Michael Sherman, 17, of Plymouth is placed in a police car following his arraignment in 35th District Court Monday. Officer Robert Scoggins participated in the foot chase which resulted in the arrest.

Police nab house-burglar suspects following neighborhood foot chase

Police arrested three teen-agers Monday morning, following a 90-minute foot chase through several Plymouth subdivisions.

The three youths were suspected of breaking into a home. They led police on a mile-long chase through the area around Main Street, Sheldon and Ann Arbor Road.

Gregory Heaviland, 18, of 9007 Baywood, Plymouth, stood mute to a breaking and entering charge Monday afternoon before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis.

Heaviland is free on a $4,000 personal bond, pending a Feb. 10 preliminary examination.

Michael E. Sherman, 17, of 9295 Canton Center Road, Plymouth, stood mute Monday to charges of breaking and entering and obstructing a police officer.

Davis set a $4,000 cash bond for Sherman. He is being held in jail pending a Feb. 10 preliminary examination.

A 16-year-old Canton resident was arrested and will be processed by the juvenile authorities, according to Police Chief Carl Berry.

Police Chief Carl Berry.

A RESIDENT in the Morrison Street area (off of Ann Arbor Road) notified police at 8:52 a.m. Monday three youths were in his backyard.

The teen-agers had pillowcases filled with household items. Police later learned the items were taken from a home on Morrison.

By the time officers arrived, the youths had run off along the Tonquish Creek.

Officers Tom Bowling and Robert Scoggins went after the youths on foot. Lt. Robert Commire and Lt. Henry Berghoff were called for back-up.

Chasing on foot and in patrol cars, the officers followed the youths along the creek, across Ann Arbor Road, through a subdivision and up to Main Street.

Commire caught one of the youths at Main Street and Byron, according to Berry.

"There was a scuffle between Commire and the kid. The kid broke away and continued east along Byron Street, into the Harvey Street area," Berry said.

"Several citizens observed the scuffle but didn't bother to help the officer, who was in uniform," he said.

During the scuffle the youth received a cut on his lip, while Commire sustained minor scrapes on his knees.

POLICE CONTINUED the chase west in the Byron Street residential area, between Main Street and Sheldon.

Using police radios, the officer tried to track the youths. But, the youths continued to disappear after being spotted.

"We were in and out of the cars. We would see them and take off running after them. We just kept flushing them out," Berry said.

At Sheldon and Hartsough, Commire apprehended one of the youths. The other two were arrested shortly after that in the Plymouth Square Apartments, off of Ann Arbor Road.

The final arrest came at 10:15 a.m., according to police reports.

The breaking and entering charge carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison upon conviction. The obstructing a police officer charge carries a maximum of two years in prison upon conviction.

Mortgage handlers say

Summer taxes won't affect home escrow accounts

By Dennis O'Connor
staff writer

Property owners paying taxes in their mortgages should not be affected by summer tax collection.

Savings and loan managers Karen Banda and Jim White do not anticipate large shortages in escrow accounts because Plymouth-Canton Community Schools wishes to collect one-half of its tax income in July.

White, manager of First Federal Savings and Loan, Plymouth, said his company now will be billed in July and December for tax payments, but this should not change escrow accounts.

New and existing mortgage accounts contain tax payments 12 months in advance. Summer taxation will not change this policy, said Banda, of Standard Federal Savings and Loan Association, Canton.

"Residents who are covered by escrow accounts at Standard Federal are not going to be affected because they already have their taxes paid in their monthly payment," Banda said. "It wouldn't matter to them (residents) if somebody collected four times a year." Property owners paying taxes directly to government units, however, must relinquish one-half of their school taxes six months earlier than previous years.

For the first year, therefore, Plymouth-Canton schools will collect part of its income 18 months in advance.

Residents, for example, pay approximately $1,300 annually in Plymouth-Canton school taxes if they own a $70,000 home.

The school district, by state law, now will collect about $650 of that tax bill in July and the rest in December. Previously, residents paid all school taxes at the end of the year.

CANTON TOWNSHIP Trustee Steve Larson said it is legal — but unethical — for school districts to collect summer taxes. He views summer taxation as a "tax increase" because property owners and businesses will lose interest income on these dollars because of the earlier collection date.

"It's a significant tax increase for the people," Larson said. "This is raising taxes and raising it without referendum (voting)."

"I think it's misunderstood by everyone in the education community."

Residents who pay $2,000 in school taxes, for example, now must take $1,000 out of the bank six months earlier to pay school taxes in July, Larson said. Before summer taxation, property owners could keep the $1,000 in the bank and earn interest on that money before paying the entire tax bill in December.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS receive most of their tax income in the first three months of the year, but incur expenses on a year-round basis. Consequently, many districts are forced to borrow money to operate through the end of the year — before annual tax collections in December.

Plymouth-Canton schools borrowed $17 million (about 40 percent of the budget) and paid about $14 million in interest for the 1982-83 school year.

Summer taxation will save about $700,000 in interest expense, school officials said.

"In a way, no, it's not fair, I suppose," said board president Tom Yack. "but the whole idea was that it would be better for a few people to lose interest than have the school district pay $14 million (in interest) and not have residents receive direct benefit of school services.

"It's not a problem that's unique to Plymouth-Canton," Yack said. "It's a problem all over the state."

"It's been estimated that as many as 70 percent of the households pay their taxes out of escrow anyway."

It is wrong for school districts to spend money they don't have and then ask for taxes six more months in advance, Larson said.

"If they spend the money, shame on them," Larson said. "If they need more money, then they can ask for it by a vote."

Lucas recommends trustee for solid-waste committee

Wayne County Executive William Lucas has recommended a Plymouth Township official for a county committee position.

Trustee Lee Fidge has been nominated for the Act 641 Solid Waste Planning Committee. The committee is charged with developing a 5-year and 20-year garbage disposal plan for Wayne County.

Lucas' recommendation still needs the approval of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners. The recommendation may be sent to the commissioners by Friday.

"Mrs. Fidge was selected because she has a history and experience on similar boards," said Bill Johnson, a Lucas spokesperson.

The Act 641 committee has 13 members, all of whom are not paid for their work.

"I'm delighted," said Fidge, "I've been attending the (committee) meetings regularly for the past year."

"Solid waste disposal is very much an issue in Michigan at this time."

Fidge's experience gives her diverse qualifications for the committee.

She is a township trustee, and has worked with the township's planning commission in developing a master land-use plan. The trustee position also provides her with a knowledge of municipal administration.

As executive director of the Rouge River Watershed Council, Fidge has dealt with groundwater contamination problems. The council is a watchdog for river pollution and coordinates cleanup of drainage and pollution problems.

Fidge also served on the Area-wide Water Quality Board, a seven-county regional authority.

"She has a concern about groundwater and that interest will be well represented on the committee," said Maurice Roach, director of the Wayne County Planning Commission. Roach works on the Act 641 committee.

"The committee developed out of Act 641 of 1979 — which was the Solid Waste Management Act," Roach said.

"The act put more stringent controls over the way sanitary landfills and resource recovery (recycling) facilities are operated," he said.

"The purpose is to try to prevent some of the horror stories that we have read lately."

Under the act, counties are given the choice of developing their own garbage disposal plans or letting the Department of Natural Resources develop a plan.

The Wayne County committee is getting started on developing a plan later than surrounding counties. However, Wayne County has one advantage, according to Roach.

"We have 10 to 12 years of capacity left in the county, so we're not with our backs up to the wall," he said.

"No matter how you get rid of waste matter (burial or incineration), you still end up with some residual material you have to get rid of."

Wayne County's plan to dispose of residual matter is several months from completion, Roach said.

"After a plan is developed, we'll continue with an implementation committee to monitor or implement the plan."

Final testimony heard in tenure case

Testimony was completed Monday night in the third closed-door tenure hearing of Central Middle School teacher Scott Kurtz.

Kurtz was found guilty in 35th District Court of assaulting a 16-year-old student, John James of Plymouth.

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education adjourned the case until Feb. 17. Monday's meeting was the third closed-door board session devoted to the charges against Kurtz. Sessions were closed at Kurtz's request.

"The board will receive transcripts of the proceedings by Friday," said Dr. John Hoben, superintendent of schools.

"At the Feb. 17 meeting, the attorneys for both sides will provide the board with findings in law. The board will review those before making a decision."

Hoben said he expects the board to end the hearings Feb. 17 and give their decision 10 days later.

Kurtz's attorney, Steven Amberg, refused to comment on Monday's hearing.

"We asked that the hearings be closed, and we wouldn't want to contradict that by discussing the testimony with the press," Amberg said.

The charges against Kurtz stem from an Oct. 22 incident during which Kurtz was accused of using physical force against James. Kurtz was accused of subduing James by "taking him to the floor" twice and grabbing him by the hair.

According to court testimony, James entered Kurtz's classroom while it was in session and failed to identify himself.

In December, Kurtz was found guilty of assault and battery charges filed by James. A $135 fine imposed by 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis was postponed to allow Kurtz time to prepare an appeal.

Charles Bokos, Kurtz's attorney at the trial, has since asked Davis to reconsider his decision. Bokos said he believed the basis for the judge's decision wasn't substantiated during court testimony.

Davis is scheduled to reconsider the verdict Friday morning. If he upholds his decision, Bokos is expected to file an appeal in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Meanwhile, Kurtz remains on indefinite suspension with pay from the school district, pending a school board ruling.

Schools freeze capital expenses

Plymouth-Canton's Board of Education informally agreed last week to stop all capital expenditures, except instructional purchases, for the remainder of the 1982-83 school year.

The district will not receive its scheduled $250,000 state aid payment next month. And the possibility of another lost payment in April from Lansing puts this year's school budget about $440,000 in the red, according to Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business.

Earlier this month, Gov. James Blanchard announced more than $500 million in delayed state payments to local government units, public schools and universities.

Superintendent John Hoben told the board that February and April payments probably never will be restored because of state financial problems.

Treasurer Glenn Schroeder requested a formal resolution on halting major expenditures when the board meets on Feb. 14.

Mid-year adjustments to balance the budget will be recommended by the administration next month. School officials already estimate a $3.5-million deficit on a $40-million budget for the 1983-84 school year.

"Everything's kind of up in the air," Hoedel said. "We're in bad shape. There's no question that we're going to have to struggle to balance next year's budget."

"But we're not in as bad of shape as some other school districts."

PLYMOUTH-CANTON schools continue to project less state aid each year, relying on local property taxes for about 90 percent of its revenues, Hoedel said.

Next year, for example, officials estimate only $1.4 million in state aid, or about 3.7 percent of the 1983-84 budget. In 1981-82, however, Plymouth-Canton received more than $3.5 million in state aid, representing about 9 percent of its total budget.

State aid per student dropped from $121 in 1981-82 to $42.85 in 1982-83. Officials forecast only $10 per student in state aid next year.

"It's because of their (state's) cash flow," Hoedel said. "They just don't have the money."

Plymouth-Canton received scheduled state aid payments of more than $250,000 each in October and December before getting nothing in February. The state also skipped a scheduled payment last August.

Another question mark that still exists is a $885,971 restoration payment from Lansing. This massive executive order cut was made last year, but is supposed to be given back to the district in June.

Hoben remains pessimistic about the payback. He doesn't believe Lansing will re-issue these funds to Plymouth-Canton.

Guitar lessons inexpensive and fun

One beginner fingers a C chord during guitar instruction.

GUITAR CLASSES aren't expensive — especially when Richard Litwyniuk instructs each session.

Weekly classes are about $4 each, and guitars are furnished for a minimal loaner fee.

Litwyniuk's program is 10 years old. It is sponsored by Canton's recreation department and open to everyone in the Plymouth-Canton community, grade three to adult.

Beginner, intermediate and advanced classes are offered. Classes expanded two years ago because people decided to advance in the program, according to Canton Recreation Supervisor Bob Dates.

"They get a lot of people that continue on to other sessions," Dates said.

Two sessions take place each year — one in the fall and one in the winter. The winter program began last week and runs through May. Weekly classes take place on Monday nights at Pioneer Middle School and Thursday nights at Miller Elementary School.

Advanced students perform at different public activities, including the Michigan State Fair.

Litwyniuk teaches many kinds of music, mostly popular tunes. He holds undergraduate and masters degrees in music from Wayne State and Eastern Michigan universities.

