Debate heavy on Mettetal purchase

Sprucing up

CANTON—Close to 275 persons jammed the Plymouth Canton High School Little Theater Wednesday to voice gripes and words of approval over Canton Townships proposal to purchase and expand Mettetal Airport.

A total of 52 persons took turns at the auditorium's microphone during the course of the five-hour public hearing with opponents of the proposal slightly outnumbering proponents of the plan.

Supervisor Robert Greenstein said the board of trustees will study reactions of residents, pilots and businessmen toward the airport purchase and possibly make a decision at the board's June 10 meeting.

Some township officials have indicated, however, that the township will probably not purchase the airport because of residential opposition.

RESIDENTS of Canton Township, particularly those from Mettetal's neighboring Pickwick Village and Pickwick Farms subdivisions, packed the hearing with nearly unanimous cries of opposition, as did residents from the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

The hearing drew numerous pilots and residents from Livonia, Westland and Garden City, who use Mettetal for business purposes and voiced favorable reactions toward the township's plan.

Residents objected to the environmental impact on an expanded Mettetal, while businessmen maintained the airport would attract and maintain existing industry in the area.

At one point during the hearing, Greenstein asked residents if they would prefer a referendum at the polls to an immediate township board vote on the matter. His question was greeted by a thunderous round of applause.

Unless the township purchases Mettetal, some businessmen and officials fear the airport will be sold for some other type of development. Private airports, unlike those owned by units of government, are not eligible for state and federal funding.

According to township officials, owners of the now privately-owned facility are asking $1.2 million for the airport. In order to receive state and federal funds to finance a portion of the purchase and operating costs, the township must expand the current 2,600-foot runway to 3,800 feet.

According to a financial study, conducted by R. Dixon and Speas Associates, state and federal funds would cover all but $525,000 of the purchase cost if the runway is expanded. The report estimates the township cost of expansion at $675,000 and suggests that general obligation and revenue bonds be floated to finance purchase and expansion costs.

AS AN ALTERNATIVE to a township purchase agreement, Greenstein asked businessmen, who benefit most from the airport, if they could purchase the airport as a group.

"If the township or the private sector does not support the airport, it will probably go down," Greenstein said. It might be wise if a private group could purchase it. Perhaps the township would be able to give you some type of tax break or exemption. I'm quite sure the township would give serious consideration to that, and I hope you think about it."

Since private airports are not eligible for state or federal funds, there would be little reason to expand the runway. Expansion is a major gripe of residents, who say a longer runway would mean larger aircraft and more noise.

"The noise is atrocious, and the traffic is atrocious," said one resident of Canton's Pickwick Village. "I fear for my family's life if the runway is expanded."

Another resident, who lives in the City of Plymouth, added, "The noise is annoying, and I hate to see it expanded. The aircraft interfere with radio and television waves. I like to listen to classical music, and it's annoying when the soprano starts to yodel. The TV is severely disturbed by those airwaves."

Other residents fear expansion would decrease their property value.

"If the township does purchase and expand this airport, we will ask for a tax decrease because of decreased property value," said Bill Vitti, a resident of Pickwick Village Subdivision. "The time is long past to expand the airport."

"It seems some aircraft owners are asking the township to subsidize them," Vitti added. "This is something we as taxpayers cannot afford."

NUMEROUS residents came prepared with slide presentations, showing low-flying aircraft over their homes and comparison sheets of a 1975 Mettetal study and another conducted in 1968.

The 1968 study, conducted before subdivisions surrounded the airport site, said expansion of the airport should take place in a non-residential area because of increased noise and aircraft traffic. That study, noted

Candidates debate the issues

PLYMOUTH—Shaping the nature in which Plymouth schools will handle continuing growth in a tight economic period is the task envisioned by five candidates for the Plymouth Board of Education.

Answering questions before a group of close to 50 school district residents, five of the six candidates for two four-year seats on the board were present for a "Meet the Candidates Night" sponsored jointly by the Plymouth-Canton League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women.

With candidate Jack Wiegand absent, the remaining five candidates presented four-minute presentations on their positions and goals if elected, and later answered a series of questions from the audience.

All five candidates favor passage of both the 5.15 mill renewal and the 46 mill increase for operating funds in the district.

ALL NOTED concern with the possibility of overbuilding during the heavy growth period the district is currently experiencing and offered possible solutions to overcrowding without overbuilding.

At many points, candidates were asked their opinions on the 45-15 program, with three candidates favoring a reconsideration of the program and two voicing favor with the board's stand to begin the program in July.

Candidates feeling the program should be reconsidered included Joseph Gray, Flossie Tonda, and Elden

Thomas, while Leslie Cavell, and incumbent Thomas Yack felt the action not to reconsider was proper.

"I supported the program one year ago when I was on the board," said Gray, "but after seeing an attitude change on the part of many parents and seeing administrators jump back and forth in their positions, I think more time is needed to consider the program."

"We need the full cooperation of the staff and have a majority of parents who want the program in order for it to succeed," Gray said.

Mrs. Tonda echoed Gray's comments and said she had also favored the program a year ago, but added, "If I had been on the board I would have definitely voted to reconsider, giving the people one more chance to go over it."

IN VOICING his desire to see the program reconsidered, Thomas said the educational advantages have been considered for the above average student, "but nobody has brought up the problem of the slow learner." He said he felt the readjustment to the intersessions between each of the nine-week sessions would be harmful to the progress of the slower students.

Lending support to the 45-15 program, Cavell said he was "wholeheartedly in favor of 45-15" adding, "and I support the program down the line."

Yack said his position has not changed since late February when he voted to begin the 45-15 program at

Miller School this summer. "I concur with the committee on maximum utilization of school buildings, which recommended the 45-15 program. Even if we bus 70 kids out of the school, Miller will still be 130 students over capacity when we open in the fall."

When asked what cuts should be made if both millage proposals fail, the candidates were split in their choices.

Thomas suggested that the amount of busing in the district be reduced, while Gray said he feared that 25 per cent of the programs in the schools would have to be dropped.

"WE WOULD have to throw out a lot of safety measures for students and it would mean the elimination of many extracurricular programs for all students. We might have to go to just the minimal requirements by the state in order to balance the budget."

Cavell suggested that all cuts be made "across the board" and Mrs. Tonda said she would favor cuts that would least hurt the child. She disagreed with cuts in transportation which Thomas suggested, adding, "I have a strong feeling that we can't forget the safety of the children."

Yack said he would rely on recommendations from the administration before he would make cuts and said he would favor cuts that would not affect educational programs. "I wouldn't cut transportation either," Yack said, "because it is one of the few programs that is reimbursable by the state."

LOOKING AT what was considered the most important policy decision to face the next board, Yack said it would be "casting a vote to adopt the budget, because the budget truly affects one's priorities."

Gray said he thought the next year's toughest decision would be determining the amount of millage needed to staff the three new elementary schools which will open in September 1976.

Cavell said the board must set up a policy "which is fiscally sound and see that we run a trim ship," while Mrs. Tonda said the budget was the most important, in addition to "best serving the community and attempting to satisfy all parents."

Thomas said financing was most important but added his concerns again for solutions to overcrowding and about the "open classroom" setting in some schools.

A QUESTION was raised earlier in the evening about the value of the "open classroom" in comparison with a "traditional" approach.

Thomas said he thought slower learners should be left in a traditional setting, because of discipline problems, and said he thought the choice of the two options should be made available to parents.

Youth injured in bike mishap

PLYMOUTH—A 12-year-old Plymouth boy was reported in intensive care at St. Mary Hospital, suffering head injuries he received when he rode his bike into the back of a parked truck.

Mark Sparks, of 464 Roe was reportedly riding his bike on Coolidge Street about 1:30 p.m., May 24. Witnesses told police the boy turned to talk to a friend who was on the bike behind him, failed to see the truck, and slammed into it.

Matthew Schroeder, 15, of 9700 Joy, Plymouth, said he was on the porch of a friend's house when he heard the noise of the collision.

"I saw this boy lying on the street, bleeding badly from the head," Matthew said.

"I ran to him and tried to calm him down. I yelled for help, and a neighbor came out with a towel which I carefully wrapped around the boy's head. The neighbor called the police."

