TERI SZILAGYI was crowned Plymouth-Salem Homecoming Queen at last Friday night's halftime ceremonies. Teri brought the Rocks good luck as the team ran its string to 7-0 this season, trimming Belleville 13-8. Teri's older brother, Jim, was a star Plymouth-Salem quarterback two years ago.

Loop road decision expected by next May

By W. W. EDGAR

PLYMOUTH—The final decision on whether the much discussed loop road in the downtown business district will become a reality or be tossed back into the dusty archives where plans have been stored for the past 14 years will be made not later than 1975.

This is the promise made by City Manager Fred Yockey in an address before the Plymouth Rotary Club Friday noon.

"At the present time our city commission is divided in its opinion of the worth or need of the loop road," Yockey stated, "but we hope to have them of one mind by spring—not later than March 1."

The city manager, who confided that he would like to see the proposed road built in segments—with the first in the center of the present business area, told the Rotarians that extensive studies are about to be made, both by visits to other cities, and by traffic experts, with the hope that a decision can be made.

The traffic study is to be completed by Jan. 1.

While bringing the Rotarians up to date on the loop road, Yockey also updated several other projects that would be assets to the city.

Among these he announced that plans for the proposed Pilgrim Towers, a home for senior citizens, are being resubmitted to the state with more than an even chance of approval.

AS PROPOSED, this building would be 12 stories high, contain 200 units and would be built on Ann Arbor Trail between Hamilton Street and the railroad.

"Under our proposal," Yockey stated, "the rentals will run about $125 monthly, and we are going full swing to bring the project about."

Pilgrim Towers has been discussed and planned for several years, with former mayor James Houk as the guiding spirit. More than a year ago the plan was turned down by the federal government on the theory that the site was not suitable—being too close to the railroad.

Since then several other sites have been studied, but none of them is as suitable as the Ann Arbor Trail location.

The city manager also disclosed a projected capital improvements program that would be paid for with the funds obtained in revenue sharing.

"At the present time," Yockey said,

"we receive $100,000 a year and we will receive that much each year for the next five so that we now can outline a program."

"One of the major improvements being planned," he said, "is to build a second story on the rear of City Hall to provide much needed room for the firemen. This can be accomplished without much difficulty."

Yockey also told the Rotarians that along with this addition new equipment can be purchased and that $57,000 already is being spent for new apparatus.

"The price of this equipment has gone up 30 per cent in the past year," he said, "but we were fortunate and got in under the wire with only 20 per cent increase over a year ago."

HE ALSO UPDATED the public works program in which he said that a new wood chipper had been purchased to furnish an added service and that a plan for increased refuse collection was being studied that would include one-man vehicles.

"The thing to remember," he cautioned his listeners, "is that the city cannot expand and that the only way to grow is up. Therefore, we must guide our thinking along those lines."

When he opened his remarks to questions the old bugaboo—parking—rose its head.

Are there any plans afoot for more parking?

Would it be advisable for the city to establish a parking authority?

What part would parking play in the decision on the loop road?

The city manager, who had been through this obstacle course before, fielded all the questions with aplomb—but left some room for argument.

He stated that he thought Plymouth, at this moment, had enough parking space, but it was in the wrong place.

He further explained that the city now has a building authority that has the right to proceed with building a parking area, if it chooses.

He also explained that parking would play a vital role in the proposed loop road if it is decided to make a "mall" of the present business section and thus make angle parking possible.

YOCKEY ALSO DREW some eyebrow lifting when he said that he hoped the township officials, several of whom were in the audience, would change their thinking and join in a cooperative program for police protection. He revealed that the township turned down a recent proposal and that it could be revived.

One of the major questions concerning the loop road—the part that the businessmen would play—was brought up again, and Yockey said that a survey would be made among them to get the answer.

One of the points at issue is whether the business district should be a special assessment area or whether the cost of the road should be borne by the entire city.

In defense of the businessmen, Ralph Lorenz, owner of the Mayflower Hotel and a prime mover for the loop road, suggested that a certain percentage of the sales tax returned by the state to the city each year should be set aside to pay for the loop.

He emphasized that the loop was vitally necessary because there is no place, at present, for business to expand. It could, with the loop road, and an expanded business section would help to provide funds to pay for the road, said Yockey.

It was then that Yockey reaffirmed that a final decision would be made not later than March 1, 1975.

Last meeting marked with controversy

Dingeldey fights to the end

By MARIE MCGEE

CANTON—To the surprise of practically no one, Canton Supervisor Philip Dingeldey went out fighting.

But that's been the manner of things of late at Canton board meetings, so it was only natural that Dingeldey's last official township board meeting should be marked with controversy.

All the earmarks for a good scrap were there—including the presence of Dingeldey's possible successor, Robert Greenstein.

THE TOUCHY question of what to do about providing fire protection to residents of Holiday Park subdivision had to be resolved.

An even stickier question involving site plan approval for Windsor Park Square apartment complex—long overdue—brought out 35 homeowners with Plymouth attorney Edward Draugelis in tow.

Draugelis wanted the township to give his clients more time to develop a site plan of their own that would move the parking area of the proposed plan further away from their backyards to the consternation of the developer, Sanford Ward—and Dingeldey.

And then there was the decision concerning a rezoning request of a hefty chunk of land—225 acres—in the Geddes-Beck Road area, now zoned agricultural, to allow a single family development on 60-foot and 80-foot lots.

The decision was further complicated when Trustees Brian Schwall and Richard Wolfe objected to the rezoning. Both advocated keeping the land "agricultural."

That subject alone is enough to set the "farmer" blood in Dingeldey perking somewhere near the boiling point.

That's what it did Tuesday night, and it resulted in some choice comments about the "stupidity of the county planners who say to keep the land in agriculture when it hasn't been farmed in 15 years."

The set of his jaw of late is enough to alert those who know him that an explosion is imminent.

THE FINAL eruption came after another board hopeful attempted to remand trustees for failure to take a public stand on the three-mill request that will be on the ballot Nov. 6 to boost fire-fighting facilities.

Eventually—after more than three hours—Dingeldey wearily guided the hectic session to its adjournment.

There wasn't any time left for reminiscing. He was too tired from fighting for what he thought was right.

Halloween warnings offered by police chief

PLYMOUTH—Halloween, which will be observed Thursday, brings the annual suggested safety rules from the Michigan State Police and the Plymouth Police Department.

Plymouth chief, Timothy Ford, said the objective of his department is to keep the activities which result in destruction of property or theft under control.

"We are certain, the ghosts and goblins will avoid extending their activities to the point where it will be necessary for police to intervene," the chief said.

"Our patrol force is primarily concerned with the protection of life and property and will direct its efforts to that end."

Ford urges anyone who sees a hazardous or potentially hazardous situation, to contact police immediately.

"IN RECENT years," the chief said, "reports have been received by police agencies about dangerous or harmful 'treats' being passed on to youngsters."

"While there has been only one such report in Plymouth, police agencies strongly recommend that all parents exercise careful control over the treats received by their children."

Ford said he urges that children not consume any "treats" until they have been inspected.

"This may be done by the parents or with the use of the metal detector that, like last year, will be in operation at Plymouth City Hall."

The detector will be available Halloween, Thursday, Oct. 31, from 6 to 10 p.m. and on Friday, Nov. 1, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

"Everyone is welcome to use this service. Any tainted or altered material should be reported to police immediately upon discovery," Ford added.

THE METAL detector can detect any foreign metallic material which may be in the candy or fruit.

The list of safety suggestions offered by police include:

"Please try to trick or treat between 6 and 8 p.m. Halloween night. All porch lights should be on."

"An adult should accompany children."

"Cross streets only at the corner."

"Dress children in light clothing"

Plymouth gets new bank

PLYMOUTH—The first new bank in the city in the past 50 years will open its doors Wednesday at 409 Main St.

Final approval for the opening of the First National Bank of Plymouth was received from the Comptroller of the Currency last Thursday and the new bank will open its doors to the public after ribbon-cutting ceremonies at 9 a.m.

To celebrate the grand opening, First National is planning a four-day open house celebration complete with carnival games, free prizes, hot dogs and beverages.

Beginning at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, the festivities will run through 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday. A contest will be held Saturday and the winner will receive a quadraphonic stereo system.

Wednesday morning's ribbon-cutting ceremonies will feature First National Bank President Charles Heidt cutting a ribbon made of 100 $1 bills that will be presented to the first 100 bank customers. State and local officials are expected to attend the ceremony.

Heidt, like all of the bank's 16 employees and board of directors, is a resident of the Plymouth Community. He came to Plymouth in 1965 while working for another bank, where he worked for 15 years, prior to joining First National in 1973. He is a native of Detroit and a graduate of Cass Technical High School. Heidt received his BA from Michigan State University in 1969. He and his wife, Connie, have two sons, Eric, 12, and Rob, 10.

Members of the bank's board of directors include William Sempliner, Harold E. Guenther, Stewart C. Old-ford, Edwin A. Schrader, and Jack Selle.

In addition to offering full service banking, the First National is introducing a new banking account called the "All-in-One" account. Any customer who opens a new account will receive a totally free checking account, a savings account and an executive credit overdraft protection plan.

The unique aspect of the account is the numbering system, allowing customers to activate each service at their own discretion. It is all contained in the package at the time the account is opened.

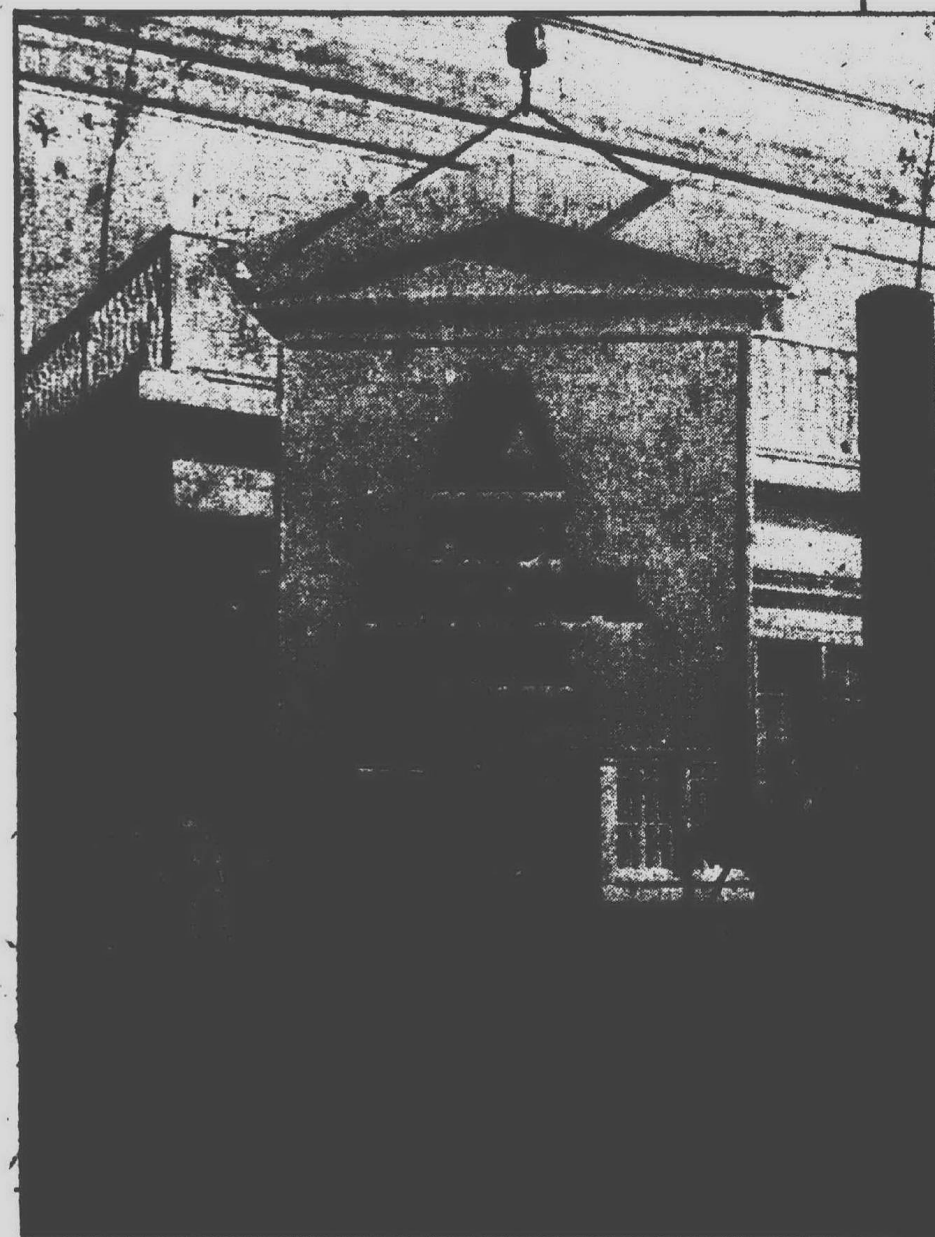

As part of the bank opening, it is planned that all visitors will receive live miniature pine tree seedlings—symbolic of the bank's new emblem. The symbol is three stylized triangles representing a pine tree configuration.

The First National Bank of Plymouth is opening after more than two years of planning and regulatory approvals in connection with Northern States Bancorporation, the Detroit-based holding company, parent company of City National Bank of Detroit.

Local Plymouth citizenry worked closely with Northern States in organizing the new bank to ensure local management and board of directors.

According to Heidt, it is the operating philosophy of the holding company that all of its member banks operate autonomously and with local management.

The bank's regular hours will be from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday, and on Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

IN PREPARATION for this week's opening of the First National Bank of Plymouth, bank employees were on hand last week for the installation of the bank's new sign. Awaiting now the Wednesday morning opening at 9 a.m. are (from left) Executive Secretary Mari Lynn Markey, bank President Charles W. Heidt, Assistant Vice President and Operations Officer Robert E. Butler, and Vice President and Cashier J. Paul Perrot.

Andover Barons rout Clarenceville, 20-3

By TOM SCHRAM

Bloomfield Hills Andover survived a case of first half jitters to take a come-from-behind 20-3 victory over game Clarenceville before a near capacity Andover homecoming crowd Friday.

The victory gave the Barons the Wayne-Oakland League title, their first since 1970, and improved their season mark to 6-1. Clarenceville is now 1-6 on the year.

It was not an easy victory for Andover, which bumbled and fumbled its way through a first half of scoreless football and fell behind 3-0 in the early goings of the second half, a field goal set up by still another Baron mistake.

BUT ANDOVER got things together late in the game, ran away from an exhausted Trojan squad which fought until the end.

Neither team could mount much of a drive in the early goings, but the Barons finally moved into Clarenceville territory early in the second quarter. Just when the crowd was being treated to the first offense of the night, however, sophomore Andover quarterback Jim Breugh blew a handoff and Clarenceville recovered on its own 40 yard line to end the mini-threat.

The Clarenceville punter was to earn his letter this night, however, as the tough Baron defense held time and again against a Trojan offense which was far from offensive.

Andover drove again late in the half but a missed blocking assignment cost the Barons another opportunity when Breugh was caught backpedaling and was thrown for a 12 yard loss after Andover had penetrated within the Trojan 30.

THE BARONS finally broke a play with time running out in the half when Larry Thompson sped 60 yards with a punt return for an apparent touchdown.

