Strike settled; schools open

TEACHERS leave the meeting Friday morning after agreeing tentatively to accept a two-year contract with the Plymouth

By W. EDWARD WENDOVER

PLYMOUTH — Students and teachers reported for school this morning on the heels of Friday's tentative contract agreement between the Plymouth School Board and the teach-

Although neither the teachers nor the school board have formally ratified the two - year contract, both have given tentative approval. The school board's formal approval is expected at its meeting at 8 p.m. tonight (Monday) at Plymouth - Canton High School's auditorium.

The general membership of the Plymouth Education Association (PEA, teachers' union) gave tentative approval of the contract by voice vote at the Penn Theater Friday morning, according to Margaret "Dolly" Carter, PEA president.

BUT THE PEA'S approval is conditional upon the school board dropping its suit seeking an injunction against the strike and $1 million in damages from the PEA.

It was learned Friday that an informal poll of the seven school board members showed at least four agreed to drop that suit.

Negotiators for the teachers and the schools met until 6 a.m. Friday to work out a settlement based on the proposal suggested by State Mediator Edmund Phillips, who was asked by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Harry J. Dingeman Jr. to help the Plymouth negotiations.

UNDER THE TENTATIVE contract, teachers will get an average eight per cent salary increase in addition to their increments in the first year. In the second year, the teachers' raises will be based on a cost of living formula not to exceed an overall 10 per cent.

In its first year, school administrators say, the package will cost the district $540,000 more than was spent on teacher salaries in the 1973 - 74 school year.

Norm Kee, chief negotiator for the schools, said the school board "reluctantly acquiesced to the mediator's proposal."

Mrs. Carter said, "I'm glad to be able to settle this at the table where the PEA has always wanted to settle "I would have hated to see this resolved in a /court situation," she added, "because I think both parties would be losers if that happened." Mrs. Carter said formal approval of the contract by the PEA membership would come after the contract forms were printed up - about one month or more will be needed for that.

THE SCHOOL YEAR'S calendar will have the following changes to accommodate the 14 - day delay of school's starting:

The last day of school will now be June 27 instead of the planned June 13 closing (10 student days gained).

Two teacher in - service days will now be held on Saturdays rather than during the week and one will be held at_night (3 student days gained).

Easter Vacation will be moved to the week before Easter thus picking up Good Friday (1 student day gained).

(Christmas vacation will not be changed from its Dec. 20 to Jan. 6 time period).

SPECIFICALLY, THE CONTRACT calls for salary increases (in addition to increments) of 6 ½ per cent for first and second year teachers and 8 ½ per cent for all other teachers, in the first year. A 45 - minute additional planning period will be added for elementary teachers in the second semes-

In the second year, teachers will get a two per cent raise plus two - thirds of the cost of living (based on the Consumer Price Index for Detroit from July 1974 to July 1975) not to exceed a total of 10 per cent.

A dental plan paid 55 per cent by the schools and 45 per cent by the teachers has also been added to begin in the contract's second year.

Businesses struggle on Ann Arbor Road

By HANK MEIJER

PLYMOUTH-Most of their regular customers still come around, but for the businessmen along Ann Arbor Road between Main Street and Lilley Road who depend on "transient" buyers, the reopening of that stretch can't come too soon.

The half-mile section was closed to through traffic earlier this month when excavators tore up the pavement to build a new, wider bridge over Tonquish Creek. Although all the businesses are still accessible from one side or the other of the gaping hole, the detours are so round-a-about that some motorists become discouraged.

State highway department officials told the merchants that the construction would take 45 working days. Depending on the weather, the road could be open again by the third week in October. Some of the merchants are counting on it.

"We depend on transient business," said Bill Cation, owner of Plymouth Tire near the corner of Ann Arbor Road and Main. "It's sure costing money. It's murdering us. Our overhead doesn't change, it (lost sales)

"It's hit us hard," said Paul Rank, manager of the Colony Car Wash. "but it's been a picnic watching people turn around. It's been like scrambled eggs out there.'

Rank estimates that his business has declined nearly 50 per cent since the construction began. He has a wager with United Rent-All owner Frank Fernandez that construction won't be completed within the 45-day

Fernandez' store is adjacent to where the road is dug up, but while he has noticed some "overall" decline in business, it hasn't been disastrous.

"I can't say it's been drastic, but customers complain," he said. "The road has only been out for two weeks and it's hard to say how much it will affect business.

"I'M SURPRISED how many people go out of their way," said Frank Guettler, who owns the Wishy-Washy Car Wash. "You have to crack an egg to make an omelet. In the long run it will be of great benefit to all concerned."

"We don't have any curiosity or tirekicker traffic, period," said Scotty Addison of Shirey's Trailer Sales. "Businessmen want new customers and we aren't getting any. People follow the path of least resistance. They're still impulse buyers.

"Traffic from eastern Wayne County is bad, but business generally speaking isn't too bad. With the length of time our business has been here most of our customers know us. For a couple of days we didn't see a soul, but we'll suffer through."

The newest business along the closed stretch is Kinney's Shoes. The store has been open for only a month, but judging its sales figures against those of comparable stores in the chain, the blockade has hurt.

"It killed us for back-to-school," said assistant manager John Stetzinger. "The only traffic we get is people who turn around in our parking lot. We're not doing too badly, but we should be doing a lot better." Some of the restaurants have been hit, too. According to Burger King manager Rocky Heckle, traffic is down in the carry-over periods outside of mealtime, particularly later at night when people driving by might see the restaurant and stop.

"We could be down 10 per cent," he said. "Our dinner traffic is pretty much stable, though."

Jim Cooper, assistant manager of McDonald's reported that sales there are also down 10 to 20 per cent, but that road improvements might bring in more business in the long run. "Our business drops off in the fall anyway," said Chuck Moore, owner of the A&W Drive in. "It's had some effect, but nothing real serious."

tomers, they find a way here."

