Educational Park gets accreditation

By W. EDWARD WENDOVER

PLYMOUTH -- Plymouth's Centennial Education Park, which includes both Plymouth-Salem and Plymouth-Canton high schools, has passed its first full accreditation test.

School Supt. John M. Hoben has been notified by the North Central Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools (NCACSS) that "the high schools of the Plymouth Centennial Education Park have been placed on the list of secondary schools approved for the 1973-74 school year" by the NCACSS.

The NCACSS serves as the accrediting body for high schools and colleges in the northern midwestern portion of the country.

A team of some 25 teachers. and administrators from other Michigan school districts visitedthe educational park in February to evaluate the two high schools and their programs.

It was as a result of that team's favorable report that the new Plymouth facility was accredited.

Plymouth High School had been accredited before and when the two new high schools were built, the NCACSS granted "provisional accreditation" to them until its team could visit the schools.

The accrediting group regularly visits each of its high schools every seven years looking at such general areas as:

 Auxiliary services, (clerical, food, health and transportation services).

- Guidance department.
- Instructional program. ·Learning materials
- center (libraries). School physical facilities.
- Staff and administration. Student activities program.
- In addition, the NCACSS team evaluated the following subject areas:
- Art.
- Business education. Cooperative education.

- Driver education. • English.
- Foreign language.
- Home economics. • Home economics.
- Industrial education.
- Mathematics. • Music.
- Physical education. • Science.
- Social studies.

 Special education. Hoben said the complete report on the NCACSS accreditation has not yet been released to the schools. To maintain their accredited standings, the superintendent added, the schools must file a detailed report on the evaluation areas each year.

There was only one shortcoming cited in the NCACSS letter announcing the accreditation -- a high school math teacher who has four hours short of necessary course work. Hoben said the matter was slight and the teacher has been taking classes to bring him up to standards.

PLYMOUTH FIREMEN were called to 369 W. Ann Arbor Trail Wednesday evening to extinguish a mattress fire in Room 11 of the rooming house. Fire Chief George Schoenne-, man said the roomer, Wayne Petersen, had left the room for about 45 minutes. The fire was discovered by another tenant. Schoenneman said apparently the fire was caused by a cigaret or sparks from a cigaret. The room had minor smoke and heat damage. No other part of the house was damaged, he said.(Staff photo by Bob Woodring)

Consolidation meetings, debate set this week

PLYMOUTH - Do you have any questions about the consolidation of Plymouth and Plymouth Township ation, the debate will face John not chosen) speaking against the iswhich will be decided by voters in the Thomas and Jim McKeon, speaking in sue. two areas on May 7?

This is the week to get them answered.

The first opportunity will be Wednesday when the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce will host a "community luncheon" on consolidation at noon in the Mayflower Hotel Miles Standish Room.

Speaking will be Kenneth Ver Burg and Donald Peppard, two of the researchers from Michigan State University's Institute for Community Development who wrote the Plymouth -Plymouth Township consolidation re-

The public is invited to the luncheon. Reservations may be made by calling the Chamber office. Tickets

Wednesday evening, the Ad Hoc Committee on Consolidation will hold its first public forum on the consolidation study at 8 p.m. in city hall.

Ver Burg, Peppard and the other MSU researchers who worked on the study will discuss their report and answer questions.

Last Tuesday the committee held a meeting for selected community leaders and officials to discuss the more technical points of the consolidation

Additional copies of the April 8 Plymouth Observer & Eccentric, which carried the major portions of the consolidation report will be available at that meeting free of charge as a public service.

A debate on the pros and cons of consolidation will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Plymouth - Salem High

By W. EDWARD WENDOVER

PLYMOUTH - State Police troopers credit two citizens with the capture of an alleged bandit in Plymouth Township Thursday afternoon.

According to Trooper David Gentry, the two men were responsible for capturing a California man charged with taking $688 from Plaza Bowl on Ann Arbor Road at General Drive. Chester E. McCracken, 27, of San Jose, Calif., stood mute at his arrraignment before District Court Judge Dunbar Davis on two charges of larceny in a building and possession of stolen credit cards.

Davis ordered him jailed in lieu of $15,000 bond and set his examination for April 29 in district court.

Gentry gave the following account of the crime and McCracken's cap-

At 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Frank Moceri, owner and manager of the newly opened Plaza Bowl noticed McCracken coming out of his office.

He questioned the man and, being suspicious, asked him to write down his name and address. Then Moceri noticed his safe, which had contained about $688, was empty.

Moceri turned back to McCracken who was leaving through the front door and yelled out, "I've been rob-

After chasing McCracken through the front door into the parking lot, Moceri scuffled with the suspect and received a shot of a mace - like substance in the face from an aerosol fountain pen device.

It was then that Robert Hooton, a patron, and Joseph Barbee, an employe of the bowling alley, ran outside and chased McCracken. The two men scuffled with McCracken but were able to hold him until State Police Trooper Richard Rosen arrived to make the arrest.

Trooper Norm Maxwell also assisted in the arrest.

The county planners' recommendation now goes to the township board for a final decision on the PUD.

Madonna College confers 2 honorary degrees

Mother Mary Virginette, superior Manhattan Project 'during 1943 and general of the Felician Sisters, will be one of two persons receiving honorary degrees at commencement exercises of Madonna College on April 28.

She will receive the doctor of humanities degree, as will Dr. Roger J. Voskuyl who is the commencement speaker.

Mother Virginette is servering the fourth year in a six - year term as head of the 6,000 member Order of St. Felix, with headquarters in Rome.

Before her election as superior general, she had served 12 years as mother superior of the Immaculate Conception Province in Lodi, N.J. At that time, she directed the order's work in Felician College, six high schools, three hospitals, two orphanages and 46 elementary schools.

She has spent much of her time recruiting new sisters and in the expansion of the order's services. She was educated at Villanova University, Fordham University, and Jagielonian University in Poland where she received a degree in philosophy.

The commencement speaker, Dr. Voskuyl, is executive director of the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges (CASC), Washington, DC.

Voskuyl is a graduate of Hope College and earned a PhD in chemistry from Harvard. He served as professor of chemistry and later as dean of the college at Wheaton College, Ill. from 1938 through 1950. At the request of the government, he served as a group leader and research chemist on the House action on bottle bill seen Tuesday

Action is expected Tuesday (April 23) on a "bottle bill" by the committee on consumers and agriculture of the State House of Representatives.

It is expected that the bill (HB4926), which underwent three public hearings statewide in January, will be voted out of committee and sent to the full House.

The bill is a measure modeled after Oregon's bottle bill. As amended, the proposed Michigan bill would place a deposit of a nickel or dime (depending on the type of container) on all beer and soft drink containers sold in April 18, after being adjourned from Michigan.

The deposit will give a strong incentive to return containers to the store, says Kathy Opperwall of the Michigan Returnable Coalition (MRC), and will make it practical again to use refillable containers over and over, thus saving energy and natural resources. Pull tab tops on metal cans are banned outright.

Dealers of soft drinks or beer would be required to redeem containers of the same size and type they sell, but could set up redemption facilities on or within 100 yards of the store premises. Bottler - distributers would likewise be required to refund deposits to Arbor Week in Michigan has been proclaimed as April 21 - 27 by Gov. William Milliken.

In urging planting of trees this week, Milliken said that pressure on our forest lands has increased rapidly during the past several years as population and the concurrent need for additional lumber for homes, businesses and for recreational land has risen.

"Because Michigan's more highly populated areas have the most crucial need for trees, it is to the advantage of all of us that our natural resources be preserved and enlarged and that conservation and restoration of trees be considered a major step in continuing the benefits of our great natural

Hewer's store recalls Canton's farming era

CHARLES AND MILDRED HEWER, long -time Canton residents, just celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary. They own Hewer's feed store on Canton Center Road across from Centennial Education Park.

