 books ready for the three-day sale.

Proceeds will be donated by the Plymouth branch to the National AAUW Fellowship Fund, which awards fellowship grants and stipends to outstanding American and foreign women for doctoral study and and post-doctoral research.

However, a third course will be offered in May, he said, and there are a few vacancies in that one, he added.

"We'll run as many as necessary to make the information available to all women interested," he said. "The response has been just tremendous."

The course runs three weeks and is free. Registration at the store is required. Service mechanics are working with the manager to teach women how to deal with minor car problems and give their cars better care.

The alcohol industry is preparing the way for metric conversion

The beverage alcohol industry is one of the latest to begin making plans for conversion to the metric system of measurement.

The Distilled Spirits Council of the United States, Inc. (DISCUS) has submitted a request to the U.S. Treasury Dept.'s bureau of alcohol, tobacco and firearms to establish metric standards of fill for distilled spirits.

Malcolm B. Harris, executive vice president of DISCUS, says there is an urgent need for metric conversion. Reasons he cited included:

Metric measurement is either being used or is in the process of conversion in every major country of the world except the U.S.

The European Economic Community, and many countries which cooperate with it, are planning to restrict the sale of distilled spirits to metric sizes as soon as agreement on an effective date can be reached.

Several bills are pending in Congress to commit the nation to metric conversion within the next few years; and,

To compete in foreign markets, and also with metric sizes imported here from foreign shippers, U.S. distillers and bottlers must start a conversion program as soon as possible.

France and West Germany have established Jan. 1, 1974, as the effective date for restricting sale of alcohol to metric sizes only within their boundaries.

Even after metric sizes are adopted, an optional period of several years will be needed to manufacture new containers and complete the changeover.

At the present time, Harris explains, DISCUS has recommended only five sizes. "We feel it necessary to limit the number to minimize consumer confusion and to reduce wholesalers' and retailers' warehousing and shelf problems."

"Consequently, we have selected metric sizes which closely correspond to the present most popular U.S. sizes. Each of these converts to a simple fraction of liters which will further facilitate consumer understanding."

In addition, the recommended sizes will provide a uniform number of bottles per case, such as 12, 24 or 48 bottles. Federal and state tax computations will also be simplified, says Harris, because each case will contain either nine or 12 liters.

Harris explains that distillers have had this matter under study for more than two years. He expresses the hope that members of the industry's various associations will support efforts to obtain the necessary amend-

Egnor backs impeachment of Nixon

Ronald W. Egnor opened his campaign for Congress in the 2nd District by calling for the impeachment of President Nixon.

Egnor, 31, an Ypsilanti attorney, is seeking the Democratic nomination in the 2nd District, which includes Livonia, Plymouth and Northville in Wayne County, eastern Washtenaw County and Monroe County.

Egnor spoke at an announcement party in an Ann Arbor hotel just as Nixon was departing Michigan's Thumb area after stumping for 8th District GOP candidate James Sparling. Said Egnor:

"When 17 top presidential aides can be indicted — and several, convicted — for crimes ranging from power peddling to the denial of basic civil rights, Nixon must answer for it."

"When the president of the United States has questionable tax deductions of nearly $500,000, he must answer for it."

"And when lying becomes the norm — when a White House official can say what he said yesterday is 'inoperative' — then it is time for Nixon and his supporters to answer to the American people."

State 1974 maps being distributed

The 1974 official transportation map of Michigan is now being distributed by the Michigan Dept. of State Highways and Transportation.

The "transportation" map replaces the traditional official highway map, in line with the new responsibilities of the highway commission to develop a "total transportation" system for Michigan.

The new version includes the traditional highway map, with numerous updates and revisions, but also features a miniature outline map showing other major transportation facilities such as airports, water ports, AMTRAK rail lines and international rail interchange points.

The map provides a broad range of useful facts and information on Michigan, including: pictures of the state flag, state tree (white pine), state stone (Potoskey), state gem (greenstone), state bird (robin), state flower (apple blossom), and state fish (trout).

It also has notes on Michigan speed limits, historical markers, bridge and tunnel facilities and tolls, ferry lines, State Police posts, district highway department offices, and an index to cities and villages with population figures.

For the first time, the map shows townships with populations of more than 50,000 — Redford Township in Wayne County and Waterford Township in Oakland County.

Post card requests should be mailed to: MAPS, Dept. of State Highways and Transportation, Lansing 48904.

New U-M program puts women in history with soldiers, presidents

"Women's contributions to world development must be recognized by more than a few paragraphs in history books."

That's the philosophy behind the year-old Women's Studies Program (WSP) at the University of Michigan, put into words by English Prof. Margaret Lourie, the unit's director.

"We must research and educate others about the importance of women," Prof. Lourie says. "Females have been as central to history as the soldiers, sailors and presidents we read about in text books."

The interdisciplinary women's studies program, which began last fall, offers three courses and cross-lists 12 from other departments. Ten faculty members teach classes about women, and a total of 500 students each term enroll in women-related courses at the U-M.

The newest feature of the program is a research journal, "University of Michigan Papers in Women's Studies," edited by students and faculty, which covers any discipline related to women. The first issue was published in February (230 pp., $2.25) and another is planned for April.

"The function of a separate women's discipline is partly remedial," says Prof. Lourie. "In most areas, women have been left out of study completely. We're trying to integrate information on women into courses in all departments."

Women's Studies is under the jurisdiction of the dean of the U-M College of Literature, Science and the Arts (LS&A). Faculty members for courses about women are from the departments of history, psychology, anthropology and English, among others.

"We modeled the program after the American Studies and Religious Studies programs in LS&A," Prof. Lourie says. "We benefit from the broad mix of course offerings in the various departments."

The pilot course for the program was offered in 1972-73, with help from the U-M Center for Research on Learning and Teaching. The University's Television Center and a grant from the LS&A Innovative Teaching Fund supported student projects in the broadcast media. The pilot class featured a teaching technique that has become central to the program's teaching philosophy: peer instruction.

Upper-level undergraduates with some background in women's studies instruct the sections, emphasizing interaction among students.

One of the three courses offered by the program is an introductory course which integrates approaches to feminism. It includes student group projects such as the weekly women's hour on the campus radio station.

"Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Women," another course, lets students examine one area of women's studies in depth. Sections last term focused on psychophysiology, and Indian, African and American women. One section, a feminist writing workshop, published a literary magazine at the end of the semester.

The third course is "Research on Women." Students are taught research techniques and pursue specific projects. This class organized and edits "University of Michigan Papers in Women's Studies."

Prof. Lourie says more courses will be cross-listed for the study of women next year, and she would like the program to expand and offer an undergraduate major.

"That would put the U-M in the vanguard of the women's studies movement nationally," she explains. Students now can construct an independent major if they want to concentrate in women's studies.

For students with degrees in women's studies, jobs possibilities include the media, and, after professional graduate training, law, social work and counseling.

Her fiancé, a graduate of Eastern Michigan University, is employed by the U-M food service department. A July 20 wedding is planned.

Finance expert talks to women

Thomas G. Gies, professor of finance at the University of Michigan Graduate School of Business Administration, will evaluate the youth market in an address Tuesday, April 16, at 11:45 a.m. at the Women's Economic Club of Detroit.

Recognized internationally as an expert economic analyst of capital markets and financial institutions, Gies will speak in the ballroom of the Veterans Memorial Building.

He counsels many governmental bodies as well as commercial and industrial firms. Through his profession, personal contacts with students and his familiarity with the financial patterns developing in the youth economy, he has claimed that the group under the age of 26 is the dominant consumer force and will soon be the majority force in the labor market of this country.

In his speech Gies will explain how youth investing patterns will drastically affect the economy of the seventies.

Anyone wishing to make luncheon reservation may contact Florence Kenyon at the Women's Economic Club of Detroit.

County offers parent classes

To help prepare people for parenthood, the Wayne County Department of Health has scheduled two series of classes.

Beginning Wednesday, April 17, one series will start at the Wayne County Health Center on Merriman, just north of Michigan. The other series will begin Monday April 15, at the Bates Elementary School, 22811 Gudith, Woodhaven.

Conducted by public health nurses from the department of health, the classes will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. once a week for six consecutive weeks.

Because the size of the groups will be limited, interested persons are advised to register as early as possible by contacting the Wayne County Department of Health.

"If the women's movement is very successful in promoting changes in laws and social attitudes, perhaps - in the future - there will be no need for a separate study of women. That isn't likely to happen very soon, however," Prof. Lourie says.

"Women's Studies is useful because it views women's problems in different perspectives than the traditional disciplines do," she adds. "There are aesthetic and biographical links between women authors, for example, that have never been examined before now."

"Women see things differently. Through programs like this, we can focus on different aspects of feminism and integrate the information we collect into the whole culture."

Churchill trackmen nip Borgess, 62-61

The Churchill Chargers are on the cinder warpath.

After dropping their '74 track opener to Bentley, 63-60, Churchill has roared back with impressive wins over Franklin, the always tough Bishop Borgess and Plymouth Canton.

Churchill's Bob Mendoza stole the show in the nipping of Borgess as the 5-foot-8 Charger senior took first in the 100 yard dash, the 180 low hurdles and the 220 yard dash.

In these three winning times, Mendoza broke two school records and tied a third. His two record setting clockings came in the 100 yard dash in :10.1 and in the low hurdles with a time of :19.2.

The :22.7 time in the 220 yard dash tied a school mark.

The Western Six opener against Canton saw Charger Coach Fred Price utilize his "second stringers" and they came up with three of four firsts in the field events, a 440 relay win, and a first place sweep of the eight running events. Meet results:

'74 state prep baseball assigned district pairings

The weather may not be the most co-operative but according to the calendar, the 1974 prep baseball season is upon us.

And with the opening pitch of the new campaign comes the announcement of the state tourney sites and pairings.

There is a total of 64 district sites in the state, four in each class. State championship day has been set for June 15 this season. Pontiac Northern High School is the site of the Class A finals, Marshall High the Class B, Flint High School for Class C and Class D play is scheduled for Mt. Pleasant.

The 17 area schools find themselves in seven different districts, four Class A, two Class B, and one Class C.

The solo Class C contender in the area is St. Agatha in Redford Township which will join Birmingham Country Day, St. Clement, East Catholic, Servite, St. Florian, St. Ladislaus, Lutheran East and Pontiac Catholic in the Centerline St. Clement High School district.

Plymouth Canton and Livonia Clarenceville are assigned to Class B sites. Clarenceville will be pitted against Divine Child, Riverside, Robichaud, Lutheran West, St. Mary of Redford, Ecorse, Inkster, Madison, River Rouge and Royal Oak Shrine in the Madison High School district.

The first year Chiefs of Plymouth Canton have been assigned to the South Lyon district where Coach Fred Crissey will be up against Brighton, Fenton, Lake Fenton, Hartland, Holly, Linden, Novi, Pinckney and South Lyon.