A clipping penalty, however, nullified the play and Andover took over on the Trojan 30 yard line with seven seconds remaining.

Breugh found Thompson wide open on the 15 on the next play and the senior halfback made it to the five before being downed. The clock ran out, however, before the Barons could get a timeout and Clarenceville went into the locker room with a shaky scoreless tie.

The Barons marched into Clarenceville territory early in the third quarter but an Breugh pitchout bounced off the hands of Thompson and Kevin Ingle scooped it up for Clarenceville at mid-field and headed for paydirt.

INGLE CAME up eight yards short, however, when speedy Tim Powell came out of nowhere to catch the Trojan guard and save a touchdown for Andover.

The Baron defense threw back Clarenceville and, with the help of a five-yard Baron penalty, Tony Phillips just cleared the crossbar from 23 yards away to give Clarenceville a three point lead mid-way through the third quarter.

Andover coach Frank Buford called that field goal the turning point of the game as the Barons responded by going 86 yards in eight plays following the ensuing kickoff to break into the lead.

Breugh went the final 12 yards himself around left end and Terry Henderson added the extra point to put Andover in front to stay, 7-3.

Clarenceville snapped right back with its only drive of the night when they got the ball back. But with third and one at the Andover 20, quarterback George Sholes missed a handoff and was thrown for a five yard loss.

SHOLES MISSED on a short pass on the next play and the Trojan drive was over.

Breugh was on the money after the Barons took over as he led Andover 75 yards in just seven plays for its second touchdown.

Breugh hit Baron captain Bill Hall on passes of 15 and 38 yards during the drive and Thompson capped things off with a three yard jaunt.

Henderson added his second conversion of the night to put Andover on top 14-3.

CLARENCEVILLE threatened again late in the game following a Pat Jeffrey interception, but a 30 yard pass from Sholes was picked off at the Baron goal line and Andover took over.

With time running out, Andover scored the final points of the game when Bob Hollway went off-tackle and cut to the outside for a 63 yard touchdown. The anticlimactic touchdown came with seven seconds showing on the clock.

Trojan coach Ralph Weddle saw the depth of Andover as being the key to the game.

"They just outmanned us. I had nine players going both ways and toward the end of the game it really showed," he said.

FOR BARON coach Frank Buford, it was a fitting climax to his first year on the job at Andover.

"Nobody on this team had ever played on a winning football team before. We were nervous and really tight through the first half but we didn't change anything in the second half. We were doing the right things, we just weren't doing them well enough and Clarenceville was fired up for the game," he said.

Clarenceville will conclude its season next week when it hosts Lutheran East in an 8:00 p.m. game Friday.

Andover will journey to Birmingham Groves next Friday to play an 8:00 p.m. game against the improved Falcons.

In The Pocket

By W.W. EDGAR

When the International Olympic Committee selected Moscow several days ago as the site for the 1980 games it probably delayed the addition of bowling to the program until 1984.

The reason for the delay is the fact that bowling is just being introduced in the Soviet Union. There is only one establishment in operation and the Soviets do not hold membership in the International Federation, the world organization for bowling.

Had the choice gone to Los Angeles the bowling officials feel certain that bowling would have been added to program in 1980. The 1976 program already has been approved, so it was too late to add the tenpin competition.

There's a time honored slogan that "Old bowlers never die—they just fade away."

This isn't always true and Bob Hitt, the Livonia milkman, is the latest proof.

Bob no longer bowls in the all-star leagues, but he is back on the approaches and you can take his word for it, he's doing very well.

Despite a sprained wrist he fired a 600 series at Livonia Lanes last week and became very much enthused. He found that he was favoring the wrist and the ball was going off in all directions. When he switched his delivery he started getting results and now figures he can maintain a respectable average the rest of the way.

During his tenure with the all-stars Bob maintained a back breaking schedule. He bowled in all parts of the metropolitan area until the wee hours, then drove home to Livonia, only to rise again at 4 a.m. to begin his milk route.

At that, he bowled with several of the area's top teams and more than held his own.

Those days are gone now. He's satisfied to bowl one night a week and he's having as much fun as ever doing it.

Speaking of Livonia Lanes Ray Cockerill had a great night there last week when he posted a 683.

A 190 average bowler he put together games of 237, 225 and 221 for the count that is the second highest rolled in the house this season.

This was an unusual week at Wonderland Lanes — there was only one 700 series bowled.

This was the work of Jim Shelp who opened with a 234, followed with 278 and closed with 215 for 727.

These are anxious days for Mary Mohaci, the Livonia school teacher, who will represent the United States in the world champion ships at Bogota, Columbia, South America next month.

The event has been delayed four times but is now set and Mary will join her U.S. teammates in Miami on Nov. 6 to leave for the big event.

At the moment she is bowling in the area leagues and is averaging close to 190. At that pace she should be an outstanding contender for the world title.

Harry Campbell has added his name to the list of winners in the monthly events sponsored by the Michigan Majors Association throughout the state.

He paced the field last week at the Bowling Bar Lanes in Saginaw by averaging 234 and winning 10 of his 12 games in the finals.

DOUG GRAFF proved to be the big man at Merri-Bowl. He topped the junior house league with a 258 in 659, while Steve Haeger took the runner-up spot with a 241 in 600.

They had to give way to Bob Ostler, of the St. Damian league when he linked games of 247, and 241 in a 669 series.

IT WAS ANOTHER big week for converting splits at Mayflower Lanes.

Here's how they ranked: Mike Culverhouse topped the 3-7-8-10, Lee Roberts did the same with a 6-7-10, Ruth Kinsler made the 4-10 and Carol Valchne knocked over the 4-8-10.

Only two bowlers bettered double century figures. Jim Bayes had a 607 and Don Said a 602.

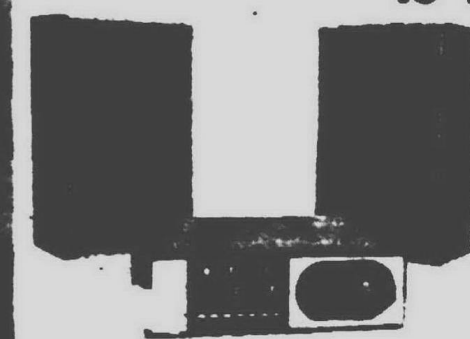

SHIRLEY BECKER made the best of a good start when she rolled a 599 at Plymouth Bowl. She opened with a 235 then added games of 195 and 160.

Sharing honors with her was Linda Hall who posted a 254 game in the Western Electric league.

IN OTHER NOTABLE performances Dave Darcy set a new high single for the house at Country Lanes when he fired a 266 in the Elks league and Ray Smith showed the way in the Teen Classic at Farmington Lanes with a 268 in 667.

ELLIE WILKINS walked off with top honors in the Livonia Ladies Classic with a count of 578-69-647 that included a high single game of 211-23-234. Other single game winners were Gerry Zang with 207-42-249 and Janice Gale with 205-28-233.

Scouting benefits from Community Fund drive

PLYMOUTH—Each fall, several hundred Plymouth boys and girls embark on the adventure of scouting.

Right now it means memorizing the pledge and getting mom to sew troop numbers on the new uniforms. But soon it will mean merit badges, field trips and campouts—experiences that seem to endure for a lifetime.

More than 3,800 Plymouth youngsters are involved in scouting. Girl Scout troops increased from 69 in 1973 to 75 this year, encompassing some 1,450 brownies, juniors, cadettes and seniors. The Boy Scout statistics show seven cub packs, seven troops and four Explorer Posts for a total of about 2,400 boys.

The neckerchiefed uniforms are a familiar sight at community events. This September, boy scouts assisted in many functions at the Plymouth Fall Festival. Area girl scouts will be operating a babysitting service for the ninth straight year at performances of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

"THIS PAST YEAR, all of the city's 75 Girl Scout Troops performed service projects for local people and organizations," according to Barbara Debrodt of the Huron Valley Council office. "Residents at Our Lady of Providence School for the Mentally Retarded, the Wayne County Child Development Center, Plymouth State Home and local nursing homes all had visits and gifts from the girl scouts."

Sometimes there are joint learning activities. During the past year, Troop 363 took first aid skills training from Boy Scout Troop P-6 and also practiced evacuation and emergency food preparation procedures.

Even Brownies had lessons in health and safety, with Brownie Troop 645 concentrating on the care of little children.

One of the biggest events of the past year was Senior Troop 501's trip last February to the Girl Scout Center, "Our Cabana" in Mexico.

PLYMOUTH boy scouts had an opportunity to participate in several big events during the past year, sponsored by the Detroit Area Council. There were two Webelos Days in 1973, offering scouts a chance to try archery, riflery, rowing and many other activities.

The University of Michigan and Michigan State University home football games enlisted some 1,800 scouts in the region to usher in the grandstand. Local packs, troops and posts also took part in Project Soar, aimed at conservation of natural resources.

As the United Fund helps scouting, scouts help the United Fund. Last fall, some 300 troops helped distribute 9,000 United Fund posters throughout the Detroit area.

Scouting doesn't need a new image, because across the nation, troops are able to expand as rapidly as there are adults who volunteer to lead them. Still, the boy scouts and girl scouts say they're changing.

