Parking deficit grows

By MIKE ARNHOLT

PLYMOUTH—Going the way of the good five cent cigar, the "bargain" parking rate of five cents an hour may be a thing of the past in downtown Plymouth.

The Plymouth City Commission will consider changing the price of a 60minute stop at the central parking lot from five to 10 cents to meet an increasing deficit in the city's parking

He was dead on arrival at St. Mary Hospital, Livonia. He suffered a massive heart attack during an editorial board meeting at the Observer & Eccentric office in Livonia.

Funeral services were held Wednesday evening in the Harry J. Will Funeral Home, Redford Township. An old friend, Rev. John Rozak of SS. Cyril and Methodius Seminary. Orchard Lake, officiated. Burial was in Warren, Ohio, the steel town where he

In his profession, Thompson was noted for his fierce loyalty to his newspaper and its staff which, in turn, won him a loyalty and respect equally as strong.

A BIG MAN, jovial in nature. Thompson frequently adopted a gruff front to shield a softness of heart recognized with affection by all who knew him well.

first interest from his teen years on, Thompson's enthusiasm reached out in a multitude of directions. Moreover, he threw himself wholeheartedly behind projects he found worthy.

One of these was establishment of Schoolcraft College which he backed with all-out effort. After its founding, he continued covering board meetings and editorializing on its affairs.

"Tommy had an abiding interest in education in this region," said Schoolcraft President Emeritus Eric Bradner. "He was the key man in the

He was always willing to say what was on his mind and his interest in the college was always productive and constructive, and not destructive. His loss to this area is a great one."

> THOMPSON ALSO served on the silver anniversary and cultural affairs committees at Madonna College and was a member of the committee for the study of co-education there. He was a guest speaker at journalism staff conferences and workshops and worked with the college's journalism students who completed their co-op education at Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

> "Madonna is a better institution for having known Richard Thompson," said Sister Mary Danatha, president. "It is a stronger college for having shared his wisdom and a richer community of persons for having been befriended by the man who affectionately termed the religious staff 'my girls'."

Sister Mary Lauriana, dean of Ma-While sports was far and away his donna, called Thompson "a man for our times, alert and alive, generous and understanding. We will dearly miss him," she added.

Thompson was recognized among his colleagues as a newspaperman of the "old school."

A FAMILIAR city room sight was Thompson seated at his desk, his hat pushed to the back of his head, and "Tommy" pounding at the typewriter with two fingers. (Until his 1972 heart attack, there also would have been a cigar smouldering in an ash tray.) Philip H. Power, co-publisher of Observer & Eccentric Newspapers. termed Thompson's death "a deep personal loss.

"Tommy Thompson was an outstanding newsman who, more than any one person, developed the editorial staff and policies of our newspapers," he said. He was at once ferocious and caring: gruff and kind; most of all, he cared.

"His passing will be greatly felt by Observer & Eccentric employes who came to love and admire him through the years." Power added.

He was so prolific a writer that he used two pseudonyms for his columns. "Doc Minard" and "Artee", as well as his own name. The "Doc Minard" tag was a joking reference to a horse liniment he used to ease arthritic pains.

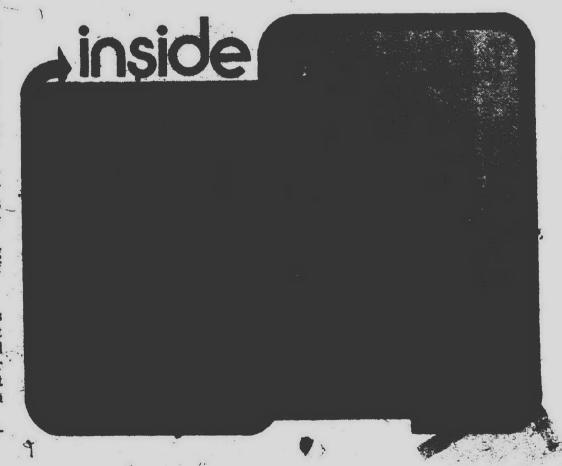

THOMPSON WAS firm in his opinions and never hesitated to make his feelings clear.

Once, to emphasize a point, he smashed his fist on a desk so hard he broke the little finger.

"During the many years I knew Tommy - as a veteran newspaperman, editor and friend - I was most impressed by his integrity." commented Sam Hudson, chief historian of the City of Plymouth and former Schoolcraft College trustee.

"One always knew where he stood on important civic issues. Tommy was forthright, never equivocal. He was an extremely competent news executive who will be missed by his

Metropolitan-West Hospital strike temporarily averted

By DENNY COFFMAN

WESTLAND—Federal mediators helped to head off a strike by a labor union against a hospital run by a labor union Tuesday.

Local 42 of the Office and Professional Employees International Union (AFL-CIO) temporarily called off a strike that was set to take place noon Tuesday against Metropolitan Hospital of 1800 Tuxedo in Detroit and Metropolitan Hospital-West of 28303 Joy. Westland.

Both sides had met with the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service late Monday night and early Tuesday morning in a last-minute attempt to resolve differences over a proposed new contract between OPEI and the

THE UNION employes have been working without a new contract since Feb. 1 of this year. They will vote on the hospital's latest proposals at a meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Membership includes office staff, accounting personnel, dietary aides, housekeeping personnel, medical records clerks and medical attendants. Of the union's 450 members, 80 are employed at Metro-West.

Carol Hollman, Metro-West employe and a member of the union's strike committee, refers to the new set of proposals as a "take-away contract," meaning that the hospital is taking away more than it is giving.

According to Mrs. Hollman, chances for approval of the contract by union membership appear slim.

Hospital management is offering a cost-of-living increase of 26 cents an hour, but offered 33 cents an hour last year, according to Mrs. Hollman.

Management's latest offer also included a change in sick and accident benefits that would provide an employe with $100 a week after he has been out of work for 60 days because of sickness or an accident.

The employe must have attained at least a year's seniority to qualify.

The hospital also has proposed that in future contract negotiations, both sides submit to binding arbitration, and that the contract be effective for three years rather than two as it is

The union wants the UAW-run hospital to bring wages, the cost-of-living allowance, pensions, supplemental unemployment benefits and sicknessaccident benefits up to what OPEI suggests are "UAW standards."

Many of the provisions, OPEI contends, are those which the UAW has been demanding for its own membership in contract talks with auto com-

The union also charges the hospital has hired strike-breakers and security guards to threaten its members.

The hospital management, claims OPEI, has turned the facilities into a "virtual armed camp."

The union's bargaining committee contends the hospital made "elaborate and expensive preparations, as if for a seige, using the age-old antiunion excuse of fearing violence."

OPEI claims the hospital has made "attempts to intimidate peaceful pickets with armed security guards"and says attempts have been made to recruit strike-breakers from the ranks

Operating revenue is obtained from health insurance coverages, such as Metro Health Plan (formerly Community Health Association) and Blue Cross and Medicaid.

OPEI claims the hospital can finance employe wage increases out of its alleged "artificially inflated prices."

· According to Mrs. Hollman, the hospital workload has doubled in the last year but only a handful of workers have been employed to compensate.

"And," says Mrs. Hollman, "we still are not allowed to hold union meetings. I'm not even allowed to talk to you now."

SC students to assist those who will transfer

By DENNY COFFMAN

LIVONIA-To many community college students, the prospect of leaving their friendly, neighborhood two-year college for an impersonal, distant four-year school is like jumping the Great Wall of China.

From relatively small classes with easily accessible instructors, they transfer to schools with enormous lecture classes.

It's a big step from Garden City, Westland, Redford, Livonia or Plymouth to Ann Arbor, Lansing, Kalamazoo or Mt. Pleasant.

BUT TWO Schoolcraft College (SC) students have been trying to learn how to make the transition less painful for themselves and their fellow stu-

Kathy Wilson of 16504 Wayne, and Kent Lawless of 16876 Woodside, both of Livonia, recently attended a conference at the University of Michigan (U-M) aimed at helping community college students-talk over their mutual problems.

From talking with students who have made the transition from community college to U-M, some of what they learned was encouraging.

"I found that none of the U-M students looked down on SC students, and that those who had gone to a community college before attending U-M were glad they did," says Kathy.

BUT SOME of what they learned was less encouraging.

"We were told that U-M was hard, which we already knew," says Kathy. "And we were told to expect our grades to go down, too."

"Just finding out where everything is located is a major undertaking." says Kathy. "You're really on your own at U-M. It's not like Schoolcraft, where there is more assistance from teachers and counselors."

Kent, who is taking a "step out"—a year off- before going on to a fouryear school, agrees.

