Parade set for Thursday

PLYMOUTH — Parade lovers get ready.

At 12:15 p.m. Thursday, July Fourth, the annual parade which brings crowds from all over the area will step out from the Krogers' parking lot onto Main Street.

Governor William Milliken will highlight the personages in the parade along with Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas, British Consul General James T. Hyslop, U.S. Rep. Marvin Esch, State Sen. Carl Pursell and State Rep. Ray Smit.

Other local dignitaries will also join the parade.

But for the music lovers, this year's Jaycees' sponsored parade includes a real treat — seven bands and a drill team.

Participating will be the Plymouth Community Band, the Plymouth Fire and Drum Corps, the Chemical Valley (Sarnia, Ont.) Fire and Drum Corps, the Milford High School Band, the Clan MacRae Pipe Band, the Amherstburg, Ont. Community Band, and the Tri-Club Youth Band from Windsor, Ont.

The Painesville, Ohio Cavaliers drill team will also take part.

For animal lovers there will be at least two mounted units and the traditional appearance of the elephants.

And of course there will be the other units — 27 of them — and the floats — 10 at least.

The parade will follow its traditional route down Main Street to Hart-sough and then east to Middle School East where the annual Jaycee Carni-al will be under way.

The carnival, located at the Middle School East grounds on Mill Street, will open Tuesday and will run through Saturday. It is open from noon to 11 p.m. each day.

Highlighting the carnival will be two displays of fireworks — one Tuesday night and one July Fourth (Thursday). The ground fireworks displays will start at dusk (about 9:30 p.m.).

In conjunction with the Jaycees' festivities on Thursday, the Plymouth Veterans of Foreign Wars chapter will hold its annual chicken barbecue at the post home, next to the carnival site on Mill Street.

The chicken will be served starting at noon and until the food runs out. Tickets are $2.50.

Can city, township cooperate now?

By W. EDWARD WENDOVER

PLYMOUTH — Will the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township ever be unified? If not, will cooperation between the two governmental units increase?

In the wake of the recent consolidation defeat, coupled with the city's filing of petitions seeking annexation of the township, those questions were discussed by leaders from the city and the township last week.

At an informal meeting called by the Ad Hoc Consolidation Committee which coordinated the consolidation study done by Michigan State University, the governmental leaders discussed what lies ahead for their two governmental units.

FEELINGS ROSE high at one point when after chastizing the city commission for filing annexation petitions the morning the consolidation election was being held, Plymouth Township Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes and Township Trustees Gerald Burke, Frank Millington and Russell Ash walked out of the meeting.

The disagreements temporarily broke up the meeting while those township officials walked out and perhaps reflected one side of what the future holds for governmental cooperation.

Embittered at the city commission's timing in filing the annexation petitions, Mrs. Holmes, who is not seeking reelection this year, said there was "no point" in exploring consolidation of the two units in the future.

"We've explored it until I'm right up to here," Mrs. Holmes said. She then described herself as a "lame duck" and excused herself from the meeting.

Burke, Millington and Ash left with her, leaving only Township Supervisor J. D. McLaren, to represent the township at the meeting.

McLaren said of the city's annexation move, "I think in all frankness that the city really blew the bal-lgame."

"I've seen the city and the township go at each other many times, but I think the people in the township were thinking we were making progress in getting along," the supervisor assessed the situation as it stood prior to the city's annexation bid.

ESTHER HULSING, a member of the ad hoc committee and hostess for the meeting Wednesday night, agreed.

"I'm afraid that the city's action alienated some support in the township."

"All right, if we don't want to formally be one unit of government, we certainly can cooperate more," she said.

Ed Sawusch, chairman of the ad hoc committee, said the committee "had some difficult moments, but we did develop a spirit of cooperation."

"There was just a glimmer of light," he said adding that although the committee was "alarmed to no end" when it learned of the annexation petitions, the "spirit of cooperation" was still there.

He suggested that a "healing time" might be necessary before the two governmental units can cooperate fully. "There has to be cooperation even if the governments stay separate ad infinitum."

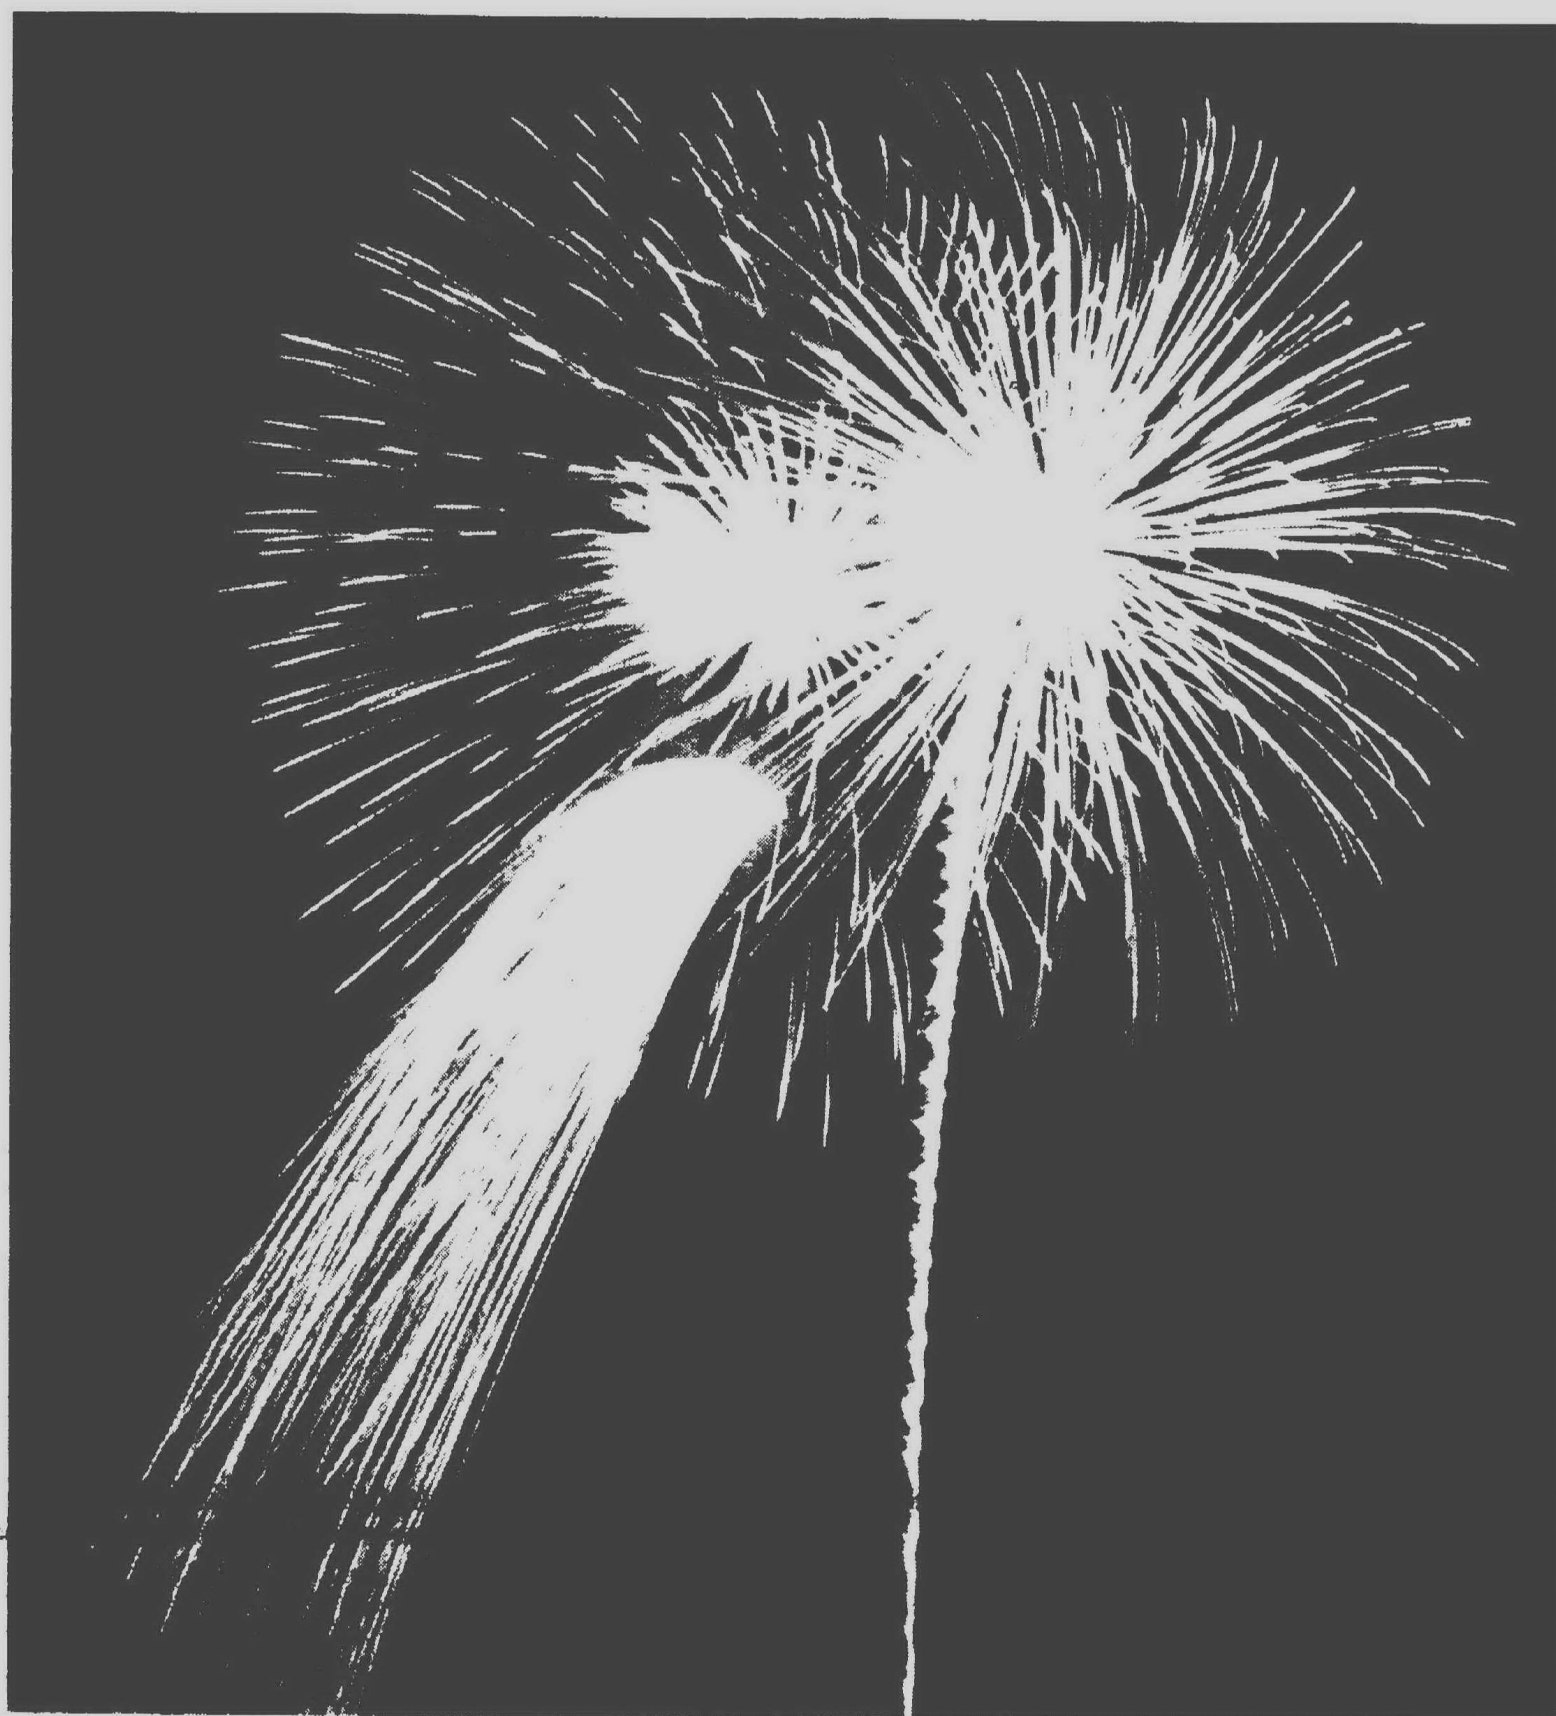

THE MSU RESEARCHERS, who attended the meeting, stressed that cooperation could benefit both the city and the township even without consolidation.

Kenneth VerBurg of MSU said, "There are areas of functional cooperation that would be beneficial to both communities."

He suggested fire protection, law enforcement, refuse pickup, recreation and planning as possible areas of cooperation.

Most of the city and township officials agreed that these areas could be better served by cooperation but the question left unanswered was, "how?"

The governmental leaders also discussed the effectiveness of the MSU consolidation study — most thought it helpful in distributing facts but few felt it had any real effect on the election outcome.

FIREWORKS will highlight the July Fourth festivities in Plymouth on Tuesday and Thursday at Middle School East on Mill Street, north of Ann Arbor Road. The fireworks ground display will start each of those nights at dusk. (Staff photo)

Youth Inc. plugs fund-raising efforts

By MAURIE WALKER

PLYMOUTH—In these days when many persons are complaining there aren't enough activities to keep young persons busy, Plymouth's Youth Inc., whose programs are an answer to this complaint, finds itself in dire need of funds to keep operating.

