'Are Canton planning commissioners serving legal terms?' board asked

By W. EDWARD WENDOVER

CANTON — Only two of Canton Township's seven planning commission members are serving legally definable terms of office.

That contention, made last Friday by Trustee Brian Schwall, is now under investigation by the township board which voted Tuesday night to discuss the matter at its July 23 meet-

In a three-page letter to the board, Schwall charged that the official minutes of the board and the planning commission show the planners' terms have been "hopelessly confused."

According to state law, the seven planning commissioners must be appointed by the township supervisor with the approval of the township board in staggered terms of three first Canten Township Planning Commission was appointed on Aug. 23, 1960, the three - year terms rotation has never kept up with reappointments or when vacancies on the commission were being filled.

"If one were to research this topic carefully, as I have done, one must conclude that at most two of our planning commissioners are presently serving legally definable terms," Schwall said.

"If the majority of this commission can be considered to be presently serving illegally, grave doubts must be cast upon the legality of their corporate actions.

"In particular, I am concerned about the new master plan which this planning commission is so anxious to adopt and which they could very easily pass judgment upon, at least in part, within the next month."

The planning commission, which has set a public hearing on a proposed new master plan for July 30, has the power to adopt a master land use plan for the township.

After Schwall's letter was read at Tuesday's Canton Township Board meeting Township Supervisor Phil Dingeldey told the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric that the township's attorney has been asked to look into the

Commenting on Schwall's charges, Dingeldey said, "Maybe what he's (Schwall) seen is fine, but there's a. lot to look into

"I'm not sayiny he's right and I'm not saying he's wrong," Dingeldey

Township Clerk John Flodin said that while he had not been able to research all the board and commission minutes since 1960, he had checked into some of them.

"Essentially he's (Schwall) correct," Flodin said.

Ironically, Flodin was one of the former planning commissioner members Schwall said was not legally appointed according to the minutes. Schwall said that although Flodin served on the planning commission from January 1969 to January 1971, there was no record in the minutes of his appointment.

Responding to that, Flodin said, "I know I was appointed.

"If it's not in the minutes, it's probably an error on my part. I'm like everybody else, I make mistakes." But Flodin added that he did not think Schwall's charges regarding other planning commission appointments could be boiled down to their simply not having been recorded in the minutes.

"I don't think that's the case in all of these," Flodin said.

In his letter to the board, Schwall asked that board members research the charges, direct the July 30 public hearing to be cancelled, suspend all action of the planning commission until the matter is resolved, make future appointments only after publicly interviewing all candidates and make all future appointments in keeping with the state law which also says the planning commission members should be "representative of major interests as they exist in the township."

In a telegram to the township board and to the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric, Carl Parsell, president of the Windsor Park Civic Association, also raised the planning commission appointment legality question.

"Now this question has reached crisis proportion with the filing of (Dominic) Moceri's lawsuit," Parsell said. A draft of his telegram was read at Tuesday's meeting.

He said the planning commision's legality being in question might strengthen the position of Moceri in his suit seeking to overturn the township board's denial of his proposed regional shopping center at Joy and Sheldon roads.

The planning commission had unanimously approved the project.

worth is the son of a man who homesteaded there in 1900, and grew up "among the jackrabbits and coyotes."

Today at 87 he can remember when part of Tulsa was a ragtown, meaning that the inhabitants lived in tents and covered wagons. He also saw plenty of Indians.

"No two ways about it," he said "The Indians were nice, friendly people. We all lived together around there. Blacks too. I can't remember bigger than the ones grown here with ever hearing of an Indian arrested for the help of 100 pounds of fertilizer. stealing or anything."

When Foreman was older he moved home and built a house.

"It was just one room but I thought Delbert Foreman of 11310 South- it was pretty nice," he recalled, adding that some people there lived in sod houses made of mesquite grass and others lived in a half dugout. This consisted of a hole dug in the ground and lined with boards and sod.

Legislators vote boost pension

By BOB ERICKSON

Despite the pressures of an unfinished state budget and prospect of an election year, state legislators have found the nerve and time to raise their own retirement benefits while simultaneously lowering their contributions to the retirement fund.

Local legislators split over the issue with representatives John Bennett (D-Redford), Robert Geake (R-Northville), John Markes (D-Westland) and Thomas Brown (D-Westland) all voting for the passage of the bill while William Keith (D-Garden City) voted against passage and Raymond Smit (R-Ann Arbor) did not vote. The final house vote was 61-38.

The vote in the senate to concur with the bill and send it on to the governor for his signature showed Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) voting against the bill while Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) voted for it. The final vote in the senate was 20-14.

The legislative retirement bill passed with little debate and no outspoken opposition in either house even though a total of 49 legislators voted

Key provisions of the bill reduce lawmaker contributions to the fund from 10 per cent to five per cent of salary, permit a lawmaker to retire with full benefits at age 55 instead of age 60, and raise maximum benefits after 16 years of service from 50 to 60 per cent of his highest salary.

The Felician Sisters of Livonia will sponsor their annual summer festival Sunday, July 14, from noon to 8 p.m. at Ladywood High School, 14680 Newburgh, Livonia, south of Five Mile.

Proceeds from the festival will go for the retirement fund of the Felician Sisters of 36000 Schoolcraft, Livonia.

The rub for many is that they have only two tanks and must drop premium to make room for the lead-free.

Agency rules are designed to provide an ample supply of lead-free gas for 1975 cars equipped with catalytic converter anti-pollution devices. Until the new models come out, however, few motorists want to buy the high-priced lead-free fuel.

"It's awfully, awfully expensive to put a new tank in," said a spokesman for Total Legnard Co., owners of The new Environmental Protection Total stations. While many companyowned stations can afford to add a new tank, independent operators often find the cost prohibitive.

> Hoffman said his station loses about 20 customers every day because he no longer sells premium. "They're going to go somewhere where they can get premium," he said. "There are a lot of cars running around yet that use premium gas and can't take anything

L & D pumps about 100,000 gallons per month, far more than the minirnum beyond which lead-free must be sold. Owners Hoffman and Dennis Richardson used to pump more than 9,000 gallons of premium each month,

Some of their customers have tried to switch to regular. "On-some of the cars you can set the timing so that they don't knock so badly," Hoffman said. "But some of them are pitiful. You can only take out so much of the knock."

How often does the station get a customer for its lead-free product? "We get about one every three days, if we're lucky," Hoffman said.

"WE'VE HAD lead-free for two weeks, but we haven't sold any," said Steve Pattas, who works at the Clark station on Middle Belt in Livonia. The Clark station has also lost some premium customers.

"People come in with their Corvettes and asked for it," Pattas said.

"Lead-free doesn't sell well at all," said Bill Hudson of the Clark station on Warren Road in Garden City. Hugh Caldwell, former general manager of the X-Press 100 stations and owner of the new Wessex station on Plymouth Road in Livonia, agrees. "It doesn't move at all," he said.

Because Caldwell's station has been open only a few months, it has yet to establish an annual sales figure and doesn't have to carry the lead-free

The Wessex station and others not exceeding the 200,000 gallon limit plan to stay with premium. "We're going, to keep lead-free out as long as we can," said an attendant at Elmer's Arco on Starkweather Street in Plymouth. Elmer's stocks the traditional combination of regular and pre-

Township moves on sewer project

By MARIE McGEE

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—Over the objection of the supervisor and one member, the Plymouth Township mard of Trustees Tuesday night ebted to proceed with plans for a gur-part, $2 million sewer expansion rogram.

The proposed project would cover: Byron Creek trunk extension:

Plymouth Hills Subdivision, Tonquish Creek trunk extension and the Sly Drain trunk extension.

Actually, the project is a re-hash of sewer programs presented in the past, according to Herald Hamill, of Brender-Hamill, township engineers.

"We've been working on this since 1968," he told the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric, "in one form or anoth-

The resolution authorizes Township Attorney Donald Morgan to proceed with obtaining approval from the bond counsel and directs the engineer to prepare the necessary plans for the project for presentation to county. At one point in the brief discussion pervisor J. D. McLaren and Trustee of the proposal, Millington asked "at what point do we learn when we will need additional millage?"

Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes replied that she felt additional millage would not be necessary. A combination of a higher SEV (state equalized value) and the retirement of 1958 sewer bonds in 1975 should make additional millage unnecessary, she said.

"It shouldn't cost any more," she told the board.

Still hanging fire, however, is a lawsuit filed when a similar proposal was turned down. The petitioner, Greg Donovan, filed suit against the township for failure to furnish his property with sewer facilities. The petitioner charged that he had been promised sewers and on that basis purchased the property.

According to Wolfe, there is presently about $25,000 in federal funds available to Carton for the project. It is estimated that it will cost approximately $24,000 to hire the men from Aug. 1 through Dec. 31.

"There is a three mill proposal on the Aug. 6 ballot which will provide funds for hiring the men in the future if it is passed. Wolfe said.

From morning until night, hour after hour, heavy tandem trucks loaded with earth are travelling along Schoolcraft Hoad playing a leading part in an earth moving project that will conclude with the completion of the Jeffries Expressway and an interesting face-lifting for the City of Li-

The earth is being taken from the middle of Schoolcraft to produce the sunken section of the latest link in the state highway system.

If you are like most people, you wonder how much earth has to be moved, what it costs to move it, where it is being taken and for what use. Well, you need wonder no longer.

THIS WEEK the state highway department released the figures.

The earth moving contract for the area between Warner, in Redford Township, and Newburgh in Livonia, was awarded in two parts and calls for the removal of 4,631,992 cubic yards of earth at a cost of $6.8 mil-

The first section, from Warner to Farmington Road, was given to the Holloway Contracting Co, and calls for the excavation of 980,872 yards at a cost of $2|7 million.

The second section, from Farm-

Wayne Road to be widened

Bids for the $1.2 million widening of a portion of Wayne Road will be taken July 17 by the State Highway Commission.

The project will result in expansion of Wayne Road to five lanes between Van Born Road and the Penn Central railroad tracks in the City of Wayne.

"This is the largest of 33 projects for which bids will be taken on that date," says $en. William Faust (D-Westland), whose district includes Westland, Garden City and Canton

"The project, which includes grading, drainage structures, curb and gut-ter, will be totally financed through the Federal Aid Urban Program." Completion has been scheduled for September 1975.

Returning pennies can save millions

The United States Department of the Treasury has announced a citation program designed at alleviating shortages of pennies in circulation.

According to Mary Brooks, Director of the Mint, a special citation will be awarded to any individual or group for every $25 or more worth of pennies cashed in a bank.

Currently, 30 billion pennies are out of circulation. Miss Brooks said if 15 billion of those pennies were returned to circulation it would amount to a savings of $150 million to taxpayers.

ington Road to Newburgh, is a joint venture involving three contractors— The Kensington Corp., Greenfield Construction Co and Angelo Di Ponio. This calls for the excavation of 3,651,120 cubic yards at a cost of $4.1 million.

An interesting part of the contracts concerns what is to be done with the

The first section calls for the Holloway Co. to haul 517,520 cubic yards for fill along Highway I-275 in the area between Michigan Avenue and Ford Road.

This means that the contractor will have a surplus of 463,352 cubic yards for sale and distribution.

The second section calls for the joint contractors to deliver 825,000 yards for fill at the I-275 and US 12 in-

When this amount is delivered there will be a surplus of 2,826,120 cubic yards which can be used for any number of projects.

The best part of the project is the fact that the prime contractor has handed out work to subcontractors and are helping to change the face of the entire community.

One of these sub contractors is Frank Churchill, former mayor of Berkley, who now deals in top soil and earth moving.

AT THE MOMENT his men are filling a bit of acreage just south of Schoolcraft and east of Levan Road to provide a tractor test track for the Massey-Ferguson Co.