By W.W.EDGAR

PLYMOUTH — Few things please Charles Hewer, owner of the little feed store on Canton Center Road. more than to have someone walk in and tell him that it is like walking into a page of history.

When this happens he just smiles and tells you that he has kept it that way to let people know in these changing times what things were like when he came to Canton Township 55

"Things have changed so much," he says, "and there is still so much more to come, that I'd like to preserve this place as a reminder of the old days."

Walking into the clean little shop with shelves lined with animal food is like having time turned back.

Diane Los is deputy treasurer

CANTON-Diane Los was appointed Canton Township deputy treasurer by the board of trustees this week.

The recommendation for her appointment came from Township Treasurer Grant Campbell. He said the appointment was in compliance with a state law requiring each treasurer to have an assistant.

'She does all the work anyway," he

Scrupulously clean, the shop gives you a feeling that it should be preserved in the Smithsonian Institute as a cherished bit of Americana.

With a twinkle in his eye Charlie will tell you that he has been a poultry lover since his school days on Detroit's east side and that it was his desire to raise more stock that prompted his move to Canton Township right after World War I.

"I had five acres in those days," he says, "and not only raised chickens, but worked at Ford Motor Co., too. To help meet expenses we sold feed, and that's how this shop started 34 years

As he checked the calendar there was a large black square drawn around April 17 and he commented, "This is our 63rd wedding anniversary, but Mildred has been confined to a nursing home with arthritis for the past two years and we won't be doing much celebrating."

Aside from the cleanliness of his shop, Charlie is proud of a group of red and blue ribbons his entries have won at the poultry shows in the surrounding area.

Of particular interest are a blue ribbon his chickens won at the Michigan State Fair in 1939 and another at the Wayne County Fair in Northville in "My parents died when I was 13 years old," Charlie explained, "and I have been on my own for a long time. That's one of the reasons we moved to Canton Township years ago. It was wide open and offered the chance to farm a bit and raise chickens.

"At that time Canton was considered the slowest township in the county and a fellow could live in peace and quiet. But we've had a real explosion in the past five years and people are moving closer and closer. They're making a lot of changes."

Then, looking across the road to Plymouth - Canton High School, he shook his head and admitted that he never had expected to see anything like that.

'Would you believe it?" he asked, "I often plowed that land that is now the school grounds and the football field. We never dreamed there would be anything like a big school here."

Then, for emphasis, he continued, When our children were growing up they had to walk a couple of miles to school and over muddy roads at

Despite his age (he will be 84 in November) Charlie is still young at heart. As proof he has a large sign displayed on the wall that reads, "Be A Booster, Buster."

Through the years a lot of things have changed - but the old feed store is still a symbol of the past.

LIVONIA - Pretrial examination Patrolmen Michael Murray and for two of four Plymouth residents charged with the April 8 breaking and entering of the Great Lakes Drug warehouse on Levan, was waived Thursday by their attorneys. The other two had their examination postponed until May 7.

Appearing before Livonia District Judge James Mies, Kimberly Fae Wilson, 17, of 305 W. Spring, and Jeffrey J. Beaudrie, 18, of 11861 Butternut, were bound over to circuit court for a hearing May 6. Jonathan R. Kilgour, 20, of 47122 Beechcrest, and Gregory F. Wassman, 19, of 42522 Ashley Ct., through their attorneys, had the examination adjourned.

Bond on all four was reduced from $10,000 each to $3,500. All are free on The four were arrested by Livonia officers at the warehouse following a tip. They are charged with "breaking and entering a business place." Detective Sgt. Frank Brandemihl said the Livonia police intelligence bureau was tipped off that a break in of the building was slated for April of these days. Beal plans to release both birds soon. He'll bring them back to a pond near where he found them. "That's probably where their mates are." It's not the first time he's been a good samaritan for hurt and wayward beasts. According to David and Susan his record includes the rescue of 10 puppies from a box in the middle of Haggerty, 32 abandoned cats, and an assortment of homeless snakes. "I can't stand to see any kind of animal mistreated," Beal said. "If people would just push animals to the side of the road when they know they've hit something, many animals who've just been stunned might be revived. Otherwise they get run over a dozen times and they're just squashed

"I make it a habit to stop," he concluded. "I just don't like to see blood all over the road."

A place to spend the summer.

After all these years, maybe it's time you moved to bigger and better things.

If you've been considering a bigger house, ' or a newer one, there'll never be a better time than right now to make your move.

And, right now, National Bank of Detroit can help you make that move. We have mortgage money to lend, and we lend more than any other bank in town.

We'll give you prompt word on the approval of your mortgage loan, and set up your closing in as little as two weeks thereafter at an NBD office in your neighborhood.

We might also save you some money. Our closing fee on uninsured conventional mortgages is a simple flat fee that has nothing to do with the size of your mortgage. And that could possibly save you enough money to buy a new chair for your new home, or carpet one of your new bedrooms.

Why not look into a mortgage loan now at any of the more than 100 offices of NBD.

This man needs $20,000,000.

He has already raised more than $2,300,000 of that amount. He wants to invest the money in the greatest Blue Chip Security of them all. An investment that will eventually affect every one of us.

His name is Jim Knott. He's Chairman of the University of Michigan College of Engineering Capital Campaign. And the twenty million will be used to make sure that the midwest continues to have one of the top-ranked engineering schools in the world.

As he said recently: "The campaign gives us all an opportunity to demonstrate our loyalty to the College and the University and our belief in the value of engineering education. It also gives us a chance to invest in the type of young man and woman for whom engineering has a special appeal. The type of young person who has in the past helped our country solve some of its most difficult problems."

The money will build engineering facilities on North Campus to replace obsolete facilities on Central Campus. And enrich the entire engineering program by adding to the faculty and increasing the Scholarship and Fellowship Programs.

It's expensive. Worthwhile things always are.
But this campaign is important to us all.
Particularly to the youngsters of today who will be called upon to solve the problems of tomorrow.

LOWEST PRICED CARMADEIN AMERICA.

Vega has a lower list price than any other car made in the U.S.A.

That's the Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price for the Vega Notchback Coupe, including dealer new vehicle preparation charge. Destination charges, optional equipment, state or local taxes are additional. Other Vega models are available, of course. Such as the popular Vega Hatchback at $2492.

The quality and value of Chevrolet.

Vega makes as much sense for what it gives you as for what it doesn't cost you. Steel side guard beams in each door. Double-panel steel roof. Front disc brakes. A Full Coil suspension for a good ride. A wide stance . and low center of gravity for stability and good handling. Molded full foam front bucket seats.

And a few surprises for the money.

Carpeting. Floor-mounted shift and hand brake controls. A sporty-looking instrument panel. And our overhead cam aluminum block four-cylinder engine which is both economical and responsive.

Yes, Vega Hatchback did get 29.8 miles per gallon. Results of recent Chevrolet fuel economy tests show an average of 29.8 miles per gallon for Vega at a steady speed of 55 miles per hour, the maximum Federal speed. In simulated suburban city driving (average speed 24 mph, with 1.6 stops per mile), Vega averaged 26.5 mpg.

Engineers conducted the tests at our Proving Grounds. Cars were Vega Hatchbacks equipped with standard engine and transmission and popular options. In all tests. cars carried the weight of two passengers. Of course the mileage you'll get depends on how and where you drive.

Vega's fuel economy, coupled with its standard 16-gallon-rated fuel tank. offers the kind of driving range that makes lots of sense today.

