Sister city will join July Fourth observance

PLYMOUTH—More than 15,000 area residents are expected to line the streets of downtown Plymouth Friday to watch the Fourth of July Parade and a brief ceremony in front of city hall for the city's sister city, Plymouth, England.

Robert Jarnol and Paul Campbell are co-chairmen for the parade sponsored annually by the Plymouth Jaycees.

MORE THAN 40 units have been lined up thus far for the parade which will begin at 12:30 p.m. at Union and Main Streets and proceed down Main to Middle School East.

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce will enter a float featuring a replica of the 1776 flag to commemorate the nation's upcoming bicentennial.

A group from Redford Township, tagged "The New Majority," will enter a float with a 14-foot statue of Uncle Sam seated behind a birthday cake. Its theme will be "America, you are getting older but you are getting better."

Musical groups in the parade will include the Centennial Educational Park Marching Band, a band from Windsor the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps, Milford High School Band, Taylor High Band, and the Clan MacRae Band.

Grand marshal for this year's parade will be W.W. "Eddie" Edgar of the Observer & Eccentric. Edgar, author of The Stroller and the In the Pocket bowling column, has served as editor of the Plymouth Observer, is a long-time member of the Rotary Club of Plymouth, and has been inducted into the Michigan Amateur Sports Hall of Fame, Detroit Bowling Congress Hall of Fame, and University of Michigan Media Hall of Fame.

THE PARADE will be interrupted for a short period of time for a special service at the stone in front of Plymouth City Hall.

Back in Plymouth, England, city officials on July 4 will hoist the American flag in recognition of America's anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. As a reciprocal gesture, a Union Jack flag will be raised along with Old Glory during the services Friday.

Edgar will present a talk on the tradition of Plymouth's sister city, British Consulate J.J. Hyslop will talk, and Plymouth Mayor Beverly McAninch will make a few remarks. When the short ceremony ends, the parade will begin its procession down Main Street.

THE SISTER CITY tradition began in 1967—the year the City of Plymouth observed its 100th anniversary.

As part of that anniversary, the city sent invitations to some 17 cities in the U.S. which had the name Plymouth and to Plymouth, England, to join in the observance.

None of the 17 Plymouths in America showed up but a representative from Plymouth, England, did and brought with him a stone taken from the dock from which the Mayflower ship sailed from when the Pilgrims left for America.

Plymouth officials got word that the British city was interested in obtaining some Moraine locust trees and obtained some as a gift. The trees went back to England and were planted on the municipal lawn.

Another important event in the sister city tradition was when Plymouth, England, was observing the 350th anniversary of the sailing of the Mayflower. A number of local delegates traveled to England to join the observance and present another tree.

The tradition will continue Friday and is certain to take on added significance when Plymouth and America celebrate its bicentennial next year. It is predictable both Plymouths will also be represented in the parade on July 4, 1976.

RESPECT TO THE American flag is an important part of the patriotism which is exhibited in ceremonies and during the Plymouth Fourth of July Parade.

Miller staff prepped for year-round school

CANTON—While most principals in the Plymouth Community School District last week scurried pens over end-of-the-year paperwork, Shirley Spaniel busily combined two major administrative tasks—those needed to open and close Miller Elementary School.

A group of 230 students will return to Miller on July 14 to begin the pilot 45-15 program, while other schools in the district echo with the sounds of summer cleanup work. The remaining 570 children enrolled in the year-round program will return to school on Aug. 4, Aug. 25 or Sept. 15.

"I'M CLOSING" and opening school simultaneously," said Mrs. Spaniel, principal of Miller School, as she gazed at the reams of paperwork surrounding her desk. "We've had to close and get everything ready for the start of school at the same time."

For Mrs. Spaniel and other Miller office workers, the opening of school on July 14 will only mark the beginning of a continuous deluge of paperwork.

Starting Sept. 15 when students enrolled on Track A take their first three-week vacation, three tracks of students will continually pack the school. The 45-15 program, under which four tracks or groups of students will attend school for nine weeks and remain home for three, will allow Miller to house 25 per cent more children than under the traditional school calendar year.

FOR MILLER'S administration, that means more work.

"From a management point of view, it's going to be a tremendous task," said Mrs. Spaniel. "There's going to be so many teachers and children coming and going. It's going to be like running four schools at once."

"A lot of the research on 45-15 says the biggest headache is for the principal."

To keep tabs of students, the administration must replace its one record attendance book with four. Testing of students, which traditionally takes place during the first week of classes each fall, must now take place four times.

Student evaluations must take place 16 times a year, and the school must sponsor eight teacher inservice days instead of two. Four open houses, sponsored by the school's PTO, must be held to accommodate students on all four tracks.

A new group of teachers and students will enter the school every three weeks. That means an almost continual influx of kindergarten students during the first portion of the year, and an exodus of fifth graders during the latter. Because of the tight schedule, teachers must use weekend days to pack their belongings at the beginning and end of each nine-week session.

"DESPITE ALL THIS, the staff is very enthusiastic," Mrs. Spaniel said. "They're excited to try it."

"The teachers feel they'll have a chance to review kids every nine weeks. A three-week period will give them a chance to catch their breaths."

Numerous parents in the Miller School attendance area have voiced loud criticisms of the 45-15 plan. But, according to Mrs. Spaniel, fewer parents are now objecting than a few months ago.

More than 60 parents had originally decided to pull their children from the 45-15 program and bus them to Allen, East or Fiegel elementary schools. That number has dwindled to about 50.

"I think the administration has tried very hard to accommodate the needs of people."

Teachers, she explained, were allowed to select the tracks they wanted to teach, and all requests were granted. Students were placed on tracks according to the neighborhoods in which they live, but parental requests for different tracks than those assigned were granted.

A recreational program specifically designed for Miller's 45-15 program will help keep children occupied while taking three-week vacations.

The Plymouth Fine Arts Council will provide arts and crafts classes, and the YMCA is planning a gymnastics program. Field trips will take place this week.

Parents must provide transportation for children enrolled in the recreational program, Mrs. Spaniel said. The cost of the program will be "minimal."