9 students make Adrian's dean's list

Nine western Wayne County students were among the 292 Adrian College students named to the dean's list for the 1974-75 fall semester.

To achieve the honor a student must maintain a B+ average while taking at least 14 credit hours of study. Livonia students on the list include:

Lisa Denison, Deborah Jackson,

Susan Rupp and Anne Shaffer. Others are: Dave Hees, Daniel Hees and Judy West, all of Plymouth; David Krause of Redford Township; and Karen Sanders of Wevtland.

'Barber' blends comedy, drama

Some 65 members of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra are sharpening their musical abilities in preparation for their joint performance with the Michigan Opera Theater (MOT) in "The Barber of Seville" Saturday April 26.

ber of Seville," Saturday, April 26.

The orchestra, directed by Wayne Dunlap has been rehearsing for nearly two months, perfecting the light, lively and complex arias, and the intricate recitatives.

Rossini's comic opera will be sung by an enthusiastic and accomplished MOT cast which includes, Rockwell Blake as Count Almaviva, Davis Gloff as Dr. Bartolo, Nancy Fox Hoover as Rosina, and Allan Glassman as the ingenious Figaro the barber.

Also Johnathan Prescott as Basilio, Roman Terleckyj as Fiorello (the musician) and Karen Ruczvnski as Berta.

AS THE OPERA begins the handsome Count Almaviva is in love with Rosina, whose guardian is the mean and suspicious Dr. Bartolo. Almaviva, with the help of Fiorello, comes to serenade his lady, but she fails to answer his song. Then, Almaviva hears someone coming and hides.

Figaro, the town barber and jack-of-all-trades, bounds in boasting of his busy life and many talents, in particulr those which involve intrigue.

Almaviva seeks Figaro's talents and the barber agrees to help him win Rosina.

In the meantime, Dr. Bartolo also plans to marry Rosina and inherit her large dowry.

The opera is filled with rich humor and dialog.

It is through the shrewd scamp Figure that the

It is through the shrewd scamp, Figaro, that the young lovers are finally paired.

The opera, which is done in English, is an "All's well that end's well," type of story with just the right blend of humor and drama. It is totally enjoyable even to the novice opera-goer.

JOINING THE MOT and the Plymouth symphony are 17 members of the all male chorus from the Plymouth community.

Singing in the chorus are Don Tripp, John Gaffield, Bob Cooper, Keith Burton, Rod Feld, R. Wideman, Paul Bedford and Dale Miller.

Also Bill Upton, Stewart Delaney, Bob Webber, Chuck Heidt, Earl Gibson, Stan Hone, Gary Temple, John Thompson and Bill Bartlett.

The "Barber" is about a 2½ hour production.
"The movements are slow but segments are decorated and length is no problem because of the visual attraction and use of words," says Dunlap.
"The recitatives move the action forward and the arias let the audience savor the moment."

The musical accompaniment, explains Dunlap, will feature more strings than anything else. Also winds in pairs.

It takes a developed skill to accompany opera and Dunlap feels his group will meet the task. "My job is to make this orchestra sing," he adds.

DUNLAP HAS a solid background in opera conducting. He conducted for the University of Michigan opera, the Norfolk Civic Opera, Norfolk, Va., and most recently the Opera Association of Western Michigan in Grand Rapids, which staged "Barber" three years ago.

The MOT and symphony presentation will culminate a week-long program of opera workshops and demonstrations by the MOT in-residence company in the PLymouth schools.

Bringing the opera to the Plymouth area has been a cooperative effort by the Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC) and the Plymouth Symphony Society.

Tickets are $5.50 in advance and $6 at the door.

The opera will be at 8 p.m. in the Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium, Joy west of Canton Center Road.

TICKETS ARE available in the PCAC box office in the Edision office, Main Street and Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

MOT and the symphony will play a dress rehearsal Friday, April 25 at 8 p.m. in the high school. Tickets are $1 for students and senior citizens, and $3 for adults accompanied by a student.

DON BASILIO, a music teacher, is played by MOT bass Johnathan Prescott.

Greenleaf seeks Schoolcraft seat

Harry G. Greenleaf has announced his candidacy for election to the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees in the district's June 9 election.

Greenleaf, active in Wayne County Republican politics, has lived in Livonia at 35936 Pinetree since 1964.

HE HAS SERVED in various personnel assignments with Ford Motor Co. since 1958.

This professional background, Greenleaf says, "will be of assistance in reviewing proposed policies and programs of Schoolcraft Community College aimed at the increasing needs of the area it serves in occupational skills oriented education, and for preparing students planning transfers to four-year colleges.

"I have also developed knowledge of budgeting practices both from preparation and control perspectives. Prior experience and academic preparation in engineering provides a technical base for viewing questions which may come before the board in this area."

Kids' fishing derby June 7 at Newburgh

Young fishermen should circle Saturday, June 7, on their calendars. That's the day of the annual Tom Sawyer-Becky Thatcher fishing derby on Newburgh Lake.

It will be open for boys and girls age 6-16 who must register that morning and use only natural baits.

Co-sponsors are the Western Wayne County Conservation Association and the recreation departments of cities and townships along the Middle Rouge River.

Last year 3,264 fish were entered although many others were caught by youngsters who didn't enter them.

Prizes are awarded for the largest of many species of fish as well as for numbers of fish. Fishing and other outdoor recreation equipment will be awarded.

Nearly 400 young anglers took part last year, said Hank Chruscial, derby chairman for the conservation group, and the number grows by 100 each Newburgh Lake stretches along the E.N. Hines Parkway west of Newburgh Road. Most frequently caught species include bluegills, sunfish, crappie and goldfish with an occasional black bass and northern pike show-

Kurt Frischman of Livonia has been named industrial chemical representative for the Harshaw Chemical Company of Cleveland. His Detroit sales office is at 16141 Eight Mile.

He will represent Harshaw in parts of Michigan, Inidana, Ohio and Kentucky for chemicals including fluorides, metal salts, antimony oxide and sodium methylate.

He has served as an evening instructor in personnel management at Henry Ford Community College, taught technical courses in New York State at Hudson Valley Community College, and was an instructor in apprenticeship programs offered by the Albany Public Schools in New York.

GREENLEAF CURRENTLY serves as chairman of the Wayne 2nd Congressional District Republican Committee, which includes Livonia, Plymouth and Northville. He is on the ad hoc public safety study commission in Livonia.

He has a bachelor of management engineering degree from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. In 1970, he was appointed by the president of Rensselaer to a committee to determine goals and shape direction for the college through 1985. Greenleaf's previous experience includes: Republican precinct delegate and delegate to Republican State Conventions since 1970; chairman, Livonia Republican Party 1972-74; Boy Scouts and Jaycees in Troy, N.Y. He received the community service plaque from Ford Motor Co. in 1973.

"THROUGH VARIOUS civic, political, and church-related activities, I have come to know the community Schoolcraft serves and through these involvements sense the deep commitment the residents of these communities have toward educational programs that are based on excellence and supported by sound administrative management of tax dollars.

"Schoolcraft has enjoyed a solid reputation in both regards. My goal is to help maintain the positive pace previous Schoolcraft boards have set over the years for the college's development, particularly as the student body continues its shift to a major portion of students in evening programs off the main campus to locations in the various communities.

"This development promises even greater opportunity for individuals to avail themselves of educational programs but must be continually and carefully assessed from a cost-benefit aspect and from a quality of education received."

Two positions will be filled in the June 9 election. Eligible to vote are residents of the college district which is composed of the local school districts of Livonia, Plymouth, Clarenceville, Garden City and Northville.

FUNMACHINE the First Time You Try You don't have to take lessons or know how to read music to play the FunMachine. It's a musical instrument you can play even if you've never played before.

With one finger on your left hand you can play any one of seventeen different rhythm sections. Push a key down and you start a marching band marching. A swing band swinging. You can choose anything from a country to a soul rock band.

With one finger on your right hand, carry the melody. There're over a dozen solo instruments to choose from - a banjo, flute, accordian, trumpet, vibra harp, guitar, piano or harpsichord, rinky tink piano, Hawaiian guitar or you create your own. Select them yourself or let FunMachine do it automatically at the touch of a single button.

Put both hands together and you're making all kinds of music, the very first time you try!

quality if they teach 12 hours a week schedule interrupted with leadership for 14 weeks in a 52 week year and changes, the women contend. earn at least $25 per week.

School districts, already hardpressed financially, get around paying unemployment compensation by limiting subs to 13 or fewer weeks per year or fewer than 12 hours a week.