For more information call the recreation department at 397-1000.

"Motown" is more than just a nickname for car city

By Nick Charles
special writer

Everyone knows that New York is "The Big Apple," Los Angeles humorously is called "The Big Orange," Chicago is, of course, "The Windy City" and good ol' Detroit is "The Motor City" or "Motown."

But "Motown" is more than just a nickname for the city known for the automobile industry.

Motown became a major record company whose artists all performed a certain style of music. And Detroit was known for its great "Motown music."

The Motown sound always was a big part of many lives growing up in the metropolitan area.

Journalist Jack Ryan of Canton decided to do more than listen to Motown music — he wrote a book about it. Ryan's first book, "Recollections, The Detroit Years," celebrates the Motown era.

Ryan, once a free-lance writer for the Observer, took 1½ years to complete his book.

"In a year-and-a-half I feel I cornered as many Motown acts and former Motown acts as I could," Ryan said. I was looking for a behind the scenes look at Motown, and I think I achieved it."

RYAN NOT ONLY talked to — and about — the stars, but he also reached the people who were behind the scenes making the artists shine.

"I went after everybody," said Ryan, "writers, producers, musicians and engineers, as well as the stars. I'd like to think that's what makes the book unique."

Ryan chose Martha Reeves of the Vandellas as his national spokesperson for "Recollections." Martha and the Vandellas were one of Motown's first groups and were known for the songs "Quicksand," "Live Wire" and "Dancing in the Streets."

"When Jack approached me he got information out of me that you would normally have to put a gun to my head to get," said Reeves, "because Jack assured me that he didn't want to talk about all the rumors. Some people want to dig up all the dirt about Motown, but Jack was different."

Ryan always appreciated the Motown sound.

"My favorite music of all time was Motown," Ryan said. "People like Martha, The Temptations, The Four Tops and Gladys Knight and the Pips were always favorites of mine. When I got the chance to meet them, it was like a dream come true."

As a writer, Ryan pulled himself into a tight circle of friends who worked, played and grew up together in the Motown family. In "Recollections," Ryan doesn't talk about singers or musicians, but of people — the people who made the music become a living force here and all over the world.

THE MOTOWN SOUND has inspired most musicians, and its style still is alive and rising to the top of the charts today. Not only is the Motown sound alive in its original artists, but also in today's bands which are doing remakes of the originals. Artists such as The Rolling Stones, Rod Stewart, Phil Collins, Kim Carnes, Linda Ronstadt and many others have recorded some of Motown's classic songs.

"I think this shows, more than ever, that the music can last," said Ryan. "It's the kind of music that can be enjoyed through any era."

Reeves said Motown music also helps revive record sales.

"I think it's great because it makes people go out and buy the original," said Reeves, whose hit "Dancing in the Streets" recently was recorded by rock group Van Halen.

Ryan describes his book as "personal biographies of the various stars that recorded for Motown."

"They told me what it was like working for the company," he said. "It's not to be confused with rock encyclopedia type of books which are a compilation of facts. 'Recollections' is each person's own view of what Motown was about."

"Recollections" is a book for people who grew up listening to Motown and for the people who enjoy it today," he added.

"The writing of the book was great deal of fun," Ryan said. "I'm very pleased with the final outcome. My work was left untouched, and that's one of things that I was after."

Handyman, fooled by appearance, overcomes hurdles

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

Appearances oftentimes can be deceiving.

No one knows this better than Bob Morris, of 451 Ann Street, Plymouth, who decided to improve the looks of his home and lawn and found out that what looked like a simple job required eight months.

When he and his wife Claire moved into the home two and a half years ago they decided that someday they would remove the concrete front steps and replace them with brick.

At the time it looked like a simple job, even though Morris had no experience in removing concrete or laying brick.

So, with an earnest desire to make the change and a hope that it was just as simple as it looked, he found that there were three steps instead of one. What's more, he discovered to his dismay that there was a septic tank underneath the steps. This had to be chiseled away — no mean undertaking for a neophyte.

This was in May 1982 and by diligent work on his part with his wife as a helper, the job was finished in December just in time for the Christmas holidays.

There were plenty of headaches along with the hard work Mrs. Morris recalled. "First, the work could not be done with the ordinary tools we had. So Bob rented a jack hammer. And you know what kind of work that can be. All told we took 12 yards of concrete out of the area."

With the broken concrete out of the way Morris started to lay the bricks. Not to be caught off guard due to inexperience, he visited the library. There he read up on the art of laying all kinds of brick. It was quite a study and it meant more than one return to books for advice.

He quickly found out that it wasn't easy to mix the mortar for brick laying, and then the touchy work of getting the bricks set even with a break in every other row. But he stuck to it to the end.

Even the already reduced "Foreign Policy" prices on most of our imports have been further price cut for this sale. Of course, there are some things, like brand new items and stuff that's oversold, that we don't put on sale. (But then no one is totally perfect.) # Elder Mason honored by lodge

By W.W. Edger
staff writer

Sidney Bakewell, who at 93 years of age is one of the oldest living Masops in Michigan, returned to his home lodge, Plymouth Rock No. 47, last Saturday evening to receive a 70-year pin and then played the star role in a trip down memory lane.

A former resident of Plymouth, now living in Dearborn, he regaled a dinner gathering of more than 80 people including some members of his family, with tales of his years in the Plymouth area.

Born in Nottingham, England, in 1889 he came to America when a young man. For a time he settled in Chelsea where he was raised to the degree of a Master Mason in Olive Lodge No. 156 in 1912. From there he transferred to Plymouth Rock Lodge in 1914 and has retained his membership since.

In his younger days Bakewell was a mechanical engineer and had a factory in Detroit. It was known as the Leland-Detroit Manufacturing Company.

After receiving the coveted pin from his lodge — an honor that comes to few Masops — he took over the microphone and the rest of the evening was filled with nostalgic moments.

He told of the time he lived on a farm near Ann Arbor Trail and Haggerty. He recalled the lean years when he worked at the Daisy Air Rifle Company. He held the audience spellbound when he told of the years when the lodge met on Penniman Avenue above the Schrader Furniture Store.

This was the building that was destroyed by fire some years ago.

Bakewell recalled that a year ago a man living on Union Street was removing a slab of concrete from under a downspout at his garage. When it was turned over, the slab had some carving on it. Cleaned up, he called Clifford (Tip) Smith, Secretary of the Lodge, to see if they wanted it. They decided to take it and it is suspected of being the "building rock stone" the corner stone that was taken down when the Schraders took over the building.

The weight of the stone made it necessary to use a hand truck to get it across the street to the present Temple at Penniman and Union.

Bakewell received a standing ovation when he recalled the night long ago when he came into town with his horse "Dick" — an animal he had owned only two weeks. It was a cold winter night so he tied the horse to a post on Penniman just below the Lodge windows. Then he placed a heavy blanket over him. Several times he looked out and each time he saw the horse was okay.

When he went to go home, however, he went down the stairs and the horse and buggy were missing. It was his only form of transportation to get home, but friends finally took him home after checking several livery stables about town to no avail.

On his arrival home he asked if anyone had seen his horse "Dick" No one had, so he went to the barn and there was Dick, chewing on the door handle trying to get in.

Bakewell smiled as he said, "What a lot of know how that horse learned in the two weeks at his new home across the railroad tracks."

Bakewell has been a lover of music through all his years and his hobby has centered on a violin that he has just had repaired. He was the violinist at church and social affairs in Plymouth, but admitted Saturday night that his hands no longer perform as in previous years.

But as a storyteller he still is supreme and he provided an enjoyable evening even though he was the honored guest.

Residents invent gas security device

Leo D. Snedegar of Shadywood Drive, Plymouth, and Robert E. Thompson Jr. of Foch Road, Livonia, have been granted a U.S. patent for a security and alarm device aimed at curbing gasoline theft.

During recent years, the cost of gasoline has risen to the point that thievery has increased. Earlier such acts were confined mainly to stealing enough to fill the gasoline tank of an automobile, usually by siphoning the fuel with a small rubber hose.

But in recent years the increased price of gasoline has resulted in a corps of professional thieves who siphon gasoline from service stations.

Gasoline stations that are closed on Sunday, or even for longer periods, particularly are apt to be targets for professional thieves.

The underground tanks are served by filler pipes covered by a manhole cover. The filler pipe extends downward from beneath the concrete, or other surface of the station, to the underground tank.

A cylindrical metal housing usually extends through the surface and is closed by a manhole cover which simply rests in place and may be removed by prying it upward.

A tank truck easily can be driven into a closed private station, the manhole cover removed, the fuel pipe opened, and gasoline withdrawn with a pump and proper length of hose.

The average person seeing a truck parked at a gasoline station normally would assume a delivery is being made. Even when the station is closed and gasoline is being removed, the passer-by likely would not assume that the removal is unauthorized.

BECAUSE OF THE ease of stealing gasoline by the truckload, Snedegar and Thompson invented the security and alarm apparatus in which the conventional manhole cover of the fuel delivery system is replaced.

The new cover contains within it a radio frequency transmitter, a power source and other necessary electrical and mechanical parts all of which function (when the cover is disturbed) so that a radio frequency signal is sent to a receiver.

The receiver may be in the gasoline station, at the owner's home, or more likely may be connected to a police station or private security alarm service circuit.

The signalling equipment is contained fully within the cover which is sealed to protect the equipment from contamination.

The power source within the cover is a battery which can be recharged without breaking the sealed cover, and there is no modification of the filling equipment or any portion of the gasoline station or storage area.

Application for the patent, which shows nine claims of originality, was filed in March 1981 and granted in January 1983.

Runs into delays

Sewer funding deadline nears

By Tim Richard
staff writer

Super sewer is running into problems from two directions.

"A tactic of delay can kill it," said Duane Egeland, head of the Wayne County Public Works Department. But he is confident he can answer any question anybody can raise about the project.

"Super sewer" is the nickname of the Huron Valley wastewater treatment project — a sewage treatment plant and giant interceptor sewer designed to serve western Oakland and Wayne counties. Estimated cost: $298 million.

May 1 is the deadline for securing 75 percent federal funding, according to Janis Bobrin, staff person for the Area-wide Water Quality Board. Delays could endanger Egeland's chances of getting the full $210 million from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

THE PROBLEMS are coming from the city of Detroit and the state Department of Natural Resources.

Detroit officials say their sewage treatment plant has unused capacity, Bobrin said. In past years, Detroit planners also have argued that suburban development would drain resources from the city, and that federal aid shouldn't be used for what is essentially replacement sewer capacity in a no-growth region.

Detroit insists it could serve the northern part of the super sewer region and that Egeland is overestimating the cost of pumping sewage to the Detroit plant.

DNR is raising questions about the design, said Egeland. "The information is there," he said with a trace of irritation. "But DNR is in a constant state of reorganization, and they don't know where to find it."

DNR asked for more detail on super sewer's stream crossings and questioned whether the project is needed in Commerce Township. Another meeting is scheduled for this week.

THE PROJECT area is a band of cities and townships in the general route of I-275 freeway from Commerce to the mouth of the Huron River on the shore of Lake Erie. It includes Novi, the two Northvilles, Plymouth Township and Canton Township.

At question is the portion north of Canton. If the north service area is dropped from the project, super sewer's dimensions would be scaled down.

At that, Egeland said, the Huron Valley sewage treatment plant would be a small one — 50 million gallons a day (by the year 2005) compared to Wyandotte's 100-MGD and Detroit's 1,000 MGD.

As planned, the federal government (with a state recommendation) would fund 75 percent, the state 5 percent and the local area 20 percent of construction costs, Egeland said.

FEDERAL MONEY would come from the Clean Water Act, under which appropriations were made for the five-cal years of 1972-75. Deadline for qualifying for that money, as Bobrin said, is May 1.

Work must actually be under way by September of 1984, Egeland added. If it isn't, the federal share could be reduced to 55 percent.

The Area-wide Water Quality Board, an offshoot agency of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, is not officially on one side or the other.

Area council is organized

The Western Wayne Conference Council of Government (WCC) recently held its organizational meeting and elected officers for 1983-84.

Livonia Mayor Ed McNamara was elected chairman, Plymouth Mayor Bud Martin was elected vice chairman, and Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen was elected secretary.

The municipalities which are a part of the WCC are adopting changes in the bylaws which will give the conference a much stronger role in its approach to regional government and in sharing and solving the problems of the communities in western Wayne County.

