Dodge, McAninch tops in city commission race

By EMORY DANIELS

A large turnout went to the polls Tuesday and elected Scott Dodge. Beverly McAninch, Thomas Turner and Mary Childs to the Plymouth City Commission.

Some 1,688 residents—27.4 per cent of those registered to vote—cast ballots Tuesday in a large turnout for a non-presidential election. Twice as many residents voted Tuesday as in last August's primary.

THE SAME candidates placed in the top five Tuesday as in the primary, except their order of finish changed.

Although the vote is unofficial, the vote difference between contenders isn't a wide enough gap to change the results when the tally is made official by the board of canvassers.

The order of finish for the winners was: Dodge, 1,238; McAninch, 1,170; Turner, 1,036; and Childs, 916. Mrs. Childs will receive a two-year term on the commission and the top three will get four-year terms.

The commission will be sworn-in at Monday's meeting, Nov. 10, when a mayor will be chosen. The old commission will meet first to approve the minutes of the last meeting, and the new commissioners will then be sworn-in and will hold the organizational meeting.

DODGE LED in all precincts except Precinct 5—the northwest section of the city—where McAninch led, Dodge second, Childs third, and Turner fourth.

McAninch ran third in Precinct 3—northeast and north central—and ran second in Precincts 1, 2 and 3. Turner ran second in Precinct 4—southwest part of city—third in Precinct 3, 5, and fourth in Precincts 1, 2.

Childs performance was a reverse showing of Turner's as she placed third in Precincts 1, 2 and fourth in Precincts 3, 4, 5.

The 111 residents who cast absentee ballots gave their votes to the four who won citywide.

Al "Tex" Thoman, who placed fifth citywide, also placed fifth in each precinct including absentee voters except for Precinct 1 where David Pugh placed fifth.

Thoman, who placed 64 votes behind Turner in the primary, ran 236 votes behind Childs in the final contest. John Cummings placed sixth in both the primary and general election in spite of picking up 208 more votes Tuesday than in August.

Pugh improved his August showing by moving up from an eighth ranking to seventh with 308 votes Tuesday. Les Howes faced disappointment by dropping from seventh to eighth with 256 votes Tuesday. Cummings in sixth place had 364 votes.

OF THE FOUR winners, only McAninch is an incumbent. The other incumbent seeking re-election was Cummings.

Newcomers Dodge, Turner and Childs will join incumbents McAninch, Norb Batterman, Jack Mohle, and Joe Bida on the commission. This is believed to be the first time in Plymouth history that two women have served on the same commission.

Childs moves up to the commission from the planning commission which leaves a vacancy on that city agency. This is the second governmental position for Turner who had been appointed to the Plymouth Board of Education. For Dodge, this is his first governmental position.

The good weather Tuesday was enough to encourage more residents to go to the polls but the larger turnout didn't affect the results as some contenders felt it would. Cummings and Howes had hoped to improve their positions with a larger turnout but incumbent Cummings remained in sixth and Howes lost ground.

The only possible effect the larger turnout had on the four winners would be that Turner moved up to third to earn the four-year term with Childs dropping to fourth.

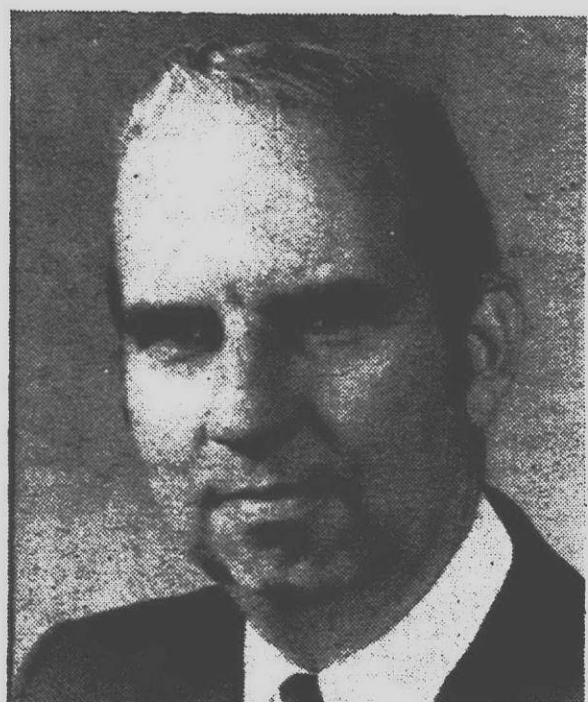

Also having little effect on the final outcome was the slate advertising effort of Childs, Dodge, Thoman and Turner as McAninch placed second in August and November.

Musical present given to symphony

Plymouth Symphony Society members recently received an unexpected bicentennial gift through the mail. The package, a gift of the JCPenney Co., contains "The Bicentennial Musical Celebration" with scores and parts for 35 orchestral, band and choral works.

Among five specially commissioned pieces are compositions by Roger Nixon, Norman Dello Joio and Adolphus C. Hailstork III. Historic works include a full arrangement of "The Battle of Trenton," composed by James Hewitt in 1792, and a Sousa march.

Floyd A. Kehrl, banker, dies

Funeral services for Floyd A. Kehrl, Plymouth banker and friend of Schoolcraft College, will be at 11 a.m. Friday in the First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth, the Rev. Phillip Rogers Magee officiating. Entombment will be in Riverside Mausoleum.

Friends may call at Schrader Funeral Home, Plymouth, today from 2-5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m.

Kehrl, 72, died Tuesday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, of heart failure during surgery.

FLOYD A. KEHRL

Kehrl was active in support of Schoolcraft College during its formative years. He and his late first wife, Shirley, contributed the carillon tower and chiming bells that are a landmark on the college's Haggerty Road campus.

The college awarded him an honorary associate of applied science degree in 1972. He later was appointed to fill a six-month term on the college board.

Born on a turkey farm in Livonia, Kehrl graduated from Plymouth High School, briefly attended the University of Michigan and embarked on a banking career that lasted 47 years. He rose from teller to president of the old First National Bank in Plymouth. When it merged with National Bank of Detroit in 1952, he became a regional vice-president for NBD. He retired in 1968.

Kehrl served on the board of directors of Adistra Corp., Plymouth. He and his second wife, Marian, lived at 41525 Eight Mile, Northville.

Surviving besides his wife, Mariari, are a brother, the Rev. Arnold Kehrl, and two step-children, Lucinda Johnston of Plymouth and Jeffrey Johnston of Northville.

Energy saving group under way

Effective energy conservation means a coordinated program, agree members of the Plymouth Community School District energy conservation committee.

That agreement was reached at the committee's first meeting when administrators, custodians and a school board member met with Dr. Charles Wells of the Wayne County Intermediate School District to plan for savings in energy consumption and spendings.

THE FIRST STEP is to define energy saving measures.

It was noted, for example, that it is worthwhile to turn off fluorescent lights for a 15 minute or longer period, while it saves electricity to turn off regular lights for any amount of time.

Electricity is also conserved by using low wattage bulbs, turning on power gradually instead of all at once, and removing bulbs from some light fixtures.

In considering moves to save energy, the committee had to take into account other factors. Reducing exterior lighting could cause an increase in vandalism. Insulating roofs might save enough to effect a long-term saving. Investing in an automated monitoring system could pay off in relatively few years.

AFTER ENERGY conservation measures have been defined, the next step is to publicize them.

Reference was made to the energy cutback letter from Supt. John M. Hoben sent to all schools on Nov. 13, 1973. Brochures, posters, stickers by light switches, and a slide presentation were suggested as ways to make persons aware of the campaign.

Monitoring energy use was listed as the third step. Energy consumption charts for each building could be maintained, compensating for weather conditions.

Wider participation on the energy conservation committee, including cafeteria and transportation personnel and students, could help keep track of conservation measures.

Four committee members will attend a conference on energy conservation sponsored by Detroit Edison for the Wayne County Intermediate School District on Nov. 20.

A report will be made on the conference at the committee's next meeting Tuesday, Nov. 25, at 9:30 a.m. in the PCSD Administration Building, 454 S. Harvey in Plymouth.

West's 'music man' isn't fiddlin' around

Garden City West High School student Scott Woolweaver is a classical musician of real promise. That promise recently gained him a full tuition scholarship to the University of Michigan from the nationally famous Interlochen Arts Academy here in Michigan.

That scholarship may be portent of a successful career in music for the young violist (a viola is a string instrument slightly larger than a violin), but Woolweaver already has a substantial number of career credits to his name.

He has played for seven years as a member of the Garden City Orchestra, for six as a member of the Livonia Youth Symphony, and for varying numbers of years as a member of the Performing Arts Ensemble, the Schoolcraft College Summer Music Program, the Plymouth Symphony, the Westland Civic Symphony, the Michigan Youth Symphony, the Cantata Academy Orchestra, the Detroit Concert Choir Orchestra, and the Dearborn Summer Symphony.

As if that were not sufficient, Woolweaver has also played with such prestigious groups as the Windsor Symphony, the Detroit Chamber Orchestra, the Oakway Symphony, the Mount Clemens Symphony and the Schola Cantorum Orchestra.

Thus far in 1975 he has performed in 79 concerts in such far-flung places as Florida, Chicago and Canada, in addition to appearances around the State of Michigan.

Woolweaver began his musical career in the fourth grade. Retired music teacher Doug Marsh (who began the concert band program in the Garden City schools and was the program's guiding light until his retirement last June) interested Woolweaver in the string orchestra and kept him going.

At the beginning of each year, that program's coordinators bring their young musicians from school to school demonstrating the string instruments in hopes of recruiting youngsters into the program. "When they came around," he said, "they said they needed viola players." That was the beginning of what may well be a life's work for Woolweaver.

Woolweaver also credits two of his teachers, Jean Braun of Plymouth, and Professor Francis Bundra of the University of Michigan, with much of the responsibility for his skill and ambition. He would like, he says, to play with a symphony orchestra or a string quartet on leaving college.

Until he matriculates at U-M next year, however, Woolweaver still has innumerable things he wants to do. He has joined the West High choir, and has been doing some conducting of that group. He is also working with the school's drama group, and has many more concerts to play this year. Then, there is music camp again next summer. "Musician," writes the poet, "Ye have many strings to your bow."

McKendry promoted

William J. McKendry of Plymouth has been promoted to assistant vice president in National Bank of Detroit's regional banking division.

McKendry has been an NBD employee for 22 years. He began as a teller, moved to branch manager and later to operations manager for several NBD branches in the metro-west area.

As a commercial loan officer, he serves business loan accounts.

Principals flip coin for graduation dates

A toss of a coin will decide graduation dates for the Classes of '76 at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools.

The Plymouth Board of Education approved dates of Thursday, June 10, and Friday, June 11, for commencement exercises for the schools.

Salem Principal Bill Brown and Canton Principal Kent Buikema will flip a coin to decide which school gets which night.

Only 15 per cent of the seniors from both schools voiced their opinions on graduation date choices. Consensus of the group was June 10 and 11.

Ceremonies will be on the Centennial Educational Park athletic field. If it rains, they will be transferred to the Plymouth Salem gymnasium.

Saturday morning fire, Deer at Wing

(Then comes the clean up)

A Saturday morning fire usually brings a large turnout of firefighters. Many of the 20 volunteers who supplement the regular complement of 10 full-time firemen in the City of Plymouth are at home to receive the call on their radios.

The added response means more help at the scene of the fire and added manpower for the cleanup, or "overhauling," as the firemen call it—the chores which have to be attended to immediately after each run. For as Lt. Charles Groth says, "We have to be ready to get back into service."

THE BUILDING must be checked to make sure the fire is out.

Water must be drained from floors and above ceilings to lessen damage. If possible, smoke is cleared by fans.

