School board may select 45-15 alternative at tonight's meeting

Before

AFTER RESTORATION of the body and interior, the classic Rolls Royce is ready for painting. Every inch of metal is checked for smoothness and trueness of shape before the next of 22 coats of paint is applied. "It takes time, patience, and a lot of coffee," says David Geddes of Plymouth Township.

Geddes rebuilds vintage cars

The smooth clean lines of a vintage Rolls Royce contrasts abruptly with an old farmhouse and barn on Schoolcraft Road in Plymouth Township. It is the contrast of David Geddes who lives there—he loves cars.

During the past two years, more than 12 different Rolls Royces have waited in the driveway between the barn and the house for Geddes's touch. He is a craftsman from times past. A throw-back to the days before Henry Ford, before mass production.

Geddes is a custom rebuilder of classic vintage cars: Webbers, Bentleys, Rolls Royces.

He admits he "gets high on cars." Geddes says it's been that way since he drove his first car home, a 1931 Chevy rescued from a local junkyard.

He likes to detail his work to perfection, so that every hole and every line fits perfectly and the car is rebuilt just as it was when it was produced many years ago.

It is a time consuming process getting the "old-new" look, often involving 22 coats of paint—hand rubbed, working textures of wood, special ordering of parts and making parts unavailable.

The finished product is worth it all to Geddes who says he got his biggest kick when an "owner looked at his completed car and couldn't even talk. He just walked around and around moving his hands looking at the car."

Each vintage car has a personality, according to Geddes. A characteristic that makes it unique and it is important to bring out that personality.

Of all the vintage cars Geddes has worked on he has never worked on his favorite personality. A car he says "puts the Rolls Royce in the back seat of prestigious cars in quality and workmanship." The French Bugatti Type 41 Royale.

Only six French Bugatti Type 41 Royales were ever produced and Geddes can list where each is, year produced, history, who currently owns each car and the serial numbers.

"Bugatti owners are extremely loyal," says Geddes. "One owner wants his burnt when he dies."

Most vintage car owners are loyal also, even if they don't have a Bugatti, he says. "For most people," says Geddes, "a vintage car is a love affair, a dream." And he has found that owners want to be close to their cars so they can come and see it when it is being rebuilt.

A vintage car is also a good investment — "better than stocks," says Geddes, "because you can drive this investment." Many people find it worthwhile to buy a vintage Rolls in poor condition for around $13,000 and spend $10 thousand having it rebuilt. Restored the Rolls is "usually worth more than the money invested in it," Geddes added.

Restoration is a lengthy process; often taking anywhere from 30 days to seven months. Parts are usually easy to get but "it's the detail that separates the prestigious vintage car from others and to obtain the desired results," explains Geddes, "it takes a lot of time, patience and coffee."

Geddes considers his work like that of an artist—creating. "It's like working on a fine piece of equipment. It's precision. It's quality."

After

MONTHS OF DETAILED work has left the car looking as it did when it was new many years ago, and now this classic Rolls Royce is ready for its owner to drive it away.

PLYMOUTH — A special meeting has been called tonight (Monday) for the Plymouth School Board to consider alternatives to the year round school program scheduled to start next Monday.

Negotiations with the Plymouth Education Association (PEA or teachers' union) and the school district have reached a point where the board last week met secretly to discuss alternatives to the "45-15" program and then released them publicly.

The PEA backed teachers at Miller Elementary School, where the pilot program would be housed, in saying on June 14th they would not teach until a 1974-75 contract was settled.

It is likely, that with just one week to go and with a special meeting having been called instead of the planned workshop session for the school board, that a decision will be made on which alternative will be implemented if 45-15 does not start as scheduled.

Negotiations between the PEA and the schools were scheduled for Friday, Sunday and earlier today (Monday) and the results of those sessions could have a great deal of impact on the board's decision tonight.

The board listed five alternatives it was considering for the program. Listed "not in any order of preference" they were:

A. Establish a small elementary school at East Middle School in the same way Central School now houses both an elementary and a middle school.

Starting enrollment at the new school at East would be about 150 students.

The initial enrollment at Miller would then be about 650 students but could grow to 690. At that point incoming students would be placed in schools where seats are available.

B. Accomplish "45-15" by beginning three tracks in September. (This would produce strange scheduling splits, the board said.)

C. Combine into three middle schools (keeping Pioneer, Central and either East or West middle schools. The board said this plan creates considerable logistic problems and, expense to the district in moving furniture in the time available.)

D. Open Miller to the "45-15" program as scheduled with willing teachers and administrators. (The board said this would risk an inevitable strike by the PEA.)

This alternative may not be feasible since the head of the transportation union, Loretta Olson, has told The Plymouth Observer & Eccentric that the Miller School bus drivers will not cross picket lines. The Miller drivers have been told to report to work on July 22 regardless of the status of teacher negotiations, Mrs. Olson said.

E. Start anytime between July 22 and Sept. 3 if a contract is reached. (It could be possible that the board would choose another alternative but keep this one as an option to exercise later.)

The board's special meeting, which is open to the public, will begin at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Monday) in the Plymouth School Board offices at 454

S. Harvey St. just south of Ann Arbor Trail.

Also on the special meeting agenda are the following agenda items:

1. High school attendance policy.

2. Board of Education by-laws.

3. Selection of an architect for the new elementary schools to be built. (The schools are already working with the architect on the addition to Plymouth-Canton High School.) This was listed on the board agenda as a "discussion item."

4. "Others."

Canton candidates' statements run today

CANTON — Fifteen candidates in the Canton Township primary have responded to questions asked by the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric.

Their statements appear in today's edition on pages 4 and 5.

Each of the four supervisor candidates were allotted three typed pages to provide biographical information and answers to the questions while the candidates for treasurer and the three trustee seats were allotted two pages each. All candidates were told that if they exceeded that length, their statements would be cut.

Two candidates did not respond — Grant Campbell, the incumbent township treasurer who is seeking reelection, and Irene G. Murphy, a candidate for the two-year trustee term.

Since he does not face primary opposition, Clerk John Flodin was not asked for a statement. The same is true of the four constable candidates.

A candidates' forum for Canton Township candidates will be held next Thursday, July 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the Plymouth-Canton High School auditorium.

The event, which is sponsored jointly by the Canton Township Jaycees, the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women, will allow each candidate three minutes to answer the following questions:

"What are your priorities for Canton Township?"

"How would you implement them?"

In addition, written questions for the candidates will be accepted from the audience.

For the candidates' statements appearing today as a public service of the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric, each candidate was asked to answer the following questions:

"Do you endorse the public safety millage? Why or why not?"

"Should Canton have a regional shopping center? If so, where?"

"In general, what are your feelings on zoning and future development in the township?"

"What long range goals do you see for Canton?"

Candidates for the township supervisor and trustee posts were also asked, "Should the township acquire Mettetal Airport?"

In addition, supervisor hopefuls were asked, "What do you feel about the Canton Cable TV franchise?" and "Does Canton need a full time attorney?"

The treasurer candidates were asked, "Do you see the need, in the future or now, for the treasurer's job to be full time?" (It currently is a part-time post.)

At PHS --languages flourish

By JANAN GHANNAM

PLYMOUTH—In implementing the modular schedule system at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools, students are able to meet some of the educational requirements a fast changing world demands.

Many feel that one prerequisite of getting along in this mobile society is the ability to speak a language other than your own native tongue.

In regards to this, both Plymouth high schools have seen an increasing trend of enrollment in their four year foreign language programs.

Dr. Jerry J. Morris, coordinator of foreign languages at the Plymouth Community Schools said that even though enrollment in foreign language classes has been on a decline nationally, the Plymouth high schools have seen an increased amount of student interest in this area.

"The language requirements in high schools and universities are not as stringent as they used to be," he said, "but our increased enrollment is a great compliment to our teachers."

Next September's enrollment includes: 465 students taking Spanish; 451 students taking French; 219 students electing German and 146 students electing Latin.

Enrollment in these classes has been so great that an extra part-time teacher has been hired to help with the influx of French students.

To keep up with the trend of language as an art, Dr. Morris hopes to offer new "mini" language courses not generally offered in regular high school curriculums to the Plymouth students.

"I conducted a survey to find out how many students would like to study a foreign language as a mini-course," Dr. Morris said, "and 150 students said they would like to learn Russian, Chinese, Arabic, Italian and Greek."

Dr. Morris explained that since Plymouth high schools are under a modular schedule system, 25 per cent of a student's time is unscheduled for independent study.

During this time, students are able to study subjects which they have an interest in, but which are not offered in the curriculum. "I am hoping that by September we will have volunteers either from the high school or the community to teach each of the five languages for three hours a week."

"Students are eager to use their independent study time learning one of these languages," Dr. Morris said. "The volunteers need not be certified teachers," he explained, "but must be patient, eager to teach and confident in themselves."

Volunteers can set their own schedules through the academic year and will be working in coordination with Dr. Morris in selecting instructional material.

Emphasis will be placed on conversational skills rather than reading and writing skills in the mini-courses.

Dr. Morris explained that the idea behind these courses is that students should be skilled enough in the foreign language that they will feel confident and comfortable in the foreign country they visit.

In a four year language program at the Plymouth high schools, the opposite method is used.

The first two years are reading and writing drills with a heavy emphasis on conversational skills in the last two years.

DeHoCo struck

GUARDS and other workers at the Detroit House of Correction went on strike at 6:30 a.m. Saturday to protest for danger pay and other items such as retirement and cost of living wage adjustments in their contract negotiations with the City of Detroit. Guards' spokesmen said they were also concerned about conditions at DeHoCo. Prison spokesmen said supervisory personnel and Detroit Police cadets were running the facility on Five Mile Road which houses some 650 men and 225 women prisoners. (Staff photo by Bob Woodring)

Medical technicians trained to save lives

By HANK MELJER

Repairing medical equipment is usually a routine business, but at critical moments in the operating room the skills of a bio-medical electronic technician (BMET) can save a patient's life.

Schoolcraft College in Livonia is one of the few schools in the country which trains BMETs. It succeeds, according to coordinator Jerry Wale, because a cooperative education program with area hospitals brings students into working contact with an array of medical machinery too complex to ever master in the classroom.

IN A SENSE, BMETs are electricians who take risks.

"They are electronic technicians who have specialized in the medical profession," Wale explained. "They must be able to repair and maintain any type of medical equipment you might find in a hospital, doctor's office or clinic."

"The field is so broad we can't train them completely at the school. That's why we use the co-op sites. This summer 15 BMETs are training at 11 different hospitals from Ann Arbor to East Detroit."

According to Wale, as of last year only 22 schools in the United States offered training for bio-medical electronic technicians. Half of those were connected with the military.

"Anybody who lives within 200 miles of here will end up coming to us if he or she wants to be a BMET."

Before they begin their hospital training, BMET students take the standard Schoolcraft electronics curriculum, plus courses such as medical terminology and anatomy and physiology from the medical curriculum.

"If they talk to a doctor or nurse and are told where to attach an electrode, they at least have to understand the language."

"There's much more responsibility for BMETs than for most electricians," he added. "As a general rule, electronic technicians go in and fix a piece of machinery and if it doesn't work they're just called back the next day and balled out for it and that's the end of it."

"The BMET could be called in to fix a piece of equipment, such as a defibrillator, to take an extreme case, which must be thoroughly checked out every so often."

A defibrillator is a pair of plates which attaches to a heart attack victim's chest and is used to start the heart beating again through a series of electric shocks timed to coincide with his pulse.

"One day the BMET may be a bit tired. Maybe he had a rough night the previous night and the next morning he says 'that cord looks good, I just won't bother checking it.' That may be the day the defibrillator is called upon to save a patient's life."

"When the heart goes into defibrillation, in effect it isn't working anymore. Doctors tell me they've got two minutes to get the heart functioning properly before the brain is about dead."

"In two minutes you don't have time to replace a cord. If a BMET says a cord is OK but it really isn't, undoubtedly he's killed a patient. If the BMET is sure he checked it, but only 90 per cent sure, he can lose an awful lot of sleep worrying."

BEFORE STUDENTS embark on the BMET program their instructors at Schoolcraft stress the responsibility built into the job.

Wale acknowledges, however, that not every case is a matter of life and death. "Surgery is just one small part of it," he said. The BMETs spend much of their time in hospital labs repairing machinery used for everything from testing blood to researching skin grafts.

Twenty-year-old BMET student Brian Barker of Redford Township is working in the respiratory therapy department at Pontiac General Hospital. Like other students, he will spend about 14 weeks at this training site, then switch to another hospital for his second semester of work.

"I'm really pleased with the program," he said. Pontiac General trains co-op students according to a schedule which exposes them to machinery in almost every sector of the hospital.

WHY DO students go into bio-medical electronic technology? "It's a tougher way to go," Wale said, comparing the BMET program to the regular electrical curriculum.

"It's part prestige, but students have a better chance of getting jobs after they graduate. There's a shortage of these people because it's such an incredibly fast-growing field."

The Schoolcraft program started small. Right now there are only about 30 graduates, but several have already been responsible for starting BMET programs at area hospitals. Detroit Osteopathic Hospital's BMET staff consists wholly of Schoolcraft alumni.

In recent years the program has grown considerably. Wale estimates that upwards of 300 students now enrolled at Schoolcraft may choose to graduate as BMETs.

Although the demand for bio-medical technicians is growing fast, one of Wale's biggest obstacles is convincing some hospitals that a BMET is a desirable addition to their staffs.

"One problem when students call hospitals and ask for the personnel department to find out about a job, is that hospital personnel take the attitude that 'we don't have one now, we've never had one, we've gotten along fine, therefore, we don't need one."

