

Teachers' strike may cost schools $14,000 in state aid

PLYMOUTH—A three-week strike by Plymouth teachers may have cost the district more than $14,000 in state aid because student enrollment failed to keep pace with budgeted projections.

As of the fourth Friday in September, the date by which enrollment must be computed to determine the amount of state aid to which the district is entitled, Plymouth schools had enrolled 12,526 students in kindergarten through the 12th grade.

Last year the figure was 11,836 but school officials had projected that 12,600 students would sign up this year. Over a 100,000 enrollment, including 10,000 in adult education programs, reached 12,648 by last Friday.

The district receives state aid at a rate of $195.45 per pupil. The 1974-75 school budget had anticipated 74 more students than the number who enrolled by last week.

"We were hurt," Deputy Supt. Dr. Earl Hogan said of the strike. "We could have made our projections. Some students have gone to parochial and private schools and to other districts."

Enrollment has lagged behind predictions at Allen, Farrand, Fiegel and Miller Schools, while Isbister and Central Middle have enjoyed increases.

Assistant superintendent for business, Ray Hoedel, has asked legislators to include Plymouth in any proposal to hold a second count for strike-plagued districts, in the hope that students who have gone elsewhere or who are still on vacation might return to boost enrollment figures.

Enrollment at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic School is up significantly over last year, according to principal Jim Dyer. This year the school has 587 students in grades one through eight, compared to 524 a year ago.

For the first time in several years the school is operating at capacity with a new first grade room opened this year.

The teacher strike didn't add to the increase, however.

"We were filled before the school strike even started," Dyer said. "As of the end of last year we knew how many students we would have." He noted that nearly 200 students are on a waiting list to enroll at Our Lady of Good Counsel when space becomes available.

At St. Peter's Lutheran Day School enrollment has remained stable over the last few years. This year the school has 109 students, compared to 108 last year.

"We're gradually growing," said Principal David Jacobs.

Citizens reveal their feelings on loop road

By HANK MILLER

Several residents of the city of Plymouth expressed their feelings about the proposed loop road project during a public hearing held Monday night at the city hall.

Street with a width of 120 feet, the same as the other streets in the area, is the only one that is not a part of the project. The project is to build a new road that will run from the city center to the airport.

Mrs. Linda Taylor, 1000 Oak Street, was the first to speak. She expressed her opposition to the project. She said that the project would be a waste of money and that it would be a burden on the city.

Arthur Taylor, 1200 Wood and Oak, also spoke. He said that he was in favor of the project. He said that it would be a good thing for the city and that it would be a good thing for the people.

Rivalries renewed

Prep football hits high peak

PLYMOUTH—King Football will bring two of Plymouth's oldest rivals to town this weekend for Friday and Saturday night games in the new Centennial Educational Park stadium.

Friday night, Plymouth-Canton will meet Northville in a Western Six League battle, and Saturday it will be Plymouth-Salem against Livonia Bentley in the renewal of a Suburban Eight rivalry. Both games will start at 8:00 p.m.

At stake in the Canton-Northville clash will be the Victory Bell trophy, which long went to the winner in the old football series between the neighboring Mustangs and the original Plymouth High School.

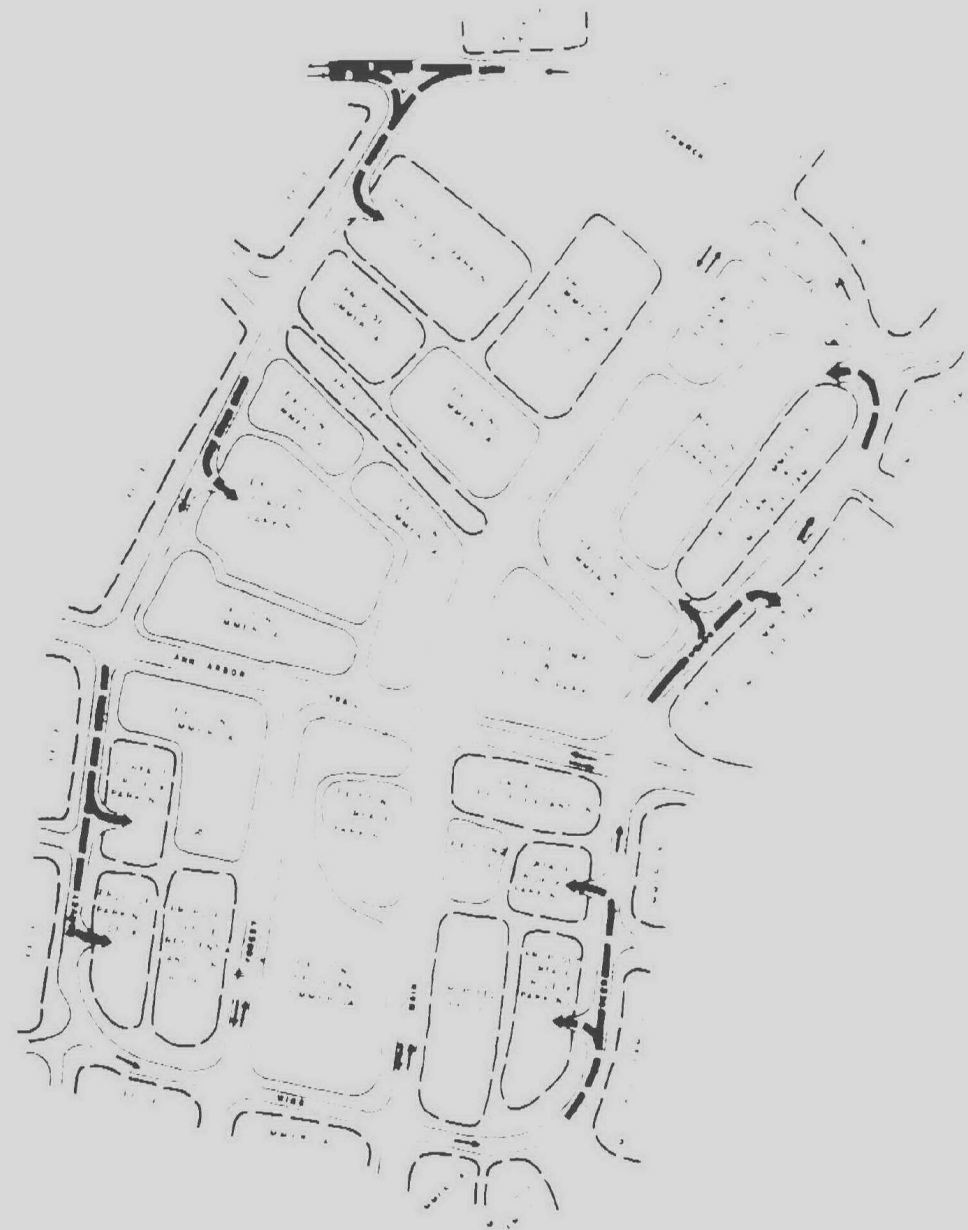

The last game in that series was played in 1970 with Plymouth the winner. Canton resumed the rivalry with Northville when it held its first varsity team last year as a member of the Western Six.

Sharing in the tradition-steeped weekend will be the Saturday battle between Bentley's Bulldogs and Salem's Rocks, with the latter gunning for their fifth victory in a row over the Livonians.

Coach Tom Moshimer's club started the string with a 25-0 triumph in 1970 and since has added 21-12, 25-22 and 18-15 decisions over the Bulldogs.

Salem, which now has won 11 of its last 13 games, is 3-0 for the current season with victories over Bloomfield Hills Andover, Trenton and Dearborn Edsel Ford. The last two were league triumphs and the Rocks are tied with Allen Park for first place in the Suburban Eight at 2-0.

Bentley is 1-1 in the league and 2-1 for the season with victories over Lamphere and Belleville, but losing to Edsel Ford. Two of the largest crowds of the local season are expected for the Friday-Saturday double bill.

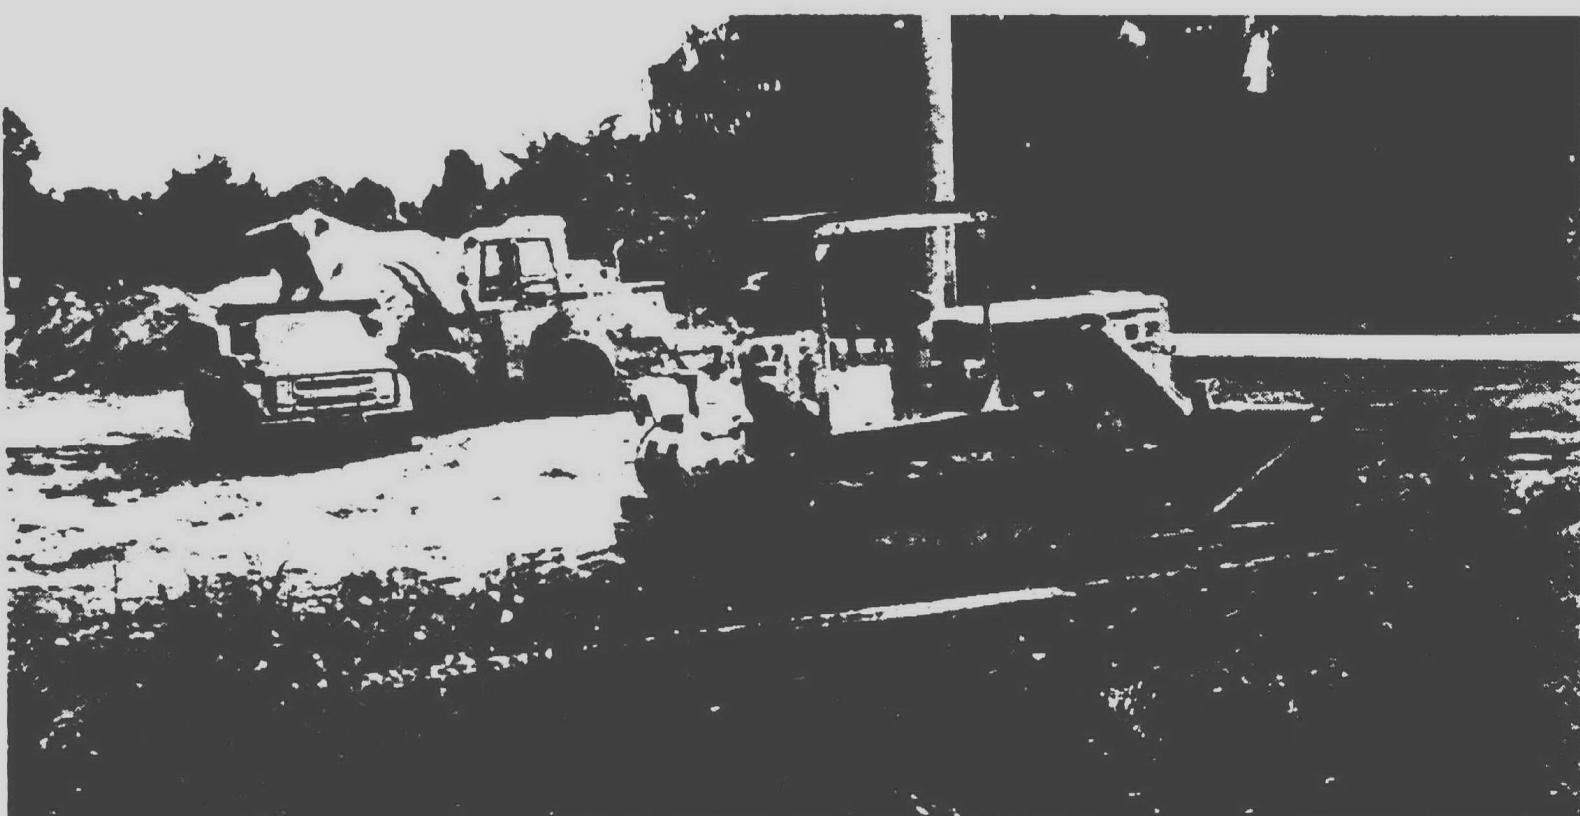

A PUBLIC HEARING Monday night on the loop road drew about 100 residents (top) to city hall to express their views on the system to the city commission and question planner Jay Eldridge on details of the project. According to Eldridge, the loop (above) would define the boundaries of the central business district and lure developers and shoppers by allowing easy access to proposed parking facilities. The dust flies

AFTER MONTHS OF INACTION the owners of L & D Texaco have begun to remove fill from the property adjacent to their station at the corner of Ridge and Ann Arbor Roads. Back in June the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees told L & D to remove some of the fill and re-grade the rest toward Ann Arbor Road. According to a neighbor, the height of the dirt at the back of the site remains unchanged, but L & D partner Lewis Hoffman said that more fill will probably be removed within the next few days. (Staff photo by Bob Woodring)

Police stress search for rock throwers

PLYMOUTH—Rock-throwing vandals, who broke windows in nine business places in Plymouth over the weekend, are subjects of an intensive search by police.

Plate glass windows were destroyed in some stores, while in two instances, cars were damaged in used car lots.

Earl Keim Realty, 1115 S. Main, lost a thermopane window and had flowers pulled out from in front of the building.

A rock was thrown through a four-by-five foot window of the Goodyear Tire Center at 7675 S. Main.

Two windows were broken in the J. H. Stevens Insurance office at 692 S. Main.

A 12-by-3 foot window at Heide's Flower Shop, 995 W. Ann Arbor Trail, was broken by a large rock.

A used car in the lot of City Auto Sales, 1250 S. Main, was damaged by vandals, police report.

At the Beglinger Body Shop, 798 Ann Arbor Rd., a rock was thrown through a 12-by-3 foot window and at Massey Cadillac, 684 W. Ann Arbor Rd., three used cars, parked in the lot, were damaged.

The George Smith Real Estate office at 702 S. Main, suffered a broken window as did Donald Bidwell Masonry Inc., 859 S. Main.

A resident at 489 Blunk reported to police a car had been driven over the curb in front of his house damaging four trash cans.

Police say in all instances rocks or stones were found inside or near the property damaged.

Booster decal sale to aid bandsmen for trip to Florida

PLYMOUTH—A community-wide sale of booster decals will be conducted Saturday, Oct. 5 by members of Plymouth's 180-piece high school marching band to help raise funds for their Florida trip in December.

The famed Plymouth band, directed by James R. Griffith, will participate in the Orange Bowl Parade at Miami on New Year's Eve and also has been invited to present a concert at Disney World. Two years ago the band made its first national television appearance marching in the Tournament of Roses Parade at Pasadena, Calif.

The band includes students of both Plymouth-Salem and Plymouth-Canton High Schools and many parents will aid in Saturday's decal sale as drivers. Harry McCourt of the parents group is sale chairman.

Bandsmen will be in full uniform as they go from door to door and have been given permission to conduct the fund-raising function by the governing bodies of the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township.

DECALS SUCH as this, calling attention to their upcoming participation in the Orange Bowl Parade, will be sold by Plymouth high school bandsmen in a one-day drive Saturday.

As an extra means of attracting attention to the sale, the high school stage band of 20 members will be touring the district, entertaining with their music from a flatbed truck.

Last weekend the band added to its many laurels when it was one of the featured attractions of the University of Michigan's annual Band Day.

Playing in front of 104,232 people, the second largest crowd in Michigan football history, the Plymouth band did itself proud in a special post-game solo performance after the Wolverines had conquered Navy, 52-0.

Plymouth's spectacular musicianship drew high praise, including that of two bands from the Netherlands who made the event an international affair for the first time. Plymouth also participated in the mass band show at half-time which featured more than 13,000 high school musicians from throughout the state.

Township chief gives tips for fire prevention week

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—With National Fire Prevention Week scheduled Oct. 6-12, Fire Chief James Gignac reminds residents of precautions to prevent home fires.

"Families should conduct fire drills and practice escape plans regularly," the chief said.

"Have and practice a family emergency exit. Make a floor plan of bedroom areas showing windows, doors, stairs and hall locations. Determine and mark alternate escape exits. If possible, all bedrooms should have two planned escape routes."

THE CHIEF advises sleeping with bedroom doors closed.

"When a fire is known to have started behind a closed door, if at all possible, do not open that door. Unvented fires tend to build up considerable pressure.

"If a fire is suspected behind a closed door, feel the knob and door for heat. If relatively cool, brace a foot against bottom of the door, hip against the side and one hand against the top of the door, then open slightly. If a rush of hot air is felt, slam and bolt the door immediately."

The chief advises designating an outside meeting place for all members of the family.

"It is extremely important that no one attempt to reenter a burning building to rescue someone."

TO MINIMIZE fire hazards around the house, Gignac urges residents to store materials properly, practice good housekeeping techniques by not cluttering the basement, attic, garage or workshop areas with combustible materials.

"Eliminate explosives and highly combustible materials from the house and do not overload electric circuits."

"To provide even greater protection, families should invest in an approved Underwriters Laboratories or Factory Mutual Smoke Detector that meets federal standards and National Fire Protection Association requirements."

Further information regarding such equipment may be obtained by contacting the fire department.

In observance of Fire Prevention Week, the Plymouth Township Fire

Department will hold open house each day. Persons are invited to inspect firefighting equipment and ask questions of firemen on duty. Gignac said.

Elizabeth Holmes takes trip down lane of memories

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, who is retiring as Plymouth Township treasurer after 21 years of service, took a leisurely stroll down memory lane for the benefit of the Plymouth Rotary Club last Friday noon.

Speaking at the regular weekly meeting she recalled the highlights of her career and smilingly confided: "They didn't even ask me if I thought I could do the job the morning I was appointed."

FOR MORE THAN two decades she has watched the township change its image and has lived through several unsuccessful attempts to have the area incorporated into the City of Plymouth Heights.

"I have been to more ground breakings for industry and buildings than most of you will ever experience in a life time and it sure has been a lot of fun."

Mrs. Holmes recalled that her appointment came in a moment of sorrow following the death of her husband, Zack Holmes, who was serving as township treasurer.

"At that time, Roy Lindsay was supervisor and I let him know that the fees being paid on the job would come in handy if I could get the appointment."

There was no salary connected with the position in those early days and remuneration was the fees collected on the tax money.

"Before I knew it, I was named and have been on the job ever since, and served on many other boards and charity organizations along the way.

AMONG HER listeners were Herald Hamill, township engineer, and former supervisor John J. McEwen, whom she described as loyal servants of the township who offered valuable assistance in solving the problems connected with the position.

One of the real highlights was the inauguration of the sewer and water department. She recalled that Hamill laid out the first section in the northeast area "When we had only 47 customers!" Now most of the township has both water and sewer service.

One of the bygone events that still causes her to smile was the day it was decided the system had grown to the point where it needed a manager.

"Alright," the officials told me. "You're it, and I have been serving in that capacity almost ever since."

While recalling her career Mrs. Holmes also answered the question being asked by many in the township — "Why is she quitting?"

"I always have said that when a person loses enthusiasm for a job that was the time to leave. I still enjoy every minute of my work, but after 21 years it does become a bit boring. So, I think it's time for some younger person filled with the enthusiasm I had at the start, to take over."

As a token of appreciation for her loyal service to the township and entire area, the Rotary Club presented her with an engraved certificate and, fittingly, the presentation was made by Hamill who helped her start the water and sewer department.

He has been in congress since 1961 and has become a national spokesman for environmental causes and has been active in congressional reform movements.

O'Leary Award contest opens

The second annual Morgan O'Leary Award for excellence in political reporting is now open to entries from all members of public print and broadcast media in Michigan. Deadline for entries in Nov. 1.

A $400 prize will be awarded for the best piece of journalism about politics or government.

THE AWARD is named for Morgan O'Leary, a well known journalist from Livonia who died in a 1971 airplane accident.

O'Leary served as public information officer for Livonia School District, and had been director of public relations for the Michigan Democratic State Central Committee and aide to Sander Levin during his first gubernatorial campaign.

Purpose of the award is to promote and recognize the highest professional standards in journalism about political processes.

JA visiting high schools

High school students interested in operating their own small-scale corporation should be on the lookout for Junior Achievement representatives who will begin recruiting at area high schools Oct. 14.

JA members meet one night each week from 7 to 9 at a center near their home. Contests and social events are held and local competition can lead to regional and national recognition.

There is no cost to the student for the JA program except for the $1 they pay to become stockholders in their own companies.

Judging and administration of the award are handled on a non-partisan basis by the University of Michigan journalism department.

PETER CLARKE, chairman of the U-M department of journalism, comments:

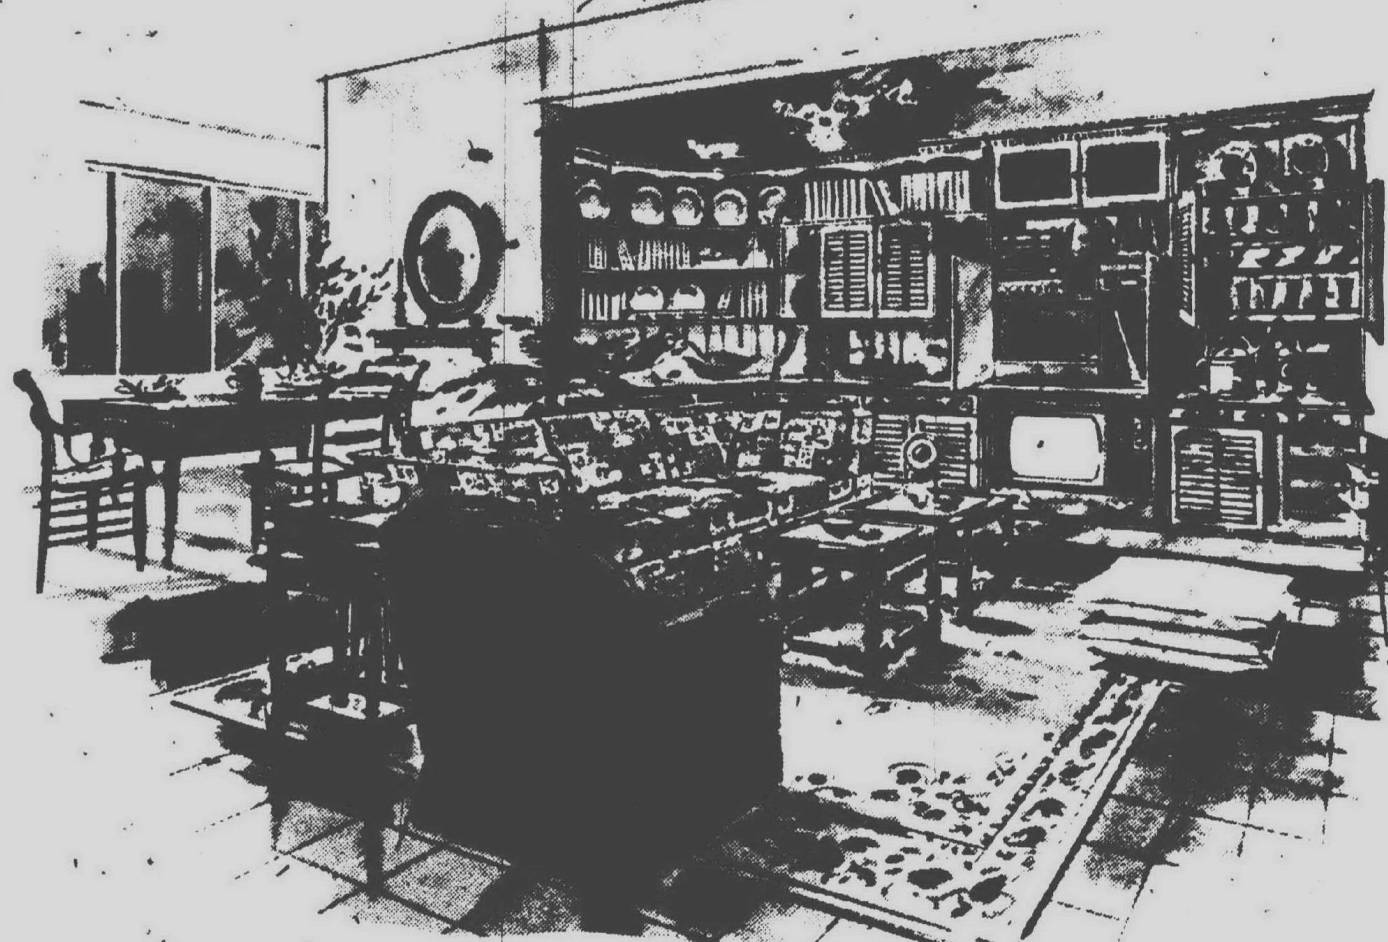

"O'Leary was widely regarded for his deep and ethical understanding of government and journalism, and we are pleased to recognize his accomplishments."

The winner of the award is expected to be available to the university's journalism faculty and students to "enhance the ideals of professional journalism about politics."

Entries — single stories or series published or aired between Sept. 1, 1973, and Aug. 31, 1974 — are encouraged that demonstrate unusual reporter initiative in obtaining information, or that are especially helpful to citizens in gaining broader understanding of governmental or political institutions.