Matthew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schroeder, said the boy was conscious and gave his name and address.

"He was bleeding badly from the head. I attempted to keep him from losing too much blood but had to be careful not to hold his head too hard for fear of brain damage," Matthew told this newspaper.

Police praised the youth for his quick thinking and for staying with the victim until an ambulance arrived.

Matthew is in the ninth grade at Plymouth Salem High School.

He said he heard the victim was on the operating table five hours and was in intensive care as of Friday.

Canton man charged in assault

PLYMOUTH—A Canton Township man is being held by police in lieu of $100,000 bond, charged with criminal sexual conduct, first degree.

Awaiting pretrial examination June 5 is Lawrence Stone Franklin Jr. 32, of 7631 Kingsbridge, vice president of Windsor Park Civic Association.

Police say the suspect was arrested at his home Wednesday night following a complaint by a Westland woman who said she was forced at gunpoint to commit a sexual act in the creek area near McKinley and Ann Arbor Roads early Sunday morning, she parked her car on McKinley because she had trouble turning off the car's interior lights.

POLICE SAY the woman was approached by a man who asked her what the trouble was. At that point, the man pulled a gun, shoved it into her side saying, "I've got a gun. You're not going anywhere."

He forced her to the ground. When a car drove past, he ordered her "not to make a sound" and grabbed her by the throat.

He then forced her to the bridge where the alleged sexual act took place, police said.

He is then reported to have gone back to the woman's car saying, "OK, I'll try to fix it." In the attempt to repair the lights, the man broke his ignition key in the car's fuse holder. He left on foot saying, "I'll see you later."

THE VICTIM ran to a house and called police.

Chief Timothy Ford said thorough investigation by a task force was headed by Lt. William Guldner and made up of Det. Robert Commire and officer Ralph White of the Plymouth police, along with Det. Sgt. James Collins and Trooper Charles Hoover of the Michigan State Police, led to the arrest.

Ford said through the investigation certain items of evidence were recovered by the task force allowing police to obtain a warrant against Franklin.

SC drafts $9 million budget

The Schoolcraft College administration will have to trim nearly $124,000 from its proposed 1975-76 budget of $9 million to present a balanced budget to trustees at the next budget review Wednesday, June 4.

"I don't feel bad about the over-requests because there will be considerable adjusting and trimming between now and June 4," said Dr. Nelson Grote, Schoolcraft president, at the first budget session May 28.

A public hearing will be held Wednesday, June 18 at 8 p.m. in the board conference room, at which time trustees will consider adopting the proposed budget.

is a $20,000 site improvement request to move Schoolcraft's Garden City Instructional Center from its present location at 29205 Florence to Harrison Elementary School, 6701 N. Harrison.

"Harrison would provide more space and improved facilities, and is a better location," said Grote.

Several trustees questioned the need for relocation, pointing out that the college has already spent $12,000 to improve parking facilities at the Florence site.

"It bothers me that there has been so much work done on the parking lot," said Trustee Rosina Raymond. "We were able to get the funds and now we're moving to another place to start all over."

Grote noted that funds for the parking lot were obtained through a state grant.

"If we stay in the present center we would have to cap our enrollment. If we have the space we could accept about 1,000 more students," explained Grote.

Trustee Arch Vallier accepted the relocation but asked who would take advantage of the completed parking lot. "I have no quarrel about moving, but we should be negotiating for the money we put into the center."

GROTE explained that Schoolcraft will recoup the parking lot investment in a new long-term lease, which is now being negotiated with members of the Garden City School District. He also noted that, other than for the parking lot, the college has made "practically no other investment in the Florence location."

Schoolcraft officially opened the Garden City center in the last half of the 1972 fall semester. The college used classrooms in Garden City West High School for a brief time in fall 1972, and moved to the Florence location in November 1972. The Garden City facility reached full operation in fall 1973.

Schoolcraft has completed two years of a three-year lease with the school district.

IN OTHER BUDGET discussion, Fred Petersen, manager of business services, explained that in order to adjust the preliminary budget figures the administration needed the board's feedback on the status of special funds.

Trustees were asked to consider adding $100,000 to the present $160,000 balance in the special maintenance fund.

Petersen also requested the funds be earmarked for modifications of existing facilities, which include the health and safety of staff, students and visitors; protection of property, building, and equipment; and also to improve college operations.

He noted that modifications would be minor and not exceed $10,000 per project. The special maintenance fund is restricted to payments for the cost of repairing plant facilities and replacing equipment.

THE ADMINISTRATION also requested $150,000 to establish a special equipment fund. The fund would be created for purchasing new and replacing old equipment for on-going programs, and meeting matching grants such as the vocational education act grant. The money would be allocated as part of the 1.77 voted millage of the Schoolcraft district.

In a brief outline of the 1975-76 proposed budget, Petersen noted that a substantial increase is needed in physical plant funds because of increased utility costs.

IN OTHER ACTION at the board's regular meeting.

• Trustees voted 7-0 to accept a manpower training grant to recruit veterans. The subcontract will cover two full time position for 90 days, subject to extension. The program is provided by the Emergency Jobs Program under Title VI CETA.

• Appointed Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone as general legal counsel through July 1977.

• Voted to recognize and support International Women's Year 1975.

Out-county backs court decision

By SHELLY GUGGENHEIM

WAYNE COUNTY—Out-county commissioners are girding forces for a fight Thursday, June 5, with Detroit commissioners on a recent court decision relieving the county of its obligation to pay about two-thirds of Detroit Recorder's Court judges' salaries.

Recorders Court is the criminal court for the jurisdiction of City of Detroit only.

Area commissioners Mary Dumas (R-Livonia), John Barr (D-Dearborn Heights), Royce Smith (D-Belleville) and Tom Taylor (D-Westland) said they will oppose appealing the May 29 Michigan Court of Appeals decision. Commissioner Richard Manning (D-Redford) was out of town.

The battle Thursday will be on an advisory vote to instruct County Corporation Counsel Aloysius Suchy on whether the county, which was a defendant in the 1973 suit brought by Commissioner George Hart (D-Dearborn), should appeal the decision against it.

Detroit commissioners hold a one-vote majority on the board and are expected to push for appeal. If the vote fails, Detroit may be expected to pick up the $601,611 annual tab for the 23 judges' salaries. With an allowance of 35 per cent for fringe benefits, the bill jumps to $812,174.

SMITH, whose district includes Plymouth and Canton Township, said the vote will probably boil down to Detroit against the out-county. "The out-county has better attendance at the board meetings" and that may determine the outcome, Smith said.

Taylor, who says he has never voted in favor of any Recorders Court financing, said the vote's determination is unclear. "Some of those Detroit commissioners are very independent." Taylor's district includes Garden City and part of Westland.

The commissioner whose district includes most of Livonia, Mrs. Dumas, quipped: "It may force Detroit commissioners to a trade-off" on the oft-defeated out-county circuit court branches.

THE THREE-JUDGE appeals court panel—S. Jerome Bronson, Louis D. McGregor and Michael Carlin—ordered the county to immediately stop paying $26,157 of each judge's annual salary of $40,157, the remainder of which is paid by Detroit.

The judges—with the exception of Carlin who was ill and did not participate in the opinion—determined that because out-county residents cannot run or vote for Recorder's judges, they shouldn't be required to pay for them through county funding.

The county's payment constitutes "taxation without representation," the judges stated, which strikes at the very foundations of the democratic system.

The panel based its decision on a 1919 state act which allowed county financing of the court if approved by voters in all of Wayne County. A referendum was held that year for Detroit residents only, thus voiding the law, the judges said.

FRIDAY Detroit attorneys were considering an application this week to the State Court of Appeals for a rehearing.

John Cross, a city attorney working on the case, said the court may be asked to reconsider whether its decision was to strike the entire act or only the section pertaining to the judges' salaries.

"If the whole act is void, then we have to do something to preserve the status of the court."

Cross said that under any circumstances Detroit does not consider itself responsible for the salaries—the state would have to pay under the law.

Cross said he saw the appeals court decision as one which would foster the idea of a single court system for the state.

At present, Recorder's Court, while it tries cases occurring in Detroit only, handles more than half the criminal cases in the whole state. It tries both misdemeanors, like district courts in the rest of the state, and high misdemeanors and felonies, which circuit courts have jurisdiction over.