An investigation is made to establish the cause of the fire. "With the rising rate of arson all over the country, we're very interested in the cause of the fire," said Groth.

The hoses are rolled and stacked on the trucks. Fire hydrants are closed with special five-sided wrenches. Fresh air masks are packed in their cases and equipment loaded on the trucks.

Back at the station the real overhaul begins.

ROLLED HOSES are cleaned and stretched full length to dry. Other sets of clean, dry hoses are loaded on the trucks.

In the old days, each fire station had a tower where the hoses were hung to drain and dry. The No. 2 station on Spring Street has an electric dryer. The station at City Hall has a drying rack which is raised at one end to allow hoses to drain. They dry at room temperature.

All equipment is washed down. Tanks on the fresh air masks are filled with compressed air. There are two sizes—one with enough fresh air to last 15 minutes and another which lasts 30 minutes.

Portable fire extinguisher tanks are refilled. The trucks carry three kinds—dry powder, water and carbon dioxide.

In sub-zero temperatures the whole process is complicated by rolled hoses that are frozen solid and ladders sheeted with ice.

Those gleaming fire trucks aren't polished just for Fourth of July parades. Firemen are a meticulous group—365 days a year.

Fire out, the overhaul begins.

Hoses are rolled.

Fresh air masks are packed.

Resident teaches Carnegie course

The Dale Carnegie course will again be offered to Plymouth-Canton residents. Only this year it will be taught by a Plymouth resident.

John Czubaj, 28 of Doe Lane, Plymouth, moved to town three years ago when he joined Top Inc., an international insurance agency on General Drive.

He enrolled in the Carnegie course as a student and became so excited about its ability to help persons reach their full potential that Czubaj left his job to join the Carnegie staff full-time.

CZUBAJ—pronounced "Shoe-by"—was a pretty good athlete at Grand Rapids West Catholic High and was quite active as a student at Central Michigan University.

At CMU he earned a teaching degree majoring in recreation. He officiated basketball games for the Mount Pleasant recreation department, taught social ballroom dancing and other recreation-type classes to work his way through college, worked at the State Home and Training School in that city, and gave dancing exhibitions with the college gymnastic team and taught some freshmen social dancing classes.

After graduating from CMU in 1969, he joined a federal war on poverty program under the auspices of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

At age 23 he became the youngest executive-director of a nonprofit, private corporation for a four-county area near Mount Pleasant—one of 900 such corporations established by OEO.

"I RECEIVED my training in education and teaching is my real trade," explains Czubaj when asked why he left private industry to join Carnegie.

"I've been interested in teaching since I met my first good teacher as a youngster. Since then I've wanted to teach and coach, and that's what the Carnegie course requires—teaching and coaching.

"After spending five years in business, I could see how the principles in the Carnegie training can really help a business person to grow and succeed, and experience growth.

"This course has the potential of being the most exciting experience in learning anyone will ever encounter. The techniques we use cause people to see themselves in a different, yet positive, way which gives them a great deal of self-satisfaction."

The Carnegie training program in Plymouth is being offered in cooperation with the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

The 66 hours of instruction involves the use of five books written by Carnegie, plus other materials. Stress is placed on: communication skills; building relationships with others that are more meaningful and rewarding; and how to constructively deal with worry, stress and boredom.

"There are no lectures in the training. People learn by doing with the participants given the opportunity during the course to build up self-confidence."

A free demonstration lecture will be given Tuesday, Nov. 11, beginning at 8 p.m. in the Mayflower Meeting House at Ann Arbor Trail and Main Street, Plymouth. An orientation meeting will be held Nov. 25 and then the course will begin for a period of 14 weeks. Each class will be on Tuesdays from 7 to 10:30 p.m. in the Meeting House.

Czubaj, who is married and has one child, works with Ralph Nichols with offices in Southfield on offering Carnegie training programs. He hopes the Plymouth course will become an annual happening.

School Supt. John Hoben is keeping close watch on the joint appropriations committee's response to Gov. William Milliken's state aid cuts announced Oct. 27.

After consulting with sources in Lansing, Hoben says it would be premature to estimate the effects of the cuts on local school financing.

"We know there will be cuts," he said, "but we also expect amendments which could make radical changes in the amount."

HOBEN EXPECTS five state aid financing bills to be introduced in the State Legislature.

The Faxton Bill will be reintroduced by Sen. Jack Faxton (D-Detroit).

The State Board of Education is expected to make a recommendation. Sen. William Fitzgerald (D-Detroit), and Sen. Bobby Crimm (D-Davison) have bills in the offing.

The governor is expected to come through with a straight 29-mill recommendation through Jim Phelps, his administrative assistant for education.

Hoben says the Crimm bill probably will be some form of the Bursley Bill. It is being drawn up by educational aide James Caesar who worked on the Bursley Bill.

Hoben considers the Faxton Bill best suited to suburban communities. It is based on the doctoral thesis of Dr. Harry Howard, former superintendent of schools in Wayne-Westland and now school superintendent in Ann Arbor. Regional 9 superintendents worked on the concept, including James Rossman when he was with the Plymouth schools.

In the meantime, school administrators are adopting a wait-and-see attitude. The cuts are coming, but they don't know where or how much.

Plymouth JCs to host state '76 convention

Plymouth Community School District Board of Education approved a request by the Plymouth Jaycees to rent school facilities.

The local club plans to host the state Jaycees convention in November 1976. The request was for Nov. 13.

Marcia Borowski, board vice president, questioned the legality of allowing a private organization, which discriminates against women, to use school property.

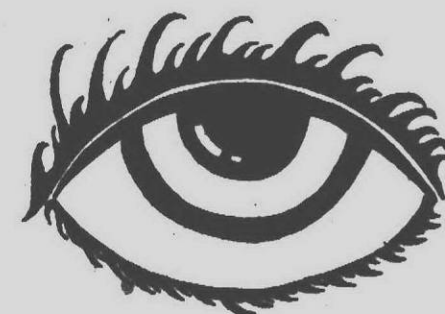

Trustee E.J. McClendon said a recent MASH publication included a legislative update which proved her reservations to be unfounded.

The board gave unanimous approval to the Jaycees' request.

UNICEF gets $900

UNICEF volunteers in Plymouth-Canton collected more than $900 to aid the world's hungry and diseased children during the 25th annual Trick or Treat campaign.

The local effort was sponsored by the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW).

In expressing her gratitude to those who gave and to those who volunteered their time, chairman Phyllis Theroux said: "Whatever their ages, our fellow citizens have a right to be proud. Everyone who contributed to this drive or worked on it helped to make life better for children around the world."

Because of the large geographical area to be covered, volunteers were unable to contact every home in the Plymouth-Canton area. Persons who wish to contribute to UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Education Fund) may still do so by sending a check—payable to UNICEF—to Mrs. Roland A. Theroux, 41235 Bruce, Plymouth, before Dec. 1.

Court rule won't affect area schools

By CAROL ANDERSON

A recent U.S. Supreme Court decision allowing teachers and administrators to spank students over parental objections will have no effect on area school districts' policies.

The court affirmed, without comment, a lower court decision allowing spankings as a last resort in the case of a sixth grade pupil in North Carolina. The student's mother had objected to this kind of discipline.

Districts including Livonia, Clarenceville, Wayne-Westland, Garden City, South Redford and Plymouth agree that corporal punishment is used, but only as a last resort.

MOST ADMINISTRATORS don't like to admit it, but corporal punishment is used at times.

"Human nature being what it is, it (padding) does happen," confessed Paul Johnson, Livonia deputy superintendent.

Livonia's policy recognizes that corporal punishment is a possibility, but it should be used only as a last resort. It must have a positive effect on the student's behavior and must not be done for punitive reasons, Johnson said.

Most often, a principal will administer a spanking in the presence of another adult, to insure that it is not extreme. Elementary school pupils are usually the only ones to feel the sting.

In Garden City, paddlings are not administered to girls after the fourth grade because of their physical and psychological development, said Supt. Bracken Snow. Before resorting to padding, "a heck of a lot of common sense should be used," he added.

"I never touch a child," Wayne-Westland Supt. Timothy Dyer countered. "I don't think it's effective."

ONE OF the first steps taken by area districts in disciplining a student is to call his parents and involve them in the decision.

Plymouth's code of conduct involves parents quickly and replaces the antiquated corporal punishment method, explained Supt. John Hoben.

Due process is allowed each student, said Hoben. The parents, principal, teacher and student are involved in the final action.

Snow also includes parents in any disciplinary action from a warning to suspension. "We only do what a normal, prudent parent would do," he said.

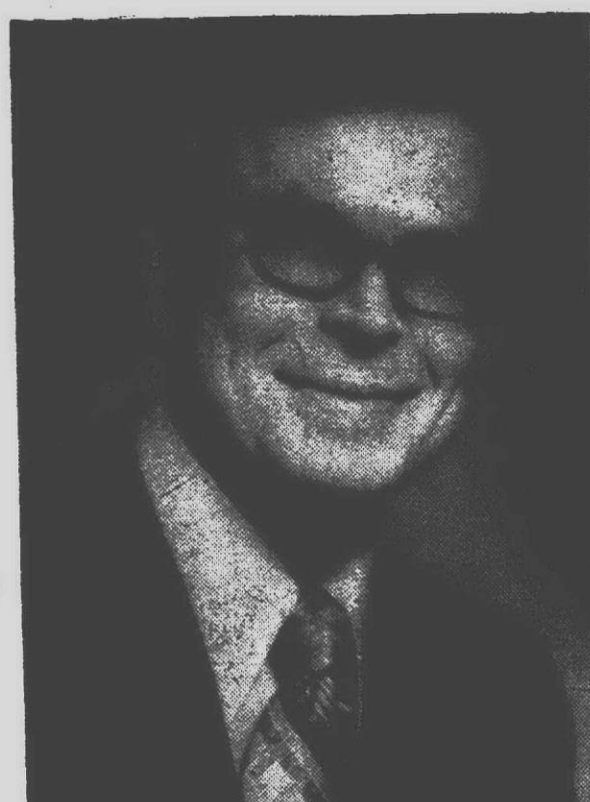

JOHNSON CONSULTS with parents if there is a major problem but feels most teachers can control normal misconduct through interpersonal relationships in the classroom.

The general Livonia policy is to find alternate means of discipline such as allowing students greater voice in determining rules of behavior or sending pupils to the principal or helping teacher, who is specifically employed to aid classroom teachers with discipline.

Livonia also has a committee, under the direction of the principal, for investigating the behavior of chronic misbehavers. Recommendations often include referral to a psychologist or social worker or a special room assignment for slow learners.