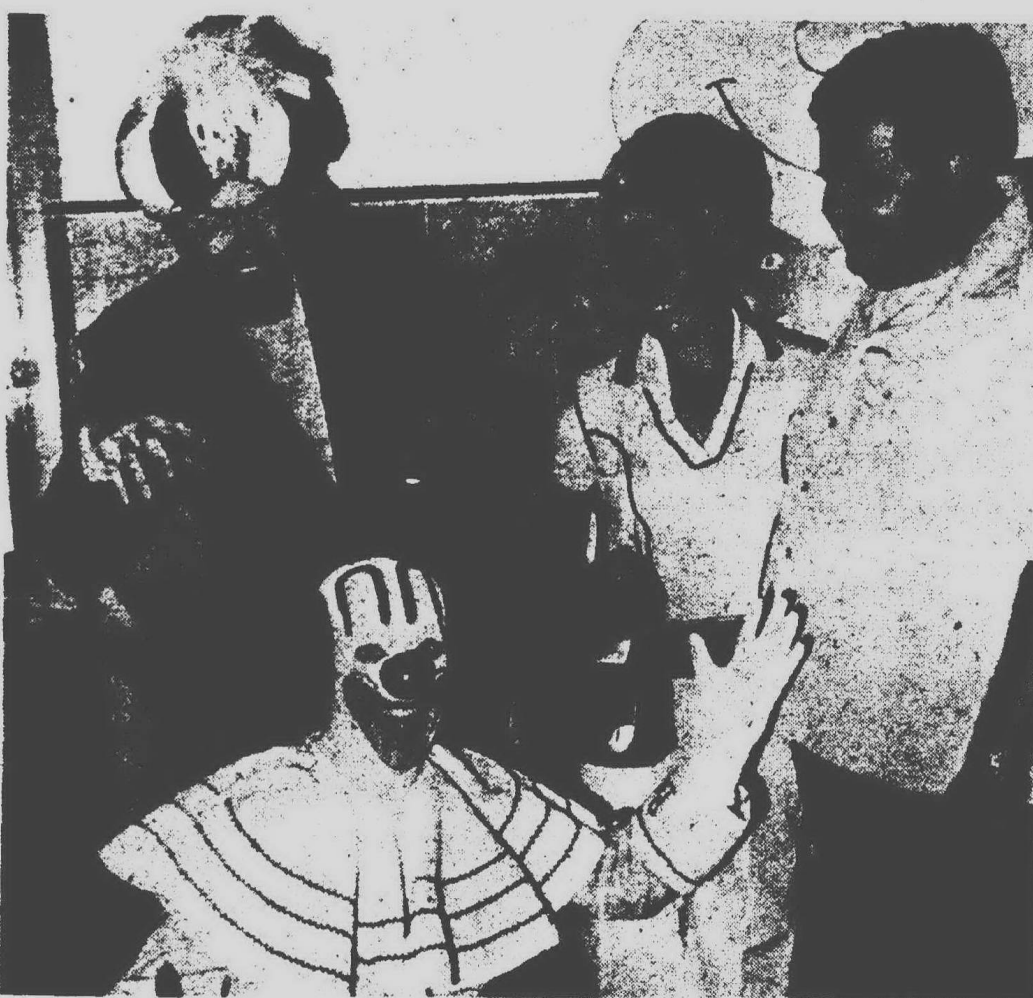

"I'M SURE there are a number of people who are still very skeptical," said Miller's principal. "But once they see the nice recreational schedule—which isn't provided to children in other schools—maybe they'll be more accepting."

"I honestly believe the program will be very successful. It probably will be an inconvenience for some families, and I honestly feel for parents who have children on different schedules. But then I've heard some moms say it would be nice not to have the all the kids home at the same time."

Mrs. Spaniel, a resident of the Northville School District where a volunteer 45-15 program was implemented a few years ago, said her children love the year-round program.

"My children love 45-15. My son is leaving elementary school and had a choice of a traditional or 45-15 calendar in middle school. He wants to say on the year-round schedule. Kids are ready for a break after 2½ months."

Our House seeking volunteer counselors

PLYMOUTH—The volunteer staff of Our House Crisis Center in Plymouth would like you to make their house your house too.

Gearing up for the summer season when they expect more drug-related incidents to be reported, Our House is conducting training sessions beginning July 11 for volunteer counselors.

According to volunteer Barbara Woods, training sessions consist of 40 hours, including one weekend session on Friday night and most of Saturday.

"We're constantly in need of more volunteers," Mrs. Woods said. "Our volunteers come and go according to their own needs, so we have to be recruiting."

AMONG THE 30 volunteers in Our House are three social workers, two ministers, some with bachelor's degrees in psychology, registered nurses, a teacher, a seminarian, a businessman and two people under the direct supervision of a psychologist of the Huron Valley Transactional Analysis Institute.

"We also have some well-informed teens and young adults."

While a diploma is not a pre-requisite for placement as a volunteer, passing a personal examination is.

The volunteer then receives training in counseling and crisis intervention skills, transactional analysis, empathy training and information on sex and drug-related problems.

A session in self-awareness is included in the training.

"To become a counselor, you have to be aware of your own feelings. And you have to know how you're relating to your client," Mrs. Woods said.

School-in-school idea is expanded

PLYMOUTH—The name "West Middle Schools" may aptly describe the building at Ann Arbor Trail and Sheldon come next fall.

While the majority of West students sit in more traditional classrooms, a group of 150 sixth, seventh and eighth graders will study in their own wing of the school, under the instruction of a five-teacher team.

WEST'S SCHOOL within-a-school concept, used to some degree at other elementary schools throughout the Plymouth Community School District, is a first for middle schools in the district, according to Jim Leary, assistant superintendent for instruction.

According to the teachers who will teach West's "second school," the program stresses individuality, creative thinking, self-direction and the needs of each student.

"I'd want my child to be in this program, where he has more room to grow and be creative," said teacher Linda Gratsch. "He has five adult models to emulate and different aged kids to relate to."

The program, taught by Mrs. Gratsch, Dolly McMaster, Jim Szczecowski and Tom Williams, is open to 60 sixth graders, 60 seventh graders and 30 eighth graders.

In each learning unit, students will be assigned work that teachers think is essential. Students will work at their own individual pace and attend "interest seminars," taught by any of the five teachers, to complete the learning unit.

"In this program, the child has a chance to say, 'I already know this. Can't I do something else?'" explained Mrs. McMaster. "We want kids to develop their own interests, but many times they don't know what they want, so we have to push them a little."

THE STRUCTURE of the program will become looser as time goes on and students become more accustomed to the individual pace, explain the teachers. More seminars and options will be offered toward the end of the year.

The students and their five teachers will occupy a five-classroom wing of West to separate them from the rest of the school. Each teacher will keep records of the educational needs and achievements of 30 students.

The students will mingle among pupils from other grades. An eighth grader may tutor a younger student in a specific subject.

"The tutoring would reinforce a skill that an eighth grader has," said Mrs. McMaster. "A teacher who prepares something to teach really becomes a master of that subject. Tutoring would make a student feel real worth. By being tutored, a sixth grader would have a good model to emulate."

Mrs. McMaster and the other teachers hope to continue the program for at least three years. Next year's sixth graders could remain with the same teachers through ninth grade.

INVOLVEMENT IN THE program is strictly voluntary, the teachers stress.

The school's administration has sent parents information about the program. Parents may learn more on July 22 when the school sponsors a meeting between West parents and teachers.

"We're inviting anyone into this program who wants to get into it," said Szczecowski. "Kids who have remedial problems can really benefit from this too. We think this is going to work, and we think it's going to work for a lot of different kinds of kids."

Mrs. McMaster agreed. "We want parents to know what they'd be committing their child to. We're just offering another choice to them. We believe kids are honest, trustworthy and reliable. We just have to show them that they are."

SC approves lease of GC school

By SUE ROSIEK

The Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees Wednesday voted 7-0 to approve a five-year lease with the Garden City School District for use of Harrison Elementary School beginning on a limited basis in September. The board also accepted plans for a parking lot at the site, which will cost $23,000.

The lease for Harrison begins July 1, 1976, with a provision to rent eight rooms from Sept. 1, 1975 through June 30, 1976, at $100 per room per month. During the 1975-76 school year, Schoolcraft will continue to operate the Garden City Instructional Center (Florence School) under the terms of that lease.

The Florence school lease will be extended for one month at $975 to accommodate moving to a new site in 1976.

Schoolcraft will lease only Harrison School according to the agreement at an escalating annual payment of $16,000 for the first year and increasing $1,000 annually for the next five years.