SHOULD DETROIT have to absorb the $812,000 salary cost, Robert Pisor, the Detroit mayor's press secretary, said the only way the city could handle the cost would be by further service cuts or layoffs.

Additional taxes would be impossible, he said, because Detroit residents are making the greatest tax effort permissible under the law.

The $812,000 is only part of what Detroit might have to absorb. Barr also suggested that under the appeals court opinion the county may not have to pay for housing and furnishing the court and providing its probation department. This would amount to an additional $4 million to $5 million savings, he estimated.

Cross disputed Barr's contention saying it is the county's responsibility under the general laws of the state.

First hearing held on no-hunting rules

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—The effectiveness of "no-hunting" and "no-trespassing" signs constitutes the heart of a controversy, that could ban hunting throughout the township.

A three-person panel last week conducted a public hearing on the no-hunting question and heard arguments from advocates and opponents of the proposed ban.

The panel was composed of township Treasurer Joe West, Michigan State Police Lt. William Tomczyk and Bruce Andrews, conservation law executive of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources' (DNR) law enforcement division. A representative of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department was scheduled but unable to attend.

The hearing was prompted by a group of residents living west of Beck, who are demanding the extension of the township's hunting ordinance from Beck to Napier because of safety reasons.

Andrews said the panel will conduct another public hearing, after it investigates population density and other features of the township. The next hearing will be during evening hours, probably in July.

The panel will submit its recommendation to the township board, which will make the final determination on the matter.

"We will take everything into consideration," said Andrews. "Our primary responsibility is to find out if people are hunting too close to a subdivision."

PERSONS LIVING west of Beck say hunters are coming too close or trespassing on their property.

"Many times I've been out on the tractor, and buckshot's fallen on the tires," said Bill Blessed, 4901 Powell. "I think the only way to stop this is to ban guns."

His mother, Mrs. June Blessed, agreed.

"We're here to talk about saving lives," she said. "When my son is out in the field for four or five hours, I don't know if he's working or lying behind a tractor. We're concerned for our health and our lives. A lot of people have had cattle shot too."

Jim Levitte, 42629 Five Mile, responded, "It doesn't matter where you live. If you have trespassing, you call the police. That's your problem, not hunting."

Andrews agreed. "You see a hunter on your land, and you identify him. You ask him to leave, and if he doesn't, you go to the prosecutor's office. If you think you're going to keep people off your land with a no-hunting ordinance, you're wrong."

"At this point, I don't think you have a safety problem," said Andrews. "It doesn't constitute a safety problem, because people have guns. It's a safety problem in a heavily populated area."

RESIDENTS, most of whom own large tracts of land, noted the difficulty of calling police while hunters are still on their land. A half-mile or more often separates the farmer who sees hunters on his land and the nearest telephone, they say.

"We have called the police," said one woman, who lives on Ridge. "By the time they get there, the hunters are gone. We feel any gun is a safety hazard. I don't even want to mow the lawn in the fall because of the hunters."

"I have seen hunters walking in the middle of the road looking for birds," she added. "The birds have flown toward our house, and they shoot at them. I can't tell hunters on the road they're trespassing, and I'm not going to go ask them to leave when they've been drinking and my husband isn't home."

Another woman, who lives on Joy, cited the same type of "trespassing" problem.

"I'm in a unique situation," she said. "I don't live on a farm, but in a residential area. No one trespasses on my land except the bullets."

"I live right on the border between Plymouth and Canton townships," she added. "Canton Township signs say, 'no hunting allowed,' and they work. People will respect the law, but our no-trespassing signs mean nothing."

TOWNSHIP TRUSTEE Frank Millington, who owns 27 acres east of Beck, presented a petition against the hunting ban on behalf of 19 neighbors. Millington voiced his personal feelings on the matter.

"We have so many rabbits that I can hardly raise trees anymore," he said. "If you close that area to hunting, you're not going to solve all your problems."

Responded Mrs. Blessed, "We can buy vegetables, but you can't buy another life. This is a problem. The people who live in subdivisions east of Beck can't see that it is."

Under the township's present no-hunting ordinance, which applies to land east of Beck, hunting and target practicing are prohibited under punishment of a maximum $500 fine, 90 days in jail or both. Residents may engage in archery practice on their own premises.

If the ordinance is extended to Napier or a new no-hunting ordinance is formulated, township officials hope to exempt the Western Wayne County Conservation Association from the target practicing ban.

About 17 persons attended last Wednesday's public hearing, scheduled during afternoon hours. Many took time off work to attend.

THE LARSON BROTHERS, Al (left) and John, demonstrate a miter vice in their new framing shop in the Forest Place Mall. A painting reminds them of their first business venture, a dab art stand at the Plymouth Fall Festival.

Now it's picture framing for the Larson brothers

By ELINOR GRAHAM

PLYMOUTH—The Larson boys, Alvin and John, are in business again, and again it is a first of its kind for Plymouth.

The Larsons had the grand opening of their framing shop in the Forest Place Mall last weekend in the quarters vacated when the "Doll House" moved to Penniman Avenue.

So what is unusual about a picture framing shop?

This is a do-it-yourself setup. The framing materials and mats (even the pictures) are available in the shop. When a customer has chosen the frame and matting, the equipment is available, right there, to complete the job. If glass is required, they will cut the desired type to size.

"You walk in with your painting, print, needlework or photographs and walk out with a ready-to-hang product," says Alvin.

Framing expert Charlene Tobin will be on hand to advise those who wish help in choosing frame styles. Mrs. Tobin framed the pictures in the Plymouth Community Art Council's art rental project at Dunning Hough Library.

THE LARSONS' first business venture is familiar to those who have attended the Plymouth Fall Festival over the years.

In the summer of 1963, a year after he graduated from Plymouth High School, Alvin built a "dab art" stand. It followed the green and gold fall festival color scheme and sported a colonial-type eagle.

It was a tremendous success at the festival. The three paint booths could not accommodate all the customers. The following year Alvin rebuilt it with 10 booths.

Younger brother John, helped out and one summer they joined a carnival show and took the dab art stand on the county fair tour of the state.

On his graduation from college, Alvin sold out to John, who operated the stand at fall festivals until concessions were limited to non-profit organizations.

The Plymouth YMCA took over, and, according to Alvin, the original motors still are spraying the paint for would-be artists.

WHEN ALVIN CAME up with the idea for a do-it-yourself framing shop, he sent out a call to John, who came from Denver to join in the project. For their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Larson of Maple Avenue, it seems like old times.

The miter vices and mat cutters are installed. A wide variety of framing materials, mats, reproductions and original art works are in stock.

And on the wall hangs a bright oil painting by Plymouth artist, Johnnie Crosby. It depicts Kellogg Park during the 1966 fall festival with the Larsons' dab art stand in the foreground.

They are enthusiastic about their new venture. "Framing usually takes about 10 days," said Alvin. "We hope people will enjoy doing it themselves and saving time and money."

Debate heavy on Mettetal

"It seems incredible to me that every seven years the township uses taxpayers' money to study this. It reminds me of the seven-year locusts. When you vote on this, I hope you remember the desire of your constituency, who elected you to office."

TWO CERTIFIED public accountants, hired by an anonymous group of Canton residents, criticized R. Dixon and Speas Associates' financial report and said the township purchase of the airport would be a financially unsound venture.

One Canton resident showed a map of Mettetal and its traffic pattern on an overhead projector. Aircraft approaching or leaving the expanded runway would fly 30 feet over the roof-top of a Plymouth Township apartment building, he said.

Pilots disagreed and noted the danger of flying that low.

"I'm just as concerned as these residents about some of the idiots who fly aircraft," responded Ken Spencer, a pilot who lives in Livonia. "If a plane flies low over your house, get his number and call the FAA (Federal Aviation Administration)."

TEAMING UP for the fight against muscular dystrophy Tuesday are Kathy and Donald Fulkerson and MD poster child, Brian Morrison. The bolder and sister team will lead the fight in Plymouth during the four-hour drive.