Dale Yagiela, director, said several fund raising events are planned and others being studied to help offset a $4,000 budget slash that occurred when commissioners allocated only $4,000 to the youth group this year compared to $8,000 the previous years.

"We have plans for short term funding, intermediate funding and long term funding," Yagiela said.

"Our short term program, for which we are now selling tickets, is a contest for prizes on July 4."

"During our summer art festival, July 13-14, we will hold a bake sale, and a scrap newspaper drive will be held July 12-14."

YAGIELA SAID the center, which has been in operation four years, has approximately 100 persons a day using its facilities.

Ages range from 12 to 20 years old, some dropping by to play pool or Ping

Schoolcraft tax nudged upward 0.225 mills

By EMORY DANIELS

Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees voted unanimously Wednesday night to levy a millage above the voter-approved tax rate to establish a maintenance fund.

Since its last study session, the administration received confirmed figures on the district's tax base (state equalized valuation) and lowered the amount of additional millage to be levied from 0.23 to 0.225.

The additional tax of 22.5 cents per $1,000 state equalized valuation (SEV) will raise Schoolcraft's total tax levy to 1.995 mills.

THE ACTION was taken following a public hearing which was marked by the fact that not a single resident appeared to comment about the added levy.

During the regular meeting, however, a Garden City resident did appear to state opposition to any tax being levied for schools without a vote of the people.

Mrs. Shirley Gilmore of Garden City said she misunderstood that the hearing was at 7 p.m., but was still allowed to speak during the regular meeting which started an hour later. Mrs. Gilmore added she was delayed because she was circulating "tax petitions" in opposition to the levy.

"I'm a strong supporter of Schoolcraft College," she explained, "but I also have very strong feelings about the people's right to vote. I firmly believe in the people's right to vote in the few remaining areas where they can vote on taxes."

BOARD PRESIDENT John LaRue assured Mrs. Gilmore the 0.225 mills was an emergency levy and wouldn't be levied again without a vote of the people.

Later in the meeting, the board officially confirmed LaRue's assurances by passing a resolution which included the stipulation the 0.225 mills was for one year only and wouldn't be levied beyond fiscal 1974-75 without first obtaining voter approval.

Trustee Arch Vallier of Plymouth commented the board was very reluctant to take that action, but it was faced with an emergency situation. The proposal could have been placed on the Aug. 6 primary ballot, Vallier stated, but that would have cost the college $30,000 to hold an election which traditionally has a very low voter turnout.

"I don't think the people should get upset," Vallier said, "What we did is perfectly legal. It's been tested in court and there's no doubt about the legality. What the board has done has been to be perfectly honest with the people and tell them well in advance what our intentions are."

Trustee Paul Kadish of Livonia added: "In as much as it is good for Schoolcraft College to keep its doors open next year, then the tax levy is good for the community which has invested millions of dollars in the campus."

"We'd be shying away from our responsibilities as trustees if we didn't insure this district is operating efficiently and providing a quality education to its students."

Vallier explained the 0.225 levy makes it possible to establish a $250,000 maintenance fund. "We have been delaying maintenance for too long. Taxpayers have $16 million invested in this college and we as trustees would be negligent if we didn't begin to maintain buildings and protect that investment."

TRUSTEE LEROY BENNETT commented the board brought up the matter well in advance so the public could talk about it and let trustees know how they feel. "Yet, no one showed up at the hearing."

A city can raise its tax levy within the charter limit any time it desires, Bennett added, but community colleges cannot raise a tax levy except for debt retirement and maintenance.

Plymouth and Livonia school districts had millage and bond questions on the ballot in June, Bennett added, and Schoolcraft didn't want to place its millage on the ballot then and endanger both the local and college tax propositions.

"There is a tendency when more than one tax issue is on the ballot for voters to vote 'no' on all the propositions. This would hurt both the local districts and the college."

"Besides the question would have had the effect of only being an advisory opinion because Schoolcraft has the legal authority to levy this tax."

Dr. Gerald Cox of Garden City said he was impressed with the way the administration put together the budget. "We are faced with inflation and negotiations with the Faculty Forum."

"The state constitutional ban on a graduated income tax has implications for community college districts. I prefer a graduated tax instead of property tax, and would like this board to take a position, but because of the emergency before us will support this added property tax."

THE TAX BASE for the district in fiscal 1974-75 will be $1,692,858,488 — an increase of eight per cent from last year.

This tax base of almost $1.7 billion with the new tax levy of 1.995 mills will generate local tax revenues of $3,377,252.

After subtracting some $380,890 for debt retirement and another $250,000 for maintenance, the district is left with $2.75 million for its operating budget.

Without the added 0.225 mills, the operating budget would have been about $2.4 million. The added tax will increase operating funds by about 14 per cent including the additional revenues from the eight per cent increase in the tax base.

This net increase in revenue, although much is pegged for maintenance, does give the administration some leeway in bargaining with the teachers' union on wages.

Without the added tax, the administration would have been unable to give teachers their incremental pay increase from the current contract without trimming the budget elsewhere.

With the added tax, the administration has additional bargaining power to offer the teachers a wage increase between five and 6.8 per cent. The teachers, who have been involved in budget discussions from the beginning, are well aware of these perimeters.

In the past, the administration reached a contract with teachers and then searched for maintenance funds — each year finding very little. Now, the administration is first budgeting for maintenance and then negotiating with teachers for a contract.

This is an important distinction, of course, because personal services expenditures account for 81 per cent of the college's total operating budget.

Although establishing a maintenance fund in this year's budget, the board purposely didn't specify the amount to be placed in that fund. It is expected to be $250,000 or $175,000, depending on teacher negotiations.

An indication of what the teacher settlement might be was given Wednesday night when the board tentatively voted to grant a 5.5 per cent pay hike for supervisory, technical and professional, security staff and some secretaries.

Trustee Mrs. Rosina Raymond, although absent, sent a letter stating she approved establishing a maintenance fund of $250,000, adopting an operating budget of $7.7 million, and levying the additional 0.225 mills.

The board also approved a capital outlay budget of $32,000 for the 1974-75 fiscal year. These capital expenditures are financed by the 1968 bond issue. After this next fiscal year, the college will have a balance of only $1,913 in capital funds from that issue.

Manufacturers National Corp., parent company of Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit and Manufacturers Bank of Livonia has declared a cash dividend of 45 cents per share. Dividends will be paid on June 28 to shareholders of record June 7, 1974.

Special ed mill asked for county

The board of education of the Wayne County Intermediate School District decided to put a one-mill special education issue on the Aug. 6 primary election ballot.

The board says this was done at request of parents of many handicapped children and if voters approve the small property tax thousands of handicapped children in the county will be assured educational experiences not now available.

A ONE-MILL tax, levied throughout the county would raise about $13 million a year to be used only for children needing special education programs and services.

This includes handicaps such as mentally, physically and emotionally impaired, hearing and visually impaired, learning disabled, speech and language impaired and homebound children. Any handicapped person under age 25 would be included.

While the new tax would be collected by the intermediate district, the funds would be dispersed to the county's 36 local school districts on the basis of need.

If a local district could not, or chose not to, conduct a particular type of special education class, the intermediate district would provide the service.

THERE ARE more than 32,500 children in special education programs in Wayne County now and it is estimated there are another 10,000 in the county who require special education.

Many who would qualify for special education have not been identified because of a lack of diagnostic services. Such diagnostic programs would be in one of the areas in which the intermediate district would assist local districts in expanding their efforts with the additional tax money.

The intermediate district provides direct service to children and to local school districts through the services of a staff of consultants and through in-service training for teachers and specialized materials and equipment.

The one-mill tax ($1 for $1,000 of equalized assessed valuation) would cost $7.50 per year to the average Wayne County homeowner living in a $15,000 home.

2 Plymouth 'Pioneer' teachers visiting Africa

By RON GARBINSKI

PLYMOUTH—A life-long dream is coming true for Midge Bearup. She and John Emery, both teachers at Pioneer Middle School, are traveling to Africa as part of an International Studies Program at Eastern Michigan University.

"It has been a life-long dream for me," says Mrs. Bearup. "I always wanted to travel and experience living with different kinds of people. People are my hobby, they just fascinate me."

The program, co-sponsored by the federal Health, Education and Welfare Department, (HEW) and the graduate department at EMU, will enable 17 graduate students from EMU to travel extensively throughout Nigeria for six weeks.

"THE PURPOSE of our trip is to bring back African culture to southeastern Michigan," explains Emery. "We will stay four weeks at the University of Ibadan in Nigeria. For the other two weeks we will be traveling throughout the country. When we are on the road, we will be the guests of other universities and put up at various hotels."

"The group going on the trip is made up of mostly teachers," continues Emery. "Included in the group is a librarian, a nurse and some others. We are all from southeastern Michigan."

Nigeria is a country with some 250 tribes. By African standards it is a wealthy nation and a leading oil exporting country. The country has long been under British rule so the common language is English.

But there are the 250 different tribe languages or dialects and that may cause some confusion for the group.

While in Nigeria, the two teachers plan to visit several schools, marketplaces; interview different people in different occupations, collect books, tools, crafts and art objects and get as much resource material as they can. "The information and materials we bring back will be for a large area of programs we have at Pioneer School," says Mrs. Bearup. "We will be collecting many artifacts and anything we can get our hands on."

THE GROUP IS DIVIDED into teams with each team working on its own problem. Their group is the only one where both members are from the same school.

HEW has given each person money for the purchase of materials to bring back with them. The Plymouth Community School District has matched the HEW funds enabling the two teachers to bring back twice as much materials as the other teams.

"At Pioneer School, culture is approached at different levels. In sixth grade we teach ethnic culture. In seventh grade it is African culture and in eighth grade we teach colonization," explains Emery. "The materials we bring back will be used for these programs and we will plan our culture classes around them. This material will be available to the entire Plymouth school system if they want to use it," he said.

"We hope to bring back something for every part of our culture programs," says Mrs. Bearup. "We are taking along a camera so we can bring back all kinds of slides. We are also taking over a slew of tapes to record songs, music, language dialects and anything else. We might even set up a listening center with the tapes we bring back."

IN OCTOBER, the entire group will meet for a presentation of what they have learned and display the materials they brought back. Everyone in the group will have the opportunity to discuss the other team's project and will receive a complete copy of their work.

"This way we will be able to get resource material from everyone else in the program," says Mrs. Bearup, "while just concentrating on our own projects."

The group left for Africa Friday and will home return around Aug. 13. "This trip certainly is not a vacation. We will be busy all the time," says Mrs. Bearup. "I guess you could say it is something like a good will tour."

HEW will pay for half of the trip and each person will pay for the rest. "We are paying our own way and we are getting six college credits, too," continues Mrs. Bearup. "We are both graduate students in education. I am about half way through with my degree and John only has a few more hours left."

Since the government picks up half the tab, it also has laid down some specific guidelines the group must follow.

"THEY HAVE told us to bring home certain types of programs. They even told us what to say and what not to say on certain matters," she says. "When we are talking about the American political system, we were told to express to the people there that it is our personal view and not a general view."

The group will be guest students at the universities and will attend lectures presented by college professors. These lectures will range from functions of government, textiles, and Nigerian history to the role of women in the economy. "Many of the professors there hold advanced degrees from British or American universities. The educational system in Nigeria is quite something and the university buildings are extremely modern, says Emery.

"We, as Americans, hope to learn much from the Nigerians," he continues. "Theirs is a bloody history because they have been warring among themselves for more than a 1,000 years. The head of the country has done a fantastic job of welding the 250 tribes together while retaining the heritage and culture of each tribe."

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Bearup, the history of Nigeria makes American history look like one day's history. Their leader comes from a small, not too influential tribe. But his statesmanship is "slicker than Henry Kissinger." He considers himself one of the common people and has kept the tribes from each others' throats.

"From what we hear, it is a very compatible country now," says Mrs. Bearup. "They seem to get along better with the other tribes than they do with their own tribe."

Both Bearup and Emery have been reading about current Nigerian events and attending Saturday sessions at EMU to learn about the program. Everyday last week they attended a crash course at the university to catch up on Nigerian culture.

"We had to keep on top of current events and foreign policy," says Emery. "and it seems to take 10 years just to finish one book on Nigeria because they have such a complex history."

"We will be covering the role of women while we are there. It is a big thing. Women were the leaders of government and it was the accepted thing," explains Mrs. Bearup. "But the thing that tickles me is that women, as leaders in the economy, cannot go shopping in shorts or slacks. In such a liberated country as Nigeria, I find it hard to believe."

"NIGERIAN MEN can wear anything," adds Emery. "But we were told we cannot wear the native dress because that would offend them."

"They have been very careful with our menus, too," says Mrs. Bearup. "All our meals are pre-arranged. We will eat no pork, and each day we will alternate between an American and Nigerian menu."

"Government officials have warned us not to overindulge," Emery continues, "because health is a big thing over there. We were told not to eat any fruit without a skin that can be peeled or drink any water that does not come out of a pipe."

"IT IS REALLY strange because probably everyone there has adjusted to malaria. Usually, the people catch it at an early age and adjust to it over the years. We have received all kinds of inoculations and some of them were for malaria."

"Many people that have lived there and those that we have talked to say we are in for a real treat," says Mrs. Bearup. "The people are very friendly and hold America in high esteem."

"I can hardly wait," she concludes. "It will be quite an experience and getting ready is something else. The only thing I am not really looking forward to is the long plane ride to Africa."