"That's about $1 per square foot per year," explained Kenneth Lindner, vice president for administrative affairs. "The school district had originally asked for a $20,000 annual payment, but we pointed out that the college is making a capital improvement."

Under the terms of the lease, Schoolcraft has the right to sublet for educational purposes and can make any necessary structural alterations with the approval of the Garden City School Board. The board accepted the lease at its June 23 regular meeting.

Trustees also approved the parking lot, contingent on a letter from the engineering firm (Hoyem & Associates) stating there wouldn't be any problems with surface drainage on the lot.

The project was initially estimated at $60,000, but additional asphalt, striping and improved drainage materials increased the price tag by $13,000.

Trustee Arch Vallier questioned whether the engineer's recommendation to use corrugated steel pipe would sufficiently handle drainage in the area.

"I'm sick and tired of fighting engineers that don't understand the drainage problem," said Vallier. "Without proper drainage the lot is a waste of taxpayers' money."

Vallier's charges persuaded the board to add a contingency clause to its approval. In other action the board:

- Approved phase one of a $133,000 campus drainage correction and restoration plan. Architects for the project are Ralls-Hammill-Becker-Carne Inc., of Livonia. Plans are to replace the concrete portion of the college's central mall, between the administration building, library and Waterman campus center with sidewalks and a grassy area. Access ramps for handicapped persons also are slated.

- Lindner said the college has applied for a $24,000 state grant to help finance the cost of ramps.

- Voted to renew Schoolcraft membership in the Association of Community College Trustees and pay annual dues of $625.

- Voted to approve a concurring resolution with Wayne State University, in which the two schools will cooperate in providing postsecondary education to persons in the Schoolcraft district. The one-year agreement may be renewed every year for five years.

- Accepted a $109,400 grant from the National Science Foundation for "Development of a Two-Year Petroleum Technologist Program." John Bedford, Schoolcraft geology instructor, has been designated as project director. Under the grant, Schoolcraft will provide $3,000 for equipment the second year of the program.

- Appointed Ronald Griffith as dean of community services. Griffith previously was director of community services until the board voted to upgrade that position.

• Appointed Trustee Rosina Raymond as chairperson for the July 7 organizational meeting. Outgoing chairman John LaRue plans to move to Washington later this summer. The board presented LaRue with the gavel he used during his two-year term as chairman.

County urges Ford's approval of crime bill

WAYNE COUNTY—The Detroit-Wayne County Criminal Justice Coordinating Council unanimously adopted a resolution, sponsored by Commissioner Mary E. Dumas (R-Livonia), urging President Ford to approve a congressional appropriation of $25 million for combating juvenile delinquency.

The May 22 resolution urges the President to sign a supplemental appropriation bill which includes an outlay for funding the Juvenile Delinquency Act of 1974.

"We believe the funding and implementation of the act will provide the means to prevent and control juvenile crime and delinquency," the resolution declares.

In citing the need for the program, the resolution notes that juveniles under age 17 account for approximately 22 per cent of all arrests for serious crimes including murder, rape, burglary, larceny, felonious assault and auto theft.

The resolution points out that the current high unemployment rate has increased the incidence of crime in Detroit and Wayne County.

Slate of 4 organized to defeat incumbents

By EMORY DANIELS

PLYMOUTH — It was more than mere happenstance that the City of Plymouth will have its first primary for the city commission in 12 years.

In past years, enough candidates have filed to necessitate a primary but some were always talked into withdrawing to avoid the need for a run-off. This year nobody withdrew.

The major reason is a series of alliances that have formed amongst the candidates, persons now serving on the commission, and reside in active in city politics.

A definite slate of four candidates has been organized. Two other candidates appear to have teamed up and there seems to be a loose alliance between three others.

From examining the signatures on nominating petitions, the only person seemingly running as an independent candidate is Mayor Beverly McAninch.

THE SLATE of four are: Alfred H. Thoman Jr., 345 Joppa Place, businessman and planning commissioner; Thomas A. Turner, 1300 Linden, former Plymouth Board of Education member; Scott Dodge, 382 Blunk, local attorney; and Mary Childs, 1439 Ross Street.

Among the signatures on the nominating petitions of each of these four were city commissioners Robert Sincock and Harold Guenther, neither of whom are on the ballot Aug. 5.

Although the two incumbents signed petitions for the four challengers, neither signed for Mrs. McAninch or incumbent John Cummings.

It is expected that persons who have served on a legislative body for a few years will play some part in helping to decide who their replacements will be.

What is interesting in this primary, however, is that the two retiring incumbents have thus far lined up behind four candidates instead of just two.

At this point, the front-runners among the challengers would appear to be Thoman and Turner — both in the four-member slate. The other two would probably be Dodge (a slater) and Lesley Howes of 279 Blunk.

HOWES'S nominating petitions contained the signatures of incumbent Commissioner Joe Bida and Cummings. Cummings obtained the signature of Mrs. Howes.

This seems to indicate that Howes has the backing of Cummings, who is seeking re-election.

analysis

There was a slight intermingling of signatures between David A. Pugh of 964 Roosevelt, Kenneth B. Kisabeth of 1008 Roosevelt, and Leonard Budnick of 685 Harold.

Pugh signed the petitions of Kisabeth, a neighbor, and Budnick. Pugh himself received names mostly from neighbors but Kisabeth's and Budnick's signatures weren't among them.

WHAT STANDS OUT about the slate of four is that there are exactly four seats up for grabs this year — the seats vacated by Sincock and Guenther, and the two held by Mrs. McAninch and Cummings.

The presence of a woman on the slate could be an indication that the alliance is out for all four seats, including that of Mrs. McAninch.

Formation of the slate might have been prompted by the recent success of the slate put together by Canton Supervisor Robert Greenstein and Treasurer Carl Parsell. The idea may have caught on here.

It will be interesting to watch what happens between now and Aug. 5. Will Mrs. McAninch abandon what now appears to be an independent candidacy and join with Howes and Cummings? And is there an alliance between Pugh, Budnick and Kisabeth which will become known as the campaign gets under way?

At this point, the real race appears to be Dodge and Mrs. Childs versus Cummings and Mrs. McAninch. But the active campaign has not yet started.

Plans change for land parcel

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP— Marathon Oil Co. has abandoned plans to construct a gasoline station at the corner of Ann Arbor Road and Haggerty, ending a long fight with the township.

Marathon, owner of the L-shaped parcel, is now requesting a change of zoning from residential to commercial to enable Standard Federal Savings & Loan Association to construct a building on the site.

The township planning commission has scheduled a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. July 16 in township offices to reap residents' feelings toward the matter.

A few years ago, the planning commission turned down Marathon's request for conditional use of the parcel's corner to build a gasoline station.

A court case followed, and Circuit Judge Joseph Rashid delivered a consent judgment in May, 1973. Rashid said Marathon could build the gasoline station on that corner, if it were constructed within two years. Zoning of the remainder of the land would remain residential.

But two years have passed and the station has never been built. "As far as Marathon and the township are concerned, the issue is null and void," said Township Clerk Helen Richardson.

Scouts advance

PLYMOUTH — Members of Plymouth Scout Troop 1531 — chartered in 1912 — were recently honored at the troop's semi-annual court of awards in Junior High West.