"What they don't realize is that, although the equipment can be sent back to the factory and repaired, it may happen to be a $100,000 piece of machinery used in surgery. That's kind of hard to pack up and ship back, especially if a patient is hooked up to it at the time."

ALTHOUGH SOME hospitals have been reluctant to hire BMETs, Wale has little difficulty placing his graduates. "I'm not too worried about it," he said.

He cited findings which show the job market for medical technologists is doubling every year. "This program is alive, it's growing and it's needed."

"One doctor I know refuses to start surgery unless the BMET is present in his operating room. The only way he'll work is if our man is there, already scrubbed, and in full dress with all his equipment."

"The whole program is so new that many hospital personnel have never heard of it. Personnel at one new co-op site were scared to let our students do anything. They'd go into the lab and try to learn something and the technicians would give them the impression they didn't belong."

"I put an excellent student in there and he proved he was interested in their work. He wasn't a threat to them. In a matter of minutes he was able to repair a machine and have it working again."

ACCORDING TO Wale, co-op experience in the hospitals is indispensable if the Schoolcraft BMETs are to be adequately trained.

"You should train someone on the equipment they'll be working on. If you're training him to be an automotive mechanic, you make sure there are engines available for him to work on."

"The hospital field is a lot different.

Hospital electronic equipment is advancing so fast that every five years every piece of equipment is obsolete."

Wale estimates the cost of starting a bio-medical electronics lab at Schoolcraft would be about $250,000. "That would barely get it started," he said. "With the equipment obsolete in five years, $50,000 a year would be a little steep. The board of trustees wouldn't give us that kind of money." He thinks it's just as well, because equipment differs in each hospital.

"The biggest problem I have is to explain to hospital personnel just what a bio-medical technician can do, what he's worth and what his responsibilities are," he said, "once they know these things they demand I send them more students."

Wale's graduates start at salaries ranging from about $9,000 up to $15,000 per year. Co-op students are even paid $3 per hour while they're training in the hospitals.

So far the graduates have all been male, but Wale sees an increased interest among female students. Two girls are now in their first year of BMET training.

"They're going to have a real good place in the program," Wale said. "Most of the lab personnel are ladies. I think female technicians would be very successful. Three of our training sites have already asked to have the girls when they're ready for co-op."

"The BMET is in a strange position," he concluded. "He's an electrician. He's not as much medical as he'd like to be, but he doesn't have time. He's too tied up with the electrical problems."

"He always has to be prepared. There have been cases when BMETs are paged to report to surgery with full equipment—that's a page they're always afraid they're going to hear."

"It means there's a patient on the table, an emergency breakdown, and they've got to get in there, scrubbing up on the way through. Two minutes might be all the time they have."

Canton JCs launch 'Operation Identification'

CANTON—The Canton Township chapter of the U.S. Jaycees will give local residents an opportunity to protect their valuables against theft with

"Operation Identification," a burglary prevention project. Under "Operation Identification," residents may borrow engraving equipment supplied by the Jaycees to engrave their driver's license number on valuable articles. In the event of theft, the property owner would report the theft and his license number to police. Police statistics show that residential burglaries are rising rapidly in Canton Township.

Drew Rentz, chairman of the project for the Canton Jaycees, said the locations of engraving equipment check-out centers will be announced late this month.

THE JAYCEES have received the cooperation of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department for the project.

"Operation Identification," which is being conducted in many communities by local Jaycee organizations, was originated in 1963 in Monterey Park, Calif., by Police Chief Everett F. Holaday, with the cooperation of the local Exchange Club. In 5,500 participating homes in Monterey Park only five burglaries were reported since 1963.

In nonparticipating homes there were more than 1,800 burglaries. Participating residents were given stickers for their doors and windows warning would-be thieves that all valuable items were marked.

"If we can get everybody to participate," said the Monterey Park police chief, "it looks as if we will have licked the burglary problem."

In Canton Township, says Drew Rentz, homeowners who borrow the engraving tools will be asked to en-grave their driver's license number next to the manufacturer's serial number when possible.

The engraving should be on a non-removable part of the object.

PERSONS borrowing the engraving tools will be given a blank form on which to list all items engraved and the locations of the numbers.

This form should be kept in a safe place by the resident, according to the Jaycees, "Numbers make it much easier to identify objects and track down rightful owners. Verbal descriptions are not nearly so efficient, as evidenced by the police auctions across the country whose recovered stolen goods are sold because ownership can't be established."

Typical items that should be engraved are: television sets, radios, stereo phonographs and tape recorders, bicycles, cameras, typewriters, electric tools, jewelry, musical instruments and kitchen appliances. Residents participating in Canton Township will be given stickers to put on their doors warning potential thieves that "all items of value on these premises have been marked for ready identification by law enforcement agencies."

The Jaycee "Operation Identification" chairman said the engraving helps stop thefts in three ways:

IF A THIEF is stopped by police with the marked items in his possession, he can't plead convincingly that they are his own.

Secondly, the possessions now are easily identifiable, which means "fences" who buy and resell stolen property are cool to these items; the thief may get stuck with the goods even though what he really may want is money.

Third, the stickers may discourage a thief from attempting entry.

Painting marks judge's service

JUDGE THOMAS J. FOLEY and his wife, Mary Katherine, received an oil painting done by R.L. Bruce. The gift, planned by Shirley Saltzman, Tom Fox Jr., Earl Mosner and Thomas Flanagan, marked the eighth anniversary of the judge's service on the Wayne County Circuit Bench.

Languages flourish at PHS

Dr. Morris stated that the curriculum coordinating committee reported that students felt the major languages at the United Nations should be part of the regular curriculum in high schools.

"Success breeds success," Dr.

Morris said. "If we can start Russian and Chinese in the mini-courses with a good response from the students, it will be a good argument to offer the courses in the regular curriculum."

Dr. Morris explained that once the mini-courses get going, students will be able to receive academic credit just as they would for a regular language class.

Members of the community fluent in Arabic, Chinese, Greek, Italian, or Russian, interested in sharing their language skills with high school students, are asked by Dr. Morris to contact him at Plymouth Canton High School.

Twp. taps 1st woman planner

By MARIE MCGEE
PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—The first woman planning commissioner in Plymouth Township history was appointed this week. She is Mrs. Doris Ritchie, 46107 Ann Arbor Tr.

A lifelong resident of the area, she was described by Supervisor J.D. McLaren, who made the appointment, as "as knowledgeable as any of the other candidates under consideration." He indicated that at least three others were considered for the post.

She is "aware of the problems confronting the township, and in my opinion, would serve the planning commission and the township extremely well," McLaren said.

Trustee Russell Ash noted that by her address, Mrs. Ritchie residents in the western sector of the township and asked: "will she be inclined to be prejudiced against development in the western part of the township?"

Supervisor McLaren answered that he had discussed this with Mrs. Ritchie and was assured that if there was any conflict of interest she would disqualify herself.

Also approved were the reappointments of commissioners James Griffith and John J. Goulet. Their terms expire in July 1977. Mrs. Ritchie will fill a vacancy created by the recent resignation of Steve Hulce.

John S. Dayton dies

PLYMOUTH — Former Municipal Judge John Dayton, a charter member of the Rotary Club of Plymouth, and one of the city's outstanding legal minds until his retirement some years ago, died Wednesday morning in the Lillyord Nursing Home in Preston, Minn. at the age of 100-plus.

Born and raised in Preston where he and his sister taught school, Dayton came to Plymouth in 1916 and immediately became involved in the legal profession and public service.

During this colorful career he was a law partner of Paul Voorhies, with offices where the First Federal Savings building now stands. Voorhies went on to become state attorney general while Dayton remained in Plymouth.

Devoting most of his time to public service John served as attorney for the City of Plymouth, later for Plymouth Township and then for the Board of Education.

Because of his legal background he was named the area's first municipal judge.

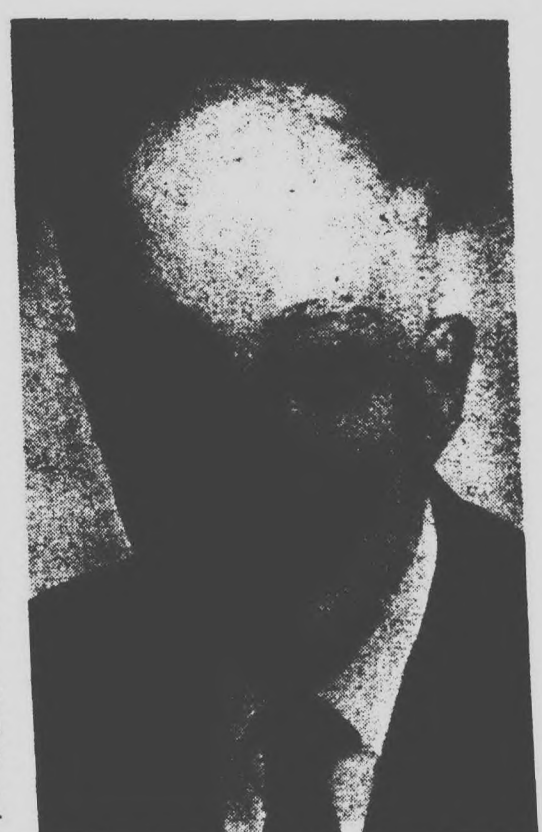

This public service developed his interest in the community's activities and he was one of the group which organized the Rotary Club of Plymouth that recently celebrated its 50th birthday. He was the last of 23 charter members.

It was while attending a Rotary meeting, several years ago, in company with the late Carl Caplin, that he narrowly escaped death. Walking in tandem at the intersection of Main Street and Ann Arbor Trail they were struck by an auto. Fortunately neither was badly injured.

Shortly after this accident John moved to Virginia in a home built for him by his stepson, John W. Kludge, of New York.

He lived there until several months ago—shortly after celebrating his 100th birthday—when he was moved to the nursing home in his native Minnesota.

Nursing services were held Saturday morning at the Dale Thawwald Funeral Home, in Preston, Minn.

15 of Canton Township's candidates

Supervisor:

JACK MARTS

ROBERT E. GREENSTEIN
Robert E. Greenstein
(Dem.), of 47500 Hanford Rd.,
Plymouth.

Jack Marts (Dem.), of 2350 Denton Rd., Belleville.

BIOGRAPHY: Jack Marts—candidate for supervisor of Canton Township; born June 22, 1924, age 50 years—Married, three children—boy, 22—girl, 18—boy, 13. Resident of Canton eight years—Address 2350 Denton Rd., Belleville. Purchased the old Simmons farm in 1967 (above address) for $80,000 and converted it into a farm school and riding school. Present value one quarter million dollars. BS and masters degree from Eastern Michigan University. Present occupation: owner and director of the "Children's Farm and Riding School," a non-profit corporation recorded with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Taught special children in Plymouth, Riverview and Taylor Public School until 1972.

Safety millage—yes and no—there is too much money around from all kinds of funds (federal etc.) to support many safety projects in Canton to have taxpayers support such projects. I plan to hit the road and acquire the necessary funds to institute a safe township.

Law enforcement—I am not knowledgeable in this area, but there is plenty of help at the state and federal levels. This information will be compiled and submitted to the residents for their approval.

Regional shopping center—no builder or investor will build in Canton unless they are sure of adequate growth prospects, trends in development, availability of land. I plan on furnishing all builders, investors and land developers with detailed information on growth projections, zoning laws, inspections so that there will be no question as to what will be expected of them to build in Canton. I do not see any prospects of a central shopping area within the next five years. Wonderland and Westland, just a few minutes away, would prevent such a project at this time.

Zoning—the master plan must be updated. Property owners must be made aware of trends in growth and zoning. All zoning must be made with residents in mind. Zoning and planning must be made with the idea that all of the land in Canton in the near future will be utilized for its residents.

Attorney—at this point in time I really see no need for the township to have a full-time attorney. However, it is not too far in the future when we will need a full-time attorney. I would prefer to have an attorney on a cases basis at the present. Most of the legal opinions come up regarding zoning, and with the up-dating of the master plan and new zoning many of the legal questions will be answered in the plan.

Cable TV—I am not opposed to cable TV. I am opposed to the putting in of cable without having competitive bidding.

Mettetal Airport—I am really not sure on this subject. I do not have the necessary facts, however, the facts regarding the purchase of the airport should be gathered and submitted to the residents. I have a small feeling that this is not the best use of the land.

Long range goals—The western part of the township could be developed into one of the best recreational areas in all of the state. I FORESEE BRIDLE paths, bike paths and facilities to meet the needs of all our residents. We can have a sculpture lake and shaded areas just to sit and relax. Several professional office plazas and unique shopping plazas of the small town type where the owner and shopper know each other and service will be the by-product. I see several professional areas where the township will have engineering offices, insurance offices and adequate medical facilities. With the new zoning-updated master plan, I foresee an oasis for residents surrounded by the desert bedroom communities as Wayne-Westland.

By new and unique approaches to planning where people will want to live—not just eat and sleep.

I will submit to the residents my net worth and income over the past five years with all assets and liabilities. This will help start election reform that to date is not possible at the state and federal level.

I have lived in Canton Township well in excess of 10 years. Most of my schooling was received through the Detroit Public Schools, graduating from Mumford High School in northwest Detroit. I received my A B degree in political science from Wayne State University in 1957, a Juris Doctor degree from Wayne State University Law School in 1961 and have been a practicing attorney in the City of Livonia since 1961. I was a co-founder of the Livonia Volunteer Probation Department program and served as its first Chief Probation Officer. I was appointed and served as Justice of the Peace for Canton Township until the District Court was implemented.