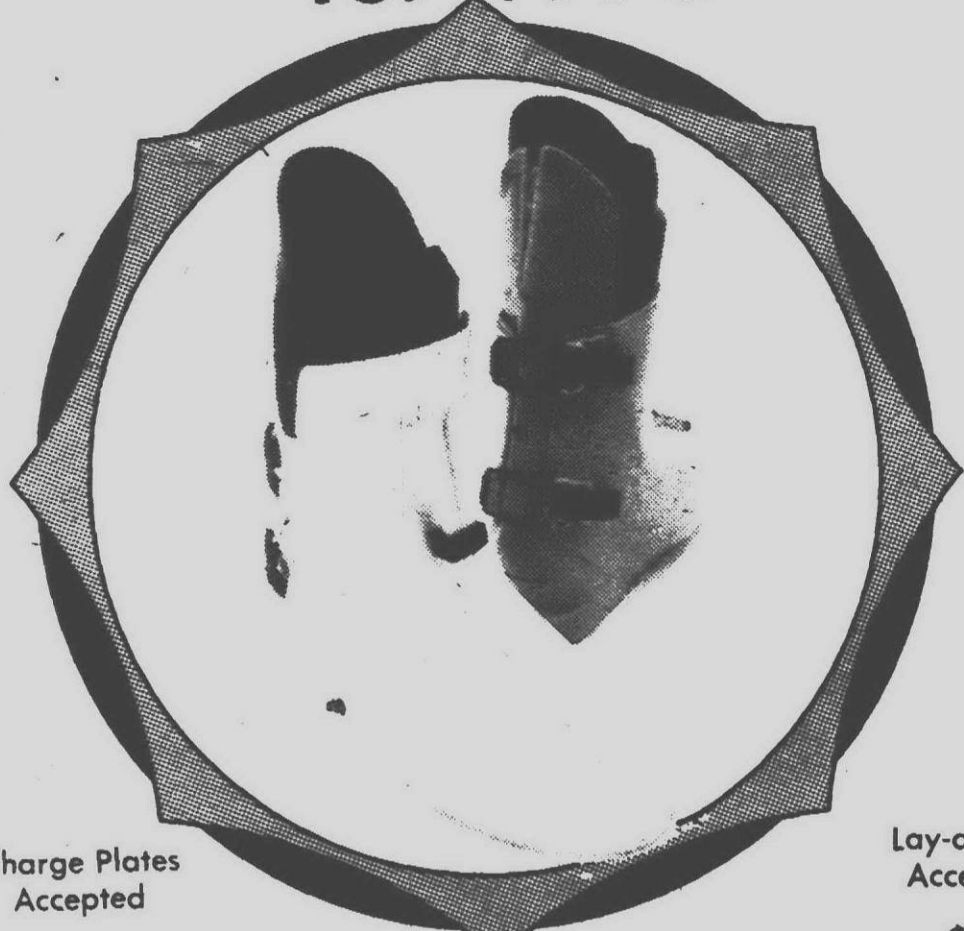

JUST WHAT is corporal punishment? Clarenceville Supt. David McDowell asks whether straightening a student in his seat might be considered physical punishment by some.

Occasionally, a parent will complain when a teacher grabs or restrains a student in the hall, Snow said. Even a tap on the head could upset some parents, he added.

Anthony J. Flum of Plymouth has been promoted to assistant administrative officer in National Bank of Detroit's Instalcan administration department. He has been with NBD for 15 years.

New shop features country primitives

Furniture construction has been a hobby for Richard Harden for the past eight or nine years. His American primitive reproductions were available only at arts and crafts shows or for friends.

He now has a shop at 196 W. Liberty Street in Old Village where he handcrafts reproductions of everything from Shaker items to early American hutches, tables and dry sinks. He also will refinish antiques which have been stripped.

Harden says that all he needs is a picture or even a sketch of the desired piece. He does not make chairs and he does not strip old furniture.

He makes pierced tin reproductions for pie safes and cupboards. As tin is not available, he uses aluminum and gives it an antique finish.

Harden is planning to have a line of pewter ware and stained glass. He does have a stock of handmade furniture in the shop, which is for sale.

Harden lives in Westland and attended Livonia Bentley High School, where he first became interested in furniture making. He is married and has three children. He designed and fashioned much of the furniture in his home.

His television set is enclosed in a dry sink that could have been handed down from his great-grandmother. It has panels of pierced tin in the doors and porcelain knobs on the drawers. He said his apothecary chests have been popular. He makes Shaker candle tables, clock cases and wall sconces.

Harden said his shop will be open on weekends following the hours of neighboring antique shops. He also plans to be in the shop from 6:30 to 9 in the evenings.

Massey will move to Canton

The Don Massey Cadillac dealership at Ann Arbor Road and Main Street in Plymouth will be operating in Canton Township next spring.

The dealership is building a 56,000-square-foot showroom at Ford and Lilley Roads on a 10-acre site.

Once construction begins the building will be completed quickly, says Don Massey, owner of the dealership. His target date for occupation of the new building is April 1.

Massey says the move is necessary because the dealership has outgrown its present location. Massey sells new and used Cadillacs, and has a service center and body-work shop in Plymouth.

Massey chose the site in Canton because of its accessibility to Ford Road and the new I-275 expressway. It represents a $6 million investment.

Massey began selling cars in the City of Wayne at a DeSoto-Plymouth dealership, joined Paul McGlone Chevrolet in Wayne a year later and advanced to vice-president and general manager. He operated his own used car business for six years in Wayne and then started a Cadillac dealership.

Witches use archaic code

Dear Gundella,
Can you tell me about the secret alphabet witches use?

Randy M.
Farmington

Dear Randy,
I'm sure what you are thinking about are the characters that have come to be known as witch runes. They are not secret and can be found in many history books.

Centuries ago in Western Europe, there existed a set of Germanic runes used as characters of an alphabet for writing. These varied slightly in different areas but were used in one form or another over most of the continent for short periods around the 3rd century, and then died out.

They were carried to England, however, where they flourished for five or six centuries.

To this day, witches use these archaic figures to mark their ceremonial tools, dishes, robes and book covers among other things. I use the inscription on the left on the diplomas I give students in my psychic workshops.

Use the chart below to help you find out what it means.

Blessed be,
Gundella

Area UM-D staffers receive many honors

Five area educators at the University of Michigan-Dearborn (UM-D) have been chosen for national and international honors.

Dr. Donald Brown of Plymouth, UM-D's director of counseling, has been invited by the University of Malaya in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, to evaluate a dissertation on "Vocational Interests and Occupational Choices."

Dr. Brown is also the author of an article, "Career Counseling for the Homosexual," in the book, "Facilitating Career Development."

Joseph Sullivan of Livonia, associate professor of engineering, attended the National University Extension Association convention in Puerto Rico.

Sullivan spoke on "The Professional Development Degree: New Options for Updating and Redirecting Careers." He also is director of UM-D's professional development in engineering degree program.

Dr. Richard Dahlke, also of Livonia and associate professor of mathematics, made a presentation on geometric probability at the 1975 annual conference of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics in Denver.

Dr. Dahlke also has been awarded a $677 grant from the Center for Research on Learning and Teaching in Ann Arbor for educational research on Keller Plan calculus courses at UM-D.

Dr. Richard A. Potts, another Livonian and professor of chemistry, received a campus grant of $500 for "Oxydative Addition to Gold (I) Complexes."

Union contract signed at O&E

Press and composing room employees of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers have reached accord on a two-year contract with the company.

Representatives of Detroit Newspaper Printing and Graphic Communication Union No. 13 ratified the contract with the O&E in late August and signed the document Oct. 17.

The contract calls for a 3.25 percent across-the-board wage increase for the 53 members of the bargaining unit during the first year of the contract. A wage reopener is included in the agreement for the second year of the pact.

Union employees at the company's Livonia plant remained on the job after expiration of the previous contract on June 30. Salary adjustments will be retroactive to that date.

Other additions to the contract include a dental care package, three additional sick and personal days, and modification of the grievance procedure.

The union represents workers in the company's Livonia composing and press room, and janitorial, maintenance and transportation department employees at the Livonia offices.

Richard Reynolds of Westland, director of university relations, spoke on "Effective Press Relations" at a meeting of the Michigan Museum Association.

Reynolds also spoke on "Sports Information for the Small College" at the Great Lakes district conference of the Council for Advancement and Support of Education.

Esch backs suburbs on revenue sharing

Suburban officials this week are making a two-pronged effort to get an extension of the federal revenue sharing program.

After meeting Monday in Pontiac with some 80 persons from 38 Oakland County communities, U.S. Rep. Marvin Esch (R-Ann Arbor) was scheduled to testify Nov. 6 before a House government operations subcommittee in support of extended revenue sharing.

Oakland County Executive Daniel Murphy is coordinating efforts to get area officials to Washington Nov. 18 where they will rally and travel to Capitol Hill to buttonhole congressmen.

"THEY DEFINITELY feel it's been a successful program," said Esch after Monday's meeting.

"Revenue sharing has meant a minimum amount of paperwork—there are only two forms to fill out. It's a minimum amount of bureaucracy and a maximum amount of money spent—only 100 employees in the revenue sharing office of the Treasury Department to administer a $30 billion program."

The reason for the hurry, Esch said, is that the congressional subcommittee isn't planning to act on revenue sharing until next spring. "But the local budget process goes on from January to April, so for predictability we need to pass revenue sharing in a timely fashion."

"Some people at the meeting said that with the federal deficit, we shouldn't be extending this. In the next year, we really do have to decide what's essential for the federal government to spend money on," Esch said. But he added that he was an original sponsor of the concept in 1972 and is co-sponsor of the bill (HR 3244) to extend it six more years.

MURPHY, in his first year as Oakland County executive, said revenue sharing has less than a 50-50 chance of passage in this Congress.

"Revenue sharing has become important to nearly every local government, particularly in southeast Michigan, which has been hit so hard by the recession."

Murphy said that since the program began, Oakland County government has received $8.4 million, with about half ($4.4 million) going to expand the Children's Village facility.

Other uses included: $1.6 million to care for patients in hospitals or state institutions; $600,000 for court-appointed attorneys to defend the poor; $450,000 for juveniles under the county's care; and $400,000 each for the medical examiner's office, Camp Oakland and drain projects.

Esch said local officials generally are using 60 per cent of their receipts for capital improvements and 40 per cent for operating expenses, much of that for law enforcement.

SC freshman elections set

Elections for seven freshman representatives to the Student Senate at Schoolcraft College have been set for Nov. 13-14 and 17-19.

Qualifications include being a registered Schoolcraft student, having earned less than 26 hours of credit, and filing a nominating petition containing at least 30 registered student signatures.

Petitions are available from the elections committee which also approves all candidates.

According to election committee co-chairman Steve Akey, 11 petitions have been checked out, with five returned and approved.

Local orchestras fill Detroit Symphony void

Metropolitan Detroit suffered serious blows to its prestige with the strike by Detroit Symphony Orchestra musicians, the charges of decline in quality, and the decision by maestro Aldo Ceccato to leave at the end of next season.

But a decline in metropolitan prestige is far different from a loss of musical offerings because there are many suburban orchestras to fill the void.

The five in the Observer & Eccentric area do have an occasional squawk in the brass section, or a whine in the strings, admittedly, but the overall truth is that their musical offerings are excellent. Many of their first chair performers are Detroit Symphony musicians; others are college and high school music instructors; others are just plain dedicated amateurs; and still others are students whose ability sometimes takes your breath away.

If you have been a Detroit Symphony fan who goes to the Ford Auditorium each week, you can pick a suburban symphony almost every weekend, get a ticket for the price of a first-run movie and park free. Consider:

The granddaddy of the bunch is the 30-year-old Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, whose next performance is Sunday, Nov. 9 at 4 p.m. in Plymouth Salem High's excellent auditorium. Director Wayne Dunlap does sophisticated programming designed to stretch one's mind without bogging it. The flute will be on center stage.

If you're shopping at Westland Center about 8:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 14, check out the Westland Symphony Orchestra, now in its fifth season. Michael Endres' five-year-old group has had a struggle to stay alive, but this year it's preparing four concerts. The composers will be familiar: Rimsky-Korsakov, Saint-Saens, Copland and Bernstein.

An anti-secrecy bill with teeth

Not all the news coming out of Lansing is financially depressing. Now comes State Rep. Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor) with a refreshing House bill aimed at opening up the secret workings of government to the voter.

All public bodies of state and local government would be prohibited from holding any meetings in secret under the Bullard bill. That's refreshing, but here's what's really important:

Governmental bodies which persist in meeting secretly would be subject to criminal fines and civil penalties as well as having their decisions invalidated. At present, taxpayers groups and newsmen who seek to stop secrecy have to bear the expense of going to court, and there is no punishment for officials who hold secret meetings.

It's not enough to say, as some officials do, that city councils and school boards take their votes in public after the important decisions have been made behind closed doors.