Rank advancement awards were presented to John Bentley, Craig Muenchow, Mark Parker and Mark Schnoes.

Merit badges were earned by Bentley, Mark Bosche, Scott Chatterley, John Daratony, Jeff Davenport, Dan Englehart, Mark Gardner, Jeff Hill, Chris Hohnbaum, Guy Jackson, Keith McNulty, Brian Muenchow, John Olstad, Jim Schnoes, Dan Smith, Brad Terhune and Brian Waterhouse.

The troop was chartered in 1912 and active until 1919. After a three-year lapse, it was reactivated in 1922 and has been active for the past 53 years.

Sponsored by the Plymouth Kiwanis Club since 1954, it is the only troop in the Sunset District, and one of few in the state, to achieve 50 years or more of active existence.

This past year, Scouts participated in spring and fall canoe trips on the Pine and Manistee rivers, monthly hikes and campouts at nearby parks and campgrounds, and the annual "Freezeout" camp in February without tents.

One week each summer is spent in a troop outpost camp. As in '74, the troop will camp near Stuart Lake in Michigan's Upper Peninsula during July.

New library books

Wyn Sargent: "People of the Valley." World headlines told the story of Wyn Sargent's banishment from New Guinea, accused of marrying a cannibal chief for the purpose of studying primitive sexual practices. In this account of her sojourn in the Baliem Valley, she reveals that her discovery of torture and brutality meted out by the Indonesian police was the reason for the order of expulsion. "People of the Valley" is not just a record of a unique, primitive people, nor of a remarkable adventure, but also, an account of a humanitarian effort which revealed the kinship of people everywhere, no matter how different their way of life.

Jessamyn West. "The Massacre at Fall Creek." In 1824 an explosive event on the American frontier threatened massive and bloody Indian reprisals. The little-known and long-forgotten record tells of the brutal murder of innocent, peaceful Indians, including women and children, by five white men. From this scant evidence of history, Jessamyn West has fashioned an exciting and richly plotted novel.

Hilton requests more parking

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—Patrons of the Plymouth Hilton Inn, tentatively scheduled for an early fall opening, may have plenty of spaces in which to park come grand opening day.

The township planning commission last week agreed to recommend the rezoning of a parcel across from the hotel from residential to vehicular parking. The rezoning depends on whether Deane Baker, owner of the hotel and parcel, reaches a satisfactory agreement with adjacent homeowners on Hamill.

The proposed parking lot, across from the hotel on the east side of Northville Road, would give the hotel 50 more parking spaces.

Planning commission members directed Baker to work with the township's planning firm, Norman Dietrich & Associates, and with residents of Hamill, whose properties abut the proposed parking area.

A six-foot masonry wall or six feet of landscaping and screening could be used to buffer the proposed parking area from residential property, the planning commission said.

Doris Ritchie, planning commission secretary, said residents at last week's public hearing did not object to the proposed rezoning but asked that a wall be built to screen their property from the parking lot.

Goulet wins planning post

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—Planning commission member John Goulet last week was elected to fill the position of vice-chairman.

Goulet, who was appointed to the planning commission in October 1972, will fill the unexpired term of Dale Siefker, who last month resigned from the planning commission because of a job transfer to Illinois.

Goulet was appointed to the planning commission in 1972 to fill the unexpired term of Charles Childs. A 1954 graduate of the University of Vermont, Goulet holds a bachelor's degree in civil engineering and has worked for the Wayne County Road Commission for 24 years.

Goulet is a member of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association and past president of the Society of County Engineers.

Summer stays at home

By ETHEL SIMMONS

The best part of summer is spent outdoors, even around home.

You don't have to go far to enjoy all the things that spell warm-weather fun:

- Menus of hot dogs, corn on the cob, baked beans and fresh green salads.

- Cool, alcoholic or non, fruit 'n' iced drinks.

- A table set appealingly, on patio furniture.

- Clothes that are comfortable and relaxing for leisure wear.

- Outdoor games for everybody to get together and play, with simple equipment.

These were some of the pleasures shown at a Summer Living Open House recently at Jacobson's Store for the Home in Birmingham. At a two-hour session, shoppers browsed among free demonstrations, displays and modeling.

Photographer's model Jutta Schreddy, who has gotten into gourmet cooking taking classes by Charity Sucek, prepared summer salads.

She made Nicoise salad, from the south of France, with tuna, tiny new potatoes, blanched string beans, hard-boiled eggs and sliced tomatoes. Another salad combined cold poached chicken with homemade mayonnaise and white seedless grapes.

Hot spinach salad was topped with a hot oil dressing that blended bits of bacon and hard-boiled egg. A marinated salad combined vegetables marinated in vinegar dressing: Tiny Belgian carrots, cold white asparagus, French cut green beans and cauliflower. A conventional summer tossed salad also was demonstrated.

PAMELA SCHAEFFER whipped up the fresh fruit drinks with crushed ice. Fresh pineapple, berries, lemon, lime and orange were combined with white wine and-or soda, like a spritzer.

Homemade ice cream, turned out nice and creamy in an ice-cream machine, was sampled in flavors of chocolate mint, lemon sherbert and fresh fruit.

For summer menus of hot foods, there was cookware steaming corn on the cob, a crockpot slow-cooking baked beans and a broiler-oven heating hot dogs served with barbecue sauces.

Models showed patio and at-home clothes including Ann Fogarty's gingham-wrapped apron dress and Bonnie Cashin's caftan in light matte jersey. Lingerie, sportswear and designers' fashions offered cool things for summer-lots of cottons and floral prints.

Wrought iron outdoor furniture featured table settings for dining al fresco. Games to play included badminton, tether ball and volley ball.

editorial opinion

There's no excuse for board rudeness

The Plymouth Board of Education is generally quite open, as school boards go, in its deliberations and dissemination to the public. But the board fell flat on its face at its last meeting.

The meeting was delayed a few minutes while trustees met in a secret meeting from which the public was barred to discuss "personnel matters." But the delay wasn't too long, and the meeting began, and continued, and continued, and continued — and was continuing until 11:50 p.m. when the board president called for an "executive" session.

Those in attendance for 3½ hours had to wait 10 minutes for the board while it interrupted its "public" meeting to conduct a second secret session in one night — this time to discuss "procedural questions related to personnel matters."

THERE IS honest disagreement about what items legislators have a right to discuss in secret and what business must or should be conducted in the open.

School board members, city commissioners and township trustees will usually list a half-dozen items rightfully discussed in secret meetings — "personnel" matters, site acquisition, labor negotiations.

The last week in June, a bill was introduced in the Michigan Legislature which would prohibit all state or local government units from holding any meetings in secret.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor), is co-sponsored by more than 40 other state representatives from both parties, an indication that there are at least 41 non-journalists who feel public business is best conducted before the public.

Bullard's bill is based on Florida's "Sunshine Act" which requires open meetings without exception. New Mexico has also passed similar legislation during its last session. The subject has been kicked around in Lansing for the past few years and, someday, a bill will pass.

UNTIL THEN, the Plymouth Board of Education has some legal latitude to conduct public business in secret meetings.

But members should not grant themselves the latitude of interrupting a public meeting to hold a secret session. To stop a meeting, and reassemble behind closed doors, is just plain rude. Good manners dictate that this not be done.

Because it was done, members of the audience not only had to wait until midnight for the meeting to reconvene again but never knew the problem.

