Passing bond issue now would save taxpayers money, school officials say

By MARTHA MAHAN

PLYMOUTH—You'll save money if you vote to tax yourself more to build new schools June 10, school financial analysts say.

Here are their reasons why:

1. The schools must be built some day. It's the simple mathematics of fitting bodies into space.

New homes going up by the thousands are pouring even more children into schools already overcrowded. And the flood won't stop, since builders see no near end in sight to additional residential construction.

2. Continued spiraling building costs and climbing interest rates on loans are accepted as a fact of life in the economic future. That means schools which must be built will cost far more later on.

3. Deterioration of present school buildings will accelerate, despite higher maintenance costs, as children are packed into quarters too small to deal with them.

4. Money now spent for busing children to schools distant from their homes can be saved to pay for other educational expenses.

5. Finally, approving the 1.29 mills for school construction would bring school debt retirement millage to 7.06 (the current 5.77 plus the 1.29) and qualify the district to participate in the state's money saving state school bond program.

HERE'S HOW that program works: Any school district which levies more than seven mills for its schools may borrow 90 per cent of the amount above the seven mills from the state.

Interest rates which the state is able to secure are far lower than those local districts can realize in the bond market.

The rate charged the state may go as low as four or four and a half per cent, finance men say, in contrast to around 6.7 per cent a local district now must pay on the open market.

To handle the loan, Michigan charges the district one eighth of one per cent more than the state has to pay in interest on the loan.

When you're dealing in millions, the savings can be sizable.

"It's the way all growing districts have been able to keep up — Livonia, Northville, Wayne — Westland," said Supt. John M. Hoben. "All built with the help of the state school bond program. We've never qualified before be-

For Monday's races:

Candidates discuss priorities

By MARIE MCGEE

PLYMOUTH—"Personalized" education, better research and evaluation of programs as well as a stepped-up public relations program aimed at strengthening community support were suggested as a means of keeping pace with mounting school district problems brought by a mushrooming school population.

The opinions were those of Plymouth school board candidates and they came at a public meeting Tuesday night. Co-sponsors of the candidates night forum were the American Association of University Women, the League of Women Voters and the Plymouth Jaycees.

About 100 persons attended the event.

At stake in next Monday's election are two four-year seats and two one-year terms. Also on the ballot are an operating millage renewal, a bonding issue to build several new elementary schools and a safety millage proposal.

CLEARLY, the most crucial issue facing the district, all candidates agreed, was the student population explosion generated by Canton and Plymouth Townships, but solutions varied on how the problem should be handled.

Several candidates called for the early implementation of the 45-15 plan — or year-around school plan now being piloted at Miller Elementary School in the Canton sector of the school district.

On the controversial issue of modular scheduling vs. traditional, most agreed that it worked well for the mature student, but the program still needed tightening up in the area of attendance and teacher accountability.

Only a few favored construction of a third high school in the Centennial Park complex at the present time.

All candidates except one endorsed the bond election. Candidate Thomas Cape said he didn't agree "with the way it was presented." He said the school board "must prove the need" for additional schools. He advocated asking voters to approve schools as needed — "one instead of three."

EACH OF THE 13 candidates present had three minutes to answer the question: What do you consider the most important priorities for the

Hubbert not running

PLYMOUTH — Robert W. Hubbert of 11637 Morgan St., a candidate for the two one-year Plymouth School Board terms up for election, has told the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric, "I'm not running anymore."

Hubbert has not officially withdrawn from the race however and his name will appear on the ballots in Monday's school elections.

Youth Inc. needs attract donors

By HANK MEIJER

PLYMOUTH—A Plymouth Township resident who wishes to remain anonymous has called for 10 or more other township residents to join him in contributing a total of nearly $4,000 to keep Youth Inc. afloat.

The offer came earlier this week in a note written across the front page of the Plymouth Observer and Eccentric under a picture of a Youth Inc. banner thanking three Plymouth city commissioners for their support.

The banner referred to a recent 4-3 vote by the commission to slice its funding for the youth program in half, from $8,000 to $4,000.

"THIS WHOLE PROGRAM is a community project," the township resident said. "I don't think you should divide it between the city and the township. In fact, as a township resident I resent the township's refusing to pay its share."

"I'd like to see the community do this. I think enough people recognize the value of the youth center."

In recent days the amount sought by Youth Inc. to keep its programs intact has already been reduced from the original $4,000. According to Jack Bologna, the organization's treasurer, the center recently received a $1,000 anonymous donation from a community resident.

"We could use more of those," said Youth Inc. director Dale Yagiela. "With about $3,000 still to be raised, Youth Inc. officials are hopeful they will be able to find ample support soon."

"The most encouraging aspect of this is the way people have gotten behind us," Yagiela said. "The parents have been marvelous."

A caucus of Youth Inc. supporters and parents was held Friday night at Central Middle School. Yagiela was pleased with the turnout of about 30 adults.

YOUTH INC. officials outline the organization's financial straits and discussed ways of raising the $4,000 which the city has declined to provide as it had in the past.

"It's been the immediate financial need that is the most critical," Bologna said. He cited operating expenses in coming weeks as one of the sorest spots in the center's financial outlook.

He noted that rather than growing disenchanted with the community's reluctance to provide full support for the youth center, local teens at Friday's meeting came up with a number of fund-raising ideas and pledged their efforts on behalf of the fund drive.

"The community ought to be aware of the fact that the kids didn't get destructive," he said. "They came up Heights election in Nov.?

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—At its meeting today (Thursday), the Wayne County Board of Commissioners is expected to approve placing the election of Plymouth Heights charter commissioners on the November 5 Plymouth Township ballot.

The move, is being taken in response to petitions seeking such an election which were filed on March 23, 1972, and would eliminate a special election.

Plymouth Heights is a de facto incorporated city encompassing all of Plymouth Township east of McClumpha Road but has never officially been born since a charter has never been passed by its voters.

The Heights incorporation attempt was filed several years ago to block annexation of the township by the City of Plymouth.

Bee careful

WHEN RESIDENTS in the area of Auburn and Farmer streets in Plymouth complained about a nest of bees in a tree, the city got Canton Resident Ralph Alloway, a noted beekeeper, to remove it. He did it without getting a sting while Staff Photographer Bob Woodring kept his distance and used a long lense to capture the event.

A strong arm cop

Wayne County Sheriff vies for Mr. America

By SUE ROSIEK

Aside from a little good-natured kidding from friends and co-workers, Bill Chapton of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department thinks being "Mr. Michigan" is definitely an asset.

People often think twice about tugging with the five-foot-nine, 190-pound musclemen. "Yes, I guess it has deterred a lot of aggravation," he smiled.

Chapton, 33, will represent Michigan, Sunday, June 9, in the Mr. America contest at York, Pa. in a contest sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU). The winner will receive a trophy and be featured on several nationally televised talk shows.

Contestants will be judged on muscularity, symmetry, posing routine and overall personal presentation.

CHAPOTON APPEARS rather nonchalant and seems to be taking the upcoming event all in stride. He has, however, put a lot of time into training for the national contest.

"I've been training three hours a day, six days a week for the last few months. After the competition I'll go back to my normal routine one hour a day, three days a week."

Chapton said a complete exercise routine takes about three days. He devotes individual exercise sessions to building up muscles in his arms, legs, shoulders and chest.

His garage looks more like a gym than a garage. It contains more than 4,000 pounds of weightlifting equipment, including assorted shapes and weights of barbells and dumbbells.

Chapton said he's always been interested in weightlifting but never suspected it would lead to all this.

"I originally started training about five years ago, just to build strength and stay physically fit. Shortly afterwards friends and even people I didn't know asked if I had ever considered entering any contests."

SINCE THEN Chapton has won the titles: Mr. Apollo 1973; Mr. South-eastern Michigan, 1973; and Mr. Midwest, 1973. He was first runnerup in the 1973 Mr. Michigan contest and is currently Mr. Michigan 1974.

Besides his job and weightlifting "hobby," Chapton is a student in criminal justice at Madonna College in Livonia.

"As a cop I have to keep up with all the changes in the law. People on the street are getting pretty wise to the law and if a cop doesn't know it (law) he's lost," said Chapton.

He's also interested in journalism and public relations and would eventually like to work in public relations for the sheriff's department.

Chapton also manages a weekly visit to Plymouth - Salem High School to help students interested in weightlifting.

"I like to see students learn how to lift weights the proper way. I've often wished someone had taken the time to work with me when I was that age, so, if I see a kid that's interested I want to help."

Chapton said the session isn't an actual class. Students generally come during their study period or lunch hour to ask advice and workout. He also spends time answering questions on physical fitness.

CHAPOTON IS ALSO physical fitness instructor for the sheriff's academy. "I'm the guy everybody dislikes," he laughed. "because staying physically fit is hard work."

Chapton's wife, Blyth, also enjoys his weightlifting hobby but for a different reason.

"With his job and school, Bill's pretty busy, and it helps to have a hobby he can practice at home," she said. "Besides, it makes him happy it's alright with me."

When Chapton's on stage competing in the physique contests it's Blyth who sits and watches the entire competition and she had a few teasing remarks for her muscular husband and the other contestants. "I think they all have a little bit of the exhibitionist in them," she laughed.

Chapton already has an impressive collection of trophies in his basement and the family living room but one thing is certain: There's always room for one more in the Chapton home.

Chapton, his wife, daughters, Kristi, 8, and Jodi, 10, and three German Shepherds, Hugo, Drum and Karla live in Detroit.

Fishing derby for kids is scheduled Saturday

Kids by the dozens will be crowding the shores of Newburgh Lake Saturday morning for the 12th annual Tom Sawyer-Becky Thatcher fishing derby.

Youngsters from ages 6-16 inclusive will fish from 7 a.m. to noon to catch the largest fish in nine different categories. All who catch 25 fish are eligible for prizes, too.

THE CONTEST is co-sponsored by the Western Wayne County Conservation Club and the parks and recreation departments of Livonia, Garden City, Westland, Plymouth and Redford Township.

Four boys with the most authentic Tom Sawyer costumes and four girls with the most authentic Becky Thatcher costumes will also receive prizes.

To enter, youngsters must register at the registration table on Newburgh Point, a half-mile west of Newburgh Road on E.N. Hines Drive.

Fishermen must bring their own equipment and use natural bait only. GRAND PRIZE for the largest fish will be a two-man raft.

Prizes are also given for the four largest fish of these species: Northern pike, largemouth bass, channel catfish, bullhead, bluegill, pumpkinseed sunfish, calico bass (crappie) and carp.

A prize will be available, too, if a trout is caught, although none have been taken in recent years despite a planting by the state in the late 1960s.

Prizes include Coleman stoves, tackle boxes with lures, propane lanterns, rods and reels, sleeping bags, sets of lures and other outdoor sporting equipment.

A traveling trophy will go to the city or township of residence of the grand prize winner. Redford Township currently has it.

More than 2,000 fish were caught in last year's contest — a considerably better showing than a similar recent contest at Belle Isle.

State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) will distribute prizes after the contest ends at noon.

School candidates have varied voting records

MRS. DOLLY Mc MASTER, teacher at Plymouth's West Middle School, is congratulated by Dr. Glen Gerard, principal of Kinawa Middle School, Okemos, on being named president-elect of the Michigan Association of Middle School Educators for 1974-75. Dr. Gerard is this year's president. Mrs. McMaster also is president of the Plymouth Education Association.

PLYMOUTH — The 16 candidates for the four Plymouth School Board seats sported varied school election voting records ranging from perfect to never. School district records show that four of the 16 candidates have never voted in a Plymouth School District election.

They are: John R. Hibler, who registered in March; Woodrow L. Barrie, who registered in April; and Robert W. Hubbard and Cyril F. Nichols, who registered in 1971.

Speaking for her husband at Tuesday's candidates' forum, Mrs. Nichols said, "We have voted in all Plymouth school elections."

The school voting records, which are public information, were supplied by Plymouth school officials. Records of the other 12 candidates, as supplied by the schools, are as follows:

DEAN R. MULLISON — (reg. April, 1972) — August, 1973. (25 per cent)

CARL F. BERRY — (reg. October, 1964) — June and December, 1972 and June, 1973. (20 per cent)

JOHN L. BLUMENSHINE — (reg. May, 1972) — June, 1972. (25 per cent)

THOMAS H. CAPE — (reg. February, 1967) June, 1968; August, 1969; April, 1970; December, 1972; June, 1973. (50 per cent)

JAMES P. SOMERS — (reg. March, 1972) June, 1972, and June and August, 1973. (75 per cent)

THOMAS A. TURNER — (reg. May, 1968) June, 1968; August, 1969; April, 1970; June, 1971; June and December, 1972; and June and August, 1973. (80 per cent)

BILLIE WHITELEY — (reg. October, 1972) June and December, 1973. (67 per cent)

THOMAS J. YACK — (reg. April, 1972) all elections since that time. (100 per cent)

THOMAS YANUS JR. — (reg. March, 1972) December, 1972, and June and August, 1973. (75 per cent)

State group elects Dolly McMaster

PLYMOUTH — Mrs. Dolly McMaster, president of the Plymouth Education Association, has been named president-elect of the Michigan Association of Middle School Educators (MAMSE) for 1974-75.

Mrs. McMaster is a teacher at West Middle School.

Pioneer Middle School will host the annual MAMSE conference Feb. 27 and 28 of next year, held for 800-900 educators throughout the midwest. The organization includes parents and teachers interested in promoting the middle school concept.

Theme of next year's conference will be "The Between-Ager," and Plymouth Community school staff will play minor roles in its planning.

Publicity will be handled by Carl Taylor and Gilbert Pearson of East Middle School. Program will be headed by Robert Smith and James Brown of West Middle School.

Room and arrangements are under the direction of Gus Gorguze and Brian Kidston of Central Middle School. Finances will be handled by Carl Taylor of East Middle School.

Conference mechanics will be arranged by Gerald Elston and Edgar Kleinsmith of Pioneer Middle School and secretarial arrangements will be made by Kathleen Ennis and Edith Wood.

Dr. Earl Hogan and Raymond Hoedel of the Central Office will also have leadership roles.

Youth Inc., Our House eye fund raising art fair

PLYMOUTH — Representatives of Our House and Youth, Inc. will meet with city officials Friday morning to review plans for a proposed art fair sponsored jointly by the two youth organizations.

Date of the event announced by the planning committee was June 22 and the use of Kellogg Park and the band shell was requested. Basic purpose, the committee said, was to raise badly needed operating funds.

Activities planned were an impromptu street theater, free band music, face painting, art and craft demonstrations. Food will be offered.

While sympathetic, commissioners balked at granting approval until certain problems could be resolved. Those include police coverage and adequate liability insurance.

Commissioner Harold Guenther also proposed the groups drop the June event in favor of the Fall Festival. The fall festival board should be approached to see if the 25 per cent fee charged festival participants could be waived, thus insuring the two groups more profit, he suggested. Youth, Inc. is particularly hard pressed for operating funds after having its annual appropriation from the commission trimmed from $8,000 to $4,000.

In related action, the commission approved a $600 expenditure requested by the Plymouth Community Band.

"We have played in the rain, the snow, in blistering heat and in weather," so cold the valves froze in our horns," stated Clayton E. Leroue, president of the band group.

"No citizen has ever had to buy a ticket for one of our concerts," he continued. "Two thousand people will listen to our band each week this summer. Ten thousand will see us march on Independence Day. Another 12,000 will hear us at the Fall Festival and 2,000 more will come out next year for our winter series. I only ask that you help us survive," he pleaded, as he presented the group's 1974 budget amounting to $2,500.

Come on summer, city parks ready

PLYMOUTH—The Plymouth Department of Parks and Recreation Cultural Center summer program of leisure time activities will begin at city playgrounds June 25.

The program, which includes crafts, sports, special events and many other activities, will be conducted at the Hamilton, Auburn, Sutherland and Elm Street Parks. Activities are free for all city residents. Non-residents must pay a $2 annual registration fee.

There will be two sessions of arts and crafts held at each park twice a week. Special event days for registered participants will include swimming on Monday and Wednesday beginning July 1; a trip to Greenfield Village, July 12; camp out, July 18; Junior Olympics, July 25; carnival, July 26; zoo, Aug. 2; Bob-Lo, Aug. 9; a playground picnic, Aug. 16.

For the convenience of shoppers, the Vest Pocket Park will be open Monday through Friday for children ages three through eight with a maximum stay of two hours.

Registration for introduction to fine arts and creative dramatics will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday, June 25. The separate programs begin Wednesday, June 26 and are open to elementary through high school students. There will be a $2 fee for city residents and a $4 fee for non-residents.

A novice tennis tournament will be held July 12 through 14. The Plymouth city tennis tournament will be Aug. 2 through 4 and the City of Plymouth golf tournament will be Aug. 23 through 25.

Evening classes in beginning and advanced belly dancing and judo, as well as karate and guitar, will be held at the Cultural Center. There will be a $15 to $16 fee for these classes.

Other activities will include a super garage, attic and parking lot sale, June 13 through 15 at the Cultural Center Arena; a collector's fair, July 27 and 28 at the Cultural Center; and concerts every Thursday evening in Kellogg Park June 27 through Aug. 1.

Further information concerning discount tickets, program times, registration fees and dates may be obtained from the Plymouth Parks and Recreation office.

Plymouth's 1st residents -- savages or friends?

PLYMOUTH -- Depending on whose report is accepted, the Potawatomi Indians, who roamed Plymouth when the settlers arrived, were either hostile and thievish, or friendly and honorable.

In a memoir about Plymouth, read to the Michigan Historical Society about 1876, Henry Munson Utley, the historian, who was born here in 1836, wrote: "There were but few Indians in the neighborhood, and they were mostly of the seedy vagabond variety who never dreamed of taking a scalp, and cared for nothing but enough to eat and plenty of fire water."

Fairfax Downey, in "Indian Wars of the U.S. Army" (1963), declares that the Potawatomis were "as savage as they were filthy, a tribe so lice-ridden that the French called them Les Poux -- the Fleas."

An entirely different version of the Potawatomis emerges from the memoirs of two of the original settlers of Plymouth. One of them was Henry B. Holbrook, who laid out Plymouth in 1837. Said Holbrook: "It has been my observation that the Indians in the vicinity of Plymouth were friendly, kindly, neighborly and helpful so far as it was possible for them to be with the little means they had."

A.B. Markham, another 1825 arrival, was also favorably disposed toward Indians. He met many of them in 1827 on a westward jaunt to what is now Chicago. The Indians he stayed with "were very social and friendly ... These Indians told me I would be safe in pocket and in person if I did not meddle with their rights. This I found to be correct."

Markham bunked with Indians five nights. "In my stay with some of them I am sure I was as well treated as wild men of the forest were capable of treating a human being."

The chief of a tribe of Indians Markham met near the Huron River was a graduate of Hamilton College. "I stayed with him overnight. His name was Blue Jacket. He was a fine-looking Indian and very social. He said he did not teach his children to speak English as he thought they would be none the better for it."

Markham does report one instance of thievery. "One day," he writes, "an old Indian came to my shanty while I was cooking pork and beans. It was raining and he stopped during the rain and went on. When I came in from work there was no food in the house. The old redskin had returned and taken everything eatable."

The old redskin may have been desperate for food. Holbrook writes: "A starving Indian or a sick Indian might have sometimes stolen something, but the average Indian never touched the white man nor his belongings, nor were the women afraid of them generally: for the only time they might be dangerous was when drunk and this applies to whites as well as Indians and other peoples."

Holbrook viewed the red man sympathetically, but he was not a romantic. He apparently did not believe, with Rousseau, that primitive man is nobler than civilized man because he is closer to nature. Holbrook's description of the Indians who passed through Plymouth bears little resemblance to those of the idealized American Indians described in the novels of Cooper. "Some of them were fine specimens of their race," Holbrook wrote, "but there were many of them sickly and weak, troubled with malaria, small-pox, stomach troubles, and all the ailments imaginable. It must not be imagined that these children of nature were living in bliss and joy supreme."

Neither Markham nor Holbrook mention Tonquish, the Potawatomi after whom the creek, which rises in Plymouth Township, is named. Tonquish was not alive when the settlers arrived in Plymouth; he was killed by a white man near the border line between Nankin and Livonia six years before Plymouth was founded.

Tonquish (also referred to as Tonguish, Toga and old Togish) was chief of the Indians who lived in "Toguish's Village" located near the River Rouge. Most historians place it in the northern part of Wayne County, or the southern part of Oakland County about 20 miles northwest of Detroit.

Holbrook placed it due west of Plymouth.

An account of the death of Tonquish, written by Melvin D. Osband in 1886, is in the Michigan Pioneer and Historical Collection VIII, 161. Osband was told by pioneers that in 1819 Tonquish's son, in a dispute over bread the Indians had taken, shot and killed a settler named Sergeant who lived near the Rouge. Whites, led by Major Macomb, caught the young Indian and his father at Tonquish Creek near Nankin Mills. The son was shot and killed by Macomb as he ran. Tonquish then attacked Macomb with a knife, but was driven off by another white. Macomb shot and killed the Indian chief as he ran away.

"This last skirmish took place in Section 4 of the township of Nankin," writes Osband, "one mile west of where my father afterward settled, on what has since been known as the Dimmick farm, and about 20 miles west of Detroit. The wooden protection which the Indians erected over the graves looked fresh and almost new at the time of our settlement in the vicinity six years after. About the year 1837-8 some boys opened the graves and took from them the chief's gun -- or more properly gun barrel -- and some personal ornaments."

The descendants of the Potawatomi now live in a reserve on Walpole Island on the east side of Lake St. Clair. There is little in Plymouth in 1974 to remind us that their forbears once hunted where Kellogg Park now stands. The occasional finding of an arrowhead; the use of the word "trail" in the name of our road to Ann Arbor; the name of the creek that meanders under the city on its way southeast to the Middle Rouge -- these barely serve to remind us of the culture that preceded ours in the Plymouth area. Perhaps we prefer not to be reminded.

Buses rated safe

PLYMOUTH'S SCHOOL BUSES have received a 100 per cent score on safety inspections conducted by the Michigan State Police. The 41 regular buses operated by the district carry 6,500 students to and from school daily and travel a total of more than 400,000 miles annually. Canton Dems back 3 school issues

CANTON -- The Democratic Club of Canton has endorsed all three millage issues proposed by the Plymouth School District for Monday's election. In a recently issued statement, the club stated, "It is imperative that all voters in the City of Plymouth and Canton and Plymouth Townships approve the millage requests in order to continue the high quality of education in the Plymouth Schools."

"We believe that each of the millage proposals is a reasonable and sensible request. All citizens must realize that the costs of operating and maintaining schools have risen just as everything else has, and the responsibility of meeting these increased expenses lies with all persons residing within the Plymouth School District.

"The Democratic Club will take a stand on all issues of importance to Canton Township citizens, and the three millage requests certainly are of the utmost concern to everyone living in our community."

