With no tax rate increase Proposed city budget up by 8 per cent et of more than $2 million has been proposed for the city of Plymouth by city manager Fred Yockey which includes no tax rate increase for city residents this year.

The budget does, however, reflect increased revenues of approximately $153,000, more than half of which will come from a six per cent tax factor increase imposed by the state.

The 1975-76 budget represents an 8.1 per cent increase over last year's estimates, which Yockey feels only keeps pace with inflation.

In his budget introduction, the city manager said that major items offsetting the increased revenues for this ment, increased utility costs of cent increase.

Another increased cost will be an added $15,400 for the 35th District Court.

The budget reflects two less fulltime personel than were budgeted for last year, including an additional person in the clerk's office and a plumbing inspector. The budget also reflects expected increases in personnel costs since all municipal contracts with employe groups are due for partial or full negotiation on July 1.

Increases in the police department budget are pegged at $29,000 for a 5.6 per cent hike. The fire department year include $37,420 in debt retire- shows an added $12,800, or a 5.5 per Weed control, and rubbish and garbage removal have jumped 10 per cent, or $12,000; and street lighting costs have risen by an estimated 16 per cent, showing a $10,000 increase.

Major decreases in the budget occur in a nearly $6,000 drop in expenditures for the city commission, reflecting a 16 per cent reduction; and in a 15 per cent reduction in inspection services for the building and engineering departments of close to $8,000.

A public hearing on the $2,031,345 budget will be held on April 28, at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

Copies of the budget will be avail-able to the public after April 21 at the city clerk's office in city hall.

Tax credit offered New home buyers get break

By RICHARD GOLD

It may be too early to tell, but builders operating in Plymouth and Canton townships are optimistic about possible effects of a recently passed federal tax cut package.

The measure, signed by President Ford on nationwide televison has a provision entitled "1975 Special Tax Credit for Homebuyers."

That section is designed to spur the depressed housing industry and reduce inventories of newly constructed homes. It provides a tax credit of up to $2,000 for new homes purchased between March 12, 1975 and Jan. 1, 1976.

The credit is equal to five per cent of the purchase price of the home and is subtracted from the buyer's federal income tax.

The house must be the buyer's "principal residence" and must have been under construction by March 26.

Condominiums and mobile homes are included in the package and all buildings affected must be newly constructed. Any homes purchased that were previously occupied do not qualify under the tax credit program. All homes must be occupied by Jan. 1, 1977.

While the credit is designed to reduce new home inventories across the nation, builders contacted in the Plymouth-Canton area said they were not suffering from excessively large inventories.

Most area builders construct models, sell homes first on the basis of the models, and then build.

These builders avoid what is known as "spec" (speculative) building, where subdivisions are created. houses built and homes sold.

Commented Gene Gleba, general manager of Crescendo Homes. "It used to be common practice in the 50's to build specs all the time and that's how a lot of builders went broke. Now we erect the models, sell d then build."

ing to be sold. They were houses that were sold and then the buyer backed out."

Norman Long has constructed more than 100 houses in Canton in the last two years. He commented, "It's too early to tell right now. We were closed the Sunday after the bill was signed and the weather hasn't been too good for showing. We should have some idea in a couple of weeks."

Republic Development Corporation has decided to use the tax credit measure as part of its advertising. Leonard Faber, of Republic said, "It's premature now to guess on the effect the credit. We should know next week."

He added, "We are opimistic the measure will be very helpful, but our situation is not that bad right now. We have some inventory, but that is normal. We intend to advertise with the tax credit and we'll see what kind of results we get."

Sec.

James Bonadeo of James Bonadeo Builders said while sales did not increase, interest in his homes did.

Bonadeo, who has built close to 200 homes in Plymouth Township in the last three years said, "This should be most helpful for us. Our houses are priced such that people who purchase them will receive the full $2,000 benefit of the tax break.'

He added, "I sure hope it does help us. Right now I'm sitting on $400,000 of inventory (seven houses). It would be nice to get some of the money back."

While the tax credit is intended to boost sluggish new home sales, realtors in the area think it may help sales of used houses.

Bob Rowe, a salesman at J.L Hudson Real Estate commented, "This should help business. People buying new homes have to sell their old ones first. If the old ones are reasonably at-ships as the April 30 cutoff date for sherrif's road patrol funding by the county approaches.

The Public Safety and Judiciary Committee of the County Board of Commissioners has voted to continue the funding of the road patrol through the end of July. That recommendation will be presented to the Ways and Means Committee of the county board on April 24.

In the meantime, the Safety and tractive and priced within reason they should sell. There's always people in the market for old homes.' Vern Hackett, broker for Chamberlain Real Estate in Plymouth said the credit would not depress sales of old homes. He commented, "The market for old homes and new homes is almost completely separate. There's very little overlap.'

He added, "Nine out of every 10 new home home buyers are already homeowners. They'll have to sell first.

"Besides, there aren't that many new homes available in the area. We're handling eight in Canton the builders couldn't unload. Builders stopped constructing 'specs' in the fall when the interest rates went way up. There's a few left, but those left for the most part are houses that have been on the market for quite a while and couldn't be sold for some reason."

will meet with representatives of the seven affected townships to work out a possible funding agreement to keep road patrol services in the out-county areas, with the townships' residents picking up the biggest part of the tab.

APPOINTED to the committee were Commissioners William G. Suzore, Lincoln Park; George Hart. Dearborn; and Lee E. Flowers, Detroit. The meeting between the subcommittee and representatives of the road patrol and the seven townships is tentatively scheduled for April 22.

Canton Supervisor Robert Greenstein called the committee's recommendation "just another example of the continuing policy of the county to exert pressure on out-county residents.

"It's blackmail and an attempt to force us to pay for services that the county has provided, ever since its existence, to unincorporated areas."

Complaining that the unincorporated areas were now in the minority, Greenstein said, "A majority of cities Bert Burgoyne, a Detroit attorney.

time townships, and took advantage of county police protection.

"Now that they are incorporated as cities, they don't want to allow the remaining townships to have the same benefits they once enjoyed."

THE COUNTY originally threatened to halt funding of the road patrol in August 1974 for Brownstown, Sumpter, Northville, Huron, an Buren, Canton and Plymouth townships.

A suit was filed on behalf of the townships at that time and the road patrol has been maintained at its present level of 28 men, through the present.

On March 27. Circuit Court Judge Thomas Foley dismissed the township's suit, stating there was no legal basis requiring the county to provide protection for the townships.