"This is only a small job," he said while guiding one of the trucks through the dust. "I sold 20 thousand yards to the Burroughs Corporation and provided four million yards for the crossing at Haggerty Road and I-94, and another seven million for Thompson-Brown real estate developments. And I have an order for 70 thousands yards from the C&O railroad to be used in Plymouth."

After reeling off these figures Churchill, choking back the dust, confided: "They better get the earth now. In a few years there won't be any top soil or fill available."

While most of the earth is being used to build the ramps on the freeways and provide the entrances and exits at the bridges, Contractor Churchill had another interesting observation.

"When we fill many of these big holes it eliminates many of these accidental drownings where a person falls in a hole and can't get out.

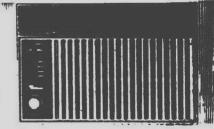

"On top of that we are changing the face of the earth- especially in industrial areas— where the fill is used as the base of lawns and the beautification of what otherwise could be a dreadful sight."

There was some talk recently that the contractors were willing to provide a ski hill on Seven Mile Road in Livonia, but that didn't develop because of the residents' complaints.

Years ago, when downtown Detroit expressways were being developed, the earth was used to enlarge Belle Isle and make it a beauty spot. No such thing is happening in Livonia. Instead of being used to beautify one location, Livonia's face lifting takes in most of the community. And the great project will not be finished for at least two years.

District Democrats hand out endorsements

By LEONARD POGER

Fifteenth District Democrats Thursday gave "dual endorsements" in two coun y commissioner races while rejecting moves to deny support of two State House incumbents.

The delegates rejected a screening committee's recommendation and expanded the endorsements for candidates in the 20th and 21st county commission districts.

But the party let stand endorsements of state Reps. William Keith of Garden City and Thomas Brown of Westland.

Opponents wanted a "no endorsement" in the 33rd and 37th House districts.

With an estimated 65 of 200 delegates present, the party made the following endorsements in the contested races affecting Westland. Garden City, Plymouth and Canton Township:

State House, 33rd District, (Garden City and Inkster). Rep. William Keith: 37th District (Westland, Canton and Plymouth), Rep. Thomas Brown; 20th(county commission)District (Westland and Garden City). Commissioner Tom Taylor and Justine Barns: 21st District. (Westland, Inkster and Dearborn Heights). Commissioner John Barr and William Allgeyer: and 27th District (Westland, Canton and Plymouth), Royce Smith.

THE TAYLOR-BARNS primary race provided the most sparks for Democrats whose screening committee recommended that only Taylor be endorsed for a second two-year

Mrs. Barns, a Westland city councilman, appealed to delegates to consider her long record of involvement in the party and her work for party

But Taylor and his supporters opposed her proposed dual endorsement. citing her support of anti-labor actions and a Republican (Robert Wagner) for Westland council president.

Taylor cited Mrs. Barns' record on the Peoples Community Hospital Authority board of directors and its effort to waive a state regulation to allow a new hospital in Taylor.

After the 39-26 vote to make the dual endorsement, Mrs. Barns said she considered the action a cvictory for her.

THE COUNTY hospital issue was raised in the 21st county district race with the delegates adding Allgeyer to the list of endorsed candidates although the committee recommended backing only Barr.

Barr has proposed earlier this year that the county hospital be sold to a private agency which Allgeyer, a hospital employe and union leader, bitter-

The Stroller

A new twist for senior citizen housing

By W. W. EDGAR

Back in what they now refer to as "the good old days" when life was simple and Howard Johnson had only two flavors, one of the popular types of entertainment was attending the church bazaars, especially at the

"fish pond."
These ponds usually were set up in a corner and set apart with a heavy canvas to help keep the identity of the keeper a secret.

Each customer was asked to try his luck at "fishing" and in turn, they'd toss a line with a hook on it over the top of the canvas and await for a "fish" to strike.

Once the customer felt a tug on the line it was a signal to pull in his "haul". This usually consisted of a small gift tied to the line by one of the volunteer church workers.

It always was great fun-and a bit of suspense as the fisherman waited to see what he'd land. Well, the old courch bazaars have taken on a new look these days and the old time fish pond is gone. But The Stroller is reminded of them each morning when he opens the mail. There is no telling what the envelopes contain or what he has landed in the way of a prize. Sometimes, the catch is well worth while and the sender of the letter offers an idea worth considering.

For instance, a short time ago he got a real strike when he opened a letter from Frederick Bradley, a retired engineer now living in Northville.

NOW A SENIOR CITIZEN Bradley rendered the opinion that a different approach should be taken in the attempt to furnish housing for senior citizens. And his idea proved most in-

He proposes that a survey be taken in areas about 15 miles square to find out what type of housing or "home", the Senior would like in the twilight of his life. It's that simple.

"Every senior thinks, at least occasionsly of the time he no longer can handle the Old Homestead-it is too big, too old, the taxes are increasing. etc." Fred writes. "And he wonders if he can find a a home which really will be home to him, at a price he can

"Perhaps he doesn't like any of the types he has seen. Perhaps he still would like a private house, small, and on a small lot. Perhaps, even a mobile home in a senior park. Or perhaps he would rather stay right in his present home if outside maintenance could be taken care of for him.

"Right in this area," he continues. "there may be hundreds of seniors facing this problem. And they may have to make their decisions on a rather poor basis-not on what they would like but on what happens to be available.

"Why is this?"

It is, at least partially, because there never has been a real effort, or survey, to find out what all of the seniors would like-if available at a cost they could afford.'

FOR THAT REASON our Northville friend is planning a questionaire to get a true picture of the seniors' desires. He readily admits that there could be two types of answers-one by the seniors who have no problems and plan to stay in the Old Homestead. The other type would be recognition of the problems, of those who need assistance.

"There is always the chance," he writes that the planners will just con-

Hunting ban passed for Canton

CANTON-The Canton Township Board has adopted an ordinance which prohibits hunting in certain areas of the township.

The ordinance, which covers areas previously reported in the Plymouth Observer and Eccentric, would permit a court to find hunters in violation of a misdemeanor.

tinue on their merry way, without resenior complex might well be a comments and, perhaps housing with medgard to the wishes of those who would bination of several types of home: ical facilities and other "luxuri es" small houses on small lots, tow- which would add cost to the senior.

Well, at least, our Northville friend has opened a Pandora's Box and there is no telling what the results he ever caught in the ponds of the old may be- or if a survey ever is taken.

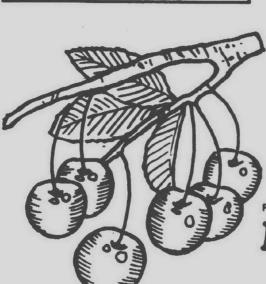

But, to the Stroller, his letter was a prize equal or better than any "fish" church bazaars back home.

PEA, schools -- please settle

If you were looking with interest toward the start of the pilot program in year round school for Plymouth, don't hold your breath.

In the on - again, off-again manuevers inherent in the collective bargaining system, the program seems doomed at the moment.

Both school administrators and

Plymouth Education Association (PEA, teachers' union) officials all describe the current contract bargaining situation as an "impasse."

And since the PEA has held its line that the year round school program scheduled to begin July 22 won't start unless a 1974 - 75 teacher contract is ratified, it looks as though the 45 - 15 program may not fly this summer as planned.

The school board is apparently holding its line that some alternative plan will have to be implemented - although no official decision has been reached.

In executive sessions Monday night (and a week earlier), the board dis-

(The board members — with the exception of Carl Berry and George Lawton, who are arguing for decision making in public-should be reminded that while negotiations are an appropriate topic for executive sessions, discussions of alternatives to be implemented are not. The people have a right to know what alternate plans are being considered - it's their children who will be affected.)

On Monday, when school and PEA negotiators met with a state mediator, no ground was gained in reaching a settlement and as of Tuesday, no further bargaining dates were set.

The effect of this is the possible death of 45 - 15.

(This statement of course should be cautioned with the fact that negotiation stands can change radically from day to day. One minute it's a crisis and the next minute, both sides are shaking hands for our photographer.)

However, as of Tuesday, an agreement seems far off and year round school's hopes look dim. July 19 is the deciding date.

It is quite appropriate at this point to remind both the school board and the PEA about the teacher strike in the not too distant past which left scars that still remain on the commu-

If the 45 - 15 program must be scrubbed, so be it.

But let's have a settlement before regular school starts.

If both sides are so sure of their stands they won't budge, it is time to consider fact finding and binding arbitration. Getting that under way now could mean school doors will open for the regular school year on time.

If the year round school program doesn't start as planned, the parents of the school children who would have attended there and of the children who may be moved to other schools to accommodate the burgeoning classroom population which 45 - 15 would have helped alleviate, can thank the PEA.

Having given tentative approval to year round school, the teachers waited until after the school millages were passed to air their demand for a settled contract before 45 - 15 starts. That left one month's time.

But at least the board must now recognize the PEA is going to be tough on negotiations - a fact to be dealt with before regular school sessions are scheduled to begin.

The voters of this district recently approved three bonding and millage issues (no millage increase though, teachers) and they deserve to have school start on time.

Nowry honored for work with veterans

By W.W. EDGAR

As he re-read the inscription he said, "You know, this award means more to me than any of the others I have received, including the purple heart and the two oak leaf clusters.

"This is recognition for something I did," he continued while standing in the living room of his Westland home at 38615 Joy. "It isn't for something that just happened to me."

THIS LATEST HONOR came as a complete surprise at the recent convention of the Disabled War Veterans Association in Port Huron. An inscription tells the real story of the veteran who spends his spare time helping his more unfortunate comrades in arms while holding down a position as receiving clerk with the Whitman-Barnes Co. in Plymouth.

"To Kenneth Nowry, who, surmounting his war disability, has achieved high goals in life and has contributed his resources to society as well as having served as a constant inspiration to his fellow man."

The award now takes the center position in a display that includes the national commanders membership award, the state top 10 recruiters award for membership and the Jack Solvin national award for the most members and percentage during the

He also was awarded the purple heart and two oak leaf clusters for wounds he suffered in action in the infanry shortly after the invasion of Normandy and later on the German front from 1943 to 1945.

while serving with the U.S. Marines in Vietnam in 1968.

"When I came out of service," he said, "I decided to do all I could to help other disabled veterans who were at loss as to what course to follow. I studied all the books and pamphelts I could find and became knowledgeable about all the rules and regulations regarding servicemen.

"For 19 years I have been giving my time to help my fellow man, and there scarcely is a day that I don't hear from someone in trouble."

Ken is most proud of his latest activity when he feels he saved a young vet from what could have been a disastrous life by turning him away from drugs and obtaining a job for him.

He didn't reveal the Korean War veteran's name, but he said, "He's joined our disabled veterans group, is working every day, and taking a new interest in life."

Ken, who was born in Plymouth and attended Plymouth High School, is married to Merry (Helen) Nowry, of Plymouth and they are the proud parents of four sons- Richard, the oldest who was killeed in action, Ronald, 23. Kenneth, 22, and Michael, 19.

Suffering from an incurable disease, Ken realizes that his days are numbered. His son, Richard, didn't expect to see his father alive again, when he enlisted in the Marines. It is ironic that the son was killed in action and his dad still is going strong.

He is a member of the Disabled American Veterans, Chapter 114 of Livonia, and five times has served as commander. At present he is service officer, national deputy chief of staff, and aide de campe for the DAV Department of Michigan and is a member of the National Order of Trench Rats. Chapter 348.

He is planning to enter Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor soon for treatment, but, with a big smile, he laughs off his ailment and tells you "I will continue to serve the disabled veterans and all mankind just as long as I

Studies at the University of Michigan over a 20-year span indicate presntial votes are consistently related to newspaper endorsements.