Was the secret meeting called because the board was concerned about one or more of the teachers on the list to be approved for hiring? Was the board unhappy because of nepotism, administrative politics, or sloppy screening of applicants? Or was the board meddling in administrative business?

Maybe none of these questions has relevance, but we will never know because the only reason given for recessing the meeting was "to discuss personnel matters."

Whatever the reason, it is hoped the school board in the future will exhibit enough empathy towards the audience — and concern for residents — that it will refrain from recessing a public meeting for secret talks.

The Stroller

Fascinating rivers

By W. W. EDGAR

Ever since childhood, rivers have held a strange fascination for The Stroller.

As a youth, back home in Pennsylvania, he'd stand for hours on the old Pine Street bridge peering down at the rippling Lehigh River as it wound its way toward the Delaware and then on into the sea.

In the years that followed, Dame Fortune has smiled on him, and The Stroller has had the privilege of standing on the banks of many of the world's greatest rivers, each of them leaving a lasting memory.

SO, IT WASN'T just happenstance that he was on the shore of the St. Clair River just at dusk the other evening taking in one of the most interesting of all sights.

The golden summer sun was fast sinking, and the native fishermen who watch such things were coming down to the river in the hope of landing a few of the famed St. Clair River pickerel for the next day's meal. Just a short distance away, one could see the Blue Water Bridge arching skyward, and this great example of modern engineering skill is a sight to behold at dusk.

Across the river, two monster freighters were unloading coal and oil at Sarnia refineries, and out in the middle of the stream were two sailboats with their multi-colored sails gliding along to complete a most fascinating sight at the close of a hot day.

"YOU WON'T SEE ANYTHING like this any other place in the world," one of the group confided. "Just imagine, we're sitting here looking into a foreign country, within the shadows of a mighty bridge, while two lake freighters are unloading their cargo, another from a foreign country gliding by, while the fishermen down there on the bank are using the old fashioned bamboo poles. Talk about contrasts. This is a full measure of them, and only a few miles from home."

This set The Stroller to thinking of the many other river scenes he has enjoyed on other vacations around the world.

He recalls very vividly standing on the banks of the Thames River in London, just outside Westminster Abbey, and looking across to the famed British Parliament buildings and "Big Ben." He was still fascinated by what he saw in the Abbey and the Parliament buildings left more of an impression than the famed Thames—though The Stroller is grateful for the opportunity of seeing it.

Then, on the same vacation, was the ride up the Rhine River in Germany. There the freighters seemed to ride too low and the scenery was mainly old castles high on the banks. Many of them possibly had interesting histories, but the Rhine itself lacked much of the beauty The Stroller had expected.

It was the same with the Seine River in Paris. It was a Sunday morning when we arrived at the overpass to get a good look at the famous Notre Dame cathedral. It was a fine sight—the cathedral—but the river banks were strewn with litter from the many nights before, and the only memory of the Seine is that it is a dirty old river.

Some years ago we came to the Mississippi and another surprise. Instead of a fine sparkling river, we found it a muddy stream a mile wide and not one where a fellow would sit by the hour to watch its movements.

FURTHER WEST WE came to the Colorado River, and what a sight that is as it cuts through the Grand Canyon! But each time, as we return from these river visits, our thoughts go back to the St. Clair River where there is a combination of beauty and action that can't be beaten.

The Stroller has many fond memories of this stream that separates United States from Canada. It was on this smooth surface that he enjoyed one of the greatest thrills of his life—the ride with Gar Wood—to set a world record of 124.85 miles an hour on water in the famed Miss America X.

It was here, too, that he went fishing with a group in the wee hours one morning and got lost in a fog. With foghorns on lake freighters blasting away, it was a moment that never will be forgotten.

And there was another morning when he went fishing with two native sons who promised him some "good fishing," and all he snagged with his hook was an old rusty lantern.

Oh yes, there are a lot of fine rivers around the globe, but when it comes to sheer beauty, action and fond memories, there's none to beat the St. Clair River—and one doesn't have to travel half-way around the world to enjoy it. It is only 60 miles from home.

Company president is a good scout

BY SHERRY KAHAN

When Michele Austin of Livonia learned that her Girl Scout troop was in desperate need of a leader, she went to her father for help, asking him to take the job.

Busy as president of Contamination Control Laboratories, Inc. of Livonia, Dr. Philip Austin nonetheless said, "Why not." After all he had been in Boy Scouts for years.

"I didn't want to see the girls not get any scouting," said Dr. Austin. "So we combined two troops into Troop 191 and began to meet in John F. Kennedy School. I had two helpful co-leaders, Mrs. Mary Romig, and when she left, Mrs. Judy Gabel."

Dr. Austin found he enjoyed the experience. "The girls were loyal and happy. It didn't make a difference to them who was their leader."

ONLY ONE PROBLEM arose because their chief was a man.

"We couldn't go camping because I'm not a female," he said. "The rules are that there be no male personnel at the three area Girl Scout campsites."

"It was a most unusual situation. We went instead on daytime camping trips to Kensington Park where we hiked. But it was sad because camping is what the girls look forward to all year."

Dr. Austin wasted little time regretting the problem, however. He did his best to make up for it by teaching the girls crafts he had learned in the Boy Scouts.

"I taught them how to improvise utensils and cooking apparatus out of coat hangers and natural materials," he pointed out. "Instead of relying only on a fire to make bread, we used heated rocks and a special type of solar oven using aluminum foil."

DR. AUSTIN ALSO added a new wrinkle to the traditional bike safety program.

"We got down and inspected the bike to see how it functions," he said. "Some brought wrenches and other tools and all of a sudden, found they could handle tools. My daughter is out now taking a wheel off."

Troop 191 also had a discussion of astronomy led by an expert who had earned his Ph.D. in astronautics and aeronautics. Their leader's firm sterilized items that were placed on the moon by the astronauts, and a subsidiary of his company, Space Colonization Inc., is now involved in a 30-year project utilizing space technology to place a physical colony on the moon some day.

Dr. Austin does not, however, look to fathers as a solution to leader shortage in the Girl Scouts.

"I tried it once and I did it," he observed. "But I think it is better for the Girl Scouts to be led by a mother. She knows better the wishes of the girls."

Despite budget limitations

U-M Dearborn pledges ongoing affirmative action

Affirmative action—the effort to include qualified minorities and women candidates for all appointments—continues to be the byword on the campus of the University of Michigan-Dearborn despite budgetary limitations.

Dr. Eugene Arden, provost and dean of academic affairs, made that clear in a recent memorandum to deans, department chairmen and faculty search committees.

A continued search for representatives of all sections of society is required by law, he said, and added that he considers it particularly necessary for a school such as U-M-D seeking "an urban orientation."

"We should be particularly eager to appoint faculty and staff people who are of diverse backgrounds and orientations if we are to justifiably call ourselves an urban campus."

ARDEN POINTED OUT that "universities, including our own, have traditionally sought persons with earned credentials and demonstrable abilities."

"There is no reason why this should change. It is not necessary for the campus to hire unqualified persons to demonstrate a commitment to affirmative action."

However, he said, new methods for recruiting faculty and staff now are eliminating overt discrimination against qualified minorities and women.