Barber Sam Willis isn't dependent on transient traffic. "We have mostly regular customers and they find a way in," he said. He has noticed one advantage to the closed street: "It's been a lot nicer without the trucks."

You can't get there from here

Community Fund to kick off drive

PLYMOUTH—The 1975 Plymouth Community Fund Drive will receive its official kick-off at 10 a.m. Thursday in Kellogg Park when the traditional torch lighting ceremonies

The goal for the drive has been set at $220,000, more than $25,000 over than last year's goal of $194,800. The 1974 drive after pledges actually netted $200,963.41.

THE GOAL IS made up of the total quotas set for the seven units of the community. The units and their quotas for 1975 are: Business, $21,000; educational, $12,000; governmental, $3,000; industrial, $163,000; professional, $9,000; residential, $7,500, and special gifts and clubs, $4,500.

A training session for all team captains and bell ringers was held this morning at the Mayflower Meeting House. The captains and ringers, comprised mainly of community housewives, will do the house-to-house soliciting during the week of Oct. 7 through 11.

The drive will officially end Nov. 15 with a Victory Dinner. Luncheons will be held weekly during the drive for up-to-date information concerning the drive's progress.

"Last year, 11 local organizations were recipients of the funds collected," said William Carlson, Community Fund publicity chairman and board member.

'The organizations we support are American Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Family Service, Girl Scouts, Michigan Cancer Society, Plymouth Dental Fund, Salvation Army, Senior Citizens, Visiting Nurses Association, Plymouth YMCA and Junior Athletic Association," Carlson said.

The general chairman for the drive is Don Fleming from Western Electric. He will be assisted by co-chairman Gil Forthofer from the Ford Motor Company's Sheldon Road plant.

The divisional chairman are: Chuck Heidt, business; John M. Hoben. educational; Jim Grater, governmental; Dick Anderson, industrial; Janet Brass, professional; Charlotte Petro, residential, and Scott Dodge. special gifts.

Plymouth has maintained its own community fund, separate from the metropolitan Detroit area's United Fund, since the mid-1940s and has never fallen short of its goal.

In contrast to the other eating establishments, BG's Lounge has picked up business since the road closed. "It hasn't hurt us at all," said Manager Al Jaster. "People are willing to fight TWO OF THE three car dealers along this stretch are near the corner of Lilley and Ann Arbor Road. "We don't really see any effect," said Dom Marino of Colony Chrysler-Plymouth, We're right at the light." "It has probably slowed us down a bit, but fortunately we're close to the corner," said Jack Selle of Selle Buick-Opel. Don Massey Cadillac is on the other side of the gap. "It's terrible, it's keeping everybody away," said Hal Marshall, a Massey salesman. "Business is good because of our old cus-

Only five per cent of the 1973 Clarenceville High School vocational graduates believe "most of my high school courses have helped in the work I am now doing," according to a recent survey made by Clarenceville School District administrators.

Twenty per cent of the non-vocational students agreed with them. These are but two of the several pages of survey statistics with which the members of the Clarenceville school board will consider at its meeting Thursday, Sept. 26.

ASKED IF half of their school work had helped them. 28 per cent of the vocational students answered afirmatively. Ten per cent of the non-vocational students believed the same.

Asked if one-fourth of their courses had helped them, forty per cent of the vocational students answered yes. while 10 per cent of the non-vocational graduates agreed.

Sixty per cent of the non-vocationals reported less than one-fourth of their · courses had helped them. while 25 per · cent of the vocational students concurred.

We sent out 200 forms to Clarenceville students," said Robert Young, director of vocational education for the Clarenceville and Novi school dis-

"We got back 60 answers or less than a 30 per cent return, which is the way similar surveys have run throughout the state. In view of the length of the questionaire, I was quite surprised we got that good a return."

THE SURVEY of '73 graduates was requested by the Michigan Department of Education, which asked that .. it involve vocational graduates.

"We had the option of following up on all graduates so that's what we did," said Young.

The questionaire consisted of five parts and included 30 questions concerning their high school academic record, their major studr area, present employment, salary range, title and information about who helped them get their job.

The survey also asked them to check the three high school courses "that helped you most in what you are now doing.

ematics first followed by English and Non-vocational graduates believed English had helped them the most followed by science, math and business.

Members of the Clarenceville school board, will doubtless also talk about the answer to question four in part

After asking whether the students had a job in mind for their life work, the questionaire asked: "Do you feel your high school courses related to the job goal?'

Half of the vocational students said yes. Seventy-seven per cent of the non-vocational students felt their courses related to their job goal. Voting no were 22 per cent.

DID THE questionaire open Young's eyes?

"I wouldn't say it had opened my eyes," said Young. "It strengthened some of the ideas I already had. We are going to have to work a little harder on training kids for jobs rather than on concentrating on the college Young, who has worked for the district 21 years, pointed out "the percentages in the Clarenceville survey corresponded closely with percentages coming from surveys throughout the state on all the questions.

"It means apparently we are doing as good a job as elsewhere in the state. However, I have tried to to caution people I've talked to about this that we can't sit back and ride along. We have to keep working.'

Young also noted attendance of '73 graduates at two-year colleges was a little higher than the state average. But attendance at four-year colleges was a little lower. Sixty-six per cent of vocational students said they were attending a twoyear college; 33 per cent of the nonvocationals were doing the same.

Four-year colleges had attracted 20 per cent of the vocational graduates and 50 per cent of the non-vocation

FOURTEEN per cent of the vocationals answered yes to the statement "I find most of my high school courses have helped in the program that I am in now."

Twenty-five per cent of the nonvocationals voted the same.

Lorenz became manager of the hotel in March, 1939. He has been owner of the Mayflower since 1965. Lorenz is proud that the Mayflower was one of only 15 per cent of all of the hotels in the United States which did not go under during the depression years.