These conclusions come from the university's Institute for Social Research. John P. Robinson, ISR study director and journalism professor, questions the assumption that because this is the "age of television" people's voting decisions would be most altered by the constant influx of political messages via TV coverage of polit-ital campaigning.

THE IMPLICATION is, Robinson notes, that the political stand of this country's newspapers may be among the most underestimated forces in campaign politics. Robinson discovered after the 1968 election that while the public ranked television as its most important source of campaign news, people more often voted in line with newspaper endorsements.

The studies show Richard Nixon, often pictured as the arch enemy of the press, appears to have gained valuable help in his quest for president through newspaper endorse-

This political support had a significant bearing on the votes cast for Nixon in both the 1968 and 1972 elections. In 1968 the edge given by newspaper endorsements may have been sufficient to elect Nixon who won by less than a percentage point, the studies indicate.

Surveys of newspaper endorsements done by Editor and Publisher magazine reveal Nixon was the overwhelming favorite of the nation's newspapers in the last two presidential campaigns, the U-M researcher notes. Eight out of every 10 newspapers endorsed him in 1968 and nine out of 10 in 1972.

IN THE 1972 presidential election, Robinson found that both independents and Democrats voted differently, depending on what candidate was endorsed by the newspaper which they most often read.

Independents exposed to pro-McGovern newspapers were nearly twice as likely to vote for McGovern (50 per cent) as independent voters exposed to pro-Nixon newspapers (26 per cent).

Mearly the same markin (29 bercen age points) separated the Democrats; 71 per cent of those who read pro-McGovern newspapers voted for their party's choice, compared to only 46 per cent of those who read pro-Nixon papers. The votes of Republicans did not appear to be influenced by newspaper endorsements.

Based on this evidence, the overwhelming support for Nixon in the nation's newspapers-10 times as many people read pro-Nixon newspapers as read pro-McGovern ones-could have

Sales tax bill to grant relief

Gov. William G. Milliken recently signed into law a bill to give $35 million in credits for the sales tax paid on food and prescription drugs to Michigan's middle and lower income families.

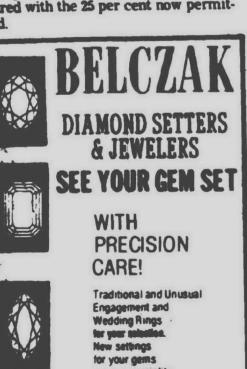

The bill is part of Milliken's 1974 tax-relief program and when coupled with last year's tax cuts will mean a reduction of almost a half-billion dollars in taxes paid by Michigan residents and businesses.

"It is important to take a balanced approach to the economic needs of business and labor, the wage-earner and the wage-payer," Milliken said.

The bill provides sales tax credit for each member of a family according to the household income as follows; Less than $5,000 receives $10 credit per person; $5,000-$7,000, receives $9 credit per person; $7,000-$9,000, receives $8 credit per person; $9,000-$11,000 receives $7 per person; $11,000-$15,000 receives $6 credit per person; more than $15,000 receives no credit.

If the amount of the credit is more than the state income tax due, the difference would be refunded to the

His conclusions: In close elections (1960 and 1968), newspapers are associated with a shift in the votes only of independent voters.

In landslide elections (1956, 1964 and 1972), newspaper endorsements appear to have even wider influence, affecting the votes of not only independents, but the losing party as well.

The mechanisms by which the newspaper persuades are not well understood, but Robinson offers one reason why newspapers may be better able to shape political opinion than other media: "The newspaper endorsement is perceived as a nonpartisan message which appears to cut through the confusing arguments of the campaign and reduce them to a single con-

Your Detroit Bank-er can show you why you might be better off saving at 5% instead of 71/4%.

Choose either or both at Detroit Bank & Trust, but get the facts before you choose. And you can count on your DETROIT BANK-er to give you all the facts to help you choose the savings plan that's really best for you.

For instance, did you know that if you put your money in a 71/4%, four-year savings plan at any bank, and happen to need the money before the four years are up, those savings will actually earn less than 5%?

That's right. Federal laws require banks to penalize 71/4% savers if they need to withdraw their savings early. on all time deposits and certificate savings withdrawn prior to maturity must be reduced to the current passbook rate (5%), and 90 days of even that interest must also be forfeited. Result-an actual return of less than the 5% regular passbook rates on any 71/4% four-year savings that you withdraw early.

That's why you might well be better off earning a full 5% annual rate on savings which are readily available to you-rather than starting out at a higher rate and ending up with less.

Naturally, the choice is yours at Detroit Bank & Trust. Your DETROIT

BANK-er can help you choose from five savings plans that pay the highest interest the law allows, from 5% annually on regular savings of any amount to 71/4% on four-year certificates of $1,000 or more. And there are three other savings plans in between ... all designed to help you meet your saving needs and goals.

So talk to your DETROIT BANK-er before you start saving anywhere. Remember, we've been protecting our customers longer than any other bank around.

When you choose 7/25% interest you get 7/52% annual yield.

High interest compounds in our New Savings Passbook Account!

The 7.25% interest on our special passbook account actually becomes 7.52% when interest is compounded over 12 months! And that's the highest legally allowable rate on 48-month accounts.

So if you leave $10,000 in this account for four years, you'll earn $751.80 in interest the first year alone! Even more when interest is compounded daily during the second, third and fourth years. Of course, withdrawals prior to maturity earn regular passbook rates, less 90 days interest.

As little as $1,000 opens your new time passbook account at any of our offices in the Metropolitan Detroit Area. Then you'll see 7.25' become 7.52' And you'll enjoy the good feeling of bank security.

2 men who owned the city

PLYMOUTH—Two men prominent in the history of the township—William Starkweather and John Kellogg—owned, at different times, most of what is now the City of Plymouth.

Starkweather, the first settler, was discussed in an earlier column. His role as major landowner began in 1825 when he paid the United States Land Office in Detroit $1.25 an acre, — or $300 — for a 240-acre rectangular tract centered where the Plymouth Masonic Temple now stands.

STARKWEATHER'S homestead extended to Sheldon Road on the West, to Mill Street on the East, to Elmdale and Church streets on the North, and to a line along Fair Street to Sheldon on the South.

It encompassed all of what is now the main business district and much of the surrounding residential area.

Kellogg. who arrived in Plymouth from New York in 1832, acquired most of Starkweather's original tract in 1835. Before that there had been three other owners after Starkweather.

In 1828, Starkweather had sold four acres to John Beedon for $16. Later the same year he sold the remaining 236 acres for $1.300 to Timothy Lyon, father of Theo Lyon, the subject of an earlier column.

Starkweather's original investment of $300 had more than quadrupled in value in the three years in which he held the property. He invested part of his profit in 80 acres just north of his original holding.

BETWEEN 1829 and 1835, the original tract went from Timothy Lyon to Benajah Holbrook, Jr., and from Holbrook to Edward Brooks and partner Alfred Hartshorn. Each sold small parcels before passing the property on. By the time John Kellogg acquired it in May, 1835, it consisted of 212 acres.

Like Starkweather, Kellogg was a native of New England. Ten years older than Starkweather, he was to survive him by 27 years. Born in Westfield, Mass., in 1786, Kellogg married Eleanor Faurote and migrated to Plymouth in 1832.

He was 46 when he arrived with his wife, five sons and two daughters. He had with him another possession on which his eye must have been glued during the entire trip—an iron-bound chest full of gold coins realized from the sale of a hotel and warehouse he had owned in Palmyra, N.Y.

Kellogg proceeded to sell business and residential lots from his newly-acquired acreage. Among the buyers was an 1840 arrival from New York state who was also to become prominent in the life of the community — Ebenezer J. Penniman.

IN 1835, Kellogg built his home on Ann Arbor Trail where the Christian Science Church is now located. He also built, for his eldest daughter, Mrs. John Fuller, an imposing brick house where the Mayflower Hotel now stands.

As Plymouth began to grow, the enterprising Kellogg built the Plymouth Hotel at the corner of Main and Ann Arbor Trail, facing the park. He also built a potash and soap factory somewhere "east of Main Street."

By July, 1836, the owners of the business lots on Main Street, facing the village green, totaled nine, including Kellogg.

In addition, the Presbyterian Society owned about 1½ acres of the original Starkweather homestead at the present church location, and the school district had another one third of an acre of it at the corner of Church and Penniman.

The Starkweather name is perpetuated in the names of a street and a school; that of Kellogg in a street and in the name of the Park.

There are two versions of the circumstances under which the park became community property. One is that John Kellogg donated the land to the village. The other is that Kellogg and his heirs let the settlers use the triangular plot for public gatherings over so long a period without protest, that it became public property by common consent.

There seems to be no deed on re-

THIS 240 -ACRE tract in the heart of Plymouth was first settled by William Starkweather who bought it from the U.S. Land Office in 1825. John Kellogg acquired most of this property in 1835.

cord to indicate that the park was ever purchased by the township or donated by the Kelloggs. Whichever version is true, there is no doubt that Plymouth owes its gratitude to Kellogg and his heirs; the Park has long been one of the community's most valuable assets.

Neither William Starkweather nor John Kellogg were office-seekers. Starkweather was a school inspector in 1838 and Kellogg was a poor director in 1842. That appears to be the extent of their participation in local politics.

Starkweather, who was 29 when he hornesteaded here, was only 48 when he died. The hardy pioneer succumbed to a disease usually associated with children. Stricken with measles, he continued to work his fields and died from complications in 1844.

During his last 16 years he lived on the acreage he bought in what was called "North Village."

One of the parcels he owned is the present site of Burroughs manufacturing plant. Starkweather's oldest son, Albert, followed him to the grave in two months, and his courageous wife, Keziah, in two years.

JOHN KELLOGG sold 50 acres of his property to a son, Cassius, in 1859, for $2,000.

In 1867, Kellogg and his wife transferred the remaining 23 acres of their land to Joel R. Kellogg, another son, for $800 and "covenants and agreements for the support and maintenance of themselves for and during their natural lives."

Kellogg died four years later, in 1871, at age 85. Ironically, the justice of the peace who administered the indenture between the Kelloggs and Joel was the son of the man who had staked out the property back in 1825. George A. Starkweather, a prominent figure in his own right, will be the subject of a future column.

The late Karl Starkweather, greatgrandson of the first settler in Plymouth, and Walter Kellogg Sumner, great-grandson of the man who was a dominant figure in the community's early growth, provided me with information used in writing this column.

JOHN KELLOGG, one of the early developers of Plymouth. He acquired most of the William Starkweather property in 1835.

The 1974 summer art show schedule runs from May through September. with individual events ranging in size from small exhibitions by local artists to the extensive July 17-20 Ann Arbor Street Fair which attracts hundreds of professional and amateur artists.

"Whatever their size, street art fairs have changed the art-buying habits of the American public," observes Michael P.Church, cultural activities director with the U-M Extension Service.

"People no longer think of art as a distant thing removed from their everyday lives. They have experienced real artists and their works while visiting the shows. People are more inclined now to turn away from reproductions and to consider original art works when they want to make a purchase."

Church estimates that about $3 million worth of art will be sold this year at Michigan's summer art exhibits, fairs and shows.

Copies of his list of 1974 shows may be obtained for $1 from the Cultural Activities Department, University of nard, Ann Arbor.

Many of the buyers at art shows fall into categories, some of which are defined by the U-M art authority.

Michael John Riley hits big time

SINGER MICHAEL John Riley is on the verge of a second career. He has a singing role in a movie written and produced by James Leonard Elsman of Birmingham which will start filming in northern Michigan this month.

music festival 3rd concert

The third concert of the 1974 Schoolcraft College Summer Music Festival will be Tuesday, July 16, at 8:30 p.m. in the Liberal Arts Theater on the Schoolcraft campus, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

The musical anniversaries of Charles Ives and Arnold Schoenberg will be observed by the performing faculty. Ives' "Set for String Quartet and Piano," dating from 1903-13, and two works by Schoenberg will be performed.