As the first president of the Northwest Canton Homeowner's Association and first president of the Federation of Canton's Homeowners' Associations, I became substantially involved with preventing the rezoning into 60-foot lots of massive amounts of land in northwest Canton Township now zoned acre lots, and was deeply involved for almost two years in fighting the Mocerri shopping center project as well as becoming the chief negotiator for Holiday Park and obtaining for them all of their 14 points demanded of the county and state during the negotiations concerning the perverss ON Joy Road and have incorporated many, if not all, of the homeowner's associations that now exist in the Township.

I am a member of the Michigan Bar Association, Livonia Bar Association, American Bar Association, and the Michigan and American Trail LLawyers Association.

I was given the opportunity to negotiate for Northwest Canton with Practical Home Builders, one of the state's largest building companies, concerning the original Mayflower P.U.D. complex which was to have over 1,800 units and 40 acres of multiples. Without aid or assistance of the township and with little, if any, support from any of the elected officials of the township, I was able to negotiate a 1,200 unit complex and obtain an agreement from Practical Homes to exclude from their plan the entire 40 acres of multiples originally requested and planned as well as two separate million dollar recreation complexes on either side of Warren Road containing swimming pools, tennis courts, clubhouses and parks.

The service crisis in Canton today is the haphazard planning of the community, including far too many multiple dwellings already existing, zoned for the future or planned to be zoned as well as improper and lax internal controls within Township government. The lack of a full time township attorney and weak and ineffective ordinances, zoning laws and master plan add to the chaos which is confronting the citizenry of the township today.

If elected, I would immediately revamp the entire ordinance structure of the township and bring every ordinance and law up to date with the surrounding communities, immediately change the zoning laws to conform with areas such as the cities of Livonia and Ann Arbor, taking the best from each, and limiting greatly the zoning and erection of multiple dwellings. I would immediately attempt to change the P.U.D. ordinance to exclude multiples therefrom and revamp and up to date the Canton master zoning structure as to provide for larger lots, fewer multiples and strict buffers between commercial, multiple and residential properties.

I would attempt to find funds, both on the federal, state and local levels to purchase park lands which would then be dedicated to the citizens of Canton Township for their use and enjoyment forever. The state has funds and facilities to create lake and ponds on public lands and stock them with fish to continue to add to the rural atmosphere which is fast becoming ancient history in our township.

I would extend and expand the recently initiated program of offering free farm plots for residents of Canton Township so as to allow them to grow food with their own hands.

I would immediately hire a full time township attorney whose office would be at the Township Hall and who would be involved in all negotiations, transactions and business in a salaried basis as well as attending all township meetings.

I would immediately ask the newly elected board of trustees to institute by ordinance a consumer protection council which would be staffed by appointees of residents of the Township which would in turn control and curtail abuses against consumers consumers by builders, developers and others.

I would further ask the newly elected township board to immediately institute sweeping changes in the internal governmental structure including, but not limited to, direct cut-off dates for township and planning commission agendas, and new forms of public notices for petitions to rezone property which would include the erection of signs of notices of rezoning upon the actual site which is the subject of the rezoning petition so that all surrounding residents would have notice and the ability to appear at a public hearing.

The actual conduct of township board meetings should be changed so as to allow interested residents of the township to be more closely included in its deliberation and decision making.

I would personally vote against the vast majority of multiple and commercial applications and would in all likelihood, vote against all such applications unless said erections would be of special benefit to the township and its citizens. I feel strongly that this township has more than sufficient multiple zoning and commercial zoning so that no court in Wayne County would force additional such zoning on the Township against their will.

I would immediately ask the board of trustees to reinstate the Citizens Advisory Council and to initiate other volunteer bodies so as to utilize the lay experience and expertise held by so many of our people within the township for the benefit of all.

Everyone who is interested would be welcomed into township government on a volunteer, nonpaid basis so that the entire Township may benefit from their expertise and so as to allow the government of the Township to get closer to the people that it represents.

I would immediately ask the Township Board to request the clerk of the township to mail notices to all interested groups and individuals in the township of all board or planning commission agendas in advance provided that those groups or interested people furnish the township with stamped self-addressed envelopes for that purpose.

I would insist that every township meeting or study session be made pub-

JAMES POOLE

James Poole (Rep.), of 44330 S. Umberland, Plymouth.

I was born in Dearborn on Sept. 19, 1929. I graduated from Fordson High School and received a bachelor's degree in political science with a minor in business administration from the University of Southern Mississippi in 1966.

I served in the Air Force during the Korean War, and retired as a major with a pension and disability. I now work out of my own home part-time. I have a real estate license, insurance license and securities license.

I have a wife, Greta, and three daughters, LeRhea, 19, Gena, 12, and Lynette, six. I am presently an incumbent member of the board of trustees.

I endorse the safety millage because of the need for more fireman, equipment, and fire station. The police force cannot be decided until we have a decision from the Wayne County Sheriff on continued service or the courts decide whether he must serve us or not. If the courts decide against us, we should study the feasibility of a combined force with Plymouth and Plymouth Township to save money. Do we really need three police chiefs, THREE POLICE STATIONS, ETC? Also I would like to see an article in the papers giving the citizens some facts i.e. each mill would result in approx $142,000 per year less unpaid taxes and this in turn would pay for x number of fireman, X number of policeman, X number of vehicles, etc.

Canton and the whole area could use a regional shopping center for two excellent reasons. 1) For the tax base and money returned to the schools and the community. 2) For the convenience of the people. However, the immediate need is questionable because the population may not be able to support it. The location will be determined by population growth, direction, the availability of the land, and willingness on the part of some developer to take a gamble. In any event, there should be:

1) a capability to support it because we do not have unoccupied buildings
2) a concrete plan with committed or potential tenants known by our officials
3) no "dropping" of such a development next to existing subdivisions where homeowners thought they were moving into a housing area.

I think the Master Plan now under consideration and due for public hearings in the next few months will bring us up to date on zoning. We need areas where a working family can afford to buy. We need areas where a wealthy family can have a one, two, five or ten acre estate and mansion. We need to encourage industry or tax generating enterprises so that these working families who are presently living here can afford to STAY here.

In a sense we do have a full time attorney. Our costs for the last three years were slightly over $7,000 per year and we never lacked for legal advice when we needed it. I would suggest one change. In the future when an item appears to be "hot" or controversial, I would expect our attorney to be at the meeting.

The Cable TV franchise for Canton is almost like an Abbott and Costello movie. Thank God I voted against it and most of the people and news media agree with me even though I was the sole opponent. The contract was not as good as the one Plymouth negotiated. If you voters do not do anything else-vote the franchise down or we may get a hosing we will never get over.

No one can say whether or not we should acquire Mettetal now. The feasibility study must be completed.

The most important and immediate goal is to escape from the alarmists and factional situation we have now. I would like to see unity and have our community return to a cohesive group where all people and all organizations will work together for the good of the community.

I would recommend: (1) a Citizens Development Committee to work with our planner on community development. There would be seven members plus the planner. (2) A Consumers Protection Council of five members headed by a present candidate for office. Three would be women. Their function would be to review complaints against people doing business in the township. (3) A Parks and Recreation Commission for the township program and a representative to work with Homeowners Associations. A separate position for a senior citizens coordinator.

Reorganize township administration to define responsibility and authority to prevent recurrence of such incidents as the planning commission members expiration dates questions.

RALPH FOOTE

Ralph Foote (Rep.), of 2024 Marlowe, Plymouth.

Biographical information: I was born in Wayne County in 1911. I have been a resident of the first subdivision (McIntyre Manor sub) Clinton Township for 28 years. I have been married 43 years to the same girl I fell in love with when I was 20. We raised four girls who have since grown up and have taken their place in society—two as nurses, one as a secretary and one as a teacher of music. I had four years of high school and am a personal student of psychology. I was elected to three four-year terms as justice of the peace of Canton Township, and one two-year term as constable which I am now serving, doing everything I can possibly do to help in the community in spite of no recognition or assistance of any kind from the township board. I resigned the office of justice of the peace in the year 1969 in the face of abolishment of the justice of the peace system through the constitutional convention and the establishment of new district courts.

Robert Greenstein was appointed to fill the office until the end of 1969 by the township board headed by Philip Dingleley. Greenstein then ran for the office of district judge and was defeated by Dunbar Davis, now district judge.

Question on safety millage: I say it is long overdue; it should have been on the ballot two years ago. The present board did not heed the advice of Col. Frederick Davids, the former Michigan State police head who told the boards of all the townships that funds would be cut off and that police protection would be cut off so that townships would either have to provide their own police protection or pay the county for it.

I want our township to have its own safety department—not to rent one. I want men and women in the department that can evaluate the extreme situations with sensible restraint and to use only the force that is necessary to bring the situation to a conclusion. I want a well trained and efficient safety department. The end result will be a happy community with respect on both sides by the police for the community and by the community for the police. I will seek out all federal funds that are available to augment the safety millage, thereby saving the taxpayers a great deal of money.

In commenting on a regional shopping center, I think it is too early to decide whether or not Canton should have a regional shopping center. I think this should be determined by the people as a whole no matter when where or how we do not want and should not want to stop progress, but the people as a whole can evaluate their needs as needs arise and decide intelligently considering both sides of any proposal. There is surely bound to be genuine conflicting interests and the people should let their needs be known and their protestations be known through intelligent representation and not undue loud protests and disruptions of township board meetings. Now, nothing feasible can be accomplished under the pre-stated conditions. I think the supervisor should be active and accessible and should listen with compassion to any complaint, no matter how trivial and follow it with dispatch. He should use preponderance as to whether or not the complaint is legitimate. There should not be a hidden ball. Let's tell it as it is.

On the question of a full time township attorney: If we are going to have a safety department and ordinances enforce, zoning, building codes, safety and fire regulations will be thoroughly enforced, it is imperative that we have a full time attorney. He will be required to advise and act as prosecutor in all township ordinance cases and he will act as intermediary in various disputes that arise both pro and con.

On the question of cable TV: I cannot comment on the question at this time because I know very little about it. I don't know whether it would be good, bad or mediocre. I would have to do research to find out about the intricate workings of cable TV. There is one thing for sure, I will not vote to allot any franchise without public notice and sealed bids.

On the question of acquiring Mettetal Airport: I cannot see any justifiable need for this facility. We are only 15 minutes away from Metro Airport and only 15 minutes away from Willow Run Airport. I think there are more urgent needs such as long range planning for parks, recreational facilities, industrial parks, schools to provide safe crossings for our school children. We should try to provide adequate housing and aid to the elderly and adequate snow removal (the last two winters left something to be desired), strict enforcement of the building codes and zoning ordinances.

Now to sum it all up, all I want to do is a good job, respecting the needs of the residents, respecting the needs of business. My aspirations are for a good, clean government, a good healthy community, a good, healthy relationship with the press, notifying the community through the press of up-coming proposals and events which will involve the whole community, now and in the future.

Some people have asked me if I intend to erect any campaign signs and I tell them "no." Why? Because I will not clutter up the township with the erection of gaudy and reprehensible signs. The federal, state and county governments spend millions of dollars in removing such blight each year; and there is also a law prohibiting the erection of signs which are considerably too close to the roadways. I think I can convey my message to the news media and through my and their concerted efforts, the news media will convey and get the message across to the people.

Treasurer:

RICHARD I. WOLFE JR.
Richard I. Wolfe Jr. (Rep.),
of 44648 Jeffrey Circle,
Plymouth.

Age 33; married, son 13, daughters 10 and two. Education: University of Mich & EMU, graduate studies in financial management, University of Mich BBA majoring in finance, accounting & management; Highland Park College, Assoc. Degree in pre-engineering. Occupation: Presently administrative assistant, Wayne County Board of Commissioners; past legislative assistant to mayor of Highland Park; past assistant to management & marketing consultant.

QUESTIONS:

(1) As one assesses the treasurer's job in Canton Township, a strong case can certainly be presented for the position to be full time. Basically, the treasurer, as chief disbursement officer, has primary responsibility for all township funds, in addition to enforcing the general property tax law and collecting property taxes. But as well, the State Constitution provides that the township supervisor, clerk and treasurer are responsible for providing the executive leadership, formulating policies, and directing programs. Canton has come a long way in just a short period in terms of population growth and the assessed valuation. The population has more than doubled in a couple of years, and the total assessed valuation has risen from $22 million in 1970 to $142 million in 1974; with every indication that we will exceed $200 million for 1975. With the present existing administrative work load, and the obvious future needs facing us, the treasurer's position in my view, could easily be full-time at the present and quite probably and logically will be full-time someday in the future.

(2) Yes, I endorse the public safety millage proposal. With the glaring need for adequate police and fire protection and effective law enforcement these days in general, and the lack of available financing at the local level to fund these needed programs, the millage proposal is part of the answer.

More state, county and federal funds should be sought as well, however, since as long as we remain a township, we are entitled by state statutes to law enforcement protection from the county and from the state. The millage, therefore, should be viewed as supplemental. I believe that every community should be committed to providing its fair share of any service directly benefiting them. However, that does not absolve the county, state and federal governments from their obligation of meeting the needs of each community and their individual priorities. As our community grows, added law enforcement needs should be met not only at the local level in funding, but by additional funding from the county, state and federal levels, since taxes are taxes regardless of which government unit collects them.

(3) I have mixed emotions on the question of having a regional shopping center in Canton. I personally favor seeing stores like those at Somerset Mall, to come to Western Wayne County, rather than the same stores located at Westland, Wonderland, Livonia Mall, Briarwood, etc. I believe that the market potential is favorable here for stores like those, and would tend to bring people here to shop for things not available elsewhere. Certainly the tax base is enhanced having a regional shopping center in the Plymouth School District. However I believe that this is not the most vital point to look at and be concerned with, since I believe that we have, as a society, allowed the tax assessor to do the planning of communities far too much in the past. Let us be concerned with maintaining the quality of life that is here in Canton, the very reason that we have settled here, and let the planners accomplish the planning, not the tax assessor.