We contend the public (1) has a right to know what options the board discussed, (2) who influenced the board in its discussions, (3) what other options the board considered, and (4) the reasons for the board's decision.

And we insist that the public be able to know what a board is contemplating before it acts, so the folks can squawk ahead of time, not just after the board makes expensive decisions.

Too many councilmen and trustees genuinely believe in secret meetings, which they euphemistically refer to as "executive sessions." It's time we got some sunshine into the proceedings of local government and passed an open meetings law with teeth.

Sense And Nonsense

THE FEDERAL Paperwork Commission, created to cut down on federal paperwork, went into operation recently. To get started, it had to fill out 350 forms.

THE U.S. POSTAL Service announced that as of Oct. 11 there would no longer be an advantage in purchasing airmail postage for domestic delivery. An announcement to that effect was received by the local post office and time-stamped Oct. 14—three days later. No doubt the announcement was mailed.

Newest orchestra is West Bloomfield, whose second concert will be Nov. 23 in the local high school. Conductor Felix Resnick programs traditional concert fare. He showed a lot of courage tackling Dvorak's "New World" symphony with a new orchestra last time out, but he pulled it off.

Oakway Symphony, in its third season, rotates between auditoriums in Birmingham, Southfield, Farmington and Livonia. Next program is Nov. 30 at 4 p.m. in Southfield-Lathrup High School with violinist Ida Kavafian performing Tchaikovsky. Conductor Frank DiBlasi is a crowd-pleaser with lots of theater music.

Struggling with financial problems, the Redford Civic Symphony still manages to keep going and is in its 28th year. Conductor John Gajec's orchestra emphasizes home-grown talent and will soon audition for soloists for the "family concert." Next regular concert will be Sunday, Dec. 14 at 3 p.m. in Redford Union High School. It performs four times a season, alternating between RUHS and Thurston High.

Mourn for the Detroit Symphony, if you wish, but don't stay home if you're a good music lover when orchestras like our local groups are performing.

We need moratorium on new laws

President Ford, in discussing the impact of federal regulations on our economy, said, "Although most of today's regulations affecting business are well intentioned, their effect, whether designed to protect the environment or the consumer, often do more harm than good. They can stifle growth in our standard of living and contribute to inflation."

Dick Halladay, editor of the "Michigan Challenge," which is a magazine published by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, was even more specific and I would like to share his remarks with you because they sum up the problem in a nutshell.

"The people who make our laws have a bottom-line responsibility for many of today's economic and social problems. They are the legislators who think their sole duty is to pass laws; the legislators who somehow feel that continuous, whirlwind lawmaking activity is akin to sexual potency—and that any indication of a slowdown may be misinterpreted by the folks back home as an apparent loss of manhood. Or womanhood.

"But our legislators also have a responsibility not to make laws that result in pyramidal bureaucracies which are expensive, wasteful, unnecessary and often counter in action to what may originally have been a good intention.

"Sound advertising and promotion can persuade citizens to sample just about any product or service once. It can even get legislators elected, once. Although consumers can react quickly to faulty products and services by getting money back or by not repurchasing, voters are ham-strung when elected officials fail to live up to the advertised agement, then New York State is to blame for allowing it.

N.Y. vs. U.S.: a way to compromise

Tim Richard writes

The federal government is hardly to blame. Federal aid to states and local units has virtually exploded with the advent of revenue sharing in this decade.

IF THERE'S ANY "ripple" effect, it will be the message our governors and mayors will receive if the federal government does bail out New York City: You can spend to your hearts' content, fellows, and Uncle Sugar will pick up the pieces.

And yet it would be heartless to allow New York's services to fall apart and to rob its luckless creditors, so you can figure the friendly federal government will help out somehow.

Wouldn't it be fair, then, to put a price on any federal aid? Wouldn't it be appropriate to make sure Mayor Abe Beame never again would go running to Capitol Hill threatening the rest of us with demonstrations if we didn't bail him out? In short, wouldn't it be gentlemanly and businesslike for the mayor, the comptroller and perhaps the head of the sanitation workers union (remember that wildcat strike?) to resign before the rest of us agree to pay their bills?

It's one thing for a city to spend itself into trouble. It's quite another for the leaders of that organization to prosper politically afterwards. New York should be helped by the federal government, but New Yorkers should be willing to do some kind of penance for their money-grabbing sins. Heads should roll, beginning with the mayor's.

Road men get a lesson

Oakland County Executive Dan Murphy has come up with a plan to raise the vehicle license fee an average of $7.50 per car. Twin objects: To finance rapid transit construction in this region, and to give county road commissions half the funds.

Wayne County's Tom O'Rourke, managing director of the road commission, says he may have to lay off 120 employees next year because of a shortage of funds.

WHAT'S WRONG? O'Rourke stated the case well for all 83 county road commissions:

"People are just not buying as much gas as they did in past years, and consequently the state is not rebating as much money as we need for our operation.

"Last year (Wayne) county received about $1.5 million less than the previous year, and this year we received $1.5 million less than that. Next year we anticipate a reduction of $2 million more.

"Meanwhile, the cost of maintaining county roads or building new ones is up 20 per cent."

BEFORE PASSING a bill to implement the Oakland plan, the Legislature should take another look at the whole notion of financing certain operations through so-called "user" fees. The scheme of "earmarking" taxes has proven faulty in other areas of government, and it's now proving to be faulty with our gasoline taxes, weight fees and roads.

In the Great Depression, Michigan chose to finance K-12 schools by earmarking two cents of the three-cent sales tax for education.

The trouble was that by 1960 the teachers' appetite for salary increases far exceeded the consumers' ability to purchase food, medicine, clothing and cars. Michigan wisely gave up the idea of earmarking taxes for education and left it up to the Legislature to allocate money for schools.

The result was a great infusion of state aid to local school districts. It didn't keep up with teachers' demands, of course, but it was better than two cents of the sales tax.

COUNTY ROAD commissions today are in just about the same fix education was in 15 years ago. Earmarking taxes just won't work.

Even the Oakland proposal to lift the vehicle tax has flaws. What, for example, is going to happen to that line of revenue when we're all driving VWs, Chevettes and Ponys?

Road needs are just like any other needs. A legislative body needs to weigh the need for roads, new and repaired, against the needs for police, schools, health facilities and the rest.

No longer can we afford the archaic system of saying that roads get X amount of dollars because a certain tax produces X amount of revenue.

If the Legislature ever gets through the current financial crunch, it needs to take a fresh look at the entire road financing procedures—those shrinking gasoline and weight taxes, and those independent kingdoms, the county road commissions.

Halloween tricks were very bad

Editor:
Henry M. Hogan Jr. says Halloween can be a night of tragedy and damage, and then proceeds to list five tricks recommended as the best with no damage?? (Eccentricities, Oct. 30)
So, first on the list he says to put dog droppings into a paper bag and leave them on stoops, light the bag, and ring the doorbell and hide. What is he thinking of—deliberate arson? What if there is a blind or seriously ill person living there, or what if these people work nights and are not at home?

On his third trick, do you suppose the kids would be content with a "pretend rope"? They could be pulled into traffic with a real one.

The fourth trick sure would play havoc with expensive aluminum shutters.
Sometimes older children are left home to dish out the goodies, and his reminder of Baggies filled with motor oil might just be tried.
The things he lists as no-nos are much to be preferred to his five "good ones."
Broken pumpkins and toilet paper can be erased by wind and rain with no damage at all.
It should have stayed the Observer because Eccentricities like this are better left out. Shouldn't the Power of the Press be used more constructively instead of defeating what parents are trying to teach their children?

Quaker Acres drew crowds

Editor:
The Livonia Historical Commission would like to take this opportunity to express its appreciation for the community support given to the Quaker Acres Historical Village open house held on Oct. 19, which was attended by representatives of city government, schools, churches and local organizations.
The generous assistance of the co-sponsors was invaluable. The Livonia Historical Society donated many dozens of home-baked cookies for our refreshments, and the Livonia Bicentennial Commission financially sponsored the event. In addition, Boy Scout Troop 782, under the direction of Scoutmaster Ken Bourgon, who also served as our open house chairman, assisted greatly in many areas of activity.

The Livonia City Council and Mayor McNamara are to be commended for their vision and sense of history as they have so unhesitatingly given their support to this most ambitious project. Without their help, Quaker Acres Historical Village would never happen.

The Livonia Historical Commission is very grateful for the news coverage given by the Livonia Observer & Eccentric of past activities and the open house. The interest and involvement your news articles generate are very inspiring to our commission.

We invite the general public to come and watch "restoration in progress" at Quaker Acres Historical Village. Our hours are Saturdays (except holidays) from 1 to 4 p.m., with tours available to groups on Mondays and Wednesdays by appointment only.

Admission is 25 cents for children under 14, 50 cents for adults. Tour rates will be 10 cents per child in groups of 10 or more. Reservations can be made by calling the historical museum office daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., except Tuesdays, at 477-7375.

Why print it?

Editor:
Why would any editor in his right mind publish an article such as this (Eccentricities, Halloween tricks, Oct. 30)? Don't we have enough problems—"Tricks come too early for pumpkin dealer."

Some prefer to do without

Editor:
Can we afford our Livonia mayor's proposal to provide us with "quality recreation"? Has it occurred to him and our council that in these lean times there are those of us who, instead of the "small tax hike in the city budget," just might prefer to do without a few of the proposed new tennis courts, etc. at this time?

Why not prevent alcohol problem?

Editor:
The recent article on alcoholism was very interesting but also very disturbing!

The increase in alcoholics and the trend in drinking among young people, etc., etc., was pointed out, and the source (Father Vaughan Quinn) even relates his experience as an alcoholic. And yet nothing is said about prevention. It seems no one wants to go on record saying a sure cure is not to start.

It seems to me that it is time for all good Americans to come to the aid of their countrymen by discouraging the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages.

Band is great

Editor:

The band is great! The Plymouth Marching Band has been ridiculed lately. The reasons don't make much sense to me. As a member of this sensational organization, I've known no resentment towards either school (most students favor their own).

Without universal cooperation between both schools, this "half-time entertainment" wouldn't be possible. We knock ourselves out to bring you a new show every week.

Also, we make trips (using our own money) to display the talent the Plymouth bands have always had. So

Yes, some mind if you smoke

BY SHERRY KAHAN

The straws are in the wind. For the past few months, indications have appeared all around us that the non-smoker is standing up and beginning to fight for his right to breathe clean air.

"Smoking will not be permitted at the meeting" read a sentence at the bottom of a small press release from the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council concerning an event in Plymouth.

No one noticed at the time, but it may have been a landmark statement.

Not long after, an attempt was taken to bring fresh air to Livonia school board meetings when Martin Seitz, then a trustee, asked for a smoking ban.

He said he wanted the board to set a good example and protect the health of the public. His motion was not passed.

However, the 100-member representative assembly of the Livonia Education Association (LEA) put in its support with a resolution in behalf of the non-smoker.

It decided that if someone objects to smoking at a school meeting in which LEA members are in attendance, it can be banned at that meeting.

IN LANSING, State Sen. Carl Purcell, who represents Redford Township, Livonia and Plymouth, introduced a resolution favoring lower insurance rates for non-smokers.

"I am convinced that non-smokers offer insurance companies lower risks in property and auto insurance as well as health insurance," he said.

The resolution is now with the Senate business committee. If it is well received, Purcell may introduce it in the Senate as a bill. If passed by both houses of the legislature, non-smokers could begin to enjoy financial rewards for their healthy habits.

State Rep. John Markes, who represents Westland and Livonia, has also made a contribution to the writing of a Bill of Rights for non-smokers.

He introduced the first bill in Michigan regarding smoking. Having passed the House, it is now before the Senate health committee.

It would end smoking in any store where food for home consumption is the principal item sold.