The seven townships have decided to appeal Judge Foley's ruling which was signed April 4. The townships have 20 days in which to draft the appeal and have retained the services of Tickets are available from members of the Rotary Club and at the high schools where student tickets also are on sale. Prices are $2.50 for adults and $1 for students.

Gleba added, "We don't know how the credit is going to affect us since we don't fully understand how it works. But it should help us unload some of our inventory. Gleba termed his inventory "slightly higher than normal." He said Crescendo has constructed more than a 1,000 homes in Canton in the last four years. Gleba added, "Right now we have about 25 homes in Canton, Troy and Stlerling Heights wait-

Soaring caseload forces expansion

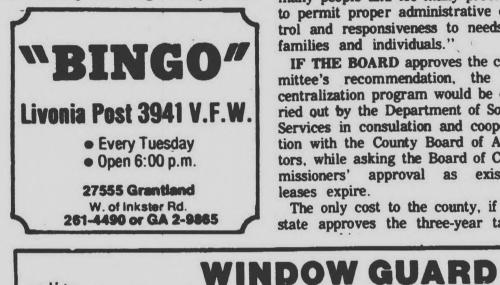

County plans for 12 new social service offices

WAYNE COUNTY-A plan to decentralize the offices of the Wavne County Department of Social Services is expected to gain approval at the Tuesday, April 15, meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The commissioners gave the plan their recommendation Thursday, April 10, with only two dissents while meeting as the Ways and Means Committee. Commissioner Richard Manning (D-Detroit), whose district includes Redford Township, was absent.

The plan, which would transfer the caseloads of the most heavily populated offices in Detroit to 12 smaller offices, is expected to cost the county about $809,000, all of it to be reimbursed by the state.

Commissioners agreed the plan should be phased in gradually in con-assume all general assistance programs and administrative costs of the county's social service department over a three-year period.

THE MOVE to decentralize is necessary because caseloads have almost tripled since 1970. And the number of employes has increased almost 100 per cent, according to R.B. Shelton, county social services director. He added that while the rate of increase is not expected to be as dramatic in the next 10 years, it is expected to rise.

The large district offices serving the expanding crush of recipients "have become administrative nightmares," Shelton reported to the commissioners. "Large district offices bring together, at any given time, too many people and too many problems to permit proper administrative control and responsiveness to needs of families and individuals."

IF THE BOARD approves the committee's recommendation, the decentralization program would be carried out by the Department of Social Services in consulation and cooperation with the County Board of Auditors, while asking the Board of Commissioners' approval as existing leases expire.

The only cost to the county, if the state approves the three-year take-junction with the state's proposal to over, would be $800,000 for guards, extermination and janitorial services. This cost would be reimbursed by 45 per cent state and 55 per cent federal funds.

> Following an applauded plea by Commissioner Samuel Turner (D-Detroit) that recipients of aid be treated as first-class citizens who have hit the lowest level economically, Commissioner Mary Dumas (R-Livonia) said: "I realize these people are our responsibility, but they are not entirely our financial responsibility...I am not denying the problem and not denying our participation in the problem but I do not want to get into it without planning...so we know how far we can go financially."

THE SOCIAL Services Department's goal over the next 10 years is to provide 17 district offices (instead of the present nine) with assistance payment caseloads of about 10,000 families and between 150-175 employes each.

The Northwest District, which serves western Wayne County resi-

Curb-side tax filing offered

The Detroit Post Office will again this year provide its curb-side pick up service to accommodate last-minute income tax filers and assure postmarking of their returns before the midnight deadline.

The service will be provided Tuesday evening, April 15, at the General Post Office on West Fort at Eighth Street.

Uniformed mail carriers with flashlights and satchels will be stationed at the curb in front of the post office, from 6 p.m. to midnight, to quickly collect returns from taxpayers as the drive up, and to relieve them of the necessity of parking their cars.

Postmaster Edward L. Baker first started the service in 1964, following a massive traffic jam the year before. "Seldom have we provided a service that has been so well received or dents, is among the department's high priorities but will not receive immediate attention.

Sites in Detroit, where one of every five persons receives some type of assistance, will be decentralized first. Three offices there, besides being housed in antiquated, cramped quarters, have a total of more than 7,000 public contacts daily. The Northwest District has slightly more than 600 daily public contacts.

PRESENTLY, the Northwest District is housed in an office at Henry Ruff Road and Michigan Avenue, and, because of overcrowded conditions, in buildings at Wayne County General Hospital. Although one of the hospital building offices was expected to be temporary, it has been occupied for more than two years in conditions Shelton calls "almost intolerable."

The department has recommended that a site near the present Henry Ruff location be acquired, and an outcounty facility serving Westland, Livonia, Plymouth and Inkster be built.

According to Shelton, the proposed location of the facility is based on current and predicted caseload distribution, access to transportation, and proximity to public health, court services and other county services. While a family service center is not being proposed, the new site could be the nucleus of a total service center, he reported.

more greatly appreciated by the public than this one." Baker cautioned the mailers to make certain they already have the full postage on their letters at the rate of 10 cents per ounce when they come to the post office, that their return address with ZIP Code is on the envelope, and that bulky envelopes are > well sealed. Each year about 5,000 taxpayers take advantage of the curb-side service.

Winning Rocks are honored

By FRED DeLANO

PLYMOUTH-The winningest basketball team in local high school history-the Rocks of Plymouth Salemwas deluged with honors Thursday night at a school banquet. But it also was an occasion which saw Coach Fred Thomann challenge the 1975-76 squad to turn in an even better record.

A year ago, after a 21-3 season which had brought Suburban Eight and district tourney titles, Thomann had tossed a similar challenge at the 1974-75 returnees.

They responded this past winter by winning 22 of 25 games, capturing league, district and regional championships along the way and ultimately advancing to the state Class A semifinals.

Seven of the 12 varsity lettermen who were honored Thursday will be back as the nucleus of next season's club, and their goal already is established.

Although it was the varsity squad which was in the limelight of the fete held in the Salem cafeteria, center stage was far from being theirs alone as tributes were paid too to Salem's junior varsity and freshman cagers as well as to the Rockettes and to varsity, junior varsity and freshman cheerleaders.

selected the varsity's most valuable player.

The all-league, all-area giant set a new one-season scoring record of 477 points and a school career mark of 863 points. The former one-year record was 405 by Tim Van Wagoner in 1972-73, and Charlie Wolfe held the previous career high with his 652 points scored from '69 through '71.