A real value. Vega is a comfortable, solid little car that's a lot of, fun to drive and goes a long way on a gallon of gas. It just happens to have a very low price.

Wayne County employes could earn up to $1,000 for cost saving ideas or suggestions for improving safety standards, communications, employe morale or encouraging innovation and open minded attitudes.

The board of commissioners recently approved the suggestion award program involving the more than 8,000 county employes.

It was proposed by Commissioner Richard E. Manning (D - Redford).

The program will start about June 1 and a five - member committee will review all suggestions and determine the amount of the rewards.

Commissioner Conrad L. Mallett (D - Detroit) is award committee chairman. Manning is vice - chairman. The minimum award will be $5 and the maximum $1,000.

Others on the award committee are: Eugene Guido, president of Local 1659, American Federation of state, county and municipal employes; Don McGee, Civic Service Commission; and Charles Sanson, Board of Audi-

Prior to the elder Ruehr's death he had built up a reputation as the "Poinsettia King" of Wayne County. There was something about the poinsettias that stood them apart from those in other areas. He started this reign as the "King" shortly after purchasing the business from Heide, the original owner, in 1939.

Recently, Norm sold the downtown flower shop to several out - of - towners and Bill is left alone to carry on the family's flower tradition. In the process of revamping the place, Bill is eliminating approximately 30 per cent of the green house to provide a parking area for the vegetable market. "The heating bills were killing us,"

The entire enterpise now will be another bright spot in Old Village and give the entire community a vegetable market. And now that Don Lightfoot has retired from his traditional spot on South Main Street, Bill's market will be the only one in the Village and the downtown business section.

Aside from the remodeling of the green houses, two other changes already have been made and both of them should prove popular.

Forte's Antique Shop has taken over the corner store and the Miller Upholsterers, who have been in business for 18 years, have moved in next door.

Under his present plan, Bill will conduct the vegetable market on one end of the building. It will feature regetables obtained from the farmers. The center will be the old Garden Center for the sale of seeds and equipment with the flower shop at the end toward Liberty Street.

While remodeling the old place, young Bill is planning several new promotional ideas, among them a monthly flower program for business offices, banks and even perpetual flowers in the cemteries.

This idea was born after he had prepared the many boxes of geraniums displayed a year ago in Old

City, township voters -inform yourselves!

How can anyone overstate the importance of the decision voters in the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township must make in two weeks?

A vote either way in the May 7 consolidation election is important. A "yes" vote means a change in our local governmental structures and a "no" vote means we probably won't get the opportunity to make any such changes for some time.

It behooves everyone who plans to vote on the consolidation issue to do so intelligently.

Consolidation is a complicated issue. There are many facets of local government operation that will be af-

Each voter should know the facts on

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce is holding a public noon luncheon Wednesday in the Mayflower Hotel featuring Ken Ver Burg and Don Peppard, two of the Michigan State University researchers who wrote the city - township consolidation report.

Wednesday evening the MSU researchers and the Ad Hoc Committee on consolidation will hold a public forum on the consolidation report at 8 p.m. in city hall. There will be a period for questions and answers.

On Thursday, the Plymouth Township Community Improvement Association will sponsor a debate on consolidation in Plymouth - Salem High School's cafeteria at 8 p.m. Two speakers will present each side.

So there's plenty of opportunity to get all the information on the consolidation issue this week.

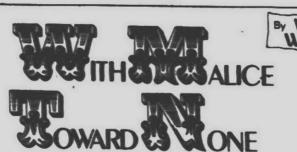

For such an important election, the voters should take advantage of these three meetings to assemble their information first hand.

Many voters say they have already made up their minds. If they have, they're cheating themselves and their neighbors by not looking at all the facts and opinions.

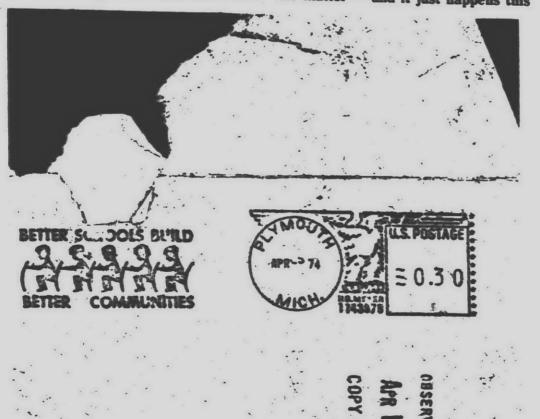

Whatever the outcome of the election on May 7, the people of Plymouth city and township should be able to look back on it afterward and say, honestly, that it was a well - informed decision of the voters.

If not, the voters have only cheated

Making an intelligent decision is easy - if you've got the facts. Otherwise it's simply an emotional choice and, on such an important issue, a travesty of the election process.

THE AGENDA for the April 10 Plymouth School Board meeting was mailed out April 5 and arrived at the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric offices on April 17, two days before the agenda for the April 23 meeting arrived. The Observer & Eccentric has received many complaints lately about mail service.

Report more 'accurately,' don't stress controversy

Where was I Monday night (April 1) or where was the Plymouth Observer and Eccentric reporter? We both thought we were at the Plymouth Board of Education workshop at the board office.

After reading the headlines, "Schools May OK 45 - 15," and then the article written by Jan Williams, I was more than positive we both were not at the same meeting.

And this is not the first time these discrepancies have occurred between what was said and done at school board meetings and what was reported in the Observer.

I, for one, know the school board meetings are not always reported accurately.

This leads me to wonder about the Canton Township, Plymouth Township and City of Plymouth planning commission meetings, township trustee meetings, city commission meetings and other citizen committee meetings and the way they are reported.

The citizens of Plymouth Township, City of Plymouth and Canton Township look to your newspaper for accurate reporting and read your newspaper articles for information. Your articles influence lots of people's thinking and the way they vote on

However, your newspaper often prefers to stress to the public the happenings at the school board meetings which will cause controversy. Such as the verbal exchange between two board members over random choice at middle school and high school; a board member's so - called "fist fight" with a citizen at board meet-

This type reporting does not help instill confidence in our elected board.

READERS FORUM

As an interested parent and concerned citizen, I have attended each of the bi - monthly board meetings since August. I felt this would be the only way I could honestly evaluate the board as a group and as individuals.

I've listened to what problems the board and administration were confronted with and how they reached their many complex decisions. Their decisions have not always been the most popular but have been in the best interest of the majority of the students and taxpayers in the Plymouth Community School District.

In my opinion they are doing a tremendous job. How many of us could stand up to the pressure of all the abuse, criticism and disapproval they receive? I'm even more surprised that we have anyone running for these school board positions.

To the citizens of the Plymouth School District, I ask you to attend these board meetings and get your information first hand and accurately.

I believe many taxpayers would change their attitude when they find out the numerous ways and time the board of education spends in trying to help save money as well as spend it.

Some of this information you never read in the newspaper. JENELL POWELL

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Our stories are not meant to be verbatim transcripts of public meetings. Often times the reporter must ask questions which weren't raised in front of the public and thus the story is not based solely on the meeting.

In this particular story, we regretfully created a mistaken impression that the 45 - 15 plan might be implemented district wide. This was corrected in the following edition.

In defense of the reporter, Jan Williams, who wrote the story which Mrs. Powell refers to, the schools had never released a specific proposal for the 45 - 15 plan until after her story appeared April 4.

Mrs. Powell also criticizes us for emphasizing "negative" stories about the schools. Perhaps she has missed the many feature stories on the various programs Plymouth schools offer.

We feel it is important for our readers to get all the news - good and

FOR THE EARTH

Concern for the earth describes a project that can be spotted by grocery shoppers all over the area this week.