Allen Shaffer will play the "Six Little Piano Pieces, Opus 19," and the Schoolcraft String Quartet, joined by violinist LeRoy Fenstermacher and cellist Marcy Schweikhardt, will perform "Transfigured Night," one of Schoenberg's most famous and beauti-

Members of the quartet are James Waring and Inez Redman, violins: David Ireland, viola; and Mario Di-Fiore, cello.

Other works to be performed include the "Quintet in F Major for Oboe, Strings and Piano" by J.C. Bach and the "Petite Suite for Piano Duet" by Claude Debussy.

Oboist David Mariotti will be heard in the Bach and pianist Donald Morelock will join Shaffer in the performance of the Debussy.

Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students and children.

By CORINNE ABATT

On the record label the name is Michael John Riley, but the big man from Plymouth still thinks of himself as Mike Riley.

Recently he's been working with The Record & Music People. Inc. of Birmingham and someone there thought the three-word moniker a bit classier. Something the public might be more likely to remember.

Riley, Michael John or Mike..whatever..connected with the Birmingham firm when he tried out for a movie, "1976-and 200 Candles for Whom" written by company president. James Leonard Elsman, attorney turned writer-promoter. Riley who has played some 37 clubs in the metropolitan Detroit area since he started his singing career six years ago, will do a portion of the sound track of the movie slated to go into production this month.

A commitment from RKO in Hollywood to make the film is close to completion. A portion will be filmed on location in northern Michigan. As is apparent from the title, it is being made to coincide with the Bicentennial celebration.

TWO OF THE SONGS which Riley sings in the movie are already on a 45 record available in the stores, "Liberated Woman" and "You Can't Fool the People."

Very shortly an album with the songs from the movie will be released and Riley's "You Can't Fool the People" is included.

Riley came to the Detroit area in 1964 from his hometown of Traverse City looking for a job. He went to work in the Dodge Main plant at $125 a week, more than twice what he had been making back home.

The singing career he says started just by accident. The big guy with the big voice began hanging around the Poisin Apple coffee house on the east side. He wanted to sing and finally someone said ves and let him try.

Frequent mentions in the entertainment columns helped the cause and many of the club and coffee house. bookings that called for a couple of weeks turned out to be for several months. He just moved from the Bistro in Troy to the Glen Oaks Bar in Brighton. His last engagement in Brighton extended to eight months.

BACK IN TRAVERSE City when he was fooling around with the guitar. Riley was a folk singer.

Since then he says, "It is a mellower, softer sound and I use a lot of the top 40 like the Carpenters, soft rock, movie themes, and some country like Charlie Rich. Charlie Pride John Denver and Kris Kristofferson. ·He adds, "And I'm still doing a lot of the folk songs I learned in 1965."

There were many struggles along the way. One was to convince his family whom he describes as "very traditional" that being a professional singer was really a respectable way to make a living. Now, Riley says that' when he goes to visit his mother in Plainwell or his father and stepmother in Traverse City, they expect him to bring the guitar and sing for them and their many friends.

Riley and his second wife, Joanie, moved into a townhouse in Deer Creek about three months ago. They're expecting their first child early in the fall. There to greet the newcomer will be four youngsters from Riley's first marriage ranging in age from four to 10.

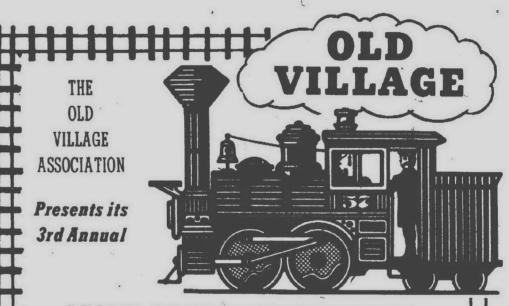

Admitting that a singing career makes tremendous demands on a marriage he says, "It takes an awful lot of growing up on the part of both parties. Being a guy from a very traditional background I always thought it was the man who should go out and earn the bread and butter and the woman who stays home and keeps house. Now, I realize my thinking must change."

HE MENTIONS his wife is a very skilled secretary and bookkeeper. He discusses each of his children as to personality likes and dislikes.

With the singing career securely launched, one suspects from Rilev's enthusiasm for the forthcoming movie, that another career may be moving from the back to the front of his mind.

England's class system has nation in a turmoil

by PHILIP H. POWER

LONDON—The suburbs in England developed earlier than ours in America. Moreover, in contrast to ours which were called forth by the mass availability of the automobile and good roads. their suburbs were a restrictive expression of deep class divisions in the society. They consisted in securely upper and middle class enclaves, placed far enough from the urban working class to avoid unseemly contamination.

Today the suburbs in England and, indeed, the entire middle class are under pressure more seriously than during the Great Depression. In fact, they feel so much under threat that reasonable people last week were talking quietly and matter of factly about the desirability of a counter-revolution from the right.

For anyone who knows the unique role the middle class has played for centuries in setting those particularly non-violent, flexible and civilized qualities of English society, this situation is very sad. It is as though the basis of an entire society were rather quickly flowing down the drain.

Just why this is happening is interesting, not only for England but for us here in our own suburbs.

THERE ARE TWO driving engines hammering out trouble today for England: Inflation, currently running at around 20% per year, and the deep divisions between social classes which have never been resolved and hence have called forth storms of fear and hate.

For a time, these forces were held in check because the total economic output of the society was growing, allowing most people in each class to get a little more each year. But the Arab oil boycott stopped the energy-dependent English economy in its tracks, and the subsequent massive price increase in oil drove up the price of manufactured goods for export so much that many of the country's foreign markets dried up. Economic growth stopped, requiring that if one class were to get more, some other class would have to get less.

The strike by the coal miners last year settled who was to get more. The miners-underpaid by any standards—were the country's only source of energy, and brought the economy to its knees in demanding and getting a wage settlement far, far in excess of the law limiting pay increases.

THE CONSEQUENCES of this pattern of events have been serious. The hand of the "socialism at all costs" segment of the Labor Party was much strengthened, and most socialist theoreticians I met here are saying the major item on the political agenda over the next five years will be a massive re-distribution of economic and political power to the working class from the middle class.

For example, late last week, the national hospital employes union struck the hospitals with a demand that all treatment to private patients (most people are covered by national health care) be ended. Some journalists I met said they expected this was only the beginning.

With inflation continuing and the international payments running a negative balance of many billions of dollars, most economists think that by the time England's big new oil and gas fields in the North Sea start giving the nation some income, it all will have been mortgaged to pay for the programs envisaged by the theoreticians and the balance of payments deficit.

And in the background, a new political party - the National Front -has started up, advocating a tough government and no nonsense about wage demands. This is in parallel with the National Socialists in Germany after its terrible inflation of the 1920's, and it may be equally dangerous.

SO AN ENTIRE society is in spasm, and we in America can only look on in sympathy and worry for ourselves.

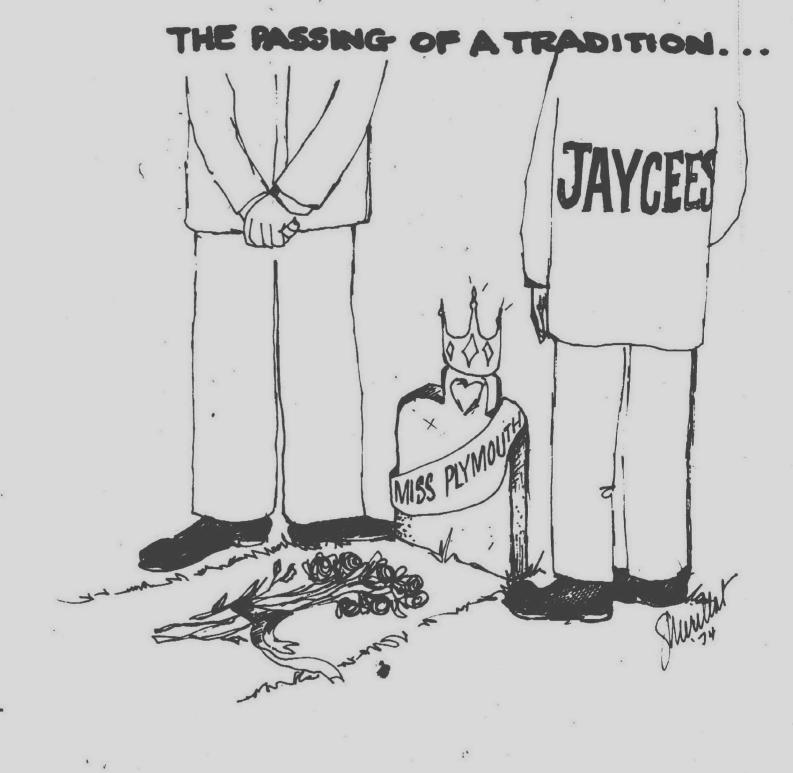

Obviously, England is not America. The American tradition has been to turn the working class into the middle class, rather than to promote class antagonisms in the English manner. The American economy continues to grow, so there is a little more for everybody rather than less for somebody. The oil boycott hurt our economy, but we were not totally dependent on foreign energy as the English were.

But the corrosive effect of inflation run rampant is terrifying to see. If allowed to continue uncontrolled here, it could set white against black, labor against management, city against suburb.

Our great defense against such a terrible outcome, I would guess, is that our political tradition and economic strength have been such as to enable everybody to earn a little more and to provide opportunity for those willing to work to get ahead without an overt rigid class structure to impede their progress.

I only hope that we can manage it, for tonight there is something very close to terror abroad in the calm, green suburbs of England.

Plymouth Jaycees win friends

Plymouth Jaycees, sometimes a target for brickbats on these pages, are due for a pat on the back from the National Organization for Women (NOW) and other liberationists.

The Jaycees canceled the Miss Plymouth contest which they have sponsored and run in years past. Miss Plymouth's duties were to appear in the July 4 parade, light the torch to open the Community Fund drive, and the like. Queen contests for females of tender years came under some well- aimed fire in Livonia earlier this year when the Federation of Civic Associations began what it hopes will be a tradition.

THE REASONING used by Plymouth Jaycees is interesting. Remember, Plymouth has an image, accurate or otherwise, as a tightly-knit, traditionalist, small town.

"We're dropping this for more relevant projects," said Jaycees President Duane E. Goudey, who points out the members "don't feel it's relevant to the community. Tradition is one thing, but we can't see running the program just for tradi-

It seems the Jaycees got into a bind, what with a community survey, Fourth of July festivities, Fall Festival, haunted house, VD and alcohol programs and multitudinlus others demanding the time of the young men of action.

They had to cut back somewhere, and they chose the Miss Plymouth contest as the project most easily sacrificed.

IN A BROADER sense, however, there are other good reasons for dropping the contest. The "lib" gals will tell you about them.

Beauty contests are based on the Playboy "meat parade" notion of what constitutes good looks. . . The "poise" and "personality" qualifications are so much window dressing. . . The contests are "sexist" because they apply only to females. . . They encourage young women to be sex objects rather than to develop marketable and other socially useful skills. . . They're a throwback to pagan religious rites in which a god-queen was selected for ultimate sacrifice. . . Queen contests are out of place in a democratic republic. . .

The irony is that while Plymoutif cultivates a New England image, Livonia comes across as a modern, downtown-less, industry- conscious sprawl of subdivisions.

Myself, I wouldn't want to pass a law prohibiting folks from holding such anachronistic rituals as queen contests. It's still a free country. But I do join the libbers in a coeducational toast to the Plymouth Jaycees. The queen is dead! May she rest in peace, for ever and ever. Amen.

