PLYMOUTH—Plymouth School District teachers are voting today to determine whether school will start here as scheduled Tuesday

The Plymouth Education Association (PEA, teachers' union) is holding a general membership meeting at Plymouth-Salem High School auditorium to decide one of the following alternatives:

(1) Accept the latest contract proposal from the school board and proceed with the start of school as planned.

(2) Refuse the latest school offer but continue with the start of school. (3) Refuse the board's offer and vote to strike - thus postponing the start of school. PEA President Dolly Carter has reserved the Penn Theater for a meeting today to follow the PEA meeting at the school and told the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric it is "possible" teachers would adjourn to the theater if a strike vote were taken.

district in 1969, they met at the thea- would receive $10,070. ter for discussions. Negotiations between the PEA and the schools failed to produce a settlement Wednesday afternoon.

THE LAST OFFER from the schools, made on Aug. 22, was discussed. It included a two-year pact cussed. It included a two-year pact calling for wage increase of 7¹2 per on Labor Day cent the first year and a six per cent increase in the second, it was learned

According to reliable information, the board's second year offer was conditional and could also be an increase representing twothirds of the Detroit cost of living index for 1975-76.

Also included in the board's last offer, sources said, was a 50 per cent dental program and the regular increments amounting to between four and seven per cent.

Counting the total salary package, a beginning teacher who earned $8,919 for 1973-74, would earn $10,100 in 1974-75 and $11.472 in 1975-76. Beginning teachers in 1974-75 would earn $9,500

Board and faculty bargaining teams will meet for the first time Friday with a state mediator. Teachers have not made a commitment to report to work without a contract.

A mediator is also expected Friday for South Redford School District contract talks. Although administrators have expressed optimism that a settlement will be reached, some teachers appear to feel that there is a strong possibility of a strike.

BARGAINERS for Plymouth teachers and the Plymouth Community School District are still apart on some issues and at press time a settlement was unlikely before teachers were scheduled to report today. Classes are slated to begin Sept. 3

Livonia teachers are in the second year of a two-year contract and school will begin as scheduled. Also starting classes on time will be students in the Clarenceville School District, where teachers are in the second year of a three-year contract.

A hearing on a request that Wayne County be barred from ending free Sheriff's patrol to townships, pending outcome of a lawsuit, has been adjourned while the county board of commissioners considers extending the patrols through the current fiscal year which ends Nov. 30.

Seven townships, including Plymouth and Canton, recently filed suit against Wayne County challenging its right to discontinue free road patrol services. The board of commissioners had funded the patrols only through Aug. 31.

THE PLAINTIFFS asked Wayne Circuit Judge Thomas J. Foley to enjoin the county from discontinuing the vacationing and didn't vote. patrols until the lawsuit is resolved.

made the request after consulting a special committee of commissioners.

A recommendation to extend the service through Nov. 30 has been made by the board's public safety and judiciary committee and was approved Monday by the ways and means committee. The matter is expected to be considered by the full board today (Thursday).

Area commissioners voting in favor of extending the service through Nov. 30 at the ways and means committee meeting were Richard Manning (D-Redford), Brian Arrowsmith (D-Canton), and Tom Taylor (D-Westland). Mrs. Mary Dumas (R-Livonia) was

THE PUBLIC SAFETY committee recommended the patrols be continued through the end of this fiscal year at a cost of $88,975 "pending a full review of the service at the 1974-75 budget hearings" in October.

The intention to phase out free patrol service in townships was first declared in 1963 by the then-appointed county board of supervisors. The elected board reaffirmed that policy in adopting the annual budget in 1970. The board then advised townships about the plan but didn't set a timetable for ending the service. The board funded the service only through Aug. 31 in last year's budget. but continued the patrols after some townships promised to work toward financing their own police services.

An Aug. 31 cut-off was scheduled again this year to prod the townships towards establishing their own police

THOSE FAVORING the cut-off argue county taxes collected at-large shouldn't be used to provide police service for some townships while other townships plus 33 cities pay for their local police protection.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—The Wesleyan Youth organization of the Plymouth Wesleyan Church has lent a helping hand to the Leslie Olson fam-

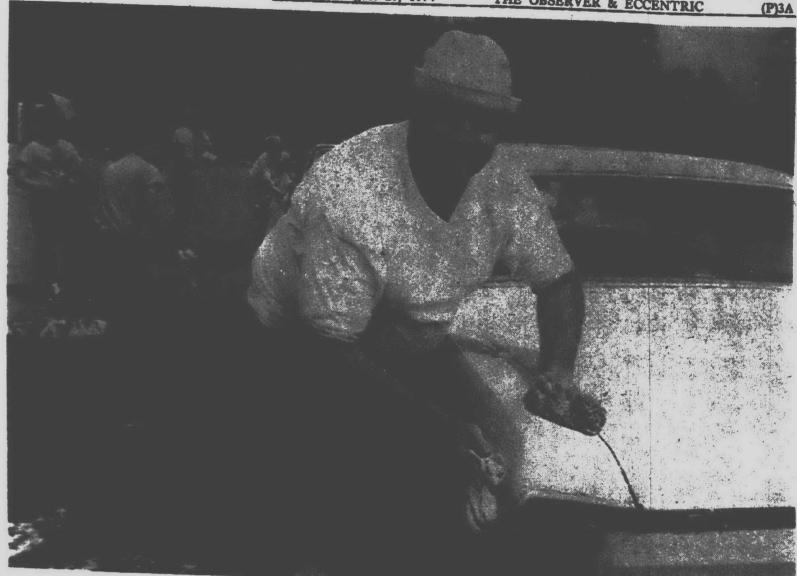

The Olson family, faced with expensive medical bills to pay for 12-yearold Leslie's rare blood disease, has depleted its savings and is now trying to struggle along on the $80 a week Jerry Olson makes and the donations which several civic and veteran groups have contributed.

To compound the problem, Mrs. Olson suffers from nerve tumors that often disable her arms.

The family's plight was brought to light by Olson's coworkers at the Packing Corporation of America. A story appeared in the Aug. 8 Plymouth Observer & Eccentric.

After hearing of the Olson's plight, the Wesleyan Youth group organized a car wash held at the church, 42290 Five Mile Rd., last Saturday.

Proceeds of the event went to the Olson family, 15533 Portis.

PASTOR DAVID COX of the Plymouth Wesleyan Church was washing cars Saturday for the Leslie Olson benefit.

WASHING CARS isn't so bad if it's for a good cause, found Kathleen McMullen, age 10.

She pitched in on the Wesleyan Youth Organization's benefit for Leslie Olson.

Sarah Power nominated with ease as U-M Regent

By TIM RICHARD

GRAND RAPIDS-Usually, only incumbent officeholders win a party's nomination for another term unanimously. An exception is Sarah Power, picked by the Democratic state convention Sunday as one of two candidates for the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

She made it look easy. The First Congressional District answered the roll call and said it had a nomination was nominated for the first ballot called. slot, although four men battled it out through two roll calls for the second nomination

"WE STARTED in the middle of February," said Mrs. Power, 38, an Ann Arbor resident who is on leave as assistant chairwoman of the U-M's Commission for Women.

erence to her husband, Philip H. Power, co-publisher of Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

While he is not listed on her campaign committee, Philip Power's hand is in evidence in the effective campaign brochure Mrs. Power distributed to thousands of Democratic precinct and state convention dele-

"We campaigned all over the state. from Benton Harbor to Copper Harbor. 18,000 to 20,000 miles, and to make. No one else but Mrs. Power through at least two floods," she re-

Her campaign advisers included Michael Staebler, son of a former Democratic state chairman, several present and former members of Congress, and a who's who of Michigan political and civic work - Wilbur Cohen, William Haber, Adelaide Hart, Harlan Hatcher, Carl Levin, Edward McNa-"We" in this case is an oblique ref- mara. Stewart R. Mott and so on.

In short, she had built up such a campaign that no one else challenged

"THERE'S A FEELING among delegates and the other candidates that there should be a woman on the Board of Regents," she said in an interview backstage of the Civic Center moments after the convention nominated her. That was why the four male candidates all ran against each other rather than her.

At present, the eight-member board has only one woman member: Gertrude (Trudy) Huebner, of Bloomfield Hills, who is retiring.

Mrs. Power's running mate will be attorney Thomas Roach of Grosse Pointe Park. Republicans picked former State Rep. David Upton of St. Joseph and attorney Donna Scott Parker of Howell.

Mrs.Power's nominating speech was the work of Dauris Jackson, a Democratic figure in her own right but better known to the world as Mrs. Murray Jackson, wife of the first president of Wayne County Community College and now a U-M professor.

Mrs. Jackson charged that U-M "has an archaic and elitist view of what is an acceptable student." She said Mrs. Power would support "affirmative action programs for minorities and for women. . . and will fight

Her earlier work was as executive director of the New York City host committee for the United Nations. At the time, her political associations were with such Republicans as Nelson Rockefeller and John Lindsay. Mrs. Power was married to life-long Democrat Philip Power about the time Lindsay made his party switch.

Democrats didn't seem to hold her background against her, especially since Mrs. Power has joined every party organization she could and worked on two Democrats' campaigns in 1972.

Her own academic work was at Vassar College (BA in history) and New York University's Graduate School of Politics and International Relations

WE WANT TO SELL CARS. IOU WANT TO SAVE MONEY.

IT'S THAT SIMPLE.

Right now, many Chevrolet dealers are offering year-end savings on in-stock Novas.

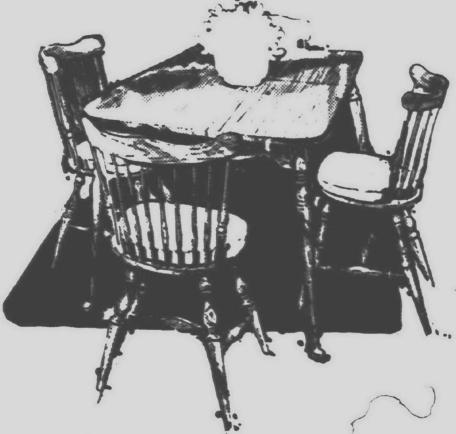

Nova is Chevy's sensible, economical compact.

The Nova 2-door with a six-cylinder engine is our lowest priced compact. It's sensible, comfortable, basic transportation for six people. In a 3-door wagon-like Hatchback, the Nova 6 lets you carry things around comfortably, too. In a 4-door Nova 6, rear seat passengers enjoy comfort and easy entry while you enjoy the economy of Nova's proved six-cylinder engine. And you get the confidence that comes from our 13 years of experience in building Novas. Ask your Chevrolet dealer about year-end savings on a 1974 Nova now. Chevrolet wants to sell cars, you want to save money. That's why Chevrolet's Year-End Savings Plan makes sense.

Local candidates report primary gifts, expenses

PLYMOUTH—By the Aug. 16 filing deadline for expense reports from the Aug. 6 campaign, 10 of 12 candidates for major Plymouth Township offices had filed with the Wayne County Election Commission.

Not filing carries no penalty and candidates may file late, but they cannot take office without submitting the report of their campaign finances.

On the GOP side, incumbent Supervisor J. D. McLaren filed expense reports for himself and two committees working on his behalf. According to the three reports, he spent a total of $403 on the successful campaign.

Income included $135 from the Committee for Good Government for McLaren and $132 from the Committee to Re-elect J. D. McLaren for Supervisor, while the candidate himself filed personal expenses of $136.

Clerk Helen Richardson, who was unopposed for the Republican nomination and has no opposition in November, listed no expenses or receipts.

Among Republican candidates for treasurer, Ann Milligan reported expenses of about $15, while Weyona Lee Fidge spent $128. Neither listed any receipts. Thomas G. Notebaert spent $137.

Winner Joseph West reported expenses totaling about $277, or a little more than $138 each from his political action committee and the West for Treasurer Election Committee. The candidate himself spent about $199 in the campaign.

Boosters set dance

PLYMOUTH-A dance sponsored by the Athletic Boosters Club of Plymouth-Canton and Plymouth-Salem high schools has been added to the Fall Festival calendar of events and will be held Friday, Sept. 6, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Mayflower Meeting House.

This event will give Meeting House patrons their first use of the new outdoor pavilion atop the recently constructed office annex of the Meeting House. Tables and an outdoor dance floor, plus accommodations for the 16piece Ambassadors orchestra, will be arranged on the rooftop if the weatherman cooperates.

Tickets are $5 per person and are available from club members or in the Mayflower Hotel.

52nd House's 2 candidates list donations

PLYMOUTH—Running unopposed for their party nominations for the 52nd District Michigan House of Representatives, Merian Fredericks spent $133, while Roy Smith spent $899.

Mrs. Fredericks and Smith both filed two reports with the Washtenaw County Election Commission, a personal account and the financial statement of their committees.