"Gone are the days when the 'old school tie' determined who gets the new appointments," his memorandum went on. "Now it is mandatory that all positions be posted within the university, that announcements are placed in national and professional journals and that efforts are made to contact women and minorities through special publications."

ARDEN CALLED attention to a recent policy statement by Peter E. Holmes, director of the office of civil rights of the U.S. Department of Health Education and Welfare (HEW).

This statement said affirmative action programs "do not require that job requirements be waived or lowered in order to attract women or minority candidates, and that once valid job requirements are established, they must be applied equally to all candidates."

Figures compiled by the university affirmative action office show the percentage of faculty women at U-M-Dearborn increased from 15.6 per cent of the total faculty for the academic year 1972-73 to 20 per cent for 1973-74.

During the same period, the number of women on the professional administrative staff went up from 36.2 per cent to 37.5 per cent. Minority members comprised 7.5 per cent of the faculty for 1973-74 and six per cent of the professional and administrative staff.

Festive Ukranian bread star of party

A huge loaf of sweet bread, the traditional fair of wedding feasts in the Ukraine, surprised Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hubchik when they celebrated their 23rd anniversary recently.

The bread, called Korovay, was baked by a friend of Olga Hubchik's mother especially for the party given by Mrs. Jean Fitzsimmons of Livonia, Mrs. Hubchik's sister.

It was covered with roses, all fashioned of dough, and intertwined with myrtle. That's the traditional way to serve the bread, explained Oreste Karalash, Mrs. Fitzsimmons' neighbor who is in charge of a Ukrainian program on FM radio.

The roses, she said, are symbols of love and the myrtle is the vine traditionally used in the wreath held over the heads of the bridal couple.

Candles usually are placed on either side of the wedding bread, Mrs. Karalash said.

O&E All-Area girl's track performers

Only one senior on O&E squad

Youth marks All-Area girl's track team

"Youth now flees on feathered foot."

Robert Louis Stevenson wasn't really describing the 1975 Observer & Eccentric All-Area girls track team when he said that, but the theme is applicable to this year's squad.

Two freshmen, two sophomores, four juniors and only one senior make up the individual event team, which is as young, and as fleet, as any in memory.

The team includes such speedsters as Karen McDougal of Westland John Glenn and Lisa Bowman of Livonia Bentley. Middle distance runners are Salem all-around standout Jackie Croci in the 440 and Pam Beernink of Livonia Bentley in the 800.

First-team distance runners are freshman Sue Jarvis of Livonia Ladywood in the mile and Diane Lozon of Redford Union in the two mile.

Ann Cwik, another freshman with a tremendous potential, took first-team berths in both the hurdles and the long jump, while Carolyn Booth of Stevenson and Kyle Gray of Livonia Churchill round out the field events with first-team postings in the high jump and shot put, respectively.

First-team relay teams were Bishop Borgess (mile), Livonia Stevenson (440) and Plymouth Salem (800).

McDougal took four firsts in every dual meet but one for the Rockets and had an area best time of 11.5 seconds in the 100 yard dash. Only a junior, she probably will specialize in the 440 yard event next season.

BENTLEY'S BOWMAN, one of two Bulldogs on the squad, ran in relay events as well as her specialty, the 220 yard dash for Bentley. Her top area time in the event was 26.1.

Salem's Jackie Croci, the only senior on this year's team, took third place in the 440 yard dash in this year's Class A final meet after placing second in the meet last year. With a 57.9 top clocking, she was undefeated at that distance in dual meet competition. She holds the school record for 440 yards.

Pam Beernink rounds out Bentley's contribution to the team. The fleet junior ran at several distances this year but was at home at 800 yards. She was the area best at that distance by nearly five seconds, with a top time of 2:21.2.

Sue Jarvis was a super runner for Ladywood this year who will keep getting better as her high school career blooms. Only a freshman, she was nearly unbeatable in the mile run this year, where she posted an area best of 5:27.7.

Redford Union's Diane Lozon was unbeaten in 10 meets at two miles. She finished 13th in the state and led the Panthers to a perfect dual meet record. She ran her best time at the distance in RU's final dual meet against Southfield-Lathrup, with a 12:52.4 clocking.

Cwik has all the credentials to be a state champion as early as next year. In the course of the next three years, it is virtually assured that she can be among the state's best in several events. Although the freshman had never run competitively before this year, she took sixth in the state in the long jump, fifth in the hurdles and anchored the Spartan mile relay team to a fifth-place finish.

Her area's best were 17.3 in the long jump and 15.3 in the hurdles.

Carolyn Booth took area honors in the high jump with a top jump of 5-1. Her teammate at Livonia Stevenson had a dual meet area high of 5-2, but Booth's superior performance in the state meet gives her the edge.

Sophomore Kyle Gray of Livonia Churchill will be shooting at the 40-foot mark next year in the shot put. She posted an 8-1 dual meet record this season and set league and regional marks. Her best put this year was 37-11.

All star games slated this week in Livonia

By TOM SCHRAM
Sports Editor

The best and brightest of area baseball stars will shine this week as Livonia's Ford Field will be the site of two all-star games involving some of the top high school and college-aged players in the state.

While plans and details of the July 3 Livonia Berry League All-Star game versus the downriver American Legion all stars were still in formulation last weekend, the Livonia Adray League July 4 contest was set.

That Adray team will play Adray all-stars from Detroit in an annual game that will have professional and college scouts out in force.

Both games will be nine-inning affairs and will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the field located just west of Farmington Rd. and just north of Schoolcraft in Livonia.

BOB ATKINS, who coaches the perennial league champion Redford Adray team, will pilot the 26-man Livonia League team which has split four previous contests with the Detroit team.

"I think this is the hotbed of amateur baseball in the state, and we have comparable talent for a game like this," said Atkins.

Atkins indicated that he will play everyone from the team with each starter going a minimum of three innings and each pitcher throwing a maximum of two innings.

"My philosophy in an all-star game is that if you are picked to the team you are picked to play, not to watch. I would like to win the game and we're going to play the win the game, but not at the cost of my philosophy," said Atkins.

The Livonia League team lost to Detroit last year in a game played at Tiger Stadium and will be looking to break ahead in a series deadlocked 2-2.

Here's a roster of the Livonia Adray League all-stars. Further game details and rundowns on individual players will appear in this Thursday's Observer & Eccentric sports section.

PITCHERS: Kevin Bara, Redford;

Bill Stennett, Royal Oak; Kevin Smith, Royal Oak; Jamie Knapp, Livonia Griffin; Mark Falvo, Plymouth Bidwell; Tom Willette, Plymouth Bidwell; Warren Wallis, Livonia Griffin.

CATCHERS: John Broder, Redford Adray; Venius Jordan, Livonia Griffin.

FIRST BASE: Ron Paulos, Garden City Sporting Goods; Mark Yourchock, Redford Adray.

SECOND BASE: Kieth Randazzo, Plymouth Bidwell; Bob Hamilton, Royal Oak.

THIRD BASE: Pat Simpson, Royal Oak; Bob Ganzak, Westland Burger King.

SHORTSTOP: Gary D'Ascenzo, Redford Adray; B.J. LaJole, Livonia Griffin.

OUTFIELD: Ken Robinson, Westland Burger King; John Roy, Redford Adray; Mike Cullen, Royal Oak; Chris Martucci, Plymouth Bidwell; Jeff Hodgkins, Westland Burger King.