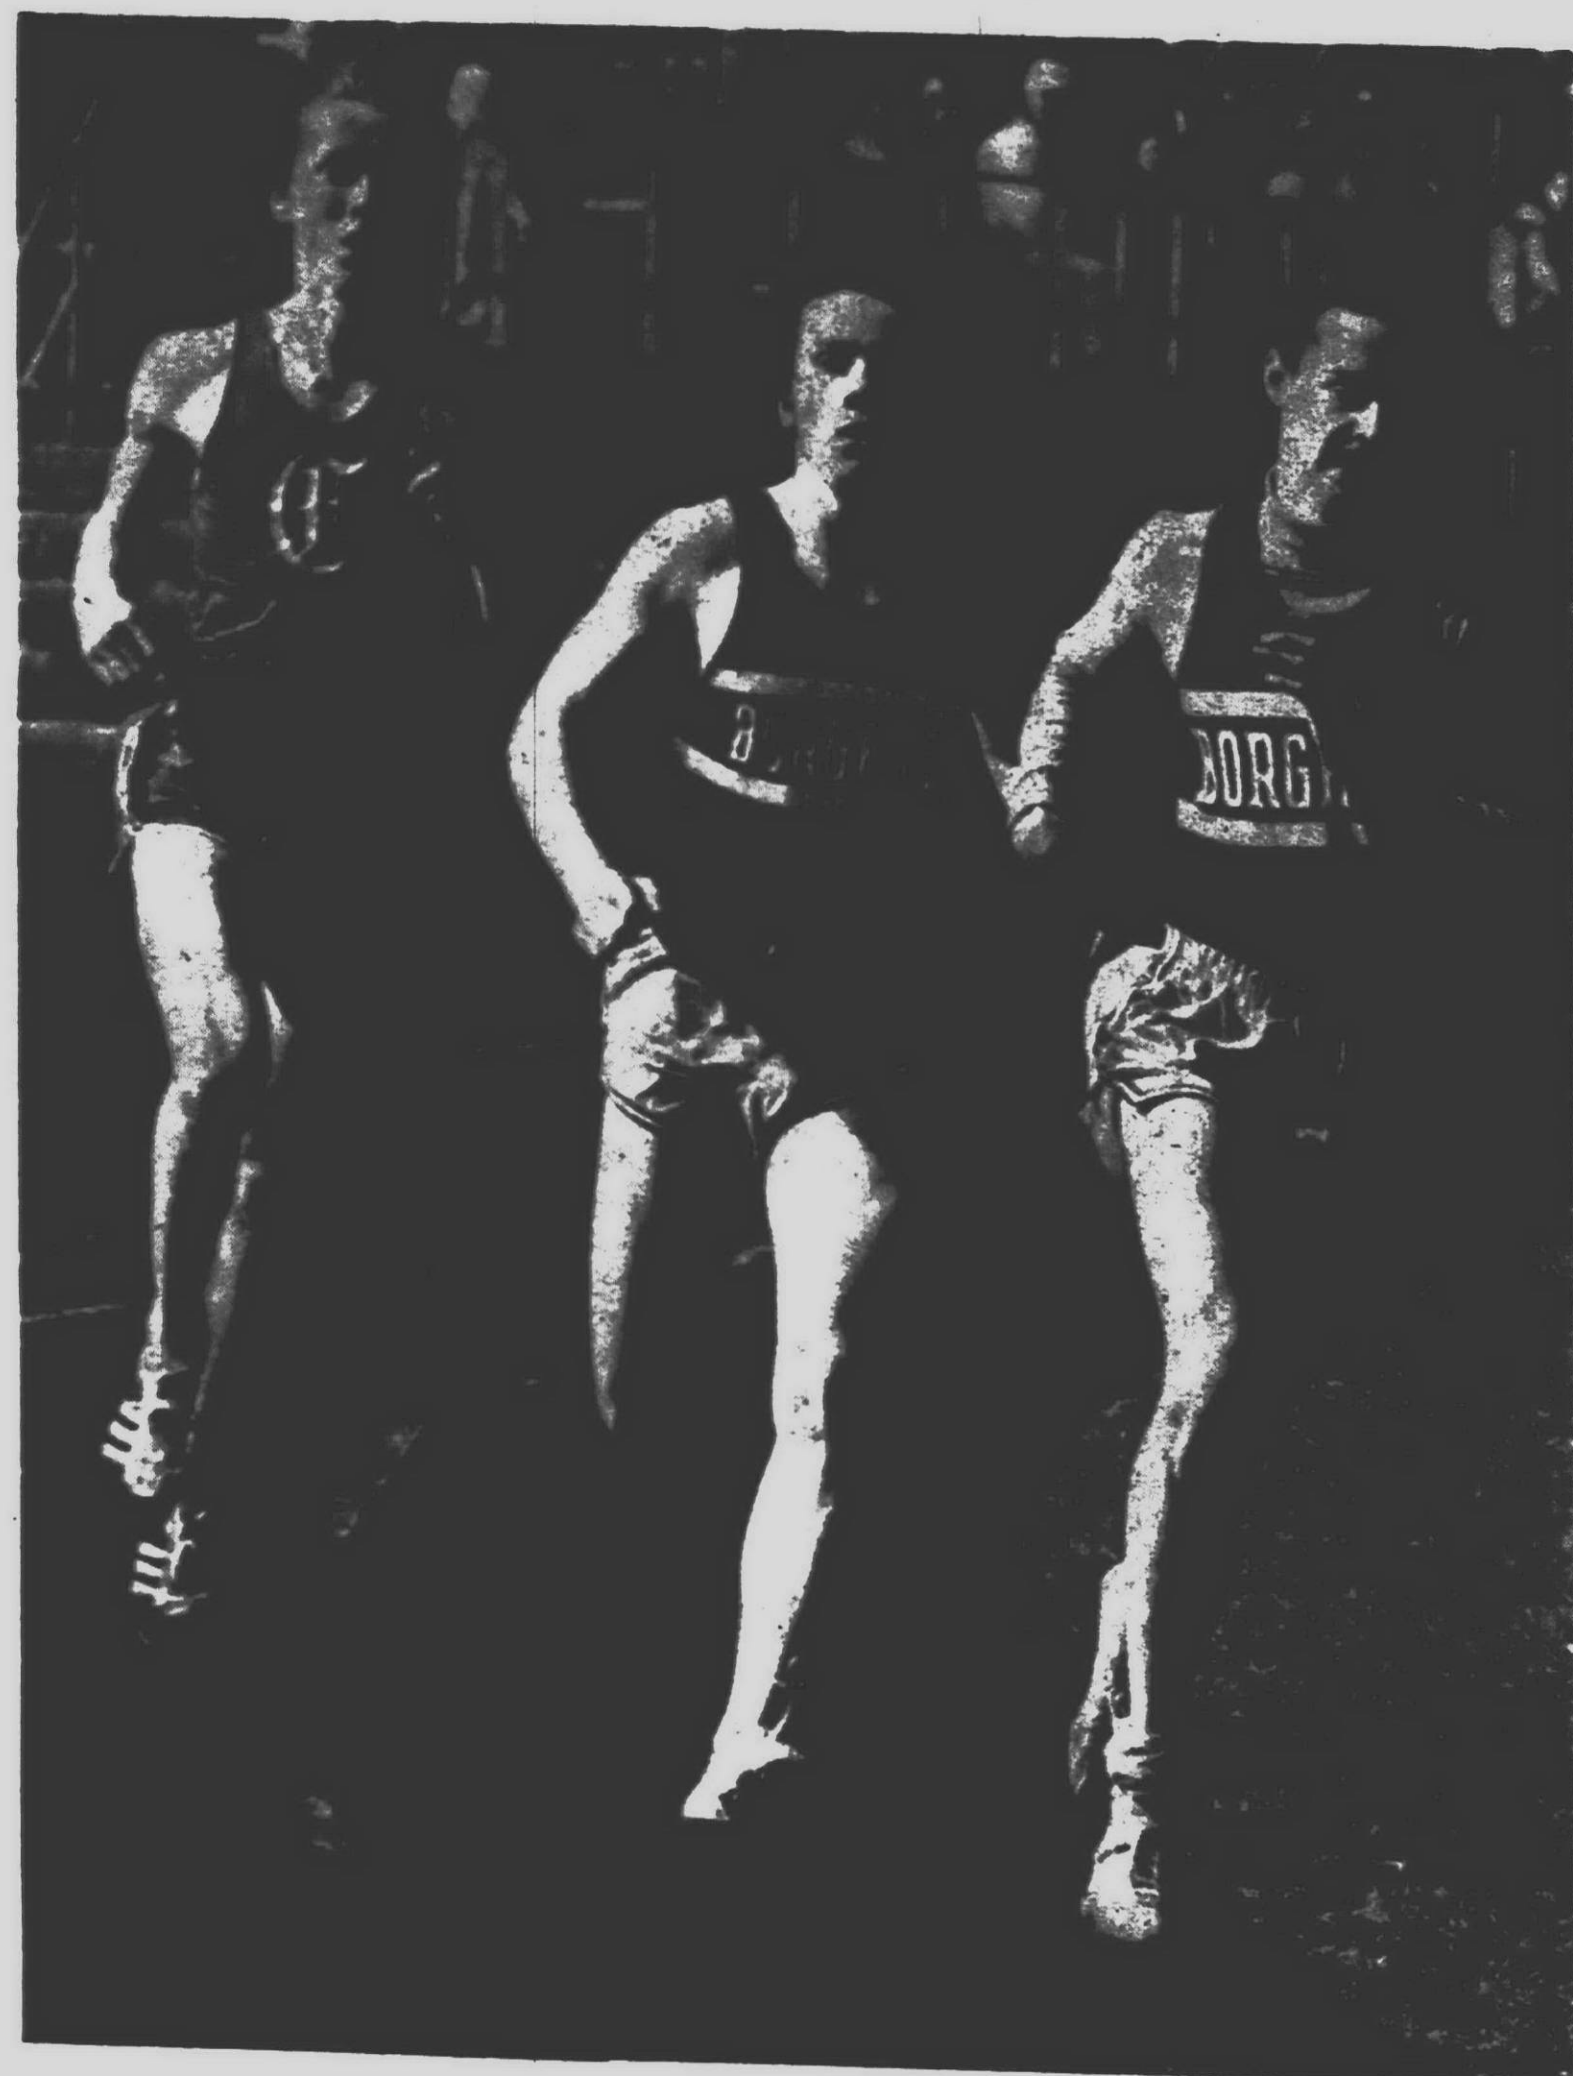

That takes us to Class A competition where seven area teams find themselves in the Southfield High district. It will be Farmington, Farmington Harrison, North Farmington, Bentley, Churchill, Franklin, Stevenson, Milford, Northville, West Bloomfield, Southfield, Walled Lake Central and Walled Lake Western in action.

Bob Atkins' Redford Union squad is the lone area contender in the Detroit Redford district. RU will find itself up against Catholic Central, Cooley, Detroit Ford, Mackenzie, Mumford, Detroit Redford, University of Detroit High, Highland Park and Oak Park.

Four area prep squads are involved in the Dearborn High district. Bishop Borgess, Thurston, Garden City East and West will be pitted against Dearborn, Edsel Ford, Fordson, Ann Arbor, Crestwood, Cody and Cherry Hill.

The Belleville High district site has two area squads in Plymouth Salem and Westland John Glenn. These clubs will be up against Adrian, Ann Arbor Huron, Ann Arbor Pioneer, Belleville, Monroe, Romulus, Temperance Bedford, Wayne Memorial and Ypsilanti.

HEADING INTO THE FIRST TURN with the half mile event lead is Bishop Borgess' Ken Yates followed by teammate John Moxlow and Churchill's Ken Landini. Yates won the event with a clocking of 2:00.1. (Staff photo by Tom Donoghue)

Canton blanks Brighton, tips Harrison in 9th

The Canton baseballers are turning the tables on what has been a losing season in every sport around Plymouth Chief territory.

In this, the year without a senior class, Canton opened its baseball campaign with a 5-0 win over Brighton and a Western Six loop victory over Farmington Harrison, 2-1.