GOP candidate Smith listed no expenses or receipts on his personal record. The Committee to Elect Roy Smith spent $899 against contributions totaling $1.082.

Democrat Mrs. Fredericks' personal statement listed expenses of $94 and receipts of $21, while her committee reported expenses of $39 against receipts of $45.

The 52nd district includes the City of Plymouth and most of Plymouth Township.

Frank Millington and Richard Gornick, Republican candidates for trustee, were unopposed in the primary and reported no expenses or

Only Maury Breen, an unsuccessful candidate for GOP supervisor nomination, and Democratic nominee for trustee Orville Tungate failed to file a record of their expenses by Aug. 16.

Among the Democrats, trustee candidate Thomas P. Sullivan listed expenses of $4.20 and no receipts, while unopposed treasurer nominee Janet Pierangelino reported no receipts and no expenses.

Canton

CANTON-Only nine of 18 candidates who sought party nominations to major township offices in the Aug. 6 primary filed reports of their campaign finances with the Wayne County Election Commission by the Aug. 16

While there is no penalty for not filing, winning candidates cannot take office before they submit a listing of their campaign finances.

On the Democratic side, supervisor candidate Robert Greenstein filed a personal expense report listing no expenses and no receipts and a report of the Democratic Club of Canton, which raised $1,800 and spent about $1,400.

Contributors to the Democratic Club of Canton campaign were Robert Greenstein, $400, Carl Parsell, $300, Northwest Canton Homeowners, $100, Dr. J. N. Levine of Bloomfield Hills, $100, Anthony Bombrisk of Detroit, $500, Gerald Cheske, $200 and Robert Myers, $200.

Democratic candidate for a twoyear trustee post Gerald Cheske reported expenses of $200 which were paid for by the Democratic Club of nee E. Brian Schwall reported disbursements of about $355 against receipts of $310. His chief contributors were Melvyn Friedman of West Bloomfield, $200, and Mary Kostyniuk of Oak Park, $50. Clerk John Flodin, unopposed for the Democratic nod, listed no expense and no receipts.

Failing to file reports of their finances by Aug. 16 were Democratic nominee for treasurer Carl Parsell, his opponents, Thomas Stevens and Grant Campbell, supervisor candidate Jack Marts, and trustee candidates Democratic four-year trustee nomi- Robert Myers, Joseph Delauro, Irene Murphy and Frank McMurray. Republican trustee candidate Joseph Kinnick also failed to file.

On the GOP side, supervisor nominee James E. Poole listed expenses of $37 with no receipts, while his oppoenent, Ralph Foote, listed no expenses and no receipts.

Republican nominee for treasurer Richard I. Wolfe Jr. was unopposed in the primary and reported no expenses or receipts, as did trustee nominee Warren Attwood. GOP trustee nominee William Ryan listed expenses of less than $100 and no receipts

2nd Canton fire station will be built

By MARIE McGEE

CANTON-Fears that the proposed fire station in the Warren-Haggerty Roads area will not become a reality if a request for three mills is defeated again in November were somewhat allayed this week by Supervisor Philip Dingeldey.

Dingeldey said the township is still moving forward on the plans for the negative vote in the November elec- the November election to be preceded tion will just "make us look for another way to finance it."

He went on to explain that he felt millage voted by the people "is the fairest way," but that the township has other means of raising the funds without voters' consent.

Stunned by the defeat in the August primary, what was viewed as a "sure thing." trustees two weeks ago agreed badly needed facility and that another to resubmit the three-mill request in by an intensive educational campaign to make residents aware of the township's need for extra funds now and in the future.

At the time he sponsored the resolution putting the millage on the November ballot, Trustee James Poole reported that out of Canton's approximately 8,000 registered voters, only about 30 per cent bothered to voteand 30 per cent of those "did not cast a vote one way or the other on the mil-

The same of the sa

One of the points the volunteer citizens committee supporting the millage will stress is that the three mills at this time is only a proposal and not a direct levy. The levy would come if and when it is needed and would empower future boards to levy the millage as Canton's needs grow in the next 10 years.

Seated comfortably in his easy chair in the living rooom watching the evening news on the tube, The Stroller was pulled up short when the scene suddenly shifted to the little town of Colon, Mich.

There, in living color, the TV camera focused on the annual convention of magicians, sleight-of-hand artists and the like when, without warning, a hypnotist came into view.

Dressed in the formal full dress with Stroller tails and white gloves he had a woman suspended in the air about five feet from the floor and was swinging a hoop back and forth to prove that she was not being supported in any way except by his power.

Magicians

It was quite a sight and a nostalgic one at that, for it had been years since The Stroller, then a young lad back home, had seen a hypnotist perform this feat. And it is still is puzzling to him as to what keeps the woman suspended.

DOWN IN OUR LITTLE town we. were visited annually by the troupe of magicians. We never missed a chance to get up close and try to see where the magician placed the white pigeons that always played vital roles in the sleight-of-hand performance.

It was the hypnotist, though, who created the most interest and for a very good reason.

Each evening- and these were one night stands- he would talk seriously to the doubters in the audience and tell them he would prove his hypnotic power by doing his act in any store window on our main street.

He always saw to it that there several "doubters" in the group and when they made their voices heard he would leave the theater and move to the hardware store that boasted the biggest show window in town.

Then, for all the world to see, he would place the woman in a trance and by the waving of his hand raise her body about five feet while we natives stood aghast at the sight.

IT WAS THE SAME each year, with the exception that the hypnotist usually had a new partner, one more beautiful than the other as the seasons came and went.

As The Stroller sat there the other evening watching the performance at Colon on the tube, he remembered the night when "our gang" tried to foil the hypnotist.

We were at the age when such things were looked upon with skepticism and yearned for the chance to prove that there was real trickery in such performances. And we didn't hesitate to shout "fake" at the good man doing the trick as his way of making a living.

So, one night we hit upon a scheme when the hypnotist announced that he would keep the woman suspended for 12 hours in that store window.

We agreed that we would keep watch all through the night by working in relays. It was our belief that, at some point in the wee hours, the woman would be taken out of the trance and given a rest.

We were a determined group that went to the regular performance in the theater and goaded the hypnotists into proving their power in the window of the hardware store.

AS USUAL a large gathering of the townspeople crowded the sidewalk to watch the act and then departed in amazement. We departed, too, so as not to give away our plans.

Each hour during the night- and sometimes on the half hour- one of our group made it a point to sneak along the store fronts and take a quick look to see if the woman was still there.

Came sun-up and she still was there. With each minute it became more puzzling. Was she really hypnotized? Could she go through the night without heeding a call from nature?

Then one morning came the break. We had worked in relays and had failed again to get the results we had hoped for. The owner of the store pulled the curtain and explained that he had to rearrange the window display, but that he wouldn't disturb the suspended woman.

SURE ENOUGH, when he finished and the curtain was pulled aside, there was the woman just as we had seen her. The hypnotist was standing by, smiling, until the appointed hour of 10.30 a.m. when he released the spell and the woman returned to normalcy while the small gathering cheered.

But our gang left with mixed feelings. Was the act on the up and up, or did the store owner draw the curtain to give her a rest?

We grew into manhood and still did not have the answer.

Joan Petitpren's defeat caused by women's bloc

By TIM RICHARD

GRAND RAPIDS-After two cliffhanging roll calls. Joan Petitpren finally lost. And it was other women who made the difference.

The Westland teacher with the flaming red hair lost a tough bid for the Democratic nomination for the State Board of Education by 56 votes out of nearly 2,500 cast at last weekend's state convention.

And the margin of difference probably came from the party's women's caucus, which declared her "unaccep-

"I was interviewed by them and found we had a lot of shared views," Mrs. Petitpren said as the long countdown began, "but they called me unacceptable."

Why? Few other women delegates seemed to know. The best guess may have come from her husband Vincent. a former state legislator who is now party chairman in the 15th Congressional District

"They think of labor as a sexist organization," said Vince

MRS. PETITPREN boasted of a labor family background as she campaigned for one of the two state board nominations, and she belongs to the teachers union at Eastern Michigan University. The 15th is a labor-dominated political area.

Fleming backs transit bond issue

A nonpartisan citizens steering com- for all of Michigan," Fleming added. mittee chaired by University of Michigan President Robben W. Fleming has recently begun organizing efforts in support of a $1.1 billion transportation bond issue on the Nov. 5 Michigan ballot

The bond issue which grew out of a recommendation by Paul McCracken. head of Gov. William Milliken's special commission on energy, would be used to finance a variety of transportation facilities statewide

THE ISSUE reached the ballot after the governor urged the legislature to put the issue before the people. With federal and local matching funds the total transportation program is expected to reach $6.25 billion.

"Some persons have expressed concern that this issue will benefit only one region of the state." Fleming

"I believe the wide-ranging support indicated by the men and women committed to lead the campaign, and others still to be named, prove this program is not just 'for Detroit' or for the Upper Peninsula, but rather

THE EFFECT on Michigan's employment picture should not be ignored. Fleming said.

The project is expected to create at least 10,000 new jobs directly and more as a result of an improved transportation system.

Some of the programs to be financed over a 15-year construction phase are an urban transit system planned for southeast Michigan, an upgrading of a statewide freight and passenger rail network and a massive expansion of passenger rail and intercity bus service, statewide airport development, and modernization and expansion of Great Lake port capaci-

Other members of the committee which seeks bond issue support include: Henry Ford, chairman of the board of the Ford Motor Company; Max Fisher, chairman of Detroit Renaissance; Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers; and Elton Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Plymouth Fall Festival to attract thousands

Thousands are expected to descend upon Plymouth in early September for four days of music, dancing, goodnatured gluttony and gaiety during the annual Fall Festival.

The festival, which runs Sept. 5-8. has something for everyone: Japanese Yaki Tori and German sausage. high volume rock mixed with twangy Bluegrass rhythms, antiques and streamlined modern sculpture, and a frisbee throw.

THE FESTIVAL is composed of the efforts of some 42 service clubs from Plymouth and surrounding communities orchestrated into a four-day cel-

As a non-profit, non-commercial enterprise, the festival combines aspects of a fiesta with elements of an oldfashioned country fair.

cue was held in one of the city's parks and drew a modest crowd of 150 persons, mostly Rotary members and their families.

In 1960 the chicken barbecue expanded into a Fall Festival and moved to larger quarters at Kellogg Park in the center of town. Over the years the festival has grown into one of the largest events of its kind in Michigan drawing thousands annually.

THIS YEAR'S festival will open with a drawing from the Michigan Michigan State University. State Lottery with prizes totaling an estimated $380,000.

The lottery will be followed by a German Dinner, the first of six festival mass dinners. If German cuisine doesn't suit your taste, there is a fish fry on Friday night, a pancake festival on Saturday, a roast beef dinner Saturday evening, and the dean of festival dinners, the Rotary Chicken Bar- al chair or view a colorful Tiffany becue Sunday.

mitted, however, that city officials had talked about a four-level structure for one area of the city, and had also discussed the possibility of a second level for the Weidman lot.

Yockey said he couldn't say at this point that the city would opt for a parking structure at all to cope with the parking problem. "The new bank going in is going to have 100 to 150 new spaces," he said, "and there is an attempt to locate additional off street parking in other areas-I don't think the problem is so acute that we're going to have to do something right away."

Twp. fire alarms up

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP-For the first time in the history of the Plymouth Township fire department, more than 100 calls were received in a single month.

Fire Chief James Gignac said that in July, his department responded to 103 alarms, 43 of them rescue runs. In July last year, the department responded to 78 runs.

For the first seven months this year, the department responded to 480 alarms compared to 430 in the same period a year ago.

False alarms are up this year, 12 reported in the first seven months compared to four in the 1973 period. Four false alarms were received in July this year while one was reported in the same month last year.

Canton ups Mettetal study fund

CANTON-A misunderstanding about costs prompted Canton trustees to vote an additional $2,500 for a feasibility study involving possible acquisition of Mettetal Airport.

The board several weeks ago appropriated $2,500 for a survey that must be made by the Federal Aviation Authority, in order to qualify for federal funds for site acquisition and development. However, it has since learned the cost to the township is $5,000 with the state adding a matching amount.

The only "no" vote was cast by Trustee Brian Schwall, who explained by saying he didn't believe the township should spend any more money on the proposal in light of the voters' recent denial of three mills for added police and fire protection.

party and the party leadership in the state GOP to succeed Lt. Gov. James Brickley as the second highest elected official in the state.

Twice elected to the Michigan House of Representatives by large pluralities, the Troy legislator made a favorable impression upon the several thousand party faithful during early activities at the Michigan Republican convention over the weekend.

"I've been getting a good reception around the state," Damman said late Friday after a tour of handshaking with party members at a downtown hotel. "I've encountered no serious problems, and I've received a fair degree of enthusiasm."