Planning department staffers and commissioners have continually argued that apartment developments aren't a drain on local services or an im-

Westland Planning Department. The study took more than a year and contains a gold mine of information on Westland's apartment residents.

The Westland study, the most extensive done in the country, according to its author who contacted the national planning organization for information, reveals many things about apartment residents and apartments as a a group.

Apartments, as a valuable source of local property taxes, pay much more in taxes than gained in return in local services.

BASED ON an average expenditure of $1,100 per student, apartments produce a surplus of $1,600 a student in operating expenses.

This is another way of saying that apartments generate much- needed school revenues but very Newer apartments include fire protection devices, such as sprinklers, fire and smoke detectors and hallway fire extinguishers. This means the local fire department won't have to buy as much expensive fire fighting equipment as it would for a single-family house subdivision with the same population. How about crime?

SINGLE-FAMILY homeowners feel apartment residents are generally drug dealers and the target of numerous crime problems.

But the Westland study shows that in two threemonth comparisons of local crime 'statistics, single-family houses accounted for the location of 80 per cent of crimes with apartments the scene of only 20 per cent.

The average income of apartment residents is equal to that of the citywide figure, the study pointed out.

What happened to the spirit of democracy between 1776 and 1789?

If you read the original Constitution carefully, it was not a document written for the common man. The government was separated into three branches: the judicial, the executive and the legis-

THE CONSTITUTION provided that the federal judiciary be appointed by the executive branch.

It provided that the chief executive be elected by what is now called the Electoral College, which could be appointed (not elected) in such manner as the state's legislature wished to direct.

The Constitution also provided that in selecting the legislative branch the U.S. Senators shall be chosen by the state legislatures, and the members of the House of Representatives shall be elected by the people.

ALL OF WHICH means that if all men were created equal, the framers of the Constitution were not convinced that the equal man was very

They permitted the people to elect only the members of the House of Representatives, which could be checked by the U.S. Senate, or checked by the executive branch through veto, or interpreted by an appointed judiciary.

America has been looked upon as a model of democracy, with the Constitution its foundation.

FORTUNATELY over the years, through amendment and liberal interpretation by the judiciary, it has become a living document, correcting what the founding fathers did not necessarily believe — that power should be in the people and not in a select group of political officeholders.

In 1913 the Constitution was amended to provide for direct popular vote of the U.S. Senate, but the federal judiciary is still appointed and the president is still elected by the artificial body called the Electoral College. This somewhat reflects the wishes of the people, since the Electoral College delegates are now elected as a slate by the people, rather than appointed by the state legislatures.

BUT WE STILL have a long way to go to be the democracy we think we are.

We must provide for direct election of the president and we must somehow get the American people to want to use their inherent right to influence government by getting out to vote.

I have heard an awful lot of people who are critical of the direction in which our ship of state is drifting, and that ship will continue to drift until the American people make their voices heard to change its course.

Railroads prepping to fight back

By W.W.EDGAR

The American railroads, that played a major part in winning the west more than a century ago only to be shoved aside in modern times by automotive vehicles and airplanes, are now preparing to take the lead again in saving the country through the energy crisis and spiraling econo-

For more than a century the box car has quietly and efficiently moved hundreds of millions of tons of necessities around the country but was taken for granted by the public.

Then came such things as the huge highway trucks with patented loaders to move automobiles to dealerships from coast to coast. They were considered faster and cheaper. After them came air freight and dry ice that permitted speedier shipments of foodstuffs and struck another blow at the railroads.

MEANWHILE, the automobile and the airplane dealt what seemed like a death blow to railroad passenger service and drove many railroad companies to the brink of bankruptcy.

But now, with the help of exciting new equipment and government subsidies, they are fighting back, with more than a reasonable chance of suc-

The first step came a short time ago when the government established a passenger service from Washington. D.C., to Boston.

Known as "Amtrak," this experiment is proving successful and is being repeated in other sections of the country. One of the latest is in the Pacific Northwest where Expo 74 is in progress in Seattle.

What may be one of the biggest steps on the rejuvination was taken recently in a joint venture by the General Motors Corp. and the Southern Pacific Railway.

Through their combined efforts a box car has been developed that will

The primary purpose of these grants - limited to a few trail- blazing railroads - was not to help the railroads, but to open up the vast area, mostly west of the Mississippi

Award provided by EMU housing

A financial award program has been established by the Eastern Michigan University Housing Office to assist students living in residence halls.

The program is divided into separate awards for scholarship, leadership and financial need. They range from $100 to $650 a semester, paid in the form of credit toward room and board charges.

Dorian Sprandel, director of housing, says Eastern is the only school offering such a program for upper class and graduate students.

"We reviewed student needs and found that a major concern was money. We wanted to initiate a program that would help in this area and would also attract and keep scholars and leaders in residence halls."

Funds for the programs are provided through the office of admissions and financial aids from the university's general scholarship fund.

The primary requirement for all three awards is that the student live in a residence hall. The scholarship and leadership awards may be renewed for eight semesters.

Juniors and seniors who have a 3.0 grade average may apply for the scholarships. They must have a 2.75 for renewal.

Sophomores through graduate students who have evidence of past leadership and "commitment to future leadership" may apply for the leadership award. They must have two personal recommendations from faculty or staff members. Undergraduates must maintain a 2.5 and graduates a 3.0 average.

The financial aid grant is available to undergraduates who maintain a 2.0 grade average and graduates who have a 3.0 average. The students must also demonstrate financial need.

Freshmen may qualify for other scholarships and grants through the Office of Admissions and Financial

Do your license plates reflect the real you? If not, there's still time to do something about it and at the same time strike an effective blow for highway litter removal.

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin reminds Michigan motorists who have a yen to customize their plates that June 30 is the deadline for ordering personalized plates for next year.

Applications are available at all local offices of the Secretary of State and many banks.

THE PLATES which went on sale for the first time last year carry individual identifications from initials, names, to pet sayings and slogans.

Awarded on a first-come, first-serve basis, the plates cost $25 above the normal license plate cost. They will be mailed to owners after Nov. 15, the date when all other 1975 plates go on

No two sets will be the same. As requests are received they are computer checked to avoid duplication.

Last year nearly 4,000 Michigan motorists purchased personalized plates. The revenue went into a special highway department fund for highway lit-

"We have concluded that Southeastern Michigan's transportation problems can only be solved as part of a total transportation program for the state.

The committee consists of Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, SEMTA Chairman William Marshall, SEMCOG Chairman Homer Case, and E.V. Erickson, chairman of the State Highway Commission, with Milliken as general chairman.

Case made it clear he was speaking for himself because SEMCOG is expected to consider the proposal officially in the near future.

The group's joint statement added: "A great deal of progress has been made in development of a transportation program for southeastern Michigan. # Blue Birds and grandmas have fun at campout

BY MARGARET MILLER

When you're seven or eight years old and a Blue Bird (that's diminutive for Camp Fire Girl), it's not too unlikely that your mother is busy with little brothers or sisters and can't manage a camp stay with you.

The staff of the Detroit Area Council of Camp Fire Girls recognizes this hard fact of Blue Bird life and also the fact that many senior citizens are ready and eager for more activity.

So they sent Blue Birds and grandmothers-14 of each-on a "Me and my Grandma" weekend at Camp Wathana, near Holly, and everyone reported the innovation was a huge suc-

"I WOULDN'T have missed ithope to go back next year," said Mrs. Marina Olivero of Westland after four days with granddaughter Dawn Begley of Garden City.

"I've camped all my life, but this was the best time I ever had," agreed Mrs. Inez Colburn, who came all the way from Zephyrhills, Fla., to join seven-year-old Becky Colburn of Garden City.

GRANDMOTHERS and granddaughters rode horseback, went on nature hikes, fished, swam and danced together, as well as enjoying dining hall meals and the singing that fol-

"It was a chance to get to know Becky better," said Mrs. Colburn, who sees her grandchildren only during the summer on the annual visit from Florida.

The generations separated, however, for pajama parties.

"We kicked our counselor out to join the younger generation," Mrs. Colburn laughed, "and we really had

IN SETTING UP this new kind of camp function, the CFG staff put grandmothers in two cabins and Blue Birds in two others, with a counselor on hand for each group.

Connie Coutellier, staff camping specialist, said she decided giving the grandmothers a chance for companionship would work out well because "at various community meetings I was hearing complaints that no one does anything for senior citizens and this sounded like a good opportunity for

It was a good plan—both Mrs. Olivero and Mrs. Colburn reported the older women were most congenial and both felt they had made new

"My daughter is a Camp Fire leader," she said, "and she asked me if I'd like to go. Whenever it's something involving my grandchildren, I'm all for it, and I thought this was a good idea because a lot of methers have younger children and can't get

BOTH OF THE LOCAL grandmothers had had camping experience before the visit to Wathana, but it was a first for the little girls.

"When my children were small I used to camp," Mrs. Olivero said, "but never in an organized situation like that. And it was the first time I ever ate those marshmallow and chocolate and graham cracker things. I liked them as much as Dawn did."

Mrs. Colburn grew up in the Smoky Mountain area and had done family camping in a tent, but she too enjoyed the organized activity.

"I enjoyed going canoeing," she said, "and we had fun helping the girls make fishing poles. If Becky's mother could have seen her out on the end of the dock fishing.....'

MRS. COLBURN is writing to the Camp Fire Girls council to express thanks for the outing, and she also plans to talk up the Camp Fire program to anyone who will listen.

"More people should be active in these programs," she said. "If parents want their children to participate, they should help."

How one school district is helping the elderly

BY SHERRY KAHAN

Dr. James Lombard, director of Continuing Education for the Wayne-Westland School District, is proud of what his district is doing for the el-

"Some people have told me they never heard of a school district getting involved with the elderly," Lombard said. "But our program is not unique. However, it is an important beginning and it may be the coming thing."

To members of a seminar on aging at Madonna College he explained that "our board of education has taken the position that they ought to provide programs and services for senior citizens just as well as the other segments of society."

To members of the seminar, mostly nurses, teachers and social workers, Lombard listed a number of the programs for senior citizens provided by his school district.

THERE ARE WEEKLY meetings in the schools. These often include lunch at minimal cost, games and other forms of recreation.

"We give them an ID card which gives them free access to school-sponsored activites such as plays, musicals and athletics," reported Lombard. "We also help them find speakers on social and cultural matters such as tax relief or changes in the social security legislation.

The district also offers square dancing, card playing and field trips. It sponsors Christmas, Easter and Thanksgiving parties, a bicycle club and recognition days to celebrate birthdays.

"WE WORK WITH OTHER agencies in the community to sponsor such specific events as a glaucoma clinic and free swimming," he said. "But the main thing we are doing is trying to make the community aware of the needs of the elderly."

things to help others such as tutoring, reading to the blind and visiting people in nursing homes."

To members of the seminar who complained about inadequate programs for older people in their communities, Lombard said, "I think all of you could return to your communities and initiate some kind of begin-of program, he suggested, adding, "the main thing is to try to match the needs of the elderly with the resources available,'

IT IS NECESSARY first to find out the needs of the elderly and "foolhardy to start a program without making the community aware of these needs," he said.

"Priorities must be arranged," he added. "Facilities must be found as well as leadership and volunteers. Start small with a reasonable kind Often all this can be cheaper than you think, inasmuch as schools and churches will donate their facilities."

In illustrating the Wayne-Westland concern for in-put from the elderly, he read responses from several questionaires sent out asking for information about their needs.

Among the needs of older people were transportation, having educational and mind-expanding programs and medical help in the form of treatment centers, inexpensive check-ups and reasonably priced prescriptions. Others of those questioned asked for a drop-in center, a recreation center, access to an attorney and a mini-bus and driver.

MEMBERS OF THE CLASS, when asked by Lombard to make a list of essentials to consider when starting a program for the elderly, included fout main points.