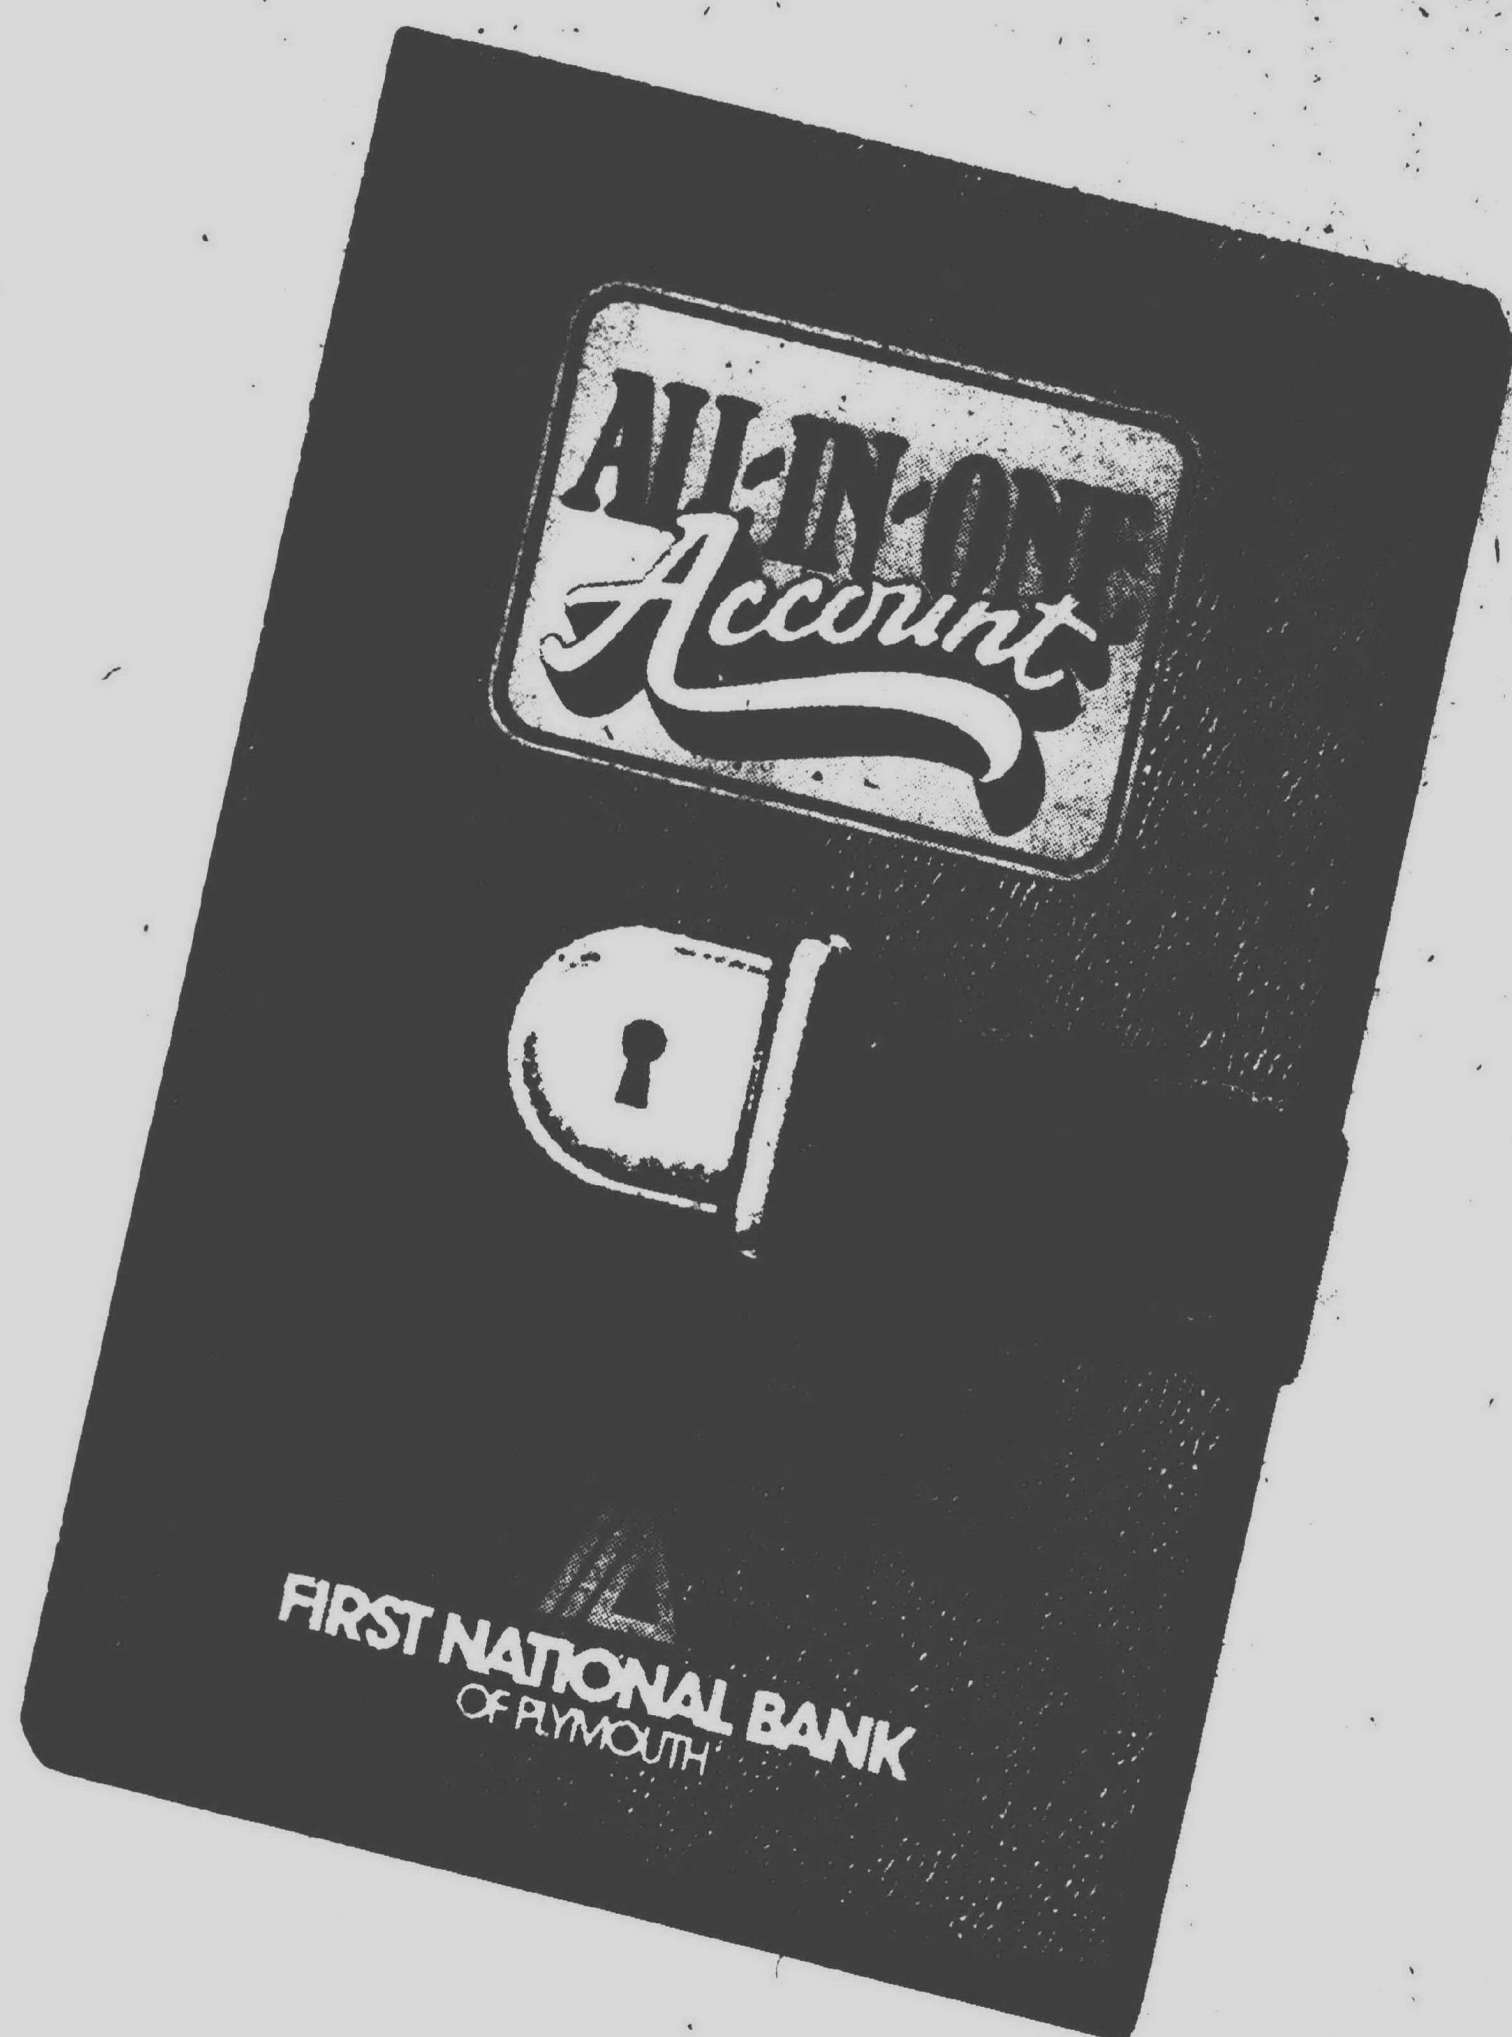

"We're still big on the traditional activities like camping and hiking," says a Detroit Area Council poster, "but today we're also learning about things like drug abuse, pollution, and all of the new challenges of city living."

The Plymouth Community Fund's allocation to scouting stretches a long way, because of the thousands of hours of volunteer time donated by parents and leaders. In addition, a large part of the organizational responsibilities at scout functions are carried out by the boys and girls themselves.

The contributions to the Community Fund are invested in such areas as leadership training, supplies and camp maintenance. The scouts pay it all back—in citizenship and service.

When you're new you gotta be better.

Sen. Griffin's teacher is honored

By MARILYN FITCHETT

While you may think that teachers' clamoring for higher wages and job security is a new development in education, Alice Lydia Schatz can look back to 1939 as the year she was fired as a Garden City teacher simply because she had a husband who could support her. After a year of forced inactivity she was rehired and then set out to establish a tenure ruling which Garden City teachers still enjoy today. "There was a time when politics interfered with teaching," Mrs. Schatz said. "I worked for tenure because our jobs were shaky. We had no security. "We delivered petitions asking that teachers be placed on probation for a couple of years, then be granted full tenure. And that's what we have today. It used to be that a teacher could be fired for just any reason."

LAST WEEK the Garden City Historical Commission honored Mrs. Schatz as its Pioneer Teacher, honoring her for her 34 years of service. And although she contends that she thoroughly enjoyed teaching in Garden City's old No. 1 Schoolhouse, she says she wouldn't want to be teaching in today's classrooms.

"Discipline wasn't a problem," Mrs. Schatz recalled. "We had the backing of the parents. If a child misbehaved we got an interview with the parents right away."

"I wouldn't want to teach now with all the disrespect that is shown." Still, Mrs. Schatz wouldn't blame today's parents for difficulty with their children.

"Parents are handicapped today. I used to teach eighth grade arithmetic with ease but I couldn't do that today. I could help my kids but I can't help my grandkids with the new math and all."

MOTIVATION was never a problem for Mrs. Schatz, but she recognizes it as a problem for today's teacher. "In my day the children weren't so jaded with entertainment. The youngsters are so sophisticated now that they're hard to motivate. When I taught, a simple walk in the woods was enough motivation for a student to learn about science."

Probably the biggest difference in teaching today and teaching yesterday is the change in structure and class size. "Our classrooms weren't primitive but we lacked facilities. And our classes were large, with as many as 50 or 60 students. All of our extracurricular activities were on our own time."

While every teacher probably has a prize student, Mrs. Schatz has a student who grew up to be a U.S. senator. She was the eighth, ninth and tenth grade English teacher of Robert Griffin and even has the class picture with an unmistakable Griffin standing in the back row.

"He was an excellent student. He was one of the best. I don't think that boy ever got a B in his life; always A's. The problem I had with him was that he didn't like to make book reports."

Despite the fact that Mrs. Schatz' starting salary was $130 month she does not believe in striking for higher wages.

"When I was teaching I was a member of the Michigan Education Association but it was a professional group then. It didn't mean to strike out for higher wages. We never would have dreamed of stopping work to get higher wages."

"I think the present salaries are pretty adequate."

"Teachers need raises to meet the cost of living, but there is a limit to what the taxpayer can afford."

"And that's something that should be thrashed out at the bargaining table. I think we could have gotten along without a strike this year if both parties would have been willing to bargain in good faith."

STILL, MRS. SCHATZ would like to see an accountability formula worked out by the state. "I don't think the local board of education would be knowledgeable enough to set up a formula on their own."

A long-time Garden City resident, Mrs. Schatz served on the first Garden City recreation commission, headed up the Junior Red Cross during World War II, was a 4-H Club leader and a member of the first Garden City Historical Commission. "This town has been good to us," she said.

GRAND OPENING! GRAND OPENING!

He's promoted

PLYMOUTH—John A. Manoogian of Plymouth was recently appointed assistant general manager for product development at Ford Tractor Operations in Troy.

Manoogian is in charge of all product planning and engineering for Ford's farm and industrial tractors and construction equipment.

Manoogian is a mechanical engineering graduate of the Detroit Institute of Technology. He began his career with Ford in 1941 and has held a number of management positions before his promotion. He is also a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and the Detroit Economic Club.

THESE PLYMOUTH RESIDENTS can hardly wait for the snow to blow and take to the slopes with the Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department's Ski Club. Members (from left) Linda Leavenworth, Earl Merriman, Susan Jarvis and Lorraine Jarvis remind ski buffs that the club will hold an orientation meeting at 8 p.m. on Nov. 11 in the Cultural Center. Grange dinner Nov. 2

PLYMOUTH—The Plymouth Grange will serve a roast beef dinner Nov. 2 in the Grange Building, 398 Union Street.

Three seatings are planned at 5, 6, and 7 p.m. Reservations may be made until Tuesday, Oct. 29, by contacting Mrs. Howard Strebbling on Eccles Road. Donations are $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children five to 10 years of age. There will be an increase of 25 cents per ticket for those sold at the door.

The roast beef dinner with "all the trimmings" will climax the Grange Holiday Fantasy Fair which opens at 9 a.m. Friday, Nov. 1. Booths will be upstairs in the Grange Hall while luncheons and snacks will be available downstairs.

Serving hours are 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday and 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday. At 3 p.m. they will close the food department to prepare the roast beef dinner. Hot apple dumplings with vanilla sauce will be served for dessert.

The Grange members will have their own booth with handmade items and baked goods. There also will be other booths which are rented on a consignment basis. There is no admission charge to the bazaar.

City, township reject crossing guard fees

PLYMOUTH—Although the school district billed both the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township more than two months ago for the cost of providing crossing guards with in their boundaries last year, neither has paid.

Canton Township paid for its share of the service Aug. 29.

It cost the schools $26,531.46 to put guards on district corners last year. The schools bill the other governmental agencies involved for half of the cost of the guards in their area.

The City of Plymouth was charged $5,180. Plymouth Township $5,373 and Canton Township $2,711.

"This distribution makes it apparent that no unit of government is being excessively charged," Board President Dr. E. J. McClelland said when the bills were sent out in August.

According to Plymouth Township Clerk Helen Richardson, the township simply can't afford to help the schools with the cost.

"It's not that we wouldn't like to," she said. "We just don't have the money." Mrs. Richardson noted that while the city can levy up to 15 mills for operating revenue and Canton up to five mills, Plymouth Township has a one-mill ceiling.

She said also that the township has nothing to say about what corners the guards cover. "The township never has any voice," she said. "We don't have any jurisdiction over them." She said that because the school district won approval earlier this year of a special four-mill safety levy, it was in a better position to finance the guards' salaries.

She said that the township did contribute to such school safety ventures as a light at Allen School and an overpass at Fiegel School.

According to City Manager Fred L. Yockey, the City of Plymouth would gladly pay its share if the township would cooperate.

"The city is willing to pay," he said, "as long as we find out that the others are willing to, we'll pay our $5,000."

Although he indicated that the city would withhold payment pending assurance that the township would chip in, Yockey said that the city commission approved of the billing procedure as a means of supporting the guards.

"We're in favor of it as an equitable way to go," he said.

According to Mrs. Richardson, the township recently received a second notice from the schools, but reiterated its argument that it could not afford to pay.

The board of education's proposed operating budget for the current year earmarks $28,000 to pay for the crossing guard program.

RIDDLED WITH OVER 200 BULLET HOLES from the GODFATHER

The car which played a key role belonged to the Godfather's flamboyant son, Sonny Corleone. When Sonny was ambushed at a tollbooth, it triggered an all-out war between rival "families" and brought the film to its crescendo of action. Paramount Pictures decided that a 1941 Lincoln Continental would be perfect for Sonny because it has all the characteristics of a gangster car. It was powerful for its time—a V-12 engine with 292 cubic inches and 120 horsepower. It was one of the more expensive and rare cars of its day. The 1941 Lincoln Continental is a true classic and is certain to maintain its historical position throughout the future of motorcar design.

Candidates attack surtax

John Reuther, Democratic candidate for the 2nd congressional district seat, called President Gerald Ford's economic program a "blow to the middle income consumer's family budget" at a recent press conference.

"Ford's proposals will create hardships for people already facing a drastic slide in their standard of living," said Reuther.

The candidate said that the proposed surtax slaps both consumers and corporations, but that corporations could better afford the hike.

Reuther pointed out that eliminating "tax loopholes" would generate the $6 billion the surcharge is intended to raise.

HIS REPUBLICAN opponent, Marvin Esch, also is opposed to the five per cent surtax which would be levied on single persons earning more than $7,500 and married persons earning more than $15,000.

"The major problem is to balance the budget and stop deficit spending," said Esch.

"I oppose the surtax because it hits the middle income American," said Esch.

"In lieu of a surtax, I suggest we keep the federal budget down to $295 or 297 billion rather than $300 billion," said Esch.

"The Democrats, led by Wilbur Mills, have held back tax reform; if we control expenses, we can reduce the budget," he said.

"Getting rid of the oil depletion allowance would bring in an additional $6 to $7 million," concluded Esch.

Overdraft protection, too. (Just in case.)

To err is human. Unlike most banks we understand that. Even the best of us bounces a check every now and then. And that can be an embarrassing—not to mention costly—experience.

When you qualify—the All-In-One Account covers every check you write up to your credit limit with full overdraft protection. It's a service you may not want to use, but it's there when you need it. This protection doesn't cost you a cent until you use it—and that's nice to know. Even nicer when you consider that along with overdraft protection our All-In-One Account gives you absolutely FREE no strings attached checking plus the highest bank interest in town.

Why all this? Quite simply, we're the new guys in town and—"When you're new, you gotta be better!"

We think we are better. Come to our Grand Opening this Wednesday, October 30 thru November 2 and see for yourself.

R.T. Thompson writes

How to avoid tragedy for kids this Halloween

Thursday is the big night again for the youngsters to hold their annual house to house "trick or treat" tour of the neighborhood in quest of the goodies that traditionally are there for the asking. That is they have been there with the exception of the past few years when numerous cases of evil-minded persons who have tried to take their spite out on the youngsters have been reported.

We can't quite believe that anyone would be so nasty and mean as to place needles and razor blades in apples, poison popcorn balls, cover bars of soap with chocolate, cover dangerous pills with chocolate and similar things.

But area police authorities report it has happened in the recent years and warn parents to be careful of all items picked up by their children during the traditional march from house-to-house.

Authorities in most communities recommend that parents or an adult accompany the children making the rounds. We all know the kiddies can hardly wait until it gets dark to don their costumes and start moving through the neighborhood. If they go alone, they are apt to run across lawns, across streets paying very little attention to cars traffic or what have you.

THERE IS ONLY one thing on their minds, pound on the door, get a few more offerings for the bag and then off to the next stop.

Generally, if there is more than one in a family, then there is competition to see who can get the most during the time they are allowed to roam the streets by their parents.

'Tis a night for ghosts and goblins and all types of youngsters in all types of costumes and there isn't any reason why it shouldn't be a night each will remember for a long time.

But unfortunately there are those who spoil the fun for everyone. They are the ones who race through the streets, grab the bags from the youngsters, throw things at houses, soap and wax windows and cover automobiles parked along the curb with most anything they can get their hands on.

These are the ones who really irritate folks and often cause them to turn against anyone coming to their home on Halloween night. Still that doesn't mean they should become so angry they feel they have to take it out on someone.... the kids.

Parents are urged to inspect all treats before anything is eaten. Fruit should be washed and cut into small pieces to make certain nothing has been placed inside.

Unpackaged items such as popcorn or small candies should be discarded as well as any unwrapped candy.

Just to be on the safe side, parents should examine all candy bars closely.... one never knows when a person decides to stick a needle deep into the sweet articles.

DRIVERS ARE WARNED to use special caution when traveling neighborhood streets during the period from 6 to 9 p.m. After that it will be reasonably safe since the youngsters will have vanished long since and gone back home to count the loot and get ready for bed.