2 young fish merchants soon to sell live lobsters

By HANK MEIJER

PLYMOUTH—By the time the crowds come to Old Village July 20 for Deary Day, Curt Hann and Dan Herriman expect to have their counters and coolers stocked with everything from fresh catfish to live lobster.

The pair will be Plymouth's newest merchants and certainly youngest when their seafood market, The Fish Barrel, opens later this month behind Bill's Market at the corner of Starkweather and Spring.

Both are 17 and will be high school seniors this fall. Most of their classmates were skeptical when they heard how they planned to spend their summer.

"They didn't believe we'd go through with it," Curt said. But they have, and several of their friends have volunteered to help renovate the market in time for opening.

Potential customers are already making inquiries. Right now the closest fish stores are in Ann Arbor and Orchard Lake. After talking with Curt one resident may call off a fishing trip to Arkansas if the Fish Barrel stocks fresh catfish.

Plans for a fish market began one night three months ago when Curt and Dan decided to start a business. They had to eliminate most of their alternatives for lack of capital, but they decided that a fish market could start up without too much money or room.

Besides, Curt has had an idea for such a shop since he was 12.

They rented a couple of rooms behind the grocery store and pooled their resources to buy the necessary equipment. The partners and friends are still searching for some scales and some nautical decor.

"We have half the town looking with us," Curt said.

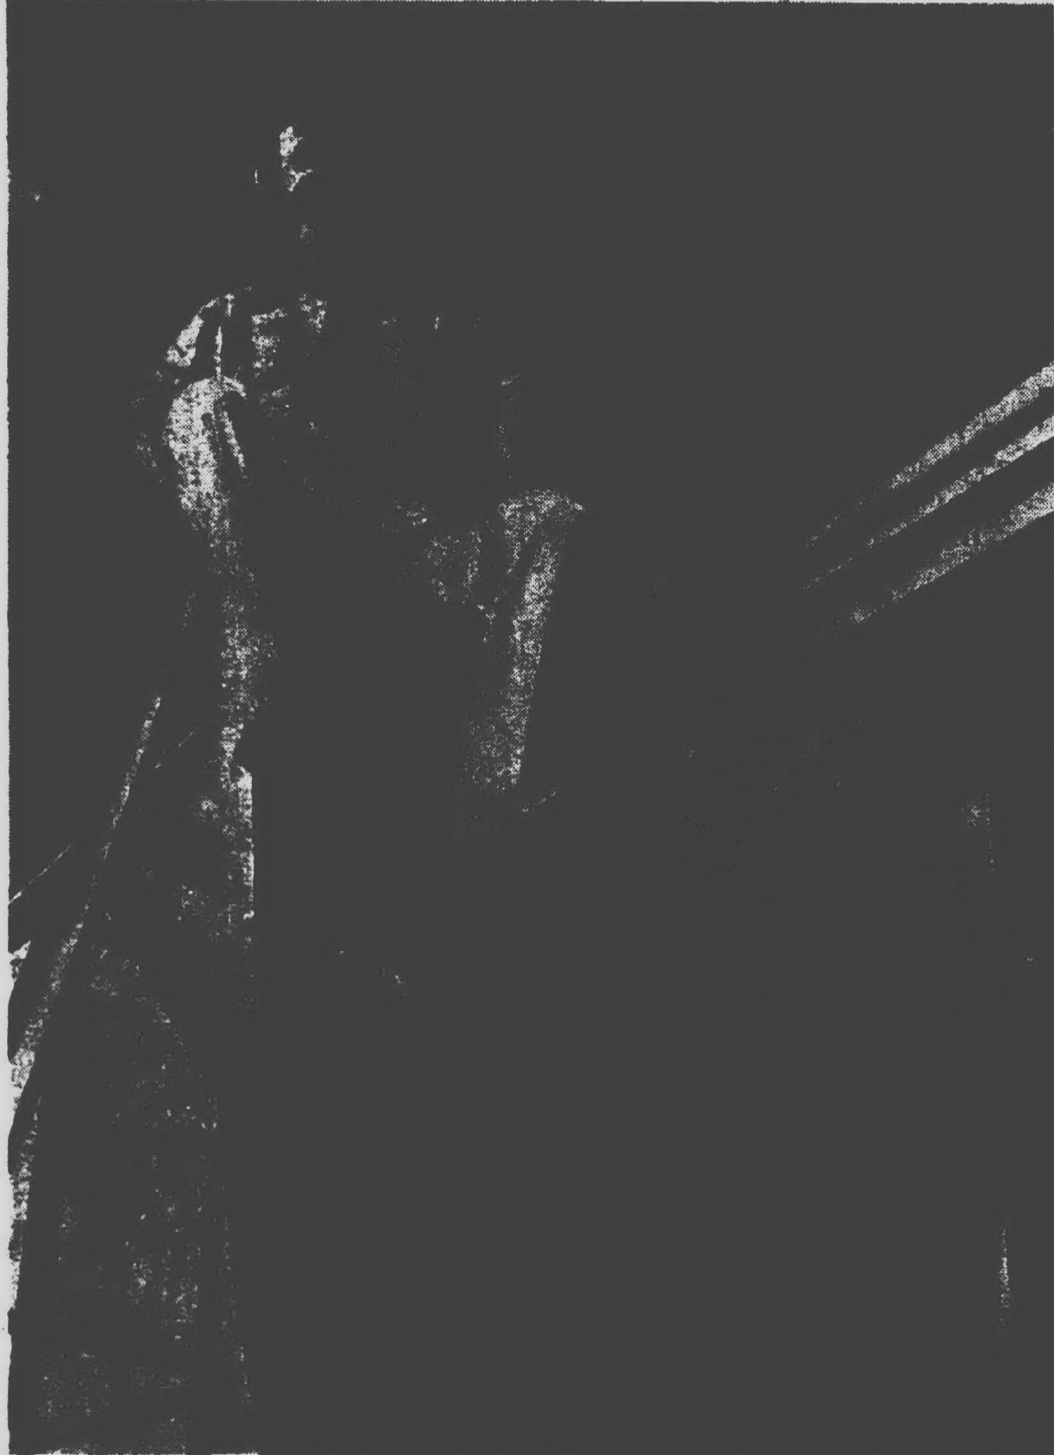

They have already made arrangements to get almost daily deliveries of fresh fish from a wholesaler in Detroit.

What do wholesalers think of dealing with a pair of teenagers?

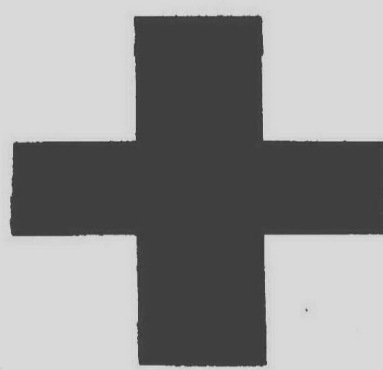

They and others in the business are quick to help the youths out. "That was something we thought would work to our advantage," Curt said. "We've only had a little static."

"When we're talking on the phone everything's fine, but when they meet us they're a bit shocked."

YOUNG FISH MERCHANTS Curt Hann and Dan Herriman, both 17, plan to open Plymouth's only fresh seafood market later this month at the corner of Starkweather and Spring streets.

Museum exhibits industrial heritage

On July 4, the Henry Ford Museum at Greenfield Village in Dearborn, is launching the country's first national Bicentennial exhibition.

Titled "Industrial Heritage U.S.A.," it illustrates the drastic changes in American life and the greatly improved standard of living that have resulted from the ingenious inventions and developments in industry, commerce and agriculture in the 200 years since our country's birth.

The exhibition was developed by the village and museum in cooperation with 26 American industrial organizations to commemorate the American Bicentennial.

Individual exhibits trace the evolution of such diverse areas of American life as home entertainment, home lighting, the bath, the kitchen, farm equipment, clothing and electric power.

There are 26 such exhibits, each sponsored by a different organization. Hundreds of artifacts have been selected from the collections of Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum for the exhibits which trace 200 years of our country's industrial progress by contrasting the products of the past with those of today.

Overall, "Industrial Heritage U.S.A." is an American history exhibit designed to fill everyone who sees it with a feeling of admiration for the hardy Americans of the past and a sense of appreciation for the growth and development they made possible in the past 200 years.

After Labor Day, the exhibition will begin an extensive tour of the country which will take it to each of the 48 contiguous states in the Union by the end of 1976.

Each summer it will return to the Henry Ford Museum to be displayed during July and August among all the other collections which bring American history to life there.

Auditions scheduled for new orchestra

"Orchestra Michigan, U.S.A. (OMUSA) one of two new programs sponsored by the Detroit Association for the Performing Arts.

OMUSA intends to offer talented young musicians an opportunity to win cash prizes and compete for membership in the 70-member group.

Candidates from throughout the state, up to age 30, are invited to audition Saturday, July 13 and Sunday, July 14 at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in Detroit's Masonic Temple. Auditions for string instruments will run from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. both days. Woodwind, brass and percussion instrumentalists will audition from 4 p.m.-9 p.m.

Each candidate will play one solo

O&E staffers display photos

Two Observer and Eccentric staff photographers, Tracy Baker and Lona Askins, will be among 16 Detroit area press photographers exhibiting works in the main Detroit Public Library July 17 through Aug. 31.

Organized independently of the usual guilds and associations, the library's exhibit brings together photographs which make a strong and enjoyable statement concerning the aims and aspirations of press photographers.

Other photographers represented in the exhibit are Dan G. Brothers, John Collier, Robert Coon, Joe Crachiola, Ronald Ernst, Hugh Grannum, Jerry Hostetler, Alan Kamuda, Joe Lipincott, Marianne LeTasi, Ira Rosenberg, Bob Scott, Tony Spina and Steve Thompson. All are press photographers working in the metropolitan Detroit area.

The exhibit may be viewed during regular library hours, Monday and Wednesday, 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Festivals, fun events fill Michigan's July calendar

The Michigan Tourist Council is brimful of suggestions for enjoying the month of July close to home.

The Old Time Summer Festival at Greenfield Village continues through the month, complete with strolling minstrels, a medicine show and a reenactment of the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates.

July means fair days and there are 25 agricultural and county fairs on tap during the month.

Many communities stage art fairs and arts and crafts festivals during the month. The Wyandotte Street Art Fair is scheduled for July 25-27. Art on the Rocks in Marquette is set for July 27-28, a senior citizens art show in Jones is July 28 and the Dancing Hippopotamus Arts and Crafts Festival near Huron Beach runs July 5-13.

The latter festival culminates the efforts of a group of retired persons in the Oscoda area who utilize their free time and the winter months to pursue their favorite handiwork.

HANDWOVEN articles, braided rugs, needlework, water colors, oil paintings and the ancient art of quilling are among the crafts demonstrated and for sale. The show is held at Bearinger Township Hall about five miles inland from Huron Beach on County Road 646.

July also features the Blue Water Festival in Port Huron, 6-14; the National Cherry Festival in Traverse City, 8-13; the Sebewaing Sugar Festival, 12-14; National Blueberry Festival in South Haven, 25-29 and every weekend a different ethnic group stages a festival on the Detroit riverfront.

Michigan has two old-fashioned riverboat shows complete with headline entertainment, chorus line, choir and endmen. The Chesaning Showboat will dock July 8-13 and the Lowell Showboat will be in port two weekends.

Scots plan annual picnic

The annual United Scottish picnic will be held on Bob-Lo Island, Saturday, July 6. Boats leave the foot of Woodward at 10 and 11 a.m.

With the skirl o' the pipes of the Windsor Scottish Pipe Band and a glorious array of dancers in the highland dancing competition, this event is a popular "gatherin' of the clans."

Open to all area residents, there are games and prizes for all.

The picnic is sponsored by the Order of Scottish Clans, the Ladies Auxiliary and the Daughters of Scotia.

with performances July 18-20 and July 25-27.

THERE'S PLENTY of excitement for sports enthusiasts, participants and spectators. The fun began with the Algonac Pickerel Tournament, July 2-7. This was followed by the International Frisbee Tournament July 6-7 at Pequaming in the Upper Peninsula.

Baldwin's Trout-A-Rama celebration is set for July 25-28 while St. Helen will hold its Blue Gill festival July 26-28. The rugged world championship Au Sable River canoe marathon race will be run from Grayling to Oscoda, July 26-27.

For spectators, Wyoming offers a championship rodeo on July 11-13 with nationally ranked cowboys from throughout the country performing in Fort Wyoming arena.

At the Point O' Woods Country Club in Benton Harbor, the Western Amateur Golf Tournament, the largest amateur tournament in the world, will be held July 24-28.

Children's Center bids being taken

The multi-million dollar Child Development Center in Northville Township is coming to a close.

Proposals to buy or lease the property are being accepted by a special sub-committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners until Aug. 16.

Commissioner James DeSana (D-Wyandotte), chairman of the sub-committee, called the phasing out of the center, "a unique and opportune situation for future tenants." He suggested the center be considered "for expansion or relocation of existing functions and for the accommodation of new programs" in a letter addressed to institutions and agencies in 43 municipalities in the County.

The center, located at Five Mile and Sheldon Roads, consists of about 700 acres which include 45 one- and two-story buildings. It is expected to be vacant by the end of the year after the 85 children have been transferred to appropriate agencies elsewhere.

Although the facility is tax exempt and has not been assessed, it is estimated that the buildings would cost nearly $12 million to replace. The land is considered to be worth more than $2.5 million.

More information on the program is available by contacting the superintendent of the center at 16000 Sheldon Road.

Reuther praises new budget bills as progressive

John Reuther, a frequent critic of the inability of Congress to control spending, has praised the passage of the congressional budget act.