This is Earth Week, a special time designated several years ago for thinking more about our environment and how we can stop polluting it.

AAUW donates new book to provide some good reading for National Library Week

BY MARGARET MILLER

If you live in Livonia, a good way to celebrate National Library Week April 21 to 27 might be to dip into a new book that takes a different slant on government today.

Recently presented to both the Alfred Noble and Carl Sandberg library branches by the Livonia branch of the American Association of University Women, the book is titled "The Bicentennial — a new look."

It is written by Harry Jewell of Grosse Ile, who came along to discuss its basic idea when Mrs. Barbara Medwedeff of the Livonia AAUW made the presentation to Stanley Bien, head librarian at the Noble

He said his book outlines the premise that moral law was at work in the founding of this country and that people must renew understanding of that law if the nation is to continue

"People need to learn more about the history of our country," Jewell added. "I would like to get them to spend more time in their libraries.

"I have found no professional group which complements its responsibility with more dedication and more trained talent than those who serve library patrons."

The road that led Harry Jewell to his belief in moral law for society and government and thus to the writing of "The Bicentennial — a new look" began with a law degree and then some scientific developmental work.

"I came to Detroit after I graduated from Harvard law school," he said, "and I was with a law firm for a while but decided I didn't want to make that my life.

"So I got into developmental work, and developed the first multiple vita-

After selling that discovery to Lever Brothers, who marketed it with the trade name Vims, Jewell figured "I was on the road to discovery and great success."

But further attempts in the field didn't go as well.

"I realized I was trying to make the chemicals do what they could not do," he said. "I was not using the laws that govern their relationships.

"And then it hit me that there are basic relationships in all fields and I could use my law background and my scientific studies to see that all fields are governed by basic laws."

Jewell said he is convinced this bas-as chemistry but also to the social sciences, "which have been referred to as inexact."

"The basis for much of today's confusion," he declared, "is that we have not had a pattern in our government."

Jewell said Thomas Jefferson and the other framers of the Declaration of Independence were aware of these

That document, he pointed out, uses the term "according to the laws of nature and nature's God."

"But Jefferson, one of the most articulate young men of his day, did not originate the concept," Jewell added. "He was putting into words the understanding of that day, as it was expounded to the people by the preachers in their Election Day and Thanksgiving Day sermons." Many of these sermons are included in his 183 - page book, he said, along with a facsimile reproduction of the Declaration of Independence.

What has happened to the U.S. government, Jewell contends, is that opinions and interpretations have been substituted for basic moral law as it was understood at the time of the country's founding and stated in the Ten Commandments, the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights.

He concludes his bicentennial book with the statement:

'Today, most people want justice, but it too will be mostly wishful until more of us insist on keeping the simple, simple - until we follow the formula taken from the experience of time and from the nature of the

"First, we must look to the commandments to provide a standard for cultivating our voluntary behavior.

"Next, we must employ the laws of creation - that basic nature our founding fathers came to understand, as a guide for regulating and enforcic law applies not only to such areas ing our affairs with one another."

Louise Watson is secretary of year

When Mrs. Louise Watson was in high school she wanted to become a beautician. He parents wanted her to become a secretary.

Evidently her parents were right, for on April 24, Mrs. Watson, who lives in Westland, will be named secretary of the year by the Town and Country Chapter of the National Secretaries Assn.

There will be a banquet of the organization at Win Schuler's in Ann Arbor, and Mrs. Watson will invite her boss, J.P. Thomas, division manager of Consumers Power Co. in Livonia. During the ceremonies, held to observe the 23rd annual Secretaries Week, she will be given a dozen roses and a charm for her charm bracelet.

The honor is being bestowed on Mrs. Watson mainly because of her activities in behalf of the National Secretaries Assn. which she has served as committee chairman, corresponding secretary, vice president, and as president. If her organization is proud of her-work, she is also proud of the work it

"Before I joined NSA, I never would have thought it possible that I would some day become president of a chapter," Mrs. Watson said. "But they believe in getting a member involved and in giving her small responsibilities at first to strengthen her confidence."

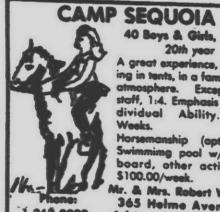

Mrs. Watson enjoys the variety of her work. "My boss is involved in a lot of civic organizations, and when he is involved I get involved too," she said. "It is interesting to meet people of the community and always be concerned with different things."

A widow, Mrs. Watson has lived for five years in Westland. She has three sons, Keith, Joe and Dennis. Would she like to be secretary to the president of the United States? "Not right now," said Mrs. Watson.

Armenian youth to protest importing Turkish heroin

BY SHERRY KAHAN

In 1915 the Turkish government massacred 1.5 million Armenians, a Christian minority living in their

That was far away and long ago. But activities on Wednesday, April 24 by the Armenian Youth Federation will bring it close to home and up to date. Fearing a similar "massacre" of the youth of this country from Turkish heroin, this group of young people from the Detroit metropolitan area is protesting any governmental action that might mean additional opium, from which heroin is made, getting into this country.

Choosing the date on which the Armenian community commemorates the 1915 tragedy, April 24, the 150 members of the organization including several from Livonia, Westland and Plymouth, will leaflet as many areas as they can manage.

These will include busy spots in Detroit as well as such college campuses as the University of Michigan (both in Ann Arbor and Dearborn), Wayne State University, University of Detroit, Central Michigan University, Michigan State University, Eastern Michigan University and Western Michigan University. They also hope to appear in shopping centers including the Livonia Mall. Specifically the youth group fears' cancellation of the agreement between the U.S. and Turkey under which Turkish farmers ceased grow-

"Eighty per cent of the illicit opium supplies in this country come from Turkey," said Nancy Gavoor of Livonia, who is a member of the planning committee. "Our organization feels an obligation to the youth of this country to expose the fact that most of our heroin has been made from Turkish opium."

"It is sad to know that someone as young as junior high students can obtain it. We know heroin is very addictive. But if it is not available to the people who try to solve their problems with it, then they won't get started," she added.

The aim of the Armenian Youth Federation is to stop heroin at the source, not only to help potential addicts but to prevent drug related

She said it made her boiling mad recently when she read that American drug companies are bringing pressure to bear on the American government to cancel this agreement with Turkey.

They feel they can save money buying Turkish opium, used medically in morphine, she added.

TO PROTEST THE GROWING OF OPIUM in Turkey, these three members of the Armenian Youth Federation will help their organization distribute leaflets in areas of Detroit as well as many universities on April 24. Rummage sale offers treasures, French styles

While the rummage sale Saturda May 2 at Christ Church Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills offers the usual rummage sale items such as toys, books, jewelry and glassware, it has a feature that is unusual.

In its French Room will be found famous name designer fashions and brand new merchandise. Shoppers can reach these items through a special entrance apart from the usual rummage shopping.

Considered the largest rummage sale in the area, the event is sponsored twice annually by the Episcopal Churchwomen. It will be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the church at Lone Pine and Cranbrook.

Specializing in unusual items, the sale this year will include Chinese porcelain pieces, Chinese garments and a nostalgic assortment of old playbills and theater programs dating back to 1900. Patchwork quilts will also be sold.

More than 2,500 people were attracted last fall to the rummage sale, proceeds of which will benefit more than 60 local charities in the Detroit and Pontiac areas.

ARTEST MARKARAMENT TO THE TOTAL PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF TH

Plea bargaining gives away the store -- Ford

By MAURIE WALKER

PLYMOUTH - "What can we do when we have a court system that gives away the store?"

This was the comment of Plymouth Police Chief Timothy Ford to Gov. William Milliken's recent special message to the State Legislature on criminal justice.