The effects of this dodge, are apparent. Subs formerly called for 100 or more teaching days a year are called once every two or three weeks. Instead of one sub taking a class and staying with it during an extended teacher absence, students may have a whole procession of subs.

Continuity is lost and the classroom

PATRICIA MASEK of Westland has been named field office consultant for the Michigan region in Prudential Insurance Co.'s North Central home office in Minneapolis, according to Elmer C. Barringer, manager of the Livonia district office. She is responsible for the training of clerical personnel in 16 district offices in the region. She joined Prudential in the Lincoln, Neb., district in 1966 and was named office manager of the Livonia district in 1973.

So how do you change law already on the books? Well, if you are Mary Cassidy, you get yourself on television to give your viewpoint and you make a lot of phone calls to legislators—and in this case, the Michigan Education Association (MEA).

So far, the women have spotted one little light at the end of the tunnel. There is Senate Bill No. 18 authored by Senator William Huffman which contains a clause "A substitute teacher employed on an occasional or noncontractual basis, by a school district or community college district, is not eligible to accrue credit weeks for unemployment benefits...."

This bill, which Mrs. Cassidy and Mrs. Courtade favor, is now before the Senate Labor Committee.

At a committee hearing on the bill April 9, Mrs. Cassidy endorsed the proposal.

At one point in she said, "Good substitute teachers would rather teach than stand in an unemployment line." She listed four problem areas:

 What happens to the students and the educational continuity in a classroom or school visited by a succession of unfamiliar substitutes?

 What happens to the regular teachers who have come to depend on good substitutes to keep the educational process moving when needed?

 What happens to a substitute with a provisional certificate who must teach 540 days within five years of receiving his degree to qualify for a permanent certificate?

 What happens to the substitutes who must work for several school districts where the students, administrators, regular teachers, text books. teaching methods and even building locations are completely strange.

She summed up her presentation "...Fran (Mrs. Courtade) and I want to say that passing Senate Vill No. 18 will correct a law that hurts a lot of kids in this state-to provide a minimal benefit that substitute teachers don't need or want-at the expense of the local school boards and taxpayers who can't afford to pay.

GERALD DUNN, executive secretary of the Metropolitan Association for Improved School Legislation, says of the bill, "I'm pretty positive about the bill coming out of committee."

The three members of the committee who conducted the hearing, Sen. David Plawecki (D-Dearborn Heights), chairman, Sen. Jack Faxon (D-Detroit) and Sen. Gary Corbin (D-Genessee County) "acted on a positive note" toward the Cassidy-Courtade presentation.

The women are not as optimistic • about the bill's future—partly because the MEA hasn't taken a a position on the proposed change.

Corbin, vice-chairman of the labor committee, said he doesn't know when the bill will come out of com-

The problem, he explained, is to word the bill so all substitutes are not. excluded from qualifying for unemployment benefits.

"THE PROBLEM is to prevent subs from being considered fulltime teachers and preventing school boards from using subs as permanent substitute teachers."

· He explained some boards could use a sub as a permanent teacher to save money. Subs generally are paid less than permanent teachers and don't qualify for benefits. Plawecki said the MEA decided it would take the proposal to its executive board for a decision.

The inequities of the present bill entitling subs to unemployment conpensation after they meet the qualifying time are all too obvious to Mrs. Courtade.

In the 1973-74 school year she taught 98 days in the Redford Union school district. So far this year she has answered all requests and taught 38 days. If the demand for her services continues at the present rate, she will have taught 45 days by the end of the school year.

SHE SAID SHE was called recently for one day's work with special ed children. She was the third sub in a week to have the children in gym class, and sub had never taught that course before, she said.

Meijer's regrets any inconvenience this may have caused our custom-young offenders by applying a state law that limits access to juvenile court records.

In a landmark decision last week, the court unanimously said that Aetna Life and Casualty and two other insurance companies be allowed to examine police records to help recover a share of $18,000 damages done by juvenile vandals.

Police refused to disclose names of minors involved in an Oct. 21, 1970. fire in the Eleven Mile Road office of Dr. Burton Simon.

Under the state parental responsibility act, parents are liable up to $1,500 for acts of vandalism by their minor children. Aetna was unable to bring suit under the act because of inability to pin down responsibility, according to Southfield City Attorney Sigmund Beras.

"We have always taken the position that records of investigative processes of the police department don't have to be revealed to the general public," said Beras.

"WE HELD that the police department isn't encompassed within the meaning of the statute that protects juvenile court records," the April 8 supreme court ruling states.

"The insurance companies hadn't demonstrated an inability to pursue their legal remedy when they tried to obtain names of children who cause extensive damage to other peoples' property."

Investigation of the 1970 office fire in Southfield disclosed suspicion of arson and the names of two juveniles involved, said Beras. Their records were marked "confidential," he said.

"Aetna paid fire damages and sought to take advantage of the parental responsibility act," Beras said. "Southfield police refused to reveal the names of the juveniles or their parents, invoking the state statute that protects the records of minor of-

In 1971, Aetna brought suit against the Southfield Police Department in Oakland County Circuit Court. The insurance company asked the judge to order police to disclose the information in the records.

"I ADVISED our police officers that the records be turned over to probate court which has jurisdiction over juveniles," Beras said. "The records were released to Oakland County Probate Court by order of the circuit court. The lawsuit against Southfield police was dismissed."

Tommy's craft: Words are short, loyalty long

Tommy Thompson is dead.

He died Monday morning, coming out of an editorial board meeting to be suddenly struck down by a massive heart attack. He died with his boots on, which is as he would have wanted it.

From the time of the old Observer Newspapers group and then after the merger with the Eccentric Newspapers, Tommy more than any other man guided and shaped and prodded the news staff and the editorial content of these plapers to the point that they became recognized as perhaps the best suburban newspaper group in the country.

And now that he has passed on, what is there to say in the rushing vacuum of grief and regret, and the sharp sense of fierce jerking pride and

There is this, which is what he taught us all.

NEWSPAPERING, when it's right, is a stubborn, human-sized, old-fashioned craft.

It is not a fancy profession like law or medicine, filled with frills and phrases; the words are short in the newspaper business, and the guts and loyalty are long.

To call newspapering a craft is not to say that it is easy. Observing accurately, thinking clearly and writing well - especially under the surge of an onrushing deadline - are among the hardest things men and women can do.

Tommy had all these tools of his craft, and more. And he combined with them his own personality to give him a stature quite extraordinary in this business.

OUTRAGE. Always quick to anger and quicker to cool down, Tommy particularly was a crusader for people, and his capacity for rage at the stupid or petty or just plain dumb was never more than a few seconds away.

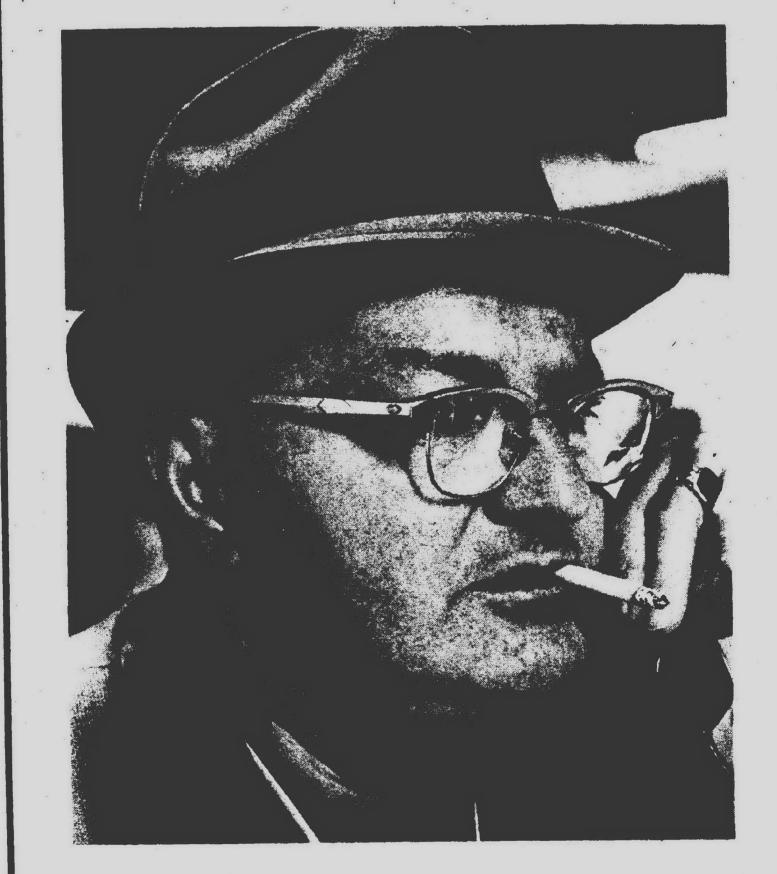

A few months ago, the son of one of our pressmen was horribly maimed in an automobile accident which would never have happened if safety barriers had been placed alongside the expressway excavation on Schoolcraft Road.