Coach Fred Crissey has to be smiling these days with hopes of becoming the first winner at Canton. The Chiefs host Novi today (Monday) in a doubleheader and Walled Lake Western next Monday in a 4 p.m. loop contest.

Bill Parson and Chris Martucci worked the Canton mound in the five run opening triumph. Parson went the first three innings and gave up one hit in picking up the win, striking out three.

Martucci worked the final four innings, also allowed one hit, and struck out five.

Canton's first tally of the season came in the third when Mike Verduce singled, was sacrificed to second, stole third and scampered in on a passed ball.

The Chiefs upped it to 3-0 in the fourth. Tom Close, Parson and Paul Major drew walks, Dave Brink singled and a balk made it 3-0.

A single by Brian Stemberger, walk to Martucci, sacrifice by Close and hit by Verduce finished off the offensive show.

The nine inning Western Six opener saw Crissey call on his same two hurlers in Parson and Martucci.

Parson worked the first 5 1/2 innings, allowed one hit, walked none and struck out six. Martucci went the final 3 1/2 innings and chalked up the win, giving up one hit, walking one and striking out two.

Ken Hammer suffered the defeat for Harrison. The Hawk hurler gave up six hits and struck out 13.

Harrison drew first blood with a solo tally in the sixth on a walk, sacrifice and two-bagger.

Canton tied it up in the seventh. Verduce singled, was sacrificed to second by Close and moved to third when Parson grounded out. Then with two outs, and two strikes on Bob Aytte, Verduce broke for the plate and Hammer balked giving Canton the tying run.

The Chiefs came up with the deciding score in the top of the ninth when Verduce singled and scored on a double by Close.

GC East no-hitter handcuffs Romulus

Mike Schmidtke made no mistake about it.