Captain Dan Moore, who also graduates in June, and 6-8 junior forward Jim Ellinghausen were co-winners of the coaches' award for greatest effort, while junior guard Brian Wolcott was acclaimed by his peers as the most improved of the Rocks.

Wolcott at 77 per cent had the best free throw shooting average and shared with Agardy the top mark from the floor at 52 per cent. Agardy and Ellinghausen were the rebound leaders with 256 and 250 respectively, and Ellinghausen's total of 401 points was second only to Agardy's 477. It gives Ellinghausen a two-year total of 676 with a season yet to play. Moore led the team in assists with 137 while senior guard Tim Dillon was tops in steals with 50. Dillon, who was quarterback of Salem's unbeaten championship football team, had a combined won-lost record on the gridiron and basketball court in his senior year of 31-3, undoubtedly one of the best in Plymouth history.

June graduates will include Agardy, Moore, Dillon, Bill DenHouter and John Maloney. Lettermen returning next season include Ellinghausen, Wolcott, Howard Inch, Bob Evans, Mike Primeau, Rick Gladstone and Mark Gothard.

STATE SEN. CARL PURSELL, a former Plymouth High School athlete himself of a quarter-century ago, was among the outsiders who heaped verbal praise upon the Rocks for coming, closer to gaining the state championship than any team before them.

Pursell arranged for presentation of a framed resolution of commendation to each player, and they also were given copies of a resolution adopted by the Board of Education extolling their accomplishments. This was read to the audience by board member Gary Mirto.

Trophies also came to the team from the Booster Club, represented by John Prueter and John Rumberger, and when the players finally left they also were laden down with certificates, squad pictures, pins and their coveted clampionship "P."

The team itself presented a special trophy to Thomann, who received a standing ovation. In three years at the Salem helm the 6-9 former star from Michigan State has produced teams that have gained 15-6, 21-3 and 22-3 records in that order. His total mark is 58-12 and the Rocks will carry a home court winning streak of 18 straight into the '75-'76 campaign.

JUNIOR VARSITY honors went to these players, who had a 7-12 record under Coach Craig Bell:

Coach Pat O'Donnell's freshman club had a 13-1 season and included:

Varsity managers honored were Gary Savage, Tim Shearer and Ray Wiles, plus statisticians Dennis O'Connor and Ed Rosenquist.

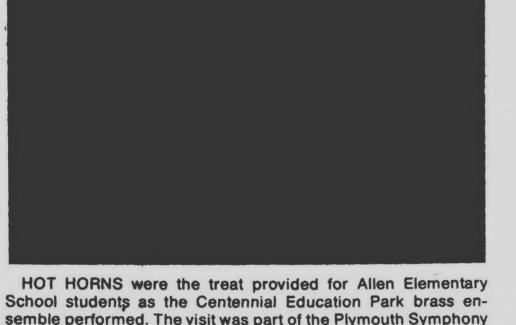

Rockettes, sponsored by Mrs. Cheryl Burns, included Pat Clemens, Valerie Dennison, Lee Ann Dibek, Cheryl Edwards, Karen Faber, Caren Fowler, Betsy Goodsite, Cindy Kay, Terri Kohler, Cathy Mann, Karri McDowell, Mary Mullen, Michelle Rappette, Crystal Roper, Terri Sarris, Linda Secord, Ann Stirton, Teri Szilagyi and Corinne Tallman.

All three cheerleading groups were under sponsorship of Mrs. Joan Ryan. They included:

Varsity-Chris Dawson, Jayn Emerson, Teresa McKen, Cathy Simonetti, JoAnn Szilagyi and Amy Wellman. Junior varsity-Penny King, Laurene Kirchoff, Stephanie Kulak, Julie Minier, Sandy Runge, Joni Sklenar, Karen Volpe and Barb Yockey. Freshmen-Kim Anderson, Kathy Bobier, Maureen Driscoll, Donna England, Vicki Holman, Anita Nickeloff, Jana Powell, Terri Stack and Penny Strautz.

Parents of all these groups furnished the food for the banquet and Athletic Director John Sandmann was toastmaster.

THE FANS see only the athletes competing in the Olympics events but there are many behind the scenes activities which the Civitans are seeking help from the community.

One is sponsors for 36 bowling awards while another is someone to sponsor the $150 moonwalk physical activity feature to be held May 2 when the track and field events will be held at Wayne Memorial High School, Wayne.

The Livonia Civitans, said members Tom Berry and Charlie Morris, will be in charge of feeding an estimated 100 young athletes April 26.

The Olympics will start with gymnastics, volleyball, basketball and floor hockey at West High School's gym in Garden City.

After a lunch break, the students will convene at Westland Bowl, on Wayne Road north of Ford, for the bowling competition.

The second half of the area Olympics will start the following Saturday. May 2, with an estimated 500-600 youngsters competing in track, field and swimming events.

Besides spectators to cheer the athletes, the Civitans urged interested persons or groups to volunteer as helpers for the May 2 events.

Township joins flood program

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP-Town- and loans to the communities. Resiship officials overcame their reservations over a federally-subsidized flood insurance program Tuesday. They unanimously agreed to submit applications for entrance into the program and to ask the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for a restudy of areas designated flood-prone.

The action will guarantee federallybacked grants and loans to residents and the township will not be jeopardized.

The board of trustees tabled the matter at its Jan. 14 meeting pending further investigation of questions concerning the flood-prone designation. But at last week's meeting, Trustee Richard Gornick moved approval of the flood insurance matter.

"When the issue was first raised, we wondered whether those areas designated flood-prone were indeed flood areas," he said. "Our subsequent information indicates we had best protect those residents who would want FHA loans. Even though we apply for this, we can ask for a restudy."

Some months ago, HUD identified Plymouth Township, Canton Township and the City of Plymouth as flood-hazard areas not enrolled in a national flood insurance program.

Failure to apply for entry into the program by July 1 would have jeopardized federally-guaranteed grants dents living within areas specifically identified as flood-prone would no longer be eligible for FHA or bank loans on local real estate, mobile homes, or, in some cases, personal property.

The City of Plymouth is now nearing completion of its flood insurance application, according to administrative assistant Ray Quada. Canton Township's application has already been approved, said township engineer Glen Roberts, and flood insurance is available to Canton residents at federally-subsidized rates.