Here are a few safety tips that one should consider: —Wigs should be nonflammable. Hairspray can often be used to create the desired effect. —Fluorescent strips, patches or paint, increase visibility after dark.

—Makeup is much safer than a mask which can obscure vision and costumes should not include high heels or poorly fitting costume shoes which may cause a child to stumble and fall. —Toy weapons should be made of cardboard so they won't injure if fallen upon.

—Have the child carry a flashlight in one hand so he or she will be more visible and to make it easier to see where he or she is going.

—Tell your children to always stay on the sidewalk and look both ways before crossing the street.

—Instruct children not to approach a house that is entirely dark and not to go to the house of any known crank or persons who are known to be intolerant of kids.

John Markes also misuses 'Legisletter'— a waste of taxes

A couple of weeks ago, Republican State Rep. Robert Geake caught a two-barrel broadside for using a legislative newsletter for image-building rather than for informing taxpaying constituents about how he voted.

The same criticism now applies to Democratic State Rep. John Markes, whose 36th House District covers northern Westland and southwest Livonia.

Markes' newsletter arrived Oct. 19, or about two weeks after Geake's, which means Markes is sending out a state mailing even closer to election day. On the other hand, Markes didn't use his own picture whereas Geake did.

THE FIRST inside page of Markes' "legisletter" informs us that a new state law eliminates the waiting week for unemployment benefits, another prohibits warning of nursing home inspections, still another creates K-12 career development programs—but it never says how Markes voted on them.

We learn too that the Legislature has passed laws to permit generic drug substitutions, to "provide for handicapped in Construction Code," to make public school retirement non-contributory, to revise the rape law...and so on.

Nowhere does Markes say how he voted on any of them.

Nowhere does he say whether he thinks the laws good, bad or indifferent.

IT'S TOO BAD, because Markes has nothing in particular to be ashamed of. He's hard-working, industrious, sober, and moderate to liberal in general philosophy.

The daily papers and Common Cause make a big odor about lawmakers and their newsletters. I don't find their newsletters obnoxious as long as they're truly informing the voters of what they did.

But when Markes—or any other lawmaker—uses his newsletter for image-building rather than giving an accounting of his stewardship, then that "Legisletter" is tax money wasted.

The Stroller On Halloween changes

By W.W. EDGAR

In a few more days the ghosts and goblins will be out for their annual rendezvous and their coming this year will lend further evidence of the great changes that have taken place in the celebration of Halloween.

If custom is followed this year, the youngsters will be out going from house to house in what they call "Trick or Treat." They'll have all sorts of bags and containers to hold the gifts given them and then be on their way.

In many cases they'll be youngsters, accompanied by their parents, who will be standing back in the dark to watch their offspring carrying out their two-faced (they'll be in masks) begging.

IT WASN'T always this way and each year when the little goblins arrive The Stroller keeps looking for some of the old time "tools" we had in the days when he was a youngster in a mask.

One of the favorite tools was a wooden spool that was notched on the beveled edges. With them we'd wrap a bit of cord that made the wierdest noise when they unwound against a window pane.

The horrible sound was much like the cry of the famed Irish banshee and if ever you heard one of them, at any time, the cry would scare the wits out of a person.

As kids, we'd go in small groups and take turns running the spool up and down the windows and then race for a hiding place to watch the scared folks come to the door, look around and then let out oaths in the direction of the kids who did the trick.

On other occasions, we would band together and serenade the home folks with song. There'd be quartets, octettes and 'gang' singing—and all done with our hands out in a manner of seeking gifts. It was all done in a real spirit of fun.

TODAY, there's no singing serenade, no window rattling, or the making of weird noises to 'scare' the inhabitants. Instead, there is only the fear that the youngsters wearing the masks will be given dangerous gifts, such as poisoned apples or candy with razor blades inserted by unthinking individuals who may consider this as being smart.

New life for an old house

THIS IS HOW the home Henry Root built 100 years ago looks today in its restored state. The insert at the right is a reproduction of a painting made of the house about 1890 and used by Ellice and Alden Kulick as a model for restoration. (Staff photos by Harry Mauthe)

BY MARGARET MILLER

Two women, more than a century apart in time, share in the destiny of a historic Plymouth house recently spruced up and ready to begin its second 100 years.

The women are Phebe Root, one of this area's earliest pioneers, and Ellice Kulick, a lady of today who can look to the past with deep appreciation.

The house is a graceful Victorian farmhouse located at 49770 Ann Arbor Road.

THE STORY BEGINS in 1825, when young Phebe Root and her schoolmaster husband, Roswell, journeyed by covered wagon from their New England home to homestead in the new Michigan territory.

Their destination was 400 acres of land a little west of the area where the Starkweather and Tibbets families had not too long before begun the settlement that now is Plymouth.

The journey wasn't an easy one for the young pioneer and the girl who had been one of his students back in Connecticut.

They loaded their wagon with household goods, and it was so full that Phebe had to walk a good share of the way, carrying in her arms their first-born daughter, just five weeks old when the trip began.

NOTHING WAS EASY, either, when they arrived to claim their land grant—woods and an orchard and fields fronting the trail that led to Ann Arbor.

The young couple built a log cabin not far from the road. Roswell set about clearing the land for farming.

Phebe, beginning her homemaking tasks in the new land, was in for some frightening times.

Back east, some of her family had been killed by Indians, and that made her terrified when some braves showed up in the clearing next to the cabin.

But she learned that the Indians had come to use the grinding stone they had put there to make their maize into meal. The property, Phebe found out, had been the Indians' home.

Later she wrote in the diary she kept of those homesteading days that she let the Indians come to use their grinding stone. She also found out that they were often hungry, so she shared her food with them whenever she could.

TIME WENT ON. Roswell became a glassmith and a carpenter as well as teacher and farmer. He took on the duties of the area's first postmaster, and he served in the Michigan Legislature when it was still meeting in Detroit.

Phebe bore 10 children in all, and it wasn't surprising that a larger home had to be built farther back from the road.

The family had its share of the ups and downs of pioneer life. During one dry summer, Phebe wrote in her diary that the apple trees in the original orchard were in danger of being lost.

In addition to her other unending tasks, she saved them that year by carrying water, bucket by bucket, from a nearby pond.

AS THE ROOT CHILDREN grew up and married, the property was divided. The site of the original log cabin finally went to the youngest son, Henry Root. His wife was Elizabeth Fairman, daughter of a family that also had homesteaded along Ann Arbor Road.

Roswell Root, now an elderly man, made one proviso as he turned that section of his land grant over to his son Henry. The young man was to take care of his mother when his father was gone.

In the early 1870s Henry Root drew up plans for a fine new house on the site of the original cabin. His father saw the plans and the beginning of building, but died before the two-story frame home could be completed. Phebe lived there with Henry and Elizabeth and their children until her death.

Henry's family found the sturdy house a fine home. So did the family of his son, Lewis, and two more generations.

But then the old home began to fall into disrepair.

AND THAT IS WHERE Ellice Kulick enters the story.

It was 23 years ago that Mrs. Kulick and her research engineer husband, Alden, started coming regularly through the Plymouth area.

Eleven years ago they moved into a home on Joy Road. Always interested in knowing more about the past, Ellice learned and taught her children about the old arts—spinning, weaving, experimenting with the natural dyes her great-grandmother might have used.

She became an expert in that field, and was for a time on the Greenfield Village staff, teaching spinning and dyeing.

BUT IN ALL THE TIME she had known the Plymouth area, she had been fascinated by the old house on Ann Arbor Road.

"I used to drive by and admire that house," she said. "I never had seen the inside, but there was such a stately grandeur outside—I used to tell my children I was going to own it some day."

The chance came a little over a year ago when descendants of Roswell Root put it up for sale. But when Ellice took her husband to look at it "he told me I'd lost my mind."

She said she suggested that with his architectural background he could "see the possibilities."

"He told me," she went on, "that's why he was saying I'd lost my mind." So they bought the old house.

THEN BEGAN a process of renovation that has required so far more than $30,000—to say nothing of a lot of ingenuity and determination.

There was help, though, in a painting of the house that was made about 1890 by Lily Fairman, a cousin of Elizabeth. The painting was loaned to the Kulicks by Mrs. Clarabelle Kelley, a relative of the Fairman family, who lives near the old house.

She also had the original land grant papers and the diary of Phebe Root.

"We used the painting as a guide in restoring the house," Mrs. Kulick said.

"The house was really in bad shape," she added. "The floor was sagging badly. There are seven stanchions in the basement now, where before there were none."

The plaster was falling off. We replaced it with dry wall, because the contractor said the old timbers wouldn't take wet plaster.

"All the windows had to be replaced, and of course they had to be specially milled. That alone cost $5,000."

AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE was saved from the original house. The banisters planed 100 years ago are in the renewed house, but some of the spindles have been replaced.

The old front porch had to be torn down and rebuilt, but the Kulicks managed to save some of the overhead boards.

The old house has seven outside doors, and all are restored to be used. One has a bell that rings when you pull a chain from the porch. And beside that same door hangs a pierced tin lantern.

"That lantern," Mrs. Kulick said, was on the covered wagon when the Roots first came here. It had been in the home next door, and when that property was sold for a nursery they brought it to me."

Woodwork and high ceilings in the old house were painted white, and a wallpaper with a gold design was chosen for the walls.

Out in the yard, the Kulicks discovered, as Phebe Root had some 150 years ago, the Indian corn grinding stone.

"We're going to put a little picket fence around it," Ellice said. "I never had seen one before."

AND NOW THE REJUVENATED house has a new purpose.

In its front yard hangs a small sign reading "Studio of Ellice," and the craft classes that Mrs. Kulick had conducted in her home have moved to the new surroundings.

Robert Kaiser, rug-hooking teacher at Greenfield Village, has students in a class there, and Mrs. Kulick's daughter, Theresa Witten, assists him in the teaching.

Theresa and her husband, Jim, also have an apartment on the second floor of the century-old building.

One room is filled with spinning wheels for Ellice's classes, and another has looms. A daughter-in-law, Patty Kulick, has pottery classes.

Antiques the Kulick family has collected fill the rooms. In the dark basement, the Kulicks found the old postmaster's mail-sorting boxes and an old tool bench with some of the tools Roswell used.

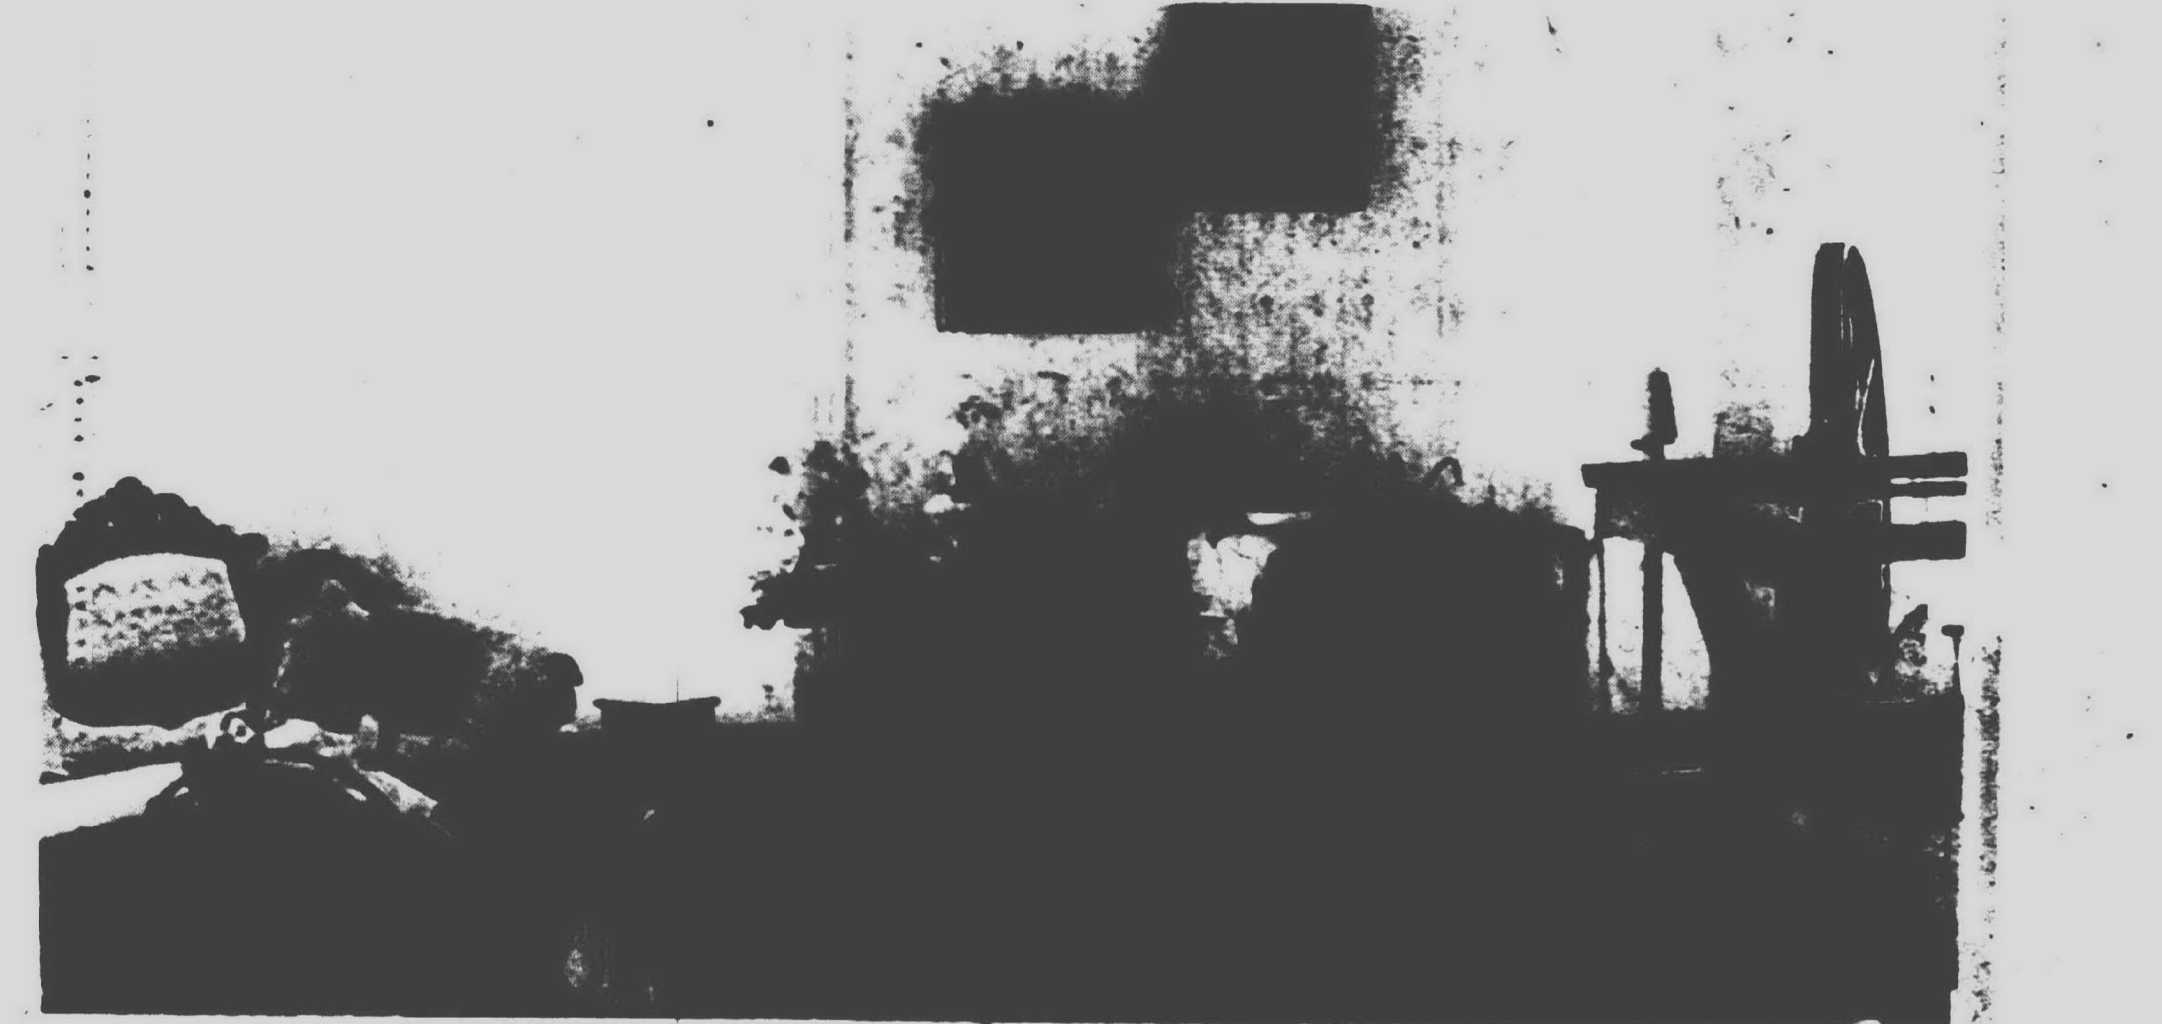

"We want to finish restoring the basement so school classes can come out and see how the men worked in pioneer times," Mrs. Kulick said.