The 6-foot-1, 180 pound lefthander gave it all he had in his first outing in the '74 prep baseball campaign and out came sparked a no-hit pitching gem for Garden City East.

Schmidtke walked three and struck out 10 in the seven inning show. In fact, Romulus hit only two balls out of the infield, both gobbled up by the Panther defense.

The closest Romulus got to a base hit was in the third inning when second baseman Mike Lynch robbed a Romulus batsman of a hit up the middle when he made a backhand grab on the outfield grass and tossed to second for a force out.

East's offensive attack opened in the last of the third.

Todd Kleinbrook lofted a 350 foot shot over the centerfield fence and the Panthers were off to a 1-0 lead.

East pushed it to 3-0 in the fifth. With one out, John Adkins was safe on a two base error, Lou Willoughby singled him home and moved to second on a throw to the plate. Walt Noch then singled up the middle to score Willoughby.

A single by Paul Reed, a stolen base, single by Tim Whelan, a passed ball and another single by Jim Peter wrapped up the East scoring.

It was East's second victory in as many outings.

Churchill low hurdler clocks in at :19.2

By HANK MEIJER

In a meet last week with Bishop Borgess, Livonia Churchill hurdler Bob Mendoza set school records in the 180 - yard low hurdles and the 100 - yard dash and tied the record in the 220.

His time of 19.2 seconds in the lows is the fastest in the state thus far this year. It was only the second time he'd run the race.

And it all started as a joke.

Last year the now Charger senior was a long jumper. One afternoon after practice some of his teammates were playing around with the hurdles. Bob took some measured steps and managed to scramble rather nimbly over several.

Last fall knee problems forced his retirement from cross - country. Doctors told him long jumping would only irritate the injury.

Bob had done some sprinting last spring, and when he scraped over the hurdles just for fun Churchill track coach Fred Price was watching.

When Bob got the news that he couldn't long jump anymore, Price suggested he practice on the hurdles. For two hours every Saturday all winter long Price helped him work on his hurdle form.

"Nobody else thought I could make it as a hurdler," he said. "They just laughed, but the coach put in a lot of time with me."

In the ninth grade Bob was the fastest runner in his age group in Livonia. He never lost a race.

Track for Bob was his brother Mike's idea. "When I was in eighth grade I didn't want to go out," Bob said, "but my brother dragged me. Then I stayed on and he had to quit."

Mike can't compete in school track because of a heart ailment, but according to Bob, "He's faster than I am. He tells me I run like a dead horse." In deference to his brother, Bob shuns varsity sweaters and tosses his medals and clippings into a bedroom drawer.

The Mendozas live at 14066 Houghton. Bob's dad never misses a meet.

"He never smiles," Bob said. "The coaches wonder why he has a poker face all the way through."

According to Bob, his father reserves his judgment until the end of the meet.

At five feet eight inches, Bob is one of the shortest hurdlers around. "The hurdle comes up to here on me," he said, pointing to his waist.

As a combination sprinter and hurdler, he has to check before each race to make sure he's starting on the right foot. As a hurdler, he has to lead with his right in order to take the proper number of steps in his approach to the hurdle. But he starts faster with his left foot forward and uses that position in the dashes.

"I always make sure I'm in the blocks right," he said. "If I mix up on that I've had it."

Last year the winning time in the state meet in the 180 lows was :19.8. On his second outing Bob has put that mark behind him.

Still, he has yet to run the event completely fresh, because he has to sprint a dash or the high hurdles earlier in the same meet. "I was really tired" before the 180, he said of his of his record - breaking day.

The best time in the country so far this year is :18.7. Bob has cautiously set that as his goal. "I think it's within reason," he said.

In his first race this year he tore a ligament in his ankle. His doctor told him to stay off it for awhile. Even though it causes him some discomfort and could flare up later in the season, he feels it's important to be training hard right now.

"I'm on borrowed time," he said. "But if I quit now it would be all over."

Bob is Churchill's co - captain, so he's always one of the first trackmen out on the field after school. But he has to practice both the sprint and hurdle events, so he's usually the last to leave.

"Of course Mr. Price is there," he said, "to make sure I don't cheat and leave before I should."

But that's unlikely, because Bob still wants to improve his form. "I still can't move my left hand or I lose my balance going over the hurdle," he said.

He wants to study psychology or law enforcement in college and hopes to hear soon from some scholarship - minded coaches.

Before the record - setting races last week, the mother of Bob's girl friend wrote down a Biblical quotation on a scrap of paper which Bob tucked into his right track shoe.

When he got into the starting blocks for the hurdles his right leg was forward, pushed up against his chest. His left was low and thrust behind. Before the gun went off he looked down at his right foot.

When the meet was over he'd posted a :10.1 in the 100 and a :22.7 in the 220 in addition to the quick - stepping low hurdle clocking.

He can't remember exactly what was written on that paper scrap, but isn't taking any chances. "I'm going to leave it there all the the time," he said.

Sunday racing for the thoroughbreds in Michigan and probably before the first of June? Hard to believe but that's the word from Lansing way where the Senate approved such a bill earlier in the week with the expectation the House will follow suit quickly.

The Sunday racing act moved much quicker than one would believe, probably because both the Detroit Racing Association and the Hazel Park Racing Association are very much interested. Management at each track firmly believes Sunday racing will be the biggest boon to the runners in a long time.

It will be recalled that thoroughbred racing started to go downhill three or four years back at both plants, more noticeably at the DRC than at Hazel

Park. Perhaps the catalyst of Sundays could prove to be just what is needed...time alone will tell.

Ohio approved Sunday races this year for the first time and there was an immediate pickup in the Cleveland area, that is, until the mutual clerks union decided it needed more money to work on the Sabbath and walked off the job when management refused to listen.

The strike continued for three days until an agreement was reached. It could well be that such a thing will take place in Michigan when the Sunday act finally passes.

Even though the bill is still in the talking stage, there already is considerable talk among the mutual clerks at the Detroit Race Course. They are talking about double time for the Sabbath...management is just listening, it doesn't have to do anything until the bill is approved.

Then one can expect loud cries from the churches, the anti-groups at local and state levels and just about everyone else but rest assured that once the bill is passed, there'll be Sunday racing and large crowds to watch the programs.