AN ATTEMPT to derail the Damman candidacy by Elizabeth Howe, chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Party, caused hardly a ripple last week in the state Republican Party. Mrs. Howe raised old charges that Damman traded his vote as a member of the Troy City Commission for campaign donations from major developers in the city.

Damman, who served 20 months as a city commissioner in 1969-70 before his election to the House from the 63rd District, dismissed the charges as the "spurious allegations of desperate Democrats" and said there was "absolutely no conflict of interest" involved in his receiving campaign money in 1970 from local businessmen.

Republicans from the governor's office to precinct delegate obviously agreed with Damman's assessment of the

"There was some awareness that these old charges were floating around," a Milliken spokesman said last week. The governor did ask Jim about these things, and Jim told him there was nothing in them then and there's nothing in them now."

ALL THE PARTY workers interviewed Friday night expressed surprise that there was even a question of Damman's integrity and said they knew nothing of the charges.

Born Jan. 16, 1933, in Grosse Pointe Park, Damman graduated from the University of Detroit in 1954. He was connected for many years with the family hardware business in the Detroit area, the A.L. Damman Hardware Co.

Active for a number of years in Troy service groups and civic organizations, he was elected to the Troy City Commission (now the Troy City Council) in April 1969. He resigned his seat on the commission Dec. 28, 1970, to take his seat in the state house to which he was elected in November 1970. Once in Lansing Damman quickly established a record as a supporter of a gasoline tax increase to finance mass transit programs (he was the floor manager of a bill which ultimately raised the gas tax) and as a backer of legislation to curb state welfare costs by establishing a residency rule for welfare applicants.

HE ALSO became involved in an abortive effort to establish a one-house legislature in Michigan, a move which died when a petition campaign failed to secure enough signatures to get the proposal on the statewide ballot in 1972.

In his first term, Damman also supported a resolution urging the state to force greater private financial aid to nursing homes to cut costs to the taxpayer. He was re-elected in 1972 with more than 70 percent of the vote.

Dem 'coalition slate' surprised area delegates

By TIM RICHARD

GRAND RAPIDS— Michigan Democrats left their state convention last weekend suspecting-but not knowing for sure—what kind of leaders their 70-member delegation would have at a national charter convention Dec. 6-8 in Kansas City.

While most national delegates were elected from congressional district caucuses. 12 were to be elected atlarge. With 81 candidates to tally, the count still was less than half done Sunday, a day after the vote was taken.

Victory appeared to belong to a "mysterious coalition slate" of a dozen familiar names in Michigan Democratic politics. But many of the party's young liberals, especially in the 2nd Congressional District. voted for the scattering of other candidates or just plain abstained in anger.

Still time to register

There is still time to register for fall semester classes at Schoolcraft College.

Late registration for day and evening credit classes being taught on campus and at the instructional center in Garden City are being accepted through Sept. 12.

Full time students who register late are charged a $10 fee, and part-time students pay $2.50 a class.

On Sept. 3-4, late registrations will be taken in the auxiliary gym. After that, they will be taken in the student affairs office.

The hours are 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. with the exceptions of lunch (11:30-1) and dinner (3:30-6:30) hours.

The main campus is located at 18600 Haggerty between Six and Seven Mile in Livonia. The instructional center is at Middle Belt and Florence, south of Ford Road, in Garden City.

THE ORIGIN of the "coalition outnumbered women 10-2; the McGoslate" was shrouded in mystery. A mirneographed slate of names appeared on the convention floor Saturday with no indication of who had compiled or printed it.

It included: four elected officials or candidates—gubernatorial nominee Sander Levin, Secretary of State Richard Austin, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and Detroit Mayor Coleman Young: four labor leaders-AFL-CIO Michigan President William Marshall, UAW Vice President Odessa Komer. UAW-CAP Chairman Douglas Fraser, and Walter Campbell, secretary treasurer of the state AFL-CIO; and a scattering of party people-Jan Heller of the Young Democrats, party Treasurer Stuart Hertzberg. National Committeeman Neil Staebler, and black caucus chairman Sen. David Holmes. Liberals such as Marjorie Lansing of Ann Arbor called it frankly "a labor slate." Mrs. Lansing, an unsuccessful candidate for the 2nd District congressional nomination Aug. 6, said, "There's no one on here unacceptable to Bill Marshall (AFL-CIO president) or Sam Fishman (head of the UAW's political arm).

"CAP people distributed it." she added, referring to Fishman's group. State Rep. Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor) said "liberals were not consulted, except for a few. It's a leadership slate.

EVEN SANDER LEVIN himself was unsure of the slate's origin.

"I've been busy campaigning." he said, "so I didn't take part. I know it's been discussed for six weeks and changed a lot. If I could raise $500,000 for my campaign by telling you. I couldn't tell you.

Other party veterans said the slate had been prepared by the secretary of state's power bloc labor leaders. party leaders and the like, but were unsure of who composed that group and when they met vernite liberals got a poor break compared to party veterans and labor; and convention rules prevented minority groups from "plunking" all their votes behind one or two candidates.

And so it was that 2,500 delegates found themselves casting 12 votes apiece—a total of some 30,000—among 81 candidates.

Partial returns indicated the slate would do well. The UAW's Odessa Komer got a low of 1,475.92, Secretary of State Austin a high of 1,921.36. A majority of delegates is 1,231.

While tellers made no compilation of protest abstentions, knowledgeable delegates estimated that as many as 25 per cent of the 2nd District's votes were such abstentions.

THE 2ND, WHICH includes Monroe County, the Ann Arbor area, Livonia, Plymouth and Northville, cast less than half its 120 votes-58.5-for Austin and only 42 for the AFL-CIO's Campbell. Mrs. Lansing, one of the persons nominated from the floor, got

The 15th District, which includes Garden City, Westland and Canton Township, stuck with the slate. Austin got 115.59 votes of a total of 127; Mrs. Lansing only 15.24.

The 12th District, which includes Rochester, gave a little more than a majority to the "coalition slate"-83 of the 127 for Austin, 64 for Campbell and 62 for another protest candidate. Rep. Bullard.

One veteran political reporter, Bud Vestal of the outstate Booth Newspapers, wrote that the AFL-CIO's Marshall and the UAW's Fishman locked horns over makeup of the at-large de-

Marshall stuck to his guns and won designation of his vice president, Walter Campbell of Muskegon, as an at-large delegate, while Fishman accepted designation as a district delegate," wrote Vestal.

In the 17th District (Southfield, Lathrup, Farmington, Redford Township and northwest Detroit), the slate got two-thirds or more of the 150 votes. Austin peaked at 123. Kelley more than 104, Campbell 89. Here Mrs. Lan-

The story was the same in the 18th District (eastern Oakland County, part of Macomb), also with 150 votes. Austin got 102.4, Kelley 88.48, Campbell 79.81. Protest candidates Bullard and Mrs. Lansing got only 19.67 and 12.05 respectively, indicating a high degree of total abstentions.

The 19th District (western Oakland) gave 4-1 support to the slate. Of 115 votes, nearly 99 went to Austin and Kelley, 27 to Mrs. Lansing and 22 to Bullard.

LIBERALS WEREN'T the only dissatisfied group.

Art Cullers, chairman of the Wallace Action Movement, called a press conference after the day's session to complain that his group, whose presidential candidate won 51 per cent of the vote in the 1972 primary, got only three of the 70 charter convention seats. Cullers had hoped for seven or

He said, however, that his group would accept the result. Cullers said in some districts labor leaders had cooperated in helping elect Wallaceites, but in others they hadn't. No local suburban districts were listed among the uncooperative.

The charter convention is expected to battle over quota systems for picking delegates to presidential nominating conventions. McGovernites want rigid quotas to assure direct minority representation, labor and party regulars favor less rigid rules.

PRIDE earns national praise for county

The PRIDE project of Wayne County Intermediate School District has received national recognition as an exemplary program to facilitate constructive educational change in the nation's schools.

PRIDE (Providing Reading Impetus through Developmental Experiences) directs itself to the reduction of the incidence of reading failure among children in early grades.

THE PROJECT has developed diagnostic and prescriptive materials to be used at the pre-school, kindergarten, and first grade levels.

Nc. a reading program, the PRIDE approach is early intervention in skill development areas correlated to a successful reading experience.

Teachers and paraprofessionals at the pre-school, kindergarten and first grade levels in Wayne County districts have been trained in the use of PRIDE materials by the PRIDE staff during the three-year operation of the project.

LOCAL SCHOOL districts participating were Wayne-Westland, Inkster, Ecorse, Highland Park, Romulus, Van Buren, Westwood, Wyandotte, and Wayne Out-County Head Start.

The agency is funded for $430,260 for one year under a grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA).

The agency is geared to handle 500 town Detroit across from Traffic cases a month through investigation, mediation, reconciliation, and litigation of consumer disputes. Civil and criminal legal action will be pursued in behalf of consumers. The service is free to all Wayne County residents.

A CONSUMER with a complaint will meet on a one-to-one basis with someone from the agency to document the particulars.

If the consumer complaint is found ant county prosecutors whose full to be legitimate, the agency will try to negotiate a mutually agreeable settlement. If the parties involved cannot reach an agreement, the case will be referred to the mediation council.

The mediation council consists of 50 persons, serving voluntarily, from labor, consumer and business communities. Ten teams of five each will decide consumer disputes when both parties agree to mediation.

IN CASES where criminal fraud exists, the case will be referred immediately to a prosecuting attorney working with the agency. He will issue a warrant and pursue prosecution.

When civil damage claims are justified, staff attorneys will file in behalf of consumers through Common Pleas or Circuit Court

If many consumers complain of the same problem, a class action suit will be considered

The education department of the agency will act as a clearing-house for information already available from assorted sources to educate both consumers and merchants about their rights and responsibilities in the marketplace. It will produce new information when and where the need exists.

The department will also keep open lines to the mass media to channel useful and timely consumer informa-

Director of the agency is Sue Hoover assisted by Ray Adams.

Those present at the opening ceremonies included: William Cahalan, county prosecutor; George Matish, chief counsel, Legal Aid and Defender Association; and Allen Kellman, lawyer and director of the agency.

Services for young

This will be the final column dealing with the services offered through Livonia Aide Crisis Center, 33110 Five Mile, and the Westland Aide Crisis Center, 8068 N. Wayne Road.

YOUNG PEOPLES Awareness Group is an attempt to provide a peer setting in which young persons can openly communicate their values, feelings and ideas about a number of topics such as drugs, parents and sex-

OPPORTUNITIES are provided to explore a number of areas including people problems resulting in drug abuse, sources of help for these as well as other problem areas.

The group also works toward clarifying some important life values and improving communication skills, using a combination of values clarification, human potential and empathic listening.

JOB READINESS Group is a process used in preparing individuals who are seeking full or part-time entry into the labor market.

Securing job skills is only one part of the process involved in obtaining employment. The other component consists of specific training in techniques of job selection, identification of job leads, applying for and securing jobs, and holding that job once it is secured.

Subject matter to be covered in this group include selecting a job, identifying job leads, filling out an application, preparing for an interview and following up on a job application.

Dike to be inspected

Army Secretary Howard H. Callaway has directed the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to meet with state engineers to conduct a joint inspection of emergency dikes along the Lake Erie shoreline, reports Rep. Marvin L. Esch (R-Ann Arbor) whose 2nd District includes Livonia and Plymouth.

Esch had met with Callaway to demand an elimination of red tape which he said has promoted concern among local officials and residents in Monroe County over responsibility for dike repairs.

Esch said he had discussed the matter during previous months with Gov. Milliken, Callaway, and the deputy director of Civil Works in Washington, DC to warn of the deteriorating situation due to structural damage in the "We can't let red tape interfere with saving people's homes," says Esch. "Because of the technical nature of the regulations in the law there has been confusion regarding restoration cost. "I strongly believe the Army Corps must make repairs to structurally unsound dikes and provide assistance for self-help.

"I've been fighting for months to cut through the red tape so residents of the affected areas as well as state and local officials can have a clear determination of responsibility."

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT

PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT today announced its policy for Free Meals and Free Milk for Plymouth Community School District school children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, Special Milk Program and U.S.D.A. Donated

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility in the 1974/75 school year:

	MILY SIZE 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9	SCALE	FOR	FREE	MEALS $ 2,910 3,830 4,740 5,640 6,480 7,310 8,060 8,810 9,150	AND
1	0				9.150 10.190
_	2				10,860 11,530

EACH ADDITIONAL FAMILY MEMBER: $670

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals and milk. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color or national origin. Under the provisions of the policy, the SCHOOL NURSE and PRINCIPAL OF THE SCHOOL THE STUDENT ATTENDS will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the NURSE AND PRINCI-PAL, he may make a request either orally or in writing to MR. Some hard thoughts should precede amnesty Amnesty is in the headlines. President Ford said to the Veterans of Foreign Wars that those who left the country to evade the draft should be permitted somehow to work themselves home.