Muscular dystrophy leaders are named

PLYMOUTH—Two Plymouth residents, Kathy and Donald Fulkerson, have been named area chairpersons for the 1975 Muscular Dystrophy Drive to be held from 5 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, June 3.

An appeal for volunteers to join in the house-to-house solicitation has been issued by the chairpersons. Persons wishing to assist in the drive are asked to call MD's volunteer headquarters at 272-0061.

Proceeds from the four-hour drive will support medical research and patient services for victims of muscular dystrophy. The disease, as yet incurable, primarily attacks children and is nearly always fatal.

Local MD patients receive free diagnosis, lab tests, physical and occupational therapy, braces, wheelchairs, and social services at Detroit's Muscular Dystrophy Clinic. The clinic, supported annually by the house-to-house campaign, is free of charge to all patients in Michigan.

Local decisions assured by HUD for block grant

Assurance that the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), recognizes federally funded block grant program decisions be made at the local level, has been given to Congressman Marvin L. Esch (R-Ann Arbor).

Esch said he had received a written response to his letter to David Meeker, assistant secretary for community planning and development of HUD, concerning the applications submitted by various Wayne County communities.

"Although the answers I have received are not completely satisfactory, HUD does recognize that the congressional intent of the legislation is to allow for maximum decision making at the local level," Esch said.

City of Plymouth and the townships of Plymouth and Canton would receive $33,000 this year for improvements of recreational and neighborhood facilities.

Fear that local control over the funds would be taken away from them had bothered many communities.

Esch said he was keeping an eye on the program to help allay fears of any "strings" being attached to the federal program.

"I will continue to work with local community officials on this matter and to insist that the bureaucrats in HUD do not subvert the congressional intent of allowing decision making at the local level. In this regard, I shall maintain a continuing dialog with HUD officials," the congressman said.

To receive the federal funds, communities with populations of less than 50,000 must join together to reach the required 200,000 population count needed for eligibility.

Nineteen communities are joining with Wayne county in their application to HUD for the money.

Plymouth school board candidates air views

In an effort to inform voters of positions of the six candidates seeking election to two four-year terms on the Plymouth Community Board of Education, the Observer & Eccentric prepared a questionnaire seeking opinions of the candidates on a variety of issues.

Candidates were asked to provide brief biographical information and answer the following questions:

1. Do you favor the 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 additional operating levy that will be on the June 9 ballot?

2. What type of program do you endorse for handling the rapid growth in the school district? What can be done to insure that buildings constructed today will not have empty classrooms in the future?

3. Should school board trustees be more concerned with curriculum or finance? Why?

4. What would you propose to solve the problems of teacher strikes? Binding arbitration? Jail teachers? Jail school board members?

5. What makes you think your service on the board would improve education in the district?

Candidates were asked to limit their responses to two type-written pages on double-spaced copy. Their responses follow:

Leslie C. Cavell
1281 Carol St.
Plymouth

1. I do favor the 5.15 mill renewal, and the .46 operating levy on the June 9 ballot.

2. In the Plymouth Community School District, it would appear that present plans for 45-15 should result in not overbuilding. Many areas are overcrowded, and would be also with the 45-15. I would support 45-15 efforts, to keep buildings to a minimum.

3. Both curriculum and finance are too closely allied to consider that a school board should be more concerned with one than the other. The concern of the board should be how best to serve the needs of the pupils in the district. This should determine the curriculum and financing needed.

4. Teacher strikes should be unnecessary if sincerity in negotiations were practiced. A district should be able to solve its own problems. Binding arbitration could settle the problem if fiscal responsibility were practiced.

It would seem futile to resolve a problem of a contract, then have to revise educational concepts because funds were not available except with increased millage, not always provided. Jail is a ridiculous assessment of the solution to this problem.

5. Schools are big business. I believe that my years in industry could prove effective by providing another viewpoint not now in evidence on the present board.

Biographical Information: Leslie C. Cavell, age 53, a total of 16 years in Plymouth School District. Graduate of Central High School, Flint, Mich., attended University of Michigan and Iowa State University. Superintendent of Maintenance, Fisher Body Division, General Motors Corporation, Livonia. Married, father of six children.

Joseph I. Gray
40228 Ivywood Ln.
Plymouth Township

My name is Joseph I. Gray, resident of Plymouth Township for eight years. I have three children attending Plymouth Schools. I'm a graduate of Western Illinois University, Business Administration. Past work experience includes national sales manager, Brunswick Corp., Midwest representative for Tenneco Chemicals, currently self-employed.

My present business includes managing my own sales operation representing several different companies. I'm also serving on the board of directors for two manufacturing companies. Past school board member and treasurer, 1973-74.

1. I am definitely in favor of the 5.15 millage renewal and the additional operating levy of .46. As it is now public knowledge, the effect of passage would be to reduce the total millage by .41 mills due to the new SEV formula.

2. I endorse the following programs for handling the rapid growth in the school district.

•A serious look at the costs and practical uses of portables in the areas of growth.

•Elementary schools with flexible designs that can later be converted to Middle School use or possibly sold to outside parties and converted to other uses.

•The use of satellite schools (nearby homes that can easily be sold at a later time).

•Careful planning as to site location.

•45-15 should be considered an experimental program in education and should not be used as a panacea for overcrowded conditions unless it can be run on a volunteer basis. The year round school program should offer more advantages than simply a revised school calendar in order to attract students to it.

3. Finance and curriculum are both important concerns of a school board member. As a businessman, I know that curriculum suffers without the proper financing. The school board sets policy and priorities, while the professional educators and administrators research the possibilities and make recommendations on curriculum.

As a taxpayer and a board member, it will be my responsibility to decide which areas of education and curriculum will give us the most results for the money spent.

4. There are bills pending in the legislature dealing with strikes at this time. None of these bills are completely favorable to school boards and teachers. I favor binding arbitration, a date to be set before school begins. If an impasse occurs, teachers would have the right to strike for a limited period with loss of pay to begin on the first day of the school calendar.

5. I feel my prior experience on the board, my business background and my interest in good schools for my children and my neighbor's children qualifies me to sit on the Board of Education. We are in a period of rapid growth. Decisions we make now will be with us for a long time.

I feel I am qualified to make those decisions and can offer the board some leadership and direction.

Elden Thomas
44112 LeeAnn
Canton Township

Elden J. Thomas is a married resident of Canton with three children attending school in the Plymouth schools system. He is the son of a retired Detroit police officer now living in Phoenix, Ariz. For the past 22 years he has been employed as a body designer for Chrysler Corp. and is a commissioned warrant officer in the Marine Corps Reserve.

He attended Chrysler Institute of Engineering, Wayne State Applied Management and Technology Center, Chrysler Computer Center and Florida University Instructor Training. Completed Basic and Advanced Aircraft Electronics Schools and instructed math, physics and drafting at the Naval Air Technical Training Center.

He is a member of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association and is Commandant of the Marine Corps League's Northwest Detachment. He represents the Marine Corps Youth Physical Fitness Program and the National Band Association Awards to outstanding band members in the Plymouth area.

1. I am in favor of the millage renewal and the additional operating levy because the school board must meet the increased cost of educational expenses.

2. At this time I believe the school board would have a more successful and less costly program if they utilized portable class rooms to cope with the overcrowded conditions. Building must be planned in new areas only where there is no other school available to meet the enrollment.

3. A school board trustee must be concerned with finance because almost all of the programs he is to approve depend on the shape of the budget and its priorities.

4. I do not believe there is an absolute solution to solving teacher strikes. This problem can only be avoided by sincere bargaining from both sides.

5. The board needs someone that is not a politician or a professional educator to help make decisions without ignoring the rights and welfare of the average citizen and taxpayer. The best possible education for our children can only be insured by the teachers, administrators and parents working together to increase community support in future educational programs.

Flossie Tonda
Canton Township

1. I am in support of the 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 additional operating levy as this millage would continue providing the school board and administration funds to retain the existing programs. It was just learned that the balancing factor of the SEV would benefit the taxpayer as he would have a tax reduction of .41 mills if both propositions were passed by the voters.

2. Year-round school, multi-age grouping and transporting students to empty classrooms would be the programs I would endorse for handling the rapid growth in the Plymouth Schools. To insure the citizens that in the future there would be no empty classrooms, I would keep an up to date record of all occupancy permits issued by the local unit of governments.