One of the major points emphasized at the reorganization meeting was that the delegates would be mayors and supervisors, and alternates could be city managers or administrative assistants.

Emphasis was placed on the elected officials as the people who would be directors and make direct decisions as to the strategy and course of action to be taken by the WCC.

Martin picked cities' leader

Plymouth Mayor Bud Martin has been elected 1984 chairman of Region III of the Michigan Municipal League.

The election was held at the 30th in a series of annual regional meetings of the Michigan Municipal League hosted by the cities of Trenton and Woodhaven in the Sheraton Motor Inn in Woodhaven.

The January 1984 meeting will be hosted by the city of Plymouth in the Mayflower Meeting House. The program will be prepared by Mayor Martin in conjunction with the Michigan

Municipal League.

At the regional conference, Grosse Pointe Farms Councilmember Dale Kaess was elected vice chairman and Wayne City Manager Thomas Dailey was elected secretary of Region III.

The emphasis of the 1983 meeting, which lasted about 3 1/2 hours, was "Maximizing Your Horizons." Presentations were made by Plante & Moran, CPAs, and Dana Seeny, extension specialist in organization, department of resource development, Michigan State University.

SC loan loss put at $450

Schoolcraft College has a shortfall of $450 in outstanding student loans.

Trustees voted Wednesday to transfer money from the college's general fund to the student loan fund to offset the loss.

"We lose an average of $900 a year because students don't pay off their loans on time," said Adelard Raby, comptroller.

"Most students pay it back eventually when they come back to the college to take classes, but some never pay off the loans," he said.

THIS MONTH large numbers of people will be drawn to the Plymouth-Canton community to view the ice carving festival in Kellogg Park beginning at 8 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 12.

On the same weekend hundreds of people will be at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP) for a choral festival featuring the Johnny Mann Singers.

Both events are typical of exciting things in the community which are especially designed to bring in people from other areas year-round to visit, spend some money while here, and help boost the local economy.

Many have been touting tourism as one answer to Michigan's troubled economy. In Plymouth-Canton, that remedy already has been applied — very successfully.

Sometimes the big picture is lost because we see only one piece at a time. But if we step back and reflect, we can see that a great deal of work has been done by community leaders (in public and private sectors) to promote the community and to draw outsiders with fresh money into our borders.

CONSIDER, for instance, the Michigan marching band championships hosted last fall at the CEP.

Large numbers of proud parents came to Canton and Plymouth from throughout Michigan to watch some of the state's best bands compete. This event was so successful that the state association has agreed to let Plymouth-Canton host the championships next year.

The spring will see Plymouth-Canton Community Schools putting on its Student Artfest '83, which also will draw large numbers of proud parents and persons interested in art to the community.

This year the student art show will be augmented later in the year by an art show in the park. The show will be staged by the same association which annually sponsors the successful street art fairs in Ann Arbor.

In July the Mayflower Hotel once again will sponsor its Hot Air Balloon Festival, a proven event capable of attracting thousands, many whom may not come to Plymouth-Canton again until the next balloon festival.

Another major event last year held in Plymouth Township at the Western Wayne Conservation Club site was the Blue Grass Festival. It attracted hundreds of people, many of whom were first-time visitors to Plymouth-Canton.

Canton has developed a very successful festival with a full-blown parade which draws thousands of people as does the Plymouth Fall Festival every September.

Regular attractions include Farmers Markets in both communities, Thursday night concerts in the park by the Plymouth Community Band, holiday parades, Little League world series, ice skating festivals and hockey playoffs, apple festivals, historic home tours, etc.

A CONCENTRATED effort is being made to plan special events during what would otherwise be a "slow time." The payoff to the local economy is well worth the effort.

The promotions also are worthwhile because they represent a joint effort by government and private interests to advance the community at-large. Government supplies its resources, and the private sector provides financial backing and its expertise, and the combined payoff benefits all — directly or indirectly.

Tourism: A new industry for Plymouth-Canton? Sure looks that way. And what a welcome addition because it's such a fun and exciting way to make money and build up the community.

Would Ike, Teddy pass Huber test?

BOB HUBER is a Catholic gentleman, but he has a lot of chutzpah. A yiddish term, chutzpah is the quality which enables a son to kill his parents and then plead to the court for mercy on the ground he is an orphan. Chutzpah is supreme nerve.

A Troy industrialist and politician, Huber currently sports the title of voluntary chairman of Michigan Citizens Supporting the Presidency, a group of Reagan-liking Republican conservatives.

The group drew 130 to its Jan. 15 meeting. There are more than 4,300 Republican precinct delegates, which gives you an idea of the breadth of the group's support.

Huber, you may recall, has run three times for the U.S. Senate nomination, coming close only against Lenore Romney in 1970 when there was a big Democratic crossover. (Republicans got revenge in 1972 by crossing over to give George Wallace 51 percent of the Democratic presidential primary in Michigan.)

Other prominent figures are Richard Headlee, who won the Republican gubernatorial primary last year with 34 percent of the vote and lost the big one in November by 200,000; and Jack Welborn, the former state senator who ran an out-of-sight fourth in that primary.

Honorable gentlemen, but not what you'd call winners at the polls.

THE SUBJECT of a flurry of Huber press releases has been the Feb. 19 Republican State Convention, where the party faithful will elect a new chair and State Central Committee.

The chair is a visible spot because the GOP currently has no one in state executive office or in the U.S. Senate.

Huber's group proposes a litmus test which the next state chair must pass to earn its support.

Item one is "concern for the re-election of President Ronald Reagan." Two is "awareness of, and personal commitment to, the Republican National Platform" of 1980.

That is their idea of a Republican leader.

Actually, factionalism has been a part of Michigan Republican life since the fist fight at the 1908 Bay City convention and even before. A historian has pointed out that to understand Michigan politics, you have to understand there are two Republican parties.

HOW VALID is the Huber-Headlee-Welborn litmus test?

Suppose a candidate for state chair said, "I don't care for the Republicanism of Interior Secretary James Watt. I'm from the Teddy Roosevelt school of conservation and Republicanism." The litmus paper would register pink, and the candidate would be rejected.

Suppose a candidate said, "The Republicanism of Casper Weinberger in Defense leaves me cold. I'm from the school of Dwight D. Eisenhower, who warned us about the military-industrial complex." Pink Rejected.

Suppose the prospective leader said, "Reagan's pal, Sen. Jesse Helms, isn't my ideal. I care more for the likes of Abraham Lincoln and Margaret Chase Smith." Pink, pink, pink. Out.

THE POINT is that, historically, Ronald Reagan and the 1980 platform aren't in the mainstream of Republican thinking and are far from sterling examples of Michigan Republicanism. And it takes a lot of chutzpah for Huber and his 129 friends to suggest they are the supreme test.

The Huber group's list of qualifications closes with items 6 and 7, to-wit: "Experience with grass roots issue campaigns . . . ballot issues or constitutional amendments" and "Proven record for organizing and fund-raising."

Those criteria should have been first and second. The Reagan nonsense could well have been dropped.

Firefighters are battling consolidation

AN ISSUE which is going to cause heated discussion in many suburban communities is whether to try to cut costs by consolidating police and fire departments.

More and more attention is being paid to the idea of consolidating the departments into one department of public safety with officers trained for both police and firefighting duties.

Many local officials believe they could save money by consolidation. Firefighters are adamantly opposed.

The issue is already being debated in Redford Township where a citizens committee has suggested the township board investigate the feasibility of consolidation.

Livonia firefighters have started to campaign publicly against even the idea of consolidation, although so far it is only a whisper among officials.

THROUGHOUT the suburbs, firefighters, who generally are the most adept political operators in local government, are gearing to oppose consolidation efforts.

Police officers concur because they feel their business is public protection, crime prevention and traffic control, not fighting fires.

And if these were ordinary times, local government officials almost without exception would be satisfied to let policemen go on being only policemen and firemen go on being only firemen.

Bob Wisler

These are no longer ordinary times, however. Michigan is tottering under a $900 million deficit, and state revenue sharing and aid to local governments is being slashed. More cuts are no doubt on the way.

Most governments feel they are at the limit of their taxing abilities and wouldn't dream of asking for voter approval of higher taxes for operations.

THE BUDGET for a fire department is a considerable chunk of an operating budget — as high as one-fourth.

There is something to be said for having a professionally trained firefighting force ready at all times, but most firefighters spend the majority of their time working on fire prevention and being ready to fight fires rather than fighting fires. Even in departments which provide emergency rescue service, firefighters are underutilized.

Due to their working schedules, firefighters spend the majority of their working hours sleeping, relaxing, watching television and killing time. State law now mandates a work schedule which has a firefighter roughly on duty for 24 hours, off for 24 hours, back on for 24 hours, off for three days. State law says a firefighter's work week shall be no more than 56 hours per week.

The schedule allows most firefighters to have a second job, and firefighters have fought against a regular eight-hour, five day shift. Berkley City Manager John Karacafe said that when his city switched to a public safety department in 1974, many firefighters "opposed the eight-hour shifts because it would conflict with their second jobs."

UNTIL NOW, and maybe even now, suburban fire departments have been sacred cows. For one thing, there is an emotional factor involved in talking about cutting back on firefighters or fire stations.

Additionally, firefighters are a potent political force locally and statewide, as evidenced by the fact that legislators have over the years mandated an ever-decreasing number of work hours.

Karacafe said his city's experience with consolidation indicates that a city can save money and do an efficient job in fighting fires. Other cities with public safety departments say much the same.

Any community which makes this claim is going to get a long argument from the local firefighters association — and probably the police officers association.

First day on a big-city newspaper

FIFTY-NINE years have passed since The Stroller first set foot in Detroit to meet the challenge of working on a "big" paper.

It was a dark, damp, rainy morning — Feb. 3, 1924 — when he arrived at Michigan Central Station, not knowing what the day would bring. But it turned out to be a day that lives in his memory.

Only a few weeks earlier, he had a chance meeting with Edgar A. Guest, the famed Free Press poet, back in The Stroller's home town in the Pennsylvania Dutch country, and was invited to join the sports staff at the Free Press.

He accepted the invitation to come in for a two-week trial, and now here he was. The Stroller never had been away from home a single night, and now he was all alone to face the world.

After he got settled, he headed for the Free Press and, lo and behold, Mr. Guest was waiting for him in the lobby of what is now the Transportation Building. With a fine welcome, he took The Stroller up to the ninth floor and introduced him to the fellows on the sports staff, wished him luck, and moved on.

THE FIRST big moment came. He had been asked to read the paper to study the style and get a bit acquainted. The first surprise came when he was told they printed a new edition every hour from 7 p.m. to 2 a.m. Back home we had only one edition a day.

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

In due time, he was asked to write a short piece. He did, and to his amazement it was blue-penciled as unacceptable and turned back. Back home, the old editor would have corrected it and then showed it to you.

The same thing happened with a rewrite. And again it was tossed back. By this time there was a lump in The Stroller's throat and the fear that his mission would be a failure.

Finally he asked what was wrong with the piece. Very coldly the editor said, "You are using a colloquialism, and we don't allow that."

The Stroller gulped. He never had heard the word and didn't know what it meant. But he spotted a kindly looking fellow at the drinking fountain in the hall and asked him.

"Take the slang expression out of it, and it will be accepted," he said. And that is what happened.

THERE WERE MORE surprises ahead.

At the end of the first night, he was invited to join in having lunch in a Chinese restaurant. The Stroller never had been in one but was told not to fret, just order chow mein because it is like sauerkraut. He did and almost choked. Fortunately, the sports editor made some nasty remark, and we were asked to leave.

From there we went to a "blind pig" run by Carl Rosenfield, who was later to own the famed Carl's Chpp House. Before he knew it, The Stroller was involved in a game of Indian dice. And when he beat his boss, the editor picked up the dice box and hit him on the mouth, hard enough to draw blood.

Just imagine that for a young fellow far from home, having his first story rejected, getting thrown out of a Chinese restaurant, then getting introduced to a "blind pig" and getting hit on the mouth by his boss.

THAT ACT endeared the sports editor to The Stroller, and the friendship continued until the sports editor's death.

For the next 24 years, The Stroller toiled in the sports department, finally being promoted to the sports editor's desk himself. Then, retiring from big-time journalism, he turned to executive duty in the bowling industry and finally to the Observer.