Announcement of the recipient of the second annual award will be made in November, 1974.

Chilling news awaits antifreeze buyers

By BOB ERICKSON

Thinking of winterizing the family car? Has the cold weather started you talking about stopping by the local garage for antifreeze before the snow flies? Well, prepare for a shock—that trip could cost you as much as $40 this year, even if you do the work yourself.

The two gallons of antifreeze you might need to keep your engine from freezing this winter could cost as much as $10 per gallon, and the price is still going up. Some are predicting that antifreeze which cost $2 or $3 per gallon last fall could run as high as $15 per gallon this year.

A SURVEY OF local stores, garages and service stations shows the average price per gallon at about $7.25. Many places don't have any at all. Others say they won't be able to get any more when their current supply runs out.

In Westland's K-mart store at Wayne and Cherry Hill, one brand of antifreeze (Fisk) is available at $5.99 a gallon. At the Shell station at Wayne and Ford Roads, antifreeze is being sold for $7.75 a gallon—nearly double the $4 of last year.

In Garden City, at Mike's Sunoco service station at Ford and Inkster Roads, attendants say they will sell "anything we can get" for $7.49 a gallon. "We've only got 10 cases now," the station manager at Mike's said. "It costs us $7.10 a gallon—last year I sold it for $3.75." At the Garden City K-mart at Ford and Middle Belt, Fisk goes for $5.99 a gallon and Zerex is selling for $6.99.

In the Plymouth, K-mart sold Prestone at only $3.88 a gallon—but they don't have any left and don't know if they will be able to get any more at that price.

Mert's Standard in downtown Plymouth at Main and Ann Arbor Trail takes the honors for the highest priced antifreeze. It sells Atlas Perma-Frost Guard for $10 a gallon, and has only 10 cases left. A spokesman says they can't get any more.

B & F Auto Supply on Starkweather in Plymouth is selling Dupont at $6.95 a gallon, but say they are nearly out. They sold it for $3.10 last year.

IN LIVONIA, Bingham's Standard at Five Mile and Levan sells Atlas, which went for $3.95 last year for $7 a gallon. Al Barsanti Mobil, at Five and Merriman, sells Mobil Permazone for $7.50. Last year it sold for $4.50. Forest City at Middle Belt and Schoolcraft, sells Prestone and Zerex for $6.99, more than double the $2.99 of last year.

In Redford Township, Murray's Ace

Hardware is selling Prestone "and whatever else we can get" for $7 a gallon. Last year Murray's sold the same product for only $2 a gallon. At Coon Bros., Inc., at Plymouth at Telegraph, the parts department manager says that they won't sell what they have on hand "over-the-counter," but are reserving it at only $5.90 per gallon for their regular service customers.

"We can't sell it over-the-counter because we can't get that much," they say. That company would prefer to sell the American Motors brand, but can't get a supply.

To preferred customers, they offer Regent. Last year, American Motors antifreeze went for $2.39 a gallon.

THERE ARE multiple reasons for the high price this year.

The price of crude oil, from which antifreeze is manufactured, has skyrocketed, and shows no sign of slowing down. Ethylene Oxide, the main ingredient of antifreeze, is in alleged short supply because of heavy demand for it in the manufacture of synthetic textiles.

However, as during the shortage of gasoline and fuel oil last winter, there are those who suspect that the antifreeze shortage is contrived to bring the price up and allow the oil companies to gain more profits.

The fact that many antifreeze manufacturers still find it necessary to heavily advertise their products as the winter season approaches has caused some dealers to speculate that the "shortage" is not real.

In addition some believe that manufacturers are piling up profits this year against what they see as lean times in the future.

The 1975 cars will not require antifreeze annually. They are equipped with a permanent antifreeze.

If there is a shortage, it doesn't appear the auto makers are having any trouble getting it for their new cars, some observers noted.

WHETHER INDUSTRY claims that capacity for producing antifreeze is not keeping up with the demand are true or not, the consumer will still have to live with higher prices.

There are a few tips that may save some trouble and expense for car owners who have not yet mortgaged their house to winterize their car this year.

First, your car probably doesn't need new antifreeze every year. For most cars, the cooling system need only be drained and flushed of old water and coolant every two years.

If your radiator leaks or has an unusual amount of sludge or rust in the coolant, it may need changing and repair now.

Second, it may cost you more to have antifreeze installed than for you to buy it and put it in yourself. Anyone can do it.

If your radiator is full, and its coolant is clean, you may not need to replace your antifreeze or flush your cooling system.

You can have the coolant tested to see if it will withstand below-zero temperatures or test it yourself with a device you can get for a couple of bucks at most auto-supply stores or automotive departments of large stores.

If the coolant tests out -20 degrees or under, you're set for the winter. If not, uncup the radiator and unscrew the petcock on the bottom of your radiator, draining out some of the fluid and replacing it with antifreeze until it reaches the desired strength.

If you are going to drain and flush the entire system, let all of the fluid drain from the radiator. Replace the petcock and fill the radiator with clean water.

Replace the radiator cap, start your engine, turn on your heater and let the car warm up for 15 minutes.

Then shut the car off, take off the radiator cap and drain the radiator again. Repeat that process until the coolant is clean. There are also commercial flush products available

Plymouth 'Y' expands area for fall program

PLYMOUTH—The Plymouth "Y" is now spreading its base of activities.

With the start of the fall program the various events will be held in both Canton Township and Northville and the residents of both areas are being invited to join the activity.

Located on the second floor of the Youth Inc. building on Main Street, the "Y" has employed Miss Janet Luce as program director. She is planning a series of events far greater than those of past years.

The new program runs the gamut from classes for baby sitting to karate and judo, with such activities as classes in weaving and the training for Indian guides for good measure.

The new program will open with a

Guidorama set for Oct. 8, in Main Street Elementary School in Northville and will be followed by the same sort of program in the Allen School, 11100 Haggerty on Oct. 10 between 7 and 8:30 p. m.

In taking over the position as program director Miss Luce is planning activities that will be attractive to women and young people in the three areas.

One of the features will be the after-school classes for the students between the ages of 7 and 14. There also will be a special grade school program 3:30 to 5 p. m.

There also will be new programs entailing hiking and games along with work on the various crafts throughout the winter season.

They Offer Ultimate in Hair Fashion

The secret is being able to offer a fashionable hair style and at the same time promoting healthy hair. The congenial staff at the Franklin Simon Shop in the Westland Shopping Center has uncovered that secret. "We are promoting fashion and healthy hair," explains the staff, talented operators, who also echo the opinions of owners Louis

The Staff explains that "Hair has to have that same appearance, and the carefree movement comes from the soft fabrics that move with every little wisp or breeze." The Franklin Simon Shop people are adroit at promoting healthy hair and conditioning the hair to a high luster that gives that satin look and seems to reflect freedom.

and Josephine Schmidt, who have traveled extensively to lecture and also to gather information on the latest trends in clothing and hair styles. The Schmidts work hand in hand with clothing designers to bring back information for the benefit of their customers. The Franklin Simon Shop experts believe that the texture of the hair must take on the appearance of the fabrics of the styles that are currently popular. For example, shining, soft, natural carefree hairstyles best complement soft materials such as silk, nylon and velvets.

On these brisk autumn evenings when the high school football teams hold the attention of the students and their parents and the world seems to depend on whether a team wins or loses, it is most interesting to watch the attitude of the followers when the final whistle blows.

One doesn't have to ask which side won. The facial expressions tell their own story. The winners, for the most part, are jovial and a cheering lot while the ranks of the losers most often are sullen, almost to the point of being angry, and sometimes try to ease their disappointment with some sort of an alibi.

When this happens The Stroller can't help wishing that kindly, old Dad Butler, the famous former trainer of the athletic teams at the University of Detroit was back on the scene. Dad, who lived to be 91 years old, was not only a great coach and trainer but a great philosopher, too.

One of his favorite subjects — and he was a convincing speaker when talking to the young athletes — was that you had to learn how to lose.

New books in library

Garson Kanin's HOLLYWOOD is a witty, wise and dazzling panorama of this magical place with glimpses of stars, moviemakers, hopefuls and has-beens.

Richard Bach's GIFT OF WINGS shares the highlights of 15 years which contribute to an understanding of the joy and meaning flight has for him.

In Jacques-Yves Cousteau's DIVING COMPANIONS we enjoy the experiences with three colorful species of marine animals — sea lions, elephant seals and walruses.

THE LAST DOGFIGHT by Martin Caidin tells the story of war in the air and the courageous men who fought it through the inevitable meeting of an American and a Japanese pilot of matchless talents.

New also are the latest books by three well known authors: Jim Bishop's FDR'S LAST YEAR; Cornelius Ryan's A BRIDGE TOO FAR; and Hugh Schonfield's THE JESUS PARTY.

Fiction additions include John Creasey's DANGER FOR THE BARON, Elizabeth Ogilvie's IMAGE OF A LOVER and Catherine Gaskin's PROPERTY OF A GENTLEMAN.

Juvenile titles include SHAWN GOES TO SCHOOL by Petronella Breinburg, Shawn's first day at nursery school brings tears and a smile. DO BEARS HAVE MOTHERS TOO? by Aileen Fisher is a collection of short poems about baby animals illustrated by Eric Carle. In DREAMLAND LAKE by Richard Peck, the discovery of a dead man in the park is the first in a series of events that end the friendship of two boys.

New additions to the record collection include Vivaldi's FOUR SEASONS, Sibelius' FINLANDIA, THE WAGNER ALBUM, THE BIGGS BACH BOOK, Scott Joplin's PIANO RAGS, Elton John's GOODBYE-YELLOW BRICK ROAD, and THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT.

Band Enlists Pamela Powell

PLYMOUTH—Pamela Anne Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Powell of Plymouth, is a member of the University of Southern Mississippi, marching band.

The Pride of Mississippi, as the band is called, consists of 190 members and will be seen during the nationally televised Senior Bowl in Mobile, Ala., in January, 1975.

The Stroller Learning to lose

VICTORY IS FINE, he used to caution, but the real worth of a fellow comes to light when he loses — even against great odds.

"Remember, boys," he used to say, "the first thing is to learn how to win and how to act after victory. You take these things in stride—and just don't let success go to your head."

Then he'd smile and add: "And it is just as important to learn how to lose. When defeat comes — and no one goes through life without a few setbacks — you mustn't think that your world has come to an end. It hasn't."

"But there are some things that could make it brighter. The first lesson to learn when defeat comes is to vow that it won't happen again — that, perhaps, you'll be in better condition the next time and above all, don't hold a grudge against the fellow who beat you."

The one thing that old Dad preached, too, was not to be a bad loser. "Always give your conqueror credit," he'd say, "and vow that the next time you meet you'd be the winner."

"There's nothing worse than a bad loser," was one of his great bits of wisdom.

IN HIS DAY, Dad was what he termed a "foot-racer" and he wound up being recognized as one of the country's leading track coaches when his Oregon State Aggies dominated the college track world.

He also was a great trainer of fighters and at one time handled the famous Kid Lavigne, of Saginaw, whose name is emblazoned on the record books as Michigan's greatest fighter until Joe Louis came along.

But always he preached one thing — strive to win, but learn how to lose. Many of his former "boys" who entered the business world after leaving school profited by these words of advice. They learned to take the business setbacks in stride — always vowing to come back stronger than ever.

They profited by the lessons he taught on the fields of athletic strife, for no one could bring a team or a player to the peak in the heat of battle better than Old Dad.

If only there were a few more Dad Butlers around today. They would come in handy, especially when the day comes that the Michigan football team suffers a stunning setback.

On the Michigan campus winning isn't a matter of life and death — it is more important than that.

Old Dad would be a great counselor at a time like that.

May the memory of him always remain bright.

CBD has to develop his own parking at his own expense. Without the loop we will stifle much of the development and future hope of the City of Plymouth."

"I grew up in Garden City and I'm against that kind of town," said Karl Rutledge, of 649 S. Harvey. "I can see Plymouth turning into that kind of place and if the loop would bring a definite boundary to downtown I'm for it."

Earl West, co-owner of the former Hines Park Mercury building on Forest Street, cited his difficulties in finding a developer who is interested in the downtown location. "If you can, by virtue of the loop road give easy access to parking so that we can have more land utilized—if you've got a plan in mind and it includes the loop—let's get going," he said.

According to Eldridge, the CBD's current state equalized valuation for tax assessments totals $6.3 million, or 8.1 per cent of Plymouth's total tax base. With proper development, stimulated in part by the loop, he said that the CBD could increase in value until it might provide up to 20 per cent of the city's total SEV.

"Businesses have got to have some room," said Mayflower Hotel owner Ralph Lorenz. "I don't mean by bulldozing, but through normal expansion. You have to have new buildings. I don't want to see Mrs. Taylor or anybody else get hurt. I don't think anybody has to sell anything they don't want to. Nobody should grab anything from anybody."

"IT'S OBVIOUS that you're trying to stop urban blight," Fred Moon, of 835 Church, told the commission. "But for this expenditure and discomfort to citizens can you possibly stop downtown blight enough to make it worth it? Downtown blight is nationwide."

"If we don't do this our business will fail and we'll be moving to the townships," said realtor Joe Hudson. "This (the loop) does give us a downtown section. Business has to have a definite definition of the downtown district."

"The loop road is a modest improvement not causing too great a harm," said attorney Ed Draugelis, whose office is on Penniman Avenue. "I worked for a year and a half to bring development into the downtown area. The traffic pattern is abominable."

"We (property owners) have started to look at our buildings," he added. "We'd like the city commission to help us by sprucing up our traffic patterns."

"Business people are committing their funds," said John Harper of 499 N. Evergreen. "They're thinking of a positive future for Plymouth and that includes change."

Several residents asked Eldridge and the commission how the project would be financed. He listed such alternatives as the city's capital improvements fund, which will have about $485,000 to spend over the next five years, and a special assessment district that would tax those property owners benefiting most from the loop.

In their suggestions to the city commission of capital improvement priorities for the next five years, the planning commission ranked the loop road at the top of the list.

"I think this is a good plan. I've got my heart in it," said planning commissioner Keith Rappette. "I enjoy the central shopping center today. I'm for the loop because my family enjoys coming to this little village and shopping."

The overriding thing we're talking about is the need to have quality in the City of Plymouth," said realtor James McKeon. "The biggest advantage I see to the loop road is that it keeps us defined. It's imperative now that we have revenue-sharing money, that we go ahead with the loop."

"I think downtown's fine," said one resident. "I think we would lose a hell of a lot (with the loop)."

ANOTHER RESIDENT asked how the loop would affect merchants economically. "I don't think it's necessary to spend money to keep them in business," he said. "I don't think we should rush into something unless it will really do good. How will it bring revenue for us?"

"I'm surprised no businessman has stood up and said how close, how marginal, his business is," said Art Shepard of 505 Hartsough. "For seven years there has been apathy on the part of the city commission. Do it now or kill it."

Firemen set open House on Oct. 9-12

PLYMOUTH—Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6-12, will be observed with an open house at the Plymouth fire station.

Chief George Schoenneman said the public is invited to visit the fire station where equipment will be on display along with pamphlets and posters showing causes and preventions of fire and electric hazards.

"Tot Finder" stickers, for placing on the windows of children's rooms, will be distributed to persons desiring them, the chief said.

"Any groups interested in learning about mouth-to-mouth resuscitation may make arrangements with the fire department for instructions," the chief said.

Shepard noted that the loop should be approved as long as the commission decided to go ahead with malls on Penniman or Main that can tie in with loop-related parking.

While acknowledging that the loop road might be a good idea, realtor Soren Pederson urged the commission to keep in mind the need for an underpass at the railroad tracks on N. Main Street. "Access is fine," he said of improved parking with the loop, "but if we don't provide a means of getting over the railroad tracks we're going to have some problems."

"What is needed is a decision," said Jack Wilcox of 676 Penniman. "Previous city commissioners have made several changes that were contradictory. We should decide whether to work toward a loop or not. Don't be afraid, the unknown is always a terrifying thing."

"This is all blown out of proportion," said Calvin Atwood of 1211 Sheridan. "We're not talking about putting a massage parlor in an old folks' home. The biggest problem we're going to have here is attracting desirable businesses and keeping others we'll lose."

"If you're going to stay viable you have to make changes," Eldridge told opponents of the loop. "It's easy to say 'we'd like downtown to stay as it is,' but when it comes to a developer he has to have a good reason for coming in."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE President Fred Hill read the commission a resolution of the chamber's board of directors urging the city to move ahead with the loop.

"It's time the City of Plymouth takes positive action to implement the loop," he said. "We believe that the business community is ready to assist...the loop would provide a favorable sign to prospective developers. We urge this body to implement it as soon as possible."

"The decision is not whether to have a loop road or not," said Norman Dietrich, a Plymouth resident and Plymouth Township planner, "but when and how you implement it—keeping in mind the quality of downtown that we treasure. At the very least the loop already exists. It's just a matter of how fast we proceed with it. In time to come we will need that road."

"I don't understand why it's taking so long," concluded another resident. "It's such a simple plan. If you stop your work now it will be certain to be taken up again in a few years. The cost is $350,000 now—what will it be five years from now?"

Ford protests aid to Chile

U.S. Rep. William D. Ford (D-Taylor) has joined nearly 100 representatives of both political parties in notifying Secretary of State Henry Kissinger of their concern about American military and economic aid to nations ruled by repressive governments.

Ford, whose 15th District includes Westland, Garden City and Canton Township, gave formal notice in a joint letter that Congress's future support of foreign aid appropriations will depend on how recipient nations treat the basic human rights of their own people.

Although the letter didn't mention nations by name, Ford cited Chile and South Korea as examples of countries ruled by dictatorial and repressive governments.

Ford added that he and other co-signers have generally supported most foreign aid legislation in the past.

"American assistance to such regimes is a betrayal of both the American people and the people of those nations," declared Ford.

He said the observance of certain fundamental human rights by all nations is practical, "including freedom from torture, arbitrary arrest and detention, and arbitrary curtailment of existing political rights."

SC, WSU joining to use facilities being phased out for continuing education

A suggestion has been made that Schoolcraft College and Wayne State University jointly assume responsibility for continuing educational use of the facilities being phased out at the Wayne County Child Development Center in Northville.

That proposal has been made by Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote and WSU President George E. Gulien, Jr.

GULIEN SAID a jointly operated college facility would help meet the educational needs of rapidly growing northwest Wayne County.

He said such an agreement would permit students to take upper division courses in baccalaureate and advanced programs from Wayne State within their local area.

Grote said laboratory space available would also make possible the development of an area vocational skill center besides allowing Schoolcraft to expand its programs and services.

THE CHILD development center facilities include a junior-senior high school, a day school and 19 two-story brick buildings — most which are assessed as adaptable for lecture or laboratory use.

Recent discussions between Grote and Gulien led to the establishment of a joint study committee which prepared the preliminary proposal for common use of the center.

Under the proposal, use of the facilities at Sheldon and Five Mile would begin Jan. 1, 1975. The proposal is subject to approval by the governing boards of the institutions.

The college presidents said that with a favorable response by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, there would still be many steps needed to refine the proposal.

They also indicated the consortium would make facilities available to other compatible organizations and agencies — thereby creating a center for human and social services.

The SC-WSU idea is one of eight proposals for using the center. Proposals have been made by Northville School District, Northville Township and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, among others.

County commissioners have received the SC-WSU proposal and referred it to committee for study and recommendation.

The two colleges are currently cooperating in several areas, including a 2-plus-2 curriculum in engineering technology in which students complete the first two years of their work at Schoolcraft and the last two years at Wayne State.

The proposal is in response to a general communication the colleges received independently from the county commissioners last June, announcing availability of the facilities.

ADVANTAGES to the Schoolcraft-WSU consortium listed in the proposal were as follows:

Permit students to take courses in baccalaureate and advanced academic programs within their local area, near employment and residence;

Enable students who take courses through the consortium to obtain laboratory and clinical experience available to WSU students;

Provide financial boost to students — two years at Schoolcraft plus two years at Wayne State without excessive travel;

Improve articulation through cohesive counseling and interdepartmental planning facilitating smoother and more continuous student progression;

Accelerate the 2-plus-2 degree program development in critical career areas, such as electronics technology, manufacturing technology, medical technology, automotive technology, nursing and law enforcement;

Develop a comprehensive Lifelong Learning Center using resources from both colleges and providing increased opportunities for residents to select courses suitable for their personal growth and for job upgrading;

Avoid unnecessary duplication of sophisticated and expensive systems (such as computer time-sharing, educational television), and increase efficient use of materials and professional resources;

Enable cooperative external degree program development through coordinated and centralized criteria and procedures; Stimulate experimentation with new learning methodologies and instructional related service programs, such as a learning assist center, credit-by-examination, financial aid or diagnostic examinations; and, Permit cross utilization of available faculty resources.

Final bike day is Saturday

The fourth and final bike day of 1974 will be held Saturday, Oct. 5, along Edward Hines Drive from Ford Road to Newburgh.

Initiated at the request of State Rep. John Markes (D-Westland), the bike day events have drawn thousands of bicyclists from the area.

Saturday's event will be held in conjunction with the March of Dimes' "bike-a-thon," with bicyclists raising money by participating.

The Wayne County Road Commission, operators of the parkway system, will close off the 10-mile section to all motorized traffic from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Parking is available at local access points to the parkway.

SC Swim-a-thon to equip pool

"Everyone in the pool" will be the cry emanating from Schoolcraft College Oct. 11-13 when the school sponsors its Swim-a-thon in hope of raising $5,000 for an electronic timing device and donations to various swimming associations.

Beginning at 8 a.m. Oct. 11 and running for 48 continuous hours, the Swim-a-thon will play host to swimmers willing to stroke a maximum of 200 lengths (nearly three miles) in the 25-yard pool. Each athlete will solicit his own sponsor for an amount promised for each length completed.

Open to anyone in the college district, several groups have already expressed a willingness to join the swim marathon including Northville, Churchill, Clarenceville, Plymouth-Canton and Salem High School swim teams, the Stevenson High School girls' team, Our Lady of Mercy team, Catholic Central team and the Bulldog Aquatic Club which has pledged $1,000 to the cause.

Coaches with five or more swimmers in the Swim-a-thon will be guests of the college for its Fourth annual swimming clinic Oct. 26. And, if swimming as a team, the group will share in the money it has raised.

Patience, understanding ...

The temperament justice requires

What's a "judicial temperament"? To Judge Irwin H. Burdick, it starts with "a great deal of patience" but then it becomes a matter of specific skills in the administration of justice.

Burdick is a Detroit Common Pleas judge seeking one of five new Wayne County Circuit Court seats that to be filled Nov. 5. He campaigned recently in the suburbs in the company of Marvin Stempien, a local Democratic leader who is not bothered by Burdick's Republican background.

Burdick was appointed to the Common Pleas bench by Gov. George Romney; his brother Ben was a Republican leader, an original member of the Wayne State University board and is now a circuit judge, too. But about that judicial temperament.

"PEOPLE COMING into court are a little nervous. You've got to make them and the attorneys as relaxed as possible," says Irwin Burdick.

"If you pounce on an attorney every time he opens his mouth, you demean him. If he's nervous, he may make a mistake."

"A client hires the attorney because he has faith in him. You don't want to destroy that faith by demeaning an attorney."

Has he ever seen it happen? "Yeah," he answers.

"I like to call attorneys in (to chambers) to see if we can settle the case without going to trial. When I decide a case, I tell them how I arrived at the decision."

Making decisions promptly is important to Burdick. He tells of a case that was pending for four years that he handled in the absence of another judge. He got it resolved in a single day.

One of his personal heroes is the late President Harry Truman. Why? "Truman was decisive."

IRWIN H. BURDICK
Circuit Court hopeful

A DETROITER, Burdick sees "some practicality to having court in western Wayne County," a proposal favored by many suburban county commissioners whose constituents dislike the long haul to downtown Detroit for the most trivial legal proceedings.

Motions, preliminary hearings and other brief actions could be handled conveniently in a suburban office as well as in the City-County Building courtrooms, he believes. The register of deeds, too, could maintain a satellite office in the suburban area. Burdick said.

He's against splitting the Wayne County circuit into districts, either for electing judges or selecting juries.

Circuit courts are courts of general jurisdiction. They handle major civil cases, including divorce and equity (injunction) proceedings, and try criminal cases emanating from the suburbs. (Recorders court handles Detroit's criminal cases.)

"I'VE BEEN A practicing attorney 38 years, and there's not much I haven't seen," Burdick says.

He earned his law degree at WSU, served in the Army infantry in the Pacific during World War II, served on a hospital board and has been a PTA president.

He's proud of his "outstanding" rating from the Detroit Bar Association and his "preferred and well qualified" from Civic Searchlight, in his current quest for a bench promotion.

How does he view the rash of teachers' union strikes in the suburbs and the efforts of school boards to get injunctions?