"Merchants in the field endorsed the bill," said Markes. "Under its provision their insurance cost would go down, and savings will benefit both smokers and non-smokers. The only opposition to the bill came from the American tobacco industry."

HOSPITALS ARE in the thick of the fight to protect the lungs of non-smokers. Dr. Perry Stearns, director of the Wayne County department of health, has banned smoking from the lobby and other public areas of the county health center in Westland.

He gave employees the right to request that the no-smoking rule be observed in their work area. He also directed employees not to smoke in public view.

At the time he invoked these regulations, he pointed out that two-thirds of the U.S. adult population are non-smokers.

No cigarettes are sold on the premises of St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. Visitors can smoke only in the public lounges. Employees can only smoke in the cafeteria.

"We would like to eliminate it entirely," said Sister Mary Calasanta, president of the hospital. "It's not good to have smoke around patients."

WHAT WORRIES HOSPITAL administrators and physicians particularly are the facts that have been emerging recently concerning the affect of cigaret smoke on non-smokers.

The famous report from the Surgeon General back in 1972 did not merely state that smoking is dangerous to the health of the smoker.

Less publicized was its claim that cigaret smoke endangers the health of the non-smoker. It maintained that after breathing this smoke, a non-smoker's blood and respiratory system contains as much if not more carbon monoxide as the smoker's.

The American Lung Association uses the terms, "sidestream and mainstream smoke" to describe the situation. Sidestream is the smoke that wafts into the air from the burning end of the cigaret. Mainstream is the smoke that issues forth from the smoker's mouth.

"The fascinating fact," says the association, "is that sidestream smoke has higher concentrations of noxious compounds than the mainstream smoke inhaled by the smoker."

"Some studies show there is twice as much tar and nicotine in sidestream smoke compared to mainstream. There is three times as much of a compound called 3-4 benzpyrene, which is suspected as a cancer-causing agent; five times as much carbon monoxide, which robs the blood of oxygen, and 50 times as much ammonia."

THE LUNG ASSOCIATION points to evidence that there is more cadmium in sidestream smoke than in mainstream.

"Cadmium is now under investigation as one of the compounds in cigaret smoke that damages the air sacs of the lungs and causes emphysema," it adds. "Once cadmium gets into your lungs, it stays there."

Robin Bregger of Canton is one of those sporting buttons these days to show how they feel about other people's smoking. (Staff photos by Bob Woodring)

With such information regularly appearing, non-smokers are beginning to organize. They already have a lobby—the American Lung Association and the Southeastern Michigan Council on Smoking and Health and a telephone number, 963-3029, which individuals can use for information about smoking withdrawal clinics and general smoking information.

Who knows, soon they may be marching to a fight song. "Smoke Gets in Your Lungs," and exchanging secret handshakes with those whose fingers are unsullied by nicotine.

THE COUNCIL on smoking and health has many suggestions for non-smokers who want to defend themselves.

It suggests they obtain and wear council buttons which say "Your Smoking Hurts My Lungs" and "Yes, I Mind If You Smoke."

Be vocal, the council suggests. Express your feelings about smoking.

Be visual. Use no-smoking decals, bumper stickers and posters to re-enforce your vocal objections.

Remove invitations to smoke, especially ashtrays.

Request passengers not to smoke in your car.

Along with RSVP on invitations add NSP—No Smoking, Please.

At work, ask management to provide smoke-free sections of the cafeteria and smoke-free restrooms.

In restaurants request seating away from smokers. If none is available, indicate your disapproval. Patronize restaurants that honor non-smokers' rights.

Encourage your physician and dentist to support non-smoking regulations in all health care facilities. Too many people have looked straight in the face of a patient with a readily apparent cough or asthmatic wheezing, and then lit up.

In the hospital, request a room with a non-smoker. Ask visitors to abstain. Put up signs to this effect.

Ask that there be no smoking at meetings. If this fails, pass around a sign mentioning that many suffer discomfort from smoke.

Write letters to supermarkets, department stores, legislators and the media urging no-smoking.

Signs of the clean-air times are to be found in a Schoolcraft College conference room (left) and in the band room at John Glenn High School.

Goodies galore!

Most Alices did on Doesn't Day

BY SHERRY KAHAN

This roundup on Alice Doesn't Day is going to be short. In the western suburbs most Alices were doing rather than doesn'ting.

The day planned by feminists to show the world how necessary women are was observed in few offices or schools. An occasional woman donned an arm band with the inscription "Alice Doesn't," which signified to the world her solidarity with the idea, but her inability to miss work.

"There was so much going on in the chapter that we didn't talk much about it, or emphasize it," said Jeanette Stark Shanks, president of the Northwest Wayne Chapter of the National Organization of Women.

"We mainly decided to respond on an individual basis. I think the reluctance of our members to get involved was due to the vague generality of the issue, and because of the economic situation today.

"If you've worked hard to secure a position, you don't want to endanger it with an action like this."

Mrs. Shanks expressed the belief that if members of a woman's family help with household tasks on a regular basis and give her status, then it was not necessary for her to stop work to show how important she is.

"But if that isn't happening, I feel the woman should stop work for the day," she continued. "That will point up real fast how much she is needed."

Several chapter members observed AD Day by taking money from their savings accounts and depositing it in the First Federal Feminist Credit Union in Detroit, she said.

"There is not much action out here," reported Jean Christensen, head of women's services at Schoolcraft College. One of the college's counselors, Sylvia Vukminovich, former president of the NOW chapter, was on a visit to Wayne Memorial High School that day and found no response there.

"I Does But My Alice Doesn't" was the enigmatic slogan worn on the coat of Bill Pate, director of the media center at Churchill High School, Livonia.

"My Alice (Sue Kleino) is sitting here typing, working like a dog as usual," he reported.

Elaine Didier, librarian at Plymouth-Canton High School, reported that some of the staff at the school had been interested in obtaining "Alice Doesn't" armbands, but had been unable to find any.

Arlene Vanderleun of Westland, a member of the Mid-Western Wayne County Chapter of NOW had been planning to wear an armband. But she gave it up to her nine-year-old niece, Anne Marie Kubek, whose father runs a photography studio in Garden City. Anne Marie wanted to wear it to school.

Yet while there was little overt observation of Alice Doesn't Day, many women made their feelings known in certain subtle ways.

Clara Rousseau, administrative assistant to President C. Nelson Grote of Schoolcraft, planned NOT to make her husband's breakfast on AD Day. "But I forgot," she laughed.

However, at least one secretary was reported to have refused to serve coffee to the men in her office.

And female employees at an area bank, after making and enjoying their usual cup of coffee, poured what was left down the sink.

The men had to make their own.

St. Andrew sets mission

The Rev. H. Lawrence (Renny) Scott, a young rector with a wide educational and occupational background, will lead a teaching mission the weekend of Nov. 14 to 16 in St. Andrew Episcopal Church, Hubbard between Five and Six Mile in Livonia. Working with him on the mission will be a team of youth ministers and counselors, and special features of the program will be an overnight visit for high school students Nov. 14 and a luncheon for college age young people and singles at 12 noon Saturday, Nov. 15.

Community residents in both age groups are invited to participate and may make reservations by calling the church.

REV. SCOTT, associate rector of St. Paul Episcopal Church in Darien, Conn., has had experiences that range from clinical training at the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry in New York to organic farming on a mission commune in the mountains of South America.

A political science graduate of Yale University, he attended Harvard University divinity school on a fellowship and graduated from Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, Mass., in 1971. He was ordained deacon and priest that year.

Before assuming his present position, he was field director of FOCUS, a New England fellowship of Christians in Universities and Schools, a member of the bishop's staff in the diocese of western Massachusetts and Episcopal chaplain to the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

AS THE YOUNGEST member of the board of managers of the Episcopal Evangelical Education Society, he has attended the last two general convocations of his denomination.

Rev. Scott's travels have taken him to Jerusalem, where he was a delegate to a World Conference on the Holy Spirit, and to 12 nations in Europe, where part of his work was teaching and encouraging Christian leaders and youth behind the Iron Curtain.

He is the American director of Eastern European Bible Mission.

Wintergreen runs again in musical at Rosedale

John P. Wintergreen will resume the political campaign for the presidency that he began in the 30s when the musical "Of Thee I Sing" opens at the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, Chicago Road and Hubbard, Livonia.

This light hearted spoof of politics, written in the 30s by George S. Kaufman, with music by George Gershwin and lyrics by Ira Gershwin, will be given Nov. 7, 8 and 9.

Wintergreen's campaign is accompanied by such old-time song favorites as "Wintergreen for President" and "Love is Sweeping the Country," a logical selection for a candidate running on a platform of love.

Acting and singing the role of Wintergreen will be Merrill Thomas. John Hirtzel is Throttlebottom, and other cast members are Bettie Runyan and Vicki Haas.

Adding excitement to the campaign trail will be an ensemble which will dance, sing and contribute comic material and satiric bite to the musical.

Martha Kuykendall is the director, this being her fourth musical in the church. A vocal music teacher at Holmes Junior High School, she was musical director of "Apple Tree" when it was performed by the Livonia-Redford Theater Guild and at Schoolcraft College.

She has also directed "You're a Good Man, Charley Brown."

Under the direction of Caroline Dunth, the scenery committee has built settings which will place the players in the White House, on the steps of the capitol building and in Madison Square Garden.

Rehearsal accompanist is Barbara Burgess.

Performances will start at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and at 7 p.m. on Sunday. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children under 12.

There seems to be a difference of opinion here as to who is the candidate. Is it John Hirtzel (left) or Merrill Thomas? Appearing with both candidates in the play, "Of Thee I Sing," is Bettie Runyan. (Staff photo by Bob Woodring)

Chamber orchestra performs

The first concert by the newly-organized Eastern Michigan University Chamber Orchestra will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 13, in Pease Auditorium on the EMU campus.

The new group, under the direction of Edward Szabo, also conductor of the EMU-Civic Symphony Orchestra, includes former members of the String Ensemble which was directed by Maurice Riley, currently on a sabbatical leave of absence for the academic year.

Alfio Pignotti, associate professor of music, will be the featured violin soloist in Nardini's "Concerto in E. Minor for Violin and Orchestra." Pignotti, who came to Eastern in 1969, appeared last year in recitals in Cincinnati, Buffalo, Kalamazoo, Minneapolis and Washington, D.C.

Other selections on the program include "Concerto Grosso in D Major" by Corelli, "Gymnopedies" by Satie-Debussy and "Intermezzo" from "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mascagni. Also to be performed are Copland's "The Quiet City" and a special arrangement for string orchestra of Bartok's "Romanian Folk Dances." Several students will play instrumental solos.

The concert is open to the public without charge.

Youtheatre film costs 10 cents

The Detroit Institute of Arts YOUTHEATRE 10 cent minuteman matinee series continues Saturday, Nov. 15 at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. with the classic American film "The Red Badge of Courage."

"The Red Badge of Courage" is the second of the "Something Every Saturday" Bicentennial film series at the Detroit YOUTHEATRE.

Made in 1951, "The Red Badge of Courage" stars Audie Murphy as the youth about to enter battle for the first time.

Symphony concert honors flutist

"I don't want a memorial concert to Nelson Hauenstein to be deadly or a dirge. He liked fun," says Wayne Dunlap, musical director of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

The orchestra's concert at 4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 9 is dedicated to Hauenstein, first chair flutist for nearly 25 years and an assistant dean of the University of Michigan School of Music until his death from cancer.

Cleon Chapin and other Hauenstein students will join guest conductor Emil Raab and the orchestra in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High School, Joy west of Canton Center roads.

"Nelson and his wife Louise were the backbone of the orchestra," said Dunlap, who first heard them in 1951. "There was a wholesome quality about the man. I liked his flute tone very much; it was a big tone. In this concert, I want to recall the efforts he made on behalf of the Plymouth Symphony."