They believed that decisions and planning should be made by the elderly themselves. They felt that senior citizens do not want to be regarded as objects of charity and that the elderly have rights along with everyone else. Those attending the seminar also underscored Lombard's point that senior citizens should be consulted as to their own needs. -

It was the first year for her, though, and she did a lot of wondering and questioning about the routine as we packed her navy shorts (would they let her wear them THAT short?) and light blue shirts and socks (would there be enough, considering how dirty they get?) and checked over her French horn (how would she do in auditions?)

The pattern continued when I took her on the long drive to deposit her at camp.

It went on in the hurried letters that came home. (One pair of shorts was too short and her counselor was the only one who could get her socks clean and she needed more money for ice cream bars and somehow she landed in second chair among the horns in one band.)

And on the last day things still seemed pretty familiar when we went to collect her and there was the usual good concert followed by the traditional tearful goodbyes.

But I was wrong in thinking music camp could

Women's image is changing in media, students learn

BY SHERRY KAHAN

The communication media are starting to portray women in varied roles. But it wasn't always so, four Michigan State University coeds have Claudia Arnett. Susan Montgomery and Sue Wilson of Livonia and Jean McKeon of Plymouth all participated last semester in an American studies course which tried to determine how influential the mass media have been in stereotyping the female role.

. "We studied different forms of pop culture as they related to women, said Miss McKeon, a former student at Plymouth-Salem High School. "We considered books, films, magazines even gossip magazines. The course certainly opened my eyes about how great an effect popular culture has on our lives.

Miss McKeon, who plans to specialze in biology, explained the differthe media treatment of women between the '30s and now.

"There is a lot more openness and freedom for women today." she said, rand women can take different paths.

Former Bentley High School student Susan Montgomery recalled that their studies had shown them how the role of women has changed since the Civil War when the media projected them only as wives and mothers.

"In the 1930s the media began to show women in interesting careers such as spies. pilots and business executives," she said. "But in the '40s. '50s and '60s they stopped representing women as competent. Women seemed objects in the '50s. In the '70s they are again appearing as people who are more than housewives."

Pop culture projects society's fears. illusions and dreams, Miss Montgomery said. "but it is not always real-

"All those who live with the media ought to stop and consider what they have to say and to see if it is really true." she added.

Miss Arnett, a 1971 graduate of Bentley, enjoyed reading two old-fashioned, sentimental novels about women. These were "Little Women" by Louisa May Alcott and 'Tempest and Sunshine" by Mary Jane Holmes.

"I think the media have been very unfair to women." she said. "By constantly showing us in stereotype roles. it has aggravated the poor image of

The American Medical Association recently reported that early detection and treatment of high blood pressure lessened the probability of heart disease and stroke, two of the leading causes of death in the nation.

Can you control fat with staple in the ear?

DR. TURGUT S. NESE

By SANDY TESSLER

Obesity is an affliction. In recent years, people who are overweight have pursued a variety of techniques to overcome their eating habits.

Some methods, such as the intestinal by-pass surgical operation. are last-ditch efforts. Others include injections, crash diets and amphetamine tablets.

A doctor in Lathrup Village has started using a form of acupuncture designed to curb the appetite, and hundreds of people have flocked to him.

Many thought it was a put-on when they heard of a staple m much like an ordinary desk staple, being applied to the ear for appetite control.

But others-eager to try almost any method to lose weight-ran to the doctor using the acupuncture and staple

The physician's name is Turgut S. Nese, M.D., a practicing anesthesiologist and a native of Istanbul. Turkey, where he earned his medical degree. Dr. Nese has been in his Twelve Mile Road office since April 1.

HE LAUGHED at the coincidence of its having been April Fools' Day when he hung the plaque which reads "acupuncturist."

If you were to go to Dr. Nese for ear stapling, you would probably find yourself in a crowded waiting room. When your turn came, you would be told to feel free to ask any questions.

If you were curious, you might be shown charts of the ear and given an explanation of what would happen.

Dr. Nese might volunteer to tell you that both he and his wife have staples

There would be no physical examination, and no medical history would be taken. You would not be weighed

You would be required to sign a consent paper in which you acknowledge that you are informed that auriculo acupunction is "an experimental procedure at the present time (and) that no guarantee can be or is made as to the success of this form of pro-

THE PAPER further states-: "I also am informed that there is possibility of infection and reaction... -Dr. Nese would assure you he will treat possible infections or reposition the staple and remove it for a single charge of $25

-He would then use a staple gun to apply the unit in both ears (not ear lobes) between the skin and the cartilage. You might experience pain similar to that of ear piercing and some discomfort for the next day or two.

You would be instructed to tap the staple for three minutes if you feel hungry. You would not be told what to eat, or how much, and you would be instructed to return when you lost the desired number of pounds or after six

Dr. Nese first learned of acupuncture through an article in the Journal of the Society of Anesthesiology. The initial interest in acupuncture was for relief of pain. Over a two-year period, Dr. Nese studied and attended conferences and symposiums on acupuncture. About a year ago, he heard a paper read by Lester Sachs. M.D., a practicing acupuncturist who reported successes with controlling the excesses of drug addicts, alcoholics and cigarette smokers through the use of auricle

AURICULO THERAPY is a school of acupuncture which holds that the ear is a general reflection of the body and its organ system where there exist points for more than 200 body

By locating and stimulating the appropriate point, auriculo therapists theorize, the intended site can be either sedated or stimulated with fewer needles than traditionally required. Dr. Nese was intrigued with the appetite control possibilities.

While needles are used in China. Dr. Sachs adapted the concept of utilizing stainless steel surgical staples designed for closing wounds. The staples are applied with a special

The superiority of this method, Dr. Nese claims, is that the site can be self-stimulated by tapping or wiggling the staples, and the patient need not return to the doctor for continuous

THE SLENDER doctor was rather vague in his explanation of how the technique works. It seems, as he said, that "No one yet knows how it works. It just works.

"The staple delivers continuous stimulation to the hypothalamus, a small part in the base of the brain which has many functions, among them appetite control," he explained.

He described it as a network center which, when stimulated, delivers the message to inhibit the desire to eat. "Obesity is an unbalanced condition of the body. Even the body knows this," he said. "Needles stimulate the point to get the body back in bal-

When asked what research findings supported the theory that patients do lose weight through this method, Dr. Nese referred to a few experiments for which data is still being collected. The experiments involve drug addicts and cigarette smokers.

RESULTS TO date, he said, show a 70-80 percent success rate with these subjects-there are no statistics but these findings are not conlcusive and have not been done over a long period

As a member of the National Acupuncture Research Society, Dr. Nese claims he will try to compile some statistics on the 2,000 or so patients he expects to see over several months. But he acknowledged that this is entirely up to the patients. He takes no measurements and uses no scales. An estimated 75 doctors in the United States use staples for compulsive disorders. Patients have come to Dr. Nese from as far away as Penn-

The method is attractive because it allegedly makes dieting easy; there is no addiction; no special diet is required; it is reversible, and, Dr. Nese said, "It works."

Dale Woolard will tour Peru

Dale Woolard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Woolard of Livonia, has been chosen to be part of a 10-member gospel music team called "The Young Ambassadors," which will travel on a six-week tour of coastal Peru. He is a 1972 graduate of Bentley High School.

The tour is sponsored by the Missionary Apprenticeship Program of the Association of Baptists for World Evangelism.

Woolard was recently selected as a participant in the Missionary Internship service program of Cedarville College. Cedarville, O.

He added that "about two years ago we both felt God was calling us for full time Salvation Army work."

Both went to Chicago to take officer training in the Salvation Army school there. They graduated in September 1973, and were named to the Plymouth post June 8.

NOW QUITE WELL settled, "though a lot of things are still in cardboard boxes," Dallas and Phyllis have had a chance to assess the SA work in Plymouth and find a lot of satisfaction in doing so.

"We're most impressed with the things Capt. Yoder has been able to accomplish," Lt. Raby said, "and we want to carry on that sort of work, though our methods may be differ-

Preparations are being completed for a two-days-a-week day camp program to begin its fifth summer session in St. John Episcopal Church of Plymouth, 574 S. Sheldon.

The camp in the past has brought between 85 and 100 inner-city children to Plymouth for activities at the church over a four-week period.

What happens when somebody says, "We put in that little pond by the apple tree 6 years ago. And the papa goldfish is 8 inches long now." That ought to be worth something. We think it is. And so we take the pond and the afternoon sun and spring blossoms into consideration. If they're worth something to the owners, they'll be worth something to the people we'll find to live in their home. And everyone will be pleased.

The place to see in West Bloomfield is Potomac Towne.

It's a wonderful way to live . . . in the pince to live. At Potomác Towne you not only have a luxurious single-family townhouse, but you have the stationwagon-lifestyle of West Bloomfield with its topnotch schools*, fashionable shops, costly private homes, distinguished clubs and gem-like pleasure lakes. The Potomac Towne townhouses naturally have all the luxury details and equipment you'd expect in a community of this caliber. It's what you don't always find that you'll appreciate—especially if you've been condominium-shopping. Your own two-car garage with electronic door opener-not just a carport. A full, extra-high basement-not a crawl space. A real log-burning fireplace in your living room. A glamorous private courtyard with two entrances—one into your foyer, the other into the kitchen. Every 2, 3 and 4-bedroom townhouse at Potomac Towne has these big-home assets and many more. Plus the architectural distinction of white brick and rough hewn wood, starting at $48,500. You'll have not one, but two swimming pools, indoor (790 sq. ft.) and outdoor (4,950 sq. ft.), to enjoy. And no exterior maintenance to worry with-a small monthly fee takes care of all that and also includes your dues to the private and elegant Potomac Club, one of the great distinctions at Potomac Towne. And crowning evidence that it is a wonderful way to live.

Luxury Apartment Certie C Living In Livonia We could have announced this Deer-

field Woods debut as just another "Grand Opening"...with all the customary claptrap that goes with such an "event." But we feel that resorting to contrived gimmicks that smack of the commonplace would be cheapening the product. The quality of Deerfield Woods Apartments is so superb, we feel it appropriate to merely announce this premier showing of these beautiful 1 and 2 bedroom apartments...and let you be the judge. We are convinced that those discriminating individuals, looking for living accommodations in the Farmington Road-Seven Mile area, will readily recognize this high-quality, 144 unit apartment development, featuring a private pool and sun deck, as the most luxurious approach to housing that has happened to Livonia in more than a decade. Come on out. See for yourself how we have combined modern luxury, old-fashioned quality, and preinflation prices to bring a genuinely elegant life-style within the reach of even the most moderate incomes. But do it this weekend...because we'd sooner have you for a satisfied tenant than an impatient member of our waiting list.

The Peugeot 504 Sedan

At 24 miles per gallon, there is no way to take Peugeot, but seriously.

The beauty of the automobile (designed by engineers) may be subtle, but there is nothing subtle about the economy of operation. In a September 1973 test by Popular Science Magazine, the Peugeot 504 Sedan got 24 miles per gallon at a constant speed of 45 miles per hour. The kind of fact that can ease the frustration of waiting in line at service stations. And this is the car that Road Test Magazine called "a paragon of durability." An outlook that matches what people need in an automobile today. Economy. A stunning practicality. And more than a few of the amenities. Peugeot. Consider the advantages. Popular Science Magazine did.

Redford heads Adray race at 15-2

BY TOM DONOGHUE

Bob Atkins' Redford crew has left the rest of the nine club Adray loop field in the starting gate and is out front all alone in the backstretch of the 24 game schedule.

Redford blanked Southfield, 3-0. topped Livonia Griffin, 4-1, and whipped Plymouth Bidwell in both ends of a twin-bill, 7-0 and 9-3, to up its mark to 15-2 in the league and 20-2 overall for the summer.