(4) Zoning and future development

give backgrounds, discuss the issues

in the township are certainly key issues at hand, and that is why the "Master Plan" being developed now by the township is so vitally important. Although a master plan is not low, per SE, IT CAN BE THE BEST POSSIBLE tool available for future planned development that we could have, provided that enough expertise and thought as well as concern is built into the plan. I personally favor preservation of open space and plan to work at seeing this discussed as a major concern, since the majority of developable land in the state is controlled by townships. We must ensure that open space is not destroyed.

(5) My long range goals for Canton Township are very simple ones. The growth here in the past few years is phenomenal, which to my way of thinking clearly indicates the desirability of Canton as a progressive community in which to live, work and play. That is why I moved here... because of the quality of life that is uniquely offered here among people that have essentially the same lifestyles, ideals and goals that I have. I have every intention of remaining in Canton, and I therefore want the quality of life to remain as well. I plan to focus my attentions on: (1) developing and maintaining the best fire and police security protection that available resources and the township budget will allow. (2) achieving maximum efficiency in utilizing the township funds. (3) development and continual evaluation of the township "Master Plan"; and (4) continuing the development of township parks and recreation. As township treasurer, I will pledge to serve all of the people of Canton with effective, earnest and efficient leadership, and to promote and maintain honest representative government. I urge your support and ask for your vote to accomplish these goals.

CARL PARSELL

Carl Parsell (Dem.), of 42808 Arlington, Plymouth.

Biography: Age 50, 42808 Arlington; married, five children (three married and two attending local schools — Pioneer and Plymouth Salem). Educated in Detroit public schools and has attended numerous courses at Wayne State University in public, labor and police relations. Presently employed as executive director of Police Officers Assn. of Michigan (POAM), an organization of more than 100 police departments. I headed the Detroit Police Officers Assn. for seven years and also led the International Police Association (125,000 members) for two years. I have been active in civic affairs having served four years on the Detroit Mayor's Committee on Neighborhood Conservation, one term on the Church Council, and presently president of Windsor Park Civic Association. I belong to the following organizations: Catholic Church, Knights of Columbus, VFW, Elks, Crisis Club, Organization of Michigan Executives, the Economic Club of Detroit and the Detroit Press Club.

My job in the past 10 years has been problem solving. I appear regularly in front of legislative bodies both in Washington and Lansing. Besides managing an office, I prepare budgets and account for the funds of the organizations I represent.

In just the few years I have been in Canton, I have already proven my desire and ability to assist in solving township problems. As president of Windsor Parks Civic Association, I was a leader in the fight to stop a regional shopping zone (Moceri) of 100-foot buildings next to a quiet residential area. I demanded an investigation of fire deaths and have continually accused the present board of a lot of zoning, but little planning. I have a proven 10-year record of hard work and problem solving. I don't profess to know all the answers, but know where to and how to get the answers.

QUESTIONS

The treasurer's position has always been part-time, with a part-time salary. The question of whether or not, or when, the position should be full time, with a full time salary is not or should not, be for any candidate to answer. The question will be answered only by the additional demands and responsibilities placed upon the job of treasurer. At that time, the board and the people shall decide the issue. For the foreseeable future, the position and salary for the position of treasurer shall remain part-time. I shall perform the past duties and any additional duties within whatever time is needed.

Whether or not to have a regional shopping center again is not the real question. Regional shopping centers, industry, and businesses are all welcome and needed in Canton — but Canton is made of 36 square miles. We must learn how to separate and distribute these valuable assets — they must be blended with and not destroy our present ecological values. A regional shopping center is zoned for buildings 100-foot high that, in turn, would pave the way for 50 to 70-foot apartment complexes (already proposed by Moceri at Joy and Sheldon). You don't need single homes next door to support a regional shopping area — it will draw for miles; consequently, the center of Canton is the best location at present. Canton is in trouble because of a lot of zoning and no planning.

Public Safety — As long as Wayne County is continually threatening to take away our "free" police protection, the "new" board of trustees must be ever ready to take action on this important issue.

This means an immediate but thorough study must be done using some information gathered by Plymouth Township by past State Police Director Col. Davids plus additional information that we collect for Canton.

Whether to have our department, contract with the county or other agency will be answered only when all information is in and weighed to best benefit the needs of the people, the desires of the people and the cost.

For this reason I wholeheartedly support the public safety millage which will be implemented only when and if absolutely necessary.

SOME PRIORITIES:

Direction and Planning — The "new" trustees will chart the course of direction of Canton by adopting a land-use and master zoning plan. I support immediately activating the Citizens Advisory Council. With this, the "new" board will end the present "give-away to the builder" program and limit multiples. The master plan shall blend the present ecological values with industry, business, and people with planned growth. I shall demand new working relationships with the school systems in all future planning. Canton has come this far by accident rather than by design.

Update and enforce all construction, fire and safety codes. They will all be changed to protect the people and township — and not the builder.

I will support a Consumer Protection Council (as proposed by Robert Myers) to investigate all consumer complaints with full support and backing by the board of trustees.

The township attorney will be ever present. This will end the present practice of expensive and long-delayed, written legal decisions when only a quick-verbal opinion is needed. Having to wait for weeks for a written opinion could have already cost us in more ways than one.

Investigate all monies available for parks, bike paths and long range planning and buying of Mettetal Airport.

New Census — Check why a new census has not been requested to take advantage of the large increase of population since 1970 and benefit by additional revenues.

Lack of identity and involvement — If Canton suffers from a lack of identity, it also suffers from lack of involvement of the local people. Interested and capable people will not only be allowed to be involved, but will be encouraged to become involved.

THOMAS B. STEVENS

Thomas B. Stevens (Dem.), of 44755 Dionee, Belleville.

My name is Thomas B. Stevens and I have been a resident of Canton Township for 27 years. Before this time I spent 12 years in the Air Force as a pilot. And before this I completed the equivalent of four years of college.

I am married and have one son — a senior in high school. My wife has been a resident of Canton Township since early childhood. And as a resident of this township for all these many years, I am deeply concerned about an orderly development in all areas. I hope that this development is such as to preserve all the charm as well as to provide the amenities and essential services.

The growth of Canton has been phenomenal but at the present time I do not feel that there is the need for a full-time treasurer. Before expanding the treasurer's job to a full-time position, there is the need for further industrial and business expansion.

I do not support the safety millage proposal at the present time. I feel that we cannot afford a township police force at this time. Until such time

No response:

Grant Campbell, the Incumbent Democratic treasurer of 1675 Haggerty Rd., Wayne.

Irene G. Murphy, a Democratic candidate for the two-year trustee seat of Lot 296, 39500 W. Warren, Plymouth.

that there is sufficient development to support such a force, I feel that we must seek extension of the services of the Wayne County Sheriff Department and the Michigan State Police.

With regard to the regional shopping center, I do support its development for its additional to the tax base and for the convenience of the citizens of Canton Township. It should be located in an area that is easily accessible to all the residents in Canton Township and neighboring communities — the area along Canton Center Road, somewhere north of Michigan & Avenue.

Long-range goals: There must be industrial development that is orderly to keep pace with all the residential development. There is also the need not to lose sight of the fact that this should also be attractive.

There is also the need for recreational facilities for all of the citizens of this community. There should be regional parks so that all of the people of the township have easy access to recreational areas. There should also be facilities for the various civic activities of people in the township in every age group.

2 Trustees: (4 years)

JOSEPH R. KINNICK

Joseph R. Kinnick (Rep.), of 47606 Saltz Rd., Plymouth.

My educational background includes 12 years of primary and secondary education, four years at the General Motors Engineering Trades program, one year of post graduate work at the University of Detroit, two years at Schoolcraft Community College and graduation from the Detroit Police Academy.

I served as a Detroit Police officer and am presently a reserve trooper with the Michigan State Police.

I participated in politics on a local level in Livonia for 10 years. I was constable of Livonia for three years and also served for a time as deputy director of civil defense.

I have been a member of the Planning Commission of Canton Township since March, 1973 and have been active in little league sports.

PUBLIC SAFETY MILLAGE

I would strongly endorse the safety millage not only at this time, but probably for the foreseeable future as it pertains to Canton Township.

CANTON

AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

I personally think that we are already one year behind in implementing our own police force. We are being backed into a corner by the Wayne County Commissioners who have openly stated that we are either going to pay for the Wayne County Sheriff or they won't patrol our area. They accept our taxes, don't they? With regards to the funding of a township police force, this could very easily be done through a federal grant paying between 80 and 90 per cent of the initial funds. We presently have adequate facilities for a radio dispatcher location in our main fire hall.

REGIONAL SHOPPING CENTER

I don't believe that there is anyone residing in Canton Township that would not like to see a large shopping center located somewhere within our boundaries. The benefits through taxes generated, job opportunities created, and sales revenues realized through purchasing power would greatly relieve the Canton resident of any major tax increase for some time to come, in addition to supporting our own police department and increasing our present fire department. The 64 dollar question is "Where do we put it?"

First, we need available land, a developer interested in building a center, a developer financially able to meet all requirements necessary to secure said land, a developer able to meet all local, state and federal regulations, and a developer who has interested tenants who are financially sound to occupy this proposed buildings.

With regards to the Regional Shopping Center question, I would like to make known that I was the only person who made a detailed study of any shopping center complex. Through previous association, I chose the City of Livonia and presented it to our existing township board through Phil Dingeldey. This included the entire tax base structure generated by both the Wonderland Complex and the Livonia Mall Complex.

ZONING & DEVELOPMENT

In general, to realize the continued growth presently being experienced we must make every effort to maintain a standard of zoning that will make Canton a township to look up to BS AT "See what they didn't" and not just another developed area built on the basis of "we did it here because that's what we did over on the other side of town."

LONG RANGE GOALS

We in Canton have a tremendous opportunity to develop into the most desirable living area in western Wayne County. To do this we will need a tremendously strong body of legislators who are professionally oriented men and women. We need people who are self-motivated, people who are engaged in some sort of management capacities. People who have the exposure to the many situations that occur daily in all types of business, people who are also free to take time from their everyday occupation without having to ask permission for time off of their job to look after the concerns of Canton.

"Let's face facts," Canton is not big business, and we need people who have big business backgrounds to carry the ball from here on.

METTETAL AIRPORT

We should without and as soon as possible, make every attempt to acquire Mettetal Airport. Through a Federal Grant, I believe we can receive approximately 80 per cent of the funding necessary. We could use the initial funding to renovate the improved facilities and pay the balance of the debt off through revenue generated from airport operations.

E. BRIAN SCHWALL

E. Brian Schwall (Dem.), of 8284 Orhan, Plymouth.

Brian Schwall received his BA cum laude from the Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C., in 1962, and his MA from the University of Detroit in 1967. He is presently employed as a teacher of English and head cross country and track coach at Plymouth-Canton High School. Schwall has served 17 months as a Canton Trustee since his appointment to fill a vacancy in March, 1973. He is a Canton representative to the Plymouth-Canton Recreation Authority, former president of the Holiday Park Homeowners Association, and a member of the Holiday Park Citizens for Safety Committee. Schwall and his wife Carole have two children, Brendan, four, and Cristin, two, and reside at 8284 Orhan.

The safety millage is a necessity if the township is to face the demands of public safety by expanding and improving our fire department and taking immediate steps to provide adequate police protection. The 36 square miles of Canton demand that we have our own police force to insure the safety of all residents. We can no longer afford to rely so heavily on the tentative situation that exists regarding the Wayne County Road Patrol. It is tempting fate to sit back and believe that their protection, such as it is, will last forever. The establishment of our own police force must be accomplished in a most professional manner so as to insure the most effective and professional department possible. I believe that the alternatives, i.e., contracting for police services or a joint effort with another municipality, are only stop-gap measures at best and do not provide a long-term solution for the people of Canton.

If Canton is to have a regional shopping center, it must be located where it will be of maximum benefit to the residents of Canton, not at Joy and Sheldon roads, where the problems it creates so seriously encroach upon the quality of life sought after by the thousands of people in the immediate vicinity. If serious marketing and environmental impact studies indicate that such a development is desirable for Canton, I am in favor of a more centralized location which will precede residential development rather than be thrust in the midst of it. At the present time, the lack of adequate roads and police protection preclude such a mammoth development in Canton. "Planned shopping" must be just that, and to this point in time, the planning element is insufficient.

Creative planning which is both rational and orderly is vital to assure the services and environment necessary for the quality of life so many of us seek. A full-time professional planner, qualified and knowledgeable planning commissioners, and a strong, representative township board are the key to its implementation. A well-developed master plan is a powerful legal instrument in assuring rational development of this township. We must not be forced to live with a master plan that is inadequate as regards establishment of open space areas, is saturating the eastern half of the township with zoning for multiples, and in general is fearful of attempting to correct the mistakes the planning commission and township board have made in the past. Industry is vital to the tax base of Canton if we are to provide the services we need so badly. If we are to attract the kind of industry that is good for the people of Canton, both financially and environmentally, we must hire an industrial coordinator responsible for the rational and orderly development of industry.

We have been told that the development of Mettetal Airport and purchase of that facility by the township could be good for industry. But the major question must be, will it be good for the people of Canton? I think not. Any future development of this airport could seriously endanger the many residents of the single family and multiples which have been allowed to develop so close to the airport. If we are confronted with the choice of quality of life vs. convenience for industry, we must choose the quality of life of the residents of this township."

JOSEPH DeLAURO

Joseph DeLauro (Dem.), of 9560 Bricklan, Plymouth.

I was born in New Haven, Conn., received my Bachelor of Fine Arts degree at Yale University, and my Master of Fine Arts degree from the University of Iowa.

I served in the Second World War in both the Atlantic and Pacific areas.