Presently we are counting empty basements and building permits, this is of no use to the schools until families occupy these homes. We must also keep a record of all housing developments being approved by our local unit of governments.

3. School board trustees should be concerned with finance and curriculum but of the two I would like to see the trustees be more concerned with finance. We must have confidence in our administration to implement the best quality curriculum for our children.

Excellent education can be provided to students in schools where budgets are relatively small as well as in schools where the budgets are large.

4. My solution to the problems of teacher strikes is as follows: A law that would guarantee a minimum of 180 days of instruction before the third Friday of June. A compulsory negotiation timetable. Negotiations to start at any time the board and teachers agree on. If no settlement 10 days before the 180-day deadline, fact-finding by MERC.

Their report or recommendation to the negotiation teams be made to the public. Five days before deadline, court-ordered compulsory arbitration. Deadline, if no settlement last best offer is automatically accepted by teachers and school board.

5. For the past five years I have served, and chaired for three years, the districtwide Safety Committee and worked very closely with administration. This experience has brought me into the problems of millage, budget and funding. Being president of the Plymouth Community Council this year has enabled me to have an excellent rapport with the parent-teacher groups in our school district.

I understand their problems and concerns about our educational policies. I am the present group organizational representative for the Camp Fire Girls in the Plymouth-Northville area, and give orientation to all new leaders in the area. I received the National Shawnee award last year for my work in the last five years with the Camp Fire Girls program.

I am secretary for the Canton Township Planning Commission which enables me to be more aware of the growth in the Canton area and how it affects the schools. In the past five years I have worked with the board, administration, teachers, parents and the children, I am aware of their problems and concerns and can voice these concerns as I vote on the school board if I am elected.

1. Yes, I am satisfied that passage of both proposals will help the district. The money is needed and will be well spent. Also, the interplay of other factors will keep the tax structure basically unchanged even if both proposals pass.

2. The year-round school is the answer to student population growth of about 1000 per year. The "45-15" plan is good since it results in a saving of 25 per cent of space and eliminates double sessions. We need to know more about other plans such as "concept 6" where as many as one-third of students enrolled may be on vacation at a given time. This offers the possibility of gaining one classroom free for each two new ones that are built.

3. With a view toward exercising general superintending control, school board trustees must be interested, and concerned, with everything in the district touching education.

4. Binding arbitration is unpopular, but I think it is the answer. We need state legislation similar to New York's "Taylor Law," establishing compulsory arbitration when disputes cannot be otherwise settled. It should be patterned after the Michigan Police-Firemen arbitration law recently extended. Both sides to the dispute set forth two final proposals. The arbitrator selects one of these proposals and his decision is binding on both sides.

Arbitration has been successful in helping to clear court dockets of civil disputes in Wayne County and metropolitan areas throughout the nation. I realize the tremendous shortcomings, yet I think it is the best alternative solution available.

5. I offer myself as a thinking person, capable of making reasoned decisions.

Member - St. Michael Lutheran Church, Member - Windsor Park Civic Association, Married, three children.

1. Yes, I favor the 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 additional operating levy. The district finds itself in an economic squeeze. Costs are rising rapidly in the areas of plant operation, capital outlay, transportation and instruction. As a result of the state equal yield formula, Plymouth receives very little revenue for our rapid increase in SEV. In fact, the district receives only $1,500 per $1 million rise in SEV.

Couple this with an ever increasing student population and it spells trouble. The board has pledged to levy only that portion of the millage which is necessary to maintain the present program and plan for improvement.

2. I endorse the solutions to the rapid growth of student population as outlined by the 1973 Citizens Committee on Maximum Utilization of buildings. (Considerable time and public input went into this study. It is important that their findings be considered carefully). In rank order they are (1) extended school year (2) build necessary schools (3) rent inside district.

3. All too often board trustees have concerned themselves with finance to the exclusion of curriculum. And all too often this narrowness has led to poor curriculum decisions. Funds could be more wisely disbursed if board members were more knowledgeable of present program and the future program needs of the district. After all program/curriculum is what education is all about.

4. The bargaining process has disintegrated to the point where change must be made. The difficulty is what kind of change. The points listed here are, I believe, in the best interests of teachers, administrators, and citizens. They have been rejected by both the Michigan School Board Association and the Michigan Education Association.

It is my belief that the "right legislation" will be that which is unacceptable to both sides. The elements to be included are: negotiations timetable, provision for fact-finding, mediation, and arbitration, calendar that protects the extended school year, arbitration open to the public, and last best total offer binding arbitration.

5. I believe I have demonstrated through action that I possess the skills required to bring about an improved educational program. I feel I am in the rather unique position of having the ability to look at issues from at least two viewpoints, having served as a teacher and administrator. My one year term could best be characterized by the statements below:

- a) devoted a tremendous amount of time and energy to board activities
- b) brought to the board a unique viewpoint
- c) demonstrated an ability to work with teachers, administration, and board members
- d) high interest in finance and curriculum

Summer job prospects up

By STEVE BARNABY

WESTLAND—Although the unemployment picture in Wayne County remains dim, personnel in the Wayne-Westland School District are optimistic over summer employment for youth.

Because of money made available through the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) and a slight upswing in local business request for student employees, the Youth Employment Service is hopeful.

Youth Employment Director Alma Kelly says the agency has about 1,600 applications on file for job requests during the summer months.

"Recently, we contacted all 700 businesses in Westland," says Mrs. Kelly. "We also remain in contact with businesses in the City of Wayne and other surrounding communities."

NOW IN ITS FOURTH year, the service is a fulltime operation.

"Because of the number of programs available, we are able to cover a wide range of age groups. The job situation isn't as good as last year, but it is better than the first two years," says Mrs. Kelly.

As the agency becomes better known, she says, more business persons call for aid. All businesses that have shown an interest in the past for youth employment are kept on file for future reference.

"In the last month things have picked up in areas like restaurants and party stores where clerks, cashiers and stockboys are needed. The businessmen seem willing to hire for summer employment."

Although run by the school district, the agency handles employment for persons from 14-years-old through college age. While older students are directed towards business employment, the younger students have domestic-type work made available to them.

Domestic work includes things like mowing lawns and cleaning up areas.

"I've been in contact with local businessmen in attempts to get students jobs cleaning up around their areas."

Recently, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners approved a $1.5 million summer employment program for out-county youth, which also should help the employment picture, says Mrs. Kelly.

Among the projects included under the funding is the Wayne County Intermediate School District (WCISD) for disadvantaged children which is expected to employ 1,400 between 14-18 years-old. Those under the program would be paid $2.10 an hour.

To qualify, youngsters must meet federal Office of Economic Opportunity poverty guidelines.

Applicants must live outside of Detroit, Dearborn and Livonia to qualify.

COMPILING A WINNING record of 8-2, the Plymouth Canton girls' volleyball team captured the first championship in the school's short history. The girls took the 1975 Western Six title and the trophy will be displayed at the

Winemaking hobby attracts couple to tastings

By SUE ROSIEK

The West Detroit Chapter of the American Wine Society (AWS) is looking for people who are interested in wines. If you would like to learn the difference between a Burgundy and Beaujolais the AWS can offer that experience and many more.

For Paul and Judy Lukacs of Garden City, the AWS is a training and testing ground for their winemaking hobby, besides enjoying the company of other wine lovers.

"We have about 13 members presently," Mrs. Lukacs explains, "but we'd like to increase our number to 50. I know there are many other wine lovers throughout this area, and I want to let them know we are here."

The West Detroit Chapter includes Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, Redford and Canton townships, Dearborn and a portion of northwest Detroit.

Mrs. Lukacs adds that the west chapter has enjoyed wine tastings and dinners with several other chapters, including the Bloomfield Hills Chapter.

The Lukacs joined the AWS about two years ago, "primarily interested in learning how to make wine," Paul Lukacs says. Since then the Lukacs' wine cellar has been stocked with such homemade varieties as elderberry, oloroso, dandelion and several types of sherry.

Winemaking in the Lukacs home has definitely been a family affair. Mrs. Lukacs and daughter, Theresa, offered foot service to chief winemaker Paul, by stomping grapes last year.