In The Pocket

By W.W. EDGAR

The Women's State tournament that closed its long run in Lansing Sunday night has added some more fuel to the fire of resentment for the present handicap system used in many of the major competitions.

The latest complaint came with the showing of the Gene and Joe team that took over first place in the team event with a count of 3212.

The size of the score was enough to cause some eye lifting, but this turned to real criticism when it was learned the team was given a 'spot' of 846 pins. That's more than the team could bowl in a single game by actual count.

What chance does a regular classic team, or the leaders in many of our regular leagues have against this kind of a system? Not much.

There was a time when the women were given 80 per cent of the difference between their average and 200. Now the limit is being boosted.

INCREASING THE handicaps several years ago was done to entice more teams into the tournaments. It was said then that the "little" teams had no chance against the more experienced.

Now the tide is turning. The higher average bowlers are threatening to stay away because of the large "spots" given under the system.

The Gene and Joe team was not the only beneficiary of the generous handicaps in the state tournament. A Lansing team, Lee's Quick Shop, was given 816 pins and wound up in fifth place with 3150.

It also has been reported that one of the teams in the city wide handicap tournament being held at Town and Country Lanes refused to take to the lanes when informed that the team with than 1100 pins.

Up to now the generous handicaps may have served a good purpose. But it is about time that a change was made or it will be a case of killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

NOT MUCH WAS SAID at the time, but when Geraldine Beattie won the singles championship in the recent women's city tournament she became part of what could be one of the strongest doubles teams in the area.

She is the wife of Dick Beattie, one of the area's leading left handers, and she too, is a southpaw. So, this combination should bear watching in the future.

MIKE CHAPMAN didn't do any fooling around in his appearance last week in the Trio Classic at Westland Bowl.

He put together games of 242, 166, and high marks for the league. His 242 single and the 685 are both the best of the summer season.

Incidentally, young David Poshka, son of Midge Poshka, the day manager at Westland Bowl, is doing quite well this summer. In his last outing he had a 232 in a 644 series.

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED in such things a fellow named Dick Dewey, has just set a new marathon bowling record in Omaha, Neb. He recently bowled 1,472 games over a period of 114½ hours-- and he did it all for charity. The proceeds of the exhibition went to the Omaha zoo.

Snyder holds Major Metro lead

Behind a balanced hitting attack, Snyder's Softball Club of Redford swept a doubleheader from PUSH of Detroit last week to retain its one-game lead in the West Division of the Major Metro Travel League.

Snyder's won the opener in convincing fashion, 21-2, then took the second game, 14-8.

Dave Rhodes and John Hinds paced the first-game romp. Rhodes hit two homers and batted home six runs while Hinds went 4-for-4, including a home run, and accounted for four RBI.

In the nightcap, Doug Gerdes and Larry Elkins each blasted home runs and batted in four runs. Gerdes went 5-for-5 and Elkins 4-for-4. Tom Louria also was 4-for-4 for Snyder's with three RBI.

The twin victories boosted Snyder's league mark to 21-3, one game ahead of Little Caesar's of Southgate which also won twice last week. The two teams will be matched in a showdown doubleheader Tuesday night at Kennedy Field, Little Caesar's home park in Southgate. Starting time for the first game is 7:45 p.m.

Golf benefit termed success

The third annual Celebrity Golf Classic at Great Oaks Country Club in Rochester was again a success. The outing was to benefit American Leukemia Stricken American Children's (ALSAC) St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis Tennessee; and it did, in fine fashion.

The celebrity tournament brought in more than $20,000.

Tee times started at 7:30 a.m., with Dan Henderson of WXYZ-TV leading his foursome through the 6,900 yard, par 71 course.

The two foursomes finishing play Tuesday were led by Bud Lezell, better known as Mr. Belvedere, and Larry Thompson also known as "Mr. Whodini."

"The whole day was perfect. We exceeded our goal of $20,000; we saw fine golf-- and we even finished before the rains came down," said course pro and Managing Director James R. Dewling.

"Smooth," was the way Mike Bergsma, assistant pro at Great Oaks, summed up the day's activities.

Some of the celebrities involved in the tournament were Channel 2 sports director Ray Lane, ABC's Dave Diles and Bill Bonds, former Tigers Earl Wilson and "Prince Hal" Newhouse.

Numerous other radio, television and sports celebrities populated the course during the day's events.

Trophies were given to the top 10 teams finishing with the lowest scores while participating in the Texas Scramble, a format that allows all members of a foursome to hit each shot from the best possible lie achieved by any player in the group.

Honorary chairman WJR radio personality Marc Avery helped his foursome to 10-under-par 61.

Redford sweeps Adray pair, gets back in race

Redford Adray swept a pair of games last week to pull itself out of the Adray League cellar and even its record at 5-5.

"We finally put some things together. Our goal is not any particular position in the standings but to make the playoffs," said Redford coach Bob Atkins.

Four teams in the six-team loop advance to the playoffs with the winner advancing to national Adray competition.

Redford started the week with a 5-1 triumph over Livonia Griffin.

Bob Lewandowski went the distance to take the win in his first start of the year. Lewandowski, a control pitcher, yielded only five hits while striking out one and walking two. With the exception of the five hits, no ball left the infield for Griffin.

The Livonia team jumped to a 1-0 lead in the top of the first when Mike Wilson singled and came home on Venius Jordan's long double to right-center field.

Redford got that one back in the bottom of the inning when John Roy and Kevin Bara smacked back-to-back doubles.

Redford took the lead in the third without hitting a ball hard. Bob Cross started with an infield single and was sacrificed to second. After a walk, Cross advanced to third on a fielder's choice and came home on Gary D'Ascenzo's infield safety.

Redford tallied again in the fourth on Dan Burke's single and Bob Waslewski's triple and added two more in a two-out fifth inning rally.

In the fifth, D'Ascenzo singled and catcher John Broder homered to deep centerfield. That shot sent loser Jamie Knapp to the showers and Dave Panzoff came on to put out the fire for Griffin.

Redford won a 2-1 squeaker from Garden City Sporting Goods Thursday, as Kevin Bara came on in the seventh in relief of John Bolland to record the victory.

Garden City opened the scoring in the top of the first when Joe Besczko singled, went to second on a wild pitch, advanced to third on an infield out and scored on a wild pitch.

Redford evened the score in the bottom of the first on singles by John Roy and Gary D'Ascenzo and two walks.

Garden City threatened in the third when Paul Jengle singled to lead off and also put a man on second with two outs in the sixth. But Bolland bore down both times to get out of trouble.

When Bolland walked Jengle to start the seventh Atkins brought on his ace Kevin Bara, and Bara set down the side without problem.

Redford won the game in the bottom of the seventh. Yourchok singled to lead off and D'Ascenzo sacrificed him to second. Bob Wasilewski then doubled to center to end things.

Eight new records set in Metro West meet

Eight meet records were set in the Metro-West Track Club's meet held at Garden City East High School last Wednesday.

Dave Lipinski, of the Warren Track Club, pole-vaulted 15' 8" in the meet's only field event. Brian Murphy of the Metro-West took third, vaulting 12' 6".

John Dawe, from Ferris State College, won the 800 in a record 1:55.5, chopping six seconds off the old record. Dawe also finished second in the mile run with a time of 4:22. Bill Stewart of the Ann Arbor Track Club won the mile with a record time of 4:15.2.