The governor advocates doing away with plea bargaining, a process where the defense, prosecution and judge agree to accept a guilty plea to a charge carrying lesser penalties than the one for which the arrest was made.

"The police are never a part of plea bargaining; in fact we resist and oppose the system," Ford said.

"We are always ready to proceed on the merits of a criminal charge. Police only start the process, from then on it is taken out of our hands."

To the governor's statement that, "Let us serve notice to the cop on the take, the lazy prosecutor, the gullible judge, that the people of Michigan will not tolerate them any longer," Ford said:

"I agree with the governor that we should attack corruption, gullibility and laziness in the law enforcement system whenever we find it.

"I would argue, however, that no single level of the criminal justice system is without its corruption, laziness and gullibility as he would seem to imply by his statement." Milliken said existing handgun control laws, which are now on the books should be "fully enforced by prosecutors and the courts. " These, he said, are not now strictly enforced. Ford said handgun control should be

"Commission of a crime involving a handgun should bring the maximum sentence, not the minimum as is so often the case," Ford said.

Milliken's message stresses the law as a weapon against crime. He said: "First of all, I propose a sweeping and fundamental reform of our sentencing practices. Many experts on criminal justice have recently come to this conclusion: It is not the severity but the certainty of punishment which can deter conscious criminal

The governor said, "We must convey to the thug who has been flounting the law for years that we are through playing games. And we must face up to the fact that the smart criminals have been playing games with criminal justice and winning with appalling regularity."

Milliken also proposes that sentencing for major crimes be restructured under our law so that offenders will face progressively severe mandatory sentences for each additional offense.

"The objectives cited by the governor and his ideas are beautiful.

"We police officers agree and are convinced he is right. Now all that is necessary is to convince other levels of the criminal justice system."

Plymouth Salem dumps Ypsi, 5-4

Plymouth Salem overcame five errors to top Ypsilanti in a non - league baseball clash, 5-4

Salem Coach Wayne Sparkman used three hurlers in evening his overall record at two - all. Junior Doug Ward went the first four innings, gave up three hits and three unearned runs. walked four and struck out two.

Chuck Thomas worked next, allowed one earned run, no hits, walked two and struck out three. The final reliever. Tom Willette, struck out two and walked-one.

Tom Clark and Bob Smith hurled for Ypsilanti and gave up seven hits combined, Smith taking the defeat.

Ypsilanti started the scoring with two unearned runs in the first. Jeff Oestrike walked, Tom Clark was safe on an error by the Rock shortstop and the two advanced on a wild pitch. Elwood Brown then dribbled a grounder to second that was bobbled for one run and Mike Nicks sacrificed in Clark to make it 2-0.

The Rocks got those two back in the third. Doug Ward singled and wassacrificed to second by Kurt Brannock. Mark Stephens doubled Ward to third. Ward then scored on a wild pitch and Stephens scampered in when Willette was safe on an error. Salem jumped up by two in the fourth. Dan Moore singled and Darrell Rowe's sacrifice moved him to second. John Major singled and Brannock singled with Moore scoring and Major dashing in when the ball got away from the Ypsi outfielder.

Ypsi tied it at four - all with solo scores in both the fifth and sixth in-

The Rocks pushed aside their five errors in the seventh and went after that deciding score. Don Bidwell singled and went to second on Willette's out. Tom Davidson then hit into a fielder's choice with Bidwell safe at third. Bidwell then danced in with the winning run when Ypsi failed to make good a double play on a ground out off the bat of Moore.

With two out in the top of the eighth and the clubs locked in a scoreless duel, Mike Kula ripped a double off Curtis. Dave Sarkissian followed with a single and Curtis walked Al Butkovitch to fill the bases.

Clarenceville Coach Del Cory then went to his bullpen and in came Tim McCammon who promptly walked Rick Lowhead and Mike Herman to push in the two deciding tallies.

Picking up the victory for Riverside was Mike Herman who allowed only

It was a different story in the second contest with Clarenceville pumping in two runs in the third and adding a solo in the fifth with Brian Luka recording a shutout win.

Luka went the distance on the Trojan mound and hurled a four - hitter, walked none and struck out three.

Taking the loss for Riverside was Steve Pilachowski who gave up the three runs on seven hits, struck out three and walked two.

The Trojans tallied twice in the third. John Burhop started it off when he was safe on an error and Tim Laird followed with a run scoring two - bagger. Luka helped out his own cause with another double and Laird scampered in with run No. 2.

Clarenceville's insurance score came in the fifth when Rick Beyer singled, stole second and scored on a hit by McCammon.

Thurston blanks Southfield, 5-0

Emil Majeski's Thurston Eagles who were picked to be one of the toughest clubs in the area are fighting it back to the .500 mark.

After dropping a 6-1 decision to Stevenson and a doubleheader to Royal Oak Kimball, the Eagles bumped Southfield, 5-0, for their first win since their opening romp over Plymouth Salem.

"We will come out of this," commented Majeski whose Eagles now stand at 2-3. "Heck, Kimball is one of the best in the state and we lose the first game in eight innings and blow away a 2-0 seventh inning game in the Majeski called on his senior righthander Ray Ivey in the Southfield win with the Eagle hurler coming up with a four - hitter, walking three and striking out seven. Ron Dunkel suffered the loss for the Blue Jays with Thurston collecting seven hits.

Thurston captain, Gary D'Ascenzo, got his squad off to a good start in the opening inning with his second four bagger of the season. John Roy followed with a single and Ivey connected for his first round-tripper to make it a 3-0 contest.

A walk to Ivey and double by Mike Donoghue pushed it to 4-0 in the third. The fourth saw the Eagles finish their attack when D'Ascenzo walked, Ken McLean doubled, Roy walked and Mike Hill walked to force in D'Ascenzo.

Ann Setlock, one of the veterans of the womens: all - star leagues, has done it again.

With a finish as exciting as any in years she won the high average championship and thus earned the right to enter the throne room a fter an absence of several years.

Trailing Kathy Springs, her youthful rival, by a single pin on the final night of the season in the Ladies Major Leeague, Ann left no doubt about her right to the title when she rolled games of 178, 246 and 265 for a 689 second highest of the season - to leave her challenger far behind.

It was a most satisfying triumph for Ann, who has been fighting the ravages of a bad back for more than a year. It wasn't too long ago that she was on the verge of retiring from major competition. Then, she decided to give it one more try and crowned the year with success by posting an average well above 196.

With this average, Ann joins the elite of women's bowling in America

The women bowlers also set a record as a group when three teams --Motown, Pinky's Sport Shop and Jac -

Ro - tied for the league championship in the Bowlerettes circuit.

It was the first triple tie ever recorded in the league that has been in existence for more than a quarter of a century.

In a roll - off at Motor Lanes Anita, Cantaline's Jac - Ro team showed the way and earned the trophy in a thrill-

The new champions will be crowned at the annual banquet Friday night when the official figures and averages will be announced.

The members of the Goebel team are keeping their fingers crossed and for a good reason.

Unless some sharpshooter comes through in the next two weeks before the ABC tournament closes at Indianapolis, the Goebel group will claim three titles.

Captain Bob Hart is at the head of the list in the individual all - events with 2087 and shares the doubles with Chuck Sunseri at 1419, while the team tops the team all - events with 9575.

Very few teams in the long history of the ABC have done better than 6-1.

This is a big week for the junior bowlers and they'll be establishing something of a record when more than 1,000 will attend the Livonia Parks and Recreation banquet.

This group has grown so large that the banquet is being conducted over a four night period at Roma Hall.