My teaching experience was at Marygrove College and University of Detroit. I founded the Fine Arts Department at the University of Windsor, and have had 13 years of administrative experience as Head of the Department. At the present I am Head of the Sculpture Area in the Fine Arts Department at the University of Windsor.

I have also had many years of experience working with architects, and have done many large commissions; to name a few: The Detroit Public Library, Hiram Walker Company in Windsor, Ont., a Cathedral in Youngstown, Ohio, etc. From my early education I have been involved as a sculptor with architects in relationship to planning.

I would endorse the safety millage if I am elected, and the reason is that, if our township does need the millage to develop a police force, we will be in a position not to be hindered by the lack of funds.

I firmly believe that Canton Township will need regional shopping centers; however, it must be taken into consideration that a master plan must be designed so that it will be efficient, beautiful and, above all, will satisfy the needs of the people of Canton Township. This I would make my responsibility to the people of Canton Township.

One of the most important things, to my mind, in formulating a master plan for Canton Township is to design it so that the people can identify with the township. We will need a civic center and a cultural center. These are necessities, not luxuries. It is from this hub that the people will be able to identify and relate to Canton. The laws will be coming from the civic center, and also the people will be able to come to the civic center so that the officials can listen to the citizens of Canton.

I am a firm believer that beauty and good design will be no more expensive than the ugliness that is now being perpetuated because of lack of design. I have no illusions that these things can be done in a short time. If the people are interested in beauty and efficiency, a great deal of work, study and patience is demanded, to create something worthwhile for the present and the future. We cannot afford haphazard decisions.

I realize that at the present time the state and local township is studying the question of the Mettetal Airport. I must reiterate that I could never make a decision of such importance on such a vast acreage that will definitely have an impact on the design of Canton Township, without careful study of the facts, in order to reach an honest opinion and a decision.

The following paragraphs are my replies to your questions:

Yes, I do endorse the safety millage. The safety of the citizens of Canton must be protected and we as citizens are responsible for the cost of this protection.

Canton should meet its future law enforcement needs by having its own police force. At present the Wayne County Sheriff is meeting our needs. But as the township grows and develops its own special character, it will need a local police force responsive to that character.

Canton residents need and want a shopping center. But its location should be carefully selected so as it serves the needs of all the residents. Also, it should be located so as not to disrupt any communities.

The haphazard fashion in which the township has been developed to date has left scars on the landscape which will take years to correct:

1. The integrity of single family neighborhoods must be maintained.
2. An immediate moratorium on all building of multi-family dwellings.
3. A restructuring of all zoning ordinances to meet the needs of the growing township and to protect the rural atmosphere and beauty of our township.
4. The new ordinances would specifically call for recreational area for the citizens and industrial parks to improve our tax base.

I have toured the planned cities of Reston, Va. and Columbia, Md. I greatly admire what has been done there. The township is different because it has many builders and different developers involved. But with aggressive leadership we could strive to emulate the above mentioned communities.

Acquiring Mettetal Airport is a decision that should not be made by a few residents in leadership roles. I favor putting that issue on the ballot and letting the electorate decide.

RESPONSE TO QUESTIONS:

Do you endorse the safety millage? Why or why not? How should Canton meet its future law enforcement needs?

The three mill "safety millage" will be placed on the next ballot and the voters will decide this issue. There is presently litigation involving the sheriff's police coverage of Canton, it would be prudent to wait and see what decision is reached by the courts.

When the township reaches a population where it can economically support a police department, then I would favor such a move.

Should Canton have a regional shopping center? If so, where?

Yes, in as much as the property at Michigan Avenue and Canton Center Road is already zoned for a regional shopping center, this would be a good location. It has also been noted that a citizen's advisory board made recommendation also favoring a second regional shopping center located within certain other boundaries. The merits of each should be evaluated to meet the needs of the community.

In general, what are your feelings on zoning and future development in Canton?

The zoning and development in Canton should follow the master plan but be flexible to minor changes, so that all lands are used in the highest and best way.

What long range goals do you see for Canton?

(1) To strive for economy in the township government so that residents can obtain the services they are entitled to.

(2) Development of a sound tax base, balanced with industrial and commercial growth which will provide jobs and revenue for the growing community of Canton and its residents.

(3) To further continue to encourage the development of recreation for citizens of Canton throughout the township.

(4) To implement a beautification program to improve the appearance of property in Canton.

Should the township acquire Mettetal Airport? How?

No, I do not feel it is in the best interest of the people and community in general for the township government to be in business and burden the taxpayer with this expense.

QUESTIONS

I support the safety millage. I believe that the township must accept responsibility for its own police protection and safety. I would hope that the township officials would give us more definite budgetary information on just what the millage will produce in the way of revenue. But even if that is not forthcoming feel that we must take this step.

Canton should have a regional shopping center for the convenience of the citizens, a good tax base, and community spirit. It must be located on land already zoned for such building. It should not be imposed on residential neighborhoods by rezoning methods. It should be located in an area capable of high volume automobile traffic without traffic jams.

An effective master plan for development must be adopted without further delay. It is already long overdue. It must be adhered to stringently. The rights of existing residents should not be overlooked in the master plan. There is a need to develop a "township center" which should become a recreational and cultural center as well as a place for township business. We have people from many different communities living in Canton. It takes more than time to achieve a sense of belonging; it takes the "experience" of doing things together. The board must foster this experience whenever it can, particularly through an active parks and recreation program.

The township should support a study of the acquisition of Mettetal Airport. If federal or state funds are available, it would seem advantageous to pursue acquisition. However, at present, there is not sufficient information to make a final decision. As with many of the plans for Canton Township development, we need to do our budgetary homework. Without a sound budget our households would flounder; with a sound budget our plans and township will flourish.

As to the three mill issue for the ballot for fire safety, I think under the current explanation of the amounts wanted, the answer would be "NO." I think a more realistic approach must be made on the amounts needed. A complete study of the areas of concern must be made and not just an amount that looks good. Let's look before we leap.

On the public safety issue, I think a complete study and survey should be made of our community's needs...comparisons of other communities population, the numbers of miles patrolled, the need for security of business and personal properties, the control of crowds at fires or auto accidents, sporting events. When these comparisons are complete the real needs will be apparent. And this will serve as a basis for our current and future police and law enforcement needs.

Yes we should have a regional shopping center. We can compare our area with surrounding communities and see that a need is present for now and the future. Our population will grow to almost 200,000 and jobs and a good tax base is something we must consider and plan for now. Where seems to be the current issue. With the pending law suit it looks like it might go where much time has been used to determine a good location. There are other places that will support a regional center but the mistake of not knowing where can not be made again. The next ones must be clearly known in advance.

As I stated before, we must know in advance of where the buildings will go. There must be room in this township for all types of housing and located in such a way that there is an even flow. We should solicit business and industrial businesses with good planning on OUR zoned sites and not let them come in and change our plans. Let's not make every nook and cranny a secret to the citizens. Let them look at the total picture and be proud of where they live.

I have lived in this area for 27 years. I have watched surrounding communities start urban renewal projects that are not completed yet, street and sewer projects that are started and stopped because of many undecided issues, shopping centers that could have started but were stopped, recreation land that could have been purchased for pennies and now cost dollars, community centers that could have been providing many hours of enjoyment but were not started because priorities were out of line.

I see Canton as a place that can have the same problems unless we turn this cycle around. We need good sound-minded citizens who will step forth and put some of their time into building a progressive community. One person (supervisor) or even a group of people (Township Board) can not do it alone.

This community is an entity that will continue beyond our times but I will help make it a better place to live. This is my goal.

On Mettetal Airport — this presents a very shaky concept. If the government owns and operates the airport and we are a non-profit organization, can we administrate and staff the airport without additional costs? I think private ownership is the best solution. I believe we made a $2,500 error on the recently passed motion for the study.

I fully support the safety millage since it is a permissive type of income for the township that is to be used only if absolutely necessary. However, Canton must have the option to levy the millage if expanded police and fire protection is needed because of our booming population.

Even if Wayne County continues the sheriff's patrol in Canton, one police car is not enough for our 36-square-mile community. The only reasonable approach is for Canton to establish its own police department. This is undoubtedly the cheapest and most efficient method since it would allow Canton to regulate its own law enforcement and provide the utmost service. This is not a blanket endorsement for an immediate police department because the cost factors must be considered, but Canton's future growth must be aided by a strong and efficient police force.

Canton definitely can support a regional shopping center, but only if it is constructed so that it does not directly affect any residential area, such as the Mocer Project would have done. The center of the township, near the present fire station on Canton Center Road, would be an ideal location since it would be convenient for all township residents and would not hinder any of our residential areas.

Canton Township's present approach to zoning is unsystematic, illogical and, in some cases, unmentionable. We are being developed in a haphazard way without any regard to what this community will look like in the future. This township's first priority is to completely rewrite its construction codes so that the township is sufficiently able to control its future development. Stricter controls also must be placed on our growth rate, which now stands at 98.6 per cent, the second highest in the Metropolitan Detroit area since 1970, so that Canton may grow in a more orderly and sensible way.

Canton must encourage industrial growth to ease the community's tax burdens, but only industry that is compatible with the rest of the township. We must actively pursue such light industry as the Kresge warehouse now being built. Canton must reduce the number of multiple dwellings so that they make up no more than 20 per cent of the township's total housing units. Increased recreational and park facilities must be provided. The new township government also must do everything possible to make Canton a better place to live without letting the present tax structure skyrocket out of control.

I am in favor of Canton Township purchasing Mettetal Airport only if a private buyer cannot be found to maintain it as an airport, and if a study is made first to show that it is economically feasible for the township to own and operate the airport. The only way acquiring the airport could be made feasible is with the assistance of federal and/or state funds.

SC plant employees negotiate new wage

Following three lengthy negotiation periods a two-year contract has been approved for the physical plant employees at Schoolcraft College.

Final approval came Wednesday night when the board agreed to terms calling for an eight per cent salary increase during the first year and one per cent in the second with the thought that the school will agree to a retirement plan calling for five per cent of the base salary.

UNDER THESE terms, explained by Chief Negotiator Kenneth Lindner, the new pact will cost the school $29,574 in base pay during the first year with an plus $2,233 for a shift premium wage.

During the second year, the base increase amounts to $4,004 with the possibility that this will jump to $24,208 if the retirement plan is established.

Aside from these major items in the pact the college also agreed to establish what is called a skilled maintenance classification at the journeyman level.

Lindner pointed out that this classification was necessary because of the difficulty the school encountered during the past two years in hiring skilled workers.

This new pact now will allow the school to hire skilled maintenance workers at a minimum rate of $4.89 per hour and a maximum of $6.27 per hour. This will cost the school $7,962 for the seven employees in the new classification.

The contract also calls for a new grievance procedure and establishes the rights of the board in administering the contract.

THE BOARD also learned that, through a deal with the state highway department for the distribution of earth taken from the new expressways, there was a savings of about $53,000.

This savings helped bring about a change in the base contract for the building of 12 tennis courts, eight of which will be lighted.

The transfer of the earth helped to alter the original plans for drainage and effected the great savings that may run much higher than $53,000 before the entire project is completed.

The contract for construction and development of the physical site and project was awarded to the B&V Construction Co. for $267,850.

Students can get early start

Under the Young Scholars Enrollment Project (YSEP), 45 exceptionally talented students will be admitted to the University of Michigan in the fall of 1975 even before they receive their high school diplomas.

"The UM program, as conceived, will be very limited. Only the best prepared and most mature students will be accepted," says UM Director of Admissions Clifford F. Sjogren.

The students must be at least 16 years old and have completed their junior year of high school. An endorsement from their school and a personal interview on the UM campus also will be required.

YSEP is in response to two current educational trends. "Due to the budget limitations, many high schools have substantially reduced their accelerated or enriched programs in favor of more technical or vocational courses," says Sjogren.

"This change in priorities has probably caused a corresponding higher degree of dissatisfaction among a small percentage of precocious students who would benefit from early admission to Michigan."

So far, four UM units have endorsed the proposal. They are the College of Engineering, College of Pharmacy, School of Natural Resources and the School of Nursing. The College of Literature, Science and the Arts is also expected to approve the program soon.

MRS. NOREEN O'NEILL

Mrs. O'Neill to head nurses at Madonna

Mrs. Noreen C. O'Neill has been appointed chairman of the department of nursing for Madonna College in Livonia.

She has been serving the past year as acting administrator and assistant chairman of the nursing department at Mercy College. She was also assistant chairman and associate professor in the Mercy nursing department during 1972-73.

A Livonia resident, Mrs. O'Neill has been dean of students at Tombrook College, Patterson, N.J., where she was named to the board of trustees.

She has been an assistant professor and assistant department chairman at William Paterson College, Wayne, N.J., and director of nursing service and assistant administrator at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Houston.

She graduated magna cum laude from Dominican College in Houston and received her master of science in nursing from St. Louis University in 1964. She has had post-master's studies in sociology at Rutgers University. Her appointment is effective immediately, says Madonna President Sister Mary Danatha.

National's weekend rate of only $8.50 a day, 14¢ a mile left Don Rickles speechless.