Reuther, speaking at a houseparty in Ann Arbor recently, said the budget act "would return the power of the purse to the Congress where it rightfully belongs, and allow the Congress to assert itself on important financial matters."

REUTHER is a candidate for the Democratic nomination in the 2nd District which includes Livonia, Plymouth, parts of Washtenaw County, and Monroe County.

"One particularly pleasing aspect of this act is it will prevent the Nixon administration from withholding money from our schools on the whim of some bureaucrat," commented the congressional hopeful.

"As a result, the terrible burden of the property tax can be reduced by congressional initiative."

"There will now be a clear, orderly procedure for finding out how much money is coming into the federal treasury and how it is going out."

"The next step is to elect a representative who is willing to take action now that the opportunity is at hand. There can no longer be any excuse for congressional delay."

REUTHER POINTED to a recent revelation that Michigan leads a list of 28 states which pay more for defense than they receive back in defense related federal expenditures as an example of the kind of information that would routinely become available to members of Congress.

"While it is clear from this information that Rep. Marvin Esch and other members of the Michigan delegation haven't been getting an equal share for our state, it would be unfair to attribute that to ineptness alone."

"The information simply hasn't been there in a comprehensive form. Now it will be."

"With the information available under this reform, however, the Michigan delegation should make certain that we no longer lose 74 cents of every tax dollar for defense related expenses."

The budget act passed the Senate June 21 and the House on June 18. President Nixon is expected to sign it despite some reservations, says Reuther, who has long been advocating such a reform.

Lansing reports funds; asks limit

"We will never achieve real campaign reform in this country as long as the political system permits candidates to stump actively for nearly a year for one primary election," said Marj Lansing, candidate for the Democratic congressional nomination in the 2nd District.

In a statement releasing her campaign contributions and expenses, she supported reforms that will "allow qualified candidates an equal chance to be elected, regardless of personal wealth or special interest group support."

"Only the rich can afford to give so much time without great personal sacrifice. I fully endorse reasonable limits on the length of primary campaigns. "A law providing public funds to match a limited number of dollars raised by individual candidates is also an essential step towards opening public office to all."

"I also favor strict limits on campaign spending. I had hoped the candidates in this primary would set a $15,000 ceiling on spending. Unfortunately, there was no agreement on a limit."

"I believe I must still strive for a lower limit because uncontrolled spending can lead to the excesses of Watergate," she continued.

"I strongly support full disclosure of all contributions and have made a complete list of persons giving money to my campaign available at 1825 Geddes, Ave., Ann Arbor."

Mrs. Lansing's expenses to date have been about $12,000 for printing, headquarters and operations and advertising. A total of $7,284.72 has been raised through public events and voluntary gifts from individuals. A Lansing for Congress Committee raised $1,784.72. With the exception of a few contributors, all funds have been raised in the 2nd District.

Pierce 'glad' Rep. Esch has entered race

Ed Pierce, congressional candidate for the Democratic nomination in the 2nd District, says he welcomes the opportunity to "run against the Republican record in Congress" now that incumbent Rep. Marvin Esch (R-Ann Arbor) has entered the race on the Republican side of the ballot.

While campaigning in Northville, Pierce declared: "I am happy to see Esch has finally decided to throw his hat into this ring and thereby place his sorry record as a Republican congressman on the line."

"There is no one I would rather face in this contest than Richard Nixon's man in Ann Arbor."

PIERCE, a medical doctor, is a candidate in the 2nd District which includes Livonia and Plymouth, Northville Township, the Wayne County portion of the City of Northville, parts of Washtenaw and Monroe County.

"The truth of the matter is that our incumbent congressman has been a consistent supporter of the administration's line on key issues in Congress, voting the Nixon line almost 75 per cent of the time on crucial issues on which the administration really calls in the cards."

"He has even voted to sustain Nixon vetoes on issues which the large majority of the Congress has made its will clear."

"If the congressman is indeed planning to run on his record and the record of his party in the White House, then this will be a very lively campaign because I disagree with most of the things he and his party has been responsible for in his term in office."

PIERCE ALSO noted that the second anniversary of the Watergate break-in had occurred in June, but questioned whether the lessons of the Nixon administration scandals had yet sunk in.

"For example, in recent weeks politicians all over the country are giving back their portion of the dairy trust money that has the administration in such trouble."

"But our congressman's own disclosures reveal that he received $1,000 of that money himself and still hasn't joined the list of those returning it."

"I hope this doesn't mean Esch is going to be running another campaign, as he did in 1972, financed by a majority of out-of-district and interest group money."

Services held for Pearl Dunn

PLYMOUTH—Funeral services for Mrs. Pearl Dunn, 88, of 503 Ann Street, were conducted today (Monday) by the Rev. Henry Walchin Shrader Funeral Home. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery. Mrs. Dunn died June 28 in Beverly Manor Nursing Home, Novi.

MRS. PEARL DUNN

A Plymouth resident for 63 years, Mrs. Dunn was born in Northville, March 9, 1886. Pearl Harriet Little was the daughter of William Dunn, a Civil War infantryman, whose brother Sam founded the Northville Record in 1889.

Before her marriage in 1910 to Frank Dunn of Plymouth, Pearl Little wrote "society" items for the Northville paper. In 1931 she began writing for the Plymouth Mail.

For 30 years, Pearl Dunn kept track of the social life of Plymouth residents. Their comings and goings, teas and club meetings were recorded in her weekly "Locals" columns.

It is said that Elton Eaton, publisher of the Mail, considered those inches of locals the most important ingredient of his newspaper. In his later years, when his son, Sterling, had taken over as publisher, Eaton's criteria of a "good" paper was the length of Pearl Dunn's "Locals."

Mrs. Dunn was a lifetime member of the Plymouth branch of the Michigan division of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. Her other love was the Detroit Tiger baseball team. For years she rarely missed a ladies' day at the old Briggs Stadium.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Raymond Cichocki and Mrs. Maurine Baldwin of Plymouth; three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

DETECTIVE SGT Eugene Weiler, of the Plymouth State Police post, received a unit citation recently. He was one of three officers cited for participation in solving a 1973 murder in Inkster.

Robert Erwin, Democratic candidate for the 37th state House seat in the Aug. 6 primary, outlined some campaign goals in a recent coffee hour.

ROBERT ERWIN

Erwin, 31, of Westland has announced a platform of repeal of the four per cent sales tax on food and prescription drugs, improved financing for public schools, property tax changes to help senior citizens, improved state aid for communities, and more benefits for Vietnam War veterans.

Erwin, who has an associate degree in political science from Kellogg Community College, said he wants a better financing of public schools and reduced tuitions at state colleges plus more vocational education programs in high schools.

He proposed state aid to communities like Westland and Canton Township for public improvements, such as streets and sidewalks, to help them with their growing pains.

Erwin, a Navy veteran who served in Vietnam, has been active in numerous political campaigns and is on the Wayne-Westland Democratic Club's executive board.

The 37th House district includes half of Westland, all of Canton Township and part of Plymouth Township.

Erwin announced this week that Bruce Roderick, 33, of 44604 Hanford

Dr., Canton Township, will be his campaign manager.

Roderick has been in numerous state House and congressional campaigns in the past 10 years, Erwin said.

Township revising development plan

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—Trustees this week approved $3,000 for the revision of the comprehensive development plan as recommended by the township planning commission.

Revision of ordinance should be completed by mid-July, reported Trustee Russell Ash, who represents the board on the commission. Public hearings will follow shortly thereafter, he said.

In related action, the board approved a new contract with the Plymouth planning firm of Norman D. Dietrich Associates.

The contract allows a monthly retainer fee of $125 and provides for the consultant to spend one afternoon a week in township hall for consultation and meetings with township officials.

That service will cost the township an additional $100 per week.

Only trustee to vote against the contract was Frank Millington, who felt the fee schedule reflected a 25 per cent hike and "I don't buy this."

It was brought out in the discussion that the township has been using the Plymouth firm for the past three years without a formal contract.

Actually, Township Clerk Helen Richardson said, the new fee schedule is the first change in three years.

Canton JCs win awards

CANTON—Canton Township Jaycees presented awards to outstanding members at their annual inauguration ceremony.

Phil Meloche received the "key man award," Frank Hlavin was named Jaycee of the year and the presidential award of honor went to members Dan Golec, Dave Denhard, Dale Houghton, Drew Rentz and Meloche. In addition, merit awards went to Hlavin and Mike Neal.

Fife, drum tour starts Friday

PLYMOUTH—The 54 member Plymouth fife and drum corps will begin a three-day tour of Michigan and Ontario on July 5. Stops on the tour will include Midland and Vassar, Michigan and Brantford, Ontario.

Interest refunds could bring customers $5 million

By TOM SCHRAM

Michigan consumers could regain $2 million to $5 million in illegally collected finance charges, but an attorney handling the class action lawsuit warns them not to expect their refunds too soon.

Wayne County Circuit Judge Roland Olzak has announced the method by which six large retailers must reimburse consumers for finance charges which were illegally computed from 1967-71.

Richard Grigg of Westland brought the suit in 1970 as an individual against Robinson Furniture Co., corpo-

Kelly's chairman of auditors board

Richard T. Kelly, purchasing director of Wayne County, has been named chairman of the elected three-member county board of auditors.

He succeeds John F. Williams who recently retired as chairman after serving since 1968. Before becoming a county auditor, Williams, 65, was secretary-treasurer of the Metropolitan Detroit AFL-CIO and a member of the former county board of supervisors.

rate predecessor of Joshua Doore Co. The case mushroomed into a class action suit involving Sears, Roebuck & Co., Montgomery Ward, Winkelman's, Korvette and Federal Department Stores.

OLZAK HAD ruled earlier this year the "previous balance" method of computing interest which the retailers used from 1967-71 was illegal because it allowed companies to earn more than the 1.7 per cent monthly interest permitted by state law.

Since that time, retailers have been using a "daily balance" method for computing interest. Olzak ruled the daily balance method legal.

The newest ruling will force the retailers to re-compute all interest earned while using the previous balance method by the daily balance method and refunding the difference.

According to Detroit attorney Michael Kratchman, whose firm handled the suit, that will mean up to $5 million for Michigan consumers.

FURTHER COURT action may delay the refund checks, he added.

"We expect a further ruling regarding the mechanics of reimbursement in two or three weeks. Then there will be other rulings and there may well be appeals," Kratchman said.

Kratchman said his firm was considering appealing the portion of Olzak's ruling which declared the average daily balance method legal. According to Kratchman, under certain conditions the consumer may end up paying more under the daily balance method than he did under the previous balance method depending on the scheduling of his purchases and payments.

"Sears changed their method of computing interest in 1972 to a method which we believe is both fair and legal. Our firm will decide sometime

Local reps back licensing bill

State representatives from this area have voted unanimously in favor of a bill designed to curb unfair and deceptive car repair practices in Michigan.

Representatives William Keith (D-Garden City), John Bennett (D-Redford Twp.), Robert Geake (R-Northville), John Markes (D-Westland), Thomas Brown (D-Westland), and Raymond Smit (R-Ann Arbor) all cast "yes" votes for the bill which would require the licensing of approximately 60,000 auto mechanics and 30,000 repair services if it becomes law.

Though the bill cleared the House by a vote of 67 to 33, sources in Lansing say the bill will face heavy opposition in the Senate. House and Senate critics argue that the measure could increase the cost of car repair substantially, and that administration of the proposed law could cost as much as $2 million a year.

However, should the bill make it through the Senate and be signed by the governor, who favors the consumer protection measure it would be phased in over a five year period under the direction of a new division of motor vehicle services within the Secretary of State's office.

OBITUARIES

CHRISTINA WILSON PATRICK—Services for Mrs. Patrick, 61, of 12975 Brady, Redford Township, were in the Charles R. Step Funeral Home with Rev. George W. Buck officiating. Burial was at Parkview Memorial Cemetery.

Mrs. Patrick died June 24 after an extended illness. She was a Redford Township resident for 21 years.

Survivors are: husband George, daughters Dawn and Mrs. Marilyn Sommerville; two sisters, and one brother.

Pilgrim Towers is a 'pig in a poke' for city

The only way to describe the proposed Pilgrim Towers senior citizen housing project is by calling it a "pig in a poke."

That's exactly what taxpayers in the City of Plymouth would be buying should the City Commission vote tonight (Monday) to pick up the option on remaining parcels for the project's proposed site.

When the city first became involved in supporting the Pilgrim Towers non-profit group which was trying to pick up options for the site, the commission was making a dangerous move.

Taxpayers' dollars should not be used for backing pie in the sky projects when very little is known about them.

The Pilgrim Towers group's basic hypothesis that there is a need for more senior citizen housing here is very sound.

But from there, the progress of the Towers project has been shaky.

Why did Jim Houk, president of the Towers group, wait to come right out and say the project had been denied federal funding? He claims he intimated that before the city commission, but why didn't he come right out and say it?

Editorial

And now the group has been converted to a profit corporation — in accordance with regulations for state funding still being sought.

So what the city commission will be discussing tonight is whether to help a profit making corporation succeed. Is that a wise use of tax dollars?

Ever since the city joined the Towers group in picking up options for the site, the city has had no control over what happens should the project fail.

Who would then get the profits from the sale of the land? Certainly not the city.

Will the land be sold at public auction? No, the Towers group will sell it.

There are too many holes in the arrangement to provide the proper safeguards needed when using taxpayers' dollars.

If the city commission is really interested in providing more senior citizen housing, another project like Tonquish Creek Manor could be undertaken.