The high scoring continued in the Wonderland Lanes Classic with another pair of 700's, and a team count of Chuck Bonza won the pace setting roll that wasn't decided until the final ball. He linked games of 222, 258 and 226 for a 706 to beat John Mc Keever by a single pin.

The annual tournament sponsored by the Greater Detroit Bowling Association got under way last Saturday night at Satellite Bowl with the largest turnout in years.

With the fuel shortage still having an effect, the attendance this year is expected to shatter all previous

Open meeting' proposal watered down in House?

LANSING - For almost a year now, the House of Representatives in benefits. Lansing has been wrestling with a proposed open meetings bill. Intent of the bill is to make meetings of all government bodies open to the public.

The bill was originally introduced in May of 1973 and was just recently reported onto the floor by the House Judiciary Committee.

The proposal, Substitute House Bill 4938, has been so watered down that it may be worse than the original state laws it was meant to improve, claims Rep. Perry Bullard (D-53rd).

"The version now before the House provides far too many opportunities for public officials to meet in secret to discuss and make deals on important public issues," he says, "Furthermore, the current version has no meaningful enforcement provisions."

Bullard is going to offer amendments which would prohibit governmental bodies from holding secret meetings on the following:

Employment or appointment of public officials - hiring decisions made behind closed doors encourage nepotism and other improper favoritism;

Discussions on litigation, other contractural relationships, or collective bargaining - secret discussion of contractural relationships makes it easy for deals to be made in private and ratified in public.

Discussion of negotiation of the purchase or sale of property. Thousands and sometimes millions of dollars are involved in purchase and sale of land, buildings and equipment. Bullard says. "To leave these matters to closed, secret meetings without public scrutiny is inviting abuse of public trust. Such abuses may include convincing a government body to adopt certain specifications that only one buyer, seller or contractor could quid pro quo basis or for long - term

To enable citizens to attend government meetings and to make them open, he continues, the following enforcement provisions must be restored to the bill:

Violators of any provision of the act are guilty of a misdemeanor and may be fined $100; and, violators of any provision are liable in a civil action for a civil fine of $500, payable to the

"If we are to have effective and enforceable open meetings legislation," he concludes, "these changes must be made on the floor of the House. There is no excuse for conducting public business in secret.

"But we will only have a chance for openness in government if the people make their desire for open decision making known to their state legislators in the next few days."

The bill reported to the House floor reads, in part: "It is vital in a democratic society that public business be performed in an open and public manner so that citizens are advised of the performance of public officials and of the deliberations resulting in decisions which constitute public policy."

The bill defines public body as any state or local governmental entity which is empowered by state constitution, statute, charter, ordinance or rule to exercise governmental authority or perform a governmental

"Decision" is defined as any determination, action, vote, or disposition upon a motion, proposal, resolution, order, bill or measure on which a vote by members of a public body is required and by which a public body effectuates public policy.

Esch, whose 2nd District includes Livonia and Plymouth, sponsored the legislation with two other Michigan congressmen - Garry Brown of the 3rd District and Philip Ruppe of the 11th District.

The measure would extend urban and rural community action programs, day care projects, community economic development, and poverty

"We have long believed that OEO must be reformed - not abolished and that OEO has become a vital tool in helping the poor help themselves," Esch says.

The bill would transfer OEO programs from the Office of the President to an office supervised by an assistant secretary of HEW.

The bill would authorize $1.4 billion for each of the next three fiscal years. Legislation which now finances OEO programs is due to expire June, the following points were made:

"It is time we recognize that whether OEO remains a separate agency, there continues to be a pressing need for a single office to monitor, operate, and direct federal assistance to the poor and disadvantaged, be it in HEW or elsewhere.

Kelley asks PSC to reconsider gas rate

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley called upon the State Public Service Commission (PSC) to reconsider its most recent rate increase for Consumers Power Co. and enter in its place an order that would:

1. Limit Consumers Power's gas rate increase to 15 per cent instead of the 52 per cent increase previously allowed:

2. Hold up additional rate increases scheduled to take effect this spring unless and until the investigation of Consumers' Marysville gas plant, construction cost overruns is completed and public hearings are held; and

3. Roll back the 21 per cent electric rate increase granted Consumers to a 13 per cent increase which is the estimated increase in the cost of fuel burned in the company's electric generating plants.

ley's formal request that the hikes approved for Consumers in January be reconsidered. In making his request Kelley noted that the average monthly gas bills of Consumers Power customers "will soon be approximately 54 per cent higher than customers of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. are paying for the same amount of gas." In Kelley's statement to the PSC, •Consumers Power's gas rates will be up 52 per cent by May, compared to one year ago, as a result of recent increases approved by the PSC.

•Consumers Power's electric rates will be up 21 per cent by the end of the year, as a result of recnt rate increases approved by the PSC.

•A large portion of these rate increases were based on "juggling the books" and "accounting gimmicks," rather than on actual cost increases.

•A substantial part of the 52 per cent gas rate increase is based upon huge cost overruns at the company's Marysville manufactured gas plant. Six months ago, the PSC expressed shock at the cost overruns: announced that it would commence an investigation to be complete within nine months; but the investigation has not yet begun.

• Consumers Power overcharged "many or most" of its customers five per cent in February, above the rates approved by the PSC

Country auction features treasures from inner city

About 2,000 items will be on sale for old iron railings, church pews, during the "Country Auction of Inner City Treasures" to be held at Wayne

State University on Saturday, May 4. The treasures were obtained from Detroit's old houses one step ahead of the wrecking company's bulldozer.

Buyers will be given a chance to browse from 10 to 11 a.m. before the bidding begins. Informed alumni sales persons will be there to assist.

The site will be 5000 Cass at the coroner of W. Warren. Admission is $2 per person, which includes refreshments, with proceeds going to the WSU Campus Beautification Fund.

The auction is the idea of an energetic WSU alumna, Marquerite Hague, who first began salvaging from the houses to be used in decorating her Birmingham home. She soon had all she could use but, not content to see thousands of irreplaceable old relics destroyed, she struck on the idea of the auction.

"The items for sale this year are even more intriguing that a year ago," says Mrs. Hague, "and we have added more alumni volunteers to dozens of doors and windows, cabinets, lamps, and merchandise that defied description.

An added dimension this year will be handmade quilts made by students of the Detroit Bunche School. A further dimension will be mural painting by art students on the side of the Kelly Williams Studio on Woodward near Warren, one block away. Williams, a 53 - year - old artist, has joined in to help make this year's auction even more of a community affair.

There will also be antique hardware, paneling, interesting old lumber, old books and sheet music, a selection of counter tops, and a creati-

Two professional auctioneers will conduct the sales. Special items have been tagged for the auction and others have been priced for a quick sale.

A final closeout will be held Sunday, May 5, from noon until closing. There will be free admission for the close-

Persons having items to contribute are asked to contact Mrs. Hague or call the WSU Alumni House. The auction still needs "items of nostalgic value" that people don't want to throw away but don't have room to Last year, hundreds jammed into keep — such as old bottles, furniture,

The RED COATS are here. Again!

Another Perry Drug Store has opened in this area. Maybe it's closer and even more convenient than the Perry Drug Store where you shop - and save - right now. Maybe our new location will welcome you to a Perry Drug Store for the first time. One thing's sure: You'll find a Red Coat there filling your prescriptions. Courteously and at low, low prices.

The Red Coat's a Perry tradition. It identifies our registered pharmacists and helps remind you - and us - that the heart of our business is prescriptions. We carry everything you'd expect, but we specialize in prescriptions. Over six million so far. And we stay open every day until 10 p.m. to fill your prescription needs.

Come help us celebrate. Stock up on special items at bigger-thanusual savings and pass the word. The Red Coats are here, again.