"Canton residents must take the initiative to insure that each of the millage requests passes since most of the schools' future students will be from our township."

"The 6.5 mills needed for operating expenses is a renewal and will not cost taxpayers one penny more. While the other two issues will raise tax bills slightly, this is a small price to pay to help relieve the overcrowding that already has begun in Plymouth Schools, and will continue to worsen, as well as helping to insure the safety of every school-age child."

"School officials have taken great pains in tailoring the millage requests so that each adequately meets the needs of the schools without overburdening any taxpayer in the district. And it should be remembered that it will not be the schools that are the prime beneficiaries of the additional funds, but the residents of this community who are, or who will be, sending children to Plymouth Schools as well as the students themselves."

Dem Club backs Borowski, Yack

PLYMOUTH--The United Democratic Club from the Plymouth School District recommends Marcia Borowski and Thomas J. Yack as superior candidates for the school board.

The club also recommends George Lawton and Billie Whitely as well qualified candidates.

The club said Mrs. Borowski is an "outstanding" candidate for a four year term "because of her intense involvement in school activities, her deep concern for the quality of education provided in the district and her philosophy stressing an individually successful school experience for all children."

Yack is considered "highly impressive because of his thorough knowledge of schools on a functional level, his basic approach to education and his personal drive which will benefit the district."

The club recommends Lawton for re-election to a four year term "because of his history of service to the community and experience on the board of education."

Mrs. Whitely draws support from the club for a one year term "because of her concern for the vast inequality of education between different schools in the district and her level of knowledge and involvement."

LIVONIA SCHOOLS ARE AT THE TURNING POINT.

"I moved to Livonia so my children could get a good education."

Why school officials back bond issues

cause we didn't reach the seven mill limit."

Nor does the senior citizen or the taxpayer whose property taxes are high relative to his income have to worry, Hoben said.

SCHOOL BUSINESS Manager Ray Hoedel calculates the 1.29 mills being sought June 10 would cost the owner of a $40,000 home approximately $26 per year.

Recent changes in the Michigan income tax law, he said, will result in a refund equivalent to 60 per cent of the tax paid by the older folks and the financially pinched.

This breaks down to a refund of $16 in state income tax of the $26 paid in increased school tax.

"Major developers are building as much and as fast as possible," Hoedel said. "They see it as dollars in their pockets with construction costs going up so fast. Building schools now instead of six months or a year or two years from now is just wise spending of tax dollars."

Moreover, as new homes, businesses and industries are built, the district's equalized valuation increases, bringing in additional tax dollars to pay off the set annual amount needed to pay off the loan.

THE GROWTH has even allowed the district over the past several years to reduce its millage from the 6.25 of three years ago to the current 5.77.

The district's swift growth in wealth is shown in state equalized valuation figures which came to $303 million in 1971-72, to $311 million in 1972-73, to $347 million in 1973-74 and $390 million in 1974-75.

"Basically, the increased SEV should pay off the loan," Hoben said.

Canton Township, most of which lies in the Plymouth School District, ranked third among the top 10 growth communities, housingwise, in Southeast Michigan in 1973.

A total of 1,583 residential units was authorized, according to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

IN 1971 CANTON ranked fourth with 1,085 units, fourth again in 1972 with 1,748 units.

In multi-family units, Canton dropped to 10th spot in 1973, indicating that the majority of building was single family units.

School officials claim one of the reasons people are building here is the excellent reputation of the schools. And so, they say, a decline in school quality would mean a decline in residential values, whereas the extra $26 per year would be only a small fraction of the increased market value of a home backed by good schools.

Moreover, Hoben claims, it is simply morally right for all to share an obligation which spreads throughout the district.

"UNDER THE LAW, a school district must provide an equal opportunity for education to all school age children residing anywhere in the district," the superintendent said. "Because of a lack of schools in the district's southern portion, it has been necessary to bus these children elsewhere. Further delays in building the necessary schools will increase the number of children being bused and the expense of busing besides, resulting in a poorer education."

"All residents pay the same school tax rate. Current residents in the southern part of the district have been paying for construction and operation of schools built in the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township and still having their own children bused."

Typically, schools are financed over a long period of time—25 to 30 years. Therefore, future residents share in the cost of previously erected buildings.

The district presently has a $22.5 million dollar debt associated with construction of existing school buildings. It won't be paid off completely until 1988.

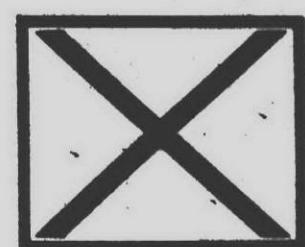

THUS LONGTIME residents, those who have moved in within recent years and those who move in for the next 24 years will be helping pay off the debt for existing schools.

"I guess it's where your own kids are right now that makes some folks vote the way they do," Hoedel said. "But when your elementary age child reaches high school and you realize what has happened, it makes a difference."

"Some kids don't know now what day they'll be practicing basketball or music or at what hour. Parents who have to provide transportation can't keep their schedules straight."

"I guess it comes down to the fact that sooner or later you have to have some confidence in the school board and the school administration," he said. "They aren't asking for the bond issue just because they want to. They have reason."

PLYMOUTH — The advanced sculpture students at Plymouth - Salem High School climaxed their semester's work with the casting of their molds in bronze.

After much preparation and practice, the students first made models in wax and then readied for the casting by enclosing the models in a plaster-like substance. The cores were heated for a three-day period at 1,200 degrees F. at which point the wax melted, leaving a hollow mold. The students did the actual casting after digging a pit in sand to hold the molds and melting the bronze for three hours to bring it to the casting temperature of 1,970 degrees F.

This advanced form of sculpture was implemented through the help and cooperation of several departments and teachers who provided excellent use of shared facilities in the school's modular scheduling. The students' finished projects will be on exhibit at Plymouth - Salem High School the first week in June.

Discuss school priorities

Plymouth School District and how would you implement them? A question-and-answer period lasting 1½ hours followed the individual presentations.

The latter part of the evening was probably the most enlightening because it gave candidates a chance to expand on previous statements, including those published in the Monday edition of the Observer & Eccentric.

Participating in the forum were the following candidates for the two four-year terms: Marcia Borowski, Joseph Gray, John R. Hibler, George F. Lawton and Dean Mullison. One-year terms candidates were: Woodrow Barrie, Carl F. Berry, John L. Blumenshine, Thomas H. Cape, James P. Somers, Thomas A. Turner, Mrs. Billie Whitely and Thomas Yack.

Cyril Nichols, a candidate for a one-year term, was ill. He was represented by his wife. Candidates Thomas Yarus, Jr. did not respond to the invitation, and Robert M. Hubbert has unofficially withdrawn from the race, the Observer & Eccentric has learned.

GRAY, AN incumbent and currently the board treasurer, said one way to ease the classroom crunch was with construction of larger elementary schools that could then be converted to middle schools when the population levels off.

Hibler, who described himself as a "newcomer" to the area, said a top priority would be to build schools in those areas where the overcrowding is occurring. He called for the completion of Plymouth-Canton High School as another top priority item.

Lawton, currently finishing a four-year term on the board, put the settlement of the first two-year teachers contract in Plymouth's history on the priority list and added it was "important for the district to get a curriculum coordinator or assistant superintendent." He also cited the need for program research.

Mrs. Borowski called for concentrated attempt to "personalize schools." She said students, particularly at the high school level, "need to be known and cared about" by their teachers.

"A child who doesn't make it in school doesn't have anywhere else to go," she said at one point. She called for the full use of such programs as the volunteer "bucket brigade" that helps children with learning disabilities.

Mullison favored a careful study and evaluation of the district's finances and said the district could keep close check on state assessment and other achievement tests to determine whether "experimental" programs being used should be retained or discontinued.

He also advocated the total elimination of the drug problem at the high school and said the board should "initiate strong action" to achieve this goal.

YACK PRESSED for strengthened community support through a more comprehensive public relations program that could include newsletters to residents.

He said that the board "should move away from crisis planning" and goals and objectives should be clearly defined for both teachers and students.

He also added that the board members should make "every effort to be free of political ambition . . . not to use the position as a political stepping stone."

Berry, a former school board member, listed a beefed up security guard unit - using a "low key" approach to trouble - as a priority. He also suggested volunteer parents be used to patrol the commons area so they can "better understand some of the problems" at the high school.

Barrie called for the use of professional public relations firm and financial analyst to evaluate the district's spending habits. He said the district should "seek all the government aid we can get" by assigning someone to review federal programs in an effort to get "government bucks."

"There's a lot of money out there. We may as well get some," he added.

TURNER SAID that careful evaluation should be made of the 45-15 school year plan before it is expanded. Another major item facing the board next year will be the decision whether to build a third high school, he added.

Mrs. Whitely said community support was one of the district's biggest needs. She cited the need for better safety measures and urged expansion of the district's safety committee, possibly to include a representative of the Wayne County Road Commission.

She called for better diagnostic facilities for children with learning disabilities and urged a closer relationship between parents and the school.

Somers put the school construction program at the top of his priorities. He added he was "not totally sold" on the 45-15 plan as the answer to accommodating the overflow of school youngsters.

Blumenshine said the board might do well to "do something new" with teachers' contracts, possibly working out an agreement that would span three-to-five years rather than the present two-year period.

Cape prefaced his remarks with the statement that he was concerned "about the experiments being used on our children," referring to team teaching and modular scheduling. "Taxpayers are getting tired," he continued, "and are interested in results for dollars spent." He said he was interested in education that provided the "basic fundamentals . . . kids that know how to spell, write, multiply and divide."

LATER, IN THE question and answer period, Mrs. Borowski was asked how she would go about "personalizing" a student's education.

There were a variety of ways, she said. One way was by creating mini-schools within the main school where by teacher and students work more closely on projects.

She said it would work if teachers simply began "noticing children and recognizing their individual needs," and offering them a variety of programs to suit these needs.

Mrs. Whitely said that "learning centers" tend to unify a teacher-student relationship as well as reinforce learning skills.

MANY CANDIDATES said in answer to a question from the audience that if the millage fails Monday, the board should repeat its request in six months.

In that six-month period, every effort should be made to find out how the board failed to "sell" the public on a building program that even started now would not alleviate the overcrowding until at least 1976, some candidates believe.

Regardless, however, of the outcome, Turner commented: "We won't go off a cliff . . . there are compromises we can make."

Those include satellite schools, split sessions, extended school days, larger classes, but probably not the full-scale extension of the 45-15 plan.

Turner and Mrs. Borowski both emphasized that any action by the board to implement the 45-15 plan without the proper lead-in time would be irresponsible "until an evaluation is made of the Miller school program."

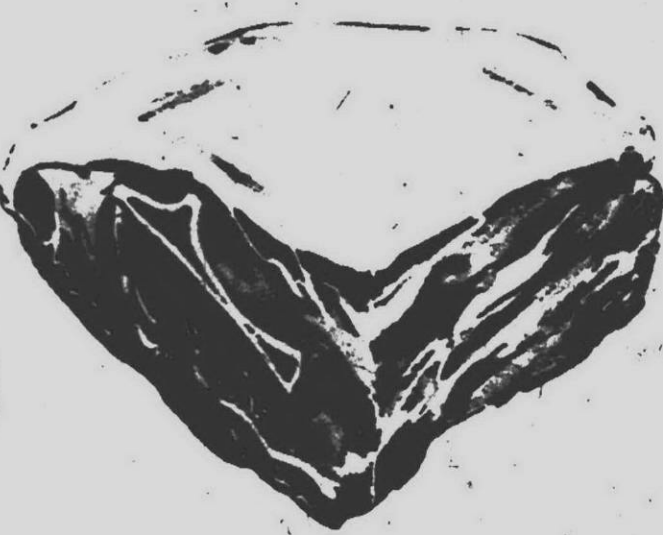

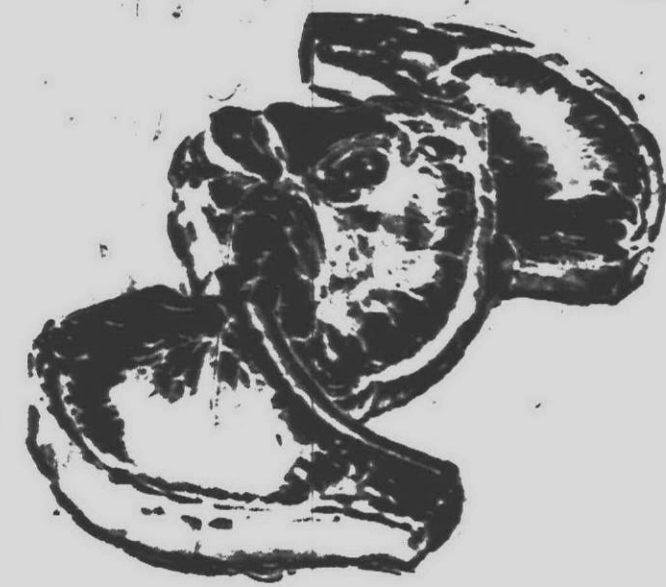

The session closed with a request from all candidates to state their feelings about cross-district busing. All indicated they were "against" forced busing. Several added, however, that if it became the law of the land, as board members, they would be compelled to comply.

to attend a free seminar on:

Client Financial Planning

Where: Paine Webber's Troy Office
Standard Federal Bldg.
When: Thursday, June 13 at 8:00 P.M.

Paine Webber believes your financial goals are important. So important that we have constructed a highly sophisticated, comprehensive computer program designed to pinpoint these goals for people who earn between $15,000 and $100,000 annually. And to offer guidelines designed to help you reach your objectives.

If you're seeking a better future, attend this seminar. You'll see why a graphic appraisal of your complete financial picture—savings, insurance, real estate, investments—can be so vitally important now. And why electronically computed analyses may be just what you need to develop an individualized plan aimed at bringing you comfortable retirement, education for your children, the pleasure of carefree travel, and other key goals.

There will be plenty of time allotted for your questions. Seminar is free but limited space makes reservations necessary. For yours, mail the coupon below or call Mrs. Kraft at 643-9200.

Youth Inc. revamps

PLYMOUTH—The Plymouth Youth Center has initiated a "new and more effective organizational format to handle group activities."

Instead of all projects being handled by one group, the center has now divided the activities among six different groups.

The leaders of these groups report on all information concerning their group activities to a steering committee which meets at 7:30 every Monday night to take care of general business.

The new groups and their leaders are: interpersonal relations. Nancy Adams; special projects, Matt Centofanti; games and activities, Steve Drews; music program, Tim Elliot; garden Bob Pinder and art program, Gina Carrington.

The Youth Center is open from 2:30 till 9:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Esch schedules town meeting

U.S. Rep. Marvin L. Esch (R - Ann Arbor) invites Plymouth and Northville residents to join him at a "congressional town meeting" Friday (June 7) at 8 p.m. in the Plymouth Grange Hall, 273 Union Street, Plymouth.

"As before, the format of the meeting will be informal, with the audience determining what subjects will be discussed," says Esch, whose 2nd District includes Plymouth, Livonia, parts of Washtenaw County and Monroe County.

Esch has been holding town meetings throughout the district to provide residents an opportunity to voice their views on a variety of issues. Emphasis is placed on how the federal government can be more effective in meeting problems encountered by residents.

Noting that the audience develops its own agenda at the outset of the meeting, Esch said: "I believe this format goes a long way toward increasing communication and understanding between citizens and their elected representatives."

"I am looking forward to an open and frank discussion of the many important issues of concern to Plymouth and Northville residents."

Transit funds approved

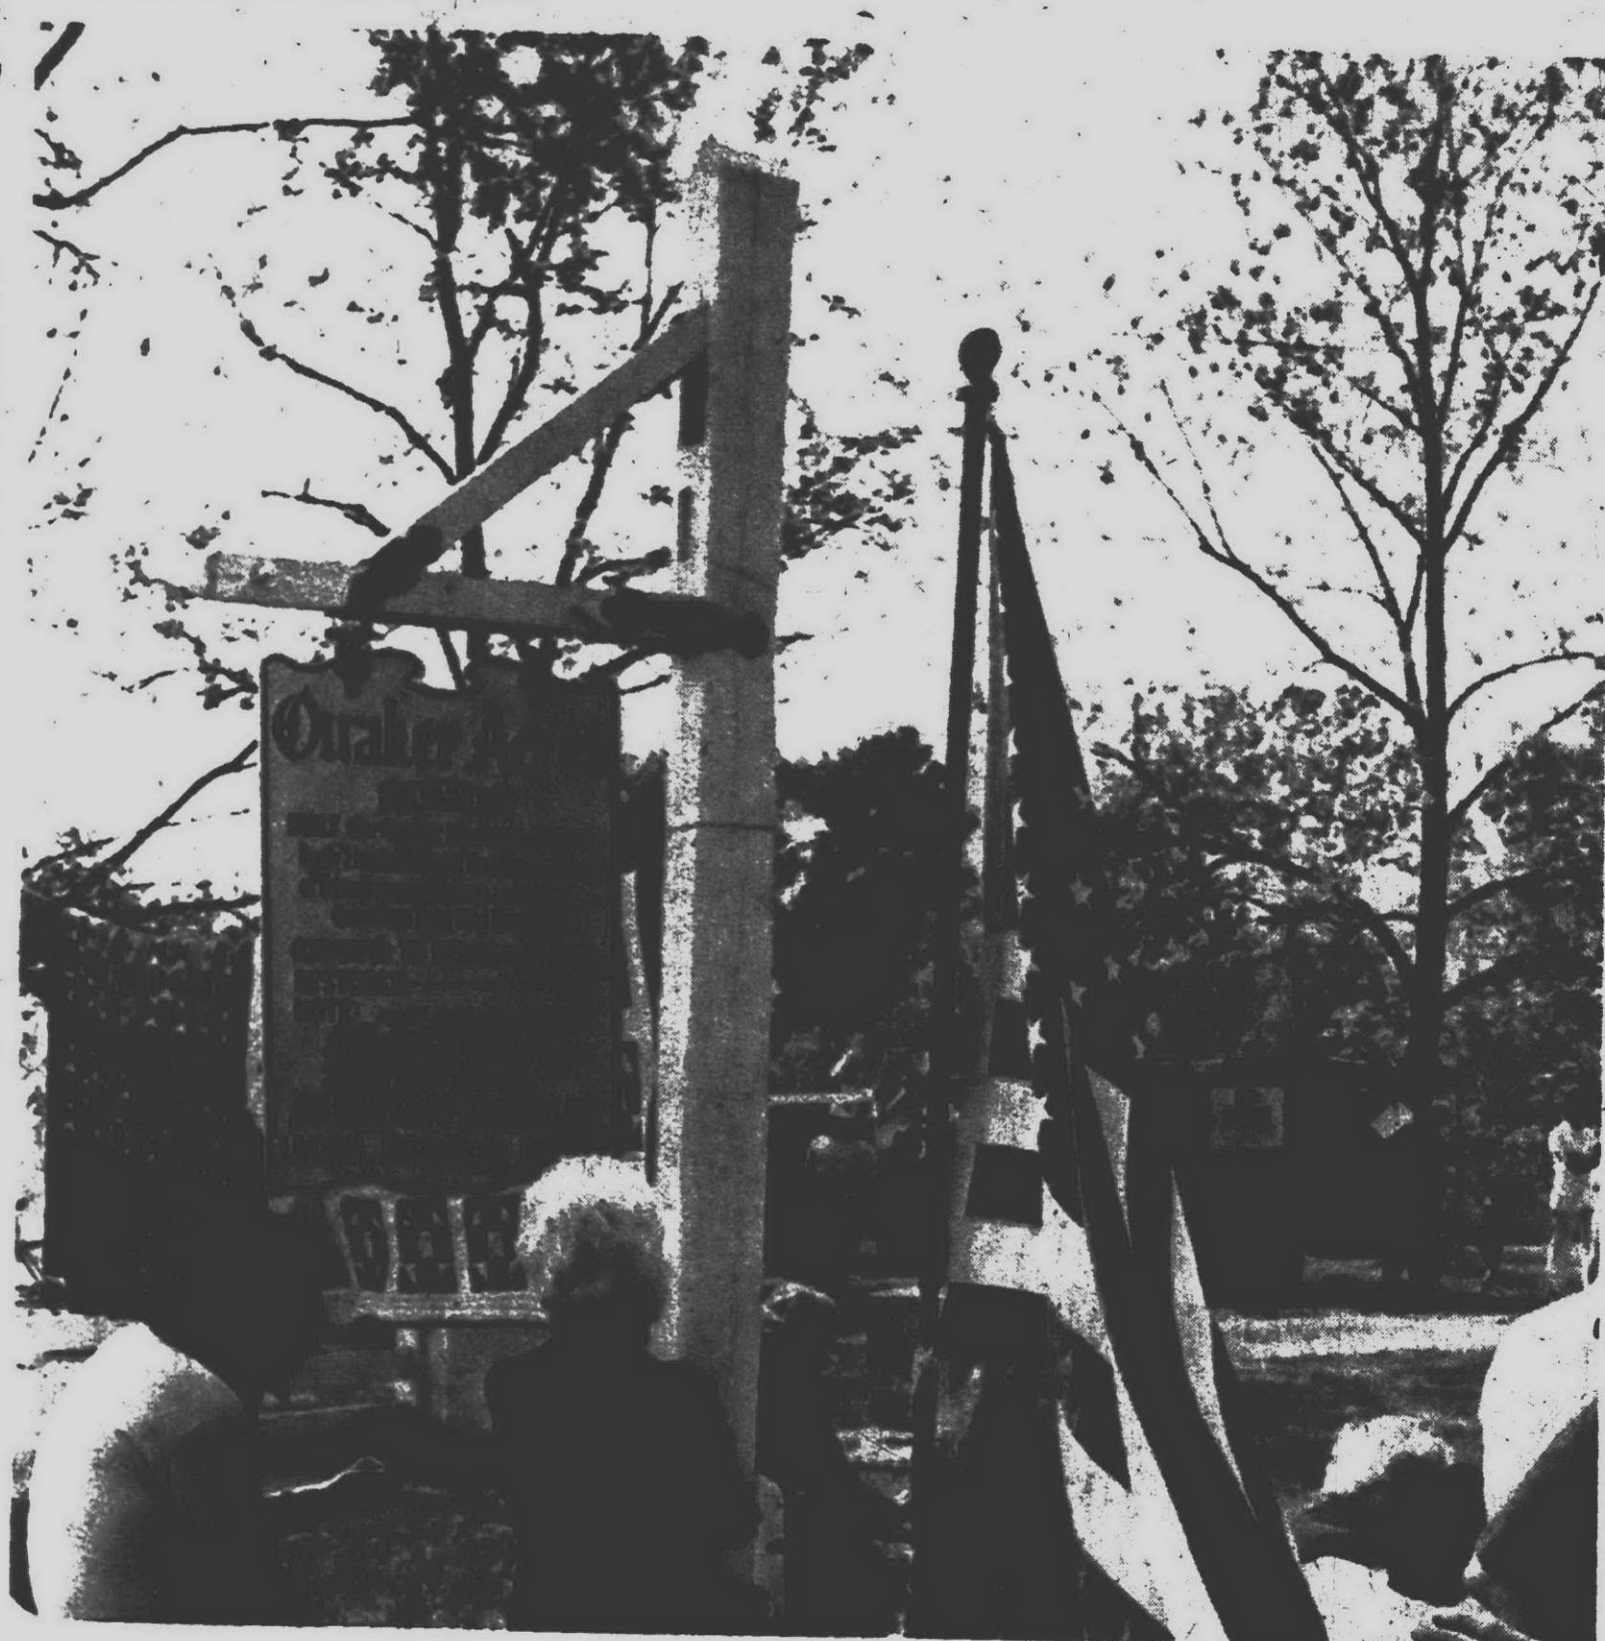

The federal Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) has approved a grant of almost $8 million to the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) for purchase of new buses and passenger shelters.