"Teachers shouldn't strike, but what the hell do you do with a calcitrant school board?" he asks in return. Then answers: "See if you can get them to negotiate."

Burdick makes his decisions and then doesn't worry. "After I decide a case," he says, "I sleep well at night."

That's another element in the "judicial temperament."

County budget $29 million higher

An annual county budget which is $29 million higher than last year's has been recommended by the Wayne County Board of Auditors which attributed the increase to "the ever-increasing inflationary spiral."

The proposed budget has been submitted to the board of commissioners for its budget deliberations which will take up most of October.

Outlays totaling $303.3 million were recommended by the Auditors—an increase from appropriations totaling $274.2 million for the county fiscal year ending Nov. 30.

THE LARGEST single increase is a $12.6 million hike in the expense of general relief over this year's total cost of $68 million.

The county, however, will be reimbursed by the state for all but the first $13.5 million spent on general relief.

Although presenting a balanced budget, the Auditors warned of dark clouds on the financial horizon.

Richard T. Kelly, chairman of the three-member Board of Auditors, said the balance was achieved with help of $13.8 million in "non-recurring" revenue.

"This means steps will have to be taken next year to either raise more revenue or reduce expenditures."

THE ONE-TIME income which balanced the budget included $11.5 million in backlogged Medicare and Medicaid payments collected in the overhaul of financial operations which the board of commissioners ordered at Wayne County General Hospital.

The Auditors also noted the federal revenue sharing programs, expected to net the county $14.4 million next fiscal year, will expire in mid-1976 unless renewed or extended by congress. This would drastically curtail county operations, they claimed.

The Auditors recommended almost $600,000 be spent to continue the Wayne County Organized Crime Task Force, but appeared to question its effectiveness in its budget message to commissioners.

THE MESSAGE states: "The Board of Wayne County Auditors urges that the board of commissioners give close scrutiny to the organized crime task force program to make a determination whether demonstrable results warrant continuation of financing at the present level."

The task force was the most controversial matter during budget discussions a year ago, Kelly said.

Besides the welfare hike, budget increases include $9.7 million for cost-of-living payments and other benefits to employees and a $4.9 million increase in the present payroll of $92 million.

The recommended budget includes about $1.3 million to provide salaries and staff for five additional circuit judges and two more juvenile court judges who will take office Jan. 1. Two assistant prosecutors will also be added as a result of the court expansion.

The commissioners were advised to increase rates at Wayne County General Hospital as Auditors believe present charges are below costs.

Jill Price weds John Maciejewski

Jill Leslie Price and John Paul Maciejewski were united in marriage in a recent ceremony in St. Edith Catholic Church of Livonia with the Rev. Robert Schaden officiating.

Parents of the bride and bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Leland R. Price of Sunset Avenue, Plymouth, and Mrs. Genevieve Maciejewski of Iowa Avenue, Livonia, escorted the couple to the altar, and during the ceremony each mother received a rose. The bridegroom also is the son of the late Alexander Maciejewski.

The bride wore a gown of orange sherbet luteson and lace and a matching picture hat. She carried a cascade of orange roses, white mums and ivy.

Her attendants wore apple green dresses and bands of white mums in their hair. Their crescent bouquets were of mums and ivy.

Mrs. Shirlee Brieschke of Livonia was matron of honor. Jean Tyler of Northville was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Jan Price, sister of the bride, Telody McClendon of Plymouth, Collette Wyte of Ypsilanti and Beth Ann Epscamp of Ann Arbor.

The bridegroom was attended by David Lampe of Ypsilanti as best man and as ushers Andrew Price, brother of the bride, Daniel Gelb of Vincennes, Ind., cousin of the bride, Shelby Fox of Ypsilanti, Laurence Epscamp and Dennis Maier of Ann Arbor and Robert Day of Dearborn.

The couple greeted guests at a reception in the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth and went to Mackinac Island for their honeymoon. They are living in Ann Arbor.

The new Mrs. Maciejewski, a 1971 graduate of Plymouth High School, is a senior at Eastern Michigan University and a member of Pi Sigma Alpha, national botanical science honor society. Her husband graduated from Franklin High School in 1966 and earned a degree in art education from EMU in 1971. He is co-owner and manager of Different Approach Galleries in Farmington.

Petlicke-Most vows in Nativity

In a recent double-ring ceremony in Nativity United Church of Christ in Livonia, Kathy Jean Most and Nicholas G. Petlicke were united in marriage.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Most of Westfield Avenue, Livonia, and Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas K. Petlick of Algonquin Avenue, Westland. The Rev. Paul Koones heard their vows.

The bride, given by her father in marriage, wore a full-length white lace dress and carried assorted flowers in a round arrangement.

Her attendants were Mrs. Diana L. Harris of Plymouth, matron of honor, Suzanne Garrison of Detroit, Lisa Bates of Phoenix, Ariz., bridesmaids, and Julie Bates of Phoenix and Rebecca Lyle of Ypsilanti, flower girls. They wore flowered dresses in green and yellow, and the flower girls wore white pinafores.

Randy Hebron of Westland was best man and the guests were seated by Van Stockwell and Jerry Sparks, both of Westland.

The couple greeted guests at their reception at the Bonnie Brook Country Club before leaving on a camping trip to Canada. They are living in Westland.

The new Mrs. Petlicke graduated from Madonna College and teaches in Plymouth. Her husband, a Schoolcraft College graduate, works for Auto Collision Repair.

THE GARDENER is Mrs. Charles Schultz of Redford Township; the blooms from the yard of Otto Mehringer of Livonia. (Staff photos by Bob Woodring)

Fall's show ready--if winter holds off

By ANITA CRONE

There are times when flower growers do everything right. They water, weed, fertilize and have beautiful plants, just beginning to open.

And then, like this year, all the work is ebbd away by early frosts and freezes.

"I asked that they take my name off the list of tours this year," said

Mrs. Charles Schultz of Redford Township. "I knew that we would have a dry year, and I wouldn't have the time to water the mums like I should."

"And this early frost just about finished my gardening for this year."

Mrs. Schultz is a member of the Greater-Detroit Chrysanthemum Society, and each year some society members open their mum gardens for public tours.

THIS YEAR'S TOUR will be Sunday, Oct. 6 from 2 until 5 p.m. The gardens at the Schultz home, located at 16252 Ryland, south of Six Mile and east of Inkster, will be included in those being opened free for public viewing.

Two Livonia chrysanthemum gardens also included in the displays are those of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mehringer, 30441 Boynedale, east of Merriman and south of Five Mile, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Slesak, 33451 Rayburn, north of Five Mile and west of Farmington Road.

IT WAS AT THE SUGGESTION of a chrysanthemum-enthusiast friend that Mrs. Schultz both joined the Detroit Mum Society and agreed to put her garden on display—with distinction during several summers.

Mrs. Schultz has won certificates for having the best yard in the tour in 1967 and 1968, and even received a silver cup from the society for one of her flowers.

Although there are 12 different classifications of mums, Mrs. Schultz has more than 125 different varieties and colors growing in her garden.

"The mum is my favorite flower because it is hardy and easy to take care of."

THE MUM IS not only easy to take care of, but it is relatively inexpensive—especially if the amateur gardener takes advantage of the society's cutting sale.

Each year, usually in early or mid March, society members sell mum cuttings to each other and members of the public.

The mum grows from cuttings of existing plants, rather than from bulbs.

The cuttings usually sell for $1 or $1.50. After the cuttings are bought, they are put in a root solution and eventually planted in the outside garden.

"I usually put out the plants in July," Mrs. Schultz said. "This prevents the plant from getting too high."

No matter what height the plant reaches, it blooms at the same time each year. Even if there is a frost, the cold only kills the blossoms which have started to bloom, and not the entire plant.

"I WOULDN'T have known about cutting back the plant if I hadn't gone to a meeting of the mum society," Mrs. Schultz admitted.

"My daughter was in the hospital and received a potted mum as a gift. I planted it outside, without cutting it back or pinching the buds. Was I surprised when the beautiful, large flowers that had been on the plant, came up the next year as little blooms which climbed up the side."

OTTO MEHRINGER will also be showing his mum beds to the public Sunday.

Mehringer has two mum beds—one of forced plants and a second bed of regular garden variety mums.

"If I didn't force my plants, they wouldn't bloom naturally until November or December. And by then in Michigan, the frost would kill the plants."

Mehringer merely "looks after his plants" and generally lets them take care of themselves.

He said he was always growing plants as a child and became particularly interested in mums after attending a mum show on the east side of Detroit.

MEHRINGER NOW has 75 plants growing in his two beds.

Although he has been growing mums seriously for only six years, Mehringer has exhibited his flowers in mum shows and has won various awards for his flowers.

He has grown an incurve mum which was 10 inches in diameter.

"Everything was right that year. There was enough sun, the proper amount of rain, and luckily I had built up the beds enough to give the flower proper drainage so the roots didn't rot."

Although Mehringer said he didn't spend a lot of time tending his beds, his wife disagreed.

"He's out there watering, weeding, spraying and generally spending a lot of time with his mums," Mrs. Mehringer said.

HE INSISTS mums are one of the easiest flowers to grow from an amateur gardeners standpoint.

"Mums should be planted relatively late to avoid a tall stem. But no matter when the plants are put in the ground, the bud will not form until the days are shorter than the nights."

Mehringer also cautioned the amateur gardener about regular spraying to keep insects away from the plants. He suggested a regular spraying schedule of once every two weeks.

Despite the dry summer and frost worries, the Mehringer and Schultz gardens are thriving and blooming.

They should afford a good show Sunday for those who love fall's brilliant blooms.

m.m.memos

"I spent half an hour after my geometry class arguing about the intelligence of gorillas," reported our new high school student when I telephoned home.

"We were talking about whether it was an instinctive reaction or deductive reasoning that made the gorilla use a stick to go after the banana that was out of reach."

"I thought it was reason, and my teacher said it was instinct, so I said his gorilla was stupid and then he was calling it a she and I had to defend women's lib."

I HAD CALLED from work to suggest that the pork chops be started cooking for supper because I was sticking around a bit later than I had planned.

I managed to get the message through between the geometry and the gorillas, and then suddenly our junior high student was on the telephone.

She had news of a trip her class was taking to Niagara Falls and she listed the problems with picking a date and detailed who was going and then reported that she broke her locket and fixed it and it broke again and now it was the locket that was stupid instead of the gorilla.

IT SEEMS A LONG TIME AGO that I worried about losing touch with happenings of the day when I became a working mother.

With the telephone at hand, it has never happened.

Most work days I can count on calls about when am I going to be home and what are we having for supper.

And along the way there are reports of what happened in what class and who said what on the way home and who beat who in band challenges and what was eaten for lunch and how things went in the after-school activities or work or the paper route.

THERE USED TO BE more refereeing requests than there are now. Home disputes seem to get settled better below top level management.

When the calls come on deadline, I sometimes find myself staunching the flow of news. They weren't through, they say, but they get of the phone.

And though news from the home front can sometimes be a bit hard to work around, I hope it keeps coming to my desk for a long time.

Keeps me feeling useful as a mother.

Lifeliners are widening circle

BY MARGARET MILLER

A dozen women who have been throwing a "life line" to other women—those sentenced to spend the rest of their lives in prison—are seeking to widen their circle of help and friendship.

They would like to extend the work to the "long-termers" of the Detroit House of Correction, women who will be there five to 25 years.

But to do that, say Mrs. Priscilla de Stigter, Mrs. Thelma Ruckhaber of Livonia and Mrs. Luana Wakenhut of Plymouth, more volunteers will be needed.

And that is the reason for the training program scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 5, in the Pilgrim United Church of Christ, 36075 W. Seven Mile, Livonia. The sessions will run for four Saturdays.

THE TRAINING PROGRAM is sponsored by the Livonia and Plymouth branches of the American Association of University Women, who have been cooperating on a successful program called "Lifeliners."

It's a plan for regular visitation and a one-to-one offer of caring and friendship to the 10 or 12 women who are under life sentence in DeHoCo.

All involved, said Mrs. de Stigter, have felt the Lifeliner venture of great value.

"But we keep thinking about those other women there," added Mrs. Ruckhaber, "those who have years to serve. A lot of attention is given to the women who soon will be back in society after short sentences, but what of those with years ahead of them."

"Five years is an awful lot in that place."

THE TRAINING SESSION plan is to begin with an introductory program, in which all women who might be interested may learn what is involved and ask questions before making a commitment.

There will be a couple of later sessions to outline the way the Lifeliner program proceeded, and, said Mrs. de Stigter, "hopefully the final session will be at DeHoCo."

Then, if there is enough interest, a second training session will be offered, the women said. "There is so much need for outside contacts for these women, we want a lot of volunteers to expand the program," they added.

THE FIRST AAUW members who began visiting lifers at DeHoCo over a year ago "learned the hard way," the two women reported.

Thelma Ruckhaber wrote of her experiences in New Horizons, a pamphlet published by Michigan Volunteers in Correction.

The project represented "a dream" on the part of a staff member at the institution, she reported, and word got to the AAUW women.

"So we began," she wrote. "We attended no workshops or orientation programs, had done no research on the area of prisons, and never had been face to face with a criminal of any sort, let alone a woman convicted of murder."

"We were unsure of ourselves, equally unsure of our reception, and, to be honest, kind of scared."

MRS. RUCKHABER reported the project began with a craft program "for want of a better tool," but the AAUW women soon realized some of the prisoners were not comfortable with that sort of thing but "still were

Workshop offers colonial look

Colonial arrangements of dried flowers will play a role in helping restore the colonial era gardens at Livonia's Quaker Acres.

The Federated Garden Club of Livonia is offering an Oct. 24 workshop for women interested in making dried colonial arrangements for use in their homes.

The funds thus raised will be contributed to the club's civic project, bringing new life to the gardens on the property surrounding the historic building on Seven Mile west of Farmington Road.

Mrs. Edward Trembath, a member of the club who is well versed in many kinds of flower arranging, will conduct the workshop.

Women who participate in the event from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 24 in St. Matthew United Methodist Church, 30900 Six Mile, will take away an arrangement of dried flowers set in a burlap sack base.

The cost for the workshop is $7.50, which includes a kit with all the materials as well as the instruction by Mrs. Trembath. Reservations are limited and should be made by Oct. 12 with Mrs. Glenn Knight, 35548 Bennett, or Mrs. Jack Wion, 35797 Brookview.

Margaret Trembath, a member of the garden club for three years, has been growing and arranging flowers most of her life.

Growing up in the south, she watched both her mother and sister work with flowers and began developing her own ideas.

"I used to grow more flowers than I do now," she said. "Recently I've decided to concentrate on the arrangements, because that's the part I enjoy the most."

Mrs. Trembath collects all sorts of unusual materials for her arrangements—some things like magnolia leaves and various pods are sent by her sister in the south—and she particularly likes the seeds and pods she can find in the woods.

"I rarely used a standard container for my arrangements," she said. "I'd much rather work with a pod or a piece of driftwood or a dried section of lichen."

Fall ball set by Girl Scouts

Mrs. Albert Guzik of Westland and a 27-member committee of senior and cadette girl scouts are coordinating the planning of the annual fall ball to take place the weekend of Oct. 4-6 at the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council Camp Linden in Livingston County.

More than 600 teen-age girl scouts from Washtenaw, Livingston and western Wayne and northern Monroe counties will attend this event designed to provide the opportunity for a discussion of activities for the coming year.

In addition, the program will include square dancing, taffy pulls and a hike to a cider mill.

Scout-decorated cake makes fitting tribute

BY SHERRY KAHAN

Girlish whispers, giggles and shrieks indicated that something was up in the room in Emerson Junior High School in Livonia, where the Girl Scouts of Cadette troop 620 meet regularly.

The lady who had several years ago turned members of this troop into expert cake decorators was about to be surprised on the occasion of her 25th wedding anniversary. Members of her troop—had baked and decorated—a cake, of course.

But Willadene Zedan was not the only one about to be surprised. Her husband, Joseph, who is leader of this troop, was also in for some unexpected fun.

WHEN THE SHOUTS of "Surprise!" were over, Mrs. Zedan had but a few moments to examine the cake before it was totally demolished by hungry scouts.

"It was a really beautiful cake," said Mrs. Zedan, who knows a beautiful cake when she sees one. Two years ago, through her efforts, troop members became so skilled in baking and decorating cakes that the troop earned enough money to take all the members to Savannah, Ga., the birthplace of Juliette Low, Girl Scout founder.

"I was really pleased with them," she added.

HER HUSBAND, who has been leader of this troop for two years, was equally pleased. Previous to working with this troop, he was in charge of a Boy Scout troop, whose members were less inclined toward cake decorating.

A few years ago Zedan placed his troop in the hands of his son, Daniel, a member of the U.S. Coast Guard stationed in Detroit. Not wishing to leave scouting, he became leader of the troop his wife had been working with for four years. She is co-leader.

"He felt he could be of use," said Mrs. Zedan. "He has a lot to offer girls program wise. He can also counsel them with their problems. A man's influence can often be accepted where a woman's might be rejected."

Zedan conducted a swimming course last year and processed about 42 Girl Scouts through it. He is a Red Cross instructor.

THE TROOP also seems to have been on more camping trips and outings than the Marine Corps on a busy year.

They had canoe training on Proud Lake. They went on a bike hike from Livonia to the Pinckney Recreation area and back.

They also took a trip to northern Michigan that took them around the thumb, to Mackinac Island, to the Soo locks and back. The girls planned their own food for the trip during which they camped out each night in state parks.

ONE OF THEIR MOST challenging ventures was an early American weekend last November in the Girl Scout camp, Camp Mettamora. Prior to their departure the girls made their own candles, soap, quilts and bread.

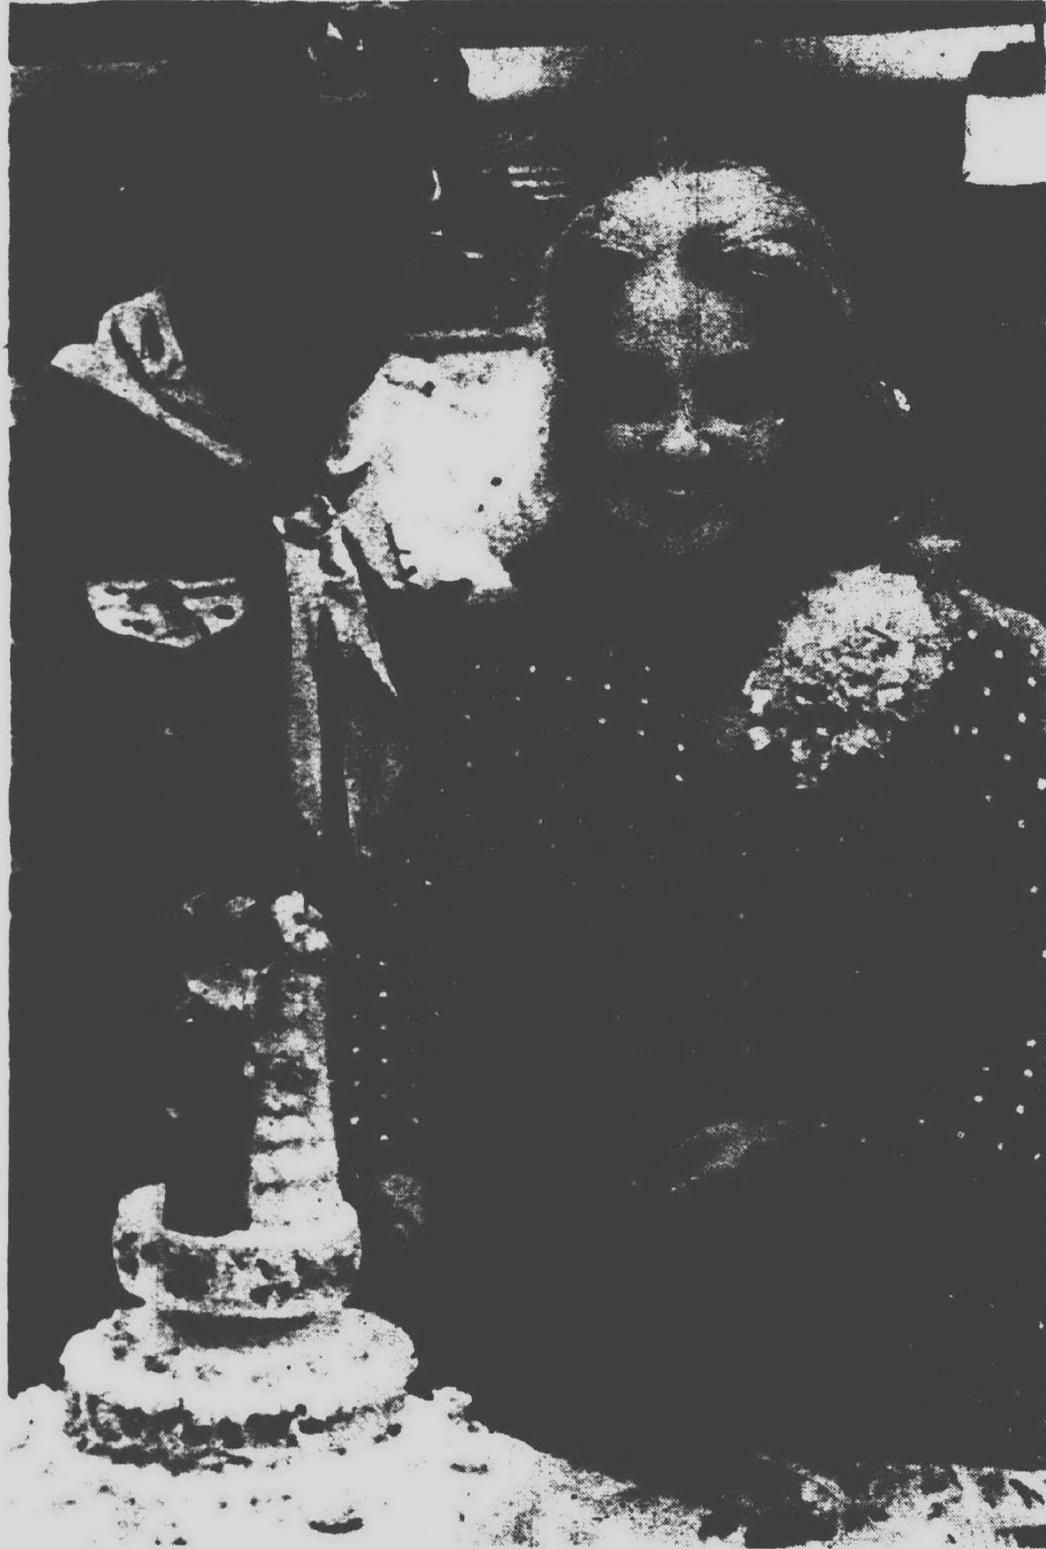

Living in a barn on the campground, they slept in a hay loft and cooked their food in the fireplace. They made their own strawberry, apple and grape jelly, their own apple pies and their own venison pies (from donated venison.) "These girls can pitch a tent blindfolded in 18 minutes," said Mrs. Zedan, who summed up what these activities did for the scouts.

"It teaches them their own capabilities," she said. "It gives them self confidence. They know when they finish one of our trips what they can and can't do. They also know areas where they need self-improvement."

Mrs. Zedan, whose interest was turned to scouting by her children, added that she would like to stick with scouting.

"They'll probably bury me in a Girl Scout uniform," she said.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH ZEDAN cut the cake baked and decorated for them by the girl scouts in the troop they lead. Chief bakers decorators were Diane Dallas, Joan Bergeron, Beatrice Grech-Cumbo and Nina Rucker.

eager for our companionship."

The craft work gave way, she recounted, to meetings and visits and parties with the prisoners, and a seeking of greater knowledge on the part of the visiting women.

"After much discussion and soul-searching," she wrote, "These were the goals decided upon—to show these women in prison that someone cares and to establish a relationship of mutual trust; to promote growth on the part of the inmate and help her see herself in a realistic way; to provide resource people as speakers on subjects of interest to the women; to help, if possible, in terms of clothing, family problems and assistance when release is secured."

THE LIFELINERS, Mrs. Ruckhaber related, learned their new friends in prison were largely uneducated and poor and most of them had been convicted of crimes of passion.

"But despite the variety of their crimes, they are women, like us, and human beings worthy of our concern," she added.

The program for the lifers has involved speakers, tutoring, Christmas presents for the children of women incarcerated, help with clothing, and letters to legislators to speed plans for a new state prison for women, scheduled to be built near Ypsilanti.

The training sessions will be led by Mrs. de Stigter, 3804 Cindy, Livonia, and Mrs. Wakenhut, 229 Ann, Plymouth. Either can answer questions if contacted by telephone.

2 congregations join in offering Lutheran day school

Students from two Lutheran parishes, St. Matthew in Westland and St. Michael in Wayne, now are attending school together in St. Matthew, 5885 Venoy, Westland.