Report shows teachers are losing inflation battle

In 47 states, it is costing teachers to teach, according to a new National Education Assn. report which shows them losing the battle against ramp-

"Financial sacrifice should not be the badge of courage for sticking to one's job," NEA President Helen D. Wise commented. "It's truly a sad situation when it costs teachers to remain part of one of society's most useful professions. It is high time teachers be admitted to the mainstream of the nation's economy."

Dr. Wise announced a massive NEA political action campaign, with teacher power mobilized to elect a Congress committed to securing for education its rightful high status among the country's priorities.

"Teachers are upset about the runaway rate of inflation," Ms. Wise declared. "Teachers are angry about tax breaks for big business and wealthy citizens such as Richard Nixon and other fat cats while teachers and school go begging for tax relief.

"They're mad about a skyrocketing defense budget which leaves the nation's beleagured schools to compete with the Pentagon for the inflated dol-

"And, they're mad about record corporate profits while public education faces its most critical financial crisis in history with no relief in

The NEA report show Michigan teachers losing four per cent purchasing power this school year compared

The survey compares the average percentage increase of teacher salaries in each state with the estimated 9 per cent rise in the cost of living from Sept. 1, 1973 to Aug. 31, 1974.

Teachers' salaries are not even moderate using a U.S. Department of Labor standard as a guide. In fall 1972, a "moderate standard" budget required $11,446, whereas the average classroom teacher's pay was a sub moderate $10,164. Thus a teacher received, on a national average less than 90 per cent of the moderate stan-

Realtor board to move office from Redford to Farmington

The Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors' main office is now located at 11677 Beech Daly in Redford Township. However, in the next few months it will move into new facilities in Farmington. The building now under construction will triple the existing space required to hold the computers, multi - list activities, administration and educational emphasis of the organization.

The computer system will require additional space due to the tremendous use of systems in the multilisting activities. The activities include processing over 250 listings a day. Also, the processing of approximately $2 million business a day, of sales. Also, the photography of over 40,000 listings a year. All of this requires speed, accuracy and economic efficiency. The new building shall assist these goals.

Classrooms will also be constructed to accommodate the continuance of education of every multi - list member. The organization feels that the more educated and professional a member is -- the more responsive he/she shall be to the public.

The classrooms will complement the existing education efforts on a Realtor basis. This shall be accomplished through continued professional seminars as has been the case for 54 years.

The building will also house the expanded administrative staff. The staff is responsible for the day to day operation of the corporations. All are highly specialized experts in the fields of real estate and management.

- Their major emphasis is upon the multi - listing activities and guarding the professional ethics of the organizations. The new facilities will allow the administration to function in a more efficient manner due to increased space requirements.

The building itself will consist of two floors, one main administrative building and two wings. The Drake Road and Grand River location lends itself to a campus atmosphere. The large expansive lawns are studded with big shade trees lending an air of quiet solitude to the busy corporate offices.

The new headquarters will be as beautiful, modern structure of sedate beauty. The organization will certainly have attractive headquarters for the years ahead.

Roberta Eighmy, of Teepee Realty, was honored by the two organizations as 'Realtor-Associate of the year.' She started in real estate in 1954 and has been involved in a variety of Women's Council activities. Bobbie has also been busy with activities at the national level and was the choice of the board for the honor over several other candidates.

William Bowman, immediate past president of the UNRA/WWOCB, was named 'realtor of the year' for 1973 by the board of directors. Executive vice president of Thompson-Brown, he was honored for his outstanding work in the real estate field and for the Realtors during his term as president.

Bold, Blue R in all offices

As part of this year's Realtor Week celebration (April 21-26), the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors announced all Realtors will display the new "big, bold, blue R" in their offices.

The "R" is a new trademark and identifies members of the National Association of Realtors.

According to Mrs. Lois Dicks, board president, the new name and trademark signify the Association's reaffirmation of its determination to protect the right of the American property owner to a decent place to live and work.

"The National Association of Realtors has a tradition of being the voice of America's property owners. That is why the theme for Realtor Week 1974 is - The REALTOR -- a Voice for America's Property Owner," she said.

"We're continuing to work at all levels -- in Washington and with state and local governments -- to achieve legislation that makes home ownership possible."

President Mrs. Dicks pointed to the Association's recent proposal of national legislation to ease the mortgage money as an example of this work.

money as an example of this work.

Mrs. Dicks observed that the new trademark identifies the Association's members as experts in the real estate industry. The term Realtor is a federally registered trademark reserved for use of the National Association and only its members are allowed to use it.

It is for this reason the term Realtor now appears in both the trademark and the Association name.

The Realtor trademark also identifies the world's largest business association. "Wherever you are -- in any of the 50 states or Puerto Rico -- there's a Realtor to serve you," said Mrs. Dicks.

Adopt a new trademark

The Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors has announced its adoption of a new trademark in conjunction with a change in the name of its national organization. The new trademark identifies the National Association of Realtors, formerly the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

According to Mrs. Lois C. Dicks, board president, the new name and trademark signify the the Association's reaffirmation of its dedication to protecting the right of the American property owner to a decent place to live.

The National Association of Realtors has a tradition of speaking for the property owners of our country," she said. "We're continuing to work at all levels — in Washington and state and local governments — to achieve legislation that makes home ownership possible."

Mrs. Dicks pointed to the Association's recent proposal of national legislation to ease the mortgage money crisis as an example of this work.

She said the new trademark identifies the Association's members as trained experts in the real estate industry. The term Realtor is a federally registered trademark.

The Realtora voice for America's property owners.

Doing much more than helping you buy and sell real estate . . . your Realtor is your voice in many forums . . . speaking out in behalf of property owners, always with your best interests in mind. On matters of land usage planning, taxation, industrial expansion, maintaining property values, urban improvements and government relations, your Realtor is your spokesman. Always as close as your telephone, he is waiting to discuss real estate matters with you at any time.

Housing-market isn't as tight as many economists predict

By MICHAEL D. SAMONEK Executive Vice President

Monday, April 22, 1974!

Several important trends in the economic picture have occurred in the last few months. The first is the general concern of economists and others with the processes of growth and development. The impact of an emerging housing market as a vital role player in growth and economic development has occurred.

Also, the recent trends and attempts between income housing, quality housing and quantity of available housing have become important factors. Obviously, all of these items are, related to economic policy, however, the integration of the theories has not been completed.

MICHAEL SAMONEK Executive Vice Pres. UNRA and WWOCB

Today, it may be assumed that little attention is paid to this theory. However, the metropolitan areas of Detroit have seen advances in these areas. Direction is the key word in comprehending the various vital functions within the real estate market.

Direction toward increased property ownership or away from it. Direction toward tighter federal government control. Direction toward higher tax rates. Direction toward tax reform. The central question asked by most prospective buyers is "... how much will my house be worth next year?"

The best way to answer is to compare the sales/value in dollars as they relate in the local communities.

For example: AVERAGE SALE 25,000 26,005 27,278 20,302 7ayne 23,318 31,073 31,342 22,000 30,506 41,000 36,771 40,507 of id 46,070 50,507 Sales - up 0.5% compared with 1972

Listings - up 6.7% compared with Average sale price - up 5.4% compared with 1972 . This comparison is striking in that many believe the real estate market to be tight. The figures indicate a strong, viable, functioning market.