Apparently his thoughts are that those people who left to avoid military service should be permitted to return if they, in turn, spend a certain length of time doing public service.

But amnesty is not a simple issue. We have people in Canada and Sweden who left this country rather than register for the draft, and there are people who left after they were drafted but before they reported for military service, and there are those people who actually deserted after they were members of the armed services. Obviously, all three classes of men must be treated differen-

THE EXCUSE for amnesty seems to be that the Vietnam war was different from other wars we have waged.' Apparently it was an immoral war, and all of the other wars we have been involved in have been moral wars.

The difference somewhat eludes me because war is killing and is usually the result of some power struggle on the parts of the heads of state. It is really very difficult for me to imagine what could be called a moral war.

On top of that, if society is to remain intact, certain rules must be followed by those who want to be protected by society.

Men started living together in a community, which was the first step of society, because they found that as a group they could better protect themselves from outside elements, like wild ani-

AS PART OF banding together, an obligation was created to serve when one was called to arms to defend the community.

If people are called to arms, but are not willing to serve and run away, or if others are called to arms and run away while they are serving and then are forgiven, there is no need for anyone ever to answer the call to arms.

Today, it looks like a kind, humane thing to be forgiving of those who were not willing to stand up for their country, but it would set a precedent. In the future we would have difficulty defending ourselves if people know they can run away and merely get a slap on the wrist for it.

How schools mishandle the bargaining story

Statewide teacher organizations report only about 20 school districts in Michigan might experience a strike this fall.

That's better news than last year but of little comfort to parents in Wayne-Westland and Garden City school districts where the lack of progress in negotiations indicates strikes are looming.

WAYNE-WESTLAND district deserves special praise, though, for the manner in which they keep parents informed on the progress of negotiations.

Almost weekly, press conferences are held with both sides represented to report on progress and what issues are still unresolved. This won't necessarily forestall a strike, but does keep parents informed as the press passes the information on to its readers.

An entirely different approach is experienced in Garden City, however, where a blackout exists throughout negotiations — a practice picked up by the pros of the labor movement, the UAW and

T. Thompson writes

That last big weekend could be most dangerous

Now we move into the final big weekend holiday of the year, one that in many instances starts Friday and carries through until late Monday night. With any holiday of that length, Michigan State Police issue their usual warnings about safety on the highways, more so for the long Labor Day weekend than for any of the other holidays this year.

It is estimated that approximately 3.3 million vehicles will travel an estimated 627 million miles during the 72 hour period. This is considerably less than the 652 million miles logged on state highways last year by the same number of cars.

BUT THERE IS a difference this year than in 1973. Motorists are driving slower to conform with the 55 miles per hour speed limit and the increased fuel costs will result in shorter trips for

That doesn't necessarily mean that all drivers will follow the 55 mph limit, and it is those who go faster than that which give the State Police some concern.

The accident rate is down from a year ago, principally because of two reasons, the slower speed limit and the high cost of fuel.

However, inasmuch as this is the last time for the final big fling, the time when most owners close their resort homes for the summer, then it follows they will be trying to get there as quickly as possible Friday night, and this could cause the traffic accidents the State Police are warning

Police officials caution motorists to avoid alcohol and to drive with extra care. They point to the 28 persons killed on state roads in 22 accidents a

THEY WARN THAT the upswing of tourist travel has brought about a proportionate increase in traffic fatalities. Seems that drivers are prone to get a bit careless about this time of the year.

As noted earlier, it is the final long holiday of the year, one that traditionally brings a large death toll. Why not take a few minutes more this year, trade a cup of coffee for that one for the road and return home healthy and happy?

Follow the motto of the Auto Club and "Bring 'Em Back Alive."

Because of this blackout, the Observer & Eccentric is only able to report generalities on negotiations and must leave parents anxious about whether school will open Sept. 3 or Oct. 3.

To make matters worse, the superintendent mailed a newsletter to parents a couple weeks ago to "inform" them of the status of contract talks. The superintendent dutifully reported there was a delay in reaching settlement, many unresolved issues, and trouble at the table. He then proceeded to place ALL the blame on the teachers' union for the impasse. It was a propaganda sheet unworthy of an attempt to relieve anxieties of parents.

IN ALMOST all school districts in this area, news blackouts are placed in effect at the beginning of negotiations each spring. The blackout continues all summer until a few days before school is due to open. The lifting of the blackout is a sure signal that agreement has been reached and a contract about to be ratified

It is rather silly to assume parents and taxpayers aren't entitled to information on negotiations from beginning to end. After all, it is the taxpayers who will pay for the new contract and the parents whose children will be affected.

To impose a blackout during negotiations is to deny parents and taxpayers the chance to supply any input to the school board, administrators, or teachers union. Instead, the public is left in the dark while negotiators wrangle.

The man who foots the bill is entitled to more than this type of treatment. School districts should seriously consider keeping residents informed throughout contract talks when next year's round begins. It might improve support for the schools. It certainly wouldn't erode present

Sense And Nonsense

It doesn't appear to make much sense that the Livonia Board of Education had to go out of the city to have the annual school bus schedules printed and mailed.

With probably as many as 12 print shops in Livonia, all paying school taxes, it seems a bit strange that only a printing company in Walled Lake could meet the deadline.

Of course, one should consider that the board delayed getting the schedule until the last minute, as it always has in the past and then didn't bother to get quotes from city print shops that could have been interested and could have done the job as efficiently and quickly as an outfit in Walled

Which leads one to wonder if the fact that Livonia's new school superintendent, Dr. George Garver, who was formerly head of schools in Walled Lake, had anything to do with the award.

Young parents, admonishing their six-year-old to use language befitting a young lady, had without much difficulty taught the youngster to substitute "heck" for "hell." This training, however, had an unusual twist when daughter quoted a slogan she had seen and paraphased it as follows: "Read the Bible: it'll scare the heck out of you."

The Plymouth Jaycees have apparently found something new for entertainment.

The front cover of their August newsletter, "Nexus," is emblazoned with large red capital letters that say, "LSD." To those who didn't look at the smaller print that showed "LSD" stands for "Lazy Summer Days," it looks like the Jaycees have freaked out.

Oil firm pushes sales, forgets about its service

Perhaps you saw last week's newspaper article about the gas station operator in Oak Park who is being pressured by his oil company to quit doing car repairs and start pumping more gas.

According to terms of the lease from Total-Leonard Gasoline Co. to Jerry Marx, he's supposed to be out of the car repair field by the end of June. Marx doesn't want to, since he makes 75 percent of the $30,000 he clears per year from his service business. His customers don't want him to quit, either, and they've petitioned the Oak Park City Council to find a way to keep Marx in the repair business.

Total-Leonard says that eliminating car maintenance service at gas stations is "the only way to be competitive with the brand leaders. The whole basis of the switch is to sell more gas and give faster, more efficient driveway service...Every little factor can't be taken into consideration. This new marketing concept...is impersonal, obviously."

YOU'RE DARNED tootin' it's impersonal. And it's just that impersonality of new marketing concepts that's at the heart of much that's wrong with this country.

As far as the oil companies seem to perceive the world, the entire point is to sell more gas to make more money. Little things like making sure the gas-consuming automobiles are running properly have very little to do with the great goal of increasing sales.

After all, this "new marketing concept" is only one in a steady stream of concepts of dubious worth from those friendly fellows in the oil industry who manipulated the gas shortage, bumped prices unmercifully, and then had the gall to tell the public that high gas prices and skyrocketing oil company profits were necessary to the public good so yet more oil could be discovered and produced.

"IT'S IMPERSONAL" does sum up in a neat way the arrogance and avariciousness of the oil industry.

One reason for the attitude is the enormously powerful and concentrated structure of the oil industry, in which companies own rights to produce oil, pipe the oil, refine the oil, and sell the oil to their own branded outlets. The economists call it "vertical integration," and its effect is to give individual companies almost total power within their operations.

This excessive power is the reason Michigan's Sen. Philip Hart is holding hearings on the extent and effects of concentration of power in large corporations. The oil industry is one of the targets of these hearings. It should be.

Observation

by PHILIP H. POWER

Hart's point is that to "restate a basic credo of this country since its inception: Too much power in too few hands is incompatible with democracy."

I'll bet Jerry Marx-and his customers-agree.

How politicians have their fun

Politicians find all kinds of ways to spend money on their campaigns, but nobody showed as much imagination before the Aug. 6 primary as unopposed GOP candidate Roy Smith in the 52nd district of the Michigan House of Representatives. Nearly $700, the bulk of what he spent, went for 15,000 coloring books. Most of the money that greases local campaigns comes from humdrum sources-individuals, labor unions, lobbyists- but some candidates take a different approach to filling their

Ernest R. Grant, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nod in the 35th House district, received $291 from donations to his "beer bust" and cashed his chips with the Thursday Night Card Club for a $50 stake.

Dr. Ed Pierce, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the 2nd district, placed a limit on his fund raisers of $200 per contributor, but the cause of women's rights got in

Among his donors are a husband and wife who gave $200 apiece. Asked about the $400 contribution of the couple, a Pierce aide explained that the lady was an independent sort of woman with her own checking account whose check was an offer only a male chauvinist pig could refuse.

Contributions to the war chest of incumbent 2nd district Rep. Marvin Esch (R-Ann Arbor) reflect a geographical diversity. Among his $25 contributors are seven businessmen from the Seattle area and one from New Jersey-all executives of the Boeing Aircraft Corporation.

School's project will benefit kids

Editor:

This is in rebuttal to the Readers' Forum letter concerning the land near the Parks and Recreation building on Seven Mile and Mayfield. There should be some corrections right off in regards to the letter.

One is that it was a petition (not a bill) submitted by the Livonia School District for rezoning the land. Another concerning the vote that was taken is that it wouldn't have made any difference because that meeting was going to be a VOTING meeting only! This was said very clearly at the beginning of the meeting. It wouldn't have mattered if neither side showed up.

I think it's pretty low on the person's part who wrote the letter to say that Livonia School District would not think of the kids. If not, what are they doing there in the first place?

This rezoning (which has yet to be approved by the city council) would give jobs to persons (mostly students) who would like to work in some form of vocational experience who maybe wouldn't ordinarily get it. There was a picture in the Observer and Eccentric a couple of weeks back concerning the building of one house already by the vocational education department of the Board of Education.

After working on this project long enough (it was also part of an American government project at Franklin High School), there is no real feasible reason for this petition not to be accepted. If they need a field that badly. and they said themselves that they haven't got any Al Kalines among their kids, why can't they use the diamonds immediately behind the P&R office? Or what's wrong with with Rotary Park a short distance away? Who knows, maybe by the time this project has been completed, some of the sons and daughters of the people who opposed this will be working or will have worked in some facet of this

Emergency rooms give medical care

Hospital emergency rooms are a source of quick medical help when a doctor is not available. Costs are charged to the patient himself or to his insurance plan. Hospital services such as Xrays, blood tests, medication ets. are added to the set fee.

In some emergency rooms a fee for the doctor is also added.

Botsford General, 28050 Grand River, Farmington, charges $35 for a visit to its emergency room plus the cost of hospital services.

Annapolis, 33155 Annapolis, Wayne, at the corner of Venoy, charges $23 plus hospital expenses.

Garden City Osteopathic. 6245 Inkster, four blocks north of Ford, sets its charges at $21 plus hospital costs. Metropolitan West Hospital, 28303 Joy, east of Middle Belt, Westland,

Opportunity knocks: Women get chance to consider future

A combination of exhibits, informa- films will review women's changing tion, counseling, workshops and films. known as Women's Opportunity Fair will open for its second year Friday. Sept. 6 from 12 noon to 5 p.m. at Schoolcraft College.

Its purpose is to offer women in the area special assistance in discovering new alternatives for their lives. It is free of charge and open to the public.

Fifty-eight institutions and agencies will have representatives on hand to give personal information and guidance. These participants represent colleges, adult education facilities, businesses, employment agencies, government agencies, women's groups, volunteer organizations and community service agencies.

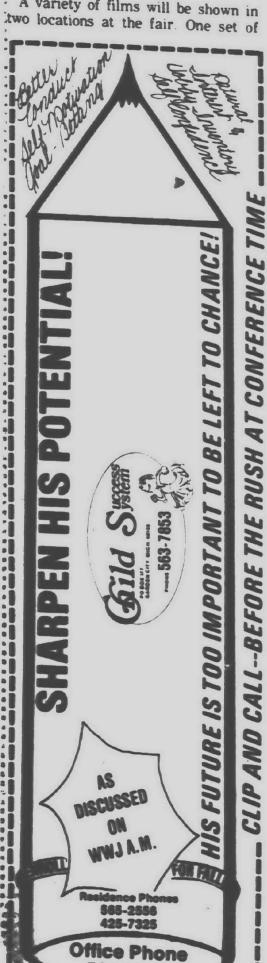

Helen Musial, manager of women's career planning at General Motors, will open the fair at noon with a discussion of "Employment Prospects For the Mature Woman in Industry."