One would normally use a wine press to crush the grapes," Lukacs says, "but I don't make large quantities of wine and a press is an expensive piece of equipment. Besides, the foot stomping was fun!"

Lukacs' other winemaking equipment includes a hydrometer, to measure the sugar content; an acid testing kit, and a vinometer to test the alcoholic content of the product.

Not only do the Lukacs make wine, but they have started their own mini-vineyard in the backyard. Five grape vines, a combination of Fredonia and Aurora varieties, are beginning to develop.

It'll take about two to three years before the vines produce a substantial crop," Lukacs says. "However, we do expect some grapes this year."

Winemaking takes a certain amount of time—preparation and fermentation—luck and expense.

"It's worth the price, however, if you enjoy wine," Mrs. Lukacs says.

Lukacs is the first to admit all his attempts have not been successful.

"It takes a certain amount of experimentation. You find a recipe you like and hope that conditions remain the same everytime you make wine."

One of the most consistent recipes is for dandelion wine.

The Lukacses are currently enjoying the last bottles of the dandelion wine made last year. Family and friends gathered early last spring to pick the otherwise pesty yellow blossoms from a golf course near the Lukacs home.

The prime time for picking the dandelions has already passed but Lukacs offers his wine recipe for future use:

DANDELION WINE

4 quarts dandelion blossoms
4 quarts boiling water
Rind of 1 orange and 1 lemon and 3 pounds granulated sugar
1-inch piece of whole gingered candy

½ cake yeast moistened with ½ table-spoon of water
1 piece of toast

In a six-quart bowl pour boiling water over dandelions and let soak for three days, after which time you strain all rinds of lemon and orange in fine strips. Boil concoction for ½ hour. Add sugar, gingered candy, then spread yeast on toast and add to liquid. Cover with cheesecloth. Keep in a dark place for four weeks.

Lukacs says the wine must ferment for at least six months.

Membership in the AWS also offers the opportunity to attend dinners and take vineyard tours through some six Michigan wineries. Also attend cooking demonstrations, films, lectures, tours; receive technical bulletins and quarterly magazines, and attend regional meetings.

An annual conference is held in the AWS president's home state. This year the convention is to be held in November in Cleveland.

Dues are $12.50 per person or per couple and, "You can meet as often or as little as you like," Mrs. Lukacs says.

Anyone interested in joining the West Detroit Chapter should call Mrs. Lukacs, 31429 Sheridan, Garden City 48135.

Persons who join before July 1 will be invited to a wine picnic to be held with the Bloomfield Hills Chapter.

Paul and Judy Lukacs of Garden City propose a toast with homemade dandelion wine. (Staff photos by Bob Woodring).

Home winemaker Lukacs labels his own products.

It's a bargain you can't refuse

Here's a bargain that voters in the Plymouth School District can't afford to pass up.

On June 9, voters can renew an operating levy of 5.15 mills and add .46 mills for the same purpose without raising their tax bills.

In fact, with approval of the measures, a tax rate cut of .41 mills will be in store for property owners.

It's not often that a voter can increase the amount spent for education and still find taxes being lowered. And that's the good news.

INCREASED total property value in the district has brought a reduction of the amount needed to pay off bonded debt—that money which is used to build and equip new schools and make major repairs on older ones. The state has lowered the debt levy to 6.59 mills from this year's total of 7.06. That amounts to .47 mills that won't be levied.

Add to that a .40 mill safety millage that will not be levied for next year and you have a savings of .87 mills.

WHAT THE DISTRICT is asking for is to take .46 mills of the savings to residents and plug it into the operating funds for the district. Operating funds are kept separately from the money needed for bonded debt. Operating money is used for salaries, textbooks, supplies and other day-to-day expenses.

The 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 mills in additional operating funds will still leave a savings of .41 mills for residents. By voting yes on both measures, you can provide more than $2.5 million for day-to-day operations and still save money.

At the same time, however, the growth in the district's tax base, which has lowered the amount needed to pay off bonded debt, has reduced the amount the school district will receive in state aid. That growth in the tax base has also meant a growth in the student population, meaning that the new dollars will be spent without significant increases in program for students of the district.

According to the district's financial picture, costs this year will increase by $2.5 million, while anticipated revenues are expected to increase by only $2.3 million, including both millage proposals.

WHILE THE DIFFERENCE is only a matter of one per cent of the district's projected $17.8 million budget, school officials are quick to point out that both millage proposals are desperately needed to maintain current programs.

We heartily agree and urge a yes vote on both the 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 addition to the operating funds. It's really a bargain that voters can't afford to pass up.

The Stroller

A business lesson

By W. W. EDGAR

In the mail the other day came a very attractive looking brochure in full color from one of the leading correspondence schools in the East.

With it came an invitation to enlist in the business program as a means of keeping up with the many changes in the commercial world with the advent of computers and such things to make the way of doing business much simpler.

"There still is room for humans," it stated, "and our course will help keep you abreast of things."

If that innocent person who sent the brochure only knew. The Stroller got a real education in business — and he got it the hard way — for it wasn't learned in school.

Years ago, when The Stroller was a mere youth, his father, had opened what he called a lunch counter in our little town in foothills of the Blue Mountains in Pennsylvania. It was only a six stool lunch counter. But it sufficed to keep our little family together.

EACH DAY, before and after school, The Stroller did all the odd jobs like running errands, sweeping the place in the morning and then graduating into the back room to learn the trick of opening oysters and clams in their seasons. And if you think opening oysters is easy, just try it some time. There are many more vocations more pleasant to follow than being an oyster "shucker".

So, it wasn't long until The Stroller was moved "up front" to help serve the customers. And it was here that he received his first lessons in business — lessons that left an indelible impression that has lasted through the years.

It so happened that our home was only a city block away from the lunch counter and father liked to take a trip home in the late afternoon hours.

On this particular day he called the Stroller to one side and asked him if he knew the prices of the various brands of cigars and the food. When he nodded that he did, he was surprised to hear his father say, "I am going to go home for about an hour and you will be in charge!"

Father hadn't been gone very long when one of our regular customers came in and asked for a package of Piedmont cigars. They were popular at the time and came 10 in a package for a nickel.

AS THE CUSTOMER attempted to put the cigars in his pocket, he said, "Gad, I have a package of them. Will you take the package back and give me a piece of pie instead? The pie also was a nickel a slice."

It was a fair offer, so the pie was placed on the counter and the cigars put back on the shelf. In a few moments the customer arose from the counter and started for the door.

"You haven't paid me for the pie," the young Stroller said.

"I traded you the cigars for the pie," he answered.

"But you didn't pay for the cigars!"

"I gave them back to you, didn't I?"

Just at that moment The Stroller's father returned and both he and the customer burst into laughter. For they had conceived the idea to teach the young lad a lesson in business. They did. It never has been forgotten.

On another occasion when he was left alone to run the "shop" The Stroller served a customer a plate of oyster soup. This was only a dime in those days and the cost included the crackers.

The customer broke the crackers into the soup and started eating. Shortly he said, "I've got too many crackers, could you give me a little more broth."

ANYTHING TO please a customer. "Now I have too much broth," the customer stated, "Could I have a few more crackers?"

The young Stroller was about to serve the extra crackers a fourth time when his father walked in again and both he and the customer started laughing again.

It was another of their ideas to teach a young fellow the trickeries of the business world.

The Stroller has carried the memories of those two incidents with him all these years. They served as a real course in business.

The poor innocent fellow who sent the brochure had no way of knowing that. But the receipt of the multi-colored brochure brought back many memories — and he decided to keep it.

Thrift stores are gaining on shopping scene

BY SHERRY KAHAN

They used to call her Secondhand Rose.

But today she's more likely to be known as Saving Sally or Ecological Emily as she makes her way through the various thrift stores in the area.

For not only is she saving money, she is also recycling clothing, dishes and other household products. Thus a business that once was regarded as only for the poor and those fond of shifting the contents of one attic to another is now taken seriously.

It is a necessity to many and popular with all.

In this area there are two main types of stores that deal in used household articles. The Goodwill and Salvation Army shops are one kind. Clothing and a large variety of other items are donated to them free and are sold on behalf of a useful cause.