SHE ALSO has been studying with fascination the diary left by Phebe, and the old records and Root family tree.

"The more I learn about Phebe the more I am amazed by her strength and character," she said.

And anyone looking around the lovingly-restored building and seeing the busy activity there might say the same about the house's present mistress.

You get the feeling Phebe would have approved.

MRS. KULICK sits in one of the bright rooms of her restored house, now a studio. Antiques and a huge loom dominate the decor.

SAMPLE from the diary
Phebe Root kept of the early days of her life in the Plymouth area.

The first tree had been cut on the 25th of May and enough of a clearing so some corn had been raised, but still during this first winter they had to depend on getting grain for their one cow and other supplies from Detroit.

Plymouth had two families, the Starkweathers and the John Tibbets.

Bernadene Francis wed in St. Richard

Bernadene Francis, daughter of Mrs. Felicia Francis of Marquette Avenue, Westland, became the bride of Stanley K. Szymanski in a recent ceremony in St. Richard Catholic Church of Westland.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve F. Szymanski of North Muskegon. The Rev. J. P. O'Callaghan officiated, and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Ronald Francis.

She wore a floor-length organza gown with venice lace at the bodice and hemline. Lace also edged her chapel veil and she carried dried white and orange flowers.

Her sister, Mrs. Charles Finrock of Westland, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Denise Sonnenberg of Westland and three sisters of the bridal pair, Terrie and Sylvia Francis and Nancy Szymanski.

All wore empire gowns in a floral print of orange, yellow and white and carried baskets of dried flowers.

The best man was Steve Szymanski, the bridegroom's brother. Seating the guests were three brothers of the bride, Ronald, Christopher and Patrick Francis, and Michael James of Rockford.

The reception was held in the VFW hall in Westland.

The couple will live in Muskegon, where the bridegroom is employed by Howmet Corp. as an engineering draftsman.

Both newlyweds are graduates of Ferris State College. The new Mrs. Szymanski also graduated from John Glenn High School and has been employed as executive secretary by I.C. Harris & Co.

Saunders-Paggi

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Saunders of Delaware Avenue, Redford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Ann, to Michael Paggi of Farmington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Paggi of Wappingers Falls, N.Y. The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Redford Union High School and a senior in the Grace Hospital School of Nursing. Her fiancé graduated from the University of Detroit in 1972 and is employed as a product development engineer by the Ford Motor Co. Their wedding date is May 3.

Dutton-Hahn

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dutton of Livonia announce the engagement of their daughter, Jacquelyn Sue, to Gordon Harold Hahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Hahn of Greensburg, Ind. The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Bentley High School and attended Georgetown College in Kentucky. Her fiancé also attended Georgetown as well as Greensburg Community College and Lawrence Institute of Technology. The couple plan to marry in November and will continue their studies at Indiana University.

Sponberg-Stafford

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Sponberg of Marquette announce the engagement of their daughter, Ingrid Linnea, to William Stafford of Northville and formerly of Livonia. The bride-elect is a 1971 graduate of Ypsilanti High School and is a senior at Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio, where she is president of the Student Government Association and a member of Mortar Board. Her fiancé, a 1969 graduate of Stevenson High School, also graduated from Wittenberg and is a graduate student at the University of Michigan Institute for Public Policy. They plan a May 17 wedding.

2 receptions held for newlyweds

Mr. and Mrs. Craig S. Waitkus, married recently in Preston, Conn., were honored at two wedding receptions.

The first followed the ceremony in St. Catherine of Sienna Catholic Church. It was held in the VFW hall in Greenville, Conn. A week later the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Waitkus of Radcliff Street, Garden City, brought his bride here for a reception in the VFW Post 7575 hall in Garden City.

The new Mrs. Waitkus is the former Marie Lambert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lambert of Preston.

For the nuptials, she wore a lace and chiffon gown and a chapel headpiece that held a short veil. Her bouquet was of white roses, carnations and daisies.

Ann Lambert, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and Sharon Waitkus, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Assisting the bridegroom were Mike Suchy of Garden City as best man and Mark Minor of Bristol, Conn., as usher.

The couple will live in Eatontown, N.J. The bridegroom, a graduate of Garden City West High School and a veteran of service in the U.S. Army, is employed by the federal government at Fort Monmouth.

The new Mrs. Waitkus is a graduate of the licensed practical nurse course at the Norwich Regional Technical Vocational School of Connecticut.

Secretaries plan meeting

Kay Snell, Michigan division vice president of the National Secretaries Association, will present perfect attendance awards to members of the Town and Country Chapter at its orientation dinner meeting Tuesday, Oct. 29 at Leright's, 626 S. Wayne, Westland.

A social hour will start at 6 p.m. to be followed by a 7 p.m. dinner. There will also be a Tupperware display.

Secretaries, who wish more information on the association, who wish to join or who would like to attend the meeting may contact Esther Vots, 32610 W. Chicago, Livonia.

Armenian club will hold dance

Holiday fashions by Margo of Birmingham will be modeled during the dinner.

For further information about the dance, contact Virginia Kojian, 20220 Biltmore, Detroit.

The Sybille chapter meets in Dearborn and its members live in Dearborn, Detroit, Garden City, Plymouth, Redford Township, Southfield, and Northville as well as other towns.

Psoriasis club sets meeting

Dr. John J. Voorhees and Dr. Marek Stawski of the psoriasis research program will address the meeting.

Further information may be obtained from Violette Collins, president of the National Psoriasis Foundation, PO Box 926, Warren.

The Michigan chapter of the National Psoriasis Foundation will hold a meeting to discuss current research in psoriasis, a chronic skin disease, Wednesday, Oct. 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the University of Michigan Medical School in Ann Arbor.

Zervas-Hart

Dorothy A. Zervas of Livonia and M. Paul Hart of Royal Oak recently became engaged and are planning a winter wedding. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Buciero of East Detroit and her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Anna Vasseur of Detroit.

Quinn's field goal wins it Franklin gridders stun North, 23-22

By ANITA CRONE

Pressure? Livonia Franklin has never heard that teams crack under it. And kicker Dan Quinn doesn't buckle under it.

The Patriots are now a 7-0 club and No. 1 in the Northwest Suburban league after Quinn's 28 yard field goal gave Livonia Franklin a 23-22 victory Saturday over the North Farmington Raiders with just over a minute left in the game.

If Quinn's kick won the game, a Raider fumble insured the victory as Franklin recovered the ball on the North Farmington 33 yard line.

ALL THE PATRIOTS had time to do was fall on the ball.

Down by a point at the half, the Patriots managed to hold on, get Quinn in field goal position late in the fourth quarter and win the game.

"There was never any doubt that Quinn could kick the field goal," said Patriot retiring head mentor George Lovich. "The only question in our mind was what down to attempt it."

Franklin drew first blood with a little help from the opposition. After receiving the opening kickoff and moving from the 18 yard line to the 25, Tim Hollandsworth recovered a North Farmington fumble on the 45 yard line.

Paul Downs passed for the first yardage of his 202 yard afternoon total, to get the ball to the North Farmington 20 yard line.

Two rushing plays netted slight yardage for the Patriots, so Downs again went to the air, hitting his wide receiver Rick Varterasian for 13 yards and a touchdown.

QUINN'S KICK was good and the score was 7-0 Franklin.

But the Raiders marched right back as quarterback Tom Moore's aerial was right on target to Bob Patek in the middle of a group of Livonia defenders.

Bill Lough capped the drive by racing into the end zone from four yards out.

With both teams showing excellent control of the football up to the minute mark in the quarter, a short kick gave the Patriots the ball on the Raider 28 yard line at the start of the second quarter.

Quick whistle blowing by the officials gave the Franklin team an added boost, as a fumble recovery by North was disallowed.

The 28 yard scoring drive was capped by Down's second touchdown pass, again to Varterasian for 16 yards and a 14-7 lead for the Patriots.

A blocked punt gave North Farmington the ball on the Franklin 15 yard line.

Sticking to the strong rushing game, the Raiders used only two plays for a touchdown, as Lough carried the ball in from 13 yards out.

Patek carried the ball into the endzone for two points and the Raiders took the lead for the first time with 1:31 remaining in the half.

THE RAIDERS held the lead until Quinn's field goal late in the fourth quarter.

In the third quarter, the Raiders took over on their own 16 yard line and moved over the midfield mark. The drive was capped with a fake handoff to leave Patek who scored giving the Raiders a 22-14 lead with just four minutes remaining in the quarter.

Taking to the air, Downs moved his team to the Raider 37 before punting.

With victory in sight, the pressure was on the Raiders to hang onto their eight point lead, gained when Franklin's try for a tie score went astray.

After a North fumble was recovered by the Patriots, Downs led the team from its own 32 to a touchdown, capping the drive with a 33 yard pass to wide receiver Bill Gunter.

Down by two, the Patriot defense held the Raiders deep in their own territory, forcing the North Farmington team to punt.

With 5:14 remaining in the game, it was a do or die attempt for Franklin.

Using up time on the clock, the Patriots moved from their own 22 to the North Farmington 18 and left the finishing touch to Quinn.

North Farmington picked up 155 yards on the ground and 62 yards in the air for 217, slightly ahead of Downs' 202 yards in the air.

The Patriots added 77 yards rushing for a total yardage of 279.

Downs hit 13 of 26 passes for 50 per cent, while Quinn led the Patriots on the ground with 37 yards in 16 carries.

The victors also picked up 14 first downs.

"Despite the great day our guys had on the field," Lovich said, "a lot of credit has got to go to the Franklin fans. They came right along with us, and the victory line before the second half gave the team a boost."

"This is the happiest day of my life," the head mentor added. "I couldn't ask for a finer bunch of ball players. They made my last year my best year."

GC East mauls Oak Park

It was regrouping time for Gary Humphrey's Panthers and one step back into a winning season.

Garden City East opened '74 with three wins, then stumbled and fell three straight weeks. The winless Redskins of Oak Park came along just in the nick of time.

"We needed this game to restore that winning spirit," commented Humphrey after a 42-3 onslaught. "All I was attempting to do was not to make a lot of mistakes and get prepared for our final two games."

IN WHAT showed every sign of a championship season, the Panthers have fallen short and Humphrey is attempting to pick up the pieces in a campaign that can still finish at 6-3.

"Our final two games are against clubs that are now 5-2," added the East coach. "If we can cut down on our mistakes, we can take these last two."

"Things just haven't been handled right this season."

East hosts Annapolis this Friday (Nov. 1) and it's homecoming for the Panthers before the finale on Nov. 8 at Garden City West.

The now 4-3 Panthers picked up only 12 first downs against Oak Park but rushed for 325 yards. Steve Bentley paced the Panther pack with 105 yards with Joe Becszelko next with 100 yards and Lou Willoughby following with 87.

Britt Ponte's aerial game netted 87 yards, hitting on five of nine passes.

OAK PARK, meanwhile, was held to just two first downs, 66 yards on the ground and 24 in the air on two of 10 passes with Bill Nelson and Bob Davey coming up with interceptions.

East struck for paydirt the first time it got the ball with quarterback Ponte spurring in from three yards out. John Barnstable made good his first of six conversions and it was 7-0.

After an East fumble, Oak Park picked up two first downs and got on the board with an 18-yard field goal to slice it to 7-3.

The only other score of the first half came in the second quarter when Ponte connected with Dennis Puihes on a 12 yarder and it was 14-3 at the half.

The first play from scrimmage in the second half saw Lou Willoughby break loose for 46 yards and another East touchdown. After a Barnstable kick it was a 21-3 clash.

Willoughby struck again on a 15-yard dash and Ponte scored on a nine-yard burst to push it up to 35-3 heading into the final 12 minutes.

East's final tally came on an end-around with Joe Becszelko going 15 yards. Barnstable found his mark again and the Panthers were a 39 point victor.

Stevenson dumps Farmington in overtime, 12-6

By TOM DONOGHUE

It was a defensive struggle the entire 48 minutes plus some. Farmington's touchdown was set by up a blocked punt and Stevenson's first score via a fumble recovery.

"Our defense simply overwhelmed them," commented Reardon Spartans wound up 5-0 in the loop and stand at 6-1 overall. "It was our offense that lacked any kind of a sparkle."

FARMINGTON was held to zero yards rushing and just 19 in the air with sophomore quarterback Randy Meier hitting two of 13 for 19 yards.

That's just 19 yards offense for Farmington in 32 possessions.

Stevenson meanwhile rushed for 125 yards and Nichols connected one three of 13 in the air for 50 yards.

Nichols' overtime scoring toss to Galindo brings his 74 total to nine aerial six-pointers with Galindo hauling in seven of those.

Farmington slipped back into a 3-2 league mark and 3-4 overall showing.

The Falcons received the opening kickoff, ran three plays and punted and Stevenson took over on its six, ran three plays and was set to punt.

That's when Kevin Kansman batted down the kick and the Falcons had the first break of the afternoon and control on the Stevenson two, 8:23 remaining in the first quarter.

Meier took it to the one and John Hans carried it to the one and then over for six points. The point after was wide.

STEVENSON then punted the ball away on its next series and Farmington was stopped on the Spartan 38 with Stevenson taking over with just seconds remaining in the quarter.

After an exchange of punts, which the two clubs did most of the afternoon, Meier was hit and Mark Lapham pounced on a loose ball for the Spartans.