And would you believe it — he still has the yellow telegram inviting him to come to Detroit for a two-week trial.

Lucas eyes closing General Hospital

By Carol Azizian
staff writer

Wayne County Executive William Lucas is expected to recommend either shutting down or selling Wayne County General Hospital in Westland during his state of the county address next week.

"Wayne County will be getting out of the hospital business," said Bill Johnson, Lucas' press secretary. "This is one of the ways he (Lucas) proposes to deal with the county's deficit (now estimated at more than $100 million)," Johnson added.

Lucas will discuss the hospital's future in his address at 10 a.m. Monday in the 13th floor auditorium of the City-County Building in Detroit.

THE 340-BED hospital, which has been in operation for 151 years, had an estimated $13 million deficit last year and $11.3 million deficit in 1981.

Closing the hospital would save the county $7 million a year and cut 1,100 workers from the county payroll, according to Lucas' staff.

But the county still is required by charter to pay for the medical care of indigent patients. The new home-rule charter requires that the County Commission "shall provide by ordinance for the operation, maintenance, and administration of public county hospital facilities and shall assure an adequate level of physical and mental health services for the residents of the county." (Italics added.)

The charter wording was arrived at after much debate. Employees insisted the hospital be mentioned in the charter. Instead, the Charter Commission intended to leave the type of facility to the discretion of elected officials.

JOHNSON SAID county officials already have held "discussions with a private concern interested in taking over the hospital."

Johnson wouldn't disclose the potential buyer, adding that "no final plans have been made."

Sale or closing could be avoided if employees' unions made major economic concessions, Johnson said. The county is currently attempting to negotiate such concessions.

Other options, Johnson said, are 1) closing the hospital and paying clinics or other hospitals to care for indigents and 2) leasing the hospital to a private group.

The recommendations come on the heels of a confidential report issued by Lucas' reorganization commission. It blames the hospital's high labor costs and low occupancy rate for its continued deficits.

The average salary for an employee at Wayne County General is $24,506, compared to $19,188 at Hutzel, $16,043 at Southwest Detroit and $17,149 at Garden City Osteopathic hospitals.

FRINGE BENEFITS per hospital employee cost the county $10,602 — two or three times higher than at the other three hospitals.

The county hospital's average occupancy rate is 63 percent compared to 78-85 percent at the other three.

Daily operating costs per patient are $843 at Wayne County General, compared to $526 at Hutzel, $450 at Southwest Detroit and $271 at Garden City Osteopathic.

Hospital officials oppose Lucas' recommendation, saying the hospital provides essential services to needy residents.

"The possibility of this place closing is very serious," said Leonard Forster, associate administrator. "We provide high-level emergency care which is not generally available elsewhere."

Forster admitted the hospital's labor costs are high, adding that administrators "hope employees will accept some concessions."

Contributing to the hospital's financial woes is the fact that the state and federal government's don't fully reimburse the county for care provided to Medicaid and Medicare patients, Forster said.

Indigent care still a problem

Wayne County commissioners so far have expressed little opposition to County Executive William Lucas' proposal to either shut down or sell Wayne County General Hospital.

Commissioners Tuesday unanimously approved the creation of an Office of Health and Community Services, which would be responsible for running the hospital.

It is the last of six "super" departments in Lucas' reorganization plan.

Two commissioners raised concerns about the possible closing of Wayne County General.

Mary E. Dumas, R-Livonia, cautioned the county "may end up without a facility that accepts indigent patients" if the county hospital is shut down.

"There's a case against Pontiac General now because of their failure to take care of indigents," she said. "All this should be carefully examined before the decision to close Wayne County General is made."

Libertarians meet Sunday

The Libertarian Party of Wayne County will sponsor a guest night at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in Christoff's Public House, 13736 Michigan, Dearborn. Keith Edwards of the Metro Libertarians will be the guest speaker. Two films about Libertarian philosophy will be shown.

There is no admission charge. For information on the party, call Steve Furr, 397-0843, or Ben Bachrach, 563-1558.

Firefighter explains costs

To the editor:

The article in your January 24 edition of the Canton Observer degrading the Canton firefighters, "Supervisor ranks 16th on salary lists," has prompted my reply.

It's really too bad reporter Arlene Funke could not present all the facts in her story. There are some important facts that should be made known.

Yes, there were 20 fire department employees in the top 30, but do you know why?

The Canton firefighters have a minimum manning clause in their contract. This clause was an agreement with a previous Township Board who apparently felt this was an important issue. The township and firefighters felt the clause was necessary to provide the best possible service to the residents.

The clause has two purposes: to have adequate staffing to provide residents the best possible fire and rescue service; and to ensure the safety of the men who are on duty.

The contract states, "There will be nine or more men on duty during normal shifts. Insofar as it is possible, there will be six men at Station 1 and four men at Station 2."

We were running all three shifts with 10 men, however, the present township administration has been trying to remove the minimum manning clause and has seen fit not to fill vacancies in the department.

In the past two years there have been two vacancies within the fire department due to men leaving. The township saw fit to eliminate these positions rather than fill them. They felt it was cheaper to pay overtime than to hire two people. Since two shifts are now down to nine men, and a man was off for eight months recovering from a heart attack, it meant that overtime was necessary everytime a man was off.

If the shifts were running with 10 men, as they should be, overtime would not be needed unless two or more men were off.

All of the firefighters and officers who placed in the top 30 put in a lot of overtime hours to make sure the stations were covered with adequate personnel. A firefighter works 2,912 hours a year compared to 2,080 hours for a 40-hour week person.

A lot of the "top 20" were at work for two, three, four, five, six, even seven days in a row, never leaving to go home. That's a lot of time to be away from home working. These guys spent a lot of hours (and quite a few cold sleepless nights) trying to maintain the nine-man level. Some of the firefighters have worked from 400 to 600 or more hours of overtime in a year. Add that to the 2,912 hours regularly worked and it means a lot of hours on the job.

Two positions were eliminated, but the fact still remains there has to be someone there to fill the empty spot on the shift when someone is off sick or on vacation. This is the reason so many fire department personnel ranked higher than Supervisor James Poole and other township officials in total earnings.

Someone has to be there to give the people of Canton what they deserve and that is the best fire and rescue service possible.

To fulfill this obligation we need the men on duty. All the money in the world cannot buy back the time a person spends away from his family. Being away 2,912 hours a year is one thing, but adding a few hundred more hours to that adds up to a lot of time.

Drama students deliver smiles in fund-raisers

Drama students at the Centennial Educational Park have dubbed February, "Smile-ogram Month."

Students will deliver a singing message, a flower and a suitable card for a flat rate of $15. The project is a fundraiser for a trip to Austria in June. The CEP has been invited to represent United States high-school drama departments at the international Spectrum Theatre Festival in Villach, Austria. They have to earn their own transportation costs.

The young thespians are hoping to capitalize on Valentine's Day for their February money-maker. Their repertoire will include congratulatory messages for any event — birthdays, anniversaries, new babies, new jobs, retirements.

"Or for just a surprise, out-of-the-blue remembrance for a friend. Sometimes those are the best," said Gloria Logan, drama coach.

THE MESSENGERS have selected their costumes for Smile-ogram deliveries.

Customers will have a wide choice. Messages may be presented by a Superman, Marilyn Monroe, Prince Charming, Sleeping Beauty, flappers, a barbershop quartet, Dracula, the Andrews Sisters or a Renaissance-costumed couple.

"There will be at least two students delivering each Smile-ogram. We don't want them going out alone," said Logan.

Smile-ograms may be ordered by calling 453-3100, Ext. 243 between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. After 7 p.m. the number is 729-9332.

The kind of fresh flower given with the card and song, has not been decided. They are negotiating costs.

"At this point, money is important. We may have to swim to Europe," Logan said.

Messengers are ready to deliver happy messages and flowers. From left are Darin Murphy, Anne-Marie Roberts, Lisa Rohde, Jeannine Coughlin, Randy Lamb, Todd Chatman and Kathy Cullen.

Outstanding young artists solo with symphony

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Johan van der Merwe, will present the Young Artist's Competition winners in concert on Sunday. Brian Connelly, pianist; Suzanne Leon, violinist, and Diana Amos, soprano, will be featured soloists with the orchestra.

The three young artists will be awarded $2,500 in prize money by Mrs. Oliver H. Wagner, Plymouth Symphony Society president, and a representative of the Michigan Foundation for the Arts.

The Young Artists concert will be at 4 p.m. in the auditorium of Plymouth

Salem High School, Joy Road west of Canton Center road. Tickets at the door are $6 for adults, $3.50 for senior citizens and college students, and free for students under 18 years. Tickets may be purchased in advance at Liberty Music in Ann Arbor, Beitner's Jewelry in Plymouth, Arnoldt Williams Music in Canton, and Four Seasons in Northville.

Brian Connelly, 25, is the winner of the Oliver H. Wagner first prize award of $1,000. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan where he studied with Gyorgy Sandor and Theodore Lettvin. As a student, he won the prestigious concerto competition as well as numerous awards for solo and chamber playing.

Currently, Connelly is active as a recitalist and tours nationally with saxophonist Laura Hunter as "Duo Vivo." In addition to his many concert appearances, Connelly is a faculty member of the Flint Institute of Music.

He will perform the Rachmaninoff Concerto in F minor with the symphony.

VIOLINIST Suzanne Lai Leon of Grosse Pointe is winner of the Michigan Foundation for the Arts first prize award. She is a senior at the Curtis Institute of Music and a student of Jascha Brodsky and Arnold Steinhardt. She has attended Juilliard, Meadowmount and the Taos School of Music. She was awarded first prize in the 1982 Orchestra Hall String competition.

For the Plymouth Symphony Young Artists Concert, she will play the Prokofieff Concerto No. 1 in D major.

Diana Amos, soprano from Ann Arbor, will receive the Oliver H. Wagner second prize award of $500. She is a recent graduate of Oberlin College Observatory of Music where she performed the roles of Papagena in "The Magic Flute," Esmerelda in "The Bartered Bride," and Amor in "The Coronation of Poppea." She is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda and has studied with Emily Lowe, Eastern Michigan University; Helen Hodam, Oberlin; and Lorna Haywood, University of Michigan.

On Sunday afternoon she will sing Carlo Nome from Verdi's opera, "Rigoletto" and the Queen of the Night's Vengeance aria from "The Magic Flute" by Mozart.

NINETEEN finalists, chosen from a field of more than 50 contestants, auditioned before a panel of experienced adjudicators in the Young Artists Competition. Contestants submitted tapes for preliminary screening.

The four judges were Thomas Hardie, chairman vocal area, Western Michigan University School of Music; Boris Nelson, music critic and arts editor for the Toledo Blade, former professor of humanities at the University of Toledo; Alfio Pignotti, solo violinist and professor of music at EMU; and Russell Reed, associate professor of music and director of the symphony orchestra at EMU.

Honorable mentions were awarded to Reginald Borik, saxophone; Brandt Fredriksen, piano; Stephanie Leon, piano; Nuvi Mehta, violin; and Susan Syn-nestvedt, violin.

The Plymouth Symphony Society Young Artists Competition was made possible through a donation by Wilma Wagner in memory of her husband. Oliver Wagner was a dynamic musician and teacher who spent his life encouraging talented young artists. In his honor, the Symphony Society established a memorial award to be given each year to a promising musician. The two first-place grants were made possible by the Wagner gift and a donation from the Michigan Foundation for the Arts.

THE SYMPHONY Society hopes to make the contest an annual event. With the aid of the state Council for the Arts it hopes to continue its support of talented young artists from southeastern Michigan.

Free transportation for senior citizens is provided from Tonquish Creek Manor the afternoon of the concert. Free baby-sitting for preschoolers will be available during the concert.

The concert is made possible by a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts and the Plymouth Symphony League. All programs, activities and services will be provided by the Plymouth Symphony Society equally without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age or sex.

Canton chatter

Kathy Freece

Super Bowl parties abound

Super Bowl fever came to Canton this past weekend with parties in almost every subdivision.

For the fifth year in a row, Sue and Art Lawrence opened their home to friends and neighbors. The original party was a few neighbors sitting around in the family room and snacking on munchies and having a buffet dinner at halftime. As Sue and Art became more active in the Canton area, the party grew to accommodate more friends. This past Sunday saw 20 couples raising all kinds of ruckus in the Carriage Hills home. When you have this size group in a single dwelling, you know there is bound to be a good time. You don't have to try — it's contagious.