But most of the land designated as flood-prone in the Plymouth-Canton area lies within Plymouth Township. Although some of the scattered pieces lie along the Middle Rouge River, others are flat, low-lying land. All are located in sparsely populated areas.

According to HUD, areas designated flood-prone are theoretically endangered by storms that occur once every 100 years.

Unless the township's appeal of flood-prone areas is successful, residents or businessmen in designated flood-hazard areas must obtain adequate flood insurance coverage after July 1, before applications for federally-backed real estate mortgages will be approved.

All residents of a community enrolled in the program will be eligible for the federally-subsidized rates.

Milliken proposal could save millions for county

DETROIT-A proposal by Gov. Wiltiam Milliken that would remove the funding of general assistance 'programs from the counties to the state could result in savings of millions of dollars to Wayne County.

Communities within the county would share in the savings if Milliken's recommendations are adopted by the state legislature.

Redford Township likely would gain more than $100,000 after fiscal 1978 and Livonia would gain a similar amount.

ACCORDING TO County Commissioner Richard Manning (D-Redford), the proposal has not yet been introduced to the State House of Representatives.

Manning says the county would "free up" about $15 million in the first three years for general government use if the plan is adopted.

"The trade-off," he says, "is support for a reduction in the county share of state revenue sharing." The plan would redice the county's slice of the state income tax pie. All counties in the state would receive only 35 per cent of the state's total income tax revenues beginning July 2, 1977, contrasted with the 50 per cent they are receiving now.

For Wayne County, that would mean a reduction in its share of the state's gross collections of individual income taxes by 30 per cent beginning July 1, 1977.

AN ORDINANCE ADOPTING FOR THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH THE BUILDING OFFICIALS AND CODE ADMINIS-TRATORS INTERNATIONAL, INCORPORATED, BASIC PLUMB-ING CODE, 1970 EDITION, AND KNOWN AS "THE BOCA BASIC PLUMBING CODE/1970," AND THE 1973 ACCUMULA-TIVE SUPPLEMENT THERETO, KNOWN AS "THE BOCA BASIC PLUMBING CODE, ACCUMULATIVE SUPPLEMENT 1973," WITH CERTAIN EXCEPTIONS AND AMENDMENTS TO THE TEXT THEREOF; ESTABLISHING PLUMBING STAND-ARDS IN TERMS OF PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES AND PRE-SCRIBING REQUIREMENTS FOR DESIGN AND INSTALLA-TION OF PLUMBING SYSTEMS, INCLUDING WITHOUT LIMI-TATION SANITARY AND STORM DRAINAGE, SANITARY FA-CILITIES, WATER SUPPLIES, STORM WATER AND SEWAGE DISPOSAL IN BUILDINGS, STRUCTURES AND APPURTE-NANT CONSTRUCTION; PROVIDING FOR THE ADMINIS-TRATION AND ENFORCEMENT OF THE SAME, FOR AMEND-MENTS OR SUPPLEMENTS THERETO, FOR PENALTIES

The county now expects to receive $18 million in state income tax revenues in Fiscal 1976; $2. million in 1977; and $21.7 million in 1978. THE GOVERNOR'S plan would cut that to $16.2 million, $15.8 million, and $15.2 million respectively.

Clean-up weeks are scheduled

PLYMOUTH- The Plymouth Department of Public Works has scheduled the first full calendar week of each month as "clean-up week." Homeowners and merchants may place any bulky item on their curbs, such as refrigerators, stoves or hotwater heaters, on their regular pickup day during those weeks.

Doors must be removed or tied securely to appliances, so children cannot be trapped inside.

The monthly "clean-up" program went into effect in January and replaces a designated "clean-up" week. formerly sponsored by the city.

The lasses would be offset by the sistance programs to the state. These programs include welfare, aid to dependent children, emergency medical service, nursing care and others. The county would save $5.4 million million in 1978.

Net savings to the county in each funds saved in turning over general as- year would be $2 million, $5.2 million and $7.9 million.

In fiscal 1978, the reduction in the county share of income tax revenues would provide $4.5 million to Detroit and the suburbs. Half of that would go in 1976, $10.8 million in 1977, and $16.3 to Detroit and half to the suburbs. with Redford Township and Livonia getting about $100,000 each, according to Manning's tabulations.

Other western Wayne County communities would receive comparable funds, depending on their size.

The proposal is contingent upon introduction in the House, which Manning expects to take place shortly, and then passage by the Senate.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP- Township and Wayne County Road Commission officials will soon prepare the township's unpaved roads for the dusty days of summer.

The township board of trustees has approved a contract for dust palliative applications, granted to Bay Dust Control Co. by the Wayne County Road Commission, for $23.80 a ton of liquid calcium chloride.

The Wayne County Road Commission, accompanied by personnel of the township's Department of Public Works, will apply the palliative "whenever it's needed" on all the township's unpaved streets, excluding private roads and those maintained by the county. said Clerk Helen Richardson.

SC students charge parking discrimination

By DENNY COFFMAN

· LIVONIA-Issuing parking tickets at Schoolcraft College has become a delicate issue in recent weeks.

The college administration, armed with appeals for order and reason, stood firmly at one side.

On the other side stood the students who, led by their newspaper, the Campus Globe, cried discrimination and uncrustitutionality.

All this over a $3 parking ticket.

year, when the administration found it was unable to collect parking ticket fines from both students and faculty, and was faced with flagrant violation of campus parking regulations.

Students, in a scramble to get to classes when they arrived late, would park close to buildings-where classes were held, rather than in student lots which are larger but more distant.

The result was that parking spaces reserved for college staff were filled with unauthorized student vehicles.

served for the handicapped and in fire cause students were unable to gradulanes.

Issuing tickets was no problem but collecting fines was another matter. The tickets, issued by campus security police, carried little weight so far as either students or faculty were concerned.

Many faculty members ignored the tickets. At last count, there were about 200 faculty tickets and fines still outstanding., Students had accumulated about 2,000 tickets.

The administration tried withholding student transcripts and deduc-" ting fines from teachers' severance pay.

BUT THE GLOBE charged the administration with discrimination be-fines. The editor was not completely im-immediate penalty. Theirs were imposed only when they left the school. A former editor of the Globe claimed the administration had no constitutional right to withhold student transcripts in lieu of payment of the partial, having collected $53 worth of tickets himself. When, he left the paper (voluntarily), his successors further annoyed the administration by informing students that the transcriptwithholding rule was not being enforced.

ate without the transcripts, whereas the faculty and staff received no such

* They also charged there existed a "double standard" for students and faculty, with the students getting the short end of the stick.