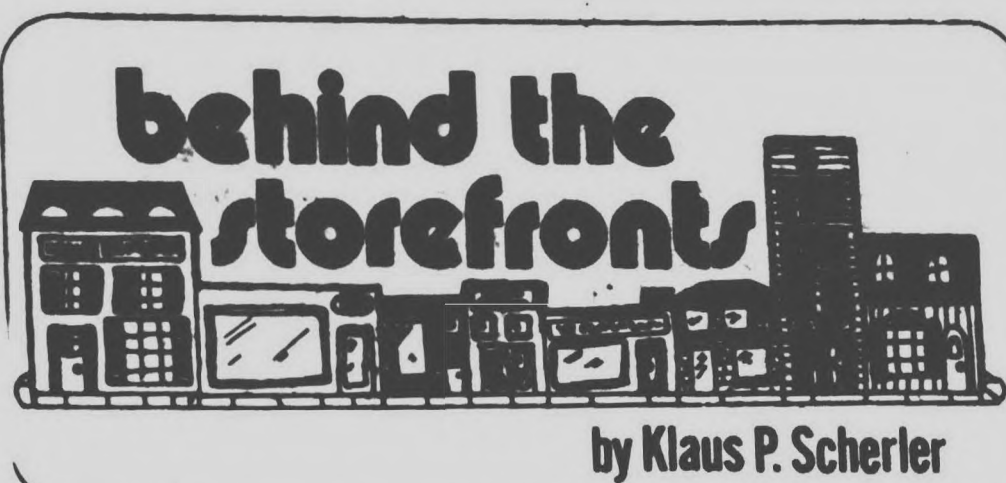

National Car Rental dared Don Rickles to try to criticize their weekend deal. But how could he criticize National's low rate of $8.50 a day and 14¢ a mile. (You pay for gas.) And that's for a car like a Chevy Monte Carlo. You can pick it up any time after Thursday 6PM. Return it by Monday 6PM to the renting city. All National asks is that you use the car a minimum of two days.

National's low weekend rate. It's so good all Don could say was, "These people are trying to go broke!"

We welcome to our retail advertising staff Mike J. Karagourian, who joined the Observer & Eccentric last week.

Mike, 24, will be working out of the Birmingham office and will be servicing merchants primarily in Troy and Royal Oak.

Mike brings with him an impressive academic background, which includes a degree in public relations and journalism from Ball State University in Indiana.

He is also a photographer, having been photo editor of the college yearbook and a photographer for the school's paper.

AFTER 30 YEARS selling products to stores what do you do for a change?

You take a little gamble and a lot of hard work and open your own store, says Harry Tash, owner of Tash Do-It Discount Center on Eight Mile in Livonia.

With all that experience in the merchandising business chances are good for success.

Having just completed his store's anniversary celebration, Harry looks back on his first year in business as one marked by long hours but a great deal of satisfaction in managing his own business.

The store contains a wide array of items. It is divided into four main sections which include hardware, paint and art supplies, wallpaper, and unfinished furniture.

Condominium relief asked

Condominium owners could be permitted to withhold payment for maintenance work if legislation introduced recently by Sen. William Faust becomes law.

Faust, (D-Westland) said some condominium owners are forced to continue paying a fee to maintain common areas in a development even if those areas are allowed to ruin.

"If a condominium owner is paying a fee for snow removal, he or she should have a right to refuse payment if the snow is not removed."

State law already permits the bylaws of a condominium development to be changed by a vote of the owners.

Faust's bill would permit such bylaws to give condominium owners the right to withhold payments for maintenance of common areas if they are not kept in reasonable repair. "We are discovering that existing laws which protect tenants and the owners of single family residences are simply insufficient to meet the needs of condominium owners."

"I am hopeful that the legislation I have introduced will give condominium owners some of that special protection they need," Faust said.

Harry decided not to specialize in only one line of products reasoning that the four departments would give him flexibility of merchandising, with a slow selling season not affecting all departments at one time.

The Tash family pitches in to give Harry an occasional day off and frequent storeminders are sons Craig and Jeff and daughter Kathy.

County given bonus funding

Nearly $3.4 million in federal job funds, some $2 million more than expected, will be available in suburban Wayne County, Robert E. FitzPatrick, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners recently announced.

The U.S. Department of Labor has notified the county that it will receive almost $3.4 million under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

The funds will support a summer youth employment program and a year long adult public service job program in the county and local governments.

FitzPatrick said the grant is expected to provide a year of full time employment for about 250 unemployed and under-employed persons, compared with an earlier figure of about 65.

Forty of the 43 cities and townships in Wayne County are eligible for funds, depending on the extent of unemployment and poverty in each.

Under a CETA option, three localities in the 50,000-100,000 population range, including Redford Township, will get funds through the county, but will administer their own programs.

Redford Township will receive $196,000.

Detroit, Dearborn and Livonia are excluded because cities with more than 100,000 residents are already receiving direct CETA grants.

SEMCOG backs transit proposal

The general assembly of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) has unanimously adopted a resolution urging the state legislature to place Governor Milliken's $1.1 billion transportation bond proposal on the November ballot.

The bond proposal was passed by the House of Representatives by an 80-18 vote and now goes to the Senate where it will need 25 of the 37 votes for final approval.

The bill calls for the state to borrow $1.1 billion over the next 15 years to develop public transportation throughout the state.

The bill proposes that $540 million, or 49.3 per cent of the total expenditures, be allocated for public transportation in the seven county region of southeast Michigan.

Also included is $362 million (33 per cent) for statewide improvements to inter-city rail and bus systems.

The bill proposes $100 million for airport development and improvement, $50 million for Great Lakes port development, $25 million for non-motorized facilities such as bikeways, hiking and horse paths, and $20 million to develop technology for new transit systems such as people movers.

"It is important to note that the SEMCOG resolution urges the state legislature to place the transportation issue on the November ballot to let people decide," said SEMCOG vice-chairman David Shepherd.

SEMCOG is a voluntary association composed of elected officials from 96 local communities whose function it is to develop and coordinate regionwide planning for Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Wayne and Washtenaw counties.

Saxton expects busing decision this Fall

By BARBARA UNDERWOOD
It's the biggest non-news story of the year.
It's been a cliff-hanger almost daily for weeks and unless it comes this week the agony of waiting may go on for several more weeks or months.

It's the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on cross-district busing to achieve racial integration between Detroit and 52 suburban school districts.

When it will happen is anybody's guess and everybody's at this point.

THE SUPREME Court, originally scheduled to recess for the summer on June 17, has continued in session, with the busing decision anticipated daily.

But it didn't happen and the court recessed for a breather before hearing the Watergate case on Monday (July 8) and maybe handing down the busing decision.

But Monday came and went and Tuesday and Wednesday and Thursday and Friday and every day the word came that the decision "could be today."

Theories about the delay are as numerous as the people consulted but one thing appears to be fact: the court has made its decision on busing.

The court is expected to hand down its decision in the Watergate case and then recess until the start of the next court term in October.

WHETHER OR not the busing decision comes before fall is anybody's guess.

The daily waiting game has not been played quite so avidly by William M. Saxton, an attorney representing 31 of the suburban school districts included in the original busing plan of U.S. District Court Judge Stephen Roth, because Saxton does not anticipate the court's decision before October.

"No one but the judges themselves really know when it will be released," he said Friday, "but I think it is unlikely before October."

Saxton hastened to add that he had "no way of knowing and no one else does either." He said he was guessing along with the man on the street.

Under normal procedure, the court decides a case in secret session on the Friday after arguments are heard, Saxton explained.

THE HIGH COURT heard oral arguments and received briefs in the case late in February.

The interval from then until the present is "not an inordinate amount of time to decide such an important case," Saxton said.

He believes a large part of the delay in handing down the decision is because of opinions being written by the justices.

"There could be from one to nine opinions," he said. "They have to choose their words with care because what they say becomes the supreme law of the land. The opinion writing process is a very important and difficult job.

"Because of the impact the decision will have on the lives of so many people, they haven't rushed to get their opinions out," he added.

THE DEATH last week of former Chief Justice Earl Warren "probably threw a kink in their timetable," Saxton said, but he does not think Judge Roth's death Thursday (July 11) will have any effect on the opinions which are being written.

Many area school officials, perhaps tired of the waiting game, were out of their offices Friday but Dr. David Spencer, director of secondary education for the Bloomfield Hills School District, said he thought the supreme court justices had "put their priorities into the Watergate situation and as a result are delaying their actions on this."

"My best observation is that once Watergate is complete, they will give their decision (on busing) this summer," Spencer added.

Robert Peterson, attorney with Dickinson, Wright, McKean and Cudlip, representing the Bloomfield Hills School District, said, "It must have been a very close, hard decision for them (judges)."

The decision could still be delivered this week, he believes, but added, "We have no way of knowing." And the wait continues.

YOUR DOG DOESN'T EAT CANS. SO WHY PAY FOR THEM?

Meal for meal, meaty Gaines-burgers give your dog as much great taste and solid food as the leading national canned dog food. And Gaines-burgers cost less, too.

Instead of spending extra to get canned food, spend less and get Gaines-burgers.

Gaines-burgers have as much complete balanced nourishment as canned food.

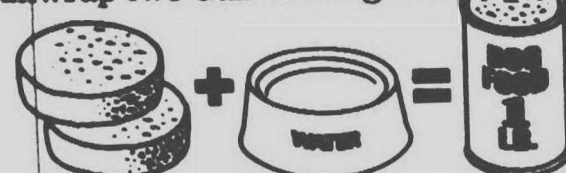

Equally important, Gaines-burgers taste as good as canned food. (Our tests show dogs like Gaines-burgers as much as or more than the leading canned food.)

What Gaines-burgers don't have is a can. Which is one of the reasons they're less expensive.

TWO BURGERS EQUAL ONE CAN.

Instead of opening a can, you unwrap two Gaines-burgers.

They're the same in solid food content as a 15½-oz. can of dog food—without the water. (Canned food is up to 74% water.)

And one box of Gaines-burgers gives your dog six meaty meals—or as much as six cans. Yet 12 Gaines-burger patties cost less than six cans of the leading dog food. Compare prices for yourself in your own supermarket, and you'll see.

So when you buy Gaines-burgers, you buy your dog food by the week, instead of the can—and save.

WE'LL PAY YOU TO PROVE YOUR DOG WILL LIKE THEM.

You may have seen our TV commercials where we show that dogs who eat canned food love Gaines-burgers. Most dogs do.

But the only way to prove your dog will love them is to have your dog try them. Which is why we've provided the coupon below.

Take it to the supermarket tomorrow. It's good for 10¢ toward a box of Gaines-burgers.

Middle Belt closed today

A stretch of Middle Belt Road in Livonia will be closed today (Monday) for a few weeks until construction is completed on the railroad tracks.

The section of Middle Belt between Plymouth and Schoolcraft Roads will be closed for two-three weeks to allow building new tracks and installation of new signals.

Initial construction will be a bypass track to be used while contractors build an overpass, similar to that now on Farmington Road north of Plymouth Road. When the bypass is completed, motorists may use a four-lane road east of the present crossing during the rest of the construction period.

Middle Belt will be open the next couple weeks to local traffic only in both directions. Through traffic will be rerouted to Merriman and Inkster Roads.

That section of Middle Belt is one of Livonia's most heavily traveled roads. It handles traffic for the DRC plus several major industries such as Krogers, Ford Motor Co. and Cadillac plus being the route to and from major retail centers such as Livonia Mall and Wonderland Center.

Pursell's vote made in error

State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth), whose district includes both Plymouth and Livonia, was recently reported as having voted in favor of a bill to raise retirement benefits for legislators while lowering legislator contributions to the retirement fund.

While Pursell did, in fact, vote for the legislation, his vote, made in the confusion of a crush of appropriations bills in which he has been involved, was an error and was changed to a vote against the bill on the following day.

Pursell's office said the senator is asking the governor to veto the bill which passed despite his voting change.

Art display begins at Wonderland

Olden and contemporary art and handicraft will be displayed at Wonderland Center now through July 21.

Unusual crafts such as pewtersmithing, tinmithing, plexiglass carving and chainmail carving along with more familiar arts such as basket weaving, decoupage, candle art and painting will be demonstrated from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The races are on -- but do the voters care?

If the letter at the bottom of this page is any indication, there seems to be a lot of interest in the Canton Township political three-ring circus.

Every race down there (other than the clerk's) holds some small battle which is being fanned by the pro Greenstein and the anti-Greenstein fans. In addition, not all the anti-Greensteiners are united (take Brian Schwall and Joe Kinnick for example), and that contributes to even more politicking.

In Plymouth Township the supervisor's race is beyond a doubt the major focal point. The four-way Republican primary battle for the treasurer's post should provide some interest too.

But the real race is the J. D. McLaren — Maurice Breen battle for the supervisor post in the Republican primary. Things there should be warming up soon.

In Canton, the supervisor race prompts us to suggest choosing the next supervisor by a township-wide drawing — any registered voter can enter and the winner takes all.

But surely almost every Canton political observer will give Greenstein and Jim Poole lopsided margins in their respective primaries to then square off against each other in November.

The Greenstein slate candidates have said they won't regard it as a victory unless most of their people make it into office — and there's a chance that all five could clear the primary battles (now that their trustee candidates aren't running against each other anymore).

With Malice Toward None

By W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Surely Carl Parsell sits pretty in the treasurer primary since Tom Stevens originally filed for the race because his friend Grant Campbell, the incumbent, said he wasn't going to run again. Campbell did file but isn't campaigning and thus Parsell may romp while Stevens and Campbell slip up the anti-Parsell (and Greenstein) votes.

In the trustee races on the Democratic side, while you have to throw at least some weight to the Greensteiners' chances, Joe DeLauro will be out of the country during the primary and with Schwall's strong incumbency, the slate could lose a spot there.

It certainly seems interesting that a candidate who echoes his slate's description of this political battle as an "hour of crisis" would leave during the fight.

In the race for the one two-year trustee spot (which Jerry Cheske drew the short straw for), Frank McMurray could give Cheske a scramble.

At any rate — things should be lively.

To help the voters decide which ring of the circus to support, today's paper includes the candidates' statements for Canton Township. Next Monday the Plymouth Township candidates' statements will appear.

In addition there are two candidates' nights scheduled — one for Canton and one for Plymouth Township. Canton will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 15 at the Plymouth-Canton High School auditorium and that in Plymouth Township will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 24, at Plymouth Township Hall.