Announcement of the grant was made Tuesday, by U.S. Rep. Marvin L. Esch (R-Ann Arbor), whose 2nd District includes Livonia, Plymouth, parts of Washtenaw and Monroe County.

The funds are to be used for replacement of existing buses owned by SEMTA and to acquire 183 new 50-passenger, radio equipped and air conditioned buses, and to erect 40 bus shelters.

The $7.9 million grant will help finance the 1990 SEMTA transportation plan for the region which includes a rapid transit system as well as expansion of bus service.

Included in the bus service improvement, according to SEMTA, are several routes which provide service to Livonia and one which extends to Plymouth. The authority also operates bus lines through Westland, Garden City and Redford.

Heritage Fair

THE LIVONIA HISTORICAL SOCIETY raised money for the preservation and restoration of historic buildings in Livonia with a "Heritage Fair" Sunday at Quaker Acres on Seven Mile west of Farmington Road. The Quaker Acres meeting house was built in 1846. (Staff photos by Doug Johnson).

Lobbyists distort politics - Egnor

Pressure from special interest groups is "seriously distorting" the American political system, claims Ronald W. Egnor, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the 2nd Congressional District.

Speaking before American Legion Post 514 in Monroe County, Egnor said: "The ability of the people to control their own political destiny is becoming increasingly endangered by the meddling of big money, private power blocs."

"Influence peddling isn't confined to the national level — though we've seen more than enough meddling by the likes of Robert Vesco."

"No, it has become so rampant it permeates all levels of the political process down to, and including, many local congressional races."

Existing federal legislation requiring disclosure of financial backers represents the "right kind of thinking on the subject," continued Egnor. "But we need further legislation, including much closer regulation of lobbyists."

Why LWV backs school ballot issues

PLYMOUTH—The League of Women Voters of the Northville-Plymouth area has cast its support in favor of the operating millage renewal, building bond issue and safety millage proposals in the June 10 school elections and has expanded on its position.

To meet the district's immediate and urgent needs, the league stresses the importance for renewal of the 6.5 mills for operation. This millage proposal would enable the district to continue at least the present quality of educational programs.

"We cannot afford to allow 19 per cent of the operating revenues of our school district to be dropped without serious damage to the educational program," said League President Mrs. Jane Watts.

Since enrollments are increasing in the district, the league feels there is an important need for the new facilities and projects the bonding proposal will provide.

The league also feels that Wayne County and local governments could do more to fulfill their responsibilities in the area of public safety. They support the citizens' safety committee's recommendations and the proposal for 4 mills to fund the special safety recommendations.

In supporting the millage increases, the league says, a large portion of the increased costs to the individual taxpayer would be offset by the increase in deductions taken for property taxes. These deductions are used in computing taxable income for state and federal tax purposes.

The league, emphasizes Mrs. Watts, is strongly in favor of tax reform legislation that would provide a better base for financing education in Michigan. In the absence of such legislation, the league urges support of the millage proposal for the safety and continued education of Plymouth school district children.

Large mortgage recommended

A University of Michigan authority suggests that prospective homeowners "buy more home than they can afford, make the lowest possible down payment, and get the longest possible mortgage loan maturity."

Prof. Karl G. Pearson of the U-M Graduate School of Business Administration, who also is director of real estate education, explained the rationale for seeking large mortgages in a address to the Down River Board of Realtors at Wyandotte Yacht Club.

"Most people can count on rising incomes, so the higher load with the more expensive home will be easier to carry, and equity will grow with inflation," he said. "Also, with inflation the dollars you pay back will be cheaper than the dollars you borrow. Also, the longer the loan maturity, the lower will be the monthly payments."

"A three-year-old home is ideal... It is past its structural shake-down period. Landscaping and structural defects are now evident."

IT IS WISE to buy now, Pearson added, "because the home you buy today, with rising land and construction costs, will cost even more tomorrow."

Young couples in modest financial circumstances might consider taking advantage of the variable balance plan, whereby the monthly payments can start low and then advance with advancing income, the U-M authority suggested.

"If you are a couple planning to retire, say in the next 10 years," he continued, "this same plan can start with high monthly payments now, when your income is high, and then recede at retirement with your lower income.

"TRY TO ASSUME an existing mortgage loan, for the interest rate on it will be below the interest rate on a new mortgage loan. If you think interest rates will go down, the advantage of the rate-watcher program, made available by some builders, under which they will agree to refinance your home at the lower rate during the first three years of ownership, but at no cost to you.

"If you don't have enough money for the down payment, take advantage of the rent-option program which some builders make available, under which they will rent you the home, and later credit you with a portion of this rent toward the down payment."

Prof. Pearson suggests buying a home already built, instead of trying to build a new one.

"You will enjoy the economy of the ready made," he said. "The cost is known. The home is inspectable, and flaws are detectable. You will get a discount for the lack of newness. Your builder can build a number of houses less expensively than an isolated one, and can secure better lot locations at more favorable prices.

"A three-year-old home is ideal. It is financeable, but not yet a maintenance problem. It is past its structural shakedown period. Landscaping and structural defects are now evident."

THE PROSPECTIVE home buyer should check out all details of construction and layout, and insist on a homeowner's warranty, Pearson said.

Most women, he noted, desire such special features as curvilinear streets with trees, house separation, individualistic styling and landscaping, interior conveniences and security protection such as exterior floodlights.

— "for the land of the brave has become the home of the scared."

It is a good idea to buy in a community where the majority of the homes are less than 10 years old and owner occupied, near schools and shopping centers, Pearson said.

He advised against being deluded by the glamor of a model home, which may be expensively furnished, and by townhouse condominiums which may offer disturbingly noisy parties and lack of privacy.

"TO TODAY'S YOUNG families," Pearson concluded, "a house is only a temporary possession. What they want now are recreational amenities and freedom from maintenance chores.

with constructive activities." According to Yagiela, the group will try to reduce short-term problems by holding a contest collecting scrap paper for recycling, and holding a bake sale. He said that teens who participate in Youth Inc. activities have already sold about $500 worth of candy. One box is sold for $100.

Bologna and Yagiela hope to avoid having to call on the city for full support every year by getting some sort of foundation grant to underwrite Youth Inc. programs.

A MEETING of Youth, Inc. officials and community supporters is slated for today in City Manager Fred Yockey's office to discuss the center's current financial status.

With the $1,000 anonymous donation and fund-raising plan by community youths, the total needed to keep Youth, Inc. going has already been cut to less than $3,000, improving chances that the township resident's offer of 10 per cent of the total will gain acceptance by other community members.

The donor accused Plymouth Township of "acting childishly" in the past with regard to cooperation with the city. He urged township residents to back a program which he said benefits everyone in the area.

"There are a lot of people out there who are really interested," he said. He cited the community's willingness to come to the aid of Joey Crissey when he needed a costly operation.

"Plymouth is probably one of the biggest - hearted places around," he said.

Community residents may inquire about joining the Plymouth Township donor's offer to help finance the remaining needs of Youth Inc. by contacting Jim Jabara of 1354 Elm.

Nichols responds to school issues

EDITOR'S NOTE: Cyril F. Nichols of 10478 Homestead Lane is a candidate for one of the one-year Plymouth school board terms. In Monday's edition of the Plymouth Observer - Eccentric statements from the other school board candidates appeared. Nichols' statement, postmarked on May 30 (the day before the candidates' deadline), arrived June 4. This is his statement:

Cyril Nichols - Age 33 - Married with one child.

I graduated from Eastern Michigan University in 1964 and began teaching at Belleville. I moved back to Plymouth in 1968 and started teaching in the Northville public schools. In 1969, I received my master's degree and I am presently working on a second master's.

I have experience in contract bargaining, twice as chief negotiator, and I have also served as president of the Northville Education Association. At present I am involved in the year-round school program in Northville as a middle school teacher.

I feel that in order to be an effective board member, honesty and openness are necessary by all parties in our public schools in dealings with the community and its employees.

Answers to questions:
A very serious look should be given to implementing a year-around program in the elementary as an alternative to building because this is an area where year-around can save tax dollars. In the other areas, I agree with the bond issue.

CYRIL NICHOLS

"I totally agree with every aspect of the safety millage.

As an educator, I can see the first-hand advantages to the 45-15 plan and our modern life styles make it possible to vacation at all times of the year.

GOALS - To review the programs that have been instituted in the last few years to see if they are beneficial and, if not, to change them.

BUSINESS

THIS COMPACT leak testing system developed by Scans Associates of Livonia, is two feet square. Front panel controls add to its versatility and convenience.

Local company develops detector

A complete system for detecting small leaks in parts and assemblies has been developed by Scans Associates, Inc., 13000 Farmington Road, Livonia. The company manufactures testing and quality control systems for industry.

THOMAS W. SAULL of Southfield has been appointed general supervisor of production engineering at the Fisher Body Livonia plant. Saull came to the Livonia plant in 1954 as a tool designer and in 1969 was promoted to senior process engineer, a position which he has held until his recent promotion.

Known as the Scans model 21229 flow leak test panel, the equipment is capable of detecting leaks in a range of 30 to 30,000 standard cubic centimeters per minute.

The system can be employed manually as a self-contained unit or can be incorporated in more sophisticated automated equipment. It has a wide variety of applications including testing machined parts such as transmission cases, testing welded assemblies such as catalytic converters and testing assembled products such as automotive engine and transmission assemblies for gasket or seal leaks.

The flow leak test method is dry and fast. Air is introduced into the part of assembly to be tested and the system measures the amount of air flow required to compensate for any leakage.

Adjustable limits can be set for the allowable leak rate with "accept" and "reject" lights indicating the test results. Each test requires only about three seconds after the part is filled with air.

The leak rate meter in this system is a differential gauge with photo-electric alarm switches. Calibration of the system is performed with the help of a flowmeter which is mounted on the panel. Electrical and pneumatic components are incorporated for proper sequencing once the test is started.

Condo associations unite for strength

The Condominium Associations of Michigan was formed recently to provide a forum for the interchange of information among condominium associations and to give them benefit of "group" action in dealing with the various service companies and governmental agencies.

Approximately 135 persons attended the organizational meeting, representing 53 condominium associations in the tri-county area. They were enthusiastic in their acceptance of the proposed organization and indicated a willingness to work together toward the common goals they hope to achieve.

According to Eleanor M. Palubin, president of Redford House Condominium Association, the realization of the many problems and difficulties facing elected condominium association officials prompted her to call this meeting to determine if sufficient interest existed to warrant forming a council of associations.

To facilitate the discussions of the various matters that can be handled by Condominium Associations of Michigan, it was decided to form several geographical subgroups of representatives from associations.

By holding smaller meetings of neighboring condominiums it will be possible for all to share their views, which can then be presented to a central council meeting by chosen representatives.

Subgroup meetings have been scheduled for the following areas: Macomb County, North Woodward Corridor, Western Oakland County, Northwestern Wayne County, and Southwestern Wayne County.

Although no meeting has been scheduled for the metropolitan Detroit area, any interested parties should contact Ms. Palubin for assistance in forming such a group. All subgroup meetings will be held in time to send recommendations to a central council meeting scheduled for June 11.

Condo associations that may wish to join Condominium Associations of Michigan are invited to get in touch with the group meeting in their area by contacting Ms. Palubin at Redford House Condominium Association, POB 40541, Redford Heights Branch, Detroit 48240.

Pierce attacks railroad service as inadequate

Dr. Ed Pierce, a Democratic hopeful for nomination for Congress in the 2nd District, assailed the railroad system in the district recently while campaigning in Monroe.

"The federal government has spent a great deal of money bailing out the railroads in this country, but what kind of service are we getting for it?" asked Pierce. "The railroads still don't seem to want to do anything more useful to the public than to block crossings."

"Quite seriously, the cavalier attitude of the railroads about obstructing crossings is a very real and important problem. Besides holding up and inconveniencing a lot of people, it can endanger people's lives."

"In Plymouth, there are situations when fire engines can be delayed from arriving at fires. In parts of Monroe, there is often no way to get to a hospital because of the blockings."

Pierce also emphasized the need for railroad passenger service in southeastern Michigan.

"I think it is generally acknowledged there is eventually going to have to be some new kind of mass transportation system in southeastern Michigan," he continued.

"But until then, it seems to me the railroads could help the transportation situation a great deal by providing commuter passenger services from places like Plymouth, Livonia, Ann Arbor, Monroe and Ypsilanti to Detroit."

The 2nd District includes Livonia, Plymouth, parts of Washtenaw County and Monroe County. The only existing railroad commuting service in the district is from Ann Arbor to Detroit by AMTRAK.

"The railroads used to provide this kind of commuter service," he concluded, "and it was used by a lot of people. Now, in this time of oil and energy shortage, there is an even greater need for a passenger service that could move many people along heavily traveled routes and conserve significant amounts of energy."

PQ-BOX Drugs

Are drug arrests forever on record?

Q. If I have a police record for possession of marijuana, will it stay on my record forever? I'm 18 and really worried about it.

Anonymous, Livonia

A. A. The probation department gives the following answer, assuming this is a first offense.

On first offense, most marijuana cases are taken under Section 8-304 of the city ordinance which takes it off the record if probation is satisfactory. Many cities vary in methods of disposition. In cases dating back a few years where the record is there, a five-year period is required before a petition can be filed to have the case dismissed.

Esch assailed by Reuther on economy

John Reuther, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the 2nd Congressional District, has taken issue with incumbent Marvin Esch (R-Ann Arbor) for "once again failing to assert congressional leadership in the face of the nation's faltering economy."

Reuther, speaking at a house party given for him June 5 on Somerside Ct., Livonia, was referring to Esch's vote on the Ashley amendment to limit a Federal Reserve audit to the administrative budget only.

"THE FEDERAL RESERVE Board regulates the banking system and money supply, and its decisions affect everything from availability of jobs to price of food."

"Yet Esch voted to leave the most important economic agency in the nation in the control of bureaucrats who aren't responsive to the people. Our economy is in the worst shape since the days of Herbert Hoover, and Esch still chooses to do nothing positive."

"The major economic decisions affecting the everyday life of all Americans will still be conducted in secret as a result of this vote," stresses Reuther.

He cited the remark made on the House floor by Rep. Wright Patman (D-Texas) that "No one should be misled by the Ashley amendment. It would perpetuate secrecy and lack of accountability in the very heart of the Federal Reserve's operations — discount and open market operations. It should be voted down as it was in the committee."

REUTHER ALSO read the floor remarks of Rep. John Moss (D-Calif.) who stated:

"I think we in Congress are developing rapidly into a group of economic illiterates. We don't know about monetary policy because we don't want to face up to our constitutional responsibilities."

"It is far easier to delegate it to the Federal Reserve System. And that is all we do — all we do is delegate authority to them. The responsibility remains ours, whether we are willing to face it or not, and the responsibility is ours to discharge it in a responsible fashion."

Reuther added: "Esch is apparently unable to face critical issues if he can possibly avoid them. We have seen this pattern before on the Consumer Protection Agency and many other vital votes. When the country so desperately needs strong leadership, it will scarcely find it in the record of Marvin Esch."

2 firms denied county contracts

Two companies have been declared ineligible for future business contracts with Wayne County for refusing to furnish information on whether they meet racial hiring criteria.

A third was granted an additional two weeks to meet compliance standards.

Denied future contracts were Downtown Ford, an auto dealer on Detroit's East Jefferson Avenue, and A. Lamport & Bro. on West Jefferson in Detroit. Lamport furnishes textiles and textile products.

Morley Bros., headquartered in Saginaw with a branch in Troy, was allowed an additional two weeks to achieve compliance.

The actions were taken by the board of commissioners' general government committee May 29 on recommendation of its human relations committee.

Downtown Ford received contracts totaling $75,000 in 1972 and $626 in 1973, records showed. Lamport has received a total of $7,000 in contracts over the past three years.

Morley contracts with the county totaled $28,000 over the past two years. The company provides industrial mill supplies such as handcuffs, revolvers and the like.

Police patrol is issue

By MARTHA MAHAN

Reacting to a possible lawsuit to prevent threatened cutoff of township sheriff road patrols, Wayne County Commissioner Jarrette Simmons has asked that patrol funding be eliminated "forthwith."

Mrs. Simmons, newest member of the board's public safety and judiciary committee, had said at the time she took her seat that elimination of the patrols was among her top priorities.

OTHER COMMITTEE members demurred, however, calling her move "too drastic and precipitous" and referred her resolution to a subcommittee for "refinement."

Her resolution followed announcement that Plymouth, Canton and five other townships were uniting to file suit for a declaratory judgment on the extent of the county's legal obligation to provide police protection.

Louis Wechsler, attorney representing the townships, said he expected to file within 60 days.

Mrs. Simmons' resolution would "forthwith delete all funding of sheriff's road patrols in communities which have indicated a lack of intent to provide for said services of the sheriff's road patrol on a contractual basis."

She and Commissioner George F. Killen (D - Detroit) make up the subcommittee to "refine" it.

The county board has been warning for the past three years that it intended to get rid of the out county patrols. Its current budget would end funding Aug. 1.

AT THE TIME it set the cutoff date, the board said the interval would allow government units under patrol to explore methods of financing contract agreements for the sheriff's service.

"Right at the moment, we've been employed to look into the situation, which we are doing, and to see if we have a case," Wechsler said.

"We'll be filing within 60 days. After all, we've got to get in before Aug. 1."

Actually, Wechsler said, "I suspect the county wants the lawsuit as much as the townships do. It's the best way and the only way the whole question can be decided."

A county representative, speaking privately, commented that he agreed with Wechsler. "It's best that the court decide the matter once and for all," he said.

Crux of the case is ambiguous language in the state law which says the county sheriff shall "perform all reasonable services within the jurisdiction of his office." To be determined is what is "reasonable."

Oddly, both Mrs. Simmons and the townships use much the same arguments to uphold their conflicting opinions.

Mrs. Simmons maintains it is unfair to county taxpayers overall to pay for the free road patrol service.

Township supervisors claim they already pay their fair share of road patrol costs through county taxes.

"As more people move in, the tax payments go up," said Phil Dingeldey, supervisor of Canton Township, one of the fastest mushrooming communities in southeast Michigan.

"Assessed valuation has doubled in the past three years and that's twice as much in taxes."

MEANWHILE, both Plymouth and Canton townships have studied means to replace the road patrol protection.

The Plymouth board last week voted to look into placing on the general election ballot a proposal to provide police protection. Wording of the ballot question was left unspecified.

A citizens study committee on law enforcement has recommended the township create its own police department.

Additionally the City of Plymouth has offered to expand its police department to cover the township too.

Dingeldey said Canton has been investigating the problem for the past year and a half and that a local study showed a Canton police force could "get started" for about $200,000.

Besides Canton and Plymouth, the coalition of townships eyeing a lawsuit are Northville, Van Buren, Sunter, Huron and Brownstown.

The Wayne County Supervisors Association has agreed to underwrite legal costs.

Schoolcraft debates physical requirements

By CORINNE ABATT

A letter from James R. Page of Livonia was at least partially responsible for raising the question Wednesday of physical education requirements at the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees meeting.

Page's letter stated the requirement that students enrolled in a two year degree program must take two semester hours of physical education "appears to fall within the category of discrimination."

The requirement also states all veterans and those 26 years or older can be exempted.

AFTER A lengthy discussion on whether physical education should be required, simply encouraged, or only required when it is an integral part of the course of study, the board directed President C. Nelson Grote to research the question and come back in 60 days with a resolution.

Grote's report will include views of students, administrators and faculty.

One problem in changing now is that the catalog listing courses and requirements for the 1974-75 school year is already printed. The college regards what is stated in the catalog as a commitment to the student.

The board also approved several policy changes. One is that health forms, possibly a modified version of the present one, will be required from all students. Previously they had been required only from college credit and daytime students.

UNTIL THIS week, when the board adopted a firm policy on class size, there had been no clear guideline. Now, any class with an enrollment of 10 at the end of the regular registration period will be held.

Decisions on classes with less than 10 enrollees will be made on an individual basis. An exception could be made if the few enrolled need the class to complete degree requirements.

The policy was established to aid students. The college is still unsure where the cost break-even point is in class size.

State timber revenue high

Revenue from timber sales from Michigan's 32 state forests for April set a new record. Department of Natural Resources reported an increase of 28 per cent over the previous monthly high amounting to $223,000.

Through public sale, the forestry division also sold a record of 65 blocks of timber during April.

This represents $56 million in generated income to Michigan's economy in terms of jobs from harvesting through the final product.

Community colleges utilize regional approach

By CORINNE ABATT

When the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees adopted a resolution in support of regional planning at its May 29 meeting, it gave formal approval to an organization called SEMLOCC.

This stands for the Southeastern Michigan League of Community Colleges. It was the college presidents themselves, nine of them, who organized what Dr. C. Nelson Grote, Schoolcraft president, calls "a voluntary consortia."

THE LOCAL BOARD is the first to formally endorse the organization of which Grote was the first chairman. Dr. Richard Norris, St. Clair Community College president, is the present chairman.

The presidents meet once a month, Grote says, attendance is good and support enthusiastic. It functions as a steering committee, he adds.

While there is no constitution or by-laws, the steering committee has a formal agenda and all may add items at any time.

Grote says since SEMLOCC was founded on the Schoolcraft campus in August, 1972, "we have discussed all of the items which presidents on a college basis could find to discuss."

The steering committee has appointed a number of working committees who have worked on a variety of projects on program planning and coordination, instruction and many to exchange ideas and information for improving the day-to-day functions of the colleges.

ONE OF THE most satisfying projects to evolve from SEMLOCC is the regional placement program which was given a $75,000 federal grant last year and $100,000 this year.

In essence this is a regional job bank established in a central office with each campus serving as a satellite. The job bank then necessitated the creation of a classification system for all curricula among the colleges, which Grote feels is another plus.

One of the first things SEMLOCC did was to direct that information on all courses and programs in all the colleges be compiled and published.