The two congregations recently endorsed an inter-parish day school agreement under which about 30 children from the Wayne church are furnished facilities for Christian education by the parish in Westland.

The St. Michael children were on hand as classes in the St. Matthew school opened two weeks ago. Total enrollment now is 146 for grades one through eight.

In addition, St. Michael is supplying one member of the teaching staff, Nancy Hemler. Called to teach the fifth and sixth grade class, Miss Hem-ler will also serve St. Michael in other educational activities.

She is a graduate of Concordia Teachers College in River Forest, Ill., and taught in a Lutheran school in Texas before coming here.

The move to merge an educational program for the two parishes has been in the works for about a year. Plans were worked out by the Rev. Ralph Fischer of St. Matthew and the Rev. Alan Braun of St. Michael, and the hope is that this will help establish a closer relationship between the parishes.

Working closely with them was Harold Klein, St. Matthew director of education and principal and teacher at the day school.

Other faculty members are Ray Heinert, Linda Jehle and Carolyn Bauer.

Area singers to join in 3 musicals

Thirty-five residents of this area will join in the presentation of three musicals in the First Church of the Nazarene in Detroit from Oct. 5 to 13.

Thurlo Spurr, nationally-known choir director, will lead the music for "Love," a work by Otis Skillings; "Jesus Is Coming," by John Peterson, and "Alleluia," by Bill and Gloria Gai-ther. "Love" is scheduled Saturday, Oct. 5 at 7 and 8:45 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 6 at 2:30 p.m.

Performances of the Peterson work are planned Wednesday, Oct. 9 at 7 and 8:45 p.m. and Thursday, Oct. 10 at 7 p.m.

The concert series will conclude with performances of "Alleluia" Saturday, Oct. 12 at 7 and 8:45 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 13, at 2:30 p.m.

The music for all musicals will be presented by a 130-voice interdenominational concert choir with symphonic brass and strings and Shirley Balmer at the Steinway piano.

There is no admission charge for any of the performances, but tickets should be reserved. Call the church, 18751 Fenkell.

Sukkoth holiday

MRS. SOLOMON GOLDFARB of Livonia serves meals in a Sukkoth hut in her backyard to mark the holidays this week, honoring the Jews who wandered in the wilderness, dwelling in huts. Her children, Steven and Gail, helped to decorate the structure with Indian corn, gourds and paper chains. (Staff photo by Bob Woodring)

MT. HOPE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, 30330 Schoolcraft, Livonia, will present its second annual auction Saturday, Oct. 5 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Viewing of the items to be sold under a tent by auctioneer Ray Ignash will begin at 9 a.m. Among the donations are Mason jars, sets of new ties, bedroom and dining room sets, small appliances, antiques including a Civil War sword, and a 1929 Chevrolet sedan.

Carl Ufferman of Livonia is chairman of the event, and his committee includes Mary Willis, Mrs. Curtis Congdon and Mrs. Irving Rich of Livonia, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eyearitt of Garden City, Mrs. Cindy Kelly of Westland and Mrs. George Hebb and Don Antonevich of Detroit.

UNITED ASSEMBLY OF GOD, 42021 E. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, will begin a week of evangelistic services with Bob and Elizabeth Abbott of Little Falls, Minn., on Sunday, Oct. 6, at 7:30 p.m.

The services, continuing the same hour Tuesday through Friday, will present charismatic renewal and personal experiences and will include a 15-minute feature for children by Mrs. Abbott, who is known as the "Story Lady."

The couple has spent 26 years in the evangelistic and radio ministry of Assembly of God churches.

WARD UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, 17000 Farmington Road, Livonia, will host a children's rally with Diane Bragg of Belleville on Saturday, Oct. 5, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The program will feature Bible stories, felt and acrylic paint illustrations by Mrs. Bragg, and a time of singing and craft work. Lunch will be served.

Parents who plan to bring their children should make reservations with Mrs. Philip Wolfe, 16215 Fairlane, Livonia.

REDFORD BAPTIST CHURCH, 25295 Grand River, Redford Township, will present Mike Whorf and the Max Davey Singers in a musical program Sunday, Oct. 6 at 6 p.m.

The program has been titled by Whorf, well known for his "Kaleidoscope" radio program: "There is nothing like a good, old-fashioned hymn."

Some of the hymns will be presented by Max Davey and his singing group and the congregation will join in others.

AUGSBURG LUTHERAN CHURCH, 24901 W. Chicago, Redford Township, will present its organist, Tod Gresick, in a program of music for the pipe organ Sunday, Oct. 6 at 7 p.m.

Gresick, a University of Michigan music student, will offer works of Bach, Marcel DuPre, Jehan Alain and Louis Vierne.

After the concert the church's chancel choir will host a reception in the fellowship hall.

Bethel Baptist finds home, launches bond campaign

Bethel Baptist Temple, organized earlier this year in Redford Township, has moved into the Livonia church building located at 29475 W. Six Mile.

The congregation that has been meeting in the Keeler School under the leadership of the Rev. H. L. Petty will complete financing of its new home through a bonding program.

The building, originally Hope Evangelical United Brethren more recently housed "a catering service."

Rev. Petty said the congregation had a total income of $28,848.50 for the first seven months of the year and would be able to put more than half of that into "our moving and expansion program" along with issuing $190,000 worth of bonds.

"WE'RE THANKFUL that the Lord has seen fit to provide us with a building that's made to order," Rev. Petty said, "and we're anxious to serve the spiritual needs of the people in the community."

He added that the school rented from the Redford Union school district provided "good facilities," but said "we were growing in membership and anxious to have a place of our own."

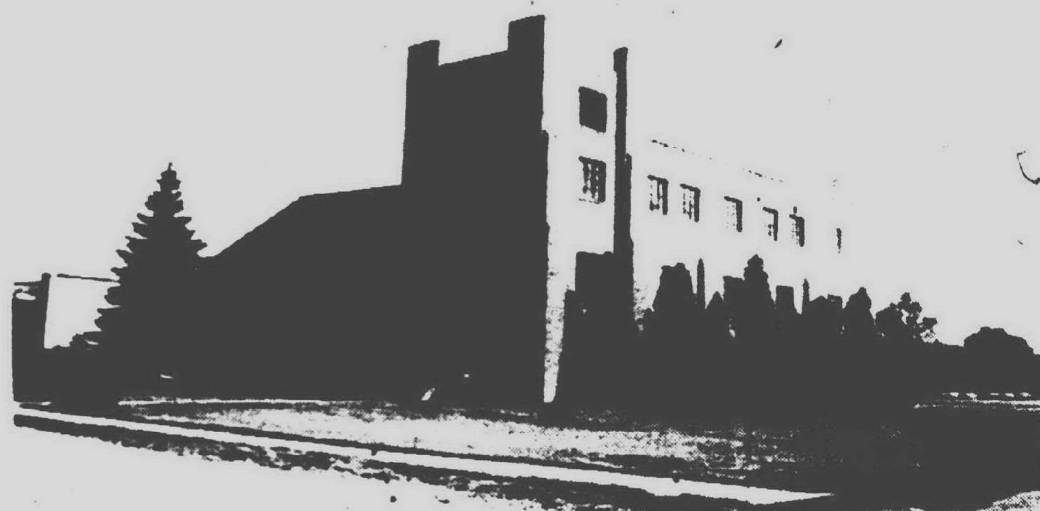

The Hope congregation, original occupant of the building, merged more than a decade ago with Livonia Methodist Church to form St. Matthew United Methodist Church of Livonia.

Citizens for Life set convention

Michigan Citizens for Life, a member of the national Right to Life Committee and state organization that includes a number of pro-life groups, will hold its annual convention Oct. 4 to 6 in the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel in Detroit.

Speakers include Wayne County Circuit Judge James Ryan, a Redford Township resident who will give the keynote address, and the Rev. Robert Holbrook of Halettsville, Texas, founder of Baptists for Life.

The delegates also will hear Dr. Sylvia Lack of London, speaking on the concept of caring for the terminally

THIS LIVONIA SANCTUARY is the new home of Bethel Baptist Temple.

Livonia Jewish Congregation now is located at 31840 W. Seven Mile.

BETHEL BAPTIST, incorporating early in the year, had its attendance averaging 120 after a few months and now is regularly over 200 with a large number of children also attending the Sunday School.

The church recently acquired a bus, which is used for youth programs and well as church school.

The congregation plans to refurbish the 350-seat sanctuary and make full use for adult fellowship meetings of the huge kitchen, enlarged and equipped while the building housed the catering service.

THE BONDING PROGRAM will be handled by Ambassador Church Finance of Brentwood, Tenn., a firm licensed in Michigan. Bonds will be issued in denominations of $250, $500 and $1,000, Rev. Petty said.

The pastor said the congregation's insurance firm had estimated the value of the new church home at $400,000.

Rev. Petty, who makes his home with his wife, Patricia, and his daughter, Sherry, on Lasher Avenue, Detroit, was assistant pastor at Fundamental Baptist Church in Detroit when he came to this area in February to found Bethel Baptist.

The church program now includes Sunday School each week at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m., Sunday evening worship at 7 p.m. and Wednesday prayer and Bible study meetings at 7:30 p.m.

There are nursery and toddler facilities for worship times and a youth program each Saturday evening.

One of the charter members of the church is the Rev. Lewey Hanner, founder and retired pastor of Fundamental Baptist Temple. He saw that Detroit congregation grow in 27 years from a handful of members meeting in an American Legion Hall in 1947 to some 2,000 members.

'Alleluia' at Ward

"Alleluia," a musical by Bill and Gloria Gaither, will be presented in Ward United Presbyterian Church, 17000 Farmington Road, on Sunday, Oct. 6 at 7 p.m.

The music, which has become well known through many performances in churches and schools throughout the nation in recent years, will be sung by a group of 35 church musicians, accompanied by a 23-piece orchestra.

Vern Seibert of Livonia, a member of Ward Church, will direct the performance. There will be no admission and no tickets are necessary.

The musical score includes "Let's Just Praise the Lord," "The Longer I Serve Him the Sweeter He Grows," "Something Beautiful" and the title song.

Ward's 9:30 and 11 a.m. services Sunday will welcome the church's senior pastor, Dr. Bartlett L. Hess, back to the pulpit after a tour of the Middle East with his wife, Margaret.

Dr. Hess, who visited Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Israel, will speak on the subject "Have We Lost Faith Globally?"

World Wide Communion will be observed at both services.

Bat mitzvah

Linda Mae Turnauer recently became bat mitzvah during services at the Livonia Jewish Congregation, 31840 W. Seven Mile.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Turnauer of Parklane, Livonia.

Tim Richard writes

The audience at Schoolcraft College last week consisted of two dozen townsfolk (like myself) and students—all fairly intelligent and most fairly well informed on public issues.

Yet after two hours of Channel 56 television presentations and an hour of our own discussion, we all had unanswered questions about the $1.1 billion "balanced transportation" bond issue that will be Proposition D on the Nov. 5 ballot.

You can understand why. People in 20 airport service areas, 21 port areas, a dozen railroad service points, and many dozens of cities on bus and rapid transit routes had had a hand in putting the state plan together. The southeastern Michigan element alone has been literally years in the planning process. While the $1.1 billion figure is only the state portion of a $6.25 billion program, there is a multitude of other types of financing involved, including federal and local shares. The complexities boggle the mind.

YET THE OVERRIDING impression one had to draw was that Michigan must begin somewhere in developing a total transportation system, including rapid transit, buses, rails, airports and shipping ports—and even bike paths—to round out the auto and truck system that will always be our transportation backbone.

Two or three million persons will go to the polls Nov. 5, and probably only a handful will be able to answer most of the questions. Yet a general obligation bond issue of this sort must be submitted to the entire electorate, whether they fully comprehend it or not. That's democracy. I only hope a majority will have faith enough to say, "Let's vote yes and get to work on it."

Southeastern Michigan's seven counties have roughly half the state's population and would get 49.2 per cent of the bond funds.

That amount—$540 million—would be the state's 10 per cent share of the total $5.4 billion southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority program. Another $540 million would have to be raised in this region, and the federal government would be the source of $4.32 million (80 per cent).

That $5.4 billion would go a long way—perhaps all the way—toward implementing the 1990 rapid transit program mapped out on this page.

THERE ARE, very frankly, some unsolved problems.

The state can budget its share from the general fund without raising taxes as existing bond issues are paid off, but let's face it: We in the southeastern Michigan region will have to come up with some matching funds.

The SEMTA program will pay for steel and brick, but let's be realistic: The fare box won't cover all the operating costs, and an operating subsidy is probable.

Republican Gov. William Milliken is pushing this thing, but so is Democratic challenger Sander Levin. If those two guys can agree, then the rest of us ought to have a little faith.

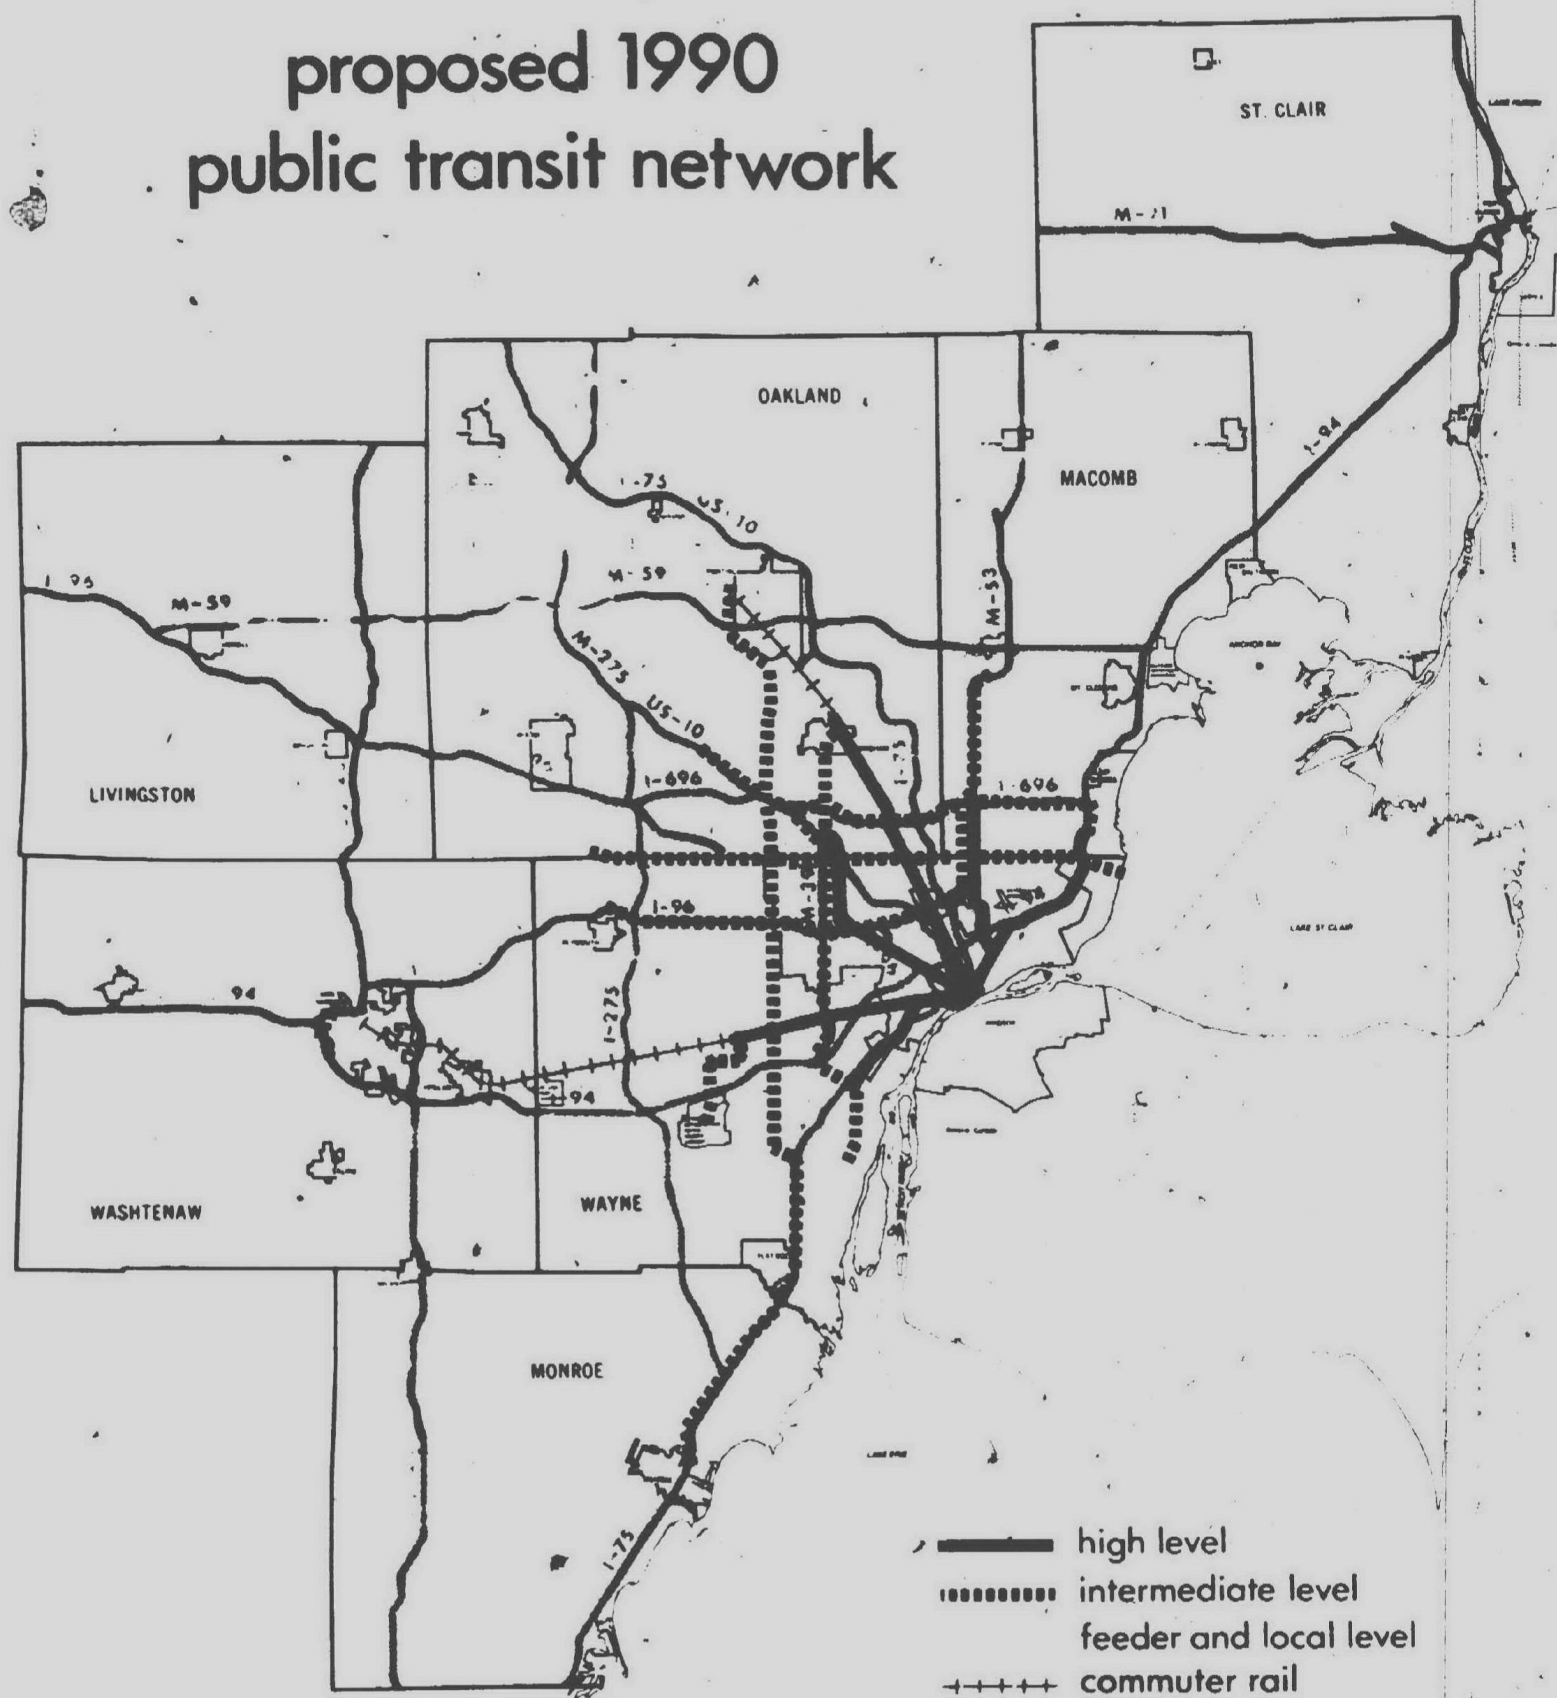

SOME DETROITERS will snarl that this benefits the suburbs, and some suburbanites will crab that it will just help Detroit. The truth is that there is as much in-commuting as out-commuting.

muting; the benefits will balance nicely. Truthfully, not everyone will use a rapid transit system, and I for one am a little disappointed that western Wayne County doesn't figure more prominently in the plans. Yet it would be wrong to say that only the users benefit. A mass transit system can move enough people at a cheaper price per mile than the auto. So we'll ALL benefit from less fuel consumption, less air pollution, less traffic congestion that we'd have with a 100 per cent automobile "system."

My own tight-fisted, conservative streak stiffens at the thought of subsidizing the system once it's operating. Yet homespun philosophy says it's better to teach a man to fish than to buy him a fish dinner, and it would be better to spend $2 on transit systems to help a guy get to a job, a student to an isolated community college campus or a pensioner to a doctor's office than to spend a dollar on welfare.

Even if questions remain, we need to get on with this "balanced transportation" business.

proposed 1990 public transit network

THIS IS THE Southeast Michigan Council of Government's proposed 1990 bus-rail transit plan. It is the basis of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority's plans. This, es-entially, would be what the region would get from the proposed state $1.1 billion bond issue.

Thoughts on Newspaper Week

Many chances for self-expression

There's a big flap these days about "access to the media." This translates to: How easy is it for you to have your ideas disseminated to your fellow citizens through your local newspaper, radio or television station, or other on-going news medium?

What better time to discuss this subject than a few days in advance of the annual Newspaper Week celebration from Oct. 6-12?

And Saturday, Oct. 12 is the biggest day of the entire celebration, the day when newspaper readers everywhere pay tribute to the carriers who deliver the papers regardless of the weather conditions. Oct. 12 has officially been designated as Newspaper Carrier Day, the climax of the week and the day when the newspaper industry pays homage to the thousands of carriers boys.

These are the ones who make it possible for you to read the morning daily at the breakfast table and the evening daily after.

They also are the ones that give you prompt delivery of your Observer & Eccentric editions and provide you with the latest doings in your community. That's why we'll doff our hats to not only the carrier boys and girls in the Observer & Eccentric circulation areas but to all carriers across the entire United States.

THAT'S WHY on the eve of Newspaper Week we write of those who insist you should have a governmentally guaranteed right to get your thoughts into print or on the air.

At the risk of seeming to over simplify, how about a governmentally guaranteed right to have a picnic? That is, just as every American should have an opportunity to communicate his or her ideas, certainly we all should have an opportunity to picnic when we want to. And we can, without government having formalized this "right".

You might not be able to find a picnic table available for your use just when and where you'd prefer. But if you look around, you can usually locate one that's empty.

The same is true of the media. There are lots of ways to express yourself in the established media, and if they're all filled at the moment, you can always use some other means of getting your message out—from a bumper sticker to using the mails.

You can write a letter to the editor. If you avoid libel and people and don't lace your arguments with false information, the chances are very good your letter will be printed.

You can go to a public meeting, make a statement and expect your comments to be reported. You can buy an ad. You can buy billboard space or put up a sign in your front yard. If you picket, you'll probably be interviewed and maybe even photographed.

There are many ways you can express yourself, not the least of which is to start your own newspaper (not recommended but we'll defend to the death your right to do it.)

If government attempted to guarantee your access to either the picnic table of your choice or the news medium of your choice, consider the chaos. It isn't necessary, or feasible, or even desirable.

How Congress hikes prices

Since inflation hasn't gone away, this week I will make one more pass at its causes.

Last week, we saw how the deficit spending of the federal government over the last eight years has been the primary cause of inflation because government had to borrow money to pay for its indiscretions which, in fact, creates new money.

This week I would like to look at the impact on prices of legislation by Congress—which has nothing to do with federal spending. The new laws have caused increased costs to industry, and the costs are obviously passed on to the consumer.

TO DETROITERS the most obvious are the new regulations concerning safety and pollution. From 1972 on General Motors has had to add $200 per vehicle for equipment, principally as a result of the government safety and emission standards. Increases of from $100 to $160 appeared on the price tags of the 1975 models—for the emission control systems alone.