The other type involves businesses that accept used clothing, furniture and other articles on consignment. These articles are then sold for the mutual profit of the former owner and the store.

BILL EBERT, branch manager of the Goodwill Industries Retail Store, 27436 Michigan, Inkster, has noted an upsurge of business in the store.

"I think the increase is due to the times," he says. "People are looking for bargains. A lot of our customers — about 75 per cent — come in from the senior citizen twin towers here in Inkster. They are looking for clothing and furniture."

The proceeds from the sale of these objects plus jewelry, purses, electrical appliances, dishes, and pots and pans are used to pay the people who pick up the articles and prepare them for marketing.

"Most of these people are handicapped," says Russell Albrecht, president of League for the Handicapped-Goodwill Industries. "In our sheltered workshops the items are sorted, processed and then sent out to our stores."

"Today people want this kind of merchandise more than ever, so our sales are improving. However, things are dropping off at the other end.

PEOPLE AREN'T emptying their closets as much as they used to. As a result we've been forced to lay off handicapped people and put others on a 25-hour week. Before the recession we had about 1,000 people in our handicapped program. We had to lay off about 300 in December. However, a few have returned."

Sales since November have risen 22 per cent, he notes, but they are beginning to drop because supplies are dwindling. Goodwill had to close one store already in order to keep the others full.

"Anything made of cloth we can use," says Albrecht. "We sell shirts for from 25 to 50 cents, dresses from 79 cents to $1.79. You can get children's clothes from us for 25-50 cents, far less than they cost in stores."

"If the clothing is not in good shape we can sell it for recycling, although lately that market has gone somewhat to pot."

Albrecht explains that Goodwill employs refinish antiques that have sold for $100-$200. "We are also one of the few places in the area where chair

caning is done. All the upholstery and mattresses we sell are sterilized before being sold."

THE SALVATION ARMY maintains three Red Shield stores in the western suburbs. One of the is at 28982 Ford, Garden City; another at 33900 Goddard, Romulus, and the third at 3518 S. Wayne, Wayne.

Like Albrecht, the business managers of these stores, report a big increase in customers recently.

"We're having a hard time keeping up with it," reports Donald McKee of Livonia, business manager for the Salvation Army Romulus division, which also maintains stores at Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor.

"Usually we receive most of our clothing in the spring and fall, and store it for our winter sales," he says. "But now our storage supplies have already gone. This is the first time in six years we haven't had any backlog. The clothing is really moving."

McKEE OBSERVES that the mainstays of the stores in the past were repeat customers who came in every week. "But within the past six months we've had a lot of new faces."

Forty-nine drop boxes in western Wayne County and eastern Washtenaw County receive much of the merchandise funneled into Red Shield stores.

"However, there has been a lot of pilferage of these boxes lately," notes McKee. "We would prefer to have people call our headquarters in Romulus and ask for a pickup."

Proceeds from these five enterprises are used to maintain the Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center, located next to the Romulus store.

The center can house, clothe and feed 160 homeless men, who have no other place to live.

DAISIES DON'T TELL and Hidden Treasures are the intriguing names of two thrift stores that accept clothing and other articles on consignment.

Selling women's and children's clothing and jewelry, Daisies Don't Tell, 8130 N. Canton Center Road, Canton Township, has been in the area for three years under the proprietorship of Vera Batt.

A relatively new arrival on the scene, Hidden Treasures has set up shop at 849 Penniman, Plymouth. Its boss is Gloria Reinhold who decided to make a profession of what she had been doing for eight years as volunteer manager of her church rummage sales.

"With the economy the way it is, I decided to take the plunge," says Mrs. Reinhold, who sells jewelry, clothes and such household articles as lamps, sewing machines, fireplace accessories and baskets.

"Most women have lovely things in their closets which no longer suit them," she adds. "They think they are too good to give away. Since they have invested a good deal of money in them, they bring them here to earn back some of the money."

"On the other side of the coin, every woman loves bargains. If she can find something attractive and stylish that looks new but costs a fraction of the original price, she'll buy it."

MRS. REINHOLD suggested that individuals wishing to sell clothes that are in good condition call her for an appointment. She will give the owner 60 per cent of the selling price.

She charges a $1 registration fee, which entitles a seller to bring in articles for a year on consignment.

"I drop in almost every day," says Mrs. Catherine Murphy of Plymouth. "I want to see if Mrs. Reinhold has anything I didn't see yesterday. I like the prices here. The clothes are nice and it's economical."

4-year scholarship

Livonians win big in teen sewing contest

By MARGARET MILLER

Bonnie Moore, senior at Livonia's Churchill High School, invested about $30 and more hours she can count in making a one-of-a-kind suit with patchwork shirt and matching clog shoes.

It was a worthwhile investment. Bonnie's originality and impeccable stitching won her a four-year scholarship to Eastern Michigan University, the school she had already picked to attend for studies in home economics.

Her suit was judged best of the entries from 135 high schools in Michigan and northeast Ohio. Only one entry per school was permitted in the annual Teen Sew-in sponsored by the J.L. Hudson Co.

LIVONIANS WON both the senior and junior high divisions in the competition. Chris Boris, Riley Junior High student, stitched up a peach trenchcoat that took top honors among the younger seamstresses.

Chris' prize, an Elna sewing machine, and Bonnie's scholarship certificate were presented by television star, Mario Thomas, who recently joined the McCall pattern Co., in a special program in the downtown Hudson's store.

Ellen Heikkinen of Redford Union High School placed fifth in the senior high division.

BONNIE'S "WINNING SUIT" was made by combining three patterns with a lot of ingenuity and even more meticulous work.

Asked by her teacher, Mrs. Darlene Marohnic, to be Churchill's representative in the competition, she started shortly after Christmas to look around for material and ideas.

"I saw material printed in patchwork squares and that gave me the idea to make the patchwork shirt," she said. She chose shades of red, gold, green and lavender to go with the navy skirt and lined jacket.

After the patches were sewn together, each was outlined with stitching in matching thread. Bonnie then cut the parts of the shirt from the patchwork material she had made. Her shirt isn't lined, but the inside is as beautiful as the outside — every patchwork square is outlined with a zig-zag stitch in matching thread.

The shoes, made of patchwork strips attached to wooden soles stained blue, made a final touch to the outfit.

THIS YOUNG seamstress, who has taken every sewing course Churchill offers and now is learning about commercial sewing machines at Bentley High, hasn't decided on a career yet. "But I'm sure it will be something connected with sewing — probably not teaching," she said.

She makes all her own clothes, has turned out a few shirts and vests for her two brothers and last year was commissioned to make a wedding dress for a friend.

But she doesn't always put as many hours into a project as she did into her scholarship-winning suit.

Just a few days before the Churchill prom, she confessed she really had to get started on the dress she'd be wearing.

CHRIS BORIS (right) receives from TV star Mario Thomas the sewing machine that was first prize in the junior high division. Chris is wearing the trenchcoat she made.

Spartans, Franklin fall in semis

Salem ousts Canton in district final

Make room for Plymouth Salem coach Wayne Sparkman in Las Vegas. The veteran diamond mentor took the gamble of the season Saturday when he held out his ace pitcher Tom Willette from the district semifinal game against Livonia Franklin in order to save him for the finals in the tournament and it paid off for the Rocks as they got out their big guns and bounced Franklin 12-6 and then upset cross-town rival Plymouth Canton 9-0 in the final game.

The win was the biggest of the season for Salem which had taken a back seat all year to a Canton team which had earned the number one ranking in the state and run up a 21-3 record.

THE GAME was a natural showdown not only because of the relative proximity of the schools but also because it was a meeting of two league champions—Canton in the Western Six and Salem in the Suburban Eight.

But with Willette pitching as sharp as he ever has, it was simply no contest. Willette has had professional and college scouts in awe of his stuff all year, and Saturday he showed why.

The senior righthander took a Chief team which was batting well over .300 and completely handcuffed them to two hits, striking out 15 while walking only one.

Meanwhile, the Rock batsmen were having a field day of it.

Starting right from the first inning, it was all Salem.

DAVE PIERCE began the game for Salem with a single and with one out, Doug Tripp, who went four-for-four for the game, followed with his first single.

Willette then homered to deep left centerfield and Salem was on its way.