Lorenz remodeled the old Crystal Room, transforming it into the Mayflower Dining Room, with its wellknown paintings of Pilgrims arriving at Plymouth Rock. In 1939, he made Time magazine by serving buffalo stew to 1,200 diners. After World War II, Lorenz provided free television in each of the hotel's rooms, making the Mayflower the first hotel in the nation to offer this service ("even though most of our rooms did not have bathtubs at the time"). Recent additions at the Mayflower include the new "Steak House" and the English-style "Crow's Nest" pub.

Lorenz says that every Michigan governor of the past 25 years has stayed at the hotel, with the exception of Governor Osborne, who became the guest of the Elton R. Eatons when the Mayflower had a full house. Among Hollywood celebrities who have lodged at the hotel are Bob Cummings, Gary Merrill and Bette Davis.

RESTAURANTS

During the early 1900's, Dan Smith's Cafe was in business on Starkweather Street, directly across the tracks from, and facing, the station. From about 1909 to 1920, Frank Pierce (father of Mrs. Cliff Tait) owned a restaurant on Depot Street, east of the station and facing the tracks.

Some time after 1906, Smith's Restaurant and Lunch Room occupied the building just west of Draper's Jewelry and Optical store on Main Street, facing what is now the parking lot of the First Federal Savings and Loan Asso-

Jacob A. Streng bought Dan Smith's Cafe in 1914. Jake Streng, who was born in New York state, came here with his family when he was a boy. He was the father of Mrs. Margaret Stremich, well-known in the community from her many years at Hillside inn. margaret recalls that people came from as far as Detroit to enjoy Jake's famous chicken dinners. Some came in on the Toledo Plug. "We served as many as 200 people on Sundays," she remembers.

Streng sold the establishment to Jake Dye sometime prior to 1924, when the building was destroyed by fire. Streng, who died in 1939, at the age of 81, married a member of the Heide family. His brother-in-law, Carl, founded the Heide Greenhouse, still located on Mill Street.

Margaret Streng was apparently destined for the restaurant business. She married Jacob Stremich, who, in 1934, against her counsel, opened a restaurant in the old Streng homestead, just west of Riverside Cemetery on Plymouth Road. The Stremich's first called their place Hillside Barbecue, and specialized in spare ribs. The name was later changed to the present one - Hillside Inn.

When her husband died, in 1948, Margaret Stremich managed the restaurant alone until 1951. In that year, nephew Robert Stremich became her partner. Mrs. Stremich retired from the business in 1970. When Hillside was opened in 1934, it could seat a maximum of 48 people. This year, in its 40th year of operation, the Hillside Inn has a seating capacity of 430.

When I arrived in Plymouth from New York State in 1952, these were the eating places then operating in the community:

• Ken and Ork's, a short-order burger place located in the old building which stood at the corner of Main and Penniman, where First Federal Savings and Loan now stands:

• the Box Bar on Ann Arbor Trail near Main, facing Kellogg Park; • the Marquis Toll House, a favorite of the Daisy Air Rifle people, on Main, corner of Amelia, across from the red brick building which was once the home of the Markham Air Rifle

· Phil Barney's, on Starkweather, just north f the C&O railroad station: • Ellis', where D.J.'s Colonial Chef Restaurant is now located at the corner of Main and Fralick:

· Arbor Lil's, which Norbert Lofy had just opened on the corner of Ann Arbor Road and Lilly. This later became Sam Hadous' night club until the building was destroyed by fire in September, 1971;

· Hillside Inn, on Plymouth Road, just west of Riverside Cemetery: · the Mayflower Hotel, which then had three dining rooms, one of which occupied the space which is now the back end of Wendell Lent's Clothing

Canton chamber sets open house Plymouth club for its new office

CANTON-An open house will be held from 1 to 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Wayne Bank, at 41652 Ford Road, to announce the new home of the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

The office is located within the bank, which is at Ford Road and Haggerty, and already is manned with a part-time staff. Though the office has been in operation since Aug. 1, the grand opening was postponed until the chamber could supply the office with the necessary furniture and office equipment, said Bart Berg, chamber president.

The open house will include ribbon cutting ceremonies performed by Township Supervisor Philip Ding-eldey. Guests will include township officials and chamber officers, directors and members. Presidents from other area Chambers of Commerce have been invited.

"We're here to serve the residents and businesses of the Canton community," Berg continued. "Presently we are trying to compile a complete list of church and service groups."

He encouraged group officers to notify the chamber office of their group, meeting times and phone numbers of officers. "The list is far from being complete," he added.

The Canton Chamber of Commerce has been in operation for about two years. Prior to its occupation of the new office, the chamber did not have a facility and it used the township hall as a mailing address.

Office hours for the new facility are 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Madonna shows 'Civilization'

"Civilization," a color film series on the cultural life of Western man, will be shown in Livonia's Madonna College every Wednesday, beginning Sept. 25.

Open to the public and free of charge, the films will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in the Science Lecture Hall. The films were written and narrated by art historian Kenneth Clark.

The first film, "The Frozen World," concerns the Vikings, the Dark Ages and Charlemagne. Originally produced for the British Broadcasting Corporation, the "Civilization" series is being distributed to small colleges this year by the National Gallery of Art, Washington, through grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Xerox Corporation.

A complete schedule of the film titles may be obtained by contacting the Madonna College publicity office, 36600 Schoolcraft, Livonia, 48150.

Old Village ball helps beautification

PLYMOUTH-If Pat Hann, chairman of the beautification committee of the Old Village Association, had her way, the whole City of Plymouth would be festooned with flowers from one end to the other.

But being a realist, she is currently concentrating on making beautiful the various entrances to Plymouth and helping to plan a ball to pay for it.

AS A RESULT, a Village Ball will be held Saturday, Sept. 28 in the Meadowbrook Country Club on Eight Mile in Northville. The proceeds will go toward the entrance beautification proj-

"Plymouth is such a pretty town we ought to extend ourselves a little further and decorate the entrances to it," she said. "We want to put flower containers, holding real flowers, along the bridges leading into town on Plymouth Road and at Wilcox Lake."