In addition, industry is spending 3 percent to 10 percent of its new investment to comply with the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

Control of air pollution will cost $10 billion a year over the next 10 years.

Control of water pollution will cost $6 billion a year over the next 10 years.

Federal regulations on noise abatement in factories and offices will cost $31 billion over the next 10 years.

Immense increases in social security benefits have added to the price pressures.

New and higher benefits for the unemployed

Observation Point

by PHILIP H. POWER

Curb inflation and make jobs

Dear President:

You have invited the American people to send you their suggestions on how to stop inflation.

Last weekend's economic summit conference, although criticized as a public relations event, was very useful in this process, since it presented to both you and the people an enormously wide range of policy options and special pleadings. In the aftermath, and after a number of conversations with businessmen and labor leaders and ordinary folks in these suburbs, the following 10-point plan may have some interest.

1) CUT GOVERNMENT spending to reduce overall excess demand in the economy. Remember, however, that even a $5 billion cut from a $305 billion budget represents only a 0.3 per cent reduction in the total $1.3 trillion U. S. economy; reduced government spending cannot do the job alone.

2) Reduced demand in the economy will lead to increasing unemployment, which ought to be accepted as a necessary though undesirable cost in fighting inflation.

3) Develop a broad-based, government financed program of public service jobs for the unemployed. There is a mammoth amount of useful work to be done in conservation, public works and just plain cleaning up the mess in our country that can provide satisfying work for people presently demeaned by welfare programs and elaborate give-aways.

4) The burdens of fighting inflation should not be born disproportionately by those least able to afford them. Hence, pass a tax cut for the poor and the old living on fixed incomes. In addition, extend tax relief to ordinary working families, as the first step in a national incomes policy and to moderate catch-up wage demands which threaten to give the inflationary spiral yet another shove.

5) TO PAY FOR (3) and (4) above, impose an additional tax on gasoline. This tax would also serve to reduce our demand for oil, thus putting pressure on the Arab producing cartel to lower prices.

6) Reduce the price of goods by increasing their supply and by reducing their per unit labor cost. This can be done by a program of incentives to business to make increased investment in new, more productive, plants and equipment. A program of tax credits or accelerated write-offs for new plants and equipment would help.

7) To help provide capital for such investment through improvement in stock market conditions and to rescue the depressed housing and savings and loan industries, relax the present tight monetary policy. Beware, however, of relaxing it too suddenly or too much.

8) As another step to generate capital for investment and further to reduce customer demand, develop a program of incentives for ordinary folks to save their money instead of borrowing yet more.

9) ELIMINATE the countless government-imposed restrictions to the resource-allocating processes of the free market. For example, remove import quotas on meat which only serve to keep the price up, and abolish or heavily amend the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has served to eliminate competition in the trucking industry and thereby increase freight prices.

10) Begin a program designed in the long run to bring highly concentrated, non-competitive industries (both corporations and labor unions) back into the stream of supply and demand forces in a free economy. For example, the market concentration of the auto industry makes it possible for it to increase enormously the prices of 1975 model year cars, at a time when demand for these cars is very low.

That, Mr. President, is my own public program for fighting inflation. I hope it sparks further suggestions from others.

Sincerely yours,
PHILIP H. POWER

Eccentricities

by HANK HOGAN

will also have an inflationary impact on prices.

U.S. Senator William Proxmire, in a recent speech, said that Congress must start weighing the inflationary impact of new laws to make certain they do not "destroy our economy".

Citing billions of dollars in consumer costs resulting from new laws, the Wisconsin Democrat called for cost benefit studies of new social and regulatory legislation to establish the ultimate cost to the consumer.

"The Congress should then face the issue squarely," he added, "and decide whether the nation can afford the costs in terms of inflation."

WE ALL KNOW that we must meet our social responsibilities, but in many cases the meeting of our social responsibilities is causing inflation, which is most harmful to those people we supposedly are helping with benefits.

We know that we must do something about our environment so that we don't some day strangle in our beds from polluted air. Yet, we must weigh whether we have to do it all at once and kill our economy while we are saving our environment.

County executive stand is praised

EDITOR:

I wish to thank you for your very fine editorial of Sept. 3 explaining the need for reorganization of Wayne County government. I also commend the editorial for its accuracy in describing how "politics" denied the people of Wayne County the right to express themselves at the polls on the question of a county executive in November.

Wayne County is the third most populous county in the nation. Its antiquated form of government is badly in need of reform. Everyone knows cities have mayors or managers, states have governors, and at the federal level a president. Who is the equivalent for the county? Answer: No one.

Wayne County is administered by 27 elected commissioners, nine other elected officials, clerk, register of deeds, treasurer, drain commissioner, prosecuting attorney, sheriff, a three-member board of auditors and numerous appointed boards and commissions. Many of the latter — such as the Wayne County Road Commission — exercise considerable autonomy.

Consequently, this conglomeration of elected and appointed officials provides little accountability to the people. The buck can be, and is, passed. There is no place where it must stop.

In discussing UAW opposition to placing the question of a county executive for Wayne County on the ballot in a Sept. 14 letter, Bard Young did not mention one very significant fact: The UAW, in conjunction with the Oakland County Democrats, supported this proposal in Oakland County.

At the August primary, the people of Oakland County voted to have an elected county executive. They will select the person to fill this position in the November general election.

The state legislation which permitted Oakland County citizens to first decide whether or not to have a county executive — and, if so, to choose between the elected county mayor or appointed county manager — is the same for both counties.

LAURA CARTER CALLOW, Livonia

Follow flag or leave U.S.

EDITOR:

I for one think the article of Aug. 29 by Hank Hogan the best on amnesty I have read yet. However, I would go farther to say that I can understand a man running from battle better than I can one running from the draft. Any man can get scared in battle.

Of Emory Daniels' article of Sept. 5, I could not disagree more, and I am in no way defending the Vietnam war as it was.

First: Why does the Selective Service Act adopted by Congress to draft men for wars duly declared apply to the Vietnam war more than to other wars? The cry used to be, "Yes, but for World War II they bombed Pearl Harbor." Well, I was drafted 11 months before Pearl Harbor or a declaration of war, and the camps all over the country were full of draftees before a declared war and from 1945 until the draft ended.

Second: How could "amnesty without strings" not set a precedent? It seems Mr. Daniels and a lot of other people are crying for amnesty far louder and ahead of a bonus for those who went or maybe they feel these guys don't deserve a bonus.

Third: As for immoral and illegal acts, civilians killed, etc., war is war and hell, but Vietnam had anti-war press coverage that the other wars did not.

If our flag isn't worth following, then our country shouldn't be worth living in.

No unconditional or Peace Corps-type amnesty.

DAVID S. INGALL, Plymouth

A teacher's ink boils

EDITOR:

I, too, would like to reply to the thoughts you have on teacher strikes. R.T. Thompson's editorial was enough to boil the ink in this pen, causing this rebuttal.

First, he states that teachers do not lose money during a strike. He is wrong. A teacher does not get paid during this time. Yes, he knows that eventually he will collect his salary. I believe this is true of anyone on strike.

However, he does have to borrow during this time. I know of no banking establishment loaning money interest free. This strike usually comes in September. After a summer of not being paid, few teachers would have enough to tide them over this hump.

Second, Mr. Thompson states that going to school brings extra money to teachers. He is obviously not aware that 24 hours of post-grad work are required in order for a teacher to retain the job.

True, a teacher might be paid for this. Yet it takes several years of teaching to regain the money spent on post-grad education.

The third issue on which I am concerned is his narrow-mindedness of judging all teachers by a couple who showed their emotions instead of calmly taking all the verbal abuse thrown our way almost daily.

Most teachers know that the public (compliments of the news media) misunderstand them. It is simply not fair to judge us by a couple of teachers and then wield your opinion powerfully through the newspaper.

Finally, I must mention the fact that youngsters who have to be in school beyond the normal school year due to a strike are miserable. They take out their feelings on each teacher, even though that teacher might have voted not to strike. It is just short of real torture to be surrounded by these hateful youngsters daily.

I am not on strike this year. I have, been, and believe me, everyone (not just students and parents) loses during a teachers strike.

'Tedious, dull ramblings'

EDITOR:

The tedious ramblings of W.W. Edgar, detailing the trivia of the past, are at worst dull. However, I must question the use of Observer & Eccentric space by the uninformed Edgar to comment upon serious economic issues.

When this man lived a goodly number of his years within the bosom of Citizen lobbyist to speak Oct. 3

R. Michael Cole, Washington lobbyist for Common Cause, will speak on "Campaign Issues 1974" Thursday, Oct. 3, at 8 p.m. in council chambers of Ann Arbor City Hall.

The talk is sponsored by the local Common Cause chapter, 2nd Congressional District, which includes Livonia and Plymouth. It is free and open to the public.

Cole, a registered lobbyist on the Common Cause legislative staff, specializes in campaign finance legislation. He joined the national citizens' lobby in 1971 serving on the voting rights project.

the automotive industry, is it possible that he has not noticed the economic power of the strike? How could it escape Edgar's attention that labor unions have successfully raised their relative economic positions step by step throughout the years since the passage of the Wagner Act in 1935? And that this has been accomplished fairly often by resort to strikes?

True it is that the strike is not the best weapon for organized teachers. But the reason lies in the nature of the activity involved. Boards of education do not stand in danger of loss of profits through loss of production. Conversely, teachers do not face loss of income in the long run due to the 180-day rule.

These economic facts that pressure both industry and labor to settle do not apply to education. Clearly, the strike is not an appropriate tool for teachers, but not because strikes are a generally ineffective way of achieving economic gains, as Edgar stated.

New and creative state legislation is badly needed to facilitate collective bargaining in the public sector, legislation that would enable public employees and the boards that employ them to sit down at the negotiating table as equals, legislation that would force both sides to reach agreement before contract expiration date, legislation that would eliminate the impasse that leads to strikes, closed schools, threats, mass firings, court injunctions, an angry and frustrated community, idle students, etc.

There are evening courses in basic economics and economic history available at our local university and college campuses, in some of which Mr. Edgar, as a senior citizen, may enroll at reduced tuition rates. May I suggest that he acquire some background in these subjects if he plans to continue to attempt serious commentary?

Remarks which he has based on his own limited personal experience, while perhaps once suitable for chats at the drug store, are inadequate for a top-notch suburban newspaper such as the Observer & Eccentric.

Justine Morrill: 48 years he served America

By SUE ROSIEK

After being educated at the large "mega-universities" Dr. Randal Hoyer, history professor at Madonna College, likes educating at the small college level.

Hoyer's beginning his fifth year at Madonna, which has a student population of about 1,500, a sharp contrast to the schools Hoyer has attended. He received a BA from Marquette University in Milwaukee and an MA from Michigan State University.

"I enjoy the small campus atmosphere. It's a challenge."

BESIDES HISTORY Hoyer teaches political science and economics but admits his first choice is history. Hoyer recently received his PhD in history from MSU and was honored as one of the outstanding young men of America for 1974 by the U.S. Jaycees.

Hoyer's dissertation examined the political career of Justin S. Morrill, "father of the land grant act."

Morrill's career was long, interesting and productive, and provided Hoyer with a unique topic of study.

"I was looking for an idea that hadn't been done before," Morrill's papers were available on microfilm at MSU and were virtually untouched."

MORRILL, a Vermont merchant who made his fortune at 38, served one of the longest tenures in Congress.

"He completed 12 terms in the House of Representatives but died before finishing his sixth term in the Senate," states Hoyer. "Nearly 48 years in political life."

Hoyer's thesis dealt primarily with Morrill's accomplishments as a congressman, including his land grant legislation which has set a precedent of federal aid to education.

The act provided grants to state colleges in which the leading subject related to agriculture and mechanic arts—without ignoring the classical studies.

"He was speaking for the common man who wanted a practical education. Morrill, never received much formal education. He completed about six or seven grades. He was, however, a voracious reader."

Morrill's concept of land grant, explains Hoyer, is still in effect today but has expanded. "County extensions are examples of land grant."

BESIDES EDUCATION Morrill is noted for his financial legislation and beautification efforts in Washington.

Morrill made an influential contribution to landscaping of the capital grounds, the Washington monument and construction of the Library of Congress. He was responsible for the bill that purchased the land on which the Supreme Court was built.

Morrill died at 88 (1810-1898) and Hoyer's study only covered his 24 years as a representative, yet it filled nearly 250 pages.

Hoyer is hoping to get parts of his study published in educational journals and also plans to incorporate his information in his classes.

Hoyer, a native Chicagoan, came to Michigan nine years ago. He and his wife, Linda, also a teacher, now live in Westland.

DR. RANDAL HOYER

Futurist at Schoolcraft

With 1984 just around the corner, Schoolcraft College has invited futurist Dr. Victor Ferkiss to conduct a free, informal seminar at 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 10, in Waterman Campus Center.

As a part of Futures Week, Oct. 7-11, Ferkiss' lecture will touch upon changes in our civilization between now and the year 2000, including differences in diet transportation, the political system and society. Ferkiss is the author of "Technological Man The Future of Technological Civilization."

Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. Those attending are asked to use the north parking lot nearest Seven Mile Road.

Advisors check fire program at Madonna

The fire protection and occupational safety program at Madonna College in Livonia came under close scrutiny of the program's advisory committee recently.

The advisors, who checked into faculty development and curriculum planning for students enrolled in the program, include representatives from industry and municipalities plus state agencies.

Attending a recent dinner meeting on campus were: John J. Ahern, General Motors; Phil K. Alber, executive secretary, Michigan Fire Fighters Training Council; Gunar Berglund, Ford Motor Company; Livonia Fire Chief John Bunk; and Bob Daugherty, Marsh-McLennan Agency.

Also: Chief James Fyfe, Detroit Fire Department Training Academy; John M. Harris, Harris Associates; Rudolph Kleimert, Livonia director of public safety; William Sheppard, Factory Insurance Association; Harold Hahn, safety education and training division, State of Michigan; Neil McCallum, Chrysler Corporation; Bill Mudas, Mudas and Mudas Agency; Westland Fire Chief Ralph Savini; and Claude Shepard, Alexander and Alexander.

Representing Madonna: were Sister M. Danatha, president; Sister M. Lauriana, dean; Sister M. Francilene, administrative assistant; and Arthur Lenaghan, coordinator of the program. Madonna's program is the only one in Michigan which grants a BS degree.

Face spirited Glenn Friday

Franklin grididders crush Oak Park

FRANKLIN'S DAN QUINN Pounds Out 161 Yards Against Oak Park

BY TOM DONOGHUE
Sports Editor

On most Saturday afternoons, a 47-7 victory on the gridiron, would produce the biggest of smiles from the winning coaching staff.

Such was not the plight on the Franklin field.

George Lovich's Northwest Suburban defending champions walked over winless Oak Park, 47-7, and this was not the sort of contest Lovich needed or wanted at this stage into the schedule.

"A game like this doesn't help us at all," commented Lovich whose 3-0 Patriots meet John Glenn tomorrow (Friday) and Garden City East next week. "It was a sloppy game just full of mistakes."

"But you have to hand it to Oak Park. They have only 18 kids on the roster after that riot and they played ball all the way."

Franklin now has to go up against 1-1 John Glenn that all but outscored a favored North Farmington team last week.

"Glenn looked awfully tough against North. A couple of breaks and they could have won easy," added Lovich whose Patriots have never lost to a John Glenn team. "I would have to say that Glenn looks bigger than us."

"These next two games are going to tell our story for '74."

"Lloyd Carr has Glenn going and look at the way they handled Church-

The Observer & Eccentric SPORTS

Thursday, October 3, 1974

ill the week before. This one will boil down to who makes the fewer number of mistakes."

Franklin has beaten down Glenn 10 straight times and handed the Rockers three shutouts in that span.

"I would have to say that this is Glenn's best team ever. They are tougher this season than when they tied us for the league title back in '67. We both had 4-1 records, we beat them 26-6 but they upset North Farmington."

"It's obvious that we will have to stop their big gun Shoemaker, but they have a fullback that could be a sleeper."

The Redskins of Oak Park had been trampled in their opener, 26-0, and then had their Ferndale contest cancelled due to a school riot.

The 18 man crew was no match for Franklin which piled up 294 yards on the ground. Franklin came up with 10 first downs and Oak Park had four.

Oak Park was held to 43 yards on the ground.

Dan Quinn was the Patriot story as he totaled 161 yards in 14 carries, scored three touchdowns and now stands with 332 yards gained in three games, five touchdowns, six conversions and one field-goal for 39 points.

The Patriot aerial game saw just one pass completed in six attempts with Jo Jo Scarpace hitting Darrell Gunter for 13 yards.

Lovich cleared his bench early and went through his three quarterbacks Paul Downs, Larry Urban and Scarpace.

Franklin came up with 14 points in the first quarter, 12 in the second and 21 in the last 12 minutes while Oak Park tallied for seven in the second.

The Patriots kicked off to open things and after a Redskin punt, took over on their 45. Quinn wasted no time as he sped off tackle for 55 yards on the first play, converted and it stood at 7-0.

Three plays later, Jim Casey intercepted an Oak Park pass on their 40 and nine plays later, Quinn carried it in from 14 yards away and converted to make it 14-0 after one quarter.

With just five seconds elapsed in the second, Oak Park punted and Franklin took over on its 35. Again on the first play, Quinn broke loose off tackle - this time for 65 yards and another six.

A Franklin fumble set up Oak Park's solo score with the Redskins taking over on the Patriot 26. In four plays Oak Park moved it in with Ron Sabbag taking it in from two yards out and Lee Sied converting to slice it to 20-7.

An Oak Park fake punt set up the next Franklin score with Tim Hollandsworth intercepting a pass and spurting 66 yards to paydirt. The conversion again missed and it was 26-7 at the half.

After exchanging the ball three times to start the second half, Franklin started a drive from its own 25 and Jim Casey capped an 11 play march with a nine-yard burst.

Franklin's foreign exchange student from Mexico Raul Martinez made good the point-after to up it to 33-7.

John Genrich set up the sixth score by blocking a Redskin punt and the ball going out of bounds on the Oak Park one. Bruce Ward plunged in on the second play, Martinez converted but the Patriots weren't through yet.

A 55 yard march in the closing minutes with Ward scoring on an 11 yard dash, and Martinez converting finished things off in a 40 point spread victory.

GC West Tigers top Cherry Hill, 19-6

Garden City West grid coach Charley Elmquist has to be hoping that his Tigers are for real.

After getting trounced in their season opener by Franklin, 23-0, his squad bounced back with a 6-0 win over Riverside and 19-6 showing over Cherry Hill.

Even though Elmquist sports a 2-0 mark in the Tri-River loop, the first year head mentor is far from happy.

"We haven't touched the good league teams yet and it's a good thing because we are coming up flat against the weak teams but getting by," commented Elmquist.

"We should have scored at least two more times against Cherry Hill. The kids were just flat."

"Our offense finally started to move the ball and with seven juniors on the starting team, I guess it is a good sign. We are just hoping our defense can hold things together until our offense gets as much experience as it can."

"Our senior defense is holding us together," added Elmquist whose Tigers meet a 2-1 Taylor Kennedy club this Friday at West at 8 p.m. "We have a decent opportunity to shake things up in the league now but we will have our hands full trying to contain Kennedy's wishbone-T."

Cherry Hill had its hands full trying to stop West junior Bill Underwood. The Tiger back collected 154 yards in 25 carries to head the West rushing of 226 yards.

West passing netted 85 yards, hitting on five of 14. Meanwhile Cherry Hill was held to 92 yards on the ground and 32 in the air on four of nine passes.

The Tigers scored the first time they got the ball in the opening quarter. A 70 yard march in 11 plays was capped by a 10 yard pass from Scot Hare to Terry Bradley for six points.

Mark Sullivan's point after was wide and a nine minute drive showed a 6-0 score.

Cherry Hill bounced back to start the third quarter. The Spartans recovered a West fumble on the Tiger 40 and on the first play from scrimmage caught the defense flat with a end run tying it at six-all.

Starting from its own 35, West started back on a 13 play drive with Mike Zenko finishing it off on a 13 yard spurt. A fumbled snap on the conversion left it at 12-6.

A surprising Cherry Hill came back with a 75 yard kick return touchdown. But it was called back on a "blocking below the waist" call.

That took the wind out of Cherry Hill's sails and West added an insurance tally late in the contest with Underwood going in from seven yards out. Pat Sullivan made good West's first conversion of '74 and it finished at 19-6.

Stevenson gal cagers clobber East, 62-32

Liz Embree's Stevenson cagers have set their sights two steps higher than '73 and are off and steppin' to that goal in '74.

Her Stevenson gals advanced as far as the state quarter-finals last year before getting bumped by Farmington Mercy.

The Spartans opened '74 with a 62-32 victory over a club that handed the squad one of its two setbacks last season, Garden City East.

Stevenson then crushed Waterford in an Inter-Lakes match, 69-17, to stand at 2-0 into '74.

The Spartans jumped off to a 14-9 first quarter lead over East in the opener and pushed it to 27-17 at the half. The third quarter saw Stevenson break things wide open as they outscored the Panthers, 23-10, to carry a 50-27 margin into the final eight minutes.

A 12-7 fourth quarter wrapped things up for the Spartans with Lori Hyman pacing all scorers with 25 points. Jeri Isanhart, Sharon Weber, and Jan Wilkinson had eight points each followed by Sharon Solack with seven.

East was headed by Miss Kossik with 16 points and Korte added eight.

Besides game scoring honors, Miss Hyman also paced the squad with 11 rebounds.

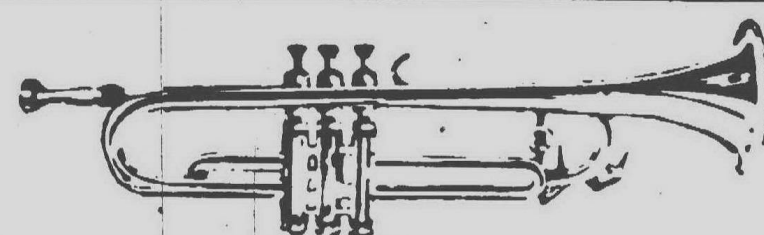

It was strictly no contest in the loop match with Waterford as Stevenson sped off with a 20-6 first quarter lead, upped it to 37-10 at the half and 55-12 at the end of the third quarter to dance in with a 52 point win.

Sharon Solack came up with a school scoring mark with 31 points with Jeri Isanhart next with 10. Liz Youngberg paced the Spartan rebound contest with 14 followed by Isanhart's 10 and Lori Holmes' eight.

Spartans ready for loop march

Borgess rips Redford St. Mary

Bishop Borgess is back in the win column and grid coach Fred Mushinski has to be glad the remainder of his '74 schedule is parochial opponents.

Mushinski's Spartans whipped U-D High, 20-0, in the opener but in turn got whipped by the solo public school on its schedule.

Garden City East simply stuck it to Borgess, 20-14, with the score not indicative of who controlled the 48 minutes.

Well, Borgess jumped back into Catholic play this past week and the Spartans clobbered Redford St. Mary, 32-6.

It was game one for Borgess in the Catholic Double A with Royal Oak Shrine on tap this week, Saturday night, 7:30 p.m. at Shrine.

Shrine lost its loop opener to Bishop Gallagher, 28-25.

Borgess star running back Jim Kozlowski, who was held to 79 yards against East, had his speedster shoes back on as he piled up 228 yards on the ground in 22 carries.

Borgess totaled 325 rushing while its defense held the Redford club to 27 yards total on the ground in 20 carries.

The passing game saw Borgess quarterback Marty Boisture hit on four of five passes for 59 yards. Redford QB sophomore Jerry Hool connected on 11 of 26 for 133 yards.

Borgess doubled Redford St. Mary's output in first downs with 16.

The now 2-1 Spartans didn't waste anytime getting on the board as they took the opening kickoff drive and marched 80 yards in 10 plays with Kozlowski taking it in on a 13 yard dash. Bruce Berry converted and with five minutes gone, it stood, 7-0.

After a Redford punt, Borgess took over on its own 41 and moved the 59 yards in seven plays. Steve Jaremski scored on a two yard plunge. Berry converted and with 5:32 left in the half, Borgess was up to a 14-0 margin.

A fumble recovery by John Wedesky set up the final score of the first half with Borgess taking over on the Redford St. Mary 19.

After an incomplete pass, Boisture sped the 19 yards for another TD. Berry missed the point after and the Spartans led at the half, 20-0.

Redford St. Mary woke up early in the second half as it took the kickoff and on the third play from scrimmage, Hool hit Jim Baumgardner for a 56 yard score. The conversion failed and the margin was down to 14 points.

The Spartan offense failed for the first time and Redford moved to the Borgess 17 but missed on a fourth down pass play.

Borgess bounced back on the following play with Kozlowski going the 83 yards around right end. The point after was missed but the Spartans were back to a 20 point spread, 26-6, 6:25 remaining in the third quarter.