A delicious buffet dinner was served at halftime with Sue and Art furnishing everything — not one of the guests was permitted to bring a dish to pass. Once a year you do something special for your friends.

Believe it or not, Sue and Art are not football fans; they just enjoy having their friends and neighbors over as often as possible.

JUST AROUND the corner in the Willshire subdivision, Denise and Mark Santeu provided the neighbors with a special treat for the monthly theme party in the subdivision.

They purchased a five-foot interior projection television for the enjoyment of this game and many sports events to come. Unlike many local facilities using wide screen projection, this set has the picture coming from the interior of the unit. It produces a magnificent effect.

The dinner at halftime included a luscious ham with the accent dishes provided by the guests arriving just before the game. It was a special party with thrills and chills for all of the 30 neighbors.

This subdivision tries to have theme parties almost every month with a variety of folks sharing the responsibility of hosting the gatherings. We hope to hear more from this active neighborhood.

AL FLOWER of Canton and Roger Salo of Plymouth teamed up to have a party for all of their single friends. The game started at 6 p.m. but the party began at 2 in the afternoon, just to get a good grip on the day.

Friends invited included many of the folks at their favorite meeting place, Steak and Ale. We all know most men do not cook, so a menu of hot dogs and beef was provided with the remainder of the food provided by the multitude of guests. A great time was enjoyed by many of the area residents who gave up their Sunday afternoon at home to come over to Al Flower's home.

COMPUTER literacy is on its way in to the Canton community. The Apple Computer arrived a few months ago, a gift from the Friends of the Library, coming from funds realized at the yearly book sale.

Learning the basic language of the computer soon will be as important as learning to read. The elementary schools have the same equipment as the library so it is not difficult for the first-graders to relate to the equipment available to them on evenings and weekends.

Roberta Reeves, head of the children's library, relinquished her personal time to attend an intensive course at Schoolcraft College to understand the equipment.

Residents may sign up by telephone on Monday at 10 a.m. for block time on the computer. The demand is tremendous, so expect a busy signal. Once a week of time is booked, they do not take a waiting list. You must try again the following week for the 30-minute block time.

You must register for the hands-on program at the library once each week, with high school students and one college student teaching the class. More classes could accommodate many more interested residents if we could receive an additional number of volunteers to help the library in this interesting new concept.

A fair share of time for all-ages has been set down by the library. Monday and Wednesday are for the high school students, Tuesday and Saturday are set aside for elementary students and their families. Thursday and Friday are for adults. An increasing number of senior citizens are registering for classes and utilizing computer time.

Records are kept of students attending the class. High school students in a computer programming course are listed and all other residents must certify their capability to perform the 10 basic commands before computer time is allowed. The library cannot afford even the slightest abuse of this important machine. It is important to know how to be nice to your computer, how to access information and how to put in a disc.

Come on down, bring your own software, and join the crowds at the library. You will be in good company.

Volpe-Dodds

Sam and Doreen Volpe of Old Salem, Plymouth announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Lynn, to Joseph R. Dodds of Mt. Pleasant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dodds of Oconto, Wis.

They plan a late February wedding in St. John's Episcopal Church, Plymouth.

Good clothes deserve encore

The grand opening is a month or so away, but Encore is open and ready for business.

Kathy Weidman and Pamela Woods are partners in the newest resale shop in the community — the only one in the Plymouth downtown business district.

The women are nextdoor neighbors in Canton's Sunflower subdivision. Encore is their first venture in retail sales. Weidman's previous business experience was in insurance, and she still maintains her license as an agent. Woods was employed in the marketing department of an architectural firm in Detroit.

Plans to open a consignment resale shop were a long time in the making. Once they found the right spot — a shop in Roger Haslick's new building on Ann Arbor Trail — everything fell into place.

Woods mother-in-law opened a resale shop in West Virginia and Pamela went down and worked with her for a while, gaining experience.

ROBERT GRIGG, Weidman's father came up from Ormand Beach, Fla. to help. He built the dressing rooms, counters and shelving.

"The only thing he didn't do was lay the carpeting," said Woods.

They started their "consignment parties" in December.

"They were something like Tupperware parties. A friend would have a few friends in and we would explain the shop," Woods said.

Everything in the store would be on a consignment basis. They would buy nothing outright. A $5 fee would be charged for a yearly membership, during which time a person could have clothing and accessories resold in the shop. Items would be priced at 50 to 30 percent markdown with a 50-50 split on profits between the shop and the owner.

Articles must show no wear, no spots. They must be cleaned, pressed and on hangers. Weidman and Woods reserved the right to refuse any item.

"WITH FRIENDS telling friends, we had 500 pieces before we opened. We have doubled the number since then."

Choosing the right name for the shop posed a problem. For weeks they suggested and discarded ideas. The night before they had to register a name, Kathy's husband Jim said, "I suppose you wouldn't like 'Encore.'"

Their reaction was instantaneous: "That's it!"

They asked Jeffrey Qualls to make their signs. Qualls is a fifth grade teacher who lives in Canton and has a talent for wood carving and sign painting. He incorporated a design from the shop's wallpaper into the sign motif.

Accepts call

William Warren has accepted a call as associate minister of Kenwood Christian Church in Livonia. He will begin his ministry Sunday, Feb. 6. Warren and his wife Kelly will move to Livonia from Lansing where they currently reside. The Warrens are no strangers to the congregation. They spent a year at Kenwood from September 1980 to June 1981 when Warren served as intern minister. As associate minister, he will work primarily with the youth and music programs. A 1981 magna cum laude graduate of Great Lakes Bible College, he served as a missionary in Vienna, Austria for a year following graduation.

Students have planned famine

To raise money to feed hungry people, the Jet Cadets and their sponsors of Kenwood Church of Christ and Memorial Church of Christ will go without food for 26 hours, starting at 4 p.m. Friday, Feb. 11.

Called a planned famine, the project is designed to teach youngsters something about hunger, as well as raising funds. They will ask community and church members to match the $3 they are donating by missing three meals.

The money will be used to aid people in poor communities hit by disaster and to help the poor help themselves by improving their health care and farming methods.

February discussion series

Religious experts to share thoughts

The Congregational Churches of the Southeastern Michigan Association will conduct a mini-school of religion Monday evenings during February at the Community Congregational Church, Southfield.

The program is a coffee fellowship and the choice of two topics to be discussed, each by an expert in that field.

Topics for the first session are: "The Lebanese Christians," by Fr. Lawrence Fares of Assumption Grotto Church, Detroit; and "The Arms Race and Human Services" with Mary and Bill Carry of Peace and National Priorities Center as discussion leaders.

LEADERS OF the Feb. 14 discussions and their topics are: "Judaism" by Rabbi Stanley M. Rosenbaum of Congregation B'Nai Moshe, Oak Park; and "The Right to Die and the Quality of Life," by Dr. John P. Karr, general practitioner, Congregationalist, from Jackson.

"Islam" and "Capital Punishment" will be the topics offered at the Feb. 21 session. Speakers will be Iman Mohammad Jawad Chirri of the Islamic Center of America, Detroit, and Dr. John Forsyth, retired Bushnell Congregational Church minister.

The Rev. James Lyons, director of the Ecumenical Institute for Jewish-Christian Studies, Southfield, will discuss "Pulling All This Together" at the Feb. 28 session. "Prayer in the Public School" will be the second topic that evening with Rev. Gerald Lonergan of the Episcopal School of Theology as discussion leader.

The Rev. Jack Brown of Pilgrim Congregational Church will open the Feb. 7 session; followed by Rev. Chris Richards of Pine Hill Congregational Feb. 14; Rev. Terence Johnson of Royal Oak First Congregational Church Feb. 21; and Rev. Steven Schafer of Mt. Hope Congregational Church, Livonia, Feb. 28.

The event is open to the public. Community Congregational Church is at 27800 Southfield Road.

Soap spoof

WDUZ radio station "soapiers" get tuned up for the SOS dinner theater Sunday at Sword of the Holy Spirit Church, 34563 Seven Mile, Livonia. The congregation is presenting an old-fashioned melodrama spoofing the soaps to aid the Capuchin Soup Kitchen in Detroit. Helping are Joyce Day (left), Audia Lee, Ruth Grandahl, Ed Caram and Cyril Van-Loke.

An eight-part film series on marriage will begin at 7 p.m. Sunday in Fairlane Assembly, 22575 Ann Arbor Trail, Dearborn Heights. It is part of a marriage enrichment seminar offered with the idea of giving "help along the way" in marriage rather than only at the beginning or after trouble begins.

The series was produced by Drs. Carol Brecheen and Paul Faulkner, specialists in marriage and family relations. The movies are 45 minutes.

The first film, "Made For Each Other," outlines God's design for marriage, showing mates how to live happily and joyfully together. Films to be shown subsequently will be "The Trou-

Marriage film series starts

An eight-week, marriage-enrichment film series will be offered the public at no charge at St. John Neumann parish, Canton.

Beginning Sunday, Feb. 6 at 7 p.m. and continuing through March 23, the color films feature Dr. Carl Brecheen, a marriage counselor, and Dr. Paul Faulkner, a certified marriage and family therapist who supervises counselor training for the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy. Both are graduates of Southwestern Baptist Seminary and have 20 years of experience in marriage enrichment.

The eight films are: "Made for Each Other," "The Trouble with Us Is Me," "What Husbands Need to Know. What Wives Need to Know," "How to Kill Communications," "The Communication Lifeline," "Speaking Frankly About Sex," and "Renewing Romance in Marriage."

A coffee hour will follow the presentations St. John Neumann is at 44800 Warren, Canton.

Special films mark church's 6th anniversary

Canton Calvary Assembly of God will celebrate its sixth anniversary Sunday at special programs at both the morning and evening services.

A steady growth in membership has marked the congregation's progress since the first service back on Feb. 6, 1977, at Erickson school in Canton. According to Rev. M. Gregory Gentry, senior pastor, the first congregation consisted of approximately 12 people. It is now well over 200.

The church then moved to Gallimore school in September of that same year where services were held until the church building was completed.

"Constant growth and building" has the average attendance at a Sunday morning service at 250. In addition, the congregational is housed in a new 9,000-square-foot facility on a 6 1/2-acre parcel of land with all facilities valued at approximately one-half million dollars, Gentry said.

"I'M EXCITED about the growth we are seeing in the church on so many levels. We are seeing an increasing percentage of personal involvement amongst our adherents and it's making all the difference in the world. We really encourage such 'body' ministry."

To mark the occasion, special films will be presented. "Lessons from a Sheepdog" will be presented for the adults during the morning service while the youngsters will see "Gingerbrook Fare."

At the 6:30 p.m. service, the film "Home Safe" will be presented. It deals with inter-relationships in the family with guidelines toward better communications.

Canton Assembly of God is at 7933 Sheldon Road, between Warren and Joy roads. Further information can be obtained by phoning the church office at 455-0820. The public is invited to attend.

End the arms race, or end human race

The nuclear arms race is moving into a new and critically dangerous stage. In the years ahead, both the United States and Soviet Union plan to produce new weapons which would be capable of destroying the nuclear weapons of the other side.

The present fragile nuclear balance will become more unstable, and the risk of nuclear war will be higher than ever before.

Our religious conscience impels us to state that we cannot permit business to go on as usual in the face of the ominous threat which the nuclear arms race poses to the very survival of humanity.

At a time when the super-powers possess nuclear arsenals sufficient not only to wipe out all of civilization, but to render the globe itself totally uninhabitable by human beings, it is the height of folly to develop ever deadlier weapons of mass annihilation in a futile search for false security.

FAMILIARITY with the perils of nuclear proliferation must not breed in-

moral perspectives

Rabbi Irwin Groner

difference to the ever increasing dangers of a nuclear war either by design or by accident.

Religious leaders may lack the expertise to recommend or endorse specific proposals. But it is our religious duty not to stand by idly when the very survival not only of America, but that of the entire human species is at stake because experts cling to the myth that nuclear war is winnable.

Even in a "limited" nuclear exchange, at least 20 million, perhaps 100 million Americans would die instantly. But, these statistics are not capable of being comprehended until we translate them into units of parents, children, friends, human beings created in the image of God.