Paulette LeBost, an attorney who accepts civil rights cases and serves as a Michigan Civil Rights Commissioner, will follow at 1 p.m. with a talk on "Your Civil Rights.

"Decision-Making Skills" will be led at 2 p.m. by Bill Heise, a Schoolcraft counselor. Stanley Mann, a social worker employed by the Veterans Hospital, will lead the 3 p.m. session on "Transactional Analysis.

Kathy Crossley, a supervisor at the Livonia AIDE Crisis Center, will be the leader of the 4 p.m. session on "The New Volunteer in the New Community Service Setting."

Identity crisis? Not during the Americanization of Suki

BY SHERRY KAHAN

· Talk about an identity crisis. One day she was Kilsoon Chong living near Masan, Korea. A few months later she became Mrs. Tim Parks living on Loveland in Livonia.

In between lay enough problems to bury many romances, problems that were highlighted for weeks in the Detroit press and on television and finally overcome when Tim Parks married the girl he knew as Suki.

"I work in tea house as waitress and Tim came in," says Mrs. Parks in her simple but improving English. Now she spends her days like any American housewife, cleaning and learning shopping the American way and taking care of a dog named Duke and painting baby furniture for the new arrival expected soon. SUKI AND TIM made headlines about two years ago when their romance was interrupted by a malig-

They were successful and she was at his bedside as he underwent three operations that apparently brought the cancer under control.

And last April, in a storybook wedding in Livonia's St. Andrew Episcopal Church, they were married. Suki was in bridal white and Tim wore his Army uniform.

NOW, THE EXCITEMENT died down, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Parks are settling in a home routine and both seem to be enjoying it.

Parks, a sergeant with the construction engineers while in Korea, returned to the carpentry work he learned from his father and bought a blue pickup truck.

As for his wife, she has found American currency one of the most difficult things to learn. "I know about the money now," she said, "but I still like to go shopping with Tim, although sometimes I go to the grocery store myself."

When Parks was undergoing three operations at the Great Lakes Naval Hospital near Chicago, shortly after Suki's arrival, a Naval officer made her an extremely thoughtful offer.

Edwin Felczak Jr. married in Ohio

Edwin Felczak Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Felczak of August Avenue Westland, claimed Jeannine Hauck as his bride in a recent afternoon ceremony in St. Joseph Catholic Church in Fremont, Ohio.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Hauck of Fremont and the late Mildred Gephart

The Very Rev. Paul Mueller heard the couple's vows, and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

She wore an ivory delustered satin gown with a modified cathedral train and trim of reembroidered alencon lace. A lace cap held her veil and her bouquet was white roses and English

Her attendants wore deep mint halter gowns with hooded jackets and carried pink roses and carnations. Her sisters, Patricia Hauck and Mrs. Francis Marley Jr. of Fostoria. Ohio, were maid and matron of honor. and the bridesmaids were Marcy and Rita Anne Felczak of Westland, sisters of the bridegroom, Carol Anne Assisting the bridegroom were his brother, Michael, as best man, Charles V. Hauck II, brother of the bride, Nicholas Felczak of Hamtramck, cousin of the bridegroom, and John Kain of Bradley, Ill.

The bride's niece and nephew, Elain Gonya of Fremont and Francis C. Marley of Fostoria, were flower girl and ring-bearer.

After a reception in the Fremont American Legion Hall, the couple traveled to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

The couple will live in Hamtrack where the new Mrs. Felczak, a 1972 Madonna College graduate, teaches in Our Lady Queen of Apostles School. Her husband, who graduated from Franklin High School in 1967 and from the University of Michigan in 1971, is an industrial engineer employed by Chevrolet Gear and Axle division of General Motors Corp.

THE OBSERVER & ECCENTRIC State gasoline tax collections decline, but local cities gain

Revenue from motor gasoline taxes collected in Michigan during April through June declined 6.5 per cent from the same quarter in 1973, but Observer & Eccentric cities in Wayne County all received more in rebates from the state this year.

Because of increases in weight (license plate) taxes and interest earned on revenues, however, gross receipts in the state's Motor Vehicle Fund edged up by 2.2 per cent.

The license plate increase and interest gains meant that cities in the area received more in rebates from the state in the April-June quarter of 1974

WAYNE COUNTY received a rebate of $7.27 million from the state for gasoline taxes collected compared to $7.29 million rebated for the same 1972 period.

Garden City received about a $2,000

Youth Corps is expanded, Esch reports

U.S. Rep. Marvin L. Esch (R-Ann Arbor) announced recently that the House of Representatives overwhelmingly approved legislation that will expand and make permanent the Youth Conservation Corps (YCC).

The legislation is important, Esch noted, because it offers a cost-benefit method to undertake environmental projects across the nation by utilizing youth labor.

Esch, who represents the 2nd District which includes Livonia and Plymouth, was a chief sponsor of the bill. The YCC, he said, would provide conservation and environmental work in parklands for 60,000 youths between the ages of 15 and 18.

Over 100,000 applications were received for YCC jobs last year when the corps was still in the pilot stage.

YCC jobs include the clearing of stream banks, constuction of trails and park facilities, tending fish hatchincrease from $145,240 in 1973 to $147,440 for the same period this eyar. Livonia's increase was from $408,330

Plymouth's rebate increased slightly from $13,420 to $13,650. Westland received $294,375 in the 1974 quarter compared to $287,585 for the same 1973 period. Detroit's rebate increased from $5.9 million to $6 million.

JOHN P. WOOFORD, director of

State Highways and Transportation, comments: "This is small comfort in the face of sharply rising costs of road construction and maintenance."

Roadbuilding costs on a national average haved jumped by more than 36 per cent over the level of a year a!o. The increases mainly reflect steep rises in costs of materials such as steel, asphalt and cement.

Fuel tax receipts in the April-June quarter totaled $95.4 million compared to $102 million in the same quarter last year. The total includes $90.6 million this year from the nine-cent-agallon tax on gasoline as compared to $97 million last year. The seven-cent-a-gallon diesel fuel tax brought in $4.7 million this year and $4.9 million last year while the liquid petroleum gasoline tax produced $60,323 this year and $55,167 last year. Officials speculate that the decline in gas tax revenues could well be the result of reduced driving speeds, stemming both from the 55 mph speed limit imposed nationwide last year and the increase in the cost of gaso-

PARTIALLY offsetting the drop in fuel tax revenues was a $4.4 million increase in license plate fees. Revenues for the quarter totaled $30 million compared with $25.5 million in the April-June period last year, a 17.5 per cent increase.

The general upward trend in interest rates is producing more income for the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund. Interest earned in the April-June quarter was $9.1 million, an increase of almost 136 per cent from $3.8 million for the same quarter in 1973.

Gross receipts for the entire fund totaled $137 million, up by $2.9 million. Proceeds in the fund are distributed at three levels of government after deduction of collection costs, the waterways Commission's 1.25 per cent share of gas taxes and the General Transportation Fund's one-eighteenth share of the gas tax for public trans-

Another $1 million was allocated for the state's "critical bridge" replacement program, leaving $126.5 million available for distribution for road construction, maintenance and administration as compared to $123 million for the same quarter last year.

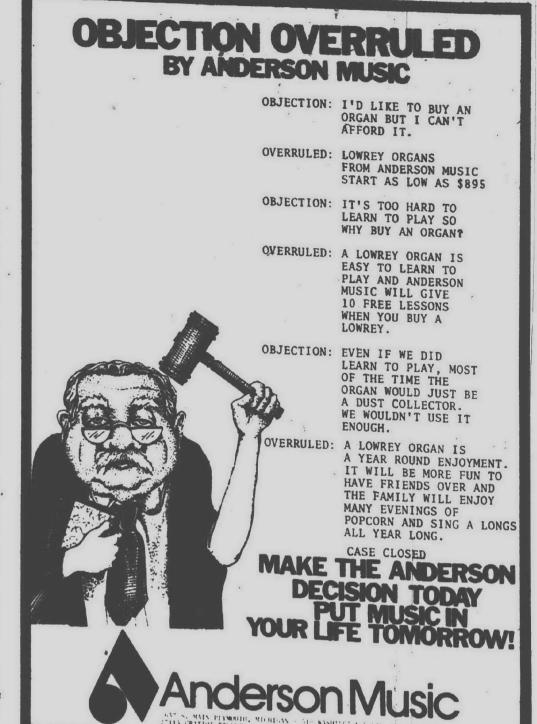

Under formula set by state law, the highway and Transportation Department will receive $56 million as its 44.5 per cent share of net proceeds.

The 83 counties will receive $45 million as their 35.7 per cent share and the 531 incorporated citird and villages will receive $25 million as their 19.8 per cent share.

Childbirth club sets classes

The Plymouth Childbirth Education Association will sponsor a series of Lamaze childbirth classes which meet at 7:30 p.m. once a week in a number of locations in the area.

The classes are taught by nurses. Instruction is given in neuromuscular control and effective breathing techniques which help the mother participate in the birth of her child. The film, "The Story of Eric." and slides are also included. A class will be held Monday, Sept. 9 in Garden City Osteopathic Hospital, 6245 Inkster, and on Thursday, Sept. 12 in the Newburg United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Li-

Other classes will be held Wednesday, Sept. 18 in North Farmington Baptist Church, 32500 W. 13 Mile, Farmington, and on Wednesday, Sept. 25 in St. John Episcopal Church, 555 S. Wayne, Westland.

Husbands are urged to attend but it is not required. For further information contact Mrs. Doris Cross, 371 Blunk. Plymouth.

Last call for 'Y' & tennis classes

Taking advantage of the warm fall weather, the YWCA of Western Wayne Country is sponsoring a 21/2week period of tennis lessons.

Each of the classes is limited to six students, and the $15 fee includes a one-year Y membership. The classes run for five sessions.

The scheduled sessions and times include Sept. 9-Sept. 25, Monday and Wednesday at 5, 6, or 7 p.m.; Tuesday and Friday, Sept. 10 -Sept. 24 at 5, 6, and 7 p.m. and a Thursday evening, Saturday morning combination running from Sept. 11 through Sept. 25.

Reservations for the classes are based upon receipt of the class fee by the YWCA, 26279 Michigan Avenue.. between Beech Daly and John Daly

Church school will use new format

BY SHERRY KAHAN

The creation of special learning and interest centers for their church summer school was so successful that members of the Newburg United Methodist Church in Livonia have decided to institute the system in their 9:30 a.m. Sunday school during the coming season.

The 11 a.m. Sunday school will continue in its customary structured man-

The Rev. Duane Snyder, pastor of the church, knew the change in format had been a success when he noted that 135 more youngsters took part in the program this summer than a year ago.

The children told me they thought it was great, that it was cool, that it was fun," said Rev. Snyder. "They also spread the word among their friends."

The children spent their time gathered at centers in the church that appealed to their interest in cooking. music, sewing, gardening etc.

Building on the children's natural fondness for these activities, the volunteer instructors then tried to relate these interests to religious matter.

For example, Rev. Snyder together with Rev. William A. Ritter, also pastor of the church, shared the instructional duties for the creative worship period at the beginning of each day.

One morning Ed Morrow, a magician, presented a magic show to the children. At the end of it Rev. Synder spoke about the fact that God is not magic and speaks to us in a real sense without tricks.

"Many of the teachers told me they never thought they could teach church school," said Rev. Snyder "But after teaching with this method I think they understood how God can speak through all methods and ways." He added: "It was a whole new experience for them. Some of these volunteer fathers and mothers had never been involved in church programs before. They were amazed how a shared interest helped them to relate to the children.

The idea of creating interest centers for the summer school came to the fore the previous winter when the parish development committee thrashed out the whole question of falling at-

A brain storming session was held which included the minister of education, parish development committee members, teachers of the church school program, youth, parents of those in the program, and the superintendent and assistant superintendent of studies.

The result was a decision on the part of the committee to look into possible alternative educational styles. Later it was decided that such learning and interest centers as cake decorating, nature, camping and arts and crafts would be used to stimulate the interest of the children.

A basic theme for the week was introduced called Getting to Know You. Getting to Know Yourself and others such as the world, the universe and God as the Creator of All.

There were three sessions. One week was devoted to pre-schoolers. Following this, children from kindergarten to third grade attended and after them came those in grades from four to six.