Tommy got sore. He discovered that the rules required such barriers and learned that the Highway Department and the contractors had simply failed to follow them. He wrote stories and editorials, and in short order the barriers began to go up, certainly to save others from injury or death.

BLUNTNESS. Tommy, more than any newspaperman I ever knew, called a spade a spade.

If Tommy thought some public official or government act was dumb or silly, he called it dumb or silly in print. Period. No fancy footwork.

And then when we would tease him about another of his subtle editorials about official silli-

LOYALTY. In Tommy loyalty to his friends and his staff was raised to nearly a ferocity. going well beyond kindness even to a kind of tenderness.

This was unexpected, since on the outside he looked and sounded like the classic, gruff, oldtime city editor in the movies. And I am sure he scared his share of green reporters, but he then reached out to them with kindness and compassion and concern which won their loyalty in re-

PROFESSIONALISM. Tommy was, first and last, an old pro.

He knew that his first obligation was to get the paper out, and there was no man alive who could turn out more copy on deadline or clear more pages for the press than Tommy Thompson.

Back in 1967, when Detroit burned with riots, we were typesetting and printing the papers in a plant right in the middle of the worst area downtown. We put together a volunteer crew to go down on Tuesday to get the paper out.

Tommy, obviously, wanted to go in the worst way. But he knew that the real key to the situation was back at the office, where the suburban news angles were breaking and where the writing had to take place. So he stayed. And wrote. And the paper came out on time, and it was a good paper. And when we got back, he came out the door and looked at us and held his head high. And he

AND SO now that he is gone, there is a hole in our news room - a hole which had been filled by an old pro, who sat hunched over his typewriter, hat pushed back on his forehead, a cigarette hanging from his lips, with two fingers on an old typewriter, hammering out the news. It will not be filled, for they don't make them like Tommy any more.

Schoolcraft reaches out

I once wondered why community colleges devoted so much attention to academic courses and so little to an occupational curriculum.

I also have wondered how "community" could be used as part of the institution's description when the college restricted its activities within the confines of the campus.

I no longer wonder about either question.

SCHOOLCRAFT COLLEGE in Livonia has, to its credit, expanded both its occupational curriculum and its outreach into the community.

In recent years, corporations have added the fringe benefit of paying tuition for apprenticeships and other job-related training programs. Another development has been the return of many Vietnam-era military veterans eligible for benefits under the GI Bill. Other veterans in our communities have also chosen Schoolcraft as a place in which to invest their GI educational ben-As a result, the student body at Schoolcraft in RECENTLY, Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote spoke of the commitment the college has to get closer to the community and use existing buildings in the afternoons and evenings.

The first move was establishment of a satellite campus in Florence Elementary School, Garden City; that building was closed two years ago because of declining elementary enrollment. The college plans to establish a second center in Garden City, probably at Harrison Intermediate School. Although the college planned for an enrollment of 250, the satellite was so popular that it opened with 1,000 students.

Schoolcraft is also planning to lease the Wayne County Child Development Center in cooperation with Wayne State University.

Schoolcraft is having financial difficulty, but the administration and board of trustees deserve praise for the growth made and the excellent service member communities.

Only hungry lions will hunt

There were many cries of anguish this week and there will be many more in the weeks to come in our fair metropolitan city as the funds for the Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB) run out.

For the average worker the state provides up to half pay for up to 26 weeks if he is laid off after taxing employers to supply the funds. Under the auto workers' contract the automobile companies supply another sum, which together with the regular unemployment compensation gives a laid off auto worker 95 per cent of his usual take home pay, as long as the fund lasts.

OBVIOUSLY NEITHER the regular nor the SUB funds were designed for more than temporary help to get laid off people over a short layoff or help them find a new job.

It was never intended to be a welfare program in times of economic disaster. But disaster has struck and the SUB well is running dry leaving workers to live on the regular benefits until they run out. While this might seem like a tragedy, it could possibly be the best thing that has happened to De-

IF LAID OFF workers get 95 per cent of their take home pay, there is little impetus to leave the area and look for a new job.

There are places in America looking for the type of semi-skilled worker we have produced in Detroit but they can't find them.

When the unemployment compensation level drops to 50 per cent or less of take home maybe . some of these people will look elsewhere for solving their own immediate problems and some of ? Detroit's long range problems.

It may sound rather insensitive, but a lion doesn't go out hunting until he's hungry.

Fragrances can affect emotions

Almost everyone knows that colors affect us psychologically. Some colors have a cooling, calming effect; others are warm and stimulating.

Interior decorators use this knowledge to make certain rooms conducive to study, others more stimulating and better suited for lively conversation and entertaining, and still others more restful for sleep and relaxation.

But what many people have not yet learned is that fragrances may also be used this way. There is nothing wrong with using a certain incense in your home simply because you like it, just as there is nothing wrong with choosing a certain color scheme because it is pleasing to your eye. However, if you are also aware of the influence certain fragrances have on the emotions, you can employ them to your advantage in many situations.

HERE ARE SOME of the more common fragrances available in incense and their uses if properly employed.

Pine-increases ambition and energy; is often used in money spells. Job's Mixture—burned for patience. High John and Lavendar—burned to stimulate love and affection.

Wisteria-burned for peace, tranquility, and relaxation.

Rose—a stimulating incense, burned for fast luck.

Sandlewood—for romance. Oriental Mixture-for passion.

Jasmine-inspires dreams. Cinnamon—promotes domesticity; puts a man in the mood to propose.

Bergamot-counteracts evil or bad vibes. Frankincense-burned to aid in meditation and spiritual enlightenment. Frankincese blended with Bergamot-for intellectual growth and concentration; helps one study well. Most people are familiar with pressed incense sold in little blocks or cones, or on sticks, but incense is also available in other interesting forms with which you might like to experi-

Liquid incense is fun to use, inexpensive, and can be very decorative as well as fragrant. I like to burn it in unusual containers such as champagne glasses, brandy sniffers, rose bowls, etc.

This is done by filling the container at least three-quarters full with plain water to which you have added a few drops of liquid food coloring of a color that will contrast and compliment the color of the incense. Then pour in the

I like to place the charcoal (I use the one-inch, self-starting kind) in the soil in one of my large plant containers. This is much safer, and there is no mess to clean up because the ashes blend nicely with the soil.

SCENTED CANDLES are very popular, but their fragrance is seldom as strong as that of incnese. .

In Europe, scented oils are placed in special ring-like containers that circle electric light bulbs, and the heat from the bulb releases their fragrance. Youth marks All-Area basketball team

Young, big and talented — those are the words to describe the 1975 Observer & Eccentric All-Area basketball

Three juniors won placings on the first team which averages more than 6-5 in height. And there's no question about the ability of the members of that team. The two seniors, Plymouth Salem's Eric Agardy and Westland John Glenn's Terry Johnson, both have college recruiters standing in "blue-chip" prospects when the 1975-76 season is history.

The top player in the area this year was Salem's Eric Agardy.

The 6-10 center paced the Rocks to a berth in the state Class A semifinals. Agardy averaged 19.1 points per game, while hitting 52 per cent from the floor. His 256 rebounds were also high for the Rocks.

"Eric is extremely strong and he intimidated the opposition. He can run game average and shot 75 per cent

The three juniors all figure to be all day long and he is unstoppable underneath," said Salem coach Fred

Salem, which finished 22-3 for the year, also landed 6-7 junior forward Jim Ellinghausen on the first team.

Ellinghausen consistently took pressure off of Agardy, hitting from long range, driving to the hoop and helping out · underneath.

Ellinghausen hit for a 16 point per from the foul line. The big junior also blocked a team-high 84 shots.

"ELLINGHAUSEN IS AN exceptionally fine outside shooter - probably the best pure shooter I've ever coached," Thomann said.

"And he has a real knack for blocking shots.'

Terry Johnson was the driving force behind Glenn's 17-5 season and cochampionship in the Northwest Suburban League.

The senior forward could both score and hit the boards as is indicated by his 16 points and 10.2 rebounds per game averages.

Johnson is a three-year letterman and no slouch in the classrooom where he carries a 3.3 grade point average. He hit on 55 per cent of his shots this year.

"Terry played at both ends of the floor. He was a team leader and top defensive player," said Rocket coach Gordie Davis.