This information has been made available to the nine colleges, industries, counselors and others. This cross pooling has proved valuable in directing students to where the particular courses they want are available or giving a broad picture of the vocational and other kinds of courses available in southeastern Michigan.

IN SPEAKING to a question on whether there is a rivalry between the city and out-county institutions, Grote said: "I would have to be honest and say not all share their information on a timely basis. There's a little oneupsmanship, I suppose. But we have accomplished an excellent working relationship and rapport."

SEMLOCC membership includes the counties of Genesee, Macomb, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne. Oakland is obvious by its absence.

Grote says of Oakland Community College: "We did everything we could to encourage them to join."

He says the OCC president sent a representative to several meetings, but eventually the word came that OCC did not wish to participate.

"We think OCC should be a part of SEMLOCC, but it is the president's wish that they not participate."

Grote feels many of the problems which community colleges face can be solved or at least softened through the regional planning organization.

He is pleased his board approved the organization. "I hope this is the first of a sequence of similar actions by the other boards."

Clinicians apathetic on methadone limits

Despite anticipated controversy, only one clinic operator appeared at a public hearing to protest recommended new limits on methadone clinics in Wayne County.

An eight-member professional committee which prepared the recommendations conducted the hearing May 29 in the City-County Building. About 25 persons attended, but only a fraction spoke.

FINDINGS AND TENTATIVE recommendations were outlined by committee chairman Dr. Kenneth Schoof, director of the drug treatment programs at Lafayette Clinic.

The committee was established by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners at the request of seven commissioners who reported community concern about use of methadone, a synthetic narcotic, in treatment of heroin addicts.

The only clinic operator who registered objections at the hearing was Dr. William Doss, a psychiatrist who operates a private drug treatment clinic and serves as a consultant to a government-funded clinic.

Doss objected to the clinic staff-to-patient ratios and the limits on the number of clinic patients recommended by the committee.

A MINIMUM RATIO of four counselors, two nurses and 50 per cent of a physician's time is recommended for each 150 patients. It is also recommended that clinics serve between 75 and 150 clients, and that larger numbers be divided into independent groups within that size range.

Doss said he treats 258 patients at $20 per weekly visit at his clinic and has more than $100,000 invested in the clinic. He said the clinic has lost money for 48 of the 19 months it has been in operation.

Doss added that the 150-patient limit would make his costs prohibitive and cause him "financial disaster." He called the recommended patient limit "capricious."

DR. EDWARD LEIBSON, director of the Wayne County Office of Substance Abuse Services, had predicted the recommendations regarding caseload sizes and staff-client ratios would be unpopular among clinic operators.

One citizen at the hearing appeared to complain about location of methadone maintenance clinics in residential areas. That complaint was registered by William Lawson, president of the Greenfield Park Civic Association in Detroit's north Woodward area.

Lawson charged government agencies and "so-called" non-profit groups with "sneaking around" and locating methadone clinics in residential areas without consulting the residents.

He said the clinic he referred to was closed in the Buffalo Court housing project because its operation was "so bad the State Department of Social Services withdrew its support."

Lawson declared that methadone should be dispensed "in large and well-staffed hospitals run by professionals rather than in neighborhood clinics run by amateurs."

SCHOOF SAID VIEWS expressed at the hearing would be considered in preparation of the committee's final recommendations for the human resources committee of the board of commissioners.

Other members of the committee are: Dr. Ralph Rabinovitch, research director at Hawthorn Center; Dr. Arthur Jalkanen, dean of academic sciences, Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College; Donald Roach, Herman Kiefer Hospital pharmacist; D. Ronald Krome, emergency room director at Detroit General Hospital; Dr. James Wardell, director of obstetrics methadone program at Hutzel Hospital; and, Dr. T. George Wilson, director of medicine at Lafayette Clinic.

If adopted by the board, the recommendations would affect 25 programs, serving some 4,000 patients which have contracts with Leibson's office.

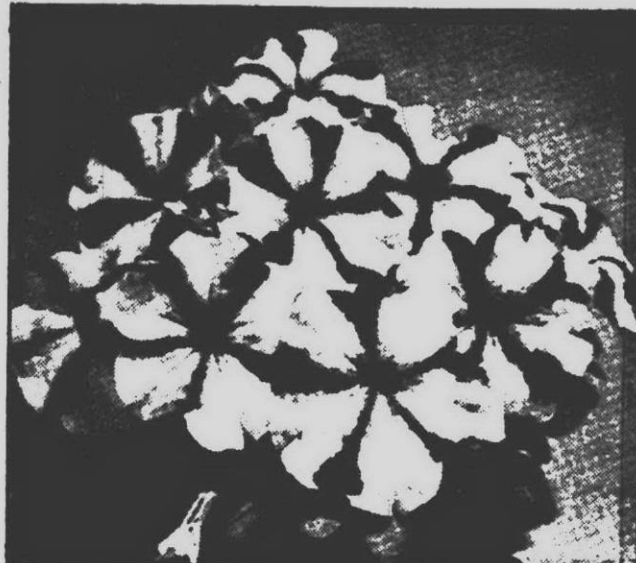

There are about 7,000 addicts now enrolled in methadone programs in Wayne County.

The professional committee recommended that methadone programs be maintained "at least at their current level" while other treatment methods are also sought. Other recommendations dealt with dosage.

'76 tri-color plates to honor bicentennial

In 1976 Michigan motorists will sport a special license plate in honor of the United States bicentennial birthday.

In speaking of the bicentennial "Old Glory" plate, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, says this will be the first time three colors instead of the traditional two will be used.

The new plate will show white letters and numbers on a red background with four white stars on a blue field along the left side and two wavy ribbons of white across the bottom.

The design incorporates our nation's flag along with reminders of Michigan's role in American history and the official bicentennial logo.

Austin points out: "The four stars can be viewed as representing the four flags - French, British, Spanish and U.S. - that have at one time waved over what is now Michigan."

"This unique license plate is intended to contribute to Michigan's celebration of our country's and state's rich and free heritage."

"As the nation's transportation state, it's particularly appropriate that we use a motor vehicle license plate to help dramatize our part in the bicentennial celebration."

The plates will go on sale in the fall of 1975.

State improves recreation areas

Visitors to Michigan state parks and recreation areas this summer will find many changes highlighting new buildings, hiking trails and other facilities.

Improvements at state parks in the upper peninsula follow:

Lake Gogebic — new interpretive display with geological background of the area and things to do and see in the park vicinity.

McLain — new hiking trail from headquarters to Bear Lake, across M-126 and back to park headquarters.

Porcupine Mountains — Chairlift will be in operation for panoramic sightseeing.

Twin Lakes — all campsites now have electricity.

Indian Lake, South Shore Unit — new campground toilet building with camp site renovation.

STATE PARK visitors will find the following changes in the northern portion of the lower peninsula:

Burt Lake — a remodeled picnic site toilet facility and a new campground toilet building.

Clear Lake — campground roads have been blacktopped.

Onaway — better water quality as a result of a new well system.

Young — hundreds of trees and shrubs have been transplanted providing privacy and shade.

Interlochen — improved boat launching and parking facilities at Duck and Green Lakes.

Mears — a new beach house with changing and toilet facilities and a concession stand.

Silver Lake — completely enclosed by a new cyclone fence.

Bay City — cyclone fencing for privacy control.

North Higgins — self-guided nature trail to the old nursery site.

South Higgins — new combination toilet - shower building in the modern campground.

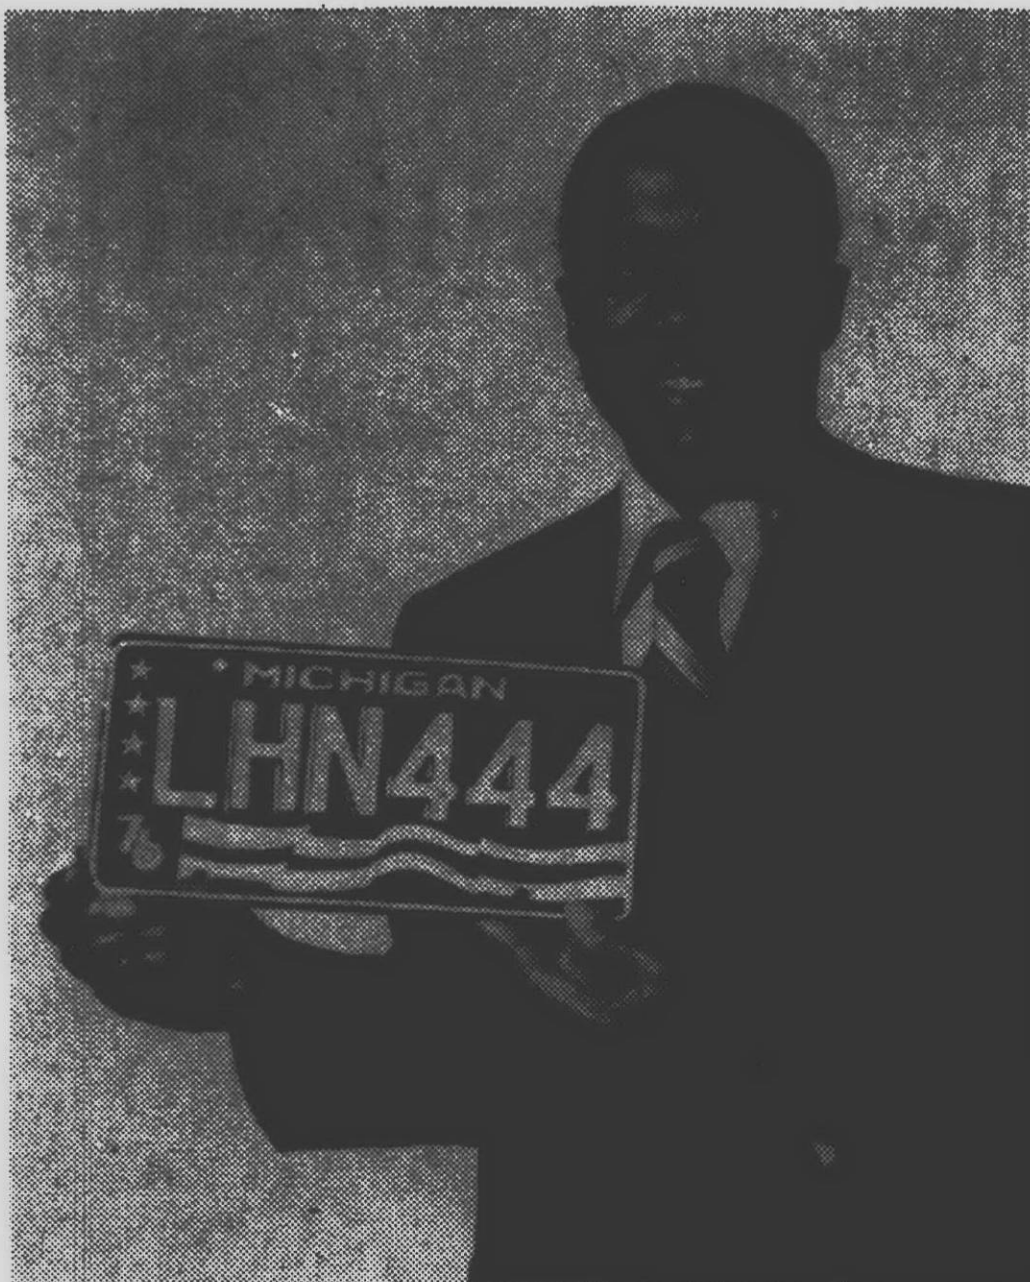

IMPROVEMENTS AT recreational sites in the southern lower peninsula include:

Proud Lake — a new Bathhouse on Powers Lake.

Pinckney — a campground toilet building on Bruin Lake.

Highland — a natural resources environmental education center will open on a limited basis July 1. In September the center will be open to school groups on a reservation basis.

MICHIGAN Secretary of State Richard H. Austin displays the license plate which commemorates the country's bicentennial birthday.

WSU accepting applications

Wayne State University school of social work is now accepting applications for a new undergraduate program leading to a bachelor of social work degree. To qualify for the program, undergraduate students must have 90 quarter credit hours or 60 semester credit hours by the fall of 1974. A 2.6 grade point average and evidence of suitability for the profession are also required.

Students now attending the university may obtain applications at the school of social work office of admissions in Room 10 of the Richard Gohn Bldg. Others must apply through the office of admissions in the administrative services building, Cass and Antoinette.

Voters debate Livonia school millage

Non-resident backs millage

EDITOR:

Although I am a resident of a neighboring community, I would like to encourage the voters in Livonia School District to vote for their school millage proposal June 10. I have a sister and friends in Livonia, and I'm interested in the future welfare of their children.

During a period when we see rampant inflation, an energy crisis and lack of national integrity, it is easy to release our frustrations on the schools by flitting the "no" lever. But in so doing, we are further restricting opportunities for those possessions that should be the most valuable we have — our children.

Anyone who has been to the gas station or grocery store knows what's happened to prices. Unfortunately, schools experience the same problem when it comes to the cost of books, fuel, paper, audio-visual equipment, buses, etc.

Should the millage proposal pass, it would mean an approximate average increase in taxes of $30 per year. That's about eight cents a day.

How important are our kids to us? Important enough I hope to vote "yes" on June 10.

DOUGLAS WAKEFIELD, Southfield

Best teachers get dropped

EDITOR:

Our school, Randolph Elementary, has published the names of the teachers pink-slipped who will be fired if the Livonia School District does not pass.

The teachers have been pink-slipped on the basis of seniority and not qualifications. This is terribly wrong. We must keep the best for our children. It is imperative for their future endeavors.

There must be some way we can keep only the best teachers in our classrooms and pink-slip the poor ones.

This is very important to our children. Let's not let them down.

SHIRLEY A. KANOZA, Livonia

Parent wants full days

EDITOR:

I am a concerned parent for the upcoming Livonia School District millage election on June 10. We have three children in Perrinville School that is within walking distance from our home.

I am voting yes for the 3.3 millage increase as I want my children to stay in their own school and have a full day of classes with the extra activities that the school can provide.

I also know if our children have problems there is a social worker and a psychiatrist waiting to help their needs.

Kids have enough problems with the world growing so fast around them that I for one do not want to take away any form of their education, and I do want my children to grow up knowing that we care enough to give the schools an increase they so badly need to keep on giving our children a high form of education.

With the increasing prices that have affected everyone, we know it is impossible to spend more and stay in last year's budget.

Please let me urge all of you to get out and vote yes on Proposal A. MRS. SHARON PAWLUS, Westland

Voters are blackmailed

EDITOR:

Our family has consistently supported all millages increases to provide better education for our children. We strongly oppose the present devious methods being used to black-mail voters into voting for more increases.

The Livonia school board demands more but denies us the simple facts of how our school tax dollars are spent. They hide behind our children and use our money to propagandize us by again threatening half-days, running out of necessary supplies, laying off teachers and giving our children less than a good education.

They spend more than it costs to run the entire city of Livonia, and all we have to show for it is a deficit school budget.

There is no other democratic process which allows elected officials to continue putting proposals on the ballot every few months until they finally get a majority vote in their favor.

Can you imagine a state where the governor or the legislature could spend more money holding an election every 60 days until the few voters normally participating in such elections finally let a small minority ram it down the throats of the majority?

They should be working to correct the present state law which requires schools to provide supplies for all students so that our children can have the necessary supplies available during the full school year rather than running out as they do now.

On June 10 the small minority can ram it down your throats again if you sit home on your hands. We hope you will vote against any new tax increase, but we urge you to vote regardless. Please do your part to see that more than two out of 10 voters help make this important decision.

JOHN and JANIE BATEMAN, Livonia

Save teachers

EDITOR:

I have just returned from an interview with a math and science teacher from Frost Junior High School. We talked about a few academic problems one of my daughters was having. I returned exhilarated with a feeling of confidence in the professionalism, dedication and concern of these two men.

If the rest of the teachers in Livonia are like this, then we are in good shape. All of our children will be well educated and well cared for.

But now we are faced with a bleak outlook for our schools. If the millage on June 10 does not pass, I have heard from my daughter that these two men will be dropped from the Frost staff. This indeed would be a sorry condition.

If we lose people like this from other Livonia schools, then it will take years to rebuild a school system that would satisfy the intellectual and cultural needs of our children.

Sure, no one wants to part with his money. My money just clings to my wallet. If given an opportunity to vote some of it away from me, my inner self says, "No, don't part with it if you don't have to." We have many reasons why we won't part with our money. A family trip. A new tent. A trailer. Motorhome. Boat. Gas. Food. And the big one: Inflation.

We're all mad over inflation. But let's not take our anger out on the schools.

Bond, millage essential for Plymouth schools

Three school finance issues will be decided by Plymouth School District voters Monday.

The first is a 6.5 operating millage renewal for a term of five years.

Second is a building bond issue which would raise $10 million for school construction and which would be paid off at the rate of 1.29 mills for 30 years. This would raise the average homeowner's taxes by only $20 a year.

A special one-year .4 mill safety millage levy is the third item on the ballot.

WE STRONGLY urge passage of the operating millage renewal. It is needed to maintain present educational levels — and the building bond issue, which is needed to house our mushrooming school population.

In the past, Plymouth School District voters have twice defeated bond issues because they feared "overbuilding." Voters in established areas of the district have resented paying for new schools in developing areas when their schools were already paid for.

With the start of year around school in Plymouth this summer, our schools have demonstrated they are seeking alternatives to over-building by maximizing utilization of existing buildings.

City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township voters who say they don't want to share in the burden of building new schools to serve Canton's growth should be reminded that the entire school district (including Canton) financed schools built in Lake Pointe and the city.

We must face reality. Our district will have only 3½ empty classrooms when school opens this fall. It takes time to build new schools, and the longer we delay the inevitable, the higher construction and interest costs spiral.

The safety millage levy, which would be used in part to equip school buses with two-way radios, appears to be extravagant in these times of economic uncertainties.

RENEWAL OF THE operating millage and of the bond issue are vital if our schools are to continue existing programs and plan for the future.

The attractiveness—economically and economically—of the Plymouth-Canton community stems in large part from the excellence of the schools.

To continue that excellence, vote "yes" on the operating millage renewal and the building bond issue.

We endorse Lawton, Borowski, Berry, Turner

There are 16 candidates seeking four Plymouth school board seats Monday.

In the five-way race for the two four-year terms, GEORGE LAWTON and MARCIA BOROWSKI win our endorsement.

Lawton, the veteran member serving on the board, has served the schools well and by virtue of his long-standing service, offers the best insight of any candidate into the ongoing problems which our board of education must face.

Mrs. Borowski, who lost by 17 votes in a bid for a school seat last year, has demonstrated interest and knowledge in local school matters which few in the district can equal.

We would hope however that Mrs. Borowski will realize that being a good school board member involves working with other people — board members, staff and the public. Her manner is often brusque toward those whose opinions do not agree with her own and we hope she can overcome this if elected to the board.

Joe Gray, the incumbent who narrowly defeated Mrs. Borowski last June, has served adequately on the board but has failed to distinguish himself. He has often failed to see the larger overall picture because of smaller issues. This was true on his stand on modular scheduling.

John R. Hibler, a qualified candidate seems interested in the schools but not entirely familiar with the district's workings. Dean R. Mullison, the fifth candidate, seems totally unfamiliar with school matters.

In the 11 - way race for the two one - year terms, there are four candidates whose credentials and viewpoints would make them excellent school board members.

They are: Carl Berry, Tom Turner, Tom Yack and Billie Whiteley.

Berry, a former member of the school board, is a member of the Plymouth Police Department and has had a great deal of experience working with youths and community service problems. He was an asset to the board when he served on it previously—particularly in the field of safety — and he will make a good member again.

Turner, who was appointed last fall to fill a vacancy, has shown great business sense and has helped the board in those times of financial problems. We would hope, however, that he broaden his knowledge of school issues.

Yack, an educator in the Wayne - Westland School District, is the most erudite of the candidates and shows particular knowledge about the growth problems faced by the Plymouth School district.

Through her service on the district's safety committee, Mrs. Whiteley has learned and contributed much to the administration of Plymouth schools.

Both Yack and Mrs. Whiteley, in what is uncommon for "freshmen" candidates, have taken strong, well - researched stands.

However, there are four seats out of seven on the school board up for election. Continuity on our board has been lacking and since Carl Berry and Tom Turner have served on the board, they will be in a better position to jump into things without needing time to learn the ropes.

None of the other seven candidates in this race merits consideration for the two seats.

We endorse CARL BERRY and TOM TURNER but also rate Tom Yack and Billie Whiteley as well qualified for the two one - year seats.

McDonald soft on ethics

It is with regret that I find it necessary to write this kind of column every two years around election time.

The subject of the column — unfair and inappropriate campaign practices — is always important, and in this post-Watergate era even more so.

The object of the column — what's going on in the Democratic primary race in the 17th Congressional District — is illustrative of the kind of political shenanigans that this newspaper has a public responsibility to report and comment on, regardless of the district or the party involved.

The purpose of the column is to give our readers the clear assurance that this newspaper intends to be an active watchdog for the public interest, by reporting events on our news pages accurately and by commenting on our editorial pages aggressively.

THE 17TH District includes Farmington, Southfield, Redford Township and northwest Detroit. Ever since the long-time incumbent, Martha Griffiths, announced her decision to retire at the end of her present term, a whole passel of Democrats have emerged seeking nomination in the August primary, which is tantamount to election in November.

All were present at a candidates night meeting held last week in Southfield.

AT THE MEETING, McDonald attacked Faxon and Brodhead for being "actively in favor of making the sale of marijuana legal."

He produced as evidence for this charge a legal brief that had been filed in connection with the successful attempt to free John Sinclair from jail on a marijuana possession conviction and which led eventually to the reduction of criminal penalties for this offense. He also accused the two state legislators of being in favor of unspecified "socially unacceptable practices."

In rebuttal, Brodhead (Faxon had left the meeting at this point) noted that he had not given

Observation Point

by PHILIP H. POWER

permission for use of his name on the brief. This was confirmed separately by this newspaper, in an interview with the lawyer who drew up the brief.

Brodhead also pointed out that the brief actually argued for reducing criminal penalties for possession of marijuana rather than outright legalization. Indeed, a careful reading of the brief makes it clear that the call for legalization is a quote from the American Bar Association, not the state legislators.

It is quite clear to me that McDonald's charges did not come about merely in the heat of an argument but rather that his planned strategy was to introduce the marijuana issue into the campaign. His speech was from a prepared text, and a press release dated the next day from his office suggested that "the congressional race in the 17th district may become a referendum on legalizing marijuana (sic)."

MCDONALD HAS done the cause of decent and honorable campaign practices a grave disservice by stooping to a campaign at this level.

In a year when inflation, unemployment, political ethics, impeachment and foreign policy are all issues of pressing importance, to charge opponents with being "soft on grass" is, at minimum, inappropriate. McDonald devoted three paragraphs of his speech to these serious matters, and chose in the rest to raise spurious marijuana "issue" in an emotional and demagogic way.