Mushinski's crew finished things off with one minute showing on the clock. After taking over on the Redford 47, two first downs later, Keith Kleithsmith scored from 18 yards out. Berry missed again.

Vikings ready for opener

The Livonia Vikings finished pre-season hockey play with a perfect 5-0 mark and jump into Michigan Junior B action this Saturday, Nov. 5, against the Ecorse Big D team.

Face-off at the Livonia Ford Ice Rink is set for 8 p.m.

Turf Tips, Quips

By Doc Minard

To the surprise of no one, Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley announced the 1975 thoroughbred dates, giving each of the tracks 120 days, which was what each had asked for originally.

There wasn't any change in the requests for dates and those allotted by the commissioner.

The Detroit Racing Association, which operates at the Detroit Race Course, asked for 120 days beginning on Feb. 21 and continuing through Sunday, July 13. The first 33 days, Feb. 21 through March 30, have been designated as the winter meet. Then comes the spring-summer meeting which begins April 4 and carries through July 13 for 87 programs.

The DRA has been given the option of racing from March 31 through April 3 in event of inclement weather or in the case of no racing on Good Friday or Easter Sunday.

In the past, the racing rules provided for no racing on Good Friday and Sunday racing hadn't been introduced. Under the revised rules, a track can operate on either or both days if management desires.

Hazel Park also has been awarded 120 days starting Tuesday, July 15 and going through Sunday, Nov. 30. The track has an option of holding races during the period of Dec. 1-7 in event of inclement weather or no racing on Thanksgiving Day.

Practically everyone connected with thoroughbred racing surmised the commissioner would make few, if any, changes in the requested dates.

But now he has until Oct. 15 to announce the harness racing allotments and that's when the troubles will begin.

Johnny Carlo, executive director of Northville Downs, asked for 57 days during the late spring and early summer. Harold Duris, general manager at Hazel Park, requested 82 nights in late spring and early summer and you can guess that they include all of the nights asked by Northville.

Dick Wilson, vice president and general manager of Wolverine Raceway, put in a bid for 82 nights immediately following Hazel Park, thus setting up back-to-back meetings of the two big tracks if the commissioner so rules.

But Carlo already has notified Shirley that he'll go to court to fight for summer dates. Northville, the state's pioneer of night harness racing, has had summer dates since it started the sport back in 1944. This year the commissioner cut Northville Downs back to a mere 24 nights of summer racing, something that Carlo considered an out and out insult but couldn't do much about.

However, with the dates being announced in mid-October, he feels he'll have plenty of time to take Shirley to court and fight it out there whether Northville Downs will receive summer dates or take a backseat while Hazel Park and Wolverine Raceway go back-to-back.

If Northville loses its summer dates, the best possibility is that Shirley will offer Carlo January, February, March and part of April for his glass enclosed, all-heated grandstand and clubhouse.

Carlo will be the first to tell you that Northville Downs was promised summer dates if it installed air conditioning and had the entire grandstand and clubhouse glass enclosed.

"We did exactly that," says the longtime Northville Downs boss. "All we got out of it was less and less summer dates and last season we only had 24 nights. That's not enough to make it worth opening, but we did decide to go on with the meeting and it was a good one."

"On the other side of the scene, we don't see any moves being made by Wolverine or Hazel Park to enclose the grandstands...yet there is every indication they will receive all of the lucrative summer dates. I don't think this is fair and if we are cut out of summer racing, then it's going to be a matter for the courts to decide."

So much for that. The commissioner still has two weeks to make up his mind about a real ding of a problem. Regardless of what he does, he's going to wind up in the griddle. It will be interesting to see what does happen on Oct. 15.

Area owned pacers and trotters have been winning their share of events at Wolverine Raceway but few will create more consternation in the stands than Meldonna's Choice did recently.

Meldonna's Choice, an eight-year-old mare owned by Doyle McElhiney of Westland, didn't look like much in the second half of the nightly double recently. She showed only two wins in 35 previous starts and had gone off at better than 35-1 odds in her last start.

This time the mare was 21-1 and even then few thought she had a chance. Thus, the double combination of Noonster ($9.80) in the first and Meldonna's Choice was slated to pay $335.80.

She wasn't even a contender at the head of the stretch before Driver Roger DeMoss turned her loose and she roared down the middle to finally overtake the leading Kay Bengal just ahead of the wire in 2:08.1.

That was only part of the story. The rest was told by the odds board which flashed prices of $45.20, $15, and $7.80 across the board and the nightly double of $335.80.

Wolverine boosted purses for the second time in two weeks with across-the-board jumps ranging from $100 to $600 through the various classes.

Donoghue Predicts

GC East should handle North

A quick glance around at this weekend's games, the prospects as the area prep gridders continue their battles:

Probable winners are in capitals. The record last week: won nine, lost four-season mark, won 23, lost 10.

FRIDAY (Oct. 4)

THURSTON (0-3) at Oak Park (0-2), 3:30 p.m.: Don Riehl's Thurston team which has taken three rough beatings should have no problems breaking into the win column. His junior crew needs this one bad to have any chance of a successful season. Thurston by at least three touchdowns. If the Eagles don't win this one, they might as well blot out the '74 season.

Walled Lake Western (1-2) at CHURCHILL (2-1), 4 p.m.: Chargers had to get a lift with upset of Waterford Mott and have to be considered a Western Six threat now. Defense should hold Western scoreless while Churchill QB Mike Streicher should have fun in the air. Churchill by 17.

Taylor Kennedy (1-2) at GARDEN CITY WEST (2-1), 7:30 p.m.: Charley Elmquist's Tigers are coming off 19-6 win over Cherry Hill and are 2-0 in Tri-River race. West isn't going to win league but should nip Kennedy with back Bill Underwood a bet to break things open. West by six.

CLARENCEVILLE (0-3) at Waterford Kettering (0-3), 8 p.m.: After suffering two straight shutouts, the Trojans just missed last week against West Bloomfield, 15-14. Neither one of these teams can get consistent attack. Clarenceville by two, no more.

FRANKLIN (3-0) at Westland John Glenn (1-1), 8 p.m.: This will be first real test for defending champ Franklin which has to be getting big ideas again. But Glenn, which just missed against North Farmington will flatten Franklin for a while and give the Patriot secondary a real test. Franklin is going to have to stop Fred Shoemaker. Glenn won't stop Franklin's Dan Quinn. Franklin by 10.

Northville (2-1) at PLYMOUTH CANTON (1-2), 8 p.m.: Canton has to be promising team with everyone back. Chiefs are hoping to go on Western Six war-path and should come up with upset scalp of Northville. Canton by six but it is shaky.

Redford Union (0-3) at BELLEVILLE (1-2), 8 p.m.: Bob Atkins' long season is going to keep getting longer. The Belleville Tigers have lost two in the Sub Eight but haven't looked all that bad. RU's surprise showing over Allen Park was just that a surprise but don't look for it again. Belleville by 13.

Stevenson (2-1) at PONTIAC NORTHERN (1-0), 8 p.m.: This '74 team of Jack Reardons has to be one of best ever around Spartan territory but they will have their hands full trying to stop the likes of Pepe Barge. Defense is Stevenson hope but Northern by 17.

SATURDAY (Oct. 5)

GARDEN CITY EAST (3-0) at North Farmington (2-1), 2 p.m.: This is the big one in the Northwest loop, matching two top powers. East's passing game should pick Raiders apart but Panthers are going to have to stop North running attack. Both teams can move the ball, look for wide-open contest. East by, lookout, 13 points.

BISHOP BORGESS (2-1) at ROYAL OAK SHRINE (1-2), 7:30 p.m.: Borgess backfield of Jim Kozlowski and Steve Jaremski should have field-day. Borgess has forgotten loss to Garden City East and is ready to roll in Catholic Double A. Spartans by 17.

Orchard Lake St. Mary (1-2) at ST. AGATHA (1-2): Second Division West play should be more to the Aggie liking. Orchard Lake club won't be able to stop the six-pointers by Mark Duquette but poor Aggie defense will keep the score close. St. Agatha by 10.

Bentley (2-1) at PLYMOUTH SALEM (3-0), 8:00 p.m.: Salem Rocks face another physical test in tough rivalry. Bentley just hasn't looked that tough yet but could present a valid threat in this key Sub Eight clash. Passing will be key to both clubs-Salem will intercept key pass for difference. Rocks by three.

Bentley gals raze Allen Park netters

Bentley High girl netters trounced Allen Park, 6-1, for their second Suburban Eight win in as many outings and their fourth overall against one loss.

After losing first singles, Bentley bounced back with second, third and fourth singles and swept the doubles. Lynn Godfroid, Janet Scruggs and Sue Johnston were singles winners for Bentley.

Results:

BENTLEY 6, ALLEN PARK 1
1st SINGLES: Ellen Green (AP) defeated Jan Collins (B), 6-1, 24-6.
2nd SINGLES: Lynn Godfroid (B) defeated Barb Tell (AP), 6-3, 6-2.
3rd SINGLES: Janet Scruggs (B) defeated Sherry McFarland (AP), 6-0, 6-0.
4th SINGLES: Sue Johnston (B) defeated Karen Kneib (AP), 6-0, 6-0.
1st DOUBLES: Theresa Higgins and Peggy O'Neal (B) defeated Robetucha and Garsik (AP), 6-2, 6-1.
2nd DOUBLES: Pam Abraham and Paula Haus (B) defeated Englema and Wastie (AP), 6-1, 6-3.
3rd DOUBLES: Cheryl Gates and Karen Piaslowski (B) defeated Holzworth and Theech (AP), 6-0, 6-1.

Moved to tackle

The 1974 Colorado State University football team is "much improved," according to Coach Sark Arslanian, and one of the reasons is Jim Craig of Livonia.

A 6-foot-2, 251 pound offensive tackle, Craig was moved to tackle last spring after lettering the past two seasons as an offensive guard.

A senior majoring in business management, Craig is a 1971 graduate of Franklin High School, where he lettered in football and track.

Wolverines romp again

Can U-M go full '74 route?

By W. W. EDGAR

How good is the Michigan football team?

Is it good enough to go all the way?

These two questions were being asked by many in the gathering of 104,232, second largest in Michigan football history, as they wended their way out of the stadium Saturday after watching the Wolverines submerge Navy 52 to 0.

It wasn't so much the fact they had beaten Navy, the team that upset Penn State, one of the top ranked teams in the nation, a week ago, but the manner in which they did it.

This was a different Michigan team. It was far removed from the teams of other years that depended, for the most part, on power up through the middle of the line. This was a team that was everywhere, gaining ground on end sweeps, off tackle slants, gathering in passes and, more important, gathering in Navy aerials, too.

Seldom in recent years has any Michigan team showed the variety of attack the Wolverines turned loose against the Navy — an attack that caused Frank Welsh, the Navy coach, to remark after the game, "This is one of the best teams in the land . . .

The switch in tactics from the past few years caused one old timer in the Information Center to remark, "We now have a 3-D team-defense, deception and diversity."

He had reason for the remark for it has been years since so many Michigan men shared in the scoring. And the fact that Gordon Bell, the speedy tailback, who had been relegated to the second team, scored three times showed that the attack was varied more than ever.

Four others shared in the scoring. Chuck Heater, the converted fullback, tallied two touchdowns on short drives. Tight end Jim Smith, gathered in a long pass for another and Robert Lytle, a sophomore, went in from six yards out. Mike Lantry added all of the extra points and booted a field goal to swell the total.

In its first two victories Michigan showed little in the way of a pass defense. It was different against Navy when, midway in the first period, Jeff Perlinger, a defensive tackle, intercepted a pass deep in Navy territory so set up the first touchdown.

From then on Michigan was in complete charge, gaining 340 yards on rushing and another 119 on the ground, for one of the biggest days in quite a spell.

These statistics prove that Michigan is on the move with the with the only fear of overconfidence along the way. Not much trouble is expected this week against Stanford on the coast where Michigan hasn't had too much luck. Even the fact that Purdue upset Notre Saturday in a surprising upset, hasn't changed the attitude among the Michigan followers.

"Purdue always comes up for that game — then drops back to the ordinary," is the way they put it.

It will be interesting to watch — and now that Michigan is proving to be an exciting team, there should be many thrills along the collision course on the way to the closing game with Ohio State.

St. Agatha gridders tumble, 15-0

First year Coach Harvey Heitman didn't have a whole lot to say after game No. 3 into the St. Agatha schedule.

After dropping the season opener to Lutheran West, 34-12, Heitman thought his squad got on the right track against Immaculate Conception in an impressive display of offensive power, 52-2.

But his Aggies fell off that track as quick as they got on it.

Royal Oak St. Mary blanked St. Agatha, 15-0. Five fumbles lost told the story for the now 1-2 Aggies who open Second Division West loop play Saturday night (Oct. 5) at home against Orchard Lake St. Mary.

"We simply beat ourselves in this one," commented Heitman. "We moved the ball all over the place and fumbled it all over the place."

St. Agatha wasted no time in playing giveaway as it fumbled on its opening kickoff drive with St. Mary taking over on the Aggie 30.

Seven plays later, Tom Cormier went in from two yards out, the conversion was good and the Aggies found themselves down, 7-0.

It remained that way until the 10 minute mark of the third quarter when QB Cormier hit end Eric Moon for a 45 yard pass to the Aggie three.

Two plays later, Jeff Wright took it in and Cormier made good a two-point run to finish off the offense for the day.

St. Agatha wasn't without its scoring chances.

The Aggies had the ball on the Royal Oak four in the first quarter but lost it on downs. The third stanza saw Ron Jess strike paydirt on an 11 yard romp only to have it called back on an illegal procedure call.

St. Agatha moved to within the 15 on two more drives only to fumble both times.

The Aggies finished with 14 first downs and ground out 285 yards. St. Mary collected just 179. Mark Duquette paced the Aggie rushing attack with 112 yards in 19 carries.

The aerial contest saw St. Agatha hit on three of five passes for 90 yards and Royal Oak St. Mary, one of five for 45 yards.

Stevenson gals splash to RU Swim Relay title

Livonia Stevenson captured two firsts, took four seconds, one third, and two fifths en route to top honors in the first annual Redford Union girls swimming relays.

The Spartan gals wound up with 82 points with city rival Bentley next with 61 and Northville third with 50.

North Farmington finished fourth with 40, Trenton was fifth with 34, Edsel Ford sixth with 30, Dearborn seventh with 25, Plymouth Salem eighth with 20, Churchill ninth with 17, host RU placed 10th with 15 and Plymouth Canton wound up last with a big goose-egg.

Stevenson won both the 400 yard individual medley and the 400 yard medley relay.

Second place Bentley copped three firsts in diving, 200 breaststroke and 200 yard backstroke. Results:

400 YARD MEDLEY RELAY: 1 - Stevenson (Carol Eggers, Liz Hatfield, Nancy Walker, Irene Tsenqi), 4:33.8; 2 - North Farmington; 3 - Northville; 4 - Dearborn; 5 - Trenton; 6 - Bentley.

25 Club sets open house

University of Detroit's 25 Club will host an open house from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 25, in the Latin Quarter on East Grand Boulevard, one block east of Woodward in Detroit.

According to chairman Timothy E. Dinn, refreshments and buffet will be served throughout the evening with music for dancing beginning at 6 p.m.

Formed in the 1920's to assist athletic programs, the club supports the university through its annual party.

Tickets priced at $12.50 can be obtained at the U-D. Alumni Office or at the door.

CHARLES K. SCHULTZ of Gt-fredson, Plymouth, has been appointed to the President's Council of Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company of America, Farmington Hills. The council serves as an advisor on matters relating to the sales force and reports to President Richard H. Headlee.

Buyer is hurt by mislabeling, says Reuther

John Reuther, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 2nd District, described incumbent Republican Marvin Esch's voting record on consumer issues "appalling" while discussing the estimated $14 billion which he said is wasted in supermarkets annually through deceptive and confusing labeling.

"Ten to 15 per cent of the consumer's purchasing power is wasted because consumers are unable to get the information they need to find the best buy," Reuther said at a recent meeting in Livonia.

"Marvin Esch's appalling voting record on consumer issues has shown him to be a friend of the special interests."

BESIDES THE supermarket scandals, said Reuther, is the $8 to $10 billion wasted each year for auto repairs which are unnecessary, done improperly, never performed, or should have been done free under a warranty.

"This is just a small sampling of the abuses. We need a strong, independent consumer protection agency to defend the interests of the American buying public."

Esch supported a watered-down version of the original Consumer Protection Bill (HR13163), Reuther claimed. "His bill would have created a feeble bureaucracy totally without the powers needed to effectively aid the consumer."

THE ORIGINAL bill passed the House and now faces a filibuster in the Senate, he added.

The original bill gave the consumer protection agency broad powers to aid consumer lawsuits brought by individuals, initiate its own lawsuits, require businessmen to reveal details about product ingredients and other weapons for the consumers' arsenal.

Esch cites anti-inflation actions taken

Congress has been lax in squarely addressing the nation's number one problem of inflation, says U.S. Rep. Marvin L. Esch (R-Ann Arbor), but has taken on strength during the first few weeks of the Ford administration.

Esch, whose 2nd District includes Livonia and Plymouth, says it appears "congress 4s anxious to lick the inflation problem."

"The House recently voted to cut the Federal Mass Transit Assistance in half, from $22 billion to $11 billion, and also voted 383-0 to lower the rate of increase in veterans' educational benefits although a substantial and justifiable increase was approved."

"The House also voted to reduce military aid to Southeast Asia, and narrowly missed voting a reduction in overall defense expenditures of several billion dollars. The Senate recently voted a reduction of $5 billion in military appropriations."

While these are but the first steps toward controlling inflation, Esch said he believes the mood of the congress will prevent partisan politics from interfering with this goal.

Part of the economic problem, Esch continues, is that more than 70 per cent of the federal budget comes in the form of "uncontrollables" — such as social security, veterans, pension and other social programs.

"This leaves only 30 per cent of the budget which can be cut to any great extent. The tough problem is where to do so without impairing effective domestic programs or weakening our national defense."

Esch assessed the work of his fellow congressmen at the end of August when members took a two-week break to return home.

Among accomplishments of the 93rd Congress, cited by Esch, were legislation in the areas of education, pension reform, campaign reform, housing, mass transit, job training and energy research.

Measures Esch feels have a good chance of becoming law by the end of the next session include tax reform, national health insurance, student aid and congressional reform.

In The Pocket

By W.W. EDGAR

The last battalions of the junior bowling army go to the firing line during the coming week when the parks and recreation departments throughout Observerland get their programs underway.

The official start is Oct. 14, but the young pin spillers are moving in for practice sessions and the competition again is expected to be keen throughout the area.

One of the largest programs is that sponsored in Livonia where more than 1,000 young bowlers will step to the foul lines in the lanes from one end of the city to the other.

Inaugurated more than a dozen years ago the Livonia program is looked upon as one of the largest in the country.

Cloverlanes will be one of the key battle grounds for the Livonia group, while the new Plaza Bowl will attract the greatest number in Plymouth.

Along with the parks program several proprietors are emphasizing school bowling and in this area Fred Hamlin, at Farmington Lanes, long has been the leader.

Several years ago he purchased a high school bus and now drives to the various schools each day to collect the bowlers and deliver them to the lanes. It is the most unusual program in the area—but over the years has produced results.

Eugene Miller now knows what it is to build up hopes and then falter when the big moment arrives.

Bowling in the St. Clair League at Bel-Aire Lanes he opened with a 160, followed with 224 and then posted 11 strikes in a row.

The big moment was at hand! Then something happened. Pressure set in and he left a pin standing—and had to settle for a 299 and a 683 series.

While he missed the perfect game and a place on the honor roll scoring again hit a high peak at Bel-Aire. And when the final pin fell there was a familiar face at the head of the parade.

It was Aron Lipshay, who posted a count of 725 to pace the Businessmen's League. He far outdistanced his closest rivals as Jerry Richard had a 618 and Tom Johnson a 622.

Meanwhile, in the Classic, Lee Putti showed the way with a 703 and Bob Burke was second with 666 and Ed Austreng placed third with 662.

Among the other high scores Gil Schornhorst topped the Senior House League with 669 and beat out Danny Four by 13 pins. The other high double century was a 662 registered by Larry Thiesen in Our Lady of Sorrows circuit. Among the ladies it was Dawn Page with a 552 and Jackie Dix with 538 who took the honors.

The Bowling Proprietors Association of Greater Detroit will honor its immediate past president, George Prybyla, with a testimonial dinner at the Kingsley Inn on Wednesday, Oct. 9.

The ladies in the Farmington Lanes Classic had a big week when three bettered double century figures. Marilyn Luech showed the way with a 258 in 641; Jan Schoenberg followed with 633, and Theresa Duty posted a 609 that included a 215 game.

Scoring also was high in the Teen Classic.

Young Brian Tupper landed on top with a 221 in 609 and Kim Harrington had a 201 in 509.

Westland Bowl continues to be one of the "hottest" areas for the sharpshooters. This week it was Frank Ashcroft who topped the field with a 695 that included a 257. Behind him came Ken Kossick with a 258 in 670 and Jack Camp with 647.

Franklin girls smash John Glenn netters, 6-1

Franklin High upped its girls tennis mark to 3-0 in a Northwest loop victory over Westland John Glenn, 6-1.

The other two conquests saw the Patriot girls down the defending class A champion Dearborn, 4-3, and Ladywood High, 6-1.

Jeanne Derderian and Pam Newton were singles victors for Franklin which swept all four doubles. Results:

FRANKLIN 6, JOHN GLENN 1
1st SINGLES—Miss Sierra (JG) defeated Ann Singler (F), 6-4, 8-4.
2nd SINGLES—Jeanne Derderian (F) defeated Miss Arthur (JG), 6-3, 8-2.
3rd SINGLES—Pam Newton (F) defeated Miss Schuster (JG), 6-3, 6-1.
1st DOUBLES—Kay Pence & Lani Spencer (F) defeated Brown and Bundy (JG), 7-5, 6-2.
2nd DOUBLES—Sue Morrison & Sue Keagas (F) defeated Kathleen & Covell (JG), 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.
3rd DOUBLES—Kari Pennington & Lori Reamer (F) defeated Cotti & Kholm (JG), 6-2, 6-2.
4th DOUBLES—Sheila Kirkham & Sandy Chavez (F) defeated Allmipch & Moon (JG), 6-0, 6-2.

John Prebenda, representing the senior citizens golf loop at Whispering Willows, came up with his first hole-in-one in 40 years of golf in a tourney at Whitelake Oaks in Pontiac.

The 63 year-old of 11400 Cranston in Livonia aced the 138 yard No. 14 hole with a six iron and carded a 41 for the back nine.

An emotional Al waves good-bye to his fans

3000 HIT CLUB

Donald Lapak, contest winner, meeting the baseball star and receiving an autographed baseball.

Applause and standing ovations greeted Al Kaline Sunday for the outstanding achievement of a superb athletic career—3000 career base hits. Tigers and baseball fans alike honored the Superstar on Al Kaline Day, in pre-game ceremonies conducted by owner John E. Fetzer. But the honor belongs to more than a great moment in baseball history. It climaxes an exciting and successful 22 seasons in a baseball career that the Tigers, and Al Kaline, can be proud to have shared.

Al Kaline Day was a day for honors and a day for good-byes, as the Tiger Superstar waved to his fans and friends, and accepted awards from the Detroit Baseball Organization and Governor Milliken.

Also on hand to honor the veteran was 23-year old Donald Lapak of Detroit, winner of the Observer & Eccentric 3000 Hit Contest. Out of almost 2000 entrants, Lapak guessed the date and inning that Al would collect hit number 3000; he also made the closest guess of the official paid attendance of the same game. As contest winner, Donald was able to congratulate Al in person before Sunday's game, have his picture taken with Al, and receive an autographed baseball in commemoration of the big moment. He also received four box-seat tickets to the game. An exciting time for Donald Lapak --a great one for Detroit's Al Kaline.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

Fall's a good time to bring a touch of the outdoors into your home. Do this by making yourself a terrarium.

A terrarium is nothing more than a glass or plastic container used for growing live plants. Inside this glassed-in garden are just perfect conditions for plant growth—humidity, temperature, and light, something you don't find in your ultra-dry, over-heated home or apartment.

Many interesting plants can be grown in this miniature greenhouse.

The main reason plants grow so well is the humidity. It runs around 60 to 80 percent, as compared to the low 12 percent humidity often found in homes today. This is eight to 11 percent lower than the average amount of moisture found in the oven-like Sahara Desert in the summer time.

IT'S EASY TO MAKE your own "bottle garden." First, select your container. It can be any kind of a glass jar, or you can buy one of the fancy models from your local flower shop or department store.

Start with the right soil mix, which can be purchased or made by yourself. A simple mix is one part each of sand, peat and loam. Soil must be loose and light, not heavy and soggy. Place a layer of charcoal or pebbles on the bottom, then a two-inch layer of your soil.