At least then, the city taxpayers wouldn't be buying a pig in a poke.

The commission should not pick up the options for the Towers group because it has not been given the information necessary to insure the city's money will be used in a worthwhile manner.

The state has not yet formally approved funding for the project — although it appears they 'might.'

But that's what Houk said about the federal funding too.

If this profit — technically a "limited dividend association" — corporation wants the city to invest money, it should be a lot more specific about explaining what community good would be derived from the investment.

Should the commission give them more money without obtaining this information, what's to stop a developer from coming in and asking the city to pick up a property option for a new food store in town?

The Pilgrim Towers Project — as it currently stands — is not a proper investment place for tax dollars. It's a pig in a poke and nothing else.

'Teachers always blamed for bad negotiations timing'

EDITOR:

Anytime teachers take a stand, be it in July, September, October, whenever, "bad timing" is bound to be the charge. Teachers accept negative public opinion as a way of life and have been fitted with the black hat time and time again and will continue to be the victims of public outcries so long as public education is funded as it is.

Teachers, as any other labor group, are entitled to a fair contract settlement. That is all Plymouth teachers are seeking and have been seeking since April 1, 1974 when formal negotiations began.

Teachers in Plymouth were eager for an equitable early settlement with language protection as evidenced by their pledge to arrive at a tentative agreement by June 10th after a marathon bargaining session lasting until 2:30 a.m. on June 6. Those attempts failed but we are still hopeful the issues can be resolved at the table where they should be.

The PEA has been charged with "untimeliness" as to its pressure on the Board of Education for a Master Agreement prior to the opening of the 45-15 program at Miller Elementary. The PEA would also, no doubt, be charged with "untimeliness" in September or October with a strike threat in order to arrive at a fair contract settlement. Whether 30, seven or 357 teachers begin to work in a new school year, they have as much right as anyone to a contract that guarantees working conditions and sets a wage that they know will be their salary for meeting their contractual obligations.

Negotiations is a two-way street. Let it be known that if the 45-15 program is aborted by the school board, the decision is theirs solely and taxpayers and parents can rest the blame equally on both sides for not being able to reconcile their differences.

By no means can a month before the July 22 deadline be construed as last minute negotiations when both parties have been at the table since April 1. The PEA has forced the board into making a decision — that being, to abort the 45-15 program or to make a fair settlement indicating not only the 45-15 program to be a program of priority, but the entire Plymouth school program beginning on time or progressing without interruption as being of equal importance.

One only has to view the settlements of the three districts contiguous to Plymouth (Northville, Livonia and VanBuren) to see what is in the realm of a fair settlement.

'Township Democrats are alive and well'

EDITOR:

I must respond and take issue with W. Edward Wendover's June 20 column. He asks, "Where are the Plymouth Township Democrats who two years ago came so close?" Rest assured, Mr. Wendover, we are alive, still interested in our community and not giving up!

As Mr. Wendover indicates, a team of Democrats organized two years ago to present an alternative to the township voter. Despite a good deal of support, none of these candidates was elected, but each of us scored a victory. The victory was the resoration (or initiation) of the two-party system in Plymouth Township; in fact, issues we raised have recently been reviewed. (timely action in an election year).

Even though the other members of that team are unable, for personal reasons, to be candidates at this time, each has pledged his support and willingness to work toward the election of Democratic candidates this year.

Mr. Wendover indicated that "everybody" and "anybody" was allowed to run this year. Well, certainly the Democratic Party has always been one to welcome members of varied philosophy, and I am pleased to see new Democratic candidates this year, for it shows there is still continued interest.

There were other Democrats who indicated a willingness to run, but who had reservations about the time commitment necessary to serve. Had these people filed and been elected, the "Watergate backlash" Mr. Wendover referred to would have perpetrated yet another tragedy.

We will have an inter-party contest this year, one which I hope will result in the election of Democratic candidates, and one which will promote further interest and competition in local government.

She heads son's cub pack-- but not officially

By SUE ROSIEK

Come September, Joan Orlando of Westland will assume the duties as cubmistress of Cub Pack 728 in Westland. She's the only woman in the Detroit area to tackle such a job.

She's excited and very enthusiastic and has already started planning a full calendar of events which include hiking, craft projects and community-oriented field trips.

Mrs. Orlando's only problem is that the Detroit Area Scout Council won't recognize her as the pack's official leader.

"I was told the council doesn't approve of a woman holding the position," says Mrs. Orlando. "So instead they registered my husband's name, officially, but said they had no objections to me doing the work."

Mrs. Orlando volunteered for the job last March.

"I wouldn't have taken it from a man," she says, "but the job had to be done and no one (male, that is) offered."

She has no intention of proving any point and insists "I'm not a woman's libber."

Her only concern is for her son, Tony, and for the other 16 members of the cub pack.

"Scouting is a beautiful thing and the kids are only young once," she says.

While the official registration is of minor importance to her, she feels it points up the fact that her husband can't participate fully.

"He holds two jobs and couldn't devote the time," she explains, "but we talked it over and he didn't have any objections to my taking the job."

She also can see an advantage in having a woman in the leader position because "the boys range in age from eight to 10 and some are still quite immature."

"I don't baby them," she adds, "but I don't come on as strong as a man would. I think the boys might really open up."

Besides scouting Mrs. Orlando serves as a room mother at Cady Elementary School, is a member of the PTA and has a five-year-old daughter, Michelle.

"It's going to be a busy year," she says, "but I think the busier you are the happier you are."

Mrs. Orlando says she volunteered for cubmistress because she feels qualified. "This is my third year in scouting and I've lived in the community for 11 years. I feel I know the ropes a little better than a new member," she says.

Most scout parents already know she'll be taking over in the fall and so far there haven't been any objections, she says.

"I've received courtesy and cooperation from everyone involved, especially my committee chairman and co-worker, Norman Krazel," she adds.

It's not the credit Mrs. Orlando's after and titles don't seem to bother her. It is, however, the principle involved.

"Nothing will change," she says, "we will still have a busy, productive and fun filled year in scouting."

The reminder she isn't the official leader won't come from anyone in Westland but from the council.

The scouting magazine which is sent monthly to every leader will be addressed to cubmaster instead of cubmistress.

Children's lib needed, says MSU sociologist

While women's liberation rolls on, and men's liberation begins to gather momentum, the big question is: what's the effect of all this turmoil on today's children?

Not only psychologists and child development experts—who have long studied the physical, mental and emotional development of children—but also economists, sociologists, historians, and literary people need to examine what's happening to children, according to a Michigan State University sociologist.

"For one thing," Dr. Ruth Hill Useem said, "the Zero Population Growth policy means that for children there will be fewer siblings and fewer peers."

ALMOST 15 YEARS ago Dr. Useem, a professor of sociology and of the Institute for International Studies in Education at MSU, spoke on "Who Needs Women?" at the annual convention in Denver of the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors.

At that time, some of her predictions and comments were that "his" and "her" labels would fade out of the job world, that the role of homemaking should have such dignity that men and women could perform it with multiple roles or in full-time roles, and that both men and women stood to lose certain vested interests and special privileges which normally accrued to them on the basis of sex.

"The complexity of the world of today and tomorrow," she said then, "is mirrored in the fact that when the citizen moves in on one current problem, its solution ricochets off to create a new problem for other groups or other sections of our society."

INVITED RECENTLY to discuss what's been going on in society since her 1961 remarks, Dr. Useem punctuated her responses by pointing to the big bulletin board in her office, between the walls of books. The board is crowded with photos of her children, her grandchildren, and her godchildren and adopted children of what she calls the "third culture."

For many years she has concerned herself with those American nationals who live abroad with their parents who serve in diplomatic, military, religious, educational and technical assistance programs and business enterprises. There are 300,000 American nationals abroad between the ages of preschool and 18.

Parents of teen-agers have listened for many years to talk of wanting to find out "who I am," and "what I want to do with my life," she said. Now those parents and many other women and men have begun to ask themselves the same kinds of questions but, this time, about themselves and the social goals they had thought they valued.

"SOME OF THE HEAT has gone out of women's lib," she said, "but there should be no delusions that the end is near and that presently everything will revert back to how things were. They won't. There are new lifestyles now; there probably will be more ahead."

Dr. Useem anticipated more frequent marriages, more marriages involving not only older men and younger women but also older women, and younger men, more abandonment of children by mothers, more recognition by divorce courts that some fathers are well suited to assume child custody, and more single parents of both sexes.

Much of the change occurring and coming, she says, stems from the fact that women have come to see that those male rights and rites which they so long coveted are not all that worthwhile, and that indeed men have been living constrained and narrow lives too.

MEN HAVE BEEN REEXAMING their lives too, she said. They're wearing bolder clothes, changing their hairstyles, and trying to get away from the too taut and too tight set of rules.

Before women's lib, Dr. Useem said, to be a success as date bait, a woman had to be young, good-looking, sexy and white. Now young people find each other attractive in ways that don't fit the old concepts.

A successful male executive or politician, prior to women's lib, had to be 6'2", superbly tailored in conservative clothes of dark tones, married, and devoid of any inclination to cry or show emotion or be depressed or be unpredictable.

Now, both men and women are asking themselves who they are, and if the old dedications are worth anything.

"AHEAD," SHE SAID, "is a painful, upsetting time for everybody and, as a result, many people are very self-oriented. Much has been written on the people working through this turmoil and its effect on the present society, but few have observed and thought about its impact on the children who carry on the thread of life."

"We must, in consequence, concern ourselves with what this new adult world is doing to and for children. We are moving so quickly now that we are losing our definitions of 'adult,' 'maturity,' and 'generation.' We have lowered the voting age, for example, but not the age for reduced car insurance premiums. We have a whole new category of young people, aged 21 through 29, who have little respect for the social norms honored before this behavioral revolution."

THE SOCIOLOGIST drew analogies between the campus ferment of the 1960s and the current adult turmoils.

"The American scene," she said, "is marked by anti-norms, by a surge toward individual fulfillment and by de-emphasis on work ethics."

How the turmoil affects today's growing children, Dr. Useem said, will depend in part on the children's ages and the depths of their roots into the social culture, for a bent twig isn't inevitably an inclined tree.

"Let us see clearly what it is we are doing to children," she said. "Let us concern ourselves also with their wants and needs."

Want a job that calls for maturity and self-discipline, yet lets you be a woman complete with curls and nail polish?

One that involves carrying a gun but challenges you to find the good in people?

One that can be exciting and fun but carries a lot of responsibility?

Mrs. Linda Bellmer recommends her job—being a security guard.

MRS. BELLMER, mother of three teenagers, has for a year and a half been traveling all over the metropolitan area as a representative of Burns International Securities Services Inc.

Her posts have included work at the Awrey Bakery plant in Livonia and the Troy-Hilton in Troy as well as at Tiger Stadium and Cobo Hall.

She picked her field and persuaded Burns to make her one of its first woman representatives.

"I HAD ALWAYS wanted to be a policewoman," she said, "but when I was ready to work I was past the age limit of 32. I really think that's a bad rule—police work takes maturity."

But in this job, she philosophized, "we are not police, but we often work closely with them."

That's especially true in the city jobs like Tiger Stadium and Cobo Hall, she said.

"The Burns guards there work with the police to keep crowds under control and keep the patrons safe."

"IT'S IMPORTANT to know how to handle yourself, but I have never felt in danger on the job," she said. "I know danger can be everywhere, but no more so here if you act with maturity."

A woman, Linda Bellmer feels, has a certain built-in advantage in this line of work.

"I don't believe in violence," she said, "and I think that sometimes the presence of a woman on the scene may have the effect of cooling tempers down."

"And I've studied psychology and human relations, and think this helps me know what to do in a variety of situations."

MRS. BELLMER'S current assignment is the midnight shift of guard duty at the Awrey plant, making sure that only authorized persons enter while the next day's bread is baking.

But she may also be called at any time to some other job.

"It's good work for women who want to be employed only part time," she said. "A lot of men work it as a second job."

Mrs. Bellmer now has earned her corporal's stripes with Burns and wants to keep on advancing. She'd like eventually to be a road inspector and travel around on the job to check the various guards on duty.

In off hours—not too many of them, she admits—she likes to target shoot and do some hunting, and she enjoys a variety of outdoor activities like hiking, fishing and camping.

"I also write poetry," she added, "and sometimes I love to just take the time to chat with a child or older person. I feel I can learn much from the elderly."

A woman's libber?

"Not exactly," she said, "although they do have some good points. There are many interesting fields of work that should be more acceptable for women today."

Victims of rape will receive aid

A helping hand to victims of rape in the Detroit metropolitan area is being extended by two organizations.

Round-the-clock counseling for rape victims has been instituted by the Detroit Rape Crisis Line.

Several doctors have launched a campaign to provide better medical treatment of these victims following a seminar at Hutzel Hospital in the Detroit Medical Center.

"Most rape victims have many questions and don't know where to find the answers," said Cate Sarachild, a member of the Detroit Rape Crisis Line, which sponsors the phone service rape victims may reach by calling 872-RAPE.

Immediate information about the process of reporting and prosecuting a rape, or just be there if they need someone to talk to," she said.

Women who staff the crisis line will refer victims to lawyers, doctors, and other professionals when this is necessary.

The organization is also dedicated to preventing rape through education and self-defense.

Attending the seminar on rape at Hutzel Hospital were Dr. T.N. Evans, chief of gynecology and obstetrics at Hutzel and chairman of the department of gynecology and obstetrics at the Wayne State University School of Medicine, and Records Court Judge George W. Crockett Jr.