This has been a rather interesting year for racing. First, Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley issued dates for the trotters and pacers that called for Northville Downs and Hazel Park to go against each other for six nights, then Shirley changed his mind and took the six nights away from Northville, limiting that summer meeting to 24 nights.

In Lansing, the Senate gave some consideration to a dog racing bill, then suddenly it was recalled to committee where it has been resting ever since and definitely is dead for this session of the Legislature.

There was some consideration for a bill to boost the track's share of the mutual handle for the runners to aid the DRC and Hazel Park. There has been talk of a bill to change the format of the Racing Act from a single, all-powerful commissioner to a three-man commission. The bill provides that one must be from harness racing, one from thoroughbred racing and the third to be a party well acquainted with both types of racing. It just may suddenly appear from committee in the very-near future.

From Chicago comes word that Joe Marsh Jr., the 39-year-old Findlay, O. trainer-driver whose 322 winning drives topped all U.S. - born harness horsemen last year, has been selected by the Harness Tracks of America to represent the United States in the fifth world driving championships which started today (April 15) in Berlin.

Marsh, leading driver on the Chicago parimutuel circuit, finished fifth in last year's world competition in Europe.

Opposing Joe will be Gilles Gendron of Canada, Ulf Thoresen of Norway, Adolf Ubleis of Austria, Gilbert Martens of Belgium, Gerard Mascle of France, John Smolenski of New Zealand and Francis Kevin Brook of Australia.

Thoresen won the crown in 1973. The 1974 champion will be crowned on Sunday, April 21.

The Detroit Race Course will present its annual "Old Times Day" next Saturday to which children under 12 will be admitted free if accompanied by an adult.

Grandstand admission for the day will be 50 cents and management has a number of surprises in store for patrons throughout the afternoon as well as perhaps the finest racing program of the season.

Just in case you are interested, Hawaii Boy, a four-year-old brown gelding, is the only Hawaii-bred thoroughbred to race at the DRC. Matter of fact none of the oldtimers can recall an island bred competing at a local track before.

The computer selections on the programs, made by Bert McCann after careful consultation with his computer, have been paying off. Just a week ago Bert had four winners on the program including both ends of the daily double and a couple of other longshots.

It also had three of four winners in the Big P and two-thirds of the trifecta.

Borgess 2-hit gem stops Sacred Heart

Behind the two-hit pitching performance of Mark Gergel, Bishop Borgess dumped Sacred Heart in its baseball opener, 3-1.

Gergel struck out 12 in the seven innings worked and gave up three walks.

Borgess scored in the opening inning when Dan Kelly singled, stole second, Kevin Killeen singled and Kelly scampered home.

Sacred Heart got that run back in the last of the second. Gary Ferenehick drew a walk, Scott Scharf singled and Ferenehick dashed in on a passed ball.

Borgess upped it to 2-1 in the sixth. Mike Milosch was safe on an error and with one out, Greg Heimbugh singled him to third and Gergel helped his own cause with a single to score Milosch.

The Spartans added an insurance run in the seventh on two Sacred Heart errors, a walk to Kelly and single by Killeen.

Area skaters sparkle

Livonia, Farmington and Westland were well represented in the ninth annual Tri-State Free Skating Championships held at Bowling Green, Ohio.

From Livonia, nine-year-old Laura Cannon captured third out of a field of 112 in the ladies first test. Twelve-year-old Thera Romano placed sixth and 15-year-old Debbie Romano was fifth.

Amy Shomberger, a 12-year-old from Westland, finished third in the ladies second test and eight-year-old Brooke Fournier, also of Westland was fifth overall.

Fourteen-year-old Angela Heath of Farmington scored the solo first in the ladies first test.

In The Pocket

If there was any question about the highest scoring lanes in the Metropolitan Detroit area it was answered during the past week when the Farris

Bros team shattered all records for the season at Wonderland Lanes.

With Dick Preston, one of the area's all-star veterans, in the lead-off position, the team rolled games of 1085, 1189 and 1183 for 3457. This count not only bettered the previous mark rolled by the Stroh team when it opened the Michigan Major League season last August at Schaefer Lanes with a 3457, but it was good for eighth place on the national honor roll.

The real star of the scoring spree was Capt. Jack Carrier who came through with a 793 series on games of 247, 279 and 267. This big count came within 10 pins of the season's high singles series of 803 rolled by Fred Ringrose in the same league little more than a month ago.

As the anchor man, Carrier opened with a bang and never let up and it was his showing that enabled the team to score in this manner: Dick Preston, 694; Ron Fournier, 630; Bob Naramor, 698; Mike Mathis, 642; and Carrier with 793.

One other bowler in the Classic broke the 700 barrier when John McKeever came through games of 267, 216 and 238 for 721.

Another 700 popped up in the Sunday Mixed League at Wonderland when Brian Armstrong opened with a 269 and closed with 256 for a 718. It was the first 700 series recorded in the Sunday circuit.

Three 700 series in a week should prove something.

This is a big week for the country's top bowlers. It is Classic week in the ABC tournament down at Indianapolis and the Detroit Stroh team will be defending its Classic all-events title.

More than that, Stroh will be trying to better the showing of the rival Goebel team that furnished the doubles and all — events leader several weeks ago.

When Charles (Buck) Walby was inducted into the Detroit Bowling Hall of Fame last Saturday, it marked the first time that two members of the same family have been honored.

Several years ago his father-in-law, Charles Roberts, owner of Thunderbird Lanes in Troy, was honored with a place in the coveted shrine.

Saturday's four inductees brought to 71 the number of persons enshrined since the Hall of Fame was inaugurated in 1957 in the Detroit Historical Museum.

Gary Zande is making a practice of topping the list in the Ladies Singles Classic at Livonia Lanes. This week she won the series with 462 — 138 — 600.

The individual game winners included Eleanor Slavin with 153 — 46 — 199; and Dot Fulton who won the second with 167 — 43 — 210 and the third with 169 — 43 — 212.

Detroit's sixth annual senior citizens tournament is scheduled at State Fair Lanes, 19800 Woodward Avenue, on Thursday, April 25. Entry forms may be obtained by contacting the Detroit Parks and Recreation Department.