Plants that go into the terrarium can be selected from the woods, or purchased from a florist. No law says you can't mix the two. But one caution: don't mix moisture-loving plants (such as African Violets) with desert types such as cactus which take almost 100 percent sand and only tiny amounts of moisture.

USE A LITTLE imagination and gather little pieces of bark, pieces of twigs, lichens, moss, pieces of mirror for a lake, surrounded by small colorful, tiny bridges or figurines.

Vent your terrarium from time to time, simply by leaving a plastic top or glass pane off. This prevents moisture from gathering on the sides and shutting off the view.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC: "Please tell us how to store herbs. We raised a lot of them this year."

Answer: Dried herbs can be tied in bunches by their stems and placed in brown paper bags to separate the varieties. After five to six weeks of such storing, they will be crisp, dry and ready for processing.

Remove the leaves by rolling the bags in your hands and lightly squeezing them. When all the leaves have fallen to the bottom of the bag, remove by taking as few little bits of stems and foreign matter as you can. Store the cleaned leaves in air tight containers.

The woody stems left over can be saved to be tied into bundles to be used as fragrant kindling in the fireplace.

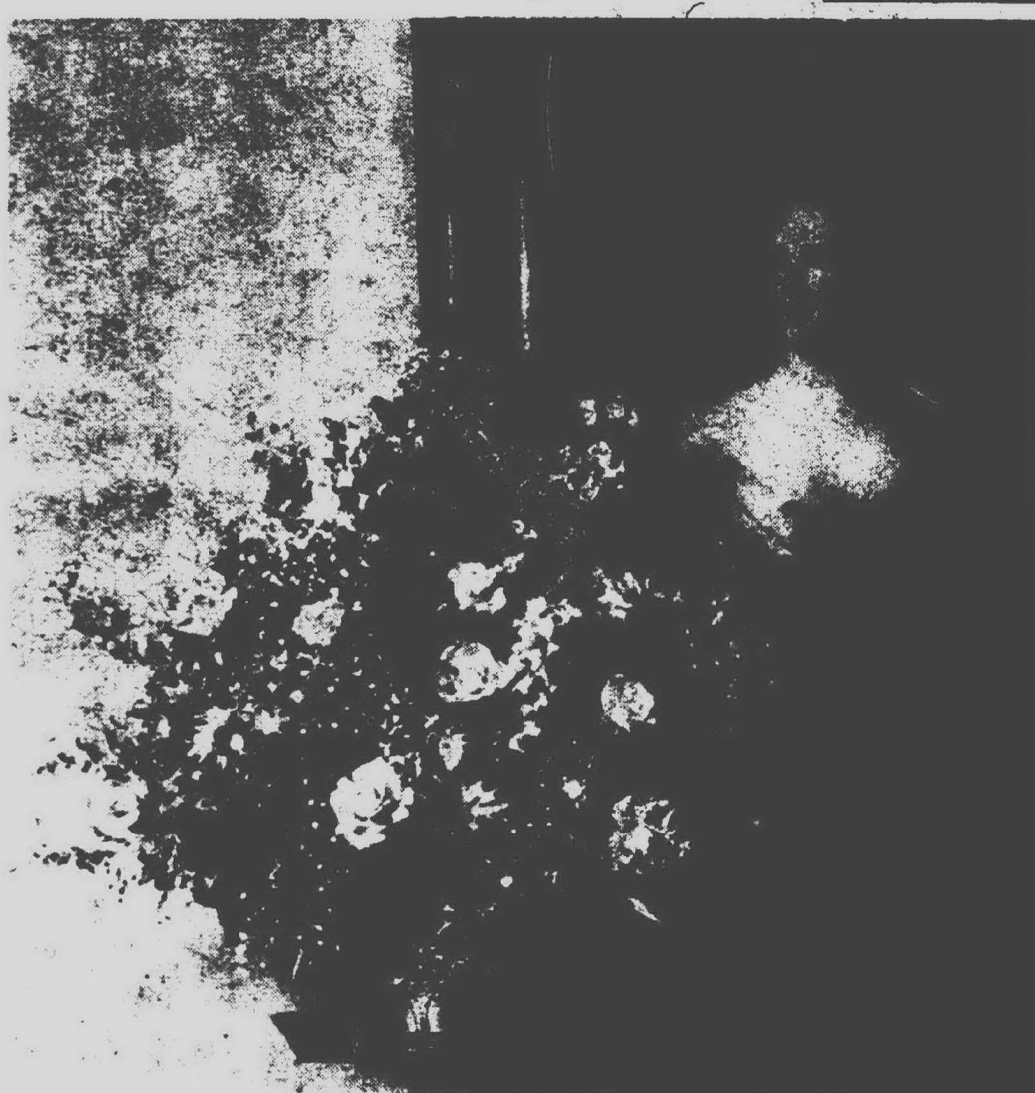

Antiques readied for refinishing

Antiques are where you find them—and getting more valuable day to day. To restore them just follow a few simple rules.

Remember refinishing may not be necessary. Often a good cleaning is all that is needed. But use good furniture cleaner and a clean cloth, not water.

If you must refinish, remove shelving, drawers and hardware. Sand as little as possible to retain the patina the piece has built up over the years.

To raise shallow dents and gouges, place a damp cloth over the area and "steam" it with a medium hot iron.

FLOWER ARRANGEMENT complements an old masterpiece. The new Sonia rose in this delicate French bouquet brings out the beauty of the complexion of the Dutchesse in the painting.

Every year about 25 million Americans are injured in their own homes.

Many of these accidents might never have happened if a few do's and don'ts had been followed.

DO fasten any electric cords to the baseboards. Left loosely on the floor, cords can cause falls; under rugs they lead to fires.

DON'T put pressurized cans in the furnace or trash burner where they may easily blow up.

DO tack down any throw rugs that are not rubberized on the bottom, and keep a rubber mat in your tub or shower.

DON'T keep medicines around too long, or keep prescription medicines after they are no longer needed. Keep all medicines away from small children and don't "prescribe" at home, giving one person's pills to another who shows similar symptoms.

DO keep some salt, baking soda or a foam fire extinguisher in the kitchen in case grease or fat in a pan catches fire. Water will only make things worse.

DON'T walk on bare floors with stocking feet, and don't wear smooth-bottomed slippers unless all your floors are carpeted.

DO rid the house, attic and garage of piles of old newspapers, magazines, rags, mattresses and clothing, which could cause a fire.

DON'T let your heating unit go unchecked. At least one fire in every 10 begins in a defective heater.

DON'T let stairways stay in the shadows. Light them from top to bottom and provide a continuous handrail. If your stairway is 44 inches or more wide, there should be a railing on both sides. Keep storage items off attic and basement stairs and paint top and bottom steps white for better visibility.

DO remember these safety suggestions and odds are you and your family won't be part of next year's accident statistics.

A fall ride can reap decor for the table

AMERICAN LANDSCAPE painting by Grant Wood inspired this arrangement of cornstalks, wheat and dried materials in subtle greens and golds.

It's fall—time to tidy up the garden, put away cotton slipcovers and reward the family with a drive to the nearest hiking spot to savor the brisk air and nature's annual color extravaganza.

You can return from your outing with an armload of interesting grasses, pods and flowers whose delightful aromas, eye-catching shapes and natural colors will spruce up any room of your home.

Begin at the front door with a wicker half basket filled with bright, welcoming straw flowers. Proceed to the foyer with an arrangement of fragrant eucalyptus leaves. The living room can be sparked by tall grasses with feathery plumes.

IN THE KITCHEN, a container such as an antique fruit crate or a perky rooster vase will add a piquant, country air when filled with statice, golden wheat or a mixture of dried materials in copper, burnished greens and berries.

If you hesitate to pluck a handful of natural dried grasses, or if trail signs forbid disturbing the floribunda, don't feel badly. The beautifully aged "everlastings" used for fall decoration in homes since colonial days should be picked in mid-summer and dried in a cool, dark place to be at their best, according to the Society of American Florists.

This technique of picking and preserving dried materials at their peak is the method used by professional florists. Their autumn bouquets may contain cattails grown in New England and corn flowers grown in California.

Most such dried materials were planted and grown as renewable crops, thereby helping preserve the natural beauty of wild everlasting.

The professionals use a new electronic process in preserving the dried materials which adds extra color, by retaining more pigmentation during dehydration.

OTHER METHODS, including bleaching and dyeing, add further variety and color to the selection of dried plants on display at florists.

Fall is the season of bright color and form in meadow and field. So let the year's harvest of dried flowers and plants brighten your home and your world...naturally.

What's cooking in Michigan

by Larrestine Trimm
Michigan Department of Agriculture

It's nearing the end of the season for fresh Michigan sweet cherries but you can make those you buy or pick last a few weeks longer. Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture report that USDA researchers have developed a hot water technique for prolonging the shelf life of sweet cherries and other stone fruits, such as peaches, apricots and plums.

The method is still in the experimental stage for use by commercial processors but homemakers can take advantage of it to preserve sweet cherries for eating.

MDA officials describing the new processing technique suggest homemakers heat water in a large pot until it reaches a temperature of 125 degrees. Place quality fresh cherries in a strainer and dip into the hot water.

Leave cherries in the water for 2½ minutes. (Cherries will reach an internal temperature of about 105 degrees. If left in water longer than recommended time, they may start to cook.) Remove cherries, cool rapidly in cold water and dry on paper towels.

Usually fresh sweet cherries should not be held longer than one or two days for best eating quality. Experts say the new process, however, will allow you to keep cherries at room temperature for four to five days and under refrigeration for about 45 days, depending on the quality of fruit at time of purchase. Cherries should be stored in the refrigerator in a covered container.

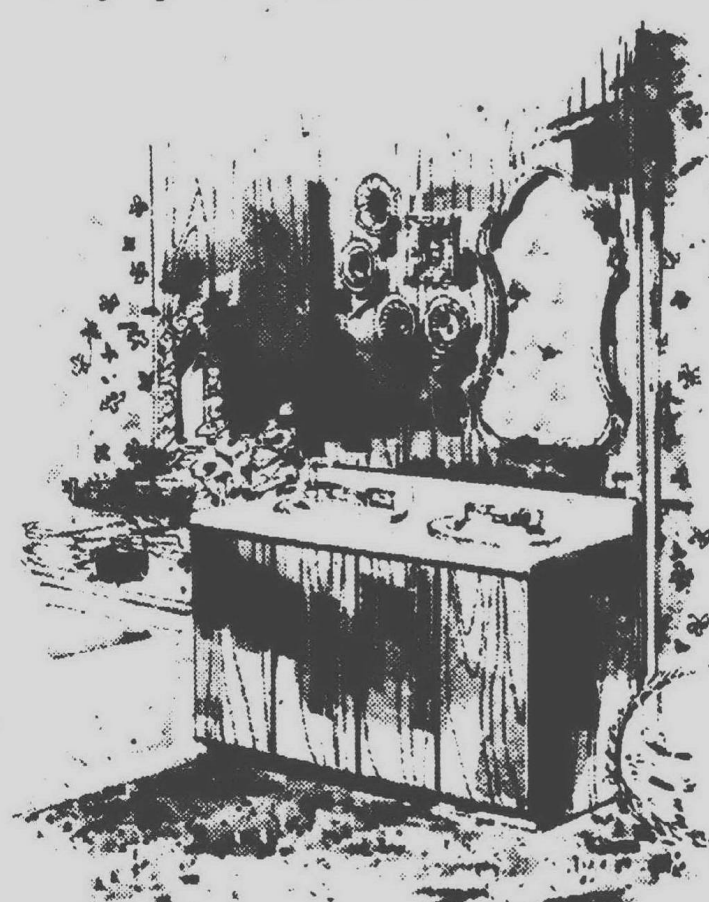

The process kills brown rot which is a major problem with stone fruits, by penetrating the skin of the cherry and sterilizing bacteria on its surface, according to MDA officials. It also gives the fruit a sweeter, more flavorful taste by enhancing its natural sugar content.

For commercial use the technique is basically the same, but it's programmed on a much larger scale with 200 gallons of sweet cherries being processed at one time.

JCs offer hunters' safety class

By LEM MESEE
Outdoors Writer

News notes for hunters, young and old.

A young hunters safety course is being offered beginning Oct. 9 by Livonia Jaycees.

Two classroom sessions of two hours each will be held Oct. 9 and 23 at 2:30 p.m. in the former Robinson Furniture Store at Wonderland Center, Plymouth at Middle Belt.

To enroll in the free program, contact Jim Kline, Dale Anderson or Mike Ward. Subjects will be both gun and bow and arrow safety in home and field, how guns work, first aid, proper clothing and hunter-citizen relations. Slides will illustrate the lectures, and questions will be answered.

This official state Dept. of Natural Resources course is required before a youngster can qualify for a hunting license. It's open to persons between ages 11½ and 16.

A field session will begin Saturday, Oct. 26, at 8 a.m. at the Western Wayne County Conservation Association, 6700 Napier, Plymouth Township.

The field session will emphasize practical experience in gun safety, boats, duck blinds and fence-crossing. Each young hunter will be provided five-shotgun shells to fire at clay pigeons. Shotguns will be provided to those who don't have their own.

tion. Instructors, under the direction of Jack Racklyeft, are members of the conservation club and certified by the DNR.

Each young hunter will also receive free booklets on safety from the National Rifle Association and DNR.

THE ONLY other hunter safety classes of which we have word currently are:

Romulus — Wayne County Sportsman's Club: Serman J. Lambly Jr., New Boston, instructor; Saturday, Oct. 5.

Milford — General Motors Proving grounds: Gary Pollock, Milford, instructor; Monday, Oct. 7.

Romulus — Romulus High School: Arthur Robell, Lincoln Park, instructor; Tuesday, Oct. 8.

BEAT INFLATION by learning to cast your bullets, resize shells and reload jacket bullets.

A free class will be given Friday, Oct. 11 at 8 p.m. at the Western Wayne County Conservation Association, 6700 Napier, Plymouth. This is the second of two demonstrations by the WWCCA.

SQUIRREL HUNTERS are reporting fairly good success during their season, which began Sept. 15, despite the still heavy leaf cover.

Best hunting time is in the morning on calm, windless days. Many squirrels are taken on state game and recreation area land, but the best hunting is in small farm woodlots bordering cornfields. Remember: Ask the farmer's permission before you hunt on private land.

A reminder to pheasant hunters: Holly and Bald Mountain Recreation Areas in Oakland County are put-take areas, where birds are stocked at unannounced times twice a week. But hunters with even-numbered licenses may hunt there only on even dates, and odd numbers may hunt only on odd dates.

All hunting in put-take areas is restricted to 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

THIS WEEK is expected to be the peak time for migration of broadwing and sharp-shinned hawks through southern lower Michigan.

These birds of prey usually move down from northern Ontario along the east side of Lakes Huron and St. Clair. They sort of "funnel" down the Detroit River to avoid the large expanse of Lake Erie.

Broadwing hawks form "kettles"—large groups in a cup-shaped mass, say DNR biologists. Broadwings ride rising air currents and generally move southwesterly.

Sharp-shinned hawks migrate singly or in small groups, flying low in a straight line.

Tourism up for autumn

After a poor winter and spring the Michigan Tourist Industry is looking to a strong fall season following a summer comeback which saw resort areas doing better business as the summer progressed.

"If present trends continue the industry is looking to a strong fall season and to a good winter," Governor William G. Milliken says. "A larger percentage of the resorts in west Michigan reported that their business was up by as much as 30 per cent over last summer."

State park attendance, which is usually a barometer of the state's tourist climate, is up 3.7 per cent over 1973.

While southeast Michigan was off to a poor start, half of the tourist association members in the area reported that July business matched previous years.

Robert Helwig, executive manager of the Upper Peninsula Travel and Recreation Association, credited Milliken with helping to maintain the tourist industry.

The governor, according to Helwig, obtained the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission grant of $86,500 to promote tourism at the peak of the gasoline crisis with the eastern, western and upper peninsulas association receiving $8,333 each for promotion.

An additional $15,000 was allocated to counsel small resort owners on coping with the crisis and a toll-free hotline was established to provide tourists with gasoline availability information. Milliken also sought and received an additional $25,000 in the 1974-75 state budget for each regional tourist association.

SC adopts policy on student records

The Schoolcraft Board of Trustees voted unanimously last Tuesday to adopt a policy to guard against "unwarranted and indiscriminate release" of a student's confidential records.

"Although we are just now acting on formal policy we've always made a practice of respecting a student's confidential records," said Dr. Nelson Grote, Schoolcraft president.

Under the new policy a student's records, transcripts, files and written authorization by the student, or his parent if he is a minor, court order or specific authorization by the college president.

In other information Edward McNally, vice president for student affairs, reported fall enrollment at Schoolcraft has reached an all-time high of 9,159 students.

The figure represents a 9.76 per cent increase with 6,992 college students and 2,167 persons enrolled in community services programs.

The number of credit hours per student declined slightly, McNally said, and the overall trend is more students taking fewer credit hours.

Enrollment at Schoolcraft's garden City center was up 65 per cent.

Dr. Robert Keene, vice president for instructional affairs said enrollment has increased in the arts and sciences and remained stable in technical areas.

Gourmet dinner is Oct. 26

A gourmet dinner-dance open to the general public will be held Oct. 26 by the Schoolcraft College Foundation.

Armen Barsamian of Garden City, Foundation president, says proceeds from the event will be earmarked for student scholarships at the college.

A $30 per couple donation covers the complete dinner and an evening of dancing.

The menu, announced by dinner-dance chairman Dr. Mehdi Kianfar, includes an appetizer, salad, roast prime rib, potato, cheeses and fruits, dinner beverage and a selection of fine wines.

Dinner will be served at 8 p.m. in the upper level of the Waterman Center on campus at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Attendance will be limited to 240 guests. Tickets are available from Foundation members or by calling Mrs. Joyce Ludwig, extension 213, at the college.

cal areas. The math and biology programs also reported an increase.

Keene noted the college now employs fewer full-time faculty than it did six years ago, however part-time instructors have increased.

The board voted to award a $35,396 contract for climate systems technology equipment to Close Inc. of Plymouth.

Scarab plans watercolor show

Michigan watercolor artists are invited to submit paintings to the 31st annual Scarab Club Watercolor exhibition today (Thursday) through Oct. 5.

The exhibition is Oct. 10-17 in the club's gallery in the Cultural Center, 217 Farnsworth in Detroit.

Each artist may submit two paintings, which must be framed under glass, ready for hanging with eyes and wire attached. All paintings in an aqueous medium and executed on paper are acceptable. Cash prizes will be awarded.

The Scarab club is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Entry fees are $3.50 for members and $6 for non-members.

A 25 per cent commission will be charged on all sales. Artists will be responsible for delivery and pick-up of their work. All rejected paintings must be removed by Oct. 10.

Judges are Sid Seeley, member American Watercolor Society and Les Arwin, of Arwin Gallery, Detroit.

Exhibit slated at Marygrove

The consolidated art department of Marygrove College-University of Detroit will sponsor an exhibit and sale of about 1,000 original prints from the Ferdinand Roten Galleries on Tuesday, Oct. 8 from noon to 8 p.m. The exhibit-sale will be on the Marygrove campus, W. McNichols at Wyoming, Detroit, in the fourth floor art department galleries.

Works featured will include prints by Rouault, Hogarth, Goya, Miro, and Picasso, and many current artists.

There also will be a collection of Western and Oriental manuscripts, some dating to the 13th century. Prices range from $10 to thousands of dollars, but most are under $100.

Township planning chief clarifies zoning code

Acting on the assumption that many property owners in Plymouth Township may be confused by what he terms serious errors in a recently published story of the proposed new master land use plan, James M. Griffith, chairman of the planning commission has listed the principal changes being considered to the present zoning ordinance.

"The following information should help clarify the actions of the planning commission," writes Griffith, "concerning the proposed revisions to the zoning ordinance and master plan."

The changes are as follows:

A—Adoption of a screening and land use buffer article which provides for landscaping, screening and other techniques to more effectively buffer different types of land uses, to screen parking and other service areas from view, and to generally enhance the appearance of all land uses in the township.

B—Adoption of a comprehensive sign ordinance regulating the area, height, location and type of signs permitted throughout the township. In the past, little if any control has been exercised over signs, and several areas along Ann Arbor Road, for example, are evidence of the visual pollution that has resulted. Under the proposed ordinance, ground-mount signs in C-2 districts would be limited to a maximum height of 35 feet and maximum area of 90 square feet, for example.

C—PROVISIONS in the C-1 neighborhood shopping districts have been revised to ensure that these commercial areas really are neighborhood in nature—rather than larger community type shopping centers which could have an adverse impact in certain areas.

D—A public lands district is proposed to include such uses as schools, fire stations and recreation areas, so that the zoning map more accurately reflects actual land use.

E—The current M-1 and M-2 manufacturing districts—which are in many respects indistinguishable—are combined into a single industrial district, with additional controls on and special approval required for certain types of heavy manufacturing. The problems now being encountered with storage of materials outdoors have been eliminated.

F—Stringent controls have been imposed on dumping and land fill which should eliminate the problems caused by this activity in the past.

G—The high rise district has been designated mid-rise and the regulations substantially revised to:

(1) Limit the areas in which this type of district could be located to those adjacent to freeway interchanges rather than merely adjacent to freeways or major thoroughfares as the present ordinance permits.

(2) Limit the density to residential mid-rise units to a maximum of 25 units per acre rather than the theoretical maximum of more than 100 now permitted.

(3) Encourage the mixture of commercial, office and residential uses in the same complex.

H—A vehicular parking district is proposed to provide areas adjacent to commercial districts that can be used for parking only. The present transitional-office district permits this type of parking, but also allows office uses which in many cases are undesirable in certain areas. For example, use of the vehicular parking designation to the south of the commercial areas along Ann Arbor Road between Main and Sheldon would provide areas for parking without running the risk that the land some day could be used for construction of office buildings.

I—THE TRANSITIONAL-OFFICE district is redesignated office-service and revised to permit the district to be located in areas other than those serving as a transition between residential and commercial areas.

J—Requirements for site plan review have been extended to all uses except single family residential. This substantially expands the commission's authority in reviewing the layout, nature and quality of proposed developments.

K—The existing residential unit development provisions have been revised to:

(1) Provide more stringent development control and review by the commission.

(2) Increase the flexibility of this option, to permit, when appropriate, its use more effectively on parcels of land between 40 and 80 acres in size.

(3) Increase the amount of open space that must be provided in this type of development.

(4) Increase permitted densities in R-1-E, R-1-H, R-1-S and R-1 districts to 1.3, 2.2, 3.05 and 5.0 dwelling units per acre, respectively, from the now permitted .8, 1.58, 2.83 and 4.64.

L—Substantially reorganized the entire ordinance to make it easier to read and understand.

Griffith explained that the major errors in the newspaper article were as follows:

Emphasis on the new master plan was misplaced since the primary efforts have been directed to revising the zoning ordinance.

Residential unit development is not a new type of use that would become a reality if the revised ordinance were to be adopted. The RUD option is at least six years old and is part of the present zoning ordinance that was adopted in July 1968.

Colony Farms and Trailwood II would not be affected by the adoption of the revised ordinance, since these two areas already were being developed as RUDs under the present ordinance. Development of Colony Farms is virtually completed and Trailwood II is well under way.

THE REVISIONS OF C-1 were designed to protect the residents of the areas adjacent to neighborhood shopping districts—not to protect the merchant within a mile of his business.

The vehicular parking district would not to away with large commercial lots necessarily. In fact, a commercial lot could be permitted under certain circumstances in a VP district.

The response to alleged criticism of the high rise district was not to change the designation to mid-rise and retain everything else as is. Substantial changes were made.

No change was made in the R-1-H district to permit lots 90 feet wide. Required lot width remains at 120 feet.

Griffith indicated it was his hope to clarify these matters so that persons attending the Oct. 19 public hearing would have a better idea of what they were going to hear.

5-mill Canton levy approved

CANTON—Township trustees last week approved a five-mill tax levy for 1975 expected to generate $709,774 in local property taxes. Canton's budget will exceed $1.1 million, according to Township Clerk John Flodin.

An additional three mills may be added if residents approve the board's request for that amount to expand police and fire facilities in the Nov. 5 election.

Flodin gave a breakdown of total figures. Residents living in the Plymouth School District will be paying 40.1 mills. Van Buren residents will be paying 30.98 mills (not including a three-mill increase that was voted on Sept. 30). Wayne School District residents will be paying 49.65 mills.

Commenting on budget deliberations, Flodin said, "We're just getting the papers together. We're just starting out."

14 press awards are won by O&E

The Observer & Eccentric newspapers and their predecessors, The Observer and The Eccentric, won 14 awards in the Michigan Press Association's (MPA) weekly newspaper contest.

Announcement of the awards was made in conjunction with National Newspaper Week (Oct. 5-11).

THE ECCENTRIC newspapers took first place in the most coveted category — general excellence.