Other members of the panel were Dr. Ethelene Crockett, Dr. Kamran S. Moghissi, Katherine Lesney of the Detroit Police Women's Division and Joan Clarke and Patricia Boyle, both assistant Wayne County prosecuting attorneys.

Dr. Evans said that all hospital emergency rooms in the area would soon be provided with a suggested plan for examining and treating rape victims.

The plan was described by Dr. Moghissi, a gynecologist and obstetrician on the staff of Hutzel Hospital. He prescribed management of the rape victim's injuries, careful preparation of a medical report that will help in the investigation by police, counseling as needed, and the administrations of medications to prevent venereal disease and pregnancy.

The three doctors on the panel all suggested that the program be adopted by private physicians as well as hospital emergency room personnel.

Dr. Moghissi added that the physician should also aid in the investigation by noting any evidence of force and saving any stray hair or threads of clothing that could help identify the rapist.

Lt. Lesney offered specific suggestions as to how a woman could protect herself from rape. These include:

Be wary in dark areas and carry a flashlight in the hand, not just in the glove compartment of the car.

Park in lighted areas. If you think you are being followed, get out of the area, call for help or ring a doorbell of a nearby house.

Make a noise if you think you are going to be attacked. A police whistle is handy. Even under the worst circumstances, try to talk calmly to the attacker.

Have suitable locks on all windows and doors.

The Detroit Rape Crisis Line advises that rape is America's most frequently committed violent crime.

According to FBI reports, the rape rate rose 11 per cent between 1971 and 1972. Considering that criminologists estimate that only 10 - 20 per cent of rapes are ever reported, that means one rape occurs in this country every minute.

Levin visits Canton in campaign for governor

SANDER LEVIN (standing) spoke before the Canton Democratic Club Wednesday night. (Staff photo by Steve Duncan)

By STEVE DUNCAN

CANTON — Local Democrats holding a rally Wednesday in the cafeteria of Plymouth Canton High School waited for the first major political figure ever to visit Canton.

It was Sander M. Levin, candidate for governor, coming to endorse the Canton Democratic Club slate for Canton Township Board of Trustees:

Robert Greenstein for supervisor; Carl Parsell for treasurer; and Gerald Cheske, Joseph DeLauro and Robert Myers for trustees.

Approximately 100 were in the audience.

Levin, coming directly from a speaking engagement in Port Huron didn't arrive until 10 p.m.

During the interim each of the club's local candidates spoke:

Greenstein, "Bring the laws and building codes up to date for the people's benefit, not the builders."

Cheske, "The toothless zoning laws allow speculators to buy, tie-up, and sell property without income to the community."

DeLauro, "People are primary to government, builders are secondary, money is secondary."

Myers, "Here are some homeowner rights and bills for consumer protection."

Parsell, "Builders are running the township and the people, not township officials."

A question and answer period followed with political speeches from two visiting Democrats running for office.

Levin, in his second bid for governor of Michigan introduced his wife Vicky as a candidate for first lady of Michigan, then got into his speech.

Basically the gubernatorial candidate focuses problems to the state level saying, "It's easy to blame Nixon for everything though he deserves his share (laughter), but Nixon didn't appoint the commissioners on the Michigan Service Commission who raised the utility rates out of sight."

Levin said it was the present governor.

Levin also stated the present governor is not providing active leadership for Michigan residents at the national level. According to Levin, Michigan receives less return on its federal tax dollars than any other state in America. "New York receives 98 per cent of its tax dollars back; California receives 87 per cent, and other states receive a major portion of their tax dollars until you reach Michigan, last on the list."

The candidate said active leadership by the governor with respect to federal tax money could help improve this situation.

Levin, who lost by less than one percent of the vote in the 1970 gubernatorial election, is taking his campaign to the grass roots level saying, "people are tired of artificial, pre-fabricated politics." He admits he can't knock on every door in the township because he doesn't "have that many shoes."

When he added, "besides, my car probably couldn't take the roads," he received applause and laughter. Poor road conditions in Canton Township was a sore spot with the audience.

Fielding questions from the floor he answered:

On the two cent mass transit gasoline tax— he was and still is against a tax without the consent of the people.

On indiscriminate land use by builders— there should be controls on the use of land so that this natural resource can be maintained for our children. He added he wasn't in favor of a state controlled agency to this effect.

On lottery money— he is in favor of earmarking all lottery money into education instead of the general treasury where it goes now.

On the closing of mental health facilities— mental health facilities can be just as effective at community level as at state level, though both can become "warehouses" if not inspected.

On rising utility costs— appoint a new chairperson for the Michigan Service Commission — someone who cares about the consumer not balance sheets, and equalize utility prices between home owners and heavy industry. Homeowners "pay 70 per cent more for electricity and 80 per cent more for gas than heavy industry."

Homeowners are subsidizing heavy industry. Consumers Power is "damn inefficient."

On mobile home inequities— the little man with a mobile home is zapped with unfair fees and practices by trailer park owners and a commission should be set up to study this condition.

On the two cent mass transit gasoline tax— he was and still is against a tax without the consent of the people.

Educators return from capital trip

School board and administration officials from Westland, Plymouth and Garden City have returned from an educational conference in Washington co-sponsored by U. S. Reps. William Ford (D-Taylor) and John Dingell (D-Dearborn).

The three-day program last week was held to give local school officials a chance to get first-hand information on legislation and programs involving school districts.

Speakers at the conference were Dr. Terrel Bell, U. S. commission of education, Russell Peterson, chairman of the president's Council on Environmental Quality, U. S. Rep. James O'Hara (D-Utica), and Eugene Krassick, assistant Michigan attorney general who along with private attorney John Weaver briefed school officials on the metropolitan Detroit school integration suit before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Other speakers covered educational funding, pending legislation, vocational education, compensatory education and school lunch programs.

PLYMOUTH officials attending the conference were Dr. E. J. McClendon, board president, Mrs. Marda Benson, board trustee, and Dr. Earl Hogan, deputy superintendent.

Garden City delegates were Gerald Engwis, board president, Mrs. Delora Yori, board trustee, and John Giacomini, assistant superintendent.

Wayne-Westland delegates were board members Robert Reichard, Mrs. Anne Harbison, Fred Warmber and Vincent Petitpre, and Dr. Timothy Dyer, superintendent, Dennis O'Neill, administrative assistant, Warren Spurlin, assistant superintendent for curriculum, Dr. James Doyle, director of research, evaluation and program planning, and James Linderman, coordinator of state and federal programs.

Irv Rozian attacked for 'conflict'

PLYMOUTH — The executive director of the Michigan Township Association claims Plymouth Township Resident Irving Rozian, a member of the State Boundary Commission, was in conflict of interest by endorsing the recent consolidation proposal.

Col. Joe Parisi, in his column in the Michigan Township News' June issue, blasted Rozian for his comments in favor of the recent consolidation proposal which appeared in the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric.

"In almost 40 years of experience in government, I have never seen a more blatant example of conflict of interest..." Parisi said in his column, referring to Rozian's statement in this paper prior to the election.

The township association executive director called for Rozian's resignation or that he be removed from the boundary commission by the governor.

"All the governor and members of the Legislature need to do is read the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric to obtain all the evidence they need to remove Mr. Rozian," Parisi said.

City plan contract renewed

PLYMOUTH—City commissioners have renewed a contract with the planning consultant firm of Vilcan-Lerman. The new contract calls for a consultant to attend planning commission meetings and provide appropriate services for $250 per month.

In addition, the consultants were given approval to spend up to $1,000 a month for any work deemed necessary for the central business district development. The commission added a provision calling for monthly progress reports on any work on the downtown project.

Franklin Berry's tops Clarenceville, 6-1

After falling to Churchill, 3-2, Franklin Berry bounced back to the tune of a 6-1 win over Clarenceville Fischetti to stand at 4-1 in the Berry Mack American loop.

The Churchill contest was a first between the two Berry's sponsored clubs who both advanced in state play last summer and the newly crowned State Class A prep champion Churchill sparkled bright.

Churchill got off to a first inning 2-0 lead. Mike Gottshall was safe on an error at third but was erased at second with Gary Condon on at first on a fielder's choice.

Condon stole second and scored on a hit by Larry Lipa who moved around to third when the ball scooted by the right fielder. Lipa scored on a hit by Kevin Nelson.

Franklin got one back in the fourth and threw away another scoring chance. Tim Livesay opened with a hit and Joe Pollard drew a walk. Jim Baigrie moved the two along with an infield out and the stage was set for a squeeze but Jamie Knapp missed the sign and Livesay was a sitting duck between third and home. Knapp shook off the missed play and delivered a hit to score Pollard and the margin was sliced to 2-1.

Churchill upped it to 3-1 in the fifth. With one out, Lipa doubled, Rod Hawraney singled and Nelson singled in Lipa.

The sixth saw Franklin again threaten but once again come up short on a key play. Livesay singled, stole second and went to third on a fly. Knapp came through with another run-scoring hit but attempted to stretch it into a double and was cut down at second by 15 feet to thwart off another drive.

Franklin gave it one final shot in the last of the seventh. Dave Panzoff hit Dan Longeway and pinch-hitter Mickey Fisher sacrificed Longeway along who wound up on third after a groundout.

But Panzoff got his way out of the jam by striking out Tom Tresik.

Panzoff went the seven inning route for Churchill and gave up seven hits, walked one and struck out five. Knapp suffered the defeat for Franklin and was touched for five hits, walked one and struck out three.

The Clarenceville Fischetti contest saw Franklin Coach Paul Hunt go with Dave Watkins and the right-hander came through with a six-hit, walked one and struck out five.

Mike Hill took the loss as he was touched for 12 hits.

A single by Knapp, stolen base and hit by Livesay gave Franklin a 1-0 lead in the first.

Merchants survive scare to remain unbeaten, 6-5

The Plymouth Merchants of the Berry National league overcame six errors and three unearned scores to nip South Farmington, 6-5, and remain unbeaten at 4-0.

It was victory No. 3 for Plymouth hurler Bill Parson but it was his roughest going this season as he was tagged for 10 hits, walked one and struck out two. Don Hunt took the loss for Farmington with Plymouth getting its six runs on eight hits.

It was 4-0 South Farmington after the top of the second with Plymouth pushing across one in the last of the seventh when Dave Pink walked and Chris Martucci ripped out a double.

Pink started off the fourth inning rally for Plymouth on a strikeout when the catcher fumbled the ball. Brian Stemberger followed with a hit and Pink dashed in on a fielder's choice.

Plymouth finally overcame the second inning deficit in the fifth.

Bob Ayotte got the Chiefs rolling with a walk and Tom Close doubled him to third. Mike Verduce doubled both home, Parson walked, Pink sacrificed him along and after Stemberger walked, Martucci hit into another run-scoring fielder's choice to make it 5-4 Plymouth.

After South Farmington notched it at five-all in the sixth, Plymouth tucked it away in the top of the seventh. Pink singled and after Stemberger popped out, Martucci came through with a three-bagger and the victory belonged to Plymouth with Parson retiring Farmington, 1-2-3 in the last of the inning.

Female umpires are getting their share of 'the say'

By RON GARBINSKI

In the beginning, girls took the field as little leaguers, chased foul balls as bathys and sometimes argued close decisions around home plate as coaches.

Today, Rhonda Dreher and Sharon Hodder are deciding those close decisions at the plate as well as calling balls and strikes.

They are women umpires working games in the Plymouth Women's Softball League. But for them, it is not part of a movement for equal rights.

"We are not doing this for a women's lib movement," says Miss Hodder, "but rather for enjoyment."

"And we are just as qualified and have the same training as the men," Miss Dreher was quick to add.

Both are umpires for the Westland Athletic Association and have been umpiring softball games since the beginning of the season in Plymouth. Every Thursday evening they dress in their cranberry uniforms and take to the field to umpire two women's games at the Canton Center softball fields.

"We really enjoy it," explains Miss Hodder. "There is just so much you have to know as an umpire, it is amazing. We were not aware of half the things involved."

"There are so many rules and small things you never realize as a player," continues Miss Dreher. "At the end of our games, we are more tired than the players themselves."

Miss Hodder and Dreher have been interested in softball a long time. In fact, they have been playing softball for organized teams in Westland for many years. This year, they still play on Westland teams and umpire on the side.

Their desire to become umpires began last year when they kidded George Gillis, head of the Westland Athletic Association, and said they could do as good a job umpiring as the men.

"We used to get on the umpires at our games softball quite a lot," says Miss Hodder, "and we would always tell George that we could do just as good as his men."

Well, their opportunity to prove just how good they really are soon came. One day, Gillis asked the two to tryout as umpires for the Westland association. They accepted the challenge.

"We thought he was only kidding at first," remembers Miss Dreher, "but we soon found out he was serious.

"George hand selects all his umpires," she says, "and the test his gives them is a dilly. He is strict and really gets on you at meetings."

"In most associations the guys just pay a fee to become umpires," says Miss Hodder, "but with George it is different. When we went through his training, he had four clinics, blackboard sessions and on the field training." "He really taught us how to call bases, too," explains Miss Dreher. "He would set out bases in a parking lot and show us how to make the calls. You could hear him yelling all over the neighborhood. It was really funny and he was a great instructor."

According to Chuck Skene, Plymouth Parks and Recreation supervisor, there have not been any complaints about the two women umpires all season long.

"As long as we do not hear any complaints, we are very happy. The less we hear about them the better," he says. "To us, that means they are doing a good job. You do not hear people complain when the umpires do a good job, only when they are doing bad."