Livonia boys win wrestling medals

Three Livonia boys won first place medals recently in competition with 1,000 other Michigan wrestlers in the 1974 United States Wrestling Federation state tournament at the Pontiac Central fieldhouse.

Wrestling in the eight and under age group, Franklin Beck captured first in the 43-pound class, Robert Beck, Franklin's brother, won the 52-pound competition, and Richie Trehame took first in the 64-pound category.

All three wrestle for the United Oaks Wrestling Club of Hael Park.

CC thinclads dump Canton

In a non-league prep track dual meet that saw three athletes tie for third in the 100 yard dash and two tie for third in the 100 hurdles, Catholic Central handed Plymouth Canton a 71 and five-sixths to 51 and one-sixth defeat.

It was Canton's second setback in as many outings. Canton junior Dennis VanGilder posted a double win with a 10.8 first in the 100 yard dash and a 25.3 first in the 220 dash. The Chiefs also man-

Churchill could upend Mott's '74 title road

This will be the first year of six on the Western Six baseball diamond as Plymouth Canton joins Churchill, Waterford Mott, Walled Lake Western, Northville and Farmington Harrison.

The team picked to take it all this season - you have to like Waterford

No. 2 in the area and 5 - 3 in the league.

The Chargers have returning starters back in seniors Mike Gottshall, Rod Hawraney, Brian Kelly, Al Leirstein and Dave Panoff.

Three of these starters finished in the top hitters chart in the area last with Kelly No. 7 with a .381 mark, Hawraney following at .333 and Gottshall closing with a .304.

Frayer tabs Kelly the best ever at Churchill High

Leirstein, a returning .275 first baseman and Panoff a 7 - 2 hurler of last year fill out the veteran line - up.

The Charger attack should be rounded out by senior Kevin Nelson on the mound; Jay Nelson, a .250 catcher, and third baseman Gary Condon, a .275 key senior.

Frayer is doubly high on his sophomore staff.

"This is the best group of sophomores since '70," said the Churchill coach. "I only wish we had a junior varsity team to improve on their skills."

That sophomore grouping includes Bill LaJoie, Ron Griffin, Dennis Slater, Dale Slater and Kurt Pitcher.

Churchill's questions mark has to be in his pitching where it has one proven hurler and two big question marks.

But the positive points have to more than make up for the negative ones in the team nucleus of Kelly and Hawraney.

The Chargers have finished second in the Western Six four years in a row

CHURCHILL'S BRIAN KELLY

Parson with Tom Close the man behind the plate and one of the club's strongest hitters.

Mike Verduce and Brian Stemberger are two veterans that Crissey will have to count on.

The other Six contender in the area is Farmington Harrison which will be under the reins of football Coach John Herrington.

The Harrison Hawks finished in the area's cellar slot last season with an overall two win and 12 loss season, placing 2-6 in the league.

Herrington has lettermen back in Tim Hammer, Kevin Hickey, Sam Pink, Doug Kallgren, Mike Majeski, Steve Morrison and Jim Seitz.

DINING and ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE

Violin captures man's heart

By JAN WILLIAMS

It's easy to find a nine-year-old boy who's captivated by baseball and who works hard at being obnoxious. But a nine-year-old boy who's captivated by "Gypsy Love" and who works hard at playing the violin is hard to come by.

Several years ago there was such a lad — one who preferred the violin to baseball. He wound up as a psychiatrist at Northville State Hospital and a violinist in the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

Dr. Reuben Preide remembers well his first introduction to the violin at the age of nine.

"I was so captivated the first time I heard 'Gypsy Love' (an opera by Hungarian composer Franz Lehar) that I decided to play the violin."

That was in Preide's home town of Buenos Aires, Argentina. He continued his study of the violin, at various intervals, and at the age of 17, decided to enter medical school.

"I wanted to be a professional violinist, but I chose medicine because I felt I would be more successful."

As Preide became more involved in medicine, he had to spend less time with the violin. From the age of 25 to 35 he didn't play at all. Instead of practicing the violin, he practiced internal medicine in Buenos Aires.

However, during that time, he was involved with musicians and eventually was encouraged to resume his study of the violin.

In 1967 and 68, Preide studied with Carlos Pessina, concertmaster of the Colon Theater in Buenos Aires for 25 years. Preide says Pessina was a very important person in his life. "It was through him that I really got involved with the violin again."

Preide continued his medical practice, played in a semi-professional orchestra and a quartet in Buenos Aires.

He married in 1970, and one week after the wedding came to the United States. His wife, Adela, came three months later.

"I came to this country because I felt it offered better opportunities in the field of medicine, he said."

Preide served an internship at Fairview General Hospital in Cleveland, Ohio. It was at this time that he decided to become a psychiatrist. He completed his psychiatric residency at Fairview Mental Health Center in November, 1973.

Although his study and work in medicine took up a great deal of his time, Preide still found time for the violin. While in Cleveland he played with the Cleveland Philharmonic Orchestra.

As his wife aptly says, "When you really like something, you find time for it."

Actually, it was love of the violin that brought the two together. Mrs. Preide attended a violin rehearsal with a friend and that's where she met her husband.

Mrs. Preide also studied the violin for two years at the age of 10. In summing up her brief career, she says, "When I decided not to study again, the neighbors were very happy." However, she has now decided to study the guitar.

Following completion of his residency in Cleveland last November, Preide accepted a job as unit director at Northville State Hospital and he and his wife moved to Plymouth.

Both Preide and his wife say they like Plymouth because "it has a lot to offer and the people are friendly."

Preide immediately searched out the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and was immediately taken in by conductor Wayne Dunlap who placed him in the first violin section, a position second only to concertmaster.

"I've played in many orchestras, but I especially like to play in the Plymouth orchestra. I'm very enthusiastic about it and I've learned a lot from Wayne Dunlap."

Of the orchestra, Preide says they are good quality musicians — "consistent, solid and very together."

Preide played in his first concert with the orchestra on March 10. His second and the last of the season for the Plymouth Symphony will be on April 21, at 4 p.m. in the Plymouth-Salem High School auditorium, Joy Rd., west of Canton Center Rd.

Preide and his wife plan to make Plymouth their permanent home and he plans to continue with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra. But he says medicine is still of the most importance to him and he's very excited about his work in community psychiatry at Northville.