Whether American, Russian, Chinese or any nationality, it must be understood that the concept of a "limited" nuclear strike is a monstrous crime that must be prevented. It is a common concern that we all must share.

TIME IS running out, and we must convey a desperate sense of urgency to leaders of government to halt immediately the insane buildup of nuclear arms and stockpiles.

While unilateral disarmament would obviously only invite nuclear blackmail or outright aggression, mutually agreed upon bilateral programs would represent a giant step forward toward reduction of hostility and tension.

The nuclear arms race has drained vast resources from the all-important task of battling against hunger, want, and suffering. It is high time that we stop squandering our energies on futile efforts which do not enhance our security, but lead to the brink of unspeakable disaster.

The religious community, in countries throughout the world, is voicing its moral demand that the United States and the Soviet Union enter into serious negotiations on those agreements which can achieve significant cutbacks of nuclear weapons in a phased and verifiable arms-control program.

We call upon all peoples to join hands in a common cause to demand that their governments cease escalating the nuclear threat and begin the process of nuclear disarmament. We must end the arms race, or it will be the end of the human race.

2 one-act plays share theater bill

The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford will present as its February drama Tennessee Williams' "Auto-Da-Fe" and "Suddenly Last Summer."

The two plays, collectively billed as "Two by Tennessee," will be performed at 8 p.m. Feb. 11-12, 18-19 and 25-26 at the guild's playhouse at 15138 Beech Daly, just south of Five Mile Road, Redford. Admission is $5. For further information or reservations, call 522-1526.

The cast of "Suddenly Last Summer" includes Lisa Jerrell of Auburn Heights as Catherine Holly, Pat Dorrian Sandbothe of Northville as Mrs. Venable, Joseph Guest of Pontiac as Dr. Cukrowicz, Mattie Wolfe as Mrs. Holly, James Sterner of Farmington Hills as George Holly, Karen Anderson of Westland as Sister Felicity and Jeanne Kaup of Redford as Miss Foxhill.

'Glass Menagerie' captures the mood

Performances of the Farmington Players production of "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams continue through Feb. 12 at the Barn Theater, 32332 W. 12 Mile, Farmington Hills. For ticket information, call 535-8822.

By Barbara Michals special writer

Strong acting and some unusual directorial emphasis make for a winning combination in the Farmington Players' current production of "The Glass Menagerie."

This modern classic by Tennessee Williams focuses on illusions, their fragility and the vital part they play in helping us cope with life's disappointments.

Each member of the Wingate family clings to illusion as an escape from the depressing reality of their small St. Louis apartment in the 1930s, but not one understands the needs of the others.

Amanda (Kathleen Monticello), the mother, constantly relives her Southern belle past. Long abandoned by her husband and disappointed in her two grown children, Amanda seeks solace in memories of the social whirl of her girlhood and her endless string of "gentlemen callers."

MONTICELLO IS superb as Amanda. She handles the Southern accent adeptly, her voice fluttering to exude charm and gentility or hardening when she wishes to exert her will. An overbearing hen pecking at her chicks, she elicits laughter, waiting hopefully for the gentlemen callers who never come to seek her daughter, she elicits heartbreak.

Laura (Linda Finder), her daughter, is painfully shy and very self-conscious of her crippled leg. Made physically ill when she must confront the real world, Laura withdraws into the imaginary world of her glass menagerie. Her favorite glass animal is the unicorn, whose horn sets him apart from the others as Laura has set herself apart from the mainstream of life.

review

Finder is a very convincing Laura, appearing every bit as delicate as the glass animals. Her soft speech, timid walk and woebegone face keep Laura's acute sensitivity constantly apparent.

Tom (Thomas Szymke), the son, is frustrated and restless, his creative mind burdened with a menial job and a family to support. He escapes to the movies at every opportunity, though he eventually tires of illusions of life and decides to strike out and experience adventure first-hand.

Szymke is very good in the confrontations with his mother, his frustrations smoldering and finally erupting. He is less at ease in his monologues to the audience, which lack the necessary poignancy.

PHIL HADLEY IS very likable as Jim O'Connor, the gentleman caller Tom brings home to meet Laura. One can easily believe that the friendly and self-assured O'Connor is just the tonic Laura needs, though with his departure Laura slips back to her old self.

Director Jack Grukke has taken the unusual tack of emphasizing the humor in the play, and it works well most of the time. The one exception is the comic highlighting of the photo of Amanda's wandering husbands. It is too frequent and too gimmicky.

"The Glass Menagerie" is a gentle memory piece, its scenes and background music meant to delicately fade in and out. In this production, however, scene changes are creaky, with lighting and music cues slow, and the result is an unnecessary chopiness that detracts from the fine acting.

Canton, Salem reach tourney's final 4

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem have volleyball teams headed in opposite directions.

At least that's the direction they appeared to be going after Saturday's Plymouth Volleyball Invitational, hosted by both schools. The team's coaches, Jeanne Martin of Salem and Richard Solarz of Canton, agreed with the assessment.

Canton advanced to the finals of the 14-team tournament before losing to champion Trenton, 15-6, 15-7. Salem made it to the semifinals before being ousted, also falling to Trenton, 15-9, 15-13.

volleyball

THE RESULTS left both coaches somewhat astonished.

"I was a little bit surprised," Solarz said of Canton's performance. "I know what the capability of my team is. They just haven't shown it."

What Solarz referred to was the Chiefs' dismal dual meet record. They won their first of the season but dropped the next five before getting back on track with a 15-5, 15-12 victory over Farmington Harrison last week.

That got the Chiefs warmed up for the tournament, and they responded by sweeping three of four opponents in pool play.

The 14 teams were divided into two pools of five and one of four. Teams played two-game matches against all others in their pools, with seeding for the final rounds determined by point differential in all games.

The top two in each pool qualified for the quarterfinals, together with two wild-card teams. Canton swept Brighton (18-16, 15-8), Ann Arbor Huron (15-3, 15-5) and Harper Woods Regina (15-3, 15-4) and split with Westland John Glenn (16-14, 13-15) in pool competition.

SALEM SHARED the same pool with Trenton, Ypsilanti, South Haven and Livonia Franklin. The Rocks split with Trenton and South Haven and swept both games from Franklin and Ypsilanti.

"I thought we had a good chance (to win the title) going in," said Martin. "I would have guessed Trenton would be strong. They were tough last year."

"It was a very even tournament." Canton emerged from pool play as the top-seeded team, with Salem second. In the quarterfinals, the Chiefs overcame a one-game deficit to sideline Franklin, 3-15, 15-4, 15-4.

"Franklin came out playing really good in the first game," Solarz explained. "They played almost errorless ball."

The Chiefs then won the last two of three games against Brighton in the semifinals to advance to the finals against Trenton.

SALEM MET Walled Lake Central in the quarters and squeezed out a 15-9, 9-15, 16-14 victory, putting the Rocks into the semifinals opposite Trenton.

"We're not getting the good sets we need at the net at the moment," Martin said. "We aren't able to keep an intensity level."

That's not how the Rocks played early in the season at the Battle Creek Invitational. Salem fell to 5-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) with a 15-12, 17-15 loss to Walled Lake Central Monday.

"Canton did extremely well," Martin said of the Chiefs' tournament performance. "They're playing now like we were at the beginning of the season."

Which means the goal for both teams is the same: reach that intensity level, and maintain it until the season's conclusion. That is not far off.

Staff photos by GARY CASKEY
Bumping the ball toward a front-line teammate is what Canton's Denise Wright attempts to do during Saturday's tournament. The Chiefs made it to the finals before losing to Trenton.

Salem's Ann Glomski aims to serve a point for the Rocks. Salem made it to the semifinals before losing to eventual champ Trenton.

Super Sunday

Watching tennis best part

How did you spend Super Sunday?

After attending church, I headed to Cobo Arena for the World Championship Tennis Winter Finals.

I expected the crowd to be a little bigger than the mostly suburban 4,438 in attendance. Things seemed to be going well at the four-day event until Sunday's disappointing turnout. The projection was in the neighborhood of 8,000.

I was impressed with the smooth way the WCT runs things. No carnival announcing or boys stabbing balls with fishnets. Just good, competitive tennis.

So what happened? I know Americans McEnroe and Connors were absent and they could have livened things up a bit.

The final match-up was attractive — the world's hottest player, Ivan Lendl, against South American Guillermo Vilas, a U.S. and French Open champ.

Even 'Count Dracula,' Ion Tiriac, was here coaching Vilas.

The tickets were a little high, but not outrageous compared with what the Michigan Panthers plan to charge.

And the WCT event got good play around town from the advertising and editorial media.

THE FINAL match started at 1 p.m. Sunday — so that it wouldn't interfere with the Super Bowl.

The fans had all the controversy they wanted, even in the absence of McEnroe.

Lendl is trying hard to become the new bad boy of tennis. He gave curt, one-line answers to the media and stormed around the court.

Some of his gestures were downright awful. During the final, he slammed a ball viciously into the crowd and followed it with a Black-beard threat, waving his racket like a sabre toward the chair umpire. He leaned on the net, sliced it and pounded it with his racket.

After he was robbed of a match-point ace, Lendl took the applause from the crowd and mocked a spit of disgust at the chair.

"Did you get to see any of Detroit's sites while you were here," one reporter asked Lendl.

"No, I see nothing," the Czech replied. "I must go quickly. My plane leaves at 5 o'clock." (It was 4:29 p.m.) Shortly after eight minutes of questions, Lendl, wearing a full-length fur coat, jumped off the press platform.

LENDL, HOWEVER, said he would come back if the WCT scheduled

Chiefs clip N'ville; Rocks rip Franklin

Sometime during a season, this situation will confront most teams.

It's that time when the players are asked to do a little more, when they're faced with an obstacle they must overcome.

Some teams accomplish it, some don't. Those that do are always remembered fondly by their coach, no matter what their final record.

Plymouth Canton's basketball team is currently faced with that very task. One of the squad's top scorers, Mark Bennett, is on the sidelines with a stress fracture of his foot. That certainly cost the Chiefs in a loss to rival Plymouth Salem last Friday.

The injury came at a bad time for the Chiefs, just as they were getting on track. They'd won three straight games before the loss to Salem.

TUESDAY, CANTON overcame Bennett's absence to get back on the winning side of the ledger, whipping Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) foe Northville, 51-34, at Canton.

It was a big win for the Chiefs because it came against a team they are battling for second place in the WLAA's Western Division. Canton is now 6-7 overall and 4-5 in the league, equalling Northville's WLAA mark.

"Great full-court defense," according to Chief coach Dave Van Wagoner, was one reason his team prevailed. Gary Thomas, who filled in for Bennett and hit three straight field goals in the second quarter that Van Wagoner said gave Canton "a big offensive lift that we needed," was another.

Thomas' baskets triggered a 22-13 scoring binge by Canton in the second period, and the Chiefs never trailed afterwards. Thomas finished with 13 points.

Ron Rienas topped Canton with 19 points. He also grabbed six rebounds. Mike Scarpello added 12 markers. The Chiefs' tight defense forced 29 turnovers and did not allow a Northville player to score more than six points.

"The win was good for us without one

basketball

of our best players," Van Wagoner said. "When he does come back, it will make us that much stronger."

FRANKLIN 35

What a blowout.

How else can this game be described? Everything — the defense, the passing, the transition game, and the offense — meshed for Plymouth Salem against Livonia Franklin Tuesday at Franklin.

Nine players netted at least four points for the Rocks, whose overall record rose to 10-2. The 10th member of the Salem squad, starter Marvin Zurek, was sick and did not play. A 30-5 second-quarter blitz ended any Franklin (5-8) hopes for victory. Salem coach Fred Thomann knew what to expect from the Patriots and his team defended it perfectly.

"Bob (Blohm) scouted their team and saw that they had two key players," Thomann said. "We set our defense for those two guys. We didn't want (Mike Johnson) shooting from the corners."

The defense worked well enough that Johnson did not score until the third quarter as Barry Bell hounded him all night. Johnson finished with 12, but by then the game was out of reach.

Four Rocks scored in double figures: Dave Houle (19), Erich Hartnett (14), Rick Berberet (12) and Matt Broderick (10).

After a game like this, there's only one concern: with WLAA Lakes Division leader Livonia Stevenson next for the Rocks, the hope is this near-perfect contest didn't come one game too early.