Soloist Chapin, a U-M doctoral student, will be heard with the orchestra in Griffes' "Poeme for Flute and Orchestra." An American composer is featured in each of Plymouth's six concerts this season.

Chapin, whom Dunlap described as "one of Nelson's last really good students," is now first flutist with the orchestra. His style is "French—lighter and more brilliant," said Dunlap, and a good match for the impressionistic style of Griffes.

All the former Hauenstein students who can be found will be mass soloists in Telemann's Suite in A Minor for Flute and Strings. "It's a piece that can accommodate two or 102 flutists. Baroque music is like that," said Dunlap.

The program will open with the suite from "Peleas and Melisande" by Faure, one of Hauenstein's favorite works. It will close with Brahms' first symphony, a giant work sometimes dubbed "the Tenth" because it was worthy of Beethoven, who wrote nine symphonies.

Dunlap, recuperating from a mid-August heart attack, will attend the Nov. 9 concert. He is back part-time at his regular post as director of fine arts at Grand Valley State Colleges, Allendale.

Tickets are $3.50 for adults at the door and $1.75 for senior citizens. Admission is free to K-12 students.

Some memberships will also be sold, according to chairman Annette Heindryckx. Not only are memberships tax deductible, but they are cheaper than buying individual tickets. The Plymouth Symphony Society has 252 family memberships.

Society President Jane Moehle announced receipt of three boxes of musical scores spanning 200 years of American history. The gift came from the bicentennial committee of the JCPenney Co.

Fife & Drum Corps seeks members

The Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps will have an orientation for prospective new members and their parents on November 10 at 7:30 p.m. in Plymouth Salem High School band room, located on Joy at Canton Center Road.

The Corps is open to any person, seventh grade or above, who has an interest in the type of music unique to a fife and drum corps. To join the group it is not necessary that you already play an instrument, or be a resident of Plymouth. At this meeting the concept of the Corps will be explained. Requirements for both the new members and their parents, in regard to participation and cost. Future plans for the Corps will be discussed, including special '76 bicentennial events, out-of-state trips and new uniforms.

Since parents of the present members will also be at this meeting, parents will have a chance to ask questions of them and hear first-hand about their experiences with the Corps. A new-member packet will be handed out to those expressing interest. This packet will contain important information about the Corps plus required forms to fill out. This will be the only time that new members will be accepted!

A short musical program will be given by the Corps, directed by Mark Petty, helping to keep the evening enjoyable as well as informative.

If you are interested, or know of someone, who would like to belong to the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps, representing Plymouth and Michigan in a spirited fashion, having fun along the way, then this is the meeting to attend.

On Nov. 13 the Corps will play for the National ORFF Convention at Cobo Hall. This is a delegation of 1,000 music teachers from all across the country. The annual spring and nationally acclaimed Cherry Festival in Washington, D. C. has invited the Corps to represent Michigan at their festivities in April.

JCs to host state '76 convention

Plymouth Community School District Board of Education approved a request by the Plymouth Jaycees to rent school facilities.

The local club plans to host the state Jaycees convention in November 1976. The request was for Nov. 13.

Marcia Borowski, board vice president, questioned the legality of allowing a private organization, which discriminates against women, to use school property.

Trustee E.J. McClendon said a recent MASH publication included a legislative update which proved her reservations to be unfounded.

The board gave unanimous approval to the Jaycees' request.

"I would say the Yellow Pages represents 50% of my income. When I started my transmission business, I advertised heavily in the Yellow Pages. A few years later I decided to try smaller ads. Result—my business took a decided drop. Then, three years ago my Yellow Pages rep suggested a larger program. Franklin eyes state grid playoff berth

Livonia Franklin is running for a state Class A football playoff berth just as tailback Dave Smith is running away from a Churchill tackler in recent clash between Northwest Suburban League champs and Western Six tittist Churchill. Crosstown Livonia Stevenson's 13-10 win over the Patriots is the only blot on latter's record. Franklin must beat Bentley and hope Dearborn Divine Child knocks off Brother Rice Sunday. (Staff photo by Art Emanuel)

Salem, RU cagers battle for loop lead

Redford Union invades Plymouth Salem tonight in a battle for first place in the Suburban 8 girls' basketball league.

Salem currently rests atop the league with an 8-0 mark while Redford Union is a game back with a 7-1 record, its only loss inflicted by the Rocks, 53-49, in the first half of the season.

Coach Ken Dersey's Panthers warmed up for their clash with Salem by walloping Churchill, 46-22, Tuesday night in a non-league game.

The win ran RU's record to 11-2 overall and was paced by guard Barb Brown's 16 points. All-area forward Linda Kosovac added 11 points, while Lori Slack chipped in 10 and Cindy Rossi and sophomore center Sue Postula played strong floor games.

Churchill was paced by Linda Lindstrom's eight points, and Brenda Schroth added six.

Redford Union's JV game with Salem starts at 6:30 p.m. tonight with the varsity clash set for 8 p.m.

STEVENSON—DEARBORN

Livonia Stevenson riddled Dearborn's Pioneers, 43-24, as center Jeri Isanhart dominated the boards with 17 rebounds while tossing in 17 points.

Tourney sites set in girls' basketball

Livonia Stevenson High School will host one of the district tournaments sites in the girls' Class A state basketball tournament which begins Wednesday, Nov. 20.

It will be one of four locations area girls' teams will visit in quest of the state cage title. Stevenson will play host to the other three Livonia high schools, Bentley, Franklin and Churchill as well as Detroit Denby and Romulus.

Stevenson is also slated to be one of 32 regional sites which continues action the following week as 650 schools will send their girl cagers in search of number one honors.

In other district play, Garden City's two high schools, East and West, will battle at Dearborn Heights Annapolis High School along with teams from Dearborn Heights Crestwood, Detroit Murray-Wright, and Detroit Southwestern.

Bishop Borgess, Redford Union and Thurston are paired with squads from Ferndale, Hazel Park and Oak Park at Hazel Park High School.

Both Plymouth high schools, Salem and Canton, will play in the Farmington Hills Our Lady of Mercy, Northville and Wayne Memorial, as well as the host school.

By JIM BRADLEY

Livonia Franklin's 13-10 loss to city rival Stevenson early in the season just may turn out to be the key game if the Patriots do not make the state football playoffs this fall.

Franklin coach Armand Vigna and his players currently trail Birmingham Brother Rice in Class A Region II by a playoff point average of 110.5 to 97.13 and must not only beat tough Bentley Saturday, but hope Dearborn Divine Child beats Brother Rice in their Sunday Catholic League championship game.

Even then, it depends on what the opponents of Franklin and Rice do in their final season games to see who finally goes to the state playoffs in the complicated setup.

"We'll just have to wait and see," says Vigna on the eve of the Patriots' big season finale with arch-rival Bentley. "Hey, we've got to beat Bentley before we can even think about anything else and that's not going to be an easy chore," first-year head coach Vigna points out.

The Franklin-Bentley series has been one of the most dramatic and closest-fought battles anywhere. From 1963 to 1969, Franklin won four of seven games with four of them being decided by one point.

Franklin won 26-14 in 1972 and Bentley spoiled Franklin's perfect 1973 year when it upset the Patriots, 12-9. Then last year, Franklin's record again was 8-0 and Bentley 3-5 when the Bulldogs had a 7-7 halftime tie.

Glen Goode's Bulldogs went ahead, 14-7, in the fourth quarter but Franklin moved 70 yards in 13 plays to tie it in the last minute, 14-all. Bentley scored in the first overtime but it was nullified by a penalty, and then when Franklin couldn't score in three plays, Dan Quinn kicked the deciding 20-yard field goal to win, 17-14.

"We're not kidding ourselves," Vigna says, "Bentley will give us the battle of our lives and we'll plan with that in mind."

Here's a rundown on the seven Friday and two Saturday games involving area teams.

FRIDAY, Nov. 7

Churchill at Stevenson, 8 p.m.

This battle between a pair of good teams with 6-2 records should be a dandy with Jack Reardon's Stevenson Spartans looking for a win over Ken Kaestner's Chargers. Stevenson has already beaten Franklin, Northwest Suburban League champ, and if it can beat Churchill, Western Six king, it'll be a real feather in Spartans' cap. Neither team will win by more than one touchdown.

G. C. WEST AT G. C. EAST, 8 P.M.

This annual meat-grinder affair with its attendant emotion is always exciting as the Tigers and Panthers battle for city title. East coach Gary Humphrey has not lost in the last nine years and don't think West's coach Charles Elmquist isn't wanting this game. East won last year, 28-0, in what should have been a close game. QB Wally Krol is out for East and West halfback Bill Underwood is list.

Churchill 2nd to GP North in state turf meet

Livonia Churchill, which won the Western Six League title and John Glenn cross country regional with ease, ran the best of the year in finishing runner-up to state champion Grosse Pointe North Saturday in the finals.

"Grosse Pointe North has a fabulous team," praised Churchill coach Dave Westover after his boys had been defeated soundly, 81 to 159 with Kalamazoo Loy Norrix a distant third among the 24-team Class A field at Grand Blanc Golf Club.

"Our boys ran the best of their lives, but it just wasn't good enough against a super team from Grosse Pointe," he said.

Coach Tom Gauerke's champions had five runners finish in the top 28 as they completely dominated the 1975 Class A prep three-mile state title run.

Churchill's two aces, Todd Wint and Vic Wietecha, again carried the ball for Westover's squad with Wint finishing fifth in 15:22, 23 seconds off the pace, and Wietecha coming in 11th in 15:29.

The only other area school to finish in the top 21 was Westland John Glenn which placed 17th, mainly on the seventh place finish of junior Ted Unold in 15:24.8.

In the separate individual race among runners not on schools competing for state honors, Plymouth Salem's Scott Kleam sprinted to a 15th place spot among 80 contenders in the time of 15:37.

Rounding out the team which gave Churchill its runner-up spot in the state cross country finals were: Keith Stoddard (25th in 15:45), Alan Martens (42nd in 15:57) and sophomore Dennis Flame (76th in 16:16). Tobin Jones (98th in 16:27) and Mike Blais (122nd in 16:42) also ran for Churchill.

"I'm really proud of the effort and work put into the season by this fine group of athletes," Westover said after the splendid race by his warriors. "This is the finest cross country team we've had here and they've done a truly fine job."

ed as doubtful to play. We flip a coin. (It landed on its edge).

CANTON AT DEARBORN, 3 P.M.

Quarterback Tom Close fired three touchdown passes last week to riddle G.C. East, 27-13, in Chiefs' big win. However, Dearborn is pretty good with aerial power of its own. If quarterback Tom has a good game, it should be a 'Close game.'

GLENN AT WAYNE, 8 P.M.

Coach Lloyd Carr has his Rockets with a record of 7-1 and can set school record of eight wins with a victory over arch-rival Wayne Memorial, upset winner over Fordson last week. It'll be a barn-burner, but if Shoe-maker can become a point-maker, then Carr won't run out of gas. DeLuca will also give Rockets a lift.

FARMINGTON HARRISON AT SALEM, 8 P.M.

Coach Tom Moshimer's got his Rocks rolling, and while it may not be the Rolling Stones, they have been making beautiful music together. However, Paul Rogind and Mike Bowden give Harrison pair of good-running backs. Salem backs Charley Johnson and Tom Lilley will keep it close.

CLARENCEVILLE AT ORTONVILLE, 8 P.M.

Coach Ralph Weddle and his Trojans tied for the Metro West League title last week with an easy win over Woodhaven for the school's first grid title in 20 years. This reporter's car broke down once in Ortonville years ago but Clarenceville won't break down, especially if QB George Scholes and split end Tim McCamitt continue to click on all cylinders.

ST. AGATHA AT HAMTRAMCK IMMACULATE CONCEPTION, 7:30 P.M.