But further, McDonald's charges are — bluntly put — wild enough and inaccurate enough to in themselves constitute a serious breach of campaign ethics.

I hope that as the campaign goes on McDonald and all other politicians running for office this year will remember that the "winning is everything" strategy can only be self-destructive.

Politic$ raise$ it$ head

Random notes on '74 politics:

Livonia Mayor Ed McNamara has a lot of folks gasping at his fund-raising invitation. Tickets are (get this) $100 — a head! — for a breakfast!! It's to cover "social" and other mayoral obligations. When Jack McDonald was in Congress, he had similar fund-raisers for his mailings and district politicking at only $50. Is Ed telling us something?

Speaking of funds, U.S. Rep. Martha Griffiths (D-Detroit) must have burned the ears of Wayne County Democratic Chairman Bruce Miller, who tried to sell her a $30 ticket to a party fund-raiser. Not only did the 17th District congressperson feel it inappropriate that she kick in to the party, but she pointed out that the highest ticket price on any of her fund-raisers was $150.

If you don't like Michigan weather, wait five minutes, and if you want to hear a new rumor on the Republican lieutenant governor sweepstakes, wait about three minutes. After a strong start, State Sen. Carl Pursell's name is fading, though he shouldn't be counted out. U.S. Rep. Marvin Esch was prominent awhile, but more and more Republicans think he can and should hold onto that shaky 2nd District seat — especially if the Democratic nominee is John Reuther. Pat Nowak, Oakland County commissioner from Farmington Hills, has an ethnic and religious appeal, and he's done an impressive job in campaign work, but 1½ years in a part-time elective job is a little thin for a No. 2 man. The latest: State Rep. Ray Smit, Ann Arborite whose district oozes into Plymouth.

Now that John Reuther's name has popped up, it's time to say something nice about the Democratic congressional hopeful whose opponents are constantly calling him "carpetbagger." His late uncle Walter used the term "pitifully inadequate" twice a minute to describe programs he didn't like. Then the UAW veeps and Soapy Williams got to calling everything "pitifully inadequate," until we were all pitifully inadequate to tears. If John can avoid that "pitifully inadequate" junk, we'll get along fine.

America-is-going-to-hell-in-a-handbasket dept.: The HRP's Zolton Ferency, running for governor, looks at Consumers Power's rate requests and shrieks: "Take it over." There was a time when folks would have said: "Buy Consumers Power stock."

Bill Ammerman ought to get together with Frank Kelley, our erstwhile state attorney general who's so publicly visible this election year fighting big corporations' requests for gas and electric rate hikes. Ammerman, in the state treasury department, manages retirement fund investments, and he won't put Detroit Edison or Consumers Power stock in his portfolio because their earnings are so low, Michigan's regulation of public utilities being so tough.

This isn't political, but we cringed a few months ago when a two-inch abortion information ad ran next to the engagements. But the Free Press grossed us out Monday when it ran a six column Billy Graham ad next to two columns of X-rated movie ads.

How wife earns 2 dresses

Eccentricities

by HANK HOGAN

Something I have never been able to figure out is how a woman, on the same day, can say, "I don't have a thing to wear" and "I don't have enough closet space."

But then, when it comes to clothes, I have never been able to figure women out. Apparently I'm not alone.

The other evening, a group of us were talking and a friend confided an experience he thought was unique.

The scenario goes something like this: His wife has gone shopping and brings home two dresses. One she plans to keep and one she plans to return. But she can't make up her mind which to keep.

SHE SEES to it that her husband is fed and comfortable, then proceeds to model each dress. He, feeling that she is really interested in his opinion, considers the matter thoroughly and selects one of the dresses, explaining why he likes it.

She then exclaims, "Are you sure you like that dress? maybe I should put the other one on again."

Immediately, he said, bells ring and he knows that he has selected the wrong dress.

For the next half hour she attempts to convince him that the dress he preferred doesn't go with her hair, or her shoes, or the mood she's trying to create, or that the other dress is on sale.

ACTING AS THOUGH it's all new to me, I ask him how he solved the problem. After, all if he can get out of this situation unscathed, we might be able to patent his solution and sell it to other husbands.

He answered that if his wife served him a good drink and fixed a good dinner, he'd probably tell her to buy both dresses.

But if he had had a bad day at the office and the meal was miserable, he'd probably give her a lecture on not truly having wanted his opinion and wasting his time.

All of which proves that the best way to a man's pocketbook is through his stomach, and some of the best dressed women are also the best cooks.

Pro, con on school tax issue

Bentley council backs millage

EDITOR: Could anyone in these modern times even envision a school system without these programs: No athletics of any kind, no co-op programs for students, no driver education, no art, no music or gym for elementary students, no summer school or night school programs, and no vocal music productions or marching bands? And in addition, school sessions could be cut to half-days or four hours.

Are you wondering where this seriously deprived school system might be? It's called Livonia, Michigan! That's right, all of the above mentioned programs will probably be cut if the June 10 millage proposal is defeated.

However, the list does not stop there. Many needed programs in specialized areas would be cut, along with the firing of 500 teachers. The defeat of this millage proposal would be a terrible injustice to the thousands of students who depend on these programs for their present needs and future ambitions.

As student council president at Bentley High School for the 1974-5 school year, I am well aware that the defeat of the June 10 millage would destroy any chance the students of Livonia have of receiving a quality education. Right now, times are hard enough in the schools of Livonia. Most textbooks are outdated, supplies are scarce, high school students have been cut back to five classes, and prices of needed materials like fuels and paper have soared 70 to 100 per cent in the past year alone. With the passage of this millage, the students of Livonia can receive some of the higher education they need and deserve.

The Bentley High School Student Council firmly backs me in this plea to you for a yes vote.

KIRK GETSINGER, Student Council President

Don't punish personalities

EDITOR: We have four children in the Livonia school system, and we believe each is receiving a good education.

But it makes us furious on one hand and helpless on the other to think that enough people may go to the polls June 10 to deny our children their opportunity to continue to receive a good education. These people will cast a "no" vote for reasons that may seem sound to them, but the result will spell disaster for my children and all other children in Livonia.

If the millage fails, there could be as many as 45 boys and girls in a classroom. How can a first grader be expected to learn to read and write and add and subtract with 45 kids in the classroom? They will be deprived of a music education, physical education and art program.

Schools will be open only from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. There will be no activities after school or in the evening. There will be no adult education.

All sports will be cut out. Some young men who would have earned their college educations through athletic scholarships will be deprived of that opportunity. The fine music program will go out the window, as well as dramatics and the school newspapers and yearbooks.

What are the arguments that people give for voting against the millage and therefore voting in favor of such drastic cuts in the school program? Such things as: Let's teach this school administrator a lesson. We're paying too much for schools already...I knew they were building too many schools. We don't need all those frills. I think it's a lousy school system and that's why my kids are in private schools.

Or the letter the other day that suggested getting rid of all the school administrators and starting from scratch. Now isn't that silly?

EDITOR: "What is Pago Pago"? It's a mythical school district where everything is the opposite of Livonia. The board there doesn't live in the district, nor do they have kids going to school there. The board members haven't spent any time at all to learn the needs of the community's kids and never have special elections, even in inflationary times.

No efforts are made to inform the residents of the needs of the schools or the changes in state aid formulas or other incomes or expenses. When a majority of a third of one per cent say "no more money," the board dutifully cuts some more schools.

All the board knows that the property tax on homes has gone up less than a third of the price increases on everything else the residents buy, but the board understands that's not pertinent to some Pago Pago citizens. After all, that proposed new millage will almost buy a jug a month or three Big Boy combination sandwiches every month for the more spirited homeowner.

The residents of Pago Pago are much more fortunate than us; their board is going to let the education of their community's kids go right down the drain without even a whimper this June, and next year, and the next, as successive millages expire.

Perhaps Pago Pago ups the price on graduates to meet the "increased cost of manufacture" like the car and utility companies.

One of your readers suggested he would vote for millage again as soon as the Livonia board fired the superintendent, the business administrator, the principals and the teachers who don't teach. I imagine that same reader would lead the campaign for a special millage to buy up the contracts and settle the lawsuits that would result from such illegal capriciousness.

Finally, a reader suggested he'll contribute $10 to my ticket to Pago Pago. I hope he puts it in his savings account as two months payment on the cost of the new millage instead, and convinces his neighbors to join him in voting yes June 10.

CHARLES D. AKEY, Trustee Livonia School District

Do voters have the facts?

EDITOR: Wylie Gerdes concluded in his column of May 20 that people "apparently look no farther than their own interests when they pull the lever" in a voting booth. One question is: Do voters always have the facts that enable them to vote in their own best interests?

Some people will vote against the school millage thinking that it is a long term commitment, as millages usually are. Yet this Livonia School District millage is for two years only because the board doesn't know what the economic situation will be in the future.

Some will vote against it on the theory that if enrollments are dropping, the school system shouldn't need more money.

They don't understand that when enrollments go down, state aid goes down, and that the amount lost per pupil is more than twice the amount that is saved when those students leave. Next year, because of lower enrollments, Livonia will lose about $1.07 million in state aid, or the equivalent of 1.1 mills!

Some will vote against it because they consider their taxes to be too high, and they believe that either the state will bail us out or the school system will cut services.

The state does not have to "bail us out" and there is almost no chance that it will. A special act of the Legislature would be required.

That is most unlikely considering Livonia School District's situation. State aid is given to a district in proportion to its willingness and ability to pay for its own schools. A community with low property values and high taxes gets liberal aid. A district such as Livonia, with high property values, gets less. Considering that Livonians pay lower taxes than citizens of seven of the nine school districts nearest our borders, state concern about our problem can't be expected.

Upton, LEA tools blamed

EDITOR: I noticed in the May 30 Observer & Eccentric that Supt. Ron Upton is starting his infamous scare tactics again — half-day sessions, cutbacks in extracurricular programs and school hours, etc. The same old threats and gibberish he puts out every millage election. Thank God he's been replaced.

Taxpayers, let's put the blame where it belongs — on the shoulders of Upton and his LEA-elected six school trustees. These are the people, now supporting Tom Davis for Livonia school board, responsible for getting us in this mess.

Upton's six puppets gave the store away in the last two union negotiations. Salaries, cost of living and tenure-assured increments totaling more than 50 per cent increases to teachers just to pay off their obligations for being elected.

Many educators in the system are getting more than $100 per day for every day worked. According to state released figures, we're the eighth highest paid district in the state. Taxpayers, look at the facts: (1) One mill produces $950,000 revenue. (2) The 7.8 mills requested times state equalized valuation is over 15 actual mills. (3) One-half mill for debt retirement was ordered by the State Board of Education to be paid off years ago. (4) Three-fourths mill voted in that should have been in the budget. If they get this accumulated millage, where will it go? More salary increases by our giveaway board!

There is a 10 per cent decrease projected in enrollment. This should mean at least a 10 per cent decrease in expenses — not an increase.

Go to the polls in droves June 10 and vote a resounding "no" to these proposals. Make the giveaway board hold the line and practice economy for a change. Make them separate any future millage issues and then vote "yes" on renewal millage only.

K.M. McDONALD, Livonia

Half-days alarming

EDITOR: I am becoming increasingly alarmed at the proposal of sending my children in Livonia School District to school for half-day sessions if the proposed millage does not pass June 10. A half-day educational program, along with the other cutbacks, can only be considered substandard.

Besides the adverse effects it will have on my children's educational future, there is a real and direct economic penalty to all property owners in the district due to decreased home values. Property values in any community are largely related to the quality of its schools.

Though our taxes will be slightly increased, this increase is minimal compared to the damage we will incur due to inadequate education and reduced home values.

McCreery wins W-W support

EDITOR:

The voters of the Wayne-Westland School District will elect two trustees June 10, one for a four-year term and one for a two-year term. I am writing in support of Donovan McCreery for the two-year term. I believe he can effectively and intelligently represent our interests on the school board.

The key criteria of leadership essential to America today are integrity, calm judgment, humility and the ability to draw people together in harmonious effort despite their differing opinions. The latter is a remarkable quality and one I have seen Donovan demonstrate during his years of service on the school board.

Donovan McCreery has consistently applied his time and talents to improving the quality of education in our district. I ask for your support and vote for him June 10.

How police wives live with danger

SUBURBAN LIFE

Thursday, June 6, 1974

By MARGARET MILLER

You can't worry all the time, or you'd go crazy.

You really would like it better if your husband didn't face the danger he does as a policeman, but he's doing the work he has chosen and you're proud of him.

And when tragedy strikes close to home, it hits you hard that Detroit isn't the only place where cops get killed.

THESE WERE the thoughts that kept crossing up the six members of the Westland Police Officers Wives Association talked over their husbands' work.

They had been very close to death just last week.

That was when they were helping at the funeral home while Mrs. Pamela Anderson of Wayne bade farewell to her patrolman husband. Lennie Anderson was dead of wounds suffered weeks earlier in a home shooting.

"THOSE WIVES were shocked," said Kathy Delacourt, wife of Patrolman Derek Delacourt and expecting her second child.

"It was upsetting for us. I was terribly sorry, but I cannot say I really was shocked by the news. It was almost as though it was overdue, with all the crime we know is around here and all the risks the men must take.

"But until it really happens you don't feel it personally."

THE WOMEN were inclined to agree with Karen Squire, whose husband, Larry, is a Westland police sergeant.

"If you started thinking about all the things that might happen you never would have any peace," she said.

"It's like a factory job," put in Sue Deschenes, wife of Patrolman Jay Deschenes. "Accidents happen there too. You have to think of it as a job."

"But you're silly if you think every police wife is happy as a lark watching her husband go on patrol duty each day."

CARRIE MILLER said she tends to worry more when her husband, Patrolman Robert Miller, is late getting home from an afternoon shift.

"Or," she added, "when he tells me as he's leaving that he might be late because he's going to be going to a park to break up a crowd of kids."

FOR ALL THE WOMEN accepting police work is part of having a happy think of it as a job he takes pride in," said Dolly Morrow. Her husband,

Joe, has been a patrolman for more than six years. "and he let me know when we married that he would not be happy doing anything else and would not change."

Wanda Madden agreed because, she said, her husband Jerry had hated factory work.

"I know what it's like to have a job you don't like, and he's satisfied and proud in this one," she added.

Carrie Miller said she talked her husband out of joining the police force when he first mentioned the idea.

"But it kept coming up, and I realized he had to do what he wanted," she added.

MOST OF THE WIVES said their children were too young to have been affected by the Anderson tragedy, but Karen Squire mentioned hers were well aware of the situation.

"But they didn't seem to connect with something that could happen in our family," she added.

Other aspects of having a policeman dad come to the fore more often, the women said.

"My sons are very proud of the fact that their dad is a policeman," Dolly said.

"But there can be some problems as they get older," put in Karen. "They start to realize that many people do not like cops."

THE IRREGULAR HOURS, suggested Kathy Delacourt, sometimes cause confusion with little ones.

"When my husband leaves the house, our son is likely to ask him if he's going to work or to court or to the hardware store," she added.

Then there's the matter of always carrying a gun, a requirement for policemen whether on or off duty.

"It bothers you at first, but after you are used to it you think more about the fact that you can't buy him stylish clothes because of that silly gun," said Sue Deschenes. And someone else suggested that "our husbands are the only ones who keep their coats on at weddings."

THE WESTLAND WIVES are not the only ones who think about the dangers a policeman faces.

Said Mrs. Sandy Parker, president of the Redford Township Police Wives Association:

"I do worry. When he first joined, I didn't think too much about it because it seemed safe out here. But in the last few years Redford, like everywhere else, has had a lot more crime."

Mrs. Mary Valuet, wife of Livonia Patrolman Gary Valuet, said she's pretty much "learned to take it in stride."

"But that doesn't keep me from wondering sometimes when he goes out the door if I'll see him again, or getting a twinge of worry when the telephone rings," she added.

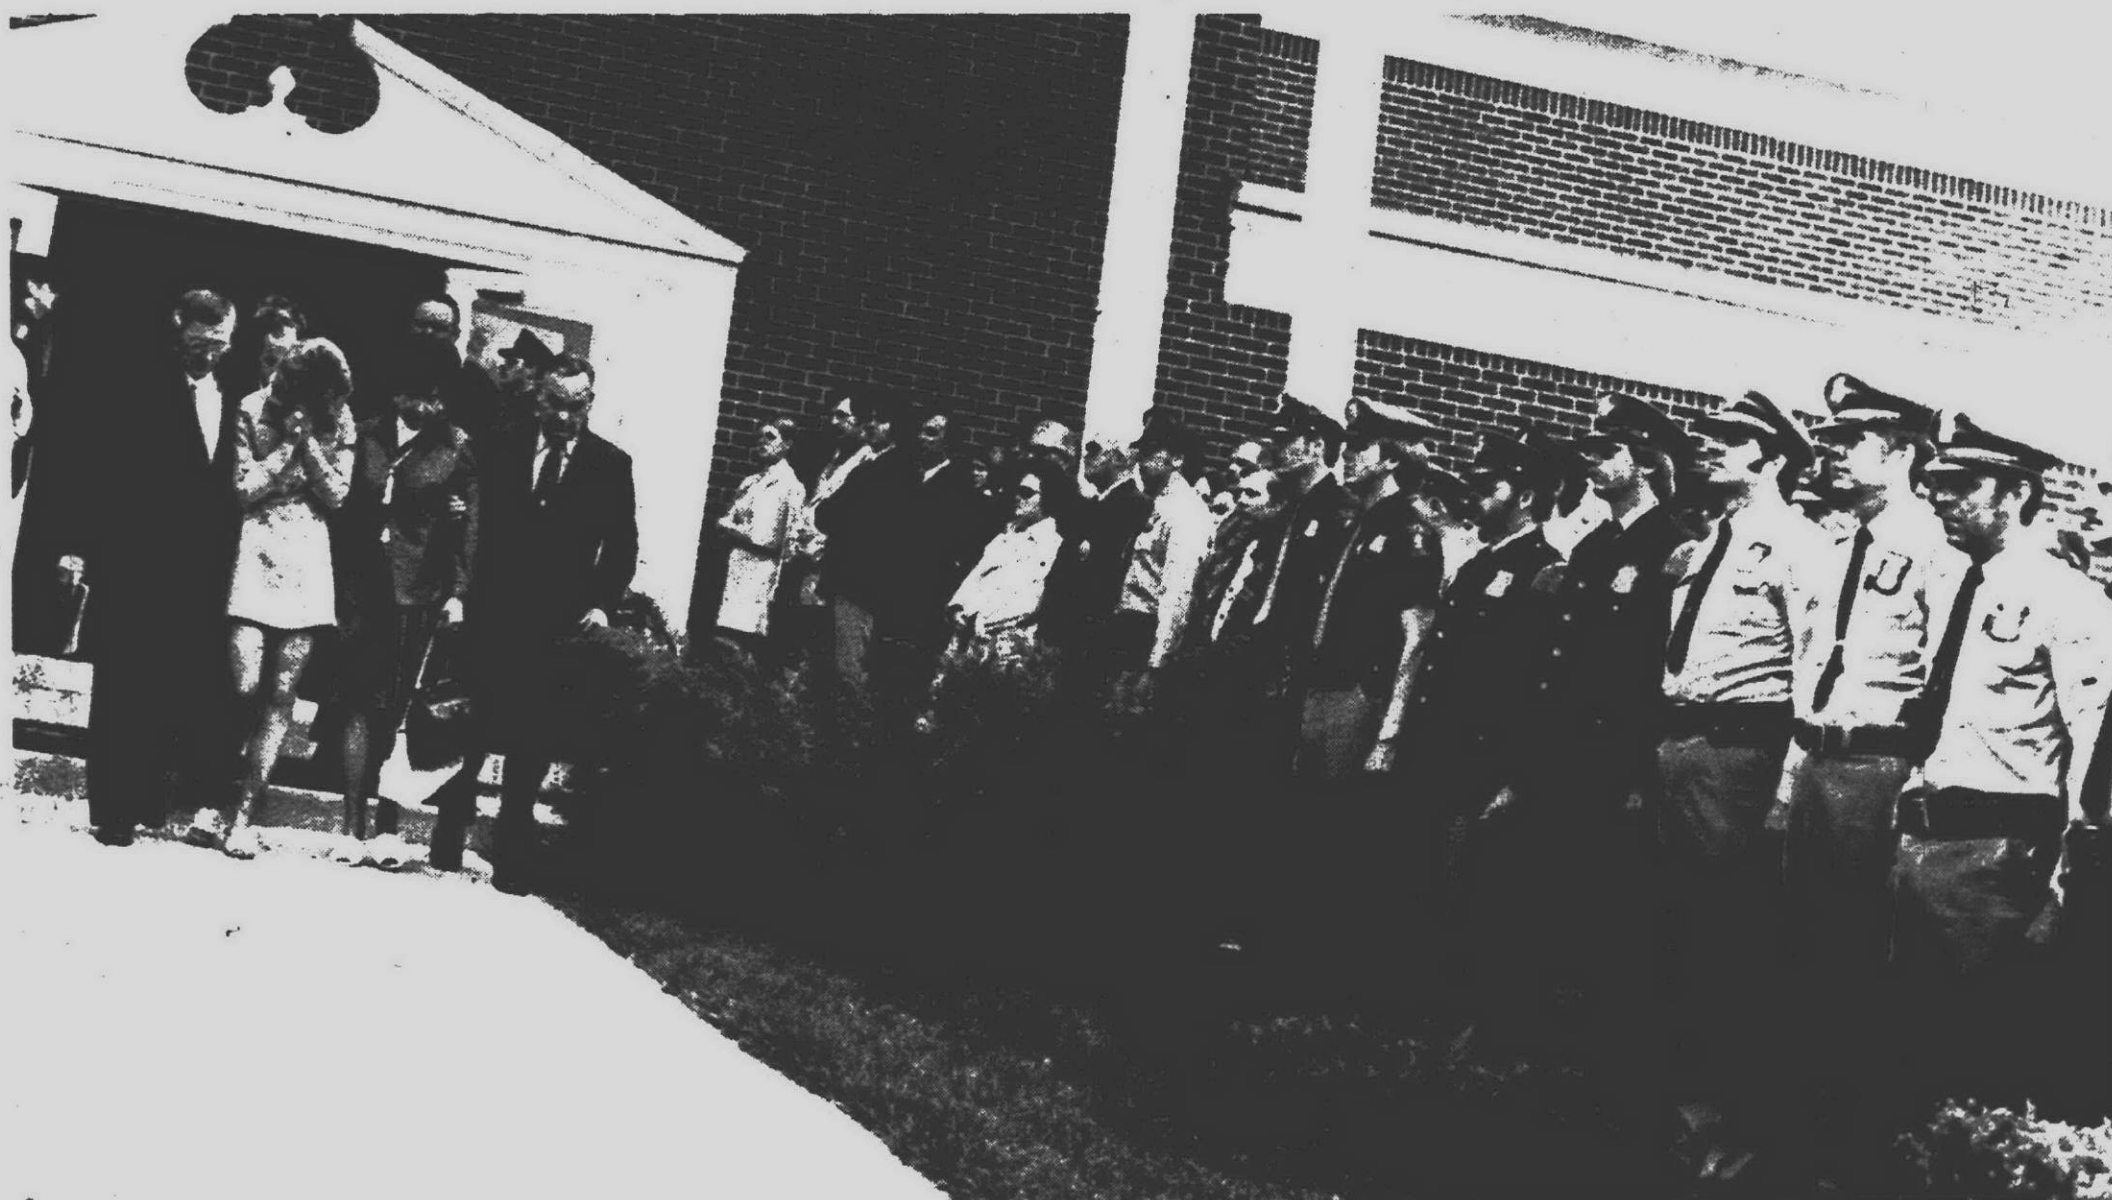

KATHY DELACOURT, however, pointed out a positive aspect of the Wayne tragedy, at least from the point of view of a cop's wife.