The Rocks picked up two more in the second on three hits and added another pair in the fourth when the Chief defense collapsed and committed two errors. Tripp's fourth hit of the day, a solid single, was the only safety in that rally.

The two teams will meet again in Canton's final game of the year Tuesday in a 4 p.m. rematch at Salem.

The Rocks now advance to the Southfield regional next Saturday where they will meet the winner of the Dearborn district which was rained out Saturday and will be played today.

SALEM — FRANKLIN

Salem reached the finals of the district by bombing Livonia Franklin 12-6 in a morning game.

Brian Wolcott picked up the win for the Rocks with relief help from Chuck Thomas.

John DenHouter got Salem started in the first with a triple to right scoring two, but the scrappy Patriots fought back with three runs in their half of the inning on Mark Sala's RBI single and Joe Pollard's double, which scored two.

After that it was all Salem as the Rocks scored one in the second and exploded for five in the third on seven walks. Salem ran the margin to 12-3 in the fifth with four more runs and Franklin fought gamely but could never catch up.

Bill Parson was nearly untouchable for Canton in its semi-final game against Livonia Stevenson. The junior hurler allowed only Dave Pelly's sixth inning single to stop his no-hitter as the Chiefs took a 7-1 victory.

Paul Major went two-for-two and the Chiefs scored five times in the sixth on three hits and two Spartan errors to highlight action.

State track girls shine at Franklin

Detroit Cass Tech successfully defended its Class A girls high school state track championship Saturday at Livonia Franklin High School scoring 54 points to runner-up Walled Lake Western's 40.5.

Anita Lee took individual honors for the Technicians, winning both the high jump and the long jump. Detroit Northern's Josie Hobbs was the day's only other double winner as she took both speed events — the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

The two girls were both defending champions in those events.

Although no area team finished among the leaders in team scoring, several individuals were in on the scoring.

Most notable among them were Pam Beernink of Livonia Bentley who finished second in the 880 yard run, and Jackie Croci of Plymouth Salem who finished third in the 440 yard run.

In the 440, Croci just beat out Bentley's Sharon Dreyer.

Both the Bentley and the Salem mile relay teams won their heats in the mile relay with Salem getting a fifth in the event.

Results:

Team Scoring — 1. Detroit Cass Tech (54). 2. Walled Lake Western (40.5). 3. Kalamazoo Central (38). 4. Mt. Clemens (31). 5. Flint Northwestern (27). 6. Detroit Northern (23.5).

IT WAS ALL SMILES for Livonia Bentley junior Sharon Dreyer and Plymouth Salem senior Jackie Croci after the 440 yard run at the state Class A girls track and field championships at Livonia Franklin Saturday. Croci finished third in the event and Dreyer was fourth, a step behind.

7 from area place at state track meet

Livonia Churchill's Bill Reardon, Plymouth Salem's Mark DeMeritt and Livonia Stevenson's Ken Brown all came up with third places in their events to highlight local action at the Class A High School track and field championships held Saturday at Flint Northwestern High School.

No local team scored in the top 10 of the annual event which was won by Flint Northwestern. Southwestern had 39 points without scoring a first to top Flint Northwestern which was second with 38 points.

Reardon was given a legitimate shot at state honors when he swept several big meets early in the season. And the big senior came up with his best effort of the year with a heave of 56-6. But Chippewa Valley's Brad Selden outdid all expectations with a put of 59-0 to take the event.

DeMeritt's effort was a mild surprise. While he had gone the 440 yard distance in 49.1 earlier this year, he had been beaten last Wednesday by Redford Union's Jim Lalonde in the Suburban Eight track meet. In the state meet, however, DeMeritt was clocked in 49.0, while Lalonde finished sixth in 49.4. Detroit Southeastern's Gregg Anderson won the event in 48.4.

Brown, running in the 880 yard run, lowered his best time in the event by more than two seconds, going 1:53.5. But the senior Spartan's effort was not quite enough to catch Flint Northern's Keith Young who went in 1:51.3.

Several other area athletes had good showings at the big meet.

Westland John Glenn's Tom Jakubowski finished fourth in the high hurdles with a 14.4 clocking. That race went in 14.2.

Bentley's Rick Hammil finished sixth in the 220 yard dash with a time of 22.4, a personal best for him. And Paul Lokar of Livonia Stevenson finished seventh in the long jump with a leap of 21-6.

The big story of the annual meet centered around the mile run where Pontiac Central's Steve Elliot shattered the state record in the mile which had stood for 12 years. Elliot went the classic distance in 4:08.2 to easily break old Detroit Eastern's Lou Scott's mark of 4:13.2 which was set in 1963.

Aggies get pitching advance in Class C

Redford St. Agatha kept its hopes for a Class C state championship alive Saturday, winning a state tournament district championship at Manz Field in Detroit by beating Hamtramck St. Florian 1-0 and edging Hamtramck High School 3-2.

Pitching has been the Aggies' long suit all year, and Saturday was no exception.

Pat Ruvalo got the nod in the first game against a St. Florian team which had beaten St. Agatha twice this year in league competition.

But Ruvalo was at the top of his game, and he allowed only two hits, neither of which was solid.

Both came in the fourth inning with two out as one St. Florian batter blooped a hit to right and the next grounded through a hole in the right side created when second baseman Chris Gongol vacated the premises to cover a possible steal attempt.

The Aggies scored the only run of the game in the third when Jim Merritt was safe on a fielder's choice, advanced on Gary Beyrand's error and scored on a wild pitch.

In the district final, Ron Jess struck out seven and allowed only three hits in the 3-2 triumph over Hamtramck.

The Aggies scored first in the opening inning when Gongol doubled to right-center and scored on two ground balls.

They added two in the fourth on Jess' double, Beyrand's single, an error and a fielder's choice.

Gongol went four-for-five on the day to pace the St. Agatha hitting attack.

"We're finally getting around to playing the way we should be playing," said Agatha coach Don Sweeney.

St. Agatha will now play in the Blissfield New Hudson regional Saturday.

"I have absolutely no idea where Blissfield is," said the well-informed Sweeney.

Salem 6th, Bentley 8th in Sub 8 meet

Redford Union's Jim Lalonde set a league record in the 440 yard run and the Panthers went on to capture third place in last Wednesday's Suburban

Eight track and field meet.

Dearborn won the meet with 84 points and Edsel Ford was second with 75.

Other team scores were: Redford Union (68), Trenton (43), Belleville (41), Plymouth Salem (37), Allen Park (26), and Livonia Bentley (15).

Lalonde ran his quarter mile in 49.4 seconds to take the record and edge Plymouth Salem's Mark DeMerritt. DeMerritt also took a second in the 220 dash.

Redford Union took a total of four firsts in the meet with two victorious relay teams and Brad Ross coming through in the shot put along with Lalonde's effort.

Ross, who has rounded into the area's top shot putter, had a mark of 55 feet, one-quarter inch. Ross had gone over 56 feet earlier this year. Salem's Ted Burton finished second in that event.

Salem's Kim Woody bypassed the early rounds of the pole vault and then went on to win the event with a vault of 12-6 to capture the Rocks' only first for the day.

Livonia Bentley speedster Rick Hammill highlighted action for the Bulldogs with thirds in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Pats lose to Thurston

Redford Thurston closed out its baseball season on an encouraging note Wednesday, nipping Livonia Franklin 2-1.

"This is a very young team. We have only five seniors on our 16 man roster," said Eagle coach Emil Mageski.

Thurston closed the season with a 15-8 record and placed second behind Garden City East in the Northwest Suburban race with an 11-4 record.

Thurston struck first in the game in the second inning when Mitch Drozdowski tripled and came home on Brian D'Ascenzo's base hit.

The Patriots tied things in the third when Joe Pollard's hard drive to center got by the Eagle centerfielder and Pollard raced all the way home.

Thurston scored the deciding run in the sixth. Jeff Trachsel singled, stole second, went to third on an error and scored on Dan Hunter's double to right-centerfield.

Randy Rodriguez wound up his prep career by going the distance for Thurston, allowing four hits, walking two and striking out five.

Mike Flood took the loss for Franklin.

Batteries: Thurston — RODRIGUEZ and Beebe. Franklin — FLOOD and Pollard.