This is a game added to the regular schedule just lately and coach Harvey Heitman's Aggies should have no trouble with Immaculate Conception's 1-6 ballclub. Game's at Keyworth Stadium.

SATURDAY, NOV. 8 BENTLEY AT FRANKLIN, 2 P.M.

This annual meeting of muscular mayhem will be no different than all the rest. The winner will be the one who puts the most points on the scoreboard. (That's a definite prediction!)

REDFORD UNION AT THURSTON, 2 P.M.

RU coach Bob Atkins hardly ever loses in baseball, but this game is played with an oval pigskin and Thurston's Gary Abundis and Dennis Kuschel are going to see that the Panthers go winless in 1975.

Bentley's footballers benefit from Sue's feminine touch

By W.W. EDGAR

Sue Schuele, a 16-year-old blond student at Bentley High School whose ambition is to become a physical therapist, is playing an unusual role in the school's athletic program. She tapes the ankles and wrists of the football players before they take the field, then sits on the sidelines to administer first aid in case of injuries.

The young student who doesn't think there is too much unusual about her role has visions of becoming a full-fledged trainer and would like to land a place at the University of Michigan when she finishes school.

"I guess I just grew into liking it," she said, when revealing how she started.

Sue Schuele, only a junior, is thought to be the first girl trainer to work with local high school athletes. Here she tapes the ankle of starting Bentley quarterback Russ Hodges while end Mike Robbins looks on approvingly. She really works hard at her job and is not just window-dressing according to head football coach Glen Goode. (Staff photo by Art Emanuel)

"I was only eight months old when my father, who now is a coach at Highland Park High School, took me on his arms to see a football game. I've been a football follower all my life."

TO PREPARE for her present role, Sue studied under the Cramer course provided by the medical supply company and finished it in a week and a half.

"So far as we know," George Fefles, Bentley athletic director, stated, "she is the first girl in a trainer's role in the entire area."

"When she volunteered we were a bit doubtful as to whether she would be accepted by the boys. But they have taken to her in great style and she now is an important part of the program."

Sue works in a private room to do the taping and the boys must enter properly dressed. On game days she tapes the ankles of at least 15 players. And with the prospect of women's sports definitely on the rise, she is hopeful that there will be a place for her in college ranks.

Asked what her most difficult assignment has been, she quickly recalled that it was taping the ankle of Richard Cox, who had a badly sprained ankle that was placed in a cast. When the cast was removed, it became her responsibility to tape the ankle—and he now is coming along fine.

With the close of the football season, Sue is looking forward to a busy winter with the basketball teams where she will work with both boys and girls.

She has come a long way since looking at her first football game in her father's arms years ago.

Trojans go on title spree as harriers win

After going years without any championships, Clarenceville won its second league crown in the same week when it ran off with Metro League honors in cross country last Thursday.

Dan Kelley's harriers joined the football team in winning league laurels when junior Keith Sklar finished first in leading the Trojans to a 29-33 edging of Dearborn Heights Annapolis on Woodhaven's three-mile course.

Junior Ron Vader finished third in 16:30, nine seconds off of Sklar's pace, and teammate Harold Smith, the only Trojan senior on the harrier squad, came in fourth in 16:32.

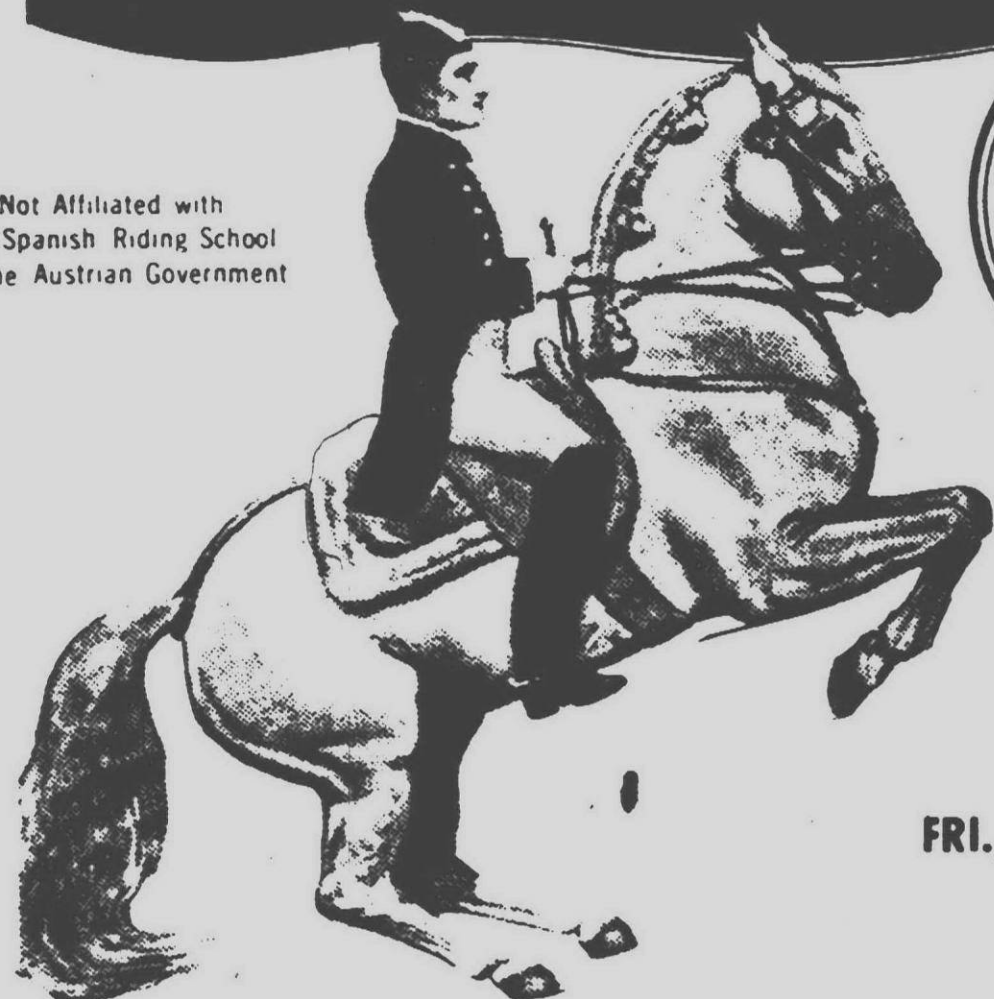

Woodhaven was a distant third with 79 while Oak Park didn't have enough runners to qualify as a team.

"Smith was our number two man all year and it was his strategy to let Ron get ahead of him and then put on a finishing kick to beat the man that was on his footsteps the entire race," said coach Kelley who graduated from Clarenceville in 1964 and is in his third year as cross country mentor.

The Trojans finished with a 6-2 dual meet record and finished fourth among 26 teams in the Royal Oak Shrine Invitational at Rouge Park earlier this year.

Aggies lose, 38-0, but four named all-league

St. Agatha didn't win any honors on the field Saturday night as it was pounded, 38-0, by Wyandotte Mt. Carmel, but Harvey Heitman's Aggies had a host of players named to post-season honors and all-league selections.

Mt. Carmel's all-league halfback Gary Toboy took care of the Aggies when he scored three touchdowns, on runs of 20 and five yards, and made 50 yards with an intercepted pass. The 5-9, 160 pounder showed he could do it all when he fired a 55-yard TD pass to Dan Mahalak for yet another Wyandotte score.

Meanwhile, the Aggies, who rolled up an astonishing 370 yards in the shutout, fumbled five times to stifle any scoring chances.

"Looking at the films and watching us roll up the yardage, you'd think the game was even, but the fumbles killed us," Heitman lamented.

Highlights for the Aggies were halfbacks Dave Mulley and Girard Trujillo. Mulley gained 152 yards in 21 carries and Trujillo rambled 181 yards in just 12 rushes, a 15-yard average.

Sophomore Dennis Wright had to start at quarterback because of Brian Higgins' broken hand, and acquitted himself well in completing three-of-six for 36 yards, with two other on-target tosses being dropped.

This Saturday, St. Agatha winds up its season with a 7:30 p.m. game at Keyworth Stadium against Hamtramck Immaculate Conception.

Despite the loss, however, the Aggies have several players named by the coaches to honor teams.

Making all-conference honors in All-Catholic League West Division was defensive tackle Jerry Haliberta, a senior who was also named All-Catholic among the 38 teams in the entire Detroit Catholic League. Junior safety Marty Fox joined Haliberta on the all-

GC West golfers finish 4th in loop

Garden City West's golf squad wound up its season with an 8-6 record, good for a fourth place finish in the Tri-River league.

Captain John Szydzik led the Tigers to an 8-10 overall ledger and Pat Daugherty had the lowest individual nine hole score of 38 at Warren Valley against Melvindale.

Henry Leszczynski, who has been named captain of next year's team, placed second in the Western Wayne Invitational with an 82, just one shot behind the winner.

Other members of the squad included Bob Jaskolski, John Jakubic, Gary Jonika and Jack Wagner.

league defensive first team while defensive end Paul Churches, a junior, was a second-team selection.

Dave Mulley was tabbed as all-league, as well as All-Catholic, halfback along with Haliberta. Joining

Borgess in 31-14 romp

"It's great to see Keith have this kind of a day," said Borgess assistant coach Gene Grewe after Keith Kleinsmith sparked a second-half Spartan rally to overhaul Pontiac Catholic, 31-14.

Kleinsmith, who has labored more-or-less in the shadow of all-area halfback Jim Kozlowski most of the year, got his chance Sunday as Kozlowski had to sit out the game with a knee injury.

The senior fullback, improving with every lame, rushed for 141 yards in 21 carries and scored two touchdowns to help head coach Fred Mushinski's Spartans finish with a 4-3-1 season mark.

Borgess' three losses were 7-0 to Brother Rice, 7-0 to Divine Child, both state powers, and 23-20 to U-D after the Spartans led 20-7 after three periods. With a break here or there, Borgess could be close to a state playoff berth.

Kleinsmith took things into his own hands with Borgess holding a slim 17-14 edge when he scored on runs of 41 yards and one yard in the fourth quarter to wrap it up.

After Pontiac Catholic scored first, tight end Kevin McKee caught a 12-yard Keith Studzinski pass to tie it at 7-7 in the first quarter.

Then Pontiac took the lead again, 14-7, when Mark Fleming sprinted 17 yards in the second quarter and Borgess' Bruce Berry narrowed the score to 14-10 at halftime, booting a 31-yard field goal.

Borgess' strong defense went to work in the second half and stopped the visitors cold and off the scoreboard. Meanwhile, sophomore Steve Michuta put the Spartans ahead, 17-14, when he found McKee with a 14-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter before Kleinsmith put the game out of reach with his pair of paydirt dashes.

Kleinsmith also had an interception in addition to his fine offensive performance. "Kleinsmith has really been an outstanding performer all year for us," Grewe said, "but he just wasn't in the positions that command attention. Today he showed what he can do as a runner."

End McKee, who has been playing injured much of the year, ran his pass reception total this season to 15, just two short of the one season record of 17 set by Mike Milosch in 1973. Tossing to Milosch was quarterback Greg Drypen, who is now back-up QB at Central Michigan University.

Wide receiver Mark Koltunich also has 15 pass receptions for the year for Borgess and is averaging 16 yards per catch.

Reviewing his 4-3-1 record, coach Mushinski said: "There were some real disappointments, but overall it really was a satisfying season in so many ways. We're really proud of these kids."

Bullfrogs end perfect year

The Bentley Bullfrogs, the high school's girls' swimming team, completed a perfect league season by dunking Plymouth Salem, 123-73, running their record to 6-0.