Plymouth Salem got off to an 8-3 first quarter lead and coasted to a 39-23 Suburban Eight cage victory over Bentley.

It was Plymouth's sixth victory against one loss in the loop while Bentley slipped to a 2-4 showing.

Salem led at the half, 17-11, and 27-15 after three quarters. Barb Croci

With 2:53 left in the half, Stevenson found itself on the Falcon 11. Nichols dashed to the five, Lokar to the one and Nichols carried it in on a plunge.

And to make things more complicated, Stevenson also missed on its conversion to let it stand at 6-6 at the half.

The early moments of the second half showed signs of an awakening Spartan offense.

Aided by a face-mask call and a 16 yard spurt by Lokar, Stevenson moved to the Farmington 20.

But the offense sputtered out as quickly as it got going and Farmington took over on its 23, 8:13 left in the third quarter.

A roughing the kicker call gave Farmington a break but again its quarterback was nailed for a loss and the Falcons had to punt their way out.

WITH 9:47 REMAINING on the clock, Stevenson started marching from its own 42 but that drive was halted with 3:37 left when Chuck Demarco was stopped on the Farmington 1/2 yard line.

The Falcons had to punt out of their end and Stevenson had another crack at the goal line in the waning moments but failed to score.

And a game that really didn't see much of either team doing anything offensively was into overtime. Stevenson won the flip of the coin and elected to go on defense first.

Ken Buccilli knocked down a Mier pass on the first play and Stevenson's Galindo got Meier for a 10 yard loss on the second play.

After an incomplete pass, Farmington's final shot at the goal line saw a field goal attempt fall short.

IT WAS THEN Stevenson's turn to get four shots at the goal line from 10 yards out.

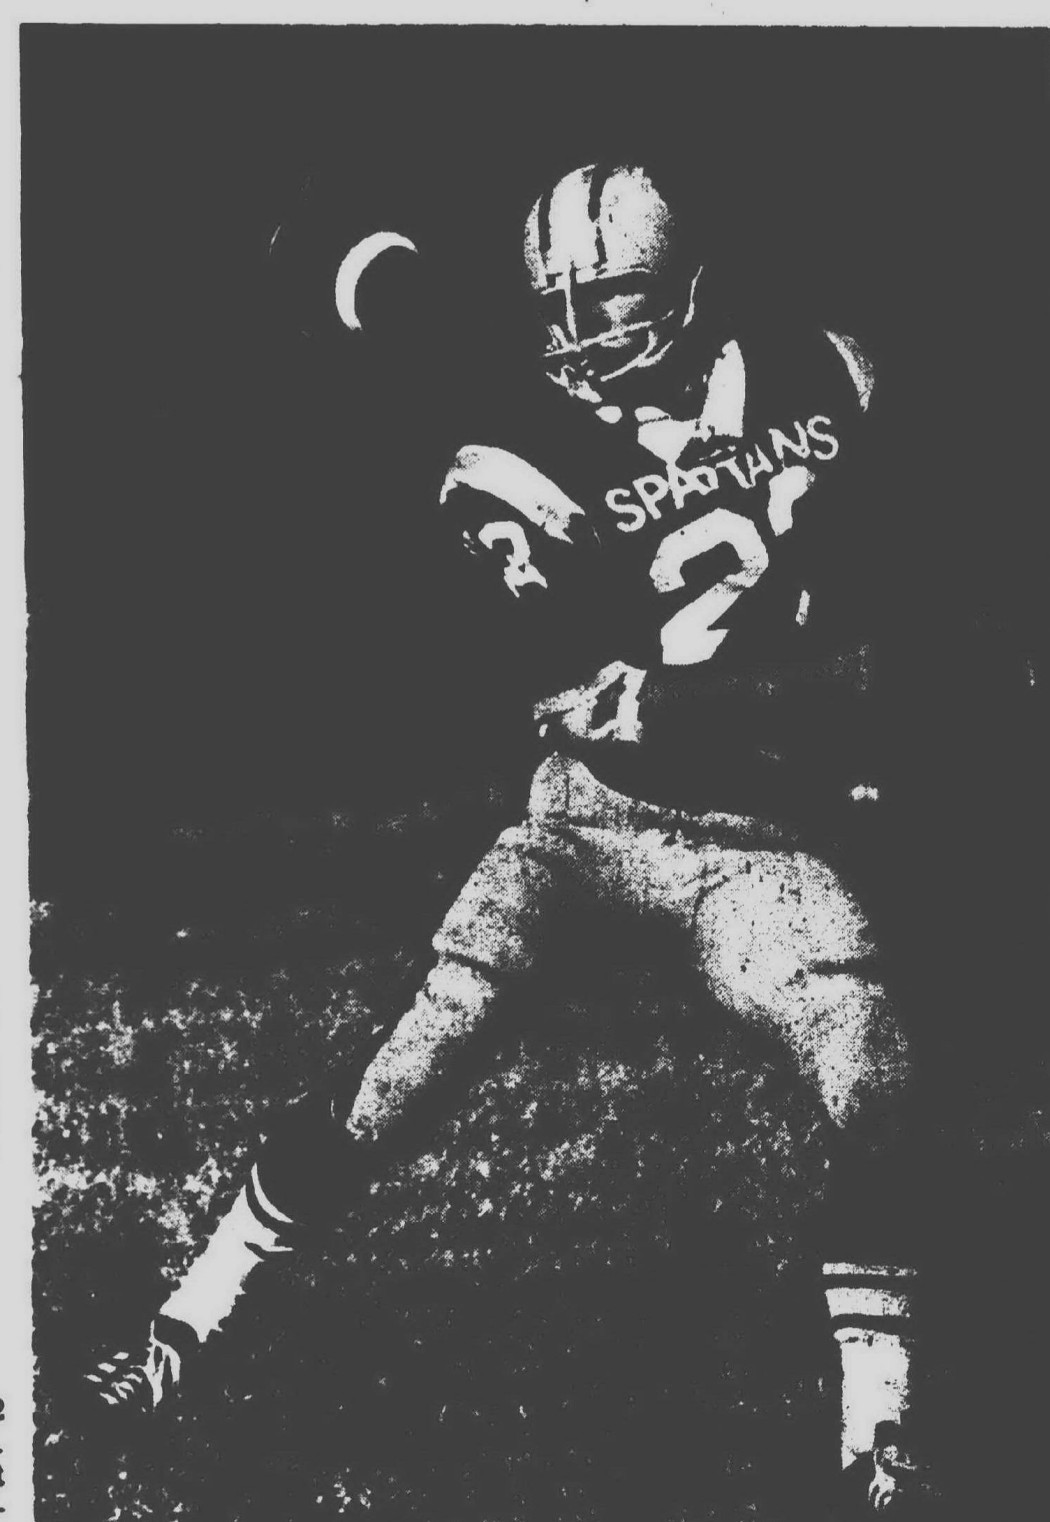

Demarco spurted to the six on the first play but Joe Centers was caught on the field without a chinstrap and the Spartans were penalized 15 yards and pushed back to the 22.

Bob Mayes dashed to the 18 and on third down, Nichols found his favorite target Galindo in the end zone for six points and a homecoming victory.

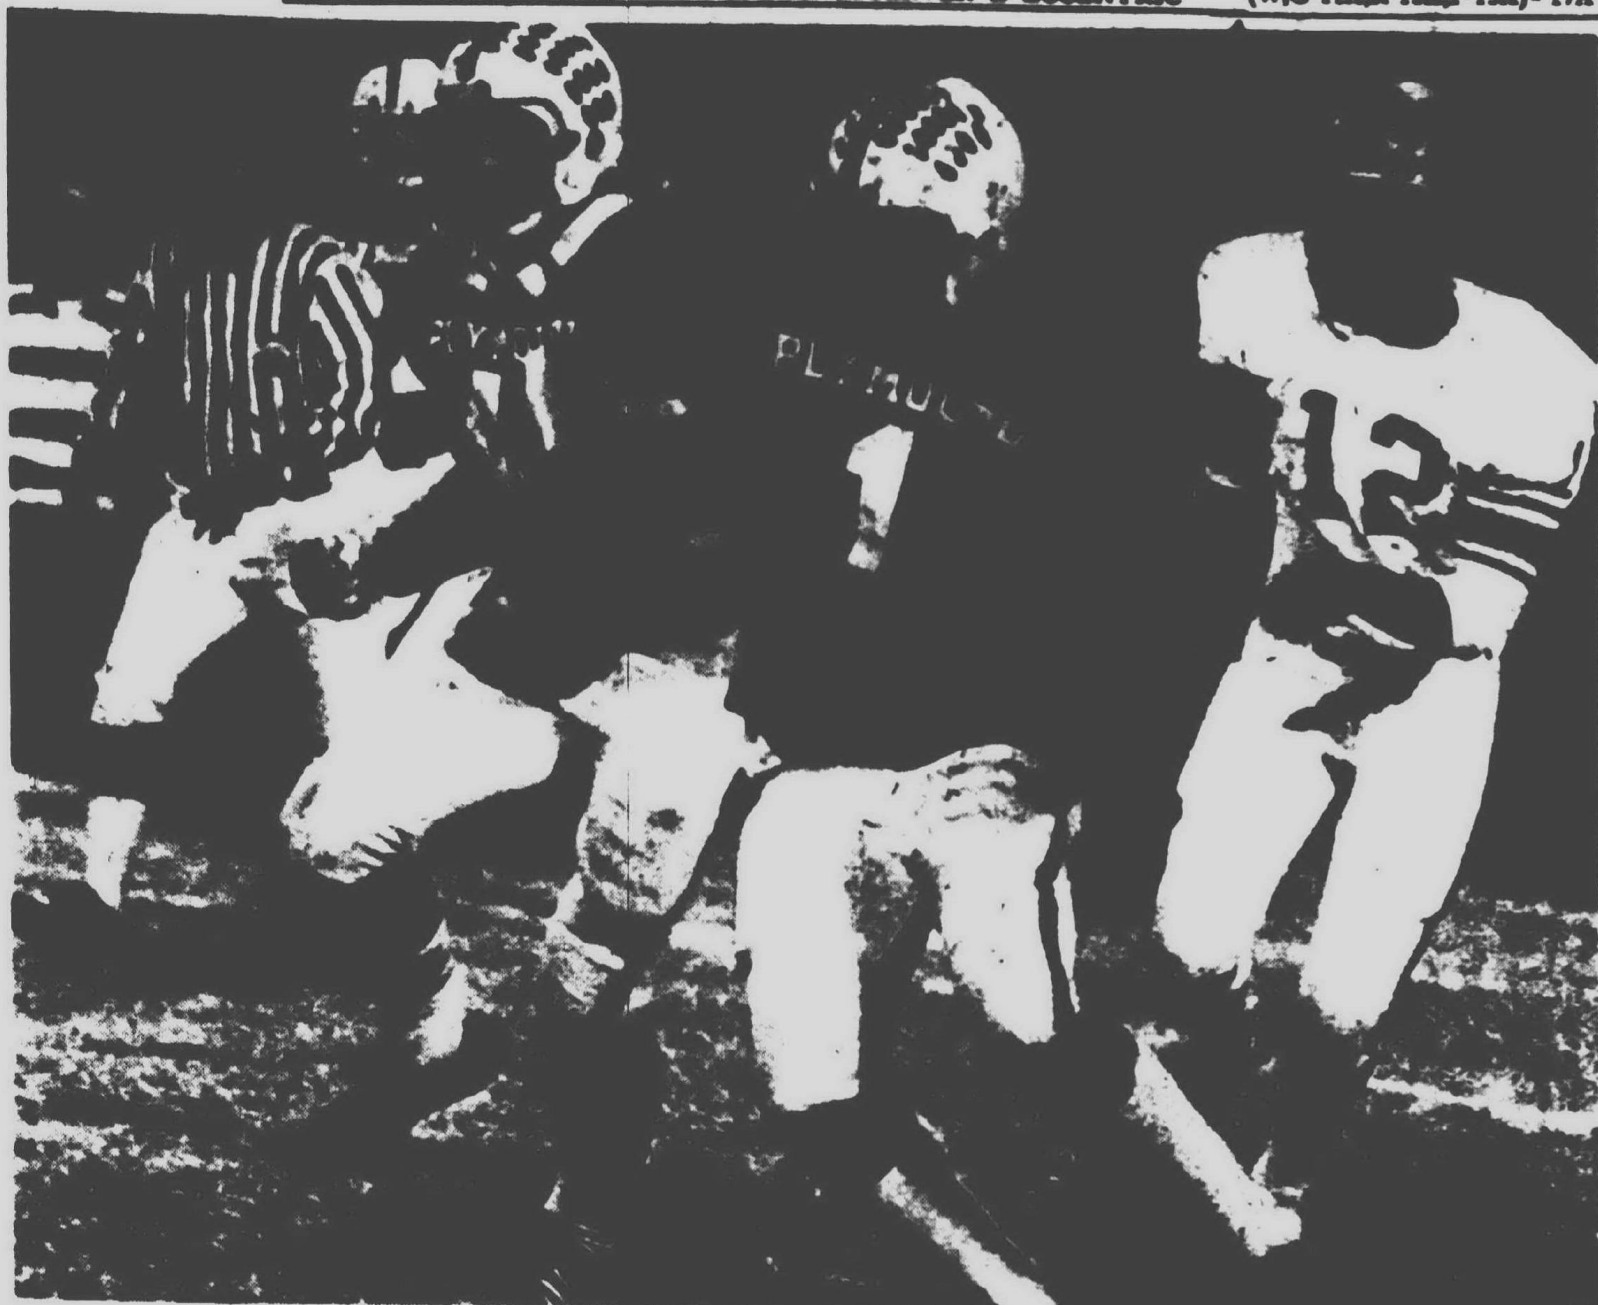

Stevenson now has Thurston and Churchill remaining to add points to another Inter-Lakes crown.

Unbeaten Salem Rocks nudge Belleville, 13-8

By FRED DeLANO

Bo Schembechler and Woody Hayes would have wept for joy at the sight of Plymouth-Salem's brand of football Friday night as the Rocks stayed strictly on the ground to bang out a tense 13-8 homecoming victory over Belleville and thus clinch at least a share of the Suburban Eight championship.

The Michigan and Ohio State mentors, who are criticized often for disdaining the aerial game, have a prep counterpart in Salem's Tom Moshimer, who admits bluntly, "I don't like to pass."

HIS UNBEATEN Rocks — now 6-0 in the Sub-8 and 7-0 overall — threw Neanderthal football at the Tigers and made it suffice. It was "hit the tackles, hit the tackles, hit the tackles twice — and then pound the center and guards" as Plymouth made it 15 wins in the last 17 starts, dating back to the final game of '72.

Plymouth went to the air only one time — and that well into the fourth quarter. As fate would have it, interference was called against Belleville on quarterback Tom Dillon's pitch to end Mike Telekesy, so because of the ensuing penalty even that toss "isn't logged in the statistics."

"We moved it well on the ground to score on two sustained drives, so why pass?" reasoned Moshimer later, although sighing with relief. "Whew. I'm glad we got by that one — Belleville really came to play."

The Tigers proved that right off the bat as they maintained possession of the ball for more than six minutes after the opening kickoff, although unbelievably not advancing any farther than their own 44 yard line.

When Plymouth finally got the hog-skin the Rocks were at their own 31 and from there it took only 10 plays to march the 69 yards to Dillon's touchdown from the Belleville one. Doug Tripp's conversion made it 7-0 which still stood up at halftime.