She added: "We'd like to have some kind of structure at the entrance on South Main for some shrubs and flowers. We also feel that something decorative could be done with that point at Ann Arbor Trail and Ann Arbor Road to the west. I hope people will bring to our attention any other entrances to town that we may overlook."

At last -- strike ends! But was it worth it?

Everyone is happy that the teachers' strike is over and school is back in session.

It is fortunate for all that a settlement was reached between the Plymouth School District and its teachers at the bargaining table without further court action and without binding arbi-

BUT THE QUESTION which everyone must answer individually is: Was the strike "worth

That is not meant to be asked in the sense of one side losing while the other wins, but rather in a general sense considering the community's feelings.

Whatever the economic gains realized by the teachers under the tentative settlement, we must look at the strike and ask whether it was really necessary.

Surely the teachers in our district, whose reputation has contributed greatly to the excellent quality of our schools, deserved a raise and one equal to what they got (the school board thinks).

But couldn't it have been done through the bargaining process without the strike and without the scrapping of the proposed pilot yearround school program?

Teachers should have the right to the collective bargaining process, but can't that process function without striking? If it can't, the State Legislature should consider some action to force negotiations to a settlement before the start of school.

THAT ISSUE is one which has two sides, of course. It should be discussed, however, if we are to avoid strikes in the future.

But all that, for the moment, is behind us in Plymouth.

Teachers, administrators, parents and the press must now work together to make this school year as strong as if there hadn't been a

The Stroller On strikes

The silver-haired gent standing on the corner watching the men and women walking the picket line with their placards held high turned and asked:

"Does any one ever win one of these things?'

The question wasn't asked of The Stroller, particularly, but it set him to giving some thought to an answer.

Through more than half a century of these disputes The Stroller has seen quite a few of these marches, but searching his memory he can't recall an outright victory for either side

Take the present strikes of school teachers throughout the area as an example. Suppose they finally get the kind of a contract they are seeking. They still must teach 180 days of school. That means they have to teach well into the summer and it will cost them their vacation-or curb their

So, what have they won? And they used what might be called vacation time walking the picket lines.

YEARS AGO when The Stroller was just a lad down in the Dutch Country the men in the rolling mills of our little town went on strike-asking for

At the time the little town was known as "The Iron Borough" and the base on which much of the earkly steel industry was built.

For weeks the men walked the lines, rejecting the urging of the rolling mill officials to return to work.

Then one morning Dave Roberts. head of the mill, spoke to the assembled workers and told them that the financial position of the company was such that their demands could not be

Well. The Stroller remembers his closing words in which he said. "If you don't return now, you'll live to see the day that grass will be growing

They didn't return and within a space of two years there was grass growing where once the molten metal was going through the rolls of the

Another strike comes to mind and it happened during The Stroller's early travels along the journalistic trail. He had been invited to join a friend on the staff of the Philadelphia Record. then one of the east's better known newspapers.

WHILE HE HAD no desire to work in the "City of Brotherly Love." The Stroller was weighing the invitation when word came that the newspaper staff had gone on strike.

For weeks it continued with not progress toward a settlement. And each week the reporters walked the lines and went without pay as there were no unemployment or strike benefits in those days.

The debate reached its climax one morning when the publisher of the Record calmly told the striking staff that if its members didn't return to work, he would turn the key in the door and the Record would become just a mem-

The strikers smiled, thinking this was an emotional threat.

The next morning the publisher made good his word. He turned the key in the door, offered all the equipment for sale and the Record became only a

Another great example comes to mind. It concerns The Stroller's Alma Mater-The Detroit Free Press.

Forced to accede to the workers' demands on the threat that there would be no paper that night (election night), the publisher returned to his desk, disappointed, but determined. Then he calmly issued an order eliminating all Christmas bonuses (and they were liberal), and said that there would be no more paid vacations.

IT WAS A HIGH price the employes paid for their victory and to this day things never have returned to normal with bonuses and paid vacations.

There was only one instance. The Stroller recalls, when a "victory" was between.

But what a surprise they received. scored-but it took nine years to collect the spoils.

That came during World War 1 when he was employed as a machinist in the Bethlehem Steel Works back home. Ordered from the work train one evening with word that the plant had been struck. The Stroller had no choice but to join the workers and then agreed, because of the war; to return to work, pending further negotia-

Months went by. Then word came that the company had agreed to terms and that payment of the accrued wage increase would be made.

It was. Nine years later, when The Stroller was safely settled in the field of journalism-far from the dirt and grease of the machine shop.

Yes, to answer the silver haired gent-the strikers sometimes win-but the cases are few and far-very far-

Investigate the school trustee who interfered

The Editorial Opinion written in the Sept. 12 issue concerning the Plymouth teachers' strike states: "For example, one board member who received considerable support from the PEA during the last, election, went into a meeting of the teachers on her own volition and made an offer without consulting the other members of the board or the members of the negotiating team."

If the above is true and I have no reason to believe otherwise. I. as a taxpayer, feel that this person has done a great disservice to the board and the community that placed her in office. She has lost any respect she may have had from the board and especially the persons that put her into

By SHERRY KAHAN When members of the class of 1933 of Wayne High School met recently in a Plymouth condominium, it was not the ordinary kind of reunion. There were none of the usual shrieks of recognition or the private whispers about Mary's extraordinary weight gain or Peter's bald head. This is because this class holds its reunion every year instead of every 10 or 15 years. Those graduating in 1933 from Wayne always regarded their class as unusual. Accordingly upon their graduation they settled upon this unusual yearly reunion procedure. "THE MORE OFTEN we see each other the more fun we have." declared Corinne Mansell, who works as a secretary at the Livonia board of education. "You may not make it every year, but you can still maintain contact. If you can't come one year you can come the next.

"I love to come." said Bernadette Carrico of Westland, who must have been the class wit. "I like it because no one here looks young and pretty. They're all my age."