"I don't like to see flagrant violations," said Charlotte Heeg, a co-editor of the Globe. "But I would like to see the board of trustees come up with a policy that would do something about the faculty violations, too."

THE SITUATION was getting out of hand, a d the board of trustees decided to act at a March 19 meeting. Beginning April 8, campus police, after board action, began to issue City of Livonia tickets, with fines to be paid to the 16th District Court on Farmington Road south of 5 Mile. Campus police de so under Livonia Or-, dinance 113.

Students and faculty who accumulated tickets before April 7 will continue to have transcripts withheld and severance pay deductions.

Instead of the former $3 fine, they now will be fined $1 if the fine is paid within 48 hours of the citation.

After 48 hours, the fine is $5. But tickets can be appealed to the 16th' District · Court.

Fred Wrenbeck, campus director of security, says violations have been reduced by 90 per cent since the new procedure went into effect.

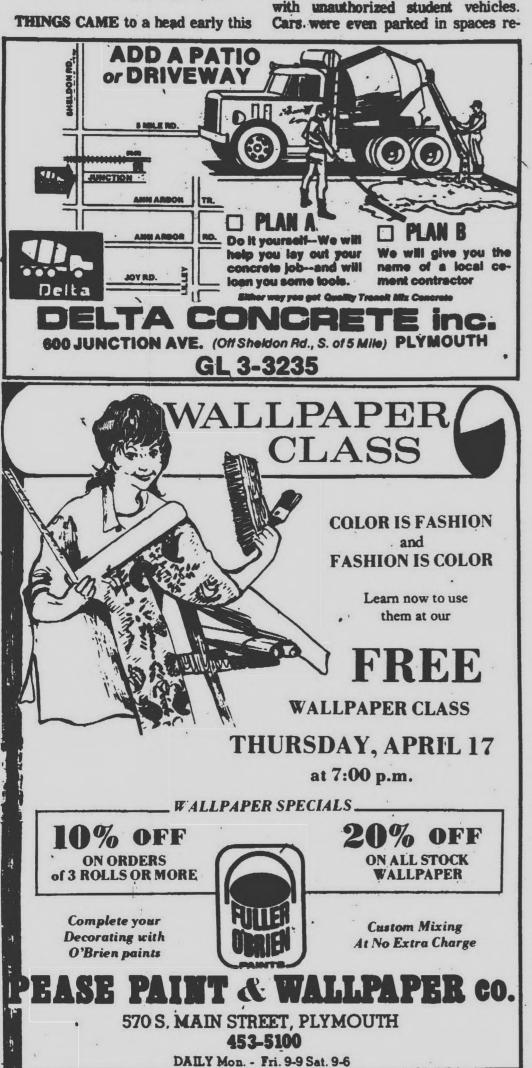

In March, campus police had issued nearly 300 of the "nonenforceable" tickets. Probably no more than 100 of the enforceable City of Livonia tickets

Wrestling supporters form organization

The 200 supporters, led by a hard core group of 15 parents, are determined to lift the quality of the sport at Salem.

Two cuisines, one French and one Greek, illustrate delicious things to do with spinach and cheese, on this page. Poulet Roti au Epinards et Fromage, or Chicken Stuffed with Spinach and Cheese, is from the new cookbook "Simple French Foods" published by Atheneum Press.

Author Richard Olney is an American living in the south of France. Here are his directions on how to stuff and what to stuff with:

Roast about one and one-quarter hours until skin is crispy brown and drumstick meat feels very soft when pressed between fingers. Cut chicken lengthwise and then crosswise into fourths to serve. STUFFING

From the 8th Century B.C. onwards, until her conquest by the Romans, ancient Greece was the cradle of a scientific and literary civilization. The peoples which surrounded her were so far behind in this respect that they were known as barbarians.

THIS WAS the period of her greatest men-Homer, Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Hippocrates, and Democritus, the first man in the world to develop the atom theory.

Under Alexander the Great, the boundaries of the Greek state reached their extent, as far as India. The ideal of democracy was perfected under Pericles, and to this day it is the type of government which, in one form or another, prevails throughout the free land of a civilized world.

Socrates wrote, "Other men live to eat, while I eat to live."

I can't imagine why he would say a thing like that. Perhaps Greek fare like Spanakopita—with its earthlike flavor of feta cheese, tossed in fresh crisp spinach, golden fondue butter and green scallions with eggs and layers and layers of philo dough baked to the exact likeness of the setting sun on the Acropolis—wasn't around when he was philosophing.

THIS RECIPE was submitted by two people, J.E. Post, an American girl who spent four years traveling the Greek isles in splendor, and also Nicholas Siagkris of the Intercoiffure. You can't get any more Greek than that.

SPANAKOPITA (Spinach Pie with Cottage Cheese) 2 pounds spinach One-half pound feta cheese crumbled One-half pound cottage cheese 6 eggs separated Three-quarters pound butter, melted Salt and pepper 1 bunch green onions One-half cup chopped mint and parsley mixed together may be added. I recommend it, but I am not Greek and do not wish to offend a native dish.

Method Clean and chop spinach and place in a large bowl as you would a salad. Make sure there is no water on the greens. Add the cheese, onions, salt and pepper, and toss.

Add half the butter to the egg yolks and mix well. Pour over spinach and toss. Whip the egg whites until frothy. Pour over other ingredients and toss.

Add mint and parsley at this point. One box philo dough defrosted in an oval, round, square one-inch baking Wings are tucked under chicken and body is brushed with oil and herbs, ready for the oven.

Sports is more than cheap entertainment

After attending the banquet honoring the outstanding Plymouth Salem basketball team which fought its way into the semifinals of state championship tournament before losing, we wonder how any member of the Plymouth Board of Education could refer to sports as a cheap evening's entertainment for fans.

But such a reference was made recently and we believe that member or members should have been in attendance at the banquet.

There they would have learned that this isn't cheap entertainment at all, it is a family and community affair that hits home to a great majority of the school district's taxpayers.

It was a sight to behold, watching the young athletes receiving honors while mothers, fathers. relatives and enthusiastic fans looked on with pride.

These people had the pride of the entire community for it wasn't just a question of a great basketball team representing Salem High, it was a matter of "our team" fighting all the way to the semifinals before losing.

And it was those supporters who gathered and provided the potluck dinner which will have to go down in the books as one of the most bountiful and plentiful we have ever attended.