Dillon himself had provided the big gainer of the drive when he scampered off left tackle on a keeper for 34 yards.

ODDLY, Plymouth had possession only one other time during the first half against the obdurate Tigers, and on that occasion couldn't even snare a first down.

Defensively, however, the Rocks thwarted Belleville with two second quarter interceptions by Dan Ross and Joe Hibler and all the Tiger huffing and puffing for a 100 to 78 yardage advantage was worth only a goose egg on the board.

After Teri Szilagyi, younger sister of a former Salem quarterback, had been crowned homecoming queen at halftime before a crowd of more than 4,000, the Rocks immediately moved ahead 13-0 after the third quarter kickoff.

The march of 60 yards in 13 plays ate up 5½ minutes, and was featured by five of Hibler's punches into the line for a total of 38 yards. Finally, from inside the Belleville one, it was Charlie Johnston who plunged for the TD. Tripp's attempt for the point after being blocked.

Belleville threw a scare into the state-ranked, title-minded Rocks when the Tigers capitalized on a bad Plymouth punt to move 34 yards and score at 2:44 of the fourth period. Tailback Perry Dingman carried four times in a row after the Tigers had gained a first down on the Plymouth two yard line, scoring on his last chance from inches away.

When quarterback Mark Verrot passed to Dan Scripser for the two-point conversion that made it 13-8, Plymouth found new life and in the final nine minutes allowed the Tigers only six more plays from scrimmage. The Rocks held for downs at their own 34 and in a bit of Moshimer deriding-do even went for — and made — a first down when it was fourth and one on their own 44.

The Rocks wound up with 204 yards (all on the ground) to Belleville's 206 (132 on the ground and 74 on five aerial completions in 17 tries). First downs were even at 12 apiece and Dillon was the game's leading ground gainer with 67 yards on 11 carries.

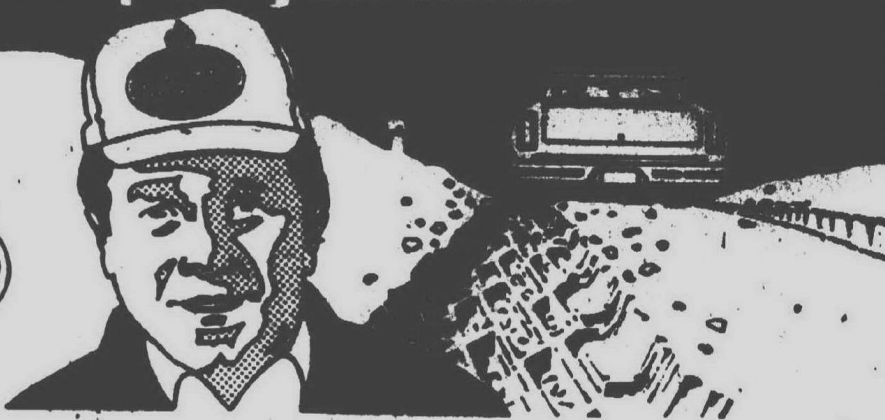

With only one round of league play left, Salem leads the Sub-8 at 6-0 while Trenton is one game off the pace at 5-1. For its first undisputed championship since 1963, the Rocks must defeat winless Redford Union on the latter's gridiron next Friday night.

West rips Schafer, 42-7

By TOM DONOGHUE
Sports Editor

If there were any alumni with any doubts to the plight of the Garden City West football team under first-year coach Charley Elmquist, they left the '74 homecoming contest waving their Tiger pennants high.

Elmquist and his now 5-2 Tigers put on quite a show in crushing winless Schafer, 42-7, but as far as Elmquist is concerned, "You ain't seen nothin' yet."

THE FINAL showdown in the Tri-

River race is set between Southgate and West, this Friday, Nov. 1, kickoff at 7:30 p.m.

If West wins it, the Tigers will get a share of the crown with Southgate. If the Tigers falter, Elmquist can always go back a week and bask in the homecoming victory.

West is 5-1 in the Tri-River, the solo defeat coming against Melvindale, 14-8, a week prior to the Schafer onslaught.

"I really didn't expect a game like this," commented Elmquist. "Schafer hadn't won a game and had everything to go for and we had been flat the entire week.

"That blocked punt touchdown right at the start was about all we really needed to get going."

And get going the Tigers did with quarterback Tom Poole scoring two touchdowns, and Steve Wilmoth, Terry Bradley, Mike Zenko and Greg Shinsky one each.

West picked up only 12 first downs but rushed for 297 yards with junior Bradley picking up 203 of those yards.

MEANWHILE the stalwart West defense held Schafer to a minus two yards on the ground. The aerial game saw West hit on three of seven for 46 yards and Schafer on seven of 12 for 54 yards.

The 48-minute clash opened like every good homecoming outing should, with the "bad guys" getting stopped and the "good guys" scoring right away.

Schafer took the opening kickoff, ran three plays and was forced to punt from its own 33. Ernie Deigado dropped back for the snap from center, grabbed the ball, never looked up, and his kick never reached the heights of the light poles as sophomore Greg Shinsky blocked it.

Then for about a 10-second span, no one knew the whereabouts of the ball. Shinsky picked himself up and spotted it in the end zone, pounced on it and West was on the board, 1:50 elapsed. Wilmoth converted and it stood at 7-0.

Schafer then proceeded to run three more plays and punt, West taking over on the 50.

AND THEN LIKE a machine, the Tigers, without the aid of a huddle, rolled in for another score.

Terry Bradley picked up a first down to the 19. Greg Shinsky moved it to the 14 and Bradley down to the two before Zenko carried it in. Wilmoth converted and with 7:13 left in the first quarter, it was a 14-0 score.

Again Schafer played its "run three plays and punt" style of football and this time its defense held West which punted back and Schafer took over on its 28.

After picking up its first first down, West took over on its own 29 and five first downs later, Bradley spurred in from six yards away. Wilmoth converted and it was 21-0.

IT WAS TURNOVER time the rest of the half with the Tigers getting back down to serious business in the first drive of the second half.

After Bradley picked up two first downs and John Stupyrka one, Tom Poole hit Jay Gooch on a 12 yard scoring toss. Wilmoth converted and the margin was up to 28-0.

Bradley proceeded to break loose again later in the quarter, this time for an 87 yard dash. Wilmoth made good his kick and the Tiger 35-0 lead was all the homecoming crowd could ask for.

Schafer finally got on the board early in the fourth after a West fumble with Rick Catarino scoring from four yards out.

And to make things proper, West wrapped it all up with Poole scoring on a quarterback sneak on the final play of the game. Wilmoth made good his sixth conversion and now comes the Tri-River showdown.

"Southgate has a good passing game and we have a good running game," commented Elmquist. "Their only loss came in a non-league opener against Dearborn. I'd say whoever can stick to their kind of game will take this one."

munds (22) failed to block Shinsky who recovered to pounce on the loose ball in the end zone for six points to open the door to a 42-7 Tri-River victory. (Staff photo by Tom Donoghue)

Edsel Ford clock 'ticks off' RU, 11-10

If you notice rumblings coming out of the Redford Union coaches office this week don't panic.

It will just be RU football coach Bob Atkins telling it like it was when his Panthers journeyed to Edsel Ford and wound up losing in the final seconds, 11-10.

"I have never made a statement like this in my 17 years of coaching. But I'll tell you - we got hosed down at Edsel Ford," exclaimed Atkins whose Panthers are now 0-7 for '74.

"Here we are leading, 10-8, and Edsel Ford has the ball on its 20 with just 2:01 remaining.

"Now listen to this, Edsel Ford then proceeds to run off 16 plays - that's right, 16 plays in two minutes.

"We didn't lose this game. There is no doubt in my mind that we beat Edsel Ford. They used the clock to win - Edsel Ford is the loser.

"This was the most unethical situation I have ever witnessed in sports," added Atkins.

"It is totally unbelievable that a quarterback can drop back to pass and loft a 30 yarder and the entire play consume only four seconds.

"Four-second plays just don't happen.

"There were a few plays during that span that they didn't even bother to start the clock. I informed the officials who answered that the official time was being kept on the scoreboard."

THAT DRIVE, which started on the Edsel Ford 20 after a punt into the end zone, finished up with Dan Bondar kicking a 19 yard field goal with just seven seconds remaining to give the Thunderbirds an 11-10 Suburban Eight victory.

It was this same Edsel Ford "clock" that almost drove Plymouth

Salem coach Tom Moshimer up a wall earlier in the season. Fortunately for Moshimer and his Rocks, Edsel Ford's tricks came at the end of the first half and Moshimer had the official time kept on the field the second half.

"Hey, this was our best effort this year and something like this has to happen," said the RU coach whose Panthers host state-ranked Plymouth Salem this Friday, Nov. 1, at 8 p.m.

"I just don't know if I'll be able to get this kind of effort out of my kids again after what happened."

IT WAS ALL Redford Union in the first half against Edsel Ford as the Panthers took the opening kickoff and marched to paydirt.

On a fourth down play, Atkins called for a fake field goal and holder Craig Barrowcliff wound up tossing a 12 yard touchdown pass to Craig Hill.

George Willard converted and with five minutes gone, it was RU, 7-0.

The Panthers did it for real in the second quarter as Willard split the up-rights from 39 yards out and RU led at the half, 10-0, while its defense kept Edsel Ford from penetrating inside its 20.

It all turned around on RU the second half.

Two minutes into the final quarter, Edsel Ford pulled off a halfback pass play with Kurt Flowers hitting Gary Schmidt on a 33 yard six-point play.

Quarterback Steve Betz followed up with a two-point pass to Flowers and it was sliced to 10-8.

The clubs exchanged punts and then came that final 2:01 drive for Edsel Ford—16 plays long and the 19-yard field goal by Bondar. So watch out for the rumblings around RU.

Northville goal line stand stops Churchill, 7-0

By TOM DONOGHUE
Sports Editor

Talk about a frustrating finish. The Chargers of Livonia Churchill wound up just six inches shy of the goal line at the final buzzer.

And that materialized a frustrating 7-0 defeat at the hands of the Northville Mustangs, the first time Churchill has ever fallen to Northville on the gridiron.

After a scoreless three quarters of sluggish football, Northville got on the board with 6:06 remaining but it appeared that the Chargers of yesterday were back.

CHURCHILL marched right back from its own 43 only to be stopped on the six-inch line at the final gun.

It was Churchill's second consecutive blanking in the Western Six loop and its third defeat overall in seven outings. In fact all three setbacks have been shutouts. John Glenn routed the Charger crew, 19-0; Farmington Harrison destroyed Churchill, 37-0, and now the Mustangs of Northville.

"We had our chances," commented Coach Ken Kaestner whose Chargers won every aspect of the 48 minutes except the final score.

"You really have to give Northville credit. They had only two real chances to score and made good on one of those.

IN THE STATISTIC department, Churchill came up with 15 first downs while its defense held the Mustangs to just five. The Chargers had the ball for 65 plays and Northville for only 41.

And a school rushing record went for naught as 6-foot-3, 195 pound junior Matt Foster ground out 124 yards in 25 carries to break Phil Damaska's mark of 1972 of 111 yards in a solo outing.

Churchill totaled 197 yards on the ground and Northville just 90. Mike Streicher's passing game was six for 15 for 31 yards for Churchill and Northville was two for 10 for 36 yards.

"Oh well, I guess statistics are for losers and the scoreboard for winners," sighed Kaestner.

Churchill now has one of area's toughest rivalries coming up this Saturday, Nov. 2 at Franklin High.

"This should be an intense battle for us," added the Charger coach whose crew has beaten Franklin just once in four years. "We'll be up for this one, I hope.

"You know, my wife has a sign up in the house that says 'You win some and you lose some but you dress for every game.' I hope we can give Franklin a battle."

THE FIRST QUARTER in the Northville contest saw both clubs punt twice and turn the ball over once.

3rd setback for Bulldogs

Trenton blanks Bentley, 22-0

Things just haven't been bouncing right in the "Year of the Bulldog" and now even the football has turned against Glenn Goode's crew from Bentley.

Trailing 8-0 late in the third quarter, the Bulldogs had Trenton down on its one-yard line and faced with a punting situation.

Any sort of a punt would have to give Bentley good field position in an attempt to tie it up - that is except a punt that took a weird bounce. It hit a Bentley player's helmet and paved the way for a 22-0 Trenton win.

Trenton pounced on the ball and that was it for the Bulldogs as the Trojans struck for two more scores to take it going away.

"I GUESS WE just lost to a better football team," commented Goode whose now 4-3 Bulldogs face Allen Park this Friday at home.

"Trenton simply outkicked us.

"This has been a funny season. Here I thought Plymouth Salem and Trenton would both be down and here they are sporting 7-0 and 6-1 marks.

"I really thought our league finale with Allen Park would decide the championship. Allen Park has now lost its last four games and we have three defeats in the Sub Eight.

"I'll tell you, I really think that this year's Trenton team gave us a better game than the one last year that finished fourth in the state.

"We have two tough ones left now," he added. "First Allen Park and then that dogfight with Franklin. I guess there's just no rest for the wicked but I still maintain that we are a good football team.

"We couldn't get a single drive going against Trenton."

TRENTON SCORED late in the first quarter when Greg Castignola went over from the seven to cap a 65-yard march. Castignola also made good a two-point play and it remained at 8-0 until early in the fourth.

Bentley's deepest penetration came in the third stanza when it got as close as the Trenton 33.

The end of the third quarter saw Trenton recover the fumble off the Bulldog helmet and Trenton marched 63 yards down field and scored.

Duncan Allen tallied on a four yard dash and also made good a two-point run to up it to 16-0.

The Trojans finished Bentley off with Mark Lybrook scoring on a four-yard run.

Bentley wound up with six first downs and 125 yards on the ground and 18 in the air. Bruce Boudnek paced the Bulldog ground game with 75 yards in 11 carries while Bulldog quarterbacks Bill Deacon and Glen Stevens went six for 10 and two for two respectively in the passing department.

RU gals topple Trenton, 56-46

The gals at Redford Union are giving it an all-out effort to turn things around in Panther territory.

The varsity football team is winless this fall but the Panther girl cagers stormed by Walled Lake Western, 57-56, and stunned Trenton, 56-46, for the ninth triumph in 10 outings.

The Trenton victory was RU's fifth in the Suburban Eight against a solo loss to the same Trenton team, 43-35.

It was Trenton's second loss as it fell to Plymouth Salem that is also sporting a 5-1 mark, tied with RU for first.

RU jumped off to a 14-3 first quarter lead and led at the half, 28-18, and at the end of three quarters, 40-28. Trenton got as close as nine in the final eight minutes but RU maintained its poise and headed by Linda Kosovac's 17 points and Amy Gierak's 13 remained on top in the Sub Eight.

The Walled Lake victory was a tougher road for the Panther gals as Western exploded to a 16-8 first quarter lead. It was a different story in the second quarter as RU outscored Western, 22-11, 10 of those points made at the free throw line.

It was Western back in command after three quarters, 44-41, but RU fought back and with 35 seconds remaining, it was tied at 55-all.

Miss Gierak found the range and popped in a two-pointer for RU for the deciding tally. She paced all scorers with 22 points with Kosovac adding 14 and Lori Slack pumping in 10.