"I thought I looked young," put in Milton Kolarov of Wayne, who is class president this year.

"But not pretty." laughed Mrs. Car-

COMMENTING ON his presence. Miles Dietrich of Wayne said he "wouldn't consider doing anything else on this day because I enjoy the fellowship - it is a great day of anticipation for me.

When asked his profession, Dietrich said. "I am a janitor at Dietrich Buick. "Oh, Miles, you're teasing," giggled Grace Moore of Westland. "We know you're the manager." "But I did start out there as a janitor in 1933," answered Dietrich.

"I HAVEN'T MISSED a reunion." said Mrs. Moore. "except the time I was in an auto accident while on my way to it." Reminiscing about her school days. Mrs. Moore said. "I am glad I went to school when I did. "In those days we looked for the person rather than the materialistic things they look for now, and we had

With only 500 students in the high school, she added, "we knew almost everyone in school."

"IF ANY STUDENT owned a car in those days he was rich," said Mildred Malone, a beautician from Plymouth.

Mrs. Malone enjoys the yearlr reunions because they bring back the past. "You are more carefree when you are younger." she explained. "Then, too, I like to talk to each person to see what they are doing."

She added: "Everyone turned out pretty much as I expected."

"We were a very closeknit class when in high school," said Kolarov. "During those depression days we had very little. The only socializing we had was with our friends, as there were not too many other things we could afford to do.

"Our class used to put on lunch and afternoon dances with records and that kept the kids together."

Mrs. Mansell put in, "We called them Kresge dances because they only cost a dime." IN THOSE YEARS they twirled around the gym floor to the tune of "Little Grass Shack" and "Shuffle Off to Buffalo.

Kolarov continued: "Because we felt close we thought maybe we ought to stick together after we left school. We didn't realize at that age that sticking together was practically an impossibility. "We are spread all over the U.S., but we still manage to have a picnic or a dinner every year. Sometimes we talk about having a reunion every five years, but it has always been voted down." Kolarov noted that reunion attendance runs between 30 and 50 people. adding, "not bad for a class of 72 people.' "In those days we had respect for each other, for our teachers and for our school," he said. "It was unusual to walk down the halls of Wayne High and find paper littered on the floor. even though we often had candy sales. Very few smoked."

HOWEVER. THE CLASS was not without spirit, which usually surfaced strongly after the football game with Dearborn High School. During the game Kolarov who played in the band, would briefly leave the band and lead Wayne boosters in a few

"Sometimes after the game we would go to Dearborn and build a bhnfire in the center of Michigan Avenue and try to aggravate the police a little." said Kolarov. "Yet I don't think we were in a true sense destruc-

Boys in those days generally wore cotton pants, white shirts, pullovers and occasionally ties to school. But there was no emphasis on clothes, Kolarov said.

Girls wore dresses or skirts which came to the center of the knee.

PERMANENT ROMANCES that grew out of their association in the class of '33 at Wayne resulted in two marriages between classmates.

One of these couples is Bob and Hilda Horton of Detroit. The other is Bill and Yvonne Williams, who prior to their move to Tecumseh ran the Williams stores in Garden City.

Most of the reunions of this class have been attended by their principal. R.J. Gulick, and their class adviser, Mrs. Margaret Gotts.

However, the illness of his wife kept Gulick at home this year and Mrs. Gotts herself was ill.

Twenty-nine class members attended this reunion and Grace Moore was elected class president for the coming year. Corrine Mansell was chosen vice president.

The party featured talk about old 45 times, fun and jokes. Mrs. Carrico greeted a classmate returning for his 41st reunion with this remark, "Don't tell me you were held up because you couldn't get a babysitter."

Mrs. Judy Gural, 15000 Lakewood, Plymouth, is joining in a call for a boycott to protest the rising price of sugar.

Mrs. Gural, mother of three, cooked up the plan with a friend who lives in a suburb on the east side of the metropolitan area. They are asking housewives to avoid buying sugar and products like candy, cookies and pop from Sept. 20 to Sept. 30.

Calling themselves VIPs (for Very Important Protesters), the women are spreading the movement by word of mouth, with friends and neighbors being asked to join and then enlist THEIR friends and neighbors.

A local radio talk show also carried word of the plan. "The prices are just getting beyond reach," said Mrs. Gural, and we feel the housewife is being put at a great disadvantage while someone makes a lot of money in this situation. "They are hitting us right at the canning season, and just before Christmas baking and candy-making. Our household budget just can't stand it." The Plymouth mother said she had been cutting back on sweet foods for her youngsters and giving them fruit instead. "You can do that at this time of year, but it will be different when fresh fruits are out of season. "We think it's time for women to let the sugar producers know how we feel about the way their prices are going up."

Since the recognition program began in 1969, 113 gold medal winners have been brought to Detroit for special recognition and 1,370 awards have been given in GM plant cities throughout the nation.

Cole praised this year's winners for their dedication in "assuming community responsibilities without any desire for recognition or reward.

"Besides the energy required to do their jobs and care for the needs of their families, many have tapped their energy reserves and contributed time and talent for the betterment of their communities.

"One cannot help but be impressed by the diversity of their activities, yet there is a common objective of bettering their communities by serving others," Cole said.

THE COMMUNITY service activities of the 17 award winners is as varied as their job classifications. Most wear a multitude of leadership "hats." Church work, local government positions, youth work, aiding the underprivileged, and fund-raising are common to many.

One winner, a repairman, joined with his son to collect 800,000 coupons to purchase a kidney machine for the North California Kidney Foundation.

A supervisor of employe benefits for the New Departure-Hyatt Bearings Division was publicly acclaimed for saving the life of a patrolman overcome by smoke during a home fire.

The award for excellence program is designed to recognize and honor those employes who perform outstanding service for the betterment of their communities through voluntary participation in civic, charitable and other activities.

NOMINATIONS in each participating plant city are made by employes. members of service organizations and the general public.