GARDEN CITY EAST, which shared the Northwest Suburban crown with Glenn, was led by junior Greg Emery averaged 18.6 points and was one of the area's top clutch players, hitting shots twice during the season in the final three seconds which mates. Gilland will probably attend missed several games with a con-last week and ended up on the short end of a 61-57 score against Livonia Churchill.

THE OBSERVER & ECCENTRIC All-Area second team features four of the area's best guards and another young, big center.

The winning four point margin for the Chargers could have been made up by Borgess in the 880 yard relay after Churchill had incurred a lane infraction and disqualified itself.

The Borgess team, needing only to finish the event legally to take the five-point first place prize, slowed the speed of the event but incurred a lane infraction of its own, thus disqualifying both teams. Churchill's depth won the meet as

Sometime this baseball season, a son and crack a clean single to leftfield. Or it may be a double or triple Ponte. West -- SUTHERLAND and up the alley or a long, towering home

But through the first two games in which Hudson has had mound duties for the Panthers this year, that has not happen.

In an abreviated appearance in the West opener, Hudson threw no-hit ball for four innings. In his latest outing Monday against cross-town rival Garden City West, Hudson went the whole distance without giving up a safety to run his string of hitless frames to 11. Hudson is not concerned about running the string any longer, however. "I don't care how many hits they get off of me. Just so we win the game," he said.

East didn't have too much trouble doing just that against West. Panther coach Billy Joe Young's crew scored five runs in the first three innings and eventually took a 7-0 victory.

Surprisingly, the closest West came to a hit was when lead-off batter Mark Sutherland smacked a sharp drive down the third base line. Panther third baseman Lew Willoughby handled the cleanly, however, and Hudson was on his way.

"He seemed to get stronger as the game went on. He struck out three batters in the fifth and sixth inning," said Young.

In the seventh, Hudson got the first two batters to hit routine grounders and the last man to hit a tapper back to the box.

Hudson handled the ball cleanly but almost threw the ball away.

"I was a little nervous on that last putout," Hudson said.

Hudson's batterymate. Britt Ponte. went two-for-two and collected three RBI's. Willoughby went two-for-three for the Panthers.

Salem pitching falters, RU takes opener

Plymouth Salem saw its highlytouted pitching staff blown away like so many blades of grass in a strong spring breeze and dropped a 10-1 baseball decision to Redford Union.

Neither of the Rock aces, Tom Willette or Bill DenHouter, could hold down Bob Atkins' Redford club and the Salem record fell to 1-1.

"We just couldn't find the plate," lamented Salem coach Wayne Spark-RU started out by scoring five runs in the first inning on two hits and four walks. RU added two more runs in the second, one in the third and two more in the fifth.

Willette started and suffered the loss for Salem.

"I'm very disappointed. Willette is a great pitcher, but he certainly wasn't great tonight," Sparkman said. Dan Rushard went the distance for Redford Union, handcuffing Salem on three hits. Rightfielder Gregg Wood had two doubles and two RBIs for RU. Third baseman Bob Miller picked up three runs batted in on his first inning triple.

Redford Union is now 1-0.

The doors to the Detroit Bowling of high scoring at Bel-Aire, none of in the top leagues at Merri-Bowl. Bob Hall of Fame will open Friday night the sharpshooters broke the 700 barin Cobo Hall to admit three new mem-

Those to be honored in what is the biggest event of the year in bowling will be Ethel Hanna, one of the original members of the Ladies Major Leagues; Paul Cito, one of the country's leading instructors for the past 40 years, and the late Herb Case, former secretary of the Greater Detroit Bowling Association.

bers:

Among the others to be honored is John Walter of Farmington Hills, who recently retired as a Detroit News sports writer after serving for 46 years.

To round out a big weekend, the men's association opens its annual tournament Saturday evening at Ford Lanes. Impressive ceremonies are planned for the opening at 6.30 p.m.

BOB CHAMBERLAIN went crashing into the 700 club at Westland Bowl, when he paced the Classic with a 735 series. The big total came on games of 256, 215 and 264.

Trailing Bob by 40 pins with a 675, Dick Beattie took the runner-up spot and Hal Jolley completed the Top Three with 663.

WHILE THERE WAS another wave

rier. The closest anyone came was Bob Boss, who finished with a 289 to pace the Classic with a 691. Behind him came Jim Shelp with 684 and Jerry Smith with 662. In the senior house league it was Danny Faur who lead the parade with a 664 while Bill Trachsel had a 637 and Ron Enders flashed a 628.

Aron Lipshy returned to the pacemakers circle in the business men's league with a 657 that gave him a 45 pin margin over Stan Lenski with Doug Hayes finishing third with 608.

To top off the high scoring, Sue Mansky showed the way to the ladies with

THERE SEEMS no stopping Mary Mojacsi who is having one of her good seasons. This time it was at Garden Lanes where she fired a 596 to pace the women's classic. Her closest rival was Jan Dimmer with a 576. In the Livonia men's league, Doug Bradley was high man with a 659, Mike Bradley trailed by only four pins while Charles Otto landed third with 650. In the St. Linus league, George Priebe set the pace with 618.

THERE WAS A TIE for high honors

Woods, of the Goddard and Goddard circuit, rolled a top game of 267 and it was matched by Tom Manosky, bowling in the Plymouth classic. AMONG THE OTHER good performamces were Don Kippola's 664 at Plaza Bowl that came on games of 218, 232, 214 and Mike Jugon's 625 in the Saturday Majors at Country Lanes.

THE SPLIT CONVERSION CLUB took in five new members this week at Mayflower Lanes. Carol Westcott entered with the 4-7-10; Dot Maruska toppled the 7-8-10; Elaine Palis made the 6-7-10; Elaine Thompson knocked over the 4-7-10 and Mike Possert converted the 3-6-7-10.

Meanwhile, Irene Olander paced the women scorers with a 563, Eleanor Miller added a 541 and Sharon Monette had a 522.

ELLIE WILKINS established a new high game mark for the season in the Livonia Ladies Classic when she all bowlers-- a double century average rolled a 242. With a 19 pin handicap, for the nine games in the big show. she won the first game with a 261.

She had to yield series honors to Janice Gale who posted a 526-87--613 that included a single game victory with 225-29-254

The other game went to Lillian Beatty with 180-35-215.

When John Watkins, a member of the J.W. Jackson team in the Wonderland Classic, rolled an 800 series early in the season he commented he had an unusual record.

"I've had plenty of 600 series and now an 800," he said, "But I still haven't had a 700-and that's what I was shooting for."

He's a member of the 700 club now. He broke the barrier Tuesday when he put together games of 226,191 and 289 for a 706. But for a few bad breaks along the way he would have. closed with a perfect game.

ONE OF THE HAPPIEST bowlers in the area is Dan McInerney, of Livonia -- and for a very good reason. As a member of the Public Heaating team, of Redford, he made the pilgrimage to the ABC tournament in Dayton, O., and reacchd the goal of Carrying a 195 average, he fired an opening 637 and followed with 638 and closed with a 563 for 1838. His showing helped the team record a 2862 with a 1083 game.

PLYMOUTH— A little girl's dream- and some grown-up's toosits inside a new pink and white building at 824 Penniman.

Muriel's Doll House, until recently located in the Forest Place Mall, has opened its doors at the larger downtown location. This after extensive remodeling took place in the building, previously damaged by fire.

Inside the new facility are rows of dolls, dressed in starched white, pink and vellow dresses, mammoth doll houses, scaled at one inch to a foot, that mom and dad might envy.

Tiny pieces of hand-carved furniture, scaled for the miniature houses, stand in glass cabinets for the admiration of old and young alike.

"You can buy anything for a doll house you can buy for your own house," said Arthur Calhoun, who owns the store with his wife, Muriel.

Calhoun pointed to a tiny piano, equipped with a music box, pewter dishes and tiny lamps powered by electricity.

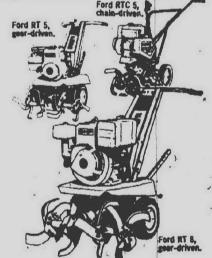

Water bills will be late

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP-Residents of Plymouth Township will be receiving their water bills late this month, according to the township's DPW Supt. Web Kincade.
Kincade said that April bills which normally are sent out "around the first of the month' have been delayed because of a switch to a computer billing system.

"April bills should be in the mail by April 21," Kincade said, adding that May and June bills will also be late until the backlog is caught up.

The Plymouth Community School Board Tuesday voted 4-1 in favor of constructing pedestrian overpasses over Ann Arbor Trail and Sheldon and awarded the contract to the low bidder. Spartan Sign Co., for $80,384. Trustee Gary Mirto cast the lone dissenting vote, while Trustees George Lawton and Carl Berry were absent from the voting procedure.