"Every manager in the league has come up to us and congratulated us on calling the games," says Miss Dreher. "Not once have we heard 'you are women.' It has been pretty good."

"Before the games we tell the managers that we will not discuss any conflicts on the field with anyone except the managers. That way, we feel, there is less chance of protest among the players," she continues. "But we still get a lot of flack."

"George always told us that the closer the play, the louder we should call them," says Miss Hodder. "When you put judgment into your calls, it always works."

The women umpires say sometimes

The Observer & Eccentric SPORTS

the managers try to scare them into making certain calls or the teams play under protest. "We tell them fine. If they want to play under protest, they can play under protest," says Miss Hodder. "They can always take the matter up with George. We are out there to call the game the way we see them and that is exactly what we are going to do."

Plymouth is a one umpire system but for practice the two umpires work the games together. "We usually switch positions between the two games we work," says Miss Dreher. "One will start out behind the plate for the first game and for the second game will work second base. "It is a lot better when we have the two of us out there making the calls. Each of us has a certain area to cover and we are always there to back each other up when needed."

"The first game we worked together," explains Miss Hodder, "there was spectator interference. At times like that it is knowing the rules that makes the difference."

When asked if they would like to someday umpire the men's softball games the two were hesitant to say yes.

"I do not think the men are ready for us now," says Miss Dreher. "I know some guys that say they would not play with women umpires. So, I do not think it will be for quite awhile."

"We would like to have a few arguments under our belts first," explains Miss Hodder. "We would then be able to call their games better when the going gets tough."

The response of the managers and players to the women umpires are quite varied. The remarks range from "they are crummy" to "it is good to have them." The general opinion among the league seems to be that the women are pretty good and very well trained. They "lay it right on the line" when making the decisions.

Some even say the women have brought consistency to the league in calling the rules. Before, they say, the decisions would vary greatly from one umpire to the next in all the games. "These girls seem to know what they are doing and are consistent in their calling," says one manager.

Other managers would quickly disagree with that observation. But that is the way managers are supposed to be, always disagreeing with something.

One male spectator says "they will never replace the men umpires, they are just not as good. But," he says, "they sure are fun to watch out there on the field."

Even if the girls do not play softball the way guys do, the women umpires seem to be just as good as men umpires.

"Play ball!"

Plymouth explodes in 11th to crush Southfield

Plymouth Bidwell came up with six runs on only three hits in the top of the 11th inning to rout Southfield Adray in loop competition, 8-2.

The loss dropped Southfield to a 6-3 mark while Plymouth jumped to a 6-2-1 showing.

Plymouth's Steve Huss and Southfield's Ron Silberstein locked in a two-all pitcher's battle before both were relieved in the 10th inning.

Huss went the first nine for Plymouth and gave up two runs on five hits, walked four and struck out 11. Rick Bylin worked in relief and gave up two hits in the two innings, walked one and struck out one. It was Bylin's third win against no defeats.

Silberstein was touched for two runs and eight hits in his nine innings and walked four and struck out three. Ron Dunkel suffered the loss with Plymouth collecting six runs on four hits, including five walks.

Plymouth opened the scoring in the top of the first when Chris Martucci was safe on an error, was sacrificed to second by Kurt Yockey and scored when Wayne Darragh walked, Steve Robb was hit by a pitch and Ken McLean drew a bases loaded walk.

The last of the first saw Southfield take a 2-1 lead. With two out, Silberstein and Sal Rizzo singled and Jim Lechner doubled both home.

Plymouth came back in the second to tie it at two-all. Mike Donoghue walked and with one out, Martucci hit into a fielder's choice with Donoghue out at second. Martucci was passed ball to second and scampered in on a two-bagger by Yockey.

Slo-Pitch Softball tourney announced

Entries are now being accepted for the second annual Northville area men's slo-pitch softball invitational which will take place beginning July 19 and wrap up on July 28.

All play will be on the weekends. It will be a double elimination tourney and there are openings for 24 teams. Rosters are limited to 16 players and there will be 35 trophies awarded along with jackets for the winning teams.

Entries are being taken on a first-come, first-serve basis and no metro players or teams will be allowed. The entry fee of $75 must be submitted by Friday, July 5, to tourney director Don Thomson at 19620 Marilyn, Northville, 48167.

In The Pocket

By W.W. EDGAR

No longer can the Detroit area lay claim to being the home of the best junior bowlers in the state.

This fact came to light when the Michigan Youth Bowling Association named its all-state teams and less than one third of the selections for the eight teams came from the metropolitan precincts.

Instead of Detroit and environs dominating the choices as in many other years, such places as Cheboygan, Alpena, Three Rivers, Sturgis, Marquette, Grand Rapids and Saginaw gained a share of the honors.

In spite of this shift Farmington Lanes, where Fred Hamlin has spent many hours developing a program, came through with two positions as did Allen Park, Warren and Rochester.

Chief among the Farmington honorees was Sharon Douglas who was named to the Major Girls first team. The other was little Alison Ronsheim, who earned a place on the Peanut division all-stars.

Rochester gained its share of the glory when Mark Mathews, who bowls at North-Hill Lanes, was honored with the major boys and Bill Wasserberger made the junior boys squad. On the girls side Marianne Poulin, also of North Hill Lanes, was honored with a position on the junior girls team.

Fred Vitali, one of the Stroh stars, doesn't let the weather bother him. He just goes right on winning tournaments and picking up prize money.

His latest triumph came in the Michigan Majors tournament held a week ago when he staved off a late challenge from Tom Kessler, of Southgate, to gain his third MMBA title.

To gain the victory, he won nine of his 12 matches and averaged 202 for the 12 games in the finals.

Mike Totsky, another favorite, landed in third place after leading the qualifying round with a 1265 count for the six games.

Long time friend "Doc" Reinsh believes in practicing what he preaches.

For years he has preached the gospel to his patients that bowling was one of the best ways to relax. And every Wednesday afternoon you can find him at Westland Bowl — staying in shape for the winter season.

There is no more ardent bowler and he reached the peak of enthusiasm last season when his Wilson Dairy team won the title in the Westland Classic.

Wes Hoffman, grandson of Clarence Hoffman, former owner of Livonia Lanes, who was considered one of the best young bowlers in the area before his family moved to Menominee, still is going great guns.

Now a student at the University of Arizona, he earned a place on the varsity bowling team.

Bowling lost another friend this week with the sudden death of Bea Kimber, widow of Ted Kimber, who helped change the game through the invention of the "Kimber Bottom" for bowling pins.

Bowling at 9.30 a.m. doesn't seem to bother Harry Smith. A regular in the Wednesday morning Mixers at Westland Bowl, he fashioned a high game of 236 to top the list this week. Meanwhile, Fred Lockey took high series with 563. Mai Hawkin spaced the women's league with a 195 and Millie Ellis rolled a 507 to tie Linda Staggs for high series.

Bentley DMIC tips Churchill 'Pride'

Bentley High's junior varsity DMIC topped its Berry Mack National mark to four wins against one loss in a 5-2 decision over Churchill's junior varsity National Pride.

DMIC broke a one-all tie in the fifth with a score and added three in the sixth with Pride coming back with one in the last of the seventh.

Doug Mohr was the winning hurler with Brian Butcher getting credit for the save. Mohr gave up two runs on five hits, walked five and struck out eight.

Getting hit for the loss was Kurt Pitcher who was tagged for all five runs on 10 hits with just three runs earned. Pitcher walked four and struck out five.

Bentley got off to a second inning, 1-0 lead on a walk to Mark White, two stolen bases and a single by Greg Gilchrist.

Steve Chilenko's Pride team tied it at one-all in the last of the fourth. Sam Bird was safe on an error, stole second, went to third on a groundout and was sacrificed in by Dave Kuhn.

DMIC retained its lead in the fifth when Kevin Miceli singled and stole second. Brian Butcher walked and Mike Robbins singled in Miceli.

Four hits in the sixth off the bats of Mohr, Miceli, Butcher and Robbins topped DMIC's lead to 5-1 in the sixth and all National Pride could come back with a lone score in the last of the seventh.

Pitcher singled, Bird singled and with one out Phil Skender walked and after a run scoring fielder's choice, Butcher was called to the mound and shut off the Pride rally.

Plymouth Elks top 8th, 3-1

The Plymouth Elks came up with two runs in the top of the eighth to hand Bentley Crowe its first defeat in the Berry Mack American loop race, 3-1.

And for Coach Wayne Sparkman, who wasn't even there at the finish, it was win No. 2 against two losses. Sparkman had to leave after seven innings due to a ninth wedding anniversary dinner.

"After three straight years of missing an anniversary dinner because of baseball, the wife said no way this time," commented Sparkman who put his assistant Jim Grimmer in charge.

Tom Willette started on the Plymouth mound and chalked up his second win against one loss. Willette lasted the first seven innings, gave up one run on only two hits, walked six and struck out 10. Glenn Stevens and Tom Schultz were the lone Crowe combatants to collect hits off Willette.

Chuck Thomas got credit for the save when he retired Bentley 1-2-3 in the last of the eighth on only six pitches.

Curt Richards and Dan Vezina worked the Bentley mound with Plymouth collecting nine hits and Vezina taking the loss.

Plymouth let two early scoring chances slip as Willette was tossed out at the plate in the first on a hit by Jeff Waller and the Elks left the bases loaded in the second without scoring.

Plymouth finally got on the board in the third when Waller singled and was wild pitched to second where he scored on a hit off the bat of John DenHouter.

Bentley Crowe got back into the contest in the sixth with threats of breaking it all wide open. Mark Newell walked and after Paul Roshurt went down swinging, Ernie Storm's sacrifice attempt wound up being a fielder's choice with Newell out at second and Storm safe at first with two out.

Bob Cross was safe on an error at short and Bob Waldo beat out an infielder's choice to fill the bases. Ric Neville tapped a roller to short that was booted to allow Storm to cross home. Willette finally recorded a strikeout to get out of the jam.

Plymouth just missed in the top of the seventh. With runners on first and third, Brian Wolcott was tossed out at the plate.

And Bentley Crowe did about everything but score itself in its half of the inning.

Tom Schulz singled, stole second and after an error at second, Dave Pierce threw Schulz out at the plate.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

The biggest guessing game going on at the present time in the metropolitan Detroit area is over the negotiating between Hazel Park and the mutual clerks union. With less than three weeks remaining of the Detroit Racing Association meeting, the bargainers are as far apart now as when they first sat down.

A year ago the union was dickering for a two-year pact, just as it had signed with the DRA but for some reason Hazel Park refused and now finds itself in quite a bind.

The Herb Tyner-Bernie Hartman combine, along with general manager Frank Stepek, must work out a contract in three weeks or face the prospects of a strike that could close the track until an agreement is reached.

We would hate to see a strike since it has been proven more than once that none benefits. Once a picket line forms, there is a great deal of ill-feeling and it is a long time before it is dissipated.

BUT GETTING back to the rumors coming out of the negotiations. Let's present what the union supposedly demanded in its initial confrontation with the Hazel Park team.

Our information is the union told management it wanted a guarantee of a six-day week, time and a half pay on Saturdays, double time on Sundays with a $10 daily hike for sellers and $15 per day for cashiers.

That appears to be a bit out of line but then what initial demands aren't when the negotiators sit down for the first time?

From what we were told, the track management just listened, made no comment and decided to come back another day to see if the union had softened its positions.

One couldn't expect that since the union is awaiting some sort of an offer from the track. The latest information we have via the rumor route is the management hasn't taken an official stand although all sorts of things have leaked out.

Presumably, and we use this word lightly, the Tyner-Hartman combine definitely plans to have Sunday racing, something the DRA turned down because it refused to pay double time for the Sabbath work.

IN ADDITION there is talk of a five-day week, with time and a half on Saturdays. Other than that there has been little talk of a boost in the daily salary, something union officials have repeated throughout the winter will have to be a must in signing any contract with Hazel Park this year.

Should the bargainers fail to reach an agreement, the track stands to lose some choice dates during the early part of the meeting if a strike is called.

It is a well known fact that wagering takes a decided dip after mid-September and a strike during the early weeks in August could be very costly to the track as far as wagering is concerned.

THERE ISN'T any way those losses could be recouped during the remainder of the meeting.

It will be interesting to see what de-

THURSTON HIGH'S Rick Westphal who placed third in both the 440 and 220 yard dashes in the state track meet has signed his letter of intent for Eastern Michigan University. Westphal clocked in at :49.1 in the 440 and :22.0 in the 220 in the state meet and became the first Michigan prep star ever to place in both events at the same meet. Rick was an All-Area performer, is an art major with a B-minus average and also runs the 100 yard dash in :09.9.

velops in the next two weeks. If the negotiators are still stymied, one wonders what effect it will have on the stables Director of Racing Bud Sears has induced to ship in from the east, midwest, Canada and far west.

One could almost win a bet that many will not ship in if there is a possibility of a strike. Owners and trainers know that if they leave a track and go to another, they can't go back if something happens that causes them to change their minds. Once you leave a track while the meeting is under way, you are not welcome back regardless of what the conditions are.

HARNESS RACING is enjoying the greatest season in history. Of the 23 tracks currently operating, 19 show increases in mutuel handle over 1973 figures.

Sportsman's Park in Chicago has outdrawn the runners at Arlington Park on seven of 14 competitive days and had outhandled the thoroughbreds on five of those days. New York's Roosevelt Raceway, now telecasting two nights a week, is compiling the healthiest figures since the introduction of off track betting.