'74 held by the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter March of Dimes is set for Sept. 28, Oct. 5, and 6.

It will be the first three-day bike-athon ever held in Detroit. The first event will be a 50-mile ride held at Metropolitan Park Saturday, Sept. 28, beginning at 8 a.m. ,

The route will begin in the park, continue on Metropolitan Parkway Drive to L'anse Cruese and back to the park for seven times.

THE SECOND event will be at Edward Hines Park beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 5.

The Hines Parkway will have two registration points - one at Telegraph and Hines Drive and the other at Merriman and Hines Drive.

The route will extend from Newburgh to Ford and be repeated four times for a total of 50 miles. Each rider will finish at his starting registration point.

Oct. 5 is the same Saturday the parkway will be closed to traffic by the Wayne County Road Commission as the fourth bike day this summer for cyclists to use the parkway for a day while it is closed to vehicular traf-

THE THIRD EVENT will begin at 7 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 6, with a 100-mile Century Ride held for accomplished and experienced riders, starting at the Michigan State Fair Grounds, going to Flint and back.

Red Cross Telamarathon is under way

Red Cross volunteers are alerting local groups and individuals by telephone to the need for persons to join the Red Cross volunteer team.

The "Telamarathon" recruitment campaign will continue until November with the goal being to recruit 800 volunteers. Local organizations will be asked to set up speaking engagements during the campaign.

"These engagements will be used to present the needs and programs of Red Cross to interested groups, and to publicize the opportunity for community service through Red Cross," says Mrs. Joseph Mogadino of Redford, chairman of Red Cross volunteers in the northwest area.

Other campaign leaders include Mrs. John Parrott of Bloomfield Hills, Oakland chairman of volunteer training, and Mrs. William Kall of Garden City, northwest area transportation Individuals interested in volunteering will be encouraged to attend an orientation session in the Red Cross Northwest office in Livonia.

The largest triple threat Super Ride will then be sent to riders so they can obtain relatives, friends, and businesses to pledge 10 cents, 25 cents, or a $1 for each mile ridden which will go to > help in the fight against birth defects. The bike-a-thon on Edward Hines is the newest addition to the March of Dimes Super Ride. When registering, riders will present the top sheet of their sponsor form and receive a March of Dimes vest to wear during the ride so he can be recognized from other riders out for bike day. As he passes each checkpoint the back of his vest will be stamped to validate the miles ridden to that point. At the finish, the rider will be given a certificate and a 50-mile bike patch.

The three events are expected to attract about 15,000 riders and raise about $100,000.

Salem crushes defending champ Trenton, 19-0

How sweet it is to dethrone the Plymouth Salem is savoring such nectar this week after thrashing vaunted Trenton, 19-0, to end the Trojans' string of football victories at 13 - a skein which included an unbeaten 1973 season and carried with it the Suburban Eight title as well as No. 3 ranking in the state.

Friday, however, it was Plymouth which displayed more perfect execution, more consistent pursuit, better blocking and tackling, and superior speed to hand Trenton its first shutout in at least a decade.

As a result of this league triumph, the Rocks now find themselves one of the Sub 8's big question marks - with the opportunity at hand this week to prove they are for real as championship contenders when they invade the lair of powerful Edsel Ford.

THE UNDERDOG Rocks crushed Trenton on the flying feet of fullback Scott Agnew and halfback Doug Tripp coupled with a defense which held the Trojans four times for downs (once at the Plymouth four yard line) and stopped yet another thrust with an in-

Agnew, 175-pound co-captain who scored all three touchdowns in the 21-20 non-league opening win over Bloomfield Hills a week earlier, took off on scoring gallops of 45 and 69 vards against Trenton, while Tripp sprinted 53 yards for his six-pointer.

From his line backing post on defense, Agnew also had a hand in 20 tackles to stamp himself as possible all-state timber. But the defensive heroics weren't his alone, for Don Ross, Doug McCowan, Charlie Johnson, Jerry Brink, Rick Gladstone, Dick Jenkins and Mark Manthey also were standouts in manhandling the bigger Plymouth started as though disaster might be in store, fumbling the ball away on the third play of the game at its own 40. Mark Lybrook and 'John Dahlquist alternated on shots into the Rock line but could not penetrate beyond the four. Then the tide turned.

THE ROCKS drove 85 yards, keyed by a 46-yard gainer by Agnew, only to lose possession at the Trenton 11, bit bounced back to score at 1:54 of the second period on Agnew's 45-yard run. Tripp then kicked his only successful conversion in three tries to make it 7-0.

The third quarter was less than three minutes old when Tripp cut loose with his 53-yard scoring scamper and as soon as Plymouth got its hands on the ball again Agnew wheeled 69 yards for the final tally.

After that the Rocks blew one other great scoring chance after getting : first down on the Trenton three, bu meanwhile they were keeping the Tro jans at bay for one of the sweetest vic tories in Coach Tom Moshimer's eigh seasons at the Plymouth helm.

Agnew personally outgained al Trenton's backs s he rolled up 20 yards from scrimmage on 12 carries Tripp adding 93 as the Rocks' swit ground game from the wishbone net ted 357 yards by running to Trenton' total of 186. Trenton had a 71-17 yard age advantage in the air but its value went to naught on the scoreboard

"The kids really stuck it to them," exclaimed Coach Gary Humphrey after his Garden City East Panthers crushed Bishop Borgess, 20-14. "That first half was the best we have ever played at East," added Humphrey whose gridders now carry a 2-0 mark into the Northwest loop opener with Thurston Friday night.

East scored on the first offensive drive. Borgess came back to tie it on a fluke pass play and the Panthers all but put Borgess away in the second quarter with two scores.

A bad snap on a punt allowed Borgess to narrow the gap in the third quarter but East held on in the final minutes to put away the Catholic Double A powerhouse.

"We felt we could beat Borgess if we took away its power end sweep," said the East coach. "The kids just did everything and hung in there all the way even though we gave them their two touchdowns.