The contractor will construct the overpasses so they can be dismantled and moved to another site, according to Secretary Marcia Borowski's motion.

That motion directed school board members to study boundary attend-

The district's safety committee and attendance boundary committee recently met to discuss the proposed overpasses, according to Mrs. Borowski. Some persons objected to the busy roads which students must currently cross, she said.

Construction of the overpasses should begin almost immediately. said board President E.J. McClendon, and the bridges should be ready when school starts next fall.

A 0.4 mill safety levy, which voters approved last year, will fund the overpass project, McClendon said.

Mirto voted against the overpass, because he believes Plymouth Township should share the costs. The school district and Plymouth and Canton townships shared the costs of a similar overpass at Fiegel School, he said.

"This overpass is needed," Mirto said, "but we haven't been able to effect the same kind of cost-saving program as at Fiegle. Our resources should be used for educational pur-

Bob Hope. "The Last Christmas Show." Have troupe, will fly...this is Bob Hope's story of more than 30 years of entertaining American servicemen' all over the world. "We went," says Hope, "because there were kids there who needed a show. And television gave us a chance to do something that hadn't been done before-to show the faces of thousands of kids in combat areas to the families back home...To prove to them that their kids were alive and not too skinny and, best of all, still capable of laughter. I'm not too sure I'm too happy about this, but a lot of reviewers said the faces of the audiences were the best part of the show."

Generously illustrated, the book relates the places he visited, the entertainers who went along, the fun. sadness, danger, narrow escapes from death, and the frantic efforts involved in getting as many as 70 persons organized, rehearsed, and airborne. The anecdotes about the stars and the best of the skits and monologues are included. And there are moments that will bring a lump to the reader's throat.

Philip Lund. "Compelling Selling; A Framework for Persuasion." Taken as a whole, persuasion becomes a discipline which can be studied and learned like any other. Selling or the science of persuasion is not taught in schools or universities, yet it is an integral part of our daily lives. In this book the author breaks down persuasion into a basic framework and shows how the persuader can know which step he must take at any one time in his presentation. Lund shows the steps of persuasion to be logical, interrelated, and rational.

Jacqueline Verrett. "Eating May be Hazardous to Your Health." In this consumer-oriented expose of corruption and inefficiency with the FDA, one of the FDA's leading scientific researchers claims instead of keeping food free of dangerous chemicals and additives, the FDA at times actually endorses and promotes their use. The authors not only outline the scope of the problem, listing the dangers from specific additives and everyday foods in which they are found, but offer the consumer practical advice about positive action to protect your own health.

Steven Philfip Smith. "American Boys." For all its unprecedented aspects-the political and moral ruin it caused at home and the frustrating nature of policies and tactics on the front-Vietnam, like all American wars, must ultimately be comprehended in human terms-in terms of the American boys who found themselves uniformed and armed and ordered to kill, or to die. Norman Mailer's "The Naked and the Dead" was the novel of World War II. Steven Phillip Smith launches a promising literary career with the novel of Vietnam. "American Boys" is the story of what happens to and within these men.

Mozelle Richardson. "The Song of India." A contemporary Gothic novel set in India where the curator of a Midwestern university museum has been sent to find the missing niece of the university's most generous endower. The niece is found accused of murder, and mounting evidence leads the curator to realize that she has gotten inside a web of terror and it looks as if she will be unable to escape.

Sheriff's patrols extended 90 days for 7 townships

The Wayne County Sheriff's township patrols may be extended for 90 days beyond April 30, although a judge has ruled the county board can discontinue the service.

The public safety and judiciary committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has recommended the 90-day extension. The committee has formed a three-member subcommittee to negotiate for township participation in financing the $467,000 annual cost of the patrols.

Past efforts to negotiate with the townships failed because the townships then maintained the county was legally required to provide the service. Receiving the patrol service are Plymouth, Canton, Northville, Huron, Brownstown, Sumpter and Van Buren townships.

WHEN THE board of commissioners threatened to curtail the patrols, the seven townships joined in filing suit in Wayne County Circuit Court.

The suit was dismissed March 27 by Judge Thomas J. Foley who ruled there is no mandatory requirement to provide the patrols and declared the county commissioners are "free to exercise their discretion" in the mat-

Officials of the seven townships then switched to another law firm—
Travis, Warren, Nayer and Burgoyne of Detroit— and announced they would appeal the Foley decision to the Michigan Court of Appeals.

The subcommittee named to attempt negotiations with the township includes Commissioners Lee E. Flowers (D-Detroit), George Hart (D-Dearborn), William G. Suzore (D-Lincoln Park) and Sheriff William Lucas.

"Nobody wants to deprive the townships of adequate police protection," says Commissioner Edward Michalski (D-Detroit), chairman of the public safety and judiciary committee. "But there is a feeling that city taxpayers are being taxed double because they are taxed locally for their own police departments while part of their county taxes are being used to provide local police protection elsewhere."

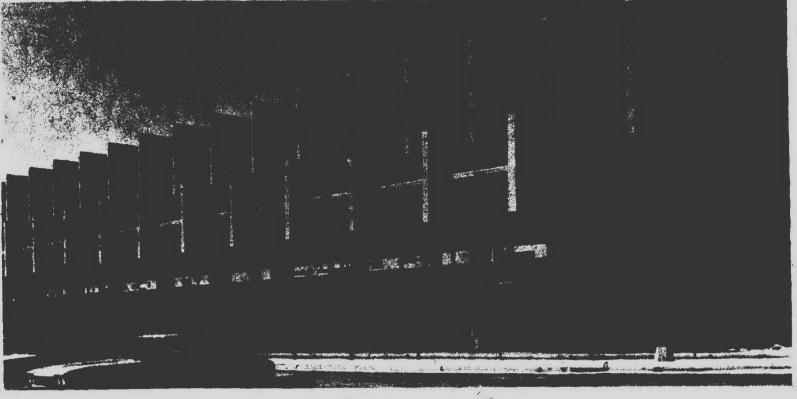

Commissioner Royce E. Smith (D-Belleville), whose district includes the City of Plymouth, Canton and Plymouth townships, contends the townships had public safety millage issues turned down and cannot afford to pay for sheriff's services. He argues that county taxes paid in townships help to finance services in cities as well.

THERE ARE 33 cities and 11 townships in Wayne County. All cities have their own police departments except Romulus which pays for services from the sheriff.

The township patrol consists of 28 deputies, with three patrol cars operating around the clock seven days a

The county board allocated only $350,000 for the township patrols for the present fiscal year which began last Dec. 1. The board has since, however, appropriated additional sums twice to maintain the patrols at present strength — with the latest extension going to April 30.

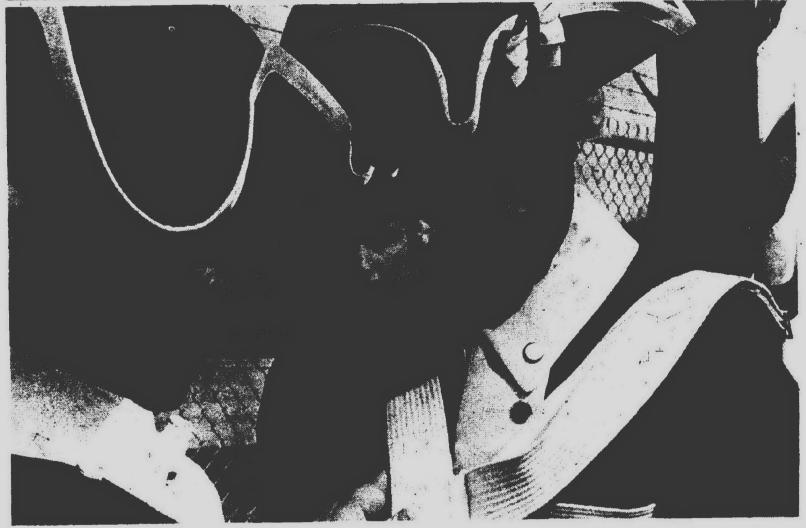

The recommended 90-day extension needs approval by the Ways and Means Committee, which consists of all 27 commissioners and will meet next April 24, and then at a formal board meeting.

Terminal open house

ARCHITECTS' SUNDAY on April 27 from 1-3 p.m. will-feature The Michael Berry International Terminal designed by Louis G. Redstone Associates, Inc., Detroit. Open to the public for tours, the terminal is the first major building to greet visitors entering the Detroit Metropolitan Airport which is owned and operated by the Wayne County Road Commission. Parking will be available at the terminal parking lot and shuttle bus service will operate, between the terminal and all airport parking lots there is a fee to park at the airport and it is posted. Members of Louis G. Redstone Associates will act as guides for visitors. Architects' Sunday is part of a monthly series sponsored by the Detroit Chapter, American Institute of Architects.