Judges considered the Birmingham, Southfield and Rochester editions as

U.S. Rep. Marvin L. Esch (R-Ann Arbor) says he believes congress must act to exempt state lotteries from provisions in the federal criminal code before the end of the 93rd Congress in mid-October.

"While there is some concern over the promoting of gambling by official state sanction," said Esch, whose 2nd District includes Livonia and Plymouth, "it is clear most participants like the idea that their dollars are going for the benefit of the people rather than into the pockets of criminal elements."

Unless congress moves to exempt state lotteries from federal anti-lottery laws within 90 days, Michigan's State Lottery may well be declared illegal and put out of business, he said.

This warning was given congress recently by Attorney General William Saxbe, who has declared that Title 18 of the U.S. Criminal Code expressly forbids operation of lotteries in interstate commerce, and that the 13 lotteries which presently exist would fall under this definition.

Saxbe stated, however, this was a matter that could be resolved by congressional action and agreed to hold off any move to enjoin these lotteries for 90 days to allow congress the chance to exempt these states from federal lottery law.

Besides Michigan, Ohio also operates a state lottery. Saxbe is a former U.S. Senator from Ohio.

The Michigan lottery has proven to be a fairly effective means of raising much needed revenue that might otherwise have to come through increased income or sales taxes, Esch says.

"Last year alone, Michigan raised more than $60 billion — a large percentage of which went directly for education. Secondly, these 13 lotteries have been by and large scandal free and are carefully monitored and controlled. Thirdly, the state lottery serves to channel funds which might otherwise go into illegal gambling activities."

one entry in this category.

The Southfield News & Observer earned second place in general excellence.

Judges from the Wisconsin Press Association selected winners in each category. They considered general and departmental news, mechanical excellence, advertising enterprise, editorial pages, general appearance and pictures in giving the general excellence awards.

IN OTHER CATEGORIES Chris Walden took first place for original personal column while co-publisher Philip Power earned a third place in the same category. The Birmingham Eccentric was awarded first place for the best editorial page.

Second place for best sports coverage went to The Southfield Eccentric with third place going to the Rochester Eccentric.

Corine Abatt, general assignment reporter for the Observer, won first place for feature writing. Tracy Baker of the Southfield Eccentric earned a second place for feature writing. The Southfield Eccentric earned first place for best use of pictures. Second place went to the Rochester Eccentric with Birmingham Eccentric earning an honorable mention.

First place for advertising idea of the year was earned by the Birmingham Eccentric.

A third place for best news writing went to the Southfield Eccentric.

Newspapers from 48 cities in Michigan submitted 345 entries in the annual competition.

2 police groups joining forces

The Fraternal Order of Police (FOP) and Police Officers Association of Michigan (POAM) have reached an agreement to join forces to unite in an "all out legislative effort."

The FOP (including the Michigan State Police) and the POAM (including Detroit Police Officers) will now work jointly to lobby for passage of legislation to assist law enforcement officers in Michigan. The two groups, through their legislative committees, have started to meet to establish priorities in areas of legislation.

Chrysler Corporation announces a new car warranty with unlimited mileage for one full year.

For the first 12 months of use, any Chrysler Motors Corporation dealer will fix, without charge for parts or labor, any part of our 1975 passenger cars we supply (except tires) which proves defective in normal use, regardless of mileage.

And that's just the beginning.

We're confident that you'll find everything about our new '75's—from engineering and styling to economy—easy to say yes to. And for the clincher, we're backing them up with our new Owner Care Program.

It starts with a new 12 month, unlimited mileage warranty so strong and simple it's bound to generate questions. So, right here and now, we offer some answers.

Q. Unlimited mileage sounds simple enough. But what's the catch?

A. There's no catch. The warranty covers every part we put in the car. And it's good for as many miles as you can drive in 12 full months.

Q. What about labor?

How much will that cost?

A. Nothing. If Chrysler Corporation put that part on your car, it's covered. Parts and labor. And that goes for everything except tires, which are covered separately by their manufacturer.

Q. But there are some expensive things that could just "wear out" if you drive enough miles even though they're not "defective." You know; brake linings, mufflers, shock absorbers.

Do I have to pay for them?

A. No. To a lot of people those might be considered something for you to worry about. But since we want to make your relationship with the car we make as worry-free as possible, we're ready to take on those responsibilities. So, even if they just wear out during the first 12 months of normal use, we'll replace them no matter how many miles you drive.

Q. That's a great "extra." Does it include everything that just wears out?

A. No. We expect you to take care of normal maintenance—the little things like changing filters and wiper blades (unless, of course, they're defective, then they come under the warranty).

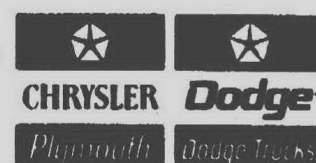

Q. The only way you could top all that is throw in a free loaner. Uh...do you?

A. Sure. If you make an appointment for warranty repairs in advance, and the job cannot be completed from morning until evening of the same working day, participating dealers will supply you with a loaner. Free.

Q. Is there anything else I should know?

A. Replacing certain worn out parts, our unlimited mileage warranty and our free loaner program are all just the beginning of a new Owner Care Program, designed to make owning our new cars, so worry-free, they'll be irresistible.

See your Chrysler-Plymouth or Dodge dealer. Ask him about his new cars, then ask him about "The Clincher!"

"THE CLINCHER!"

It's going to take better care of the people who buy our cars.

Schoolcraft focuses attention on senior citizens

BY SHERRY KAHAN

The elderly and retired are coming into their own at Schoolcraft College, a school long known as a good friend to the young and striving.

The latest in a series of varied programs for older people will be senior forums on such needed topics as home nursing and the legal affairs of the older adult.

These will be held in October in three centers, the Livonia Senior Center at Five Mile and Farmington Road, the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer, and the Schoolcraft center located at 29205 Florence, Garden City.

The first of the free, four-lecture series began this week in the Livonia center and will continue on Tuesdays through October from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Its topic is home nursing and it features talks by Maud Piggott, registered nurse and senior citizen, on maintaining health and recognizing illness, body mechanics, personal service for bed patients and simple treatments.

That series will be repeated in the Garden City center on Tuesdays in November, also from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

PARTICIPATING in the series on legal matters, scheduled at the Plymouth center on Friday during October from 10 to 11:30 a.m., will be four speakers who will look at various parts of the legal picture.

They include Loretta McGee, assistant branch bank manager, speaking on banking know-how, and three speakers on housing for the elderly: William Reed of Michigan Legal Services; Fran Yocum, manager of Tonquish Creek Manor, and James Houk of the Plymouth-Canton Development Commission.

Other speakers will be Win Schrader Jr. of Schrader Funeral Home on funerals and attorney Richard Wermette on wills and estates.

THE NEW SERIES are new indications of the firmly-held Schoolcraft College belief that it's never too late to learn.

The school has worked up a number of educational options for any retiree in the area through its department of adult services, directed by Betty Andrews, gerontology specialist.

Take for example, the adult non-credit evening courses, for which registration will take place Sept. 30. Residents of the district will be charged $11 for these eight-hour classes. But seniors will be permitted to take their first of such classes at no cost whatever.

If the senior citizen prefers the regular daytime college classes, several possibilities are open to him. He can enroll in a credit class for which he will pay $11 per credit hour, or he can elect to audit the class without charge if space is available.

ONE OF THOSE turning up on a regular basis at Schoolcraft these days is senior citizen Lela Mager of Garden City. Not busy enough at her volunteer job as coordinator for the Retired Service Volunteer Program of Wayne County (RSVP), she is auditing a course called the introduction to psychology taught by John Graves.

"When Mr. Graves asked all the students in turn why they were in class I told them I had wanted to go to college for years, but work had interfered," she said.

Mrs. Mager believes that the young students sitting about her in the classroom accept her, and that she participates in class as often as anyone else, perhaps even more.

"Mr. Graves often calls on me and my retired friend who comes with me for answers to questions that are based on experience," she said. "We can discuss things not yet experienced by the young."

WILLIAM EDGAR is another retiree who enjoys his class. Formerly a spectroscopist or research engineer at the Ford Motor Co., he is joined for his morning class in Spanish I by his wife, Evelyn, formerly a teacher of English at Plymouth High School.

"We do a lot of traveling with our trailer in Texas and Mexico," said Edgar. "We felt bad that we didn't know Spanish so we signed up for the class."

He added: "I think we stand up academically as well as the younger students. We have the advantage of taking only one course while the rest of them take several."

The Edgars have felt no negative vibrations from their youthful classmates when they speak in class. "We feel free to speak as often as we want," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar plan to continue their Spanish studies next fall. They will play truant during the winter term in order to return to an area along the Rio Grande River to study birds and try out their Spanish.

THE CHANCE TO HIT the books is not the only way Schoolcraft invites participation from older people. Volunteering is also an activity that a number of seniors are enjoying.

Jobs such as clerical work, answering phones and tutoring are the most common ones.

The senior volunteers come to campus under the auspices of RSVP and are generally asked to donate about four hours a week.

"We have found contact between older persons and students very beneficial," said Mrs. Andrews. "Both enjoy the interaction with each other."

"Sometime older people come in to talk about volunteering," she continued. "After I explain to them what they might be able to do, a lot of them decide that if they can do that, they could find a job. Sure enough, often they find a part time job."

"Talking about a volunteer job makes them realize they still have many capabilities," she said.

VOLUNTEERING HAS a number of advantages, Mrs. Andrews indicated. Volunteers make new friends. They have an opportunity to be with younger people and they come to realize that the college needs them.

"Volunteering or taking a class often rebuilds a person's confidence," she said. "Very often volunteers are people who enjoy their work and enjoy being with people. At this point in their lives they feel they can share their time and talents others."

"I love it, I just love it," said Mrs. Verna Wright of Plymouth of her volunteer job in the writing concepts center, where she assists instructors in handling forms, tests and materials for students.

"I like the people and the feeling that I am useful at the age of 76," she said. "The professors are grateful for what I do for them and I still feel I'm a help. It keeps me busy."

With from five to nine others, Mrs. Wright rides to work in a special mini-bus she catches at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

ANOTHER TREAT given senior citizens by the college is a special senior ID card. While it may not be needed too often when buying beer, it will allow them free admission to a number of campus activities.

They can receive one ticket to all cultural and public affairs lectures on campus. This includes lectures by such celebrities as Jack Anderson, the nationally syndicated columnist.

It will also provide an open sesame for them to musical and sports events on campus and for library privileges at Bradner Library.

About 550 seniors have already come to the college or called to register for these cards which are available all year long at the office of senior services in the administration building.

MRS. VERNA WRIGHT (above) feels useful helping in the writing concept center at Schoolcraft College. She's 76. At the right, Mr. and Mrs. William Edgar feel right at home with younger students in the Spanish class taught by Peter Attalai. (Staff photos by Harry Mauthe)

RSVP--the way when there's a will to help

BY MARGARET MILLER

Retirees, who may for the first time in their lives have spare hours to fill, are considered prime prospects for volunteer work.

But it can cost money to volunteer, and although the spirit is willing the pocketbook sometimes can be too thin to finance extra gasoline and meals out.

The Retirees Senior Volunteer Program, known as RSVP, is a federally-funded answer to that need. Completing its first year of operation in Wayne County, it pays 14 cents a mile to senior citizens who travel to serve and provides lunches for those who put in four hours a day of helping in an institution.

MRS. LELA MAGER of Garden City, coordinator for the operation in Wayne County, said about 200 persons over 60 are participating.

"It's a big help," said Mrs. Frances Henssley, Livonia RSVP chairman. "My husband and I both like to do volunteer work—he drives cancer patients to the hospital—and you can run up $30 or $40 a month in expenses."

"We're hoping to get more people into the program, and then more can volunteer. There are so many places they are needed."

MADONNA COLLEGE in Livonia is one of the institutions in Livonia that has been working with the RSVP program since its beginnings here.

Last week Mrs. Henssley presented to Sister M. Danatha, Madonna president, a plaque thanking the college for its participation.

In return, Sister Danatha expressed gratitude for the many services rendered by the three senior citizens who have been putting in regular hours each Wednesday at Madonna. Mrs. Josephine Moline of Westland and Mrs. Ethel Ruelle and Mrs. Ethel Keller, both of Northville.

THEIR SERVICE in the art department and business offices has been invaluable, said Sister M. Joela, heading the program at Madonna, and Sister M. Angeline, art department head. "They are supposed to be here at 10 o'clock and they often show up at 8 and are still helping out late in the afternoon," said Sister Angeline. "There's not a lot to go home for," explained Mrs. Moline. "It's supposed to be four hours, but you expand it a little."

MRS. MOLINE SAID she had been interviewed for the RSVP program by Mrs. Mager because she is a member of the Over-50 club at St. Theodore Catholic Church in Westland. "She asked where I would like to work and when she suggested Madonna that was it," Mrs. Moline said. "Both my girls went there to school, and it's like home for me."

CONTACTS THROUGH RETIREES' groups and word of mouth are two of the main ways Mrs. Mager spreads information on the RSVP program.

She said she goes before many senior citizen groups, explaining the system under which payments are made for mileage on volunteer errands and lunches are furnished.

"People in the RSVP program also have their cars insured when they are on volunteer business," she said.

Reports of benefits due are made each month through the Catholic Social Services in Detroit. Mrs. Mager said. Then the checks are mailed out. "We also keep track of the number of hours they put in, although they are not paid for them," she said. "The reports are sent to Washington."

and that way the administrators of RSVP know how much it is being used."

The local RSVP office is located in the Livonia senior citizen building, McNamara Towers. Mrs. Mager said volunteers man the telephones there from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday and would be glad to hear from persons over 60 interested in RSVP benefits for volunteer work.

Mrs. Ellis is new S'craft promoter

Growing audiences and expanding programs have prompted the appointment of a programming assistant at Schoolcraft College.

She is Midge Ellis whose responsibilities in the new post will extend to the Cultural and Public Affairs Series as well as to the college's student activities office.

Promotion is a major function of Mrs. Ellis' job. She will also supervised program details like facility preparation, transportation and staging.

Her work in student activities will include instruction in areas such as the selection of programs, contacting agents, producing shows and handling tickets.

A 14-year Livonia resident of the Clarenceville School District, Mrs. Ellis has long been involved in school affairs. She coordinated the Clarenceville Jazz Series, was active in American Field Service and the Association for Childhood Education.

Earlier, as a Grandview Elementary parent, Mrs. Ellis was instrumental in establishing a kindergarten readiness program now used throughout the district and in a number of Livonia schools as well.

The Ellis children, Holly, 16, Gary, 15, and Tim, 11, all attend Clarenceville School District.

For the past three years Mrs. Ellis has served as a community representative on Schoolcraft's Cultural and Public Affairs Advisory Committee. She also helped coordinate a number of its programs.

The student body will be a prime audience Mrs. Ellis hopes to reach.

THE BENTONS, nationally-known recorders of gospel music, will appear in two local concerts this weekend. The trio, including the Rev. D. Dean Benton, his wife, Carole, and Mrs. Benton's sister, Joyce Kulp, will sing Saturday, Oct. 5 at 2:30 p.m. in Westland Jaycee Park and Sunday, Oct. 6, in the Good Shepherd Reformed Church, 6500 N. Wayne Road. An appearance also is planned in the IHS Christian Book Store, 33147 Ford, Garden City, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday. Jaycee Park is located at Wildwood and Hunter, south of Warren and east of Wayne Road.

Arts Council accepting new grant applications

The Michigan Council for the Arts has announced grant application deadlines for two program areas.

According to Walter R. Boris of Jackson, council chairman, special community project proposals intended to meet specific cultural needs in a locality, may be submitted by any arts educational or community non-profit organization up to March 3, 1975.

Summer projects, to take place between May 1 and Aug. 31, 1975, have an application deadline of Feb. 3. Programs proposed should not duplicate existing projects in the same area of the state.

For the 1975-76 fiscal year, grants to organizations will not exceed $10,000 and will usually be for lesser amounts. They must be matched locally on at least a 50-50 basis with cash and/or "in kind" services.

Guidelines are available from the council office indicating kinds of projects more likely to be funded from the appropriations available from state, federal and private sources.

Boris indicated special consideration will be given to programs with a Bicentennial theme, as well as those which introduce the arts to new audiences, serve disadvantaged areas of the state and involve Michigan artists in the community.

"We will also be looking for innovative plans to initiate and encourage cooperative efforts between existing arts groups and those which involve minority in their planning and implementation," says Boris.

Available resources and priorities make it impossible to consider grants for significant capital improvements, publication of original manuscripts or travel. Proposals should not be primarily for equipment or supplies, or for employment of permanent personnel.

Application forms and guidelines for the special community project are available from Michigan Council for the Arts, 1200 Sixth Ave., Detroit, 48226.

It's sensuous and sensible

By SUE ROSIEK

If you are looking for an exercise that is sensuous and sensible, try belly dancing.

Behind all the fancy rolls, stomach sways and graceful movements are well-developed muscles.

"It may look difficult, but with a little practice anyone can learn," says Chris Morciglio, belly dance performer and instructor. "It's easier than anyone thinks to move your rib cage from side to side. All it takes is practice and concentration."

Miss Morciglio, 24, has been dancing all her life. "I grew up in an Arabic community near Flint and everybody danced."

Professionally known as Miladet Nar, Miss Morciglio is a member of the Art World's Baladi Troupe, which has performed at Greek, Indian and Arabic festivals on the Detroit waterfront and at the Ann Arbor Art Fair. She has also performed at supper clubs in the metropolitan area.

She will teach an adult belly dance class this fall sponsored by the City of Plymouth Department of Parks and Recreation. Classes start Wednesday, Oct. 16 and last eight weeks. The fee is $15 per student. Classes are scheduled at 7, 8 and 9 p.m.

Dance students begin by practicing warm-up exercises that pertain to a certain dance movement, says Miss Morciglio.

"I try to show my students what the exercise is leading up to and what it will eventually accomplish."

"It's important to loosen up your body before doing belly dance movements in their entirety. This type of dancing is strenuous and must be approached slowly and correctly."

"Although belly dancing can be learned faster than some other forms of dance, such as ballet or modern dance, it still requires a considerable amount of effort and determination."

Students can wear either slacks or leotards to practice.

Warm-up exercises include every part of the body. Imagination also plays an important role in executing the graceful, swirling motion of the belly dance.

One "imagination exercise" Miss Morciglio gives her beginning students is: "Imagine a large drop of jasmine scented, jade-green oil falling into the hollow of your throat and start to slither down your body. Try to slow its course by performing the belly dance movements."

Besides performing, Miss Morciglio has taught belly dancing at Washtenaw Community College and several high schools as part of the physical education program. Although none of her former students have performed professionally some are now teachers.

Miss Morciglio spends about half of her time teaching and the other performing. "You can't just teach, performing helps me to keep a balance."

BELLY DANCE performer and instructor, Chris Morciglio demonstrates the swirling mo-

Federal retirees to meet Oct. 9

The National Association of Retired Federal Employees (NARFE), Chapter 1163, will hold its annual meeting at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 9, in Bill Knapp's Restaurant, Ann Arbor and Haggerty Roads in Plymouth.

This will be a luncheon-business meeting for election and installation of officers for the 1974-75 year. Carl F. Wright, field vice president of Region IV, will install the elected officers.

Reginald Jenkins, president of Michigan Federation of Chapters, will assist and give highlights of the national convention in Portland, Ore.

Is your new car equipped with personal accident insurance?

Your Detroit Bank-er can show you why buying a new car might be the best way to establish credit.

The first thing your DETROIT BANK-er can do is show you why establishing credit is so important to you.

One reason, of course, is that setting up and keeping up a household can get very expensive. Sometimes you just don't have the cash to pay for all the things you need and want.

Credit lets you buy what you really need now and spread the cost by paying for it over a period of time.

But there's more to it than that. Even if you don't need credit right now, unless you're extremely wealthy, someday you will. When you buy a house, for example.

You can't just assume that you're going to get money for a mortgage. Some people are turned down. And one of the decisive factors is your credit rating.

Frankly, your past history of buying and paying on credit to a large degree determines your future likelihood of getting more credit when you need it.

What it boils down to is that you have to borrow in order to establish credit.

Buying a new car is a good way to start. And your DETROIT BANK-er can help.

He can provide the money you need for that new car. And he can handle all the details quickly—directly with the dealer, if you like.

He'll also make sure that your loan is one you can handle. One that requires monthly payments that won't take too big a bite out of your budget to help you get off on the right foot in establishing a good credit record.

Even if you're not in the market for a new car, your DETROIT BANK-er is a good man to know. He can help you establish credit with a loan for any good reason.

So stop by and talk with him soon. There are more than 80 Detroit Bank & Trust offices in the Metropolitan Detroit area to serve you—26 with Saturday banking hours for added convenience.

Credit leaders to meet Oct. 3

Credit union leaders of western Wayne County will hold the first among many Michigan recognitions of International Credit Union Day tonight (Thursday) in the Copper Door, Westland.

The dinner meeting for officials and guests of the Filene Chapter of the Michigan Credit Union League celebrates the 40th anniversary of the league and the 125th anniversary of the world's first credit union, in Germany.

Credit Union Day will be observed in Michigan on Oct. 17.

The Filene Chapter program tonight will deal with impending changes in credit union operations. A workshop on electronic funds transfer systems will be held.

A total membership of more than 120,000 and combined assets of $130 million give the 39 credit unions of the Filene Chapter a strong interest in the outcome of the credit union effort to maintain a competitive position in the financial lending business.

THE OBSERVER AND ECCENTRIC NEWSPAPERS, INC.

Dear Friend,

You are aware of the dramatic increase in the price of food, gasoline, clothing, in fact about everything you buy. But are you aware that hospitalization costs have continued to rise to record levels?

According to the American Hospital Association, the average cost per patient day in the hospital reached $105.30 a day in January of 1973, over a 14% increase in just one year!

Stop for a moment and consider this daily cost against what your present insurance will pay. You will probably discover that your policy will not adequately meet today's high cost of a hospital stay. If it doesn't, you need the supplemental protection of the Americare® Family Hospitalization Indemnification Policy.

Here are some facts about the policy which will appeal to you...

...protection begins with the first day for covered sickness or accident.

...covers hospital confinement for any covered accident sustained after your policy is issued, and any covered sickness that first manifests itself after 30 days from the date of issue.

All you have to do to receive additional information about this policy is to fill out and mail the postage-paid reply card. An American Republic Agent will provide complete facts and a free gift. You will be under no obligation to buy.

Cordially,

Watson Powell, Jr.

FREE SPACE AGE EMERGENCY BLANKET!

When you send for information about the Americare® Family Hospitalization Indemnification Policy, you'll receive this amazing blanket by Thermacore. The blanket is similar to that used on the moon and is a superior insulating quality blanket. It's lightweight, waterproof, and can be folded into a small package for easy carrying.

American Republic will provide benefits of from $7.50 to $60 a day beginning the first day you are hospitalized for covered sickness or injury...

Since the average stay in the hospital for people under sixty-five is about seven days, it is important that you buy a hospital policy that starts paying the first day you are hospitalized for covered sickness or accident. The Americare® Family Hospitalization Indemnification Policy is basic first day coverage which can be valuable to any other supplemental policy you might own that only offers protection after the third, fifth or even after the seventh day of hospital confinement.

Why you may need Americare in addition to other hospitalization insurance you may have.

According to the American Hospital Association the average cost per patient day in the hospital reached $105.30 in January of 1973. In fact, this cost has increased over 100% in ten short years.

You probably have group insurance or a policy purchased from your agent. Keep it. You need it.

A hospital stay of only a few days can deplete your savings and leave you in debt. Your Americare protection can help you meet your hospital-stay related expenses and supplement the coverage of your present insurance.

Yours for a lifetime.

You will be covered as long as you live and continue to pay your current premium on time. Your policy cannot be cancelled nor will we fail to renew it because of health reasons, regardless of the number of claims.

Benefits are provided direct to you, or you may assign them to your doctor or hospital.

This policy (Form A1881) provides benefits in addition to any other insurance you may have up to 365 days.

EXCEPTIONS:

This policy does not cover any sickness that manifests itself less than 30 days from the date of issue; accidents occurring prior to the date of issue; or hospital care due to war, mental disorder, maternity, dental work, or in a U.S. Government or Veterans Hospital. "Hospital" as defined in the policy does not include clinics, convalescent homes, rest homes, nursing homes, or hospitals for the aged, drug addicts or alcoholics.

Your individual rate can never be changed unless the rate is changed for all policyholders in your class, or of your age at the time your policy was issued, or of your sex.

Act Now!

Don't gamble with your future.

According to the latest published figures, one person in seven will go to the hospital this year. Right now, while it is fresh in your mind—please fill in the postage-paid reply card below and mail it today. An American Republic Agent will furnish the FREE gift shown and complete information on the Americare Family Hospitalization Indemnification Policy.

Choose from 8 Americare Family Hospitalization Indemnification Policies to fit your needs.