"Music and science are a good combination. I feel one balances the other. But the violin is more a hobby. And after working for eight hours, I find it very relaxing to play."

Aside from medicine and music, Preide also enjoys reading and walking in the woods — getting close to nature. Of composers, he says Beethoven is his favorite.

Apparently Preide suffered no ill effects for having played the violin instead of baseball during his youth. After all, he can't be too far off if he ranks Beethoven number one — up there alongside Hank Aaron, of course.

Parsell to keynote fund raiser

'Save Our Guns' rally invites POA leader

By BOB ERICKSON

Michigan Police Officers Association Executive Director Carl Parsell, a Canton Township resident, has been invited to speak at a "Save Our Guns" fund raising rally at the Lansing Civic Center on April 20.

Sponsors of the anti-gun law rally include the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, the National Rifle Association of America, the Sportsmen's Alliance of Michigan and the Michigan Rifle and Pistol Association. The groups will use the funds obtained from the rally to fight an attempt at a constitutional amendment whereby the state would attempt to buy up all the handguns now in the hands of private citizens in Michigan.

Parsell, who is billed by the group's press release as one of "the state and nation's leading conservationists," said he does not believe the release meant to bill him as a conservationist, but that, at any rate, he will be attending the "Save Our Guns" rally because he is "not for any type of gun control ... until the courts take up their responsibility. Before we need gun control," he said, "we need criminal control and judge control."

Parsell said that he has taken a stand which "differs a little from their (the sponsoring groups') particular stand."

"I am not ultra-conservative," he said. "I'm not a member of the NRA (National Rifle Association), the Birch Society or the KKK. I don't own a dozen guns myself. I have one gun that I carry and that I carried when I was a police officer for 25 years."

Parsell said that he thought he had been invited to the rally because of his statements about the need for judicial responsibility and control of criminals before ineffective gun control measures are irresponsibly enacted.

He criticized Detroit Police Commissioner Philip Tannian's recent announcement of a constitutional amendment petition drive which would require citizens to sell their guns to the state.

"I'm not convinced that Mr. Tannian is not working his way up to be the czar of all the guns that would be bought up," Parsell said.

Parsell, formerly the president of the Detroit Police Officers Association, also attacked previous gun control efforts in the Detroit area. "The amnesty program (whereby citizens were allowed to turn in illegal weapons without any fear of prosecution) was a failure," he said. "Nobody really put records out on the amnesty program in Detroit because it didn't get results."

"It is folly to take guns from law abiding citizens when the courts won't take guns from those who have them illegally," he continued. "I think it's a smokescreen. Police officials in large cities are using the absence of gun control laws as an excuse for their inability to control crime."

Tickets for the rally at which Parsell and other anti-gun control figures will speak can be purchased for $15 from any of the sponsoring groups.

Money Every Month

Check-A-Month Certificate Savings Accounts

With a Check-A-Month Certificate Savings Account you receive an interest check each and every month without disturbing the principal balance of your account.

You can open either a forty-eight month 7% Check-A-Month Certificate Savings Account or a thirty-month 6.75% Check-A-Month Certificate Savings Account with any deposit of $5,000 or more ... no special even figure is needed.

As an example: if you deposit $20,000 in a forty-eight month 7% Check-A-Month Account you will get a check each and every month for $116.67 from Standard Federal Savings. If you choose to deposit $20,000 in a thirty-month 6.75% Check-A-Month Account, you will receive a check for $112.50 every month. The chart below shows what your monthly income will be for deposits from $5,000 to $50,000 or more. If you withdraw your money at any time prior to maturity a substantial interest penalty will be charged. In accordance with federal regulations, the interest on the withdrawn funds will be recalculated from the date the certificate was originally opened, or renewed, on the amount withdrawn down to the then current regular passbook interest rate, and in addition, there will be a loss of 90 days' interest on the funds withdrawn. The amount left on deposit, provided it is $5,000 or more, will continue to earn the higher 7% or 6.75% return.

As you can see, Check-A-Month pays a handsome return. And what could be more convenient than having your interest sent right to you through the mail every month!

O&E managers join WSU workshop

Observer & Eccentric Newspapers are furnishing three persons for the 37th workshop of the Wayne State University Press Club which will be devoted to "The Electronic Revolution and What It Means to Journalists."

Paul Hart, electronics systems analyst for O&E will be a panelist for the first session on May 3, and Tim Richard, Wayne County editor for O&E, will participate in the second session.

The first session, which opens at 9:30 a.m., will deal with a discussion and demonstration of the Cathode Ray Tube (CRT) and Optical Character Reader (OCR) and the weekly operation from compugraphic to offset printing.

Other panelists will be: Mike Maharry, superintendent of editorial telecommunication, Detroit News, and Neil Munro, managing editor, Oakland Press.

The second session, beginning at 11 a.m., will discuss the effects of modern technology on the content and quality of newspapers.

Other panelists will include: Paul Poorman, managing editor, Detroit News; Richard Oppel, bureau chief, Associated Press, and David Dolson, Sunday editor, Detroit Free Press.

Richard, vice president of the WSU Press Club, will serve as moderator of the first session. Michael Marcellino, Oakland County editor of O&E Newspapers, will serve as moderator of the second session. Marcellino is second vice president of the WSU Press Club.

The workshop will be held in the McGregor Memorial Conference Center on campus. Registration and luncheon fee are $7.75 per person and reservations may be made by calling the WSU Journalism Department.

Luncheon speaker will be Frank Wylie, manager of public relations, U.S. Automotive Sales and Service for Chrysler Corp. He will talk on "Ethics, Junkets and the Public's Right to Know."

The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers has one of the most modern offset newspaper plants in the mid-west and is now using the OCR equipment as part of its computerized type-setting process.

Eastern changes academic calendar

Eastern Michigan University will return to a post-Labor Day opening for the fall semester this year. Classes will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 4. For the past three years, classes have started during the last week of August.

Officials explain the academic calendar is set up as to provide 15 weeks of classes before the semester break. The later in the week that Christmas falls, the later the semester opens.

A later opening will help many students with full-time summer jobs. Employers, especially at resorts, want men and women who can work through the Labor Day week end.

The new schedule provides for a shorter semester break and holiday recess. The fall semester ends on Dec. 21 and classes resume Jan. 6. This is 15 days as compared with 18 days last year.