Teen-agers served as helpers and as part of the teaching teams. To sum up the theory behine the new program, Rev. Snyder quoted theologian Martin Buber, who said "Nothing ceases to be a vessel for the word

Ward names staff

A growing parish means a growing staff. And with over 2,100 members, Ward United Presbyterian Church of Livonia has three new staff members. Danford Schai iias joined the staff as director of youth ministries for the church. In 1972, Schar and his wife, Irma, accompanied a group of college students to Haiti for a mission work project. Currently Schar is planning a similar project for the youth of the Ward

"The kids in Haiti have literally nothing to do," said Schar, "and very little money.

"The American kids, on the other hand,"Schar said, "had a hard time realizing exactly what poverty is. The mission project combines these diverse people in a work and learning process.

Before joining he staff at Ward, Schar spent 41/2 years as director of student development at Judson College in Elgin, Ill.

Another new staff member is Rev. L. Edward Davis who will assume his duties as minister of parish life. Davis comes to Ward from Central Alliance Church, on the edge of the Wayne State campus in the heart of the Cass corridor.

At the beginning of his ministry there, Davis and Dr. Craig Ellison formed the Central City Conference of Evangelicals, ministers and lay people to encoura!e each held twice a year with workshops and lectures to bring together other in the inner city type of ministry.

Mrs. Thelma Crans has been promoted to administrative assistant to the church staff.

A graduate of Pierce Business School in Philadelphia, Pa., she attended the Bible Institute of Pennsylvania, in Philadelphia.

Davis earned a BS degree at Nyack College in Nyack, N. Y. and a master in divinity at New Brunswick Seminary in New Jersey.

Schar earned his AB degree from Taylor University in Indiana, and an MS degree from Northern Illinois UniRev. Lester Kinsolving's

Religion Update

National attention has been focused for some time upon California's illiterate, but ingenious, ordination-by-mail magnate, the Rev. Dr. Kirby Hensley, of Modesto.

Among other intriguing activities, Dr. Hensley, founder of the Universal Life Church, has managed to ordain an estimated two million persons--as well as a number of Siamese cats.

Not to be outdone in the realm of innovative liturgical adventure, three prelates of the Episcopal Church (all retired) recently staged an ordination service in North Philadelphia, which, in some respects upstaged even the Rev. Dr. Hensley's feline sacramentary.

BISHOPS Daniel Corrigan, Robert DeWitt and Edward Welles, formerly of dioceses in Denver, Philadelphia and Kansas City, on July 29 carried out their announced intent to defy an impressive segment of the very same church law which they once swore to uphold-and to disregard the earnest pleadings of their fellow bishops (unretired)-by conducting a service of ordination to the priesthood for 11 eagereyed ladies.

The three bishops announced piously that their action in this regard was "obedience to the Lordship of Christ,"--which terminology, under the circumstances, constitutes what might be called a holy mystery. For it is indeed mysterious that

Christ allegedly waited until all three of these particular bishops were safely retired on guaranteed pensions, before issuing what they announced was "His command"-to produce pries-

It is indeed remarkable, for example, that prior to his retirement just 10 months ago, Bishop DeWitt, while in charge of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, declined the repeated requests of Deacon Suzanne Hiatt, for ordination to the priesthood.

BUT THINGS were very different then. For such an ordination weuld have caused trouble in DeWitt's nym diocese-not to mention a national crisis for DeWitt's close friend John E. Hines, who recently retired as the ranking prelate, or presiding bishop, of the 3.2 million-member denomination. Such an ordination would have been a major problem and embarrassment for Hines.

But now Hines has been succeeded by a much less liberally way-out bishop named John Allin. While Hines-and DeWitt are busy trying to rsurrect a defunct church magazine called "The Witness" which (dare we say it) will undoubtedly become known as "The Witless." And what better way to attract national attention and publicity for a revived hot liberal sheet than to drop the female ordination hand grenade in the new presiding bishop's lap?-even if this tears the denomination apart, as it probably will unless Allin takes a firm hand

The ordination service at the enormous Church of the Advocate in the heart of Philadelphia's black community, was opened with a sermon by layman Charles Willie, vice president of the denomination's House of Dêputies, a professor and black militant abrasion-artist from Syracuse University. As the climax of what seemed like a 30 minute non-stop bellow, Dr. Willie cried:

"I stand ready to suffer the consequences of my action, for I know, like Dr. King, that unearned suffering is redemptive!"

THE IDEA THAT Dr. Willie's Sycacuse U. salary will "suffer" by as much as even one dime is almost as comic as his thinly-veiled comparison of Charles Willie and Martin Luther King Jr. But even this chutzpah was exceeded by one of the Episcopal far left who were present, and ready with hisses and boos, when five clergy dared to offer unshouted protest when it was called for in the service.

U-M survey reports less religious interest in U.S.

Americans grew less interested in religion and church - going during the '60s. a University of Michigan study confirms, but the overwhelming majority continued to believe in God.

Social pressures against interfaith ECUMENICAL REFLECTION marriage and friendships have diminished, and more and more people are insisting upon the right to make up their own minds about religious doctrines and related issues.

These are some of the trends reported in "Social Change in a Metropolitan Community" by sociology professors Otis Dudley Duncan, Howard Schuman and Beverly Duncan. The Duncans left the U-M faculty last August for appointments at the University of Arizona.

The three sociologists' report, recently published by the Russell Sage Foundation, is being distributed through Basic Books.

200 questions from U-M sociological surveys conducted in metropolitan Detroit during the 1950s and resubmitted them to a cross section of 1,881 Detroit adults in 1971.

By comparing answers, the researchers were able to identify sig- schools. On the contrary, however, nificant changes in the respondents' attitudes toward marriage, childrearing, political involvement, race relations and other issues.

The data on religious beliefs and practices taken in 1958, 1959 and 1971 show that church service attendance, for example, declined significantly during that period. Weekly churchgoers decreased from 43 to 35 per cent, while those attending "a few times a year" or "never" increased proportionately, the researchers report.

"If the '50s were, as others have suggested, a period of religious revival, then it appears that the revival crested and was followed; by a period of religious depression," the authors comment.

"However, attendance at services is by no means synonymous with interest in religion. About half the survey respondents said that although they were going to church less often than 10 to 15 years ago, their interest in religion has remained the same or increased since that time. Catholics, Protestants and Jews all expressed less dependence upon religion as a basis for their interpersonal relationships, the researchers note. "The proportions of persons in all three groups endorsing marriage only with persons of the same religion has decreased," the authors say. "The largest change was among Catholics: the proportion who said it was unwise to marry outside the faith dropped from 80 per cent in 1958 to 59 per cent in 1971.

Asked "how many of your really close friends are of your religion?" the proportion in each group replying "all" or "nearly all" declined: among Protestants. from 45 to 30 per cent: among Catholics, from 43 to 22 per The researchers selected more than cent, and among Jews, from 77 to 53 per cent.

Since persons often make friends or find mates at school, the researchers surmised that there is more intermingling of religious groups because fewer Catholics are attending Catholic parochial school attendance appeared to be increasing, the researchers note.

"Stereotypic prejudice and hostility toward the 'out groups' diminished during the '60s as well." the authors

For example, in 1950 nearly half the Protestants and Catholics surveyed believed that "Jewish people, as a whole, are less fair in their business dealings" than people of their own faith. In 1971; 37 per cent of the Protestants and 27 per cent of the Catholics held this view.

The large majority of the respondents - 94 per cent - said in 1971 they believed in God and an additional 3.5 per cent said they were uncertain. A decreasing number (from 74 per cent in 1958 to 65 per cent in 1971) said they also believed in life after death. In both years about 13 per cent said they were uncertain.

While affirming their own belief in God, the majority of respondents were increasingly tolerant of disbelief on the part of others, the researchers

ON THE MATTERof population, I see two areas in which to work. First, we need to support abortion for unwanted pregnancies and contraceptive devices and pills to lower the birth rate around the world.

Second, we are going to have to face the more difficult, more human problem of convincing the people of the world that such policies are neither against God or a sign of disgrace in society.

If we do not act quickly we may find that in addition to watching war and destruction on the nightly news with dinner we also will be seeing live pictures of persons starving and dying-by the millions.

'Year of the Bulldog is now'— Goode

Bentley gridders are ready

BY TOM DONOGHUE Sports Editor

"I am going to put myself out on the limb," opened Bentley High varsity football Coach Glen Goode. "This is going to be the Year of the Bull-

This is the best group of kids I have ever had," commented the Bulldog coach who is ready to begin season No. 6. "Experience was what we lacked at the start of the '73 season. We have that now and this could be

The 1973 Bulldogs wound up 4-5 with a season finale triumph over previously unbeaten Franklin, 14-9, capping off the campaign.

Coach Goode has 10 returning lettermen and one giant of a hole to fill in the graduation of Bentley's "Mr. Everything" Bob Wasilewski.

"Sure, we are going to miss Bob." added Goode. "He was our quarterback for two years and top defensive back along with handling our kicking chores. But it all boils down to us losing just one good ball player.

The quarterback slot has developed into Bentley's question mark for '74 with seniors Bill Deacon and Glen Stevens and junior Russ Hodges all contesting for the No.1 assignment.

Deacon is 5-foot-8 and 160 pounds. Stevens checks in at 5-foot-8 and 165 pounds and Hodges at 5-foot-9 and 155 pounds

"This is probably the smallest field of quarterbacks for us in awhile," said the Bentley coach. "We know the talent is there in all three. The problem is experience."

Tailback Bruce Boudnek heads up the backfield. The 5-foot-11 175 pound tallied seven touchdowns last year and is expected to pace the Bulldog attack in '74. Mike Chertrand at 5-foot-11 and 185 pounds will be the No. 1

Tom Schultz, a 5-foot-11 160 pound senior will be handling the punting chores with Dave Kilpatrick and Chertrand contesting for the placekicking assignment.

Junior Dan Tabaczynski heads up the defensive squad at the noseman position. The 5-foot-8, 155 pounder got his first varsity start last season in the Franklin finale and showed enough in that upset to convince Goode he was his man.

The defensive tackle berths show guard slots with senior all-area sec- Kilpatrick, Moore and 6-foot, 165 senond teamer Jess Ghannam the No. 1 ior Bob Bidzinski, and junior Dave center at 5-foot-11 and 185 pounds. Marconneri at 5-foot-11 and 185 pounds in contention.

At the end slots will be Allemang and Penny with MacKinley and Chertrand the solid Bulldog linebackers.

The defensive secondary has to be the area open for grabs. A list no fewer than seven is in the race for a starting assignment. The seniors include Drew Koet at 5-foot-7 and 150 pounds; Schultz and Robbins, Brad Bedell at 5-foot-8 and 150 pounds and Rob Coleman at 5-foot-7 and 155 pounds. The two juniors are 5-foot-10, 160 pound Rich Shephard and Mark White at 5-foot-9 and 165 pounds.

"This crop of kids is a bunch of winners," added Goode. "They won the championship in their junior varsity year and picked up the junior high title the year before. They have showed they can do the job and now with last year's varsity experience under their belt - well, it ought to be an interesting season."

"One of our early season goals is to have just three players go both ways. I am hoping to eventually have just Penny, Allemang and MacKinley.

"Experience is our plus factor. We are capable of winning and the kids are confident. I emphasize the word confident - not cocky. The kids know themselves.

Green juniors key to Churchill card

Churchill High's 1974 football story should reveal just what Charger gridiron traditon is made of.

Coaches Ken Kaestner and Roger Frayer have built and constructed a winning football spirit and have in a matter of a couple of seasons, put Churchill on the "state prep gridiron

Now with Churchill losing 17 starters via graduation, comes the makeup and heart of a school that will be tested by every school that has been ripped apart by the Chargers.

Churchill is coming off a 6-3 season. a campaign that saw the Chargers extend their Class A unbeaten streak to 15 before bowing out in the final three games of '73.

And in the 22 man starting Charger lineup for '74 will be 14 juniors, Churchill's first taste of rebuilding since becoming known a "winner" on the gridiron.

"We are going to be young and we sure are going to have to scramble." commented Kaestner who is entering season No. 7 with a 24-21-3 Charger record."We simply don't have any expe-

"The last three years have been have players right now to build around. This young crop is going to be fun though - I like their spirit."

"Farmington Harrison is going to win the Western Six. Northville. which lost only three starters is going to give them a real battle and Plymouth Canton with everyone back has to be better.

"Waterford Mott is always tough and it sure looks like we will be doing battle with Walled Lake Western to stay out of the cellar.

"I am far from getting down on my kids. In fact, this is one of the greatest bunch of competitors but we just have to face it - this is one of those rebuilding stints."

"We are just going to have to be

Kaestner's staff of Roger Frayer. Bob Armstrong, Herb Osterland and Dick Braun has its work cut out with only one starter back on defense and three returning on offense.