Meeting slated on horse trails in state parks

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will hold a public forum Thursday, April 24. to listen to views on the need for horse trails in state parks.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Northville Township Hall on Sheldon Road ½-mile north of Five Mile Road. It will be the second of four hearings scheduled by the DNR on the subject of facilities for horses in state parks.

The session is an outgrowth of activities of 4-H leaders and clubs in this area for horse trails and facilities at the new Maybury State Park in Northville Township.

The Maybury Park has an extensive network of horse trails through the woods, over trees and water. The 4-H leaders and others interested in horseriding have scheduled a work day Saturday, April 26, to clean up the trails.

Court asked to stop wage law violations

The regional solicitor of the U.S. Department of Labor has asked the Federal District Court in Michigan to issue a permanent injunction to stop alleged violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act, the federal wage-hour law.

The defendant in the complaint is Great Lakes Recreation Co., of 20450 Greenfield, Detroit, which operates several bowling alleys in seven cities including Cloverlanes in Livonia.

The complaint alleged violations of the overtime pay, minimum wage, child labor and recordkeeping provisions of the act. The court was asked to award back pay, as found to be due, for distribution among the employes involved. No amounts were specified in the complaint.

Legal action followed an investigation of the firm by the Labor Department's wage-hour area office at 14740 Plymouth Road, Detroit.

The Fair Labor Standards Act requires payment of minimum rates, time and a half pay for overtime hours unless a specific exemption applies, equal pay for equal work for both sexes, keeping of adequate records of employe wages and hours, and restrictions against the employment of child labor.

'We're not in the nursing home business.'

Gordon Dougherty makes no apologies for that statement.

Nor should he. Gordon is in the business of retirement—he's resident counselor at Burcham Hills Retirement Center in East Lansing.

There, retirees 65 and over — many of them former professional members of the Michigan State community — continue life in their own style with independence and privacy.

The new five-story Center is located on a beautiful hilly 60-acre site in the northeast part of East Lansing convenient to town and campus and all that makes the university community an interesting place to live at any age. (Although many Burcham Hills residents maintain their own autos, the Center provides its own regularly scheduled bus service to downtown).

Twenty-one different size apartments are available ranging in size from 286 sq. ft. to 728 sq. ft. — an indication of the key to life at Burcham Hills; Flexibility.

Moreover, the facilities available in the beautifully appointed Center surpass those of even the most complete home. For example:

- The library which includes several publications printed in over-size type.
- A den (including a pool table) and the music room (complete with organ).
- A hobby room (your own equipment is welcome).
- Beauty and barbershops.
- Automated commissary with everything from soup to ice.
- Laundry room with dryers and ironing equipment.

In addition, each living level contains its own lounge, storage lockers are provided with each apartment, and the Center also houses its own post office and gift shop.

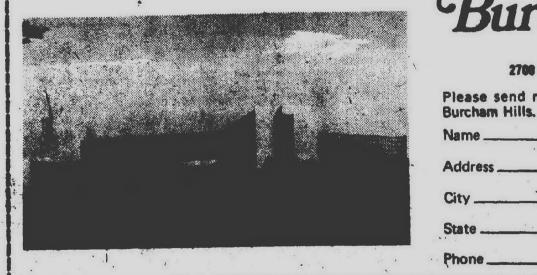

Two sittings are scheduled for all three meals to insure maximum flexibility, plus private dining rooms may be reserved when you wish to entertain family or friends at a luncheon or dinner.

The Life Lease provides residents with guaranteed lifetime care—even in case of illness. The Center contains a fully equipped health care facility (including dental equipment), and a professionally trained nursing staff is on duty 24 hours a day.

No, Burcham Hills isn't in the nursing home business. But if retirement planning is a reality for you, consider the independency and privacy of life at Burcham Hills ... plus the interesting friends and stimulating ideas you've, always enjoyed in the university community of East Lansing.

For complete details, send for our free packet of information about Burcham Hills. Included is a full-color brochure, detailed floor and apartment plans and the answers to 50 questions about the Center. For additional information, call or visit Burcham Hills, 2700 Burcham Drive, East Lansing 48823 (517) 351-8377.

the bellboy; J. Craig Collicott as Sgt. Match, a policeman, and Errol Fortin as Dr. Prentice.

The Theater Guild of Livonia-Redford presents its final show of the 1974-75 season Friday, April 18:

"What The Butler Saw" is set in a private psychiatric clinic run by the shifty Dr. Prentice. The Prentices are by no meany an ordinary couple. The doctor believes that the best way to interview a young woman for a secretarial position is to seduce her.

The gullible Garaldine does her unwitting best to comply, but nothing works smoothly in this house. She has just removed her clothes when the doctor's wife arrives.

Mrs. Prentice, who has been seduced by a bellhop in a hotel, or vice versa, brings home her reluctant bellhop just when an inspector from the ministry of health decides to pay a

Dr. Prentice tries to pass Geraldine off as a patient, whereupon the clinic turns unto a real nuthouse, with most of the cast exchanging clothes and hiding from the inspector who certifies anyone he sees as insane.

Playwright Joe Orton has created a comedy of manners which follows a formula of simple reversal. Winston Churchill is a national idol; so, his statue is uniquely disfigured.

Psychiatrists are the custodians of sanity; so, they are shown as mad.

The characters are socially respectable; so, they are credited with every imaginable moral deviation.

According to one critic, "It is a wonderfully verbal play, toying with words as if they were firecrackers, bombs."

For instance, Mrs. Prentice, confronted with the threat of pornographic pictures taken of her by the bellboy, announces grandly, "When I gave myself to you, the contract did not provide for cinematic rights." Performances of "What the Butler Saw" are April 18, 19, 25, 26, 27 and May 2 and 3 in the playhouse, 15138 Beech Daly, just south of Five Mile in Redford Township. Curtain time is and. sentences as if they were 8:30 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays

Writing program offered

 The Interlochen Arts Academy will offer a new creative writing program for students 13 to 17-years-old beginning in September, announced Interlochen President Roger E. Jacobi.

The program is being funded by a $120,000 grant from the Ford Founda-

The program is an expansion of courses in creative writing which have been taught in the academy for several years. Students will be accepted at either major, minor or apprentice levels, determined by talent, experience and interest. They will receive practical experience in the three major categories of writing, fictional prose, non-fiction prose, and poetry.

Student will participate in formal classes informal evaluative sessions, independent student projects and oral presentations.

To receive the widest possible opportunity for enlarging his experience and view of life, each student majoring in creative writing will be encouraged to pursue one other fine art as a minor. Each student will undertake an individual course of study devised through consultation with writing instructors and art teachers.

A journal will be published featuring the writing of academy students and other high school writers in Michigan. Prominent poets and fiction writers will visit the academy for lectures, workshops and symposia.

Extensive scholarships are avail-, able. Students interested in developing their writing talents are invited to contact the Interlochen admissions office, Interlochen, Mich., 49634, for information and application forms.

Loretta Sharp, instructor of English and creative writing at Interlochen, will head the new literary arts division. RAWBERRIES BY THE BARRELFUL

Tues., Wed., Sat 10-6

Mon.-Thurs. 9:30-8

Fri., Sat. 9:30-9

Strawberries are just about everybody's favorite small fruit, yet if you want the real mouth-watering strawberry flavor and true fragrance you must grow your own. Because only fully ripened strawberries are the real thing. This doesn't mean you need a large garden patch or even several 20-foot rows in order to produce a harvest —you can grow a respectable crop in a very small area. And, as a matter of fact, you can grow them in a barrel or wooden tub. There is nothing really new about these methods—people have been growing strawberries in barrels for ages in Europe and,

We've got the Barrels!

You can even grow a crop on a small apartment terrace, provided you have plenty of sun and water and feed your plants regularly. Early spring is the best time to set in a crop of strawberry plants. There are some fine new varieties of repeat-cropping strawberries that give more than one harvest a season. Strawberries are perennial plants, so they will last for years. And you can root baby plants that dangle from runners, using them to replace the parents when fruiting declines in a few years. Further, even between harvests, strawberry planters are decorative assets to your Barrels and Tube: A wooden barrel is best, for a metal one is likely to heat up too much in summer's sun, and this is bad for plant roots. You can use an old barrel except one that contained pickles, vinegar or sauerkraut. Old barrels are obtainable in a hardware store or shop catering to home-made wine hobbyists, such as American Hardware. Before you use an old one, scrub out the interior with a stiff scrubbing brush and two or three washings of strong detergent, then rinse well. (Salt or other materials might have been in it that will kill plant roots.) Bore a row of 11/2 inch holes 6 inches up from the bottom, spacing them 6 to 8 inches apart. Measure first and make a mark where the center of each hole will be, so they will be evenly spaced, for the barrel circumference changes on each row. Make a second row about 6 inches above the first, then a third row, and so on till you reach 4 to 6 inches from the top. Stagger each row of holes so that they center between those of the row below.