"We had so many people in the community ask us about the Anderson family," she said, "and it made me feel good to know that they care, even though they get mad at getting a ticket now and then."

A POLICE WIFE'S LOT is usually a happy one, like when Dolly Morrow plays with young Derek Delacourt and her daughter, Danielle

Morrow. (Staff photos by Bob Woodring, Leonard Poger)

BUT THERE'S the specter of tragedy, as at the funeral last week of Wayne Patrolman Leonard Anderson.

LWV study urged

Teacher accountability is called matter here to stay

By SHERRY KAHAN

"The question of the accountability of teachers will not go away," said Marcia Pitcole at a recent meeting of the state council of the Michigan League of Women Voters held at Mercy Center in Farmington.

"It is very much of an issue in Detroit now, and although it may not be of great concern in your community now, it will come," she added.

In an effort to have the various leagues around the state do in-depth studies of the issue, she explained that the question arose because parents were becoming dissatisfied with educational achievement of students in public schools and taxpayers were unhappy with the uses to which their money was put.

"There is a need for the league to evaluate what information is available on the subject and develop criteria for what we would like to see in any accountability system," she said.

Like many others concerned with teacher accountability, Mrs. Pitcole spoke of the difficulties of assessing it. "How might the success or failure of an accountability plan be determined?" she asked.

Pinning it down is not easy, she stated. Who is accountable, the legislature, the school boards, teachers, parents, or students, she wondered.

"How might the success of accountability be determined?" she asked the league members in her audience. "Should pay or promotion be part of it? How can job security be assured? Should class size be taken into consideration? If educational goals are not met do we need more funding?"

Concerning the question of money she referred her listeners to a league pamphlet which stated that "funding for educational programs seems increasingly to be linked to improved pupil performance."

Concerning the issue raised by Mrs. Pitcole, a Detroit league member, the pamphlet said, "One direction accountability has taken in reference to finance is evidenced in chapter three of the state School Aid Act."

It continued: "Under chapter three, $200 per child is given to local school districts for children in each district scoring below the 16th percentile on state assessment tests. There is an incentive clause, more aptly labeled a penalty clause, tied to this funding."

"Under chapter three pre - tests and post - tests are given," the publication said. "If a child makes 75 per cent of a year's academic growth, as evidenced on the assessment test, money continues at a full $200 the following year. If less growth is shown, the money is reduced proportionately."

This clause was not invoked this year, the pamphlet explained, but the Detroit Board of Education was told that a refund of moneys appropriated under chapter three will be called for this year; if 75 per cent growth is not shown by eligible children.

"This refund by the state treasury could amount to $3 million in Detroit," it said. The pamphlet expressed uncertainty as to whether this incentive clause would be invoked and refunds requested this year in Detroit or other districts.

"But obviously there is some question to this kind of fiscal accountability that gives money to children in need and then penalizes them by withdrawing funds if the children do not meet a performance standard established by testing," it said.

Mrs. Pitcole believes that the polarization between teachers, school board members and the community over the question of teacher accountability is not doing anybody any good.

"We want to move away from these adversary positions," she said.

Agreeing with this point of view, Dr. John W. Porter, state superintendent of public instruction, recently called for an end of tensions and arguments over this issue particularly in the Detroit area where it has caused bitterness between teachers and school board members.

Would I like to judge a beauty contest? the community festival of ficial asked at the end the telephone line.

It sounded interesting, and I never have worried too much about the women's movement objection to such displays of femininity. Anyway, I've judged a sewing contest and a parade, but this would be something new, so I said I'd be glad to.

But before the event could transpire, I found I had grave doubts about my competence.

Following family custom, I watched a nationwide beauty pageant on television in the company of a couple daughters. And as the 50 contestants paraded across the screen, I noted one I considered really not attractive at all.

But guess who won? It was quite a confidence-shaker.

I considered backing out, but decided that the excuse that I had proved a miserable judge wasn't really enough reason for failing in my civic duty.

So I showed up for the contest, and was relieved to find four other judges on hand too.

One was a minister who, with dignity, brushed off a suggestion that this might be an unusual position for a man of the cloth.

"God made all kinds of beauty," he said, quite logically.

The girls were all indeed lovely, and picking the queen of the festival was no small task. But it was fun to have my voice count after all the times I've been an armchair judge at home.

And, I'm delighted to report, the crown went to a very pretty contestant.

I guess I'm not completely lacking in judgment in this important area.

SUE DESCHENES "There are dangers on all jobs."

March of Dimes grants go to 2 local students

Girls graduating this month from Redford Union and Garden City West High schools will be heading toward the colleges of their choice this fall because they are both "interested in people and in helping."

Both are winners of March of Dimes scholarships.

Catherine Louise Mushna of Redford Township will take up physical therapy at the University of Michigan.

Mary Lynn Vaclavek of Garden City will enter Madonna College to study nursing.

"More and more people are needed every day in the all important fields of health care service and the March of Dimes is proud to be of assistance to these outstanding students in achieving their goals," said Richard T. Kelly, chairman of the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter of the March of Dimes.

In announcing the awards given to Miss Mushna and Miss Vaclavek as well as to 16 other high school seniors in Wayne and Macomb counties, he added: "The areas in which we've awarded the scholarships are directly related to the March of Dimes which is the major voluntary health organization in the country leading the on-going battle against birth defects and assuring proper care and medical assistance to those children already afflicted."

Catherine Mushna, who has lived all her life in Redford, has been in Girl Scouts for 11 years. She has earned the Catholic Marian medal and in eighth grade received the American Legion citizenship award.

In high school she has participated in the Lend-A-Hand program sponsored by the school under which high school students spend their after school hours helping slow learners in elementary schools.

A member of the Redford Union chapter of the National Honor Society, she has participated in its Christmas toy drives and its other charitable activities.

According to her mother, Mrs. Clifford Mushna, she is not only interested in people but "she has a tremendous sense of responsibility and if she has a goal she will carry it through."

Another girl with a similar viewpoint is Mary Lynn Vaclavek, who wants "to be in service for others."

Active in her school's chapter of the National Honor Society, she has helped in its many fund drives, proceeds of which are given to organizations such as the March of Dimes.

After entering nursing school, she will not be the only member of her family in medical work. Her sister is a nun working as a medical technician in a hospital in Sandusky.

Math and science are her favorite subjects and she usually makes a point of helping the retarded children brought into her school to watch such events as basketball games.

Mills-Fahlstrom

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt D. Mills of Gotsfredson Road, Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ann Christine, of Ann Arbor, to Thomas Edward Fahlstrom, also of Ann Arbor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Fahlstrom of Gaylord. Both attended Central Michigan University. The bride-elect teaches at the Little Farm Nursery School in Ann Arbor and her fiancé is employed by Charismatic Renewal Services in Ann Arbor. An Oct. 12 wedding is planned.

Girl Scouts address club

LeeAnn Maertens of Canton Township and Anita Nickoloff of Plymouth Township, members of Cadette Troop 363 of the Girl Scouts, will speak Thursday, June 6 at a luncheon of the Plymouth Newcomer's Club in the Mayflower Meeting House, Plymouth.

The girls will discuss what girl scouting is accomplishing today for the club, which is the sponsoring organization for the troop.

Acting as the troop's financial sponsor, the club also serves as a source of qualified consultants to assist the girls in their various fields of exploration.

Northwest Y plans strawberry fete

Designed as an old fashioned ice cream social, a strawberry festival will be held Thursday, June 6 from 6-9 p.m. at the Northwest Branch YWCA, 25940 Grand River, Redford Township.

Besides the sale of strawberry sundaes, the event will feature prizes, balloons, square dancing, a band concert on the lawn and a "swing" orchestra.

Dave Bonamici will direct the Pearson Junior High School band at the opening of the festivities. Their concert will be followed by family square dancing led by Mrs. Mildred Brennan.

Climax of the evening will be Jim Pierson and his Hilbert Dance Band playing music of the big band era.

Helen King of Southfield and Nancy Brado of Detroit are co-chairmen of the festival.

Among those serving on the festival committee are Frances Hensley of Livonia, and Ella Baker, Marjorie Nugent and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pasco of Redford Township.

Feminist musician will sing for NOW

Feminist musician, Laureen McPherson, will sing and play the guitar and piano for members of the National Organization of Women at their wine and cheese get-together Tuesday, June 11 at 8 p.m. at Newman House, 17300 Haggerty, Livonia.

A professional singer since childhood, Mrs. McPherson also plays the stringed bass and trumpet. Since becoming interested in woman's role in society, she has begun a collection of folk songs concerned with women.

She also includes in her program modern songs written by women and about women.

While music is an important interest to her — she teaches it in the Royal Oak school district — Ms. McPherson also has had experience in drama.

Upon graduating from the University of Michigan she studied music drama at Southern Illinois University. Currently she is appearing as Domina in "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" in the Macomb Theater - in - the - Barn.

She also frequently presents her repertoire of feminist songs at Poor Women's Paradise in Detroit.

Bridge tea set for June 5

The Monastery of the Blessed Sacrament springtime bridge tea will be held Wednesday, June 5 at the J.L. Hudson store in downtown Detroit.

To begin at 12:30 p.m., the event will take place in the 12th floor auditorium. The donation will be $3.50.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Kathryn Heinle, 14054 Abington, Detroit.

Special ed, ecology are her legacies

BY MARGARET MILLER

A willingness to pioneer a bit in special education and a determination to instill love of nature in first-graders are just two of the things that have endeared Mrs. Isabel Billings to the Redford Union School District.

She's retiring at the end of this term, to spend more time enjoying her bird friends and her grandchildren, and she takes with her the thanks of a lot of people in the district.

A teacher who began her career later than most, Mrs. Billings put a dozen years into developing a special education program in a district that has taken considerable pride in its achievement in that department.

But she is finishing out her teaching days as she began them, in early elementary classrooms. This time with a pair of binoculars to take to the playground and share her knowledge of birds with her small charges.

ISABEL BILLINGS had a degree in social work from the University of Chicago and a couple of small children when she first decided to do some substituting.

She had had classes in assorted elementary grades and in some of the special education rooms when, in 1957, she was asked to take over the work with the mentally and emotionally handicapped.

"I wasn't the first special ed teacher here, and I didn't have the training one of my predecessors had," she said. "But I had done some substituting in that room and decided I could try."

It was a rewarding, though sometimes wearing, experience.

"I took the courses required to qualify in that area," she said, "and I found that in the classroom it's a matter of doing what's needed at the time."

Although the "erratic behavior of the children in special education tends to be a drain emotionally," she found that the fact that many of her students stayed in her room for several years meant the development of many good friendships.

"These people and their parents I now see often," she added, noting that several of her former special education pupils were on hand for her retirement tea at the Keeler School last week.

MOVING BACK to the early elementary classrooms, she has particularly enjoyed recently helping her young students toward an early understanding of ecology.

Long interested in birds, Mrs. Billings joined the Audubon Society five years ago and has found she has expanded greatly the knowledge she can impart to the children.

"I keep my binoculars at school," she said, "and sometimes I can take a few of the children to watch for birds in the woods behind the school."

"We've seen some warblers and a red-tail hawk, and one little girl got to watch a white-throated sparrow taking a bath in a puddle."

MRS. BILLINGS FINDS bird watching is "good relaxation—well, maybe I'd better make that recreation."

"I don't exactly relax when I'm out bird-watching," she explained. "In one three-day weekend near Roscommon I got a list of more than 50 varieties I saw, and there was a day in late April when I logged 65."

Retirement will mean, at least during the summers, plenty of time to watch birds on the Upper Michigan property she owns.

"I'll spend this summer in my trailer," she said, "and later I hope to build there. I'm looking forward to being able to stay up there later this fall and seeing some of the fall birds."

During the winters she'll be back in Redford, possibly doing some tutoring and definitely seeing more of her son, Rex Billings of White Lake, and her daughter, Mrs. R.J. Meldrum of Farmington Hills, and her grandchildren.

LOOKING BACK Isabel Billings is convinced that when she began her career children were easier to teach than they are now.

"They are more highly stimulated because of all the time they spend watching television," she said. "And they're rougher and take more risks—some of the imitations of stunt men on the playground are appalling."

She's not against television and realizes it offers a lot of educational value, but she said parents should put limits on their children's viewing.

"Years ago parents spent more time talking with their children and the children learned more from them," she added. "Now I find many children have not learned in conversation with their parents what it takes to settle down in school."

Livonian makes visit to African mission

BY MARGARET MILLER

A first-hand look at a mission project in Africa has Livonia businessman David Dunn convinced it is one eminently worthwhile for his home congregation, the Livonia Church of Christ.

Dunn, an elder in the church located at 15431 Merriman, traveled this spring to Luhya in the west part of Kenya to observe the work of missionary Gaston Tarbet, whose family has been sponsored for several years by the Livonia congregation.

He returned persuaded that the "education by extension" mission system followed by Tarbet and his two fellow-workers in the Luhya station, is the way to go in missionary endeavor today.

He also decided "we should be praying for stability of the Kenya government to allow this work to continue."

DUNN AND HIS FATHER, Ethan Dunn of Detroit, are two of four elders in the local church. The purpose of their three-week trip, which began mid-March, was to report to the congregation on the status of the mission.

"Gaston Tarbet and his wife and three children have been in Africa nine years, five in Kenya and before that in Nigeria and West Cameroon," Dunn said.

"As a member of a three-missionary team, he has helped establish in the area 13 indigenous churches, each with its own self-government. That's what we mean by education by extension, training the local residents to provide their own leadership."

DUNN SAID HIS congregation had asked the emissaries to report on the political conditions in Kenya and whether the Tarbet family would be able to continue its work there.

"The Tarbets may find they have to make a change as their children reach teen years," he explained, "and politically the country seems to be held together by the force of the personality of its 80-year-old leader, Jomo Kenyatta."

"We needed to know how far along is the maturing process of the new churches that have been established in case a change has to be made."

The conclusion drawn, he said, is that the Church of Christ mission at Luhya "might be compared to a 15-year-old, near adulthood but needing just a little more maturity."

"We're praying for stability of government to allow them to gain this maturity," he added.

THE MISSION SYSTEM of establishing self-governing churches fits in well with the tenets of the Church of Christ, Dunn said.

"Although we provide means for the missionary family to be there, we do not understand or accept any authority over the congregations established. That is the concept of the Church of Christ."

He also said the information he and his father had gathered during their visit would be shared with other churches that have missions in Kenya.

THE JOURNEY to Africa brought him a variety of insights, said Dunn, who works as a products representative of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

"We visited at the time of year the people there call the month of hunger, when the new crop is being planted and they are living on the last of the old crop."

"Yet they shared their food with us. These people have a capacity for hospitality we don't understand — we live much more private, selfish lives. "They also have a great capacity for faith — they are a most religious people."

COMMUNICATION was a problem, Dunn said, because the native dialect is used only in the Luhya region and Swahili is an intermediate language that many of the older people do not understand.

"It's taught in the schools," he explained, "but it's only recently that school to the fourth grade has been compulsory."

"So when I spoke to a group, it was in English with a Swahili interpreter, and I had to realize that many who heard me still could not understand what I said."

He also said the people of the region "have great social and economic needs."

"It is a high density region but they have learned only subsistence farming — they have to live from one crop to another. You feel you would like to give them more, but realize that the only right way is to increase education so they can get more for themselves."

Clergy chickens home to roost

By LESTER KINSOLVING

For two of the clergy who signed the notorious Black Manifesto in 1969, the chickens seem not only to have come home to roost — but to have laid eggs all over the National Council of Churches. (NCC)

The two clergymen are the Rev. Doctors Sterling Cary and Lucius Walker, who are now "the establishment," as president and division head, respectively, of the NCC (31 denominations with estimated membership of nearly 40 million).

Late this winter, however, a gang of even more militant blacks from Harlem seized and occupied for two days the entire eighth floor of the NCC headquarters building on Riverside Drive, New York.

They arrived equipped with neatly mimeographed press releases, which reported among other things: "With clock-like precision, a group of 30 arrived and took command."

These press releases also advised: "Try as we may, we have difficulty finding a more shameless example of Uncle Tomism" than "Lucius Walker, whose open treachery continues."

Walker not only set up the Black Manifesto conference in Detroit, but has since used his office in NCC headquarters to siphon church money to African terrorist groups. He appeared at a press conference during the occupation, and was not simply meek, but completely silent (an historical precedent).

President Cary devoted almost the entire opening statement of his press conference to a thoroughly transparent groveling to the intruders. But when questioned by newsmen, Cary actually dared to observe that:

"Buildings are private property. Landlords have a right to protect their property... They (the intruders on the eighth floor) have sealed the fire doors in violation of the city fire ordinance, placing in jeopardy the lives of people in this building."

But when asked why, therefore, he had not asked the police to stop this 26-hour jeopardizing of peoples' lives (including numerous black NCC employees), president Cary promptly and nervously passed the question (and the buck) to NCC General Secretary Claire Randall.

"That is a premature question!" growled the imposing Ms. Randall, a red hot womens libber whose resignation the intruders also demanded. "We must negotiate with them first."

Religion Update

Among other impressive titles, the intruders identify themselves as "The National Committee To Reinstatement of Father Chapman." The Rev. Robert Chapman is an Episcopal priest whose manners and mode of operation compare favorably with the gentlemanly restraint of the hammerhead shark.

Chapman was finally terminated as an NCC staffer last year, after it had become painfully obvious that his one real competence was in maligning as "racist" anyone who happened to incur his displeasure.

When, however, he was dropped and four of the seven staffers in his division were retained, Father Chapman manifested another talent: his ability to recruit neighborhood hoodlums to disrupt NCC meetings, occupy floors and seize filing cabinets.

President Cary told his press conference that Father Chapman has done "A superb job."

When asked why, therefore, Chapman was terminated, President Cary again promptly and nervously passed the question (and the buck) to Episcopal Bishop Roger Blanchard, who "explained" as follows:

"It was felt that we had to acquire persons who could function in a collegial style and act as generalists."

Do these impressive words mean that Chapman is unfit for the job?

"I didn't say that!" countered the Bishop angrily and anxiously. "I said he doesn't fit the job description."

(Conclusion: Father Chapman is not unfit for the job for which he is not unfit).

Plymouth students win scholarships

By JAN WILLIAMS

A couple of Plymouth high school students have managed an unprecedented accomplishment in the area of drama.

Gina Dascenzo and Sue Dewalt, both seniors at Plymouth-Salem High School, won four-year drama scholarships to Eastern Michigan University.

It was the first time both scholarships have gone to two students from the same school.

The two scholarships are awarded annually by the EMU Board of Regents. They provide $500 per year for four years.

"I THOUGHT they would be fighting one another for one of the scholarships," says Plymouth drama director Gloria Logan.

"It was a surprise to have them both win, although they're both very talented."

Miss Dascenzo and Miss Dewalt were chosen from among 80 applicants, including high school seniors, graduated seniors, and university students other than Eastern.

The board of regents made the final selections based on auditions, interviews and recommendations from the students' drama coaches.

THE PLYMOUTH students were the only two of the semi-finalists who did both categories.

Miss Dascenzo performed scenes from "Richard III" and "Dream Girl." Miss Dewalt performed scenes from "The Rivals" and "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf." For the technical presentation, Miss Dascenzo chose stage costuming and Miss Dewalt, set design.

The scholarship requires its recipient to major in drama, but both girls say they planned to anyway.

The two girls first met during a play rehearsal last year. "Since then they have both been involved in the same aspects of drama. Both were in the same school plays, the Children's Drama School (sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council), and both have taken all the theater classes offered at school. Both girls also dance, sing in the choir and maintain B averages.

Mrs. Logan says the Plymouth high schools (Salem and Canton) offer specialized courses in theater. They include acting I and II, pantomime, stagecraft, independent study in directing and other technical aspects of theater.

"THEY'LL BE fully prepared for what they'll need in a university."

Mrs. Logan, who has been the drama director for the past four years at Salem and Canton High Schools, says a student from Plymouth has won one of the EMU scholarships for the past three years.

"I've had so many students ask about it for next year that we're going to have to hold auditions here before sending them to Eastern."

Each school is supposed to send only one student, but Mrs. Logan was allowed to send two since she is drama director for both schools.

She says she will only sponsor a student she feels is super outstanding because it wouldn't be fair to send someone, knowing they couldn't win.

MISS DASCENZO, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dascenzo, would like to make a career in stage or teach drama. She likes musicals, all types of acting, costuming and dancing.

Miss Dewalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dewalt, would like to make a career teaching drama. She likes all aspects of the theater, but particularly likes acting, directing and costuming.

Mrs. Logan describes both girls as very dedicated and says she's very proud of them.

"We couldn't have done it without Mrs. Logan," the girls say.

Young Livonian plans violin recital

Alyze Dreiling, a 14-year-old Livonia violinist will appear as soloist in a recital sponsored by the Rosedale Gardens United Presbyterian Church, 9601 Hubbard at West Chicago, Livonia, on Sunday, June 9, at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free.

She will be accompanied by Shirley Ehrstine Harden, the church's director of music.

Miss Dreiling is studying with Misha Mischakoff, the internationally known violinist, and former concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

She has won several scholarships, including her recent and second LYSS scholarship this year. She has been awarded a scholarship to the famous "Kneisel Hall" Music School in Maine for nine weeks this summer.

Recently she performed "Symphonie Espagnole" by Lalo with the Livonia Youth Symphony Junior Orchestra of which she is concertmaster.

Miss Dreiling is also a member of the Oakway Symphony and has played with other symphonies, including the Scandinavian Symphony. For the past two years she attended Schoolcraft College Summer Music School and Festival.

Her program will include three movements from "Symphonie Espagnole" by Lalo; two unaccompanied sonatas by Bach; "La Fille Aux Cheveux De Lin" by Debussy; Wieniawski's second concerto; "From the Cane Brake" by Samuel Gardner; "Meditation" from "Thais" by Massenet; and "The Son of the Puszta" by Bela.

FATHER'S DAY GIFTS

What is a Father?