The staff is high on its quarterback Mike Streicher. The 6-foot 160 pound junior guided the Charger junior varsity crew to a 7-1 mark last year and expected to put a passing attack into the Churchill offense.

"Anything we get this year, we are good to us," he added. "But we don't going to have to fight for," commented Kaestner. "And one of the keys will have to be in the performance of Streicher."

Streicher's ends will be 6-foot-1, 190 pound Jim Packard and 5-foot-10, 160 pound junior Jim Wright. The tackle slots have been won by Chuck Widmaier at 6-foot and 170 pounds and by Aram Chubanian at 5-foot-10 and 170

Juniors John Colley and Scott Levitan have guard berths nailed down. Colley checks in at 5-foot-9 and 175 pounds and Levitan at 5-foot-6 and 168 pounds. The hiking chores will be handled by Ken Todd, a 5-foot-11 and 185 pound senior.

And behind Churchill's smallest offensive line ever will be its one plus factor as it heads into the '74 season its offensive backfield.

The 1973 fullback, now switched to halfback, Bill Reardon will be the "make-it or break-it" button for the attack. The Charger shot-putter stands at 6-foot-2 and 218 pounds. Junior Matt Foster will be the fullback with Fred Groth, Scott Sheppard and Paul Schulz all contesting for the other halfback slot. Backup quarterback for Streicher is 5-foot-11, 140 pound junior Jerry Sta-

For Frayer's defensive unit, 6-foot, 180-pound John Curran and Kurt Pitcher at 6-foot-3 and 195 pounds head off at the end slots. At tackle will be Jeff White (5-foot-10,185 pounds) and junior John Reed at 5-foot-10 and 180 pounds.

The middle guard position features a three-way battle between two juniors in Paul Quimbo and Rod Vaughn and senior Paul Schulz.

Andy Fabian at 5-foot-10 and 180 pounds is the No. 1 linebacker with Jeff Agan and Redou Sabina fighting it out for the other berth.

Junior Scott Shepard and senior Brian Leirstein are in the backfield with monster-back Mike Welch and invert back Keith Yearger. "We have whipped almost everyone the past few years and there are quite a few clubs that are out to bounce us back," added Kaestner."Harrison Coach John Herrington dedicated his entire '73 season to beating us and brought everyone along but the Pope to do try it.

"Now that we have built a winning tradition, we are going to have to really work to uphold it. We will be the underdogs in almost every game this season and a lot of the season will rest on the back of Bill Reardon."

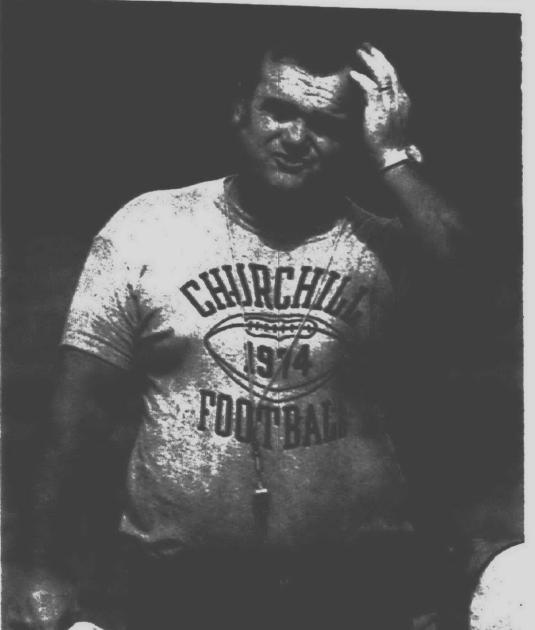

Churchill opens its '74 home season against Thurston on Sept. 13 and travels to John Glenn before the loop opener with Waterford Mott, at Mott (Sept. 27).

Kaestner realizes he has his hands full this year with only half a deck of cards to play with. Now comes the test to see just what Churchill football is made of.

In The Pocket.

One of the features of the new bowling season that officially opened with the John Gavie Sweepstakes Monday night at Thunderbowl in Allen Park, is the phenominal growth of senior citizens leagues.

There is not an establishment in Observerland that doesn't boast at least one group of senior citizens and in many cases there are three or four circuits.

These oldtimers pour more enthusiasm into the weekly play than the other bowlers many years their junior. And no group has more fun.

One of the interesting stories of the tenpin activity in these parts deals leagues

It all began on the afternoon of Christmas Day more than a decade 'ago when Clarence Hoffman, then the owner of Livonia Lanes, got to thinking about the oldtimers as he watched the younger set using the new balls they had just received for Christmas. At the time the City of Livonia had provided a meeting place for the seniors and placed the responsibility on the Department of Recreation, of which Hoffman was the director.

Wondering if the older folks would enjoy watching the bowling matches. he sent a car up to bring back any who might be interested. He was surprised to learn that most of them thought it would be fun. And he arranged to have them as guests.

It wasn't long before they not only liked watching, but they wanted to try it themselves. So, a league was formed. The next season others followed and soon there was a seniors traveling league. Now it is one of the mainstays of all day time bowling ac-

With the opening of the new season the old question has arisen - which is the oldest league in the area?

A call to the office of the Greater with the start of the senior citizens Detroit Bowling Association proved fruitless as no records are kept of such things. But Torn Mc Kay, the executive secretary, was certain the old City Lutheran League was among the oldest. It is starting its 55th season. And another of the oldtimers is the Parke-Davis League that also goes back to the 1920's.

There is no question about the oldest league in Observerland. It is the Rosedale Gardens Civic League that has been bowling at Livonia Lanes since the establishment was built in each week to watch the younger lads take their turn at the pins.

Many of the original members have passed on, but quite a few still report

The newest of the retirees this year will be Dr. O.L. Brooker, one of the charter members. He has decided to watch some one else try to convert the difficult spares.

For the first time Plymouth will be represented in the women's all-star leagues in the metropolitan Detroit

Under the sponsorship of Shirey's Trailers, Marge Kropacek, who has bowled with the all-stars, has organized a team to bowl in the Bowlerettes League at Motor Lanes on Monday evenings. With Marge on her team will be Mary Nagy. Stella Charon, Marti Mitchell and Cindy Boruski.

Summer competition still is going on and the latest to join the prize winners is the combination of Leo Venclewicz and April Petrena. They won the No-Tap tournament Saturday at Livonia Lanes.

If a good beginning presages a great ending the Stroh team is in for another big year.

With a new lineup, the Brewers set the pace in the John Gavie Sweepstakes at Thunderbowl in Allen Park Monday night with a 2991 count. And a newcomer, Dick Turf, took individual honors with a 656

In the women's division of the tournament that drew 50 entries Anita team with a 564 and tied with Vera age. Hill for the night's scoring honors.

Bob Garrett scored the first victory of the new season when he captured top honors in the Michigan Majors tournament at Firebird Lanes over the past week-end.

This premier summer skating event which saw over 37 skating clubs from around the midwest represented saw Laura Cannon and the Romano sisters of Livonia wind up with awards as well as the Morrill sisters of Redford

The Redford Township Morrill sisters came away with a first and second. Cindy Morrill, 13, copped a first in the age 12 over division and her sister Jenny, 11, placed second in the ladies age 11 and over berth.

The Romano pair won a first and third. Theresa, 12, took a first ladies, 12 and over and Debbie wound up third. The 16-year-old won that award Miss Cannon, at 9½, took a first in in the second test ladies, 12 and over.

Wrestling officiating class being offered

Oakland Community College is offering a sports officiating class during the fall session - the Art of Officiating Wrestling - at Troy High School, beginning Sept. 11 and meeting once a week from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. until Nov.

For those interested in officiating wrestling meets in recreation, junior high and high school, this class offers the opportunity to learn the rules and to become qualified and a registered

Instructor for the 10 session course will be Charles Skinner who has been officiating area high school and college meets for 15 years. His experience includes officiating the National Junior College championships and serving as an Olympic wrestling official. The course may be taken for college credit or non-credit.

For information, contact Don Nichols at the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College in Farmington Hill.

What will be the picture for area race tracks during 1975? Will Wolverine Raceway and Hazel Park get the back-to-back summer dates or will the racing commissioner give Northville Downs a token summer meeting as he did this year?

The answers to these questions will be up to the racing boss at the end of the week when all tracks must have their requests for 1975 dates in his hands.

Then the commissioner, in turn, must announce the thoroughbred dates by Oct. 1 and the harness allotments by Oct. 15. The racing act was revised this year, moving up the announcement of dates by two months.

At least it will mean the commissioner will have to make up his mind in a hurry. None of the monkeyshines of last year when the various track managements heard rumors of more different dates than ever heard before or since.

WHILE THE LEGISLATURE was busy making changes, it should have made it mandatory to announce dates three years in advance as they are in some states. With that much advance notice the managements can make plans and arrangements to build up interest and also have better contact with stable owners and trainers.

We haven't heard anything about date requests but you can almost bet that Johnny Carlo, executive director of Northville Downs, will ask for a full complement of summer dates, especially since he was given only 24 nights this year.

Wolverine and Hazel Park appear committed to ask for back-to-back meetings of 82 nights each during the summer. They made the same requests last year and thought they had sold a bill of goods only to have Northville Downs get the 24 nights in June and July.

The runners appear to have an agreement to ask for 120 days each with the Detroit Racing Association opening the season at the Detroit Race Course and Hazal Park follow-

JACKSON RACEWAY will probably follow the same pattern as this year with a long meeting in the spring. early winter dates at Northville Downs and then the traditional new year opening in the month of January.

All that's left is for the racing commissioner to decide whether he's going to harness Northville Downs with a winter meeting again or make some other arrangements.

Then, too, there is a question of what to do with the Jackson dates at Northville if President and General Manager Leon Slavin finds it impossible to take charge this year due to illness. Slavin is reported to have undergone open heart surgery in an Ann Arbor Hospital recently but nothing has been learned of his condition. He wasn't in the best, of health in January and during the long meeting at Jackson and probably will have to take a long period of recuperation.

Slavin has excellent men in charge of the operations of his meetings but always has been one who feels he must be there to make sure everything goes as it should. This time it is time alone that will have the answer.

DID YOU NOTICE that Wolverine Raceway reached the peak of something or other over the past weekend when it handled more than $2 million for the first time ever for a meeting in the fall. Matter of fact it bettered the track's record for any weekend during the 1973 record making meeting in the late winter and early spring.

Eccentric Newspapers.

The big mile track handled $2,029,910 for Friday and Saturday. It came about when it just missed the magic figure Friday when wagering totaled $999,763 and that had to be the biggest Friday night ever for a track in Michigan.

Vice President and General Manager Dick Wilson was a bit chagrinned to come so close and miss the big figure. Then on Saturday, the wagering got off slowly and it appeared as if the handle might drop down below the million for the first time in three Saturdays.

Then suddenly the crowd of 11,566 started to storm the mutuel windows and by the end of the ninth race Wilson knew it was going to be over the million by enough to give the tract its first $2 million weekend.

Then he started to smile again, especially late Friday night when he discovered Wolverine had bettered Hazel. Park runners in attendance and wagering for the first time of the meet-

WOLVERINE HAD 9,853 go through the turnstile and who poured $999,763 through the machines. Hazel Park had 7,694 in the stands and a total of $864,283. It may not happen often but Wolverine had a chance to chuckle a bit this time.

Figures for the week show the pacers and trotters have attracted 218,546 to date at Wolverine for a nightly average of 7,805, a hike of 18.3 per cent over 1973.

Wagering has totaled $20,664,990 for a nightly mark of $738,035 and the handle for the week was $4,693,089 for an astronomical average of $782,181. . . the highest in Wolverine

And now the big mile track is busy preparing for the biggest week of the year, starting next Monday when the stars of the Grand Circuit move in for a series of eight stakes in five nights,

HIGHLIGHT of the week will be the renewal of the "Good Ol' Times" celebration when prices are moved back to the turn of the century and hot dogs will sell for a dime. You better believe that is one of the biggest bargains of the year under the present

The prices will include popcorn, peanuts, pop and other goodies. Children under 12 will be admitted free if accompanied by an adult purchasing a grandstand ticket

You're A Winner When AL Hits 3000

That is, if you've guessed correctly the date Al Kaline will bat #3000 hit. Simply pick the date you think Al will do it, and send it in, on this coupon, to the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers. If you're right, you'll win a "Night to Remember," including an opportunity to meet Al Kaline in person before a game; you'll have your picture taken with him and receive an autographed baseball from Al; and, finally, you'll be the recipient of four box-seat tickets to a Tiger baseball game. If you want to win, check out the contest rules which follow, fill out your coupon completely, and mail your guesses to the Observer &

- 1. All entries must be on original or hand drawn replica. Only one entry per
- 2. Coupons will be accepted until hit #2990 has been made.
- 3. The winner will be the person (any age) who selects the calendar date on which Al gets #3000 hit. As a number of ties are anticipated, the following information must be included on your entry coupon to break any ties: The inning of the game in which hit #3000 occurs, and an estimate of the official paid attendance of the game in which the hit occurs. The inning date will be the first tie breaker, and the final separator will be the closest guess as to the official paid attendance of the game in which the hit occurs. The tire breaker information will not be used in picking a winner unless necessary, i.e., if two or more coupons are entered with the same date for Al's hit. The same rules apply whether hit #3000 occurs on the road or at home.
- 4. Entries become the exclusive property of the Suburban Communications Corporation and none will be returned. Winner will be notified and date of the "Night to Remember" will be set according to Al Kaline's availability.
- 5. The winner will receive four box-seat tickets to a Tiger baseball game, a meeting and photographic session with Al Kaline before the game, and an autographed baseball from Al.