It will be these forums which should provide some good indication about the Aug. 6 primary elections.

If the interest is as high as the candidates in both townships like to think it is, there should be good turnouts.

If there're not, the voters in both communities can only blame themselves for whatever they end up with after the primaries and the general elections.

The Stroller Courtship costs

By W. W. EDGAR

For some unexplainable reason, the conversation the other evening turned to the high cost of courtship in these days of the inflationary spiral.

One of the younger members of the group had been complaining that just to take a girl friend to lunch was becoming almost too costly.

"And taking her to dinner and a show, is just about out of the question," he moaned.

Then, without a word of warning, he turned to the Stroller and asked, "How was it in your day?"

The Stroller couldn't help chuckling at that question. He knew his answer was going to cause a great lifting of the eyebrows.

It did cause the Stroller, whose dating days go back more than half a century, to recall what a great change has taken place in all phases of life — let alone courtships.

SO, IT WAS NO surprise when the young fellow who had been moaning about the high costs of dating, looked startled when the Stroller told him that he got by on less than $5 a week and had dates on both Saturdays and Sundays.

It so happened in those days the Stroller was working on the night shift in a machine shop and had only those two evenings free from labor.

There was little in our home town in the way of entertainment, so you had to journey to the city — four miles away.

The young lad listened intently as the Stroller recalled that the trolley fare to the city was six cents. That meant 12 cents each way for both of us.

And one of the more popular places was the Orpheum Theater, the home of Keith vaudeville, of fond memory.

Admission to this emporium of entertainment was 35 cents each, or 70 cents a couple. So, a fellow could take his girl to the city and entertain her at the theater for less than $1 for the evening.

FUNNY AS IT MAY sound now, in those days, the bigger and better hotels offered free lunch on Saturday evenings and as we grew older, we'd make a stop for a free lunch after the show. In this way we still got by for less than a dollar.

The Stroller had to smile himself, as he recalled the time a new twist was given to entertainment. It was the opening of a so-called elite tea shop where the beef sandwiches were covered with a generous portion of mushroom gravy. These sandwiches soon became as popular as ice cream cones.

And the price? — just 35 cents.

So if a fellow really wanted to "put on the dog" as the saying goes, he'd take his date to the tea shop prior to the show, then to the free lunch after the curtain fell.

Sundays were a great deal different. Back in Pennsylvania we had what were called "blue laws", which forbid any business, with the exception of drug stores, to be open on Sundays.

FORTUNATELY, many of these drug stores had special rooms for use as ice cream parlors. At best, all a fellow could do to entertain his date was to take a stroll over the bridge to watch the 9 o'clock train go by. And then head for the ice cream parlor for a soda that cost a dime.

Our young friend stood in stunned silence at the thought of a fellow getting by so easy.

But that was the way in those days. Now even the Stroller has difficulty believing his father worked for a dollar a day and his mother could still save enough to purchase a Singer sewing machine.

Times sure have changed — even in one lifetime.

'Greenstein, campaign elsewhere'

EDITOR:

Lately as I have been attending the Canton Township Board meetings, I have been consistently offended by the unnecessary activities of Robert Greenstein. I too, often disagree with the majority opinion of the board, however, I do not feel these meetings are the proper place for the harassment, interruption, pacing, and constant conversing with neighbors (and newspaper reporters) that goes on.

Constructive comment is one thing, but the disruption of those who are there to contribute in a positive way is another. In the months ahead, I would hope that Greenstein would do his campaigning elsewhere and not at the expense of the board and the public.

New school offers extra year to grow

BY MARGARET MILLER

A new kind of school—for children not quite ready to start kindergarten when the law says they can—is being launched in Livonia.

"An extra year of learning" is how leaders of Mother Hubbard's Nursery School describe the program addition that will be operated for five-year-olds beginning in September.

It's planned for youngsters who need just a little more maturity to feel comfortable in kindergarten," said Mrs. Jeanette Ingalls, vice president of the private nursery that holds classes in St. Andrew Episcopal Church, 16362 Hubbard, Livonia.

"Because," adds Mrs. Janis Swain, Livonian who will teach the new class, "if you can take a child and get him to like himself, then he can like the rest of the world and succeed."

IN MICHIGAN, a child is eligible to begin kindergarten in September if he turns five on or before Dec. 1 of that year.

That means many children start when they are three months short of five and close to a year behind the youngsters whose birthdays are in December or January.

"It's been our observation in operating the Mother Hubbard Nursery for several years that some children are not ready at five for school every day," Mrs. Ingalls said.

Mrs. Swain added that although there is no requirement that children start then, the school district, with some interest in state money, isn't likely to discourage parents from starting children in kindergarten except when the lack of readiness is clearly apparent.

Thus, both women believe, there are many children who might well benefit from the class now in preparation.

THE PLAN for the extra year of growth for five-year-olds calls for a class of 15 to 20 children meeting four afternoons a week. In addition, there will be a workshop meeting once a week, led by the teacher for parents of the children.

Children will participate in activities designed to develop sensory perception, motor coordination, language, both social and communicative and skills needed for academic achievement. There also will be arts and crafts, music and structured free play.

Their parents will be guided in developing meaningful relationships, creating a learning environment at home and helping the children acquire basic skills and get ready for academic work.

"THIS PROGRAM is neither nursery school nor kindergarten," Mrs. Swain emphasized, "and it should not be considered a substitute for kindergarten."

"I've taught at both levels and I know what goes into each year's program. This is an additional year."

She said she could see in her own family the value of an extra year for some children.

"One of our sons," she related, "was born in October and started school before he was five." There was considerable difficulty in adjusting at the beginning of his school years, his mother remembers.

"He's in the seventh grade and an A student now," she added, "but I think his early years could have been so much easier if there had been available a program like this."

MRS. SWAIN AND Mrs. Ingalls said there would be some similarities between the Mother Hubbard program and two pre-school programs offered in other school districts, Redford Union's Parent Readiness Education Project (PREP) and Wayne-Westland's Sparky program.

Both of them involve visits by the children to the school they will attend, counseling with parents to help them get their children ready and work in the homes on the kinds of skills the youngsters will need.

Both, however, are designed for four-year-olds rather than children who might be in the classroom.

"Ours is the first program of its kind in Michigan," Mrs. Ingalls said.

She emphasized, too, that the class is not designed for problem children or retarded youngsters. "It's for the child who seems to need a little more relaxed program before he begins kindergarten every day," she said.

THE TEACHER for this addition to educational alternatives has both academic and on-the-job credentials for the program.

Mrs. Swain began college in Texas where she grew up and completed her last two years at Wayne State University in a social work curriculum.

Mother of three, she did substitute teaching in the Livonia district while her children were growing up. She also had both her sons and her daughter in cooperative nursery schools for two years each.

She was enthusiastic about the co-op nursery approach that brings mothers as well as pre-schoolers into the program, and for two years was teacher of the North Livonia cooperative.

"I WAS SURE teaching young children was what I wanted," she said, "and I decided I should become certified in the field."

Enrolling at the University of Michigan, she earned a master's degree last December in early childhood development and now is finishing up work on a certificate in early childhood education.

Janis Swain considers the work with parents "one of the best parts of the program."

"If we can talk to them, we can do a great deal to help them get their children ready," she said.

"And I particularly want a lot of father participation. Fathers sometimes have a harder time understanding it's not a matter of the child being slow."

THE PROGRAM will include the availability of special consultation services, such as those of a psychologist and speech therapist.

Tuition for the year is $295, and payments also may be made by the term or in three installments of $51 each term.

Enrollment information is available from Carole Watts at St. Andrew church.

Girl Scouts discover

Activities near home provide fun and save gas

Under a program called Summer Experiences, girl scouts have a variety of activities right in their own neighborhoods.

The traditional day camp which has been in operation for more than 25 years was administered entirely through the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit (GSMD) council office in downtown Detroit.

Day campers registered with the council office and bus transportation to the three day camp sites, usually 25 to 50 miles from downtown Detroit, was provided.

Summer Experiences are designed and operated completely by the neighborhoods. A neighborhood is a geographic grouping of from five to 40 troops of varying age levels in the same area. In most cases the activities are located in a nearby park, school or home.

The activities range from tennis and golf clinics, baking and crocheting classes, to local traditional day camp sessions.

Some neighborhoods have planned all-day bike hikes or overnight camping trips.

"We developed this new summer program for several reasons," said director Beatrice Frank.

"First, it was becoming more and more difficult to find and reserve a park site that could adequately accommodate groups of 200 to 300 scouts.

"Secondly, with increasing costs and the gas shortage, providing bus transportation all summer became a problem. Also, we felt that individual neighborhoods or clusters of neighborhoods could best design a program to suit their scouts' particular interests and needs. And more girls could probably be involved because of the location and convenience of the activities."

Summer Experiences was designed by a special GSMD task force made up of program committee members and former day camp administrators, leaders and other adult volunteers.

"We suggested that the adults involved in planning first review the interests and needs of the scouts in their neighborhoods, allowing for girl-planning wherever possible," Mrs. Frank said.

"Then, we advised them to realistically estimate the number of girls they could handle, and, finally, to decide on specific activities."

She reports the program which began the end of June has been extremely well received by both scouts and leaders.

Some of the summer experiences on the schedule for area scouts include an outing at the Ivory horse farms, Aug. 3-4 for the Neighborhood 45 group in Garden City.

Garden City's neighborhood 44 group joins with neighborhood 59 group from Redford Township along with two others from Inkster and Dearborn Heights for a continuing international day celebration at Nankin Mills on July 17, 24 and 31.

In Redford Township Neighborhoods 58 and 60 will join at Camp Innisfree for five days of camping starting Aug. 25.

There are many summer experiences taking place in Livonia. Cadettes and seniors will have an intensive three day training session in backpacking skills July 23, 24, 25 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Nankin Mills in Hines Park.

Juniors, cadettes and seniors will be learning how to make jiffy lace on July 22, 24, 26, 29, 31 and Aug. 2.

The golf clinic at Whispering Willows which started July 8 continues on July 15, 17 and 19. There is $1 charge for the sessions which start at 10 a.m. and last an hour and 15 minutes.

On July 23, juniors will have a pool party from 1-3 p.m. At the same time and on the same day, another group of juniors will be learning to crochet purses.

Meanwhile the brownies will be working on basic baking skills. The first session will be on July 18 from 1-3 p.m. and the second on Aug. 6 from 1-3 p.m.

Scouts 12 and older have been working with members of the Redford-Livonia Theater Guild for the past month studying make-up, drama and props. They plan to conclude their activities with a dramatic production.

Free Pap tests will be given

A free Pap test clinic will be held in the new Western Wayne County YWCA, 26279 Michigan, between Beech Daley and John Daly, Monday, Aug. 5 through Friday, Aug. 9. The clinic is sponsored by the Garden City Jaycettes and the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

All area women are urged to take advantage of the opportunity.

Cervical cancer is one of the most common types afflicting women and it is curable if detected early enough.

It is recommended that women of every age have a Pap test at least once a year and in some cases physicians recommend that it be taken two of three times a year.

The clinic is open to any woman. Those under 18 must have parental consent. Appointments may be made through the Michigan Cancer Foundation, Western Wayne Unit, 1112 N. Telegraph, Dearborn.

Jaycette Mrs. Sandy Stoltz of Garden City is clinic chairman. Mrs. Millie Tyszkiewicz of Garden City is club president. They will be assisted by volunteers from the Cancer Foundation's western Wayne County branch.

The test, a painless collection of cervical cells, takes about five minutes. The cells are microscopically examined for abnormalities.

The results will be sent to the woman's personal physician.

Irregular bleeding or unusual vaginal discharge are among the first visible signs of cervical cancer. While they don't automatically indicate cancer, they should be reported immediately to a physician.

The Pap test indicates cervical cancer long before the signs are apparent.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation is the only cancer control agency within the United Foundation.

Kobberstad-Drys rites in Redford

Christ Lutheran Church in Redford Township was the setting for the recent wedding of Christine Kobberstad and Gregory Drys.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl J. Kobberstad of Redford Township and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Drys of Dearborn Heights.

For the double-ring ceremony officiated by the Rev. Jerry B. Stroud, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white organdy with inserts of lace and seed pearls. A lace and pearl headpiece held her veil, and her colonial bouquet contained daisies, mums, carnations, miniature yellow roses and baby's breath.

Matron of honor Deborah Wiebeck of Kalamazoo wore a sheer, sleeveless gown of yellow and white checks, and the bridesmaids, Mary Cavuto of Redford Township and Mrs. Julie Kangas Seppa of Decatur, Ill., wore similar gowns in green. All carried bouquets of white and yellow daisies.

Flower girl Kristi Lee of Suttons Bay, cousin of the bride, had a long dress like those of the bridesmaids.

William Elwell of Ypsilanti was best man and the groomsmen were Joseph Garrett of Westland, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Thomas Earl of South Lyon. Ushers were James and John Kobberstad, brothers of the bride.

After a reception in the Mercy College student center, the couple left for a northern Michigan honeymoon. They will live in Belleville.

Bentley DMIC routs South Farmington

One step behind - that has to be the plight of Bentley DMIC in the Berry National baseball race.

Bentley, coached by Bill Hodges, trounced South Farmington, 7-3, to stand at 7-2 in the league. That mark is good enough for second place behind the Plymouth Merchants at 8-1.

The two pair off Tuesday, July 23.

at Haggerty Field (6 p.m.) in the regular season finale before the July 25 position night.

Bob Thibault and Doug Mohr worked the Bentley mound with Mohr chalking up the win in relief. DMIC scored four times in the top of the eighth to break a three-all deadlock.

Thibault gave up one run on three hits in the four innings worked.

walked one and struck out four. Mohr was touched for two runs on two hits, and struck out three.