Belfast, a four-year-old pacer owned by Bob Kalish, of Southfield, came from far off the pace in the final quarter to win in 2:04.3 Friday at Northville Downs. It was the gelding's fourth win this year and boosted his season earnings to almost $14,000.

Belfast was sixth on the outside at the three-quarter pole when Driver Tom Merriman flicked the whip a couple of times and the horse responded by passing the field and winning by almost three open lengths.

Redford nips Westland for ninth win in 10 starts

Ten games into the Adray schedule, Bob Atkins' crew from Redford is starting to kick up its heels.

Redford got by Westland Burger King, 3-2, for its ninth victory in 10 outings while Westland fell to 2-7.

"This is the best balance the Adray league has ever seen," commented Atkins. "But I still see a team winning it with only three or four losses."

Atkins called on RU grad Tom Nippa to start on the mound against Westland and Burger King Coach George Yakei went with his best in Art Mach.

Redford pounded out three runs in the opening inning and held on with Westland pumping in one in the fourth and one in the seventh.

Nippa lasted through two outs in the fourth before Atkins came in with ace reliever Tom Miller who finished the job.

Nippa gave up one run on one hit, walked three and struck out two in recording the win. Miller chalked up save No. 5 and allowed one run on two hits, walked two and struck out four.

Mach went the route for the losers and was tagged for the three runs on six hits, walked three and struck out eight.

The solo burst for Redford came in the last of the first with three runs on four hits. John Roy doubled and Kevin Bara singled him around to third.

Steve Friedman singled in Roy and Dave Harding drew a walk off Mach.

to fill the sacks. Mike Kahl delivered a two run single and it was 3-0 Redford.

Westland got one back in the fourth. With two down, Jeff Hodgkins batted out the first and only hit off Nippa after Ken Robinson walked to cut it to 3-1.

Then with a three ball and one strike count on Jerry Hamann, Atkins made the move and in came Miller who promptly struck out Hamann to halt the threat.

The last of the seventh saw Hamann draw a walk off Miller, and after two outs, J.P. McBride singled to slice it to 3-2. But Miller preserved the win when he got Glenn Ambrose to ground out.

ORDINANCE NO. XXI-N

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE UTILITY ORDINANCE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH FOR THE PURPOSE OF CHANGING WATER BENEFIT CHARGES ONLY.

THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

PART I. PURPOSE. Pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 342 of the Public Acts of 1939, as amended, of Act No. 94 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, and of certain covenants of the Township of Plymouth, for the purpose of changing water benefit charges and of affirming all other portions of Ordinance XXI as heretofore amended, Ordinance XXI shall be, and the same hereby is amended by PART II below.

PART II. The Utility Ordinance of the Township of Plymouth, Ordinance XXI, as heretofore amended, is hereby amended in the following manner and respects onlv:

SECTION NO. 5. PARAGRAPH NO. 4 - DEBT SERVICE RATES

For connections hereafter made to the Utility System the following sub paragraphs (b, c and d) will be added to this section and the following benefit charges shall apply:

(b) Debt Service Charges for existing single family residences may be paid in time payments of a minimum of $7.50 per quarter ($30.00 per year) or larger payments if required in order that the debt will be paid in full in a maximum of twenty five (25) years.

(c) Debt Service Charges for all new residential construction shall be paid in full when making an application to connect and shall be paid prior to the issuance of a building permit by the Township.

(d) Debt Service Charges for Industrial, Commercial and Schools may be paid on a quarterly basis within a ten (10) year period.

PART III. SAVING CLAUSE. Ordinance XXI and all amendments thereto and not inconsistent with or in conflict with this Ordinance XXI-N are hereby ratified, affirmed and preserved in full force and effect.

PART IV. CONFLICTING PROVISIONS REPEALED. All previous ordinances or parts of ordinances, and all amendments thereto, conflicting or inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance are repealed as of the effective date of this Ordinance.

PART V. EFFECTIVE DATE. The provisions of this Ordinance are hereby declared to be immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, safety and general welfare and are hereby deemed to take effect and be in force from and after the first day of August, 1974.

PART VI. ADOPTION. This Ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of Trustees of the Township of Plymouth, Wayne County, Michigan at its regular meeting duly held on the twenty fifth day of June, A.D. 1974, and ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

J.D. McLAREN, Supervisor
HELEN RICHARDSON, Clerk

Publish: July 1, 1974

"We received $1,000 several weeks ago from an anonymous donor. Some township residents have volunteered to hold parties in order to raise funds to help us," he added.

Yagella said he was hoping the Plymouth Community Fund will come through with help.

"We realize our contributions depend on local resources and deeply appreciate assistance from anyone."

He said that while most instructors are volunteers, there are some programs where salaries are paid.

"It takes money for these salaries, for material and equipment. It's plain and simple that to run the center the way it should be requires funds."

He said some parents are already helping, but there is always room for more assistance.

There is no membership fee to enjoy the center. Anyone is welcome to drop in and participate.

"If the community will support our programs here, it will be greatly appreciated. We feel the center is not only good for the youth but the entire community."

Police car rammed

PLYMOUTH—Two Plymouth police officers were slightly injured early Wednesday morning when their parked squad car was rammed by a 22-year-old Ypsilanti man who was also slightly injured.

Sgt. William Fletcher and Patrolman Roger Roy were parked on Ann Arbor Trail with the car's headlights on, when Mark Kenneth Hendricks, going east on Ann Arbor Trail, reportedly went through the red light at Main, and ran head on into the police car.

The officers were taken to Wayne County General Hospital, treated and released.

Hendricks was treated at the hospital and released to police. He was held in the Plymouth jail charged with reckless driving and violation of the controlled substance act pending arraignment.

PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT Plymouth, Michigan

BOARD OF EDUCATION MINUTES

The regular meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, was held on Monday evening, June 10, 1974, in the Little Theater of Plymouth-Canton High School, 8415 Canton Center Road, Plymouth, Michigan.

The meeting was called to order at 8 p.m. by President McClendon, following an informational agenda meeting.

Present: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, McClendon, Mack, Mirto and Turner.

Absent: None.

Administrators present: Sup't. Hoben, Deputy Sup't. Hogan, Assistant Sup't. Busness Hoedel, Adm. Assistant-Personnel Kee, Director Page, Supervisor Symonds and Principals Dodson, Elston, Lutz, Smith and Spaniel.

Others present: Representatives of the Safety Committee, Transportation Committee and P.E.A., R. Gladden, W. Hough, R. Myrtle, K. Otto, J. Powell, Delores Smith and about 50 citizens, parents and students.

Additions to the agenda were called and approved.

It was moved by Member Turner and seconded by Member Mirto to approve the minutes of the regular meeting of May 28, 1974, as published for the Board of Education.

Ayes: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, McClendon, Mack, Mirto and Turner.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

It was moved by Member Turner and seconded by Member Benson to approve the appointment of Benjamin F. Creech, 416 Sunset, Plymouth, to the School Board of Canvassers as a Democratic member and the affidavit being signed and sworn to by Mr. Creech was presented to the Board.

Ayes: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, McClendon, Mack, Mirto and Turner.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Suggestions from citizens were called. Wendell Hough, representing the Plymouth Hockey Association, rose to discuss further with the Board the matter of installing hockey as a part of the sports curriculum in the School District. A petition had been presented with parents' signatures at an earlier time and Mr. Hough now presented a petition circulated among students and faculty at the Centennial Park. Mr. Virgil Mooney, Vice President of the Association reviewed hockey over the years in Plymouth and stated that this coming year about 350 girls and boys will be involved and a budget set at $50,000. He asked that more consideration be given to hockey as a sport by the School District. He pledged his support to such participation. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Geddes, representing the Board of Directors of the Association, indicated that there is now a waiting list for girls on the hockey teams and asked that two varsity teams be set up, one each at Canton and Salem, so that letters and scholarship chances would be the same as for other sports. Students, James Hough and Miss Debbie Rowland, also spoke to the issue. Mr. Robert Myrtle, President, indicated his wholehearted endorsement of hockey in the high school. Board members raised several questions with the representatives.

It was moved by Member Lawton and seconded by Member Gray that since this Board did approve the implementation of a hockey program in the secondary schools last year but that as a result of a millage failure we did not implement the program, and since Mr. Sandmann has indicated that hockey teams would not participate in a varsity program between schools in the current year, that Mr. Wendell Hough, Mr. Robert Myrtle, Mr. John Sandmann and other persons in Central Administration appointed by Sup't. Hoben meet together as a committee and come back to this Board with recommendations for the implementation of a hockey program in the Plymouth Community School District this coming year.

Member Mirto raised several questions regarding the number of students available to participate and what leagues would be available for competition. Mr. Hough indicated a need for a declaration of intent from the Board. Member Benson indicated that she could not support the above motion until such priorities as a learning disabilities program, the 45-15 curriculum, the initiation of a social studies program and the question of girls' as well as boys' hockey were settled. Member Mirto indicated that the lack of funds so far had been the barrier but that the committee should sit down and look at budgetary requirements and come up with some type of viable competition. The question was called.

Ayes: Members Gray, Lawton, McClendon, Mack, Mirto and Turner.

Nays: Member Benson.

It was moved by Member Lawton and seconded by Member Benson that Miller Elementary School would start summer classes under the 45-15 program (from July 22 through August 23) one-half (1/2) hour earlier - starting time to be changed from 8:30 a.m. - and ending at 3:00 p.m., and that kindergarten classes would be held from 8:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. for morning students and 12:30 to 3:00 p.m. for the afternoon session; and that this schedule would be in effect for this summer only.

Ayes: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, McClendon, Mack, Mirto and Turner.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

During the course of the meeting, school election results were reported to the Board.

It was moved by Member Turner and seconded by Member Mirto that this Board receive officially and place on record the information received from Dr. Simmons regarding the notice from Wayne County Intermediate School District regarding one-mill tax increase election for special education, scheduled for August 6, 1974.

Ayes: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, McClendon, Mack, Mirto and Turner.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

It was moved by Member Gray and seconded by Member Turner to approve bills for payment submitted by administration as follows:

The motion was carried.

It was moved by Member Turner and seconded by Member Lawton that the Board of Education of the Plymouth School District make final payment to Spartan Sign, Inc., in the amount of $500 for the completion of the pedestrian overpass located at Fiegel Elementary School and that the Business Office be directed to bill Plymouth Township and Canton Township $12,469.02 each which is their respective share in the cost of the project; total cost of overpass reported as $37,407.06.

Ayes: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, Mack, McClendon, Mirto and Turner.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Hoedel reported that the Wayne County Road Commission has advised that all work under Permit No. C-3197 for the Fiegel Overpass has been satisfactorily completed and that all charges against the project have been paid.

It was moved by Member Turner and seconded by Member Lawton that the Plymouth Community School District make final payment to Orchard, Papke, Hiltz and McCliment, Inc., in the amount of $500 for engineering services rendered for the pedestrian overpass located at Fiegel Elementary School, total engineering services fee being $3,300.

Ayes: Members Benson, Gray, Lawton, Mack, McClendon, Mirto and Turner.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Hoedel indicated that the Fiegel overpass was officially opened on January 9, 1974, and that all children use the bridge now. It has become a real asset in improving safety for the children. A crossing guard was kept at the crossing location for about 4 weeks following the opening for safety purposes.

Member Mirto was excused from the meeting at this point.

It was moved by Member Turner and seconded by Member Lawton that the Plymouth Community School District refund school tax to the following taxpayers as directed by Mr. Louis H. Funk, Wayne County Treasurer, said refunds resulting from a reduction in assessment by the Michigan State Tax Commission:

Bloch Land Co., 1971 Assessment	Canton Township	$615.85

RELOCATING DOESN'T HAVE TO BE DISLOCATING.

We belong to RELO, a national real estate organization whose job it is to relocate you physically without relocating you mentally.

And this we can do. Through our association with RELO, we can help relocate you to at least 6,500 different communities throughout the country.

All you have to do is contact any one of our offices, and we'll take it from there.

But remember one thing. If we can relocate you from coast to coast with a minimum of woe, imagine what we can do anywhere around Detroit and its environs.

OLDE FASHIONED - We're a little that way when it comes to real estate salespeople. We are not really interested in the housewife with a few hours on her hands or the guy who just wants to make an extra buck. We'd like to think of ourselves as a professional organization with a dozen or so dedicated brokers & salespeople who take this business seriously. We have several openings, so if you think you would like to get a license with a company that still refers to their salespeople by name and not by number, give us a call.

A SUCCESSFUL GARAGE SALE AND HOW IT BEGAN...

It all started when a certain couple we know decided they had too many extras around their home. They no longer used the bicycle. They no longer needed the buggy. They no longer played the piano. They had a new typewriter and a new power mower - the old ones were usable but no-longer used. There were, in fact, dozens of extras taking up space - and they needed that space for the things they did use.

So they made a list of all those no-longer used items and determined a fair price for each of them. Then (and this is most important!) they placed a Garage Sale Want Ad in The Observer & Eccentric. The friendly Advisor at The Observer & Eccentric explained about the low Want Ad rates, Double Action Want Ads...and offered to help word the ad for best results. The rest is history. The day the Want Ad appeared in The Observer & Eccentric, the crowd appeared at the Garage Sale!

The couple who held the sale were very pleased. They sold every item they had for sale and gained the space they needed. The people who came to the Garage Sale were pleased too...pleased that they'd been watching The Observer & Eccentric's Classified Pages and pleased that they found such bargains!

Why not plan your own successful Garage Sale? All it takes is a decision to sell your no-longer needed items...and a Want Ad in The Observer & Eccentric. What could be easier?