Dick Scott's Plymouth High School "PLAYERS OF THE WEEK" feature continues this week. Each week one Salem and one Canton player will be saluted for their effort the previous week, with their names engraved on a trophy for display at the high schools. Players will be selected by the coaching staffs of the respective schools. Look for this ad every Thursday. For that "Winning Deal" on a new or used car, see Dick Scott Buick.

A PLYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL FLASHBACK

In September of 1970, Plymouth Salem football coach Tom Moshmer moved a journeyman tailback Greg LaMirand, a 6'1" senior, into the starting quarterback position. Against rival Northville High in the opening game of the 1970 season, LaMirand, making his first start as Varsity QB, threw 3 TD passes to glue-fingered 6'4" senior Charley Wolfe. That performance plus the durable running of Capt. Ed Scott, Don Chopp and Carl Huter enabled Plymouth to blitz Northville 36-8 and capture the Silver Bell emblematic of football supremacy in the rivalry between the two teams. It also marked the last time ever the Silver Bell was up for grabs.

● SKI CLINIC

If you've been dying to find out what all this cross country skiing ruckus is about, try attending one of the two remaining clinics sponsored by Canton's Parks and Recreation department.

Cost for the two-hour session is $4.50 with your own equipment and $6.50 if equipment must be provided. Sessions are slated for Thursday, Feb. 3 and Tuesday, Feb. 15 — if there's snow to ski on.

Clinics will run from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at Maybury State Park under the tutelage of certified instructors. If interested, reserve a spot at least two days prior to each clinic by calling the Parks and Recreation department between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. at 397-1000.

● GROUNDHOGS CLASSIC

The fourth annual Groundhogs' Day Classic has been postponed to Feb. 13, due to lack of snow.

And what is the Groundhogs' Day Classic? It's a slo-pitch softball tournament, that's what, and it's scheduled for fields No. 1 and 2 at Griffin Park.

For more information concerning the tournament, call the Canton Parks and Recreation department at 397-1000.

● CANTON SOCCER

Final chance to register for Canton's soccer program is Feb. 12, from 10 a.m. until noon at Canton Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

Youth and adult leagues are available. Cost is $12 for youngsters under eight years and $15 for all others. Many openings for girls remain. Birth certificates are required at registration.

For more information, call Sandy Olson at 453-7926.

● SOFTBALL MEETINGS

An organizational managers' meeting for this year's slow-pitch softball leagues in Canton is scheduled for Feb. 26.

The men's league meeting will start at 10 a.m., with the women's following at 11 a.m. The co-ed league and the 35 and over league will meet in April.

The sessions will be in the meeting room on the first floor of the Canton Township Administration building, located at 1150 S. Canton Center. Among the topics to be discussed are entry fees, registration dates and times, contract requirements, residency requirements, new proposals and new leagues (co-ed and 35 and over).

For further information, call the Canton Parks and Recreation department at 397-1000 between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

● CELEBRITY SKI

Mt. Holly Ski Resort will again be the site of the Seventh Annual Celebrity Ski Challenge and Cystic Fibrosis Festival Day Saturday, Feb. 12.

Many TV, radio and newspaper personalities will be on hand to race in a team head-to-head slalom event and, later in the day, will take part in the "Ski with Your Favorite Celebrity".

There will be many other fun events, like innertube racing and the silly slalom. All proceeds will go to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

The fun begins at 10 a.m. and the public is invited. Mt. Holly is on Dixie Highway in Holly.

● SOFTBALL EXHIBIT

All softball managers, players, umpires and enthusiasts are invited to attend the Third Annual Softball Workshop and Exhibit from 3:30-9:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 23 at the Southfield Civic Center, 26000 Evergreen in Southfield.

Sporting good dealers and trophy companies will be exhibiting the latest in uniforms, equipment and trophies as well as talking softball.

Admission is free.

● SNOWMOBILE BENEFIT

Ever think about taking a scenic five-day ride through Michigan's lower peninsula — on a snowmobile?

That's what is set for Feb. 7-12, and it's all for a good cause: to support the Michigan Special Olympics.

The Vic Wertz Distributing Co. will sponsor the second annual event and former American League baseballer Wertz will make the 625-mile trip. Last year, the benefit collected $27,000 to support the Special Olympics and, according to Wertz Distributors general manager Mitch Cohoon, that total should be surpassed "by $10,000 or more."

The caravan ride begins at the Wertz distributorship in Mt. Clemens on Monday and will arrive in Mackinaw City Feb. 12. Along the route, the caravan will make overnight stops in Bay City, Grayling, Sugar Loaf Mountain (site of the Special Olympic Winter Games), Gaylord and Alpena.

Riders, in cooperation with the Michigan Lions' Club, are collecting funds. Anyone wishing to make a contribution should send a check to Vic Wertz — Special Olympics, P.O. Box 804, Mt. Clemens 48043, Attention: Kent Kukuk.

● GOLF DATES

Swinging your clubs might be difficult this time of year, but you can still get into golf by attending one of the scheduled golf luncheons this winter.

On Feb. 22, Oakland Hills Country Club will be the site of a luncheon with Hord Hardin, chairman of the Masters Tournament and former president of the USGA, speaking. Chick Harbert, former PGA champion and Meadowbrook Country Club pro, will be the featured personality at the March 29 outing at a site to be determined.

The price for each luncheon is $15 per person.

For further information, call Doug Findlay of the PGA at 569-0400 or Bud Erickson of the GAM at 569-3400.

Aim to defend freestyle mat title

Several Olympic hopefuls are included in the field at the 23rd annual Michigan Wrestling Club Freestyle Invitational scheduled Sunday at Schoolcraft College.

The event is open to all amateur wrestlers 17 years or older. Each wrestler must be registered with the A.A.U. and present a card at weigh-in. Registration, which will be held from 7 to 9 a.m., is $8 per person (checks should be made payable to Schoolcraft College). A.A.U. cards can be purchased for $6.

The open ceremonies kick off the competition at 10:30 a.m.

"This is the only freestyle tourney in the country at this time of year," said Schoolcraft athletic director Marv Gans. "We'll have the top wrestlers from the Midwest."

The Quantic (Va.) Marine Corps team will be back to defend its team title. Other teams include Team Canada, the Hawkeye Wrestling Club of Iowa and host Michigan. Wrestlers from several area schools including Toledo, Ferris State, Michigan State and U-M will also send representatives.

WEIGHT DIVISIONS are as follows with a three-pound allowance: 105.5, 114.5, 125.5, 136.5, 149.5, 163, 180.5, 198, 230 and heavyweight.

The top three finishers in each weight class will receive awards. Presented also will be an outstanding wrestler award, a first- and second-place team trophy, and third-place team plaque.

Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students (high school and college age).

For more information, call Dean Rockwell at 341-6360 or 485-1442. The Schoolcraft College Athletic Office also has information at 591-6400, ext. 480.

Chiefs dunk Eagles

Plymouth Canton swimmers swamped non-league foe Redford Thurston Tuesday, collecting 10 of 11 first places to romp to an 81-45 victory at Thurston.

Joe McBratnie, John Simone and Bob Lewelling each captured a pair of individual firsts to spark Canton, which won for the third time in eight dual meets this season. McBratnie's wins came in the 200-yard (2:00.8) and 500-yard (5:23.6) freestyles.

Simone finished on top in the 100 free (50.5) and 100 breaststroke (1:04.8) and Lewelling triumphed in the 200 individual medley (2:18.9) and 100 backstroke (1:04.4).

Other firsts went to Glenn Plagens in the 50 free (24.6), Craig Vanderburg in the diving (181.90 points) and Matt Krawzak in the 100 butterfly (1:02.0).

Simone, Jim Luce, Krawzak and Plagens combined to win the 200 medley relay for Canton (1:51.6).

Chief second-place finishers were Andy Flower, who broke his own freshman record in the diving (179.35 points), Plagens in the 100 fly (1:04.4), Jim Casler in the 100 back (1:06.4) and McBratnie, Casler, John Ahrens and Lewelling in the 400 free relay (3:49.6).

Thursday, Canton travels to Farmington Harrison for a Western Lakes Activities Association meet.

Christian takes pair

Plymouth Christian's volleyball team doubled its win total Monday by taking a pair from Warren Baptist Academy, 15-5, 15-6, and 16-14, 15-2, at Christian.

Debbie Van Hoose was 100 percent on her serves and Muzette Carroll turned in a solid performance at the net to ignite the opening triumph.

In the second match, the Eagles fell behind 13-7 in the first game before rallying to win. Kim Allen's flawless serving and 12 assists, combined with Carroll's aggressive net game, proved to be decisive.

The victories improved Christian's record to 4-7 overall.

Stempien wins duel

A new chapter in the history of the Masters, the most prestigious of Detroit bowling tournaments, was written last Sunday when Robert Stempien, Jr., staged a great rally to win the title by a two-pin margin.

Trailing until the final game of the championship round, Stempien rolled a finishing 253 for an 874 total, beating Fred McClain's 872 total.

Both bowlers survived two days of elimination matches and were rated equal when the final started. Stempien rolled games of 212, 181, 228 and 253 for his 874, while McClain opened with a 237 and followed that with games of 230, 182 and 223 for his 872.

Bob Goike, the defending champion, tumbled to 31st in his attempt to repeat.

RANDY ORTWINE had the biggest week of his bowling career when he posted a pair of 700 series at Bel-Aire Lanes. Ortwine fired a 764 in the Senior House League and followed that with a 714 in the Classic.

Dick Beattie set the Classic pace with a 773 on games of 259, 255 and 259.

Three other 700 series were recorded during the week and they all were posted at Westland Bowl.

Mark Roggenbeck showed the way in the All-Star League with a 753, which included a 286, a 245 and a 222. In Monday's Men's League, Rick Saxby had a 276 finisher in a 709 and Bob Truskowski had a 279 in a 706.

In the Mixed Classic, Jim Migal was just short of 700 club membership with a 696, while Timothy Harris topped the Parish loop with a 683.

MARY MOHACSI added another victory to her record at Merri-Bowl when she paced the Ladies Classic with a 244 in a 658.

In other league action, Tony Monastie was high in the Lutheran circuit with a 658, Chuck O'Rourke led the Handicapper's League with a 667 and John Hallinails rolled a 257 in the Senior Citizen group.

Two sons took top honors in the Father and Son League at Woodland Lanes. Dave Girard had a 244 for high game and Rick Wisniewski's 616 was high series.

AT PLAZA LANES, John Waranauk paced the Pin Busters with a 651, Dave Shickling was high in the Business and Industrial loop with a 646 and Ron Marecie had a 646 in the Hydro League.

another Detroit tournament. Even Callen Bryant would come here if there was a chance to make $125,000.

Vilas, although in a hurry himself, was more sportsmanlike and cooperative. Maybe he was courteous because nobody asked him about Princess Caroline.

Known as a jet-setter from Monte Carlo, Vilas was certainly the ladies' choice. Donning alligator boots, black-leather pants and a green suede jacket, Vilas exited out of Cobo amidst the smooching of young fans.

As for the Super Bowl, I never saw it, falling asleep on the couch watching the Len Berman pre-game show. Maybe I'd have been more interested if Bryant Gumbel had been anchoring.

I woke up at halftime to see Miami was ahead, then I perked up to see Jack Kent Cooke receive the Vince Lombardi Trophy.

Everybody was saying what a great game it was. Maybe I was just footballed out.

It didn't matter, Don Shane had it all recapped later that night on Sports Final Edition.

CC puck team rolls past DCD

By Paul King special writer

Detroit Catholic Central rammed home three goals in the final period Saturday to beat Detroit Country Day, 6-3, in a non-league hockey game before 1,000 fans at Redford Arena.

The Shamrocks (9-4-1) offset the three-goal performance of Country Day's Eric Kahkonen.

CC went into the final period with a 3-2 lead. The Shamrocks then suddenly made it 5-2 on goals by Joe Hamway (from Dan Michaels) and Jeff Steffes.

John Collins pulled down Steffes on a breakaway and a penalty shot was called. Steffes skated in on Country Day goalie Jeff Rantala and rifled a hard slap-shot, breaking his stick on the goal.

Kahkonen then answered to make it 5-3, but CC Dave Morse scored his second goal to put it out of reach.

In the first period, CC took a 2-0 lead on goals by Morse (from Scott Summers) followed by Summers (from Morse) on a power play.