After watching some members of the freshman squad down as many as six half-pints of milk along with two or three heavily loaded plates of food, we could only wonder where they stowed it all. If these youngsters have appetites like that as freshmen, then those in charge of the dinner had better start planning now for bigger things to come the night when they are honored as seniors.

But few were watching the input of the players since there was more than enough for all. Most were waiting for the chance to pay tribute to the athletes who had done so much through the winter to spread the fame of Plymouth across the state.

For the benefit of the school board trustees, who apparently know little about basketball; or other sports as far as that goes, when a team gets into the semifinals of the state championships, it is one of the four best quintets in Michigan.

Only four communities in this great state can claim such a distinction. It's an honor that team followers look forward to from the opening game to the finals of the state meet.

It is a form of sports madness that hits every state in the union in March and the feelings are the same everywhere. This is "our" team and we're going to back it to the limit.

Most fans think of the players as their "kids" since the youngsters developed in the school system and just kept getting better as they moved into the higher grades.

Can you imagine a member of the board saving in a public meeting that it was only because a big tall player moved into the community this year that Plymouth had a good team?

If the reference was to Eric Agardy, the team's center and most valuable player, then this member had better check his records.

Eric was a member of the team a year ago as a junior after the family moved here from · Allen Park. For the member's information there isn't any sign of the Agardys moving away now.

That's why the school board members should have been at the banquet. They would have received a feeling of community pride in the feats of these youngsters.

They would have learned that sports in high schools have plenty of value not just a "cheap night's entertainment."

They would have seen the pride of the parents as their daughters on the Rockettes, the Pom-Pom girls, walked forward to receive letters in appreciation of their efforts.

They would have seen the bright eyes of the parents of the girl cheerleaders as they received awards and the great applause they had from the basketball players. ·

They would have seen basketball players of the future on the ninth grade and junior varsity as they received their letters for a long year of practice.

And then they would have been as proud as everyone in the audience when Coach Fred Thomann quietly chatted about his team and thenmade the presentations.

It was kind of a family night with everyone there a member of the family. But it truly depict-ed the enthusiasm and spirit of the people in the Plymouth Community.

This was the first Plymouth High team ever to go so far in the state tournament and they wanted the players to know they appreciated their efforts.

Too bad that all members of the school board don't have that same feeling.

Easter tickets prompt complaint

Editor:

Christmas and Easter are the only two days that pack the churches full. Last Easter Sunday, I, along with many other people, attended services at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church. After services, most of our cars were ticketed for illegal parking.

The church parking lot, while adequate for the normal week's volume, was not big enough to handle all the cars that showed up.

I called the police department and was told, in effect "T bad you were illegally parked. If the lot was filled few of the fans ever had seen. The question was asked:

"How do you think these kids will do?"

One of the veteran writers who had seen them come and go for years, answered:

"It all depends. If one of them should develop into an inspirational leader, these kids 'might catch on fire' and we'd have a great summer."

THIS ANSWER got The Stroller to thinking and he offered the thought that the Tigers haven't had an inspirational leader since the days of Mickey Cochrane. He set the baseball world agog in 1934 by taking a team that had finished sixth the previous season driving it to the city's first pennant in 25 years.

It was "Black Mike's" leadership, . more than anything else that brought about that success. Fro mome d k charge he kept saying, "It's great to be with a champion." He sold the players on the idea and they thought pennant every day. The Stroller still can see Mickey out there behind the plate screaming and urging the team on. There was no greater hustler than he was every minute of every game. Some fans might argue the case and offer Billy Martin's name.

There's no doubt about it, Billy was a fighting manager but given more to dramatics than inspiring leadership.

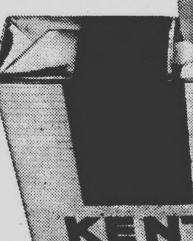

In their days, fellows like Charley Gehringer, Al Kaline, Denny McLain, and Bill Freehan, have been great players. But somehow, even though they set a fine example, they didn't inspire the team.

Possibly, with another Cochrane the new group of young Tigers could go some place and make a battle of the pennant race.

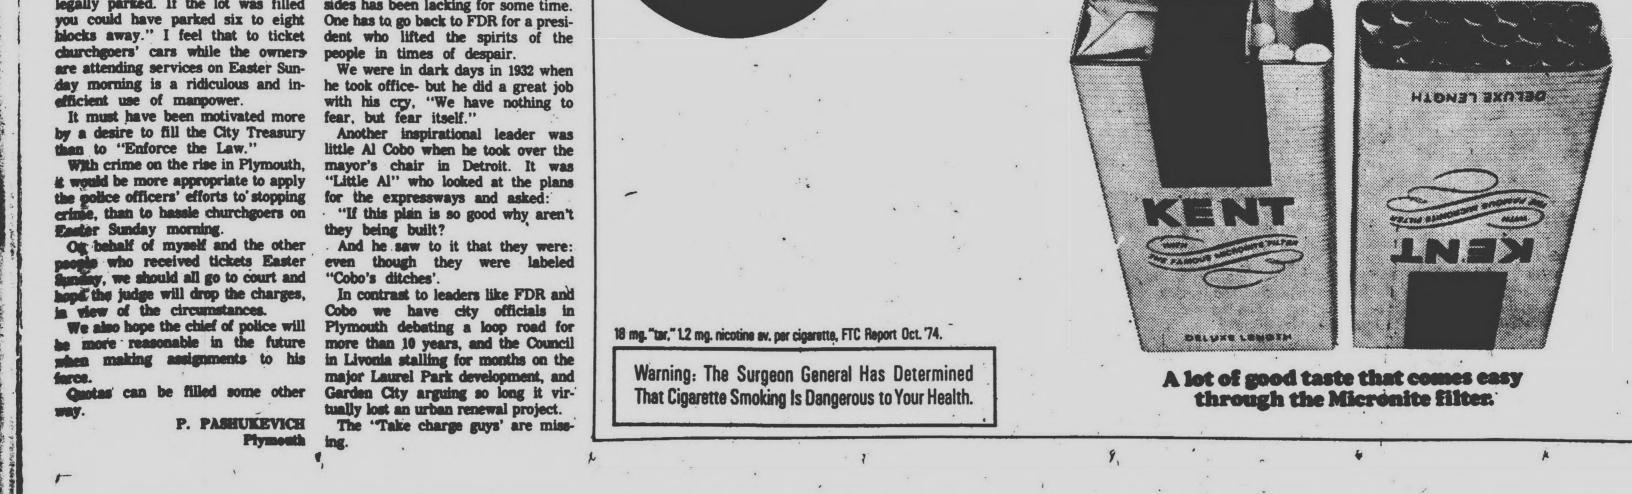

LOOK ABOUT YOU and you'll see that inspirational leadership on all sides has been lacking for some time.