Pacing the Bullfrogs were Vicki Brown and Cindy Brown, who both qualified for the state meet in the butterfly and 100 freestyle, and Lisa Bowman.

Vicki, Cindy and Lisa were double winners for Bentley as was Plymouth Salem's Marian Stanwood, who finished first in the 200 and 500 freestyle races.

Bentley's Pat Brosé was the winner in diving competition and the Bullfrog quartets won both relay events. Vicki won the 100 fly and 100 breaststroke, Cindy captured the 200 IM and 100 free, while Lisa was best in the 50 freestyle and 100 backstroke events.

Mulley on the first offensive all-league squad coaches was senior center Ken Christensen. Charley Nemes, a senior guard, and senior offensive tackle Dan Kavariak were second-team picks, along with halfback Girard Trujillo, who really came on strong the last part of the season as a runner.

Receiving special honors, Kavariak, was named to receive the Vince Lombardi "block of granite" award for his performance which best exemplifies what Lombardi stood for: dedication, citizenship, scholarship and high ideals.

Coach Heitman said Kavariak richly deserved the honor.

Dearborn captures Sub 8 cross country

By BILL COLLINS

The Suburban Eight League cross country championship changed hands from one Dearborn school to another.

The Dearborn Pioneers grabbed four of the first-13 places to nail down the league title, previously owned by Crosstown rival Dearborn Edsel Ford.

The brother combination of Tim and Greg Thomas swept the first two places respectively to lead the Pioneers to victory. The winning time was 16:04 by Tim Thomas, three seconds ahead of brother Greg.

Livonia Bentley came up with a well-balanced team performance to capture third place. The Bulldogs were led by junior Doug Vorbeck with a fourth place finish and a 16:10 clocking.

Plymouth Salem didn't improve on the finish of a year ago. The Rocks placed sixth, led by sophomore Scott Klearm with a time of 16:21, good for seventh place among individuals.

Redford Union has two of the league's outstanding runners but couldn't come up with the depth to contend this fall. The team finished last led, by Dave Shannon in fifth place and Randy Kritzman in eighth; both made the all-league team.

"I feel the Suburban Eight, team-wise, is stronger than some conferences in the area. That was evident at some of the invitational meets," commented Plymouth Salem CC mentor Steve Rea.

At the Redford Union Invitational, Suburban Eight conference teams earned six of the top 10 places in the team standings.

The league meet team standings were as follows: 1st-Dearborn (59); 2nd-Trenton (90); 3rd-Livonia Bentley (98); 4th-Allen Park (101); 5th-Dearborn Edsel Ford (111); 6th-Plymouth Salem (114); 7th-Belleville (120); 8th-Redford Union (143).

In The Pocket

When Earl Anthony, the Seattle southpaw, set a new money winning record by becoming the first man ever to win more than $100,000 in a single season, it was ironic that he should be presented with the first prize check of $5,000 by Buzz Fazio, former captain of the Stroh team.

The appearance of both of them on the approaches lead to the question of what would happen if they had met when Buzz was knocking them over. That question always arises. More often than not the comparison is with Joe Norris, considered Detroit's all-time great.

This isn't a fair question in that each bowled under different conditions and in another era. So, let's keep Fazio and Norris among the Greats of the past and let Anthony dominate the present generation.

MARY MOHACSI seems to be suffering from a one low game complex.

Last week in the invitational doubles at Merri-Bowl she had a 651 with a 141 game. This week she opened with a 242, then slumped to 145 before finishing with a 234 for 621. Both times she paced the circuit.

Two other girls bettered the 600 mark when Kay Markell posted a 606 and Lil Dugurd had a 602.

FOR THE PAST two years, it was said by veteran followers of bowling that Penny Behn was headed for the role of top bowler in the metropolitan area. This seems to be the year she will reach it.

Last week she established a new high for the season in the ladies major league with a 278 in 669. And this week she rolled a 685 on games of 189, 248 and 248 for a new high in the Bowlerettes.

SCORING REACHED a new high at Country Lanes, and when the final pin fell, Ralph Mayers was top man with a 670 that came on games of 246, 196 and 228. His showing was all the more impressive in that he is a 168 average bowler.

Close behind him came Dennis Dubois with games of 255 and 236 in 661, and Joe Ross landed third with a 625. Two other members of the team were Bob Davis with 618 and Wayne O'Neil with 613 to give the group a 2958, which also is high for the "season.

THE HIGH SCORING Bonanza All-Star Classic had a tough time of it Sunday night on its annual visit to Wonderland Lanes.

The Stroh team rolled a mere 2956, but Mike Samardzija saved some pride for the circuit with a 732 that is a new high single for the travelers.

BY THE MARGIN of a single pin, Dick Beattie missed breaking the 700 barrier in the senior house league at Westland Bowl. He started with a 235, followed with a 200 and closed with 264 for a 699 and beat Bob Garret for top honors by 15 pins. Bob had a middle game of 256 in his 684. Edgar Wiley landed third with a 650.

In the swingers league, Dianne Owens showed the way with a 617 that included a finishing game of 224.

KIRK DINOAN joined the ranks of those who can't stand prosperity on the lanes last week in the Garden Lanes Classic. Well on the way to a possible 700 series with an opening game of 258, he dropped to 215 in the second and to 189 in the third for 662. It was still good enough to give him scoring honors for the night as Gordie Cantwell, his nearest rival, had a 654. Others in the scoring race included Bob Cooker with 642, Gary King with 629, Bob Rose with 620, Tom Brice-land with 613 and Jerry Fischer with 602.

In The St. Linus League, Dick Mikalik was high man with a 627. In the ladies division, Flo Brown fired a 585. And in the classic, Sandy Barrington was next with a 571. She beat Rose Aprahanian by two pins.

THE WOMEN stole the scoring show at Plaza Bowl when Marilyn Figurski posted a 585 and Sue Brose a 251 in 565.

A NEW NAME APPEARED among the winners at Farmington Lanes when Diane Le Bourdais came through with a 259 in 559. Meanwhile, Rany Peters inserted a 242 game in a 564 series to top the Friday classic and Myrna Hille fashioned a 222 in 625.

DOT FULTON walked off with the bulk of honors in the Livonia Ladies Classic with a 523-108-631 series that included a high game of 192-36-228. In the other games, Darlene Marrow won the opener with 222-12-234 and Gerry Zande took the second with a 175-42-217.

Salem bounces Trenton cagers

By ROBIN NEIMAN
Special Writer

Plymouth Salem's girl cagers came up against Trenton last week for the second encounter of the year between the two Sub 8 basketball powers and left the court with a 43-27 victory.

Earlier in the week the Rocks, with an 8-0 Sub 8 standing and 11-2 overall, traveled to Livonia Bentley to win another league game by a score of 44-36.

DOWN BY four points, 12-8, at the end of the first quarter against Trenton, Salem came ahead at the end of the half 19-17.

From there the game was in the hands of the Rocks who allowed Trenton to score only 10 points in the second half.

Carol Crissey netted five of eight field goal attempts for 63 per cent and two of four foul shots, pacing the team with 12 points. Kathy Dillon and Diane Goodrich each added 10.

AGAINST BENTLEY, Salem was down one point, 11-10, at the end of the first quarter but came back to tie the game 22-22 at the half enroute to its 44-36 win.

Dillon led the Rocks with 17 points. Goodrich scored six of 11 attempts for 55 per cent for a total of 12 points and was high rebounder, ripping the boards for 18. Moore added 11 points and also showed great action on the boards grabbing 17 rebounds.

Salem will host Redford Union, today (Thursday) at 6:30 p.m. and Allen Park next Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in their last two home games of the season.

Canton gains victory

By ANNE SULLIVAN
Special Writer

Victory was the final cry of the Plymouth Canton girls swim team as they showed Walled Lake Central they wouldn't go through their entire season without a win.

The Chiefs ended their 1975-76 swim season with an 87-84 victory over Walled Lake Central. The team is now competing in the Western 6 league meet which ends today (Thursday).

MANY OF THE Chief swimmers had some of their best times of the season against Walled Lake.

Robbie Bennett in the 100-yard backstroke, Sue McCourt in the 50 and 100 freestyle, Laura Toor in the 100 breaststroke and Sue Vitoratos in the 100 freestyle had their best times of the season.

"I was very pleased for my team," says Canton Coach Anne Massey. "They have worked throughout the season consistently improving their individual time. They deserved to win this last meet of the year."

CINDY SHELANSKY had her best time, set the only record for the Chiefs and took first in the 100 freestyle at 1:02.

Shelansky also took first in the 200 individual medley at 2:37.9.

Jane Anderson took first in the 50 freestyle at 29.2.

The Chiefs took first, second, third in the 500 freestyle. Tina DeWalt came in first at 7:28.3, Janet Gottschalk second at 7:54.6, and Sue McCourt third at 8:33.9.

The Canton swimmers took eight more second places.

The 200-yard medley relay team of Shelansky, Robin Thompson, Kay Spring and DeWalt at 2:19.4;

200 freestyle, Lori Hogan, 2:36.4;

50 freestyle, DeWalt, 30.1;

100 butterfly, Spring, 1:23.2;

100 backstroke, Anderson, 1:19.9;

100 breaststroke, Toor, 1:31;

Salem splits 2 meets

The end of the swim season saw the Plymouth Salem girls split their last two meets.

The Rocks were defeated 104-68 by Livonia Bentley, a top team in their league, and then went on to defeat Redford Union in a close 87-85 meet to end the regular season.

Salem finishes Suburban 8 league meet competition today (Thursday) and, if it does well enough, could be represented in the state finals which are Nov. 14-15.

AGAINST BENTLEY, the Salem swimmers took two firsts and seven seconds.

"We swam real well," comments Salem Coach Faith Ransom. "We had some of our best times of the season against Bentley."

THE TWO FIRSTS for Salem were taken by Marion Stanwood in the 200-yard freestyle at 2:05.7 and in the 500 freestyle at 5:34.2.

The seconds for Salem were: 200 individual medley, Sue Stanwood, 1:00.6; 100 backstroke, Jill McCann, 1:11.6; 100 breaststroke, Sue Stanwood, 1:19.2.

Salem routs Canton

By THOMAS ZAIBEK
Special Writer

A rout as defined by Webster is "A disturbance of the peace by persons assembled with intent to do a thing, which, if executed, would make them rioters."

Well, the Plymouth Salem freshmen football team disturbed Canton, did their thing, executed magnificently, and rioted to a 46-0 win over their Canton rivals.

Dennis Byers started in all on a 20-yard romp with Bill Beurnis making the two-point conversion. Then it was quarterback Sam Merrill on a 12-yard sweep and Merrill following with a two-point conversion.

Next it was Bournis' turn as the speedster outran the Chiefs' secondary for a 15-yard TD. Tim Righter ran for two points.

The second half started the same way as the first with Merrill passing to Dave Casler for a 60-yard score. The extra point was blocked.

Paul Dillon got into the act on a 40-yard romp with Dillon making the two-point conversion run.

Jim Daratany dashed 10 yards up the middle for another TD and Greg Ruhlman ran for the two extra points.

THE EXECUTIVE EXPRESS.

The men who move most nimbly to the top very often drive Jaguars. A case in point is our Jaguar XJC, the only two-door hardtop built like a Jaguar XJ. This means luxuries like real leather, vinyl roof, authentic cabinet woods and stimulating sports car performance.

XJC has four-wheel independent suspension, four-wheel disc brakes, rack and pinion steering. Also standard: the new Jaguar warranty.

XJC moves powered by your choice of two justly famous Jaguar engines. You can order the LeMans overhead cam Six, or the astonishingly smooth and powerful electronically fuel-injected aluminum-alloy overhead cam V-12. Decide in favor of the extraordinary. Drive the Jaguar XJC, soon.

JAGUAR XJC.

Michigan's oldest and largest imported car dealer.