BOTH CLUBS were coming off identical 20-0 opening game wins. Borgess over U-D and East over Riverside. But this clash was all East with Borgess showing signs of a flat offense that may wind up taking a real beating in the race for the Double A title.

East collected 10 first downs to Borgess' six and rushed for 128 yards with both Lou Willoughby and Steve Bentley grounding out 53 yards each in 13 carries.

The Panther quarterback, BRITT PONTE, who had things in check from the start, rushed for 15 yards and hit on eight of 14 passes for 101

East took the opening kickoff and 31/2 minutes later was on the board. Willoughby picked up a first down and combined with a Borgess personal foul - the first of many for the evening for the Spartans, East found itself down on the Borgess 37.

Bruce Berry's conversion attempt sailed off about 15 yards to the right and with just seven minutes gone, it was a six-all ball game.

An interception by Heimbuch three plays later gave the ball back to Borgess but the East defense held with Jaremski forced into a punting situation.

WALLY KROL hauled in the punt on his 30 and the Panthers formed a wall down the right sidelines the likes that have never been seen before. Krol dashed the 70 vards to score but it was all for naught as an East lineman outside of the wall was detected blocking below the knees. So it was back into East territory minutes later, the Panthers made first down pass play twice and con nected with Bob Hudson for a 15 yard er to the Borgess 29.

Willoughhy dashed to the nine. Bent ley pushed it to the seven but Ponte was dropped for two yards and tossed an incomplete pass to bring up a third and goal situation on the nine.

A roughing the passer call on the play edged the ball down to the four Willoughby drove to the two and Ponte slipped in for six on a Ql sneak. Barnstable's kick was good and with 7:25 left in the first half, i was East, 13-6.

Boisture quickly fumbled away the ball for Borgess on his own 17 and East was set for another score.

DAVE McCALL recovered that loose ball for East and Ponte again slipped in on a one-yard spurt. Barn stable's kick was good and with four minutes showing on the clock, East was up, 20-6.

The second half opened with Borgess moving the ball for two minutes before Daryl Hayter intercepted a Boisture pass for East. The Panthers failed to move the ball and then came the play that broke East's back.

Krol was back to punt on his 27, the snap sailed over his head and was regood that drive. Ponte hit Krol on a covered by Borgess on the East six.

The third quarter was spent between the 40 yard stripes until the closing minutes when Quarterback JoJo Scarpace punted out on the Stevenson three to put the Spartans in a tight spot.

ON THE FINAL play of the period, Franklin's Terry Allen returned a punt 15 yards to the Stevenson 30.

The Patriots didn't waste this opportunity, scoring the winning touchdown on the first play of the final

It came when Paul Downs whipped a short pass to Dan Quinn just inside the sidelines. Quinn shook off a tackler and then scooted the remaining 30 vards for the six points. Quinn's placement was good and Franklin was ahead for the second time, 14-7.

Stevenson received two points when Franklin was called for a safety on an unusual play that found Jerry Pollard intercepting a long pass by Nichols on the goal line. It seemed that the impetus of catching the ball carried him into the end zone where he dropped to his knees for what he thought would be a touchback. However, the officials ruled he had furnished the impetus for crossing the line and therefore it was a safety. That made the score 14-9 in favor of Franklin.

These are great days along the bowling front as the many handicap leagues get started for the season.

It used to be the bowlers rolled the first several nights to establish an average and went on from there. In some cases it had been hinted that some of them deliberately tried to get away with wild pitches, and the like, to keep their average low.

Now things are different, thanks to the year book published through the combined efforts of the Greater Detroit Bowling Association and the Detroit Woman's Bowling Association.

This book contains last year's average of every sanctioned bowler in the area and has removed all guess work or falsifying ratings.

As a result most of the leagues are now asking that the bowlers use last year's average, or as they call it. "the book average" for the first three weeks. Then the handicaps will be figured and the season starts on a sound basis.

From all parts of the country come praises for the year book that contains the averages of 250,000 sanctioned bowlers. It is said it is the most complete year book in the country.

When the book was inaugurated a decade ago it was to be used primarily for tournament competition where bowlers had a habit of making rather poor guesses of their averages in handicap events. Most of this was at the end of the season. Now, the book is proving valuable at the start.

The teachers strike has had an effect on the school leagues in Observerland as none of the student leagues have started in the late afternoons when school has been dismissed for

This hasn't had any effect on Fred Hamlin, whose youngsters' leagues at Farrmington Lanes have gotten away to a great start. Of course, the Farmington schools are open.

There's no happier bowler in the area than Marge Kropacek, of Plymouth, who dared to select a team and challenge the top squads in the all-star Bowlerettes League at Motor Bowling under the sponsorship of Shirey's Trailers the team has won five of its first six games and is tied with the famed Motown team for the lead.

Last Monday the team rolled games of 890, 877 and 859 for a 2,626 series and a victory over the Ode Tires. Young Cindy Borucki was high for the team with a 551.

The bowling proprietors traveling league paid a visit to Garden Lanes this week and when the final pin fell Harry Totalian, who does most of his bowling at the Garden, was high with a 641 series.

Gerry Zande walked off with top honors in the Livonia Ladies Classic and Observerland couples, as usual, of 162-51-212 and high series counts of 464, 153 and 617. Other single game winners were Lillian Beatty with a 177-42-219 and De-Lores Dowhan with a 165-42-207. Herb Lloyd took top place on the Livonia honor roll for the week when he contributed a 275. That's not bad for a bowler with a 175 average. Meanwhile in the Ladies House League, Pam Lowry, a 150 average bowler in the Ladies House League had games of 216, 196 and 176 for a 588 series.

Only three pins separated the top three bowlers in the top league at Mayflower Lanes.

Alma Mahar showed the way with a 514 and Eleanor Valantas shared runnerup honors with Cathy Beauregard

Stepping into the spotlight with them was Sharon Robinson who converted the 4-5-10. It was her first conversion of the season.