Royal Oak, the only other Adray club over the .500 mark, is Redford's nearest competitor with a 12-4 record. With nine games remaining. No. 7 is Redford's magic number. Atkins squad is already through with Royal Oak where Redford fought to a 2-1

The 3-0 victory over Southfield saw Torn Nippa record his fourth win against no losses with Tommy Miller chalking up his fifth save. Nippa worked five innings and gave up six hits, walked two and struck out four while Miller was touched for just one Southfield gave the scoring column a real shot in the second inning but wound up with a big goose-egg. Nippa allowed Southfield to fill the sacks with none out.

A suicide squeeze failed with Nippa tossing to John Broder at the plate to nab Ron Silbertstein. Jack Booth bounced into a double play, Gary D'Ascenzo at second to Dave Harding at first and that was the extent of Southfield's offensive rally.

Redford broke into the run column in the fourth. With one out, D'Ascenzo singled, Nippa sacrificed him to second and John Roy singled in

The sixth saw Redford make it 2-0 when Mike Kalil bunted his way on, stole second, moved to third on an infield out and scored on a squeeze by

Redford added an insurance tally in the top of the seventh. Roy singled, was advanced to second on a sacrifice and scored on a sacrifice by Steve Friedman after being wild pitched to Three Livonia errors opened the door to a 4-1 Redford win over Griffin with Ray Ivey going the seven inning route for his third triumph in three decisions. Ivey gave up just one hit, a single by Gar Frantz, walked three and struck out five.

Jerry Cyrul suffered the loss, allowed three hits, walked five and struck out four.

Livonia got off to a 1-0 lead in the first when Jeff Waterstone was safe on an error, was sacrificed to second; and moved to third on a passed ball strikeout with Bob Wasilewski safe at first. Waterstone wound up scoring on the play when the relay to first bounced off Wasilewski.

Redford notched it up at one-all in the last of the first. Broder walked and was wild pitched to second and scampered in on a hit by Kalil.

The fifth saw Redford take a 3-1 command on a walk to Kevin Bara, a stolen base, walk to Friedman and double by Broder. Run No. 4 came in the sixth on two errors aided by a

Kevin Bara was the story in the shutout victory as the Redford righthander chalked up win No. 6 - tossing a three-hitter, walking none and striking out nine. Bara faced only 24 Plymouth batsmen and hurled 61 strikes and only 23 balls.

Jerry Smock and Terry Laird worked the Plymouth mound with Redford collecting 11 hits and Smock taking the loss.

Redford struck for three scores in the second. With one out, Gary Fulks singled, Harding singled and before D'Ascenzo walked, Fulks was tossed out attempting to steal third. Roy singled in Harding and Bara was safe on an error. The leftfielder dropped a slicing drive that enabled both D'Ascenzon and Roy to score.

The third saw Redford push it to 6-0 on a walk to Friedman, double by Fulks, single by Harding, and back-toback hits by D'Ascenzon and Roy.

Run No. 7 came in the fifth when Broder singled, moved to third on a wild pickoff toss and scored on Kalil's

The second outing against Plymouth pitted John Knox against Steve Huss with Redford's Knox being relieved by Tom Miller in the seventh.

Knox gave up one run and nine hits in the first six innings, walked none and struck out seven. It was Knox's second win in three outings. Miller was touched for two runs on two hits in the seventh.

With two out in the second, Redford started its assault. Fulks doubled, and D'Ascenzo, Knox and Roy all singled to open it at 2-0. Redford followed up with one in the third, four in he fourth and two in the sixth while Plymouth struggled with one in the fifth and two in the seventh off Miller.

Franklin, Churchill Berry score 3-0 wins to pace American loop

The front-runners in the Berry Mack American loop scored identical 3-0 victories to pull another step away from the remaining six clubs.

Both Churchill and Franklin Berry defeated their foes by 3-0 scores to start the second round. It was Paul Hunt's Franklin team that tipped Ste-. venson Fanchers to stand alone on top with a 7-1 mark while Churchill handled the Plymouth Elks to stand second best at 5-4.

Franklin's Dave Watkins chalked up the shutout win over Fanchers with his third victory in as many outings as he three-hit Stevenson walking one and striking out three.

John Kolis suffered the loss for Fanchers with Franklin mustering just four hits. Kolis walked four and struck out one.

Franklin tallied once in the second inning when Joe Pollard walked, stole second, moved to third on a groundout and scored on a squeeze by Dan Long-

The fourth saw Franklin sacrifice in another run. With one out, Ken Fry ripped a three-bagger and dashed in on another sacrifice by Longeway.

A solo horner by Cliff Davidison in the fifth padded the Franklin lead. Fancher's only threats came in the second and sixth innings when it got two runners on in both cases with none out but failed to push them

Churchill triumph over the now 4-4 Plymouth crew. The Charger righthander gave up just two hits, walked three and struck out 12.

The two hits were both singles, one by Dave Pierce in the third and the other in the seventh by Howard Inch.

Bill DenHouter and Chuck Thomas hurled for Plymouth with starter Den-Houter taking the loss. Churchill got all three runs off DenHouter who went the first three innings and was tagged for just two hits.

Churchill scored all three runs in the fourth after one was out. Gary Condon and Kevin Nelson were both hit by DenHouter pitches and wild Dave Panzoff was the story in the pitched to second and third.

Crowe tops Churchill Berry in 8th, 6-5

Bentley Crowe tossed away a golden opportunity to knock down Stevenson Fanchers but did take full advantage of every scoring drive in the next game to nip Churchill Berrys, 6-5, in eight innings.

Trailing, 3-2, Crowe loaded the bases in the seventh against Fanchers but failed to push across the tying Doug Murphy suffered the loss for Crowe with John Kolis, Tim Murphy and Bob Ganzak all working for Fanchers. Kolis chalked up the victory and Crowe was held to three hits.

Stevenson got off to a 1-0 lead in the third when Mark Temby was safe on an error, Ganzak was safe on an error and Murphy hit into a fielder's choice with Temby scoring.

Three straight singles by Don Finn. Kolis and Ken Price pushed it to 3-0 in the fourth.

Crowe bounced back with two in its half of the inning. After Torn Schulz was safe on an error, Dave Waldock and Mike Neville singled and Glenn Stevens was safe on an error to slice it to 3-2.

Then came the seventh where Bentley loaded the sacks but failed to push across run No. 3.

It was Bentley's Curt Richards pitted against Churchill's Dave Panzoff in the following contest. Richards wound uup with a three-hitter while Panzoff gave up four hits. Both hurlers struck out 10 with walks telling the story. Each allowed eight base on balls with the deciding score in the last of the eighth produced by a two-run homer off the bat of Tom Duprie.

Bentley got off to a 1-0 lead in the first when Vezina was hit by a pitch, stole second and third and dashed in on an overthrow toss to third.

Churchill got that one back plus two in the top of the second. Ron Griffin drew a walk, Steve Ursitti walked, and with two out, Jay Nelson smashed a three-run homer to make step closer at 3-2 on a walk to Waldock, a stolen base and single by Stevens. A walk to Gary Condon, stolen base, error and wild pitch upped it to 4-1 for Churchill in the third. But Bentley sliced iit to 4-3 in the bottom of the stanza when Bob Cross singled, stole second and scored on a passed ball.

The last of the second saw Bentley

The fifth saw Bentley tie it at fourall. Cross walked, stole second, was passed ball to third and scored on a

It looked like Churchill might get it on the rebound in the eighth. Rod Hawraney walked and with two out, Griffin walked and Ursitti singled in Hawraney to make it 5-4. But come the last of the eighth,

Crowe didn't say die. Cross opened with a three-bagger. Vezina tapped a roller to Griffin at second who prompty tossed out Cross at the plate. Schulz made the second out and that's when Duprie did his thing and delivered a four-bagger to right center and Bentley Crowe was in the win

Redford stuns Crowe, 6-5

Redford Adray pulled off a Berry Mack suprise in second round action in a 6-5 victory over Bentley Crowe.

It was Redford's fourth win against five losses while Crowe, which had been attempting to catch both Churchill and Franklin Berry, slipped to a 4-3-1 record.

Dan Bushart went the seven inning route on the Redford mound and was tagged for 10 hits, walked three and struck out six in picking up the win.

Taking the loss for Bentley was Dan Vezina who gave up eight hits, walked three and struck out eight.

Bentley got off to a 1-0 lead in the first when Tom Schulz doubled and Ernie Storm walked with a wild pitch moving up the runners. The two then pulled off a double steal with Schulz

A double by Storm, a groundout and sacrifice by Vezina upped it to 24 in the fourth. The fifth saw Redford notch it at two-all on singles by Gary Stafford, Craig Hill, Bruce Stadler and Tom Jones.

Redford jumped to a 5-2 lead in the sixth on hits by Stafford, Ted Ackerman, Hill and Stadler. But Bentley Crowe bounced back in the top of the sixth to move to within one.

Paul Roshirt tripled and scampered in on a single by Vezina who wound up on third after a wild pitch and passed ball. Mike Duprie singled in

Redford got one of those runs back in the seventh when Jones walked, George Willard was hit by a pitch and Jones dashed around on two wild

Crowe gave it one last shot in the last of the seventh. Schulz singled and with one out, Cross doubled him home. Bushart bore down and struck out Roshirt but lost Storm on four balls. Mark Newell ended the rally with a fly to Bob Miller in left.

In The Pocket

They're girding for another behind the scenes battle along the bowling front and it is centered on the new material being used this summer in the refinishing of the lanes.

As usual the bowlers are up in arms, claiming the new finish will cut down scoring. And if there is anything that upsets a bowler it is something that will reduce his average.

On the other hand the proprietors, always on the lookout for something that will reduce maintenance costs, have taken to the new finish on the theory it will last longer and thus cut

Thus far the new finish has effected the men more than the women and there are those walking the middle line with the claim the new finish will be alright once the bowlers get used to it.

The battle over lane finishes is noth- careers of both Ned Day and Buddy ing new in bowling. It has been going on for years-or ever since shellac was used at the turn of the century.

FOR YEARS THE bowlers claimed the "home" team always had the edge in any match because it could have the lanes "doctored" to suit its

This was back in the days when shellac was the main substance used. It is no secret that 'tracks' could be worn in the shellac and offer a straight line to the 1-3 pocket.

In some cases bowlers went so far as to have spies in the establishment the night before any major matches to see that no shennigans went on in preparing the lanes.

The most celebrated case came some years ago when the Detroit E&B team was scheduled to open its match with Buddy Bornar's team in Chicago. Playing a hunch little Ken McDonald, then the manager of the E&B team, sent Hank Nosakowski over to Chicago to act as a spy.

Sure enough, Hank reported some shennigans and the E&B team refused to bowl. Quite a battle ensued before the match was completed with E&B the winner.

It often has been said that when shellac gave way to lacquer as an alley finish it marked the end of the

Livonia stumbles into 6th place

Ron Hellier's Livonia Griffin team slipped two notches in its quest of a playoff berth in the Adray loop.

After crushing Southfield, 8-1, Livonia fell to the same Southfield team, 1-0, and then to Royal Oak, 3-0. Livonia now stands at 6-8-1 in the league, good enough for No. 6.

Redford and Royal Oak are the only clubs over .500 thus leaving two berths open in the post-season battle which will include the top four teams.

Garden City at 8-9, Westland Burger at 7-8, Plymouth Bidwell at 7-7-1 and Livonia are in the battle for slots No. 3 and No. 4

The first of a twinbill saw Livonia's Ken Wood hurl a three- hitter in stopand win in three outings as the righthunder walked only two and struck

Jack Booth suffered the defeat with Livonia collecting its eight runs on eight hits. Booth walked four and struck out four.