The figures become more overwhelming when you consider the present local market with a comparable market (i.e. Toronto, Ca-

If you applied for a loan in Toronto you would pay 101/2%. Meanwhile, housing prices have increased 100% every year for the last three consecutive years. Housing costs have risen 50% in the last three months. The average metropolitan lot with 50 feet of frontage - vacant will cost you $35,000. If you place a 1000-1200 square foot building upon that land the combined cost of land and building will bring the cost to $55,000-

Imagine the restrictiveness of such a market. Imagine how destructive such a market would be in our metropolitan area. People could not find housing. Home ownership would come to a halt. The young buyer would be excluded. The elderly could not afford to live. Your income would have to exceed $25,000 annually to "keep-up" with your mortgage payments. Now you can understand the importance of a viable real estate market.

The Realtor helps the public market. The multi-list organizations like the United Northwestern Realty Association, assist in keeping the market strong and functioning.

Pleasing each other is one of the strongest goals. Both respond to the idea that the other "deserves nothing but the best". A place to have fun together is very appealing.

FIRST HOUSE STAGE: primary concerns: children are the focal point. The house is first and foremost a place to bring up children. Image of the neighborhood as a "safe place to raise children," proximity to good schools,

For at least 2,300 years, taxation based upon real property has been a significant source of revenue for governments. In Aristotle's time. Although real property taxation has been a durable institution, it has hardly been to popular one, especially in the United States. Real estate taxes were imposed only sporadically, usually during emergencies, in the American colonies, and it was not until well into the 19th century that they were generally adopted by the states on a uniform and universal basis. (An early Supreme Court decision had interpreted the Constitution as prohibiting the Federal Government from engaging in this type of taxation.)

Today, however, property taxes, including real estate taxes, account for over $40 billion in revenue annually, or more than four-fifths of the total tax revenues of local government in this country. Moreover, property taxes, until recently a matter primarily of state and local concern, have become a national issue.

The President has called for a study of the property tax by the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, and his administration has indicated that it intends to make this type of taxation a priority issue in the current Congress. The Senate Sub-Committee on Intergovernmental Relations has held hearings on the property tax, and the Supreme Court has handed down a far-reaching decision concerning the use of property taxes as the basis of financing of pub-

The authors of a 1973 report on property taxes prepared for the United States Chamber of Commerce say: "In spite of the unpopularity of the property tax, there is no reason tobelieve that the demise of the tax is just around the corner."

Recognizing the inevitability of real property taxation, the National Association of Realtors at its recent national convention in Washington, D.C., proposed a number of reforms to make the tax more equitable. The Realtors proposed:

Education group has big role in UNRA programs

By LOUISE CUTLER Chairman Education Committee

The education chairman of the professional standards is always a member of the United Northwestern Realty Association board of directors. Mrs. Cutler has been a member of the board for the past two years.

The committee is composed of brokers and sales associates who voluntarily serve and donate their time.

Its duties are to sponsor educational programs and library facilities to increase the professional competence of all members, work with the state Real Estate Department of Licensing and Regulations, institutions of learning and others to provide a full range of real estate courses and study materials; plan and produce orientation sessions, educational conferences, seminars and similar events; recommend textbooks and films for member use.

Past records reveal that prior to 1955 professional standard classes consisted of a two or three hour period with the brokers welcoming new members and a presentation on the real estate code of ethics.

In 1955 the UNRA membership had grown to 600 with approximately 15-20 new members attending the monthly education classes.

Realtors join in move to assist homeowners

"The Realtor -- A Voice For America's Property Owner," is the 1974 theme for Realtor Week, Realtor Associate Lois Dicks, president of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors announced today.

Realtor Week is part of a nationwide observance during April 21-26.

This year's observance emphasizes the positive role a Realtor performs as a voice for property owners on the local, state and nation-

"At present," Realtor Associate Mrs. Dicks said, "seven out of every 10 families own their own homes, and it is imperative their voice be heard."

Chamberlain's Equity Advance Program Offers YOU

In today's market the money you need to purchase a new home is often "locked" up in your present home. So, to purchase your next home, you must "unlock" that equity. In addition, many home owners such as yourself, are concerned that they might sell their present home and not be able to find a suitable new one. Adding to the dilemma, is the fact that the best properties are on the market for only a short time and waiting for your home to sell can result in missing a chance to purchase that ONE HOME which fits your every NEED!

HOWEVER, at Chamberlain we have a WAY, called our EQUITY ADVANCE PROGRAM, that will help you purchase your dream home BEFORE you sell your present home. Simply:

- 1) Make an appointment with one of our professional salespeople. They will explain the program to you and at the same time give you a "Market Analysis" regarding your present home.
- 2) Then let your salesperson show you how easy it is to find just the right home among the many fine homes on the market today!

"Realtor" -- There is a tremendous feeling of pride in this word that is used by thousands throughout our country. A Realtor and Realtor associate is a dues paying member of a local Board of Realtors which is affiliated with the State and National Associations. He is required to complete a course of instruction covering not only the by-laws of his local board but also those of State and National. He agrees to abide by the bylaws, standard operating procedures and the constitution of the National Association of Realtors.

Most importantly, a Realtor acknowledges the Code of Ethics as set forth by the National Association and he pledges to adhere to it. As a result, he has a deeper sense of obligation to his client, his community, and his country, a fact which should insure the public of a more qualified type of service and a very real interest in protecting their individual rights pertaining to all phases of real estate.

Realtors join in fight to overcome laws that affect property owners

Bruce Roy, owner of Bruce Roy Realty. Inc. in Northville -- member of the Western Wayne Oakland County Realtor Board and the United Northwestern Realty Association Board of Directors and chairman of the Legislative Committee, is deeply concerned about some of the pending egislation in our state and on the hill

His career in the real estate industry started 27 years ago. He has operated his own office for the past 20 years and is a resident of Northville

According to Roy, your rights as a citizen and the rights of private property ownership are now under almost constant attack by various state and national legislative bills down to local ordinances, which are designed to erode the rights of the individual and put you and your property -- under the control of some governmental agency or bureaucracy.

The strong arm of government favoring public ownership of property seeks to-control the individual citizen by its smothering attack on the real estate industry, fully knowing the industry is one of the last bastions of the free enterprise system left in

A small example of such muddleheading is: under the guise of protecting the purchasers, various restrictions and conditions are attempted to be placed on the sellers of property, totally ignoring the fact that today's purchasers are tomorrow's sellers, and that today's sellers are tomorrow's purchasers.

The cost of complying with all these governmental imposed restrictions and conditions will eventually be added to the price you pay for the property, which further adds fuel to our inflationary economy.

Another example is a bill which cancels the right of the homeowner to take an income tax deduction for interest paid on his mortgage.

Realtors are now organizing from the national level, down through state associations and local boards -- in an effort to counteract the many poorly ill thought-out -- and punitive bills affecting the property owners, the general public and the Realtor.

The end result of this legislative harrassment is that Realtor organizations are now being forced to become active politically -- which they will do and I predict Realtor organized groups and the votes they generate will shortly become a formidable force for irresponsible politicians to reckon with at all levels.

"An attack on real estate property rights is an attack on the rights of all

Multi-listing gives buyer selection of 7,000 homes

A multi-list is a cooperative group of real estate companies which combine their home listings into a single inventory and work jointly to provide a timely sale.

In Western Detroit, one of the country's largest milti-lists exists to serve you. So what? You probably have never heard of a multi-list such as the United Northwestern Realty Association (UNRA).

Or, if you have, you know that a multi-list exists only for the benefit of real estate companies. That's not buyer with 7.000 homes to choose from. All at no cost to the public. Persons listing with or buying from a multi-list member pay nothing extra for the service.

The UNRA provides a seller with 3,000 salesman to sell his home and a

A house listed with the UNRA is distributed to its 3,000 members the same day it is listed. All showings are arranged through the listing salesman to minimize the seller's inconvenience. If a UNRA member is not in his office, he can call a computer by telephone to get up to the minute in-