A father comes in most any size and likes most any kind of pie

...A father likes cars, football, pretzels, taking naps and Mom

...A father works hard getting his youngsters everything they want, but he makes them work for some things, too

...A father is a guy who's overworked and underpaid, but he's always there when you need him

...A father is the most wonderful man in the world

WE KNOW WHAT A PAPA GOLDFISH IS WORTH.

What happens when somebody says, "We put in that little pond by the apple tree 6 years ago. And the papa goldfish is 8 inches long now!" That ought to be worth something. We think it is. And so we take the pond and the afternoon sun and spring blossoms into consideration. If they're worth something to the owners, they'll be worth something to the people we'll find to live in their home. And everyone will be pleased.

Churchill wins district baseball crown

BY TOM DONOGHUE
Sports Editor

The "Year of the Charger" syndrome picked up its glove, grabbed a bat and did its thing.

The state's No. 2 prep baseball team, Livonia Churchill is now one of 16 Class A squads still in contention for the state championship and Coach Roger Frayer is out to prove that state ranking is just what it is cut out to be.

His Chargers who lost to Livonia Stevenson in the district opener last year, 1-0, reversed the tables on the same Spartans this year with a suicide squeeze in the last of the eighth pushing Churchill into the district finale, 1-0.

Churchill then toyed with Southfield to take the district crown, 3-1.

The now 18-2 Churchill squad meets Taylor Truman this Saturday in a 12:30 p.m. regional clash at Northville

High which precedes the Bishop Borgess - Ann Arbor Pioneer game at 10 a.m.

The two victors will contest for the right to advance to the state finals at Pontiac Northern the following week-end.

"I knew and expected the Stevenson game to be a tough one," said Frayer. "Any contest with another Livonia school can go anyway."

"But hey, Stevenson has to be the team of the future. They had five starting sophomores."

Frayer went with his best against Stevenson in senior righthander Dave Panzoff. The all-area hurler recorded his seventh win in seven decisions and gave up just five hits in eight innings, walked none and struck out 13 in chalking up his fifth shutout.

Taking the tough defeat for Stevenson was John Kolis who also went the route, giving up eight hits, walking two and striking out two.

Churchill had its chances in the early going but just couldn't come up with a key hit.

In the last of the first, Churchill loaded the bases on singles by Larry Lipa and Rod Hawraney and Al Leirstein walked. All with two out. But Kolis got Gary Condon to bounce out to Rob Rose at short to halt that threat.

Again with two out in the second, Panzoff and Mike Gottshall singled for Churchill and again it was Rose who proved to be a stopper as he robbed Brian Kelly of a hit up the middle.

Churchill finally got a leadoff batsman on in the third when Lipa singled and with two down, Condon walked but B.J. LaJoie popped out to thwart off another drive.

The top of the eighth looked like Churchill's charm had run out and all of its scoring chances would work against it.

Randy Besh led off the Stevenson half of the inning with a single and Paul Schmidt bunted with Panzoff's toss to second late in getting Besh.

With runners on first and second, Kolis bunted the runners along. Panzoff struck out the heart of the Spartan attack in Rose and Mark Temby to stop Stevenson's top scoring opportunity.

Churchill finally got to the "goose-egg" in the last of the eighth. Rod Hawraney led off with a single and Frayer put in pinch-runner Same Bird who quickly stole second. Leirstein bunted one back to Kolis who couldn't handle it and the Chargers had runners on first and third and none out.

With one strike on Condon, the squeeze was on and Condon did his job with Bird crossing the plate with no throw made.

The Blue Jays of Southfield proceeded to upend Bentley in the following district game and it was Churchill pitted against host Southfield in the finale.

Churchill once again rallied its forces in the opening inning but this time around decided to push at least one runner home.

Gottshall walked, stole second, Kelly walked and Lipa singled to fill the bases. After Hawraney struck out, Leirstein bunted home Gottshall on a suicide squeeze.

But the Chargers left the bases loaded as Kelly and Condon were retired with no further damage.

Churchill made it 2-0 in the third when Lipa singled Hawraney singled and Condon tapped a roller to Robin Richards at third who forced Lipa but then threw wild to first allowing Hawraney to score all the way from first.

A double by LaJoie, single by Jay Nelson and double by Gottshall pushed across another score in the fourth to make it 3-0 Churchill.

Southfield finally broke its scoreless streak in the top of the seventh. With two out, Mike Kelmian doubled to left center; Don Fisher singled him home but Steve Loewy ended it with a pop-fly to Kelly at short.

Going the full seven inning route for Churchill was Kevin Nelson who is now 5-1 for '74. Nelson tossed a three-hitter, with two of those hits coming in the final inning, walked one and struck out two.

Another amazing fact about Nelson was he threw a total of only 65 pitches in the seven innings.

Ron Duncan worked the first two innings on the Southfield mound and was tagged with the loss with Churchill banging out nine hits.

Now comes Taylor Truman Saturday with the Class A field slicing down to four for the June 15 state finale.

Bentley 880 relay team takes state in 1:29.0

The Bulldog foursome of Bill Brown, Rich Hammill, Darrel Ditzhazy and Brian Murphy made the long grueling hours of a track season all worth its while in two swoops around the track.

The Bentley High 880 medley squad clocked in No. 1 in the state with a time of 1:29.0 taking state honors in that event.

Senior Brown started the all-state run off with a :23.0 with sophomore Hammill and senior Ditzhazy matching identical :22.2s with senior Murphy capping it off with a :21.6 and the state trophy is now in Bulldog Country.

That same foursome took a 10th in the state in the 440 relay with its best time ever in :43.5. Detroit Kettering won the 440 in a state record of :42.8. Individual showings for Bentley saw Murphy run ninth in the state in the 220 in :22.3 with a :21.0 by Harlan Huckelby of Cass Tech winning it. Steve Spreitzer didn't place in the 880 dash.

John Glenn's Dave Kirst ran sixth in the half mile in 1:57.0 and teammate Rick Ellison captured a fourth with a :49.4 in the 440.

The race of the day had to be in the two mile between Brother Rice's Pat Davey and Farmington's all-stater Mike McGuire. Davey's kick at the end got him in at 9:00.4 with McGuire second at 9:03.7.

The state record, which both bettered, was 9:12.0.

Thurston's Rick Westphal came up with the best individual showing from area squads. Westphal ran a third in the quarter in a third heat school record of :49.1 and he ran third in the state in the 220 with a clocking of :22.0.

Thurston shot-putter Greg Elkins and high-jumper Darryl Korzym didn't place.

Churchill hurler Bob Mendoza placed third in the highs in :14.5 and fifth in the lows in :19.7. The Charger mile relay team didn't score as did high-jumper Jeff young and long jumper Phil LaFave.

Stevenson's ace half-miler Ken Brown placed third in the state in 1:55.8 and miler Steve White ran eighth in 4:23.2.

Out of Garden City West, pole vaulter Mark Yassay cleared 13-feet-7 but fell out of competition at 14-feet-1. Long jumper Paul Halliwell did not place.

Franklin closes out '74 with North no-hitter

Livonia Franklin, which won the Northwest loop last year in its season finale over Thurston, took a back seat to the same Eagles this year and finished at 6-8 in the league after a season ending twin-bill split with North Farmington.

It took a no-hit gem by Rich Gaber in that finale to top North 3-2, after the Patriots fell in the opener, 5-4.

Ron Hellier's squad wound up 12-15 overall.

Gaber's no-hit victory was only his third win in six decisions and this had to be one of the pitfalls in Franklin's '74 story. The Patriot righthander was 8-3 in the '73 Patriot victory story.

The Franklin hurler walked five and struck out four against North with Mike Bancroft taking the loss, Franklin collecting seven hits.

North jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the second but Franklin got one back in the third when Joe Pollard walked. Tim Adams sacrificed him to second and Tim Livesay singled him home.

The two victory runs came in the fifth. Adams and Cliff Davidson singled and Livesay singled home Adams. With one out, Tim Hollandsworth laced a hit up the middle and Davidson trotted in with the deciding score.

The first game saw North's Jerry Doot pick up the win in relief of Ed Jajich and Franklin banging out eight hits total. Jamie Knapp and Micky Fisher worked the Franklin mound and Fisher suffered the loss. Knapp left the contest with a 4-1 lead after four.

A single by Nelson Yanick, a stolen base and single by Hollandsworth got Franklin off to a 1-0 lead in the first. Singles by Tim Petrosky and Joe Pollard, an error and a triple by Jo Jo Scarpace upped the Patriot lead to 4-0 after three.

North picked away at that margin and scored one in the fourth and tied it at four-all with three in the seventh. In the top of the ninth, two walks and a single by Bruce Brewin broke open the extra inning contest.

His Churchill crew sports 18-2 mark

Frayer is top baseball coach

Ol' No. 12 has made it to the top. Livonia's Roger Frayer who has never seen any number but 12 on his baseball, basketball and football uniforms in his prep days at Franklin High and collegiate days at Alma College has climbed the coaching ladder.

Frayer, whose Chargers are ranked No. 2 in the state baseball polls and sport an 18-2 overall record along with the Western Six championship crown, has been selected the Observer & Eccentric baseball coach-of-the-year.

This is the fifth year for the Chargers which the 27-year-old Frayer has handled. Churchill has gone from a 9-9 rookie season in '70 to 15-5 in '71, to 10-7 in '72, 15-8 last year and now 18-2 with his Chargers one of 16 teams still alive in the state tourney.

After finishing second best in the Western Six for four years, Churchill finally took home the championship with a 9-1 mark.

Frayer graduated from Franklin High in '65 in the Bernie Carbo era and played in the first Les Anders tourney which Franklin won that opening year.

The Churchill coach at that time played under Bob Bentley, on the Franklin gridiron and it was Bentley who wound up hiring Frayer to teach in the Livonia system four years later.

Roger played on John Hartsig's 21-1 club his senior year at Franklin as well as the 9-0 football squad and it was then off to Alma College.

In his freshman season, Frayer found himself under the direction of Denny Stolz who has since moved to the top seat at Michigan State University.

"Here I was, an Alma frosh and all I had ever played was defensive corner back and Stolz sees that I can throw a spiral and he tells me, 'Son, do you want to play college football and if you do you will play quarterback'."

"I was so scared of Stolz then that if he had told me to rush out and buy a program, I would have."

Frayer eventually wound up back at his cornerback slot his sophomore through senior year and also made all-league in the outfield on the baseball team his junior and senior seasons.

Upon graduating from Alma, Roger decided to marry a girl that in a sense had fattened him up during those college gridiron days.

"Beth was a student at Alma and at the same time worked as a waitress in the training table. So soon as I met her I decided to be nice to her and I would be sure to get that food while in training."

Roger and Beth now sport a three-year old son Christopher.

"You know, after our season opening win over Highland Park this year, some of the kids commented to me that we could be a cinderella team," said Frayer.

"I have had better physical teams position by position but I have never had a club that has worked as hard as this one. These kids remember and apply."

"The seniors really head things up. Heck, they hold their own batting practice every Sunday and keeping 28 kids on the roster because of the loss of our junior varsity club is amazing in that there have been no complaints."

"Even the kids that aren't in the first-team uniforms are proud of what they are wearing, even if it is a few years old."

"This group just blended," finished Frayer who is now 67-31 in the baseball coaching ranks at Churchill.

But that person doing the blending with that right touch is Frayer, coach-of-the-year.

Whip 2 of 3 foes

Michigan State wrestlers whipped Big Eight foes Oklahoma and Oklahoma State but lost to Iowa State from that loop in dual meets in 1974.

Southfield knocks out Bentley, 4-1

Livonia Bentley left eight runners stranded in the first four innings and that combined with two errors in the fifth inning opened the door for Southfield to beat Livonia out of the state tourney, 4-1.

After taking a 1-0 lead in the first, the Bulldogs found themselves in a 1-1 tie after three. The Blue Jays came up with three scores in the fifth to wrap things up.

For Bentley it was loss No. 10 in a 11-10 season.

Dan Vezina started on the Bulldog mound and lasted the first four innings before being replaced by Curt Richards. Vezina suffered the loss with Southfield collecting eight hits.

Harold Davis chalked up the win, Bentley also collecting eight hits but the Bulldogs stranded 12 runners.

Bentley showed every sign of breaking things wide open in the first. Tom Schulz opened with a single to left, Bob Cross drew a walk and Al Bolz beat out an infield single.

Davis then got tough and got Paul Roshirt to dribble one back to the mound where he tossed out Schulz at the plate. Bob Wasilewski lofted a sacrifice fly to score Cross but that was all for the Bulldogs as Vezina popped to center field.

Southfield came up with the tying run in the third. John Coban singled and after catcher Sal Rizzo struck out, Ron Dunkel singled to left.

Robin Richards singled to right and Coban scored. Vezina bore down after that and struck out the next two to get out of that jam.

The top of the fifth spelled disaster for the Bulldogs.

Rizzo led off with a walk and Dunkel singled to center. Rizzo moved to third and Dunkel to second when Bulldog third baseman Bolz was caught napping.

That's when Bentley Coach Marty Klokiz brought in Richards and he was rudely greeted by another Richards in Southfield's Robin Richards who singled in two. Mike Kelmieian then bounced one off Bolz at third who proceeded to throw the ball away allowing Richards to score all the way from third.

Named captain

Michigan State senior wrestler Jeff Zindel of East Lansing was named honorary captain of the Spartans' 1974 varsity wrestling squad. Jeff, the fourth member of his family to compete on the mat for State, also earned the team's annual leadership award.

No. 1 Churchill sports 4 on first team

By TOM DONOGHUE
Sports Editor

Checking in at an average height of six feet and a weight of 172 pounds is the 1974 all-area Observer & Eccentric prep baseball lineup.

Eleven seniors dominate the 13 man first team with one junior and one sophomore slipping in to the No. 1 honor roll slot.

It's the state's No.2 baseball team Livonia Churchill that has top billing with four of Roger Frayer's finest making the first team.

Al Leirstein, Brian Kelly, Mike Gottshall and Dave Panzoff make up the Western Six champion contingency with Gottshall at 5-foot-10 and 165 pounds the scholar.

Gottshall, with a 4.2 grade point average at Churchill with 4 a straight A, was the valedictorian of his class.

The first team averages a 2.89 GPA. Winning the area batting crown was the solo sophomore on the first team, Stevenson High's Tim Murphy, who collected 23 hits in 50 at bats in the Spartans 9-9 season for a .460 mark.

THE FIRST TEAM infield consists of Churchill's Leirstein at first base, Thurston's John Roy at second, Churchill's Kelly at shortstop and Garden City West's Jerry Herbst at third.

The four-man outfield eard has Churchill's Gottshall, Stevenson's Murphy, Redford Union's Curt Montney and Franklin's Tim Livesay.

Behind the plate is Stevenson's Bob Hope and on the mound is Churchill's Panzoff, Plymouth Salem's Tom Willette, Reese Dobrick of Bishop Borgess, and John Glenn's Jeff Hodgkins.

At first, Leirstein, with a 3.4 GPA, has banged out 17 hits in 49 at bats for .347. He scored 10 runs and batted in nine and is eight for eight in the stolen base department.

Leirstein committed only two errors in handling 141 chances this year and both of those were for pulling his foot off the bag. Al has accepted an Alma College scholarship in football and baseball.

At second base is the lone repeater, Thurston's 5-foot-11 Roy who hit .344 this year with 31 hits in 90 at bats.

Roy's career saw him collect 77 hits in 252 at bats for a Thurston mark of .368. Roy was all-everything last year as a junior including second team all-state. Roy sports a 2.9 GPA.

AT SHORTSTOP is what Churchill Coach Roger Frayer has tabbed "the best overall ballplayer I have ever coached" in senior Brian Kelly.

Kelly hit .350 with 21 hits in 60 trips to the plate and was 14 for 14 in the stolen base department. The three-year varsity starter has stolen 32 of 34 bases in his Charger career, hit .381 as a sophomore, and .383 last year.

The Churchill captain has a 2.5 GPA and is expected to go high in the baseball drafts.

Garden City West's Jerry Herbst rounds out the infield at third base.

The West Tiger hit .354 this year and totaled 89 hits in 269 at bats in three years for a prep mark of .331. His '74 pitching mark of 9-2 also upped his overall showing to 18-6.

Herbst has been an all-Tri River loop selection the last three years. Jerry has a 1.9 GPA.

GOTTSALL WAS a two-year starter for Frayer in the outfield and besides being the GPA honor man of the squad hit .321 this championship season and walked 13 times.

Sophomore Murphy, at 5-feet-9 and 160 pounds, led the area in hitting with a .460 mark and played errorless ball for Stevenson to earn an all-area outfield slot.

Franklin's T. Livesay was voted his team's most valuable player and averaged .315 in three years of hitting at Franklin. Tim hit .350 this year.

The other outfield slot was nailed down by Montney of Redford Union.

The 2.6 student collected 30 hits in 92 at bats for a .326 mark and was considered to be one of the premier defensive ballplayers in the area.

The man behind the plate—the one who gives the team that something extra—is Stevenson's Hope. At 6-foot-0 and 190 pounds, Hope hit .280 and tossed out 12 runners on the bases.

"Statistics don't tell Bob's story," said Stevenson Coach George VanWagoner. "He was our team leader, and with our young pitching staff, he was the one which made it click."

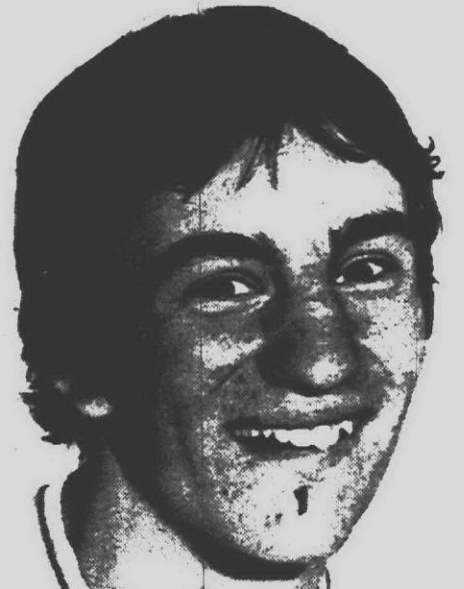

THE PITCHING staff is headed by Panzoff. The Churchill righthander is 7-0 in Churchill's still current state tourney season. Dave hurled five shut-outs and has given up just five earned runs in 51 innings worked for a 0.67 earned run average.

Plymouth Salem's Willette didn't come up with one of the best win-loss records around at 6-5, but the Rock lefty is considered to possess one of the finest arms around. Willette's ERA was 1.75 in Salem's 8-14 season.

Bishop Borgess' Dobrick is the man that makes the Spartans click and with an 8-2 record has placed Borgess in the state regionals this Saturday. Dobrick has an 0.86 ERA and is tops in the area in the strikeout department with 100 in 65 innings.

To round out the 13 man card is John Glenn's Hodgkins, who took the Rockets to the Les Anders tourney championship and compiled an 8-2 pitching mark along with a 1.95 ERA. Jeff sports a 3.8 GPA.

There they are, the top baseballers in the area.

Livonia Adray loop kicks off Sunday

It will be "play ball" this Sunday, (June 9,) in the nine club Livonia Adray baseball loop with eight games on the opening day slate.

Bob Atkins' Redford Adray crew will have a twin-bill battle with Daykin Electric of Farmington in a 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. clash at North Farmington High School.

At Plymouth High School, it will be Wayne Sparkman's Plymouth Bidwell Masonry team against Joe Burton's Garden City Sporting Goods at 1 p.m. and again at 3 p.m.

The Drake Diamond in Farmington has Farmington Sinacola matched with George Yakel's Westland Burger King team in a doubleheader beginning at 1 p.m.

Opening day play will wrap up at Livonia's Ford Field where Ron Heller's Griffin Sport will be pitted with Don Nick Equipment of Royal Oak. The first game is scheduled for 5 p.m. and the second for 8:30 p.m.

Southfield drew a bye in first day play and will play Farmington Sinacola on Wednesday June 12 at the Drake diamond starting at 6 p.m.

Champion Churchill tops all-loop card

Roger Frayer's Churchill Chargers, after finishing second best in the Western Six baseball race the past four years, won the loop and also topped top billing in the post-season honors.

Churchill landed four spots on the first team along with seven honorable mentions.

The one underclassman to break into the almost all-senior first team was Canton's sophomore hurler Bill Parson.

The other two all-loop hurlers are Harrison's Tim Hammer and Churchill's Dave Panzoff. The man behind the plate is Mott's Bob Swindell.

Churchill nailed down half of the infield with Al Leirstein at first and Brian Kelly at shortstop with Northville's John Sherman at second and Mott's Mike Grace at third.

The All-Six outfield is made up of Mott's Jeff Gormly, Northville's Ed

Kritch and Churchill's Mike Gottshall. The honorable mention list from Churchill has catcher Jay Nelson, pinch-hitter Dave Kuhn, sophomore second baseman B.J. LaJoie, third baseman Gary Condon, outfielders Rod Hawraney and Larry Lipa and pitcher Kevin Nelson.

Catcher Paul Rogind, first baseman Sam Pink, second baseman Steve Morrison and shortstop Jim Seitz round out Harrison's led with Randy Oginski in the outfield and Todd Eis at first Northville's selections.

Honorable mention from Mott are sophomore first baseman Tim McKee, shortstop Kevin Martinez, outfielders Bruce Lovett and Brian Kirchner and hurlers Bill Edwards and Steve Miller.

Tom Close, a catcher from CantonH outfielder Mike Verduce and pitcher Chris Martucci received honorable mention with Walled Lake Western's card filled out by Dave Smith and Kevin Tobel in the outfield.

Northwest front-runners share all-loop limelight

Northwest baseball champion Thurston and runner-up Westland John Glenn each placed four players on the all-league 14 man roster.

Franklin and Oak Park each boast two with North Farmington and Garden City East showing one each.

On the mound are Glenn's Jeff Hodgkins, Oak Park's Gary Baker and Marty Hackman of Garden City East. Two catchers were picked for the No. 1 team in Thurston's Mike Donoghue and North's Bruce Brewin. Donoghue is hitting .250 and Brewin .321.

At first base, Glenn's Jim Kholmman and Oak Park's Jay Levine were selected. The infield was rounded out by Thurston's Gary D'Ascenzo and John Roy, Glenn's Steve Kaufman and Franklin's Dan Longeway.

The first team outfield is Franklin's Tim Livesay, Thurston's Ken McLean and Glenn's Jim Decker.

Garden City East did clean up in the honorable mention department with Dave Loney, Mike Schmidtke, Todd Kleinbrook, Wally Krol and Britt Ponte.

John Creighton and Todd Byrne made it from North Farmington and Curt Beadle from Thurston.

Also on the honorable mention are Steve Hodgkins of Glenn, Rich Gaber and Cliff Davidson of Franklin and Gary Moss and Ray Bartosh of Oak Park.