A visit from some young old friends

WOULD THEY EVER grow up and go to college, someone wanted to know.

"Well, they made it to Madonna," their creator said. "Actually, they are aging, but slowly. About one year in every four."

The women, who obviously empathized with the situations Keane depicts in the cartoon strip, also took to heart his confusion over his first visit to this area.

"I thought I was coming to Detroit," he said, "but when they picked me up they said I'd be speaking for the Northville Town Hall so I figured I'd be in Northville. Well no, they said, actually the college is in Livonia."

The sketched Billy reflected his dad's confusion, but there wasn't room to note the fact that the celebrity luncheon was held in Farmingtonat the Holiday Inn there.

THE CARTOONIST began his talk with a barrage of stand-up comic jokes like:

"It's easier for the political cartoonists. Think of the gag writers they have working for them-Kissinger, Teddy Kennedy, Jerry Ford."

His audience laughed at these, but warmed a lot more when he talked about his work and said his "secret ingredient is insight-looking into a home and seeing the happy times when there are little children around."

Keane said he gets many letters,

"Actually, when it was appearing, my wife, Thelma, was in Australia visiting her parents," he added, "and I was taking care of the family. I thought I should be getting the sympathy.

KEANE MADE several references to Erma Bombeck, his neighbor on Joshua Tree Lane in Paradise Valley. Ariz.

"What a cook she is," he said in the gag part of the speech. "The last time her husband had a hot meal was when candle fell on his sandwich." a Later he mentioned that he had enjoyed collaborating on a book with the humorist who has been a town hall guest in this area several times.

"I did appear with her at that time on a Mike Douglas show," he added. "Erma makes appearances like that quite often but I find them quite timeconsuming. I'd rather play tennis.

"Incidentally, Erma just had a tennis court installed in their back yard. That's a laugh."

KEANE SAID the grandparents and pets and many of the trips taken by the Family Circus clan have counterparts in his own life.

At the request of religious groups: he told the women, he has turned Daddy into a non-smoker and a teetotaler, and he's eliminated the punster's delight, "Sideshow," because he thought it distracted from the Sunday

'I usually get up about 4 a.m., work two or three hours and then go back to bed," he explained. "When I get u again I finish up the drawings an then can have the day to play tennis.

"I consider myself one of the luck guys in the world. I get paid for coin what I like to do."

Newcomer to the checkout counter soon may greet shoppers

By MARGARET MILLER (last in a three-part series)

Today's grocery shopper, learning to use nutrition labels and trying to become knowledgeable about food additives, may soon find at the end of the supermarket checkout line a new reason for being on her toes.

It's a computerized cash register. and in this part of the country it went into operation just last week in a Centerline store of Chatham, Inc.

If it is successful there, a Chatham spokesman said, the possibility is it will be brought into the chain's markets in this and other areas. So in time shoppers in any supermarket could find the new system in use.

THE SYSTEM put into operation by Chatham is called Total-Scan.

It utilizes Universal Price Codes, the name for the bars and spaces now being printed on packages by major food and related-item manufacturers.

These codes are read by the computer scanner as the cashier puts them over a window at the end of the checkout line. They are translated into listings and prices on the scanner screen and on the sales receipt.

THE INNOVATION is described by Chatham spokesman as one that will benefit the shopper as well as the store because "efficiency in everything leads to consumer benefits-and at this point we feel there are treventages Consumer News & Views as calling the proposal to remove prices on grocery items "totally unacceptable." Such a move, she said, would impair the customer's ability to comparison shop.

The Magazine also pointed to objections by labor unions to possible layoffs as the result of eliminating item pricing, fear that unless bagging procedures also were speeded up there would be little time saved, and suggestions that the cost of installing a costly new system might be passed on in increased supermarket prices.

It was also suggested that "human errors in misringing merchandise may be eliminated but the system introduces computer error and failure to the chore of the often-hurried and already frustrated grocery shopper." THE CHATHAM SPOKESMAN said it was not certain what steps would follow the introduction of the computer system, but agreed studies were being made on various aspects of operational savings it would mean, including the savings of not marking prices on individual items. He added the firm felt its thorough sumer he felt would come from computerized checkout, should lead to acceptance of the price marking.

"We're in business to make a profit." he said. "and to do this we must give customers the service they want."

He added that in a number of innovations to improve efficiency it had not been Chatham's practice to discharge empoyes because of that improvement.

ONE ADVANTAGE the new system offers customers, he said, is the more readable cash receipt.

Another he mentioned is the possibility of putting a stop on any grocery/ item that should suddenly be recalled register tape.

A MILK CARTON has its symbol read as the cashier passes i across the scanner window.

From the shopper's point of view, it involves, first, a series of bars and spaces on each item purchased. These in time could replace the price printed on the paczage, although now the prices are there too.

A second big change for the shopper would be a far more detailed sales receipt, with item, brand, weight and price, instead of the somewhat cryptic list of numbers now received with the bags of groceries.

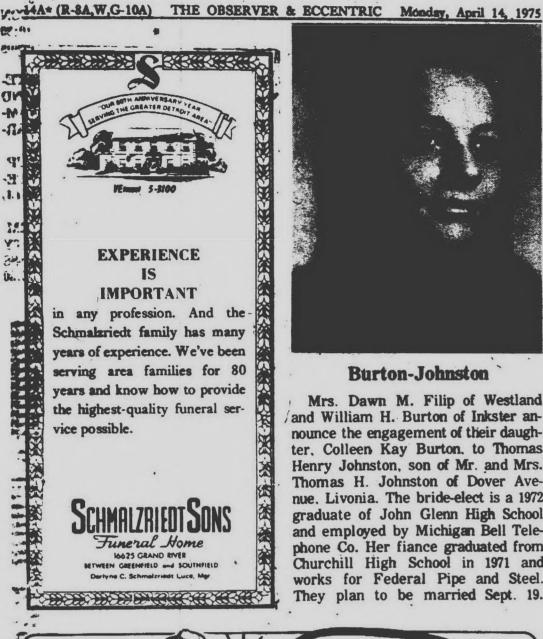

technology.