RU travels to Northville, Tuesday, Oct. 29, for a 6:30 p.m. clash and then to Belleville on Oct. 31 for a 4 p.m. battle.

2nd DOUBLES - Kathy Vidmar and Pam Abramson (B) defeated Cooper and Gendall (PS), 6-4, 6-4.
3rd DOUBLES - Cheryl Gales and Karen Plumbach (B) defeated Bartlett and Gendall (PS), 7-5, 1-6.
4th DOUBLES - Kathy Vidmar and Pam Abramson (B) defeated Cooper and Gendall (PS), 6-4, 6-4.

Bentley gals top Franklin

Livonia Bentley sped off to a 9-4 first quarter score and maintained that margin to upend rival Franklin in girls' basketball, 40-34.

Sheri Hall popped in nine points to pace Bentley with Sharon Dreyer and Chris Lakovits adding eight apiece.

Tallest cager

Mark Adams, a 6-foot-8 freshman basketball recruit in 1974, is the tallest Wayne State University cager recruited since 6-foot-8 Tarpan London came to WSU in 1958 from Cinto, La.

The office of Governor is too important to turn over to ambitious politicians.

MILLIKEN TAKES RE-ELECTION ON MATS OF HIS RECORD ...

... "his record is, overall, a good record. He is a man of character, and integrity, we very much need those qualities now."

... "Mr. Milliken is not a narrow partisan, and it is a good thing. A Republican Governor could not govern in Michigan without a strong bi-partisan appeal. But this particular Governor, we think, has been successful to this extent largely because he is a basically decent, intelligent, honest man with a real love of the state and a strong sense of its long term needs."

... "the best interests of this state, we believe, clearly lie in the re-election of William Milliken as Governor."

DETROIT FREE PRESS ... OCTOBER 20, 1974

A CREDIBLE LEADER DESERVES RE-ELECTION ...

... "the contest between Governor Milliken and Sander Levin offers the classic example of the worthy incumbent trying to fend off an opportunistic and relentlessly ambitious challenger."

... "Levin has failed to prove good cause, though he has proven he will say the most reckless and preposterous things to get his hands on the power."

... "good government, as Americans learned in the aftermath of Watergate, depends on something more than forceful propaganda and audacity. It requires integrity and credibility, along with ability—qualities which Milliken has shown he possesses and which Michigan can ill afford to lose."

... "in the name of good and believable government for Michigan, we urge the voters to return Governor Milliken to office."

DETROIT NEWS ... OCTOBER 20, 1974

Vote Tuesday to keep Gov. Milliken Governor.

What Michigan needs is a good, honest Governor.

And it has one.

"In this campaign, it seems to me that the voters have a very clear choice—a choice between progress and promises, rhetoric and reality."

Gov. William G. Milliken
Sept. 11, 1974

Governor Milliken is not alone in believing that Sander Levin will promise you anything to get your vote.

On Oct. 3, the Detroit Free Press expressed this editorial opinion of Sander Levin's campaign tactics: "Campaigning for public office has all too often been just a game for some politicians. They tell the people what they think the voters want to hear, and avoid facing up to reality."

"Sander Levin, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is now following that pattern with his irresponsible statements about the state's budget and state taxing policies."

"Governor Milliken, we think, correctly assessed Mr. Levin's comments when he said to his opponent, 'If you continue to make such irresponsible statements, your credibility will suffer.'"

And the Free Press concluded, "It already has."

The Detroit News was even more outspoken, bluntly labeling Levin's fiscal contradictions as demagoguery.

The Flint Journal said "it is possible that his decision to attempt to convince the taxpayers they can get a tax cut without reducing services may be good politics—but it is highly questionable economics."

The Ann Arbor News, while giving Governor Milliken "plaudits for leveling with the taxpayer," said "Mr. Levin, by contrast, is taking the challenger's traditional role in promising more and better. But Levin is vague on where the state will get the money to fund all that he promises."

The Saginaw News said that until he can provide some "straight answers", Mr. Levin "would do well to stop campaigning on vague pledges he may or may not be able to fulfill... No voter can make a judgment on Levin's financial program without knowing what the program is."

Some of Michigan's top Democrats—including House Speaker William Ryan, Senate Majority Leader Jerome T. Hart, and Chairman William Copeland of the House Appropriations Committee—also were prompted to publicly disagree with their own candidate for Governor on the issue.

What kind of candidate evokes this kind of response from the news media, and even the members of his own party?

A candidate who promises that if he is elected Governor, he will lead... yet was only able to lead into law 18 of the 219 bills he introduced during his years in the Michigan Senate. (Of the 53 Senators who served when he did, 51 had better averages.)

A candidate who in 1974 said he's opposed to the $25 floor on reporting of campaign contributions... yet in 1973 told a legislative committee that he would vote for the $25 floor "if I were in your shoes."

A candidate who charges that the Governor isn't doing enough to obtain federal funds... yet ignores the fact that Michigan ranks 10th in total federal spending for all purposes; 6th in federal aid dollars to state and local government, while increasing its share faster than all but two states.

A candidate who promises property tax relief... yet helped block the Governor's legislative effort to end the reliance on property taxes to finance school operating costs.

A candidate who in 1974 charged that Michigan would have trouble balancing its budget... yet as a Senator sponsored proposals to allow deficit spending by state government, and repeal the section of the Michigan constitution requiring the Governor to match expenditures with revenue.

A candidate who says more must be done to stimulate jobs... yet attacks the Governor's tax relief programs which aid the economic expansion needed to produce jobs. A candidate who talks grandly about spending more... yet talks only vaguely about how to pay the bill.

We agree with Governor Milliken. Sander Levin has been losing his credibility because he has waged a campaign of contradiction—a campaign that has produced an enormous credibility gap between his rhetoric and his record. The choice is clear.

An ambitious politician. Or a Governor. With a record of solid achievement.

"The Governor has little to fear from aroused public demands for honest government. His image as a man of honesty and integrity remains untarnished."

Monroe Evening News—March 11, 1974

"Not everyone in business today will agree with Gov. William G. Milliken's moving the Michigan Legislature even further in the field of consumer protection in the marketplace. But the great majority of reputable business will, and so will an appreciative public."

Macomb Daily—May 17, 1973

"Gov. Milliken's efforts to control overzealous government snooping comes as welcome news in this age when computer data gathering delves more and more into our private lives."

Lansing State Journal—January, 1974

"He has compiled a considerable record of legislative accomplishment which reaches beyond narrow party interest. And he gets a very good reading as a man who wants government clean and open."

Saginaw News—March 12, 1974

"Levin, if he is smart, will not try to tie Milliken to Nixon; if Levin wants to manage the state, he'll have to discuss state issues."

Ann Arbor News—April 9, 1974

"Milliken has been a champion of political reform and more ethical governmental operations... The Governor has illustrated that those who choose a public life must recognize it as a goldfish bowl... Milliken by his actions has set the record clear for the public. His example is outstanding..."

Midland Daily News—June 20, 1974

"I'd like to think that the public would say that I tried to do a good job, that I was honest in the approach that I used, that I was not trying to play politics, and that I was reasonably skillful in the use of the tools which are available to a governor to achieve public goals."

I think above all I would like for the public to think and to believe that I was a decent man who brought some degree of honor to a vitally important profession in our country."

William G. Milliken

★ Born in Traverse City, Governor Milliken won his first election at the age of 15, as president of his freshman class. He played on the Class B state championship basketball team in 1940 and was the school's best high jumper.

★ During his college years, he concentrated in economics, history and public affairs and participated in such activities as track, basketball, and the Political Union.

★ Governor Milliken flew 50 combat missions in World War II as a B-24 waist gunner. Wounded over enemy territory and forced to bail out, he was awarded the Purple Heart, the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, and the European Ribbon with three battle stars.

★ Governor Milliken and his wife, Helen, were married in October, 1946. They have two children, Bill, Jr., 27, and Elaine, 26.

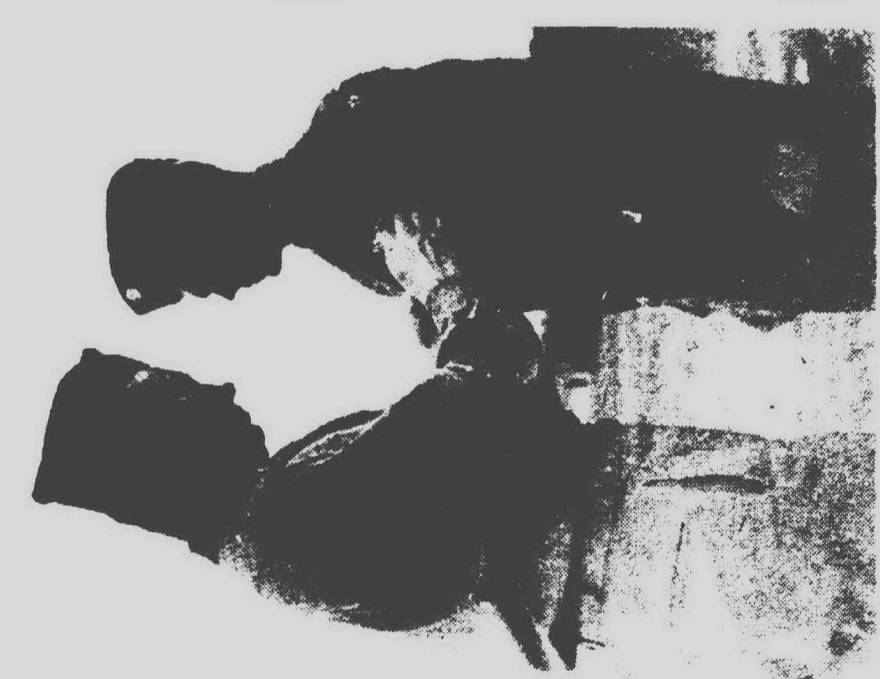

★ In 1946, he began a successful business career in Traverse City. Under his leadership the J. W. Milliken, Inc. became one of the largest retail companies in Northern Michigan—and a leader in employer-employee relations.

★ Elected in 1970 to the Michigan Senate, his ability, progressive thinking and hard work quickly led to his selection for a leadership post.

★ As Senate Majority Floor Leader, Governor Milliken fought successfully for legislation for mental health, education, civil rights, crime control, construction safety, and minimum wage.

★ Elected Lieutenant Governor in 1964, he headed the Total Research for Improved Management Group to trim government costs. He also acted as Education Troubleshooter in resolving school contract disputes.

★ In 1969, he became Governor of Michigan. Elected to a full term in 1970, Governor Milliken is today a highly respected leader among the nation's fifty governors. The National Governors Conference has elected him repeatedly to important posts and he is slated to become Chairman this year of the Midwestern Governors Conference which, with his leadership, is developing multi-state solutions to environmental, agricultural, transportation and other major regional problems.

Governor Milliken: A record of achievement.

While Sander Levin has talked, Governor Milliken has acted. And the results are on the record.

Governor Milliken has created new jobs.

Governor Milliken's initiative in tax incentives, transportation programs and expanded domestic and foreign markets for Michigan products have resulted in 236,400 new jobs for the people of Michigan.

Under his leadership, we now have commerce offices established in both Europe and Japan to expand the sale of Michigan products overseas, and attract job-producing foreign investments into Michigan. Major steps have been taken to aid our vitally important tourist industry. And—despite serious national economic problems—Michigan wages remain among the highest in the United States.

Governor Milliken has cut taxes.

In the past two years alone, state taxes have been lowered by about $500 million—the biggest tax cut in Michigan's history.

Governor Milliken has assured equal educational opportunity for all children.

It was his determined leadership that produced the historic school aid legislation that now assures every child in Michigan an equal chance for a quality education.

Governor Milliken has sought to extend and increase unemployment benefits.

Governor Milliken has come to the aid of Michigan's unemployed.

He signed into law a bill eliminating the "waiting week", thus assuring laid-off workers vital benefits during the critical first few weeks of unemployment. He signed an extension of benefits from 26 to 39 weeks, increasing benefits by an average of 15%. For a family of four, this adds up to an additional $1,781 worth of benefits under Governor Milliken.

Governor Milliken has led the fight on crime.

Under the Milliken administration, state monies to aid in the fight against crime have been increased by almost 100 percent. Turn-In-Pusher (TIP) lines have been instituted to enlist the help of all citizens in the war against drugs. And State Police are working with local and federal authorities in coordinated attacks on the pusher.

In addition, Governor Milliken has proposed further measures which would give Michigan the tools to wage the most comprehensive anti-crime campaign in the state's history, including mandatory additional prison sentences for persons convicted of committing crimes with handguns.

In the past three years crime, while increasing in the nation, declined 4% in Michigan.

Governor Milliken has strengthened local government.

Governor Milliken has forged an effective partnership between state and local governments. Through his state revenue-sharing programs, the State of Michigan will return over $280 million to city, town and county governments this year. That's an increase of $120 million over what the state was providing before Milliken became Governor.

Governor Milliken has made state government open and responsive to the people.

Governor Milliken is a recognized national leader in the battle to make government answerable to the people. And you see the results in Michigan.

Under Governor Milliken, state government has been reorganized to make it both more effective and more efficient. "Hot lines" have been set up to handle citizen inquiries and complaints. And a tough Code of Ethics is now in force for all state employees.

And it was Governor Milliken who fought for and signed into law the legislation to help end campaign abuses in Michigan. He has also made a full public disclosure of his personal finances, including copies of his federal income tax returns since 1969.

Governor Milliken has brought tax relief to senior citizens.

Under Governor Milliken, senior citizen property taxes have been reduced by $60 million in the past two years. And ninety-nine percent of Michigan's older citizens are now benefiting from the sales tax credit on food and prescription drugs pushed through by Governor Milliken.

Governor Milliken has protected Michigan's environment.

No state has done more to preserve and protect its environment and to expand outdoor recreation facilities than Michigan during the Milliken years. The record includes the Environmental Protection Act, Truth-in-Pollution Acts for both air and water, Shoreline Management Act, Wild and Scenic Rivers Act, Watercraft Pollution Act, Endangered Species Protection, Land Sales Act, Inland Lakes and Streams Act, Billboard Control, and solid waste and recreation bond legislation.

Governor Milliken fights for the rights of all people.

It was Governor Milliken who issued the Equal Opportunity Order that increased the employment of women and minorities in state government.

It was Governor Milliken who supported the legislation prohibiting discrimination in the granting of loans and the rating of an individual's credit worthiness.

And it was Governor Milliken who appointed more Blacks—both Republicans and Democrats—to more positions in state government than any other Governor in Michigan's history.

Governor Milliken led the fight to put the Vietnam Veteran's Bonus on the ballot.

Governor Milliken is the man who this year achieved adoption of a bill to place the question of a bonus for Vietnam veterans on next Tuesday's ballot.

He believes that Michigan's 400,000 Vietnam veterans need and deserve your help, and urges you to vote "Yes" on Proposal B.

Governor Milliken has given Michigan voters the opportunity to get more than $5 billion in Federal transportation funds.

Governor Milliken was the force behind placing the Transportation Bond Issue on Tuesday's ballot. By voting "Yes" on Proposal D, you could help the state of Michigan get $5 billion in Federal funds for the development, modernization and expansion of public mass transit and other forms of transportation in Michigan.

Governor Milliken urges your support of this critically needed program which will benefit all of Michigan through expanded transportation throughout the state, increased tourism, and increased business in Michigan.