WSU theaters institute changes

"Little Mary Sunshine," which closed Aug. 17, at Wayne State University's Studio Theater, will be held over for a five weekend run in October and November, according to Leonard Leone, WSU theater director.

Performances will begin Oct. 4 and 5, at 8:30 p.m. and will continue at 8:30 p.m. each Friday and Saturday through Nov. 2, in the Studio, down-stairs at the Hilberry Theater.

The University Theater also made a change in the Bonstelle Theater's 1974-75 program, putting Brendan Behan's "The Hostage" in the final spot of the six-play series. It replaces "As You Like It," previously announced as the closing production.

Complete seasons at the university's : theaters now stand as follows:

Bonstelle opens Oct. 18, with Aime Cesaire's "The Tragedy of King Christophe," followed by the Gershwin musical "Oh, Kay!," "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," "The Count of Monte Cristo," the musical "Purlie," and "The Hostage."

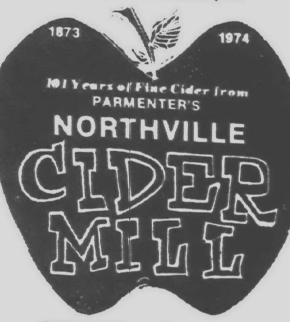

Hilberry opens Oct. 18, with the revival of last season's "Tartuffe," followed by the new season opener, Pinero's "The Magistrate," and "Of Mice and Men," Robinson Jeffers' version of Euripides' "Medea," Peter Luke's "Hadrian VII," Anouilh's "The Waltz of the Toreadors" and, for school matinees only, "The Taming of the Shrew" and a revival of last season's "Hamlet."

Studio Theater will have two musicals, "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown" and the revival of "Little Mary Sunshine."

The ticket sale for the 1974-75 season opens Sept. 16. Brochures with complete information about schedules and tickets may be requested from the Wayne State University Theater box office, Detroit, 48202.

You've come a long way, Ineke

By JAN WILLIAMS

For an artist who began her career as a button designer in the Netherlands, Ineke Van Werkhoven has come a long way.

Mrs. Van Werkhoven, a six year resident of Livonia, began her artistic life as a button designer in Amsterdam, Holland, while attending commerical art school

EVENTUALLY she married and moved to Canada where she worked as a sign writer for the Hudson Bay Company. She says she once saw a lady in a Canadian department store wearing a coat which had buttons she had designed while working in Amster-

"I just wanted to poke that person and say, look who designed your but-

After 21/2 years in Canada, Mrs. Van

Werkhoven and her family moved to Wisconsin. While living there, a friend suggested she take some fine arts classes. This was her first real move into the fine arts and she chose watercolor as her medium.

Mrs. Van Werkhoven says her interest in the fine arts was further stimulated through studies with John Goray, a well-known artist.

"IT WAS GORAY who really awakened my love for the fine arts."

Although she never concentrated on one particualr subject, she says she enjoys painting people and abstracts

"I am inspired by Toulouse Lautrec and I seem to have some of his tendencies. I like to be colorful."

She also enjoys painting winter scenes, many of which are of Amsterdam and the Dutch countryside. While in Wisconsin, Mrs. Van Werkhoven attended two workshops in watercolor at the Clearing, an artists' retreat in After moving to Livonia, she began study at the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit. She took up oil painting under Russell Keeter, but discovered her talent was put to better use in watercolor.

HOWEVER, she says she will stick with oil painting and try to do better.

"Both Keeter and Richard Jerzy (her watercolor instructor at the Society of Arts and Crafts) have given me a love for their own medium. I will continue to concentrate in watercolor, but I won't give up in oil."

Mrs. Van Werkhoven says she spends all of her spare time at home in art, explaining that her spare time is whatever time left over after fulfilling her obligations to her family which includes husband William, daughters Christine and Miriam, and son Philip

"My family always comes first and they have been really good about my involvement in art. My husband is a great encourgement to me. He realizes art is a big thing in my life and accepts it, even though it wasn't there in the beginning. It came as sort of a to be like one big blank canvas." She also mentioned that a two-story chicken house on the premises will be converted into an art studio.

Mrs. Van Werkhoven's final Detroit' exhibit and sale of paintings will be Sunday, Sept. 15, at noon in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore Road.

ALSO, AT 2:30 p.m. a chamber music concert of classic and contemporary works, including a Michigan premier, will be given by Brian and Marcy Schweickhardt, members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, with Mitta Angell, concertizing pianist from Texas. Tickets for the art exhibit and concert will be available at the

In Detroit, Mrs. Van Werkhoven was represented by the Detroit Artists Market. In addition to numerous oneperson shows, including one at Ford Auditorium in conjunction with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, she has exhibited her work in the 1972 Scarab Club Watercolor Show, the 1973 Southfjeld Art Festival and the 1974 Michigan Watercolor Society's annual show at Meadow Brook.

She was also accepted in the Wisconsin Painters and Sculptors annual show in Milwaukee, the Wustum Museum Annual Watercolor Show in Racine, the Kenosha Art Museum Invitational, the University of Wisconsin Traveling Exhibition and the Wright Museum in Beloit.

Opera will visit Plymouth, Livonia

Plymouth and Livonia will be among nine Michigan cities to be visited by the Michigan Opera Theater's Opera in Residence program during its 1974-75 season.

Working through schools and community organizations, the residence company acquaints area residents with all aspects-creative and technical-of opera production, involving them in workshops, master classes and actual productions.

Michigan Opera Theater has expanded its 1974-75 programming to include visits of its Detroit productions to Kalamazoo and Flint, and to send its Opera in Residence program to nine cities, made possible by a $108,000 grant from Michigan Council for the Arts. The grant was part of the $2.4 mil$750,000 was earmarked for use by the Detroit Symphony, Meadow Brook Theater, Cranbrook Academy, Interlochen Music Center, the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Michigan

The Opera in Residence program, piloted last spring with a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, will also travel to Kalamazoo, Traverse City, Flint and Alpena, with three additional cities to be announced. Last year, the company visited only six cities.

Dr. David DiChiera, general director of Michigan Opera Theater, notes that this season's touring and residence programs will reach an audience of more than 100,000.

"I feel that this kind of program is the ideal way to expose people to lion council budget appropriated by opera and to develop future audiences the State Legislature, of which for this unique multimedia art form."

Fonda opens new season

Henry Fonda, starring in "Clarence office stars in the history of the Darrow" opens the 1974-75 season at screen. the Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts in Detroit, Wednesday, Sept. 4, through Monday, Sept. 9.

Fonda, now recovered from the illness that caused the May cancellation of "Clarence Darrow" at the Music Hall, reopened the one-man tour-deforce in June in Los Angeles.

"Clarence Darrow" is a new play by David W. Rintels which is based on the life and deeds of the greatest trial lawyer of the 20th century. Darrow's life in this play is an action por- for the Seesaw," "Our Town," and trait of an extraordinary man of American history, encompassing such history-making events as the Scopes Monkey trial, the Leopold-Loeb murder trial, the bombing of the Los Angeles Times, the sensational Sweet Trial and others.

DARROW'S STIRRING courtroom defense of Dr. Ossian Sweet before Judge Frank Murphy, later a governor and Supreme Court Justice of Michigan, took place in Detroit's Recorder's Court in 1925-26. This historical event is a significant part of the

John Houseman has directed "Clarence Darrow" which was based on the Irving Stone best-seller, "Clarence Darrow for the Defense." Houseman brought his City Center Acting Company to the Music Hall in January, and has since won an Oscar for the best supporting actor for his part in the film, "The Paper Chase."

Fonda is included on Variety's list-

FONDA'S SCREEN roles include "Jezebel," "Drums Along the Mo-hawk," "The Grapes of Wrath," "My Darling Clementine," "Mister Roberts," "Twelve Angry Men," "The Longest Day," "Fail Safe," "The Best Man," and "The Rounders."

His career is dotted with theatrical appearances which, while not as numerous, are as prestigious. He has starred in "Mister Roberts," "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," "Two

It's iris planting time

Late summer or early fall is the best time either to divide and transplant existing irises or plant new ones for next year, says William Carpenter, professor of horticulture at Michigan State University.

"Irises usually become overcrowded two to five years after planting," Carpenter says. "They should be divided in August or September. after the blooms have faded and while there is still time for the plants to become reestablished before winter.

"To select a site for new irises or transplants, keep in mind that irises need full sunlight and good drainage." the specialist says.

PREPARE THE BED for your iris a-week or two before planting to allow the soil time to settle. Dig and loosen the soil to a depth of at least 18 inches, thoroughly break up all lumps. If your soil is poor, add 12 pound of 5-10-5 fertilizer for every 50 square feet or 1/2 cup for every six or seven root clumps (rhizomes). Thoroughly mix the fertilizer into the soil so that lumps of it will not touch iris roots.

To improve the drainage in heavy soil, spade in compost, well rotted manure or peat moss. Carpenter advises. If bearded and crested iris are planted in soil that remains wet for long periods, the rhizomes will rot, he explains.

TO DIVIDE crowded plants for transplanting, cut leaves to one-third their full height and dig under each clump of rhizomes, lifting out the whole clump at once. Wash soil away with a steady stream of water.

Use a sharp knife to cut the rhizomes; make sure each division has at least one growing point or fan of leaves, a few inches of healthy rhizome and a number of well developed roots, Carpenter advises. If you make many small divisions, you will not have to divide the rhizomes again for three to five years.

If you divide the rhizomes into a few large pieces, you will get more flowers the next year.

"RHIZOMES ARE planted in shallow holes with little cones of soil in the center of the hole for a planting base," Carpenter explains. "The holes should be about 18 inches apart. The

Ramblers pruned after flowers fall

Hardy rambler roses should be pruned as soon as they're done flowering, according to William Carlson, extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University.

"This pruning is important," he explains, "because it stimulates the growth of the new canes on which next year's flowers will grow.

"Cut some of the older canes back to the ground and shorten the strong. vigorous canes. The new growth that develops can be trained on a trellis or other support," Carlson advises.

planting depth depends on the type of garden soil."

In light, well drained soil, build a low cone. The top of the planted rhizome should be two inches below ground level.

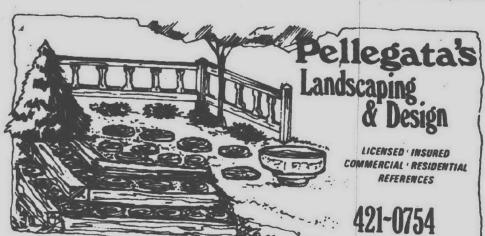

In heavy soil, the top should be slightly above ground. In medium soil, it should be just below ground

PLACE THE RHIZOME on the cone parallel with the ground surface. Carefully spread the roots around the cone. Fill the hole with soil and press it firmly in place around the rhizome. Then thoroughly soak the soil around the roots.

Mulch irises with a light layer of straw or evergreen boughs after the ground first freezes. Mulching will minimize winter injury by alternate freezing and thawing of the soil. This injures the plants by pushing them out of the ground, Carpenter explains.

Irises planted or transplanted this year should bloom next spring.

four to six feet above the ground. More vines are growing and the neighbor children call it Jack's beanstalk.

"EARLY MORNING, we find the large leaves curved upward, waiting for the sun. At midday in 92-degree heat, the leaves form caps, down, limp to protect the delicate leaf veins.

"The orange trumpet-like flowers open for one day only and several sizes of bees work rapidly to collect their nectar. Sometimes several bees are in one flower as we watch them from our kitchen window. They seem to ignore us even when we stand outside to watch them at work. Evening coolness gives the vines renewed leaf shapes but the flowers are closed and wilting."

The Cliffords wonder if the squash will actually ripen and if the vine will support their weight without breaking. They have given the plump fruit added support, tying it up with a nylon net vegetable bag.

The Cliffords also wonder, "Will some beekeeper have squash honey?"