In the bottom, bore % inch holes for drainage -eight to 16, according to the size of the barrel or tub. Then roll the barrel to its permanent site and set it up on three or four bricks to keep it off the ground. Filled with soil, barrels get too heavy to move

Cover the bottom with a layer of coarse gravel 3 inches deep. On top of the gravel enter a tall 1-pound coffee can with top and bottom removed and fill it with gravel or sand. Then fill the space around it with soil, gravel or sand. Then fill the space around it with soil, packing it down till it reaches about the center of the first row of holes. Trim the roots of the strawberry plants (see sketch) and remove all dead or yellowed leaves, leaving three to six healthy ones. Working from inside the barrel, plant one strawberry plant in each hole till the junction of roots and crown barely reaches the inside of the barrel. Place each plant near the top of its hole to allow for settling of the soil. Spread roots fan-wise; pack soil over them till the hole is covered.

When the whole row is planted, water the soil gently with a fine spray till it is soaked. Let it settle for a few minutes, then with a gentle, twisting motion, lift the coffee can until its bottom nearly reaches the level of the soil. Refill the can with sand or gravel, then pack soil around it as before. Plant a row of strawberry plants in the holes at that level. Proceed with planting one row at a time, lifting the can and filling it. When the can top is level with the barrel top, leave the can in place and do not fill the top 4 to 6 inches with gravel.

The sketch of the cut-out barrel shows the column of gravel that has been created through the center of the soil. This will be the place for watering, a kind of "watering column." If you like, you can plant a colorful annual plant in a pot that fits into the can, removing it when watering is needed. Plant a row of strawberries 8 inches apart in the top of the barrel.

New look for spring

THE APRIL MEETING of the Plymouth Newcomers Club meant new glamour for Sue Hoffman (large photo, left) and Judy Taylor, shown at the far right. Their styles were created by the House of Glamour in Plymouth. Five Newcomers had complete "makeovers." from new permanents to the latest in eyelashes, all done prior to the meeting at Meadowbrook Country

"I've always wanted to try wearing them," she said, "and I thought the whole thing sounded like fun.'

Mrs. Hann provided the lashes, a new kind that stay put for as long as six weeks because they are put on individually.

"You don't need mascara with these." she told the women. "and the sharp eyeliner isn't being used much any more." Instead she showed Judy how to apply eye shadow for a softer appearance.

Judy was delighted with the new appearance, and even more pleased Nancy Gallagher and Nancy Soho.

Sue reports everyone is enthusiastic when the saleswoman she met on her next shopping trip commented on the lovely lashes. She also likes the short, curly hair style created for her by stylist Mr. Dennis.

> THE DEMONSTRATION, Mrs. Hann said, was aimed at making the point that both hair-styling and makeup are extremely important for a woman's total look.

"Makeup should be used to enhance beauty," she said. "In the classes we give in the salon, we teach women tricks to emphasize their good features. We show them how to get a soft, natural look.

"And, of course, we teach care of the skin, because unless the skin is healthy makeup won't help much." Besides Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Taylor, new looks also are being sported by Newcomers members Sue Church,

AFB chapel is setting for vows

Michael L. Roszak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Roszak of Livonia, claimed Vera Ann Rousseau as his bride in a recent double-ring ceremony in the chapel of the Wurtsmith Air Force Base near Oscoda.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Rousseau of Oscoda. The Rev. John Scahill performed the noon ceremony. A reception followed in the Lakewood Shores Golf and Country Club. The bride wore a white organza gown with empire bodice, high mandarin neckline and long sleeves. Her cathedral veil was edged in lace and held by a camelot cap. She carried a white bible with an antique rosary and a single red rose.

Judy Carol Rousseau, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a mint-green crepe gown and a matching headpiece of tulle, velvet ribbon and seed pearls.

The bridesmaids, also in mint green, were Debrale Williams of Glennie, Mich., and Nancy Ann Bailey of Bay City. All the attendants carried yellow mums and carnations.

Bruce Tangowski was best man and the ushers were Coy Owen and Robert Haley. All the men in the wedding party wore forest green tuxedos with ruffled embroidered shirts and white carnation boutonnieres.

After a Miami Beach honeymoon, the couple will live at Wurtsmith sive remodeling work to provide the three doors and altar traditional to Orthodox rites in the building that formerly housed St. Luke United Methodist Church.

The down payment on the property was made just days before the first services were held April 6.

Families in the congregation come mainly from the Greek Orthodox church in Detroit, Sts. Constantine and Helen.

Now living in the western suburbs, they have been meeting in the Seventh-Day Adventist church of Livonia for three years.

forming Arts at 4 p.m. and belly dancer Soreya at 6 p.m. Kathy Petrides is chairman of the festival.

THE NEW CHURCH completed its organization Sunday, April 13, with the Very Rev. Efstathios Metallinos as. pastor and Nick Kopahakis of Farmington Hills as president.

Other officers include John Vardouniotis of Farmington Hills, vice president; Gus Photsios of Livonia, treasurer; John Ioannou of Livonia, recording secretary; George Bilson of Livonia, corresponding secretary and Andrew Perakis of Livonia, controller.

Directors include Alex Bageris, Nick Eliades, Savas Georgiou, Anthony Keros, Chris Nicozisis and Frank Varlamos, all of Livonia, George Mollasis of Redford Township and John Stathakas of Plymouth.

Others are Nick Nickas, Luky Phsychogios and Larry Stasinos, all of Westland, Chris Kontos and Dr. Alex Petridis of Northville and Steve Moustakeas of Dearborn Heights.

We're new here in Livonia but actually, Rollie Barretty Inc., is the oldest Chrysler-Plymouth dealer in the Detroit area, having just moved to the former B. J. Ratigan facilities on Plymouth Road. I represent the second generation of Chrysler-Plymouth dealers in the Barrett family, and I know that the success Rollie Barrett Chrysler-Ptymouth has enjoyed is because of our down-to-earth way of doing business. We'd like to welcome you to visit us, browse around and inspect our facilities, meet our friendly sales and service per-

I look forward to meeting you personally and hope you will stop in soon.

INDEPENDENCE COMMONS

FARMINGTON HILLS

Three new model homes are open for viewing in prestigious Independence Commons including 1975 Award Winning Home, the Heritage II, a four bedroom, 21/2 bath American classic colonial, with large fover-open stairway with mirrored back wall, artistically lit for special effect. Den, library, or fifth bedroom is separate from main living area and can be a "mother-in-law" suite. Two other homes on model row are: The Franklin II and the Potomac. A variety of colonial elevations and ranch plans are available. Prices start at $65,000. Three homes in Independence Commons qualify for the U.S. tax credit plan. 48 acres of "commons areas" wind through the community, divided into five park-like areas, with hike and bike trails, sheltered picnic ground, children's play modules, lighted tennis courts, all for the exclusive use of residents. Children attend the Farmington school district, or one of several outstanding parochial schools. Independence Commons is located just north of old Grand River and west of Drake Road in Farmington Hills. Information office phone is, 477-8135.

2. Northville Commons

Two new models are open for viewing in Northville Commons, including another 1975 Award Winning Home, the Yorkshire II, a four bedroom, 21/2 bath, pillared colonial. A return to the basic warmth and elegance of wood is featured throughout this home. Wood crown moldings in many rooms, wood cased door arches, two wood hand rails, cedar molding in kitchen, wood panelling, beamed ceiling, and peg flooring in family room. The second model home is the Charleston II, an elegant colonial. A variety of colonial and ranch elevations and plans are available and nine homes qualify for the U.S. tax credit plan. Prices start at $65,000. Nature is preserved in Northville Commons too, as 30 acres of "commons areas" wind through the community, divided into park-like exclusive use of residents. Children attend the Northville School district. Northville Commons is located on Six Mile Road, 1½ miles west of Haggerty in Northville. The community is just minutes from the quaint shops and early American beauty of downtown Northville. The phone number at the information office is 476-4848.

MODELS HOURS: Daily 1-8 P.M., Sat. 12-5 P.M. Sun. 12-7 P.M., Closed Thurs.