After building up a 3-0 lead at the end of four innings, Southfield scored once in the fifth only to watch Livonia break things open in the sixth with five runs on only three hits.

Bob Wasilewski's double and Gar Frantz's three-bagger gave Livonia a first inning, 1-0 lead. Frantz belted a homer in the third to up it to 2-0.

The sixth saw Livonia explode with Tim Livesay leading off with a single and Wood drawing a walk. Jeff Waterstone singled in Livesay and Gary Condon walked to fill the sacks. Ron VanderLinden was safe on a three-base error and Rod Hawraney singled him home to finish off the scoring.

the seventh when Condon and Wasilewski singled. With none out, Frantz lined to center, Hawraney grounded into a fielder's choice and Bob Blaies popped to second to end that threat.

And it was into the last of the seventh, still a scoreless duel. Bill Dunkel led off with a single for Southfield and on a bunt off the bat of Bob Smith, Livonia third baseman Blaies tossed a throw into the dirt at second that bounced off the bag with runners moving to second and third. Fisher was given an intentional walk to fill the sacks.

With the infield pulled in, George Kelmigian rifled a shot up the middle and Dunkel dashed in with the deciding score.

John Agnello suffered the loss for Livonia with Southfield collecting just Then came another blanking, this one at the hands of Royal Oak as Scott Hornbacker handcuffed Griffin with another two-hitter. Hornbacker walked none and struck out eight.

Jerry Cyrul took the loss as he gave up three runs on four hits, walked one and struck out two.

Livonia's two hits were by Livesay and Mark Temby, both singles in the sixth inning. Meanwhile, Royal Oak struck for two in the third and addec a solo in the fifth for the win.

Although anything but happy over Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley's date allotments which gave Northville Downs only 24 nights during the summer, Executive Director John Carlo is making the best of a bad situation and is quite happy with figures for the first 10 nights.

Bentley DMIC moved into second place in the Berry Mack National league baseball race in a 2-1 victory over Franklin.

area rather than risk going away for a month and then coming back.

The end product is much better racing at Northville, not as good as usual at Windsor and the two tracks are about on the same level for the first time in a number of years.

Northville has only two weeks remaining of its 24 nights and then the pacers and trotters switch to Wolverine for 82 nights that could be just as good - business wise - as the Hazel Park campaign. It will be interesting to see what happens when the action shifts to the big mile oval.

Northville Downs has extended an invitation to all Chambers of Commerce in southeast Michigan to attend the annual C of C program Thursday (tonight).

This event has been growing each year and present indication points to the largest representation since the program was inaugurated four years

Although the meeting won't go down in the records books as one of the best, The Detroit Racing Association thoroughbred season will grind to a close a week from Saturday and then activities will move crosstown to Hazel Park if the current problems with the mutuel clerks' union are resolved.

LATEST RUMORS, and that's all one is able to pick up, are that the union negotiators sat down briefly with track management earlier this week and then walked out. Reports are nothing has been done to resolve Ky.

such matters as salary for Sunday racing, if adopted; a five or six day week and a contract that sweetens the pot a bit for all workers.

Tis rumored the union has told management it will not accept a fiveday week and nothing less than double time for Sunday work. "Tis known that Hazel Park management wants the Sunday programs since it apparently has a firm belief that the Sabbath could be a bigger business day than Saturdays. That isn't to be taken to mean it would drop Saturdays, far from it, but the rumors are management would prefer to be dark two days a week and operate five including Sunday.

As most union negotiators would say, there is still plenty of time to reach an agreement but one considers that no issues have been resolved thus far, then 10 days isn't that much time.

WIDEPREAD interest in terrariums and aquariums has taxed the supply of books related to the subjects in local libraries. Copies of a 16-page booklet, "Aquarium and Terrarium Designs," can be obtained by sending 50 cents to Vaungarde, Inc., Bradley Street, Owosso, Mich. 48867.

Farm markets listed

Michigan residents are showing more interest in picking their own produce for home canning and freezing this season.

One indication is the number of requests coming to the Michigan Department of Agriculture for copies of "Country Carousel," a guide to pickyour-own farms and roadside markets in Michigan.

The 1974 edition, lists nine farm markets in Wayne County and more than 500 markets throughout the state. The booklet is published by MDA with the financial cooperation of the Michigan Tourist Council which is helping to distribute the 80,000 copies.

The department plans to update the farm market lists again next year. County extension directors and chambers of commerce across the state cooperated in compliing the listings.

The booklet, whose popularity prompted the reprinting, also describes seven tours through Michigan's countryside and invites families to take mini-trips and "rediscover Michigan's fertile fields and bountiful harvests."

Plant of the week

Scindapsus, known commercially as Pothos or Devil's ivy, is a fleshy, tall vine resembling the philodendron.

It is distinguished from the philodendron by its ridged stem. The broad leaves are a waxy dark green with yellow variegation. Mature leaves grow to two feet long with blades lobed or slashed.

Soil should be rich in humus or other organic matter. Add broken brick, perlite or coarse sand to improve the drainage. Perlite attracts and holds moisture uniformly, furthering a healthy root system.

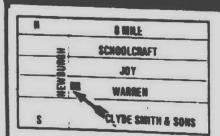

Water freely during the summer months but avoid overwatering in winter. Keep soil evenly moist, allowing it to become moderately dry between waterings. Fertilize during the growing season.

When building a free-standing garden arbor or gazebo, frame it sturdily-and that usually means with 2x4-inch lumber.

Lattice and other fill-in work can be 1x1, 1x2, or 1x4-inch strips, which will provide an airy effect while supporting climbing shrubs or vines.

Did you know that the automobile affects plant growth in your flower boxes, garden or greenhouse?" Now? By forming ozone, a bad poison made by automobile exhaust and sunlight.

Internal combustion engines of autornobiles give off nitrogen oxides and unburned hydrocarbons through the failpipe. Sunlight causes a splitting of the nitrogen oxides to form atomic oxygen, which combines with nitrogen to form the poisonous Ozone (O3). which not only causes damage to plants, but also to man and animals.

This bad poison (ozone) is not always restricted to main traffic areas. but is distributed into your home and garden, by air movement. Depending on air speed, ozone concentration may spread eight miles or so from the highway.

WE DON'T HAVE information on how ozone affects people, but with plants it causes "flecking" on leaves. The flecks are dead spots in which the chlorophyll has been killed off.

Ozone enters the plant leaves through gates called stomata. When the stomata are closed at night or during dry spells, no fleck injury can occur from ozone because the pollutant can't get into the leaf.

Another type of ozone injury besides flecking is smaller flower size, change in flower pirnentation (coloration), reduced crop production and altered maturity dates.

One researcher found that blossom size on blue lavender petunia plants was reduced by 40 per cent, and this occurs with no visible injury to the plant's leaves.

Other types of injury include bronzing, stippling and bleaching of leafy surfaces. If close examination does not reveal the presence of these pests-mite, red spider, aphid or leaf hopper injury—then then there's a good chance affected plants may be injured by ozone exposure. Ozone injury looks exactly like that of these insects.

Petunia, geraniums, morning glory, tomato, bean, squash, cucumber, pumpkin and maple are some of the more sensitive plants.

SOME NURSERIES sell fruit trees with wire labels. If the wire is not removed, it can girdle the trunk or limb of a tree and even kill it. Check your trees to see if a wire is girdling the trunk or branches.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC "We cut down a walnut tree. Will it continue to poison the plants nearby, even though the tree will be cut?"

Answer: No. Once the tree has been cut down, it will no longer produce the poisonous Juglone secretion. Also the sawdust or wood chips from walnut do not produce Juglone.

How to buy intelligently

In these days of the shrinking dollar, it makes good sense to try to get the most for your money. When considering a purchase, either in a store or in your own living room from a member of the $6 billion a year direct selling industry, follow these proven tips:

Care extends life of deck

For enjoyable outdoor living, a deck of a location, geared to easy access or patio built of wood remains cool, reflects little glare, adapts easily to slopimg terrain and can be carried upward in railings, benches screens and arbors.

But to assure long life, the deck builder is advised to apply a few rules as he buys his lumber and saws and assembles it in his yard.

These include the careful selection from the house. Seclusion can be attained with easily added wood screens, if need be.

For safety, beams and joists must conform in sizes and spacing to local codes: your building permit will provide it.

Choose lumber species that resist both wear and decay, such as heartwood western cedar, larch and Douglas fir.

For use in. or next to the soil. ob. tain pressure-treated lumber. Aboves ground ends and points of joinery canbe dipped in a preservative.

Apply details that do not trap moisture. For example, extend railing capboards over post tops.

Stains are easier to maintain than paint on a deck, light hues easier than dark. Use rust resistant fastenings.

Victory could cut Egnor pay

Ronald W. Egnor, candidate for the Democratic nomination for 2nd District congressman, bills himself as "the only candidate who won't be getting a pay raise" if elected.

Egnor earned $45,050 last year, or $2,550 more than a member of Congress. He disclosed his current and past earnings when he spoke to members of two United Auto Workers locals in Ypsilanti.

ACCORDING TO figures prepared by an Ypsilanti certified public accountant. Egnor earned $7,592 in 1967; $11.464 in 1968; $11.857 in 1969; $16.744 in 1970; $43.303 in 1971; $44.770 in 1972; and $45,050 in 1973.

Egnor had income taxes of $816 in 1967; $1.525 in 1968; $2.160 in 1970; $9.440 in 1971; $11.136 in 1972; and $12,540 in 1973

Egnor worked for the National Labor Relations Board in Washington, DC, from 1967 until he joined the Ypsilanti law firm of attorney Kenneth Bronson in 1969. The firm name was changed to Bronson and Egnor, when Egnor was made a partner in 1970.

EGNOR NOTED he is the only Democratic candidate in the race for congress who would be taking a cut in pay if he got the job.

Campaigning in Ypsilanti recently, Dr. Ed Pierce, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Second District, called the outcome of the California primary "an indicator is an accurate indicator of the way

"What really was being said by the voters in California was two things.

First, that a sizable number of people have been so disgusted and turned off by the Watergate scandals they are re-

Marj Lansing urges change in day care

Marj Lansing, candidate for Democratic nomination for Congress in the 2nd district, which includes Plymouth and Livonia, urged changes in the proposed rules for licensing and regulation of homes providing day care.

At a public hearing in Detroit, Mrs. Lansing challenged the Michigan Department of Social Services saying: "I have talked with enough parents, caregivers and social workers involved to suggest that the proposed new rules could result in the closing of many such facilities and might force working women to return to the welfare rolls."

ing are demanding tough campaign re-

According to Pierce, it was the first time in 20 years the California voter turnout was below 60 per cent. Even though there were heated gubernatorial races in both major parties, voter turnout was well below 50 percent.

The people did vote overwhelmingly to approve a rigorous reform meas-

"It is, of course, discouraging to see such a low voter turnout," Pierce concluded. "But the real lesson of the California primary is that people of this country are going to support every measure and every candidate whom they feel will take them away from

Watergate style politics and back on

Mrs. Lansing told DSS officials that proposed rules governing discipline and limiting the age and number of children who may receive care in such facilities are "too restrictive and could lead to a shortage of day care

"A large number of women who run day care homes in Washtenaw and Monroe counties believe DSS would be overstepping the rights of the state to lay down specific guidelines for discipline which both caregivers and parents find unworkable.

"There is ample evidence to that 47 per cent of women in the l force work because they have to migport themselves as single parents or to cope with inflation.

"I am convinced both federal and state governments will have to increase funding of day care centers.

"However, it is equally important that the new regulations for such centers be supported by the parents. surrogate mothers, teachers and social workers who run the centers."

Speaking to a group of seniors in Bently High School, Livonia, on July 10, Reuther repeated his hope that "despite the legal complexities in-