At 2:19 of the second period, Joe Kley scored a short-handed, unassisted goal to make it 3-1. Kahkonen then scored on a penalty shot three minutes later to cut the Shamrocks' advantage to 3-2.

CC goalie John Bebes made 20 saves for the victory. Rantala stopped 18.

A total of 27 penalties were called in the game with DCD assistant coach Ray Trombley being ejected after receiving a bench minor.

Country Day is now 10-3-0 overall.

Ocelot rally nets victory

A desperation rally gave Schoolcraft College an 84-81 Eastern Conference basketball win Saturday at Oakland Community College.

The triumph gives Schoolcraft an 18-5 overall record. The Ocelots are 5-3 in league play (not including last night's game with Henry Ford CC). They trail first-place Flint Mott by two games.

OCC appeared to have the game won, holding the ball with a one-point lead and nine seconds to go. But Schoolcraft set up a full-court press and intentionally fouled with eight seconds remaining.

OCC missed the free throw and Schoolcraft went down and got two free throws from Carlos Briggs with two seconds left to take an 82-81 advantage.

The host Raiders then threw the ball away on the inbounds play and Briggs scored at the buzzer to give Schoolcraft the thrilling win.

"We played a flawless game until about 1:58 left," said Schoolcraft coach Rocky Watkins. "We had a nine-point lead."

But Briggs, the game's high scorer with 26 points, made three costly turnovers to bring Oakland back.

"We're starting to play well but we need to get Carlos under control," said Watkins of the nation's leading scorer.

George Merriweather added 17 points and Tom Niergarth added 13 for the winners. Livonia Stevenson graduate Bill Keyes also had a big night, scoring nine points and grabbing 10 rebounds. Center Scott Conrad chipped in with eight points and four blocks.

Second-place OCC jumped out to 37-20 halftime lead and coasted the rest of the way to an easy 21-point win.

Schoolcraft is now 10-5 overall and 5-4 in league play.

Center Cheryl Sobkow scored 17 points and snared 12 rebounds in a losing effort. Deborah Johnson bagged 16 and Gina Johnson added 14 for Schoolcraft.

Dave Brubeck still enjoys going on the road

Jazz great Dave Brubeck will bring his quartet to Birmingham Groves High School in March, for the first concert in the renewed Groves Jazz Series.

By Hugh Gallagher
staff writer

Dave Brubeck isn't looking forward to the day when he doesn't get around much anymore.

After nearly 40 years on the road, the jazz pianist is still enthusiastic when outlining his schedule. Stops include a festival in Cannes, France; a concert in the Bahamas; a nightclub gig in Miami, the only nightclub appearance this year; a performance with the Indianapolis Symphony; a concert at Oberlin College; and numerous performances with choral groups, small symphonies and at churches and synagogues.

On March 6, the Dave Brubeck Quartet makes its way to Birmingham Groves High School for the revival of the Groves Jazz Series. Brubeck appeared twice at the series in the early '70s. Tickets for "An Evening with Dave Brubeck" are $8.50 and $10.50 available at the Groves Activities Office (644-3490) and through all CTC ticket outlets.

"I try to do 70 one-nighters a year but I always end up doing over 100," Brubeck said in a telephone interview from his Connecticut home. "It's a tough schedule to keep and then there is the travel time. I'm gone for half the year."

DESPITE THE hard schedule, Brubeck, 62, and his wife Iola have raised six children and four of them have followed their father into musical professions.

"The family has survived. I feel it was hard on my wife but she says it hasn't been. When the kids were in school, I know that was the hardest time," Brubeck said.

Brubeck made up for the nights away with the many days he spent at home giving his children full attention. Being the children of a famous musician had other advantages as well.

"I took them all over the world," Brubeck said. "Those years, we were together every day. I used to take them to Europe. We would book those tours in the summer when the boys were off from school."

The tours, Brubeck's rehearsals and composing at home rubbed off on the children. Sons Darius, Dan, Chris and Matthew have all become professional musicians. Brubeck toured for several years with three of his sons as "Two Generations of Brubeck." Chris, a bass guitarist and trombonist, is part of the current quartet. The father is proud of his sons but has mixed feelings about their career choice.

"I would have been happy if they had been something else. Chris went to Ann Arbor," Brubeck said. "He told me when he was 16 that if I let him go on the road for a year, he'd graduate from college. I think he still owes me a year because he only finished junior year."

YOUNGEST SON Matthew recently was graduated from Yale. He had studied classical cello but is now following his father's example and exploring the use of cello as a jazz instrument. Oldest son Darius recently left for a two-year appointment as a teacher of jazz theory at the University of Natal in Durban, South Africa.

Music is a family bond. Son Chris lives with his wife and young son near his parents. He and his father often get together for afternoon jam sessions. It's a time that the father relishes.

"They like playing with me, but it's also good for them to play on their own," Brubeck said. "They need their own identity. They have to think of the day I won't be touring — which I hope won't be for a long time."

Brubeck enjoys the challenge of music too much to give up anytime in the near future. He has been experimenting with sound since his days as a student of composer Darius Milhaud in the later '40s. During the '50s, the Dave Brubeck Quartet won fame for its daring experiments with time signatures and its unusual blending of rhythmic complexity with lyricism. That blending was a mark of the two mainstays of the quartet, Brubeck with his precise, blocky piano style and the late Paul Desmond with his mellow, freewheeling saxophone.

The quartet's intellectual approach to the music helped move jazz from

'It's a tough schedule to keep, and then there is the travel time. I'm gone for half the year.'

—Dave Brubeck
jazz star

nightclubs and taverns to concert halls and college auditoriums. The performance at Oberlin in March marks the 30th anniversary of the quartet's first appearance there which resulted in the acclaimed "Jazz at Oberlin" album.

THE LAST Brubeck performance at Groves was also one of the last performances of the famous '50s quartet, which also included Joe Morello on drums and Eugene Wright on bass. It was the group's 25th anniversary tour.

The group that will be coming to Groves this year will feature Brubeck, son Chris, drummer Randy Jones and clarinetist Bill Smith. Smith has worked with Brubeck many times over the past 30 years and was a member of Brubeck's original octet in the later '40s. He teaches music at the University of Washington, Seattle when not performing.

The new Brubeck Quartet can be heard on a recent Concord Records album, "Concord on a Summer Night." The album has the rich variety of moods and influences that have always marked Brubeck's music. It includes a trombone solo by Chris on the Fats Waller standard "Black and Blue," a haunting solo by Smith on "Softly, William, Softly," a Japanese influenced "Koto Song" and a new rendition of the Brubeck-Desmond classic "Take Five."

Brubeck enjoys playing the familiar pieces and giving them new life. "They just get better on the tune," Brubeck said of the quartet. "If it's a good challenge like "Blue Rondo Ala Turk" and "Take Five" you can play it every night and it gets better. It's what the audience wants to hear. But many nights, the best things we play are those ones. They're our standards."

He also likes borrowing from other cultures as with "Blue Rondo" and "Koto Song." "I wrote 'Koto Song' after I heard two girls in a restaurant playing the koto (a Japanese string instrument). It's based on their scale. We stick to that scale most of the time. Some evenings we get more inventive, or less inventive depending on your point of view."

IN ADDITION to performing, Brubeck also spends many hours composing. He was one of the first jazz musicians to bridge the gap between jazz and classical music. He has been active in composing church music for the last few years. His recent compositions include a jazz mass and Christmas Posada based on New Mexican Christmas traditions, with lyrics by his wife. This year he is composing a special series of musical pieces for the anniversary of the Catholic cathedral in Sacramento, Calif.

"I think there's always a growth going on," Brubeck said. "Jazz and composition are parallel. They always reflects how you're thinking. More than classical music. That's an interpretive art that has some of it. But with jazz, it's always what you're thinking at the time."

If the Brubeck concert is successful, the series is scheduled to continue. Tentative plans include concerts by Stan Getz and Gerry Mulligan.

Campus dinner theater offers comedy 'Bus Stop'

The Schoolcraft College Players will present William Inge's romantic comedy "Bus Stop" at dinner theater performances March 11-12 and 18-19.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. and curtain time is 8 in the Waterman Campus Center in Livonia. Tickets at $12 may be purchased at the College Bookstore.

"Bus Stop" follows the tried-and-true formula of romantic comedy (boy meets girl, boy loses girl, boy gets girl) but with some new twists. The girl is Cherie (Lisa Hecht of Dearborn) and the boy is Bo (Eric Sillanpaa of Garden City), who meet when the bus they are traveling on is stranded.

The bus driver, Carl, is played by Alan Barnett of Taylor. Other passengers are Bo's cowhand sidekick, Virgil Blessing (William Wall of Westland) and an alcoholic ex-college professor, Dr. Gerald Lyman (Daniel Ferrier of Garden City).

THE LOCAL sheriff, Will Masters, is played by Geoffrey Loranger of Plymouth. Grace Hoyland, owner of the cafe where they are stranded, is played by Mary Louise Capote of Northville. Mary C. Schwalm of Livonia portrays Elma Duckworth, a young girl who works at the cafe.

Second runs

Tom Panzenhagen

"Rescue from Gilligan's Island" (1976), noon Friday on Ch. 9. Originally 107 minutes.

It would be nice if they brought back more old TV shows like "Gilligan's Island" — not "Gilligan's Island" per se, but old shows from that era. They are resurrecting "Leave It to Beaver," and that ought to be fun. But what's become, for instance, of Andy and Opie, Barney, Floyd and the other Mayberry regulars? Alas, we're stuck with Gilligan for the time being, and not even the entire original crew, at that, since one Judith Baldwin here replaces Tina Louise, who wanted no part of this nautical reunion. Bob Denver, Alan Hale Jr., Jim Backus, Natalie Schafer, the professor and Mary Ann do make return appearances, though.
Rating: $1.98

"Hawaii" (1962), 2 Friday night on Ch. 2. Originally 159 minutes.
Howard Hawks was a great director of action films. He could develop character through action, so his films often are a splendid blend of plot and personality. Unfortunately, "Hawaii," which stars John Wayne and Elsa Martinelli, is all personality. What plot there is is sophomoric, and the on-screen romance between Wayne, then 55, and Martinelli, 27, an annoying reminder of Hollywood's longest-standing double standard: actresses age, actors don't.

Rating: $2.25

"10" (1979), 8:30 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 2. Originally 122 minutes. "She" (1965), 11 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 50. Originally 106 minutes.
Coveters of John Derek's wives, rejoice! For your viewing pleasure, Bo Derek and Ursula Andress star in two eminently forgettable films but for the standout performances of the two Mrs. D's. Actually, Bo's at her best (which isn't saying an awful lot) as the air-headed forbidden fruit of Dudley Moore's eye, although the film itself is overrated; Ursula, on the other hand, is given little to do in a film which itself offers little.

Ratings: $2.10, $1.10.

"The Night of the Hunter" (1955), 4 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 50. Originally 93 minutes.

Here's a vote for Robert Mitchum as the most underrated actor in films. He's amazing as a psychotic killer in "Night of the Hunter," and the film, directed by Charles Laughton and co-starring Lillian Gish and Shelley Winters, is spine-chillingly good. Too bad Mitchum hasn't gotten more acclaim, and too bad Laughton didn't direct more pictures.
Rating: $3.30.

Market hosts mixed media event

An afternoon of mixed media special events will be held at Detroit Artists Market Sunday beginning at 3 p.m. Included will be dance, music, sculpture, drawing and the spoken word.

Scheduled as one of the market's 50th anniversary events will be "Winter Picnic," featuring Harriet Berg, choreographer/performer; Sandra Bion of Chicago, guest artist; Jean Raszkowski, director of Paradigm Dance Theatre; and Lois Teicher, choreographer/sculptor.

Mary Denison of Birmingham, the market's art director, said, "Winter Picnic" underscores the fact that some of the most creative work in the arts involves more than one discipline.

"Winter Picnic" begins with Berg's "The Two" with set design by Deanna Sperka. "The Two" offers an insight into inanimate objects, utilizing stones as contorted and natural, deformed and beautiful.

Berg, founder of the Detroit Metropolitan Dance Project, will also present "Isadora Speaks" based on the quotations of Isadora Duncan.

Tickets are $3 and guests are asked to dress casually and to bring a blanket or pillow for comfortable seating.

The Detroit Artists Market is at 1452 Randolph in Harmonie Park, Detroit.