Scoring the Teen Classic at Farmington Lanes was up to par for this time of year when Bill Stephensen had a 232 in 558 and Colleen Flynn posted a 195 in 510.

With only two weeks to go before the big event starts there is a chance that entries for the Marriage -Go-Bowl at Fred Wolf's Eastland Bowl will set a record. It opens on Oct. 5 when she posted a single game count are expected in large numbers.

RU 3-milers win triangular

Redford Union came up with a first and second, fifth and sixth and No. 10 place to topple North Farmington and Farmington Harrison in a cross country triangular.

It was RU's fourth victory in six outings as the Panthers totaled 24 points 17:18.

with North Farmington next best with 44 and Harrison third with 58.

The one-two punch for RU was by Doug Milne with a 17:05 first with Mike Hasty second in 17:09. Then came Northys Dan Good in 17:13 and Harrison's Mike Redford fourth with RU ran fifth and sixth with John Shannon clocking in 17:22 and Andy Kritzman in 17:35. North's Kevin Bayley (18:25), Cliff Davis (18:36) and Mike Carney (18:37) took care of seventh through ninth place with Tom Sionkowski of RU wrapping things up with a 10th place time of 18:46 for the Panthers' 24 points.

Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley, who has only until Oct. 1, to announce the 1975 dates for the thoroughbreds in Michigan, has called a meeting of all track owners next Wednesday to discuss dates.

Under the revised Racing Act, the commissioner must announce the thoroughbred dates by Oct. 1 and the harness racing allotments no later than Oct. 15.

So he decided to call all of the representatives together in the 10 a.m. meeting to go over plans for next

"This meeting will be about dates," said the commissioner, "I have talked with officials of the tracks on the matter of improvements. They have told me their plans and I have told them

THE HAZEL PARK Racing Association is working on plans to enclose, heat and air condition the top level of the clubhouse better known as the Roaring 20s.

The track also is giving a great deal of thought to connecting the clubhouse and the grandstand which are now separate. In addition, the paddock betting area may be enclosed so it can be used in all kinds of weather because of its popularity with the public.

However, rumors have it that the fire marshal dampened hopes for enclosing the Roaring 20s when he demanded construction of additional exits. At the present time the top level has two stairways and two elevators for use which would appear to be SHELLEY GOUDREAU, the 26year-old Canadian driver who has been among the leaders in the national ratings all season, just missed equaling a record at Wolverine Raceway last week when he recorded a four-bagger.

His four victories placed him within one of the track record held jointly by several drivers including Tommy Winn, George Sholty, Joe Marsh Jr. among others.

Shelley started his big night when he guided Squire Jim home to start a nightly double worth $38.

He came back in the fifth with Hyperactive, a two-year-old, and won by more than three lengths in 2:06. Then the Canadian made it No. 3 in the sixth with a tight finish and a victory for Siger Wyn.

The fourth triumph, and probably the most spectacular of the evening, came in the ninth race when he sent Cleo's Clark, a four-year-old, after the leading Linehan's Adios midway through the stretch. Shelley caught up with and passed the leader with 50 yards to go and won going away in 2:02.2.

He had another start in the 10th race and was in front by three lengths at the halfway point before his horse folded on the final turn and finished well back in the field.

FROM LANSING comes word that a bill to approve a greyhound sports racing commissioner and offtrack betting has been introduced and may be one of the first to come before the legislators when they reconvene in the not too distant future.

House Bill 6232 was introduced in July by Reps. Montgomery, Spencer, Huffman, Brown, Kehres and Pre-

The bill is similar in most respects to that turned down two years ago by a mere one or two votes. It provides for 10 racing tracks in the state, all under the control of the dog racing commissioner.

It extolls the value of greyhound racing to the state of Michigan and predicts the millions that will come in from the state's share of the mutuel wagering.

We have long doubted the value of dog racing in a state this far north. We believe the figures shown by one of the backers of the bill, tells a story that isn't absolutely true and neither entirely false. There isn't any question but that the state would reap rich harvest from the dogs but it could well go to the dogs at the same time.

AS WE INDICATED a year ago when the dog lobby was busy and almost reached the top, it seems to us that Michigan has plenty of betting now on the thoroughbreds and standardbreds. . .so why try to kill a good time.

We are saying that dog races would meet with scant approval for a long time in horse racing country and that's what Michigan has been for a long time.

There'll be the usual hassle in Lansing when the time nears for the bill to come out of committee. Lobbvists for harness and thoroughbred horse racing will be out en masse as will be the lobbyists who have been working for years to get the dog racing legalized. It should be a battle well worth watching this year.

Who knows, it may pass the and then the battle really starts.

Incredible as it may seem . . . our paices are true . . . we know it's hard to believe you can get a complete disc brake job for just 59.99 but it's true and we use only first quality parts - All our work is unconditionally guaranteed . . . this is a new young company who wants your business and will do all in its power to give you good service and reasonable prices.

YOU'RE

3000 will make this the Year To Remember. The Year Al Kaline made baseball history, an honor shared by only 11 other players, nine of them already in the Hall of Fame. For a man who has played in the All Star Game 16 times and won 10 Gold Gloves for fielding excellence, this new honor will climax an exciting career.

When were you guessing Al would make it? More than 1000 fans in Oakland and Wayne County shared their guesses with us, as they entered the Observer & Eccentric's 3000 Hit Contest. They're all here, listed under the date they predicted Al would make his historic hit. (Coupons were accepted until hit #2990 was made.) To break any possible ties, these entrants have also made two more predictions: the inning in which the hit occurs and an estimate of the official paid attendance of the game in which the hit occurs.

One of these lucky people has won a "Night to Remember" with Al Kaline, courtesy of the Detroit Baseball Club and the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers! This "Night" includes four box-seat tickets to a Tiger baseball game, and a chance to meet Tiger Superstar himself; the winner will also have his picture taken with Al and receive an autographed baseball.

Good going Al!