Doug Sweazy, of the Metro-West was third in 4:35.4. Sue Jarvis, from Livonia, won the women's mile in a strong 5:32.7.

Inkster's Russell Bailey nipped

Oscar Suddarth by a tenth of a second in the 220 yard dash. Bailey ran 22 seconds flat. Cathy Anderson won the women's division of the 220 in 29.5 seconds. Cindy Mellas of Garden City East took second with 29.3.

The Motor City Track Club's foursome of Kim Watts, Robin Collins, Ina Cooper, and Cheryl Gilliam won the women's 800 yard relay with the meet record time of 1:46.7. Motor City also won the men's 800 yard relay with 1:32.5. The members of the winning team were Charles Miles, Leonard Terry, Jose Sadler and Oscar Suddarth.

Michigan State graduates took the first two places in the 120 yard high hurdles. John Morrison won with a time of 14.1 seconds, and Dave Martin was second in 14.5.

Open gym program set in Livonia

The Livonia Parks and Recreation Department and Livonia School District have initiated an open-gym program to provide a recreational outlet for youths and adults.

Gyms at Churchill and Stevenson High School are open two nights each during the week providing such supervised recreation as basketball, volleyball, paddleball and trampolines.

"The idea of the program is to make those facilities open during the summer months to kids and adults who might not have them otherwise available," said Fred Price who supervises both gymnasiums for Livonia schools.

In addition to Price, four college-aged supervisors are on hand to assist the programs.

"We're going to try this out and see what the response is. We have a wait and see attitude and right now it looks as if interest is picking up although we haven't done anything to publicize it," Price said.

Admission to the gymnasiums is $.50. Stevenson, which is located on Six Mile, just west of Farmington, is open on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 p.m.

Churchill, located on Newburgh Road at Joy is open during the same hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

"They've had this kind of a program before during the school year but this is a first during the summer.

If it goes well, we'll keep it up," Price said.

Auto tips

Mileage means money

By PATRICK KELLY

Are you in the market for a 1975 automobile? Before you buy, the Federal Energy Administration suggests you compare the various models you are considering in terms of the gas mileage you can expect to receive.

With the increasing price of gasoline, a car with good fuel economy can save its owner several thousand dollars over its useful life period.

To help prospective buyers choose a new car, the Federal Energy Administration, in cooperation with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, has published results of fuel economy tests in a booklet entitled, "1975 Gas Mileage Guide for New Car Buyers."

THE GUIDE lists estimated city and highway miles per gallon ratings for all new cars and light-duty trucks that meet 1975 emission standards and are certified for sale in the United States as of Sept. 15, 1974.

Each vehicle's engine size, number of cylinders and type of fuel system are described. In addition, particular models equipped with catalytic converters are identified.

Steering wheels may get big pad

Before the end of this year, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration is likely to move to rewrite the standard automakers use to design car steering assemblies.

A "larger padded hub to spread the impact load over a larger area of the chest" may be required, says agency head James Gregory.

The arm of the Department of Transportation first set safety standards for steering wheels and the columns to which they are attached for cars sold in the U.S. after Jan. 1, 1968.

Those standards require that the steering assembly be able to absorb the impact of a driver being thrown into them in the instant after an accident; earlier, rigid, columns often pierced a driver's chest.

But recent research indicates that the laboratory conditions under which testing is now done do not really reflect what happens in an actual highway accident.

The coming move to enlarge the contact area in the middle of the steering wheel is one Washington reaction to those results. Another likely change in the standard would make it more clear that the steering mechanism has to be aligned with the way a driver would actually hit it in case of a crash.

While these ratings can help a buyer select a car with good fuel economy, FEA noted that an individual driver will not necessarily attain the identical gas mileage as the test results. Many factors affect the fuel economy of each car, including:

- Individual driving habits. Frequent starts and stops, long periods of idling, and uneven speeds decrease the number of miles per gallon.
- Accessories such as air conditioning and automatic transmission. These use more gasoline and increase the car's weight.
- The condition of the engine. Keeping the engine tuned will help get the best fuel economy and performance for one's type of driving.

If you desire to obtain a copy of the "1975 Mileage Guide" write to: Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

NOTE: Cars intended for sale in California are listed in a separate edition. Buyers should specify the California edition if they are buying a car in that state.

If you want to get multiple copies of the guide, write to: Federal Energy Administration, Room 222B, Communications and Public Affairs, Old Post Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20461, Attention: George Young.

For motorists who want to compare performance levels on brakes, tire reserve load, and acceleration and passing ability for 1975 model passenger cars and motorcycles, the U.S. Department of Transportation has published three consumer booklets that contain this information.

Compiled by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), the booklets are designed to help prospective buyers in comparing certain safety features among the models they may wish to purchase. Data are based on information furnished by domestic and foreign manufacturers.

Braking performance information is based on the distance in feet required to bring the vehicle to a full stop from a speed of 60 miles per hour.

Best and worst performance involving all 1975 car models range from 164 to 250 feet. Comparable figures for motorcycles range from 130 to 210 feet.

Tire reserve load is a measurement of the safe carrying capacity of a vehicle's tires beyond the full passenger loading. Comparison figures are given as a percentage of the fully loaded vehicle's weight. Figures rank from a best performance of 26 per cent to zero per cent.

Acceleration and passing ability is characterized by the time in seconds and the distance in feet required to pass a 55-foot-long truck that is moving at 50 miles per hour.

All three publications are available from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. The volume covering brakes costs $1.10, the tire volume is $1.20, and the acceleration and passing volume is $1.35.

HAVE A SAFE SUMMER!!!

DROWNING accidents are the fourth leading cause of accidental death in the United States. Swimming, sailing, canoeing, and other water activities are great fun, but it's a fact that most water-related accidents occur during recreational pastimes. Here's some tips, for safety's sake!

- SWIMMING SAFETY
- (1) Be extra careful in unfamiliar swimming areas, since they may have strong currents, deep holes, debris, and other hazards. Beware of diving into strange waters.
  - (2) Never leave a small child alone near water, even for a few seconds. Teach children to swim at an early age.
  - (3) Swimming alone is dangerous; someone should be available in case of an emergency. Learning artificial respiration, first aid and basic rescues is worth the effort.
  - (4) Do not swim right after eating, or when overheated or overtired.
  - (5) Pushing, ducking or holding someone's head under water should be avoided.
  - (6) Do not let children use tires or inflated toys to float in deep water. Approved life saving devices should be worn by young non-swimmers when near water.

- BOATING SAFETY
- (1) Learn the nautical rules of the road. Be courteous and remember your wake can hurt others.
  - (2) Keep a Coast Guard approved personal flotation device for each person on board your boat. In small boats, children and weak swimmers should wear the flotation device at all times.
  - (3) Don't overload your boat. Follow the boats capacity rating. If you are using an outboard motor, match the motor to the boat.
  - (4) If your small boat or canoe upsets, it usually floats. Hold on to it for support. And, whenever you are boating leave word with someone on your destination and when you will return.

Here's the best friend your doorway ever had. Thousands of tiny blades of grass that clean themselves at just the squirt of a hose. No soaping or scrubbing needed. Long lasting, too-resistant fading, mildew, rot and skidding, because of its bonded, non-skid backing. Really dresses up your doorway, while it works hard to make your work easier.