"So far our customers are fascinated by the equipment, and they like it because it has meant less waiting time at the cash register."

RESERVATIONS about the system have been expressed by consumer groups Carol Foreman, director of the Consumer Federation of America, was system of marking prices on shelves, quoted in the February, 1975, issue of and the additional benefits to the con-by the producer, such as the tainted mushrooms of a few months ago. "The computer would keep such items from getting past the cash register."

He also pointed to the prospects for better inventory control and thus faster restocking of popular items. The computer checkout system was developed in Switzerland and the Chatham store in Centerline is one of nine in the nation to have it in test use.

Tigers' Campbell takes big gamble on '75 team

By W.W. EDGAR

During his years as general manager of the Detroit Tigers Jim Campbell has made many bold moves. He fired Billy Martin as manager when he was at the peak of his popularity with the fans. He traded Denny McLain after his finest years with the team. He wouldn't renew Mayo Smith's/contract after the pennant winning years. And he approved the shifting of Mickey Stanley, the regular center fielder, to shortstop to replace Ray Oyler for the 1968 world series.

But, by his own admission, the greatest gamble he ever has taken is sending the "bunch of kids" that lost to the Baltimore Orioles, 10 to 0, in the season opener, into the long pennant race.

No team ever has undergone such a shakeup in the major leagues. Only four experienced major league learn- and they'll start learning this afternoon when they face Jim Palmer, one of the best pitchers in the league, and the Orioles.

"If they 'jell'- and I 'm sure hoping they do," Jim said, "we could have a very exciting summer."

Reminded that he had brought in a group of young players from Syracuse of the International League in the mid-60's- the group that included Freehan, Horton, Stanley and Jim Northrup, Campbell nodded with a smile, "but they had a year or two more experience in the minor leagues than the group we have put there now."

Asked why he waited until the start of this season to bring them in as a group, Jim replied:

"They weren't quite ready last year until late in the fall, and I wanted them to have as much experience in the minors as possible.'

Even after the opening game had players were in the starting lineup. – ended, with the Tigers suffering their Bill Freehan behind the plate, Joe worst opening day defeat since re-Coleman on the mound, Aurelio Rodri- cords were kept, he was not dis-"They didn't quit, " he said, "They "You never know what is going to kept fighting until the last out. "They're going to make mistakes, ' he went on, "but they are going to be exciting. It all depends on how quickly they 'jell'."

Another who looked at the 'new' Tigers was Charley Gehringer, the Hall of Famer who is considered the best second baseman of all-time.

"I know how those kids feel out there" he said. "I know how I felt when I came up in 1924. I hope they make it- but I think they still are a year away.

"One thing about them, they're all young together, and they can be moulded into a machine together. That helps."

Proof that the eyes of the baseball world will be on the 'kids' was furnished by the fact that more than 40,000 fans turned out for the opener. More than that, too, 103 members of the media were on hand to follow the action. Of this group 77 were writers and 26 members of the TV and radio outlets. It was one of the biggest turnouts for a regular game. Many of them accompanied the team to New York where the 'kids' had a face to face confrontation with 'Catfish' Hunter and the New York Yankees for another lesson over the week-end.

Panthers start fast, meet West today

Garden City's two high schools clash today (Monday) for the city's baseball title with East rated the favorite over crosstown rival West.

Either Bob Hudson or Greg Emery, both lefthanders, will be on the mound for Billy Joe Young's Panthers while righthander Mark Sutherland has been chosen by Coach Bob Dropp to hurl for West's Tigers.

Last year West trounced the Panthers, 13-0, but it looks like another story this season. East will carry a 2-9 record into the contest, having routed Livonia Stevenson, 6-1, and Romulus, 12-6, in its two outings.

In the season opener, Hudson looked extremely good against Romulus as he allowed no runs, no hits, struck out five and walked four in four innings. Meanwhile, East was battering two Eagle pitchers for 18 hits as every Panther player but one got a hit.

PACING the attack were Joe Becsziko with 3-for-4 and two runs batted in and Tod Kleinbrook with 3-for-5. three RBIs and three stolen bases.

Hurler gets no-hitter, loses first start ever

By JIM BRADLEY

Murray Duncan pitched a no-hitter Wednesday for John Glenn High School that ranks as one of the most unusual in prep baseball history.

Not only because he lost to Garden City West, 1-0. But also because it was the first varsity game the 6-foot, 160-pound Westland senior had pitched in his life.

The slender 17-year-old played infield on the 10th grade JV team two years ago but failed to make the Rockets' varsity last year as a junior. This spring, Coach Norm Hoenes was pretty well set for infielders so Murray decided to try out for the outfield - and also asked for a chance to pitch.

"We had a few nonleague games, so I decided to let Murray start," Hoenes said. And what a start it was!

DUNCAN THREW only 54 pitches in hurling seven innings against the surprised Tigers of West. He was elated about the no-hitter, but sorry his team lost. "I guess you have to have an apparent double. As Noonan the breaks - and I got my share," Duncan said after the game.

"John Irwin (third baseman for Glenn) made a real good play and saved a hit in the game. I really didn't think about the no-hitter until the sixth inning. I was nervous then," he added.

MURRAY DUNCAN

Another oddity in the game happened in that same inning. West's junior centerfielder, Dave Noonan, rapped a solid liner down the left field line and raced into second base with reached the bag, the umpire's right arm went vigorously into the air as he signalled the runner out. The man in blue ruled that Noonan had deliberately flipped off his batting helmet on his way to first base (against the rules) and the hit was disallowed ----thus preserving Duncan's no-hitter.

West's Mark Sutherland was only a shade behind Duncan as the strongarmed right hander allowed only three singles, struck out six and walked two in going the full seven innings.

LEFTFIELDER Matt Shinsky drew a walk for West in the second inning. He made a belated attempt to steal second and the catcher's throw sailed into centerfield. Shinsky wheeled toward third and looked like a "deadduck" but the Glenn flychaser bobbled the ball and Shinsky was safe at third. Jim Zoccoli then bounced to short and Shinsky barely beat the throw to the plate for the game's only run.

Duncan allowed only two walks in the game and fanned six, five in the first three innings.

"I developed a good curve earlier in the spring," the youngster explained. "I used to be primarily a fast ball pitcher, but I threw 75 per cent curves against West.

"I think I'm going to develop into a good pitcher. I've always had a good fast ball, now it's just a matter of working on the other pitches."