Jim George takes on challenge

St. Agatha names cage coach

Basketball Coach Jim George has made a move that has to be one of the biggest challenges ever.

The 31 year-old Livonia Holmes Junior High teacher and ninth grade basketball coach the last eight years has taken the step up the ladder.

St. Agatha Athletic Director Jim Murphy announced George as the new varsity basketball coach there.

George's ninth graders at Holmes won their last 44 of 48 games the last four years. The new Aggie coach is leaving with a 25 game winning streak under his belt.

"I just couldn't do anything else at Holmes," stated George. "So when I heard of Frank Turk resigning at St. Agatha, I applied for the job and here I am now with my biggest challenge ever."

St. Agatha has won only four basketball games the last two years while losing 34 and has been outscored in that span by an average of almost 20 points per game.

The Aggies were 2-16 in the '72-'73 season and 2-18 last season.

George graduated from the now defunct Wyandotte St. Patrick High School in '60 where he played guard on a team that went as far as the state quarterfinals. It was then on to the University of Detroit where he graduated in '65.

Livonia's Holmes Junior High lured George and the new head mentor found himself in the physical education side of the program.

But the Livonia resident will still teach at Holmes as well as coaching varsity football. The first time he will be the ninth grade head coach after eight years under Herb Osterland who has moved on to Churchill High.

"It's no secret," stated George. "St. Agatha has had its problems. But I am hoping to get the entire school and community behind the basketball team."

"This nonsense of getting blown off the court by 30 to 40 points a game is going to stop. We are going to and will be competitive. Defense will be our name of the game."

George and his wife Mary Ellen, a high school sweetheart from Wyandotte St. Patrick's, have three youngsters in eight-year-old Daniel, six-year-old Kenneth, and two-year-old Debra.

St. Agatha's opening cage clash this '74-'75 season is slated for Nov. 26 at Orchard Lake St. Mary. George sees the challenge that is in front of him and is attempting to forget that last year's Aggie junior varsity club finished at 0-19.

Borgess batsmen top GC West, 3-1, meet AA Pioneer in regionals

A 21-8 Bishop Borgess baseball club that finished second best to Bishop Gallagher in the Catholic Double A loop finds itself only four games away from every prep's dream.

Jim Brisky's Borgess Spartans got by Garden City West, 7-4 and topped Garden City West, 3-1, to capture the Dearborn district and is now one of 16 Class A teams still alive in the state tourney.

And to make the winning of the Dearborn pairings even sweeter, it marked the first district championship ever won by Borgess in any sport.

It's now on to regional state play this Saturday, at Northville High with Borgess pitted against Ann Arbor Pioneer at 10 a.m. and Livonia Churchill matched with Taylor Truman in the 12:20 p.m. clash.

The two victors will meet at 3 p.m. with the winner advancing to the state finals at Pontiac Northern High on June 15.

The Northville champion will be pitted against the winner of the Pontiac Northern regional while the winner of the Warren-Cousino regional will be up against the Grand Rapids-Union regional champion.

Brisky started with his ace Reese Dobrick in the East district opener and after his batsmen built up a 4-0 third inning lead, Brisky pulled his righthander and saved him for the full route the second game.

State tourney play limits pitchers to 10 innings per day.

Kevin Maki replaced Dobrick in the third and got credit for the win. Dobrick gave up one run and one hit in the two innings worked, and struck out two. Maki, who recorded his fifth win in seven decisions, allowed three runs on two hits, walked one and struck out four.

Meanwhile Borgess banged out 11 hits off East's Marty Hackman and Dave Loney with starter Hackman taking the loss.

A two out single by Kip Mauer, a wild pitch and single by Dobrick got Borgess off to a first inning, 1-0 margin.

The top of the third gave Brisky enough of a lead to play the pitching rotation game as his Spartans scored three times on only two hits with East coming up with two errors.

Mauer was safe on an error and stole second. Dobrick singled him home and moved to third when Mike Milosch was safe on a two-base error. Jim Pearce sacrificed in Dobrick and Kevin Killeen singled in Milosch to make it 4-0.

After Dobrick walked Jim Peter to start the East third, Brisky came in with Maki who promptly walked Lou Willoughby.

With no outs, Becszko was safe on an error and the bases were loaded with none out. After Hackman popped out, Mike Schmidtke tapped a roller to short that was thrown away and two runs scored to slice it to 4-2, after three.

Borgess upped it to 5-2 in the fifth on singles by Milosch, Killeen and Greg Heimbuch.

The sixth saw Borgess push it to a five run margin. Mark Gergel singled and Mauer walked. Gergel was out stealing third. Milosch singled home one run and Maki who had walked, was balked home.

East came up with two runs in its half of the inning when Hackman singled, Wally Krol tripled and Reed sacrificed home Krol. That was all for the Panther machine that wound up 10-9 for '74.

Garden City West won its district opener over Edsel Ford, 3-2, and it was Borgess versus West in the finale.

West's Terry Dobbs and Dobrick of Borgess each tossed six-hitters with Dobrick winding up with the 3-1 upper hand and West closed out an 18-8 campaign.

For Dobrick it was win No. 8 against two losses as he walked one and struck out five. Dobbs took the defeat, walked one and struck out four.

Dobbs was 5-4 for the season.

Borgess got off to a 1-0 lead in the last of the first when Dan Kelly tripled and Milosch singled him home. West got that one back in the second with two out as Duane Wozniak singled and was tripled home by Pat Kelly.

The fourth saw Borgess score what proved to be the deciding score. Dobrick doubled and pinch-runner Ken Knsiak scampered in on a hit off the bat of Killeen.

Borgess added an insurance tally in the sixth. Dobrick walked and moved around to third on a single by Pearce and scored on a sacrifice by Killeen.

West's final threat came in its half of the sixth. Dobbs was safe on an error and Paul Tatro drew a base on balls. With two out, Kelly singled to load the bases but Dobrick bore down and got Mark Sutherland to ground out.

Dobrick retired West 1-2-3 in the seventh and it's on to the regionals this Saturday.

RU Panthers top Salem, 9-4, to wrap up 15-12 campaign

Redford Union closed the final pages in what Coach Bob Atkins' has tabbed a highly successful baseball season.

And with the final chapter reading RU 9 and Plymouth Salem 4, the RU Panthers finished off a 15-12 season and 6-7 in the Suburban Eight.

"This has been one heck-of-a-year," commented Atkins. "The kids had the best attitude ever for an RU baseball team. Sure we lost 12 games but heck, three of those were in tournaments where we lost by a total of three runs."

"Hey, we beat the best around in Thurston and John Glenn and swept doubleheaders from Southfield and Franklin."

His Panther crew made it a clean sweep over Salem in the finale with Tommy Miller getting credit for the victory in the 9-4 win.

Miller worked the first five innings on the RU mound and gave up two runs on seven hits, walked three and struck out five. Dan Bushart hurled the last two and gave up two runs on one hit, walked four and struck out two.

Salem coach Wayne Sparkman went with Bill DenHouter and RU touched him for all nine runs on eight hits. Tom Willette went the last two innings and struck out six straight.

Salem got off to a 1-0 lead in the top of the first when Don Bidwell was hit by a pitch. Jeff Waller was safe on a swinging bunt and Darry Hamlin singled in Bidwell.

RU took the lead for good in its half of the inning with three runs on only two hits. Dan Baron singled and after two were out, Bill Campbell walked and George Willard singled with the ball getting by the Salem center-fielder and all three scored.

The Salem Rocks got one back in the third on three straight singles by Dave Wolcott, Dan Moore and Thomas.

A walk to Baron, an error, an infield single by Miller and a double by Bill Campbell pushed the Panther margin to 5-2 after three innings.

The fourth stanza saw RU ice the win with four runs on four hits.

With one out, Bruce Stadler singled, Gary Stafford singled and Baron walked to load the bases. DenHouter uncorked two wild pitches with Stadler and Stafford both scoring. Curt Montney singled and Miller singled in Baron. Campbell finished off the assault with a sacrifice to score Montney and it was 9-2 RU.

Salem pushed across two in the top of the seventh but fell five shy. Jeff Waller and Hamlin walked, Wolcott singled, and Thomas and Rowe drew walks before Bushart finally bore down and got the ball over the plate and RU out of the jam.

Shuttering dramatizes windows

A subtle touch of eye shadow, false eyelashes and eyebrow pencil can highlight the attractiveness of a woman's face.

A liberal application of shutters alongside windows can enhance the overall appearance and desirability of a home to a prospective buyer.

Ponderosa pine shutters, which blend with any architecture, can be purchased at local home centers and building supply dealers in panel or louver styles. The shutters can be stained or painted to contrast with or complement the exterior color scheme of a home.

They come in a variety of stock sizes to fit virtually any window. Door-length shutters are also available. Both styles are precision manufactured for easy installation.

THE LINOLEUM FLOOR (left) was the height of style in the early '30s. The gleaming floor at right is a modern, no-wax type.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

A common mistake home gardeners make is to make just one planting of corn, and have the corn come on all at one time. To stretch your harvest period, make successive sowings, using an early, midseason and late variety.

In most areas you can plant corn as late as July 4 and still get a good crop.

Don't forget to plant sweet corn in blocks of at least three rows side by side, rather than in a single long row, to insure pollination and development of a full set of kernels.

QUITE OFTEN corn borers and corn earworms are discouraging to the home gardener. Borers attack only the earlier crops, entering the ear from the stalk or side. They can be controlled by four applications of Sevin at five-day intervals. Start when the corn is about 18 inches high and drive the dust or spray down into the crown and axils of the leaves.

The corn earworm principally affects the midseason crop, and is larger than the borer. It enters the ear only through the silks. Make applications of Sevin dust or spray at two or three-day intervals to check this pest, starting as soon as the silks begin to come well out. Keep the silks lightly but thoroughly covered.

Varieties: Naming the best varieties for the home gardener is tricky business, simply because there are so many good ones on the market. If you buy "collections" of corn, as some seed houses offer, you should have plenty of corn right through the fall months.

WHEN SHOULD YOU dig up tulip and daffodil bulbs? After flowering, the leaves should be allowed to remain as green as possible as they are making food for good flowering next year.

Never cut the foliage off when flowering is completed, unless it is half yellow. Early removal stops growth of the bulbs that have normally used up much of the food reserves during early season growth and flowering. Good vigorous foliage for as long as possible means better bulbs and flowers.

If bulbs must be lifted, dig a good trench, lift the clumps carefully with a spade or lifting fork and transfer the clumps (with soil) to the trench, then water.

GREEN THUMB clinic: "We want to raise muskmelons in a barrel. Is this possible?"

Answer: Yes, put a wire corset around the barrel and let the vines climb it. Train them to the wire and you'll have a good crop of melons.

Mums topic of meeting

"It's time to start growing mums" will be the topic of the June 9 meeting of the greater Detroit Chrysanthemum Society. There will be no admission charge to the 3 p.m. meeting in the WWJ auditorium, 622 W. Lafayette, Detroit.

Edwin M. Slesak Sr. of Livonia, chairman of the annual fall chrysanthemum show, will provide schedules and information for the show which will be Oct. 11 and 12 in the Tel-Tweleve Mall, Southfield.

Competition is open to all members and gardeners. The show is competitive with ribbons and trophies awarded for various classes.

SHADE TREE for FATHER'S DAY

A Tree Is Nature's Air Conditioner

Shade trees cool your lawn in the summer better than anything but rain. More than that, they filter the air by collecting dust particles on their leaves and holding them until a cleaning shower washes them into the ground.

So you can cool your lawn, beautify your property and help Mother Nature combat air pollution all in one fell swoop. Right now we have an outstanding selection of shade trees from which you may choose.

Rose growers invited to exhibit

Home & Garden

Tri-Town Men's Garden Club will hold a rose show Saturday, June 15, in the mall at Southland Center, Eureka and Pardee Roads, in Taylor.

They invite all amateur growers to exhibit. Special classifications are provided for the commercial grower.

Exhibitors must register name and address with the registration clerk and obtain exhibitor's number at time of entry. Entries will be open from 8 to 10 a.m. Saturday morning. Entry tags and containers will be provided by the garden club.

Length of stem of all specimen blooms shall be in proportion to the size of the bloom and subject to limitations set by national flower societies of established practices.

All specimen blooms must be from plants grown out-of-doors on the exhibitor's own premises, and must have been in his possession for at least two months preceding the show. It must have been grown without the help of a professional gardener.

Not more than one person may exhibit from the same garden or premises except as modified by the rules.

Exhibitors may enter two blooms in each class of each variety providing each bloom is classified according to schedule, except where specific rules provide otherwise.

In the arrangement divisions, flowers need not be grown by the exhibitor.

All arrangements must be in place a half hour before judging time.

Pest Of The Week

Apple scab defoliates apple, flowering crab, hawthorn and mountain ash in late spring and summer. Upper and lower leaf surfaces show black, sooty spots, often followed by entire yellowing of the leaves.

Later in the summer leaves yellow or brown and fall.

CONTROL: There are varietal resistances in many flowering crab selections and some mountain ash selections. Obtain a list of resistant selections of flowering crab from your Michigan State University extension office.

For spray control, spray with Captan, Ferbam and any general purpose fungicide once every two weeks after bloom period. (Bloom period in this area will be complete in another week.)

WHAT TO DO

Knowing what to do when a tornado threatens could mean the difference between tragedy and safety.

When the warning is issued, shelter should be sought, preferably in a strongly reinforced building. Stay away from windows.

In homes, the southwest corner of the basement usually offers greatest safety, particularly in frame buildings. Persons in houses without basements should find other shelter—a storm cellar is preferable although a depression, such as a ditch or a ravine, can offer some protection.

DOORS AND WINDOWS on the north and east sides of the house may be opened to help reduce damage to the building.

In an office building, standing against the inside wall of a lower floor offers some protection.

In open country, persons are advised to move at right angles to the tornado's path. If there is not time to escape (tornadoes usually travel between 25 and 40 miles per hour), lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or a ravine.

Salem quarter-miler Croci paces area girls in state

Plymouth Salem's Jackie Croci went to the state meet, saw and conquered.

The all-area quartermiler was the solo Observerland girl to capture all-state acclaim as she finished second in the 440 dash in :59.0, bettering her own area top mark by 0:00.9.

The first two finishers in each event in the meet at Grand Rapids Houseman Field received all-state honors. Teamwise, Livonia Stevenson finished with a fifth place berth with 21½ points with Plymouth Salem eighth with 15.

Detroit Cass took team honors with 40.

Perhaps the most disappointing was the performance of defending state champion Sharon Solack of Stevenson who won the 80 yard hurdles in :11.1 last year.

Sharon placed only fifth this year with a better clocking of :11.0 but Cass's Anita Lee bettered her mark in :10.7.

The 100 yard dash saw her teammate Carol Freivogel place fifth in :11.6 with Detroit Central's Josephine Hobbs winning the event in :11.0.

Another Stevenson High regional champion Nancy Gavor wound up eighth in the 220 dash with a time of :26.4. Detroit Central's Miss Hobbs again won top honors in :24.8.

The No. 1 halfmiler in the area finished sixth as Bentley High's Pam Beernink ran in 2:25.7, for her best time ever. Ypsilanti's Sue Parks won in 2:14.4.

The 440 yard relay saw Flint Northern clock in at :49.8, with the area's best in Stevenson finishing fourth in :51.2, and Bestland John Glenn ninth in :51.8.

No area girls placed in the long jump, high jump or shot put.

Salem's foursome of Barb Croci, Pam Adams, Jeanne Sellman and Jackie Croci ran third in the 880 medley in 1:51.1 with Livonia Stevenson fifth in 1:52.5. Detroit Cass won the relay in 1:49.0.

Salem's clocking of 1:51.1, in the 880 medley bettered its area top mark by 0:03.0 but was still just good enough for a third.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

Swinging into the final three weeks of the most successful harness racing meeting in Michigan history, one that may find the track ending the 82-night meeting with a nightly wagering average of $800,000, Hazel Park will start its biggest week of the year Friday with a doubleheader.

Officially Friday marks the opening of Grand Circuit week activities during which most of the nation's top two and three-year-old pacers and trotters will check into the metropolitan Detroit area for their first appearance.

To start that week, Racing Secretary Bill Connors booked the $32,000 Joe Neville Memorial Pace for three-year-old pacers. This event generally is the choice tidbit of the Roaring Grand menu, finding most of the early season contenders for the three-year-old championship in competition.

BUT THIS YEAR Connors had an opportunity to get the entry of Delmonica Hanover, the greatest lady trotter of her time, in the $11,000 aptly named Ladybug Invitational trot.

It seems that Driver-Trainer-Owner Del Miller was bringing most of his stable in for the Grand Circuit and included Delmonica Hanover in the list if Connors could arrange a race. It didn't take the smart, alert racing boss long to do that, after getting permission from General Manager Harold Duris.

So Hazel Park will present the biggest doubleheader of the year Friday in the $11,000 Ladybug trot and the $32,000 Neville Memorial pace, each of which would be worthy of top billing at any harness track in the land.

Connors expects such local stars as Neon Light, Sassy Hill, Noblette, and Kool King will keep Delmonica Hanover busy.

The Neville Memorial finds Boyden Hanover, leading two-year-old pacer of 1973 and one of the early favorites to capture the Little Brown Jug in late September in Delaware, O., already on the grounds.

Also ready to tangle with him is Baron's Boy, the Canadian colt who whipped Boyden Hanover by nearly three lengths in the $50,000 Battle of Brandywine last Friday with a 1:58.3 mile at the Delaware oval.

AT THE SAME TIME, on the other side of town at the Detroit Race Course, management of the Detroit Racing Association announced plans for one pot of gold after another during the next seven weeks.

The programs start Saturday with the $40,000 Frontier Handicap and before the end of the season the track will offer more than $230,000 for four Saturday events, three of which are for Michiganbreds.

The Frontier, always one of the top midseason features at the DRC, will be celebrating its 50th anniversary. It is contested over the demanding distance of a mile and 16th for Michiganbred three year olds and up.

The $40,000 Dowling Memorial Handicap on Saturday, June 29 is expected to attract the top stars from Michigan. It could be one of the most interesting events of the entire meeting.

But between the Frontier and the Dowling, on Saturday, June 22, is Michigan's richest horse race, the classic $100,000 Michigan Mile and an Eighth.

With 1973 upset winner Golden Don scheduled to return, the 26th running of the Mile could well be the most colorful to date. It conflicts with no other major stake on that day and Racing Secretary Tom Dorsey and his aides believe they'll be able to get most of the nation's handicap stars to enter.

As usual there is an outside chance that Dorsey and Co. will be able to talk the owners of Cannonade to appear. But it's strictly conjecture and probably won't happen even though some of the other 1974 Kentucky Derby starters may be in the field.

THE DRC WILL close out its season on Saturday, July 20 with the $50,000 Michigan Futurity, for Michiganbred two year olds. Flaming youth will be served that day and the mile this younger generation leaves behind could be a zinger from start to finish.

Although no information has come from union officials since Saturday's brunch for members with DRA top management, it is believed a vote will be taken in the very near future to determine whether members want Sunday work and whether they will work for less than double time.

STEEL BELT STEEL MARINER

Medallion's new steel-belted MARINER combines the strength of steel with the riding comfort of rayon. Two sturdy rayon carcass plies assure a soft, smooth ride, while 2 steel belts under the tread surround the rayon carcass to protect against road hazards, provide durability and outstanding mileage. The wide, deep tread is heavily siped for traction and control. Contemporary sidewall design and new "85" whitewall combine for a blend of distinctive styling.

NORTHVILLE SQUARE—The downtown mall that's unique in concept.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT!

A Downtown Shopping Mall

Northville Square is unique among today's shopping malls.

First, it has no large department store as its focal point. Instead, the concept of the center is to provide an intimate surrounding with the personal attention that shoppers desire through a collection of smaller shops.

And secondly, unlike the vast majority of present-day malls it is not located in the middle of an open field at the edge of a high density population area.

Northville Square is conveniently located in downtown Northville where parking is plentiful and numerous other commercial, professional and cultural facilities are available.

As a matter of fact, local Northville businessmen played a major role in bringing Northville Square to Northville. Through its citizen-manned Northville Area Economic Development Committee it brought about the redevelopment and revitalization of a depressed area in the central business district.

The 90,000-square-foot shopping mall currently contains 25 businesses offering a variety of merchandise and services.

There's food, clothing, gifts, books, fashions, footwear, etc., etc., in the two-level mall. Parking is handy at both the Main and Cady street entrances.

Located at the corner of Main and Wing streets right across from city hall and the public library, kitty-corner from the post office, just a block from the harness racing at Northville Downs and you-name-the-service and you'll find it handy in Northville very near to Northville Square.

An escalator makes it easy to ascend from the lower level to the main floor of Northville Square. But both levels provide a variety of stores for men, women and children.

If you haven't visited Northville Square yet, be sure to do so during the Grand Opening Celebration.

HEALTH FOODS?

How do they improve your good health?

When you learn that our Vital Health Foods store pledges itself to sell natural, wholesome foods exclusively, you may well ask just what is meant by this expression. Natural foods are brought to you without being changed radically from the form produced by Nature.

Fruits and vegetables may be classed as natural foods when the cooking they receive does not destroy their organic minerals, their vitamins or their general chemical composition. Fruits and vegetables which are canned so as to preserve all of their original body-building and healing elements may also be classed as natural foods.

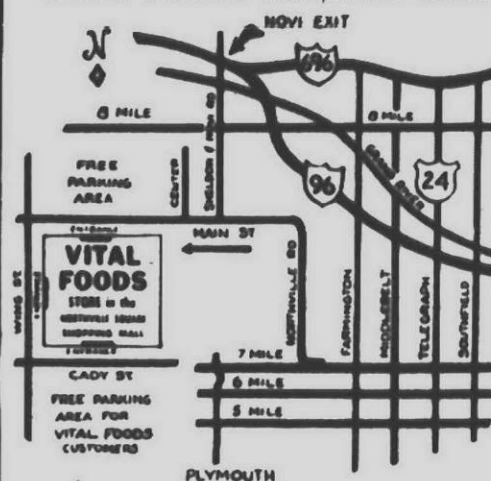

When you visit our store, you will realize of once that the only firm which can possibly pledge it will never knowingly sell you any questionable food, is a firm which has pledged it will sell nothing but natural and organic health foods.

Generally speaking, all such processes as frying, pickling, seasoning, pepping, refining, adulterating, and so on, destroy a part or all of the life-elements of foods and convert them into unnatural foods.

You will understand that it is to your advantage to buy all of your foods at a shop which sells health foods exclusively. Among the inventions of civilization, none are so numerous as those which have been devised to destroy the life elements of the foods we eat. It goes without saying that foods lacking the life-elements lack the means of sustaining vigorous life. Nothing on this earth—the human body included—can be any better than the materials which build it. If your intake of body-building materials is made up entirely of devitalized foods, it is an utter impossibility to have anything but a devitalized body.