Jim Vogl and Larry Cavins hurried for South Farmington with DMIC collecting seven hits and Cavins taking the defeat.

South Farmington got off to a one run unearned run lead in the second when Jay Cummings was safe on an error and was followed by singles off the bat of Bill Willson and Cavins.

Bentley got that one back plus one in the fourth on walks to Mike Robbins and Bill Moser, a sacrifice by Mark White and a two run single by Joe Palm.

The fifth saw Farmington zip back into command. Dave Cleland singled, John Hurley walked and Vogl singled with two runs scoring after an error by the rightfielder.

Bentley again tied it up in the sixth. Moser walked and was forced at second with White safe at first. Greg Gilchrist was safe on an error and Mohr singled in White to tie it at three-all.

DMIC broke things open in the first of the eighth. White started it off with a walk. Palm was safe on an error and Gilchrist banged into a fielder's choice with White cut down at third. Bill Hodges followed with a run scoring single and after a walk to Kevin Micelli, Brian Butcher broke it open with a three-run triple to push it to 7-3.

Plymouth-Martucci no-hits Garden City

The Plymouth Merchants stormed into a commanding lead in the Berry Mack National race, 9-1.

Plymouth exploded for nine runs in the first inning and left the rest up to Chris Martucci who handcuffed Garden City on a no-hitter.

The 17-year-old Martucci, who will be a senior this fall at Plymouth Canton High, walked one and struck out seven. The score came in the second when Joe Scarpace walked, stole second and scampered in on an error.

But the deed was already accomplished at that point as Plymouth sent 13 batsmen to the plate in the opening inning to score nine runs on six hits with four Garden City errors opening the door that much wider.

Keith Randazzo started things off with a single to left. Mike Verduce singled and Bill Parson walked to fill the bases. Brian Stemberger came up with a double squeeze single to score both Randazzo and Verduce. Parson stole second and Stemberger third to set up a two-run single off the bat of Bob Ayotte.

Martucci was safe on an error at third and Dave Pink safe on an error at second. Randazzo followed with a two-run single and Tom Close finished off the assault with another two-run hit.

Scarpace started on the Garden City mound and suffered the loss with Chuck Szura working in relief. It was Plymouth's eighth victory in nine outings with the Merchants banging out 11 hits.

Fancher hurler one-hits Redford

Behind the one-hit pitching performance of Bob Ganzak, Stevenson Fanchers tipped Redford Adray, 2-1, for its second victory in nine outings.

The solo hit off Ganzak was by Jim Wood in the fifth. Ganzak struck out five and walked two along the way.

Taking the loss for Redford was Don Barrowcliff who gave up four hits, walked three and struck out six.

Redford struck first in the opening inning without the benefit of a hit when Wood walked and moved around to third on two groundouts and dashed in on a passed ball.

Fanchers got the one tally back in the last of the fourth. Jim Treharne walked, Mark Temby singled and Ganzak singled in Treharne.

The last of the sixth saw Fanchers slip ahead. Treharne led the inning off with a base on balls but was picked off first. Tim Murphy was then safe on an error and moved to second on a single by Paul Schmidt. Bob Hope delivered a hit up the middle to score Murphy with the deciding score.

Bankers top Franklin

Stevenson High's junior Michigan Bank Berry club scored four times in the opening inning and added two in the fourth to top South Farmington in American loop action, 6-4.

Dave Palmisano went the full route for the Bankers and tossed a five-hitter, walked three and struck out five, recording his second win against one loss. Dave Cavins suffered the loss with the Bankers pounding out nine hits, five of those coming in the first inning.

Four straight singles by Jim Holy-cross, Pat Ruvolo, Dave Pelli, and Jim Martin along with a walk to Randy Besh and another single by Palmisano got the Stevenson Bankers off to a 4-0 start.

South Farmington got one back in the top of the third on an error, hit batsman and single by Ray Hurley. Walks to Jay Cummings and John Cleland and a single by Sam Udel sliced it to 4-2 in the fourth.

The Bankers bounced back to gain a four-run lead in the last of the inning. Jeff Kent singled, Ruvolo walked and Pelli and Martin followed up with singles to push it to 6-2.

South Farmington's final effort could only produce two scores in the seventh on hits by Tim Marion, Hurley and Cummings.

In The Pocket

By W.W. EDGAR

Joe Norris, one of the best bowlers ever developed in the Detroit area, must be laughing as he spends his days of retirement fishing the waters around San Diego, Calif.

And he'd have a good reason. He'd be smiling about the feud that now is smoldering between the bowlers and the proprietors over the type of finish being used to resurface the lanes for the fall and winter season.

Many proprietors have switched to a new finish that is supposed to be much harder than the lacquer they had been using. They were attracted to it because it is supposed to cut down labor costs.

BUT IN MANY cases, where the switch was made, the bowlers learned the new finish was much harder to score on and their averages started dropping. So, the feud is on.

Such things never bothered Norris who was one of the sharpest of all bowlers in "finding" an alley. He never asked questions about finish - or oil - or what was done to the lanes. He had his own system. In fact it was a ritual.

Any night Joe came to bowl he went through the same routine. He'd take his ball, make the usual delivery, and then "freeze" at the foul line. He'd look down at his feet and see how they were placed at the finish of his follow through.

If he didn't get a strike on the first ball, he'd shift a board or two, and roll until he got a strike. Once all the pins fell, Joe would look down at his feet, and for the rest of the night his footwork was repetitious. He'd finish in the same foot position with every ball.

PEOPLE OFTEN wondered how he could "find" and alley so fast. That's how he did it and many a laugh he provided for the fellows who knew of his routine.

It was the same against various styles of bowling pins. He reached his peak early one morning at the now defunct Olympia Recreation when Jerry Howard, a bowling vagabond, who never could beat Norris arrived with a burlap bag over his shoulder. It contained two sets of pins that Jerry claimed weighed 141 pounds.

"I'll bowl tonight only if we use my pins," Jerry informed Joe, who had just finished his league session.

"Let me bowl one game against them," Norris answered. "And I'll take you on."

Jerry agreed. He learned later that this was a mistake.

Norris bowled the one game against the pins, learned where he would have to deliver the ball - and then proceeded to give Howard a good beating with his own pins.

Jerry never tried to outsmart Joe after that.

That's why Joe would be laughing today if he learned of the present feud. The finish wouldn't bother him. He'd find a way to conquer it.

THE NEXT FEW days could be very important in the bowling career of Bob Hart, the triple ABC champion who has just switched teams and now is bowling for Strohs.

He'll be competing in the Tournament of the Americas down in Miami and a victory there would give him a season unequalled by any bowler.

OUT AT BEL-AIRE Lanes where shellac still is being used on the lanes, high scores were the order of the week. Two 700 series were rolled and a few high 600s.

Bowling in what is called a "fun" league Steve Gelardi posted a 734 that included games of 266 and 234. In the men's trio, Ron Sarah put together games of 200, 268 and 258 for 727.

Meanwhile Ron Watson contributed a 693 with a 257 game and Len Shires had a middle game of 255 in 646. Donna McClure paced the women with a 534 that had an opener of 201.

AT GARDEN LANES Polly Cole continued her high scoring streak with her third consecutive 600 series. This time she posted a 625 in the all-star doubles. Her other big series were a 633 and a 656.

Youth Fitness meet set for July 25

More than 2,000 boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 15 will be competing in the 17th annual Metropolitan Area Youth Fitness meet to be held at Oakland University, Thursday, July 25.

Participants are from 50 Michigan communities with the Northwest Parks and Recreation Association and the Michigan Fifth District VFW Post co-sponsors.

Following a 10 a.m. opening ceremony, the 2,000 youths will participate in mass calisthenics. Competitive events start at 10:30 a.m. and include the 50-yard dash, softball throw, standing and running broad jump, running and standing hop, step and jump, chinning and shuttle relay.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Mearl

While negotiations are still stymied between Hazel Park Racing Association and the mutual clerks union, it might be the proper time to point out that the 82-day meeting is scheduled to open one week from today.

At last reports management and union were as far apart now as when the talks first started some three months ago and it appears that only a miracle will bring any kind of a settlement this week.

Rumors are that management is standing pat on a five-day per week operation with racing on Sundays. Little information is available as to what kind of wager offers have been made or what kind of demands the union has made.

The two teams met briefly Thursday morning and from the union came tales that absolutely nothing had happened and so it appears as if a mediator will be necessary to try and work out some kind of a solution.

A development during the week has roused the union members to a point where they are talking strike and judging from some of the comments, it could be a long one.

'Tis rumored the Hazel Park management has presented a request in writing to Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley asking for a 4 p.m. post time with the exceptions of Saturdays and Sundays.

Although the commissioner reportedly hasn't made any comments publicly, rumors are that he is ready to sign a letter agreeing to the later post.

Under the racing act of Michigan the racing commissioner effect has the powers of czar. He has charge of the conduct of racing, the allotment of dates and everything connected with the sport. Thus it is taken for granted that he has the power to either approve or deny a request for a later post time during the week.

If he does approve, and there is every reason to believe he already has, then he has opened up a Pandora's box that may make contract negotiations even tougher than ever.

A later post time for the runners means the races will be over later and probably will mean that mutual clerks will not be able to go from Hazel Park to Wolverine Raceway in time to report for work for an 8 p.m. post.

It would mean that many union members, who depend on doubling up to meet expenses, will be deprived of the chance. And anyone in his right mind knows that no worker is going to agree to a contract that means he loses half of his income.

So it seems there'll be some hectic times across the negotiating tables this week. You can wager that horsemen will be watching the progress very closely since few will be inclined to ship into a track that is being picketed.

On the other hand, the DRC meeting ends next Saturday and Wolverine officials have only four days to change the track from thoroughbred to standardbred operation. It means all thoroughbreds must be off the premises by Sunday for the influx of pacers and trotters.

So, where does horse owner and trainer take his stock when he's worried about whether a track will open on time? It's about an even bet the horses will be shipped to other tracks and won't come back...that won't help Hazel Park one bit.

As we said earlier, this could be one of the most interesting weeks in Michigan racing history. Then, again, who knows the kinks holding up negotiations may be erased in one session.

IF PERFORMANCES in the Coon Trials are an indication of what to expect in the Charles Coon Memorial Futurities this week in Crosswell, then area pacers and trotters should get a share of the rich stakes.

The Trials were held at Northville Downs during the week and Hy Deb, from the Southlawn Farm Stables of Rochester finished a close second to Time for Bretta in the four-year-old pace.

The Futurity pace goes Wednesday with a purse of more than $50,000.

The trot is slated for Thursday and is worth $55,000 with Ed O'Hare, Southfield and Livonia Industrialist in the top spot with O'Dot, an easy winner in the trial.

O'Dot took the lead from the start and stayed ahead all the way to win by a couple of lengths in 2:05.4. If the mare continues that form at Crosswell, she just might come home with the winner's share of the big event.

The Court Jester

by BILL CAMERON

It's time for all future Chris Everts and Jimmy Connors to try their hand at tournament tennis.

The annual Harvey Barcus novice tennis tournament under the joint sponsorship of The Livonia Park and Recreation Department, Livonia Board of Education and Livonia Family Y will be held at Stevenson high school, July 19-21.

This is a must tournament for you beginners who have not competed in a major tournament. You won't have to worry about playing high school or college tennis team players as they are not eligible; neither are last year's winners.

There are two divisions of boys and girls 15 years of age and under as of Oct. 1, 1974, and men and women 16 years of age and over. Winners of the Livonia tournament will move on to the district tournament to be held in Plymouth the following week. These tournaments are a great experience for youngsters particularly, and fun for adults.

Entries may be obtained from the Livonia Park and Recreation office, Seven Mile Road, east of Farmington Road and the Livonia Family Y.

If you are inclined to a higher classification of play, then you may be interested in the first annual Redford open to be held at Thurston high school, singles Aug. 24 and doubles Aug. 10-11.

There will be competition in Class A and B. An A player is considered as one who has over three years and a B player as one who has less than three years of experience. There doesn't seem to be any age qualification, so I would assume the competition should be pretty good.

Applications are available at the Redford Township Park and Recreation Department, 12400 Beech-Daly Road or the Livonia Family Y.

We're still awaiting word on the annual Canton Township tournament and the City of Livonia closed tournament. As we receive information, we'll keep you posted. Remember the best experience a young player can get is to play in as many tournaments as possible. The first thing you'll learn is to accept your losses. Not everyone can be a winner. Even the best players have bad days.

One bit of advice for both winners and losers — after the match is completed, shake hands with your opponent. It's a simple courtesy, but one sometimes forgotten. Even if the opponent was a stinker on the court, show him or her that you are still a gentleman or a lady.

Will Help You Place Your Observer & Eccentric Want Ad

It's a pleasant experience -- placing your classified want ad in the Observer & Eccentric. When you dial one of our special classified phone numbers, you'll be connected directly with one of our friendly AD-Visors who will attend to your instructions quickly and offer expert assistance to make sure your want ad message is well-worded and sales appealing.

These highly trained women offer you an especially friendly Double Action deal if you place your want ad in two consecutive issues -- Monday & Thursday or Thursday & Monday, with no changes in copy and no cancellations -- you save $2.00 off the regular cost of placing an ad in two issues. Your Double Action Family Want Ad (personal only, no business) will bring fast and abundant results because it will be seen in nearly 155,500 homes in suburban Oakland and Wayne Counties. Our AD-Visors are confident of your satisfaction too, because many users of the Observer & Eccentric want ads call our AD-Visors back to thank them for excellent results.

You'll be pleased when you call the Observer & Eccentric AD-Visors ... pleased with the friendly greeting, "May I help you?", pleased with the quick response to your classified ad in the Observer & Eccentric.
